Lighthouse Electric repair crew escapes drowning

DEADLY CROSSING--This washed-out crossing, 2 miles west and approximately 4 miles south of Turkey, nearly took the lives of two Floydada Lighthouse Electric employees. The force of the water breaking through the road overturned a one-ton bucket truck which can be seen still covered in water (see related story). Drowning in a West Texas creek was the last thing on the minds of Lighthouse Electric employees, Larry Smith and Cliff Hopper, when they were called out to restore electricity after storms moved through the area Monday night.

The two just wanted to get the job done and go back home to their families and a comfortable bed. Their near death experience in the early morning hours of Tuesday, August 19, has now made the thoughts of those families even more precious to the men.

Driving a bucket truck, Smith and Hopper were headed home at about 9:00 p.m., August 18, from a Dougherty area "breaker" call.

Before logging out for the night the pair was asked to head toward Turkey and assist a crew already in the area. "There were no lights down off the Caprock," said Hopper. "We were just going to go help and see if we could find the trouble."

After checking the lines, Hopper and Smith radioed Johnny Gordon and Danny Nixon that they would be driving across a road they could see had water crossing it. It was approximately 4:00 a.m., Tuesday morning, August 19.

The road, which ran north and south, was located 2 miles west and a little south of the Turkey substation. At least 5 inches of rain had fallen in the area since sundown.

"Gordon and Danny told us to just take it slow," said Hopper.

Hopper, who was driving, had his window open to watch the tires on the truck. "We wanted to make sure the water never got above the tires. We were driving very slow and all of a sudden we felt it get a little rough and then the water started rushing over the cab."

Instinct and quick reactions saved the men from death.

Within moments of the water crashing over the cab, the truck started to tilt. Before the truck was completely turned over, the water started pouring into the driver's window with such force that Hopper was slammed against Smith on the passenger side.

It was Smith's quick thinking that allowed the men to escape their tomb. "When I saw the water coming over the cab and felt the truck tilt, I knew we wouldn't be able to get out of Cliff's window," said Smith. "I started rolling down my window as fast as I could. I'm not sure if I got it rolled down all the way or not."

Smith was right. The one-ton Ford diesel bucket-truck was jammed into dirt and dragged about 20 feet off the road into the swollen creek.

"It was pitch dark and the water had trapped us in," said Hopper. "If Larry hadn't gotten the window open we would be dead. I kept feeling like it was my last breath of air."

Larry Smith swam out first followed by Hopper.

"The water had to be at least 15 feet deep," said Hopper. "It was just like in the movies. We kept going down and coming up. The water was pushing us. The current was so strong you couldn't swim in it."

Not that it mattered. Neither Hopper or Smith know how to swim. "I've always been afraid of water," said Hopper. "I didn't want to learn."

"I can float," said Smith. "But I couldn't float in this."

What were they thinking about as they fought the currents and struggled for their lives?

"All I could think about was, 'Where's Larry?'" said Hopper.

"Me too," said Smith. "I kept wondering where you were."

When Smith and Hopper were finally able to feel land under their legs they had been washed 50-80 yards downstream.

They both crawled to shore on the north side of the raging creek.

"That water moved us like we were nothing," said Hopper and Smith.

"I believe there was an angel on my shoulder," said Smith quietly. And Hopper agreed.

Meanwhile, as Hopper and Smith battled for their lives, the crew of Gordon and Nixon continued to try and reach them on the radio.

After no answer, Gordon and Nixon feared the worst and sped to the last location they had heard from Smith and Hopper.

"They were only about 2 1/2 miles away, but they still got to us fast," said Smith. "They got out of their truck and started looking for us. When they saw us walk up they looked like they had seen two ghosts."

Smith and Hopper were both taken back to Floydada. Smith took Tuesday off and Hopper went back to work.

Smith is now sporting a large red bruise from shoulder to elbow on his right arm and a cut near his elbow. The bruise was received when the water slammed Hopper into him.

The truck is still in the creek and barely visible.

Hopper has returned to look at the scene. Smith has not.

"The truck has already turned completely around," said Hopper. "It was facing east and now it is facing west. It has also turned completely over and the passenger window is in the mud."

"I just want people to understand that we were just out there trying to give them electricity," said Hopper. "We weren't trying to be reckless or irresponsible."

Cliff Hopper has worked for Lighthouse Electric for 11 years. He is a service man/mechanic for the company. He has been married to Kristi Hopper for 17 years. They have two children: Kalli, 15, and Rusty, 9.

Larry Smith has been married to Kathy for 10 years. They have two children: Amber, 7, and Lynnde, 4. Smith has worked at Lighthouse Electric for 7 years. This is his third year as a lineman.

Bill Harbin, manager of Lighthouse Electric, is very grateful that his employees were able to report the loss of one truck.

"They are so lucky to be alive," said Harbin. "I believe that the road must have just washed out from under them."

Both Hopper and Smith agree that drowning has never crossed their mind as a hazard they need to watch out for on their job.

"The linemen that have been around longer than us always tell war stories about electricity," said Smith. "I've thought a lot about it and thought I had it planned out pretty well what I would do in those different type of situations."

"They've never told war stories about nearly drowning."

Now Hopper and Smith have a new war story to pass on to Lighthouse employees. It will be an experience no one will ever forget.

RESTING PLACE--The force of the water finally eased off enough for this bucket truck to come to a rest approximately 20 yards from where it was swept off the road. Staff Photo

Floydada Housing Authority director terminated by board

FLOYDADA -- Floydada Housing Authority Board of Commissioners voted to terminate the employment of FHA Executive Director Cindy Jefferies during a regular session Thursday, August 14. All members attending the session voted in favor of the motion to terminate.

