BODIES FOUND Nine Men Buried By Earthslide

CANYONVILLE, Ore. (AP) — The bodies of two of the nine men buried by a massive earthslide were found in Canyon Creek today near the spot where a concrete blockhouse was demolished Wednesday night.

Douglas County Sheriff Joe Pruett said the bodies were found about a mile downstream from the spot where a 10-by-10 foot concrete telephone company building containing nine workers was crushed and buried by a huge rock and mudslide Wednesday night.

A sheriff's department spokesman identified the two as being among the nine men trapped in the slide.

State geologists probed the mountain of fallen earth to determine when and how to begin digging to reach the seven remaining missing men. The danger of further slides from the rain-drenched hill temporarily postponed rescue efforts near this southwestern Oregon community.

West Texas 'Oil Boom'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission extended the statewide 100 per cent oil allowance to February today amid signs—according to chairman Jim Langdon—that drilling is on the upswing. February will be the 23rd consecutive month of wide-open oil production in Texas.

Langdon said he had talked with oilmen in West Texas, and they said that drilling in the Odessa-Midland area is accelerating so rapidly that it ranks with the boom times of the 1950s. "There is a decided increase in drilling" in other areas of the state, Langdon said, despite shortages of pipe, gas and oil field workers.

By developing all of its fuel sources, Langdon said, the United States has "far more energy fuels than the Arab nations have."

He said indications are that Arab oil may go up to $18-$20 a barrel and at that cost the United States could compete on the world market at "half the price."

CR '74 Preview Slated Monday

Because all four regularly scheduled nights of Campus Revue '74 are virtual sellouts, $2 tickets will be sold to those who desire to see a special preview of the Big Spring High School Band show Monday night in the high school auditorium.

The duets will be available at the door, according to band director Bill Bradley.

Members of the news media will be special guests of the band Monday evening. A special section will be roped off for representatives of the press. The show gets under way at 8 o'clock nightly.

Publisher Seaton Dies

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the Interior in the Eisenhower administration and a well known Midwest publisher, is dead. He was 64.

Seaton died Wednesday night in a hospital following a long illness, authorities said.

The Hastings, Neb., native was actively involved in the effort to persuade Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to seek the presidency and served in various key positions during the Eisenhower presidency.

He was appointed assistant secretary of Defense in the Eisenhower administration in 1953. In 1955 he became an administrative assistant to Eisenhower, acting as liaison between the White House and Congress.

Gillman Will Coach Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers General Manager Sid Gillman, in a turnabout from his earlier statements, announced today he would return as head coach of the Oilers for the 1974 season.

"I know I have said before I would not return as coach," he said, "but at least two reasons made me change my mind."

"First, some players asked me if I would remain and secondly, there was a desire to maintain continuity."

New Uniforms, Or New Policemen?

Apparently, new police uniforms which arrived recently are not all perfect fits.

A notice on the blackboard at the police station states, "If your trousers do not fit, do nothing to them until we get all uniforms in. Then we will get together and determine what to do."

Quipped one policeman, "If we don't fit the pants, they may get new officers."

Agreement On Mideast Armies Looms

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli sources said they expect Moscow, Washington, Egypt and Israel to announce today that agreement has been reached on separating the Egyptian and Israeli armies.

Officials said the disengagement agreement would have to be submitted to the Mideast peace conference in Geneva.

The Israeli Cabinet apparently approved a plan worked out by U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who has been in the Mideast since last Friday, shuttling between Jerusalem and Aswan, Egypt.

Sources said Israel might get only mutual understandings with Egypt, instead of a written pledge, on thinning out Arab forces east of the Suez Canal.

There was no immediate report from Egypt's President Anwar Sadat on an agreement.

The Israeli Cabinet issued a statement after its meeting that said there still had to be some "technical clarifications."

The statement said the Cabinet unanimously empowered Premier Golda Meir "to transmit to the secretary of State the Israeli government's reply to the proposals regarding the separation of forces on the Egyptian front, following technical clarifications."

A U.S. official had said earlier that the agreement was 90 per cent complete and that none of the obstacles remaining was a "gut issue."

Foreign Minister Abba Eban said before the Cabinet meeting there were "some substantial points to be clarified."

He said over Israeli state radio that negotiations were proceeding at an intensive pace.

Eban conceded after talking with Kissinger Wednesday night that the American mediator had made "certain progress."

Egyptian newspapers wrote of a disengagement agreement today in terms that also indicated one was near.

"The wording and clauses of each provision will be clear and precise in such a way as to avoid ambiguity or misinterpretation by any of the parties," said Al Gomhouriya.

"Each of the Israeli pullback stages will be implemented according to a timetable and will stipulate minute details on the transport of equipment and thinning out of Israeli troops, the number of these forces and the kinds of weapons."

However, no one gave any indication of how the various points of disagreement previously reported were being resolved.

Stanton Is In No Danger Of Losing Its Courthouse

STANTON — The threat of a vote to move the Martin County Courthouse from Stanton to near Tarzan, went down the drain Wednesday with the stroke of a pen.

A county seat in debt cannot be moved. When the county judge signed the bonds voted in a recent bond issue to construct a new courthouse, the threat of a move of the county seat was automatically eliminated.

Suspected Murderer Of Local Men Jailed

Richard Allen Benfield, 25 of Kennett, Mo., Phoenix, Ariz. and Big Spring, was arrested in Phoenix Wednesday and has been charged with 11 armed robberies in the Phoenix area and is being questioned in connection with two murders in Texas and one in Arizona.

A warrant for Benfield had been put out after local police detectives gathered information that the two men found earlier this week near Midland and Barstow, shot in the head, had been seen with Benfield in the Oasis Bar in Big Spring the night before the bodies were found.

On Tuesday, the body of Eddy Gene McCormack, 28, originally from Snyder and living in Big Spring, was found dumped along Interstate 20 nine miles west of Midland. Later Ernest E. Johnson, 18, of Big Spring was found slain 100 yards north of Interstate 20 near Barstow. Both men had been shot earlier, once in the head. It was not known where this shooting occurred. Johnson was shot a second time after the body was lying on the ground with one bullet found under the body.

Benfield, who had been staying at a local motel, telephoned a Big Spring girl friend from the Oasis around 8 p.m. Monday night and asked her to drive him, McCormack and Johnson to Odessa. She told local police detectives that she refused.

Local police detective Richard Cantwell stated that the trio was later seen Monday at a west side pool hall and they were also reported to have purchased a case of beer as they left.

The two murdered men and the man arrested are all known

FBI Enters Tape Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — An assistant special prosecutor today questioned the reliability of Secret Service records showing who in the White House had access to the presidential tapes.

The new line of questioning developed a day after it was learned that the FBI had entered the investigation into who might have been responsible for the 18½-minute gap in one of the subpoenaed tapes.

Robert Frank, an FBI spokesman, confirmed Wednesday night that Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski had asked the bureau to enter the investigation.

In court today, Assistant Special Prosecutor Richard Benveniste asked Raymond C. Zumwalt, a Secret Service technician, about the records he had of who had received and returned tapes.

Benveniste pointed to a notation showing that presidential aide Stephen B. Bull had received tapes on July 10, 1973. Bull subsequently turned those tapes over to former White House staff chief, H.R. Haldeman Johnson, 18, and Eddy G. McCormack, both of Big Spring, and Stanley E. Sandage, 33, Amarillo.

had been paid around $40 for a recent job Monday. Officers found ten $10 bills in his pocket, which they reported were unaccounted for at this time.

was in Big Spring today interviewing witnesses who can place the three men together.

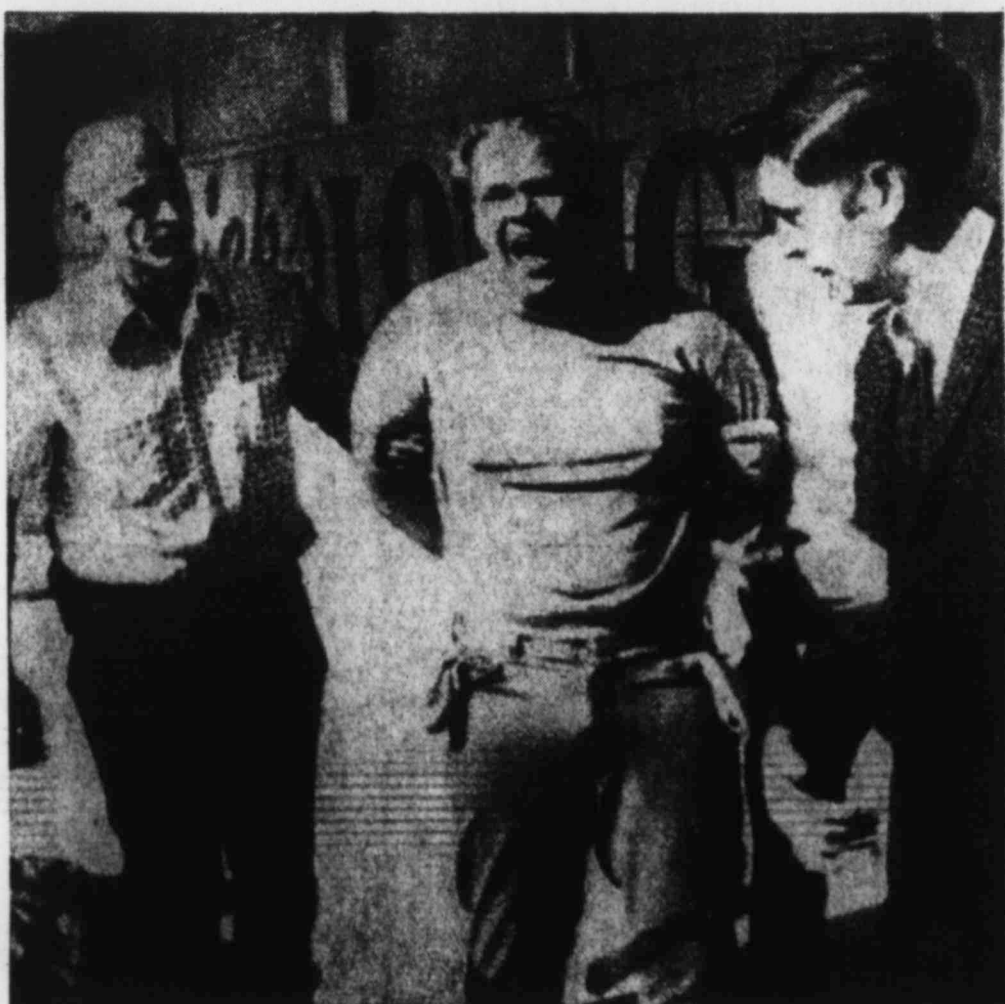

found parked in front of a drugstore in Van Horn.

