BY HIGH COURT Transsexual Denied Chance

WASHINGTON (AP) — A transsexual man today was denied a chance to convince the Supreme Court he has a right to dress as he pleases, including in women's clothes.

The high court, over the objection of Justice William O. Douglas, declined to hear an appeal filed for Richard Anthony Mayes by the American Civil Liberties Union Foundation.

BEHAVIOR COMPULSIVE

Mayes was convicted and fined $50 under a Houston, Tex., ordinance that prohibits dressing as a member of the opposite sex.

ACLU lawyers said the ordinance violates the constitutionally protected right to privacy. And, they maintained, the ordinance violates the Eighth Amendment's prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment by placing a criminal penalty on compulsive behavior that harms no one.

At Mayes' county court trial, his doctor testified that Mayes is a transsexual, a person who compulsively believes he or she is a member of the opposite sex and is obsessed with the desire to appear as a member of that sex.

The physician said he had been treating Mayes with hormones and requiring that he live for a year and a half as a woman before performing a sex change operation.

'MY BODY IS MALE'

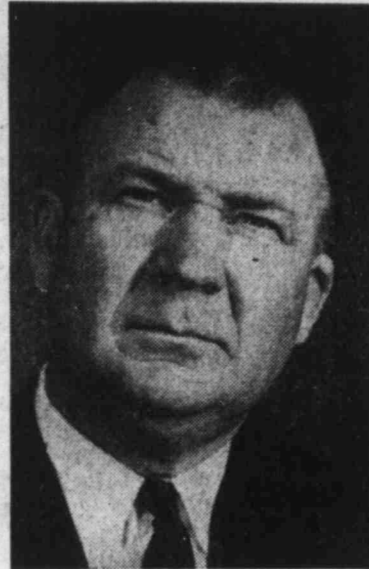

The question in the case, said the ACLU attorneys, "is whether the right to govern one's own personal appearance is a fundamental right."

The Supreme Court "has never defined the scope of the right of privacy with respect to the critically important and timely subject of sexual orientation."

"We would forget the teachings of the Eighth Amendment if we allowed sickness to be made a crime," they said. Mayes' conviction followed his seventh arrest. He was wearing make-up, a woman's pants suit and a small typewritten sign saying: "My body is male."

Chalk Up One For Osorio

DALLAS (AP) — A defense witness in the fraud-conspiracy trial of former Texas Insurance Commissioner John Osorio testified today that signatures on two letters critical to Osorio's case are forgeries.

The witness, James L. Lewis, former director of the Secret Service Questioned Document School, said "It is my opinion he (Osorio) is not the author of either of the signatures. Lewis has been a specialist in handwriting and study of forged documents for 30 years.

The two letters to the Bank of Louisville, Ky., purport to be Osorio's request that labels restricting the use of certain unregistered RIC International stock be removed.

The government claims Osorio and former Texas Atty. Gen. Wagoner Carr and Dallas businessman David Hoover plotted to use the altered stock as collateral for $3 million in loans.

Atmosphere Of Hopefulness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel industry negotiators sat down at the bargaining table today in an atmosphere of hopefulness that they will agree on a new contract by a self-imposed April 15 deadline.

If they do not have an agreement by that time, they said they would submit all unresolved issues to binding arbitration.

The settlement between the Big 10 steel producers and the United Steelworkers of America is expected to be a costly one for the industry, resulting in higher prices for consumers.

It is expected to follow the pattern set earlier this year in USW contracts with the aluminum can industries.

Residents Jittery Over Rattlesnakes

Police received two calls over the weekend from upset citizens living close to captured rattlesnakes. It was thought to be an offshoot of the rattlesnake roundup.

The first call came from a woman who found a rattlesnake in her garage. When the policeman arrived, the neighbor told the officer it was his snake and he would take care of it.

Two hours later, a woman called the police that her neighbor had a live rattler in a cardboard box and she wanted it killed.

There is no city ordinance against keeping rattlesnakes although there is one against horses, livestock and bees.

The city attorney Monday got a call about the matter and was checking state laws to see if there is anything to prohibit the keeping of dangerous snakes in the city.

'Dirty Political Tricks' Activities Trial Starts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jury selection began today for the trial of Dwight L. Chapin, charged with lying to a grand jury about the "dirty political tricks" activities of Donald H. Segretti.

U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard H. Gesell told a panel of 60 that the trial is expected to "not take more than a week or 10 days."

SUSAN PRESENT

"I can assure you this is a firm estimate; it will not be a long trial," the judge said.

The jury of 12 and four alternates will be sequestered during the trial.

In the courtroom were Chapin's wife, Susan, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Chapin.

The judge excused a number of prospective jurors who gave personal reasons why they could not serve, then went into the issue of pretrial publicity.

"How many of you more or less regularly have heard news stories on radio about Watergate?" he asked. Sixteen hands went up.

"How many of you more or less regularly have read front page stories, editorials, or columnists appearing in the Washington Post?" Nineteen hands.

SAME QUESTION

To the same question about television broadcasts some 23 of the jurors raised hands. After seven such questions Gesell asked how many had not put up their hands at least once, and there were four.

Gesell got no response from any of the some 30 potential jurors left when he asked whether "because what you have read or heard on TV or radio you have a fixed opinion that any one investigated by the special prosecutor must be guilty of something?"

After 23 questions, many of them bearing on possible pre-trial prejudice, the judge excused three more people.

Chapin, former presidential appointments secretary, was indicted Nov. 29, 1973 on four counts of lying to a grand jury.

Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski has said that ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III would be a key government witness against Chapin.

Dean, who pleaded guilty last October to conspiring to obstruct the investigation of the Watergate break-in, already has testified as a prosecution witness at the New York trial of former Cabinet members John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans.

ELECTION LAWS

Another key prosecution witness will be Segretti, who served five months in a federal correctional facility after pleading guilty to misdemeanor violations of federal election laws. Segretti was released last Monday.

Like Dean, Segretti agreed to cooperate with the special prosecutor's office.

ENOUGH TO MAKE YOU GULP 'Fred Fin' Puts Hooks Into Insurance Company

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Stan Mazanek was $650 richer today thanks to the direct mail practices of an Oklahoma insurance company and his recently deceased guppy fish, Fred Fin.

Last year, while a student at the University of Arizona in Tucson, Mazanek received a mail offer from Globe Life & Accident Insurance Co. of Oklahoma City for a $5,000 life insurance policy. The offer said the policy would run for six months and the premium would cost only $1. a special student discount.

As a joke, Mazanek decided to sign up his 60-cent guppy, Fred Fin Mazanek, for the insurance.

Carefully he filled in all information, listing Fred Fin's height as three centimeters and weight as 30 centigrams. The fish's age of 6 months was included and, as beneficiary, he wrote in "Stanley J. Mazanek—Owner."

To Mazanek's surprise, he soon received a formal policy insuring the life of Fred Fin Mazanek.

In December, when Fred Fin died of natural causes, Mazanek decided, still as a joke, to write Globe Life that the insured had died within the policy's six-month span and, as beneficiary, (See FRED, Pg. 2-A, Col. 2)

While, Vice President Gerald R. Ford has blasted the Committee For the Re-election of the President, describing it in a Chicago speech as an "arrogant, elite guard of political adolescents."

Ford spoke Saturday to more than 1,000 midwest Republicans, including GOP National Chairman George Bush and presidential hopeful Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois. The audience stood and cheered Ford's biting remarks about the re-election committee.

He said the committee "violated the historic concept of the two-party system in America and ran roughshod over the seasoned political judgment and experience of the regular Republican party organization in the 50 states. The fatal defect of CREEP was that it made its own rules and thus made its own ruin," he said.

Later, Ford told a news conference he "spoke as my own man," that his remarks had not been cleared with the White House.

Two Groups Attempt To Stop Snake Hunt

Representatives of the National Audubon Society and the Defenders of Wildlife from New York City and Washington D.C. attempted to file some type of injunction to halt the Jaycees Rattlesnake Roundup here the past weekend.

James P. Rod, assistant to the president of the Audubon Society and Mrs. Cecile B. O'Marr representing the Defenders of Wildlife are traveling around the country attending all of the Rattlesnake Roundups. They even accompanied one hunter on his rounds.

The two went to both the city attorney and the county attorney and took objection to the cruelty to the rattlesnake in the trapping methods, the milking of their venom and other things about the roundup they found offensive.

