By The Associated Press

A national debate as to whether President Nixon should be impeached for Watergate and related reasons will go on for the remaining three years of Nixon's term, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe

"It's an effort to blame somebody, and it's going to continue," Saxbe said Sunday in a broadcast interview. Asked how long that might be, he replied: "I would say until the end of the President's term in about three years."

Meanwhile, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said that, should Nixon resign during his term, it was doubtful that Democrats "would sit idly by and allow Vice President (Gerald R.) Ford to become

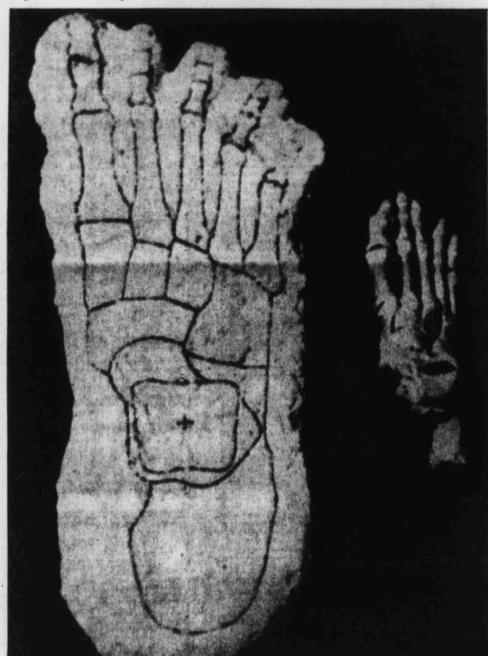

"I think they might start an effort for a constitutional amendment whereby there would be a special election." Goldwater said. "If anything like this came about, where we didn't have an orderly transition, at this time in the world's history I think it could raise havoc with the whole world."

March Of Dimes Tea Scheduled Tuesday

More than a dozen area chairmen will participate in the 4:30 p.m. March of Dimes tea Tuesday in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association community room to prepare for next Monday's Mother's March.

Mrs. Ronnie Reeves is the general chairman of the Mother's March and will give instructions and materials at the session.

Mrs. Carol Hutchinson, executive secretary of the chapter, pointed out that it is critically important for the area chairman to be on hand for the meeting, and also complete the list of volunteers for the Mother's March. It will begin at 5:30 p.m. next Monday.

had been stuffed in the youth's mouth and held in place with surgical tape. They said a ski mask had been pulled over his face, covering his eyes.

Authorities said the cause of death had not been determined and that an autopsy had been scheduled for today.

The body was found after an anonymous telephone call.

Daniel's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Glen M. Ebersole of the Jamestown suburb of Lakewood, had paid $15,000 ransom for the boy Thursday. And authorities arrested three area teen-agers Saturday, charging them with kidnaping.

Kenneth L. Williams, 18, and Martin C. Whitmore, 19, of West Ellicott, and Jeffrey L. Swan, 18, of Lakewood were arraigned in Buffalo, N.Y., Saturday and ordered jailed in lieu of $100,000 bond each.

Most of the ransom money has been recovered, said Special Agent Richard H. Ash of

FOR EXAMPLE But the Libyan and Tunisian governments are dominated by their two leaders and the two men appear to have significantly more differences than similarities.

Bourguiba for example has been the only Arab leader to call openly for recognition of Israel and negotiations with the Jewish state provided it withdraws from all occupied Arab territories. Khadafy continues to reject negotiations and calls for a holy war and liquidation of Israel. Bourguiba at 70 is one of the West's best friends in the Arab world and hospitable to both Western influence and aid in his country. Khadafy at 31 is a fiery Islamic nationalist who has tried to expel foreign influence from his country and calls for the rest of the Arabs to do the same.

other countries. But Tunisia has a population of 5.1 million, an area of only 63,000 square miles, few resources, much unemployment and a sizable trade deficit. A total of 513,056 bales has been processed, compared to 327,000 at this time last year. Last week 37,000 samples were processed.

The quality of cotton classed shows very little change from the last report. Grades were predominantly in the light-spotted category with 43 per cent grade 32; and 27 per cent grade 42. In the white category 8 per cent were grade 31, and 12 per cent grade 41.

Staple 30 had 44 per cent; 31 staple 47 per cent.

