KALMBACH SOLICITED MILLIONS FOR GOP CANDIDATES

Nixon's Former Attorney Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert W. Kalmbach, a former personal attorney to President Nixon, pleaded guilty today to charges stemming from his activities as a Republican political fund raiser.

Kalmbach pleaded to a technical charge stemming from the distribution through a dummy political committee in the District of Columbia of $3.9 million to Republican congressional candidates in the 1970 elections.

PENALTIES

The felony charge of soliciting political contributions and making expenditures through a committee for which neither a chairman nor treasurer had been named carries a maximum penalty of two years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Kalmbach also pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge stemming from his promise of an ambassadorship to a political contributor.

That charge carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica deferred sentencing until a probation-department report is submitted.

The charge filed by the special Watergate prosecutor's office alleged that on Sept. 16, 1970, Kalmbach met with J.

Fife Symington of Lutherville, Md., then U.S. ambassador to Trinidad and Tobago, and that Symington promised to contribute $100,000 if assured he would be appointed ambassador to a European country.

The prosecutors said that Kalmbach called the White House and got the assurances and that Symington contributed $50,000 to Republican candidates in 1970 and $50,000 to President Nixon's 1972 campaign.

NO JOB

Symington never got the job he sought and Kalmbach later offered to return his money, the court papers said. Symington refused to take it back.

Kalmbach appeared in court at the start of a week during which, special prosecutor Leon Jaworski has said, grand juries will be ready to return indictments in a number of Watergate cases.

In a letter to Kalmbach's attorney dated Feb. 13, 1974, Jaworski said that the charges to which the 52-year-old Newport Beach, Calif., attorney pleaded "will dispose of pending or potential charges based on matters presently known to this office."

The letter also disclosed that Kalmbach has promised to cooperate with the prosecutors, that he may testify at future Watergate trials and that he may be named later as an unindicted co-conspirator.

Kalmbach told the Senate Watergate Committee last summer that he raised $220,000 which then was passed to the defendants in the original Watergate break-in case.

MORE MONEY

He said he raised the money to pay the legal expenses and to support the families of the defendants "to discharge what I assumed to be a moral obligation."

Kalmbach said he undertook the assignment at the request of then-White House counsel

John W. Dean III, who called him on June 28, 11 days after the break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters went public.

WORK FOR NIXON

Kalmbach told reporters at the courthouse today that he still works for Nixon, but the White House said the attorney has not handled any business for him for some time, although his law firm has.

The charge filed by the prosecutor's office today said that the conduit political committee, formed on or about March 1, 1970, was set up at the instigation of three members of the White House staff. They were not identified.

Kalmbach solicited $2.8 million in the form of pledges from contributors who subsequently were contacted and told which Republican candidates should be sent the money.

The charges said an additional $1.1 million was received from an individual, who was not identified.

The money went to Republican candidates in 19 states, it said.

Several former high-ranking Nixon administration officials have been identified as targets of other grand-jury investigations expected to bear indictments this week.

Protection Payoffs Included 'Free Sex'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The Indianapolis Star says at least 30 policemen may have been involved in graft and protection payoffs with two houses of prostitution.

In a copyright story in Monday morning's editions, the Star said the unnamed officers either accepted money or free sex in return for allowing the houses to operate unhampered and for providing advance information about vice squad raids.

The newspaper said it was aided in its investigation by police officers with personal knowledge of the scheme.

Indianapolis Police Chief Winston Churchill has so far made no official comment on the newspaper's allegations.

In copyright stories in its Sunday editions, the Star reported on what it called the existence of a "police mafia" within the nearly 1,000-member department in the nation's 11th largest city.

$40 MILLION

The paper said a six-month-long investigation by a team of reporters assisted by some officers uncovered widespread corruption extending to the department's hierarchy and into political circles near Mayor Richard Lugar.

The Star said the illicit activities have added up to a $40 million take during the past decade.

New Superintendent Will Be Considered

The possibility of selecting a new superintendent of schools and a decision on the CR 74 invitation to the state student council meeting will be the main items discussed at the school board meeting at 5:15 p.m., today.

The board may go into executive session to discuss the three out-of-town administrators who are being considered as top choice for the position.

The board will also hear a request from the band to present the Campus Revue at the state student council presentation in Dallas April 25-26.

Since the state group saw CR 72, it has requested the Big Spring group for three successive years as it referred to as "the best high school production in Texas".

Other items on the agenda include a report from high school counselors and consideration of fiscal information as it would relate to our bond schedule and possible fiscal agent's contract.

Cuts Gas Prices Nickel Per Gallon

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — A Lower Rio Grande Valley gasoline distributor today lowered retail gasoline prices by slightly more than a nickel per gallon.

Ray Henry of Valley Shamrock Co. said his supplier dropped gasoline prices by 5.3 cents per gallon and he is passing the cut along to his customers.

Henry said the price cut will mean gasoline prices at Valley Shamrock stations, located throughout the Valley, will range from 38.9 to 42.9 cents per gallon, well below the usual price.

The supplier told him the price cut resulted from an error in calculations, Henry said.

Henry noted that Valley Shamrock stations sold 1.7 million gallons of gasoline in January of 1974, compared with only 1.4 million gallons for the same month in 1973.

Move To Legalize Use Of Marijuana

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sponsors of a measure to legalize the use of marijuana said they think they have enough signatures to place the proposal before California voters in November.

Backers of the California Marijuana Initiative said they had collected more than 400,000 signatures to make sure there were at least 325,504 that are valid. The filing deadline was today.

It will be about a month before all the signatures are checked and the secretary of state's office can announce whether the proposal will be put on the state ballot in November.

The measure is slightly weaker than the one which Californians defeated by a 2-1 margin in November 1972. Like the other, it would eliminate all penalties for the private cultivation, possession and use of marijuana by adults. But under this proposal, local governments could impose fines of up to $100 for smoking the weed in public.

Nude Dash Cash

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A college student arrested for streaking says an anonymous donor will give $200 to a drug treatment center if students can complete 12 successive streaks.

A streak is a dash across campus in the nude. University of Florida officials said Bruce Jones, 22, was one of two alleged streakers caught Sunday. Police said Jones was arrested as he dashed across campus with only his socks on.

HERBERT M. KALMBACH

Hal Boyle's Mother Dies

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Gavaghan Boyle, 86, mother of Associated Press columnist Hal Boyle, died Sunday. Mrs. Boyle's name became familiar to newspaper readers throughout the country as her son often mentioned her during the 30 years he wrote his Pulitzer Prize-winning column.

'Madman' Steals 'Guitar Player'

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard is expecting a demand for ransom for one of the most valuable paintings in the world, Jan Vermeer's "Guitar Player," which was stolen from a London museum during the weekend.

"We are looking for either a master thief or a madman," said a spokesman for the Yard. "It could be the work of some one who does not know what he has done or has no idea of the value of what he has got. But so far we think it is a master thief who has planned the operation over a number of years."

PRICELESS

Police officials said they expected a ransom demand. One leading London art dealer, Hugh Leggat, said the picture by the 17th century Dutch master is "so famous that it could not possibly be sold."

Estimates of the painting's value ran as high as $4.5 million, but Leggat commented that it "is really priceless... of immense international artistic importance." Vermeer is considered one of the greatest of the Dutch masters, less than 30 of his works are left and none has come on the market in years.

ALARM SYSTEM

"The Guitar Player" was taken just before midnight Saturday in a 60-second raid on Kenwood House, an 18th century mansion in suburban Hampstead that is owned by the Greater London Council and contains a valuable collection of paintings. The house and the collection were given to the nation in 1929 by the family of Lord Iveagh, the Guinness brewery magnate.

The police said the thief or thieves smashed through a window and a shutter with a sledgehammer, seized the 18-by-20-inch painting from its frame and escaped as the alarm system went into operation. A night watchman heard the crash of the window, but by the time he reached the scene, the thieves had gone, a spokesman said.

The Greater London Council, the city's municipal government, said the museum was equipped "with the most sophisticated burglar alarm system." A spokesman said officials would have to "re-examine" the security setup.

Big Spring High School's Jack Bowers does not feel ticket sales for the choir department's production of "South Pacific" are "doing real well."

"By this time last year, we'd already sold 800-900 seats a night for 'Oklahoma.' We finally averaged over 1,000 a night last year by show time," Bowers said.

"South Pacific" performances are planned for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, starting at 8 p.m. Seats are all reserved and $2 and $4 each night. Call the school's choir department

Agents Of FBI Pursuing 'All Logical Leads'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An assistant U.S. Attorney says he has no reason to believe that more than two persons were involved in the kidnaping of Atlanta newspaper editor Reg Murphy.

