A view from
 The Lamplighter
 By Ken Towery

This will probably be another of those long columns, gentle reader, primarily because it can't be handled any other way. It's something that should have been included in our memoirs, but it just never seemed to fit anywhere without interrupting the thrust of the book, or the flow of the writing.

Still, in our judgement it needs to be written. It needs to be written in order that our readers might better understand the workings of their own government and their own political system. And someday it may have some historical significance.

Too, it may help explain why some of our tax money is used in the way it is. It is not a pretty story.

First, you must remember that several years ago, a United States Congressman named Mickey Leland was killed in a plane crash in Africa. Leland was a black Congressman from Houston, a very liberal Democrat, a former State Senator, a vocal champion of "civil rights" and all-around hero of the Left in Texas politics before he assumed the same role in Washington. At the time of his death he was on a tax-paid junket to Africa looking for places to give away foreign aid dollars raised from taxpaying capitalists in the U.S. After the crash politicians in Austin and elsewhere gathered to mourn his death and praise his public service. One would have thought he hung the moon. Honest. Full of compassion. A great statesman. That sort of thing. Even politicians who could not have cared less about his demise issued public statements expressing their sorrow that a great American, with so much promise, had met such an untimely death. It was an opportunity to curry favor with Leland's constituency, one they couldn't pass up.

Now backward a few years. Leland was only in his first term in Congress, but already someone to be reckoned with by virtue of his constituency. On top of that, it was a time when the traditional political alliance of blacks and Jews was undergoing tremendous strain. Many black political leaders took the position that Jews felt blacks were not properly appreciative of their own leadership in civil rights matters.

Ronald Reagan had been elected President, and his people headed up the various Departments and Agencies of government. Republicans briefly controlled the Senate, but the House remained in the hands of Democrats. Leland became chairman of some obscure sub-committee dealing with hunger in Africa, or some such operation, which gave him authority to command tax dollars for various "inspections" in that part of the world.

By then we had finished our own stay in Washington, returned to Texas, and, after some floundering, had set up a political consulting firm. Our primary function was trying to help build a two-party state, mostly by backing and assisting the election of conservatives, (mostly Republicans) and assisting, where we could, in the defeat of liberals, whether Democrat or Republican. The results were a mixed bag.

In time we were approached by a man from Houston, whom we had never met. He had a problem with which he needed advice, and thought perhaps we might be able to help. He owned a large building in Houston that was leased to the government and housed the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). There were things going on in the building that he thought were not right. He wanted to know who, in the new government he could talk to in order that those things could be made right. The building was under long-term lease to the General Services Administration (GSA) acting as agent for the INS. He had been unable to interest anyone in Washington with his problem, and thought we, being somewhat attuned to the new Administration, might be able to give him some advice. (We did call the new head of GSA, whom we knew, and the problem did get some attention, though nothing constructive was ever done. The GSA merely acted as leasing agent, they had little control over how the building

McDonald live in the house with her husband, Darrell Ayers, and her son, who is a second grader at Lockney Elementary.

McDonald and her son were not at

According to Lockney Fire Marshal Lonny Hooten, "A neighbor called in the fire. It is not clear at this time what caused the fire. It is a suspicious fire and the State Fire Marshal has been called in to investigate."

The firemen were clear from the scene at approximately 8:00 a.m.

The family lost all of their possessions in the fire.

The house was also the scene of a domestic disturbance earlier in the day.

According to Police Chief Jerry Edwards, "The police were called to the house at approximately 6:30 p.m. on a domestic disturbance. The wife and son left the residence and went to the home of family members. We were not able to make contact with the husband at that time and we left the scene."

"The matter is still under investigation at this time."

City discusses stray dogs, poisonings

By Juanita Stepp
 FLOYDADA — Several recent incidents of dog poisonings in the city were discussed during the March 23 regular session of the Floydada City Council. Mayor Hulon Carthel told those gathered that so far, the problem is apparently confined to animals that are allowed to roam free. There is no positive proof that any dogs have been poisoned inside a yard, although one possibility exists. This brought the council's attention to the animal control ordinances in city records.

According to the Mayor, "We do have and have had for about 35 years, a leash law. It requires that animals be confined in a yard or be on a leash or under the direct control of a responsible person. We are going to enforce the regulation."

Love Fund started for Butlers

LOCKNEY--A Love Fund has been started at the First National Bank in Lockney for Ellis and Sandra Butler to help defray costs incurred due to illnesses and hospitalization.

According to FHS DECA Chapter Advisor, Bob Alldredge, DECA is a 49-year-old youth organization with almost 13,000 members statewide and 150,000 members in 50 states plus Canada, Washington, D.C., Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Floydada's DECA program began in 1964. Molinar will be the fourth Floydada DECA member to make it to DECA National competition. Vote begins April 3 on Boll Weevil Eradication Program

Cotton officials have been busy conducting informational meetings across the area on a plan to bring the High Plains into a statewide boll weevil eradication program.

A referendum is being presented to growers through ballots which are being mailed out by the Consolidated Farm Service Agency (CFSA). The ballots are scheduled to be in the mail by April 3 and ballots must be marked and returned by April 15.

According to Plains Cotton Growers officials, projected costs for the Enhanced Diapause Program (boll weevil eradication program) are $13.6 million in 1995. Costs for 1996 and 1997 are expected to be lower than the first year as weevils are pushed back.

Funds not used for diapause treatments will be kept in reserve to pay for full-scale eradication activities starting in 1998.

The Enhanced Diapause Program is similar to the program carried out by PCG for the past 31 years. According to PCG, the only major change is that the Enhanced Program will operate over a much wider area to regain the cotton fields currently infested by the boll weevil. The first three years of the Enhanced Program will concentrate on

One man hospitalized after shooting incident

Two Floydada men exchanged gunfire, Sunday evening, resulting in one man, Michael Todd Cooper being transported to the hospital with numerous pellet holes in his back from a shotgun blast.