Prices paid for some predominant qualities (premium micronaire) last week were: grade 32 with staple 30 (3230) 51.95 to 54.95 cents; grade 3231 brought 58.50-60.50; grade 4230 brought 51.05-53.55; and 4231 brought 57.50-59.50.

Couple Leaves On Trip To Mexico City

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Russell P. Knoebel Jr. are on a wedding trip to Mexico City following their marriage Saturday afternoon in the chapel at Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio. Chaplain Harlan Highsmith performed the nuptial rites before an altar graced with sprays of gladioli and chrysanthemums flanked by candelabra. Music was by Dale Bench, organist.

The maid of honor was Miss Anita Herrera, and bridesmatrons were Mrs. J. C. Finley, Yorba Linda, Calif., and Mrs. P. W. O'Reilly, Port Lavaca. They were identically attired in formal empire gowns of burgandy velvet and wore matching velvet ribbons, adorned with babies'-breath, in their hair.

The bride's gown, fashioned in the Elizabethan mode, was of white organza with scalloped lace yoke, cuffs and hemline border. The lace was repeated in trim for the detachable train. Her finger-tip-length veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece of scalloped lace set with seed pearls and iridescents, and she carried a cascade bouquet of orchids and stephanotis.

Lt. Col. Donald Langston of Vance AFB, Enid, Okla., was best man, and groomsmen were James Finley, Yorba Linda, Calif., and Patrick O'Reilly, Port Lavaca. Serving as ushers were Michael Tovani, Novato, Calif., Fred T. Quintanilla Jr., brother of the bride; James C. Finley and Patrick O'Reilly. The candlelighters were Fred T. Quintanilla Jr. and Michael

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple was honored at a reception in base. The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of

Recommends Trees For Local Planting

"Everyone should have a special tree in winter time, for they are beautiful silhouetted against the sky", said Mrs. John B. Knox when she discussed trees at Wednesday's meeting of Big Spring Garden Club.

"Fruit trees are favorites in this area" continued Mrs. Knox, "because they will accept this type of soil and are not too large for small lots. Evergreens do well here, and crab apple trees are highly recommended, as well as apricot, especially a later-blooming variety such as Dawn''.

Highly critical of the U.S. government and American oil companies, Aspin has charged that the United States Export-Import Bank is thinking about taking the American taxpayer and consumer for another ride. And it has all the shades of the Russian wheat deal fiasco.

According to Aspin, the bank is considering a low-interest $49.5 million loan to develop natural gas in the Soviet Union. He reveals that the $110 million plan was worked out by a consortium of Russian officials and American oil companies. The bank would loan the Russians up to $49.5 million in credits for American equipment used to explore for natural gas in Eastern Siberia.

Interest on the loan would be 6 per cent, which is contrasted to the best interest rate of 9 per cent available to U.S. institutions. The rest of the money would come from U.S. banking institutions and $11 million from the Russians.

According to the plan, the gas would be exported

property of the particular transfer of the parti to the West Coast of the United States for use in the South and Southwest. The Wisconsin Democrat claims that the proposals provide natural gas at a wellhead cost of between $1.25 and $1.50 per thousand cubic feet. The U.S. wellhead price is 20 cents per thousand cubic feet.

The whole deal is odious. And perhaps the United States government ought to think twice about underwriting foreign oil and gas discovery and production which the nation will have little, if: any, control, Detente with the Russians is nice, but there are no guarantees that Moscow won't turn off the spigot like the Arabs are doing. The risk seem immense and it is contrary to President Nixon's "stated" goal of energy independence.

Perhaps the export-import bank would do better to consider tther alternatives to lending Moscow and the oil companies money for foreign expansion. That $49.9 million would go a long way towards increasing the nuclear facilities in this nation and developing our own energy sources.

BILLY GRAHAM

La all Marie Control Control "To sweeten the pot" is an expression I'm sure you understand. Well, recently, I've been involved in a few shady deals - but all for the sake of giving my family a better life. I'm afraid, however, my financial pot is being sweetened, while my reputation is going sour. Why can't I wink at this the way I used to?

The work of the Holy Spirit in the life of the believer, according to John 16:13, is to guide Christ's followers into truth. Often, such revelations shock us, showing us the error of our ways, and the need for repentance and faith. Evidently, you are being bothered by an aroused conscience, which if sparked initally by divine guidance, is always a good guide to right conduct.

