A view from The Lamplighter By Ken Towery

To applause from President Clinton and editorial writers at the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, the Senate's ideological leftists have managed to turn aside another attempt to protect the American flag from those who enjoy seeing it burn.

By a pre-Christmas vote of 63-36, three votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority, the proposed constitutional amendment failed. The amendment would have allowed Congress to pass laws protecting the flag from desecration. Mr. Clinton didn't like that, and he found enough support within his own party to block passage. So the issue will remain.

One cannot help wondering what Mr. Clinton's position would be if the issue was over burning the United Nations' flag, rather than the American flag. That might very well pose a problem for him, as it surely would for many in the Senate who voted with him on this occasion. And it would no doubt pose a problem for those current editorial writers who still remember fondly their own days in the "protest" movement of the 60's and 70's, while their more valorous cousins did what was asked of them.

We live in an age when the English language has been twisted, changed and distorted beyond belief. But we have never been able to understand how the Supreme Court can count the physical act of flag desecration as a form of "speech," protected by the Constitution. The same court that says one cannot yell "fire" in a crowded theatre, because it might cause pandemonium, says burning the flag is permissible, despite the fact that it too might cause riot and the loss of life.

Mr. Clinton, seeking refuge in his trademarked "yes, but" approach to public issues, says he would be willing to sign a piece of legislation outlawing desecration of the flag (knowing full well the Supreme Court would strike it down) but he is unwilling to support a more certain means of achieving the same end. Clearly, one believes Mr. Clinton at one's own peril.

Still, the more disheartening aspect of this issue is not Clinton's approach. He is, after all, merely the slickest of slick politicians. The more disheartening aspect, in our opinion, is the position taken by gutless editorial writers in our national media. One would think that since words are the media's stock in trade, "the press" would insist that words have meaning, that words have consequences. Otherwise, of what value is the Constitution? Of what value is the First Amendment to that Constitution? If the meaning of "Speech" is to be changed every time a new majority takes over on the Supreme Court, and changed to the applause of those who profess to be its guardians, of what value are the Constitution's guarantees for "free speech?"

Our brethren in the daily press write reams of editorials about "freedom of the press," about journalistic and political ethics, but roll over and play dead when confronted with a choice between hypocrisy and intellectual honesty in reporting the issues of the day, or whether they will confront government edicts affecting their own operation.

We suspect the flag issue will hang around. Mr. Clinton and his clones in the Senate, and in the press, probably haven't seen the last of it. We hope not.

Race develops for County Sheriff

Candidates file intent to seek public office

For the first time in the memory of Floyd County residents the race for the Floyd County Sheriff will not be decided in the Democratic Primary.

Candidate deadlines were over January 2nd, and three men have filed their intentions to seek that public office.

Incumbent Sheriff Royce Gilmore, of Floydada, will face Dan McAnally, of Lockney, in the Democratic Primary. The winner of the primary will then face Republican Challenger John (J.W.) White in the November general election. White, of Floydada, is currently a deputy in the Floyd County Sheriff's Department.

Signing up for re-election, but facing no challengers, are incumbents Connie Bearden, Commissioner Pct. 1; George Taylor, Commissioner Pct. 3; Penny Golightly, Tax Assessor/Collector; and Ray Macha, Constable of Pct. 2 & 3.

Early voting for the primary race will begin Feb. 21st., and will end March 8th. The primary voting will be held March 12th.

Lockney Junior Stock Show set for Saturday

LOCKNEY - The Lockney Junior Livestock Show will be exhibiting their animals on Saturday, January 6, beginning at 9:00 a.m. The show will be held in the show barn at the Floyd County Fairgrounds east of Lockney.

The livestock show is sponsored by the Lockney Chamber of Commerce and they will be presenting the ribbons and prize money.

Chairman of the event will be Ted Young and Tina Graves will serve as secretary. Judge for the event will be Terry Phillips of Seagraves, an ag teacher.

Animals are to be in the showbarn by 6:00 p.m. on Friday and they will be weighed in at 7:00 p.m. There will be a $5.00 entry fee for each animal and it will be payable at the time the animal is weighed in.

