BEFORE THE SPEECH — Helen Gahagan Douglas, an early political victim of Richard Nixon, waits to address the National Women's Democratic Club in Washington. Mrs. Douglas was defeated by Nixon in a 1950 Senate race in California. In her speech, Mrs. Douglas said President Nixon should be impeached because of what she called his usurpation of the power of the people.

WATERGATE Expected Refusal To Comply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House today let the Senate Watergate committee's demand for hundreds of presidential tapes and documents pass without a response.

In the face of the expected refusal to comply, the committee already had moved to speed up a decision in its request for federal court backing for its right to obtain White House files.

Chief counsel Samuel Dash and White House lawyer J. Fred Buzhardt met Thursday with U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica and scheduled a resumption of arguments in the suit.

On Monday, the committee will amend its complaint and file a new brief. The White House will have 10 days to respond.

After the 10 a.m. EST deadline for complying with the latest committee demands passed with no response from the White House, deputy counsel Rufus Edmisten said the massive subpoena would be narrowed "to the essentials" and then some court action would be taken.

Edmisten pointed out that it would be necessary to decide the pending suit before much could be done.

WHY NOT REMODEL, McMORRIES ASKS

TARZAN — "Lots of people don't think there is any choice but to build a new courthouse," Milton McMories said here today regarding Saturday's Martin County $400,000 bond issue.

"We've got some figures, but so far as I know they're just figures, and I don't think you can rule out remodeling. They've done it at Canyon, at Claude and Silvertown recently, just to mention some. I think I would prefer to remodel ours, but I don't know. We don't have enough information, and personally I feel when you don't have enough information, don't do anything, I'm not against spending money if I know what it's for."

McMories also has been active in soliciting signatures on a petition calling for relocation of the county seat within five miles of the geographical center of Martin County. He wasn't certain how many signatures have been obtained, but he thought between 250 and 300.

"I don't know how many we have to have, but I hear 1,311 are qualified to vote in the Saturday bond election," he said. "I feel like we can get a lot more on the petitions not only of new people who want to sign, but also because there are many cases where only the husband signed."

The county seat petition is a separate issue from Saturday's bond referendum, although proponents of modernizing the courthouse or building a new one have contended that the county seat petitions were circulated to muddy the waters for Saturday's election.

4.4 Million Out Of Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate moved up from 4.7 per cent to 4.9 per cent of the work force in December, marking the second consecutive monthly increase since the beginning of the energy crisis, the government reported today.

The increase apparently was due to the general slowdown of the economy but analysts for the Bureau of Labor Statistics said they lacked complete information to determine the effect of the fuel shortage on the jobless rate.

6 PER CENT

Administration officials had said previously the impact would be felt in December and even more sharply during the first three months of this year.

President Nixon's chief economic adviser, Herbert Stein, has forecast a jobless rate reaching about 6 per cent later this year as the full effects of the energy crisis impact on the economy.

According to the Labor Department report the number of people out of work increased by 170,000 last month to a total of 4.4 million. This followed an increase of 200,000 in the jobless rate in November.

The 4.9 per cent jobless rate was the highest level since a rate of 5 per cent last May. A year ago the rate was 5.1 per cent but it had fallen to 4.5 per cent in October, the lowest rate in 1973.

The unemployment survey was conducted from a sample of about 30,000 households nationwide.

Information on employment, hours and earnings is fathered from a survey of industrial establishments. The government said, however, that data from the industrial survey will be delayed one week because of collection, transportation and processing problems caused by the energy crisis and the Christmas holidays. It said this delay prevented an accurate analysis of the employment picture.

However, there was one indication that the fuel shortage was beginning to have some effect: workers seeking full-time jobs were forced to work shorter hours due to slowing of demand, material shortages or the inability to find full-time work, the government said.

The December increase in the jobless rate occurred mainly among women, particularly in the 18-24 age group, rising from 4.7 to 5.1 per cent over the month, the government said.

For adult males, the unemployment rate of 3.1 per cent was little changed over the month. The teen-age jobless rate also showed little change at 14.7 per cent.

Unemployment rates for household heads and married men were 2.9 and 2.2 per cent respectively, both unchanged during the month.

In a racial breakdown, the jobless rate for whites rose from 4.2 to 4.4 per cent, while the rate for blacks dropped to 8.7 from 9.1 per cent in November.

Among the major industries, the unemployment rate for construction workers dropped from 9.6 to 8.4 per cent over the month, while the rate for workers in wholesale and retail trade rose from 5.5 to 6.3 per cent.

Big Gains In Deposits Shown By Local Banks

	Dec. 31, 1973	Dec. 31, 1972	Increase
Loans and discounts	$35,106,789.48	$32,859,452.42	$ 2,247,337.06
Deposits	$3,996,992.87	$3,582,162.91	15,414,829.96
Cash	19,192,723.89	12,825,035.33	6,367,688.56
Total resources	$2,286,262.65	$7,470,787.92	16,815,474.73

Stimulated by a vigorous autumn and Christmas business and the vanguard of an unprecedented cotton crop — both in volume and in price — local banks scored whopping gains as of Dec. 31, 1973.

Statements of three banks in Big Spring as well as the one in Coahoma were in response to a call for condition by the U.S. Controller of Currency and the Texas banking commissioner.

Deposits rocketed to $3,996,992, a gain of $15,414,829, or up 22 per cent over the same date a year ago. They even exceeded the previous record of $74,389,451 on Oct. 17 by 12.9 per cent.

And still, many cotton producers were holding back sale of their crop, or the major part of it, until Jan. 1 or after so it would count on 1974 income.

Cash of $19,192,723 jumped by $6,367,688 or 49 per cent over a year ago.

Total resources zoomed by the $90 million mark for the first time in history, reaching $2,286,262, $16,815,474, or up 22 percent over a year ago. This was a cool $10 million more than the previous peak in October of $82,552,007.

With all this influx of money, it was not surprising that the $35,106,789 in loans and discounts was up only $2,247,337 over a year ago, or 6 per cent.

The liquid position of the banks was further underlined by the holdings in bonds. In addition to the $19,192,723 in cash, they had $36,183,101 in bonds. This was broken down to $6,246,771 in U.S. bonds, a decline of $152,783 from a year ago, $18,536,330.17 in other bonds or $2,417,512 more than a year ago, and $11,400,000 in federal funds sold, or $7,900,000 more than the same date in 1972.

By individual banks, the figures showed:

FIRST NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $19,798,545.91, deposits $39,067,739.11, cash $6,715,561.10, total resources $43,291,397.92. The bank had $1,069,850.31 in U.S. bonds, $5,961,110.77 in other bonds, and $5,500,000 in federal funds sold.

STATE NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $8,470,783.89, deposits $28,130,630.93, cash $7,082,229.46, total resources $28,113,453.59. The bank held $3,612,926 in U.S. bonds, $5,761,440.46 in other bonds and $3,000,000 in federal funds sold.

SECURITY STATE — Loans and discounts $4,611,891.52, deposits $15,167,427.90, cash $4,708,768.38, total resources $16,709,037.33. The bank had $1,061,995.13 in U.S. bonds, $3,283,623.92 in other bonds and $2,700,000 in federal funds sold.

COAHOME STATE — Loans and discounts $2,225,568.16, deposits $3,631,194.93, cash $686,164.95, total resources $4,172,173.31. The bank held $302,000 in U.S. bonds, $530,155.01 in other bonds, and $200,000 in federal funds sold.

Outlook For Natural Gas In Area Remains Good

Unless the state should interdict with appointment of a statewide basis, the outlook for gas supplies in this area is good, according to Dearl Pittman, district manager for Pioneer Gas Company.

Pittman addressed the Kiwanis Club at its Thursday meeting in the Settles ballroom on the energy situation.

By acquiring and developing leases, Pioneer Natural Gas Company has insured a supply for at least 14 years on the basis of projected use. Austin, San Antonio and some other South Texas cities, however, have asked the Texas Railroad Commission to make gas companies in Texas apportion their supplies among all cities according to a state formula. This has never been done before.