An Amarillo trucker, found shot in Flagstaff, Ariz., Tuesday may also be connected with the case, according to officers. His truck had been routed through Van Horn.

Phoenix officers also arrested William Klunkers, 26, of Phoenix in connection with the robberies.

Benfield is also sought on a felony check charge, parole violation and failure to appear in court in Missouri and for rape and aggravated assault in Tennessee.

He was arrested in Phoenix while walking out the door of a northside tavern after allegedly threatening to kill the first police officer he saw.

SUSPECT IN MURDERS CAPTURED — Richard Allen Benfield, 25, Kennett, Mo., native, is shown as officers arrested him at a Phoenix tavern Wednesday for questioning in two roadside killings in Texas and one in Arizona. Benfield was questioned about the deaths of Ernest E. Johnson, 18, and Eddy G. McCormack, both of Big Spring, and Stanley E. Sandage, 33, Amarillo.

ATTY. GEN. JOHN HILL Declares Police Reports 'Off-Limits' To Newsmen

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The attorney general's department said today that police reports on a crime are protected from public disclosure by the Texas Open Records Act, but may be released if local authorities wish.

The statement was made by David M. Kendall, chairman of the attorney general's opinion committee, in an attempt to clarify an opinion made Wednesday by the department.

"We think there has been some misinterpretation," said Kendall, who said he was speaking for Atty. Gen. John Hill. "As far as we are concerned there is nothing in the opinion that would keep such reports from being made available to reporters. We said the law says that authorities cannot be forced to reveal the contents of the reports."

PLAN MEETING

Hill's office announced shortly afterwards that Hill planned to meet "at some convenient time" with representatives of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association, Texas Press Association, Texas Association of Broadcasters and other interested groups to discuss the opinion.

NORMAL POLICY

Hill said in a news release that he had "suggested a quasi-judicial hearing in our conference room, at a time convenient to all, wherein the legal counsel of those groups can present their legal theories and legal authorities relating to Open Records Decisions 18 and 19.

"This is in keeping with our normal policy to grant a reasonable hearing to any group on an opinion issued by this office," Hill said.

The Wednesday opinion quoted from the Open Records Act that said "records of law enforcement agencies that deal with the detection and investigation of crime and the internal records and notations of such law enforcement agencies which are maintained for internal use in matters relating to law enforcement" are exempt from disclosure.

OF COURSE

Then the attorney general's opinion said: "We feel that disclosure of such a record as this would be contrary to (the provision quoted) of the act concerning information deemed confidential... We therefore are of the opinion and decide that an offense report prepared by a police officer is not subject to disclosure under the Open Records Act."

'Stringbean' Case Solved?

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Four men have been arrested in the slaying of country music performer David "Stringbean" Akeman and his wife.

Police identified them Wednesday as John A. Brown Jr., 23, and Marvin D. Brown, 21, both of Nashville, each charged with two counts of murder, and Charles Brown, 32, and Roy Brown, 23, both of nearby Greenbrier, charged with accessory after the fact of murder and receiving and concealing stolen merchandise.

Police said John and Marvin are cousins and Charles and Roy are brothers of Marvin.

Akeman, 57, and his wife Estelle, 59, were found shot to death early Nov. 11 at their home north of Nashville. Police have theorized that they surprised burglars when they returned home after Akeman's appearance on the Grand Ole Opry, where he was a regular.

Police speculate the killers took an estimated $17,000 that Akeman, a banjo player, had in his possession only a few days prior to his death. However, the killers overlooked about $5,700 hidden on the bodies of the couple.

Police would not say if the money was recovered.

CHARGED IN 'STRINGBEAN' SLAYING — Roy Brown, Greenbrier, Tenn., is led to police headquarters in Nashville Wednesday to be charged as an accessory to murder in the slaying of David "Stringbean" Akeman. He also was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property. Three other men were also charged in the case.

May Result In $50 Million Sales Tax Gain For State

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas has won a victory in state court over the federal government which could result in a $50 million sales tax gain for the state treasury.

An auditor for the state comptroller's office, Bob Owens, said the ruling means firms operating under contract with such giant agencies as NASA might have to pay sales taxes on their purchases from 1963.

The ruling Wednesday by the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals here said Day & Zimmermann, Inc., which operates the Lone Star Army Ammunition plant at Texarkana, owned $112,688 in sales taxes on its purchases between 1964 and 1968. It is expected to be appealed.

Owens did the audit that uncovered the unpaid taxes.

When Day & Zimmermann filed suit challenging Texas' right to collect taxes on the company's purchases, the federal government intervened on the munitions maker's side.

"They are going to make a test case out of this," said Asst. Atty. Gen. Gordon Cass, who is handling the case for Texas with Asst. Atty. Gen. Lewis Jones.

HOMOSEXUAL MASS TORTURE-MURDERS IN HOUSTON

Says Texan Paid $200 For Boys

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — David Mullican, a detective who told of how teen-age boys were bought for $200 for homosexual acts, torture and murder, was on the stand for the third day today in a pre-trial hearing for Elmer Wayne Henley, 17.

Mullican testified Wednesday that Henley admitted guilt in the series of grisly tortures and slayings that became known as the Houston mass murders. A police detective in suburban Pasadena, Mullican headed the probe into the slayings.

CHARGED WITH SIX

The detective said Henley told him how Dean Arnold Corll, 33, bought the teen-age boys.

Henley is charged with six of the 27 deaths which occurred here over the past three years. Another defendant, David Owen Brooks, 18, is charged in four of the deaths and is due to go on trial March 4. Henley is due to go on trial in the murder of one of the youths, Charles R. Cobble, 17, a former neighbor.

Defense attorneys are trying to exclude oral and written statements Henley made to police in the slayings. District Court Judge William Hatten has set the trial for Henley immediately after the pre-trial hearings.

Wednesday, Will Gray, a defense lawyer, said he plans to seek a six-month delay in the trial after the motion to suppress the statements is disposed of. Gray said the delay is needed to let publicity die down.

SHOT, KILLED

Henley was arrested Aug. 8 after he telephoned police and said he had shot and killed Corll, the man police say was the mastermind in the homosexual murder and torture ring. Corll's slaying was later ruled self-defense.

Wednesday, Mullican testified Corll once told Henley that he belonged to a "homosexual ring which bought and sold boys." The boys, said Mullican, were used for "homosexual acts, sodomy, maybe later killing. The going price was $200, Mullican testified, but more was paid for "really good-looking boys."

Mullican said Henley told him in an oral statement that he participated in the torture and sexual mutilation of some of the young boys. A few of them were castrated as they were tied spread-eagle on a plywood board in a bedroom of Corll's home, he said.

'HANG HIM'

Selma Winkle, mother of one of the mass murder victims, left the courtroom after the testimony, crying and moaning loudly. In the lobby of the courthouse she said, "They ought to hang him," referring to Henley, who was just 14 years-old when he first started associating with Corll.

Mullican said Henley first admitted he had participated in the slayings on Aug. 9, the day after his arrest. "He said he had actually killed six persons himself," the officer said.

The police officer said before he took the statement from Henley he told him that he did not have to speak, and that anything he said would be used against him in a trial.

"He told me he was glad to get it off his chest," Mullican said, "that he had done so much he was glad it came to an end."

Mullican related the details of the oral statements over a stream of objections by Gray. Most were overruled by Judge

Hatten, who said he would delay decisions on the admissibility of all statements until the end of the hearing.

Gray said after filing his motion for a continuance he was concerned about the inflammatory coverage of the trial. "My basic quarrel is not with the news media but with the police officers who released these inflammatory statements, told the media that Henley had admitted to so many killings and released Brooks' statement for publication in the newspaper."

IN SAN ANTONIO JAIL Marriage May Be In Stars For Former Syrian Officer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Marriage may be the conclusion to a courtship which began with a sympathetic letter to Mandouh Barbour, a former Syrian Army official who contends he is a refugee from his native government.

Barbour, 43, has been in jail here for the past 20 months. He is fighting being returned to Syria where he is accused of stealing $500,000 in military funds.

STOLE $500,000

Barbour has told reporters he has asked a 30-year-old San Antonio woman to marry him.

The woman, who has asked not to be identified, first wrote Barbour and also is among petitioners who seek asylum for Barbour in the United States.

Barbour said his marriage has nothing to do with his battle for freedom and added he does "not want people to think I got married to get out of jail."

PLEA FOR FREEDOM

His plea for freedom in the United States is pending before the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans. He is charged by the U.S. government with illegal entry into this country.

Barbour says the charges against him in Syria are politically motivated. He says he fled the country after being forced to work with a Palestinian guerilla unit.

Of his marriage proposal, he was quoted by one newspaper as saying, "We really would rather wait until I am cleared and freed from jail. Neither of us would like to get married behind prison bars."

Another newspaper said the wedding may be early next month, presumably while Barbour is still in jail awaiting the outcome of his appeal.

College Guide Originator Dies

RED BANK, N.J. (AP)—Clarence E. Lovejoy, 79, originator of Lovejoy's College Guide, died Wednesday. He served as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's public relations director for the European theater in World War II and once was boating editor of The New York Times.

Globe Only Evening Paper In Boston

BOSTON (AP)—The Herald American will stop publishing its two afternoon editions, leaving the city with only one afternoon newspaper, publisher Harold G. Kern announced Wednesday.

The Herald American will continue to publish its two morning editions. The afternoon editions accounted for about 60,000 of the paper's total circulation of about 375,000.

Kern said the Herald American will stop publishing the two afternoon editions beginning the week of Feb. 11.

This will leave The Boston Evening Globe as the city's only evening paper.

Kern said the move has been under consideration since June 1972, when the Herald American was formed by the merger of the Boston Herald Traveler and the Boston Record American. The paper had planned to drop the evening editions in April 1974, but the increasing prices of newsprint and the limitations on gasoline brought it about sooner, Kern said.

Says Did Not Want To Plead Guilty

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Noe Alaniz Trevino said Wednesday he fired his lawyer because the man pleaded him guilty to a federal heroin smuggling charge when he did not want to plead guilty.

Alaniz Trevino, 44, of Matamoros, Mexico, also is charged in state court with conspiring with Cameron County Judge Ray Ramon and county civil defense director Carlos Carrasco to murder county commissioner Adolph Thomae Jr. of San Benito.

The guilty plea was entered in federal court recently where Alaniz Trevino and two other Mexican nationals were accused of smuggling a kilo (about 2.2 pounds) of heroin.

