

KEEPS HIS PROMISE

Astro's Dad Broke

WYOMING, Mich. (AP) — A promise to his son, one of three astronauts killed in a 1967 training mission, has brought Don Chaffee to the verge of financial ruin.

END OF LINE

"Being the father of a national hero is not financially rewarding. Of course, I never thought it would be," Chaffee, 63, said.

Roger Chaffee, 31; Virgil Grissom, and Edward White II were killed Jan. 27, 1967, when fire raged through their Apollo capsule during a simulated flight test on the ground.

Chaffee says meeting the pledge to his son has placed him $75,000 in debt.

In 1966, as the Chaffees walked together along the shore at Cocoa Beach, Fla., the astronaut told his father, "If I 'buy the farm' (die), I don't want you to be bitter. Do what you can to help the space program," Chaffee recalled in a recent interview.

"I'll promise you that," I said. But I sort of laughed it off." The former real estate agent says his son's death "was a terrible shock — but I remembered my promise."

WENT TO POT

So, Don Chaffee began appearances before school children, civic clubs — any group wanting to hear about his son and the space program. It has been a labor of love which has taken him to 11 states.

"I just let the business go to pot," he said of the real estate agency he founded some 20 years ago. The firm now functions only sporadically from a bedroom of Chaffee's small frame home in this Grand Rapids suburb.

Woman In Seclusion, Jail Kidnap Suspect

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Eunice Kronholm, reunited with her husband 3½ days after she was kidnaped, remains in seclusion. Her family says she will tell newsmen on Wednesday the details of her abduction.

James W. Johnson, 35, Lakeville, Minn., was arraigned today before U.S. Magistrate J. Earl Cudd, who set a cash bond of $100,000. Johnson was charged with extortion in $200,000 ransom paid by Gunnar Kronholm, president of Drivers State Bank in South Paul, for his wife's recovery.

Anderson had asked for a $300,000 bond, citing the nature of the crime, that the ransom had not been recovered and that federal officers had found suitcases in Johnson's house packed with men's clothes, "indicating flight."

Cudd set Tuesday for a preliminary hearing on the charge against Johnson. Mrs. Kronholm, 46, walked into a suburban Minneapolis grocery store Monday evening, a blanket wrapped around her shoulders. She asked to use a telephone.

Reino Heikkila, store manager, said he didn't know who she was but that she was a "little shaky."

John Michael, a clerk at the Tom Thumb Superette in Burnsville, said he didn't know who she was but that she was a "little shaky."

Asked if Mrs. Kronholm had been treated well by her abductors, he said, "She didn't want to discuss it and we didn't ask her many questions. We just tried to bolster her strength."

The FBI said Johnson was arrested at his home in Lakeville, some 20 miles south of Minneapolis, about three hours before Mrs. Kronholm appeared at the grocery store.

Johnson was charged with violating the Hobbs Act, a federal charge involving extortion of funds in interstate commerce. The $200,000 ransom was "in the funds of the Drivers State Bank," the FBI said.

The FBI also disclosed that Mrs. Kronholm was released by "one of her abductors."

Buckley Wants Nixon To Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James L. Buckley, Con.-R-N.Y., today called on President Nixon to resign because of Watergate.

"I hope and pray he will realize that the greatest and culminating action he can now take for his country is the renunciation of the world's highest office," the Conservative senator told a news conference.

Edward R. Brooke, R-Mass., is the only Republican U.S. senator previously to have called for Nixon's resignation in the aftermath of the Watergate scandals.

Buckley said Watergate has now reached such a stage that Americans must come to terms with it. "If Watergate is not to end up drowning all of us."

"There is one way and one way only by which the crisis can be resolved, and the country pulled out of the Watergate swamp," Buckley said.

Buckley, who has solidly supported Nixon's policies but has criticized his handling Watergate, said that by asking Nixon to resign he is not implying any belief that Nixon is legally guilty of any of the accusations that have been leveled against him.

She Heard She Had Died The Day Before

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Irma Maggard was at home Monday morning listening to the radio when she heard the news that she had died the day before. She nearly fainted.

The confusion was cleared when spokesmen at Santa Rosa hospital said a mistake had been made when Mrs. Maggard, 68, was treated Sunday after a fishbone lodged in her throat.

Another woman had arrived at about the same time. The second woman was dead on arrival. The two names got mixed up.

Schools Will Stay On Same Schedules

"Local schools will remain on the same starting hour until the end of school," Supt. Sam Anderson stated here today.

"Parents have now become used to this hour and there is no reason to upset everybody's schedule again," school officials added.

Odessa, Westbrook and Andrews are West Texas schools who have again changed their starting hours, this week, moving them up an hour.

Local Couple Gets Good News, Daughter Is Safe

Two couples believed lost and possibly drowned on the Trinity River near Corsicana, walked into the sheriff's office at Athens in Henderson County at 3 p.m. Monday, reported to be exhausted but safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Ray of Big Spring were delighted because one of the two missing couples included their only daughter and her husband. The Rays had gone to Corsicana after being notified by sheriff's deputies yesterday morning that the couples had been missing since Sunday. At that time they did not return to baby sitters, nor did any of the four report to work Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCarter and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mask had gotten lost on the river, became stranded and finally had to abandon the boat. They took off on foot through the river bottoms and woods to report in to law officials.

Earlier in the day, the Navarro County Sheriff Jerry Shelton had sent out helicopters to try to locate the foursome.

Sheriff Shelton said that he contacted the Big Spring sheriff's office early Monday in an attempt to gain more information on the boat, after he learned that the boat was from Big Spring.

Sheriff A. N. Standard Monday morning said that he had heard nothing about anyone missing and possibly drowned near Corsicana.

The pickup that the foursome used to get to the river was located late Monday morning and Navarro County officials were still seeking the boat late Monday.

Need For More County Aid In Hospital Cases Urged

By JOHN EDWARDS A pregnant single woman who later underwent a Cesarean operation sat across from him in Cowper Hospital "in active labor." Truett Thomas, hospital administrator, told County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon.

"She'd been turned away from a hospital that's qualified for Medicare and Medicaid," Thomas said.

"They could have taken her and gotten paid, but they wouldn't have gotten paid as much as they wanted to be paid," Thomas explained.

"OUCH, STUCK" "Once we touch them we are stuck," Dr. Clyde E. Thomas said, referring to civil liability for the patient's welfare.

Now her $700 to $800 bill is unpaid.

"This is one of the stories officials of Cowper Hospital and Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital used to illustrate the need for more county compensation for charity cases.

"We're not going to start paying these OBs (births) as long as I have anything to say," County Judge A. G. Mitchell commented.

"These OBs that have got nine months to get their money together — that's y'all's business," Mitchell said.

Charity cases not covered by federal programs frequently are young persons who "got hopped up on something," were hurt on a motorcycle or pregnant out of wedlock, the court was told.

NO STANDARDS Charity care in Howard County has been handled on "catch-as-catch-can basis," Dr. Thomas said.

"We need to have standards as to what is a charity case," Dr. Thomas said.

"I don't think we can set standards, because every case is different," Mitchell said.

"I think you can leave that up to your social worker (Mrs. Ruby Phillips)," Mitchell said.

"I'm not talking about bad bills," Dr. Thomas said. "Everybody's got bad bills."

Howard County now pays $25 for the first day of charity patient hospitalization and $15 for each day thereafter, Mitchell told this reporter.

The two medical groups wanted compensation which comes closer to fees charged other patients and wanted more help from other doctors with charity cases.

CHARITY OVERLOAD "I don't think 10 per cent of the doctors in the county ought to do all the charity cases," Dr. Thomas commented.

Other private hospitals here do not take charity cases, representatives of the two hospitals claimed.

Dr. R. B. G. Cowper said of the Hospital Corporation of America: "They have a sign that says no welfare." He said this firm is operating Medical Center Memorial and building the new hospital.

Another hospital locks its doors to all but regular patients nightly, Dr. Cowper said.

Likewise, of the Veterans' Administration Hospital, Dr. Cowper said: "They apparently don't admit patients at night."

"They ought to take care of their part, too," Dr. Cowper said.

If the commissioners court set a reasonable fee to be paid for charity cases, Dr. Thomas felt other hospitals would help with more charity work.

Dr. Thomas said he did not object to giving charity patients free care if hospital and other medical expenses were paid.

BUDGET 'TIGHT' "As a budgeting officer," the county judge remarked, "we're tight as a board right now."

But Mitchell added: "The candlestick maker ought to be paid for every candle he makes."

Charity case expenses running around $75,000 yearly was mentioned.

Ray Thomas, assistant administrator of Hall-Bennett, mentioned $76.90 as an average daily cost of hospitalization at that hospital. The cheapest room goes for $32 daily, he said.

MORE TAXES "I think this could be worked out without any raise in taxes," Commissioner Simon (Cy) Terrazas argued.

"The city's got to come in or we can't do it without a change in the tax rate," Mitchell said.

Dr. Thomas said his brother George, a local attorney, once obtained an Attorney General's opinion stating the county was responsible for paying bills of prisoners brought in by the sheriff's office.

