EXPERTS SAY Watergate Tape 'Erased'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Technical experts reported today that the 18-minute gap in one of the subpoenaed Watergate tapes was caused by "the process of erasing and rerecording at least five, and perhaps as many as nine, separate and contiguous segments."

In a report to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, the experts said the gap "could not have been produced by any single, continuous operation."

They also said that recovery of any speech that was obliterated "is not possible by any method known to us."

Sirica scheduled a hearing later to hear additional testimony from the experts.

They did not speculate whether the gap was caused by deliberate or accidental actions.

Their report appeared to eliminate the possibility that President Nixon's secretary, Rose Mary Woods, could have inadvertently erased a segment when she accidentally pushed the record button when interrupted by a telephone call while trying to transcribe the tape of a June 20, 1972 conversation between the President and his aide H. R. Haldeman.

Miss Woods had testified she thought she might have caused at least part of the gap when she pushed that button and possibly inadvertently kept her foot on a foot pedal that operated the machine.

But the experts said their examination showed conclusively that the gap could not have been produced by a single continuous operation. They said whether the foot pedal was used or not "the recording controls must have been operated by hand in the making of each segment."

The tones which formed the buzz "do not appear to be caused by normal machine operations," the experts said.

They also said they believe that conversation had been recorded on the obliterated segment.

The experts said that in their examination of the tape they used computers, instruments for measuring frequency spectra and waveforms, techniques for "developing" magnetic marks that can be seen and measured directly on the tape, techniques for measuring the performance characteristics of recorders and statistical methods for analyzing experimental results.

Government Hiring Ratio One In Four

"We're told that one out of four jobs opening this year will be in the government area," Dale King, field representative for U.S. Rep. Omar Burleson, D-Anson, told about 80 Howard County citizens this morning.

He was guest speaker at a breakfast sponsored by the Howard County Rural Area Development Committee. It is composed of representatives of the county extension office, Soil Conservation Office, Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service and Farmer's Home Administration.

Mainly, the increase will come in state and local governments, King said, noting a reduction in federal employes.

On other topics, King said: "I think it was very poor judgment" for President Nixon to impound funds appropriated by Congress. "The people who were involved in the administration of the programs were not forewarned."

On enlarging a Congress composed of 435 representatives and 100 senators, he said: "After being up there two months, if it was any more unwieldy than it is now, I don't know how we'd ever get anything done."

Only 34 of 435 representatives, have constituencies 20 per cent of whom are in agriculture-related work. The two states with the largest agricultural economies, California and Florida, have no representatives with one-fifth of their voters in agriculture-related work.

Touching on recent redistricting of Texas congressional districts, he said: "This is the first time counties have ever been split and it's going to cause problems."

King was "pleasantly surprised that people up there (in Washington, D. C.) weren't paying any attention to it."

He was speaking about the Watergate investigation during the middle of last summer. "The fact was the senate committee couldn't do anything but question people on TV."

The Watergate investigation was "undermining" the public's confidence in government, he said.

Very Few CR '74 Tickets Unsold

A sellout of Campus Revue '74 tickets looms ever closer. The Big Spring High School band extravaganza gets under way Tuesday. No show will be staged Wednesday but it will be resumed Thursday evening and continue through Saturday night.

A total of 297 $4 tickets but no $2 ducats remain available for Tuesday night's inaugural show. There are still 24 $4 pasteboards available for the Thursday night performance, some of them together, along with just four $2 tickets.

There are no more than eight $4 and six $2 tickets unsold for the Friday night performance and just three $2 and 11 $4 ducats still on hand for the Saturday night program.

Those still wishing tickets for any of the nights can call the band hall and get delivery at home.

MUTED EVIDENCE — Firemen hike to the scene of a T-38 trainer crash which occurred in a plowed field on the Vernon Langley place eight miles north of Big Spring Monday, a crash that claimed the life of Lt. Col. Walton F. Dater of Ivoryton, Conn.

A student pilot safely ejected from the craft, which reportedly struck a bird in flight. The doomed craft narrowly missed the Langley farm house.

Victim Of Crash Vet Of Vietnam

Memorial services for Lt. Col. Walton F. Dater, killed in the crash of a T-38 trainer from Webb AFB eight miles north of Big Spring at 12:35 p.m. Monday, likely will be conducted at the St. Mary's Episcopal Church Thursday.

The smashup occurred on the Vernon Langley farm near Fairview within seconds after Dater's craft took off on a routine training flight from Webb as part of a two-plane formation.

Mrs. Langley said the plane missed their home by only a few feet and crashed about 100 yards away. She telephoned authorities in Big Spring.

The pilot of the second craft helped with recovery operations by flying over the area for several minutes.

A second occupant in the Dater plane, 2nd Lt. Alan Jackson of Dallas, parachuted safely to earth seconds before the plane crashed to earth and caught fire. Jackson was released from the Webb AFB hospital after an examination. He suffered no injuries.

A witness said the Dater plane struck a bird in flight, probably a sandhill crane. The collision knocked the canopy from the aircraft. A sandhill crane has a wing span of about four feet. The plane was traveling about 290 knots (or about 300 MPH) at the time.

Dater had been assigned to Webb since June 1973. However, he had undergone pilot instructor training at Randolph AFB in San Antonio for three months since that time.

Prior to coming to Webb, he was an assistant English professor at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, having been assigned there in April, 1969. He was a veteran pilot, having logged about 3,200 hours in the air. He had a tour of duty in Vietnam as a combat pilot in the late 60s.

Jackson was a student pilot in Class 7406 at Webb.

An investigating team of five to seven officers, most of them from other bases, has been assigned to probe reasons for the crash and make a report.

Rites for Col. Dater are pending.

Trapper Gives Predators Difficult Time In County

Earl Brownrigg, county trapper, has been busy this winter a report to County Commissioners Court shows.

In the last three months of 1973, Brownrigg killed:

81 Coyotes, 72 skunks, 38 Bobcats, 34 raccoons, excluding three ring-tailed raccoons, 29 possum, 10 Red Foxes, and 2 badgers.

So far this year, the trapper has bagged two bobcats and 9 coyotes.

Acting on another item, the court extended the boundary of voting precinct 16 to include section 18 of block 32, Township One-South of the T&P Railway Survey.

Mrs. Margaret Ray, chief deputy county clerk, explained that this land falls between the Silver Heels Addition and former city limits. Lowell Jones has established a mobile home park in this section, city officials said.

Other action includes: Setting terms of county court as starting Jan. 8, April 9, July 9 or Oct. 8.

Adopting a salary schedule.

Leaving unchanged the salary of the district attorney's secretary. Under statute, the court was told, Howard County may pay only 75 per cent of Nelda Jones' salary.

And conferring with County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eysen, Jr. about the proposed sale of a tractor and roller to the City of Coahoma.

Adverse Decision Now Affects Five Schools

An administrative law judge has handed down a decision adverse not only to Bauer and Lakeview schools, previously under attack by (HEW) the department of Health Education and Welfare for alleged racial imbalance, but which also affects three other schools.

One of them, Gay Hill, is now closed.

The ruling is in consequence of a hearing held Aug. 28-29, 1973 for alleged violation of the Civil Rights act.

HOLD UP FUNDS

The findings by the administrative judge was that there is an unreasonable disparity between minority and majority races in Bauer, Lakeview, Cedar Crest and Gay Hill elementary schools, and Runnels Junior High.

Federal impact funds to Big Spring Independent School District were ordered terminated until the schools are desegregated by a plan acceptable to HEW. If the case is appealed, the funds likely would continue pending final adjudication.

The judge issued a finding of these alleged imbalances in the schools mentioned above:

School	Per-centage Minority Races	Per-centage Majority Races	Per-centage Racial Imbalance
Bauer	97.0	3.0	86.2
Lakeview	91.4	8.6	62.4
Cedar Crest	61.6	38.4	23.8
Gay Hill	59.3	40.7	28.3
Runnels Jr. High	58.1	41.9	23.9
DISTRICT AVG.	30.8	69.2

The school district has until Jan. 27, 1974 to file exceptions to the decision of the administrative law judge. In the event the judge refuses to amend his decision, the school district may pursue appeals to the appellate division of HEW, and from that board to the secretary of the department. In the event the determination of the administrative law judge is upheld all the way, the School District may then (and only then) appeal this decision to the federal court.

The attorney for HEW has indicated that regardless of whether the school district appeals the decision it will be appealed by the department. The dissatisfaction of HEW with the decision is in the failure of the administrative law judge to terminate all federal assistance rather than only the "Impact Funds."

Fuel Oil Rationing Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government began applying today a program of gasoline austerity and fuel oil rationing, including less home heating for the nation.

NO STAMPS
While no ration stamps are involved, Federal Energy Office officials have described the petroleum allocation system as non-coupon rationing for all major products except retail gasoline.

The new regulations, which took effect one minute before midnight Monday, permit exceptions for hardship cases.

