Use Of Beagles In Tests Pared

Reviewing the ...
Big Spring Week
... with Joe Pickle

That amazing 22 per cent jump in bank deposits was not totally surprising, for the bumper cotton harvest — on top of general economic advance — foretold more agricultural money than ever before. The $84,000,000 on deposits in Howard County's four banks was up $10 million over the previous peak in October.

The end is nowhere in sight, for at the end of the week, Howard County had ginned and on the yard 73,000 bales — which is a new record — and had another estimated 14,000 bales still ricked in the fields. That can be worth $22 to $25 million. Dawson County may end up with a cotton crop worth $60 million. With those kind of values, you can see why most farmers didn't sell until after Jan. 1 and so they can count (See THE WEEK, Page 2-A, Col. 2)

Building Permits Triple In 1973

Building permits for 1973 tripled those of 1972, even without the filing of the permit for the $7 million hospital going up here.

Total for 1973 is $3,942,884, including the foundation permit for the hospital. This is in comparison to $1,574,144 in 1972.

December's permits showed permits for $913,037, which included $862,192 for the Sunnyside Bldg. Corporation's apartment complex to go up at 1901 Wason Road.

December was second only to January during the year. The first month of the year in 1973 totaled $1,039,59 with February, $99,350; March, $367,755; April, $148,400; May, $72,960; June, $81,537; July, $468,896; August, $251,770; September, $308,497; October, $146,065; and November, $45,285.

Legislator Eligible For Food Stamps

DALLAS (AP) — State Rep. Paul Ragsdale said Texans should be ashamed he was able to qualify as poor enough to receive food stamps on a legislator's salary.

The 28-year-old bachelor was certified Friday in Dallas as eligible to buy $42 worth of food stamps at a cost of $31 per month.

Administration of the program is by the Department of Public Welfare which partly is financed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Texas legislators receive about $300 a month take-home pay and Ragsdale said that's not enough. Ragsdale, a first-term legislator representing South Dallas, said he wanted to embarrass those who opposed a legislative pay raise in election last fall.

It Didn't Add Up To One Customer

ELMONT, N.Y. (AP) — Glen Myrie Jr. was amazed when a service station attendant billed him for 18.9 gallons of gasoline. He was sure his car's tank held less.

So Myrie drove his car until empty and had it refilled at another station. It took 16 gallons. Then he telephoned the manufacturer and double-checked that the capacity was indeed 16 gallons.

Armed with the data, Myrie complained to the Nassau County Department of Consumer Affairs. The department inspected the station and padlocked its pumps for defective metering.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department, stung by tens of thousands of complaints about the use of beagles as research animals, is looking for new ways to carry out some military experiments.

None of the estimated 1,000 beagles used in military research has been pulled off projects already in progress, but a high-level Pentagon group of specialists is searching for alternatives.

"We expect some reduction in the beagles we'll use," said Col. William S. Augerson.

Augerson, an Army doctor in the Office of Defense Research and Engineering, said in an interview this week that the alternatives include increasing use of non-household pets, as well as computers which can often be substituted for animal research.

The Air Force uses about 400 beagles in an experiment at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio designed to determine the effects of long-term exposure to gasoline fumes. At Edgewood Arsenal in Maryland, the Army employs beagles to test the effects of nerve gas components, but no dogs are actually exposed to the final product.

Cats, rabbits, pigs, goats, rats and mice are also used in military labs.

But it was public notice of the beagle experiments by Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., and full-page ads placed by anti-vivisectionists which drew an outpouring of complaints from pet owners.

Aspin said last July that the Air Force was buying 200 beagle puppies with vocal cords tied off for laboratory tests.

The Air Force said then that tying off the puppies' vocal cords during testing to prevent their barking is a painless procedure to which it said the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals does not object.

Augerson said he is considering eliminating the "debarbing" practice.

In the interview, Augerson said it is doubtful that the dogs can be completely eliminated as research subjects.

In many cases, he said, "the price tag may be too high." Other kinds of animals are very expensive to breed and obtain.

GUERRILLAS BLAST WAXWORKS Airfield In London Girded By Troops

LONDON (AP) — The British army ringed Heathrow Airport on Saturday with light tanks and armored cars in an apparent attempt to ward off terrorists reported planning to shoot down an American or Israeli plane.

At the same time, bombs believed planted by Irish guerrillas blasted the annual London Boat Show and Madame Tussaud's waxworks. Damage was heavy, but both were cleared of thousands of visitors just minutes before the explosions and no casualties were reported.

Police said, however, there was no connection between the bombs and the big alert at Heathrow, unprecedented in Britain in peacetime.

ATTACK PLANNED?

Troops in tanks surrounded Heathrow early in the day amid reports that Arab terrorists were planning to attack, possibly with Soviet-made ground-to-air missiles.

Soldiers toting submachine guns patrolled the perimeter of the airfield. Troops erected road blocks and searched motorists entering the area. Police with tracker dogs patrolled outside the airport along the flight paths of arriving and departing planes.

Passenger areas at Heathrow were kept free of troops to avoid creating panic, police said, and many passengers appeared unaware of the wall of steel protecting them.

The alert came as three members of a student extremist group opposed to the pro-Western Moroccan government appeared in a magistrate's court. The three were charged with conspiracy relating to the possession of firearms. The group they belong to is one of four or five terrorist groups thought to be in Britain now.

Armed guards surrounded the dock as 18-year-old waitress, Allison Thompson of Santa Barbara, Calif., Abdelkhir el-Hakkaoui, 25, of Morocco, and Athar Naseem, 21, of Pakistan were continued without bail until Jan. 14.

A second American girl detained at Heathrow on Friday as a "known associate" in the California connection was still being questioned at a police station. Scotland Yard refused to identify her.

VET CHARGED

At Travis Air Force Base in California FBI agents arrested Theodore D. Brown, 31, a Navy veteran, and charged him with helping Miss Thompson smuggle firearms and ammunition into Britain.

Brown was charged with violation of the Neutrality Act and the Firearms Control Assistance Act and was held in lieu of $25,000 bail.

FBI agents said he had been employed at an art gallery in Santa Barbara, Calif., not far from Goleta where he lived with his wife and two children. They said he had been on medical retirement from the Navy since 1966.

Top Heathrow airport officials said the tank guard there could be maintained for weeks. Scotland Yard, directing the army exercise, said only that the alert was expected to last for "several days."

Airport workers said the main guard was centered on cargo terminal housing offices and warehouses for major airlines including El Al, the Israeli airline, and Middle Eastern Airways.

Scotland Yard declined to say how many troops were involved in the operation, but airport sources estimated them at around 300.

Sources said army officers in charge of "Operation Heathrow" conferred Friday night with police at Ealing, where Miss Thompson was taken after her detention at Heathrow Dec. 29.

SENATOR HOSPITALIZED — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, 62, D-Minn., has been hospitalized for follow up examinations reportedly resulting from two months of treatment for a possibly malignant bladder tumor. Humphrey checked into the Bethesda Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Md., on Friday.

Southern Cal Hit By Snow

By The Associated Press

Up to 16 inches of snow fell in parts of Southern California early Saturday, stranding hundreds of travelers.

Hardest hit was Palmdale, north of Los Angeles. Some 200 motorists and five busloads of persons stranded there Friday night were led toward Los Angeles by four snowplows.

More than 200 cars were pulled from the record snow on California 14 in the Newhall-Lancaster area and many other motorists abandoned their vehicles and made way on foot.

Hotels and motels were jammed and the Red Cross set up food and shelter centers at the schools in Granada Hills, Newhall and Antelope Valley.

Hundreds of other persons were trapped by mudslides unleashed by heavy rain on Topanga Canyon Blvd., 40 miles from downtown Los Angeles.

As a new storm headed into parts of California Saturday, 2,000 crewmen went into rugged mountain areas in Northern California in snowmobiles and snowcats. Areas were snowed in and blacked out. Utility lines were broken by trees felled by the weight of snow.

A record eight inches of snow in Las Vegas, Nev., closed the airport, stranding tourists and causing a run on tire chains and antifreeze.

skin. Thank you very much and happy new year."

The station has stayed on the air after hours many nights to broadcast emergency instructions for an ill villager from a Russian listener.

"We know it is a very important and appreciated public service. We hear about it all the time from our listeners," said Dave DeVries, KICY assistant manager.

Some of those listeners may be Russians. The "Voice of the Arctic" broadcasts with a power of 5,000 watts and Siberia is only 125 miles away across the Bering Sea.

The station has received one letter from a Russian listener.

KICY's Siberian "Hit Parade" might include the station's Russian language lesson, aired five nights weekly in an Eskimo dialect understood by some Siberian Eskimos.

"YOUR TEETH ARE READY" Alaskan Station Proves To Be Friend Indeed

NOME, Alaska (AP) — From the dentist in Nome: "Your teeth are ready."

The message was delivered to an arctic village over radio KICY's Ptarmigan Telegraph.

KICY is a nonprofit religious station staffed by the Evangelical Covenant Church of America. The American Lutheran Church and the Alaska Yearly Meeting of Friends cooperate in the operation of the station.

Every Monday through Saturday at 5:45 p.m. the station broadcasts messages — some urgent, some personal and some humorous — to native villages along 1,000 miles of Alaska coastline.

Messages reach the station by telephone or letter and are read word-for-word on the air.

SOME LIMIT GAS SALES, THOUGH Small Communities Not Yet Boxed In By Energy Crunch

By The Associated Press

The long lines of cars at fuel pumps in the big cities haven't spread to the country yet, but station operators in some small towns say they are rationing gas or closing earlier to avoid a shortage.

"I haven't much to complain about," said Jim Dickinson, who operates a service station in Centertown, Mo., population 277.

Dickinson says he hasn't had long lines of customers crowding around the pumps. "Heck, now I have to go out and chase them in," he said, although he added that he did run out of gas for a brief period on Friday.

Robert Daniel, the owner of a station in Henderson, N.C., said he hasn't had much of a problem with lines either. Asked if cars were piled up at the station, he said: "Not any more than could get in the driveway."

Daniel added, however, that he is limiting sales to $2 per customer. "I sold about 3,000 gallons less than I was supposed to have had last month," he said. "The delivery wasn't made."

A station operator in a rural area of Massachusetts said he had no problem at all getting gasoline. He said there were no lines at his station Friday, although he did have some crowds just before the New Year's holiday.

"I can get on the phone right now and they (gasoline suppliers) bring me a load tomorrow morning," said John W. Kemp, the owner of a Cigo station in East Pepperell, Mass.

The operator of a Texaco station in Altair, Tex., said he had no trouble obtaining gasoline, although he could sell more if he could get it.

"I'm getting my allocation. That's it," said Lee Miller. "I could stay open a few more hours (with more gasoline). I open up a little late and close a little early."

Some industry spokesmen say the crowds at stations in urban areas are the result of panic buying by people whose fuel tanks aren't low, but who fear they won't be able to get gas if they wait.

Howard Cotton Crop May Amount To 87,000 Bales

A survey of 10 Howard County gins late Friday afternoon showed the cotton harvest had totaled 73,000 bales, with more than 14,000 additional bales anticipated.

At the Co-Op Gins in Big Spring, officials counted 8,700 bales ginned and 830 waiting in the yard. Yet to be delivered was an estimated 2,500 to 2,800 bales.

The Broughton Gin here found 4,973 ginned and 325 in the yard. Add to this an anticipated 500 in the fields.

Coahoma's Wendell Shive Gin posted 7,485 bales processed, estimated 800 in the yard and predicted another 1,500 before the end of harvesting.

Planter's Gin on the Lamesa Highway registered 5,300 bales ginned. At the gin but not ginned were 600 bales, while another 2,000 was undelivered.

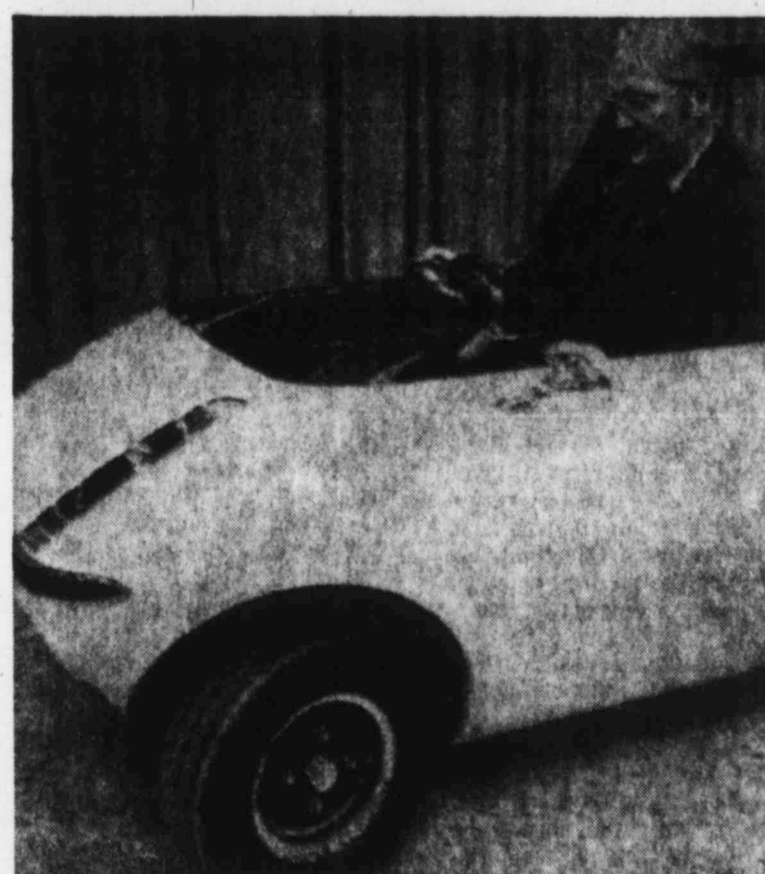

One Knott gin, Farmer's Co-Op, reported 8,340 bales ginned 1,365 in the yard and 2,500 due later.

Planter's Gin here showed a total of 7,387 ginned and awaiting ginning with 1,500 bales expected.

Closer to Big Spring, the Paymaster Gin at Fairview looked to books marking the total at 8,809. In ricks were 2,500 undelivered bales.

Lomax Gin gave 8,397 as the total in the yard and ginned. Vincent Gin added up a little more than 4,000 and predicted 500 to 600 more would arrive later.

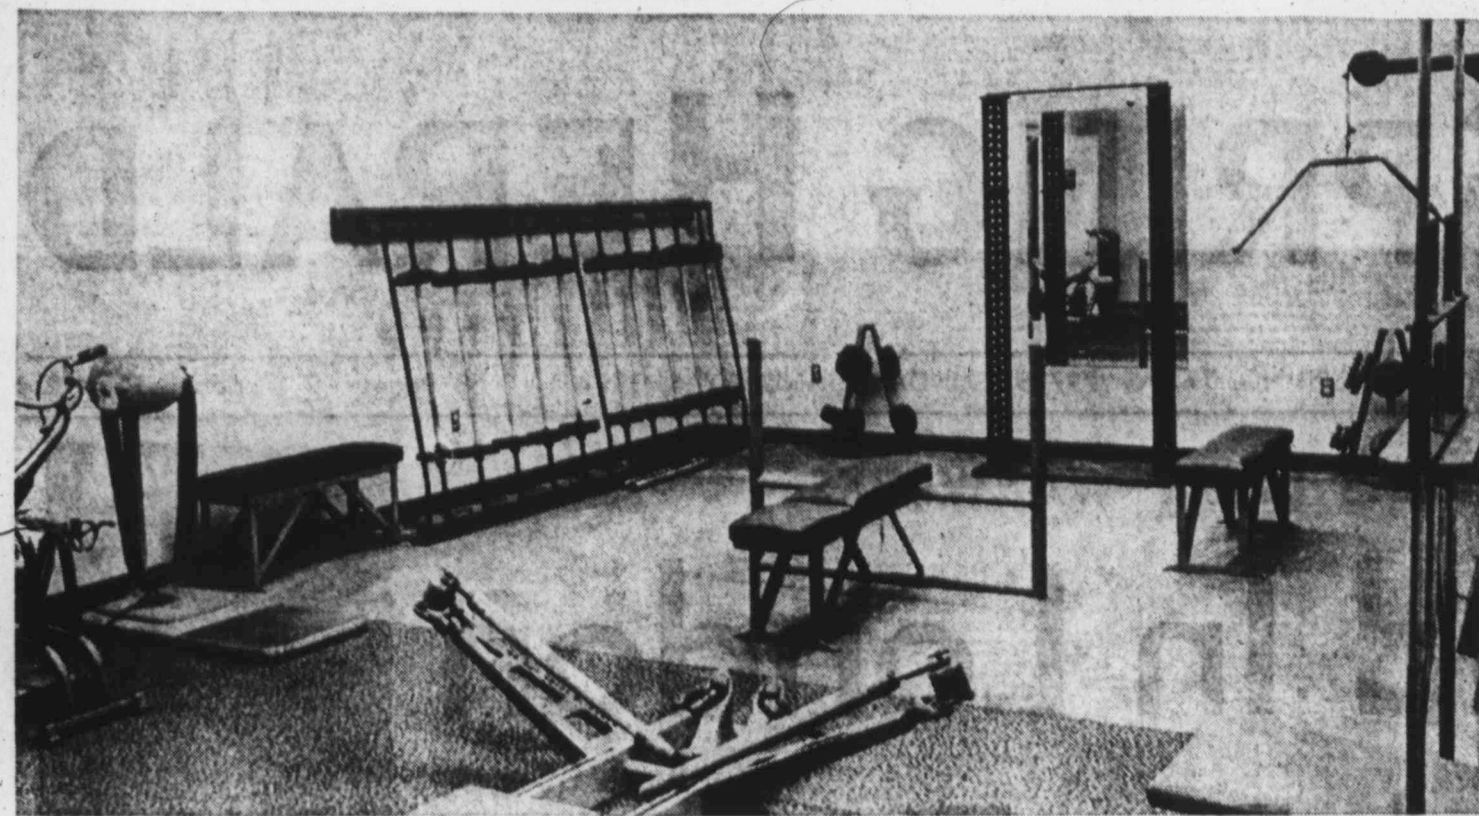

In Luther, the Planters' Gin farmers had brought 5,400 more bales.

URBAN SMALL — This experimental two-passenger urban car designed by General Motors of Canada Ltd., was driven indoors Friday at a news conference in Montreal by David O. Collier, president of the firm. The short-trip vehicle is powered by a two-cycle, 12-horsepower engine, runs on gasoline, can travel from 30 to 40 miles per hour and weighs 930 pounds with a 52-inch wheel base.

GLUDY
Weather forecast: considerable cloudiness, warmer Sunday afternoon and Monday. Low Sunday night, upper 20's, high Sunday and Monday, mid 30's. Wind from SSW at 1-15 mph.

EXERCISE — Well equipped is the new older boys and men's exercise room in the new Dora Roberts Wing of the Big Spring YMCA. Here are just a few of the items — exercise bike, vibrators, isometric rack, weight pulleys, abdominal board, rowing machine, weights, etc. There is a room to match for women, plus a health club, new dressing-locker rooms and a new children's heated swimming pool.

Pumps Damaged Friday Night

Three gas pumps at two different stations had the glass broken out during the night Friday.

Persons involved apparently thought they could obtain gas in this manner, but it isn't possible.

Or maybe, some irate citizen is simply angry at gas pumps and prices.

DEATHS

Herbert Doering

Herbert Doering, 46, died at 10:05 p.m., Friday in a local hospital.

Services will be at 2 p.m., Monday at the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, the Rev. John Beard officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. Doering was born Jan. 13, 1927, in Stafford, Kansas, and was a retired fireman, having worked for the City of Big Spring 13 years.

He married Jackie Brown Nov. 24, 1951, in Lamesa. They came to Big Spring in 1952. He was a veteran of World War II, having served in the Marines, and was a member of the Disabled American Veterans and of the First Christian Church.

He is survived by his wife, and a son, Timmie, both of the home; a daughter, Mrs. Bill Jenkins, Big Spring; three brothers, Dan Doering, Stafford, Kan.; Jerry Doering, Garden City, Kansas, and Richard Doering, Springfield, Ill.

Pallbearers will be Jimmy Newsom, Loyce Dickson, Ronnie Schmidt, Howard Dodd, N.M. Mancil and Edison Taylor.

Miguel Martinez

Miguel Martinez, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Martinez, died Friday in a local hospital.

Services were held at 9 a.m. Saturday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Coahoma with burial in Coahoma Cemetery.

Survivors include the parents; two sisters, Yolanda Martinez and Lorenza Martinez, both of the home; three brothers, Charlie Martinez, Jerry Martinez and David Martinez, all of the home.

Rites For Sister

Last rites were held 2 p.m. Saturday at the First United Methodist Church in Merkel for Mrs. Hallie Burden, 64, sister of Mrs. C. W. Guthrie, Big Spring. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery at Merkel under direction of Starbuck Funeral Home. She died Thursday morning.

Mrs. Burden was born May 26, 1909 in Taylor County and had lived in Merkel all her life, working a number of years for the Sadler Clinic and then the Warren Clinic. She leaves a son, Dewell Burden, Merkel, and three sisters, among them Mrs. Doris Guthrie of Big Spring.

Mrs. Blanchard

Elizabeth C. Blanchard, 80, of Big Spring, died at 11:40 a.m. Friday at a local nursing home. Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Monday in Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

Father Louis Moeller will officiate. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Born May 10, 1893 in Providence, R.I., she moved to Big Spring in 1968 to live with her son. She had previously worked in the shoe manufacturing business in Boston, Mass., retiring in 1955. She was a member of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

Survivors are a son, W. E. of Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Betty C. Brady of Plymouth, Mass.; six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

New Y Facilities To Be Dedicated

The completion of a major wing housing physical development facilities will be celebrated with open house and dedicatory ceremonies at the Big Spring YMCA today.

