

Thousands Streaking

By The Associated Press

Thousands of skinny, fat, goose-bumpy, sweaty bodies, all nude, are competing with the heroes of college athletics for the title to biggest spectator sport in the country.

Thousands upon thousands of collegians, male and female, stripped to the buff Thursday night for a zany frolic of "streaking" that provided more entertainment than television or the local movies.

The craze of romping around campus in the nude has been building in numbers and imagination for weeks.

Ransom Paid, Boy Released

By The Associated Press

An 8-year-old Long Island boy, kidnaped as he walked home from school Wednesday, was released unharmed early today after a ransom was paid, authorities said.

Officials refused to reveal the amount of the ransom, but there were reports it amounted to $50,000.

John Calzadilla of Dix Hills, N.Y., walked into a Holiday House restaurant on the New Jersey Turnpike near Secaucus about 1:10 a.m. after being released from a black sedan, authorities said.

'I FEEL FINE'
"The boy is fine. I thank the FBI for a fine job," said Michael Calzadilla, the youth's father, in a brief statement. Calzadilla is a tire salesman.

The boy, appearing in good spirits, was cradled in his father's arms in the back seat of a car. "I feel fine," John told newsmen.

The boy said he thought he had been held captive in a hotel or motel but did not know the locality.

RED-HEADED FEM
The boy also said there were three people in the black sedan that let him off in front of the restaurant — two men and a red-headed woman, Cox said.

In developments on other recent kidnappings:

—Another massive distribution of free food to San Francisco Bay area poor takes place today, the fourth financed by newspaper executive Randolph A. Hearst in an effort to free his daughter, Patricia, from kidnapers. The 20-year-old coed was kidnaped by the Symphonese Liberation Army Feb. 4, and there has been no word from the kidnapers since Feb. 21.

A. Ludlow Kramer, executive director of People in Need, which is handling the food distribution, said Thursday "as of today, more than 80,000 food packets costing $416,820 have been distributed."

EXTORTION
Kramer estimated the original $2 million commitment from Hearst and the William Randolph Hearst Foundation probably would enable the handout program to continue "for another four weeks."

—A Lilburn, Ga., couple faces arraignment today on a total of nine charges stemming from the abduction of Atlanta newspaper editor Reg Murphy.

A federal grand jury handed down indictments Thursday charging William A. H. Williams, 33, with extortion and six related counts. His wife, Betty Ruth, 26, was charged with aiding and abetting extortion and failing to report a crime.

STILL FREE
Murphy, editor of The Atlanta Constitution, was released unharmed Feb. 23 after being held captive for 49 hours. The newspaper's owners paid a $700,000 ransom.

—In Roanoke, Va., Betty Ann Van Balen, kidnaped Wednesday after payment of a $25,000 ransom, says one of her abductors formerly worked for her husband, Mrs. Balen's sister reported. The FBI today refused comment on the report.

The kidnapers remained at large. The FBI said Thursday night that they were looking for a man and a woman.

Mrs. Van Balen was released in West Virginia, and local authorities were checking motels and hotels in the Fayetteville and Charleston areas for the two suspects.

STRIPPED OF MISS WORLD TITLE — Marjorie Wallace, 20-year-old Indianapolis model who won the Miss World beauty crown last November, was fired Thursday by the contest's British organizers. She is pictured in London Wednesday. A spokesman for Mecca Ltd., the organizers, said adverse publicity surrounding Miss Wallace risked demeaning the contest.

Unemployment Rate Steady In America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate held steady at 5.2 per cent of the work force in February despite the energy crunch, the government said today.

SURPRISE STATISTICS

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, reporting the surprise statistic, said total employment remained unchanged at 85.8 million while the number of people out of work held at 4.7 million.

Specialists in the bureau could offer no reason for the sudden halt in unemployment, which has risen from 4.6 per cent of the work force since last October, primarily because of job layoffs caused by the energy crisis.

The bureau estimated that from November through February between 125,000 and 200,000 jobs were lost directly because of fuel shortages.

ENERGY CRISIS

One reason for the apparent strength of employment in February was shown in a separate survey of industry employment, showing that nonfarm payroll jobs posted a net increase of 175,000 last month.

This survey showed that even though 151,000 people were laid off in February in the manufacturing industry, mainly because of the energy crisis, another 218,000 found jobs in service-producing industries and 101,000 in the construction industry.

The unemployment rate had been expected to go up again as the economy continued an apparent slowdown and the Arab oil embargo cut into industry production.

One bureau official said that one possible explanation is the margin of error built into the monthly statistics. He said that perhaps the January rise was overstated or the February report understated.

The official also said that it is possible that employers, anticipating difficult fuel shortages, took extremely stringent layoff measures in January.

Two-Cent Stamps Sell Well Here

The Post Office has sold nearly 90,000 two cent stamps since the new price hike for first class postage from eight to 10 cents went into effect March 2, said assistant post master Weldon Bryant Friday.

"I've got another 10,000 on hand now. I'll keep ordering them in lots of 10,000, but it's slowing down. Our four varieties of 10 cent stamps are also going pretty good," Bryant added.

The Post Office's vending machines now have all the new denominations and lots — 10 cent, five cent, one cent, 25 cent and $1. Stamp books and envelopes are also available in varied lots.

"We've had a very good run on two cent stamps. It's been considerable," Post Master Frank Hardesty said this morning.

Hardesty feels the postal increase is necessary if the Post Office is to function.

"About ninety-five per cent of our mail is business-oriented. The postal increase was postponed two months, and it played havoc with our budget. All business is going up and we need this to stay within our budget. The gas increase has hit us too," Hardesty said.

Two new commemoratives will also be on sale this month — a Robert Frost stamp debuting March 27 and a VFW stamp Tuesday.

Jenkins Draws Top Spot On Ballot

In the draw for positions on the ballot for the April 6 Big Spring school board election, incumbent Jerry Jenkins was dealt the top position. The drawing occurred this morning.

Others in the appointed order are Noah Leyva, Charles Beil, Al Valdes, Mrs. Venora Williams, R. E. McKiski, Don Reynolds, Tom Fetters, Mrs. Sherry Wegner and Don DeLesau.

There are three places to be filled. Incumbents running are Jenkins and Fetters. Ralph McLaughlin did not file for re-election.

Leyva, who was an appointee to the Howard County school board as a member at large, resigned that position this morning, according to an announcement made by the office of County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

Rollback Of Oil Prices Defeated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seventeen Texas congressmen sided with the majority as the House reversed itself and defeated 216-163 a rollback of domestic crude oil prices.

Two representatives from Texas voted for the measure and five others were listed as not voting.

Those casting ballots against the measure were Reps. Archer, Collins Price and Steelman, Republicans; and Burleson, Casey, Fisher, Gonzalez, Kazen, Mahon, Milford, Patman, Poage, Roberts, White, Wright, Wright and Young Democrats.

Votes for the rollback came from Reps. Eckhardt and Jordan, Democrats.

Those not voting were Reps. Brooks de la Garza, Pickle, Teague and Wilson.

The Senate Wednesday night sustained Nixon's veto of the emergency energy bill 58-40 — eight votes short of the necessary two-thirds majority.

Checking Problems Are Nothing New

"Problems with veterans checks are not entirely new at Howard College although there were a few more of them in recent weeks," according to L. L. Lewis, college registrar.

"We have always tried to work with students having problems receiving their checks and contact the offices for them whenever there is a problem. Consequently, we have very few times that a student is forced to drop out because of this problem," Lewis added.

He cited an example of a student whose delayed checks failed to arrive in the summer but finally came in the fall months.

When asked if he knew why the VA offices suddenly seem to be having trouble processing checks, Lewis pointed out that we have the same number of veterans offices as after WWII and the Korean conflict, but all of the Vietnam veterans papers have been added to the workload.

Lewis also pointed out that whenever possible, the office here tries to send everything in advance. "We request fall semester needs in the summer whenever possible."

Lewis added, "I hope it doesn't get to a point that we can't work it out because we certainly welcome veterans at Howard College."

Nixon Proposes Limits On Campaign Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today proposed new restrictions on campaign contributions and new steps to outlaw so-called "dirty tricks," saying that "campaign abuses recently publicized ... proclaim that the electoral process needs reform."

