Dixie Crowds Whoop It Up For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without directly mentioning his Watergate woes, President Nixon has told his largest and most enthusiastic audience since the 1972 campaign that "the American people are not a nation of quitters."

Joining Gov. George C. Wallace at an honor America Day rally Monday in Huntsville, Ala., Nixon told an outdoor crowd estimated by security personnel at 20,000 to 30,000: "Americans have always had strength in adversity... there have been times of discouragement in America but the American spirit was such that we always became stronger when the going got tougher."

'Good News' Kept Secret In Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign ministers of Egypt and Saudi Arabia came to the White House today to deliver what they called "good news" to President Nixon.

Nixon received Ismail Fahmy of Egypt and Omar Sakkaf of Saudi Arabia in his Oval Office together with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Maj. Gen. Brent Scowcroft, deputy to the President for national security affairs.

What the "Good News" mentioned Monday is, was still kept secret after two days of talks between the two foreign ministers and Kissinger. The expectation is that Fahmy and Sakkaf brought a plan which would enable Syria and Israel to start talking about disengagement on the Golan Heights.

Kissinger reported "solid accomplishments" in advance of today's White House session.

"Everything is moving in the right direction," Fahmy told reporters. Kissinger, meanwhile, said, "I agree with his characterization."

The speculation is that the State Department session produced a framework for negotiations on a separation of Syrian and Israeli forces in the Golan Heights. The question is whether Kissinger will readily assume the sort of mediator role he played in arranging a disengagement between Egypt and Israel by shutting between the two countries.

Since he has a date later this week in Mexico City for a conference of Western Hemisphere ministers there seems little chance of immediate negotiations. But he may wind up later

Requests To Delay Trial Are Rejected

'GOD WILLED IT' Alleged Killer 'Had Visions'

FAYETTE, Miss. (AP) — Frankie Lee Lias, 20, held in jail on murder charges in the shooting deaths of seven members of his family, has had "visions" since he was 10 years old, two brothers say.

Lias reportedly told Jefferson County Sheriff J. P. Wallace after the shootings Monday that God willed his family's deaths.

"He said he heard a voice and he thought it was the Lord and that he was just following instructions," Wallace said. "He had his Bible with him and still has it with him."

Martin and William Lias said their brother had had such visions since he fell off his bicycle and suffered head injuries 10 years ago.

The brothers found the bodies of the seven family members, all of whom were shot while sleeping in a five-room house and nearby mobile home.

Dead were Lias' wife Carol, 18; stepfather-in-law Leo McDonald, 37; mother-in-law Jimmie Ross Williams, 39; daughter Kenyatta Lias, 11 months; nephew Dennis Williams, 16; and niece Toni Ross, 17. Another nephew, Lenny Ross, 4, died at a Jackson hospital several hours later.

Star Wants To Buy Rejected Movie

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Connie Stevens has offered to buy an American Broadcasting Corp. movie of the week, "The Sex Symbol," following the network's decision not to air it as scheduled on March 5.

An ABC spokesman said Monday that the movie, depicting an actress who is driven to drugs and drink was being withdrawn because it needed more work.

Other reports, however, indicated that ABC's decision could have been influenced by political overtones raised by scenes in the film recounting a romance between the actress and a U.S. senator.

Miss Stevens said: "I thought it (the movie) was ready and I waited a long time for this. It's the finest thing I have ever done."

Interviewed by phone, Miss Stevens, who is currently appearing in Lake Tahoe, Nev., said she had heard the film would not be aired for at least a year. "If it's a year, I'd like to buy it myself," she commented.

Only One Candidate Is In School Race

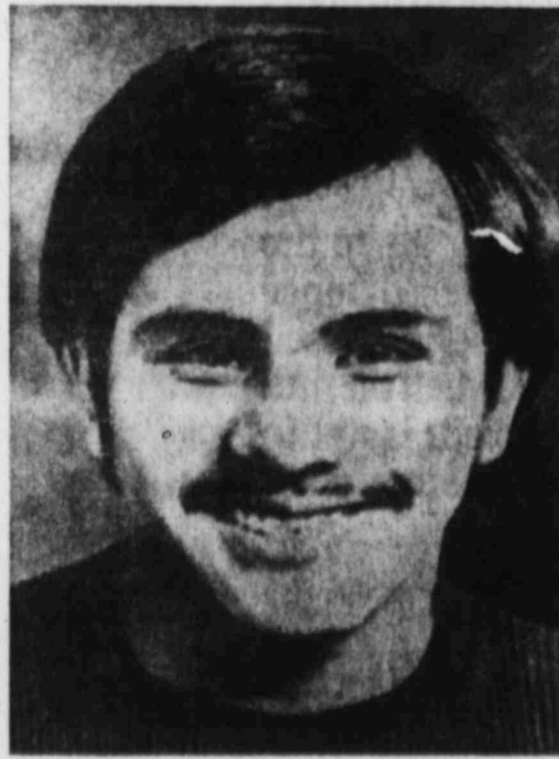

One incumbent has filed for re-election to the school board and three incumbents have filed for re-election to the city council with no other candidates through Monday.

Jerry Jenkins has filed for re-election to the school board. The other two incumbents are Thomas Fetters and Ralph McLaughlin.

Deadline for filing is 5 p.m. March 6 at the school business office.

Mayor Wade Choate has filed for mayor. Harold Hall has announced he will offer for Place 1 and Eddie Acri for Place 2 on the city council.

Filing deadline is March 2 with the city secretary, Robert Massena.

POLICE CADET HERO — Police Cadet Alfonso Martinez, a hero when he rescued a 43-year-old man from a burning house, has been disqualified from the Detroit police force because he admitted smoking marijuana a few times in his teens. Martinez, 21, staged the dramatic rescue Saturday. Police said Monday that Martinez did not meet their minimum qualifications.

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and ex-Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans made a final, vain effort today to abort or delay their federal criminal trial, the first in the last half-century involving members of the President's Cabinet.

Stans' attorney, John Diuguid, renewed his request to dismiss the charges of conspiracy and obstruction of justice against the two of them, to move the trial out of New York City, or to delay it indefinitely.

He contended that pretrial publicity had made a fair trial impossible.

Mitchell, 60, attorney general during President Nixon's first term, and Stans, 65, Nixon's first secretary of Commerce, are charged with accepting a $200,000 under-the-table contribution to Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign from fugitive financier Robert Vesco, 37.

In return, the government claimed, they pledged "to exert their influence" in sidetracking a Securities and Exchange Commission probe of Vesco's multimillion-dollar corporate empire.

Not since the Teapot Dome scandal of 1923 have two cabinet members been indicted on charges relative to their official or political duties. In that case, Republican President Warren G. Harding's interior secretary, Albert Fall, went to prison, but his attorney general, Harry Daugherty, escaped punishment.

Mitchell was in charge of Nixon's re-election campaign, and Stans was his chief fund raiser on March 8, 1972, when the indictment charges that Vesco offered a $500,000 contribution in return for intercession with the SEC.

The government charged that eventually a sum of $200,000 was agreed upon and that this amount was secretly turned over to Stans in Washington on April 10, 1972. A new law requiring public disclosure of campaign contributions had taken effect three days earlier.

FOR LANDFILL SITE City, County Eye Joint Purchase

City and county officials both voted Monday afternoon to join together in an effort to obtain a suitable landfill site and to advertise for bids at 10 a.m. March 11, at County Commissioner's Court for the joint purchase of the site.

The two groups met in a joint meeting in commissioners courtroom and tentatively approved unanimously a joint contract.

In separate action, the court rejected two bids for fire fighting equipment and discussed allowing installation of a water line by Moss Creek Road.

No objection was offered to Carroll Choate laying about one mile of water line underground along the fence line. At Beal's Creek, Choate will be permitted to run water line on bridge railing.

