ELLSBERG BURGLARY CASE 'BLOCK'

Nixon Rejects Order To Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will reject a California state court order that he testify in person at the trial of former aides indicted for the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, the White House said today.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said White House attorneys "will recommend to the President that he respectfully decline to appear on constitution grounds."

Warren made clear that Nixon would heed that advice.

But Warren left open the possibility that Nixon might respond to written questions.

CONSPIRACY

"If other requests are put to the White House, they will be dealt with as they arise," he said in answer to a reporter's question.

John D. Ehrlichman and two other former White House aides are seeking Nixon's testimony to support their contention that they were acting as federal officers when the break-in occurred in 1971.

Ehrlichman is charged with burglary, conspiracy and perjury in connection with the break-in.

David Young and G. Gordon Liddy, both former White House aides, are charged with burglary and conspiracy.

Superior Court Judge Gordon Ringer of Los Angeles Tuesday said he will approve a certificate "demanding President Richard M. Nixon to testify

Feb. 25, 1974, and April 15, 1974."

The certificate in effect is an out-of-state subpoena, and must be issued formally by a superior court judge where the recipient resides, in this case the District of Columbia.

Nixon's refusal to testify in person could touch off a legal battle.

COMPROMISE

But indications were that moves were under way to reach a compromise, perhaps with the President answering written interrogatories submitted to him on key issues at stake in the proceeding.

Warren said Ehrlichman's attorneys had discussed the subject of written questions with Nixon's chief Watergate lawyer James D. St. Clair "but not in any specific way."

Ringer, who said this would be the first time a President has been subpoenaed by a state court, said he will sign the subpoena by Friday. The subpoena commands Nixon to appear at a pretrial hearing Feb. 25, and at the trial April 15.

The judge ruled earlier Tuesday that Nixon is a material witness to the defense case of Ehrlichman and two other former White House employees, G. Gordon Liddy and David R. Young Jr. All three are charged with burglary and conspiracy. Ehrlichman is also charged with perjury.

NO COMMENT

The White House formally declined comment on the ruling until it receives the judge's order, but sources later indicated the President would decline to appear personally as a witness.

Ehrlichman, joined in his motion by Liddy and Young, wants the President to testify about the formation of the secret White House investigations unit known as the "plumbers" and about presidential orders concerning a probe of Pentagon papers figure Daniel Ellsberg.

FORMER NIXON AIDE DEAD — Murray M. Chotiner, long-time political confidante of President Nixon and a former White House aide, died early today, White House officials said. Cause of death was not immediately disclosed but he was injured last week in an automobile accident in suburban McLean, Va., but was reported during the weekend to be recovering.

Call 10 In Bid To Move Murders Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — Prosecution lawyers in the mass murders case today called 10 members of a jury panel as witnesses in their effort to have the trial of Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, moved to another city.

Asst. Dist. Atty Don Lambright said the witnesses were picked at random from a jury panel called Monday, but not needed to try a case.

All of the witnesses said, in their opinion, Henley would be unable to obtain a fair trial in Houston either now or six months from now. However, under cross-examination by the defense, one witness, Mrs. Lester Mauthner, said she believed she could be a fair witness.

Henley is charged in six of the deaths of 27 teenagers killed in a three-year period in what police called a homosexual torture-murder ring.

District Court Judge William Hatten said Tuesday in a pre-trial hearing he had no choice but to delay Henley's trial after lawyers for both the state and defense entered into a stipulation that the defendant could not get a fair trial anywhere in the Houston area now because of publicity.

Car registration begins at 8:30 a.m. Friday.

"If you received a renewal form from the Texas Highway Department, that is all you will need to register your vehicle," Mrs. Zarah L. Bednar, county tax collector, said.

"You will need to bring your title and the 1973 receipt if you did not receive a renewal card," Mrs. Bednar said.

"If a new or used car has been purchased in the past 30 days, the application for title and the 1973 license receipt is required," she said.

"Please check now to see if you have what is required to get your license and contact this office for assistance," Mrs. Bednar suggested.

License plates are required on vehicles as of midnight April 15th.

'DISCIPLINE PROBLEM NOT RACIAL' 'Tough But Fair' Policy By Trustees Is Adopted

By MARI CARPENTER

"Concerned parents and a closer rapport between the parents and the schools is a goal that we must seek in solving discipline problems in the school," Roy Watkins, board president, said at the conclusion of a three-hour discussion of the problem Tuesday.

The board agreed that they would back the administrators in a "get tough" policy. They stressed that fairness accompany the policy, but agreed that "if" we have a small group of students who are not interested in getting an education, but simply in making trouble, that these students be removed from the schools.

The board also suggested that ties be restored wherever possible between students and teachers, teachers and administrators and that there be a clear understanding of support from the board.

Over and over, school administrators emphasized that "It is not a racial problem. We are having all kinds of discipline problems, but many are with whites." They cited bus problems at Goliad Junior High as an example.

STOP RUMORS

"Unfounded rumors concerning possible riots must be stopped. We request parents to keep an open mind and to help us restore faith in our schools," school administrators added.

It was pointed out that discussing discipline problems was placed on the agenda before the incident at the high school Monday in which Lisa Pipes received head injuries and was hospitalized in Lubbock.

The board requested first a report on that incident from the teacher in charge. She reported that four students at the scene, including the injured girl, told the same story.

"A group of black youths en route to the bus loading zone were turning the lights on and off in the gym while the two girls were putting up the volleyball net. The two groups exchanged obscenities, and all but two of the boys left. The injured girl finally picked up a stick and struck the youth in the stomach. He then hit her over the head with a metal pipe," according to the story related by the coach.

NEED DISCIPLINE

The board then discussed bus duty, use of the gym and other items. Thomas Fetters, board member, said, "But" all goes back to discipline. There is no way we can keep a teacher with every student at all times."

The board then discussed reports of harassment by girls in the gym after school. They also discussed other forms of harassment and extortion of money at the schools.

Problems on buses were reported, including an incident where two girls hit another girl over the head with a drafting board and a student who threw a snowball at the bus driver inside the bus.

It was agreed that students who cause trouble on buses should not be allowed to ride the buses and that their parents should be notified.

A report was given on an incident where a high school student slapped a teacher. A detailed report was given on an incident where a high school student slapped a teacher. A detailed report was given on the incident at the Sock Hop in which a local policeman was knocked to the ground. Morris Mopus reported that he was hit and kicked at that incident "but not injured."

NEED ID CARDS

School officials reported that the blacks who were involved were not students. A discussion followed on renewing the use of student identification cards so that non-students could not attend school affairs.

Ralph McLaughlin, board member, brought up a discussion of trouble in the school restrooms. Jim Bill Little, board member, pointed out,

"We can't hire security guards in every restroom. We need to let our students know that if they are harassed, they may report this to a teacher or counselor without fear that their name will be used. If several students report on the same person, we need to do some checking on that student. Everybody has to work together on this thing."

Dan Wilkins added, "I think we also need to get to the bottom of what is causing the problem. If there is a particular grievance from any group, I think we should know what it is."

The meeting was thrown open to the audience for comments. Jack Watkins pointed out that the school rules needed to be clearly stated. "I'm not sure the students or the parents know the rules."

Roosevelt Rutledge spoke up saying, "I think part of the trouble is racial. I think our black students need more people to turn to and you only have one black teacher in the high school."

TEACHERS HESITATE

Mrs. Mary Thomas added, "I think part of the trouble may be that some of the teachers hesitate to take discipline problems to the administrators. They are afraid it might reflect on them and are not sure that they have the backing of the administration."

Jim Jolley took the floor and spoke at length on the need for more black teachers in the high school and accused school administrators of not trying to hire them. Noel Reed, assistant superintendent, told of the many efforts he had made to find qualified black teachers. "They are at a premium and most of them are going to the cities. We are not going to hire teachers who are not qualified simply because they are of any race."

James Boyce summed up the problem with these words, "It seems to me there is a breakdown in communications between the community, students, faculty and administration."

James Woodruff requested that parents be notified when trouble signs appear. "I think parents should be notified and requested to work with school officials before it is time to suspend."

Col. Bob Meisenheimer spoke about problems on a bus to the Webb area, expressing the hope that these have been solved and pledging cooperation in any way possible.

LOVE OUR CHILDREN

Robert Byrd pointed out, "White parents need to realize that black parents are concerned, too, and that we love our children just like you do. I think we can all work this out to each other."