Similarly, the city was responsible for persons treated while under police custody.

BALL AND CHAIN Dr. Thomas told of one man injured in a shooting and guarded by law enforcement officers at the hospital.

"As soon as he could move, they put a ball and chain on him," Dr. Thomas said.

The county claimed it was not responsible for the prisoner's bill.

Representatives of the two hospitals plan to meet with City Council next. Mitchell proposed establishing a joint city-county committee to investigate the problem area.

NEW YORK (AP) — High prices at the gasoline pump and on the utility bill are not likely to come down, and there won't be much more gasoline at the service stations for about two months. That is what the nation's major oil companies said about Monday's announcement that the Arab oil embargo against the United States had been lifted.

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — A judge is set to rule on a request by two alleged Symbionese Liberation Army members to make a televised statement they claim could help save the life of Patricia Hearst. The SLA, which says it kidnaped the 20-year-old newspaper heiress 44 days ago, has threatened to break off all communication with her family unless Joseph Remiro, 27, and Russell Little, 24, appear on nationwide television.

today on requests for Little or Remiro to make a 5 to 10 minute televised statement before a single cameraman and newsmen. Little and Remiro face murder charges for the Nov. 6 cyanide-bullet slaying of Oakland Schools Supt. Marcus Foster and charges of attempted murder of a Concord policeman.

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal proposal to abandon unprofitable railway track in 17 states came under heavy criticism from businessmen, politicians and community leaders during a week-long series of hearings. Although the Department of Transportation plan would affect only about 4 per cent of the freight shipments in the northeastern quarter of the nation, critics say they fear economic ruin for rural industry heavily dependent on the railroads.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Heavy tank and artillery fire raged along the Golan Heights again today. It was the eighth successive day of fighting on the 40-mile Syrian-Israeli front. Each side accused the other of opening fire first about dawn.

Big Turnout Urged For IS 27 Meeting

Hearings on need for extension of Interstate 27 southward from Lubbock passed the halfway mark Monday evening at Snyder, and moves here Wednesday.

Clyde McMahon Jr., vice president of the Chamber of Commerce and heading up the local presentation, urged all citizens interested in the north-south interstate to attend the meeting in the Howard College auditorium. Phil Wilson, with the Texas Highway Planning Division, will conduct the hearing.

YET ANOTHER ROUTE Weight of the testimony at the Snyder meeting expectedly favored a routing from Lubbock via Snyder, Roscoe, Abilene, Brownwood, Austin to intersection at Columbus.

Oscar L. Crain, Lubbock, former district engineer for the highway department, however, strongly supported the US 87 routing.

Ben Sims, Paint Rock, injected yet another route following US 84 through Snyder and Sweetwater, then traversing open country through Ballinger, Brady and finally to intersect I-10 at Junction. Bobby Lemons, Colorado City, suggested again what he called a compromise route via US 84 through Snyder, Colorado City, Robert Lee, San Angelo and intersecting I-10 at Junction.

'SHEER ANGER' — Bill Anderson, a television news cameraman, talks with newsmen Monday after he rammed his car into another auto in which three hostage-holding robbers were fleeing a bank holdup. The hostages were freed unharmed. Two robbers surrendered and a third killed himself police said. Anderson, a cameraman for WHBQ-TV, said he acted out of "sheer anger" to stop the robbers when he saw their car trying to run down a policeman.

Road Meet

Ed Micak of Chevron Oil, which operates the SACROC production unit southwest of Snyder, argued that most of the oilfield items moved from Houston to the West Texas oil fields that the Abilene-Brownwood-Austin-Houston routing would be more direct. Bill Vestal, a petroleum engineer, contended that the Scurry County oil fields with their potential production alone could pay for a 480-mile interstate.

TOP PRODUCER

"Scurry County is the largest oil producer in Texas, and last October celebrated production of one billion barrels of oil in its 25-year production history," he said. With its 300,000 barrels a day, Scurry County can continue to supply 3.2 per cent of the nation's oil production. Vestal said that 21 million gallons of gasoline will, at nine cents (state and federal) tax per gallon, yield $2.1 billion in revenue. He compared that with a $500 million price tag of plains to Port route. Several other Snyder residents, representing various segments of industry and business, testified in support of the Snyder-Abilene-Austin-Houston routing.

Mickey Nunley, chamber manager at Snyder, asserted that the 101 County area in proximity to the southeast routing would serve approximately 2 million people, and that it would be even a better link for the Midland-Odessa area. Conjecturing that this might be the last interstate extension, indeed if it is built, he said that the general need so great that he would be for the north-south leg regardless of routing.

Crain one of three Lubbock spokesmen, said that no one seriously argued that the route was not needed, but that he always had supported the US 87 route, and noted that the economics may have a big bearing since highway funds are pinched and the US 87 route would serve a maximum number of people and industry for the dollars invested.

Art Roberts, Lamesa Chamber of commerce manager, reemphasized his area's support of need for road and belief in advantages of the US 87 routing.

Nazarene Youth Attend Meeting

The Big Spring Church of the Nazarene sent 32 teenagers to Seagraves last weekend to meet with more than 70 others from across West Texas for Bible study, choir practice and visitation.

Big Spring's Nazarene group won the attendance banner on the basis of members and miles traveled. An evening service was also arranged by the teens under direction of Larry Holmes, a Seagraves pastor.

Thirty-four more children who attend the Nazarene's Sunday school and children's church also gathered last Saturday afternoon for a kite-flying contest at the church here. The three highest-blown kites won prizes. The children were then bused to Birdwell Park for a weiner roast.

Art Roberts, Lamesa Chamber of commerce manager, reemphasized his area's support of need for road and belief in advantages of the US 87 routing.

High School Co-Ed Step Nearer Goals As A Pilot

Ever since she was nine years old and watched episodes of the "Wirlybirds" television series, Tina Teague, now 17, has wanted to be a police helicopter pilot.

Mrs. Teague, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Britton, is a step nearer her goal. She recently soloed in a plane after taking 10 hours in flying lessons. She now has 14 hours — but not in a chopper. She needs many more lessons and flying hours (40-50) before she's ready for her license.

"I'll be graduating from high school in May. The lessons are my parent's graduation present. I hope to have my pilot's license by that time. I'll have to pass a flight test, a written exam and fly solo cross-country. Then I can get a commercial license. Maybe I'll get a flying job then or go on to chopper school. I might go to the Police Academy's chopper school," she said.

For now, everything's up to her instructor, Leon Anderson. "It all depends on when Leon thinks I'm ready to get my license," Miss Teague said.

She also feels women have a place on today's air branches. "The Navy's accepted two women pilots. I'm hopeful. If there's not any woman Police

Voters Are Slow To Cast Ballots

Absentee voting was to start Monday in the Big Spring school board, Howard College trustee and Howard County school board elections.

Only one vote was cast, Mrs. Margaret Ray, chief deputy county clerk, said. Absentee voting for these races is handled through the county clerk's office.

Absentee voting in the City Council election opened Monday also with the same results. Robert Massengale, city secretary, said.

Commission Not Satisfied With Port Improvements

President of a firm which was contracted for improvements at Howard County Airport under a Federal Aviation Administration program drew some hard-nosed treatment in County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon.

The court was not satisfied with related airport improvements which were 100 per cent county funded.

In addition to the $54,919 contract for partially federally financed improvements, the court contracted with Boss-Linam Elect. Inc. to work on two wind direction indicators: the sock and tetrahedron.

ARGUMENT Price for this additional work was around $1,403.

Travis Brackeen, president of Boss-Linam, argued he performed the work contracted. But the court wanted both wind indicators lighted and working.

Neither one is working well or lighted.

"We don't have to pay anything else we owe you until we get this," County Judge A. G. Mitchell said.

"I'm grossly dissatisfied it wasn't even brought to the court's attention to my knowledge," Commissioner Bill Crooker said.

C. R. Crim, the engineer hired for the major government project, explained that having a lighted wind sock was necessary for federal approval of the major project.

Brackeen said a Big Spring Aircraft official told him "there was power out there" to the wind sock. But the underground line was faulty.

Head Count Down Again In Schools

A dip in elementary enrollment resulted in a corresponding easing of school enrollment through last weeks. Six withdrawals at College Heights influenced elementary totals of 3,400, down eight for the week. Secondary losses came to seven, evenly distributed between the two junior and one senior high schools in reaching 3,042. Hospital and homebound totals of 171 was up one, making a grand total of 6,613, down 14.

Guilty Plea To Escape Try

James L. Fisher, 19, the Marine from Lakewood Ohio, who allegedly fought with policeman Claude Morris over a pistol, pleaded guilty in 11th District Court Monday to attempted escape from jail.

He was given 10-years probation and will be returned to military authorities by whom he is wanted for absence without leave.

An indictment charging Fisher with assault with intent to murder was dismissed.

Guy John Seely, 21, 1802 1/2 Nolan St., waived indictment and pleaded guilty to burglary of the Jerry Morris residence. He was given six years of probation.

Abilene Firm Gets Contract

COLORADO CITY — The B. D. Click Co. of Abilene was the successful bidder on Colorado City's proposed Civic Center Monday night, bidding $148,470 on a mission stone building containing 8,954 feet of floor space.

