The group is supported financially in their lawsuit by other farmers around the South Plains, including Floyd County.

The law firm of Owen, Lyle, Voss and Owen have been hired to represent the group in the lawsuit.

At a meeting in Plainview, Monday, September 4, Kevin Igo, a spokesman for the group, told about 150 producers from Hale and other acre. counties that it could cost about $100,000 to take the suit through the Texas Supreme Court, if that becomes necessary. According to Igo, area farmers contributed over half that amount at the meeting.

The Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation divided the state, into eradication zones and held an areawide referendum covering the High Plains zone on April 15, 1995.

The resulting assessment came to $1.25 an acre plus .0075¢ per pound on Hale County Farmers. According to Igo, many Hale County farmers feel the only reason Hale County was brought into the Zone was because of its high cotton yields and the resultant high assessments.

According to one Floyd County farmer, who wishes to not be identified, "We feel like we have been deceived. We were under the impression when we voted on the issue that it was for the whole state of Texas. Many of the zones in the state haven't even voted on the program, yet the Eradication Foundation has already assessed the zones who have.

Another complaint toward the Foundation by area producers was the manner in which the assessment is collected. According to the Texas Agriculture Code, assessments would be made on the product sales. However, producers are told to pay by July 15 or face a $25.00 fine per

"Many of us can't pay until our crops are sold," said a Floyd County man. "They are making these cotton assessments based on the amount of cotton certified, through ASCS, to be grown."

At the meeting held in Plainview Monday, several producers voiced the fear that the spraying program could also kill beneficial insects and subsequently destroy the cotton.

Another complaint in the lawsuit is that the referendum appears to lack any guarantee that keep these assessments from being permanent.

Several meetings were held with the foundation before the lawsuit was filed and the Foundation proposed to lower the assessment to $1.25 an acre plus .0042 in Hale County only, which would have saved Hale County producers about $385,000. This proposal was rejected by the group because they felt it should be re-evaluated for everybody.

The foundation also is organizing a 60-member committee (two representatives from each of 30 counties in the High Plains) to investigate apporpossibility of creating in the next Legislature a new zone consisting of the northern counties of the current High Plains Zone.

According to a September 8 story in the Plainview Daily Herald, Frank Meyers, executive director of the Foundation said, "We're generally disappointed that a small group of growers is attempting to stop a program that has the potential for benefits to the High Plains and general cotton industry. We have attempted to resolve this issue. We held a public hearing in Lubbock and several meetings with growers in that area trying to resolve it. It's just disappointing that we've had to come to this.

"On the issue of constitutionality, the attorney general has given us his opinion that assessing on the basis other than sales is legal."

STATEWIDE ERADICATION EFFORTS

According to the July issue of Texas Farmer Stockman, "growers in the El Paso/Trans Pecos zone have not approved a plan and don't intend to. They don't have boll weevils."

The Blacklands zone has also not approved an eradication program yet. According to Farmer Stockman, "the blacklands grain sorghum and cotton producers are trying to raise funds to hire an executive director, who would spearhead their efforts to approve their referendum.

The St. Lawrence zone cotton growers approved the referendum, but specified that assessments would be made through sales. Full eradication is set to begin in the spring of

Jail compliance procedures approved by commissioners

By Juanita Stepp

Floyd County Commissioners agreed to suggestions by Sheriff Royce Gilmore and County Judge Bill Hardin which would bring the Floyd County Jail into compliance with standards set by the Texas Jail Standards Commission at a September 11 meeting. The TJSC found several deficiencies during an inspection earlier this year.

According to Gilmore, some of the problem areas have been taken care of and some are currently being worked on. He pointed out that the lack of water pressure in the jail has been corrected and is no longer a problem.

Judge Hardin told the court that the malfunctioning fire alarm system is due for replacement in the near future which would bring that area into compliance with state wishes. Gilmore added that the air packs reguired by the state have been ordered and will be placed on each floor as required when they arrive. The jail currently has only one air pack and it is located downstairs.