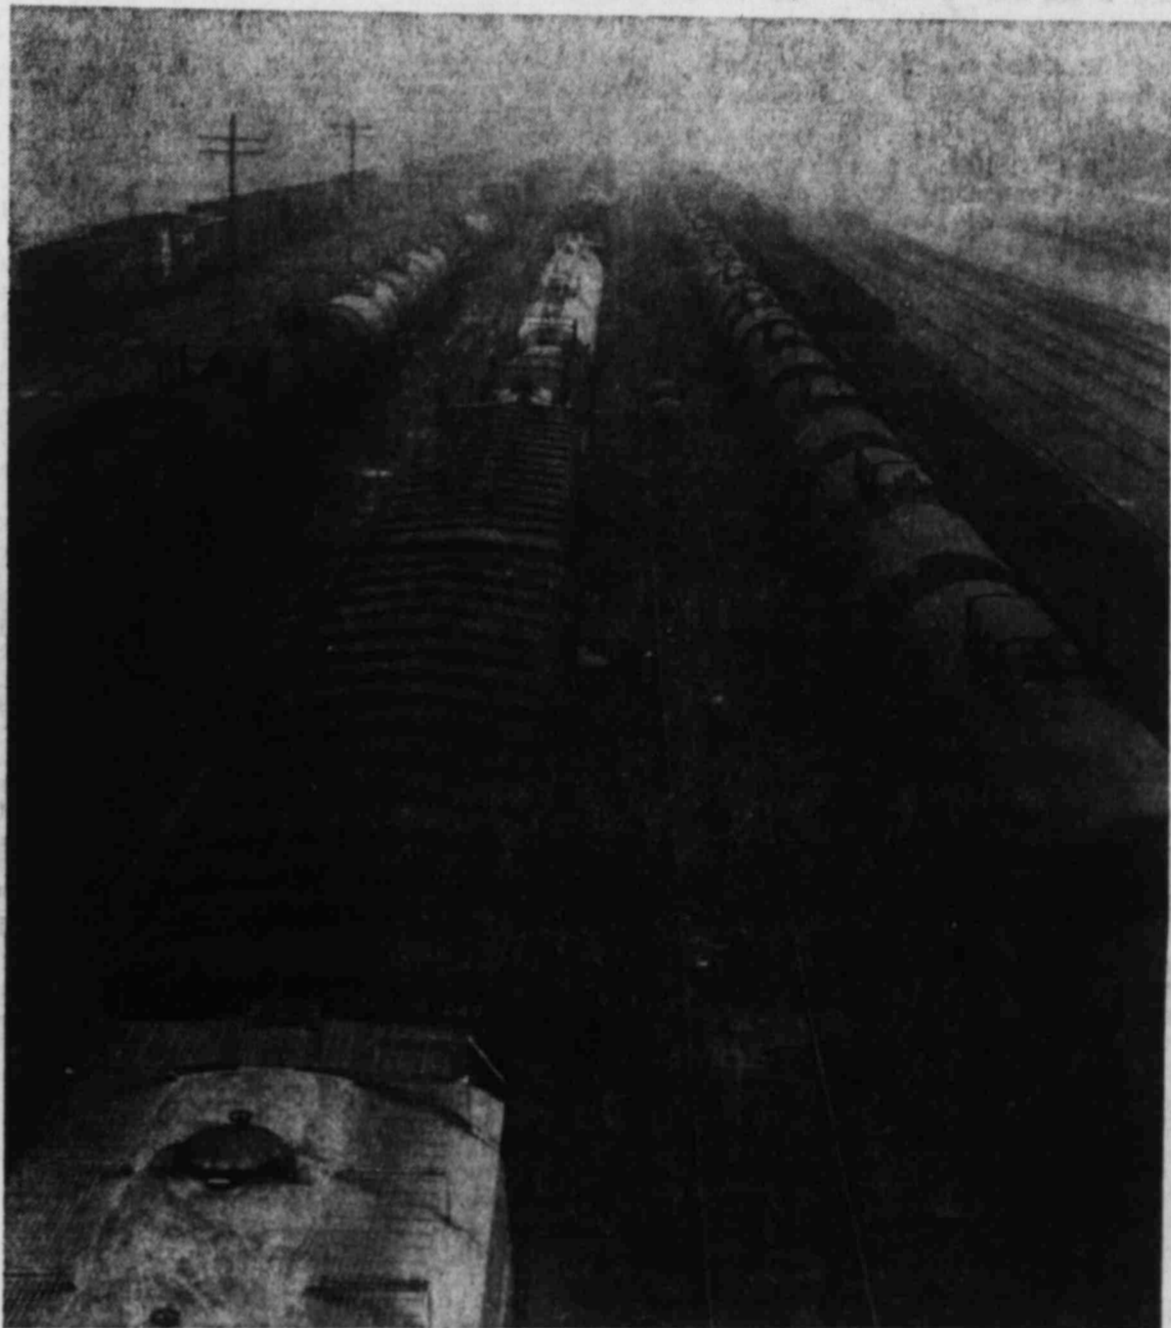

Commissioner Jack Buchanan suggested it be understood Choate would pay for any repairs needed because of damage caused by county crews.

Buchanan and Commissioner Bill Bennett, who presented the water line request, met with the city fire chief concerning fire fighting equipment for volunteer county fire departments.

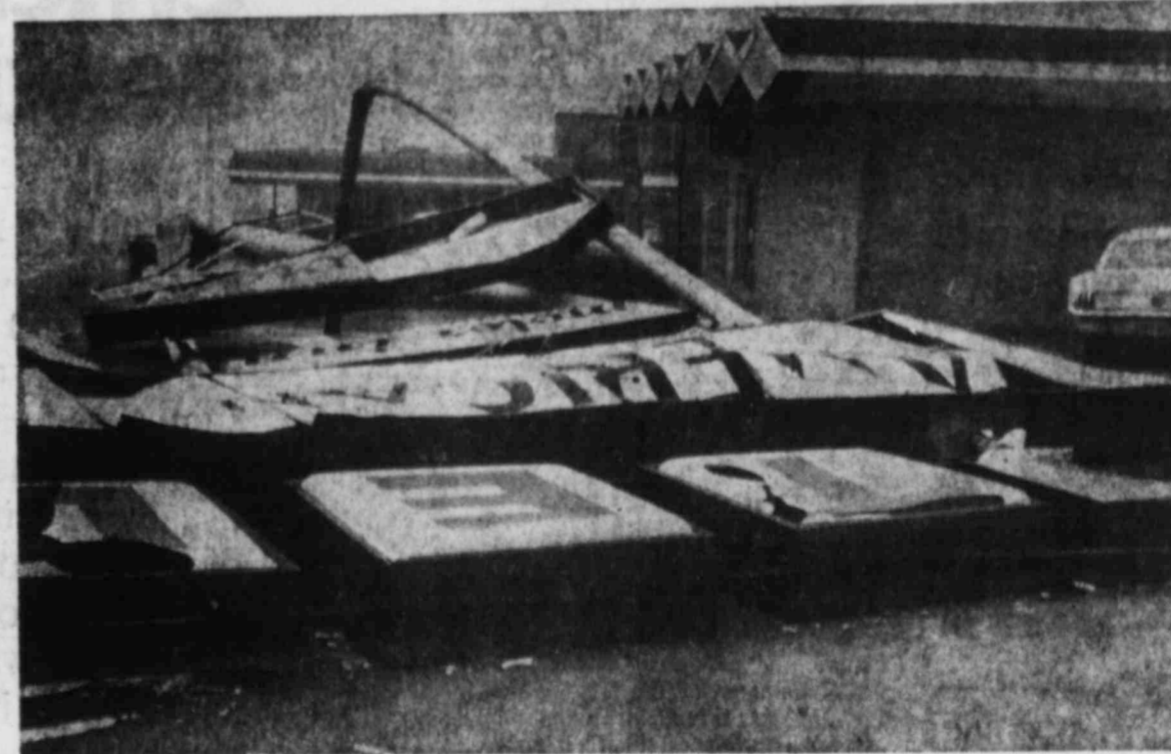

Fire Chief Allen Meador will help prepare more carefully defined specifications for the bid on fire fighting equipment.

WEATHER THAT LEAVES BROWN TASTE — A savage windstorm which hit the area Monday produced this dreary scene from atop the Gregg Street viaduct over the T&P tracks. Visibility was reduced to a few hundred yards at times and the fine dust in the air, which must have come in from El Paso, left a brown taste in most everyone's mouth.

SHATTERED SIGN — A huge sign at the Americana Motel on the northern perimeter of Big Spring fell and crashed during Monday's wind storm. Gusts up to 59 miles per hour were reported during the big blow, which brought in great clouds of billowing dust and made highway driving dangerous for a time.

Monday's Sand Storm Stirs '50 Memories

The arrival of the first super sandstorm of 1974 turned thoughts toward the shortage of moisture in recent months and the drought years of the early '50's.

Winds with gusts up to 59 miles per hour ripped through Big Spring Monday afternoon turning the sky a brownish red. The large sign at the Americana Motel at IS 20 and U.S. 87 was broken off. Windows blew out at the Head Post on Eleventh Place. Tree limbs and shingles were the main items damaged throughout the city in the blow.

Rainfall thus far this year measures a scant .72, including .52 in the Jan. 23 snowfall, plus .01 on Jan. 9, also .03 on Jan. 17 and .16 on Jan. 18. Compounding this dryness is the record of only .56 in the last quarter of 1973. That came in October and no rain was measured at all in November and December.

Since 1900, the driest years recorded were 1917 with 4.68 total; 1910 with 7.25; 1956 with 8.06; 1952 with 9.20; 1964 with 10.38; and 1970, 12.93.

An average annual rainfall in Big Spring is 18.43 inches. Biggest year recorded was 1919 with 34.01; 1932 with 34.25; 1941 with 31.62 and 1965 with 30.73.

Last year the total was 19.40 and the previous year was 18.42. The present lack of winter moisture is the worst since 1964 which turned out to be a generally dry year.

