A view from The Lamplighter By Ken Towery

by Ken Towery

Some few months ago we were invited to talk to the Floydada Lions club, mostly about the trials and tribulations of writing a book. It was a most enjoyable affair, but I'm afraid I gave out some erroneous advice. Or at least I voiced an opinion that I'm not sure would still hold up.

One member, nick Long, I believe it was, asked, concerning the elections last November, if I thought people in Washington had really, finally gotten the message. In a moment of optimism, or stupidity (I'm not sure which) I responded that yes, I did think they had finally gotten the message. I couldn't see how they could have done otherwise, given the historic nature of the vote.

Now, I'm not so sure. It seems that the new one who went there, fresh from the people as it were, carried the message with them. But there are indications it hasn't rubbed off on everyone else.

There was an interesting little hearing in Congress last week, carried on C-Span, which we wish every voter, or taxpayer, could have seen. It was one of these subcommittee hearings, this one dealing with proposals to revamp the congressional pension plan.

As just about everybody knows, the Congressmen have been most generous to themselves during the past many years. So much so, in fact, that former house Speaker Tom Foley, kicked out of office by his constituents after some 30 years of looking after the well being of his party, bringing home the bacon, raising taxes and handing out goodies to selected groups, went into "retirement" with a pension of over $130,000 per year.

The people who make up the new majority, after cutting congressional committee staffs by about 33 percent, are now looking at cutting the lucrative Congressional retirement, making it conform a little more to that of other federal employees.

Clearly the Democrats on the subcommittee were having none of that. The Republican author of one of the proposed bills argued that he did not think Congressmen ought to be treated any differently than other Americans, a comment that raised the ire of Rep. Frank Mancuso, a Democratic member from Pennsylvania. He insisted that they were in fact different, that reducing their retirement income would strip them of "dignity," that he worked exceedingly hard as a Congressman and that he wasn't going to "apologize" to anyone for his perks of office. He even made the comment that if he could not be viewed differently than the ordinary citizen, he would simply "go home."

Perish the thought.
Then another Democratic Congressman, from Connecticut, I believe, took up the cudgels, pointing out that if they were executives with some of the major corporations they would have very good pensions also. Implying, as some of them are fond of doing, that if he were not giving such dedicated service to America's citizens, he would have ended up as President and CEO of General Motors. No doubt.

So, obviously, some in our congress have yet to "get it." The truth of the matter is that Congressmen and Senators do indeed work hard. Or at least the good ones do. They put in long hours. They put up with a lot of guff. They make difficult decisions, many times coming down on the right side of issues. And we believe people generally do indeed regard them as "something special."

But the problem has been that so terribly many of them have tried to take advantage of that special feeling, and have used their office to feather their own nest.

Then there's the attitude. The attitude that they "deserve" the special treatment, that it is the "duty" of taxpayers to keep them in the style to which they have become accustomed. Actually there's very little difference in that attitude and the attitude of many in the welfare class, (fostered by many of the same liberal politicians) that they have a "right" to be fed, clothed, and housed by those who

Gilroy selected Citizen of the Year

LOCKNEY—On Saturday, March 11, Lockney residents and guests gathered in the Lockney Elementary School Cafeteria for the annual Lockney Chamber of Commerce Banquet to hear the names of the 1994 Citizen of the Year, Business of the Year, Fireman of the Year and Extra Mile Award.

Transplanted Lockneyite Lennie Gilroy was named 1994 Citizen of the Year by another transplanted Lockneyite, Jim Doucette, 1993 Citizen of the Year. Doucette praised Gilroy, Lockney's former police chief, for his positive role model for Lockney youth and for his work in various community activities. "He carried out a difficult position in the community with trust, responsibility and he carried it out with patience and good humor," said Doucette.

Gilroy was raised in Maryland and attended school at Bladensburg High School. He moved to Lockney in 1985, from Lubbock where he was working for the Lubbock County Sheriff's Department. He started work for the Floyd County Sheriff's Office in June of 1985 and was the Lockney resident deputy before leaving the Sheriff's office to assume the duties of Lockney Police Chief in April 1988.

He left this position in January of 1995 after being elected Floyd County Commissioner of Pct. #2. He continues to work for the Lockney Police Department as a reserve officer.

Gilroy has also previously worked as a police officer at Rice University Police Department in Houston.

He is a member of the Lockney Rotary Club and a Boy Scout leader with Lockney Boy Scout Troop 259.

Gilroy and his wife Alice are the parents of an 8 year old son, Brandon. They are members of Grace Fellowship Church.

Announced as Businesses of the Year were CableVision of Texas and Kellison Spraying and Fertilizer. They were recognized because of the contributions they make toward helping Lockney to be a better place to live. "They are always available to help with community and school needs," said Chamber President Ted Young.

Aaron Wilson was recognized as the Fireman of the Year. Each year the fire department recognizes one of their own and they in turn are recognized at the banquet as a token of appreciation from the community they serve.

The Extra Mile Award went to the Floyd County Fair Board of Directors. Young said the board had worked very hard in rejuvenating the Floyd County Fair.

Each of the honorees received a plaque and Gilroy received the Citizen of the Year Traveling Trophy.

Entertainment was provided by the local singing group "Harmony" and by Lockney Junior High U.I.L. participants and members of the Lockney High School Student Council.

Foundation/Multi-Purpose Building Meeting Set

A County Foundation and Multi-Purpose Building meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday night March 21st, at 7:00 p.m., at the Lockney High School Agriculture Building in Lockney.

The Floyd County Resource Conservation District (R C & D) will be conducting the meeting. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

This will be an organizational meeting to pursue a county Foundation with one of it's future projects possibly being a County Multi-Purpose Center. All county residents are invited to the meeting.

County Commissioners agree to support new county library project

By Juanita Stepp

Members of the Floyd County Commissioners Court agreed to support the proposed building of a new county library on a split vote. The vote followed a discussion between the commissioners, members of the Floyd County Library Board, and members of the library building committee.

Motion for the action as stated by County Judge Bill Hardin agreed that the county would accept the new library facility, when completed, as a gift from the Floyd County Library Board. Precinct 1 Commissioner Connie Bearden seconded the motion. Hardin, Bearden and Precinct 4 Commissioner Jon Jones voted in favor. Precinct 2 Commissioner Lennie Gilroy and Precinct 3 Commissioner George Taylor voted against. The motion carried 3-2.

Poisoning of dogs continues in Floydada

The Texas Department of Agriculture has been busy checking records of Temik distributors in Floyd County in an effort to find out who is responsible for the rash of dog poisonings in the county.

Because anyone who buys Temik must register with the distributor, TDA has been interviewing anyone registered as having bought the poison.

"This is a very difficult process to go through," said Police Chief James Hale.

Gilroy stated, "I am voting against this because somebody, somewhere, sometime has got to stop the spending, not because I oppose the library."

Amy Hollums, president of the Library Board, began the prevote discussion by presenting a short overview of the proposed project and the various people actively involved. The group hopes to fund the project through grants, donations and memorials.

Hollums told those present that plans for a new library had been in progress many years ago, but fell by the wayside when state mandates required jail renovation and expansion. "The library is now at a point where it is necessary to remove a book from the library in order to place a new one on the shelves," said Hollums. "There is no more room in our library upstairs."

Clar Schacht of the building committee presented a two part request to the commissioners. He asked that the county accept the new library facility upon completion and agree to be responsible for all future upkeep and expenses on the library. The second request was that the county set up a separate bank account and have the county treasurer handle the money raised toward the project. This was not approved by the commissioners. Hardin told the group that they would need to be responsible for their funds until such time as the completed facility is turned over to the county.

The proposed facility is estimated to cost a minimum of $500,000.00 and will be located on donated lots on the East side of the downtown square between the old City Trim Shop and the Floydada

Branch of the First National Bank in Lockney.

Schacht estimated the annual expense for utilities, insurance and upkeep at between $6,000.00 and $7,000.00. He also told the court that past record indicate approximately 27 people each month utilize the library to check out books. He indicated that those using the library should increase if the library had a ground floor location and was not inside the courthouse.

Gilroy addressed the issue saying, "I am all for a new library and if there were not already one in existence, this would be an easy decision. Since we already have a library upstairs, it is more difficult to decide to spend $6,000 or $7,000 of your tax dollars every year to support another building that will benefit maybe 30 people per month."

"This cost would be in addition to the cost of the rooms upstairs, which will still be the responsibility of the county even if they are empty when the library moves out. As the building gets older, the cost will increase, air conditioners will need to be replaced and other repairs will need to be made, making it cost even more."

Precinct 4 Commissioner Jon Jones asked if the Friends of the Library or the Library Board could be responsible for at least a portion of the annual expenses of the facility. Hollums replied that she felt that they would be willing to assist, but she could not speak for them at this time. Both would have to meet and make a decision first.

Rabies case confirmed in county

Lockney veterinarian, Dr. Paul Glasson, has reported one confirmed case of rabies in Floyd County.

"This is the first confirmed case in this county in 15 years," said Glasson.

According to Glasson the rabies was found in a skunk killed in a yard in the Sandhill Community, Saturday, March 11.

The head of the skunk was sent away for testing and the results delivered on Monday, March 13, confirmed the animal was rabid.

"At one time Floyd County ranked 3rd in the State for the number of confirmed cases of rabies," said Glasson. "That was a long time ago, but since we haven't had a problem, people have gotten lax about having their dogs and cats vaccinated."

"It has been dry for so long that the skunks are coming to town to find water."

Domesticated animals could come in contact with skunks and other predators looking for food and water.

"People need to remember that it is a state law to vaccinate your dogs against rabies," said Glasson. "It is also important to remember that in Texas more cats have tested positive for rabies than dogs."

"We don't want this disease to get as bad here as it has gotten in South Texas. I have had to have rabies shots twice and it is not a pleasant experience."

Wall of Pride Park will include brick honor walk

In an ongoing effort to complete the Wall of Pride Park, the committee is following up with plans to include a brick walk from the south sidewalk up to the wall that will be engraved with individual names, organizations names or business names.

"Previous donations for the wall have been depleted with the brickwork, sidewalk, curbing, and planting of the tree," said Lisa Mosley, project coordinator.

"We hope that this final project will raise enough funds to finish our landscaping and have some in reserve for future maintenance."

For $25 a brick may be purchased that will include up to three lines of type. The letters will be sandblasted into the brick and stained.

These brick can be used to honor someone by placing their name on the wall or used as a memorial. This is an opportunity for organizations, churches, or businesses to preserve their name as a part of Lockney's history.

Other work being done at this time in the park includes the planting of flowers and ground cover in the beds that have been dug out.

"If anyone has any seedlings, bulbs, etc., that they can donate after thinning out their gardens, it will save on expenses," said Laura Wilson, landscaping coordinator. "We also need large landscaping rocks, or large driftwood pieces."