City attorney James Gregg told them that the violation of a law on cruelty to animals would come under a higher jurisdiction. He also told the duo that West Texas didn't consider rattlesnakes as animals, but reptiles.

County Attorney Bill Eysson told the group that if there was anything filed, they would have to sign the complaint and return to testify "because I think you would find very few West Texans wanting to protect the rattlesnake. They are not in danger of extinction around here. We still have plenty of them and a lot of our citizens are afraid of them and teach their children to be."

Jaycee Snake Handler Delbert Hutchings had earlier said that "I hear the environmentalists are coming this year. Let them come."

Captured Rattlers Here Weigh Out At 2,600 Lbs.

The 12th annual Big Spring Jaycees' Rattlesnake Roundup, which ended Sunday evening, was declared the biggest success of them all.

An estimated 5,000 persons attended the show. A total of 2,600 pounds of snakes were captured and displayed. The kitchens operated by the wives of the Jaycees were busy too. An estimated 800 pounds of snake meat were sold.

Snake handler Delbert Hutchings was the only casualty. He experienced a minor nick on one finger but used a pocket knife to open the wound, sucked the venom out himself and declined all suggestions that he go to a doctor.

The doors to the National Guard Armory, scene of the show, closed at 6 p.m., Sunday. An estimated 75 Jaycees, including volunteers from Station, Abilene and Midland, helped insure the success of the show.

Twenty ounces of venom were milked from the snakes. It was to be packed in dry ice, frozen and shipped to Dr. Carlos Benilla at Colorado State University for research.

Winners in the roundup included:

Total weight brought in — First prize, Bryan, Jackie and Dalton Carr, 749 pounds, check for $35 and trophy. Second place — Arnold and Jack Town, 649 pounds, a check for $25 and trophy. Third place — Johnny Edwards, 244½ pounds, check for $15 and a trophy.

Longest snake — Brought in by the Carrs, 63¾ inches, check for $25 and trophy.

Shortest snake — Paul Hutchings, 12 years old, 13½ inches in length, $13.50 check and trophy.

Competition for most rattlers on one snake — Tie between Ray Fortsen and the Carrs, 75 rattlers. Each gets a trophy.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger believes the United States is politically and morally committed to giving long-term military and economic aid to South Vietnam. In a letter to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Kissinger said: "The United States committed itself to strengthening the conditions which made the cease-fire possible and to the goal of the South Vietnamese people's right to self-determination." But Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, responded that the Paris agreements "aren't commitments, they are not a declaration of intent. They are not a moral or legal obligation until Congress passes them."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is entering a second week of debate on a controversial campaign reform bill. Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn., opposes the bill and is introducing a substitute measure. "There are several ways to effectively reform campaign spending without resorting to government financing," he said. The original bill would permit use of tax funds to finance election campaigns for federal office. Meanwhile, the House is considering a consumer protection bill and a measure which includes authorization for a $474 million increase in U.S. military aid to South Vietnam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department says a federal program using public works to boost employment during economic slumps failed to generate jobs. A department report says using such projects "to generate immediate short-term employment... is both inefficient and costly."

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. military officials say study of Soviet equipment captured by the Israelis last fall shows the Russians are placing special stress on night fighting. As a result, the Pentagon is spurring research efforts to improve night vision gear for both ground and air warfare.

Wrecks Keep Police Busy

A pickup overturned on a rural road early today, spilling several young people, who, fortunately, escaped serious injury. Roger Edwards, 17, was in surgery at Medical Center Hospital today for two fractured arms received in a wreck on the 11th Place extension at 12:21 a.m. James Edwards, of 806 E. 16th, home from Fort Hood, was driving a pickup with two passengers in the front and four in the rear. He told officers that a van raced by him and crowded him off the road, then left the scene. The pickup spun off the roadway and rolled over spilling passengers out all over the road. Those with minor injuries included Sheila Kilpatrick, 1401 Robin, Vernon White, 701 E. 13th, Genora Rosa, Garden City, Ricky Edwards and Mark Edwards of 806 E. 16th.

WILD SCENE
In a wreck Saturday night at the parking lot of the Wagon Wheel Drive-In on 4th and Birdwell, an airman, Bernard F. Londino, was in collision with vehicles driven by Mary Lou Marvin, 1322 Harding; Travis Williams Mauldin, Sterling City, Route, also a parked vehicle belonging to Claude J. Horn, General Delivery. His vehicle then catapulted a 60-foot chain fence and struck Harris Lumber Company, causing $200 in damages. Webb AFB air police took him in charge. He has pleaded not guilty to charges which will be heard in this week's session of Municipal Court.

AT TRAFFIC LIGHT
At 3:36 p.m. at 700 and Highway 80, a vehicle driven by Mark Randall Glaspie, 16, of San Angelo was in collision with rear of a vehicle stopped at the red light. It was being driven by Charles William Brunley, according to the investigating patrolman's report. Glaspie was taken to Cowper Hospital for minor injuries. The fire department was called due to gasoline spilled on the highway. Glaspie was cited by the officer for allegedly following too close and having no drivers license in his possession.

County Fire Equipment Is Battered In Blaze

By JOHN EDWARDS
Radiators, tires, wheels, transmissions, rear ends, pumps and clutches needed repair in the wake of a grass fire which burned an estimated 1,000 acres, Marvin Hanson, road administrator, told County Commissioners Court. Volunteer firemen, county road department employees, deputy sheriffs and crews from Webb Air Force Base were among those battling the fire that started northeast of Forsan and South of Coahoma and jumped the Colorado River. They worked Saturday and Sunday, and this morning the Howard County Sheriff's Office received a query about where the fire had begun blazing again. The sheriff's office had not been advised that the fire had started again. Ways to improve communications and coordination between fire fighters were discussed. And the court was told of problems getting fuel. A representative of the Lubbock city-county welfare unit will meet with county officials later this week. Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare association director, said. And County Judge A. G. Mitchell spoke to the court about meeting with advocates of a state office for child welfare. Mrs. Phillips reported to the court on a nine-year-old girl who was bruised when her father "whipped" her. School officials told the city police department about the incident, but the county welfare association was not contacted until several days later. Mrs. Phillips said a doctor examined the girl, who said her father was a good father. He just "whipped her a little too hard," Mrs. Phillips said. Other business included: Changing hours for road department employees to 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. with one hour for lunch. Accepting an easement from the W. C. Robinson estate for an already existing road in the Sand Springs Community. Hearing Mitchell appoint Commissioners Simon Terrazas and Jack Buchanan to meet with city representatives concerning charity hospital cases. And calling for paving plans next Monday. The court wants the plans prepared so materials can be sought soon.

Oil Field Mishap Is Fatal To Man

COLORADO CITY — Earl Gene Lambert, 24, of Sweetwater was killed 30 miles south of here early Saturday in an oil drilling accident. Justice of Peace Mary Lee Moore ruled the death accidental. A piece of equipment broke and struck Lambert on the head, according to witnesses. The funeral will be held at 3 p.m., today at Elliott-Hamilton Chapel of Memories in Abilene. Mr. Lambert had only recently gone to work for the D&B Drilling Company of Abilene. He was a 1967 graduate of Wylie High School.

The firm owed him $5,000. The company sent a representative to Tucson at once to see if Mazanek was serious. Mazanek decided he was serious and informed the representative that Globe Life had insured a life for $5,000 and that life had expired before the policy. So, he reasoned, the firm owed him $5,000. "We sat there and argued like a couple of drunk horse traders," Mazanek said. He brought his demand down to $1,000 and the insurance man said $650 was as high as he would go in settlement. Finally, as the Globe Life representative was leaving, Mazanek consented to the $650. "I haven't done anything illegal," he said. "The company didn't specify that the insured had to be human and I filled out every blank with informa-

Eight Offer For Offices

COLORADO CITY — Colorado City voters will have a slate of eight candidates from which to choose Tuesday in filling three vacancies on the city council. Two of the present councilmen, Eddie Piland and Pint Richards, did not file for reelection. Finis (Buck) May, employee of Dow Chemical Co. is the incumbent seeking reelection. J. Lee Jines, 69, who returned to Colorado City 1971 after an absence of 50 years, was unsuccessful in his try for a council seat in 1973, but is on the ballot again this year. The other six candidates are newcomers to Colorado City politics. They are: Mrs. Marion Bassham, Root Hospital employee and one of the owners of the Spade Ranch; Larry Hamner, 28, president of the H&H Air Compressor Co.; Joe Stockton, 24 a former city policeman and now an employee of the Root Hospital; Don Minshew, 30, owner of a service station and glass shop; Herman Upshaw, 52, owner of Upshaw's Body Shop; and Charles Snider, Dow Chemical Co. employee.

