Punkin Day players arrive despite cold winds

WRAPPED FROM HEAD TO TOE--This youngster was out bright and early with his family to watch the Punkin Day 5K Run in Floydada on Saturday. Bitter cold winds made the early morning revelers miserable even when covered with added layers of love.

Wesley Hunter completes mural

LOCKNEY--Wesley Hunter has finished painting a mural depicting West Texas on the side of the Boy Scout building on Main Street in Lockney.

When the subject of a mural was discussed at a Lockney Chamber of Commerce meeting the project was turned over to the Boy Scouts.

Hunter, the son of Bill and Kathy Hunter, took on the painting as his Eagle project.

Hunter has been in scouting since his cub scout days and has received many merit badges. He has been to Camp Philmont and Tres Ritos and hiked approximately 135 miles on back-

"Although this building will be built with steel and concrete, it will be solidly reinforced by the fortitude, courage, and steadfastness of the people who have united to achieve this common goal," said the Floyd County Friends.

"The floor plans for the multi-purpose/life enrichment center were developed in September of 1995 by LaNell McCandless, a Floydada resident, and overseen by Texas Tech University School of Architecture," said Nick Long, president of Floyd County Friends. Based on current construction estimates and friends, the following figures reflect the projected costs the Friends have determined: office/meeting area $270,000, arena area $520,000, auxiliary building $150,000, bleachers and stage $100,000, kitchen $25,000, furnishings $15,000, sound system $20,000, parking and landscaping $200,000, all totaling $1.3 million.

"We would like to be able to build it all at one time; but more than likely it will be built in stages," Long said.

The Friends anticipate hiring a contractor within 180 days after the $1.3 million has been secured, with construction beginning shortly thereafter. They have estimated that completion of the building will take about 12 months.

priorities. The first priority's cost is $600,000 and includes building and insulating the arena, building the roof and concrete floor of front meeting ing area, installing the large overhead doors and plenty of circuits, commercial septic system, bore under highway for water line, moderate heating and outside sign.

Priority two includes completing the front part of the building, furnish concession stand area and commercial grade kitchen area, furnish the front area banquet room, furnish meeting room/office. The total cost is estimated at $270,000.

Priority three costs estimate is $280,000. It consists of bleachers for the arena seating 500, portable stage, risers, landscaping and paved parking for 150 cars/approximately 375

The final phase, priority four, includes building and insulating the auxiliary building along with finishing touches to the bathrooms, wash racks and overhead door. This phase is estimated to cost $150,000.

Girl Scouts attend career caravan

Troop 154 spent last weekend in Lubbock attending Career Caravan. They checked in Friday evening at Forrest Heights Methodist Church. They began by listening to several speakers who talked about the kinds of work they do. Speakers included a speech teacher, Girl Scout employee, United Way employee, and a reporter from the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

At 10:30 everyone loaded up and traveled to the Avalanche-Journal, where they received a special tour (daytime groups don't have the same tour) and watched the Saturday paper being printed. They returned to the LOCKNEY--Lockney Girl Scout church about 1:00 a.m. and spent the night in the basement.

> Saturday morning they learned how to fill out a job application. After cleaning up the church, the girls traveled to KLBK Channel 13. Another tour was given, and they got to visit with the weekend crew and anchor people. Each girl was supposed to bring a blank video tape, and they got to make their own mini newscast. They closed out their Career Caravan with lunch at Pinocchio's.

Around 40 Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts attended this Caprock Council Girl Scout sponsored event.

The Pumpkin Part II

By: John Greenleaf Whittier What moistens the lip and what brightens the eye? What calls back the past, like the rich pumpkin pie? Oh!--fruit loved of boyhood!--the old days recalling,

When wild, ugly faces we carved

Glaring out through the dark with a candle within! When we laughed 'round the corn-heap, with hearts all in tune, Our chair a broad pumpkin-our lantern the moon. Telling tales of the fairy who traveled like steam,

In a pumpkin-shell coach, with two rats for her team!

Then thanks for thy present!-none sweeter or better

E'er smoked from an oven or circled

Fairer hands never wrought at a pattern is Log Cabin Star In The Mountains. The colpastry more fine.

Brighter eyes never watched o'er its baking than thine!

And the prayer which my mouth is too full to express,

Swells my heart that thy shadow may never be less;

That the days of thy lot may be lengthened below,

And the fame of thy worth like a pumpkin-vine grow, And thy life be as sweet, and its last

Golden-tinted and fair as thy own Pumpkin Pie!