"Since we are probably looking to have a very hot, dry summer, we want to plant things that are drought-tolerant and require very little water."

Anyone that has anything to donate may contact Laura at 652-2456.

A copy of the order form for the bricks for the sidewalk is included in this issue of the Hesperian-Beacon or you may pick one up at the First National Bank in Lockney or the art department at high school.

"We hope to be installing the walk in April, so everyone is encouraged to return their order by the end of March if at all possible," said Mosley.

BY THE WAY!

What a great chamber banquet Lockney had!!

I know no one will believe me but I'm not just saying that because my husband was named Citizen of the Year!

I love the banquets with local talent. The kids who performed their skits and read for us were great—and the "Harmony" group can't be described. They are so GREAT!!

We sure are lucky to be living among such talent. I want to go around telling people — "I know the people who sing in "Harmony" personally. I consider them friends of mine! Would you like my autograph. I could drive you by their house and show you where they live for a small fee!"

For those of you who have never had an opportunity to hear them-you are sure missing a treat. They have made one tape and there is still a few left if you would like to buy one. Call Terry Ellison in Lockney if you would like to buy one.

I hope they make another tape, but they say the time involved in putting it together is almost more than they can handle right now. They all have real jobs, of course, and can't be running around the countryside singing for anybody but us!

I also had more fun knowing for two weeks that Lennie was going to get his award and not telling him. It was a great secret!

He was so surprised and so humbled. He kept telling me — "But there are so many other people who deserve it more!"

Isn't it great to live around so many people who could be named Citizen of the Year.

Jim Doucette, last year's recipient of the Citizen of the Year, had to be the one to present the award to Lennie. He did a great job as "one Yankee to another!"

As he built up to the award he teased the crowd with little tidbits of information to see if they could guess who the winner was. I thought for sure there were a couple of times that Lennie would figure it out early.

Lennie said he felt like there were a couple of times Jim was talking about him but he couldn't figure out why. Lennie was definitely surprised!

A kind friend made a very generous offer to fly Lennie's brother, Charles, down from Maryland for the event (Lennie hasn't seen any of his family in 7 years).

We tried to work it out, but Charles couldn't get a flight back to Maryland that week-end (and he had to get back).

Charles said he called a travel agent friend of his to try and book him a flight. This travel agent calls him back and says, "I can get you a flight to Lubbock but everything is booked leaving Lubbock or Dallas on Sunday. The travel agent couldn't understand it."

I told Charles the problem was Spring Break. I told him all the college kids were leaving the area for vacation.

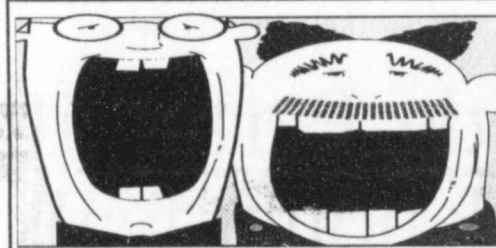

Charles said, "Oh—that's what it was. We figured everybody was going to see Lennie!"

Well—it may not seem like that important of an award to everybody in West Texas but it sure felt like it to Lennie.

People may doubt what you say, but they will always believe what you do.

Historical symposium to focus on atomic bomb, prisoners of war

In spite of a recent Smithsonian Institution decision to rework a controversial exhibit on the atomic bomb, the nation's leading Pacific War history museum is proceeding with plans for a thorough, public examination of the issues here March 18-19 at Trinity University.

"1945-Crucible of Deliverance," co-sponsored by the Admiral Nimitz Museum and the State Historical Center in Fredericksburg and the Trinity University Department of history, will draw leading scholars and decorated veterans from across the country. Speakers such as Dr. Edward Teller, who worked with Dr. Robert Oppenheimer to develop the atomic bomb, will review the decision-making process of the U.S. as it developed and eventually used the bomb against Japan.

The treatment and release of prisoners of war will be discussed during two days at Trinity's Laurie Auditorium. The first day's discussions of prisoners of war issues will include veterans from the war's early stages when more than 30,000 Americans were captured by the Japanese during operations in Wake Island, Java, Corregidor and Bataan, site of the infamous "Death March." Approximately one-half of all Americans captured on Corregidor and Bataan died while in Japanese prisons.

One of the panelists will be Ken Towery, a Purple Heart veteran of Corregidor and a survivor of some three and one-half years in Japanese prison camps. He is a Pulitzer Prize winning newsman and owner of the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon. He is also the author of "The Chowdipper-A Personal and Political Odyssey."

The second day will review the decision-making process in the development and use of the atomic bomb. Questions to be debated include: What were the primary factors at each level of decision making? What role did the casualty estimates from the proposed invasion of Japan play in the decision? Why were two bombs dropped? Was the U.S. prepared to launch an invasion after Hiroshima and Nagasaki were bombed.

"1945-Crucible of Deliverance" is open to the public, with tickets for the two day event at $40 for Admiral Nimitz Foundation members and $50 for others. For more information, contact Helen McDonald at the Admiral Nimitz Museum, 210-997-4373.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Hesperian,
Thank you so much for the wonderful write up you gave me in the newspaper. It was very nicely written.

I enjoyed my two trips to Floydada to set up and pick up my artwork. The people at the bank were super. (Also, I sold some of my work. That's enjoyable!)

I found the people of Floydada to all be so friendly. Everyone seemed like typical "small town" very friendly and ready to help. My sister and I took in the Museum and found it very interesting.

Thank you Floydada for you are what makes small towns the best places to live.

Sincerely,
M.A. Stelzer

They interspersed jokes and comments throughout their program much to the entertainment of the audience. Ricky Mosley ran the sound system for the group.

Junior High Students Adam Jones, Jarrett Thornton and Josh Quebe presented the poems and readings they will do at the upcoming U.L.L. competition.

Two skits were performed by the Lockney High School Students Council.

The cafeteria was decorated to fit the theme "Lockney The Show". The tables were covered in red and topped with boxes of popcorn, bars of candy, Cokes and movie theatre tickets. Enormous boxes filled with popcorn balloons graced the entrance and stage.

The walls were filled with the art work of 8th through twelfth graders from Lisa Mosley's art classes.

Those attending were treated to a turkey and dressing dinner provided by the luncheon staff. The dinner was served by members of the LHS National Honor Society and Student Council.

Lockney Chamber of Director President Ted Young served as Master of Ceremonies for the evening. Lockney Mayor Kenneth Wofford welcomed those present and recognized the out of town guests.

work and pay taxes. We believe that attitude on the part of so many in power for so long had a great deal to do with the massive expression of voter sentiment exhibited in the 1994 elections.

There's always hope. Those in Congress who still haven't gotten the message may get it the next time around. After all, voters have demonstrated they are quite capable of casting off old bonds and looking to the future.

And just to keep you posted on where your tax dollars go: The local newspaper reports that Austin and four surrounding counties will receive an "additional $1,036,611" in federal funds (Ryan White Title 1) in health and "social services" benefits for people with AIDS. The same federal pool allocated $1,085,633 in December for "victims" of AIDS in the same area. The chairman of the area HIV Planning Council voiced concern that another $1,500,000 in federal funds to provide rent and utilities for people with AIDS might be in jeopardy. He didn't say why.

The money, as we understand it, is available to those communities that can document they have at least 2,000 cases of AIDS. Austin qualifies. In fact, it more than qualifies.

Just thought you'd like to know.

Courtroom Activities

Lockney City Council sets election

By Juanita Stepp
LOCKNEY — The City of Lockney has officially set the 1995 Municipal Election for May 6. Motion to order the election was made by Councilman Bil Anderson with a second by Councilman J. D. Copeland. All voted in favor.
 The May 6 Election will be for a mayor and councilmen in Districts 4 and 5. Currently holding those offices are Mayor Kenneth Wofford, and Councilmen Rodger Stapp and Bil Anderson.
 Anderson presented copies of several water conservation tips he hopes can be used as some type of public service advertising during the coming months to encourage citizens to make the best use of local water supplies and conserve as much of that supply as possible.
 It was suggested that a cooperative effort to educate the public might be attempted by the City of Lockney, the City of Floydada, Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, and the local newspaper. The council was agreeable to allowing Anderson to pursue such a cooperative effort.

Home given Medicare certification

Floydada Nursing Home announced that the United States Health Care Financing Administration has approved the facility for Title 18 patients, more commonly known as the Medicare program. The facility received Medicare certification approval after being recommended by the Texas Department of Health. Certification was attained after meeting strict Federal guidelines which allow the facility to provide care to individuals in the "skilled" category.
 The certification, which is for six of the facility's forty-nine available beds, will allow the facility to provide specialized services and rehabilitation programs to Medicare eligible individuals who require skilled nursing intervention on a daily basis.
 "We are very proud to receive this certification," said Wanda Gibbs, Administrator of Floydada Nursing Home. "I attribute the facility attaining Medicare eligibility to our highly skilled staff and their firm commitment to providing residents with an exceptional level of care."

... A motion was made by Councilman Gary Marr to pass a resolution authorizing the development of a used oil recycling center for Lockney citizens who change their own oil in autos. The resolution is necessary in order to facilitate grant applications for funding the proposed project. Anderson seconded and the vote was unanimously in favor.

... The resignation of Ellis Butler, a part time city police officer, was accepted by unanimous vote of the council. Butler cited health problems as the reason for his resignation which was effective February 14. Motion for the action came from Councilman Copeland and was seconded by Councilman Stapp.

... The council will look into the increase in junk in alleys, along the old railroad tracks and in bar ditches in the community. Councilman Marr suggested that someone with a truck might make a small business out of this. All agreed that the city did not want to be in the junk business, but that something needs to be done to stop trash and unwanted items from stacking up in the city. No action was taken at this time.

Swimming pool rates were again discussed. A change from past years such as having no family pass for the season was again brought up. Councilman Richard Zavala suggested that no passes be sold and only a daily rate be utilized. No action was taken at this time. A decision is anticipated at the April regular session of the council.

... Special recognition for the volunteer fire fighters and the ambulance volunteers was again discussed. Councilman Stapp stated that as a former member of the department, he felt the best recognition they could receive would probably be for the council to continue to support the volunteers and make sure they have the equipment and supplies they need in order to do their job. He added that a donation to the annual fishing trip and/or Christmas party might be appreciated. No action was taken at this time.

... Councilman Marr told the council that the city needs to find out who is responsible for removing the old railroad tracks on 4th Street and on 8th Street. He stated that he had heard several queries concerning how rough the area is and why the now unused tracks remain in the street.

... Minutes from the February 9 regular council session and from a February 27 special called session were read and approved as presented.

... Financial statements for the month of February were reviewed and approved as presented.

proved as presented. Payment of March monthly bills was authorized on a motion by Copeland. The motion was seconded by Anderson and all voted in favor.