Big Spring oldtimers eyed Monday's storm gloomily predicting with the words: "We're in for it unless it rains."

Russian Won't Be Silenced

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Alexander Solzhenitsyn says he will be unable to complete his series of historical novels if the Kremlin does not let his files and archives follow him into exile. But that will not silence his writing.

The exiled Russian writer said "October 1914," the second volume in his "historical novel of revolutionary times" that began with "August 1914," is almost ready for publication.

"The third volume is started, and the rich collection of materials, documents, reports of eyewitnesses, photographs, illustrations and numerous rare books with my annotations has been compiled," he continued in an exclusive interview Monday with the Associated Press.

LOTS OF WORK — "I have gathered these archives ever since 1966 and have put into them an enormous amount of work. If the Soviet authorities confiscate them, even if only partially, it will be spiritual murder."

Solzhenitsyn said he is too old at 55 to collect the materials again, and loss of the archives would mean abandonment of the project.

"But then my remaining years and strength, instead of being directed to Russian history, will be directed towards the Soviet present for which I will need no archives," he declared.

Manila Is Shaken By Earthquake

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — An earthquake that officials said measured six on the Richter scale shook buildings for 11 seconds in Manila today, but no major damage or injuries were reported.

The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion recorded on a seismograph. A quake with a reading of four, can cause moderate damage.

TWO STUDENTS EYE AMERICA Yugoslavians Impressed With Kennedy's Stand

By MARJ CARPENTER
Two foreign exchange students attending Big Spring High School have taught local students a lot about people from their part of the world. And their two worlds are as far apart as Big Spring, Texas is from either of them.

Maria Luz, 17, is from Navarro, Argentina. This is a town with about 7,000 persons located right outside the city of Buenos Aires.

Maria lives Big Spring and the kids here but will readily admit that the main feeling for the United States in Argentina is "hate. . . hate."

Trying to explain this feeling, she pointed out that even though President Juan Peron sides with the American oil companies and industries, she said the average Argentine citizen mutters a lot about "imperialism and exploitation by American industry."

Bobby, as Big Spring students have decided to call Slovoda Dunuzski, 18 of Kumanovo, Yugoslavia, has quite a different tale to tell.

"Yugoslavians like Americans. When Kennedy was a president and took a stand against Cuba and Russia, we probably would have become the

Farm Land Tax Ratios Sought

AUSTIN — Rep. Charles of Holliday said this week that he is working for constitutional guarantees that agricultural land be valued according to its productivity for taxation purposes.

"I hope that this convention will recognize that farm and ranch land must be taxed as just that — farm and ranch land," Finnell said. "What a piece of land might be worth to a promoter or subdivider in the future has no place in figuring today's tax on agricultural land."

Workshop Site Is Changed

The Small Business Administration workshop, scheduled for Tuesday, will be held in the Horace Garrett Applied Science on the Howard College campus Building instead of the Science Building as announced previously. Starting time for the workshop on SBA services and procedures will be 7 p.m., and there is no charge.

Eagles Schedule Important Meet

An important membership meeting for Eagles Lodge 3188 is scheduled for Wednesday, Troy Melton, president, announced Tuesday.

Bill Sims, Odessa, state president for the Eagles, will be on hand to make several special membership awards. With him will be two other Odessa men who are state Eagle officials, Bud Evans and Freeman Yardley. The affair will begin with dinner at 6:45 p.m. in the lodge hall on the Settles mezzanine, followed by the formal program at 8 p.m.

Enrollment Gains

Big Spring school enrollment gained last week, reaching 6,845, up two. Elementary enrollment gained two, finishing the week at 3,412. Secondary enrollment was down six, with seven being lost at Senior High level, but hospital and homebound enrollment rose to 163, a gain of six. The total enrollment was 68 less than comparable date a year ago.

Record Read In Will Trial

Attorneys read a transcript of previous testimony as the second day of the Earle A. Read estate probate trial began today in 118th District Court.

Joe L. Mays, a retired district judge from San Angelo, was presiding. Ralph W. Caton, judge of the 118th District, said earlier he might be called to testify, therefore asked Judge Mays to reside.

The probate was appealed from county court. During early morning testimony, Read was quoted as identifying himself as "the first white boy ever born in this county."

The transcript dealt with circumstances surrounding preparation of the will.

Jurors selected Monday include Mrs. S. M. Craver, F. Sorley, Miss D. R. Hardesty, Mrs. J. P. Stoker Jr., C. Willis, T. L. White, Mrs. E. G. Greenwood, R. G. Lepard, Mrs. D. Sanders, Mrs. C. W. Ford, J. Marin and Miss I. Boatler. (Only initials and last names were listed.)

Tips to help you get more efficiency from your home heating system.

Insulation is important and can pay for itself by lowering your heating (and cooling) costs. You can save as much as 20% or more on energy consumption if your home is insulated to meet FHA standards. Engineers usually recommend a minimum of six inches of insulation for the ceiling, four inches for the outside walls and, if construction is pier-and-beam, two inches under the floor. Keep the filters clean. Dirty filters restrict air flow and cause the equipment to work harder and use more electricity.

A lower thermostat setting will result in less energy use. The setting of 65°-68° has been recommended for energy conservation. If you are going to be away, turn your thermostat down to a lower setting or turn it off unless freezing weather could damage plumbing and appliances.

Weatherstrip doors and windows to help seal in the heat you're paying for. Keep the damper tightly closed when the fireplace is not in use to prevent air leakage.

Watergate Specter Hangs Over GOP In Michigan

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Using Watergate as his war cry, a Democrat who had been a consistent political loser has captured Vice President Gerald R. Ford's former House seat, defeating a Republican who had never lost an election.

"We are sending a message to Washington tonight," Richard F. VanderVeen told a cheering crowd celebrating his victory Monday night in breaking a 64-year Republican lock on Michigan's 5th Congressional District seat.

Using the theme that the special election to fill Ford's unexpired term was a "referendum on President Nixon," VanderVeen polled 53,008 votes to 46,159 for favored Republican Robert VanderLaan. Two minor-party candidates mustered only 4,998 votes between them.

As he did throughout his campaign, VanderVeen, a 51-year-old corporation lawyer, called again Monday night for President Nixon's resignation, "so we may put Watergate behind us, not before us."

Michigan Republican Chairman William McLaughlin said, "Watergate killed us. I don't know of anything else. That's the issue that VanderVeen made. We got our Republicans out, and that's a Republican district. Without a doubt there is a message. People don't like what's going on in Washington."

He said the election fore-shadows "a tough year" for Republicans.

Asked if he favors Nixon's resignation or impeachment, McLaughlin said, "I'm giving a

Mexican Chief Executive Planning Visit To Cuba

MEXICO CITY, Mex. (AP) — President Luis Echeverria has announced he will visit Cuba in the near future.

This will be the first time a Mexican chief executive has visited the Caribbean Communist island since Fidel Castro seized power from Fulgencio Batista in 1959.

Echeverria made the announcement Monday on his return from an 18-day five-nation tour. "I have been invited and I will go as soon as I can," he told newsmen.

The visit's specific date was not mentioned, but it will have to be before Echeverria's six-year term as president ends Dec. 1, 1976.

Echeverria also said relations between Mexico and Cuba are "excellent."

Mexico never broke relations with Castro despite a 1964 Organization of American States (OAS) resolution calling on all Latin American countries to sever their ties with Cuba.

Opening lead: King of ♠.
Today's declarer had no side suit of his own to develop, so he embarrassed the opposition by establishing theirs. In the pass-out position, South's jump bid of two hearts is not forcing. His hand was too good offensively to balance with one heart, for that might sound to his partner as if he were simply competing for the part score and did not have much of a hand. North gave full weight to his prime controls when he raised to game.

West led the king of diamonds and shifted to the queen of clubs. This defense was the best available at trick two, West's choice of card conveyed a lot of information to declarer. East was now marked with the king of clubs, and since he had failed to respond to his partner's opening bid, he could not hold the king of spades as well. Thus, the spade finesse was doomed to failure, and there were only nine tricks in sight.

The black suits offered no glimmer of developing a tenth trick, so declarer had to turn to diamonds as his only chance. He won the ace of clubs and made a key loser-on-loser play when he led the ten of diamonds from dummy, and discarded a club from his hand as West won the jack.

West could do no better than lead another club. Declarer ruffed, drew two rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, and led the nine of diamonds. Again he refused to ruff, instead discarding a spade, West was helpless. He was forced to win the ace of diamonds. Dummy's eight of diamonds was now set up as a winner, and declarer's spade holding could not be attacked, for West would be leading into the ace-queen tenace. When West elected to play another club, declarer ruffed, entered dummy with a trump and discarded the queen of spades on the established diamond. All declarer lost were three diamond tricks!

Striking Contrast

Few incidents place such in clear and sharp contrast the functional difference in philosophy between our democratic processes and that Soviet communism as does the Alexander Solzhenitzyn case.