Recipe of the Week

Pumpkin Dip 12 oz cream cheese, softened 3/4 c. canned pumpkin 2 Tbsp. taco seasoning mix 1/8 tsp. garlic powder 1/3 c. chopped dried beef

1/3 c. chopped green pepper

1/3 c. chopped red pepper 1 can (2 1/4 oz) ripe olives, drained Mix and beat cream cheese & pumpkin. Add other ingredients, mix well. Let dip set overnight. Serve with Senior quarterback Cy Cowart ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third, as the Floydada Whirlwinds beat Roosevelt last Friday night 26-0. The win is Floydada's third on the season, while Roosevelt remains winless.

The Winds scored first when David Lightfoot recovered a fumble on the opening kickoff. After driving 48 yards on 13 plays, Michael Black gave Floydada the lead on a 12 yard run. Roosevelt had an opportunity to score early in the second, but missed on a field goal attenpt. The Winds responded by driving 80 yards in 9 plays and scoring again when Cowart connected with Black for a 28 yard touchdown pass. Later in the quarter, Richard Casillas intercepted an Eagle pass and returned it to the Roosevelt 1 yard line. With less than 30 seconds left in the half, Cowart then scored his first touchdown of the night on a 1 yard scamper.

Michael Black intercepted another Roosevelt pass in the third quarter, but the Winds couldn't capitalize on the mistake. Floydada would score again in the final minutes of the game on a Cy Cowart 17 yard run to secure the Winds third victory of the season, and their first shutout since blanking Friona in 1994.

alive in the hunt for a playoff bid by Yards Passing defeating Lubbock Cooper 42-12. Friday night, the Whirlwinds (3-5,2-3) travel to Brownfield to face the Cubs (1-7, 1-4); Denver City (8-0,5-0) travels to Roosevelt (0-8,0-5); and Penalties/Yards Littlefield (4-4,3-2) faces Seminole Punts/Avg (7-1,4-1) at Wigwam Stadium.

A win by Seminole guarantees the Indians at least a second place bid in the post-season, while a Littlefield win this week and a win next week against Cooper gives the Wildcats a spot in playoff action and leaves Seminole sitting at home. For Cooper to reach the playoffs, they need to win their two remaining games (Slaton, Littlefield) and need Seminole to lose their next two (Littlefield, Floydada). Slaton, Floydada, Brownfield and Roosevelt have all been eliminated from postseason play.

LOCKNEY--This past Thursday the 7th grade Shorthorns battled the Highland Park Hornets to 16-6, as the youngsters from Lockney came up just short of their second victory for the year.

The Lockney defense stung the Hornets on their first possession forcing a three and out situation. However, the Shorthorn offense was unable to capitalize and the Hornets gained the momentum. After receiving the ball deep in Lockney territory, the Hornets found the end zone and a two point conversion attempt put Highland Park in the lead 8-0. With only 1:57 left in the first half, Lockney made one last attempt to score, but was stopped at the 50-yard line as time ran out in the 20-yard line. Facing a third down and ten situation, Bayley went to the air dialing for a big play and found the play maker Matt McPherson open for a first down on the 8-yard line. Sherman then did the honors but Lockney was unable to convert the point after attempt leaving the Hornets in the lead 8-6.

Lockney had one last chance in the fourth quarter but was forced to punt and Highland Park made it count as they returned the punt for a touchdown and punched in the two point attempt to seal the deal at 18-6.

Once again our kids played well but shot themselves in the foot on special teams. I really thought our defense did a great job when it had to stop them. I was very proud of Ben Sherman on both sides of the ball. He is finally turning the corner and becoming the player we need him to be. I also thought our secondary did a great job. 8th grade beats Highland Park

By Coach Hallmark

LOCKNEY--The eighth grade Shorthorns played one of their best games of the year in a 24-0 win over Highland Park. The kids had one of their best offensive showings as several kids contributed to our success in moving the ball.

Tyler Snow ran extremely well, as well as our two fullbacks. Hector Morales and Chad Johnson. Mo Collins passed the ball well as he was 6 of 7 and a touchdown pass of 8 yards. All of this would not be possible if our offensive line did not block. The offensive line played well.

I was proud of the way the kids played offensively in moving the ball.

We also played well defensively as every kid on the field did their job. Each kid played well in his own position as the Highland Park Hornets had a tough time moving the ball. Frankie Gonzales and Brandon Alvis had exceptional games defensively. The kids played hard defensively. Every kid ran to the ball and tackled

I was proud of the overall play of the team and I hope to continue that kind of play. The next game is here Thursday against Hale Center starting at 5:00 p.m.