Lambs will be shown first, followed by pigs. The steers will be the last animals shown.

The exhibitors must be under the supervision of County Agent Jim Bob Reynolds or Lockney Vocational Agriculture Instructor Ted Young and be enrolled in school in Lockney.

The Floyd County Junior Livestock Show is scheduled for the last week in January, on the 26, 27, and 28th. The livestock sale will be held on Monday, January 29.

Drop in bank deposits reflects low yields in '95

A decline in deposits at both Floyd County banks was a reflection of the decreased agriculture income in 1995, according to local bankers.

At the close of business, Dec. 31, 1995, the deposits at the First National Bank of Floydada were $65,368,063.92, a drop of $7,217,917.16 from the same day in 1994.

Loans at The First National Bank were $23,176,756.44, an increase of $4,663,314.04 from 1994.

At the First National Bank in Lockney, deposits Dec. 31, 1995 were $63,704,953.72. This number reflects deposits from the Lockney bank as well as their other banks in Paducah, Olton and Floydada.

Deposits for the Lockney bank, at the end of 1994, were $53,936,814.66.

According to Ronnie Hardin, the president of the First National Bank in Lockney, "We show an increase in deposits because we acquired the Paducah bank this year." Paducah's deposits are not reflected in the 1994 total.

"The crops were late coming off," said Hardin, "and the farmers are slower selling their crops this year."

Loan totals with the Lockney owned banks were $19,162,196.94 at the end of '95, which is an increase of $4,484,816.96 from '94.

"It was a short crop year," said Tom Farris, president of The First National Bank of Floydada. "Although the cotton and grain prices were good the yields were off dramatically from the previous two years."

"The loan volume is up because there was no crop for a pay down. There is still a lot of unsold cotton that will be sold in the next few weeks and then there will be some pay down on the loans."

BUILDING SPURT CONTINUES--Several new homes and additions were built in Lockney in 1995 and the construction is continuing. Construction of this new Lockney home can be seen from Highway 70. Floydada and Lockney have both seen an increase in the number of building permits issued by the cities.

Cities building permits show growth and improvement over three years

Many may believe that the communities of Lockney and Floydada are standing still, but a check of the building permits issued over the past three years reflects something different.

Lockney and Floydada permits have showed a growth since 1993.

In Lockney, in 1995, a total of $690,600.00 were issued in building permits. Of that, $508,000.00 was issued for new homes (mobile and built on site); the new Lockney Library was $291,000.00, business improvement was $150,000.00 and other permits for room additions, carports, etc., totaled $32,600.00.

In Floydada, 40 permits were issued for a total of $1,953,575.00. This included improvements at the Nursing Home, the FUSD gym and the Mt. Zion's new church.

In Lockney, the 1994 permits totaled $308,900.00. Of that, $187,000 was issued for homes (built and moved-in); business improvement at Allsup's was $50,000 and $71,900.00 was paid for room additions, carports, etc.

In Floydada, 35 building permits were issued in 1994, for a total of $330,700. This included Floydada EMS, City Hall and Lowe's Pay-N-Save improvement.

Lockney's 1993 permits totaled $103,150.00, which included $15,000 for houses and trailers, and $89,150.00 for "other".

Floydada issued 55 permits in 1993, totaling $596,850.00. This included two new residences and construction of the Caprock Community Action building.

New owners take over local radio station

As of January 1st, Floydada's radio station, KAWA AM and KFLL FM, are under the management of new owners, Tony and Pamela Ricketts.

The Ricketts are currently living in Plainview but are planning a move to Floydada.

Both are native to the Panhandle area. Pamela was born and raised in Lorenzo and her husband, is originally from Dalhart.

The two met at Wayland Baptist University where Tony received his BBA in Marketing. Pamela later graduated from WT in Canyon, with a BA in Education.

According to Tony he started broadcasting in 1982, by working for "free" for the Dalhart Radio station. "I worked for six months with no pay, so I could learn the ropes."

Tony has also worked for KVOP in Plainview, Q102, KISS FM and Z93 in Amarillo.

