Snake finds way into home

A Floydada family is grateful their Sunday evening encounter with a rattlesnake ended with only the death of the snake.

Rick and Brenda Heflin, their two children Tye, 9, and Reagan, 8, were at their home enjoying the day when a 3 1/2 foot long rattlesnake decided to invite himself into their home.

The Heflin's home is located 12 miles west of Floydada on the Matarador Highway.

"Rick and Tye were out in the yard playing football," said Brenda. "Reagan and I were watching TV and Reagan ran to the front door to go outside with them. She opened the door and had one foot inside and one foot outside when the snake quickly crawled right between her feet into the house.

"We all saw it crawl into the house and everyone started running."

According to Brenda the snake crawled under a cabinet near the front door and coiled.

"Rick shot it and hurt it enough to drag it outside and finish killing it with a hoe," said Brenda. "We just stood outside looking at it. We were in shock."

The Heflin's believe the snake was probably hiding in the Vinca vines covering the ground close to their front door. "It is cool and dark in there," said Brenda. "Rick and Tye had thrown a football into the vines earlier and they think they probably scared it out when they dug out the football."

Because dry conditions have been bringing the rattlesnakes up to the top of the Caprock, to look for water, the Heflins have seen their share of snakes the past two years.

"Rick has been warning everyone to look out for snakes because we have seen a lot around here—but we never expected one in our house," said Brenda. "I have a friend who lives on the edge of the Caprock who killed a rattlesnake on her kitchen table."

Reagan's close encounter with the snake has left quite an impression on the youngster. "Rick asked Reagan if she would help work in the family garden, pulling some weeds," said Brenda. "She said she wouldn't pull the weeds—but she would mow it!"

Davis & Sons Builders Mart to serve as new library

Friends of Library to purchase building

By Juanita Stepp
Friends of the Floyd County Library have had a change in plans. Originally, they began a quest for the proposed construction of a new building in Floydada to be used as a county library facility.

"We have re-thought our goal in view of a suitable building becoming available in Floydada," said Amy Hollums, speaking for the Friends of the Library at a Monday Commissioners Court session. "We are now seeking the Commissioners approval for purchasing an existing building and refurbishing it to be the kind of library facility that will take us into the next century."

Hollums told the court the construction plans for the library were for an 8,000 square foot building. "The Davis and Sons Builders Mart building meets that size specification and with a minimum of renovation, can be turned into a building with all the features we wanted in the planned new construction for less than half the proposed construction costs," stated Hollums.

Floyd County Commissioners had voted to accept the completed library building and support the cost of utilities and maintenance in January of 1995. Hollums asked them to agree to do the same for the proposed renovated facility. The freestanding store building would have parking in the rear, sharing a drive between the proposed library building and the storage buildings on the northside being purchased by another buyer.

Hollums said the grant writer and coordinator, Kay Howard, working with the Friends of the Library says the purchase of the building qualifies as match funds when seeking grant money. "It is even possible we will be more likely to get funding for a renovation than we would have been for new construction," added Hollums.

Members of the Friends of the Library indicated the organization would still be active in raising funds to support special programs for the library and to make future changes needed by the facility.

According to the Building Committee Chairman, Clar Schacht, the proposed renovation would cost between $133,000.00 and $150,000.00 above the purchase price of $65,000.00. This total would give the county a modern and progressive library facility costing about $215,000.00 rather than the $500,000.00 estimated for a new building.

Hollums told Commissioners the renovated facility would include the same features proposed for the new building including a children's library, computer room, community room, ADA approved restroom facilities, and office space. She also pointed out that the Builders Mart building was appraised at more than $190,000.00 in 1995, making the purchase price less than half the appraised value of the property.

"The Friends of the Library will build the county a library that will take us into the next century," said Hollums. "We want this to be an accomplishment to benefit the entire county and we will raise the money to do it without asking the county to raise taxes for it."

"Our next project will be a facility for Lockney," stated Hollums. "We want both towns in Floyd County to have the advantages and services a modern library can provide for the children and adults in the community."

Floyd County Commissioners voted unanimously to authorize the group to proceed with their acquisition of the Builders Mart facility and refurbishing it into a library.

Vaudeville returns Saturday

This is the last week to purchase tickets to the "Salute to 80 Years in Vaudeville" show coming to Lockney, August 17, complete with "old time" music, skits and concessions.

The New Musical Grays are bringing their Vaudeville troupe to Lockney to help raise money for the Floyd County Friends and the multi-purpose center.

"This show is good, clean, family entertainment," said Floyd County Friends President Nick Long. "It includes 12 acts of singing, dancing, comedy and magic. There will be 18 different performers from all over the South Plains area. You would have to go to Amarillo or Lubbock to find a show of this quality. The group has already gotten wonderful reviews from all over the South Plains and we are very, very lucky to have them. They are planning a special show for this county and pulling out all the stops to provide great entertainment to help us with our multi-purpose center project."

"The comedy routines were performed first at the early part of the century and this vaudeville group has recreated them. It will be a great way for some of the younger members of the family to be introduced to Vaudeville."

According to Long some of the songs that will be heard during the show will include: "By The Light Of The Silvery Moon", "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy", "Give My Regards To Broadway" and "Yankee Doodle Dandy".

The Lockney Elementary Cafeteria is now being transformed into a old fashioned and patriotic vaudeville theater. The concession stands and vendors will send visitors back to vaudeville days with homemade lemonade from The El Penseroso Study Club, a popcorn stand from the Boy Scouts and bottled Coke and Root Beer iced down in a tub.

"We will also have old fashioned candy sells during the show, with 'valuable prizes inside'" said Long.

To accommodate crowds, there will be two vaudeville performances August 17, at 5:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m.

The Lamplighter Inn will also be open for a special supper on August 17. Part of the proceeds from The Lamplighter's dinner guests will be donated back to The Floyd County Friends.

Tickets can be purchased at all Floyd County banks, however since the banks close at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, people are encouraged to get their tickets early.

Tickets are also on sale at Nick Long State Farm Insurance, Schacht's and D & J Gin. Tickets can be bought at the door before the performance but the show's organizers encourage buying the tickets this week to help those setting up chairs or planning their concessions.