Normally, however, thermostats in homes and other residential buildings must be set six degrees lower than in the same month of 1972, and in other buildings ten degrees lower. Many people have already done this and the regulations will not require a further reduction on their part.

LESS GAS
Service stations will get less gasoline than before. Just how much less was uncertain, but an FEO official guessed it might be 15 to 20 per cent less than the public otherwise would use in 1974.

The administration has asked motorists to limit themselves voluntarily to ten gallons of gasoline per week, but so far there is no formal limit to their individual gasoline use.

Airlines will get five per cent less aviation fuel than in 1972 and they have already started reducing flight schedules.

Electric power plants are to get as much residual fuel oil as the FEO says they can have, depending how much there is.

But essential services and military activities will get just about all the petroleum they need, holding top priorities in the new nationwide petroleum allocation system.

'HARDSHIP'

In allowing for "hardship" exceptions to their specific limits, the regulations provide plenty of room for deciding what a hardship is — apparently it could include an exceptionally cold house or a business that's hurting from too little fuel.

"Hardship," the regulations say, "means a situation involving or potentially involving substantial discomfort or danger and/or economic dislocation."

In effect, the system rations major petroleum products right down to the final consumer, with one major exception: gasoline.

The Nixon administration has ordered creation of a standby gasoline-rationing system but has not yet decided whether to use it.

As when they were first proposed the final regulations, which took effect just before midnight, were accompanied by a flip-flop of FEO interpretation.

MARTIN COUNTY HASSLE

Several Texas County Seats May Be Moved

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Members of the Local Government Committee of the Constitutional Convention learned today that several Texas county seats may be moved.

The surprise came as members were discussing a provision of the proposed new constitution that would let county seats be changed upon majority vote of the voters affected.

Midland County Judge Barbara Culver said the majority requirement was merely a part of the Constitutional Revision Commission's effort to streamline the new document and remove old language no longer needed.

SURPRISE

"But there are several counties that might be affected now," a member said.

"Why, where is this?" Judge Culver said in surprise.

"Well, one I know of is right close to you in Martin County," Rep. E. L. Short, D-Tahoka, said. "In Martin County they are circulating a petition now to move the county seat from Stanton."

"Well, if this committee wants, I know of no reason that could not be changed to two-thirds approval of voters to move the courthouse," Judge Culver said.

Short told newsmen that Martin County has already approved a bond issue for a new courthouse. He said the petition would have the new courthouse built "at a site to be selected within five or six miles of the geographic center of the county."

STANTON FUSS

Short said there has been considerable controversy over the years because Stanton, the present county seat, is only a mile inside the south boundary Tarzan and Lenora, the only of the far West Texas county. Other towns shown on Texas highway maps, are near the center.

At the committee's first session Monday Judge Culver told the legislators it would be up to them to decide what title and duties a county judge should have.

The title and duties of "county judge" occupied the committee for some time, just as it did the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission which prepared the proposed draft before the convention.

Siphoning Fuel Into Black Market

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Large quantities of fuel are being siphoned into the black market in California, Sen. John Tunney says.

"Farmers tell me there is plenty of middle-distillate fuel if you are willing to pay the higher price," Tunney told a news conference Monday. "The same is true in the transportation industry and other industries."

The California Democrat said he has learned that the Shell, Phillips and Douglas oil companies have been advised they can get as much diesel fuel as they want.

Spokesmen for Phillips and Shell denied it. California officials of Douglas were unavailable for comment.

Tunney said numerous businessmen have told him a black market exists. He said a plastics manufacturer in San Francisco told him last Friday that suppliers offered almost daily to sell him a needed petroleum product at the black-market price.

Tunney said Congress should investigate both black marketing and the possibility that oil companies deliberately understated their supplies in reports to federal energy chief William E. Simon.

"I feel it is possible that the major oil companies are withholding stock from market, or maybe their distributors are, for the purpose of driving up prices and establishing profits," Tunney said.

In the view of the district the administrative law judge refused to be governed by the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Keyes case which originated in Denver, Colo. as such case has been interpreted by United States District Judges Sears and Wood in the Zamora case, which originated in New Braunfels, and the Morales case, which originated in Uvalde.

The administrative law judge recognized the rationale of the Keyes case (as it was interpreted in the Zamora and Morales cases) is that a disproportionate concentration of minority groups is subject to judicial orders compelling further desegregation only if such concentration of minorities resulted from an intent on the part of the School District to perpetuate segregation, nevertheless, the judge adopted a rule that HEW is not limited in its decision to withdraw federal assistance by the same restrictions imposed by the Keyes case on the federal courts.

45 PERSONS HURT Texas Chief Jumps Tracks In Oklahoma

By The Associated Press

The last thing I remember is seeing flying glass and flying people," Priscilla Heidner says of the derailment of Amtrak's crack Texas Chief passenger train.

The Texas Chief left the tracks near Ardmore, Okla., Monday, resulting in injuries to 45 persons. That was one of three train accidents around the country.

At McGregor, Tex., two tank cars carrying petrochemicals derailed and exploded, but no injuries were reported. In Pennsylvania, four tank cars carrying compressed chlorine overturned and ruptured in a sparsely populated area near White Haven. There were no reported injuries.

THIS IS THE END

The Texas Chief, southbound from Chicago to Houston with 115 passengers aboard, was moving through an industrial area on the northeastern outskirts of Ardmore when it de-

Fair Skies In West Texas

By The Associated Press

Texans may be able to hang up their overcoats and allow umbrellas to dry tonight, but this morning another in a series of sloppy, soaking days greeted East Texas.

Showers and thundershowers drenched portions of the upper Central Plains and Southeast Texas at dawn as a weak frontal system slugged southward into the Gulf.

However, forecasters predicted somewhat drier conditions would rule the area by nightfall, though cloudy to partly cloudy skies were expected for the east half of the state through tomorrow.

Fair skies which have marked weather in the west half of the state recently were expected to continue with only minor warming.

Predawn temperatures ranged from the upper 20s and lower 30s in West and North-West Texas to the mid 60s along the Gulf Coast.

Fog and clouds blanketed much of the east half of the state with drizzle adding to the misery of the southeast quadrant.

City Manager Quits In Valley

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — Brownsville City Manager Kirby Lilljedahl resigned today at a meeting of the Brownsville City Commission.

Lilljedahl, 42, said the resignation is effective March 8. He made no announcement about his plans. In submitting his resignation, Lilljedahl urged the city commission to appoint an interim city manager as soon as possible.

He had served as city manager here for four years, coming from Port Neches.

Head Smashed, House Ransacked

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Police investigated today the death of an 84-year-old woman found bound with a venetian blind cord on the city's east side.

Investigators said her head had been smashed.

Officers estimated Lillie Tullos had been dead about two days. She was found Monday night, a brick wrapped in a sock covered with blood was discovered in front of Mrs. Tullos residence.

The house had been ransacked.

BLINDFOLDED THEMSELVES 'We Didn't Want To See Each Other Die'

MIAMI (AP) — Thirty-eight Haitian refugees, rescued after nine days at sea in a foundering sailboat, blindfolded themselves during the ordeal so they wouldn't see each other die.

"Many were sick, and we were all crying. We prayed and read from the Bible and sang hymns," said Josephine Tertulien.

"Everybody was covering his eyes. We thought surely we would die. We didn't want to see each other die," Miss Tertulien said Monday.

The 30 men, seven women and a 16-year-old boy were rescued from the 20-foot sailboat Friday by Miami-based fishermen operating 280 miles off the south Florida coast. They were brought ashore by a U.S. Coast Guard cutter late Sunday.

"The boat was leaking almost from the start, and though we bailed constantly, we were always sitting in water," Miss Tertulien said through a translator.

After being processed by immigration and Naturalization officials, the men were jailed and the women and boy were released to the custody of the Greater Miami Baptist Ministers' Council.

Additional Defense Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department plans to cut manpower by 58,000 servicemen over the next six months, 15,000 more than the 43,000-man cut approved by Congress for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1974.

The Pentagon is about to ask Congress for a $6-billion to $8-billion increase for next year's military budget, and the new manpower cuts are expected to cut costs wherever they can.

Assistant Defense Secretary William K. Brehm, in announcing the additional manpower cuts Monday, declined to translate them into dollar savings.

The combined 53,000 cuts will result in manpower losses of 22,000 for the Army, 15,000 for the Navy and 21,000 for the Air Force, resulting in a total military strength by next July of 2.17 million men and women.

Brehm predicted the Army will fall between 10,000 and 20,000 short of its 782,000 manpower goal for the end of June 1974.

He said at a monthly briefing on the volunteer Army that a congressional requirement for 55 per cent of all new GIs to have a high school diploma is going to make recruiting difficult over the next six months.

He said that 67 per cent of those in the Army in the pre-Vietnam year of 1964 were high school graduates, while only 54 per cent were high school graduates through mid-December, 1973.

Brehm also disclosed that the Pentagon hopes to recruit about 60,000 women by the end of June 1974, compared to female strength of 32,000 in 1971, and hopes, by 1978, to bring female membership in the armed forces up to 113,000.

