WANTS PANEL TO SPELL OUT IMPEACHABLE OFFENSES

Nixon Resists Bid For Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the House Judiciary Committee backed away from an immediate confrontation with the White House over impeachment evidence today but kept the possibility alive.

At a meeting of the Democratic members, Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., persuaded them to await further talks about the furnishing of evidence between White House and committee lawyers.

The meeting was a response to the remarks of two White House aides Tuesday indicating a hardening line against cooperation with the committee.

At immediate issue is a committee request for tapes of conversations between President Nixon and his top aides covering six time periods early last year when the Watergate cover-up was coming apart.

The White House has said the request amounts to 42 tapes and suggested it is too broad for Nixon to comply with unless the committee is more specific about what charges it might bring against him.

John Doar, special counsel for the committee, told the Democrats today he has been informed by Nixon's chief impeachment lawyer, James D. St. Clair, that the request involves 41 "segments" of tape.

Two of President Nixon's top aides stopped short Tuesday of flatly rejecting the committee's move to obtain 42 additional Watergate tape recordings.

INVESTIGATING

But presidential counselor Bryce Harlow and Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler made clear Nixon's strong opposition to granting the panel virtually unlimited access to White House files.

In separate sessions with reporters, Harlow and Ziegler pictured the White House position as follows:

The President already is supplying the committee with all tapes and documents turned over earlier to special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski and, once the committee analyzes it, it should find the material sufficient to conclude its impeachment inquiry.

In addition the two officials said the committee — before seeking any more White House tapes or documents — should define what it considers im-peachable offenses and say what specific allegations it is investigating.

Ziegler declared it would be "constitutionally irresponsible" for Nixon to accede to any committee requests until such a definition is made.

EVIDENCE

Harlow agreed adding that "there are times when the executive branch must not furnish papers" to the congressional branch of government.

However, Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said the committee has no intention of preparing charges before it gathers all the evidence it thinks it needs.

And Rep. Robert McClory of Illinois, the committee's second-ranking Republican, said that if the White House intends to withhold the additional material the committee is seeking on such grounds, "it definitely signals a serious confrontation between Congress and the executive branch."

Rodino had kept details of the additional request secret under the committee's rules of confidentiality, and the White House leak of the letter of request angered many members.

Lubbock Backs US 87 Route For IS 27

Lubbock Tuesday evening threw its weight behind the U.S. 87 highway route as the best routing for a proposed extension of Interstate Highway 27 in a southerly direction from Lubbock. This came at the first of a series of five hearings by a team from the Texas Highway Department on need for extending the north-south interstate. Lubbock also withdrew its support of a more easterly slant for the proposed extension.

The hearing drew people from 23 communities, including Big Spring, at the Lubbock city hall. The second hearing will be Thursday 7 p.m. in Forrest Community Center in Lamesa. Big Spring's date is March 20 in the Howard College Auditorium at 7 p.m.

Oliver Thomas of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce highway committee, was the first to propose the route from Lubbock through Tahoka, Lamesa, Big Spring, Sterling City, San Angelo, Eden, thence to intersect with IH-10 at Junction.

"THE BEST" "We would like to see I-27 extend south," he said. It is definitely needed and meetings like this will prove the need. We believe this route is the best, most direct and least expensive route that will serve a greater number of people and will have a greater influence in strengthening the relationship of this area with the state." Lubbock City Councilman Jack Baker and others reiterated this route as did County Judge Roderick Shaw, who also cited the military need for the road. George A. McAllister, speaking for the Big Spring delegation, stressed that most of the proposed route already is divided four-lane highway would be by far the most economical to construct.

Other speakers emphasized the community of interest between Texas Tech University and schools, also the new Tech (See LUBBOCK, Pg. 2-A, Col. 1)

Bee Keeper Says He'll Move 'Pets' Just Outside City

By JOHN EDWARDS

"I like to play with my bees like others like to play with cats and dogs," Jim Mitchell told City Council Tuesday afternoon.

"I've gotten stung one time since 1949," Mitchell said.

After hearing citizens on both sides of the issue, the council voted, with only Polly Mays dissenting, to pass on second reading the ordinance prohibiting keeping bees inside city limits. Councilman Harold Hall was out of town.

Mitchell said he was going to move his hives one foot outside city limits. And Mrs. Mays offered A. G. Albert, another beekeeper, use of land in the Silver Heels Addition.

At one point, Mayor Wade Choate banged his gavel to bring order to a standing room only crowd of 42 visitors.

Jim Wiley followed Mitchell's defense of the "little honey bee."

REBUTTAL

Wiley told of swarms of 50 and more bees coming to water in his yard.

"There's a Venezuelan variety of bees that are deadly," Wiley said.

"An animal or insect that can't be controlled shouldn't be allowed to be in the city limits," Wiley said.

Called on by Wiley to speak, Robert A. Baker, city animal warden, said his first bee complaint was made about two years ago.

Wiley, then, referred to his daughter being stung saying: "This is not an isolated incident at all."

Albert stood up and said: "I don't see how you can keep bees out of the country."

If bees are "left alone," they won't harm you, Albert said.

LIKE FLIES

"They swarm in our back door just like flies," Mrs. George Adams said. Her daughter could not be allowed to play in a backyard swimming pool because of the bees. "I love honey, and I love bees," Mrs. Adams said. "But I think the place for them is out in the country."

A Mrs. Wilson said, "Bees are a necessity in our city." With rising food prices, she said: "I certainly do want fruit for my trees."

Mrs. Jim Wiley presented a petition bearing signatures.

Truckloads of bees are imported into Arizona at the state's expense to pollinate alfalfa, Glenn Stallings said.

George Heckler, 100 E. 18th St., told the council he had been raising bees for 14 years and had received no complaint.

JUNK FENCING

Second reading of a proposed ordinance requiring fences for junk yards was tabled. Mrs. Mays and Mayor Pro Tem Eddie Aciri were named to work with three citizens to clean up junk yards' appearance. The citizens were Jimmy Hopper, Art Madewell and Huck Huckaby.

SECOND TIME

Given second and final readings were these items:

A resolution authorizing filing of condemnation suits for right of way needed for the Owens Street overpass. James Gregg, city attorney, went to Austin concerning the overpass today.

And dedication of approximately 30 acres near the Big Spring State Hospital for recreation.

HEALTH CARDS

A proposed ordinance making health cards mandatory for food handlers was read a first time. It also would cancel a requirement food handlers attend a short class.

Dr. Stuart Draper, director of the health unit here and several other counties, explained that health cards here are not mandatory in Big Spring now.

"It gives us some control over the fly by night people," Dr. Draper said.

In addition to restaurant workers, anyone employed to handle food, other than packaged food in a grocery store, would be required to obtain health cards yearly.

Two health unit nurses and one clerk will examine food handlers free of charge for health card certification. Dr. Draper said. Or persons desiring health cards may obtain one through a private doctor.

Until now, Dr. Draper said the health unit did not have enough employees to provide the service free.

Several restaurant representatives appeared and supported the proposed ordinance.

REP. HAWKINS MENEFEE

Texas Solon Wreck Victim

BRENHAM, Tex. (AP) — State Rep. Hawkins Menefee, 29, of Houston was killed before dawn today when his car and a heavy truck collided west of here, state police reported.

Officers said Menefee's vehicle was trying to pass a Greyhound bus when it collided with the tractor-trailer rig, bounced off it three times, hurtled into a ditch and overturned. The accident happened 6.5 miles west of Brenham on U.S. 290.

The legislator died at 4:30 a.m. while en route to a hospital, authorities said.

Menefee, a former research associate, first won election in 1972 to represent Harris County's House Dist. 84 in the legislature. He had announced earlier this year as a candidate for re-election.

Menefee had been named to the Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. He also served on House committees on appropriations, calendars and rules.

The World At-A-Glance

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The gasoline protest in southern West Virginia's coal fields has spread northward, with 1,600 more miners off the job. A total of 27,600 miners are now idle. A federal judge in Virginia ordered an end to the work stoppage in one part of the strike area, but United Mine Workers officials were unavailable for comment on whether the men would return to work. The strike is now in its third week.

MIAMI (AP)—Tips and sharp-eyed agents led to the arrest of three more persons in connection with the kidnapping of 8-year-old John Calzadilla, the FBI said. The $50,000 ransom still is missing. The three, arrested Tuesday night as they walked along a downtown street, brought to eight the number of persons arrested in the case. Kenneth W. Whitaker, special agent in charge of the Miami office, said no more arrests were expected. Two of the three arrested were identified as former brothers-in-law of the kidnaped boy's father.

Major Tragedy Is Averted By Driver

A quick-thinking truck driver apparently averted real tragedy early Tuesday when the refrigerator truck he was driving had the brakes go out at the intersection of 4th and Gregg, according to the investigating patrolman.

Carlos Ortiz of Pharr realized that the brakes were gone and began to honk as he headed north on Gregg into the light, witnesses stated. When Ortiz saw that all cars were not out of the path, he turned the corner and in the process knocked a vehicle driven by Michael Phillips of Redell, Tex. into a car driven by Maxine Shaffer, 812 W. 18th.

Both of the drivers escaped injury and had minor damages to their vehicles. The large truck was then driven into a utility pole to halt the movement so that Ortiz got it under control midway between Gregg and Scurry.

All of the traffic lights were out at the intersection for the balance of the day and city patrolmen controlled the traffic there Tuesday during repairs.

THE GOOD GUY AND HIS WIFE — Arthur Friedman, the "good guy" who lets his employees set their own pay and other working conditions, relaxes for an evening at home with his wife, Merle. Friedman, who with his brother, Morris, operates Friedman's Appliances in Oakland, Calif., five years ago set about to test the philosophy that allows the employees to set their own pay and raises, days off, holidays, and vacations. "What they wanted turned out to be what we wanted, anyway," says Friedman.

Nice Boss: May You Prosper Beyond Your Imagination

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Disbelief and warm praise have flooded into Arthur Friedman's appliance store since word got out that his employees set their own pay and other working conditions.

"We've had calls from all over the country from people who wanted to know if it was really true," Friedman said Tuesday. "It's true."

Friedman, 51, who sports mutton-chop whiskers, added: "Television people have been here, and I've been interviewed on the radio. I didn't think we were so special."

A woman who mailed a clipping of Friedman's story had written above the headline, "May you prosper beyond your imagination." About five years ago, Friedman, with the assent of his brother and partner, Morris, turned the traditional boss-employee set-up topsy turvy and let the workers do what they pleased.

Friedman said he decided to put his philosophy — "Find out what people want, and give it to them" — on the line. So he let his 12 employees at Friedman's Appliances set their own pay and raises, days off, holidays, vacations and most other conditions.

"What the employees wanted turned out to be what we wanted anyway," he said.

Morris Friedman says, "If we give fellowship, love and understanding, that's what we get back. And we get back exactly HOW'S BUSINESS?"

What we get out. People respond in kind. Nobody rips us off." Friedman sends customers thousands of cards offering to service appliances free. And if installment customers "forget" payments or quit paying altogether, Arthur Friedman sends them a form letter any credit manager would consider incredible. It says:

"For some reason, which we don't really understand, you have decided not to pay the bill which you owe to us. This letter officially cancels that bill, and you no longer are under any obligation to pay us.

"We have decided not to give this bill to a collection agency, as our gain would be small compared to your loss."

