Youth compete in show

Hinsley, Bertrand, Smith, and Bybee win grand prize honors

TODD HINSLEY
GRAND CHAMPION STEER
BREED CHAMPION CROSS

Taking home the grand prize honors at the Floyd County Junior Livestock Show, January 25-26, were Todd Hinsley, Kelli Bertrand, Ryon Smith, and Bryan Bybee.

Reserve Grand Champion banners were given to Tye Wood, Corbin Kellison, Leslianne Hickerson and Erin Dawdy.

The Grand Champion Cross Breed Steer, belonging to Todd Hinsley, of Floydada, came out of Class 5 and weighed 1,295 lbs. The Reserve Grand Champion belonged to Tye Wood and also came out of the same class in the Cross Breed division. Wood's steer was the Reserve Breed Champion and also weighed 1,295 lbs.

The Supreme Grand Heifer was the Breed Champion Angus belonging to Bryan Bybee, of Lockney.

The Supreme Reserve Champion Heifer was the Breed Champion Hereford belonging to Corbin Kellison, of Lockney.

The Grand Champion Lamb was shown by Ryon Smith, of Lockney. It was a medium-heavyweight Medium Wool Lamb weighing 122 lbs.

Leslianne Hickerson, of Lockney showed the Medium Wool Lamb which was named the Reserve Grand Champion. Her lamb came out of the same class as the Grand Champion Lamb and weighed 123 lbs.

Kelli Bertrand, of Floydada, showed the Grand Champion Swine, a 240 lb. heavyweight Yorkshire.

Erin Dawdy, of Floydada, showed the Reserve Grand Champion Swine, a 238 lb. heavyweight Breed Champion Duroc.

Steer Showmanship honors were won by Senior Showman Kelli Bertrand, of Floydada, and Junior Showman Jurahee Jones, of Floydada.

Stacey Lloyd, of Floydada, was named the Senior Showman in the swine division. Matt McPherson, of Lockney, was picked as the Junior Showman in this division.

Desha Smith, of Lockney, was named the Lamb Division's Senior Showman. Junior Showmanship honors in the lamb division went to Tyler Phillips, of Lockney.

The Stock Show competition kicked off Saturday morning at 8:00 a.m., with the lamb show. Sixty-eight lambs were shown by 4-H and FFA participants. Rex Jones, of San Angelo, judged the lambs.

Swine judging began at 11:30 a.m. Saturday. Two hundred and twenty-five pigs were judged by John Chumbley.

Sunday morning judging began with the judging of 10 heifers by Jim Jenkins, of Levelland, followed by the Steer Show also judged by Jenkins. Fifty-four steers were shown.

Ronnie Thornton, Larry Ogden and Nick Long served as announcers during the two-day show and secretary duties fell to Elaine LaBaume, Linda Hinsley, and De Chance.

A buyers luncheon on Monday, January 27, was followed by the Premium Sale at 1:00 a.m. in the Floyd County Show Barn. A banquet for exhibitors and parents was held Monday night at Lockney Elementary Cafeteria. The banquet was sponsored by Floyd County Farm Bureau.

Drug policy discussed with public

FLOYDADA — More than 30 people were present at a public meeting in the FHS auditorium Thursday, January 23, as Principal Joe Christian reviewed a draft of the proposed drug policy being formulated by Floydada Independent School District.

Christian, chairperson of the committee charged with writing a plan, said the purpose of a drug policy was not to "catch the bad kids", but rather to be able to offer assistance and support to good kids who might be making some mistakes. He listed the five objectives of the policy as an example.

Policy objectives include: providing a deterrent to substance abuse; helping students resist peer pressure; preventing harm to students; providing a drug and alcohol free school environment; and providing education and counseling about substance abuse.

Responding to questions from the audience, Christian conceded the possibility of a lawsuit being filed against the district when the proposed policy is implemented has been addressed. "That is one of the reasons we are here," said Christian. "We want to cover all the bases and write a policy that will be good for the school, good for the students and hold up if challenged."

He added that the policy being drafted is based in large part on the policy recently implemented at Tulia. That program is now faced with two lawsuits, one filed by the son of a school board member (the only one to vote against adopting a drug policy) and another filed by a board member's brother. "We want to avoid that sort of thing in Floydada," stated Christian.

The proposed policy presented would provide for initial testing when the policy is implemented and at the beginning of each school year for all students involved in any extra-curricular school activities. This would include all athletic programs, all band programs, and any academic or other competitive programs for grades 6-12 in which a student might appear in public representing Floydada and Floydada schools.

Estimated cost per year was placed at $12,000-$15,000 if the full program is implemented. Costs would be about half if the program implemented did not have the initial test for all participants, only the random testing throughout the year.

Random testing would follow with 10 percent of the students being tested at irregular intervals throughout the school year. An outside firm would handle the testing. Selection for testing would be made by computer and relayed to the school. The person conducting the tests would come from Lubbock and two samples from each student tested would be sent to a lab in Kansas.

Samples would be packaged in two vials and labeled with a computer barcode for confidentiality. Every effort would be made to preserve the privacy of students during sampling and concerning results said Christian. "Students tested do not need to be the main topic of conversation among the students or the faculty," emphasized Christian.

A positive test on the first sample would be rerun on the second sample to avoid the possibility of error. Results would be made available to the principal who would then notify parents and students of their test results. "Again, confidentiality is important," said Christian. "We want to help these students, not hold them up to ridicule."

"We are trying to provide an atmosphere in which a student identified with a problem can be counseled and turned around," said Christian. "We also need to come up with some way to celebrate with those students who do not test positive. They need to be commended for their willingness to participate in the program and for their efforts to avoid the evils of substance abuse."

Students not participating in any extra-curricular activities could be volunteered for testing by their parents or by themselves if they are 18 years old. Christian added that it would be a true test of the school and the program if in a couple of years 100 percent participation of the student body in the testing program could be achieved.