The two junior high principals discussed "problems" in their schools. Rannels reported that actually they had more problems last year and Goliad reported that they had encountered an entire new set of problems this year.

Watkins summed up the meeting with these decisions, "We will try to work closer with parents, have the administration reaffirm to teachers the support of the board in a get tough policy and be careful to be fair. We will also continue efforts to obtain ethnic group teachers at the high school level."

"We would request that everybody help stop the many meaningless rumors and help us cut down on any absenteeism caused by this unrest."

OTHER ACTION

In other action, the board approved a routine budget change, postponed a discussion on a bilingual education program, and changed a school holiday.

Supt. Sam Anderson requested that a former student holiday on Feb. 25 be cancelled and that school be taught that day, with the holiday and teacher workshop placed on the final day of school in May.

The board also voted to have two polling places on the northside and at the high school for the trustee election. Those whose terms expire this year are Jerry Jenkins, Ralph McLaughlin and Thomas Fetters.

Two board members, Jerry Jenkins and Delnor Poss, were out of town Tuesday.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senior Republican on the House Judiciary Committee says President Nixon is not entitled to withhold information from the panel's impeachment inquiry. Rep. Edward Hutchinson said the impeachment power overshadows the President's claim of executive privilege. So far, the committee has not asked the White House for any material, but it is seeking to obtain broad subpoena power from the House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Steelworkers of America open contract talks with the steel industry today without the right to a national strike. The union and industry officials signed an unprecedented no-strike agreement a year ago. Steel companies posted sharply higher profits last year and USW President I.W. Abel is expected to seek substantial wage and benefit increases.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Controversy over oil industry profits appears to have killed the emergency energy bill. The Senate has sent the measure back to conference with the House in an effort to remove an excess profits provision. President Nixon was among those who opposed the bill in its present form.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee is demanding reams of secret information on Justice Department eavesdropping practices for the past six years. The Senate permanent investigations subcommittee is seeking details far more extensive than the department has ever made public about the wiretapping and bugging operations of the FBI.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Despite some space station and weather problems, Skylab 3's astronauts will complete about 90 per cent of the experiments planned for their 84-day mission. Gerald P. Carr, William R. Pogue and Edward G. Gibson today were in their 76th day in orbit.

Says Offered $5,000 To Kill Commissioner

Saturday Election Is Called Off

In a county court hearing today, County Judge A. G. Mitchell revoked an order calling for an election Saturday on incorporation of Sand Springs. City Attorney Jim Gregg presented evidence that the proposed city limits of Sand Springs extended 3,000 feet into the two-mile extraterritorial jurisdiction of Big Spring.

Mitchell said he would be "glad" to consider setting an election for establishing a city more than two miles from Big Spring.

Robert Massengale, city secretary, and Johnny Hernandez, senior draftsman for Big Spring, gave routine testimony.

Proponents of the election did not contest the decision or present any witnesses of their own.

Plan To Help Truckers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government today announced a three-step plan designed to alleviate fuel problems in the trucking industry and to head off any possible widening of the current protest by Midwestern truck operators.

W. J. Usery Jr., a special presidential assistant, said the plan will allow truck operators to pass through to trucking companies any difference they must pay in the cost of diesel fuel from what they paid on May 15, 1973.

GUARANTEE DELIVERY

The plan also provides for a mandatory allocation program that will guarantee delivery of the fuel needed by the trucking industry, Usery said.

The mandatory allotment will be 110 per cent of 1972 consumption.

The third part of the proposal will be a tripling in the number of price monitors who will check truck stops and fuel outlets for price gouging. The proposal for pass-through of fuel costs apparently will mean higher prices for American consumers. Usery had no estimate as to how much of an increase could be expected.

He said trucking firms could make up their additional expense because of the pass-through by asking the Interstate Commerce Commission for new rate increases.

"Many of the truckers, acting through their regional rate bureaus, already have asked the ICC for some relief, Usery said."

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — An undercover federal narcotics agent testified today he was offered $5,000 to kill Cameron County Commissioner Adolph Thomae Jr., described to him as "a man who isn't worth anything."

The agent, Carlos Valverde, testified in the murder conspiracy trial of Cameron County Judge Ray Ramon and county Civil Defense Director Carlos Carrasco, both accused of plotting to kill Thomae.

THIRD MAN

A third man in the case, Noel Alaniz Trevino, was granted immunity from prosecution in exchange for his testimony.

Valverde said he posed as a narcotics dealer and met with Alaniz Trevino, a Mexican dope smuggler, last autumn in Brownsville to buy narcotics from him.

'IT'S JUST POLITICS'

He said Alaniz Trevino told him that Ramon wanted Thomae murdered and that Ramon would pay $5,000 for the job.

He said Alaniz Trevino described the target as "a man who isn't worth anything."

Why do you want him killed, Valverde said Alaniz Trevino told him.

Valverde said Alaniz Trevino picked up the telephone and talked with a man Alaniz Trevino said was Ramon, telling the man, "Everything is ready. The man is here."

Valverde said, however, that Ramon failed to show up later for a meeting at a restaurant.

He testified Alaniz Trevino also offered him $10,000 to kill a Matamoros, Mexico, man on whose life Alaniz Trevino said he had a $50,000 life insurance policy.

Nixon May Talk Watergate Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon addresses Congress and the nation tonight on the State of the Union, and quite possibly on the Watergate crisis.

White House officials would not say flatly in advance of Nixon's 9 p.m. EDT appearance at a joint session of Congress whether Watergate-related matters would be touched upon.

However, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said Tuesday Nixon would discuss all issues important to the American people. And departing aide Melvin R. Laird, asked at a news conference whether Nixon could fall to talk about what the questioner termed a crisis of confidence, replied: "I think you'll be very pleased with the content of the message."

The White House said Nixon returned to Washington by car after dark Tuesday from a day-long stay at Camp David, Md., where he reportedly spent much of his time on the State of the Union address to be broadcast live by major television-radio networks.

Senate Democratic Whip Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia said Tuesday in an interview filmed for use by public television stations that he thought Nixon could help himself by "dealing with the state of the President."

Nixon was sending Congress a lengthy, written State of the Union message in addition to his speech to Senate and House members.

Most of the President's legislative proposals represent altered versions of ones advanced in earlier years.

Perhaps his major 1974 legislative initiative is a much-revised national health insurance plan.

To be financed largely through employer-employee contributions, it would insure all Americans of basic minimum coverage as well as protection against catastrophic illnesses.

Atkinson On Probation

Horace Lee Atkinson, 30, 1311 Madison St., pleaded guilty in two courtrooms of the 118th Judicial District Tuesday. District Attorney Bob Moore said.

He was found guilty of being an accomplice in the burglary of Harry McMillan residence in Glasscock County and burglary of the Bobby Kelly residence in Martin County.

Most of the property stolen has been recovered, and making restitution for the rest was a condition for probations, Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney, said. Firearms were stolen from both residences, and a television was taken from the McMillan residence, Talbot said. The Martin County burglary happened in Aug., 1971, and the Glasscock County burglary was dated Oct., 1972.

Plain Folk Use Plain Talk In Telling Facts Of Life

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The topic was taxes, and plain people used plain talk in telling constitution writers about the economic facts of life. They were, some might say, the salt of the earth: they had no official titles, their family names were not prominent, most lacked the backing of an organization—they just spoke their piece, occasionally mispronouncing words. Few might be thought to have money. LIKE ECHO To the Finance Committee, their voices Tuesday must have seemed like the echo of a thousand other Texas voices, at different times, in different places. There was the former schoolteacher, Mrs. W. M. Burnett of Austin, lecturing the committee to sit up and pay attention—"May I have your attention, please?" she snapped as a legislator talked to another. Then she bore down on her subject—Texas roads. They once were so bad, 44 years ago, that she could remember covering her nose to breathe as the adobe dust clogged the air near Austin. But Texas roads are the best in the nation now, she insisted, and "it'll be over my dead body if you build any more roads in this state." The motor fuel tax money reserved in the constitution should be spent on education, she said, "and I know you've heard this a thousand times, but I want to 'play it one more time, Le-on.'" BEST LAND LAWS To Mike Smith of Sabinal World War II was not so long ago, and he recalled for the committee what an Australian had told him: "Texas has the best land laws of any state," and, said Smith, "let's remem-

Best Equipped To Handle

In a most regrettable happening a high school girl received a serious head injury resulting from being struck with an object. From what trustees have been able to ascertain, the incident was more or less spontaneous as many others which do not have such dire results. So, reading into this racial group overtones is not supported by what those best in a position to know have been able to find.

