HIGH SPIRITS — U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev exchange laughs in Kremlin today.

'Blackmail' Warning Voiced By Kissinger

Impeachment Only Way?

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock today called on Congress to proceed with the impeachment of President Nixon, saying that is the only way to end the constitutional crisis now facing the country. Woodcock noted that until now he had favored Nixon's resignation, but said this would only leave the "myth of a martyred President."

"The Congress must do its duty and proceed with impeachment," he told 1,000 cheering delegates to the annual legislative conference sponsored by the UAW and the Machinists Union.

The union leader said the democratic majority in Congress must act on impeachment even at the risk of drawing charges of partisan politics. "Let the facts speak for themselves because there is no other way," he said.

Woodcock had called for Nixon's resignation following the firing of special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox last October, but the union leader said that he now preferred impeachment in light of the events and "White House manipulations" since then.

Streakers On Stage To Kiss Sex Starlet

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Sex Week at the University of Alabama ended with four streakers appearing on stage to kiss sex starlet Linda Lovelace.

Miss Lovelace, star of Deep Throat, was a featured speaker Sunday night. During her address, four male streakers appeared on stage. They ceremoniously gave her a bouquet of flowers, one of the men kissed her and the four then streaked off.

BSHS Magazine Is Merit Award Winner

The Big Spring High School magazine publication, The Corral, collected the top award of distinguished merit when they went to the state high school press meeting in Austin over the weekend.

Editors of the winning publication include Brenda Tynes, Cynthia Dennis and Jeff Kuykendall.

Those attending the meeting include next year's editors, Carol Hart and Patti Myers, with Kathy Meek and Sherry Ingram representing the yearbook. They were accompanied by Mrs. Erna Steward, sponsor.

In this immediate area, Colorado City's "Howl" in a smaller high school category won the top award of distinguished merit. The Lamesa "Tornado Observer" won the award of honor, which is a third.

Midland High's Bulldog won an Award of merit, which is a fourth. Abilene High's "The Battery," Odessa's "Odessan," Permian's "Permian Press" and San Angelo's "Campus Corral" all won an award of achievement, which is second.

Temperatures Vary 66 Degrees In March

Three weeks ago (on a Sunday), an all-time high record was shattered here with a 90 degree recording.

Over the past weekend (Saturday) an all-time low record of 24 degrees tied the low recorded in 1952.

Forget First Call, Police Are Told

A hushed voice whispered into the police phone Saturday night. "There's somebody trying to start my car out back." The caller then gave the address.

A few moments later the caller telephoned again and said, "I'm sorry, it was my neighbor trying to start his own car across the back fence."

Nixon Gains More Time To Keep 'Hot' Material

WASHINGTON (AP) — At the request of the White House, special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski today gave President Nixon four more days to respond to a subpoena demanding additional Watergate evidence.

The subpoena, issued March 15, called for a response today. But, over the weekend James D. St. Clair, President Nixon's chief Watergate lawyer, asked Jaworski for more time and the prosecutor extended the return date to Friday.

NEED CITED

In a brief statement, Jaworski's office said, "In agreeing to the subpoena request, Mr. Jaworski emphasized the grand jury's need for the material covered under this subpoena."

The prosecutor's office refused to give details about the material subpoenaed.

At the White House, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the delay in responding to the subpoena was requested so St. Clair "can evaluate and make a judgment in terms of a response."

Asked whether Nixon had seen the subpoena, Ziegler referred to St. Clair and said "I don't know if they've had a chance to discuss it yet."

Ziegler again refused to say what material the special prosecutor was seeking.

And, in a related matter, lawyers for two former White House aides said they will not go to the Supreme Court to try to block transmission of the secret grand jury report on President Nixon's Watergate role to the House impeachment inquiry.

"We've just decided that we've stated our objections and our warnings as forcefully as we can and the government has decided to take the risk," said John Bray, who represents Gordon C. Strachan.

John J. Wilson, lawyer for former presidential chief of staff H.R. Haldeman, declined to comment on the decision not to appeal.

COVER-UP

An appeals court had given them until 5 p.m. today to carry the matter to the Supreme Court when it acted Thursday upholding the decision to give the report to the House inquiry.

Haldeman and Strachan were among seven persons indicted March 1 in connection with the Watergate cover-up. President Nixon had not opposed delivery of the report to the House committee.

Deputy presidential Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren refused last week to say whether the President planned to comply with the prosecutor's subpoena. He said it was being handled routinely by White House lawyers.

A spokesman for Jaworski said the subpoena did not involve the Watergate cover-up or White House plumbers cases, in which indictments recently were returned.

TURN IT OVER

That means the material sought probably relates to investigations of the ITT antitrust settlement, dairy industry political contributions or the 18.5-minute erasure found on one subpoenaed tape.

If the President refuses to comply with the subpoena, Jaworski could go to court to ask for an order directing the President to turn over the subpoenaed material.

The White House, meanwhile, has denied a published report that it would give to the House impeachment inquiry tapes of 42 presidential conversations the committee has been trying to obtain. The report appeared in the Los Angeles Times, but Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said no decision had been made to provide additional tapes to the committee.

A source close to the investigation said congressional investigators doubt that a key document which could solve President Nixon's single biggest tax problem "ever existed." The source said the White House has been unable to find the original deed giving the national archives a collection of Nixon's papers valued at $576,000.

Commission Is Considering Building Of New Hangars

By JOHN EDWARDS

Discussion of lease proposals for a hangar at Howard County Airport in County Commissioners Court today led to consideration of constructing new hangars.

"We've got a 50 plane airport right now, and we could have a 100 plane airport in less than a year" with additional hangar space, J. W. McClendon said.

McClendon of Big Spring

Aircraft Inc. serves as airport manager.

"Just think how much money we've spent thinking we're going to keep those airlines out there," Commissioner Simon (Cy) Terrazas commented.

T-41 LEASE

Linda Wilhelm, earlier this morning, proposed paying $150 monthly for use of the old T-41 hangar until June when a long-term lease is to be negotiated.

Mentioning the $33,000 paid to build the hangar several years ago, Terrazas told the woman the rent would only pay part of its true rent value.

"We're just trying to improve our airport with activity," Terrazas said.

Lt. Col. Donald L. Coleman has offered $105 monthly for the T-41 hangar.

He wants to house three antique planes here.

Informal proposals from an air plane crop dusting service and from Broughton for storing chemicals and cotton seeds were mentioned.

Of the highest bidders, McClendon said: "They want to go into the flying business out there."