The council accepted the Click Co.'s bid even though it was the high bid of three and waived the requirement that a bid bond accompany the bid.

Other bids were Speed Fab-crete of Fort Worth, bidding $139,939 and the CRS Construction Co. of Odessa with $134,380.

The council accepted the recommendation of J. A. Sadler, Jr. city manager who said he believed this was the best building for Colorado City's needs.

The original ceiling of $100,000 was later raised to $125,000. The city manager said funds over that ceiling will have to come from general funds or funds earmarked for the replacement of equipment.

The council accepted the low bid of Texas Hotel and Restaurant Equipment Corp. or Fort Worth of $26,166 for the kitchen equipment in the center.

Copyrights Rule Could Deal Blow To Broadcast Industry

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of the National Association of Broadcasters says a recent Supreme Court decision on copyrights is "in error" and it could strike a severe blow to the nation's broadcasting system if allowed to stand.

NOT A NICKEL
Vincent T. Wasilewski said the decision "carries in it the seeds of destruction of the whole concept of copyright."

He told the opening session of the 52nd annual convention of the NAB Monday that the justices did not understand the implications of what they did and that ultimately the decision will have to be reversed either judicially or legislatively.

The decision was in the CBS-Teleprompter case.

"The Copyright Act is based on the assumption that it is in the public interest for creative people to be encouraged," Wasilewski said. "For that reason, plays, books, movies and music are owned, under the law, by the people who created them. No one may use that property without paying for it. This decision undermines that concept."

BAD SEEDS
Under the Supreme Court decision, Wasilewski said, there is nothing to prevent a cable system from picking a movie or a football game or other sports events and, without paying a nickel, bring it into a city where a local station already had paid money for the right to show the event.

"There is no way that a copyright owner can charge for these uses of his property because, since the signals can be picked up without permission, there is no way he can possibly know where they go after they leave a particular radio or television transmitter," he said.

Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen, D-Tex., lashed out at what he called "alarming attempts to discredit the news media" in another address.

Finnell Asks For Recess

AUSTIN — Rep. Charles Finnell, Holiday, is arguing for recess in the Texas Constitutional Convention (the legislature) for 60 days. There are problems of shortages in agriculture which can't wait until the convention finishes its business, he claimed.

"The convention should finish up its business post-haste or recess until we have tended to more important business, he said. "The present constitution has served us well for 100 years, and 60 days out to handle really important business isn't going to hurt anything."

Finnell, who also is a candidate for state senator from his district, meanwhile booked appearances Tuesday evening at Knox City, Thursday at Graham, Friday at Albany and Saturday at Matador.

Cattle Feeders Taking Licking, Says White

Cattle feeders are taking a greater financial licking now than last summer, according to the weekly report from John C. White, Texas agriculture commissioner.

Feedlot operators are losing $135 to $155 per head, which is $35 to $55 a head more loss than in 1973. Lower prices in the face of higher feed costs are seen as major causes of the crisis for feeders.

Influencing the lower prices is the increase in red meat production in Texas. It is up four per cent over a year ago. During January, Texas produced 201,000,000 pounds. The national figures were up two per cent, but the gain is 12 per cent over December.

Still another reason, according to the commissioner's report is the availability of feeder cattle. Sales in January were 17 per cent above a year ago, and most of these were feeder cattle.

The feed cattle mark dropped sharply. Choice 900-1,100 pound steers sold direct from feedlots averaged $50.45 per hundred weight during the first week of February. By the last week of the month, prices had dropped

Animal Health Chief Selected

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Norman Moser of DeKalb chairman of the Texas Animal Health Commission on Monday.

He replaces Joe B. Finley Jr., Encinal, who was not re-appointed when his term ended.

Moser, who was appointed to the board last Thursday, is a rancher and banker.

Watergate Defense Lawyer Expects To Appeal Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — It could take weeks for the House Judiciary Committee to learn if it will receive the secret grand jury report on President Nixon's role in Watergate.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica ruled Monday that the report should go to the committee for its impeachment inquiry, but at least one Watergate defense lawyer said he expects to appeal the ruling.

Sirica delayed implementation of his ruling for two days to permit filing of appeals.

NARROW GROUND
That gives attorneys until late Wednesday to file their appeals and also to ask either Sirica or the U.S. Court of Appeals to extend the delay in transmission of the report to the Judiciary Committee.

JUDGE JOHN SIRICA

The report is a simple and straightforward compilation of information gathered by the grand jury, and no more."

INDICTED
Vice President Gerald R. Ford told reporters Monday night that he agreed with Sirica's decision. Ford, at a Republican fundraising dinner in College Park, Md., said "What he has done is what I personally felt should have been done."

The grand jury gave the report and a satchel filled with evidence to Sirica March 1, along with an indictment that charged seven former administration and campaign aides with conspiring to block the investigation of the Watergate break-in.

Indicted were Haldeman, Ehrlichman, Mitchell, Charles W. Colson, former White House special counsel; Gordon C. Strachan, former aide to Haldeman; former assistant Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson, a former attorney for President Nixon's re-election finance committee.

All have pleaded innocent.

John J. Wilson, attorney for former presidential aides H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, said Monday "it is our present intention to pursue appellate review."

William G. Hundley, attorney for former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, said he hadn't decided yet whether to appeal the order.

"If we go up, it'll be on the very narrow ground that if there is something in the presentment that reflects on Mitchell we would want that expunged," Hundley said.

FAIR TRIAL
At a hearing before Sirica March 6, Wilson had argued that the grand jury lacked the authority to issue such a report and that if it were sent to Congress its contents probably would leak out and possibly prejudice his clients' rights to a fair trial.

However, Sirica noted that "the person on whom the report focuses, the President of the United States, has not objected to its release to the committee."

And, he concluded "delivery to the committee is eminently proper, and indeed, obligatory."

Sirica said the report "draws no accusatory conclusions..."

Elusive Mode Of Relief

George Perry of Brookings Institution is concerned over the erosion in real purchasing power caused mainly by rising food and fuel prices. How can this erosion be halted, in the face of certain demands for wage increases, without entering into another wage-price spiral?

He offered the Joint Economic Committee a suggestion: A tax cut designed to help low-and-middle-income groups, in return for more reasonable wage demands. He described it as "an attempt to raise incomes via the tax table rather than via the bargaining table."

This is a constructive idea. Unemployment is almost certain to increase during coming months. Labor leaders cannot be unmindful of rising unemployment as they approach the wage bargaining table. Will they then modify their demands to approximate the 5.5 per cent wage guideline set by the administration?

The answer probably is "no." The AFL-CIO Executive Council has demanded a 12 per cent wage boost, plus a 3 per cent productivity allowance. President George Meany was only slightly less modest in his demands, saying that wages should go up at least 10 per cent "to keep pace with rising prices."

Figures compiled by the Department of Labor indicate that during the year ending this January, spendable income after taxes declined 4 per cent.

But prospects are for an even higher rate of erosion in real purchasing power at least for the first half of 1974.

A tax cut for low-and-middle-income workers could be most helpful, especially if coupled with a corresponding reduction in expenditures. However, the chances of either happening are not the best in the world.

Those Hazardous Weekends

More people are divorcing these days, but more are marrying. It is estimated that 3.8 million will put on the slipknot this year, and 2.3 will unship it through legal action (and another four million may separate). Through the first nine months of last year, the ratio of divorces to marriages was 1-2.56, according to the National Center for Health Statistics. Still, the rate of survivability of marriage continues somewhat down.

A West German psychiatrist thinks weekends are the biggest threat to marriage. "During the week, couples are separated. On weekends they realize how little they have in common," he notes. His prescription is for partners to deliberately sleep late, spending more time together in getting reacquainted, let shaving and housework go. Now there's something that might appeal to both.

Pity And Patience

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

The automobile is much in the news these days, for the industry is beset with problems. Bombarded from all sides, Detroit is burning the midnight oil (oops) trying to be all things to all men.

The environmentalists want pollution controls, the government wants economic operation, insurance companies want safety devices, the dealer wants something he can sell, and the customer wants a marvelous machine that is well-built, safe, comfortable, drives like a dream, looks like a million and costs no more than his credit will allow.

THAT'S A BIG CITY — Perhaps we should show a little pity — and patience. It's enough, for me, that I don't have to ease my bustle onto a buckboard every morning.

On the lighter side, I ran across an interesting article by Frank Remington called "Highway Heraldry," in which he discusses those crests and insignia prominently displayed on American automobiles. Have you ever wondered about these emblems; the meaning of these medallions?

Reflecting the ancient art of heraldry, they are used much in the same way knights of yore used them on their coats of arms to identify their family and its lineage. Buick's original emblem boasted a crest bearing the ancestral arms of David Buick, who planned and built the first motorcar to bear that name. When the company revived the crest in 1937, there was no picture of the original so "Burke's Heraldry" provided a description from the armour of the Scottish family of Buik, the original spelling.