Recently the commission turned down a plea by the petitioning cities to force a utilities gas supply company to give up part of its production because the cities needed it.

One of the compounding factors in the energy pinch, Pittman explained is the rapidly accelerating demand for it. Since 1940, the energy consumption exceeded all that in history prior to that time, he said. Estimates are that demands, on the present curve, will double by the year 2000.

Kiwanians got a report on their "Pennies from Heaven" project — their commission on the inception of this this a quarter of a century ago, the club has realized $13,115 from this source.

DST RETURNS New Schedules Are Announced By Businesses

A game of time hully-gully will begin Monday morning with advent of Daylight Savings Time as a national conservation measure.

This is calculated to save electric power in the heavily industrial East, but since Big Spring is on the western edge of a time zone, the change is creating a variety of working hour schedules.

The pattern here, The Herald found in a survey Friday, is no pattern.

Schools — Big Spring, and Coahoma — will move starting times back to 9 a.m. and will dismiss at 4 p.m. for pupils. Teacher schedules generally extend half an hour in either direction. Forsan schools will see teachers operating on a 9 a.m.-4:45 p.m. day and the pupils from 9:10 a.m. to 4:17 p.m.

Variations in Big Spring are for Grades 1-3 which dismiss at 3:15 p.m., and Kindergarten units from 9-11:45 a.m. and 1:15-4 p.m.; also Headstart 9:15 a.m.-3 p.m.

No one from Howard College could be reached for a new schedule, but classes won't start there until late in the week.

There is no uniformity about retail store hours, and Ron Mercer, Chamber of Commerce manager, said that as a result of a meeting recently "we urge businesses, where possible, to adjust to the needs of employees, particularly where working mothers are concerned. Each business is different and naturally will fix its own hours."

The City of Big Spring will operate offices from 9 a.m.-5 p.m., and Howard County Commissioners Court will consider hours at its Monday meeting.

Cosden Oil & Chemical Company will change hours at downtown headquarters offices from 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m., but hours on plant and other workers are under consideration.

Webb AFB will operate on an 8:15 a.m.-5 p.m. schedule with only 45 minutes for lunch. (The current schedule has been 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with an hour for lunch).

GAMCO will operate from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. Walls Industries will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., representing a 30-minute rollback.

IBJ Dress Company will have no change, starting at 7:30 a.m. and going to 4 p.m.

Berkley Homes will operate on a 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. schedule.

INTECH, The Herald, Richardson Carbon, and Cabot Carbon simply will maintain the same hours under DST.

Out Of Race For Governor

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Ray Hutchison of Dallas dropped out of the Republican race for governor today and said he had filed for re-election to the Texas House of Representatives.

He said his candidacy had "created a divisiveness within the Republican party" and would hamper his effectiveness in the Texas Constitutional Convention that starts Jan. 8.

New Supe May Be Hired By June

"Eight applications have already been received and several others have expressed interest by calls or letters in the position of superintendent of schools in Big Spring," according to Jim Bill Little, board member and chairman of an application screening committee for the post.

"We are very pleased with the quality of the applicants," Little added and plan to meet later this month to go over the applications in detail and select which ones we would like to invite for interviews.

Members of the committee include Delnor Poss, Jerry Jenkins, Ralph McLaughlin and Little. They were appointed by board chairman Roy Watkins.

The board set up requirements that any applicants must have at least a master's degree and some experience as a school superintendent or assistant.

The committee hopes to present a nominee to the board by early February and hire the new administrator at that time. Supt. Sam Anderson has announced that he will retire in August following some 17 years service to the Big Spring schools.

The committee head indicated that they would like to hire the new administrator by June and allow him to work with Anderson for a few months to learn details of the school system operation.

Complaint Negated; It Was Wrong Car

An excited motorist called city police at 6:01 p.m. that several items had been stolen from his car while parked downtown.

Upon arrival of the officers, an embarrassed motorist explained that he had gotten into the wrong car.

The firemen also had a dry run Thursday when a housewife summoned the department. When they arrived, she informed them that she was locked out.

Since she didn't want the door chopped down, she was referred to a locksmith.

Martin Voters Decide Fate Of Bond Issue Saturday

STANTON — Martin County voters go to the polls Saturday to determine the fate of a $400,000 bond issue to construct a new courthouse for Martin County.

A heavy turnout is expected as much interest has been expressed in the outcome of the election. A bond issue which offered a choice of renovation or construction failed two years ago.

Architect Tommy Huckabee of Rihard and Huckabee has submitted a plan with a one-story building and a basement jail. The museum would remain in its present location. It is the original jail.

A study showed that remodeling the present facility, which is difficult to heat and cool and lacks sufficient storage space, would cost some $68,000 more than building a new building, according to the figures submitted.

Voting places Saturday are at the Caprock auditorium in Stanton, Stanton Methodist Church basement, Grady School, Zenorah Baptist, Flower Grove

Cold Snap Zaps Texans

By The Associated Press
 Texans shivered today in the severest cold snap so far this season—subzero temperatures in the snow-mantled Panhandle and readings below freezing everywhere except the immediate coast and semitropical Lower Rio Grande Valley.
 Freezing rain or drizzle stopped, however, after making highways almost impassable over broad areas of the state Thursday and stranding hundreds of motorists at least temporarily. But forecasters warned that another winter storm was expected to start bringing new misery this weekend.
BELOW ZERO
 Clouds lingered over areas east of a line linking Fort Worth, Waco, Austin and Co. tulla. Clearing skies farther west helped thermometers to nosedive.
 Two to five inches of snow still covered much of the Panhandle, and the mercury plunged to 8 below zero at Dalhart and 6 below at Perryton. Farther south the readings near dawn included Amarillo 4

Pittsburgh Press Stopped By Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — This city had no morning newspaper today and prospects were dim for an afternoon paper because of a work stoppage at the Pittsburgh Press Co. by truck drivers and circulation employees.
 A Press spokesman said editions of today's afternoon newspaper probably would not be printed even if the dispute was settled because deadlines could not be met.
 The Teamsters' contract expired at midnight Monday but talks had continued until Wednesday night, when company officials said the union was telling its members not to report to work the next morning.
 Union officials had no comment and details of the dispute were unavailable.

Keaton Kolor Still Offers One-Day Service On Prints

One-day service is still being maintained for your holiday photographs, despite the unusual volume at this time of the year, according to Mrs. Vera Robertson of Keaton Kolor at 1309 Gregg.

So if you took pictures of the family, the Christmas tree, presents, or the grandchildren, you still can leave them (at the drive-in window) at Keaton's one morning and pick them up the next day.

There are many special services at Keaton Kolor, such as batteries for all makes of cameras, an extensive and various stock of films both for movie and still cameras of varying sizes, and accessories.

Keaton also is the new dealer for the celebrated Nikon cameras, and those who get into 35 mm film will find that quality of work for a matter of photographers possible with a Nikon is just about as good as any camera regardless of price range.

The shop has many other types and range of cameras from the small pocket types which adjust automatically to varying light and have built-in flash attachment up to the cameras with the most sophisticated lens ratings and telescopic lens.

Naturally, the shop contains all sorts of accessories such as lenses, brushes, spare lenses, batteries, bulbs, carrying cases, film bags, etc.

Besides, the shop has assortments of movie cameras, movie projectors, slide projectors, and projector bulbs.

WHATEVER YOUR CAMERA NEEDS — Vera Carlisle, left, and Mrs. Vera Robertson, right, manager of Keaton Kolor at 1309 Gregg, displays some of the extensive wares at the shop, ranging from films to cameras, to bulbs and accessories. Of course, the jewel of Keaton Kolor, which has a handy drive in window, is that of one-day service in film developing.

The first of the year and a semester change usually means that some families will be on the move.

