Murder Plot Charges Filed

WACO, Tex. (AP) - Three men, including the operator of a Texas theater chain, have been charged in an alleged plot to murder the chain Leroy Mitchell of Ennis, operator of the chain, was arrested Wednesday when he reported to the McLellan County sheriff. Two other men, James C. Mitchell, Mitchell's brother; and Lucious Mann, an employe of the theater chain, were arrested Tuesday night in

All were charged with conspiracy to murder and were freed on $10,000 bond each by Justice of the Peace Clarence Weikel.

The complaint filed by McLellan County Dist. Atty. Martin Eichelberger says the men, along with a fourth unnamed person, conspired to kill Linda Mitchell of DeSoto, wife of Leroy Mitchell. The complaint says the fourth person was to have been furnished a gun, money and a car.

The complaint lists March 19 as the date of the alleged plot, but does not list a date for the alleged murder attempt.

Beating Death Sentence

HOUSTON (AP) — An unemployed construction worker was sentenced to life in prison today in the beating death of a 4-year-old girl.

Clayton L. Mahaffey, 35, was convicted of murder Wednesday by the same jury in the death of Shelley Denise Evans, killed June 28.

Testimony in the trial said the beating came after the little girl asked Mahaffey for food and when she refused to call Mahaffey "Daddy" or tell him "I love you."

Returns To School With His Long Hair

HOUSTON (AP)-Billy Epperson, 5, returned to school with his long hair today after U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals issued a temporary restraining order against the Pasadena School

The district suspended Billy Feb. 22 when school officials ruled his over-the-ears hair style did not conform to its grooming code.

Judge Seals, who recalled that he wore his hair in a similar style as a child, said the school's grooming code was unreasonable as it applies to the Epperson case.

Temperatures Skid As Spring Shows Up

The cold front which came with spring last night left 0.23 of rain, the U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station reports.

Light sleet was seen about 11:30 p.m. Temperature fell from a high of 64 degrees to 28. Total precipitation to date was 1.99 inches, compared to a 1.79 normal on March 20, D. W. a more representative group for (Bill) Fryrear, location leader, said.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House has passed legislation raising the minimum wage from $1.60 an hour to $2 this year for most workers covered and to $2.30 for all by 1978.

The bill, approved Wednesday 375 to 37, also would increase by 7 million to 56.5 million the number of workers covered by the minimum wage

The bill is a modified version of one President Nixon vetoed last year. However, he is expected to sign this one if it is finally approved after adjustment with a similar Senatepassed measure, although it does not meet all of his earlier

For most workers covered by the minimum wage, the minimum would increase to $2 this year and then in two steps to $2.30 in 1976.

Other nonagricultural workers brought under coverage in recent years would have a $1.90 minimum this year, reaching $2.30 in 1977, while covered agricultural workers would have a $1.60 minimum in 1974 and reach $2.30 in 1978.

Charged In Attempt To Murder Princess

26-year-old unemployed Englishman, was brought into court today and charged with attempted murder during an attempt to kidnap Princess Anne from her car in the heart of London Wednesday night. LEGAL AID

Ball, lean-faced and bearded, stood stiffly in the dock at the Bow Street Magistrate's court, handcuffed to two detectives. He spoke only once during his 60-second appearance, saying in a London accent: "I want to apply for legal aid."

The court ordered him held for another hearing on March 28 on the charge of attempting to murder Princess Anne's personal bodyguard, Inspector James Beaton.

Beaton was one of four persons wounded as the would-be kidnaper fired repeatedly at the royal limousine. The others were Anne's chauffeur and a policeman and a passing journalist who tried to intervene. Beaton and the policeman were reported in serious condition.

ESCAPES BULLETS

The 23-year-old princess and her husband of five months, Capt. Mark Phillips, were not hurt. But police experts said the holes left by one of the bullets fired into the car indicated it passed between them, missing them by inches.

A police informant said it was believed 11 shots were fired by the assailant. Experts were studying two revolvers found at the scene. They said five shots had been fired from one and six from the other. Authorities said earlier only six shots were fired.

Police also found in the white Ford that Ball rented for the evening a typewritten ransom demand addressed to Queen Elizabeth II, Anne's mother, along with three pairs of handcuffs, a driver's license and envelopes addressed to two com-

The gunman was overpowered by police from Buckingham Palace, 150 yards away from the royal limousine.

Witnesses said the gunman ran into St. James Park, then turned and leveled a pistol at the police. One officer, Peter Edwards, 21, brought him down with a flying tackle, and the other officers rushed in to help

The attack was the first against any member of the British royal family since 1936 when a man threw a loaded revolver in front of King Edward VIII. The royal family occasionally has received death threats but is not normally surrounded by heavy security arrangements.

