Attendance on the rise

"See You At The Pole" attracts area youth

Submitted by Marlon Pritchard
Wednesday morning, September 20, was a very exciting morning as students and adults gathered around the flag pole all across the nation to pray.

An awesome group of people met that morning in Floydada to pray. Two hundred and seventy three people gathered in Floydada, representing a 57% increase over last year's attendance.

R.C. Andrews had 73 children, teachers and parents praying and reading scripture around it's flagpole. The Junior High had a great group of 63 teenagers, teachers and parents praying for their school campus.

Seventy-seven High School students, teachers and parents showed up for the SYATP prayer time.

That morning there were 60 adults who met around the courthouse flagpole to pray for our schools, city, county and country.

"I thought SYATP was to pray for teachers, friends, coaches and to bring people closer to God," said Tyrel Fuller. "Yes, it did happen and it was worth going to. Some of my friends were there not just because I wanted them to be there. And, there was a lot of participation in some of the kids and I think they enjoyed it too."

"It was just wonderful seeing our age students leading out in prayer and reading from the Bible and not being afraid to share the fact they are Christians and that they are concerned about their fellow students," said Donna Henderson.

"See You At The Pole" was very enjoyable because all of our friends could talk to God together," said Tim Rando. "It also gave us strength as Christians to live better lives."

"This is the largest group that we have had to pray around the flag pole at the courthouse," said Rev. Howell Farnsworth. "The group also was from all areas of our community. We are grateful for the prayers for our community leaders and our young people that were voiced last Wednesday morning at "See You At The Pole."

"What a beautiful sight it was last Wednesday," said Rev. Clark Williams, "when over 30 students gathered around the flagpole at Floydada Junior High to pray, sing, read the Bible, and enjoy their friendships. I'm proud to be associated with the fine Christian youth of our city. I believe the future is in good hands—praying hands."

"I thought it was great," said Justin McGuire. "I think we need to have it more than once a year to show our support for bringing prayer back into school."

"It thought it was better than last year," said Zan Daniels. "I felt we got closer to God. People need to get more involved in the SYATP next year."

"I liked 'See You At The Pole', said Randi Duke, "because it was good for youth. Everybody had a better day because they knew somebody was watching over them."

"It was a wonderful experience for all of us," said Ruth Vasquez. "I enjoyed the scriptures read and felt a sense of peace that all the churches were praying. I was happy to see twice as many kids at 'See You At The Pole' this year."

"It is exciting to see so many students involved in 'See You At The Pole', said Ellen Enriquez. "It is encouraging to see Christian action in 1995. It is when we come together as a community for events like 'See You At The Pole' that I feel we are truly 'One Nation Under God'!"

"Prayer is a great way to start the day. It becomes even more special when the students whom you have given too—give back in the best way possible—which is through their love, care and prayer."

Work on Cable will halt service for period of time

FLOYDADA—TCA Cable TV of Plainview will be in Floydada rebuilding their system beginning on September 30.

During that time the cable will be disconnected while equipment is replaced.

Work will begin on Houston Street through Mae Ave, and will last from 6 weeks to 2 months.

"This will enable us to add new channels and improve picture quality," said General Manager Pete Strom. "We appreciate your patience and want to apologize for any inconvenience."

"Daddy Coaches" help boost athlete's grades

By Alice Gilroy

In many schools the traditional battle between academics and athletics shows itself in the conflicts between teachers striving for academic excellence in lieu of sports and coaches pushing for athletic excellence with little regard to academics.

In Lockney High School the two are just part of another Longhorn team with coaches and teachers working toward excellence in both. The effort is seen best through the "Daddy Coaches" program.

In it's second year the program was started in LISD by Athletic Director Malcom Moerbe. He patterned it after the Daddy Coaches program he was introduced to while working in Alice, Texas.

According to Moerbe, each of Lockney's five assistant coaches have been assigned 10-11 varsity athletes. Throughout the year these coaches will be surrogate daddys while the young men spend their time away from home, in school and training, and in the care of these coaches. "At the beginning of the year a coach will get the schedules of each of the athletes assigned to him," said Moerbe. "The coach will introduce himself to the teachers and let the teachers know that the coach will be there to help the teacher and the student through any problems in class."

"The teachers know who to go to if a student is having trouble with a subject or even if the student might have a discipline problem one day."

"The students also know to come to the coaches if they need help. For instance an athlete may ask a coach, 'How am I doing in Science class', and the coach will go find out."

According to Moerbe the program has been a big success because of the cooperation of the teachers. "They often notice if a kid is having a bad day because of some kind of personal problem and they let us know. The teachers also let us know if the grades are falling and tell us if the athlete needs extra help."

The head coach says the program does not replace a real father by any means and the Daddy Coaches have no intention of trying.

"We think we can help the parents," said Moerbe. "The fact of the matter is that we very often see the boy more than his own father will during the athletic program. We can help keep those grades up and respond to problems."

"I think it has helped the kids a great deal," said Moerbe. "Deep down I think they are glad we are showing an interest in them. They know it takes a lot of the coaches time."

The five Daddy Coaches consist of David Norwood, David Sutterfield, Bobby Ventura, Rodney Dowell and Todd Hallmark.

"This is the best thing we've ever done in the eight years I've been here," said Coach Norwood. "Coach Moerbe organized this program and oversees it. The assistant's do the running around."

"I think the athletes appreciate the program although they may get tired of us harping on them about their grades," said Norwood.

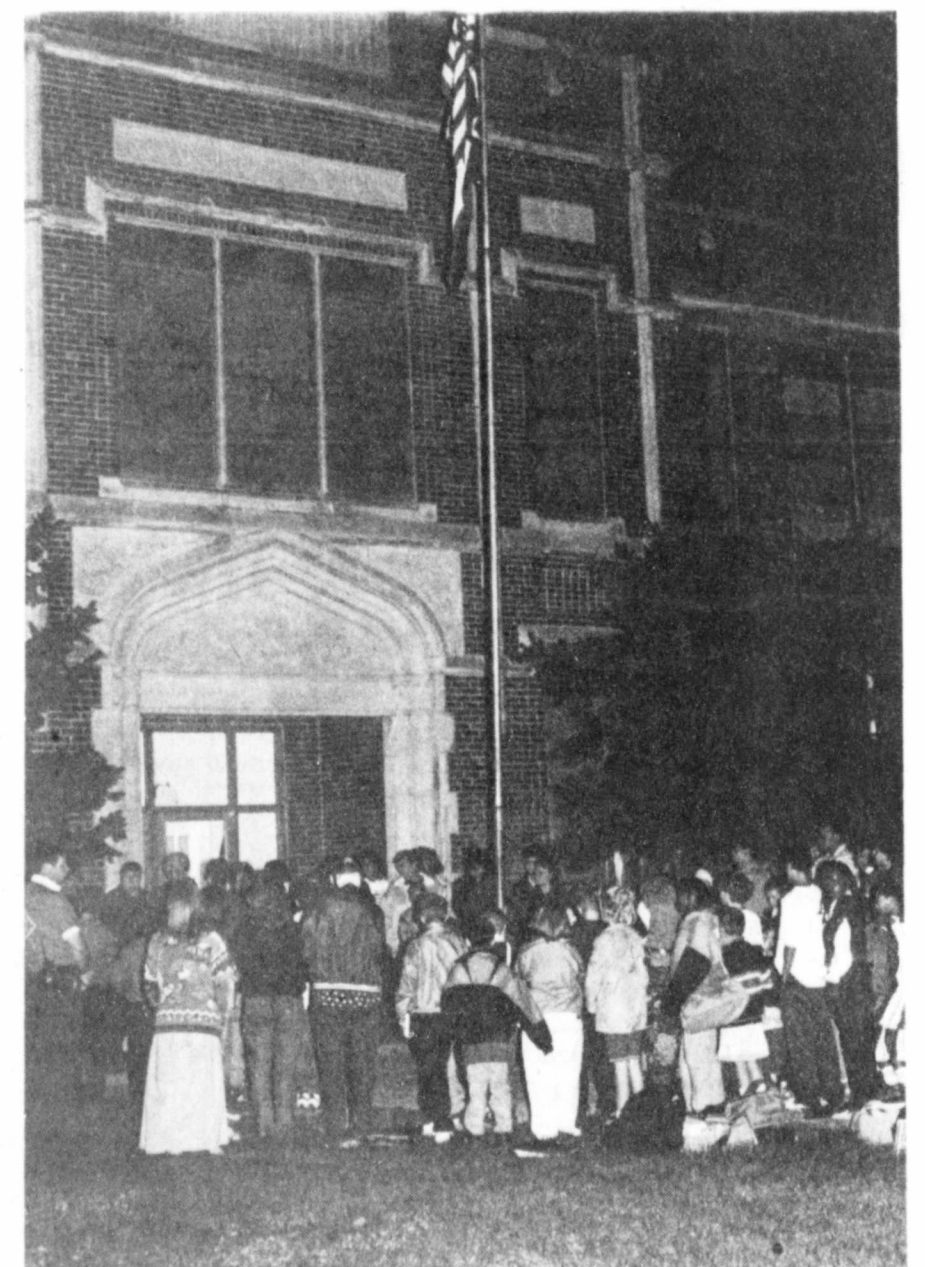

"Even straight A students have problems now and then, whether its breaking up with a girlfriend or something wrong at home."

"Of course our main purpose is to make sure they stay eligible for the athletic program by keeping up their grades but we also expect there to be no discipline problems. No matter whose class they are in they are supposed to act a certain way. We expect it."

"Even if an athlete is messing up in my own class I'll go tell his Daddy Coach and let him handle it. I figure if the student is messing up in one of his own coaches class no telling what he is doing in somebody else's," laughs Norwood.

"The teachers go out of their way to help us," continued Norwood. "They don't mind going that extra mile and they will help them make the grades

Floydada City Council handles long agenda Appeals procedure discussed

FLOYDADA -- During the September 21 regular session of the council, Mayor Hulon Carthel passed out copies of the appeals procedure to be used by an entity that wishes to appeal property appraisals. He told the council that it is too late for this year, but could be done next year at the time the appraisals come out. Carthel stressed the fact that an appeal must be submitted within 15 days after the appraisal notice forms are received by the taxpayers.

"Anyone who wants the city to protest the appraisal of commercial or residential property in the city limits must come forward at once and contact the council," said Carthel. "A petition is probably the best way to do this and it should be submitted to the city as soon after the notices are re-

BY THE WAY

ALICE GILROY

I'm not good about doing thank-you notes. I think about writing it all the time, but I never stop and put the pen on the paper.

For that reason I'm going to use the first part of this column to make a general all around thank-you note to people who do nice things for me every day.

There have been numerous times I have received sweet personal notes to me at the paper. They aren't meant to be "Letters To The Editor." They are just meant to encourage me and they always come when I need them most.

I want to thank those people who are better at writing those little notes than I am. Thank-you for your kind words. I remember every one of them and always treasure them in my heart. They truly keep me going from day to day.

Thanks also to the wonderful people who send me articles they think might be of interest to me. It also lets me know you care and are thinking about me. It always gives me a boost and I enjoy getting "real people" mail instead of just news releases all the time.

Since I have lived here, there has never been a time when I've been refused after asking someone for a favor. People in this town have always been nicer to me than I deserve. Thank-you.

Now I'm going to talk about rotten people. The people who think nothing about dumping their pets on the road and leaving them to fend for themselves in the country, or hoping that someone else will take care of them.