You are one of many victims today, who have fallen prey to the idea that the end justifies the means. You have further been deluded by thinking that money and materialism can get your family the "good life." Once when Jesus met a man who had made a similar god of his assets, He told him to divest himself of all he had and simply follow Christ. What He was suggesting was not the poverty of being financially broke, but the riches of living for God, and putting spiritual things first.

The energy crisis has produced many changes in our lifestyle which we might not have desired. All of it will be very worthwhile.

them are not bad, however. If it gets us back to basics and back to ultimate issues in life, it will have some redeeming value. If this "crisis" you are going through shows you the value of a family where each lives for the other and all for the Lord,

Old-Timer Is A Guy Who . . .

Rationing Improbable

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON - While the Nixon administration ponders pros and cons of coupon gasoline rationing, a bitter truth is dawning on the White House: anti-rationing sentiment has risen so sharply that Congress might reject a presidential request for it.

CONGRESSMEN who left Washington Dec. 22 for a month-long recess were unprepared for the backlash to the standby rationing plan unveiled by energy czar William Simon Dec. 27. Thus, even if Mr. Nixon requests authorization of rationing when Congress returns Jan. 21, he might not get passage until mid-April. Indeed, if the present tide keeps running, he might not get it

The anti-rationing backlash has been generated partly by interested business groups, including retail automobile dealers. But the Nixon administration must share the responsibility. From President Nixon down, policymakers have referred to rationing as a horrible last resort

IF AMERICAN voters only weeks ago were willing to accept gasoline rationing in time of crisis. Congressmen returning home for the recess found that spirit of sacrifice evaporated. In its place is rising and heated - opposition to Simon's standby plan for a 32-gallon-per-month almost too dreadful to confront.

A SAMPLER of grass roots testing: in the Shreveport, La., area, Democratic Rep. Joe Waggonner got an earful of anti-rationing talk from owners of roadside restaurants, auto dealers and just plain drivers. On Maryland's Eastern Shore, gas station operators have been bombarding Republican Rep. Robert Bauman with anti-rationing arguments. Around Moline, Ill., members of the United Auto Workers who work in the city but live in the country tell Republican Rep. Thomas Railsback that Simon's plan would keep them from work.

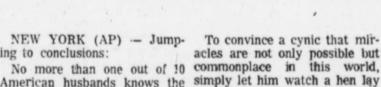

A FINAL EXAMPLE: in Macomb County, Mich., containing industrial suburbs of Detroit, Democratic Rep. James O'Hara, during luncheon meetings of the Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary this week, was surprised by unanimous anti-rationing sentiment. Worse, he was positively stunned by overriding skepticism that any true energy crisis exists. As of now, O'Hara would vote against rationing.

FAR MORE mysterious - and somewhat ominous - is the mood Congressmen now privately define as mass hysteria: the conviction by ordinary citizens that the energy crisis is a hoax perpetrated by big oil for higher profits and by Mr. Nixon to drown Watergate. Once that devil theory is accepted, the need for rationing or any other emergency measure is automatically discounted - one of Simon's most serious worries today. Still many think rationing will have to come by Feb. 1 unless the Arab embargo is lifted.

Distrusting Numbers

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) - The perennial frustration of accountants has been the difficulty of communicating their message to a population which is educated to read and understand words, but which tends to distrust numbers.

Since numbers are the vocabulary of accountants the situation is a difficult one, made more so today by demands for more complete corporate information and by the growing complexities of those corporations.

IN ADDITION, pressures are detants to measure social assets, even though the criteria for appraising them is incomplete. And while they are preoccupied with these problems, inflation is scrambi ing the numbers.

The current state of flux provoked John C. Burton, the chief accountant of the Securities and Exchange Commission, to comment: "We have encouraged the public to think that financial statements are truth, and now we must teach them otherwise."

Burton didn't stop there. He expanded his remarks into a broad generalization: "You cannot find in accounting a truth. Most of the big accounting problems today are not susceptible to a simple answer."

Walter Hanson, senior partner of Peat, Marwiick, Mitchell, puts it this

What people are fooled by is that the numbers one, two, three add up. but when you apply them to what is happening in the corporate environment they become less exact."

