RATIONING NIXED BY NIXON

'Never $1 Gallon For Gasoline'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, pledging his best efforts to avoid gasoline rationing, told Americans Saturday the energy shortage is real but vowed they will never have to pay $1 a gallon for gas — or $1 for a loaf of bread.

In a 15-minute radio speech live from the White House, Nixon said voluntary efforts to cut energy consumption, if continued, mean "we can prevent hardships this winter and that we can avoid gas rationing this spring."

While acknowledging the government must prepare for the worst, the President said, "I will do everything in my power to achieve the goal of avoiding gas rationing."

MAKES PROMISE

Nixon said also he will do everything possible to hold down the price of imported oil, declaring:

"Scare stories that the American people will soon be paying $1 for a gallon of gas are just as ridiculous as the stories that say that we will be paying $1 for a loaf of bread. The American people cannot afford to pay such prices, and I can assure you that we will not have to pay them."

One spokesman for baking interests recently forecast bread might go to $1 a loaf by summer because of a tight grain supply, but the government since has begun an effort to achieve a voluntary postponement of many grain exports until the 1974 crop can be harvested.

The President acknowledged that many people are asking if there really is an energy shortage.

"The shortages are genuine," he said. "They may become more severe, and they are potentially dangerous."

Should Americans slacken their energy conservation ef-orts, he said, "then the full force of the energy crisis will be brought home to Americans in a most devastating fashion, and there will be no longer any question in anyone's mind about the reality of the crisis."

Nixon devoted a substantial part of his speech to public speculation that the big oil companies would reap huge profits from the shortage.

PROFITTEERING OUT

"Private profiteering at the expense of public sacrifice must never be tolerated in a free country," he said, and announced he has ordered the Federal Energy Office "to conduct a thorough audit of the records of all the major domestic oil companies" to make certain there is no profiteering.

"If the reports are not satisfactory," he said, "I shall ask the heads of the major oil companies to meet with me personally in Washington so that I can get the facts."

Nixon threw his weight behind a congressional drive to force oil companies to provide regular and detailed statistics on inventories, production, costs and reserves. And he said he would renew his December call for quick enactment by Congress of a "windfall profits tax" for the oil industry.

GOAL SOUGHT

The President also said stress on his goal to make the nation self-sufficient in energy resources by 1980 and, without elaborating, promised to "submit to Congress a broad legislative package of energy initiatives and urge it to place these requests at the very top of the congressional agenda for 1974."

In the past, Nixon has talked of five-year federal spending of $10 billion to develop new energy resources.

While referring only in passing to the Arab embargo on oil shipments to the United States, Nixon said:

"We must never again be caught in a foreign-made crisis where the United States is dependent on any other country, friendly or unfriendly, for the energy we need to produce our jobs, to heat our homes, to furnish our transportation for wherever we want to go."

Bank Deposits Leap Again

The impact of an unprecedented cotton crop has been reflected in a 11.5 per cent jump in bank deposits within a two-week period.

Many farmers held off selling the bulk of their crop until after Jan. 1, but they now have banked the proceeds from the part of the harvest they have been able to get ginned.

As of Jan. 15, the four Howard County banks had $93,571,998 on deposit, a gain of $9,575,006 since the first of the year, or up 11.46 per cent.

Even more impressive was the story of total resources for the banks. This figure, for the first time in history of local banking, crossed the $100 million mark reaching $104,559,773, an increase of $12,273,511, or up 13.30 per cent for the fortnight.

The crop is mostly gathered but by no means all ginned. That may require another couple of weeks before the trailers on the yards and the ricks in the fields finally roll off the gin platform.

But the deposit figure may be at a near high water mark because many producers are using their bonanza to pay off loans, or are putting it to work in some form of investments.

From this point on they may bleed off the deposit total about as fast as the money comes in. The biggest cut, however, will come by early Spring when Uncle Sam takes a hefty tax bite. This is why one banker cautioned that the present peaks may be temporary, but they are there in record proportions at the moment.

These figures reflect the change wrought by only a fortnight:

Gin Accident Injures Man

Demencio Garcia, 38, is in critical condition at Medical Center Hospital after parts of both legs were cut off in a gin accident at Paymaster Gin at Brown Friday at 8:30 a.m.

Garcia, along with other workers, was at the back of the gin working near the pollution equipment. He apparently slid off a pile of sand into the dirt conveyor, according to Mrs. J. Rasher. Her husband and another worker pulled Garcia from the machinery, backing it up by hand and brought him to town in the back of a pickup. This was to save the time it would take an ambulance to get to the rural location.

Garcia, a migratory worker, is the head of a large family which, say, has had more than its share of hard luck the past year.

Several individuals have contributed checks to help the family, although no formal campaign has taken shape. The family apparently has ample clothing and quite a bit of food has been donated. One of the sons suffered a broken leg when run over by a tractor recently and is on crutches. Another has a physical deformity and is being cared for by a sister. Because the girl can't leave the home, the baby needs formula and either diapers or Pampers.

CANDIDATES ARE SOUGHT

Want to be the Rattlesnake Queen? Entries are still needed by the Jaycees for the Miss Diamondback Contest held in conjunction with the Rattlesnake Roundup in late March.

Applicants must be 17 years of age or older and single. Apply before March 15 at Morris Robertson Body Shop after 1 p.m. Monday through Friday. It is located at 805 East 2nd.

'Satan's Work' Observed During Ritual

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I cast you out, unclean spirits, along with every satanic power of the enemy, every spectre from hell and all your fellow companions."

The Rev. Karl Patzelt said the prayer, holding incense aloft.

"Suddenly there was peace. Nothing has happened since," Father Patzelt said in an interview Friday.

It was the 14th time in 29 days he had said the Roman Catholic rite of exorcism in the house in adjacent Daly City to try and free a young couple and their 2-year-old son from "attacks of the devil."

THEORIES WRONG

Father Patzelt said the young couple had contacted him through a Carmelite Monastery. Their initial theories of burglary could not explain the things that had been happening.

They told Patzelt the first incidents occurred during 10 weeks in the spring of 1972. After a lull, the incidents resumed in May 1973, the Jesuit said.

"Since then they could sleep only two hours each night, from 4 a.m. to 6 a.m., because of the disturbances caused by the evil one — throwing around their shoes, breaking windows, putting towels on fire, hitting them and thousands of other dirty tricks," he said.

Father Patzelt, who said it was the first time he had performed the rite, claimed he had felt and observed some of Satan's work while in the house, particularly during the rite.

He said the family, whose names will not be released until a news conference in Washington, D.C., Sunday, was "very, very average." He said the husband works at San Francisco International Airport for United Air Lines.

TEST OF FAITH

"It was a test of their faith in God, how much that faith would tolerate or break under the attacks of the devil," the priest said. "He was trying to bring them on his side by bringing all kinds of trouble and attacks. If they had yielded, the incidents would have stopped."

The priest said some of the incidents included physical assaults on the young couple. He said the boy once woke up crying in his crib and his parents ran in the room to find a rocking chair on top of him.

Bandit Nabbed; Hostages Safe

HOUSTON (AP) — A 22-year-old black man, described by officers as a "two-time loser," surrendered peacefully Saturday night after a short chase from a supermarket where he had held 13 hostages for nearly 10 hours.

"He is Welsey Earl Evans," Police Chief Carroll Lynn said. "He is a two-time loser who has been to the penitentiary twice."

Lynn said Evans was first jailed on a felony auto theft charge and then again for pulling a fire alarm without reason, a felony in Texas. The police chief said that charges of aggravated kidnaping and aggravated robbery would be filed against Evans.

Evans was captured just off the Eastex Freeway in Patton Village, north of Houston, minutes after he had made his getaway in an unmarked police car with three hostages. One of the hostages was police Lt. William Doss.

The other hostages were Dianne Lewis and Freida Lummus, two employees of the Kroger store in North Houston where the gunman held the hostages. Miss Lummus was wounded slightly when the gunman fired a shot through the rear window of the getaway car. Police said her head was creased.

Evans was arrested when the car pulled off the freeway onto a dirt road that was a dead end street.

"He tried to back out, but he was boxed in by a police car following him," Inspector B. K. Johnson said.

Johnson said two detectives, Virgil Stone and another officer identified only as Det. Arnold jumped out of their cars and stuck their guns through the window at Evans who was pointing a gun to the head of the hostages.

"I stuck a carbine in his ear and my partner had a pistol aimed at his chest. We told him to put down the gun."

Stone said the officers and the gunman faced each other for about 45 seconds and then he dropped the gun. Evans and the three hostages had driven away at 5:25 p.m. in a car that the gunman had demanded from police earlier in the day. Johnson said the car had been equipped with a guiding transmitter to allow police patrols to follow him. Its radio was fixed so it could transmit only.

Evans had asked for and been given three sets of handcuffs and had himself handcuffed to one of the girls. Doss was forced to do the driving.

Easter Sunrise Rites Altered

The Easter Sunrise Service will be back this year under a new format and bigger than ever.

In cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, the Howard County Ministers' Fellowship is sponsoring the rites which will feature a choir of more than 100 voices from different churches of the city, plus the Big Spring High School symphonic band, and a dramaticating to accompany John W. Peterson's "No Greater Love."

The time will be 7:30 a.m. April 14 on the stage of the Comanche Trail Park amphitheatre. Details of the program will begin to take shape soon, according to Dan McClinton, Baptist Temple music director and chairman of the Fellowship's Easter committee.

A production of this kind will require some financing, and those who want to give this effort a vote of confidence are encouraged to mail contributions to the Howard County Ministers' Fellowship, 1008 Birdwell Lane, and designate them Easter Service.

It has been a score of years since anything comparable to Peterson's musical spectacular has been attempted at the Easter services here. Officers of the Fellowship, including Dr. Kenneth Patrick, president, Ed Beasley, vice president, and Carroll Cole, secretary, urged support of the program.

City Awarded Grant For Police Unit

The city of Big Spring and Erath County were among the recipients Friday of more than $6.2 million in federal anti-crime grants awarded by the Texas Criminal Justice Council in Austin. Among the record breaking 70 grants awarded by the council was $33,794 to Big Spring, to set up a four member police unit for prevention and control of juvenile crime.

The Erath County Commissioners Court received $20,787 to continue funding prosecuting assistants to the district attorney's office of the 29th district, made up of Erath, Palo Pinto and Hood Counties.

All-State Honors Are Won By Three

Seven Children Die In Canadian Fire

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (AP) — Seven children were killed late Friday when fire leveled their parents' rural home near the village of Tor Bay, about 10 miles north of St. John's.

The seven brothers and sisters ranged in age from two to 14. The cause of the fire was not known.

Tor Bay has no fire department of its own and when firemen from St. John's arrived shortly after midnight, the two-story frame house had already burned to the ground.

Names of the victims were not released immediately.

Holcombe Has Champ Steer

STANTON — Clay Holcombe showed the grand champion steer at the Martin County Livestock Show Saturday. The winning steer, out of 38 entries, was a Limousin shorthorn cross, according to Billy Reager, county agent and show chairman.

The reserve champion was shown by Kevin Newman, with a Hereford steer. The showmanship trophy buckle, donated by the V-Bar Ranch, went to Jody Yates.

Brad Tunnell's Duroc was grand champion barrow, out of 125 entries. Reserve championship honors went to a Hampshire shown by Nan Elmore. TESCO donated the showmanship buckle which went to Gary Hanson.

Out of 98 lamb entries, the champion fine wool was shown by Dawn Kelly, the champion medium wool by Ellena Air and the champion finewool cross hardt and the champion fine-wool cross by Wendy Tunnell. Holcombe Pump donated the showmanship buckle which was won by Deana Holcombe.

Deputy Eddie Owens of Big Spring served as auctioneer at the sale. Judges were Joe Wise, Crosbyton; Paul Gross, Lubbock, and Dr. T. D. Tanksley Jr., Texas A&M.

Body Of Woman Is Identified

DALLAS (AP) — The body of a young woman found floating face up in Red Oak Creek in Ellis County Thursday has tentatively been identified by Dallas County medical examiners as that of Mattie Jane Goodin, 18, of South Dallas County.

Mrs. Goodin was reported missing Dec. 21 when her gasless car was found abandoned on Interstate 35 at the north edge of Dallas.

TO RETIRE — State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, 81, who marks his 25th anniversary as State Comptroller Sunday, announced he will not seek another term as the state's most powerful fiscal administrator.

Forecast: Warmer today through Monday. Low tonight upper 30s, high today upper 60s. Winds from the west 10-20 miles per hour.

BEATS A HAND FORK — Workers begin the job of moving 17½ ricks of cotton on a farm operated five miles southwest of here by Lerwood Blagrave. The power fork lift scoops under the cotton firmly packed in the rick (above) then lifts it over into a trailer (above) below. About five ricks (which normally contain 20 bales seed cotton) can be loaded in a day's time with this equipment. Blagrave gathered the ricks off 265 acres, which, despite a hail, produced well over 300 bales. This new field-pack method of storing cotton to avoid a bottle neck at the gin was used probably on 20,000 bales this season.

Legislative Candidates Support Hill's Stand

By JOHN EDWARDS
The two men running for State Rep. Renal Rosson's position voiced similar reactions to the Texas Attorney General's opinion on the confidentiality of police records.

And two local law enforcement agency spokesmen hesitated to commit themselves immediately Friday.

Officials under Attorney General John Hill Thursday concluded the Texas Open Records Act protects police reports from disclosure unless local authorities want to release the reports.

S.O. AND P.D.
"At this point, I have no comment," Sheriff A. N. Standard said. Standard did not know immediately what effect the opinion might have on his office's policy.

Police Chief Vance Chisum suspended final judgment until he had seen more than the new stories.

He specified "incomplete" cases as an area in which police records should be kept temporarily confidential.

"I don't think you should withhold any worthwhile stories," Chisum said. "I don't think anything that would hinder a case should be released."

GLENN TOOMBS
"Attorney General Hill is one of the finest attorneys general we've ever had," Borden County Judge Glenn Toombs said.

The Democrat running for state legislator believed Hill must have thought it out, and he'd (Toombs) "have to go along with him."

"I just wonder if it's a constitutional question of a civil rights violation," the Fluvanna resident said.

"I certainly feel like the records shouldn't be made public until there's been a trial or grand jury indictment," Toombs said. But he added that law enforcement agencies "running a tight ship" by not divulging any information should be more open.

RICH ANDERSON
"I don't think that their records ought to be made public at all," said J. R. (Rich) Anderson, a Republican seeking the same legislative seat, said.

Anderson was speaking about the reports which detail police arrests and investigations into crime.

"If it's going to damage the COURT STILL UNDECIDED Can Henley's Statements Be Admitted In Trial?

HOUSTON (AP) — A pretrial hearing for Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, one of the accused in the mass murders of 27 teenagers, has consumed a week of courtroom maneuvers with the central question still unanswered.

For the first time police officers have given Henley's version of the homosexual rapes, sexual mutilations and murders.

But it will not be until at least Thursday, when defense lawyer Will Gray says he should have completed testimony, that the central decision will be made. District Court Judge William Hatten must decide then whether statements made by Henley to officers should be admitted in a subsequent trial.

The prosecution says the youth was given several opportunities to call a lawyer or demand to have one appointed but each time refused. Prosecutors added he was repeatedly warned of possible self-incrimination. Defense lawyers said Henley, a junior high school dropout, was in such a poor mental condition he was unable to intelligently waive his rights.

DETAILS TOLD
Detectives—chiefly Sgt. David Mullican of the suburban Pasadena Police Department—have related these details in the five-day hearing.

Henley telephoned Pasadena police the morning of Aug. 8, 1973 and said he had shot Dan Arnold Corll, 33. Henley said he, Cordell Kerley, 20 and Rhonda Williams, 15, had passed out after sniffing paint at Corll's home and awakened handcuffed. The slight, brown-haired Henley said he had talked his way out of his bonds, then shot and killed Corll as Corll attempted to have sexual relations with Kerley.

THE WEEK

but if impact funds keep declining as in the past the loss might be less than buying and operating a new fleet of buses.

Believe it or not, rain — not much but rain nevertheless — fell Friday morning. It amounted to .11 of an inch here, and varied elsewhere. The benefit was psychological, although cattle and golfers were pleased that it washed dust off grass.

A by-product of the long, dry spell (which has contributed to a record cotton harvest) flared up in a grass fire that wiped out half a section of pasture on the Bud Rankin ranch near Coahoma. Everywhere good covers of grass are tinder dry and can flash like powder. So be careful with cigarettes and matches.

Sand Spring residents filed a petition with the Howard County Commissioners Court to incorporate. A number of years ago such an effort was made but died aborning. Now, claim the petitioners (basing the statement on water meters), Sand Springs is larger than neighboring Coahoma. In the background may also be loose rumors that other municipalities might annex.

If you didn't get your CR '74 tickets in time, then you had best show up at a press night showing (when several hundred extra tickets will be available) Monday. Except for scattered singles, the rest of the BSHS band's celebrated annual variety show is sold out for four nights.

Rene Brown is the new president of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation, being named to the board for a new term and then to the top office, succeeding Tom Locke, president. The foundation had a good year in 1973, adding a new industry and staying in vigorous competition for others.

Speaking of presidents Mrs. Odell (Edna) Womack was elected president of the Big Spring YMCA. If ever anyone should know about YMCA from long work and devotion, it is the new president.

