Worst Tornado Death Toll In Half Century

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes struck an area stretching from Georgia to Canada late Wednesday and early today, killing more than 330 persons, the worst tornado death toll in half a century. Thousands of injuries and millions of dollars in damage resulted from the twisters that hit scores of cities and towns, leaving many in shambles.

ROWS OF BODIES
Half the town of Xenia, in southwestern Ohio, was devastated. Thirty persons were killed and more than 1,000 were homeless in the community of 25,000.

Rows of bodies were arranged in the rubble-strewn streets. More victims were thought trapped in overturned cars, but heavy equipment was unable to get through the streets to lift the vehicles.

About 1,500 National Guard troops were sent to Xenia to protect against looting and help in rescue work. A guard spokesman said there were unconfirmed reports of 40 to 50 persons missing.

Whole neighborhoods were destroyed, buildings leveled, railroad cars and trucks upended by the vicious winds that struck the Midwest and South. In Washington, D.C., the American Red Cross said more than 800 disaster workers and nurses were laboring to aid the homeless and injured. Other relief workers and disaster equipment from all over the country were en route to the stricken states.

DISASTER AREAS
Kentucky appeared to be the worst hit, with 77 known dead and hundreds injured after tornadoes skipped across a dozen counties in the center of the state Wednesday, knocking out telephone service and downing power lines.

Five persons were killed and more than 200 injured in Louisville, where twisters ripped up large sections of neighborhoods. Alabama reported 69 dead, Indiana 63, Tennessee 54, Ohio 35, Georgia 15, Ontario, Canada, 8, North Carolina 4, Michigan 3, Illinois 2, and West Virginia 1.

The governors of Alabama, Ohio and Kentucky asked federal officials to declare all or parts of their states disaster areas.

Early today, two tornadoes hit the town of Meadow Bridge,

W. Va., about 50 miles southeast of Charleston, killing one person and injuring several others.

FLIP HOMES
At Radford, in southwest Virginia, high winds flipped over three mobile homes and five persons were injured.

The rampage cost more lives than any series of tornadoes since March 18, 1925, when a twister cut through three Midwestern states, killing 689. The 1965 Palm Sunday tornadoes in Kansas City compared Wednesday's tornado outbreak to a "fast-moving shotgun blast."

'Tania' Says She'll Fight For The SLA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sixty days of anguish, effort and hope — and a message from Patricia Hearst to her parents: I reject you; you lie; I cast my lot with my abductors; my name is Tania.

Her father, Randolph A. Hearst, newspaper president and editor, had spent $2 million and promised $4 million more in food handouts for the release of his daughter. There had been a promise that she might be released soon.

dom and the freedom of all oppressed people.

"I have chosen to stay and fight."

DESPERATION
Only one day earlier, the weeks of desperation for her parents had begun to turn to hope. Their ordeal, which began when Miss Hearst was dragged screaming from her Berkeley apartment Feb. 4, appeared almost over.

BRAIN-WASHED?
"I have chosen to stay and fight," the slim, blonde 20-year-old said Wednesday in a taped message to her family, delivered by a radio station that received it from her captors.

Had the Symbionese Liberation Army won the mind of Patty Hearst? Was it a victory for a revolutionary group that law enforcement officials have said probably has only 25 members? Was she aware of what she was doing? Had she been brainwashed?

An underground newspaper had received a message from the SLA saying instruction for Miss Hearst's release would be sent within 72 hours.

In working for his daughter's release, Hearst had arranged to give away $2 million in food to the poor and announced that another $4 million had been placed in escrow and would be available for more food giveaways if his daughter were released unharmed.

OPRESSED PEOPLE
"Dad, you said that you were concerned with my life, and you also said that you were concerned with the life and interests of all oppressed people in this country," the University of California coed said.

"But you are a liar in both areas and as a member of the ruling class, I know for sure that yours and Mom's interests are never the interests of the people."

PARENTS STUNNED
For his efforts, Hearst heard the leader of the SLA say there was no further need to discuss Miss Hearst's release.