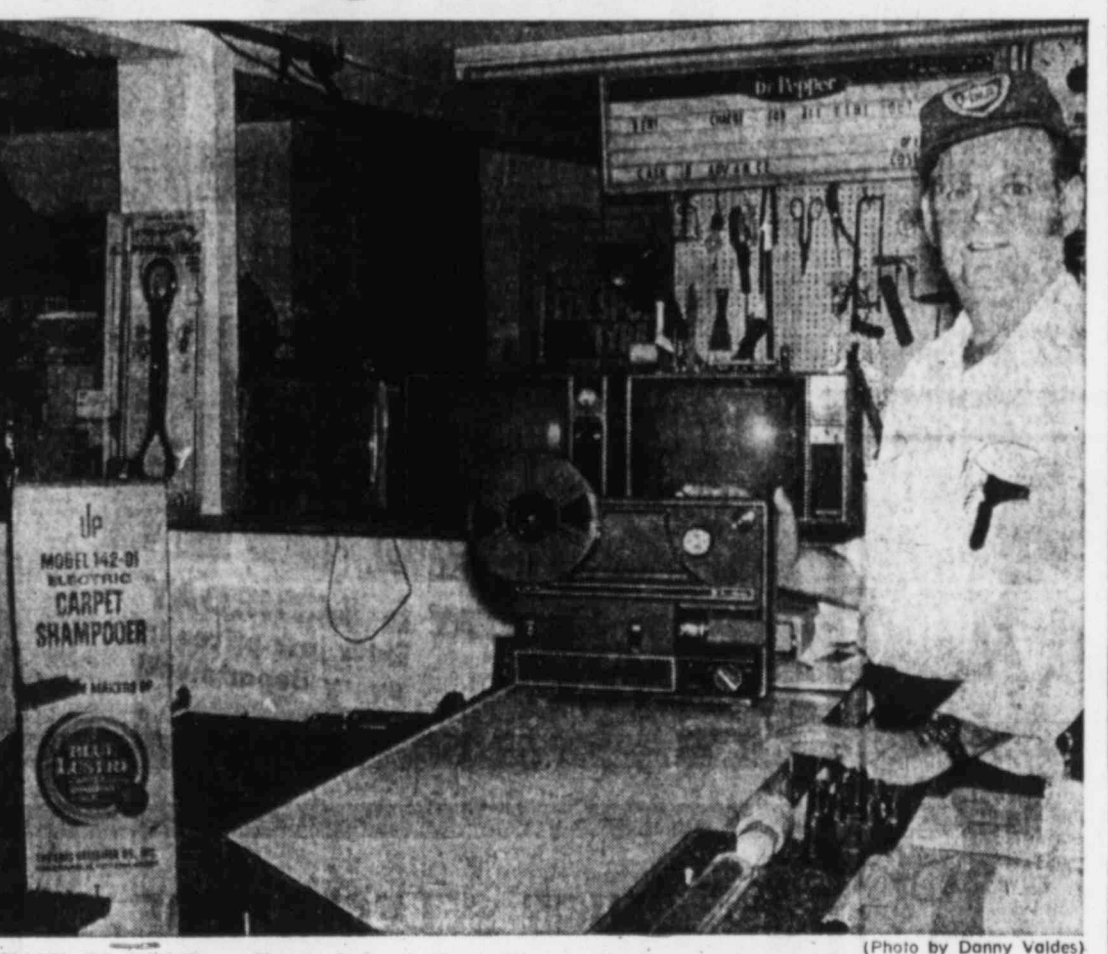

This always is a problem, but Lee's Rentals may have the answer through the E-Z Haul rentals. A call to 263-6925 can get you information on what is available to fit your needs, or you might want to look over the situation at 1606 Marcy.

It's not just rolling stock for moving, but items like furniture pads and other things that insure safety of your possessions that makes the service extra valuable.

Of course, this is just the beginning of what Lee's Rentals has to offer. The range is from extra chair for a party to equipment to help with house refurbishing, or in gardening, or building a fence. The inventory of rental equipment includes floor polishers, rug cleaners, lawn tillers, mowers, etc.

For the industrious indoor type, there are typewriters, adding machines, etc.

So, if you're in need of something you don't want to buy — just use for a brief time, call Lee's. You'll probably be surprised at what all you can rent just for the occasion.

EASY TO RENT — Owner Leland (Lee) Pierce displays some of the many types of equipment which can be rented at Lee's Rental Center and Fixit Shop, located at 1604 PM 700 near Birdwell Lane. Everything from portable saws to roll-away beds can be rented from the firm.

New Shipment Of Shrubs Arrived At D&M Firm

How about brightening up the den or living room with beautiful plants?

Drive out to D&M Garden Center, located at 3209 West Highway 80, and look over the firm's selections. It has every kind of pot plant you can imagine.

D&M also has an entirely new shipment of shrubs and will have within about a month or so bedding plants for the garden this spring. It would be a good idea to take the trouble to visit D&M during the colder months and place your orders for spring. This is the best time of year to make your plans about basic shrubs and trees, and get them in the ground.

D&M Garden Center will help you obtain whatever you need for your patio and yard.

The concern also features unusual house plants, as well as plant food fertilizers and all kinds of shrubs.

Green up the house and add depth to the garden. Take the time to drop by D&M Garden City or call 263-4788 for information or advice on how to complement your landscaping with the right kind of plants.

Hillcrest Baptists Keep Old Time, Invite Late Risers To Church

By MARJ CARPENTER
Hillcrest Baptist congregation has delayed changing their clocks the last three times that Daylight Savings time has set in.

And they're doing it again. They will all synchronize their watches after church. But their Sunday school and church services will be on the old time this Sunday.

Their pastor, Collins Rice says, "If you get up on the old time... too late to get to your own services, come and visit us at 22nd and Lancaster Sunday.

DALLAS — A year-long emphasis on equipping two million Baptist lay people of all ages to share their Christian faith in everyday situations will begin with the Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference here Jan. 14-16.

"An emphasis on lay witnessing at the opening session will feature successful Christians from various fields," said Dr. C. Wade Freeman, director of the Texas Baptist Evangelism Division.

Other statewide efforts by the Baptist General Convention of Texas and its 4,400 congregations in 1974 will include a Youth Evangelism Conference, July 5-6 at Texas Stadium in Dallas with 35,000 expected to attend.

Also, throughout the year, Lay Renewal Weekends will draw Christians from wide areas to many churches for weekends of learning to share what Christ has done in their lives.

"The Evangelism Conference will afford an opportunity for pastors to bring their lay people to an information center," said Dr. Freeman. "This will provide motivation and inspiration for greater Christian involvement."

The opening session at Dallas Convention Center, Jan. 14, will feature Mississippi industrialist Owen Cooper, now in his second term as president of the Southern Baptist Convention; Al Worthington, a former professional baseball player and coach for the Minnesota Twins; and Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the 17,000-member First Baptist Church, Dallas.

desire to join in proclaiming the Good News!" The six different "Methodist" denominations have in the past been separated by church polity, church doctrine or race.

Dr. Galloway calls the Congress an interracial demonstration of unity within the Christian faith. "Each denomination was invited to be represented on the program by their best authorities on evangelism," Dr. Galloway said. "The Dallas Congress will provide the most exciting platform for evangelism in a decade." "The tension and pressure of the times, along with the persistent tug of the Holy Spirit in our lives, seems to be drawing divergent groups in the church together in a common witness to Jesus Christ," said Dr. Galloway.

The minister said the Congress "will affirm the breakthrough of a renewed faith in God for our times."

All meetings of the Congress will be held in the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas. The global evangelism emphasis will involve 59 constituent "Methodist" churches in 37 countries, according to the World Methodist Council. Other regional congresses are planned for Europe, South America, Africa, India, Australia, and Southeast Asia later in the year.

The 700 Club television program is broadcast twice daily at noon and again at 7 p.m. on the local cable channel which carries Channel 39 programming. During the show, viewers are urged to call volunteer counsellors in the studio for help and prayer, and are referred to local ministers for in-depth counselling, if it is needed. The number of calls remains on the increase, according to Rev. Ivey. "Since we changed our channel frequency from Channel 33 to Channel 39 in mid-November," he said, "60 new towns and cities in Texas and surrounding states are receiving the broadcast on cable television systems," he said.