Country folks could open their own animal shelters with the number of dogs dropped at their doorsteps. They can't continue to take your pets without eventually having to destroy them with a humane gunshot.

Why do some people think it is more humane to let their domesticated pet slowly starve to death or face coyotes and other predators, rather than have them put to sleep?

Why do some people snatch up "free" puppies and then refuse them life saving vaccinations or dump them when the "cute" wears off?

It costs nothing to drop your unwanted dog or cat at the pound to be put to sleep. Or give them a fighting chance to be adopted at the Humane Society in Plainview.

The reason I am on a crusade about this now is because of an incident that happened to me last week.

I came home Friday to find in my fenced-in back yard a beautiful white mother dog with her three puppies. The puppies and her were almost starved to death and had obviously been on their own for quite some time.

The puppies are old enough to be weaned from their mother (because they gobble up dog food like there was no tomorrow), but because they have had nothing else to eat they were still being nursed by their mother.

When I walked to the back yard to check out the situation, the mother dog stood up and left her puppies to walk to me with her tail slowly wagging. She came right up to me, stopped, sat down and looked up at me with the saddest and most intelligent eyes I have ever seen in a dog.

She was obviously asking for help and I melted. She had found a sucker.

I gave her and the happy litter some food and water and started asking around town about her. Several people said they had seen her over a few days and someone else told me they had seen her walking on the highway. Whoever owned her dumped her and the puppies to fend for themselves. I can only guess how long the mother had been walking her family from one place to the other by how skinny she is.

I begged my husband to let them stay until I could find a home. He relented.

The next morning we woke up to find two more puppies had joined the group. We have no idea where mom had them hidden. I think she told them to wait until she had us completely hood-winked.

The mother will not let a single pup out of her sight. She keeps them rounded up constantly and moves them all in a group. They follow her tail anywhere.

Anyway—we have since found another sucker family. John and Jan Cabler (and their kids), of Lockney, took one look at the family and also fell in love. They have decided to keep the good natured mother and have her spade. However I am still helping them try and find a home for some puppies. At least two have already gone to good homes.

The mother appears to be an Alaskan husky or a dog of that type. The puppies are obviously mixed, but all but two are also pure white. They are all female.

If you are interested call the Cablers at 652-3668. The puppies are free but we expect you to care enough about the pet to take it to get vaccinated and checked out. They have been through a lot.

Thanks for putting up with this advertisement.

Candy donations needed

Punkin Days planning is in full swing and Trunk or Treating activity chairwoman, Anne Carthel, is currently busy looking for candy donations for the popular event.

Keeping with new tradition, the City of Floydada, has declared Oct. 28, at Trick or Treat Day to coincide with the Punkin Days Trunk or Treating.

According to Carthel, last year the Punkin Day committee gave away candy to 2,000 children and they expect more children this year.

"We are in need of candy to give away," said Carthel. "Since the children are now coming to the walking path for treats and not coming to the homes, we would appreciate people donating the candy to us that they would have normally given away at their door."

A drop box will be set up at Floydada's Lowe's Pay-N-Save to collect bags of candy. A drop box will also be set up at the Carthel residence at 901 W. Mississippi.

The committee will also gladly accept money donations mailed to the same address and marked, "Trunk or Treating".

The Trunk or Treat committee is also in the process of trying to liven up the candy giveaway by having as many different kinds of vehicles parked along the path to distribute the goodies.

"We want pick-ups, cars, fire trucks, police cars, farm implements, tractors, golf carts, spray rigs, back hoes, dirt movers and anything else you can think of."

A view from The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

A major fight has erupted within Republican ranks in Washington over the future direction of Agriculture, and Congressmen from this area are in the thick of it. As far as we are concerned, they are on the right side.

Congressman Pat Roberts of Kansas, the Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, has come forward with a bill that would essentially "decouple" or divorce, farm support from commodity prices. In so doing, he would, in our opinion, turn the agriculture program into another welfare "entitlement" program, where still more citizens could be paid to sit on their butts, rather than being encouraged to produce commodities for the common good. In a very real sense, we see very little difference in that approach than in the current stupid, backward, approach toward welfare generally, where teen-age unwed mothers are rewarded for having illegitimate babies. (They are not rewarded, you may recall, for not having illegitimate babies, though they, and society as a whole, would be better off if they were.)

Under the Roberts bill, which evidently carries the endorsement of House Speaker Newt Gingrich of Georgia and Majority Leader Dick Armey of Fort Worth, farmers would get stipulated cash payments, on a declining scale, for the next seven years, regardless of the market, regardless of the price of commodities. The farmer would get the same amount, whether his crops were good or bad, whether the market was high or low.

Mr. Roberts represents essentially grain country. As far as we know, there is no cotton grown in Kansas. And as far as we know, the Roberts plan may be of some benefit to his region. But for our own region it seems to us that his plan is potentially disastrous. We are most pleased that Rep. Larry Combest, of Lubbock, and Rep. Mac Thornberry, of this District, joined in opposing the Roberts Bill. That required a great deal of courage. We hope they will hang in there, and we suspect they will.

This is not an argument over saving money to balance the budget. Combest, a member of the Agriculture Committee, introduced his own bill, which would save essentially the same as the Roberts bill, but would maintain the link between market prices and the federal support system. Mr. Thornberry was a co-sponsor of the Combest bill. It would accomplish the purpose of making the program less costly, but would be far less disruptive (and destructive) than the Roberts bill.

We hear by our Washington grape vine that Gingrich and Armey are exceedingly unhappy with Combest and those who went against "the leadership" on this issue. Combest, we are told, was even referred to by Armey as a "traitor" in one of those closed door meetings where the leadership gathered to assess the situation. He should not worry. Neither should Mr. Thornberry. Both men were sent to Washington to represent the people, and interests, of their Districts. They made those promises to their constituents, and we are happy to see them carry out their promises.

There are perhaps excuses for the positions of Gingrich and Armey. Both are "intellectuals." Nothing wrong with that. Nothing wrong with being a "visionary", so long as there are people around who can fashion a way to make the vision work. But neither Gingrich nor Armey know anything about the agricultural sector generally, and specifically. They ought to listen a little closer to Combest, who does. Perhaps then they wouldn't get embarrassed by seeing Republican defectors on a bill of such importance to the nation's economy, or to their own role as leaders.

In short, there's only one thing that makes a leader. That's followers. And intelligent followers do not follow leaders who propose to lead them in the wilderness.

Floydada City Council handles long agenda

ceived as possible. The more taxpayer names on it, the better."

The city would have to call a special meeting to approve filing a protest in that short of a time frame. City Attorney Karen Houchin told the council that they would have to make certain the meeting is properly called and posted to avoid running into difficulty with the state regulations governing the open meetings act.

In keeping with recent tradition and the Punkin' Days celebration, The City Council of Floydada voted unanimously to designate Saturday, October 28, 1995 as "Trick or Treat" night for this year. Motion was made by Councilman Leroy Burns and seconded by Councilman Eric Cornelius during the September 21 regular session of the council.

Members of the 1995-96 Floydada Junior Council were presented at the evening session. They include Rance Barnett, Arnulfo Cervera, Lacy Golightly, Michael Molinar, Lyndi Probasco, Gabriela Cervera, Shane Derryberry, Jason Harrison, Missy Pernel, Amber Womack, and Coach Jim Knight. Those present for the meeting introduced themselves to the council and spectators.

Proposals for city property and liability insurance were presented at the meeting. Kyle Smith of Goen & Goen Insurance of Floydada and Marka Wellington, Lubbock representative of the Texas Municipal League (TML) each submitted proposals. Goen & Goen's premium for the proposed coverage was placed at $46,492.00. Wellington submitted a proposed bid of $35,394.00 on behalf of the governmental entity insurer.

The largest difference in cost was in the area of vehicle coverage. The proposal from Goen & Goen was more than $5,000.00 higher than that of TML. Smith told the council that his carrier, Titan, would not write the policy unless the city included the auto coverage.

A motion was made by Burns and seconded by Councilman Albert Hill to award the bid to the low bidder and current insurer, TML. All voted in favor of the motion. The new coverage will begin upon the expiration of the current policy on October 1.

City Manager Gary Brown told the council of efforts to work out a traffic control plan for the area around Caprock Hospital, Floyd County Day Care, Cogdell Clinic and West Marivena Street which is agreeable to all. Brown told the council that after he was approached by people from the day care and the hospital, the city removed a curb adjacent to West Marivena and bladed a roadway connecting the south parking lot at the hospital with the city street.

The county provided and spread gravel to make a road bed for traffic leaving the day care. This alleviated the need for day care parents having to maneuver their vehicles to back up and go out the same way they come in. It also provided an exit for school buses which pickup and deliver special education students at the day care on school days.

Brown went on to explain that residents of the previously untraveled, unpaved street had submitted several complaints concerning the increased volume of traffic created by the approximately fifty families using the day care. Other complaints concerned the dust now coming into their homes, and drivers who speed along the residential street.

A presentation to Caprock Hospital District board members was met with mixed results according to Brown. He told the council that the CHD board was not totally opposed to the idea he presented for connecting the south parking lot with the front driveway at the hospital and then with Crockett Street. The CHD board tabled the issue for later consideration.

Councilman Burns stated, "I think the city should replace the curb adjacent to Marivena and wash our hands of the whole thing. That is private property and we should not have done anything to it to begin with."

Councilman Schacht objected to the new proposal citing standing water on the front hospital parking lot as a reason for not putting traffic through that area.

Brown recommended that the council table the issue until after the hospital board reconsiders it. Burns made the motion to table which was seconded by Lawson and approved by unanimous vote.

City officials were directed to enforce the junk car ordinance. Unclassified and junk vehicles will be tagged and the owners will face fines if they are not removed or brought up to standard. Council members indicated that all such vehicles should be treated the same and the ordinance should be strictly enforced in each and every case.

The junk yard ordinance was also discussed. Brown explained that the ordinance specifically states no junk yards of any type can be within the city limits. He added that the Tommy Hernandez Tire Store (Junk Car/Wrecking Yard) at 313-321 E. Houston has been warned several times that he must clean up his property and remove the junk cars.

Council members indicated they felt the junk car ordinance and the junk yard ordinance are adequate for handling the situation if properly enforced. They instructed city officials to direct their efforts toward getting the unsightly mess cleaned up.

A motion by Burns, seconded by Hill, was unanimously approved giving Ruben DeLeon 45 days to clean up the property where the old drive-in grocery was destroyed (on Houston Street next door to Spirit of Sharing) by a wind storm earlier in the year. Failure to do so will result in the city beginning condemnation proceedings. Brown told the council that a substantial part of the cleanup already carried out was done by the city at no charge to clear the city alley and roadways around the wind damaged building.

Brown reported that the city had received a response from the Plainview-Floydada Railroad concerning the city's proposal that the railroad deed the right-of-way within the city limits to the city after making certain that the taxes on the property are paid and current. The railroad response indicated that this was acceptable to them.

City Attorney Karen Houchin is now in the process of preparing the deeds and ascertaining that the proper amount of taxes gets paid. A survey of the railroad line right-of-way will be necessary and was authorized by approval of a motion made by Schacht. Tipton seconded and surveyor Robert E. Tilford will be engaged to perform the survey. The estimated cost is $4,200.00.

Mayor Carthel asked the council to consider taxing personal property such as cars, trucks, recreational vehicles, and boats. He told the council that Chief Appraiser Shelia Faulkenberry had informed him this could mean an additional taxable revenue base of about $8 million for the city.

