NIXON CONSOLES CHOTINER DAUGHTER — President Nixon consoles Julie Chotiner, daughter of Murray M. Chotiner, after attending funeral services for his longtime friend and political adviser. Chotiner, 64, died last Wednesday, a week after he was injured in an automobile accident.

All-Time High Budget Unfurled By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today laid out his record 304.4-billion budget for fiscal 1975 but promptly pledged to exceed it if the energy crisis throws too many Americans out of work.

Unlike his hard-nosed budget of a year ago in which dozens of programs were targets for extinction or cutback, Nixon fastened his attention on the danger of a recession induced by the fuel shortage.

BUST IT

"The President will not tolerate a recession," Deputy Budget Director Frederic Malek told reporters. "If it means busting the budget, he will bust the budget to keep people from losing their jobs."

The budget arithmetic, already disclosed last week, shows a deficit of $9.4 billion, about double the deficit for the current financial year. It shows an all-time high defense budget of $85.8 billion, and an over-all spending increase of $29.8 billion over the last budget.

For the first time in history, federal spending for income security for needy Americans — primarily Social Security, public assistance and health aid — tops $100 billion, a jump of about $15 billion over fiscal 1974.

NO NEW TAXES

Nixon proposed no new taxes, except for the windfall-profits levy he offered in December to keep the oil companies from profiteering on the energy crisis. It could bring in $3 billion.

As he has announced before, Nixon proposed billions for energy research to find new sources of fuel for Americans; new funds for mass-transit systems, wrapped in a special revenue-sharing program, and a large increase in aid to college students.

Nixon said his budget, which amounts to almost $1,500 for every man, woman and child in the nation, walks a tightrope of moderate economic restraint.

"In the face of economic uncertainty, my budget recommendations provide for a fiscal policy that would support high employment while restraining inflation," he said.

DOOR OPEN

His budget officials left the door open for increasing spending or cutting taxes to create jobs lost through the energy crisis.

The standby spending program could include accelerated federal construction or procurement, public-service jobs in high jobless areas, or even higher Social Security benefits, Malek said.

Just as the budget was unveiled, the Housing and Urban Development Department disclosed plans to provide subsidies for tenants in 118,000 more public housing units, thus providing some stimulus to the depressed housing market.

Although the amount of new federal spending for additional subsidies in fiscal 1975 is small, budget officials said this was the first example of the type of moves Nixon will make to stimulate the economy if needed.

As much as $5 billion more in federal funds could be infused into the economy if needed to prevent a recession, Malek said.

Nixon's new spending program is greatly affected by inflation, some of it in higher fuel costs to the government.

Narcotics Agents Arrest Two Men

Cecilio de la Acosta, 44, and Francisco Salas Ortega, 33, both of Marathon, were arrested by narcotics agents from the Department of Public Safety at Panther Junction at 12:05 a.m. Sunday.

The two men were charged with sale and possession of marijuana, and following the obtaining of a search warrant, some $19,500 was confiscated from the two men.

This was the same $19,500 found near Big Spring last week. The arrests were made through the result of a four-day follow-up on the incident where a Georgia man was arrested at Colorado City charged with driving under the influence of drugs.

The money was found near Latan Road next to the railroad by Det. Avery Falkner of the Big Spring Police.

The arrest at Panther Junction was made as a result of the four-day investigation by narcotics division of the Department of Public Safety with the cooperation of the DPS investigative service, the federal drug enforcement agency at Alpine, the U.S. Border Patrol, the Mitchell County Sheriff's office and the Big Spring police. The money has been turned over to the Internal Revenue Service for further investigation.

Format Of Program Will Be Repeated

Enough people enjoyed the Chamber of Commerce's unusual meeting Friday night (Country Western singers Leroy Van Dyke and Susan Haney were presented instead of the usual banquet), that the event may be repeated next year, said the Chamber's manager, Ron Mercer.

"We will have a similar program next year. Some members of the board of directors were enthused with this year's event. I didn't receive any bad comments after the meeting. The board of officers may recommend a similar program for early next January," Mercer said Monday.

Over 1100 tickets were sold to this year's annual meeting. Besides Country Western Music, the meeting featured the induction of the new Chamber president, Ralph McLaughlin, a presentation to last year's president, Gordon McAlister, and four more presentations to local citizens.

"This virus going around hurt attendance. We broke even. I would imagine next year's meeting to be an entertainment program with music of some nature. I just don't know what type yet."

Train Service For Dallas

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Rep. Alan Steelman announced today the Amtrak board has approved the start of Amtrak passenger train service through Dallas beginning March 13.

The Dallas Republican said the trains will run from St. Louis through Texarkana, Marshall, Longview, Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio and Laredo.

Judge Shouts His Innocence

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Cameron County Judge Ray Ramon shouted his innocence today at his trial in which he is accused of conspiring to murder a county commissioner.

Defense lawyer Joe Waal Walsh asked Ramon pointedly if he had plotted to murder.

"No, sir," Ramon said in a near shout.

A $5,000 a year, five-year contract for lease of a landfill site was discussed in County Commissioners Court this morning.

Kent Morgan specified this fee for use of land across from the present dump grounds.

"That's his first offer," County Judge A. G. Mitchell said. "That seems awful high to me," Mitchell commented.

"Then again, you move a quarter of a mile up the road and you eat that up on trucks."

It costs 50 cents per mile traveled by city trucks, James Campbell, city director of public works, said.

Dumping at the northside site, which will not be used now, was priced at $100 monthly, compared to the $415 Morgan wants, Campbell said.

But Campbell advocated a fairly permanent site. "Mr. Morgan's property could last us from now on," Campbell said.

City and county officials planned to continue discussion of the landfill site this afternoon.

Mitchell appointed Commissioners Simon (Cy) Terrazas and Jack Buchanan to represent the county.

Consideration of a request for more pay submitted by Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr. ended without action this morning.

"The elected officials are drawing $5,000 more a year than TRUCK BLOCKADE — Ten trucks blockaded Rip Griffin's Truck Stop from 1:30 a.m. Sunday until they were requested to leave at 7:30 p.m. Only service available at Rip's Sunday was wash and grease jobs.

Locally, Truck Strike Is Started, Ended In Hurry

The truck strike came and went within 24 hours in Big Spring.

(See Stories, Page 6-A)

Truckers from Big Spring and Sweetwater blockaded the pumps at Rip Griffin's Truck Stop at 1:30 a.m. Sunday and remained until they were requested to leave at 7:30 p.m.

Joe Wofford of Lubbock, overall manager requested the truckers to leave after he spent the day contacting a number of independent truckers to learn their desires.

"We are sympathetic with the truckers and their problems," Wofford said here this morning.

"This is why we allowed the blockade in the first place. We cannot survive unless the truckers survive," Wofford added.

WRONG ROUTE?

However, this appears to be the wrong route of appeal. Truck blockades are not going to force Washington officials to cut back the price of crude oil, because they cannot. Many independent truckers have already appealed to state regulatory agencies, the state railroad commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission for relief increases. They probably all are going to have to use this route of appeal," Wofford said.

VIOLATES LAW

"Actually we were concerned for the truckers involved because they are our friends. They are actually violating a federal law when they hamper the movement of Interstate Commerce," the manager stated.

The manager added, "The truckers were disappointed when I announced our decision on the phone about 6:30 p.m. but they abided by it and cleared the station by 7:30 p.m."

The ten trucks blocking the pumps were from Big Spring and Sweetwater, with one truck labeled "Big Mother" sitting in front of the main pumps.

Lee Carroll Pugh of Sweetwater, spokesman for the truckers here, said at 5 p.m. Sunday, "We hope to stay until they do something in Washington to help us. At least we have gotten their attention."

Pugh said that the Petrofina Truck Stop officials had requested that the truckers not block their station due to their obligations to motor freight lines. Shortly after 5 p.m. they were fueling trucks loaded with cattle and reported that their Sunday afternoon business had been "normal."

In Colorado City, Fuller's Truck Stop was blocked around midnight Friday and remained blocked at 11 a.m. today.

SIMILAR THOUGHTS

Less Fuller of Fuller's said "I didn't want to fuss with them" but added thoughts similar to Wofford's, "I believe they are protesting the wrong things and should be trying to get higher freight rates."

Conrad's Truck Stop in Colorado City remained open and still had diesel fuel as of 11 a.m. today.

Truckers throughout the state yesterday demanded a action from the governor, Gov. Dolph Briscoe's special assistant on energy, James Rose, sent them word that a Washington official had promised a measure of relief. Rose said the chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, William Usery, told him truckers will be allowed to add to their charges the raises in the price of their diesel fuel since last May.

With 300 or more big trucks halted around Lone Star and Longview in East Texas alone, Bill Gentry, a spokesman for the striking independent drivers, said he knew about such park-ins from Los Angeles, Nashville and "it's spreading fast."

To a question about how long he thought the truckers would stay idle in support of their demands, Gentry said, "I don't have any idea, but it'll be as long as it takes."

Republicans Will Offer Candidates In 3 Races

Two local Republicans entered the race for county posts today, the filing deadline for state, district and county offices.

Jerry Worthy is seeking the position of county judge and Paul Shaffer filed for commissioner in Precinct 2. (Their official announcement appears elsewhere in the paper.)

Seeking the nomination for county judge in the Democratic Primary is the incumbent, A. G. Mitchell, and Bill Tune.

Running for commissioner of Precinct 2 on the Democratic ticket are the incumbent, Bill Bennett, along with Bill Chrene and Ike Rupard.

Seeking the position of commissioner of Precinct 4 are the incumbent, Jack Buchanan and Merle Stroup.

In the district clerk's race, incumbent Fern Cox is opposed by Peggy Crittenden. For state legislator, the incumbent Renal Rosson did not seek re-election. Democratic candidates include Glenn Toombs, of Gail and Mike Ezell of Snyder. On the Rose relayed his word from Washington after meeting in Austin at his state Capitol office Sunday with Dale Bays of Fort Worth, president of the Texas chapter of the United Truckers of America, and Bays' wife Ginger, the chapter's executive secretary.

Accompanied by trucker Tommy Thompson and his wife Janice of Mesquite, the Bays told Rose and other aides of the governor that truckers are being ruined by spiraling diesel and other costs plus lowered speed limits.

"The American truck has run out of time," Mrs. Bays asserted. "Our keys are out of our trucks. We're not going any farther."

Gentry said truck stops in Texas were closed at El Paso, Sierra Blanca, Pecos, Monahans, Midland, Merkel, Abilene, Dallas, Rockwall, Paris, Winfield, Longview and Lone Star.

The Bays and the Thompsons said on a trip from Dallas to Austin they saw only one place to buy diesel fuel.

Republican ticket, Rich Anderson of Borden County is also seeking this post.

For state senator on the democratic ticket, the incumbent did not run and Charles Fennell and Ray Farabee are seeking the position with Mary Virginia Kirkoff running on the Republican ticket.