Alaniz Trevino said he fired lawyer Abel Toscano of Harlingen because Toscano pleaded him guilty when he did not want to plead guilty.

"I'm not saying I'm innocent—but I can say I'm guilty for being there when the narcotics transaction was made," Alaniz Trevino said in an interview with Tony Chapa of KGBT-TV, Harlingen, at the county jail.

"If I wanted to plead guilty, I would never have hired any attorney," said Alaniz Trevino, noting that he and his family have paid Toscano a total of $5,000 for the two cases.

He said Toscano wants another $5,000 to continue representing him.

"I'm throwing myself at the mercy of the court. If they find me guilty I will have to pay for it, but I'm not going to hire any attorney because I cannot afford one," he continued.

Saying he has a wife, 11 children, his parents and 12 brothers to support, Alaniz Trevino said, "My family is going hungry and there is no way I can hire one."

Claiming Toscano never completely briefed him on the conspiracy case, Alaniz Trevino said he does not understand the court proceedings because "I don't understand a word of English."

Youth Horsemen Club Slates Feb. 23 Playday

The Howard County Youth Horsemen Club voted for several activities or events over the coming year at its first meeting of 1974 at the First Federal Savings and Loan meeting room.

As Junior President Mark Sanders and Senior President Mike Hull presided, the group decided Feb. 23 would be an open benefit playday with proceeds going to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and the Multiple Sclerosis Society. Registration begins at noon with the events starting at 1 p.m.

But the club's first activity will be a clean-up day at their arena on Garden City Highway beginning Feb. 9 at 2 p.m., followed by a weiner roast under Mrs. Billy Greenfield's direction. All members are invited.

The club's meetings begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Federal's meeting room every second Monday of each month. Dues are $5 per family.

At the first meeting, new members welcomed were Clayton and Joe Hicks and Peggy Hannabas. All members were also asked to read over the club by-laws and offer any suggestions in writing by Friday to President Mike Hull, Secretary

Mrs. Joe T. Smith or Dr. Nell Sanders.

Club events or sponsorships will include backing senior queen Lana Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, in the race for ABC Rodeo queen in Lubbock March 20 and 21. The candidate selling the most rodeo tickets wins.

The club will also ride in the San Angelo Rodeo Parade March 8 with members leaving the Highland South Parking lot at 6 a.m. to be in the parade by 10 a.m.

Tickets (at $1 a head) will go on sale in February for a drawing at club's first open playday April 27. Registration again begins at noon, and the events start at 1 p.m. The drawing will be held for half of a beef or $100 — winner's choice.

The club's closed playdays will be May 18, June 15 and July 13; each with registration at 6 p.m. and events starting at 7 p.m. Final open playday is August 24 with registration at 7 p.m. and events at 8 p.m. Belt buckles or halters are awarded at this playday. Trail rides are scheduled August 3 and Sept. 14, and trailbosses for the August overnight ranch ride are R. G. Click and L. C. Gibbs.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Dist. 5-AAAA coaches gathered here this morning to try to shed some light on the possibility of naming a commissioner to oversee officiating for league games beginning next fall. Besides the eight catches, several other folks were on hand, either in an advisory capacity or as prospective commissioners.

Earl Presley of Odessa, formerly one of the czar-types, Keith Anderson, presently commissioner of Dist. 2-AAA officials and Midland Athletic Director T. L. "Tugboat" Jones were among those on hand.

The most popular aspect of the system — at least as far as coaches are concerned — is that it provides for someone coaches can take their gripes to. It also should result in better over-all officiating teams.

People can hardly talk about the Super Bowl without bringing up that ridiculous rap about Fran Tarkenton being a loser. Man, that's really dumb. They said the same thing about the Dallas Cowboys in general and Don Meredith in particular five years ago — that they were chokers, couldn't win the Big Game.

That smells, it really does. Two hundred million people, including 24 other pro quarterbacks, didn't even get to the Super Bowl and nobody's calling them losers. With Tarkenton at quarterback, Minnesota won 14 games and lost three, the Vikings beat Washington and they beat Dallas in playoffs, both Big Games.

Besides, you can't blame Sunday's Super Bowl loss to Miami on Fran any more than you can pin Custer's Last Stand on Dustin Hoffman. Miami had the Viking defense crying Uncle before the first TV commercial, and he was behind 14-0 before he could even work up a good sweat.

The fact that he gave his Super Bowl earnings to charity didn't prompt this rebuttal, seeing as how he's a millionaire and all. I just think folks ought to take their vengeance out on someone who deserved it — like your wife or your little brother, maybe.

Harold Wilder, Howard College's nimble-brained basketball coach who earlier introduced a theory proving that basketball games were good for energy crises, has come up with another one. He wants to know if he can keep his thermostat on 55 and drive 88.

Archie Myers, one of the few stars in the not-so-shiny Stephen F. Austin basketball lineup this year, may be playing left lasagna or outside pepperoni this time next year. Archie's buddy, former All-American Pete Harris, is playing in a professional basketball league in Italy this year and the former HCJC star might join him, depending upon how pro prospects are shaping up on this side of the ocean later on.

Three Big Spring area teams made the December 20 poll. Klondike is No. 1 in Class B, with Forsan No. 17, and Coahoma ranks 16th in the Class AA voting.

Baseball Honors Jackson Due

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Oakland A's slugger Reggie Jackson will be honored as American League Player of the Year at the third annual Kansas City Baseball Awards Dinner Feb. 5.

Keys Wins Bass Title

Vic Keyes hauled in a seven pound, eight and a half ounce black bass to capture the Big Spring Bass Club's annual honors.

Keys said he caught the fish at Moss Creek Lake, using a dabbling rod with a jig and a lizard.

Several BSBC members produced bass over six pounds to challenge the 1973 champion. Included in the competition were Dale Byrd, Jim Reynaud, Bill Emerson, Ed Henry, Maxey Ware, Jim Crenshaw and Jerry Avery.

The club has just started its new season. Anyone interested in joining the club is welcome to attend the meetings, held the second Thursday of each month at the First Federal Hospitality room at 7:30 p.m.

Mantle, Ford Finally Have Common Bond

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford, always a study in contrasts, today have something very basic in common. The longtime New York Yankee teammates are the newest members of baseball's Hall of Fame.

Mantle, eligible for the first time, and Ford, on the ballot for the second time, both received more than the required 75 per cent of the 365 ballots cast by members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Mantle was named on 322 ballots and Ford on 284 with 272 the number necessary for election. They will be inducted into the baseball shrine at Cooperstown, N.Y., this summer.

Pitcher Robin Roberts was third in the balloting with 224 votes and slugger Ralph Kiner finished fourth with 215.

"I'm just glad we got in together," said Ford, nodding at Mantle. "It means more that way."

Mantle was a country boy from Commerce, Okla., a shy slugger who never felt at home in the big city but achieved stardom with raw talent for hitting a baseball farther than most other players.

Ford was a product of the city, born and bred in New York, with a brash, cocky demeanor and a combination of guile and ability that made him one of the game's best pitchers.

They arrived in New York a year apart in the early 1950s and discovered an affinity for each other.

Mavs, Brahmas Travel To Lamar

The Goliad Mavericks and Big Spring Brahmas visit Snyder Lamar tonight, the first action in a month for the two teams.

The Brahmas take a 10-0 reading into the tilt, and the Toros are 7-3. The eighth grade contest is set for 5:30 p.m. with the freshman tilt to follow at 7 p.m.

Big Job Ahead Of Arnsperger

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants, hoping to have some of Miami's Super Bowl magic rub off on them, pulled Bill Arnsperger out of their football hats Wednesday and now the former Dolphin assistant coach faces his most difficult task — turning a 2-1-1 team into a winner.

This won't be the first time Arnsperger, who is credited with masterminding the Dolphins' powerful "No Name Defense," is charged with transforming losers into winners. He and Don Shula moved south from Baltimore to Miami in 1970, one season after the Dolphins finished with a 3-10-1 record.

And since then, the National Football League record books speak for Arnsperger's success: all four seasons in the playoffs, the last three in the Super Bowl with victories in 1973 over Washington and last Sunday over Minnesota 24-7.

"Actually, I never talked to anyone but Bill," said the Giants' Director of Operations Andy Robustelli in making the announcement that didn't surprise any football fan whose been awake the past two weeks. "I guess it's no big surprise."

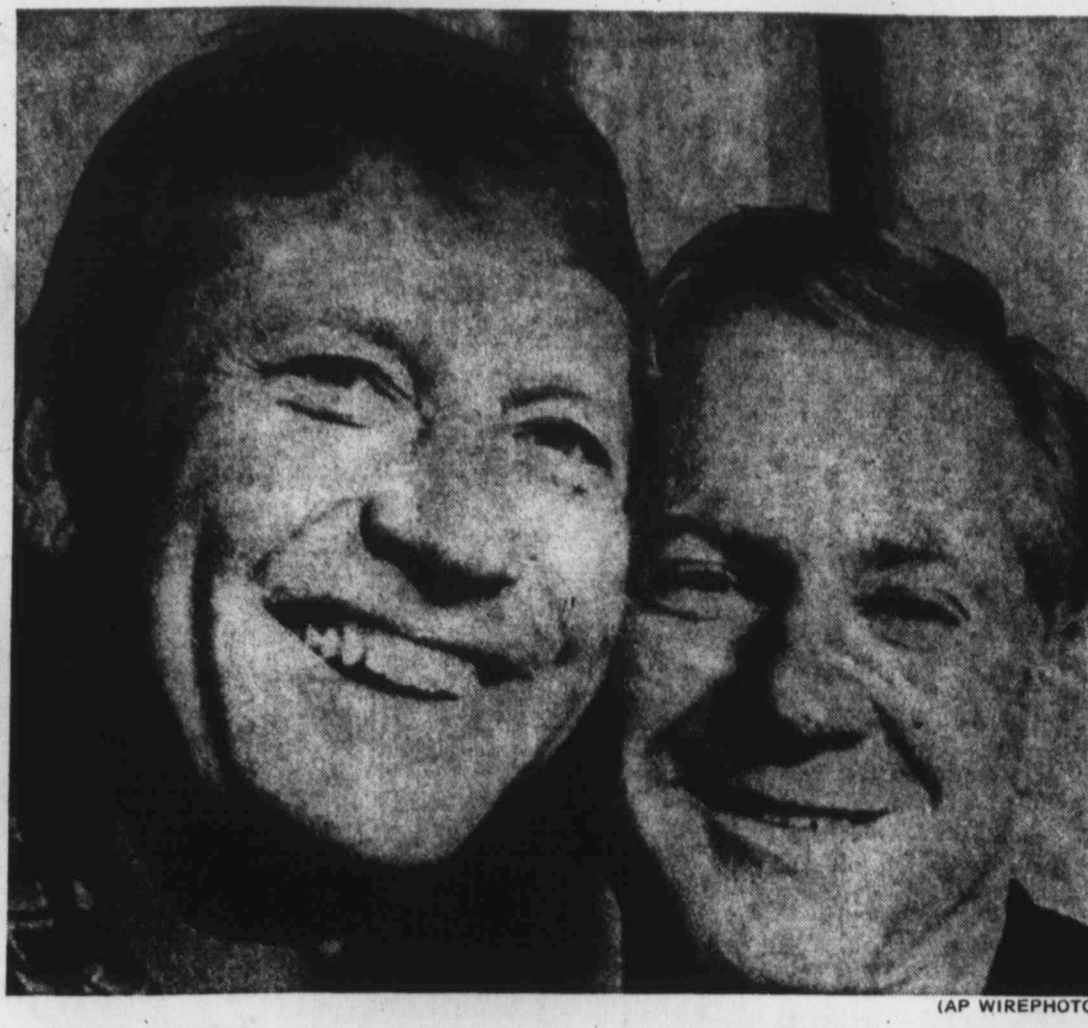

The 47-year-old Arnsperger makes it clear that he and only he will be the head coach. "Am I gonna be the boss?" Arnsperger, who was given a three-year contract, asked rhetorically. "I'm gonna be the football coach. I'll be totally involved in the whole program. That was most important in my decision."