FISD Trustees are tentatively slated to receive the completed draft of the proposed drug testing policy at the regular board meeting in February. Implementation could begin in March or April if the policy is approved.

Concerns were voiced by those attending ranging from the special circumstances of students on prescribed medications to participation by faculty and administrators in the testing. Parents also expressed a desire to be notified when their child was called for testing.

A suggestion was made that parents of students testing positive be required to pay the cost of the test (about $20). Reasoning behind this was that many parents do not appear to care what their child is doing unless it costs them money.

Sanctions included in the proposed policy begin with a 21 day suspension from competition, not practice, and a clean test before being allowed to compete again. In school counseling would also be necessary.

A second offense would merit suspension from competition for the remainder of the school year (and the fall semester if the offense occurred in late April or May), outside professional counseling and testing monthly after the 2nd positive test. A third offense would mean suspension from any competitive activities for the remainder of the student's career at FHS.

Christian urged everyone to focus on the positive aspects of the proposed program and see it as a way to exert reverse peer pressure. Instead of students being pressured by their peers to do something they should not, the program would exert pressure to behave in a responsible manner.

He also urged anyone with questions or suggestions contact the committee to let them know. "We are only human," said Christian, "and we may not see something important that needs to be addressed. We would appreciate your help in making this a policy that will do good and help reserve the future for our children."

Public meetings planned

FLOYDADA—City officials in Floydada are in the planning stages of a new program they hope to implement in the community.

According to Police Chief James Hale, the city is planning four public meetings to be held in different locations in the city.

The meetings will be conducted in an informal setting for the purposes of getting ideas from citizens on the direction they want their city to go. "We would also like their ideas on how we might improve our services," said Hale.

According to Hale different officials from the city will be represented at the meetings.

The first meeting is tentatively set for Feb. 11 at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church. The second may be Feb. 13th at R.C. Andrews and the other possible dates are Feb. 18th and Feb. 20.

Brag Page Deadline

The deadline to have pictures submitted to the newspaper offices for the Valentine Brag Page issue is Feb. 5th.

The Valentine issue will be printed Feb. 13th.

BY THE WAY

By
Alice Gilroy

Sometimes when you live out in a small rural community you may start to feel like there is a whole lot going on in the world that you just don't seem to be a part of.

The "cultural elite" make statements like, "They just don't get it," when referring to those who don't share their "politically correct" views. That usually makes me groan and throw magazines across the room.

I've often wondered if those people can see where they are going with their noses poked so far up in the air.

I guess we do tend to forget that there are a whole lot of people who think the values and hard work ethics in a small town are out-of-date.

You watch the youngsters competing in a small town stock show and you don't even stop to think how far removed you may be from other parts of the world.

I've been following a story out of Lubbock about a two year old child-Laquinda Donyale Calicut, who died from brain damage she received from the man who was taking care of her--Bobby Wayne Willard.

Willard and his wife are not related to Laquinda. They were just being neighborly and had been keeping the baby for her mother who lived in Fort Worth.

You see, Laquinda's mother, Gloria Calicut, just didn't have enough room for her daughter and the Willards were more than anxious to help.

The Willards used to live in Fort Worth and when they moved to Lubbock Gloria asked them to take the child with them. Gloria was worried about the crime in Fort Worth and was just looking out for her child.

Gloria had already sent two of her other children to live with relatives in Lamesa and thought her daughter would also end up in Lamesa.

• However the Willards "seemed to cherish Laquinda" and didn't want to give her up and Mommy Gloria thought it might be nice to let the Willards take care of her.

Besides, Mommy talked to the two year old on the phone and the little girl never told her anything was wrong.

Well Laquinda died Thursday, January 23, from injuries probably inflicted upon her by Willard.

Mommy Gloria showed up for family court in Lubbock, on Thursday, to answer questions about how Laquinda came to be staying with the Willards.

After court she asked if she could go see Laquinda--since she was in town anyway. They told her Laquinda was dead.

Mommy was upset. She was crying and stuff. She said Willard better stay in jail because if he gets out she's going to kill him. You know how moms get about their kids.

Mommy Gloria is not married. She lives in an efficiency and doesn't have room for the five kids she has already had and farmed out elsewhere.

She is now pregnant with her sixth child and the welfare money keeps rolling in.

In response to questions about how her daughter came to be in this situation, Mom says, "Everybody's not understanding what I'm saying!"

That is the same as, "They just don't get it."

Aren't you glad that you "Just don't get it."

ABFP recertifies Dr. Stennett as family practice specialist

LOCKNEY—Dr. Kevin Stennett has been recertified a Diplomat of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP), the certifying entity of the family practice specialty.

Dr. Stennett, a family physician, earned Diplomat status by passing the ABFP's certification examination, an intensive written test of the physician's abilities in pediatrics, internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, psychiatry, prevention and other aspects of family practice.

The specialty of family practice combines the latest in medical technology and knowledge with the personal and continuing care of traditional general physicians. Family physicians are trained to care for the whole person, treating a majority of all medical problems people might have and referring them to other specialists as necessary.

There are family practice departments in approximately 120 U.S. medical schools and residency training programs in more than 440 university and teaching hospitals.

ABFP Diplomates must continue to demonstrate their competence in the specialty by taking recertification exams every six years. Family practice was recognized in 1969 as a medical specialty by the American Medical Association and the American Board of Medical Specialties, and it was the first specialty to require its Diplomates to take recertification exams at regular intervals.

Courtroom Activities

In County Court January 27, Aric Henricks filed a speeding appeal. January 28, Joe Mark Davis pled guilty to Deadly Conduct. He was fined $1,200.00 plus court costs. An April 15, 1996 DWI charge against Davis was dismissed on January 28. Also on January 28th, Rodger Hernandez pled guilty to a July 19, 1996 assault. He was fined $250.00 plus court costs.