Under the airport operation contract, any competitor at the port must provide services and facilities equal to Big Spring Aircraft, McClendon said.

The woman said they would not be competing with Big Spring Aircraft until possibly after June.

WIND INDICATORS

The tetrahedron wind indicator is now working, a representative of Boss Linam Elect Inc. told him, County Judge A. G. Mitchell said.

But the wind sock must be lighted to satisfy Federal Aviation Administration requirements.

In order to light the sock, 2,000 feet of lines must be extended underground, Mitchell said. The court authorized advertising for bids.

County workers will replace paving torn out for the ditch.

ROAD DEPARTMENT

Marvin Hanson, road administrator, suggested the court buy a self-propelled street sweeper which one man can operate.

Mitchell thought more road department barn space ought to be built before new equipment is bought.

Hanson also mentioned buying three new asphalt tanks which do not meet federal specifications for long, interstate hauls but would be adequate for in-county use.

Commissioners found an error in a bill for repairing a pump in the courthouse.

WARMER

A warming trend is in sight, with temperatures due to rise into the 60s today and into the 70s Tuesday. Low tonight will be in the lower 40s. Partly cloudy.

HEADED FOR HOUSE PASSAGE

Antibusing Legislation Backed By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Antibusing legislation, backed by President Nixon in an education speech Saturday, seemed headed for House passage this week.

Public financing of election campaigns was expected to share the congressional spotlight, with debate slated in the Senate.

The new effort to curb busing for school desegregation purposes will be made when the House starts voting on a federal aid to education bill.

FIRST STEP

The measure provides for a three-year, $18-million extension of aid to elementary and secondary schools, with the formula for distribution of the money in dispute.

The move to curb school busing drew backing from President Nixon Saturday in a radio broadcast.

Nixon termed the House bill "an important first step" in meeting his educational goals and urged citizen support for administration-backed programs to consolidate federal education grants.

"You understand better than any federal official what is best for your children," Nixon said. The House has proposed consolidating seven grant programs into two, a move supported by the administration.

FILIBUSTER

Nixon said parents value neighborhood schools and are "naturally concerned when the courts, acting on the basis of complicated plans drawn up by far-away officials in Washington, D.C., order children bused out of their neighborhoods."

The antibusing amendment, similar to a bill passed by the House in 1972 but killed in a Senate filibuster, makes busing a last resort to be used only after other desegregation measures have failed.

Nixon also called for Congress to provide $1.3 billion to finance basic education opportunity grants for schooling beyond high school.

The grant program would provide up to $1,400 a year to needy students. It was authorized in 1973 but never funded.

The World At - A - Glance

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Leaders of Mississippi's broiler industry say that none of the millions of contaminated chickens which the federal government has ordered destroyed has reached consumers. They say they have found and stopped the source of the contamination. The Environmental Protection Agency ordered the chickens destroyed after tests showed birds from the flocks of three poultry operators contained unacceptable levels of the pesticide dieldrin, which is known to cause cancer on prolonged exposure.

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — Jury selection begins today in the murder trial of former United Mine Workers Union president W. A. "Tony" Boyle, accused of arranging the assassination of YMW rival Joseph "Jock" Yablonski. Prospective jurors will be chosen from a panel of some 350 persons in the trial in the heavily guarded Delaware County Courthouse. The 72-year-old Boyle arrived here Sunday from the Springfield, Mo., federal prison hospital where he is serving three years for illegal use of union funds.

NEW YORK — Tourist industry officials are keeping their fingers crossed that the lifting of the Arab oil embargo will mean an upswing in travel. President Nixon announced last Tuesday he was lifting the ban on Sunday sales of gasoline and Federal Energy Chief William Simon said tourism was a major reason for the action. He said that gasoline allocations for April would be significantly larger than those for March.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — The President of the American Cancer Society has proposed a worldwide cooperative effort to dig out knowledge which "would be useful for immediate application to cancer control." Out of the annual toll of 350,000 cancer deaths, "at least 100,000 American lives that we know about are needlessly lost to cancer each year," Dr. Justin N. Stein told a Cancer Society seminar for science writers Sunday.

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — President Idi Amin, Uganda's military strongman, says he will deal severely with soldiers who tried to overthrow him during the weekend. The aborted coup, which the government radio said was led by the army chief of staff, was broken by loyal forces in bloody fighting Saturday night and early Sunday at several military camps in the Kampala area.

Cubana Airlines Office Destroyed

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Cuban Liberation Front has claimed credit for a bomb explosion which destroyed the offices of Cubana Airlines.

One such group was the Liberation Front. The others are Cuban Action and Alpha 66.

HOMEMADE BOMB

Authorities in Mexico City said they were investigating the explosion. A police spokesman said it was caused by a small homemade bomb placed below the front door of the office.

The unidentified man said the front does not recognize the legality of Communist Cuban property "usurped by the government of Fidel Castro."

Hit-Run Mishaps Plague Police

Nobody wanted to stick around for accident investigations over the weekend. City police were plagued with hit-and-run accidents.

Deadline Near For New Tags

As of today, license plate receipts total $426,098. Mrs. Zarah Bednar, county tax collector, said.

Detention Claim Results In Suit

Macaria Chavez has filed a $7,500 suit against the T.G. & Y. Family Center at College Park Shopping Center, claiming she was "wrongfully" detained.

Shannon Koger Is Lamesa Champion

LAMESA — Seventh-grader Shannon Koger won the Dawson County spelling bee last week, spelling her way past ten other semi-finalists from Lamesa and Ackery.

Prizes Are Distributed In Little Miss Contest

The Municipal Auditorium was two-thirds full Saturday night as little girls in three categories received trophies and awards in the Little Miss Big Spring Pageant.

"It was a beautiful pageant, and we want to thank everybody, the merchants who gave the prizes, the news media and everyone who helped. And they know who they are," Mrs. Neida Colclazer, the Pageant's chairman, said Monday.

Sixty-five girls ranging in age from 3-17 competed in the Choir Boosters-sponsored event. The winners received trophies and prizes from local merchants worth $50. Runners up and other categories received $25 value prizes and trophies.

Miss Photogenic was Jennifer Lee Smoot, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hank Smoot, sponsored by Three Way Welding.

Junior Miss (13-17) winner was Laurie Choate, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Choate, Zales Jewelry sponsor. The runner up was Cindy Rudd, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Rudd. Rudd's Pastries sponsor. Junior Miss Talent was Jennifer Speegle, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Speegle, Dean Claims Service sponsor.