Arnsperger rejected a similar position to coach Baltimore this season, intimating Wednesday that the Colts' offer was not string-free.

Arnsperger was a handpicked coach but the hand belonged to Robustelli, recently hired as director of operations.

PRO RESULTS

A STUDY IN CONTRASTS — Mickey Mantle, left, and Whitey Ford pose together Wednesday in New York City after being named to the Baseball Hall of Fame. Always a study in contrasts, Mantle the shy country boy from Commerce, Okla., and Ford, a brash, cocky native of New York City, now have something in common — their new membership in the Hall of Fame.

Hawks Still No. 11

HUTCHINSON, Kan. — Howard College remained in the No. 11 spot in the weekly NJCAA basketball poll, but the Hawks moved up a spot in team offense.

The HC cagers, now 22-2 on the year, jumped to third in team offense with a 105.3 average. North Dakota State University of Bottineau, N.D., is tops with a 108.3 mean through six games and San Jacinto College of Pasadena, the third-ranked team in the nation, is second in offense with a 106.0 average.

James Quits Lamesa Post

LAMESA — Robert James, Lamesa's highly-successful football coach, has resigned his position with the Golden Tors to become head man at San Antonio MacArthur.

James, who had a 41-12-1 record in five years with the Tors and won back-to-back Dist. 3-AAA championships, will make the move with his family within the next two weeks. MacArthur is a member of the eight-team Dist. 29-AAAA, and includes Seguin, New Braunfels, San Marcos, and San Antonio entries Judson, Sam Houston, Roosevelt, and Highlands.

The Lamesa School Board is expected to begin searching for a replacement beginning at the next meeting Monday.

James, who came to Lamesa in 1964 as an assistant to Donald Jay, led the Tors to their best finish in history during the 1973 season, a 12-1 finish which ended with a loss to Mount Pleasant in the state semifinals.

The Tors also captured the Dist. 3-AAA flag in 1972, falling to Burk Burnett in bi-district. Under James, Lamesa's worst season was a 7-3, in 1969 and 1971.

James is a native of Snyder. He graduated from McMurry College at Abilene. Prior to joining the Tors, he was an assistant at Temple High School.

Howard Hawks Eye 23rd Against Ram JVs Tonight

Howard College's Hawks are working on several streaks and records, entertain the Angelo State University Junior Varsity tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the HC Gym.

The Hawks, who haven't lost a home game in almost a year, carry a 22-2 season record, a 15-game winning streak and a No. 11 National Junior College Athletic Association ranking in the bout tonight. The HC offense is also one of the most potent in the nation, averaging over 105 points a game.

Angelo's JVs will bring a 4-3 standing into the tilt, one of the losses a 111-92 setback at the hands of the Hawks last Saturday. Howard College will be trying to stop the trio of Jim Leach, David Sisson and John Elder, who combined for 69 points in the loss.

Sisson, from Lamesa, led the Rams with 25 points.

Also due to see action are Mike Dickey, 6-6 David Hottelclaw, and John Bundy. Hottelclaw is the Rams' leading scorer, but could manage just eight points against the Hawks in the first meeting.

Leading scorer in the HC attack this season has been Thomas Bledsoe, averaging 23 points an outing, while Taylor Williams is hitting at a 21-point per game clip. The two 6-7 sophomores are also pulling down more than 30 rebounds a game between them.

Leroy Lumzy is the only other Hawk in double figures, scoring at a 16.7 pace. The other two starters, guard Bobby Beall and forward Mike Randle, are hitting eight points a game with reserves Alfred Gladden averaging seven points, David Tolliver six, Keith Lewis five and Willie Young 4.8.

Simpson Gets Male Athlete Of Year Prize

LOS ANGELES (AP) — O.J. Simpson admits he's prejudiced when he says, "I think football players are the best athletes." Named the Male Athlete of the Year for 1973 by The Associated Press, Simpson voiced his thanks, saying:

"This means quite a bit to me obviously since you're considering all the great athletes in all the sports.

"Generally speaking, I think it takes probably more athletic ability to play football and basketball. I would put basketball players in the same mold as football.

"There are so many things involved. I think even from the mental side there is so much involved in football that you just don't have in a baseball game, for instance."

Simpson won the award over a baseball player — Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves who was a distant second in the voting.

Simpson set a National Football League record by rushing for 2,003 yards last season with the Buffalo Bills who finished second to Super Bowl Champion Miami in the American Football Conference East.

He was a unanimous choice for the All-Pro team and was named the NFL Player of the Year. He credits his coach and fellow players for much of his success although he doesn't discount his own value, saying, "I consider myself as good a back as there is in football."

Since the end of the season, he already has signed a long-term contract with Buffalo, has been featured in television shows and works with the American Broadcasting Company as a commentator for televised football games.

In a poll of member newspapers, television stations and radio stations, Simpson received 332 votes. Aaron got 153 votes with UCLA basketball star Bill Walton third at 75.

A horse finished sixth, as Secretariat won the highest number of votes ever for a four-legged athlete in this competition.

Golfer Jack Nicklaus was fourth with 34, Pete Rose of Cincinnati's Reds fifth with 22 and Secretariat got 20, three more than baseball's strikeout king, Nolan Ryan of the California Angels.

Tom Landry of the National Conference and John Madden of the AFC put their squads through 90-minute workouts for Sunday's game in Kansas City.

Three of Moore's teammates on Miami's NFL champions also have bowed out with injuries — running back Larry Coates, wide receiver Paul Warfield, and defensive end Bill Stanfill.

Their replacements are running back Mary Hubbard of Oakland, wide receiver Haven Moses of Denver, and defensive end Dwight White of Pittsburgh.

Tax Exemption Is Not Automatic

FORSAN—The over 65, $3,000 homeowner's homestead exemption from school taxes is not automatic, Mrs. Nova Scudday, Forsan school tax assessor-collector, pointed out.

Homeowners 65 years of age and older on Jan. 1 must bring proof of age to the school tax office and complete a form, Mrs. Scudday explained.

This form must be on file by April 30 and is valid for only one year.

A certified copy of a birth certificate or driver's license should be presented as proof of age, she said.

Elderly persons must apply at the Howard County Courthouse and City of Forsan for exemption from other local property taxes on homesteads.

BOYS OR GIRLS

12 to 15 years

If you make good grades at school . . . YOU'RE THE ONE WE WANT.

We've noticed it. Our best carriers seem to be above-average students. Perhaps it's because in the daily management of their routes, they apply the lessons they learn in the classroom. Like arithmetic in making change and in keeping a record of their profits. Or, maybe it's because newspaper route management is just one of those things a good student can do well. In any case, if your grades are A's and B's, we want to hear from you. We can show you how to build a savings account that can be a great help. Why not get started today . . . by calling us. There may be a route available in your neighborhood.

Book Exerpts In Magazine

An excerpt from Shine Philips' book, "Big Spring: Biography of a Prairie Town," is included in the current issue of Frontier Times, a True West Magazine. It is entitled "Come and Get It" and is a sketch on wagon yards, boarding houses, cow camp chuckwagons and cooks.

"I think it's about time somebody donated a statue to that old sourdough himself, the camp cook — with a coat of arms, crossed butcher knives rampant on a field of frioles with a medallion of sobbely and a border of biscuits," wrote the author.

The Jerry Bywaters sketch, used in the late druggist-philosopher's book, was used in the current two-page piece. The book originally was published by Prentice-Hall, Inc. but since has other printings.

The magazine is issued by Western Publications, Inc., Box 3338, Austin 78764.

WATCHES 14 SOAP OPERAS A DAY — Bryna Laub, who watches 14 soap operas a day, is pictured in her home in Mountain View, Calif., where she usually keeps at least one of her six television sets on until the nighttime signoffs. The 28-year-old Boston University geology graduate puts out a "Daytime Serial Newsletter," a summary of soap opera plots for viewers who miss some of their favorite programs.

Woman Makes Money Watching Soap Opera

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Bryna Laub watches 14 soap operas a day and usually keeps at least one of her six television sets on until the nighttime signoffs.

"I just love television," says the 28-year-old Boston University geology graduate.

Once warned by friends that "my brain was going to jell" from so much television exposure, Mrs. Laub has turned her hobby into a business.

Her "Daytime Serial Newsletter" summarizes soap opera plots for viewers who must miss a few installments of their favorites.

PREGNANT

"The mind that was starting to jell is suddenly brilliant," she chuckled during an interview.

For $7.50 a year, the monthly newsletter provides facts readers need to keep abreast of developments, such as this "As the World Turns" excerpt: "Since learning from Bob's ramblings under anesthesia following his emergency surgery that during their separation he spent one night with her sister Kim which resulted in Kim's pregnancy, Jennifer Hughes is devastated."

Mrs. Laub says subscriptions are coming in at a rate of 20 per day, but "I won't mention total figures until it tops 10,000."

VOICE EXPERT

The publication debuted last December in Newton, Mass., where the Laubs lived until her engineer husband, Bernard, got a job in California.

It was Laub who hatched his wife's career, she says, by remarking "Too bad you can't get paid for watching TV."

Then he provided investment capital for extra televisions, tape recorders, a burglar alarm system and a portable "Video Voice" that receives only the sound of television broadcasts.