Solzhenitzyn is the Russian author who dared, out of his arthor's passion for truth, to describe conditions in a Stalinist labor camp in his book, "Gulag Archipelago." Apparently, it was entirely too graphic and too near the mark, for when the book was published (and that, quite naturally, outside Russia) it touched off a concerted and well-organized series of attacks on the author. These were orchestrated by the official agencies of the government.

The foreordained result, was the explosion of Solzhenitzyn and stripping him of his Russian citizenship. The only hopeful sign in the situation for him is that perhaps his family will be permitted to join him.

If there is any pang of conscience among Soviet officialdom, it has escaped notice. Premier Alexi Kosygin, asked point blank about his views on the Solzhenitzyn affair, said he has no interest in the matter. Which, freely translated, "I don't want to talk about it."

Can you imagine anyone in the United States of America being dispossessed of his citizenship because he dared to publish the truth or granting an error in point of view, dared to write what he wanted to?

This free license may at times become an irritant to those in power, or to partisans, but it is a mark of strength of an ideal that individuals have as great a right as the government. When that ceases to be, you no longer have a government that derives its just powers from the consent of the governed. You then, as Solzhenitzyn has demonstrated, are bound for an autocratic system such as Soviet Russia, where the government, not people, is all that matters.

A Pregnant Statistic

The average American can take statistics or leave them. Some of them are able to shed statistics like water off a duck's back.

But occasionally a statistic comes along that is so arresting that it can not be ignored. Such was this bit from an article discussing the use of specially processed cottonseed meal as a protein supplement.

"Government scientists say that cottonseed protein is so potent that two cupcakes, each containing only two or three cents worth of cottonseed flour, could provide one-third the minimum daily protein requirements of a 6-year-old child.

Now here is a pregnant statistic, although it may be a little hard to put a handle on it. If it takes only two cupcakes to provide one-third of the daily protein requirement for a 6-year-old, how many cupcakes will be needed to fill all the daily protein requirements for a 25-year-old piano mover?

There is an unexamined premise here, Junior may not be fond of cupcakes, or may tire of them, so that cupcakes will go the way of spinach. In an earlier day this would have presented no problem. A trip to the wood shed would have made an ever-loving cupcake-eater out of him. But times have changed.

Well Traveled Niece

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

The manilla packet had been re-outed from Houston, by my mother, and I opened it with anticipation, for printed on the outside was "To Aunt Merry Jo, Love, Michelle". The dot over the 'i' had been transformed into a little flower.

I've never met Michelle. Her father is my brother, Bruce Foster — whom I adore — but have seen only once in the past 10 years. Bruce is associated with a company that builds refineries, and its contracts take him all over the world. Because building a refinery takes from two to four years, he and his family have an opportunity to become well-acquainted with various countries. I have pictures of Michelle, playing with wallabies in Australia, wearing the native costume of Korea and taking her first communion in Venezuela.

THE PACKET contained a souvenir from Venezuela, a slick appointment calendar illustrated with beautiful color photographs by Georges de Steinheil. The editors are Anne Teaff and Jeannie Walter who created the booklet for sale to benefit the Children's Service League in Caracas. It tells me much about Venezuela; enough that I would like to see it for myself.

Located on the north coast of South America, the country covers an area of approximately 352,000 square miles and its population nears 10,500,000. The climate varies from tropical to cold, and there is perpetual snow on the highest peaks. The coastline measures 1,750 miles, and it has more than 1,000 rivers. (The Orinoco River is 1,600 miles long, the eighth longest in the world.) Its highest point is Pico Bolivar, in the state of Merida, at 16,411 feet.

VENEZUELA is a Federal Republic divided into 20 states, 2 federal territories, 1 federal district and 72 islands in the Caribbean Sea. The country's industry includes automobile assembly, textile, petrochemical, aluminum and steel. In the agricultural area there is coffee, cocoa, corn, rice, sugar, tobacco, cotton, sisal, sesame, bananas and plantanos. It's well-known for its cattle, too.

The sportsman can hunt wild pig, jaguar, mountain lion, deer, duck and quail. If fishing is your thing, the warm waters support bonito, red snapper, caribe, white marlin, blue marlin, sail fish, dolphin, kingfish, tuna, barracuda, bass, trout, lobster, shrimp, grouper and barge.

Venezuela is rich in natural resources. (We are importing much of its petroleum now.) It also has iron ore, gold, diamonds, copper, bauxite, manganese, coal, salt, marble, timber and natural gas.

Palm trees mark miles of property lines in the Aragua Valley, and there are orchards in all the colors of a Guayana parrot's feathers. The sun shines on the quaint Colonial roofs in the Andes, and the marinas sparkle like jewels in the moonlight.

Where the devil did I put my passport?

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

My problem is horoscopes! I mean I have a guilty feeling when I read them. I don't live by them, yet I still feel guilty. What's the reason?

A Reader

The operation of one's conscience is a beautiful thing. It mirrors one's set of principles and convictions, and should be considered in decision making.

Now, horoscopes belong to the broader field of astrology, a supposed science claiming to forecast events on earth by observation of the stars, sun, moon and planets. In horoscopes, everything depends on the determination of the configuration of the heavens at the moment of birth. The Greeks developed astrology to a level previously unknown. It was they who made it personal and promised forecasts of one's future career. Of interest, however, is the Encyclopedia evaluation of all this, "It was illusory."

I'm not saying that the universe does not "speak." The Psalmist said of the heavens: "Without a sound . . . their message reaches out to all the world." (Psalms 19:3.) But what the heavens "say" is not a pseudo-scientific personal forecast, but a reflection of the glory and power of God.

The Christian has no need of a determination of his future by the created universe. He has the Creator Himself who has promised personal and beneficent direction (Psalms 32:8).

While a feeling of guilt would not be induced in everyone by reading horoscopes, yet that has been your reaction. I would honor your hesitation and just avoid them entirely.

Public Broadcasting

Hal Boyle

By JAY SHARBUTT

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Comparing 50 cents with $315 million is akin to likening a flea to an elephant. But both sums are being disputed in current proposals for long-range financing of public broadcasting.

And oddly enough, the four-bit debate is of more concern to public broadcasters, according to Hartford N. Gunn Jr., president of the Public Broadcasting Service.

He says it's crucial because it's at the heart of proposed formulas that in coming years will determine how much Uncle Sam will spend to back up public broadcasting funds raised from state, local, foundation and business sources.

One formula is in a five-year public broadcast financing bill the White House Office of Telecommunications Policy is reading.

It would require, OTP officials say, $2.50 from nonfederal sources for every $1 the federal government kicks in for public broadcasting.

The other formula, which Gunn says is in a report by a task force of top public broadcasting officials, calls for a ratio of only two nonfederal dollars for every one from the federal government.

Both sides agree public broadcasting should get its federal dollars under a five-year plan to assure long-range planning and stability that didn't exist in the old year-to-year system.

An OTP spokesman says his office's draft bill would authorize the spending of $435 million over the five-year period. But the task force says $750 million is needed to do the job adequately, Gunn said.

And while the $315 million difference is being debated and defended by each side, it's not a major issue yet, he added.

"I think everyone is pretty much agreed that we don't have to resolve that in advance," he said. "The issue of what is the appropriate ceiling in a five-year bill can be resolved by Congress when hearings are held."

The real problem, he said, is that OTP wants agreement on its proposed federal spending ratio before it sends the administration's five-year measure to Congress.

OTP officials say that's correct and defend the ratio as one they feel will promote a maximum effort to increase local and private support for public broadcasting throughout the United States.

But Gunn said the broadcasters want the higher federal-to-local spending ratio because it's extremely difficult to project how much nonfederal financial support can be counted on in the next five years.

If the OTP ratio is the basis for federal matching funds, he said, broadcasters may find that even though sufficient federal funds are authorized "there's no way to raise enough money to come anywhere near" a given year's federal spending ceiling.

"And we could be worse off than we are today," he added. "Both sides say they hope to resolve the impasse and show a united front when the bill goes to Congress, possibly by mid-March. But an indication of how things stand may come late this month."

The board of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, which administers federal funds for public broadcasting, will meet then to discuss both the OTP and task force proposals.

And they may vote then to recommend how public broadcasting's five-year plan should look and cost, a spokesman said.

Bit Of Optimism

William F. Buckley Jr.

DUBLIN — There is a little quiet optimism here about the situation in the north, notwithstanding that the terrorism continues and, as recently as this morning, the Ulster Defense Association promises to execute 12 Catholics — apparently any 12 Catholics — in retribution for the atrocity in England where 12 Protestant men, women and children died from a bomb detonated by the IRA Provisionals.

IT HAS BEEN going on for so long that it is difficult to stir up the kind of indignation that is appropriate. It used to be suspected that condemnations of the IRA by Irish politicians were formalistic, like the condemnations of the KKK by Southern politicians 50 years ago. That is not true. The IRA provisionals are genuinely deplored. It simply is not known what to do about them. And it is widely suspected that as they are getting money not only (as is the most recent report) from the selling of dope in Western Europe, but that they are getting money from Americans who know not what they do.