Difficulties in maintaining adequate staffing of jailers was also discussed by the court and the Sheriff. Gilmore explained that the state requires a fulltime jailer on the third floor if the jail population on that floor is ten or above.

"As long as we only have nine or less, the jailer on the ground floor can cover the third floor too," said Gilmore. "When we get more prison- August. Payment of monthly bills ers than that, the state says we have to was approved and several budget have a jailer on duty on the third floor amendments were authorized. Com-24 hours a day.'

He told the court that the average jail population over the month of August was 19, three more than allowed with one jailer on duty. The maximum at any one time in August limit for one jailer coverage.

Judge Hardin told the commissioners that he and Sheriff Gilmore were asking that the court authorize the possible hiring of part-time jailers.

"We would have to pay the cost of their forty hour school in order to get them certified, but they could work part-time when needed at an hourly rate of $6.25," said Hardin. "This would alleviate the need for additional fulltime employees."

Gilmore indicated that he knew of at least two people interested in working on a part-time basis and felt that another two or three would not be too difficult to find. He added that this method of staffing would allow the county to house prisoners without turning to an outside facility which would charge on a daily basis for each prisoner and which would require the services of a deputy to transport.

The court agreed to try the suggestion rather than jump into hiring additional full-time personnel.

Members of the court also approved the orders authorizing the appointment of deputies under the new sheriff. Motion to approve John Meador, Jon White, Shane Dollar, Pam Meador and Linda Edwards as deputies was made by Precinct 2 Commissioner Lennie Gilroy. Precinct 4 Commission Jon Jones seconded and all voted in favor.

Other items handled by the court included the reading of minutes from meetings for May, June, July and missioners also approved the transfer of $10,000.00 from Road & Bridge funds into each precinct by September 30 for a total transfer of

$40,000.00. Reports from elected officials who was 26 prisoners, a full ten over the collect fines and fees were reviewed Continued On Page 2

It's times like this that I wish I had a T-shirt like the one Clar Schacht was wearing on the big football day. You know which football day I'm talking about-the one that is more important than the Super Bowl or getting to go to State. It's the COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP! (Coaches in Floyd County learn they can lose all year long but all will be forgiven if they can just beat Floydada or Lockney!)

Anyway Clar wore a T-shirt Friday that was half red and half green. On the front it said "Lockdada" on one line and under it was the word, 'Longwinds." The words were super imposed on a picture of a Whirlwind with long horns. On the back of the shirt, it said, "The Floyney Whirlhorns" (our picture of it did not come

Clar is in the same predicament as me and a lot of other county businesses. They have customers and friends in both towns. These businesses spend a lot of time and effort trying to get the two towns to work together-which they will until the BIG GAME (The Friends of Floyd County organization is a perfect example of this).

Clar got away with wearing the Tshirt in Floydada until the game started. Then it didn't matter if he was a former Longhorn fan. The fact of the matter was his daughter goes to a Floydada school and she would have DIED OF EMBARRASSMENT if he had worn anything with red on it.

I'm supposed to be a supporter of both towns—but the fact of the matter is my son goes to Lockney schools and he would have DIED OF EM-BARRASSMENT if I had worn work on Monday, but it wasn't near as much fun as I thought it would be. Everyone I talked to in Floydada were very nice about their loss. I heard things like, "Lockney deserved to win"; or "Lockney played a great game", or "It was Lockney's turn for a change-but wait until next year!"

I debated even commenting on the game because what I know about football you could fit on the head of a pin. But I do know it was a very exciting game! There were times I felt the Lockney fans just shouted the team right over the goal line. They knew their team was fighting hard and if they could help by shouting then they would.

Coach Moerbe and his staff did an unbelievable job of turning the game around after halftime. It seemed like a whole new team with a whole new strategy came out of the locker room.

