Historical finds prove presence of Coronado

LET THE DIGS BEGIN--Archeologists from several states participated in the Blanco Canyon dig searching for evidence of a visit from the 1541 expedition of Spanish explorer Francisco V. de Coronado. What they found convinced them to return for more in depth excavations. Staff Photo

SCREENING HISTORY--After dirt was scooped into buckets, archeologists would gently sift the dirt through a screen looking for historical remains. By Alice Gilroy
The dogged determination of local historians and amateur and professional archeologists has brought enough attention to archeological finds in Floyd County to warrant a shovel survey of Blanco Canyon this past weekend.

Approximately 35 archeologists and students from around Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Kansas, converged in a part of Blanco Canyon for a four day dig. The archeologists had hopes of recovering more evidence that the 1541 expedition of Spanish explorer Francisco V. de Coronado came through Blanco Canyon, in Floyd County, and camped in this area. What they found convinced them to come back.

The chain of events leading to this current archeological dig began with a chain mail gauntlet (three fingered glove), which was found by Burl Daniel in the 1960's. The find was later recorded in a Feb. 17, 1966 story in the Floyd County Hesperian.

Daniel kept the gauntlet in his possession and moved from Floyd County taking the gauntlet with him.

In 1963, another Floydadan, J.S. Hale Jr., found what was believed to be a piece of a chain mail vest in a gully feeding south to White River (Blanco Canyon). This vest was also possibly associated with the Coronado expedition. This vest was later stolen during a move to a new home in 1965 and has never been recovered.

Then in a June 4, 1991 story in the Plainview Daily Herald, Nancy Marble, a board member of the Floyd County Historical Museum, noticed a story on four historians who were taking an aerial tour of the area in an effort to nail down the route of Coronado across the Staked Plains.

The archeologist featured in the story were: Dr. Waldo R. Wedel, retired curator of the Smithsonian Institution, his son Waldo Wedel, a computer specialist; Don Blakeslee, associate professor of archeology at Wichita State University; and Dr. Jack Hughes, retired curator of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum in Canyon.

All the men were members of the recently formed Coronado Trail Association.

After reading the story, Marble remembered the 1966 story of the chain mail glove in the Floyd County Hesperian. She began immediately trying to locate Mr. Daniel who was now living in New Mexico. On June 29, 1991 the gauntlet was in the possession of the Floyd County Historical Museum.

Later in 1991, a local archeology enthusiast, Jimmy Owens, found two other objects in the same area; both of them crossbow projectile points, one of iron and one of copper.

The copper point is of a material and construction which is identical to crossbow boltheads (dart points) recovered archeologically at Hawikuh, Santiago Pueblo, and Pecos Pueblo, all places visited by the Coronado expedition.

The gauntlet and other finds peaked the interest of archeologist Donald J. Blakeslee, who returned to the area later in 1991 and studied the items which had been found. He decided then that a shovel survey was in order and organized the group which arrived on the Labor Day weekend.

Blakeslee believes that the traditional view of Coronado's expedition making their "barranca", or summer home, in the Caprock Canyons (part of the Palo Duro Canyons) is wrong.

Blakeslee wants to prove his theory that the Coronado campsite was along Blanco canyon, south of Floydada. Coronado led more than 1,000 on the three year trek, including soldiers, Indians, missionaries, women and children.

"This is a perfect spot for a long stay," said Blakeslee at the dig on Sunday. "These canyon walls were a perfect fence for their 5000 head of livestock, but it was not too deep to easily send out scouting parties from their group. Water was also abundant in this area during that time period, as were the bison on top."

The group of archeologist set their task to a mere 100 acres for their week-end long dig. "We are only surveying two small sections of the canyon," said Blakeslee. "It is hard work. We are trying to find occupation that was here for two weeks out of the last 1,200 years."

Occasional historical finds do not in and of themselves prove that Coronado's expedition camped in Blanco Canyon. It is possible that Indians, or someone else, dropped the pieces after they were stolen from another location.

It is up to the archeologist to prove that the finds are not isolated incidents. One way they do this is by locating more than one piece of the same time period and close to each other. On Sunday afternoon Blakeslee said, "I will be happy if we find one more copper point—in place."

He was not disappointed.

Excitement built over the weekend dig as more and more evidence was surfaced. Besides a 9,000 year old spear point (also known as a Plainview point) other found pieces dating to the 1500's were pottery shards, a four bladed stone knife, and a metal trade awl (straight needle). Owens also found bits of Spanish horseshoe and Spanish nails.

However one of the biggest finds, and the one which Blakeslee was looking for, came from another archeology enthusiast, Ray Macha, of Providence.

Searching with Owens, in the same general location of other significant finds, Macha came across a copper arrow point from a bolt (the arrow fired from a crossbow). "Coronado was the only expedition known to be out here with crossbows," said Macha. "Jimmy Owens is the only other person who has ever found one of these points. This point, along with the two Owens found, supports the theory that they are not just random finds."

These finds weren't even needed to further convince Floydada archeologist Jim Word that the Floydada Country Club site once served as Coronado's headquarters.

In an earlier interview with the Lubbock Avalanche Journal, Word said, "The Country Club site was apparently where Coronado's headquarters was located."

At the Country Club site, Word found a fca that he believes is from Coronado's trip. The fca is a sym-

PROOF OF CORONADO--One of the more exciting finds was this crossbow point dated to the 1500's. These points were used during the Coronado expedition. This point was found by Ray Macha, of Providence, September 4. Two similar points were found in the same general area, by Jimmy Owens, of Floydada, in 1991. Staff Photo

MORE EVIDENCE--These items dated by metal experts to be of the time period of the Coronado expedition were found on Monday, September 1. (L-R) A Spanish horseshoe nail, a figure eight link of chain, Spanish made crossbow point, and a piece of a Spanish horseshoe. All items, except for the point, were found by Jimmy Owens, of Floydada. The point was found by Ray Macha, of Providence. Staff Photo

BY THE WAY

BY
ALICE GILROY

The nice thing about working at the newspaper is that I get to be a part of a lot of exciting things that I normally wouldn't necessarily get invited to.

