WEIRD CASE

Four Black Men Kidnap Small Boy

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Police and FBI agents sought the whereabouts today of a small white boy apparently kidnaped late Wednesday night by four Negroes from in front of a Fort Worth bowling alley.

Officers said they have had no missing persons reports and few clues in the bizarre incident at the Brunswick Bowlerland about 11 p.m.

ABDUCTORS CHOKED CHILD

Police said Earl Schneider, 9, told them he and a friend, Ty Kitchen, 10, saw the tyke, described as about three years old, wearing blue tennis shoes and a blue shirt, dragged into a car by four men. Police said the boys, and Richard D. Brown, 21, another witness, told them the child was screaming and crying as one of the abductors choked him, then forced the little boy into a car which sped away.

Police Sgt. John Thompson said witnesses told him the frightened child had his face and hands pressed against the automobile window as the black and white Ford Torino roared off into the darkness.

Uncle Sam Not Expected To Pay $500,000 Ransom

HERMOSILLO, Mexico (AP) — American officials here maintained silence today on details of the kidnaping of an American commercial attaché, but they weren't expected to meet a reported $500,000 ransom demand.

CANCELED TRIP

John Patterson, 31, of Philadelphia, Pa., disappeared last Friday, reliable sources in Washington said, but the kidnaping was kept secret until U.S. Atty. Gen. William Saxbe referred to it Wednesday morning at a news conference. Saxbe said he canceled a trip to Mexico City because he feared the kidnapers would link his visit to the abduction.

CONFIRMED INCIDENT

The State Department later confirmed the incident. John Hushen, a spokesman for the Justice Department in Washington, said Saxbe had never been told U.S. authorities were keeping the kidnaping secret.

The ransom demand for Patterson was slipped under the door of the Hermosillo consulate and was signed by the People's Revolutionary Army of Mexico, Washington sources said.

YOUNG DAUGHTER

The U.S. government opposes meeting ransom demands. When the American consul general in Guadalajara, Terrance

G. Leonhardy, was abducted last May and leftists demanded $80,000, his family had to borrow the money to get him back.

Patterson moved to Hermosillo, 150 miles south of the border, with his wife and young daughter three months ago. The Mexican attorney general's office said he was last seen driving away from the consulate with an unidentified American. The car was found abandoned.

Persons at the hotel where the Pattersons were living said Mrs. Patterson left the hotel Wednesday morning and did not return. But they reported that from Friday until Wednesday she gave no indication that anything was wrong.

Employees at the hotel said the couple's daughter, who was about 4 years old, left Hermosillo several days ago, and it was believed she had been taken to New York.

$2.30 Hour Minimum Pay Bill Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today passed the bill increasing the minimum wage to $2.30 an hour, after receiving definite word that President Nixon would sign it.

The 71-19 vote sent the compromise measure to the House which was scheduled to forward it on to Nixon this afternoon.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., chief Republican sponsor of the bill, told his colleagues the White House had advised it would be signed.

The bill also would bring an additional 7 million workers under the wages and hours act including 1 million domestics.

The President vetoed a somewhat similar bill last year but the word at the Capitol is that he would sign the new version.

The increase would raise the present $1.60 wage floor to $2.30 for 56 million workers in a series of steps. The first step would be on May 1.

TRIAL CONTINUES — John Mitchell, former U.S. attorney general, points from the back seat of his car outside federal court in New York Wednesday. Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans are on trial accused of trading influence for a political contribution from financier Robert Vesco. John Dean, former White House lawyer, ended his testimony for the government Wednesday. See story, Page 12-B.

Sales Tax Record

All records were shattered with receipt of the city's fourth-quarter sales tax payment from the state.

The yield was $153,771, far above $129,299 for the same quarter the previous year. It also was well above the $128,000 on the third quarter's business of 1973.

All during 1973, said Robert Massengale, city comptroller, the sales tax payments had been running about 12 per cent above 1972, but in the fourth quarter the gain was a whopping 19 per cent.

Gasoline Pumps Dry In Borden

Borden County ran out of gas Tuesday with not a single gallon available in the county.

Both stations at Gall were out and citizens were "a little uneasy since it's 30 or 40 miles to anyplace," a spokesman from Judge Glen Toombs office stated here today.

"There was an emergency tank for sheriff's vehicles so if somebody had been hurt, we could have probably gotten him to a hospital."

H. Z. Blanchard, state senator from Lubbock, helped obtain gasoline for one of the stations Wednesday and they were still seeking gasoline for the other station today.

Borden County produces an estimated 25,000 barrels a day and probably is among the top 30 counties in the state in oil production.

Public Financing Provisions Remain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted 61 to 33 against taking public financing provisions out of a campaign reform bill.

But Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., author of the amendment defeated Wednesday, has another proposal to eliminate federal subsidies for candidates for the Senate and the House.

The latest amendment would leave only presidential candidates eligible for tax funds to use in their general election campaigns or in seeking nomination.

"Let's see if members of the House and the Senate want to subsidize their own primary and general election campaigns," Allen said.

Soviet Proposals Fall Short Of 'Breakthrough'

LONDON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger flew toward home today with Soviet proposals that fall short of the "conceptual breakthrough" needed to produce a new treaty limiting nuclear weapons.

However, a joint United States-Soviet communique said the two sides had agreed "there are possibilities for reaching mutually acceptable solutions," and that they were determined to keep making "energetic efforts to find such solutions."

GO AHEAD

A senior U.S. official acknowledged the Soviet proposals fell short of what Kissinger sought, but he said President Nixon intends to go ahead with a summit meeting with Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet Communist party leader, in Moscow in early summer.

Without detailing the differences, the official said flatly: "What they gave us is not acceptable."

He added, however, that the United States would try to come up with counterproposals, and that Kissinger probably will go back to Moscow in May.

SUMMIT MEETING

In the meantime he will confer regularly with Anatoly F. Dobrynin, Soviet ambassador to Washington and will see Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at a United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York next month. Technical negotiations will also continue in Geneva between the United States and Soviet representatives.

Kissinger flew to Moscow last weekend saying he expected a breakthrough to set the stage for an agreement in Geneva that Nixon and Brezhnev could sign at their third summit meeting.

Acknowledging that this forecast was too optimistic, the official said of Kissinger's discussions with Brezhnev over the last three days: "There was movement but I would not yet describe it as a breakthrough."

At the same time, there was an evident shift in U.S. strategy during Kissinger's Kremlin visit. Instead of seeking a permanent ban on offensive nuclear weapons, the two sides now are concentrating on trying to agree on "add-ons" to the 1972 U.S.-Soviet treaty.

The pact, signed by Nixon and Brezhnev at their first summit, limited defensive systems and established controls on some offensive weapons for five years.

Kissinger and Brezhnev concentrated principally on missiles carrying multiple warheads.

Probing Gambling In Big D

DALLAS (AP) — A millionaire builder, a restaurant owner, two policemen and the ex-husband of Maureen Dean, wife of former White House counsel John Dean, have been called before a federal grand jury here probing gambling connections between Dallas and Las Vegas.

WED TO BEAUTY

The long-running investigation reportedly involves questions of whether syndicate money is backing high voltage gambling operations in Dallas and throughout North Texas.

Subpoenas have been issued to Joseph Campisi, owner of a popular Dallas eating establishment; wealthy builder James L. Williams; George Owen, former executive with the New Orleans Saints and Dallas Cowboys football team; and city detectives Jerry Curtis and Roy E. Vaughn.

Owen was once married to blonde beauty Maureen Dean who attracted attention during her husband's televised testimony before the Senate Watergate Investigating Committee last summer.

The two peace officers were assigned in 1972 to listen to telephone conversations tape recorded by the FBI in an effort to identify any policemen who may have been dealing with bookmakers.

The FBI used the tapes to haul in 11 Dallas area men in January 1972 on gambling charges but the case was dropped when federal agents refused to divulge the names of their informants.

Air Hearing Will Be Held In BS

The hearing on Texas International Airways' application to suspend service here will be held on June 18 in Big Spring.

Ralph McLaughlin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, brought this word today upon his return from Washington where Wednesday he participated in a pre-hearing conference.

Herman Schuerer, attorney for the Big Spring and Howard County interests fighting TIA's application, insisted that the Civil Aeronautics Board hearing should be held here in the 118th District courtroom, said McLaughlin. The CAB will send its examiner and attorneys here for the testimony.

At the conference Wednesday, both sides agreed to the exhibits and evidence each expects to present or will need from the other.

May 15 was established as the deadline for filing exhibits, and June 7 as the deadline for filing rebuttals of exhibits and testimony.

Jack Manger, vice president, public relations, represented TIA, together with the company attorneys. Previously CAB had denied TIA's bid for a temporary suspension of service pending a final hearing on its application.

Venom Milked From Snakes Goes To Medical Research

JAYCEES PREPARE FOR SHOW — Big Spring Jaycees are preparing for the Rattlesnake Roundup, which is slated to run March 28-31. They will be depending on modern day versions of these 1930 rattlesnake hunters to provide around 3,000 live snakes for the exhibition at the National Guard Armory. The roundup reminded J. C. Woods of this picture from Depression Days in McCullough County. Posing with the serpents were N. A. Mitchell, Van Long and Albert Long.

By JOHN EDWARDS
Rattlesnake venom milked at the Jaycees' Rattlesnake Roundup March 28-31 will go to advance medical research on heart attacks.

Researchers at Colorado State University extract protein from the venom to induce in dogs a state similar to a man's heart attack.

"What we eventually want to do is work on finding drugs or a combination of drugs that will prevent further damage to the heart after a person goes into cardiac shock," a college publication quotes. Carlos A. Bonilla Ph.D.

LETTER TO JCS

In a letter to Fred Simpson, president of Big Spring Jaycees, Dr. Bonilla stated:

"The content of the toxin in the crude venoms is extremely small, and we are attempting to obtain as large a quantity of Crotalus atrox (Western), and other rattlesnake venoms as is humanly possible."

"If you could obtain large quantities of the fresh venom and freeze it readily for us, I feel we should be able to pay you 35-45 cents per cc for Western diamondback and other rattlesnake venoms."

"... we are attempting to set up an animal model to study the events leading to heart attacks (myocardial infarcts) in man."

"Over one million people died last year in this country from heart attacks, and we feel, that the results of our investigation will lead to a much better understanding of this tragic illness."

ROUNDUP SIGHTS

Around 3,000 live rattlesnakes, exotic reptiles, beautiful girls, rocks and a few custom cars will be featured at the Big Spring Jaycees' Rattlesnake Roundup.

Competing in the Miss Diamondback Pageant will be 12 girls at 8 o'clock tonight. The Webb Air Force Base Officers Club will be the scene of the contest, for which admission is free, said Eddie Cole, roundup chairman.

The public is invited to the semi-formal affair. Saturday, March 30, at 10 a.m., the rattlesnake exhibition will be opened to the public at the Texas National Guard Armory by Scenic Mountain. The armory is located on 16th Street near its intersection with Farm Road 700.

RATTLESNAKE DESCRIBED

Delbert Hutchings will demonstrate snake handling between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. The professional snake handler will show how to milk rattlers and tell about their characteristics. (See VENOM, Pg. 2-A, Col. 2)

NIXON IGNORES WATERGATE TROUBLES

Predicts 'Peace Abroad And Prosperity At Home'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Never mentioning his Watergate troubles, President Nixon said his administration is making a record of "peace abroad and prosperity at home that will bring victory to Republicans in next November's elections."

At a time when many Republicans are separating themselves from the White House, the President Wednesday night recited his administration's record and proposals to the party's annual $1,000-a-plate fund-raising dinner and said GOP candidates "can win on that kind of platform."

Although some 2,000 were present, a majority of them got in for free. Officials said the dinner raised close to $700,000, a sum $200,000 below last year's previous record low. Some cheered enthusiastically, while many others applauded only perfunctorily.

Afterward, some expressed surprise at the President's failure to mention what one official said was "the one subject on everybody's mind." GOOD RESPONSE He would have gotten a good response from this audience, Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., told reporters.

"It was a very good speech," said Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., "but obviously he left out the subject he didn't want to talk about." "It's tough to be an administration candidate this year and that was his speech," said one party official.

The closest Nixon came to referring to the threat of impeachment came when he vowed that "over these next three years" his administration would meet its goals for the nation and the world. Even though polls show the GOP in trouble this spring, he said, "in the fall it is going to be different." "We're going to win this fall," he added, declaring his administration had already brought peace and that economic upturn would come later this year.

RPC Reverses Itself, OKs College Grants

By MARJ CARPENTER Usually almost a rubber-stamp group, the Permian Basin Regional Planning Council board of directors suddenly erupted into a wrangling, controversial delegation on the subject of education in their monthly meeting Wednesday at the Terminal.

A group led by Midland Judge Barbara Culver, Martin County Judge Carroll Yater and a Fort Stockton city councilman suddenly attacked and defeated a double project for Odessa College claiming that the program to locate students from deprived educational and economic backgrounds for college entrance could be handled by high school counselors.

The Midland and Martin County judges also came down hard on a Springboard to Opportunity grant for Big Spring's Howard College totaling $87,779. Howard County Judge A. G. Mitchell suddenly stated, "I haven't been on this board too long, but they have been for almost everything. They've been for roads that would bring forty or fifty votes to town and for parks for people to sit around and drink beer and smoke marijuana and now we suddenly turn on education. That doesn't make any kind of sense to me. This program is to help high school students who are having trouble and when I was that age, I could have used some help. I think we should pass this program."