Before halftime the Whirlwinds always seemed one step ahead of Lockney. It didn't seem to matter what the Longhorns did there was always a Whirlwind standing there before him waiting for the play. It was getting very depressing and I know the Longhorns were getting discouraged-but they didn't give up and the coaches and the players deserve all

The win was wonderful and so were the fans reactions. When we drove into Lockney after the game there were two fire trucks and a police car lined up at the Hwy. 70 exit with their sirens on, welcoming everyone

I don't know how long the line of cars drove up and down Main Street honking their horns. It was great!

I felt bad for Coach Davis. I heard him on the radio after the game and I thought he wsa being too hard on himself. He was very upset about his call right at half time when the Longhorns intercepted the ball and later got a touchdown, making the score 20-7 at the end of halftime.

He seemed to think that the call turned the momentum around and gave Lockney the boost they needed.

Now I know my opinion doesn't count for anything but it doesn't stop me from having one. Most Monday morning quarterbacks don't know anything about the game but they always have an opinion.

I think Coach Davis and Coach Moerbe both did a wonderful job. Davis and the Whirlwinds had the Longhorns on the run. The Whirlwinds outsmarted them at every turn, but I think at halftime Coach Moerbe got the players pumped up and refocused. The strategies changed and Moerbe and the Longhorns started outsmarting the Whirlwinds.

It was like two different games were played with four different

My hat is off to both teams, the coaches and the fans.

> Denise Doucette and her husband, Jim, came to the game and sat in front of us. She said she had never been to a Lockney-Floydada game before and every time she said, "We need one more touchdown-Lockney got

The other lucky charm was a very friendly man by the name of Slick Stennett. He was wearing a hat that he says was one of the original Longhorn hats from the mid 60's when Coach Jack Tayrien was the coach. He said he wore the hat because the Longhorns used to beat Floydada all the time back then and he figured it would help if he wore it again.

He was also blowing a steer horn with a Longhorn painted on it (which he kept accidentally clunking on my son's head). He said he had been blowing that horn since 1966. Coach Tayrien painted the Longhorn on the horn and also painted the first Longhorn on the water tower. He thought they were all good luck charms. I

Thanks Longhorns and Whirlwinds for a great night of football.

So now Mr. Packwood is going...away, we hope. And good rid-

On the one hand, we think there was an awful lot of hypocrisy involved in the Packwood case, from beginning to end, but nevertheless we are happy to see him go. For that dwindling band of Republican liberals in the U.S. Senate, he has always been an embarrassment to those who have tried, and are still trying, to make a home for conservatives in the Republican Party. The national press has delighted in pointing out that Packwood, who called himself a Republican, was the first to introduce legislation giving women the "right to choose" whether they could legally abort their baby, he was among the first and continuing champions of Roe vs. Wade and various other issues exceedingly attractive blonde who important to that rag-tag band of had evidently had too much to drink femininnies scattered across the political landscape. But he evidently had his own notions of how a "liberated" woman was supposed to act, as well as his own notions of how a U.S. Senator should act. And he forgot that he was not a Kennedy in government. In the end he gave the other senators a lesson in practical politics: If you are not a Kennedy, don't try to act like one and expect to get away with it.

He was, and is, a lout, a cad. He is not, in our view, the kind of person one hopes a son will grow up to be.

We've only met Mr. Packwood once. We remember it well, not because Mr. Packwood left such a memorable impression, but because he and a TV reporter named Dan Rather were in the company of an

and was worried about a peculiar situation. Nixon had just been elected. There were "Presidential Balls" going on all across town following the inauguration. Texans had a suite in some hotel lost in memory. In fact they had several suites. Packwood had just been elected to the Senate. It was in January of 1969. He and Rather were making the rounds. They came by the suite, introducing themselves. Rather, I knew. Packwood, I didn't. I had run Mr. Nixon's campaign in Texas and was some kind of "lead horse" in our suite. So we talked, or tried to. But the girl was concerned about a story she had just heard on the radio. It seems someone had fallen out of an airplane, fell 3,000 feet, and survived. She just couldn't get over it. She insisted on talking about it. Rather would roll his eyes. Packwood seemed interested. Like maybe if the girl was that nutty there might be some promise here. They finally left, she still worrying about the guy who fell out of the airplane. I was glad to see them go. So Packwood entered the Senate with no real expectations from me. In that regard we were not disappointed.