This past week I got to be a part of two exciting happenings.

The first was the Labor Day weekend dig in Blanco Canyon. Archeologists were there from several states looking for evidence that Coronado traveled through Blanco Canyon and made a summer home at a campsite in Floyd County.

My son went with me and was fascinated with the excavations of the sites. The archeologists were very patient with him and just sat him down and worked around him.

It was fun to watch them show off artifacts that would have meant nothing to me if I had found them in the dirt. Although they would have meant something to a 9 year old boy—no matter how old they were.

Five hundred years from now someone is going to dig up the remains of my son's pair of jeans and have all kind of theories about what was stored in those pockets. I wonder what explanation they will come up with for the toys from McDonald's Happy Meals.

Anyway—back to the subject. Even though I would not enjoy working in this hot sun and digging in the dirt for a living, I would enjoy being able to recognize a historical piece when I trip over it.

After the finds this weekend we can all get ready for some extensive excavations in the county. It is going to be very exciting and I'm sure this area will be featured in news broad-casts and magazines from all over.

The other exciting thing I got to be part of was watching the moving crew bring the new Mt. Zion Baptist Church to Floydada. The church building had been donated to Mt. Zion from the Pansy Baptist Church in Crosby County.

It was a very long haul and the building was huge coming down the Lakeview highway to its new resting place. It took over four hours to travel the distance and it was very tedious work.

The pastor, Rev. Ralph Jackson, didn't seem too tired after the ordeal. He was walking on air and there were a lot of very happy faces among the people who baby-sat the building on it's long trek.

The truck would move a small distance and then stop to maneuver around road signs. In many places along the route, signs were cut down, pulled out, or leaned over.

The driver of the truck and his steering committee were experts in their work and Rev. Jackson said they only ran over one sign which nobody saw. The sign knocked out a wall inside the church.

Jackson wasn't complaining though. He said, "That's OK. We will just have a bigger fellowship hall or a bigger nursery—I'm not sure which."

The church has found a new home and the former members of the Pansy Church can rest assured that the building will be put to good use and loved a lot.

FNB in Lockney to acquire Bank of America in Paducah

Bank of America Texas and First National Bank in Lockney announced, August 30, they have signed a definitive agreement under which First National Bank in Lockney will acquire Bank of America's Paducah branch.

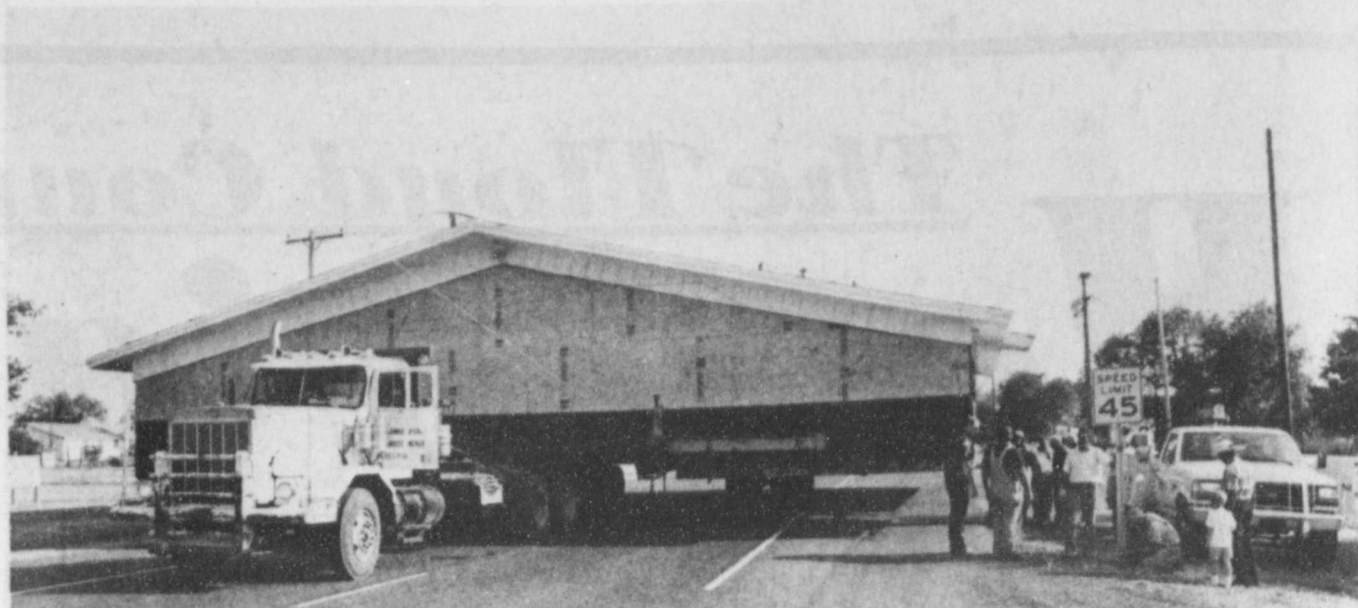

Completion of the transaction is subject to approval of applicable regulatory authorities and is expected to be completed in the fourth quarter of 1995 or early 1996. Terms were not disclosed.

"Our banking experience is in rural agriculture areas. With this acquisition we have the opportunity to be a part of the Paducah community in providing for the banking needs of the people in the area," said Jim Doucette, Chairman of the Board of First National Bank in Lockney. "We are well aware of the fact that a bank cannot exist without providing for the banking needs of the customers and having the support of the people in the community. For this reason, we are determined to be an asset to the community and a bank in which its customers can be proud of. We are dedicated to making the transition a smooth one for customers, as we focus on community banking in Paducah."

First National Bank in Lockney, with assets of approximately $58.5 million, was established in 1908. In addition to its Lockney location at 201 N. Main, First National Bank in Lockney also has banking facilities located at 105 South Wall in Floydada and 612 Main Street in Olton.

Bank of America Texas is a subsidiary of BankAmerica Corporation, which has more than 1,900 branches in ten western states. At June 30, 1995, BankAmerica had assets of approximately $226.5 billion and deposits of approximately $155.7 billion.