The Chevrolet emblem, having no heraldic symbolism, is yet interesting. William C. Durant, a founder of General Motors, designed the original. While traveling in France in 1907, he copied the distinctive design of wallpaper in his hotel room to make the insignia for his "horseless carriage." He named his automobile after Louis Chevrolet, a famous race driver who helped design the engine.

THE EMBLEMS of Chrysler and Imperial cars have no heraldic connection, but were designed by artists to add to the external beauty. The lightning design symbolizes the letter, "Z", suggested by the name of F. M. Zeder, who was associated with building the first Chrysler cars.

Plymouth's original medallion came from the first Plymouth Colony Seal; the ship representing the Mayflower. The pine trees of the original have been deleted and the Indians, holding flaming hearts, have been varied from their original positions.

In 1950, Ford incorporated a Ford coat of arms on the automobile. It was a colorful crest derived by Ford stylists from an authentic coat of arms which dates back to 17th century England. Shaped like a shield, it features golden lions on fields of red, white and blue. The Mercury crest involves mythological symbols from the Roman god of the same name. The circle is the world, the wings represent Mercury's hat and sandals, and the four stars indicate Mercury's sacred number.

Cadillac's emblem is the coat of arms of the Cadillac family; the seven pearls in the coronet atop the shield representing Antoine Cadillac's descent from as many ancient courts of France.

Detente, A Casualty

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — High-level officials here are beginning to fear that the political convulsion growing out of impeachment proceedings against President Nixon may soon switch Moscow out of its uncharacteristic soft-line policy of detente into a tougher, more aggressive foreign policy.

THE SINGLE major factor behind this ominous switch away from detente — a policy considered the personal preserve of Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev — is the decline and possible fall of Richard Nixon.

"Will they go on making agreements with a President who may not be around next year, who has lost his clout with Congress?" a top U.S. official dealing with Soviet affairs asks rhetorically.

A NEGATIVE ANSWER to that question could destroy Mr. Nixon's plans for large-scale diplomatic accomplishment in the coming months to overshadow and perhaps suffocate impeachment proceedings in Congress. A byproduct of detente's decline could be the cancellation of the President's Western European trip — a strong possibility today. Even the proposed Moscow summit meeting with Brezhnev might be postponed.

Evidence that a major reappraisal of Soviet policy toward the U.S. is now going on behind Kremlin walls is far from positive, but U.S. policymakers see plenty of ominous signs. One is the five-week absence from Washington of the — ostensibly on vacation — Kremlin's longtime American expert, Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, who is not expected back in the capital at least until after Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's trip to Moscow in late March.

THE SOVIET priority to reappraise detente stems primarily from President Nixon's inability to deliver on promises he made in Moscow almost two years ago: trade equality for the Russians and ample financial credits. At the height of power two years ago, Mr. Nixon could assure the Kremlin that he could persuade or compel Congress to deliver on those two pledges. His influence today while fighting impeachment has disappeared.

The fact that many European diplomats are totally convinced that a Nixon European trip any time in the near future would be an unmitigated disaster is just one more shocking indication of the low estate of the American presidency.

THE FIRST visible casualty in a post-detente era would probably be the next installment of the strategic arms limitation talks, called SALT II. With Mr. Nixon under attack for detente even from the once soft-line Democratic liberals, Soviet Military leaders are understood to be warning the Kremlin that any hard agreement on SALT II reached with Mr. Nixon in Moscow this spring might not last six months; a new President might take a far harder line.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I am an 8 year old, and I got a question. My mom and dad got a divorce, and I am with my mom. She and my dad used to fight before. I love them both. Did they fight because of me? I like your TV shows.

Your friend, Anne
If you could have seen me when I was trying to answer your letter Anne, you would have noticed a little tear starting in my eyes. What a simple and beautiful and innocent question you ask.

Please don't blame yourself for the problems your mom and dad have had. If the truth were known, probably the best thing that happened during their marriage was your arrival. They probably both love you dearly — as you love them — but some important differences have caused your parents to live apart.

This does not have to be a handicap — a big problem. I mean having divorced parents. There's love enough still around for you to grow up to be a happy person.

First, there's the love of your mother. Then there's that of your dad, whom I suppose you see occasionally. And of course, the love of friends. But above all, however, is the love of Jesus Christ, shown in His life and death, and still much at work today.

When the Apostle Paul wrote of this in Ephesians 3, he said it was, "So great that you will never see the end of it." Don't think of the past now; let Jesus lead you in faith to a bright future.

Humiliation In Moscow

John Cunniff

By WILLIAM L. RYAN (Substituting for John Cunniff)

The story just unfolded on Arab oil and the Middle East must create frustration and even humiliation in Moscow.

The United States has gained, not lost, influence among the Arabs even though it armed Israel before and during the October war and stood behind her even in the face of the oil difficulties.

Moscow broadcasts long have been telling the Arabs the only way they could get what they wanted was to punish the United States as the protector of their enemy.

"Premature lifting of the oil embargo will enable the United States to undermine efforts to settle the Middle East crisis at some stage," said a typical broadcast.

Now, despite Arab anger over U.S. positions on Israel and all the Soviet encouragement in recent months to them to keep the lid on oil supplies for the United States, the producer nations have voted to lift that embargo.

The men in the Kremlin must be asking why the Arabs didn't heed them. After all, didn't the Soviet Union arm Egypt and Syria? Didn't the Soviet Union build the Aswan High Dam for Egypt after the Americans refused to? Didn't the Soviet Union back the Arabs in all they ask? Didn't the Soviet Union all along espouse Arab aspirations?

Moscow indeed did all those things, and that is precisely why the Arabs are suspicious. The Arabs are nationalistic and devoutly Islamic. They are fearful of what they have seen of Soviet sentiments in those spheres. If there is to be peace, the Arabs know the United States still holds the key. If there is to be economic development in the Arab world, the keys are in the West, not the East.

The Russians sound a lot less like a regime bent on detente than one hoping to keep the waters roiled in the most sensitive strategic area of the world. Yet people who should know credit Moscow with wanting to avoid a major explosion, even while trying for all it can get short of that.

Moscow seems to have some political problems in this respect. Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Communist chief, wants detente and all it promises. But that costs a lot in terms of surrendering opportunities to be more disruptive in the Middle East.

There have been signs lately that Soviet hawks question the long-range prospective benefits of detente. This seems to be echoed in recent Soviet press articles that for the first time in a long time are sharply critical of the Nixon Administration and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

The reason: the Russians don't want a settlement to take place that has the look of being all the result of U.S. diplomacy.

Biggest Problem

William F. Buckley Jr.

I have made a proposal, outside this column, which is beginning to gather attention; and so I launch it here believing, as I do profoundly, that it would go far in meeting a particular need, and in transforming the relationship, in America, between young and old.

MR. JAMES Michener says it bluntly, that in his opinion the problem of caring for the aged looms as the principal social problem of the balance of this century: greater than overpopulation, greater than ecological apathy, greater than the energy crisis. The figure is, I suppose, scientific impressionism, but it has been said that one-half of those who are now 65 years or older would be dead if medical science had been arrested even a generation ago. It is absolutely predictable that medical progress will continue, and with it the successes of gerontology.

ALREADY it is a subject one shrinks from dwelling upon — the years and years between the time when men and women are, if the word can be used in this context, ripe to die, and the day that increasing millions will die. Euthanasia, pending word to the contrary from the Supreme Court, is unthinkable. The cost of caring for the aged, most of whom need supervisory medical attention on a continuing basis, is staggering by this recent datum, namely, that the daily cost of a semi-private hospital room in New York City is now over $100. Good private homes for the aged are beyond the reach of any except the very very few. There are charitable and religious homes that will take in elderly people in return for their Social Security checks. But these — I think, for example, of the Mary Manning Walsh Home in New York City — are necessarily exclusive, with facilities cruelly unequal to the task at hand.

THE PHYSICAL facilities and professional services needed for the aged are extremely expensive, and there is no way to avoid the capital cost of them. Certainly there is no reason to discourage the private sector from addressing itself as vigorously as possible to the building of suitable homes. Professional medical aid will have to be furnished by doctors and highly trained nurses, the cost of whose services is high, and will probably get higher.

The only variable is the cost of unskilled labor. And the only human leaven is youth, whose functional companionship could gently affect the quality of the last years.

THE MARY Manning Walsh Home in New York employs full-time 40 doctors and 43 registered nurses. The cadre of its professional staff is 50. It employs, as cooks, waiters, janitors, nurses' assistants, elevator operators, laboratory workers, a total of 311. There are 347 beds in the home, so that the ratio of unskilled employees per patient is very nearly one for one. Or, taking the figures for the nation, in 1969 there were 850,000 Americans in nursing homes that employed 444,000 people, or one employee for 1.9 patients. (In 1963, there were 491,000 resident patients of nursing homes, so that in six years the figures almost doubled.)

THE REPUBLIC faces a crisis of a very particular and very poignant kind. We are aware of the reasons why less and less the aged die at home. The principal reason is the lengthening life span. Another is the need for certain kinds of care that cannot readily be provided at home. Another is the diminishing domestic utility of the great-grandmother or great-grandfather. Still another is the very high cost of urban living quarters where, now, 73 per cent of the American people live. All of these combine to create the institution of the nursing home. (More on this matter later.)