He never amounted to much, other than being a thorn in the side of rational people. The Senate, and the country, will be better served by someone else, anyone else.

Now the Senate Ethics Committee, having disposed of the Packwood matter, can turn its attention to the Chappaquiddick matter, and to Ted Kennedy, another champion of oppressed people everywhere. It has no authority to act in the Clinton matter. (The people will have to judge that in the next election.) It also has no authority to look into the Gary Stubbs matter, or the Barney Franks matter. That's over in the other body.

The language of the franchise was changed. J.D. Copeland made the motion to extend the franchise and the second was made by Tina Graves.

The Mackenzie Water Authority budget was presented to the council for review. Hooten reported that the payment to the water authority had been lowered because the city is using their wells to partially supply water to the residents. The payment was reduced to $11,047.00 and in October will increase to $11,922.0.

The council agreed to advertise for bids on a new sewer cleanout machine. J.D. Copeland made the motion and the second was made by Rodger Stapp. The old cleanout machine had served its usefulness and the new machine has been added to the budget for the coming year.

A drive-up window for city hall was discussed and will be put on the agend at a later date after information and prices can be gathered. The council members agreed that it would be a help to be able to pay bills without getting out of the car.

Catholic Family Services, Inc., an extension of the Catholic Diocese in Lubbock, had requested that they be allowed to use the Lockney Community Center free of charge for their weekly meetings. After some discussion the council decided that they

In honor of the grandmothers, they were escorted to their seats by the groom.

CAT Insurance reminder given by Floyd County FSA

Crop insurance for 1996 will again be required for participation in all USDA programs. September 30, 1995 is the final sales closing date for small grain insurance. It is also the final date to cancel small grain insurance at any of the private agencies or through this office. For a cancellation to be effective, a written notification must be received by close of business September 30, 1995. If you do not cancel your insurance coverage, it will automatically renew at the same level as you purchased in 1995.

If you have CAT for any crop through this office, we will need your proof of production for all crops insured, so that your 1996 APH can be established.

Crop insurance is not available for all crops. In order to protect producers with hay, forage crops, vegetables, ect., the new insurance program provides NAP.

Payments can be made only when an area-wide disaster occurs. The area must have suffered a 35% or greater loss, the acreage must be timely cer tified, and a ASCS-574 must be filed within 15 days of the disaster. Unlike the old, after-the-fact disaster programs, producers must file an acreage report before the local deadline, or they will not qualify for NAP benefits no matter how severe the disas-

ASCS-574, Request for Acreage/ Disaster Credit, must be filed within 15 days of the date of damage if you have a crop that fails because of adverse weather conditions, or other natural disaster conditions. If you have CAT insurance through this office, you only have 72 hours to report the damage. All crops that have a low yield will need to file an ASCS-574 for low yield.

If you have any questions concerning the CAT insurance program or other insurance programs contact the Floyd County Farm Service Agency or your local insurance agent.

Now to correct the first week glitches! No, North Texas State did not play Virginia and Kansas. Virginia's opponent should have been North Carolina State. We did not count that game toward the contest scoring.

The official entry blank was missing the four numbers for the final two games on the contest, so we did not consider those in the scoring either. Next week will played their first game Thursday defensive struggle with neither team finding the end zone in the first half. Floydada found the end zone in the fourth quarter with a 9-yard scamper. The 2-point conversion was foiled by

Bill's Fearless 1995 Football Forecast (?)