Tickets for all ages are $10.00 each. Ticket purchase is considered a donation to Floyd County Friends and is tax-deductible.

Floydada ISD raises tax rate

By Juanita Stepp
FLOYDADA — Floydada Independent School District Board of Trustees met at 7:00 a.m. on Monday, August 12 to adopt an operating budget for the 1996-97 school year and to set a tax rate. The early morning special session in the A. B. Duncan Elementary School Library preceded the annual welcome back to school breakfast for school staff.

Discussion concerning setting the tax rate to support the annual budget centered on setting the rate at $1.0985 per $100 valuation now or publishing the necessary notices and waiting to set a rate of $1.11 cents which would require holding public hearings.

Board member Amado Morales stated he would like to see the rate set at the $1.11 rate. "I would like us to think towards the future and build up the reserves we used in building the new gym," said Morales.

Fellow board member Steve Lloyd said that his problem with going to a $1.11 rate is that the people have been told that building the new gym would not involve a tax increase.

Administrative assistant Jimmie Collins told the group that each one cent increase generates about $13,000.00 at the local level. He indicated the benefit in setting a higher tax rate involves the Tier II funding the district would receive in future years.

There would be no difference in Tier II funding this year said Collins. He said the proposed $1.0985 tax rate would increase Tier II funding from the $891,806 received last year to approximately $937,278 for 1996-97.

Morales made a motion to set the 1996-97 tax rate at $1.0985 per $100 valuation. Lloyd seconded the motion and it passed by unanimous vote.

Motion to adopt the budget as presented by the administration was made by Board Member Charlene Brown and seconded by Lloyd. All voted in favor.

The estimated budget as adopted for the 1996-97 school year totals $6,590,314.00. Revenues are estimated at $1,560,817 from local sources, $4,365,668 from state sources, $439,103 in Chapter 1 Migrant funds, and $196,587 in Chapter 1 Migrant funding. Other local sources will add an additional $28,139 to the estimated revenues for 1996-97.

Salaries will utilize more than half of the proposed budget, totaling $3,927,186 throughout the system.

Expenditures by campus, including the salaries were estimated at $1,387,774 for the High School, $666,400 for Junior High, $1,038,466

Lockney closer to grant

By Neta Marble
LOCKNEY—The Lockney City Council met Thursday morning in regular session and covered a short agenda which included a report on the water tower grant, full coverage insurance on vehicles, a raise for an employee, budget, and department reports.

Representatives from the state met with Marr, Anderson and Hooten and inspected the water tower to see if the grant that has been applied for is actually needed and that the project was not over-budgeted. The next meeting on the grant will be held the last of August and the city will be notified if their proposal was accepted.

The council discussed full insurance coverage on all city-owned vehicles, including the fire trucks, rescue vehicles, and ambulance. Mayor Gary Marr stated that most cities are self-insured and do not carry insurance on anything other than the emergency vehicles (police cars and ambulance).

BY THE WAY

By

Vacation is over for everyone! Children are excited over new school supplies and seeing their friends. Mothers are happy about the future peace in the house--and teachers are already pooped.

I personally loved my summer and hate to see it end. It has been very quiet here at the paper and we needed the break. Last year was the busiest it has ever been here and I was grateful for the rest.

Unfortunately when it is quiet we have to scrounge for news. We aren't very good at working unless we have a tight deadline and items piling up on our desks--then we kick in to high gear and get a lot more done.

It doesn't make sense to say we get more done when we can hardly keep up--but it is true.

Things are going to change here very quickly, but I'm actually looking forward to it.

There are already plenty of things planned to keep everyone busy before Christmas gets here.

Saturday is the Vaudeville Show which I am excited about. I know it is going to be full of laughs.

August 31st is Old Fashioned Saturday in Lockney.

Football kicks off the first weekend in September (not counting scrimmage).

September 12-15 is the Floyd

County Fair in Lockney, and Lockney Homecoming is set for September 20-21.

Floydada Homecoming follows on October 11-12, and of course Punkin Days in the last Saturday in October.

Throw in a bunch of school activities and women won't ever have to worry about cleaning house or cooking a meal again!

I got a call this week from Melissa Barrow, of New Jersey. She is the wife of Lance Barrow, a former manager of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce. She told me a funny story I thought I would pass on.

Lance now produces a golf program for CBS. He is also in the new Kevin Costner movie, "Tin Cup", which will be released this Friday.

The movie is a comedy with golf as the backdrop for the story. Kevin is an instructor of golf from a fictitious West Texas town called, Salome.

Melissa said Lance and the CBS Production crew are in the last 30 minutes of the movie doing what they normally do.

During some part of the movie, someone turns to Lance and says, "Where are these guys from?"

Lance says, "Salome, Texas."

"Where is that?" he is asked.

Lance then says, "Near Floydada."

Thanks Lance for continuing to promote Floydada. We appreciate it.

Courtroom Activities

In county court, August 8, Vincente Garcia Baez, 47, of McCoy, pled guilty to DWI. He was fined $600.00 and court costs and sentenced to 180 days in jail which was probated for 2 years.

Mario Humberto Martinez, 23, of Floydada, pled guilty to DWI. He was fined $600.00 plus court costs and sentenced to 180 days in jail which was probated for 2 years.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

We have talked about the American Dream. What is at the heart of this dream? It is that every American have an opportunity.

We, as Friends of the Floyd County Library, are attempting to do our part in assisting every, every citizen in Floyd County, to achieve at least a part of that dream.

How are we doing this? We, too, have a dream and that dream is alive!

Our dream involves a ground-floor library that is accessible to everyone - it will meet the ADA (Association of Disabled Americans) standards for all handicapped citizens; it will offer special services to assist with literacy training; special programs to meet the needs of community gatherings in the community room which will be equipped with television, VCR, CD player, a kitchen, and unisex restroom; the plans are for a computer room where trained volunteers will assist citizens in the use of "on-line" computers; a very special room for the children's library which will tap into their creativity, their imagination, their manners, and their social disciplines.