A brief program at 2 p.m. will mark the dedication of the 5,500-square foot wing made possible by grants from the Dora Roberts Foundation. Open house will continue to 5 p.m.

Part of the equipment in the new unit has been given by the late G. R. Robinson and the Sid W. Richardson Foundation. R. H. Weaver, a former president of the Y, will be master of ceremonies. Following the invocation by the Rev. J. B. Sharp of the First United Methodist Church, Harold D. Bentley, Y president, will welcome visitors.

Clyde McMahon, chairman of the building committee and past president, will make the dedicatory remarks, and Aramis (Tito) Arenchiba with the aid of the Ambassadors, will cut the ribbon. Curtis Mullins, executive director of the Y, will give instructions for the tours to be conducted by board members. Women board members will serve refreshments in the all-prose room.

NEW SERVICE
A totally new service will be the Health Club, which will carry its own schedule of membership fees in order that it will be self-supporting. It will have regular schedules for men and women. This includes an area for two message tables with masseur for men at scheduled time; ultra-violet (sunlight) with a automatic cutoff; sauna room in clear-heart redwood room with dry temperatures up to 160 degrees; steamroom for moist heat to 102 degrees; therapeutic pool of ceramic tile with seating for six to eight persons; showers, toilets, vanity, scales.

The late G. R. Robinson gave the steam room. Addition of the new wing enabled the construction of a new tile heated swimming pool (32x20 feet) with variable depths from 21 to 34 inches for youngsters. This adjoins the regular (60x25) pool which now may be used more for the youth and adult swimming program and more recreational swimming.

REPLACED

The former women's and men's exercise rooms have been replaced with new ones. The men and older boys room (18x29) has been provided by the Sid W. Richardson Foundation and has a rubber weight lifting floor and carpet in the remainder of the room. Equipment covers the range from vibrators to stationary bikes, pulley and lifting weights, abdominal board, leg press machine, treatment jogger, etc. It has 208 lockers, restrooms, water coolers, hand dryers.

The women's exercise room (23x21) has carpet floors and contains the conventional exercise equipment. The ladies dressing room has 24 lockers, two showers with drying area, vanity and restrooms, water cooler, electric hair and hand dryers. There is direct connection with the Health Club.

By reason of the new wing, the former male and female dressing and locker rooms have now been converted to locker room for boys and for girls.

Another part of the remodeling has nearly doubled the game room area by removing partitions in the original snack-bar area. This now contains two ping pong tables, a pool table, two bumper pool tables, table games, etc. and vastly improved illumination.

Joe Myrick Dies Here Saturday

Funeral services are pending at Nalley Pickle Funeral Home for Joe C. Myrick, 56, of Ackery. He died at 7 p.m. Saturday at a local hospital.

Two Men Die In Smashup

Tom Monroe and Gene Shocker, private pilots from Denver, Colo., were both killed Friday in a crash of a Sabre jetliner owned by Midwest Oil Corp., of Denver on the Couch Ranch 14 miles north of Midland.

The plane had taken off from Midland Air Terminal five minutes earlier after three passengers got off the plane.

The two pilots were returning to Denver and took off from the airport at 7:32 p.m. The crash occurred five minutes later. Motorists on the Lamesa highway reported seeing a ball of fire in the air which plummeted to the earth.

Grassfires were started by the crash with firefighters fighting the flames for half an hour.

FAA officials sealed off the crash scene and began an investigation.

Kidnap Victim May Miss Care He's Getting

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — John Glenn Lawrence, the bright-eyed 15-month-old who was a kidnap victim for four days, was getting so much loving care from nurses Saturday he may miss it when he returns home to North Las Vegas, Nev.

"I talked to his mother this morning," said Mrs. Gwen Hailey, Northwest Texas Hospital's assistant director of nursing services, "and I told her she may have a little spoiled brat when he got home."

But at times, said Mrs. Hailey, John seems to become lonesome for his mother.

John, who had a little temperature when police took charge minutes after his baby sitter stepped off a bus with him Friday night, was improved Saturday.

"He is much better. His temperature is down," said Mrs. Hailey.

John was taken New Year's Eve from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lawrence who only 24 hours before had lost another son, 6 years old, to viral pneumonia.

The baby sitter, Sharon Lee Bancheau, 19, remained in jail under $100,000 bond.

"It's like having him reborn again," said Mrs. Lawrence in Las Vegas. "This is the happiest day I've ever known," adding that her feeling was "the sweetest peace."

New Mexico officials had the woman and the baby under their eyes earlier but could find no reason to hold them.

Officers said the two spent most of Thursday sitting in a Vaughn, N.M., truck stop.

An officer was sent to investigate. The two were taken to Santa Rosa overnight while the woman was checked with the National Crime Investigation Center. The center could not identify her as wanted.

"The child was real attached to her (the baby sitter). He acted as if it was his mother," said Trevino Tapia, Vaughn police dispatcher.

Chicago's 'L' Must Go But None Knows When

CHICAGO (AP) — The clattering iron oval of elevated railway tracks which baptized the heart of Chicago as "The Loop" is coming down. But no one seems to know when.

The "L" is highly functional, helping deliver a quarter-million commuters each day to the downtown area. But it's an eyesore and serves as a dust-shield for the sun above Wabash Avenue, Lake, Wells and Van Buren streets.

It has been called the major hindrance to a gala replating of the downtown area. Everyone agrees the "L" must go. After that, there is a lot of confusion.

Five years ago, Mayor Richard J. Daley's planning commission said the "L" tracks would be taken down in the late 1970s after completion of a new subway system.

The plan called for a shallow subway connecting the University of Illinois-Chicago Circle campus with the downtown and two systems splitting north to the towering John Hancock Center and south to the McCormick Place exposition hall. After that, a deep subway would be dug through the Loop and the "L" would be torn down.

On Monday, it was reported that the San Francisco consulting firm which has been studying the project reversed things and decided the tracks should come down before the subways were tunneled. This would cause re-routing and require commuters to use shuttle buses.

Daley seemed to sanction the change in plans when he said Wednesday that the rapid removal of the "L" structure would "result in a greater expansion and a greater service and greater growth of this area."

When his comment was published, a spokesman for the mayor quickly replied, "He (Daley) is categorically opposed to removal of the elevated structure prior to the construction of underground subway facilities that would carry the traffic now operating on the 'L.'"

Evaporation, partially as a consequence, reached a total of 4.67 inches. The station computed 2.96 inches as the 23-year average.

BOTH EXTREMES
It was both hotter and colder than is usual.

Temperature during the month ranged from 79 to 8 degrees on the 2nd and 19th, respectively.

Maximum daily highs averaged 61 degrees, compared to a normal average of 58. Averaging daily lows resulted in an answer of 28 degrees, against 30 degrees normally.

Rainfall Here Slightly Above Normal In 1973

The total of rainfall and other precipitation, which soared above normal earlier in the year, stood close to the 74-year average when 1973 became history.

By the end of May, the U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station reported 4.36 inches above normal. In July, precipitation totaled 3.44 inches beyond normal.

UP AN INCH
At the end of December, however, annual precipitation came to 19.40 or 0.97 inches above the average. No precipitation was recorded during December, and the average for December is 0.71 of an inch.

Sand storms can be remembered in looking at the 5.4 mile per hour average wind speed. This is considerably faster than the 3.9 degree average for 55 years.

Carriers May Be Late On Rounds

With the return of Daylight Savings time, subscribers of the Herald are reminded that home deliveries likely will run a little later than usual during the week due to the fact that carriers will not leave school until 4 p.m.

Heretofore, school has been dismissing classes at 3:30 p.m., enabling paper boys to begin their deliveries prior to 4 p.m.

Purse Is Stolen Off Back Porch

An elderly resident, Mrs. S. A. Callihan of 511 Nolan, had a purse stolen right off her back porch Thursday. Her identification papers and $90 in cash were in the purse.

Mrs. Callihan told police officers that she returned from the grocery store and sat the groceries and her purse down while she unlocked the door. Later she went back for the purse and it was missing.

Auto Tried Out, Not Returned

Carroll Coats Jr. at Neighbor Auto Sales decided that over six hours was a long enough try-out for any car and reported a 1968 tan and green Grand Prix as stolen.

Police discovered that the man who took the car on a trial run "to show the wife" has not been home in several days, nor has he reported to work.

Daniel Says Voters To OK Constitution's Writing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' first effort to write a modern state constitution in place of the one adopted in post-Reconstruction anger 98 years ago begins at noon Tuesday.

Reaganry, prayer and solemn speeches will accompany the seating of the 181 state legislators as delegates to the Texas Constitutional Convention of 1974.

House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., who is unopposed to chair the convention, says he believes the delegates can adjourn in 90 days after writing a constitution the voters will accept.

Daniel will be called "Mr. President" under rules recommended by a pre-convention planning committee.

Voters decided in 1972 to call the convention, apparently out of dissatisfaction with the cumbersome 1876 document that replaced the "Carpetbagger Constitution" of 1869. The constitution was unwieldy at 26,000 words when it was first approved, and over the years, 218 amendments ballooned it to 55,000 words. Its freight of detailed provisions include dozens of matters that modern constitutional experts think belong in the realm of legislation, not in the basic ground rules for Texas government.

WEAKENED EXECUTIVE

In anger and frustration at the power exercised by Reconstruction governors, the Texans of 1876 deliberately weakened the executive. This could lead to a battle over executive power in the 1974 convention.

Practical questions of voter acceptability will complicate debate over theories of government—such as strong versus weak executive—as delegates make their decisions. Delegates are aware that half the constitutions proposed in other states in the 1964-72 period failed, including those in Arkansas and New Mexico.

Rules proposed for the convention say individual articles or provisions require a simple majority of those voting. But a two-thirds majority of all the delegates would be necessary to send a new constitution, or revisions of the existing constitution, to the voters.

Daniel predicts the delegates will give up the four-day work week to which they were accustomed as legislators.

Delegates will receive $37 in salary for each day they work plus $35 in daily expenses, in addition to their $13 per day salaries as legislators.

"There is strong sentiment for a five-day week," Daniel said.

He also said last year's "reforms" in House rules that were designed to give lawmakers and the public more notice of hearings and floor actions would be carried over into the convention.

"This convention is going to be conducted as a total open book," he said.

The first week of the convention will be taken up with ceremonial and housekeeping business, including election of officers, adoption of rules and speeches by non-delegates such as Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and delegates such as Daniel and the convention vice-president. Daniel says he supports Sen. A.M. Aikin, D-Paris, for vice-president. Aikin's name had been mentioned for president by some senators who opposed Daniel. Former Chief Justice Robert

W. Calvert and Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin, chairman and vice-chairman of the 37-member citizens commission that prepared a draft constitution, will address the delegates Thursday.

CALVERT SPEAKS

W. Calvert and Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin, chairman and vice-chairman of the 37-member citizens commission that prepared a draft constitution, will address the delegates Thursday.

Before Hobby, the temporary chairman, gavels the convention to order Tuesday, there will be some preliminaries.

Sunday, the Texas Conference of Churches will hold a special "convocation of Worship and Praise to invoke God's blessing" on the convention.

Thirty minutes before the convention begins, the white-uniformed Ross Volunteers of Texas A&M University will present the colors. Briscoe will lead the pledge of allegiance. The Texas Southern University choir will sing. Bishop J. Milton Richardson of the Episcopal Diocese of Houston will give the invocation.

The House chamber, which will serve as the convention hall, has changed in appearance. Instead of straight lines of 150 large desks, there are 181 small writing tables arranged in semi-circular rows. Specially made chairs are replicas of those used at the 1875 convention.

Portraits of eminent Texans such as John Nance Garner and Sam Rayburn, along with collections of House members' photos, have been removed from the walls.

Instead, there is a selection of Texas art from various museums around the state. Tom Lea's famous painting of Longhorns is in the foyer.

Dawson Gains Deep Wildcat

A 9,400-foot wildcat in northwestern Dawson County has been staked by Tice-Matthews Oil Co., eight miles southeast of Welch.

It will be the No. 1 Parker-Moody and list located 1,980 from the south and 660 from the west lines of section 59-35-6n, T&P (or Georgetown RR). This is about four miles south of production in the Welch field which produces from the San Andres.

MGF Oil Corp. stacked two wells three miles southwest of Ackerly in the Ackerly field. Both are targeted for 8,600. No. 1 Lucille Burns will be 1,980 from the north and west line of section 8-34-3n, T&P. No. 2 Burns will be 660 from the north and west lines section 8-34-3n, T&P.

Two wildcats in northern Howard County have been abandoned.

Omar Operating Co. of Midland No. 1 Scott, 2,100 from the north and 1,500 from the east lines of section 9-32-2n, T&P, was lugged at 8,400. Located 2 1/2 miles northwest of Luther, the venture recovered 5,902 feet of lightly gas-cut salt water on an hour drillstem test from 8,396-432. Flowing pressure was 2,344-2,798 pounds and 30-minute initial shut-in pressure 2,765, and final after one hour and 20 minutes 2,815 pounds.

World Wide Gas and Oil No. 1 (amended from 6-40) M. M. Jones, 1,980 from the north and east lines of section 37-33-3n, T&P, was plugged at 8,316. It was two miles south of the Oceanic pool production south of Vealmoor.

Another northwest Howard Location, Beech & Snoddy No. 1 Wright was drilling below 5,278 feet.

CLOSED CIRCUIT Television Facility Will Benefit Baylor

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Radio and television facilities to be installed in Baylor University's Castellaw Communications Center will benefit the entire university as well as the communications department.

"The television facility will benefit Baylor more than any acquisition Baylor has made in a number of years," Joe Walters, associate professor of oral communication, said.

Walters said the complete radio-television facility probably will not be ready when the new communications center opens for classes in January.

New television equipment and facilities will provide a complete closed circuit television system.

Walters said this will include the acquisition of three broadcast color cameras, a production switcher, two color film chains, three one-inch color helical video tape recorders, a complete audio console, an announcer's booth, a 28-by-40 studio and a radio frequency distribution system covering the entire campus.

Walters said the new equipment and facility will simplify and improve the department's classes and operation. Currently, television production classes are held on Saturday mornings at Waco's KWTX-TV facilities.

"Meeting only four hours a week is not much time to spend on television production," Walters said. "The new facilities will enable us to offer better organized television production classes."

Saxbe Pledges To Bring Credit To His New Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Casting himself as a "law and order man," William B. Saxbe has taken over the Justice Department as the nation's 70th attorney general.

"I pledge," he said as he took the oath of office Friday, "that I will operate this office, as to bring credit on law and the legal process in this country, on courts, on individual lawyers."

"People ask me, 'Are you a law and order man?' The answer is yes, because law is for the purpose of bringing order in our society . . . 'What I mean is society operating in a manner as to give each individual the opportunity to express himself without fear of Big Brother taking over, without fear of Big Brother interfering in his personal life, without the fear of Big Brother doing those things outside the scope of the law in the name of protection, in the name of defense."

The balding 57-year-old veteran of Ohio Republican politics turned to the Old Testament book of Micah for his theme as attorney general. The verse he chose: "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justice and love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God?"

"This is a big order," Saxbe said, but one that I'm determined to do to the best of my ability."

Then he summoned Harold Hughes, the senator who is leaving politics to become a religious worker, to pray for the success of the Saxbe administration.

The solemn conclusion of the half-hour ceremony was unusual for such occasions. In other ways, the swearing-in at the department's Great Hall fit official Washington's formula complete with inside jokes, a military band, applauding well-wishers and the bureaucrats' best effort at a show business touch.

But there was another unusual circumstance: the presence at Saxbe's side of his two predecessors, Elliot L. Richardson and Richard G. Kleindienst.

Both resigned the office under pressure, Kleindienst because of his close association with a number of those implicated in the Watergate scandal, and Richardson because he refused to obey President Nixon's order to fire Archibald Cox as special Watergate prosecutor.

Saxbe made no direct reference to the Watergate case and alluded to it only once when he spoke of government officials exceeding the bounds of the law "in the name of protection; in the name of defense."

Rich Anderson Enters Race For State Post

John R. (Rich) Anderson, Borden County rancher, announced Saturday he will be a candidate for the state legislature from the 63rd district. The district includes Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Howard, Sterling and Coke counties.

Anderson is seeking the seat presently held by Rep. Renal B. Rosson, Snyder, who announced Thursday he will not seek re-election.

Anderson formerly was a member of the state Republican executive committee.

He was named in 1970 by then Gov. Preston Smith on the Colorado River Waste Water Management study board. In 1969, he had been named the outstanding conservation rancher.

For a number of years he has been active in civic work in Big Spring as well as in Borden County and presently is on the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center board, is a director of Security State Bank, is on the advisory board of trustees for the Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

In Borden County Anderson has been on the school board for the past five years. He also is a member of the Texas Cattlemen's Association and the American Cattlemen's Association.

Reared on a ranch near Lovington, N.M., he is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma. He is married to the former Barbara Clayton of Gail, and they have four children: Mrs. Buddy (Sally) Jeter, Stillwater,

Ex-Slave Dies At Age Of 118

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Mrs. Polly Mason, a former slave born when Franklin Pierce was President of the United States, died at her nearby Woodworth home Friday. She was 118.

Recently asked to what she attributed her long life, she replied: "Red beans and rice, chewing tobacco, and a quart of corn liquor every day for the last 80 years."

Soviet Author Is Criticized

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin went on nationwide television Friday night to attack Alexander Solzhenitsyn's latest book "Gulag Archipelago" as "malicious slander."

The stepped-up attack let the Soviet public know for the first time that the book had been published in the West.

"The lampoon is typical of his latest works," said commentator Anatoly Potapov. "It is a malicious slander against our Socialist state."

Echoing commentaries issued earlier this week in the Soviet news agency Tass, but not carried in the Soviet press, Potapov linked Solzhenitsyn with "the enemies of detente who are searching for any method to poison the atmosphere of detente, to slander the Soviet Union and to undermine the trust in our way of life."

But Potapov did not disclose to his listeners that the work was a documentary about Soviet labor camps.

Rather he called it a "novel" and concentrated his attack on sections in which Solzhenitsyn attempts to rehabilitate the memory of Soviet soldier captured by the Nazis.

The author "even tries to cover up for those who became traitors to our motherland in World War II," said Potapov. "Just listen to this . . . the Hitlerites were merciful and indulgent toward the Russians and other peoples."

But by giving the title of the work, the commentary did tip off at least some readers about its subject. "Gulag" is the well-known acronym for the administration of Soviet labor camps.

One Diver Held, Others Searching For Treasurer

ISLAMORADA, Fla. (AP) — Divers are ready to search for $50,000 to $100,000 in gold and silver artifacts a treasure hunter claims to have dumped back into the ocean off the Florida Keys.

Diver Tom Gurr was shown Friday on CBS-TV dumping what he said was treasure he had recovered in the past year from the 250-year-old wreck of the Spanish galleon San Jose.

The State of Florida claims 25 per cent of the value of any treasure found in state water and the searchers keep 75 per cent.

So Gurr was charged late Friday with grand larceny and was being held in Brevard County Jail on a $7,500 bond, police said.

Gurr could not be reached for comment, but a friend and fellow diver, marine archaeologist Robert Marx, said that if Gurr did throw away the treasure it was probably because he "couldn't get the state to divide it, so he couldn't sell it and was broke."

Gas Suit Heats Up

HOUSTON (AP) — Coastal States Gas Co. says a suit brought against it by the city of McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley is without merit.

McAllen filed a suit Dec. 26 in state district court at Edinburg seeking to overturn assignment of a natural gas contract in January 1966 to Rio Grande Valley Gas Co., a Coastal States subsidiary.

The suit states the price Rio Grande Valley is paying for the gas is too low. McAllen wants to purchase the gas itself, the petition says, for resale to others.

Rio Grande took over the city's contract to buy natural gas at 16 cents per thousand cubic feet when the firm bought the city's gas distribution system. Two years later Rio Grande was purchased by Coastal States.

The subsidiary has been purchasing about three million cubic feet of gas per day under the assigned contract.

A Coastal States spokesman said the transaction between its subsidiary and the city was entered into in good faith and for a fair price.

The spokesman said the company currently is buying natural gas from other sources for as much as 70 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Unions Posing Grave Threat To Ed Heath

LONDON (AP) — Britain's labor unions threatened to wage an all-out campaign against Prime Minister Edward Heath's economic policies as the country's industrial and energy crisis dragged on today.

Parliament will be recalled Wednesday for an emergency debate on the worsening energy problem. There was speculation that Heath may call an election in search of a mandate backing his government's actions.

The leaders of more than 100 unions said they will meet soon to launch a campaign to force the government to reverse its economic policies, particularly its anti-inflationary guidelines which have blocked big pay raises.

The campaign, labor sources said, will be organized by the Trade Union Congress, and led by two of the country's largest and most powerful unions: the Transport and General Workers' and the Engineering Workers'.

Although labor leaders did not go into detail as to what actions they plan, sources said militant blocs within organized labor have been calling for a coordinated industrial action that could paralyze the country.

Labor problems in the coal and railroads industries have been blamed for the country's energy problems which has forced all nonessential businesses on a three-day work week.

Although there was widespread nervousness in industry over the recent economic developments, Britons in general have bounced back with bulldog grit.

Breweries, short on fuel for delivery trucks, have hitched long unused wooden wagons to teams of horses and distributed barrels of beers to taverns around London.

