SAYS JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

Impeachment Area May Be Expanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The staff of the House Judiciary Committee has agreed on a broad definition of impeachable offenses that could greatly expand the grounds for the possible impeachment of President Nixon.

A legal brief joined in by both the majority and minority counsels for the committee and made available today concludes that impeachable offenses need not be criminal acts.

The brief represents only the views of the staff and is not binding on the committee, but it is expected to have a strong influence on the members as they pursue their impeachment investigation.

The brief traces the history of the impeachment clause in the Constitution and its previous uses by Congress, concluding that it has been addressed to serious offenses against the "system of government."

The brief declares that the duty of a president to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution includes the duty not to abuse his powers or transgress their limits; not to violate the rights of citizens, such as those guaranteed by the Bill of Rights, and not to act in derogation of powers vested elsewhere by the Constitution."

Although the brief was agreed to by both John M. Doar, the chief counsel, and Albert E. Jenner Jr., the minority counsel, it is understood that last-minute changes, deleting more specific findings, were necessary in order to win Jenner's approval.

Meanwhile, the Senate Judiciary Committee said Wednesday it had no immediate plans to hold public hearings over the dispute between President Nixon and special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski. Jaworski has been stymied in his attempts to obtain access to White House files and has reported his problems to the committee.

Sources said Senate Judiciary members are concerned that such hearings could result in charges of unfair pretrial publicity because Watergate indictments are believed imminent.

In other Watergate-related developments, a U.S. District Court judge cleared the way for ousted White House Counsel John W. Dean III to testify at the upcoming trial of Dwight L. Chapin, another former White House aide. Chapin, accused of lying four times under oath to the Watergate grand jury, is scheduled to go on trial April 1.

He lost his court battle to keep Dean from testifying against him when the judge ruled no confidential attorney client privilege existed between the two, as Chapin had contended.

New Tape Is Delivered To Hearsts

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — The terrorist kidnapers of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst sent a new communication to her family today, apparently containing an additional demand of $4 million for the girl's freedom.

Charles Gould, a family spokesman, said, "Yes, there is a tape and some letters as well."

Gould declined further comment but another spokesman said the tape included a message from Miss Hearst.

There was no immediate comment from the FBI.

Gould said the communication was from the Symbionese Liberation Army which claimed it abducted Miss Hearst from a Berkeley apartment 17 days ago.

Her father, newspaper executive Randolph A. Hearst, already had mounted a $2-million food distribution program in an effort to win her release.

Already, $100,000 worth of food had been stockpiled. The distribution of food to the poor is scheduled to start Friday.

Another San Francisco radio station, KGO, reported that the Rev. Cecil Williams, an intermediary in past SLA communications, received a telephone call Wednesday night. It directed him to a telephone booth, where he found the tape recording.

KGO said that, unlike previous tapes received from the SLA, the new recording did not carry a message from the kidnaped woman.

Miss Hearst turned 29 on Wednesday. Her parents had appealed to the abductors to release her on her birthday as a gesture of good faith.

The FBI agent in charge of the case, Charles A. Bates, had said he had a "seat-in-the-pants feeling" that Wednesday might be freedom day for the pretty coed.

The FBI announced it will release a statement in San Francisco about 8 a.m. PDT. A news conference was scheduled in Los Angeles at 9:30 a.m. by U.S. Atty. Gen. William Saxbe and FBI Director Clarence Kelley. An FBI spokesman declined to state the purpose of the news conference, but said Charles Bates, the agent in charge of the Hearst case, was expected to be there.

Newsmen also saw the Rev. Cecil Williams leave the FBI offices in San Francisco about 2 a.m. today. The Methodist minister, who received the SLA's last communication nearly a week ago, refused to comment for reporters. The Rev. Mr. Williams is a leader of the coalition which is organizing the food distribution.

No one outside of the SLA knew whether the food distribution, which starts Friday, would bring about her release or if more demands would be made.

The SLA had demanded originally that Hearst distribute $70 worth of free food to each of California's poor and needy as a condition for negotiations for the girl's release.

Hearst said he could not possibly meet that demand, which state officials estimated would cost some $400 million. He went ahead instead with the $2 million "Peoples in Need" program.

CONSTITUTION EDITOR KIDNAPPED — Reg Murphy, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, is posed at the desk of Henry Grady, who edited the newspaper from 1879 until his death in 1889. The photo was released Thursday by The Atlanta Journal-Constitution after it was learned that Murphy had been kidnaped. The photo was believed made in 1972.

Atlanta Editor Is Kidnapped

MARTHA MITCHELL: Nixon Years 'Deadly Dull'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Reg Murphy, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, has been abducted by a group calling itself the Revolutionary Army, the newspaper said today.

Murphy, 40, has been missing since about 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, when he left his home with a man who said he wanted to talk to him about a news story, his wife said.

There have been no demands, but there were indications that a followup telephone call was expected.

William H. Fields, executive editor of Atlanta Newspapers, which publishes the Constitution and Atlanta Journal, said the newspaper received a telephone call about 9:15 p.m. Wednesday.

He said similar calls were made to Atlanta television station WAGA and to Mrs. Murphy.

The FBI in Atlanta and Washington declined comment.

Fields issued a brief statement which said:

"Reg Murphy presumably has been kidnaped. Jim Minter, managing editor of the Constitution, received a telephone call at 9:15 p.m. from someone saying Murphy had been kidnaped by the 'Revolutionary Army.'

"The caller said the Constitution would hear further by other means. Channel 5 TV — WAGA — received a similar call at about 9:20 p.m. Shortly after Murphy's wife received a call from someone who said: 'If you want to know about your husband call Jim Minter.'

Mrs. Murphy said the person who called her did not identify himself in any way.

"I am not sure what to do," she said. "I have no other information. I am waiting now for some kind of contact."

Security was tight at the Journal-Constitution's building. Guards were requiring all employees to show their building passes and to register, even though they were familiar with most of them.

FBI agents searched Murphy's office for clues again today after having made a search Wednesday night, sources at the paper said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Martha Mitchell says she anticipated a lively social scene in Washington but found the Nixon years "deadly dull."

Writing in the current issue of McCall's magazine, she said "brilliant entertainment" in Washington during the Kennedy and Johnson administrations had fueled her expectations.

"Then we learned that every administration sets its own tone," she said. "If a president comes in and is social, Washington is going to rock. It certainly wasn't rocking in Nixonville."

Mrs. Mitchell also offered these thumbnail sketches of some of the newsmakers in the Nixon government:

President and Mrs. Nixon: "Rather proper, formal people."

William F. Rogers, former secretary of state: "My first choice of a man-to-dine-by ... intelligent, amusing and always good company."

Melvin R. Laird, former secretary of defense and recently resigned White House adviser: "One of the best dancers in Washington" and the White House's "last stylish member."

Resigned Atty. Gen. Elliott L. Richardson: "Great conversationalist."

Sen. Charles R. Percy, R-Ill.: "Splendid dinner partner."

John W. Dean III, former White House counsel and principal Watergate accuser of Nixon and her estranged husband, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell: "A sweet boy."

H.R. "Bob" Haldeman, another resigned White House aide: "I wouldn't describe him as fun ... but he could be quite pleasant."

Iowan Campaigning Against Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. H. R. Gross says he'll try to force veto action by a reluctant House committee against a pay raise for top federal officials, including $10,000 for congressmen.

The Iowa Republican urged newsmen to attend today's House Post Office and Civil Service Committee session to discourage pay raise backers from boycotting the meeting to prevent a vote on the hot political issue.

"I don't think we have any business increasing pay at this time," Gross said. "The economy is going down, not up."

Congressmen, federal judges and top administration executives get the pay raise recommended by President Nixon unless Congress vetoes it by March 6.

LBJ 'People Lover,' Says Lady Bird

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson says her husband's reputation as a "flirt" and a "ladies' man" was just part of the former president's love of people.

"Lyndon was a people lover, and that certainly didn't include — did not exclude half the people in the world, women," Mrs. Johnson said in an interview taped for NBC-TV's "Today" show this morning.

"He got a lot of solace and happiness and inspiration," the former First Lady said philosophically.

About any LBJ flirtations, Mrs. Johnson said, "I hope that I was reasonable. And if all those ladies had some good points that I didn't have, I hope I had the good sense to try to learn by it."

Fire Destroys Cotton Cargo

A cotton trailer and 100 bales of cotton burned near the Lomax exit of I-20 early Wednesday night, Kenneth Scott of the Sand Springs Fire Department said.

Jonesboro and Stanton firemen and Howard County Road Department employees also assisted in containing the blaze which was first reported to the sheriff's office at 5:40 p.m.

The cotton reportedly came from Houston and the trailer was said to belong to a Houston man. The driver separated the road tractor from the burning trailer and cotton.

Snow Blankets New Mexico

By The Associated Press

Heavy snow, intense thunderstorms, hail and high winds churned out of a pair of storm systems over Texas today to spread turbulent weather from the Southwest to the Great Lakes region.

Snow blanketed New Mexico, piling up to 9 inches in the Santa Fe area and 6 inches near Albuquerque in the early morning hours.

Wind gusts over 40 miles per hour swept across east New Mexico into Texas, where Fort Worth was hit by 72 m.p.h. blasts.

Snow also spread from western Nebraska to Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota. Minneapolis received an inch during the night and up to 3 inches was expected in parts of Nebraska and Kansas today.

Thunderstorms accompanied by hail and tornado warnings formed along a line from southeastern Kansas to Texas.

Whitney, Tex., was pounded with hail the size of golf balls and Wichita Falls was drenched by an inch of heavy rainfall.

A bolt of lightning set ablaze an oil-storage tank near Piedmont as thunderstorms hit central Oklahoma. Strong winds toppled a pair of trailer homes and damaged a lumber yard in Hennessey.

Tornado watches were continued for parts of Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

COMMISSIONER GREETED — Jim Baum, president of the Volunteer Council at Big Spring State Hospital, Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, and Jack Y. Smith, founding president of the council, were among those on hand to greet Dr. David Wade (right) here Thursday. Dr. Wade, commissioner for Mental Health and Mental Retardation, was here for the annual awards luncheon.

Outreach Programs Wave Of Future, Says Dr. Wade

Dr. David Wade, state commissioner for Mental Health and Mental Retardation, today saluted Dr. Preston Harrison and the Big Spring State Hospital for innovative programs.

The outreach program, launched in the Texas system by Dr. Harrison's pioneering Circuit Rider program, has become a pattern of the future, said Dr. Wade.

One of the challenges ahead is to provide equal opportunity of treatment and service to everyone regardless of location and circumstance, he said.

A good start has been made in the community mental health centers, said Dr. Wade, but the next step is to make certain that equal accessibility is afforded those out in rural or less populated areas.

The phenomenon of the community health centers, with autonomous boards, will call for some sort of accommodation or merger with the state system to coordinate and extend treatment opportunities, he said.

Dr. Wade, here to address the annual BSSH Volunteer Council awards luncheon, was honored during the morning at the Community room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, when a large number of local and area friends called to pay their respects. Dr. Wade is retiring at the end of August after a long and distinguished career in the field of mental health and in welfare work.

Public Beach Idea Is OKed

AUSTIN (AP) — A strong guarantee of the public's right to use state-owned beaches was approved 11-5 by the constitutional convention's General Provisions Committee today.

Later today, one of the convention's biggest sacred cows—the Permanent University Fund—was expected to amble through the convention hall, apparently impervious to delegates who would change her brand.

The beach provision says public beaches extend at least 200 feet inland from the line of mean low tide.

It was this language that upset some members of the committee, including Rep. Leroy Wieting, D-Corpus Christi.

Wieting said defining a line should be left up to the legislature.