"We moved back to Plainview where I worked for six years at KKYN as the operations manager," said Tony. "I also did the morning show."

KKYN then bought out KVOP and STAR 97, and the last two years Tony helped manage all of the stations.

Pamela is no stranger to Floydada, having taught Spanish at Floydada High School in the 1991-92 school year. She is currently teaching Spanish at Plainview High School and will finish the school year before moving to Floydada.

"I hope to have two separate formats on the AM & FM show," said Tony, "and I want to approach the FCC about a 24 hour operation."

"We will be bringing in new equipment and computers. The computers will run the commercials and audio."

Tony also said the station is now using CD's all the time and he will be working at cleaning up the sound of the station.

"For the time being we will stick with country music," said Tony, however within the next six months we will be doing research to see what type of music the community wants to hear."

NEW OWNERS HIT AIRWAVES--Tony Ricketts (in photo) and his wife, Pamela, are the new owners of Floydada's KAWA AM and KFLL FM Radio Station.

The Ricketts, of Plainview, purchased the station from Bob Alldredge on January 1st. The Ricketts plan a move to Floydada as soon as possible. Staff Photo

BY THE WAY

BY
ALICE GILROY

Little kids make the holidays so much fun—even if it is sometimes very loud fun.

My son's favorite gift this Christmas was probably the money he got from his grandparents.

He has been saving his allowances and birthday monies and had accumulated $146.00 (he is going to buy a car when he is 16).

I kept telling him we were going to go open him a savings account so he could keep his money in a safe place. I kept telling him, but it took his MeMa to get some action on this thing.

After Brandon had opened all his presents on Christmas morning, MeMa pointed out to him that he had forgotten one pinned to the tree. It was a card that is designed to hold cash.

Brandon opened it up and read the inscription on the card out loud and then read the signature which said, "This will help you open your very first Savings Account."

Brandon looked at his MeMa and said, sincerely and sweetly, "Thank-you MeMa (he still had not looked inside the card—he just thought she had given him a pretty card).

I said, "What is inside Brandon?" He looked in the folder and shouted, "A check!—Oh IT'S A CHECK!! I CAN'T BELIEVE IT!!!! I'VE NEVER GOTTEN A CHECK BEFORE!!! THANK-YOU MEMA!!

His eyes were wide and his mouth was gaping (he had no idea how much the check was for!)

I said, "How much is the check for?"

"OH NO!!," said Brandon, "IT'S FOR $100 DOLLARS!!! ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS!! I CAN'T BELIEVE IT!!"

Then he grabbed his head and said, "Uh Oh—I THINK I'M GOING TO FAINT!!!"

This was not an act folks. He was as pale as a ghost. It was like I will look when Publisher's Clearinghouse finally chooses my name. That $100 was just as good as 1 million to him.

We had to make him put his head down and take deep breaths!

The first day we could get to the bank after the holidays—Brandon and I were opening him an account. He was treated just like Malcolm Forbes Jr.

Everything was explained to him. He didn't understand any of it but he will never forget it!

Speaking of being grateful for Christmas presents, I heard another cute story over the holidays.

Two year old Lauren Bain (she is almost three), is staying with her Aunt Judy and Uncle Ray Macha. Her mother was expecting a new baby over the holidays and Aunt Judy volunteered to keep Lauren until the blessed event.

Lauren is at the age where everything is her's—especially the super neat stuff. Not only are all toys her's but anybody she likes also belongs to her.

Judy took her out to look at the bright moon the other night. Little Lauren's eyes got wide and she said, "My moon!"

She is lots of fun.

Anyway her mother had her baby on Christmas Day. She called Lauren up and said, "Lauren—you have a new baby sister!"

Lauren gasped and said sweetly, "Thank-you Mommy!"

Citizens must inform police of guns when stopped for traffic violations

Concealed handgun license holders who are stopped for traffic violations after Jan. 1 should let law enforcement officers know if they are carrying their weapons.

Department of Public Safety troopers will begin asking motorists whether they have concealed handgun licenses, whether they have their weapons with them and, if so, where the guns are located. Troopers will have the discretion to disarm license holders if they feel safety is at risk.