British Air Commodore, Aides Stop At Webb AFB

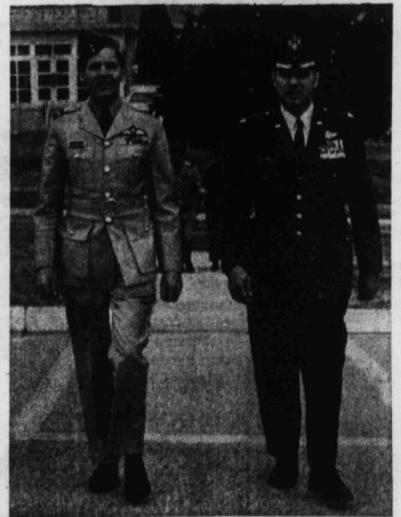

Webb Air Force Base hosted Col. Robert G. Liotta, who has bree officials from United been involved with training three officials from United Kingdom's Royal Air Force Wednesday and again today.

Air Commodore John DeM. Severne, Squadron leader Brian Russel, and Wing Commander R. R. Bond were at Webb to learn more about how Americans train foreign pilots. Commodore Severne is the commandant of Central Flying School, Royal Air Force's equivalent to Air Training Com-

During their stay in Big Spring, the visitors talked with foreign students for several years. They also visited various units on base to gain a deeper insight of USAF training

The British visitors also gave several briefings to Webb personnel to explain history and teaching methods used by Central Flying School.

The team visited Randolph AFB, San Antonio, earlier this week and are scheduled to go to Columbus AFB, Miss., prior to their return to the United Kingdom.

Cost Of Living Soars Up, Up, Up And Away

pace of inflation quickened in February with food and fuel prices pushing the cost of living up 1.3 per cent, the second biggest monthly jump since 1951, the government said today.

The Labor Department said last month's rise sent consumer prices 10 per cent higher than a year ago and marked the first time since 1948 that the United States experienced double figure inflation.

It was the highest 12-month increase in the cost of living since consumer prices rose by 10.2 per cent in the 12 months

FOOD PAINS

Nearly half the February increase was attributed to higher food prices with the price of beef raising 7.5 per cent, the sharpest jump since a 9.6 per cent increase in June 1947. Gasoline and other energy items were responsible for about a fifth of last month's in-

The Consumer Price Index climbed last month to 141.5 of its 1967 average, meaning that it cost consumers $141.50 to buy the same amount of retail goods and services that $100

While consumer prices continued their sharp rise, real spendable earnings of workers dropped another six-tenths of one per cent in February and were down 4.5 per cent from a year ago. This was the largest decline over a year since the government began keeping that statistic in 1964.

The February price report showed inflation holding a firm grip across the economy. Food prices rose 2.5 per cent; nonfood commodities, 1 per cent, and services seven-tenths of 1

Brought To You By Ted Hatfield A DECORATOR THOUGHT: CHANGING DECOR WITH CHANGE OF SEASON

Your home does not have to look the same every day. Why not use different decor at different times of the year? There's no surer way to brighten your home — and your life.

For example, in winter-time, you could add warmth to your rooms by adding some new things in those warm colors of yellows, reds, and oranges. And in summertime, if you want to make your home seem cooler, how about using some things in cooling blues and You'll find ideas like this can work wonders and bring new excitement.

Many people decorate their homes specially for Christ-mas — but why stop there? Why not think of ways you can celebrate springtime or summer or autumn or even other holidays.

If it's possible, you might consider using some lighter furnishings in the summer and a few heavier ones in winter. And, another way that you can decorate your home specially for seasons or holidays, or just for a change of pace anytime, is with different accessories. Get some new ones from time to time and you'll help add variety and sparkle to

Swimming Scheduled At YMCA

Two new classes will start Monday at the YMCA, with both continuing through April 5.

Mrs. Robin Dye is the instructor for a women's swimming class from 2 to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. This is a course for beginners and intermediate swimmers, free to members, but non-members will be charged a $10 fee.

Swimming instruction for pre-schoolers (3 to 5 years of age) will be held Monday through Friday from 3 to 3:30 p.m., taught through the Tadpole Swimming Program. There will be several instructors. The YMCA expects to open the new teaching pool, an allshallow water facility, Monday, and the pre-schoolers will be taught in that pool. Children of members may receive the instruction for a fee of $1 each. For nonmembers, there is a charge of $10.

Additional information about both courses may be obtained by calling the YM-CA, 267-8234.

Republican Club Hosting Event

The West Texas Republican Women's Club will host a bridge luncheon March 28 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the K-C Steak House, Interstate 20 West. Attendance prizes will be awarded.

Women Encouraged To Learn New Skills

potential; learn something new this spring," urged Mrs. Jean Clements when she spoke Monday evening to the American Association of University Women. Mrs. Clements is a wife and mother, whose husband is stationed at Webb Air Force Base, and her topic was "Dynamic Learning".