"The subject has been freed ... but she refused to go home," said a voice identifying himself as "Field Marshall Clin."

Elsewhere in the taped message, she said, "I have changed — grown. I've become conscious and can never go back to the life we led before. . . ."

"I have been given the choice of 1) being released in a safe area, or 2) joining the forces of the Symbionese Liberation Army and fighting for my freedom and the freedom of all oppressed people.

Heard and his wife, Catherine, were stunned. Included with the tape was a color photograph of their daughter holding an automatic rifle and standing in front of a banner bearing the seven-headed cobra, symbol of the SLA.

Taxiways' Funds Being Sought

The Department of Defense has submitted a military construction authorization to Congress which includes $776,000 for alteration of Webb Air Force Base taxiways in 1975.

Congressman Omar Burleson said the authorization is being considered by the Armed Services Committees prior to action by Congress.

RUIN — Homes and businesses in Xenia, Ohio, are demolished today after tornadoes ripped through the area late Wednesday, killing some 35 persons and injuring scores of others.

White House Warned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee today gave the White House until next Tuesday to comply with its request for evidence for the committee's impeachment inquiry or face a subpoena.

The evidence, which involves 42 presidential conversations about the time the Watergate cover-up was being disclosed last spring, was made Feb. 25. The committee has not yet received a reply from the White House on its request for the material.

Committee Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., issued a sternly-worded warning to the White House at a committee briefing today.

"The patience of this committee is now wearing thin," Rodino said. "We have a constitutional responsibility in this inquiry. When we made our request we made it not out of curiosity, not because we were prosecutors, but because it is our responsibility."

"We have tried to pursue it in a spirit of accommodation with this President. Yet there comes a time when patience and accommodation can begin to undermine the process in which we are engaged."

Granberry's Early Start Proves Costly

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Republican Jim Granberry's early start in the governor's race apparently is costing him more money than the two main Democratic contenders, records filed with the secretary of state showed Wednesday.

Granberry, former Lubbock mayor, reported contributions of money totaling $181,877 and expenses of $171,425 from June 14 through March 25.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe's campaign report starts Oct. 30, and he shows expenses of $129,042 with debts of $20,457 that did not have to be paid by March 25, the cutoff date for the first report.

Briscoe reported contributions of only $25,536, but this did not include the proceeds from the Oct. 30 appreciation dinner for the governor, which netted him approximately $350,000.

Also excluded from Briscoe's total of contributions and expenses were reports from 14 separate county committees.

Easter Holidays Near For Pupils

In Forsan, students get out April 11 and return April 16. In Ackery, Sands Schools dismiss April 5 and resume April 15. Coahoma's furlough is just like Big Spring's. Students get out April 5 and return April 16.

Garden City will dismiss school at 2:30 p.m. April 10 and resume April 16.

OFFICIALS SAY HE WILL HAVE TO BORROW SOME OF THE MONEY

Nixon Agrees To Pay $465,000 In Back Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House officials say President Nixon, facing a federal tax bill for about half his reported net worth, probably will be forced to borrow some money to make the payments.

Nixon announced through aides Wednesday night he would pay some $465,000 in back income taxes and interest. He acted after being told privately a day earlier that the Internal Revenue Service calculated he owed an extra $432,787 in taxes before interest for his first four years in the White House.

CASH ASSETS
The President's net worth as of last May 31, was put at $988,522 in disclosures Nixon made four months ago. His cash assets were put at $432,874.

A White House source, asked how Nixon proposed to meet a taxes-and-interest bill of about $465,000, said the President would use some resources and probably borrow the balance.

The White House announcement said the IRS report contained no suggestion of fraud on the part of the President.

IRS contended Nixon improperly claimed deductions for business expenses and a controversial gift of his vice presidential papers to the National Archives.

FAILED TO REPORT
The federal tax collectors also held that the President failed to report taxable capital gains on sales of a New York City apartment and part of his land at San Clemente, Calif.