Hondo hospital terminates Dr. Swate

Dr. Tommy Swate, former contract employee at the Torres and New Prisons in Hondo and the Briscoe Prison in Dilley is one of eight doctors employed by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice who have been placed on probation for serious lapses in medical practice.

Swate was formerly a doctor in Floydada, hired by the Caprock Hospital District in November of 1993 and terminated in December of the same year for "breach of contract", and "inappropriate conduct".

A story in the January 16, 1997 issue of the "Hondo Anvil Herald" says, Swate was a contract employee with the Medina Community Hospital, in Hondo, working in the prisons until his recent termination.

According to a Hondo Anvil reporter, Medina Community Hospital Administrator Richard Arnold refused to say why Swate was terminated, although an attorney representing the hospital referred to possible litigation between Swate and Medina Community Hospital.

According to the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, Swate was placed on five years probation and restricted from doing any further abortions in January 1992 for performing 14 incomplete abortions, many of which involved injuries to patients' cervix, uterus or bowl.

A 1992 federal investigation into Methadone clinics owned and operated by Dr. Swate led to a federal show cause action alleging that Swate "had engaged in various violations" of federal and state regulations, including falsification of medical records and selling methadone to an undercover agent for no medical reason.

In February 1996, Swate was placed on 10 years probation for unprofessional or dishonorable conduct in the operation of two Houston methadone clinics in Houston that were closed down as part of this federal investigation.

In addition to ten years probation Dr. Swate was ordered to complete 50 hours of continuing medical education, 120 hours of community service a year for the duration of his probation and ordered him to repeat a medicinal residency or limit his practice to an institutional setting.

Swate was also placed on four years probation, beginning in January 1994, by the Louisiana State Board of Medical Examiners, for falsifying information regarding his medical practice.

Search for father has happy ending

LOCKNEY--Kimmie Garza, of Lockney, has recently visited with people who have expressed an interest in finding birth parents they have lost track of through adoptions or separations.

She understands the fears children may have in the unknown. She understands it because she has lived through it.

It is these conversations which have led Kimmie to share her experience in locating her father.

Kimmie felt like she had gotten a chance at a brand new life when she found her father after 32 years of separation. "I have no regrets," said Kimmie.

Kimmie's mother and father married at a young age and were separated shortly after her birth. "I had no contact with my father after the age of two," she said.

In 1992, at the age of 34, Kimmie decided she needed to find her real father to help her answer some questions about medical problems that her 7 year old son, Coty, was having. "I needed some medical history and I felt it would help to find my real dad," said Kimmie.

After some whirlwind detective work by two very good friends, Kimmie found her natural father. Her fears of an unhappy reunion were put immediately to rest when he and his family welcomed her with open arms.

"My mother re-married when I was 7," said Kimmie. "I had a stepfather all of my life who was wonderful to me. He was the only father I really knew and I couldn't have asked for a better father. I was very blessed.

"When I started thinking about finding my real father I went to my step-dad and told him of my intentions. He was worried that I might get hurt, but he was supportive. He understood why I felt I needed to do it." To get started in her search Kimmie approached a close family friend, Carolyn Jackson, of Lockney. Carolyn was very involved in genealogy research and was very happy to help Kimmie.

After she asked her mother for information, Kimmie was told her father had lived in the Pampa/Dumas area. This gave Kimmie a place to start.

On a Thursday afternoon, Carolyn and Kimmie started with a Pampa phone book first. "I had something in my favor. My maiden name was Harden--spelled with an 'e' instead of an 'i'. That spelling is more unusual and I was hoping it would help out. The phone book was huge--similar to a Feist phone book. We turned to Harden and there was a long list of names. We wrote down every Harden in the phone book.

She approached her mother again and asked for more information. Kimmie was told for the first time of an uncle in Pampa.

"It was hard to believe and I considered it a miracle, but the very first name on the long list of names was that of my uncle," said Kimmie.

This created the first problem for Kimmie. She was scared to make the call. She did not know what she was going to find and wasn't positive she would like what she found when she found it.

On Saturday (two days after starting the search) and armed with her uncle's name, Kimmie returned to her friend, Carolyn, and admitted she was having trouble working up the nerve to call.

Carolyn then enlisted the help of another genealogy buff, Mary Lou Bollman, of Lockney. Mrs. Bollman agreed to help and picked up the phone to make the first call. "She called and called all day and never got an answer," said Kimmie.

On Monday, Kimmie went back to work a basket of nerves.

On Monday Kimmie got a call at work from Carolyn. "She told me they had found my father, Bill Harden, and I started crying at work. It was such an emotional experience for me. I felt like a big black hole had just been closed in my life."

Kimmie found out that Mary Lou had found the uncle and he was more than happy to give Mrs. Bollman the information she wanted. "He gave Mrs. Bollman all kinds of family information. I still have the piece of paper on which Mary Lou and Carolyn wrote all the family information down.

"I learned my father lived in Farmington, New Mexico and that I had a great aunt and a cousin living in Amarillo.

Kimmie still had to work up the nerve to call. "I kept thinking--'What if they are carnival people and they move in with me?'"

On Tuesday Kimmie finally picked up a phone and called her uncle and his wife first. "It was wonderful. Their hearts opened up to me and they loved me right through the telephone," said Kimmie. "We talked about 30 minutes and I found out a lot about my father. I asked my uncle if he thought my father wanted to see me. I was told my dad had tried to contact me for years but was discouraged in his attempts so he gave up. After awhile he re-married and started another family."

Kimmie told her uncle that she would go ahead and talk to her father. She hung up and within 30 minutes the phone rang and for the first time in 32 years, Kimmie heard her father's voice.

Kimmie, her father, and her uncle agreed to meet at the aunt's house in Amarillo on Saturday (less than one-week from the time Kimmie had begun her search). The date was set and Kimmie had to wait four days to see her new family.

"I could not function at work and I couldn't even talk to my husband, Tony, about it. He was away at National Guard and didn't even know that I had come this far."