At the first opportunity, licensees should let officers know where their weapons are located. If asked for identification while carrying their handguns, they always must present their concealed handgun licenses along with their driver licenses or I.D. cards.

During traffic stops, citizens carrying guns should keep their hands in plain sight and cooperate fully with law enforcement officers to ensure everyone's safety.

License holders may begin legally carrying their concealed guns Jan. 1. At the end of 1995, approximately 1,200 licenses have been issued by the DPS. More than 170,000 people have requested application forms, and more than 35,000 have returned their completed application packet to the DPS.

CONGRESSIONAL REPORT

By
Congressman Mac Thornberry
U.S. Representative, 13th District

In a strongly worded letter to the President, myself and 28 other members of the House Rural Health Care Coalition criticized the Administration for putting forward a Medicare plan that unfairly penalizes rural communities.

"Throughout the Medicare reform debate," the Coalition states in the December 20 letter, "we have been active proponents of provisions beneficial to the delivery and preservation of rural health care. After reviewing the Medicare plan in your seven year budget package, we were extremely disappointed with the lack of consideration given to rural beneficiaries, providers and facilities."

The Coalition's main objection to the Clinton plan was the Adjusted Average Per Capita Cost (AAPCC) payment formula. The AAPCC is Medicare's estimate of the average per capita amount it would spend for a given beneficiary who was not enrolled in an HMO and who obtained services on the usual fee-for-service basis. Under the current structure, AAPCC rates vary dramatically by region of the country. Counties with low utilization rates, generally concentrated in rural areas, receive low reimbursement rates, thus providing managed care firms little incentive to offer plans in low utilization areas. Congress wants to establish a floor for all AAPCC payments. The President does not.

In addition to this problem, the President also excludes from his Medicare proposal other important provisions that would benefit rural communities, including:

*Bonus payments to rural primary care physicians practicing in health professional shortage areas; Congress increases payments from 10 to 20 percent. The President provides no bonus payments at all.

*Establishment of a new telemedicine grant program to encourage telemedicine in rural areas. Congress provides funding for this program. The President does not.

*Funding for Emergency Access Community Hospitals (EACH). Congress extends current funding for EACHs, and also ensures continued funding for EACHs in danger of being closed. The President eliminates the EACH designation entirely.

The enrollment rate for Medicare is 28 percent higher in rural areas than in urban areas, yet rural beneficiaries receive lower average Medicare payments than beneficiaries who live in urban areas. Congress made great strides this year to level the playing field. Most significantly, we increased payments to doctors who practice in rural areas, established a new telemedicine grant program, and secured funding for Emergency Access Community Hospitals. We also placed a floor on all Medicare payments as a way to draw more HMOs to rural communities.

For some reason, President Clinton

The following recipes and notes were submitted to us for publication. The items are reprinted from Lighthouse Electric Cookbooks.

A TRIBUTE TO HOMEBAKERS THROUGH THE YEARS

By Mrs. Howard Drysdale of Dougherty, Texas

In these days of supermarkets, frozen foods and packaged mixes, one rarely thinks of a cookbook as the result of laborious experiments and a true love of the culinary arts. We take our recipes with their exact measurements and precise directions more or less for granted, as we do our modern kitchen equipment. If we were to peruse old cookbooks and compare them, we would clearly see what an evolution has taken place in our cookbooks over the years.

Years ago, when a homemaker achieved a reputation as an excellent cook, it was fame that was not easily won. Usually, her starring culinary achievement was one dish or one type of food. It was to be eagerly sought after at all community dinners and eyed with secret envy and in comparison by all other women who also prided themselves on their cooking.

Her secret recipe for this dish was usually a result of years of experiments with various ingredients in differing amounts, until the perfect result was obtained. When we realize that those women rarely possessed more than limited ingredients, instinct, a sure touch and imagination to guide them, the end results are truly amazing.