COUNTY JUDGE AND COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN — Midland County Judge Barbara Culver talks with Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, chairman of the Constitutional Convention's committee on Local Government as the committee met in Austin today. Members got a surprise when they learned several Texas county seats may be moved. The revelation came as they discussed a provision of the proposed document that would let county seats be changed upon majority vote of the voters affected.

legislature—one of them by a member of the CRC.

BLACKMAIL

Sen. Bill Patton, D-Ganado, said the proposal to draw House districts totally within the boundaries of Senate districts—the so-called "pod concept"—would cause legislators "two or three times the problems we have now" in redistricting.

"If you force agreement between four representatives and a senator, you won't have much gerrymandering either way in either house," replied Houston lawyer Jim Kroner, a member of the CRC committee on the legislature.

Kroner told the committee he personally opposes a provision in the CRC document giving the governor the power to reduce items in the general appropriation bill.

"It would be too much power for the governor to call a legislator in and say, 'See here, fella, about your junior college district,'" Kroner said.

"Executive blackmail," Rep. Ben Bynum, D-Amarillo, called it.

The delegates voted 140-14, without debate, to hold special public hearings Friday night and Saturday for the benefit of witnesses and spectators who must work five-day weeks.

Plane Crash Claims Two

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Two men were killed in the crash of a twin-engine business jet near fog-bound Will Rogers World Airport about 7 a.m. today.

The plane, owned by Kerr-McGee Corp., was crewed by Kenneth Blair Hunter, 65, pilot, and co-pilot Jack Ernest Garner, 51, both of Oklahoma City.

Company officials said the aircraft was on a flight from Corpus Christi, Tex.

The plane was making an instrument landing when it disappeared from airport radar, Airport Manager Tom Morton said.

"A witness at the scene who called us, a farmer, reported seeing a ball of flame on impact," Morton said.

The plane, a Rockwell Sabreliner, crashed in an open area in far southwest Oklahoma City near the Canadian River.

Woman Slain, Sister Shot

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Police said a woman was shot to death and her 24-year-old sister critically wounded Tuesday night in a fight at a residence.

Investigators identified the dead woman as Mae Ollie Neely, 39, of Fort Worth. Her sister, Maudie Harper, was in critical condition at John Peter Smith Hospital early today.

A 67-year-old man was held in connection with the shootings.

The World At-A-Glance

SEATTLE (AP) — Friends have started a trust fund to help pay for the legal expenses of John U. Eiriksson, who is struggling to re-establish himself with a law practice specializing in environmental affairs. Eiriksson resigned as chief domestic adviser to President Nixon last spring in the wake of Watergate scandals. Since then he has created a four-person Land Use Group designed to advise real estate developers on environmental protection laws. He also handles other, unspecified legal business. "Knowing what I know about the tatics (of the charges) I think I've got good reason to be optimistic," he said in an interview Monday of a dozen legal actions pending against him.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab 3's astronauts are the new world champions of space flight. Gerald P. Carr, William K. Pogue and Edward G. Gibson on Monday night became history's longest-tying space travelers as they broke the single mission record of 59 days, 11 hours, 9 minutes, which had been held by the Skylab 2 crew. Today they began four days without darkness in a sunlight which could cause heat discomfort. Like energy-conscious earthlings, they turned off some lights, but for different reasons. They want to cool down the station.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats received more campaign money than Republicans from dairy interests in 1972, according to an analysis published in the official Republican magazine "First Monday." According to the Republicans, Democratic candidates received $613,000 from four milk industry groups, while Republicans — including President Nixon — received $577,000. Nixon has denied that contributions pledged from milk interests influenced his 1972 decision to raise milk-price supports.

MR., MRS. J. O. BAILEY

James Bailey Takes His Retirement At Cosden

Mr. and Mrs. James O. Bailey are moving to the Baxter community outside Athens, Tex., where they will live in the mobile home until they can fix up their house on the acreage.

Once the house is completed, the mobile home will revert to the carpentry and woodworking shop which occupies much of his time.

Bailey underwent surgery last May and took disability retirement effective Dec. 1.

Bailey came to Howard County in 1919 as an infant of 13 months with his parents. He was born in DeKalb. During World War II, he served with the U.S. Army Combat Engineers, 35 months overseas in the European theater. His military service totaled five years.

He went to work for Cosden Oct. 24, 1951, as a yardman. He worked in asphalt pumping, blending, loading, then later for a brief time with the pump doctors.

In April, 1954, he went into the refinery lab, climbing up through the tester levels. When the lab was split in 1966, he went with the chemical group and later as a special tester for the polystyrene section when the plastics plant was in its earliest stages. At the time of his retirement, he was back on the chromatograph.

Bailey married a native of Howard County, Ara Lee Anderson, Aug. 12, 1945. They resided in Sand Springs for many years where they were members of the First Baptist Church. He was also active with the Five-Watters Club.

The Baileys have four sons. They are James A., Graham, Thomas Lynn, Cortez, Colo.; William Edward, and Wesley, both of Big Spring.

When he retired, Bailey's co-workers at Cosden gifted him with a wristwatch which bore the inscription, "From your lab buddies." In addition, he received a money tree from his friends.

Mrs. Bailey is planning on continuing her hobbies of sewing, crafts and crocheting.

One of Bailey's hobbies is fishing. For that reason, he has already spotted two well-stocked ponds near the Bailey home. They will be returning to Big Spring periodically to visit family and friends.

Trans-Pecos Lint Heavy

Cotton samples received from Pecos Territory growers continued heavy last week. The USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service office in Carlsbad classed 5,124 samples for the week ending Jan. 11, according to Mack Bennett, in charge. This brings the season's total to 63,844.

Grade 41 was predominant with 25 per cent of the classings. Grade 31 made up 18 per cent, grade 32 and 42 — 17 per cent each. Bark reductions were made on 28 per cent of the samples.

Staple 31 was predominant with 38 per cent of the samples classed; staple 32 made up 22 per cent. Mike readings showed 44 per cent in the 3.5-4.9 range.

Breaking strength of fibers (Pressley) averaged 80,000 psi for the week.

Prices were up for the week. In El Paso, grade 41 staple 34 was quoted at 89.45 per pound on Jan. 10.

Farmers received $100-$105 per ton for cottonseed in Glasscock and Upton Counties and $116 per ton in Reeves and Pecos Counties.

Glasscock Heist Is Cleared Up

The burglary of the Harry McMillan residence in Glasscock County on October 27, 1972 has been cleared, said Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney.

Items taken in the burglary were several rifles, pistols, television set and binoculars.

Majority of the merchandise was located in Howard County yesterday by Sheriff Royce Pruitt, Garden City and Texas Ranger Charlie Hodges. Formal complaints are pending at the present time.

Also cleared, Talbot said, were the burglaries of the Town and Country Center on March 11, 1972 where cash and merchandise were taken, and of the Price Construction Company Feb. 26, 1973, in which a calculator and welding equipment were taken.

The cases stem from an arrest of H. L. Atkinson, 1311 Madison St. Big Spring, Texas by Martin County Sheriff Dan Saunders on January 10, 1973.

Board Adopts School Calendar

The school calendar approved for 1974-75 includes a three-week pupil holiday at Christmas, during which time the teachers will return for a two-day workshop.

The school board approved the new calendar, which will see school begin Aug. 19 and end May 29. Teachers start on Aug. 13. Teachers approved the calendar in a close vote.

The school board had one dissenting member in Dan Wilkins who wanted school to start later due to the lack of air conditioning. The semester will end before Christmas.

In other action, the board in their meeting Monday approved three budget amendments, centering around storm damage, vocational travel and Title I.

They approved reversion of a portion of the Gay Hill school property to the original owner under a reversion clause.

They also approved their annual automobile leasing agreement with Bob Brock.

The board also approved the resignation of Ronald Sweatt, earth science teacher at Runnels Junior High, and approved hiring four new teachers including Mrs. Althea Harrington, Marcy sixth grade; Mrs. Lynn Kizar, Goliad math; Dennis Smiley, Runnels, Title I; and Miss Kathleen Sullivan, Runnels Spanish-English.

Listed under the item miscellaneous was an adverse decision on the HEW hearings with a news release prepared last week by School Atty. Guilford Jones, Supt. Sam Anderson and Board President Roy Watkins. The decision was adverse for the district.

Board members present included Roy Watkins, Jerry Jenkins, Thomas Fetters, Jim Bill Little, Ralph McLaughlin and Wilkins. Delnor Poss was not present.

Child Desertion Rap Jails Man

Len Dale Pearson, 21, 1211 Frazier St., was in county jail after being arrested on a capias for child desertion from Muleshoe.

Pearson is also accused of being absent without leave from Fort Hood. Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr. set a $3,000 bond on the capias.

The bidding:
South West North East
4♥ Pass Pass 4♠
Pass Pass 5♥ Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Nine of ♠

We are told that it is more blessed to give than to receive. South followed that precept on today's hand, and his generosity was rewarded tenfold.