The Washington Star Syndicate, Inc.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain why after eating a meal, not too big a meal, the food comes up in my throat. It feels as though I have to swallow again and I think I can feel it just beyond my tonsils. I am 71 and in good health otherwise. — Mrs. J. S.

Three possibilities come to mind. One is spasm of the gullet (the esophagus). Another is a partial obstruction. Third is a pouch formation (diverticulum) of the esophagus.

I think you should have an X-ray of the upper digestive tract to make sure there is no obstructive lesion.

It is simply a matter of spasm, a mild sedative an hour before eating may help.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a new reader and don't know if you have discussed this problem. Can lifting cause a hiatal hernia? What is the treatment for it? — Mrs. G. L. R.

Anything which causes an increase in pressure within the abdomen (obesity, pregnancy, violent coughing, the strain of heavy lifting) can cause or aggravate hiatal hernia. Treatment depends on the severity of a case. I have written a number of booklets which permit me to go into details on various health problems, and "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It" is the one for you. Send 25 cents for a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you give me information on a painful heel? My son, 9, complains all the time and even cries, but there is no sign of an injury. — Mrs. E. T.

The usual cause for a painful heel is bursitis under the heel tendon — which wouldn't show from the outside. It generally occurs in older persons and is unusual in a boy of 9.

However, when a youngster complains continually, it's a fair assumption that something is wrong — possibly some congenital abnormality in the foot, which, again, wouldn't necessarily show from the outside. Only answer I can give is to take the boy to your doctor and in a my opinion an X-ray would be necessary.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I was surprised to read in one of your columns several weeks ago that alcohol could bleed sugar to drop. I had believed that the opposite was true. — Mrs. L. P.

Painful Heel

DEAR SIR:

It is in the interest of the children of Big Spring that I am writing to you all today.

We here so much of the energy crisis here in the U.S.A. and are asked to help as much as we can, by walking or to ride a bike.

It seems to me that most children have a bike to ride to school on, but a lot of them do not know how to ride, and do not know all the rules of the road.

In England, where I am from, the local police go to the schools to teach the children the right and the wrong things to do on a bike.

At the beginning and end of the school year we always hear on the radio "look out for the children on bikes or on foot going to and from school," surely as wide as the roads are here in town it wouldn't cost that much just to paint a bike-lane, as there are no side walks to keep them safe, whether on a bike or on foot.

Or is a parent's life not worth a little profit?
Yours Sincerely
MRS. VALERIE EDISON

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor:
Shame on our country when the President of the Litter Control of Texas Garden Clubs and our City Councilwoman are the ones to show up and voluntarily clean a vacant lot, belonging to an absentee owner, of weeds four and five feet tall that posed a very definite fire hazard, as well as being unsightly.

Mrs. Odell (Edna) Womack chopped weeds for two hours and Mrs. Floyd (Polly) Mays, chopped and loaded two pickups full and carted them off to the dump. Their volunteer helpers failed to show, so they got about half the lot cleaned.

Does anyone, and I mean ANYONE, have a suggestion — or an answer to the problem of getting absentee owners AND local owners to clean up their places and give us a clean, decent, non-hazardous city in which to live?

I understand we have some ordinances, but how to get them enforced?

Belly Dance

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Has the whole world gone crazy or is my viewer out of focus? I just read in a Minneapolis newspaper that as a part of the Community Educational Program, the public schools are sponsoring a program on — of all things — belly dancing!

As a taxpayer, I protest this shameful waste of money. Don't you think there are better places for our tax dollars than spending it to teach school girls how to do a vulgar, disgusting dance with their midsections exposed?

MRS. J. F. O. DEAR MRS. O.: Your viewer is out of focus, lady. Belly dancing is a respected art form in the Middle East. However, it's your right to protest. So write to the mayor and tell him you've had a bellyful.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who received a beautiful stereo for Christmas. I keep it in my bedroom, which seems to create a problem.

My father says when my boyfriend comes over we should take the stereo (which has four speakers and is on a cart) from my room way out to the den and drag it back when we are through.

I can't understand why we can't listen to the stereo in my bedroom if we keep the door open and all the lights on, a parent is home, and they can wander in and out whenever they feel like it.

Also, it seems ridiculous for them to be so uptight about our being in the bedroom because if we planned on doing anything it would be just as easy in the den.

How do you feel about this?

DEAR BUGGED: I think your parents are wrong. Furthermore, their accusatory attitude could give you ideas you never had.

CONFIDENTIAL TO O. B. IN ROME: I'm not investment counselor, but the advice from Herbert R. Mayes, publisher of a New and brilliant fortnightly newsletter for United States citizens abroad, is: "The old story about Swiss banks is still valid: If you see Swiss banker jumping from an office building, follow him out. Mohammed Subject Of Program

A new officer slate, elected Thursday by Texas Delta Delta Chapter, Phi Sigma Alpha, included Mrs. Clyde Cantrell, president; Mrs. Fay Newman, vice president; Mrs. W. E. Moren, secretary; Mrs. Callie Mason, treasurer; Mrs. Betty Johnson, extension officer; Mrs. Lula Westbrook, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Ernest Bauch, program moderator.

In other business, the meeting date was changed from the first Tuesday to the third Thursday, monthly. A program on Islam and Mohammed was given by Mrs. Westbrook and Mrs. Johnnie West. They said Islam is an Arabic word meaning "submission to, or being of, peace with God." Islam was founded by Mohammed who was born in Mecca and lived from 570 to 632 A.D. He is regarded by Islamists as being the last line of prophets that included Adam, Noah, Abraham, Moses and Jesus. His teachings are compiled in the Koran, "the word of God."

The main religious service is held at mid-day each Friday, usually in a Mosque, although prayer is required five times daily; the participants facing toward the East. The call to prayer is issued from the balcony of each Mosque. The faithful pray wherever they can arrange it, privately or in public; not having a prayer rug.

Mrs. Winham described her visit to a Mosque in Cairo, noting that the floor was covered with Persian rugs, there were no seats, and everyone stood during the entire service.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Virgil C. Churchwell, 2310 Marcy Drive, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Alyce, to Richard E. Brackee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis E. Brackee, Gail Rt., Big Spring. The couple will be married June 7 at Trinity Baptist Church.

Ecologists Want To Save 'Big Thicket'

The "wonders, mysteries and fascination" of the Big Thicket was told by Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall Friday when she was speaker for the Women's Forum. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. C. R. Wiley with Mrs. Helen Stewart as hostess.

Drawing on the research material of Dr. Claude McLeod of Sam Houston University and a camping trip in the area by Dr. and Mrs. Kuykendall, the speaker said, "The peace and quiet of the thicket is outstanding. Nature's noises, bird calls, streams, and wind through the trees make a peaceful atmosphere."

Dr. McLeod warns that the thicket, that once covered 3,000,000 acres and has now been reduced to 350,000, is in great danger of being lost to posterity. The thicket, privately owned by a lumber company, is being destroyed at the rate of 50 acres per day.

Wild flowers grow in the area the year around and there are 36 species of grasses, 37 types of vine, 36 different birds and 40 varieties of crawlers with only six rated as poisonous. In all, there are 441 species of living things. The soil is nearly perfect in the fossil sea bottom. There is distinct soil change, in the various sections, and they each hold water.

Researchers have found samples of foreign soil in the great patchwork of soil that any place in the United States.

There are 87 species of trees and shrubs that include the long leaf pine, the wax myrtle, the willow oak and dwarf palmetto. Of the 32 types of fern, five are not indigenous to Texas, and there are from 33 to 50 types of orchids.

The thicket is inhabited by the Alabama-Cushatta Indians whose reservation is in the area. They gather berries and other edibles from the thicket. The Indians are attractive to tourists who visit the thicket the year around as the climate is mild and conducive to walking trips through the land.

Mrs. Kuykendall spoke of the damage done by bulldozers going over the land to cut paths to trees that are marked for shredders that take out the deep roots of the undergrowth. Some ecologists are attempting to preserve specific areas in the great natural habitat in a move they call "A String of Pearls."

Mrs. Paul Klunka, president, appointed a nominating committee composed of Mrs. John Knox, Mrs. Lonnie Coker and Mrs. T. H. McCann, who will report at the April meeting in the home of Mrs. E. B. Compton with Mrs. Joe Pickle assisting the hostess.

Saving And Loan Executive Details Mortgage Procedure

"Mortgages are pledges of real estate as collateral security for the repayment of money," said Charles E. Beil, guest speaker for Big Spring Credit Women at a luncheon Thursday. Beil is executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

In discussing real estate mortgages, Beil began by saying they were first used by the Anglo-Saxons who pledged land for debts.

"Mortgages promote the economic, social and financial welfare of a community as well as being a dominant factor in city and rural community development," continued Beil.

He explained that there are two parties in a mortgage transaction: the mortgagor (who is the borrower and owner) and the mortgagee, who is the lender of the money. These loans are made by life insurance companies, commercial banks, savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks, pension funds, colleges and universities, as well as individuals.