Poisonings

"The person responsible for using the Temik to poison dogs could have bought it anywhere, or they could have taken it from someone else."

Because of the inconsistencies of owners reporting the poisonings it is unknown exactly how many dogs have actually died from ingesting Temik.

"We know positively of 4 dogs who have died from Temik poisoning because they were tested after their deaths," said Hale. "However, the city picked up several dead dogs about a week before anyone came forward to complain about poisoned animals. This makes us suspect approximately 15-20 dogs being poisoned."

Lockney veterinarian, Paul Glasson, said, "I have treated 10-15 dogs that have been poisoned that have lived long enough to make it to me."

The Temik is being mixed with meat and left in different locations in the city. Because it is such a strong poison and because of the amount of Temik being used in the mixture, Hale warns that it can be very dangerous for a child to pick up the bait. "The poison can be absorbed through the skin."

Authorities are hopeful that someone will come forward with information in an effort to keep a child from being harmed and to prevent any more poisonings.

Police News

In other police activities this past week, Officer Earnest Back observed a heavy duty pick-up parked at Brooks Oil (Uncle's), on Hwy. 70, at approximately 5:15 a.m. When he stopped to check on the truck he found a man, banging on doors and windows of the business.

According to Police Chief James Hale the man, later identified as Walter Boyd Robinson, 45, of Wilson, Oklahoma, was belligerent and disoriented. Officer Back arrested Robinson and transported him to the Floyd County Jail.

A passenger in the truck was released. A search of Robinson truck turned up a .22 caliber pistol, a marijuana cigarette and substance that was later determined to be Methamphetamine.

After Robinson was taken to the jail he began to hallucinate and was taken to a Plainview hospital.

March 13, police took a report of obscene phone calls. A caller ID machine had identified the caller's phone number and a check of the number led police to a home. An occupant of the home was questioned and charges are

LISD purchases new bus

LOCKNEY—Lockney School Board trustees covered a wide range of topics in their monthly meeting, Thursday, March 9, including the purchase of a new bus and pending legislation in Austin.

After reviewing specifications and opening bids for a new school bus, trustees unanimously agreed to purchase a Genesis school bus at a cost of $58,581. Included in that cost will be an extra cost of $450.00 to have the bus painted white. The bus is also slightly larger than the other buses that were submitted for consideration.

The trustees chose the option to purchase a bus that was large enough to seat 78 people but has only 72 seats in the bus. This will give students extra leg room when seated.

The bus will also have air conditioning, rear heat, 5/8 inch plywood floors, tinted windows, 190 HP diesel engine and automatic transmission.

Trustees approved an application for a staff development waiver which will be submitted to the Texas Education Agency.

The waiver request an approval to reduce student attendance days from 180 to 177 for the purpose of providing staff development days in the 1995-96 school year. This will enable staff to have three full days of staff development.

Board members approved the 1995-96 textbooks adopted by the textbook committee. Serving on the textbook committee which chose the books were: Raymond Lusk, Zeldia Ellison, David Norwood, Lisa Mosley, Amy Thornton, Dana Johnson, Kathy Hunter, Kay Abney, Kevin Meyer and David Sutter-field.

According to Superintendent Raymond Lusk none of the controversial health books were included. "Only two health books were chosen and we could find nothing controversial in these," said Lusk. "The people who made the books that were considered controversial pulled the books from consideration."

Lusk also informed the board that LISD had received a net of $64,420 from the Seminole School District under the Robin Hood Plan, whereby richer school districts "share their wealth."

Board members also toured the area where construction has already begun on the new library facility.

Lusk also reviewed provisions of Senate Bill I which has been introduced to the Texas legislature by Senator Bill Ratliff. The bill covers many areas of education policies.

One area which concerned Lusk was a new proposed funding adjustment for small and mid-sized districts. "This adjustment would be disastrous for Lockney and other school districts this size," said Lusk. "Lockney could lose anywhere between $400,000-$600,000 in funding. We would have to make drastic cuts."

The new funding adjustment would be applied to districts under 1,600 students which covers an area of less than 300 square miles (unless they are the only school in the county).

"This is just another step toward making schools consolidate," said Trustee Mike Mathis.

"We will be fighting this issue," said Lusk, "but it is something we need to be concerned with."

According to Lusk, other amendments in Senate Bill I would provide "almost as much control to the local school district as a district would want."

Another amendment in the Bill would raise the minimum teacher salary to $18,500 from $17,000. The maximum pay would raise to $32,102 from $28,400.

Wilma Mathis, Sandra Turley and Jimmie Dee Whitlock submitted their resignations to the trustees. The three employees will be retiring.

School board members voted unanimously to add another elementary teaching position dependent on whether or not the funding to LISD changes next year.

All building principals gave reports to the board, reviewing TAAS test which have been going on at each campus and upcoming UIL events.

Principal Phil Cotham also told the board that an Open House has been planned for parents at the elementary school on March 24.

Randy Henderson appeared before the board to discuss his concerns about a coach working for LISD. Henderson was primarily concerned with what he perceived as a lack of leadership and instruction. The board listened to Henderson but had no comment in open session.

During the financial report Lusk told the board that $23,365.68 in taxes had been collected for the month of February. A total of $913,453.63 in taxes has been collected, with $41,033.91 still delinquent.

The balance in checking for LISD as of March 10, is $416,922.72. LISD also has 2,700,000.00 in investments.

The board adjourned into executive session at approximately 9:00 p.m.

When the board reconvened the trustees unanimously agreed to re-hire all LISD professional staff.

Betty Sue Bertrand, daughter-in-law and her daughter, Shelly, granddaughter of William and Faye Bertrand visited over the weekend. Shelly will be checking out Texas Tech during Spring Break. She will be graduating from high school in May. The family plans to move from Vernon to Lubbock after graduation.

Our monthly Saturday luncheon was a success. We had 23 in attendance. Those who had a March birthday were recognized and we sang happy birthday to them. Those present having a March birthday were James Lovell, Buelah Baker, Julia Baker and Guy Garrison.

Molly Stringer gave our program. She reminisced about her childhood recalling to our seniors of her farm life experiences. All those present could relate with her of the same things happening to them. It was a very interesting program. Molly also sang and played the piano. Jerry Bradford joined her on one song.

Marie Tardy's name was drawn for a free meal this week at the center.

We were happy that Thelma Jones from the nursing home was able to be with us. Due to illness she has missed the Saturday luncheons for several months.

Essays written by the three students, D.G. Hollums, Tiffany Ellison and Leslie Rivera, read as follows:

"Our American Heritage and Our Responsibility to Preserve It"

By D.G. Hollums
American history is a very unique history with great importance to everyone. The heritage of America has been brought up through the years in very proud and honored ways. Traditions of long past have been kept for future generations to learn and follow. As in the past, America has a responsibility to keep its heritage by giving its knowledge to the future.

The idea of America was never a sudden thought. It was as gradual as the growth of a tree. People came to America for a fresh new start to their lives. Eventually people were tired of being run by a higher authority so they started bonding together for a revolt against England. The American Revolution sparked to love in everyone of new life in America. A select people represented and lead America very well, such as, George Washington, and Abraham Lincoln, but the people were the true cause of their actions.

The strength of their beliefs were so great that they would even put their own lives in jeopardy for their country. Some countries made their soldiers go fight wars with force, but the United States of America uses pride. Even when America was divided in the Civil War, each side believed that it was doing what was in best interest of America.

From the First Continental Congress to the NAFTA act, the heritage of America keeps growing. The responsibility of America is to teach these ideas and actions of the past to younger generations. In the past and currently, younger generations have been taught through schools about America heritage. Several youth ask the questions, "Why do we have to learn about history?" Many problems in the future will be solved or avoided by the mistakes that have already taken place in the past. Therefore America must preserve its heritage.

Preservation can be done in many ways. Songs, replicas, stories, folk tales, are just a few of the examples of America reaching to the younger generation. These examples give the youth the same spark of love and respect for their country as the earlier founders. If a country is to survive it must be believed in. American heritage must be preserved for the country as a whole to survive. It is the responsibility of the people of the present to give the knowledge of the past, to the youth now. Once the "spark" of love and respect grows in them, they may pass it to future generations. If the responsibility of America is accepted, American heritage will be known forever, and America as a country will survive longer than any in the past.

America. But we cannot continue to make our country stronger by just looking forward. We must look back and remember the struggle and loss our forefathers went through for our gain.

Nothing in America's past has been gained easily. When a small group of men met in Philadelphia in 1776 they had a dream of having a country where their families could make their own decisions and be treated fairly and equally by those they would elect to be their government.

Unfortunately, this dream could not be attained by a simple pen and paper. When they signed the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776, they signed themselves into a revolution, a revolution that they fought proudly and bravely with looking back. They held their heads high and headed straight towards their goal. They defeated Britain and began the more difficult struggle to becoming one of the most powerful countries in the world with a different twist, freedom. It was the most important thing to these men who unselfishly laid down their lives for a dream. A dream that John Adams knew consisted of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Through much diversity we have built a strong and proud nation, men died but they died for our freedom. This fact proves the reality that the Declaration of Independence doesn't make us free, the Constitution doesn't make us free, and neither does the Bill of Rights. They are merely hand written articles declaring what we the people created. The true source of freedom is the will that we as American's have in keeping our nation free. Men's lives were taken from them as they willingly stepped out to give it, all for the freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and many other freedoms that today's American's often take for granted. Our heritage is our own and we must take pride in it.

To take pride in our heritage we must work to preserve it, and help keep people aware that the key to our future is our past. We must realize that nothing is given to use free, without a price. Our forefathers realized this and built our country around it. They know that they must fight and stand up for what they felt and knew was right.

We have forgotten this in a world where so many things are handed to us on a silver platter. Without knowledge of the past, there could possibly be no future.

Fortunately, there are still good people in the world that know that we must all work towards a common goal to achieve it, and that we must rely on the steps of help from our past. They allow the successes and mistakes of those before us to guide them in their successes today. It is our responsibility as good citizens to help others remember the past and to keep Americans proud of who we are and proud to be the nation where men once stood and proclaimed "give me liberty or give me death."

"Our American Heritage and Our Responsibility to Preserve It"

By Leslie Rivera
The United States of America was a vision in the minds of all people who wanted a better life for themselves and for their children. America was a dream of freedom.

Everyone who left their home to live in America did so because they wanted more out of life than what they had been offered. They wanted the chance to start over and begin a new life. America gave them that chance.

But the opportunity to begin a new life was not given to them freely. Our ancestors had to fight for freedom. America was built by a group of people who were willing to fight and even die for the right to be their own person and to live a life of freedom.

Our ancestors gave us a wonderful gift. A gift that is granted to us the day we are born. As citizens of the United States, we are given the right and the opportunity to be whatever we desire to be.