North's bid of five hearts was a two-way action. He was not sure he could defeat four spades and five hearts, while perhaps not makeable, would not prove costly. East felt he had done his all, at unfavorable vulnerability, by pushing the opponents to the five-level. He couldn't bid higher by himself. As the cards lie, a contract of five spades by East-West could be doubled and set two tricks with accurate defense, for a penalty of 500 points.

The opening lead of the nine of spades was ruffed in the closed hand. A trump was led to the jack, drawing both the opponents' trumps in the process and another spade was ruffed. The king and ace of diamonds were cashed, and the king of spades was led from dummy. East covered with the ace, and instead of ruffing, declarer discarded his losing diamond.

This loser-on-loser play had a dramatic effect. Unless East took his ace of clubs there and then, he would have failed to take a trick with it. A spade would allow declarer to discard a club while ruffing in dummy, then set up diamonds with a ruff while a trump still remained in dummy.

Note that declarer's line of play would have insured eleven tricks even had trumps broken 2-0. The basic line of play is the same, except that declarer draws a second round of trumps before cashing the high diamonds and throwing East in with the ace of spades.

Enrollment Passes 500 At College

Howard College enrollment passed the 500 mark at mid-morning Tuesday, and it was estimated that 25-50 would be added by noon.

Registration continues through the afternoon, and for extended day classes from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. today in the college library.

Classes for the Spring semester begin Wednesday. After today registration will be shifted to the registrar's office.

Dr. Thomas T. Salter, president, urged all contemplating enrollment in the Spring semester to do so as soon as possible to avoid missing important class work.

Enrollment for occupational and short courses — particularly service station equipment repair and carpentry — will be this evening.

No Band Booster Meetings Slated

There will be no band booster meeting this month due to the time being spent on Campus Revue '74.

Regular meetings will resume in February according to club officers.

New Accommodation?

There now seems to be some new grounds for accommodation between the White House and the Watergate committee. The committee overstepped itself in issuing a request for some 500 items, and now is retreating from this position. In the meanwhile, the White House has sent up some tenuous straws to test the breeze by hinting it may settle for releasing selective tapes.

This would be better, for perhaps the entire matter could be more quickly brought into focus. At the same time, Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski could proceed with minimum conflict in his investigations which might conceivably result in indictments. The same could be said for the House judiciary committee in its probe concerning possible impeachment. As it now stands, the committee might recommend proceedings, but unless it has clear-cut cases, it is doubtful that the resolution would succeed. The general pulse seems to be that while there was a lot of hanky-panky connected with the last presidential campaign, and some perjury connected with this, that so far this has not been tied flagrantly to the chief executive. In the absence of unmistakable proof, it is doubtful that a bill of impeachment would succeed. Polls reflect that the public views it in this light.

The sooner, however, that this is resolved, the better.

A Fine Record

The report from the Industrial Foundation reflects a fine year of activity — one new industry brought in with 90 already on the payroll and the concern (Walls Industries) eyeing possible expansion. It also took note that during the year members were released from their guarantees on a note for another industry.

The financial picture of the Foundation appeared stable and sound. But not reflected in the facts and figures of the annual report is a year of constant activity seeking other industries. There were efforts which didn't jell, some which initiated interest, some which are still hanging fire. In addition, the Foundation's industrial team went through several exercises, practice and real, to present concisely the city's industrial bids. Like an ice berg, perhaps there's more about the Foundation quietly below the surface than can be revealed in a mere annual report.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

My family tells me I am a worrier. I know the Bible says we shouldn't be, but I guess I'm just extra serious about life. Is this wrong? C.Y.

It's never wrong to view life seriously, but if that means a lot of anxious concern for you, then it is wrong. Medical authorities keep telling us of the very real and very extensive damage that habitual worry can produce. Furthermore, for the Christian, it's so unnecessary. That's the whole point of Jesus' remarks in Luke 12, where He asks if His hearers have thought of God's care for the flowers and the birds.

There's a Swedish gospel song that has the following words: "The care of His child and treasure is a charge that on Himself He laid." It refers to the self-assigned task Christ has of watching over His followers. And if the Savior is thus monitoring our well-being, what can our worry add to that?

We should be serious about life to the extent we use caution and common sense, making all due preparation for our welfare and future. But beyond that, lies the quiet assurance that God superintends the affairs of life, and in His beneficent plan He does all things well.

BEFORE TAKE-OFF, SIR, YOU'LL HAVE TO FILL OUT THESE FORMS... THEN WE'LL HAVE TO WAIT FOR THE FELLOW FROM THE ELECTRICAL UNION TO COME ROUND BEFORE YOU CAN CRANK'ER UP... AND THE BOYS IN THE TOWER ARE ON SYMPATHY STRIKE WITH MINERS... AND AS FOR PETROL...

No Time For Pilate

William F. Buckley Jr.

The new volume of Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn raises policy questions for the West which, if we answer them wrongly, will bring down upon us that curse of history reserved for those despicable men who, though knowing everything they needed to know, declined to act, thus contributing to a crucifixion. Solzhenitsyn is only an individual, but there was never in human history a clearer identification of an individual and a class. Martin Luther King as representative of the American Negro pales alongside the authority of Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn as representative of the 200 million people of Russia who have suffered, and continue to suffer, at the hands of the creed-ridden tormentors of that wretched country.

THE SOVIET government does not disguise its feelings about Solzhenitsyn, any more than the establishmentarians disguised theirs towards Jesus. Now, on the publication of "The Gulag Archipelago," they have begun their offensive. It is clearly launched with a certain tentativeness — else they'd have simply yanked him off directly to Siberia, or to a convenient warren in the cellar of the Lubyanka, there to receive a little lead in his stupefying, or inspiring mind.

Though Solzhenitsyn is only one man, his elimination would amount to an act of genocide. It is now as if, 35 years ago, Adolph Hitler had released, for the convenience of the next few editions of the "World Almanac," the projections on the diminishing percentage of Jews alive and well in Germany. Would the west, in such circumstances, do anything about it? Or would that be to interrupt the rhythm of detente?

PERMIT A drastic truncation — in just a few sentences — of the experience of just one Soviet victim. This one an American citizen who, incredibly, has been living in Maryland since 1971. It required that we should learn of his existence from Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn. His name is Alexander Dolgun. He was a clerk with the American Embassy. In 1948 he was seized on the streets of Moscow and would spend eight years in Soviet camps, and another 15 years in civilian detention. A cheerful representative of the Workers' Paradise, second in charge of Soviet security called Ryumin, called in young Dolgun, who had declined to confess to crimes he had not committed.

"AND SO," said Ryumin politely, stroking his rubber truncheon which was an inch and a half thick, "you have survived trial by sleeplessness with honor. So now we will try the club. Prisoners don't last more than two or three sessions of this. Let down your trousers and lie on the runner."

"THE COLONEL sat down on the prisoner's back. Dolgun had intended to count the blows. He didn't know yet what a blow with a rubber truncheon is on the sciatic nerve. The effect is not in the place where the blow is delivered — it blows up inside the head. After the first blow the victim was insane with pain and broke his nails on the carpet. Ryumin beat away. After the beating the prisoner could not walk, and of course, he was not carried. They just dragged him along the floor... (then) Ryumin went wild, and started to beat him in the stomach and, broke through the intestinal wall, in the form of an enormous hernia where his intestines protruded. And the prisoner was taken off to the Butyrka hospital with a case of peritonitis, and for the time being the attempts to compel him to commit a foul deed were broken off."

THE REASON Brezhnev et al are so much afraid of Solzhenitsyn is that his indictment isn't of the man Stalin, or even of the man Lenin, whose atrocities figure greatly in this book. His indictment is universal: an indictment of totalitarian society. Brezhnev can no more convincingly denounce Stalin than he can denounce his own aorta. The governors of the Soviet Union cannot break with their own past without walking, unmanacled, to Red Square, to set a torch upon themselves.

This is the moment not for bureaucratic response, but for gallant response, and those of us who know Henry Kissinger pray that he will take the initiative — no one could do it better.

Heating Oil Up

Hal Boyle

By LOUISE COOK
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

Last Dec. 1, an independent dealer in the Chicago area was selling home heating oil at 28½ cents a gallon. Today, the same dealer is charging 35 cents a gallon.

That's an increase of almost 23 per cent in six weeks. It reflects the situation throughout the country, according to a spot check of trade associations. Home heating oil prices have risen sharply in the last month, and industry spokesmen say they'll probably rise some more in the future.

In fact, some spokesmen say it may cost you twice as much to heat your home this winter as it did last year. In dollars and cents, the increases can boost your yearly heating bill by $100 or more, depending on how much oil you use and who your supplier is.

If you were lucky enough to have a supplier who is getting domestic oil, you may not be hit too hard. If, however, your dealer depends on imported oil, you'd better be prepared for a real wallop.

The increases will more than offset any monetary savings you might get from turning down your thermostat six degrees in accordance with federal energy regulations that take effect today.