Mortgage banking started in the 1920's as efforts of individuals or families, but it has evolved to specialists in mortgage business and the development of mortgage bankers.

Beil said the most popular terms for a home mortgage is 30 years with a provision that 1-12th of the annual taxes and insurance be paid into an escrow account. This is specified in the terms of the mortgage. Prepayment can be made but there is usually a penalty clause, depending on the type of lender and the money market at the time the loan is closed. When a new home is bought, the purchaser will select the most favorable terms, whether it is buying the old mortgage or refinancing.

Beil listed the three types of home mortgage loans as conventional, FHA and VA. Conventional loans are not secured by the government and usually require mortgage insurance unless there is a large down payment. With an FHA loan, the entire amount is insured if conditions are met, but there are limits as to what can be bought with this type loan. The VA or GI loans are guaranteed by the government up to 60 per cent or $12,500, whichever is the lesser amount.

There are certain guidelines that are followed when making loans. This includes the type of home, life expectancy of property, employment, credit and assets.

In conclusion, Beil said community growth is closely related to mortgage loans and that about 50 per cent of the loans made by First Federal Savings and Loan Association are for home purchases.

Mrs. George Brooks was introduced as a guest, and Mrs. C. W. Mahoney won the attendance prize.

Cook-Out Held For Couples

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Graumann, 1903 Nolan, hosted a hamburger cook-out Sunday for members of St. Paul Lutheran Couple's Club, with 33 attending.

Guests were Craig Fischer, Sgt. and Mrs. E. J. Johnroe, Mr. and Mrs. George Frimel, Miss Penny Vineyard, Miss Carletta Pardee and Mrs. Shirley McCloud.

The club made plans to sponsor an Easter egg hunt for children, to be held following worship services April 7. Mrs. Leroy Budke's seventh and eighth grade class will assist.

The next meeting will be held April 21 at the church, when members will paint all the folding chairs at the church. After the work, ice cream will be served.

Mrs. Graumann used the St. Patrick's Day theme in decorations, and the table was covered with a green cloth.

Luncheon Slated For 'Seniors' At March Center

The March luncheon and activity day sponsored by Howard County Council on Aging will be held Wednesday at the new Senior Citizens' Center located at Howard College.

Table games will begin at 10 a.m. and resume after the potluck luncheon at noon. Announcement will be made of activities scheduled for the center. Any senior citizen in the county is cordially invited to participate.

The center occupies a single-story brick building located on Adams Drive, one block east of Birdwell Lane and just east of the College Administration Building.

A boost to the center was the recent donation of a new range and refrigerator by D and C Trailer Sales. Special days are being planned by various groups.

Quotable Women

"Whenever a woman knows what she wants she's called tough. A man is called smart. There's that prejudice. The fun is to be involved. It's sort of anti-creativity to just show up for work and never become involved." Actress Marlo Thomas, preparing for a television special in her first effort as producer.

"I couldn't stand the dirt that's dished out. I really don't like feeling myself disliked. I hate infighting. I don't have a killer instinct." Shirley Williams, 44, who will head the newly created Ministry of Consumer Affairs in Britain's Labor government, explaining why she's not interested in becoming her country's prime minister.

Opening lead: King of ♣. I am constantly asked why it is that the Italians keep beating our best teams in world championship play. Basically, it seems to be that they play better than we do, or perhaps that we play worse than they do. A study of the "1973 World Bridge Championship," published by the A. C. B. L., 2200 Democrat Rd., Memphis, Tenn. 38131, $3 postpaid, suggests that the Italians showed better judgment in key situations, with the result that the final against the Aces that rated to be a close exciting match became a runaway victory for the Europeans.

Today's hand is from the qualifying rounds. The same hand was played simultaneously in two matches, and the bidding shown is from Italy's match against Indonesia. Sitting South, Giorgio Belladonna opened with a pre-emptive bid of three spades. Benito Garozzo, North, cue-bid four clubs and South cue-bid diamonds. When West could not resist showing his diamond strength, North made a forcing pass to allow South to clarify his holding. Belladonna's redouble announced that he held first-round control of diamonds. Five no trump was the Grand Slam Force, and South confirmed possession of two of the top three spade honors with his jump to seven spades.

There was nothing to the play. The jack of spades dropped and declarer romped home with an easy 13 tricks.

At the other three tables South also opened the bidding with three spades, yet no other pair got beyond game! In the match between the Aces and the North American team, both Norths simply raised to four spades.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Big Spring steer track coach Glenn Petty has an article in the March issue of Texas Coach Magazine, entitled "An Effective Spring Relay Team." In it, he offers a sort of different approach to the 440-yard event.

"Most coaches have a very good idea what kind of relay exchange they prefer and why they use it. Our exchange at Big Spring is nothing new or unusual, yet it is as sound as any and better than some I have seen," Petty writes.

"The basic idea of the exchange is that the baton is not 'passed.' Instead it is 'taken.' Using this technique, you can eliminate the time-consuming problem of the outgoing runner having to run at full speed and yet hold the arm and hand extended back waiting for the baton to be 'passed' to him.

"With our type of exchange you can also eliminate the ever-present fear of having 'passed' the baton to the outgoing runner but him not taking it. Using our technique, it can't be exchanged until it is actually taken. Each runner is told it is his responsibility to carry the baton to his teammate and 'offer' it to him for the exchange.

"The arm will be extended toward a point where the outgoing runner's gun holster would be if he were wearing one. We use the term 'putting it in the holster' . . . The outgoing runner will maintain his normal running rhythm while dropping his receiving hand down and by the hip and sweep the rear-extended arm upward, palm up and open, and 'take' the baton as the hand becomes waist high, directly behind his 'holster' . . .

I never really noticed that myself but now that I think about it, I don't recall the Steers dropping any batons lately. That might be something interesting to watch if you catch the Steers in action this season.

Also in the March issue of Texas Coach, there's an article by Kermit basketball coach J. E. Todd, who started his coaching career as seventh grade boss at Goliad and was unbeatn there. Todd's title is "Guidelines For A Successful Public Relations Program" . . .

Big Spring's Dave Duncan is one of the 51 football lettermen named this week at Texas Christian University. Duncan, a split receiver, heads into spring drills Thursday with his final season ahead of him . . .

Workouts are underway already at Sul Ross, with one Coahoma grider in the picture and another out of it. Dean Richters, a cornerback, is one of eight starters back from last season but his brother, Don, is missing work because of a knee operation during the off season. . .

And although things are really just now winding down to a slow halt at Big Spring, basketball drills will start again pretty soon, probably next week. They'll go for about a month, according to coach Harold Wilder. . .

Hill To Tangle With Sterling

HUTCHINSON, Kan. — Hill County, Tex., conqueror of Howard College in the recent Region V Basketball Tournament at Brownwood, will open play in the 16-team National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament today against Sterling, Colo.

The tournament extends through Saturday night. Before the final buzzer, 26 games will have been played. The tournament opened at noon today.

The first game of the tournament pits the Kansas champion, Dodge City, against a last-minute substitute, Northeastern Oklahoma A&M. Runner-up in the Region II championship

5-4A Launches Baseball Play

Dist. 5-AAAA baseball opens today, with Midland High beginning defense of its loop and state crowns and Midland Lee hoping to live up to its pre-season expectations.

Midland is at home against Odessa Permian while Lee visits Odessa High and Big Spring treks to Abilene to try the AHS Eagles. In the other opener today, San Angelo entertains Abilene Cooper.

Lee carries the best record into today's action, a 10-1 mark, while Permian is 6-1.

Big Spring is 2-10 going into the lidlifter. John Thomas Smith will be on the mound for the locals today.

Goliad Records First Victory

Goliad's A team won its first decision in ten starts here Monday evening by defeating Reagan County, 15-10, 13-15, 15-10.

Laura Allen, with 19 successful serves, was Goliad's outstanding performer.

In B team action, Reagan prevailed, 15-5, 15-9. Shanna Farmer was impressive for Goliad in that outing.

A good team effort swung the issue the Mavericks' way in the featured attraction.

Goliad returns to play in Snyder Thursday against Lamar High.