Another Big Springer shared in honors. Bill Bradford was presented Friday evening with the Silver Beaver award, the highest the Buffalo Trail Council can confer for outstanding service to boys. Most of his work has been done where it counts the most — directly with the boys.

You may notice in the Herald today that since Jan. 1, bank deposits have spurted by $9.5 million, or 11.5 per cent. The reason, of course, is sale of the cotton crop. The spurt may have peaked, however, since farmers are doing something with that money — investing or retiring loans. Meanwhile, every gin in the county still has a yard full of unginned cotton.

With the filing deadline little over two weeks away, the political pot kept simmering. Gus Ochotorena filed as a candidate for his first full term as justice of peace, and Mary Kirchhoff, Plainview teacher, announced for the GOP nomination for state senate.

Member cities — Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder — got the word during the week that rates from the CRMWD will be steady, or down slightly. More net revenues could have been applied to softer rates, only a big debt service hump is coming up in 1976 and would occasion a sharp jump in water charges. The present pattern may avert that.

Those rampaging HC Hawks added two more notches in clipping Amarillo 103-92 in a conference game and coasting to a 100-70 win over ASU subs. BSHS upset Midland Lee, but it was too heady and the Steers lost to Abilene Cooper. The sparklers for the season are the Brahmas t h e junior outfit which kept its unbeaten score intact at 12-0 although it had to go overtime to beat Snyder Lamar 65-63.

Coming up Monday evening is the March of Dimes annual Mothers' March. This is the key activity, and success or failure of the campaign depends upon your generosity in investing in the fight against birth defects.

Big Spring landed the July meeting of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, when about 150 area officials were hosted by Stanton.

$3 MILLION TEXAS GAMBLE

Cottonburgers, Anyone?

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Take some cottonseed, an act of nature, a fickle rodent, curious researchers, a $3 million gamble, a hamburger patty and what do you get?

A cottonburger. Well, not exactly, but it's an introduction to a new and exciting source of protein for humans gleaned from glandless cottonseeds.

FOOD CRISIS

It is a source, some say, with characteristics for human consumption that are superior to protein extracted from soybeans.

"It's one of the answers to the food crisis in coming years," says Joe Rankin, vice president of the Plains Coop Oil Mill here.

"We're still getting some of the bugs ironed out of the process, but it's looking real good," he said. "It's only a small start in providing protein for human food . . . but it seems to hold tremendous potential for the future."

And, says Rankin, a cotton producer from nearby Ralls, "We're betting $3 million that it will work."

BLENDED

Plains Coop is the largest cotton compress and oil mill in the world, and the only domestic company using a new process to produce the flour-like cottonseed substance.

Rankin said the protein content of a normal four-ounce hamburger patty can be doubled by blending in an ounce of the cottonseed flour.

Using less than 20 per cent by weight can double the protein value of a loaf of bread, he said.

"It's a very bland, colorless product, and there's lots of advantages in that," he said.

For instance, he said, the high protein additive would improve the texture and shrinkage of a hamburger or "cottonburger" but not affect its flavor.

SUNFLOWER

"It is also soluble in carbonated drinks, one characteristic not found in soy, safflower or sunflower protein," he said.

Once fully developed, he continued, its use is unlimited in institutional feedings such as school lunch programs, hospitals, nursing homes and for heart patients on high protein diets.

For undernourished countries around the world, the potential is staggering, he said.

Researchers have long been aware of the high protein available in the oils and flour produced from cottonseed but pigment glands contain a bitter, toxic substance called gossypol. "This material made it unsuitable for human consumption," Rankin said.

FREAK OF NATURE

The first variety of the glandless cottonseed was discovered somewhat by accident and was the product, Rankin said, of a "freak of nature" through cross-pollination.

Later, said Rankin, it was discovered that rats found the glandless seeds tasty.

"They'd eat the glandless seed but not the glanded with the toxic material in it," he said.

Eventually, the USDA's Southern Research Laboratory at New Orleans developed the "liquid cyclone process" of extracting the gossypol without rupturing the glands.

It is this process, Rankin said, "that will enable us to process up to 25 tons of edible flour a day."

"This plant was designed originally to run glanded seeds through it," Rankin said, "but we found that we could run glandless seeds through and get twice as much edible product out of the same amount of seed than if we had to separate the glanded seeds."

ONE OF THE BEST

One of the problems is that the glandless seed does not give the cotton production of other varieties, thus farmers have less economic incentive to grow the new strain.

"The reason for growing cotton is to produce the lint, not the seed," Rankin explained. "The price of seed sometimes doesn't justify the cost."

"But I think because of the protein shortage in the world that we will get around to breeding our cotton so that we'll have a glandless variety that will produce good lint."

With a multimillion dollar state grant, a food protein center at Texas A&M is expected soon to accelerate research in cotton and other farm products to produce just such a variety.

"It can be done," Rankin said. "There's no question about it, but it's going to take a few years to do it. We've got some of the world's best cotton breeders working on it."

Cotton, Grain Sorghum To Be Discussed Here

There are several speakers on the program.

Topics to be discussed and the speakers, as well as the agenda include:

Free Dental Care To Be Offered

Youths under 21 years of age belonging to families on rolls for the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program will be eligible for free dental care soon.

The State Department of Public Welfare, with offices in the basement of the courthouse, hopes to have necessary forms next week.

Eligible persons should contact this office when they desire an appointment for dental work.

Dentists who have agreed to provide this care in Big Spring include Dr. James R. Cave, Dr. Clarence E. Peters and Dr. Robert P. Patterson, a state official told County Judge A. G. Mitchell Thursday.

SAFETY CONTAINERS CAN WEAR OUT

This new year we are most hopeful that deaths due to accidental taking of medicines by small children will be drastically reduced. The one major reason for this hope is the increasingly widespread use of the new safety containers for most medicines.

But, along with this major development in pharmaceutical packaging comes a new danger. A false sense of security that the safety cap will automatically stop accidents. But, after prolonged use the closure mechanism on the safety tops can wear out. Be aware of this and do not reuse these containers.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Seize Suspected Bank Robbers, Recover Cash

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Police say they have captured two suspected bank robbers here and recovered about $2,000 in cash and the pistol with which five persons in the bank were wounded.

Elbert Stewart, 25, and Thomas Randolph, 22, were arrested at a residence near the Lakeshore Branch of Louisiana Bank and Trust Co. minutes after the holdup and booked with bank robbery.

Only one of the suspects was armed, but police said he wounded five in a barrage of gunfire, three seriously.

Among those seriously injured was the assistant manager of the bank, who was shot in the back as he ran out of the building for help.

Charles Shillinger, assistant bank manager, was in the intensive care unit of a local hospital with wounds of the chest and abdomen.

Two others listed in serious condition were Sharon Ewing, a customer from Waskom, Tex., and Claire Cocke, 45, a bank employee.

Less seriously hurt, but taken to a hospital for treatment were Eugene Taylor, 68, and Eric Wright, who celebrated his 83rd birthday Thursday.

Wright's watch was shot from his wrist as the bandits fled.

"I've been here for 83 years and all I could think of was, 'This is a heck of a way to have to go.'"

Voters Reminded Of Requirements

Soon a new voter registration list will be compiled, Mrs. Zirah L. Bednar, county tax collector, said.

Citizens who have moved to a new address or new voting precinct should notify the tax office before this list is completed.

"You will be voting in the city, school and primary elections soon, and these changes must be made to protect your voting rights," Mrs. Bednar said.

The 1972 voting registration certificates still are valid.

Kohoutek Not Big Fizzle To Many

MOUNT LOCKE, Tex. (AP) — Comet Kohoutek may have been a big fizzle for many earthlings but astronomers armed with a computer are finding otherwise.

They are using the computer at the University of Texas McDonald Observatory to track the comet and analyze data from it.

"Our astronomers will use the data to learn more about the history of the solar system, the orbits of the comets, their size, composition and explosions that occur in them," said Curtis D. Laughlin, observatory superintendent.

"The low latitude here permits observations of the southern skies, and we plan to consolidate and to exchange our findings with other astronomers who are working from other vantage points around the world," said Laughlin.

The computer, an IBM 1800 data acquisition and control system, positions McDonald's 160-ton telescope automatically on the comet.

It also takes data from those sightings, and from other smaller telescopes, and records and converts it into graphs and charts.

The observatory atop 6,791-foot Mount Locke in the Southwest Texas mountain region, has a large, 107-inch telescope, plus three smaller instruments.

All are reflecting telescopes which use mirrors instead of lenses so virtually all the light reaching them from outer space passes through.

Besides its low latitude and high elevation, the observatory site makes it possible for astronomers to look into space through skies uncontaminated by city lights of smog.

Three months ago, McDonald scientists wrote a special computer program to help them conduct the Kohoutek sightings. That action followed discovery of the comet by Dr. Lubos Kohoutek at the Hamburg Observatory when it was 465 million miles from earth last March.

Using available information on the comet's speed and trajectory, the astronomers developed the program which makes it possible to key certain instructions into a terminal linked to the computer.

The computer then positions the large telescope in seconds on the comet's coordinates. It continues to keep the scope locked onto the comet's orbit as it streaks across the sky.

During the observation, electronic equipment connected to the telescope sends pulses that represent the comet's reflected light and other characteristics to the computer. This is recorded in the computer's files and then converted into graphs and charts by a computer-driven plotting device.

"You just can't move a 160-ton telescope around as you would a pair of binoculars," Laughlin said. "The computer eliminates that kind of trial and error positioning and also allows us to make optimum use of our equipment in the viewing time available."

RETHINKING NEEDED Study Of Gonorrhea Reveals Bare Facts

BOSTON (AP) — A study of gonorrhea in men says that many more men than previously believed may be unknown carriers of the venereal disease.

Women, who often don't show obvious signs of gonorrhea, have been blamed as a main source of the disease because unsuspecting males are infected by them. The study indicates that the reverse also is true.

SEXUALLY ACTIVE — In a report published today in the New England Journal of Medicine, researchers in Seattle, Wash., say studies of 2,628 sexually active Army enlisted men show that two-thirds of those with clinically proven gonorrhea displayed few, if any, disease symptoms.

The researchers said their tests showed that 50 of the men, or 2.2 per cent of those tested, had gonorrhea. But 40 of these men said they noticed no pain while urinating nor signs of infectious discharge from their sex organs — the telltale clues.

WRONG AGAIN — However, upon close examination, the report said, 15 of the 40 asymptomatic men were found to have a scant discharge, but it was not readily noticeable to the layman.

The study was conducted by the University of Washington School of Medicine, the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in Seattle and the Madigan Army Medical Center in Tacoma, Wash.

Dr. Timothy O. Lipman, one of the researchers, said in an interview that there are no statistics to indicate how many men with asymptomatic gonorrhea may be in the overall population. But he said the proportion may be about the same.

"It's always been assumed that asymptomatic gonorrhea in men was no big problem," Lipman said. "It was considered rare and unimportant, but that doesn't appear to be the case."

Dr. Lipman, now at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, D.C., said: "It is my feeling that men in high risk groups, that is those with multiple sex partners, should probably have routine laboratory cultures done to check for asymptomatic gonorrhea."

The U.S. Public Health Service says gonorrhea is second only to the common cold as the most frequently reported infectious disease in this country. It is estimated that there have been more than two million new cases of gonorrhea in the last 12 months alone.

Jerry Clower Set To Speak

The 1974 Andrews County Chamber of Commerce annual banquet will be held Tuesday Jan. 29, at 7:30 p.m.

Jerry Clower will bring a program of humor to the Permian Basin — "You Need To Be With Us." The basic part of every story to quote Clower, "is something real that has happened to me or almost happened!"

Jerry won a presidential unit citation aboard an aircraft carrier in the South Pacific in 1944-47 before returning to Southwest Mississippi Junior College and Mississippi State University where he played football. His stories are built around these experiences and home spun events such as coon hunting.

The audience response encouraged Clower to produce his first album, "Jerry Clower from Yazoo City, Miss. Talkin'." The success of the first album led to "Mouth of the Mississippi," and Clower Power." Jerry has made guest appearances on the Johnny Bench Show, Hee Haw, CBS Walter Cronkite Special, the David Frost Show, the Charlie Pride personal appearances, Mike Douglas Show and Country Crossroads Radio Show. He has taped commercials for Ford Motor Co., McCulloch Chain Saws, Colonial Mobil Homes and Purina Dog Food. Jerry became a member of the Grand Ole Opry cast in October, 1973.

Tickets for the annual banquet are available at the Andrews County Chamber Office, at 204 NE 1st, Andrews, costing $6.50 each.

'DIRTY TRICK' 'The Joy Of Sex' Makes Man Sad

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Even though it's in its second year as a bestseller, "The Joy of Sex" is proving no joy to bookseller Ken Moffett.

He's the only person in the country to be charged with distributing obscene literature for selling the book, according to its publisher, Simon and Schuster.

Moffett was arrested last August, shortly after a United States Supreme Court ruling broadened the power of local communities in deciding what is obscene.

POST BAIL

He was bound over to state court and freed on $300 bond. The court is reviewing motions to suppress a hearing and has set no hearing date.

The Moffett case has generated enough interest to bring the president of Simon and Schuster to Macon to review the situation, and to bring about a change in the city's handling of obscenity complaints.

Moffett's arrest resulted from an anonymous complaint, investigator Ellis Evans says. "At that particular time we had a lot of calls (about allegedly obscene books) and we were going around and checking each complaint," Evans says.

"We sort of think it was one and the same person making the calls," he added. "Since we've required that callers give their name and be willing to testify, the calls have dwindled down to nothing."

SHOWS ACT

Evans concedes that the fact that the complainer was anonymous could harm the case against Moffett.

FORSAN — The school board here has approved the itinerary for the senior trip.

Seniors will be visiting the Dallas-Fort Worth area May 7-12. Six Flags Over Texas, Seven Seas, the wax museum, Lion Country Safari, the Fort Worth zoo and new international airport are to be visited.

Trustees also scheduled an election for April 6. Oliver Nichols Jr., president of the board, and Elbert Strickland are serving terms of office which will expire.

Homer Thorp will be election judge at Elbow Elementary and Mrs. Susan Gaston was designated presiding judge at Forsan High School. Both judges were authorized to select two clerks.

Thorp, Bill Mims and Frank Knapp were named to the board of equalization, with R. V. Fryar as an alternate.

H. D. Smith, superintendent, and the board mapped out plans for selection of a superintendent to take office in July, 1975. Smith plans to retire.

Barring No More At Nuevo Laredo

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico (AP) — Like the hundreds of hulking beasts which pawed its sandy floor and roared its barriers, the worn bulking in the border city has died and is being dragged off into history. Its passing has been told by the hammering of workers, clawing down the wooden beams and piling them in the center of the ring. "This thing came gradually," says Rafael Longoria of the de- cision to raze the ring. He is one of two urbane brothers who owned the ring as an avocation. "We have been fighting and getting frustrated the last five or six years so it didn't come as a big thing to us," says Longoria, whose father opened the ring on George Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22, 1936.

MADE IT EASIER
Perhaps the scheduling of the last bullfights on a Sunday in late autumn of last year makes it easier on the heart, he indicates.

"In these winter months, we usually didn't promote anything, so it's easier," Longoria says. "Let's see come February or July how we feel."

The emotions of the friends his family made among aficionados, mostly from the United States, already have been affected.

"We feel the world has practically ended," says Loga Castillo, whose husband began attending the Longorias' corridas two decades ago.

Raul Castillo, a U.S. Navy employe in Corpus Christi, Tex., chuckles at his wife's sentiment but he says, "You kind of hate seeing it come to an end, knowing there is not going to be another one tomorrow."

Like Castillo, Roy Shiflett once aspired to be a matador. Both fought as amateurs in festivals the Longorias organized in Nuevo Laredo for charity.

Shiflett watched Manolo Martinez and Curro Rivera, possibly two of the top three matadors in Mexico, fight three bulls each in the last Nuevo Laredo corrida Nov. 4.

"It almost made tears come to my eyes when the last bull came out because I knew that was going to be the last one there," says Shiflett, who manages property for a Houston real estate company.

Shiflett says he will try to follow bullfighting in the big plaza in Monterrey, but won't go as often because of the distance.

He also will travel to small rings still operating along the Texas-Mexican border in Matamoros, Reynosa and Piedras Negras but he says the quality won't be the same as it was in Nuevo Laredo.

"Nuevo Laredo kept the tradition," he says.

DIDN'T CHEAT
"The Longorias were different. They weren't there to cheat the public. They gave the best performances that could be offered," he says.

It appears the Longorias, who are affluent beer distributors and property owners, didn't want to continue what their father had begun if they couldn't do it right.

Rafael Longoria explains, "They are calling it right now a kind of monopoly. The owners of the Mexico City bullring are buying rings all over the country," adding that the promoters have put the best bullfighters under contract for their bullrings.

"So we have had some specific dates where it is profitable to stage the bullfights and we had to wait until they made their programs and after they chose our bullfighters, we had to choose ours."

"Consequently," says Longoria, "We have not been able to present a card to our tastes or what we thought the people would like for the last six years."

"You can not fool the people all the time," he says.

As an example of his and his brother's inability, he says they have been unable to obtain Eloy Cavazos, a premier Mexican matador, for six years.

Longoria also says the monopoly will soon extend to bull breeders as well as performers.