Annual imports of heating oil refined abroad have risen sharply from a negligible amount five years ago to an estimated 150 million barrels in 1973. That's more than 10 per cent of last year's total supply, according to the National Fuel Oil Institute.

Institute figures show that imported heating oil at the wholesale level costs about four times as much in December as it did in June 1973. There have been similar price increases in heating oil refined in the United States from imported crude oil.

The sharp rise is due principally to big increases in the taxes and royalties collected by the governments of oil producing countries. Domestic crude oil also has risen in price, but not nearly as much.

That means wide variations in price. In some areas, one household — using domestic oil — can pay 40 per cent less for heating oil than the consumer next door who is supplied with foreign oil. And it makes it almost impossible to come up with a nationwide average cost.

A spokesman for the National Fuel Oil Institute said domestic oil should average about 24 cents a gallon. But consumers getting foreign oil may pay 40 cents a gallon.

Food 'Diary' Might Help

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My little girl was always colicky from birth on. We finally found she was allergic to milk, but she was not put on soy bean milk until she was seven months old. She now is more comfortable but still has signs of allergy (persistent cough, sneezing, etc.). Why? —Mrs. K.L.

For the benefit of other readers, remember that sensitivity to cow's milk is not the only cause of colic, but it certainly is one.

To answer your question: you've found that cow's milk is one thing that your little girl can't tolerate. But she still has some signs of allergy.

Why? Because, while one allergy may be dominant in a given patient, it is rather seldom that only one allergy exists. There usually are others along with it but in varying degrees of intensity.

My advice is to keep a "food diary" to see if you can't discover a pattern showing other things to which she is allergic. Or it may not be foods. She may be allergic to wool, feathers, dust, etc.

If you can't make any headway on your own, you may find it advisable to consult an allergist.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What makes mucus in the colon? Is it serious and is there a cure for it? Are colonics a cure? —A.G.

The problem goes under the name of mucous colitis, an ailment which tends to become chronic and a continuing problem unless it is controlled.

"Colonics," by which I presume you mean enemas or "colonic irrigations," are not a cure, any more than washing the inside of your nose can cure a cold. The mucus is there as a response to irritation, and it is the irritation, not the mucus, that needs removal.

Frankly, mucous colitis is not a simple ailment to treat, so don't expect success in a hurry. I think you will benefit, however, by sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for a copy of my booklet, "Colitis and Kindred Complaints."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband, 59, has diabetes and takes 50 mg. DBI three times a day. He also is on a 1,500-calorie diet. I would like to know how to tell if he is having too much of either one, calories or medication. —Mrs. J. A.

Frequent urine tests are the usual means of making sure that the patient's balance of food and medication is maintained. If he is getting too much DBI, urine tests would be negative for sugar, along with symptoms of low blood sugar (hunger, giddiness, weakness, etc.) and possibly diarrhea.

Bed-Wetting can be a very frustrating problem but it can be controlled. To find out how, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of this helpful booklet, "Bed-Wetting: Ways to Stop It."

Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Woman Rams Police Station

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Police said officers ran for cover and drew their guns when a woman rammed her car into the front of the North Hollywood police station 30 times.

No one was injured in the incident although the car smashed into the lobby of the station, police said.

Officers in patrol cars blocked the path so the driver of the car could not get away, police said.

Sally A. Braudick, 35, was booked for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon, police said. They said she was angry with the juvenile justice system which she said had failed to solve problems of her two sons.

No Two Alike

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

Garden club members will observe Arbor Day by planting trees in several areas of the city. When told the gardeners hope to include pecan trees, I was reminded of a letter from my aunt, the late Alice Van Brook Carroll. It seems a fitting tribute to Arbor Day and those dedicated people who keep that lovely custom alive.

"MY WONDERFUL friend: A number of moons have waxed and waned since I wrote to you last. Seasons have succeeded each other, the harvest has given way to the bare brown days of winter. Yet I look out on our back lot and am reminded that one harvest is not yet over, for the pecan trees still hold innumerable black balls full of nuts against the gray of the sky.

"Our pecan trees have outdone themselves this year in the lavishness of their production. Bushels and bushels of nuts have been picked up by various and sundry people. Yet every slightest wind brings down a pelting shower till the ground is literally sprinkled with their brown bodies. And yet the trees hang heavy with tightly clinging nuts.

"In my house, buckets, pans and boxes full greet my eyes, for my husband has a collector's mania for picking them up. Like a squirrel, I set about storing as many as possible.

"Picking out pecans is a tedious job that keeps only my hands employed, leaving my mind free to wander its unprofitable but highly intriguing way. My attention is thus drawn to contemplating of the nuts themselves. Immediately questions arise. What caused such an enormous crop of pecans this year? Was it only a working out of natural processes, a fulfillment of natural law? And what is Nature anyhow; how and by what force was natural law established? Surely such a mysterious and inexorably operating law must have had a beginning, and must be directed by another higher, greater, more intelligent force than it is.

"SO MY WANDERING mind stumbles against an impregnable wall that it can not see over, comes back to the nuts in my hand, to that never failing natural law that makes a pecan always produce a pecan, never a walnut or hickory nut or any other kind of nut.

"But with such a bewildering variety! No two trees ever exactly alike or producing exactly the same kind of pecans; no two pecans so exactly alike that the microscope will show no tiny difference.

"Yes, a pecan tree, any tree, is a stupendous achievement far surpassing anything the greatest human intellect has ever accomplished. From the hidden roots that spread in all directions, each tiny mouth unerringly finding the proper food for the tree's fullest development, to the thousands of tenuous twigs that support its fruit until it is ripe enough to be turned loose, a tree is a miracle almost past believing.

"What meticulous planning toward perfection, what incomparable coordination of minute operations, what patient, persistent striving toward a miraculous completion — that thing of matchless beauty and utility, a tree!"

Jenner On Skillet

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Albert E. Jenner, Jr., hired by House Judiciary Committee Republicans as their chief counsel in the presidential impeachment proceedings, helped raise funds last fall for Democratic Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois — a previously shrouded fact which threatens much trouble for Jenner with his new employers.

THE PRESTIGIOUS Jenner, a Chicago Republican but long a friend of the Stevenson family, was co-host for a breakfast in Stevenson's honor last October. That breakfast in turn was called to plan a fund-raising dinner to kick off Stevenson's reelection campaign, also attended by Jenner.

Some right-wing congressional Republicans feel that minor apostasy should disqualify Jenner from representing the Republican cause in what promises to be a highly partisan proceeding. But what really disturbs Judiciary Committee Republicans was Jenner's failure to mention his Adlai connection when they interviewed him for the impeachment post.

"I WOULD rather he not be in support of any Democrat," an irritated Rep. Robert McClory of Illinois, second-ranking committee Republican, told us. Instrumental in hiring Jenner, McClory said he had assumed Jenner was a loyal Republican and is "surprised and disappointed" that Jenner did not tell him about backing Stevenson.

BUT A LATER telephone conversation with Jenner clarified McClory, who said Jenner told him he was personally involved in no political fund-raising, that he had never supported a Democrat for public office and that the Stevenson breakfast was "long before" the Senator announced for reelection.

The facts seem different. Jenner was one of five co-hosts financing a breakfast in Stevenson's honor at Chicago's Palmer House last Oct. 1 and signing the telegram inviting some 40 businessmen to it. The sole purpose: plan the Oct. 26 Hilton Hotel dinner where Stevenson would announce his candidacy for reelection. Jenner paid $115 to attend that dinner. His failure to report this irks GOP members.

THE FIRST setback for energy czar William Simon in his battle to unify administration policy was at the hands of Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger, who managed a bureaucratic end run around Simon just after Christmas.

Mile For A Camel

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The French have just made a new deal with Saudi Arabia — oil in exchange for Mirage airplanes and sophisticated arms. The British are in the process of making a similar deal with other Arab oil-producing countries including the tiny sheikdoms along the Persian Gulf.

THE CRUEL fact is that in order to guarantee an adequate fuel supply for itself, any industrialized nation is now willing to give the Arabs all the weapons they want.

The big question is how much sophisticated armaments can the oil-producing Arab states absorb? Most of their land is covered with sand inhabited by Bedouins who still are not quite used to the sudden wealth that is being showered on them.

THE FOLLOWING scene will probably take place in a year or two:

A Bedouin camp 300 miles from the Saudi Arabian capital of Riyadh. The chief of the area pulls up in a brand-new British armored personnel carrier.

"Ahmed," shouts the chief, "you lazy lout, wake up and come out of your tent. I have a gift from the king for you!"

AHMED RUSHES out of the tent. "Did you bring me a camel?"

"I did getter than that, my desert friend. See what I have on the back of the new British armored personnel carrier?"

Ahmed follows him to the rear of the truck.

The chief strips off the canvas from the object he has in tow.

"What is it?" Ahmed asks, staring at the strange machine.

"IT IS THE latest French fighter plane, the Phantom-Mirage. It will fly at speeds over 1,100 miles an hour and can carry six air-to-air super-sonic missiles. Now what do you say?"