Hundreds of women textile workers in the Midlands, were taking work home to finish garments which otherwise would lie in the factories for weeks because of the shorter three-day work week.

Large stores in London's West End shopping center have been handing out battery-powered flashlights to customers when the lights go out. And many book shops are lit by candles and kerosene lamps.

In a factory in Blackheath, T.W. Lench has found a way to keep his employees warm even though the heat may be switched off. He makes a point of distributing flasks of tea and coffee laced with whisky and rum.

Keith Graumann Has 3.73 Grade

Keith Graumann, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Graumann 1903 Nolan St., finished the fall semester with a grade average of 3.73 at the University of Oklahoma, his parents have been informed.

A junior classman, Keither is majoring in music. He is currently serving as choir director of St. Stephens Methodist Church in Norman.

Keith was a 1971 graduate of Big Spring High School and was a member of the capella choir in the Choral Department here.

He attended TCU in Fort Worth before transferring to Oklahoma.

PREPARING A LIKENESS — Paul Silva and Avery Falkner use their identi-kit to prepare a likeness of Big Spring Herald reporter Marj Carpenter as an example of how it works.

Local Police Make Use Of Identi-Kit System

By MARJ CARPENTER

"Stick 'em up," is a familiar phrase of horror to any person who has been the victim of an armed robbery.

Then after the robbery, the police come and interview the upset victim and want a "description of the criminal."

When people attempt to describe people, they can usually remember the race, sex, approximate height and very little more. And law officers need more than that to go on when they are hunting a suspect.

We have all seen on television the police artists in Big cities that sketch a possible suspect as the victim describes him.

However, all departments are not blessed with top-notch artists. This is probably why the Identi-kit System was born.

A Los Angeles police officer designed the kit.

Police Chief Vance Chisum sent two local officers, Avery Falkner and Paul Silva to Austin in December to learn how to use the kit.

One of the first results is a composite picture of the probable armed robber that recently held up a local liquor store.

The kit has transparencies of different facial features and other characteristics. As they are selected, the transparencies are placed one on top of the other until a face is put together and photographed.

The kit offers 26 age lines, 11 kinds of moustaches, 37 noses, 160 hairlines including men and women's hairstyles, 53 chins, 10 eyeglasses, 40 lips, 83 eyebrows and 104 eyes.

It offers a selection of headgear with cowboy hats, hippie hats, and even makes available a chinese cap or a tobaggan available.

Each transparency has a number and a list of the numbers in the order they are stacked can be transmitted by teletype and any department leasing an Identi-Kit can stack the transparencies and have an instant picture.

The kits are leased and kept up to date with contain hairdos and headgear selections sent in to add to the series.

There is also a grill that allows the officer to draw in scars with a grease pencil. In fact every effort is made to aid the officers in setting up as close a likeness as possible.

After the victim decides that the picture is close to the real criminal, a composite picture is set up for local and area officers.

It's easier to locate somebody by a picture than by a general description. And in Big Spring, the lawmen can now compile a picture when seeking a suspect. It's not a foolproof means of catching every criminal, but it helps.

Ex-Military Man Is Named Mayor

TEL AVIV (AP) — Shlomo Lahat, who once commanded Israel's southern front, was named mayor of Tel Aviv on Friday.

The retired army general's right-wing Likud bloc won control of the City Council in Israel's New Year's eve elections.

Lahat replaces Yehoshua Rabinovitch, whose Labor party government was voted out of office after 12 years in what some observers called a blow against Premier Golda Meir's leadership.

Labor won a narrow victory in the parliamentary elections over the Likud.

SOUTHWEST BOOKS The Great Taos Bank Robbery

By The Associated Press
THE GREAT TAOS BANK ROBBERY AND Other Indian Country Affairs. By Tony Hillerman. University of New Mexico Press, Albuquerque. 147 pages. $5.95.

"The Great Taos Bank Robbery" is one of the funniest stories to come out of the Southwest—at least as recounted by Tony Hillerman in his new book.

This short story in the collection has a heroine—at least to newspapermen—in the form of Mrs. Ruth Fish, one of those nice ladies who are known as "string correspondents."

She started calling the Santa Fe New Mexican telling them the bank was going to be robbed, describing first-hand what was happening or rather not happening, and the rout of the robbers.

To relate more would be telling.

The rest of the book does not live up to the first story for humor but the remainder of the yarns are of top quality. There is no unity and none intended. Anyone in the world will enjoy them.

Hillerman is chairman of the New Mexico U. journalism department and author of several books. His students should study him, not their textbooks.—The AP (REF).

Irving Is Moved From U. S. Pen

NEW YORK (AP) — Clifford Irving, author of one of the great literary hoaxes of the century — the faked autobiography of billionaire Howard Hughes — has been transferred from federal prison to a Manhattan halfway house.

At the Manhattan Community Treatment Center, a spokesman said Friday that Irving will be granted passes to visit his family. His wife, Edith, is in Switzerland, awaiting retrial of a conviction for her role in the $850,000 autobiography hoax. She had served a term in this country and was sentenced to two years on a Swiss conviction last March.

The couples' two children are expected to be brought here from Ibiza, Spain, to be with their father during his hours of freedom.

The spokesman said the purpose of Irving's confinement here is "to help him adjust to his impending release from prison." He is due for parole Feb. 14.

AN ETHIC FOR CHRISTIANS AND OTHER ALIENS IN A STRANGE LAND.

By William Stringfellow. Word Books, Waco, Tex. 156 pages. $5.95.

A somewhat strange book with a definite message for some Christians.

To quote a portion: "America is a fallen nation. Americans exist in time, in the era biblically called the Fall. America is a demonic principality, or conglomeration of principalities and powers in which death furnishes the meaning, in which death is the reigning idol. Enshrined in multifarious forms and guises, it enslaves human beings, captures and captivates Presidents as well as intimidating and dehumanizing ordinary citizens."

To put his dire writing in context, it may be noted that the author was charged and exonerated in the Berrigan affair. Later he became one of the defense lawyers for the Rev. Philip Berrigan and other militants.—The AP (REF).

Boston Loses Weather Vane

BOSTON (AP) — The copper grasshopper weather vane that stood atop Boston's historic Faneuil Hall for 232 years is missing.

"It was eight feet above the cupola," said Parks and Recreation Commissioner Anthony Forgione, "and whoever took it may have used a helicopter or a crane. At least a long ladder."

"We went to put up the flag and it wasn't there," said Faneuil Hall Superintendent Donald W. MacDonald Friday.

"There's no way of getting up there over that rounded cupola."

"It looks like it could have been a helicopter job," he said.

The grasshopper was hammered out by Deacon Shem Drowe in 1742 for Peter Faneuil, who later gave the building, the scene of pre-revolutionary plotting, to the city.

The grasshopper is the symbol of the London Royal Exchange to which Faneuil belonged.

The grasshopper is hollow, four feet, four inches long, not counting its antennae, and weighs 80 pounds. It is all copper except for its glass eyes.

Ralph Raynard, a leading authority on weather vanes, placed the grasshopper's value at "hundreds of thousands of dollars," but added that thieves would have a difficult time selling such a famous antique.

Beating Death Clues Scarce

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — It was a New Year's party in suburban Castle Hills and the fire was getting low. Dale Graham volunteered to bring in some more wood.

Graham didn't return and when his friends went to check on him, they found his head bashed in.

Graham was rushed to Bexar County hospital about 2:25 a.m. Tuesday. He died early Wednesday, 23 hours later.

The county medical examiners ruled homicide. The victim, an executive of Aircraft Equip. Services, died of a massive skull fracture, said Dr. Ruben Santos.

Land Extremely Dry In Far West Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Frigid weather halted farm and ranch activity last week over most of the state. Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

Cattle feeding was active, however, in northern areas where snow covered wheat fields and ranges, he said.

Some cotton awaits harvesting in the Panhandle and Rolling Plains but only scattered fields remain to be harvested in the South Plains and East Texas, Hutchison said. Much cotton has been stacked in the fields in ricks due to heavy gin backlogs.

Small grains made good progress in central and eastern parts of Texas but lack of moisture is slowing growth in northern and western sections, he said. Rust and greenbugs are continuing to cause some damage.

Freezing weather caused some citrus crop losses in South Texas. Green leafy vegetables, peppers and tomatoes also were affected. About half the sugar cane crop in the Rio Grande Valley was lost, Hutchison said.

District agricultural agents gave these reports:

South Plains: Only about 5 per cent of the cotton crop is still out. About 15 per cent of the crop is stored in ricks in the fields or at gin yards. Cold, dry weather is hampering small grain growth. Irrigated wheat is providing some grazing.

Rolling Plains: About half of the cotton crop is still in the field in some counties. Harvesting in other counties is about complete. A lack of trailers is causing some delays. Some grain and isolated fields of grain sorghum await harvesting. Wheat is providing limited grazing and needs rain. Rust and greenbugs are causing some damage. Supplemental feeding is increasing.

Far West: Land is extremely dry. The cotton harvest is about complete. Yields have been good to excellent. Some spring land preparation is underway. Small grains are making little growth. Cattle feeding is increasing.

West Central: Small grains are offering little grazing. A lack of moisture is restricting growth. Livestock feeding is increasing. Some ranchers are busy tagging sheep.

Central: Small grains are making little growth. Cattle feeding is becoming active. Land preparation and fertilizer application are under way for spring planting as weather conditions permit. Much of the area is dry.

Southwest: Soil moisture is short and is slowing growth of wheat and oats. Rust is also causing some damage. Freezing weather damaged green leafy crops. Livestock conditions are generally good. Feeding is increasing.

South: Freezing temperatures caused heavy damage to fruit and vegetable crops. Many winter vegetables were damaged severely. Pepper and tomato crops were completely destroyed. About half the sugar cane crop was lost. Cattle are in good condition but feeding is increasing. Freezing temperatures have stopped screwworm activity but winter ticks and lice are increasing in livestock.

Gas Discovery Is Noted By Pioneer

AMARILLO — Pioneer Natural Gas Company has announced that its subsidiary, Pioneer Production Corporation, had another apparent gas discovery in Louisiana. The company has encountered apparent gas production in two formations in its Continental Can Company No. 1, located on a 900-acre lease in Bienville Parish in which it has a 68.5 per cent interest.

Pioneer Production Corporation is continuing testing on another well in South Louisiana which was earlier announced as an apparent discovery. The block, in Jefferson Davis Parish, contains over 2,000 acres in which the company has a 25 per cent interest. The well has tested gas and condensate and additional testing is being conducted, but no production figures were announced.

Cement Spreader Kills Waco Man

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Investigators said George P. Smith, 58, of Waco was dead on arrival at a hospital here late Friday night after being injured at a construction site.

Authorities said the man was injured when a cement spreader fell on him.

Bandits Pull Off Big Job

NEW YORK (AP) — A daring daylight raid has netted four armed bandits $200,000 in cash from a Kennedy Airport freight office. Police said the whole thing took less than five minutes.

The four, who entered the cargo office of Alitalia Airlines Friday afternoon about 2:45 p.m., seemed to know what they were looking for, police said.

They said the quartet got into the building by telling employees they were telephone repairmen. They were wearing white hard hats.

Inside, they pulled guns and handcuffed 10 employees together, herding them into a ladies' room.

They then went a few doors down the hall into a "Valuables Room" removing a canvas bag from a shelf, police said.

The bag contained $200,000 in U.S. currency which was to be shipped from a local bank to Tripoli, Libya.

The robbers also took between $300 and $500 in cash from an open safe and fled in a blue van. Police roadblocks around the airport failed to net the four.

A. G. Mitchell To Run Again

A. G. Mitchell announced his candidacy for reelection as county judge of Howard County, subject to the Democratic primary May 4.

Mitchell, 60, was born, reared and educated in Denton, and has resided here the past 31 years. He has a long background in law enforcement work and for the past four years has served as county judge.

He is married and he and Mrs. Mitchell have three children, all married. He is a member of the First Christian Church.

Prior to moving to Big Spring, Mitchell served from 1941-1944 as a sergeant with the 8th Service Command Auxiliary Military Police in Dallas, from which he was honorably discharged. Prior to this, he had been service as a member of the Denton police force.

He served as chief of police in Big Spring from 1944 until 1947. He resigned as chief to accept a position with the Texas and Pacific Railway Company as special agent in charge of railroad detectives from Big Spring to El Paso.

In 1950, the T & P promoted Mitchell to assistant superintendent of Special Services Department. He served in that capacity until 1959.

He went to work for the Howard County sheriff's department in August, 1959 and later was placed in the criminal investigation and warrant department by Sheriff Miller Harris.

Brazilian Plants Boost Piranhas' Population

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Hydroelectric plants in Brazil's southern regions have helped bring a boom in the population of razor-toothed piranhas, the fish known for their slash-and-swallow eating habits.

Johan Dalgas Frisch, vice president of the Brazilian Association for Wildlife Preservation, recently traveled as far as Canada and Africa in search of possible methods for controlling the flesh-eating river fish.

Dalgas Frisch said in an interview that the piranha explosion is more a threat to people's livelihoods than to their lives.

RARELY ATTACK
"Piranhas rarely attack humans," he said. "But they do feed on fish that the people living along the rivers need for survival, and thus are an economic hazard."

Hydroelectric projects, part of Brazil's big industrial drive, have tipped the ecological balance in favor of piranhas and against the dourado, the piranha's natural enemy, Dalgas Frisch said.

"Both species live in the same rivers under very different conditions," he said, explaining that piranhas inhabit the quieter waters along the riverbanks. They lay their eggs in sand on the roots of water plants.

Dourados, on the other hand, live and spawn in the middle of the river where the current is stronger. The dourado needs rapidly moving water which has a higher oxygen content than the relatively still water at the river edges where piranhas live.

Dams that have been built along the main rivers have cut off the current and so lowered the oxygen content of the water. As a result, dourados are dying out and piranhas are thriving.

Wild ducks complicate the matter. Piranhas were once found only in the relatively wild northern and western parts of Brazil. But ducks eat piranha eggs, and in doing so must dive into the water. Eggs stick to their feathers and travel with the ducks to other rivers.

With the vastly increased number of eggs, and the hydroelectric plant system connecting the western and eastern parts of Brazil, piranhas have spread eastward.

Experts say piranhas soon may be in the large reservoir outside Sao Paulo that supplies drinking water to the city, Brazil's largest.

CONTROLS TRIED
Conservationists here have tried several national methods of piranha population control. One is the tucunare, an Amazonian basin fish that is a piranha predator. Thousands of tucunares were shipped to the temperate southeastern regions where piranhas are a problem, but it was found that the tucunare could not adapt to water colder than 20 degrees centigrade, or 78 degrees fahrenheit.

"Since we could find no truly effective and economical Brazilian methods of dealing with the piranha problem, the

Visiting Profs Named At UTPB

Dr. Gordon K. Bryan, professor emeritus at Mississippi State University, has been named visiting professor of government for the spring semester at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin. Others visiting professors will be Ronald M. Lung, anthropology and Jason Rogers, lecturer in Spanish.

The appointment is part of the university's long-range policy of bringing to the campus for one or two semesters distinguished senior professors from other universities who may not be available for permanent appointment, said Dr. V. R. Cardozer, UT Permian vice president for academic affairs.

The University of Texas of the Permian Basin is an upper-level institution, receiving only junior, senior and graduate students. Registration for the spring semester will be Jan. 11 and 12, with classes beginning Jan. 14.

Association for Wildlife Preservation sent me to find possible solutions in other countries," Dalgas Frisch said.

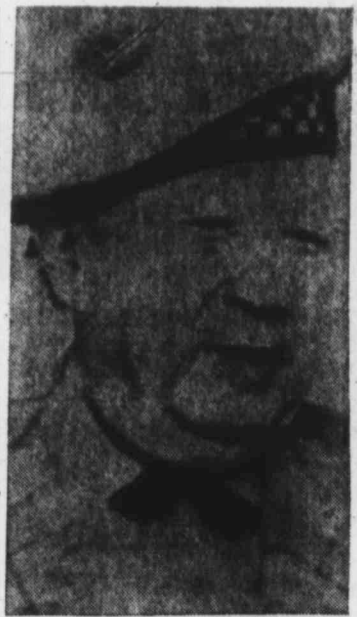

In Africa he found the tiger fish, a fierce predator from Lake Kariba, between Zambia and Rhodesia. Dalgas Frisch spoke to authorities in both Zambia and Rhodesia about the possibility of a fish exchange: Brazilian tucunare — which is a delicious table fish — for the piranha-killing African tiger fish.

The change in Brazil's ecological structure that would result from introducing the tiger fish is considered a major drawback to such a plan.

Dalgas Frisch spoke more favorably of an artificial water oxygenator called the Helixor. It is made in Canada and is being used there with great success, he said. The Helixor consists of a series of short tubes placed on the river bottom and connected to a generator on the riverbank. Oxygen is forced through the tubes and an agitating paddle in the middle of each tube forces the oxygen to combine with the water.

Helixor systems raise the oxygen content in the water, and used with artificial spawning beds, would allow the Brazilian water-and-restore the piranha dourado ratio.

Dalgas Frisch expressed hope that the Helixor will soon be tried in Sao Paulo state.

SPEAK UP FOR THE AMERICANS

A three minute recording called "Americans," spoken, not sung, and written by 73-year-old Canadian broadcaster Gordon Sinclair of Toronto, is proving to be balm to some citizens of the U.S. The recording, which calls Americans "the most generous and probably least appreciated people in all the earth," had sold two million copies by Wednesday, in its 16th day of release.

Thawing Method Led To Suit

A solution to frozen water pipes is said to be the reason for a suit filed in 118th District Court Friday.

In Jan., 1972, Betty Lou Altom is accused of attempting to thaw frozen water pipes with a portable torch. Aetna Life Insurance Co. alleges that this attempt led to a fire damaging property owned by Mrs. Floy (Simmon) Boyd and Burton E. Boyd.

Borden Judge Considers Race For Legislature

GAIL — The decision of Rep. Renal Rosson, Snyder, not to seek re-election from the 63rd Legislative District, touched off speculation here Saturday that County Judge Glenn Toombs may offer for the post.

Toombs, who is serving out the fourth year of his term as Borden County judge, has been a resident of this area for most of his life. He also has been active in a number of public service affairs on a regional and statewide basis.

He said Saturday he had not considered running for the legislature while Rep. Rosson was interested in serving. Now that has changed and Toombs indicated he was giving serious consideration to entering the Democratic primary for the nomination.

Toombs was raised in Borden and Scurry counties (his father served as a Scurry County Commissioner), and he is married to Margie Ellen Southard from the Key Community in Dawson County. They have three children, a daughter working on her masters degree at Texas Tech, a son who is a junior at Tech and a son who is an eighth grader in the Borden school.

The Borden judge worked for the Santa Fe railroad for nine years, then took a position with Merchants' Fast Freight before returning to the family farm

Water District To Fix Charges

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will establish the annual fixed charges for the district's member cities in a meeting in Big Spring 10:30 a.m. Jan. 15.

Virtually all other rates of the district are geared in some way to the rated established for Snyder, Big Spring and Odessa, the member cities.

CRMWD board members also will consider a water sales contract with the City of Robert Lee, as well as other general business of the district according to P. C. Harbour, Odessa, president of the district.

First Snowfall Always Was Something Special

Copley News Service

Just like the old-timers always said, "The weather ain't what it used to be." Ask any of them today and they will tell you that 60 years ago the blizzards were heavier and the snow was deeper and the winds blew more fiercely than anything you ever saw. And 60 years ago the old-timers of that day were telling their grandchildren the same thing.

And no doubt 60 years from now the present generation of youngsters will be repeating the story to their grandchildren. It never seems to grow old. And there may be a grain of truth hidden in it after all.

It seems reasonable to believe that the seasons, at least, have changed somewhat, for it was quite common to have snow before Thanksgiving (otherwise, how could you have gone to grandmother's house in a sleigh? But, whenever it came, the first snowstorm was an event to the youngsters.

DULL RED

There would be a gray day with the sun a dull red ball glowing behind a heavy, leaden sky and finally sinking beneath a bank of dark, sullen-looking clouds.

"Evening gray and morning red, keeps the traveler home in bed," quoted father as he came stamping into the kitchen, swinging his arms and rubbing his hands to get warmed up. "There'll be snow before morning."

This was welcome news indeed to the younger members of the family. And sure enough, "softly, softly the snow came down" during the night while everyone was asleep. And in the morning, when you looked out the window, the familiar everyday world was gone and there was a fairyland whiteness — glistening, silent whiteness. The hitching post had turned into a little, old man huddled into a long, white mantle, the woodpile was a smooth, white hill and the hen houses were barely visible as they crouched under a heavy layer of snow.

All of the barns and other buildings had shining white roofs, soft and thick, which curved gently over the eaves, and the fields looked like a huge frosted cake with graceful swirls and ripples such as only Mother Nature can make. And here and there Old Brother West Wind had sportively built snowbanks — some of them six or eight feet high — and sculptured into the most wonderful shapes — sometimes like a breaking ocean wave or an amphitheater or a fairy castle.

SPOILED BEAUTY

And there was no old mechanical snowplow to come puffing along and spoil all this beauty. There was no need to plow out the roads, for no one was going anywhere. But father seized the big scoop shovel and the youngsters took smaller ones and everyone set to work to excavate a path to the barns and chicken house, for the stock had to be fed and watered.

And then out came the sleds. Many were homemade of wood with solid wood runners, and the only way to steer them was by throwing your weight from one side to the other. But you went whooping down the hill — any hill — with no fear of traffic because there wasn't any traffic. Or you took turns giving each other rides, pulling the sled by means of a stout rope fastened to the front of it.