Littlefield, October 20, away: Predicted by almost every poll except Ross Perot's to walk through District 2-3A a year ago, a funny thing happened to the Wildcats on their way to the playoffs. A tie with Shallowater and a 35-21 loss to Friona kept the 'Cats in their own litterbox during the post-season party. Although Coach Boomer says they're rebuilding this year...we all know that Littlefield never rebuilds, they just reload. Nifty Michael Benton returns after gaining All-State honors and rushing for over 2,000 yards. If the Wildcats can manage to go unscathed through a non-district schedule which includes back-to-back tilts with 4A clubs (Canyon and Lamesa), the remaining district teams might as well be content to fighting it out for the #2 playoff spot. In an off year the 'Cats are difficult to whip at home. In a good year...well, the 'Winds proved they could win at Littlefield in '93. My heart tells me to go with Floydada in this one, but...

Muleshoe, October 27, home: The Mules come to Wester for this Punkin' Days - Halloween weekend party, and will have some tricks on their minds. The treats, however, will have a Floydada flavor for the home crowd. Talented Muleshoe receiver, Daniel Garbarino, will be joined by a couple of seniors, Jake Adair and Alferedo Gonzales, who missed last season due to injuries. The 'Winds have had little trouble with the Mules in recent years, and there's no reason to believe that trend shouldn't continue. The 'Winds by 15 points in a pretty good ball game.

Shallowater, November 3, home: The Mustangs made their presence known last year in their move from Class 2A to 3A by capturing the #2 playoff spot behind district champ Friona. They lost a bunch due to graduation, but have a lot returning, including talented receiver Jay Lusk. Rangy receiver Cole Roberts (6-5, 210) will be an impact player if Coach Kitchens is able to develop a replacement for departed QB Dereck Blair. This game's outcome will have a strong influence on the post-season teams of the district. Floydada corrals the Mustangs by 6 to set up a playoff showdown next week with the defending district champs. Friona, November 10, away: The Chieftains were in the playoffs for the first time in almost a decade last year. They backed into their first district title in 29 years in 1994's season finale at Wester (thanks, in part, to a couple of controversial 4th quarter calls). District 2-3A's playoff representatives have been determined by the final game in seven of the past ten years, and 1995 will not be an exception. The Chieftains will have a young team this year, but by this time of the season they'll be pretty competitive However, being just competitive won't grab a playoff spot in this tough

3A district. A loss sends the Whirlwinds turning in their football gear.

A win sends the 'Winds packing for a

Bi-District return engagement with Childress. I know where I'll be on November 17.

That's right, I'm forecasting a 7-3 campaign for the Whirlwinds, which would be a nice turnaround from the 3-7 of a year ago. A lot of things will have to happen for the 'Winds to achieve such success...keeping people eligible and healthy, development of younger people in critical roles, outstanding efforts from experienced players, and... a lot of luck. Good teams are able to capitalize on the breaks, so one really shouldn't refer to it as "luck." But, a little bit of luck never hurts anyone. Let's just hope that 1995 sees the Whirlwinds at least getting their fair share.

FHS Freshmen upend Slaton

By Bill Gray Floydada's 9th Grade Whirlwinds opened their season in grand fashing by defeating Slaton 16-8 at Idalou last week. Michael Black's 8-yard TD run and Dusty Duke's reception of the conversion pass from Cody Stovall were the only points in the first half in the defensive struggle.

Slaton tied the score at 8-all in the third period, but a fourth quarter TD scamper of 17 yards by Keith Collins and the subsequent extra points by 5:30 P.M.

Gabriel Rodriquez gave the 'Winds their final margin of victory.

Named by the coaches as the outstanding players of the game were: Cory Kirk, defensive linebacker; Chris Sanchez, offensive lineman; Martin Suarez, offensive back; and Joel Santos, defensive lineman.

The Freshmen Whirlwinds will host Brownfield's 9th Graders at Wester Field on September 14. Kickoff is at

Longhorns rally to capture county

The Lockney Longhorns overcame a 20-0 Floydada lead to pull out a 34-20 victory over the Whirlwinds at Wester Field on September 8. The Longhorn victory snapped an 8-year winning streak by Floydada in the annual "Floyd County Championship" series.