Bank of America Texas currently operates 241 branches in Texas and had assets of approximately $7.9 billion and deposits of approximately $6.8 billion at June 30, 1995.

LABOR OF LOVE--It may not look like it in this picture but it won't be long before this building is overflowing with grateful members of Mt. Zion Baptist Church in Floydada. The members were faced with extensive remodeling in their old church when an offer came in that they couldn't refuse. The members of the Pansy Baptist Church in Crosby County were closing their doors. Instead of abandoning their building it was donated lock-stock and barrel to the members of Mt. Zion Baptist Church. People from Crosby and Floyd County have been donating their time and professional labor making the move possible--from taking brick off the church for the move, clearing the new site, laying water lines and pouring the concrete slab. A large crowd gathered on Tuesday, September 5, to watch the church arrive by truck. It took over 4 hours for the church to make it's very slow and tedious trip. In this picture city employees, state highway employees and volunteers assist in the removal of a mailbox and street sign so the truck can turn into the driveway of the new location on 12th Street. ## Floydada Airport receives grants for improvements

The City of Floydada has been awarded a $1 million state grant for improvements to the city's airport.

The money will be used to acquire property, improve paved surfaces and lighting.

Funding will be a combination of 90 percent state and 10 percent local funds.

The grant was approved by the Texas Transportation Commission at its meeting in San Angelo on Aug. 31.

The Floydada project was one of 49 projects at general aviation airports around the state receiving a total of $34.9 million in grants approved by the state transportation commission.

"These projects will help us achieve our overall aviation goals; improving safety, preserving existing facilities and meeting existing and anticipated needs," said David Bernsen, commission member. "I'm pleased we could address the needs in Floydada."

To obtain the grant money, Floydada will have to match the grant with $100,000 of local funds," said Floydada City Manager Gary Brown.

The airport board is in the process of working with various entities for matching grants.

According to Brown, the matching grants can be from "in-kind services", such as labor, equipment, land and professional services.

TxDOT receives, disburses and administers federal and state funds for general aviation airports and is responsible for helping small communities build, maintain and upgrade airports. The projects are funded with varying combinations of Federal Aviation Administration, state and local money.

WORTH THE EFFORT—During the search for evidence of Coronado's 1541 expedition, Susan Houghton, a student at Wichita State University, found a Tecovas Flint (or 4 bladed stone knife), which is dated to the 1500's in this area. Houghton also found pieces of Spanish pottery which is also believed to have come from Coronado's expedition. Staff Photo bolic figure of a fist with a thumb through the index and middle finger, and was used to ward off evil spirits.

Extensive fragments of pottery believed to be from the Pueblo period of the 1540's have also been located in the past seven years.

Word surmises that the pottery pieces can be explained by an account in one of Coronado's journals of a severe hail storm that occurred during an encampment.

"Apparently he spent the night and was hauled out down in the canyon," Word said. "That's why we find all the broken pottery and stuff. The horses stampeded but they couldn't get out of the canyon because there wasn't any easy way out, so they didn't lose them. But all the pottery they had accumulated from the Pueblo area was destroyed."

Archeologist Richard Flint wrote of these pottery finds in a paper presented to the Gran Quivira Conference in New Mexico, in 1994. Flint, who also supports the theory of Coronado camping in Blanco Canyon, said, "Rio Grande Glazeware sherds (particularly Glaze E) are found in relative abundance in Blanco Canyon..."

"Also, from the nearby Floydada Country Club site have been recovered a couple of red-painted, grog-tempered sherds," identified as possibly originating from Mexico and present with the Coronado expedition.

Flint concluded, "I think that Blanco Canyon may very well be Coronado's first barranca and the Montgomery location or the Floydada Country Club Site or some other yet unknown nearby Garza Complex site may be the first Teyas village."

"We are going to have to raise more money to pay for a more thorough excavation of this area," said Blakeslee. "A week-end summer dig is not enough. These people are all volunteering their time and they have to get back to work after the Labor Day holiday."

The weekend finds have convinced the archeologists to keep looking. As a result of the past evidence and the more recent finds, Blakeslee now feels future funding for more excavation should be easier to obtain and we should be hearing a lot more about exciting new discoveries in the area.

"We found enough evidence to be sure that Blanco Canyon is one of Coronado's campsites, although we do not know yet which one," said Blakeslee. "We shall return."

In an effort to keep the surrounding areas of the finds undisturbed organizers have requested that the locations of these digs not be published.

"We want to emphasize to people," said one of the out-of-state archeologists, "that we are conducting this dig to record history and then to leave the history here. We are not here to take it away."

Guthrie is Artist of the Month at FNB Floydada

The First National Bank of Floydada is pleased to have a return exhibit of photography by Aubrey Guthrie II during the month of September. A medium sometimes overlooked when naming the various types of visual art, photography is one of the more demanding art forms. We are all "camera-carrying" people; however, a great deal of study, practice, and creative ability goes into becoming a photographic artist.

A graduate of Floydada High School, Guthrie had been interested primarily in athletics and horses during his early years. Yet, at the age of twelve, he and Dan Hagood secured a darkroom kit for developing photographs which began an intense and lasting interest in photography. After high school, Guthrie prepared for a medical career. He graduated from the University of Texas, Austin, and from Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. Following internship and residency in family medicine, he began his medical practice in the Hurst-Euleuss-Bedford area where he continues to practice today.

In the early 70s, Guthrie was able to pursue his interest in photography which had taken a back seat during his educational years. He spent hours at the local junior college learning to develop black and white prints; and he began to enter photography contests, enroll in seminars, research journals and books, and take literally hundreds of photos. Over the years, he tried his hand also with pencil sketches, watercolors, and oils; "but", said the artist, "nothing gave me the creative satisfaction that I found with the camera!"

Guthrie has traveled extensively, and his work reflects different areas. In the current exhibit, the viewer will see photographs from New Mexico: a Mosque, Luminarias, the Ghost Ranch; from the Big Bend area, Terlingua Cree, Green Gulch, the Delta Formation; from England, a Canoe at Oxford, and English Pup. There are also photographs from the hill country and Ft. Davis.