Much Potential Pollutant Gone

In 20 days, the Colorado River Municipal Water District has removed 5,500 tons of silt as a potential pollutant to its watershed.

The project to empty playa lakes above Big Spring and thus prevent or minimize flow down Beals Creek and eventually into the Colorado River and Lake E. V. Spence was activated Dec. 10. This involves pumps at Three-Mile and Four-Mile Lakes, which have concentrations up to 39,000 parts per million chloride, to boost the water through a six-mile pipeline to the Natural Dam Lake 10 miles west of Big Spring.

So far, lakes have been lowered about a foot. Early estimates were that it will require about three months to empty them. The diversion for part of a month compares with 12,000 tons for all just above Colorado City. For the two years previous to 1973, the river diversion works had taken about 20,000 tons of silt out of the river's low flow.

Rate Proposal To Be Heard

A hearing on a proposed rate increase by Texas Electric Service Company, a discussion centering around Phase II of the paving program, and the annual audit will top the items at the city council meeting at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

TESCO is asking a 10 per cent increase. They were granted a six per cent boost in 1972, the first in ten years at that time. The council will also hear an emergency reading of the ordinance accepting completed streets and setting up assessments. They will also discuss the second phase of the continuing street improvement program.

They also will authorize the mayor to enter into a lease agreement with the Permian chapter Non-commissioned Officers Association for their work with TARS.

The council will also award bids on a chipper, hear the audit report, hear claims for damages by Gilbert Paradez and Charles Trantham in connection with wrecks in December involving city vehicles, and approve appointments to city zoning, plumbing, electrical and traffic boards.

Registration begins at two off-campus centers for Howard College's Spring semester this week, and the on-campus registration is a week away, beginning Monday, Jan. 14.

Registration for academic and occupational courses at the Lamesa Center will be Tuesday. For occupational courses at the San Angelo Center, registration is set for Thursday. (In San Angelo, Howard College has a working arrangement with Angelo State University, which offers the academics of various courses, while HC directs the occupational training.)

Sophomore registration on campus will begin at 1 p.m. Monday, Jan. 14, continuing to 4 p.m., then from 6-8:30 p.m. for extended day classes.

Freshmen and others will register from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m.-4 p.m. Tuesday Jan. 15, and from 6-8:30 p.m. for extended day classes.

Classes will begin on campus Wednesday, Jan. 16.

On-campus registration the first two days will be in the library, and thereafter at the registrar's office, said Ben F. Johnson Jr., assistant to the president.

Heart Association Slates Special Gifts Campaign

The Howard County Heart Association will kick-off its annual fund-raising campaign here with a special gifts drive Jan. 22, Charles Beil, association president, announced. Coordinating Heart Sunday activities will be Mrs. Roy Cederberg, chairman, and Dr. David Logan, vice chairman. Anyone wishing to establish a memorial fund in honor of a lost loved one or friend should contact Beil. Funds collected through the campaign have gone to a nurse training program for heart-related diseases, a blood pressure clinic through which 250 were tested and provided current information and continual training for professionals in the medical field. Big Spring Jaycees, Big Spring Firemen and Coahoma Firemen are being trained in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation for heart attack victims. Once their training is complete, these men will instruct members of other interested groups in life-saving techniques. Later in January, the association's Community Services Committee, which includes local registered nurses, will check local elementary students for heart disease. Beil pointed out 25 cents of every dollar goes toward heart research.

Windbreak Plants May Be Ordered

The time to order your windbreak tree seedling from the Texas Forest Service nursery for planting this winter is — now.

Seedling applications can be obtained from your county office of the Soil Conservation Service, County Agricultural Agent or by writing the Texas Forest Service, c/o Agronomy Department, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409.

In addition to planting trees for field and home windbreaks, the Texas Forest Service noted that these are especially valuable as windbreaks for orchards. They minimize damage from hot dry winds, and make work of honeybees more effective in pollinating.

Taylor Named Bond Chairman

James P. (Jimmy) Taylor, president of the First National Bank, has accepted the appointment by the U.S. Department of the Treasury to serve as a volunteer chairman for the Howard County Savings Bonds Committee.

Taylor is replacing Robert W. Currie who resigned at the end of the year, after serving as chairman since 1959.

Taylor is associated in many civic affairs, being active in the Big Spring Rotary Club, Industrial Foundation, Chamber of Commerce on the Howard County Junior College Board of Trustees, Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo. He and his wife, Mary Ann, live at 2800 S. Birdwell. They have a daughter Kristi Taylor.

Suit Filed Here By Oil Concern

Pearson Sibert Oil Co. of Texas, Midland, filed a suit Friday in 118th District Court alleging damages to five oil wells and seeking a permanent injunction. Defendant in the suit is Oliver Nichols.

Nichols is accused of cutting power lines and thereby depriving five wells of power to pump on the Barnett Lease.

The plaintiff estimated damage to fines at least $1,000 and possible down hole pump damage at more than $1,000 per well.

During the past four years, the defendant was said to have planted and plowed the lease roads, under power lines and near the five wells.

Altogether, the oil firm is seeking over $28,000 in actual and exemplary damages.

Murder Trial Opens Monday

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Barring a late decision for a postponement, the trial of narcotics figure Fred "The Old Man" Carrasco will begin Monday.

Carrasco, 33, is charged in state indictments with murder, assault to murder and unlawfully carrying a pistol.

The trial follows more than a year of underworld developments in Mexico and San Antonio, Carrasco's hometown.

In November 1972 Carrasco escaped prison in Guadalajara, Mexico, and was not captured until July 22 1973 in San Antonio in a shootout with police at the El Tejas Motel.

Prior to his capture, five underworld figures who police connected to Carrasco were slain. He is charged with the slaying of one of the five men, Gilberto "The Cow" Escobedo, at a tavern outside San Antonio in April 1972.

He is also charged with assault to murder of San Antonio Police Lt. Dave Flores and unlawfully carrying a pistol the night of his capture.

During the dragnet for him, Corpus Christi authorities named Carrasco a major South Texas drug trafficker with the tentacles of his organization extending into Mexico. He once said in a jail interview he was a rancher.

Daniel Jaamillo, named by San Antonio police officials as an associate of Carrasco, gave a statement to local and federal authorities late last year implicating two San Antonio policemen in the slaying of two of the five men in Carrasco's organization who were killed after Carrasco's Mexican escape.

A Bexar County grand jury exonerated the policemen. Jaamillo was arrested by agents of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration with charges of possession of heroin.

Carrasco's trial on state charges was moved to Corpus Christi on a change of venue.

His lawyers contend in a federal civil suit filed this past week that he has received adverse local and national publicity. They seek a delay of his trial until there is "full compliance" with his constitutional rights.

The lawyers, James Gillespie and Ruben Montemayor, also have filed a motion for a 90-day delay of the trial in state court. State District Court Judge Preston Dial Jr. of San Antonio said he will rule Monday on the state motion before Carrasco's trial begins.

East Hulas Better; West Belted, 24-14

HONOLULU (AP) — Norris Weese of Mississippi came off the bench to inspire a bruising running attack as the East downed the West 24-14 Saturday in the Hula Bowl.

Weese scampered 34 yards for the East's first touchdown and directed two other scoring drives. The fleet 195-pound signal caller, who ran for 92 yards and passed for 35 yards, was named the game's outstanding offensive player.

Heisman Trophy winner John Cappelletti of Penn State and Jim Jennings of Rutgers had one-yard touchdown runs for the East and Chuck Ramsey of Wake Forest kicked a 19-yard field goal.

Ben Malone of Arizona State accounted for all the West scoring with a 33-yard pass reception and a seven-yard run.

The heavier East team contained the West within its own 30-yard line in the first half, but the offense didn't start moving until Weese replaced started David Jaynes of Kansas.

Weese directed a 49-yard drive to the West one-yard line, but lost a fumble there to West-linebacker Tom Poe of Washington State.

The East got the ball again on the 36 after a short West punt. One play later, Weese got a key block on tackle John Hicks of Ohio State, reversed his field to the left and scored from 34 yards out.

Weese had a 26-yard run in the next East drive which was capped Ramsey's 19-yard field goal.

Despite losing the statistical battle, the West capitalized on two big plays to keep the outcome in doubt until the final minutes.

Miller, McCord Tied For Lead In Crosby Meet

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — U.S. Open champion Johnny Miller battled wind, rain, hail and cold for a 70 and moved into a share of the second-round lead in the weather-plagued Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Tournament Saturday.

Miller had a two-round total of 138, four under par, and was tied with rookie Gary McCord for the top spot as the famed "Crosby weather" once again forced delays, stranded some players on the course and threatened further disruptions to the already ragged tournament schedule.

McCord, a thoroughly chilled 25-year-old who has played in only one previous tour event, slipped from an opening 65 to a 73 that took almost 7½ hours to complete.

Hail storms caused suspensions of play ranging from a few minutes at Pebble Beach to more than an hour at Cypress Point. At times, the ground was covered with the white pellets and left the three courses on the Monterey Peninsula looking as if a blizzard had hit.

About two dozen pros, each with an amateur partner, were stranded by darkness and will complete their rounds early this morning prior to the start of the third round.

Thursday's first round was washed out by a day-long rain, setting the tournament schedule back one full day. It's now scheduled to end Monday.

But the weather could change that. The forecast called for rains all day today.

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Here are the top second-round scores Saturday in the $215,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Tournament. Does not include 24 players who failed to complete their rounds because of weather delays and darkness:

"If we get rain all day, were dead," said Jack Tuthill, tournament director for the Tournament Players Division of the PGA and the man in charge of this event.

"The courses are soaked now. They can't take any more water. There just isn't any place for it to go."

"Virtually unplayable," said Jack Nicklaus, who has won the last two Crosby events and who was the pre-tournament pick to win this event that offers $215,000 in total prizes.

Nicklaus had a 73 and was well back in the field at 147. Lanny Wadkins, a two-time winner last season and one of the outstanding players on the tour, had a 73 and was tied with Grier Jones at 140, two strokes off the pace. Jones had a 69.

COACH OF THE YEAR — Chuck Knox, coach of the Los Angeles Rams, is congratulated by his family, clockwise from left, Chuck Jr., 8, Chris, 20, wife Shirley, Colleen, 14 and Kathy, 18, for being named Coach of the Year by The Associated Press. This was Knox' first season with the Rams, who had a record of 12 wins and two losses.

Grid Honors To Campbell

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Earl Campbell, who scored 28 touchdowns for Tyler John Tyler, the Class 4A state champion, is the 1973 winner of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce Texas High School Outstanding Football Player award.

The 6-foot-1, 214-pound senior scored two touchdowns in the 21-14 title battle against Austin Reagan.

Following the quarterfinal victory over Conroe, losing mentor W.T. Stapler said, "I always thought Superman was white, but he's black and wears No. 20 and plays tailback for Tyler High School."

Marvin Ellis, sports director of the Tyler Courier-Times, said, "Tyler wouldn't have been able to get out of its district without Earl Campbell."

Campbell is the 12th winner of the award. The first was Mike Love, Odessa Permian, in 1962. Others have included: 1963—Linus Baer, San Antonio Lee; 1964—Bill Bradley, Palestine; 1965—Pat Sheehan, San Antonio Lee; 1966—Monty Johnson, Amarillo Tascosa; 1967—Jack Mildren, Abilene Cooper; 1968—Ed Lee Renfro, Sonora; 1969—Jimmy Carmichael, Brownwood; 1970—Joey Aboussie, Wichita Falls High; 1961—Richard Osborne, San Antonio Lee; 1972—Tommy Kramer, San Antonio Lee.

The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce also has been honoring the top athletes in basketball, track, tennis, golf and baseball since the 1962-63 school year.

American Bowl Set For Today

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — College stars preparing for today's North-South American Bowl football game have been so well trained, according to the coaches for the teams, that workouts have been limited to one-a-day.

Both Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas, heading the South squad, and retired Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder of the North, favored the limited schedule. They felt the seniors didn't need many practices to learn offensive or defensive patterns.

The two 30-man squads have been working out since Wednesday.

Players from 25 states, led by collegiate passing leader Jesse Frietas of San Diego State and All-American lineman Tyler Lafauci of Louisiana State head the South squad. The North team includes two sons of famous sports figures—New York Mets Manager Yogi Berra and former football All-American Tommy Harmon of Michigan.

ABC Cage Meet To Open Monday

The Howard College Hawks go after their third ABC Olympic Classic championship in four years this week, but cagers from South Plains, Cisco and McMurry aren't expected to go down without a fight.

The four teams will do battle in round-robin fashion Monday through Wednesday, with two games on tap each night, at 7 and 9 p.m. in the HC gym.

With victories over two of the challengers already sapped up this season, the Hawks will be favored to pick up their third title — and maybe even gain a little revenge along the way. The HC cagers of Coach Harold Wilder are 17-2 on the year and stood 15th nationally in the most recent NJCAA poll two weeks ago.

They've been idle since scoring a 95-77 triumph over Cisco Dec. 15, and earlier in the season the Hawks had dumped the Wranglers by an 87-72 count. McMurry's Junior Varsity tumbled to the Hawks 111-91 six weeks ago.

Howard County opens the tourney Monday at 7 p.m. against the McMurry JVs, and meets the defending champion Wranglers on Wednesday in the 9 p.m. finale.

Tuesday at 7 p.m. the Hawks go against the South Plains Texans, and Wilder is hoping to halt an unpleasant skid. Buddy Travis, who coached Howard County Junior College to 270 victories in 11 seasons, left HCJC after the 1969-70 season to take over at the Levelland School. Since his exit, the Texans have beaten Wilder's Hawks 10 straight times.

"I expect Buddy to have them pretty fired up for us," Wilder said. "They haven't been

BUT ENERGY REDUCTIONS PLANNED

Auto Racing To Keep On Truckin'

NEW YORK (AP) — The auto racing industry, feeling a bit more chipper about the energy shortage, plans to open its 1974 season on schedule—for better or for worse.

Along with representatives of other sports and leisure-time activities, motorsports people met in Washington last week with government energy conservation leaders and—like the other representatives—pledged to cooperate in reducing consumption.

"We will do our part," said Bill France, a stock car racing pioneer and chairman of the National Motorsports Committee. "We pledged to reduce our at-track consumption by at least 25 per cent. We will do that, and as much more as we can reasonably do."

Across the country, more than 1,000 local and area tracks reportedly were gearing up to operate as usual.

"We just can't close our doors," said Richard Howard, president and general manager of the Charlotte Motor Speedway. "The motorsports industry has millions of dollars of stockholder money invested in tracks and racing equipment. We've got to operate them, there's no doubt about it."

Because gasoline is expected to be in short supply, especially for weekend driving, most experts see a decline in track attendance this year. An estimated 40 million fans passed through track gates in 1973, making it second only to horse racing as a spectator sport.

All major auto racing sanctioning bodies, including those in hot rodding and drag racing, have announced full schedules for the coming season.

The first major race of 1974 will be Jan. 20 at Riverside, Calif., 60 miles from Los Angeles and in the heart of one of the areas hardest hit by the gas shortage.

The event is the Western Winston 500 for Grand National stock cars of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing.

Les Richter, the former all-pro linebacker for the Los Angeles Rams who heads the Riverside track, said practice and qualifying periods have been reduced at least 25 per cent because of the fuel crisis. He said advance ticket sales have been good for the $106,330 opener.

There are 28 other major races on the NASCAR schedule, four of them at Daytona Beach, Fla., leading up to the $236,325 Daytona 500 Feb. 17, "richest event on the stock-car circuit."

The Sports Car Club of America and the United States Auto Club also plan to run their professional series this year as usual.

WINS BY LANDSLIDE

Knox Is Coach Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Chuck Knox, who led the Los Angeles Rams to the National Football Conference West Division championship, was named National Football League Coach of the Year Saturday in an Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Knox was a lopsided winner in the voting by three-man committees who cover each of the 26 NFL teams. He received 43 votes, more than half of the maximum of 78. Denver's John Ralston was second with 10 votes, with Cincinnati's Paul Brown, John North of New Orleans, Mike McCormack of Philadelphia and Lou Saban of Buffalo dividing the remaining

"This is a great honor," said Knox, who won the award in his first year as an NFL head coach. "I think this is a credit to our football players, to my assistant coaches and to Carroll Rosenbloom and Don Klosterman, who gave me the opportunity to become a head coach."

SUPER STATISTICS — Here is a comparison of facts and figures on the Miami Dolphins and the Minnesota Vikings, the two teams who will meet in Houston's Rice Stadium a week from today in the Super Bowl. The Vikings will be representing the NFC and the Dolphins the AFC.

HOUSTON (AP) — Miami's marauding race horse backs make the defending champion Dolphins a seven-point choice over Minnesota and the ball-faking Houdini, Fran Tarkenton, next Sunday in pro football Super Bowl VIII.

The long, pressure-packed season of the National Football League comes to a climax in the 71,882-seat Rice Stadium with a matchup of potent but contrasting offenses—ground artillery against the air attack.

The American Conference Dolphins, playing in an unprecedented third straight Super Bowl and shooting for their second consecutive triumph, are largely a running team featuring the berserk antics of Mercury Morris and the crushing power of Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick.

The National Conference Vikings, on the other hand, depend on a seasoned, hickory-tough defense colorfully labelled "The Purple People Eaters" and the unpredictable proclivities of the 33-year-old Tarkenton, a scrambling quarterback who will put the ball into the air at the drop of a padded helmet.

The game has a 3:30 p.m. EDT kickoff and will be carried by CBS.

The rival teams, who qualified with similar 27-10 conference victories a week ago, were scheduled to arrive a week in advance for preparations for the title game.

The eighth Super Bowl could be a "holy war" for the Vikings, still smarting under their 23-7 rout at the hands of Kansas City in the 1970 Super Bowl when Minnesota was a 14-point favorite.

Bud Grant, the old gray fox of the Vikings, gave his veteran team a week's rest after the conference title victory over Dallas, allowing his aging stars to rest their bones and restock their emotional reservoirs.

It is Grant's hope that such defensive behemoths as Carl Eller, Alan Page, Gary Larsen and Jim Marshall, will be fired up and straining at the bit by the time they have to set up a barrier for the churning legs of Morris, Csonka and Kiick.

They represent an awesome front four, averaging 32 years in age, 6 feet, 5 inches in height and close to 250 pounds in weight. They held their rivals to an average of 4.4 yards a try on the ground.

The Vikings have been equal ly effective in pass defense, allowing only six touchdowns through the air all year and in intercepting four of Roger Staubach's throws last week.

The Vikings, however, will not have as much to fear from the Dolphins through the air as on the ground, although quarterback Bob Griese is a slick sharpshooter and has one of the games great targets in Paul Warfield.

Griese had to throw only six passes in beating Oakland a week ago, leaving it to his fleet, hard-running backfield mates to gain most of the yardage and dominate the clock.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

It's third and six, with Oakland at Denver's 20-yard line. The crowd has just passed delirium and is headed well into pandemonium. Denver leads by two, 22-20, with less than 30 seconds to play. The Raiders come up to the line, quarterback Ken Stabler calls out the signals, and the play begins.

Stabler drops back, and he drops back, and he drops back until he's on the 40-yard line, where he falls on his knees. He trots off the field. George Blanda wobbles on, kicks a 47-yard field goal and Oakland wins, 23-22.

Exciting football game, huh? It probably would seem natural enough if you've been in a Siberian prison camp for 18 years or if you happened to be an expert on 18th century doorknobs. Possibly it would make sense also if you had developed a terrific sinus headache during the game and you were ready to go home ever since the kid sitting next to you spilled a coke on your leg.

But, to the rest, it would probably grate hard against your nerves, like pre-sweetened Kool-Aid or back-to-back parking tickets.

It hasn't happened yet, but it could if some folks have their way. There's a move afoot (heh heh, afoot, get it?) to give more points for field goals from greater distances, and at the same time trimming down the bonus for the little field goals. Had Blanda kicked his field goal from the 27, you see, Oakland would have been awarded only two points and the game would have ended in a tie.

Putting a premium on field goal kicking like that is exactly the wrong thing to do. If people think that those little creeps they call kickers have taken over the game now, wait till they try to put that rule into effect. Every team in the NFL will have kicking caravans stretching from Bronte to Liverpool.

I was always a backwards child, but my thinking goes in the opposite direction. It seems to me that a team should be rewarded for how close it can get to the goal line, rather than for how good a kicker they bought. To me, it would have been more exciting if it were necessary for Stabler to get his team inside the 15-yard line to get three points and a victory.

There's another alarming viewpoint. Some folks are becoming bored with those 125-pound Commie foreigners who boom a football unbelievable distances, probably with the aid of some kind of drugs furnished by Castro. And all the while the real football players, those smelly 275-pounders, stand around and gawk because they can't beat it by breaking someone's leg.

Amidst cries from those who would throw the FG out completely, I, as a neutral arbitrator, say that if they must keep playing the game, why not move the goal posts back to where they were in the first place? Pro football moved them from the back-of-the-endzone to the goal line for some reason, presumably to give the kicking game a boost when they thought it was lagging.

Now, instead of raising the goal posts or making them narrower or making the kicker swing his leg blindfolded, why not return them to the back of the endzone from whence they came? That way, if a guy is going to kick a 45-yard field goal, his team will at least have to penetrate the enemy 30-yard line, thereby producing more offense — which the fans are in love with, I understand.

If that doesn't work, maybe they can widen the foul line some more or add another designated player.