Choate Named President Of Texas Credit League

Wade Choate, general manager of Webb AFB Federal Credit Union, was recognized Federal Credit Unions and other national and state organizations by other credit union managers and officials at the 40th annual meeting of the Texas Credit Union League and Affiliates in San Antonio March 20-24.

He was elected president of the Texas Association of Federal Credit Unions (TAFUCU) and as president he will represent over 800 Federal Credit Unions in the state's legislation.

In addition to these positions, Choate also was elected to the executive committee, to the coordination committee of the Texas Credit Union League. He was appointed to the board of Directors of the Members Security Company, Members Insurance Company, Members Life Insurance Company, Members Mutual Insurance Company, TCUL Services Inc., TCUL Trust Company and TCUL Security Company. He will also serve as a TCUL Stabilization Fund Trustee.

Warming Likely On Heels Of Frigid Spring Storm

A spring attack of deadly ice and unseasonable freezing weather loosed its grip on Texas today and warming was promised in all sections.

Early reports indicated also that the weekend freeze dealt heavy blows to fruit trees full of blossoms and vegetable gardens.

ICY ABILENE

Treachorous spots of ice were blamed for at least four deaths in auto accidents Sunday, when parts of highways and bridges glazed from Abilene and San Angelo eastward through Fort Worth and Dallas, and as far south as Junction, Corsicana and Waco.

BELOW FREEZING

Near dawn today temperatures again dipped below freezing at a few Panhandle points, sagging to 26 degrees at Amarillo, 28 at Dallas and 30 at Childress, but stayed well above Sunday morning's levels at most other points. Even so, it was only 45 at Brownsville and McAllen, the two warmest spots.

Forecast held out a chance for scattered showers along the coast and in Southeast Texas lasting into Tuesday. Rising temperatures were promised all sections.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are forecast today for most of the Pacific coast. Snowflurries are forecast for the northern Plains and Great Lakes. Warmer weather is forecast for the Southeast.

TAPPING TREASURY ISN'T ANSWER Burden Of Social Security Taxes On 'Poor' Nets Woes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The burden of Social Security payroll taxes on low-paid workers is a problem but tapping the general treasury to help support the system isn't the answer, Social Security Administrator James B. Cardwell says.

Pressure for relieving lower-paid workers of the payroll tax burden has been mounting in Congress. Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., a member of the Ways and Means Committee that handles legislation on the system, has enrolled about 100 cosponsors for legislation that would reduce the tax on all earning less than about $20,000 and provide a general fund contribution.

Other alternatives for easing the Social Security tax burden also run into problems, Cardwell said. One would be to have a progressive payroll tax with the rate increasing—like the income tax rate—on higher earnings, instead of a level tax rate beginning with the first dollar earned and applying to all wages up to a fixed ceiling, as at present.

WORKING YEAR

The fact that the retirement system always has been self-financing through employe and employer payments during working years has protected it, he said.

Another possibility would be to let the present system of taxes and benefits continue, but provide rebates or tax credits out of general revenues to lower-earning workers.

DEATHS

Coed Claims 'Little Old Ladies' Passe

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Alice Scutter says the phrase "little old ladies" is passe. "You used to think of old women as those who sat around with canes and shawls and had squeaky voices," said the 95-year-old Mrs. Scutter, who is enrolled for a creative writing course at Schenectady County Community College.

"But all my friends, even those up there in years, are people who are interested in what is going on in the world today."

College officials believe Mrs. Scutter, a New York City native, is probably the country's oldest student.

"If she's not actually the oldest, she's sure in the running," said John Walker, director of continuing education. "They did some double-takes when they saw the date of birth on her application."

Mrs. Scutter, who has already written her memoirs and published a book of poetry, says she enrolled in the class because "it sounded interesting."

"I just really wanted to compare notes with other people who write," she explained during an interview in her Victorian-style living room Wednesday.

Mrs. Scutter's three-hour class at the college meets once a week.

"She's the very knowledgeable and most sincere in her classroom discussion," said her instructor, Nancy Thornton.

The last formal education Mrs. Scutter received was a class in canning at Connecticut State College during World War II.

Mrs. Scutter, who uses a hearing aid because of slight deafness, says she disapproves of men and women living together in college dormitories and is against streaking. And she remembers when it was illegal for a woman to be seen in trousers.

Mrs. Scutter, the widow of a General Electric Co. executive, added:

"When I was young, we had dances, we sang and we could take a ride on an open trolley car. Then we'd go somewhere and get an ice cream soda and go home. It wasn't sophisticated, but it was fun."

Jeff Talmadge Is Named Prexy Of Duke Students

Duke University and the Big Spring Herald have one thing in common — they both picked Jeff Talmadge, graduate of Big Spring High School, as a winner.

Talmadge was selected as the winner of the 1971 Zales-Herald Youth Achievement Award, and this week the students of Duke University elected him president of student government for the coming year.

Winning by an overwhelming 54 per cent of the votes cast, Talmadge was swept into office without a run-off, an unusual event on the Duke campus. His nearest opponent had only 22 per cent of the vote. The Duke voter turnout, which reached approximately 43 per cent this year, is traditionally higher than the national average of about 15 per cent for college elections.

Talmadge has already begun his official duties by attending the meeting of the board of trustees of Duke University. When Dr. Terry Sanford, president of Duke, introduced Talmadge to the trustees, he pointed out that Talmadge was from Big Spring, Tex. which elicited a round of applause from the trustees.

Talmadge based his winning campaign for president on his qualifications, citing his past experiences in student government. Not a novice on the political scene at Duke, he was elected as a legislator during both his freshman and sophomore years and has served as attorney general this year.

Talmadge is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Talmadge, 2709 Carol Drive.

Douglas Aircraft Executive Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Frederick Warren "Ted" Conant, the Douglas Aircraft Co. executive who oversaw the firm's warplane production in World War II, is dead at 82.

Conant supervised the construction of 30,000 military aircraft during the war.

Food Handlers, Taxi, Paving Items On Agenda

The final reading of the ordinance on food handlers, a progress report concerning the taxi cabs, a discussion of Phase II Paving program and an audience with Dr. Clyde Thomas and Dr. R. B. G. Cowper highlight the city council meeting set at 9 a.m. in the council room in City Hall Tuesday.

There will also be an audience with Norman Knox, representing Hospital of America and Medical Memorial Hospital, a claim for damages by Mrs. Ruby Martin, an award of bids for property on Country Club Road and an audience with Sherry Mullin, representing Howard County Council for the Aging.