INTEGRITY

"I am doubtful that any legislation can provide the panacea that some seek to guarantee absolute integrity in the electoral process," the President declared in a message to Congress.

But he proposed a series of reforms — and stated his opposition to some other suggestions — which if enacted would change the face of American elections.

Nixon said campaign financing is "the most important area for reform and the area in which reform is most urgently required."

"I conclude that the single most important action to reform campaign financing should be broader public disclosure," he said.

NO LOANS

Nixon's eight-page message listed these specific financing proposals:

—No individual could contribute more than $3,000 to any Senate or House candidate or more than $15,000 to any presidential candidate. These limits would apply separately in primaries, runoff and general elections.

—No cash contribution above $50, no donations from foreigners, no loans and no donation of such non-money assets as stocks would be allowed.

—Organizations other than political parties, such as the AFL-CO's Committee on Political Education or various industry political action committees, could not donate directly to a candidate. They could continue contributing to political parties.

SINGLE BANK

—All contributions to a candidate would flow through only one committee and would have to be deposited in a single bank.

—An independent federal elections commission would supervise federal election law, taking over functions now scattered amongst the House, Senate and comptroller general.

Nixon scheduled a nationwide radio address at 12:30 p.m. today to discuss the campaign reform proposals.

In the dirty tricks area, Nixon said existing laws "are unclear and have been unevenly and sometimes unfairly enforced through selective prosecution."

Most recently a Nixon campaign operative, Donald Segretti, was convicted and sentenced to jail for disseminating a fake letter during the Florida campaign primary in 1972.

A number of former Nixon aides have been indicted for other campaign activities or the cover-up of those activities in the Watergate affair.

STUFFING BOXES

Nixon recommended that federal law prohibit three areas of campaign practice:

—Disruptive and willfully misleading activities, such as disseminating false information or rigging public opinion polls.

The World At-A-Glance

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Union clothing workers have agreed to end a bitter strike and companion boycott against Farah Manufacturing Co. which started in 1972 and caused the company to close several plants. Members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (ACWA) voted Thursday night to accept a contract in which a no strike-no lockout provision is a key feature. It also provides for higher wages and improved fringe benefits.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Appliance store owner Arthur Friedman thinks what's good for his employees is good for him. So he lets them set their own salaries, days off, holidays, vacations, and just about everything else. Friedman's Appliances has been operating that way for some five years. "Because what the employees want turns out to be what I want, anyway," says the boss. Friedman, 51, said that as a result of his policy, "nobody ever leaves."

WASHINGTON (AP) — For nearly four years, the FBI employed secret disruptive tactics against black militants and other radical groups, according to newly released FBI memos. The documents said the purpose of the campaign was to destroy organizations the investigative agency considered violence-prone and to topple their leaders from whatever power and influence they had amassed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in this Congress, the Senate passed a bill raising the minimum hourly wage from $1.60 to $2.20 for 56 million American workers. President Nixon vetoed a nearly identical bill last year, but supporters said they now believe there is a fair chance he will sign the new measure or that enough votes would be available to override any veto.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The late President Lyndon B. Johnson claimed income tax deductions for no more than 200,000 of some 31 million documents he donated to the government, said the administrator of his library, Harry Middleton. Middleton took issue with a report by historian and author M. B. Schnapper that Johnson probably took $10 million, and possibly $29 million, in tax deductions for gifts of predominantly official papers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The final verdict is not in, but federal energy officials say they think year-around Daylight Saving Time is helping to save some fuel in the energy crisis. Although no firm savings figures have been amassed, the officials said the time change has been helpful. And they said it has not appeared to have caused any increase in pre-dawn traffic fatalities.

'BUNCH OF LIES' Austin AD Hit With Morals Rap

AUSTIN (AP) — Travis Raven Sr., athletic director of Austin schools, and four other Austinites were charged Thursday night by police with "compelling the prostitution" of a 16-year-old girl, the Austin American-Statesman said.

The American-Statesman said in a copyright story that Raven, 51, whose football teams at Austin Reagan High School won three state championships, was charged before Justice of Peace Jim McMurtry along with McLaughlin L. Peterson, 49; Dr. Bobbie Joe Smith, 42; Audrey Anne McDonald, 28; and Richard L. Matz, 25.

OUT OF TOWN

"It's a bunch of lies," Raven said after being charged.

Police Lt. Bolton Gregory of the vice squad filed the charges after presenting evidence to the Travis County grand jury Thursday afternoon. Raven was released on $5,000 bond and Matz and Smith on $3,000 bonds. Peterson was reported out of town.

The woman was charged with both compelling prostitution and with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. A total bond of $6,000 was set.

Gregory said police became involved two weeks ago when the parents of the 16-year-old girl, who live in Houston, called juvenile authorities and claimed their daughter had been "beat up" at the residence where she lived in Austin. Gregory said the girl, angered at her injury, gave police information which led to the arrests.

PROSTITUTION STATUTE

Gregory would not say how police gathered information to back up their charges but said "we have double-type evidence."

The charges allege that incidents of prostitution took place during February in several motels in the Austin area.

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith, who said the grand jury will hear more of the case next week, said that when a girl is under 17 "aiding or abetting" prostitution falls under the "compelling" statute.

Smith said conviction on the charges could be punished by 2- to 20-year prison sentences.

Austin school officials had no comment on the charges.

PARSONS BELIEVES Changes Certain In Credit Unions

Pete Parsons, the Texas Credit Union Commissioner, was the guest speaker at Webb AFB Federal Credit Union's 19th Annual Membership Meeting Thursday night at Withycombe Hall on the base.

Parsons, a former general manager of a state credit union for 15 years and public relations director for the Texas Credit Union League and Affiliates for 18 months prior to his appointment, has the responsibility of supervising the 525 state-chartered credit unions.

In his speech, Parsons questioned the direction of the credit union. He told the crowd of approximately 300 people that "nothing ever remains the same. Everything moves forward or backward and your credit union is not exempt from this scheme of things. Your credit union will constantly change. It may change gradually, but it will change."

"Now... consider how it will change," he continued. "Will it move forward or will it move backward? Will it change by design or will it change by accident? Will it change by itself or will it change because of you — the members?"

FITS NEEDS

In answer to his questions, Parsons said that the credit union "had better change because of you... it had better change to fit your changing needs and desires. It had better respond to your requests. It must serve you as you want to be served and not as a handout you want to be served."

"And who can best see that the necessary changes come in answer to his questions, Parsons said that the credit union "had better change because of you... it had better change to fit your changing needs and desires. It had better respond to your requests. It must serve you as you want to be served and not as a handout you want to be served."

Lack Of Child Welfare Worker Here Is Cited

Despite continuing efforts for more than a decade Howard County is the fourth largest Texas county which still has no certified child welfare worker.

Part of the difficulty, said Don DeLeuw in an address to the Downtown Lions Wednesday, is difficulty in obtaining supporting data, for "people who keep the information are the ones who gather it."

DeLeuw was doing a follow-up on a previous program dealing with the problems of child abuse, neglect and abandonment.

New state codes, he added, tighten up requirements for reporting such cases making it an offense not to. Where there are certified child welfare case workers, the information is investigated in depth.

You're not deciding when you report a suspected case of child abuse or neglect," he added. "The case worker, upon investigation, makes that determination. Even then, every effort is made to work with and through the home situation."

Case workers do have authority to clear applicants for foster homes and do follow-up counseling. Most often work is with an entire family, not just a child.

Based on statewide percentages, he said that this county would have 30-40 cases as a minimum. The state recommends a case load of 35 per workers.

Financial obligations are divided between the state and county, the former taking care of administrative and professional salaries; the latter providing office facilities and foster home care where required.

DeLeuw recalled that efforts to obtain a child welfare officer here dated back to 1962.

(After the meeting, DeLeuw said he had been invited by the county judge to make an inspection of available records.)

John F. Smith, president, called a meeting of the nominating committee for 6:30 p.m. March 21. A report will be made the following week, nominations from the floor April 3, and election of officers April 10.