Aubrey Guthrie II married Barbara Ann Bowman. The couple have three children and four grandchildren. Guthrie is the son of the late Dr. A.E. Guthrie and Sue Guthrie. This talented artist's work will be exhibited during regular banking hours through September.

Better Business Bureau Report

By Nan Campbell, President

Today, millions of consumers are investing in homes that are not yet built. Some don't realize however, that buying a home before it is built is a lot different from buying an existing home. Weather may delay construction and closing. Mortgage rates could shoot up. To avoid problems, your BBB suggests you zero in on land plans. Ask the land planner about current zoning requirements and any proposals that have been submitted to develop nearby land. Visit the builder's earlier projects to check out his workmanship. Talk to some of his customers and call the BBB at 763-0459 or (800)687-7890 for a reliability report. Find out if there is a home owner's association and ask for a copy of the rules. Make sure you read and understand the contract and consider legal review before signing. Inspect the finished product before you take delivery. Protect your mortgage rate. As the closing date approaches, you'll want to lock in your interest rate.

Lockney Senior Citizens

by Gladys Ragle

The Thursday, August 31 meeting was well attended by 54 people who enjoyed a very good meal topped off by ice cream, cakes, and cookies. Robert Williams, S.J.'s son, was a guest.

Gladys Ragle has just returned from visiting her sister in Oklahoma City. She flew back to Lubbock on Friday and stayed with her daughter. On Saturday, they attended a wonderful program sponsored by the Quaker Avenue Church of Christ.

The program honored a "Century of Song". There were quartets and singing groups from various places in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and New Mexico. Special guests were Robert S. Arnold who wrote "No Tears in Heaven" and also many other wonderful hymns.

Also "Psalms IV" of Amarillo, "Sonrise", and "A Reason to Sing", quartets from this area were a part of the program. It was a wonderful experience. I wish everyone could have heard it.

Almeda Phillips is doing pretty good after falling and breaking her ankle. She has returned home.

We were saddened to learn of the death of J.B. Mercer. He was found earlier at his home where he had gotten sick and fallen. He was in the hospital when he died.

FLOYDADA SENIOR CITIZEN NEWS

By Margarette Word

The center is open 8am to 4pm each Monday through Friday. However, they were closed on Labor Day but were open on Tuesday, Sept. 5. The center is for all races, 60 years and older. If you plan to eat lunch, please call 983-2032 by 10am so enough food can be prepared.

Inez Bailey of Colorado City (she used to live at Matador) was at the center for lunch August 30. She told me she attended the Roaring Springs Ole' Settlers Days activities that took place August 26. Also with Inez was Grace Shelton who lives at Matador. These two ladies were on their way to Lockney to visit Grace's husband who is a resident at the Lockney Nursing Home.

Joining our Senior Citizen organization are the Rev. Ione and Vick Sedinger. The Rev. Ione Sedinger is the new minister to the First Christian Church here in Floydada. Welcome to our community.

Maurine Parks is out of the hospital. We pray she will continue to get better.

Our sympathy to Britt Britton on the loss of his sister.

Our sympathy to Jo Davis on the death of her brother-in-law who lived at Port Arthur.

Our sympathy to Lorene Newberry on the death of her brother-in-law, Homer Newberry, who lived in the Ft. Worth area. His funeral was Saturday, Sept. 2, at Lakeview Cemetery.

Our sympathy to Pete and Wanda Hickerson on the death of Wanda's brother-in-law who lived at Paris, Texas.

Our sympathy to the family of Ozena Norris. Her funeral was Saturday afternoon, Sept. 2.

We are happy for Ethel Warren who has been ill recently but is feeling well enough to come to the center to play "42". We pray she will continue to get stronger.

Ed Wester is out of the hospital and our prayer is that he, too, will have a speedy recovery.

Olin Watson was here for Sunday School and church at the First United Methodist Church last Sunday. He and Lena Mae live in Midland.

Britt Britton has been in the Floydada Nursing Home, but I understand he is well enough to go home. We pray that he, too, will continue to improve.

Myrtice Rainer is in C.C.U. at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. We pray that by the time this paper is printed that she will be in a room and recover quickly from her problem.

Please remember to pray for one another, for those who are ill, lonely, who are in the hospitals, nursing homes and are having a difficult time just getting through the day, that God will help them and be with them through these difficult times.

Grace Jarrett and the following attended the Havens Family Reunion held in Crosbyton, Sept. 3: Charles and Dot Simms of Nashville, Tenn.; Grace's son, Jack Jarrett of Rosenberg, Texas; his daughter, Tammie and Bill Peavey and children of Beaumont, Texas; and Grace's granddaughter, Crystal Fountain and daughter of Houston.

The Battey Family Reunion took place, Saturday, Sept. 2 at the Floydada Senior Citizen Center with 47 in attendance.

The Trapp family had a get-together over Labor Day weekend. Sunday morning, at the First United Methodist Church, their family filled up two long rows of pews. Three of them were in the choir. It was great to see so many from a family all sitting in church together. Ruth Trapp is in the Floydada Nursing Home and was unable to attend church.

Lorene Newberry's granddaughter, RexAnne and Kelly Davis and Lorene's great-granddaughter of Weatherford were here for Labor Day. Faye and William Bertrand were included in the get-together.

Over the Labor Day holiday 60 people registered to search for Coronado's Trail through this area.

Dr. Don Blakeslee of Wichita, Kansas, who is Professor of Anthropology at Wichita State University was in charge. He is also President of the Coronado Trail Association.

A group from P.B.S.T.V. from Amarillo attended and made a film of the work which will be aired in October. So be watching P.B.S.T.V. for this program.

The Associated Press is also planning on doing a story.

The Floyd County Museum was hostess giving support in all areas to make this a successful weekend.

This is a very important project and must be protected for future research. More work is planned for this area.

As you all know Jim Word is an avocational archaeologist and was involved in this project.