William A. H. Williams, a 33-year-old contractor from near-by Lilburn, and his wife Ruth, 26, are being held under maximum security here in connection with the abduction of Murphy, editor of the Atlanta Constitution. He was released unharmed Friday evening.

Special Agent Leo E. Conroy, head of the FBI's Atlanta office, said Sunday his men are looking into "all logical leads."

Asst. U.S. Atty. William P. Geffney said: "At this time, I know of no reason to conclude that there were more than two people involved."

Murphy said he was told by Williams that he had been kidnaped by the "American Revolutionary Army," a previously unknown group which Williams said had 223 members and six colonels.

At Fulton County Jail, Deputy Caudell Jones said the FBI indicated on Williams' admission card that he might have suicidal tendencies.

Power Plant Hit By Fire

COLORADO CITY — A ruptured 12-inch natural gas line at the Texas Electric Service Co. Colorado City power plant caused a fire here Sunday evening. Officials termed the damage as slight.

A gate guard at the plant said he heard an explosion and turned to see the blaze light the area.

Colorado City volunteer firemen said the fire apparently started about 6:36 p.m. The blaze was doused by 8:15 p.m. when valves controlling the flow of gas were shut off. Damage was confined to the gas pipe in the immediate vicinity of the fire.

Plant superintendent John Martin said the Colorado City power plant was shut down during the fire in order to prevent damage to the generators.

The Colorado City power system drew power from other plants in the West Texas grid during the shutdown. Martin said he hoped to have the plant back in full operation by this morning.

Put Up More Money If ...

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Randolph A. Hearst's tense vigil marked its third week today as "People in Need" geared up for another effort to distribute food to the needy, a precondition for the release of his kidnaped daughter.

Donations poured in over the weekend to PIN, the organization set up to meet the demands of the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army. It claims to be holding Patricia Hearst, 20, kidnaped Feb. 4 from her Berkeley apartment.

Six To Confer With Lorenzo

Six individuals from here will make up the delegation to confer March 4 with Frank Lorenzo, president of Texas International Airways concerning service to Big Spring.

They will meet at 9 a.m. next Monday to urge Lorenzo to work toward an early morning flight from Big Spring to Dallas, also to pledge support of efforts to build traffic from here for the airlines.

Big Spring last week won the first round in the fight over TIA's efforts to abandon service here.

The Civil Aeronautics Board denied TIA's request for immediate temporary suspension of service. Instead, the carrier is to continue service until CAB rules after a hearing on the regular permit. Big Spring contested the temporary suspension order (and will contest a permanent suspension) on grounds that one of the reasons for declining volume of traffic was progressively poor scheduling and service by TIA.

Among those planning to make the trip are Adolph Swartz, R. H. Weaver, Wade Choate, Ralph McLaughlin, Jack Buchanan, and Jack Cook.

HIGH HOPES Kissinger Bound For Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger left for the Middle East today with high hopes that he can bring a list of war prisoners to Israel from Syria in mid-week, clearing the way for disengagement talks between the two October war foes.

His plane left nearby Andrews Air Force Base about 9:30 a.m. EDT.

Even the "incredible Israeli cabinet situation" does not detract from Kissinger's optimism, said a senior U.S. official.

The secretary has the enthusiastic backing of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat for today's fourth mission to the Middle East. He would not be going if he did not expect some success, this official said.

OUR STRUGGLE

But Syrian President Hafez Assad, attending the Islamic summit in Lahore, Pakistan, was quoted as saying "Syria will never make any concessions" in its demand for a full Israeli withdrawal from Golan Heights territory lost in the war. "We will continue our struggle," said Assad, according to a Kuwaiti newspaper.

Nixon Schedules News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will hold a nationally broadcast and televised news conference at 6:30 p.m. (Big Spring time) today, the White House announced.

The session in the White House East Room will be Nixon's first news conference this year. He held an hour-long question and answer session with newspaper editors in Florida in mid-November and conducted a televised East Room news conference on Oct. 26.

The President was expected to face a range of questions on Watergate and related controversies, energy shortages and the continuing rise in prices.

The White House has been refusing to respond to questions on the Watergate tape controversy, citing an order by U.S. Dist. Judge John Sirica forbidding public discussion by principals in the case.

Asked whether Nixon would respond to Watergate tape questions, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said: "The President has not laid down any prohibition on questions."

Members of the traffic commission approved a plan for traffic light changes at Goliad and FM 700 when they met Friday. The city council will have final approval of the plan before sending it to the highway department.

The plan will make service roads one way with the south service road to be two-way through the entrances to Highland Shopping center and then a curb which will funnel traffic on to FM 700.

The entire plan is designed to eliminate service road lights, install left turn signals and cut the waiting time at the crossing.

In other action, the commission failed to approve requests for a yield sign at Abilene and Mesquite or a flashing light at 11th Pl. and FM 700 East. Both were deemed unnecessary.

The group is to discuss its comprehensive plan at the next session. Among the problems to be included in the plan are lack of police personnel for a selective traffic enforcement program, and adequate accident

Seal Campaign Set To Open

The 1974 Easter Seal Campaign will begin March 1 and continue until April 14, Easter Sunday, it was announced today by Auriel LaFond, for the Howard County Easter Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

During these weeks, a widespread appeal for funds will be made by the society to finance treatment and rehabilitation services for crippled children and adults in Howard County.

Last year, more than 2,500 handicapped persons were helped by the Howard County Easter Seal Society, explained LaFond. But needs of the handicapped and costs of providing expert professional care are rising, and more money than ever will be needed to continue providing these services during 1974.

The campaign will include the traditional Easter Seal mail appeal, as well as many special events, including Lilly Day, Balloon Day and neighborhood door-to-door appeals.

Funds will support the programs of our Easter Seal supported Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center in Big Spring.

The Howard County Society is an affiliate of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

County Agent Discusses HC Barn Improvements

Taking bids on livestock scales and barrow and lamb pens was okayed in County Commissioners Court this morning.

Bruce Griffith, county extension agent, talked to the court about the improvements for the show barns.

For past sales, scales, which are not certified by the state, have been borrowed from the Coahoma school system agreement.

Panel or pens have been borrowed from an individual, but through wear and tear, Griffith said they have "wore their welcome out." So the court plans to purchase 520 feet of panels.

At the suggestion of commissioners court, Griffith agreed to turn over rent funds from the show barns to Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor. The fair barn association has $927.64 in an account.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell said rent fund receipts would decrease unless the court opposed his decision to ban future panels at the fair barns except in connection with the rodeo. Damage to the facility was equaling the $50 use fee Mitchell said.

Other business this morning included:

Rescinding acceptance of right of way which would connect Midway Road to IS-20. And approving right-of way 10 feet to one side of utility poles.

Discussing higher pay for a motor grader operator working on construction jobs than is allocated for maintenance motor graders.

Commissioner Simon (Cy) Terrazas suggested this wage increase.

Commissioner William B. Crooker mentioned possible personnel problems which would result until budget time. And Mitchell wanted to wait until budget time, respectively, they will.

Okaying a "smaller, quieter, district clerk's office. Cost to the county for leasing the new model will increase $9 monthly. Ron Stroman, a Xerox Corp. salesman, said average cost per month for the old machine last year ran about $206.

Authorizing advertising for bids on fire fighting equipment a second time. Cotton suits with liners will be sought, a change in specifications.

Hearing Mitchell suggest the court "sit tight" on consideration of a truck for the road department barn until next Monday.

day. A representative of Bob Brock Ford Inc. notified the court dealer employees would fly to Louisville, Ky., Tuesday if necessary to get four late trucks delivered.

And hearing Mitchell appoint Commissioners Crooker and Terrazas to work with the city concerning requests for the elderly center at Howard College.

Bessie Love of the center wanted $100 per month for expenses, including $50 for rent, $12 for a telephone and $25 for equipment. Also, center officials want a range, refrigerator and piano.

Overpass Will Be Discussed

First reading of a resolution authorizing the city attorney to file condemnation suits on right of ways needed for Owen Street overpass will be among the items to be considered at the regular city council meeting Tuesday at 9 a.m. at the City Hall.

LIFE AFTER 65

Age Should Not Wither You

managed to keep up his interests can make retirement one of the happiest of times.

This does not imply that you must fill every waking hour with activity. You have earned a rest. You have a right to relax. But not to the point where relaxation leads to boredom, frustration and vegetation.

Plan your activities. This will help to maintain a positive attitude and will keep you from becoming a burden to your friends, your spouse and yourself. On the other hand planning your activities should not lead to a regimen so rigid that you become a slave to routine. You've probably had enough of that during your career. But a plan will give you a sense of purpose and should enable you to invest your time and energy wisely.