Still unopposed at 11 a.m. today was Margaret Ray for county clerk, Pauline Petty, the present clerk, plans to retire at the end of her term. Gus Ochotorena was running for Justice of the Peace, Pct. 1, Pct. 2, and will be opposed by Blaz Ballom. Frances Glenn was unopposed for county treasurer and Mrs. Lulu Adams for Justice of the Peace, Pct. 2.

Judge Ralph W. Caton thus far is unopposed in his campaign for reelection as district judge, 118 Judicial District. Caton is campaigning as a Democrat.

Omar Burleson, Democrat, is running unopposed for the office of U. S. congressman, 17th District.

CELEBRATING 50 YEARS OF SERVICE TO GOD AND MAN
Rev. Louis Moeller, Rev. Theo Francis, honoree; J. Arnold Marshall

Father Francis Honored For Service To Church

Theo Francis may have felt his decision to heed God's call to the ministry and leave his homeland in Northern Germany for the raw stretches of a rugged Texas was his greatest challenge of faith.

If so, he had reckoned without Big Spring. Five years after his ordination as a priest, he stood ankle deep in a flooded basement of St. Thomas Catholic church, peered from broken windows of the church he had come to serve as first fulltime priest — and wept.

But with the Lord's help and the people's, he made it. Twice after that he was to return to Big Spring as priest, and Sunday hundreds of former parishioners and other friends joined to honor him on the occasion of the Golden Anniversary of his ordination.

The Rev. Louis Moeller, pastor of Immaculate Heart of Mary, paid tribute to Fr. Francis in the sermon, recounting that his private devotions and prayers for his people represented something like five years, and that when the masses, the confessions, the sermons, and the innumerable other priestly duties were included, the hours of service during his 50 years of ministry were astronomical. As a chaplain, he observed, Fr. Francis now has entered upon "his third lifetime of service."

Fr. Francis had filled well the role of a specially called servant of God, he said, of teacher, or preacher, of intercessor, and a constant loving shepherd of his flock, wherever it might be.

Following the mass, with communion in which Fr. Francis presided along with Fr. Moeller and visiting priests Fr. Ed Couch and Fr. John Sokolski of the Oblate of Mary Immaculate at San Antonio, Fr. Francis administered the blessing of St. Blas for all in the church.

Further honors were heaped upon Fr. Francis in the reception and dinner following in the parish cafeteria. J. Arnold Marshall, former mayor and long-time friend, served as master of ceremonies and paid tributes to Fr. Francis. He related Fr. Francis' shock at his arrival at St. Thomas Church here in 1929, confiding that the young priest had kept his suitcase packed in his basement make-shift apartment. However, the congregation provided a rectory. Later, when the church was remodeled, Rev. Francis "borrowed" the bell from the East Third Baptist Church, which was being demolished, and made a deal for it later.

Members of the parish gave him a money tree, presented by Sam and Jennifer Ross, children of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Ross. The sisters had constructed a 50th Anniversary banner with Fr. Francis' anniversary message, "What Return Shall I Make?" Members of his first altar society at St. Thomas — Mary Jenkins, Kathleen Williams, Louis Dehlinger, Mary Bridges, Louise Jayes — were represented in the program.

Before he cut the anniversary cake, Fr. Francis distributed personally autographed anniversary cards, a "Remembrance to Almighty God" and to the Congregation of Oblate Mary Immaculate of 50 years of priestly service.

Among visiting priests were the Rev. James Dulaney, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church which Fr. Francis established in two homes, and the Rev. Ron Marlow, Midland. Visiting ministers were Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, minister emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. Carroll Kole, St. Paul Lutheran Church, and Chaplain A. C. Hicks of the VA Hospital. There were guests present from several of the parishes where Rev. Francis had served over the years, plus many from various Big Spring congregations.

JPs (in the courthouse) are, with the exception of commissioners," Ochotorena said. Ochotorena wanted $50 more pay and $50 more car allowance monthly.

He and Peace Justice Walter Grice both make $6,480 yearly, including $600 for car allowance.

(This $600 car allowance is lumped with salary for Grice) Couples pay varying amounts for marriages sometimes, and Ochotorena mentioned $10 paid for holding an inquest.

Peace justices must be available for inquests and bond settings at all hours, Ochotorena said.

"We make a lot of trips down here at night," Ochotorena said. Of the Police Department, he said: "They're just not going to call us if (now) they've got to pay us."

"I think that's (salary) the reason I haven't got an opponent right now," Ochotorena said. (Blaz Ballon later announced his candidacy for the position held by Ochotorena.)

Other business included: —Signing the delinquent tax record approval certificate. —Accepting a road easement for a road which would connect IS-20 to Midway Road.

Merle Robinson Higgonbotham granted 2.21 acres of 60-foot right of way. Commissioner Bill Bennett presented this request for a county road.

—Approving purchase of a 250-gallon butane tank requested by Buchanan for the Center Point Community Center.

—Okaying a request for a vending machine.

—And setting dates for the board of equalization to convene. They are June 26 and 27 for real estate and June 28 for oil properties.

Paul Shaffer Candidate For Precinct Two Post

Paul L. Shaffer, local businessman and general contractor, has announced that he is a candidate for the office of county commissioner, Precinct 2, subject to the May 4 Republican primary election.

PAUL SHAFFER

Shaffer is a native of Big Spring. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shaffer. His father was a former T&P Railroad conductor who died in 1964. Paul was born in Big Spring in 1930 and attended Big Spring public schools. He was graduated from Big Spring High School in June 1948. He continued his education at Texas A&M University studying architectural construction and was graduated in June 1953.

Upon graduation from Texas A&M, he was commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant in the United States Air Force and was assigned as installation engineer at Dobbins Air Force Base, Ga. He completed his military service in 1955 and returned to Big Spring.

Shaffer has been very busy in the construction business with A. P. Kasch and Son, Rose Construction Company and Kasch Brothers Inc. of Big Spring.

In 1971, Shaffer, Hayes Stripling and Harold Jones formed a partnership and went into business. They developed Chararral Mobile Home Park and went into mobile home sales and service. In late 1973, the partnership formed Chaparral Contractors, a franchise contractor and builder of Delta steel buildings.

Shaffer married Rosie Parks in 1952. They have two sons, Pete, 20, and a sophomore at Howard College, and Bob, 17, a senior at Big Spring High School. The family resides at 611 Highland Drive.

Shaffer has been very busy in the construction business for the past 20 years, but has remained active in civic affairs. He served as co-captain of the Big Spring Quarterback Club in 1970 and president of the Big Spring A&M Club. He is a Methodist and an avid sports fan.

Shaffer said, "I was asked by many of our local citizens to offer myself as a candidate. Howard county and Big Spring is my home and I am vitally interested in seeing it grow and prosper. I feel my business and contracting experience will help me in service to our citizens if elected. I pledge to do my best for everyone in the county. I would sincerely appreciate your vote and influence."

Teenagers Hurt In Wreck Here

Four teenagers received minor injuries in a two-car collision at 1:23 a.m., Sunday on the service road near Rip Griffin's Truck Stop north of town.

Geraldine Yingst of Ackerly, was driver of a car that collided with a vehicle driven by Clifford C. Crow, 18, of Gail Road. Mrs. Yingst was issued a citation for failure to yield.

Crow and three passengers, Salena Pace, 15, of 2603 Carlton, Curtis Howard, 19, and Judy Howard, 16, both of Lenorah, all went to Medical Center emergency room for treatment of cuts and bruises. Mrs. Yingst also received minor injuries.

The accident occurred just as the truck blockade was getting under way at Rip's.

Worthy Candidate For County Judge

Jerry Worthy, local businessman, has filed for the office of county judge. He filed for a place on the ballot of the May 4 Republican primary election.

Worthy is a native Texan. He attended Teague Public Schools and was graduated from Teague High School in 1946. He attended Baylor University and was graduated in 1950 with a BBA degree in Economics.

Worthy joined the United States Air Force as an airman in 1951 and volunteered for flight training. He was later commissioned as an officer after he earned his wings at Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock. While stationed at Reese, he made many friends in Big Spring. After combat training in the B-29, he was assigned to the Korea war zone where he flew 24 combat missions.

In 1955, Worthy completed his air force service and moved to Big Spring and went to work for West-Tex Oil Company the Shell Oil Company jobber. In 1956, Worthy married Louise Ann Bennett, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Bennett.

In 1958, Worthy formed his own construction company. He has been a Builder and Developer, and one of his developments is the Crestwood Mobile Home Park. He sold Crestwood in 1972.

The Worthys have three children — Ann 16, Jeb, 14, and Roy, 12. They live on a cotton farm on Gall Route.

Worthy has been active in many civic endeavors. He is one of the founders and the first president of the Heritage Museum of Howard County. He presently is serving as president of the industrial team and is a member of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation. Worthy is president of the Air Force Association, local chapter, and is a past director of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and the Big Spring YMCA. Past President Rotary Club. He is an Episcopalian, a Mason E.A. and a member of the Elks.

In making his announcement, Worthy said, "Having been active in civic affairs for many years, I have decided to offer myself for greater public service. I have been asked by many of my friends and associates to seek the office of county judge.

I feel there are areas where I may help achieve greater progress for our county. I am not a politician; but I am interested in good county government and I will do my best to serve all of our citizens."

Pensioners Are Asked To Return Income Data

The Veterans Administration has urged veterans, widows and parents to promptly return income questionnaires received last November, even though the Jan. 15, deadline has passed.

"Each year, thousands miss the deadline because questionnaires are misplaced, forgotten or lost, causing interruptions or delays of monthly benefits checks," Jack Coker, Waco VA regional office director, explained.

"We noted that 907,000 of the 1.2 million questionnaires mailed were returned to VA before the deadline. Information from the questionnaires is required to adjust pension benefits. Pensioners 72 years old or older who have been on pension rolls during the last two consecutive years generally are exempt.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Schools in the Southwestern United States deny equal educational opportunities to Mexican-American pupils through discriminatory practices, the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights said today.

The commission cited a "systematic failure of the educational process" in Arizona, California, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas schools which "not only ignores the educational needs of Chicano students but also suppresses their culture and stifles their hopes and ambitions."

PLACED BLAME
Findings of the commission were made public in Los Angeles and in San Antonio, Tex., in a report which marks the end of a five-year study of the problem.

The document is called "Toward Quality Education for Mexican-Americans."

The panel said that Mexican-American children are held back a grade at more than twice the rate for white pupils; are overrepresented in low ability classes and underrepresented in classes for children of high ability, and are two and a half times as likely as white pupils to be assigned to classes for the mentally retarded.

Part of the blame for school discrimination was laid to a scarcity of Mexican-Americans as school board members, superintendents, teachers and other professional staff members.

INFLUENCE
Most of the panel's recommendations were aimed at state governments, but the document said the federal government "can strongly influence those institutions which are more directly involved."