Still, there have been several recent matters which reflect some point of friction. A human inclination is to pray that this adjusts and goes away. A too-common disposition is to pass on stories obtained from second and third-hand rumors, then enlarge upon them and pass them on for facts.

Trustees are cognizant of problems, and we suggest that they and administrators and teachers working with the vast tide of the student population, are in the best position to deal with the matter.

They have rightly pointed out that the first business of the school is to education, not police, but they recognize that discipline must be maintained else there is confusion if not chaos. This has nothing to do with color or race or language — it has to do with the commonsense principle that no activity, least of all learning, can take place in an unstable atmosphere.

The board and the administration undoubtedly will look into the situation deeply and consistently. It therefore is entitled to the support of the entire community, regardless of shade, to fix and require observance of fair, equitable sensible requirements of discipline. Meantime, as we have said before, the normal course of events is for students to get along, even though we may expect spontaneous incidents now and then. If, however, some small percentage should be bent upon producing distraction, then this must be dealt with forthrightly firmly, fairly.

Good Theory, Sticky Practice

Trustees have implemented a means of recognizing faculty members for exceptional service by naming them distinguished instructors. Two were chosen for the first award, and five others were nominated.

The action, designed at once to recognize outstanding instruction and to challenge others to achieve the rank, carried with it a $3,000 stipend. While we recognize that there needs to be sufficient incentive, this strikes us as coming on so strong it may create a lot of problems down the line.

For one thing, although the awards must be made annually (or until three consecutive years have been achieved), the effect is cumulative. What may be a relatively minor financial effort now may in a decade become a formidable sum.

In view of this, the near-bottom position of Howard College as to average Junior College faculty salary in Texas, may become increasingly an abrasive issue.

Give Me Some Gas

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Ten days ago Roger Billings, president of Billings Energy Research Corporation of Provo, Utah, showed up at an energy symposium with a new kind of automotive power. He invited members of the press to drive his car equipped with a new fuel, which gave a dramatic twist to the symposium title: "Search for Needed Energy".

HIS MACHINE was a 1973 Chevrolet Monte Carlo, renamed the HL-1. Billings had added a moderated carburation system and a new fuel supply — hydrogen. Now this was by no means the first time that a motor had been powered by hydrogen — far from it — but it was as Billings said, the first "hydrogen car with a reasonable fuel system." He defined reasonable as being operationally and financially feasible.

But, don't line up for hydrogen-powered cars. This may be quite a spell in coming, although it easily could come because of the availability of this fundamental element.

WHAT MAKES the new approach different? For one thing, previous efforts had relied largely on trying to compress the gas, which meant a storage system so bulky that it weighed half a ton and had a limited mileage range. Billings came up with a novel approach — combining hydrogen chemically with iron titanium (a hydride) so that it is stored in a dense state, yet can be freed by heat from the engine coolant system. Beech Aircraft, which has had much experience in designing cryogenic systems for the Apollo and other space vehicles, came up with a super Thermos bottle which stored liquefied hydrogen (422.9 below zero) and which can be fed into the fuel system. In either case there is far less chance for serious fire or explosion than with gasoline.

HYDROGEN fuel is not without its problems, for motors have a tendency to backfire, and unless carefully controlled, can emit five times the nitric oxides of gasoline. Still this is only half the maximum allowable under new emission standards. The power generated is virtually the same, but hydrogen produces 1,000 less particulates than gasoline — in short, when burned it "produces fog, not smog."

THE COST is comparable — gasoline $1.83 per million BTU, hydrogen $1.60. Moreover, the hydrogen supporters contend that the motor functions 40 per cent more efficiently on hydrogen, broadening the economic margin. As for supply, oil and gas are critically short, and predictions are that the bulk of hydrocarbons will have to be imported by 1985. Coal alone of the fossil fuels in the United States are in good supply — enough for 500 years, and coal can be converted to hydrogen without pollution. Undoubtedly, there are other sources since hydrogen is one of the most bountiful elements of the earth.

SO, HYDROGEN must be considered to have real potential for relief because if Billings' experience is a criterion, modifications can be effected for about $200 for use of hydrogen. Also, hydrogen can be used alternately with gasoline — that is the same motor will function off either fuel. Of course, the fuel storage may add to the cost, and it has a good way to go before being easily economical and with a range similar to the average gasoline tank.

Frank Lynch, vice president and director of engineering for Billings' firm, claims that "hydrogen is perfectly feasible as a power source from lawn mowers to locomotives, home heating units, boats, and even aircraft, (which might realize a 30 per cent weight reduction by switching to hydrogen systems.)"

So some day, when you say "give me some gas, you may mean just that."

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

What is this about a coming day of judgment? I know you're sincere in all you say, but too many religious leaders have used such teachings just to keep the sheep in line. What is the real evidence for such a prediction?

I. B.

In an age of constant and far reaching change, few things remain sure. But this is certain, that a time of judgment and retribution awaits our race in the future.

Several things suggest it. First that the administration of moral government in this world requires it.

The way good and evil is presently distributed, the incidence of prosperity and adversity among men is seldom in harmony with their respective characters. For example, St. Paul is in prison while the mad Nero is on the throne.

Secondly, I think conscience anticipates the coming of such a day. The voice within testifies to the solemn truth that after death comes judgment.

Thirdly and most importantly, the Bible declares the arrival of such an event. See statements like Matthew 12:36, Acts 17:31, Romans 2:16 and Jude 14 and 15.

But now, the whole thrust of the Gospel is that we don't need to fear such a day. Wrote John in 40 GALLONS OF COFFEE AND A CUPPA DIESEL....

1 John 4:17: "Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment."

Thank God that what Christ has done will make us acceptable to the Father, and we need not fear condemnation at the divine bar.

Everyone Looks Up To Wilfred

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a flagpole sitter gets tired of hearing:

"It's a message from your wife. She says to put up your umbrella — it's raining."

"How did you train yourself for this kind of a career, sir? Did you work for the government?"

"Do the pigeons give you much trouble up there, Wilfred?"

"How much suntan lotion would you say you use in a year? Enough to cover Coney Island?"

"No, that isn't a crowd of Wilfred's fans waiting around the bottom of the building for him to come down. They are just a few of his bill collectors."

"Your wife says that since you are on a diet and not getting much exercise up there, she's only sending you up a piece of lettuce and a pat of pot cheese for lunch."

"I'm afraid you were born a generation too late for this line of work, Wilfred. People today are too lazy to bend their neck to look at a guy on a flagpole and besides everybody thinks he himself is stuck out on a private flagpole of his own anyway."

"Your wife says to tell you she can't come and wave you on today, Wilfred. She's playing bridge with some friends."

"Bad news, Wilfred. We hear the World Trade Center is up to some dirty pool. We've been told they're planning to send a pretty young blonde twin up on each of the flagpoles on their two towers — one dressed topless, the other bottomless. Can you think of a quick gimmick to beat that, Wilfred?"

"You must have your dates mixed, Wilfred. According to our figures, you still have a week, six days, four hours and 29 minutes to go before setting a record. Just don't think about it — and the time will go faster."

"Your wife says she is planning your summer vacation and wants to know if you'd like to go mountain climbing for a change."

"It's from your wife, Wilfred. She says the messages you've been sending are so full of complaints she suggests that the first thing you do when you climb down from that flagpole is to go and climb a tree."

Too Darn Hot

Robert E. Ford

People who study strange matters have swung another blow at the cities to go along with pollution, traffic jams and dollar hamburgers.

These researchers have been running around with a handful of thermometers, sticking them in improbable places and taking cities' temperatures.

They come up with the claim that cities are hotter than the countryside, sometimes by a considerable margin. And it needn't be a big city, either. One with 250 or so people will do.

This heat claim probably will be disputed heatedly by any farm boy out pushing a tractor or by any fellow helping pour melted asphalt on a highway during a 100-degree-plus summer.

Turn it around to winter, and a policeman on a street corner, a lineman atop a pole or a commuter waiting at a bus stop in a roaring norther will not be impressed by scientific statements about city coziness.