Write-In Vote Is Assured In Race

WESTBROOK — Nobody filed for the city council positions. Even the incumbents failed to file. Mrs. Ruby Swett, city clerk, said the election will now be a write-in vote.

Incumbents are E. A. Oden, mayor, W. A. Bell and D. A. Oglesby. Two incumbents are unopposed for school board posts. They are E. A. Oden and Cleburn Rich.

George Foster is the Club's president.

RIGHT DIRECTION

Wade Choate, general manager of the credit union, also felt that the credit union was headed in the right direction. He felt a major reason for this forward progress was caused by the "active role of the officials in the credit union and their contributions to its steady growth. I feel these officials have not only met the requirements, but have done an exceptional job as well. It should also be mentioned," Mr. Choate continued, "that these individuals have given of their time for the credit union without any monetary compensation."

"I would like to thank each of you, our members, for making 1973 a year to remember. It was the full utilization of the credit union's services that made the year a profitable one for the credit union as a cooperative and for the members as individuals."

Choate also said "I feel that the fast and efficient services provided our members has given them the incentive to remain a part of the credit union... even after they are transferred or move from the Big Spring area... and I would like to thank you for coming tonight, and hope that 1974 will be a successful year for you and the credit union."

Parsons also said that he felt that "the management staff and officials at Webb Credit Union have done an outstanding job in the growth of the credit union. It is one of the best managed credit unions in the country and I believe you are getting the services you want."

"It will serve you as you want to be served and if you are not being served then you are not doing your part," Parsons explained. "And I believe that service leads to success and I dare you to spell success without you."

He concluded by saying that members should utilize their credit union if they want it to prosper, and that the prosperity of the credit union will lead to individual financial growth.

"The jewels from Kow Loon, Hong Kong which were shown at our March 2 show will again be on display and for sale. The jewels belong to an outfit in Hong Kong what sent them to us to be sold," she added.

"The public is cordially invited to come in and browse," she said.

PUBLIC APPEAL — Football players of Big Spring High School, led by their coach, Bob Burris, will be stationed at downtown street corners and in shopping centers Saturday appealing for Easter Seal Lily Day funds. Burris (standing, far left) fills a coin into the container held by Joe D. Matthews while Lee Freeze, chairman of the drive, boosts the collection of Casey Lovelace. Seated are Ray McCuehon (left) and Stan Partee.

Athletes Appeal For Funds To Aid Handicapped Texans

Big Spring High School football boys, led by Coach Bob Burris, have volunteered their services during the annual Easter Seal Lily Day, Saturday according to Lee Freeze, Easter Seal Lily Day chairman.

Lily Day is a highlight of the 1974 Easter Seal appeal, which continues through April 14, Easter Sunday. Other events planned are: Balloon Day, Canisters, Neighbor-to-Neighbor and special gifts.

The teams will be stationed at downtown street corners and in shopping centers to pin plastic Easter Lilies on shoppers' lapels. Proceeds from the Lily day will go toward support of services offered to crippled children and adults by the Howard County Easter Seal Society.

The football players will be identified by the lily lapel pins and by colorful coin canisters.

The Easter Seal appeal is being conducted statewide by the affiliates of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

Bob Lilly, defensive tackle of the Dallas Cowboys football team, is serving as state chairman for the football boys' Lily Day for Crippled Children in Texas.

Lilly has contacted over 500 high school football teams in Texas asking that they participate in Lily Day to raise funds for the services the Easter Seal Society provides. Last year, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services to 20,570 physically disabled Texans through a statewide network of affiliates and representatives. Over 75 per cent of the funds raised during the appeal remain in Howard County where they are collected to help finance rehabilitation services such as those offered by the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. The remainder supports a national program of services, education and research.

Loan Delinquency Ratios Increase

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Installment loan delinquency ratios climbed substantially during November-December 1973, the American Bankers Association (ABA) reported today.

Dr. William F. Ford, the association's chief economist, said delinquencies equaled 2.33 per cent of outstanding loan categories on Dec. 31 — a jump of 41 basis points from Oct. 31. But historically the rate has risen by 21 per cent during this period, Dr. Ford said.

If the soil in West Texas was the same as the soil everywhere else maybe the herbicides they use would be good enough for you. But you've got different soil. Sandy soil. And different problems. You need an herbicide specifically made for sand, loamy sands and fine sandy loam soils. You need Sancap®.

If you used it when we introduced it last season, you know what it can do. STOP CARELESSWEED AND RUSSIAN THISTLE COLD. Without hurting your cotton. With just ordinary rainfall or irrigation. And all you have to do is broadcast Sancap over your field at planting or within two days after. No incorporation, either. Sancap. The only herbicide made for sandy soil. We made it especially for your soil and problems. And not anybody else's. Agricultural Division, CIBA-GEIGY Corporation, P. O. Box 11422, Greensboro, NC 27409. CIBA-GEIGY

Need More Than Day

President Nixon has proclaimed March 29, the first anniversary of the withdrawal of the last U.S. troops from Vietnam, as Vietnam Veterans Day. The observance is intended to honor all those who served during the conflict, to whom, the President says, we owe a "great debt of honor."

This is appropriate because the Vietnam veterans probably have had the most melancholy homecoming of any U.S. warriors. The nation grew disillusioned with the war, and divided over our participation in it. There were few parades and celebrations to mark homecomings; there were far more demonstrations against what those who served were doing.

But setting aside a day of remembrance hardly discharges that "debt of honor" the President mentioned and as he likely will agree. Jobs have been hard to find for many of them. And those who have chosen to go to school with the assistance of veteran's aid find their benefits much less, in real terms, than previous veterans have received.

The GI Bill now makes a lump sum monthly payment to in-school veterans. Congress recently approved an increase, but it is still less than is required to pay college costs and keep body and soul together.

The best tribute which could be paid to these men, and the best way to discharge our debt, would be to raise their benefits to the level given returning World War II GIs. That would mean full payment for college tuitions, books and fees, plus a living allowance at least as large as the present monthly education assistance. This might be one tangible way of saying thanks for having done faithfully what was to many an onerous job.

Ours Due First Priority

The Senate subcommittee on immigration and naturalization is about to re-examine an old and troublesome question: Should Mexicans holding "green cards" be permitted to work in U.S. border towns while maintaining their residence in Mexico?

An estimated 30,000 Mexican citizens work regularly in U.S. jobs along the border. They diminish the work opportunity for U.S. citizens and act as a very real restraint on wage scales in border areas. We can sympathize with the need of Mexican citizens for a better life, one that is offered to them by U.S. jobs. But the needs of our own citizens should be paramount. Their welfare must not be subordinated to those of aliens. The social and welfare costs are too great and the strains on family life unacceptable. The lure of cheaper labor, or even anticipated better performance, does not alter priority for our own nationals.

Threshing Time

Robert E. Ford

When they describe wheat as "the golden grain," they're sure telling it like it is today.

Wonder what your grandfather and mine would think about $6 a bushel wheat after struggling a lifetime trying to survive with the price as low as 15 cents at the farm?

THEY WOULD have loved it!

A span of better mules, new roof, new Sunday shoes for everybody and a big chunk to the church.

There is talk that wheat will go even higher. In all the claims and counterclaims that bread will go to $1, a farm expert said wheat should go to $30 a bushel if the price hits a buck a loaf.

Take it from a one-time hired hand on a wheat farm, $60 to $1,000 a bushel was hardly enough pay for growing and harvesting it in earlier times.

Farmers today will admit they have it a little easier with motorized power and combines.

Wheat farming not too many years ago called for a something like a gallon of sweat a bushel.

Is there today a farmer who arises at 4:30 a.m. to hitch up the mules? There never was a mule that wanted to be harnessed. Kick, bite, race around the horse lot trying to evade some kid trying to put a bit in his mouth.

THEN IT was sitting on a steel seat atop a bouncing plow from sump until sundown looking at the rear end of a span of mules while the plow or discs turned the earth.

It is not recorded in history that any great literature, philosophy, art or music ever was inspired by watching the back side of a pair of Missouri mules for 14 hours a day six days a week.

Then came planting, another endless chore and waiting for enough rain to germinate the seed and hoping the winds don't blow the seed right out of the ground.