The motion for the action, made by Commissioner Ralph Jackson and seconded by Commissioner Vickie Pleasant, ended Jefferies' tenure based on "a lack of confidence in her ability to perform her job."

The motion also offered Jefferies, a housing authority employee since 1981, two weeks severance pay if terminated or a month's severance pay if she submits a resignation no later than 5:00 p.m. Friday, August 22.

The current board consists of Jackson, Pleasant, Joe Stepp and Jimmy Cervantes. Roxanna Cummings resigned from the board in July and a replacement has not been appointed by Floydada Mayor Hulon Carthel and the Floydada City Council.

A follow-up meeting on Monday, August 18, appointed Sudy Cochran interim director.

Floydada Housing Authority Commissioners say the process of hiring a new executive director is expected to take about 60 days. Qualifications and salary specifications for the position have not been determined at this time. A meeting will be scheduled for the board to develop hiring criteria and discuss a salary and benefit package for the post.

Have you heard?
The Smithsonian Institute has refused the use of the National Zoo auditorium to the Boy Scouts of America.
The reason?
Because--the Boy Scouts, according to Robert Hoage, the Smithsonian's chief of Public Affairs, "are an organization that exercises bias on the basis of religious beliefs."
Their bias?
The Boy Scouts believe in God. The Smithsonian Institute did not care that the Boy Scout's guides teach them to believe in "religious freedom" and in "respecting others whose religion may differ from theirs."
What the Smithsonian did not like was that they require the Scouts to believe in God.
The Boy Scouts wanted to use the National Zoo auditorium for a Boy Scout Court of Honor.
A communications director for the Smithsonian said, "Our Smithsonian lawyers have documented cases of the Boy Scouts denying membership to atheists, and that violates our nondiscrimination policy."

The Smithsonian also said the Boy Scouts did not pass the relevance test. Hoage said, "Co-sponsored special events must reflect one of the many areas of the Smithsonian's interests. It is very hard to see how the Court of Honor would mesh with this requirement."

Meanwhile, according to Human Events newspaper, other events at the National Zoo was a naturalization ceremony by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, including a tour of the zoo.

Another was a Washington Singers musical concert, which, "included animal related songs."

I guess the Boy Scouts don't have as much in common with wildlife and animals as the Immigration Service or the Washington Singers.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
Since the appearance of the picture of the young bird on the front page of your paper last week, I have heard a great deal of discussion about whether or not it was correctly identified, or if it could be an exotic bird of some kind.

Trying to be of help, I made an intensive study of the picture as well as of my unofficial Book of Exotic Birds. After my study I have come to the conclusion it could be a "oo-oo bird" which weighs about four ounces and lays an egg of fourteen ounces. When it lays an egg it goes "oo-oo!"

Or it could be an ah-bird. It lays a

Most people have never heard of an "American Coot", but have called in and told the newspaper that the common name for that bird is "Mud Hen". We are wondering how a "Mud Hen" feels when she lays an egg.

Commissioners give raises and set tax rate

By Juanita Stepp

Floyd County Commissioners reconvened a recessed August 11 session on Monday, August 18 at 10:00 a.m. for the purpose of handling the annual tasks of adopting a budget and setting a tax rate.

The first order of business was the setting of salaries for the elected officials and precinct officers of the county. A motion by RayNell Bearden, Commissioner of Precinct 1, approved a 5 percent increase in salary for all elected officials with the exception of the Commissioners Court. It was noted that this is the first increase for elected officials (excluding the Sheriff who received an increase last year) since the 1993-94 budget year. The motion was seconded by Precinct 2 Commissioner Lennie Gilroy and passed by unanimous vote.

The County Clerk, District Clerk, Justice of the Peace for Precincts 1 and 4, County Treasurer, and Tax Assessor/Collector will each receive an additional $981.00 on their annual salary for the 1997-98 budget year which begins on October 1 of this year. This will make the salary of each $20,599.20 for the year. The Sheriff will receive additional compensation for the year in the amount of $1,080.00, making his annual salary $22,699.08. The Justice of the Peace for Precincts 2 and 3 will receive an increase of $831.76 for the year making that salary a total of $17,459.92 for the year.

Travel expense for the year was also increased for everyone but the Sheriff to allow for attendance at training schools and seminars. Both Justices of the Peace will receive an additional $400 per year for a total travel budget of $800.00. All others will increase from $500.00 to $800.00 for the year.

After approving the salary increases, the court moved on to consideration of adopting the proposed budget. This was unanimously approved on a motion made by County Judge Bill Hardin and seconded by Precinct 4 Commissioner Jon Jones.

The adopted budget is based on a total assessed valuation of $269,196,254 and an estimated 95 percent collection rate for the 1997-98 tax year. The assessed valuation for 1996-97 was $269,204,812, making the current assessed values just over $8,000 less than the previous year.

The budget as adopted estimates carry over from 1996-97 at $691,985.22 and ad valorem tax collections for 1997-98 at $968,985.38 based on a tax rate of 37.89 cents per $100 of personal property valuation.

Delinquent tax collections are estimated at $20,000 and income from licenses and fees is estimated at $405,000. The county expects to receive an additional $39,744.83 from state sources and to have other income of $261,204.74.

Combining the carry over and the income produces an estimated $2,386,920.17 for use by the county during the coming budget year from October 1, 1997 through September 30, 1998.

Wages and salaries will consume an estimated $909,898.88 and benefits will take another $134,671.56. Capital outlay is estimated at $298,132.00 and other operating expenses are placed at $648,328.00. The estimated carry over at the end of the 1997-98 budget year is $395,899.73.