The Whirlwinds totally dominated the first two quarters of play as they scored on their first possession barely four minutes into the game. Zack Abshier capped a 67-yard drive by scoring from a yard out, and added the point-after kick. Floydada's defense held the visitors to "three and out," and the Whirlwind's quickly added their second score early in the second period with Abshier again scoring off the option from the 3 yard

Floydada's powerful running game continued to roll up big yardage, with Ramon McCann, Andy Young and Vernon Cooper carrying the bulk of the load. Abshier connected on a 9yard TD toss to J.J. Ysasaga late in the second period to give the Whirlwinds what appeared to be a commanding lead. The first 23 minutes of the game saw the Whirlwinds in control with over 230 yards of total offense and 14 first downs. At this point of the contest, the 'Wind defense had limited the Longhorns to less than 40 yards offense and just three first downs.

The momentum of the game changed entirely just moments before halftime. Floydada defender Vernon Cooper picked off a Shannon Veal aerial, but Devon Phillip's 40-yard return following an interception of an Abshier pass gave the 'Horns their best field position of the first half. One play later Veal hit Charles VanZandt with a 6-yard TD strike as the halftime horn sounded. Joe Marks added the conversion to solidify the momentum change for the Longhorns.

The second half, and, ultimately, the remainder of the game belonged to Lockney. Phillips cashed in for the Longhorns' second touchdown in the waning seconds of the third quarter, then made the defensive play of the game on the ensuing kickoff.

Phillips crashed through defenders and caused a fumble as the 'Winds were attempting a "starburst" return of the kickoff. He recovered the loose ball for the 'Horns at the Floydada 12yard line. Veal then tossed a perfect strike to Jarrod Clark deep in the southwest corner of the end zone. Marks' PAT kick was blocked, but the score was knotted at 20-all to begin the fourth quarter.

The Longhorns continued to capitalize on Floydada miscues. Carson Johnson recovered Floydada's third fumble of the evening, which was followed by Joe Marks' 48-yard scamper deep into scoring territory. Phillips gave the Longhorns their first lead of the game with a 4-yard TD run. Marks' perfect PAT extended the visitors' lead to 27-20 with 8:39 remaining in the final period.

With time running out, the Whirlwinds attempted a fake punt at the halfway mark of the quarter, but Ramon McCann's attempt came up a couple of yards short of the critical first down. Lockney took possession at Floydada's 38-yard line. It took the Longhorns just seven plays to add an insurance touchdown. Marks carried the last two yards and added the conversion for the final margin of vic-

The Whirlwinds will attempt to regroup for a tough road assignment when they meet Brownfield this Friday. The Cubs also dropped their season opener (to Littlefield by 35-14). Lockney will host Petersburg, a 15-0 victor over Crosbyton last week.

BILL'S NOTES

Congratulations to Coach Moerbe and the Longhorns for one heck of a comeback. A lesser team would have folded their tents and gone home after the first 23 minutes. The 'Horns certainly displayed a lot of composure and discipline to hang in there, and it paid off. Good luck, 'Horns for the rest of the season.

The 'Winds looked awfully good those Lockney 0 7 7 20 - 34 first two quarters, especially in such an emotional game. They are still a pretty young team, but have already shown some of their explosive potential. They'll do nothing but get better, and deserve all the support we can give them.