In these latitudes, harvesting took place in late May or early June, an unfortunate time for schoolboys because classes were over then they headed for the wheat fields.

Cyrus McCormick invented the mechanical reaper and then someone developed the binder, and "binder" became the general term.

THE BINDER moved along beside or ahead of a team of mules, sometimes as many as eight. Every few feet it would kick out a bundle of wheat stalks neatly tied with twine unless the twine broke, in which case everything stopped while the driver walked around hitting on things with a monkey wrench and saying he was making adjustments. A number of sweaty men followed the binder, picked up the bundles and "shocked" them in sort of a conical arrangement.

No one in those days would have thought of sending wheat to market until the kernels had "cured" in the shock. Now they go direct from the field to the wheat elevator.

The thrasher came a few weeks later, pulled by a gigantic steam tractor.

THE TRACTOR set up and ran a heavy belt to the thrasher, and wagons filled with wheat bundles pulled up beside the machines and workers tossed the bundles into it. Wheat came out one end and chaff the other.

Out in the fields, men with pitchforks were tearing apart the shocks and tossing bundles onto the wagons.

A boy circulated among the men, handing down a jug of water to any thirsty worker.

Then the next man would drink from the same jug. Sanitary? Well, no one believed very much in the germ theory of disease in those days.

Pull a bundle out and here would come a snake looking 50 feet long. We'd run.

And here would come Holt, laughing like mad.

"Why, that's just an ole blacksnake. Wouldn't hurt anybody," cousin Holt would say.

SOMETIMES we'd forget to turn loose of the pitchfork and it would fly up with the bundle onto the wagon, missing the man stacking the bundles only because he was agile and ducked.

That error meant we were demoted ignominiously to chaff boy.

Chaff boy stood under the thrasher conveyor belt and picked up the loose stalks of wheat which fell as the bundles went through the chaff.

All the bundles went over his head and chaff fell down and got down his shirt and pretty soon he was in a frenzy of scratching to ease the itching.

THE ONLY thing that made threshing worthwhile was the eating. It wasn't just ordinary eating. The housewife called in all the female kinfolks and a few neighbor women to help cook for the crew.

Fried chicken, ham, sausages, biscuits, blackeyed peas, fresh greens, new potatoes, peach cobbler and barrels of tea.

But you know when the chaff boy ate. He ate after the tables had been filled and emptied at least two times. But don't recall there was any lack of food when he finally got to ease his hunger pangs.

Junior Postman

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Postal Service, which just boosted the cost of mailing a letter by 25 per cent, now is launching a nationwide education project to teach schoolchildren how to send mail.

NEARLY FIVE million copies of a magazine called Junior Postman, containing 24 pages of stories, pictures, puzzles and games are being mailed out across the country in time for "Student Postal Week," beginning March 25.

One of the Postal Service's longtime congressional critics, Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., has deemed this an outrage sufficient to warrant two House floor speeches in the past week, in which he accused Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen of wasting taxpayers' money to promote the service through "coloring books."

Alexander told his House colleagues he didn't understand why the Postal Service, "in view of its monopolistic nature," needed such promotion — and particularly in the wake of a mail rate increase to meet climbing costs.

A POSTAL SERVICE spokesman, Herb Wurth, denied Alexander's claim that $1 million is being spent for the Junior Postman books. The actual cost, including printing and distribution, will come to about $450,000, he said. Furthermore, Wurth said, they are not simply coloring books but educational materials designed to teach children about the Postal Service and the "proper use of the mails."

The booklets, the Postal Service said, are not extravagant and are in keeping with the type of educational workbooks and other aides used in modern classrooms.

Among the features are cutouts of mail trucks and mail boxes, word games, a connect-the-dots feature and two pages of enlarged stamps to be colored.

Alexander claimed in a Feb. 28 speech that his figure of $1 million came from "a Postal Service source." Asked to elaborate, he said through an aide that the actual figure given him by the source was $750,000, which he upped to $1 million himself.

Awful Lot Depends On 'Ifs'

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — "If" day's tomorrow merely becomes tomorrow's yesterday and the problems remain.

If oil shipments from the Mideast return to what was considered normal, there should be sufficient fuel for summer motorists. If you look at the statistics a certain way there will be no recession.

For eight years or so investors have been dealing with if and buts in the stock market, waiting to see if the "Street" can straighten itself out, with the net result being an atrophy of the investor's spirit.

Homebuyers have been rendered almost helpless by the plethora of "ifs" regarding the availability of mortgage money and rates and lumber prices and the stability of their employment.

Motorists, of course, are in a special category, as are food buyers. But almost every American is a motorist at one time or another and every American is a food buyer all the time, and both face multiple "ifs" in their plans.

Industry has plans for improving plant and equipment during the current year, but if you look closely at some of those plans you might find them contingent upon the resolution of a lot of "ifs."

Some plants won't be built, for instance, if the board of directors can't get a better reading of the consumer's mind. What if consumers withdraw into a shell and decline to buy the company's product?

And what if interest rates remain high or the international monetary system collapses or the President is impeached? An awful lot depends on "ifs," and if they aren't resolved a lot of plans will reside in limbo.

Muscular Spasm Cause

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes muscle spasm? — G. R. M.

Muscle spasm is the direct result of a complex chemical process that takes place when the muscles are used. Normally, the body is able to complete the process without any problem or we would be nothing but a mass of aches and pains all of our lives.

When we use the muscles, we are converting chemical energy into physical energy, in this case, chemicals such as starch and glycogen and carbohydrates. In any exchange such as this, there is a waste product left over. With the muscles, it is lactic acid. It is a case of producing the acid faster than it can be taken away by the body's waste removal systems.

When this happens, minerals, particularly sodium and potassium, are thrown out of balance. The result of this is that certain impulses are touched off, causing the muscle to contract and give the aching feeling — the spasm.

Sometimes the cause can be more subtle. For example, a pair of muscles used excessively during the day may continue to contract at rest and the result can be the spasm.

It is not difficult to correct the problem. If a spasm occurs in the foot while lying down, simply stand on the foot. For some reason, utilizing the opposing muscle (muscles are always in pairs) seems to counteract such a spasm.

Often a firm massage will help, and aspirin or an equivalent will cause the ache to subside. If spasms occur frequently, a small dose of quinine sulfate (about three grains) will be effective. Your physician should advise you in this.

Usually a hot tub bath will also stimulate the circulation, and the process of removing the so-called waste product I referred to will take place.

I suspect there will be a number of complaints about muscle spasms in the legs with the advent of the new platform shoes which put muscles in positions no one ever intended them to be put in.

High blood pressure can be controlled. To find out what causes high blood pressure and what can be done to treat it, get "Controlling Your Blood Pressure (Hypertension)" by Dr. Thosteson. To obtain a copy of this helpful booklet, write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

Didn't Make Papers

Around The Rim

John Edwards

Just as important as what a newspaper will publicize is what it will not. Among a few items you did not see in the Big Spring Herald recently were—

A PHOTO OF a poster of a naked pregnant woman from England. The poster says: "Don't Make Your Baby Smoke Cigarettes." The Associated Press was afraid to let the bashful eyes of wire editors like our Walt Finley gaze at the side shot of the bare lady. So I wrote for it. And, yes, she's naked and not running either.

A photo AP did send over the wire depicting a woman and man streaking across 119th Street and Broadway in New York City. "Freedom of the press" kept the story down to the bare facts.

A "giant" tumbledweed that looked like a "monster" when you pulled it. This assignment was submitted by one of our younger readers.

A sow with 19 piglets. A part-time hog raiser said one of her hogs had 17 once. She wasn't impressed with 19.

DAILY PHOTOS of beautiful Australian girls in bikinis. We believe these wirephotos are intended merely to brighten the day of paste-pot men anyway.

About 40 snowmen who have since melted into oblivion. Only one gained immortality through the Herald.

And then there are the photos we wished we hadn't published.

Danny Valdes, chief photographer, notes: "They call for a million things."

Pet cats and dogs which do unusual things, like carry the newspaper to their owner, "beautiful hamsters."

Dead rattlesnakes, deer, coyotes, bobcats and fish with the proud assassins.