Last on the agenda was the setting of a tax rate for the 1997 tax year. Commissioners voted to set a tax rate at the effective rate as calculated by the Floyd County Central Tax Appraisal District. A rate of 37.89 cents would yield the same amount of ad valorem tax money as the 37.86 cent rate for the 1996 tax year. The tax will be levied on all real and personal property rendered and assessed as January 1, 1997.

Motion to set the tax rate at 37.89 cents per $100 valuation was made by Precinct 3 Commissioner George Taylor and seconded by Gilroy. All voted in favor of the motion, passing it unanimously.

Included in the motion was a provision for a discount to all who pay their taxes early. Those paying in October will receive a three percent discount on their taxes. Anyone paying in November will get a discount of two percent and taxes paid in December will be discounted one percent. 1997 tax bills are due in January of 1998. Beginning with February, penalties will increase the total amount of tax due for those paying late.

Business Of The Week

FLOYDADA--Probasco Flying Service, owned by Mitch Probasco, has been in business since 1987.

The bright yellow plane is a familiar sight dipping below tree level, and passing over houses and highways as it drops close to the ground to make life miserable for the pests that can wreck a farmer's livelihood.

Jimmy Cervantes has helped Probasco with his business for 9 years. "I used to flag for Mitch until he got the GPS."

The GPS is a state-of-art guidance system that was made famous in aggressive boll weevil spraying. "It is also used for mapping," said Cervantes.

The busiest time for Probasco Flying Service is in August, when 16 hour days are not unusual.

"There are about four months when we don't do any spraying," said Cervantes. "Then we start up in early March and spray until the end of October."

The flying service takes care of most of the southern and S.E. portions of Floyd County and also sprays a "lot of peanuts in Hall County." Areas in Motley County are also serviced by the yellow plane.

Besides the spraying service Mitch also manages the Floydada Airport.

"Traffic varies at the airport," said Cervantes. "We probably get between 10-15 planes passing through here in a month."

"They stop for various reasons--weather brings them down, they want to refuel, or they just want to go someplace different."

Just in case those that land at the airport want to take a tour of the area, or eat at a local restaurant, or conduct other business in town--a courtesy car is made available to them.

The airport is also home to 21 other airplanes stored in hangers.

Before starting up Probasco Flying Service, Mitch farmed and also flew for Thacker Jewelry.

Probasco and Cervantes also get help from summertime employees Zacha Harris and Probasco's stepson, Jordan Chapparo.

someone had taken her checkbook from her residence without permission. The investigation continues.

The resident told the officer that the suspect had entered the residence and held her for awhile and also sexually assaulted her. The responding officer checked the area and located the suspect and arrested Humberto S. Mondragon, 33, of Lockney for Burglary and Sexual Assault. Mondragon was placed in the Floyd County Jail.

MRS. JUAN ANTONIO ELIAS
(Nee Amy Gayle Hernandez)

Hernandez and Elias recite vows in afternoon ceremony

Amy Gayle Hernandez and Juan Antonio Elias exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony on Saturday, August 16, 1997 at 2:00 p.m. at the Alliance Baptist Church in Lubbock. Sam Medina, pastor of the Alliance Baptist Church, performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Ralph and Libby Hernandez of Lockney. The groom is the son of Antonio and Maria Elias of Lubbock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Italian silk wedding gown by Bonny. The neckline was off the shoulder with a sweetheart front and back bodice. The bodice was heavily appliqued with alencon lace and trimmed with pearls and crystal sequins. A row of pearl buttons fastened the back. The short sleeves were covered with lace and accented with several fabric roses near the shoulder line. The bouffant skirt fell from the basque waistline. A large butterfly bow sat at the back waistline and was trimmed at the center with fabric roses. Below the bow, a pinafore-like peblum circled the skirt back to the front sides. The cathedral length train had scattered motifs of alencon lace. Pearls and crystal sequins decorated the skirt and train. Her veil was a crown of crystal sequins, pearls, and small satin flowers accented at the back with a tulle puff and flowing waistlength tulle trimmed with a satin edge.

She carried a bouquet of red and ivory silk roses and large ivy. A silk ivory bow finished the bottom of the bouquet and handle.

The matron of honor was Eve Renteria, sister of the groom. Bridesmaids were Sandra Elias of Midland, Veronica Elias of Lubbock, Valerie Villa of Lubbock, and Silvia Esparza of Dallas. They wore red crepe layered knee length dresses with ties in the back. They carried bouquets of red roses, white miniature roses, ivy and baby's breath. Andrea Elias, daughter of the bride and groom served as the flower girl. Ruben Guerra was ring bearer.

Best man was Fernando Elias of Lubbock, the groom's brother. Groomsmen were Michael Salinas of Midland, Lalo Elias of Lubbock, Tony Renteria of Lubbock, and Gabriel Elias of Dallas. Justin Hernandez, brother of the bride, served as usher. They wore black tuxedos with red vests.

Musical selections were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Junior Vasquez of Shallowater.

Gifts during the ceremony given to the bride and groom were a bible, presented by Mr. and Mrs. David Guerra of Lockney; marriage coins, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Phillip DeLuna of Plainview; a lasso, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Rael Villegas of Idalou; and cushions, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Gonzales of Lockney.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church gymnasium. The bride's cake was a three tier Italian cream white cake. Each tier rested on crystal pedestals and was topped with fresh red roses and greenery. The groom's cake was white Italian cream topped with champagne grape bunches.

The reception area was decorated with red and white drapery and red and white balloons. The table center pieces were glass ivy bowls holding red colored water and white rose floating candles. Each bowl rested in a ring of English ivy.

Other bridal courtesies included a bridal shower at the Olive Garden Restaurant in Lubbock and a bridal shower at the home of Eve and Tony Renteria.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will reside in Lubbock.