Our dream is for our library to be a strong support system for our schools and churches. This new project will belong to the people! We will turn the building over to the commissioners who will continue what they have been doing for years - paying for books and materials, salaries, insurance, utilities, maintenance, and custodial help. We, as Friends, have agreed to assist in the future, if the commissioners need help on insurance, utilities, custodial and maintenance expenses. As volunteers we will want to be involved in assisting whenever we are needed. It is our library, our contribution to our community.

We know that high technology is the basis of our future - we know this, so in order to fulfill our dream we must make our plans accordingly.

Amy M. Kirk Hollums

The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

Well, the Congress has just about wrapped up this session and headed home for the fall campaigns. What do we have to show for it?

On balance, we think this Congress was better than most, but not as good as we would have liked. Some good legislation came out of it, and some that wasn't so good. The welfare overhaul was a plus, even if the Republican majority did have to water down their original proposals in order to get Clinton to agree to sign it. Mr. Clinton campaigned on the theme that, if elected, he would "end welfare as we know it." But during the first two years of his term, when he had an overwhelming majority in Congress, he lifted not one finger to accomplish that task. Then, when the Republicans took over he resisted every attempt to make the changes he had promised, and they had promised. He vetoed the first two bills sent him, and it was only with the election staring him in the face that he decided the better part of wisdom was to change his position.

The president is particularly upset, he says, with provisions taking non-citizens off the welfare rolls, with certain exceptions of course. We don't expect any massive changes in the overall welfare program, and comparatively little in the expense, but at least we have a statement by the government that not everyone residing within our borders is "entitled" to open-ended welfare benefits at the expense of those who work. Now the states will have more to say regarding their own welfare setup, but not as much as we would like.

The legislation increasing the minimum wage, pushed by Democrats and agreed to by a sufficient number of Republicans, will, in our opinion, prove very harmful to small businesses in both the short run and the long run, and to the people they would otherwise hire. We must admit that our fundamental disagreement with the minimum wage legislation is that we do not believe it is any of the government's business. If the government has the legal, constitutional, authority to set a minimum wage, it must also have the legal, constitutional authority to set a maximum wage. In other words, under that concept, the government has the authority, and the responsibility, to determine the conditions under which two citizens enter into a contract. We simply do not believe the constitution grants the government that authority.

The health care legislation passed by this Congress may or may not deliver on its promises. We hope it does. There are some good sounding provisions in it, but we will withhold judgement until we see how it works.

Overall, however, we believe this Congress was a plus. It fell short in some areas, but it wasn't for lack of trying. It cut the cost of government, somewhat. It tried, but failed, to limit the tenure of elected officials. It passed the line item veto, it cleaned up the mess it inherited from previous Congresses relative to most special perks and privileges, froze its own "COLA", or cost of living allowance, got by without any House banking scandal, or post office scandal, didn't see any of its committee chairmen go off to prison.

(Rostenkowski was a chairman in the last Congress, not this one. This Congress did see one of its commit-

Better Business Report

Paid telephone solicitors selling tickets in advance for an entertainment event sponsored by some local group or organization often claim that the tickets will be distributed free to underprivileged children or the physically impaired in the area. Professional fund raising concerns have found that the underprivileged children pitch is a "golden gimmick" which they have used profitably over the years. The BBB has found it difficult, if not impossible, to verify that all tickets sold in advance are in fact distributed and in what manner to those the seller claims are to be recipients. Since these tickets are usually sent unsolicited, there is also no accounting for the number of tickets actually used. Lubbock has a city ordinance that requires charities and professional fund raisers to register. If you have been solicited and you are not sure who it is, ask them to wait and give your BBB a call at 763-0459 or (800)687-7890 to check them out.

tee chairmen, Senator Bob Packwood of Oregon, resign in disgrace, but that wasn't from stealing government funds, it was for being entirely too amorous toward female members of his staff. Had the staff members been male, rather than female, he probably would have emerged as something of a media hero, rather than a goat.)

There's still much to be done, however. The immigration thing ought to be on the front burner when Congress returns, and we hope it is. It should have been taken care of earlier this session, or indeed many sessions ago, but an unholy cabal of big business and left wing church and social organizations, plus a loss of nerve on the part of some leadership Republicans, prevented that happening. Perhaps the next try will be more successful.

And lastly, we would give high marks to our own Congressman Mac Thornberry. We believe he represented the people of this district honorably and honestly, with an eye not only towards today's taxpaying voters, but future generations as well.

Committee finalizes Floydada Homecoming activities for October

With four years of catching up to do, Floydada exes will converge on the city, October 11th and 12th, to enjoy a full slate of Homecoming activities.

Although some High Schools celebrate Homecoming every year, Floydada and Lockney both make the occasion even more special by planning their reunion for four years.

The planning pays off in a big way with days full of class parties, meals, dances, and of course the traditional business meeting and awards ceremony.

The Homecoming football game will be a fight between the Whirlwinds and the Slaton Tigers at 7:30 p.m. The Lions Club will sponsor their annual Fish Fry before the game, from 5:00 - 7:30 p.m., in the Junior High Cafeteria.

The Homecoming Queen will be recognized during the game and ex-band members will march with the band during half-time.

The Lions Club will also host an after-game coffee at the Junior High, after the game. All exes are invited.

The main activities will be at the High School, Saturday, October 12th, beginning with registration at 9:00 a.m. A catered bar-b-que lunch, at $7.00 per plate, will be served at the High School, at 11:30 a.m. (A form to order tickets can be found in this edition of the paper).

The Business Meeting begins at 2:00 p.m. and will include a drawing for a $500 trip, election of officers for Homecoming 2000 and special recognition of the Classes of 1926, 1936, 1946, 1956, 1966, 1976, and 1986.

Awards will also be presented to the Oldest Class Member, Oldest Lady and Gentleman in Attendance, and the ex-student traveling the longest distance.

Saturday night will conclude with a Teen-age Dance at the Massie Activity Center, from 9:00-12:00 p.m., and an Exes Dance from 9:00 p.m.-1:00 a.m. Breakfast will be served at the Pizza Gold after the dance.

Class parties will be held at various locations throughout the day on Friday and Saturday. Contact any of the Homecoming Officers for the schedule of Class parties.

R Photography will be open on Saturday, at 3:00 p.m. for Class pictures and a golf scramble will also begin at 3:00 p.m.