The Longorias staged about five bullfights a year, mainly around U.S. holidays to cater to the Anglo and Mexican-American aficionados who were the majority of the spectators at Plaza del Toros Nuevo Laredo.

Rafael Longoria also has noticed a slight decline in bullfighting interest on the United States side of the border. He recalls when bullfighting clubs flourished in Texas cities and when club members would attend the bullfights in groups and display their banners over the barriers.

MORE VALUABLE
Another cause of the closing, others besides Longoria say, is economic. The bullring property in downtown Nuevo Laredo may be developed into other, more valuable commercial enterprises.

When all the planks come down, all that will remain of the bullring will be memories and names of the great matadors who fought there.

There were Lorenzo Garza of Monterrey and Joaquin Rodriguez "Cagancho" of Seville, Spain, who performed the day the ring was inaugurated.

Later, there were Manuel Rodriguez "Manolete," the "Diosa Rubia," Conchita Cintron, Carlos Arruza and "El Cordobes," whose appearance prompted officials across the Rio Grande in Laredo to close the city hall.

More Aliens Are Arrested

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The number of illegal aliens arrested in the Southwest section of the United States increased for the 11th straight year in 1973 and totaled more than 600,000, federal officials report.

Bob Sietz, spokesman for the Southwest Region of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, said Wednesday the 609,673 arrests were made in 10 states.

Sietz said there was no official estimate of the number of aliens that entered the country and escaped detection. "All we can say is that it probably is a sizable number," he said.

In 1972, border patrolmen apprehended 404,821 aliens. And Sietz said the number is expected to go up again this year.

"We expect that it will continue to increase as there are more and more young people without jobs in Mexico," he said.

Artificial Shoulder Joint Displayed At Dallas Meet

DALLAS (AP) — An artificial muscles lift it, all weight pivots alternative. The artificial shoulder joint displayed on the shoulder joint. He said "It is a salvage procedure at the opening here of the newly developed artificial which the orthopedic surgeon American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons annual meet- ing can withstand up to 189 pounds. The joint, developed in conjunction with the Richards Manufacturing Co. of Memphis, Tenn., is registered as experimental with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Two patients, both women, already have received the joint and doctors at Chicago's Michael Reese Medical Center Post and his team began have hailed it an encouraging success.

Developers of the artificial joint say it will permit those with severely damaged shoulders to again enjoy the freedom of activity they had before being disabled.

The joint is made of stainless steel and plastic. Dr. Melvin Post, chairman of the hospital's orthopaedic department, said previous efforts failed essentially for the same reason: the joint could not withstand the tremendous torque or turning forces—applied to the shoulder object, and the arm is used only when there is no school districts.

The joint is designed to give a wide range of motion — a person's muscles can be used two weeks after being implanted. But Post emphasizes the joint and new laws affecting school districts.

Rural Loans For Scurry

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Industrial Commission qualified 29 more counties Friday for rural industrial loans under the Rural Industrial Development Act.

The 12-member commission also scheduled discussions on Friday for rural industrial loans under the Rural Industrial Development Act.

The 29 counties eligible for industrial loans now can obtain capital for plant locations by participating in about 40 per cent of the cost.

The counties approved today were: Andrews, Bandera, Callahan, Castro, Comal, Concho, Crane, Crockett, Deaf Smith, Glasscock, Hood, Irion, Jeff Davis, Kendall, King, Mason, Menard, Midland, Mills, Rockwall, San Saba, Scurry, Shackelford, Sterling, Sutton, Terrell, Terry, Yoakum and Van Zandt.

Martinez said his office dispersed 628 contract opportunities to minority businessmen representing a potential value of more than $450 million.

AFC DAVID SANDIFER (R) With Capt. Ronald Moore

Sandifer Supply Airman Of Year Within ATC

A young airman who has been in the Air Force only since July, 1972, has been named Air Training Command's supply airman of the year.

Airman First Class David H. Sandifer, 23, 78th Supply Squadron, became Webb's supply airman of the year in December, and went into command-wide competition.

Notification of his award was made recently.

Airman Sandifer, a native of Fort Collins, Colo., is an excess monitor in Webb's supply squadron. Right now he is helping to develop a program to analyze and eliminate excess supplies, and assists in other areas.

Although wearing the uniform is new to him, the Air Force isn't. The airman's father, Herbert N. Sandifer of Teague, Tex., is a retired Air Force master sergeant.

In addition to his normal duties, Airman Sandifer is also a member of his squadron and wing NCO-Airman Advisory Councils. These are councils which contribute ideas for improving or possibly changing conditions and procedures used in either his squadron or on base.

According to his superiors, Airman Sandifer has made outstanding grades on tests and career development courses since he has been at Webb. He is also taking educational courses during his off-duty time.

Airman Sandifer is married to the former Miss Carolyn R. Blackburn of Thornton, Colo. The two have no children.

Colonel Whitcomb Jones, deputy commander for logistics at Webb, stated, "Airman Sandifer's determination, high degree of efficiency and personal integrity makes him very deserving of this award."

"It is indeed a pleasure and a privilege to see him recognized and to have him assigned to the Webb Supply Division."

Highest Scouting Award Presented To Bradford

Otis L. (Bill) Bradford, veteran Scout leader in Big Spring, received the Silver Beaver, highest award of the Buffalo Trail Council at the annual recognition banquet Friday in Midland, and the Lone Star District also earned a maximum award for the year.

This was the 50th anniversary meeting for the council which heard a ringing affirmative from Alden Barber, the chief Scout executive, to hold to the basic tenets of Scouting — character building, citizenship training, physical fitness.

Scouting is changing with the times, but never from its basic mission, he said. "If Scouting is worth anything, it is worth everything."

The council for its Golden Anniversary program, won the coveted Spencer award for exceeding all its goals and being one of the leading councils of the nation.

Barber also presented to Bernold (Bruno) Hanson, Midland independent oil operator and retiring president, the Distinguished Eagle Scout award, one held by only 300 Scouters in the nation.

The Lone Star District, which embraces Howard, Sterling and Glascock Counties, met all of its goals, and J. Arnold Marshall, district chairman, who received an award, said it was the result of teamwork of all units in all communities.

Bradford, who is serving his second tenure as Scoutmaster of Troop 5, sponsored by the First Baptist Church has been a volunteer leader for more than 20 years, serving as an assistant Explorer advisor, district commissioner, jamboree troop leader and twice a scoutmaster. An employee of Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, he is a deacon, a Sunday school teacher for his church, a past president and life member of the American Business Club, also served on the program committee for the Girl Scouts. He and Mrs. Bradford have one daughter, Lavelle.

Others receiving the Beaver were Lowell Longley Jr., Andrews, Olan B. Draper and Curtis C. Brother, Odessa; Robert B. Games, Midland; Clarence H. Crenshaw, Balmorhea, and Oran McCallister, Wink. Mrs. Mary Bruton, Midland, was recipient of the Silver Fawn.

A. L. (Ike) McCarroll, Midland, was installed as new president of the council, B. J. Pevehouse, Midland, as vice president, and J. L. Milner, Midland, as treasurer.

Mark White, secretary of state for Texas, spoke for Gov. Dolph Briscoe, said that the governor ranked Scouting as so important that he headed the Roundup effort with a goal of 50,000 new members during the autumn. The harvest was 69,000 new boys in the program.

The outstanding record of the Buffalo Trail Council contributed in a large measure to the South-Central region achieving its goals, said Bill Hofmann, Dallas, regional director.

More than 350 adults from the 18-county area attended the affair in Midland's First Presbyterian Church. Marshall headed a delegation of nearly 50 volunteer leaders from Big Spring, plus District Executive Guy Griffith.

Cured Cancer Patients Rejoice Over Chances

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two former cancer patients, now deemed cured, say that people like themselves are left with certain problems but that such a "second chance" in life can open up bright new vistas.

Lucia Warren, 49, a registered nurse who had a cancerous breast removed 12 years ago, said, "Because I was given a second chance, I have done things I never would have done otherwise — like taking up scuba-diving."

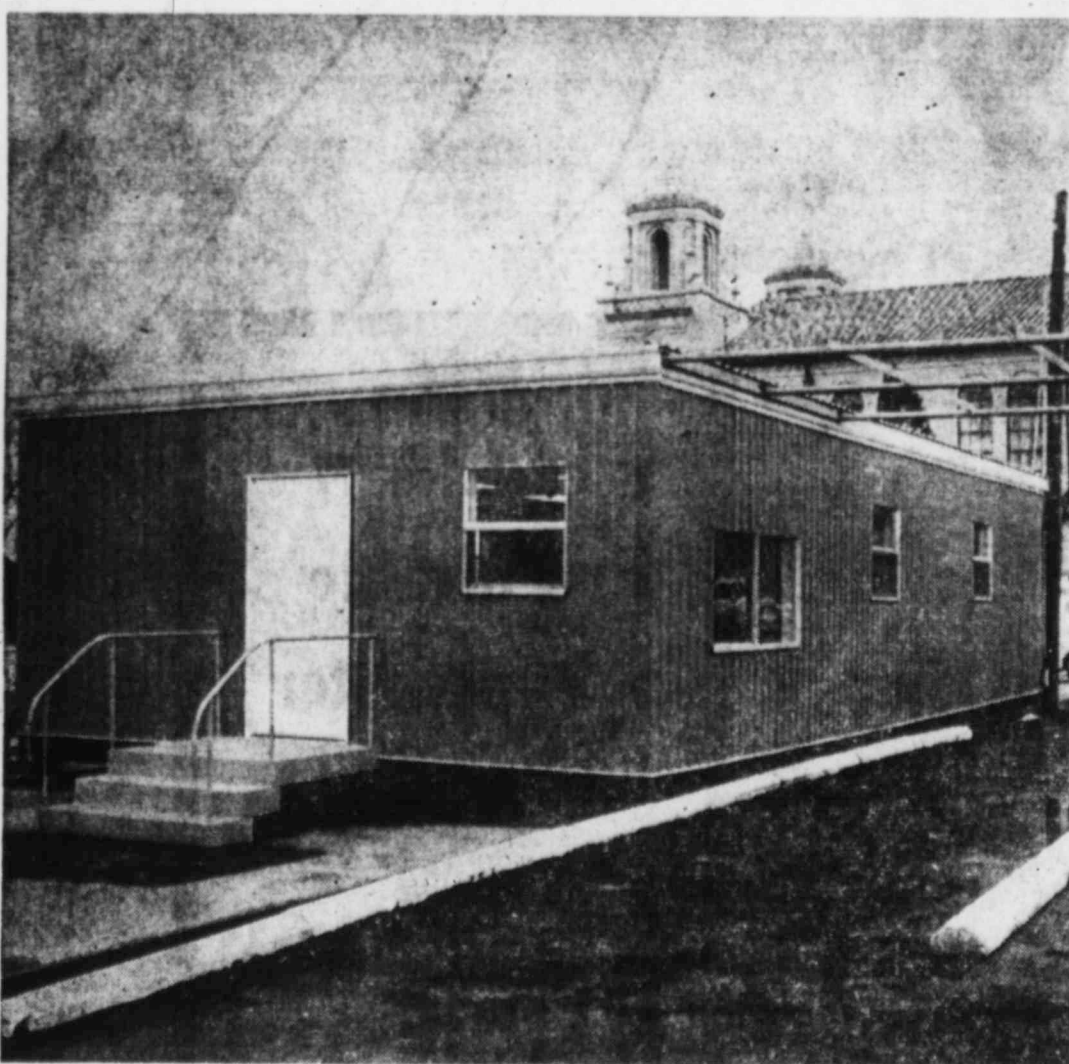

And Craig Tatum, 34, who had his right leg amputated above the knee 20 years ago because of bone cancer, said he learned to play the saxophone.

"I would never have been interested in music otherwise, I think. But now, when I get that horn going, I really feel good..."

The two District of Columbia residents talked to reporters Friday after addressing a special symposium at Georgetown University Medical Center on "the successfully-treated cancer patient—new problems and challenges."

Mitchell: County Employees Deserve A 'Decent Living'

"I certainly do not have any apologies to make for giving people enough to eat and live on," County Judge A. G. Mitchell said of the 15 per cent pay increase incorporated in the budget last fall.

"Let them live a decent life," Mitchell said. He contended even with the across-the-board increase voted for all employees, county employees make less than other local government workers.

King Olav Is Hospitalized

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norway's King Olav, 70, suffering from pneumonia, has been admitted to a hospital in Oslo, the royal palace announced today.

A spokesman for the hospital said the king's condition was "fully satisfactory" but that he would remain there several days.

Crenshaw Sets Mind On Miller

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Miller faltered slightly in the bright, warm sunshine and rookie Ben Crenshaw led the charge that cut his lead to two strokes Saturday in the $150,000 Dean Martin-Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

Miller, seeking an unprecedented sweep of the first three tournaments of the year and the leader all the way in this one, managed a 71 and a 204 total.

That put him 12 under par on the 7,305-yard Tucson National Golf Club course and only two in front of the challenging trio of Crenshaw, J.C. Sneed and Allen Miller (no relation) all tied at 206.

Sneed, a former champion at Tucson, posted a seven-under-par 65. Crenshaw closed with a 67 and Miller had 69.

Jerry Heard and Kermit Zarley also got into contention at 207, just three behind the leader. Each had a 68.

Defending champion Bruce Crampton of Australia was out of it. He had a 71 and, at 214, was 10 strokes off the lead.

Lee Trevino failed to qualify for the final two rounds. Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Tom Weiskopf are not competing.

Johnny Miller, the reigning U.S. Open champion and unbeaten this season, had a four-stroke lead when play started in the brilliant sunshine. He built it to six strokes at the turn, then had to work hard to retain any margin at all.

He bogeyed four of the last nine holes, played that side in three-over-par 39 and said it was the first time this season he'd been over par on any nine holes.

Still, his 71 kept alive his record of having broken par in every competitive round this year and put him within sight of becoming the first man to sweep the first three tournaments of a season.

Palmer, in 1962, was the last man to win any three consecutive American events.

"I've got my work cut out for me," the weary Miller said. "Still, a two-stroke lead isn't too bad."

He played the front nine in 32, chipping close on one par five, two-putting for birdie on the other, then running in birdie putts of 15 and 30 feet.

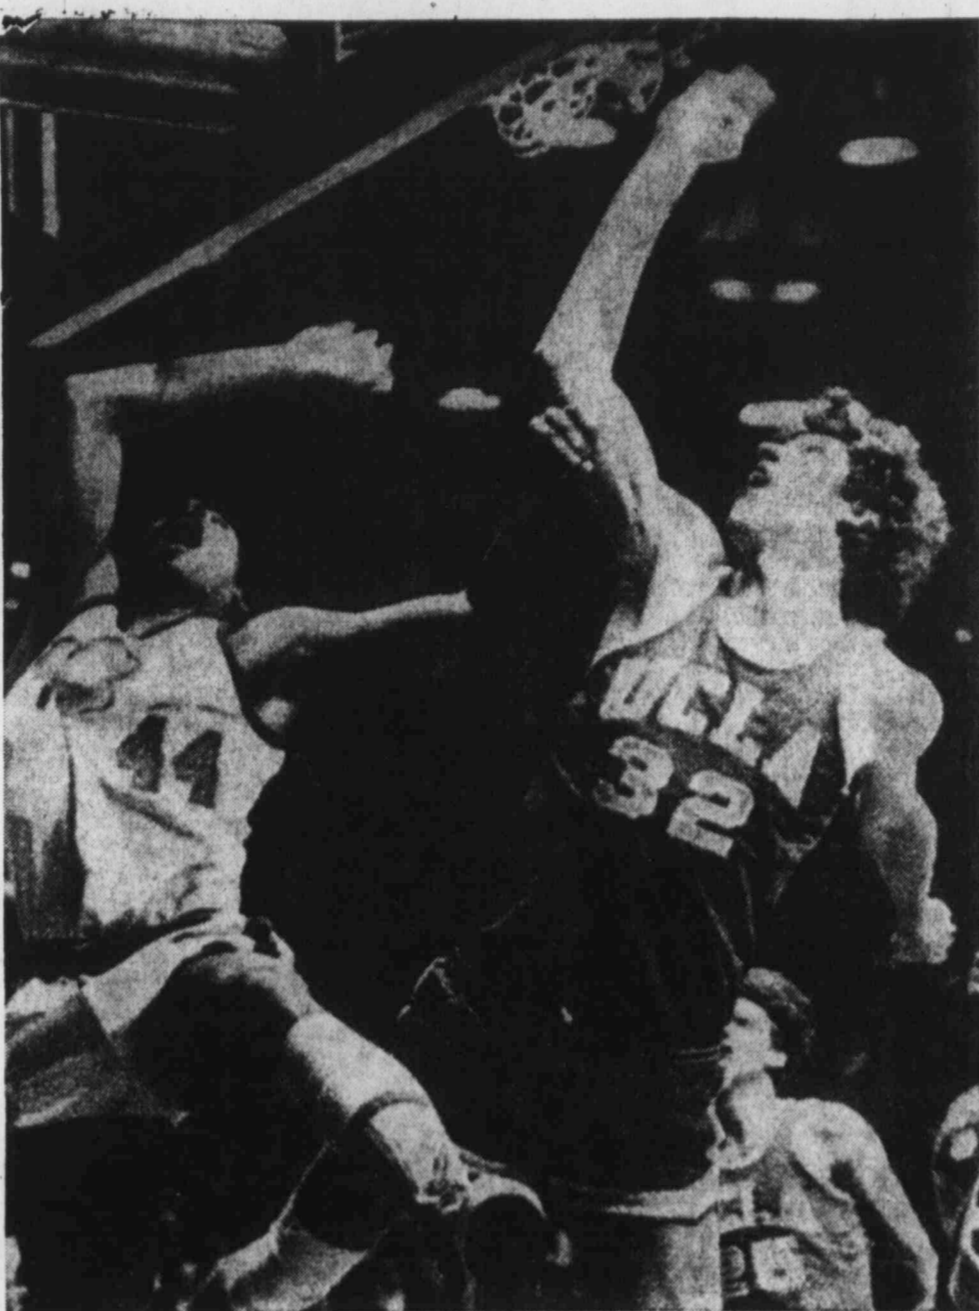

Then, hampered by a heavy cold that had him talking in a hoarse whisper, he ran out of steam.