"Now, Leroy," said Rep. John Wilson, D-La Grange, co-sponsor of the provision, "I know who wrote that (Wieting's proposal), and I know who he represents, and it's not the people of Texas."

Wilson said Wieting's proposal would establish "the right of the legislature to do away with it, to slowly but surely do away with it."

Wieting protested that Wilson was trying to say Wieting was opposed to saving the beaches for the public when in fact he was for it.

Shannon Rathiff, an Austin lawyer representing South Padre Development Corp., was asked outside the committee room if he had urged leaving a definition of beaches up to the legislature. He said he had.

Wilson denied that Rathiff was the person he was talking about. "I was just pulling Leroy's chain," Wilson said, obviously happy his proposal had been approved.

Texas Lawyer Is Under Indictment

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury today indicted a Texas lawyer on a charge of lying to a grand jury about dairy industry contributions to President Nixon's re-election campaign.

Indicted was Jake Jacobsen, 54, of Austin.

The indictment returned in U.S. District Court charged that Jacobsen lied in an appearance before a grand jury investigating whether there was any connection between dairy industry contributions and an administration decision to raise milk price supports in 1971.

Youthful Hero Who Hates Crime Captures Bandit

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A 13-year-old eighth grader who chased, captured and disarmed a robber says he did it because he hates crime.

"The money was somebody else's property, and he shouldn't have it," David Blake Limbrick said Wednesday.

David works as a janitor for a few hours each Saturday at the Cleaning Bar in northeast Portland.

He said he was washing windows last Saturday when a robber entered, showed a gun, and ordered the till opened. Also present were owner Muriel Rohr and another employee.

"He was about 5 feet 6 inches," said David, who stands 5-9½ and weighs 135. "He had a .22-caliber magnum revolver in his hand."

The robber took the money, left the shop and put the gun in his pocket.

David gave chase, but lost the man in a back yard.

"Finally I spotted his footprints in the mud and they led me right to him, squatted down by a garage," David said. "He didn't have the gun out."

"He said he'd give me the money just so I didn't turn him in. He said his wife was in the hospital. Then he handed the money over."

He said he grabbed the robber's arms and shoved him into the street.

"That's when I took his gun

Arkansas Tourism Is Hurt By Crisis

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas tourism, a thirsty fuel consumer, is braving the first winter of the energy shortage era.

The industry is surviving—with the help of the Governor's Emergency Fund, a statewide promotional program and some changes in travel schedules.

Lou Cherste, director of the Tourism Division of the state Department of Parks and Tourism, said he's going to be realistic about the energy crisis' effect on the tourism industry.

"I'm going to say we're going to feel the impact, but it's not going to mean an end to tourism," Oberste said. "It's going to mean tourism will become more competitive."

Oberste said he was concerned that some "marginal tourist facilities" might become casualties of the energy crisis.

"It's always the little guy operating on a short shoestring gets hurt whether it's in a fuel depression or an economic depression," he said.

Enforcement Class Revived

Law enforcement will take on a new face at Howard College at Big Spring beginning April 1 with the initiation of a police academy.

Theron Lee, acting director of law enforcement for the college, said he has completed a series of conferences with officials from Texas A&M University and the Big Spring police department to finalize the program.

Lee worked with both Vance Chisholm, police chief, and Dr. Ira Scott, director of law enforcement at A&M.

"The program is still in the planning stages," Lee added, "and we will release details as soon as they are available."

Howard College pioneered in the field of law enforcement technology, serving as the home of the Southwest Law Academy, the first in this region. Later enforcement technology became a two-year occupational course of study, while the academy continued to serve short-term needs.

Wallace Sire In Friday Sale

Friday is D Day for Leland Wallace and his entry in the first annual astro Stars Super Sale in the Houston Livestock Show. The sale features 27 of the greatest herd bull prospects in America.

He has entered Diamond Anxiety W 27, calved June 16, 1972. He is by Bar Diamond A48 R, out of Donna Anna 12 and goes back through Diamond Anxiety 9 on the sire's side and Anxiety King 75 on the dam's side. The young bull's 205 day adjusted weight was 621 pounds, and adjusted daily gain of 3.01 pounds.

Although Oberste is largely optimistic about the future of tourism, he foresees a "slight slump" in tourism in the early spring "as people adjust to the energy crisis more."

Oberste believes that when Amtrak restores passenger rail service to the state March 13, intrastate tourism will be boosted. Because the fuel shortage has increased the need for mass transit he said, "Amtrak will be very adaptable to our tourism, and in the end a necessity."

Gov. Dale Bumpers already has attributed the financial woes of at least one Arkansas tourist facilities to the energy crisis.

In December, he agreed to provide money from his emergency fund on a monthly basis to the Ozark Folk Center a craft and musical north of Mountain View. The center is closed for the winter.

So far, the governor has given the center a total of $76,022. Of this amount, $10,085 was given this month. The money is to pay certain staff salaries, maintenance and general operating costs and other expenses.

In his proclamation releasing the funds, Bumpers said the center's financial problems stem from "declining tourist visitors resulting from the energy shortage and unfavorable climactic conditions (which)

Robert Lee Sets Vote

The City of Robert Lee has called an election for March 16 for the purpose of letting citizens decide on a proposed contract to purchase water from the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

The district directors made an offer to the city at the January meeting, but the contract has to be ratified by the voters of Robert Lee.

Plans call for the city to run a pipeline from Lake E. V. Spence, two miles to the west, to the city's treatment plant and purchase water on much the same terms as San Angelo. The Upper Colorado River Authority has pledged to finance the pipeline for the project.

Robert Lee now obtains its water from wells and from the Mountain Lake reservoir near town, but which is almost depleted.

R. L. Wade Is Degree Winner

More than 370 students were candidates for Bachelor of Business Administration degrees from the University of Texas in Austin at the fall semester's close.

Robert Louis Wade of 1807 Winston and Edward Roy Tinsley III of 318 Terrace Circle in Lamesa number among these candidates.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Nine of ♠.

It is generally advantageous to have the lead—you can decide what suit to play and probe for the opposition's weak spot. However, South demonstrated ably that this is not always the case when he brought home an ambitious contract on today's hand.

Even though he held five trumps, North would have been wiser to content himself with a simple raise to two spades. The two queens in his short suits tended to decrease the value of his hand, which was not quite distributional enough to merit a jump to game.

West appeared to get his side off to a fine start by attacking the heart suit. Declarer did not think much of his chances, for if left to his own devices he would have to lose at least one trick in each suit. His only hope was to enlist the services of his opponents to bail him out of this predicament.

Accordingly, declarer played low from dummy at trick one and won the ace in his hand. He cashed the ace of spades—a vital move in his plan—and then led a heart to the queen and East's king. East did not relish the prospect of being on lead. A heart would allow declarer to ruff in his hand while discarding dummy's club loser, and a club would be up to dummy's queen. He decided therefore to lead a low diamond. Declarer played low, and West did well to insert the nine. Dummy's ten won, and declarer continued with his plan by leading a spade. This time West was on the lead, and he had no safe exit.

Whatever he led, declarer would make the contract if he could guess the location of the cards. Suppose West led a diamond—declarer would lead that round to his queen, and so would lose no diamond tricks. A club would be no better, for declarer could play low from dummy and so avoid a loser in that suit.

Note that best defense for East was to return a heart at trick four. To make the contract, declarer would have to ruff in his hand and discard a club from dummy. After cashing the ace of clubs and ruffing a club, declarer throws West in with a trump. He ruffs the club return and then plays a diamond, covering any card East plays to endplay West once more.

Deadline Moved For Switches

Supt. H. D. Smith announced this week he has received notice from Leon R. Graham, assistant commissioner for administration, Texas Education Agency, that the deadline for parents, who wish to transfer children from their home school district to Forsan School for the 1974-75 scholastic year, should make necessary application in the Forsan High School Tax Office by May 1, 1974. This one month earlier than in the past.

The May 1 deadline for requests will enable school districts to file summary reports with the TEA by May 15, Smith pointed out.

These reports will be reviewed by TEA to make sure none of the transfer requests violate U. S. District Court Order 5281 issued by Justice William Wayne Justice in Tyler on April 2, 1971. Under this order, any transfer of students from one school district to another must not change the racial or ethnic balance in either the home or receiving district by more than one per cent.

If the balance is altered by more than one per cent, the transfers will be denied, Graham stated.

College Receives Several Books

Several private donors have contributed books to the shelves of the library of Howard College at Big Spring.

The library has received recently, through local citizens, both books and periodicals, according to Mrs. Joy Burned, acting librarian.

Ray Broadbent, attorney-at-law for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, has given the library 76 books of law.

Miss Gladys Burnham, retired instructor at Howard College and presently teaching a night class, has given several years of back copies of science periodicals.

Net Tourney Slated Here

Lubbock Coronado will be the team favorite, but the host Steers are expected to challenge for a couple of individual crowns in the Big Spring Invitational Tennis Tournament here Friday and Saturday.

The two-day affair will kick off Friday at noon at three local sites, and on Saturday play will resume at 9 a.m. Girls' action will be at the Figure Seven Tennis Center Friday while the boys will play at the college and high school courts.

On Saturday all winners' matches will be played at the Center, headquarters for the tournament. Steer tennis coach Novice Kniffen is the meet director.

Steer netter Randy Mattingley, beaten only once this year, will be the favorite in the boys' singles action, while Judy Jordan will be strong in the girls' singles play. Main competition for both will come from Coronado netters.

In boys' doubles, Charles Key and Doug Davis of Coronado rate the pre-meet nod, and among their challengers will be Hayes Stripling and Hugh Porter of Big Spring.

Big Springers Vicky Murphy and Linda Little will be out to upset girls' doubles picks Vivian Farmer and Nancy Crawford of Andrews.

Coronado is the defending team champion, and their depth makes the Mustangs the pick again in the meet. Big Spring and Andrews are likely to challenge the Coronado group.

Also entered are Monahan, Sweetwater, Snyder, Big Spring and "B" and a combined team of Forsan and Coahoma netters.

Steers Enter Comanche Run

FORT STOCKTON — West Texas' track season officially gets under way this weekend with the Fort Stockton Comanche Relays, and the Big Spring Steers are almost certain to improve on their not-so-impressive showing of a year ago.

The Steers won't be among the contenders for the Class AAAA team title — that honor should be reserved for San Angelo or Odessa Permian — but Coach Glenn Petty's crew, which failed to score a point last year, will have several individual contenders this time.

Action gets under way in the three-division meet at 2:15 p.m. Friday with preliminaries slated in all events, and on Saturday the finals will begin at 2 p.m.

Sam Dodson will be among the favorites in the pole vault, after clearing 14-0 three times this year. The Steer vaulter placed third in the huge Astrodome Federation Track and Field Meet two weeks ago.

The Steers should also be strong in the mile relay, after legging a 3:25.9 in crowded conditions at the Houston event. Donald Walters, Bobby Mayo, Don Beene and Doug Smith make up both the mile and 440-yard relay quartets.

Their best in the sprint relay has been 44.1.

Coahoma Lands 9 On All-Star Team

The Coahoma girls basketball team, which dominated District 7-AA play with a 10-0 record, also dominated all-district voting by landing nine players — all six starters and three reserves — on the honor team.

Five Bulldogettes were named to the first team, including all three starting guards, Sheryl Hulme, Jennie Kohanek and Dale Mitchell. Theresa Beal headed up the list of forwards, along with teammate Sherry Griffin. All five are seniors.

Stanton landed one girl player on the 10-girl first team, senior guard Barbara Trimble. Rounding out the list of guards was Karen Smith of McCamey, while Carla Dillard of Crane, Rhonda Teel of Reagan County and LeAnn Waddell of McCamey were the other starting forwards.