Commissioners approve plans for Friends of Floyd County Library

By Juanita Stepp
Floyd County Commissioners voted unanimously to allow Friends of the Floyd County Library to purchase the Davis and Sons Builders Mart store building for refurbishing as a county library facility rather than constructing a new building.

Amy Hollums presented the request, asking for court approval to commit to the project which would cost less than half of the original proposed project. Motion was made by Ray Nell Bearden, Precinct 1 Commissioner, to grant the request with the condition that should the project fall through, the Friends of the Library can return to the original plan for new construction.

The motion was seconded by Precinct 4 Commissioner Jon Jones. All voted in favor and the motion carried.

The proposed purchase price of the Davis building is $65,000.00, less than half the appraised value of $190,000.00. Remodeling is estimated at under $150,000.00, for a total cost of about $215,000.00 or less. This compares to the estimated cost of new construction for an equal size building which was placed at $500,000.00.

The project is being handled entirely by the Friends of the Library and will not mean an increase in taxes. The new library will be financed through grants and donations according to the local group.

Commissioners also approved payment of monthly bills and several budget amendments and transfers to allow for payment of the bills. Reports from elected officials whose offices collect fines and fees were also reviewed.

Four farm work contracts were approved on a motion by Bearden with a second by Jones. They included: #1662 by Louis Pyle in Precinct 1 to have a fire guard leveled at a site 5 miles south and 1 mile east of Floydada; #1659 for Larry Jones in Precinct 4 to have terraces reshaped for soil conservation at a location 7 miles east on Highway 70 and 5 miles south on FM 602; #1661 in Precinct 4 for Harold Bertrand to have a fire guard leveled at a site 8 1/2 miles southeast of Floydada; and #1660 for Larry Jones in Precinct 4 to have terraces reshaped for soil conservation at a location 5 miles south of Dougherty on FM 28.

County Treasurer Mary Shurbet reported the county began the month of July with $348,363.33 in county accounts and had receipts of $96,617.23. Transfers in were $285,049.74 and transfers out totaled $89,099.74. Disbursements made were $274,707.55, leaving $366,223.01 in county funds at the end of the month according to Shurbet.

She also reported Certificates of Deposit for: undivided taxes totaling $200,000.00; Precinct 1 - $25,000.00; Precinct 2 - $20,000.00; Precinct 3 - $106,000.00; and Precinct 4 for $25,000.00. CD's have added $35,018.62 to the county coffers from interest received during the current fiscal year said Shurbet.

Bond in the amount of $3,000.00 was approved on Precinct 1 Commissioner Bearden. A resignation was accepted from County Extension Agent Jim Bob Reynolds. He is moving to Hutchinson County effective August 14.

A request by Danny Mac Francis and Glenda Gilbert for the Troy Willard Taylor Estate was reviewed and approved on a motion by Precinct 2 Commissioner Lennie Gilroy with a second by Bearden. All voted in favor of allowing the estate to cross a county road with a water line.

The line will be buried inside a galvanized pipe at a depth of at least two feet below the bottom of the ditch. All cost for the line will be paid by the estate and the roadway will be returned to original condition for traffic.

Commissioners recessed until Friday, August 16, 1996, at 10:00 a.m. when they will hold a public hearing on the budget prior to adopting a budget and setting a tax rate.

Business Of The Week

JOYCE AND CHUCK WILSON

LOCKNEY--Wilson Photography, in Lockney, is celebrating 36 years of business, August 23rd.

As always, the business is run by Chuck Wilson and his wife, Joyce. Joyce graduated Lockney High School in 1949 and continued on to Texas Tech. While at Tech, Joyce met another Tech student, Chuck Wilson. The two married in Lockney in 1953.

In 1954, Chuck entered the Air Force and was sent to Germany in 1957, as a combat missile officer with the 405th Tactical Missile Squadron.

Chuck's interest in photography began in the Air Force where he won several photography contests.

In 1960 the couple moved to Lockney to be close to Joyce's Lockney parents and Chuck's Lubbock parents.

After opening their studio Chuck continued his photography education through experience and photography schools. He has earned a Master of Photography Degree and Photographic Craftsman degree from the Professional Photographers of America.

Chuck has also served as an International Affiliated Print Judge for portraits, weddings and pictorials.

I have no interest in retiring," said Chuck. "We are still going strong."

Wilson Photography was first located at 110 North Main Street from 1960 to June 1971. Chuck also served as the Lockney Band Director from 1971-1973.

After moving from their North Main location, the Wilsons worked from their home one and one half miles west and three and one half miles north of Lockney until 1984 when they opened their "Studio in the Country", an 1800 square foot A-frame with gable addition that adjoins their home. The studio is equipped with the latest photography equipment. In addition to sports activities, portraits and weddings the Wilsons do commercial, aerial and photographic art. They also copy and restore old photographs and do custom framing and matting.

Video production is also a big part of their work. "We are very involved in event photography, such as weddings and birthday videos. We also video the musical production of "Nutcracker" for Ballet Lubbock and church musicals. Wilson Photography has also been chosen as the videographer of the UIL Marching Band Region 16 contest in Jones Stadium in Lubbock."

Chuck is an accomplished trombone player and not only videos the Plainview Symphony, but plays for them as well.

If your family movies are not on video the Wilson's can transfer the movies, slides or photographs onto video and add music or personal commentary, or both.

The Wilson's work has received numerous awards at local, state and national levels.

"Joyce is also a good photographer," said Chuck. "She handles the bookkeeping, print finishing, re-touching, mounting and she assists with weddings. I couldn't come close to running this business without her."

Wilson's studio hours are: 9:00 a.m. - 5:30 p.m. Tuesday-Friday; 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon on Saturday, and other times by appointment. The studio is closed on Sundays and Mondays.

Better Business Report

The increasing number of Internet users (now estimated to be 15 million) is providing new opportunities for scam artists. The latest "hazards" on the information highway are scams broadcast over computer networks and electronic bulletin board services. Some con artists who previously used telemarketing, infomercials, newspapers, magazines and the mail to attract the gullible and trusting consumer have now turned to internet and online services by cyberspace. The Internet and the many commercial online services provide a valuable new information source for consumers. Watch out for overstated claims of product effectiveness; exaggerated claims of potential earnings or profit; claims of "inside" information; "pump and dump" promotions of cheap stocks promising high returns and promotions for exotic investments such as ostrich farming, gold mining or wireless cable television.