Heritage Recognition Days '95 at Calvary Baptist

We Salute in Floydada

J.R. WILLIAMS

FLOYDADA - Calvary Baptist Church has offered almost a half-century of Christian ministry to Floydada and the surrounding area. While Calvary has been prolific in sending out preachers, missionaries, and musicians, she also has been dependent upon leadership from the outside brought in.

To honor past and present ministerial leadership Calvary Baptist is celebrating Heritage Recognition Days '95 on two successive weekends in September. The first weekend will be observed on the 8, 9 and 10. Former Pastor, J.R. Williams will serve as guest evangelist.

Williams, now retired, lives with his wife, Nell, at Rule, Texas. He was born in 1927 at Potosi, Texas. "What's more important," he says, "is that I was born again in 1940." Williams surrendered to the ministry and was licensed to preach in 1946. He was ordained in 1947.

Attending Wayland Baptist University from 1949-1955, Williams pastored churches on a part-time basis. His first full-time church was at Mt. Blanco in Crosby County.

In 1949, Williams was married to Nell Horton of Spur, Texas. They are the parents of four, one boy and three girls, all grown and married. Williams retired from the pastorate in 1992.

The second weekend of Heritage Recognition is to be September 15, 16 and 17. Dr. Strauss Atkinson who served for a number of years as Director of Missions for the Caprock-Plains Baptist Area will serve as guest evangelist. Although retired, Atkinson presently serves as a consultant for the Volunteer Annuity Stewardship Program for the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Atkinson is a native of Florence, Texas. He was ordained to the Gospel ministry by First Baptist Church, Littlefield. Atkinson attended college at Hardin-Simmons University, and West Texas State University. His seminary work was completed at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth.

Dr. Atkinson was married to Gertrude Marie Yohner of Littlefield on November 26, 1936. They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Dale (Lynn) Cain, Lubbock, and Mrs. Gary (Mayla) Ward, Dumas.

Providing music for the two weekends will be Murlyn and Janie Keller and their two sons, Brady and Heath, of Plainview. They will sing contemporary, praise and traditional songs and lead the congregation in hymn singing. Roma Haley of Lubbock will be the piano accompanist.

According to the Pastor, Claude Porter, the '94 Heritage Recognition Days celebration was a great success. "We are anticipating another successful time of spiritual renewal in our church and community," Porter says.

Services will be held Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 both weekends. Sunday services are scheduled for Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., worship services at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. The public is invited and child care will be provided.

Longhorn football team heads into action

LOCKNEY—The Lockney Longhorn football team is set and ready to go according to head coach Malcom Moerbe.

"The returning players are in good shape. I was pleased with the way they performed during two-a-days and we have improved after two scrimmages.

"We had 61 guys come out for physicals and shoes. We now have 55 who showed up to play ball and they are ready to get into the season," he stated.

"The two scrimmages got us off to a good start. The scrimmage with Farwell was an improvement over the Crosbyton scrimmage, but we expected that. The guys are improving every time we get on the field," stated Moerbe.

He continued, "We are in an extremely competitive district and it will take dedication along with luck and breaks to get us to where we were last year. The guys are ready and willing and we can do it again."

Jack Covington commented that he went to the first practice which was held at 12:01 a.m. and was surprised that he could not find a parking place. "I could not believe the number of people that came out at that time of night."

"We are as healthy as normal at this time of the season. Corbin Kellison, because of the concussion he received in scrimmage, will not play this year. We are extremely sorry to lose him but we have to think about his future.

"Tyson McDonald will be out for three or four games with his neck injury but we expect to see him back in good shape," he said.

Moerbe stated "We are pleased with the support of the Lockney fans. We think of the fans as our twelfth man"

According to the Top of Texas Football Digest, Lockney is rated 4th in District 3-AA. Others in the district and their rating are: 1. Olton, 2. Hale Center, 3. Springlake-Earth, 5. Hart, 6. New Deal, 7. Abernathy, 8. Morton.

'Winds and Horns vie for county title

by Bill Gray
Move over Texas-Texas A. & M., Alabama-Auburn, and even Lubbock High-Monterey. One of the oldest schoolboy rivalries in the nation will be renewed at 8:00 P.M. tomorrow night at Wester Field as the Floydada Whirlwinds host the Lockney Longhorns. Although the series between the two teams dates back to the early 1920s, the designation for the game as the "Floyd County Championship" was only added in recent years.

The game has resulted in a blow-out only a few times. Many of the contests have gone to the wire, so to speak. 1994's Whirlwind victory at Lockney was a prime example of what to expect in this classic. The 'Winds were able to score a 2-point conversion to claim the 8-7 thriller. It was a heart-breaking loss for the 'Horns, who went on to a successful playoff season.

Tomorrow's game is what high school football is all about. A good rivalry, accented by good sportsmanship, and an overflow crowd. It doesn't get much better than this.

Join the Caravan!

Hey, Longhorn fans! It is that time again! The Lockney Longhorns will meet their longtime rivals, the Floydada Whirlwinds on Friday, September 8. There will be a send off for the team at 6:00 p.m. on Main Street. Be there to show your support and follow the team from there to Floydada.

Caprock Girl Scouts offer free kite flying fun in Floydada

Plan to join the fun on Monday, September 11, when the Caprock Girl Scout Council comes to Floydada for a free fall registration kick-off event.

On Monday, September 11, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., the Girl Scouts will be at Floydada's R.V. Park offering games, free hotdogs for girls and their parents, and kite-making and kite-flying mania. Girls in grades kindergarten through 12th will be invited to join the Girl Scout organization at that time for a $6 enrollment/registration fee. (Financial assistance is available.)

There is no obligation to join, so come on out and see what the Girl Scouts are all about!

For more information, contact Renee Parker or Janet Doggett at (806) 745-2855 or (800) 530-4957.

Coach's Comments

By Coach Bryan Davis

As a coaching staff, our intention going into our scrimmage against Lubbock Cooper was to get our backups a lot of playing time. We also stayed with our base defense, and that put us in some tough situations against the Pirates. Our #1 units were outscored by Cooper 3 touchdowns to 2, and our #2s were outscored 2-0.