Carthel suggested that the city tax personal property and work toward lowering city tax rate next year to offset the increase. He said this would pass a portion of the tax burden to owners of vehicles who do not own property.

Councilman Tipton said that he would like to see that happen. "That is the only way some people will ever pay any tax," he said. "I am in favor of it even though several people have told me they are against it. It will not affect commercially owned vehicles since those are already taxed."

Carthel told the council that the other taxing entities already tax personal property. The city is the only local taxing entity which does not. He added that the city could drop the ad valorem tax rate by four cents and still collect as much or more than the current tax rate produces.

A motion was made by Burns to leave the situation as is with no personal property tax by the city. The motion was seconded by Cornelius and the vote was 4-2. Burns, Cornelius, Hill, and Schacht voted in favor. Tipton and Lawson voted against.

Carthel told the council, "As your mayor, I feel this is one of many things I am obligated to bring to your attention for consideration from time to time."

Council members approved the purchase of a new police vehicle, a 1994 Ford Taurus which is completely equipped as a police vehicle. The cost was placed at below $13,000.00 and is within the police budget set for the possible purchase this budget year. The car is a program vehicle with 5,700 miles on it.

According to Chief James Hale, the new car will be driven by recently hired officer Tracey Warren, who was acquired through the special grant funding to put extra police officers on duty in small cities. Hale indicated that the new vehicle will replace a car which has over 200,000 miles on it and is in need of extensive repairs.

Sale of a tax title property to Joe Stepp for a bid of $250.00 was approved by the council. They also approved the sale of two lots belonging to the city for $10.00 each to the Floydada Lions Club. The lions club intends to donate the lots to the local boy scouts to be used toward establishing a new scout hut in Floydada.

The Floyd County Library Board asked the city to write a letter detailing willingness to make the water and sewer connections which will be necessary when a new library is built. The board wants to include the value placed on this work as part of the information to be presented in seeking grant funds for building the new facility. This was approved on a motion by Tipton, seconded by Hill and approved by all except Schacht, a member of the library board, who abstained.

Appointments for two-year terms were made to several boards during the meeting held on Thursday, September 21. Among those were the Airport Board, the Planning and Zoning Commission, Floydada EMS, and Floyd County Central Appraisal District.

Board members Bill Brown, Jim Crawford, and Bill Harbin were reappointed to the Airport Board. Leroy Burns was appointed to replace Louis Lloyd. Lloyd had told Board Chairman Charles Craig that he did not wish to serve an additional term.

Kyle Smith was reappointed to the Planning and Zoning Commission. Glenda Wilson and Mike Muniz were appointed to replace Monte Williams and Isidro Sanchez whose terms expire this month.

Burns was also reappointed as the city's representative on the Floydada EMS Board. Sam Green was appointed to the appraisal board to replace Doyle Walls who is leaving the board after many years of service.

After much discussion and a split vote, the council approved setting a value on the old drive up payment window. Brown had told them that the City of Lockney had inquired about the possibility of purchasing the window. Brown told the council he had no idea how old the window was and would not be able to guarantee it. He also told them it would probably cost about $2,500.00 to repair the wall and put in a matching window.

The council voted 4 to 2 to consider selling the window assembly for $500.00 plus the expenses of removing the drive up payment window, repairing the wall, and putting in a window like the others in that wall. Voting in favor were Schacht, Hill, Lawson, and Cornelius. Voting against were Burns and Tipton.

Burns made the motion for the city to pursue obtaining grant funds for a proposed recycling center, a chipper/shredder and dump truck, and a module builder and modifications at the landfill. The motion was seconded by Hill and approved by unanimous vote.

The second reading for three ordinances was held. All were approved by unanimous vote of the council. They include #784 amending the water rates, #785 amending the tipping fee at the landfill, and #786 amending the sewer rates.

City officials considered a request from the Central Appraisal District (CAD) that they be allowed to retain more than $5,000.00 in budget surplus, a percentage of which came from payments to the CAD made by the city. The request noted that the money would be used to build a wall to secure a storage area near a common back room shared with a neighboring building and to repair a roof leak that became apparent during recent rains.

Objections to allowing them to retain the excess funds, normally returned to the entities on a pro-rata share basis, were made by some council members because the appraisal district has refused requests to present an annual report to city council members during a regular meeting of the council.

A motion to deny the CAD the right to retain and use the funds was defeated on a split vote of 2-4. Voting in favor were Burns and Hill. Voting against were Schacht, Lawson, Tipton, and Cornelius. A second motion to allow the district to utilize the funds for the stated purposes was passed on a 4-2 vote just the opposite of the vote on the initial motion.

The Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon was selected as the official newspaper of the city. This publication will be utilized in providing the public with any needed information throughout the coming fiscal year.

City Manager Brown told the council he had been advised that the water level at Lake Mackenzie has risen about three feet with the recent rains. He also pointed out that the city has been on lake water since lightning knocked out the booster pump along with several other city devices and communications equipment on Tuesday, September 12. The damage is now repaired and city wells are again providing water.

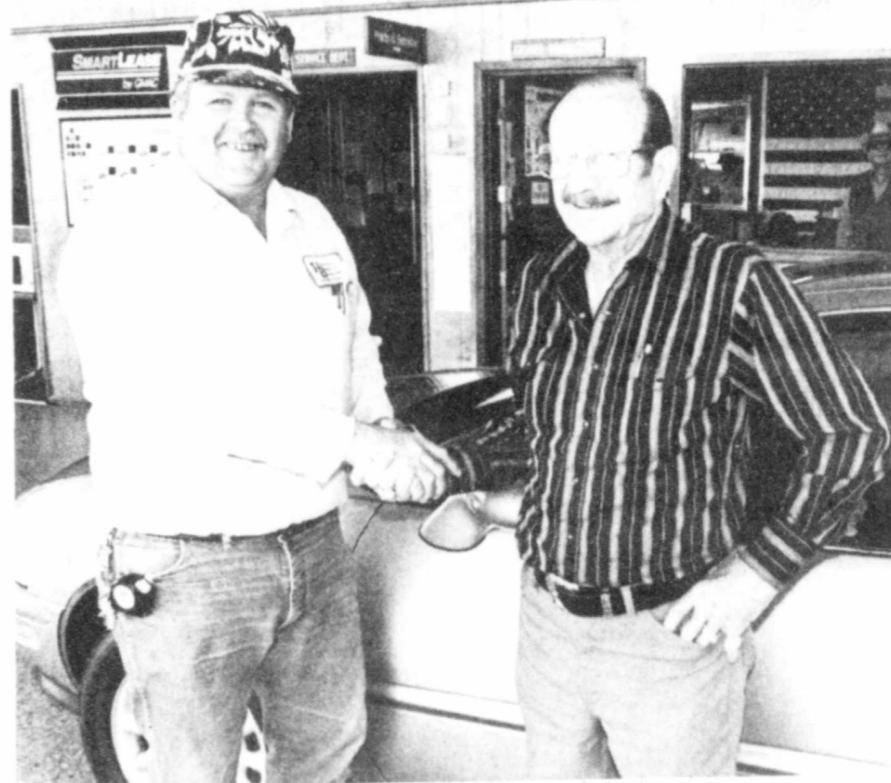

Weather has also been a delaying factor in the removal of the old water tower. The tower removal is nearing an end and Brown told the council that he is pleased with the manner in which it has been handled and the care that has been taken in avoiding damage to the structures located near the old water storage facility.

Brown also reported that the Texas Department of transportation will be pursuing a road resurfacing project on the highway through town, but that installing a storm drain system will not be part of it. Efforts will be made to make the storm drainage dips less conspicuous in all instances possible through town on Highway 62-70.

Crow and Adams united in marriage

Jamie Sue Crow and Joey William Adams were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, September 2, 1995 in the First United Methodist Church in Floydada. The Rev. Clark Williams of Floydada and the Rev. Eric Lovell of San Saba, uncle of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Sue Crow of Floydada and Richie and Sara Crow of Baird, Texas. The groom is the son of Gordon and Dimple Adams of Lockney. Grandparents are Mrs. Irma Crow of Baird, and Mrs. Florence Howard of Ballinger.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a satin gown which featured an off-the-shoulder neckline with long sleeves of lace accented with pearls. The fitted bodice also had pearls outlining the floral design in the lace. The detachable cathedral length train was held in place by a large satin bow at the waistline. She carried a cascading bouquet of silk roses of white and burgundy accented with strings of tiny pearls. For something old she wore a strand of pearls that had belonged to her grandmother, Florence Howard. Something new was her pearl earrings, which were a gift from her mother. Her veil, borrowed from a close friend, and a blue garter completed her ensemble.

Jennifer Crow, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and Regina Nelson was bridesmaid. The bride's attendants wore two piece sleeveless black dresses accented with white notched collars and pearl buttons. Kelsey Robertson, wearing a white ballerina length dress, served as flower girl. She carried a white basket filled with rose petals. Dana Lovell, cousin of the bride presided at the guest registry.

Gordon Adams, father of the groom, served as best man. Tracy Bailey of Lockney was a groomsman.

Serving as usher was Justin Adams of Lockney, brother of the groom. Dalyn Adams of Lockney, nephew of the groom was ring bearer. The groom and his attendants were attired in black tuxedo jackets, wranglers and boots. Serving as candlelighters were Jeffrey Lyles and Curtis Lehew, stepbrother of the bride.

Penny Ogden and Wendy Pierce provided prelude music. Alissa Wilson sang "Sunrise, Sunset" as the mothers and grandmothers were seated. Jennifer Crow and Scott Crader sang "I Will Be Here" as the candles were lit. "Endless Love" was also sung by Jennifer and Scott, as the bride and groom stood before the altar. Russell Jarrett, uncle of the groom, performed "With This Ring" as the unity candle was lit.

Special out-of-town guests at the wedding were Irma Crow of Baird, and Florence Howard of Ballinger, grandmothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was draped with a black and white floor length cloth with a white lace overlay. It featured a multi-tiered wedding cake and crystal appointments. The groom's table held a cake shaped like a cowboy hat and was decorated in a western theme.

Serving at the bride's table were Hope Warren and Kay Rainwater. Amanda Ogden and Alissa Wilson presided at the groom's table.

The catered rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, the couple is making their home in Lockney. The groom is employed by High Plains Pavers of Plainview.

A prenuptial bridal shower was given in the home of Sally Lyles on August 19.

This 'N That Club holds first fall meeting

By Mildred Cates
The This 'n That Hobby Club met for their first meeting of the fall, on September 19th in the home of Dorthy Reeves.

The president, Dorthy Reeves, called the meeting to order. Jo Lyles, in the absence of the secretary, read the minutes of the last two meetings.

The October meeting was discussed and planned. We will meet for lunch at "Temptations" and from there go to Winnie Beedy's house.

We were served a delicious buffet of vegetables, dip, fruit and cheese and a coconut pound cake with coconut sauce, punch and coffee.

After our meal we played Bingo. The prizes were white elephant gifts brought by the members.

Present were Winnie Beedy, Betty Baker, Mildred Cates, Thelma Crawford, Faye Jackson, Queen Annie Lawson, Jo Lyles, Ila White and the hostess, Dorthy Reeves.

We salute in Floydada

Recipe of the Week

Bake A Birthday - Cookie!

Move over cake and ice cream and make room for the big birthday cookie! It's fun and different, whether you're five or 50.