"I still would rather have a camel," Ahmed replies.

"How dare you talk that way about a gift from your most gracious sovereign?"

"Forgive me," Ahmed says fearfully, "but I already have four British fighters, six American Sky Hawks and seven heavy armored helicopters out behind my tent. What I really need is something that can cross the desert and doesn't use up water."

"Put it next to the British Centaur tanks you brought me last week. Are you sure I was supposed to get 30 tanks? You know we don't have any children."

Wants Uncle Sam Out Of Meat Market
 PASCOWASH, (AP) — A spokesman for the U.S. beef industry has strongly criticized the Economic Stabilization Act, under which Congress sets price ceilings.

"The control system has caused many things to go out of balance," said George Spencer, Denver, Colo.

Spencer, vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Association (ANCA), slammed the controls during a convention last week of cattle feeders.

"Congressmen don't understand our business, and the public doesn't understand our business," Spencer said.

Action by the Cost of Living Council and the beef price freeze have led to losses for feeders, creating artificial beef shortages, he said.

Beef prices won't drop until the government gets out of the meat market," he said.

Professional Pharmacy Offers Convenience, Service To Customers

When one needs the services of a pharmacy, the first thing you think about is convenience and good service.

Professional Pharmacy at 1000 Main offers both. Call 267-2546 for your needs.

Jimmy Anderson says they offer full family records for tax purposes, much in demand at this time of the year.

Their store also features a cosmetician and the very latest in cosmetic needs. If you are dissatisfied with the cosmetics you've been using, drop by their store and look over their selection.

They also have a number of gift items, especially in the cosmetic lines for both men and women.

Whatever your needs, you'll be glad you picked Professional Pharmacy.

McMahon Has Concrete Answers

answer for everything because they deal in concrete from precast to ready mix.

McMahon's has a concrete interest at heart because McMahon's is interested in the betterment of Big Spring and interested in each citizen.

They can fill any needs you might have — sidewalks, patios, driveways, watering troughs, patio furniture that would really last, a porch or steps.

The concrete steps shown here can make a mobile home so fancy that it doesn't even look like a mobile home.

Out in the rural area, McMahon's has to offer strong, long lasting precast concrete septic tanks in 350 and 500 gallon sizes. The tanks can be set in place where you need them by McMahon Concrete.

Other precast work done at McMahon's includes round and rectangular feed and water troughs in many sizes for farms and ranches. They also have precast concrete roofing sections and such home items as planters, garden benches and picnic sets.

If you are remodeling your home and want to add or repair a fireplace, McMahon Concrete has in stock dampers, grates, flue liners and clean-out doors.

McMahon's also has a complete line of contractor supplies including wheelbarrows, shovels, trowels, levels, bolt cutters, masonry blades, most hand tools, and cement finishing tools.

In fact if it has to do with concrete or cement — McMahon's has it!

One Way To Beat Seeding Ticket

CASTLE ROCK, Wash. (AP) — When a Washington State patrolman stopped a station wagon on Interstate 5 just north of Castle Rock, he planned to write a speeding ticket.

The driver, Jong Guo of Tigard, Ore., explained to Trooper Richard Killingsworth that his wife was in labor and they were trying to reach Seattle, 130 miles away, before the baby was born.

The couple, formerly of Taiwan, had friends in Seattle and had taken out health insurance there, Guo told Killingsworth.

But the trip was over. Killingsworth and J. D. Inman, a state weight control officer riding with him, helped deliver a boy before an ambulance crew arrived.

Killingsworth never wrote the speeding ticket.

EXCLUSIVELY A PHARMACY — When Bennett Brooke decided to move his drive-in pharmacy to its present location at 305 W. 15th Street, he was determined to deal exclusively in prescription-handling rather than offer sundry lines many so-called drug stores have. For that reason, the concern caters exclusively to persons in need of medicinal help. Local doctors who give prescriptions to their patients invariably turn to Bennett's for correct dosages and such service is offered without delay.

Educated People With Low Incomes Prone To Get Colds

CHICAGO (AP) — Highly educated people with low incomes are particularly prone to get colds, two medical researchers say.
The poorly educated rich are less prone to colds, the researchers reported in the Jan. 14 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.
EXCEPTION
The researchers, Dr. Arnold S. Monto and Dr. Betty M. Ullman of the University of Michigan's school of public health, based their findings on a six-year study in the town of Tecumseh, Mich.
Families were selected at random from among the 7,500 residents of the community.
The highest rate of acute respiratory illness — an average of 6.1 per year — was found among infants under one year of age.
With increasing age, the annual rate of illness dropped, except for the 20-29 age group, after which the rate resumed its decline.
The researchers said the reason for this exception is most couples start their families during this age period and are exposed to infectious agents by their small children, who have high rates of illness.
MINOR SYMPTOMS
Drs. Monto and Ullman related the higher frequency of colds among lower income groups to living conditions among the poor.
They said the higher rates among the well educated "may be related to the recognized differences in ability of individuals of varied backgrounds to recognize minor symptoms and to consider that they signify the existence of disease."
The researchers said, "Results obtained in Tecumseh should be viewed as probably applying to similar populations elsewhere in the United States."

C-C Board Checks Budget

Dr. Larry Key, dean of Occupational Education at Howard College, has been named chairman of a local committee which will prepare a study of Howard County's assets and liabilities concerning a manpower board, the board of the Chamber of Commerce was told Monday.
The Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission proposed the study through County Judge A. G. Mitchell, Ron Mercer, Chamber manager, said.

Board members reviewed chamber spending during 1973 which totaled $45,160, leaving a balance of about $100 in current receipts.
Revenue and spending for 1974 have both been budgeted at $46,493.

In other business, the board: Were notified about a resolution being endorsed by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. It urges the Constitutional Convention to retain the present good roads amendment in the proposed constitution.
Discussed a silver commemorative bowl given to U.S. Rep. George Mahon in honor of the congressman and Mrs. Mahon's 50th wedding anniversary Dec. 21.

And learned that almost all the 45 tickets for the annual meeting had been sold. LeRoy Van Dyke, the Country and Western singer who sang "The Auctioneer," will perform. Mercer said the public may purchase tickets at chamber offices.

Enrollment Dips At Graduation

Mid-term graduation knocked a hole in school enrollment last week, although a sharp gain in the elementary level modified the decrease. Senior high dropped 44 at mid-term, making 3,111 at the secondary level, down 47 for the week. Elementary enrollment, on the other hand, rose by 26 to reach 2,461. Hospital and homebound enrollment was 156, down one, leaving a total of 6,728, a loss of 22 for the week but only five off the comparable figure a year ago.

Dog Lovers

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for sticking up for the poodle lover. We know how she feels because we have an 80-pound boxer named Gus, whom we love like some parents love a child. Gus is well-trained and far more obedient than some of the neighborhood children. We wouldn't think of taking a trip without Gus, and we also spell in front of him because he understands everything we say.

I know a woman who gave her dying parakeet mouth-to-beak resuscitation and revived him. This may seem strange to some people, but an animal lover would understand. Do you?

PHOEBE ("GUS'S MOTHER")

DEAR MOTHER: Do I just sent $30 to The Beaver Dam, Wis., Veterinary Clinic for spaying a Dalmatian named "Dear Abby"?

An employe of the Humane Society in Beaver Dam informed me that they had a lovable mutt named "Dear Abby," who, because she wasn't spayed, was having difficulty finding a home. He said they were praying for a "miracle" because if they couldn't place "Abby" soon they would have to destroy her.

Well, they prayed, I prayed, and "Abby" was spayed.

DEAR ABBY: I sometimes receive a letter and notice that the postage stamp on the envelope has not been canceled, so I just pick it off and use it again.

Would you call that cheating?

TG

DEAR T.G.: I wouldn't call it being honorable.

DEAR ABBY: A situation in the grade school (grades 1-7) my children attend has caused concern. No toilet paper, soap, or towels are kept in the bathrooms. The students must ask for "supplies" from the teacher or the principal. The supplies are kept in each room in a "tote bag" to hand-carry down the hall or into the bathroom adjacent to the classroom.

Many students, rather than face the embarrassment of asking for the tote bag, and then be seen carrying it, will (1) hold their needs until recess at which time they use the bathroom, without using any sanitary supplies; at all, or (2) try to wait until they get home at the end of the school day.

I approached the principal. He listened patiently, then told me that because in the past the children had abused the supplies when left in the bathroom, the only alternative, as he saw it, was this method.

Beta Omicrons Slate Box Supper Jan. 26

An old-fashioned box supper will be held at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 26 in the home of Mrs. Jesse Curry, 2715 Central, for members of Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, and their husbands and guests.

The announcement was made at a Thursday meeting in the home of Mrs. William F. Jackson, 1200 Douglas, with Ms. Pam Holtorf as cohostess. Mrs. Bill McIntosh, president, presided.

A pledge training meeting was slated in the home of Mrs. Robert F. Penner, 2610 Carol, and members were reminded to sell tickets for My suggestion for implementing a student bathroom patrol, and-or new types of dispensers was not readily received.