We saw some really good things in the final scrimmage, and we also saw a lot of things that need improvement. Our JV had a good outing, and some of those young men earned a spot on the Varsity due to their efforts. The 'Wind JV and Cooper JV ended 0-0 in the scrimmage.

Floydada's freshmen beat Cooper's 9th graders 4-2. We are very excited about this group of young men. The freshmen will play Slaton at Idalou at 5:00 today, (September 7), and the JV plays the Lockney JV at 6:00 P.M. today in Lockney. We welcome everyone to the Floyd County Championship game tomorrow at Wester Field. Kickoff is at 8:00 P.M.

Hey Whirlwind Fans!

Wear your green and be at the Floydada Jr. High Stadium Friday afternoon at 3:00 for the all-community pep-rally. Help us support the Winds as we take on the Lockney Longhorns here at 8:00 p.m. on September 8th!

Get in the spirit of the season! Come out and support the local football teams this weekend!

Bill's Fearless (?) 1995 Football Forecast

Part I
By Bill Gray

If one were to believe most of the 1995 football season's predictions and pre-season polls, the coaches at Floydada, Muleshoe and Dimmitt might as well mail in their RSYP's and concentrate on an early start in basketball (or organize a Fall baseball program). It doesn't take a rocket scientist to pick Littlefield head and shoulders above the rest of District 2-3A, with Shallowater and Friona fighting over the #2 playoff spot — on paper, that is.

Once again, the Whirlwinds have been picked among the second division teams of the district, and one pre-season prognosticator projects Floydada to finish dead last in 2-3A. Fortunately for Coach Bryan Davis and those involved with the Whirlwinds, the team's success depends upon how well it does on the field.

While I agree with the predictions that Littlefield should be the early favorite for the 2-3A throne room, I strongly disagree with the forecasters in their assessments for the remainder of the district. With that thought in mind, I have again dusted off my crystal ball and conferred with that old Gypsy Lady. Here is how I (we) see the Whirlwinds in 1995.

Lockney, September 8, home: This one, as usual, is more difficult to forecast than the ending of a Danielle Steel novel. For eight consecutive seasons, "Wait 'I next year!" has been the rallying cry for the Longhorn faithful, following the annual battle for Floyd County football supremacy. A two-point conversion was the difference in last year's thriller in Lockney. It will be another curtain call for the family feud tomorrow night at Wester Field, with much the same results. Another "barn burner," and when the smoke has cleared, the 'Horns will again be hollerin'... "Wait 'I next year!"

Brownfield, September 15, away: The Cubs haven't been on Floydada's yearly schedule very long, but the short series has produced some real "nail-biters," such as the Cubs' 20-13 victory a year ago. It's pay-back time... Whirlwinds 26, Brownfield 21.

Post, September 22, away: Dewayne Osborne's Antelopes galloped all over the 'Winds at Wester Field in '94. The likelihood of Floydada returning the favor is rather slim. The 'Lopes return Alvin Reed, one of the area's premier 2A backs. At 5-11, 205, he'll be a real test of Coach Parker's new defense. The Bold Gold should get even bolder, but it would be great for the 'Winds to give Coach Davis an upset over his old alma mater. Post year's margin (32 points) will be cut by more than half.

Childress, September 29, away: The 'Winds travel the yellow brick road over to the "Land of Ah's" and they'll need more than the tin man and a lion to tame the Bobcats in their own lair. Of Charlie's boys are almost impregnable in their rock fortress, but a mighty Whirlwind could hook up with a tornado or two along the way. Storms sometime have ways of doing odd things at Fair Park. Finding a way to counter the Bobcats' massive front (and holding Tairrance Sims to less than a hundred yards and a couple of scores) will be the key to this one. If the 'Winds can do that, they'll have a chance of knocking the 'Cats out of their lofty state rankings.

Lubbock Roosevelt, October 6, home: Floydada spoiled the Acuff homecoming 36-34 a year ago, and the Eagles still have their feathers ruffled. They've come to the wrong place to get on a winning track. Little Rene Lopez will have a good outing, but the Birds will land with a thud as the 'Winds tune-up for district play by a couple of touchdowns.

Dimmitt, October 13, home: The Bobcats won't have the offensive punch of last year, but should improve on their 2-8 record (one of their two wins was a 27-6 shocker over Floydada). They'll miss Derrick Thomas, but may be better overall because of more diversity on offense. Chad Ellis, Drew Musick and Charlie Sanders will be the mainstays of Danny Chisum's revamped defense, but the Thomas-less offense won't score the needed points for success on this Friday the 13th District 2-3A opener at Wester.

Public Notice

The Floydada exchange has petitioned for Expanded Toll-Free Local Calling to the Lockney, Lubbock and Plainview exchanges. Expanded Toll-Free Local Calling will allow customers in the Floydada exchange to call and be called (no toll charges) by customers in the requested exchange(s).

On or before September 25, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will mail ballots to all customers in the Floydada exchange. After marking the ballot, customers should sign their name and return the ballot to the Public Utility Commission of Texas. A stamped self addressed envelope will be provided with the ballot.

If approved, all subscribers in the Floydada exchange will be charged an additional monthly per line charge up to $3.50 for residence and $7 for business, for five or fewer exchanges (not $3.50 or $7.00 for each of the first five exchanges). In addition, a monthly fee of $1.50 for each exchange beyond five exchanges applies. This charge is in addition to your local exchange service rates, and will apply until Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's next general rate case, at which time all service rates are subject to change. Note: Exchanges that already have 5 or more added exchanges from previous ELC petition(s) will pay $1.50 per month for each new exchange approved.

Expanded Toll-Free Local Calling will be granted to each exchange with a "Yes" vote from 70% of the people who actually return their ballots. Exchanges that fail to receive a 70% "Yes" vote will not be added to the local calling scope. If all exchanges fail to meet the requirements of the ballot, service will not change and customers will not be billed an additional monthly fee.

The ballot will indicate which, if any, exchanges are in a different Local Access and Transport Area (LATA). These exchanges will require a federal waiver, which may or may not be granted.