If you still have 10, 15 or 20 years before age 65, begin today to broaden your horizons. Involve yourself in activities which will interest you in your later years. Plan in a manner that does not bring too drastic a change in your activities. After all your main interest must still be to provide for your family. But the transition from employment to retirement should include building interest in those things you want to do after retirement. Keeping busy in these pursuits will also help to fend off the middle-age "blues" and will help to open new and exciting vistas for pursuit.

Millions before you have made a successful transition. Keep their example in mind as you approach that inevitable day. Live with the urge to experiment, to discover, to enjoy life to its fullest, and you will be on the way to a rich and rewarding phase of your life.

Agricultural Production Shows Big Gain In Area

The High Plains of Texas produced agricultural products with a market value totaling more than $3 billion in 1973. That output almost doubled the market value of 1972 production and more than quadrupled the output of five years ago (1968).

The tabulations were compiled by Water, Inc., staff economist Tommy Swann and have been published in a booklet entitled "Agricultural Production Data - Texas High Plains."

The statistical report illustrates the great productive capacity of the agricultural sector of the area. Swann said, "But, the production record is only a portion of the Texas High Plains Story," he added. "The most important part of the story is how the productive capacity can be expanded with supplemental water for irrigation."

He noted that the area possesses fertile, irrigable land, almost ideal growing conditions and superior management ability.

"All that is needed is for the transportable item - water," Swann concluded.

Broken down into four major categories, the compilation lists detailed production statistics for cotton, grain sorghum, wheat and fed cattle. Copies of the booklet, printed in the interest of public education, are available without charge upon request from Water, Inc., P.O. Box 367, Dabbuck, Texas 79408.

Swann is currently gathering similar production data for the nine counties of Eastern New Mexico so that his final effort will show the total production of the area served by Water, Inc.

Retirees Gather For Luncheon At College

Approximately 100 persons gathered at the adult education building on Howard College campus Wednesday to attend a luncheon sponsored by the Howard County Council on Aging.

According to John Clancy, publicity chairman for the council, the building has been acquired for regular use by senior and retired citizens' groups. The building will be open Monday through Friday, from 1 to 5 p.m., for those wishing to make use of it. There will be cards, dominoes and reading material available.

Prior to Wednesday's luncheon, table games were played and, afterward, the group reconvened in the college library to view a slide program on the Big Bend area given by Lee Thackrey, retired geology instructor at the college. The pictures were made on field trips with the students.

The welcome was extended by Miss Sherry Mullin, Howard County home demonstration agent, and the invocation was by the Rev. Billy Hendricks.

Bobby Kernells To Saudi Arabia

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Kernell left here Friday for Saudi Arabia after visiting his mother, Mrs. Bonnie Fucina, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Granvil Miller. Kernell is employed by Halliburton Oil Company. The couple plans to be out of the states for 18 months.

For a perfect roasted chicken with an unblemished skin, nicely browned all over, brush the fowl with a little, unsalted fat before putting in the oven. Melt the fat and use it when in is just like-warm. Use a pastry brush and paint it thoroughly all over.

Smart Host

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our son, Peter, who is 21 and a senior at college, came home for the Christmas vacation. He invited six couples to the house for a New Year's Eve party. My husband and I planned on staying home, although all the kids were 21 and didn't need a person.

Peter's invitation read as follows: "If you plan to drink, please plan to stay all night. Sleeping bags will be provided."

I didn't like the idea of a coed slumber party, and said that no daughter of mine would be allowed to accept such an invitation—even at 21!

My husband sided with Peter. He had the party, and everybody stayed all night. How would you have voted, Abby?

MOM WITH YOU, MOM. Sorry. All the kids were 21, and I think your son used excellent judgment.

DEAR ABBY: A writer recently inquired about providing a simple funeral for himself even though his wife insisted that should she survive him, he would be given an elaborate funeral with all the trimmings. You advised him to seek legal counsel.

Abby, the California Laws Regulating Licensed Funeral Directors and Embalmers (Sec. 7100) states that "prior to one's death one may direct by written instruction the type of burial he desires, and those otherwise entitled to control the disposition of his remains shall faithfully carry out his instructions."

I think it would probably be safe to assume that most other states have similar provisions.

A.S.H.: LONG BEACH, CALIF.
DEAR Mr. H.: Thank you for the information regarding California law. But I have learned (the hard way) that when it comes to state laws, one may not safely assume anything.

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe I am actually writing Dear Abby, but I have a solution for people who want to know how to get off those junk-mailing lists.

Write to: Direct Mail Advertising Association Inc., 230 Park Ave, New York, N.Y. 10017. Request an application form, and it will be sent to you free of charge. Fill it out and return it. I did, and some days, I don't get any mail at all!

ANTI-JUNK MAIL
DEAR ANTI: Writing this column has been an endless education. And I'm still learning. Thanks, friend.

DEAR ABBY: Cheers to you, Abby, for telling that bride that merely saying, "Thank you for the lovely wedding gift," when she accidentally bumped into the giver in a restaurant one evening is not sufficient. All wedding gifts should be acknowledged with a written note.

Or to borrow a phrase from Sam Goldwyn: "A verbal thank you isn't worth the paper it's written on."

Oasis Gardeners Work With Children's Class

Twenty students in the Individualized Program at Moss Elementary School participated in a gardening session held at the school by the Oasis Garden Club.

Working with the students in the study of succulents were Mrs. J. F. Skalicky, Mrs. C. B. Lawrence and Mrs. J. D. Leonard.

The children discussed sempervivums, commonly called "hen and chickens", and the Arizona rose, which is a related plant. Also, they examined the evergreen, moss-type of ground cover which has small yellow blossoms in the summer months. Another plant was sedum spectabile, known as

Gift Affair Is Honor For Bride

Mrs. Pat Enfield, the former Teresa Duke, was honored recently with a brial shower at the home of Mrs. James Cook, Chapman Road. There were 20 hostesses.

Attending the affair with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Donald Duke, and her husband's mother, Mrs. P. B. Enfield. They were presented corsages of pink carnations.

Centering the refreshment table was an arrangement of pink carnations and roses. Silver and crystal appointments were used on a crocheted, floor-length cloth.

J. Rankin Shows Slides To 4-H

John Rankin, who is associated with the Baptist encampment north of Stanton, showed slides of West Texas at a meeting last week of the Just For Fun 4-H Club. The group met at the Howard County Fair Barn for the program, with Rankin, conducting a question and answer session after the slides were shown.

During business, club members made initial plans for the food show in March.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Gaylene Saunders and Ladene Hartin. Heart-shaped cake and candies were served with punch.

To View Constitution

The Texas Constitution will be scrutinized by the 1905 Hyperion Club at its April meeting, according to plans made Thursday at the home of Mrs. Earl Ezzell. Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr. was cohostess for the meeting.

Mrs. Miller Harris presided as the women planned the study of the state constitution and the work being done on its revision. Slides were ordered from Austin, detailing what has been accomplished so far. Members were urged to call Austin, on the toll free number, to make their wishes known in regard to proposed changes. The number is 1-800-292-9600.

Thursday's program was presented by the Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Sharp who discussed "Respect for Family". Noting that respect and reverence begins in the individual and spreads to home and community, they listed the "ten commandments" for husbands and wives, given by Columnist Ann Landers, and the same for the home, written by Dr. Billy Graham. They stressed that husbands and wives should do for each other and their children "the little things" that show love. In closing, Mrs. Sharp said people should live with the "new three R's": respect, reverence and responsibility.

"If this is done in the home, it will be reflected in attitudes and actions in the world about us", she said.

Prayer was led by Rev. Sharp, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Garner McAdams.

The club's Guest Day will be held March 21 at Big Spring Country Club with the social committee as hostesses.

Price Is The Key

The Department of the Interior has received a high bid of $117.78 million for a 20-year right to develop oil shale deposits on public land in northwestern Colorado. Four other tracts will be opened to bids during the coming months, a part of the department's approach to U.S. self-sufficiency in energy by 1980.

The latest bid was made by Geokinetics Group, Inc., a consortium of Atlantic Richfield Co. and the Oil Shale Corp., both of Los Angeles, Ashland Oil, Inc., of Ashland, Ky., and Shell Oil Corp. of Houston. The first tract of 5,000 acres opened for leasing brought a record bid of $210.3 million last month from Standard Oil of Indiana and Gulf Oil.

These are substantial sums of money. They are but the first step toward exploitation of an estimated 600 billion barrels of recoverable oil from shale deposits. Tremendous additional investments will be needed to bring that oil to market.