YET YOU can't argue with science. It gave us such things as Skylab and pinball machines.

Dr. Jim Norwine of Texas A&M University at Kingsville, along with Kenneth N. Jones Jr., are among the scientists watching cities sweat.

They tested 13 communities ranging from 250 population to 31,000 and found significant differences between their temperatures and those of the surrounding countryside.

"The city of Kingsville is, on the average, more than five degrees warmer than surrounding rural areas," reports Norwine.

The A&I assistant professor discovered that tropical plants tend to be stunted or killed by cold weather in the country while similar plants flourish in the city center.

THE MAGAZINE U.S. News and World Report says that New York and Detroit often are 10 to 20 degrees hotter than the surrounding areas.

The A&I research shows that the differences are greater in winter during clear nights.

Reason that cities remain hot during the day is that all that sun heat bounces off the concrete and asphalt which at the same time stores a part of the heat like batteries store electricity.

Then at night when the countryside cools down, the city streets and buildings are releasing warmth like a stove.

SOME CONTENT that cities receive less snow than the countryside and that probably is true.

It is a common occurrence for workers just arriving downtown late from the suburbs to swear to horror stories about snow and ice conditions in their neighborhoods.

That doesn't mean that the cities do not get moisture. Scientists contend cities have about 10 per cent more cloud cover and twice as much fog as rural areas.

THE WHOLE thing has caused some significant changes in cities.

Take the persons who decides to build a house outside of town overlooking a little creek so he can live the life of a rural philosopher.

Upstream on the creek the city begins to grow and spread. It puts down concrete and asphalt. The heat attracts rain.

And not long afterward the rural homeowner finds himself flooded out when the creek overflows.

Think that's an overstatement? Right now it's a big dispute in North Central Texas areas.

CITIES, say the observers, get more rain because they send up a dome of hot, moist air. Then a cool front comes along and triggers moisture which falls on the city where there never are enough storm sewers, and the rains flood out the rural homeowner.

THERE IS a solution to all this. You know how hot an automobile gets when it is parked all day with the windows closed in the summer.

What should be done is have all the cars in the cities driven downtown, allowed to sit awhile, and then rapidly driven away to take all the city heat into the country.

Passed Back And Forth

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have recently been treated for trichomonas. My husband refuses to take his pills, saying he doesn't think there is anything wrong with him. I understand this is a fairly safe form of V. D. What I want to know is, do I get it back from him?

—Mrs. J.D.

Dear Doctor: I know that trichomonas is a minor but annoying and persistent vaginal infection that is transmitted by sexual intercourse. Can it be contracted any other way?

My medical book says the trichomonads live in the feces and can get into the vagina, and at menstrual time when the acidity is lower, they can take hold. Is this so? I get this about twice a year.

—P.P.

The first letter above illustrates one of the common reasons that make treatment difficult; the second letter gives a more usual explanation of what it is all about.

Trichomonas infection (causing a discharge and often irritation of the vagina) is caused by the presence of a microscopic organism known as a protozoan.

I would not call it a "venereal disease" because it can occur without any sexual contact whatsoever. At the same time, it can also be passed back and forth by sexual contact.

It is characteristic that a woman is very conscious of such an infection, but the selfsame infection in a man quite commonly gives no sign of its presence. Hence the husband who insists that there isn't anything wrong with him, so he refuses medication.

The wife takes the medication, cures her trouble — and promptly gets it back again from the husband who doesn't know he is carrying it. So he should take medication at the same time his wife does.

The infective organism can indeed be present in the bowel, and in feces, so women, after going to the bathroom, should make it a habit when using toilet tissue to wipe away from the vagina, and never toward it, to prevent carrying the organism into the area.

An added note: While very common, trichomonas is not the only form of vaginitis, or vaginal infection. Other forms require different treatment.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I'm 16. I've had crab lice for three months. I belong to a clean family and I don't know how I got them. I refuse to go to a doctor. Please tell me some way I can cure them without a prescription.

—D.S.

A lot of folks your age get them by swapping clothes. Maybe — it's possible — you picked up a louse by brushing against somebody at school. It's become a very common complaint.

The surest remedy I know happens to be a prescription medication and only doctors can write prescriptions for it.

Keep on refusing to go to a doctor, and you run the risk of having others in the family pick up the pests.

Letters To Editor

May I express my sincere appreciation for the beautiful and truly professional CR-74 production.

Congratulations and thank you to all those who made it possible and successful, obviously through many hours and days of work and co-operation, for the ultimate pleasure of others and the pride of a job well done.

It reinforces my faith in our youth, wherein our future lies; and confidence in those adults capable of bringing all that talent to the fore.

Yours very truly,
MARY THOMAS
805 Edwards
Big Spring, Texas

Dear Editor: We attended CR '74 Friday night and experienced a very professional performance. In fact, it reminded us of the Dean Martin Show. Was it really necessary to remind us that those precious high school boys and girls to "drink" to the point of being "drunk"; that some of them will marry because a baby is on the way; that others of them will live together unmarried; that hundreds of young people their age around the world worship Satan as completely as many of the fine students in CR worship God?

Perhaps it has been forgotten that the audience of CR is made up of mothers and fathers and adults who have watched the young people in the production grow up. We find it hard to laugh at the sins that we have worked so hard to keep out of their young lives.

We can't believe that we are the only ones to feel this way. We would be interested in hearing others comment.

Sincerely,
MR. AND MRS. DON BRADLEY
3601 Dixon

Dear Editor: A landfill can be a thing of beauty, not unsightly as would an open dump yard, if it is done properly. Also, it will be sanitary.

The City of Big Spring has been working hard to find a place to locate a landfill.

If a large, deep hole is dug with a bulldozer and filled with refuse, then dirt filled in on the garbage until it is completely covered, compressed, and finally moulded into a nice mound, this fill makes rich soil on which grass, trees, flowers or other vegetation may be planted. The process can be repeated again and again.

The result: A clean landfill means a clean city.

If the plastic garbage bags continue in use, these also cut down on our litter. The Garden Club members and I am sure every concerned citizen in Big Spring, are interested in seeing a cleaner, greener place to live.

The loveliest "dump ground" ever saw was a place in Munich Germany. The Olympic games were located around a group of lovely green mountains with a lake in the center as well as the great Olympic stadium. It was beautiful — especially when you stop to remember that the mountains were the remains of piles of rubble and ruins of World War II ... It was though the hand of God had transformed it.

I hope Big Spring will have a few mounds enriched by garbage and graced with trees and grass.

MRS. O. S. WOMACK,
Dist. I Litter Control Chairman

Dear Editor: I am so fed up with the things I feel Nixon is getting away with. The American people are sitting humbly by while he is taking away the independence we fought for so hard. This beautiful psalm and poem really explain him the way he is. I would be more than grateful if you would print this so the American people can stop looking for words to describe him.

NIXON PSALM — Nixon is my shepard, I shall not want. He leadeth me beside the still factories. He guideth me to the path of unemployment for the parties sake. I do not fear evil for thou are against me. Thou annointed my wages with freeze so that my expenses runneth over my income. Surely, poverty and hard living shall follow the Republican party and I shall live in a rented house forever.

What Others Say

The political question is how much the government should do for those whose lives are most immediately and drastically affected. Until the New Deal, American government did nothing. People whose investments and livelihoods were wiped out found new homes and new ways of living — as best they could. Private charity was their only help. The "Okies" are a case in point.

Since the New Deal, government has been expected to help to soften the impact of change. But for whom, and by how much?

Price controls and rationing can equalize hardship and soften the impact of change. But they cannot prevent the change. No government, not even one as rich as the government of the United States, can compensate to every individual for the loss he may sustain from the rising price of oil. Trucking might someday even become uneconomic.

Higher oil and gasoline prices will be a temporary hardship for some, but they will also fuel the new shape of the American future. It should be reached for, not delayed.

A Devotion For Today ..

Those who accepted his word were baptized, and some three thousand were added to their number that day. (Acts 2:41)

PRAYER: We thank Thee, O God, that the Holy Spirit is at work today among us. Grant that we may stand firm in faith and grow in Christ. Amen.

Since that time, the number of dog bite victims is dramatically down. This time the group planning to appear on behalf of the dogs, claiming that too many pets are being accidentally killed by the dog catcher's dart gun. Also requested to be on the agenda is a request for improvements on the north side. Jimmie Jolley will be the spokesman.