According to the principal, this is not just a local problem. I'd like to know if other schools have found a better solution to this problem.

CONCERNED PARENT: AUGUSTA, GA.

DEAR CONCERNED: We shall see. In the meantime, write to the National Committee For Support For The Public Schools, Suite 410, Wilde Lake Village Green, Columbia, Md. 21044. Also your local chapter of American Civil Liberties Union may be helpful.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212.

Yearbooks Distributed By Ever Ready Club

New yearbooks were distributed when the Ever Ready Civic and Art Club met at the home of Mrs. Burel Perkins, president, last week, with Ms. Bobbie Williams leading prayer.

Mrs. Perkins announced that the executive board for the Stokes-Parker District will hold its February meeting in Big Spring.

A social committee composed of Mrs. Leroy Perry, Mrs. Charlie Johnson and Mrs. Annie Mae Anderson are coordinating plans for observance of the club's 26th

UTU Auxiliary Installs Officers

Two officers of the Ladies Auxiliary to the United Transportation Union were installed at a Friday meeting in the IOOF Hall, with Mrs. H. J. Rogers presiding. They were Mrs. Jack Smith, vice president; and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, pianist.

Mrs. Jenkins reported that cards had been sent to members who are sick, and a Christmas luncheon and poinsettia were delivered to a shut-in, Mrs. Edna Knowles.

A 40-year membership pin was mailed to Mrs. Sophie Corcoran who now resides in Fort Worth.

the Valentine Ball Feb. 16 at Dora Roberts Community Center. The tickets, obtainable from any Beta Sigma Phi member, sell for $6 per couple.

The program was given by William F. Jackson who spoke on the care and raising of chinchillas. Jackson, who raises the animals, said all his chinchillas are registered. In conjunction with the program, club members held a general discussion on ornithology in West Texas.

The next meeting will be Jan. 24 in the home of Mrs. Curry, at 7:30 p.m.

Glasscock-Martin To Hold Joint Meeting

The Glasscock County Home Demonstration Council will meet at 2 p.m., Friday in the Garden City courthouse, according to an announcement at the Lees HD Club meeting in the home of Mrs. J. J. Overton.

Mrs. Lynn Glass presented the devotional and presided. She said council committees from Martin and Glasscock counties will hold a joint meeting at 9:30 a.m., Jan. 22 in Stanton to set a date for the district meeting. That same day, at 2 p.m., a county-wide meeting will be held in the commissioners' court room at Garden City, with Mrs.

Miriam Curry of Midland speaking on how to save money with dairy products.

The program was given by Miss Kathryn Luckenbach, HD agent for Glasscock-Martin counties. She discussed punch needle handwork, displaying pictures she had made on burlap using this method. She concluded by showing slides of rugs being made with hooking needles.

Due to the fuel crisis, the club will meet once a month, starting in March, on the second Tuesday. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., Feb. 12 with Mrs. F. T. Carstensen as hostess.

'It's A Small World' At OWC Luncheon

A mini-prevue of "It's A Small World," the CR74 production by Big Spring High School students, was seen at Thursday's luncheon for Officer's Wives Club members and their guests at Webb Air Force Base.

Introduced by Gene Currey, assistant band director, the students performed a medley of songs, featuring Billy Nugent as soloist on "The Impossible Dream" and Buster Green with "Does Anybody Know What Time It Is?"

The luncheon was sponsored by the 781st Student Squadron, with Mrs. David Miller as general chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. John Mabry, treasurer; Mrs. Tracy Rhodes, publicity; Mrs. Warren Hodges, menu; Mrs. David Polenchar, decorations; and Mrs. Don Day, door prizes. Travel posters decorated the walls, and dining tables were centered with dolls, made by the squadron wives and attired to represent various countries. The dolls were awarded as prizes at the conclusion of the luncheon.

Mrs. Roy Peterson, president, introduced Mrs. Robert Liotta, wife of the wing commander, who spoke briefly concerning nominations for "military wife of the year." Also, she said a meeting will be held Jan. 21 when squadron commanders' wives will schedule future events to avoid conflicts.

Mrs. Clavion Cole, first vice president, introduced guests and a newcomer to the base, Mrs. Mary Hanson. Mrs. Robert Craig, third vice president, made the club announcements, noting that volunteers are needed for the Thrift Shop, Prairie Co-Pilot staff and nursery arts and crafts program.

Bridge lessons will be given by Mrs. Roger Ward, beginning Jan. 21, and interested persons should contact her at 263-0841. Mrs. Clements is in the process of setting up new special activity courses, and those interested in teaching courses or who have suggestions for new courses, were asked to contact her at 263-7494.

This month's Hi-Bye Coffee will be held in the Officer's Club at 10 a.m., Jan. 24. A Chinese auction is slated for the February luncheon, and all OWC members were asked to contribute items for the event.

The annual Arts and Crafts luncheon is scheduled in April. All entries for exhibit must be made by OWC members. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Clements.

Among those introduced at the head table was Mrs. Horace Miller, wife of the deputy commander for operations. The invocation was by Mrs. James Elwell.

Charter Draped By Beauceants

The charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Lyndon Day, past supreme worthy president, Social Order of the Beauceant, when the local group met Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. A. A. McKinney was installed as Daughter of the Household by Mrs. Harry Middleton, and plans were made to serve dinner to Big Spring Commandry No. 31 during their inspection Jan. 29.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. L. Lee, Mrs. Wayne Parish and Mrs. T. R. Morris. The next meeting will be Jan. 28.

Absorbing Odors

Place a piece of cotton saturated with vanilla extract in the refrigerator to absorb food odors.

Study Club Speaker

Dr. Ron Cohorn, director of the out-patient clinic at Big Spring State Hospital, was guest speaker at the January meeting of the Child Study Club in the home of Mrs. Tom Montgomery, 327 W. 14th. Mrs. W. A. Riley was cohostess.

Dr. Cohorn discussed principles of working with children, presented his own ideas and conducted a question and answer period.

Mrs. Curt Strong presided during the initial discussion of a new project, "Children in Danger," which will be explored further at the next meeting, 4 p.m., Feb. 13, in the Strong home, 2803 Goliad. The program, concerning emotional problems of adolescents, will be presented by Mrs. Phillip Morris.

Plans Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cathey, 2727 E. 25th, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Lori Kim, to Danny L. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy M. Wood, 1012 Nolan. The Rev. Claude Craven will perform the rites Jan. 24 in the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Teens Using More Alcohol

"Teenagers are turning more to alcohol and less to other drugs," said Floyd Kenison, guest speaker last week for the Parent-Teacher Association city council.

Kenison, a member of the Veterans Administration Hospital staff, said there is an alcoholic problem developing in elementary schools. Noting that alcoholism is the third-rated health problem, surpassed only by cancer and heart disease he said it takes an average of 12 to 18 years to become a "hard core" alcoholic but, it can be much less. The pattern may be established when the person is quite young.

"People needing an outlet for pent up emotions, often turn to alcohol," said Kenison. "After getting drunk, then sobering up, they start building up negative feelings all over again."

Explaining that tranquilizers are sometimes used to help in alcoholic withdrawal, Kenison said if they continue to be used, it may be substituting one crutch for another.

According to Kenison, there is as much alcohol in an 8-ounce glass of beer as there is in a one-ounce glass of 80-proof whiskey. Therefore, a six-pack of beer contains more alcohol than a half pint of 80-proof whiskey, vodka or gin.

In conjunction with the program on drugs, Jack Goble, security chief at the hospital, exhibited samples of various drugs.

Mrs. Vonda Townsend reported on the progress of the PTA's efforts to obtain a child welfare officer for Howard County. She said a list of qualifications for social service workers and requirements for foster homes were obtained from the district welfare office in Odessa. Letters have been sent to local organizations seeking support of this endeavor.

Don DeLeeuw presided, and the devotional was by Chaplain C. R. Perry.

The Heritage Museum gratefully acknowledges these memorials during the past quarter honoring friends and loved ones whose lives left an individual heritage to those whom they touched.

Fuel diversification is important to you and your family.

But what is it?

Fuel diversification is the key to our being able to supply the electricity you'll need in the years ahead.

It means using several kinds of fuel to generate electricity. Making the best use out of the fuels available to us. And reducing our dependence on fuels in short supply.

At Texas Electric, natural gas is our major fuel, with oil used on a standby basis. We foresaw growing shortages of these fuels and several years ago developed long-range plans to diversify to lignite coal and nuclear fuels.

We now have one lignite plant in operation and two others under construction. A nuclear-fueled plant is planned for operation by 1980.

One advantage of lignite and nuclear fuels is that neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than generating electricity. A disadvantage is that it costs much more to build these plants than gas-fired plants. Lignite plants cost about twice as much. Nuclear plants cost more than three times as much.

In just the next five years alone TESCO must spend $700 million on new facilities. Financing these essential expenditures makes an increase in electric service rates necessary.