Before Saturday came Kimmie got a call from her uncle. "He said since it was going to take so long for my dad to get to Amarillo from Farmington (10 hours) he didn't want to have to wait until Saturday night. He wanted to see me Saturday morning--so we agreed to meet at Allsup's.

"I didn't even ask my uncle what kind of car he was driving--but as soon as I saw him driving down the street I knew it was him. We just grabbed each other in the parking lot and cried and cried. It was like I knew the man all of my life and yet I had to try and catch up on 32 years. My son, Coty, fell in love with him instantly."

Kimmie followed her uncle to Amarillo and because they had arrived earlier than expected there was no one at her aunt's home. Waiting outside Kimmie says she was starting to calm down until she saw her father's pickup pull up.

Her emotions are hard for her to explain. "All my life there was no one in my family that even looked like me," said Kimmie. "When my father stepped out of the pickup it took my breath away. I looked just like him.

"We just held each other for what seemed like an eternity." The date was March 31, 1992.

Because Harden worked for an oil pipeline he travels frequently around the state. "They move around so fast that I was very fortunate to find them," said Kimmie.

The first visit has turned into yearly family vacations together in Ruidoso and frequent phone calls and gifts.

"His wife had only been married to my dad for two years when she met me," said Kimmie. "She is a wonderful woman and welcomed me into the family right away. I've discovered I have two half-brothers and one half sister (from her father's second marriage), two stepbrothers, one stepsister, and two cousins.

Kimmie's search began for answers to her son's health problems. She says she was not disappointed in that regard.

"It was very beneficial for me. There are a lot of things my father and grandfather have gone through that explain some of the problems of my son.

"I don't know what I would have done without the help I received from Carolyn and Mary Lou. I'll never be able to repay them.

"My husband was my backbone and strength. I would not even have considered this without his support."

Kimmie says she knows there are all kinds of problems a person could encounter in their search for a parent, including having a parent who does not want to be found.

"I still would encourage everyone to try," said Kimmie. "I wouldn't tell anyone not to do it--even if it all turns out bad."

A lot of questions have been answered for Kimmie. Questions she didn't even know she had. A void is filled every time she learns a little more about her father.

Another special place in her heart was filled one Christmas when Kimmie opened a present from her step-mother. She unwrapped the tissue paper and inside was an old picture of her father as a child. The picture had been blown up and framed.

Tears come to Kimmie's eyes when she recalls the present. "My dad looked just like my son, Coty."

Business Of The Week

LOCKNEY--Gold Kist Inc., in Lockney is managed by Charles Nelson and employs four other full time employees.

Formerly Sun Vue Fertilizer Inc., the business was purchased by Gold Kist in May of 1996.

Sun Vue was owned by Ed Vadder, Ed Stanford and Jim Stanford. The Lockney Sun Vue office was opened in 1964 and became one of three other Sun Vue offices in Hart, Plainview, and Hale Center. All the Sun Vue offices were purchased by Gold Kist.

Nelson had worked for ten years for Stanford and Vadder as the manager of their ranching operations in Colorado, before going to work at Sun Vue in 1962.

Gold Kist Inc., is still located in the same building as Sun Vue, on Hwy. 70, in Lockney.

Gold Kist is a diversified agricultural cooperative headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia. The cooperative has approximately 30,000 members and 41,000 equity holders whose farms are located primarily in Georgia, Alabama, Florida and South Carolina.

The Cooperative was founded in 1933 in Carrollton, Georgia, as a cotton marketing cooperative. Today, it is the second largest poultry processor in the United States, a major pork producer and a premier supplier of fertilizer, agriculture chemicals, seed, pet foods, animal feeds and animal health products through more than 100 retail farm supply stores from South Carolina to Texas.

Gold Kist is a one-third partner in Gold Peanut Company, the largest peanut procurement, processing and marketing company in the United States and a partner in Young Pecan Company, a major marketer of pecans and related specialty foods.

Subsidiary companies are engaged in plant genetic research and seed breeding, metal fabrication, agricultural finance and other activities related to agriculture.

Gold Kist and its affiliated companies operate facilities in 16 states, employ more than 17,500 people and serve customers in the United States and many foreign countries.

"Besides selling fertilizer and chemicals wholesale and retail," said Nelson, "we also have a consulting and entomology service."

"We will inspect your fields and tell the farmer what type of fertilizer he needs and tell him what type of insects he might have and how to get rid of them."

"We also do custom application of fertilizer and chemicals."

Nelson is assisted by Danny Thomas, Tim Nelson, Claude Stallings and Diane Vasquez.

Valentine Brag Pages

Anyone wishing to put a photo of their child, grandchild, or any other loved one in the Brag Pages of the Valentine issue should have pictures to the Hesperian offices in Floydada or Lockney, by Feb. 5th.

Hearts will frame each photo. A photograph with 1-3 individuals in the picture will cost $10.00. Four or more people in the photo is $15.00 per heart frame. Photos may be color or black and white.

Edwards contributes talent to mural motif at Columbia Medical Center

FLOYDADA--Tyson Edwards, son of Eugene and Barbara Edwards, of Floydada, was one of several artists who recently donated their talents to painting a wall mural at the children's ward in Columbia Medical Center.

Members of the Kappa Pi fraternity, at San Angelo State University, and Park Heights Baptist Church painted the colorful characters in the pediatric ward, finishing in October.

The work began in July, when Columbia officials approached Koste Belchee, head of ASU's department of arts and music.

Kappa Pi members, of which Edwards is a member, did most of the original drawings. They were filled in with a "paint-by-numbers" approach by anyone who wanted to wield a brush - church members, nurses, patients, art students, and the children of art students.

Business featured in Fort Worth newspaper

FLOYDADA--The business of Jan Hennig, daughter of Emogene Stansell and the late Jack Stansell, of Floydada, was recently featured in a Bill Towler column in the Fort Worth newspaper.