Data Is Sought On Air Travel

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce needs your help in documenting its case in support of retaining commercial airline service here.

One item needed is a tabulation of the use of airline service by members of a household, relatives or associates who have used airline service in this area. This would include embarkations or arrivals at Howard County Airport or a Midland-Odessa or other airports in this area.

Hence, you are asked to fill in the accompanying form and return as soon as possible to the chamber of commerce. If you used an airport other than HCA, you may wish to state why under the space for remarks."

Ralph McLaughlin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stressed the importance of a good response as promptly as possible for the reason that all the totals need to be tabulated and assembled in a form suitable for introduction in the record by the end of April.

Sexual Assaults Suspect Behind Bars In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—A Sulphur Springs man held in the Dallas County jail in lieu of $250,000 bond is a suspect in sexual assaults on women in suburban Irving, in Athens and in Fort Worth.

James W. Baxley's bond was set after he was charged with aggravated assault in the March 11 attack on an Irving woman. In an apparent effort to be sure he stayed in jail, Justice of the Peace Lloyd Russell set Baxley's bond at the quarter million dollar mark. Now Irving detectives say Athens sheriff's deputies have issued a warrant for Baxley charging him with a sexual attack on a woman in Henderson County.

Family Grocery Bill Declined In March

By The Associated Press

The family grocery bill declined slightly during March, the first such drop in five months, an AP marketbasket survey shows.

More items went up in price than went down. But sales on meat and eggs cut the dollar value of the marketbasket in nine of 13 cities checked, with an average decrease of 2.2 per cent. It was the first month since October that marketbasket declines outnumbered increases.

13 CITIES

The AP priced 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities on March 1, 1974, and has checked at the beginning of each succeeding month. The latest check showed that 32.3 per cent of the items in the survey went up in price during March, 1974; 23.6 per cent decreased; 36.4 per cent were unchanged; and 7.7 per cent were unavailable on one of the two survey dates.

The marketbasket decreases ranged from a fraction of a per cent in Albuquerque, N.M., to 4 per cent in Boston where the price of a pound of chopped chuck dropped from $1.49 to $1.09.

The bill was up in four cities — Seattle, Wash., New York, Miami and Philadelphia — with an average increase of 1.6 per cent.

Prices in every city were higher at the beginning of April 1974 than they were on March 1, 1973. The marketbasket bill was up an average of 13.3 per cent over the 13-month period.

depends on how you look at us

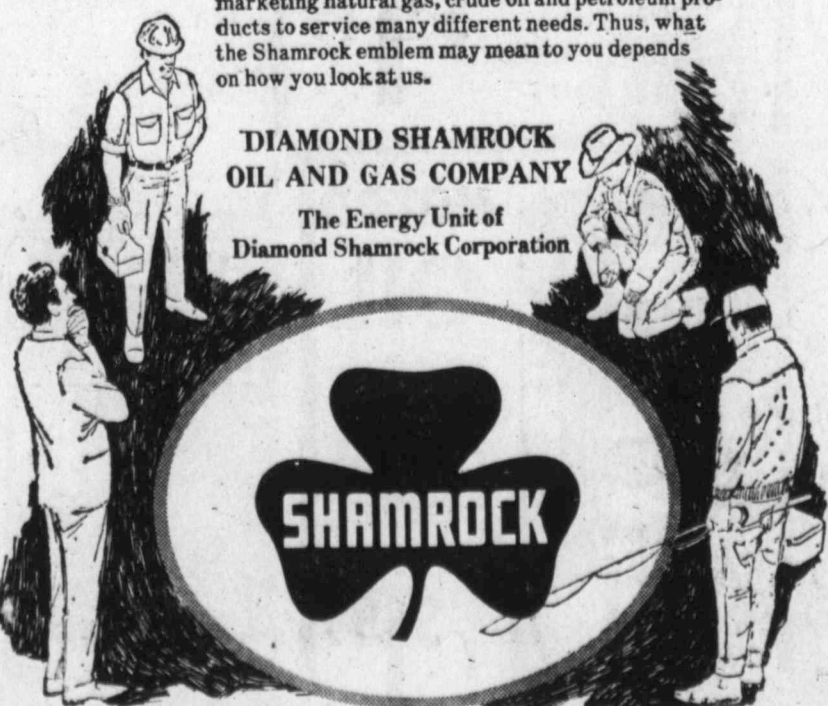

When you see this sign you usually think of a Shamrock service station, where you get Cloud Master and Trail Master gasolines and Shamrock's fine family of motor oils. Shamrock, however, is more than just a service station. Our products mean many things to many people.

To farmers, Shamrock is fertilizer as well as fuels and lubricants for farm machines. Sportsmen may think of us as Shamrock Boat's Trail motor oil and marine fuel, while others may identify with Shamrock's Lush Lawn fertilizer. Industrial and commercial consumers look to Shamrock for lubricants of all kinds... for diesel, jet and turbine fuels... for elemental sulphur, sulphuric acid, carbon dioxide, asphalt and carbon black oil. Shamrock natural gas and LP-Gas are produced for domestic, farm and industrial use.

We are going all out to produce as much of these products as we possibly can during the energy shortage.

Diamond Shamrock is engaged in exploring for, developing, producing, transporting, refining and marketing natural gas, crude oil and petroleum products to service many different needs. Thus, what the Shamrock emblem may mean to you depends on how you look at us.

You can deal with the largest auto insurer in Texas, and get fast, friendly claim service, but it'll cost you.

Probably less.

People are often surprised to find that State Farm, the world's largest auto insurer, has such low rates. Right here in Texas, for most drivers, they have the lowest rates among the major companies... 15% less than the rates set by the State Board of Insurance. Combine that with State Farm's prompt, efficient claims service, and 11,500 agents to serve you from coast to coast, and you've got a car insurance value you can't afford to pass up.

Why not look up the State Farm agent near you and see how much he may save you? He's in the Yellow Pages.