According to Floydada Police Chief James Hale, the incident appeared to have started with a family disturbance at a residence in the 600 block of E. Grover.

"The police were called to the house at approximately 8:00 p.m., March 26.

The wife would not talk to police and the man said the trouble was over," said Hale.

"The officers left the scene and then were called back at 9:00 p.m. in reference to a shooting. We were told someone had been shot and was waiting on an ambulance.

When officers arrived they found Michael Todd Cooper, 21, of Floydada, with blood running down the back of his neck. The officer at the scene also saw numerous pellet marks running from the top of his buttocks to just below Cooper's neck.

EMS arrived at the scene and treated

Lions invading airways

The Floydada Lions Club believe that it is very appropriate that their annual Radio Days will be held this year on April Fools Day.

The fun and foolish radio broadcast will start listener's day bright and early at 7:00 a.m., on Floydada's KAWA (900 AM) and KFLL (95.3 FM). Local Lions will man the microphones and turntables until 3:00 p.m.

The event is held each year to raise money for various Lions charities, including: Lions Crippled Children's Camp, eyeglasses for needy children, local scouting programs, local youth activities, Lions Diabetes Camp and Lions Eye Bank. The Floydada Lions Club also uses money raised from any of their fund raising drives to help local charitable needs.

The money raised from the advertisement spots bought by local businesses, featured on Radio Days, will pay for Lion's projects.

The local Lions will take turns reading the sponsors ads and spinning records. The afternoon is historically a hilarious event as the inexperienced Lions muddle their way through the radio control room.

Due to the generosity of several businesses the Lions will also give away many prizes to callers.

Celebrate April Fools Day listening to your radio and enjoying local folks make fools on themselves on Lions Club Radio Days.

BY THE WAY!

BY ALICE GILROY

I was at the other end of the interview this week.

Cathy Frye from the Lubbock Avalanche Journal came to interview me. She is doing a story on small newspapers in the area, and The Hesperian-Beacon is being honored as one of only three that she will be checking out.

I felt very honored, but as soon as she left I started worrying about everything I said.

She had said her interview was only going to take 30 minutes but I kept her in the office for 2 hours.

We enjoyed trading war stories with each other. One of the things we had in common was fear of coastal roaches.

You're probably wondering how in the world we worked our way around to the subject of roaches.

Well it seems we have both spent some time around the coast. I lived in Houston and she lived in Corpus Christi. Neither one of us miss the area.

Cathy said, "I'm not a squeamish person, but I got so sick of the humidity and the bugs. Those roaches are SO BIG and YOU CAN'T KILL THEM."

She's right. Those prehistoric animals will never become extinct no matter how hard the exterminators work in those areas.

Cathy said she tried everything she could think of to kill those roaches and nothing works. She said she even closed the microwave one day and cooked one for one minute. When she opened the door it walked out. She said no one believes that happened.

I believe her. Cathy said she finally knew she had enough when she hit a roach with a rolled up paper and thought she had killed it. She came back to collect the monster and the body was gone. She moved.

I tried all kinds of creative ways to kill them too. I have never seen roaches so big in my entire life.

In Houston everyone brags on what exterminator you have. In some parts of the country you don't mention having to have an exterminator because you believe people will think you are filthy.

In Houston, if you don't brag on your exterminator, chances are no one will come visit you in your home.

It doesn't matter how clean you keep your home the roaches will infest you. In fact I think they like it neater—they can get around better that way.

The big roaches in Houston fly. They REALLY FLY. They are called tree roaches and easily grow 3 inches long (some are longer) and have wide thick crusty backs.

YECH! Just thinking about them gives me the creeps.

When I moved into my house in Houston roaches were the last thing I thought about.

It was a brand new house. Construction was still going on in the neighborhood. I hadn't even had time to cook anything to attract roaches.

I got up in the middle of the night to get a drink of water, opened the cabinet with my eyes half closed and then a huge monster flew out of the cabinet and hit me in the face.

I thought I had been mugged by a cabinet burglar. It's a miracle my heart ever started beating again. You could probably have heard my scream in West Texas.

When I would spray the roach with Raid I would drown the animal. I would keep spraying and spraying until there was a big puddle on the floor. They would swim and swim and finally bite the dust.

My motto—One can per roach!
Anyway—Cathy agreed with me. There's no place like this area for good safe clean living. We wouldn't trade it for the world.

From God's Little Instruction Book:

Obstacles are those frightful things you see when you take your eyes off the goal.

And He (Jesus) said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus. But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord save me. And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him... Matthew 14:29-31 was used. The INS, being an inept, politically driven agency heavily dependant on its internal bureaucracy, saw no need to change anything. The problem remained.)

But before we called anyone, we suggested the first thing he ought to do was contact his Congressman. He couldn't do that, he said, for various reasons. After some probing, we found out why, and therein lies the tale.

Our new client was Jewish. Mr. Leland was his Congressman. He had not backed Leland in his race for Congress, and Leland knew this. But the fundamental reason was much more interesting, and much more ominous.

He could approach Mr. Leland on only one general matter, he said, that being any issue having to do with Israel. And he told us why.

Our client, in addition to being a sizeable property owner in Houston, was a mortgage banker. In company with three other mortgage bankers, all Jewish, they had granted Mr. Leland a $25,000 non-secured, personal "loan", in return for which Leland had agreed to support measures having to do with the well-being of Israel, particularly his votes on "foreign aid."

The four were involved, he said, because bank examiners took a very dim view of non-secured, personal loans that ran longer than 90 days. So they had an "arrangement" between the four, and Mr. Leland. At the end of 90 days the loan was merely "bounced" from one partner in the arrangement to the next. In that matter the loan would appear, on the books, as having been paid off. Mr. Leland would always have his $25,000, and would always be obligated to deliver his vote on matters concerning Israel.

It was a neat arrangement. It was a bribe, or a "shakedown", depending on one's point of view, but it could be denied all the way around, and nothing could be proved, other than that a legitimate 90-day loan was extended to Mr. Leland, which had been paid off promptly at the end of ninety days.