Coahoma's other forward sophomore Becky Snell, topped the second unit and she was joined by Claudia Nichols and Fawn Briggs of Stanton, Elma Gomez of McCamey, Dorothy Phillips of Reagan County and Martha Cantu of Ozona.

Second team guards included Mona Honea and Roilyn Welch of Coahoma, Darlynn Stewart of Stanton, Melinda George of Reagan County, Sarah Valentine and Sarah Harris of McCamey and Sylvia Flores of Ozona.

Dog Netters Top Forsan

COAHOMA — Coahoma nudged Forsan 11-4 in dual tennis action Tuesday, the first match of the season.

Alan Roman of Coahoma topped Randy Walls of Forsan 8-6 in the No. 1 boys' singles match, and in the No. 1 girls' bout Brown of Coahoma upended Nichols of Forsan.

Coahoma also won both featured doubles matches.

HC Fems Hit Road

WEATHERFORD — The Howard College women's basketball team tries to get back on the winning track today when it visits Weatherford for a 4 p.m. clash.

The Hawk Queens, 3-5 on the year, dropped back-to-back home games to Ranger and West Texas State here Monday and Tuesday. West Texas nudged the Hawks 47-41 while Ranger scored a big 69-24 decision.

Marian Hobson led the Queens in both games, hitting 14 against WTSU and eight against Ranger. Sylvia Montano, Sally Echols, Debbie Lambert and Cathy Reed will join Hobson in the starting lineup tonight.

On Friday the HC women enter the Texas Women's University tournament in Denton, battling Texas Tech in first round action of the 16-team event.

DESPITE CRITICISM Cincy To Miss Aaron

ATLANTA (AP) — Hank Aaron, Atlanta's 40-year-old slugger on the threshold of baseball's all-time home run record, says the criticism surrounding the Braves' decision to withhold him from the starting lineup in the opening series won't make him change his mind.

"No chance," Aaron said, shaking his head Wednesday night when asked if he might go ahead and start one of the games in the three-game series at Cincinnati April 4-7.

The decision, announced Saturday by Bill Bartholomay, chairman of the Braves, has triggered considerable criticism from sports writers around the country and particularly in the New York area.

"I look at it from the standpoint of no matter what I do, I'll get criticism," he said during an interview at a $25-a-ticket function that raised $10,150 for the Hank Aaron Scholarship Fund.

"The people of Atlanta are the people I have to please," he said. "I'd rather get criticism in New York than in my hometown. I can take it there. We don't go there but a couple of times a year."

The Braves said Aaron would be available for pinch-hitting duties in Cincinnati, but that he won't start a game until the home opener against Los Angeles on April 8. That game launches an 11-game stand for the Braves and club officials are hoping he will belt Nos. 714 and 715 during that time to pass the mark of the immortal Babe Ruth.

"What the heck," Aaron said. "You have to look at it from the financial standpoint of the Braves. And, besides, I haven't been doing too well early in the season for the past five years or so."

Aaron has never homered in a season opener. He has sat out only three of them during his career — in 1954, his rookie campaign, 1959 and 1965.

There has been public criticism that the Braves will be playing only a 158-game schedule without Aaron in the first three games, making those three little more than exhibitions.

Aaron pointed out that he played only 120 games last year and wondered if that made the other 42 exhibitions.

"Let's face it," he said. "I have to play when I think I can help the club and I can't do it by playing every day. I'm just not as strong as I used to be."

Locals Capture Handball Wins

LUBBOCK — Tito Arenchibia captured third place honors and A. J. Pirkle won consolation honors in the recent Regency Health Club Invitational Handball Tournament in Lubbock.

Both were competing in the A division.

UT To Miss Fort Worth Track Event

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The University of Texas track and field team will not return to defend its title in the Southwest Recreational track meet Friday and Saturday.

But it isn't that the Longhorns are mad at the event, although a questionable bumping incident resulting in disqualification in the mile relay left a sour taste in the Texas' mouth last year.

Some indecision about the date resulted in a contract conflict whereby Texas and Texas Christian University are committed to a home meet with North Texas in Denton.

Texas won 138 points last year in the invitation class to a total of 137 for the other five teams combined.

"We'll be back next year," Longhorn Coach Cleburne Price told Otis Cardwell, director of the Fort Worth affair.

The invitational class entries will be slim this year with only Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, University of Texas-Arlington and Louisiana Tech entered. Abilene Christian College has dropped down to the university-college division after being in the invitational a year ago.

Louisiana Tech, winner of the university-college class last year, will be in the invitational class. Tech and SMU are rated as the teams to beat.

Howard Payne, Dallas Baptist and Jackson State appear the class of the university-college class.

WINNING FORM — Top-seeded John Newcombe of New South Wales, Australia sends one over the net during the first round of the World Championship Tennis tournament at Nassau Coliseum Tuesday. Newcombe defeated Frank Froehling in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3.

Houston's Entry In WFL Prepares For Bidding War

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston franchise in the World Football League will be going head to head with the National Football League when it starts trying to sign players drafted last month.

All six players drafted by the franchise, then located at Memphis, also were picked in the NFL's player draft in January.

Kansas quarterback David Jaynes, picked in the third round by Kansas City of the NFL, was the first player selected in the WFL's draft.

Jaynes has contracted with a New York agency to negotiate his football contract and has said he'll do what's best for his career.

Southern Cal wide receiver Lynn Swann was taken by the Houston team in the second round but he was a first round selection of the Pittsburgh Steelers in the NFL draft.

Houston's third through sixth round picks were Fred Cook, Southern Mississippi defensive end; Haskell Stanback, Tennessee running back; Cliff Taylor, Memphis State running back and Butch Veazey, Mississippi tight end.

Cook was taken in the second round by Baltimore. Stanback went to Cincinnati in the fifth round, Taylor was picked by Chicago in the third round and the New York Jets selected Veazey in the seventh round.

Thinking that everyone has to enlist in the Army as a Private...

is like thinking that a master chef must start as a bus boy.

ONLY THE ARMY OFFERS STRIPES FOR SKILLS

Like business and industry, the Army rewards know-how with money and position. And, that's just for openers. There are promotions coming right up. After 16 weeks, you will be promoted to the pay grade in line with your demonstrated skill level. We call this opportunity "Stripes for Skills." It means if you have a skill — any of 165 skills — there's a good, steady job and an advanced rank open to you. Check it out. And, take a close look at the new Army pay scale. We think you'll be impressed. Today's Army may be just the place to make the most of what you've got.

A COOK FOR EXAMPLE:					TOTAL:
CAN ENLIST AS AN E-3 AND EARN	Base Pay	Housing	Food	Clothing	$556.50
	$377.70	$105.00	$68.40	$5.40
	(after 6 months)				a month

* The figures shown are for a married person. If you are single, housing and food are furnished.

In addition to dollars and cents pay, you also receive 30 days paid vacation a year, medical and dental care, retirement and other valuable benefits.

Simon, Oil Firms Sued By State Of Maryland

The state of Maryland has filed suit against federal energy chief William E. Simon and 20 major oil companies in an effort to force them to increase the state's monthly gasoline allocation.

bonus will go to major metropolitan areas; in Florida, most of the new allocation will relieve hard-hit industries; and in Missouri, where officials say motorists are not suffering, the gasoline will go to farmers, school buses and public transportation.

It's up to the governor of each state to decide where the fuel, being added to already established state emergency supplies, will go. But however the gasoline is distributed, most officials say it will only ease the problem — not solve it.

C.L. Melenzyer, director of Alabama's energy board, said even with the 5.24 million gallons the state is getting, Alabamians will have 18 million gallons less gasoline than they had last February.

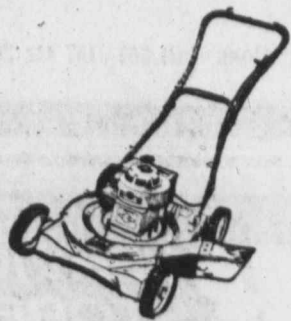

Massachusetts officials calculated that with 3.1 million vehicles registered in the state, the 3.24 million extra allocation would mean only about one gallon per motorist if distributed equally. But Gov. Francis W. Sargent said the bonus gasoline will go to "major metropolitan areas where the lines are longest and it's needed most."

Missouri officials said motorists in the state, which received 3.1 million gallons in the bonus allocations, had few gasoline problems, except on weekends.

The situation contrasted with that in New York state where even on weekdays motorists in many urban areas have found long lines at service stations.

State energy officials, who called the 8 million extra gallons a "drop in the bucket," said the fuel probably would go to service stations in the New York metropolitan area, the Hudson Valley and across the western tier of the state.

Party Molds With Dazzle Make Hostess' Reputation

Gelatin dishes come to the party in ways frankly intended to dazzle. A molded gelatin dish, handsomely garnished, always looks as though it emerged from the kitchen of a blue-ribbon cook. But in fact the following elegant recipes are virtually "goofproof," even for the novice cook.

Curried Chicken Cheesecake takes many forms at party time. It may be served at the cocktail hour in small portions as an hors d'oeuvre. It may appear as an elegant appetizer for the company dinner. It may take center stage as a handsome entree for the buffet supper.

Like its dessert counterpart, this molded cheesecake has a wonderfully velvety texture. And like other gelatin dishes there's no cooking — only the few minutes required to dissolve the gelatin. This delicious dish combines chopped cooked chicken, creamed cottage cheese and whipped cream; lemon juice, chutney and onion give the mixture brisk, nippy flavor.

Guacamold is another splendid appetizer or elegant main dish salad. It's a molded version of guacamole, the Mexican favorite, and combines most of the classic ingredients: avocado, onion, lemon juice, and chili powder. Add sour cream for a tangy touch, chill in a ring mold, and serve with tacos or crackers.

For a festive party with real dazzle, go all out and offer both these suave gelatin molds at a buffet. They may be made a day ahead to avoid last-minute hassle, helping you to be a charming and relaxed hostess.

CURRIED CHICKEN CHEESECAKE

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup milk
2 chicken bouillon cubes
2 eggs, separated
1/4 tsp. salt
3 cups (24 ozs.) mild creamed cottage cheese
2 tps. lemon juice
2 cups finely chopped cooked chicken
1/4 cup finely chopped chutney
1/4 cup diced pimiento
2 tps. minced onion
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Sprinkle gelatin over milk in saucepan. Add bouillon cubes and egg yolks; mix well. Place over low heat and stir constantly until gelatin and bouillon cubes dissolve and mixture thickens slightly, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in salt and curry powder.

Sieve or beat cottage cheese at high speed of electric mixer until smooth; stir into gelatin mixture. Stir in lemon juice, chicken, IMPRESSIVE and delectable is this Curried Chicken Cheesecake as it comes to the party as an elegant snack or appetizer. It looks most elaborate but is virtually "goofproof".

chutney, pimiento and onion. Chill, if necessary, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into an 8-inch spring form pan. Chill until firm. Loosen side of pan with tip of knife; release spring form and remove side of pan. Garnish with ring of toasted slivered almonds and white grapes on lemon leaves. Yield 24 appetizer portions.

GUACAMOLD

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
4 cups mashed ripe

avocado
1 cup sour cream
2 tps. salt
1 tsp. grated onion
Juice of 1 lemon (3 tps.)
1/4 tsp. coriander
2 tps. chili powder
1-16 tsp. cayenne

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves, 4 or 5 minutes. Remove from heat; cool. Blend together avocado and sour cream in mixing bowl. Stir in remaining ingredients. Blend in gelatin mixture. Turn into a 6-cup ring mold; chill until firm. Unmold. Serve with tacos or appetizer portions.