The voice lets her listen to the soaps when it's her turn in the neighborhood car pool. Mrs. Laub can recognize every character by voice alone, but on those rare occasions when she must be entirely out of touch, a crew of housewives fills in.

At home Mrs. Laub doesn't just plant herself in front of the four sets in her living room all day. A big color set dominates one corner; a small back-up black and white sits on the floor beside it in case one of the others breaks down.

The other two on a desk and the kitchen bar can be turned to where Mrs. Laub can keep an eye on them while cooking, cleaning or answering her mail.

She has two more upstairs. Mrs. Laub can monitor three shows simultaneously.

X-Rated Movie Showing Here Filmed In State

By DAVID CARREN

There's a new X-rated flick in town at the College Park Cinema. "Sexual Fantasies U.S.A." it's entitled, and it features several unusual facets for this kind of film — cards given to patrons helping them gauge their fantasy levels, a semi-documentary style and a fair share of originality. But none of these elements appeal to me near as much as the paradox the film itself is. It gives the appearance of being an expensive Hollywood production.

However, I remember seeing them make it in a warehouse at an industrial park in Austin. I was a reporter for a college newspaper, and on one dark, chilly night, I drove out to the "location" site to investigate.

The director, a short heavy man with an immature beard, threw me off the set, although not unkindly about it. As he waved a riding crop he used to accent directions to his young, partly student cast and crew, he told me that while he would safely leave town at production's end, the others couldn't. Therefore, I couldn't print anything about them.

But the director, cast, and crew (the film has no credit listings) are probably safe and nameless now. A Cinema theatre employe says the film was probably premiered in New Orleans. Sounds like a good place.

As to the film itself, it's unbelievably professional looking for a movie made on about as much floor space as a large gas station and for only $50,000 over a two week period.

This is quite a feat considering the dozens of scenes, graphics, and location shots involved. For this kind of work, it's also a fairly original, often funny film. The sequences involving an orgy, a hearse, a motel peeping tom and a girl who loves enemas are fairly different. If you like this kind of stuff, it's worth seeing I suppose.

But "Fantasy" has any real value, it's as a gauge of what's happening to film making in Texas. It's proof that any determined film maker with a little money ($50,000 is dirt cheap for making even a TV commercial) can go a long way in Texas. Let's only hope the trend is eventually more toward "Citizen Kane" rather than the "Sexual Fantasy" genre.

However, "Fantasy" is an amazing little film considering it's background. One scene involving a hearse, a man and two women illustrates the mood of the whole film. Shot at four in the morning on an isolated Austin road, the scene contains all the tension, fine photography and visual construction of any Hollywood film in this style.

But all that technical genius and imagination may have been a waste looking at the ultimate ends of the final product. Let's only hope the director, who told me he hopes to really aim for higher things someday, eventually does. For the good of both Texas film making and himself, he should.

Big Spring To Host RPC July Conclave

By MARJ CARPENTER

Harold Hall, Big Spring city councilman, was one of two city councilmen elected to represent all cities of less than 50,000 population on the Permian Basin Regional council board at a meeting of municipal representatives after the semi-annual membership meeting in Stanton Wednesday. The other councilman elected was from Monahans.

The board of the council, which meets monthly, is made up of all county judges and three persons representing the municipalities of the region.

Buck Luttrell, county judge at Fort Stockton, was elected incoming chairman of the board with Marcus Crowell, Gaines County judge, named co-chairman and Carrol Yater of Stanton secretary.

The City of Big Spring will host the semi-annual membership meeting next July. Councilman Charles Tompkins extended the invitation.

Attending from Howard County and Big Spring were Judge

A. G. Mitchell, Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor; Councilmen Hall and Tompkins, City Manager Harry Nagel, City Atty. James Gregg, Police Chief Vance Chisum, Bob Butler, Robert Messengale, Jon Snyder, all city officials, Dr. C. B. Marcum, who serves on the regional health committee and Don Long, Webb Air Force Base.

Judge Yater welcomed the group of over 100 officials and Judge Chester Taggart of Monahans presided over a business session at which time two minor constitution amendments were approved and one revoked.

Judge Glenn Toombs, Borden County Judge, presented the by-laws report and Judge Leslie Pratt, first council president and Dawson County judge, gave the nominating committee report.

Secretary of State Mark White, spoke on the constitution revision and other pending legislation. He stressed that local citizens and local officials should keep in close touch with their state legislators and senators in regard to their desires in the revised constitution.

The state official also explained that he realized West Texans wished for a speed limit higher than 55 but that they understood that Texas could not afford to lose their federal highway assistance.

The secretary stressed that governmental councils strengthened the power of smaller cities.

Cecil Bridges gave the invocation. Jim Eiland of Caprock Electric was thanked for use of the building. The group was invited to view the new community center and visit the stock show.

Buggy Cereal

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The University of Minnesota's Entomology Department agreed to help your readers identify the insects they found in their cereals. We thought you would be interested in the summary of the kinds of insects found as submitted.

Samples came from 33 states:

Saw-toothed grain beetle, 80;
Merchant grain beetle, 39;
Cigarette beetle, 30;
Red flour beetle, 25;
Miscellaneous cereal pests, 10;
Drugstore beetle, 9;
Indian meal moth, 9;
and insects other than cereal pests, 15.

Cereal products often become infested right in the home. Only glass and tin containers are insect proof, so any package of cake mix, flour, etc., can be penetrated by insects if left standing long enough.

DAVID M. NOETZEL
DEAR DR. NOETZEL: Thank you for providing my readers with the service. Now, if others are bugged by unidentifiable insects in their cereals, please send the little creatures to your own university.

DEAR ABBY: You wrote in your column that a woman is pregnant for 266 days. Who said so? I carried my baby for 10 months and five days; and there is no doubt about it because I know the exact date my baby was conceived. My husband is in the Navy and it couldn't have possibly been conceived any other time because I saw him only once for an hour, and I didn't see him again until the day before the baby was born.

I don't drink or run around, and there is no way this baby isn't his, so please print a retraction about the 266-day carrying time because otherwise I am in a lot of trouble.

SAN DIEGO READER
DEAR READER: The average gestation period is 266 days. Some babies come early. Others come late. Yours was late.

DEAR ABBY: I have a kind of strange problem. My parents are divorced, and I live alone with my father. His name is Charles, and my name is Katherine, so I sent out Christmas cards signed "Kathy and Charles Smith."

Bill Dawes Will Represent TRA

Bill Dawes was elected representative of the Big Spring-Howard County Chapter, Retired Teachers Association, during a luncheon Tuesday at the Downtown Tea Room. Dawes will meet with representatives of other local groups concerned with activities of retirement-age persons.

Mrs. Helen Early, luncheon hostess, introduced two guests, Mrs. Elmo Woodson and Roy Odum.

The program was by Mrs. Thetus Dunagan, who showed slides of the Orient; Mrs. Early, who displayed a sea shell collection; and Mrs. Roelle Dohoney, who exhibited handwork by Mrs. T. J. McKeeney of Iatan.

The next meeting will be Feb. 19.

My mom was very upset because some of her friends thought that my dad had gotten remarried. So please tell me how to sign our cards next time so my mom won't be upset. Thank you.

KATHY SMITH
DEAR KATHY: Sign the cards, "Charles Smith, and daughter, Kathy."

DEAR ABBY: With all the "hippies, hippies, homos, and harlots" you've got writing to you, you could start a new "4H" club!

Wedding Ceremony Performed At Knott

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Brown, who plan to reside in Ackerly after a wedding trip to El Paso, were married at Knott Sunday in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nichols. Mrs. Brown is the former Janette Nichols.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Billy Brown, Ackerly.

The rites were read by the Rev. John Martin before an archway decorated with orchid ribbons and white bells. Candelabra completed the setting, and nuptial music was from a music box in the bride's book.

Carrying a bouquet of white rosebuds centered with an orchid, the bride was attired in a full-length, white, shirtwaist dress, belted and with softly-pleated skirt. Rhinestones circled the cuffs and trimmed the front opening.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Lonnie Wright, Big Spring, wore a formal empire gown of orchid silk organza and wore an orchid corsage. Ike Lewis, Ackerly, was best man, and ushers were the bride's brothers, Bruce Nichols and Keith Nichols. Another brother, Martin Nichols, lighted the tapers.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown are graduates of Sands High School. He attended Howard County Junior College and is now engaged in farming. Mrs. Brown, a graduate of Draughton Business School, Lubbock, is employed as a secretary at Zales.

For the reception, the bride's table was laid with a lace cloth, appointed with crystal and silver and centered with an arrangement of orchid silk sweetpeas. An orchid candle centered the bridegroom's table, which was laid with a gold cloth. Assisting with serving were Mrs. Rodney Fuqua, Miss Ann Nichols, the bride's sister; and her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Keith Nichols and Mrs. Bruce Nichols.

Attending from out of town were Mrs. Balis Brown, Mrs. Ed Oaks and Mrs. Ike Lewis, all of Ackerly; S. Jackson and Mrs. John Jackson, both of Vealmoor; and Kris Nichols and Lonnie Wright, both of Big Spring.

Prior to the wedding, the couple was honored at a gift shower in the home of Mrs. Calvin Hughes. There were 17 hostesses.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with a floral centerpiece in orchid, flanked by orchid candles. The cake was decorated in the bride's colors. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Tray J. Brown and Mrs. Dan Brown, both of Hale Center; Mrs. R. L. Collins, Big Spring; and Mrs. Billy Jackson, Luther. The bride was attired in an orchid dress.

MRS. RILEY FALKNER

She's Young And Carefree

By ELAYNE REXROAT

A free agent in many senses of the word, Mrs. Riley (Janet) Falkner commits herself to few things on a day-to-day basis.

Being a person with a carefree nature, she enjoys doing whatever suits the moment. Wearing fuzzy pink house shoes, she may be found doing anything from helping her husband (who is employed by Oscar Pitts, masonry contractor) lay brick in something they're building in their home to planning a couple's weekend inner-tubing trip to the snow covered slopes of Cloudcroft, N.M.

Assisting as a teacher's aide at College Heights Elementary School is one of the things Mrs. Falkner enjoys doing on a day-to-day basis. The other thing is cooking. If given a cabinet stacked with basic ingredients, she'd ask for just one item — an oven — which would tell what she enjoys cooking most.

Casseroles are her 'bag' and her husband is congenial. He finds her cooking agreeable with just one exception. Her chili is a 'no-no'.

"He won't eat my chili, and he tells people about it, too!" she said.