On the following pages are some recipes taken from an old cookbook of my Mother's. Since the preface and the first few pages, as well as the back of it are missing, its exact age is hard to determine, but it is more than 50 years old. The units of measurements used in these recipes are a source of amusement to us now, but at the time it was the common method.

As we read and compare these recipes to the ones we are using now, let us remember and be grateful for what these pioneer women contributed to the efficiency of our own present day homemaking duties.

Recipe of the Week

Imitation Maple Syrup

Get 7 clean red corn cobs. Boil in 3 pints of water for 30 minutes and add either white granulated or light brown coffee sugar (25c worth) to form the syrup. A handful of scalybark hickory nut shells in the syrup will give a more decided flavor. (White corn cobs may be used if you desire a lighter syrup.)

To Preserve Meat

For 100 pounds meat mix 1 ounce saltpeter with 4 quarts salt. Rub well into fleshy side of meat. Pack in a barrel, fleshy side up. Sprinkle salt on barrel bottom before meat is put in. In 3 or 4 weeks remove meat and pour out the brine. Rub on more salt if necessary and pack as before. I have had no meat spoil by using this method.

Roast Turkey

If the weather is cold enough, dress turkey a week before time to use. Let hang on north side of house to freeze. To cook, place on blocks above 3 inches water in covered boiler. Let steam until tender. Season with salt and pepper and stuff. Lay several pieces fat pork on the turkey. Place in roaster and bake until tender.

Salad Dressing

8 eggs (yolks only) beaten light
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon pepper
1 tablespoon mustard
A little cayenne and 1/2 cup cream
Mix all. Put 1 1/2 cups vinegar in graniteware kettle, bring to a boil. Add 1 cup butter and let boil again. Pour this into the above mixture and stir well. When cold, seal in bottles or glass jars. Keep in a cool place. This will keep for weeks and is fine on lettuce. Wash lettuce perfectly and cut middling fine. Can also be used on cabbage or potato salad.

"Then and Now"

By Mrs. Henry Scarborough, of Petersburg, Texas

Modern methods of cooking are based on the methods of earlier times. They are carried on with the aid of modern cooking utensils of metal, glass or enamel and with modern equipment such as, mechanically operated stoves, mixers, refrigerators, freezers, electronic ovens and many, many other electrical appliances and devices.

The recipes that were used years ago told one to take a "handful" of some certain ingredient; "fat the size of a walnut", a "pinch" or "smidgen" of seasoning, and perhaps "enough liquid to make a dough". Again, in some instances, the recipe just said to "use your own judgment".

Now-a-days we take our recipes with their exact measurement and follow the instructions very closely, feeling confident all the while of the results we will obtain from a thermostatically controlled oven.

Years ago ovens did not have controls to insure baking results. We are told some tested their ovens in this way: "Some people consider it economical to heat oven with fagots, brush, and light stuff. Hardwood heats it quicker and better. Take four foot wood, split fine and pile it criss-cross so as to nearly fill the oven and keep putting in. A roaring fire for an hour or more is usually enough.

The top and sides will first be covered with black soot. See that it is all burned off. Rake the coals over the bottom of the oven and let them lie a minute. Then sweep it out clean. If you can hold your hand inside while you count "forty" it is about right for flour bread. To count "twenty" is right for rye and Indian bread. If it is too hot, wet an old broom two or three times and turn it around near the top of the oven until it dries. This prevents pies and cakes from scorching on top."

Now, we can put a balanced meal into the oven, set the control for the correct temperature, and the time we want it to start cooking. When the food is cooked, the oven automatically cuts off and the food is ready for serving. This makes it possible for the homemaker to go shopping or attend a party while her family enjoys a good nourishing hot meal.

Read and compare these recipes used "THEN" to the ones we use "NOW" and I feel certain we will be more grateful for the efficiency of the modern appliances we have today.

Gingerbread

I always take some flour, enough for the cake I want to bake. I mix it up with buttermilk, if I have any, just enough for the flour. Then I take some ginger, that depends: some like more, some like less, I put in a little salt and pearlsh, and then have John pour the molasses til I tell him to stop.