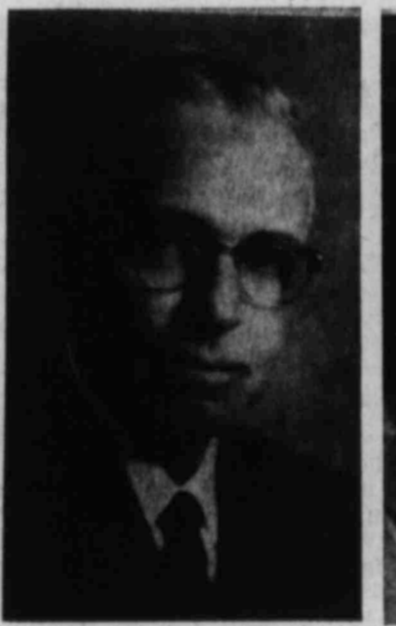

Says Arthur, "Sometimes they pay us, sometimes they don't. That's the way it goes."

How's business?

"No worse than usual," he said.

Robert W. Currie retired Tuesday as chief executive officer of the State National Bank and was succeeded by his son, John Currie as president and chairman of the board.

Four others were named to new positions at the meeting of the board following the annual stockholders meeting. They were Delbert Donelson, vice president in charge of agricultural affairs; John Arrick, assistant vice president with duties in administration and operations; Joy Boyd, assistant cashier; Douglas Bankhead, assistant cashier in charge of installment loans.

Other officers re-elected were Charles Havens, cashier; Faye Reed, Betty Poutvint and Ina Deason, assistant cashiers.

Returned to the board were Robert W. Currie, John Currie, Merle J. Stewart, W. P. (Bill) Edwards Jr. and Ike Robb.

FAMILY IDENTITY

Elevation of John Currie to the presidency and chairmanship of the board keeps the direction of the bank in the hands of a family name identified with the bank since its inception 65 years ago. Later he became executive vice president, a post he held when the bank became the State National March 26, 1924, then assumed the presidency. When he died April 29, 1952, his son, Robert

Can We Feed Them?

According to a new U.N. population report, the day of zero population growth is foreseeable in about 100 years. The reduction of growth is expected to come about through "normal" means — "Fertility was assumed to decrease, sooner in some regions than in others, until a level is reached assuring exact replacement of the population in the long run."

But will 100 years be too late for a leveling-off of the world's population? That same report says by then the world will number about 1.23 billion persons. And that is more than three times the present world population.

What makes this frightening is yet another U.N. report, issued last month, on world poverty. The present world population is about 3.7 billion persons. And of that number, almost a third — about 1 billion persons — are existing in extreme poverty, suffering from all the ills of poverty, including widespread malnutrition and in some cases starvation.

If we cannot feed the 3.7 billion persons we now have, can we hope to feed three times that number within a century? The answer would seem to be no — unless we can bring about a greater distribution of resources and wealth, plus bring new scientific developments into play. Coupled with this, needs to be some sensible program controlling rampant procreation.

The major industrial nations — the United States, its Western allies and Japan — have much lower growth rates now than the rest of the world; these nations may reach zero growth fairly soon. That means the bulk of the increase in population to come will be in those nations already unable to feed their people sufficiently. Unless the industrialized, more productive nations take steps now to undertake the feeding of their less fortunate neighbors on this planet, the outlook is grim.

Talking Tombstones

Life and times being what they are, it was bound to happen sooner or later — preferably much later.

The "IT" in this case is a talking tombstone, the brainchild of a Florida salesman by the name of Donald Wells. According to an Associated Press story, Wells has invented a talking tombstone that also shows movies. Now he's hoping to put them on the market.

Wells said his deluxe model would include a tape recording of the voice of the deceased, a movie projector and screen to show typical scenes from his or her life and a 30-foot scroll containing personal writings. The mechanical components would be contained in an underground case.

"I've had people tell me I'm crazy. I've had people tell me I'm going to be a millionaire," he said.

Who knows what will sell? But the idea of perpetual chatter from a tombstone takes a little getting used to — to say the least.

The Immortal Can

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Everytime we use a can of food, we toss it in the garbage can for it to be hauled away to the dump heap. More than likely, it and the whole lot of refuse — whatever is in it — is put into a fill, covered over with earth and possibly rolled for compaction.

IN THIS DAY of shortages, more interest is being shown in recycling not only cans but other materials. That's noble theory but tough practice — tough but not impossible.

So you want to save cans? Mash some 13,000 to 20,000 of them and you'll have a ton. If you're talking about aluminum cans, make that about 40,000 to the ton. So, you see it takes a lot of picking up to gather that many cans. On the other hand, I daresay the average family will yield up a minimum of two cans per meal — possibly substantially more. So you can see that Big Spring will produce a ton or two of cans each day. Multiply that by the days in a year and you come up with some respectable tonnage figures.

THE PROBLEM is how to separate the cans. One way is at the source — residents cutting both ends out of a can, flattening them and putting them in a separate container beside the garbage heap. Another is the tedious system of depositing all refuse at the dump on a conveyor which moves past a point where human hands make the separation. A third is a magnetic process which picks up the tin can — but doesn't capture the aluminum.

WHEN CANS are recycled, they go to shredders, and then put into a caustic, alkaline solution which takes the thin layer of tin off the steel. Only about seven pounds of tin per gross ton (2,240 pounds) is thus recovered, but it is usually almost pure and quite valuable. The remaining steel is compressed and sent to steel furnaces for remelt, or to mills for use in copper precipitation. Cans go into a copper sulphate solution and the steel replaces the copper in solution, leaving behind the more valuable copper. One thing about recycling cans, it takes about 74 per cent less energy than the original ore.

When it comes to weight, cans may be a simpler item, but they can't compare in weight with old machines and wrecked automobiles. As in the case of cars, they are stripped of useable parts, wire, chrome steel etc. then compressed. One process is to flatten them like pancakes. Another is to mash them into the size of your television console. This goes to a hydraulic guillotine shear which neatly slices the bale.

THESE LITTLE gadgets cost only from one to five million dollars. Despite this tremendous capital outlay, more and more metal scrap is being recovered and reprocessed, not purely from the ethic of avoiding needless waste, but because it is profitable. For instance, nearly half of the copper consumed last year was recycled copper.

SOME DAY, cities may set up departments of reclamation or recycling. Each will work out practical means of separating cans, other metal objects, glass, and possibly even paper and plastics. There will be given a simple compression and taken to regional centers which will refine the operation and send their material on to mills. If it is made to be a paying or break-even operation, it will beat burying it.

Pivotal Date

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Inside the locked briefcase held by Judge John Sirica is secret grand jury testimony by Fred LaRue, a key to current intricate maneuverings which could determine whether Richard M. Nixon is impeached.

LARUE, A 1972 Nixon campaign aide who has pleaded guilty, told the grand jury of paying $25,000 to the lawyer for Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt on March 21, 1973, a few hours after hush money was discussed by President Nixon. LaRue's testimony and other grand jury evidence contained in the briefcase could decide the President's guilt or innocence in the Watergate cover-up.

THUS, DESPITE James St. Clair's studied nonconcern about whether Sirica decides to send the briefcase to the House Judiciary Committee, there is little doubt he and other Nixon defense lawyers would prefer to keep that evidence off Capitol Hill. What makes this so important is that the events of March 21 have become central to Mr. Nixon's fight for survival.

That is because of the grand jury indictment of H. R. Haldeman for perjury in testifying that Mr. Nixon said on March 21 it would be wrong to give hush money to Watergate defendants. Ominously, the grand jurors connected this with LaRue's payment to Hunt the same day. Consequently, both LaRue's testimony and the transcript of the President's March 21 meeting with Haldeman were put in the briefcase intended for use in the House impeachment proceedings.

THE WHITE HOUSE could not openly oppose giving this menacing evidence to Congress. But John Wilson, the shrewd old lawyer representing Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, could. Although Wilson vigorously denies in any way representing the President, his close connection with the Nixon legal defense long has been manifest.

St. Clair's offer to hand the house all tapes and documents given the special prosecutor plus a sworn interview with the President attempts to minimize the briefcase. In fact, it contains other evidence — including LaRue's testimony — not about to be supplied by St. Clair.

SIMULTANEOUSLY, the White House felt constrained to modify Mr. Nixon's version of the pivotal March 21 meeting — a major reason for last week's surprise press conference. He did not specifically say on March 21 that hush money was wrong, the President told the press, he clearly meant the entire cover-up, hush money included, saying: "It is wrong; that's for sure."

Last week's press conference was but the latest variation in White House handling of the March 21 conversation. But ever since the scandal broke open, the President has consistently viewed that day's events as critical.

SHORTLY AFTER being informed last April 15 by Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen that Haldeman and Ehrlichman might be prosecuted and ought to be fired, the President instructed Haldeman to listen to the tape recording of the March 21 conversation and report back. What the tape proves cannot be learned from fluctuating White House reports.

THE FATEFUL questions of March 21 about President Nixon's comments, actions and reactions have year. But now they shall be asked by a House committee fulfilling its constitutional duty.

Mrs. Fix Loves TV Work

John Cunniff

By JERRY BUCK
(Substituting for John Cunniff)
LOS ANGELES (AP) — At 80 most people are well into retirement. At 80 Ress Fix is well into a second career in television commercials.

Mrs. Fix, a retired Indiana schoolteacher, moved to Hollywood in 1969 to be near her son, announcer Jay Stewart of "Let's Make a Deal."

But she couldn't stay inactive. Ever after she retired in 1959 after 40 years of teaching she couldn't quit. She was a substitute teacher for 10 more years.

Once out here she enrolled in two commercials training courses. After that she got an agent and on her fifth interview was hired for a commercial.

"My first big one was for a supermarket chain," she recalled proudly. "I was the lead. I had lots of lines."

The attractive, white-haired Mrs. Fix has been in more than a dozen television commercials and magazine advertisements since. Recently, she spent three days in Santa Rosa, Calif., filming a motorcycle commercial.

"They're bringing grandma and grandpa in more and more commercials," she said. "There's a trend now toward the family in commercials. That wasn't true a few years ago."

For Mrs. Fix it's a show business career long deferred. She said, "My senior picture at De Pauw University said, 'The stage, the stage, my kingdom for the stage.' And I never got near it for years."

After graduation in 1916 she married Julian Cleve Fix and traveled briefly in the Midwest with two male singers as Two Hits and a Miss.

In 1918 she began her long teaching career, although she continued to write and direct plays, skits, radio and television.

"I was making $22 a day as a substitute teacher in Indianapolis," said Mrs. Fix, whose husband died in 1941. "I thought I could never come out here and earn a dime. I've made more last year than I've ever made in my life. It's a dream come true. But I never thought it would come true. I'm just beginning."

Mrs. Fix said, "I never knew anything but work. My father never let us play. I don't know how to retire. The women's clubs told me I'd never be wanted or needed unless I learned to play bridge. If that's what it takes I'll never be wanted or needed. But I'm taking bridge lessons."

"I love working. They scold me all the time because I go, go, go, do, do, do. But that's what keeps me healthy. I love this new career."

Broadcasting Blues

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broadcasters for several years have been trying to get federal legislation that would extend the maximum period of broadcast licenses from the current three years to five.

The idea is to give the owners of the nation's radio and TV stations more of a breather between costly license renewal battles. Last week, they got a helping hand from the House Commerce Committee.