"To learn means to acquire knowledge of, or skill in, by study and practice; become aware of," continued Mrs. Clements. "Dynamic is characterized by energy or forcefullness, and knowledge is practical ability; deep and extensive learning. Therefore, dynamic learning is the gaining of knowledge through the energetic pursuit of any project that will develop a person's full potential.

"These pursuits might include things such as pain-

A LOVELIER YOU

Complete Overhaul Will Give Courage

By MARY SUE MILLER A mature Lovely writes: My children have grown and are gone from home, so I have time for charity and community affairs. But before I can brave the new world with confidence, I need a complete overhaul. My gray hair, makeup and clothes are in a drab, middle-age muddle. Your help please.

The answer: Start at the toip - with your hair. Unless you wish to tint, a step not always advisable for gray heads of years' standing, do the utmost to give your locks a silver patina. Polish them to the highest luster, and wear a style that is ageless. Then your hair will become a handsome focal point for updated cosmetics and clothes. Gray hair is enhanced, and enhances you, when it is arranged in smooth waves and a few soft curls. Neither bunchy, frizzy styles, nor straight hangdog do's become gray-tops.

For luster, frequent shampoos are required. Use a crystal clear shampoo to cleanse and follow up with a cream rinse for manageability. When strands become yellow and streaky, blend them with a temporary color rinse — one designed for the purpose. If you are a home-wave fan, choose a kit with lotion for silver curls. Now to set off your beautiful head: We ar luscious pastels, in pale or deep tones - nothing wishywashy - and rick darks like royal blue. Keep your jewelry elegant - one distinguished piece is worth three dinkies. Accessories such as shoes and gloves should be of fine quality and classic design. As for makeup, perfect your skintones with foundation that near-matches your skin, and a translucent powder. Stay with medium lip shades. Operation gray hair is no small part of your total personality.

woodcraft, doll-making or any project that a person thinks worthwhile."

Mrs. Clements is interested in seeing classes organized that will help women develop their full potential.

"We can exchange knowledge with one another and learn many hobbies and useful things," she said. "It is well worth the time you put into it, if you get a sense of well-being by gaining this knowledge, no matter how unimportant it may seem to someone else.'

Mrs. Clements read the results of a survey detailing some of the courses offered in Big Spring. At Webb AFB, numerous academic courses are offered through Sul Ross University and the University of North Colorado.

Courses "for the pleasure of knowing" are offered at Howard College, the YMCA, local hobby and arts supply centers and through the Officers Wives Club. Mrs. Clements suggested that women watch the newspapers for stories concerning courses, or telephone the sponsoring organization for further in-

Girl Scout Leaders To Learn Canoeing, Safety

All Girl Scout Leaders are being offered a special weekend course on the use of Canoes and water safety from the West Texas Girl Scout Council. The course will include the proper use of canoes, paddling instructions, water safety and how the troops can enjoy the use of their canoes. The canoes are available from the Council and paid for from the Girl Scout Cookie Sales. Troops are encouraged to use the canoes and reservations can be made through their Service Unit chairman or from the Council office.

Here is an excellent opportunity for leaders to enjoy the sport of canoeing and later show the troops what its all about. For further information and registration forms, contact the Service Unit chairman of your area or call the Girl Scout office at 263-1364. The workshop will start at Camp Boothe Oaks in Sweetwater and later move over to Colorado City Lake for a weekend of fun March

Radio, TV Must Hire Women

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) -Broadcast stations around the country will have to hire more women and minority group members or face action from the Federal Communications Commission, an FCC member says.

Ben L. Hooks, a former Memphis judge and the only black on the FCC, issued the warning before a regional meeting of the American Women in Radio and Television.

"I'm hoping it'll not take court action or denial of licenses," he said. Appointed to the FCC last year by President Nixon, Hooks was named by his fellow commissioners to enforce equal employment opportunities in the industry. He said a survey shows slightly more than 40,000 persons employed in broadcasting, with about 9,000 of them women. But he said 75 per cent of the women are in "dead-end clerical

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

You have to wonder a bit at the plight of Stanton basketball coach - or ex-coach, I guess it is - Jim Jensen. It's not every day that a coach can win a district title and still get canned, particularly in Stanton, where district championships in anything have been something of a premium the past several years.

Jensen was fired a little over a week ago by the Stanton school board, and the reason is something of a mystery, even to Jensen. "I don't know why they did it," said Jensen. who requested a public hearing and will probably get it next Monday. "I heard someone say it was because we didn't win enough games - that's a pretty good reason,

Under Jensen, the Buffaloes were 20-7 in 1972-73 and 24-7 the past season. The team came back from three setbacks at the hands of Reagan County and beat the Owls decisively in a one-game playoff for the Dist. 7-AA crown, Stanton's first in 10 years.