Dupree and Criswell unite

Lana Nicole Dupree and Casey Britten Criswell were united in marriage on Saturday, August 9, 1997 at 2:00 p.m. on the patio of the County Line Restaurant in Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Dusty and Leeanne Dupree of Levelland. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bowen, Mr. Eldridge Dupree, all of Levelland, and the late Billie Dupree.

The groom is the son of Hulon and Anne Carthel of Floydada and Mike and Debbie Criswell of Tulia. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Fawver of Floydada, Reverend and Mrs. J.A. Criswell of Springdale, Arkansas, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Carthel of Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McDonough of Happy. He is the great grandson of Mrs. Flora Fawver of Lubbock.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Brother Jim Jackson of Arlington, formerly of Floydada, officiated the ceremony.

The maid of honor was Jill Dupree of Lubbock, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Cienna Carthel of Floydada, sister of the groom, Kris Daniel of Hereford and Melissa Maldonado of Levelland, friends of the bride. Flowergirl was Reagan Criswell of Tulia, sister of the groom.

The best man was Chad Culwell of Amarillo, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Corey Johnston of Midland, brother of the groom, Tate Criswell of Tulia, brother of the groom, and Edgar Ozuna of Lubbock, friend of the groom.

Ring bearer was Kelly Criswell of Tulia, brother of the groom. He carried a handcrafted lace and embroidered pillow made by Traci Cowan of Levelland, friend of the bride. Heidi McCulloch of Levelland, cousin of the bride registered guests. Ushers were Jason Wheeler and Jon Watkins of Lubbock, friends of the groom.

Alison and Luke Bowen of Quito, Ecuador, cousins of the bride, handed out programs as guests entered, and distributed birdseed boxes and bell treats at the reception.

The bride wore an ivory satin princess gown designed by Alfred Angelo. The bodice had a V neckline and short sleeves and was made of satin with an overlay of re-embroidered lace with English net and iridescent pearls and sequins. Satin, Victorian buttons extended from the back of the V neckline down the bodice and gave way to a flowing A line floor length skirt. The gown had a semi cathedral length train hemmed with a wide band of hand beaded re-embroidered lace and iridescent pearls and sequins. The bride wore baby's breath in her hair.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of pink star gazer lilies, with stephanotis, white daisies, yellow rosebuds, and English ivy accented with shimmering ivory and hunter green ribbons.

Following tradition, something old was a lace handkerchief that had belonged to her great grandmother Lydia Bertram; something new was the bride's wedding dress; something borrowed was a pearl necklace from her mother that had belonged to the bride's grandmother, Billie Dupree; something blue was a garter. The bride also had pennies in her shoes minted in the bride and groom's birth years. The bride also wore an ivory alencon lace garter handbeaded with pearls and sequins which was a gift from the groom's sister, Cienna Carthel.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore street length princess style dresses of hunter green faille. They were accented in back with diamond cutouts and vintage pearl buttons. They wore matching pearl earrings and necklaces, a gift from the bride. Each attendant carried a single long stemmed star gazer lily with an ivory bow. The flower girl wore a floral tea length dress and carried a white basket of rose petals. She wore a halo of flowers in her hair.

The male attendants wore black tuxedo jackets with ivory shirts. The groom wore an ivory vest. The groomsmen wore hunter green vests. All wore black wranglers and boots.

The mother of the bride wore a taupe two piece dress. It had a satin collar overlaid with antique lace and a pearl button. The mother of the groom chose an ivory two piece dress which was accented by satin and rhinestone trim and buttons.

The patio was decorated with green garland and tiny white flowers along the fence with shimmering ivory bows accenting each fence post.

Miniature strings of lights and grapevine wreaths also added to the decor of the garden. The bride and groom exchanged vows in front of two white Grecian columns draped with garland and wisteria. A unity candle sat atop a smaller column. Three additional columns were adorned with white clay pots of fresh spring flowers.

Carolyn Abbott of Levelland, friend of the bride, played selections on the organ while guests were being seated. "The Bridal March", when the bride and her father came down the aisle, and traditional recessional music at the end of the ceremony. Jay bouquet was placed in a tall crystal vase and served as a centerpiece along with her mother's bride's Bible opened to the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians. The bride's cake was four stacked layers of ivory basket weave on a bed of leatherleaf, with fresh miniature flowers cascading down the side. The cake was made by Kerry Pendergrass of Lubbock. Punch was served from a champagne fountain. Monica and Jaclynn Smith, friends of the bride, served at her table.

The groom's table had a hunter green tablecloth overlaying an ivory cloth. A navy basket of greenery adorned the table. The cake was chocolate fudge and was decorated with the bride and groom's names surrounding a heart of tiny ivory rosebuds with their wedding date monogrammed in the middle. The cake was made by Reisie Truelock of Levelland, friend of the bride. Guests were served coffee and cake by Rebecca Aguilar of Lubbock, friend of the bride. Another ivory covered table had pictures of the bride and groom at various ages of their lives. Guests signed a mat surrounding their engagement photo.

Guests rang little silver bells as the couple departed the reception.

The groom surprised the bride with a black stretch limo. All the children at the wedding were invited on a brief ride with the couple before they left on their honeymoon.

After a wedding trip to Cozumel and Cancun, Mexico, the couple will reside in Levelland.

The bride is a graduate of Levelland High School and is currently attending South Plains College. She is employed at TriCare Medical Equipment in Levelland. The groom is a graduate of Tulia High School and is attending South Plains College. He is employed at Cameron Ashley in Lubbock.

LOCKNEY SENIOR CITIZEN NEWS

By: Gladys Ragle
LOCKNEY--Well, another week has gone and August is flipping right on by.