IT PASSED a compromise four-year broadcast license bill, the result of 17 days of hearings and testimony by 60 witnesses.

But broadcasters aren't home free yet, not by a longshot.

For one thing, the bill still must clear the House Rules Committee and then the full House. Then there is the matter of hearings on it in the Senate.

"We have taken the position that we would wait until the House acted and then take it on," says Sen. John Pastore, D-R.I., head of a communications subcommittee that'll study the bill.

But before that happens, Pastore says he first wants to hear from an up-to-strength Federal Communications Commission on both the merits of the bill and other major broadcast matters.

And the seven-member commission currently is short three members. FCC Chairman Dean Burch was the latest to go, resigning last week to join the White House staff.

HEARINGS were held in January on one FCC nominee, retired Detroit broadcaster James Quello, but Senate confirmation is being delayed until the Administration sends up two more nominees for consideration, according to Senate sources.

"Quite frankly, I am waiting for the full complement of the FCC to determine what the balance is going to be," Pastore said.

"By that I mean the balance in serving the public interest, where they (the other nominees) come from, what are their backgrounds, what are their overall philosophies."

He said he also wants to give the three newcomers "a chance to digest the controversial aspects of this legislation and then bring them up here and see what they're going to say."

Is Pastore's position no commission, no bill?

"Well, no," he quickly replied. "That's your conclusion. My conclusion is, unless we have a full FCC complement, I think that it would not be in the public interest to consider the bill and recommend it."

SOURCES on the Senate communications subcommittee say Pastore's desire to have a full FCC board on hand isn't that much of a barrier to Senate hearings on license legislation.

They say the new FCC nominations may come within this month—they declined to speculate on who'll be nominated — and that barring major opposition, all probably will be confirmed well before the House passes any measure they'll have to study and comment on.

But the bill passed by the House Commerce Committee could run into snags with Pastore on its four-year provision alone.

WHEN ASKED which he favored — four years, five years or sticking with a three-year broadcast license — the senator replied: "I'm not prepared to say. It's not a matter of which I'd favor."

"It's a matter of which would be in the public interest. It's an important question. We haven't made that determination."

Low-Salt, Not No-Salt

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I had a non-functioning kidney that had to be removed. I am making a good recovery but am told I must follow a salt-free diet, so I am trying to assemble foods I can eat that will help me eliminate fluids. Do you have a list? — A.E.

Hunting for "a list of foods you can eat" isn't going to be as useful to you as understanding what you are trying to do. It would be a long list (Your doctor may have such a list, though, or you can get some help from the hospital dietitian or a Visiting Nurse Association dietitian.)

Here's what you should keep in mind. Ordinary table salt is sodium chloride — and sodium has the property of holding onto water.

So if you eat a lot of salt

(sodium) your body will tend to retain more fluid, meaning water.

People often loosely talk about a "salt-free diet," but that actually is an impossibility. The body needs a certain amount of sodium, and you will get in the food you eat.

What you really must try to achieve is a low-salt diet and not a no-salt diet.

To do so, use no salt on your food at the table. And use no salt in cooking. (There are salt substitutes available at the grocery, and you can use other condiments, including pepper, lemon juice, herbs or spices.) No onion or celery salt; they are merely flavored salt.

Next, avoid prepared foods which you know, or strongly suspect, are salted. Salty crackers are of course a no-no.

Your daughter will survive this time of adjustment, and will probably come around to imitating the Christian values you have demonstrated.

Pray for her, and at some opportune time, read together the first four Bible statements in the 6th chapter of Ephesians.

Surgeons Set Houston Meet

Several thousand surgeons will be in Houston, March 25-28 for a wide-ranging program of lectures, panels, symposia, postgraduate courses, exhibits and films at the American College of Surgeons' second annual Spring Meeting.

Among those who already plan to attend from Big Spring are Dr. C. B. Marcum and Dr. J. E. Mathews, both of Malone-Hogan Clinic, and Dr. H. J. Zinn of the Veterans Administration Hospital. Others may also make plans to attend.

The purpose of the meeting is to provide a well-rounded program of continuing education which answers specific needs of the modern surgeon. The Spring Meeting is designed to complement the College's annual Clinical Congress in October.

Detoxification Unit Now On Regional Council List The Alcoholism Advisory Committee of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission will review the grant application for Big Spring's detoxification unit when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Terminal.

The project total is set at $43,303.58 with $28,553.58 from TCA.

The grant is for aid in providing a service in a primarily non-medical facility for the Big Spring-Howard County area. It would provide turning Fire House Six into a physical plant suitable for the alcoholism treatment program, and provide for a salary for supervision and staff. The grant seeks to reduce the burden placed upon law enforcement agencies and jails as well as upon the Big Spring State Hospital.

Other items on the agenda include the regional alcoholism

President Says Key To World Peace Is Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has told a group of young people not to believe those who say this is not a good time for the youth of America.

"This is a great time to be an American, to be young... Our goal is to help build a peaceful world which you can inherit and pass on to the next generation," he said Tuesday night.

Nixon directed his remarks to state and national winners of the Veterans of Foreign Wars' Voice of Democracy broadcast scriptwriting contest at a VFW dinner.

He told the gathering of 2,800 VFW members, congressional and military leaders that the key to world peace is the strength of this nation and the respect it commands in the world.

Nixon said the United States must not reduce its military forces "when others as strong as we do not reduce theirs."

"Whether we like it or not... there is no other nation in the free world that has the respect and strength to keep the peace in the world," he said.

The President presented the VFW's annual congressional award to Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and long-time chairman of its armed services subcommittee.

BLAMES WHITE HOUSE FOR HER WOES — Martha Mitchell sits in NBC studios in New York Tuesday as she was being interviewed, at her own request, on nationwide television program "Today." Mrs. Mitchell blamed the White House for the problems faced by her and her estranged husband, former U.S. Attorney General John Mitchell. She also denied she was an alcoholic and blamed the news media for creating an image of her that caused her so much unfavorable publicity.

Insurance Firm Denies SEC Fraud Allegations

DALLAS (AP) — Republic National Life Insurance Co. says its lawyers will "strenuously defend" the company against fraud charges filed Friday by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Texas' second largest insurance company refused Tuesday to acknowledge any losses on its investment of $108 million in an allegedly failing New York City firm, Realty Equities Corp. "There is no question of the company's sound financial condition," a prepared statement issued to the news media said Tuesday. "No regulatory authority has questioned its solvency, and the company is pursuing its insurance operations in a normal manner," the statement continued. The SEC is asking the firm to be put in receivership, charging that Republic National Life poured large sums into Realty Equities while realizing the shaky condition of the real estate firm. Republic already had invested considerable money in the firm, the SEC charged.

Hail Big As Golf Balls Pops Big Bend Country

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms dumped flooding rains from far West into Central and South Texas today but left the drought-ridden Panhandle-Plains sector still painfully dry.

Hail as big as golf balls pounded an area in the Big Bend country near Presidio during the night, and the menacing turbulence kept spreading toward the east and south into areas around San Angelo, Del Rio, Junction, Johnson City and Austin.

UNRULY WEATHER There were scattered thundershowers along the coast and inland between Victoria and Palacios, and over Matagorda Bay around Port O'Connor.

Official observers attributed the unruly weather to a cold front stretching from the Coastal Bend across South Texas and into the Big Bend of West Texas. They kept a number of counties from the coast and along the Rio Grande under an alert for possible flash floods, damaging wind and hail for much of the night.

Earlier Tuesday evening the storm belt extended from around Eagle Pass on the Rio Grande eastward to the Corpus Christi vicinity on the coast, turning loose rains at rates exceeding two inches per hour. Heavy storms also ranged from the Davis Mountains into the Pecos Valley in far West Texas.

Other points pelted by hail included Loma Alto north of Del Rio near the Mexican border, near Leakey farther east, Alice and Beeville in South Texas and Port Arthur on the coast. Sighting of a tornado aloft was reported south of Beaumont but there was no word it touched ground.

Temperatures stayed comparatively mild, dipping near dawn into a range from 40 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 67 at Corpus Christi and Palacios. Top marks Tuesday afternoon went as high as 89 at Alice and Dalhart was the coolest spot with a maximum of 64.

With the front expected to drift farther south near the mouth of the Rio Grande, still more scattered showers and thundershowers were expected in Central and East Texas, with possibly a few in western areas of the state.

POLITICAL ACTION ARM Doesn't Endorse Briscoe Or 'Sissy'

AUSTIN (AP) — A report of the Texas AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) praises both Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Frances Farenthold, but endorses neither. COPE's annual convention adopted the report unanimously Tuesday. It stressed the need for unity in the Democratic Party in November and implied that was the reason it did not take sides in the gubernatorial race.

HOBBY BACKED The convention endorsed Bill Hobby for lieutenant governor, John Hill for attorney general, Bob Armstrong for land commissioner, Jesse James for state treasurer, Bob Bullock for comptroller, and Mack Wallace for railroad commissioner.

All are incumbents except Bullock, who is running for a post being vacated by Robert S. Calvert. The COPE report said Mrs. Farenthold should be recognized for "strong support given . . . to programs which would benefit the workers of Texas" and also for "her successful campaign for ethics legislation."

WRONG PHRASE COPE also adopted several resolutions, including ones that called for: "Research to come up with a common usage phrase which more accurately describes the concept too often referred to as 'right-to-work.'" "Continued opposition to repealing the wage garnishment prohibition in the state constitution. There have been proposals to allow garnishment for child support payments." "Continuation of mail-in voter registration."

Sex Change 'Wonderful'

HOUSTON (AP) — Rachele Annette Mayes says she feels "so unique, so wonderful."

For 27 years Rachele lived as Richard Anthony Mayes.

She had her name and sex legally changed Monday by a judge. Civil District Court Judge Warren Cunningham ordered the changes after attorneys for Rachele presented letters from doctors saying she had undergone a $3,000 sex change operation in January.

Rachele, who likes to be called "Toni" was arrested eight times in 1972 on charges of violating a city ordinance which forbids a member of one sex dressing in the clothes of the opposite sex.

However, she said police quit arresting her after she filed a suit alleging malicious prosecution. She said the sex change operation took place Jan. 23 at the University of Texas Galveston Medical Branch, the fourth such operation performed there.

"I have to be the happiest person in the world," the former service station attendant said following the judge's ruling. She said her future plans were to become a nurse.

Innocent Of Plot To Murder Solon

HOUSTON (AP) — "I've always thought the American system was the best and it has been proven to me today," Jerry W. Hanks, 40, said after being found innocent of conspiring to kill Port Arthur Rep. Terry Doyle.

A seven-woman, five-man jury spent just two hours Tuesday debating Hanks' fate before returning the innocent verdict.

Hanks was indicted in January 1973 with plotting to kill Doyle, who beat Hanks in a 1970 state legislative race and worked against him in another legislative race Hanks lost to Pike Powers of Beaumont in 1972.

DID NOT TESTIFY "I'm just glad this is over," Hanks said after the jury returned the verdict. "I just wish all the people of Jefferson County could have heard the trial."

Two other defendants were charged in the case—Harvey Doyle Castleman, 42, and his brother, Gerald Wayne Castleman, 34, of Shepherd, Tex. Gerald granted immunity in the case and testified against Hanks. Harvey, the man Gerald charged with the go-between in the case, pleaded guilty and was assessed the maximum term of 10 years. An habitual criminal charge against Harvey, which carries a life sentence was dropped.