Pantry Pickups

Add diced baked ham that's left over to a cheese sauce and serve over crisp toast.

Liquid left over after cooking vegetables may be used for diluting canned soup.

To make good coffee for two, using a drip pot, use 4 tablespoons of all-purpose grind coffee and 1 1/2 cups measuring cups of water.

Fill sponge-cake cups (available in supermarkets) with lemon-pie filling made from a packaged mix. Top with whipped cream and garnish with flaked coconut or toasted slivered almonds. Quick and easy party dessert.

To stretch a package of frozen mixed fruit, add orange sections.

Fill canned peach halves with ready-to-use mince-meat and place in a shallow baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven until hot — about 20 minutes. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream.

If you are bent on saving time, limit the number of dishes needing much preparation time to one or two per meal. And serve fruit — fresh, canned or frozen — often for dessert.

Don't backtrack when you are cooking! Assemble all the ingredients needed for a dish before you start to make it.

Basic Facts About Gelatin

Unflavored gelatin is a pure food protein... unlike box mixes which may contain 85 per cent sugar plus artificial flavoring and coloring.

HOW MUCH

One envelope of unflavored gelatin has been scientifically premeasured to gel up to 1 pint liquid.

VERSATILITY

Delectable gelatin treats turn up for every course on the menu: appetizers, gelled soups, salads, relishes, main dishes... and such splendid desserts as chiffon pie, mousses, Bavarian creams. Because of their shape and sparkle, gelatin dishes always look handsome.

Buttered Rice Bed For Fowl

There he was — regal and aristocratic, star of the feast — the noble turkey. But see that noble bird after that first big dinner — a veritable shadow of his former self. Still good, but in need of a little stretching out.

Dice it and dress it up with a smooth Foremost Sour Cream sauce that whispers "curry." Extend yesterday's banquet even further by simmering a generous potful of rice, and while it cooks to fat fluffiness, slice thin wedges of tart apples and arrange them on crisp greens for salad. If you're waiting a while for dinner, sprinkle the slices with lemon juice to keep them from turning brown.

SOUR CREAM TURKEY CURRY

1/4 cup chopped onion
3 tps. butter
2 tps. curry powder
3 tps. flour
1 (10-1/2 oz.) can chicken broth
1/4 tsp. salt
3 cups diced cooked turkey or chicken
1 cup Foremost Sour Cream
Chopped Parsley or Chives

Saute onion in butter with curry powder until soft but not brown. Stir in flour, and cook a minute or two, stirring. Blend in broth and salt. Cook and stir until sauce boils and thickens. Add turkey (or chicken), and heat through. Blend in sour cream; heat gently, but do not boil. Sprinkle with

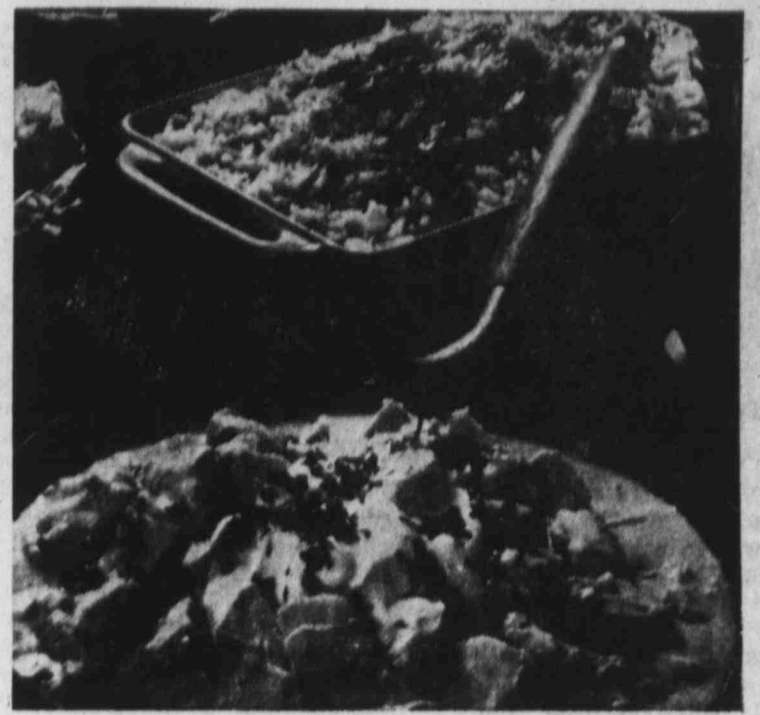

Method Used For Storing Egg Yolks

Cover leftover egg yolks in cold water and store in a tightly-closed container in the refrigerator. Use them within two days, advises Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Parsley Buttered Rice:

Heat 3 cups water and 1 1/2 teaspoons salt to boiling. Slowly add 1 1/2 cups raw regular rice; cover, and turn heat low. Simmer about 20 minutes, until water is absorbed and rice is tender. Add 1/2 cup butter and 1 tablespoon chopped parsley; mix lightly with a fork. Turn into serving dish and sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese and dill weed. Garnish with green

A special milk for growing people.

It's special because it's from Borden. Borden knows that growing up is a hard job. It takes lots of energy and lots of help. And Borden Milk provides some of that help. It's a rich whole milk left pretty much the way Nature made it except for the addition of Vitamin D. And your growing people will love the taste... it's something good to grow on.

If it's Borden, it's got to be good.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE MIX

Too Crowded

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old guy who came to New York with a buddy. We teamed up with another guy, and the three of us share a two-bedroom apartment. It's a great location for all of us, and we split the rent.

My buddy (the one I came to New York with) invited his girl friend from back home to come to New York and stay at his pad. She's still here and plans to stay indefinitely. (She and my buddy share one bedroom, and the other guy and I share one.)

I recently met Joan, who's the nicest gal I've ever known. She asked me where I lived, and I told her I lived with two other guys. Then I mentioned this girl who's staying with my buddy. Joan blew her stack and said she didn't like the idea of a girl living in the same apartment with me even though I have nothing to do with her. I'm serious about Joan. She's a very classy gal, but she insists that either the girl should move, or I should. What do you think?

MR. CLEAN: If anybody should move, it should be your buddy who invited his girl friend to bunk with him. That's not the deal you made originally. Joan's objections are valid, so if the shacker-upper won't budge, you'd be wise to move. It's easier to find another pad than another classy gal.

DEAR ABBY: Please reassure the wife who lamented that she had been smothering in bed, but short elsewhere during 27 years of marriage:

1. A lady's enthusiasm has everything to do with a man's virility (rhymes with ability);

2. Love and sex are not synonymous, but they can be mighty close kin;

3. Anybody can learn to cook, and I'll bet what's-name whistles while he fixes breakfast every morning.

OLD HUSBAND: And I'll bet you're right!

DEAR ABBY: My own tendency to be late was cured when someone said that tardiness is the subtlest form of self-love and conceit — counting your time and convenience more important than another's.

Perhaps that is why the tardiness of my in-laws ruffles me so. They are consistently late, a half hour to an hour and a half, even for a dinner when others are involved.

Don't suggest that I give them an earlier arrival time. One family member did this, and when it was discovered, retaliation set in. How would you handle this? (Short of excluding these members from family gatherings.)

OFFENDED AND BAFLED
DEAR O AND B: Don't sweat it. Invite them only on those occasions when their late arrival will not inconvenience YOU!

DEAR ABBY: I am writing about a relative of mine. She has built a chapel in her home, and I mean, it's as big as some churches have. She must have spent a fortune on it. I want to know is this proper to do — religion-wise? This woman has a church to go to. She doesn't have to have a church right in her own home.

Her chapel is like a cathedral. She even has a cross on the roof! It looks to me like it is an insult to her own church. I would appreciate your opinion, and I'd also like to know how ministers feel about this.

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: A chapel is a place to pray, right? So what's improper about building a place to pray in one's home?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DOING IT MY WAY": You'll never get away with it. The sins we do two by two, we pay for one by one.

Retirees Meet For Luncheon

Mrs. Carol Cervenka, executive director of the Dallas Chapter, Epilepsy Foundation of America, spoke Tuesday to the Big Spring-Howard County Retired Teachers Association at the Downtown Tea Room. She cited the benefits to be derived from the Permian Chapter, of which Howard County is a member.

Mrs. Faye Newman presided, and the invocation was by Martin Landers.

The second part of the program was given by Miss Sherry Mullin, Howard County home demonstration agent, who explained the aims and purposes of the Howard County Council on Aging. She was introduced by Bill Dawes.

Announcement was made of the acquisition of a building on Howard College campus which will be used as a meeting place for retired persons' organizations and senior citizens.

Girl Scouts To Hold 'Globe 74' Saturday

Girl Scouts of Big Spring, Coahoma, Garden City and Stanton are getting together to celebrate their own "International Thinking Day" at Highland Shopping Center Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Girls from these participating troops have been planning and preparing for their presentation of a selected country for this event, known as GLOBE 74. There will be a sharing of international exchanges for the public to view.

Girl Scouts and Girl Guides all over the world reserve Feb. 22 as "International Thinking Day", a time taken aside from busy activities to honor the love, peace and friendship of all nations. Girls learn the differences and similarities of foreign countries to their own, an important segment of the Girl Scout program.

At GLOBE 74, troops will display, for the public, their own findings. Many activities will be found there, such as folk dances, games, songs from other lands, food preparations, recipes, skits, handicrafts and collections.

Bridge Winners At Country Club

Winners have been announced for the regular Ladies Gold Association duplicate bridge games held Wednesday afternoon at Big Spring Country Club. Taking top tallies were Mrs. Ward Hall and Mrs. Hayes Stripling, first; Mrs. F. L. Randel and Mrs. Joe Herbert, second; Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, third; and Mrs. Henry Bell and Mrs. Morris Rhodes, fourth.

Rebekahs Get Lodge Instruction

Mrs. Charles Leek, noble grand for John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge, presided at a Tuesday evening meeting at the IOOF Hall.

The 18 members attending reported 35 visits to the sick during the past week. Mrs. Ralph LaLonde read a resolution of sympathy in memory of the late J. C. Pye.

Initial plans were made by the lodge members to have a monthly birthday party; the next being at 7:15 p.m., Tuesday at the lodge hall. Following that meeting will be a practice session for the initiation drill team. The meeting concluded with Mrs. Grady Beck and Everett Hood conducting lodge instruction.

Change Made

Big Spring Community Concert ticket holders (who have reciprocity with the Midland series) are reminded that the appearance in Midland of the Edward Villella Ballet Troupe has been changed from Feb. 23 to sometime in April. The new date will be announced.

SHOULD FURNITURE BE POSITIONED STRAIGHT OR ON A DIAGONAL?

People often ask if they should put their furniture parallel to a wall — or whether it's all right to place some furniture diagonally.

Generally speaking, a room usually looks better if the big pieces run parallel to a wall. This seems to create more unity, it is more pleasing to the eye and is often more practical. However, like most rules of decorating, there can be exceptions based on personal preference or specific room situations, so there are times when major pieces could be placed diagonally, but most decorators prefer parallel placement in the majority of cases for the big pieces.

Small pieces, on the other hand, may often be turned at an angle to a larger piece. By doing this you can break up an over abundance of straight lines in a room, and give a room more interest and convenience.

Another thing to consider is that even though you are placing a big piece, such as a sofa, parallel to a wall, the sofa doesn't necessarily have to cling to the wall. You might want to try floating it in the room — and still keep its lines parallel to a wall even though it is not close against that wall.

Whatever your preferences are, remember that we can help you select beautiful furniture — and give you ideas on how to place your furniture in the most beautiful way, too. Stop in.