Our client told us later he had gotten out of the deal. He had finally come to the conclusion, he said, that "it just wasn't right." The others continued the arrangement. In the end, after the crash, we imagine they wrote the loan off.

The whole issue, as it relates to Leland, is now passe, but somehow we don't believe the arrangement was all that unique in the annals of national politics. And if not, it helps explain, in some small way, why legislation affecting Israel is usually passed with so little public discussion. And why so many politicians in both parties explain away their votes concerning Israeli matters as merely being in support of the "special relationship" between the two countries.

Lockney Police Report

Lockney police also answered a variety of other calls throughout the week, including a burglary of a vehicle parked near Lockney High School.

According to Edwards, someone broke the vent window of a pickup, March 21, and stole a radar detector, a cellular phone, credit cards and approximately $40.00 in cash.

Council discusses stray dogs and poisonings

The old water tower located behind City Hall was the subject of discussion during the meeting. Estimates for a variety of proposals for action concerning the nearly 80 year old water storage facility which has not been used in more than thirteen years. Estimates range from about $15,000.00 for dismantling and removing the tower to renovating the exterior at an approximate cost of 170,000.00. This would not make the interior suitable for water storage.

Councilman Burns was in favor of allowing the tower to stand as it is without taking any action. He expressed the opinion that it is a kind of landmark and should be preserved. City Manager Brown indicated that the tank, which is coated with a lead primer, could eventually cost the city a lot of money if government regulations force action on the tower and/or tank.

A motion by Schacht proposed looking into the possibility of removing the structure. Schacht said this seemed to be the least costly manner in which to address the problem. The second was provided by Hill. The motion was passed on a split vote with Schacht, Hill, Lawson, and Cornelius voting in favor. Burns voted against the motion.

The first reading of the prepared No Smoking Ordinance for the new West Annex of City Hall was held and approved on a motion made by Burns and seconded by Cornelius.

Bids for the annual seal coating project were reviewed by the council. Three bidders, Ronnie Zahn Paving of Lubbock, Appian Corporation of Hereford, and Jordan Paving of Irving, submitted proposals. The bid was awarded to Appian Corporation as the low bidder. The contract will automatically revert to the second lowest bidder, Ronnie Zahn Paving, should Appian fail to perform as specified on a motion by Schacht with a second by Hill.

Resolution #201 was approved on a motion by Hill with a second by Lawson. The motion appointed election officials for the May 6 Municipal Election. Laveta Morren will serve as Election Judge and Jimmie Lou Stewart will be the Alternate.

The final draft of the lease agreement between the Floydada Chamber of Commerce and the City of Floydada for chamber use of office space in City Hall was approved for signing on a motion by Schacht which was seconded by Cornelius.

Brown reported on changes concerning the manner in which the TCDP water grant recently approved for the city. He indicated that the only alteration from previous regulations affecting the city is that bids will have to be taken for the services of a consultant and for the services of an engineer. No council action was taken.

The city will begin offering a basic health insurance plan to retiring employees under the age of 65. The plan will be handled through the current insurance carrier, TML, and will not cost the city anything. Each retiree will be responsible for paying their own premiums if they opt to take the insurance when retiring. A supplemental insurance policy will also be offered for retirees over the age of 65 who need it to augment their Medicare coverage. This will also be paid for entirely by the retiree. Motion to implement the coverage was made by Schacht with a second by Cornelius.

Council members approved payment of monthly bills after reviewing the financial statements from the previous month.

Minutes from the previous meeting were reviewed and approved as presented on a motion by Burns with a second by Hill.

In the City Manager's report, Brown told the council that work is slated to begin in the next week or so on the renovation in the old part of City Hall. Landscaping is also underway on the exterior of the new portion of the city offices. As of the end of February, the city has spent about $124,000.00 on the project. The city handling the construction on their own has saved nearly $75,000.00 when compared to the low bid submitted on the project from outside contractors. Additional expenses for the finishing items will bring the savings down by about another $25,000.00 said Brown, but this is still less than anticipated and includes the furnishing of the interior which was not a part of the original bids.

Brown also reported that the bill in the legislature which would allow general law cities to operate a cable TV company is moving along quite well and expected to clear the senate soon.

Another piece of legislation is not being viewed as beneficial to the city said Brown. Senator John Montford has asked the legislature to consider a bill which would allow a person who has been employed by government (any government) to retire with full benefits after 20 years at any age.

According to Brown, this might mean that a person who started working for a government entity at a young age would retire in their early 40's. Replacing that worker with another young worker could result in another retirement at an early age and the hiring of a third person to fill the position.

This would leave the employer funding three people (two retirees and an employee) for their connection to only one position for an extended period of time. The potential financial burden on the government entity could be a virtual budget buster for most government employers.

Water supplies at Lake Mackenzie may last through the summer if present measures can continue to provide sufficient water for the member cities said Brown. Major moisture is still needed in order to alleviate the dwindling lake level.

A few problems have arisen recently in the city with water lines being forced apart due to the increasingly more dry ground which is cracking and shifting. Some problems have been noticed lately with sewer lines, but these have been mainly due to foreign items clogging the lines.

A new pit is underway at the landfill and some major repairs are being undertaken on the engine of the track loader used at the facility. Brown also told those present that the landfill made a profit for the city of about $15,000.00 last month. Four area towns, Lockney, Spur, Dickens, and Roaring Springs, are currently paying fees to Floydada for handling their trash.

Vote begins on Boll Weevil Eradication Program

diapause treatments to push the weevil back below the Caprock in preparation for full-scale eradication activities beginning in 1998.

If the referendum is approved, the cost of the program will be paid for through assessments collected by CFSA. The price will depend on the farmers declared cotton acreage and will be payable at the time the cotton acreage is certified.