Pokes' Jordan Claims Honor

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas middle linebacker Lee Roy Jordan, who had his finest season in 11 years as the leader of the Cowboy defense, has been named Professional Athlete of the Year by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Jordan is the third member of the National Football League team to be selected. Defensive tackle Bob Lilly was the choice in 1955 and running back Calvin Hill was the pick in 1969.

Jordan received 703 points to Hill's 607.

Big Spring's Charley Johnson, quarterback of the Denver Broncos, was third with 661 votes.

Ben Crenshaw, the sensational Texas golfer who won the Texas Open in his first try as a pro, was fourth.

Other finishers included Larry McCutcheon, Los Angeles Ram running back, Miller Barber, pro golfer from Sherman and Kyle Rote Jr., of the Dallas Tornado, leading scorer in the North American Soccer League.

Jordan will be honored at the Dallas Sports Banquet in February.

Lombardi Presentation Scheduled This Week

HOUSTON (AP) — The fourth Vince Lombardi Award will be presented to the nation's outstanding collegiate lineman this week in the most fitting of all possible settings—Super Bowl Week.

The awards dinner is an official function of this week's Super Bowl activities leading up to Sunday's clash between Minnesota and Miami and what better way to honor the man who dominated the first two Super Bowls as coach of the Green Bay Packers.

Finalists for the 45-pound granite trophy are linebacker Randy Gradishar and tackle John Hicks, the Heisman Trophy runnerup, both of Ohio State; middle guard Lucious Selmon of Oklahoma and All-American center Bill Wyman of Texas.

The trophy honors the former Green Bay and Washington Redskins coach who died of cancer in 1970. The award is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Houston and all proceeds go to the research program of the American Cancer Society.

More than $100,000 has been donated to the ACS from three previous dinners. Jim Stillwagon of Ohio State was the first winner in 1971. Walt Patulski of Notre Dame was the 1972 winner and Nebraska's Rich Glover won last year.

Selmon, a 5-foot-11 inch, 236-pound senior, is the oldest of three brothers playing on the unbeaten Sooner football team in 1973. Selmon made 93 tackles including eight that threw opposing runners for losses to taking 53 yards.

Selmon made 234 tackles during his three-year collegiate career for the Sooners, including 31 tackles for yardage losses.

Wyman, who anchored the offensive line in front of Texas' wishbone attack, gets similar praise from UT Coach Darrell Royal. "He's the best center we've had since I've been at Texas," Royal said.

playing real well this year, but they've lost some close games. They're a big team, and with the kind of size they have they're bound to improve."

The Texans are 4-11 on the year and 0-4 in Western Conference play, and Wilder's troops, who will meet the Texans at least twice more this season, are expected to regain some honor for their coach behind an offense that's averaging over 100 points a game.

The main weapons in the Hawk attack have been a pair of 6-7 sophomores, Taylor Williams and Thomas Bledsoe, both of whom have a place in the ABC record book, and Leroy Lumzy, a high-scoring guard. All three were named to the all-tournament team last year.

Bobby Beall, the team's assist leader, sparks the fast break while the forward position opposite Williams is manned at different times by Mike Randle, Alfred Gladden and Keith Lewis.

South Plains will be paced by 6-8 John Joseph, the team's leading scorer and rebounder. He's also a prime candidate for all-star honors.

Cisco is a young team, and the Wranglers have been carried by a pair of sharpshooters in the early going, 6-3 Robert Daniels and 6-0 Wesley Ervin. But the Wranglers have added some size during the semester break as 6-10 Bill Caldwell of Galveston Ball, one of the state's top schoolboy cagers last year, has become eligible.

For the McMurry JVs, 6-4 Cliff Stephens of Klondike and 6-8 Jerry Teel have been the top performers.

Following the HC-McMurry opener Monday, Cisco will battle South Plains in a 9 p.m. affair, and on Tuesday, Cisco and McMurry will tangle in the nightcap after the Hawks and Texans clash. The final night has South Plains and the McMurry JVs opening the action at 7 p.m., followed by JC and Cisco at 9 p.m.

Most records appear to be safe. HCJC All-American Archie Myers averaged over 35 points a game in the 1972 Classic for a 106-point total that should stand, while the high single game was a 47-point outburst by David Wilson of Christian College of the Southwest in 1971.

BIG SPRING HIGH SCHOOL

Honors Announced At Yule Dance

By DRUANNE PRIDDY

Many honors were announced before the Christmas holidays began, among those honors were Who's Who, Favorites, School Beauty and Best and Mr. and Miss BSHS. Fourteen seniors and 10 juniors were named to Who's Who this year. The 14 seniors were Rita Burley, Glenn Carlton, Tim Dunn, Mickie Fletcher, Leigh Jones, Scott McEwen, Ronald ArceKoe, Londa Pittman, Druanne Priddy, John Thomas Smith, Tom Sorley, Guy Teague, Nadine Teague and Carrie Wheeler. Juniors named to Who's Who were Bobby Bradshaw, Robert Bradbury, Barry Canning, Leslie Harris, Greg Horton, Karen Jenkins, Sharon Jenkins, Linda Little, Kathy Meek and Doug Robison. The selection of these honored students is based on leadership, character, scholarship, and service. Favorites were announced Thursday, Dec. 20, at the annual Christmas party and dance. Freshmen favorites were Donna Carpenter and Elroy Green.

Sophomore favorites were Denita Fellows and Steve Hereford. Junior favorites were Leslie Harris and Doug Robison. Senior favorites were Leigh Jones and Tim Dunn. Mr. and Miss BSHS were Tom Sorley and Kendra Dewese. School Beauty and Best were Nancy Conway and Tom Sorley. The annual Christmas party and dance began the Christmas holidays for BSHS students Thursday, Dec. 20. Door prizes were won by Khenda Harland, coach Ron Plumlee, Nadine Teague, Rhonda Riley, Susie and Ricky Steen, Burnall Foster and Ismael Lujan. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus started the dance by doing their own polka. Coach Reynolds and Mrs. Reynolds played Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus. New Lites provided the entertainment.

RUNNELS JUNIOR HIGH

Practice Begins For Solo And Ensembles

By JENNIE SPEEGLE

The Runnels Band and Choir students have received their solos and ensembles. The students will play these selections at the Solo and Ensemble Contest later this school year.

It is reported that the library has been checking out more books than usual to the students. The Library Club is planning on electing new officers sometime in the near future, according to Tammi Burcham, library worker.

Mrs. Conley's sewing classes started their sewing projects last week. Her students will be making either a skirt or a blouse.

The seventh grade girls physical education classes are working on a volleyball unit. The eighth grade girls PE classes are playing a card tournament.

Starting tomorrow the student school days will be from 7:00 to 4:00. The regular schedule will be followed, according to Mr. Bentley, with the exception that all classes will be 30 minutes later than before.

Students are reminded that Friday, Jan. 11, will be a student holiday. The Runnels and Goliad teachers will meet at Goliad. Text book hearings will be held concerning seventh grade Health books and seventh and eighth grade math books.

There are several new students at Runnels this week.

Eighth graders: Barbara Banks and Debora Banks, moved here from Riverside, Calif.; Diane Murphy and Sheri Snodgrass transferred here from Goliad, and Maria Ortiz moved here from Mission, Texas.

Seventh graders: Lorrilli Austin moved from Compton, Calif.; Janine McDonald transferred from Forsan, and Donald Raymond Sawyers moved from Dallas.

There are four new teachers at Runnels this semester. Mrs. Bathurst left because her husband was transferred to Oklahoma. Dennis Smiley, a graduate of McMurry College, is taking her place.

Mrs. Oswalt is going on a European tour with her husband. Mrs. Barbara McCullough is replacing her. Mrs. McCullough is a graduate of the University of West Florida.

Mr. Sweatt left Runnels and is now working for the Welfare Office. Mr. Paul Brickman, a Southern Illinois University graduate, is substituting for Sweatt until a replacement is found.

Mrs. Terrazas is taking a maternity leave. Miss Kathy Sullivan is replacing her. She is a graduate of Hardin Simmons University.

Congratulations to Mr. Gowler, band director, who married over the Christmas holidays.

STANTON HIGH SCHOOL

Sixteen Band Members Make All-Regional

By CHERYL BRADSHAW

Twenty-six members of the Stanton High School band traveled to McCamey prior to the Christmas holidays for the All-Region band tryouts.

Sixteen of this group made the band. They included Dale Henson, cornet; Ronnie Henson, alto saxophone; Nancy Glynn, tenor saxophone; Linda Woody, Molly Hughes and Patricia Ramos, all of whom played the flute; Karen Anderson, Jackie Jones, Cheryl Bradshaw, Mindy Haislip, Jo Mims, Jill Hughes and Patricia Johnson, clarinets; Jimmy Jones, percussion; Mark Cook, bass; and Jack Smith, first-alternate trombone.

These students worked diligently on their music for two months. They will go to Big Lake next Saturday to participate in the annual All-Region Band Concert.

George Walker is the Stanton band leader and is doing an excellent job in his department. The band also held a Christmas concert in the high school auditorium shortly before schools turned out for the holidays, giving varied selections relating to the Yule season. The beginners' band and junior high band also participated in this concert.

Various clubs, organizations and classes competing in the Christmas door contest were supposed to have their decorations up on a designated date in order to be eligible for the prizes. First prize for the best door was $15 and second prize $10.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes also convened shortly before Christmas to discuss plans for a bake sale.

The juniors received their class rings Dec. 18 and are now wearing them. The rings were ordered from Southern Engraving Company of Dallas. The company has been furnishing rings for Stanton for several years and invariably please an eager junior.

The students didn't get away for the holidays without taking tests. Classes resumed at Stanton last Wednesday.

GOLIAD JH

NJHS Invites Participants Into Program

By BECKY RAGAN

Report cards were given to Goliad students on Friday. The second 9 weeks of classes concluded on Dec. 20.

The National Junior Honor Society Mrs. Delores Gage sponsor, invites eligible students to join. To be eligible for membership a student must have been enrolled at Goliad for one semester; must have no report card grade lower than 85; and must have at least a 90 average of the four major subjects (science, math, social studies and English). Students may pick up slips that have blanks to list class schedule, and then slips should be taken to teachers to write the average for the class. The slips may be obtained on Monday in Room 119, Mrs. Gage's room.

Seventh grade girls will have volleyball tryouts next week. More details will be given during physical education classes on Monday announced coach Miss Jeannie Hester.

Student Council will meet on Tuesday in the Visual Aids room during third period. Mr. Bernard Rains, sponsor, reminds members to attend.

Girls physical education classes are starting creative movement, stated Mrs. Debbie Scofield. The boys physical education classes are starting volleyball, announced coach Duke Atterbury.

Miss Carmen Johnson's clothing classes will begin construction of garment chosen by student for clothing assignment. There will be a teachers' workday on Friday, and Saturday. Students will not have classes on Friday, due to the workday.

Students are reminded that classes will begin at 9 a.m. on Monday, because of the change to Daylight Savings Time. Classes will dismiss at 4 p.m. each day. Buses will run 30 minutes later than the usual time.

Welcome to Cindy Chrane, who transferred from Forsan; Terri Mince, who also transferred from Forsan; Donny Davis, from Paducah, Ky.; and James Fagg, also from Paducah, Ky. All of the students are enrolled in the seventh grade. New eighth grade student is Theresa Pierce, from Hampton, Va.

Businessmen To Instruct

Expertise from the community for classroom instruction.

This will be the keynote with many of the extended day classes being offered at Howard College at Big Spring during the coming Spring semester of 1974.

Slated for the evening schedule are many instructors who are professionals in the community during the day, and the blend their instructional talents with knowledge and experience to teach night classes. This makes for the best of both possible worlds, says Theron Lee, director of continuing education at the college.

The schedule includes such specialists as Jerry Mancill of Stripling & Mancill insurance Agency, who will teach property and casualty insurance; Frosty Robinson, assistant director of industrial relations at Cosden, teaching labor relations; Larry Bratcher, manager of Big Spring office of Farm Home Administration; Wayne Burns, practicing attorney, teaching real estate law; and Tom Locke, manager of Texas Electric Service Company, instructing personnel management.

Also, Ron McNeil, manager of Montgomery Wards, teaching salesmanship; Morris Rhodes, management consultant, teaching supervision; Larry Willard, vice president at First National Bank, teaching banking; Jack Goble, security director at the Veterans Administration Hospital, law enforcement; Jim Gregg, city attorney, law enforcement; and Kenneth Booth, certified public accountant, teaching accounting.

Team teaching real estate will be Dal Austin, real estate salesman; Charles Beal, executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan; and Bill Estes, owner of Reeder Associates.

DECA students are now in preparation for contests which will be held in February in San Angelo. A meeting will be held in a few weeks to discuss upcoming events.

DECA has finished their candy sales and the money made will be used to hold a banquet after the Christmas holidays.

The Future Teachers of America will have a meeting Monday at 3:35 p.m.

The Speech Department will attend a UIL Tournament Jan. 18-19 in Midland. The students participating will compete in poetry, extemporaneous speaking, interpretive reading and debate.

The debate teams, both girls and boys, will also attend the tournament with the Speech department.

If any student is interested in debate please call on Mr. Robert Sadler in the Speech department.

The Drama Club will begin selling patriotic book covers for a quarter very soon. This money will go to the club funds.

Plans are tentative for a sox hop to be held after the first district basketball game to be played at home, Friday. Word will be given on this early this week.

COAHOMA HIGH SCHOOL

Girls' Basketball Team Gains 3rd Place Trophy

By SHERRY GRIFFIN

Starting Monday school will start classes at 9:00 and will finish at 4:00. This new plan was announced Thursday by superintendent Mr. W. A. Wilson.

The girls basketball team gained a third-place trophy at the Slaton tournament over the Christmas holidays. Not only placing third in the tournament as a whole they had two girls place on the All-Tournament team. They are Theresa Beal, forward and Dale Mitchell, guard.

The boys basketball team failed to place in the Coahoma tournament but Jody Bennett gained honor by placing on the All-Tournament team.

The girls team started their district play Friday against McCamey at McCamey. Both boys and girls will be in action Tuesday against Big Lake.

Students placing on the honor roll in Junior High are as follows: sixth grade, Peggy Paul, Sally Kerby, Carl Mills, Jerry Roeber, Greg Brown, Mike Bradford, Ronald Hamilton, Cvuz Olivares, Rita Gonzales, Regina Kennedy, Terri Pateet, Connie Brown, Michael Donald, Mark Greer, Rhonda Griffin, Sheryl Harris, Keith Kohanek, Richard Moncus, Mark Murphee Lisa Pettitt, Rita Gonzales, Regina Kennedy, Tevvi Poteet, Connie Brown, Michael Donall, Mark Greer, Rhonda Griffin, Sheryl Harris, Keith Kohanek, Richard Moncus, Mark Murphee, Lisa Pettitt, Kerri Read, David Ross, Debbie Sloan, and Michael Terry. Students making the honor roll in the seventh grade are:

Debbie Hinsley, James Dever, Gary Hulme, Debbie Reid, Kerre Brown, Roxanna Daniels, Linda Barr, Dee Brown, Edward Grizzard, Ronnie Hays, Robby Rupard, Cindy McAdams, Suzanne Shive, Robbie Pope, Nancy Howell, Tammy Butts, T. Lee Aberegg, Tracy Frazier, Wallis Brooks, Jim Bob Read, Donna Camp, Fermin Gonzales, Beverly Krause, Jeff Moore, Danny Scoggins, Alisa Scott, Penny Huckabee. The eighth grade students making the honor roll were: Bobby Scoggins, Earl Thomas, Judy Wheelus, Jackie Rinard, Dean Pherigo, Raymond Overton, Randal Overby, Kenneth Huckabee, Jim Early, Ron Barr, Melissa Brown, Jim Bob Coates, Debbie Kerby, Mitchell Camp, Vanessa Cooper, Liz Kerly, Brenda McDonald, and Starla McMurry.

GARDEN CITY

Midland Cage Teams Guests

By BECKY SCHWARTZ
Garden City school resumed classes Wednesday morning at 8:30, Jan. 2. Beginning Monday morning, Jan. 7, classes will be from 9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. The poll taken was 3-1 in favor of this time.

Thursday, the "B" team boys played Midland Christian here. Friday, three games were played at Garden City. The "A" and "B" team boys, and the "A" team girls all battled against Forsan Friday night for district ball games.

Seniors are reminded to turn in your Tom Wat money as soon as possible.

Juniors are still selling calendars for $1.50 apiece.

High school principal, Mr. Putman, made the statement to the high school that, "he hoped that everyone had a good holiday and are now ready to settle down to school work. Other than emergencies, there should be little or no reason to be signing out of school to go anywhere. Try to keep this down to a minimum."

RPC Membership Meeting Is Set

The semi-annual General Membership Meeting of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission will be held Jan. 16, at the Cap Rock Electric Co-Op Building located on the Midland Highway in Stanton.

Mark White, Secretary of State, will be guest speaker. Registration will begin at 11:30 a.m. There will be a luncheon held at 12 noon followed by a business meeting. Judge Carol Yater invites everyone to attend the Martin County Livestock Show which will be in progress at the time of the meeting.

All elected and administrative representatives are invited to attend this Semi-Annual General Membership Meeting.

Spring Semester Slated To Begin January 14

Spring semester activities at Howard College at Big Spring will get under way Jan. 14, with the institution operating with a new name, a new mascot, and a new slate of challenges for the coming year.

No longer called Howard County Junior College by official act of its Board of Trustees, the school will nonetheless continue to be called the HCJC district, and that can only be changed by act of the Texas Legislature.

The Hawks have been unjayed, making a long used nickname the real macy, instead of the mythical Civil War Jayhawk title that stood for 28 years.

Challenges for the new year include adjusting to the demands of the nation's energy problem and meeting the recurrent local crises of student enrollment and economics. One hopeful note that college officials point out with cautious optimism is the fact that the threat of gasoline rationing may see many more students selecting to study in Big Spring at the local college.

Possibilities of class time and schedule changes have been discussed by the college administration, but as yet they are still adhering to the original spring schedule.

Sophomore students will register 1-4 p.m., Jan. 14, and evening students will sign up 6-8:30 p.m. The next day freshmen will register 8-12 noon, all students 1-4 p.m., and evening students 6-8:30 p.m. Registration will be in the Anthony Hunt Library on campus.

First day of classes will be Jan. 16.

A New Community Asset

At 2 p.m. today the Big Spring YMCA will dedicate a new wing made possible largely through gifts from the Dora Roberts Foundation. An open house will continue to 5 p.m.

The importance of this is not told in the $160,000 cost figure, nor in the 5,500 square feet of additional space, but rather than the utility it brings to the community.

For the members, it means an expansion and improvement of the areas for physical development, particularly in exercise rooms, in a new locker rooms for men and women (and thus freeing former locker rooms exclusively for boys and girls). It also includes a new swimming pool principally for youngsters, which means that the regular pool will be freed for expansion of the swimming program and for recreational swims. In another part of the building, chafages have resulted in doubling the size and vastly improving the light for the game room.

For many, however, the most dramatic addition is the Health Club with its steam and sauna rooms, the therapeutic whirlpool and the massage room. This is set up so that it can be self-supporting — thus the people who use the club will pay for the services, not the general membership or the United Way.

In all, the YMCA now has approximately 30,000 square feet of space to carry out its mission of serving the youths and adults of this area.

By today's standards, the value probably approaches three-quarters of a million dollars — and it's paid for. We submit that when you're listing the pluses for Big Spring, you should include the YMCA. Attend the open house this afternoon, and you'll agree.

Bright Financial Picture

If your personal assets increased, by 22 per cent for the year, you would consider that you had done well.

That's the picture for local banks, which reflect a considerable degree of the status of economic condition for individuals and businesses within the community.

Deposits exceeded the $80 million mark for the first time ($84 million to be more precise), and total resources of $92 million were up by the same percentage as deposits — 22 per cent. The amount of cash on hand was almost half a gain as much as a year ago.

Although the influence of a record cotton crop both in price and in number of bales is reflected substantially in the remarkable gains, the bulk of the revenue from the crop will not be reported until the first quarter of this year for obvious income purposes. It could be that before Uncle Sam bleeds off a sobering figure at income tax time that our deposit totals could hit the $100 million mark. You can let out some air for inflation and still the increases are impressive and speak eloquently of our financial condition.

Relatively Speaking

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

In view of the fact that I'm beginning my eighth year with the Big Spring Herald, I'm going to celebrate by letting readers and relatives write this column.

MY ICE EATING aunt, Fannie Everett, recovering from chest surgery, cleared up a long controversy by digging out the longest song title — a song by Hoagy Carmichael called:

"I'm a Cranky Old Yank in a Clanky Old Tank on the Streets of Yokohama with My Honolulu Mama Doin' Those Beat-O, Beat-O, Beat-O, Flat-on-my Seat-O, Hirohito Blues."

That title from the Guinness Book of World Records replaces my favorite, "I'm Lying on My Back With Tears in My Ears, Crying My Eyes Out Over you."

MY BASHFUL aunt, Marie Chastain, furnishes the guest joke:

The contestant on a TV show told the M.C. she had 17 children. "Well, well," the M.C. ad libbed. "Tell me, do you still want more?"

"What else can we do?" the woman replied. "Get spotted."

Eli Guinn, alias Ada's twinkle-toes, says it is very easy "to live with shortages if you are an old boy that has grown up in Oklahoma where you were born in a log cabin and had to fight the dogs for a bacon rind to keep your belly filled." I know for a fact Eli wasn't born in a log cabin, but the late ex-Sen. Bob Kerr, Ada's pride and joy, was.

GEORGE E. NORVELL, former mayor of Tulsa, writes a sign in a Tulsa bank states: "If any bank says they're friendlier than us, we'll punch them in the nose."