Jensen was flabbergasted at the news of his release, to say the least. He could only speculate that politics might be involved in the board's decision — that he didn't always play the "right person's" son. If that's the case, it's certainly not the first time that's happened . . .

The Big Spring Steer track team probably lost some important points in the Dist. 5-AAAA meet Tuesday when Sam Dodson, one of the premier performers on the squad this year, sprained his ankle and will probably be out the rest of this year.

Dodson, who has cleared 14-0 several times this year and was flirting with 14-6, had just taken the track and was warming up. He took a few steps and hopped over eight feet, and when he hit the pit he landed in a low spot. "I got there about a minute after it happened and the thing was swollen up the size of a football," said Steer coach Glenn Petty.

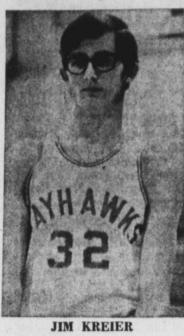

It was bound to happen. Dodson, the only Steer to go to regional last year, has been dogged the past three weeks by one ailment after another - a bronchial infection, a cracked rib, a severly-bruised leg, a sprained shoulder - and last week he could only go 12-6 at Brownwood. His doctor said it's doubtful he'll be ready by April 5, the day of the league meet . . .

Petty did have a few other things to be happy about, however. Six Big Springers had their best days ever at Brownwood on the way to their third place finish. Ricky McCormick set a school record as he won the mile in 4:26.4, and Doug Smith had his finest lap in placing third in the 440-yard dash with a 50.6.

Bobby Mayo's 40.4 in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles, good enough for a second, was also a pleasant surprise. as was Kyle Neighbors' 132-1 effort in the discus, which placed him third. Two others had personal bests but failed to place, sophomore David White, who sailed 12-0 in the pole vault and junior Craig Knappe, who won his 330-yard hurdles heat in 45.4. . .

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1974

'Bored' With Breakfast? Begin The Day With Style

"Crepes Suzette" has helped many a French chef establish his claim to fame. You'll be famous yourself when you serve these "Rolled Toffee Cream Pancakes," an American version of crepes with a surprise ingredient - toffee candy. Bits of chocolate-covered English toffee candy add a sweet, crunchy consistency to the filling-topping of this elegant treat. These pancakes are a great finale for a dinner, a dessert bridge or an important Sunday brunch. You might even make it part of a hearty breakfast.

Add a dramatic touch by cooking the pancakes in front of family or guests in an electric fry pan. Or, cook them earlier in the day and reheat in a bit of butter on the griddle just before serving.

Different? Yes, and as a French chef might say, with a kiss of the fingertips, "Vive la difference!" ROLLED TOFFEE CREAM

PANCAKES 1 envelope (2-oz.) whipped dessert topping mix Chilled milk as required to whip topping 14 tsp. maple flavoring 2-3 cun finely chopped English toffee bars

1 cup prepared pancake mix 11/4 cups milk

2 eggs, beaten 2 thsps. sugar 2 tbsps. cooking oil or melted shortening

Prepare dessert topping as directed on package. Add flavoring and fold in 1-3 cup chopped toffee candy. Cofbine pancake mix, milk, eggs, sugar and oil or shortening; mix well. Bake on hot griddle using about 3 tablespoons batter for each cake.

Turn pancakes when browned on first side; bake second side. Remove from griddle and keep warm. Spread each pancake with about 2 tablespoons of whipped topping-toffee mixture. Roll up. Top with re-maining toffee mixture and sprinkle with remaining toffee. Additional whipped dessert topping may be prepared and used if desired. Yield: 6 servings, 2.3 pancakes each.

Breakfast Bread

Can't get the family to the breakfast table? Maybe it's sprng fever. Or possibly they're just suffering from breakfast monotony. In the latter case, perhaps all that's needed is a switch in bread or fruit to alter a speedy cereal and milk breakfast pattern.

For example, here is a perfect toast substitute. Malted cereal granules and raisins give this new quick bread recipe superlative fruit-like flavor and "chew."

RAISIN CEREAL BREAD

2 cups sifted flour 2-3 cup sugar

2 tsps. baking powder

tsp. salt ½ tsp. soda

4 cup malted cereal granules

1 1-3 cups buttermilk

2 eggs, slightly beaten 3 tbsps. melted shortening or cooking oil 1/2 cup seedles raisins

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, and soda. Combine malted cereal granules and buttermilk; let sand 5 minutes. Add eggs and shortening or oil; beat well. Add dry ingredients; blend until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in raisins. Pour into well-greased (9 x 5 x 3-inch) 1loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F) until done, 50 to 60 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes; remove from pan and cool thoroughly on rack. Slice and serve next day. Yield: One 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf.

Put Apples In Fluffy Pancakes

Pancakes make a "powerful good" breakfast for a hungry, hard-working man who likes to start the day with a good meal.