To Make Kraut

Put double handful of salt in barrel. Cut heart out of cabbage and throw in barrel. Take a nice, clean spade and chop up cabbage in the barrel. To every 10 common sized heads, sprinkle on a double handful of salt until the barrel is full. Put on a board, weight it down, and set in a cool place.

This is a good recipe.

Popcorn Pudding

Sweetmilk and popcorn each 3 pints. (Each kernel must be popped white.) 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Bake 1/2 hour. Sauce for same, sweetened cream.

Egg Butter

One pint sorghum molasses, bring to a boil. Have ready 2 well beaten eggs. After adding a bit of allspice or cinnamon, stir in eggs stirring until it thickens, which will be as soon as it boils up. We prefer to add a gill of water or sweet milk as it takes away the "too strong" or "rich" flavor. This is fine for children's butter-bread for lunch in the spring when fruit gets scarce.

Better Half's Verdict

My wife makes the best pumpkin pie I ever ate and the best part is the chocolate coating on the top.

Whites of 2 eggs beaten to a stiff froth; add pulverized sugar and grated chocolate with 1/2 teaspoon extract of vanilla. Spread on top of the pie and let harden a moment in the oven.

Swiss Cake

Take butter, flour, and sugar, each the weight of 4 eggs. Beat yolks with sugar and some grated lemon peel or 10 drops of essence of lemon, and one large teaspoon of rosewater or orange flour water if preferred. Add butter just melted, and slowly shake in flour, beating it til well mixed. Beat whites of eggs to a froth, mix the whole together and beat on for a few minutes after adding whites. Butter a tin and bake half an hour.

Sheep Sorrel Pie

During pioneer times lemons usually were very scarce. To satisfy their taste for lemon pie, women learned to use the pink flowered sheep sorrel that grew wild on the prairie as a substitute for lemons.

They used a regular lemon pie recipe, but substituted a cup of shredded sheep sorrel for the lemons. The pie had a tart luscious flavor similar to real lemon pie.

Cracknels

Mix 1 quart flour with half nutmeg grated, the yolks of 4 eggs beaten with 4 spoonsfull of rosewater, into a stiff paste with cold water. Then roll in 1 pound butter and make them into a cracknel shape. Put in kettle of boiling water, and boil them til they swim. Then take out and put in cold water. When hardened, lay them out to dry and bake on tin plates.

Cough Medicine

Mrs. Henry Bollman, Rt. M, Lockney, Texas

(I got this recipe from Mrs. J. E. Newton)

About: 1/2 cup honey
1 tablespoon butter
1/4 teaspoon alum

Heat and melt above mixture together.
Whiskey may be added.

FLOYDADA SENIOR CITIZEN NEWS

By Margarette Word

The center is open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each Monday through Friday. The center is for all races 60 years and older. If you plan to eat lunch, please call 983-2032 by 10 a.m.

My sons, Gordon Bond and daughter, Kyndall of Canton, and Greg Bond and his wife, Mona and children, Bethany and Michael of Waco were here for the Holidays. Also, a friend of Greg's, Steve Pernell of Waco was visiting.

Jim and I flew to San Francisco December 29 to attend Jim's oldest grandson's wedding. David Carr and Michelle White of Chicago, Illinois were united in marriage Saturday, December 30 at Mills Valley, California. Others from Floydada attending the wedding were his parents, Charles and Ann Carr and son, Chase and an Aunt, Mary Garrett.

Margaret Daniel and daughter, Ilene were in Floydada over the Holidays to take care of some business. W. R. Daniel is recuperating and will be entering the Reba House which is in connection with I.M.C. for extended care.

W. R. and Margaret wish to "thank" everyone for their prayers, cards, phone calls. The walls of W.R.'s room has been covered with the cards he has received so he can enjoy looking at them. They plan to return to Floydada in about two months.

Deeota Odam spent the Holidays with her daughter, Virginia Waits and family in Hale Center. Other relatives there were Debra Rushing and family and David Billington, all of Plainview; Tony and Karen Rasteter and children and Kerry and Elaine Siewert and children, all of San Angelo; Gary Hill of Amarillo and Deeota's sisters, Odessa Cage and Jimmie Hollomon of Lubbock.