"Since we have not established contacts there, we're anxious to hear from pastors interested in volunteering their time to this most rewarding aspect of the ministry." Pastors interested in the outreach are requested to call Rev. Ivey or the Rev. Gene Downs at Channel 39, 214-521-3900, or write to The 700 Club, Box 19307, Dallas, Tex.

which broadcasts on Channel 39 in Dallas and is seen on local cable television systems in this area is looking for ministers to assist in counselling. "We need to have one or two ministers in the Big Spring area to follow up on the counselling calls we receive from there," said the Rev. Bill Ivey, director of Operation Discipleship which puts viewers who need in-depth counselling in contact with Christian groups and ministers in their home towns.

Each of the Chiefs of Chaplains in accepting the award, paid high tribute to The Upper Room daily devotional guide for the part it has had in their ministry. Chaplain Terry, decriing the lack of real communication said he would declare a citation to The Upper Room for its ministry of the printed word!

Chaplain Garrett said that The Upper Room is one of the most significant ministries of the church.

Dr. Wilson O. Weldon, world editor of The Upper Room, said, "In making the presentations, these citations are presented in recognition of the devotion and leadership of the worldwide

Upper Room Citation Is Won By Chaplain Chief

The 25th Annual Upper Room Citation Award was presented recently to the Chiefs of Chaplains of the U. S. Armed Services, on behalf of all chaplains, both military and civilian, at a special dinner at the Sheraton-Park Hotel in Washington, D. C.

Accepting the award for the chaplains around the world were: Maj. Gen. Roy M. Terry, Chief of Chaplains of the U. S. Air Force; Maj. Gen. Gerhard W. Hyatt, Chief of Chaplains of the U. S. Army; and Rear Adm. Francis L. Garrett, Chief of Chaplains of the U. S. Navy.

Mormon's Leader Dies, Recalled With Affection

NEW YORK (AP) — Walking with some church dignitaries across the lobby of Salt Lake City's Hotel Utah after a luncheon, the late Harold B. Lee was confronted by a teen-age boy who said, "I wonder if I could shake your hand."

The older man stopped, his face lighting with a gentle camaraderie. "My son, it's a privilege and I appreciate it."

They chatted briefly as Lee, the warm, plain-mannered late president, chief authority and modern prophet of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, drew out personal details and interests of the youngster.

Indicative of his ecumenical breadth — something he helped cultivate in the once closely sequestered Latter-day Saints Church — he served in absentia as a godfather at the Episcopal Church baptism of my daughter, Marion Emma, and often brought her little-girl gifts from his travels.

He had a religiously wide range of personal friends, including the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale of the Reformed Church in America, who called him "one of the most enlightened and creative religious leaders in the world."

Several times recently he had hinted at his own sense of approaching death, although it came unexpectedly from lung and cardiac failure. Just before the end, his wife, Joan said he told her, "God is very near."

Minister Is Daylighter In Albany

ALBANY, Tex. (AP) — Perhaps the Rev. Gary Whitbeck should be called a "daylighter."

When Whitbeck isn't acting as pastor of the First Christian Church in Albany, he manages the Chamber of Commerce.

"I took the job with the chamber under the stipulation that I was moonlighting," he explained. Actually the Rev. Whitbeck does most of his moonlighting during the morning hours.

"We worked it out to where I work four hours every morning at the chamber, then I spend the rest of the time doing church work," he said in a recent interview.

Offering To Supply Pipe To Independent Drillers

DALLAS (AP) — Lone Star Steel Co. says it will make pipe for oil and gas wells available to any independent drillers unable to buy the pipe elsewhere.

Shortages of well tubing have hampered independents and wildcaters recently with some West Texas drillers reportedly having paid as much as $6 a foot for used pipe.

TIGHTER CONTROL — New pipe in a popular size and weight costs about $2.35 a foot, depending on where it must be shipped.

Lone Star senior vice president Walter T. Moreland said Thursday the commitment to supply the pipe to the independents would mean tighter control of the firm's distribution system. He did not elaborate.

The wildcatter or independent contractor's commitment to make a rig available for the well and produce a state drilling permit before purchasing surface casing and production string from Lone Star.

However, company officials said the offer to supply the pipe may point up a shortage of drilling rigs. They said every drilling rig available presently is in use, whereas in 1972 nearly half the rigs were idle.

A WELL A DAY — George A. Wilson, Lone Star's chief executive officer, said, "The tubing is to be supplied to independents or companies which have no tubular allocation from steel mills or supply companies whose normal source of supply is unable to furnish tubular goods."

Independents traditionally have drilled about 75 per cent of the producing wells. Lone Star's announced plan is to supply enough casing to wildcaters and independents to bring in "a well a day for the next year."

Company officials estimated 2,500 to 3,000 wells would have to be drilled for them to reach their one-a-day goal. About one in every eight wells drilled is successful.

Lone Star Steel, a prime supplier of oil field tubular goods in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Kansas and New Mexico, currently is manufacturing the pipe at 100 per cent capacity.

Two Survive After Bodies Thawed Out

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Two persons near death from long exposure to deep cold survived after their bodies were warmed from the inside out, officials at Hennepin General Hospital say.

Dr. Ernest Ruiz, chief of emergency medicine, said doctors thawed out a man and a woman by hooking them up to heart-lung machines and warming up their blood to a normal temperature of about 98 degrees.

The procedure was employed New Year's Eve.

Ruiz said the technique appears to be safer for the patient than the old method of thawing from the outside in by immersing the victim in water.

He said a major advantage of the machine over the tub is that the patient can be treated for cardiac arrest during the warmup.

He said it is too hazardous to try to use electrodes to monitor the heart or treat a heart stoppage of a water-covered patient.

Hospital officials identified the patients only as a 39-year-old woman and a 64-year-old man.

Search For Bag With $19,420

COLLINSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texas law enforcement officers and FBI agents searched today for two automobiles seen near a bridge where a bank president says he dropped a bag with $19,420 in it.

The bank president, Gene Bryant of Collinsville State Bank, told police a man called him Thursday demanding between $20,000 and $30,000. He said the man threatened to blow up the bank if the money was not placed where the caller instructed.

Bryant said he delivered the money less than an hour after the 9:30 a.m. call. A check later showed it had been picked up.

The caller, said Bryant, told him he had six men and a bazooka and would blow up the bank if his instructions were not carried out.

Area law enforcement officers were joined later in the day by the FBI in a search for two automobiles reported seen near the bridge. At a late hour, no arrests had been made.

Larger Social Security Checks April 3, July 3

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Larger checks are in store for millions of Social Security recipients April 3 and again July 3 as the result of an 11 per cent benefit boost signed into law by President Nixon.

Under legislation signed by Nixon on Thursday, average monthly benefits for an individual will rise from $161 to $181, while those for a couple will jump from $276 to $310.

The increases will take place in two steps, with a 7 per cent increase taking effect with March checks distributed April 3 and the other 4 per cent reflected in June checks delivered July 3.

To help finance the increases, the law imposes a higher earnings level at which Social Security taxes will be deducted from workers' paychecks. The earnings subject to taxes will be $13,200 this year, up from the $12,900 base planned before the new law was enacted.

Although there is no change in the 5.85 per cent tax rate imposed on workers and their employers, the maximum tax to be collected annually from each will rise from $631.80 in 1973 to $772.20 this year because of the higher wage base.

The new law raises minimum Social Security benefits from $84.50 to $93.80 and increases the maximum from $411 to $456 for a couple.

"With these increases, Social Security benefits will have risen by 68.5 per cent since this administration took office nearly five years ago," Nixon noted in signing the measure.