The eradication efforts will not come cheap. If farmers in a 30 county area stretching from Ector to Randall counties vote in favor of the eradication program, they will pay anywhere from $1.25 to $7.09 per acre of cotton grown. Assessments will be figured based on a three tiered assessment system. The assessment will be figured as follows: Tier One—$1.25 per planted acre; Tier Two (which includes Floyd County)—$1.25 per planted acre plus 3/4 of a cent per pound on a producers CFSA program yield, and; Tier Three—$1.25 per planted acre plus 1 1/4 cents per pound on a producers CFSA program yield.

Once approved by the producers on the High Plains the maximum rate of assessment is set. The assessment rate may, however, be lowered during the course of the Enhanced Diapause or Eradication program should sufficient reserves be developed to properly carry out all phases of the program.

Each of the referendum items is approved or denied individually. The selection of a permanent member to the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Board of Directors is tied to the establishment referendum.

The referendum can be passed in two ways:

- (1) If 2/3rds of the persons participating in the referendum vote yes the referendum passes;
- (2) If fewer than 2/3rds vote yes the referendum can still pass if more than 50 percent of the total acres in the zone are represented by yes votes.

During the past few years the boll weevil has made its second major push into High Plains cotton fields. The first occurred in 1964 and was successfully turned away by the implementation of the Plains Cotton Growers Boll Weevil Suppression Program.

According to Dr. James Leser, Extension Entomologist at Lubbock, "The boll weevil has recently out flanked the PCG control program and has moved into previously uninfested areas at an alarming pace the last two years."

Infestations are widespread as far north as Lubbock, Lynn, Dawson, Terry, Gains and Yoakum counties.

Leser notes that scattered infestations have been detected in Hale, Crosby, Floyd, Briscoe, Hockley and Lamb counties.

According to the PCG, the boll weevil has taken advantage of an unprecedented string of five mild winters and grassland enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program.

In the past, CRP grasses were not considered as very good insulators from cold temperatures associated with 'normal' winters. However, recent mild temperatures are proving that CRP grasses can provide excellent overwintering habitat during mild winters.

"The bottom line," said Leser, "is that the PCG control program was never designed to prevent the westward spread of the boll weevil without some help from winter weather. Without this assistance the program is woefully underfunded to address the latest threat."

A "Yes" vote on the referendum ballot will implement the Enhanced Suppression Program in the 30 county eradication zone.

According to Clinic Administrator Bob Ericson, several petitions have been picked up and not returned at this time.

Prospective candidates may pick up petitions to apply for a place on the ballot from the Cogdell Clinic administrator at 901 West Crockett in Floydada. Each petition requires 25 signatures to place a name on the ballot and all petitions must be returned to the clinic administrator no later than April 5.

Broadway musical opens in Post

The highly-acclaimed hit musical "FIDDLER ON THE ROOF" opened to a capacity audience at Post's Garza Theatre on March 24. It is the first musical presented by the Garza, and features a cast of more than forty.

Winner of numerous awards on Broadway in 1960s, the production is directed by Lubbock radio and television personality, Jane Prince-Jones. Choreography is by Lubbock's Suzanne Aker. Dell Gray of Floydada is musical director.

Mrs. Gray (Keyboards and Piano) coordinates the Garza Theatre Show Orchestra, consisting of Jimmy Exline -

Trumpet, Jill Wagner and Mike Shellburne - Woodwinds, Jeremy Garrett - Violin and Bill Gray - Percussion.

Exline, a graduate of Texas Tech University, is assistant band director at Slaton. He was featured, along with the Grays, in last year's Harley Sadler revival, "Trail of the Lonesome Pine." Shellburne is now working on his master's degree at Tech. Jill Wagner is a graduate this May also from Texas Tech.

The musical, based on the book by Joseph Stein, stars Tim McIntire as "Tevye" and Emily Hataway as "Golde." The colorful story, set in the Russian village of Anatevka during the period of the Czars, features such well-known musical selections as "If I Were A Rich Man," "Matchmaker, Matchmaker," and "Sunrise, Sunset."

The story centers around Tevye, a poor Jewish milkman with five unmarried daughters, and his sharp-tongued wife, Golde. With anti-Semitism growing in the village, Tevye talks to God about his troubles. The traditions of his people keep Tevye strong when his existence is balanced as precariously as a fiddler on the roof.

Due to the overwhelming members of advance reservations, two additional performances have been added to the run (originally scheduled to close on April 15). The production will be presented through April 23. The theatre will be dark on April 16, (Easter Sunday).

Friday and Saturday performances begin at 7:45 and Sunday Matinees at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are $10.00 and may be ordered by calling the box office at 1-800-846-3706, Monday through Friday, noon to 4:00 p.m.

FINDING HEALTHY SNACKS--Laura Turner (left) and Martha Farris shop and compare labels of crackers in search of healthy snacks. The two, along with the American Cancer Society, remind citizens that March is "Eat Smart" Month. --Staff photo

A Habit You Can Live With

"Eat Smart" is a habit you can live with a lot longer! The American Cancer Society has, through this month, attempted to impress all of us with the thought that we can take steps toward a healthier and happier tomorrow through diet and exercise.

If you are dragging yourself from one task to another, you may be a victim of the types of foods you choose or lack of exercise. One researcher said, "So many people take their daily slumps for granted when they could prevent them by eating more consistently throughout the day and paying more attention to diet and exercise."

Fats and refined sugars are culprits, but that "tiny green salad" can be just as bad if that is all you eat. To help prevent cancers and to feel better each day, remember these basic facts:

1. Research has shown that a balanced diet, low in fat, high in fiber, including fruits and vegetables, can reduce your risk for certain types of cancer.
2. Use herbs and spices, onions, ginger, garlic, lemon and lime, and mustard instead of butter and fats for flavor.
3. Hot cocoa made with 2% milk and garnished with marshmallows can taste as good as cocoa with whipped cream.
4. Try adding a little bran or wheat germ to casseroles and main dishes. Mix grated fresh vegetables into your meatloaf.
5. Try to eat any meal in a more relaxed manner. Eat as slowly as possible, and limit consumption of smoked or salt-cured foods. Foods rich in vitamins A and C are important.