Punkin'Days brings cold cash to library building fund

By: Jerry Crawford

Despite cold temperatures and a brisk northwesterly wind that reduced turnout for Floydada's annual Punkin Festival, the event was a great success for the Friends of the Floyd County Library, according to President, Joyce Lipham. The combination of the organization's quilt project, the used book sale, bake sale, and sales of the Pumpkin Recipe Booklet generated over $3,000 for the Floyd County Library Building Fund.

"Ironically," according to Joyce, "the cold weather may have actually helped our sales as people sought refuge from the cold wind in our cozy location in the First National Bank Community Room." Once there, of course, people were able to pick up great bargains in used books, invest in tasty home-baked pumpkin treats, purchase a pumpkin recipe booklet, or buy a ticket for the Christmas quilt drawing to be held at 3:00 p.m. Satur-

Combined receipts from the book sale, bake sale, and recipe booklet ably compiled, edited, and published were over $1,000. The Quilt project, by Jane McCulley, into a full-fledged however, was the big money raiser, cook book to be professionally bound with over $2,000 in ticket sales. and printed.

Friends members Billie Jordan and Alice Baker donated the materials and pieced the quilt, so that almost all the ticket proceeds went directly to the building fund.

Brittany Brotherton, Little Miss Floydada, drew the winning ticket on Saturday afternoon that awarded the beautiful Christmas quilt to Jean Kendrick of the Mt. Blanco community in Southeast Floyd County. We are sure that Bob and Jean Kendrick, as well as their children will enjoy their new quilt. Certainly, Friends of the Floyd County Library are grateful to them for their continued support of the organization, and to all the members of the community who purchased tickets, books, baked goods, and the recipe booklet.

For those who did not win the quilt drawing this year, there is a good possibility that next year the Friends put together another, so don't give up hope. Also, plans are in place to expand the Pumpkin Recipe Booklet, so

"FOCUS ON THE FAMILY" with Dr. James Dobson

QUESTION: You have talked about how Barbie dolls place undue emphasis on clothing, possessions and appearance. Barbie isn't the only example of this adolescent influence in our culture, is it?

DR. DOBSON: No. Our children are saturated with commercial stuff that has the same impact. More and more, we see adolescent clothes, attitudes and values being marketed to younger and younger children. And rock and rap music, with adolescent and adult themes, are finding eager listeners among the very young.

I believe it is desirable to postpone the adolescent experience until it is summoned by the happy hormones. Therefore, I strongly recommend that parents screen the influences to which their children are exposed, keeping activities appropriate for each age. While we can't isolate our kids from the world as it is, we don't have to turn our babies into teeny boppers.

QUESTION: Please talk about a father's impact on his daughter and what he should hope to accomplish through that relationship.

DR. DOBSON: Fathers have an incalculable impact on their daughters. Most psychologists believe--and I am one of them--that all future romantic relationships to occur in a girl's life will be influenced positively or negatively by the way she perceives and interacts with her dad. If he rejects and ignores her, she will spend her life trying to replace him in her heart. If he is warm and nurturing, she will look for a lover to equal him If he thinks she is beautiful, worthy and feminine, she will be inclined to see herself that way. But if he thinks rights reserved. she is likely to carry self-esteem problems into her adult years.

I have also observed that a woman's respect for her husband is significantly influenced by the way she perceived her father. If he was overbearing, uncaring or capricious during her developmental years, she may disrespect her husband and question his judgment. But if her dad blended love and leadership in a way that conveyed strength, she will be more likely to live harmoniously with her husband.

None of these tendencies or trends are absolute, of course. Individual differences can always produce exceptions and contradictions. But this statement will be hard to refute: A good father will leave his positive imprint on his daughter for the rest of

Professor Krieg estimates big cotton crop

By Shawn Wade

Estimating a crop is always a difficult task and recent reports of a 3.6 BILLION bale crop are at the best classified as whimsically inaccurate according to officials at Lubbockbased Plains Cotton Growers (PCG).

Texas Tech University Professor Dan Krieg, says the potential exists for producers to harvest up to 3.6 million bales. Krieg cautions that the only downside to this figure is that boll weevil damage across the area has probably reduced the crop's potential more than previously thought.

Krieg notes that economically it does not take much for the boll weevil to lower yields and profits. He estimates that one damaged boll per foot of row costs a producer 30 pounds of lint per acre. Applied to 2 million acres this represents an economic loss of $36 million dollars and 125,000 bales less production.