One striking aspect of the shale oil bids is that they come from major oil companies. Already oil companies have brought up much of the nation's supply of coal in the ground. The use of coal as a source of gas and oil is also feasible.

Are the major oil companies, with huge investments in oil shale and coal deposits, about to begin a massive development of these deposits? The evidence indicates they are. But the final determination must be the question of economics. Experts in the field of shale oil and coal technology suggest that the conversion of shale and coal into oil is not economically viable until the domestic price for oil, its principal competitor, reaches about $8 a barrel. Yet William Simon, the nation's energy czar, seems bent on keeping the domestic price of crude below $6 a barrel. What's the logic in this?

Something will have to happen, then, to encourage maximum exploitation of coal and shale oil deposits. The major oil companies certainly are not going to enter the field without the assurance of a profit. Either the price of domestic crude must go up, or some breakthrough must be found that reduces drastically the present, known cost of coal and shale oil treatment. Right now price appears to be the key.

Evil That Lives After

Adolf Hitler used the excuse of "oppressed" German minorities to occupy the Sudetenland of Czechoslovakia, for the "Anschluss" with Austria, and the seizure of the Polish port of Danzig. Twenty-eight years after the death of Hitler the evils of that policy are still with us.

After the defeat of Nazi Germany and the seizure by the Soviet Union and Poland of former German provinces, more than 8 million Germans were forcibly removed from those provinces. They settled in Berlin and in East and West Germany. It was one of the greatest mass migrations in history.

East Germany early recognized the Oder-Neisse line as the new boundary of Germany and conceded the legality of Polish occupation of former German Provinces. West Germany refused at first to recognize anything more than Soviet and Polish occupation of the German provinces. Under Chancellor Willy Brandt, West Germany finally made its peace with Poland.

But there were still many German nationals on the Polish side of the boundary. They are a potential "Fifth Column" within the Polish state under the Hitler doctrine. After prolonged negotiations between the two countries, West Germany has agreed to repatriate its nationals. The agreement was reached Jan. 31. The resettlement will take from two to five years to complete.

It has been truly said that the evil that men do lives after them. Hitler's use of German minorities in neighboring states has still not been sorted out.

Around The Rim
Tommy Hart

Compare man's life span to the eons of time and it is but a murmur, likened to the ripple of a blade of grass in a gentle breeze.

WHEN HE avails himself of man's great reservoir of knowledge accumulated down through time, studies the many great decisions either already resolved or being made now, when he considers the many men of great stripe who have co-existed with him on this space station — he becomes a man for all ages. He emerges as young as yesterday but as old as time.

WE RELATE to men like Chaucer, Michelangelo, DeVinci, Goethe, Rodin, the Caesars, Homer and Jesus of Nazareth because of their ability to compose, sculpture, teach man's kinship to infinity or change the course of history.

In my lifetime, so many things of immense and eternal significance have been indexed as a part of history, it is sometimes difficult to appreciate the fact that they were contemporary, that they did not occur long before my time.

CONSIDER A FEW. The Russian revolution changed the social structure of the entire world, perhaps forever. The League of Nations was tried and found wanting but from its barren thighs sprang the inspirations and the seeds of a more enduring organization.

Woodrow Wilson, a man perhaps revered more in Europe today than in his own country, lived for a world community but died embittered.

In Spain, a monarchy fell and not only a nation's people but the entire world took sides in civil strife that followed. China, that sleeping giant, awakened.

THOMAS A. EDISON was in his sunset years. The genius of Winston Churchill and that master politician, Franklin D. Roosevelt, was to show through.

Ghandi brought forth a philosophy that was to be embraced worldwide. Toscanini and Amundsen lived on. The wizardry of Charles Chaplin was assimilated by masses eager to laugh and perhaps to forget. Caruso was still entrancing millions with his voice.

THE SIX-DAY War never ended. The Marshall Plan threw the lifeline to imperiled nations, but played a role in impoverishing America. The hydrogen bomb was exploded, sending new ripples of fear even into the most remote villages. Sputnik went up. Men walked on the moon and orbited the earth.

The Civil Rights Act helped Americans, at least to a degree, soothe their troubled social consciences. World Wars I and II were fought, almost exclusively for the benefit of the munitions makers and the Generals.

TELEVISION became a necessary narcotic to people the world over. Man made inroads toward conquering space and took a close look at far-away planets. Fulgencio Batista gave up on corruption in Cuba and fled with his millions to Europe, making it easy for Castro and Communism to seize the lands and the minds of the people in that island republic.

An assassin whose principal mission was seeking a place in history felled John F. Kennedy, another dispatched his brother, a third ushered Martin Luther King into eternity and a fourth tried to hurry George Wallace to the end of his days.

WHAT A time to be alive. I feel I have been an eye-witness to history, because so many things of great import have taken place in the short time I have been allotted on this orb. The best of times have been combined with the worst of times. Man is mortal but he is also eternal. He believes that when he is very young but he also comes to so believe when the years begin to pile up behind him.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I know we've made real progress in civil rights, but some problems remain. What do you think of Christians who are real racists, and resist every effort to help minority groups gain a higher standard of living? F.C.

There is no support in the Bible for asserting that some of earth's residents are second class citizens. God has endowed all people with the right to a useful and mutual acceptance.

In Chattanooga, Tennessee, back in 1953, we began insisting that our meetings be purposely mixed. I took this stand before the Supreme Court school decision of 1954 and before I had ever heard the word "integration."

Often I am asked what the Bible has to say about the origin of the races, and their various colors of skin. The Bible does not tell us where the skin color comes from, but it does say we are "made of one blood." (Acts 17:26.)

I have observed that in many places, where you have two races living side by side, you have friction and prejudice. Law alone cannot eliminate this. There is only one solution, and that is a vital experience with Christ.

I don't believe that for the true Christian there is a race problem. The ground is level at the foot of the cross. After all, Jesus was one of the greatest social reformers, but He accomplished it by transforming the individual. Conversion has priority. Then, matters of social concern and betterment should naturally follow.

Rosenbergs Mystery

Hal Boyle

By DONALD SANDERS
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Questions which still nag many persons nearly 21 years after the execution of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg are probed in a 90-minute television program about the atomic spies being aired tonight.

The Rosenbergs, the first and only Americans to be put to death under civil law for espionage, died in the electric chair at New York's Sing Sing Prison on June 19, 1953, in what one prosecutor calls a terrible U.S. propaganda bath at home and abroad.

There were mass demonstrations protesting their innocence and seeking clemency, which President Dwight D. Eisenhower twice refused. The Supreme Court, called back from its summer recess, overturned a stay granted by Justice William O. Douglas.

The producers of "The Unquiet Death of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg," for broadcast over public television, say it was not their intent to examine questions of guilt or innocence. They wanted primarily to explore the political and social climate in which the couple was tried and executed. It was the period of the cold war and of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., and his pursuit of Communists.

Research for the program uncovered one bit of news — the death in Philadelphia on Aug. 28, 1972, of Harry Gold, a principal accuser of the Rosenbergs who served 15 years in prison after pleading guilty to atomic espionage.

Gold, who was 60, died during heart surgery, and his brother Joseph preferred to keep the death a private matter since, as he said, he was sick of the publicity.

The television program mentions this only incidentally. "As for Harry Gold," it says, "we found him in a Philadelphia cemetery, seven years after he was released from prison. He left behind ... a characterization by his last employer. Harry Gold was a gentle man who had difficulty separating fantasy from reality."

Making their first public appearance on the program as the Rosenbergs' sons, who have gone under the name of their adoptive parents, Meeropol.

Michael was 10 and Robert 6 when their parents were executed.

Morton Sobell, who served 18½ years of a 30-year sentence as a co-conspirator, tells his story for the first time; he did not testify at the trial.

Alvin H. Goldstein, producer of the documentary for the National Public Affairs Center for Television, says seven months of research went into it, tracking down and interviewing persons involved.

The narrator says 112 persons were interviewed, dozens of whom represented the prosecution, but that only two assistant attorneys, Roy Cohn and James Kilshner, agreed to appear.

Kilshner says that if the Rosenbergs had been willing to tell what they knew, he thinks "we would have had the most gigantic espionage case in the history of this country."

Cohn says: "The evidence has stood the test of time so tremendously that it ends up now, 20 some years later, as just as strong a case as it was at that time. ... I don't think any of us felt one second's hesitation about what the facts required the results should be."

Stein 'Encouraged'

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — At least one American was "encouraged" by the performance of prices in January, a month in which the inflation rate took its second-largest jump since the 1940s.

It was a month also in which the buying power of the typical factory worker declined for the fourth straight month, despite whatever raises he may have obtained. He now pays $1.40 for goods priced at $1.00 in 1967.

But Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, resumed his cheerful predictions which, after monthly repetition for two years, he had appeared to abandon.

STEIN NOTED that prices would not have risen nearly as much as they did, which is 1 per cent for the month or at an annual rate of 12 per cent, if food and energy increases hadn't distorted the statistics.

If these increases were eliminated, he said without advising how this might be done, the consumer price index would have shown a jump of four-tenths of 1 per cent, or roughly 5 per cent on an annual basis.

Thus, he concluded, the prospects were encouraging for a "better general price performance when the current surge in the food and energy categories has passed."

NEITHER, of course, can be eliminated from either the statistics or the lives that the statistics measure, and some wonders why Washington should continue the speculation. The essentials of life have risen 9.4 per cent in the 12 months from January 1973 to January 1974.

While Stein might find encouraging signs in the January report, few others do. They observe instead that a tremendous surge in wholesale prices will be pulsing toward the consumer at least until well into summer.

And, in an economy that is perhaps now permanently afflicted by shortages, there is hardly the old assurance that price stability can be regained by the fiscal and monetary policies.

THOSE POLICIES have been used to keep supply and demand in something near equilibrium — that, at least, was the goal. But if the supplies of raw materials aren't available, these techniques can hardly be effective.

After many months of playing an activist role in the marketplace, fixing prices and allocating supplies and dictating some retail practices, the nation's planners, it seems, have learned that their best intentions cannot keep prices in check.

Whatever the answer is and wherever it lies, it hardly could be seen in the latest consumer price report.

Caution On Evidence

Police scientists, working on an assault case, checked the gamma rays emanating from a bit of dirt taken from the victim's sweater. Then they checked the gamma rays from dirt on the suspect's trousers.

THE RAYS MATCHED — and the evidence later helped to send the man to prison.

The case illustrates a potent new weapon ("neutron activation analysis") in the fight against crime. Gamma rays, under proper conditions, can reveal whether any two objects — no matter how small — came from the same source. The gamma rays are brought into action by "charging" the objects with radioactivity.

ALREADY, the method has been used to track down the source of everything from paint to pipefittings, from oats to heroin, from hair to moonshine.

Nevertheless, like any new technique, it must be used with appropriate caution in order to qualify the findings as legal evidence.

THUS, IN A MURDER CASE, comparisons of blood made with gamma rays were held not admissible because technical difficulties made these particular tests less than convincing. The court warned against "the misleading aura of certainty which often envelops a new scientific process."

IN ONE UNUSUAL case a taxpayer, claiming a refund from the government, staked everything on a scribbled notation in the margin of his checkbook. The government retorted that he might easily have inserted the notation years after the date of the original entries.

To settle the matter, scientists compared gamma rays from the ink in the notation with gamma rays from the ink in the regular entries. The similarity of the rays convinced the government that the taxpayer was indeed telling the truth.

RESULT: he collected his refund in full.

What Causes Chirrhosis

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes chirrhosis of the liver, other than alcoholism? If a person has chirrhosis which is not from alcohol, would alcoholic beverages in moderate amounts be harmful? — M.M.

Yes, there are other causes: infection by viruses or other organisms, faulty nutrition, obstruction in the duct through which bile should flow, toxins from bowel infections irritation from certain drugs.

Your second question: the chemical breakdown of alcohol in the system produces an intermediate substance which can add to the liver damage. Hence, no one with chirrhosis, regardless of the cause, should consume any alcohol.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For several years I have been bothered with leg cramps. They started in the calf mostly but now affect my whole leg from toes to the groin. I wonder what causes them and what I can do to stop these spells. — Mrs. R. G.

Poor circulation, faults in foot structure, dietary deficiencies all contribute their share of leg cramps. Remedies therefore include medication, exercises or other means of improving circulation, correction of foot defects (and sometimes footwear), and moderate change in diet. Your cramps are so extensive I think you'd best get your doctor's help, but for an understanding of simple remedies write for my booklet on "How to Stop Leg Cramps." Send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me, in care of the Big Spring Herald for it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife's nonchalance about the following drives me nuts. When she is through "washing" the dishes, she puts them on a plastic type drain board. Many times she neglects to clean the drainboard of leftover bits of food, potato peelings, etc., on which she puts the clean dishes after washing.

Maybe something in your colium might reach her. — J.S.
Pretty sloppy housekeeping, isn't it? I have no formula for correcting that trait, and if anybody else has a cure, let me know. I'll pass it on.

The health danger is that bits of food can be a breeding place for germs that can cause diarrhea, cramps and such.

Draining dishes instead of wiping them is all right — but if the drain board contains garbage (and that's the word for it) it's taking a needless chance on making the family ill.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

The Big Spring Steer basketball team closed out its most successful season in years last week, and if you saw the local bunch play more than a couple of times you're probably like me, wondering how they won as many games as they did.

First looks at the team before its opener in November had folks doubting that the Steers could duplicate last year's not-so-super record of 16-17. With only three lettermen back off that group and a junior varsity that didn't exactly tear anyone up to help out, the Steers managed a 17-13 finish this year — best in seven seasons.

Coach Ron Plumlee and his assistant, James Griffin, probably weren't satisfied with the season, mainly because of the 5-9 Dist. 5-AAAA mark. But the Longhorns beat loop champion Midland Lee once and missed by a very slim two points the second time, knocked off defending tittist Midland High and defeated a San Angelo team that had a height edge of 19 inches in the starting lineup.

The Steers also won the school's first tournament championship in three years by taking the Snyder event, and their seven-game winning streak early in the season is probably one of the school's longest in years.

The first question I've got to ask is... how? To be truthful, and with no personal offense intended, the Steers really weren't very good. With the two tallest starters at 6-3, the Big Springers were at a height disadvantage against every district foe except Odessa High, which finished at 3-28.

By necessity the Steers became one of the best shooting teams around, and their fast break was a real pain for some teams. But that's no match for height and jumping ability. Obviously, when the other team gets three or four shots at the basket each time down the floor and your team gets one, there's got to be some good shooting or else.

The Steers had to hit 50 per cent or better every time out if they expected to win, and many times they did. But if there was ever a night when everyone went cold — and there were some — there's not a lot you can do.

One can't be realistically optimistic about the immediate future of the Steer cage program, either. Ten seniors will graduate off the Steer squad, leaving only sophomore James Zapp and Jim Ray with any varsity experience.

The junior varsity finished near the bottom in loop play, winning just three district games and finishing the year with a 9-13 overall mark, while the sophomores were also below .500. The fresh teams had a combined record of 26-7, but they'll just be unproven sophomores until they make something happen.

In a way, the Steer basketball team compares to the Steer football team of 1973 — not a great deal of talent, but a bunch of scrap. And from what I can tell, that's the way it's been for quite a while. It'll be interesting to see how Big Spring High Teams fare when they finally do measure out talent-wise with the rest of the district

Smith Breaks Slump With WCT Victory

It took seven months and three disputed calls, but Stan Smith finally is back on the winning track.

The fifth-seeded Smith, of Sea Pines, S. C., won a 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 decision from Australia's John Newcombe Sunday in the $50,000 World Championship Tennis Blue Group tournament, but those disputed calls made the outcome questionable for a while.

The victory, worth $10,000, was the first triumph since July for Smith.

The triumph lifted Smith into second place in the WCT Blue Group standings with 165 points — three more than Russia's Alex Metreveli and 42 fewer than the first-place Newcombe.

Billie Jean King won $10,000 for her 6-1, 6-1 victory over Rosemary Casals on the women's pro circuit stop in Detroit. The match was witnessed by 9,123, and the winner said the attendance was instrumental in her victory.

"They really turned me on," said Ms. King after the easy triumph over Ms. Casals.

"My whole game was going well, but particularly my low-ball game and my serves."

The decision raised to $37,900 Ms. King's earnings on the tour — her third in four attempts this season.

In Salisbury, Md., Jimmy Connors continued his domination of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association indoor circuit with a 6-4, 7-5, 6-3 trouncing of South Africa's Frew MacMillan — Connors' second consecutive U. S. National Indoor Open victory.

MacMillan, 31, lost a 4-1 lead in the second set and Connors took over from there to gain the $9,000 winner's share.

The 21-year-old from Belleville, Ill., became the seventh player in history to win back-to-back titles in the National Open, and the first since Charlie Pasarell in 1966-67.

Southwest Texas, Howard Payne and East Texas State face a week of decision to decide the Lone Star Conference basketball championship.

Southwest Texas owns a 12-5 record and is at Stephen F. Austin Thursday night.