Vernon Parker had to go back to the hospital but only stayed a few days. Eva brought him home, March 21st. We pray he continues to get stronger.

Mamie Bunch and Ina Lewis who have had surgery recently are recovering but it is a slow process. We wish them a speedy recovery.

John Key West was in church last Sunday. He is improving but it has been slow. John Key's sister, Hester Moore, who lives in Hereford, has been in the hospital recently but only stayed a few days. I understand the doctors are doing more tests on her but as an out-patient. If you get a chance send Hester a card to let her know you wish her a speedy recovery.

You will be happy to know that Lucy Eastham has completed all her chemo treatments. We pray she will continue to get better and stay healthy.

Norma and Bill Feuerbacher are home after an extended trip to Florida, North Georgia, Hot Springs, Arkansas, and all the place in between. They had a wonderful trip.

Crawford Sandefur had pneumonia several weeks ago. She is still under the weather and unable to get out and about. If you have a chance, please send her a card to cheer her up.

Letha Mulder has just returned from visiting her sister in Clarendon.

Edith Marrs now lives in Lubbock. She was at our center last Monday eating lunch. She came over to visit her friends and spend the day.

J.W. and Betty Gilbreath and Bill and Estelle Gilbreath spent Spring Break in San Antonio. Betty told me the bluebonnets and pansies were beautiful.

Our sympathy to Muri Mayfield on the loss of a sister.

Please remember those in our nursing and retirement homes, those who are ill and for those who have lost loved ones recently. They need our prayers.

Remember to "Spring" forward one hour Saturday evening. It's that time of the year you need to change "all" your clocks so you will be on time for church on Sunday.

Dell Yandell gave me the following poem. It's good for all of us to stop and think about.

AT DAY'S END

Is anybody happier because you passed his way?

Does anyone remember that you spoke to him today?

The day is almost over, and it's toiling time is through;

Is there anyone to utter now a kindly word of you?

Can you say tonight, in parting with the day that's slipping fast,

That you helped a single brother of the many that you passed?

Is a single heart rejoicing over what you did or said;

Does the man whose hopes were fading, now with courage look ahead?

Norwegian student is guest of 1934 Study Club

By Margarette Word

FLOYDADA--The 1934 Study Club met Tuesday, March 21, in the home of Mrs. J.R. Turner with Mrs. Garland Foster as co-hostess.

President, Mrs. L.D. Simpson called the meeting to order. Roll call was read by Recording Secretary, Mrs. Leon Ferguson. Minutes of meetings January 17 and February 21 were read and approved.

Mrs. Dennis Dempsey lead the group in the club collect. The business meeting was cut short due to the special program planned.

Mrs. W.H. McClung introduced Mary Ann Rainer, daughter of Bobby and Noma Lou Rainer, host family of Floydada's Foreign Exchange Student, Kjersti Tvinnereim from Bergen, Norway, who in turn introduced Kjersti.

Kjersti showed beautiful slides of her homeland which consist of many mountains, waterfalls, snow and water. Many of the farms are at the base of the mountains which is on the edge of the lakes and waterways. She told us it rains on an average of 190 days an average of 83 inches a year. Everything is so green and beautiful. Many of the farmers have cattle, sheep and raise a little wheat. Their growing season is so short they have to import a lot of things.

She lives about 35 miles from Oslo the capitol of Norway. Fishing is very important to the economy. All farming is under government control. Norway is about the size of Texas and one-fourth the population of Texas. They start learning English at the 4th grade level. They must attend school for nine years they branch out into the different areas of interest to continue their education.

Kjersti's father is in charge of a school which has a number of troubled students. Her mother is a dentist.

Kjersti said it took her a long time to get used to the flat land around here. In her homeland the young people do a lot of skiing, mountain hiking, biking in the mountains, camping in the snow, sometimes making snow tents because they are warmer than cloth tents.

There are very few cars. Most people walk or ride bicycles.

Kjersti was dressed in a beautiful long, wool native dress that the women wear on special occasions.

It was a very interesting program. She said she had really enjoyed her stay here in Floydada. She enjoys school here and all the experiences she has had during this year, but she plans to go back to Norway, go back to school and finish her education.

After the members asked her lots of questions about her life in Norway, refreshments were served to the following: Mmes. W.L. Davis, Dennis Dempsey, Leon Ferguson, Garland Foster, Floyd Lawson, W.H. McClung, Orval Newberry, L.D. Simpson, J.R. Turner, Thomas Warren, Claude Weathersbee, Jim Word and guest, Mary Ann Rainer and Kjersti Tvinnereim.

April 18th, will be our next meeting which will be at Mrs. L.D. Simpson's home with Mrs. Floyd Lawson as co-hostess.

Parents of the graduates are Jon and Elaine LaBaume of Floydada and Stu and Judy Childre of Lubbock.

Did you waste a day, or lose it?

Was it well or sorely spent?

Did you leave a trail of kindness, or a scar of discontent?

As you close your eyes in slumber, do you think that God will say,

You have earned one more tomorrow by the work you did today?

WATER MATTERS

AT HOME, AT WORK, AND IN OUR COMMUNITY

The cities of Lockney and Floydada have joined with The Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon to bring a series of water conservation tips to the citizens of Floyd County. Over the next few weeks reprints from a Cargill Inc. sponsored program called "Water Matters" will appear in this paper.

These tips if used at home, at work, and in the community can help reduce some of the waste of an important and vital resource.

THINGS YOU CAN DO TO SAVE WATER OUTSIDE

1. Water your lawn only when it needs it. A good way to see if your lawn needs watering is to step on the grass. If it springs back up when you move, it doesn't need water. If it stays flat, fetch the sprinkler.
2. Deep-soak your lawn. When you do water do it long enough for the moisture to soak down to the roots where it will do the most good. A light sprinkling can evaporate quickly and tends to encourage shallow root systems.
3. Water during the cool parts of the day. Early morning generally is better than dusk since it helps prevent growth of fungus.