Other items include approval of board members for the board of equalization, a review of the traffic commission minutes, awarding of bids for the boat concession and a var screen, request for permission to advertise for bids for hydrated lime and microfilm, and a second reading of an ordinance accepting completed streets and setting up assessments.

They also had a second reading of the resolution opposing federal legislation for minimum wage and hour standards for cities, and a second reading of a resolution supporting the PBRC manpower application.

A request will be heard that the city sponsor a ladies softball team and a request given for permission to advertise for a bank depository.

DEPUTY, WIFE, FOUND SLAIN Icy Spots Swell Death Toll

By The Associated Press
Icy spots on roads and bridges Sunday were blamed for accidents which helped to swell the violent death toll in Texas.

The tragic count between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday went to 22 fatalities—13 in auto crashes, three shootings and a stabbing.

Marvin L. Moyier and his wife Linda of Parker County died Sunday when their truck and another collided on Interstate 20 about 20 miles east of Weatherford. Officers said one of the trucks skidded on an icy bridge into the path of the second vehicle.

RIG SKIDDED
Timmy Matthews of Hollister, Okla., was killed Sunday in a three-vehicle pileup just outside Burk Burnett in North Texas. Two other men were injured seriously.

Steven Hyer, 23, believed to be from Indianapolis, Ind., died Sunday when his tractor-trailer rig skidded on an icy Fort Worth freeway and went through a guard rail. Officers said Hyer apparently tried to miss some piled-up cars.

A collision near Hillje in Wharton County Sunday killed Deputy Sheriff Sidney W. Jolly, 57, and his wife Oneta, 53, of Victoria. Four persons in the other car—Earl Mitchem of Channelview, his wife Melba and two young daughters—suffered injuries.

HIT TREE
Juan Jose Ebarra, 25, of Alvin was killed Sunday when his car ran into a ditch and hit a tree at Arcadia.

TURNOVER
Tyronne L. Martin, 34, of Houston was killed Sunday when his car skidded at an intersection, slammed through a barricade and overturned in a ditch. Police said William H. Hodge, 43, a passenger, was critically injured.

LUBBOCK
Four Lubbock residents died late Friday when two cars smashed together on Farm Road 1729 about 12 miles southeast of the South Plains city. State police identified them as Blas Gutierrez Guerra, 27; Rosalio Trinidad, 41; Andrea Gutierrez, 40; and Liborio Gutierrez, 43. Bennett Morton, 68, of Kilgore died Friday night when his car left Farm Road 1797 and hit a tree four and a half miles east of Tatum in East Texas.

SHOT IN FACE
Fred Junior Cameron, 17, died several hours after being stabbed during an early morning argument Saturday at Henderson in East Texas. The stabbing occurred outside the Henderson Community Center, where a 4-H Club party was in progress.

A Harris County deputy sheriff and his wife were found dead early Saturday, both shot in the face, apparently after the officer stopped a car in Southwest Harris County. They were James H. McKay Sr., 42, and Rose McKay, 35.

Raleigh Rodriguez, 19, was killed early Saturday when his car ran off U.S. 277 near Christoval in West Texas.

IN FOOD SHOW County Entries Win Top Awards

Howard County 4-H Club members claimed half of the top four awards in senior competition and one of the four prizes in junior competition during the District Two 4-H Food Show in Lubbock the past weekend.

Howard County also placed two first alternates.

The culinary contest which determines who will represent District 2 in state competition in June at College Station, was conducted at Texas Tech University Center.

About 140 senior and junior 4-H boys and girls representing 18 South Plains counties vied in the annual event. The two divisions each featured four food classes.

Patty Peugh and Donna James of Howard County, Sherry Rohre of Terry County and Catherine Parker of Swisher County are senior winners.

Alternates include Kayla Gaskins and Kaye Hunt of Howard County, Benny Halameick of Terry County and Bev Owens of Gaines County.

Junior winners are Carmen Holman of Howard County, Harvey Duke of Terry County and Lisa Gates and Lynda Maunders of Lubbock County. Junior winners cannot compete in state competition.

The four food classes of the show were main dishes, side dishes, breads and desserts and snacks and beverages.

Patty Peugh's main dish of "Texas Green Peppered Pork Steak with Brown Rice," Donna James' bread and dessert dish of "Sandstrom Rolls," Sherry Rohre's "Broccoli Supreme" side dish and Catherine Parker's "Palo Duro Chili" snack and beverage dish were the culinary delights.

The show was sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Contestants are winners in county competition.

Local Coeds Win Rodeo Honors

Howard College girls captured the women's team honors at the Southwest region competition of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association at Tarleton State Saturday.

Carolyn Roan took first in barrel racing, Kay Proctor second, and Tona Pettigrew sixth. In addition to the team trophy, the HC showing pushed Kay Proctor into the regional lead in barrels, followed by Tona Pettigrew.

Engate Hawk of HC took third in bull riding. Raleigh McCullough, who has a big lead in the regional standings, had the rare (for him) experience of being bucked off.

The team goes to San Angelo Thursday for another round in the NICRA, this one hosted by Angelo State University, said Byron Hedges, coach.

Why Do You Have A Poor Memory?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see, hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training method in a new booklet, "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Send your name, address, and zip code to: Memory Studies, 555 E. Lange St., Dept. 608-50, Mundelein, Ill. 60060. A postcard will do.

Day Room To Be Opened Again

KERRVILLE — The newly remodeled day room at the Kerrville Veterans Hospital will be dedicated Thursday at 2:00 p.m. The department commander of The American Legion, Lynn Steward, will be present for the dedication, also the department president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Jack L. Whitson.

This project was initiated by the immediate past department president, Mrs. Richard A. Philebar, who is continuing the project this year. The cost for each room is approximately $5,000, which is donated by the Department of Texas Auxiliary. New furniture and drapes have been purchased, in addition to the redecorating.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS
Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KJ1063 ♥KQ76 ♦Q54 ♣K
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 NT Pass ?

What is your rebid?
A.—Three hearts. Despite the fact that you are aceless and partner is a passed hand, there is no reason why you should not complete the description of your holding. Game in a major could be a fair proposition. Our second choice would be three no trump—we would not even consider passing.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠7 ♥A92 ♦10985432 ♣73
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Dble.
Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—North's double is not purely for takeout—he has available four no trump for that purpose. The double shows cards, and North expects to defeat four spades. Nevertheless, your length in diamonds suggests that partner's high cards in that suit might not take tricks. Five diamonds is a sound two-way action—you could make the contract while the opponents have four spades, and if you go down, the loss should not be great.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠8 ♥543 ♦J82 ♣AQ10943
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♠ 2 ♥ ?