"Through firm enforcement of the constitutional and legislative requirements of equal educational opportunity and through the persuasive leverage of its programs of financial assistance for education, the federal government can significantly help bring about educational change in the Southwest," the report said.

The committee made 51 recommendations in its 269-page report and said all of them were based on these underlying principles:

1. The language, history, and culture of Mexican-Americans should be incorporated as parts of the educational process.

2. Mexican-Americans should be fully represented in decision-making positions that determine or influence educational policies and practices.

ONE IN FIVE
All levels of government should reorder their budget priorities to implement the recommendations.

The report described Mexican-American children as the second largest minority group in the nation's schools, the largest such group in the five Southwestern states studied.

In the southwest, nearly one of every five children in the public schools is Mexican-American, the commission reported.

Dr. Stephen Horn, vice chairman of the panel, said these items are among the most important recommendations:

Departments of education in each of the five states should require that all instructional materials incorporate the language, history and culture of Mexican-Americans;

Formal and informal rules prohibiting the speaking of Spanish in the classroom or on school grounds must be eliminated;

BEHAVING
State legislatures should require districts to establish bill-

ingual education or other programs to impart English language skills to Chicanos;

State departments of education should prohibit grade retention, unless specific requirements relating to academic failure and emotional immaturity are met; prohibit long-term ability grouping; and restrict placement in classes for the mentally retarded to students who are deficient in both intellectual and adaptive behavior Mexican-Americans as teachers and counselors, and institutions training them should increase the number of Chicanos among both faculty and student body;

Teacher education institutions should incorporate information about Chicanos in their basic courses and assure that trainees do some teaching in schools which have Mexican-American pupils;

Data On Unemployed Is Being Compiled Locally

Taking an "if the mountain won't come to Mohammed" viewpoint, Howard College at Big Spring has five Mohammeds it is trying to take to the mountain of unemployed in the community.

Not only unemployed, but those who would like to improve their skills to allow them to find a better job or get a promotion, says Mrs. Mary Deats, director of the federally funded college manpower study.

Mrs. Deats has five specially trained college students who are helping her compile the data. She says someone will be available to take telephone calls from the unemployed in the community.

"You can call the college at 267-6311 and ask for the Manpower Needs Study or ask for Ext. 26 from 9:5 p.m. weekdays," she explains. "Or you can go by the Texas Employment Commission office from 1-5 p.m."

She says all information given is confidential and the respondent is under no obligation because of information given. Information asked will include: are you employed? What kind of work have you done in the past? What is your educational background? What kind of work are you interested in training for? If such a program were offered at Howard College, would you enroll?

This study is the second of a two-part research project funded through Texas Education Agency and covering a six-month span.

Employers were interviewed first to see what kinds of job positions were vacant in the community, and where the training needs were felt the most.

Second step is to locate the unemployed and those who wish job advancement or more skilled positions. This is the reason the college is making the present appeal for those needing jobs to respond.

Finally, once data is complete, the college will use its computer system to compile facts and see what training programs need to be started.

Interviews will be conducted by phone and in person at Texas Employment Commission until Feb. 8, Mrs. Deats said.

CRASH SNUFFS OUT SIX LIVES Guardman Finds His Wife Bound, Stabbed To Death

Despite a single traffic light violation crash snuffed out six lives, the number of traffic deaths in Texas during the weekend again ran well below the normal level in pre-gasoline shortage days.

Altogether there were 25 fatalities resulting from violence—13 on streets and roadways, 11 homicides and one in an industrial accident.

WORST ACCIDENT
The worst accident occurred early Saturday when a truck ran off Interstate 30 near New Boston in East Texas and hit a halted station wagon, killing six members of two Dallas families. Officers said the truck driver dozed at the wheel.

The victims were Barbara Zachery, 15; Allreda Zachery, 33; Lorene Zachery, 9; Beverly Zachery, 8; Juanita Zachery, 10; and Kevin Askew, 6, all of Dallas.

Officers said the driver, J. C. Zachery, 36, parked the vehicle to fix a flat tire about 3:15 a.m. and the occupants alighted. Eight others with him and the driver of the truck were uninjured.

These were among others dying violently: Wilbur E. McKenzie, 41, from the Dallas suburb of Mesquite was killed late Sunday night after stopping to change a flat tire on the Hawn Freeway. Officers said a delivery truck hit him beside the road. They held his driver for investigation of involuntary manslaughter.

Police said Charles Beverly, 31, of San Antonio was shot and killed on the city's east side Sunday night in an argument after another car struck his at an intersection. They charged Dave Samuel, 45, also of San Antonio, with murder.

ARREST SUSPECT
"Two young men died Sunday of injuries suffered the night before in a collision of a motorcycle they were riding and a car on the south side of Austin. They were Odell Jones, 21, of Austin, operator of the motorcycle, and Richard Crain, 26, of Kansas City, Kan.

Police said Thomas Galbraith went home after National Guard training Sunday and found his wife Vickie, 24, bound, beaten and stabbed to death in their Northeast Dallas home. Detectives arrested an unemployed building engineer several hours later at a hotel and held him without immediate charge.

James Parker, 37, was shot to death Saturday night in his Houston apartment. Police charged Tommy Henry Guinn, 33, with murder.

John Robert Frey, 17, of Houston was killed Sunday when his car crashed into a freeway guard rail there. He was alone in the car.

Dimple Marie Rivers, 28, of Houston was found dying Saturday on the Gulf Freeway. Her chest was crushed and her neck broken and she was an apparent hit-and-run victim, police said.

HIT BY TRUCK
Ralph Quinn, 69, of Greenville was killed early Sunday when he was hit by a truck. Officers said he was trying to cross Interstate 30 east of Greenville.

Robert M. Crow, 48, of Waco, died Saturday in a motorcycle-truck collision at China Springs, 10 miles north of Waco on Farm Road 1637.

Marvin Collins Jr., 18, of San Antonio died Sunday when he was shot in the back while riding his motorcycle on the city's southwest side. Witnesses told police a car followed Collins for a time before the shooting.

Gunfire killed Acevedo Trevino, 18, and seriously wounded Ernest Martinez, 14, during an argument on San Antonio's west side shortly after midnight Saturday. Several other youths were involved in the altercation, officers said.

Gilmore Sets Rebound Mark

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Artis Gilmore, Kentucky's king-sized center, now is the King of the Hill in the American Basketball Association in rebounding, but Colonels' Coach Babe McCarthy thinks he's still three years away from reaching his peak.

"Most players keep improving until they're 27," explained McCarthy after the 24-year-old Gilmore shattered the ABA rebounding record with 40 during the Colonels' 123-91 rout of the New York Nets Sunday before a season-high crowd of 14,516 at the Nassau Coliseum.

In Sunday's other ABA action, San Antonio beat Carolina 108-95. Indiana defeated Denver 111-102, and San Diego edged Virginia 107-104.

"Artis still has a lot of things to learn," said McCarthy. "Defensively, he has to learn to pick up his man more and not let him slip behind him. Offensively, he needs to practice his shooting and improve his moves."

"He is certainly not yet comparable offensively to Jabbar," added the Colonels' coach in a reference to Milwaukee's Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, considered the premiere center in the National Basketball Association — and in all of basketball. "But Artis has that opportunity if he can drive himself more."

For one game, however, Gilmore put on a brilliant effort. In addition to his 40 rebounds, he scored 21 points, blocked seven shots and had nine assists.

It was his fourth straight strong game in the past week, beginning with last Wednesday's ABA All-Star contest in Norfolk, Va., where the Colonels' 7-foot-2 center was named the outstanding player.

RECORD-MAKER — Artis Gilmore (53) of the Kentucky Colonels goes up for a basket Sunday night during an American Basketball Association contest with the New York Nets at Nassau Coliseum in Uniondale, N.Y. Gilmore, who hit 21 points, also brought down 40 rebounds during the game to smash the ABA rebounding record.

Stars Rap Track, Starter After Losses In Cleveland

By The Associated Press

Miler Marty Liquori has confirmed his suspicions about the track in Cleveland and sprinter Herb Washington did the same about the starter.

Both Liquori and Washington turned up losers in a track weekend hogged by the shotgun accomplishments of George Woods and Marin Sidler and some record shattering running by Francie Larrieu and the four-girl Atoms Track Club of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Liquori and Washington both lost their events in the Knights of Columbus meet in Cleveland. Liquori finished third in the 1,000 meters — won by Olympian Byron Dye in 2:09.7. Liquori was more than four seconds behind, timed in 2:13.8. "I just couldn't run these turns," he said. "It's an impossible track to run on."

Washington, the world indoor recordholder, pulled up in the 50-yard dash and did not finish, complaining that starter Charles Martin did not give him enough time to get set. The event was won by Tom Watley in 5.3.

Villanova's John Hartnett set a two-mile meet record at Cleveland, winning in 8:33.5 seconds. Olympic champion Dave Wottle took the mile in 4:03.9, barely edging Eamonn Coghlan of Villanova.

Woods shattered the world shotput mark for the second successive week, hurling the ball 70-feet, 4 1/2 inches in the Examiner Games at San Francisco Friday night. He became the first amateur to reach 70 feet indoors, and soared almost six inches past the mark he set a week earlier.

The next night, Woods won his specialty at the Albuquerque Jaycee Invitational, setting a meet record of 69-6 1/2. Later, the Atoms Club, composed of Michele McMillan, Cheryl Toussaint, Gale Fitzgerald and Brenda Nichols, won the women's one-mile relay in 3:47.5, almost a full second faster than the old record of 3:48.4 set by Sports International Track Club earlier this year.

The Atoms' victory avenged their only loss of last year, beating the Albuquerque Olympettes, who finished four seconds slower than the Brooklyn women.

Miss Larrieu, fired up by an enthusiastic crowd at the Seattle meet, battered her own world record for the mile. She was timed in 4:34.6 as the crowd chanted, "Larrieu, Larrieu."

TEXAS TECH VISITS BAYLOR, MUSTANGS

League-Leading Raiders Hit The Road

By The Associated Press

Is this the week the Southwest Conference basketball facts of life catch up with the Texas Tech Raiders? After all, nobody survives the chaos of the SWC schedule unscathed. Or do they?

The Red Raiders, defending SWC kingpins, take to the road against Southern Methodist and Baylor this weekend and should they sweep the pair it would put them on the backstretch with a big lead.

Tech is 6-0 while Texas owns the second spot with a 5-1 ledger. Baylor is alone in third place at 4-2.

Texas plays two games in the comfy confines of Gregory Gymnasium this week against Baylor and SMU.

WRANGLERS EYE 2ND WIN OVER HAWKS

Howard College Tries Odessa

The Howard College Hawks might be remembering back to a mid-November evening in Odessa tonight when the Hawks and Odessa College's Wranglers collided in a key Western Conference tussle.