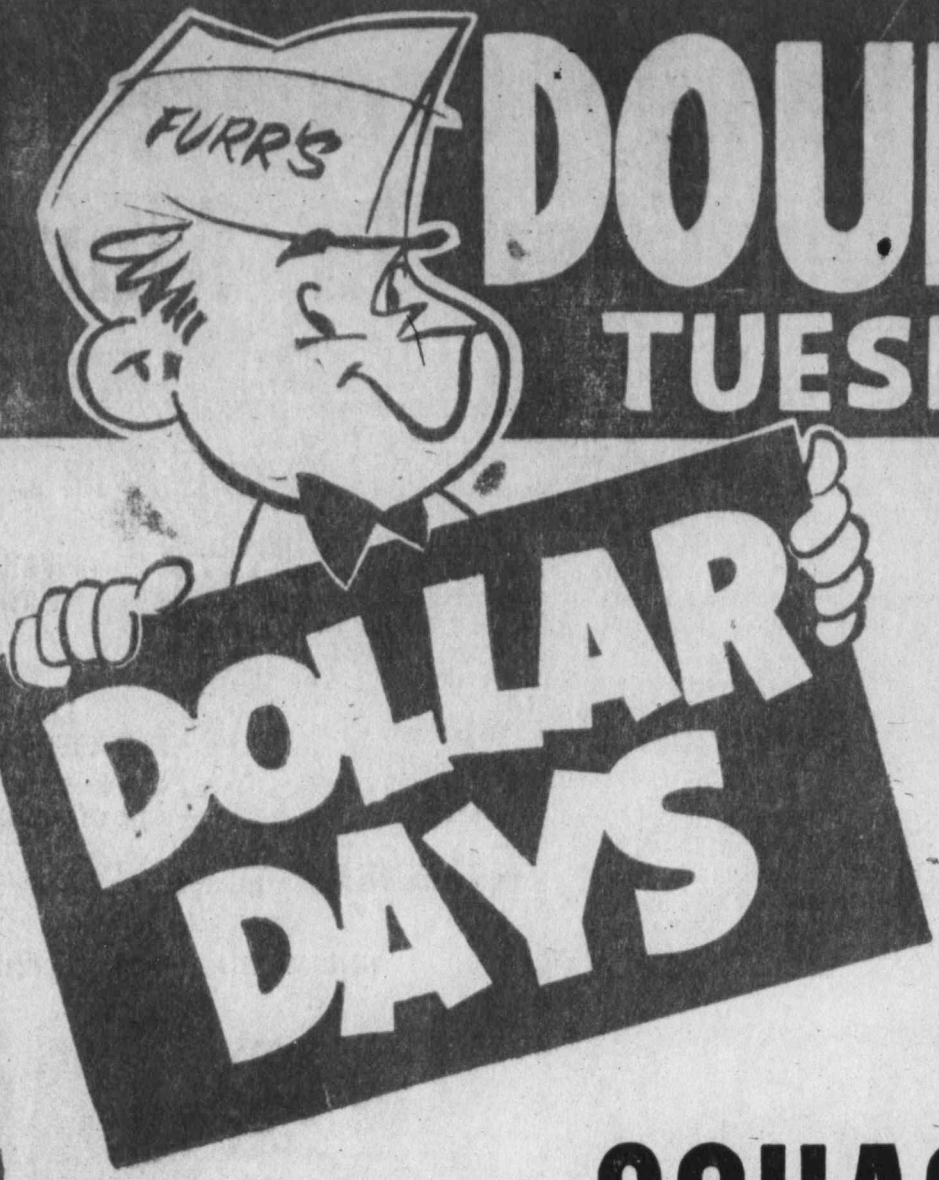

Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there.

Leaving It To Future

Deciding by a vote of 87-78 to leave the Railroad Commission out of the proposed new state constitution, the legislator-delegates to the Constitutional Convention have made a significant step toward better governmental organization.

The Railroad Commission will still exist, but it will be subject to modification by upcoming legislatures as it has in the past. Some future legislatures might decide to do away with it entirely, or make its members appointive instead of elective, or change its functions. And legislatures should be able to do these things just as with other state agencies.

There is no need to dwell on the history of the Railroad Commission itself to justify the action now taken. The commission has caught its share of criticism, particularly for being too closely involved with the oil industry it regulates. It has also accomplished much good for the state; its conservation policies have maintained the industry's health, and its allowable system helped at one time to keep oil prices at a viable level.

But by removing the commission from the constitution new options are opened. For example, it would make sense now to divorce the oil industry regulation function of the commission from its other duties relating to the regulation of transportation, freight rates and the like. Perhaps a new Oil and Gas Commission, plus a Transportation Board and a Utilities Commission, would better serve the public interest. And perhaps other structural changes, making these commissions more responsive and responsible to the public than to industry, can be made by future legislatures.

That goes to the heart of what must be our

Concession To Reality

The history of nations is punctuated by high-sounding treaties of alliance, marriages of convenience that usually lead to divorce when the purpose has been served or events overtake them. Among these is the South East Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), the brain-child of the late John Foster Dulles.

The defeat of the French at Dienbienphu persuaded Dulles in 1954 that all of Asia was threatened with a Communist takeover. Moving quickly he bound Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand, the United Kingdom and the U. S. together to provide for collective defense and economic cooperation in Southeast Asia. One of the most significant provisions of SEATO was that the threat of aggression in that area did not bring an automatic response. In the case of the United States, for instance, any action under the treaty was dependent on a supporting vote by Congress.

As the American involvement in Vietnam neared its climax in the late Sixties, Secretary of State Dean Rusk cited SEATO obligations as one of the factors in Vietnam involvement, but he later virtually backed off that.

The administration is resisting a drive to scrap SEATO. Yet the Asian view that the U. S. is leaving Asians more or less to settle their own problems coincides with a pretty general feeling of Americans. It's not so much isolationism as it is a realization the U. S. can't police the world, but must concentrate where its interests are present and direct.

Coming Home

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

I received a letter the other day from an expatriated Texan, an individual who had gone east a decade ago (give or take a year or two) to cement his future and consolidate his gains. He has prospered — no doubt about that.

THE TIME is now looming when he will lay down his tools and begin to live off the fruits of his labors. He writes he can hardly wait to slip his harness and return to Texas.

He is now ensconced in a part of the world where God may have worked overtime to make enchanting, where the snows of winter and the rains of summer combine to create a wonderland in spring and fall. It is as if Orion in the zenith had flashed down his Democles sword one starry night and said "locate and thrive there!"

THE LOVELINESS of the countryside, however, is being spoiled for my correspondent by the rising hysteria of the people. The writer laments that the wild-eyed liberal professors, the pundits and the yeomanry they influence are working 24 hours a day to undermine and destroy this great country.

"WE GET A daily diet of this kind of doomsday type of talk," he said,

"and I must admit that after a few years a person begins to feel the same way.

"It is gratifying . . . that the great state of Texas is . . . maintaining its balance . . ."

THERE IS almost universal hostility against the "ins" in universities along the Eastern Seaboard. Most Texans, on the other hand, have an optimistic attitude. The prophets of disaster are outnumbered down here.

The capital of our country seems in the vise-like grip of a disease it cannot shake, and that virus has predictably spread all over the East.

CENTRALIZATION of government, the concentration of all power in Washington, has contributed to that malaise and fed that virus, at least in my mind. There is no innoculation which protects a man once he goes to work for big government. He gets out of tune with the people he is sent to represent. Those who watch the operation of the legislative, judicial and executive branches, all too often, lose their perspective, too.

For my correspondent, at least, returning to the land of his forebears could and should renew and regenerate his faith in mankind.

Baker's Expedition

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Sen. Howard Baker's fruitless investigation of gossamer links between the Watergate scandal and the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) seems unlikely to help President Nixon, but threatens serious damage to the nation's beleaguered foreign intelligence operation.

DESPITE accumulating newspaper leaks and Baker's hints of knowing much more than he can tell, Watergate is not about to be blamed on the CIA, in part or in whole. Under close examination, the leaks turn out to be red herrings. Objective investigators are positive there was no CIA role in Watergate.

But conservative Republican Baker, ironically, sounds ever more like left-leaning critics of the CIA who complain that Senators linked too closely to the agency never do adequately probe its inner recesses. Nevertheless, his innuendo further erodes the CIA's tattered morale and prestige.

BAKER'S MOTIVES are as shrouded as his over-all Watergate performance. As senior Republican on the Senate Watergate committee during last summer's televised hearings, he achieved instant fame. But the image of objectivity that made him a TV idol infuriated the White House and party regulars. Baker, a party man and a Nixon man, began hedging his bets in midsummer.

THAT WAS apparent Aug. 2 when Richard Helms, former CIA director, returned from his post as ambassador to Iran to testify before the Watergate committee. Many Senators believed the highly respected Helms had been bounced from the CIA for refusing to take the Watergate rap. But Baker was surprisingly hostile, his questions presaging his future investigation. Baker has heatedly denied that this course was dictated by senior White House aides. Even so, his actions were obviously designed to help Mr. Nixon. In explaining his conduct immediately after the Watergate burglary, the President contended he feared investigation would uncover super-secret CIA operations. If Baker developed even tangential CIA connections with Watergate, Mr. Nixon would obviously look better.

WORKING TOWARD that end, Baker late last October noted a Harper's magazine article by Andrew St. George claiming that Helms had advance knowledge of the Watergate burglary. St. George, a journalistic swashbuckler, was summoned, but he knew nothing.

But Baker relied on more than flamboyant journalism. The Watergate committee's minority staff, concentrating on the CIA, has produced a classified report. Insinuating more than accusing, it is the mother lode for published reports suggesting some ominous CIA role in Watergate. The Watergate committee majority staff regards the report as next to useless, and is inclined to give CIA a clean bill of health, especially since several rumors have proven groundless. But while Baker can't help the President, he can hurt the CIA.

"Tell your President that we've rolled out the red carpet and created a perfect summit!"

Longest Made-For-TV Film

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "QB VII," a made-for-television movie based on Leon Uris' best-selling novel of the same name, will be with us for quite a while on ABC — the network says 6½ hours in all — next April 29 and 30.

Although record-setting wasn't what producer Douglas Cramer had in mind, he says it's the longest made-for-TV film ever aired, exceeding even NBC's four-part "Blue Knight" miniseries.

Cramer, 42, who struck some kind of blow for candor by saying the show actually runs five hours and 20 minutes without commercials, titles and station breaks, said ABC never set any time limit for the movie.