Also this is fair week for the Floyd and surrounding counties and there will be a lot of activity going on in Lockney. I hope they have a good one and our appreciation goes out to all the workers who do such a good job of bringing it together. Here's a few verses from "In School Days" by John Greenleaf Whittier.

Still sits the school house by the road,

A ragged beggar sunning;
Around it still the sumacs grow,
And blackberry vines are running.
Within the master's desk is seen,
Deep scarred by raps official;
The warping floor, the battered seats,

The jack-knife's carved initials;
Its door's worn sill, betraying
The feet that, creeping slow to school,

Went storming out to playing.

"FOCUS ON THE FAMILY" with Dr. James Dobson

QUESTION: My 4-year-old has recently "discovered" his penis and seems rather preoccupied with it. Do you think it's unusual or sinful for him to fondle himself so much?

Dr. Dobson: The answer to both of your questions is an emphatic "No!" Unintentional (or even intentional) self-arousal in young children, specifically boys, is neither unusual nor sinful. Your little guy is simply showing that he is "properly wired." There are no long-term consequences to this kind of innocent childish behavior, and it will soon resolve itself.

The only significance to early fondling activity is in how you as a parent deal with it. I've received letters from mothers who say they have spanked their preschoolers for touching themselves. Some have described great concerns about this behavior, seeing it as evidence of an immoral nature that had to be crushed. That is a dangerous posture to take. I suggest that you not make a big deal over it.

Question: What immediate changes would you make in junior and senior high schools to improve the learning environment there?

Dr. Dobson: Most important, we must make schools safer for students and teachers. Guns, drugs and adolescence make a deadly cocktail. It is unbelievable what we have permitted to happen on our campuses. No wonder some kids can't think about their studies--their lives are in danger! Yes, we can reduce the violence if we're committed to the task. Armed guards? Maybe. Metal detectors? If necessary. More expulsions? Probably. No-nonsense administrators? Definitely.

When schools are blessed by strong leadership, like the legendary Joe Clark at Eastside High School in Paterson, N.J., they make dramatic progress academically. Above all, we must do what is required to pacify the combat zones in junior and senior

DR. DOBSON

We will not solve our pervasive problems, however, with the present generation of secondary-school students. Our best hope for the future is to start over with the youngsters just coming into elementary school. We can rewrite the rules with these wide-eyed kids. Let's redesign the primary grades to include a greater measure of discipline. I'm not talking merely about more difficult assignments and additional homework; I'm recommending more structure and control in the classroom.

As the first official voice of the school, the primary teacher is in a position to construct positive attitudinal foundations on which future educators can build. Conversely, she can fill her young pupils with contempt and disrespect. A child's teachers during the first six years will largely determine the nature of his attitude toward authority and the educational climate in junior and senior high school (and beyond).

Aston & Ellison attend conference

LOCKNEY--Treena Aston and Julie Ellison, members of the Vocational Home Economics Teachers Association of Texas and home economics teachers at Lockney High School, joined a registration in excess of 1,800 teachers at the 1997 State Professional Development Conference for Home Economics Teachers, July 22 - July 25, 1997 at the Hyatt Regency, Dallas/Fort Worth Airport Complex. The annual conference is planned and coordinated by the Texas Education Agency's Home Economics Education Office, Career and Technology Division.

The theme of the 1997 Conference, "Home Economics Education: Enhancing the Past, Improving the Future" provided the framework for the four day event. Attendees were offered training to enhance their teaching methodology skills and refine their program priorities.

Of special importance this year was the introduction of 11 of 24 new Home Economics courses adopted by the State Board of Education as part of the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS); participants in these orientation sessions received transitional resource materials for use in implementing the new course content in the respective courses. Conference participants also received training and resources on a range of topics which will enable teachers to provide effective and up-to-date instruction relevant to the preparation of young people for future family, community, and occupational roles.

Concurrent interest sessions addressed a variety of subjects including use of technology in home and industry settings, conflict resolution and discipline management, strengthening families, nutrition and wellness, and promoting learning and leadership through Future Homemakers of America. Other sessions addressed trends in the textile industry, preparation for the hospitality industry, career planning resources, and consumer investment strategies. "Best Practices in Home Economics Education" offered sessions conducted by teachers sharing successful approaches to planning, teaching and management which have proven to be especially successful in their home economics programs.

Gay Nell McGinnis, Texas Education Agency's State Director for Home Economics Education said, "Implementation of the newly adopted Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills for Home Economics Education will provide a unique opportunity for educators. Adjustments in local programming and instruction reflecting the updated, redirected content will enable optimal student preparation for future family, community and workforce roles. Conference participants have positioned themselves for the training necessary to most effectively capitalize on this opportunity."

Geneva Day, 1997-98 VHETAT President said, "What an exciting time for teaching home economics! Preparing students to meet the challenges in their future is truly 'to touch the future'. These challenges include jobs that have yet to be created, managing the dual role of homemaker and wage earner, and being tomorrow's leaders and possible parents. Attending professional development seminars, such as these, is what keeps teachers prepared and ready to meet this challenge."

Kenzie Stapp and Tessa Stapp, juniors at Lockney High School, also traveled to the teachers meeting to present their Skills For Life STAR event to the teachers attending the conference. "We felt very proud to have been asked to present at this conference," said the pair.

Floyd County Literacy Council plans meeting at 5:00 Monday

By Jerry Crawford

The Floyd County Literacy Council will meet on Monday, August 25 at 5:00 p.m. in the FUSD offices at 226 W. California Street.

The Council will review and update plans for implementation of a community wide literacy program designed to address problems of illiteracy among both adult and youth populations, and to facilitate the acquisition of English language skills for Spanish speaking members of the community who are limited in their ability to speak, read, or write the English language.

The Friends of the Floyd County Library agreed to sponsor the Literacy Program during their regular meeting on July 22.