YOU MAY SAY a building is worth it depreciates over 10 years, or $1,000 it depreciates over 10 years, or 11,000 a year. But another accountant might say 12 years, another 9, and another

The numbers are precise. You can add, subtract, divide and multiply them. But when you apply those numbers to a real situatios the matter of judgment enters. Then, Hanson states, "Exactness disappears into in-

The situation is compounded in dealing with today's corporate maze and is forcing the major accounting firms to seek more thoroughly educated beginners and to strengthen in-house

"WE'RE DEALING with 60 hours per man of continuing formal education," said Hanson. Each year, he estimates, the firm devotes 50,000 man days to such additional instruction, tripling its education costs in three years.

Among the relatively newer problems are those created by persistent inflation. It makes comparisons misleading; the dollar values of today, for example, are really about 30 per cent lower than those of 10 years

Comparisons made in current dollars therefore are misleading. The numbers look the same and they add up in the same way, but their values are decidedly different.

Anti-Loitering Has Limits

Eddie, a high school dropout, liked to hang around his old alma mater, getting into various kinds of mischief. One day he was picked up by police on a charge of "loitering on school

TO EDDIE, this was foul play. After all, wasn't the schoolyard a public place - free for all?

But the court found him guilty as charged. As one judge put it:

"Public school premises are not free to any and everyone, like a public street or public park. Public school premises are dedicated to the use of persons eligible to attend the schools, their officers, teachers, and employes."

A NUMBER of communities, leery of troublemakers, have passed special anti-loitering laws placing schoolyards off limits to those having no legitimate business there. And most courts have upheld the validity of these laws.

ON THE OTHER hand, courts have also taken a tolerant view of what is "legitimate business." One case involved a 17-year-old boy, arrested after dark on the playground of a junior high school. At a court hearing, he explained that he had been waiting to take his younger sister home from

The judge decided this came under the heading of legitimate business, and tossed the case out of court.

FURTHERMORE, an anti-loitering law must not exceed constitutional limits. In another case, an ordinance forbade loitering within 250 feet of any school - with no exceptions.

But this law, when challenged in court, was held to be unconstitutional. The court thought it was unfair to punish someone simply for relaxing in the vicinity of a school. Lawmakers had no authority, said the court, "to denounce mere inaction as a crime,"

"THE MAJORITY of mankind spend a goodly part of their waking hours in idling the time away. The ordinance is an unreasonable restraint upon personal liberty."

DALLAS - The Missouri Pacific Railroad and the Texas and Pacific Railway have budgeted $6,155,000 for 18 physical improvement projects in Texas in 1974.

This is in addition to an initial $75 million order for 2,519 new freight cars and 60 new locomotives and does not include other improvements of a systemwide nature. The equipment order is the largest in MoPac's history. In addition, MoPac spends about $130 million annually throughout its 12-state system for normal operation supplies and materials said Dawing B. Jenks, chairman.

About two-thirds of the 1974 Texas improvement budget will be spent to lay 72 miles of continuous welded rail, the "clickless" type. # POPE EYES COMET

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Mon., Jan. 14, 1974 7-B

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI says he saw Comet Kohoutek and he felt "the sense of the cosmic mystery."

"We searched for the comet in the skies after we were told of the trajectory of this fugitive pilgrim of space," the Pope told a crowd of 3,500 in St. Peter's Square Sunday. "We intensely observed it."

The Pope said he saw the comet from his terrace "with the aid of a modest telescope." "It could be said this comet was nothing special, a bright point in space, bigger than Venus, always bright but less brilliant the night we made the observation." He cited a psalm: "The heavens show forth the glory of God, and the firmament declares the work of his hands." LONDON (AP) - Prince Charles was officer of the watch when a distress call came from three vessels having landing troubles because of storms in the South Java Sea. The Royal Navy said the heir to the British throne was right in the middle of the rescue

Two navy ships were sent to locate the stranded vessels and after four hours and three attempts the tug Mediator and two barges it was towing were pulled to a safe anchorage.

SARK, Channel Islands (AP) - Europe's last feudal ruler is 90. Dame Sibyl Mary Hathaway of Sark celebrated the anniversary by saying she's happy her rocky little island in the English channel is basically independent of the Western economic system.

"So far we have had no trouble from the energy crisis," Dame Sibyl said Sunday. "I personally have enough oil for heating for another three months by which time spring should have set in and the need for heating will be less."

Sark has a population of 577, and Dame Sibyl says no one has been inconvenienced by the oil

"But of course we do have a ban on motor cars over here and the shortage is not so bad for us," she said.