THE SIMPLE REASON it's as long as it is, he said, it's because Barry Diller, an ABC executive who commissioned it, felt that "a great many books have been ruined by being compressed arbitrarily for two or three hours of screen time." And Diller wanted to right this wrong.

Since some miniseries have proved successful and TV audiences have shown they'll watch hit theatrical films even when these are aired over a two-night period, "why not buy books and do them (for TV) at whatever length they hold up?" Cramer said.

He said Diller's instructions after "QB VII" was bought in April 1971 — the price was $250,000 — were simply: "Go write a script and let's see how long it takes to tell the story without truncating it."

THE BOOK concerns the lives of a novelist and physician, the latter forced by the Nazis during World War II to perform illegal operations in concentration camps.

The novelist names the physician as a war criminal in a book; the doctor sues for libel; and their legal war ends at a trial in London.

Putting the story to film involved a 340-page script, 150 speaking parts, four months of shooting in the United States, Belgium, Israel and England and a total production cost of $2.5 million, Cramer said.

ALTHOUGH some made-for-TV movies have been released in theaters overseas, this video extravaganza won't be trimmed in length to go that route, Cramer said. It'll be sold only for television.

This, he added, "is because its potential in the television market is so sure-fire, judging from the reception it's had so far, is that it's guaranteed money in the bank."

Annual Reports Can Help

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the time of year when corporate annual reports fill the mail — and too often the wastebaskets of shareholders.

The usual explanations for such indifference is that the reports are dull or overly complex or that they fail in other ways to communicate the message.

But an investment advisory service maintains that just a few tips on what to look for in a report can provide valuable information even to those shareholders who have little or no specialized analytical training.

Standard & Poor's Corp. claims that the president's letter is as good a place as any to begin, since it usually provides a concise summary of the financial outcome in terms of revenues, net income and share prices.

It cautions readers, however, that "realistically, of course, you must realize that this text and related data tend to put the best possible face on management's performance."

John Cuniff

One-Man Picket Gets Results

DUBLIN (AP) — When Patrick Kearns reported for work at a fertilizer factory in Dublin he was told he was not on the staff, and furthermore, he was not known.

So Patrick went outside and formed a one-man picket line which 350 other workers refused to cross.

It developed that Patrick had been on sick leave for 11 years and when he returned to work the time-keeper had no knowledge of his existence.

A spokesman for the company said Kearns left in 1962 with a heart condition and they had not heard from him since. Now a doctor has certified him fit for work and his case is to be reconsidered.

Researchers Improve Shrimp

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unlikely exchange of skills between federal fishery biologists and University of Arizona researchers in greenhouse environments for desert areas may lead to improvements in the culture of shrimp.

Most efforts to raise shrimp under semiarid conditions have been only moderately successful. Now experts from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration feel that the new "greenhouse" techniques may eliminate predators, competitors and adverse weather.

Fat Dangerous To Babies

DUBLIN (AP) — Fat babies are a product of modern society, say doctors at St. James Hospital in Dublin. They have a greater tendency to infections of the upper respiratory tract, like pneumonia. They are more likely than thin children to have stomach troubles like enteritis and appendicitis.

Should Drivers Take Med Tests?

BELGRADE (AP) — Ljubomir Lazarevic, councilman of the capital of Yugoslavia, recently proposed that each taxi driver of the capital should, before obtaining a license, undergo psychiatric observation.

He argued that taxi drivers perform a public service and that only those mentally stable can perform it. He added that if his proposal is adopted complaints of the public against erratic taxi drivers would be eliminated.

His proposal was not accepted.

Give Now, Pay Later

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Give now, pay later plans made possible by credit cards are helping colleges make ends meet.

One educator, Dr. Edward B. Lindman, president of Whitworth College here, said the formula enables donors to support higher education today and pay for it later.

Importance Of Tests

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is 73 and had a heart attack six months ago. He is doing well now, the doctor tells him.

But he does not take enough time to sleep, and he listens to what people tell him and he is scared. A nurse told him never to put his hands over his head or sleep with them over his head and never to bend down.

He takes pills to lower his cholesterol but the doctor didn't tell him to. A friend did. He has one of the best doctors in town but won't tell him he is taking the pills. He also eats vitamin E capsules.

He works very hard, mostly mental, runs his own business and works 10 hours a day but he can fall asleep in a chair talking to me. I refuse to nag or correct him. — R. B.

not being very smart. It's amazing, really, how many patients pay attention to remarks by anyone who comes along and get scared but hold out information from the doctor.

Anyone who at 73 can work 10 hours a day isn't doing bad but, I don't like the tension factor involved in his work or that he gets so tired he falls asleep talking to you. Tension and fatigue can be big factors in raising cholesterol and blood pressure and thereby increasing the risk of another heart attack.

If his cholesterol is not high, taking pills for it is an unnecessary expense but in addition could mislead his doctor who, obviously, is interested in knowing the true condition.

The nurse's advice is sheer poppycock; I don't anticipate that the vitamin E will do any harm but I am not optimistic that it will do any good, either.

The less one talks to well-meaning friends and acquaintances about a heart attack (and the same is true of many other ailments) the better. Friends often feel they ought to offer some kind of advice, whether sound or not, and often it is downright harmful or incorrect.

Many times a heart patient, listening to all the things he "should" or "shouldn't" do, becomes more and more scared. The more frightened he is, the more tension — and the tension is bad for him. Very.

If your husband would level with his doctor tell him what he is taking and doing and what he has been told not to do, I feel pretty sure the doctor could do a lot to relieve him of being so scared. But it's up to your husband to talk straight and not try to hide things from his doctor.

MY ANSWER

Let me reason with you a bit. If God made us, isn't it logical He built in the ability to discern right from wrong? Why do we need further help? I say to live by the dictates of your conscience — and all will be well. That's my religion.

You're certainly entitled to your own opinions but I think it's significant that your letter is being answered on April 1st. You know what they say about this day.

Solomon, the wisest man who ever lived, said this in Proverbs, chapter 28, statement 26, "He trusts in his own heart is a fool."

I grant you that conscience is a God-given gift. But it requires two things to be properly operative. One is the guidance of God — so that it is conditioned in truth and the other is a firmness of will, to implement what it recommends.

Faith in Christ provides these two requisites. It shows us the real nature of man, the powers of the Satanic Kingdom, the wonder of forgiveness and the mercy of Christ. Then it moves us out to imitate Christ in holy living.

The world does not need religions, much-less the home grown variety you suggest. What it needs is a transforming faith — that radically revolutionizes man supernaturally rather than casually reforming him humanly.

A Devotion For Today . . .

As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. (John 15:4)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, open our eyes to our shortcomings and help us to overcome them so that we will not be a hindrance to those who would seek Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Nixon Seeks Welfare Cut

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon says that because of a "major drop" in the country's welfare rolls, Congress should immediately cut federal welfare spending by $800 million.

Nixon said the decrease of 225,000 persons last year in the aid for dependent children program was "encouraging evidence that we are beginning to make some progress in solving the welfare mess."

In a statement issued Saturday, the President said the decline to a total figure of 10.8 million AFDC recipients marked "the first major drop in the nation's welfare rolls in a number of years."

Nixon credited the welfare drop to tougher management by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger said Friday in Los Angeles that states showing the largest welfare decreases were West Virginia, 14.8 per cent; Idaho, 13.6 per cent; Nevada, 10.9 per cent; and Oklahoma, 10.4 per cent.

Declines also were reported by the two states with the largest AFDC programs — California, 8 per cent, and New York, 7.2 per cent.

THEFTS

Russell Lee Sandborn Jr., Big Spring Mobile Lodge 8 reported burglary with television, speaker and recording equipment missing. Total value: $532.

Mrs. J. Kennedy, 814 Lorrilla, reported theft of antique pottery and glasses valued at $200.

George Russell, 302 S. Lancaster, voltage battery stolen from vehicle around 1 a.m. Saturday.

Leroy Unger reported burglary, house torn up, colored television and other articles missing at 1112 Main.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠5 ♥J98762 ♦109543 ♣Q

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♠ Dble. ?

What action do you take?

A.—Pass. It is poor tactics to presume that the double will be left in and that you should ball out partner with a bid of two hearts. Besides, that contract might not be any better. It is best to pass and let nature take its course.