Last year, Americans spent more on leisure activities than on the national defense budget! The share of bridge was significant, and shipping lines are among businesses that are trying to cater to the bridge-playing tastes of the vacationing public. Holland America and Flagship are among those that include a bridge instructor on their cruise staff. American internationalist, Bill Root, recently returned from a cruise aboard the Sea Venture, and showed me today's hand.

Since North's hand was unbalanced, he checked to see whether his partner's no trump opening bid by any chance included a four-card spade suit, for in that event a contract of four spades might have been preferable. However, when South showed hearts in response to the Stayman inquiry, North closed the auction with a bid of three no trump.

West led his fourth-best spade, dummy played low and East produced the king. Root followed with the jack, allowing East to win the trick! The spade return was won by the ace, and the nine of clubs was run to East's king.

East had no spade to return, so he shifted to a heart. Dummy's king won, and the ace of clubs was driven out. West could take the queen of spades, but dummy's ten remained to stop the suit. The defenders took only two spades and two clubs.

See what would have happened had Root won the first trick with the ace of spades. When East takes the first club lead, he has a spade to return. West captures the jack with the queen and continues with the nine of spades to drive out dummy's ten. Sooner or later, West will regain the lead with the ace of clubs, and will have two good spades to cash. In all, the defenders will come to three spade tricks and two high clubs, thus inflicting a one-trick defeat on declarer.

Withdrawal Bid Shapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan is expected to offer a withdrawal bid from the Suez Canal and to seek reassurances that it will be opened to Israeli shipping when he meets with Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

After today's meeting with Kissinger, Dayan will ask the Pentagon for new jets, antitank missiles and other sophisticated weapons. U.S. officials are convinced that enough of his requests will be met eventually to upgrade Israel's forces above October War levels.

TURNING POINT
Dayan's visit could mark a turning point in the Geneva negotiations from generally conceptual discussions to concrete give-and-take. "It has always been understood that after the Israeli elections the talks might accelerate," Kissinger told a news conference Thursday in San Clemente, Calif.

The secretary flew to Washington Thursday night, arriving on a commercial jet a few hours before Dayan came in on an overseas flight. They planned to meet at the State Department at noon, continue their talks at lunch, and then break off in late afternoon for Dayan to call on Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger.

Even a proposal for a unilateral and sizable Israeli pull-back would not surprise Kissinger and his aides since all parties to the Middle East negotiations anticipate more than a simple separation of Israeli and Egyptian armies.

BUFFER ZONE
The question is whether Dayan will be able to go home with a solid expectation that Egypt will be prepared to permit Israeli ships and those of other countries carrying goods to and from the Jewish state, to use the Suez Canal.

"Another major issue is whether there would be a buffer between the Israeli and Egyptian forces policed by the United Nations."

HARD-LINERS
Maariv, an Israeli newspaper, said Dayan would propose that sort of buffer as well as insist that an Egyptian police force replace the 2nd and 3rd armies on the eastern bank. The paper also said he would offer to withdraw to the Mitla and Giddi passes, about 30 miles from the waterway.

Meanwhile, Israeli defense ministry sources said Dayan hoped to learn from Kissinger the extent of Soviet support for Egypt at Geneva.

Deletion Of Word Can Be Ordered

The Second Court of Civil Appeals at Fort Worth has ruled that it is not a violation of state or federal constitutions to prohibit use of the word "engineering" in firms which have no licensed engineers.

This was the first appellate court case involving the constitutionality of state statutes on regulating the practice of engineering and licensing of professional engineers. Earlier, an appellate court in Corpus Christi upheld the state's authority to proscribe the public use of the term "engineering."

In the most recent case, Wichita Engineering Co. of Wichita Falls complained that prohibiting its use of "engineering" in its corporate title was a violation of constitutional rights. The court held that proscription of the term was a valid exercise of the state's police powers. A test case yet has to reach the state Supreme Court.

Abilene Event Lures Briscoes

Gov. and Mrs. Briscoe will head the list of dignitaries attending and participating in the state-wide Arbor Day observance scheduled for the Abilene Civic Center on Friday, Jan. 18.

Several dignitaries will participate on the program which is open to the public. It will commence at 10:30 a.m. and extend through a noon luncheon.

Tickets for the luncheon are available from the Chamber of Commerce, local Abilene Banks and from the Abilene Garden Club. Those who are unable to purchase tickets in advance, may purchase them at the door.

To Protect Rare Whooping Cranes

WASHINGTON (AP) — To protect the nation's almost extinct whooping cranes while they winter on the Texas Coast, a halt has been called on practice bombing by the military on Matagorda Island.

Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger directed that the bombing be suspended in winter months while the whoopers are in the vicinity of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge. He also fixed new minimum altitudes for aircraft over the area and placed new restrictions on hunting there.

WHOOPERS
Schlesinger acted in response to concern voiced by spokesmen for the Interior Department and the Audubon Society over Air Force plans to step up practice bombing on Matagorda Island.

He said Thursday in a letter to Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton that it is necessary to keep using the Matagorda bombing range but precautions will be taken to protect the whoopers.

The new minimum level for military aircraft during the winter months is 2,000 feet and Army helicopters must avoid overflights of San Antonio Bay and areas which the cranes frequent, Schlesinger said.

Military personnel also use the bombing range as an Air Force recreation area for hunting deer, quail, turkey and ducks and for fishing.

Although Schlesinger expressed confidence in Air Force hunting controls, he said, "I have directed it (the Air Force) to take an additional measure by prohibiting hunting entirely in the area of Target Mike and the Wynne Ranch."

Prize-Winning Columnist Dies

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Earl J. Johnson, 73, who guided the news coverage of the United Press and United Press International for 30 years as vice president and editor, died Thursday. He retired in 1965.

MAYOR: IF YOU WANT TO WORK — TAKE IT OFF!!!

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Weighing 283 pounds as he began his 33rd year as mayor of Dearborn, Orville L. Hubbard promptly put himself and the rest of the city administration on a diet.

"You have to lose weight if you want to work here," the 79-year-old mayor told 19 city department heads at a weigh-in at City Hall.

Hubbard, who stands 5 feet 11 and weighed as much as 327 pounds in the late 1960s, told the administrators they had until Jan. 15 — the date reapportionments are due — to meet weight loss goals of from 2 to 10 pounds.

Those who fail will be suspended without pay for "fatness," the mayor said.

"The fat guys around here don't do much," said Hubbard, who is the U. S. mayor with the longest continuous service. "They eat too much and get drowsy and then drink a beer for lunch and it's all over."

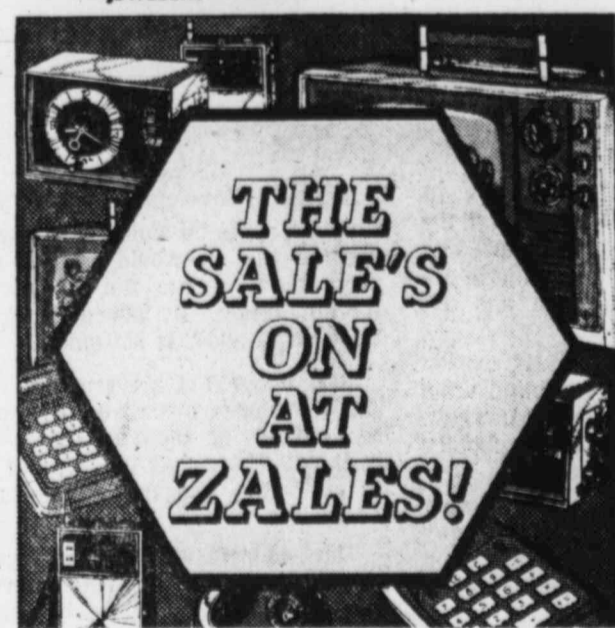

Hubbard complained during his 15th mayoral campaign this fall that he was putting back much of the weight he lost on a rice diet.

In 1970, after that early effort at caloric restraint, Hubbard sold his specially made, king-size suits to anyone who could fill them.

This time he said he'd lose seven pounds by Jan. 15 or suspend himself.