We have the right to live where we want to live and to worship as we choose. We even have the right to make simple every day decisions, such as whether or not to wear a green shirt or a blue one.

We also have the right to choose a career that makes us happy, not what makes the government happy. We have the right to become doctors, lawyers, teachers, or even janitors if we have the mind to.

We live in a great country that is often called the land of opportunity. But America is not what it used to be. People today have taken freedom for granted and have made some very unwise decisions. Decisions that effect the entire country.

The problem of gangs and drugs is a major issue in today's society. It is a problem that must be solved. Of course our country has many other problems, but I feel that if we work to rid our country of gangs and drugs America would be well on its way to becoming everything it was before.

I feel that if the people of America banded together to overcome these problems we could win, just as our ancestors won the fight for freedom. It would take a lot more working together and less fighting each other but I believe we could do it.

Our ancestors built and molded a wonderful country. I believe that it is our duty and responsibility to preserve America so that future generations may have more opportunities and the freedom to be whatever they wish to be.

AEROBICS FOR HEALTH--Floyd County ladies of all ages have joined together to strive for better health. An aerobics class, led by instructor Julianne Cornelius, is held two times a week as part of "Eat Smart and Exercise Wisely" month. Each class is started with tips for good nutrition. --Staff photo

Have a good week! 'Eat Smart' emphasized by ACS

SHAKLEE
983-5246

It is well established that dietary patterns have a substantial impact on health.

People everywhere are giving more thought to healthful eating habits and to the saying, "you are what you eat!" Add the basic ingredient of planned exercise and we have a combination for a healthier, happier life! This is the message being promoted in the aerobics class pictured. Before each class, the relation of exercise and foods is emphasized.

Some tips on eating smart and exercise: Rediscover foods and educate your palate if you think that eating smart is "boring." A crisp apple, strawberries, fresh fish, cooked simply--these foods have wonderful flavor without a sauce or butter or topping and nuts. If you learn to enjoy a hot crusty bagel with all-fruit spread, a sugared doughnut may lose all its appeal. Don't exercise on an empty stomach; and if fat accounts for 40 percent of the calories in your diet, try gradually to cut the fat to the recommended 20 percent. If you are trying to lose weight, too, you could lose up to a pound a week this way with exercise.

Eat often enough to keep your metabolism "revved up." If you avoid feeling hungry, you'll be less likely to snack. Focus on muscle-toning exercises, increased muscle-tone helps your body burn more calories even when you are not active. Avoid fatty snacks such as nuts, seeds, peanut butter, and butter crackers. Eat lots of green and yellow veggies. Every month should be "Eat right and exercise wisely" month," but the American Cancer Society has set aside March to focus on a healthier body.

March 19-25 is National Poison Prevention Week

--From Melissa Long, CEA-FCS

The observance of National Poison Prevention Week from March 19-25, 1995, reminds us that "Everything At Grandma's Isn't Candy!" The focus on poison prevention when visiting grandparents and other friends and relatives recognizes the dangers of potential poisons and emphasizes important preventive tips to avoid unfortunate accidents.

Curiosity often leads young children to medicine cabinets, purses, counter tops and drawers where prescription and over-the-counter medications are kept. Overall, 17% of drugs ingested in poisoning exposures belong to grandparents or great-grandparents. Children find it difficult to resist brightly colored pills which resemble candy and sweet tasting liquids, resulting in many poisoning accidents. Chewing or swallowing a single pill of certain drugs can result in serious consequences for young children. Though child-resistant caps and cabinet locks may hinder children's initial attempts to get these pills and other products, many children eventually defeat these barriers.

The 34th observance of National Poison Prevention Week is designated annually to raise awareness in local communities to the prevention and dangers of accidental poisonings. Statistics indicate that 60% of all poisonings occur in children under the age of six, and almost 90% of all poisonings are accidental. These poisonings can be prevented with public education and awareness of poison prevention.

Poison centers nationwide provide invaluable health care services in the event of a poisoning emergency, as well as crucial preventive education to reduce the occurrence of these accidents. By safely managing approximately 80% of poisoning incidents in the home, poison centers eliminate thousands of needless and costly emergency room visits.

According to the American Association of Poison Control Centers, every $1 spent on a poison center results in a $4-$9 savings in overall healthcare dollars spent on this problem. In 1994 alone, the Texas Poison Center Network at Amarillo responded to over 1700 calls from the 71 county region covered by the Center.

During this National Poison Prevention Week, the Texas Poison Center Network at Amarillo reminds you to "poison proof" your home and the homes of those people you visit. Take a moment to make sure these homes are safe by storing medications, household cleaners and other poison far from the reach of children. Remember, children act fast...so do poisons!

For poisoning emergencies or poison information, contact the Texas Poison Center Network at Amarillo at 1-800-764-7661.

Be aware of poisons at home and work

By Melissa Long, CEA-FCS

Many people think of poisoning as a "kid's problem", but adults also need protection from accidental poisonings. Poison protection is simple if adults are aware of poison hazards that are present in their home or workplace.

Three of the most common causes of poison are medications, occupational hazards, and pesticides. "Being mindful of the following precautions can save a life," says Laura Vaughn, coordinator of the Texas Poison Center Network at Amarillo. These reminders are offered during observation of National Poison Prevention Week, March 19-25.

- Medications
— Always read labels.
— Do not borrow or loan prescribed medicines.
— Throw out old or expired medications.
— Keep your doctor informed of both prescription and non-prescription medications you are taking.
— Check with your pharmacist, physician, or the poison center if you are taking two or more medications at the same time.
— Never take more than the prescribed amount of any medication.
— Use child resistant containers.
- Occupational Hazards
— Be aware of any chemicals around your workplace and safety precautions needed when working with them.
— Make sure you know the safety procedures for your work site and what to do in case of an emergency.
— Always wear safety equipment when necessary on the job site and follow instructions for washup.
- Pesticides
— Always read and follow directions and warnings before using a product.
— Keep products in their original containers.
— Never mix products or chemicals.
— Remember that using twice the amount of chemical does not mean that you will gain twice the benefit.
— Dispose of toxic chemicals properly. Contact the health department in your area if unsure about safe disposal.
If you suspect a poisoning or want poison or drug information, call the Texas Poison Center Network at Amarillo at 1-800-764-7661.

Take precautions for severe weather

Although tornadoes, can strike virtually any part of Texas at any time, spring seems to bring an increase in this type of violent weather activity.

The Governor's Division of Emergency Management recommends you take precautions to protect yourself and your family in the event of a tornado.

Periodically hold a tornado drill so that family members know what to do and where to go if they see a tornado or if the National Weather Service issues a tornado warning. The safest part of a house during a tornado traditionally is the basement, but be aware of the potential for flooding if there is a heavy rain in the area. Interior bathrooms, hallways, and closets on the ground floor also offer protection from tornadic winds. Avoid windows and outside walls. Take along blankets or sleeping bags to protect yourself from falling debris and shattering glass, which are frequently the cause of death and injury during a tornado.

Prepare a 72-hour disaster supplies kit and first aid kit should you need to evacuate your home. Make certain you have a portable radio and several flashlights (and fresh batteries for both) as well as plenty of bottled water one gallon per person per day, food and extra prescription medications in your disaster supplies kit.

Remember, if a tornado strikes, electricity, gas, water and sewer service may be disrupted for several days. It may become necessary for you to turn off your utilities; know where your electric fuse box, water service main and natural gas main are located. Learn how to turn off your utilities. Turn off your utilities only if you know how to detect damage to the lines or if you are instructed to do so. If you turn the gas off, you will need a professional to turn it back on.

Mobile homes and automobiles are dangerous places to be during a tornado. If you live in a mobile home, make sure all family members know where to find the nearest substantial shelter. If you are in your mobile home or car and can't get to a better shelter: go outside, lie down in the nearest ravine, ditch or culvert and cover your head with your hands. Be aware of the possibility of flooding in low-lying areas. Do not hide under your mobile home or car because both can easily be picked up and carried away by a tornado.

Your local (city or county) emergency management office can provide you with additional information on severe weather precautions. The Governor's Division of Emergency Management, Texas Department of Public Safety, the National Weather Service, and the Texas Insurance Advisory Association are sources of information and publications on various weather phenomena and related information.

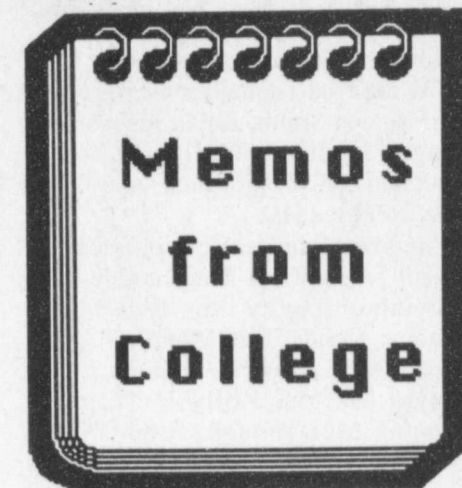

LOCKNEY--Marine Pfc. Brent Poole, son of Doyle B. Poole of Lockney recently completed recruit training.

During the training cycle at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, recruits are taught the basics of battlefield survival, introduced to typical military daily routine, and personal and professional standards.

All recruits participate in an active physical conditioning program and gain proficiency in a variety of military skills including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close-order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline are emphasized throughout the cycle.

Although the Marine Corps is scaling back, its investment in high-quality recruits continues. The Marine Corps has more than 38,000 job openings this year.

The 1994 graduate of Lockney High School of Lockney joined the Marine Corps in October, 1994.

McMurray University

Wesley Teeter of Lockney was recently named to the Dean's Honor Roll at McMurray University for the Fall 1994 semester.

Teeter is a senior, majoring in Education.

To be named to the Dean's Honor Roll, a student must take between six and 11 hours and have a 3.5 or better GPA.

South Plains College

FLOYDADA--A Floydada resident has been named outstanding student for February in the Technical Division at South Plains College.

Todd Cage, 20, from Floydada has been selected student of the month in agribusiness technology. His parents are James and Kay Cage.

"Students in each department in the Technical Division are selected by their faculty on the basis of academic achievement, leadership and contributions to their class as a whole," said Frank Hunt, division dean.

"SPC established this program to recognize the achievements of our technical students," he said.

Billy M. Nichols arrives in Somalia

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Billy M. Nichols, a 1974 graduate of Floydada High School of Floydada has been serving off the coast of Mogadishu, Somalia, aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Essex as part of the international task force assembled to withdraw United Nations forces from Somalia.

Nichols arrived in Somalia in late February after completing half of a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific and Indian oceans and Persian Gulf aboard the 844-foot-long ship.