Sage of Scurry Street, A. G. Vaughn, writes:

After giving the matter much contemplation There's one thing of which I am sure: Nothing's the matter with this young generation That becoming taxpayers won't cure.

My priceless cousin, Price Everett, Bridgeport, overheard a chiroprapist tell his secretary:

"Take a footnote."

MY WONDERFUL AUNT, Mildred Ladd, submits several "Slowties."

"Bessie Mae, how do you say 'Kiss me' in Spanish.

"Pastor, who invented the sterilization of milk?"

"What do you call a parking place for ships, Doc?"

"Shucks, what's in this cheap mattress?"

"Dog gone, how does 'The Call of the Wild' end?"

"Sue, how do lawyers make their money?"

"I don't know what Oklahomans call themselves, but the sooner I find out, the better."

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

My son has a temper that is triggered by even the slightest upset. He does claim to be a Christian, but apparently sees little conflict between his faith and this habit. What can I tell him?

S.M. The book of Proverbs in the Bible is known as wisdom literature. The statement in chapter 14, verse 29 is particularly appropriate. "He that is slow to wrath is of great understanding; but he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly."

In the New Testament, you have the assertion of Paul that one of the results of Christ's Spirit living within us — through our faith — is the matter of self-control. It all really backs up to the issue of a disciplined life. Your son understands that society and custom places certain controls upon us. Maturity teaches us that happy and productive living involves many more that are self-imposed.

Help him to see that his own future is at stake here. Prospective employers shy away from such explosive people, and certainly, the girls won't relish companionship which a temper can so easily destroy.

Above all, explain to him that being a Christian really means being a little Christ. The same power Jesus knew can be his in conquering this or any other bad habit.

Just In Time

William F. Buckley Jr.

The struggle apart for one moment, there is considerable irony in the latest chapter in the crowded life of the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, S. J., the haunted Jesuit priest who will one day waste away in melancholy over the world's impolite refusal to fashion its affairs after his preachments. This time Fr. Berrigan has turned down an award. Apparently he turned it down in the nick of time. If he had waited another day or two, the proffered award probably would have been withdrawn.

THE SEQUENCE is as follows. There is a peace-type group in Connecticut called Promoting Enduring Peace. Like many paper organizations, this one seeks notoriety by giving a prize. The prize is called the Gandhi Peace Award. There are 40 odd trustees of PEP, and they apparently reached the decision without any dissent to award the prize this year to Father Berrigan.

FATHER DANIEL BERRIGAN, it will be recalled by students of The Movement, is not Father Philip Berrigan. Father Philip Berrigan, PEP honoree's brother, is the gentleman who for years insisted on the sacred unity of Catholic orthodoxy and pacifism, which sermon was interrupted recently by the news that he and the Catholic nun who were briefly in the spotlight for allegedly planning to whisk away Henry Kissinger and hold him ransom against a United States military departure from Vietnam were, uh, making peace together. What is left of orthodoxy in the Catholic Church promptly excommunicated Father Phil, but Father Dan, on leaving prison in Danbury for assaulting a draft center, burning the records, and spilling animal blood on the ashes, or whatever — Fr. Dan is a poet, and when he says it, it rhymes, and he is the hero — is still a member of the Church, and resumed his cries for peace.

THIS LED to his selection as recipient of PEP's prize. But then in mid-October, shortly after the Arabs launched their offensive against Israel, Father Dan was invited to address a meeting of Arab graduate students. And here he laid it on the line, greatly to the disadvantage of Israel. He said of it that it was a "criminal Jewish conspiracy". That, as a state, Israel is the "creation of an elite of millionaires, generals, and entrepreneurs". The peace-types who were involved with PEP began to register their horror over Fr. Dan's applying strictly to Israel the analysis he began using against South Vietnam.

A PROMINENT RABBI denounced Fr. Dan. Then a prominent Protestant clergyman. And then a prominent Catholic theologian. To them Fr. Dan replied with great scorn, referring to them as an "ecumenical trio", "a troika of bigots in common cause". Whereupon Fr. Dan announced that he would not accept the prize: greatly relieving the trustees of PEP, who will now look for a follower of Gandhi who will distinguish between the undesirability of South Vietnamese sovereignty, and the desirability of Israeli sovereignty.

When the Six Day War broke out, and all the peace marchers temporarily deserted their stations to egg on Israel, Prof. John Roche called them "Doves for War". Fr. Dan's problem now is to settle for the very narrow constituency to which he should have appealed all along: the total value, really, only themselves, disdaining any corporate ideals, like sovereignty, self-defense, collective resistance. Now his voice is defiant, and even eloquent — no one spoke better the soaring rhetoric of pacifism than he during the 1960's. But after this brush with reality, he will find himself pretty much forlorn.

FORTUNATELY, the American military, and outposts in Europe and Israel, are committed to measures that will continue to give him the freedom to debate public policies in order to press the hobgobolization of all the forces that work to keep international order and a modicum of liberty.

Stock Market Applies Dose Of Credit

NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board slashed the margin requirement for stock purchases this past week to its lowest level in more than a decade, letting investors buy stock with less cash.

Margin is the minimum amount of cash an investor has to put down to buy stock. The board cut the requirement from 65 to 50 per cent, allowing half the price of a securities purchase to be met through credit.

Many in the securities industry hoped the move would bring some life into a stock market that has sagged and suffered since October. "This is an important step that should serve to encourage investors to take a more active role in the securities markets, and in the process it should aid the nation's capital-raising machinery," said Paul Kolton, chairman of the American Stock Exchange.

LUBRICATES RALLY Brokers Thursday credited the margin cut and Henry Kissinger's announcement that President Nixon would take a personal role in Middle East oil talks with touching off one of the stock market's biggest rallies since the Depression.

The Dow Jones industrial average soared 25.37 points to close at 880.69, its eighth biggest one-day gain since 1929 and the largest since last Dec. 6, when hopes were rising for a Middle East peace.

The market consolidated its gains Friday. The Dow finished the day down 46 at 880.23, but advances outnumbers declines on the New York Stock Exchange 2 to 1.

CAR SALES SAG Sagging sales in large American automobiles was reflected this past week in Detroit's plan to produce cars in January at rates well below last year's levels.

The January production target at General Motors, biggest of the automakers, was 358,000, down 29.9 per cent from actual production in January 1973.

Ford's target was down 21.5 per cent from last January's production and Chrysler was shooting 36.4 per cent lower. American Motors said it would cut large car production 10 per cent, but that reduction still left AMC's January target 3.8 per cent above year-earlier production.

1973 OUTPUT HIGHER All the auto companies said their 1973 production was higher than that of 1972. GM assembled 7.10 million cars and trucks, more than all three of its domestic competitors together and a gain of 13 per cent over 1972. Ford was up 6 per cent at 4.06 million units and Chrysler gained more than 12 per cent with a total of 2.22 million.

AMC's production was up 28 per cent, a total of 448,642 cars and Jeeps.

The Week's Business

- Margin requirements reduced to half as a buyer stimulant
- But President's initiative in oil seen as best news
- Most of fine one-day rally holds as a solid market gain
- Automakers lower 1974 production target 21-36 per cent
- Sales of 1973 models tops previous year by 4-28 per cent

Fibrillation And Systole

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Help! An article in your column panicked me. You said that fibrillation of the heart could be fatal. What about extra systole? What is the difference between the two?

I have been told it is nothing to worry about, but sometimes my heart beat gets all mixed up and I can feel it jumping around and missing beats. Who's to say this is not fibrillation?

Who's to say? Well, for one the doctor who told you it was extra systole and nothing to worry about.

There's all the difference in the world between fibrillation and extra systole. Extra systole really is just a sort of misplaced beat — the extra beat comes a little early, and is followed by a pause which many people (perhaps most) misinterpret as a "missing beat."

It mostly affects nervous, tense people, of whom you doubtless are one. Too much coffee or tobacco or other stimulants are common contributing factors to extra systole. But while the trifling irregularity is quite obvious to folks who keep worrying about it, in reality your heart beats the usual number of times and does it work efficiently. Fibrillation is entirely different. It is a lack of rhythmic contractions. Rather, there are innumerable contractions of various fibers in the heart muscle, but not working together. Some medical texts describe it as a "twitching" of the heart muscle. Instead of the muscle working with its fibers in unison, there is aimless, small movement — but not enough concerted pressure to create a real heart beat. Obviously little if any blood is being pumped by the heart, and the condition can be indeed dangerous.

Sometimes drugs control it sometimes small electric charges are given with a "defibrillator" to shock the heart back into unified action. Fibrillation obviously needs close attention.

But it has nothing in common with extra systole, or "skipped beat" or "extra beat" such as you have, so you must stop worrying about it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Ever since my granddaughter, now 3, learned to walk, she has walked on her toes. I don't mean the ball of the foot, but strictly tiptoes. Naturally the muscles of her legs are hard as a rock. I've never seen any other baby walk this way. Is it anything to be concerned about? —Mrs. J.G.

Yes. It requires checking. The possibility occurs to me that the Achilles tendon — the one above the heel, in the lower leg — may be shorter than normal.

That can be corrected. But yes, she should be examined by a pediatrician or orthopedist.

Shingles can be a painful disease! To receive a copy of Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Facts About Shingles," write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. — For an escapee from the muddled, muddled, quarrelsome atmosphere of Washington it is an adventure to come here to NASA's Ames Research Center. The journey into space being directed from the center is thrilling evidence of America's scientific and technological leadership. It is a strength which, if sustained, can transcend the political frailties and foibles of the moment.

THE SPACECRAFT Pioneer 10 has been traveling for 21 months. Passing within 82,000 miles of the planet Jupiter only one minute off schedule, Pioneer sent back a mass of data about that huge ball of rotating gas with its radiation belt at least a hundred times greater than the Van Allen Belt around the earth.

While this was Pioneer's primary goal, it is traveling on in space with four more years of communication from a distance calculated to be close two billion miles. Two years from now Pioneer will be passing Saturn, which is twice as far from the earth as Jupiter.

NOR IS that the end of the journey. At one stage Pioneer will be passing Pluto, farthest out of the planet sin the solar system. Then for anyone interested in far-out statistics for Pioneer traveling at 10 miles per second, it is 8 million light years to Taurus. Project manager Charles Hall reports this in all seriousness, since in the frictionless atmosphere of outer space Pioneer can continue if not with its own nuclear power then with interplanetary pulls ad infinitum.

Part of NASA's mission under the charter is to explore the potential of intelligent beings living on other planets. On the inner face of Pioneer is a plaque etched in silver and gold plate of two naked humans, male and female, along with mathematical formulae indicating the wave length of our telecommunication system. The theory is that if Pioneer should crash-land on a distant planet intelligent beings would find the plaque and set out to communicate with the earthlings.

THE PROJECT science director, Dr. John H. Wolfe, believes that, in the galaxy of the Milky Way with its thousands of stars, beings far superior to earthlings may live with techniques of communication capable of spanning the light years of interstellar space. Wolfe, a distinguished physicist in the complex field of plasma physics, believes strongly in NASA's role in exploring for other life.

A Devotion For Today..

Happy the man whose helper is the God of Jacob, whose hopes are in the Lord his God. (Psalm 146:5)

PRAYER: O God, free us from despair and give us grace and gratitude, help and hope. Amen.

HOROSCOPE

CAROL RICHTER

SUNDAY, JANUARY 6, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Unexpected and delightful times possible by being alert and wide awake to whatever is occurring about you; keep some free time so you can accept a benefit coming to you. Enjoy others' goodwill.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Talk over your plans with your friends. Engage your temper.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 21) Quietly contact a bigwig who can give you invaluable advice.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Ideal time to get to know a new friend. Get to know your friends better.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Concentrate on personal aims and ambitions. Do not let others distract you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) See as many good friends as you can today. Show them your appreciation.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23) Assist those in trouble. Talk over your ambitions with others and gain their good advice.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Get out to new places where you can acquire greater knowledge and understanding of better methods for future operations.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Tap your subconscious for the best method of operation now and in the future. Then join with mate for recreation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Discuss with mate your goals for the future and get the right answers, solutions to problems. Make a friend of one who can help you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Even if it is Sunday, get out of that work in the coming week. Improve health.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Enjoy favorite activities. Get together with younger people. Your creative skills can be exercised.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Get into fun with the infinite and make something wonderful of your life. Good about and get the good friends who can help you.

MONDAY, JANUARY 7, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are considerate of other persons the coming week. Your difficult situations can be greatly alleviated. This can apply most particularly where home and family matters are concerned. Start day with increased vitality.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Study the situation of home and do whatever will improve it, especially on the emotional level. Show that you have good common sense.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 21) Shopping for whatever you need the most and becoming more productive in the outside world is wise now. Engage in hobby in the evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handle property and monetary affairs without delay since the planets are favorable right now. Assist others with their aims tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try to put more elegance into your home without upsetting others today. Work on your other side and see your good friends.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) It is wise if you plan the future now instead of dashing around here and there today. The evening can be very happy with the one you love.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 23) Pursue monetary affairs for now and contact good friends who can help you in your career. The evening is best for court affairs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Plan how to make your position more favorable in your community. Gain the favor of a bigwig who can open doors of opportunity for you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Begin the new week by getting into new ideas that will get you out of the rut that have you stagnated. Avoid a troubleshooter.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Seek the advice of experts for the improved means of operation you need to advance more quickly. Take more interest in civic matters.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Have a conference with associates and plan how to make your mutual projects work out more successfully. Eliminate any pitfalls.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Delve into that work awaiting your attention. Take health treatments. Show others that you are a confident person. Be honest.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Do what you can for necessary today and then go to the recreation. Do what you need. Discuss new ideas with a trusted friend. Be wise.

Mahan Enters Superstars' Competition

DENVER, Colo. — World champion all around cowboy Larry Mahan will join a host of other athletes Jan. 25-26 to determine the finalists for the 1974 Superstars competition, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Mahan, who recently won his record sixth all around crown, along with $84,047 in earnings and bonuses, will be shooting for a piece of the $22,000 in prize money in the Superstar event.

The competition, to be held in Rotonda, Fla., pits athletes against each other in seven of ten events, including baseball hitting, tennis, nine-hole golf, swimming, bowling, weight lifting, 100-yard dash, half-mile run, one-mile bicycle race, and an obstacle course race.

The Superstar classic includes four days of semi-finals. The first two were held last August. Twenty-four finalists will return to Rotonda for competition on Feb. 25-26.

Next month Mahan will compete with football star O. J. Simpson, baseball greats Pete Rose and Reggie Jackson, skier Jean Claude Kelly, auto racer Pete Revson and Bobby Allison, driver Craig Breedlove, boxer Bob Foster, Olympic wrestler Dan Gable, Jim Palmer of the Baltimore Orioles, soccer player Kyle Rote Jr., and Olympic decathlon champion Bill Toomey.

PARTY HATS AND HORNS helped create a festive air at the Webb Air Force Base Officers' Club when the clock struck twelve. Cheerfully joining in welcoming 1974 were, above, Col. and Mrs. Robert Meisenheimer, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Salter and Mr. and Mrs. Ron McNeil. At right, ringing in the New Year at Big Spring Country Club were Frank Peters, Renee Heckaman and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Nelson.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 6, 1974

NOT MUCH TIME was spent looking back as this foursome, right, looked forward to a good time — and better year. Shown at Webb Air Force Base Officers' Club are Capt. and Mrs. Roger Taylor and Capt. and Mrs. David W. Finch.

IT ALMOST SEEMED like old times at Dora Roberts Community Center (formerly Cosden Country Club) as revelers filled the ballroom to celebrate the birth of a new year. The dance, sponsored by Big

THE ANNUAL New Year's Dance at Big Spring Country Club brought out a host of members and guests to dance until midnight, then breakfast on blackeyed peas.

BIG SPRINGERS WELCOME 1974

THE NCO CLUB at Webb Air Force Base attracted a number of town residents who were guests of military personnel for the New Year's festivities.

Shown at the club are, left, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Acri and daughter, Roni, Kim Burchell and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hughes.

CELEBRANTS at the Elk's Club danced until midnight at the club's traditional holiday event for members and their guests. Party-goers wasted little time

Firm Produces New Wig Fiber

A Korean wig firm employing 3,000 people and exporting all over the world has now succeeded in producing a ladies' wig weighing only two ounces. New sewing techniques in sewing have enabled them to cut the fiber in a wig by 14 per cent.

Sixty per cent of the wigs produced go to the U.S. market, says the firm's boss, Sture Ostenson, who says he turns out 7,000 wigs a day at a cost of under $3.

Ostenson is heading a major sales drive in Europe, and says South Korea has now taken over from Hong Kong as the world's biggest producer because it pays lower wages.

Beauceants, Commandry Hold Installation Thursday

A joint open installation of officers was held Thursday evening at the Masonic Temple, 221 1/2 Main, by Big Spring Assembly No. 211, Social Order of the Beauceant, and Big Spring Commandry No. 31, Knights Templar.

The ceremonies were preceded by a dinner and followed by a reception in the banquet hall.

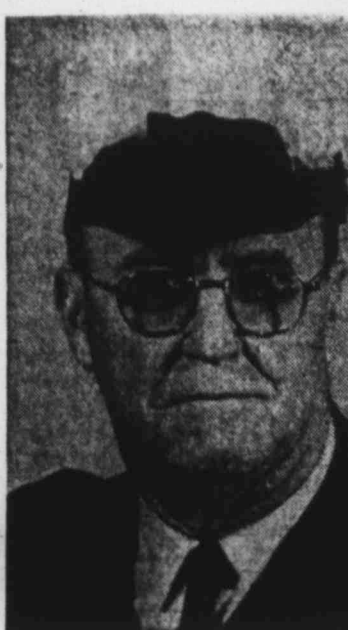

The Beauceant session was presided over by Mrs. Ralph LaLonde, with Sir Knights, O. L. Nabors, Wright Vickers and Ralph LaLonde as color guards.

The ritual was conducted by a team which included four out-of-town participants, Mrs. Joe Zant, Odessa, chaplain; Mrs. Hal Burnett, Alpine, recorder; Mrs. George Medley, Midland, standard bearer; and Mrs. Robert Mabry, Odessa, color bearer. The installing officer was Mrs. Harry Middleton, assisted by Mrs. Jack Alexander, marshal; Mrs. Tom Helton, assistant marshal; and Mrs. L. R. Mundt, director of music.

The 1974 officers are Mrs. W. C. Fryar, president; Mrs. LaLonde, orator; Mrs. Albert Davis and Mrs. Alden Ryan, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. C. T. Clay, preceptress; Mrs. Lee Porter, recorder; Mrs. Grover Wayland, treasurer; Mrs. R. L. Lee, marshal; Mrs. Ervin Daniel, assistant marshal; Mrs. James Owens, Chaplain; Mrs. L. R. Mundt, director of music; Mrs. Eugene Cross, standard bearer; Mrs. Wayne Parish, color bearer; Mrs. George Glenn, mistress of the wardrobe; Mrs. A. A. McKinney, daughter of the household; Mrs. J. B. Hoard, inner guard; and Mrs. Alfred Tidwell, outer guard. Mrs. Fryar spoke briefly, after which there was music by Miss Pam Wheeler and Miss Kay Williams of the Prairie View Baptist Church choir. Mrs. LaLonde presented Mrs. Fryar with a president's pin, and Mrs. LaLonde's past president's pin was presented by her husband. Alfred Tidwell, retiring eminent commander, presided for the installation of officers for the Big Spring Commandry.

The installing officer was Hal Burnett, past grand commander of Texas and past grand master of Masons of Texas. Serving as installing marshal was Arthur G. Coats, past grand commander of Texas and the high eminent department commander of the South Central Department of Grand Encampment, U.S.A. Sam Hilburn, eminent grand generalissimo, was the installing excellent prelate.

Those installed with the new eminent commander, Charles T. Clay, were Dal Herring, generalissimo; Richard E. Mitchell, captain general; Erin Daniel, senior warden; George G. Glenn, junior warden; Wright Viers, excellent prelate; C. R. McClenny, treasurer; Willard Sullivan, recorder; G. Harry Sawyer, standard bearer; Denver Pettit, sword bearer; Ralph LaLonde, warden; John Williams, sentinel; L. R. Mundt, guard one; Wayne Parish, guard two; and H. C. McPherson, guard three. Clay presented the eminent commander's address, and the benediction was by Wright Vickers. The invocation was by the Rev. Herbert Shipp.

'Quotable Women'

"I don't think that by the middle of the week you'll see a serious impeachment move. I can't see anything the President has done that would substantiate rational, fair or legal grounds of impeachment." Anne L. Armstrong, presidential adviser.

despite the phase of war is absorbing new immigration every day, every night. Life must go on in order that we live." Prime Minister Golda Meir, in a recorded message to the Israelis.

"Accepting women as human beings first and women second I think is definitely important. How can you be a woman and not be a backer of women's liberation?" Joanne Woodward, actress.

In Baby's Crib, Safety Counts

Keep the baby's crib side up — and make sure the latching mechanism can't be opened from the inside, advises Jane Feischer, specialist in family life Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Another thing that I'd like to dispel is this mood of a beleaguered White House and a desperate man. My father's doing what he thinks is right. There is no desperation. There is no despair." Julie Nixon Eisenhower.

"The important way is to see things anew. Paulus was too great a man for me to talk about in my book, and besides, I hate dilettantes. In many ways, when we were on good terms I presented the world to him. He taught me how to think, and in artistic terms, I taught him how to see." Hannah Tillich, speaking of the late Evangelical Lutheran minister, Paul Tillich.