It was the Wranglers who handed the HC cagers their first defeat of the year, 98-97, during the Odessa Chamber of Commerce Tournament — one of two losses on the Hawks' 30-game slate — and the local lads weren't happy about it.

But the Howard folks avenged that one with a 110-93 victory over OC in a loop game, and Hawk coach Harold Wilder thinks another triumph in tonight's 7:30 p.m. game would be just what the doctor ordered. The Big Springers closed out their non-conference play with an awesome 146-89 triumph over the Hardin-Simmons JVs

Thursday, and now comes eight straight WC games, with Clarendon, New Mexico JC and Amarillo waiting in line for a chance at the Hawks.

Guard Leroy Lumzy says the Hawks can finish out the year with the same touch that has led them to a 28-2 season standing, a No. 10 national ranking, a 104-point average and a 21-game winning streak. But it won't be a snap.

"We've got to stay together, work as a team and not get selfish. That's the way it's been all year — it's what's been keeping us going. That's what makes us different from last year, that and a lot of experience."

think about all the rest." Both Williams and Lumzy will be on the floor tonight, and joining them will be 6-7 Thomas Bledsoe, who sat out Thursday's rout with an ankle injury. Bledsoe, scoring 24 points a game, hurt the ankle against New Mexico Military Institute, but Wilder expects him to be ready by game time.

Bobby Beall will be at the guard spot, directing the Hawk fast break, and alternating at the other forward position will be Mike Randle, Alfred Gladden and Keith Lewis. David Tolliver, who hit 23 points as Bledsoe's replacement Thursday, will also be ready for action along with guards Johnny Harris and Willie Young.

In the last meeting, Williams, Bledsoe and Lumzy combined for 76 points against the Wranglers.

Odessa College, 5-3 and 12-6, has a trio of hot-shooting guards in Ernest Jenkins, Claude Giddens and Johnny Brooks. Top inside hand for the Wranglers is 6-7 Darrell Mitchell, and others due to see action are Darrell Cox, Billy Giddens and Chuck Downing.

Nicklaus Lives Up To Warning

HONOLULU (AP) — Hale Irwin voiced the sentiments of most of golf's touring pros. "Why," inquired Irwin, "doesn't he stay home? Or if he has to come, why doesn't he bring the kids?"

And he didn't bring the kids. "When I bring the kids, I'm on vacation," he said. "I'm not on vacation. I came to play golf."

And, to the surprise of practically no one, the game's Golden Bear played it well enough to win the $44,000 first prize, playing just as well as he had to stand off a couple of mild challenges down the stretch Sunday.

He had a two-under-par 70 in the final round on the sun-splashed, 7,154 yard Waialae Country Club course and won by a comfortable three strokes at 271, 17 under par.

Rookie Eddie Pearce, 21, the youngest man on the pro tour, once got to within two strokes of the front-running Nicklaus in the stretch. But Jack responded with a couple of quick birdies that ruined Pearce's dream of an upset.

He settled back into second with a 66-274 total. J.C. Snead was next with 68-275, while Irwin and Dwight Nevil tied at 276. Irwin had a final round 66 in the near perfect playing conditions, bright sunshine, 80-degree temperatures and just the hint of a breeze. Nevil had a four-under-par 68.

Steers Seek To End Skid

ODESSA — The Big Spring Steers try to pull out of a Dist. 5-AAAA nose-dive here Tuesday when they visit the Odessa Permian Panthers in a game that might be just a matter of pride to the Longhorns.

The Steers' hopes for a second half title run faded Friday during a 66-64 loss to Midland High, the Big Springers' second without a victory. Permian meanwhile, surprised Abilene High by reeling off 14 straight points in the final five minutes Friday for a 67-57 win and began to ready itself for the second round chase.

Permian is 1-1 in the second half and 12-12 on the year and looks to be the most improved team in the district — and that could be bad news for the Steers, who bowed to the Mojos 72-69 in the first round of action.

Coach Ron Plumlee's Longhorns, 15-10 on the year, have lost four of their last five games and stand 3-6 in overall 5-AAAA action.

The Steers have been at a height disadvantage most of the season, and Tuesday will be no different. David Nelson, the Panthers' 6-6 post man who

LSC Race Gets Tight

It's been a long time since a team with a 5-5 record still had an outside chance to win the Lone Star Conference basketball race but that gives you an idea of how wild things are this season.

Abilene Christian with a 5-5 record is one of six teams still with a shot at the championship trophy.

Howard Payne is the leader with an 8-3 record followed by Sam Houston 7-3, Southwest Texas 7-4, and East Texas and Stephen F. Austin, each 6-4.

Sam Houston's record may change because there's a strong possibility the Bearkats will have to forfeit an earlier victory over Tarleton because of an ineligible player.

Howard Payne popped to the top Saturday night with a 78-73 victory over Sul Ross while S.F. Austin was shocking Sam Houston 66-65 in Nagogdoches.

Seven-foot freshman Ken Beasley was the big gun in the SFA upset. He blocked 11 shots and grabbed 12 rebounds while holding Sam Houston star Floyd Allen to two points and three rebounds.

College, Hillcrest Squads Nab Baptist Cage Honors

College Baptist won the high school division and Hillcrest swept the junior high and grade school action in the Big Spring Baptist Association Boys Basketball Tournament Saturday at the Howard College gym.

All-tournament pick Jimmy Law notched 14 points as the College cagers scored a 50-38 win over First Baptist in the high school finals. Joining Law on the all-tourney team were teammates Doug Smith, Noel Hull and Pat Carroll; First Baptist's Mike Warren, Greg Pearson, and Mike Thompson; Charles McKinny of Phillips Memorial and Terry Kelly of Berea Baptist.

In the junior high action, Danny Crosby scored 19 points in Hillcrest's 52-26 decision over First Baptist. Crosby, Elroy Greene and Oscar Mitchell were Hillcrest's all-stars, while First Baptist had Mike Thompson, Scott Wilder and Billy Ray Johnson on the honor team. Randy Bennett of Midway and Chip Wright and Ken Carroll of College were the other selections.

College Baptist topped Midway 27-24 in a junior high consolation tilt.

All-tourney picks Bob Kinman, Cedric Jefferson and Walter Williams led Hillcrest past First Baptist 16-9 in the grade school play. For the losers, Mark Warren, Lesley Willard and Randy Johnson were all-meet selections. Four teams competed in the elementary event.

Bill Bradford and Dub Pearson were the officials and Jack Swearingen was the scorekeeper. Don Bradley served as meet director.

WOUNDED TRUCKER — Chicago trucker Max P. Krugman, 28, receives aid from a policeman after being shot in shoulder near New Buffalo, Mich., Sunday night. Krugman said he had his truck stopped along I-94 when a car pulled up and an occupant warned him about working, then fired.

'And We're Ready To Stay Out As Long As It Takes'

By The Associated Press

"Everybody was going broke running every day, and finally we said to hell with it. And we're ready to stay out as long as it takes."

Russell Sanders was sipping coffee Sunday at Greenup's Truck Stop on Interstate 44 just west of St. Louis, Mo. He and thousands of independent truckers in at least 30 states were staying put, their rigs parked at truck stops, the drivers determined they won't move without strong government action.

PLAYED CARDS

"We're between a rock and a hard place," Sanders said. "If we can't get these fuel prices rolled back and some money in our pockets, we'll let the finance company take over our trucks."

Inside many truck stops, drivers slept, played cards and telephoned home to say they'd be there some time. Outside, the night sounds of gear-grinding rigs humming down the roads with their cargoes were virtually non-existent in some areas.

"I haven't made $150 a week in the past two months, and that's working 13 hours a day," said driver Ron Kinsey at a Pennsylvania truck stop. "A mortgage company can repossess my truck before I'll drive again."

Kinsey said before diesel fuel prices jumped from about 30 cents to nearly 50 cents a gallon, he had no trouble making $200 to $300 a week. He said that's now impossible in the big rigs which average about five miles a gallon.

WARFARE

Ex-Marine Terry Plumley said at a Woodhaven, Mich., truck stop that the highways, where shootings and rock throwings have increased, were like "guerrilla warfare. One guy pulled in here with eight bullets in his rig."

Plumley said he and his load of lobster had been parked there since Friday, and if things don't improve today, "I'm going to fly back to Tampa before I drive out of here to get shot at."

And there were others among this generally strong breed of men who work long hours moving their giant rigs from producer to consumer who admitted they were scared. And determined to wait it out.

HURTING US BAD

"This thing is hurting us bad," said driver Bobby Minggia at the Perlis Drug Stop in Cordele, Ga. "It hurts our families and it hurts the public." But Minggia said he believed the hurt was going to have to hit the consumer before action would be taken.

"Stores are going to have to close, and people are going to lose jobs," he said.

"Look at it this way," said another driver. "We can't keep pushing, night and day, all over the damned place, and see our pay go down, our kids and wives have to settle for less and less. What would you do?"

"Trucking has been my life and it will probably stay that way until I go under. But I don't like the way prices are," said driver Warren Asmus in Burlington, Iowa.

"A year ago I drove to California. It cost about $550 to make the 4,400-mile round trip," he said. "This year, just after Christmas, I went west again and this time it took $825."

"It used to cost $4 to get an outside tire repaired and $6 for an inside. Now it's a flat $10 for any tire. Oil used to be 45 cents a quart; now it's 75 to 80 cents at truck stops. Fuel was 26 to 28 cents; now it's 42 to 49. Breakfast used to be $1.25; now it's $2.50.

THEY'RE FIGHTING

"We just can't make a living with the fuel costs so high," he said, adding he hasn't received a freight rate hike since the prices started going up. "The only ones who have benefitted from it are the heads of the oil companies."

"I'm sure the truckers are smart enough to realize that if they don't get what they want this time, they're out of business," said William J. McKamy, manager of Greenup's. "They're fighting their own battle to the best of their ability."

Dale Phifer, an independent parked at a Phoenix, Ariz., truck stop, explained that owner-operators like himself do not have guaranteed salaries provided to Teamsters members. He said they must observe things like fuel costs, and they've got heavy mortgages.

OUT OF TIME

"I've got $100,000 worth of truck and equipment sitting out here, and I stand to lose it all," he said. "But I'll lose it my way before I'll lose it to the federal government. I'll be here until 48 states are shut down."

"The American trucker has run out of time," said Ginger Bays, a leader in one of the independents' newly formed organizations. Mrs. Bays, attending a meeting in Austin, Tex., said, "Our keys are in our trucks. We're not going any farther." Her husband Dale said, "I want to find the SOB where the buck stops."

Three Spots Open On School Board

GARDEN CITY — Three positions on the Glasscock County Independent School District board of trustees go up for grabs in the April 6 election. Thus far, no one has filed for the places.

Those whose terms expire this year are George Schwartz, board president; J. C. Newell, secretary; and Jesse Overton.