AMEN BROTHER Willie Hammond, Odessa city councilman who fought for the OC grants added, "Amen and I second that. Two wrongs don't make a right, so I'd be for Howard College." The board then did an about face, approved the Howard College grant and went back and approved the Odessa college grant. Mrs. Harlan Huibregtse presented the application for the Howard College grant and answered numerous questions fired at her by the board. They failed to catch her without any answers. Total amount of grants approved were close to $3 million with all others going through with ease.

Davis Named Rehab Chief

Jack Davis of Fort Worth has been named the executive director of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. His selection was announced by Chaplain Lee Butler, president of the board, following a special meeting of the directors Wednesday afternoon. Davis, who currently is the assistant executive director of the Easter Seal Society Rehabilitation Center in Fort Worth, is due to assume his new duties May 1. Kirby Horton is serving in interim director since Jim Thompson left to go to Byron.

Davis, as well as his wife, is a graduate of Central High in San Angelo. He earned his degree in psychology from North Texas State University in 1966 and joined the Goodwill Industries in Fort Worth in 1968. Subsequently he was made director of personnel and rehabilitation prior to accepting his post with the Easter Seal Society in September 1969. While in Fort Worth, he did graduate study at TCU and lacks only a few hours and his dissertation of having his Ph.D. degree. He is a member of Psi Chi, national psychology honor fraternity.

Compliance Date Delayed By Board

The Texas Water Quality Control Board has extended to June 1, 1975 the date when Cosden Oil & Chemical Company will have to be in compliance with board refinery waste water treatment. Cosden asked for, and received, the extension in order to salvage a section of 42-in. main supply line belonging to the Colorado River Municipal Water District. This will have to be done during the low-consumption period, possibly November-February, since it is this line which brings water from Lake Spence. The route of the line is through a basin of a lake in which Cosden plans to impound the outflow from its plant. The lake will be south of the plant and between 1-20 and Eleventh Place extension.

San Angelo Fires It's Salvo For Interstate 27

The long trail of public hearings which covered six cities and nearly three weeks came to an end for this area Wednesday evening when San Angelo fired its salvo in support of southward extension of I-27 through that city. More than 520 persons registered for the final round in the San Angelo City Auditorium, bringing to more than 2,000 persons who appeared at the Texas Highway Department planning section hearings in Lubbock, Lamesa, Big Spring, Snyder, Abilene and San Angelo. Houston has filed for a hearing but no date has been set.

NEW TWIST There were new twists to proposed routes other than the previously mentioned tenders of Lubbock-Snyder-Abilene-Austin-Houston, the US 87 route from Lubbock-San Angelo to intersect with "I-10 west of San Antonio," and the cut-across route Snyder-San Angelo, etc. This time a delegation from Ozona put in a bid for the highway to proceed south to Lamesa, then through Stanton, Big Lake to Ozona.

Big Spring supported San Angelo's presentation. Abilene and Snyder supported the route to Roscoe, thence via I-27 to Abilene and southeast eventually to Houston. Bobby Lemmons of Colorado City said a cut-off from Snyder through his town and Robert Lee to San Angelo would be best. Mayor Norman Lawler of Brady dwelled at length on the efficacy of staying on US 87 through his city, Mason and Fredricksburg, which brought support from the Fredricksburg mayor and delegation.

ODESSA BACKING Gene Garrison, executive vice president of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce, threw his city's weight behind the San Angelo position of routing from Lubbock to San Angelo via US

Shorthorn Group To Hold Dinner

"We want to encourage better business competition and more advantages for small businesses to get a better part of the government pie. It's their money in taxes. Approximately $6 1/2 million is spent at Webb yearly in local purchases and contracting, and we want to give a small business more help. We want everyone to get an opportunity to apply for our business," Fawor added. "We'll stay as long as the people's questions last. We asked the SBA to hold this seminar to explain how to get bonding, management help, pre-performance financing and other assistance. There's very few things the SBA can not or will not provide in assistance, and they love to be asked. Ron Mercer and the Chamber of Commerce have helped us considerably and made a lot of arrangements to help this free advice get home," he said.

CARS, DANCE Early Car Club members here will display a variety of vehicles at the fair barns March 30 and 31. At the Rattlesnake Roundup, the Sunday schedule is similar to Saturday's. The Rattlesnake Dance and snake trophy presentation are two exceptions to this similarity.

Starting at 9 p.m. Saturday, Pride, a local band, will play a variety of music for the dance at the old Cosden Country Club. Tickets will cost $5 per couple in advance at the Chamber of Commerce office. At the door, the price will be $6 per couple. Admission to the snake exhibition will be $1 for adults and 75 cents for children. Part of the proceeds will help pay rattlesnake hunters.

Friday, Jaycees will pay 20 cents per pound for rattlers. Saturday, the price drops to 15 cents per pound, and Sunday, to 10 cents. Refreshments will be served

Absentee Votes Non-Existent

No absentee votes have been cast in the city election, although Thursday is the last day. Absentee votes may be cast at the City Hall. Three incumbents, Mayor Wade Choate, Eddie Acri and Harold Hall are seeking reelection unopposed. There is some indication that a write-in movement may be under way for one of the positions. This is the first year that councilmen run by position in Big Spring.

$20 MILLION CHECKS FLAP

DALLAS (AP) — State police reported there was a bit of a flap today when $20 million in Treasury Department checks disappeared for a time. They said a post office truck carrying the checks left Austin at 6 p.m. Wednesday on route to the big Dallas-Fort Worth regional airport. A dispatcher put out an alert at 2 a.m. because the truck had not reached its destination and was unreported. He cancelled it a few minutes later, however, with an explanation that the vehicle was delayed because its fuel pump failed just north of Hillsboro.

Delegates Due To Finish Work On Finance Article

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Constitutional Convention delegates were expected to take the last few votes today on a finance article that has been bombarded with 97 proposed changes.

If debate is extended, however, it will be because delegates rejected by a 84-78 vote Wednesday a motion to limit amendments to the one that was pending when the convention quit for the day.

BIG BOYS, GIRLS

"At some point in time we have to act like big boys and big girls," said Rep. Terry Doyle, D-Port Arthur. "It's time to now—97 is enough."

Fewer than 10 of those proposals have been adopted in debate that began March 20.

Delegates trying to siphon off Texas highway funds for other state expenses scored a breakthrough Wednesday by voting 87-76 to submit to the people a proposal freezing the fund and channeling future gasoline tax increases to public education and general revenue, which the legislature controls.

The $750 million a year fund is financed primarily by the 5-cent-a-gallon state gas tax, with three-fourths of the revenue going to highways and one-fourth to public schools.

If the proposal is finally approved by the convention, it will be submitted to the voters as a separate issue in November. If they approve, it will become part of Texas' constitution whether the new document is accepted or rejected.

CAN'T VETO

Since it was created in 1945, Doyle said, the highway fund has been "a fund the legislature can't touch and the governor can't veto."

Several attempts during the convention to use part of the existing fund for other expenses, such as mass transportation, have been defeated. Once again Wednesday, delegates rejected a proposal to prohibit a personal state income tax. The vote was 75-70.

A proposal that would require a two-thirds vote of the legislature to enact an income tax failed 82-80.

Delegates defeated 87-78 an amendment to restrict total state income taxes to 6.75 percent of Texas' estimated total personal income, a tax rate which is slightly above the current level.

They also defeated 93-69 a proposal nullifying any state or local government contract that requires employees to be members of a labor union.

'Coyote Getter' In Texas Lashed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Humane Society lawyer says Environmental Protection Agency approval on a test for a chemical coyote killer in Texas is a prelude to widespread poisoning of coyotes in western states.

44 COUNTIES

The experiment, proposed for 44 Texas counties, involves use of the M44 coyote getter, a spring loaded device that fires sodium cyanide into a coyote's mouth when the animal goes for the bait.

Humane Society lawyer Murchison Stewart Madden argued Wednesday for a preliminary injunction that would extend a temporary federal court restraining order until a full trial can be held.

The temporary restraining order expires Friday.

Robert Wendig Jr., lawyer for the EPA, and Asst. Texas Atty. Gen Frank Cooksey argued the experiment is needed to determine effects of the coyote killing device.

Cooksey said Texas ranchers lost an estimated $125 million in livestock last year from coyotes.

Use of sodium cyanide on federal land or in federal predator control programs has been banned since 1972 but the EPA approved the Texas experimental program last January.

SLOPPY

It was to be conducted on private land but personnel would receive federal training.

The Humane Society lawyer charged the federal program is "loose, sloppy and politically motivated."

—Ten of the nation's biggest coal companies have agreed to boost production, open new mines and reduce exports in return for full lifting of federal wage and price controls on the coal industry.

Americans Will Face Higher Medical, Construction Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Director John T. Dunlop of the Cost of Living Council says that Americans will face sharply higher medical bills and construction costs unless Congress permits the administration to continue controls in those areas.

The 2½-year-old program of government controls appeared doomed by the Senate Banking Committee's action Tuesday to reject a bill that would continue limited authority for controls beyond the present April 30 expiration date.

In a news briefing Wednesday, Dunlop commented on the shifting attitudes in Congress toward wage-and-price controls:

"How can we decide the correct economic policy if in June they are on the side of a 90-day freeze and, in March, under no circumstances do they want selective controls?"

School Bill Gains Bus Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a resounding 293-117 vote the House has gone on record against busing of school children across district lines to overcome segregation.

It adopted an amendment that would permit busing only after all other remedies have been tried and failed, then limit it to the school closest or next closest to the pupil's home.

The amendment was added to a bill extending the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), the largest federal school aid program. Senate action still is required.

Similar antibusing legislation was approved by the House in 1972 but died in a Senate filibuster. The managers of the bill predicted it would cause trouble in the Senate this year, too.

Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., said Senate opposition to the amendment would endanger the $18.3-billion school bill to which it was attached. The bill would extend ESEA, which expires June 30, for three more years.

Action on the bill itself is not expected before Friday.

Opponents of the amendment argued that it was unconstitutional and would be no more effective than other antibusing measures, which have been largely ignored by the courts.

But Rep. Marvin L. Esch, R-Mich., who offered the amendment, said it would show the clear intent of Congress that busing across school district lines should not be permitted. The amendment was endorsed enthusiastically by most other members of the Michigan delegation, who clearly hoped the vote would be a message to the Supreme Court, which is considering a controversial busing plan involving Detroit and its suburbs.

Esch's amendment would prevent the federal courts from ordering any busing until such alternatives as assigning pupils to neighborhood schools, permitting voluntary transfers, revising attendance zones and building or closing schools have been tried and proven ineffective.

TO REPRESENT AIRPORT — Charles Parker (left) won the right to represent Airport School in the upcoming County spelling bee by finishing first in a contest held earlier this week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parker, 701 Lorilla. Runnerup in the event was Tammy Burgess (right), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Burgess, 2405 W. 16th. Tammy will compete should Charles not be able to be present.

WASHINGTON CHAMPS — Lorraine Langford, 11, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Langford, 1805 Sycamore, is the champion speller at Washington Elementary and will represent her school at the county bee April 4. If she should not be able to perform, her alternate is Candice Petty, 12 (right), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll R. Perry, 1402 Birdwell. Both are sixth graders.

Pickpocket Must Wear Mittens

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge has sentenced a professional pickpocket to wear mittens on his hands every time he goes out in public for five years.

Superior Court Judge Richard

Hayden, noting that Joseph Buell had spent 19 of his 46 years behind bars on pickpocketing offenses, said he wanted to try to break him of the illicit practice.

Before Buell becomes a mitten wearer as a condition of probation, he must spend a year in county jail, Hayden ordered.

Nixon's Order Called Model For Snooping

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's order giving the Agriculture Department access to tax files on farmers was a model for snooping into tax returns throughout the government, according to a congressional committee.

The order, issued in January 1973, was revoked last week. It permitted the department to inspect more than three million federal income tax returns of farmers to compile mailing lists for statistical surveys.

According to the House foreign operations and government information subcommittee, which held hearings last summer on the plan, "the first executive order had been drawn up as a model for future executive orders opening tax returns for similar statistical uses by other federal agencies."

The panel said in its report that the Justice Department, confirming this, wrote: "The original order was prepared by the Department of the Treasury in language designed to serve as a prototype for future tax return inspection orders."

Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., a member of the parent Committee on Government Operations, asked rhetorically in a separate report whether the first order would allow the Department of Commerce to inspect businessmen's tax returns.

"Is this evidence of a master plan of the federal government to oversee the private affairs of every group of citizens?" he asked. "We were shocked at what we eventually uncovered. 'I for one am not going to stand idly by while the first waves from 1984 wash over me,'" he said.

The 1973 order was announced in a notice in the Federal Register but was not published by the Agriculture Department. Critics on Capitol Hill voiced fears that the government would not restrict itself to information for statistical surveys.

Dr. Don Pearlberg, the Agriculture Department's director of economics, told the committee that the IRS and his department were ready to design safeguards to prevent the abuse of the information.

Watergate, Milk Fund Causing People To Turn Off Politics

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe said Wednesday it is a mistake to blame Watergate on one political party or to call all politicians corrupt.

Speaking to the Oak Cliff Lions Club, the governor said he is asked frequently what effect he thinks Watergate is having on politics in general. "The answer is simple: activities such as Watergate and Sharpstown and the Milk Fund have caused a great many people to turn off politics."

"This doesn't hurt the politicians, frankly, as much as it hurts the public. . . . If we ever needed stronger public participation in political affairs, it is now."

This country's political system is based on the will of the majority, and all rights enjoyed by Americans are based on the system, he said.

"It's easy enough for someone to say: 'Politics is bad and all politicians are corrupt.'"