The program will be under the direction of Rachael Castillo, of the Texas Department of Human Services. According to Amy Hollums, Executive Director of Programs for the Friends, Rachael has had great success in helping members of this community in attaining English language skills through her own efforts.

The Literacy Council, with the sponsorship of the Friends, will provide the additional resources and community support needed to expand these efforts and make a significant contribution to the improvement of educational and economic opportunity for disadvantaged adults and youth in our community.

Floydada Rehab & Care Center News

By Jo Wilbanks

Hi! Well, here it is winding down summer, school will be starting, and after Labor Day, all vacations will be over, back to the same routine.

Monday, started work as usual. Ladies from Calvary Baptist Church assisted with singing, Irene Wexler played the piano, and Reverend Wendell Horn gave the devotion. Also, thanks to the Ladies of W.M.U. who brought bananas.

On Tuesday, the Ladies from Companions 'N' Caring met at 2 p.m. in the lobby. They helped serve watermelon on Thursday, August 14th at 2:30. The ladies present were Dolores Cannon, Leona Neff, Shirley Neff and Jo Wilbanks.

Roberta Hardin came on Wednesday to play the piano and share the Word. We appreciate her.

Bingo as usual on Wednesday, too. Mary Alice Davis, Evelyn Boren assisted the residents. They always enjoy playing.

Mike Holster came and played the piano Thursday and sang. He also gave the devotion.

The residents did crafts; they helped make the signs for their doors. The month of August is Smile, Clown and Sisters, friendship month. The motto is "Let a smile be your umbrella".

The ladies from the Friendship Sunday School Class, First Baptist Church, came and sang. Freida Simpson played the piano. The class also brought the residents some cookies.

Family Night was August 18th at 5:00 p.m. Brisket was furnished by the facility and the trimmings by the family. We had a good turn out. Thanks go out to all the families who brought food.

We have a new maintenance man, Ralph Jackson.

We welcome a new resident, Rosebud Bonjour, mother of Sheree Cannon.

The residents enjoyed the watermelon Thursday, given to us by Ray Holcomb. The ladies from the Companions "N" Caring helped serve. They were Dolores Cannon, Leona Neff and Shirley Varner. We have also enjoyed squash, and canteloupe too. We are blessed with fresh vegetables grown here in Floydada.

The rains have been refreshing, but make it humid and the weeds grow along with the grass.

The residents did arts and crafts Monday. They made a coaster; now are working on a hot pin cushion.

Popcorn was enjoyed Tuesday. Bingo was played Wednesday and Friday. Thanks to Mary Alice Davis for assisting the residents.

Our monthly birthday party will be today, Thursday at 3:00 p.m. We have four resident birthdays this month: Rosebud Bonjour 8/3, Frances McClure 8/1, Ruth McIntosh 8/17, W.B. Eakin 8/26; and employee Dorothy Coleman 8/24.

Thanks to all who come and share the devotions and their time and talents.

Rescue school attracts 202

Floydada's annual Agro-Rescue School attracted 202 students, instructors and support personnel, Saturday, August 16.

Sixty-four fire, rescue and EMS units from throughout the state of Texas converged on training grounds, east of Floydada, on Hwy. 70.

With 135 students the school was one of the larger Agro-Rescue Schools since its founding in 1984.

Two new classes, Electrical Safety and High Angle Rescue, were added to this year's school.

The High Angle rescue class is for the very advanced student and is used to teach rescue from high structures, such as water towers and grain elevators.

This class was held on top of the Floydada Water Tower and "live" people, played the victim, and allowed themselves to be lowered from the tower.

Rhonda Guthrie, a wife of a Floydada Volunteer Fireman, was one of the victims who "volunteered" to be lowered from the water tower.

Another new course, Electrical Safety, teaches the dangers of electrical equipment that might be encountered in a rescue.

As in years past basic and advanced rappelling courses were also taught. In rappelling, students are taught rope rigging, basic knots, and rescue.

Classes on extrication from vehicles and farm equipment is also taught every year.

Students learn to rescue victims from combines, cotton strippers, hay bailers, tractor accidents and other heavy equipment.

Confined space rescue taught students the methods of extrication from enclosed areas such as underground structures and grain related structures.

Crosby-Floyd Counties
CURRENT SITUATION
More rainfall blessed many areas of Crosby and Floyd counties last night and this morning. While most of Floyd County is saturated, Crosby County could still use a good rain.

Good news for cotton growers experiencing aphid problems. The Texas Department of Agriculture issued a 24(C) for Furadan 4F use on cotton aphids for the state of Texas on Friday, August 15th. Criteria are similar to last year's Section 18 including demonstrating resistance to currently labeled materials in the area and treating infestations only when they reach 100 or more per leaf. The label allows use at 8 oz. per acre with a maximum of two applications per season. Please read the label.

Sorghum Ergot has arrived on the High Plains. On Friday, August 15th, ergot was found on the Crosby-Floyd County line just Northeast of Cone. Another site was found Southwest of Lubbock and one West of Plains on Saturday. All infestations were found on male sterile sorghum. In male sterile sorghum plants, such as those used in seed blocks, the stigma is exposed and can damage corn, especially later planted fields. Recent heavy rainfall has helped keep some fields in check while others have not. Growers should be aware that mites can kill plants prematurely and if this occurs before dent, yield loss will be experienced.

COTTON
Bollworm populations are highly variable from field to field. This past week egg lays in cotton have ranged from 500 to 20,000 eggs per acre. However, in fields inspected on Monday, eggs were few. In some areas small larvae have reached treatable levels, so continue to monitor your fields closely.

Boll weevil numbers continue to increase in many fields across both counties. Remember that weevils usually occur in pockets or hot spots within a field and one should check all areas of a field to determine if treatment is necessary.