What action do you take?
A.—Pass. This you are a passed hand, don't even consider three clubs, which might force partner to three spades. If partner rebids his suit and that gets passed to you, you can then mention your suit.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KQJ54 ♥1082 ♦943 ♣76
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♦ Dble. 1 ♠ ?

What action do you take?
A.—Follow the example of the chap who said: "I seen my duty and I done it!" Partner has asked for your best suit, so follow instructions and bid two hearts. Do not consider a bid of one no trump, which shows fair values, or two clubs, the cheapest suit to show a bust. With one more spade and one less heart, the latter bid would be acceptable.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠KQ10982 ♥5 ♦763 ♣82
Partner opens the bidding with one diamond. What is your response?
A.—Four spades. First, because you might make it, and secondly, the opponents might have a good spot in hearts and your preemptive bid could keep them out of the auction.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, you have 60 on score, and as South you hold:
♠KQ9 ♥AQ9 ♦AQ6 ♣J92
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♠ Dble. 1 NT Pass
Pass Dble. Pass 2 ♥
Pass Pass 2 NT Pass
Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—You have a very fine hand, to be sure, but there is no reason why you should subject your side to a loss. Your partner has told you that he is poverty-stricken, so your chances of making nice tricks are virtually nil. Let the opponents struggle in their contract—with a bit of luck, you might defeat them.

Q. 7—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AKJ543 ♥8 ♦Q832 ♣A6
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—The you have the ace in partner's suit, your hand falls slightly below the requirements for a jump rebid of three spades. You should content yourself with a rebid of two spades and await partner's reaction before making any aggressive move.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠J76 ♥10932 ♦542 ♣82
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Dble. Pass ?

What action do you take?
A.—Partner has asked for your best suit, so follow instructions and bid two hearts. Do not consider a bid of one no trump, which shows fair values, or two clubs, the cheapest suit to show a bust. With one more spade and one less heart, the latter bid would be acceptable.

Title Bout Confused By Referee Squabble

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — A hassle over the identity of the judges and the referee threw the George Foreman-Ken Norton heavyweight title fight into a boiling stew of Latin tempers, threats and mad confusion today.

tered principally on the identity of the judges and the referee. "Sadler is reported anxious to have an American, Jimmy Rouseau of Seattle, as the third man in the ring. The Venezuelan Boxing Commission insists that this is its private prerogative. It wants to designate a set of purely Venezuelan officials.

"Each of the three bodies — the WBA, WBC and the commission — should pick one official," he said, supporting the Foreman camp. The WBA and the Venezuelans ganged up in opposition.

Plague Of Kidnaping

There has been a frightening increase in kidnapings in recent months in the United States. Yet with the exception of the kidnaping of Patricia Hearst on Feb. 4, every incident seems to have been motivated by greed rather than by politics.

In the case of Miss Hearst, the Symbionese Liberation Army is involved. Instead of cash ransom for her release, the kidnapers have demanded food for the poor. Yet no one pretends to know much about this self-proclaimed "army," except that it monolithically sets itself above the law.

The other kidnapings recall the Roaring Twenties and the Violent Thirties. Gamblers and rum-runners and beer and liquor distributors routinely kidnaped and killed members of rival gangs. But the nation was alarmed in 1932 when the 20-month-old son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh was kidnaped.

Congress responded by passing in the same year the Lindbergh Act which made it a federal offense to carry a kidnaped person across a state line.

Through much of the decade, though, kidnaping incidents were not infrequent. But almost without exception the FBI nabbed the kidnapers.

Kidnaping in the United States seems to follow cyclical patterns. One kidnaping is imitated by others. Then there is a lull, after which the pattern is repeated.

In general, one of the impressive aspects of this phenomenon is the near certainty that kidnapers will be caught and punished, sometime within hours or days. Yet this does little to relieve the anguish of the victim and his family, and, too, there are exceptions. The thing which sets the current wave apart is that it comes during an era when terror has been injected as an uncivilized weapon in a supposedly civilized world. Kidnaping is one of the most despicable of all crimes and every resource of government must be brought to bear against it.

We Hope He's Right

At this point in time — to borrow one of the worst clichés and bits of redundancies to come along in many a season — the effects of the energy crisis on our tourist industry is uncertain.

One who predicts that it may not be as damaging as it could be is Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who says some in the energy industry are predicting ample gasoline for the summer. If this bit of forecasting is borne out, it's cause for optimism. More than 16 million visitors came to Texas in 1972 (figures are not in on 1973), and they spent $1.3 billion. An estimated 85 per cent of these came by private car, the average out-of-state tourist travelling 1,444 miles in Texas.

It requires no special expertise to project the implications of that on Texas economy, also upon the Texas Highway Department which relies upon the gasoline tax. For the sake of all, we hope the lieutenant governor's reading is correct. If there is any sizeable curtailment, it may mean that tourists will stick more closely to the key arteries such as IS-20 and US 87, which means we need to do a better job in accommodating these patrons.

Assault On Language

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

This and that: I've always thought that people who go to work for the government are ordered first to take a course in the Unknown Tongue.

THEY NEVER succeed, after that, until they master the art of distorting the language with words that no one understands. Did you ever receive a communication from some government bureau that you nor no one about you could interpret? That, of course, include income tax forms that not even people in the Department of Internal Revenue quite understand.

IF YOU'VE been victimized and neutralized by this sort of mail, you probably can appreciate the story of communication failure concerning a plumber who had found hydrochloric acid excellent for cleaning drains.

A cautious soul, he wrote a Washington bureau to find out if it was harmless. Someone in Washington replied thusly:

"The efficacy of hydrochloric acid is indisputable, but the chlorine residue is incompatible with metallic permanence."

The plumber, pleased but puzzled, wrote back and thanked the agency, adding he was very glad that they agreed that hydrochloric acid was good for cleaning pipes. Back came the reply:

"We cannot assume responsibility for the production of toxic and noxious residues from hydrochloric acid, and we suggest therefore that some alternative procedure be used."

THE PLUMBER answered that he was getting excellent results so far, and ventured the opinion that the bureau might like to suggest the use of hydrochloric acid to other people.