Harvey, whom Gerald said was the only person to talk to Hanks about the alleged plot, did not testify. INCREDIBLE Richard Haynes, Hanks' attorney, did not put on a single witness to rebut the state's case. He said the state did not prove any of the allegations, so none of the 10 defense witnesses called were necessary.

"The state's case was just inherently incredible," Haynes said. Mike Hinton, one of the assistant district attorneys who tried the case, said bitterly, "I'm just regretful but we must abide by the jury's verdict. They can only base their case on legally admissible evidence. It was not a strong case because there were no eye witnesses to Hanks because he was too well insulated."

Gerald Castleman had testified he contacted what he thought was a hired killer to murder Doyle, only to have the man turn out to be a state undercover agent. "I think the state intelligence agents did an excellent job and they put their lives on the line in this case," Hinton said. "It seems a pretty poor return on their investment."

The Kremlin has decreed that bridge clubs and tournament bridge are contrary to the best interests of the Soviet people, and as a result bridge activity in the U.S.S.R. might come to a halt, organized bridge still thrives in other Iron Curtain countries. This deal is from the recent Hungarian Team Championship.
After North made a forcing raise of South's one diamond opening, South probed for the best spot by introducing his heart suit. When North raised that suit as well, South knew that his partner had good three-card support, for with a four-card suit, North would have bid hearts at his first turn. A Blackwood inquiry elicited the information that North held two aces but no kings, which actually improved South's hand. North surely held the queen of diamonds and probably the queen of hearts for his strong bidding, so a grand slam became a reasonable proposition.
Looking at the North-South holding, the grand slam will make if trumps divide 2-2; or if the hearts split 3-3; or if the spade finesse succeeds. However, all these chances were doomed to failure. Yet, when the declarer for the young team that won the title held the North-South cards, he found a way to make his contract.
Declarer won the opening club lead with dummy's ace and immediately ruffed a club. This was a vital move in his campaign. Next, he cashed the ace and king of trumps, discovering the 3-1 split. Instead of drawing the last trump, however, he embarked on making dummy the master hand by using his own trumps to ruff clubs.
Employing the ace and queen of hearts as entries, declarer ruffed dummy's remaining clubs. The ace and king of spades were cashed, and the jack of spades was ruffed with dummy's low trump. The queen of trumps drew East's remaining trump and declarer's king of hearts was the thirteenth trick. In all, declarer scored two spade tricks, three hearts, a club and seven trump tricks.
If declarer fails to ruff a club at trick two, he will be an entry short for his dummy reversal and end up down one.

How to Create an Energy Shortage

(Reprinted from "Perspectives," published by Boston Consulting Group, Boston, Mass.; Bruce D. Henderson, president)

- NATURAL GAS
Set a ceiling price on natural gas. This discourages exploration and increases use. Keep the prices down in spite of inflation. This amplifies the effect and guarantees a shortage eventually.
- COAL
Ban the use of coal with sulfur content. This sharply restricts the supply. Sharply restrict strip mining for cosmetic reasons. This further restricts the supply. Then suddenly impose drastic new safety rules which will substantially cut output from existing mines. Freeze prices so no one can offset cost increase from reduced output or justify further investment.
- ATOMIC POWER
Delay construction a matter of years by uncertainty about licensing requirements. Delay operation at full power after construction. Delay start of construction by environmentalist suits.

OIL
With natural gas, coal and atomic power all severely restricted, that leaves only petroleum. First, grossly increase automotive consumption of gasoline by requiring drastic reductions in engine efficiency because of pollution related modifications. That alone will insure a severe shortage of energy. Then ban the use of oil containing sulfur. This severely reduces refining capacity. Put into effect new pollution objectives which make refineries far more expensive. At the same time, introduce great uncertainty into the requirements that must be met. That will virtually stop refinery construction or expansion. Eliminate practically all new refinery sites because of environmental legal delaying tactics. Further curtail refinery investment by making supplies of crude oil very uncertain. Block the use of Alaska North Slope oil by arguments on the cosmetic effects in uninhabited and unreachably regions. Stop the use or search for oil offshore in California because of potential leaks. Slow all offshore operations for environmental reasons. For good measure, hold down the price of gasoline to half that in Europe. This encourages large cars.

To be sure that all of the above is misunderstood by the general public, bring a law suit which charges all the largest energy companies with being non-competitive and therefore causing the energy shortage.

Adm. Rickover Wise Old Bird

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the Navy's 74-year-old nuclear warfare expert, has declined to get into a discussion of women's rights.
A woman journalist asked Rickover to define "the role women can play in your nuclear Navy."
When she mentioned by name Robin Quigley, a captain who commands the Navy service school in San Diego, Rickover responded: "Robin Quigley? What's that, a bird?"

Mental Case

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I took this beautiful young lady out on a date. For no reason at all, I beat her up, took her clothes off, and left her to sit in a cold locked car from midnight until dawn.

After I thought about what I had done, I went back and gave her her clothes and told her I was sorry.

Abby, I have never done anything like that before. I have never in all my life even hit a woman. I still can't tell you what made me do it.

I have called her up several times to tell her I was sorry, but as soon as she recognizes my voice, she hangs up on me. I don't blame her, but I just want her to know that I am very sorry for what I did, and I need to hear her say that she will forgive me.

ASHAMED
DEAR ABBY: You're lucky she didn't report you to the police. Quit calling her. You may be earnestly "sorry" and at the same time seriously "sick." Tell your doctor

Diva Callas Applauded At Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Maria Callas returned to Dallas Tuesday night to give a benefit recital for the Dallas Civic Opera which she helped launch with a concert in 1957.

A packed audience in the State Fair Music Hall, many of whom paid $50 for a seat, gave her a standing ovation before she sang a note.

This time, Miss Callas, who cancelled performances in London and New York because of illness early in her current tour, had to appear without her partner, Italian tenor Giuseppe DiStefano who was confined to his hotel with bronchial trouble.

Instead, American pianist Earl Wild filled in to perform at short notice.

Callas, who sang six arias including favorites from Tosca and Carmen, is due to take a vacation in Mexico before resuming her tour.

what you've told me. If he doesn't recommend counseling, call your local mental health association. And do it now before you do something else you can't explain.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 17 years to a man who is good to me and the kids, but he's always been the quiet type until we have an argument, and then he explodes. For instance the other night we had an argument about the bills I ran up. (I admit, I have a tendency to overspend.)

After he yelled about that a while he said: "And another thing, why do you make FISH all the time? You know I hate fish!" I was shocked. I never knew he didn't like fish. He always ate it without saying a word.

How can a wife get her husband to say what is on his mind without waiting for it to come out in a fight?

IN THE DARK
DEAR IN: Without nagging ("Why don't you ever talk to me?"), try to involve him in conversations. The more communication you have between you, the more you will learn about his likes and dislikes. And hurry up. You're already 17 years behind!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are heartsick! Our son and his lovely wife have been married 10 years and have two adorable children. Together they have just informed us that they are getting a divorce. We were shocked.

We are quite well-known in our community and all of our friends and relatives thought our son had made the perfect marriage.

Our clergyman has advised us to ask them no questions, and to refrain from urging them to try to make a "go" of their marriage. He told us that they had sought counseling and they have been unable to reconcile their differences, so we should simply accept it.

Our question: What should we tell relatives and friends when they ask us "What happened?"

HEARTSICK PARENTS
DEAR PARENTS: Tell them you don't know. (P.S. You don't owe anyone any explanations.)

Auxiliary Will Help Jaycees

Mrs. Linda Faulkner, a past president of the Jaycee-Ettes, presided Monday evening when the recently-reactivated auxiliary group held a dinner meeting at La Posada.

Regular meetings were slated the first Monday of each month, at 8 p.m., in alternating restaurants. The next meeting is set for April 1 at the Pizza Inn. Officers, elected last week, will have a board meeting at 7:30 p.m., March 18 in the Jaycee office. Mrs. Lana Weaver was named awards chairman.

Plans were completed to assist with several upcoming events which will be sponsored by the Jaycees. On March 23, the women will work at a concession stand for the Permian Belles girls' track meet here. Mrs. Weaver will serve as concession chairman.

Also, the women will assist with concessions at the Rattlesnake Round-up March 29-31 at the National Guard Armory. In conjunction with the event, a Miss Diamondback contest will be held in the Officers Club at Webb Air Force Base. Mrs. Dixie Leonard and Mrs. Roe Lynn Robertson will work with the contestants at that time.

It was announced that the Jaycees will observe Ladies Day, at their regular luncheon meeting, during months that have a fifth Monday. The state convention is May 17-19 in El Paso.

PRESIDING at the Midland meeting of Area II, Future Homemakers of America, will be Elaine Martin, area president. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin, Ackerly, she is a junior and honor student at Sands High School. The meeting will be at Midland Lee High School, held Friday and Saturday

Junior Auxiliary Installs Officer

Theresa Perea was installed as vice president of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary during a Saturday meeting at the home of Mrs. Melvin Whitehead, 2206 Morrison. Leilani Thomas presided, introducing a new member, Linda Turner.

A swimming party was planned at the Whitehead home. After the meeting, a birthday party was held for Mrs. Troy Melton, sponsor, with Mrs. Ferrill Hamill as a guest.

The next meeting will be March 30 in the Melton home, 1508 E. 3rd.

Dr. Lynn Ainsworth Addresses Teachers

Dr. Lynn Ainsworth spoke on "Practical Implementations" when he was guest speaker at a Saturday afternoon meeting in Stanton for members of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Dr. Ainsworth, introduced by Mrs. John Smith, is on the administrative staff at Texas Tech University. He was formerly on the administrative staff of the Big Spring Public Schools.

$127, and $50 was donated to the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Grover Springer, chairman of the membership committee, read letters of recommendation for four prospective members. The vote will be taken at the next meeting. Also, officers will be elected at the April meeting.

AARP Plans Insurance Conference

Insurance for members of the American Association of Retired Persons was discussed when the group met Friday at First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Elra Phillips presiding. Arrangements were made to have an area representative address the group on the subject soon, possibly at the April meeting.

Prayer was worded by Rev. Phillips, and Marshall Brown was song leader, with Charles Parham as accompanist. Mrs. Marshall Brown was appointed refreshment chairperson for a three-month period. This entails arranging for the covered dish luncheon which is held at every meeting.

It was announced that all senior citizen's groups are welcome to meet at the Kentwood Methodist Church building, which is where the April 12 meeting of AARP will be held.

Tables were decorated in a St. Patrick's Day theme, and games provided entertainment.

Daughter Born To Local Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Gary E. Underwood, Hillside Trailer Park, announce the birth of a daughter, Monica Lynette, March 6 at Medical Center Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 pounds, 3/4 ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rybolt, 2607 Lynn; Mrs. Lonnie Holly, Snyder Highway; and Tom Underwood, Lake Colorado City.

The infant's great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rybolt, Odessa; Mrs. Maggie Cross, Mrs. H. H. McPherson and J. E. Underwood, all of Big Spring.

Forum Cities Drama In History Of Texas

Highlights of Texas history were related by Mrs. Hugh Duncan as members of Modern Woman's Forum observed "Texas Day" Friday at the Duncan home, 1600 Tucson.