Nichols is one of 3,800 sailors and 2,600 Marines who made up a four-ship amphibious landing force which assisted in the final withdrawal of U.N. peacekeepers from Mogadishu. Joining USS Essex were Belleau Wood, USS Fort Fisher, USS Ogden and the 13th Marine Expeditionary Unit. The primary mission of the Marines was to provide security for the final stages of the withdrawal.

Nichols' ship is a multipurpose amphibious assault ship equipped with helicopters and Harrier jump jets, and can even launch high-speed assault, hovercraft, amphibious landing craft and amphibious vehicles from its flooded well-deck.

Overall, more than 7,000 U.S. men and women have been serving in the operation and were joined by coalition naval forces from Italy, the United Kingdom, France, Pakistan, and Malaysia.

Following the withdrawal operation, Nichols departed to complete the remainder of the six-month deployment and is scheduled to return to San Diego in April.

Nichols also has been involved in a variety of multinational naval exercises and has been working in support of the ongoing maritime interception operations. Since the Persian Gulf War, U.S. Navy units continue to help enforce the U.N.-led international embargo against Iraq by preventing ships from transporting prohibited material to and from Iraq in violation of the agreement.

Nichols' involvement in the deployment is an example of how the Navy and Marine Corps team operates overseas and responds quickly when needed. Whether delivering humanitarian assistance, cargo, or troops from the sea, these highly-trained naval forces provide a unique crisis-response option, which can be withdrawn quickly when no longer needed.

He joined the Navy in November 1977.

The cities of Lockney and Floydada have joined with the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon to bring a series of water conservation tips to the citizens of Floyd County. Over the next few weeks reprints from a Cargill Inc. sponsored program called "Water Matters" will appear in this paper.

These tips if used at home, at work, and in the community can help reduce some of the waste of an important and vital resource.

Preserving heritage topic of program for 1950 Study Club

by Addie Assiter

The 1950 Study Club met at Doris McLains on March 7. Jane McCulley called meeting to order. Our topic of the evening was Preserving Our Family Heritage. Shirley Morton introduced Janet Cunningham from Plainview who gave us a very good program on family photo albums. She demonstrated arranging photos, materials and how important it is to leave family photos with names and information for the future.

Roll call, which is always enlightening and entertaining on sixteen subjects, and business followed.

Hostesses Doris and Shirley Morton served delightful refreshments to guest Carol Brooks, and Tresha Whittle and members Nell Abram, Ellie Anderson, Genevieve Evans, Margie Fowler, Wanda Hickerson, Martha Lotspeich, Jane McCulley, Lovene Moore and Nettie Ruth Whittle.

Our thought for the day was "Probably most of us fancy that the old days were better because we were younger then."

* Check your toilets for leaks. Put a little food coloring in your toilet tank. If, without flushing, the color begins to appear in the bowl, you have a leak that should be repaired immediately.

* Stop using the toilet as an ashtray or wastebasket. Every time you flush a cigarette butt, facial tissue, or other small bit of trash, you waste five to seven gallons of water.

* Put plastic bottles in your toilet tank. To cut down on water waste, put an inch or two of sand or pebbles inside each of two plastic bottles to weight them down. Fill them with water and put them in your toilet tank, safely away from operating mechanisms. IN an average home, the bottles may displace and save ten or more gallons of water a day.

* Take shorter showers. Long, hot showers can waste five to ten gallons every unneeded minute. Limit your showers to the time it takes to soap up, wash down, and rinse off.

* Install water-saving shower heads or flow restrictors. Your local hardware or plumbing supply store stocks inexpensive water-saving shower heads or restrictors that are easy to install.

* Take baths. A bath in a partially filled tub uses less water than all but the shortest showers.

* Turn off the water after you wet your toothbrush. There is no need to keep water pouring down the drain. Just wet your brush and fill a glass for mouth rinsing.

* Rinse your razor in the sink. Fill the bottom of the sink with a few inches of warm water. This will rinse your blade just as well as running water. And far less wastefully.

* Check faucets and pipes for leaks. Even the smallest drip from a worn washer can waste 20 or more gallons a day. Larger leaks can waste hundreds.

Longhorns defeat 'Winds 11-6 in baseball match

by Bill Gray

The Lockney Longhorns continued their mastery over Floydada on the baseball diamond with a come-from-behind 11-6 victory over the Whirlwinds at Watson Field on March 10. The 'Winds dropped their second outing against one win as the 'Horns captured their first victory of the young season.

"We've really improved since our first game. Alfred Martinez pitched the whole game and struck out nine batters," said Lockney Baseball Coach David Norwood.

"All I can do is ask the kids to improve every game and that's what we did against Floydada."

Floydada Coach David Kennedy said, "It was disappointing to lose to Lockney, but we did a good job at the plate and had no base-running mistakes. We're hitting the ball better every day, and we're going to keep getting better as the season goes on."

Lockney jumped out to a 2-0 lead, but Floydada responded in the second and third innings to go ahead 4-2. Three Whirlwind errors contributed to four Lockney runs in the top of the 4th inning-which was a turning point of the game.

Kennedy said, "Our five errors were the key to our loss. We never like to see those mistakes, but we were hustling when the errors occurred—and I like that." The coach added, "We still need to develop our pitching staff, but we're keeping everything in perspective and focusing on April."

For the Longhorns, Nino Garcia was 3 for 4 at the plate and had 3 RBI's. Jared Mosley was 3 for 4 and had 3 RBI's and Alfred Martinez was 3 for 5 at the plate.

Tomás Barrientos hit a ball over the 340 sign for the Whirlwinds' first regular season home run. Ken Cummings was 2 for 4 and scored two runs. Jason Henderson went 2 for 3, with 2 RBI in his first game of the season and Neal Nelson was 2 for 3 (and about three inches away from going 3 for 3).

In summing up the game, Coach Kennedy said, "I like the hustle we're getting in the field. We competed well and never gave up. We've got to realize we're young (experience-wise) and it's early-our focus has to be on April and our district schedule."

HORNETS SWEEP DOUBLE-HEADER

The Whirlwinds dropped a double-header at Tulia on March 11. The Hornets won the first 9-2 in seven innings and ran away from the 'Winds in the nightcap 19-5 (in a game called after 5 innings due to the ten-run rule).

Coach Kennedy said, "The first game wasn't very productive for us as a team. However, Monty Anderson had a triple and scored a run; Tomas Barrientos and Sammy Rodriguez each had a RBI; and Michael Mercado scored over other run."

The Whirlwinds committed more errors (six) than in any game so far. Kennedy noted, "When you play a team the quality of Tulia, you can't beat yourself. Tulia is at the level we want to get to, and we have to play teams like them to achieve that level."

Kennedy added, "We hit the ball better in the second game. The players are staying positive and playing hard... We're looking to District because that's when they start counting."

Barrientos was 3 for 3 (including a double in Game Two). Rodriguez was 2 for 3 with a two-run homer; Mercado was 1 for 3 and scored a run; and Kyle Pierce was 1 for 2 in his first game for the season.

Monty Anderson came in and threw two good innings. Jason Henderson started his first game as a pitcher, but had difficulties. Coach Kennedy noted,

"Jason is young and I know he will get better-we can use a lefty in the rotation. Neal Nelson threw well, and with some work will be able to help us. We used this game to find some pitching and we accomplished that goal."

Whirlwinds capture 3rd place at Antelope Relays

by Bill Gray

Outstanding efforts in discus and shot put, couples with a strong 2nd place finish in the 1600 meters relay, helped the Whirlwinds finish third in team standing at the annual Antelope Relays in Post on March 11. Floydada compiled 69 team points, compared to their 22 points for 9th place a week ago at the Whirlwind Relays.

Post was declared the overall team champ with 126 points. Shallowater's 86 team points were good enough for 2nd place. Other team standings and point totals were: 4. Lockney 57 1/2, 5. Lubbock Roosevelt 44, 6. New Deal 43 1/2, 7. Brownfield 40, 8. Lubbock Christian 36, 9. Crosbyton 27 1/2, 10. Trinity Christian 6.

Floydada finished 1-2 in discus as Zach Abshier took top honors with a toss of 142'-4". Teammate D.G. Hollums tossed 130'-3" for second place. Abshier also captured the top spot in shot put with a 45'-3/4" effort. Hollums placed third in the event at 41'-3".

The Antelopes won the 1600 relay with a time of 3:39.52, but Floydada's runner-up time of 3:40.26 gave the hosts all they could handle. Brownfield ran third in the event with a timing of 3:42.81. Competing for the 'Winds in the 1600 relay were Rance Barnett, Richard Casillas, Joe Ysasaga and Ken Cummings. Floydada's 400 meter relay team was disqualified in the finals due to a dropped baton (which cost the 'Winds a third place finish).

Floydada's Terry Harris placed fourth in the 200 meter dash with a time of 24.49. Teammate Monte Quisenberry finished fifth with a 24.66 timing. Mario Nunez ran fifth in the 110 meter high hurdles with a timing of 19.15, and Randy York was timed at 11:51 in the 3200 meters. York placed sixth in the 1600 meters with a 5:35.7 time.

Rance Barnett's 38'-5 1/4" measurement in triple jump placed fifth. Barnett also ran sixth in the 300 meter hurdles with a 44.7 clocking. Joe Ysasaga placed fourth in the 400 meter dash with a time of 53.71. Ken Cummings (55.09) and Richard Casillas (65.89) also competed in that event.

Whirlwind track coach David Carr was extremely proud of the team's efforts. "Everyone improved this week," said Carr. "Hopefully we won't lose any ground over Spring Break. These young men have been working very hard and deserve any success that comes their way." Following Spring Break, the Whirlwinds will travel to the San Angelo Relays on March 24 and 25.

The Lady 'Winds scored a total of 18 team points to finish eighth at the Post meet. Brownfield's Lady Cubs were the team champion with 146 points, followed by Post (144 points) and Shallowater (82 points).

Dana McCandless ran 2:39.41 for 3rd place in the 800 meters. Lezlie Warren and Tara McCandless ran 4-5 in the 1600 meters with times of 6:28.51 and 6:39.23, respectively. Warren and Tara McCandless also ran 4-5 in the 3200 meters with 14:50 and 14:89 clockings. The Lady Wind's will next compete in the Eagle Relays at Lubbock Roosevelt on March 25.

Floydada Junior Basketball Report

By Bill Gray

FLOYDADA--The Floydada Junior Basketball program concluded its season with an awards ceremony on March 10. Program Director Ann Jones emphasized that the purpose of the program was to encourage the youngsters to learn basketball skills, sportsmanship and above all--to have fun. She said, "I enjoyed watching the kids play and encourage the kids to their best and improve our overall basketball program."

All-Stars were named for the various age groups. Jones stated, "I know some had hurt feelings for not being selected for All-Stars, but selections were made the fairest way we could." Coaches could not vote for their own players (in a similar fashion as the All-District high school teams are chosen).