Trophies and check presentations. "We take that one, but we aren't supposed to. We hate to do it, but we have to sometimes."

Inexorable Climax

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The odds on President Nixon's impeachment have risen sharply since the indictment of seven of his former close aides on a wide variety of criminal charges.

IT STRAINED credulity to the breaking point to believe he could not have known about the cover-up and the payoff of the Watergate burglary as charged against the seven who were his intimates in the White House and the Reflection Committee.

Then there is the threat of the sealed presentment handed to Judge John Sirica along with the indictments. That is said to contain allegations of the President's involvement in the grand jury withheld. This was in accord with Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski's belief that a President in office cannot be indicted on a criminal charge.

JUDGE SIRICA will unquestionably, insofar as it is within his power, keep this secret. But others have knowledge of the contents of the presentment and a lead is almost certain. Within a few days, the cynical guess is, we shall know at least the substance of the fat document handed up to the Judge's bench.

The clutch of indictments makes many things clear. It would have been simple common sense, as some of us wrote, for Nixon to have faced the facts when he learned them, dismissing his principal aides and asking for public understanding of his failure to have held to account men once enjoying his complete trust.

AT ONE STROKE that would have drawn the string of Watergate and the public would have accepted this act of contrition.

Vice President Gerald Ford was frank at one point in expressing to this reporter his puzzlement over why the President had not followed that course. With honesty and sincerity as the bedrock of his character, Ford could not understand the failure to make a clean breast of the involvement of Haldeman, Ehrlichman & Company and have done with it.

RON ZIEGLER, the President's press secretary, put it quite another way when he reportedly said, "Contrition is"

Whatever the outcome of the trial, it is hard to escape the conclusion that all the tortuous months of denial and protestation of innocence were inevitable because the President's own involvement was spelled out in documents to be kept secret on the ground of "executive privilege."

THE PRESIDENT has said repeatedly that Watergate should be left to the judicial process. The trials of the seven will take an estimated four months and other indictments are still to come. With appeal to higher courts added on for many more months, the judicial process stretches a long way into the future.

This means a severe strain on the system. Fortunately able and steadfast federal judges like Sirica and Gerard Gesell are serving with strict impartiality under difficult circumstances. But the system was never designed to carry the load of a confrontation with the highest level of the Executive branch of government such as has never before occurred.

For all the skill of the arguments of his Chief Counsel, James St. Clair, the narrow view of impeachment — that only a criminal act is grounds for impeachment — is unlikely to prevail. The proof of his own responsibility for the act of his subordinates threatens to destroy this narrow posture.

ALL THE invocations to speed up the process of impeachment are wasted breath, but with the inexorable quality of a Greek tragedy, the drama of Watergate is moving to a climax.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

I am a teenager, and very much in love, but not to the point of throwing all caution to the winds. What I want to know is just how far one can go sexually before marriage. What does the Bible say? I'm trying to be a good Christian, and I don't want to fail in this area. S.W.

Some of the more popular articles and books today seem to be reporting that young people have total disregard for moral standards. I believe your letter represents many about whom such accusations are not true.

There's no question about the Bible's prohibition of any real sexual relationship prior to marriage. Were this not so, the institution of the family would be threatened, if not destroyed. Both the Old and the New Testaments have strong statements against what is called fornication. Contrary to what some may think, there are more allusions to illicit sexual relations in the New Testament than in the Old. (1 Corinthians 5:9; Ephesians 5:5; Colossians 3:5; Hebrews 13:4; Jude 7) are a few.

I commend you for trying to become a mature successful Christian. You'd be interested to know that freedom from fornication was one of the four minimum entrance requirements for aspiring candidates to Christian groups as stated in a letter to Antioch Christians (Acts 15:20, 29).

Enjoy dating, and all the alliances of young love, but be chaste — for both God's sake and yours. I assure you, you will never regret it.

A Devotion For Today..

"The Son of man also came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many." (Mark 10:45)
PRAYER: Lord, help me to follow Thee in all roads of life, in the road to the wedding at Cana and to the cross of Calvary. Amen. (From the "Upper Room")

Cowboys' John Niland Scheduled To Speak Here Thursday Night

By MARJ CARPENTER
John Niland will speak at the Big Spring auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 14, sponsored by the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International.

Niland has reached the summit in the exciting world of sports. An All-American at Iowa, a distinction reserved for only the finest players in college football.

The Pro Scouts and recruiters flocked to Niland to interest him in their team. In 1966, he was the No. 1 draft choice of the professional Dallas Cowboys, receiving a large bonus contract. A tremendous honor to be chosen by the Cowboys as "Number one" above all other college players.

A vicious blocker, in 1968 he was chosen as "All NFC"; in other words the best at his position in the National Football Conference.

In 1972 his team, The Cowboys, won the world championship.

What else could a person want? John Niland had all the excitement the world could offer.

John Niland had everything. But John Niland was "speeding through life" searching.

Sure... he'd heard about Jesus Christ, but he had often said "God, if you don't bug me I won't bug you, and maybe someday we'll meet." John realized that although his job was to block the other fellow, the devil had been blocking him from real happiness.

And then one dark night John met the Lord man-to-man, looming stronger and more formidable than any opponent he had ever smashed into. John had to act! He did, and that is the unusual story of "Niland's Encounter".

This man, Jesus Christ, chose John and made him a fantastic offer. Not a $100,000-a-year contract, but to forgive him of all the wrongs he had ever done. The contract was not for two or three seasons, but for eternity, and if John accepted, there was quite a bonus: He could live forever. Unlike earthly contracts, this one could not be broken because his Maker signed it in His own Blood. Once John understood this great offer, he quickly accepted, knowing it was the deal of a lifetime. Instead of a playbook, the Lord sent John the Book of Books, the Bible as a guidebook for his life. And to enable John to become a stronger Christian He gave him His Holy Spirit.

In return He only asked John to praise His Name and to offer to others this same great contract. That's why John is in Big Spring, serving as a scout or recruiter for Jesus Christ, telling others of the most exciting thing in life... More exciting than being All-American, drafted Number One All-Pro or World Champion!

through the years of growing up, he replied, "My family holds Family Home Evenings once a week, and it is there that I learned the basic principles for a happier life."

The Elders are sharing ideas with all interested families that will help the families cement stronger relationships with God and mankind.

WITH THE DEPARTURE of the Rev. John Baird for a new charge at El Campo, the Rev. Claude Pearce, Fort Worth, has been named interim pastor of the First Christian Church, 10th and Goliad.

The Rev. Pearce is taking up residence here this weekend and will remain on duty until such a time as the church calls another pastor.

The Rev. Baird has resigned effective March 1 to be minister of the First Christian Church in El Campo. During his 6 1/2 years as pastor of the church here, he not only led it in substantial gains, but he also was active in other affairs. He was a past president of the Howard County Ministerial Fellowship, was a member of the Rotary Club and had been scoutmaster of the church's Troop 83.

He was a graduate of TCU, also of its Brite Divinity School. He had been assistant pastor of the University Church in Fort Worth, and came here from a pastorate in Quannah.

Baptist Count Increasing

DALLAS — There are now more than two million Texas Baptists, a figure which eclipses the membership of all but a few nationwide protestant groups. Statistics prepared by the Baptist General Convention of Texas indicate there are now 2,001,022 members of Southern Baptist churches in Texas. About one person in every six in Texas — 2,001,022 to be exact — is a Baptist, statistics show. The statistics were prepared by the Baptist General Convention of Texas. By "Baptists," the convention means members of Southern Baptist affiliated churches. Texas has a total population of about 12 million persons. The present membership of Baptist churches compares with 1,965,729 in 1972.

Two Baptist Ministers Tell Of Philippine Crusade Meet

The Rev. Collyns Moore, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist, and the Rev. Jimmy Laws of College Baptist, returned from a crusade in the Philippines that included 1800 professions of faith during the evangelistic effort.

Although they almost panicked at the last moment when a thief stole the briefcase that had the airline tickets and passports of eight area preachers and three wives making the trip, the airlines duplicated the tickets and through the efforts of Cong. George Mahon, the group received new passports in California as they were en route.

They arrived in Manila and took a bus to Dagupan City, which is a metropolitan area of around 200,000.