"Texas was the United States' last frontier," said Mrs. Duncan. "It was a wilderness peopled by Indians. The first Europeans to come here were the Spaniards, who built settlements and missions; the most famous being ones near San Antonio, Nacogdoches and Goliad.

"Stephen F. Austin, who brought colonists to Texas, was called the 'Father of Texas', and his first group numbered 300. The Alamo, which is called 'the cradle of Texas liberty', is now a state shrine. Among the heroes who died defending the Alamo were Col. James Bowie, William Travis, James Bonham and James Fannin."

Mrs. Duncan said that Sam Houston was not only the commander of a victorious army, but he had served as governor of two states, president of a republic, congressman and United States senator. Mirabeau Lamar was known as the 'Father of Education' in Texas, and J. P. Henderson was the first state governor. George C. Childress was author of the Texas Declaration of Independence.

Noting other facts about the state, Mrs. Duncan said the state flower is the bluebonnet; state song, "Texas, Our Texas"; state bird, mocking bird; state tree, pecan; and largest river, Brazos.

Mrs. C. R. Moad presided for the brief business session, and she was joined by Mrs. Harwood Keith in reporting that clothing had been donated and delivered to the West Side Community Center. Club members will serve at the center March 29.

A LOVELIER YOU

Thick Thighs Can Be Trimmed Down

By MARY SUE MILLER

A lovely writes: I have known for some time that my legs need trimming. The thighs in particular. I put off the job and now I'm sorry. I have just purchased spring evening dress that has a very full chiffon skirt, so full I thought I could hide inside. But I can't. When I move forward, the dress blows back and those pudgy thighs show. Have you any quick exercises for this trouble?

The answer: Perform the following exercises night and morning. Results will start to come in about a month.

Starting position: Lie on your right side with legs stretched and together. Prop up your head with your hand. For balance, place the other hand on floor opposite your waist.

Action, Part 1: Bring your left leg up to side chest, bending knee sharply. Now swing it out and up so as to form a V with the right leg. Hold position for five slow counts, then gradually lower leg to rest neatly atop right leg. Repeat ten times; turn on your left side and continue.

Part 2: Turn face down on floor, with backs of hands under your forehead and your legs stretched straight. Bend your knees and try to touch heels to buttocks. Holding knee bend, alternately bounce thighs against the floor. Ten repeats.

Part 3: First on left side and then on right, bend your knees and try to touch buttocks, as in Part 2. Ten times, each side.

To speed matters, never ride if you can walk. Swim if you have the facilities.

LEGLINE TRIMMERS
If your individual problem is heavy legs, send for my new leaflet, "Legline Trimmers," which contains spot reducing exercises that will meet your individual needs, whether for thighs, knees, calves or ankles, or for contouring your entire legline. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Mitchell County 4-H Food Show Slated Saturday

Mitchell County 4-H youth will test culinary skills and nutrition knowledge when they vie for honors in the 4-H Food Show Saturday in Colorado City.

Participants will be judged by county extension agents, Ruby Butts, Scurry County, and Sherry Mullin, Howard County, at 2 p.m. in the Medallion Room. Each entrant will be interviewed for information about nutrition, the food exhibited, menu and recipe.

Following the judging, awards will be presented, and parents and guests will attend a tasting tea.

The public is invited to attend the tea at 4 p.m. Those registering will receive a collection of the recipes after completion of the food project work.

Banquet Slated By Beauceants

The 14th anniversary of the Social Order of the Beauceant will be observed with a banquet at 6 p.m., March 25 in the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Neil Spencer is chairman for the event, which will have as guests all Sir Knights.

The plans were completed at a Beauceant meeting Monday evening, presided over by Mrs. W. C. Fryar who also presented a meditation on faith. Refreshments were served by Mrs. James Owen, Mrs. Tom Sherrill and Mrs. Lee Porter.

Order Cops To Break Up Picket Lines

THE MARCH GOES ON — Despite a judge's order that all pickets be arrested, the San Francisco municipal employees strike continued into its seventh day. Here pickets march in front of the city hall. Some 10,000 employees are out, shutting down most city services and all public transit. Two of the city's sewage plants have been reopened by supervisory personnel.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco police have been ordered to remove picket lines of striking city employees from sewage plants, Municipal Railway installations and two hospitals. But leaders of the 10,000-member Service Employees International Union said a week-long strike would continue, despite a court order directing an end to the walkout. Mayor Joseph L. Alioto said Tuesday night he had instructed police to read to pickets an order from Superior Court Judge Clayton Horn directing police to arrest pickets "and enforce it."

The mayor was vague on the method of enforcement. He had said earlier he opposed mass arrests.

Judge Horn also issued on Tuesday a temporary restraining order telling the strikers to return to work, but it was ignored. Police had no instructions to enforce that order.

Negotiators for the city's Board of Supervisors and the union resumed bargaining at midnight Tuesday after Alioto met with leaders of the 10,000-member union to discuss a demand by supervisors that sewage plants be back in operation before talks continued.

The union said it would not comply with the demand, but the negotiating session went on anyway.

Refusal of sewage plant personnel who are not on strike to cross union picket lines had resulted in a daily flow of 100 million gallons of raw sewage into San Francisco Bay and the Pacific Ocean. The state ordered a quarantine of beaches in the area "to prevent a disease outbreak of epidemic proportions."

Three of the four sewage plants were operating Tuesday night with supervisory personnel, Alioto said. He added that chances appeared good to get the fourth functioning today.

Restoration of service on transit lines that carry 320,000 riders daily also hinged on the decision of another nonstriking union, the Transit Workers. Their refusal to cross Service Employees picket lines has shut down bus, streetcar and cable car service.

The union is seeking $16 million a year in pay raises and a dental health plan. The city offered $8.5 million.

Governor's Veto Powers, Budget Controls Mulled

AUSTIN (AP) — Constitutional Convention delegates prepared today to tackle proposals that would give a Texas governor increased veto powers and expand his control over state agency budgets.

Another full day's debate was slated as the 181 legislator-delegates began their third day of argument and voting over the executive branch in the new constitution.

FLOOR DEBATE Speaker Price Daniel Jr.,

convention president, told delegates they had made enough progress on the Executive Article that it now appeared there would be no need for a Friday afternoon or Saturday session as he suggested last week.

Tuesday, the delegates agreed, after two days of turbulent discussion, to let governors fire appointed state officials if a majority of the Senate agrees. The controversial removal provision, as amended in floor debate, now reads: "The governor shall have authority to remove for cause all officers who were appointed by any governor and who were confirmed by the Senate. Prior to removal, the governor shall provide the Senate a proposal of removal containing the cause for the recommended action. The Senate may refuse the removal by vote of a majority of the membership within 30 days of submission."

200 AGENCIES Supporters said the provision could affect about 1,100 appointed officials in the more than 200 state agencies and boards. Earlier, the convention added another new provision that would have the terms of all such appointive positions end between Feb. 1 and May 1 so that an incoming governor would be able to appoint new members for at least a third of the membership of boards and agencies. Most appointees serve six-year terms with a third of the membership being up for appointment each two years.

In other action Tuesday, the convention added the lieutenant governor, who is now paid the same as senators and representatives, to the list of executive department officials and specified his salary would be that set by the legislature.

An effort to provide that increases for any state official may not be more than the national cost of living average failed, 143-12.

Also tabled was an amendment that would have removed the 30-day limit for a special legislative session called by the governor.

'Compelling Prostitution' Rap Hits Winning Coach

AUSTIN (AP) — Travis Raven Sr., 51, who coached Austin Reagan to three Class 4A football championships, has been indicted on charges of "compelling the prostitution" of a 16-year-old girl.

Raven and Audrey Anne McDonald, 28, were indicted Tuesday by the Travis County grand jury hours after three others in the case pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges of prostitution and were fined $200 each.

The grand jury heard part of the state's evidence Thursday and the remainder Tuesday. It reportedly included four hours of tape recordings of telephone conversations and of an alleged conversation between Raven and the girl in a night club.

Raven was removed at his own request Friday from his post as athletic director of the Austin Independent School District. "It's a bunch of lies," he said Friday after being charged Thursday.

Pleading guilty to the misdemeanor charge of buying the services of a prostitute were Dr. Bobby Joe Smith, 42, a physician; Richard L. Matz, 42; and Mack Peterson, 41.

Police said they became involved in the case when the girl's parents, who live in Houston, complained to juvenile authorities here that she had been "beat up" at the Austin residence where she lived.

"Compelling prostitution" is punishable by a prison term from two to 20 years.

Noted Columnist To Talk At Tech LUBBOCK — Charlotte Montgomery, columnist for "Good Housekeeping" magazine, will speak to and visit with students and faculty in Texas Tech University's Department of Mass Communications and College of Home Economics March 18 and 19.

The author of the column "Speaker for the House," will speak on and discuss magazine writing and editing, free lance writing, public relations, consumerism, advertising and self-regulation during a busy schedule on campus. She also will talk about careers on home economics. Mrs. Montgomery is on the executive committee of the board of the Better Business Bureau.

TIA Will Begin Commuter Flights Out Of Love Field

DALLAS (AP) — City Atty. Alex Bickley of Dallas says he will seek a joint meeting of the Dallas and Fort Worth city councils to deal with a growing number of suits involving the new Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

Bickley's announcement came after a district court judge Tuesday issued a temporary injunction against the City of Dallas allowing Texas International Airlines to begin commuter flights out of Love Field.

LEGAL FIGHT Judge Joe Burnett ruled Texas International should be allowed to operate out of the old airport "as long as Braniff International keeps flying out of Love Field."

Bickley said lawsuits which continued to be filed involving the new regional airport are forcing a joint meeting of the two city councils.

Dallas and Fort Worth already are involved in a legal fight with Braniff International, Southwest Airlines, Delta Airlines, Texas International and American Airlines concerning continued commuter flights from Love Field.

MONOPOLY Continental Trailways bus line filed a suit in federal court to break up a monopoly on ground passenger service at the new airport granted by the cities to Surtran Inc.

Action by the Texas Railroad Commission to determine whether taxicabs other than those operated by Surtran should be allowed to pick up fares at the regional airport also is pending.

The Terminal Taxicab Co. says it will seek legal action if the Texas Railroad Commission does not rule in favor of opening up the airport to all cabs.

"You can just look at the ledger to see why we are going to have to get together and come up with some decisions," Bickley said.

HAGGLING Judge Burnett's ruling in favor of Texas International Tuesday resulted from a suit filed after Dallas officials said the airline could not use Love Field for commuter flights.

Texas International, Braniff, American, Delta and Southwest airlines have been haggling over the use of Love Field since Southwest obtained permission to remain at the old airport instead of moving to the giant new Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Beer Officers

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — W. Aylett Fitzhugh, president of Central Beverage Co., of Dallas was elected here as president of the Wholesale Beer Distributors of Texas.

Newly elected regional vice presidents were Hal H. Hillman of Houston, J. W. Henry of Midland, Alex E. Villarreal Jr. of Laredo, Maurice Acers of Beaumont, Gaston Hallam of Dallas and Philip Benastante of Wichita Falls.

Re-elected as secretary was Jerry Zatopek of Columbus and Harold W. Hoefgin of Austin as treasurer.

Mafia Character Out Of Prison

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Underworld figure Salvatore "Bill" Bonanno, 41, has been released from federal prison after serving 39 months.