Bonnie Cage spent the Holidays with her daughter, Ella Mae and her husband, Jerry Gentry of Woodrow.

Muri Mayfield spent the Holidays with her son, Gene and his wife, Mary at Henrietta. With all the children and grandchildren there, they had an immediate family reunion.

Muri also told me that Pauline Mayfield died December 18 and was buried December 20 at Lorena, Texas.

Thought for the Week--Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. Philippians 4:6, 7 NIV

LOCKNEY SENIOR CITIZENS

By Gladys Ragle

LOCKNEY - Well, the new year is here and I hope it will be a good one for everyone. There are several things in my life I want to make some changes in for the better, but I am not putting them in the form of New Year's resolutions. I am just hoping I can accomplish them.

The newly elected board members for Lockney Senior citizens are James Hill, Lozell Gretham, and Gladys Ragle replacing retiring directors Aubria Kent, Harley Workman, and Elton Wylie who have done a good job.

Harley Workman has been suffering lately from shingles, which can be very painful. We hope he is better and can be back with us soon.

Vernon Gross along with Tony and family were able to move back in their house that was damaged by fire several weeks ago.

"Weekly Words of Wisdom" - There is something wrong with a man -- as there is with a motor -- when he knocks continually.

Varsity
Caprock Tournament

Lubbock Christian 46
Floydada 42

Floydda faced an all too familiar opponent in round one of the Caprock Tournament in the Lubbock Christian Lady Eagles who had defeated them just 10 days before by 16 points. With that defeat still fresh on their minds, the Lady Winds gave the Lady Eagles a big scare before finally losing by a score of 46 to 42. The game was tight right up until the last few minutes of the game as Floydada held a one point lead with less than three minutes to play in the game and had possession of the basketball with a chance to extend their lead. But the shots would not fall for the Lady Winds in the final minutes and Lubbock Christian took advantage of numerous foul shots to come away with the victory by a score of 46 to 42. Christy Hale led the Lady Winds in scoring with 12 points and Victoria Cummings also contributed 10 points. The loss drops the Lady Winds season record to 7-9.

Floydada 46
Trinity Christian 34

The Floydada Lady Winds broke open a close game by outscoring Trinity Christian 15 to 5 in the second quarter and went on to win game two of the Caprock Tournament by a score of 46 to 34.

Floydada used a balanced scoring attack and good rebounding to advance to round three of the tournament. The Lady Winds picked up points from everyone on the roster and were paced by Christy Hale and Marty Herrera with 12 points each and Jamie McGuire with 9 points. The win improves the Lady Winds record to 8-9 for the year.

Happy 41
Floydada 36 (O/T)
Floydada took on the Lady Farmers from Happy in game three of the Caprock Tournament with a spot in the consolation final at stake. The Lady Winds jumped out to a quick 5-0 lead on a three pointer from Laci Christian and a quick layup from Marty Herrera and held that lead for about the first five minutes of the game. But Happy came back to score the next 15 consecutive points and eventually take a 23 to 14 lead into halftime. But Floydada came out in the third quarter and played its best basketball of the year as they outscored Happy 10-2 and cut the deficit to one at the end of three quarters.

The fourth quarter saw Happy extend its lead to five with less than two minutes remaining in the ballgame but a long three pointer from Victoria Cummings and some clutch free throw shooting from Amanda Green tied the game at 36 at the end of regulation. But the Lady Winds could not find the range offensively in the overtime period and could not stop the inside game of Happy as they were defeated by a score of 41 to 36. Leading scorers for Floydada were Laci Golithly with 12 points and Amanda Green with 9 points. The loss drops the Lady Winds record to 8-10 for the year. The Lady Winds will open district play at home on Friday, January 5, 1996 against the Lady Bobcats from Dimitt.

1956 Study Club holds Christmas meeting

By Leora Younger

FLOYDADA--The December 12th Christmas meeting for the 1956 Study Club was held in the home of Rozanne Bishop with Atha Sue and Candy Thrasher serving as co-hostesses. The theme to our meeting was, "We're Having An Angelic Time," and in doing so, we made ornament angels from handkerchiefs brought by each member.