Actually, big cookies are not new. You'll find them in cookie stores in shopping malls. Bakeries make them, and there are recipes for baking a homemade cookie that's as big as a pizza and nearly every size in-between.

Because the baking time needs to be longer, it's best to use a recipe developed especially for a big cookie. Banana Split Sundae Cookies created in the Quaker Kitchens feature a big oatmeal cookie with a great big chocolate-banana flavor. Terrific alone, they're even better topped with a scoop of ice cream and strawberry sauce — just like a banana split. And don't forget the candles!

|---|---|
| 1 cup (2 sticks) margarine, softened            | 2-1/2 cups Quaker oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked) |
| 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar                 | 2 cups all-purpose flour                                  |
| 1-1/2 cups mashed ripe bananas (about 4 medium) | 1 teaspoon baking soda                                    |
| 2 eggs  | 1/4 teaspoon salt (optional)                              |
| 2 teaspoons vanilla                             | 1 cup semisweet chocolate pieces                          |
|   | Ice cream   |
|   | Ice cream topping   |

Heat oven to 350°F. Beat margarine and sugar until creamy. Add bananas, eggs and vanilla; beat well. Add combined oats, flour, baking soda and salt; mix well. Stir in chocolate pieces. Drop by 1/4 cupfuls onto ungreased cookie sheet about 3 inches apart. Spread dough into 3-1/2-inch diameter circles. Bake 14 to 16 minutes or until edges are light golden brown. Cool cookies 1 minute on cookie sheet; remove to wire rack. Cool completely. Store loosely covered at room temperature. Top with ice cream and topping.

Floydada Senior Citizen News

By Margarette Word

The center is open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each Monday through Friday. If you plan to eat lunch, please call 983-2032 by 10 a.m.

Jim and I have just returned from a Midwest/Great Lakes Fall Foliage bus tour. There were 30 other people with us. We went to Grand Rapids, Mackinac Island, Chicago, Mall of America in Minnesota and lots of places in between. Weather was great. The trees and rolling hills were beautiful. Last week I was unable to have the Senior Citizen News in the paper. I hope you missed it. Maybe this break was good for me. I look forward to getting back in my routine of everyday activities.

Jerry Bradford passed out at the center recently. She was taken by ambulance to Lockney. She stayed a few days at the hospital due to her high blood pressure problems. When she was released from the hospital, she left on a trip to Dallas to visit with her sisters. This was a planned trip before she took ill. She came home about Wednesday and plans to be back at work by the end of the week.

Dr. Jack and Billie Jordan and Janice and Luis Lloyd have just returned from a trip to England, Ireland, and Wales. David and Barbara Gill, who are friends, live at Woodhall Spa Lincolnshire County, England and drove the group through these countries on a sightseeing trip. They had a wonderful time.

Mike Thaxton of Las Vegas, Nevada has recently been here visiting his parents, Fred and Yvonne Thaxton.

Pearl Reddy of McCoy Community and Stella Finch were at the center, Monday, September 25, for lunch.

Amy Hollums and a niece from Lubbock spent a few days in Ft. Worth visiting an elderly aunt who had been injured in a car wreck recently. She is also grieving over the loss of a daughter who had died recently. The niece and Amy also drove to Dallas to visit with a nephew who is in nursing training.

Tucker Thompson, son of Greg and Jamie Thompson of Dumas had his 1st birthday celebration Sunday, September 23rd. His birthday is really September 26th, but for the relatives to attend they held it on Sunday. Attending the party were his grandparents Jan and Mac Willson, Jan Thompson and great-grandmother Betsy Dempsey. Josh Thayer, an uncle from Lubbock was also there.

Our sympathy to the family of Lane Decker. His funeral was Thursday, September 21.

There are so many of our people who are very ill. Those that I know about are as follows: Willie McCormick had a stroke which has affected her left side. She is at her daughter's home in recovery. Winnie Beedy also had a stroke and is in the hospital. Ruby Gooch fell and broke a hip and is in the hospital. Ruth Gilliland is in the hospital. John Key West is at home, but is having a lot of health problems.

Bennie Liebfried fell and is very sore. Fred Lloyd is in the hospital. Olin Watson is to have a 4 or 5 bypass heart surgery on Tuesday morning at Midland Hospital. He has been in intensive care unit since last Friday.

Our prayer is that these and all those who are ill and having all kinds of health problems to be well very soon and be back to doing the things they love to do. Pray for those who have lost loved ones.

Congratulations to Aaron and Estelle Carthel on their 60th wedding anniversary. Their children were hostesses to the celebration in the Carthel home, Saturday September 23.

October 28 is Pumpkin Day. Our Senior Citizen Center will have a booth with lots of homemade pumpkin goodies such as pies, cakes, cookies and etc. Even if you are not a senior citizen and would like to donate baked items to the center, we would welcome the goodies.

We have pumpkin recipes at the center 98-2032 or call me at 983-3194. We hope to make this a yearly money making project for the center. We are always in need of money to keep the center in good condition and in operation. If you plan to fix some goodies, please call the center or me and let us know. All the money from the sell of the goodies will go to the center. Out-of-towners love to take pumpkin baked goodies home with them. We will need lots of goodies. We welcome your help.

Another way to help the center is if you need to make a memorial donation for a loved one, we would appreciate your remembering the center. Also if you just want to make a donation, we would be happy to receive that.

If you would, please put building fund somewhere on your check. Contributing recently was Doris McLain in memory of Lane Decker. You may mail your checks to Senior Citizens, P.O. Box 573, Floydada, TX. 79235.

Oleta Wilson and her daughter, Sue Blythe of El Paso recently toured Arizona, New Mexico and spent several days at Cuchara, Colorado visiting Oleta's sister, Frances and Billy Staniforth at their cabin. Another sister, Willie Muriel and Charley McDonald of Canon City, Colorado were also at the Staniforth's cabin. They really had a great time visiting.

Thought for the Week: Never underestimate the power of love.

Senior Citizens Menu
Monday, October 2: BBQ chicken butterbeans, spinach, tossed salad/Ranch dressing, cornbread, bread or rice pudding with raisin sauce
Tuesday, October 3: Tuna noodle casserole, blackeye peas, brussel sprouts, cornbread or roll, apple cobbler
Wednesday, October 4: Meatloaf, new potatoes with sauce, broccoli, celery sticks, wheat roll, Angelfood cake
Thursday, October 5: Chicken salad sandwich, pea salad, tomato slices, apricot cobbler
Friday, October 6: Brisket, parslid new potatoes, okra and tomatoes, apricots, biscuit, frosted cake

Nursing Home Happenings

By Lorilla Bradley
September brings an ending
To lots of "fun and sun"...
But don't relax too freely
We'll still be on the run

Mr. Holt we honor
His years are "92"...
With lots of time behind him...
With every day still new

We're greeting Mrs. Roberson
She's boasting "94"...
She is a lovely lady...
With many "tales" of yore!

Salutes to Otis Johnson...
We think he dreams of cake...
No matter what the flavor
He's sure his part to take!!!

To our Mrs. Fannie McConic

We wish a happy day.
May life be ever pleasant
As she goes on her way.

Our Mrs. Emma Bearden
She's counting 95...
Shes lived a lot of history
With tactics to survive!

To cheer these lovely people
Lets do the Birthday Song...
So join in as we sing it
And come out good and strong!

Thursday, September 21 was party time at the Rest Home with member of the City Park Church of Christ hosting. The Hesperian photographer came for the picture taking followed by everyone being ushered into the dining room. The Honorees were seated at the "honor" table, their places being marked with special cards. We are very sorry Mrs. McConic was unable to attend. The table was laid with a green cloth and centered was a floral arrangement in shades of blue.

The poem was read and all joined in singing the Happy Birthday Song. Mrs. Bearden had as her guests Arla Williams, Raynell Bearden and Thelma Lee Bearden. Other guests included Opal Guffee and Thelma Parr.

A delicious refreshment plate of chocolate cake or angel food cake was served with delicious orange juice. Each honoree wore a lovely corsage compliments of Williams Floral and Card Shop.

The next party will be Thursday, November 19, 2:30 p.m. You are invited to attend.

Floyd County Library Board meets

The Floyd County Library Board met on Tuesday, September 19, in the Lockney Branch Library. Doyleene Dipprey, the Lockney Librarian, served as hostess to the group.

According to Board President Amy Hollums, progress is being made toward the construction of the proposed free standing library facility on South Wall Street. She told those gathered that all of the short term goals have been met or are nearing completion as the project stands at this time.

"Everyone's help and encouragement is very much appreciated," said Hollums. "This is a very big task, but it is a very worthwhile project."

Hollums indicated that the time has come to determine and begin work on the long range goals necessary to implement the project.

"Everyone is reminded that donations towards the construction of the new library should be made to the Floyd County Library Building Fund at the First National Bank of Floydada. Be certain that donations are directed to the building fund, not the library fund to avoid confusion," said Hollums.

'Winds rally to upset Antelopes

By Bill Gray

Floydada won its first game of the 1995 season and, in the process, ruined the Homecoming celebration at Post. The Whirlwinds capitalized on Ramon McCann's punt block in the waning minutes of the final period to rally past the Antelopes 24-21 in non-district action last Friday. The Whirlwinds, a 7-point underdog going into the game, improved to 1-2 while the Antelopes fell to 0-3 for the season.

The Whirlwinds overcame the outstanding individual performance by Saul Martinez. The bullish tailback rushed 29 times for 183 yards and accounted for all of Post's points. Floydada's Zack Abshier also had the most productive night of his whirlwind career, scoring on touchdown runs of 49, 30, and 2 yards. The 2-yarder turned out to be the gamewinner.

The victory was especially significant for Floydada head coach Bryan Davis, who played his prep ball at Post in the mid-1970s. It also atoned for last year's 40-8 loss to the Antelopes in Davis' first year at the Whirlwind helm.

The Homecoming crowd was still arriving when Martinez dashed 66 yards on the game's fourth play. He led the point-after, and it appeared the Whirlwinds were going to be in for a long night. However, Floydada came roaring back.

Abshier converted a key third down in Floydada's initial possession with a 24-yard pass-and-run combination to Vernon Cooper. Abshier took the first-down snap and raced 49 yards for the south end zone to bring the 'Winds to within one. Zack's touchdown was aided by Andy Young's well-executed block in the backfield.

Omar Eguia recovered a Martinez fumble in Post's second offensive series, but the 'Winds were unable to take advantage of the miscue. A short Antelope punt was all the Whirlwinds needed to mount their next scoring drive. Abshier tossed a critical 3rd-down pass to Chad Hinkle which helped sustain the threat. Vernon Cooper capped the 10-play, 39-yard drive to score from 2 yards out in the opening moments of the second period. The two-point conversion failed, but the Whirlwinds took command 12-7.

The remaining nine minutes of the 2nd quarter, however, belonged to the Bold Gold. Although Vernon Cooper prevented another long touchdown with a sure tackle of Martinez at the Whirlwind 33-yard line, the powerful tailback cruised across the double stripe four plays later from the 21-yard line.

Post capitalized on good field position, following a Zach Abshier punt, and Martinez scored on a sprint draw from the Whirlwind 25. He added the conversion kick to widen the Antelopes' margin to 21-12 at intermission.

Martinez had the Whirlwind defense totally baffled with his outside runs in the first half. Entering the game with a 61/2 yards-per-carry average, the 190-lb. senior carried 15 times for 156 yards and three touchdowns in the first 24 minutes.