He missed the green and bogeyed the 10th hole two-putted the par-five 11th for a birdie. He missed the green and bogeyed the 12th, bogeyed the 15th from a bunker and also bogeyed the 18th — just after national television cameras had cut away — when he missed the green.

REBOUND WAR — Bill Walton of UCLA (32) fights for a rebound with Notre Dame's Adrian Dantley in early action of the Irish-Bruins college basketball showdown Saturday in South Bend, Ind. Notre Dame surged from behind in the final moments and scored a 71-70 upset victory, ending UCLA's unbeaten string at 88 games.

NASTY WEATHER IS FORECAST

AFC Gets Pro Bowl Nod

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The battle lines are drawn for the Pro Bowl showdown today between the American and National Conferences of the National Football League.

The 80 players and coaches deserted the sunshine of San Diego, where they staged practices the past four days because of earlier snow and bitter cold in Kansas City, and flew into town late Friday to be greeted by fog and falling temperatures.

The game in Arrowhead Stadium will start at 1 p.m., CDT, and will be televised nationally over NBC. Some 66,000 tickets, 12,138 shy of the stadium's capacity, have been sold.

The forecast is for temperatures in the 40s and partly cloudy skies. This will be the largest crowd since the merger of the old American Football League with the NFL four years ago. The AFC holds a 2-1 edge in the series, and the oddsmakers have made that conference a three-point favorite in this one.

The game will feature the combined offenses used by the NFL champion Miami Dolphins and the Oakland Raiders of the AFC against those of the Los Angeles Rams and the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFC, and that's no accident.

AFC Coach John Madden of Oakland has patterned his club's attack after the Dolphins and the Raiders because his quarterbacks are Ken Stabler of Oakland and Bob Griese of Miami.

Tom Landry of Dallas, the NFC coach, has modeled his offense, to be operated by John Hadl of Los Angeles and Roman Gabriel of Philadelphia, after those utilized by the Rams and the Eagles for the same reason.

Stabler will start for the AFC and Hadl for the NFC.

With Hadl in the starting backfield will be John Brockington of Green Bay and Larry McCutcheon of the Rams at the running backs.

O.J. Simpson of the Buffalo Bills, the hottest NFL running back ever, and Marv Hubbard of Oakland will join Stabler in the AFC backfield. Simpson was named the player of the game in last year's contest, won by the AFC 33-28. He rushed for 112 yards, caught three passes for 58 yards and scored one touchdown.

Notre Dame Erupts Past Bruins, 71-70

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — UCLA Coach John Wooden, taking his team's first loss in 89 games with customary aplomb, laughed and said: "I have no idea how long it will be before somebody else wins that many. I know it takes at least three years."

The cool Wooden and a drained Notre Dame Coach Dick "Digger" Phelps, both appeared relaxed after the No. 2-ranked Fighting Irish stopped the top-ranked Bruins 71-70 in a nationally televised game Saturday.

The two behemoths of college basketball met again next Saturday, at Los Angeles and Phelps joked, "I'm hoping for President Nixon to call and cancel our flight. I hope we run out of gas before we have to go out there."

Wooden pointed to a traveling call against Bruins guard Tommy Curtis and a charging foul on forward Keith Wilkes in the final minute as the keys.

Curtis was whistled for the turnover as he laid in the ball with 2:18 remaining and the score 70-65 in favor of UCLA. The Wilkes call came as the smooth forward steamed for the basket with his team in front 70-69 and 45 seconds to go.

"Either of those shots would have salted the game away," Wooden said.

Asked if he disagreed with the calls, he replied, "I'll just say they were close calls."

Phelps, who saw his team charge back from deficits of up to 17 points in the first half and 11 in the second half, said, "We never quit. We were down 11

(70-59) when I called time out and we had to make some changes.

"We went with our press, putting (freshman guard Ray) Martin back in instead of (freshman Bill) Paterno. The kids never quit, and it happened."

Phelps smiled and added, "For 88 other coaches, including myself, it was a great win."

The big bomb for the Irish was an 18-foot jumper from the corner by junior guard Dwight Clay. The shot, with 28 seconds remaining, gave Notre Dame its final margin and climaxed a run of 12 straight points.

An exuberant Clay, in Phelps' doghouse because of poor shooting during the last week, said, "It feels real great, unbelievable."

The man nicknamed "The Iceman" by his teammates, said, "When the ball came to me, I was open and I knew we had to have it. So I just concentrated on the shot, and thankfully, I made it."

Notre Dame trailed 70-59 with 3:30 remaining in the game, but began their string on two quick baskets by junior center John Shumate, the second coming after he stole an in-bounds pass.

Freshman Adrian Dantley then stole another UCLA pass and went half the length of the court for a layup.

Gary Brokaw, who led Notre Dame with 25 points, then converted two straight short jumpers around a pair of UCLA errors, making it 70-69 with 1:10 left.

UCLA forward Keith Wilkes then dumped in a layup with 45 seconds remaining, but was called for walking and the basket was disallowed.

After Clay's shot, which caused bedlam among the 11,343 Irish fans, UCLA called a timeout with 21 seconds left.

When the ball was put in play, UCLA's Tommy Curtis fired a long jumper that came back hard off the back of the rim. Two Bruin tips failed, but Brokaw lost a rebound out of bounds, giving the ball back to UCLA with six seconds to go.

Johnson Plans To Stay Active

HOUSTON — Denver Bronco Quarterback Charley Johnson underwent his seventh leg operation Friday, but the former Big Spring Steer still isn't ready for retirement.

"I've been trying to talk him into it (retirement) for 10 years, and so his wife," said Johnson's mother, Mrs. C. E. Johnson of 210 Circle. But he's having too much fun."

Johnson, 35, had cartilage removed from his left knee during surgery at Westbury Hospital here.

With Johnson at quarterback, Denver ranked third in the American Conference in total offense in 1973, and the Broncos were No. 1 in passing offense. Johnson led all AFC passers.

SLUGGISH TERPS TRAMPLE NAVY

BALTIMORE (AP) — Fourth-ranked Maryland, recovering after a listless start, scored 15 consecutive points late in the first half and went on to defeat Navy 72-50 Saturday night as Tom McMillen scored 27 points.

The underdog Midshipmen, now 4-8, led 21-20 before going without a point for almost six minutes, allowing Maryland to spurt ahead 35-21.

The Terps, 11-2, had their lead cut to 53-43 midway through the final period before John Lucas and Len Elmore led a 12-1 rally which upped Maryland's lead to 65-44.

Elmore, Maryland's leading rebounder, went to the bench for 7½ minutes after incurring his fourth foul early in the second half. He finished with 10 points.

Mickey Hampton scored 16 points to pace the Middies.

Raiders Slam Bears, 78-59

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A tenacious defense and hot shooting by four players, led by Rick Bullock with 22 points, paced Texas Tech to a 78-59 victory over Baylor here Saturday night in Southwest Conference action.

The victory kept the conference defending champion Red Raiders in no worse than a tie for first with a 2-0 record while Baylor suffered its first loss.

The first half was close with the lead changing hands four times before the Raiders broke in front 33-31 on William Johnson's jump shot.

Texas Tech held a 36-31 lead at the half and hit 53.6 per cent from the field.

Behind Bullock in scoring came Grady Newton and Johnson with 15 points each and Richard Little with 13.

Gary McGuire had 15 points for Baylor and Charlie McKinney, Baylor's leading scorer, managed 12.

TCU Jolts Texas A&M

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas Christian University, sparked by the return of guard Herb Stephens, shocked Texas A&M 88-72 here Saturday night in a Southwest Conference basketball game.

Stephens, a 26-year-old senior who had been sidelined all season with a knee ailment, directed the Horned Frogs to a 42-28 halftime lead and the Aggies never got within 10 points in the final period.

Wayne Wayman was high point man for the Horned Frogs with 16 points while James Hudson added 15 and Stephens and Alonzo Harris tipped in 14 each.

Longhorns Jolt SMU By 87-82

DALLAS (AP) — The resurgent Texas Longhorns overcame a six-point halftime deficit and a 37-point performance from Ira Terrell to defeat Southern Methodist 87-82 in a Southwest Conference basketball game here Saturday night.

DIST. 5-4A Bobcats Aid Cougs' Cause

Abilene Cooper, taking advantage of San Angelo's 60-59 semi-upset of Abilene High, dumped Big Spring's Steers 75-67 Friday night and moved into the Dist. 5-AAAA cage leadership.

The Cougs now stand 4-1 and 18-4 on the year, while Abilene, San Angelo, Midland and Lee all stayed close with 3-2 records. Midland smacked Odessa 77-55 and Lee trounced past Odessa Permian 51-47 to keep pace.

Big Spring, 2-3, is in the sixth spot while Permian and Odessa are trailing at 1-4.

San Angelo reserve Joe Holland hit a basket with one second remaining to hand the Bobcats their second win of the year over the Eagles. Mike Vaughn chalked up 30 points as the Cats lifted their season standing to 16-5. For Abilene, Monte Harris hit 22 points.

Permian could hit just 19 of 60 shots from the field and nine of 27 free throws in bowing to the Rebels, who got 20 points from Brett Blackwell. Lee is now 20-3 on the season.

ALL HAIL THE BASKETBALL — Big Spring and Abilene Cooper basketball players seem to be saluting the round object hovering above during second quarter action of the Steers-Cougars game here Friday. It's actually a simple rebound, with Steers James Zapp (50) and John Thomas Smith battling Cougars Cave Baum (54) and Reggie Leffall (40) for the ball. Cooper won, 75-67, and took over first place in the loop.

COOPER TAKES LEAD IN 5-4A

Steer Rally Falls Short

It took the Big Spring Steers the first eight minutes to realize what was going on Friday night, and by then it was just about too late.

The Abilene Cooper Cougars, smelling a first half Dist. 5-AAAA title, piled up a big lead in the early going and then turned back a gutsy Steer rally for a 75-67 win in the BSHS gym.

"We were due a let down after the Lee game, and I expected one. But I was hoping we could overcome it," Steer Coach Ron Plumlee said after the game.

The win gave Cooper sole possession of first place with their 18-4 standing, while the Steers fell out of the first half chase with a 2-3 mark. On the year the Steers are 14-7.

During halftime ceremonies of the game, Kendra Dewees and Denise Wade were named Co-Basketball Queens. The varsity players voted on the selection, and it ended in a tie, so both were awarded the honor.

"We were pretty high for Lee Tuesday — there's no question that we wanted to win this one, but we just couldn't get up for it," the head Steer said. "We finally put a few things together in the last minute and had a chance to cut it to two points. It just didn't work out."

Big Larry Martin, a 6-2, 225-pounder, got six of his eight points in the last minute and a half to help quell the Steer uprising, which brought the locals back from an 18-point deficit.

But 6-4 Larry Bradford, one of the district's premier players, was the main man as he burned the hosts for 20 points and also starred on defense, where he blocked several shots and led the Cougars in rebounding.

Cave Baum, a 6-5 post man, chipped in 18 points and Reggie Leffall added 11 points, most of them in the first half on shots from the same spot on the left side of the court.

Guard Larry Stanley continued to impress with his outside shooting, leading the Steers with 18 points, and John Thomas Smith, covering more area on the court than anyone, threw in 17. Tim Dunn chipped in 11 points. Bradford hit eight first quarter points to spark the Cougs to a 20-9 first quarter bulge, and at one point in the second period the Steers found themselves down by 18, 34-16. Smith called a huddle at that point, however, and the Steers managed to climb back into the game at 36-28 with just over a minute to play.

Cooper's halftime lead was 41-32. Baum hit three straight baskets to ignite a Cougar surge in the third quarter, and the visitors went up by 15 again before Stanley could manage a basket at the buzzer that sliced it to 58-45.

The Steers got within striking distance with less than three minutes to go as Vicky Woodruff sank four free throws, making it 65-57, and it was Woodruff again with 1:41 remaining who trimmed the count to 65-59.

That's when Martin went to work for the Cougs, however, getting four points in the next 30 seconds, and after Tim Dunn excited the home fans by cutting the lead to 69-65 with 47 seconds left, Martin hit the one to put the game out of reach with 31 seconds remaining.

Leffall and Frank Estes each sank a pair of free throws in the final seconds to seal the win.

The Steer Junior Varsity's rally was more successful, and led them to a 56-53 win over the Cooper JVs.

Robert Aldridge, who nailed in 21 points, sparked the Steer Juniors from an eight point deficit in the fourth quarter as he hit the go-ahead points with 33 seconds left, making it 54-53. Ten seconds later the Big Springers got the ball back, but on the throw-in the ball and several bodies sailed out of bounds and Big Spring Coach James Griffin was charged with a technical foul for disputing the call, which gave Cooper the ball.

The free throw was unsuccessful, however, and Aldridge, who was fouled fielding a final rebound, hit two free throws after time had expired.

Score by Quarters: Big Spring 23 13 22-56 Cooper 11 20 12-53

Track Opener Two Weeks Away For Steer Runners

Track season is less than two weeks away, and as Big Spring coach Glenn Petty puts it, the Steers will head into the new year with "guarded optimism."

With five lettermen back and at least 10 potential point-getters on the roster, that "optimism" is likely to turn into more medals than a year ago when the Longhorns got off to such a slow start they failed to score a point in their first real meet. This time, things look different.

"We're a lot further along than we were this time last year," Petty said. "We don't have any depth, but we've got some potential in a few places. Everything will have to fall just right."

Petty also said that the mile relay team will be better and that's good news for local fans who saw the foursome of Doug Smith, Don Beene, Bobby Mayo and Ronald McKee speed to a 3:23.9 and a third place finish in the Dist. 5-AAAA meet last year.

All four are back, and though injuries have taken their toll, there are some capable replacements.

Another hopeful is Tom Bidison, a senior relay man who fractured his lower leg and is still a question mark. McKee is still recovering from a foot ball injury that resulted in a shoulder operation, and long jumper-sprinter Arthur Mackey is out for good after fracturing his ankle in a motorcycle accident.

Other varsity tracksters are senior Wayne Crenwelge and weight men Buddy Gillenwater, Kyle Neighbors, Scott Robb, and Joe Ortega. Tommy Moss is coaching the discus and shot put men.

The team gets its first workout against outside competition Feb. 2 in a triangular practice meet in San Angelo with the Bobcats and Midland Lee, and the following weekend Petty will take a select group to the Astrodome Federation Meet in Houston.

A practice meet is tentatively set here for Feb. 16, and on Feb. 22-23 the Comanche Relays in Fort Stockton officially kick off the West Texas track season. Dodson cleared 14-0 to finish second in the district pole vault last year, and then he placed third in the regional meet. He's already gone over 14-0 in practice, and Petty says he can go higher.

McCormick, one of four cross country lettermen out of the squad, heads up the group of distance men. His best mile in 1973 was a 4:40.5, and he'll be challenging another junior for the honors, Lindon Dugan of Odessa Permian whom he jousts with all through the cross country season.

Wilder's 100th Win May Only Be The Beginning

By JACK COWAN
When the Howard College Hawks thumped Angelo State's Junior Varsity 111-92 a week ago in San Angelo, the game wasn't really very different from any of the other lopsided victories Coach Harold Wilder's wreckers had rung up this season.

But for Wilder, the game was a milestone of sorts. It marked his 100th victory since coming to HC four years ago, and now he's looking forward to joining the 200 Club, with its elite membership of two.

"I was real happy with No. 100," said Wilder, whose Hawks have since reeled off two more wins and lifted his standing to 102-36. "We've got a good program, and I'm sure we can improve on it in the next few years."

Wilder's program has been good, and his record bears it out. His Hawks have posted 25-12, 27-9 and 27-13 records since his arrival from Abilene High in 1970, and at present the team is enjoying a 23-2 record and a lofty No. 11 ranking in the NJCAA.