The Public Utility Commission has assigned this matter Project Number 14233. Interested persons should direct any comments that they may have about the petition to the Public Utility Commission, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or they may call the Public Utility Commission information office at 512-458-0256 or 512-458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

7. To develop adult assistance for the Floydada FFA Chapter when needed.
8. To help support leadership, skills, judging, and livestock teams in preparing for and participating in contests, competitions, and shows. This support may be for travel expenses, training, or general support.

During the spring and fall of 1994 the FFA Booster Club has helped the Floydada FFA Chapter and the Agriculture Science program by donating funds for the purchase of a 20 foot gooseneck trailer to be used by the FFA program to transport animals to stock shows and by the leadership and skills teams to haul their equipment to contests; by voting to provide funds for help with expenses for FFA members going to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City; and by donating funds for a scholarship for a graduating member of the Floydada FFA Chapter. The 1995 Scholarship was awarded to Amy Waide.

Membership is open to any person who is interested in helping the Floydada FFA Chapter. Meetings are held at the ag department at high school. Memberships are $15.00 per person or per family. Memberships may be paid to Rhonda Guthrie, Rt. 3, Box 139, Floydada, Texas, 79235.

Extension Service closes Soil Lab

By Joe Bryant
After more than 35 years of providing scientifically and economically sound soil testing services to Texas High Plains producers, the South Plains Soil Testing Laboratory of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will close Sept. 1.

The laboratory handles from 8,000 to 12,000 soil and plant samples for crop producers and homeowners each year, said Dr. Michael Hickey, Extension Service soil chemist and director of the facility here. In addition to Hickey, the lab employs an office manager, two technicians and a part-time high school student from the cooperative agriculture program.

"Escalating costs of upgrading and replacing analytical equipment and operating the laboratory, coupled with reductions in state and federal funding, has not been offset by sufficient increase in the number of samples handled," said Dr. James R. Supak, associate head of the department of soil and crop sciences at Texas A&M University.

After Sept. 1, samples from the area now served by the Lubbock facility will be processed at the College Station laboratory. Supak said a 60-day phase down period at the Lubbock lab will allow completion of existing projects, transfer of equipment and closing of the facility. All operations at the facility will end Nov. 1.

Crop producers, ranchers and urban residents sending soil, water or forage samples to College Station will notice little difference in receipt of analyses and reports, Supak said.

The College Station laboratory provides one-day turnaround upon receipt of soil samples; water and forage analyses take about a week.

"For almost four decades, the laboratory at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock has set the standards for sound soil testing services on the High Plains," Supak said. "But it is no longer feasible to equip, maintain and operate state-of-the-art facilities at both Lubbock and College Station."

The Lubbock facility was established in 1959 to serve an area that represents an estimated 43 percent of the state's total agricultural production and 54 percent of its total crop coverage.

Hickey said. The area it served produces 76 percent of the state's wheat, 75 percent of its cotton and 70 percent of its corn, he noted. It has had three directors during its continuous operation: James Valentine, Dr. Dale Pennington and Hickey.

The Lubbock lab was one of the first in the nation to recognize that nitrate nitrogen measurements in soil can be useful nitrogen fertilizer recommendations, and one of the first to incorporate that into sampling and analysis procedures, Hickey said.

"Soil testing techniques for phosphorous used by the A&M laboratories today were developed at Lubbock, in conjunction with scientists of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station," he said.

The lab and the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 evaluated area soil fertility and identified that nitrogen and phosphorus were the nutrients which most limited cotton production on the Southern High Plains. A subsequent educational program initiated by the Lubbock soil chemist, the water district and county Extension agents improved crop fertilization. Together with improved irrigation management and variety selection this reversed the declining cotton production of the Southern High Plains, Hickey said.

For the past six years, Hickey and the Lubbock lab have been developing a cotton petiole monitoring program for area cotton producers, designed to improve the efficiency of nitrogen application.

"The bottom line is, it helps them get better use of their fertilizer and reduces environmental impact," Hickey said.

In conjunction with the Extension Service "Don't Bag It" lawn care program to reduce urban yard trash, Hickey and the Lubbock lab initiated a "Don't Bag It Soil Test Program" for urban residents. "It is designed to reduce the potential for urban environmental impact," Hickey said. The program has since been adopted by Oklahoma State University.

The lab has been working with irrigators to identify salinity problems in center pivot systems. It is involved in a cooperative program with the water district to quantify the extent and impact of that problem and find ways to alleviate it. For several years the lab has worked with the oil industry in reclaiming salt-affected soils.

Grain Sorghum Board seats open

Texas producers who grow grain sorghum have an opportunity this year to run for a seat on the Texas Grain Sorghum Board. Anyone who produces grain sorghum in Texas or who owns a farm in Texas on which grain sorghum is produced is eligible to vote in the election or to serve as a director on the board.

The fifteen member board administers the checkoff funds which are collected on grain sorghum grown in the state. An assessment of 16 cents per ton is collected and used to fund programs for research, insect and disease control, education and promotion of Texas grain sorghum.

Members of the Texas Grain Sorghum Board represent every grain sorghum producing region in Texas. Under the assessment program, the state is divided into five districts having three representatives to the board. Directors are elected for terms of up to six years.

In this year's election, five directors will be elected to the board; one each from the West Texas district, the Central Texas district, the Panhandle district, the Coastal district and the Valley district.

To be listed on the ballot, a prospective director must submit a nomination form certifying that he or she resides in the district to be represented and will be willing to serve if elected. The nomination form must be signed by the nominee and ten other eligible voters who also reside in the district the person is seeking to represent. The forms may be obtained from the Texas Grain Sorghum Board office by calling (806)298-4501. Deadline for returning the completed form is October 11.

Ballots will be mailed to all eligible voters. Ballots can also be obtained from Texas Agricultural Extension Service county offices and from local grain elevators. To be counted in the election, ballots must be mailed to TGSB office, postmarked no later than midnight November 17.

Contracts awarded on base operations for the Boll Weevil Diapause Program

By Shawn Wade
Contracts were awarded on four of the five base operations expected to be utilized during the 1995 High Plains Enhanced Boll Weevil Diapause Program. Award of the aerial spray contracts was completed Wednesday, August 30.