Q. 2.—North-South vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K1054 ♥K92 ♦J108 ♣AJ3

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass Pass 1 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—If you were not a passed hand we would recommend a bid of one spade. But now, that call would not be forcing and it does not represent the full value of your hand. We suggest a jump to two no trump, even though you lack a full diamond stopper.

Q. 3.—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A9762 ♥K87432 ♦A ♣9

What is your opening bid?

A.—One spade. On distributional hands of this type, it is very likely that there will be considerable bidding around the table. You should attempt to show both your suits, and the most economical way to do this is to treat the heart suit as being the same length as the spades and bid your suits in the natural order.

Q. 4.—North-South vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K76 ♥AQ9 ♦A54 ♣K1043

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♠ 1 ♦ ?

What do you bid?

A.—While this hand has the textbook requirements for a jump to three no trump, we hesitate to take this action with a single stopper in the enemy suit. Our preference is for a cue-bid of two diamonds, which is forcing to game and might lead to a slam in clubs if partner's hand is unbalanced.

Q. 5.—As South, vulnerable you hold:

♠KQ1073 ♥65 ♦K62 ♣AQH

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Dble. Rdbl. 2 ♥

Pass Pass 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. There is no sense in dilly-dallying. Once partner raises spades, your hand revalues to 16 points (14 in high cards, 1 for the doubleton heart and 1 for the fifth spade). Since partner's redouble marks his with at least 10, you are in the game zone.

Q. 6.—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQJ1043 ♥AQJ10 ♠541

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 NT Pass 3 ♥ Pass

4 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Seven spades, and you should be able to claim the hand after the opening lead. North could hardly have combined a two no trump rebid with a jump preference with less than both major suit kings and either ace-king-queen of clubs or ace-king of clubs and ace of diamonds.

Q. 7.—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K10762 ♥6 ♦K752 ♣842

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♠ Dble. ?

What do you bid?

A.—Three spades. After the double, this bid is preemptive. The possibilities of an opposing heart game are real, and you should do all you can to stop the opponents from getting together. Had you held a good hand, you would, of course, first redouble.

Q. 8.—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J10762 ♥6532 ♦1052 ♣J

Your partner opens with one no trump. What is your response?

A.—This hand belongs to your opponents, and anything you can do to make it more difficult for them to enter the auction could be to your advantage. Your hand is probably useless to partner at one no trump, but in spades you should be able to take a couple of ruffs at least, so bid two spades now. Do not probe for a 4-4 heart fit with two clubs.

Pittsburgh Press Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The printing of Pittsburgh's two daily newspapers has stopped because of a strike by 700 drivers and circulation employees of the Pittsburgh Press Co.

Members of Teamsters Local 211 struck Saturday evening after a breakdown in contract talks with the Press Co., which prints and distributes the afternoon Press and the morning Post-Gazette.

No negotiating sessions were scheduled.

Local 211's old contract expired Dec. 31, but work had continued on a day-to-day basis, with the exception of a three-day strike in early January.

The union and the company also differ on the length of the contract and changes in dock loading methods which the union says will eliminate the jobs of its members.

Range Fire Sweeps Area North Of San Angelo

ROBERT LEE, Tex. (AP) — Firemen and volunteers brought under control today a raging fire that blackened between 5,000 and 7,000 acres of West Texas rangeland.

The firefighters used approximately 100 pieces of equipment including bulldozers and other earth moving machines to halt the spread of the range fire burning north of San Angelo.

The weekend fire burned grass, trees and bushes, but firemen kept it from buildings.

Firemen and trucks from San Angelo and other towns joined in battling the flames, and nearly 300 men were reported on the lines.

Officers said the fire was spreading toward a divide separating Robert Lee and Bronte, both towns of about 1,000 residents and a dozen miles apart,

By The Associated Press

Turning the corner into the month of April, traffic accidents kept right on maintaining a low profile in Texas' weekend tabulations of violent deaths.

Fatalities in motor vehicles, reduced significantly since a gasoline shortage began being felt, reached a total of eight between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

At the same time there were 12 homicides, four drownings and four deaths from other forms of violence.

These were among the victims:

SHOT IN CHEST

Stephen George Billberry, 18, of Austin was killed and the driver injured early Sunday when their car smashed into a tree off Texas 71 about a mile west of Oak Hill. The injured driver, Wayne Ramsey, 18, of Georgetown was listed in fair condition at an Austin hospital.

Wallace Clarkson, 30, of Houston was found shot to death Sunday in a Houston street. Police said he was struck in the chest by a .22 caliber bullet.

Walter Keith Randle, 25, of Houston died in a similar incident. Randle was found shot on a Houston sidewalk. Officers said he was hit in the left eye by a 38 caliber pistol slug.

Dorothy M. Cox, 49, of El Campo was killed Saturday when she was struck by a wingtip of a taxiing airplane. Mrs. Cox had just alighted from a car driven by her husband before the accident occurred at Dallas' Redbird Airport.

Gary White, 27, of Mount Pleasant was killed and a passenger injured Sunday when White's car hit a median on a city street and overturned. The passenger, Donny Heimer, was taken to a Mount Pleasant hospital.

TRIED TO SAVE HIM

Bill Franklin Kimmel, 15, of the Fort Worth suburb of North Richland Hills drowned Sunday while swimming with a friend in an east side gravel pit. Three youths tried vainly to save him.

Arthur Frank Young, 13, of Fort Worth, drowned Sunday below a Trinity River spillway in Fort Worth near Interstate 20, where an older friend was trying to teach him to swim.

Delfina Ancira, 24, of Austin was killed Saturday afternoon when she was buried under a collapsing wall of dirt at construction site in Houston.

George Perry Jr., 12, of Sherman, drowned Saturday in a pond while swimming with two friends.

Vernon Cole of Arlington was killed when his car skidded out of a turn on Highway 31 near Marshall and flipped over, pinning him under the vehicle.

PISTOL DUEL

Cathy Jo Dailey, 16, of Sherman died Saturday after being found shot in the neck at her home. A man was taken into custody.

Trinidad Gomez, 26, of San Antonio, was shot to death during a gunfight in a San Antonio lounge early Saturday.

Charles Ray Walker, 28, of Corsicana, was killed Saturday when his car veered off FM

Steers Try Cougs Next

The Big Spring Steers, continuing what Coach Larry Horton has finally conceded to be a "rebuilding year," host the Abilene Cooper Cougars Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. in Steer Park.

"I've finally decided — this is a rebuilding year," Horton said after his Steers took a 6-1 besting by Midland Lee Saturday, the team's 13th season loss against three victories. "We've got so many young kids in the line-up that you really can't expect them to win all the time."

The Steers' normal line-up this year has included four seniors, three juniors and two sophomores. If, after labelling this a rebuilding situation, Horton still has any worries, it's that the seniors — John Thomas Smith, Earl Reynolds, Sammy Rodriguez and John Morelion — have been doing most of the work.

The four will be in action Tuesday, along with another senior pitcher Billy Don Whittington. It will be Whittington's second start of the year and first in District 5-AAAA play, but Horton said he's been looking good in relief.

With Morelion at third base and Rodriguez at shortstop, the sophomores will help round out the infield, Pat Carroll at second base and Dick Battle behind the plate. Ray Don Box will be at first base with Smith in left field, Reynolds in center and junior Barry Canning in right field. The Steers carry a 1-3 loop mark into the tilt.

Cooper will probably send Don Lawson to the mound against the Big Springers. Other standouts for the Cougars, 5-9 and 2-2, are Alan Lakatta, Trey Deen, Terry Lambert, Rusty Hamric and Lawrence Crow.

Also, at 4:30 p.m., junior varsity squads from the two schools will collide at Johnny Stone Park.

Trevino's Victory Ends Long Slide

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "The money I don't need," Lee Trevino said. "The win I do need."

Trevino, whose rags to riches career has won him more than a million dollars, was relaxing in the pleasant after-glow of his Sunday triumph in the Greater New Orleans Open, a victory that ended a 13-month famine for the man who has become an American folk hero.

He won it with what he called "about as near perfect a round of golf as I've ever played."

That was the seven-under-par 65 final round that completed an almost incredible performance. In four days of competition he didn't make a bogey, missed three greens and two fairways and finished with a 267 total, a distant 21 under par and the best 72-hole total on the pro golf tour this year.

His winning margin was a fantastic eight strokes, the biggest in more than 12 months.