Ultimately, someone in Washington (obviously new to the bureaucratic system), exploded into lucid, simple, understandable language for the plumber, writing thusly:

"Don't use hydrochloric acid! It eats hell out of the pipes!"

WHAT EVER happened to that tennis bum, Bobby Riggs? Someone who professes to know says he is alive and well and living with Howard Hughes.

Did you ever clean out your attic, box it up for the garbage collector, only to discover the following morning that someone had decided he could put it to use and carted everything away, including the box? That invariably get you to wondering whether there really was anything of value in the collection.

Mills Ignored

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — In the midst of their angry war of words, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills has secretly advised President Nixon to make voluntary payment of back taxes immediately — a conciliatory step contradicting the hard line now ascendant in the White House.

ALTHOUGH MILLS is silent about private contracts with the White House, word has seeped from Capitol Hill of a conversation last week between him and a senior Nixon aide. For the second time in less than a month, Mills recommended that amended tax returns be filed by Mr. Nixon before congressional investigators publicly report on his taxes.

In fact, such a course was seriously considered by Mr. Nixon even before the first Mills recommendation but rejected as incompatible with the hard line installed as basic Nixon strategy late last year. Accordingly, the highly probable White House response to the new overture will be to continue its personal attack on Mills' reputation and credibility while volunteering no admissions or apologies for the President's tax-paying practices.

THAT IS A high-risk policy with nothing less than the presidency at stake. In attempting to shift public scrutiny from the President to Mills, Nixon strategists are gambling that the congressional tax report will not contain enough new disclosures to stir massive public reaction. Mills is contending it will do just that, and many Republican Congressmen fear he may be right.

MR. NIXON'S personal taxes have always been a sideshow threatening to eclipse the Watergate main event. Whereas accusations of complicity in the Watergate obstruction of justice are inherently more serious, tax cheating is more comprehensible to the general public and, in a political sense, more menacing to Mr. Nixon.

ON JAN. 25, well-informed presidential aides told Mr. Nixon had tentatively decided to file amended returns, but instead he embraced the doctrine of admit nothing, apologize for nothing, and explain very little, the President decided to tough it out on taxes as on everything else.

IN ANNOUNCING for reelection to the House in Little Rock March 9, Mills answered a question with his widely criticized contention that tax troubles could hurt the President worse than Watergate. This view has long been voiced privately by Mills and publicly by New York economic consultant Eliot Janeway an intimate adviser to Mills. The White House counter attacked Mills but did not break, and even last week there was context between the two as late as last week.

Watch For Kite Weather

"Kite weather" sent eight-year-old Jimmy into an open field to try his luck. Using a thin copper wire for a string, he soon had his box kite scudding into the sky.

THEN, TRAGEDY. Jimmy's kite crossed a high-tension power line and deadly voltage cracked downward, killing him instantly.

Could the power company be held legally liable by the boy's family? In a court hearing, they blamed his death on the fact that the high-tension line had not been insulated.

HOWEVER, the court held the company not responsible. The judge said Jimmy's use of copper wire instead of an ordinary string was too unusual to have been foreseen and guarded against.

Courts generally agree that power companies cannot be expected to take precautions against freak accidents. Nevertheless, since electricity is such a dangerous product, they do carry a higher-than-average burden of responsibility.

IN ANOTHER case, as a boy's kite snagged on a power pole. When he climbed the pole to retrieve his kite, he touched an uninsulated line and suffered a bad burn.

This time, three factors weighed against the company:

- 1) that the pole was right next to a playground;
- 2) that it had low steps, easy for children to climb; and
- 3) that no DANGER signs had been posted.

A court duly awarded damages to the injured boy, saying that the company could fairly have foreseen this kind of an accident.

AND TREE climbing is even more foreseeable than pole climbing. Thus:

A boy got a shock from an uninsulated wire that passed through the upper branches of a tree in front of his house. Sued later for damages, the power company pointed out that there was nothing in the tree — no snagged kite, no frightened kitten, no tempting fruit — that would justify the boy's venture into the treetop.

BUT THE court held the company liable anyhow, for misjudging human nature.

"The immemorial habit of small boys to climb trees," said the court, "is a habit which corporations stretching their wires over such trees must take notice of."

Time Flies

PETROVARAEIN, Yugoslavia (AP) — The 270-year-old clock on the ancient castle overlooking the Danube River here keeps the right time although it has been repaired only four times so far — in 1790, 1837, 1941 and 1952. The clock has a curiosity: the big hand points at hours and the small one at minutes.

A Devotion For Today

When I look at thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars which thou hast established; what is man that thou art mindful of him? (Psalm 8:3-4)

PRAYER: God of all the universe, give us wisdom and understanding to look beyond the limitations of our physical world to the limitless possibilities which lie open before us by Your grace. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

My mother criticizes young people for using pot; yet she is a compulsive pill taker. She pops them in her mouth all day long. Her doctor gives her prescriptions for drugs that I'm sure she doesn't need. I think she's mentally ill. How can I check it out?

The answer is that you can't check it out. Determining illness, be it mental or physical, is the work of a competent doctor.

You are certainly at liberty, however, to share your opinion. As a son or daughter, your reaction to her behavior is important. I'm sure she'll accept it that way.

Now, don't be too sure she is not in need of medicines. She may have a malady of which you're unaware. Get her to see the doctor, however, of subsisting on too many drugs. Tell her of the fear she should have of building up a dependency on these medications.

Our society is committed to chemical magic in personality determination. In its secular blindness, it seems deluded into thinking that artificial mood changers can really alter facts, and produce the good life.

Actually, a certain amount of suffering, anxiety and pain are legitimate tools that shape us into mature and compassionate beings.

'IT'S MOST FORTUNATE I HAPPENED BY... IT'S HUNDREDS OF MILES TO THE NEXT GAS STATION...'

The believer on Christ is entitled to the help of medicine and doctors. Beyond that, however, he can call difficulties as the Psalmist did in chapter 119, "The best thing that could have happened to me for it taught me to pay attention to your laws." (v. 71.)

Flood Insurance Program

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Even before ecology became paramount, insurers knew that civilization and nature often mixed poorly, especially when drainage areas were paved for parking and factories were built on flood plains.

When available, flood insurance sold at forbidding prices, and most agents and homeowners and businessmen didn't even consider such protection. Inflation clashed two years ago, ing matter.

That notion persisted among businessmen and homeowners, even though in recent years a federally subsidized program makes low-cost flood insurance available to communities that take certain precautions against inundation.