Floydada's defense took control in the second half. The Antelopes were not only held scoreless, but Martinez was limited to a mere 29 yards in 14 attempts. Defensive coordinator Jimmie Parker said, "We went in (at halftime) and made some adjustments because they were bouncing everything outside. They changed their offensive philosophy with the pro set, which we had only seen one time. We adjusted our linebackers to stay outside and our 'mike' linebacker to cover the middle. That's what we did, and the kids did a good job."

Floydada's halftime adjustments, momentum, and level of intensity were evident during Post's first possession of the 3rd quarter. Michael Mercado (giving up almost 30 pounds) nailed Saul Martinez for a 2-yard loss. Monty Anderson, Lupe Sanchez and Ramon McCann followed with key defensive plays.

Post's inability to capitalize on two consecutive Floydada turnovers on 1st downs was attributed to the 'Wind stopper unit. The explosive Antelopes were held to three first downs and 72 total yards in the fourth and deciding period.

Chad Benjamin's recovery of a muffed punt return was the final turning point for Floydada. The Whirlwinds maintained possession as Abshier kept a scoring drive going with a clutch 3rd-down pass which Hinkle grabbed and carried to the Antelope 28. Zack scored on an option run two plays later, bringing the 'Winds to within 3 at the six-minute mark.

Floydada continued its intensity with vicious tackling and critical defensive efforts. "We worked on tackling every day this week, and we're going to stay with it," said Coach Parker. "It gets our kids aggressive, and we've got to be aggressive to play this game!"

McCann's blocked punt, with less than three minutes remaining, opened the door for Floydada's winning score. Abshier carried for 12 yards on 1st down, and crashed over for the deciding TD three plays later. Post made a determined, but frustrating, attempt to pull out a victory. B.J. Hart's 35-yard pass to Seth Pennell moved the 'Lopes deep into Floydada territory, but time expired after reaching the Whirlwind 20-yard line.

The Antelopes host the Ralls Jackrabbits to open District 4-2A play this week. Ralls, coached by former Floydada assistant David Carr, lost to Class 3A Lubbock Roosevelt 21-14 last Friday. The Whirlwinds visit Childress, Floydada's third consecutive Homecoming opponent. The Bobcats were forced to rally for 3 fourth-quarter touchdowns to defeat 9-2A's Electra 25-14 last week.

Bill's Notes

Congratulations to the 'Winds on their first "W" of 1995. Keep playing with that intensity and there'll be a lot more wins the remainder of the year.

Picking the defensive play of the game was very simple. Ramon's blocked punt put the 'Winds in position to score the deciding points. Picking the defensive PLAYER was a lot more difficult.

Coaches Davis and Parker, along with the rest of the staff, certainly deserve some credit here for whatever adjustments were made at the half to shut down the 'Lopes, but the coaches don't play the game. Emotion and intensity had lots to do with the turnaround, and THAT did have a lot to do with the outcome...and, part of that can be attributed to the coaches. But most of the emotion had to come from the young men out there in the mud. There were so many individual superlatives that it's impossible to single out any one player. Therefore, I'm naming the entire stopper unit as the co-defensive players of the game. Notice should be given to Lupe Sanchez, whose name is not often mentioned. His efforts in the second half did not go by unseen, nor did those of Michael Mercado.

Mercado gets my "head-hunter" recognition for his stick on Saul Martinez on Post's second play of the 3rd quarter. McCann, Young, Anderson, Nelson and Abshier all had similar hits, but Mercado's was the first to really get the big boy's attention.

The most important offensive plays, as I saw them, were Zack's two 3rd-down passes to Hinkle, each of which kept scoring drives going. Post's Saul Martinez had a super game offensively, but this time I'm staying with the winning team and the player I felt had a whole lot to do with that win. Zack Abshier who completed four passes without an interception, carried 9 times for 86 yards and three TDs, handled the punting and placements, and showed overall field leadership...is my choice for offensive player of the game.

Well, it's back to the brick house where Charlie holds court, and this time it's Homecoming at Childress. The 'Winds owe the Bobcats for a few things that have happened over there in recent years (but, with Wichita Falls Zebras, it may be difficult for some pay-backs). At any rate, it would be nice to spoil their party...just hope the 'Winds don't try to do it in the final minute. Strange things happen to the chains in the last ticks at Fair Park. ## Coach's Comments

By Coach Bryan Davis

It was good to get that first victory, and I'm very pleased with the way we came back to win the ball game.

We were real happy with our team efforts at Post. There were times, early on, that I thought we might as well "pack the tents," but we made some adjustments at halftime to shut down their running game. The kids did a good job in carrying out those adjustments. We came out in the second half and really took it to them.

We had some second half turnovers that normally would have hurt badly, but with the solid defensive pressure we were putting on them, we were able to overcome the mistakes and turnovers. We had the intensity to control the momentum.

We had some breakdowns, particularly in the kicking game, and those have to be corrected. It's difficult to win with those kind of mistakes. We had a good workout today, and will work hard all week preparing for Childress.

The Bobcats are perhaps the best team we've faced so far. They didn't lose many from last year's playoff team, and were ranked in the State's top ten in pre-season. They have lost to a couple of 2A powers (West Texas and Holliday) and had to come from behind to beat Electra last week, but they are still a talented team. And, we have to play them at their Homecoming.

All of us, and especially the young men on the field, were very aware of the fan support last week at Post. We could hear the cowbells and the very vocal crowd, and need the same kind of crowd and enthusiasm this week over in Childress.

I want to stress that while the next two weeks are awfully important to us, our main goal is to keep improving day-to-day. We want to be as good as we can be when Dimmitt comes to town to open District play.

HEY WHIRLWIND FANS!

Come join us at the Pep Rally at 3:30 at the high school on Friday, then at 8:00 bring your spirit and cowbells and meet us at Childress to support our Mighty Whirlwinds. It's a lot more fun to win - see what all that spirit did Friday night? It was great! Keep it up!

"HATS OFF" to the Floydada Fans!

Way to go Floydada football fans! Last Friday night in Post, the enthusiasm, spirit and support that was shown during the game was appreciated by the cheerleaders, band and football team. It really makes a difference when the crowd is involved in the game. Cowbells will be on sale in the stands at Childress by the cheerleaders.

FHS freshmen topple Post

By Bill Gray

The Freshmen 'Winds remained undefeated for the season with a convincing 24-12 victory over the visiting 9th Grade Post Antelopes on September 21. Due to conditions at Wester Field, the game was played at the Floydada practice field.

Michael Black opened the scoring for Floydada with a 20-yard touchdown in the first quarter, but the visitors quickly responded with a 75-yard touchdown on the kickoff return. Keith Collins returned Post's PAT attempt for 99 yards and 2 points.

Black scored on a 40-yard scamper and added the two-point conversion for additional first-quarter points. Post closed the opening period fireworks with a 47-yard return of a Floydada fumble for the Antelopes' final touchdown.

Keith Collins' 7-yard TD run, followed by a 2-point conversion pass to Martin Suarez from QB Cody Stovall in the second quarter, gave the 'Winds all the points they would need as their defense kept Post at bay for the remainder of the game.

Named as offensive players of the game by the coaches were Cody Stovall, Michael Black and Chris Sanchez. Outstanding defensive performances were turned in by Keith Collins, Martin Suarez, and Erbey Molinar. The Freshmen will play the Childress 9th graders in a 5:00 P.M. game on September 28 at Fair Park Stadium in Childress.

LHS Longhorns dominate Chieftains

Lockney Coach's Comments

By Rodney Dowell

The Lockney Longhorns up their record to 3-0 Friday night with a win over the Crosbyton Chiefs. The Horns dominated the first half of play with 19 unanswered points. The first score came via a quarterback sneak as Shannon Veal pushed the ball over the goalline for six points. Joe Marks added the extra point as the Horns took an early lead of 7-0.

As the Chiefs received the ball, the Longhorn defense took control of the tribal offense. After holding the Chiefs, the Lockney offense struck again with an impressive 70-yard drive that ended with a 16-yard Charles Van Zandt scamper. The ensuing extra point failed leaving Lockney with a commanding lead of 13 to 0.

Then on the following kickoff, J.R. Walker gave a devastating blow to the Chiefs' Jermal Carr. The hit not only leveled the ball carrier, but fueled the flame on the Longhorn bench. The Lockney defense came out swinging and struck big as they once again held the Chiefs' offense to the big zero. Once back on the trail, the powerful Lockney offense reached in its holster to draw on one of its many weapons. This time rifleman Shannon Veal fired his gun in the direction of J.R. Walker who turned a routine 16-yard pass into a 66-yard touchdown run. The PAT was once again no good, but the Longhorns ended the half on a positive with a lead of 19 to 0.

The second half appeared to be a repeat of the first with an early strike from the Longhorns offense. In the third quarter, Devon Phillips ended this 60-yard march to victory upping the Longhorn lead to 26 to 0.

Somehow the table turned slightly as the Chiefs struck swift with an Adam Reyna pass to Jerrod Gawens ending the Crosbyton draught. The Chieftains rain dance continued to cool off the red hot Horns when once again they hit pay dirt in the third quarter. The downpour came via an 84-yard run by Jeff Lang with the extra point failing, leaving the Horns' lead at 12 points.

As the fourth quarter opened, the rain turned into a slight sprinkle after Crosbyton could only capitalize on one more touchdown. Their last TD was a 1-yard run by Jeff Lang with a failed extra point which reignited the flames of the Lockney offense. Once the Horns had control of the ball, they ran out the remaining 5:21 left on the clock to close out the victory.

Our next Varsity game kicks off district in Springlake-Earth at 7:30 p.m. The Longhorns are looking forward to a very tough district race and we hope to see you there!!!

By Coach Moerbe

Another nail-biting victory for the Longhorns. We got the big lead and then barely held on. But the final score is the important thing.

Our goal was to go into district at 3-0. We have accomplished this, but now the real season starts. Everybody in this district can play. Lockney, Springlake, Hart, and Hale Center are all unbeaten and Olton and Morton have only one loss. It will take 48 minutes from here on out.

I think our kids have learned a few things these first 3 games. The main lesson is that a big lead or a big deficit doesn't mean much if there is a lot of time left on the clock. I think the Floydada and Crosbyton games have proven that. If we'll play 48 minutes, we can play with anybody on our schedule. If we don't play a full game, we will get beat. It's that simple. Everybody will be out to make up for last year when they play us, but if we will respond to the challenge I look for another successful season.

Offensive stalwarts were Devon Phillips (rushing), Shannon Veal (a fantastic audible on the TD strike to J.R. Walker) and the offensive line of Rowdy Boggs, Tim Mitchell, Carlos Perales, Simon Martinez, Danny Masquez, Josh Lambert, and Adrian Rosales.

Defensive Point Leaders in the game were: Devon Phillips-29, Willie Luna-20, Tim Mitchell-20, Carlos Perales-20.

Defensive Point Leaders for the season are: Devon Phillips-131, Willie Luna-93, Carlos Perales-88.

Have a Great Week!

GOT IT -- Lockney Longhorn J. R. Walker (#6) reaches up to rake in a pass during game action last Friday, September 22, against Crosbyton.

Send off for the Longhorns

Let's send the Longhorns off to Springlake-Earth in style by meeting in Aiken at 10 minutes after 4:00 p.m. on Friday. Sponsored by the Lockney Booster Club.