THE CONFUSION breeds its own figures, conventional, and eccentric. There is for instance a psychiatrist, Noel Browne, who was Minister of Health 25 years ago as a young man, and is now in the Senate. He speaks as though yesterday he had just discovered the works of Beatrice Webb. Apart from socialism, his other passion is the denunciation of the Catholic Church. If one pins him down, he seems to be criticizing the Irish Catholic Church, as distinguished from the Catholic Church. On the other hand, he reiterates the fears of Northern Protestants at falling under "Rome rule" — one suspects his thought is not clearly formulated even in his own mind.

WE ARE ALL aware of the phenomenon of anti-clericalism. It is stronger in Ireland than one would suppose from the Bing Crosby movies. This disgust is searingly stated by such as Dr. Browne, who wrote recently that Cardinal Conway of Ireland "is not helped when he assures us that 'we Irish are a deeply religious people' when the nearby British Television Service showed clearly shocked ambulance men using wide shovels to scoop into plastic bags the pulped remains of innocent Protestant and Catholic men, women and children blown to bits by militantly Catholic Provisional bombers. These young Republicans are the fanatical sectarian end-products of Cardinal Conway's cultural, religious, and educational system. 'Give us the child,' they ask, and we did."

THAT KIND of thing one would have expected to hear from fundamentalists discussing the Pope, sitting in a submarine off Key West, awaiting the election of Al Smith. The Provos are fanatic to be sure. But so are they fanatic who think of them as authentic products of Catholic education.

They used to say about John Hume of Derry that he was a Catholic fanatic, though he never resorted to the use of force. Incredibly, he serves now in North Ireland as the Minister of Commerce, in the cabinet of Brian Faulkner.

THIS IS THE best news of all, the cautious cooperation of Catholics and Protestants in the executive and in the new Council of Ireland. The cabinet has been boycotted by the extremist Protestants — the Paisleyites, who are not satisfied that the White Paper from London should have guaranteed that North Ireland will never be integrated into Ireland proper except by the consent of the governed.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell me about hiatus hernia. I don't know if that's the right spelling but you know what I mean. Is an operation for this dangerous? I don't get much information from my doctor. — C. C. K.

Maybe you aren't getting much information because he is hoping that less drastic measures than surgery will be sufficient for you. That's true in most cases.

Either hiatus hernia or hiatal hernia is correct — it's a larger-than-ideal gap through which the esophagus passes to reach the stomach. Surgery is a major undertaking, and requires the hand of a surgeon who thoroughly understands it if you are to have the best results, but I wouldn't call it a "dangerous" operation.

Why not send for my booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It"? It will answer a lot of your questions and, I trust, help keep it from bothering you. Send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of the booklet.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Four years ago my husband had cirrhosis of the liver — he drank for about 20 years. He is 48 now. After the cirrhosis, he hadn't had a drink of anything until three weeks ago. He was ashamed to tell me until today.

He also is ashamed to tell his doctor, and that is why I am writing to you. After drinking 1½ pints of whisky in three weeks, could he have redamaged his liver enough to kill him, or hurt him? I am so worried. He has sworn off drinking again for good. — Mrs. C.D.G. Any alcohol is harmful for a damaged liver, and when a cirrhosis patient goes back to drinking, my heart goes down to my boots.

But this case is different, not only because your husband was ashamed of slipping, but because he finally did 'fess up.

My estimate would be that his pint-and-a-half spree can't have hurt him enough for you to worry about, since he's now off liquor again. And it's also my guess that this time he'll stay off.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is a uterine fibroid tumor? How is it caused? Should it be treated or left alone? If treated, how? — Mrs. B.

It's a type of tumor (the "fibroid" refers to the type of tissue) which quite often develops in the uterus — maybe one, sometimes several, occasionally a considerable number. Cause is not known.

Since they are as a rule not cancerous, the usual practice is to leave them alone, except for periodic checkups to make sure that they are not bothersome.

WASHINGTON — Everyone seems to agree that the United States is going through a nostalgia craze. What people are not aware of is that the nostalgia gap, which used to be 10 to 20 years, is closing fast, and now people talk about the good old days of a year or six months ago.

CYRUS WANKEL, who runs a nostalgia store here in Georgetown, says that the biggest nostalgia items in his store are less than 12 months old.

"I guess the energy crisis is responsible," he said. "People talk about the good old days and they want something to remind them of the past. For example, here is some Tupperware. Remember when you used to get a plate every time you bought five gallons of gasoline? And here are some green stamps. It's hard for people to imagine the days when they got green stamps just for diving into a gas station."

"THOSE WERE great times," I said, wiping a tear from my eye.

"Here are some ashtrays with Spiro Agnew's photograph on them."

"Who?"

"Spiro Agnew. He was the 39th Vice President of the United States."

"Some of our biggest sellers are these Cadillac, Lincoln and Chrysler

"What do people do with them?"

"They frame them and hang them on the wall."

"WHAT ARE these photographs?" I asked.

"They're pictures of different people who appeared in front of the Watergate committee in 1973."

"I think I remember the hearings. The faces look familiar, but I can't place the names."

"What are these Earth Day bumper stickers?"

"Well, a few years back environment was a big thing in this country and everyone talked about it. People used to put Earth Day stickers on their cars and hold rallies demanding clean air and water. It was quite a fan."

I WALKED down the aisle and saw a glass case. Inside were cuts of sirloins, filet mignons and T-bone steaks with 1972 prices on them. My mouth watered.

"How much are these?" I asked Wankel.

"That's my private nostalgia collection of meat," he said. "It's not for sale."

Conservative Unrest

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Although the meeting last Wednesday evening between President Nixon and 21 conservative House Republicans opened with applause for Mr. Nixon and ended with handshakes, these amenities were merely veneer for seething anti-Nixon sentiment by the entire conservative Republican establishment.

IN FACT, the 90-minute Cabinet Room session with the informal Steering Group of hard-line conservatives in the House never did come to real grips with what one conservative bitterly labeled "the Nixon sellout" of their position on issue after issue.

The change conservatives agree, has its source in Watergate, and the conviction that the President's new budget is designed to appease the main force of his enemy: liberals of both parties.

Rep. Edward Derwinski of Illinois, leader of the Steering Group, said the President "is capitulating to the wrong people at the wrong time on the wrong issues," Derwinski said. "There is still a silent majority, but the President forgot that fact."

THE REASON Derwinski went to the White House with the ideological hard core of Republican conservatives was to stiffen the President's back against liberal programs which, in earlier Nixon years, would have been automatically vetoed. Their message: Mr. President, don't underestimate conservative votes in the House in deciding whether to veto; we promise you the same backing to sustain votes this year as last.

Thus, Derwinski produced for the President tally sheets of House votes to override presidential vetoes in 1973 showing that the 21 conservatives cast a cumulative total of 110 votes to sustain last year's six vetoes, with only 10 cumulative votes to override (and 6 abstentions).

FOR ALL THE amenities at the White House, the conservatives received no commitments on four specific issues. The President listened respectfully, indicating sympathy but avoiding commitment.

More important, the conservatives felt that in his political agony Mr. Nixon has given up defending against vast spending programs likely to be enacted by the Democratic Congress. They see him using the threat of recession as an obvious pretext for federal pump-priming.

WHAT DISTURBS presidential intimations is that, with the possible exception of the health plan, the new budget includes no special help for the blue-collar working man, successfully courted by Mr. Nixon during his first term but now alienated from him by Watergate.

They want not pump-priming on new welfare programs but a fat tax cut for the blue-collar working class.

That would make political sense, a commodity which, in the unanimous view of the whole conservative establishment, cannot be found today at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. Publishers Hall Syndicate

Howard Hawks Rip Plainsmen, Nab WC Lead

By JACK COWAN
The Howard College Hawks, buoyed by the news of a Western Conference upset in the making, exploded in the final 20 minutes Monday and climbed into the loop lead with a 119-89 triumph over Frank Phillips College.

While the Hawks were handling the scrappy Plainsmen, Odessa College was hanging a 97-88 setback on mighty Amarillo College in the OC gym and that surprise finish bolted the Hawks to the top with a 12-2 mark. Amarillo College stands 11-3 with two games to play.

"That'll be a big boost for us," Coach Harold Wilder said after watching his Hawks run their reason record to 32-4. "What I really liked was our team play, though. We had all our starters in double figures, and that's what we like to emphasize now in the stretch."

Howard College visits Western Texas College Thursday in Snyder, and a victory would wrap up at least a share of the WC title. The Hawks entertain South Plains in their regular season finale next Monday.

The Hawks, who had lost two of their last three games after winning 22 straight, appeared to be at their best at times during Monday's victory. Frank Phillips, banging in long shots during the first half, stayed within sight of their best as HC owned a 50-41 edge.