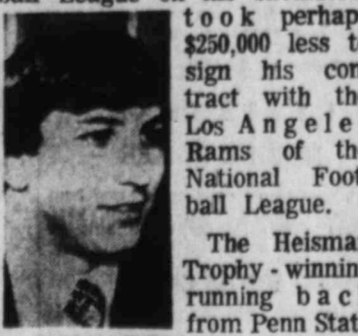

Cappelletti Signs Contract With LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John Cappelletti, who said he didn't want to carry the World Football League on his shoulders, took perhaps $250,000 less to sign his contract with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

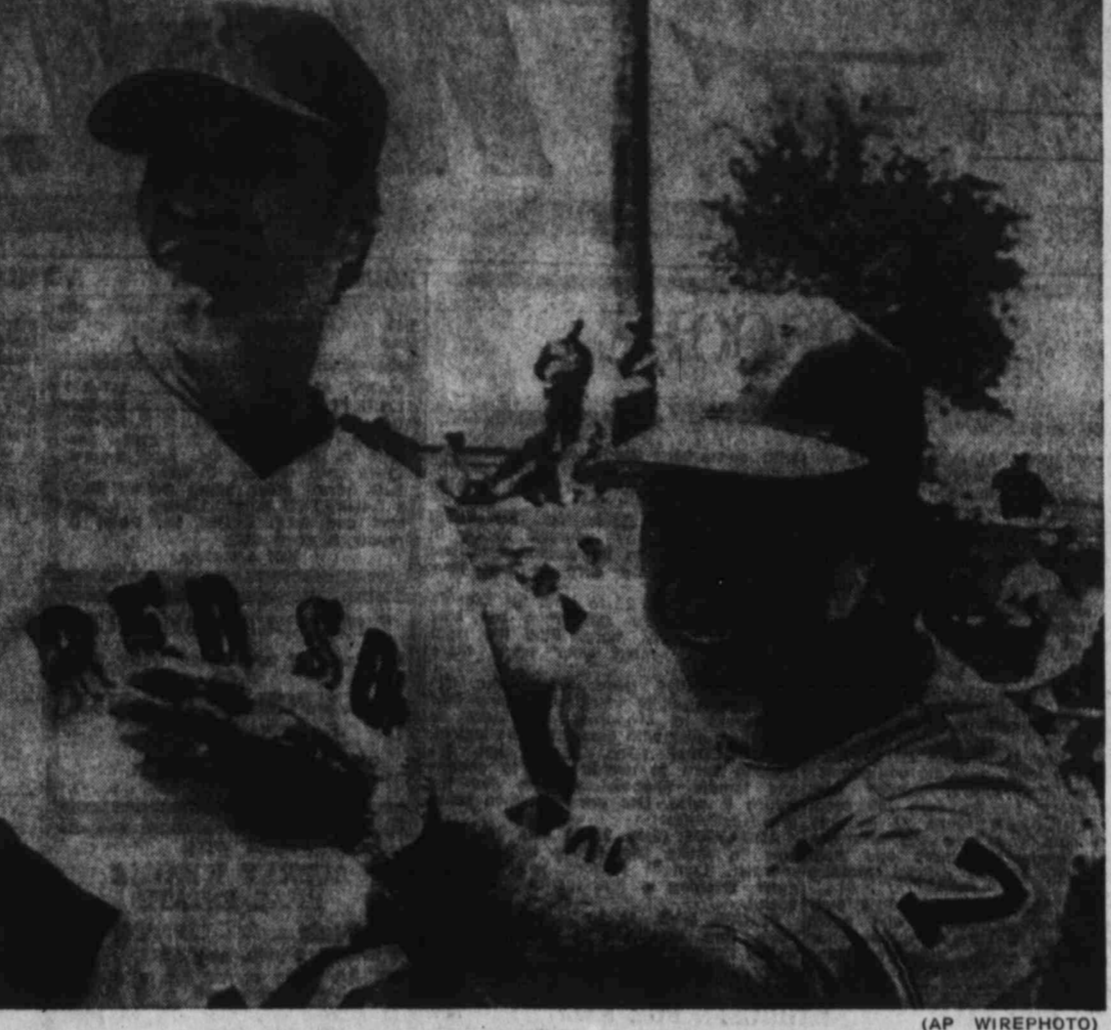

The Heisman Trophy-winning running back from Penn State told a news conference Monday in Ramowner Carroll Rosenbloom's office that the family personality of the Ram organization was a key factor in his decision.

No figures were released but the four-year contract may be worth $250,000, including a bonus. There was no clause that guarantees him a spot on the roster.

A no-cut, no-trade "you're the franchise" three-year contract worth more than $500,000 was offered by Philadelphia of the NFL, said Jerry Kapstein,

MANAGERS LOOK THEM OVER — Chuck Tanner, left, Chicago White Sox manager, points out some of his players to Darrell Johnson, new manager of the Boston Red Sox, as the two American League managers met before an exhibition game in Winter Haven Monday. Harm Killebrew Lost To Twins For While

By The Associated Press

The Texas Rangers and Minnesota Twins suffered exhibition baseball defeats Monday, but the Rangers had a distinct musical touch while the Twins again were left singing the blues.

The Rangers used country and western singing star Charley Pride, a one-time minor leaguer, as their designated hitter in a 14-2 loss to the Baltimore Orioles.

The setback wasn't Pride's fault. He grounded out and singled off Jim Palmer, the American League's 1973 Cy Young Award winner.

Boog Powell and Din Baylor each delivered three hits and Mark Belanger's bases-loaded double highlighted a four-run Baltimore uprising in the second inning. Teen-ager David Clyde was tagged with the loss, surrendering four runs and seven hits in four innings.

The Twins suffered two losses. They bowled for the 11th time in 12 exhibition outings when the Los Angeles Dodgers smashed 18 hits in a 13-5 rout.

And they also list slugger Harmon Killebrew for a while. The first baseman left the game with a partial shoulder dislocation after diving for a ball and landing on his right shoulder. Killebrew will have his arm in a sling for 10 days, to two weeks and probably will miss the regular season opener April 5 in Kansas City.

Elsewhere on the casualty list, Manager Darrell Johnson of the Boston Red Sox reported that catcher Carlton Fisk will be hospitalized another few days because of a groin injury. Fisk was hit by a foul tip off the bat of Joe Torre in Sunday's game against the St. Louis Cardinals.

However, the Red Sox didn't seem to miss their All-Star catcher. They beat the Chicago White Sox 8-4 for their 10th victory in 12 games as rookie Jim Rice belted a three-run homer and Rico Petrocelli contributed three hits.

Run-scoring singles by rookies Chris Ward and Jim Tyrone helped the Chicago

Cubs to a 4-2 victory over San Diego.

Al Oliver hit a game-tying three-run homer in the sixth inning and the Pittsburgh Pirates scored single runs in the seventh and eighth to defeat the Montreal Expos 5-3 at San Juan, P.R.

Pat Bourque drove in three runs with two doubles and a single off Gaylord Perry and Reggie Jackson hammered a two-run homer off Ken Sanders, leading the Oakland A's to a 6-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

A pair of 1-0 games saw the New York Mets edge the New York Yankees and the Kansas City Royals nip the St. Louis Cardinals. Jon Matlack, Bob Apodaca and Steve Simpson of the Mets limited the Yankees to three hits while the Royals' Steve Busby, Steve Mingori and Gene Garber combined for a nine-hitter against St. Louis.

Right-hander Jesus Hernandez and lefty Mike Wallace of the Philadelphia Phillies combined to blank the Cincinnati Reds 4-0 on four hits while Jim Northrup rapped a two-run homer off Atlanta's Roric Harrison in the first inning to start the Detroit Tigers to a 10-3 rout of the Braves. Atlanta's Darrell Evans hit his third homer of the spring.

Olson Hired By Hawkeyes

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Lute Olson, frustrated by NCAA probation at Long Beach State, has been handed the task of bringing Iowa a Big Ten Conference basketball contender.

"It's a coach's dream to coach in the Big Ten, and this is a challenge I'm looking forward," said Olson from his Long Beach home. "I ready to start the job tomorrow."

Olson, 39, replaces Dick Schultz, who stepped down March 7, saying the program needed a "fresh approach."

Iowa finished 8-16 the past season, and the 16 losses set a record.

The announcement was a shock — at both schools.

Olson had not even been mentioned as a possible successor to Schultz, who had a popular year mark of 41-55.

Iowa Athletic Director Chalmers "Bump" Elliott confirmed that the appointment was for four years, at a salary "around $28,000." Schultz, who had only yearly contracts, was paid $21,500.

Olson guided Long Beach State to its fifth straight Pacific Coast Athletic Association title and a 23-2 over-all mark this season. The 49ers are ranked ninth in the latest Associated Press poll.

"This was the worst season of my life," said Olson, who took the job from Jerry Tarkanian, who moved to Nevada-Las Vegas. "There was just too much uncertainty surrounding the program."

The NCAA banned the school from postseason play and television because of recruiting infractions charged to Tarkanian and Jim Strangeland, who quit as football coach last season.

The ban was for a minimum of three years.

Besides the probation problem, Olson was under further restriction because the NCAA has told the school to declare two of its stars ineligible for allegedly having others take entrance exams in their place.

Before coming to Long Beach State, Olson coached four years at Long Beach City College, a junior college, and fashioned a 104-20 record.

No successor has been named at Long Beach State.

"I am very sad and disappointed," said Long Beach Athletic Director Lew Comer about the announcement made Monday night. "He made tremendous contributions here but I can understand his reason for wanting to go to the Big Ten."

"The money was substantially less," Kapstein said. "We're not creating any new horizons."

Warriors Move Up To Third In Poll

By The Associated Press

Marquette's Warriors, ranked eighth last week, moved up to third with a 72-70 victory over Michigan in the NCAA Midwest Regionals while North Carolina State and UCLA continued to hold the top two spots in The Associated Press' weekly college basketball poll released today.

The victory helped bring the Warriors 439 points in voting by a national panel of sports writers and broadcasters while lifting Marquette's record to 25-4.

developments two basketball coaches had their contracts extended while two others didn't.