Hennig is a 1965 graduate of Floydada High School and attended Texas Tech.

Towler wrote about Hennig's successful interior design firm, J.H. Interiors, which began in her den and garage and has now grown to a downtown business with four full-time designers and one office manager.

Hennig's business began to grow mostly by referrals and she decided she had to re-locate her office from inside the home because clients would drop by at all hours.

Hennig told Towler that she considers the key to her success to be personal service, personal service, personal service.

The growth of her business, said Towler, still comes from satisfied customers who send her referrals.

Builders and residential customers make up 80 percent to 90 percent of J.H. Interiors' design work.

Hennig says her pet peeve is the customer who takes a lot of time and then goes elsewhere. So now she charges an initial, on-site consulting fee. This helps weed out the not-serious shoppers and allows the designers to help people who can do it themselves.

For the past three years, J.H. Interiors has been in the Top 10 of the H-E-B Chamber of Commerce Fastest Growing Businesses. This year, the company was chosen for the Fastest Growing Businesses' Hall of Fame.

CECILIA CARINA FEX and DANA SCOTT GALLOWAY

Fex and Galloway

Dr. Jorgen and Harriet Fex of Bethesda, Maryland announce the engagement of their daughter, Cecilia Carina Fex to Dana Scott Galloway, son of Al and Sally Galloway of Floydada.

Ms. Fex, a registered nurse and graduate of Harvard Law School, is a health care attorney with Proskauer, et. al. in Washington, D.C.

Dana Scott, a graduate of Floydada High, writes, produces and directs media projects through his company, Raintree Productions.

They will pledge their vows on Saturday, June 7, 1997 in the garden of their home in Chevy Chase, Maryland.

Floydada Care Center News

By Jo Wilbanks

Hi! On this cold, crisp morning, we hope all is well with you and yours.

We are on the last week of January with Ground Hog Day sneaking up on us on Sunday, February 2. If the Ground Hog sees his shadow, it is supposed to be 6 weeks more bad weather. If he doesn't, it will be an early spring. This year it actually will be, seeing as how it starts March 30. Maybe we will be blessed with a little moisture.

Some of the ladies on staff are decorating the residents doors for Valentine's Day. One will be awarded the grand prize. They are really pretty and need to be seen by the community.

Some of the residents have been playing dominos and eating popcorn.

It has been really exciting around here. We would love anyone to come by and visit and play games with us.

The Activity Staff is encouraging all family, friends and staff to come vote for the Resident King & Queen. We will also have a Jr. Queen & King with staff participants. Their party will be Friday 14 at 6:30 p.m. where all will be crowned and food and fun will be shared by all. We hope that all family and friends will come join the celebration!

Ottis Johnson is in the Lockney hospital at this time, so please remember him in your prayers.

Our love and sympathy goes out to the family of Jennelda Fulton.

Take care and stay warm.

Thought-A diamond is a chunk of coal that made good under pressure!

Harmony Club News

By Doris Snodgrass

The Harmony F.C.E. Club met Monday Jan. 20th at 2 p.m. in the Club Room in the Harmony Community Center.

The meeting was called to order by Vivian Curtis, Vice President, in the absence of Karen Miller, President. Ruth Scott, hostess, gave an interesting article on "Things to Ponder" to open the meeting.

Roll call was answered by a new years resolution.

Maye Williams read the minutes of the last meeting of 1996, which was the club's Christmas meeting. Minutes were approved as read. The treasurer's report was also read and approved.

This 'N That Hobby Club

By Mildred Cates

FLOYDADA - The This 'N That Hobby Club held their first meeting for 1997 at the home of Margie Sue.

President Queen Annie Lawson conducted the election of officers for 1997. New officers were Jonelle Fawver, president; Mildred Cates, vice president and reporter; and Queen Annie Lawson, secretary-treasurer. Dues were also paid.

Our February meeting was discussed and planned, which will be a party with our husbands.

The hostess served a delicious refreshment buffet of avocado and cheese dip, chips, a relish tray, blackberry wine cake and tea and coffee.

Attending the meeting were Mildred Cates, Thelma Crawford, Jonelle Fawver, Dorothy Hall, Fay Jackson, Queen Annie Lawson, Dorothy Reeves, Pauline Nash and hostess Margie Sue.

Lockney Senior Citizens

By Gladys Ragle

The meeting Thursday, January 23 was attended by 42 people who seemed to have a very good time eating, visiting, and playing games afterwards. We hope there are others who have decided to come and put their support behind the center.

Hazel Johnson had knee surgery January 20 and at the last report was doing good and expected to be home soon. We wish her well in her recovery from this.

Our condolences go out to Kathy Allison on the death of her brother Ed Clark of Plainview. My apologies for not including you in last week's column, Kathy.

Well, next week we will have Ground Hog Day, so we can be watching for that to see what kind of weather we will have before we get into spring. Ah! Spring! It would be wonderful if we could have a great spring like some I can remember us having in my younger days.

"Weekly Words of Wisdom"

Keep busy at something. A very busy person never has time to be unhappy. Make up your mind to be happy - learn to find pleasure in simple things.

Tuesday, Feb. 4 - Salmon patties, vegetable, salad, dessert

Wednesday, Feb. 5 - Beef patties, vegetable, salad, dessert

Thursday, Feb. 6 - Pork chops, vegetable, salad, dessert

Friday, Feb. 7 - Chicken fried steak, vegetable, salad, dessert

Meals served with coffee, tea, and rolls.

Parker featured in El Paso Times

FLOYDADA--Patsy Parker was recently featured in the El Paso Times, concerning her work as chief executive officer of Rio Vista Rehabilitation Hospital.

Parker is the daughter of Eva Parker and the late Vernon Parker, of Floydada.

The Rio Vista Rehabilitation Hospital helps patients recover from strokes, accidents, workplace injuries and other ailments.