"An Israel strong, capable of defending itself, is not only an Israel with good soldiers. An Israel strong, capable of defending itself but must also have a country developing, an economy that is growing, an Israel that

Concert Series, '74 Revue Promise Delightful Evenings

Next on the Big Spring Community Concert Association schedule is the Feb. 6 appearance of the Big Band Cavalcade, billed as one of the highlights of the season. In the meantime, the Midland Concert Association, with whom Big Spring has reciprocity in membership, will have Robert DeGaetano, concert

Jan. 15. Midland also will have Angus Godwin, folk singer, March 27, and the Big Spring season closes out with Lonsreth & Escosa on April 27.

Things are shaping rapidly for Campus Revue '74, the annual extravaganza by the BSHS band. Todd Lane has been here working during the holidays to help put polish on the productions, which, observers say, looks to be one of the best in a long string of successes. The show dates are Jan. 22, 24, 25, 26, and you can get reservations now by calling the high school. Through its first six weeks, despite the holiday season, the exhibit spotlighting history of education in Howard County has drawn more than 1,000 visitors to Heritage Museum. Incidentally, the museum will be open this afternoon for the convenience of those who can't visit during week days. Among recent visitors was John R. Tamsitt, son of Mrs. Andy Brown, who is on the staff of the museum in Toronto, Canada. An ornate crooked-stem cape belonging to his father is among the items given to the museum by Mrs. Brown. Dalton Carr rates as one of the best boosters for the museum. Whenever a car of tourists (frequently out-of-staters) stops at Crighton Tire for service or repairs, Carr points them across the street to catch the museum exhibits while they wait.

For those interested in travel, the annual Natchez Pilgrimage of the historic plantations along the Mississippi has been scheduled for March 9-April 7. Information on the series of tours to the ante-bellum homes and other sights may be had from Natchez Pilgrimage, P.O. Box 347, Natchez, Miss. 39120.

Awards of Merit given by the American Association for State and Local History have gone to the Historic Waco Foundation, the Roseberg Library Association in Galveston, Dr. Nancy Barker of the University of Texas in Austin, Dr. Felix Almaraz of the University of Texas in San Antonio and to former-Gov. and Mrs. Price Daniel. Nominations for 1974 should be sent to Millicent Huff, Texas State Library, Box 12927, Capitol Station, Austin 78711.

Baylor University School of Music has announced its Child's Obesity Problem Of Lower Classes?

Doctors reporting in the Journal of the American Medical Association have found childhood obesity largely a problem of the lower classes.

"It now appears that socioeconomic status and related social factors have more to do with determining whether a person will be obese than does individual psychopathology," according to the authors of the article, Albert Stunkard, MD; Eugene d'Aquili, MD; Sonja Fox, and Ross D. L. Filion, Ph.D.

They note that the overweight child has an 85 per cent likelihood of becoming a fat adult. "We do not know yet," they said, "to what extent these faulty nutritional practices (which cause early childhood obesity among the poor) result from lack of information or from lack of appropriate food."

1974 composition scholarship contest, open to any student who now is a student in an accredited high school. The winner will receive a $500 scholarship to the school of music as a music major. Entries and inquiries should be sent prior to March 1 to Dr. Richard Willis, Baylor School of Music, Waco 76703.

The Texas Christian University A Capella Choir and Symphony Orchestra will appear in concert in Midland Thursday at 8 p.m. in Lee High School auditorium. The 110-member group is making a tour Jan. 9-11 with programs in Abilene, Midland-Odessa, Amarillo and Wichita Falls. Dr. Terrance Anderson directs the choir and John Girodano the orchestra.

Dawn Wells will be in the starring role for "The Owl and the Pussycat" which will open at Hayloft Dinner Theatre Jan. 8 in Lubbock. Probably best known as Mary Ann in the television series, "Gilligan's Island," she has been featured in several stage productions such as "Star Spangled Girl" and "Barefoot in the Park."

Astrodome (of which the Astrodome is a key element) had its greatest year in 1973. The myriad of shows and programs spotlighted such personalities as track star Dave Wottle, football rookie-of-the-year George Foreman, Russia's little Olga Korbut, Sonny and Cher, Bishop Fulton Sheen, Bobby Riggs and Billie Jean King. But the most dazzling event was the $100,000 cocktail party for the National Association of Homebuilders, for which the entire Astrodome field was carpeted in gold, surrounded by a sea of blue and a decor of sailboats, showboats, assorted buffet tables and musical groups.

Globe of the Southwest presented "Hay Fever" free Friday and Saturday to purchasers of 1974 season tickets. The next offering for the Odessa theatre group will be "Oklahoma!" Feb. 22-23, March 1, 2, 8 and 9, followed in May by two one-act plays from Theatre of the Absurd, and then the Shakespeare festival June 21 through Aug. 25.

"The Big Thicket" photographic exhibit is now on display and will continue to Jan. 30 at the Museum of the Southwest, 1705 West Missouri, Midland. These are selected from the portfolio of Roy Hamric in the book, "The Big Thicket, A Challenge for Conserva-

Wedding Rites Held In Coahoma Church

Mr. and Mrs. Colton Thomas Wright, who were married at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Coahoma Baptist Church, plan to make their home in Big Spring. She is the former Sandra Ann Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Howell, Rt. 1, Big Spring, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wright, also of Rt. 1.

A graduate of Coahoma High School, Wright is employed by the Big Spring Fire Department and is assigned to the central fire station. Mrs. Wright is attending CHS and will graduate in May.

The Rev. Monroe Teeters, church pastor, officiated for the rites which were held before an arch entwined with greenery. Branched candelabra and baskets of pink carnations and white gladioli, centered with arched candelabra, completed the decorations.

Mrs. Mark Milliken, sister of the bridegroom, was vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Guy White Jr., organist, and Mrs. Velma Woods, pianist.

BRIDAL ATTIRE

The bride was attired in a floor-length, peau de soie gown styled a wateau train. The empire bodice, long, tapered sleeves and hemline were accented with reem-broidered Alencon lace, as was her chapel-length mantilla. She carried a French bouquet of mixed flowers.

Mrs. Johnny Ted Fowler of Fort Worth served her sister as matron of honor, and another sister, Miss Nancy Howell, Big Spring, was a bridesmaid. Other bridesmaids were Miss Judy Gale Mathies, Big Spring, and Miss Jennie Kohanek.

Mrs. Fowler was attended in a gown of wine-colored crushed velvet, styled with stand-up collar and Juliet sleeves. Velvet ribbon marked the high-rise bodice and trimmed the sleeves.

Here's Way To Save Money

Finding new ways to save can bring some pleasant surprises. One of the nicest is the discovery of baking soda for all-purpose cleaning and deodorizing.

Use a solution of three tablespoons baking soda per quart of water to clean all types of washable surfaces. Use dry soda on a damp sponge for scouring difficult spots. It's natural, safe, and economical. You never really needed all those specialized cleaners in the first place.

MRS. COLTON THOMAS WRIGHT

girl, and rice bags were distributed by Christy Fowler.

RECEPTION

Refreshments were served at a reception in the fellowship hall, with Miss Judy King, Miss Theresa Beal, Miss Becky Howell and Mrs. Mark Milliken presiding at the table. The table was laid with a white tulle cloth draped with box-wood greenery, pink ribbons and wedding bells. The attendants' bouquets were used at the centerpiece.

Relatives attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Boswell, Okla., grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Cody, Dallas; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tennison, Odessa.

Feels Cheated

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Like everyone else who writes to you, I have a problem, but this could be a multimillion-dollar problem. Two years ago (when I was 64) I married a man who was 81. He was not in good health, and I was his wife, cook, housekeeper, chauffeur and nurse — on 24-hour-a-day duty, you might say. When we were married he promised he would leave half of everything he owned to me, and the other half would be divided among his children. He was a wealthy man and owned lots of choice Florida property which his father bought in 1901.

I took him at his word and never asked to see anything in writing. Well, he died recently, and all he left me was $10,000 a year for every year I lived with him. That's only $20,000. The rest his children got.

I feel that I was cheated. I don't want to gamble what are my chances? Do you money I have to fight the case unless I can win. What know a good sharp Florida lawyer who can help me.

ROBBED IN LAUDERDALE

DEAR ROBBED: I do not recommend lawyers ("sharp" or dull) but if you don't know one, consult your county or state bar association and they can advise you.

DEAR ABBY: A young man was asked by his girl friend's father to provide "references" before he'd consent to the marriage.

The young man didn't like the idea, and you agreed that "getting married wasn't like applying for a job."

You are both wrong! When one marries, he tackles the toughest job of all.

The father basically is trying to insure the success of his daughter's marriage. Such a realistic view is long overdue, and should be legislated into existence. This could reduce the number of broken homes, juvenile delinquents and the soaring welfare costs.

In my state, you don't drive without a series of classroom and actual driving lessons, plus a written test, and a road test. But all you need for marriage is a blood test and the price of a license.

I think the establishment of a sound family unit deserves at least as much attention and legislation as driving an automobile, don't you?

PAWTUCKET, R.I.

DEAR PAW: Of course, but where does one get "references" for marriage? Only a former partner can provide them, and if a man is a widower, his partner is dead. And if he's divorced, his "ex" would probably be the last person to recommend him for marriage.

DEAR ABBY: I lost quite a lot of weight and now my seat is so flabby it looks terrible.

Abby, someone told me that a doctor can lift your seat. Is that true, or was she putting me on? Please tell me because I would give anything to get my seat lifted. Sometimes I feel like I am practically dragging on the ground. I am married and have two children. Sign me...

DRAGGING

DEAR DRAGGING: Yes, it's possible. It is called a "thigh lift." I understand that a plastic surgeon can lift just about anything. Today seats... tomorrow, the stock market!

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 122 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

BSP Plans Ball In February

The upcoming Valentine Ball, held annually in February by Beta Sigma Phi City Council, was the subject of discussion at the council's meeting Thursday in the Chamber of Commerce conference room. Tickets were distributed to all chapters.

Mrs. Clay LaRoche, president, presided for the business session, with Alpha Beta Omicron Chapter serving as the host group. Council vacancies were filled with the appointment of Mrs. Chuck Ogle, treasurer; and Mrs. John Phillips, corresponding secretary.

A letter of appreciation was presented to chapter presidents for their efforts in the multiple sclerosis fund drive.

The next meeting will be held in the conference room at 7 p.m. Feb. 7, hosted by Beta Omicron Chapter.

Busy Bee Club Has Luncheon

Officers of the Busy Bee Hobby Club were guests at a luncheon held at Furr's Cafeteria Friday, hosted by Mrs. Toby Duke, president. By-laws were accepted by the executive board and will be presented to the club at the next meeting.

Guests were Mrs. E. A. Williams, Mrs. Don McGonagill, Mrs. Lois Jernigan, Mrs. Alfred Hamm and Mrs. Morris Robertson.

Tote painting will be taught when the club meets every Thursday morning in January at the Hobby Center. The February meetings will be held at the Creative Arts Shop, with Mrs. Glynn Hughes instructing in the art of tissue paper oil painting.

Public Invited To Meeting

The Howard County Historical Survey Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce conference room. Mrs. Gerri Atwell, curator for Heritage Museum, will show slides pertaining to the history of Big Spring. The public is invited to attend.

Church Ceremony Is Scheduled In May

Mr. and Mrs. Luther L. Bean, 611 Tulane, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Jennifer Bean, to Raymond L. Tollett Jr.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. R. T. Tollett, 606 Hillside, and the late Raymond L. Tollett Sr.

Miss Bean, a speech pathologist at the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Waco, received her bachelor's degree from the University of Texas at Austin, majoring in speech pathology and audiology. She earned a master's degree at North Texas State University, Denton.

Tollett, who received a bachelor's degree from the University of Texas at Austin, is a student in the Law School of St. Mary's University at San Antonio.

The couple plans to be married May 17 in the sanctuary of First-Christan Church.

A LOVELIER YOU Resolved: Keep Your Legs Slim, Shapely

By MARY SUE MILLER

How nice it would be if we could shake off the years the way Father Time does it. Not that any of us would wish to become a baby cherub on the stroke of midnight every January 1st. But, if we could leave some of the wear and tear on the body behind, like teenage skin and middle-age figure muddle, it surely would be nice.

Well, in the figure department, there's a cheery thought about the feminine leg. Long after other areas succumb, the legs resist aging. It's a fact, as witness the ladies past the years of no-telling with slim, shapely legs.

No matter what your age, leg beauty depends on taking a normal amount of exercise. Walking, biking, swimming, and muscle-tension routines are excellent for the purpose.

Do make a fetish of firm lotion-massages. If makeup would improve your legs, use it. The best choice is a sun-kissed opaque cream, fluid or spray-on made for that express usage.

In cases of varicose and spider veins, medical advice is essential before the problem becomes unsightly. Advances have been made in treating those difficulties.

Because flabbiness and discolorations follow the constriction of under-pinnings, avoid girdles and garters that bind the legs. Girls, watch those tight knee socks, and Madame, that girdle squeeze.

Mind, and you will walk in beauty this year and for years to come.

SPOT REDUCING

Spot reduction — key to a proportioned figure. Exercise is the only way to trim those stubborn bulges to lose inches exactly where you wish. My new leaflet, "Spot Reducing Exercises, gives easy routines — 40 in all — for slimming the upper back, arms, midriff, hips, legs, ankles

Plus ideal measurements — other figure-trimming tips. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Advice Offered On Home Repairs

What do you do when your faucet starts leaking? Or what happens when a window breaks?

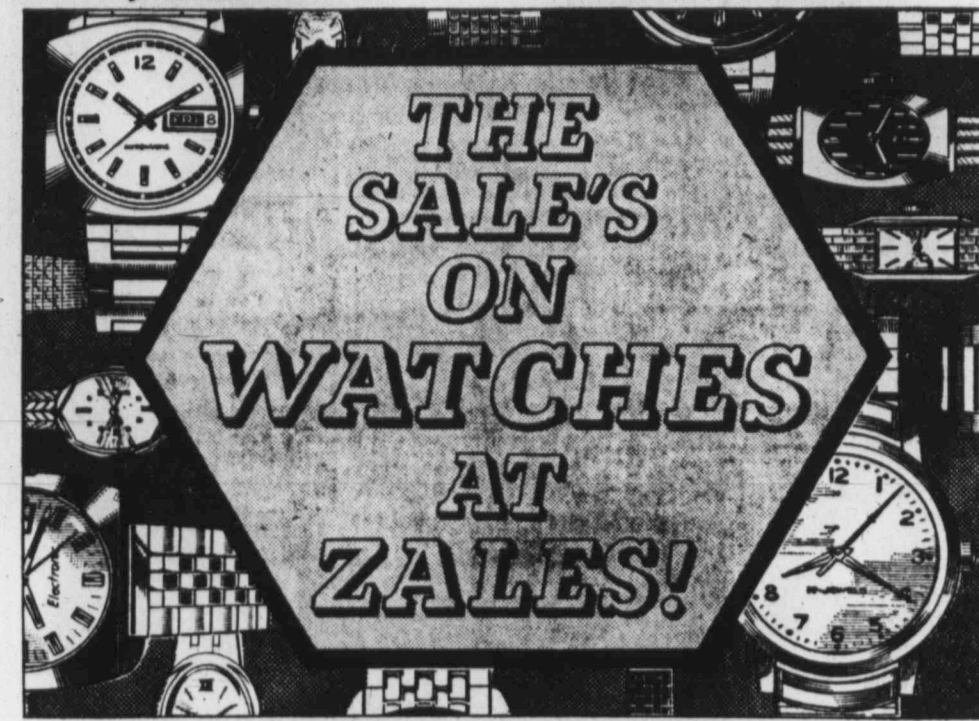

Answer to these questions are in the booklet, Simple Home Repairs, published by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The guide includes information on using tools, kinds of nuts, bolts and screws and simple instructions on do-it-yourself jobs around the house. To order the booklet send 40 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Ceremony Performed Thursday Morning

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wayne Taylor left on a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N.M., after exchanging wedding vows in St. Paul Presbyterian Church Thursday with the Rev. Jim Collier, pastor, officiating. The bride, the former Kathryn Elaine Dirks, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Dirks Jr., 1735 Purdue. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Taylor of Quitaque.

The altar was decorated with multi-colored flowers flanked by a spiral candelabra, palms and greenery. Miss Connie Gary was organist, and Miss Mary Dirks, sister of the bride, and Miss Ranette Miller, Lubbock, were vocalists. Carrying a bouquet of miniature roses, cornflowers, daisies and babies-breath, the bride was attired in her mother's wedding gown of candlelight crepe overlaid with Chantilly lace. Fashioned with sweetheart neckline and shirred bodice, the gown's waistline was accented with a lace cummerbund embroidered in pearls. Wrist-length puffed sleeves tapered into points. Her silk illusion veil was held by a Camelot cap of candlelight Chantilly lace adorned with seed pearls.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Mary Dirks was maid of honor and Miss Barbie Dirks, another sister of the bride, and Miss Anna Jean Taylor of Quitaque, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Their sleeveless, royal blue velvet, A-line dresses were floor-length with V-necks and cape collars edged with white fur. Each carried a white fur muff decorated with blue cornflowers.

Walter Taylor, served his son as best man. John R. Baker, Lubbock, and Henry Dirks, Dallas, brother of the bride, were groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was held in the church parlor with Miss Nell Davis, Mrs. Marilyn Knight, Mrs. Huey Rogers, Mrs. Kay Gibson and Miss Mae Rodman serving. The refreshment table was covered in royal blue with silver, crystal, and china appointments.

After the reception, a luncheon at the Holiday Inn Patio Room was served for the immediate family and friends.

Mrs. Taylor attended Big Spring High School and studied home economics education and clothing and textiles at Texas Tech University where she received her bachelor of science degree. Now studying physical education and working as an assistant in the graduate school at Tech, she is also employed by Pizza Inn.

A graduate of Quitaque High School, Taylor received a degree in education at McMurray College. He is manager of Pizza Inn in Lubbock where the couple will reside.

GUESTS

Out-of-town guests included Miss Marla Gaither, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Riley, Tony Ballew, Miss Karen Kenwright, and Miss Jeanne Beth Winton, all of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Barefield, Childress; Miss Rita Nell Davis, Rankin; Miss Carolyn Davis, San Angelo; David Diddy, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jordan, Friona; Miss Ann Drysdale, Dallas; and Otto Hines, Morse Bluff, Neb.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner Wednesday evening at La Posado Restaurant.

JEWELRY SAVES LIVES — Mary Ann Scherr, left, associate professor of jewelry and metals at Kent State University, designs jewelry, with technical assistance from electronic engineers, that monitors vital body signs. The silver pendant worn by a model, right, is an air pollution monitor which warns of danger-laden air and is equipped with a face mask and 10-minute supply of oxygen.

Life-Saving Silver Pendants May Be On Market Soon

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mary Ann Scherr designs jewelry to save lives. Her silver pendant, for sufferers from respiratory ailments, monitors air pollution and comes equipped with a face mask and 10-minute emergency oxygen supply.

tains tiny sensors to keep track of the heart beat of coronary patients. A small light blinks in time with the wearer's pulse and a warning buzzer goes off if there is a rapid change in beat rate. The bracelet even has a compartment for storing medicines. Mrs. Scherr, 52, is an associate professor of jewelry and metals at Ohio's Kent State University who has some of her work on display at a Miami art gallery. She calls her designs body-monitoring jewelry.

"If we can monitor astronauts hundreds of thousands of miles away from earth, why can't we monitor ourselves?" Mrs. Scherr said Thursday.

Mrs. Scherr started her career designing cars for the Ford Motor Co. She also has worked as a technical illustrator, a Navy sculptor and designer of children's toys, games and furniture. She developed her jewelry designs with cooperation from electronics engineers.

"I had been designing jewelry for ages and then got the idea that it could actually help people, rather than be just decorative," she said. "I know heart patients who are scared to death half the time because they can't tell whether they are sick or well."

Mrs. Scherr says she is presently working on a necklace which would monitor heart beats and print out readings in color. She said she is negotiating to have the body-monitoring designs manufactured commercially and estimated the transistorized bracelet and pendant would cost between $300 and $500 each. The bracelet is about the size of an address book.

The jewelry is a good idea, according to Dr. Eugene L. Nagel, professor of anesthesiology at the University of Miami Medical School and the physician in charge of training Miami's rescue squad. "A monitoring bracelet might warn them heart patients to pick up the phone and tell their doctor about their condition," he said.

More Women Now Among TWU Regents

Mrs. Ben H. Carpenter of Dallas has been named to the Board of Regents of Texas Woman's University, it was announced by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Mrs. Carpenter's appointment to the board will terminate in January 1979. Dr. John A. Guinn, president of the three-campus state university, said that there is now a majority of women members on the TWU board for the first time in the school's history. The school now has five women and four men on its Board of Regents.

A graduate of the University of Texas at Austin, Mrs. Carpenter attended Mary Baldwin College. She has long been active in civic and charity affairs.

Other members of Texas Woman's University's Board of Regents are Mrs. Marcella D. Perry of Houston, chairman; John S. Shivers of Austin, vice chairman; Frank B. Appleman of Ft. Worth; Mrs. William O. Bowers III of Austin; Mrs. E. L. Green Jr. of Pampa; Mrs. Sam Waldrop of Abilene; Dr. Frank J. Altick of Dallas; and John A. Freeman Jr., of Ft. Worth.

Home Canning Is Economical

As food prices soar, more and more homemakers are turning their talents to canning as a way to provide their families with tasty and economical fruits and vegetables in the winter months.