Veteran Maryland Coach Lefty Driesell will be with the Terps next year, Athletic Director Jim Kehoe said Monday. Ray Mears — whose record at Tennessee is 217-92 in 12 years — had his contract extended through the 1978-79 season.

Coach Jack McKinney was fired from his position at St. Joseph's, Pa., and Lute Olson, after "the worst season of my life," quit as coach of Long Beach State to take a four-year contract with Iowa.

In St. Louis, Indiana Coach Bobby Knight was ejected from the game on three technical fouls early in the first half, but the Hoosiers came from behind on Steve Green's 24 points to crush Southern California 85-60 in the championship game of the first annual Collegiate Commissioners Association tournament.

At Madison Square Garden in New York, the NIT moved into quarter-final play tonight with Hawaii meeting No. 18, Purdue and Maryland-Eastern Shore facing Jacksonville.

Local Quints On Sidelines

NEW YORK (AP) — With all the local teams having been eliminated, the National Invitation Tournament finally goes national tonight with the start of the quarter-final round.

In the opener of tonight's doubleheader, Maryland-Eastern Shore faces Jacksonville while Hawaii faces Purdue in the nightcap.

The other quarter-finals on Thursday night send Memphis State against Utah and Connecticut against Boston College.

The semifinals will be held Saturday afternoon with the championship and consolation games on Sunday.

Maryland-Eastern Shore, a predominantly black branch of the University of Maryland, is the Cinderella team in the field. The Hawks put a 27-1 record on the line against Jacksonville.

"We're as good as any of these teams," Coach John Bates said after his own team beat Manhattan last Saturday. "We can knock any one of them off."

"No one gets very excited. Sometimes this team scares me, it stays so calm. Last year, we panicked sometimes at the end of close games. This season we don't."

The Purdue-Hawaii game will be a rematch of the finals of the Rainbow Classic, which Hawaii won 76-67. Hawaii's Tom Henderson scored 21 points and hauled out nine assists in that game and hit for 20 points in Hawaii's 65-65 first-round NIT triumph over Fairleigh.

However, Purdue won its NIT opener from North Carolina, the pretourney favorite, 82-71.

KEEPS LEAD

The Wolfpack, 28-1, received 60 first-place votes and 616 points to maintain a 16-point lead over the Bruins, who raised their record to 25-3 by stopping Dayton's Flyers in triple overtime, then crushing San Francisco.

The Bruins — aiming at an unprecedented eighth consecutive NCAA title — crept closer to the top-ranked Wolfpack by gaining 12 first-place votes and 600 points in the voting.

Maryland, its season ended at 23-5, held fourth place with 412 points, while Notre Dame slipped from third to fifth place with a 26-3 record.

The Kansas Jayhawks, 23-5, who join the top two teams and Marquette in the NCAA semifinals Saturday, jumped from 14th place to sixth with triumph over Creighton and Oral Roberts and Michigan, which beat Indiana and Notre Dame, rose from 12th to seventh behind a 22-5 record.

Providence, 28-4, victims of the Wolfpack in the Eastern Regional semifinal, slumped from No. 5 to No. 8; Long Beach State held ninth with 232, and North Carolina, 22-6 — seventh last week, dropped to 10th after a first-round loss to Purdue in the National Invitation Tournament.

FACTS RENEWED

Indiana, 21-5, and Vanderbilt, 23-5, are tied for 11th, followed by Alabama, Southern Cal, Pittsburgh, Dayton and South Carolina. Oral Roberts and Purdue share No. 18, while New Mexico rounds out the Top Twenty.

Indianans Topple Troy, Despite Loss Of Coach

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Indiana's fiery Coach Bobby Knight, a veteran of postseason basketball tournaments, has finally manufactured a way to win.
 The 34-year-old Knight, a sharp critic of the Collegiate Commissioners Association tournament, sat in the stands 3 1/2 minutes Monday night and watched his Hoosiers maul Southern Cal 85-60 for the title.
 "That really wasn't my intention," said Knight, whose early exit on technical fouls appeared to inspire his lethargic team.
 "I wasn't trying to arouse anybody," he added, "but we had here a consolation tournament so we got stuck also with consolation officials."
 The target of Knight's blasts in the aftermath of a test for major conference runners-up was referee John Overby, with whom he quarreled unsuccessfully.
 Knight bounded to his feet when he whistled accompanied an apparent palming of the ball by USC's towering Mike Westra.
 Overby waited until Gus Williams banked in a shot to establish a 25-20 Trojan lead, then assessed Knight a technical foul.
 A second technical foul when Knight's protest automatically signaled the Hoosier coach's disqualification.
 Marv Safford sank the three free shots to establish a 28-20 USC bulge, but from there on it was all Indiana.
 With 6-foot-10 freshman Kent Green in the lead, the Hoosiers quickly surged on top 29-28 and eased in front 40-37 at halftime.
 Reserve Bob Wilkerson joined in the act as Indiana scored the first eight points of the final period and USC was never again closer than nine points.
 After the smoke from the off-court fire cleared, Indiana used Green's 24 points, Benson's 17 and John Laskowski's 15 to lambast its opponent.

Menard Pastor Episcopal Lenten Series Speaker

St. Mary's Episcopal Church continues its Lenten speaker series Wednesday with a visit from the Rev. Russell Schultz, Roman Catholic priest from Menard.

Fr. Schultz is a native of Chicago and attended St. Mary's College in Covington, Ky., for his undergraduate work. He was ordained in 1966 after attending Kenrick Theological School and St. Louis University. Assigned as curate at Sacred Heart Cathedral, San Angelo, Fr. Schultz directed the Newman Apostolate, a campus organization for Roman Catholic students at Angelo State University for two years.

Following this work, he continued his theological study at Fordham University, New York City, and earned a masters degree in Theology, specializing in religious education. Fr. Schultz then was assigned to Sacred Heart Church, Abilene, later to the Sacred Heart Church in Menard.

Worship service begins at 7 p.m., followed by dessert and coffee, and the lenten address. The public is invited, emphasized the rector, the Rev. Harlan Birdwell.

Briscoe Will Not Take A Stand On 'Right To Work'

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Dolph Briscoe said he will not take a stand on the controversial "right to work" issue while it is being debated in the Constitutional Convention in Austin.

The governor said at a news conference here Monday that he will not inject the office of the governor "into every item being considered by the Constitutional Convention."

Briscoe, who said he has supported "right to work" in the past, also announced that he has requested information from school districts of the state for possible future reforms of the school financing system.

In a speech before a joint service club luncheon Briscoe also said that Texas must "avoid returning to our old wasteful ways" even after the lifting of the Arab oil embargo.

"The energy shortage is going to be with us for a long, long time to come and we must readjust our life styles to cope with the situation," he said.

Cattlemen Advised To Get Into Politics For Self-Protection

DALLAS (AP) — Interior Secretary Rogers Morton, looking for administration support from dissatisfied beef producers, Monday urged Southwest cattlemen to move into the political world quickly to protect "your own selfish interests—livestock interests."

"Don't isolate yourself. Don't think political forces gathering in the great cities are not going to affect you... get ahead of the power curve," Morton warned at the annual meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

LAND USE BILL
Morton's appearance before the influential livestock owners was apparently intended to soothe discontent caused by federal beef price controls, predator killing restrictions and land management efforts in Congress.

Morton's advice was that the beefmen should act quickly on their own behalf or be swallowed by "immense political forces" in the big cities and in Washington.

"The time has come for agriculture to take an offensive instead of a defensive role... in politics in America," he said.

Morton hesitantly brought up the federal land management program, saying the concept had a "bad connotation." A Congressional land use bill died in committee this year.

NO DESIRE
But Morton drew applause when he said land management should be a state, not a federal, responsibility.

"I have no desire whatever to put the federal government into the zoning business," he reiterated at a subsequent news conference.

He cautioned the cattlemen, however, that if they do not pressure state governments to act, it will "force the federal government to get into business it's got no business going into."

Morton said he will help ranchers in their bid to expand the use of coyote killing devices. Morton said he favors mechanical control methods, such as helicopter shoots, but said he would use the emergency powers of his office to permit poisoning if necessary.

Ranchers in the Southwest are bitter at the government for outlawing the use of cyanide and some other poisons under prodding from environmental groups.

FUEL PINCH
Morton said the federal government will continue to give priority to agriculture during the fuel pinch. He said this would include fuel for "backup systems" such as fertilizer and mechanical equipment.

Morton only referred to Waeltergate in passing, but drew heavy applause when, after noting President Nixon's problems, said, "For my money I've got the greatest boss in the free world and I'm kind of glad of it."

Charges Dropped Concerning Horse

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A judge found that the law didn't intend for a horse to have headlights and taillights.

He dismissed charges against a Marine corporal whose horse, allegedly, was improperly equipped.

To save gasoline, the Marine had ridden his horse to work at a Camp Lejeune training facility. He was given a ticket by a civilian policeman for not having lights on the steed in the early-morning darkness.

At the trial here the Marine's attorney produced a cartoon of a horse with headlights, bumpers, windshield wiper, and radial steel hooves.

The case was dismissed.