Hundreds of thousands of Americans now shop at home by television. In what is one of the fastest growing ways to shop in the nation, an estimated 10 million cable-TV households receive programming which is best described as a TV "sellathon". Products are displayed and offered at what announcers describe as "discount" prices. Viewers can order the merchandise by calling a toll-free telephone number and charging it on a major credit card. Some programs accept personal checks. The BBB stresses the importance of comparison shopping in order to determine that low price claims are indeed the best deal. While bargains may be had, consumers should try to determine the true value of an offered product before ordering. One reason to be cautious is that the quoted list price might not give the full picture. Consumers might be able to find the product sold locally at retail outlets for much less.

Cowboy roundup reunion scheduled in Matador

By Marisue Potts

The long drive is on for any cowboy that ever untracked on the range of the Matador Ranches. The roundup of hands will take place on Saturday, August 24, during the Dickens-Motley Counties Old Settlers Reunion on the south bank of Dutchman Creek near Roaring Springs, Texas. Gathering time is around 11 a.m.

"Our purpose is to give the old time Matador cowboys a time to get together and visit with each other," explains Ed D. Smith, president of the third annual Matador Cowboy Reunion. "Cowboys and their immediate family are invited sit under the fly and enjoy the grub from Jim Bo Humphreys' chuckwagon. Sourdough biscuits, beef tips, cowboy potatoes, camp coffee, and dutch oven cobbler will be served around noon."

The original Matador Cattle Co. of 1879, an open range territory of a million acres fostered by H. H. Campbell and A. M. Britton, sold to a Scottish syndicate in 1882. The Matador Land & Cattle Co., Ltd., was owned by stock holders of Dundee, Scotland and guided by Scottish management. When the ranch holdings were sold and divided in 1951, the Matador name then continued under the management of the Rock Island Railroad and Koch Industries. Cowboys, hands, or management who have worked for any Matador Ranch organization are invited to the reunion.

Those cowboys either traveling the greatest distance or working for the ranch the earliest will be awarded a Moore Makers' knife, manufactured here in Matador. Shared photographs, videos, and tapes will jog the memory of such visions as the last bunch of horses broke on the Matadors, the rugged wildness of Croton Pasture, roundups of 3,000 head of cattle at Russellville pens, broncs and piebalds, and the sun-cured faces of old friends.

G. B. "Slim" Durham of Wister, Oklahoma, who worked on the ranch during the 1940's, renewed acquaintances at last year's reunion with men he hadn't seen for forty or fifty years. Sitting in the shade with his summer straw hat tipped back on his head, he mused, "The cattle were wild and smart and knew how to get away from a cowboy. The Matadors had some rough pastures and big country. In some pastures you could jump a bull of any age, from two or three to five or six years old. They sure could give you a run for your money and put up a good fight when you tied onto them."

"Horses were worked once a year in spring at Russellville stock pens when they were brought in for summer work. Never but two men done the horse roping. They roped everyone's mount for them as the horse's name was called out. These men were old hands and knew all the horses by name, who rode him and if he was a drive horse or round-up horse, and what he could do when you got on him. The Matadors had some good horses and I can call them ever' one by name."

Names like Red Devil, Amigo, Ginger Rogers, Widow Maker, Red Light, Two Step, Buster, Bill Smithers, Bill Cole, Blue Nose, John Blow, Brazos Roam, Preacher's Courage, Ester Boy, Papisito, Budweiser, Toots Bird, Cherokee, and Yankee Dime are sure to rust out memories in the rusty brains of other cowboys who lived with the wagon and saw more of their horses than they ever did of their families.

For more information about the Matador Cowboy Reunion, contact Jerry Green, P.O. Box 2, Roaring Springs, TX 79256, or phone (806)348-7953. Ed D. Smith, President of Matador Cowboy Reunion

Boys Ranch Rodeo slated

Cal Farley's Boys Ranch Rodeo started in 1944 as a way to attract visitors to an isolated boys home in the country so youths living there could show-off their "cowboy" skills. Fifty-two years later, it's safe to define the Boys Ranch Rodeo as a tradition. Every year during the Labor Day Weekend, the nationally known rodeo attracts 10,000 visitors.

The rodeo also has not lost any of its original purpose to let the youth of the ranch show-case their skills. Proof of this is rooted in Kellen Jones, 14, who is focused on preparations for the Sept. 1-2 rodeo at Boys Ranch, 36 miles northwest of Amarillo, Texas.

"I like rodeo," Jones said. "I like riding. I like a big crowd to see how well I'm doing."

Jones moved to Boys Ranch when he was five. He said he started riding in the rodeo that first year by mastering the stick horse event. Over the years he moved up through the muttonbuster, junior-calves and senior-calves events. This year he advanced to the steer riding competition. In the last four rodeos Jones earned three first-place buckles and has his eye on the fourth. Now he helps younger children with his teenage wisdom born from nine rodeo seasons.

"Just hold on, stay on and keep practicing," Jones said. "The rodeo will help you to learn how to accomplish things you want."

Keeping in mind the tradition of the rodeo, Amarillo resident Gary Giles could be considered a traditionist. This will be Giles 39th consecutive rodeo. Giles, 51, lived at Boys Ranch in 1957 to 1962. He participated in every rodeo while living at the ranch and has attended every rodeo since. Giles is not alone. Since 1939, when humanitarian Cal Farley settled the first nine troubled boys in the abandoned town of Old Tascosa, more than 4,000 boys and girls have called the Ranch "home," and some travel long distances to attend the rodeo and the Boys Ranch Alumni Association meeting.

"Another name for (the Boys Ranch) Rodeo, to me, is homecoming," Giles said. "Boys Ranch has been my family ever since I was out there. To put it all in a nutshell, the Alumni Association and Boys Ranch are my life."

From young stick-horse riders to more experienced bronc riders, the Boys Ranch Rodeo provides rewards and recognition for young people from all three of the organization's campuses: Boys Ranch, Girlstown, U.S.A. at Whiteface, Texas, and Cal Farley's Family Program at Borger, Texas.