Howard Payne is 11-5 and entertains Sam Houston State tonight and travels to East Texas Thursday night.

East Texas (10-6) is at Sul Ross tonight and hosts HPC in a big showdown Thursday night.

Should there be a two-way tie, a one-game playoff will be held to determine the LSC representative for the NAIA playoff against St. Mary's of the Big State Conference.

The match against St. Mary's is a best-of-three affair with the winner advancing to the nationals in Kansas City the second week in March. If there is a three-way tie, the playoff entry will be determined by a coin toss.

NFL Ponders Super Bowl IX, Expansion Talk Is Postponed

MIAMI (AP) — Phoenix, Seattle, Memphis and Florida may have to wait at least another year. It appears the National Football League, opening its annual winter meetings today, will postpone expansion.

The big matter being taken up today is whether New Orleans will get to keep Super Bowl IX. The speculation is that, because of the delays in completing the Louisiana Superdome, the NFL is going to take away the 1975 championship game and give it to Los Angeles.

Should the league do so, Miami still will be the site of the 1976 title game, and New Orleans almost surely would be awarded Super Bowl XI in January 1977.

Only a few months ago, expansion appeared a likely prospect. The big question, it seemed, was not which two cities would join the league soonest, but which one would get a franchise along with Seattle.

The city which, for one less than successful year, had a major league baseball team, appeared to have the inside track on expansion, probably as a National Conference entry.

As to which city would become the 28th in the NFL, behind No. 27 Seattle, the opinion was divided almost evenly between Phoenix and Memphis.

WEATHERFORD FIRST ROUND OPPONENT

Hawks Ranked No. 1 In Region

ABILENE — The Region V selection committee, surprising practically no one, named the Howard College Hawks the top-seeded team for the regional tournament March 7-9 in Brownwood.

The Hawks, ranked 16th nationally with a 32-5 record, headed up a list of five Western Conference teams and will meet No. 8 seed Weatherford of the Northern Conference in first round action Thursday at 7 p.m.

Second-seeded Hill Junior College of Hillsboro, Northern loop champ, tangles with Western Texas of Snyder 4 p.m., No. 3 Amarillo battles Odessa (No. 6) at 2 p.m. and fourth-seeded McLennan goes against Clarendon (No. 5) at 9 p.m. in other first round games.

Second round action continues Friday, March 8 for the winners in Brownwood Coliseum, and the finals are set for Saturday at 9 p.m.

The Hawks are 12-3 in WC action and can clinch the outright title by beating South Plains here tonight at 7:30 p.m. At one point in the season they were 29-2 on the year, riding a 22-game win streak and ranked No. 9 in the nation.

But the HC cagers have lost three of their last six games and four of their defeats this season have come at the hands of Region V opponents.

Weatherford, meanwhile, is 16-11 on the year and finished third in its league with a 9-5 mark. Weatherford lost by two points to No. 1 nationally-ranked San Jacinto, and the Coyotes also dropped a two-point decision to Eastern Conference champ Henderson. Earlier in the year, Weatherford trimmed Clarendon by 17 points.

Hill stands 23-10 on the season, but has lost just one game since 6-9 and 6-8 performers became eligible at the semester break and the Rebels won their league with a 13-1 mark.

McLennan returns four starters from the team that won last year's tournament and represented the region at the national tournament. McLennan, of Waco, is 22-9 and finished second in the loop at 12-2, splitting home-and-home dates with Hill.

Amarillo is in second place in the Western league with an 11-4 standing, and on the year the Badgers are 19-6. Odessa is just a half-game out of second at 10-4, and the Wranglers will be hoping for a repeat of last week's upset triumph over the talented Amarillo cagers.

Western Texas and Clarendon are among the hottest teams in the meet, as each have won their last nine games. Clarendon is 19-10 and 10-5, while WTC holds 21-8 and 9-4 marks.

A committee of six region coaches made the seedings Sunday in a meeting at Moody Coliseum. Coaches voting included Dale Catton of New Mexico Junior College, Mike Mitchell of Western Texas, Jack Hedden of Clarendon, Dr. Flabel George of Cook County, Jerry Neely of Weatherford and Bill Campion of Schreiner Institute.

HC Can Cinch Crown Against SPC Today

It's the regional title and a trip to the national tournament that's really motivating the Howard College Hawks, but a Western Conference title would be nice and the HC lads can get that tonight.

The Hawks, who were named Sunday as the No. 1 seed for the Regional V tournament in Brownwood next week, host the South Plains Texans at 7:30 p.m. today in the HC gym. A victory would give the Hawks their first outright WC title in four years, and would also close out a perfect home season for the Howard cagers, who haven't lost in 17 Big Spring games this year.

Howard College already owns 135 - 95 and 69 - 59 victories over the Texans, but coach Harold Wilder doesn't think his team will be overconfident. "No, I don't believe our kids are thinking that way.

"All I've talked about since Thursday is that we're playing South Plains for the conference title — that's what this game amounts to. We don't have to depend on anyone else to help us."

The Hawks, 12-3 in league play, clinched a tie for the title Thursday even though they were beaten by Western Texas. Amarillo suffered its fourth defeat, losing to Clarendon, and the best the Badgers can hope for is a tie if they can beat New Mexico Junior College tonight in Hobbs, N.M.

Odessa College, a half game behind Amarillo at 10-4, hosts Western Texas tonight also hoping for a HC defeat, and the Wranglers close out their regular season Thursday against South Plains.

The Hawks and Wilder broke a 10-game losing streak at the hands of the Texans of ex-HC coach Buddy Travis during the ABC Olympic Classic here in January, running to a big 135-95 decision. But in the second game in Levelland the Texans refused to run with the fast-breaking Hawks, and the Big Springers had to rally in the second half for the win.

"We don't expect them to do too much different," Wilder said. "They still have a game to play after this, so it won't be like they're trying to win the last one for the Gipper or anything."

The Texans, 10-20 and 4-10, will be paced by the inside play of 6-8 John Joseph, while Larry Phillips, Robert Herrera and Marcus Johnson are all good outside shooters.

Five sophomores will start for the Hawks in their final home game, Taylor Williams, Thomas Bledsoe, Bobby Beall, Leroy Lumzy and Mike Randle. Freshmen David Dolliver, Alfred Gladden, Keith Lewis, Johnny Harris, Willie Young, Snickle Beal, Don Davis, Kenneth Schuelke and Randy Cheatham will also be in the Hawks' lineup.

Playoff May Tell SWC Cage Champ

ON THE DRIVE — Rice University cager Tim Moriarty (30) drives for the basket and two points against Texas Tech's William Johnson Saturday in Lubbock during the Red Raiders' 58-54 romp. With two games remaining, the Raiders are tied with Texas for the league lead.

It appears a playoff will be needed between Texas and Texas Tech to decide the Southwest Conference basketball title, but don't wager your last tank of gas on it.

The Longhorns and Red Raiders each own 9-3 ledgers atop

Mustangs Seek Bi-District Win

LEVELLAND — The Sands Mustangs and Meadow Bronchos, two teams rich in basketball tradition, will collide Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the South Plains College Coliseum in Class B bi-district basketball action.

Sands, the Dist. 8-B champion, carries a 22-3 mark into the tilt, its 10th straight venture into the playoffs, while Meadow captured its district for the 12th straight year. Sands nudged the Broncos by a point in bi-district action a year ago.

The game will be the second of a cage doubleheader, as Bledsoe and Spade will meet in the 7 p.m. opener. Winners of both games will advance to the regional tournament this weekend, also in Levelland.

Sands saw a 21-game winning streak end during a couple of warm-up games last week, as Leuders-Avoca kicked the Mustangs 60-52 and Bledsoe scored a 61-57 triumph over the Ponies.

Mustang Coach Phil Mowrey says Sands will be at a disadvantage experience-wise, since 6-4 Danny Coldiron is the only

Creighton's Offers Service For All Tire Owners

Creighton Tire Company stands in the entire West Texas area. They offer complete tire repair service, including fixing flats, wheel balancing, repairs and alignment. These are things that should all be done at one location.

If a customer buys a tire at one place, gets them balanced at another and has the front end lined up at still another place, they are never sure where the fault lies if there is a difficulty.

The energy crisis information constantly stresses the importance of good tires and properly inflated tires in saving fuel.

The Seiberling Radial is one of the finest tires made as are all Seiberlings, who hold one of the top tire reputations in the country.

Many users claim they wear longer, are safer in the rain and stop faster than many other tires.

Their tires are protected against blow-outs and offer a maximum tread life.

Before the traveling spring days arrive, check your tires and if you need new ones, drop by Creighton's and ask about their tires and service.