Those who plan to run can drop by the office of School Supt. Don Stringer and fill out necessary forms.

Three polling places will be open in the election. They are located in the courthouse at Garden City, Lees Store and St. Lawrence.

STRIKE IDLES 20,000 WORKERS

Possibility Of Food Shortages

By The Associated Press

The strike by independent truckers idled an estimated 20,000 workers in affected industries today as it began crippling deliveries of meat and produce in some areas.

New violence was reported. Officials in 15 states reported shootings, rock throwing or tire and hose slashings over the weekend.

Two drivers suffered shoulder wounds from bullets which struck their trucks near New Buffalo, Mich., and Louisville, Ky., Sunday night. A Pennsylvania official said there had been 14 shootings at trucks and up to 100 other violent incidents since last Wednesday. One trucker died in violence related to the shutdown last Thursday.

GUARDSMEN WATCH

About 3,400 National Guardsmen stood watch today on Ohio and Pennsylvania highways. Federal and state officials recessed a Washington meeting early today without settling the growing shutdown that has touched at least 30 states. Thousands of trucks are not operating, hundreds of truck stop stations-cafes have closed since Thursday.

Federal energy chief William E. Simon, Gov. Milton J. Shapp of Pennsylvania, representatives of five other states and spokesmen for some independent drivers participated in the Washington meetings that were to resume today after two unsuccessful sessions Sunday.

Simon said that he opposed, but did not rule out, a rollback in diesel fuel prices. A rollback is a key demand by the strikers. They say diesel fuel has gone from 33 cents to 47 cents a gallon in eight months.

ECONOMIC DISASTER

Shapp proposed a 45-day moratorium on the truckers' shutdown to avert "pending economic disaster." But spokesmen for the striking independents, and drivers interviewed in several states, said they weren't rolling again until diesel fuel prices are cut back, freight rates are raised and until they are allowed to pass along higher fuel costs.

By Sunday night, the shutdown was having some effect in 30 states from Connecticut to Florida, across the South and Midwest and along the southwest border of the country from Texas to California.

Governors officially deplored the continuing violence. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said in Mechanicsburg, Ohio, that "this handful of truckers is not going to bring this country to its knees."

One immediate concern was food. An estimated 20 meat-packing plants in Iowa, Michigan, Oklahoma, Texas and Pennsylvania were closed or cutting back operations, idling at least 8,000 workers.

The head of a grocers' association in Massachusetts said the flow of meat, citrus and produce into his area had slowed to virtually nothing, and he predicted an impact on consumers in a few days.

"The truckers' strike will shut down our industry by the middle of this week," said Tom Osburne, president of a trade association for Florida's $2 billion a year citrus industry.

Checks Sunday at major truck stops along key north-south and east-west routes showed traffic extremely light. Police in heavily affected areas estimated truck traffic down by some 90 per cent.

"The number of involved drivers could not be determined. One truckers' spokesman said 90,000 of the country's estimated 100,000 independents were staying off the roads. Some union drivers also were not moving, mostly because they feared violence."

PICKETING?

Truckers in New Jersey, Oklahoma and Connecticut said Sunday night they would begin Monday to try either by request, picketing or truck blockade to stop the movement of diesel fuel from refineries to truck stops. Truckers in other states were busy talking to union drivers, asking them to observe the shutdown.

Gasoline supplies in Florida and some Northeast states were reported very short because delivery trucks carrying February allotments have been parked. That was expected to ease in Florida today as drivers ended an unrelated strike. In West Virginia, police cruisers escorted three gasoline tankers to dry service stations.

Men With Red Spotlight Stop Trucker, Beat Him

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two reports of violence due to the truckers' strike occurred Sunday on Interstate 40 in the Panhandle, the Department of Public Safety said today.

The DPS said that Sunday night three unknown white men with a red spotlight on a white vehicle stopped a frozen food express truck five miles east of Conway on Interstate 40 in Carson County.

Two of them held the driver, Burrell F. Singleton, 39, Gentry, Ark., while the third beat him up, the DPS said. Singleton was in the Groom Memorial Hospital today for observation.

Sunday afternoon a truck driver was accidentally shot in the leg as a result of an incident on Interstate 40 two miles west of Alanreed in Gray County.

The DPS said the shooting occurred after an Indiana car passed a group of trucks traveling together and the drivers thought the man in the car threatened them.

When the car stopped at a roadside park, one of the truck drivers, Edgar Gilbert, 38, Rush Springs, Okla., put on his brakes and a shotgun on the seat beside him fell to the floor and Gilbert was hit in the leg by the charge, the DPS said. Gilbert was in good condition today at the Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

Gunmen Free Hostages

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — A Pakistani airliner landed here today with three gunmen who had held two hostages aboard a Greek freighter in Karachi harbor.

The hostages were released after the Greek government agreed to commute the death sentences of two Palestinian terrorists.

Airport officials said the three terrorists, whose identities and nationalities were still unknown, wanted to go to Libya, and the Libyan ambassador to Pakistan was making the arrangements.

CAN'T TALK

The Libyan and Egyptian ambassadors to Pakistan accompanied the trio to Cairo.

The gunmen were held at the airport hotel, and newsmen were not allowed to talk to them.

In Karachi, Rear Adm S. Zahid Hasnain, the chairman of the port authority, said the terrorists freed the chief officer and chief engineer of the Greek freighter unharmed after holding them for 33 hours.

The Pakistani foreign office said the men freed the hostages "on the assurance given by the Greek government that the death sentences passed on the two Palestinian guerrillas by an Athens court recently would be commuted."

The two Palestinians are members of the Black September organization who were given sentences of death and 27 years in prison on Jan. 24 for killing five persons and wounding 45 others in an attack at Athens airport.

RETALIATION

Hasnain said his government and Arab ambassadors who acted as go-betweens with the gunmen would continue to work for the release of the Palestinians. But it was predicted in Athens after they were convicted that the Greek government would deport them to ward off retaliation.

The three terrorists, who said they were from a group called Muslim International Guerrillas, boarded the Vori at dusk Saturday and took the captain, chief officer and chief engineer prisoner in one of the cabins. They let the 60-year-old captain get off because he told them he had a bad heart. They did not interfere with the rest of the crew.

The gunmen threatened to blow up the hostages and themselves unless the Greek government freed the two Palestinians. Hasnain said the men were armed with pistols and about six plastic bombs the size of apples that "could not have blown up the ship, only the cabin in which they were staying."

Meanwhile, in Singapore harbor, four terrorists remained aboard a ferry boat with three hostages they seized after failing in an attempt to blow up a Shell oil refinery on Thursday. The Singapore government was trying to get some Arab country to accept the terrorists.

Hospital Unit Gets Paintings

An unique exhibit is being brought to the adolescent unit of Big Spring State Hospital through cooperation of the hospital and Dr. Clarence Kincaid, professor of art at Texas Tech.

Dr. Kincaid has gathered 40 water colors, prints, paintings and drawings from works of Tech art students, said Dr. A. Chapman Isham of the hospital staff.

With the help of Mrs. Kathie Rathert of Howard College a number of unmounted donations have been matted and covered so they can all be attached to the walls without frames. Plans are to have the pictures on exhibit for a number of days in the foyer of the Big Spring State Hospital Chapel where they may be seen before being placed on the adolescent unit, with an informal public viewing and reception on a Sunday afternoon soon to be announced.

The uniqueness of the exhibit is that it marks the first time an exhibit by student artists has been gathered for an adolescent unit. The varied themes are an attempt to communicate through modern art with the young persons at the unit. Some of the artists are students at Tech from Big Spring. Many of the pictures display unusual talent.

According to Dr. Kincaid, a nationally known art authority, there are some extraordinarily fine things in the exhibit.

Helping with the exhibit will be personnel of the adolescent unit, volunteers of the unit under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Moore, and adolescents themselves.

Syria Reports Artillery Shells Rip Golan Heights

By The Associated Press Syria reported heavy firing all day Sunday on the Golan Heights and claimed its guns inflicted severe damage on Israeli positions in the heaviest fighting since the October war.

The Israeli command in Tel Aviv denied there were any Israeli casualties and said the Syrians fired only sporadically with machine guns, artillery and antitank weapons.

Damascus claimed its guns destroyed a missile site, three tanks, six mortar batteries and two halftracks with their occupants. Israel said "a few shots have been fired" and denied any of its tanks or halftracks were destroyed. But it made no comment on the other Syrian claims.

Syria said the day ended with an Israeli artillery attack on five villages and Syrian military positions. "Our artillery acted violently and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy source of fire," a communique said.

It was the ninth consecutive day of fighting on the Syrian-Israeli front. Observers in Beirut speculate that the Syrians may be trying to force Israel into a troop disengagement agreement favorable to Syria.

Syrian Foreign Minister Abdul Halim Khaddam said Sunday that Syria would agree to a disengagement plan with Israel only if the accord is "a first step in a plan for total Israeli withdrawal" from Arab lands.

Khaddam made his statement in Saudi Arabia after a five-hour meeting between Syrian President Hafez Assad and King Faisal. Assad flew on to Kuwait. He was reported urging the Arab oil states to continue their oil embargo against the United States until Israel agrees to pull back its troops on the Golan Heights.

Texas' Constitutional Confab Behind Schedule

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' Constitutional Convention slipped behind schedule today as additional witnesses before the committees pushed back the time they were to start writing a new constitution.

There was also more than usual political interest as the convention neared the beginning of its fourth week.

The filing deadline for political candidates was 6 p.m. tonight.

The committee on rights and suffrage scheduled night hearings Monday and Tuesday. The first meeting will be devoted to ways in which citizens may amend the constitution. On Tuesday night, committee members are expected to vote on a proposal setting out qualifications for Texas voters.

It was delayed for four days in order to allow more citizens to look it over, and possibly to testify on a provision prohibiting convicted felons from ever voting unless the legislature makes an exception.

The General Provisions Committee has scheduled hearings

Wednesday and Thursday on the controversial "right-to-work" proposals which labor officials strongly oppose.

Jump Pay Ended For 5,000 Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says it is eliminating $1.9 million in hazardous duty "jump" pay for more than 5,000 soldiers trained as paratroopers.

The reduction was mandated by Congress last December.

Of the 5,000 jump pay positions to be eliminated, 3,559 will be among soldiers of the 3rd Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Although retaining the title Airborne, the 101st Division will become a completely helicopter-borne military unit.

The other positions to be eliminated are in miscellaneous Army units around the country. The cut, effective April 1, will leave 27,500 airborne troops still receiving jump pay — $55 monthly for enlisted men and $110 for officers.

Spaghetti Supper Slated Feb. 5

The Crane High School Choir will conduct a pre-game spaghetti supper in the Crane School Cafeteria Feb. 5, the date of the Coahoma-Crane basketball game in Crane.

The supper will include dessert, salad, drink and garlic toast besides spaghetti for $1.75 per person and will be held 4:30-7:30 p.m. Contact Ernest A. Richters in Coahoma for advance tickets, and tickets will also be sold at the door.