Children of all ages make the rodeo possible. Those who do not compete sell barbecue plates, soft drinks and popcorn; play in the band; or work at the many jobs that make the rodeo a success.

Rodeo action begins at 2:30 p.m. both days. Barbecue plates, prepared at noon, are available for $4. Reserved bleacher seats are $4. General admission tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for children 6-12. Further ticket information and reservations are available by calling 806-372-2341, or by writing P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas, 79174-0001.

"FOCUS ON THE FAMILY" with Dr. James Dobson

Question: Why is there so much confusion on the subject of discipline today? Is it really that difficult to raise our children properly?

Dr. Dobson: Parents are confused because they have been taught an illogical, unworkable approach to child management by many professionals who ought to know better.

Child development authorities have muddled the water with permissive philosophies that contradict the very nature of children. Let me cite an example:

"Growing Pains" is a question-and-answer book for parents, published by the American Academy of Pediatrics (a division of the American Medical Association). The following question, written by a parent is quoted in the book, along with the answer provided by the pediatrician:

CHILD SLAMS DOOR IN PARENT'S FACE

Question: What does one do when an angry child slams a door in one's face?

Answer: Step back. Then do nothing until you have reason to believe that the child's anger has cooled off. Trying to reason with an angry person is like hitting your head against a stone wall.

When the child is in a good mood, explain to him how dangerous door-slaming can be. Go so far as to give a description of how a person can lose a finger from a slammed door. Several talks of this sort are generally enough to cure a door-slammer.

How inadequate is this reply, from my point of view. The writer failed to recognize that the door-slaming behavior was not the real issue in this situation. To the contrary, the child was demonstrating his defiance of parental authority, and for that he should have been held accountable.

DR. DOBSON

Instead the parent is told to wait until the child is in a good mood (which could be next Thursday), and then talk about the dangers of door-slaming. It seems too clear that the child was begging his mom to accept his challenge, but she was in the other room counting to 10 and keeping cool. And let's all wish her lots of luck on the next encounter.

As I've stated, the great givers of parental advice have failed to offer a course of action to be applied in response to willful defiance. In the situation described above, for example, what is Mom supposed to do until Junior cools off? What if he calls her dirty names and whacks his little sister across the mouth?

You see the only tool given to Mom by the writer is postponed reason. And as every mother knows, reason is practically worthless in response to anger and disrespect.

Lockney City Council meets

"What happened with the fire truck may not happen again. This was the first such occurrence in thirty years," stated Marr. "But I would like for TML to present us with a summary of what the cost would be to cover everything." The councilmembers agreed that they would like to have a representative of TML at the next meeting.

The council went into executive session to discuss a raise for Hooten. The council has a policy of reviewing raises on the anniversary date of the employee's hiring.

When the council came back into session Bil Anderson made the motion to give Hooten a 3 percent increase in salary. The second was made by J.D. Copeland and all voted for.

Marr reported to the council that a vehicle had been purchased to carry the workers from the prison unit in Hale County to various work sites in the Floyd County. "We spent $2,000 as our share," stated Marr. "The other $4,000 came from the City of Floydada and Floyd County. We will share ownership of the van and it will enable us to benefit from the work that the prisoners can do for us."

Police Chief Jerry Edwards will be the primary consultant with the prison and Kenny Hooten will oversee the work the prisoners do. A guard comes with the group and will be the van driver.

Work cannot be done on private property, unless that property is turned over to the city. The main emphasis will be given to cleaning alleys and tearing down unsafe structures that have come back to the city through the lack of tax payments.

Councilmembers discussed the budget for the coming year. A date will be set for a workshop and each was asked to be ready to discuss items that need to be included Marr reported that only 87% of the 1995 taxes have been paid this year. The cities share will be less than was received last year.

"We need to continue to provide good services for Lockney and we will have to be careful with the money we spend," stated Councilmember Stapp.

City Secretary Charlotte Hooten, passed out copies of the financial report. The councilmembers compared last years statement with this years. It shows what was budgeted and what has actually been spent. To date the city is under what was budgeted for the year.

In regular business before the council, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and the current bills were reviewed and approved for payment.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Gary Marr; Councilmembers J.D. Copeland, Rodger Stapp, Bil Anderson; City Secretary Charlotte Hooten, Utilities Supervisor Dickie McCarty and the Hesperian-Beacon reporter.

BURLESON RECEIVES CERTIFICATE—Omar Burleson is presented a framed certificate from Postmaster Terry Jones for his 25 years of service at the United States Post Office in Lockney. Burleson began working at the post office in 1971 and carried mail on Rural Route 1 and later on Rural Route 2.

Hill attends seminar in Midland

FLOYDADA--City Councilman, Albert Hill, Sr., was in Midland-Odessa, July 25-28, to attend the 31st Annual Institute for Mayors, Councilmembers and Commissioners.

The four-day meeting provided an opportunity for municipal officials to voluntarily enhance their knowledge of municipal government and to increase their leadership skills. In addition, the Institute offered an opportunity to visit with elected officials from across Texas, to learn how other cities are coping with the challenges facing municipal government today.

During this event, Institute attendees were offered a number of sessions on topics such as economic development, making ethical decisions, the pros and cons of privatization, water issues and the fundamentals of budgeting. In addition, networking sessions were held to allow for an informal exchange of information among municipal officials from cities of a similar size.

Richard Lewis, Jr., Ph.D., Associate Professor of Sociology at UT San Antonio, addressed attendees at the Friday Opening General Session of the topic Together in Service: Using the Strengths in our Differences. Later, at the Friday Delegates' Luncheon, State Senator Jerry Patterson spoke on the topic of Juvenile Violence in Texas: What are the Solutions? And nationally known author and business, Lewis Timberlake, inspired all at the Closing Session, on Sunday.

Nearly 700 elected officials attended the Institute, which was sponsored by the Association of Mayors, Councilmembers and Commissioners, and affiliate of the Texas Municipal League. The League is a voluntary association of over 1000 Texas cities. The City of Floydada is a member of the Texas Municipal League.

Are we nearing the end of the drought?