With the forced closure of PCG's 34 year Diapause Control Program, the Texas High Plains is unprotected for the first time from the full effect of unchecked boll weevil overwinter-

Growers in southern portions of the recently proposed Southern High Plains-Caprock Eradication Zone are putting forth every effort to protect themselves from this threat.

Growers from these areas, acknowledging that weevil infestations have not yet reached crisis proportions in all of the SHP-C Zone, have asked for PCG support of a 60-day comment period for the purpose of reorganizing the SHP-C Zone into small incre-that will allow weevil eradication program's to be initiated as soon as growers in any newly defined zones are ready to do so.

How and where lines are redrawn is the responsibility of Commissioner Perry and the TDA. Any reorganization plans will be based on producer input and suggestions during this pe-

Boll weevil populations in the future

By Shawn Wade

The possibility that record numbers of boll weevil's could emerge from overwintering habitat in 1998 has many members of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) wondering what can be done to lower future weevil populations.

"Without an area wide suppression program in place for the 1997 crop producers are facing 1998 with a very real probability that weevils will be present in significant numbers early in the year," says PCG Vice President of Operations Roger Haldenby. "However, a number of fall and winter activities could moderate the impact of the boll weevil next spring.

Many growers have already adopted the use of harvest aid chemicals on both irrigated and dryland crops to speed up the harvest and decrease late-season weevil food supplies. With harvest activities beginning to pick up both growers and ginners have an opportunity to eliminate potential overwintering sites as soon as their operations permit.

For most growers, and ginners, the next step in curtailing boll weevil overwintering is to clean up fields and gin yards. By scattering (or burning where conditions permit) green boll piles, burrs and other harvest residues after they have been processed growers and ginners can eliminate a viable weevil habitat.

Another positive activity for growers and ginners is to clean up other potential overwintering sites. Cleaning around homesteads, tree belts, gin yards, CRP fields, and urban backyards eliminates many good overwintering habitats that harbor weevils.

Controlled burning of CRP fields has proven to be a very effective method for controlling both weeds and overwintering boll weevils. Guidelines for setting up a controlled burn can be obtained from PCG.

Lastly, producers are encouraged to monitor the 1998 crop with traps and to plan for the possibility that overwintering weevil applications could be necessary early in the year.

Senator Gramm visits Lubbock

By Shawn Wade

Plains Cotton Growers officials say kicking off an effort to protect agriculture from the costly addition of more regulation was the goal of Senator Phil Gramm during his visit to Lubbock and the Lubbock Cotton

With PCG Vice President Don Langston acting as Master of Ceremonies, Gramm announced the Ozone and Particulate Matter Research Act of 1997 co-sponsored by Senator Jim Inhofe of Oklahoma. The legislation calls for a five-year moratorium on the implementation of new Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Clean Air Standards.

Gramm noted that he has bipartisan support from 100 members of the House and Senate for the legislation which call for $75 million in research spending in each of the next five years to determine the risks posed by particulate matter and $25 million a year for continued ozone research.

Gramm notes that EPA's current approach would further American agriculture's regulatory burden and keep U.S. producers at a competitive disadvantage with other countries.

Tips given for control of fruit tree diseases

Floyd County Farm News

By Ron Graves Extension Agent-Entomology (PM)

Crosby/Floyd Counties

Sometimes fruit tree care is forgotten or neglected in the fall, but it's a critical time for controlling many peach and plum tree diseases to insure a good crop next year.

Applying a copper fungicide now can stop or help reduce three of the major diseases that attack peach, apricot, and plum trees in Texas. These are peach leaf curl, bacterial leaf spot, and bacterial canker.

The puckered and distorted peach tree leaves that were either bright red or light green in diseased areas last spring were the result of peach leaf curl fungus. The time to control this disease effectively is in the fall by use of a copper-containing fungicide.

Bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker can be partially controlled by fall spraying with a copper fungicide. Bacterial leaf spot affects both the fruit and the foliage. The infection causes the fruit to crack and the leaves to develop angular spots that drop out. Bacterial canker will kill trees slowly.

Ballots to be cast on constitutional amendments November 4

November 4, Texas voters will cast their ballots for or against 14 consti- Texas Water Development Board to tutional amendments.

The League of Women Voters has outlined the following arguments for control, or state participation from one and against the amendments.

Proposition 1: Allows a person who holds the office of municipal court judge to hold at the same time more than one civil office for which the person receives compensation."