My choice for offensive player of the game goes to Lockney's fine sophomore running back, Devon Phillips. He's a sure bet for All-District and possible other post-season honors. My selection for defensive player of the game is a toss-up between Whirlwind newcomer Ramon McCann and the other Longhorn "supersoph," Charles VanZandt. Richard Powell and another 'Wind newcomer, Andy Young, also had good defensive outings. My offensive play of the game goes to Joe Mark's fine 48-yard run, which set up Lockney's go ahead score in the 4th quarter. (Note, I really hate to hand out so many of my game superlatives to the opposition... so, Whirlwinds...get going against those Cubs, and I'll be able to mention only members of the Green Gang in this part of my column next week). And, speaking of the Cubs, I still stick by my pre-season pic by saying it will be payback time at Brownfield this week. The 'Winds WILL play more than two quarters of good ball tomorrow as they take the Cubs by a touchdown. Bill's other Comments By Coach Bryan Davis You've got to give Lockney a lot of credit. Those kids didn't quit when we had them down by 20 points in the first half. That's the sign of a good coach, a good staff and a good football team. We had the momentum early in the game, and I take full responsibility for the change in events just before halftime. The call I made backfired, and Lockney was able to capitalize on it. We don't have an experienced enough LHS - Charles VanZandt 6 pass from ball club to overcome something like that. They (Lockney) came out in the second half and still had the momentum, and we couldn't get anything going. Any time it looked as though we might be able to turn things back our way, we would have a turnover or penalty.

> I told our young men after the game that I was very proud of the way they played. They played hard, and if their head coach hadn't made the bad decision right before the half, they probably would have won the game. We, as coaches and players, have got to learn from our mistakes, bounce back and get things going.

> This is a very important game at Brownfield this week. We've got to see how well we're able to regroup and respond after such a tough loss. If we can put four quarters together like our first half against Lockney, we can play with anybody on our schedule. We've got to work hard and keep our heads up. We'll see our true character here this next week.

> We want to thank our fans for their strong support, and hope they continue such support with a good turnout at Brownfield.

LOCKNEY--Friday night we learned early how Custer felt. But luckily for us, toward the end of the game we found out how the Indians felt. Being down 20-0 early is certainly not how we wanted to start the season. But our players hung in there, took advantage of some breaks, and brought the trophy home.

The leadership and calming effect of our returning Lettermen played a huge part in our victory. Seventeen of our 26 players have no varsity experience, so the play of our veterans was crucial. A lot of our young players grew up during the game and showed why we are counting on them so heavily.

Your furnace needs an annual check-up.

Your natural gas furnace has been sitting quietly all summer, waiting for the time it's really needed. And like anything that's been idle a while, your furnace needs a check-up before it starts back to work. You may want to check with your landlord or apartment manager about arranging for an annual inspection by a qualified professional heating contractor. Once it's been inspected, your furnace should require very little attention the rest of the winter.

A closet isn't always a closet. Your water heater or furnace is probably in a closet all by itself. And that's the way it should stay. As tempting as it may be, don't use the space around a water heater or furnace for storage. Even if these major appliances sit in the open, the space around them should be kept clear to insure adequate air circulation.

We hope that you will never have to deal with a gas leak. If you do smell gas, day or night, exit the building then call your local Energas office immediately. Do not flip light switches or use any other electrical equipment. Do not light a match or a candle. Do not try to find the leak yourself.

Nitrate levels can become a concern in the haygrazer/sorghum/millet type forages that are being harvested or grazed at this time. The prevailing hot, dry weather conditions over the past several weeks have been conducive to nitrate accumulation. The cool. overcast conditions we have experienced the past several days are not going to alleviate the problem.

Nitrates accumulate because of a lack of moisture, sunlight, or temperature, limit the plant's ability to metabolize nitrates in amino acids and protein. This problem occurs on both fertilized and unfertilized forages.

Nitrogen fertilization will enhance the problem because of the increased quantity of nitrogen available to the plant. Plants such as pigweeds, tumbleweeds and johnson grass are nitrate accumulators and can be a source of toxicity. Nitrates will not disappear once a plant is cut and baled.

is prussic acid or cyanide poisoning in the sorghum-type forages. The problem will be seen in new growth that is initiated after the improved growing conditions.

The primary concern is with grazing livestock. Prussic acid will disappear once the forage is cut for hay. If problems arise with grazing cattle, be sure to determine whether the problem is from nitrates or prussic acid.