A few drops or even inches of rain might perk up Texas attitudes, but meteorologists and agriculturists warned that recent precipitation is far from ending the drought.

Some say an end to the drought will be signaled by full reservoirs and stock holes, others when the soil is moisture to a 5-foot depth, others when underground aquifers are replenished. But all agree that most of the state remains well below normal.

Only watered yards in Dallas may be immune from the drought's impact. "The drought has mainly been something that affects the farmers, and we read about in the city," said Dr. Tim Davis, resident director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Dallas. "People here just have to water more often, and we've had to water in May when normally we don't. You worry when water districts say you have to start rationing, and we've not had to do that."

Elsewhere in the state, calling an end to the drought is not in the near future. "We have a long way to go. It will take more than a one-day event, or even a couple of day-long events," said meteorologist Pat Herald, with the National Weather Service in Austin-San Antonio office in New Braunfels. "Even this morning's rains, a lot will run off. There still are a lot of areas that haven't received much at all. Plus, July is the normal hot and dry season. It is going to be a long summer."

Herald said Central Texans can look to the reservoirs and stock ponds to get an idea of when the drought is over. But that will require a lot of rain. He said Austin's year to date rainfall after Friday morning's rain total 8 inches, but the normal is about 14 inches; San Antonio has had 4.19 inches this year, but 12.61 is normal; and more arid Del Rio has had 2.23 inches, but 6.62 is normal.

Rains fell in the cotton growing region around Lubbock, but so did damaging winds and hail, according to Dr. Kater Hake, cotton agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The air has been so dry up here that to get any rain, it has to come under violent conditions," Hake said. He estimated that cotton acreage is "down about 1 million acres to 2.3 million due to the drought on dryland farms and damage on irrigated farms." "We are a long ways from being over the drought. And, we are concerned that (recent rains) may be our only rain," he said. "This is usually our rainy period. It usually lets up and that's it for the year."

The Lubbock area has had about 3.38 inches this year. Historically, the area has received 5.85 inches by June, according to Carmon McCain, information specialist at the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District in Lubbock.

"We won't know the extent of this drought's impact on the aquifer until next December when we measure the depth to water," McCain said. "But this is about the fourth year with less than normal rainfall."

Pastures, which feed the state's valuable cattle herd, will not feel true relief from the drought until the soil moisture profile is moisture to the depth of 5 feet.

"One of the big keys to ending the drought is restoration of deep soil moisture," said Wayne Hamilton, director of the Rangeland Ecology and Management Center at Texas A&M University. "You can get rains that replenish the surface several inches or even a foot. It grows feed and makes things look good, but what we really want is deep moisture, and right now there is none."

Hamilton said many of the rangeland plants that typically go dormant and turn yellow during late summer hot, dry periods already are in that condition.

"The drought is magnifying that," Hamilton said. "Plus, there are the haves and the have nots. The rains have been isolated. We've not had the general rains in large parts of the state that blot out the scattered rain patterns."

Hamilton said it will take more than filled reservoirs and stock ponds to signal the drought's end. "I've seen a rain that can rush down the streams and fill every thing, but the runoff doesn't replenish the soil moisture," he said. "So, it will take a continual rainy period — rains following rains — to grow the ground cover that will hold the moisture until it soaks into the soil."

"There are a lot of ranges right now that could get 4 inches of rain right now and would be lucky to hold 1 inch of it," he said.

Pest Management Report

Cotton

Bollworms: Bollworm egg lays have remained less than 2,000 per acre this week in program fields throughout Crosby and Floyd Counties. Some program fields on the East Plains have been sprayed as worm levels were rising as high as 16,000 per acre. For the most part worm counts have remained less than 7,000 per acre in program fields. Bollworm infestations continue to be hit and miss from one field to another. I would advise that you inspect your fields closely before you begin seeing damaged squares or small bolls in the furrows.

Boll Weevil: Boll weevil activity has increased this past week. We are beginning to find punctured squares in some areas of the two counties. At this point square damage remains low and ranges from 0 to 4% in program fields. However cotton fields surrounding municipalities (i.e. Floydada, Ralls, Crosbyton) should be monitored closely.

Aphids: As you know aphid populations have been increasing over the past two or three weeks. Fields that were treated for bollworms should be monitored closely for increasing numbers. Program fields that were treated with pyrethroids are beginning to flare, however at press time, no program field has reached economic threshold of 50 aphids per leaf.

On Monday, August 5, Furadan was cleared for use in this district for control of aphids in cotton. Furadan 4F (flowable carbofuran) may be applied as a foliar application, using ground or aerial equipment, at a rate of 8 oz. product (0.25 lb a.i.) per acre. A maximum of two (2) applications may be applied under this exemption. Do not apply more than 16 oz. product (0.5 lb a.i.) per acre. A 27-day pre-harvest interval must be observed.

In order to protect Federally-listed threatened endangered species from potentially harmful exposure to carbofuran, applicators must ascertain whether there are any listed species which could be adversely affected by their use of this product. If the applicator/landowner does not know whether there are any listed species that could be affected, they must contact the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service (FWS) to determine whether currently occupied habitat for any listed species is located on or adjacent to the property to be treated with carbofuran. Application will be prohibited in treatment areas within one (1) mile of bald eagle nests: within 100 yards for ground applications and 1/4 mile for aerial applications for other terrestrial species; and within 20 yards for ground applications and 100 yards for aerial applications for aquatic species.

Do not apply directly to water, including immediately before or during irrigation. Do not apply where runoff is likely to occur to aquatic habitats. Do not make aerial applications within 200 yards, or ground applications within 20 yards of bodies of water, including rivers, streams, lakes, ponds, bogs, etc.

A copy of the section 18 labeling must be in the user's possession at the time of application.

Use of closed mixing and loading systems for both aerial and ground application is required.

All areas where Furadan is applied under this specific exemption are required to be posted with signs developed and distributed in accordance with EPA's Worker Protection Standard (WPS). These signs picture a face with outstretched hand, and the words "Danger/Peligro, Pesticides/Pesticidas, KEEP OUT/ NO ENTRANCE". For all use areas, signs must be visible from all usual points of entry to treated areas. For example, signs must be visible from each access road, each border with any labor camp next to the treated area, and each footpath and other walking route that enters the treated area. When there are no usual points of entry, signs must be posted in the corners of the treated area or in any other location affording maximum visibility. Signs must be visible and legible during the time they are posted. The signs shall be posted prior to treatment, so that they are present while application is being made. Signs shall remain in place for a minimum of 14 days.