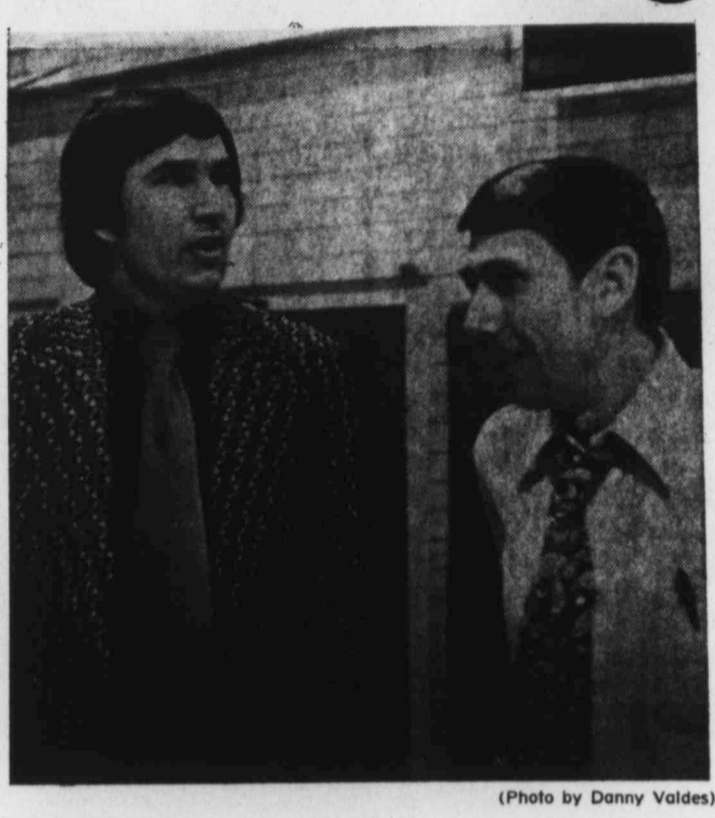

And though Wilder doesn't talk much about it, the situation looks good for a first outright Western Conference championship since 1969. Bigger thinkers have the Hawks winning the Region V Tournament in March and then making the Nationals in Hutchinson, Kan.

The last time Wilder was there was as a player, for Fort Lewis College of Durango, Colo. in the 1950s.

Wilder says that over the years he's developed a rather simple coaching philosophy, one that could easily be mistaken for a motto. "Strive to win," he says. "That's one of the reasons I'm enjoying this job, because I'm allowed to do that — strive to win."

"That's different from saying 'win at all costs' or any of that, and it's what I try to teach my players."

The coach says only two things are necessary for a winning program — good players and an opportunity to work them out. "If I can have those two things I can have a winning program on any level," the head Hawk said.

"In high school, a coach is limited to the players that live in his district, so good players are just a matter of chance. Some school systems — and to some extent the UIL — don't allow a team to do the things necessary to improve. The UIL seems to be trying to legislate everybody into mediocrity."

"But in junior college ball you can work the players out any time you want to. A guy that has some initiative and drive can succeed — and the result in juco ball is that the players improve."

"Another thing I like about it is that I have the opportunity to get good players by recruiting — I don't have to leave that to chance. Then, if I don't get any good players it's my fault."

Barring some unforeseen dilemma, Wilder will be around to challenge the past coaching heroics of Harold Davis and happened here that I thought the program would suffer and become worse, there's a chance I would go.

"But realistically, the only jobs I'd really like to have I know won't be offered me. I'm perfectly satisfied here — I've got a good job, one of the very best coaching jobs in Texas. I'm not trying to build up some fantastic record and then move on."

Wilder doesn't plan any changes in the recruiting process that has delivered him some of the best players in the school's history the past four years. "I think we've been real fortunate to get some of the players we've had."

"We try to recruit the best players, but players that can be happy in our situation. In my four years here we've had some of the nicest guys you'd ever want to meet. We haven't had any trouble with them, and every player that has stayed in our program has graduated."

SANDS HIGH Open House Is Held Thursday

By KAY NEWCOMER

Faculty members and other school personnel were honored with an open house Thursday, Jan. 17, in the Home Economics department. Girls in the home economics classes made refreshments for the affair and served as hostesses. A Valentine theme was carried out in the decorations.

An assembly was held Wednesday during the 5th period. The Country Gold band, composed of five members, provided the entertainment. Members of the band are Brad Ingram and Buddy Dyer from Sands and Barry Harris, Kyle Peterson, and Jack Estes, from Klondike.

The Varsity basketball teams traveled to Borden County Tuesday night. The girls were defeated but the boys were victorious over the Coyotes. The junior varsity boys also played and won their match. They hosted Loop here on Thursday night.

Members of the Beta Club who attended the state convention met Thursday morning. Those attending the convention were Cindy McDonald, Jill Adams, Marsha Dyer, Kayla Gaskins, Kay Newcomer, Brad Ingram, and Danny Gillespie, seniors; Elaine Martin, Essie Cate, and Patsy McDonald, juniors; Connie Hughes, sophomore; and Rene Roman, freshman. Sponsors for the group were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Maxwell, and Mr. Jack Cobb. Traveling with our students were thirteen students from the Klondike Beta Club.

State Money Substantial

The growth of the occupational training program at Howard College has earned a surprising increase in state support.

When the budget was adopted, the regular program was included at $163,000 in apportionment as a line item from the state, and the contingent additional earnings for the occupational training division at $5,000.

However, the number of contact hours (one pupil times the actual hours in class) reported by Dr. Larry Key, dean of the vocational-technical division was substantially higher than anticipated.

Friday, Dr. Thomas Salter, HC president, said he had been notified by the Texas Education Agency that the contingency payment would be $23,324 rather than $5,000. The amount approved represented 63 per cent of the state's funding target for occupational training. TEA said it hoped, but was not committed, to pay 100 per cent of the contact hours earned.

He talked of the Big Spring laws and laws relating to juveniles. Mr. Kissinger also allowed the students to ask questions. Preceding Mr. Kissinger's visit the students studied a unit called "You and the Law."

During the English classes, the students were told of the Optimist International Oratorical Contest. The contest will take place on Jan. 31 at the Big Spring High School. Boys and girls may enter the contest. The official subject to talk on is: "I'm Just One" and the speech must be more than four minutes but not more than five minutes long.

Mrs. Coleman's morning food classes had a contest of table settings. First and second prizes were given to the kitchen groups with the most attractive table settings. First prize was given to Maria, Julie, Henry, and Suzy and second place was captured by Ester, Luisa, Debbie, and Arlene. These girls pictures were put on the bulletin board on the second floor. Mrs. Coleman's afternoon classes finished making red and white chair cushions for the room.

The two new students this week are both seventh graders. They are Ismael Juarez and Donald White. Don moved here from Lubbock.

The eighth grade physical education classes had a Card tournament last week. First place winners were Tena Taylor and Charlotte Coleman. They will receive a trophy. Second place winners were Frances Martinez and Cathy Gilbert. They will receive ribbons as rewards.

This week will make the beginning of a domino tournament during advisory period.

The Chess Club met last Friday during advisory. The following students will be playing in a chess tournament with Goliad. They are Mike Bartosh, Leland Daniels, Julie Davidson, Donny Knight, Wayne Mayo. Steve Strain will serve as alternate. The tournament will be played Wednesday, Jan. 23 at the Goliad Cafeteria. Winner of the Runnels tournament, Tim Duncan, will not play because he has moved away.

If you make good grades at school . . . YOU'RE THE ONE WE WANT.

We've noticed it. Our best carriers seem to be above-average students. Perhaps it's because in the daily management of their routes, they apply the lessons they learn in the classroom. Like arithmetic in making change and in keeping a record of their profits. Or, maybe it's because newspaper route management is just one of those things a good student can do well in. In any case, if your grades are A's and B's, we want to hear from you. We can show you how to build a savings account that can be a great help. Why not get started today . . . by calling us. They may be a route available in your neighborhood.

INFLATION HURTS! IN SALES, GOOD PEOPLE CAN CONTROL THEIR OWN INCOMES

Sales representatives with Certified Laboratories have been able to INCREASE their incomes yearly — thus more than compensating for the rising cost of living.

As manufacturers of a broad line of industrial and institutional products, our sales are NOT AFFECTED by the general economy. We selectively choose highly motivated, hard working people, we have become one of the fastest growing industrial corporations in America today.

Our average first year representatives' commissions exceed $18,000 and they are backed by a liberal weekly drawing account and an excellent program of fringe benefits for family security.

We presently have an opening in MIDLAND AREA, if you feel you are the caliber of individual we are seeking and would like an opportunity to discuss this as a personal basic, please contact us to arrange a personal and confidential interview.

JOHN M. HOGG
Hogg New Prexy Of Richardson

John M. Hogg has been named president of Sid Richardson Carbon & Gasoline Co., manufacturer and marketer of carbox black and liquefied petroleum gases. Announcement of the promotion was made by Perry R. Bass, board chairman of the company.

Hogg joined the Sid Richardson organization in 1955 after receiving his B.S. degree from Yale University. He has served the firm in a number of capacities in carbon black plants, gasoline plants, marketing operations and most recently as vice president of manufacturing.

He will remain at the company's headquarters in Fort Worth.

Dr. Wade Says He Will Retire

KERVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Dr. David Wade, state commissioner of Mental Health and Mental Retardation since 1970, said Friday he will retire Aug. 11 because of ill health.

The announcement was made during a meeting of the state board in Kerville.

In Argentina, Tango Could Hardly Be Called Dance

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — It no longer takes two to tango down here. In fact, Argentina's greatest gift since T-bones is hardly a dance anymore.

"The modern tango is made for the singer," sighed Juan Carlos Copes, whose tarantula-like postures in his "Tango-Ballet" have people calling him Argentina's primer tanguero. "It no longer has the rhythm for dancing."

What was once called a danceable sad thought has become a popular song. People are still listening to the music, but that's all.

Young Argentines turn up their noses at the idea of tango lessons and head for the nearest discotheque.

"How can you blame them," asked a white-haired father of four teen-agers. "Music has to keep up with the times and the tango hasn't. It's only grand old men like me that still dance the tango."

GUITAR CHEAPER
Some people blame the change on the record companies, reasoning that it is cheaper to pay a singer with a guitar than a whole tango orchestra. Others point to greedy entrepreneurs eager to fill small places without having to provide a dance floor. Still others cite strict musicians' union codes. And some simply blame the times.

"When I was a boy," remembers one, "it was the only way you could get a girl away from her mother. Now it's different. Today's dances are much more individualistic."

Tango teachers aren't easy to find. Francesca Braggiotti Lodge, an Italian-American dancer who found herself here as wife of the American ambassador, ran a clinic for a while just because she loves the dance.

"It's romantic, it's savage, it's course, it's chic," she says. "It all depends on who you are, what you are doing, how you're dressed. But the music is always the same."

"And it's a man's dance. He can do anything he wants. A girl has to be led... That's the beauty of it."

Originating as a mixture of European and African rhythms, nurtured in the slums of the immigrant city of Buenos Aires, and outlawed for its lewdness until 1900, the tango had to cross the Atlantic to become popular.

STARTED IT
Rudolph Valentino danced it on the screen and suddenly people were doing it on the tables of Paris. With worldwide acclaim, tango finally became acceptable in its own country.

But the tango here was never the stylized dance people learned from Arthur Murray. Argentines twirled and contorted and improvised to the music in a subtle sexual duel. During the week boys got together to practice and invent new steps in order to be in top shape for Saturday night.

Tango became the national mania. It was danced in cafes, in saloons, in tents... even in the streets.

Until the '50s every neighborhood had its tango club and a kid who couldn't dance it was a wallflower. Then it declined.

Today about the only place left to dance the tango is at one of the three or four folk dances held every weekend, and even there it is given little time.

But if tango as dance is dying, tango music is more popular than ever, outselling other types by far.

Oldsters crowd record bars to buy old favorites, and premier vocalist Carlos Gardel, still outselling modern competition, is more popular now than when he was alive.

Argentines of any age outside the country crave it like an American does hamburgers.

Most people's current favorite is Roberto Goyeneche, who croons haunting if undanceable tunes.

Others are more interested in Astor Piazzolla whose new harmonies are a combination of jazz and tango. He came back to Argentina after 13 years in New York to find a tango he didn't like.

"Everything about it irked me," he said, and started to write his own tunes.

At first Argentines hated his new sound, and there was even violence at one of his early concerts. But gradually people started to listen.

"His tangos are revolutionary," says dancer Copes. "But like all modern tangos, they're really only for listening to."

In the last few years societies for the protection of the tango have proliferated, but they have been relatively ineffectual.

"We were all so individualistic," says one former member, "that we never could agree on which tango we were trying to preserve, Gardel or Piazzolla."

Small World!

By JO FRIGHT

It started out as a one-night stand but, like love, it grew.

In 1968, when the Big Spring High School Band planned a musical show around the theme, "The Wizard of Oz", it was slated for only one performance and was tagged a "campus revue."

What happened that night is what every performer dreams of — the show was a hit, and the sweet sound of applause was echoed by the critics.

That's all it took. The talented young people were off and running, turning their "Campus Revue" into an annual tradition.

In 1969, they staged "The World of Disney" for three nights, and the following year they produced "Carnival." The 1971 show reviewed "Three Weep the Days" and, in 1972, the stage-struck students found "Love Is the Answer." Last year, they were united in the statement, "We Believe in Music."

Now, thinking big, band members have decided, in '74, that "It's a Small, Small World".

But hold on! Precious things come in small containers, and this fast-paced package contains a world of entertainment. It's sure to play to capacity houses every night.

Because all four regularly-scheduled nights of Campus Revue '74 are virtual sellouts, $2 tickets will be sold at the door for the Press Night prelude Monday.

The show officially opens Tuesday evening and will also be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Pre-Nuptial Music On Program

"A wedding without pretty music is like a cake without frosting" said Mrs. Bob Simpson as she introduced the program, "Pre-nuptial Music", to members of Big Spring Music Study Club Wednesday afternoon.

The Belle Ringers of First United Methodist Church, where the meeting was held, performed the number, "Behold, A Rose Is Blooming" by Johannes Brahms with Mrs. Rodney Faubion at the organ.

Mrs. Faubion also accompanied Mrs. Joseph Daves as she sang "Biblical Song Number Five" by Dvorak.

Other selections performed on the organ were, "Trumpet Voluntary In D" by Mrs. Walter Wallace and "Wedding March" by Mrs. Bob Simpson.

The next meeting will be in the Big Spring High School Auditorium at 4 p.m., Feb. 13.

Consider Your Dog's Welfare

All dogs need daily exercise, whether it be walking or running in the yard. But don't just let your dog out to roam. Use a leash. That is as much for the dog's welfare as the neighborhood's.

Dogs running about are more likely to be hit by a car than are dogs on leashes.

Wedding Slated In February

Mr. and Mrs. E. Roy Cawthron, 2909 Old Highway 80, announce the engagement of their daughter,

Hints From Heloise

Dear Folks:
Stop, look, and listen! I have a brand new booklet for you and it's really a dilly. You're just going to love it when you see it, and you can!

Oodles and oodles of problems are solved on the pages of this handy little reference book that's all yours for FREE.

Just send your name and address to Heloise, Air Force Booklet, in care of the Big Spring Herald. Not even postage or an envelope is required! Real neat, I'd say.

Our United States Air Force has compiled the best of our hints and put them in booklet form — all for you and yours, which I think is great of them. Don't you?

This little booklet contains hints from how to keep a soap pad from rusting practically indefinitely to how to clean a kitchen drawer and keep it clean; from poaching eggs the proper way and the only correct way to cook dried beans, to keep cheese forevermore, etc. It's just chock full of valuable little tidbits.

It has a nice cover and it's just the size that will fit in your bookshelf along with all your other favorites and not look out of place.

Now, don't be mad because I got mine before you did. Remember, I had to help write it!

That's how I got the first copy off the press. And I'm not sending you mine because I want to keep it.

It might take a little time for you to get yours — according to how many requests we have, but they have promised to fulfill every request for this one-time offer. So be patient.

Soooo, is everything hotsy tosy today? You bet, when it's the United States Air Force and it's free.

Bless all USAF personnel who helped make this offer possible and we thank you for allowing us to participate.

love,
Heloise

P.S. Don't forget to enclose your zip code when you request our "Hints from Heloise Air Force Booklet."

Dear Heloise:
I just had to tell you how I have been making hot cereal for years and years... I always add a tablespoon of sugar to each cup of water I put in the pan.

Then I cook the cereal as usual but you can't convince me that it doesn't taste better cooked this way.

I also use brown sugar sometimes instead of the granulated — this makes a nice change.

Grandma Burns

This column is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Leprosarium Gets Local Donation

A donation to the National Leper Home in Carville, La., was made during the Tuesday evening meeting of Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary at the VFW Hall.

Acquired by the federal government in 1921, the National Leper Home at Carville, the exclusive leper colony in the United States, is surpassed only by the much-celebrated leprosarium (or leper settlement) on the island of Molokai in Hawaii. Leprosy hospitals have been maintained in secluded spots in San Francisco, New Orleans, Boston and New York.

Mrs. Ollie Branson, auxiliary commander, presided as members agreed to serve coffee and cake at the Veterans Administration Hospital the second Saturday of each month.

The next meeting will be held in the VFW Hall, Silver Hills, at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 19.

Forum Tours Former Convent

Thirteen members of the Big Spring Progressive Woman's Forum met in the home of Mrs. Donald Priddy Thursday afternoon before going to Stanton to tour the former convent. Their next meeting is set for Feb. 21.

Wedding Performed In Church Sanctuary

Miss Georga Ann Jackson and Lt. Daniel Jason Runyan exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening during a ceremony performed by Dr. Kenneth G. Patrick in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. William Welby Jackson, 2502 Lynn Drive, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Richard Charles Runyan, St. Petersburg, Fla., and the late Mr. Runyan.