Like most brides, she had a lot to learn when they were married a year and a half ago. However, she is lucky in that she possesses that 'knack' to whip it all together and has a mother-in-law who has willingly given helpful suggestions on what her son likes best.

"I enjoy cooking," she said. "As far as the use of a cookbook — never." She is taste-oriented and knowledgeable in the ways

Cool Bread For Easy Slicing

When you find bread too fresh to slice easily for sandwiches, place it in the refrigerator until it gets thoroughly cold through and through. This will harden it just enough to make thin slicing possible.

of putting together from scratch dishes that she and her husband will enjoy. Should she decide to use a recipe, it will come from her file of favorites.

Although the Falkners enjoy "Southern-style cooking" which would include roast, Swiss steak and chicken, given a choice, they would both take green enchiladas.

Although most of her time is spent either on the school job, taking care of her household or working with her husband on remodeling their home, she still finds time to relax while doing a little needlepoint.

Mrs. Falkner is also an active member of the Main Street Church of Christ a capella chorus and team teaches a class of 2-year-olds.

For Flavor Bargain Serve Meal-In-One

Skillet dinners save time and work, cut down dishwashing, and deliver old-fashioned flavor into the bargain. Sausage and Cabbage Skillet Dinner calls on a less-costly meat that is over-looked for making main dishes. Fresh apple gives a gourmet, fruited note, and monosodium glutamate helps bring out the savoriness of the sausage, and blends the interesting medley of flavors together.

SAUSAGE AND CABBAGE SKILLET DINNER

1 lb. link sausages or 1 lb. bulk sausage
8 cups coarsely sliced cabbage
1 lg. onion, thinly sliced
1 tsp. caraway seeds

1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. monosodium glutamate
3/4 cup water
1 lg. apple, cored and cut in wedges
1/4 cup sour cream
Brown sausages in large skillet and remove. If using bulk sausage, form into 8 patties, brown and remove. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of the sausage drippings. Add cabbage, onion, caraway seeds, salt and monosodium glutamate; mix well. Pour water over cabbage mixture; cover and cook 20 minutes. Add apple wedges, top with browned sausage, cover and cook 5 minutes longer. Stir in sour cream and serve immediately. Serves 4.

and its leaders.

High government officials testified on the motion in October. These included former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, former acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III, former Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst and Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Peterson.

The defendants sought White House tapes they said would reveal conversations between Mitchell and President Nixon about the Sharpstown matters. Judge Taylor ruled there was not enough evidence produced to order the tapes into court.

The other defendants are Tom Max Thomas, Dallas lawyer; Jarrell Ormand, former Dallas lawyer; David Hoover, a Dallas businessman; and Houston Lawyer Thano Demaris.

Carr-Osorio Again Lose

DALLAS (AP) — A federal judge has refused to dismiss criminal charges against former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and former Texas insurance Commissioner John Osorio.

Carr, Osorio and four other defendants are expected to go on trial Feb. 19 on charges of securities fraud and conspiracy in connection with using company stocks to raise money for their own use. The charges grew out of the Sharpstown scandals.

Carr and Osorio contend the charges should be dropped on the grounds, they claim, that they were politically motivated.

U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr. wrote letters this week denying the defendants' motion for dismissal.

The principal defendants have contended that the Sharpstown scandals, called bribe attempts by federal officers, were started by the Republican administration to embarrass the Texas Democratic party and its leaders.

FAMILY VISIT TO A PRISONER — Vincent Hill kisses his wife, Mildred, during visit to Tennessee State Prison at Nashville where he's serving 15 years for armed robbery. With them are their children, 9-year-old Mike, left, and Debbie, 7, who was born with water on the brain and paralyzed legs.

FAMILIES OF PRISONERS NEED HELP

'She's Just Worn Out'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mildred Hill, 31, sleeps on a thin, gray floor mattress in a one-room house with her 9-year-old son, Mike, Debbie, 7, born with water on the brain and paralyzed legs, sleeps on a couch.

Vincent Hill, serving 15 years for armed robbery at the Tennessee State Prison, goes to bed in his cell, decorated with yellow, flowered wallpaper and a sink to match. His honor unit building, for selected prisoners, has the flavor of a college dorm, with pool table, color television and a parakeet for a mascot.

"I GUESS I'M LAZY" While her husband goes to Mass every week, Mildred has stopped going to her Baptist church.

"I guess I'm lazy," she says with a laugh, her eyes expressionless.

"She's just wore out," says Vincent, a lean man who looks like a camp counselor in his blue prison jumpsuit and white sneakers. He was sent up three years ago, leaving Mildred and the children alone.

This state prison, like many in the country, offers no help to wives and children of inmates, who are generally left on their own. Sometimes their needs are as simple as a ride to the prison or just someone to talk to.

Although prison wardens often admit the need for family programs, they are busy with pressing problems within the prison walls — overcrowding, drugs, violence, the need for more educational and medical services.

FEW FRIENDS Mildred has no telephone, no savings, few friends to count on and little leisure time. In three years, she says, she's never taken a night away from the children.

"She's hanging on by shoe strings now," says Vincent. "I don't know how she's doing it. I tried to talk to her, but she ignores me. I'm afraid to break down with her. I'm afraid she'll fall apart."

"I'm the one who's supposed to pay, not Mildred and the kids," he says.

If Mildred is wearing down, Vincent is shaping up.

He's joined Alcoholics Anonymous and helped start group therapy sessions. He has graduated from welding school and has a diploma from the Dale Carnegie course, "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

GIGGLING BLONDE But there is nothing similar to broaden or soften Mildred's life.

Up at 5:15 each morning, she drops her children at the babysitter's and gets to her job by 7:20. She makes $240 a month, hemming 1,020 pairs of men's pants a day.

In the evening, she brings the children to their $88-a-month house, fixes dinner, gives baths, does washing and gets to bed by 10 p.m. Sometimes, she plays her Conway Twitty record, "I Can't See Me Without You."

She gets $113 a month from Medicaid for Debbie, a giggling little blonde, who's had 10 operations so far.

Vincent tries to make up for not being home. He writes the family twice a week, drawing in little horses and hearts for the children.

QUIT WRITING But Mildred has about quit writing him.

"I don't have anything to say. He fussed at me, but he's gotten used to it," she says, shrugging her shoulders. It will be another four years before her husband is eligible for parole.

At the Nashville prison, about 35 per cent of the 1,750 men are married, according to Warden Jim Rose. Many are divorced once they get into prison. There are no conjugal visits, private times together for husbands and wives.

Sometimes children of prisoners are put into foster homes or orphanages, if necessary. Sometimes, the women go on welfare, says Rose.

"Tremendous interest has been shown lately in the man behind bars, but there's very little interest in his family," says Mark Luttrell, commissioner of corrections in Tennessee.

NEGLECTED AREA "It's certainly a neglected area," says Victor Bluestein, chief of resources development for the Department of Corrections research division in California, another state with no family aid programs.

At the 32 major federal penitentiaries, incarcerating some 23,000 inmates, there are no family programs, as such, according to Larry Taylor, executive assistant to the director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons.

"We don't have the funds to hire social workers or aid with transportation to the prisons. Right now, there are so many problems in our correction system, that if we did get additional funds, we'd probably use them on a higher priority item, like overcrowding," he says.

He adds that private groups are encouraged to help prisoners' families, but there aren't very many groups and it's something of a hit-or-miss proposition.

NEED HELP One private group — Friends Outside — is a relative hit. Formed 18 years ago, it operates extensively in the state of California and is funded half by the United Fund and half by private donations.

"There are hundreds of families isolated when the husband goes to prison. They need help," says Margaret Muirhead, executive director for Santa Clara County.

The 15 chapters work with families of state prison or local jail inmates. In the Santa Clara County chapter, some 600 volunteers help about 900 families. Their yearly budget is about $72,000.

You Can Have A Part

It's reminder time.

Old Faithful Form 1040 is in taxpayer hands, awaiting Form W2 and other certification of earned income and taxpayer motivation to fill it out.

In two places on Form 1040 are squares calling attention to taxpayer privileges. Taxpayer may designate $1 for political campaign contribution for 1973. There's more. Taxpayer may also designate $1 for 1972 — when the opportunity was either overlooked or because of a change of mind about the matter.

If taxpayers want to help reduce the pressure for presidential candidates to have to raise corrupting amounts of money for election expenses, the $1 contribution (which doesn't mean more taxes, incidentally) on Form 1040 is the chance.

It would be good to see how interested Americans are in eliminating the need for political shake-downs. Walter Hickey, who raised money for Mr.

Nixon in 1968 and came away with the feeling nobody could raise that much money and keep his political independence, once proposed 10 cents per capita — to raise $5 million.

'Only' Can Have Impact

It is odd to see "only" used as a qualifying word to describe the U.S. population increment of 1.5 million during 1973. "Only" a million and a half more people is the equivalent of a large city — Detroit as of the 1970 census, for instance. The figure occasions no excitement only because these additional Americans are spread about the country and have no major impact in any one place.

Their impact on our society as a whole is considerable. A larger population means more producers, but it also means more consumers. The latter point's significance is emphasized by the present fuel shortage and other recent hints that our resources are not infinite. Nor is the producer-consumer equation all that is involved: More people bring greater pressure on desirable living space, on the environment, on all governmental and private institutions.

The population is now estimated a 211.7 million. An annual net gain of 1.5 million would make the total 226.7 million only a decade hence, and the annual gain will increase as the population base grows. The pace is showing somewhat, but "only" 1.5 million more people in a year is nothing to be complacent about.

Four Nixons

William F. Buckley Jr.

I propose, on completion of these words, to march them over to a printer, shrink them to penny-postcard size, and, wordlessly, to hand them out to elevator men, Hollywood stars, and corporation presidents who ask me, as everyone is asked these days, the one question: "Mr. Buckley, do you think Nixon will resign?"

IF THERE were time, I would answer roughly as follows . . . There are several Nixons.

The first Nixon is the one that comes most readily to mind. About him the cliché is: he will never quit. It is uncharacteristic of him. He is a determined, stubborn man who fought most of his adult life to be President of the United States. He likes being President. He likes the power of the Presidency, and the romance of the Presidency. You won't drive that man out of the White House until the limousine pulls up to the door on Inauguration Day, 1977.

NIXON TWO is the political realist. He is the man who can coolly survey the political situation and draw the necessary conclusions, when there are necessary conclusions. It was that Nixon who, having expended himself at the Republican Governor's Conference in Denver in 1964 trying to organize a Stop-Goldwater movement recognized it wouldn't work, then supported Goldwater lustily. That single decision brought him the Republican nomination in 1968. Otherwise it would have gone to Reagan; yes, Reagan. And Nixon knew that. This Nixon, the political realist, is capable of judging whether there is going to be impeachment plus conviction, and of either a) acting to try to abort the case against him by hard political maneuvering; or b) accepting the inevitable and resigning. He has not at this moment concluded that the political reality is that he will be deposed.