These are light, fluffy pancakes, sparked with grated apples in the batter. When served, they're festooned with fresh golden apple slices, spicy with cinnamon and nutmeg.

Though a very special way to start your day, you might remember this as a perfect post-theatre idea, since both batter and syrup may be prepared in advance.

LEMON'N SPICE APPLE PANCAKES

1-2 apples 1 tbsp. lemon uice 1 tsp. grated lemon peel 11/2 cups sifted all-purpose

2 tsp. baking powder 1/2 tsp. salt 2 thsps. sugar

2 eggs, separated 1 1-3 cups milk 1-3 cup melted shortening or butter Spicy Apple Syrun Pare, core and grate apples to measure 11/2 cups. Sprinkle lemon juice and peel over apples. Resift flour with baking powder, salt and sugar into mixing bowl. Beat egg yolks, milk and shortening (or butter) together. Make a well in flour mixture, pour in milk mixture, beating just u til blended. Fold in apples. Beat egg whites until stiff and, fold into batter. Bake over medium high heat on buttered griddle. Keep pancakes warm in low oven. Serve with butter and Spicy Golden Apple Syrup. Makes about 16 pancakes. Note:

apples are preferred. SPICY GOLDEN APPLE SYRUP

Golden Delicious or Winesap

Combine 2 cups water, 1 1-3 curs sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 16 teaspoon nutmeg in saucenan. Bring to boil; simmer 5 minutes.

ADD APPLES to this pancake batter and you can bet the family will ask for 'just one more'. Festoon the plate with fresh fruit slices and top with golden apple syrup. It's a good change for breakfast or a dilly of a dish anytime you want something different.

Add 2 apples, pared, cored and sliced. Simmer until apples are just tender. Stir in 1/4 cup butter. Keep warm until ready to serve.

Undergirding Governorship

The legislator-delegates of the Texas Consitutional Convention have had some trouble separating their legislative sides from their constitutionwriting assignment. But while considering expanding the powers of Texas governors, they performed well, agreeing to give a bit more power to the executive branch in the interest of better state government.

Changes approved by the convention delegates are small, but go in the right direction. They agreed to let governors dismiss any appointed officials, unless the removal is vetoed by a majority of the Senate. They approved giving governors the power to designate the chairmen of most state boards soon after taking office. And they approved a provision making the terms of all appointees to state boards and agencies end between Feb. 1 and May 1, giving new governors the opportunity to appoint at least one-third of most boards soon after taking office.

All of these measures will give Texas governors a bit more ability to make their influence and policies effective. The benefits should be obvious - voters can select governors with some assurance the policies and aims of their chosen candidate will have a chance of really being carried through.

As Texas government now is consitituted, governors have little real power, except in the negative or veto area, unless they serve several years. Governors have appointment powers, but no effective control over their appointees. And they do not have sufficient numbers of their own men on boards until well into their second or third year in office, delaying any move to change

The result is a government tilted somewhat toward the legislative branch, and toward a shadowy area of appointed boards really responsible to no one. Such circumstances have made it almost impossible for governors to put forward a successful program of their own authorship; some have done so but only because they were politically powerful and of the same philosophic persuasion as the majority in the legislature.

While executive powers are being properly questioned on a national scale, Texas needs to correct an opposite imbalance by establishing a line of

Sleeper In The Package

A more detailed assessment is needed before firm conclusions are drawn from the Democratic mid-year committee meeting, but it does not appear that there were sweeping changes, except for abolition of quotas, from the rules which prevailed two years ago. Some think this may forebode a repeat of the ill-fated 1972 convention.

David S. Broder, a columnist and observer of the political scene, however, seen an ironical twist. With the end of the winner-take-all primary, candidates may receive their proportional share of the delegates. Since 70 per cent of the delegates are chosen in this manner, this is a significant fact. Also, those states chosing by caucus-convention (like Texas) are obliged to claim proportional strength if a candidate gets 10 per cent of the vote. Broder thus toys with an intriguing prospect, that the big beneficiary of this will be George Wallace, and that Sen. Kennedy, if he is a candidate, might stand to lose more. The real losers might be the dandidate caught in the middle. Wallace might not get the nomination, but he might jolly well have the power of veto.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

My problem is just too delicate and too painful to discuss with my pastor. I'm 24 and single, yet I've been having an affair with a married man. Lately, I've been experiencing sharp pains' in my head. Are such attacks from Satan or God? Whichever, I suppose I deserve them.

Several things can be said about you. First, you have an active conscience. This is good. When it is properly conditioned, by the help of God, it guides us and goads us.