He took over as Dearborn's chief executive in 1941.

A Melting Myth

One of the myths that is melting rapidly is that there is such a thing as "cheap" water. The city council at Dallas this week approved a 20 per cent increase in water rates, raising the minimum from $2.88 for the first 1,000 gallons to $3.50 for the same amount, which has the effect of boosting the average water bill from $8.86 to $10.49 for residential users.

Contrast the minimum to one in Big Spring for $3.30 for the first 3,000 gallons, and you come out with 33 cents here against $3.50 plus whatever the excess charge per thousand is on another 2,000 gallons for Dallas. We have a substantially better deal.

Not all metropolitan municipalities have schedules such as Dallas but most of them are comparable, or are in the process of advancing charges that long ago lost touch with reality. As a consequence, the West Texas sector, long maligned as being too high in water costs for industry, now ends up with comparable if not highly competitive rates.

The trend is likely to continue, for in making the announcement of the increase, Dallas noted that more funds will be required not only to beef up supplies and other facilities, but especially to make vast investments in sewage treatment. The bigger the metropol, the bigger and more costly will be this problem. So rates may grow, not lessen.

We may not have the margin of reserve that some sections of the state have, for the simple reason of disparity of rainfall, but we do have adequate supplies in this vicinity thanks to the cooperative efforts of several municipalities which have the foresight to go together years ago to solve together a problem that was too big for any one of them. At the time, there were those who claimed this would mean higher water costs and put us at a serious disadvantage. Costs did go up, but not much, and in the meantime, more and more of our larger cities have had to face up to what our area did — that there no longer is any such thing as good, cheap water.

The Major Problem

The current issue of Reader's Digest recites some sobering statistics: For every U.S. heroin addict, there are at least 15 hard-core alcoholics; drunkenness accounts for one-third of all arrests; about 28,000 highway deaths each year are attributed in some degree to alcohol, and countless other lives are shortened from 10-15 years by abuse of it; the nation pays out an estimated $15 billion annually in lost work, damages, medical bills, etc. because of excesses with alcohol. The problem isn't going to evaporate; indeed it may grow worse until we recognize it as the major drug problem. So far we have been firing shots at the "hard drugs"; perhaps we could do a better job of enlightening them about the realities and of the camel which already is in the tent.

Truly Democratic

Around The Rim

John Edwards

I was thinking about the outwardly tame primary election campaigns our editor predicted this spring and remembered democracy as it was practiced in my college fraternity.

THOSE DAYS in the late Sixties now remind me of the pre-World War I Princeton F. Scott Fitzgerald wrote of in "This Side of Paradise."

Many facets of fraternity life drew criticism — and deserved it — from other segments of the Texas campus. But, at best, internal fraternity politics were truly democratic with members booing, shaking their fists at and/or cheering speakers and issues.

A successful candidate for social chairman didn't talk about support from his friends. He made concrete promises: "Match parties with all the top six (sororities)." And, after the elections, what were the issues? "Gatoring" and "the Dying Cockroach." "Gatoring" meant lying on your belly and swimming in place through the suds and fallen girls like an alligator.

PRACTITIONERS OF "the Dying Cockroach" then flipped over on their backs, opened their mouths, cocked their arms and legs in the air and rolled their eyes and heads, simultaneously.

In time to the music. Some of the more sedate members said these exuberant dances offended their dates. Everyone had his say, except me. I lost interest in dancing one night after Becky Houston told me to slow down before I slugged my date.

After two hours of arguing, joking and name-calling, President Tommy Thomason called for a vote, which would divide the fraternity.

THE CONSERVATIVES won approval of a $10 fine, narrowly. When the counting was completed, a defeated Fred Dubose, majoring in partying and advertising, asked: "Is that $10 per dance or per party?" Everyone laughed, but the question was not answered until after the next party. Several members ran up fines in the $40 to $80 range, refused to pay and quit in defiance.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

You keep talking about the love of God, and the open invitation to come back to Him through faith. I think if there is this God you claim, He has long since given up on this planet with all its violence and confusion. How do we know He's still interested?

M.A. One of the greatest statements of the love of God is in Hosea, chapter 11. The prophet quotes God as saying, "How shall I give thee up?" And this was said after an avalanche of rebellion and back-sliding.

I think we have to be careful that we don't attribute to God the feelings so characteristic of men. I agree, that if God was human, our conduct, especially in this last decade, would have turned off His love and shut down His saving grace. Fortunately for us, that is not the case.

His love is forever! His mercy endures to the end! That's why the simple gospel of Christ needs to be heard now more than ever. One of the proofs He's still interested are the life-changing conversions I saw last year all over the world.

Don't let cynicism throttle your hope. God is still there — and your sincere invitation to Him to prove it will immediately be honored.

Keeping Tabs On Time

Hal Boyle

That the wings of time are in rapid transit was signaled by the influx of 1974 calendars.

We receive desk calendars from insurance men (home, life, accident and auto), small calendars from the local hardware, florist and dry cleaners, medium size calendars from a real estate broker, material supply house and church, and large calendars from manufacturing companies and airlines.

Also, we get a few slightly more esoteric calendars such as a photography-poetry item from a university press, a large Oriental offering featuring Chinese brush paintings, and an encyclopedic calendar delineating every imaginable festivity.

These are only the free calendars. There are also the calendars we purchase (again illustrating the axiom that "time is money") from the Girl Scouts, churches, Women's Club (this one includes recipes), and Book Club (with fitting literary quotations).

Not to mention all the linen kitchen calendars we receive at Christmas as well as that panorama of unclothed ladies sent my husband by a business friend.

I almost overlooked the journal-type calendars, in which we can conveniently jot future big dates: the dentist, the gynecologist, the teacher conference, the 5,000-mile oil change.

All these calendars live out their brief lives on our walls

(kitchen, bedroom, family room and living room) desks, counters and dresser tops, and in our glove compartments, handbags and notebooks.

So, with all these reminders, you would think I would always know what date it is.

You would not suppose I would write the wrong date on the check for the delivery man. Or that I would jot down the wrong dates on the check stubs.

You would imagine that if my teacher conference was scheduled for Tuesday the 24th that I would be there promptly at 3:30, rather than at 2:30 on Thursday the 26th.

You would think any person with notations on eight calendars about Saturday's bake sale, would remember to show up with a cake.

Wouldn't you?

On Impeachment

William F. Buckley Jr.

It is my impression that it is widely unknown how many of the militant youth are spending their vacations from college pressing for the impeachment of President Nixon. Not that there is anything surreptitious in the effort, on the contrary. The students seek publicity, and the experience of yesterday, when their brothers were organizing against the Vietnam War, is fresh in the memory. Yale University appears to be an administrative center for the drive for impeachment, which is backed by the editors of all eight Ivy League colleges.

A YALE STUDENT writing in the college newspaper explained the problem carefully to students and faculty. You see, he said, in the end all problems are really political. We can spend the rest of our lives deciding whether or not what Nixon has done is impeachable in the sense that Madison or Hamilton or Marshall might have defined "impeachable." But that which is impeachable is really that which Congress judges to be impeachable, and Congress is, in the end, our creature. Accordingly he urged that during the vacation period students should hector their Congressmen, particularly those in the Judiciary Committee, to bring in a verdict for impeachment. And, of course, it is everywhere acknowledged that Congress, when it reconvenes in mid-January, will have a much clearer idea than it now has whether the American people want impeachment.

CONCERNING the situation, a few observations:

1. It is likely that the direction being taken by the students will lead to a very great frustration. To lead the fight for impeachment from the streets both plays into Mr. Nixon's hands tactically, and reinforces, strategically, the opposition to impeachment. Precisely what will stiffen the resistance to impeachment is mob action. Mob action can of course accomplish political eruptions. Those who fear a castrated Executive will stiffen their position to Nixon's impeachment precisely as the pressure for it comes from, or seems to come from, the hot blood of American college students, etiolated by campus liberalism.