"I realized that the higher up the career ladder I went the more I could do for the employees and the patients," Parker said. Being CEO was my ultimate goal. You might as well shoot for the stars."

Rio Vista sees about 3,000 outpatients a year, and on a typical day has about 60 patients admitted to its 100-bed inpatient unit.

It has a staff of 350 employees.

Rio Vista Medical Director Dr. Chester McDonald said, "I think Parker's success is in large measure due to the fact that she's very clinically oriented. She has a lengthy clinical background. She is the only CEO I have worked with who comes from a nursing background and it keeps her focus from being limited."

Look Who's New!

HARRIS

Russell and Robin Harris of Lockney are proud to announce the birth of their daughter, Hannah RaeAnn Harris born January 1, 1997 at 3:34 p.m. in St. Mary's Hospital of Lubbock. She weighed 8 lbs. 6 oz. and measured 21 inches long.

1934 Study Club News

By Margarette Word

FLOYDADA - The 1934 Study Club met Tuesday, January 21, 1997, in the home of Flora McNeill, with Jean Appling as co-hostess.

Lorene Newberry, president, called the meeting to order. Bill Ferguson, recording secretary called the roll call with members answering "Resolutions I have kept." Mrs. Ferguson also read the minutes of our last meeting which were approved as read.

"Thank you" notes were received from EMS and the Floydada Senior Citizen Center for the money donation they had received from our club this past Christmas.

Flora McNeill informed the club that she had received a "thank you" note from the Girl Scout Council for our help and support for their council program.

Jo Davis led the group in prayer.

Lorene Newberry, president, introduced the Rev. Clark Williams, minister of our local First United Methodist Church, who gave a program on "Cults". This was a very interesting and informative program.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Jean Appling, Mamie Bunch, Betsy Dempsey, Bill Ferguson, Effie Foster, Queen Annie Lawson, Neil McClung, Flora McNeill, Lorene Newberry, Eva Parker, Frieda Simpson, Marie Warren and Frances Weathersbee. Our guests were the Rev. Clark Williams, Gabriele Anderson and Isabel VonTheumer.

Our next meeting will be Tuesday, February 18th at the First Baptist Church, our guest night, with the program committee as hostesses.

Nominations being sought for "Distinguished Service Award"

The Amarillo Women's Forum is seeking nominations for the annual Distinguished Service Awards. The purpose of the Distinguished Service Award is to honor outstanding women who have helped shape the development of the Texas Panhandle through their contributions of talent and skill. The award recognizes and publicizes the visible examples set by these women that pave the way for others to follow. Since 1976, 180 awardees from 26 communities within the Panhandle have been selected from the arts, business, finance, education, health care, law, science, volunteerism and other fields.

Nominees must be Texas women who are legal residents of the top 26 counties of the Texas Panhandle and have not previously received this award. The forum encourages people to re-nominate women who were nominated in previous years.

Winners of the Distinguished Service Award will be chosen on the basis of an individual's significant impact on the Panhandle of Texas through their local communities. An anonymous panel of judges representing the Panhandle will select recipients on the basis of their lasting contributions and achievements.

The deadline for nominations is February 28. Presentations of the Distinguished Service Awards will be made during a luncheon on April 19 at the Amarillo Country Club.

For nomination forms or additional information contact Kay Henard at 371-5426. Committee members for 1997 include Kay Henard, chair; Marilyn Albert, Carolyn Blackburn, Virginia Blackburn, Lise Blankenship, Genevieve Caldwell, Letha Golden, Judy Hathcock, Reba Jones, Natrelle Long, Stacy Mansoor, Wendy Marsh, Donna Moore, Jo Randel, Jane Rouk, Janette Taylor, and Penny Teehee.

SINGING WOMEN OF WEST TEXAS

Singing Women of West Texas to appear at Floydada First Baptist

FLOYDADA - Floydada First Baptist Church will host The Singing Women of West Texas for a concert on Sunday evening, February 2, at 6 p.m. An earlier date in January had been postponed due to inclement weather.

The group was organized in 1994 to participate in a mass choir during Music Week at Waco to celebrate the 50th year of the Texas Baptist Convention Music Department. Singing Men choirs in various areas of Texas have existed for a number of years.

In January of 1994, Singing Women choirs were formed in various cities in Texas, including Dallas, Houston, Midland, Amarillo and Lubbock. The Singing Women of West Texas has continued under the direction of Mrs. Jim (Donna) Chambers of Lubbock. There are monthly rehearsals and the women perform somewhere almost every month.

The West Texas Singing Women consists of 32 women from Lubbock, Tahoka, Floydada, Big Spring, Slaton, Lockney, Wolfforth. One member from Anaheim Hills, California is also one of the soloists and sang with the group in a November concert in Lubbock.

Floydada women in the choir are

Elaine Galloway, Jane McCulley and Brenda Parker. Kay Abney of Lockney is one the charter members of the Singing Women of West Texas.

A Floydada member of the Singing Men of West Texas is First Baptist Church Minister of Music, Mike Holster, who arranged for this appearance of the Singing Women. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Floydada FUMC slates Night of Entertainment

FLOYDADA - Jennifer Noland and Jamie McGuire will be hosting a "Night of Entertainment" fund-raiser, Saturday, Feb. 1, at 7 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church in Floydada.

Noland and McGuire are members of the Northwest Texas Conference Spirit Wind Choir. The fundraiser will help defray expenses for Noland and McGuire who will participate in an east coast tour this summer.

There will be no admission charge, but donations will be accepted.

Local and area musicians will perform selections to suit the mood of young and old alike.

"FOCUS ON THE FAMILY" with Dr. James Dobson

QUESTION: My ten-year-old can be very irresponsible. He hates to work and he has lost or broken everything of value he's ever been given. I've read many books about teaching children to be responsible and mature, and we're working on these objectives. My problem is that I lose patience with him too often. I yell at him and accuse him of being stupid and lazy. Then I feel terrible about my lack of control. Am I damaging his self-esteem by these outbursts.