Known as the only Christian Oriental nation, the country is 80 per cent Catholic, having originally been colonized by Spain.

The Baptist Church's Association sponsored the crusade which began with a central meeting in a downtown plaza where the Rev. A. B. Lightfoot of Kerrville preached. He is known in the Big Spring area.

The preachers then fanned out to the eight local Baptist churches. The Baptist churches are set up similarly to our own, with Sunday School and prayer meeting and organists and a choir.

Natives speak English or one of five main dialects. The American Bible Society has translated the New Testament in part of these dialects.

An education-conscious country, they have public schools until the fourth grade when a small tuition charge is added. There are many colleges and many college students.

Main industries are fishing, farming, some ship building and tourism.

The country is under martial law with the congress shut down. The local crime rate is low compared to the United States.

The natives dress like Americans leaning toward bright colors. "They have a very friendly feeling for the United States and remember General Mac Arthur with love. We talked to several veterans of the battles at Bataan and Corregidor," Rev. Moore recalls.

The ministers stopped briefly in Hong Kong and Tokyo and said "There didn't seem to be a very friendly feeling toward Americans in those quarters."

Ed Garden who went to the Philippines 21 years ago for the Baptist Church has been the center of their work there. He comes home soon on furlough.

"After he returns, we may hold another evangelical crusade," he added.

Mt. Bethel Sets Pancake Supper

A pancake supper will be held from 5-8 p.m. Saturday in the church cafeteria at Mt. Bethel Baptist.

It is sponsored by the usher board of the church. Price istao board of the church. Price is $1.50 with proceeds to go to the usher board's benevolent fund.

The public is invited. The church is located at 630 NW 4th.

LIFE AFTER 65

Life After 65 -- Is It Worth It?

By JACK GOURLAY

Used wisely and well, the years after age 65 can truly lead us to a sounder, richer and fuller experience than it had been possible for us to know when we were stuck on the treadmill of the competitive world of business with the constant problems of rearing a family. Everyone reaching age 65 has a choice of either making his life a meaningful second career or relegating it to nothing more than a nostalgic postscript.

The art of living is the cultivation of our potentials; a commitment to human values, and in the years beyond age 65, the art of living has the potential to reach its highest level.

It is a different time of life. A time when there is no longer the need to compete or to excel over others in ability and performance. It is a time set aside for our own achievement and benefit.

If you spend this time of life trying to avoid the discomforts of age, or in filling your life merely with pastimes and trivia, you will have missed a great opportunity, for the fruits of age are to be harvested only by those who recognize its challenges and persevere in meeting them.

Ask yourself what it is you look forward to as you grow older. The opening of your mind to the prospects of age may decide whether you succeed or fail. If you face these years after 65 with confidence, great expectations and high hopes of achievement, then you can be in for a beautiful career in aging.

There is no earthly reason why, after all these years of trial and error, ups and downs, achievement and failure, you cannot make active use of a lifetime of accumulated experience. Many older people would not even consider trading the calm and serenity of age, with its broader views and reduced passions, for all the competitive turmoil and emotional turbulence of youth. The constant worries and tensions that accompanied the short-lived, half-forgotten crises of earlier times vanish, and the rough edges of hard reality become smoothed by decades of experience. This is a time of life during which you can use your wisdom, character and mental facilities to obtain the many gratifications that are possible in later years.

In the Middle Ages, Roger Bacon wrote that infection, ignorance and neglect are the chief causes of early old age. Though his indictment may be an oversimplification, there is some truth to his statement. Infection has been conquered, ignorance and neglect, however, are still with us, but the day is coming closer when even they will be done away with, or at least brought under control.

Knowledge of the processes of aging has accumulated to a degree that can benefit everyone who wishes to avail himself of it. And being forewarned of the possible hardships connected with aging is to be forewarned to cope with them wisely. And, looking at the positive factor, the anticipation of joys and pleasures in our later years will contribute toward making our expectations come true.

So, we come down to the question: "Life after 65 -- is it worth it?" The answer, of course, is an emphatic "Yes" -- if, as we have suggested, resignation is replaced by dynamism, rest by activity, stagnation by rededication.

After all, the acquired experience and serenity of old age give one the advantage of looking upon events from a distance, and the wisdom and maturity to distinguish the essential from the trivial. It is the intangible combination of all facts of maturing that will enable one to stay young throughout old age, or which caused Voltaire, at age 68, to write:

"One must continue to correct oneself even at 85. I dislike old men who say, 'I'm in a rut!' 'Well, you old idiot,' I want to say, 'Get out of it.'"

Scout Booths May Total 30

Indications are that there will be some 30 booths in the annual Scout Exposition which will be stated 1 p.m.-5 p.m. Saturday at the Howard County Fair Barns.

Cub packs and Scout troops will have a variety of exhibits, ranging from test requirements to camping skills, ecology, etc. Several Explorer posts also are expected to take part.

The buildings will be open at 8 a.m. Saturday for boys and leaders to begin assembling their booths. Judges will be briefed at 10 a.m., then at 11 a.m. operations halt so that all participants may be transported by bus to 8th and Main for formation of a parade. (All other Cubs, Scouts and Explorers, with leaders, are expected to be on hand at that time so that the parade through the downtown area can move promptly at 11 a.m.). The parade route is north on Main to Third, West to Scurry, then south to Sixth.

Judges will begin their work at 1 p.m., and one of the points of judging will be boys and exhibit in place by that time.

A continuing feature throughout the afternoon will be the model racing cars (Pinewood Derby) contests. Cubs, Scouts and Explorers have been selling tickets, and part of the proceeds go to their units, the remainder to the council for exposition and other expenses.

Palmer Papers Buy Democrat In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Democrat has been sold to Walter Hussman and Walter Hussman Jr., representing the Palmer Newspapers of Camden.

Conditions of the sale were not disclosed. The sale will not be effective until deeds and conveyances of interest are executed.

The Hussmans are principals of WEHCO Media Inc., of Camden, which publishes the Palmer Newspapers in Texarkana, Hot Springs, El Dorado, Camden and Magnolia. The company also owns and operates KTAL-TV in Texarkana and Shreveport, La., four radio stations and six CATV systems in Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas.

The agreement calls for the purchase of all assets of the Arkansas Democrat Co., except various stocks and bonds. The sale does not include the Democrat's interest in KTHV-TV in Little Rock.

Walter Hussman Jr., 27, will move to Little Rock and will direct operations of the Democrat when the transaction is completed.

Moulton Enlists In AF Program

Ronald L. Moulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis L. Moulton enlisted in the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program recently, according to Technical Sergeant Don Sisco, U.S. Air Force Recruiter, 322 Runnels St.

Ronald, a 1974 graduate of Big Spring High School, is scheduled for enlistment in the U.S. Air Force on May 31. Upon graduation from the Air Force's six-week course at the School of Military Science, Airman Moulton will receive technical training in the Mechanical Career Area.

Stings And Bites Far From Funny

Stings and bites once were regarded lightly, but the chemistry of venoms is no laughing matter.

Dr. W. B. Elliott, professor of biochemistry at the School of Medicine, State University of New York at Buffalo, will speak on this subject Wednesday at the monthly meeting of the Permian Basin section of the American Chemical Society. The meeting will begin with the social hour 6:30 p.m. at Jordan's BBQ at 2201 Kermit Highway, Odessa.

Many of the secretions of specialized glands of snakes and insects contain neuro- and cardiotoxins, and all contain types of enzymes, said Dr. Elliott. He will deal with several of these and will discuss potency and durability of certain venoms. Big Spring area members are asked to make reservations through Jesse Looney (263-7661).

In this one, a time must be submitted by each entry before race time, and the person whose time is closest to his or her prediction is the winner.

If you're interested, write to Ken Fannon at San Angelo Central High, 100 Cottonwood, San Angelo, 76901. Entry fee is $1, and don't forget to send in your time. This is your big chance, now — don't blow it...

I hear that Don Robbins, who had a 26-13-1 record at Big Spring during early 1960s, has gotten out of coaching and is in the construction business in Odessa. Robbins resigned this past season as head coach at Idaho, where he had a 4-7 record...