2. MANY MONTHS ago, before the talk of impeachment was general, I ventured a distinction worth resuscitating. It is this: that as things have worked out in the American experience, the impeachment of a President is something we resort to not when we desire to punish a President, but when we desire to replace him. A President (I elaborated) takes on some of the functions, and concurrently some of the immunities, of the sovereign. Accordingly he is not tossed out because of a general corruption, or because he has pushed his power in extra-constitutional ways. President Grant was not impeached, nor was Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Impeachment is for when you decide that The Man must be removed. It is the general feel of the situation that when that moment comes, the President will probably quit rather than face impeachment.

3. WE ARE somewhere, at this moment, not very far from such a crisis: i.e., a crisis which causes the people to feel that the country would be a lot better off with the President gone. By no means everyone, of course. But there are signs of erosion among Mr. Nixon's friends, for instance. In the business community. Much more of the kind of thing that is happening in the stock market will cause a truly dangerous situation. The solidity of Gerald Ford, and the transcendence of Henry Kissinger, reassure more and more of those who felt that the disappearance of Nixon would be impossibly disruptive.

4. ACCORDINGLY the young people who want Mr. Nixon out of the White House would do better to play it very low and very cool. The President of the United States is being snubbed. And where that is practically speaking impossible, he is being condescended to. For those who want him to go, that is the way, finally, to do it.

The Washington Star Syndicate, Inc.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Some time ago regarding a child who was not eating enough, you answered that "if the child won't eat anything else, him up with something else." At least that is the way it was quoted to me.

My little girl has a very poor variety in her preferred diet, sometimes hardly eating anything for dinner. So if she has not had much dinner, she should have ice cream and cake or whatever she'll eat to "fill her up with something else."

Was this a correct interpretation? —Mrs. F.L.

Positively wrong! Whoever told you I wrote that is about as far out in left field as you can get.

If a child has a strong dislike for some particular food, I see no purpose in forcing him to eat it, because there are good substitutes for most food items.

But every child — particularly a child — needs foods that contain certain fundamental nutrients: protein, a little fat, calcium and other minerals, some carbohydrate, vitamins. Ice cream and cake contain a lot of carbohydrates (sugars and sugar) but little of the other basic foods. Children have to have meals that contain the other nutrients: protein in the form of lean meat, fish, cheese, eggs; vitamins and minerals in vegetables; calcium — usually in the form of milk.

A child's appetite will vary depending on whether he is in a growing spurt, how much exercise he has had, and how much else he has had to eat. If he's hungry, he'll eat as much as he needs.

But once a child gets the idea that, if he doesn't eat his dinner you'll "fill him up" with ice cream and cake, what do you think is going to happen?

Back In Berlin

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The first diplomat from East Germany to live in the United States, Dr. Horst Grunert, returned to East Berlin after a year at the United Nations and will head an expanded American affairs section in the East German Foreign Ministry, sources said.

Espresso High

ROME (AP) — The price of espresso in cafes has risen 1 1/2 cents to a range of 14-20 cents a cup, and some alcoholic beverages now cost as much as eight cents more a glass.

Wide-Of-Mark Quote

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a multibillion-dollar resolution: that the nation's planners, government and private, be compelled to eliminate administrative procrastination and act realistically.

Because they have not, the nation has bounced into one economic ditch after another, almost like a car whose driver decided he wouldn't bother turning the wheel at the curve.

To an overwhelming extent, the vast problems that face the nation today could have been lessened if action were taken in time. They were as predictable as tomorrow's sun.

THE OIL shortage, for example, was foreseen two decades ago. Plans could have been implemented to avert the current crisis condition, but that apparently is not the way of government or private enterprise. Neither acted.

The oil companies could have taken unilateral action, of course, but how were they to explain to their stockholders that they were spending money for a theoretical future situation? Not when a company's job is to earn money.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of the Booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Procrastination

Instead of developing their domestic supplies, some oil companies long ago decided that it would be far more profitable to import inexpensive foreign crude. It looked better on their profit-and-loss statement.

THE FEDERAL government could have developed incentives or imposed its demands on these companies, but it didn't. There was no political gain in so doing, and most likely a lot of trouble.

The cooperation of the federal government and private enterprise that everyone now agrees is essential to overcome the enormous problems of transportation and environment, to name two, was almost totally lacking.

And, because the goals weren't defined, and the techniques and structures for achieving them weren't developed, the nation bounces from one crisis into another.

And so, while problems that should have been resolved yesterday are being dealt with belatedly in a crisis atmosphere, today's problems are being postponed until tomorrow.

A Devotion For Today..

He is our peace, who has us both one, and has broken down the dividing wall of hostility. (Ephesians 2:14)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, help us to open our hearts to You by whatever way You may come. Above all, we welcome into our hearts Your Son, the Prince of Peace. Amen.

She's Itching

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently returned from a trip. I traveled for one day on a bus and returned by jet.

I wasn't back two days when my husband and I discovered that we both had body lice. That's right! This was embarrassing for my husband and myself as we are clean people.

My point is this: I would like to let the public know of the health dangers involved in public transportation. I realize there could be other factors involved, but they are negative in our books.

I'd like to make a complaint, but have no idea who to contact. We are concerned with the health of other people as well as our own. Can you help us?

ITCHING IN CONN.

DEAR ITCHING: Your complaints should be made to the passenger service departments of the airline and bus company on which you traveled.

DEAR ABBY: I was married for the first time at 20. It lasted just two years. (No children, fortunately.)

Now I am 25, and am engaged to be married again. My parents are in a rather modest circumstance, and I cannot ask them to give me another wedding since they spent much more than they really could afford on my first wedding.

The problem is that my fiancé would like to have a wedding that he will "remember." He wants all his friends, and of course his family, which is a large one. I have explained why this wedding will have to be small and rather modest, and he understood, but he wasn't happy about it. Now he came up with the suggestion that he put on the wedding and foot the bill. He can afford it. But what will people say? They know my parents can't afford it.

BLUE BRIDE
DEAR BRIDE: The important issue is not what people will say, it's what will make you and your fiancé happy. If he wants to have a memorable wedding and can afford to foot the bills, I see no reason why he shouldn't.

DEAR ABBY: At the risk of perpetuating the "Living Will" controversy, may I add my two cents worth?

As a nurse, I have seen many elderly terminally ill patients become artificially-breathing vegetables. Some pray for death, others refuse nourishment in order to hasten their end, some cry softly, some become bitter, and some just wait with resignation.

To allow human beings to die with dignity is not "mercy killing." When death is imminent, a patient should be kept as comfortable and pain-free as possible, but these patients will die as surely and inevitably as they did in all the centuries before "modern medicine."

Where is it written that an appointment with God should be delayed; that He should be kept waiting while man experiments with His creation?
A NURSE IN LA JOLLA, CAL.
DEAR NURSE: Well said.

Slides Of Tour Seen

The Rev. Louis Moeller of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church was guest speaker Thursday evening for the Parish Workers of St. Paul Lutheran Church. He narrated slides taken during his recent trip to South America and displayed items brought from some of the countries he toured.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Albert Hohertz, 2800 Parkway.

During the business session, the members agreed to continue providing cookies to Big Spring State Hospital on a quarterly basis.

It was reported that $74 was raised at a Chinese auction and that it will be sent to a missionary, the Rev. Clifford Horn.

A salad supper will be held in Big Spring Feb. 7, and a workshop is scheduled in Midland Feb. 20.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hohertz and Mrs. Moran Oppegard.

Birthdays Party

A guessing game, "The Thing I Have Always Wanted To Do" was the recreation at the annual New Year's Day luncheon given for the Sew and Chatter Club by Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales in her home at 705 W. 18th.

Birthdays wishes were extended to Miss Twila Lomax by club members and a cake was served to mark the occasion.

Fourteen members and one guest, Mrs. H. J. Agee, were present.

Their next meeting is slated for 3 p.m., Jan. 23, in the home of Mrs. A. C. Moore, 1907 Main.