Jones expressed her gratitude to the coaches and parents involved in the program. She noted, "practically all the parents helped in the concession stand, collected money at the door or just helped clean up. Diane Emert was a big part in scheduling games and practices, the concession stand, and paying and arranging for game officials."

Board members for this year included Rhonda and Larry Stovall, Kellie and Monte Williams, Suzanne and Kirk Wyrick, Cindy Fuller, Beverly Collins, Stan Pierce and Alex Martinez.

West Texas kick boxing title is still up for grabs

FLOYDADA -- Last Saturday's scheduled kick-boxing bout to determine the winner of the West Texas Championship has been rescheduled for April 1 in Abilene. The match, originally scheduled in Plainview, was postponed when Floydada kick-boxer Shane Derryberry's opponent weighed in carrying twenty excess pounds.

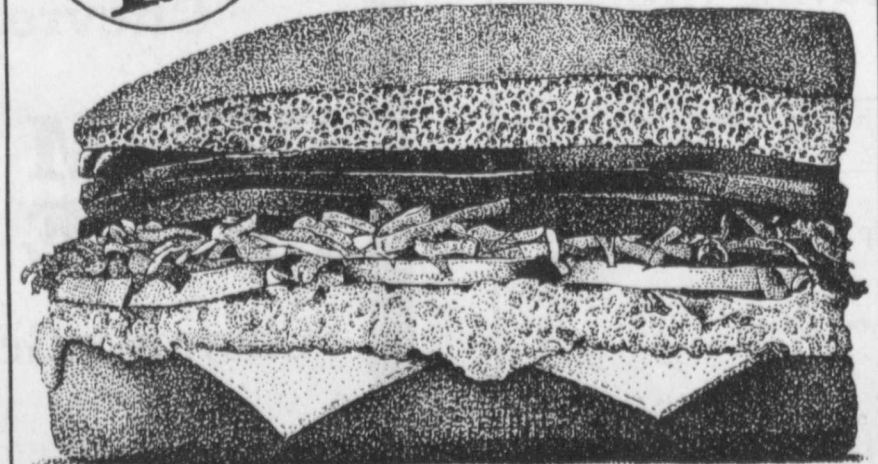

Derryberry and another opponent, Cezar Udalbe, went three rounds in an exhibition type match following the cancellation of the championship match. Derryberry won the fight. Derryberry trains with his step-father, Sharkey LeCroy.

FISD board approves site for new gym

By Juanita Stepp
FLOYDADA — The Board of Trustees for Floydada Independent School District voted unanimously to proceed with the proposal to build a new gymnasium on the Floydada High School grounds. The site selected is on the southside of the high school block between the Caprock Educational Coop buildings and the southwest corner which has been reserved as a band practice field. The new facility will be designed to face south. Tentative plans for the proposed facility were also adopted by the board during the regular monthly session held March 9.

Architect L. James Robison of Plainview will be designing the building and supervising the bid process and the eventual construction if the final authorization is given by the board. Motion for taking the appropriate action to move forward with the project was made by Steve Lloyd and seconded by Don Hardy. Voting with them in favor of the motion were Charlene Brown, John Campbell, Mitch Probasco, Trena Simpson, and Billy Joe Villarreal.

Members of the FISD board voted unanimously to accept the resignations of Darlyn Hambright, administrative secretary, Greg Longenbaugh of the Alternative School, and Beverly Nichols, High School Spanish teacher. The resignations are effective with the end of the current school year. They also accepted the resignation of Luz Aguilar from A. B. Duncan as an aide effective immediately due to health reasons. Helen Hernandez will be taking her place until the end of the year.

County Commissioners

Board, proposed that an annual fund raising event might be held with the proceeds devoted to annual expenses of the library. Other suggestions which were made included charging a fee for usage of the meeting room in the proposed facility and for use of the computer room. The possibility of obtaining grant funding for annual operating expenses would also be considered.

Jane Bean, a member of the building committee pointed out that the youth of the community are the future of the community. She expressed the opinion that the county should be willing to shoulder the responsibility of annual expenses in return for a modern facility which would benefit the children of the community and encourage them to read while offering them opportunities for learning.

Commissioner Gilroy reaffirmed his position that it would be difficult to justify committing tax dollars to benefit the small number of people who use the county library.

Bean asked that they remember that when it is time to buy the expensive road equipment necessary to maintain dirt roads for the benefit of the people who still live on dirt roads.

Both Commissioners Gilroy and Jones told those present that the comment they heard most often during their campaigns for election last year was that taxpayers would like to see spending cut and no tax increases.

According to figures presented to those attending by Judge Hardin, the county budget already dedicates more than $40,000.00 to the county library each year. These funds are not only for the Floydada branch but also for the small branch in Lockney.

Library Building Committee member Eddie Teeter told the group that he has had the opportunity to serve on a number of boards and has never regretted a decision which benefited the children of the community. He also said that he had never had complaints for spending money on projects, large or small, which benefited the children.

Travis Jones, also on the building committee, stated, "I hope that you will decide to approve this proposal. I think there has to be a way to do it and cut the spending somewhere else if necessary. I think it is important for the county to support this project and I think it will please more people than it upsets."

Barbara Mathis pointed out that illiteracy is a problem in this county and that the new facility would not only encourage people to learn to read, it would be ideal for reading classes.

Hollums asked that the county vote to support the project as a positive indication that would aid in securing a grant researcher and obtaining grants. She felt it would be hard to proceed without the support of the community and the county. "If you could give us a positive answer, it would encourage us and the community to move forward in working on the project."

Judge Hardin stated, "I am of the opinion that the county should accept the library when it is built as a gift then go on and see what we can do." The motion and vote followed.

Two proposals for elevator repair and maintenance by the Dover Company of Lubbock were approved by the court on a split vote. The first proposal, for $660.00 was to cover the required annual inspection of the elevator in the courthouse. The second, in the amount of $3,269.00, was for state mandated replacement of parts and addition of a pit ladder.

Jones indicated that he did not think the work should be approved without seeking additional bid estimates and he stated that he did not think the state should be able to force the county to replace things which were not necessary. Judge Hardin indicated that he has been unable to find any other companies that will service the elevator.

Motion to approve the proposals was made by Bearden with a second by Taylor. All except Jones voted in favor of the motion.

Fifteen farm work contracts were unanimously approved on a motion by Gilroy with a second by Jones. Approved for Precinct 1 was contract

#1527 for John Dunlap to build a soil conservation terrace at a site 2 miles east & 1/2 mile south of Floydada. #1501 was approved in Precinct 3 for Raymond Reeves to clean out a stock tank for soil conservation at a location 4 1/2 miles north & 1 mile east of South Plains.

Precinct 4 contracts approved included: #1511 for Winnie F. Neil to have washes filled in for soil conservation at a site 10 miles east & 3 miles north of FM 97; #1513 for filling in washes for soil conservation for Margaret Fowler by Leonard Matsler 12 miles east & 4 miles north of Floydada; and #1528 for a soil conservation terrace 7 miles east & 1 1/2 mile south of Floydada for John Dunlap.

Precinct 2 contracts included: #1501 for Ira Henderson to build up a terrace for soil conservation and to fill in low areas 3 1/2 miles east of FM 378 & 2 miles north of FM 97; #1503 to clean out silt dirt from a pit and fill in low areas for soil conservation 1/2 mile north of FM 286 & 1/2 mile east of FM 378 for Monty Teeter; #1520 1/4 mile east of FM 2301 a & 1/4 mile north of FM 2286 to return old railroad to cultivation for Keith Jackson; #1518 for Raymond Macha to dig a pit and push in old improvements 1 1/2 miles south of FM 788 & 2 miles west of FM 2301; #1519 to clean out two old pits for the Martha Davis Estate by Van Bradley at one site 1 1/2 miles north of Lockney & 1/2 mile west of FM 378 and a site 1 1/2 miles north of Lockney & 1 3/4 miles west of FM 378; #1516 for Paul Schacht to have a drainage ditch dug for soil conservation purposes at a location 1 1/2 miles south of Lockney on FM 378 & 1 1/2 miles west; #1514 for Neil Dunavant by Wilmer Gene Anderson Jr. at a site 2 miles south of Hwy 70 on 2883, then 1 1/2 miles west to clean out old tail water pit and build up turn row for soil conservation; #1515 for Ray Gant to clean out some waterways for soil conservation 1 mile south of Aiken & 1 1/2 miles west of FM 2883; #1521 for putting in a drainage ditch and spreading some gravel for soil erosion purposes for John Quebe at a location 1/2 mile north of FM 2286 on the west side of FM 2301; and #1522 at a site 4 miles south of Lockney & 1 1/2 mile west to fill in some low areas with dirt from a new well for Alice Mitchell by Mitchell Warren.

Minutes of the previous meetings were read and approved as presented.

The commissioners examined all county financial accounts and authorized the payment of bills properly presented and approved.

Budget amendments were approved to allow payment of monthly bills on a motion by Jones with a second by Gilroy. The annual audit report for the 1994-95 fiscal year was presented to the court. According to the completed audit figures, the county has done a commendable job of safeguarding county funds and tracking expenditures. Heart-Hitting Fact

A heart attack occurs when the blood supply to part of the heart muscle is severely reduced or stopped. This happens when one of the arteries that supply blood to the heart muscle is blocked by an obstruction, often plaque. A blood clot lodged in a coronary artery also can cause a heart attack.

Judge Bill Hardin signs Agriculture Week Proclamation as Mark McCormick, Floyd County Farm Bureau President looks on.

Proclamation

When it comes to protecting the environment, farmers and ranchers have made great strides in recent years. These contributions American agriculture has made to preserving and nurturing our environment will be celebrated during National Agriculture Week, March 19 through 25, and National Agriculture Day, March 20.

"Through this annual celebration of agriculture we are letting the millions of Americans who are fed and clothed by American producers know that we are just as concerned about preserving our environment as they are.

Floyd County Farm Bureau President Mark McCormick agrees. "We are producing more food on less acreage," McCormick says. "This leaves more land for a variety of other purposes, including wildlife habitat."

McCormick also pointed out that Americans only spend about 11 per cent of their disposable income for food, the lowest in the world. "That figure was 14 per cent in 1970 and it continues to go down," he said.

Wildlife is one of the primary beneficiaries of American agriculture's stewardship. Seventy-five (75) percent of the nation's wildlife live off of farms and ranches. The trees that farmers and ranchers plant to protect their land provide shelter for birds, deer, antelope, ducks and geese. Freshwater streams that run through farm and ranch land are home to millions of fish. Corn, wheat, soybeans and other crops left on fields after harvest provide bountiful food that helps many animals make it through the winter.