And so, when nature and civilization clashed two years ago few homeowners or businessmen had any insurance at all. More than $1.7 billion of damage was done by floods in the East, and only a small fraction was insured.

The destruction in Rapid City, S.D., from another flood provides stark details:

In that Black Hills community about 700 homes, 150 business structures and 500 mobile homes were destroyed. Hundreds of other homes were damaged.

After the rains ceased it was learned that only 27 homes and 2 businesses had flood insurance. The total loss was about $100 million, but only $166,451 was covered by flood insurance.

It became clear that few people in Rapid City knew that their community was eligible for low-cost flood insurance, subsidized by the government and sold through company agents in the same manner as any other insurance.

Since the disasters of two years ago flood insurance has caught on. In November 1970, only 42,900 policies existed, providing $673 million of coverage. As of Jan. 31, 1973, policies provided $5.5 billion of coverage.

The 1972 floods spurred many flood-prone communities to qualify for the National Flood Insurance Program. From May 31, 1972 to May 31, 1973, the number of qualified communities jumped to 2,275 from 1,201. It now exceeds 3,000.

To become eligible, communities must agree to zoning and land use restrictions — to restrain civilization from encroaching on the water's rights, so to speak. Requirements met, almost any agent can provide the coverage. As a result of legislation signed Dec. 31, 1973, the limits of coverage have been greatly enlarged.

Single-family homes may be insured for up to $35,000, double the earlier limit. Two-family to four-family structures and small businesses may be insured for up to $100,000, compared with $30,000 previously.

The residential policy costs 25 cents for each $100 of insurance, with the minimum premium pegged at $25. For the maximum coverage of $35,000 a homeowner would pay $87.50. The nonresidential rate is 40 cents a $100.

Contents also may be insured, in residential buildings for a maximum of $10,000 at 35 cents for each $100, and in non-residential structures for up to $100,000 at a 75 cents per $100 rate.

Rectal Itching Causes

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have written to you before, and also to others about my condition which I have had for over 20 years, pruritus ani. Is there a conspiracy of silence on this? — T.L.

No such conspiracy here, and I've discussed it a number of times in the last 20 years. I try not to repeat the same topic too often. It depends on how many ask about something. Pruritus ani ("rectal itching") bothers an estimated 10 per cent of the population, but the conspiracy of silence, if there is one is on the part of the victims who so often are shy about asking.

That's too bad, because there are few cases that won't yield to proper treatment.

The majority of cases fall into what is known as the "primary type". That is, no visible cause can be detected. I'll discuss that in a moment.

In the "secondary" types, a specific cause can be determined and treated. Commonest is rectal disease — hemorrhoids, fissures, polyps or any condition that causes a seepage from the rectum.

Perhaps next in frequency is allergy to various things — to certain foods, to alcohol (particularly beer), to underwear fabric or toilet tissue.

A variety of other causes exist: psoriasis, seborrheic dermatitis, pinworms, crab lice, vitamin deficiency, diabetes, discharge in women with a vaginitis. Most of these cases can be treated effectively, but I offer no home remedies because in virtually all of them you need the help of a physician for both diagnosis and treatment.

Now to the "primary type." Scrupulous anal (rectal) hygiene is essential. First, check your toilet paper. Texture of the paper itself or dyes or chemicals in the paper can be irritants. Quite a few sufferers have reported success by changing from colored paper to white.

But some should avoid paper entirely and instead use a pledget of cotton moistened with water. Follow with dry cotton to remove all moisture, and then place a small bit of cotton against the anus and leave it there to absorb perspiration.

Some people place a good deal of reliance on ointments of one kind or another, and they may help, but they also tend to keep the skin too soft, which contributes to continued itching.

A steroid (cortisone-type) ointment, however, is very effective in stopping such itching.

In some stubborn cases surgery to sever the nerves under the skin may be necessary, but that's an extreme remedy.

For the greater majority, the remedies explained for "primary type" will bring relief: keeping the area clean and keeping it dry, and avoiding alcoholic drinks. A Sitz bath (sitting in a tub of hot water) also helps, both in cleanliness and prompt relief of itching. Be sure to dry thoroughly afterward.

Grant Is Awarded

ATLANTA — The Exxon Education Foundation has awarded a grant of $75,000 to the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) to launch a three-year project which will compile state and regional manpower information and seek ways to apply such data to educational planning and advisement.

In announcing the Foundation's partial support of the new "Manpower and Education" project, Dr. Winfred Godwin, President of SREB, said: "Post-secondary educational planning must become increasingly alert to the future manpower needs of society."

If Oil Were Liquor, Uncle Sam Would Know Where To Find It

WASHINGTON (AP) — If oil were liquor, the government would know where to find virtually every drop of it.

FAST AS FLASK

The national debate over whether the energy crisis is real or contrived would disappear as fast as a flask of whiskey at a college football game.

The Treasury Department's Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division keeps such close tabs on liquor and beer inventories and key so that no liquor is illegally removed.

FOR SURE

All this is done for tax purposes, to collect the federal levy on beer and alcoholic beverages. The controls on inventories are more than 100 years old, but have been altered over the years.

In addition to domestically produced liquor and beer, the Customs Bureau keeps accurate records on alcoholic beverages shipped from other countries.

The Treasury's liquor and beer watchers number about 800 nationally. They conduct spot inspections, check records required by law, and handle "work-back" audits to make sure distilleries and breweries aren't misleading the government.

Treasury officials in charge of the program didn't know whether the same kind of inventory controls could be put on the oil industry.

But one thing is for sure. If the nation ever had a liquor shortage, there'd be no question about whether it was real.

Milk Money Helps Mills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unfolding story of the milk-fund affair has turned up new irregularities in the 1972 campaign finances of several Democrats, including Rep. Wilbur D. Mills and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

Associated Milk Producers Inc., the nation's largest dairy cooperative, paid $137,000 in corporation funds to help buy costly computer-mail lists for Humphrey, Sen. James Abourezk of South Dakota, Gov. Robert Docking of Kansas, Gov. David Hall of Oklahoma, and the Iowa Democratic party of Sen. Harold Hughes.

A Watergate grand jury has heard testimony about the payments. Federal law prohibits use of corporation funds to assist campaigns.

And the giant dairy cooperative reportedly used company funds to pay salaries and expenses, including apartment and furniture rent, for two key workers in the draft-Mills campaign in the last months of 1971 and the early weeks of 1972, before the Arkansas Democrat announced himself as an active presidential candidate. The payments are outlined in a report commissioned by the cooperative's board, which was obtained from court records.