HOPE TO CATCH GUNMEN Police Pressing 'Operation Zebra'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police pressed a massive manhunt called "Operation Zebra" through a tense and quiet city, looking for at least two gunmen believed responsible for 10 random slayings in the past two months. The latest wave of killings came Monday night, when five persons were shot in a two-hour period on city streets. All but one died and doctors say the lone survivor may be paralyzed. TERRIBLE "Sure, people are afraid," Police Lt. William O'Connor said Tuesday. "If the murders had a motive — rape or robbery — it wouldn't be so frightening. This is terrible. There's a lot of hate involved in these cowardly acts of going up to an isolated person and shooting him."

BIG SPRING HERALD

Sec. B Big Spring, Texas, Wed., Jan. 30, 1974 Sec. B

Indict Two Cops On Theft Charges

HOUSTON (AP) — A Harris County grand jury has indicted two Houston police officers on charges of felony theft.

Named in indictments returned Monday were B. D. Jackson, 34, and D. W. Albert, 37. They were accused of stealing money from a man arrested on charges of possession of marijuana in 1972.

The two officers worked in the narcotics division until Albert was transferred to radio patrol last October. Jackson is still assigned to narcotics.

VET OFFICERS

Albert is a 15-year veteran and Jackson has been on the force for nearly 11 years.

The indictment apparently stems from testimony two suspended narcotics officers gave the grand jury about alleged misdeeds by men in the division.

Jackson and Albert were accused in the indictment of stealing more than $200 from Charles Jacobs, 23, of Pinckney, Mich., July 25, 1972. Jacobs was arrested with two other men. Each was charged with possession of marijuana.

Jacobs and one of the other men, John Robert Huston, 23, of Ann Arbor, Mich., were sentenced to 10 years in prison last July. Geronimo Torres, 40, the third man arrested, is scheduled for trial in February.

Carlos Avila and Antonio Zavala, two other former narcotics officers, are awaiting trial on charges of conspiracy to sell marijuana. They apparently triggered the grand jury investigation when they were indicted last April.

They told the district attorney's office that narcotics officers stole money from drug dependents, placed evidence on suspects, falsified police offense reports and illegally tapped telephones.

Michael Chavez, 47, a fifth officer, pleaded guilty in November to charges of perjury before a federal grand jury investigating the same allegations. He retired from the force after admitting lying when he denied to the grand jury he took money from individuals engaged in illegal narcotics activities to keep him from performing his duty.

WILL BE PAID

Police Chief C.M. Lynn relieved Albert and Jackson of their duties following their indictments.

Lynn, who is conducting his own investigation of the narcotics division, said both men would continue to be paid while on their "temporary suspension."

Bob Bennett, an assistant district attorney, said the two indictments, winds up the county grand jury's two month investigation.

The federal grand jury's investigation, which began in October, was scheduled to resume this week.

Bob Rogers Takes Texas A&M Post

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Bob Rogers, dean of the journalism school at the University of Wyoming, says he has resigned to return to his alma mater, Texas A&M.

Rogers said his resignation is effective at the close of the school year and said he will take a position as associate professor of journalism at the Texas school.

Rogers worked on several newspapers in Texas and taught journalism at Texas A&M before joining the UW faculty.

Musical, South Pacific, Booked Feb. 28-Mar. 1-2

The Big Spring High School Choral Department will present the hit musical SOUTH PACIFIC, Feb. 28 and March 1-2 at 8 p.m. in the school's auditorium.

Reservations can be phoned — 7-7462 — to the school's choir room beginning Feb. 2.

Adapted from James A. Michener's Pulitzer Prize winning book TALES FROM THE SOUTH PACIFIC, the musical centers on two islands in the South Pacific during World War II. The show's first performance was in New York's Majestic Theatre on April 7, 1949, and it ranks as one of the five most popular musicals written with more than 3,000 consecutive performances.

All-state bass Bobby

Bradshaw will portray Emile de Bacque. Melanie Hayworth will play Ensign Nellie Forbush. Carrie Wheeler will portray a Tonginese woman, Bloody Mary. Charles McKinney will play Luther Billis. Kenneth Scott will play Lt. Joseph Cable. David Wright will portray Capt. George Brackett. Orville Ray will play Commander William Harrison.

The school's band will perform the show's musical background with the choral department doing scenery. Additional sets will be supplied by Charles H. Stewart and company of Summerville, Mass.

Last year's production of OKLAHOMA was a sell-out and the school urges the public to reserve early.

Opening lead: Three of ♠
East and West combined in an enterprising defensive effort to deny South of a potential gain from unorthodox bidding.

With both major suits wide open, South's overall of one no trump is, to put it mildly, rather unusual. However, South rated to take about eight tricks in his own hand at no trump. In view of East's opening bid, it seemed unlikely that North-South could make an eleven-trick contract, so South decided that his only chance for game was in no trump. When North competed to two no trump, South placed partner with values in the major suits, and so he decided to shoot for game.

From the auction, West suspected that a club attack might prove futile, tho in the actual case it could have beaten the contract, so he led his fourth-best heart. East won the ace, and it would have been all too easy to return a heart or shift to a club. In either case, declarer would have romped home with his game contract.

However, dummy's heart holding made it obvious that that suit held no future, and the fact that West had not led a club made attacking that suit unattractive. Therefore, East decided to go after the shorter of dummy's two remaining suits — spades. At trick two, he returned the deuce of spades. Declarer played low and West, in turn, made a superb play — he inserted the eight. Dummy's ten won, and declarer tried to set up club tricks by leading a low club.

East went up with the ace and continued the fine defensive work by shifting back to hearts. West took the king of hearts and returned the queen of spades, pinning declarer's jack! Whether declarer played dummy's king or not was immaterial — the defenders were bound to collect three spade tricks. Added to two heart tricks and the ace of clubs, this spelled a two-trick defeat.

Note that after the opening heart lead, the defenders have to play their cards in exactly this way to defeat the contract. If they diverge in any way from this line, declarer would make his no trump game.

MRS. JAMES C CALDWELL

Couple Wed In Thornton

A mid-afternoon home ceremony in Thornton Saturday united in marriage Miss Jill Calame Barnett and Lt. James C. (Butch) Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Caldwell of Evant, formerly of Big Spring.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Herman Adams of Thornton and the late William Jack Barnett.

Proceeding the exchange of vows, nuptial music was by John Nance, vocalist, and Mrs. L. L. Geren, pianist. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. Percy Goddard before an improvised altar accented with gladioli, chrysanthemum pompons, carnations and babies'-breath.

The bride's gown of white peau de soie was fashioned with re-embroidered Alencon lace edging the portrait neckline and empire bodice. The lace also formed a front panel of the gown and circled the scalloped hemline of a skirt which swept into a chapel train. The long sleeves extended into tapering lace points over the wrists. A pearled Juliet headpiece held her elbow-length veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of gladioli, babies'-breath and red roses.

Mrs. Edward R. Kilgore of Lewisville, the bride's only attendant, wore a light blue, empire gown styled with fitted sleeves. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Serving the bridegroom as best man were Mike Berkley, Dallas; Hank Clanton, Denton; and Lt. R. S. Field of Ft. Hood.

A reception followed the nuptial rites, with guests attending from numerous cities, including Big Spring. Members of the house party were Mrs. D. T. Reynolds, Mrs. Spike McLean, Mrs. Lynn J. Bennett, Mrs. R. A. Black, Mrs. Fred Cannon, Mrs. James R. Lindley, Mrs. John Nance, Mrs. H. C. Sansom, Mrs. Jack W. Barnett, Mrs. William C. ## Slap A Child?

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 35-year-old widow with a 4-year-old son I'll call "Jimmy." Six months ago I married John. Sunday, the three of us were dining in a restaurant when Jimmy deliberately threw a dinner roll on the floor. John promptly slapped Jimmy across the face so hard it left an imprint on the boy's cheek. Jimmy didn't cry out, he whimpered a little and bit his lip, then big tears started to run down his cheeks.

A man at a nearby table witnessed the incident, and walked over to John and said, "The boy is hardly a match for you. Why don't you pick on somebody your size and step outside with me?"

My husband told the stranger to "get lost," and I quietly said, "Thank you, sir, please let me handle this." The stranger left, and not a word was said for the rest of the evening.