Kerosene Does Job For Couple

AIKEN, S.C. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Roger Payne were 30 miles from their home here when the needle on the gasoline gauge in their car showed empty.

All the service stations in the vicinity were either closed or out of gas.

Payne remembered a trick he had used once during World War II rationing days. He got three gallons of kerosene at one service station.

"Smoke was pouring out the back and you've never heard such knocking in all your life, but we made it," Mrs. Payne said.

Goodbye Guzzler

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A gas guzzler of noted capacity no longer belongs to the State of Texas.

The Board of Control sold Gov. Dolph Briscoe's state-owned limousine at public auction for $2,950 Saturday. It cost $9,995 in 1966.

Sam Green of the Department of Public Safety said the Lincoln Continental got seven miles to the gallon the last time it was checked in 1972.

Total mileage on the car was 48,712.

Gov. Briscoe hasn't used the car much in the little more than a year that he has held office.

Wallace Supporters Map Plans To Oppose Changes

HOUSTON (AP) — A group of supporters of Gov. George Wallace of Alabama have expressed opposition to some proposed changes in the Democratic Party organization.

Some 200 delegates to the Democratic Grassroots Conference passed a resolution at their first conference meeting Sunday expressing their intent to establish similar groups in each state prior to the December Conference on Democratic Party Organization and Policy at Kansas City, Mo., where party rules will be adopted.

A prime target of the group is a newly organized compliance committee.

Norman Ble, a Clearwater, Fla., attorney and member of the Democratic National Executive Committee, said the compliance committee has been set up to monitor state party compliance with national party rules.

The state parties should be left alone to elect delegates as they wish, said Houston attorney

Hall E. Timanus, also a member of the national committee and a leader of Wallace supporters in Texas.

Under the new rules, Timanus said, "new politics" people who make up a majority on the national committee, have the power to "unseat an entire elected delegation."

Timanus said the Grassroots Conference delegates feel the changes are an effort on the national level "to change the direction of the Democratic Party, like a European party, with strong national control"

Calls Meany 'Crybaby'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — White House aide John McLaughlin has compared AFL-CIO President George Meany to "a spoiled crybaby" who tries to get his way through "intimidation by tantrum."

Delegates denied reports that the meeting was to launch an organizing effort toward another Wallace presidential campaign but they did say Wallace would be their man in 1976 if he wins re-election as governor of Alabama.

McLaughlin, a Catholic priest and deputy special assistant to President Nixon, told a Miami news conference that Meany "consistently acts like the willful baby that has been spoiled and who gets his way by tantrums."

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Mon., Feb. 25, 1974 3-B

McLaughlin, a Catholic priest and deputy special assistant to President Nixon, told a Miami news conference that Meany "consistently acts like the willful baby that has been spoiled and who gets his way by tantrums."

"The baby kicks, screams and cries, raises his fists and gets red in the face," he said.

Meany and the AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting in Miami Beach last week have harshly criticized the Nixon administration's handling of the economy.

Key Club Holds Major Fund Raising Project

By DRUANNE PRIDDY

Key Club held its major fund raising project of the spring yesterday, as Key Day 74 was observed. Key Clubbers manned radio stations KBST and KHEM the entire day and acted as disc jockeys for the day.

gallant middle-aged French planter, Emile de Becque (Robert Brandshaw). The secondary romantic theme is that of the likeable American marine Lt. Joseph Cable (Kenneth Scott) and the lovely Tonkinese girl, Liat. Surrounding them are such fascinating characters as Bloody Mary, Liat's shrewd and avaricious mother (Carric Wheeler); Luther Billis (Charles McKinney); a knowing and earthy Seabee who plays a wonderfully comic role in the amateur entertainment provided by the temporary residents of the island.

The principal romantic theme may be outlined as follows: Nellie Forbush and deBecque fall in love, and the varying moods of their affection are represented in such songs as the ebullient "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair" and "A Wonderful Guy," and the exquisite "Some Enchanted Evening."

Nellie's love for the planter, who has married a Polynesian woman on first coming to the island and that he had by her several children now under his care, for their mother has been dead for some time. Seeing that Nellie is avoiding him and realizing the reason, deBecque volunteers to go on a dangerous spy mission with Lt. Cable. The latter is killed on this expedition, but deBecque returns. Nellie, meanwhile has grown deeply fond of deBecque's young native children; and, more important, she now fully appreciates the high quality of the planter; and so their romance achieves a happy conclusion.

The tragic subplot of South Pacific is the story of the touching romance between Cable and Liat. Exquisite though the Tonkinese girl is and sincerely though they love one another, Cable fears that the difference in their races would work against a happy marriage for them. Their few moments of happiness are represented in such songs as "Younger than Springtime" and "Happy Talk". Off season football players are selling Big Spring mascot posters and college posters for the next few days. Samples of these are on display in the cafeteria. Be sure to get your order in.

The Big Spring Helver volleyball team was victorious in their district opener against the Abilene High Eagles. The JV's also maintained their perfect record. The Helvers traveled to Midland Friday night to battle with the High Dogs.

The Silver and Golden Horns, stage bands, went to Levelland, Texas yesterday to be clinched by the North Texas State University lab band.

Preparations are now being made for the Texas Tech Stage Band Festival, to be held on March 9. Both stage bands will participate in this festival.

Approximately 130 band members will go to Odessa, College March 2 for UIL solo and ensemble contest. All participants will be rated on a 1 to 5 basis.

Tuesday "The Living Sound" presented an assembly to the BSHS student body. They are a religious singing group from Tulsa, Oklahoma. They were also guests of Good Morning World.

Last weekend at the Texas Tech Speech Tournament in Lubbock the Boy's Debate team reached the semi-finals and brought home a nice trophy. The team is made up of John Lipscombe and Curt Condray. The boys won six debate rounds while losing one. The girls debate team consisting of Mary John Cherry and Lynn Dickinson reached the quarterfinals with a three wins and two loss record. Van Johnson made it into the finals of Boy's Poetry and Renee Wash got into the semi-finals of Girl's poetry

Warner To Have Series Of Tests

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Pioneer movie producer Jack L. Warner has entered San Diego's University Hospital for tests, his office says.

Mr. Butler Talks To English Class

By JENNIE SPEEGLE

The fifth period English classes were visited on Wednesday, by Mr. Robert Butler. Mr. Butler is now the Director of Personnel and the Purchasing of Big Spring, but he was once a migrant worker. His visit coincides with the English class reading of a migrant family.

Mr. Butler was four years old when his family lost everything in Oklahoma. His family loaded what few belongings they had on a truck and moved to California. When they arrived in California, after two weeks of driving everyday, they came to a migrant camp and were assigned a house that was only about 9x9. His mother and father, grandmother, grandfather, aunt, uncle, two brothers and himself all lived in this small house.

When Mr. Butler was fourteen his family moved to a farm in California and he stated that this was a little better life. Mr. Butler started school when he was almost eight years old. He spent around 30 days in school during the first grade; therefore, he had to repeat it. In most of the schools he attended, all of the students were taught in one room, the migrant children were separated from the others. Mr. Butler stated that migrant children were looked down on. He also explained that moving so often was hard on a child because he had to make new friends, learn a new school routine, etc. Mr. Butler paid for his college education on his own by working.

Mr. Butler told the classes that he was a migrant worker from the age of 4 1/2 to 5 until he was 14. Mr. Butler has been to many wonderful places, including the Swiss Alps and France and he has met many important people. A few of these include the King of Sweden before he died, Princess Rose, John Kennedy and William Holden.

Last week Feb. 18-22 the Runnels Student Council sponsored Safety week. The council promoted one special project for each day of last week, Monday was the kick off day. The Runnels Student Council would like to thank Mr. Kissinger for taking the time to talk to them. Thursday the representatives sold links in a Safety Chain for a penny a piece. Students who purchased links wrote a safety slogan on each link. The chain was displayed on the second floor. Friday was "clean out locker day". All of the Runnels students cleaned up their lockers during advisory.

Mr. Dixon world of work instructor, attended an Industrial Arts Workshop at Texas A and M on Friday and Saturday of last week.

Dismissal Is Extended OK

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) - A state appeals court has upheld the dismissal of an elementary school teacher who underwent a sex change.

The Appellate Division of Superior Court ruled that Bernards Township school officials were within their rights in firing Mrs. Paula M. Grossman on grounds her presence in the classroom would cause emotional disturbance to pupils.

The court also said its ruling, upholding a decision by the state Board of Education, would not bar Mrs. Grossman from seeking a teaching position elsewhere, presumably where pupils would not be aware of her sex change.