Child Welfare, Zero Population Growth Examined By AAUW

Don DeLeeuw, president of the Parent-Teacher Association City Council, told the reasons why he feels Big Spring needs a child welfare worker when he was one of the two guest speakers Monday evening for the American Association of University Women.

He said there have been various individuals and organizations trying to get a child welfare worker since 1962.

"Probably, the main reason we have failed in our attempts in the past to get a child welfare worker is due to the lack of documentation of the number of cases in Big Spring," said DeLeeuw. "The Family Code, which is now in effect in Texas gives legal authority for citizens to become involved and gives courts the necessary action to get proper care for children who are abused and mistreated by parents."

Continuing, DeLeeuw said Big Spring needs a child welfare worker for these reasons:

(1) percentages show alcoholics abuse their children in many cases, and Big Spring has its share of alcoholics, (2) Midland and Odessa both have child welfare workers and average about 75 cases a month, which means that Big Spring would probably average 40 cases a month after getting information from sources such as doctors, schools, individuals and organizations who have reported known cases of child abuse.

"We know we have a problem of child abuse in Big Spring," said DeLeeuw, "because we are getting feedback on questionnaires which we mailed to various individuals in the city. We, the PTA, need support from everyone, and you can help by reporting cases of known child abuse to the welfare office in Big Spring."

Dr. R. J. Seyse, chemistry instructor at Howard College, presented the second part of the program, speaking on Zero Population Growth.

"Ultimately, world population growth will have to be brought under control by some means," said Dr.

Seyse, presenting the group with statistics relating to world population growth and making correlations with global natural resources, food production and energy capabilities.

"We don't worry about overcrowding in the wide, open spaces of Texas, but eventually, it will reach even here," noted Dr. Seyse, a native of Brooklyn N.Y.

"The eventual control of world population figures will take a great amount of international cooperation."

The speaker said that the organization, Zero Population Growth, supports the idea that each couple should have not more than two children. The ZPG has organized to let people know what an increase in population can do to the United States and to the world.

Dr. Seyse feels that people should think about how many children they bring into the world. He said possibly some couples should have more than two children if they are exceptionally interested and can maintain a good family relationship, yet there are other couples who are just not prepared or interested in having any children. The individual must make the decision himself, but he should consider seriously whether to bring another individual into the world in a day of energy and food shortages.

Another fund-raising project will be a bake sale in March at Highland Center Mall. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., March 2 in the home of Mrs. Troy Melton, 1503 E. 3rd. At that time, a new vice president will be elected.

The meeting was held in the First Federal Community Room. Ms. Cindy Schaffer, president, announced that new officers will be elected at the March meeting. The AAUW is working on a preschool directory with listings of private nurseries, day care centers, kindergartens and baby sitters in the Big Spring area. Those persons interested in being included in the directory should contact Mrs. Lois Cave at 267-6445.

Car Fumes Can Harm Evergreens

Warming up an automobile on a cold winter day by idling it in the driveway or at an open garage door is good practice. But it can have harmful effects on nearby evergreens and deciduous shrubs.

The exhaust fumes pouring onto shrubs have been known to kill needles and entire branches of evergreens. The fumes are absorbed through lenticels or breathing pores, on the bark of both evergreen and deciduous shrubs. The months later scorch-like injury shows up similar to the singeing of leaves of overhanging branches along streets during the summer from the fumes of diesel trucks.

Again, heat from auto exhausts may break dormancy of shrubs lining a driveway. Then when temperatures drop, killing injury results.

Spice Accents Sweet Potatoes

This goes good with holiday dishes

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES
1/4 cup butter
6 medium sweet potatoes, cooked and pared
3/4 cup Concord grape jam
1 tsp. ground allspice
1 tsp. slivered orange rind
Melt butter in a large skillet.
Add potatoes; top with jam. Sprinkle with allspice and cook uncovered, about 20 minutes, over low heat. Baste occasionally. Turn potatoes once. Just before serving garnish with orange rind. Makes 6 servings.

Lubbock Rites Unite Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Settles are at home at 2913 Canton, Lubbock, following their marriage at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 2 in the home of Mrs. Ethel Stokes in Lubbock.

The bride is the former Mary Gale Kinsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Kinsey of Sweetwater. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Settles of Big Spring.

The Rev. Clifton Igo performed the ceremony as the couple repeated vows before an improvised altar created with a background of greenery flanked by white candles and miniature doves.

Burr Lee Settles Jr. of Big Spring served as best man for his cousin, and the maid of honor was Miss Kathy Christopher.

The bride wore a white floor-length gown of double knit fashioned with long sleeves and pleated skirt. Her only jewelry was a gold cross, a gift from the bridegroom, and she wore an orchid corsage.

Immediately after the

Mrs. Chambers Given Locket

Mrs. R. A. Chambers was presented a locket, in honor of being the only great-grandmother in the Pioneer Sewing Club, when the women met Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. H. Cardwell of Forsan was hostess, and 14 members participated in an afternoon of sewing on individual projects.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., March 5 in the home of Mrs. Chambers.

Terry R. Robys Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Ray Roby, 1014 Nolan, announce the birth of a daughter, Tara Rene, at 11:34 p.m., Feb. 18 at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital, weighing 6 pounds, 13 ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mason, 1013 Bluebonnet, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Christich, Duluth, Minn. Mrs. C. C. Mason, Big Spring, is the maternal great-grandparent and the paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Franz Langer of Germany.

Coffee Is Slated For Rushees

Alpha Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, will host a get-acquainted coffee for rushees Saturday from 2 to 3 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Chuck Ogle, 1400 Birdwell Lane. Arrangements have been made by the social committee headed by Mrs. Larry Harp.

Plans for the event were made Tuesday evening during a meeting in the Harp home on Wasson Road. Mrs. Jack Parrott, president, presided, announcing that the chapter will have a couples' party March 23 at First Federal Community Room. Crazy Bridge will be played, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The women agreed to donate to the state BSP project, which is assisting a BSP member in Lubbock who is having financial difficulties. Also, the chapter will donate clothing items for the West Side Day Care Center.

Mrs. Parrott presented the program, "To See and To Know", discussing the differences between a mystic and a philosopher.

At the conclusion of the program, a baby shower was held for Mrs. Simon Terrazas.

The next meeting will be March 5 in the home of Mrs. Floyd Smith, 1004 Howell, at 7:30 p.m.

MRS. ROBERT SETTLES

ceremony, a reception honoring the couple was held in the Stokes home.

The bride is a graduate of Sweetwater High School and a 1973 graduate of Texas Tech University. She was recipient of the Sweetwater Business and Professional Women's Club scholarship for four years. She is employed by Carlock and Murchough Cotton Company in Lubbock. Settles will be a spring graduate of Texas Tech and is employed by Pinkerton Agency in Lubbock.

PTA Founding Told In Student Program

Students presented a program on the founding of the Parent-Teacher Association when the Airport PTA held its February meeting at the school. The national organization was founded in 1897 at Washington, D. C. under the guidance of Alice McLeellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst.

Mrs. Jerald Burgess, president, presided as members planned a chili supper March 7, preceding the PTA meeting which will begin at 6 p.m. The date of the meeting was set back one week to coincide with public school week.

The project committee gave a report and said it would take the plans before the school board.

Due to re-districting of state PTA districts, the 16th district will hold its final conference April 29-30. Due to the change, the Big Spring area will go into the 17th district and will be a part of a much larger area. The district will include 15 counties.

Chosen "sweethearts" for the school were Ernie Smith and Linda Winton, and the room count went to Mrs. David Fortson's second grade class. The door prize was won by Mrs. James Ezzell.

Spool Becomes Pert Pin Cushion

Turn an empty spool into a perky pin cushion that looks like a plump mushroom. Place cotton batting in the center of a six-inch square of polka-dotted cotton. Put the four corners together and pull through the spool as tightly as possible. Then tie the end and cut off the extra fabric. Paint the spool to coordinate with the fabric.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Allred, Box 54, Knott, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Janet Darlene, to Gary Dean Christenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Christensen, 708 E. 3rd, Big Spring. The couple will be married March 22 at the home of the bride's parents.

Men's Club Advised On Pruning

The Men's Garden Club received instruction in the principals of good pruning when the group held its Tuesday evening meeting at the U.S. Experiment Station.

The speaker was Johnny Johansen, who said pruning should be done to enhance beauty, increase yield (as in the case of fruit trees) and to make the tree or shrub grow properly.

He exhibited several things he had pruned that previously had not been pruned correctly, and he showed damage which can be done with improper pruning. He said the cuts should be made as smooth to the trunk as possible, so that it will heal over more quickly. If the cut is over an inch in diameter, it should be doctored with pruning paint.

Edward Cruz presided for the business session, and plans were made for the annual plant sale in Highland Center Mall. The tentative date is April 10, with Bill Sneed as chairman. Ordinarily, the last killing frost is no later than April 10, so it would be good to plant after that time.

Also, on April 18 at 7:30 p.m., in the Fair Barn, there will be a school on budding and grafting which will be open to the public. There will be no charge to hear the out-of-town speaker who is an expert in this field.

Announcement was made of the regional convention in Austin April 20, which several of the local men gardeners will attend.

The next regular meeting of the club will be March 19 at the experiment station when members will conduct their annual soil-testing program.

Unmolding Only Takes A Jiffy

For family service, any recipe that calls for a mold may be set in individual dessert dishes or a big bowl. This eliminates unmolding; for the bowl, just scoop out with a large spoon.

At party time, a sparkling mold always looks impressive, is simple to unmold: Dip the mold in warm (not hot) water to the depth of its contents. Loosen around the edge with the tip of a paring knife.

Place a serving dish tightly on top of the mold and turn it upside down. Shake, holding the serving dish to the mold. If gelatin does not readily slip out, repeat the procedure.

PTA Plans Reception In March

Mrs. Hazel Smart, a dental assistant, as guest speaker for the College Heights Parent-Teacher Association February meeting at the school.

"Ninety-five per cent of teeth loss is due to gum disease," said Mrs. Smart. "This is the reason we need to learn to brush correctly and have regular check-ups. An aid to healthy teeth is the fluoride toothpastes and using a good, soft bristle brush." She noted that yellow teeth are much stronger than white ones.

Mrs. Jimmy Townsend, president, told of a plan to use an empty room at the school for a PTA room which will serve as an information center and storage area.

The project committee recommended that two pieces of playground equipment be bought as the project of the year, and this was approved. The nominating committee report was given by Mrs. Charlie Shanks, and officers elected for 1974-5 were Mrs. Townsend, president; Mrs. A. C. Jones, vice president; Mrs. Billy Plew, secretary; and Mrs. Jim Bailey, treasurer.

Jim Beam, principal, announced that the school will hold an open house 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., March 7 in conjunction with Public School Week. The PTA will serve refreshments and will have the PTA room open for visitation. Mrs. Maurice Koger won the door prize, and Mrs. S. A. Walker's fifth grade class won the room count. Refreshments were served in honor of Founders Day.

The speaker presented each member with small jade plants and explained how to care for them. She said they should not be transplanted unless necessary and then only to a pot one to two inches larger than the one they were in. In addition, she said all house plants should be sprayed lightly with water every day and that, once

International Club To Observe Anniversary

Mrs. Miriam Johnson, new president of the International Women's Club, introduced other officers at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Marga Palmer, 2305 Mishler. Sharing the slate with Mrs. Johnson are Mrs. Gudrun Burton, vice president; and Mrs. Dori Mitchell, treasurer.

The club's new constitution was accepted, with Mrs. Johnson stressing the part which states that all foreign-born women are welcome as members and that club members are "happy to share different cultural heritages with their American friends."

Mrs. Johnson presented carnation corsages to the outgoing vice president, Mrs. Joanna Gilbert, and treasurer, Mrs. Janeta Jackson. Mrs. Gilbert will serve as telephone chairman for the coming year.