Money earned will be used to finance the Crane High School Choir's trip to Amarillo. Roney L. Wood, the choir's director and 1965 Coahoma High School graduate, said Tuesday.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KQ10654 ♣Q107 832 ♣32

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

3 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

4 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. This hand is not the no trump type, and preference should be given to re-bidding a good six-card suit over supporting partner's suit. Don't make the error of jumping to double.

Your hand isn't strong enough and further action is up to partner.

Q. 2.—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q109743 ♣KJ82 62 ♣47

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Dble. 4 ♠ 5 ♠

5 ♠ N.T. Pass 6 ♠

Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six spades. Your spade length strongly suggests that no tricks can be taken in that suit against the opponent's slam. Your partner's failure to double indicates that he has few defensive values on the side. The save should not be expensive.

Q. 3.—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AQJ106 ♣954 ♣KQ7 ♣AQ

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

3 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

4 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Five spades. Since partner was strong enough first to bid his own suit at the two-level and then raise yours, you should not give up hope of slam. Your main concern is the heart suit, and by bidding over the game level after the other suits have been mentioned, you ask partner to bid on if he has no more than one heart loser.

Q. 4.—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♣J9654 ♣AQ72 ♣J1093

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you respond?

A.—One no trump. This hand is not strong enough to respond at the two-level, for you should not count your void in partner's suit as worth three distributional points. Yet some action must be taken, and the suggested bid shows a range of 6-10 points. As a response, one no trump does not necessarily describe a balanced hand.

Q. 5.—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q85103 ♣AJ7 ♣KJ1092

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass

3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three spades. We do not recommend proceeding to three no trump. You have already announced your diamond guard, and it might be critical to inform partner of your moderate spade support.

Q. 6.—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AK10932 ♣7 ♣J6 ♣KJ72

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Dble. Rdbl. Pass

Pass 2 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. On the surface, this hand is worth only 15 points, but once spades have been supported its value increases by 3 points—1 for the fifth spade and 2 for the sixth. Partner's redouble followed by a raise shows at least 16 points and a fit.

Q. 7.—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AQ82 ♣A54 ♣A543 ♣32

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

4 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Nothing. Your jump raise promised 13-15 points, and that's exactly what you have. If partner had additional values and was interested in a slam, he would have made some move other than simply continuing on to game.

Q. 8.—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KJ7 ♣AKQ9 ♣AKQJ10 ♣3

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. It is tempting to check on aces via the Blackwood convention, but if partner has a secondary heart suit the hand should play better there. It does no harm to check, for if partner doesn't raise hearts you can then check on aces and commit the hand to a spade contract.

Something In The Wind?

During the past week Clay Holcomb, 11-year Martin County 4-H livestock exhibitor, showed the grand champion steer at the Southwestern Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth. He promptly sold the 1,200-pound Limousin-Shorthorn cross for $7,600.

Then Reagan Brooks, Coahoma, a Howard County 4-H showman, captured first place in the Maine Anjou-Hereford cross class and sold his champion for $2,000, plus a Angus-Hereford cross for $1,400.

Certainly this says something for the ability of the young feeders-exhibitors.

Does it say something also for trends in cattle production?

Now a single rosin does not make a Spring, and neither do victories by crossbreeds make a new wave of the future in the cattle trade. But the names of exotics, and particularly, the crosses with the old masters (the Herefords, Angus, Brahma, and Shorthorn derivatives) have been cropping up with increasing frequency in many of the major shows across the country. Well, it is a tribute to the Herefords and the others that they are considered basic to the cross.

There was a period when a portion of the breeding industry seemed preoccupied with type and conformity, which found its expression in smaller more compact animals, and which some contended would result in dwarfism. Now the emphasis is on production of meat — the most production in the least time and at the lowest cost.

Obviously, if one animal can produce 1,000 pounds of beef on essentially the same amount of feed required by another animal, which additionally takes another month to reach that plateau, there is a considerable margin of profit there. Perhaps this may account more than anything else for the long-barrel, big frame crossbreeds. What remains to be established is whether they can hold this advantage, and whether they are as rugged and as adaptable — yes as good range hustlers — as the old faithfuls of this cattle raising country.

Better Way To Handle

A California state judge has summoned President Nixon to testify in state proceedings, and the President has "respectfully declined, (to appear) on constitutional grounds."

The tenuous connection of a state court summoning a federal officer is claimed by John D. Ehrlichman and two other former White House aides on the grounds that they were acting as federal agents in connection with a break-in of a psychiatrist's office.

The way was left open for the President to respond to an interview in writing; perhaps this can be worked out. This would be by far a better means than a direct confrontation which battle. There has been a sort of tacit acceptance would touch off a long and complicated legal that the federal system is not subject to state powers, and unless there is a clear-cut demand for an absolute and definitive decision on the point, a tacit understanding is the better course.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I'm told there is one sin the Bible says cannot be forgiven. Why don't we hear more about that, if it is that important?

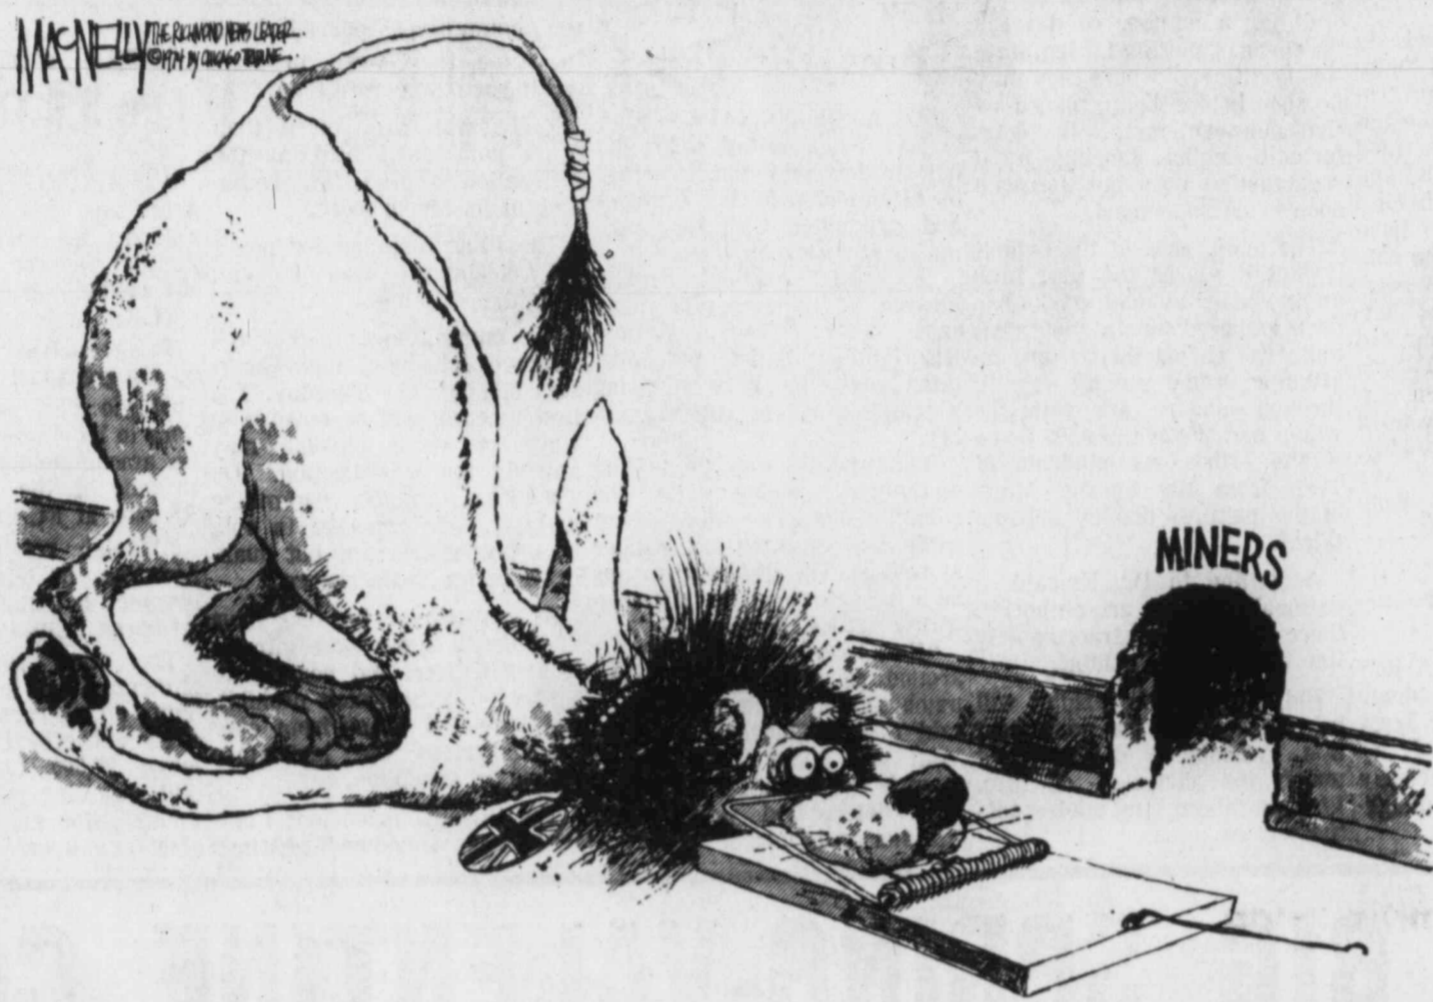

M.T. You probably have reference to the statement in Luke 12:10 (also recorded in Matthew and Mark). It says: "Those who speak against the Holy Spirit shall never be forgiven."

As with all Scripture, you need to see the situation in which Christ made this remark. The Pharisees, those enemies of His, had just attributed His good works to the powers of darkness and evil. Now, this accusation was no chance one, such as might be the result of impulse or compassion. Those who accused Him knew better. It came from a super love of self. The Pharisees had seen Christ teach, not once but often. They knew that every word and work of Christ was holy and pure. In order to accomplish their selfish ends, however, they denied what their own hearts told them was the truth. They "quenched" God's Spirit.

It is then this kind of total and violent denunciation of God's Son that blocks out any possibility of personal salvation. Obviously, if you deny the Forgiver, there is no forgiveness.

In the work of evangelism, you seldom mention this because the "unpardonable sin," as it is called, is not characteristic of most people in an audience. In fact, the number who have thus sealed their doom is probably extremely small. But it does warn all of us to guard against any trifling with God's Spirit.

Some Don't Want One

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — When it comes to an afterlife, people fall into three classes: those who are sure they're going to have one, those who hope they will — and those who don't particularly want one.

Put me in the third group. I am not angry with life. I love and admire it, because I have enjoyed my own greatly, while taking the scars as they come. But the idea of going through life again appalls rather than appeals to me.