Secondly, I think you ought to have a spiritual counselor locally, who can help on a continuing basis. If you don't feel comfortable about sharing with your own pastor, there are other ministers willing to help, and on a confidential basis

Now we do know the Scripture says "Don't be angry when the Lord punishes you. Don't be discouraged when He has to show you where you are wrong." (Hebrews 12:5) I'm not saying that an illness is the judgment of God. Not at all. But it can at times be a tool to accomplish a holy purpose. In the case of Job in the Bible, affliction by boils was an effort on Satan's part that God temporarily ermitted. Don't be too anxious, nowever, to attach human frailty and illness to some strange supernatural

The fact is that something of

I spoke the other day of the excruciating problem of the aged, and how it grows worse.

Simultaneous with the increase in the aged is the increase in the college population. That population in 1930 was 1.1 million. In 1970, 8.4 million.

IT IS MY proposal that the burden of the nonprofessional work done in behalf of the aged should be done by young men and women graduated from high school, during one year before matriculating at college. The idea of public service of some kind or another by the citizenry has frequently been poposed. There has been an instinctive coolness towards the idea primarily because of the conscriptive feel of it: the suggestion that government require anyone to do anything of a philanthropic character tends to put one off, and for reasons not by any means all bad. The opportunity is great for initiative from the private sector.

I envision a statement by the trustees of the 10 top-rated private colleges and universities in he United States in which it is given as common policy that beginning in the fall semester of 1976 (to pick a year far enough away to permit planning, soon enough to generate excitement), no one accepted into the freshman class will be matriculated until after he has passed one year in public service.

I SAY PUBLIC service because if the plan were very widely adpted, there would be more young help available than could be absorbed in the nursing homes alone. There are many other ways in which the young could be used. As guards in the grade schools, just to give a single example (there are 1,700 auxiliaries in the New York schools alone), but for convenience I dwell on the care of the aged.

As regards the financing, it would be required only that the government exclude this category of volunteers from the provisions of the minimum wage. Otherwise the economic advantage would substantially dissipte. The nursing homes would of course provide board and pocket money (mostly, the volunteers could continue to live at home). In the unusual case where the 18-year-old is helping to support his own family, the collge could either suspend the requirement or concert with foundations to find ways to permit the young volunteers to eke out the year.

THE COLLEGES would take the position that they desire, in matriculating freshmen, an earnest of public concern, and extra-academic experience of a useful kind. The intervention of hundreds of thousands of 18-year-olds into the lives of the aged would serve more than merely the obvious purposes of cleaning the rooms and pushing the wheelchairs and washing the dishes.

FOR THE young it would mean several things. It would postpone by a year their matriculation at college College administrators are all but unanimous in their conviction that an older student, one year, rather than freshly graduated, from high school gets more out of college. The experience would, moreover, interrupt the inerti aciommitment to moreand-more education, and some of the less strongly motivated, the rhythm having been broken, would probably elect not to go on to college.

The experience - particularly because of the voluntary aspect of it — would remind young people at an impressionable age of the nature genuine, humanitarian service, which is the disinterested personal act of kindness, administered by one individual directly to another individual. And the experience would touch the young, temperamentally impatient with any thought of the other end of the life cycle, with the reality of old age; with the human side of the detritus whose ecological counterparts have almost exclusively occupied fashionable attention in recent

Take Another Look

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

I think we might need to take another look at the capitol punishment laws. This sudden surge of kidnapings gives me a big pain. If the law could slap a few of them with capitol punishment, it would sure cut the violators down in a hurry.

I REALLY don't think the old West would ever have gotten settled without stringing up a few of the culprits and finishing off a few more in the gunfights.

We have done a complete turn around and seem to have all laws nowadays to help the criminals. We are careful not to infringe on their rights or step on their toes or insult their race. We are told to make sure they get some free legal advice if they are broke and insist that all their relatives get a little welfare if they cease to be a wage earner.

If their children are illegitimate, we give them a special welfare bonus and if they aren't even trying to work, we give them unemployment compensation and throw in a few food stamps. If they say they hate the establishment, we turn our backs and blush, but we instruct our law officials not to do anything to upset them.

On top of everything else, we are now discussing gun laws which would take firearms and hunting guns away from the populance and then nobody would have guns except law officials and criminals and we'd tie the hands of the law officials.

Go back to the days of the old west with our modern laws.

AS THE MARSHAL would step out in the street to gun down the murderer, he would be forced to say, "I want to advise you of your rights. Anything you say may be used against you and you have the right to legal counsel." By then the marshal would be laying in the street with a bullet hole in the middle of him.

We have swayed the pendulum way too far in the other direction as we protect the criminal and protect his rights while taking away rights of the honest hard working John Doe.

Consequently, we're blessed with a new crime series - kidnapings. How many of you are old enough to remember the tragic Lindberg baby kidnaping and how everybody in the country en masse wanted the kidnapers caught and killed? What was wrong with the good old days?

Now one local police officer - with tongue in cheek, said, "If they kidnap my wife, they'll have to pay me ransom to take her back."