The prelude of nuptial music was by Mrs. W. W. Grimes, organist; Mrs. Wm. T. McRee, pianist; Joe Whitten, vocal soloist; and a vocal ensemble composed of Mrs. Lee Butler, Mrs. Clement Jones, Mrs. Ron Plumlee, Mrs. Morris Rhodes, Mrs. Jim Thompson and Mrs. Walter Wheat.

The altar setting, illuminated by candelabra, featured an archway entwined with greenery and pink carnations. A large sunburst of pink, white and plum gladioli and carnations was flanked by smaller baskets of the same flowers.

The bride was attired in a formal wedding gown fashioned with natural waistline, stand-up collar and long, fitted sleeves ending in a ruffle at the wrist. A bow at the back waistline accented the fullness of an A-line skirt, trimmed in front with pearls and Chantilly lace. The beaded and scalloped lace trim was repeated on the collar, bodice, sleeves and hemline of the gown, and a fitted headpiece of lace, trimmed with pearls, held her lace-bordered veil of illusion.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of pink and white carnations centered with a pink orchid.

ATTENDANTS

The matron of honor was Mrs. Mike Murphy, with Miss Nan Cranford, Wichita Falls, as bridesmaid and Miss Lisa Hope, Houston, junior bridesmaid. They were identically attired in pink-sashed, floor-length dresses, in plum with white dots, styled with high-rise waistline, A-line skirt, puff sleeves and scooped neckline. Their headpieces were pink Dior bows with pink veils, and they carried pink nosegays tied with plum ribbon.

Lt. Stanley Stovold, McDill AFB, Tampa, Fla., served as best man, and the groomsmen and ushers were John Runyan, Gainesville, Fla., brother of the bridegroom; and Dan Jackson, brother of the bride.

Couple Married In Afternoon Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Harriett J. McKinney and Gregory J. Raindl, both of Houston, was solemnized Saturday afternoon in Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ, with Curtis Mullins, minister, officiating. Recorded contemporary music was played during the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. McKinney, 327 Drexel, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jim Raindl, San Antonio, and the late Mr. Raindl.

The wedding party stood before an altar accented with arched candelabra holding white tapers and flanked by palm trees and spiral candelabra.

The bride chose an old-fashioned gown of white China silk designed with high-rise silhouette. The fitted bodice was accented by a cameo necklace, and the tapered sleeves were traced with ruffles of self-fabric. Sprinkled about the bodice were appliqued motifs of Venise lace. The semi-controlled skirt fell to a deep ruffle which extended to border the chapel-length train. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was caught to a Juliet capulet designed with the ruffle and Venise lace trimmings of the gown.

She carried a cascade of white carnations, stephanotis, babies'-breath and grape ivy foliage tied with white satin streamers.

Attendants were Miss Carolyn Newman, maid of honor, and Miss Linda Burnett, Houston, and Miss Claudia Raindl, San Antonio, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaids. They were identically attired in empire gowns of burgandy knit, adorned with beige lace, and they carried nosegays of pink mums, miniature white roses and stephanotis.

The best man was 2nd Lt. Jerry J. Novosad Jr., San Antonio, and groomsmen were Kirk D. McKee, Houston, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, and Charles R. McKinney, brother of the bride. Ushers were Steve Clary, Lubbock, and Ken F. McKinney, Wichita Falls, cousin of the bride. Leslie Overman was flower girl, and Leslie Brunson, Crane, was ring bearer.

Refreshments were served during a reception in the fellowship hall, by Miss Patricia Clary, Lubbock, Miss Michele McKinney, Wichita Falls, cousin of the bride: Miss Nancy McWhorter, Midland; and Mrs. R. A. Varley, Charleston, S. C., sister of the bride.

MRS. GREGORY J. RAINDL (Curley's Studio)

The table was covered with white tulle overlaid with pink net, and appointments were crystal and silver. The table was centered with a burgandy candle in a tall hurricane chimney accented with pink lily of the valley and pink and white roses.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Guy Goen, Spur; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clary and Mrs. Pauline Brosch, all of Lubbock; Mrs. Philip Vrazel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterek and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Caka, all of Corpus Christi; Mrs. Jerry Novosad Sr., San Antonio; and Mrs. Kirk McKee, Houston. The couple left on a trip to Ruidoso, N.M., and upon returning, will reside in Houston at 3737 Hillcroft, No. 244.

SCHOOLS
Raindl, who is employed by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co., Houston, graduated from Roosevelt High School, San Antonio, and the University of Texas at Austin with a BBA degree. The bride, a Big Spring High School graduate, attended Howard County Junior College and North Texas State University. She is employed by Projects American Corporation, Houston. The bridegroom's mother hosted a rehearsal dinner Friday evening in the First Federal Community Room.

'74 Series Selected By Concert Board

The Big Spring Community Concert board selected four programs for the 1974-75 season during a Monday meeting with Bruce Smith, New York representative for the concert.

The programs will not be announced until April when new board members will assume duties. However, a spokesman said they are "outstanding" selections.

There has been a change of date for one of the community concerts in Midland, with whom Big Spring has reciprocity. The Edward Villelea ballet troop, previously scheduled Feb. 23, will not appear until April 13, due to a conflict in engagements.

The next in the local series will be the Big Band Cavalcade on Feb. 6, to be followed April 27 by Longstreth and Escosa, duo harpists.

Local Art Association Sets Show

Plans were discussed for the annual membership show when Big Spring Art Association met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Dawson DeViney, 1745 Purdue. Mrs. E. F. Scott assisted as cohostess.

The closed show is tentatively slated the latter part of February with judges' names and show rules to be announced. A Best of Show trophy will be awarded. The Junior Art Exhibit has been scheduled in March.

An oil painting set was the attendance prize won by Mrs. Scott.

Guests were Mrs. Mildred Christensen and Mrs. Cleada Watts.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Elaine Becknell, 1811 Alabama at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 19.

Hawaiian Theme At Club Meeting

A Hawaiian theme was carried out in dress, music and refreshments at the Thursday morning meeting of the Mary Jane Club in the home of Mrs. Bobby Roman, Coahoma.

Members contributed $5 to the March of Dimes.

The projects committee recommended observing a day for senior citizens. At that time, each member will take an older woman to lunch.

The next meeting will be a recipe brunch in the home of Mrs. Bobby Gee at 10 a.m., Feb. 7. Each member will bring a favorite dish and the recipe.

MR. AND MRS. B. T. GRAHAM

Anniversary Event Today

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Graham of the Greenwood Community near Midland will be honored today with a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Greenwood School community room.

The reception, which marks the couple's 50th wedding anniversary, will be hosted by their children and their husbands and wives. They are Mr. and Mrs. Clayte Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Lynn Lucas, all of Midland; and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burrow Jr., Irving. One son, Ronald R. Graham, is deceased.

DANCE CLUB SETS DINNER

The Cotillion Dance Club will hold its annual dinner and business meeting at 7 p.m., Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club. Mrs. Delnor Poss, club president, asks that reservations be made by calling the club by Wednesday morning. The Mexican buffet will be preceded by a cocktail hour, and a dance will follow the business session. Mrs. Rip Patterson is the incoming president, and a vote will be taken on new memberships.

There are 18 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. The granddaughters will assist at the serving table and registry.

The couple was married Jan. 15, 1924 in the Methodist parsonage, Big Spring, by the late Rev. M. Phelan.

Graham, born in the Salem community, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Graham of Coahoma. His wife is the former Ernestine Westfall, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Westfall of Coahoma. She was born in the Cuthbert community. Mr. and Mrs. Graham both attended school in Coahoma.

Moving to the Greenwood community in 1925, the Grahams remained there until 1942. In the ensuing years, they spent a year in Merkel and four years in Cisco, returning to live in Midland in 1968.

Graham, a retired farmer, was a Midland County commissioner for three terms during the 1950's. He is a deacon at Greenwood Baptist Church where the couple holds membership.

Refreshments will be served from a table covered with a white cloth accented with gold trim. Appointments will be gold, and the tiered cake will be based in a circle of babies' breath and miniature doves.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Dear 'Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have heard that a horse will not throw a pregnant woman. Is that true? Please answer right away as I have to know.

WISCONSIN QUESTION DEAR QUESTION: This one throws me! Since you can't expect to get the answer straight from the horse's mouth, ask a doctor. I think he'll give you a neigh.

DEAR ABBY: A lady asked if she should have cards printed announcing her recent divorce, and stating that she was available for dating.

You told her not to — that the word would get around in other ways. I agree. But my experience along that line goes back to 1898. We lived in Albia, Ia., a block from the railroad. (My father worked in the yards.)

It didn't take us kids long to know when an oncoming train carried a lady. The news that there was a hatbox aboard got to us before the train pulled in.

"83 IN SALEM, O."

DEAR "83": Times haven't changed much. Now they travel by jet, and carry wig boxes!

DEAR ABBY: I am enclosing a letter which appeared in your column on Oct. 28, 1969. I cut it out of the Minneapolis Star and carried it in my wallet, and now as you can see, it is yellow with age and falling to pieces. Your answer did so much for me. Will you please print it again I feel certain it will mean a great deal to many others.

MINNESOTAN DEAR MINNESOTAN: Yes. And here it is:

lady? Then he will turn around and treat his wife like a tramp.

LYDIA DEAR LYDIA: A man picks up a tramp because he wants a female companion who is no better than he is. In her company, he doesn't feel inferior. He rewards her by treating her like a "lady."

He treats his wife (who is a lady) like a "tramp" because he feels that by degrading her, he will bring her down to his level. This makes him feel guilty, so in order to "get even" with his wife for making him feel guilty, he keeps right on punishing her.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "K" IN LANCASTER: For some valuable advice on how to live, ask someone who knows he is dying.

Problems You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. Charter BPO Does To Be Feted At Tea

Plans for the upcoming year will highlight the business meeting of the American Association of University Women in a joint meeting of both the day and night study groups to be held in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, 501 Runnels, at 7:30 p.m., Monday. The day study group is in charge of the program.

Charter members of Drove 61, BPO Does, will be honored at a Founder's Day tea Feb. 13 in the home of Mrs. W. R. Rogers, 1507 Scurry.

Plans were made for the event when members met Tuesday at the Elks Hall with Mrs. Marvin Hayworth presiding. Initiation rites were held for Mrs. Andy Arcand, Mrs. Bert Hillger and Mrs. M. K. Carson.

Andy Arcand, Exalted Ruler of the Elks, spoke briefly in asking the women to assist the Elks in decorating the new dining room.

The meeting concluded with a party honoring new members and those with January birthdays. Refreshments were served from a table laid with a gold cloth. Mrs. Harvey Clay won the birthday gift and the attendance prize.

An Overriding Stake

Debate over production of oil and the part played by government policy, including taxes, has an important place in Texas.

For several years, the production "allowable" under state law designed to conserve petroleum and to stabilize prices has been at maximum practical rates. State policy, as defined by the Legislature, effectively crippled available opportunities to begin recovering substantially more important place in Texas.

The House approved use of unitized production methods last year by 103 to 36, but the Senate failed to approve. That happened in the face of known shortages and in the face of sure recovery of more than a billion barrels of oil a year from existing wells.

Unitization pools wells for more sophisticated recovery of oil. Since less than 10 per cent of Texas wells are unitized, the state is losing oil it could have but can't get because of portable opposition.

If may be that the proposed statute did not include sufficient safeguards for minority interests, and if so, such concessions as are practical and equitable, should be made. But the state (the public, if you please), has an overriding stake in absolute maximum recovery of every possible

Right Principle

The recent rumble outside the high school gymnasium in which an off-duty officer complained of being kicked and struck — and a few students were buffeted about — brings into focus an issue that needs facing squarely.

You can hear anything you want about this incident, and you can hear rumor upon rumor about lesser matters. Unfortunately, some of these have their origins in color and race.

We don't have any panacea for human beings, whether students or adults, behaving as human beings, or an answer of how to control the tongue.

We do suggest, however, that there is a basis barrel of oil, and at a rate and on a basis that will insure the greatest longevity production. Not every pool lends itself to unitization, but where this is feasible on the basis of engineering and technology, it should somehow be brought about.

of handling such matters, and that is to have codes (which we believe is the case) that are uniform, fair and just, and then that these be applied with the same qualities equally to all. This calls for maturity, restraint, sound judgment and fortitude. But the principle is right, and none need fear doing the right thing, in the right spirit and in the right way. Most people recognize this, which leads us to observe that the vast majority of people whether young or old, black or white, or from differing cultural backgrounds, respect and get along with each other. Let's not forget that.

Feminine Success

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

If you really don't want to understand something, all you have to do is put your mind to it.

MY BANKING AUNT, Leona Factor, says: "Feminine success is the art of looking like a woman, working like a dog, thinking like a man and acting like a lady."

My dentist must have been a dedicated fund-raising politician — he is asking $300 a plate.

Ted Ferrell, just like a good neighbor, defines tact as "the rare ability to keep silent while two friends are arguing, and you know both of them are wrong."

"Man has always fought the notion that he's not the master of the universe and to admit the reality of unidentified flying objects is to admit there is a superior intelligence somewhere in the Solar System — New Item.

I certainly hope so, for the sake of the Solar System.

God, who knew the frailties of man from the start, surely has another group in the wings to pick up the pieces when we leave.

Do you suppose their scouts are appraising the territory in UFOs?

If so, how do you think they'll react to what we're doing to planet Earth?

Ex-Big Spring rodeo announcer, Clem McSpadden, Claremore, now an Oklahoma congressman, spoke in Tulsa recently and told a group that his 5-year-old son had come in contact with the four-letter words all little boys run into.

HE AND HIS wife tried to ignore it, hoping it would go away, rather than to make a big thing out of it.

The boy was leaving for the birthday party of the pretty little girl down the street, and his mother warned him:

"I've told Mrs. Jackson to send you right home if you use any of those words."

They had hardly settled in front of the TV when the boy came home. His mother spanked him and sent him to his room.

He cried and cried and finally Mrs. McSpadden said:

"Go in there and do something about your son."

Clem said he went in and asked "What's the matter, podner?"

And between sobs, he replied "Dad, we're going to have to do something about mother. The damn party isn't until next week!"

OLETA FAYE, Herald word chaser, suggests you spell these words backwards: Deliver, diaper, radar, straw and defied.

The most reasonable statement of the month, if not the year, was in a story in the Big D News:

"It is difficult to sell a service when we are unable to assure the customer we can offer him the service ..."

GWEN TALLEY, whose son Joe Bob celebrated his 14th birthday Thursday, while switching phone calls remarked:

"One of the troubles of the world today is that people mistake sex for love, money for brains, and the transistor radio for civilization."

My Answer

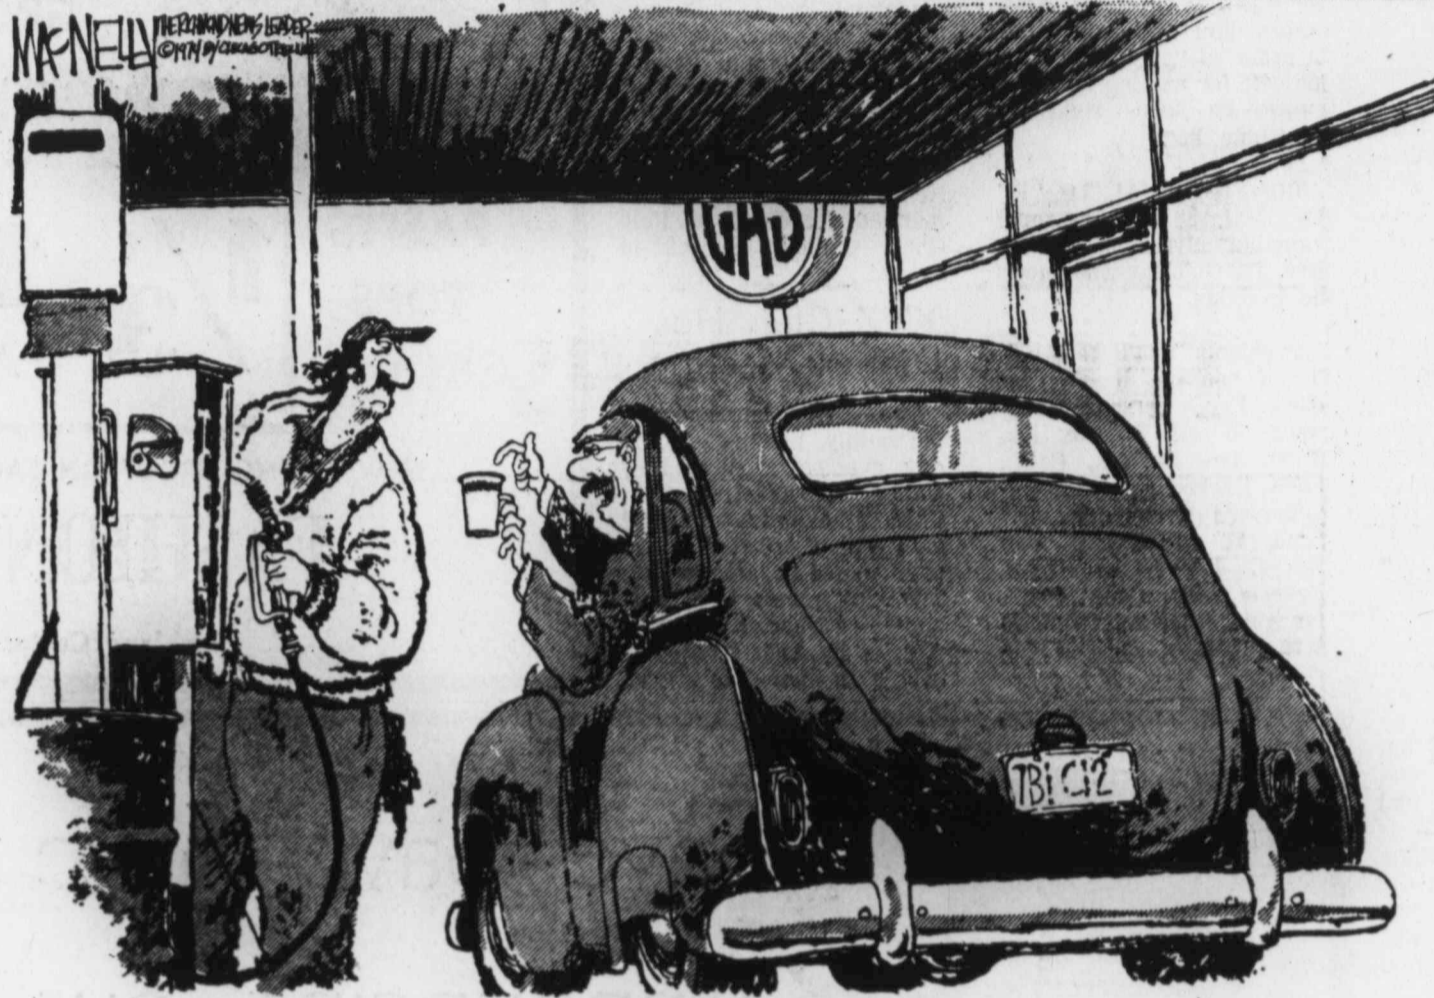

BILLY GRAHAM

You are known to repeat the phrase "the Bible says" in your sermons. Evidently, for you, it has become the voice of unmistakable authority. I must admit, however, that after several attempts at Bible reading, I'm unimpressed. The message seems obscure and irrelevant. What's wrong?