"And you know, I'd never played this course good before," he said of the lake-dotted, cypress-studded 7,080-yard Lakewood Country Club layout. "Always before this course had eaten my lunch."

Youthful South African Bobby Cole, who had started the final round in a tie with Trevino for the top spot, finished with a 73 and was tied for second with rookie Ben Crenshaw at 275.

Crenshaw, who now has two second place finishes this season, closed with a 70.

Rod Curl and Larry Hinson followed at 276, Curl with a finishing 69 and Hinson 72.

Jack Nicklaus, the 1973 New Orleans champion, never really got into it. He had a last round 70 and was tied at 277.

Security State Bank captured first place honors in the Men's Easter Seal Basketball Tournament Saturday at Howard College, knocking off First Federal Savings and Loan in the finals, 52-50.

Oriendorf hit 14 points to spark Security State, while Johnnie Evans of First Federal hit 22 to lead all scorers.

In an earlier game, Big Spring Savings rode 24 points by Franklin and 20 by James Griffin to a 74-53 third place triumph over Shive Gin of Coahoma. Wolf paced the losers with 21 points.

Security State nudged Big Spring Savings 58-57 and First Federal bombed Shive Gin 80-52 in semifinal action Friday.

SECURITY STATE (52) — Wood 2-4; Miller 1-2; Turner 2-4; Pierce 1-2; Oriendorf 4-4; Fisher 2-3; Station 4-8; Kopska 4-12; Simpson 0-1; totals 234-52.

FIRST FEDERAL (50) — Long 2-4; Gamboa 5-10; A. Smith 1-2; Woodruff 2-4; J. Smith 2-4; Evans 4-22; Magers 1-2; totals 234-50.

BIG SPRING SAVINGS (74) — Pass 5-10; Riley 6-12; Griffin 10-20; Pickett 1-2; Neil 1-2; Franklin 11-24; totals 34-10-74.

SHIVE GIN (53) — Sory 3-4; Wolf 10-12; Roberts 3-2; Kirby 4-8; Huddins 2-4; East 0-1; King 0-0; Barnes 1-2; totals 23-53.

Hawks 2nd In CTC Play, Visit Westerners Tuesday

KILLEEN — Host Central Texas College dominated most of the action, but the Howard College Hawks came home with second place honors in the CTC Invitational Tennis Tournament Sunday.

The hc squad gets down to more serious competition with two Western Conference matches on tap. On Tuesday, the Hawks visit Western Texas in Snyder for a 2 p.m. match, and Saturday the Howard netters host New Mexico Military Institute at 1 p.m.

Howard College is currently 11-1 and leading WC play.

Bill Alcocer gained the semifinals before bowing to top-seeded Samuel Nunez of Western Texas Saturday, 6-1, 2-6, 6-0. Nunez, the defending national juco singles champion, had beaten Howard College's Terry Wood 6-3, 6-4 in an earlier match.

Jay Box was beaten in the quarterfinals by Carter Lomax of CTC and Ray Villarreal was

CONKA, KIICK, WARFIELD JUMP TO TORONTO Battle Lines Drawn For Football War

By The Associated Press

The effects of Sunday's "shot heard 'round the world" of pro football may not be certain for as long as two years. But one thing was made clear by the signing to Toronto Northmen contracts of Larry Conka, Jim Kiick and wide receiver Paul Warfield: an international war has begun, and the battles to follow may leave countless casualties behind.

The fighting was already under way in Canada over permission for the Northmen to play in Toronto. But the signings of the three National Football League stars has drawn the United States into the conflict.

At the center of the struggle is Northmen owner John Bassett, whose $3-million package offer lured a segment of the Miami Dolphins' potent offensive battalion to the World Football League.

The success of this maneuver will be gauged at the turnstiles when, and if, Toronto plays its first game with the mercenary troops.

If certain Canadian legislators have their way, the Northmen won't play in Toronto. The WFL franchise, some say, constitutes a threat to the Canadian Football League; it could divide fan interest and open the way for further incursions into other major Canadian markets such as Vancouver and Montreal.

The new league threatens the established NFL — a threat made even stronger Sunday when the first "big names" jumped leagues. The WFL, which many had hoped would shrivel up and disappear, for the first time has an all-important factor: respectability.

The signing of marginal players didn't make waves any more than it did in the early stages of the American Football League, American Basketball Association or World Hockey Association. But the acquisition of Conka, Kiick and Warfield cannot be overlooked. The three were major contributors to two consecutive Super Bowl champions and now they've gone to the WFL.

And that could set off a chain reaction of "if it's good enough for them, it's good enough for me" thinking among NFL players.

Joe Robbie, Dolphins' managing general partner, had a chance to match the Toronto offer. He didn't. Financial security like that offered by Bassett comes only once in a career, so three very talented football players will play out the option year on their NFL contracts and join the Northmen in Toronto — or wherever — in 1975.

But the heavy fighting has not yet begun.

Robbie may have been the first wounded in action. The Canadian casualty reports have not yet arrived, but they may be known by mid-week, by which time the parliament may have decided the fate of the World Football League in Canada.

There is one certainty: complacency has been shattered in NFL offices across the United States. The upstart league isn't kidding around.

Texas Fading In SWC Race

By The Associated Press

Where are you Texas? Southwest Conference baseball fans waiting for Texas' traditional charge to the title are beginning to wonder if the 1974 fersion of the Longhorns lack the firepower of champions past.

The Texas Aggies—with a spotless 12-0 record—lead Texas by three games in the loss column. Texas is 12-3.

Texas won two out of three from Arkansas last weekend and promptly fell another notch behind the red-hot Aggies who downed Texas Christian twice.

The Longhorns hope to make up some ground on their home field this week as the Baylor Bears, tied for third with Rice, visit Clark Field.

The Aggies are on the road at Houston to meet the Cougars.

Texas still boasts one of the better overall records in collegiate baseball with an excellent 30-3 ledger.

EXHIBITION BASEBALL

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — A big, lazy colt takes his owner to the Kentucky Derby for the first time next month after scoring the biggest surprise victory in the 37-year history

He had, in fact, earned only $14,100 prior to this $130,200 run. Jockey Milo Valenzuela quickly urged him to the front in the 1 1/4-mile race and the colt beat back the only serious challenge. Aloha Mood went ahead by one-half length going into the stretch, only to have Destroyer's counter-attack bring him the victory by a head in 1:48 4/5. The triumph paid $89.80, $22.40 and $7.20.

Previous high winning payoff for a $2 ticket in the Derby was $63.60 by Sweepida in 1940.

Aloha Mood returned $6.00 and $4.00 and favored Agitate finished third for a $3.20 payoff

Teenage Sign-Up Set To Continue

$3 MILLION TRIO — Miami Dolphin players Paul Warfield, Larry Conka and Jim Kiick pose for a photographer after signing with the Toronto Northmen of the World Football League for a combined contract of $3 million. The trio will honor option clauses on their contracts with Miami and play there this year before moving to the WFL.

Junior Marks Could Tumble

Several records are expected to be broken Tuesday and Wednesday when Rannels and Goliad Junior High tracksters gather at Memorial Stadium for the City Junior High Track Meet.

Action gets under way Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. when seventh and eighth graders from the two schools will hold field event competition, while the track portion of the meet is set for 4:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Rannels' Danny Crosby could be a threat to the seventh grade shot put and discus marks, while in the eighth grade action one record that could go is the pole vault, where Robbie Wegner of Rannels will be the pick.

Goliad's main strength in both divisions will come in the running events Wednesday. Byron Harris could topple the two-year old record set by his brother, Mike, in the 1320-yard run, while Rannels' talented Eddie Puga is a threat to each of the 100, 220 and 330-yard dash marks.

The Mavericks will be favored in both the 440-yard and 1320-yard relays, and a record could be had there also.

Mark Burris heads up Goliad's eighth grade charge. He has been close to the 330-yard dash mark, and he also runs on both relay squads.

Hayes Sparks Bullet Triumph

By The Associated Press

"We know we can beat the Knicks now," declared Capital's Elvin Hayes. "This is just what we needed to win it all."

Hayes and the rest of the Bullets were brimming with confidence Sunday after dominating New York 99-87 to even their best-of-7 National Basketball Association Eastern Conference semifinal playoff series at one game each.

"Against the Knicks, the players have the attitude that they're too tough to beat, and they go into a game tight," Hayes explained. "These games loosen you up because you know they can be beaten and that attitude carries over into the next game."