"But that's an unthinking comment. It's unthinking to blame the political parties—or even one political party—for the evils of Watergate. Crimes are committed by individuals, not by political parties or the political system. . . ."

"There are always those who make blatant political charges without foundation in fact. There are always those who believe, really, in class indictment, no matter how much that smacks of Nazi Germany. There are always those who want to divide and polarize the people for the sake of political gain."

"As governor of this state I have tried to be a unifying force. I have tried to encourage Texans to put aside their minor differences and concentrate on the major issues. . . ."

"I believe we need more statesmanship and less partisanship in conducting the affairs of Texas and the nation."

"If that is a wrong idea, then I am the wrong person to be governor of Texas. But I think most people believe it is the right idea. Most people want their leaders to rise above the narrow partisanship and petty bickering that afflicts politics."

Trying To Ban Hair Sprays Containing Vinyl Chloride

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ralph Nader's Health Research Group urged two federal agencies today to remove from the market immediately all hair sprays and pesticides containing vinyl chloride.

Dr. Sidney M. Wolfe, director of the consumer organization, directed letters to the Food and Drug Administration and the Environmental Protection Agency.

He noted that it has been more than a month since he petitioned for a ban, recalls and public identification of products containing the propellant chemical, linked to several cases of liver cancer among industrial workers.

"Each day this action is delayed, more people will be exposed to this cancer-causing chemical," the letters said. Wolfe said the Health Research Group is aware of two brands of Clairol, Inc., hair spray that, until last year, contained vinyl chloride. He also mentioned that 24 pesticides, including dog and cat sprays, were known to contain the chemical as a propellant. "Clairol's decision that there is no health hazard from vinyl chloride in their hair sprays rests on the erroneous assumption that there are 'safe' levels of exposure to carcinogens," he said. "There is no scientific evidence to support such a concept for vinyl chloride or for any other cancer-causing chemical."

CANCER

Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., a member of the parent Committee on Government Operations, asked rhetorically in a separate report whether the first order would allow the Department of Commerce to inspect businessmen's tax returns.

Clairol Vice President John Menkart told Wolfe in a letter last Friday that a "small amount" of Summer Blonde and Miss Clairol hair spray containing vinyl chloride remains on the market but the firm believes that poses no health hazard.

Wolfe wrote to EPA Administrator Russell Train that his agency has asked pesticide manufacturers for permission to make public the names of products containing vinyl chloride and that it may request them to withdraw the chemical from the pesticides voluntarily.

"Such withdrawals must be mandatory and immediate, if consumer protection is to be insured," he said.

Insurance Claims Down

Those discouraged by the energy crisis, its long lines at the gas pumps and equally high prices, may find it somewhat refreshing to know there is at least one silver lining.

The long lines and skyrocketing prices have been keeping more motorists off the road. The reduction in driving, combined with the national speed limit of 55 m.p.h. has resulted in a dramatic reduction in highway deaths. The National Safety Council has predicted a reduction of 25 per cent in auto accident deaths this year. That in itself is pretty good news.

But whether the silver lining will continue remains to be seen. The reduced traffic death rate has raised the question of whether auto insurance costs should be reduced completely. Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., believes that the government should take steps to limit insurance profits during this period. A bill introduced by Eagleton last November would direct the government to use its authority under the Economic Stabilization Act to cut rates when casualty figures drop.

Editorial Research Reports notes that a two-month ban on premium increases imposed by the Cost of Living Council expired and some industry officials were already talking about rate increases. The Insurance Services Office of New York said on Feb. 25 that increases may be needed to keep pace with inflationary pressures.

Although Texas does control insurance rates to some extent, the issue could affect the Texas insurance consumer. If per chance the State Insurance Board should decide that rates should go down commensurately, any savings to the consumer probably will be eaten up at the gas pump.

May Be An Improvement

Resident in Atlanta at Emory University's Yerkes Primate Research Center is a three-year-old chimpanzee named Lana.

She is described by Dr. Duane M. Rumbaugh of Georgia State University as the most cultured and highly educated non-human primate in the world.

In the past year, the good doctor says, Lana has learned to read and write. She has accomplished this by punching a console connected to a computer.

Her vocabulary has grown to 75 words. In another year or so may expand to 1,000.

"Chimps are far more intelligent than we thought," says Dr. Rumbaugh. "They aren't smart enough to manufacture their own language but can use one that's created for them."

Which is more than some people.

Opposites Attract

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

I was boxing up some memories the other day and throwing out some others and came to the record collection of my early married years.

THAT RECORD collection is a perfect example of a typical marriage. That is — opposites attract and all that noise.

What I mean is that if one of a couple likes open windows and fresh air at night, the other likes a tightly closed room. One likes a soft mattress, and the other prefers hard. One likes heavy quilts and the other an electric blanket.

One hates breakfast and the other likes ham, eggs, hot biscuits and gravy. One loves to dance but hates to play cards and the other loves to play cards but refuses to dance.

One loves to travel to resort motels and the other likes to camp out. One likes breakfast in bed and the other, breakfast over a campfire.

One likes to hunt and kill game and the other cries about the Bambi killer. One likes a neat household with a place for everything and everything in its place. The philosophy of the other is everything in any place that it falls.

One likes beans and corn bread and the other loves exotic salads. One likes fresh cut flowers in the house and they make the other one sneeze.

One prefers long haired men and short haired women and the other likes short haired men and long haired women. One likes tea, the other prefers coffee.

ONE SMOKES. The other one chokes up. One drinks and the other prefers not to imbibe. One is a dedicated church worker and the other prefers to go to Easter.

One likes movies and the other prefers to read. They never agree on television shows. One loves sports. The other hates sports. One likes quiz shows. They make the other one sick. One goes to bed early and rises and shines. The other shines late at night and refuses to get up.

ONE GOES by "spare the rod and spoil the child". The other believes in finding the reason for the action.

One wants only one child, the other wants four. One keeps a neat check-book, and the other keeps no records at all.

One likes to talk on the telephone. The other has been known to pull the phone out of the wall. One believes in yearly appointments with the dentist and doctor. The other believes in letting it all go until disaster strikes.

One likes zoos and walks in the rain. The other likes stock shows and laying in the sun on a beach. One's favorite color is bright yellow and the other prefers deep purple.

One likes winter. The other likes summer. One loves to travel. The other prefers to leave the house on rare occasions. One delights in holidays and birthdays. The other always forgets them.

One loves rich desserts. The other prefers Jello. One likes to work with children and children's groups. The other thinks they should be seen and not heard.

ONE LOVES to garden. The other loves to eat the vegetables and smell the flowers. One likes to swim. The other is afraid they will drown.

One likes to jog. The other one's favorite activity is napping. One likes to shoot and fish. The other loves to paint and sing.

One is handy around the house. The other one says, "Hire an expert." What does my old record collection have to do with all this? Well in going through the stack, they were in this order: Rachinoffs Concerto in C Minor, Ernest Tubbs Walking the Floor Over You, Beethoven's Fifth, Bob Wills Specials; The New World Symphony and I Saw a Rainbow at Midnight. The whole stack's like that. A typical marriage collection.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I wonder if part of your answer in a column earlier this year might be misinterpreted. The question concerned the coming day of judgment. Your conclusion was, and I quote: "Thank God that what Christ has done will make us acceptable to the Father, and we need not fear condemnation at the divine bar." You better explain who the "we" is. T.R.

If you'll reread that column, and incidentally, it was under the date of January 21, you'll see that the last paragraph took its cue from the phrase "the thrust of the Gospel."

Accordingly, my conclusion must be understood in that setting. It's only those who believe the gospel and are truly committed to Christ, which constitute the "we" that I mentioned.

Your question, however, has certain validity, because often Bible truth is camouflaged or hidden under layers of man's philosophy. The true people of God are not limited to any one race, or time or denomination. They come from every tribe and nation. Whenever an individual bows the knee to Christ in repentance and faith, the Holy Spirit brings then and there the new life that voids sin's penalty. Thanks for being such a diligent reader. The things of faith are too important to permit any fuzziness of meaning.

Fight For Savings Dollar

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The fight for the consumer's savings dollar might seem to be one fought mainly in a carnival atmosphere of pennants and prizes and bonuses, but this girding merely hides far more basic considerations.

Banks, securities brokers, mutual funds and insurers are all battling for these dollars, appropriating techniques from each other and fearing not a whit about intruding on each other's territory.

But it is the banks and other savings institutions, once the most severely conventional of all institutions, that are breaking the old mold. Many are selling insurance and stocks, directly or in combination with conventional savings plans.

Criticism, understandably, is mounting. Insurers don't like losing business, of course, but the bankers remind them that insurance's most popular and profitable product, whole life, has always included a savings feature.

Indeed, they point out that insurers paid very little interest on those savings, which are referred to as the cash or borrowing value of the policy. For years they paid about one-half the interest offered by banks.

The brokers are upset that more than 65 national banks now have investment services under which individuals may purchase shares of the nation's 25 largest companies on a regular automatic deduction plan. James Needham, chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, urged the comptroller of the currency this week to ban such plans, which he said are not just a radical departure from convention but a violation of the law.

Needham also believes the mutual fund industry might be forced to sue the banks because of the similarity of product that each is promoting. And mutual funds, it should be noted, are losing business as it is.

At the same time, insurance agents are keeping a wary eye on their stock broker associates, who are trying to nourish their shrunken incomes from stocks by selling insurance. Insurance, the brokers have found, isn't nearly as cyclical or treacherous as stocks.

'Blockage' Mechanical Term

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a woman of 41 and seem to be in perfect health. I have been getting yearly checkups and everything is always fine. On my last checkup I noticed on my chart under the electrocardiogram the wording "first-degree blockage." The doctor told me it was nothing to worry about and I should forget about it.

I never had any heart trouble and I am very puzzled as to what first-degree blockage means. — Mrs. S. F.

An excellent example of why many doctors are reluctant to let patients get a peek at their charts.

The idea of a "heart block" can be very disconcerting to a patient, just from the sound of it.

Actually it is a technical term signifying an increased time for the impulse-to-beat to travel from the auricle to the ventricle — that is, from an upper chamber to the lower chamber of the heart.

This can occur in either men or women without the presence of any heart disease, and without meaning there is any weakness in the heart. It is just a variation.

There are no symptoms. It is a condition which is diagnosed only by the tracing of an electrocardiogram.

What to do about it? Do exactly what your doctor advised. Forget it.

facts that go with it. Is there a booklet that we could get? — C.J.

There is indeed, "Controlling Your Blood Pressure." Send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Recently Acupuncture Need Cited

TORONTO (AP) — Acupuncture should be a priority item in Canadian medical research, Dr. Gustave Gingras, president of the Canadian Medical Assn., said recently. The Montreal physician said major research and controlled clinical trials should be conducted with this Chinese method of anesthetizing patients by manipulating needles in various nerves.

Library Clues

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto library board announced that it has had bought 89 letters and seven postcards signed by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of the fictional detective Sherlock Holmes. The board, which spent $4,000 on the deal, now believes it has the world's best collection of material on Holmes and Conan Doyle.

my wife and I have found out that we are expecting our first child. Of course we are very happy, but at the same time, my wife is worried.

It seems that she has been talking to one of her friends (who has had several children) and has been told that if you have ever had any kind of surgery around the area of the child, that child and any other children will have to be taken by Caesarean. She had an appendectomy about three years ago. — L.B.M.

Having had an appendectomy or any similar operation would have no bearing at all on a decision to have a Caesarean birth.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 67 and have lived with only one kidney since 1936. I like to drink tea and was disappointed recently hearing a doctor on TV make the statement that if tannic acid in tea is very bad for the kidneys. — W.S.

Seems to me it ought to be up to whoever it was on TV to do the explaining — because I would not have said any such thing.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — facts You Need To Know About Them." Write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Without A Party

Robert Novak

RALEIGH, N.C. — Moments after former Democrat John B. Connally delivered a brief, inspirational talk to Republicans packed into the governor's mansion here last week, a Republican candidate for office said:

"HE'S A PRO all right, but he hasn't been in the stable long."

Coming almost one year after Connally switched to the Republican party as the first step toward a probable run for President in 1976, that remark underlines his continuing problems. He is simply not taken all that seriously, even here in a state ideal for Connally-style conservatism, as Republican presidential timber.

THE ONLY presidential prospects discussed in high party circles here are Vice President Gerald Ford, far in front, and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California. In fact, apart from his presidential ambitions, Connally's services as a campaigner for Republican candidates this year are considered only marginally useful in North Carolina.

"Connally would help me with money," said one such Republican candidate, "but he'd lose as many votes for me as he'd make." The reason: Connally is a Republican to the Democrats — but he is still a Democrat to Republicans — in short, a man without a party.

IN PRIVATE, Connally tells intimates the President was incredibly naive to give his controversial tax returns to the House-Senate Internal Revenue Committee and incredibly stupid to have secretly taped all those Oval Office conversations. But in public he fully defends the President whenever asked, contending Mr. Nixon may be turning the tide with his new defense strategy and exhorting House Judiciary Committee demands for more White House documents.

A longtime political ally protests: "Connally thinks about Nixon and national politics like they think in Dallas, and Dallas just ain't the U.S.A."

IRONICALLY, these Republican criticisms of the ruggedly handsome 57-year-old Connally persist despite his phenomenally successful tour as a party fund-raiser, starting last September and due to end this spring. Connally has now sweetened party and candidate coffers by nearly $3 million when Watergate and racial hostility toward President Nixon have locked many Republican purses. Indeed, aside from Ford, Connally is the only national Republican kicking in 10 per cent of his gross fund-raising take (except for money raised in Texas) to the Republican National Committee.