A very important first step to successful canning is to wash the jars, lids and the cooker in hot suds. In fact, pans, cloths, spoons — anything used in the canning process — should be absolutely clean to protect the food from contamination.

Miss Napier Weds Christopher J. Frost

MRS. CHRISTOPHER JAMES FROST

Miss Nancy Ann Napier became the bride of Christopher James Frost in a ceremony performed Saturday evening at Waco in the First Baptist Church Chapel.

The bride, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. James H. Napier, No. 2 Albrook, made her debut in 1970 at the annual debutante ball in Warner Robins, Ga. She attended Southwest Texas State University before transferring last semester to Baylor University as a senior English and German major. She is on the dean's list and has won German achievement awards.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Frost of Georgetown, Texas, is a student at Baylor, working toward his bachelor of arts and juris doctor degrees. He graduated from Georgetown High School, receiving an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. At the academy, he was on the superintendent's list and played football and lacrosse. He attended SWT before transferring to Baylor, and made the dean's list at both universities.

ALTAR SETTING

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Peter McLeod, with traditional nuptial music by Mrs. John C. Shepherd. The altar setting was enhanced with a large basket of white gladioli flanked by candelabra and greenery.

Carrying a Colonial nosegay of small white roses with blue babies'-breath, the bride was attired in a formal gown of ivory organza. Tiny tucks and self-covered buttons, accented with Cluny lace, formed a panel on the bodice and down the front of the skirt. The lace extended down the fitted sleeves and encircled the hemline and chapel train. Her veil of illusion was held by a headpiece overlaid with Cluny lace.

Miss Judy Allen was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Donna Sams and Miss Sandy Smith, the latter of Houston. They were identically attired in pale blue crepe dresses styled with empire waistline and ivory lace yoke. Ruffles circled the bodice, and the short, cuffed sleeves were trimmed with ruffled ivory Cluny lace. Each carried a Colonial nosegay of blue stenhanotis, mums and babies'-breath edged with ivory lace and tied with ivory streamers.

RECEPTION

The reception honoring the newlyweds was held in the church parlor.

The refreshment table, presided over by Miss Joye Frost, Miss Gay Frost and Miss Merrie Frost, was laid with an Air Force crest and appointed with crystal and silver. The centerpiece was a branched, silver candelabrum arranged with the attendants' bouquets.

A rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was held Friday evening at Old Town Restaurant in Waco. Mr. and Mrs. Frost will reside in Waco.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: I do a lot of crewel embroidery, and since my eyes are 74 years old, my vision is not too sharp, and I find the yarn difficult to get into the eye of even a large crewel needle. I have invested in several needle threaders, but they break so easily.

So the other night I took a short piece of folded white thread, put the loop end through the needle eye, put the yarn through the loop, pulled the white thread back out and the yarn came through like a charm.

I don't buy any more fragile needle threaders. . . Mrs. Frank Argast

All I know, at the present time, to eliminate odors in the bureau is to set the bureau out in the good old dependable sun.

Moisture causes musty odors: Try drying it out with an electric hand dryer; putting unwrapped soap in the drawers might help.

Anyone know of a better method? If so, write to me in care of The Herald. Sure would love to hear from you. . . Heloise

HAVE YOU NOTICED: When you attend church on a supposedly sunny day, in your best "bib and tucker," coming out, it's raining "pitchforks and hoe handles" . . . ?

Dear Heloise: Those favorite cotton golf caps can be washed in the machine. Soak in warm or cold water (depending upon color) with detergent.

Run just long enough on "gentle" to dissolve detergent. Rinse and spin dry on "gentle."

Now blow up a round balloon and place it in the cap. It helps keep shape while drying. . . Jene Shelburn

Dear Heloise: While traveling on automobile trips, our 5-year-old son often gets thirsty when we cannot stop. I would not allow him to drink from glass bottles for fear of chipping a tooth on a sudden stop. So to solve the problem of spilled juice from a cup, I borrowed my 1-year-old's training cup with the small spout. (It can be filled from a take-along jug.)

After explaining to my older son that it didn't mean he is a baby to drink from a training cup, and the advantages to it, everybody is happy and no spills. . . Nancy Bach where the cover is wearing out first. Looks neat and can add to the attractiveness of the cover. My cover had red in it so I used a red patch. . . Mrs. Steve Messaros.

bulky kits. . . Ruth Rueger.

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Group In East Organizes To Help Victims Of Rape

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — A group trying to help women who've been sexually assaulted cope with the medical, emotional and legal problems they suddenly face.

"Our committee began because one of us had a rape experience. This was the catalyst for this woman and her friends," says Virginia Auster, one of eight members of the Citizen Committee on Rape Concern, which is forming a rape crisis center in Bridgeport.

"We want to help the victim in whatever way is useful," Ms. Auster said. "We have lawyers who are prepared to be helpful and we've got a psychiatrist who's a consultant."

NONE USED IT
The group recently set up a 24-hour telephone number rape victims can call for help. But so far no one has used the number in a crisis situation.

"We're prepared to go at three o'clock in the morning," she said, and do what the victim needs, which could include going with her to the emergency room or the police or just talking about her problem.

Bridgeport police have recorded 14 rapes since January 1973, Ms. Auster said. But she added that a person doing social work at the Father Panik housing project told her there probably were three or four sexual assaults each week at the village. She wouldn't say who made the estimate.

"We know from experiences in other places that what's reported is the tip of the iceberg," she said. The committee member who was raped didn't report the attack to the police, she added.

"Generally rape victims in the courts are given a very hard time. Police interrogation procedures and hospital procedures also are rough on a woman who's been raped."

The raped woman faces skeptical police who must determine whether the accusation is legitimate or made out of pique, she said. If the case goes to court, she added, the defendant's attorney will scrutinize her entire life and sexual history, trying to show that the man was enticed or provoked by the woman.

DON'T STRUGGLE
Police Capt. Anthony F. Fabrizi, commander of detectives in Bridgeport, told the committee that it's best for a woman not to struggle if attacked because the man probably would beat her as well as rape her. But, he added, police look for bruises and other signs of a struggle when evaluating a rape complaint.

"It is this kind of treatment, the attitude that the women from prosecuting the accused rapist, that prevents women from prosecuting their men who rape them," Ms. Auster said.

"Many women feel guilty, they don't know whether they provoked the attack. They feel soiled. They're afraid their husband might leave them if he knew."

"Part of our job will be education," she said. "She's no more guilty of provocation than the bank teller who puts money on the counter and gets robbed."

Another reason many rapes go unreported is because many rape victims know their attacker, she said.

"It might be her boss who

Streamlined Law To Be Explained

ODESSA — Family law experts from Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Dallas and Midland will be lecturers at a State Bar of Texas institute Thursday, outlining the new Family Code passed by the legislature this spring.

The Ector County Bar Association is co-sponsoring the all-day seminar, which will be held at the Inn of the Golden West. This is one of 16 such programs being held across the state to acquaint lawyers with provisions of the new law.

The product of a State Bar study which began in 1965, the new Family Code, adopted by the legislature and which took effect Jan. 1, simplifies and streamlines what many attorneys regarded as the outdated and cumbersome provisions in the original law affecting parent-child relations and delinquent juveniles. The American Bar Association cited the new Family Code in presenting the Texas Bar last year an Award of Merit for outstanding service to the public and the legal profession.

Howard Martin, Wichita Falls; Louise Raggio, Dallas; and Barbara Culver, Midland, will lecture along with two Lubbock speakers, Texas Tech law Professor Eugene Smith and Kenneth Hobbs. Jim Bobo and Joseph Connolly will be moderators of the seminar.

Pat Nixon Is Disturbed By Foul-Up

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Pat Nixon is disturbed by a White House foul-up that resulted in the retraction of an announcement she was being appointed to the National Voluntary Advisory Council sources say.

She was described to day as worried about the effect the mixup might have on the work of the council. The council was established to help coordinate the government's volunteer programs. The White House press announced on Sunday that the President had appointed his wife as a member and temporary chairman of the 25-member council. On Tuesday, the press office said the announcement was made before all legal and other checks were made.

It said Mrs. Nixon cannot legally hold a position appointed by the President. It also said the position would have paid the standard $138.48 government consultant fee for each day spent on council duties.

In Washington, the director of ACTION, an umbrella group for federal social service organizations, said he hoped Mrs. Nixon would take an honorary post on the advisory council.

Will Buy Paris, San Angelo Banks

HOUSTON (AP) — The First City Bancorporation of Texas announced here it has received Federal Reserve Board approval for its purchases of the First National Banks of San Angelo and Paris.

James A. Elkins Jr., Bancorporation chairman, and Michel T. Halbouty, chairman of the Paris and San Angelo banks, said the cash purchases will involve payment of $6,650,000 for the San Angelo bank and $4,300,000 for the Paris institution.

As of Sept. 30, the San Angelo bank reported assets of $55,390,000, while the Paris bank had assets of $35,805,000.

AN APPEAL FOR FAIRNESS SEVENTH IN A SERIES THE RAPE OF AMERICA

"The media have lost their sense of honor . . . to the pimps who sell grand jury testimony," said Francis L. Dale, former publisher of the Cincinnati Enquirer, "no nation can tolerate a freedom of the press that divides its society." (AP 11/18/73)

THE PRESIDENT'S WOULD-BE PALBEARERS

Who are they and what do they hope to gain? They are the conglomerates, corporate giants of the media, among them the New York Times (SALT, PENTAGON thefts), the Washington Post - Newsweek - Los Angeles Times cartel, Time magazine, the networks ABC, NBC, CBS (payola) and a harem of minions with a gluttonous appetite for POWER AND PROFIT (except from anti-trust laws).

Now, this is not to say that everyone in the 4th estate is a knave or that all the dissenters from our position are self-serving. There are, to be objective, many newspapers, newsmen and newscasters, columnists and pundits and political dissenters who are equitable, balanced and moral. But they are in the minority, and when weighed against the big corporate merchants of hate, they disappear from the scales.

POWER AND PROFIT

At the end of World War II, when wartime censor and former newsmen Byron Price was asked by editors, "What can we publish now?" his reply was, "ANYTHING THAT WILL SELL NEWSPAPERS." "Anything": thefts of state secrets bearing on the security and survival of this nation . . . "Anything": scandal, mayhem, riots, and political pornography . . . "Anything"—for POWER AND PROFIT—And when the quarry is Richard Nixon, the hounds bark loudest. The Times made a heroine of Communist Angela Davis . . . for POWER AND PROFIT . . . and a hero of Daniel Ellsberg from whom it "acquired" (through circuitous, clandestine trusts) the stolen Pentagon Papers—all for POWER AND PROFIT. The difference between a common fence and the Times is that the stakes are higher.

TIME SETS THE CLOCK BACK

And why has Time magazine (Time-Life) turned on the President? Time, to be fair, is not without redeeming features (show business, color ads, and celebrities . . .) but, its overriding concern is POWER AND PROFIT.

A group of former shareholders of Sterling Communications Inc., according to the Wall Street Journal (11/27/73) charged in federal district court that Time "entered into a combination and conspiracy to depress the value of the stock of Sterling . . . so that the said corporation could be acquired by Time, Inc. at a 'forced sale' at a value far less than its true value". We could hypothesize, but we will not. Yet during the weeks preceding its macabre editorials (11/12/73) Time timed its Machiavellian orchestration (unimpeachable sources) to outflank its competitors in a bid to the pseudo-liberals and radicals—all for POWER AND PROFIT.

Life having succumbed to a circulatory disease, Time was not about to waive its dominance among the weeklies to the anti-Nixon flea-market. The President must capitulate; the President must resign, says Time for a mess of pottage. THESE, THEN, ARE THE PRESIDENT'S DETRACTORS, responsible for the climate of national debauchery.

THE RANKEST CONSORTIUM OF SABOTEURS

Americans would do well to ponder the risks advocated by the rankest consortium of saboteurs who feed on anarchy. It took our nation 71 years to recover from the partisan impeachment of President Andrew Johnson. From 1868 to 1933, we had as a consequence a weakened presidency, and the nation was floundering. Historians describe the impeachment of President Johnson as "ONE OF THE DARKEST CHAPTERS IN AMERICAN HISTORY."

Senator Edmund Ross of Kansas who voted for acquittal wrote later: "The office of President would be degraded, cease to be a coordinate branch of the government, and ever after subordinate to the legislative will."

Nearly a century later, Senator John Kennedy in his book Profiles in Courage lionized Senator Ross for his statesmanship and patriotism; Senator Ross "may well have preserved for ourselves and posterity constitutional government in the United States."

THE PRESIDENT

He is Richard M. Nixon who climbed the political ladder for a quarter of a century until he reached the White House. For 25 years the man's life has been shared by friend and foe, and when the people elected Richard Nixon in 1968, they even knew the color of his pajamas and that he didn't like ice cubes with holes.

In 1972 he received the largest popular vote of any President in history. The people returned Richard Nixon to the White House on the basis of his record during his first term as President of the United States. That record and his record during the first ten months of his second term have been obfuscated by the media and their allies. Here, then, is a capsule part of that record:

THE NIXON ADMINISTRATION ACTING AS PEACEMAKERS THROUGH ALLIANCES, PERSUASION, FRIENDSHIP AND FIRMNESS: NIXON DOCTRINE—the new initiative in US foreign policy.

Cotton Growers Vote Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Growers of extra-long staple cotton have overwhelmingly approved federal controls on their crop in 1974, the Agriculture Department said Friday.

The vote, conducted by mail last Dec. 3-7, showed 1,402 growers approved marketing quotas while 194 were opposed. That was a majority of 87.8 per cent.

Country Needs A Black President, Says Brown

By VERNON BROWN
Copley News Service

The time has come for a black man to run for president of the United States — and that black man is Sen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts.

Brooke, the most powerful black politician in the United States, has a political track record that will bear comparison with any other political figure in the United States. As Massachusetts attorney general, for example, he proved himself a tough fighter against organized crime.

More importantly, perhaps, Brooke — a Republican — may be that party's best hope to win the first post-Watergate presidential election in 1976.

CAN RALLY BLACKS

For one thing, Brooke can take the black vote away from the Democratic Party.

And it's been the black vote, overwhelmingly Democratic, that has provided the margin of victory in many past presidential elections.

HARD TO BEAT

Brooke is also a proved vote-getter in white communities. He was elected to the Senate, after all, from a white state.

An Ed Brooke-John Connally ticket, or a Brooke-Ronald Reagan ticket would be hard to beat in 1976.

Brooke's only real problem as a potential presidential candidate is that he has at times gone out of his way to offend the big boys — President Nixon, for one, and the money people behind the scenes, for another. He has not been afraid to say what he thinks.

But this very quality — call it political courage — is a very attractive and necessary asset for any post-Watergate political candidate.

There is a final and supremely important reason why Sen. Brooke should run for the presidency — and that's because the black community needs it.

It has been only a short time since we were slaves and, despite the fact that we have come a long way, there is still a lingering feeling that we are second-class citizens.

A black man running for the presidency — and perhaps getting it — would go a long way toward relieving those lingering doubts.

DO YOU HAVE ENOUGH ENERGY?

Although the world is experiencing an energy crisis and it has imposed difficulties in the way most of us lead our everyday lives, there are still a few areas where energy should be plentiful. Do you wake up each morning with that personal "get-up and go," "I'm ready to face the day?" Or, do you feel tired out before you start?

Sometimes, a lack of energy can possibly be due to certain deficiencies in your system. Your physician can usually determine what it is and recommend a vitamin preparation or tonic to help you overcome it. We always have on hand a very large supply of these products.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

WE URGE YOU, MR. PRESIDENT, ON BEHALF OF MILLIONS OF AMERICANS, NOT TO SURRENDER ONE JOE OR ONE TITTLE OF YOUR MANDATE TO YOUR SEDITIOUS DETRACTORS. THE ONUS IS ON THEM. THEY ARE SABOTAGING AND PREYING ON THE NATION, ALLIED WITH IMPLACABLE PARTISANS, THEY ARE HOLDING CAPTIVE THE WEAR-WEED, THE SELF-SEEKING, AND THE UNSCRUPULOUS OFFICE-HOLDERS WHO YIELD TO FEAR, TO BRIBERY, TO INTIMIDATION, AND TO BLACKMAIL.

PRESIDENT ANDREW JOHNSON WOULD NOT YIELD EVEN AFTER PARTISAN IMPEACHMENT, THOUGH THE NATION WAS IN THE WAKE OF CIVIL WAR, AND HE WAS VINDICATED, WE DO NOT EXPECT YOU TO BE THE FIRST PRESIDENT TO MORTGAGE THE PRESIDENCY TO THE INSATIABLE MEDIA.

YOU ARE ONE OF THE GREATEST PRESIDENTS IN THE HISTORY OF OUR BELOVED COUNTRY, AND YOU ARE CHALLENGED BECAUSE OF YOUR STRENGTH, BECAUSE OF YOUR INDOMITABLE COURAGE, BECAUSE OF YOUR PATRIOTISM, AND BECAUSE OF YOUR MONUMENTAL ACHIEVEMENTS AT HOME AND ABROAD. WE SUBSCRIBE TO JULIE'S EXHORTATION: "FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT" WITH GREAT ESTEEM, ON BEHALF OF MILLIONS OF AMERICANS, WE ARE

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON
November 1, 1973

Dear Rabbi Korff:

Your support and encouragement as evidenced again by your recent telegram and letter give me continued confidence as I work to lead our nation. These are challenging times. They are times that demand the best of each of us — and that demand the best of our nation as we seek to maintain peace in the world. As long as we keep the spirit, the faith and the commitment you so eloquently express, I feel very hopeful about the prospects for building such a peace.

With my best wishes,
Sincerely,
Richard Nixon

And now, Watergate. What does Watergate prove? That the President made mistakes? Surely. But he is not vilified and maligned and savaged because of his mistakes, or misjudgments. He is hated by the predatory McGovernites and the power-hungry, liberal, radical media, hated profoundly and feared for what he has accomplished, HATED FOR HIS VIRTUES.

Our constitution does not provide for a running plebiscite. Our President does not govern by a weather vane manufactured by his assailants. To preserve our system of government, our Founding Fathers provided for the election of a President FOR A FOUR-YEAR TERM, so that the President of the United States would maintain his position of strength, consistent with the mandate given him by the people. Despite incessant browbeating and merciless assault, the Presidency must not yield one jot or one tittle of that mandate if we are to survive as a nation.

We must and we can repulse the enemies from within. We must and we can foil the seditious who, propelled by HATE, POWER AND PROFIT, are waging a campaign of rape, THE RAPE OF AMERICA.

Americans of all persuasions have responded magnificently to our earlier appeals. More than $300,000 have been contributed by Democrats, Republicans and Independents in answer to our APPEAL FOR FAIRNESS to meet one of the gravest challenges that has ever beset our beloved country. We need millions of Americans from every state in the Union, every city, town and hamlet, to join with us, WE NEED YOU! We need millions of dollars for messages to reach like-minded Americans and we need them now!

We need YOUR MAXIMUM CONTRIBUTION, to restore faith in our system of government and WE NEED IT NOW!

SORRY NO PASSES

VALENTINE VETERANS — Bing Crosby and Bob Hope talk over vaudeville days and recall the seven "road" movies, beginning with "Road to Singapore" in 1939, in which they co-starred with Dorothy Lamour. Hope made the transition from vaudeville to movies to radio and later became a popular TV star. Photo at right was made during a 1930 vaudeville appearance.

Durable Hope Finds Humor In Home Fire

HOLLYWOOD — Retirement has no allure for comedian Bob Hope, one of the most durable figures in American entertainment.

At 70, in addition to doing a series of prime-time comedy specials in the coming months, Hope will be producing the pilots for two new television shows as a part of the five-year contract he signed with NBC in 1969.

Hope is one of the few entertainers who successfully made the transition from vaudeville to radio to movies to television.

In the process he took up a whirlwind schedule that has become second nature: heading east for a benefit performance one day, back to Hollywood for a taping a day later, getting in a few rounds of golf at Palm Springs, taking off for a military base to entertain servicemen.

1ST AT WONSAN
In his dedication to reaching those at the front lines, during the Korean War he inadvertently landed at Wonsan Beach before the 1st Marines had taken it.

In Saigon during the Vietnam war a bomb blast greeted him and his USO troupe as they arrived at their hotel. But the show went on.

Hope is looking forward to spending more time at home when his futuristic multilevel house in Palm Springs — its completion delayed by a fire — is finished sometime this year.

Hope naturally relies on material from his writers for many of his comedy routines.

But he can be funny without them — even stumbling up a dark hillside at night to show several reporters his burnt-out home, which he refers to variously as "the clinker Hilton" and an "empty dinosaur."

HUGE SHELL

smaller than a football field. A huge hole in the center will expose a central patio and garden area to the sky.

Guest quarters downstairs, and a huge open living area that can be closed off with glass as the weather requires.

All sitting on a high promontory with a wide-angle view of Palm Springs below. Just in front, "a natural lake that we're going to manufacture."

The two-and-a-half-acre site will also have room for a putting green.

"And for the 82nd Airborne . . ." Hope indicated the hole in the roof.

When Hope called the Palm Springs Fire Department, he reports, they wanted to know, "Who referred you?" And where else are fires put out with Schwegles tonic?

Though the overseas Christmas shows are over he'll still be "doing a few hospitals," he said.

PLANS

Hope is also looking favorably on a projected Bob Hope Museum to house his many awards, trophies and mementos. A site has been picked across from the NBC Studios in Burbank, he said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Wayne Rogers — Traper John in the "M-A-S-H" series — says business and acting are much the same. They're both creative and require problem solving. But would he give up acting for business? "Oh, Lord, no."