American agriculture is also preserving natural resources — water, air and soil — that form the backbone of food and fiber production. Minimum tillage, contour farming, strip cropping and other conservation practices have reduced soil erosion by 25 percent over the past ten years. Using satellite maps and computers to match seed, fertilizer and crop protector applications to local soil conditions, "precision farming" is further boosting crop yields while reducing waste. Livestock producers use new ventilation systems to circulate air, keeping animals comfortable and the air clean.

More recently, American agriculture has become an important resource for consumer products as well.

"New use products are a boon for the environment, since they come from renewable, clean resources — agricultural crops — and often replace non-renewable ones such as petroleum," said Webster. Since most of these products are grown and processed close to the source, they're providing jobs and income for rural communities as well.

"With less than two percent of Americans living on farms these days, National Agriculture Day helps to remind us of the importance of American agriculture and the men and women who feed and clothe us. We urge all Americans to take a moment on March 20 to celebrate the enduring partnership farmers and ranchers have made with nature," Webster added.

Meetings being held on Enhanced Boll Weevil Suppression Program

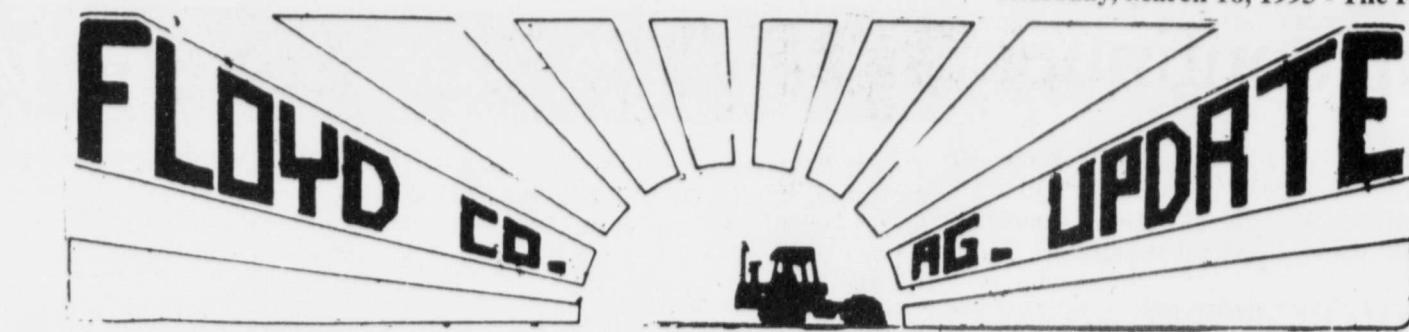

By Shawn Wade
Educational meetings designed to provide High Plains cotton producers with information about the boll weevil and the proposed Enhanced Boll Weevil Suppression Program have now been set.

Some meetings have already taken place and the remainder will be conducted during the next few weeks. Producers from each county in the proposed High Plains Boll Weevil Eradication zone will have the opportunity to attend at least one educational meeting in their area.

Each county educational meeting will consist of two presentations. The first will be from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service concentrating on the boll weevil's physiology and the potential impact of the pest on the area. The second presentation will be by Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) and will explain the proposed expansion of boll weevil control activities as well as the mechanics of the referendum process.

"The purpose of the meetings is to educate producers about the boll weevil as well as encourage their support of the effort to permanently rid the area of this very destructive pest," says Roger Haldenby, Boll Weevil Program Coordinator for Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers.

Haldenby notes that producers will be

Questions concern posting of treated fields

By David Kostroun
Extension Agent-Entomology (PM)
Crosby/Floyd Counties

With the implementation of Worker Protection Standards (WPS) on January 1, 1995, our office continues to receive numerous questions concerning these regulations. The most commonly asked questions concern posting of treated fields and early entry of workers.

Currently, producers are preparing fields for the upcoming growing season. Since much of the acreage will be planted to cotton again, pre-emergence herbicides such as Treflan and Prowl are the most common pesticides being used. The basic responsibility of the employer under WPS is to make sure workers are notified about areas where pesticide application is taking place or where restricted-entry intervals (REIs) are in effect. Depending on the pesticide label requirements, workers can be notified by Oral Warnings or Posted Signs. If both types of notification are required, the following statement will appear in the Directions for Use Section of the pesticide labeling under the heading, Agricultural Use Requirements: "Notify workers of the application by warning them orally and by posting warning signs at entrances to treated areas". Unless the pesticide label requires both types of notification, workers only need either oral or posted signs for notification. You must inform workers which method of notification is being used.

I have noticed some fields are being posted with the EPA-approved WPS-design signs after applying pre-emergence herbicides. According to the labels for both Treflan and Prowl, producers need only notify workers orally. Posting fields for these particular herbicides are not required. Remember, always read and follow the pesticide label as it is the law.

The other frequently asked question concerns re-entry of workers during the REI. In general, employers should keep workers out of the treated area during the REI. This restriction does, however, have exceptions. One exception does permit workers, who will have no contact with anything that has been treated with the pesticide, to enter treated areas. This exception is considered no-contact early entry. Hence, workers riding in an enclosed cab on a truck, tractor, or other vehicle fall under this exception. If a worker does, however, need to leave the vehicle and will come in contact with the treated surface, the early-entry worker must wear early-entry personal protective equipment (PPE) required by the pesticide label. Employers must make sure the worker wears the PPE and make sure they use the PPE correctly.

It is important for all employers to provide the required protection for their workers. Always refer to the pesticide label for information concerning WPS specific to that product. For further questions concerning WPS, contact the Extension Office at 675-2426.

Thank God For Farmers

Today's our chance to thank the farmers. These days their jobs are tougher than ever. Faced with increasing financial and technological complexities, agribusiness has had to change rapidly.

Responding to increasing demands for foods from our nation and from other countries around the world our farmers have managed to maintain a high quality of produce. We're proud of our farmers. Too often they are maligned or taken for granted. On the occasion of Agriculture Week we want to salute the farmers, growers, agribusiness people and their families who have made our country a leading agriculture nation and are contributing daily to our lives and our economy.

Congratulations on a job well done!

Austin Notebook
By Senator Tom Haywood

This week, I want to focus on an issue which has sparked many calls from constituents across the district — a rewrite of the Texas Education Code. Since this legislation, Senate Bill 1, will be considered over the next few weeks, I can not, of course, predict what the final version of Senate Bill 1 will include. However, as a member of the Senate Education Committee, I am voting on various portions of the bill during each committee hearing, and would like to share with you some of the issues being discussed, so that you can contact me with your thoughts and concerns while the bill is being considered — and changes can still be made.

The most common issue about which people have been calling is the "small school adjustment" included in Senate Bill 1. As written in the original version of the bill, small schools might have received significantly lower funding than they currently receive. Folks from those small school districts have understandably been calling frantically with concerns about their school districts. I believe that they can breathe easy, because changes are being made to the original bill to take care of their concerns. Small school districts will not have to shut down!

This past week, the no pass - no play rule was considered by the Senate Education Committee. Senate Bill 1 now includes a compromise which retains the no pass - no play provision, but allows for an initial three week "no play" period in which a student is ineligible for competition or performance, but may still practice. While I would have preferred a ban on all extracurricular activities during that three week period, this is nevertheless a reasonable compromise. It tries to fix the problem of children having no incentive to hit the books during a six week suspension, since such a suspension usually means missing out entirely on an activity. Some strong testimony was given to the Committee that kids are dropping out and joining gangs when they are kicked out of sports or other extracurricular activities because of grades. While I am not sure about that, I do believe that kids should get a shorter suspension for their first academic slip, but that they should not be allowed to return to games or activities until their grades improve.

One of the most important parts of our current educational code is the rule that classes can have no more than 22 students for each teacher. While I believe in local control, I believe that this is an important requirement, and was therefore very happy that waivers of the 22 to 1 rule were limited in Senate Bill 1 to certain "home-rule" districts, and then only after a vote of the school district has occurred.

Finally, I believe that the State is taking a good, measured step by authorizing 20 "open enrollment" schools around the state, which students would be allowed to attend regardless of the school district in which they live. While I am not a big fan of the voucher system for schools, I think that this idea will allow us to study the effects of such a system without implementing a radical systemic change. This is another good compromise.

Those are some of the major changes in our Education Code which I am currently being asked to consider. As always, I encourage you to contact me on any of these issues about which you are concerned. I can be reached in Austin at (512) 463-0130 or in my District Office at (800) 866-7330. If you prefer, you can write me at P.O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

Postal Job Scams

Don't Hire On To A Con Game

"The U.S. Postal Service is hiring for full time and part time employment. Hourly salaries start at $25 an hour. For employment information, call 800-555-5555."

Have you seen advertisements like this one in your local newspapers? Postal Inspector Linda Kirksey warns that if you should call these promoters for "Employment Information," you are probably going to get clipped. In most instances, you find out that you are going to have to pay about $30 to receive information of dubious value. They may lead you to think you are talking to someone from the U. S. Postal Service, but no postal jobs will be offered.

Frequently, the con artists promoting this service offer to provide you with training which is supposed to help you pass a required entrance examination.

Further, graduates are often promised placement in postal service jobs upon successful completion of the training. Naturally, this training will cost you money for tuition and books.

Postal inspectors say that other promoters offer job opportunities that guarantee that you will be placed on a register with the U.S. Postal Service from which new hires will be selected. Inspectors say beware of any "opportunity" to get postal job information which is going to cost you money.

Inspector Kirksey also warns the public to beware of the enticement of fantastic salaries and benefits which seem too good to be true. For accurate information about application procedures for jobs with the U.S. Postal Service, call your local postmaster. It won't cost you a dime.

Better Business Bureau Report

"Loans $500 to $40,000, no interest." Are you tempted to answer an advertisement like this? Before you do, consider that this is not the advertisement of a lending institution, but merely a ploy to get up-front money for the purchase of information only.

Your BBB advises extreme caution. For economically distressed consumers and business owners, the promise of a "guaranteed" loan may seem irresistible. This epidemic is being fueled by mail pitches, radio spots and the like offering toll-free "800" numbers and "900" numbers that result in charges on the customer's phone bill.

If you are having some financial troubles and need some assistance, the BBB suggests that you consider some financial counseling, free of charge at the Consumer Credit Counseling Service, a nonprofit service that offers alternatives to borrowing money from unknown sources through newspaper ads such as credit counseling, help in paying off large debts and budgeting. A SPANNING THE CENTURIES PROJECT... THE WAYLAND LIBRARY

Terree Donaldson
First Baptist Church Matador
"Wayland holds a special place in my heart. I will always treasure the time spent there. I believe in the Christian values it strives to instill. It is a wonderful institution, and I hope Baptists everywhere will continue to support WBU."

Fred Risser
First Baptist Church Matador
"I value the education I received at Wayland. I especially value the personal relationships I was able to have with my professors. The quality of Wayland's professors was much greater than I expected from a small school. I pray Wayland will continue to grow and be a positive influence for this area."