Bonanno, son of Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, retired head of a New York Mafia family, had been sentenced to five years on charges of conspiracy, perjury, mail fraud and concealing ownership of his Long Island house.

Pleading guilty to the misdemeanor charge of buying the services of a prostitute were Dr. Bobby Joe Smith, 42, a physician; Richard L. Matz, 42; and Mack Peterson, 41.

Police said they became involved in the case when the girl's parents, who live in Houston, complained to juvenile authorities here that she had been "beat up" at the Austin residence where she lived.

"Compelling prostitution" is punishable by a prison term from two to 20 years.

Since Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn decided it was his duty to order Henry Aaron to play in Atlanta's season opener with Cincinnati, rather than wait until the Braves return home, I think Aaron ought to give the Cincinnati fans their money's worth. He should break out to home plate, wearing only his cleats and baseball hat, and then bunt...

Former Big Spring basketball Jan Oudermilk, who started here from 1954-58, will be one of five men to be inducted into the Texas High School Basketball Hall of Fame April 13 in Athens, Loudermilk, an all-SWC player at SMU, was an all-stater two seasons and he scored 75 points in one game.

Others to be honored include Raymond Alford, Jay Arnette, Placid Gomez and Marcus Friedberger... Another former local guy, A. L. Moore, was in town earlier this weekend visiting his brother Bill, who is busy getting his Big Spring Raceway track in shape for the April 6 opener. A. L., who lives in Texas City, is something of a racer-type, too, you might say, since he holds the record in R fuel competition.

At Laplace, La., last year Moore ran 203 m.p.h. and had an ET of 7.26 seconds — both world marks — and it qualified him for the world finals in Amarillo last summer. He plans to race again this year, starting back next month...

Kent McCurley, Lamesa's highly-recruited basketball player, will play football at Baylor next year in something of a surprise. McCurley was an all-state cager as a junior last year, and is almost a cinch to make it again this season even though the Tors didn't get to the state tournament...

Another Lamesan, Bob Kilgore, is among the many local and area gridgers being named to the prep All-America Honor Roll, as named by the Coach and Athlete Magazine. Another recent honoree has also been Stanton's Mark Eiland...

One more item out of Lamesa. Harold Henson, who is running for a spot on the Lamesa school board, is a former Howard College cage standout. Henson scored 648 points in 1960 to lead the Hawks to the national tournament...

Bob Milburn of the San Angelo Standard-Times already has the Dist. 5-AAAA track finish figured. Milburn, taking the best efforts through this much of the season, has San Angelo on top with 123 points, Odessa Permian second with 120 1/2, Midland Lee next at 76 1/2 and Big Spring fourth with 54 points. Abilene, Midland, Odessa and Cooper round out his list.

St. Joseph's Is Gallery Favorite In Tournament

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The NCAA small college basketball tournament begins this afternoon with favored Morgan State featured in the opening game, but there is a ripple of excitement building for the chances of St. Joseph's, Ind., the local favorite.

The 20-9 Pumas, from Bensenville, are paced by the leading scorer going into the tournament — Jim "The Rocket" Thorsden, with a 23.7-point per game average.

St. Joseph's, the smallest school in the country with an enrollment of only about 100, meets 14th-ranked Southwest Missouri, 19-8, in the last quarter-final game of the day.

Southwest's hungry Bears has made five appearances in this tournament and never have won it. Morgan State, also the Bears, must get past defense-minded Bloomsburg State, 22-5, in the tournament's kickoff game.

Small college All-American Marvin "The Human Eraser," Webster, leads 25-5 Morgan State, ranked No. 2 in the latest Associated Press small college poll, with his average of 22 rebounds a game and 21.4 points.

In the day's second quarter-final, No. 15 New Orleans, 20-7, is paired with Riverside, 21-7. No. 13 Norfolk State tests Assumption, 20-6, in the other opening-round match.

New Orleans, the tournament's largest school with 13,000 students, boasts a lineup with three Hoosiers — Terry Gill of Montezuma, Allen Kennedy of Brazil and Mike Lane of Lebanon — who could give the Privateers an emotional edge.

The Riverside Highlanders lost in the opening round of this tournament last year. John Grochowalski, averaging 23 points a game and over 15 rebounds, puts his Assumption Greyhounds into a good position to improve upon their third place finish in the small college finals in 1973.

Norfolk's Spartans, along with Southwest and New Orleans, edged into the AP small college poll for the first time this week.

Cocoa, Fla. (AP) — Houston Astros pitcher Larry Dierker hopes September 22 will be a day to celebrate — it is his birthday and the 10-year anniversary of his first major league start.

The Astros also hope they'll be celebrating Dierker's successful comeback from frustrating arm problems last season when he pitched only 27 innings and had a 4.33 earned run average.

Two Is Magic Number For Detroit Pistons

By The Associated Press

Two is the magic number for Coach Ray Scott and the Detroit Pistons.

If they can win two of their six remaining National Basketball Association games, the Pistons will accomplish both of the goals Scott set before the season started.

"One was to win 50 games and the other was to make the playoffs," Scott said.

And since Tuesday night's 113-108 triumph over the Golden State Warriors was Detroit's 48th victory of the season, their arrival at the 50-win plateau will put them in the playoffs for the first time since 1968.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the New York Knicks 109-102; the Buffalo Braves crushed the Phoenix Suns 124-94; the Capital Bullets tripped the Philadelphia 76ers 112-101; the Cleveland Cavaliers downed the Atlanta Hawks 95-84; the Kansas City-Omaha Kings edged the Chicago Bulls 93-91, and the Boston Celtics dropped the Portland Trail Blazers 110-93.

In the American Basketball Association, the Kentucky Colonels nipped the Memphis Tams 88-87.

Dave Bing scored a game-high 28 points to lead the Pistons, while Bob Lanier added 25 points and 19 rebounds. Rick Barry, with 23 points, and Jeff Mullins, with 22, paced Golden State.

Lakers 109, Knicks 102
Los Angeles, meanwhile, took advantage of Golden State's loss by defeating the Knicks. Gail Goodrich scored 34 points for the Lakers, making 14 of his 15 free throw attempts.

Braves 124, Suns 94
Buffalo played without the NBA's leading scorer, the all-Brobes got 30 points, but the Braves got 30 points and 15 rebounds from Jim MacMillian and 25 points, 25 rebounds from Garfield Heard to crush Phoenix.

Bullets 112, Trail Blazers 93
John Havlicek: scored 27 points, Don Chaney 23 and Paul Westphal 21 for Boston, sparking their 11th straight victory over Portland in the last three years.

Colonels 88, Tams 87
Dan Issel's layup with seven seconds remaining gave the Colonels their triumph over Memphis.

Phil Chenier scored 22 of his 23 points in the second half and faced Bullets Coach K. C. Jones by carrying Capital past Philadelphia.

Cavaliers 95, Hawks 84
Cleveland outscored Atlanta 22-2 in a seven-minute span at the end of the first period and started the second.

Cavaliers coasted in from the start of the second. Gail Goodrich scored 34 points for the Lakers, making 14 of his 15 free throw attempts.

advantage of Golden State's loss by defeating the Knicks. Gail Goodrich scored 34 points for the Lakers, making 14 of his 15 free throw attempts.

It was a tough loss for the Pistons, whose margin over the Bulls is now just 1 1/2 games. Jimmy Walker scored 24 points for the Kings in the second half after being held to four in the first half.

Celtics 110, Trail Blazers 93
John Havlicek: scored 27 points, Don Chaney 23 and Paul Westphal 21 for Boston, sparking their 11th straight victory over Portland in the last three years.

Colonels 88, Tams 87
Dan Issel's layup with seven seconds remaining gave the Colonels their triumph over Memphis.

Phil Chenier scored 22 of his 23 points in the second half and faced Bullets Coach K. C. Jones by carrying Capital past Philadelphia.

Cavaliers 95, Hawks 84
Cleveland outscored Atlanta 22-2 in a seven-minute span at the end of the first period and started the second.

Cavaliers coasted in from the start of the second. Gail Goodrich scored 34 points for the Lakers, making 14 of his 15 free throw attempts.

Hoosiers Take CCA Bid, Will Play In Meet

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Reluctant Bobby Knight has relented and directors of the first Collegiate Commissioners Association basketball tournament are breathing easier.

The fiery Knight, coach of Indiana's 10th-rated Hoosiers, threw a scare into the tournament Tuesday by first saying his team would vote in Bloomington, Ind., on whether to appear.

After a squad meeting, an Indiana official announced simply the school was "in" as representative of the Big Ten Conference.

No outcome of a vote was announced for the Hoosiers, who missed a National Collegiate Athletic Association tourney berth by falling 75-67 to co-champion Michigan Monday night.

"We're pleased to have Indiana," a CCA selection committee member, Mid-American Conference Commissioner Fred Jacoby, said.

The 34-year-old Knight's displeasure with the CCA was aimed at the eight-team meet's makeup for the most part of major college conference runners-up.

"I went to the NIT (National Invitation Tournament) when I was coach at Army," the third-year Hoosiers coach said, "and I have always liked the NIT.

"If the CCA in any way was started to try and hurt the NIT, then it's wrong and I am opposed to it," Knight added.

"Sure the teams were runners-up in their conferences," CCA Director Larry Albus said in St. Louis, "but it should be noted they hold 20 victories over those which qualified for the NCAA and NIT."

Knight's defensively tough Hoosiers bring a 20-5 record into the CCA and are seeded in the lower bracket for play beginning Thursday night.

Indians Rely On Firepower

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians continue to have an offensive spring. The Indians pounded out 11 base hits and outscored California 9-6 Tuesday for their third exhibition baseball victory in four outings. Cleveland has collected 41 runs in its four games.

George Hendrick cracked his second homer of the spring and also had a single for Cleveland. The Indians broke it open when they batted around and scored five runs in the sixth inning off Angels left-hander Rudy May.

Milt Wilcox was the winner and Cay the loser. Leroy Stanton homered for California.

In other exhibition games, Oakland topped San Francisco 8-5, San Diego routed the Chicago Cubs 11-6, the Chicago White Sox split their squad and lost twice, bowing to Pittsburgh 9-5 and St. Louis 2-1, Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 6-4, Houston shaded Minnesota 4-3, Philadelphia buried Detroit 10-7, the New York Yankees blanked Kansas City 9-0, Boston beat the New York Mets 3-1, and Milwaukee downed Arizona State 5-2.

Deron Johnson slammed a three-run homer and a double, helping the Oakland A's beat San Francisco. Chris Speier contributed a two-run single for San Francisco.

Bobby Tolan's three-run homer led San Diego to its first victory of the preseason. Dave Roberts and Ivan Murrell also homered for the Padres.

Willie Stargell and Dave Auguste walloped two-run homers and Richie Zisk added a solo shot for Pittsburgh. Bill Melton and Luis Alvarado each had a two-run double for the White Sox.

Junior Kennedy's four-scoring triple keyed a run-raging Cincinnati uprising in the eighth inning that carried the Reds past Los Angeles. Ken McMullen and Andy Messersmith doubled a home run apiece for the Dodgers.

Cesar Cedeno and Milt May had two hits each in Houston's victory. Larry Milbourne scored the winning run on a delayed steal in the fourth inning. Ron Blomberg had two hits and three RBI in the Yankees' triumph. Blomberg has driven in 10 runs in 15 at-bats this spring.