Dr. Dobson: Children are usually very resilient and most of them can absorb occasional parental outbursts without sustaining permanent harm. In fact, your displeasure is part of the teaching process whereby a parent nudges his child in the direction of maturity.

However, if you realize you are over-reacting frequently or habitually, especially if it involves labeling him unfairly, you would do well to remember what someone has said about the way people perceive themselves: We are not what we think we are...

We are not even what others think we are... We are what we think others think we are.

There is a great truth to this statement. Each of us evaluate what we believe our associates are thinking about us, and then we often play the prescribed role. This explains why we wear a very different "face" with different groups.

A doctor may be an unsmiling professional with his patients, being reserved and wise in their presence. They "see" him that way and he complies.

That evening, however, he is reunited with his former college friends who remember him as a postadolescent screwball. His personality may oscillate 180 degrees between afternoon and night, being totally unrecognizable if seen by an amazed patient. Similarly, most of us are what we think others think we are: That being true, your child will conform to the image he thinks you hold of him.

DR. DOBSON

If you call him lazy and stupid, his behavior will prove that assessment to be correct. Fortunately, the opposite is also true. So whenever possible, control your impulsive reactions and give him a high image to shoot for. Otherwise, he will stoop to match the one you are now communicating.

I know! I know! It sounds easy on paper, but it is tough to implement. I have trouble following this advice too. But we can at least try to provide what our imperfect kids need from us imperfect parents.

QUESTION: Our 24-month-old son is not yet toilet trained, although my mother-in-law feels he should be under control now. Should we spank him for using his pants instead of the potty?

Dr. Dobson: No. It is entirely possible that your child can't control himself at this age. The last thing you want to do is punish a 2-year-old for an offense which he can't comprehend.

If I had to err on this matter, it would be in the direction of being too late with my demands, rather than too early. Furthermore, the best approach to potty training is with rewards rather than punishment. Give him a sucker (sugarless candy or favorite piece of fruit) for performing properly.

Dr. James Dobson is a psychologist, author and president of Focus on the Family, a nonprofit organization dedicated to the preservation of the home. Correspondence to Dr. Dobson should be addressed to: Focus on the Family, P.O. Box 444, Colorado Springs, CO 80903.

Freethrow line costs Lady Winds

By Coach Martinez
 FLOYDADA - A 6 of 20 shooting performance from the freethrow line cost the Lady Winds a possible victory Tuesday night as they faced the second place team in the district in the Lady Pirates of Cooper. Cooper shot a productive 22 of 32 from the line which lead to their 60 to 54 decision over the Lady Winds. Cooper took a 34 to 21 lead into the locker room at halftime.

The Lady Winds came out in the second half and outscored Cooper 33-26. Marty Herrera did a great job on April Anderson, the 6'2" post player and held her to 12 points with the help of the rest of the team. At times we were a little slow with our backside rotation, but the Cooper coach, who's team is 19-8 overall, said that they have been able to lob the ball inside against every defense they have faced because of their height advantage.

Offensively, the Lady Winds were led by Christy Hale's 15 points. Tara McCandless and Neisha Simpson added 11 points each and Amanda Green tossed in 10 points. It was good to have the balanced scoring and Tara's 3 trey's really sparked the team. The team took 54 shots and made 22 for 41% from the field. Although we missed several freethrows that hurt our chances to win, we also missed a lot of high percentage shots that didn't help either. They also out-rebounded us by 10 which came at critical times. Neisha led the team with 6 boards. Amanda Williams led the team with 3 steals.

We did a good job of handling their 3/4 press and their half court trap, that is something that really bothered us earlier this season. With the win, Cooper is tied for second place with Brownfield with a district record of 7-2. The Lady Winds fall to 1-8 in district play. Cooper defeated the Lady Winds earlier in district play 62-41.

We are still taking steps forward and we as well as the other coaches see significant improvements with our team. Whether parents or fans like it, there are roles each player must have and be responsible for if we are going to turn this thing around. To see the team playing better and having individuals worried about playing time will surely thwart all hopes of progressing forward.

"Some people dream of success...while others wake up and work at it." It is a team effort from the practice time to game time. Don't worry about the quantity of minutes but the quality of minutes.

LLOYD NAMED LIVESTOCK SHOW SWEEPSTAKES WINNER

Stacey Lloyd of Floydada was named Sweepstakes winner of the 1997 Floyd County Junior Livestock Show during the banquet held on Monday night after the premium sale.

Miss Lloyd was chosen for the honor because she typifies a good showman, by the care she takes of her animals and the help she gives to others. She excels in school and serves in the community. She was presented with the traveling trophy, a plaque and will receive a $100 scholarship.

Mike Ford served as Master of Ceremonies and welcomed those present. Cody Stovall gave the Invocation and Tim Mitchell the Benediction.

John Quebe, President of the Livestock Association, presented the trophies to the livestock show winners. He thanked everyone who had a part in the show and those who gave of their time to help the young exhibitors.

A special thanks was extended to the announcers Larry Ogden, Ronnie Thornton, and Nick Long; record keepers Elaine LaBaume, Linda Hinsley, and De Chance; superintendents, Mike Hinsley, Kenny Chance, Annette Sledge, their assistants and livestock association officers.

Advisors recognized were Ted Young, Lockney FFA; Mark Standlee, Floydada FFA; Doug Bawcom, Floydada FFA Assistant; and J.D. Ragland, Floyd County Extension Agent.

R. N. Hopper of Petersburg and an Ag Ambassador for Texas Tech University, spoke to the gathering. His topic was on names and how you should be proud of your name and work to keep it in good standing.

He concluded his talk with the statement, "The goal of all farmers is to leave their land in better shape than it was when they got it and we should all strive to do the same with our names."