WHEN HIS current tour ends, he will have appeared in 38 states and Washington, D. C. His drawing power is all the more remarkable considering that he holds no office. Connally is star quality. But the political dividends of his stardom appear to be going to the Republican party and individual candidates he has agreed to help, not to John Bowden Connally. It begins to appear the only way he can get the GOP nomination is in the primaries — a treacherous path.

A Devotion For Today

The patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit. (Ecclesiastes 7:8)

MEN IN SERVICE

SAN DIEGO — Marine Cpl. Mario Moncada, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moncada of Gail Road, Big Spring, Tex., received the Good Conduct Medal award at the Naval Station here.

He was cited for his exemplary service during the past years.

He is a former student of Big Spring High School.

Navy Electronics Technician Third Class Ray A. McNeme, whose wife Debra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Moll of 118 N. 23rd, Lamesa, Tex., has graduated from Naval Submarine School here.

His studies included the standard operational and emergency procedures used aboard America's submarines, and qualified him for duty aboard one of the sub-surface vessels.

He will now report aboard a submarine to undergo an intensive six month practical training period, and will be able to carry out virtually any duty aboard prior to being awarded the submariner's "Silver Dolphins."

He is a 1972 graduate of Monterey High School, Lubbock, Tex.

FT. HOOD — Army Private Jesus S. Olague, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel H. Olague, 912 W. Sixth, Big Spring, Tex., is serving with the 11 Medical Company, 35th Medical Battalion, III Corps, at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Pvt. Olague is a medical aidman in the company.

NO HERO'S WELCOME

CAPE ELIZABETH, Maine (AP) — Michael A. Kinney got less than a hero's welcome when he returned home this week from an 18-month Army stint in Korea. He was mistakenly thrown in jail for desertion.

Kinney showed officials his discharge papers, but an Army flyer listed him as deserted and the Federal Bureau of Investigation computer at the National Crime Information Center confirmed the report, officials said.

From the Cumberland County Jail Kinney was allowed to call his congressman, Rep. Peter N. Kyros, who got him out several hours later. "He was fortunate to be out that fast," said Sgt. Santo J. DiCiccio, the AWOL apprehension supervisor at Fort Devens, Mass. "It usually takes us from three to five days to check the records. This happens quite often."

Said Kinney of the mistake: "I figured it was typical Army."

Nagel Returns To City Post

City Manager Harry Nagel was back at work this week on a part time basis. He will stay in his office a few hours each day, increasing the hours until he is back on a fulltime basis.

He recently underwent tests in Lubbock and surgery will not be necessary at this time he stated.

Vietnam Vets Day Shaping

AUSTIN (AP) — The State commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars said today the national VFW includes 460,000 veterans of the Vietnam War among its 1.8 million members.

W.K. Huber of Corpus Christi included the figure in a statement urging Texans to join in the observance of Vietnam Veterans Day Friday.

The last American combat soldier left Vietnam March 29, 1973.

Huber praised President Nixon's proclamation designating Friday as a day for special observance as "one way in which all Americans can express their gratitude to the 2.5 million who served in Vietnam for what they did to demonstrate to the world that the United States keeps its word and was, and still is, determined to prevent Communist aggression from swallowing up 250 million people in all of Southeast Asia."

To Discover Needs Of Rural Texans

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe said Wednesday that members of the Texas Industrial Commission will conduct 26 public hearings over Texas April 1-15 to determine the needs of rural Texans.

Holding the hearings will be James Bond, Navasota; William Porter, Terrell, and James Hunt, Sonora.

"The three commissioners want to hear from everyone in rural Texas," Briscoe said. "They will meet with civic leaders, business leaders and elected officials to determine the best program possible to give rural Texas an economic shot in the arm."

Bond will hold hearings April 4 in Brenham, Huntsville and Woodville and later in Richmond, Victoria, Seguin, Pleasanton, Alice and McAllen.

Porter will hold meetings in Muenster, Bonham and Mt. Pleasant on April 2 and later in Longview, Nacogdoches, Jacksonville, Mexia and Rockdale.

Hunt will hold hearings April 9 in San Angelo, Monahans and Odessa and later in Plainview, Pampa, Weatherford, Brownwood, Fredericksburg and Uvalde.

After the hearings the three commissioners will report their findings to the entire Industrial Commission for the purpose of preparing a rural development program to be presented to the legislature in 1975.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Big Spring baseball coach Larry Horton is a confident man, sometimes to the point where he might be called brazen. Cocky, even. He's what you might call one of the "new breed" of coaches, I guess. But sometimes Horton's confidence gets the best of him.

A month ago the coach looked at his players, who had caused him some honest worry during the off-season, and he decided that this group of Steers could win a Dist. 5-AAAA race that would be noticeably less rugged than a year ago. He not only decided this in his own head, he virtually announced it to all, and he said it so the press would be able to quote him.

This, I imagine, was done to boost some confidence so that the Steers might actually win district. I mean, such things have happened before. There were some question marks, like most teams have early in the year, but there was also that nucleus of good players.

Right now Horton is probably doing a lot of wondering in his mind. Not necessarily about why he would say such a thing, but about whether or not he could have been right. Are his Steers the Steers who played near-perfect ball and blanked Midland High 5-0 Saturday? Or are his Steers the listless Steers who were no-hit by Odessa Permian Tuesday in a 9-1 setback — the Steers who have a sad 3-12 season record?

Horton wonders about those things. Like most coaches, he hates to lose and his wife probably dreads the long, cranky days after each defeat. But he's helpless, because he can't find out why the collapse has happened.

"I can't figure it out. If I knew why we could do such a turn-around I'd write a book and make a fortune," the coach says. "It's sort of like the Cubs, when they were really horrible, getting 10 runs in two innings off a Sandy Koufax in his prime. You just can't explain it."

When a team founders, the first thing questioned is the team's attitude. Horton has done that, and he doesn't particularly like what he sees. Larry himself has never been associated with a losing baseball team — as a player or coach — yet his Steers must win 10 of their next 11 games just to break even.

There's a problem of youth. Three sophomores and three juniors have been starters. And obviously, there is a talent shortage somewhere. But more noticeably there seems to be a problem with the players themselves, and that's what is the most painful to Horton and to the Steer fans — at times they don't seem to care. That, you see, is harder to take than any lack of ability.

But Horton thinks there's still time for an about face. The first half of district play isn't halfway through yet, and there's always that untouched dreamland, the second half, where fans can envision their boys picking up the pieces and racing to the throneroom.

"We've got some good ball players," the coach says. "We've just had too many holes. There's got to be a big change in some of the players for us to get things going the other way. But I'm the eternal optimist, I guess. Like, I still think we can go out and beat Midland Lee Saturday. I really do..."

Schoolboy Resume Golf Play In Midland Friday

Dist. 5-AAAA golf moves to Midland Friday for the fourth stop of the round robin event, with play scheduled to get underway at 9 a.m. at Hogan Park Golf Course.

With only 36 holes remaining the race has narrowed to three teams, with San Angelo carrying a five-shot edge over Abilene Cooper No. 1 into Friday's Action and Odessa Permian only nine shots off the Bobcats' pace.

San Angelo has a 908 total, while Cooper is next at 913 and Permian has a 917. Midland No. 1 is a distant fourth at 935, then come a bundle of teams within six shots of each other vying for fifth, including Big Spring No. 1.

The Steers have a 968 total, while San Angelo No. 2 is in command of the middle bracket heading into Friday's play with a 962. Lee No. 1 follows at 963.

Portland Is After Walton

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Portland's Trail Blazers will mount an all-out campaign to land UCLA's three-time All-American Bill Walton, the 6-foot-11 center who'll probably command a $2 million contract.

Portland won the National Basketball Association rights to negotiate with Walton when Philadelphia missed in a flip of a coin Wednesday.

Herman Sarkowsky, president of the Trail Blazers, said immediately that his club would pick Walton with its No. 1 choice in the NBA draft this spring.

"I am confident we can sign him," said Sarkowsky of the collegiate prize. "We have the ingredients to use as inducements to get him to sign."

Walton has said he prefers to play in Southern California and has virtually ruled out the East.

Sarkowsky said that even if the collegiate player-of-the-year for both 1972 and 1973 says he doesn't want to play in Portland, "We would still draft him."

San Diego of the rival American Basketball Association has drafted Walton so it would appear he has the choice of playing in Portland for the NBA, joining an ABA team or not playing professional basketball in a league. There were some reports the Globe Trotters would like to have him in their touring group.

A WORD FROM THE QUARTERBACK — Golfer Jack Nicklaus (right) has a word with New Orleans Saints quarterback Archie Manning as they wait to tee off during the pro-am of the Greater New Orleans Open Wednesday. Nicklaus is the defending champion of the $150,000 event.

GREENING-UP TIME — The countryside begins to take on the tell-tale signs of spring and here provides a lovely backdrop for golfers battling par on a green at the Municipal course. That's Highway 87 cutting through the background. The traffic artery separates the two nine holes of the course.

76ers Still Losing, Even Coin Tosses

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia 76ers can't win for losing.

The 76ers finished with the worst record ever in the National Basketball Association last season, 9-73, and thought they had the last laugh by drafting then-junior Bill Walton.

But even a reported offer of $2 million couldn't lure Walton, UCLA's superstar center, to Philadelphia.

This year, the 76ers made modest improvement, finishing with a record of 25-57, but still ended up with the worst record in the Eastern Conference.

That gave Philadelphia a second chance in the Walton Bowl, but the 76ers had to win a Wednesday coin toss with the Portland Trail Blazers, who had the worst record in the Western Conference.

They didn't, so Philadelphia Coach Gene Shue will have to be content with 16 more victories than last year, plus the No. 2 draft choice.

"There's no control for luck," said Shue after Philadelphia stunned the Boston Celtics 117-108 as the NBA closed out its regular season Wednesday night. "The significant thing about the season was that we became competitive."

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Seattle SuperSonics trimmed the Phoenix Suns 127-123, and the Portland Trail Blazers beat the Golden State Warriors 132-122.

The Sixers proved too competitive for the Celtics, who finished first in the Atlantic Division with a 56-26 record.

Fred Carter tossed in 31 points, 16 in the third-quarter, to help record Philadelphia's first victory over Boston in 21 games.

Trail Blazers 132, Warriors 122. Sidney Wicks paced a 14-point spurt in the fourth quarter that lifted Portland from a 116-110 deficit to a 124-116 lead.

SuperSonics 127, Suns 123. Fred Brown scored 2 of his game-high 34 points in the second half to lead Seattle past Phoenix.

The American Basketball Association scores: San Antonio 98, Indiana 80; San Diego 121, Kentucky 103; Carolina 99, Virginia 91, and New York 102, Denver 96.

Gussie Busch Is Named Club Prexy

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The board of directors of the St. Louis National Baseball Club, Inc., has elected August A. Busch Jr. president of the Cardinals, the team announced Wednesday.

Busch, who replaces Richard A. Meyer in the post, remains chairman of the Cardinals.

Top Fem Miler Will Compete

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Francie Larrieu, the world's fastest woman for the indoor mile, will compete in the Texas Relays April 12-13.

Miss Larrieu of UCLA and the Pacific Coast Club set three world records indoors this season—4:12.4 for the 1,500 meters, 4:36.6 for the mile and 9:39.4 for the two-mile.

Billy Martin Would Remain

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Billy Martin took the job as manager of the Texas Rangers because of friendship with present owner Bob Short, but Martin says a sale wouldn't change his intentions of making baseball's worst team into a winner.

Martin, who signed a five-year contract, says "I wouldn't have been back in baseball now if it hadn't been for him and our long friendship."

"But I was hired to make a winner out of the Rangers and that hasn't changed. Bob certainly wouldn't want it any other way because whether he keeps the club or sells it or sells part of it, his heart is still going to be with it."

Short hired Martin 10 days after he had been fired by Detroit last year. Martin has several business interests in Kansas City and thought about getting out of baseball.

"Bob wanted me and he wanted me right away, and I couldn't say no to the man," Martin said.

Forsan Buffs Are Second

ROBERT LEE — Forsan won the right to compete in the April 16 Regional Golf Tournament at Lubbock by finishing second to Bronte in the District 9-B Tournament here Wednesday.

Play was conducted over the Mountain Creek course.

Bronte had an aggregate score of 334. Forsan was in at 409 while Blackwell A tallied a 422 and Blackwell B a 491.

Medalist for the day was Wayne Alexander of Bronte, who toured the course with a one-under 71.

Brad Stevens, only sophomore on the Forsan team, led the Buffaloes with a 90.

Other members of the Forsan team, all freshmen, are Gary Tidwell, Raymond Sewell, Ricky Stovall, Hank Adams, Jackie Nickson and Mike McDonald.

Alexander, a junior, had three bogeys the first time around the course but recovered well.

Redskins Sign 2 Draft Selections

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins have signed two of their 1974 draft choices, running back Darwin Robinson from Dakota State College and offensive tackle Joe Miller of Villanova, it was announced today.

Robinson, 6-foot-1, 188 pounds, was selected by the Redskins in the eighth round, and Miller, 6-4 and 250, in the 11th round.

Coach Of Year Honors Won By Frazier

BALTIMORE (AP) — When Nat Frazier came to Morgan State three years ago, basketball was hardly the No. 1 sport on campus.

"Not too many people here cared about basketball then," Frazier recalled. "Football was the big sport."

With Frazier's arrival, however, the Bears' basketball fortunes took off, and Wednesday Morgan completed a clean sweep of national small-college honors when Frazier was named Associated Press College Division Coach-of-the-Year.