But all joking aisde, there is something frightening about the in-crease of snatching innocent people up as they go about their daily affairs. When I watch the FBI show on television, the FBI always wins, but it seems to me they sure are coming out on the short end of the stick in the Hearst kidnaping. They'll never get it solved in an hour long program

- even in a review of the case.

So rather said Faisal, may turn out to be "the feel are responsible and try to American nation at the urging than saying how bad it is stamp out their beliefs.

Of George Rockwell, the bank's maybe we better learn to live Jew who saved the world from Zionism." Coming from the acknowledged spiritual leader of the Moslem world, that remark shows how successful Kissinger has been since the Yom Kippur war in making a convincing case for the switch in U.S. Middle East policy.

AT THE SAME time, however, Qaddafi has been spending millions fomenting anti-Western political turmoil and financing military operations in Moslem lands as widely separated as Oman on the tip of the Arabian peninsula and Lebanon bordering on Israel — both far from

Pro-Western Lebanese now estimate Qaddafi has spent $12 million in Lebanon alone in the past few months on anti-Western, anti-Israeli propaganda among Palestinian refugees. Likewise, Qaddafi is heavily engaged in subsidizing arms shipments to Oman, a moderate oil-rich Arab country now combating political revolu-

IN ATTEMPTING a fanatical Moslem purification expunging all Western influences from the Arab world, Qaddafi appeals to deepseated Moslem instincts with unlimited financing behind him. His appeal is simple: whatever Kissinger and the U.S. are saying publicly, they have no intention of pushing Israel back to its pre-1967 borders and could not succeed even if they wanted to.

THE LONG, acrimonious dispute within the Arab world over ending the oil boycott and raising production is the most dramatic symbol so far of Qaddafi's power and visionary politics. Both King Faisal and President Sadat were ready to lift the boycott last weekend, on the strength of Kissinger's successes in moving Israel back from the Suez Canal and arranging high-level talks in Washington between Israel and Syria to negotiate a troop separation on the Golan Heights.

Happy Insults

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON - People may deny it, but there is nothing a country enjoys more than being insulted and threatened by another country. It brings the natives out of their lethargy, it gets the juices flowing in the parliament and the press and it gives leaders an opportunity to distract their country men from their problems at home.

IT IS IN this context that we must look at the recent attacks Henry Kissinger and President Nixon have made on the Western European countries. I can now reveal exclusively what was behind the attacks and why they

Six weeks ago the foreign ministers of Europe demanded to meet with Secreatary of State Henry Kissinger. The announced purpose of the meeting was to discuss what to do about the oil situation. But the real purpose of the gathering was to discuss ways of getting Europeans excited again about their role in world affairs.

AT THE MEETING Kissinger led off by saying how happy he was that things were going so well between the United States and Europe, and that President Nixon was looking forward to his trip there in April. He predicted that with the detente. the ties between the Common Market countries and the United States would be closer than ever.

THE FRENCH foreign minister said, "That is what we came to talk to you about. We don't want closer ties, we want worse ones." Kissinger looked shocked. "I don't understand."

Speaking for my own government, the French are sick and tired of having good relations with the United States. It was all right when we had bad relations with the Soviets and the Chinese. But now that we can't attack them any more, you're the only superpower left that the French can get angry at. But We have to be provoked into taking a hard line against you. The provocation can only come from you and the President."

"YOU'RE ASKING us to attack you so the French people can get mad at us?"

"You owe it to us," the French foreign minister said, "after all France has done for you.'

Kissinger looked at the other foreign ministers. "Do you feel that way, "I'm afraid so, Henry," the West German foreign minister said. "It would be a big help to Willy Brandt's government if we could accuse you of bad faith."

A Devotion For Today . .

"All that the Father gives me will come to me; and him who comes to me I will not cast out." (John 6:37) PRAYER: God, I thank You that when I tire of striving and struggling I can yield the load to You. You can do the impossible for me. Keep me close to You; through Christ, Your Son, my Savior.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) - Burglars with a sweet tooth have robbed Sidney and Bonnie Murray seven times in one month. Each time, they cleaned out the family cookie jar.

The thieves also got two television sets, two tape players, a typewriter, about $150 in cash, Mrs. Murray's engagement ring, a watch, cloth, beer and food. And a pistol Murray bought in hopes of warding off the robbers.

A preemptive bid often disrupts the smooth flow of the opponents' auction. However, it can also backfire by driving the opponents into a makable contract that they might not have reached under their own steam, and by locating key cards for them.

Left to their own devices, it is unlikely that North-South would have gotten beyond four hearts. East's preemptive jump overcall of two spades propelled the auction into slam, for after North had raised South's suit, the latter felt that he was committed to make another move because of his wealth of controls and the fact that North's hand was not yet limited to a minimum. Cue-bids in spades and diamonds resulted in a heart slam that, considering only slightly optimistic.