"NYET" TO ROMANCE — Charlotte Daigle, 31, of Palo Alto, Calif., in love with a Russian, finds her path to romance blocked by officials of the USSR who refuse to let her visit or allow her to marry Boris Makhmetshin, 31, of Moscow. Charlotte's six-year pen pal affair began when she was in the Peace Corps. Early last year she visited Boris but has not been allowed to return.

Christmas Pot Plant? Keep It A Living Gift

If you received a pot plant for Christmas, give it a little special care and it will give you pleasure in return.

Dr. William Welch with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service offers a few tips on caring for these living Christmas gifts.

"Poinsettias, chrysanthemums, azaleas and most other flowering pot plants will last much longer if kept in a cool location away from drafts," says the landscape horticulturist.

"Never place them where heating vents or other heat sources can blow or reflect directly on them."

Water is extremely important. Since your flowering plant has probably been growing in a greenhouse where it has had all the water it could use, it will wilt quickly when deprived. So keep the soil fairly moist to the touch. This usually requires water about every other day, points out the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Overwatering is also a possibility, but if the plant's container drains well, this should not be a problem.

"Be sure the plant gets light," emphasizes Welch. "Artificial lighting is helpful but most plants will remain attractive longer if placed near a window or other source of natural light. However, don't place the plant in direct sunshine or too near glass."

What about transplanting these flowering plants? Many species are not well adapted for garden use, says the specialist. Most florist type azaleas are difficult to grow and are best enjoyed for their flowering period and discarded. Gloxinias, cyclamen and poinsettias are not good landscape plants for most of Texas. Poinsettias need a long, warm-growing season to flower outside and could be transplanted in South and parts of East Texas.

'Squares' Invite Public To Dance At Corral

The Big Spring Squares will hold their annual membership dance at 8 p.m., Saturday at the club's "Corral" on Chaparral Road in Silver Heels.

All long-time and new members are encouraged to attend, and former members are invited to come and renew their membership.

Club membership fee is $5 per couple annually. Persons who cannot join the club, but would like to attend the dance, may do so for $2 per couple.

The club is headed by Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Burcham, and the caller is James Moore. Regular dances are held twice a month.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When traveling in an airplane for a long period of time with little ones, here is an idea to help make the trip easier.

Take some of their old, small toys, or even buy new ones, and wrap them up individually. You can wrap them as many times as you want. (The more times you wrap them, the longer it takes to unwrap.) Hand them out one at a time. They love to unwrap them and enjoy the toys, and you will enjoy having the quiet.

Shirley Wright

Dear Heloise:

I love trying new recipes and have quite a collection of cookbooks. Whenever I try a recipe we like, I immediately copy it on a 3x5 card and put it in my file.

As time went on, my file was reaching the point of no return and I had to come up with a solution — for me, at least. I have a card in the front of each section, marked "appetizers," "bread," etc.

On the bread card, for instance, I write the name of the recipe, the name of the cookbook, and the page number. Then the next time I find another bread recipe, I simply add it to the list on this same card.

The card can hold quite a number of different references and doesn't add to the bulk of my card file. Besides, I don't have to go through a big stack of cards to find a particular recipe quite so often.

It also saves time, because I don't have to type it up, and also don't accidentally get the wrong amounts written down.

D.K.B.

Dear Heloise:

For an extra tasty brunch, stack up three pancakes, put thin slices of longhorn cheese between the layers and top with butter and syrup. . . M.H.

Dear Heloise:

Those lovely printed dish towels so often carrying calendars, are entirely too beautiful to be used for wine dishes. I hang mine year by year on the walls of my kitchen. At the moment, I have five years hanging there.

A young girl friend so admired them a year ago that when she spent the summer in her home in the Netherlands, she brought me one back from there to hang up with the others.

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise: Would you ever think that our tongue is more deadly than a sword?

He who keeps his tongue is Christlike. The Bible suggests: "Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from troubles." . . . A Reader

Dear Heloise:

Here's a tip for all those mothers who like to trim their little girl's clothing with eyelet lace, but can't afford the high price.

I bought one yard of a simple eyelet material that had rows of two patterns, cut yard-long strips of each row, then used the scalloped zig-zag design on the bottom.

I cut out the scalloped design and ran a long machine stitch through the top. . .

Manpower Planning Board Discussed Here By Group

Three members of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission met with representatives of the labor committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce here Thursday to discuss purposes and objectives of an Ancillary Manpower Planning Board, which will function as a standing commission of the PBRPC and thus perform a vital role in managing the supply and demands of the area's labor market.

Representing the Regional Planning Commission were Jerry Fatout, Jack Martin and Larry Green. Chairing the meeting for the Chamber's labor committee was Dr. Larry Keys of Howard College in the absence of County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

MUST EXIST

If the complex process of desired manpower planning is to be accomplished, Fatout told the group, an agency like the Board must exist.

Responsibilities of the AMPB, according to Fatout, include coordinating the efforts of all agencies within the region concerned with manpower or human resources programs and developing an annual regional manpower plan.

Such a plan, the speaker added, would be developed by determining the manpower needs, establishing priorities among those needs and matching those needs with available programs.

In addition, the board would recommend funding levels for selected manpower programs, provide links between manpower service delivery systems, and review responsibilities and projects to insure the compatibility of the various programs.

Fatout reminded his listeners that constant pressures allied on local and area levels had brought about numerous changes in federal planning structures and, in effect, decentralizing them.

Responding to this change, Fatout stated, the PBRPC had gone a step farther by requesting each county judge to appoint a committee of local citizens to act as an advisory group in preparing local county plans. Judge Mitchell will serve as chairman of that committee.

Plans developed on local levels, once reviewed and approved by the PBRPC's board of directors, will be forwarded to the Human Resources Section of the Office of the Governor for possible modification and ultimate approval.

Plans extended the state's blessing are eventually transmitted to the U. S. Department of Labor which then provides planning action for the ensuing two federal fiscal years. Such plans provide a basis for federal regional program decisions and funding allocations.

Many items in an area considered ineffective or detrimental would be considered in such a survey, plus recommendations for improvement of the situation. Those include wage scales, job qualifications, discrimination, educational attainment, language handicaps, transportation, green card immigrants, illegal immigrants, child care facilities, employer-patronizing requirements, union or non-union activities, seasonal work characteristics, employment services or practices, vocational

They Build 'Kitty Hawk'

DALLAS (AP) — Model airplane enthusiast John Swinson wasn't surprised when he was asked to build a model of the Wright brothers' first airplane — until he realized the request was for a full scale replica.

Swinson and a friend, Tom Drybala, went to work on a Kitty Hawk model built to three-quarter scale.

They began by acquiring blueprints from an Air Force curator in Ohio.

Sewing the unbleached muslin covering the 72 ribs was long, monotonous work. "Those 72 ribs were built up just the way the Wright brothers did it," Swinson said. "Even the wings drop 10 inches the way they had it so the plane would be easier to control."

The two men say that with a few modifications the bird would fly. "We'd have to beef it up under the cage and front end and change to stainless steel wire, of course," he said.

Meantime, the plane now hangs over the heads of diners at the Kitty Hawk Restaurant here.

Kennedy Tops Harris Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — A Harris poll of Democrats and independents showed Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts most preferred for Democratic presidential nominee, with Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama second.

A nationwide cross-section of 1,007 Democrats and independents asked to choose from a list of names, gave Harris pollers this response:

Kennedy, 31 per cent; Wallace, 16; Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine 11; Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington 9; Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, 8; Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, 3; others, 6 and not sure, 16.

Among Democrats only, Kennedy bested Wallace, 37 per cent to 16, and Muskie was third with 10. Independents favored Kennedy more narrowly, 21 to 13 over Wallace, with Muskie and Jackson getting 12 each.

In a recent Harris poll that put Kennedy head to head with Vice President Gerald R. Ford for president in 1976, Ford was favored over Kennedy by 48 per cent to 44, with 8 per cent undecided.