4. Don't water the gutter. Position your sprinklers so water lands on the lawn or garden, not on paved areas. Also avoid watering on windy days.

5. Plant drought-resistant trees and plants. Many beautiful trees and plants thrive with far less watering than other species.

6. Put a layer of mulch around trees and plants. Mulch will slow evaporation of moisture and discourage weed growth, too.

7. Use a broom, not a hose, to clean driveways and sidewalks.

8. Don't run the hose while washing your car. Clean the car with a pail of soapy water. Use the hose just to rinse it off.

9. Tell your children not to play with the hose and sprinklers.

10. Check for leaks in pipes, hoses, faucets, and couplings. Leaks outside the house may not seem as bad since they're not as visible. But they can be just as wasteful as leaks inside. Check frequently and keep them drip-free.

FLOYDADA--Whirlwind sophomore Monty Anderson knocked a 3-run home run in the bottom of the final inning to propel Floydada over Lockney 9-8 in opening game action of the Floydada tournament last Thursday. The Whirlwinds opened the game with a 5-run first inning, but Lockney answered with seven runs in the next two innings.

The Longhorns were leading 8-6 as the game approached time limit. The stage was then set for Anderson's game winner in the fifth inning.

Coach David Kennedy said, "What an exciting finish to a great ball game! I'm proud of our kids and the way we came back to win the game."

Coach Kennedy commented, "Tulia hit the ball well, as usual, and made few mistakes - which makes them hard to beat. They are a very sound team, and we have great respect for them."

The victory over the 'Winds put the Hornets into the championship game on Saturday against Idalou.

'Winds compete at San Angelo Relays

By Bill Gray
FLOYDADA--The Floydada boys' track team competed in the prestigious San Angelo Relays on March 24-25. Although no Whirlwind captured a 1st place medal, several individuals set personal-best marks in their events and the Whirlwinds finished in 15th place with 10 total team points. Cuero, one of the favorites to take the Class 3A track crown at the State meet, won the Division III team title. Tulia, another perennial contender in track and field, finished second in team standings in the division.

Zach Abshier placed third in discus for Floydada's highest individual finish. His toss of 156'-1 1/2" was his personal best in competition. D.G. Hollums placed sixth in the event with a measurement of 138'-8 1/2" (also his personal best).

Abshier's shot put of 47'-6 1/2" was his best-ever toss in competition and placed fifth, capturing two team points. Hollums also had his best distance in shot put at 44'-8 1/4". Floydada's other team point was captured by Terry Harris' sixth place in the 200 meter dash (and a personal best 24.2 timing). Rance Barnett did not place in long jump, but his 19'-4 1/2" measurement was his best performance to date.

Floydada's 1600 relay team ran well, but according to Coach David Carr, "We were bumped twice, but there were no penalties against the offenders. We had a chance to run a good time in the mile, but the bumps knocked several seconds off our time."

Another personal-best time was registered by Monte Quisenberry with a 11.4 clocking in the very-competitive 100 meter dash. "I was very pleased with all our efforts," stated Coach Carr, "The San Angelo meet is one of the top meets of the track season, and attracts many people who will be contenders at the Region and State track meets. Our kids did a good job against tough competition. I am proud of the way we improved in all times and distances."

The Whirlwinds and Lady 'Winds will travel to Idalou for the Wildcat Relays this Friday and Saturday.

JV's AT EAGLE RELAYS
 Three Whirlwinds were in JV action at the Eagle Relays last Saturday. Pedro Chairez won the shot put in the JV division with a toss of 35'-10". Chairez placed fourth in discus with a 94'-10" measurement.

Michael Palacios ran second in 300 hurdles with a time of 47.1. He also ran 12.3 to place fifth in the 100-meter dash, and finished fifth in long jump with a distance of 16'-7".

Adam Perales did well in four events. He edged teammate Michael Palacios to win the 300 hurdles at 46.58, and placed second in triple jump with a measurement of 35'-10". Perales high jumped 5'-6" for third place, and finished fourth in 110 hurdles with a time of 19.54.

Horns hammer out a win against Hale Center

By Lisa Mosley
LOCKNEY--Birthdays are meant to be special, but Lockney's first baseman Jared Mosley's eighteenth was nothing short of spectacular.

After the Horns' disappointing losses to Littlefield (14-7) and tournament host Floydada (9-8) in the first and second rounds of the Whirlwind tournament, the Horns were wondering what it was going to take to get a win.

"Tanner (Johnson) and I were talking on the way to the game. We had both had bad games at the plate during the tournament and I told him I would reach a career high if I could just get on base one time," said Mosley. "Tanner just died laughing and I guess that loosened me up."

But Mosley did more than that in the final game against Hale Center. He pounded a home run over the right field fence his first time at the plate, singled on his second, got a standup double on his third trip, then was intentionally walked during the sixth inning in his fourth at bat.

But it was his final time at the plate in the seventh inning that iced the cake for Mosley and the Horns.

Trailing the Owls 8-6 in the seventh, Lockney had no choice but to dig down deep and hit the ball or hope for Hale Center to make some errors.

"I knew if the guys would just get their confidence back and concentrate, they could get the win," said head coach David Norwood.

And the Horns proved him right. After a single by Carson Johnson to start the inning, a walk and two outs by the Owls set the stage for what proved to be a first in Norwood's baseball coaching career.

With two away and bases loaded in the seventh inning, shortstop Tanner Johnson stepped to the plate. After five pitches, with a 3-2 count, Johnson patiently watched the last pitch cross high and outside, taking his base and walking in the tying run.

As Mosley stepped to the plate, Hale Center had no choice but to pitch to him. And one pitch was all it took.

"I knew the minute it connected that it was gone," said Mosley. "I don't think I've ever had a birthday to top this one." Mosley finished the game with 6 RBIs. "In my career, this is a first," said Norwood. "I've never had two home runs by a single player in the same game. And add Carlos Perales homer in the fourth to it, and it makes for a memorable day."