'Wind JV edges Post, 20-14

By Bill Gray

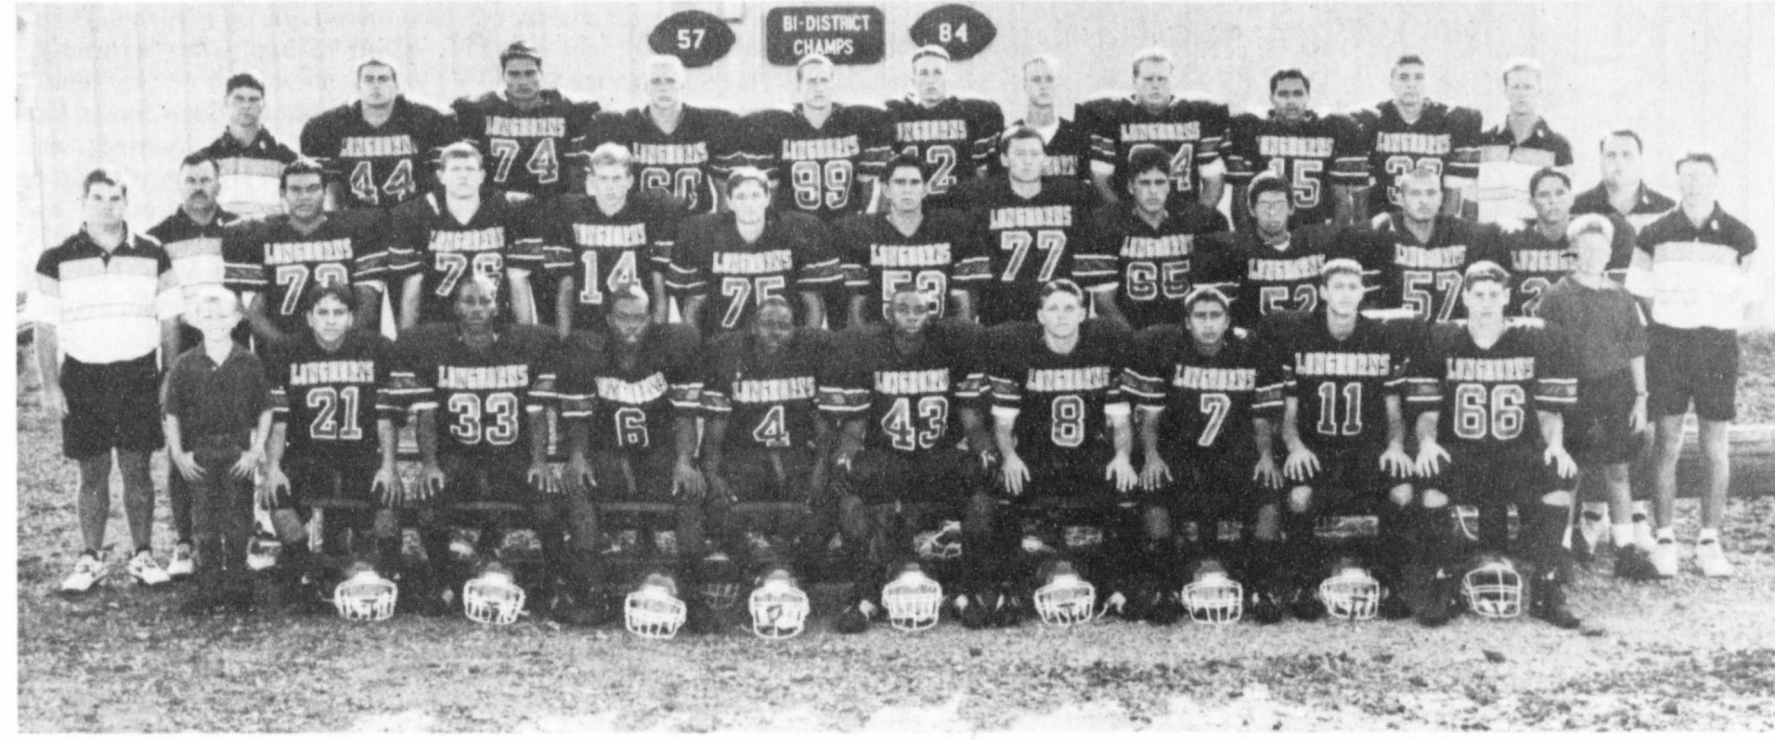

Floydada's Adam Perales scored from 9 yards out in the game's final moments as the JV Whirlwinds came from behind to defeat Post's junior varsity last Thursday. Blake Bramlett intercepted a Post aerial in the Antelopes' last opportunity to pull out a victory. The 'Wind junior varsity remains undefeated with a spotless 3-0 record for 1995.

The Whirlwinds forged to a 14-8 halftime lead on the strength of a 35-yard TD by Mario Nunez in the first period and a second-quarter 3-yard TD blast by Adam Perales. Nunez added the two-point conversion run following the Perales TD.

According to the coaches, "It was a great team effort by all the players." Perales and George Perez were cited for their offensive efforts. Bramlett and Nunez were named the outstanding defensive players.

The JV 'Winds put their unblemished record on the line when they travel to Childress this week. Kickoff at Fair Park Stadium against the JV Bobcats will be approximately 7:30 P.M.

By Todd Hallmark

The 8th Grade Shorthorns played the Crosbyton Chiefs for their first game of the year and came out on top with an 18-0 romping.

On the opening kickoff Brandon Prather took the ball and scampered 83 yards down to the Crosbyton 10-yard line. Two plays later, Scotty Lopez carried the ball in for a score. The offensive line played well this week and deserve much credit for the offensive success.

They include Kevin Aull, Carlos Nunez, Justin Graves, Adam Jones, Rolf Sherman and Nick Castro. Other scores in the game were Scotty Lopez for a second touchdown and Jordan Lambert, who scored on a 43-yard with time expired.

Defensively, the Shorthorns played tough shutting out the Chieftains, making big plays when they counted most. It was good to see the kids step up and make big plays when they needed to. Defensively Jessie Ledesma, Elias Saucedo, A.J. Martinez, John Gutierrez and Primo Salazar.

I am extremely proud of these young men in the way they played and I am happy to see them start the year out with a win. Their next game is Thursday, here, against Springlake-Earth starting with the 7th Grade at 4:30 p.m.

FJHS Breezer Football Report

By Bill Gray

Zack McNew's 5-yard touchdown run, followed by a two-point conversion by Bradley Minnix in the 4th quarter, broke a 6-all tie and vaulted the 7th Grade Breezers to a 14-6 victory at Post on September 21.

The Post 7th Graders returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown, but Joe Cuba's 30-yard TD run tied the game in the first quarter. The defensive struggle was played between the 20-yard lines for virtually the remainder of the game until Floydada's winning touchdown in the final period.

Antonio Santos had a good outing as he recovered a fumble to end one of Post's scoring threats. Named as outstanding defensive players by the coaches were Ruben Castillo, Marcus Riojas, and Leon Childers. The notable offensive players were McNew, Minnix, Isaac Ramirez, and Tyrel Fuller.

The 7th Grade Breezers will host Childress at 5:00 p.m. this week. Newcomer David Lightfoot's 50-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter allowed the 8th Grade Breezers to pull into a 6-6 tie at Post last week. Post's 8th Graders scored on a 15-yard TD in the third stanza. Neither team was able to make a conversion following its touchdown.

According to Coach Burns, "Our defense played well. Post had possession for most of the game, and we had to step up for the challenge - which we did. All the offense needs is to put together a drive." The coach added, "Post won last year 36-0, so we're a long way ahead of where we were last year."

Outstanding offensive players were Lightfoot, David Rainwater and Lonny Nelson. Outstanding defenders were: Brandon Wickware (line), Nelson (linebacker), Josh Tipton (secondary) and Justin McGuire (ends). The 8th Breezers will host Childress this week in junior high grid action.

LHS JV loses to Crosbyton

By David Sutterfield

The Lockney J.V.'s record fell to 1-2 Thursday with a loss to Crosbyton. The final score was 24-0. We just didn't play very well. It was a cold evening, but we have to learn to overcome the elements. Defensively Ryon Smith and Thad Lusk had good games. Their next game will be here against Springlake-Earth following the 7th and 8th Grade games.

Support School Sports!

LJHS 7th Grade Shorthorns play hard defensive game

By Coach Rodney Dowell

The 7th Grade Shorthorns dominating defense comes up big in the Lockney - Crosbyton show down. After the opening kick off, the Shorthorns fell on a Crosbyton 3rd down fumble. Once on offense, the Lockney team took the first play and turned it into six points. Lockney's Tauren McDonald ran the sweep play for a 45 yard touchdown. McDonald also did the honors by carrying in the two point conversion placing the shorthorns up by a score of 8 to 0.

Then the Shorthorn defense took control holding the Chiefs to an unbelievable 65 yards total offense and scoring one touchdown. The defensive touchdown was the second touchdown of the night for the Shorthorns. Christopher Ascencio, a defensive tackle picked up a fumbled pitch and rambled 79 yards for a touchdown. The extra point duties were done by Anthony Garza as he powered in the ball from three yards and upping the Lockney lead to 16 - 0.

Coach Hallmark (the 7th grade defensive coordinator) said, "Our defense was overwhelming and we are very proud of how hard these young men played."

The half ended with Lockney up 16 to 0, after only running five offensive plays the entire half.

The second half brought even more misery for the tribe in purple and yellow. The Shorthorn Paul Rivera scored on a misdirection play put on especially for Crosbyton. "Coach Ventura had noticed that last years Crosbyton Jr. High defenses really flew hard to the ball, so I decided to give his play a shot", said Coach Dowell. After the extra points were added by Julian Guerrero, the Shorthorn lead was now 24 to 0. The last score for Lockney was a 7 yard run by A.J. Thornton and his two point conversion was carried in by Jonathan Martinez, upping the stakes to 32 to 0. The Shorthorn defense had done an excellent job so far, but was unable to keep the Chiefs from scoring.

Crosbyton's quarterback ran in a 15 yard touchdown off the quarterback sneak, but was unable to connect on the two point conversion. "The score ended with Lockney 32 and Crosbyton 6, and I was extremely proud of these young men. This was like deja vue for me. I've coached one group with this much talent, but I never thought I'd have the opportunity to coach two. These kids are going to be really good. They do not yet realize how good they really could be at this point. "I am proud to be their Coach and I hope each one of them stick it out through high school football", said Coach Dowell.

The outstanding offensive players this week were Tauren McDonald, A.J. Thornton, Chase Graves, Kelsey Schumacher, Anthony Garza, and Julian Guerrero. Plus, our entire offensive line did an excellent job. Defensively, our standouts were Brandon Hennagan, Heath Stoerner, Kelsey Schumacher, Jeremy Butler, Marcus Muniz, A.J. Thornton and Miguel Padilla.

Our next game will be here this Thursday, as we take on Springlake-Earth at 4:30 p.m. We look forward to seeing you there.

● Daddy Coaches in Lockney schools boost athletes grades

by providing afternoon and early morning tutorials.

"We help by making sure they get to those tutorials, complete their homework and turn it in.

"I knew a student, who was not in athletics, who flunked a class recently," said Norwood. "He told me he wished he had had a Daddy Coach to check on him."

Lori Satterwhite, a Sophomore and Junior English teacher at Lockney High School, is one of the many teachers who are enthusiastically embracing this program.