Arguments For: The proposed change will help small cities attract qualified, trained applicants to serve as municipal court judges. If passed, this amendment will allow small cities to continue to benefit from the savings derived from employing parttime judges.

Arguments Against: If this proposition is approved there is no guarancreased success attracting more competent applicants. There is no data available showing that the proposed change will improve the administration of justice.

Proposition 2: The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to limit increases in the appraised value of residence homesteads for ad valorem taxation and to permit a school district to calculate the school property tax freeze applicable to the residence homestead of an elderly person or the surviving spouse of an elderly person in accordance with the law authorizing the transfer of the school property tax freeze to a different homestead regardless of whether that law was in effect at the time the person established the person's home-

For: If enacted, this amendment, would allow the gradual phasing in of increased property valuations for homeowners, adding predictability to the system. Allowing retroactive application will enable elderly persons who transferred their homestead residences at an earlier date to get the ben- property owners. Homestead property efit of the tax freeze.

Against: Capping taxation for homeowners would cause owners of other types of property, primarily businesses, to bear a higher percentage of the school tax burden. Since some would not, the amendment would have a discriminatory impact on elderly homeowners in some districts.

Proposition 3: Authorizes the legislature to permit a taxing unit to grant an exemption or other relief from ad valorem taxes on property on which a water conservation initiative has been implemented.

For: The amendment would give local jurisdictions optional methods to promote water conservation. This amendment would be implemented at the local level with local input from citizens who are in the best position to know what is best for their community.

Against: The amendment would not mandate that all jurisdictions participate in statewide water conservation tax relief measures and could be costly to taxing jurisdictions, giving tax relief or credits to property owners who should practice water conservation initiatives without such incen-

Proposition 4: Eliminates duplicate numbering in and certain obsolete provisions of the Texas constitution.

For: This would eliminate the confusion of having two different provisions of the constitution identified by the same section number.

Against: The Texas Constitution needs to be rewritten, at which time cosmetic changes of this sort could be made more economically and efficiently.

Proposition 5: Authorizes the Supreme Court to transact business at any location in this state.

For: Utilizing the opportunity to observe a court session in their own community, students and other citizens would broaden their understanding of the Texas judicial system.

The present nine members of the court support this proposition, citing the success off similar endeavors in large majority of the states.

Against: There will be additional costs associated with the court sitting at different locations, the total depending on the number of off-site visits that occur annually.

Proposition 6: Allows the Texas growth Fund to continue to invest in businesses without requiring those businesses to disclose investments in South Africa and Namibia.

For: Since the intent of the disclosure requirement was to address concerns relating to the apartheid system of government, and these concerns are no longer relevant, continued mandatory disclosure is an unnecessary administrative burden on the Texas Growth Fund and the businesses through which it makes investments.

Against: The League of Women Voters of Texas Education Fund has not found any arguments in opposition to this proposed amendment.

Proposition 7: Authorizes the transfer existing bond authorizations for water supply, water quality, flood category of use to another category to maximize the use of existing funds and relating to more efficient operation of the bond programs.

For: Would allow greater use and better, more efficient operation and management of already existing bond funds. By increasing the amount available to lend to Texas communities by approximately $77 million per year, the proposed amendment would postpone the need for an additional constitutional amendment to approve more money for water supply projects to meet basic drinking water standards. By allowing one bond issue for tee that small cities will have in- multiple purposes and eliminating the requirement for separate bond issue for each category, the proposed amendment would result in a cost savings to communities receiving Texas Water Development Board loans.

Against: The state should make the best effort to efficiently spend and utilize currently authorized funds for their intended uses. The will of those who voted in previous elections to establish separate funds for use of the bonds, indicating support for specific uses, would be frustrated by this amendment. Passage of the amendment would lead to use of state funds for construction of reservoirs, which may be unnecessary and not represent the best use of limited water funds.

Proposition 8: Expands the types of liens for home equity loans that a lender, with the homeowner's consent, may place against a homestead.

For: This would provide a safe and reasonable means for Texas to have more flexibility in the way they use money invested in their homestead property, and includes sufficient rules and guidelines to protect homestead owners want this access to homestead equity loans because interest on home equity loans usually is lower. Unlike interest paid for other types of loans, home equity interest amounts would be deductible from federal income school district would choose to make taxes. Making home equity loans the tax freeze retroactive and other available to homestead property owners would increase the availability of borrowed money which could stimulate the economy.