After Sunday's article on the Hawks of the past, someone sent an old news story in which Coach Harold Davis named his best players after about 10 years of coaching. Davis, at the time, said Jim Knotts was the best all-around shot, Robert "Dallas" Williams was the top big man and Charles Warren and Jimmy Robinson ranked as the most talented guards. Williams, Fletcher, Larry Gore and Bob Davis were the top rebounders, he said.

Others named to the 15-man all-history team in 1958 were Horace Rankin, Don Clark, Delmar Turner, Bobby Maines, Casey Jones, Paschal Wickard, Ray Crooks, Charles Clark, Mike Powell, and Al Kloven...

The Big Spring Steers don't exactly tear everyone up team-wise when they enter a meet, but at least a couple of the Longhorn cindermen rank at or near the top among the state's best tracksters this year.

Ricky McCormick, who has run a 4:29.0 mile this year, ranks high in his category and so does pole vaulter Sam Dodson, whose 14-0 effort makes him the favorite in his event almost every week...

If some thing isn't in The Herald these days when you think it ought to be, it's nothing personal. It's just that I've forgotten so many things the past few months that I decided to start writing myself memos on this little notebook I carry in my pocket. But the situation hit a critical point this week when I had a brainstorm for a column, but forgot it before I could even write it down. No kidding...

Steers Enter Mustang Meet

ANDREWS — With third and fourth place team finishes tucked away this year, the Big Spring Steers hope for an even higher ending this weekend in the annual Mustang Relays in Andrews.

Field events in the 17th annual event get under way at 10 a.m. Saturday, and finals are set for 2 p.m. Joining Big Spring in the seven-team Division III field will be Odessa Permian, Borger, Hereford, Odessa, Snyder and Carlsbad, N.M.

Girls' Track Team In Robert Lee Run

ROBERT LEE — The Big Spring High School girls track team will enter its first meet of the year this weekend when it joins the Robert Lee Relays field Saturday.

Helen McAllister, who placed high in several events during a practice dual meet with Snyder Wednesday, Annie Mitchell, Linda Lester, Michelle Couvillon and Cathy Brashears will lead the locals. McAllister finished second in the 80-yard hurdles and ran on the second-place 440-yard relay team in the practice run, and the relay was against three junior high boys teams because Snyder's girls didn't have relay squads.

Lester won the 440-yard dash in 66.3, Couvillon took the 220-yard dash in 27.4 and Mitchell won the 60-yard dash in 7.4 as the tracksters of Coach Sharon Green swept the sprints.

Snyder cancelled the 880-yard and mile relays. Couvillon, Brashears, Lester, Ann Worth, Anne Mathews and Carol Dugan will compete in those events Saturday, while Deborah Harrington and Carolyn Earl will join Mitchell and McAllister on the 440-yard relay unit.

DEFENDING CHAMPS — The Big Spring Steerettes defended their title in the Cap Rock Girls Volleyball Tournament at Howard College. The Steerettes and Sweetwater tangled in first round action at 4 p.m. today. Other teams in the meet include Midland High, Colorado City, Abilene Cooper, Pecos, Plains, Big Lake, Big Spring JVs, Crane, El Paso Burgess, Castleberry, Denver City, Phillips, Wink and Snyder. Finals are set for 8 p.m. Saturday. Team members include (front) Helen Ray and Sallie Graves; (middle) Amber Jones, Debra Woods and Christine Soldan; (back) Ruth Knight, Debbie Nikolai, Cynthia Dennis and Lisa Pipes.

Monahans Runs Heard Keeps Past Steerettes Up Fast Pace

Monahans trimmed the Big Spring Steerettes 15-13, 15-10 in non-district volleyball action Thursday night in the Steer Gym.

The Steerettes, who will be playing in the Cap Rock Tournament at Howard College this weekend, fell to 11-4 with the loss.

Sallie Graves was the high point server in the opener with five points, and Cynthia Dennis, Ruth Knight and Lisa Pipes played the net. Helen Ray was the set. In the second game, Pipes had four points to lead the way, while Ray, Debbie Nikolai and Christine Soldan were at the net. Knight was the set.

The Steerette Junior Varsity lifted its record to 11-2 with a 11-15, 15-11, 15-13, decision over Monahan' Jvs.

Sherry Sprabery was the top scorer in the first game, while Janice Banks, Lana Williams and Jodi Grant were at the net and Denise Burchell was the set. In the second game, Grant, Banks and Danise Way all served four points as Tammy Newsom, Daine Pipkin and Sprabery controlled the net.

Newsom served eight points in the clinching third game, and Grant, Way and Pipkin played the net.

ACE HIGHLIGHTS INTER-CITY GOLF

Guy Henson of Seminole knocked in a hole in one Wednesday to lead his team to victory in Inter-City Golf Tourney action at Big Spring Country Club.

Henson, Danny Autry of Seminole, and Big Springers C. G. Griffin, D. O. Gray and Bud Eckett fired a low ball total of 59 to win the five-team event.

The ace came on the par three No. 16, Henson used a six iron to tame the 169-yard hole.

Steers Entertain Coronado Today

Big Spring and Lubbock Coronado collide today in a 4:30 non-district baseball bout at Steer Park.

John Morelion will be on the mound for the locals, who carry a 1-4 mark into the match. On Saturday, the Steers host Lubbock Monterey in a 1 p.m. doubleheader.

HC Advances To Semifinals

BROWNWOOD — The Howard College Hawks gave it all they had in one second half burst Thursday night in Brownwood Coliseum and raced to an 80-69 first round victory over Weatherford in Region V action.

With the win the HC cagers now move into the semifinals opposite Clarendon, a tense 68-68 winner over defending champion McLennan in Thursday night's finale. Odessa College upset Amarillo 95-83 and second-seeded Hill knocked off Western Texas 88-74 in other first round games.

Hill and OC collide in the 7 p.m. opener tonight, while Howard College and Clarendon go at 9 p.m.

There seemed to be cause for alarm early in the game Thursday for the Hawks, as Weatherford jumped to a seven-point lead midway through the first half and the Big Springers were cold. But the Hawks led by 38-34 at the half, and after five minutes of tugging back and forth in the second half they broke it open.

HC reeled off 16 straight points to pull away from a 44-41 tie with 6-5 Mike Randle stealing, assisting and scoring to spark the blitz. Randle hit eight in that run and finished with 14 points.

"That spurt was very important for us," Coach Harold Wilder said. "But I thought the big thing in the game was the way we worked their forwards over. Greg Perry and Max Lauderdale were their main strength, and (Taylor) Williams and Randle really defended them."

"Williams was guarding Perry, and he couldn't even get the ball. The guy was finally so demoralized that he was turning down shots."

The Coyotes did get some mileage out of guard Curtis Thompson, however, who poured in a game-high 28 points and kept the Weatherford crew alive most of the second half. Thompson got 20 of those points in the final 30 minutes, and after 6-6 Leroy Buckner hit the opening basket of the second half, Thompson was the only Coyote to score until eight minutes showed on the clock.

The Hawks got 22 points from Leroy Lumzy, who matched baskets with Thompson to start the second half. Williams hit 19 points, Thomas Bledsoe rang up 16 and Randle had 14.

After Weatherford got up by 20-13 midway through the first half, Randle and Johnny Harris began to make the press work and the Hawks started their comeback. Harris had four quick steals and two baskets, and with 5:35 remaining Williams put the HC crew ahead for the first time since the Hawks had led 6-4.

Howard College now stands 34-5 on the year, and that matches the previous best recorded by two Hawk teams, in 1952-53 when HCJC was 34-6, and in 1959-60, which netted a 34-4 finish. Both teams went to the national tournament.

Clarendon and the Hawks have split home-and-home bouts this season, HC winning in Big Spring by 75-73 and the Bulldogs ending a 22-game Howard win streak with a 75-66 setback in Clarendon.

If the Hawks win tonight they'll play the Odessa-Hill victor in the finals Saturday at 9 p.m., while a loss would drop them into a 7 p.m. third place game Saturday.