A salad luncheon to celebrate the club's 13th anniversary will be held at 11:30 a.m., March 6, in the home of Mrs. Johnson, 4118 Parkway. In April, there will be a fashion show and cosmetics demonstration.

The next business meeting will be held at 8 p.m., March 13 in the Burton home, 419 Edwards.

After the meeting, a baby shower was held in honor of Mrs. Eike Dickinson and her adopted daughter, Victoria, 3 months. The door prize was won by Mrs. Jackson. Mrs. Luci Mulhern was a guest.

Newcomer Club Tells Winners

The Newcomers Bridge Club met Wednesday in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room with hostesses being Mrs. Joe Rogers and Mrs. Jack Stephenson. Winners were Mrs. A. W. Rees, high; Mrs. M. B. Ireland, second; and Mrs. Jimmy Townsend, bridge-o. The next meeting will be at 11:30 a.m., March 5 the same place.

Triple L Club Meets Tonight

The Triple L Club of First Baptist Church will meet at 6:30 p.m., today, in the fellowship hall for a covered dish dinner. Dessert will be furnished. The guest speaker will be Olan Miles who recently retired as administrator of Highland Lakes Baptist Encampment at Lake Travis.

Care Of House Plants Told By Show Judge

"House plants are temperamental," said Mrs. J. K. Somerville of Midland when she was guest speaker last week for the Rosebud How To Grow Garden Club.

Mrs. Somerville is a national flower show judge and first vice director of District I, Texas Garden Clubs Inc. In discussing the care of various house plants, she said, "You must be careful with the atmosphere; smoking is bad for them. You should talk to your plants."

The speaker presented each member with small jade plants and explained how to care for them. She said they should not be transplanted unless necessary and then only to a pot one to two inches larger than the one they were in. In addition, she said all house plants should be sprayed lightly with water every day and that, once a month, the underside of the leaves should be bathed with alcohol.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Monte E. Wilkes, vice president, 2206 Merrily, who presided. Guests were Mrs. Carl Small and Mrs. Roy Webb.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Richard Milstead, 2602 Rebecca.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: I come from a family of eleven children. We all get along very well. Three of us live away from home and one more is soon going to college.

Since some of us have lived away from home before, we appreciate mail from home. But with such a large family we got tired of writing the same news to everyone. One of my sisters came up with this great idea.

This sister wrote her letter, then sent it to the next sister. This one wrote her letter and included the letter from the first sister, which was sent to the third party.

The third one includes hers and the other two letters and sent all to the fourth sister. Now there are always three letters in an envelope at one time.

When the letter you have written comes back to you, you take yours out and write a new one to add to the rest and the cycle starts over again.

We also send pictures of the children, jokes, interesting clips from the newspaper, recipes, etc. We use air mail paper and large envelopes, because sometimes the letter will get a little on the heavy side.

At first there were only four of us writing. Now two more expressed interest, so we are starting two letters, each going in different directions, so you won't get two letters at once. We are to answer the letter within two days.

We all get together only about once a year, so this works out just great for our family.

We enjoy this way of communicating — and it really saves money on our telephone bills! . . . Betty Warner.

That's terrific . . . Heloise.

Dear Heloise: Four of my five kids are sick with the flu and, as you know, kids are not good eaters when they are sick. Here's how I solved part of my problem:

One of the four is a girl, so I fixed a small tray she plays with. I used her own set of tea dishes that are bright oranges, yellows and blues, to serve her meals in.

I filled the teapot with whatever liquid she was having — milk, juice or other — and set a cup and saucer so she could serve herself.

On her dinner plate, I cut up the sandwich to bite-size and in a "pot" from her own kitchen, I served her soup. Her dessert went in the sugar bowl. A bright orange napkin made everything complete. Finally I took one of her favorite small dolls whose legs can be bent to sit down, and sat her on the tray to keep her "Momma" company!

You should have seen the happiness in her face when she saw her "play" food, and she started to eat away! . . . Playful Mother

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Have Reverse Effect

The United States Senate has passed by a 2-1 margin the Jackson amendment which has as one of its objectives a rollback on prices of domestically produced crude oil. The measure goes to the House, which may take a longer and more careful look at the bill before sending it onto the President, who is almost certain to veto it.

Sen. Henry Jackson, its chief backer, contended that the rollback would result in a reduction of five cents per gallon in gasoline. That may be good theory, but it's more speculative wishing than it is logical reasoning.

To be sure this has a popular appeal, but if it should result in a static supply situation, we would have swapped the prospect of a slightly moderated price at the pump for less and less fuel at the pump.

One of the difficulties today is a dual, yes, even a triple pricing system for crude oil. Established domestic crude oil has a $5.25 per barrel ceiling, but as an incentive to find more new oil, other prices are allowed (these have been averaging $9.51) on oil from discovery wells or which is oil that otherwise would not have been produced. The $7.09 over-all ceiling proposed under the Jackson amendment may be a stab to fall somewhere between.

However, oil imported from South American has been running $10 and above, and that from the Arab countries, which triggered the chain reaction known as the oil crisis, is running up to $15 and even $20 in some quarters.

Most will agree that the Arab oil price is exorbitant. Likely it will come down as the market for it is less demanding. For our part a greater supply at home can exercise a strong influence in this direction. But how are we going to encourage increased domestic production by an artificial lid on prices of domestic oil while paying

Bobbing The Tail

Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger has adroitly cut off a part of the Army's "tail." It was the manner in which he did it that left the Army brass dumbfounded.

Wise in the ways of the bureaucracy, Schlesinger knew that if he asked the Army for a study of ways to trim fat, especially in the upper reaches of the hierarchy, that the question would be studied to death. He knew if he were lucky that he would get some sort of report on about the last day of his service as secretary.

Schlesinger therefore made his own quiet study and decided to abolish seven Army headquarters around the world. To be phased out by 1975 are U. S. Army Alaska, U. S. Army Panama, U. S. Army Pacific with headquarters in Honolulu, Theater Army Support Command in Worms, West Germany, Engineer Command in Frankfurt, Army Air Defense Command in Colorado Springs, and Arabs and others two to three times what we pay our own producers?

That could, in the long run, decrease our net home supply and thus put us at the mercy of the exorbitant imports. And then what would the gasoline situation be?

The answer is simple: Both shorter in volume and higher in price.

the U. S. Army Intelligence Command at Fort Meade, Md.

One of Schlesinger's abiding concerns since taking over the Defense Department had been the "tooth-to-tail ratio," that is the ratio of combat bodies to support troops - the ratio is now about nine support troops to every combat soldier. By cutting out about 105,000 men assigned to command headquarters from the Army's total force of 2.2 million, Schlesinger hopes to get rid of many armchair generals and by taking away Army generals from joint-command posts, persuade the Navy or Air Force to cut down on admirals and generals.

Schlesinger has found a way to cut off part of the Army's tail without getting wound around the axle in a multitude of staff studies that never get quite completed.

Far Worse Storms

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

As the wind and sand ripped into Big Spring Monday, oldtimers brought out their sandstorm stories. Those who lived in the Panhandle in the 30's topped them all.

But only those who either now live or used to live right next to newly-ploughed land really know what it's all about.

If you think we were sneezing and snorting in Big Spring Monday you should have been out around Tarzan or Lenora or over near Patricia. Out here, with the land freshly cleared of cotton stalks, it gets hard to tell as to whether you are on the road or in the fields.

YOU CREEP along with your lights on and certainly don't come even close to violating the energy-shortage speed limits.

You hope you don't suddenly come up on the back of some vehicle that has given up and stopped, and you hope that you don't cross the center stripe and hit somebody head on.

You also wonder why you ever started driving in that direction and make solemn vows to yourself to never ever venture out in a sandstorm again.

Over in Reeves County in the early 50's when it didn't rain much and farmers were clearing thousands of acres of brush and turning it into irrigated farm land, some of those spring sandstorms made the one here Monday look like a picnic.

DURING ONE of those storms, a real tragedy occurred between Pecos and Balmorhea. A bad wreck occurred and a woman lay dying in one of the vehicles. A doctor might have saved her. Eight cars stopped behind the wreck and only the front cars knew there was a wreck. The cars further back simply thought that the cars were stopped for the storm. They could only see the vehicle immediately in front of them. Six cars back was a doctor, who never knew until it was too late that somebody up the line needed medical attention.

But maybe we're often prone to exaggerate dust storms. A friend named Lillian Bounds moved from the Gulf Coast to Pecos and said that we had all highly exaggerated the entire thing. She said, "You made it sound like we had to wear a wet bandana around the mouth and nose and crawl around on the floor. The truth is, you need the wet bandana but you can still walk upright."

But my favorite quote was from an old ranch woman who said, "You make too much work out of cleaning after dust storms. I found the best method is to simply open all the doors and windows during the storm and let it blow on through."

Utilizing Time

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — People are hard put as to what to do while waiting in line for gasoline. After reading "The Winds of War" from cover to cover, they still have several hours to kill before they can get near a pump.

AS A PUBLIC service we are presenting a few things drivers can do to while away the time.

The first is the "license plate game." Add up all the numbers on the license plate directly in front of you. Then multiply by 10. Divide this figure by two and you should get the price of what a roast beef will cost you when you stop off at the supermarket on the way home.

COUNT THE number of small foreign cars that drive past you going in the opposite direction while you are waiting for gas. If you can get to the station before the figure reaches 500, you've won the game.

Start a pool with the other drivers in the line. Each person guesses how much gas in dollars the attendant will allow each driver to buy. The one who comes closest to the right amount wins all the money in the pool.

ENROLL in a college correspondence course and do all the work in your automobile. We know one lady who started as a freshman in biology and won her master's degree before she got to the pump.

Many people have wanted to take up painting as a hobby but were never able to find the time. Buy some paints and several canvases and set up an easel in your car. You may have enough pictures to hold an exhibition by the time you get to the pump.

MAKE JEWELRY in the front seat. This is one of the most relaxing ways of killing the hours. You can put the finished products on the hood and sell them to other drivers waiting to get near the station as well as passersby who are looking for bargains.

THIS NEXT idea requires a little investment but the returns could be great. Have a telephone installed in the dash board and start selling the Encyclopedia Britannica by phone. One lady we know made $600 in commissions and never moved more than four blocks.

HOLD YOUR bridge games in your car. If it is your turn to be the hostess, invite three friends to go down to the gas station with you. Set up a board between the front seat and the back. You'd be surprised how fast the day goes when you're playing cards.

THIS FINAL idea is for housewives. Use the time in line to have an affair with someone who really loves you for yourself and not because you're an odd or even number.

Even if your husband finds out about the affair, he won't be too upset as long as you bring home a full tank of gas.

Same Policy

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON—President Nixon's denial of White House documents to special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski is the first solid indication that the White House rule of keeping evidence from congress and the American voters will soon be applied to the house Judiciary Committee, a strategy filled with grave portents.

THERE HAVE BEEN several inklings from the White house that it never intended to treat the Judiciary Committee's impeachment proceedings much differently from its hard-line, back-of-the-hand treatment of the Senate Watergate committee, Jaworski and his ousted predecessor, Archibald Cox.

But Mr. Nixon takes grave risks in applying his lock-up policy to the house Judiciary Committee. If he goes too far, he invites the committee—indeed, the whole congress—to convert his defiance into a visible, blatant impeachable offense.

THUS, the present indication is that there will not be overt refusal to cooperate, as in the latest clash with Jaworski. Instead, the developing White House strategy is one of stealth, indirection and obfuscation.