In Hayes' case, the confidence is not hard to understand. The 6-foot-9 forward Houston All-American has collected 74 points in the first two games, despite an assortment of Knick defensive maneuvers.

He got 34 of them Sunday to go along with Phil Chenier's 35-point outburst.

In Milwaukee, The Bucks took a commanding 2-0 lead over Los Angeles in their Western Conference semifinal series by whipping the Lakers 109-90.

The Detroit Pistons host the Chicago Bulls tonight in game two of the other Western Conference semifinal series. The Pistons took the first game 97-88 Saturday.

The other Eastern Conference series resumes Tuesday in Buffalo with the Boston Celtics leading the Braves 1-0. Boston won the opener 107-97 Saturday.

There were no games played in the American Basketball Association playoffs Sunday but all eight teams are in action tonight.

In the East Division, the Virginia Squires visit New York with the Nets leading 1-0, and the Kentucky Colonels entertain the Carolina Cougars in their series opener.

In the West, the San Antonio Spurs visit the Indiana Pacers and the Utah Stars welcome the San Diego Conquistadors.

San Antonio and Utah hold 1-0 leads by virtue of Saturday victories, the Spurs winning 113-109 and the Stars 114-99.

Hayes, who led the NBA in rebounding this season, played the final 17 minutes of the game with five fouls.

"Smart players can play with five fouls," said Capital Coach K.C. Jones. "Dumb players will sit down, and there are a lot of dumb players around. But Elvin isn't one of them."

LUNCHEON — The new Howard County Senior Citizens Center, located on Howard College campus, began operation this month and will have its official opening Friday with an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Shown at the monthly luncheon at the center are, from left, Mrs. Eula Clifton, Mrs. Roxie Haston, Mrs. Ola Williams and Mrs. Grace Warren.

Food Fads Debunked At HD Club Meeting

The current health food fad was criticized by Mrs. N. R. Garrett as being "a piece of baloney" when she presented the program, "What's in Your Food Dollar?" last week for Center Point Home Demonstration Club.

According to the speaker, the notion of health foods dates back to primitive man and his ideas about the animals which he ate. She said primitive man refused to eat the "timid" deer or the "treacherous" snake, but he believed that eating the heart of a lion or other "brave" creatures would give him courage.

"Planning a good, wholesome, balanced diet of food which is properly cooked and seasoned is the important factor in one's health," said Mrs. Garrett. Food costs have jumped 10 per cent in recent years, so one must consider what to buy and what to reject in order to stretch the budget. The shopper should use common sense and good judgment. By careful planning, good health can be attained and maintained.

Mrs. Bob Wren presided, asking members to support the campaign to collect Betty Crocker coupons to help obtain a piano for West Side Community Center. Mrs. J. R. Petty was elected nominee for county Texas Home Demonstration Association chairman.

All HD clubs will meet at 9:30 a.m., April 9 in the Kentwood Recreation Center to prepare souvenir packets for delegates attending the district THDA convention April 18 at First United Methodist Church. On April 17, club members will meet at the church to prepare tables and decorations for the convention. The convention luncheon is open to the public at $2 per plate, but reservations must be made by April 10.

Last week's program meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Fred Eakers, 1500 Main. Mrs. J. E. Meeks was a guest and the attendance prize went to Mrs. Alden Ryan. The Easter theme was used on the refreshment table.

The next club meeting will be at 11 a.m. April 23 in the home of Mrs. C. T. Lindley, 1405 E. 19th. The program will be "Dinner on the Double."

Tea Fetes Bride-Elect Saturday

Miss Nancy Smith, future bride of Louis Dunnam, was honored at a tea from 2 to 5 p.m., Saturday in the home of Mrs. John Richard Coffee, 601 Avondale. Cohostesses were Mrs. Ralph Caton, Mrs. Wesley Deats, Mrs. Tip Anderson Jr., Mrs. Louis Stallings, Brownfield; Mrs. Dee Thomas and Mrs. Larson Lloyd.

Members of the house party were Suzanne Smith, the honoree's sister; Mrs. Steve Smith, her sister-in-law; Karen Coffee, Lynette Coffee, Michelle Coffee, Susan Thomas, Lisa Lloyd, Dian Stallings, Layne Stallings and Annabeth Deats.

The honoree who was attired in a floor-length, short-sleeved dress, was presented a pink carnation corsage, as was her mother, Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith; and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. R. G. Dunnam.

The pink theme was carried out in decorations which featured spring bouquets throughout the house. Silver and cut glass appointments were used on a refreshment table which was laid with a white linen cutwork cloth. The centerpiece was a mixed bouquet in pastel colors, and a companion arrangement was used on the register table.

Miss Smith and Dunnam plan to be married June 26.

FUTURE BRIDE — Mr. and Mrs. James C. Stocco of Duluth, Minn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolann Jean, to Alan Craig Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah H. Tate, Tarzan. The wedding will be May 18 in Duluth. Miss Stocco is a registered radiologic technologist at Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., and her fiancé is attending the Mayo Clinic School of Anesthesia.

Luncheon Held By Golf Group

Area women golfers held a luncheon at the Sands Restaurant last week in conjunction with the competitive event, "Playday West" at Municipal Golf Course. Ms. Nancy Jackson, Big Lake, was elected president.

Game winners were Mrs. Bonnie Hale, first; Mrs. Peggy Marshall, second; and Ms. Latrell Welch, Stanton, third. The next playday is slated April 23 at Webb Air Force Base.

Spring City Chapter Initiation Ceremony

Spring City Chapter, American Business Women's Association, initiated three new members at a recent meeting in the Permian Snack Bar. New to the chapter are Ms. Patty Goodman, Mrs. Don Brown and Ms. Nancy English. Mrs. Harold D. Bentley conducted the ritual and prayer was led by Mrs. E. Roy Cawthron and Mrs. Dale Fryar.

was Mrs. William Jackson, line supervisor at Wall Industries, Inc., who traced the processes involved in garment production.

A report on the recent ABWA regional meeting in Albuquerque, N.M. was given by Ms. Ruth Harper, Mrs. Wayne Wallace and Mrs. Fred Butler. Next year's regional meet will be held in Amarillo.

Preliminary plans were made to operate a concession during the flea market in May, with proceeds to be used to provide a college scholarship to a woman student.

Mrs. Jimmy Jennings, chapter president, reminded members of the Bosses Night banquet April 19 at Big Spring Country Club. The cocktail hour will begin at 6:30 p.m.

'Prince Charming'

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How can I meet Prince Charles? I have always admired him, and it has been my dream to meet him one day, but I'm not having any luck.

I've written him several letters, and each time his secretary has answered, saying: "The Prince of Wales regrets that he is unable to meet you."

I am a normal, intelligent 20-year-old college girl. I'm told I am pretty and have a pleasing personality. I've read everything I could find about the royal family in general and Prince Charles in particular. I'll bet I know more about the royal family than most people in England and the rest of the United Kingdom.

I hope you won't think I'm crazy but I have even taken horseback riding lessons, and I plan to take flying lessons when I can afford it because I know those are Prince Charles' favorite sports. Also, if we ever meet I will have something to talk to him about.

Abby, you're supposed to have all the answers. Can you help my dream come true?

CATHY IN BROOKLYN
DEAR CATHY: Sorry, but I don't have the answer to this one. Dreaming is all right, but we have to live in the real world. So, wake up, Cathy. Your "Prince Charming" could be someone you've already met — in a Brooks Brothers suit with a Brooklyn accent, yet!

DEAR ABBY I am 35-happily married, and the mother of three. My husband and I enjoy a glass of wine with dinner. We never become intoxicated or anywhere near it.

My grandparents (my mother's parents) strongly disapprove of alcoholic beverages, so out of respect to them I never serve it in their presence.

I had eight other guests for dinner, but because my grandparents were here, I omitted the wine, even though my husband and I, my parents, and the other guests would have enjoyed some.

When my husband and I are dining in my parents' home, they always serve wine, but if the grandparents drop in unexpectedly, everyone rushes around hiding the wine bottle and glasses.

I don't want to hurt my grandparents, but I wonder if this is the proper way to handle the wine situation?

ASKING
DEAR ASKING: Since you and your parents ordinarily enjoy wine at dinner, I think it is unnecessary to ditch the bottle and glasses when the disapproving grandparents unexpectedly drop in.