My husband insists that he only wanted to teach

Jimmy a lesson. I say he shouldn't have slapped the child's face in public. What is your opinion?

JIMMY'S MOM

DEAR MOM: One should never slap a child's face in public — or in private. The "lesson" Jimmy learned was that "might makes right." I hope you handled it by explaining to John that reasonable men educate with words — not violence.

DEAR ABBY: Your stand against spouse-swapping, I agree with, but I must protest your use of the term, "wife-swapping." A wife is not a possession, or a commodity or a mindless ninny who may be swapped or lent at the will of her husband. Yet, this is exactly what that term implies. (Have you ever heard anyone call it "husband swapping"?)

WORDS COUNT

DEAR WORDS: You are right, of course. The whole idea of "mate trading" (better?) is disgusting to me, but I promise to refrain from using a term that puts women on the same level with a used car.

DEAR ABBY: I am an officially-engaged young woman with a serious problem. Last week I went somewhere with a girl friend without telling my fiancée. (We went to a singles bash.)

The first person I saw at the bash was my fiancée! He was angry with me so I left immediately. Now he won't even speak to me when I call him on the telephone.

I'd like to see him so I can patch things up. But how?

STILL SINGLE

DEAR STILL: Go to the next "singles bash" — you'll probably find him there. You have as much reason to be angry with him as he has to be angry with you. And unless he's willing to bury the hatchet, I suggest you become officially single again.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

AHS Slugs Steers In 2nd Half Opener

By JACK COWAN

What the Big Spring Steers had hoped would be a springboard to a second half Dist. 5-AAAA title turned out to be a bad nightmare Tuesday as the Abilene Eagles dealt the Steers a 100-79 licking.

The Eagles, who had to overcome some first half disappointments of their own for the win, rode the 30-point performance of slick Monte Harris to a 30-point third quarter budge and then coasted in for the victory.

"I don't know what it was," said a visibly upset Steer Coach Ron Plumlee after the game. "I can't say that we weren't ready. I can't say we didn't want the game..."

It was a blow to the Steers, who hoped to open second half action on the right foot and make up for an unpleasant 94-86 loss to the Eagles during first round. Instead, the Big Springers slipped to 15-9 on the year and suffered their worst defeat of the season.

Abilene, which had lost its last three 5-AAAA games after being pegged as a pre-district favorite, appeared to be ready to challenge for the second half honors.

The game was wild and long, lasting almost a half hour longer than most, mainly because of 60 total turnovers and 47 fouls. The Steers dealt out 31 of the errors, and had a cold night from the field to top it off.

The Eagles raced to a 20-0 lead midway through the first quarter, and it wasn't until the final second of the stanza when the Steers' leading scorers with 16 points each, Larry Stanley and John Thomas Smith, cut it to 26-20 on free throws and a buzzer shot.

The visitors got up by 15 in the second period, but Albo Smith got nine of his 13 points in a four-minute span — including eight in a row — as the locals trimmed it to 41-33. But the Warbirds came back with eight unanswered points of their own and led by 49-38 at the half.

The third quarter was the real disaster for the Longhorns as they were outscored 21-3 by AHS in a six-minute span, and one of those Steer points was a gift from little Byron Harris. Monte's younger brother, who was whistled for a technical foul and appeared to be ready to challenge for the second half honors.

The Eagles were on top by 78-32, their biggest lead of the game, heading into the final eight minutes. Stanley led a short-lived comeback as the host whittled the gap to 17 points at 80-63 with 6:20 remaining, but that was as close as they could get.

Harris had help from John Blakeney in the scoring department, as the 6-5 senior hit 19 points, including nine of nine free throws. Harris was also hot from the line, sinking 10 of 11, and as a team the Eagles made 24 of 30.

Earl Swinger rang up 15 points for the winners and James Edwards had 12.

For the Steers, Randy Marshall chipped in 14 points, Albo Smith had 13 and Jim Ray 10 in the defeat. Big Spring made good on 19 of 34 free throws.

The Big Spring Junior Varsity improved on its 40-point setback at the hands of the Eagle JVS three weeks ago, but still finished on the short end of a 68-65 score.

Bobby Winters turned in his best effort of the year, a 27-point performance, to spark the Steers and Robert Aldridge had 16 as the team fell to 7-9.

For Abilene, Mark Little was tops with 16 points.

A MEAN REBOUND — Big Spring Steer forward Randy Marshall comes down hard with Steers-Abilene High game Tuesday is the BSHS gym. Looking on for the Eagles is Byron Harris (12). Abilene won the Dist. 5-AAAA second half opener, 100-79.

Raiders, UT Score Wins

By The Associated Press

Texas Tech, basking in the warmth of a third Southwest Conference basketball victory on the road, had best not order its NCAA playoff tickets just yet if Texas Coach Leon Black is correct.

"I don't think the race is over by any stretch of the imagination," said Black Tuesday night after Tech trounced Rice 75-64 and the Longhorns tripped the Texas Aggies 98-90.

Tech owns a spotless 5-0 SWC mark with Texas in second place at 4-1.

"I figure the eventual champion will lose two or three games," said Black. "I don't think Tech has it in the sack. I think we have a good team. I know A&M has a fine team."

"There are a lot of fine clubs in this league and I seriously doubt anybody will go undefeated. Tech will be tough, but they can be overhauled."

Tech defeated Texas in Austin Saturday and the two clubs don't meet again until Feb. 19 in Lubbock.

Tech Coach Gerald Myers said "We're in no position to relax. We've got nine to go, nine tough ones at home and one on the road."

"We missed enough shots around the basket to win the ball game but that (Phil Bailey) killed us outside," Rice Coach Don Knodel said.

In other games Tuesday night, pre-season favorite Southern Methodist followed Ira Terrell's 26 points to an 81-74 victory over Texas Christian and Baylor bombed Arkansas 94-68 with a swarming full-court press.

Rick Bullock, Tech's 6-foot-9 center, led a second half Red Raider surge to sap a 34-34 halftime tie. Bullock scored 23 points and hauled down 13 rebounds. Phil Bailey added 20 points and William Johnston hit 14.

At the intermission. But the Midland turned back Odessa Rebels pulled away in the third quarter and then rolled up 37 markers in the fourth for the easy win.

Lee was led by Brett Blackwell with 25 points, and visiting Angelons in the final minutes. Alfred Fields led the losers with 19 points.

Lee had trouble with the stubborn Bronchos for a half, 21-12 in the final eight minutes leading by just four points, 36-

Rice, now 1-4 in SWC games, was led by forward Tim Moriarty with 16 points.

Texas' Larry Robinson scored 30 points on 15 field goals, prompting Black to say "Robinson is finding his game coming off the knee injury. He is getting the confidence to make things happen."

Baylor Coach Carroll Dawson credited the Bear press with chilling the Razorbacks.

"Our press hurt TCU (Saturday night) and Arkansas was hurt much worse," Dawson said. "We use our speed in the press because we are not a physical team. We try to force our opponents' worst shooter to shoot the ball."

SMU Coach Bob Prewitt said "our defense pulled it out in the second half."

TCU Coach Johnny Swaim said "They killed us on the boards late in the game."

The schedule Saturday finds Texas at Arkansas, A&M at Baylor in the television game of the day, SMU at Rice and TCU at Texas Tech.

Person Survives In '40' Tourney

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Defending champion Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn., barely survived the opening round of match play Tuesday in the 22nd annual Life Begins at 40 Golf Tournament.

Person, a four-time winner of the event, sank long putts for pars on two of the final three holes to defeat Dr. B. C. Halley of Dallas 1-up.

The 62-year-old Person rallied after he went four down on nine holes to play. Person pulled even on the 17th hole and knocked home a 25-footer on 18 to send the match into extra holes.

There will be 24 matches in all, as each of the top eight boys and girls will play doubles and singles.

First Half Kings Roll

District 5-AAAA's leaders refused to stand for any of the upset business that dominated the first round of play, and both Midland Lee and Abilene Cooper opened the second half with victories Tuesday.

Cooper smacked San Angelo 64-52 and Lee exploded in the second half for a 98-69 decision over Odessa, while Abilene High

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Big Spring baseballer R. J. Englert is in town paying a visit to his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben J. Englert, while biding his time and waiting for the start of spring training.