Les T. Reed
Teacher/Youth Minister Lockney
"I am a former Wayland student. Having Wayland right here in the heart of Texas has been a tremendous help to me. It has allowed me to stretch and expand my education. Let me encourage you to stand behind the Spanning the Centuries Campaign so that we will have an added extra upon the completion of our new library. It will be a good resource for everyone."

Delvin Bybee
Customer Services Manager,
Tye Corporation, Lockney

"Being from small town America, I count it a privilege to have a university such as Wayland on my back door."

FAITH!
Since 1908, Wayland has had faith in providing leadership in education. This Library is a tool that is needed to keep continuous growth. These are only a few of thousands dedicated to Wayland and its programs. Wayland enhances the life of your community.

Steve Burleson
Principal, Abernathy H.S.
"My son and daughter-in-law are recent graduates of Wayland. They were received, guided and instructed well. My son was very active in the choir. It has always been a pleasure to be on the campus of Wayland Baptist University."

Jacquenet Boyd
Housewife, Hale Center
"I feel we are blessed to have WBU in our part of Texas and would like to encourage others to participate in the Spanning the Centuries Campaign. One of our children attended WBU and received her teaching degree and we feel they worked with her in every area."

Claude Porter
Pastor, Calvary Baptist, Lockney
"On my office wall hangs a caricature of Descartes' dog. The caption reads, 'I bark, therefore, I am.' Humor aside, the definite impact that Wayland has on people's lives speaks to her existence. I support the 'Spanning the Centuries' campaign because I want her existence to be a positive impact now and in the future."

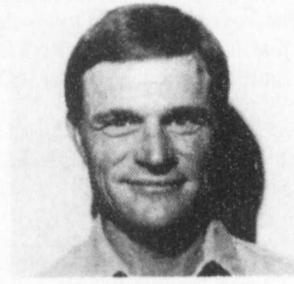

Billy Skipper
Retired Banker, Abernathy

"I have watched Wayland for many years. I am proud that we have this fine school in West Texas. Abernathy has supported Wayland in many ways and we now want to see the new library finished and growth to continue."

Nalta Alford
Homemaker, Petersburg

"I would like to encourage support for Wayland University. I feel we're truly blessed to have it and it's Christian influence in our area."

James Huffhines
Farmer, Hale Center

"Wayland belongs to West Texas. Let's keep it strong. I encourage all West Texans to support 'our' university."

Jane McCulley
First Baptist Church, Floydada

"I am strong for Christian education. I am a graduate of a Christian institution from another state. Wayland is our West Texas university so let's all support it."

Harold D. Abney
Pastor, First Baptist Church, Lockney

"My wife & I are graduates of Wayland and we have a son who is a junior there now. I am thankful that God has given us the opportunity to attend Wayland. It was a good experience. I am supporting this campaign and I want to encourage others to do as well."

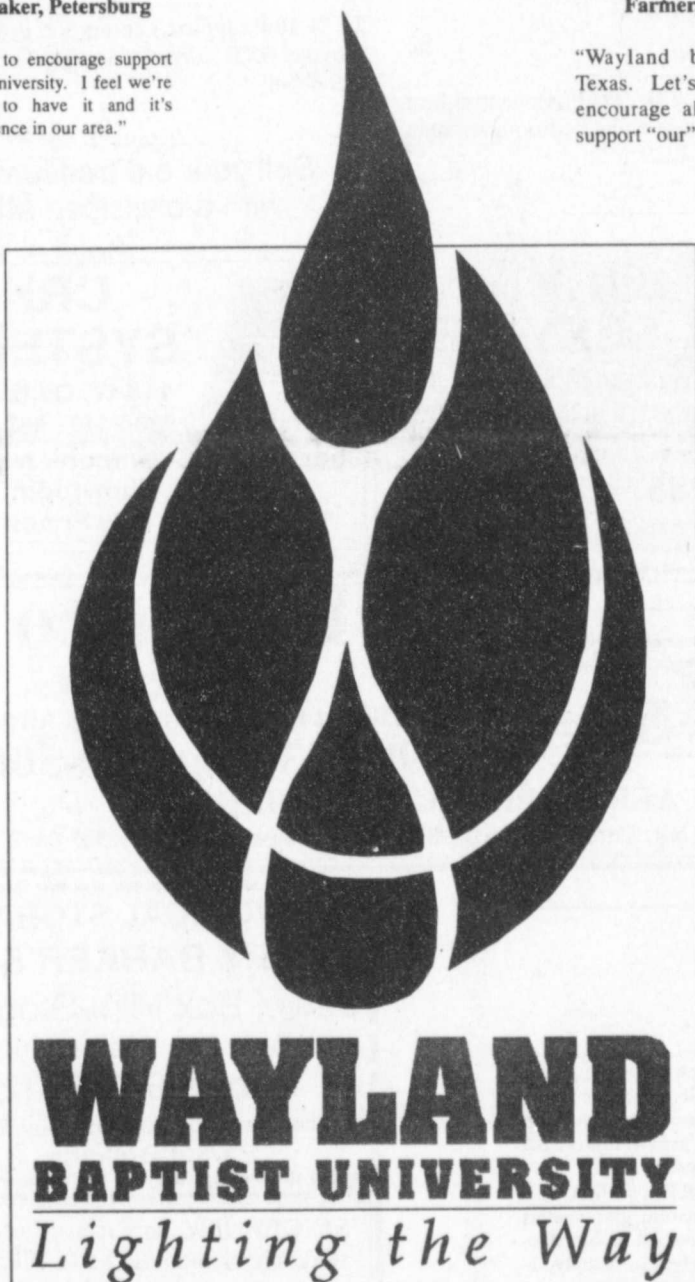

Marlan Pritchard
Minister of Youth
First Baptist Church, Floydada

"I am new in this area and I see a strong, effective institution in Wayland. Wayland deserves the support of West Texas people. Let's help finish the new library and watch Wayland continue to serve our people."

Butch Harrell
Farmer, Hale Center

"I have lived near Wayland Baptist University all my life and I am strong for Wayland. I encourage all of us who enjoy Wayland's benefits to support the University."

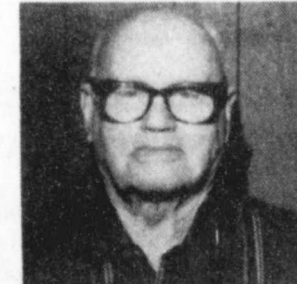

Myrna Davis
First Baptist Church,
Abernathy

"Through the years Wayland College has had a special place in my Christian life. Our home was always open to students from other countries. I pledge my prayers and support to Wayland."

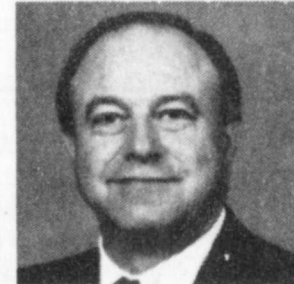

Rev. Gary Martin
Pastor, North Side Baptist
Church, Abernathy

"Wayland is especially needed in Christian education now and in the future. I urge you to support Wayland."

H.B. Robertson
Retired Farmer, Petersburg

"Our family ties to Wayland go back over 50 years when my wife played basketball for the Queens. I think a Christian university on the plains of Texas is a real plus. I am happy to be a part of making it an even better place."

Rev. Howell E. Farnsworth
Pastor, First Baptist Church,
Floydada

"The First Baptist Church of Floydada has supported Wayland Baptist University each month through the budget for many, many years. Wayland is our university and I know that our church family will want to be a part of helping complete the new library."

Ron Harkey
General Manager,
Abernathy Producers Co-op

"Wayland Baptist University has a lot to offer students of all ages. It gives each person a good environment to grow educationally and spiritually. I would encourage anyone to consider WBU for his or her education."

Rev. Ronnie Travis
Pastor, First Baptist Church,
Petersburg

"As a graduate of Wayland Baptist University, I owe much to Wayland. Wayland has had such a tremendous influence on West Texas. Because of this I strongly support this campaign and encourage you to also."

Sally Shaw
First Baptist Church Lockney

"I am pleased to support the Spanning the Centuries Campaign because I am convinced of the value of Christian education. We are fortunate to have close proximity to Wayland so that many of our music and youth directors and some of our pastors trained there. Lockney has many fine teachers who received their degrees there. We also enjoy the fine facilities for concerts and programs the campus provides."

Todd Keller
Assistant Registrar - WBU

"Growing up in Plainview, I had a great deal of exposure to Wayland Baptist University. I have always believed in the type of education that Wayland offers. By supporting this campaign, the people of West Texas are ensuring the continuation of Christ-centered higher education on the plains of Texas. I strongly encourage you to join me in pledging support for Wayland."

Jim and Patsy Hancock
Interim Pastor, First Baptist Church, Matador

"Joy and I are pleased to have a part in this campaign for two reasons. First, we are excited about the completion of the library. It will not only enhance Wayland's capability to provide Christian education for young men and women, but it will be an educational resource for the entire West Texas area. Second, this campaign involves far more than fund raising. It has pulled us together and unified us in support of our regional Baptist University. Through the campaign I sense a new spirit of enthusiasm and progress. We are, therefore, not only pleased to give financial support but time and energy to insure the continuing success of the campaign."

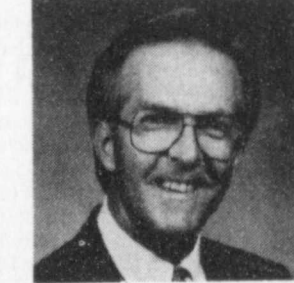

Dr. H. Gene Meacham
Pastor, First Baptist Church,
Hale Center

"Wayland Baptist University is a valuable asset to our West Texas area. We have every reason to be proud of this fine institution for the quality education and the Christian standards it provides for students. I am pleased to be a part of Wayland's 'Spanning the Centuries' campaign and encourage everyone to join me in supporting our university."

Donnell D. Gowens
Retired, Floydada

"Wayland University has been a great influence in our area and in the Floydada community for years. We have not only enjoyed the educational opportunities it offers, but also the comfort we have in having help and staff assistance in our churches. There seems to be no end to supply for interim personnel or supply relief."

Dr. Gary Manning
Interim Pastor, First Baptist
Church, Abernathy
Professor, WBU

"I am presently in my 15th year as a professor at Wayland Baptist University. I see first hand the impact that Wayland makes on students. Then, as I go into churches and communities throughout West Texas, I see the impact these students make once they leave Wayland. Because I believe in the value of Christian education, I have been going to complete the library for ten years. I am thrilled that the Spanning the Centuries Campaign includes, but is not limited to, the completion of the library. The improvements and updating that will come as a result of reaching the financial goals of the campaign will secure a beautiful school to meet the needs of the new century."