One clear sign came on Feb. 5 when Rep. John Rhodes of Arizona, the house republican leader, privately notified republicans on the Judiciary committee that he would oppose the April 30 cut-off date for the committee's impeachment proceedings.

ALTHOUGH some Rhodes intimates believe he acted entirely on his own, others suspect his decision not to permit a genuine vote in the house on the cut-off deadline reflected White House fear that the vote might be taken as an indication of pro-impeachment sentiment on the floor.

Rhodes told us that he did indeed "inform" the White House of his decision (a decision he did not share with committee republicans until the very day of the vote, even though all but two committee republicans favored imposing the deadline).

SOME REPUBLICANS, particularly those who deeply believe the House impeachment procedures must be sealed off from all White House pressures, are convinced that the Republican leader's decision was pressed on him by the White House.

Far more significant is the fact that White House lawyers are plotting not a cooperative effort to permit a serious committee investigation, but what one committee republican calls a "blocking, stalling, delaying action" in the tradition of a smart lawyer's play for time.

A Devotion For Today...

It is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. (1 Corinthians 4:2)

PRAYER: Creator of all the earth, grant us such a reverence for life as will save us from sinful exploitation of Thy gifts for our selfish ends. May we seek first Thy kingdom and Thy righteousness that one day we may hear Thee say, "Well done, good and faithful servant!" Amen.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Recently, I heard a minister could wipe out the first chapter of Genesis in the Bible. He said that the creation account there was all a myth — as were the other stories in the Old Testament. As a Christian, Dr. Graham, shouldn't I believe what the Bible tells us?

R. R. Attacks on the Bible are nothing new! What is surprising is that often today you hear the criticism from the very sources where you might have expected ardent support.

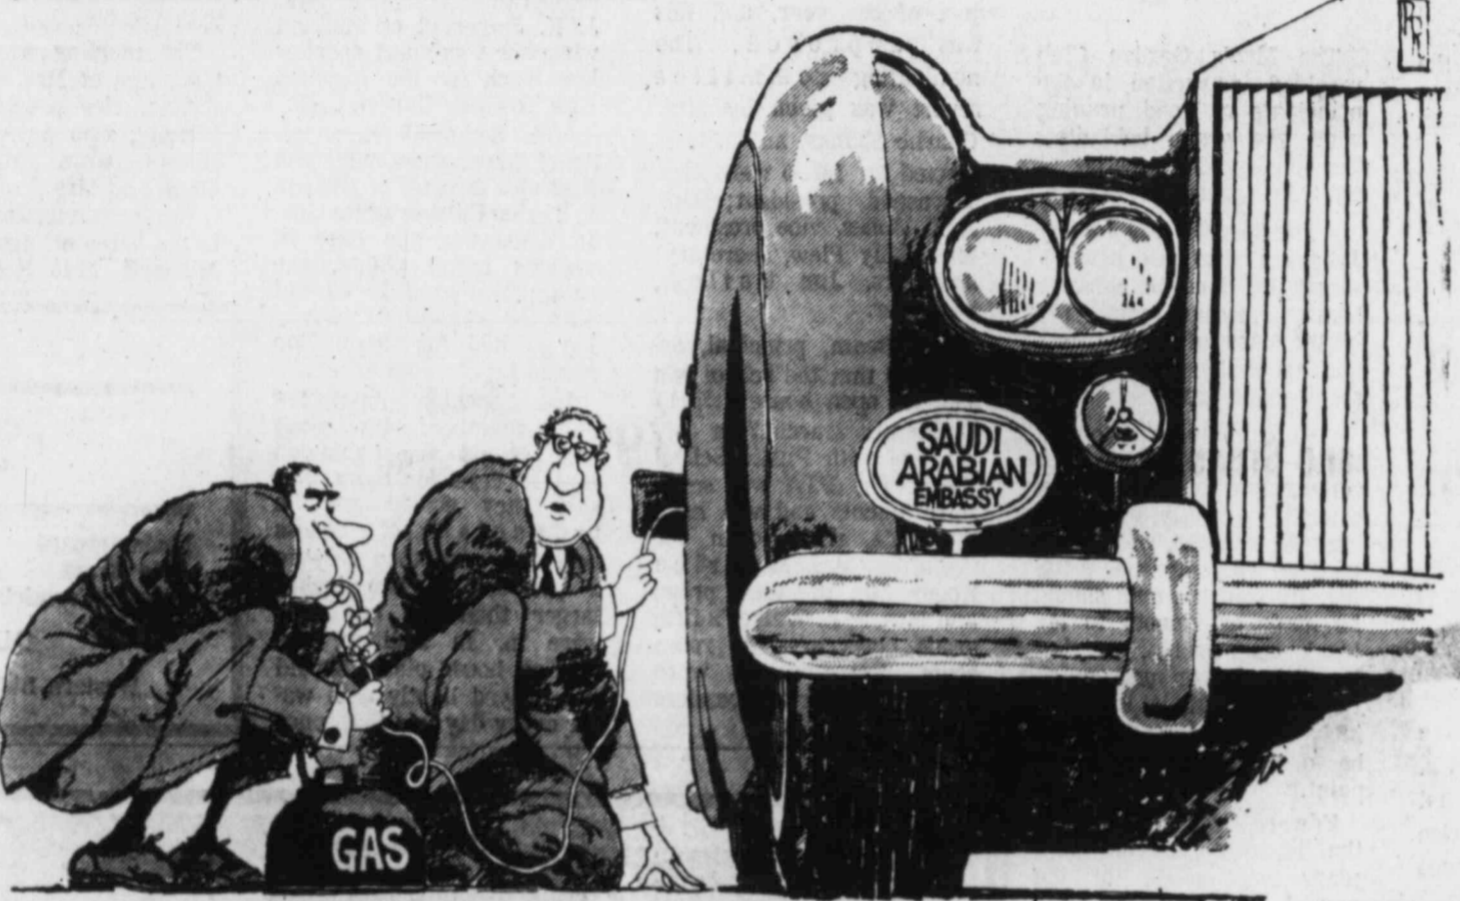

Let's get our terms straight first. A theory is a supposition which may be plausible, and may even carry some scientific support. But at best it remains conjecture, and impossible of conclusive proof.

The idea of man's origin which would set aside divine creation is absolutely a theory, which merits no more acceptance than any other idea of source. Advocates of the theory of evolution are all too prone to ignore the gaps their thesis contains.

The Biblical account in Genesis has the advantage of simplicity, and the added credibility of God's Holy Spirit — who dictated the account in the first place.

Anyone can get an audience by debunking Biblical records, but one has to be ready to contend with the rule as Psalms 119:89 put it. "Forever, O Lord, your Word stands firm in heaven."

McNelly

FRANKLY, I WAS THINKING IN TERMS OF A LONGER RANGE SOLUTION.

Long ago, I settled for myself the absolute authority of the Scriptures. I suggest you do the same. For if you admit errors in the creation story of Genesis, you make suspect also the recreation story of the new life through Christ and that nobody can deny.

Poll May Dictate Fare

Hal Boyle

By JAY SHARBUTT

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — A poll is being taken by the Pennsylvania Public Television Network to let viewers say what kinds of programs they want to see on public TV.

The Pennsylvania survey is the first of its kind in the nation, says the Public Broadcasting Service, which says it is both encouraging the study and suggesting the same approach be tried in other states.

Network officials say about 90,000 questionnaires are being mailed to Pennsylvania's public TV subscribers in the seven areas served by the seven stations that comprise PPTN.

In addition, the network is seeking the general public's opinion by buying space for the questionnaires in those areas' newspapers and in Pennsylvania issues of TV Guide magazine, officials say.

They say the survey basically seeks to determine the kinds of state or local programs viewers think PPTN should carry in coming years when and if its now-limited statewide programming increases.

But they say the survey also hopes to give program executives at each station a better idea of what viewers in each area want in both local and national public TV programming.

"The way we've phrased the questionnaire is to ask viewers what they feel are the most important," said David Leonard, general manager of PPTN.

He said the questionnaire doesn't specify by name any local or national shows, but instead lists 19 general categories ranging from sports to drama to coverage of the state legislature.

The poll, Leonard added, is part of a three-step public TV study that includes both public hearings by the seven PPTN stations and detailed interviews by them of community leaders in their areas. "Looking at what data we have so far, my guess is we'll go to about 10, 15, maybe 20 general-categories of need people have pointed out to us," he said.

"For instance, we feel there's a strong need expressed for more coverage of what goes on in the (Pennsylvania) General Assembly, more information about what bills are being considered and what the issues are. That sort of thing."

Leonard, who said he expects the project to be finished by late March, said it'll include the estimated cost of producing those programs most desired by the viewing public and community leaders.

A final report, to be made public, then will be sent Pennsylvania's governor and the state legislature "and hopefully through that process encourage more financial support and all the other kinds of support needed to get these kinds of programs on the network," he said.

Case Of Cracking Jaw

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Mine is a rather unusual problem. I would imagine. Unfortunately my doctor I ask about it just smiles and says not to worry about it, but it is a real nuisance to me.

My right jaw cracks! I cannot eat without its cracking. Or kiss my fiancé without cracking. Or yawn without cracking.

It is not a quiet little sound but one which, believe me, can be heard at the next table. I would appreciate any serious suggestions. — M.W.

I won't "just smile." I'll give you a serious suggestion: For one thing, you are probably too young for arthritic changes of the jaw joint, and anyway there would be other signs.

But a very common cause of jaw-cracking is malocclusion — the teeth don't come together quite right. This can cause the jaw joints to dislocate slightly, or the two joints to close differently.

A dentist can correct malocclusion. And may peace and quiet attend your kissing.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I'm 17 and have had sex with my boyfriend twice. He has used a prophylactic both times but the debate is this:

He says that, even without a contraceptive, I can get pregnant only if we come to a climax at the same time.

I say that the time of climax doesn't matter. If his seminal fluid travels and unites with my egg, that's it, whether I had a climax or not. Who's right? — C.S.

You are almost totally right (it's a sperm cell in the seminal fluid that unites with the ovum or egg) and climax or orgasm has nothing whatever to do with it.

You might ask your friend how he explains pregnancies resulting from rape, or from artificial insemination.

Your friend would learn some things (and perhaps keep you or some other girl out of trouble) if he'd take the time to read my booklet, "Twelve Birth Control Methods," which he can get by sending 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

I have not the least intention of encouraging teenagers to engage in sexual intercourse, yet a certain number of them will get in trouble. But better they should understand birth control methods, and their good and bad points, than not know the facts.

The booklet, by the way, is not primarily intended for young people, but birth control is something (I think) everyone should understand by the time of adulthood.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's newly revised booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Young Sheriff Survived Ordeal, Became Legend

ADAMSVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Buford Pusser vividly recalls what happened to him on a quiet McNairy County road at dawn on Aug. 12, 1967, although he thought at the time he would not live to tell about it.

Then a young sheriff building a reputation for busting bootleggers, Pusser had just received an anonymous telephone call telling him to "come out and I'd find something big." He thought he was on the trail of whisky runners as he sped along New Hope Road, his wife beside him in his squad car. He knows now that he was baited into a trap.

As he rounded a curve, a car pulled out. Pusser saw the driver. Then he saw two other men firing weapons, apparently automatics, spitting out the almost 30 shells later found by investigators.