W. W. It was an old English clergyman who suggested an apt comparison between the Bible and a sundial. He said that a person could well read the figures on a dial, but would obviously know nothing of the exact hour unless the sun was shining upon it. Similarly, he suggested, a person could read the Bible through, but unless the Spirit of God was permitted to enlighten the words, they were just a compilation of lofty but abstract ideas.

You make a surrender of your life to Christ, through personal repentance and faith, and then watch the ways in which all spiritual input is enanced — church attendance, fellowship with other Christians, and Bible reading.

The value of Bible reading is not in some magical return on time invested — like four blessings for every two chapters. Jesus said in John 5:39 to search the Scripture for "They are they testify of me." When the Bible serves them as an introduction to the person of Christ, it is fulfilling God's original design. I wonder if you're reading it in a modern version. Perhaps that would help too. Above all, view it as a personal love letter opening up an exciting relationship that gets better with the passage of time.

Oddball Carrot

William F. Buckley Jr.

One thing you have to say about Nixon's critics, they are a thoughtful lot. Mr. Abe Fortas, lately of the Supreme Court, is surely among the most conspicuous of those who have attempted to lighten Mr. Nixon's burden in life.

MR. FORTAS suggests that Congress should pass a law immunizing Mr. Nixon from any prosecution in the event that he resigns. The idea is: well, plea bargaining of a sort. But Mr. Nixon's position is that he is not guilty of any wrongdoing; in which case, what use to him would it be to be assured immunity against prosecution? Even if Mr. Fortas could draft a law that would protect ex-presidents from prosecution for violation of federal laws, what is going to protect them from prosecution for violation of state laws? It is not a federal body but a state body that is even now deliberating whether to permit Spiro Agnew to practice law in the State of Maryland.

PERHAPS MR. FORTAS has it in mind to assert federal preemption in the matter. This comes easy to those Americans who assume a sort of hierarchical preeminence for the federal government. The Warren Court so argued in upsetting the anti-secession laws in the several states. The Court waded in the general direction of Charleston v. Vernville (1950) and Rice v. Santa Fe (1947) which involved, however, conflicting federal and state laws on carrier's liability and on warehouse regulation.

IT SIMPLY has not been established that Congress can preempt national concern over anything in the world it cares about by a mere act of will, even Fortas's will. Alexander Hamilton spoke about the issue in No. 32 of the Federalist: "(Since) the plan of the convention aims only at a partial union or consolidation, the state governments would clearly retain all the rights of sovereignty which they before had, and which were not, by that act, exclusively delegated to the United States. This exclusive delegation . . . would only exist in three cases: where the Constitution in express terms granted an authority to the union, and in another, prohibited the States from exercising the like authority; and where it granted an authority to the union, to which a similar authority in the States would be absolutely and totally contradictory and repugnant."

BUT THERE IS nothing absolutely and totally contradictory and repugnant in, for instance, California prosecuting citizen Richard Nixon for alleged failure to pay state income taxes. And anyway, there has been a certain caution by Congress on this business of preempting states' rights. Thus when Congress recently decided to encourage a national speed limit of 55 miles per hour, it didn't just order the states to reduce their speed limits, it stipulated that any state that failed to reduce its speed limit would not receive federal highway money, or whatever. Perhaps the Fortas Bill should read that any state prosecuting Richard Nixon would be deprived of federal grants for hot school lunches?

AND HERE IS one that Abe Fortas forgot. Why not, since he is in search of carrots in place of sticks, vote a reward? A reward to Richard Nixon, if he will resign the Presidency, of, say a hundred million dollars? That isn't much money, by Democratic standards: Hubert Humphrey's speeches on the floor spend at the rate, when last measured, of about one hundred million dollars per 20 minutes. Perhaps that would budge President Nixon? Of course, it ought to be tax free.

Greener There

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the generation since World War II, the entire life style and economy of Greenland has changed radically, the National Geographic Society reports. Thanks to the nearly $100 million poured into Greenland annually by a benevolent Danish government, a former Stone Age people has moved into the 20th century.

Economy Cools, Inflation Romps

The Week's Business

- Growth drops to 1.3 pct. last quarter, inflation to 7.9
- Inflation rate hits 22-year peak in last quarter
- Factory output eases off, due mostly to sharp car decline
- Drop in November sales reflected in inventory build up
- Personal income gain outstrip target by 1.5 per cent
- Standard oil paid record price for lease on shale oil

NEW YORK (AP) — At some point last year, a widespread worry was that U.S. economic expansion needed a cooling off. It wasn't getting, to ease inflationary pressures and maybe even head off a bust somewhere further along.

The latest round of government economic figures now shows that business did begin cooling off late last year, at a point when inflation was moving to its highest level in 22 years.

The Commerce Department this past week said economic growth as measured by the Gross National Product was up only 1.3 per cent in 1973's fourth quarter. That was down from 3.4 per cent the quarter before and wound up a year showing total growth of 5.9 per cent.

HIGHEST IN YEARS In that same final quarter, the department said, inflation hit 7.9 per cent, its highest rate since a 13 per cent mark in the first quarter of 1951. In last year's third quarter, the rate was 7 per cent.

For all of 1973, the inflation rate was 5.3 per cent, the highest annual rate since 1970's 5.5 per cent, the department said.

The Federal Reserve Board, meanwhile, said American factory output in December was down 0.5 per cent, reflecting cutbacks in the auto industry and lower commercial use of energy.

The board said the figure would have been a gain if it hadn't been for a 14.6 per cent drop in auto production, partly attributed to shifts to more small auto manufacturing. It said preliminary figures indicate a 15 per cent drop in the auto industry this month.

Other figures from the Commerce Department listed Americans' personal income for 1973 at almost $1.04 trillion, a gain of 10.3 per cent. The figure reflected the year's inflation, the department said, and overshot the Nixon administration target of an 8.8 per cent increase.

INVENTORIES UP Still more Commerce Department figures said American business inventories rose by $3.14 billion or 1.5 per cent last November, the biggest gain in a year. The buildup reflected a drop in sales gains from October to November, the department said.

Officials said sales rose $2.72 billion or 1.8 per cent in November, but that was after a gain of 2.8 per cent in October. The buildup in inventories was fairly evenly spread through manufacturing, retail and wholesale operations, they said.

It was reported this past week that evidence in Federal Power Commission (FPC) files indicated some natural gas producers have tried to buy up available reserves with plans to keep the gas off the market until prices rise.

An independent producer from Wichita, Kan., told an otherwise routine rate hearing several months ago that a number of companies, including some major oil companies, had tried to buy his reserves to keep in the ground.

HOARDING GAS? Douglas L. Bendell said the producers told him they were willing to gamble that the reserves would be worth much more if production could be delayed for several years.

An FPC official said he knew of no other testimony as strong as Bendell's on the topic, but that some gas producers had threatened to delay production if they didn't get rate increases.

The Interior Department has accepted a high bid of more than $210 million from Standard Oil of Indiana and Gulf Oil Co. for a 5,089-acre tract of oil shale land in Colorado.

Is There Shortage?

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The country becomes more and more divided every day on whether there is an energy crisis. Those who can't get gas say there is one — but those who can get gas say there isn't. Whom are we to believe? The following questions and answers may shed some light on the problem.

Q — If there is an energy crisis, why can we still get gasoline?

A — Because people believe there is a crisis, which there is not, at the moment. If people didn't believe there was a crisis there would be one, because then they would avoid conserving fuel.

Q — You mean in order not to have an energy crisis you have to believe there is one?

A — Exactly. The people who are angriest about the energy crisis are those who can get all the fuel they want. They believe if they can get oil that means the crisis is a fraud. It's hard to make a man feel humble when he has a full tank of gas.

Q — Why was William Simon picked as Energy Czar?

A — Because of his name. All of us played Simon Says as children, and the President felt Americans instinctively would obey Simon or be eliminated from the game. Mr. Nixon realized very early in the crisis that no one would obey an energy czar if his name were Love.

Q — What are the bright spots to come out of the energy crisis?

A — There are many more things than one can list. Airlines have been able to cut out unprofitable flights to towns they were supposed to service; companies can raise prices and put it all on the fuel shortage; landlords can cut heat and raise the rent, and all the polluters in the country can blame the energy crisis on the ecologists.

Q — How much will the oil-producing countries charge for their oil if there is a Middle East settlement of the war?

A — Fourteen dollars a barrel.

Q — How much will they charge if there is no settlement?

A — Fourteen dollars a barrel.

The Stalemate

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Light years ago, President Nixon told the Republican governors' meeting in Memphis there would be no more bombshells. Now a monstrous bomb has exploded but whether it will have any impact on the stalemate paralyzing this capital is doubtful.

HISTORICAL analogies are risky. Something like the present state of indecision prevailed before 1860. One of the feeblest presidents ever to occupy the White House, James Buchanan, temporized and sought futile compromise as the gathering storm of civil war darkened the whole sky. There seemed no way out as the abyss of fratricidal war loomed ahead.

The nation is divided today, although the line is not nearly so much geographical as it was in that earlier time. Yet every poll shows greater strength for President Nixon in the South than in any other region. The President's strength, and it cannot be discounted, comes from those who want to quiet the uproar and get back to normal.

SURVEYS CONDUCTED by the Washington Post and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch among members of Congress about to return from the recess showed, before the disclosure of the apparently deliberate erasure of the contested tape, reluctance to confront the question of impeachment. One of the latest polls dividing 45 per cent for impeachment 44 per cent against reflects this same indecision. It implies something like an admission that in the throes of a great constitutional crisis the system does not work. The latest bomb may change all this, although I for one doubt it.

AND WHILE all this goes on, what will be the compulsion on the President? To resign? In the view of this reporter, not at all. He has shown the capacity to resist one blow after another. With the White House as a fortress, he defies his critics by ignoring them. In the process, of course, he is increasingly receding from view.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Am I my brother's keeper? (Genesis 4:9)
PRAYER: Dear Lord, we thank You that You went all the way to the cross for us in order that we might be saved from sin and that we might have Your strength in us to face life. Thank You for having Your hand on our shoulder. May we always be willing for this to be so, praying as You taught us. Amen.

Dalton E. Moellers To Reside In Walls

MRS. DALTON EDWARD MOELLER

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Edward Moeller are making their home in Walls, following their marriage Saturday afternoon in St. Lawrence Catholic Church. Moeller, a graduate of San Angelo Central High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moeller, San Angelo. He attended San Angelo State University and is currently in business with his father. Mrs. Moeller is the former Marilyn Braden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Braden, St. Lawrence Rt., Garden City. A graduate of Garden City High School, she is employed in San Angelo by General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Augustine Lucca, and the altar setting was enhanced with baskets of red and white carnations. Music was by the church choir.

The gown was adorned with lace and sequin appliques. Her veil of illusion was held by a cluster of velvet roses.

Mrs. Phyllis Moeller, San Angelo, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Wilbert Halfmann, San Angelo, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Alton Braden, San Angelo, sister-in-law of the bride; and Mrs. Roland Halfmann.

They were identically attired in floor-length gowns of red velvet, and their headpieces were red velvet roses attached to veils. Each carried a nosegay of red velveteen roses.

Arnold Braden, brother of the bride, served as best man, and groomsmen were Darryl Williams, San Angelo; Roger Moeller, Haskell, cousin of the bridegroom; and Gary Conner, Amarillo.

The flower girl was Emily Halfmann, San Angelo, and ring bearer was Leon Braden of Wall, cousin of the bride.

The wedding was followed that evening by a dinner dance in the parish hall. Preceding the nuptials, the bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner in a restaurant at St. Lawrence.

Arbor Day Observance Announced By Club

Plans to plant a tree at Big Spring Nursing Inn on Arbor Day were finalized during the Wednesday meeting of Texas Star African Violet Club in the home of Mrs. Brent Womack, 1712 Purdue. The tree was a non-bearing mulberry.

The announcement was made that all Big Spring garden clubs have been invited to attend the Big Spring Garden Club Council's meeting Jan. 23. Mrs. Odell Womack reported that everything in the green house at the nursing inn was frozen, so a lining is needed for the building. In a talk, "Major African Violets", Mrs. Odell Womack commented on types and varieties of violets that can be used in flower arranging and terrariums.

She explained steps in rooting and planting violets in stagnum moss. She also elaborated on the skill required for judging African violets. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. L. Johansen at 4 p.m., Feb. 20.

Resisting Soils

Linens and cotton dipped in a light starch solution are less apt to soil, and stains wash out more readily.

A movie and slide lecture on the "Exponents of Modernism" exhibition at Midland's Museum of the Southwest will be presented in the Museum's Planetarium by Joseph Masheck at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 24.

Masheck, Professor of Art History at Barnard College and contributing editor for "Art Forum" is providing the lecture jointly with Texas Museums Consortium. It will illustrate the "Modernism" exhibition which consists of paintings, prints, drawings and sculpture representing Cubism, Expressionism, Constructionism and Surrealism.

Midland's Junior League will offer tours of "Modernism" beginning Jan. 23.

Selections from the Sears Collection of Early American Toys at the Smithsonian will be exhibited at the Museum of the Southwest in Midland Jan. 19-Feb. 17. Circulated by SITES, this is the second January showing of toys dating from 1875-1950.

Houston's Museum of Fine Arts is highlighting its new four million dollar Brown Pavilion with five exhibitions: "The Great Decade of American Abstraction: Modernist Art 1960 to 1970" will be shown in the Pavilion along with several permanent collections.

"The exhibition will afford a unique opportunity to trace the full and rich development of abstraction over one of its greatest periods," Philippe de Montebello, the museum's director, said.

The Brown Pavilion was designed by Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, financed by the Brown foundation, opened Jan. 15 and now doubles the Mesem of Fine Arts' size. Other current exhibitions inaugurating the Pavilion's opening include showings of Renaissance artist Luca Cambiaso's work, 40 impressionist and post-impressionist paintings, decorative arts and a didactic exhibition for children.

Starting Jan. 21, the University of Texas at Austin will begin accepting mail orders for the performances of two of the Solo Artist Series.

Pianist Alexis Weissenberg, whom the New York Times calls an artist of "prodigious talent," will appear Feb. 5. Soprano Leontyne Price, a performer on many opera stages across the world from La Scala to the Metropolitan, will sing Feb. 19. Both concerts are 8 p.m. in Austin's Municipal Auditorium, and all seats are $3.50.

Checks should be made out to the University of Texas and mailed with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to University Box Office, Box 7398, UT Station, Austin, Texas 78712. Tickets remaining from the mail order sales will be sold in the auditorium at each evening performance.

"The Caylor Room" is now open at Heritage Museum. This contains a number of reproductions of the paintings of pioneer artist, H. W. Caylor, which were made possible by permission of owners of the originals, and especially by the untiring efforts and generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Duff, Edmonds, Wash. Mrs. Duff, member of a pioneer ranching family, knew the Caylors personally.

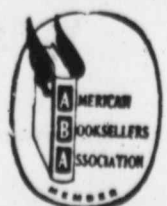

Other museum highlights for the week included a gift of historical calendars by J. R. Tamsitt, on the staff of the Royal Ontario Museum at Toronto and a recent visitor to the museum here. He viewed some items given by his family, and had the souvenir historical calendars sent to two aunts, Mrs. W. H. Dugan, Fort Worth, and Ms. Lily Robinson, Toyah. During the week, Mrs. R. W. Whipkey gave a copy of J. Frank Dobie's "Texas Longhorn." Charles Bailey gave a 1949 Jayhawk yearbook. Lonnie Griffith brought record books belonging to the Grand International Auxiliary for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers from 1896-1950.