The Horns finished the game with nine hits. Nino Garcia was the winning pitcher.

Lockney's record stands at 3-4 in pre-season.

Austin Notebook

By Senator Tom Haywood

The talk of Texas this week was the crash and burn of legalized casino gambling in our state. What was once a strong force fueled by the powerful gambling lobby and out-of-state special interests is now nothing more than a glut of wasted money and time.

Lobbyists initially asked the Senate and House to pass regulatory legislation needed to allow casinos to open if the issue made it to a statewide ballot in the fall and won voter approval. When that failed, the strategy shifted to pushing a constitutional amendment, requiring a two-thirds vote in both the house and senate chambers in addition to statewide voter approval. The defeat of the latter in the Senate State Affairs Committee this past week by a vote of 8-4 signaled the death of legalized casino gambling in Texas for the immediate future.

However, the tactics by a handful of these pro-casino gambling lobbyists may have had a much longer-term damaging effect on this issue. A few of these lobbyists decided to test the legislative prowess of Lt. Governor Bullock. Knowing the votes were not there to pass this out of the committee, they decided to create a lot of fanfare by simply trying to have testimony on the issue taken. With so many important issues still undecided in the Legislature, such as education reform and the state appropriations bill, Lt. Governor Bullock rightfully and boldly said enough is enough. He called the pro-casino gambling lobbyists' bluff. His reasoning: if they are going to waste our time by having it heard, then they better be prepared to have the votes to back it up. The result was a major defeat for the special interests and a victory for the working men and women of Texas.

Had this issue come before the full Senate, I would have voted against putting casino gambling on a statewide ballot. Although I strongly agree with the concept of letting the people be heard through initiative and referendum, I also believe that we should not be wasteful with taxpayer time and money. Every time I have been out among the people of our district and asked about this issue, at least 70 to 75 percent have been strongly against casino gambling. Therefore, I think it is unnecessary to put it on a ballot only to be voted down overwhelmingly.

As the State Senator from District 30, I would have voted against legalized casino gambling largely because the majority of opinions from my constituents have been against it. However, I have personally been against gambling ever since I can remember — it certainly is not a way to fund state government.

The only people in the state of Texas that want legalized gambling are money-hungry, out-of-state special interests already eyeing your hard-earned dollars. I am proud to be a part of a legislature in which 69 percent of the members surveyed in a Dallas poll reported being personally opposed to casino gambling, and followed through on it. I guess you could say that when it came to the luck of the draw, the hard-working, honest citizens of Texas had an ace in the hole in Lt. Governor Bob Bullock. Due to Bullock's leadership, the casino gambling lobby got the royal "flush."

One of three for 1995 Farm Bill

Lubbock selected as hearing site

By Shawn Wade
Activity surrounding the writing of the 1995 Farm Bill is beginning to pick up according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.
PCG officials have learned that field hearings of the House Agriculture Committee have been set. Nationally, three hearing sites have been selected at which producers will have an opportunity to present their comments to the full House Agriculture Committee.
One of the selected sites will be in Lubbock on the campus of Texas Tech University. The Lubbock hearing will begin at 9:00 a.m. at the TTU Ex-Students Center, Tuesday, April 25. The Ex-Students Center is located on the southeast corner of the TTU campus one block north of 19th street off of University Avenue.
The hearing will be conducted by House Agriculture Committee Chairman Pat Roberts (R-Kansas). Also taking part will be Representative Larry Combest (R-Lubbock). Combest is the fourth ranking member of the House Agriculture committee and one of nine members of that committee that participated in the writing of the 1990 Farm Bill.

"The announcement of Lubbock as the site for one of the three hearings to be held by the full House Ag Committee is an excellent opportunity for cotton producers on the High Plains to let the people that will be writing the 1995 Farm Bill know what works and what doesn't work in regard to current farm programs," says PCG Executive Vice-President Donald Johnson. "For the most part producers are pleased with the market oriented approach of the 1985 and 1990 Farm Bill's. Most cotton producers would like to see an expansion of the current program in 1995."
Johnson notes that agriculture will again be the easy target for additional budget cuts, even though spending for direct agriculture programs accounts for less than one percent of Federal spending and only a fraction of USDA outlays each year.
Producers wanting to participate in the Lubbock hearing to testify in person or that would like to submit written testimony should contact Congressman Combest through Jimmy Clark in Lubbock at 806-763-1611, or through Russell Laird in Washington, D.C., at 202-225-4005.

FIRST TIME HUNTER--Erick Arellano, 13-year-old son of Adam and Esther Arellano of Floydada, went on his first hunting trip and brought home a Corsican Ram, which he killed with his first shot. The youngster was hunting at Rocky Top Ranch, near Camp Wood, Texas.

States can make application for use of granular carbofuran for sorghum

Grain sorghum growers who need granular carbofuran to control sorghum insect pests are elated over the Environmental Protection Agency's decision to permit states to apply for registration of the product. EPA has agreed to allow states with a specific sorghum insect pest problem to apply for a registration under FIFRA Section 24(c).

Producers in Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Texas have used the product for many years to effectively control several insect pests that can seriously damage sorghum. However, EPA pesticide officials had wanted to ban its use on sorghum. Without granular carbofuran, growers were facing severe crop losses from insect pests such as the chinch bug.

National Grain Sorghum Producers, the membership association for sorghum growers, has fought to retain the use of the product. Key legislators from sorghum-producing areas joined NGSP and the nation's sorghum growers in the battle with EPA over the use of granular carbofuran on sorghum.

"We commend the EPA for making the right decision," said Gary Bright, NGSP president. "We're glad that common sense prevailed, allowing us to use a product that has proven to be so effective in preventing devastating crop losses.