Both Pusser and his wife were hit. Pauline Pusser, 29,

Dru Priddy Enters Event

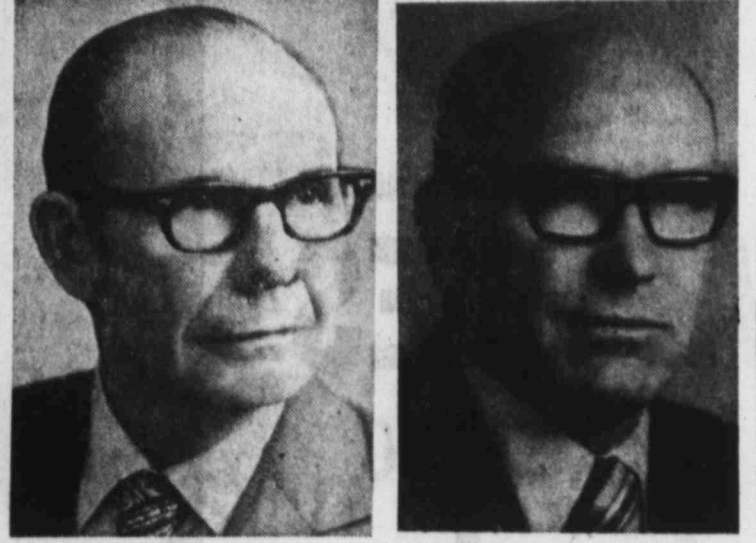

Druanne Priddy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Priddy, is one of the new candidates for the Jaycees' Miss Diamond-back.

She is secretary of the Big Spring High School senior class, a member of the student council, a correspondent for the Herald's Megaphone page and feature editor of the Corral staff. She was recognized in the school's "Who's Who."

She sings both for the First Baptist Church and with the school's Meistersingers.

Druanne plans to attend Howard College and major in elementary education.

She and other nominees for Miss Diamond back will compete in a pageant slated for March 28.

COLLEGE CANDIDATES — Two incumbents on the Howard College board of trustees have announced for re-election. They are, left, K. H. McGibbon, board president and second ranking member in total tenure, and Jimmy Taylor. McGibbon operated McGibbon Oil Company here for many years and has been active in civic affairs as has Taylor, president of First National Bank. They said that at this juncture of the college's history, including a recent change in administration and the challenge of a possible allied health-gymnasium-auditorium building had impelled them to again offer their services.

Organization Of Youth Center Is Said Underway

Organization of a Youth Center council has been completed and the center's success is dependent upon adult support, moral rather than financial, according to Steve McMillian, 3003 Navajo.

He said that a youth council has been formed and negotiations are underway to obtain a home for the center. Most of the financial problems have been worked out, and the center will be sustained largely by a membership fee, he said.

Its program and operation will be geared to youth responsibility in concert with adult advisors, he explained. The council will be the policy-making board and will rule in disciplinary matters. The managers will be responsible for operating the center in keeping with policies. The advisory board will consist of five adults, and hopefully with ex officio members representatives from the city council and police department.

McMillian said that activities will include recreation, a place to lounge and visit during weekends, dances with live music, etc. Membership will be $5 per month, which admits members without cover or script for special events such as bands. Members will be permitted to bring guests, but they are responsible for them.

McMillian has been identified for several years with efforts to establish a workable center here. Some progress was made by the council, but it ran into financial difficulties which now have been resolved, he said, hence the move to get a center going.

The key to success, however, as McMillian sees it, is adult interest. He urged those who are concerned one way or another to write him at 3003 Navajo.

Auto Tags Sales Up

License tag sales are up. In the same number of days in which the county tax office collected $71,974 last year $90,005 was made this year.

April 1 is the deadline for attaching plates to vehicles.

Motorists may obtain plates on the first floor of the county courthouse, or from the Webb Air Force Base Federal Credit Union, Mrs. Zirah Bednar, county tax collector, said.

Passenger car tags only may be purchased at Newsom's Food Center. And license plates will go on sale at the Coahoma City Hall on March 12 and 13.

Groundbreaking Rite Is Friday

BROWNWOOD — Ground will be broken for the $1.375 million Texas 4-H Center, following a 10:30 a.m. ceremony Friday, Feb. 22, in downtown Brownwood.

Construction on the 4-H Center will be on a 78-acre site near here. It will have a capacity for 200 people and should be completed in about a year.

T. Louis Austin Jr., Dallas, chairman of the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation will chair the groundbreaking program. Austin is president of Utility Companies.

The Center will feature such programs as youth summer camps, leadership training, citizenship seminars, adult leader training, county 4-H camps, and family weekend retreats, announced H. T. Davison, extension service 4-H and youth specialist and 4-H Foundation executive director. The Center will also be available to other groups and businesses interested in conducting educational programs.

Davison said that about $1 million has been pledged by business, industry, foundations and individuals. In each Texas county, 4-H members and leaders are presently conducting fund raising activities.

Texan To Attend Demo Reception

BEDFORD, N.H. (AP) — Sens. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota and Lloyd M. Bentsen of Texas will attend a $100-a-couple Democratic reception here March 2, Democratic State Chairman David C. LaRoche said today.

'Chase' Offers Regular Work To Gary Crosby

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sitting under a freeway overpass, Gary Crosby said, "It sure is good to be working."

"There were long periods when I didn't work at all," he said. "I did three 'Adam-12' shows a year. A long time went by when I wasn't working for Jack Webb, I wasn't working at all."

"I'd quit but people in this business are slow to forgive," Crosby said he gave up drinking after he married Barbara Stuart in 1960 and adopted her son.

"I came home after one of my three day bats and no wife. An empty house," he recalled.

"The maid came in now and then and got a change of clothes for them."

"I got a call from her lawyer and went down to his office. My wife was sitting there. The lawyer said your wife loves you too much to see you kill yourself. Either you dry up or go away. I convinced everyone else."

decided to go along. Then after about three weeks it began to dawn on me how much of an alcoholic I was and didn't know it."

He said he sought help at an institution on the East Coast. "An expensive joint," he called it.

Crosby said, "My wife took a hell of a chance. Up to that moment if anyone else had said that to me I'd have walked away."

What are his unfulfilled ambitions? Without hesitation, he answered, "All of them. I'm just getting going. I know what I can do — drama, comedy, singing — and now I've got to convince everyone else."

Crosby said his drinking and then the reputation that lingered like a hangover after he stopped scared most producers away.

At midseason, when NBC's "Chase" was revamped by Webb's Mark VII Ltd. and Universal Studios, Crosby was named a regular. The emphasis was shifted away from hotrodding around in fast cars and motorcycles to developing relationships between the characters.

"Chase," which Crosby admits is still for kids, is filmed mainly on location. The company that day was camped under an overpass in the Sylmar section in northernmost Los Angeles.

FACE ETCHED

Crosby's blond hair is beginning to recede on the bronzed forehead. The face is thinner since he lost 36 pounds last year and is becoming etched with lines. He is very much in the image of his father, Gary, 40, is the oldest of Bing Crosby's four sons by his first marriage.

Asked what he did when he wasn't working, he replied, "Waiting for the phone to ring." How did he live? "Regardless of what the public thinks I have a small — repeat, small — amount of money coming in from my mother's estate and that sustains me. There was a lot of garbage in the papers that my brothers and I inherited $1 million each and people believed it."

His mother, Dixie Lee Crosby, died in 1952.

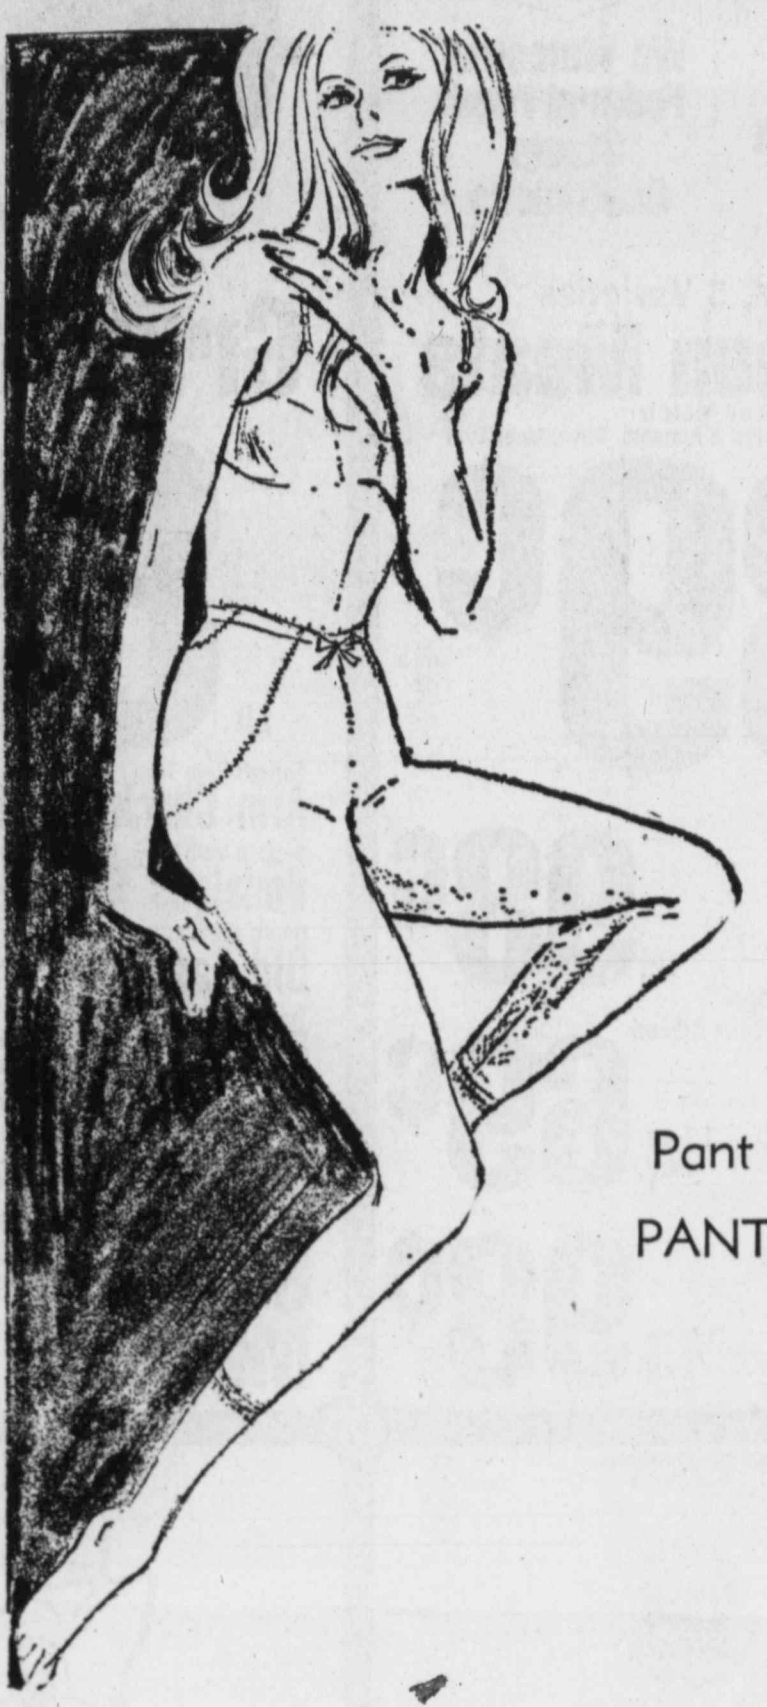

He said, "I stuck it out because this is what I can do. I know I'm good and nobody can beat me."

Gary dropped out of Stanford University, where he had played football, and broke into show business through television and night club appearances. He was drafted into the Army for two years in 1956 and when he got out he made a string of movies he said should be chopped up into guitar picks. In the early 1960s he played a bellhop on "The Bill Dana Show."

After that jobs became hard to find, except for occasional roles in such Webb shows as "Dragnet," "Adam-12," "Emergency" and "O'Hara, U.S. Treasury."

SLOW TO FORGIVE

"It was because of the reputation for drinking," he said.