But the Hawks, after hearing of OC's 41-43 halftime edge over Amarillo College, broke the game open in the next 10 minutes and led by 84-37 at the midway point of the second half.

There was one other reason for the Plainsmen's rapid decline, however. Ronnie Wilbur, who had 14 of his team's first 16 points, fouled out with 14:16 left. He had 23 points, same total he scored in a 75-71 loss to the Hawks Friday in Borger.

But with Williams out HC outscored the visitors 19-4 and the game suddenly became a rout. Taylor Williams rang up the 100th point with 3:43 remaining, and two minutes later 800 fans celebrated the announcement of the Amarillo defeat.

Leroy Lumzy paced the Hawks for the third game in a row as he continued to break from a minor slump with 22 points. Thomas Bledsoe waded through the smaller Plainsmen for 20 points, Williams hit 18, Mike Handie threw in 14 and Bobby Beall had 12 for the winners.

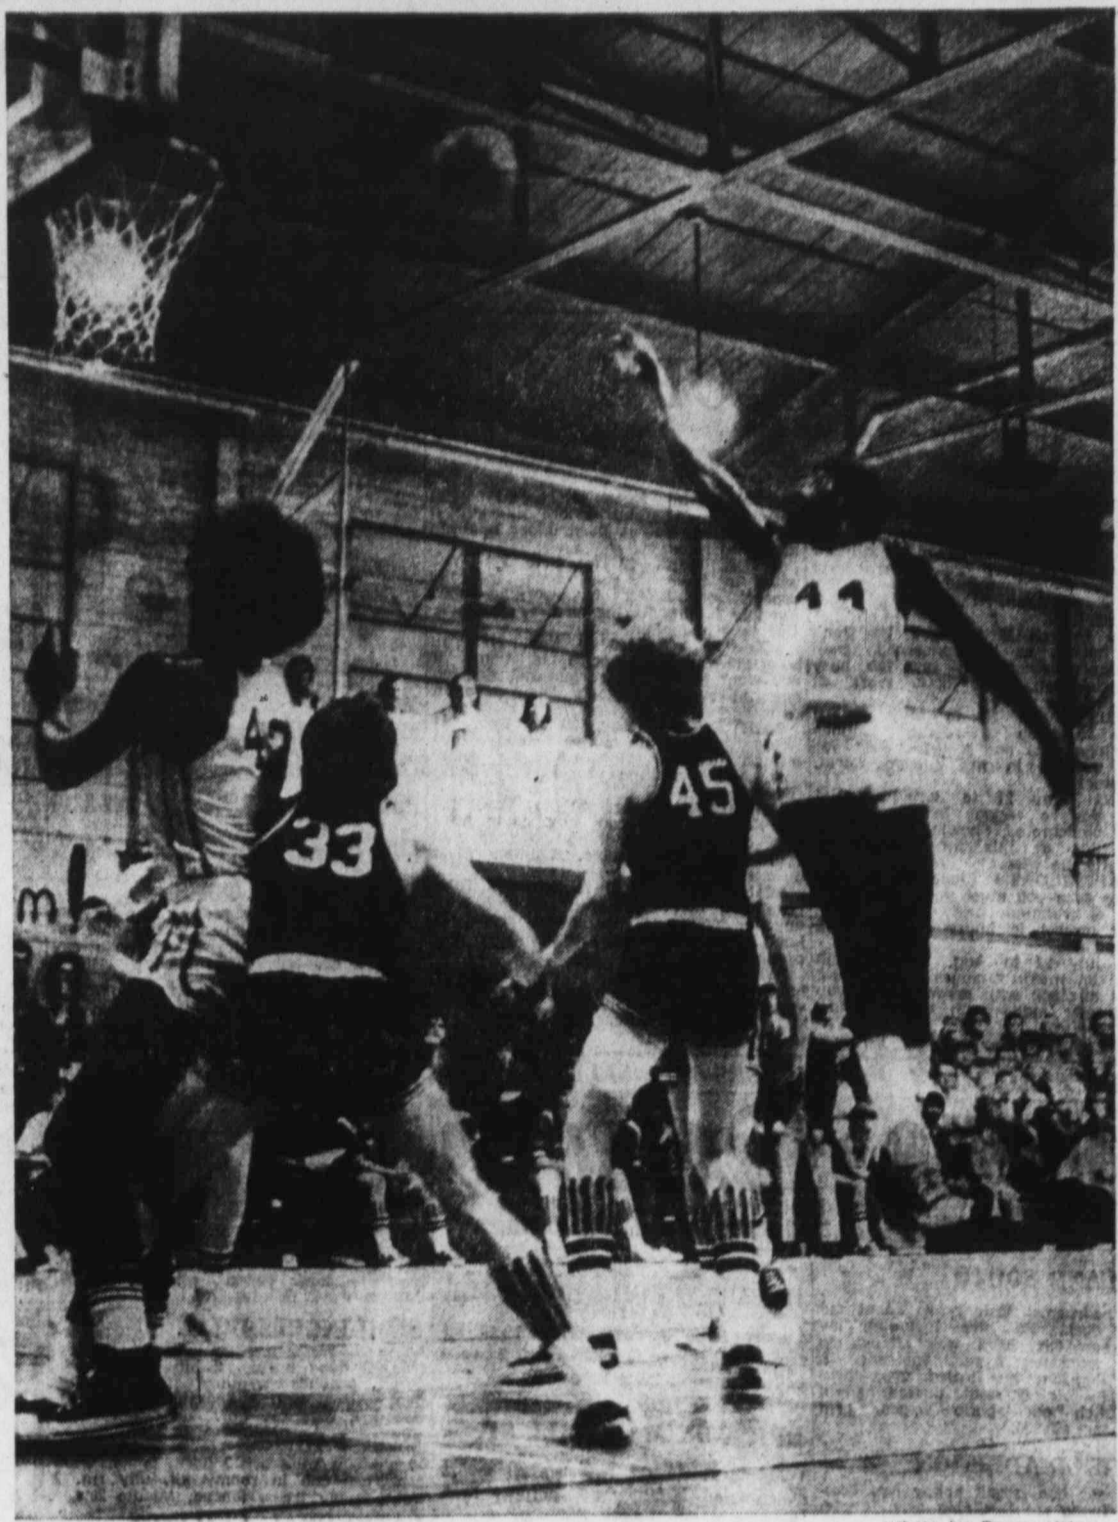

For Frank Phillips, Terry Scott and Linden Weese threw in 16 to aid Williams' effort and Terry Zink contributed 12 markers.

'FLICK' HITS — Taylor Williams lays in a couple of points from above Monday night during Howard College's 119-89 Western Conference victory over Frank Phillips. Looking on for the Plainsmen are Linden Weese (45) and Terry Zink (33), while Thomas Bledsoe awaits the rebound for the Hawks.

OC Sprints By Amarillo

Odessa College hit a hot streak midway through the second half Monday in the Wranglers' gym and rolled to a 97-88 victory over Amarillo College.

The victory gives OC a 9-4 Western Conference standing, and Amarillo fell out of a tie for first place with Howard College as the Badgers slumped to 11-3.

In other WC action Monday, Western Texas smacked New Mexico Military Institute 97-76 in Roswell.

Odessa College jumped to a 9-0 edge early in the game, but the Badgers closed that gap to 44-43 at the half and took the lead early in the second half. But the Wranglers got the lead for good with just over 10 minutes to go and outscored their visitors 15-4 to make it 73-62 and they were never challenged.

Johnny Brooks hit 27 for the winners, while Mike Harris had 22 in the Badgers' losing cause, and Daryl Peterson hit 19 points.

Western Texas got 26 points from Danny McDaniel and lifted its season standing to 20-3 with the win. The Westerners are 8-6 in WC action.

NMMI was topped by Robert Blue, who poured in 32 points.

Hill Says Players May Go On Strike

DALLAS (AP) — Star Dallas Cowboy running back Calvin Hill says many National Football League players agree with him when he says, "I will not be taken for granted any longer."

Hill, who is the Cowboys' player representative, said Monday he and hundreds of NFL players are considering a strike of training camps next summer if NFL management does not change the standard player's contract.

He did not specify which parts of the contract will be the target of representatives at the NFL Players Association convention at Chicago March 2-6.

Hill was quoted in Baltimore by WFAA-TV of Dallas as saying he believes he is being "watched" by the Cowboys because he told a New York reporter he wanted to be traded.

He said Cowboy officials heard about the New York interview and sent to New York for a copy of the tape. Hill added that the fact that 46 Cowboy players have joined the NFLPA under his representation has caused headaches to the Cowboy front office.

The two-time 1,000-yard rusher said he will meet with Cowboy Coach Tom Landry after the Chicago convention to discuss grievances with his team. He contends that black players are not receiving equal job of fans and outside advertising endorsements.

Hill also said, but did not elaborate, that "special attention" is given to players on the Cowboy squad by coaches.

Landry, contacted in Dallas, said, "Calvin's welcome to talk with me at any time."