Mrs. Grossman, 54, was dismissed in 1971 after undergoing a sex change operation. Before the surgery, she had been teaching at Paul Monroe Grossman, was married and had three children. She has continued to live with her family.

New Fun Game Is Vogue In Oregon

MEDFORD, Ore. (AP) - The gasoline shortage has spawned a new diversion among the teen-agers of this southern Oregon town.

Jackson County sheriff's deputies say two or three youngsters drive their cars to the pumps of a closed station and start a short line. Very quickly, other cars line up behind them.

When the line reaches two or three blocks, the teen-agers drive off, leaving a string of cars waiting for gasoline at pumps that aren't open.

New Highway Maps Released

AUSTIN—Initial distribution of the 1974 Texas Official Highway Travel Map was announced today by the Texas Highway Department.

During the year some one million copies will be distributed to Texas drivers, making the map one of the most popular publications in the state.

The map offers distances, (topographic) indicates relative sizes of all cities and towns. Each type of highway is scribbled differently, from Interstate routes to Farm Roads. Convenient red mileage figures tabulate total miles between major points.

Every rest area along Texas highways is indicated; those with rest rooms are shown by a different symbol. All state parks are pinpointed by number, symbol, and grid coordinates. There are even altitude readings for each county seat.

Copies of the free map may be obtained at tourist information centers, or by writing to the Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P. O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78763.

Actress Taking Pictures Of Men

MOSCOW (AP) - Italian actress Gina Lollobrigida is visiting the Soviet Union this week. She's taking photographs of one of the world's most interesting men. But she isn't saying exactly who.

"We're keeping that a secret," she said in an interview. Miss Lollobrigida is traveling around the world on assignment from the Ladies' Home Journal to take pictures of men she and the magazine consider the most fascinating.

The auburn-haired actress, who had a book of her photographs published last year, said of photography: "I like it better than films because in acting, you depend on other people. But in photography, you're your own creator."

WILLIAM F. KNOWLAND
Publisher
Gun Victim

GUERNEVILLE, Calif. (AP) — An autopsy shows that a single gunshot wound in the head killed former Sen. William F. Knowland, 65. Authorities say the wound was self-inflicted.

The body of Knowland, who fought world communism both as a U.S. senator and as editor and publisher of the Oakland Tribune, was found Saturday in the Russian River behind his $150,000 summer home at Mont Rio, 75 miles north of San Francisco.

Undersheriff Robert Hayes said an autopsy showed death was caused by a single, self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head. He said divers recovered a .32-caliber automatic pistol in the water near the body.

Hayes said investigators were called to the home Saturday afternoon after Knowland, who was seen arriving there in the morning by a neighbor, failed to keep an appointment. Muddy footprints leading to the end of a boat dock on the property prompted the sheriff's department to search the river.

Hayes said the family told him there was no suicide note.

Knowland became known as an advocate of a "get-tough-with-Russia" stance and favored sharp U.S. intervention in the Korean War, including bombing of Communist bases in Manchuria and blockade of the mainland Chinese coast. He was a staunch supporter of Nationalist Chinese leader Chiang Kai-shek and opposed to seating Communist China in the United Nations.

Knowland is survived by his widow, Ann; a sister, Mrs. Edgar H. Lion, of Scottsdale, Ariz.; a son, Joseph William Knowland; two daughters, Evelyn Jewett and Estelle Johnson; two of his second wife's children, Kay and Steve Sessinghaus; and eight grandchildren.

'Goals' Group Set To Meet

The steering committee of the "Goals for Progress" project will be at 3 p.m., Wednesday in the parlor of the Student Union Building at Howard College, chairman Dr. Thomas T. Salter has announced.

Progress in the project will be reviewed and future planning discussed.

Other members of the committee are Wade Choate, Mary Joy Cowper, Dorothy Garrett, Tom Locke, K. H. McGibbon, A. G. Mitchell, H. S. Pearson and Adolph Swartz.

Coffee and cokes will be served to those attending. Dr. Salter reminds that this will be the first meeting of the entire committee.

Simon To Urge Rationing If Gas Lines Get Longer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Energy chief William E. Simon says he would have to recommend gasoline rationing if the visible inconvenience of lengthy service station lines became widespread.

But, he said on NBC's Meet the Press Sunday, "at this time the shortages and long lines are really concentrated in the metropolitan areas."

He said that the extra allocations, and other efforts of the Federal Energy Office are aimed at "trying to reduce the suffering and hardship and inconvenience that is being caused to the American people."

WOULDN'T WORK

Asked if he felt President Nixon would approve a recommendation for rationing, Simon said they "would have a long, hard conversation if I made the recommendation, but I wouldn't presuppose what his decision might be."

Simon said he is personally opposed to rationing because "basically, I just think it wouldn't work... it would put a great many rigidities in a very complex economy."

Meanwhile the Shah of Iran said that the United States is importing at last as much oil as it was before the beginning of the Arab oil boycott.

Appearing on the CBS news program 60 Minutes, the shah, whose country is not involved in the boycott, said the United States is receiving as much imported oil as in the past.

FRAUD?

Asked if he feels the energy shortage may be connected to something that doesn't meet the eye, the shah said: "Well, something is going on for sure."

And when asked who was being enriched by it, he responded: "the oil companies." Following the broadcast Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., called for a congressional investigation.

"This confirms what most Americans have been thinking all along and comes right from headquarters. The statement of the shah suggests fraud on the part of the oil companies and Congress has to get the facts immediately," said Long.

ODD-EVEN

gasoline purchase system gets underway Tuesday in New York, which is changing from a voluntary system.

—An Associated Press survey disclosed that states are cutting back on highway construction and delaying repairs to older roads because of a decline in gasoline tax revenues.

—Service station operators, satisfied at least for the time being with the latest actions by federal and state energy officials, have abandoned a movement for a statewide shutdown in New Jersey.

PARCHED AREA

—The parched Chicago area began soaking up an extra allotment of gasoline today and officials hoped the long lines of customers at service stations would start thinning. Oil companies started deliveries during the weekend of 20 million gallons of gasoline to the Chicago area as ordered by the FEO.

—Although Pennsylvania service stations will begin getting extra gasoline this week, the head of a state dealers organization predicted hundreds of additional stations will run dry by mid-week.

Howard Girls Claim Award

Howard College girls won the team trophy as the Spring National Intercollegiate Rodeo circuit was resumed Saturday at Fort Stockton. Sul Ross University served as host for the event.

Kay Proctor, who is leading the Southwest region in barrel racing, picked up another first place, and Tona Pettigrew finished second to fasten her hold in that spot in the region. Carolyn Roane placed as the team won the girls' trophy and held on to third in regional standings.

Among the men performers, Raleigh McCullough was the only one to place, grabbing second place in bull riding, helping him retain his first-place rank in this event in the region. Next competition will be March 9 when Amarillo College is host, said Byron Hedges, coach.

Skid Resistant Pavement OKed

The Texas Highway Commission has approved construction of skid resistant pavement on a section of interstate Highway 20 in and near Big Spring in Howard County.

The project extends from 2.0 miles west of Big Spring to 2.0 miles east of Big Spring, a distance of approximately 7.3 miles. Estimated cost is $307,000.

While the paved surface of the roadway is a factor in prevention of skidding, many other factors are involved, including proper tire inflation, condition of the tires themselves, speed, weather conditions and the driver's handling of his vehicle.

Half Million Dollars Paper Fire At Garland

GARLAND, Tex. (AP) — A fire at a large paper storage warehouse at this Dallas suburb burned for over 12 hours and caused damage in excess of a half million dollars, a Garland fire department spokesman said today.

The fire, whipped by 30 miles per hour winds, caused the 270 by 150 foot steel shed at the St. Regis Paper Co. to collapse and consumed tons of paper stored there.

The blaze was first reported at 1:32 p.m. Sunday and a fire department spokesman said it was not tapped out officially until 2 a.m. today. Firemen were still putting out small recurring fires within the area several hours later, the spokesman said.

Eight of the fire department's 11 pieces of firefighting equipment were called to the scene, along with 24 regular firemen and 10 reservists.

Tom Upton, production manager for the company, said the storage shed contained 28,000 tons of corrugated paper, most of it on five-foot high rolls. Upton said the paper alone was worth $500,000. A total damage estimate was not made.

Historian Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Margaret Leech Pulitzer historian and two-time Pulitzer Prize winner, died Sunday at her home here following a stroke. She was 80. She was the widow of the late Ralph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World.

Flames from the fire, the cause of which was not determined, spread in the high winds to an adjoining vacant lot and burned grass 300 yards from the blazing shed. Residents of the area also complained of small grass fires in their yards caused by wind-blown embers.

One fireman suffered a twisted ankle while fighting the fire.