Englert, who starred in the Class A California League last summer, will be closer to home this year as he starts into his second full season. He'll be playing for the San Francisco Giants Texas League squad, which has been moved from Amarillo to Victoria, and local fans will get to see him in action when the team plays Midland's Cubs.

R. J. ENGLERT

The former All-Southwest Conference outfielder at Texas A&M reports to camp, at Casa Grande, Ariz. in March and he's looking forward to it. As a matter of fact, he's looking forward to all kinds of things that might happen to him in his baseball career.

"Yeah, I've been having a good time," the ex-Steer says. "I get to travel a lot and see interesting places. I'm still young — I might as well enjoy myself." Englert would enjoy getting a shot with the Giants this summer, and after hitting .304 as Fresno's leadoff man last year the prospects become more real.

But, he confesses, it'll have to come late in the season when the club can work around financial commitments.

A couple of coaches around here are announcing births. Jan Freeman, wife of Steer defensive coach Ron Freeman, gave birth to an eight pound, six ounce girl Monday night shortly after the Steer Football Banquet. They've dubbed her Melissa Carol.

And in Ackerly, Sands girls basketball Coach Robert Barr and his wife, Sandra, are welcoming Keri Anne Barr, a small female-type who made her appearance at 4 p.m. Monday.

Before the featured speaker, Midland Athletic Director T. L. "Tugboat" Jones could get started on his address, Steer senior Joel Felous delivered a message to him at the podium. "Mr. Jones: Please make your speech short," the note said. "I have a real interesting date."

Jones told how he motivated his Wichita Falls team to a victory over favored Vernon in 1944. "They said we couldn't win, so I got some little thumbtacks and sprinkled them in the hallway at our hotel and then told our boys to come in. They were stepping all over the tacks and I said, 'Look at that, you see what we're up against. Anybody that'd do a thing like that... I felt real bad about that — couldn't sleep for a long time. But we won, 26-25.'"

Junior letterman Kyle Neighbors presented line Coach Bob Glover with a gift — a plastic oar, for some reason that's still unexplained, and a copy of the book "How To Win Friends and Influence People."

Army's Fate Up To Smith

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Homer Smith took over as Army's new football coach Tuesday and promptly tackled the task of trying to restore the Cadets' lost gridiron luster.

Although Smith's official introduction was not due until today, word of his appointment leaked out late Monday night. The 42-year-old coach spent much of Tuesday having his picture taken by West Point photographers and filling in the information department on his background.

He then, huddled with the assistant coaches who served under Tom Cahill last season but there was no immediate announcement on whether any of them would be retained. Cahill was dismissed as coach following a disastrous 10-10 season — worst in Army history. The decision to drop him apparently was made following a season-ending 51-0 rout at the hands of arch-rival Navy.

As an assistant on Pepper Rodgers' UCLA staff the last two years, Smith installed the Bruins' awesome wishbone attack, which led the nation in rushing last fall with an average of 400.3 yards per game.

NEW YORK (AP) — To the surprise of practically nobody, the Dallas Cowboys drafted Tennessee State's Ed Jones — and with an equal amount of surprise, the big defensive lineman's first play was to throw the World Football League for a bit of a loss.

The tension was nonexistent Tuesday as Commissioner Pete Rozelle called the National Football League's annual body count — the draft — to order. Houston had the worst record last season — but Dallas, thanks to a trade, had the Oilers' first-round pick, mainly No. 1.

"There was never any question about him being No. 1," Cowboys' scouting chief Gil Brandt said in Dallas, moments after he'd directed the team's representatives on the phone in New York to write Jones' name on the draft card.

The Detroit team of the infant WFL had written Jones' name on its card a week ago — although it obviously figured it was just going through the motions. The WFL didn't go for him until the end of the third

JONES LIKES NFL OVER WORLD GROUP

Cowboys' Pick Was No Surprise

round. And Jones made it pretty obvious that he didn't go for the WFL.

"I prefer to play in the NFL," the 6-foot-9, 260-pounder nicknamed "Too Tall" said at a news conference in Dallas moments after his name had kicked off the draft. In fact, he'll be the tallest lineman in the NFL next season. And there's little doubt that he'll be on the line when the campaign begins.

After Jones was picked, the drama picked up just a bit — but not the tempo. It took 3 1/2 hours for the 26 selections of Round One to be made, the longest it's taken since the 4:16 of the first NFL-AFL combined draft of 1967.

The first day's action didn't end until 9:02 p.m. with the completion of the fifth round. That left 12 rounds — 312 of the 442 players up for grabs — for today.

Running backs accounted for a high 23 of the 75 offensive players taken Tuesday and San Diego took the first of them. The Chargers, No. 2 in the order, went for Colorado's 228-pound Bo Matthews. The New York Giants, whose 2-11-1 record equalled San Diego's but who lost the coin flip for the chance to go No. 2, didn't lose anything. They wanted John Hicks and they got the Oakland Trophy-winning two-time All-American offensive tackle from Ohio State.

Chicago took Tennessee State linebacker Raymond Bryant, Baltimore picked Nebraska defensive tackle John Dutton, the New York Jets went for another defensive tackle in Indiana's Carl Barzilauskas; tight end J.V. Cain of Colorado went to St. Louis. Detroit took Penn State linebacker Ed O'Neil, San Francisco used its two first-round picks to take Alabama running back Wilbur Jackson and UCLA defensive tackle Bill Sandifer. Penn State's John Cappelletti, the Heisman Trophy-winning running back, was taken by Los Angeles.

On and on it went. There were hardly any surprises, except perhaps that, for the first time since the NFL began drafting players in 1936, none of the teams opted for a quarterback in the first round... or the second one, either.

Danny White was the first to go. At the start of the third round, the Cowboys took the Arizona State passer, picked in the second round by Chicago of the WFL and chosen earlier this month by baseball's Houston Astros.

"Baseball is still very much in the picture," White said. "Chicago might afford a more immediate chance to play but Dallas is an established organization with a good reputation." David Jaynes, Kansas' quarterback and the No. 1 pick by Memphis of the WFL, finally went midway in the NFL's third round, selected by the Kansas City Chiefs.

On and on it went... but not without a few interesting moments.

In the first round, for example, Detroit traded its pick — No. 13 over-all — and center Dave Thompson to New Orleans for the Saints' first-round choice — No. 8 in the order.

The Lions used No. 8 to grab O'Neil. But when No. 13 — apparently belonging to New Orleans — came around, the Lions hollered foul. The trade had involved only Thompson, not their draft pick, they said.

Rozelle ruled in favor of the Saints, who took Ohio State linebacker Rick Middleton. And Rozelle said the situation would be open to post-draft review.

There was an in-draft review, too, when Washington, which has a thing about unloading draft choices, tossed three of them to San Diego in return for veteran guard Walt Sweeney.

The review was by the NFL brass — which very carefully checked its books to make sure actually owned the choices he was unloading.

But the highlight — for just about everybody in the big room, anyway — came at the end of round No. 5 when Miami took 4 1/2 minutes to choose linebacker Cleveland Vann of Oklahoma State. If the Dolphins had used 1 1/2 minutes it would've been 8:59 p.m. and a sixth round — another hour or so — would have started. Instead, scout Doug Minner, on the phone in Miami, purposely dawdled for a few precious minutes, it became 9:02 p.m. and everybody breathed a sigh of relief and prepared to go home.

West Captures NHL Star Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Garry Unger had three employers Tuesday night and he did a little good for all of them.

The immediate beneficiary of Unger's work were the National Hockey League's West All-Stars, whom he led to a 6-4 comeback victory over the East in the NHL's annual All-Star game.

The less direct beneficiaries were the St. Louis Blues and the Dodge Motor Co., for whom Unger works the other 364 days of the year.

Unger set up a key West goal and scored another while his team was short-handed to win the game's Most Valuable Player award. The prize, it turned out, was a Dodge compact, which gives him four Dodges — a truck, a convertible and a sports model are the others.

For a while, it looked like the celebrants might be from Montreal as Yvan Cournoyer, the Canadiens' swift and compact right wing who does not work for Dodge, set up a goal by teammate Frank Mahovlich then scored himself to give the East a 2-0 lead at the end of the first period.