At this time, weevil infestations can be found across Eastern Floyd and Crosby Counties, along the Blanco Canyon, along the Southern portions of Crosby County, and in areas throughout the western edge of Crosby County. Right now, infesta-

Remember a boll is not safe from weevils until it is too hard to cut with a sharp knife. If you farm cotton in any of these areas, I would advise that you monitor your crop closely over the next four to six weeks.

Aphids have been present all season and are now beginning to make their presence known. Infested fields are scattered throughout both counties. Some fields which have not been sprayed all season are experiencing high infestation and can be attributed to high nitrogen in some fields. In fields sprayed at threshold levels of 50 per leaf, Lannate has provided good results. Other products available which I have not seen used are Bidrin, Bidrin + Ovasyn, Bidrin + Curacron, and Provado. As I mentioned earlier in this newsletter, a Section 24C exemption has been granted by the TDA for use of Furdan 4F to control cotton aphids. Please read and follow the attached label.

CORN
Southwestern Corn Borer trap numbers continue to decline as well as do the number of egg lays and larvae found in fields inspected. Growers should continue scouting their fields for small larvae.

Banks grass mites are still present

SORGHUM

Greenbugs continue to increase in many fields. Some have more than 300 greenbugs per colony and some fields have been observed with up to 4 large colonies per leaf. Leaf damage has ranged from 0 to 5 dead leaves per plant. Greenbugs can reduce yield when two or more leaves are killed prior to grain fill.

Midge are present and should be monitored closely during the bloom period. The best time to scout for midge is from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. When making treatment decisions for midge, refer to the product charts.

PUMPKINS

Pumpkins are beginning to size in many fields inspected this week. Powdery mildew is actively growing in several fields. If you did not apply fungicides last week and received rainfall, I recommend you put on an application of no less than 2 pints of Bravo 720 or Bravo Weather-Stik.

No 1997 diapause program scheduled

By Shawn Wade
It's old news that there will be no diapause program in 1997.

The latest news, following the referendum, is there will be no areawide boll weevil control program in 1998 unless producers demand one after the first of the year.

Producers spoke through the recent referendum and said "No" to establishing a Southern High Plains/Caprock boll weevil eradication zone. This "No" vote to the first item on the referendum ballot eliminated all subsequent items.

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers learned Wednesday that of some 13,200 voting forms mailed out only 6,636 valid ballots were returned. Just 48.4% of these voted for Proposition #1, well short of the two-thirds majority needed to establish the zone.

In a meeting of PCG's Boll Weevil Steering Committee discussing the results members expressed respect for producers not being ready to accept the proposals offered by Texas Department of Agriculture and the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation.

State Senator Robert Duncan, attending the meeting stated: "This is not the time to quit. It's imperative that we have a program in this area. It's time to enlist support from those who have been sitting on the sidelines."

PCG has always taken a proactive stance in facing the boll weevil issue. The organization will continue to gather and publish boll weevil population data from its established trapping programs as service to producers faced with fighting the insect one-on-one.

The end result of this referendum is that cotton producers are 100% responsible for any, and all, boll weevil control on their own farms. PCG stands ready to carry out the future desires of producers in regard to boll weevil control activities.

Efforts underway to bring "Fiber Forum" to High Plains

High Plains cotton producers have worked hard over the past decade and a half to improve the quality and perception of the cotton they grow.

This effort has been enhanced over the past three years by High Plains producers participating in the beltwide "Fiber Forum" sponsored by Fiber magazine.

The "Fiber Forum" is exactly what it seems, a forum during which producers and spinners can discuss current issues. Participants can then work to develop strategies for avoiding potential problems and enhancing the value of products produced at both ends of this marketing chain.

During past Forums High Plains producers have had to travel to the Southeast to attend the meetings. Now, efforts are underway to bring the next "Fiber Forum" to the High Plains. If all goes well Lubbock could host the next Forum in March of 1998.

"This is really an outstanding opportunity for growers across the High Plains to visit directly with the end-users of about 55 percent of their production," says PCG President Jackie Burris of Wellman. "By taking the time to visit with the people who utilize our crops, we can target our efforts towards producing the type of cotton they need to operate efficiently."

FLOYDADA -- If you plan on eating lunch at the center, please call 983-2032 by 10:00 a.m. Very good hot meals are served Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

This is a place to receive a reasonably priced good meal, visit friends and get in a few laughs. We serve from forty-five to eighty-five people per day. We need all of you 60 years and older to make this a good center.

We have a new employee, Rose Soby. She is another one of our very good cooks. We welcome her.

At the center, Wednesday, August 13th, Alvie Jackson's son, Lynn and his wife, Joyce Jackson from Duncanville ate lunch with his dad and Kacky Jackson. They also visited people they haven't seen in a long time.

Jr. Taylor from Cedar Hill also ate lunch at the center, Wednesday, August 13th.

Congratulations to the following who recently received fifty year pins from Floydada Masonic Lodge 712 AF & AM; they are Doyle Walls, Henry Hinton, and R.Q. "Doc" Botkin. Kenneth Poole received the Golden Trowel. From the Floydada Charter and Council Masonic Lodge were Furman Vinson, Henry Ford, Al Whitaker, Jimmy Willson, Dave Sechrist, J.W. Pritchett, and Harley Workman.

Wednesday, August 6th, Evelyn Queen and Edna Patton visited Mertice Rainer and her granddaughter, Mary Ann Rainer. Mrs. Rainer returned to Floydada last May. She had been in a retirement home in Lubbock for the past two years. She is so happy to be back in Floydada and is looking forward to visiting with her friends.

Edna Patton, Wilma Payne and Lucille Custer visited Amanda Hart and her granddaughter on Thursday, August 7th.