"It is a wonderful program," said Satterwhite. "It is the best show of support for classroom teachers I've ever seen. The coaches are so diligent to check on the academic status of the athlete. Every week I have coaches coming to see me. If something comes up before they come see me then I go find them.

"If there are any problems, either academic or behavior, the coaches point the kids in the right direction. The teachers also tell the coaches when the athletes are doing well and then the coaches pass it on. It is very encouraging.

"We tell the coaches if tutorials are needed and they see to it that the students are there. Football practice starts at 3:30 p.m. and tutorials are not over until 3:30. I have never had a coach complain that a student is late and I know they are always late from tutorials.

"The students respond well to something being called to the coaches attention. They know they are accountable to the coaches as well as the teachers for their academic work. They will get in trouble with the teachers and coaches. I think it has produced some very good results."

It does appear to have produced very good results. In the first six weeks of the 1995 school year there have been only 2 JV athletes to fail a grade. The first year the program began there were no failures of students involved in the football program and only 3 students all year long who were involved in various other athletic activities.

Senior Longhorn player Shannon Veal said he has been in the athletic program for four years and he thinks the Daddy Coaches program "is the best".

"They've kept up with us," said Veal. "They let us know if the teachers are having problems and if we are getting behind. They find out about the slightest thing. We don't get away with anything.

"If we miss a day the Daddy Coaches get our homework and assignments for us."

As Shannon and all the other athletes know, the grades are not the only things they have to watch in class. They are well aware that discipline problems will not be tolerated. "If there is a discipline problem we get 'extra conditioning'," said Shannon with a smile.

It is obvious by talking to Veal that the "extra conditioning" is accepted with the understanding that it comes from coaches who truly care about these young men.

"We get closer through the Daddy Coaches program," said Veal. "We've become better friends." They have also learned through the program that their other teachers also care about them succeeding in every aspect of their school life.

The teachers have come to appreciate the coaches and the coaches in turn respect the classroom teachers desires.

The athletes know they have the support of their Daddy Coaches and As Satterwhite said, "I was an athlete in school and I know there were coaches begging teachers to pass certain kids just so they could continue to participate in the sports program. The teachers and coaches were always at odds with each other. That is not the case here."

Veal seemed to sum up the feelings of the athletes and teachers when he said, "We know Coach Moerbe cares just as much about grades as he does the athletic program."

FNB in Lockney names Floyd County students to junior board of directors

The First National Bank in Lockney has named six students from Lockney and Floydada and three students from Olton to their junior board of directors.

The students making up the board are:

Lockney Parent Advisory Council schedules meeting on October 3

LOCKNEY—The Parent Advisory Council will be having a meeting on Tuesday, October 3, 1995, at 7:30 p.m. at the Lockney Elementary Cafeteria.

Parents of students who are in the Chapter I Reading or Math and Migrant are cordially invited, other parents interested in attending this meeting may also attend. Everyone is welcome to come.

All parents can be of great assistance in providing assistance in the planning and implementation of an effective Title I program. Each parent's input and consultation is of great value to our school district, for the reason that the parents, the school staff, and students will share the responsibility in achieving student achievement.

After the meeting there will be some door prizes to give away to the lucky winners, and refreshments will be served. Try your best to be there that night ... Thanks.

Cold tolerance of cotton studied

By M'Lys Lloyd

Most of us don't mind the cool temperatures in the spring and the fall, but for High Plains farmers it can mean the difference between a bumper cotton crop and one that's not.

Dr. Norman Hopper, an associate professor of agronomy at Texas Tech University and a cotton research scientist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here, is studying ways to enhance cold tolerance of cotton. His research is funded under grants by Cotton Incorporated and the Texas State Support Committee. In addition, he is experimenting with a polymer seed coating that may improve seedling emergence under cool conditions.

The High Plains of Texas are indeed high — more than 3,000 feet above sea level — meaning that the Lubbock area may experience cool temperatures during the spring and fall.

"One of the problems we face here is a short growing season," Hopper said, although not in terms of the number of days between spring and fall frost dates.

"It's a short growing season in terms of total heat units available to mature the crop," he explained. "Because we often have these low spring and fall temperatures, this reduces the number of heat units available."

As a result, the cotton crop has to be planted early, and it usually encounters cool spring temperatures, especially at night, Hopper said.

Cotton is a crop of tropical origin, and it likes warm temperatures. When it is planted under cool conditions, it slows germination, emergence, establishment, and growth.

Hopper and his research team are trying to improve the emergence of cotton under cool conditions.

"There are several ways to approach this, and one is through genetics. We try to select lines that have cold tolerance, which means they can germinate and emerge under cooler temperatures than other lines," Hopper said.

"We try to incorporate genes for cold tolerance into lines and varieties that will eventually have the genetic capacity to germinate and grow under cool conditions," he explained.

The second way is to look at some kind of physical method that will enhance germination and emergence.

"One of the things we are looking at is trying to identify why these early-season cool temperatures tend to hurt germination and emergence. We know that as a dry seed imbibes (absorbs) cold water, cellular damage occurs, primarily to the membranes," Hopper said.

When seed membranes are damaged, one of two things will happen. If enough damage occurs, the seed will never germinate. The second is that the seed will receive a certain amount of chilling injury.

Depending on how much injury there is, the seed may not germinate and emerge. If the seed is injured, it is going to emerge slower than if no injury occurred.

"One of the things we believe is happening is that as dry seed imbibe cold water too fast, the membranes in the cell are cold and not very elastic" and they may rupture, he said.

Polymer films, however, form a coating on the seeds, slowing the water uptake and letting the cells stretch slowly instead of quickly under the cold conditions.

"Now we don't want to slow the imbibition a whole lot because this would also slow emergence. Slowing emergence would have the same effect as delaying planting and thus not utilizing the entire growing season."

Some secondary things can happen too, the scientist noted.

When cells rupture they are dead. If enough cells rupture, then the seed dies or doesn't have the capacity to germinate. Anytime a seed is damaged but not killed, vigor is reduced.

"The amount of vigor loss will determine whether the seed will survive. Anytime we've ruptured those cells like that, it may not be enough to keep it from coming up, meaning it can still go ahead and emerge," Hopper said.

Anytime a cell is ruptured, its contents — rich in amino acids and sugars — actually spill out into the seed environment. This becomes the perfect media for pathogenic organisms (such as fungus and bacteria), which can cause the seed to die.

"What we are hoping to do with the polymer coating is to slow imbibition, causing less damage to the seed," Hopper said. "In addition, we won't have cellular contents in the soil acting as a media for pathogenic organisms, both of which should give us a higher emergence."

Emu seminar set for October 3

An emu seminar is scheduled for Tuesday, October 3 at 7:00 p.m. in the Floyd County Extension Office Meeting Room.

"Anyone who is interested in the emu industry is invited to attend," stated Jim Bob Reynolds, CEA-Ag.

EMU -

A New Frontier in Ranching

Just imagine what America will be like, decades from now, when millions of Emu will be feeding on our ranches. Much of our nation will be a greener, healthier and better place to live. Many extended families will once again thrive and grow in reborn rural communities.

The emu is a prehistoric bird thought to have roamed the outback of Australia many years ago. Much like the Native Americans' relationship with the bison, the Aborigines looked upon the emu as the core of their existence. The emu provided them with shelter and spiritual sustenance. Today, this bird of the past is playing a large role in the future of America agriculture.

The timeless emu is driving the fastest growing, most dynamic agriculture industry in the U.S. And it's in its infancy. Approximately ten thousand American families are pioneering an active breeders' market, developing a new livestock industry.

Reasons for the sustained growth of emu ranching in the U.S. are many and varied: People are finding emu ranching rewarding and relatively easy to get into. Very little land is required -- emu operations averaged less than fifteen acres. The annual overhead is low, and the growth potential is exciting. For birds so large, ranchers find emu gentle and easy to raise.

Emu adapt to hot and cold temperature and thrive on a simple diet, converting feed to weight gain very efficiently. Emu are environmentally friendly and can actually restore damaged land. Australian farmers have found that, run on poor cleared country, emu will actually rebuild depleted soil via recycled waste.

Mature proven emu breeder hens can produce approximately 20 chicks a year and can be productive for 20 years or more, making emu more profitable to raise than traditional livestock.

The profile of the American emu rancher is dynamic and diversified. Traditional farmers and ranchers have found emu ranching can provide alternatives and increase their profitability per acre. Early retirees, corporate burnouts, and military personnel are seizing the opportunity for a more enjoyable livelihood and lifestyle.

Young families have simply jumped at the chance to earn a good living in a good environment.

Emu ranchers are people of all ages eagerly seeking the American dream. They want to participate in something rewarding, with the reward above and beyond financial gains.

Emu ranching fills this rather tall order. It provides a way to feather your future. Emu ranching promises an opportunity to create a new family heritage and a more desirable lifestyle that heralds a new century.

High Plains cotton growers launch boll weevil offensive

Many people have been concerned with the potential effect of the program on beneficial insects early in the season. That won't be a problem in this area since early season treatments will not be used until 1998. By that time, explains Haldenby, two things will have happened: First the size of the area that will need these treatments will be greatly reduced; Second, refinements to program operations will have been devised, tested and proven in other areas so that we can avoid similar problems.

By the time the eradication phase of the program gets underway in 1998 the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, PCG and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be able to develop new techniques and strategies that will help to preserve beneficial insects early in the season. Work on this problem is already underway in other areas of Texas currently actively engaged in eradicating the boll weevil and will allow the High Plains Program to take advantage of what they learn.

The PCG Program is currently the largest pest control operation in the world and makes use of the latest in aircraft and guidance technology. All of the aircraft being used on the 1995 Program are turbine powered giving them extended range and carrying capacity. They can also make treatment applications with increased effectiveness while flying at safer heights and higher speeds. In the old days of the program planes had to fly lower to ensure maximum coverage.

Today's modern aircraft are able to effectively apply the 12 ounces of ULV Malathion used on the program, the same material used by countless towns and cities for mosquito control each year. PCG performs regular checks to ensure the accuracy of each aircraft by putting out dye cards that provide a physical picture of actual spray coverage at ground level.

In addition to the random use of dye cards PCG also makes use of the latest aircraft guidance and tracking technology during Program operations. PCG was leader in developing the technology that allowed aerial applicators to move away from human flaggers for aircraft guidance. Using a guidance system developed by Satloc, Inc. of Tempe, Arizona, the PCG Program utilizes the latest in Global Positioning System (GPS) technology to aid in the tracking and control of aircraft used on the Program. Each plane is equipped with the Satloc system which serves double duty on the Program. The first function it provides is the ability to accurately track an aircraft's movement across a field without the need for human flaggers, showing the pilot where their next pass should begin. The second function of the Satloc units is to provide computerized records of each aircraft flight for quality control and record-keeping by program personnel.

The Satloc system allows PCG personnel to print a copy of an aircraft's actual flight path, giving them the ability to quickly keep track of what fields have and have not been treated.

"Every effort is made to ensure the quality and precision of program applications for boll weevil control," says Haldenby. "Using 21st century technology provides us the ability to keep program costs down while maximizing the effectiveness of each and every control application."

PCG feels that by utilizing the latest technology cotton producers of the High Plains will gain maximum benefit from the dollars they have paid to rid themselves of the boll weevil once and for all.