Contracts were awarded for base operations in Post, Seminole, Lamesa and Big Spring. According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers the successful bids ranged from $5.20 to $4.90 per gallon of chemical applied.

The following is a list of the successful bidders and the base unit from which they will operate:

Post Unit - Payne Flying Service, Katy, Tx Seminole Unit - Kubin Air, Bovina, TX.

Lamesa Unit - Hogg Flying Service, Lamesa, TX

Big Spring Unit - Southwest Spraying, Clovis, NM

Crosbyton Unit - Not Yet Awarded

The awarding of the aerial contracts sets the stage for the 1995 program to begin spraying operation around September 26. Already field maps and trap lines are being readied for the effort which is set to fight the boll weevil in some 2 million acres of cotton.

All aircraft used on the program will be equipped with a parallel-swatch guidance system from Satloc, Inc., of Casa Grande, Arizona. Satloc's satellite-based global positioning system (GPS) was specified as a requirement for the 1995 contract to provide record-keeping and tracking functions for program operations.

Trap catches are on the rise throughout the area as migrating weevils renew their yearly push onto the High Plains. Five mild winters in a row have allowed the pest to get a foothold above the Caprock threatening cotton in many counties that have historically never seen any type of weevil activity before.

PCG's Enhanced Program, approved overwhelmingly by producer referendum last April and backed by the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, is expected to treat up to five million aggregate acres for diapausing boll weevils in 1995.

The goal of the 1995 program is to reduce overall weevil numbers prior to their entering overwintering habitat, reducing the number that could survive the winter and still have the potential to reinfest cotton in 1996.

The 1995 Plains Ginner's Association Annual Meeting will be held Saturday September 9, beginning at 9:00 a.m. The meeting will be held at the Civic Center Holiday Inn in the University Ballroom.

FFA members vie at summer shows

The Floydada FFA advisor that helps these kids throughout the summer and the school year is Mark Standlee. Mr. Standlee and their parents work a lot of long hard hours during the summer helping them get their animals ready to show and being there to support them during the shows.

Floydada FFA Steer and swine show team members have competed at several summer livestock shows. They have worked extremely hard all summer and learned a lot, but most of all, they have had a great time. The summer shows give the competitors an opportunity to meet FFA and 4-H members from other towns and their families.

Cattle trade between Texas and Mexico proceeds despite drought south of border

By Mark McCormick, President
Cattle trade between Texas and Mexico proceeds despite a drought south of the border and a weak Mexican economy. But beginning Sept. 1, 1995 Mexico must meet specific livestock health regulations to continue shipping cattle to Texas. Since the early 1990s animal health officials have been concerned about tuberculosis-infected Mexican cattle entering Texas and the United States. "They (Mexico) have the financial support from the federal and state governments, plus the cattle ranchers are funding a large part of the cleanup program themselves," said McCormick, Floyd County Farm Bureau.

McCormick, a cattle producer from Floydada, said Mexican cattle ranchers realize the importance of entering the U.S. market with their product. "They realize that if they don't clean up the market from tuberculosis-infected cattle then that market with Texas and the U.S. will be closed," McCormick said. According to the Texas Animal Health Commission, the most intensive issue is a veterinary infrastructure necessary to schedule TB testing and new epidemiological work. TAHC officials believe the Mexican border states, for the most part, will comply with the new requirements by the Sept. 1 deadline. But uncertainty still surrounds what type of action, if any, will be taken by Mexico's interior states.

JANICE AND JERRELL BRASHEAR

Brashears to hold concert

LOCKNEY -- Janice and Jerrel Brashear from Russellville, Arkansas will be singing at Grace Fellowship Church in Lockney on September 10, at 11:00 a.m.

The Brashears are not strangers by any means to making personal appearances. Singing since 1972, they sing over 300 dates a year all across the United States and Canada. They are regulars on TV programs, such as "Sing out America", "Evangelistic Outreach", "That Good Old Gospel Music", and others. They can also be heard on such radio programs as "Gospel Crossroads", and "Gospel Greats", along with others across the country.

Janice writes many of the songs they sing and have recorded. Some of Janice's songs have been recorded by such notables as "The Happy Goodman Family", "The Hoppers", Canada's "Chrystalaires", and others.

In their concerts Janice plays the 88-key electric piano, while Jerrel sings with CD sound tracks, with the rest of their family doing the back-up vocals on the CD. Even though there are only two people, you still hear the full group, full band sound.

Jerrel writes for a nationally distributed magazine, "The Gospel Voice", from Nashville, Tennessee. He has a great heritage in the gospel music field, as part of his family were Stamps, from the original Stamps-Baxter Music Company.

Pastor Ted R. Samples extends to all of you a special invitation to the concert at 211 North Main, featuring Southern/Christian country gospel music. Please ask all of your friends to come. EVERYONE IS WELCOME!

A free will offering will be taken for the Brashears during their concert. Their tapes will also be on sale at the concert.

Revival to be led by Wachobs

REV. AND MRS. GLENN WACHOB

FLOYDADA - Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Wachob of Floydada will be conducting a three-day revival at the First Assembly of God church, 714 W. Missouri Street, in Floydada. The services will be held this coming Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:00 p.m. with the Sunday services at 10:45 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.

Rev. Wachob, originally from Pennsylvania, attended Valley Forge Christian College of the Assemblies of God in Phoenixville, Pennsylvania. He is also a graduate of RHEMA Bible Training Center in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

He has pastored churches in Pennsylvania and is the former pastor of Trinity Church of Floydada. He has traveled throughout several states ministering in churches, campmeetings, Full Gospel Business Mens Fellowships and Women Aglow meetings.

Wachob's preaching has a distinct Pentecostal flavor, with emphasis on the integrity of God's Word, as he presents Jesus Christ as Saviour, Healer and Deliverer. His messages to the Body of Christ are timely and seasonal.

Pastor Vance Mitchell and the congregation of First Assembly of God welcomes everyone to join them for a refreshing move of the Holy Spirit during these services.