Optimist Meet Draws Near

Junior High tracksters from Midland, Abilene, San Angelo, Snyder, Sweetwater and Coahoma will gather here Saturday for the Annual Optimist Club Relays.

Action will get under way at 9:30 a.m. with preliminaries at Memorial Stadium, with the finals set for 1:40 p.m. Events will include all five field events, plus the 100, 220 and 330-yard dashes, the 70-yard high hurdles and 230-yard intermediate hurdles, the 440-yard and 1320-yard relays, the junior sprint medley relay and 1320-yard run.

Midland Alamo will return to defend its eighth grade championship, and competition will come from Runnels and Goliad, Abilene's Franklin, Mann, Jefferson, and Lincoln squads, San Angelo's Lee, Edison, Glenn and Travis, Midland Goddard and San Jacinto, Sweetwater and Coahoma.

Midland Austin captured the ninth grade honors a year ago, and that team will be challenged by Midland Edison, Franklin, Mann, Jefferson, Lincoln, SA Edison, Lee, Glenn, Lincoln, Lamar, Travis, Sweetwater and Coahoma as well as the local Toros.

DEL RIO — San Angelo Central and Del Rio split a doubleheader here Tuesday, the Bobcats winning the first one, 5-4, only to drop the second, 3-2.

Del Rio rallied for all its runs in the final inning to take the second contest.

Changin' His Image

James Scott, a 23-year-old convict, on probation from Rahway, N.J., state prison, where he was sentenced on armed robbery charges, is learning to become an asset to society by turning to a career in boxing.

Scott, whose previous ring experience came only in instituting, where he has spent most of the past 10 years, is already being heralded as a future light heavyweight champion. He is all smiles after winning a recent bout in Miami.

5-AAAA CONTESTS Three District Teams Post Wins

MONTEREY took the measure of Odessa High, 4-1, in a baseball exhibition game here Tuesday.

Scott Gardner fashioned the mound win, limiting Odessa to two hits. Gardner is only a sophomore.

The Plainsmen are now 5-3 on the year, the same record boasted by the Odessans.

LUBBOCK — Al Adams pitched and batted Lubbock High School to a 7-4 victory over Abilene High here Tuesday, scattering seven hits effectively.

Bowlers Name New Officers

New officers were elected Saturday at the annual meeting of the Big Spring Bowling association, and the new leaders will take office in August.

L. J. Brown, Jack Reese, Harold Aberegg and Gilbert Cisneros have all been named to vice president spots, while Bill Tune will continue as president and Ed Booth as Secretary-treasurer.

Other persons merely switched positions on the new slate, with Norvin Hamlin and Mike Ray to also have vice-president posts and directors named for next year include Garrett Patton, Russ Buske, Bob Motley, Neel Bumgarner, Fernin Gonzales and Homer Conner.

Outgoing officers include Sid Smith and Bill Pitchford.

The president is elected for two years in the BSBA, along with the secretary-treasurer, while directors are named to overlapping three-year terms.

Norm Sloan Can See No Court Edge For State

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — North Carolina State Coach Norm Sloan doesn't believe the home court will be much of a factor when his top-ranked basketball team battles Providence Thursday night in the NCAA Eastern Regional tourney.

"It'll be a kind of neutral crowd," Sloan said.

N. C. State students turn out en masse for Atlantic Coast Conference games, but the number will be considerably reduced for the NCAA regionals. Ticket allotments are made to the four teams and to the general public.

Reynolds Coliseum seats 12,400.

Southern Conference champion Furman (22-7) plays 13th-ranked Pittsburgh (24-3) in the opener Thursday night at 7:05, EDT. Then State (26-1) takes on fifth-ranked Providence (27-3) at 9:10.

"I'll be like a reunion for Providence's Marvin Barnes and Kevin Stacom and State's great David Thompson and Tommy Burleson. The four played on the U.S. team in the World University Games last summer. Sloan was assistant coach.

Raceway Drivers To Meet Sunday

Drivers and owners of cars participating in Big Spring Raceway Park races this summer will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. at the raceway on West IS 20, according to promoter Bill Moore.

Moore said it would be primarily a meeting concerning rules, and there will also be a practice session following the meeting. Anyone interested in the race program is welcome to attend.

'Win It All' Battlecry Uttered By Cincy Reds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Heralded as one of baseball's best teams, but hounded by four years of frustration, the Cincinnati Reds try, try again in 1974.

"Win it all" was the triumphant call from combative field leader Pete Rose, the National League's Most Valuable Player last season.

The Reds' 99 victories led the majors in 1973 but the Big Red Machine ran into another postseason roadblock, losing to the New York Mets in the playoffs.

Determined to shed the disappointments of two World Series setbacks, the collapse of 1971 and last year's abbreviated bid, President Bob Howsam staged a minor winter overhaul.

He traded off disgruntled outfielder Bobby Tolán for right-hander Clay Kirby, the San Diego Padres' winningest pitcher, and peddled starter Ross Grimsley to the Baltimore Orioles for seasoned veteran outfielder Merv Rettenmund.

The result, Howsam hopes, was reinforcement against the vulnerability of past short-series failures.

And most agree the Reds loom again as the Western Division power.

But there are question marks.

Is catcher Johnny Bench ready to bounce back after an off-year? Can Clay Carroll regain his relief pitching magic?

Is Gary Nolan's career finished at age 25?

Manager George "Sparky" Anderson echoes renewed optimism.

"I'm not afraid to say it. We should win everything this year."

Emerging as chief candidates to lead a breakthrough assault in 1974 are pitchers Jack Billingham and Don Gullett, who combined for 37 victories last year.

Billingham, 19-10, became a stopper after a so-so 44-44 career record and Gullett came on with a flurry, winning nine straight down the stretch.

The experience of Rose, Bench, slick-fielding second baseman Joe Morgan and slugging first baseman Tony Perez lends maturity. The sometimes-sputtering pitching staff seems stabilized with the acquisition of ex-Padres' Fred Norman and Kirby.

Anderson's chief concern lies with youngsters Dan Driessen and Ken Griffey, who responded to pennant pressures with amazing poise. They will need to deliver the depth.

Nolan's arm continues to plague him with pain. The outlook is dim and more surgery is likely. But his loss for a second straight season could be offset by Roger Nelson's healed arm.

Shortstop Dave Concepcion, who carried the Reds during a first-half slump, stroked a run-scoring single in his spring debut. That could signal he is ready to take up where he left off before breaking an ankle at mid-season.

Barring an injury, Rose appears headed for a 10th consecutive 300 season. The 32-year-old Reds' captain anchors left field and largely accounts for the winning spirit with his stirring hustle.

Bench's output declined, but considering he drove in 100 runs again after major surgery there's reason to believe he's ready for another big year. He had 25 homers in 1973.

NEW RECORD — Jerry Avery (above) of Big Spring weighed in with an eight pound 13 ounce black bass this week to set a record for the Big Spring Bass Club. Avery's fish surpassed the old club record of seven pounds 14 ounces set in 1972 by Rusty Marten.

Philadelphia Club Eyes Franklin Field Play

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Owners of the World Football League's new Philadelphia franchise, named "The Bell," hope to know by April 1 if they can play home games at the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field.

"I've talked to (Penn athletic director) Fred Shabel three or four times and I think our chances are 75-90 per cent sure," former Amateur Athletic Union president Jack Kelly said Tuesday in announcing that he will serve as the franchise president.

Noting he will be one of 11 equal owners, Kelly added: "It's just a matter of working out a few details, like guarantee, deposits and a few other things."

Asked of Kelly's appraisal of the April 1 deadline, Shabel replied, "I wouldn't want to speculate" on when a decision can be made.

Kelly, a city councilman, former Olympic oarsman, and brother of Princess Grace of Monaco, explained if negotiations with Penn fail on the 60,000-seat stadium, the franchise would be transferred to another city.

Ron Waller, interim coach of the NFL's San Diego Chargers last year, will serve as head coach-general manager of The Bell.

sign All-American running back John Cappelletti of Penn State, a first-round draft by Philadelphia's WFL entry, as well as the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL.

"I made Cappelletti a substantial offer that I didn't think the Rams could better," Waller noted. "If the Rams offered Cappelletti any more they would probably have a team strike on their hands."

Waller did not disclose how large it was, but indicated it was below the $500,000 figure quoted in various news accounts.

Steerettes Record Fifth League Win

The Big Spring Steerettes ran their 5-AAAA record to 5-1 by smashing Abilene High, 15-13, 15-11, here Tuesday night.

The local junior varsity also triumphed, 15-8, 15-6. Susie Lynch's varsity team is 16-6 on the year. The JB's are 4-2 against league opponents and 14-4 over-all.

The two teams return to competition here Friday night against Midland High. Action starts at 6:30 p.m., with the junior varsity game.

In the first varsity game last night, Debby Nikoli had five points for Big Spring while Helen Ray, Sally Graves and Cynthia Dennis did well at the net. The set was Ruth Knight.

Cynthia Dennis led the scorers in the second game with eight points, with help up front from Ruth Knight, Lisa Pipes and Debby Nikoli. Helen Ray was the set.

Jody Grant collected five points in the first game of the JV match. Danise Way led the second game with five points.

Others who stood out for Big Spring in the JV contest included Diane Pipkin, Sherry Spraberry, Susan Andrews, Lana Williams and Tammy Newsom.

Rangers Slam Braves, 7-3

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Sore-armed Gary Gentry passed his first test of the exhibition baseball season Tuesday but the Atlanta Braves dropped a 7-3 decision to the Texas Rangers.

Gentry, who underwent surgery for bone chips in his right elbow last July, pitched the first two innings, allowing one hit, walking one and striking out one.

"It felt good considering where I am right now in spring training," the Braves' right-hander said. "I never reared back and threw the ball as hard as I could, but that's not how I want to pitch."

"I'll take two ground balls and a flyball in an inning any time," he said. "I don't care if I never strike out anybody... until I need to."

While the Rangers didn't manage a run off Gentry, they got four unearned runs off Barry Lersch in the fourth and wrapped it up with three runs off Danny Frisella in the seventh.

Craig Robinson homered for Atlanta, and Ralph Garr and Johnny Oates each singled in runs for the Braves. Hank Aaron sat out the game.

Racquetballers Slate Tourney

The Big Spring YMCA will host a Ladies Racquetball Tournament this weekend, with defending champion Viena Arencibia on hand as the No. 1 seed.

Janice Platte is second-seeded for the event, which runs from 5-9 p.m. Friday and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The tournament is open to all area women. Entry fee is $3, and participants must register in person at the YMCA before noon Thursday.

It will be a single elimination consolation tournament.

Oilers To Open Play Aug. 3

HOUSTON (AP) — Four games in the Astrodome will highlight the Houston Oilers' 1974 National Football League pre-season schedule.

The Oilers open the exhibition schedule Aug. 3 in Houston against the New York Giants. Other preseason home games are with the Atlanta Falcons Aug. 26, the Chicago Bears Aug. 31 and the New Orleans Saints Sept. 7.

All pre-season games, at home and on the road, will start at 8 p.m.

Jersey League To Fight Ruling Made By Solons

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Little League baseball administrators plan to field a team at the state capital soon to urge the New Jersey Legislature to stay a ruling requiring the league to let girls play.