The Cowboy coach had no comment on Hill's other statements except to say that all players are helped "in any way we can" in finding jobs.

BUT KENTUCKY STUMBLES Vandy On The Way Up

Freshman Gary Yoder stole the ball and dropped in a last-minute lay-up that gave Mississippi the victory over Kentucky.

Rickey Brown, playing 22 minutes, hit all 11 of his free throws en route to a 21-point evening and grabbed six rebounds to lead Alabama to its 12th SEC victory in 14 outings.

Notre Dame shook off a sluggish first half that produced a 37-37 halftime tie and went on to the victory over Western Michigan.

John Shumate had 26 points and 14 rebounds while freshman Adrian Dantley contributed 23 points and 11 rebounds.

Quinn Buckner's 14 assists and Scott May's 26 points helped Indiana break open a 48-40 game at the half and blow past Illinois.

Indiana pushed its first-place record in the Big Ten to 9-1, 173, over-all, while Illinois lost its 11th straight game, which broke a school record for consecutive defeats.

Kansas rode the long-range shooting of Dale Greenlee and Roger Morningstar to its victory over Oklahoma for the Jayhawks' ninth Big Eight victory in nine games, tying Kansas State for the conference lead.

Elsewhere in college basketball, four of Tennessee's starting five shot in double figures to lead the Volunteers past Florida 85-57; Jerry Nichols poured in 20 points to pace Purdue, one-half game behind Indiana in the Big Ten race, to a 99-78 decision over Iowa; James "Fly" Williams and Danny Odums combined for 43 points in Austin Peay's 96-71 victory over Tennessee Tech, and Carlton Mack's lay-up with 34 seconds left gave Richmond an 84-83 victory over West Virginia.

After many weeks of trying harder, North Carolina State basketball Coach Norm Sloan finds it nice to be the No. 1 team of college basketball.

Sloan's team was top-ranked in the Associated Press poll this week, ending a long run as number two behind perennial champion UCLA. The Bruins dropped two games over the weekend and fell to third.

N.C. State, with a 20-1 record, edged Notre Dame by a slim margin for the top spot.

Despite its new status, Sloan said his team will still try hard.

"I think it will help us. It comes at a good time to give a boost to our morale. The teams we'll be playing from now on are all Atlantic Coast Conference teams, and they couldn't be gunning for us any more than they are already. We'll have a little more pride."

Sloan was informed of the poll results at practice Monday afternoon. "Is that right?" he asked. Told it was, he said, "We're proud and pleased."

Sloan stopped practice briefly to inform his players. Their reaction was restrained.

"It's not that we're not enthused," said 7-foot-4 center Tom Burleson. "It's just that we've got a lot of things on our minds," including a home game with Duke Wednesday night.

Sloan said the sports writers who picked the Wolfpack "had a good case."

"We're a vastly improved ball club from December (when UCLA beat N.C. State by 18 points in St. Louis). Our two new starters of this season have come a long way."

"Morris Rivers (a junior college transfer at guard) is playing beautifully now and Tim Stoddard at the big forward position is getting over a slow

WFL Taps Houston; TV Contract Is Set

CHICAGO (AP) — The World Football League, having yet to play a game and seeking a television contract, announced a pair of franchise shifts Monday at a meeting of its Board of Governors.

Gary Davidson, president of the new league, said the Memphis franchise would be switched to Houston and the Boston franchise would be shifted to New York.

Davidson said the WFL would hold a news conference in New York today to announce details of a television contract. Davidson added that the league would play all of its games on Wednesday nights with one game each Thursday which will be nationally televised.

He said the league would play a 20-week schedule tentatively starting July 10 and winding up with a four-team playoff and a Nov. 29 championship game.

The Boston franchise, originally owned by Herbert Baldwin, will be operated in New York by Baldwin and Bob Schmetz. Schmetz relinquished his New York franchise, which was provisionally moved to Boston pending future action.

Davidson said the original New York franchise eventually would go to either Portland, Ore., Mexico City, Salt Lake City or New Orleans.

As things now stand, the league will open with 12 clubs. There will be Eastern, Central and Western divisions, with the three champions and the best second-place team competing in the playoffs.

The makeup of each division has yet to be determined. Other teams include Birmingham, Ala., Chicago, Detroit, Florida, Honolulu, Philadelphia, Southern California, Toronto and Washington-Baltimore.

The moves to New York and Houston hurried playing site problems at Boston and Memphis, which still is wooing a franchise from the long-established National Football League.

Baldwin and Schmetz reportedly have engineered a two-year contract to play at Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City, N.J.

Goalie Leads Knights' Win

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — "One of my coaches once told me: 'If you can stop nine out of every 10 shots they throw at you, you're playing pretty darn good.'" Jersey goalie Joe Junkin recalled.

If that's true, Junkin was darn-near fantastic Monday night. The Chicago Cougars peppered him with 49 shots — but Junkin allowed only three of them in — one less than his teammates scored.

The Knights' 4-3 victory, coming on Gene Peacosh's second goal of the game midway in the third period, was the night's only World Hockey Association game. The National Hockey League was idle.

The victory was also the Knights' third in a row and vaulted them over the Cougars and out of last place in the WHA East. Jersey, struggling for a shot at a playoff berth, is five points back of the fourth-place Cleveland Crusaders.

"We almost gave it away, but we bounced back and didn't panic," said Jersey player-coach Harry Howell, whose Knights rushed out to a 3-0 first-period lead before Chicago got untracked.

This has been a troublesome year for us," added Junkin, referring to the beginning of the season when the team was known as the New York Golden Blades, then moved because of financial problems. "We started out fighting for our survival. Now we're fighting for the playoffs. I think we can make it."

Midland Lee, on the other hand, can wrap up the league crown tonight by holding off cross-town rival Midland High. Should the Rebels stumble, Abilene Cooper can force a playoff for the title by beating Abilene High.

Lee and Cooper tied for the first half honors, but the Rebs are unbeaten in six second half outings and the Cougars are 5-1. Lee stands 28-3 on the year and Cooper is 24-6.

In other season-ending action, Odessa Permian and Odessa High battle for that city's championship.

John Thomas Smith, the Steers' leading scorer with an 18-point average, will head up the list of seniors playing their final game. The entire starting lineup of Albo Smith, Tim Dunn, Larry Stanley and Randy Marshall will be making their final appearance, along with reserves Rick Traylor, Jeff Kuykendall, Tom Sorley, Bobby Greene and Vicky Woodruff.

Two sophomores, guard Jim Ray and post man James Zapp, are the other Steers.

San Angelo, which clubbed the Steers 57-51 in the first meeting, will have a big height edge over the Longhorns, who have only Dunn and Marshall at 6-3 as their tallest. The Bobcats will start

Riley Protests Cotton Edict

Lubbock, Word that leased or temporarily transferred cotton allotments will not be eligible for disaster payments in 1974 sparked an immediate protests from Ray Joe Riley, president of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Riley told Congressman Bob Poage, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, "This arbitrary change in the rules is being taken after some growers have made irreversible financial commitments and if allowed to stand is going to create serious and unnecessary inequities as well as reduce chances for adequate cotton production in 1974." Similar as well as reduce chances for adequate cotton production in 1974." Similar statements have been made by PCG to the office of Congressman George Mahon of Lubbock.

Under the Agricultural Act of 1973, provision is made for farmers who are unable to plant or who lose their crop after planting to receive one-third of the "target price" on an amount of cotton equal to their established 1974 payment yield times their acreage allotment. In 1974 the disaster payment would be one-third of 35 cents or 12.66 cents per pound. Also, if because of conditions beyond the farmer's control his total production falls below two-thirds of "expected yield" he would be entitled to a payment of 12.66 cents times the difference between total production and expected production. Expected production is defined as payment yield times acreage allotment.

Some producers, expecting to avail themselves of this insurance feature on more than their base allotments, have either leased or plan to lease acreage from farmers not wishing to plant, Riley explains. "But if this most recent ruling is not changed," he continues, "leased acreage for which we have paid good money will be worthless."

Area Breeders In Barrow Show

Two area breeders have entered animals in the National Barrow Show. Entering the production tested barrow competition with sires are Pough's Duross of Stanton and Leonard Smith, Big Spring. The show, set for Sept. 9-10, has drawn 1,178 entries.

Interest Due On Old Bonds

Persons with unredeemed Series E Bonds still draw interest on these, the U.S. Savings Bonds division of the treasury has assured.

E Bonds being issued currently have a maturity of five years and yield 6 per cent if held to maturity. They carry an automatic 10-year extension.

Older E bonds, with original maturities ranging from five to 10 years, have been granted one or more 10-year extensions. Bonds bought in the May 1941-April 1952 period have an extended maturity to May 1981 - April 1982, giving them a 40-year maturity.

Bonds of the 1952-57 period have a 30-year maturity, those 1957-59 a 20-year maturity; 1959-65 have 18 years maturity; 1965-69 17 year; 1969, et seq. 15 years.