Living a life is kind of like fighting a grizzly bear. Having gone the route once, more or less successfully, why would a guy want to do it again? What could he possibly prove?

It might be different if a second life came with a written guarantee that it would be mystically grander and magically better than your first life — and any workable parts that wore out in the first 100 years would be replaced free. But heaven has not been known to hand out such bargains.

There are many specific reasons why a second life is hardly worth sighing for. First of all one would be bored with deja vu — the I've-been-through-all-this-before feeling. Its newness and surprises are what give a first life most of its flavor. A second life would be too much like licking the glue off the back of a handful of envelopes for Christmas cards. The taste is predictable.

Another argument against a second life is that it would force a man to go through certain patterns of occurrence he hardly survived the first time and might not be able or willing to weather again.

Who, for example, would wish to go again through the physical pangs or mental torment of:

Wearing dental braces. The lonely agony of puppy love — at 6 or 60.

The brooding horrors of adolescence plus acne. Paying off a home mortgage. Trying to win the respect of teen-agers.

The nuisance of growing old. Filling out government tax and Social Security forms.

As a child, I can remember my father giving me an absent-minded smack on the bottom now and then and saying, "Son, I wouldn't take a million dollars for you — and I wouldn't give a nickel for another just like you."

That's the way I feel about life. You can put up with one good one, had as it is. But who really needs two?

About Chicken Pox

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 30 and just had my second baby. The first child, who is 4, has chickenpox. I would like to know if I should take the new baby to my mother's so she and I won't get the chickenpox — T. Y.

There isn't a ghost of a chance I can get this answer to you in time to be of any use to you. You've already had to decide before now one way or the other. But maybe my answer will be a guide for others.

Chickenpox is one of the most infectious of all childhood diseases. Chances are you've already had it; most people are adults. So the question really concerns the baby.

If you've already taken the baby home from the hospital, only to have the older child come down with the chickenpox, you might as well figure that the baby now has been exposed, and there's no point in taking her to your mother's.

The reason chickenpox is most communicable just before the eruptions appear and in the early stages of the disease. Later the infectiousness gradually tapers off.

The disease, after exposure, has a long incubation period. It can be from 14 to 21 days before it begins to show.

On the plus side, some newborn infants may have a degree of immunity to chickenpox. (Immunity acquired from the mother. This is true of a good many diseases, the mother giving the baby temporary immunity which is a safeguard in the first days and weeks of life.)

A second possible means of safety: since chickenpox is very similar to Herpes (shingles), an injection of immune globulin obtained from a patient recently recovered from shingles can be given to an exposed child as protection against chickenpox. The problem is that such immune globulin isn't necessarily available when you need it.

But if it is, and it is given after exposure but as early as possible before the disease appears, it can prevent the disease or at least make it less severe.

Common as chickenpox is, it is not to be regarded lightly. The chief complication is infection of the blebs — the "picks" that appear. If there are blebs in or around the mouth, they can interfere with eating. And if there is involvement of the appendix, it can resemble an acute attack of appendicitis.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had glomerulonephritis for a year and eight months and am still losing a large quantity of albumen (6½ instead of zero).

My question is that I would like to have a baby. My doctor doesn't advise it. What would my chances of having a normal baby be?

Is there some kind of test during pregnancy to determine if you are carrying a defective child — Mrs. R. S.

The great risk in your situation would be a worsening of the kidney disorder — the kidneys are under considerable strain during pregnancy. The possibility of having a toxemia of pregnancy is, I believe, great. Yes some birth defects can be detected by analysis of Amniotic fluids about a third of the way through pregnancy.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need To Know About Them." Write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Needless Tragedy

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

One thing and another: PRACTICALLY all fires could be avoided but it's a fact that an average of 34 lives are lost daily in the United States and Canada due to fire, along with 1,884 houses and apartments, 42 schools and college buildings, 11 churches, 126 farm structures, 136 manufacturing plants and 384 other business properties.

There's only one thing more tragic than seeing a family stand by helplessly and watch their houses go up in smoke and that is for one or more of them to be trapped inside without hope of rescue.

NOT LONG AGO, The wiring of an electronic organ in Oslo, Norway, was picking up signals from an airport control tower a few miles removed.

The organist was halfway through "Nearer My God To Thee" when a voice rolled through the loud speaker, saying "get ready for take off."

Offhand, I can't recall anything that goes out of style more quickly than today's prices.

A SAGE REMARKED recently that the world started going to pieces about the time it abandoned the hand-cranked ice cream freezer. That, he sighed, is the finest device ever invented for teaching youths that work has its merits. He might have added that the taste of ice cream started going to pot when manufacturers started substituting vegetable compounds for milk.

I feel for those adults who have never lived with teen-agers? How else would you get to know your faults? Aren't those politicians who make promises to their constituents, in reality, talking about next year's taxes?

AN ECONOMICS teacher named John L. King, in his book "Human Behavior and Wall Street," looks ahead and sees little good.

He insists the American economy is headed toward a crash, possibly as devastating as that of 1929 and his points an accusing finger straight at the federal government.

"There's such an overlay of debt, at all levels, that only a depression can clean the slates," King writes. "Federal Reserve chairman Arthur Burns turned completely upside down (from his avowed position) in lighting all burners under the economy for the Nixon election..."

IF YOU IMPRESSED by the fact that incomes have gone up as much as 300 per cent, King reminds you that there has been a 6,000 per cent boost in installment debts, taxes and Social Security from 1947 to now. The cycle of indebtedness and inflation leading to still more indebtedness cannot go on indefinitely, King cautions.

Cause To Wonder

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — There are few aspects of the domestic economic pattern that can be described as very pleasing to any American, even when placed in the heroic perspective envisioned by President Nixon.

"The United States enters 1974 in a position of leadership in the world economy," the President said in his economic message. "We must take the responsibilities and the opportunities this position of leadership gives us."

But the average American, varied as he is by geography, society and economics, will likely read that phrase in terms of his own economic condition — and wonder.

Unemployment rising. Inflation worsening. Shortages becoming common. Does it add up to leadership?

Perhaps it doesn't, but these domestic problems are not what the President had in mind. Instead, he was speaking of the improvement in the dollar, the stronger U.S. trade position, and "constructive economic relations around the world."

In these respects the President may be justified in claiming leadership. Foreigners once again seek U.S. dollars and they are investing in the United States. Trade relations are developing with the Soviets and to a lesser degree with China.

Even with the price of oil rising, and thus endangering the economies of our trading partners, there is still a chance that the world's nations will be able to construct their ideal of widespread, mutually beneficial trade.

It is in the domestic area that the leadership claim is likely to be challenged. A blue-collar worker in Detroit or a food shopper in Hartford is likely to feel victimized rather than led.

Some Americans, in fact, feel that their food budget was deliberately sacrificed to the Soviets in the big grain deal. And if they ever have to pay $1 for a loaf of bread their suspicions will tend to become certain.

The ordinary American isn't likely either to accept the President's contention that lessons have been learned from past experience in combating inflation, especially when the first of these lessons is "the importance of patience."

"To correct a powerful trend of the economy which has been going on for some time requires time," the President said, leaving it for the listener or reader to fill in the obvious:

Yes, it has been going on for some time, for the entire span of the Nixon administration, and yes, five years is a long time to be fighting inflation with such futile results.

"Sharply squeezing down the economy in an effort to halt inflation would produce a severe drop in employment and economic activity and create demand for a major reversal of policy," the President explained.

But as his words were being digested there came the news that unemployment in January jumped to 5.2 per cent from 4.8 per cent of the civilian labor force. And this while prices were rising fast as in 1973.

The next lesson about inflation may be better understood. This one the President called "The importance of the rest of the world." He explained: "The events of 1973 brought our external economic relations sharply to our attention. Most simply put: It will be exceedingly hard for us to have a stable economy in an unstable world."

This is a way of saying that nations which trade with each other often become dependent upon each other. Trade might provide nations a vested interest in preserving the peace, but it has its consequences.

No Reward For Doing Job

Arsonists set fire to a large warehouse one night, and the owners offered a $10,000 reward for catching the culprits. A few days later, an alert policeman picked up the guilty pair in a bar.

IN THIS SITUATION, was the policeman entitled to the $10,000. He insisted that he was, but a court ruled against him. The court said he could not collect a reward for doing what the city was already paying him to do: capture criminals.

This is the rule in most circumstances, that a policeman (or other public employee) can not demand a reward for merely doing his job.

OTHERWISE, explained a one judge, "whenever a crime was committed, instead of speedy efforts for the arrest of the offender, there would be a holding back in the hope that a reward would be offered."

On the other hand, an officer usually can collect the reward if what he did was outside the scope of his duties. For example:

A DEPUTY SHERIFF, on vacation in a neighboring county, had occasion to help in the capture of a bank robber. Learning that the bank had offered a reward, he decided to put in a claim for it.

This time, the court ruled in his favor. The court said that, having acted strictly on his own, he had as much right to the reward as any other deserving citizen.

ONE FAMOUS case involved a hotel fire so fierce that firemen gave up their efforts to get into the building. Suddenly an anguished onlooker cried: "I will give $5,000 to anyone who will bring out my wife!"

One fireman, galvanized into action, fought his way through the flames and managed to bring the woman out.

LATER, WHEN he tried to collect the reward, the husband argued that rescuing people was part of a fireman's job. But the court said a fireman's job did not include rescues involving such a dire risk to his own life. For action above and beyond the call of duty, said the court, this fireman had earned the reward.

Say It With Flowers, Call Faye's On Valentines

Say it with flowers. And what better time than at Valentine's Day. Drop by Faye's Flowers on Gregg Street.

Send a Valentine corsage to somebody you want to remember, or a gala arrangement of Valentine flowers, or a beautiful potted red tulip.

Silk flowers are one of the newest items out and Faye's has a beautiful variety of them. They have made up numerous special arrangements of them

Tax Forms Short In 1 Community

GRAYLING, Mich. (AP) — There's a shortage of paper in Grayling, and it's not tissue paper.

It's a lack of federal income tax forms, Post Office officials said.

Postal officials said they've run out of 1040 forms, and there's not a tax instruction booklet in town.

in crystal and pottery containers. They also have paper flower arrangements, popular for three generations and featuring a special nostalgia on Valentines Day.

Or if you prefer a special accessory with your flowers, drop by Faye's and pick it out.

Don't forget good friends in the hospital or the sickbed at Valentines and also remember that those who live in Nursing Homes are thrilled by any special holiday attention.

Mothers, wives and sweethearts really love flowers on Valentines Day.

Faye's always has a choice collection of fresh cut flowers and also have beautiful potted ivy which can be brightened with a valentine decoration.

Faye's also features brass from all over the world, wooden accessories, hanging baskets, terrariums, crystal appointments, old world figurines and many other items that make choice gifts.