Mills, contacted Saturday at his home in Kensett, said, "I know of no AMPI corporate funds that came in at all."

Mills, asked about the statement that the cooperative paid rent for the Washington apartments of the campaigners as well as rent for their leased furniture, said, "I know nothing about that either. That was not in my campaign; that was in the Draft Mills campaign."

Young Demos Ask Amnesty For Evaders

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Bill Brannon of Denton was elected the new president of Texas Young Democrats Sunday as the group ended its convention asking amnesty for draft evaders.

Brannon said that as new state president he hoped "to give young people more of a sense of political efficiency."

He asked for representation from the Young Democrats on the Texas Democratic Executive Committee.

In asking amnesty for draft evaders and voting rights for the ex-convicts, the Young Democrats also called for state funding of public education, the creation of a statewide utility regulation commission and pari-mutuel betting.

Resolutions passed by the group included:

- One calling for the legalization of marijuana.
- Another calling for a woman and her doctor to decide on abortions without "legal interference."
- Support for the United Farm Workers.
- Opposition to the "right to work" law which was described as "misnamed."
- And one asking that 18-year-olds be permitted to run for the Texas Legislature.

Accuse Two Of Threatening To Blow Up Control Tower

DALLAS (AP) — Authorities seized two men Sunday and accused them of threatening to wreck the traffic control tower at the Dallas-Fort Worth airport unless they were paid more than $100,000.

J. Gordon Shanklin, agent in charge here for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, identified the pair as Jerry Lynn Orrick, 28, and William Wade Fuller, 38, both of Dallas.

Shanklin said they would be arraigned before a U.S. magistrate today on an extortion charge.

The FBI spokesman said Braniff International Airlines President C. Edward Acker received a letter Friday demanding that the money be handed over by Sunday under threat of destroying the new control tower at the big regional airport.

Peace officers refused to disclose how much money was sought. The Dallas News later said it learned that Acker was directed to leave $127,000 in a potato sack at a designated spot.

Shanklin reported Dallas police and sheriff's officers teamed with his men in seizing Orrick after he picked up the package left where the letter demanded. Other sources said one officer leaped onto a running board and another into the bed of a pickup truck as Orrick started to drive away in the vehicle.

FBI agents took Fuller into custody slightly more than three hours later at a Dallas bar, Shanklin said.

Both men were lodged in the Dallas County jail to await the filing of a formal complaint.

Shanklin declined to say how the letter writers threatened to destroy the control tower or when their missive was delivered to Acker.

Spokesmen for the airport said searches of the tower yielded no bomb or other destructive device.

Green Berets Get Out Of Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The Thai army today honored the U.S. Army Special Forces at an airport ceremony as the last 300 Green Berets left the country.

The ceremony marked the end of 14 years of Special Forces activity in Thailand. Based at Lopburi, 100 miles north of Bangkok, Green Berets trained Thai soldiers in special warfare techniques.

About 35,000 U.S. servicemen are still stationed in Thailand.

Baritone In Original Stamps Quartet Dies

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP) — Funeral services are scheduled Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Central Baptist Church in Clovis for Odis "Pop" Echols, the baritone in the original Stamps Gospel Music Quartet in the mid-1920s.

Echols, 70, died Saturday night at his home after an apparent heart attack.

Echols, with the Stamps Quartet when it sang the 1927 hit recording of "Give the World a Smile," also claimed the song, "Sugartime," made popular by the McGuire Sisters in the 1950s.

Echols and his son, Odis Jr., purchased Radio Station KCLV in Clovis in 1953 and kept it for 18 years. They also owned Radio Station KINT in El Paso, Tex., for about five years.

He was named New Mexico Broadcaster of the Year in 1970 by the New Mexico Broadcasters Association.

Survivors include his son, Odis Jr., a candidate for the Democratic party nomination for governor of New Mexico; the widow, Onetta; and a brother, Coy Echols of Clovis.

Echols was married last October to Onetta White of Levelland, Tex., several years after his first wife, Grace, died.

STARTED MUSTACHE

Echols' fellow singers in the original Stamps Quartet were the late Frank Stamps of Dallas, Tex.; Palmer and Roy Wheeler, both formerly of Fort Towson, Okla., with Dwight Brock, Dallas, on the piano.

"The Beatles started long hair. I started the mustache," Echols once said. He said mustachioed gospel singers emerged after he grew his mustache in 1935.

Echols said the Stamps group of the early 1920s was a rebel in its day.

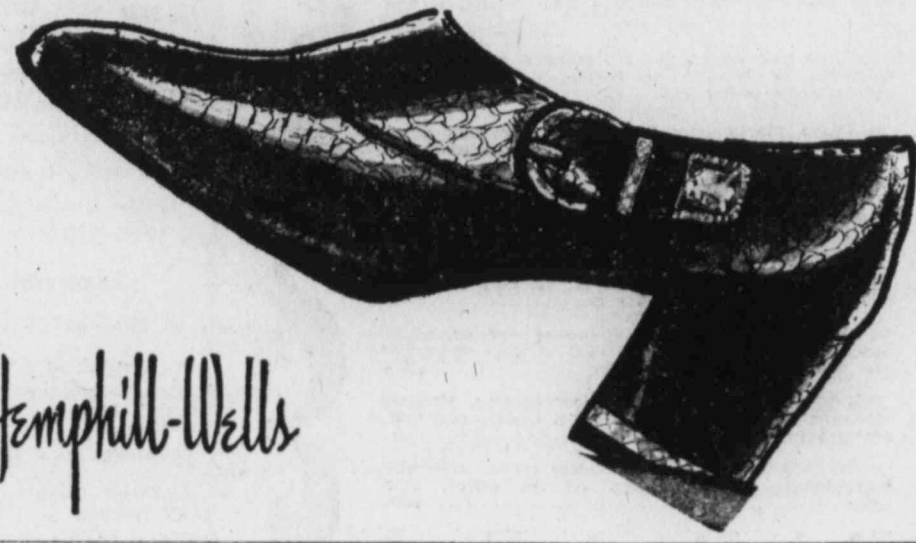

"We were called modern, and we almost were thrown out by some churches," he said. "Some people thought we were a little too rhythmic. We were the first gospel singers to do rhythm type spirituals."

He later worked with the Stamps family and J. R. Baxter Jr. in the Stamps-Baxter School of Music for several years.

Echols was one of the original owners of the Louisiana Hayride Country music broadcast show and was credited with giving major career boosts to Tommy Sands and Faron Young.