Saturday Parade Signals Opening Of Scout Event

The curtain goes up at 1 p.m. Saturday on the annual Scout Exposition. This year's production, involving around 30 different booths, will be at the Howard County Fair Barns.
A downtown parade at 11:30 a.m. will signal the opening of the event, and all Cub, Scout and Explorer units are asked to gather at 8th and Main prior to the start. Buses will bring those engaged in both preparation at the fair grounds to the parade start. The Webb Color Guard will lead the procession to Third, West to Scurry and South to Sixth.
Numerous activity and Scouting skills, as well as other topical matters, will be depicted in the Exposition. Troop 146, sponsored by the 78th Flying Training Wing at Webb AFB, will, for example, have an exhibit on pioneering. Several boys will be earning parts of their Pioneering merit badge as they demonstrate making rope, using knots, splices, lashings, and exhibit models of bridges, towers, camp furniture, as well as several life size projects.
An annual feature of Cubbing, the Pinewood Derby, will be recalled in afternoon-long races of the sleek models.
Tickets ($1) will be available from boys at the exposition as they have been for the past several weeks. Brochures will be given to all attending. Units share in all proceeds.
John Bagnall is exposition chairman, assisted by Maj. Mickey Willett. Guy Griffith, Scout executive, said he would have the Fair Barns open this afternoon and evening, and again at 8 a.m. Saturday for boys and leaders to work on booths. Order of Arrow members will handle the concessions. Arnold Marshall, district chairman, will present winners awards after 5 p.m.

What is man?

Just brain, blood, flesh and bones? A material body?
Most of us would agree that there's a lot more to man than that.
The greatest teacher of all, Christ Jesus, said "It is the spirit that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing."
He proved by his example and healing works that man's real nature is spiritual, not material.
If you are interested in knowing more about your real nature, you will enjoy hearing the Bible Lesson on "Man" to be read this Sunday in our church.

Shower Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Evie Miller, future bride of Doug Bankhead, was honored with a pre-nuptial gift shower Tuesday evening in First Federal Community Room. The couple will be married March 15.

Corsages of yellow daisies were presented to Miss Miller and her mother, Mrs. W. E. Miller.

Refreshments were served from a table appointed with silver and crystal. The table was covered with a floor-length cloth of tulle and lace adorned with wedding bells. The centerpiece was yellow and white daisies flanked by a lime candle.

Hostesses were Mrs. Donnie Baker, Mrs. Robert Baker, Mrs. Edward L. Engle, Mrs. Morris Griffice, Mrs. John W. Ray, Mrs. James Shaw, Mrs. John P. Wilson, Mrs. James Baker, Mrs. Willie Butler, Mrs. E. W. Fletcher Jr., Mrs. E. W. Nail, Mrs. Hugh Rhyne, Mrs. Jerry Richbourg and Mrs. John Waddill.

Trends In Entertaining Seen In Table Settings

Present day trends in entertaining were emphasized by Mrs. H. W. Smith when she presented a program on indoor and outdoor table settings Tuesday for Green Thumb Garden Club.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John Hogan, 509 Westover, where two tables had been prepared. The dining table was set for a formal dinner for six, using fine china, crystal and Madeira linens. A gold and crystal chandelier, centered over the table, had yellow and white spring flowers in cut glass vases on each side.

The umbrella table, for informal luncheons on the patio, was set with orange placemats and pottery with wild poppy design. The floral arrangement in curved containers was composed of yellow daffodils and jonquils.

Mrs. Morris Patterson, president, introduced Mrs. Howard Kemper of Phoenix, Ariz., as a guest. Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper was named to head the nominating committee.

The next meeting will be at 10 a.m., April 2 at the ranch home of Mrs. Toots Mansfield.

Alive, Lively

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow in my 70s and I need some advice. I have four daughters, and if I asked them, I'd get four different answers.

A few months ago I saw in the obituary column where the wife of an old boy friend of mine died, so I waited for what I thought was a reasonable length of time and then I wrote him a note and gave him my phone number and said it would be nice to talk to him some time.

He called me up and we talked for a long time. In the conversation he said he'd like to see me again, but he hoped I wouldn't expect any "kid stuff" in the love-making department. I rather got the idea that he was trying to tell me that he was too old for that sort of thing. Well, I'm not, and if that is what he meant I don't want to waste my time with him as I don't have a whole lot of time left. How can I find out without being too blunt?

OLD BUT NOT TOO OLD
DEAR OLD: I think he was trying to tell you that as far as he was concerned, his love-making days were behind him. Whether they are is anybody's guess, but if he thinks they are, they are.

DEAR ABBY: With regard to your reference to the "law" requiring the presence of a nurse during a gynecological examination: An Irish doctor attributed it to the conceit of American women. I am a gynecologist who has practiced for 40 years, and I have always had a nurse present during examinations, but to my knowledge no law exists which requires it.

Physicians in other countries, not being fair game for any and all "suit happy" patients, may have a hard time understanding this necessary precaution. My colleagues in the U.S.A. do. And they had better!

H.S.(M.D.)
DEAR M.D.: As I understand it, there is no such "law" — it's just a common practice among physicians. And a wise one, for obvious reasons.

DeLeeuw Resigns As PTA Council Head

Don DeLeeuw resigned as president of the Parent-Teacher Association City Council during a meeting Tuesday evening in the conference room at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The resignation came as a result of DeLeeuw's filing as a candidate for the board of trustees of Big Spring Independent School District. During the year he has served as council president, DeLeeuw has worked to meld the various PTA units into a cooperative organization that could better serve all the schools.

Mrs. Roger Coffman presided as new officers were elected. To serve during the 1974-75 school year are Mrs. Jimmy D. Townsend, president; Mrs. Eldon W. Marsh, recording secretary; Mrs. Louis Kloor, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. A. C. Jones, treasurer.

Program On Flower Arranging

Dried arrangements were illustrated and explained by Mrs. J. C. Williams, president of College Park Home Demonstration Club during a meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Alvie Harrison, 1804 Young.

Mrs. Williams prepared arrangements using driftwood and showed how to make toadstools of paper-mache and dolls from "devil's claws".

Upcoming events include the 4-H food show Saturday at First Methodist Church, which the public is invited to view after judging about 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. John Couch announced that the club is to provide three workers and six pies for the concession stand at the March 13-16 4-H and FFA stock show at Howard County Fair Barn.

A training meeting on "Dinner on the Double" will be given by Mrs. June Williamson of Midland March 13 in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

The next club meeting will be March 19 in the home of Mrs. Royce Walker, 1517 Eleventh Place.

Rebekahs Host Birthday Party

Mrs. A. F. Hill was honored on the occasion of her birthday when Rebekah Lodge 284 met Tuesday in the IOOF Hall.

Hostesses were Mrs. Lola Majors, Mrs. Maude Jones, Mrs. R. X. McNew, Mrs. Logan Grider and Mrs. Lola Cockerham. Mrs. Tom McAdams, a member who now lives in Dallas, was a guest.

Mrs. Robert Wilson presided, requesting that drill team members be at the hall at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday for a practice session preceding the regular meeting. The 30 attending reported 49 visits to the sick and shut-in.

Mrs. Chambers Is Club Hostess

Mrs. R. A. Chambers, 2113 Warren, was hostess Tuesday for the bi-monthly meeting of Pioneer Sewing Club. The 11 members present did handwork, and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., March 19, in the home of Mrs. Anne Fairchild, Forsan.

As a guest at the meeting, Mrs. Venora Williams, a candidate in the upcoming school board election, spoke briefly in presenting a resume of her qualifications to serve as a trustee.

Due to state PTA legislation, the 16th district, which is presently based in Big Spring, will be absorbed by the 17th district in San Angelo. The final conference for the 16th district will be held April 29-30 at the Ramada Inn.

The first newly-organized 17th district conference will be held April 23 in Monahan at the First Presbyterian church. District officers will be elected at that time.

The devotional was given by Ralph Meeks.

Dinner Tonight At Center Point

A covered dish supper will be held at 7 p.m., today, in the Center Point Community Center, with a social hour and table games to follow.

To reach the center, take the Snyder Highway to the first blinking light, turn left on Gail Road. Travel about two miles, turn right on a paved road, and the center is about one mile further. It is a brick building which was formerly the Center Point school.