Frazier received 74 votes from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Roger Kaiser of West Georgia was second with 17 followed by Bob Jones of Kentucky Wesleyan with three.

Earlier this month, Morgan won the National Collegiate Athletic Association college division tournament and finished first in the final AP small-college poll. Tuesday, Marvin "The Human Eraser" Webster, the Bears' 7-foot junior center, was named College Division Player of the Year by The AP.

"This is a great thrill — just fantastic," Frazier said when told of the latest honor. "It's very gratifying when you put in as much work as we do here to find out someone is paying attention."

Frazier came to Morgan after holding assistant coaching jobs at Delaware State and Illinois. In their last pre-Frazier season, the Bears went 11-14; over the past three campaigns, Morgan has built a combined record of 64-23, including a 28-5 record this season.

Last fall, he said, the Bears set three goals: An unbeaten season, a conference championship and a bid to a postseason tournament.

Meat More Expensive Than Ever

By LOUISE COOK, Associated Press Writer

One year after the week-long meat boycott called by consumers to protest rising prices, an Associated Press survey shows that meat generally is more expensive than ever at the retail level.

The shopper who sticks to specials can come up with a meat bill lower than last year. Wholesale prices are down because of increased supplies that piled up during the January truckers' strike and because people are buying less meat.

Over-all, however, meat prices are generally higher than they were last year in 19 cities checked by the AP last April 1 and again this week. The AP survey covered seven meat items — round steak, pork chops, chopped chuck, sirloin steak, lamb chops, leg of lamb and standing rib roast.

Fifty-six per cent of the items checked were higher in price; 26 per cent were lower; 10 per cent were unchanged; and 8

'MAJOR BREAKTHROUGH' VD Rate In Texas Dips

By ROD DAVIS, Associated Press Writer

Your next sexual encounter in Texas is less likely to end in a doctor's office this year because of what health officials call a "major breakthrough" in treating venereal disease especially in women.

Figures for 1973 still show an increase over 1972 in reported gonorrhea cases, but the increase is smaller than in past years. The incidence of syphilis, the other major form of VD, is decreasing absolutely.

64,210 REPORTED

Dan Error, a federal health officer assigned to the Dallas City Health office, said there were 64,210 reported Texas cases of gonorrhea in 1973, an increase of 12 per cent over 1972.

But the increase in 1973 from 1972 was 14 per cent, meaning a slight improvement in 1973.

The statewide figure for syphilis for 1973 was 3,438 cases, which is an absolute decline of 14 per cent. In 1972, the decline from the previous year was 15 per cent.

Gonorrhea, also known as the "clap," "the drip," and other street names, causes a pus-filled discharge. It is much easier to detect in the male, where it appears in two-to-five days, than in the female, where it can stay undetected for months.

Gonorrhea is not normally fatal, but it can cause various maladies if unchecked.

THE KILLER

Syphilis is the killer. It usually appears as an open sore within a few weeks and if undetected will seem dormant for years, finally reappearing to cause senility, blindness or other bodily horrors.

Detection in women has been the traditional problem in stopping what turned into an epidemic rise in the gonorrhea rate in the United States the last several years.

Error said that during the past year in the state, health officials were able to reduce the ratio of male to female treatments to about 3 to 1. In the past it was 16 males to 1 female.

Thus, Error explained, although males could be treated, females could continue unknowingly to carry the painful disease.

Error said now health officials have been able to have females in high-incidence VD areas checked for VD during visits to doctors for non-related problems. Often, he said, a positive VD test will be found in a woman who otherwise might not have known.

NOT PLEASANT

We're finding asymptomatic females more successfully than ever before," he said.

But gonorrhea still is not being found as effectively as syphilis, chiefly because a massive program to stop syphilis was begun several years ago, while the name drive against gonorrhea is more recent.

While the battle continues, the stubborn VD infections, often reinforced by hardy germs brought back by soldiers from the Far East, are harder to kill.

A few years ago it took about 600,000 units of a penicillin derivative to treat gonorrhea. Now 4.8 million units are needed. Syphilis, which once required a few hundred thousand units, now needs 2.4 million.

Getting cured is still not pleasant, but it's not as bad as it used to be. Pills now can do the trick, while a few years ago shots were required. City health services in most cities provide treatment, but usually ask a person to identify his sex partner. Beyond that, confidentiality prevails.

Persons requiring greater secrecy can go to family doctors, who normally do not forward patients' names to health officials.

TEXAS BARS

Some hospitals will refuse VD patients. In many it depends on which doctors are on duty. A caller to the private Presbyterian Hospital in Dallas was told on one occasion he could be treated and on another that he would have to go to Parkland, the city hospital.

The cost of the treatment ranges from free to perhaps $100 for sustained treatment in difficult cases.

A $22 million federal program against VD in 1971 included a public relations appeal, trying to convince people that the disease was not immoral and that "it happens in the best of families."

Fosters in Texas bars, schools and other places and advertisements on television and radio urge checkups and treatment.

Caseworkers track down improbable strings of sexual partners in big cities and small towns. The object is not to embarrass anyone but to make them well.

Streakers To Be Deported In Nude

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Foreigners caught streaking will be deported in the nude, the vice president of Kenya, Daniel Moi, said today.

Last weekend Europeans streaked twice in public places in Kenya.

Moi said in the future any streaker will be arrested in the nude and put on the first available aircraft to his country of origin.

per cent were unavailable on one of the two survey dates.

Beef items generally increased more than other meats, but there was no clear pattern.

Pork chops seemed to be the best buy — they went down in eight cities over the 12-month period. Pork chops were up in seven cities, unchanged in two and unavailable in one.

Government figures for February — the latest month for which statistics are available — also showed higher prices. A sample of meat items checked by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics at 1,500 supermarkets in 56 cities showed increases on every product. The increases ranged up to 31 per cent for hamburger which went from an average of 84 cents a pound to $1.10 per pound.

On Tuesday the government announced it was buying $45 million worth of high quality hamburger to help prop up livestock prices. The meat will be donated to schools.

Agriculture Department officials said the move could boost retail beef prices. But no one was sure how much. "It will be a little shot in the arm for producers," said John Larsen, a USDA economist.

The government action followed a meeting of cattlemen and state and federal officials.

"Meat industry spokesmen concede that sales are down. How much, they say, they don't know. 'People aren't buying so aggressively,'" said Richard Lyng, president of the American Meat Institute. He said, however, that general economic conditions — fears of a recession and unemployment, for example — have caused a downturn in spending in all areas.

As for meat prices, Lyng said they probably will go up again. He said high grain prices make it unprofitable for ranchers to raise livestock unless they receive more money for their animals. A production cutback now means higher prices in the years to come.

Tried To Buy Nails Lately? It Could Be Hard To Do

By DAVID CARREN

Steel items — nails, baling and barbed wire, piping — are but another of many products hit with rising prices and shortages in today's inflated market.

"It's going high like everything else. Even scrap pipe. They're running old pipe back into the wells, and there's not near as much salvage pipe by a long way. Some scrap pipes are selling for more now than when they were bought brand new," said Interstate Pipe and Supply's Garland Smith.

"I haven't gotten any baling wire this year, and I've been out since last Spring. If I knew what was causing it, I'd have the answer to all the shortages. We'll take your order, but the supplier won't set dates. To my knowledge, there's none across town, and it looks bad. But I don't give up to the last minute, and it's got to get better," said Curtis Smith, owner of Curtis Implement.

"They're hard to get — nails, piping, any kind of steel goods. We have some wire, just a few pieces when we can get it," added Jack Garnagin of Clawson Lumber.

Reasons for the shortages come as varied as the goods and companies involved.

OLD STYLE

"It all dates back to the energy problems and the demand. All steel is reasonably short. You're lucky to get a complete order of piping. And it's expensive. We've only got the old style of baling wire you hand tie," said Lewis Collins, manager of Harris Lumber.

"Ask Mister Nixon why. All steel items are scarce, hard to get and high priced. Maybe it's a general trend of the economy, and everything's getting high," said an employee at Rockwell B. & Co. Lumber.

Prices on baling wire alone have risen an estimated 12-15 per cent, say local merchants, since the beginning of the year. At one company, barbed wire which recently sold for $13-$17 a roll now sells for $24 a roll.

"The price freeze controls made it unprofitable for the steel companies to make formed goods like pipe, wire, etc. It's being alleviated some now. They'll lift the rest April 30. But for now, barbed wire goes as soon as we get it, and some heavy duty nails are hard to get. Other types (of nails) aren't impossible to find, but they're expensive," said the manager of Higginbotham-Bartlett Co., Bill Coleman.

NOT UNCOMMON

"Twenty-five per cent increases (on steel goods) aren't uncommon now. But when the price freeze goes off April 30, it'll be unbelievable. Baling wire went from $15 to $100 a roll recently — and that's the black market. They were importing a lot of the wire stock. But (with the world situation) Japanese nails now sell for more than

$25 Million Libel Suit

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Narconon Inc. filed a $25 million libel suit Tuesday against El Paso Times reporter Steve Hallock, Times Editor William Latham, Gannett Corp., owner of the Times, and El Paso County Atty. George Rodriguez Jr.

The suit, filed in the El Paso district clerk's office, alleges two articles written by Hallock about Narconon Oct. 7-8, 1973 were damaging to the organization, which is self-described as a rehabilitator of drug addicts.

Narconon is asking $15 million from all defendants and a supplemental $10 million from Rodriguez.

He Admits Paying Car Plates Bribes

CHICAGO (AP) — A former president of an Arkansas auto license stamping company has pleaded guilty to paying an $80,000 bribe to the late Illinois Secretary of State Paul Powell.

J. Patrick Stolz, 50, of Conway, Ark., was placed on three years' probation Tuesday by U.S. district court, fined $30,000 and ordered to pay the Illinois treasury $80,000 in restitution.

He pleaded guilty to conspiracy, mail fraud and bribery for his transactions with Powell to gain 1970 and 1971 contracts to produce Illinois license plates.

Stolz was indicted with two Hinsdale, Ill., men in a scheme in which Stolz's company, Metal Stamping Corp., paid almost $500,000 to the Structolite Co. The indictment charged that $80,000 was a bribe for Powell.

The other two men are Tamadge G. Rauhoff, 52, and John M. Leonard, 56, Rauhoff is a former owner of the Structolite Co. and Leonard was the company's lawyer.

Both men and Structolite were ordered to stand trial at a later date. Charges against Metal Stamping Co. were dismissed by Judge Phillip Tone.

U.S. Atty. James Thompson said, "This restitution marks the first time in the history of the federal court that a briber has agreed to pay back the money."

Brought To You By Ted Hatfield

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED "INTERESTING" CHAIRS?

When you say the word "chair" to most people, they think of the usual living room chairs — but to have a more completely decorated home, you might want to consider "different" kinds of chairs.

Only when you stop to think about it can you appreciate all the types available. For example, how about a captain's or club chair for, perhaps, your game room. Or a bench chair by a window. Or a dainty boudoir chair for your bedroom. Or a chaise longue for the guest room.

Or, any one of the following different chairs to add interest and seating capacity to your various rooms: a barrel chair, a contour chair, a corner chair, a fan back or ladder back, a rocker, or a swivel chair.

Perhaps you could use an ottoman or hassock. Or a special chair or chairs by your fireplace.

The important thing is to widen your decorating horizon by at least being aware of, and considering, some of the variety of chairs that can add both new comfort and new beauty to not only your living room, but also the other rooms in your home.

We can help you both with the selection and the ideas. Stop in and browse. There's no obligation.

Installation Banquet Scheduled

Alpha Kappa Omicron scheduled an installation banquet for May 21 during a meet Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Steve Broom, 85-A Ent. Mrs. Wayne Stroup presided and served as cohostess.

Elected chapter officers for next season were Mrs. Gary Huckabay, president; Mrs. Clay LaRochelle, vice president; Mrs. Frank Clark, recording secretary; Mrs. Ronald Tucker, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Stroup, treasurer.

The program was by Mrs. Broom who discussed "The Land and Art." Illustrating her talk with sketches by Don Bobowsky, Mrs. Broom said, "Our lands should be preserved as works of art, for our children as well as ourselves." She noted that nature, more than anything else, provides a peaceful setting. She asked members to tell what the sketches "said" to them, and had each member describe the landscape of her home.

Woman Elected To District Post

The Eagles Auxiliary met Monday at the lodge hall with Mrs. Eschol Graham presiding, and an initiation ritual was held for Mrs. Melvin Whitehead. Reports were heard on the District 4 convention held March 23-24 in Midland, where Mrs. James Dalton of Big Spring was elected outside guard for the district. The Big Spring delegation won second place in the travel awards. Odessa will be the site of the next district meeting in May.

The next local auxiliary meeting will be April 8.

Quick Cookies

Here's a quick little cookie idea that young and old will love. Whip up a stiff meringue with one egg white, pinch of salt and four tablespoons sugar. Fold in 1/4 cup chopped walnuts and spoon rakers. Top each with half of a candied cherry or semi-sweet chocolate pieces and bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes.

Hat Revival Credited To Style-Happy Girls

By ANN HENCKEN Associated Press Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Holly Halsey, age 15, wore a smashing pink fedora with her teeny-bopper slacks and shirt as she pawed through clothes at Saks Fifth Ave. "I've gone crazy over hats. Every time I make money baby-sitting, I go out and buy a hat," said Holly. Hats, she said, are the new thing at high school in Scarsdale, N.Y., and some kids even wear them to classes.