The wings were from an old quilt, hair from moss and a halo fashioned from gold braid. Each angel had her own personality. We had a lot of fun working together on this project. Donna Henderson shared her pattern for the angel with us.

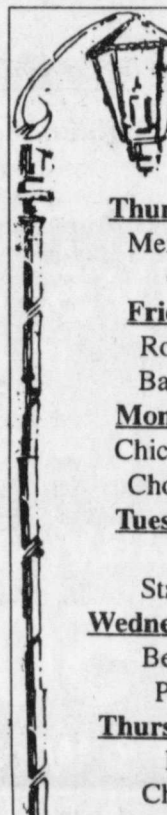

Roll call was answered with, "Tradition of the goodie you brought." Each member brought their traditional or favorite Christmas goodie for all to taste. We had a lovely assortment of snacks, after which we had our gift exchange.

December birthdays were Linda Harbin and Susan Simpson. Anniversaries for December were John and Judy Dunlap and Kyle and Teresa Minnix.

Club Collect was read by La Tresa Miller. Our January 9th meeting will be held in the home of Melissa Long. Members are reminded to bring $2.00 for No-Sew Draperies demonstration.

Members present: Rozanne Bishop, Sherree Cannon, De Chance, Vickie Christian, Judy Dunlap, Shawnda Greer, Darlynn Hambricht, Linda Harbin, Donna Henderson, Melissa

Long, La Tresa Miller, Patti Miller, Teresa Minnix, Mitzi Nixon, Sharon Rainwater, Judy Schacht, Susan Simpson, Atha Sue, Candy Thrasher, Penny Taylor, Vicki Vandiver, and Leora Younger.

Dr. Dobson Answers Your Questions

QUESTION: My wife and I are extremely busy during this period of our lives. My job takes me on the road several days a week, and my wife has become very successful as a real estate agent.

Quite honestly, we are not able to spend much time with our three children, but we give them our undivided attention when we are together. My wife and I wish we had more family time, but we take comfort in knowing that it's not the quantity of time between parent and child that really matters; it's the quality of time that makes the difference.

Would you agree with that statement?

DR. DOBSON: There is a grain of truth in most popular notions, and this one is no exception.

We all can agree that there is no benefit in being with our children seven days a week if we are angry, oppressive, un-nurturing and capricious with them. But from that point forward, the quantity verses quality issue runs aground. Simply stated, that dichotomy will not be tolerated in any other area of our lives, why do we apply it to our children?

Let me illustrate:

Let's suppose you are very hungry, having eaten nothing all day. You select the best restaurant in your city and ask the waiter for the finest steak on his menu. He replies that the filet mignon is the house favorite, and you order it charcoal-broiled, medium rare.

The waiter returns 20 minutes later with the fare and sets it before you. There in the center of a large plate is a lonely piece of meat, one inch square, flanked by a single bit of potato.

You complain vigorously to the waiter, "This is what you call a steak dinner?"

He then replies, "Sire, how can you criticize us before you taste that meat? I have brought you one square inch of the finest steak money can buy. I doubt if you could get a better piece of meat anywhere in the country. I'll admit that serving is small, but after all, sire, everyone knows that it isn't the quantity that matters; it's the quality that counts in steak dinners."

"Nonsense," you reply, and I certainly agree.

My concern is that the quantity vs. quality cliché has become, perhaps, a rationalization for giving our kids neither! This phrase has been bandied about by over-committed and harassed parents who feel guilty about the lack of time they spend with their children.

The boys and girls are parked at child-care centers during the day and with baby-sitters at night, leaving little time for traditional parenting activities.

And to handle the discomfort of neglecting their children, Mom and Dad cling to a catch phrase that makes it seem so healthy and proper: "Well, you know, it's not the quantity of time that matters, it's the quality of your togetherness that counts."

I maintain that this convenient generalization won't hold water.

These questions and answers are excerpted from the book Dr. Dobson Answers Your Questions.