Against: The Texas Constitution's protection of homestead property is a valuable right that ensures Texas families that their home is secure from debt collectors. This protection should not be diluted. The consumer protection provisions in the proposed amendment, especially the requirement that a lender go to court to foreclose would put small banks at a competitive disadvantage, making it prohibitively expensive for them to foreclose, even in instances of fraud. If lenders were allowed to secure more loans with homestead property, they would stop making unsecured personal loans and force homeowners to risk their homes

Proposition 9: Authorizes an ad valorem tax rate in rural fire prevention districts located in Harris County of five cents on each $100 of taxable value of property.

For: This would allow rural fire prevention districts located in the most populous county in the state to levy an ad valorem tax sufficient to support needed services. No ad valorem tax for a rural fire prevention district could be increased without the consent of voters of each district.

Against: Property tax rates should not have to be increased while real property are increasing. The proposed amendment would increase the overall tax burden for homeowners and other property owners. Proposition 10: Designates the purposes for which money in the compensation to victims of crime fund and the compensation to victims of crime auxiliary fund may be used.

For: This would continue an almost 20 year commitment of the state to provide services to victims of crime. Dedicating these funds would keep the legislature from using this money for any purpose other than to help crime Against: This would take the crime victim fund out of competition and would limit the legislature's ability to fund other equally worthy programs that lack the same type of protection. A constitutionally dedicated fund should be well defined to fulfill intent. The proposed amendment fails to meet this standard.

Proposition 11: Limits the amount of state debt payable from the general revenue fund.

For: Putting the current statutory restrictions in the constitution will ensure that the legislature cannot change them without voter approval. The proposed limit of 5% of the threeyear average of general revenues is reasonable, especially since the current level of debt service is well be-

KENNETH BROSEH

Funeral services were held for Kenneth Broseh, 67, of Lockney, at 2:00 p.m. Monday, October 27, 1997, at the First United Methodist Church of Lockney. Reverend Harold Abney, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lockney, officiated and the Reverend Tommie Beck, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Lockney, assisted. Burial was in Plainview Memorial Park under the direction of Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home of Lockney.

Mr. Broseh died Saturday, October 25, 1997, at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo.

Mr. Broseh was born on March 23, 1930 in Harrold, Texas. He graduated from Electra High School and from Midwestern University. He continued his education at Texas Tech University where he obtained a Masters Degree. Mr. Broseh served in the United States Army during the Korean War. He moved to Lockney after being discharged from the service. He married Juanita Pearl Tinsley on August 27, 1957, in Lockney. Mr. Broseh was a farmer. He was a member of the Lockney Lions Club, the Floyd County Stock Show Board, the Lockney ISD School Board, the Floyd County Fair Board, a charter member of the Floyd County Museum, and the State 4-H Leader Association. He was honored with the Outstanding Citizen Award in 1984 and he was a deacon at the Grace Fellowship Church of Lockney.

He is survived by his wife Juanita Broseh of Lockney; one daughter, Darlene Broseh of Amarillo; one son, Earl Broseh of Amarillo; his father, Floyd Broseh of Electra; and one sister, Joyce Morgan of College Station.

CARDS OF THANKS

decorative items they donated to Floydada area for Punkin' Day. Thanks to your gendecorating contest.

Again, Thank you,

The Friends of the Floyd County Library express our thanks to all who contributed so much to the great success of the used book sale, the recipe booklet, the bake sale, and the quilt project. Despite frigid weather, the culmination of these projects during Pumpkin Days raised over $3,000 to go directly into the Library Building Fund. Though it is not possible to name each person who contributed to this success, all deserve the appreciation of the entire community, the ultimate beneficiaries of our efforts. A special thanks is extended to Ginger Warren, Project Chairperson, who organized and coordinated the efforts of the Friends volunteers and provided "pumpkin samples" to everyone. Tom Farris and the employees of the First National Bank also deserve a special commendation for providing, once again, the FNB community room for our use during the book sale and bake sale. Johnny Summers, Manager of Lowe's Pay-N-Save, again demonstrated his community spirit by allowing us to display the quilt and sell tickets over an extended period of time. Lowe's also served as a central collection point for the drop-off of donated books. Hale's Department Store generously allowed display of and Asst. Nora Collins; RC Andrews Elthe Christmas quilt in their store window in the week preceding Pumpkin Days and Covington, and Debbie Bertrand; we thank them for this and for their past support of our fund raising projects.

Again, our thanks to all the superb vol- T.J.'s Athletics and Taylor Graphics. unteers and patrons who made these events so successful. You all richly deserve our the race committee volunteers: Laura gratitude and the recognition of your efforts by the community.