Valentines Day is a time to express love, and flowers is a wonderful way to deliver the message.

Send her flowers and she'll know that you care.

FLOWERS — They're the sweetest thing you can give the sweetest one on Valentine's Day. Faye's Florists reminds you that flowers are the sweetest because they say things like "I love you."

Candy Valentine Selection Available At Highland T.G.&Y.

Pick your Valentines at Highland Mall's T. G. & Y. They have a selection of Valentine Candies in all colors and sizes.

They also claim some of the most economical buys in the city in Valentine candy.

They also feature cardboard valentines from the cards designed especially for sweethearts, relatives and friends to the packets of valentines for school children.

T. G. & Y. features other greeting cards as well including birthday, get well, sympathy and other occasions.

The store also has a branch post office for your convenience in case you want to mail your valentine candy or other items.

And they have a variety of other items — children's wear, men's wear, women's wear, household appliances, daily household needs, school supplies, artificial flowers, cosmetics, toys, and a little bit of everything. Next door is their fabric shop. And they have patterns and sewing accessories. Drop out to Highland Mall and go by T. G. & Y. You'll be glad you did.

Shaklee's Products Stress Good Health

Shaklee Products claim as their motto, "Yesterday's customers how to care for their skin with Shaklee Beauty Aids."

The Shaklee company claims that the time is ripe for nature's products to replace chemical cleaners, artificial foods and synthetic skin treatments.

Everywhere we go with our product, we meet people with a need, according to Mrs. Lambert Misk. "These needs are supplied by Shaklee Products, L & R Misk Distributors, 2307 Lynn Drive, telephone 263-7276."

Shaklee's National Organic Food Vitamins and Instant Protein cooperate with nature in taking care of the body if the body is supplied with them. These are rich, wholesome foods in concentrated form, palatable and energy builders, according to Forest C. Shaklee Sr., M.D. and biochemist, who for over 50 years has developed these products. He firmly believes in their nutritional value.

Shaklee Products include Basic-H, the organic, non polluting, phosphate-free, concentrated all purpose cleaner.

care clinics to show potential customers how to care for their skin with Shaklee Beauty Aids. They also feature men's toiletries and many baby products.

Bankruptcy Plea Filed By Pair
Voluntary petitions of bankruptcy have been filed by Preston Glenn and Glenda Myrick, former owners of the LaBoutique Ladies Apparel here, in U. S. District Court in Abilene.
Mrs. Myrick was principal operator of the business while Myrick was employed as a lab technician at Cosden Oil Co.
They listed debts of $66,574 and assets of $44,678.

Sam Thurman Is Promoted
Promotion of Sam L. Thurman to assistant distributor sales manager, Southwest area, was announced in Dallas today by American Petrofina's vice president for marketing, Tom E. Cook.
Thurman, a former Big Spring resident, moves to Dallas from Denver where he has been district sales manager for the past four years.
Thurman fills the post created by the retirement of R. E. (Bob) Hutchinson, assistant distributor sales manager. Hutchinson is now retired January 31 after 18 years with Fina.
Ray Piner, Jr. moves from Albuquerque, where he has been since 1963, to Denver as district manager. George D. Ford advances to district manager at Albuquerque from sales representative there.
Thurman will supervise sales activities in Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Tulsa and Albuquerque.
Hutchinson was employed by American Liberty Oil Company in 1956, has been engaged in petroleum sales activities since the 1930's and was the first district sales manager for Fina in Dallas assuming that post in 1957.

Luncheon Held For Bride-Elect

Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, 108 Cedar Road, was hostess for an informal luncheon Saturday morning honoring Miss Libby Hattenbach, bride-elect of Michael Andrew Swartz.

Attending with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Douglas E. Hattenbach, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Adolph Swartz. The couple plans to be married Friday in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

Appetizers were served in the dining room after which the guests gathered in the den area for "chicken-in-a-basket" luncheons packaged in small baskets and tied in colorful napkins with contrasting ribbon.

Mrs. McGibbon presented Miss Hattenbach with a silver bowl. The final pre-nuptial event for Miss Hattenbach will be held this evening, when Miss Tonia Carroll and Miss Leigh Jones will host a kitchen shower in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Mayor Pro Tem Speaks To Vets

Mayor pro tem, Eddie Acri, was guest speaker Saturday for World War I Veterans and Ladies Auxiliary, Big Spring Barracks No. 1474.

During the noon luncheon in the IOOF Hall, Acri outlined proposed plans for a senior citizens community center while speaking about civic projects. He commended the group on its civic endeavors and conducted a question and answer period.

Buck O'Neal, commander of the local Disabled American Veterans, spoke briefly in support of the center for the senior citizens.

H. M. Haygood presided for the Barracks, and Mrs. Cordelia A. Castle, past president, presided for the auxiliary.

Guests included Mrs. Mary Forrest, district auxiliary president, and Mrs. Mary Ellis, both Lubbock lodge members. Mrs. Forrest recently attended the mid-winter meeting of WWI state officials in Fort Worth.

The next auxiliary meeting will be in the IOOF Hall at noon, March 2.

Unhappy Teen

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old. My mother has a health problem so she and my Dad go south from November until April. That means I have to change schools, leave all my friends, and go to Arizona with them. I went last year and hated it! I told them I wouldn't go again, but here I am in Arizona and I despise it. I have a boy friend up north and we are extra close.

I told my parents if they don't send me home to stay with a friend (relatives are out, they are like prison guards!) I will kill myself, but they don't believe me.

Abby, if I run away, will they lock me up? I would rather be in an orphanage than live like this. Can't somebody help me? When I see my boy friend I am going to get pregnant right away so they'll have to let me get married. Please don't tell me to listen to my parents. They hate me. And I hate them. I wish I was dead. Tell me what to do. I trust you.

TORN APART

DEAR TORN: You have a lot of bitterness and resentment to unload. Tell your parents you want to get your head together and would like to express your feelings to an objective, qualified third party. A psychiatrist or psychologist can help you and your parents develop a better relationship. Running away or getting pregnant will only make a bad situation worse. Talk to your parents today and make a deal! Good luck. And let me hear from you again. I care.

DEAR ABBY: Something happened again last night which practically ruined my evening, and I'd like to know how to handle it if it should happen again, which I'm sure it will.

There is an extremely overbearing, obnoxious woman in town who insists that she is related to me, and every time, she sees me, she greets me loudly with, "HELLO, COUSIN!"

In the first place, she is NOT my cousin. Is there some way I can get this loud-mouthed woman to quit calling me "Cousin" without coming right out and insulting her?

My first cousin, once removed, was briefly married to this woman's second cousin, twice removed.

NO COUSIN
DEAR COUSIN: People who insist on claiming you as a relative will do so, no matter how many times you "remove" them. There is nothing you can do about it, so grin and bear it.

DEAR ABBY: I can usually handle my own problems; but this requires advice that only you can give.

I am a single fellow and find myself very much attracted to Jane, and I think Jane is also attracted to me.

About a week ago Jane and her husband separated. I don't want to hurt my chances with this very special lady so here's where you come in. When would it be proper for me to ask Jane out?

WAITING WITH BAITED BREATH

DEAR WAITING: Wait a little longer. Couples usually separate in order to think things over. If your hunch is right and Jane is interested in starting up with you she'll get the message to you somehow.

Miss Sheree Buntyn Honored At Shower

Miss Sheree Buntyn, future bride of Michael Moates of Luther, was the honoree at a bridal shower last week in the First Federal Community Room.

The couple will be married Feb. 15 in College Baptist Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. George Franklin, Mrs. Terry Carter, Mrs. H. C. Spivey, Mrs. Luke Fortenberry, Mrs. Mike Dodds, Mrs. Floyd Henderson, Mrs. Sol Bredrose, Mrs. Bertis Harris, Mrs. W. C. Ward, Mrs. Sam Robertson, Mrs. Hollis Puckett and Mrs. Willard Hendrick. Miss Arlene Henderson and Miss Cindy Adams assisted the hostesses.

Corsages of fushia and blue daisies and mums were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Tommy Buntyn, Taos, N.M., and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Henry Moates, Luther.

The refreshment table was covered with an embroidered white cutwork linen cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. The centerpiece was a candelabrum arranged with white mums fushia daisies and babies'-breath centered with a fushia taper. The registry was covered with a white satin cloth trimmed with lace and accented with a crystal candle cup circled with lily of the valley.

Members of the house party were attired in long dresses and wore corsages of white bells and lily of the valley.

Litter Poster Contest For Pupils Begins

The Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs is sponsoring a poster contest in conjunction with the current "prevent litter" campaign.

The contest, which begins today, will end Feb. 19, and judging will be completed Feb. 21. The competition is open to students in public school art classes, grades one through six. The top winners will receive certificates and a "litter ribbon".

On Feb. 16, the council will sponsor the city-wide clean-up of the "big spring" area, located between the tennis center and Comanche Trail Park. Numerous garden club members will participate, and anyone else who wishes to do so is welcome. The work will begin at 9 a.m.

Under the slogan, "Clean-up, Shape-up", the seven clubs in the council, plus four garden clubs that are not council members, are taking the lead in the campaign to prevent litter and beautify the city.

The gardeners are cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce, Big Spring City Council, city officials and parks and recreation board members, as well as property owners, business personnel, Boy Scouts and school students in working with the Environmental Protection Agency and other federal and state agencies to have a cleaner city.

Use of plastic garbage bags and racks to hold cans upright is stressed by the council. The can lids should be attached with chains.

Also, the council is selling bumper stickers stating "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You", and the stickers are being distributed for use on city and school vehicles. The City of Big Spring

Winning Tallies Announced For LGA Duplicate

Winners have been announced for two duplicate bridge sessions held during the week at Big Spring Country Club. Taking high tallies in the Ladies Golf Association games Wednesday were Mrs. Clarence Peters and Mrs. John Taylor, first; Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, second; Mrs. Ward Hall and Mrs. Ova Mae Edwards, third; and Mrs. Elmo Wasson and Mrs. A. Swartz, fourth.

The Friday winners were Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Hudson Landers, first; Mrs. R. L. Tollett and Mrs. W. J. Harris, second; and Mrs. Wasson and Mrs. Ellington, third.

Infant Diets

The diets of infants and pregnant women need special attention to see that they contain the iron needed.

allocated $40,000 to litter control in the campaign. Mrs. Floyd Mays is campaign chairman, and there are 12 regional chairman and 10 district chairman under each of the regional chairmen. These chairmen inspect the areas assigned to them and are asking each citizen to comply voluntarily.

The historical "big spring", which was discovered in 1849, will be cleaned and litter barrels will be provided by the garden club council. Comanche Trail Park areas to be cleaned include the nature trail, bird sanctuary and amphitheatre. The tennis court and Cosden Lake will also be beautified, as well as the Heritage Museum.

The litter control program is to be followed by a beautification program, "Plant a Million Trees and Breathe".