"I've got seven or eight hats," said her companion, Lisa Radano, a tiny brunette, with long hair streaming out from under a red felt hat. "My boy friend, Alan, thinks the wide-brimmed hats look sexy. He wants me to wear them all the time," said Judy Katz, age 21, a student at Queens College, and she tried a pink cotton style on for size. Nearby, Sherri Wasserman, age 14, wearing jeans and platform saddle oxfords, adjusted her large straw hat, jazzed up with a flowing pink chiffon scarf and red rose. The kids at her school in New Rochelle, N.Y., decorate their own. After a long, dry, depressing decade in the 1960s, domestic hat manufacturers are kicking up their heels at the burst of activity this spring. Hat production was up two million last year over 1971 and business is still improving.

Hats selling well today are simple, inexpensive and sporty-roll brim felts, head-hugging cloches — big straws. They sell quickly at $4 to $18.

"The main reason we're selling hats is because we have a customer who's never worn them before, girls ages 18-25. Also, there's an emphasis on the pulled-together, coordinated look, and the hat completes it," said Jan Bush, buyer for Bloomingdale's. At many stores, hats are set up in great multicolored stacks and sold right along with belts and scarves. Gone is the elegant hat department, featuring the old what-is-it feather and flower creations.

Hospital Retiree

A reception today in the All Faith Chapel honored Mrs. Dorothy Severin on her retirement from Big Spring State Hospital. She has worked as a receptionist in the out-patient clinic for the past 10 years.

"It's really been interesting work," said Mrs. Severin, "and it's made me a more interesting person."

The out-patient clinic opened in September, 1963 in the old barracks which is now the Fashion Shop. In February, 1964, Mrs. Severin was hired as the clinic receptionist, her first employment. The following July, the clinic moved to its new building with its director, W. A. Mann, and a larger staff.

"At that time we were seeing probably 250 people a month," said Mrs. Severin. "Now we see from 300 to 350 persons a month." The staff now includes two psychologists, one psychiatrist, three social workers, a bookkeeper, secretary and receptionist.

Mrs. Severin was recipient of the Commendation Award in 1970 for her exemplary work and loyalty. She has one son, who is with Braniff Airlines in Fort Worth, and two grandchildren.

French Toast

French toast may be prepared three ways — on the griddle, in the broiler or in the oven. It can be fried in a small amount of butter or margarine or in deep fat.

Mrs. Key Named To Presidency

Mrs. Larry Key was elected president of the Faculty Ma'ams during a meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Tony Ortiz, 1733 Yale. Sharing the slate with her this fall will be Mrs. Ortiz, vice president; Mrs. Jerry Dudley, secretary; Mrs. Charles Burnsed, treasurer; and Mrs. L. L. Lewis, reporter.

Mrs. Tommy Rutledge, current president, presided, and Mrs. Jack McCormick was cohostess.

In lieu of the next meeting, the women will attend the annual spring buffet dinner at Howard College for faculty members and their families. The event will be at 6 p.m., April 26 in the college cafeteria.

The Faculty Ma'ams will meet May 7 in the Student Union Building with Mrs. David Stubblefield and Mrs. Don Bailey as hostesses.

Speed Reading Explained By College Instructor

Speed reading was discussed by Mrs. Larry Reese, reading and English instructor at Howard College, in a program presented at a dinner meeting Monday for the National Secretaries Association. Mrs. Reese is a graduate of A&I with a bachelor of arts degree.

Mrs. Reese said, according to researchers, 800 words per minute is about the limit that anyone is physically able to read and remember. The average college student should be able to read 250 words per minute, and the average person reads from 220 to 250 words per minute.

"Even a poor reader can do well by skimming," said Mrs. Reese. "Your mind can take in so much more by reading fast than word for word. Students make better marks if they read faster. Slower readers tend to stop at every word, and this causes the eyes to get

Big Spring Women Seek Political Posts

Big Spring has more women political candidates this year than ever before, a fact emphasized when the candidates were guests of Big Spring Business and Professional Women's Club at Holiday Inn Tuesday evening. Miss Helen Willard presided.

The program, "Community Women Involved in Government", gave each candidate an opportunity to speak briefly, outlining responsibilities of the office she is seeking and her qualifications to fill the post.

The candidates who were guests, and the posts they seek, are Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Texas school board; Mrs. Venora Williams, Big Spring school board; Mrs. George Thomas, state representative; Mrs. Peggy Crittenden, district clerk; and Mrs. Margaret Ray and Miss Shirley White, county clerk. They were introduced by Miss Movelda Rhine, chairman of the civic participation committee.

Other guests were Mrs. Robbie Townsend, Mrs. J. C. Irwin, Mrs. Joy Dudash, Miss Betty Alexander and Mrs. G. F. Hulen.

Completing the civic participation committee, which arranged the program, are Mrs. Rip Smith, Mrs. Bill Ward, Mrs. C. R. Rhoads and Mrs. Ivah Lou Ashley. They were assisted by Mrs. Cass Hill. Floral arrangements were provided by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Ashley.

Earlier, a nominating committee was elected at a business and social meeting in the home of Mrs. Smith,

Howard County 4-H Contestants Prove To Be Culinary Experts

By JO BRIGHT
When two Howard County 4-H girls took top honors in the District 2 4-H Food Show in Lubbock Saturday, they were competing against youth from 18 South Plains counties.

Area 4-H girls have long been winners, or ranked high in the food shows, due to their own creativity coupled with the knowledge gained from continuing studies in foods and nutrition offered through the 4-H program.

Adult leaders in 4-H work with the girls under the guidance of the county extension agent, Miss Sherry Mullin. During the regular food group meetings, the members study nutritive value of food and its effect on health and physical fitness, principles of food preparation, menu planning, buying and storage of food and the use of food preparation service.

Basically, the contestants enter one of several food categories. At the Lubbock show, Howard County winners were entered in side dishes, meat or main dishes, vegetables, breads and desserts or snacks and beverages.

Local senior division winners were Donna James, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ovis James, Coahoma, and Patty Peugh, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Peugh, Knott. These two winners will represent District 2 during the 1974 state food show competition in June. They will be competing for $500 scholarships.

Winning first alternate places were Kayla Gaskins, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Knott, and Kaye Hunt, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hunt, Knott.

In the junior division, Carmen Holman, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Holman, Coahoma, won a first place. Other juniors were Karen Spears, red ribbon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Spears, Coahoma; Kristi Franklin, blue ribbon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Franklin, Coahoma; and D'Ann Hall, blue ribbon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hall, Ackerly.

Today's recipes are those entered by Howard County girls in the Lubbock contest.

WIN A CONTEST or woo a beau with this succulent dessert. Served with a smile, it's guaranteed to put your man in a mood to pop the question.

Cherry Crisscross-- It's A Sure Winner!

Grooms have been wooed and contests have been won with a perfectly baked cherry pie. One of the secrets of perfection is a filling of just the right consistency. For this purpose it is wise to choose a thickener such as quick-cooking tapioca so that the filling will be not too thick and not too thin. Succulent and cherry bright, such a pie is always a winner.

CHERRY CRISSCROSS PIE

2 cans (1 lb. each) water-packed pitted red sour cherries
4 t s p. quick-cooking tapioca
1 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
6 drops red food coloring
1/4 tsp. almond extract (optional)

Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie.

1 tbsps. butter
Drain cherries, reserving 1/2 cup of the juice. Thoroughly mix tapioca, sugar, salt, cherries, measured juice, food coloring, and extract. Let stand about 15 minutes. Roll half of the pastry 1/8 inch thick; line a 9-inch pie pan and trim pastry at edge of rim. Roll remaining pastry 1/8 inch thick; cut into 1/2-inch strips.

Fill pie shell with cherry mixture. Dot with butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust. Adjust pastry strips in lattice across top of pie. Press ends to edge of bottom crust. Flute edge. Bake at 425 degrees for 50 minutes, or until crust is golden brown and pie filling bubbles near center.

Why Not Seafood?

Bacon and eggs again? What a bore.

The great American breakfast tends to be a drag, day after day, year after year. So the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has a suggestion which should lend a little novelty to an otherwise humdrum way to start the day — seafood for breakfast.

Nutritionists say breakfast is the most important meal of the day, and it should be high in protein to prevent that midmorning letdown when the blood sugar gets low.

One-fourth to one-third of the daily food requirement should be eaten at the morning meal, according to nutritionists.

The following recipe is an excellent way to start out the day and help keep children more alert and attentive in school, make workers more enthusiastic, and keep weight watchers on the straight and narrow.

Other recipes are available free from: "Seafood," Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Bldg., Austin, Texas 78701.

PEPPERED SHRIMP AND EGG

1/2 lb. cooked, peeled, and deveined shrimp
3 slices bacon
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
6 eggs, beaten
1/4 cup coffee cream
1/2 t s p. Worcestershire sauce

Fry bacon until crisp; drain on absorbent paper. Crumble bacon. Cook onion and green pepper in bacon fat until tender. Add seasonings and shrimp and heat. Combine eggs, cream, Worcestershire sauce, and bacon. Add to shrimp mixture and cook until eggs are firm, stirring occasionally. Makes six servings.

SHOW A LITTLE class when entertaining by treating your guests to creamy lime pie. Freshly grated lime rind makes it refreshing and not too sweet.

'Simply Elegant' Dessert: Lime Cheesecake Pie

Use your fanciest dish or most precious heirloom for this elegant dessert. This pie doesn't need baking. It uses "good as homemade" cheesecake mix which "sets" in the refrigerator. You add fresh lime juice and freshly grated lime rind for that special personal touch. Men especially love this dessert because it is refreshing and creamy yet not too sweet.

Two types of limes are available at this time of year: (1) large seedless ones from Florida and (2) smaller limes with seeds, from Mexico. Ask two lime lovers which they prefer and you'll get two answers! One prefers the seedless lime because you don't need to remove seeds. The other prefers the Mexican lime with the seeds because that lime has a zestier flavor.

CREAMY LIME CHEESECAKE PIE

1 pkg. (10 oz.) cheesecake mix
1 tsp. fresh grated lime rind
1/4 cup fresh lime juice (2 medium limes)
1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 drops green food color
Lime slices for garnish
Prepare cheesecake crust as directed. Prepare filling as directed, substituting 1/4 cup milk, 1/4 cup lime juice, and 1/4 cup sugar for the 1 1/2 cups milk called for. Fold in 1/2 teaspoon lime rind and food color. Pour filling into crust. Garnish with lime slices. Chill 1 hour. Serves 8.

Pantry Pickups

Add leftover cooked carrots, peas or snap beans to canned cream of potato soup. Sprinkle with a little grated cheddar cheese before serving.

You can make a delicious sauce for fish by mixing melted butter, minced onion, lemon juice and minced parsley.

To make condensed tomato soup taste epicurean, add half-and-half instead of water or milk and season with a little dry sherry.

A little dry white vermouth adds zest to canned cream of asparagus soup.

Bay leaf is one of the stronger herbs, so use it discreetly.

A light coating of mineral oil, rubbed off with a soft cloth, will keep a wooden cheese board or serving tray in fine shape.

Slaughter Millions Of Chicks

MAGEE, Miss. (AP) — The slaughter of millions of Mississippi chickens found to contain unsafe levels of a cancer-causing pesticide has started.

H.F. McCarty, one of the largest poultry producers in Mississippi, stood watching in a drizzling rain as farmhands loaded squawking chickens into a dump truck turned gas chamber.

A metal pipe connected the truckbed to the exhaust pipe of a larger truck which stood nearby, its engine running. As the chickens were dumped into the chamber, filled with carbon monoxide and they died.

The chickens were among at least 1.6 million of McCarty's 3.2 million birds found in routine testing to contain unsafe levels of dieldrin, which the Environmental Protection Agency says can cause cancer on long exposure. The EPA ordered the birds killed.

Estimates of the number of chickens affected range as high as 12 million. Federal and state officials say there is no way at present to reimburse the poultrymen for the loss of their chickens, or for the additional cost of destroying the birds.

McCarty said he agrees with the decision to slaughter the chickens.

"Otherwise, there's a possibility of frightening the consumer," he said. "This will show the people that not one of these contaminated birds will ever reach the market."

The contamination has been traced to a blend of animal and vegetable oils used in chicken feed.

In Washington, members of Mississippi's congressional delegation introduced legislation in both the House and the Senate to compensate the poultrymen for the birds ordered destroyed.

'Death Decree' For Fishermen?

RAYMONDVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Proposed new state regulations for trot lines will result in "starvation" for some commercial fishermen, a Brownsville man told the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Pat Pace, a commercial fisherman who has operated a fish company at Brownsville for 15 years, made the statement during a hearing on the proposed regulations that would make it illegal to use artificial bait on trot lines.

District biologist Joe Breuer of Harlingen said the purpose of the proposal is to halt the decrease in the red fish population.

Pace said the new regulations would mean a "death decree" for his business.

FORMER LEGISLATOR CLAIMS

'Octopus Party' Trying To Take Over South Texas

BENAVIDES, Tex. (AP) — A former state senator charged Wednesday that what he called an "octopus party" is trying to take over South Texas.

Oscar Carrillo said the "party" includes longtime Duval County political boss George Parr, a millionaire banker-rancher, and the owner of a controversial natural gas firm.

Carrillo, who is trying to unseat Sen. John Traeger in this year's elections, made the statements in a speech to about 100 supporters on the patio at his fashionable Benavides home.

He described his opponent's organization as an "octopus party" because "they are trying to put their hands into all of South Texas."

Carrillo, a balding, slightly heavyset man who has 10 children and 14 grandchildren, said that for the first time ever he is running for public office without Parr's support.