Handlers of carbofuran are required to wear coveralls over a long-sleeved shirt and long pants, shoes and socks for each job function, chemical resistant apron (when cleaning equipment, mixing, or loading), chemical resistant headgear for overhead exposure, protective eyewear, chemical resistant gloves, and respirator.

Notice: Scouting for insects requires hands on contact for close examination of the entire cotton plant. Because of the personal health and safety issues associated with carbofuran neither the scouts or myself will scout these fields for 2 weeks. If you choose to treat a program field with Furadan please contact my office at (806) 675-2426.

Sorghum
Greenbug infestations are continuing to increase with some older fields having counts as high as 200 per leaf. At this time no fields have reached the economic threshold which is an average of two normal size leaves dead.

Sorghum midge is one of the most damaging insects to sorghum in Texas. The adult sorghum midge is a tiny, fragile looking, orange fly. Larvae hatch from eggs deposited by a female midge in spikelets of flowering sorghum heads. Each female deposits about 50 tiny, yellowish-white eggs during her short lifetime of less than 24 hours. An orange maggot hatches from the egg and feeds on the newly fertilized ovary, thereby preventing kernel development.

The best time to scout for sorghum midge is from mid-morning to shortly after noon when midge are most abundant on flowering heads. It is best to scout sorghum daily during the bloom period because populations may vary from day to day.

Cotton crop report released

By Shawn Wade

One of the most interesting things about the Texas High Plains is how quickly things can change. The job of determining how much cotton will eventually make it through the gin and into the warehouse is one that many people shy away from.

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) continually monitors the crop throughout the 25-county growing region during the season to try and develop reasonable estimates of both acreage and production.

So far the 1996 crop has been among the most challenging because of the rapidly changing conditions that have played major roles in its development.

"The 1996 crop overall is not going to be a record setter," comments PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. "Dry conditions early in the season set the stage for us to have a significant number of acres that will never make it to harvest. Based on the observations of consultants and extension personnel we do, however, have the opportunity to produce a respectable crop with favorable weather."

Johnson notes that area producers have managed to maintain a fairly good irrigated crop and some areas of dryland cotton. Much of the acreage lost early this season was dryland cotton that never had a chance to get established.

Johnson notes that the August 12 USDA Crop Production report should help narrow the range of 1996 crop estimates.

USDA has revised the dates on which cotton crop estimates will be released for the remainder of the 1996 calendar year. The new report dates will be as follows: August 12; September 11; October 11; November 12; December 12.

GINNERS CONVENTION
The 1996 Plains Ginnners' Association Annual meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, August 13. The one-day meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. and feature a number of outstanding speakers.

The meeting will be held at the Holiday Inn Civic Center in Lubbock. Featured speakers will be Representative Charles Stenholm, providing a report on activities in Washington, D.C. and Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Chairman Woody Anderson reporting on the status of eradication efforts across the state.

A variety of reports will be presented as well as a discussion of current cotton import regulations. Plains Cotton Growers President Jackie Burris, of Wellman, will report on the status of PCG activities. Texas Cotton Ginnners Association Executive Vice President Tony Williams will be reporting on issues facing the ginning industry in Texas.

Cotton market share wrinkled by the soft apparel business

Cotton consumption by U.S. textile manufacturers and consumers declined slightly in 1995, but the natural fiber maintained its market share in all major end-use categories.

Cotton Counts Its Customers, the National Cotton Council of America's annual market research report, revealed that some 11.3 million bales of cotton were used in U.S. finished goods in 1995, four percent fewer than in 1994, but still three percent above 1993's consumption.

"Despite higher fiber prices and a sluggish marketplace through most of 1995, cotton remained a strong component of finished goods and was not displaced by synthetic fibers such as polyester and rayon," said Jocie Hill, a Council textile analyst. "Improvements in cotton qualities, such as strength and absorption capacity, played a major role in helping maintain a strong presence both at the textile mill and the retail counter."

The Council report revealed that about 65 percent of domestically-used cotton was devoted to apparel, some 29 percent went into home furnishings and six percent was used for industrial products.

The top five markets for 1995, in order of usage were: 1. men's and boys trousers (including jeans) and shorts; 2. men's and boys shirts; 3. towels and wash cloths; 4. drapery, upholstery and slip cover fabrics; 5. women's pants (including jeans). About 5.6 million bales, half of total consumption, was used in those five markets.

Since 1993 there has been a 6.7 percent net increase in the volume of cotton used in domestic apparel and home furnishings. There is no indication of a downturn in cotton usage.

Farm Bureau Report

The Delaney Clause is a decades old portion of federal legislation that calls for the banning of any chemical that has been shown to cause cancer in the laboratory. At one time, the law was perceived as a reasonable safeguard of public health. Time, and technology, however, have caused many to give Delaney a second look.

Legislation proposed in Congress would take actual human health risk factors into account rather than the strict all-or-nothing approach of the Delaney Clause. Many scientists agree that Delaney is outdated and even counter productive. So do farmers, facing the prospects of losing many chemicals considered essential to food and fiber production.

"What has happened over the years is that the technology for detecting those chemicals has advanced rapidly," said Mark McCormick, president of the Floyd County Farm Bureau. "When Delaney was first passed, we were talking about parts per thousand of chemicals in a given sample, now we can measure parts per quadrillion."

"Some environmental groups won't tell you, but farmers are making tremendous progress in using technology such as integrated pest management, looking for alternatives to pesticide use, and only using pesticides as a last resort.

When that last resort is needed, effective, safe chemicals are important to farm production and the national food supply. Properly tested and registered chemical will meet the need," McCormick said.

"The Delaney Clause is outdated and, in fact, prevents EPA from approving safer, more effective pesticides to replace older chemicals that are often used in greater quantities.

Farmers would like to see Delaney reformed because there are a lot of very good chemicals that cannot be approved. Some are safer, cheaper and more effective than what's on the market right now," he continued.