This past January the State Division on Civil Rights formulated a ruling that made New Jersey the first state in the nation to require Little League baseball teams to permit girls to play. Civil Rights Hearing Examiner Sylvia Pressler issued the ruling last November.

At a meeting in Hazlet last Saturday, Little League officials incensed at the ruling voted unanimously to suspend all play in the state.

Carmine Conti, administrator for the league's District 7 in Hudson County, said Tuesday that administrators and league presidents intend to hold another meeting this weekend at which they plan to organize a "buscade" to Trenton. Members about the state would bus to the capital, probably early next week, he said, to see the governor and legislators and to demonstrate peacefully.

"We'll lobby for a stay of the Civil Rights ruling until Jan. 1, 1975," Conti said. "By then we hope we'll be able to work something out."

Conti noted that the Little League is a voluntary, non-profit organization and has a federal charter that says only boys can play. The federal charter thus is in conflict with the state Civil Rights ruling, he said.

HOROSCOPE
CARROL RIGHTER

THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1974
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Take some time out to think over your basic views and the school of thought that can be most helpful to you. Then consult authorities in these fields for guidance.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)
Live up-to-date, clear ideas and should put them in operation quickly. Become friendly with those of different backgrounds.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)
Follow through on how to gain your fondest aims. Be more frank in letting others know how you feel. Avoid one who is two-faced.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)
Sit down with that associate who could not understand your ideas before and you come to a fine meeting of minds now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)
Deliberating too much can cause you to forget to take action on something important today. Discuss problems with co-workers.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)
Plan now for future recreation and contact congenial. Show how much you appreciate your mate and good relatives and be happier.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)
Add the cultural things and art pieces to your home.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
You are to add to present income so labor along such lines. Talk matters over with an expert. Bankers can be of assistance, too.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
Let others know exactly what you want of a personal nature. Take action by bringing such to yourself later. Meet associates with firm goals.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Quietly seek out the information you need, which is the best way. If you follow through with what more desires, happiness ensues.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Bring your own sociable self is the best way to proceed. Get into that group meeting that appeals to you so much.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)
You can add considerably to your success and the respect others have for you, along your finest qualities. Impress others.

COAHOMA
Comfortable, roomy, 3 bdrm, 2 full baths, dbl garage, water well, fenced 1/2 acre. Bkr. Many other features, too numerous to mention.

Ten Receive Certificates

Ten individuals received certificates Tuesday for one year's volunteer work with the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) at the Downtown Tearoom.

RSVP volunteers were cited by Nancy Easley, director. James Baum, chairman of the Volunteer Council at Big Spring State Hospital, was guest speaker.

Guests included Mrs. Dene Shepherd, V.A. Hospital; Miss Sherry Mullin, county home demonstration agent; Mrs. Virginia Moore, coordinator BSSH; Mrs. Nancy Lester, BSSH; Miss Agnes Currie; Miss Pam Watson, Mrs. Arveta Beason, and Mrs. Debby Jordan all of the Big Spring Nursing Inn.

Table decorations were furnished by Mrs. Billie Smith.

Volunteers receiving pins were Ollie Branson, Flora Brown, Marshall Brown, Vera Bumgarner, Ruby Dunn, H. M. Haygood, Jewel Hyer, Marlon Ireland, Bessie Love, R. R. McKinney, Alma McLaurin, Pearl Monroey, A. W. Moody, Martha Moody, Estal Lee Mullican, Frank Mullican, L. R. Muntz, C. B. O'Neal, Julia Quinn, Carmen Ray, Helen Shelly, Archie True, Mrs. Archie True, Ola Williams, and Winifred Wood.

Receiving one year certificates were Flora and Marshall Brown, Vera Bumgarner, H. M. Haygood, Alma McLaurin, Pearl Monroey, C. B. O'Neal, Helen Shelly, Ola Williams, Winifred Wood.

They are Curtis Woodrow Averette, 30, 251 Peach St., and James Thomas Averette, 29, 2302 Marshall Drive.

Sheriff A. N. Standard revealed the Steere Tank Lines Inc. Andrews Highway had burglarized and items including hoses, hydraulic jacks and office equipment stolen on Feb. 24.

Car Seemed Bit Familiar

KEY LARGO, Fla. (AP) — The closer he got to a speeding car, the more familiar it looked to Monroe County Sheriff's Deputy Al Lankin.

Once he got close enough to read the license tag, he said he knew for sure.

"Hey, I'm in pursuit of my own car!" Lankin told the police radio operator.

Lankin said he chased the auto at speeds up to 85 miles an hour, before finally pulling it over.

Lankin said he asked the driver: "This your car?"

"Nope, borrowed it from a friend," Lankin quoted the driver as saying.

"That's funny," said Lankin. "I'd have sworn this car was Al Lankin's car."

"That's right," Lankin said the driver replied. "Good old buddy Al lent us his car."

"Look," Lankin suggested as he leaned toward the driver and displayed his breast pocket name-plate.

Lankin said the driver's only remark after reading the name tag was a short profanity.

Don Yearwood, 44, and his companions, Jack Humrich, 40, and Leon Owen, 41, were booked for possession of a stolen car, police said. Yearwood was also charged with driving while intoxicated and not having a driver's license.

Lankin said he had last seen his car when he left it at a service station for repairs.

Legion Planning Birthday Party

The American Legion annual birthday anniversary will be observed with a dinner, program and dance at the Legion Hall on US 87 South Saturday evening.

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the World War I Barracks, the Disabled Veterans of America chapter have been invited to join with the Legion.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary and the Girls Auxiliary will prepare and serve the dinner starting at 6 p.m., said Troy Melton, adjutant. Commander Rocky Vieira will preside and introduce Robert Gonzales, master of ceremonies. Speaker for the evening will be Patrick Kelley, speaking on Americanism. There may be some district officials attend the party.

Fertilizer Supply Is Going To Get Acute

By DAVID CARREN

Shortages are a way of American life now, it seems. The latest entrant in the shortage sweepstakes is fertilizer — in all grades from lawn to high analysis commercial types. Though the shortages vary about town, most retailers are agreed the situation will be somewhat worse in the spring.

"I've got fertilizer. We get ours from below Dallas and Littlefield. The price has gone up 20-25 per cent, and this is statewide. It's pretty hard to get what you want, and we had to hunt for what we have. The companies have put their old customers on allocations, and they're not taking in new accounts," said Warren Wise, vice president of the Broughton Truck and Implement Co. Inc.

"Fertilizer is partly an oil by-product. The raw materials were also being shipped overseas to take advantage of higher prices there. Now the prices are up here, and the fertilizer companies can buy their raw materials again. The root of the problem is the raw materials companies. It may be plentiful again soon — but expensive," Wise added.

TROUBLE AHEAD

Jay Cunningham, owner of Jay's Farm and Ranch Center, definitely agrees there is trouble.

"There's lots of types we can't get at all. We can get the lower analysis fertilizers (for lawn and gardens), but we can't get the high-powered stuff — the ones used on the farm," he said.

"I ordered what we have of the commercial types very early. I don't have a bag of it and I have no promise of getting anymore. The price of commercial types increased about 25 per cent, and they're blaming it on the gas shortage. It may be part of just a general shortage of everything. I don't know, and they don't seem to know (what's causing the shortage)," Cunningham added.

"It's just like everything else," said Bean Marchant, manager of the Piggly Wiggly. His company sells only lawn fertilizer. Most of the grocers and markets outside farm supply stores sell only lawn fertilizer, if they sell any at all.

"After the beginning of spring, there'll be real shortage (of even lawn fertilizer). It'll be higher, 25 per cent at least," Marchant added.

Charles Ray, a dirt contractor, also handles only lawn or barnyard now. His price and availability situation is different. "I'm getting the same amount at the same price in

Church Merged

Joining of the North Birdwell Lane and the Kentwood United Methodist Churches was commemorated in ceremonies Sunday evening at the North Birdwell sanctuary.

Name of the new congregation, which will worship at the North Birdwell location, has not yet been chosen. Effective April 1, the Rev. Fred Witt, who has been serving the Kentwood congregation, will become pastor of the new church.

Even as the joining of the congregations was celebrated Sunday, the joining of the Rev. Witt and Adeline Irene Davenport, a Kentwood member, in marriage was solemnized Monday evening in ceremonies at the home of the Rev. O. A. McBrayer, Big Spring Methodist District superintendent. The Rev. and Mrs. Witt left today for a two-week's trip to Arizona.

Officers of the two congregations will serve as co-chairmen of the new church until the annual organization meeting is held and a new name is chosen.

Among the participants in the unification service Sunday were the Rev. McBrayer, Bob Crowell, district lay leader; the Rev. Jim Sharp and the Rev. Elra Phillips of First United Methodist Church; the Rev. Robert Ford of Wesley United Methodist Church; the Rev. Witt, and the Rev. Jack Thompson of North Birdwell, who will serve the new church until Rev. Witt takes over.

Lamesa's Radio License Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission announced the following decisions:

Dallas — St. Mark's School of Texas, granted construction permit for a new noncommercial educational FM station.

Lamesa, Tex. — KPET, The Corner Corp., granted assignment of license to KPET Radio Inc. for 22,510.

Tests Taken At Discovery

A potential Pennsylvania discovery for northwestern Howard County is seen in two tests of the F. W. Holbrook No. 1 Grantham, 14 miles northwest of Big Spring and two miles northeast of Knott.

The venture was reported unofficially to be flowing to tanks.

Operator took two drillstem tests from 9,050-70. The first test resulted in recovery of gas to the surface in five minutes and recovery of 4,695 feet of 4-gravity oil, plus 90 feet of heavily oil-and-gas-cut mud and 180 feet of drilling water. The flowing pressures were 106 and 969 pounds. The 60-minute initial shutin pressure was 3,981 pounds and the 2-hour final shutin pressure was 3,672.

On the second test, gas was to surface in five minutes at an estimated rate of 900,000 cubic feet per day. Oil flowed for five minutes through an 1-in. choke at the estimated rate of 45-50 barrels per hour. Recovery was 1,560 feet of oil, 270 feet of heavily oil-and-gas-cut mud. Flowing pressures were 826-938. The one hour initial shutin pressure was 3,348, the two-hour final shutin pressure 3069.

This venture is 3/4 miles southwest of the depleted one-well Knott (Pennsylvanian) field. Location is in SW SW of section 8-33-2n, T4P.

Scurry County has a possible Strawn strike in Hilliard Oil and Gas No. 1 Western Reserve, 12 miles northeast of Snyder. It recovered 186 feet of oil and oil-and-gas-cut mud in testing from 6,994-7,014. Operator was deepening. The wildcat is located in section 288-2, H&TC.

How important is the price of your glasses or contact lenses?

Price is important, but not as important as clear, comfortable vision brought about by accuracy of prescription, lens quality and proper fit. Frame quality and style are important, too. You want a frame that is comfortable, proper for your individual prescription, looks nice on your face, is well made and maintains the proper adjustment.

TSO is most concerned with how well and how comfortably you see. Because different people have different requirements for their prescription lenses and frames, the amount of workmanship required and the type of materials used will vary. Thus, to be exactly correct for the individual, they may vary in price, like a prescription for drugs. Maybe you think you may pay less for eyewear somewhere else; but will you get the quality your eyes need for clear vision and comfort?

At TSO you get both—finest quality materials and the lowest price consistent with quality. Why take any risk when it comes to your eyes? Stop in soon and see.