One million in loan funds available for water conservation equipment

Under a contract with the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB), the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 has $1 million available for loan to area producers at 5.05 percent for the purchase of agricultural water conservation equipment.

Farmers in Bailey, Cochran, Hale, Lubbock, Lynn, and Parmer Counties, as well as the portions of Armstrong, Castro, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Hockley, Lamb, Potter, and Randall Counties within the High Plains Water District service area are eligible to apply for an agricultural water conservation equipment loan from the District.

Irrigation systems approved for loans under the program are Low Energy Precision Application (LEPA) center pivot sprinklers; low pressure drip irrigation systems; low pressure center pivot sprinkler systems with drop lines no more than four feet from the ground; surge valves; soil moisture monitoring devices used to schedule the timing and/or amount of irrigation water applied; and furrow dikes to hold irrigation water or precipitation in place until it can soak into the soil.

Contractor services for land leveling or shaping land slope to improve irrigation application efficiencies are also eligible for funding under the loan program.

Under the District's guidelines, loans may be made for up to 75 percent of the cost of the agricultural water conservation equipment and installation, excluding any portion of the cost of the equipment cost-shared under a Federal program.

Loans are secured by a first lien on the equipment. Additional security equal to the loan amount must also be provided by a Deed of Trust which gives the District a lien on the land; a Letter of Credit from a bank; or assignment of other liquid assets, such as a Certificate of Deposit (CD).

Producers approved for agricultural water conservation equipment loans will have varying payback periods based upon the amount borrowed from the Water District.

"Under this contract from the TWDB, producers who borrow up to $9,999 will have a five-year payback period. Those who borrow from $10,000 to $19,999 will have six years to pay back their loan, and those borrowing $20,000 or more will have seven years," said Becca Williams, Water District Director of Administration.

Additional information and/or copies of the agricultural water conservation equipment loan program guidelines are available by contacting Becca Williams, High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405-1499, or by calling (806) 762-0181.

Windbreak seedlings to be available in spring

On a farm or ranch, homestead windbreaks determine where the production land ends and the homestead or "yard" begins. In Floyd County such windbreaks establish more than a living boundary, they also provide protection for the residence.

Homestead windbreaks, when planted 100 feet from the home, block the hot dry winds of summer and the cold gusts of winter which in some regions may also involve snow. Such protection increases the heating and cooling efficiency of the residence, according to Robert Fewin, TFS area forester, Lubbock. Multiple row breaks also add natural beauty, privacy and value to a homestead, and act as a sound barrier to highway or farm road traffic.

To ensure maximum performance Fewin recommends a four-row farmstead windbreak: an outside shrub row, providing low density protection; two interior evergreen rows, supplying year round security; and an inside tall deciduous row, extending the zone of protection.

Within a homestead windbreak each row and its species play a unique and yet concerted role in the life and effectiveness of the break. In regions where snow drifting is a concern, a north side shrub row planted 40 feet from the main windbreak, be it of nanking cherry or aromatic sumac, will prevent snow accumulation. And for landowners desiring wildlife, the shrubs produce fruit, cover and browse which will attract and sustain wildlife populations.

The interior evergreen rows, the backbone of windbreaks, create year-round surveillance and foliage for up to seventy-five years or more. The deciduous tree row which produces a tall barrier quicker than the evergreens, provides earlier protection and also extends the maximum zone of protection on the leaside.

Regions characterized by heavy snow fall benefit from homestead windbreaks, also referred to as living snow fences. These living fences prevent snow from build-up against the house and along the entry-way or driveway leading up to home or headquarters.

To create a farmstead windbreak in the spring of 1997, seedlings produced by the TFS West Texas Nursery can be ordered today through Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District. For more information contact your local district or for assistance in planting a multiple row, farmstead windbreak contact the TFS WTN at (806)746-5801.

Contribution made to Texas 4-H

Bill Hubbard, general manager of the John Deere Company in Dallas, recently donated $10,000 to the Texas 4-H Friends and Alumni Association on behalf of John Deere.

Hubbard previously donated $20,000 of John Deere equipment to the Texas 4-H Center on behalf of John Deere. He also has made a personal donation of $500 to the Texas 4-H Friends and Alumni Association. Through this gift, Hubbard became a lifetime member of the association.

David Hicks, executive director of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, said that the 4-H Friends and Alumni Association will keep former 4-Hers or others involved in 4-H informed of what is going on today.

He also said that corporate sponsorship of the 4-H Friends and Alumni Association is broken down into three levels.

Gold sponsorship is a one-time donation of $10,000. Hicks said that Hubbard made the first gold level donation to the association.

Silver sponsorship is a one-time donation of $5,000 and bronze sponsorship is a yearly donation of $1,000.

Hicks said that the Texas 4-H Friends and Alumni Association officially begins activities 1997. The association will produce a newsletter two times a year, which will inform members about 4-H in Texas.

On June 25, 1876, George Armstrong Custer ignored his scouts' warnings of many Indians gathered at Little Big Horn...so he rode out with 250 men to 'surround' 6,000 Indians. This, without a doubt, was a very serious error.

Floyd County Producer Director to be elected to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

From Plains Cotton Growers

Floyd County cotton producers and agribusiness representatives will elect a Producer Director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a 7:00 a.m. breakfast meeting on Wednesday, February 5, 1997. The meeting will be held at Strickland's Restaurant in Lockney. Announcement of the election comes from Dan B. Smith of Lockney, current Floyd County Producer Director to the 25-county cotton organization, and Steve Lloyd of Floydada, Business Director.

Each county in PCG's service area has two directors, one a business person and the other a cotton producer. They are elected on alternate years for two-year terms. Each is eligible for re-election every second year.

All producers and business people are invited to the meeting. However, under PCG By-Laws, only current dues-paying members of PCG will be eligible to be elected a director or to vote in the election. This provision of the by-laws will be fully explained at the meeting.

A PCG representative will conduct the election, review, and answer questions about recent and planned PCG activities.