West led the nine of spades, taken by declarer's ace. Since the bidding made it more likely that West held length in hearts, South led the jack in the hope of pinning the nine. Dummy's king captured West's queen, and the ten of hearts was cashed to see if the suit would divide 3-2. When East showed out, declarer had an unavoidable trump loser, and prospects looked bleak.

There was one chance, and declarer went for it. He played four rounds of clubs, discarding two spades from his hand as West was forced to follow. A heart was led to the ace, and West was thrown on lead with his trump win-

By now, West was stripped of everything but diamonds, and he was forced to concede the contract to declarer. If he led a low diamond, declarer would run it to his queen, cross to the ace of diamonds and discard his remaining diamond on the fifth club. It would be no better to lead the king of diamondfor declarer would win in dummy and discard on the club immediately.

Note that declarer could not afford to play the fifth club while West still held trumps. West would ruff and exit with a trump, and declarer would be stranded with a diamond

Officers Feud At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Police Chief Carrol Lynn and Harris County Sheriff Jack Heard say a case involving a sheriff's un-dercover agent who refused to give his real name after wounding a narcotics suspect is a misunderstanding.

Sheriff's Lt. John Kiljan, head of the sheriff's undercover officers, said the unnamed undercover agent bought five ounces of heroin from a man, then shot him when the man attempted to rob the agent and his partner.

Houston policemen were called because the shooting occurred in the city limits. Lynn said sheriff's officers asked to make the investigation of the shooting but were refused. Lynn said when the undercover agents were asked to sign a statement about the shooting, they refused. Sheriff Heard said to identify the agent would endanger his life and blow his cover. Lynn said withiut the agent's real signature on a statement, such a statement would be virtually worthless as evidence.

Lynn said he expected ranking officers from his department to meet with county officers in the near future to iron out guidelines to keep a similar situation from happening again. The controversy was another incident involving Houston police and Sheriff Heard. Lynn recently fired Heard's son, Patrolman Jack Heard Jr., and another policeman for allegedly beating an admitted prostitute. Heard Jr. and the other officer have denied the allegations before a city civil service commission hearing.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Magistrate John Giles has fined an Austin area rancher and his foreman $500 each after the pair pleaded guilty to transporting an alien.

Robert Gilford Kuykendall of Austin and his foreman, Richard Leon House of Manor, paid their fines on Friday after appearing before Giles.

House and four aliens were arrested Feb. 11 by U.S. Border patrolmen, authorities said. Kuykendall said he instructed House to go to Cotulla to pick up an alien who wanted to work

About this time, Shuford became interested in the Jesse James gang and other outlaws. After considerable research, he wrote 50 free verse Spoon River type poems, each a brief portrait of bandits and gunmen. was titled "Flowering

The market was hardly ripe in those depression days, but Scribner's accepted nine of the oems and paid $100.

The portraits, which ranged from "Bill Dalton" to "Dynamite Dick," are included in his 'Selected Poems, 1933-1971," published by the North Texas State Press in 1972.

Shuford's trail first crossed North Texas' in 1937. He had been teaching at Trinity University and was invited to join the faculty of what was then North Texas State Teachers College.

Like his reporting days, he did practically everything, heading up college publicity, public relations and teaching a couple of journalism classes and a course in English. Except for three years in the Air Force in World War II, he has been in the middle of the North Texas scene since.

He became head of the newly formed Department of Journalsm in 1945.

Shuford has made it his aim to turn out top journalists and sometimes he has not been too gentle in doing it. "I'll use any devise to make them sit up and think," he said.

Shuford doesn't rule out yelling if necessary. One student, highly confident of his abilities, was dismayed to see Shuford tear up a crea-

BAD BRITE "That's the worst brite (a short, chuckle-type story) I've ever seen" Shuford screamed. "I would have crawled on the floor out the door, if I could remarked.

But the incident bore fruit The student later became a top writer and very much an admirer of Shuford. Once his public affairs class presented Shuford with a whip, which he occasionally still takes to class and pops. "It usually gets attention and a laugh," he said. The future? On that subject, Shuford makes one of his rare

"I'm not making any rash statements," he said, "but I have some plans." Chances are, retirement or no retirement, Shuford will continue his highly active role in Denton for a long time to come.

to eliminate energy waste. They say the economics makes sense: The cost of waste has grown too high. DuPont Co.'s energy consulting division reports a 300 per cent increase in business this year.

"With proper conservation, industry could save a million and a half barrels of oil a day," says George Tunis, head of DuPont's applied technology division.

The nation consumes about 19 million barrels of oil a day. GET ALONG

"We figure we've cut our electrical consumption by 25 per cent since November and our steam consumption between 40 and 45 per cent," says Donald Odell, vice president of New York's Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., whose offices hold 12,000 people each day.