Bright said that EPA decided to ban granular carbofuran based solely on its toxicity to individual birds rather than on its possible effect on bird populations as a whole. Several environmental groups threatened to sue EPA if they did not remove the product from the market. The NGSP board of directors unanimously voted to file their own lawsuit against EPA.
"We were ready to fight this out in court, since it just didn't make sense to us that EPA would penalize farmers so severely just because of the possibility of bird kills," he said. "Especially since there have been few documented bird deaths caused by granular carbofuran. In fact, there are no recorded bird deaths from use of the product on sorghum."
Bright said that securing the agreement for EPA to allow state registrations of granular carbofuran was an enormous team effort. "Winning this battle was a team effort," he said. "We are especially grateful to the state departments of agriculture and the extension service personnel who provided the information we needed to prove our case. They really supported us on this issue."

A SPANNING THE CENTURIES PROJECT... THE WAYLAND LIBRARY

Terree Donaldson
First Baptist Church Matador
"Wayland holds a special place in my heart. I will always treasure the time spent there. I believe in the Christian values it strives to instill. It is a wonderful institution, and I hope Baptists everywhere will continue to support WBU."

Fred Risser
First Baptist Church Matador
"I value the education I received at Wayland. I especially value the personal relationships I was able to have with my professors. The quality of Wayland's professors was much greater than I expected from a small school. I pray Wayland will continue to grow and be a positive influence for this area."

Les T. Reed
Teacher/Youth Minister Lockney
I am a former Wayland student. Having Wayland right here in the heart of Texas has been a tremendous help to me. It has allowed me to stretch and expand my education. Let me encourage you to stand behind the Spanning the Centuries Campaign so that we will have an added "extra" upon the completion of our new library. It will be a good resource for everyone."

Delvin Bybee
Customer Services Manager, Tye Corporation, Lockney
"Being from small town America, I count it a privilege to have a university such as Wayland on my back door."

FAITH!
Since 1908, Wayland has had faith in providing leadership in education. This Library is a tool that is needed to keep continuous growth. These are only a few of thousands dedicated to Wayland and its programs. Wayland enhances the life of your community.

Steve Burleson
Principal, Abernathy H.S.
"My son and daughter-in-law are recent graduates of Wayland. They were received, guided and instructed well. My son was very active in the choir. It has always been a pleasure to be on the campus of Wayland Baptist University."

Jacquenet Boyd
Housewife, Hale Center
"I feel we are blessed to have WBU in our part of Texas and would like to encourage others to participate in the Spanning the Centuries Campaign. One of our children attended WBU and received her teaching degree and we feel they worked with her in every area."

Claude Porter
Pastor, Calvary Baptist, Lockney
"On my office wall hangs a caricature of Descartes' dog. The caption reads, 'I bark, therefore, I am.' Humor aside, the definite impact that Wayland has on people's lives speaks to her existence. I support the 'Spanning the Centuries' campaign because I want her existence to be a positive impact now and in the future."

Billy Skipper
Retired Banker, Abernathy
"I have watched Wayland for many years. I am proud that we have this fine school in West Texas. Abernathy has supported Wayland in many ways and we now want to see the new library finished and growth to continue."

Harold D. Abney

Myrna Davis

"Wayland, as in the past, is especially needed in Christian education now and in the future. I urge you to support Wayland."

H.B. Robertson

"Our family ties to Wayland go back over 50 years when my wife played basketball for the Queens. I think a Christian university on the plains of Texas is a real plus. I am happy to be a part of making it an even better place."

Rev. Howell E. Farnsworth

Rev. Ronnie Travis
Pastor, First Baptist Church, Petersburg
"As a graduate of Wayland Baptist University, I owe much to Wayland. Wayland has had such a tremendous influence on West Texas. Because of this I strongly support this campaign and encourage you to also."

Sally Shaw
First Baptist Church Lockney
"I am pleased to support the Spanning the Centuries Campaign because I am convinced of the value of Christian education. We are fortunate to have close proximity to Wayland so that many of music and youth directors and some of our pastors trained there. Lockney has many fine teachers who received their degrees there. We also enjoy the fine facilities for concerts and programs the campus provides."

Todd Keller
Assistant Registrar - WBU
"Growing up in Plainview, I had a great deal of exposure to Wayland Baptist University. I have always believed in the type of education that Wayland offers. By supporting this campaign, the people of West Texas are ensuring the continuation of Christ-centered higher education on the plains of Texas. I strongly encourage you to join me in pledging support for Wayland."

Jim and Patsy Hancock
Interim Pastor, First Baptist Church, Matador
"Patsy and I are pleased to have a part in this campaign for two reasons. First, we are excited about the completion of the library. It will not only enhance Wayland's capability to provide Christian education for young men and women, but it will be an educational resource for the entire West Texas area. Second, this campaign involves for more than fund raising. It has pulled us together and united us in support of our regional Baptist University. Through the campaign I sense a new spirit of enthusiasm and progress. We are, therefore, not only pleased to give financial support but time and energy to insure the continuing success of the campaign."

Dr. H. Gene Meacham
Pastor, First Baptist Church, Hale Center
"Wayland Baptist University is a valuable asset to our West Texas area. We have every reason to be proud of this fine institution for the quality education and the Christian standards it provides for students. I am pleased to be a part of Wayland's 'Spanning the Centuries' campaign and encourage everyone to join me in supporting our university."

Donnell D. Gowens
Retired, Floydada
"Wayland University has been a great influence in our area and in the Floydada community for years. We have not only enjoyed the educational opportunities it offers, but also the comfort we have in having help and staff assistance in our churches. There seems to be no end to supply for interim personnel or supply relief."

Dr. Gary Manning
Interim Pastor, First Baptist Church, Abernathy
"I am presently in my 13th year as a professor at Wayland Baptist University. I see first hand the impact that Wayland makes on students. Then, as I go into churches and communities throughout West Texas, I see the impact those students make when they leave Wayland. Because I believe in the value of Christian education, I have been going to complete the library for ten years. I am thrilled that the Spanning the Centuries Campaign includes, but is not limited to the completion of the library. The improvements and updating that will come as a result of reaching the financial goals of the campaign will secure a beautiful school to meet the needs of the new century."