Parr is backing Traeger despite a lengthy political affiliation with the Carrillo family.

The former state representative said Traeger is being supported by South Texas banker-rancher Clinton Manges, who lives at Freer in Duval County; Oscar Wyatt, owner of Coastal States Gas Producing Co., and Parr.

Carrillo asserted the three men are trying to control all of South Texas politically and economically.

He said Manges controls banks in San Antonio and Rio Grande City and is attempting to gain control of an Alice bank. It is Manges and not Parr, Carrillo said, who is "calling the shots" in Duval County.

Parr, 73 and known as "the Duke of Duval," lives in a palatial home at San Diego. He was convicted last week at Corpus Christi on federal charges of income tax evasion and faces a possible total of 32 years in prison and a fine up to $60,000.

Duval County Judge Archer Parr, George's nephew and a member of the family that has controlled Duval County for almost 70 years, faces trial at San Antonio later this year on federal perjury charges.

Duval County Commissioner Ramiro Carrillo, a brother of the former state representative, told the Associated Press last December that the Carrillos would take over Duval County after the Parrs. By the Carrillos, he meant himself, Oscar and District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo.

Their father, D. C. Chapa, is head of the controversial Duval County Conservation and Reclamation District, a water district, and has been a longtime political ally of Parr.

"Surprisingly, for the first time in my life, I am running without the support of the man (Parr)," Carrillo said. "Unfortunately, our leader left us—he decided he will support a man who does not even know where we live, much less what our problems are.

"I respect Mr. Parr and I feel sorry and sympathize with him for his troubles."

Carrillo said Manges' plans to take over South Texas include a takeover of the Duval County school system.

He said Morris Ashby, who works as an accountant for Manges' Duval County Ranch Co. and is on the board of directors of the Manges-controlled Gross National Bank in San Antonio, is running for the joint Benavides-Freer school board even though he has lived at Freer for about six months.

"This man (Manges) is so strong that even some of my best friends in Starr County have been bought off. They offered to buy me off, but I'm not for sale. I will never sell out," Carrillo declared as supporters applauded.

Carrillo said his greatest concern in the upcoming election is to insure that secrecy is maintained in voting. He said he will ask a court to impound the ballots in Duval County.

The county uses paper ballots and it would be possible to use stubs to determine how any person actually voted.

He said three school teachers and a county commissioner told him Wednesday they would like to attend his rally but said they feared political retaliation.

Carrillo said Manges is including Wyatt in his political organization because he wants to control natural gas supplies, done for San Antonio? Has he "Ask Traeger what he has done for San Antonio? Has he gone to the Railroad Commission to help their gas problems?" he asked.

Robbery-Rape Term Upheld

AUSTIN (AP) — It was a Good Samaritan act that backfired when a young man, parked with a girl in a secluded spot near Dallas, helped six men fix their car.

The men drove away, then returned to rob the man and gang-rape his date, a high school senior.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday upheld the two 100-year sentences given one of the accused assailants, Melvin DeWayne Hawkins, a Dallas jury. He received a century in prison for the robbery and a century for the rape.

At the trial, the girl's date said he was beaten, then tied up with a belt. The girl said she was pulled from the man's small foreign car, her blue jeans and underpants were stripped off and she was held down on the trunk of the car and repeatedly raped.

Hawkins' lawyer claimed the trial judge erred in excluding evidence of the girl's alleged prior unchaste character.

Two of the alleged assailants said she did not resist. The high court noted that each of them denied having intercourse with her but implicated the other five.

"We hold that such evidence does not raise the issue of consent. The evidence shows the rape was accomplished by six males overpowering a young woman," the court said.

Without evidence of consent, the court added, evidence of unchastity is inadmissible.

Biggest Problem: Adequate Care For Elderly Citizens

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — With all the problems and "crises" facing our nation, one looms mightily among all the rest. We are warned by those who have devoted long and careful study that the problem of caring for the aged is greater than that of the environment, overpopulation, and other social problems. It is thusly characterized because it is literally a matter of life and death. Put another way, it is a matter of life or death for many of those 65 years of age and over. According to the 1971 census, the last available figure, there are 20.6 million in this age group, and it is estimated that one-half would not now be living if medical science had not made its great advances during the last generation.

It is estimated that there are more than a million elderly people in rest homes. Just 10 years ago there was one-half this number.

Private homes are beyond the reach of all except the very few who can afford this kind of care. Some charitable and religious homes will take in elderly people in return for their Social Security checks. Reports suggest, however, that limited facilities in many cases are not up to standards equal to the task at hand.

By no means average, but take for example what is provided by one 350 bed home in one of our largest cities. The home employs 40 full-time doctors and 43 registered nurses. In addition, it has a professional staff of 50 people. It employs cooks, waiters, janitors, nurses' assistant, elevator operators, and laboratory workers for a total of 311. Aside from the professionals, the ratio of unskilled employs per patient is very nearly one for one. This is beyond most people.

Physical facilities and professional services needed for the aged are extremely expensive and there is seemingly no way to avoid the high cost. In spite of this, the private sector need not be discouraged from building suitable homes and providing professional medical care.

Rest home care is big business and a very personal one. Medical progress will continue, and no doubt the lives of those on the shadowy side of the mountain will be lengthened as medical science continues its successes in gerontology.

Some philosophically debate with euthanasia, but it is unthinkable in America that we intentionally neglect our elderly in order to hasten their death. Therefore, the problem and the challenge of caring for our old people will increase.

Old age can often be heart-breaking, but it also can bring satisfaction when we know that by our efforts the aged are provided for in the best way possible. West Texas may be ideally suited for that.

Copyright Fuss Flares

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Vanderbilt University says the Columbia Broadcasting System's copyright of its evening news broadcast is unconstitutional and the school has asked a federal judge to dismiss a CBS suit against it for taping the show.

Jeff Carr, lawyer for Vanderbilt, said here that the Copyright Act of 1909, amended to include motion pictures, songs and photographs, has no provision for copyrighting live television broadcasts.

CBS filed suit last December in U.S. district court seeking to stop Vanderbilt from taping the "CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite" for inclusion in the school's collection of taped network news broadcasts.

Carr also said that the free speech and free press clauses of the First Amendment would invalidate a copyright of the live news program. He asked U.S. District Court Judge Frank Gray Jr. to set an early hearing date for the dismissal motion.

The university lends the material to scholars under the condition that it not be rebroadcast or shown publicly. The collection was started in 1968 and contains 3,000 hours of tapes with seven and a half hours added each week.

WATERGATE INQUIRY

There Is Some Foul Language On Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House impeachment inquiry staff has notified the White House it will ask for more of President Nixon's tape-recorded conversations.

This was disclosed Wednesday as the House Judiciary Committee's two senior members put on headsets and listened for the first time to portions of tapes the committee already has.

DIDN'T EXPLODE

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., and the ranking Republican, Rep. Edward Hutchinson of Michigan, refused to give any details of what is on the tapes except that there is some foul language.

"Was there a bombshell in the briefcase?" Hutchinson was asked.

"It didn't explode," he replied.

Asked if there was "a lot of cussing and bad language" on the tapes, Hutchinson replied: "No more than usual."

Hutchinson said he and Rodino did not listen to the disputed March 21, 1973, recorded discussion between President Nixon and former White House counsel John W. Dean III on hush money to keep the original Watergate burglars quiet.

Rodino and his chief counsel said the White House has turned 18 tapes over to the committee and Rodino said there were more tapes in the grand jury material turned over Tuesday.

ONLY 18

President Nixon said March 19 he had ordered 19 tapes turned over to the committee and newsman asked Rodino if that means one is missing.

"I'm not saying that," Rodino said. "... I know only that we have 18."

The request for more tapes of President Nixon's recorded conversations was disclosed by special counsel John Doar to all Judiciary Committee members. Doar said he told White House lawyer James D. St. Clair last Friday, "We would have additional requests for other presidential recorded conversations."

Doar quoted St. Clair as saying he hoped any additional requests could be made all at once but Doar said he had not promised that.

SECRETS TAX

He said he told St. Clair that "in a continuing investigation facts emerge which may make additional requests necessary."

Doar quoted St. Clair as saying the House inquiry's present request for items relating to 42 of Nixon's conversations "was under consideration by the President."

Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski also has subpoenaed additional material from the White House and it has until Friday to reply.

In related developments: —Gulf Oil stockholders filed suit seeking $1 million in damages from company executives for making illegal campaign contributions to Nixon and others.

—A White House spokesman said Nixon hasn't yet decided whether to make public his federal tax return for 1973.

—Aides to Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. denied an allegation contained in a CIA memo that Ervin agreed to play down possible CIA links to the Watergate cover-up.

COMMENTS ON IMPEACHMENT INQUIRY — Assistant Senate Democratic leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., tells members of the National Capital Democratic Club Wednesday in Washington that President Nixon is engaged in an attempt to sabotage the House impeachment inquiry.

RED RIVER PARISH SHERIFF Claims Cock Fighting Just Comes Naturally

COUSHATTA, La. (AP) — Red River Parish Sheriff Kevin Brown says cock fighting just comes naturally in Louisiana and it's hard to stamp out.

"It's been going on for 50 years that I know of," he said. "There's lots of things you know about that you can't put a stop to — you stop it at one place and it breaks out in another."

Brown said he would stop cock fighting in a rural barnyard near here where a newspaper reporter paid a $2 admission fee last Sunday and watched a 13-year-old boy send his rooster out to do or die.

The matches reportedly had been held in the same barn on alternate Sundays for three years.

"Cock fighting at that place will be stopped," said Brown, "but I can't guarantee it won't break out somewhere else."

Brown also said he didn't believe state law forbidding cruelty to animals was applicable, adding, "I wouldn't call a chicken an animal cause it's fowl."

Neison Dysert, director of the New Orleans Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, took issue with that statement.

"If it isn't vegetable or mineral, it's got to be animal," he said.

"But it appears that the legislature is going to have to define the word, because 'animal' to the attorney general and to the various district attorneys in the state of Louisiana just doesn't include fighting cocks."

Atty. Gen. William Guste could not be reached for comment.

Dysert said he doesn't have authority to intervene in cock fights outside Orleans Parish, but he's looking for someone willing to launch a court suit against it.

"It's certainly cruel to the fighting cock, but it's a hell of a lot more cruel to a child to teach him that it's proper to let one animal kill another for the amusement of people," he said.

Sheriff Brown doesn't see it that way.

"Now I happen to think that streaking is worse than cock fighting," he said.

Club Gets Tips On Rattlers

Lions got tips Wednesday on how to catch, milk and fry rattlesnakes.

Three Jaycee members ballyhooed their annual Rattlesnake Roundup this weekend at the weekly Downtown Lions meeting at the Settles. Gary Davis said more than a ton of rattlers are expected to be brought to the show starting Friday at the National Guard Armory. Some snakes have been stockpiled for four or five months because hunters prefer to get the snakes when denned. The usual procedure is to pour gasoline into a suspected den, the heavier-than-air fumes, forcing out the snakes.

Procedure at the show is for Delbert Hutchins, the official handler, to "milk" (extract the venom), then consign snakes to the skinning and food-preparation workers. Snake meat is rolled in a batter, fried in 400-degree oil for eight minutes and served up as a delicacy. Venom goes to Colorado State University for use in heart research; surplus snakes are sold to dealers. The show continues through Sunday.

Visiting the Lions with Davis, were Eddie Cole, vice president, and Roy Deel, immediate past president.

Schley Riley, past district governor, presented a membership recognition to Jim Lemons from district governor Tom Nipp, Midland. Dick Klein announced a dozen entries for the queen contest next Wednesday. Club officer nominations also were reported.

Mop, Broom Sale Is Set Saturday

LOANED TWO OFFICIALS OF AMPI $16,875 EACH ON 'OPEN' NOTE

Bank Gains Cozy Arrangement With Milk Producers

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The bank through which milk money reportedly was shuffled to President Nixon's campaign is now said to have had a cozy arrangement with the milk producers to enhance year-end total deposits.

Citizens National Bank of Austin, Tex., also loaned two officials of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., $16,875 each on an "open" or unsecured note to help repay for stock they bought in the bank, according to a report filed in federal court.

Details of the bank deposits and transactions are in the so-called Wright report that resulted from an investigation of AMPI by the Little Rock, Ark., law firm of Wright, Lindsey and Jennings.

FAST GROWING
Citizens National Bank is now a fast-growing suburban bank in Texas' capital city. One of its founders was Jake Jacobsen, a former aide to Lyndon Johnson who no longer is connected with the bank. Jacobsen, once a lawyer for the milk producers, filed for bankruptcy in 1972.

AMPI's lead counsel, E.C. Heininger of Chicago, has said in a letter to a lawyer for the Committee to Re-elect the President that a $100,000 contribution in 1969 came from the Citizens account of AMPI's political trust.

Then, Heininger said, AMPI replaced the $100,000 with corporate funds by having one of its employees, Bob Lilly, borrow $100,000 from Citizens in his own name and having Lilly reimbursed.

ILLEGAL
Such a contribution is illegal, Heininger said.

The Wright report, which is on file in federal district court in Kansas City, Mo., now quotes Lilly and others about Jacobsen calling for year-end deposits by AMPI apparently in 1970 and 1971.

The report says, "Mr. Lilly said that 'occasional' Mr. Jacobsen would call and request AMPI to make a deposit in the range of $100,000 to $200,000 to make the year-end deposits of Citizens National Bank of Austin 'look good.'"

EXTRA FUNDS
"Mr. Lilly said that the extra funds so deposited would be withdrawn shortly after the beginning of the new year following. When asked about this Mr. Jacobsen said that he did not remember making such requests but added, 'I am certainly not above doing this,' the Wright report says.