We're working to supply the electricity you need, but it will have to cost more in the future.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Maybe they ought to divide the NFL back into two leagues, sort of like it was before. Miami could be in one league and the other 25 teams could be in another league. The 25 teams could have this playoff, you see, and the winner would get to lose to Miami in the Super Bowl.

That's a pretty drastic realignment plan, but then it looks like this situation calls for drastic measures. It's hard to believe that something so tremendous, so unbelievably superior, could be so monotonous. Never before have so many fans left the Super Bowl so many times for so many refreshments.

I never thought it could happen, but the Dolphins — what a ridiculous name for such a destructive bunch of men — are making people say "Green Bay who?" Well, maybe not literally, but figuratively. It's been rumored that all of football prior to 1971 would be called BM (Before Miami), but that's been ruled out because of other not-so-pleasant connotations.

That's what is so scary about the Dolphins. Out of those men who have won 32 of their last 34 games, only five are over 30 years old. The 45 men who suited up for Super Bowl VIII Sunday in Houston averaged just over 26 1/2 years of age per player.

They might as well move the SB to Miami permanently. It would save a lot of traveling expenses.

It's difficult to even envision Miami losing a single game within the next three or four years. Guys like Larry Csonka, Bob Griese, Larry Little, Bob Kuechenberg, Jake Scott, Manny Fernandez and Mercury Morris are just approaching greatness — they aren't even in their prime yet. Others like Vern Den Herder and Tim Foley are still kids, practically. The only folks that you'd call real seasoned veterans, like close to 10 years in the league, are Nick Buoniconti, Marv Fleming, Paul Warfield — and of course, Earl Morrall.

Apparently, the only thing that remains is for the Dolphins to convince themselves that three or four straight Super Bowl championships wouldn't be at all boring, which has been no easy task for some teams in the past.

All I can add is . . . it's a good thing Dallas got beat two weeks ago.

Here's an item for all you kids with dreams of medals and titles, and for you others pondering a comeback. Spaghetti. Not Wheaties or even top-sirloin, is the breakfast of champions. No kidding.

Dr. David L. Costill, director of the Human Performance Laboratory at Ball State University says a high-carbohydrate diet a couple of days before a sporting event gives athletes greater stamina. "We find that you can super-compensate the muscle by first depleting it of sugar and then putting the athlete on a high-carbohydrate diet for three or four days before his event," the good doctor said.

That means bread, potatoes and spaghetti are better than that nasty old protein-filled steak. Dr. Costill said many athletes at Ball State usually eat the three foods before a game. He didn't mention what Ball State's football record was this past year, if that's important to you.

Wranglers Rally To Trip T-Birds

ODESSA — Johnny Brooks connected on three gratis pitches in the final 13 seconds to give Odessa College a 91-89 Western Conference victory over New Mexico Junior College here Monday night.

The win was the ninth of the year for the Wranglers, compared to four losses. In conference, Odessa is 3-1, having lost only to Howard College.

Odessa nipped Clarendon College in Clarendon, 70-68, in their last Western Conference start. Odessa goes to Amarillo Thursday for a game.

ODESSA (71) — Mitchell 8-17; C. Giddens 4-9; Gese 1-22; Cox 4-12; S. Giddens 3-9; Jenkins 11-4-26; Brooks 6-4-18. Totals 29-19-91.

Hawk Reserves Glisten In Win Over Badgers

By JACK COWAN

When Thomas Bledsoe joined his big buddy Taylor Williams on the bench with foul trouble early in the second half, a black cloud hung over the 1,100 fans in the Howard College Gym Monday night.

With the two 6-7 sophomores, the main wheels in the Hawks' 105-point per game offense, watching with four fouls apiece and the Big Springers on top by just three points, Amarillo's mammoth Badgers seemed on their way to an easy victory.

But it didn't work that way. With 6-5 post man David Tolliver filling and Big Spring forward Mike Randle playing his best 20 minutes of the year, the Hawks turned into a scrappy unit and raced to a crucial 103-92 Western Conference triumph.

"It was our reserves that won the game for us," an elated Harold Wilder said after the win that gave his Hawks sole possession of the WC lead.

"Even though Bledsoe, Williams, (Leroy) Lumzy, and (Bobby) Beall played good games, it was David Tolliver, Johnny Harris, Keith Lewis and Randle that did it."

"These guys came off the bench and held on," the coach said.

LUMZY HOT Lumzy hit 25 points to spark the win and Bledsoe had 20 of the Hawks rolled to 22-2 and 5-0 in the WC, scored their 14th straight victory and hit the century mark for the 18th time this year. Williams, with 16 points, and Randle with 12 added to the cause.

Badger guard Harold Rhodes was all the Hawks expected he would be — and more — as he burned the hosts for 34 points from everywhere on the court.

Daryl Peterson, Amarillo's 6-8 post man, chipped in 20 points, 6-7 forward Mike Harris hit 18 and 6-6 Tony Wooden added 12 points.

The Badgers slipped to 4-1 in WC play and 11-3 on the season. The first 20 minutes were wild ones. A goal tending call with five minutes gone off the clock, one of five awarded the Hawks during the night, gave Williams two points and put the Hawks in front for the first time, 15-14.

After that the lead changed hands 18 times, with the Badgers climbing on top for the last time with 6:04 left in the half at 38-37 on a basket by Rhodes. Howard College got on top by as many as six points, but with 1:43 remaining Williams committed his fourth foul and Amarillo, taking advantage of two HC turnovers in the final minute, tied the score at 55-55.

FOURTH PERSONAL Bledsoe got his fourth personal with 17:11 left and the Hawks up by 66-63, and he stalked to the side of the court as Wilder gritted his teeth. But Tolliver, dwarfed by three Badgers, hit a pair of baskets and Beall added another as the hosts surprised Amarillo by stretching the edge to 72-63 with 14:36 remaining. The Badgers suddenly went cold, and it wasn't until midway in the second half that they could cut the margin to 78-77.

That's when Williams and Bledsoe reappeared, however, and the Hawks outscored Amarillo 9-2 in the next four minutes before Williams finally fouled out. With just over four minutes left Harris hit two straight baskets that gave the Hawks a 93-81 edge and the game was put away.

Amarillo could get no closer than 10 points after that and Bledsoe made it 101-88 on a goal-tending call with 38 seconds remaining.

WESTERN TEXAS (93) — Amarillo 92: David Nevezar 16-20; Daryl Peterson 20-24; Tony Wooden 12-18; Mike Harris 18-22; Keith Lewis 12-16; Harold Rhodes 34-40; Taylor Williams 16-20; Leroy Lumzy 25-30; Bobby Beall 12-16; Johnny Harris 18-22; Mike Harris 18-22; Keith Lewis 12-16; Harold Rhodes 34-40; Taylor Williams 16-20; Leroy Lumzy 25-30; Bobby Beall 12-16; Johnny Harris 18-22.

Billy Jean King Athlete Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Jean King, who beat Bobby Riggs in her continuing crusade to upgrade the image of women in sports, was named Female Athlete of the Year by The Associated Press today.

Ms. King, as she prefers to be addressed, was the overwhelming choice in the voting of AP member sports writers and broadcasters. She received 487 votes, compared with 146 for Olga Korbut, the Russian gymnast who received the honor last year for her Olympic performance.

Kathy Whitworth, who was Athlete of the Year in 1965 and 1966, was a distant third with 34 votes, followed by Margaret Court of Australia, winner of the French, Australian and United States open tennis championships, with 20; swimmer Keena Rothhammer, 11; track star Mary Decker, 9, and tennis pro Chris Evert, 7.

The award is accompanied by the Babe Didrikson Zaharias Trophy, presented annually by George Zaharias in memory of his wife, the late golfing great who was AP Athlete of the Year six times.

Billy Jean, who also was named AP Athlete of the Year in 1967, was overshadowed by Mrs. Court on the pro tennis tournament trail. The only major international title to come her way was Wimbledon, which she won for the fifth time in her career. But her straight-set triumph over the 55-year-old Riggs in one of the most highly touted hustles of all time left little doubt of her ability to play under pressure.

UCLA and Notre Dame, rolling on a collision course toward the next two weekends, continued to hold down the 1-2 spots in The Associated Press college basketball ratings today.

The Fighting Irish, seeking to match their football counterparts with a No. 1 ranking, received 816 points.

North Carolina State's 80-74 triumph over Maryland on Sunday brought about a switch in positions from last week's poll. This time, N.C. State is third with 700 points and Maryland fourth with 598.

North Carolina retained its No. 5 ranking while Marquette climbed from seventh to sixth by defeating San Diego State and DePaul.

"Winning Wimbledon was the most rewarding for me personally," said Ms. King, the top-ranked woman player in the United States, "but beating Riggs did more for the cause of getting recognition for women. 'From a professional standpoint, I had one of the worst years ever. I only won eight or nine tournaments compared with 19 or 20 in 1972. 'The AP Athlete of the Year is strictly a popularity contest. I should have won it in 1971 the year Evonne Goolagong won it. I played the best tennis I ever played that year.'"