But Bob Berry of Los Angeles took a pass from Stan Mikita of Chicago to cut the deficit to 2-1 at 5:59 of the second period. Al McDougough of Atlanta tied it from a scramble around the East net at 13:55, and Lowell MacDonald of Pittsburgh tipped in a shot by Barclay Plager of St. Louis with 53 seconds left to give the West a 3-2 lead.

With two minutes gone in the third period, Chicago's Bill White kept the puck in the East zone and pushed it forward to Unger. The St. Louis center swooped behind the net, drawing two Easterners with him, then shoveled the puck to Chicago's Stan Mikita, who rammed it past goalie Dave Dryden of Buffalo.

Five minutes later, with Plager sitting out a holding penalty, Mikita stopped an East rush, passed the puck to White, who pushed it to Unger, and Unger fired the disc past Dryden.

The East rallied on goals by Denis Potvin of the New York Islanders and Mickey Redmond of Detroit, but Pit Martin of Chicago scored with 47 seconds left to clinch it for the West and give them their second win against three losses and a tie in the East vs. West All-Star series.

Forsan Queens Score Big Win; Buffs Pound Bearkats

FORSAN—The Forsan Buffalo Queens scored a crucial Dist. 11-B victory Tuesday, knocking off loop leader Garden City 43-36 and setting up a likely second half tie.

In the boys game Tuesday, Forsan rode Landon Soles' 21 points to a 71-52 decision, evening their league standing at 1-1.

Forsan must now defeat Water Valley next Tuesday to gain a tie for the second half title, while Garden City has to win over Bronte to share the crown. If there is a tie, a coin flip will decide which team will meet first half champ Greenwood.

The Queens went on top of Garden City by 41-30 with 6:13 left in the game and then began to stall. Brenda Cowley hit 18 points, including five of five field goals in the second half, to spark the Queens to their 18th season win against eight losses.

Beverly Strickland contributed 13 points and Janet Ellis 12 in the win. The team is now 4-1 in the second round.

While Becky Hirt was breaking loose for 24 points for the Garden City girls, the Forsan defense was holding normally explosive Linda Batla and Debra Plagens to just four points apiece. Theresa Walls, Ginger Dittmore, Sylvia Holguin and Dorothy Banks were the Queens' guards.

Soles had offensive help from David Crooks, with 18 points, and Ralph Miranda with 10 as the Buffaloes jumped their season standing to 18-4.

The hosts led at the half, 36-22, and went up by 56-34 after three quarters. For Garden City, now 0-2 in the second half, David Smith threw in 21 points and Charles Puga hit 15.

Riches Await Ali, Foreman

NEW YORK (AP) — Muhammad Ali's victory over Joe Frazier, which the winner said saved boxing's life, was worth $2.6 million to Ali. His next transmutation to the sport could be worth $5 million.

Five million dollars — that's what promoter Bob Arum said Ali and world heavyweight champion George Foreman each could earn for fighting each other.

Arum, the president of Top Rank, Inc., and Ali's attorney said at a Tuesday news conference, about 12 hours after Ali's decision win over Frazier, said he could not be specific about an Ali-Foreman match.

"There'll be a fight when George Foreman tells us he wants to fight," said Arum.

"If he wants a shot, I'll give him one," said Ali, the self-proclaimed heavyweight champion of the people.

There is little doubt that Ali and Foreman will meet. Some insiders think it might even be this year despite the tax problems it could cause. However, Ali is 32 years old, while Foreman is only 24, and time is running out on Ali.

A source close to Arum mentioned Madison Square Garden as the likely site.

Teddy Brenner, president of Madison Square Garden, has started beating the drums for an Ali-Jerry Quarry fight.

Quarry has won five fights since coming out of a brief retirement but has already lost twice to Ali.

"Jerry Quarry is the great white hope," said Ali. "I'd like to shut him up once and for all."

Truckers Protesting, Windshields Shot Out

By The Associated Press

Windshields were shot out of three trucks near Youngstown, Ohio, Tuesday night as independent truckers continued their protests against soaring fuel prices.

But elsewhere in the nation, there were few reports of trucker protests as the deadline drew near for a nationwide shutdown urged by independent truckers.

The trade magazine "Overdrive" and newly organized truckers' groups scattered across the nation have called for a shutdown at midnight tonight, lasting until the federal government alleviates the fuel problem.

It was unknown how many truckers would participate in the shutdown, but Mike Parkhurst, editor of Overdrive, estimated that 99 per cent of the nation's 100,000 independent truckers would stop work.

There have been protests and occasional violence in Ohio the past eight days. Picketing or shutdowns occurred intermittently in New Jersey, Oklahoma and western Pennsylvania earlier in the week, but by Tuesday night and early today the protests centered in Ohio and along the Eastern-Virginia border.

Some oil companies said threats of violence have cut down fuel oil deliveries to eastern Ohio.

A spokesman for Standard Oil Co. of Ohio said deliveries to some points have been irregular because of possible violence.

He said the protesters follow trucks out of the Niles terminal, pull the drivers over and persuade them by threats to return to the terminal without making their deliveries.

Job Trek Could Be Unsuccessful

Alyeska Pipeline Service Company has sounded a warning to individuals who have a notion to hurry to Alaska in search of pipeline jobs.

As many as 600 persons have come to Alaska monthly seeking the non-existent jobs. The rate has stepped up since President Nixon signed the Trans Alaska Pipeline Authorization Act.

"The truth is that construction has not begun, and none will begin until many outstanding legal and administrative hurdles are crossed," said John F. Ratterman, head of public affairs for Alyeska.

When remaining obstacles are worked out, contracts will be let to construction companies who will do the hiring, not Alyeska. Meantime, Ratterman reminded would-be workers to have a job before they embark on a trip to Alaska for "the unemployment rate in Alaska is the highest in the nation; the winters are the longest and most severe. Furthermore, there is an Alaska law giving job preference to Alaskans."

CINCY PHONE USERS Cheery Greeting To Cost 20 Cents

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — "Dire toy assistance, may I help you?"

That cheery greeting will soon cost 20 cents, Cincinnati Bell told its customers Tuesday.

The telephone company says too many people just don't take the time to look up a telephone number that's in the directories. Instead, they call the information operator.

So, starting March 3, every customer gets three free information calls a month. After that, it's 20 cents for every number you don't look up. Cincinnati Bell said the charge was necessary because 22 per cent of its customers, mainly business firms, make 87 per cent of the calls to operators seeking telephone numbers. Of those calls, 78 per cent of the numbers are in telephone directories.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio approved the charge last August. The charge is expected to net $1.2 million annually.

Physically handicapped persons, including the blind, can be exempted from the charge by submitting a form signed by a physician.

'American Graffiti' Is Cleverly Put Together

By DAVID CARREN

"American Graffiti" is one of the best Hollywood films produced last year and it will be showing at the R70 starting today.

Filed on location in small California towns, "Graffiti" is director George Lucas' look at his own 1962 and at what the rock-n-roll era meant to America. Assembling a fine cast which included Ronnie Howard, Richard Dreyfuss and Charles Martin Smith, Lucas created a world of wild cars (over 200 pre-1962 cars were rented for production), sock hops and "happenings."

But the essence of Graffiti is decision-making — Howard's and Dreyfuss's. One decides to marry a girlfriend and lose himself in small town life. The other decides to marry his future and face future challenges. By showing the agony of such decisions for these characters and their close friends, Lucas is making a statement about the America of 1962 which has solid meaning for the America of 1974.

Lucas makes his film succeed through graphically recreating the street life of 1962 — an era of youths cruising aimlessly in souped-up cars looking for excitement, romance or meaning in their lives. By showing us a small part of this vain search during one wild night in a 1962 town, Lucas is illustrating the roots of America's present search for identity, peace of mind and security. In some ways, all of Lucas' characters find these or at least think they do, and certainly their searches are often hilarious enough.

One will not soon forget Dreyfuss' run-in with the Pharaohs, a "vicious" street gang that are Easter bunnies compared to today's trouble-makers, or Smith's fracas with a poor man's Marilyn Monroe. Then there's the Chinese Fire Drill, car races, "contacts" and other events crowding the street sequences. "American Graffiti" is rich in detail building the claustrophobic, almost maniacal world of the late '50's and early '60's. Maybe the reason audiences have turned-out to Luca's world is because it is so obviously, mindlessly hopeful and even happy — elements not so prevalent in today's world. While Lucas' world is true to itself, it also offers us nostalgia tinged with pleasant pain.