Jacobsen has been indicted by an Abilene, Tex., federal grand jury on charges of misapplying $825,000 in funds of a San Angelo, Tex., savings and loan company. A Watergate grand jury has indicted him on charges of perjury.

Jacobsen is quoted in the Wright report as saying he made shares of Citizens stock available to Lilly and two other milk coop officials, Joe Nigrelle and David Parr, in late 1969. He says he did so "in the thought that this would be a good way of getting a large account for the bank."

Harold S. Nelson, who was the milk producers' general manager at the time, insisted on having the co-op's payroll and political accounts at Citizens, the reports says. At their maximum levels in 1970 and 1971, the dairymen's accounts could have represented as much as one in each $5 or $6 on deposit at Citizens.

NO CASH
The Wright report says Lilly, Nigrelle and Parr put up no cash for the bank stock, the purchase of which was financed by loans from three other

Texas banks in which Jacobsen's bankruptcy papers indicate he held stock.

One of the three banks, Bowie, Tex., National Bank, loaned Lilly and Nigrelle money for the stock without interest, the report says.

Then, according to the report, Lilly and Nigrelle had their notes at the three banks refinanced through Texas Commerce Bank of Houston which demanded 10 per cent of the principal in 1970. The report says Lilly and Nigrelle borrowed the money for the 10 per cent payment on the Texas Commerce note from Citizens, whose bank stock they were buying with the borrowed money.

'SORRY DEALS'
Both Lilly and Nigrelle have said the stock purchases were "sorry deals" for them but Lilly says he bought the stock because Jacobsen and Nelson

"put the heavy hand on me."

Actually, says the report, Nelson had one-third interest in the stock deals with Lilly and Nigrelle himself, or about $112,500 worth. The report quotes Lilly as saying the stock was held in trust for Nelson, rather than Nelson buying it himself, because "Harold didn't want to expose himself." Lilly and Nigrelle say they issued personal checks to Nelson for his share of annual cash dividends.

Monroe Bethke, who is now president of Citizens, said the bank now has no such arrangements for enhancement of year-end total deposits. Banking sources say the practice is called "window dressing."

He said in a telephone interview that the AMPI accounts, to his knowledge, have been treated on the same basis as other accounts at the bank, without special favors.

$238,250 Judgment Against GM

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court Wednesday upheld a $238,250 judgment against General Motors, blamed for the death of a Houston church secretary in a one-car rollover.

General Motors' attorneys, the big Houston law firm in which former Gov. John Connally is a partner, claimed the verdict resulted from fraud. But the high court disagreed.

Bernard A. Hebert, whose wife Dorothy died in the accident, was the winner in the case.

Mrs. Hebert, secretary of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, was driving a 1969 Impala to St. Louis when it went out of control on Interstate 45 north of Houston and overturned. Mrs. Hebert was partially thrown out and died several hours later without regaining consciousness. The church had bought the car from Boyd Mullen Chevrolet Co. in Houston two days before the July 13, 1969 accident.

GM's attorneys, Vinson, Elkins, Searls, Connally & Smith, complained because Boyd Mullen's attorney conferred in the case with Joe Jamail, the Heberts' lawyer.

The Connally firm contended that Mullen's lawyer, Tom Lorraine, agreed to help Jamail if he would not present evidence of Mullen's alleged negligence and received suggestions from Jamail on which prospective jurors to strike. They also complained because Lorraine argued to the jury that GM was at fault—not Mullen, who was a co-defendant.

Lorraine said he turned down some of Jamail's suggestions on jurors.

Lorraine said he was unable to get a settlement with the Heberts, and GM refused to indemnify Mullen if the judgment went against him. At that point, he said, he reached an understanding with Jamail that Jamail would not try strenuously to show independent negligence on Mullen's part if Mullen would not try too hard to defend the design or assembly of the Impala.

The jury found the accident occurred because of defects in the design and assembly of the car's steering assembly.

In upholding the jury verdict, the Houston Court of Civil Appeals said: "Attorneys engaged in the trial of cases have heavy responsibilities, and must have latitude in making tactical decisions as to how best to represent their clients within the bounds of propriety."

The high court upheld that decision without writing an opinion of its own.

Lorraine said in his brief to the Supreme Court that the Connally firm's accusation of fraud was "false and libelous. My personal feelings are injured."

Police Chief's Daughter Drowns

MERCEDES, Tex. (AP) — Justice of the Peace Tiny Perez ruled Wednesday that the young daughter of Mercedes Police Chief Bob Park died of accidental drowning.

The body of Stacie Park, about five years old was found late Tuesday in an unused swimming pool at the Park family home in this Lower Rio Grande Valley city.

Perez said the child apparently fell into the pool from a diving board.

Park came to Mercedes late last year after serving as police chief at Elmendorf, a small town near San Antonio.

Air Crash Kills Champaign Pilot

DALLAS (AP) — Frederick Vonesh, 23, of Champaign, Ill., died near midnight Wednesday of injuries suffered in the afternoon when a single-engine plane crashed on takeoff from an airstrip in suburban Garland.

Two companions—Welby Scherer, 43, and Charles Iott, 31, both of Toledo, Ohio, escaped with minor injuries.

Witnesses told of seeing the seven-seat Cherokee hit a power line, drop to earth and roll half a dozen times.

Jay Pless, 22, working for a landscaping firm close by, said, "It hit the wires on the right wing and rolled and flipped. I was scared. I didn't know whether to run or not."

As Pless and a companion dived to safety, the plane smashed through the roof of a partly built one-story building and skidded upside down to a neighboring rooftop.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Duffy claim a pickup and trailer had stopped or was "just barely moving" on the far side of a small hill at the time of the collision in the afternoon of July 13, 1973.

The THD is faulted in the petition for not warning motorists and is being sued for $20,000.

Stans Meddled In Fraud Case

NEW YORK (AP) — A former Security and Exchange Commission chairman says one-time Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans meddled in a massive fraud case against financier Robert L. Vesco, a big cash contributor to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

"He made a statement to the effect there was no reason to cause embarrassment here and could we limit the scope of our inquiry?" said G. Bradford Cook, who served three months in 1973 as the SEC chairman.

When it appeared that the SEC might rip the shield of secrecy from Vesco's secret $200,000 cash contribution, Cook said Stans' reaction was: "Oh, oh, that gives me a problem."

Cook is scheduled to return to the witness stand today at an abbreviated session of Stans' trial with former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell on criminal conspiracy charges. The morning session was eliminated so defense attorneys can catch up on some legal homework.

Mitchell and Stans are accused of impeding the SEC investigation in return for Ves-co's contribution. The charges included conspiracy, obstruction of justice and perjury.

The indictment charges that as a part of the conspiracy Stans caused Cook to delete all specific references to Vesco's $200,000 contribution in the fraud complaint that the SEC eventually filed Nov. 27, 1972.

It is also charged that Stans caused Cook to request the SEC staff to pigeonhole transcripts of testimony relating to the contribution, that were to be filed in federal court in support of the fraud complaint.

In furtherance of the conspiracy and the ensuing attempt to cover up its existence, Cook said there were meetings between himself and Stans in such widely separated locations as a rice field in Texas and the dining room in the basement of the White House.

Cook said he told Stans one paragraph in the SEC complaint traced the money from a New York bank through Vesco's hands, without, however, noting its final destination — Stans' Finance Committee to Re-elect the President. Times said dates were specified.

REPORTEDLY KILLED IN ISRAELI SHELLING — Syrian parents cry over bodies of two children allegedly killed Tuesday when Israeli forces shelled a civilian village in the northern part of the Golan Heights. The Syrian army, which released this photo, said it silenced 12 Israeli batteries and scored a direct hit on the Ein Diwan military settlement as Syrian and Israeli forces exchanged fire for the 16th consecutive day.

Nixon Salutes Cameraman Who Rammed Car Of Thugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon on Wednesday personally congratulated television news cameraman William Roy Anderson, who rammed a car that was fleeing from police after a Memphis, Tenn., bank robbery March 18.

The President, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe and FBI Director Clarence Kelley joined in the Oval Office salute to Anderson and the publicity his case has given to citizen participation in fighting crime.

Anderson is getting a bronze medal from the Justice Department, Saxbe told the President, in applauding the "wave of citizen participation" Anderson seems to have started.

The attorney general pointed out that a Washington Star-News editor chased three persons suspected of robbery last Tuesday and summoned a police car that arrested them. "Did you ever think of yourself?" the President asked Anderson, whose action resulted in the arrest of several suspects after they had run down a police officer in the attempted getaway.

"No, sir," Anderson told the President. "A man reacts out of anger. I intended to stay out of the way until I saw him run the policeman down."

Kelley added this tribute at the picture-taking session in the President's office. "He did a mighty fine job," Kelley said of Anderson's effort.

Also accompanying Anderson to the President's office was Rep. Dan H. Kuykendall, R-Tenn.

Dog Food Used To Rob Bank

HOUSTON (AP) — Police sought today a man who used a fake bomb consisting of a can of dog food and an alarm clock to rob a bank of about $4,000.

Carrie M. Fowler, 51, a drive-in teller at the Peoples National Bank in northwest Houston, said a young man with long blond hair walked up and placed a bag and a note in the drawer between him and the teller.

The note said, "The bomb is in black bag. Give me money and safe getting out of here. I will take it with me. Do not try anything. I also have a gun in my pocket."

Detectives said Mrs. Fowler began putting money in the drawer but when it pushed out again the wheels jammed on bundles of $20 bills.

"The hijacker reached in and grabbed all he could reach, but had to leave his 'bomb' behind and $5,500 he couldn't get to, and just ran," they said.

The bidding:

- North East South West
- 1 ♠ 1 ♦ 1 ♥ 1 ♣
- 7 Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ♠

Only a few duplicate aficionados have heard of Goldwater's Law, named after American Contract Bridge League tournament director, Harry Goldwater. It states: "Always accept a lead out of turn. If the poor so-and-so doesn't even know whose lead it is, what makes you think he knows enough to lead the right suit?"

Today's hand cropped up at a tournament in Atlantic City, N. J., where Goldwater was officiating. North's bid of seven hearts was a desperate attempt to pick up some badly needed points. He reckoned that there was a better than 50 per cent chance that the opponents would lead the wrong suit, in which case his clubs would provide more than enough discards for his partner's spades.

East heard seven hearts bid at his right, and automatically presumed that it was his lead. Before anyone could say anything, he had the ace of diamonds in front of him on the table. It seemed that North's tactics were about to pay off.

Unfortunately, North had reckoned without his partner. No sooner had the ace of diamonds appeared, than South yelled for the tournament director.

It so happened that the director summoned to give a ruling was Harry Goldwater. South explained that there had been a lead out of turn, and Goldwater mentioned that declarer had four options, one of which was to have the correct hand lead and the diamond suit barred as an opening lead.

Since South had not seen his partner's hand, he did not relish the prospect of playing a grand slam against the lead of an ace. It never dawned on him that his partner might have leaped to seven hearts missing two aces. Playing what he considered to be the percentages, South barred a diamond, and requested West to lead another suit.

West settled for the ace of spades, and that meant down one. Note that if declarer had followed Goldwater's Law and accepted the lead of the diamond ace, he would have made his grand slam with tricks to burn.

Syria Ups Price For Disengagement Pact

By The Associated Press

Syria raised its price today for a disengagement pact with Israel as Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan left Tel Aviv for Washington with the terms of his government's offer to pull back its forces on the Golan Heights.

Syrian Vice President Abdelhakim Khaddam told a news conference in Tunis that a military disengagement agreement must be preceded by a formal Israeli commitment to evacuate all Arab territories occupied in the 1967 war, including Old Jerusalem and the entire Golan Heights.

CAPTURED

He also said Israel must recognize "the legitimate rights of the Palestinian people" before Syria will agree to a disengagement pact.

Previously, Syria's only reported condition for disengagement was the return of the town of Kuneitra on the eastern side of the Golan Heights, captured by Israel in the 1967 war. Even this was more than the Israelis have been reported willing to concede, and they have said repeatedly that they would never give up all of the Golan Heights and Old Jerusalem.

Khaddam stressed that there will be no direct disengagement talks between Syria and Israel. He said Syria has refused to take part in the Geneva peace talks, now in recess, because of "Israeli maneuvers to obtain advantages" — but when Israel has met the two Syrian conditions his country "will change her attitude."

UNIT DESTROYED

Meanwhile, the Syrian command said Syrian and Israeli heavy artillery and tanks clashed today for the 17th straight day on the Golan Heights front.

There was no immediate report of casualties.

A Syrian communique said Israeli forces tried to fortify positions in the central sector of the 40-mile front, and "our forces retaliated and destroyed an enemy engineering unit."

Dayan carried a large disengagement map on his special flight from Tel Aviv to Washington and was scheduled to meet Secretary of State Henry

A. Kissinger on Friday after Kissinger's return from Moscow.

"And I'm not going to show you this big map I'm carrying with me," Dayan told newsmen at the airport. "I prefer to show it to Dr. Kissinger first."

FACE TO FACE

The Israeli minister's meeting with Kissinger marks the start of negotiations in Washington for a troop disengagement agreement between Syria and Israel similar to the one Kissinger negotiated between Egypt and Israel.

Syria's negotiators are due in Washington April 10, but they will not deal with the Israelis face to face. Instead Kissinger and his aides will act as go-betweens and mediators, just as they did between the Israelis and the Egyptians. But this time, at least in the initial stages, the shutting will be by automobile back and forth in Washington instead of by plane between Israel and Egypt.