Jazz Is A Marriage Of Mind And Heart

"Jazz and the Big Band" was the basis of a program at the February meeting of the Music Study Club, featuring the Rev. Harland Birdwell as guest speaker. The meeting was held in the Big Spring High School auditorium, with Mrs. J. W.

Kuykendall serving as program leader.

Rev. Birdwell used recordings by Chuck Mangione and his group, playing with the Rochester Philharmonic, to illustrate his talk on the art of improvisation. He drew an analogy of jazz, saying "Jazz is to music what a Picasso is to a Polaroid camera".

Discussing the recordings of small groups as well as the big bands, he described the different approaches to improvisation, the composing or performing of music extemporaneously.

"Jazz is a true American art form," said Rev. Birdwell. "It's roots were in the South and it grew from the emotions of Negro slaves." It's name comes from the Creole word, "jazz," meaning to speed up, and it is applied to a type of American music which is characterized by melodious themes, subtly syncopated dance rhythms and varied orchestral coloring.

"Jazz is a marriage of both mind and heart," continued Rev. Birdwell. "It expresses great feelings of joy or sadness. We have seen a merging of the last few years of rock and jazz, and we now have a combined kind of rock-jazz."

The second part of the program featured jazz dance routines by students of Mrs. Ora Burson. The "Funky Duck" was performed by Janet Smolko, Laurie Choate and Michael Smolko, and Miss Choate performed solo to "Corizon".

Mrs. Charles Bell played a saxophone arrangement of "Limehouse Blues," accompanied by Mrs. James Baum, pianist, and the program concluded with the Silver Horns, a BSHS stage band, performing "The Big Band Sound" from the recent production, "Campus Revue". Jerry Galler was director.

The next meeting will be March 14 in the home of Mrs. Bob Simpson, 1727 Yale. The program will be "The New Church Music Sound".

Rush Party Tonight For BSP

A rush party will be held this evening by Alpha Kappa Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, according to plans made recently in the home of Mrs. Wayne Stroup, 2302 Roberts Drive.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., the party will be hosted by the social committee headed by Mrs. Steve Broom. The theme will be "It's a Small World".

In other business, a couples' party in the form of a progressive dinner was scheduled for March 16. On Saturday, Mrs. Stroup and Mrs. Clay LaRoche will represent the chapter in serving refreshments at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Oversexed?

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 16, and my problem is my oversexed brother in law. I babysit for their 2-year-old child. My sister would wring his neck if she knew how fresh he gets with me and every other female who comes within 2 feet of him. (He's even propositioned my mother — and she's 60!)

My sister and this lecher are building a new home now and he tells everybody that he and my sister and their little daughter bathe together! My sis is seven months pregnant now, and this over-sexed dude says he is looking for a king-sized bathtub so they can ALL bathe together after the new baby comes. He says there is nothing wrong with nudity or sex, and anyone who says there is is evil-minded.

Tell me, Abby, is he nuts, or am I evil-minded?

DEAR SISSIE: There is nothing wrong with nudity or sex under the proper circumstances, but any man who'd proposition his mother in law is nuts.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding your item concerning the women who are interested in obtaining false fannies: I would like to make a contribution.

BARE IN OMAHA DEAR ABBY: After me!

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow woman planning a tour with a friend. I'll be sharing a room with her which will create a problem because I snore. I know I snore loudly because those who have heard me say it is most annoying.

I'm told I sleep with my mouth open, so that must

Behavior Problems Examined

Mrs. Phillip Morris, a teacher in the Individualized Program at Washington Elementary School was guest speaker for the Child Study Club which met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Curt Strong, 2803 Goliad, with Mrs. Lonnie Bartley as cohostess.

The speaker's topic was "Emotional Problems of Adolescents".

"All behavior problems are formed when young, and these can be unlearned with parents sticking with their decisions," said Mrs. Phillips. "Parents should also admit their mistakes."

Mrs. Phillips stressed that when a child is reaching for love and is rejected, he sometimes turns to drugs to feel secure and have no fears. She noted that to be accepted for what he is helps a child develop his own ambitions.

During the business session, the club agreed to provide a membership at the YMCA for a girl and a boy.

Guests introduced at the meeting were Mrs. Dub Moore and Mrs. Rondel McBride.

The next meeting will be at 1:30 p.m., March 13 in the home of Mrs. Don Grantham, 1602 Osage.

Mexican Buffet Needs Avocados

Add some avocado dip to your next Mexican buffet. Goes great with enchiladas, refried beans and yellow rice.

- AVOCADO DIP
- 1 can (7 3/4 oz.) frozen avocado dip, thawed
 - 1 can (7 oz.) vacuum-pack golden whole-kernel corn with sweet peppers, drained
 - 1/2 cup crushed taco-flavor tortilla chips
 - 1 tbsp. minced onion
 - 1/2 tsp. lemon juice
 - Few drops hot pepper sauce
- Mix together all the ingredients. Serve as a dip with crackers. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Psychic Phenomena Subject Of Program

Extrasensory perception was the subject of a general discussion by 1970 Hyperion Club at a meeting last week in the home of Mrs. Robert Knight. Mrs. Robert Massengale cohosted the meeting, at which the women covered one more facet in their investigation of the supernatural.

"The alleged phenomenon of extrasensory perception, or ESP, is comprised of precognition, the ability to foresee the future; telepathy, mental communication between two or more minds; and clairvoyance, knowledge of events that happen elsewhere," said Mrs. Howard Carleton. "Attempts to prove the existence of ESP have met with much disappointment."

The speaker noted that thousands of experiments on ESP have been conducted through universities including Georgetown, Stanford, Princeton, Johns Hopkins, Colgate, Southern Methodist and Brown, through such institutions as the Menninger Foundation.

"However," she continued, "certain experiments which had seemed to indicate the existence of ESP, when conducted by other researchers, could not be repeated with the same success. Most outcomes of ESP investigation have rested in the realm of chance."

Mrs. Mark Nardone explained that, aside from research, the most frequent extrasensory experiences of a spontaneous nature are precognitive or prophetic ones, according to case records collected by the Institute for Parapsychology. Dreams seem to be the most frequent state of transmission for this type of ESP.

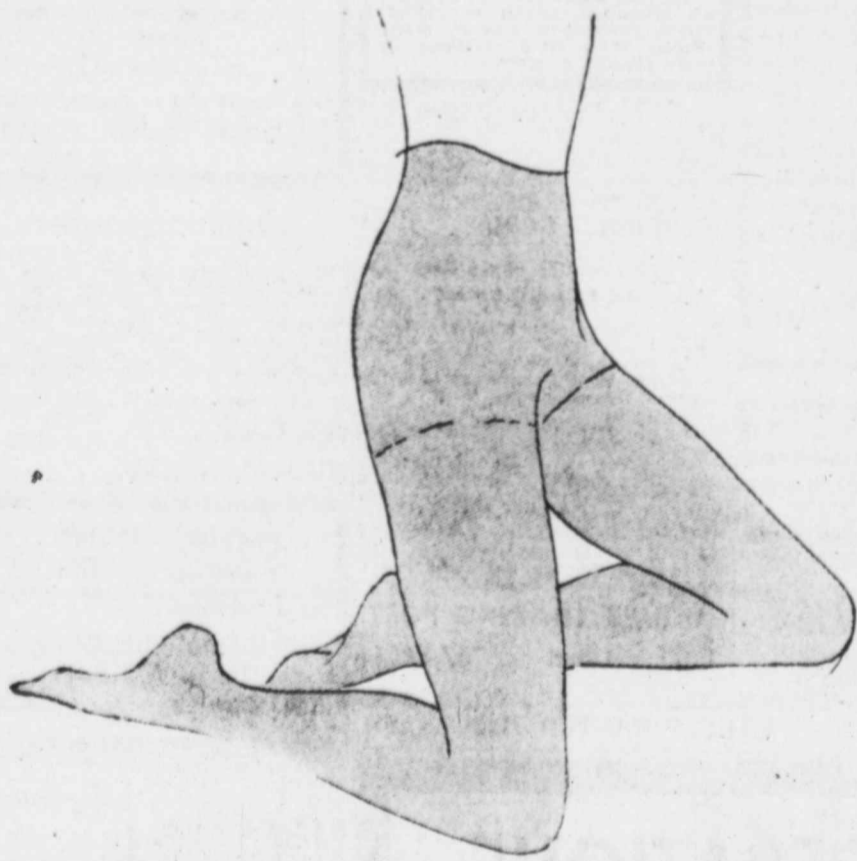

One psychic investigator, Douglas Blackburn, has stated, "The principal cause of belief in psychic phenomena is the ability of the average man to observe accurately and estimate the value of evidence, plus a bias in favor of the phenomena being real."

Refreshments were served from a table which carried out the valentine theme with a collection of turn-of-the-century valentines passed down in Mrs. Knight's family.

The next meeting will be March 12 in the home of Mrs. Gary Bohn.