THERE IS Nixon Three. Nixon Three is a withdrawn, mtoody, introspective man who revels in a pain that is often self-inflicted. It is a Nixon who works even harder than necessary to get the football team, or to qualify for the football team, or memorize the name of the ward leader. It is the Nixon who will make himself stay up all night before deciding on a vice presidential running mate, because he likes to be able to say, "I stayed up all night worrying about this one."

It is the Nixon who blurted out in the prepared speech that he will continue to work "16 to 20 hours a day, seven days a week" for his country. The Nixon who feels that all the proper people in the east resent him because he did not go to an Ivy League college and that therefore he will hew to the rotarian company with which he feels comfortable.

This Nixon feels that he is fated to suffer, must suffer; that suffering is good and that strength comes through adversity.

AND THEN, if you can stand it, there is Nixon Four. This is Nixon the human being. This week's "New York Times Sunday Magazine has a million-page rehearsal of the entire Watergate business. One's eyes fasten on a single sentence. "He (Nixon) even deducted $1.24 in finance charges from Garfinckel's Department Store." Nixon Four could prevail over Nixon One for reasons entirely human.

NIXON FOUR is visible walking the sands of San Clemente and riding economy class in the little jet and answering questions about did he deduct $1.24 for finance charges from Garfinckel's. When Nixon Four and Nixon Three, espousing a joint opportunity, fuse their vision, then Nixon will resign, not only with honor, but with pleasure.

"If you blokes plan t'do me in, you'd jolly well better 'urry up!"

Benny's Second Farewell

Hal Boyle

By JAY SHARBUTT
Substituting for Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Benjamin Kubelsky, a native of Waukegan, Ill., was in town the other day to catch a few shows, year and laughed when he observed the snows and publicize an NBC-TV special he'll star in come Jan. 24.

The show's title is "Jack Benny's Second Farewell Special." Mr. Kubelsky, who can remember the title — well, I told my manager if we don't use the McCoy and that he really plans to retire from show biz after some 62 years in the profession. "Now I tell the audience we're going to do the third, the fourth, the 90th farewell. But it all depends how this works out. I don't know. I had another funny title they laughed like hell about it in the show."

He said the title exists only because he found that audiences in Las Vegas and elsewhere recalled his "First Farewell Special" on television last year and laughed when he urged them to watch his second act.

"And I tell you," Benny said, "it's tough enough for an audience to remember your last show. But when they can remember a title — well, I told my manager if we don't use the McCoy and that he really plans to retire from show biz after some 62 years in the profession. "Now I tell the audience we're going to do the third, the fourth, the 90th farewell. But it all depends how this works out. I don't know. I had another funny title they laughed like hell about it in the show."

"Shows how they do remember things. I was going to call it 'Benny with a Y' . . . Benny with a cigar was asked if he wouldn't give show biz "retirements" a bad name if he persisted in "farewell" specials.

ber things. I was going to call it 'Benny with a Y' . . . Benny with a cigar was asked if he wouldn't give show biz "retirements" a bad name if he persisted in "farewell" specials.

"No, it's been done before, of course," he said, citing the famous cases of Harry Lauder and Sarah Bernhardt, who made so many farewell tours their by-byes could stretch from here to China.

Obvious question, but why do performers do that sort of thing?

"Well, they didn't do too many," Benny insisted. "But the minute you do a couple, you see, right away it becomes funny to the public."

Operation Candor

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Last week the White House announced an end to President Nixon's "Operation Candor." The reason given for closing down the operation was that the President had laid to rest all the Watergate-related charges against him. With the release of the two white papers on MITT and the milk fund, the administration felt there were no further questions to be answered about Mr. Nixon's role in all the strange political happenings of 1973.

THERE WAS a certain amount of sadness in Washington when the White House made its announcement. I went over there to see how the staff for operation candor were taking it. Some secretaries were crying, several press agents were cleaning out their desks. One Madison Avenue man was passing around champagne.

HERMAN DIOGENES who had headed up the operation was shaking hands with his staff. "Don't worry," he told a memograph operator, "if the President ever decides to tell the truth again, we'll call you back."

"What do you want me to do with this photograph of Rose Mary Woods showing how she erased the 18-minute tape?" a secretary asked.

"SHOULD I put these copies of the President's income tax returns in a file box? another secretary asked.

"No, shred them. Some day some anti-Nixon historian might try to make something of them."

"IT MUST BE tough to close down an operation like this," I said to Diogenes.

"It breaks your heart," he replied. "Operation Candor will go down as one of the great achievements of the Nixon Administration."

"HOW DID you do it?"

"By being completely frank with the American people. The President decided that certain questions of impropriety had to be answered. At Disney World he said he had never taken advantage of any of the usual tax gimmicks that most Americans use, such as cattle, real estate and interest. He told the governors there would be no more bombshells over Watergate and, except for the 18-minute hum on one tape, there were none. He said he would explain his dealings with ITT and the milk fund to everyone's satisfaction — and he did. Thanks to Operation Candor, the Roper Poll revealed last week, a whopping 21 per cent of the American people do not believe that the President is guilty of any of the serious charges made against him."

"YOU CAN imagine my surprise when it took only three months to lay every charge to rest."

"What do you plan to do now that Operation Candor is over?" I asked Diogenes.

"I think I'll go back to my old job."

"What's that?"

"Selling used cars."

They'll Brighten It

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

In recent weeks, I've had lots of get well cards and appreciate each one of them. Some are from new friends and some from old, but they have all been equally welcome.

ONE OF THE cards was from a young girl who grew up in Pecos and she recalled: "Do you remember all of the kid's programs you used to help with?" Helping with children's programs is an unforgettable experience as any Scout worker, Sunday School teacher or school teacher will tell you.

I recall one Mother's Day tea that a Scout troop held in which each of three patrols prepared a skit for entertainment. I watched the rehearsals and everything seemed fine, but that was before they brought the costumes and props.

THE LAST PATROL to perform was doing its own rendition of Gunsmoke with one scout playing Matt Dillon, one playing Chester (that was in the pre-Festus days), one Doc, and one the bar keeper, with a girl named Betsy playing Kitty.

All went well until suddenly, "Kitty" reached under the bar, brought forth a fifth of Canadian Club and expertly spilled it to the bottom. All of the mothers gasped, and I stood up and said helplessly, "Betsy!"

"OH IT'S JUST tea," she said and everyone laughed in relief and then she added, "I poured Daddy's whiskey down the sink." This brought louder laughter, but the mother nearly fainted. Betsy is now a drama teacher in Dallas.

ANOTHER HUMOROUS incident occurred when presenting a nursery class manager tableau. During rehearsals, I had to warn one restless lad more than once during the practice by commanding "Be still Benny." I didn't realize how often I had said it until the night of the performance. Right in the middle of "Away in the Manger," one of the angels chirped, "Be still Benny." She thought it was part of the song. Benny is now a junior at A&M.

At that time, I also played the piano for programs at an elementary school where they were minus a music teacher.

THE PROGRAMS included plays, minstrel shows and operettas and there were dozens of hilarious incidents. But the funniest came at the climax of an operetta. Dawn was in the woods and told the fairy queen that she would make the sun rise early that day.

The rope pulling up the sun squeaked louder than usual and I frowned as I played background music. As the sun rose over the mountains, we beheld the reason for the squeak. Tommy, who was to send the sun up, had caught his belt on a hook and rose with the sun.

HIS EYES WERE big as saucers and he looked out at a roaring audience. Then he really brought down the house as he improvised, "Good morning!" Tommy is now a law student.

Those of you who take the time to work with children already know that they'll make it a good morning — one way or the other.

John Dean Again

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The previously undisclosed fact that John W. Dean III quietly returned to Washington last weekend and immediately entered the heavily guarded downtown offices of the special prosecutor for more questioning poses new dangers for Richard M. Nixon and a deepening dilemma for Leon Jaworski.

THE INTERROGATION of Dean picked up where it stopped several weeks ago when he left for the West Coast because of his mother-in-law's illness. It is expected to continue for some time. That would scarcely be the case if the secret White House tape recordings heard so far by the prosecutor's office flatly proved, as the White House contends, that Dean's accusations against President Nixon are lies.

BUT IF THE prosecutors think Dean is telling the truth, it would follow that they must also suspect that the President is culpable — and therein lies the dilemma for special prosecutor Jaworski. He publicly committed himself last week against handing over any evidence to the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment proceedings. At the same time, many legal scholars bet he cannot and will not seek a criminal indictment against the President prior to impeachment.

IN THAT CASE, his evidence against the President, buttressed by deposed White House counsel Dean, at least temporarily would fall between the two stools of indictment and impeachment. So, unless he can work out some arrangement with the House, Jaworski will face accusations — surely unjustified — of abetting yet another White House cover-up.

At the heart of this is whether Dean, who has been the only overt accuser of Mr. Nixon, told the truth in sworn testimony before the Senate Watergate committee. For months, White House aides have been claiming that the notorious tapes would show that Dean lied under oath.

IF SO, DEAN would be in deep trouble. When he pleaded guilty last Oct. 19 to a one-count prosecution in return for immunity, the deal with the special prosecutor made this exception: no immunity from perjury. Thus, a clear-cut contradiction of Dean by the White House tapes would give the special prosecutor an obvious perjury case against him.

YET, THOUGH the prosecutors — including Jaworski himself in some cases — have heard the Nixon-Dean tapes (except, of course, the two missing tapes), they are resuming interrogation of Dean. The inescapable conclusion is that they do not feel that possible differences between the tapes and Dean's Senate testimony are damaging his credibility. And a credible Dean equals a vulnerable Nixon, but there could be immunity under the decision not to turn grand jury evidence to the House, or uncertainty if a President can be indicted if not impeached.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

In a recent public opinion poll, Americans said they were increasingly dissatisfied. This included such areas as jobs, income and education for their children.

You've often talked about happiness and satisfaction in life. What is your formula for getting it?

An old Scottish author put it well when he said: "No state can be more destitute than that of a person, who when the delights of sense forsake him, has no pleasures of the mind."

I am concerned, of course, about the increasing evidence of dissatisfaction among Americans. It seems to grow in direct ratio to our increased affluence and concentration on materialism. But now, the Bible's teaching indicates this is not strange at all. Indeed, it shows unhappiness tied to the disregard of spiritual truth. Psalms 16:11 has the formula. It says that at God's right hand "there are pleasures for evermore." When our mind and heart are fixed on Christ, we develop an overarching satisfaction in life that absorbs lesser disappointments.