Congratulations to Betsy Dempsey. She has a new great-granddaughter. This is the fifth one!

Also, congratulations to Nell McClung on her new great-grandchild.

I spent Thursday and Friday in Amarillo visiting my three sisters. Two of them live in Amarillo and one in Hereford. We had sort of a sister reunion.

Last Thursday, when I got home from Amarillo, I had a letter from Leona Campbell of Canyon. Leona lived here several years ago. She said she enjoys reading the Senior Citizen News. I truly appreciate hearing from her and to know that those who have moved from our community are reading this column. I do not go out seeking the news. I do not have the time to do that as much as I would like to. The news I report is information that I gather at the center; people calling me and through the mail. So, if you have some news that those in our reading area would be interested in, let me know. Everyone always wants to know and hear from their friends.

Since I started writing the news, I have kept a scrap/photo book. I've taken pictures of everyone at the center and have placed the pictures, plus other interesting articles concerning our seniors, in these books. Someday, they will be very interesting to look at. I have four books full of pictures and articles now.

I appreciate hearing from Leona and have placed her note in the scrap book. We also thank her for the donation she sent toward our parking lot repair project.

Maggie Perry's son, Bill, and Tippy Jones of Pampa, spent last weekend in Floydada. Maggie prepared dinner for her son and his wife, Travis and Gladys Jones, and their son, Jon.

Our paving project funds are still coming in. As of Monday, August 18th, we had deposited $2,067.00. We still need $833.00.

Those who have contributed since my last article are: Kyle and Diana Glover, Johnie Ward of Lubbock, Crawford Sandefur of Midland, Lorella Bradley in memory of Dan Daniel, Ethel Carmack, Corkey and Janiece Guffee, Vida (Cook) Martin of Amarillo, Leona Campbell of Canyon, Blanche Williams, Evelyn Queen, Mirtis Cope and Betsy Dempsey.

Sue Guthrie had surgery last week. She is at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock; Frances Puckett Sheppard is home; Eleanor Hendricks had surgery Monday, August 18th; Gladys Jones is home from the hospital; J.R. Turner is at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock; Charlene Norrell is home after surgery.

Thought For The Week: Ask God to help you sow good seeds this week. Also pray for each other.

August 25-29
Monday: BBQ Polish sausage, baked potato, broccoli/cheese, wheat roll, pears
Tuesday: Carne guisada, ejotes guisados, Mexican rice, ambrosia fruit salad, coyotitas

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL)-- A drug that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis," and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis, relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis, is available immediately without a prescription in an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream or new roll-on liquid form. Arthur Itis, is guaranteed to work or your money back.

Caprock Hospital District trustees adopt budget and set tax rate

FLOYDADA -- Caprock Hospital District adopted a budget for the 1997-98 fiscal year from October 1, 1997 through September 30, 1998 during the regular session for the month of August. Meeting at Nielson's Restaurant Tuesday morning at 7:00 a.m., the board also set the tax rate for the 1997 tax year.

Board President Tom Farris presented board members with three budget options for possible adoption. He stated that expenses in all three options were based on the previous year's expenses and an estimated clinic loss of approximately $30,000.00 per month. Farris said the first option added $1,000.00 per month to the Floydada EMS subsidy, making the total CHD contributes to the operation of the ambulance service $72,000.00 per year. This option also included an allocation for capital outlay expenses, expected mainly on the heating and air conditioning system.

"Option two is the same with no capital outlay budgeted and the EMS subsidy cut to $500," said Farris. He indicated the third option was to delete the capital outlay and to deny EMS any increase, leaving their subsidy at $60,000.00 per year and placing the proposed budget at virtually the same level as the 1996-97 budget.

In discussing the three options, UMC representatives Eric Givens and Paul Acreman stated that they were pretty sure the monthly loss at the clinic would decrease without the burden of a second physician's salary and with a better collection rate. They also indicated that lab work was being shunted to the Floydada clinic's lab from other UMC supervised clinics in the area to try and increase revenues.

Kyle Smith, the CHD Board representative on the EMS Board of Directors, reported that EMS had given paramedics and crew raises which amounted to about $5,000.00 for the year. He said this would bring them closer to the state average but not up to it at this time.

Board member Lee Battey stated "I feel the board needs to make a commitment to support EMS and the clinic. Therefore I would make the motion to adopt the second option offered, with the smaller subsidy for the EMS and no capital outlay."

Smith seconded the motion. All board members voted in favor of the proposal.

The board then considered adoption of a tax rate. In view of the budget option adopted and the estimated carry over of $325,000.00 from this year, no increase in taxes was considered. The vote was unanimous to have the tax rate remain at 15 cents per $100 in assessed valuation. Motion was made by Hefflin and seconded by Battey. Board member Denice Payne asked that the board work on finding a use for the hospital building such as some type of retirement or assisted living center. She told those present she had been asked many times why the board didn't do something to benefit the community rather than letting the building deteriorate.

She said public opinion seemed to be that people are paying hospital district taxes for nothing since they do not use the clinic or the community services housed at the hospital building (Floyd County Day Care and RNR) and there is no hospital. Board members agreed to look in to finding other more positive options for utilizing the building during the coming year. Making people more aware of the services the district supports should also be a priority in the coming months said Payne.

Payne also questioned why local high school physicals were done in Lubbock by St. Mary's, reportedly for free. She indicated that it did not look good for this to occur. UMC representatives and other board members voiced the opinion that the clinic would have been pleased to accommodate the physicals, but could not have done them for free. A discounted rate, and extra staff or a special day could be arranged for group services if necessary added Acreman.

Board members also approved minutes from the previous meeting and financial reports for the month during the session.