"People keep asking me how I could do it alone, and in six months. But if you are creative and well-organized, why not? I feel I can do whatever a large firm can, because most designers use associates to compare notes. But when you believe in yourself, you don't need to. I was determined to approach it like any other designing job." Carolyn Settles, who has designed an auto-train which carries cars as well as passengers from Washington, D.C., to Florida.

"I, for one, was tired of having men sportswriters asking me, 'What does your husband think about your playing tennis?' No one seems to ask football players what their wives think about their playing that — or other games — because it's their living. Tennis is mine." Billie Jean King on reasons why she and husband Larry are copublishing a women's sports magazine.

"The people who voted for me are fed up. They are sick of the red tape, the bureaucracy and corruption they see in the present government, so they had no interest in voting for labor." Medical Auxiliary Will Honor State President Here Tuesday

Mrs. Richard B. (Marge) Johns, Abilene, president of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Texas Medical Association, will be a guest of the Permian Basin Medical Society Auxiliary Tuesday. An informal reception will be held in her honor from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas, 400 Washington Blvd.

Mrs. Johns, 56th president of the association, is a native of Terre Haute, Ind., but became a Texan in 1952 when she and her husband, Dick, moved to Abilene from Springfield, Ohio.

A graduate of Butler University in Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. Johns taught in the Indianapolis Free Kindergarten Society for several years. The Johns have two sons and a daughter, and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Johns has been active in many phases of medical auxiliary work, both on the county and state levels, as well as in other civic and church groups such as PTA, Abilene Woman's Club, Abilene City Federation of Women's Clubs, Abilene Girls Home, Inc., and many others. Just prior to accepting the presidency of the state medical auxiliary, she served two years as its first vice president and chairman of its organization-membership committee.

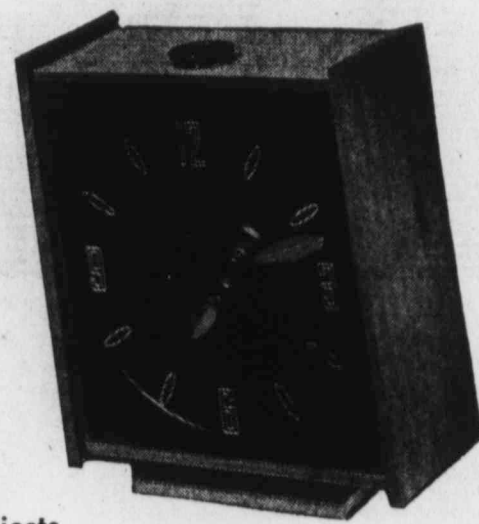

The theme for her year as president of the nearly 7,000-member organization is "New Dimensions," and her special emphasis is being directed to the main objectives of the state auxiliary: assisting physicians in improving the quality of health care; coordinating community health projects; and cultivating good relations between members of the auxiliary. Mrs. Johns is also focusing attention on the physician's wife in her roles as a woman, wife and community leader.

OFFICERS IN EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN — Mrs. Scott Davis (left) and Mrs. Bill Riley, are co-chairman and chairman, respectively, of the Howard County Easter Seal drive, which formally gets under way March 1. Money raised in the campaign makes possible many services for crippled children and adults, including physical and speech therapy, diagnostic evaluation and the purchase of orthopedic equipment.

New Gas Prices Stump Pumps

NEW YORK (AP) — Gasoline prices are literally climbing out of sight on thousands of service station pumps across the country. About 200,000 of them, 15 per cent of the nation's 1.3 million gasoline pumps, cannot count beyond the rate of 49.9 cents a gallon. The rest, manufactured in recent years, go up to 99.9 cents.

Gasoline prices are reaching and passing 50 cents a gallon because of the energy crisis. The Oil & Gas Journal, a major industry trade publication, reported that the average price of nonpremium gasoline in 52 cities across the country was 45.28 cents on Jan. 8.

The problem is compounded by the size of gasoline tanks in American cars. Many can hold more than 20 gallons. A pump that counts at a maximum 49.9 cents a gallon hits a roadblock when 20 gallons are pumped. The total sales dial registers $9.99 and it can't go any higher. What are station operators doing about it?

Many have decided to replace the computing mechanisms in their pumps to make them work for prices up to 99.9 cents a gallon and four-digit totals. It's a conversion that costs about $150 a pump. A spokesman for Veeder-Root Co. in Hartford, Conn., says orders for its 99.9-cent-a-gallon computing mechanism have increased substantially in recent months.

The National Bureau of Standards' Office of Weights and Measures has recommended that dealers post half-gallon prices, clearly indicating by signs on pumps that what a customer sees is one half of what he owes.

But the Federal Office of Weights and Measures suggests that converting nearly all of the country's pumps may not be necessary, even if the price of gas does go above $1 a gallon. Otto Warnloff, the office's manager of technical services, says that if the United States converted to the metric system of measurements — a proposal now before Congress — gas could be sold by the liter, which is one-fifth of a gallon. "Dollar-a-gallon gas would then cost about 20 cents a liter," he said.

Texas Tech To Microfilm Hardeman's Scrapbooks

LUBBOCK — The Southwest Collection at Texas Tech University has received for microfilming 20 scrapbooks from former State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo.

The scrapbooks, now on film in the Southwest Collection files, present a pictorial and printed review of the political career of the veteran West Texas legislator.

Received and now on film include a scrapbook covering Hardeman's tenure as mayor of San Angelo from 1936 to 1938; 17 scrapbooks covering his years of service as state representative from 1938 to 1942 and as state senator from 1947 to 1968; two scrapbooks containing scripts of speeches given at functions throughout his political career; and miscellaneous papers and records related to his honorary life membership in the Texas Historical Association; his newspaper articles citing him as an outstanding legislator and presentation of the Distinguished Service Medal by the Texas Heritage Foundation. The collection was accepted for Texas Tech by San Angelo bank executive Frank Junell, a member of the Board of Regents of Texas Tech University.

"Mr. Hardeman has served well the interest of the university, higher education, West Texas and the entire state through many years in the Texas Legislature, and as a mayor of the city of San Angelo during a portion of the '30's," said Junell.

The scrapbook materials reflect Hardeman's activities as a representative particularly associated with the signing of the bill creating the Big Bend National Park in 1939; his sponsorship of the soil conservation law of Texas in 1939; his responsibility for the bill providing funds for the Big Spring State Hospital; his opposition to the constitutional sales tax amendment and its defeat; his leadership for the bill creating the Upper Colorado River Authority in 1941; his sponsorship of a bill to make San Angelo Junior College a four-year college.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Railroad ferry service for automobiles between the Midwest and Central Florida's tourist attractions is set to begin this spring, Amtrak officials say. The service between Indianapolis, Ind., and Kissimmee, Fla. was announced Wednesday in Miami by Amtrak officials.

equipment, ambulance services, community centers and even for recreation.

The new program authorized under provisions of the 1972 Rural Development Act, supplements the Farmers Home Administration's water and waste disposal loan program.

"Our water and sewer loan program has financed over 763 systems with more than $134 million and benefited 532,000 rural people since the start of the program," said Futch. "Now we are in position to assist with more diverse projects."

Most of the loans are expected to be made to public bodies such as towns up to 10,000 population, counties and some special purpose districts.

Tax Deadlines Are Nearing

Four important tax deadlines face taxpayers and employers in Texas during January, Gene McCleskey, administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service (IRS) for the Midland area, said today.

Employers are reminded that the deadline to give employees their 1973 W-2 forms in Thursday, Jan. 31. The form should show earnings, income tax withheld and Social Security information; Jan. 31 is the deadline for reporting Social Security and withheld income taxes for the calendar quarter ended Dec. 31, 1973; Jan. 31 is also the last day to report and pay any balance of Federal Unemployment Tax not over $100 for 1973, using Form 940. If the balance of tax due is over $100, the employer must make a deposit with FTD Form 508. If the full amount of the tax is deposited on time, employers may then file the return no later than Feb. 11, 1974.

If Texas farmers and fishermen who did not file their 1973 declaration of estimated Federal income tax by last Tuesday they must file their income tax return and pay the total tax due by March 1.

Houston Pipefitter Is Producing Movies

"There is nothing we don't do in the production and distribution of a motion picture," Beverly Sebastian said of her family.

"Producing, writing, directing, cinematography, editing, writing the music, financing and distributing, along with our kids, we do them all."

In 1960, Ferd Sebastian was a pipefitter, and his wife, Beverly, a housewife.

"We started out with nothing, not even $100 between us, a small baby and a pregnant wife," Mrs. Sebastian said.

A graduate of San Jacinto High School in Houston, Ferd was born in Austin 39 years ago.

The couple worked for a while as a commercial photography firm. "Four years ago, we gave up our business in Houston and moved to the west coast to play with the big boys of the entertainment business."

"Starting at the bottom, we produced our first film on a budget of $7,300, a black and white, 90-minute feature titled 'I Need...'"

"About a crazy girl, it was filmed in Houston at the zoo." "Our next film was a color feature, a comedy titled 'The White & Blue!' But censorship caught up with us. Filmed in Seabrook, Texas, on a sailboat, 'Red, White & Blue' was rated X.

"The Hitchhikers" and "The Single Girls" were next.

LAST FILM

The Sebastians returned to East Texas for their next film "Gatorbait" (R) was filmed at Caddo Lake working out of Uncertain, Texas.

Their boy, Tracy, 12, plays a mute, backwoods cajun. Ben, 16, does all the stunt work in addition to a minor acting role.

"Gatorbait" is now showing at the R-70 Theatre.

Brazil Comes In Radio Medium

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — From Hanoi to Hamburg, a new airwave is competing for listeners with Radio Havana, Radio Peking, Radio Moscow, the Voice of America and the BBC of London.

That seems unlikely company for the ten-kilowatt-strong Radio Nacional de Brasilia.

But "We've gotten letters from the most unimaginable places," according to Jose had bypassed Radio Moscow Mauricio de Carvalho, head of the government station's in-listener popularity.

international division. Brazil's new international short wave voice has just completed its first anniversary. It is pounding out samba and news in six different languages and the results have surprised even its organizers.

A survey by an "American Short Wave Listeners' Association, recently released here, said the fledgling station had bypassed Radio Moscow Mauricio de Carvalho, head of the government station's in-listener popularity.

LAST ROLE No Place To Hide From Death: Ryan

Robert Ryan, one of America's finest stage and screen actors, completed work on "Executive Action" shortly before his tragic death on July 11.

His last screen role is a frighteningly intense portrayal of a conspirator in the movie slated Wednesday at the Cinema.

The men and women he worked with during production of "Executive Action" remember him as a wise, gentle, and hard-working professional who was always willing to help his fellow workers.

SKEPTIC "He as something of a skeptic, too," recalls director David Miller. "He was never much of a believer in any of the conspiracy theories concerning the assassination of JFK.

"But once he had read Dalton Trumbo's script, he realized that we were making a film based on fact, not an argument for somebody's pet theory.

"Then he insisted on doing the role — he never asked about money, and his only concern was to get this film made, because he felt it would bring us closer to the truth.

DEATH SHOCKING "We were all deeply shocked when he died. He knew he had cancer, but he really seemed to think he had it licked.

One afternoon, Ryan spoke about his brush with cancer and the condition which he felt he had overcome.

NO HIDING Actor John Anderson quietly asked Ryan how he felt about death. "Well, I know he's coming for me and there's no place to hide," Ryan replied. "So when he gets here I intend to shake his hand and meet him on friendly terms — after all, it's nothing personal."

"Executive Action," an Edward Lewis Production for National General release, stars Burt Lancaster, Robert Ryan, Will Geer, and John Anderson.

Members of the band are chosen from 20,000 high schools in America. Paul Lavalle, musical director of Radio City Music Hall, who directs the band, and a panel of other band directors do the selecting. Nominations are made by high school band directors.

MANY ARE UNAWARE OF IT Periodontal Disease Hits Gum Tissue, Ruins Teeth

Copley News Service
He was 28, brushed his teeth five times a day — and still had bad breath.
Marvin Hohman didn't know he had gum disease — periodontitis — the most common disease in the world.
But he was lucky. A year later he is under a specialist's care to avoid losing his teeth.
He has learned a new way to brush. And he has nice breath again.
"Almost everybody has it," Dr. Richard Bryan, periodontist, said. "We can look in almost any mouth and see some periodontal disease."
"Periodontal disease destroys gum tissue in early stages and later destroys bone, making teeth fall out.

The periodontist is a dentist who treats the disease and repairs its damage.
The disease is more prevalent than the common cold," Bryan added.
HARDER TO SHADE
Unlike the cold, it is harder to shake, more destructive, more difficult to recognize, expensive to treat — but can be avoided.
Cleaning is the prevention, as Hoffman found, almost too late. "I was brushing all wrong," he said. "I brushed too fast and missed a lot of areas."
Brushing is not enough anymore, dentists say. It will not remove the cause of the disease, clear sticky bacteria called plaque that collects between teeth and at the gum line, they add.

"Everybody gets plaque," Mrs. Ann Holmberg, dental hygienist and instructor of dental hygiene at Sacramento, Calif., City College, said.
"People can get plaque even without eating."
Dr. Ronald Rott, periodontist, recommends using toothbrush, dental floss and a special dye to stain plaque.
"People should use disclosing tablets all the time until they learn how to clean," he said. "Then they should use them once in a while to check."
"Plaque control really boomed along with preventive dentistry just in the last four years," Mrs. Farrell Wilke, plaque control nurse, said.
Just in the last 20 years has there been much research or information dissemination on gum disease, although man has always been plagued by it, Bryan said.
"In terms of the total past, just in the last split second are we paying attention to periodontal disease," Rott said.
Marvin Hohman is luckier than some other victims of the disease.

operations spends about 10 minutes brushing and flossing at every session, a total of at least 30 minutes a day.
To floss a bridge in the back of her mouth, she must thread dental floss on a wire needle and weave it through.
When her son complained that she spent too much time on herself, she said, "I am trying to save what I have left."
COSTLY
This patient spent a "tremendous amount" of money on her mouth. "I just can't begin to tell you how much it has cost. We have dental insurance but the company is getting more reluctant to pay."
These patients are at a ripe age for the disease.
It usually hits those in their 30s and 40s, Bryan said.
Periodontitis usually will not lead to tooth loss before age 20. Gum disease tooth loss between 20 and 30 is rare.
"And if people get through age 50 without tooth loss from gum disease, chances are they will keep them, he added.
The cold statistics only categorize the people who are suffering from a malady brought on by improper cleaning and practically unnoticeable until it is almost too late.
"Most often it is painless," Bryan said. "Usually if there is pain, the case is pretty advanced." One variety of the disease is painful from the beginning though, he explained.
"The disease is insidious, for the most part unnoticed by the patient," Rott agreed.
Besides cleaning, one could avoid tobacco to keep from having the disease.
"The smoker gets periodontal disease 10 years sooner than the nonsmoker," Mrs. Holmberg said.
Smoke cuts the blood supply to the gums, heats the mouth and makes teeth rough and receptive to plaque, she continued.
"It takes a lot of practice," Bryan said. "It is more demanding than most people realize."
The warning signs of periodontitis are:
1. Bleeding gums.
2. Swelling gums.
3. Bad breath.
4. Loose teeth.
5. Soreness.
6. Craters at gum points between teeth.
7. Separating teeth.
8. Pus.

All Of Elderly Can Get Break

Persons 65 years of age and older on Jan. 1 should apply in the county tax office for the local homestead exemption from taxes although they may have rendered their property for an exemption prior to Jan. 1.
Citizens of all ages are eligible for a homestead exemption from state taxes, Mrs. Zirah L. Bednar, county tax collector, explained.
In addition to this state exemption, the elderly now may obtain a local exemption from taxes on their homesteads, she said.

Senior citizens must sign for this over-age exemption by April 30 in order to see the exemption applied to local tax statements going out in Oct., 1974.
The county tax office is registering local senior citizens who want exemption from property taxes levied by the City of Big Spring, Big Spring Independent School District, Howard College, Howard County and State of Texas.

NOT SO LUCKY

The patient across the hall from where Hohman is having his quarterly professional cleaning is not so lucky. His more advanced case of periodontal disease require surgery.
This patient has a local anesthetic and sits in Dr. Rott's chair almost three hours for the painless operation called a flap procedure.
It's a common operation for periodontists. The patient will be rid of his infection, but must continue a rigorous cleaning program because his newly exposed bone will be receptive to the disease.
Sometimes the periodontist must graft bone taken from the hip or roof of the mouth to the gum. He may operate to remove bacteria deposits from the gums.
Another operation reshapes the gums to remove excess gum tissue stretched by the disease. The doctor may even splint teeth together or perform plastic surgery in the mouth.
The surgery is behind for another patient. But she now gets a checkup every four months to see how she cleans. This veteran of three gum operations spends about 10 minutes brushing and flossing at every session, a total of at least 30 minutes a day.

To floss a bridge in the back of her mouth, she must thread dental floss on a wire needle and weave it through.
When her son complained that she spent too much time on herself, she said, "I am trying to save what I have left."