I'm not saying we should wink at shortcomings in the areas you mentioned. Our jobs, our salary, our educational system ought to provide gratifying results, and failing to do that, merit our attention. But it's a point of maturity to hold lightly the affairs of this life, and hold tenaciously to the bright truths of the world to come.

People with a prior commitment to Jesus Christ are the best suited to handle dissatisfactions of all kinds. They operate on the principle Paul stated in Romans 10:11, "He that believeth on Him shall not be disappointed." I think the pollsters do us a disservice by merely repeating the number of those dissatisfied, and not the reason of those satisfied.

A Devotion For Today . .

Remember that you were slaves in Egypt and the Lord your God redeemed you. (Deuteronomy 15:15)

PRAYER: Our Father and our God, forgive us for our forgetfulness. Remind us of the wonder of our faith, the great cost of our redemption. Amen.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please discuss distilled water. Can a person's body take care of impurities in ordinary water?

Does distilled water help arthritis, kidney stones, gall stones, cataracts, glaucoma, loss of hearing, diabetes, obesity, emphysema, etc.? —Mrs. E. J. H.

Sounds to me as though somebody is trying to high-pressure you into buying distilled water or a distilling outfit or something.

The answer is no, distilled water is not going to help any of that imposing list of frequent health problems.

Ordinary water contains a variety of chemicals, varying from location to location of course, some of which include "trace elements" that are needed by the body. (They are also available in other foods we eat.) Commonest ones include calcium iron and magnesium, help.

along with others, but when you refer to these as "impurities," that doesn't mean they are harmful in a health sense. They aren't. They are "impurities" only in that they aren't plain water.

In fact, the chief impurity in any water that may affect health consists of bacteria, many not harmful, maybe occasionally some harmful. That applies to distilled water as well as ordinary water — because unless you handle your distilled water as carefully as sterile articles are handled in an operating room, you are going to get bacteria in it. Unless you go to such ridiculous extremes as sterilizing your drinking cup in an autoclave! There's no magic in distilled water except its flat taste. If your water is exceptionally high in calcium and you have kidney stones of one type, distilled water might help.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 35 and awfully short, under five feet. Is there any medical treatment that can make a person grow? Please, I am very serious about it. —Mrs. D. B.

I'm sorry, but no.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I was telling my husband how much better than shaving I liked creams that remove leg hair. He asked if it was really okay because, if the stuff melts or dissolves hair, it's strong, and maybe it is absorbed by the body. Should I go back to the blade? —Mrs. O.

The hair removal creams (deplatories) are very widely used, and I would say that your husband is worried without reason. I know of no toxic effects such as he suspects.

If you are sensitive to the chemicals (as a few are), a switch to some other method would be advisable.

Thinks GOP Will Book 'Peekaboos'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressmen have a penchant for making predictions. Sometimes they are right. One congressman admits his failings of some past predictions, but nevertheless he has issued a list of them for 1974.

Rep. Frank Thompson, D-N.J., prefaced his list by saying that "for a number of years now I have been foolish enough to issue predictions of events to come in the new year."

He made the following month by month predictions:

January — White House claims that gap on tape was caused by radiation from Comet Kohoutek; energy chief William Simon announces nationwide shortage of hair oil; H. R. Haldeman returns to crew cut.

February — Comet Kohoutek fizzes, White House blames Arab oil producers; David Eisenhower and Eddie Cox form rock group called 'Sons-in-Law'; Flat announces new sports car powered by olive oil.

SOY SAUCE

March — Howard Hughes books 'Sons-in-Law' for three-year engagement at Las Vegas hotel, White House admits President considered offering vice presidency to Judge John J. Sirica; Datsun announces new sedan powered by soy sauce.

April — President invites members of Congress, Supreme Court and the Rev. Billy Graham to White House party celebrating signing of his 1973 tax returns; entertains guests by playing Watergate tapes to music of Lawrence Welk.

May — Volkswagen announces new 'bug' powered by Rhinewine; White House admits break-in of Daniel Ellsberg's chirodologist.

June — Energy chief Simon announced critical shortages of olive oil, soy sauce and Rhine wine; White House scientific advisors disclose plans for new car fueled by old vice presidential papers.

July — Howard Hughes and Robert Vesco from rock group called the 'Peekaboos'; California students announce new car powered by 'grass' marijuana, it doesn't run, but nobody cares.

"SONS-IN-LAW"

August — Republican National Committee announces it has booked the 'Sons-in-Law' and the 'Peekaboos' to play at 1976 convention, President applauds committee's taste.

September — William Simon holds press conference to announce end of energy crisis; TV lights cause brownout on East Coast Agriculture; Secretary Earl Butz announces plans to export ragweed to Russia.

October — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger announces end of Arab-Israeli conflict, celebrates settlement by downing bacon-lettuce-tomato on bagel.

November — Secretary Butz announces plans to export hay-fever remedies to Russia; President Nixon discloses he voted Democratic.

December — Energy czar William Simon declares energy crisis operative again, orders S. Claus to hold sled speed to 55. Claus goes to strike. "I couldn't cover Brooklyn at that speed," he says. "Nation's truck drivers go out in sympathy."

Arrests Forthcoming In Murder-Robbery

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Arrests could come today in the murder-robbery of a retired Harlingen area farmer, Cameron County Sheriff Gus Krausse says.

Victor H. Trammell, 65, was found early Saturday in the burned ruins of his rural home. An autopsy revealed he had been shot twice.

Krausse revealed Wednesday for the first time that Trammell's collection of antique guns, valued by a friend at about $25,000, had been taken from two safes in the Trammell home.

Mrs. Trammell, 62, told officers two men came to their door late Friday, pulled guns on them and later handcuffed her and placed her in a back room. She said that after hearing a shot she escaped from the house and hid in a drainage ditch.

The men set fire to the home before leaving, she said.

"Everything is going real good—we have been fortunate—it's surprising when things turn out real sweet like this one has," he said.

Seize 27 Aliens After Wild Chase

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) — Border patrolmen captured 27 aliens Wednesday in a high-speed chase which left two vehicles smashed.

The aliens who slipped into the United States from Mexico were caught in the general area where a border patrolman was wounded Saturday and another 47 aliens were caught two weeks ago.

PAID $200 EACH

The aliens taken Wednesday told interrogators that they paid $200 each for transportation to Houston, said Deputy Chief Patrol Agent Jack Richardson.

They were crammed into three elderly sedans, many of them in the cars' trunks. Richardson said they were headed for Houston and expected to find better transportation as soon as they got away from the border.

Richardson said the aliens were detected by electronic devices. They slipped across the Rio Grande in brush country and were picked up by the drivers of the cars, one believed a U.S. citizen and the other Mexican residents.

Richardson said Wednesday's arrests might solve the wounding of Patrolman Richard A. Phillips Saturday.

Phillips and another agent, C. F. Clafin, alerted by the electronic warnings, went to the river crossing at night and were fired on by four men with rifles.

RETURNED FIRE

The agents returned the fire, then Clafin took Phillips to the hospital. The warning devices showed the four riflemen returned to the Mexican side.

Richardson said one of the cars captured Wednesday is believed registered to one of the riflemen.

The deputy chief agent said officers believe the village of Jimenez, Mexico, 15 miles south of Del Rio, is a chief stopping point in the alien smuggling.

He said officers also believe men from that area have been killing cattle on the U.S. side and taking the carcasses across the river.

Cyclist Says He'll Get 50 Miles To A Gallon

By DAVID CARRAN
A Volkswagen engine and transaxle coupled with a Honda 450 assembly and topped with a custom two-seat body may be an unlikely combination for a motorbike. But Ed O'Bannon, a Lamesa farmer, thought otherwise, and the results of a month and a half's work are on display this week at Quality Volkswagen Inc. on W. 3rd St.

"We've had a lot of people come in and see it. Mainly people that are just driving up. They did real good work on it," Jerry Thomas, the dealership's manager said. Surrounded by a ring of red ribbon in the carpeted show room, the Triden Trike (as O'Bannon titles it) is a mass of gleaming metallic blue paint, white upholstery, pin striping and chrome. It's loaded with accessories like dual horns and a stereo AM-FM radio and tape player.

"I built it strictly to use. My wife and I are quitting motorcycling and going to the Trike. What with the energy crisis, I have a trailer for it in the body shop being painted to carry groceries in. It gets 50 miles to the gallon," O'Bannon said.

This is O'Bannon's first bike building job, but he says "I'm a pretty good tinker when I set my head to it." He built it from a Californian kit for $2,700 cash and said similar vehicles would sell for $3,800 in El Paso.

"It rides real good and is very stable on the highway," he adds.

O'Bannon was assisted by Doug Jeffreys, Midland, who painted the pinstriping and Ray Teague, Lamesa, who upholstered the in-line seats.

Phone Firm Is Bankrupt

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The president of the San Antonio Telephone Co. (Santel), blamed "anticompetitive efforts" by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. for financial troubles which led to his company's filing of bankruptcy papers Wednesday.

Charles O. Uhl, said part of Santel's problems stemmed from Bell Telephone's "anticompetitive efforts of new pricing." Uhl said Santel also encountered advertising directives.

Santel has been competing against Bell Telephone in five Texas markets since Santel's inception in November, 1971.

Santel owned the San Antonio Telephone Co. and had 55 percent, or controlling interest, in telephone companies in El Paso, Austin, Waco and Dallas-Fort Worth.

The company listed its total debts at more than $808,000 which includes 114 unsecured claims, three secured claims, deposits by customers on incomplete contracts and notes payable to shareholders.

A WILD ONE? — Mrs. Marlene O'Bannon tries on her husband Edger's Triden Trike for size in Quality Volkswagen Inc., showroom where the $2,700 tri-wheeler is on display this week. The blue, white trimmed machine is stable on highways at speeds of 70 mph.

THOUGHT EMPLOYER FINALLY REALIZED HIS TRUE WORTH

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Tilmon Rochelle says he believed his employer has finally realized his true worth, but he's in jail charged with grand theft.

Rochelle was earning $359 a month to clean airplanes for World Airways. He felt he was being underpaid and asked for a raise.

He got one last August, hiking his salary to $389.50 a month.

But through a computer error he started receiving $389.50 an hour, and his weekly paychecks rose to more than $5,900.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred Hanelt said the 36-year-old maintenance man received and cashed checks totalling earnings in excess of $15,000 in three-week period.

Rochelle was charged with three counts of grand theft.

"Well, I just figured they'd finally realized how much I'm really worth," Rochelle replied when asked why he failed to report the overpayments.