CONGRESSIONAL REPORT

By

Congressman Mac Thornberry
U.S. Representative, 13th District

As most people know by now, this past April the Medicare Board of Trustees released their annual report on the health of the Medicare system. In their report, the Board — which includes three members of the President's cabinet — warned that the Medicare system would be bankrupt by the year 2002 if something is not done to prevent it.

"The Medicare program is clearly unsustainable in its present form," they wrote. "The Trust Fund continues to be severely out of balance and is projected to be exhausted in about seven years." As if to erase any doubts that the problem required immediate attention, the Trustees concluded their report by stating, "We strongly recommend that the crisis presented by the financial condition of the Medicare Trust Fund be urgently addressed on a comprehensive basis, including a review of the program's financing methods, benefit provisions and delivery mechanisms."

In the five months since the report was released, Congress has held 28 hearings on Medicare reform. Members like me also spent a lot of time back home asking folks what they thought about the issue. In fact, I spent much of the past summer driving around the District meeting with people about Medicare. I spoke with seniors and talked with doctors. I toured hospitals and visited nursing homes. I heard horror stories about the system, and its rampant waste, abuse, and fraud. I also heard how much Medicare means to those individuals who rely on the system every day.

Along with other members of the House, I passed along what I heard to the congressional leadership and the committees responsible for writing the bill. They turned around and put this information into a plan which was released last week. The plan is called The Medicare Preservation Act of 1995. It is a blueprint for reform. I say blueprint because it is not set in stone. We realize that you can't change a 30-year old program overnight. It takes time. It takes hard work. And it takes open communication between Congress and the American people. This is why I am asking every voter in the 13th District to read as much as they can about the blueprint over the next few weeks and then to contact me with their thoughts and opinions.

Perhaps the first and most important thing anyone should know about this plan is that it does save Medicare. It does so by maintaining the same level of benefits Medicare recipients have always received without raising taxes. This is a critical point to keep in mind, for there have been warnings about Medicare before and Congress has always taken steps to repair it. But these repairs were made by increasing taxes. The federal government has raised payroll taxes 23 times in the past 27 years, yet Medicare is still going broke. Raising taxes is not the answer. Reducing the rate of the system's growth is. Medicare has been growing at a rate of 10.5 percent. We want to bring it down to the rate the private health care sector is growing at — around 6.5 percent. Medicare spending will still increase over the next seven years by $1,900 — from $4,800 per person in 1995 to $6,700 per person in the year 2002.

The next important thing to remember about this proposal is that it gives seniors the right to choose the health care plan that serves their needs the best. One size does not fit everyone. Accordingly, under the blueprint, every senior would be mailed a brochure containing a list of plans from which to choose. Traditional Medicare would be included among these plans, but so would plans for the private sector. No plan would offer fewer benefits than Medicare currently provides, and not all of the plans would cost the same. Indeed, some people may choose to spend a little more money on a plan that gives them the type of coverage that they desire, while others may choose to remain in traditional Medicare. The important thing is that Medicare will still be there — but so will some other choices, as well.

Another important thing to remember about this plan is that it combats waste, fraud, and abuse. As Medicare is designed now, doctors are paid for procedures whether the patient needs them or not. The result is that taxpayers get cheated out of their money and Medicare patients get cheated out of proper care. By allowing the private sector to compete for your business, the system will root out fraud and abuse and squeeze out waste. Frivolous paperwork and regulations will be cut, and tough anti-fraud provisions will be enforced. One of the more innovative of these provisions will allow seniors to turn the tables on Medicare cheats by reporting cases of fraud and abuse. In cases where fraud is proven, the senior who reports it will receive a cash reward.

The final point to remember about this plan is one that I made before. This plan is just a blueprint, and will be refined as Congress hears back from the American people. I spent this past weekend in Claude and Wellington talking it over with some folks up there, and will be doing the same in other towns over the next few weeks. It is highly unlikely that everyone will like everything in this bill. Already, the plan is being criticized by some for increasing monthly premiums for Medicare Part B. While it is true that premiums under the proposal will increase to $90 in seven years, it must also be remembered that premiums would have increased anyway. Indeed, the monthly premium has nearly doubled in the last seven years alone. In 1988, the average premium was $24.80. This year it is $46.10. A similar increase over the next seven years may be reasonable, particularly when one considers that it is only $7 more than the premium increase contained in the President's budget. The only difference between the two plans is that our proposal saves Medicare and his does not.

Be Healthy.
Please Don't Smoke.

PRELIMINARY NOTICE
The Rural economic and Community Development (RECD) has received an application for financial assistance from the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority to develop three wells and construct transmission lines from the three new well to the present distribution system.

The specific elements of the proposed action are to construct three deep wells, one each in the Floydada area, Tulia, and the Silverton area. The Tulia site is in a cultivated field within the city limits, next to the existing Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority pump station. The Silverton site is within the Right of Way of Farm Road 207 and is adjacent to pasture land except at the crossing of Rock Creek. The Floydada site is located at the city of Floydada's farm, with transmission main running through pasture land to the City's water well field. Approximately 54,000 feet of water line will be required to connect the wells to the present system. Other improvements include the electrical, pumps, motors and controls.

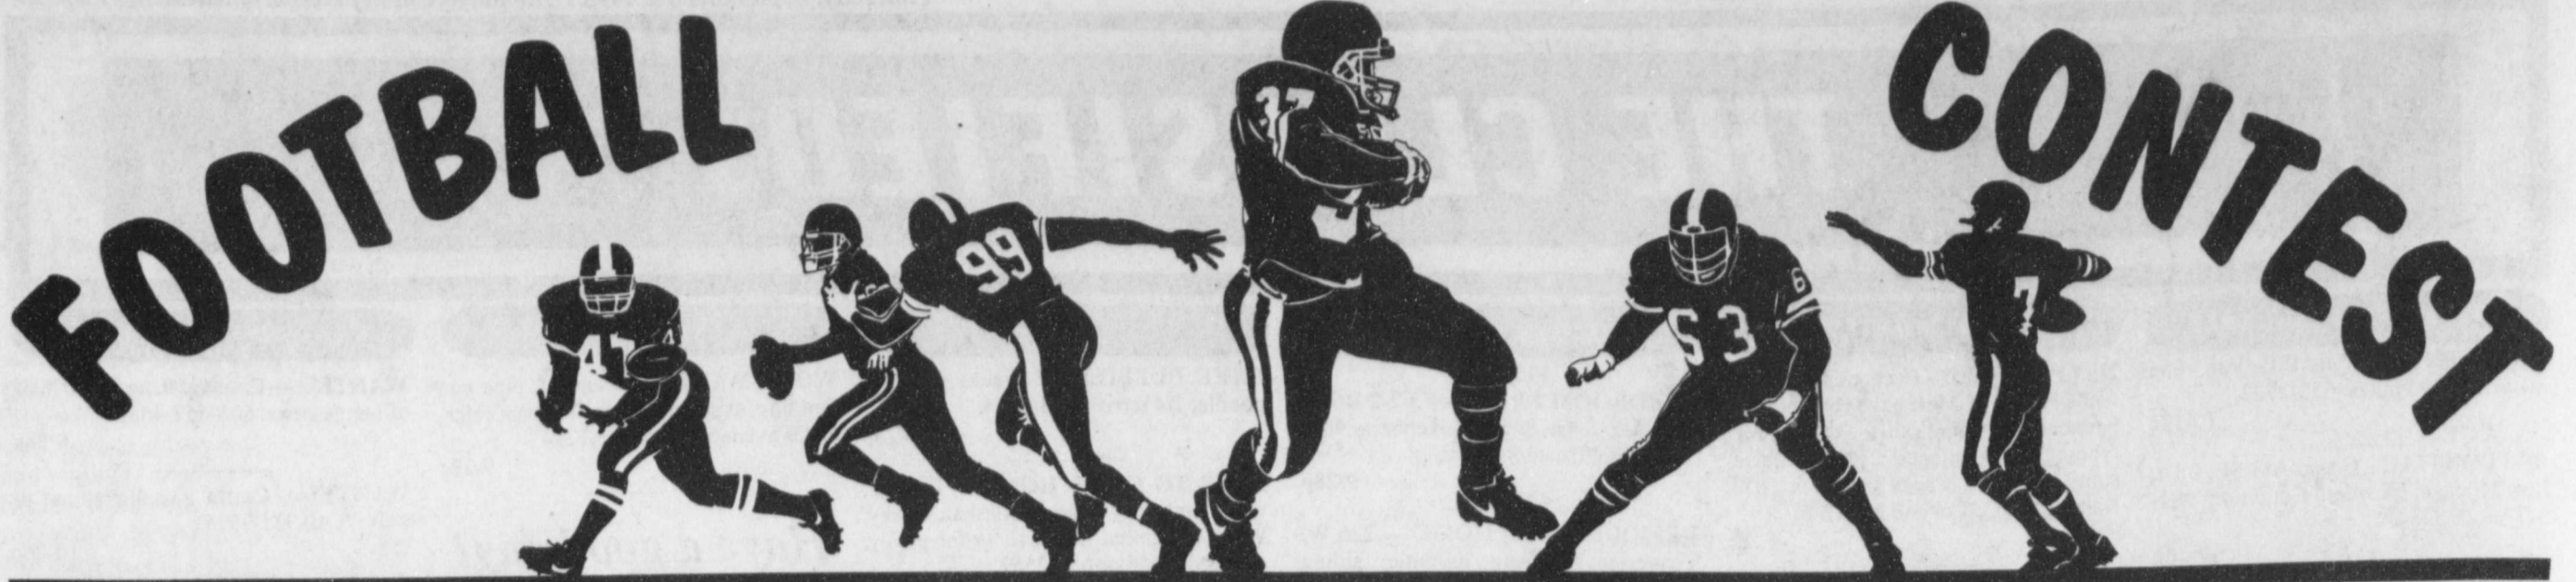

If implemented, the project has a potential to impact two important land resources: Prime farmlands and floodplains. The proposed improvements may result in conversion of prime and unique farmland within the service area and has potential to impact floodplains.

RECD has determined there is no practicable alternative to the location of the wells and the transmission lines. The Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority proposes to mitigate potential adverse impacts to the resources by installing minimum size lines, and restricting water services to future customers in floodplain areas.

No other federal agencies are participating in the project.

Anyone desiring to make comments or review maps showing the locations of important land resources, or to obtain additional information about the project may contact the office below. Written comments may be made by mail, but must be received within thirty (30) days of this publication for consideration by the Rural Economic and Community Development in preparation of the environmental review. Rural Economic and Community Development, ATTN: Bobby J. Sparkman, P.O. Box 1946, 500 Dallas Street, Plainview, Texas 79072 9-28, 10-5c

Contest Rules

Any subscriber or purchaser age 7 or older is eligible to enter this contest. Only one entry per week per person.

To play, circle on the official entry form, the numbers of the teams you believe will win this week's games. To indicate a tie, circle the numbers of both teams playing the game. Also write a guess of the combined total points to be scored by the two teams listed in each of the tie-breaker footballs. Circle the team you believe will win. Circle both teams if you think the game will end in a tie.

Only entries on official entry forms brought to a Hesperian-Beacon office in Floydada or Lockney no later than 5:00 p.m. on Friday. No photocopies will be accepted and no mail entries will be considered.

Three cash prizes are awarded each week. In the event of ties (the same number of correct games & equal scores on tie-breakers) prizes will be combined & shared by those tied. The tie-breaker scores will be used only in the event of a tie on the number of games correct.