The tax agency, which once gave the President an okay on past filings now challenged, also was said by Nixon aides to have found he should have reported as taxable income some federally-financed improvements to his California and Florida estates, and the value of air flights made by relatives and friends on military aircraft.

The White House announcement that Nixon would pay the back taxes left open the question of the future of Nixon's vice presidential papers, on which he claimed $482,018 in deductions IRS now refuses to accept.

Nixon said last Nov. 17 that if IRS raised any question about the deductions, "let me tell you this: I will be glad to have the papers back and I will pay the tax because I think they are worth more than that."

WANTS MORE TIME
Asked if Nixon now would reclaim the papers, Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said, "that's a subject that no one's discussed around here."

James B. Rhoads, the archivist of the United States, would not comment Wednesday night when asked whether Nixon could have the papers back. Rhoads said he wanted time to study the IRS findings.

IRS said nothing publicly about Nixon's tax troubles but the White House said its still-secret report "rebutts any suggestion of fraud on the part of the President." The official statement said Nixon was innocent of any wrongdoing, declaring:

"Any errors which may have been made in the preparation of the President's returns were made by those to whom he delegated the responsibility for preparing his returns and were made without his knowledge and without his approval."

LEGALLY OBLIGED
A White House source said Nixon was not legally obliged to pay $148,081 in back taxes (See NIXON, Pg. 2-A, Col. 1)

SHE'S NUMBER ONE — Judy Livers, 25, the first female fire fighter in Arlington County, Va., and possibly the first in the country.

HANDLES THE HOSE — Judy Livers assists other firemen in rolling fire hoses back onto the truck after a small fire.

TAKING IT EASY — Many hours of firemen's time are spent relaxing and waiting. Judy Livers sits around a table with other firemen at Station 4 in Arlington, Va.

FEMALE FIRE FIGHTER FIT FIVE-FOOT-FIVE

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Fire fighter, wife, mother and church organist, Judy Livers, 25, has become the first paid female fire fighter in Arlington County.

Married to a fireman for a cross-town company and the mother of two children, Mrs. Livers prepared herself for several months before applying for the job with the county fire department of this Washington, D. C., suburb.

The 5-foot-5, 130-pound woman lifted 100-pound sandbags and jogged almost daily at home to build up her wind to pass the physical agility test. That test included climbing aerial ladders and working fire hoses with 100-pound pressure. She also passed an 81-hour emergency medical technician course, which she now teaches two nights a week at Northern Virginia Community College.

The presence of a female in the station house has caused criticism from some firemen's wives about her sleeping in the same bunkroom with the men while working the night shift. The protest has failed to disrupt the operation of the station.

"I don't foresee any trouble working with men at the Fire Department," Mrs. Livers said. "I work with priests all the time."

As organist for her Roman Catholic church, she played for six Masses every weekend plus weddings and funerals before becoming a fulltime fire fighter. She hopes to continue playing as long as she has spare time. While claiming she is not compulsive about doing things, she says, "I just can't sit around and do nothing."

When asked whether other women should become fire fighters Mrs. Livers said: "Unless you know the job and are physically and mentally able to handle it, don't apply."

Nixon To Pay

for 1969, which IRS said he owed, because the statute of limitations for that year has expired.

Saying the payment would be made nevertheless, the source said Nixon was "doing this because he said he would do it."

In unveiling personal financial details in December, Nixon asked the Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation to look into his 1969-72 tax returns. He said at the time he would abide by its judgment of whether he owed more than the $78,651 he actually paid for the four years.

EXTRA INTEREST
A committee staff report, made public Wednesday, calculated Nixon owed an extra $444,022 plus interest.

This preceded the announcement that IRS also had found Nixon's payments inadequate. A White House official said IRS and the committee staff basically agreed on items in the Nixon returns that were subject to challenge. It said differences in money terms reflected varying methods of making tax and interest calculations.

Nixon was described as convinced his lawyers "can make a very strong case" against the major adverse findings. But the White House said he would pay up without quarter because of his December pledge to abide by the findings of the congressional panel.

The statement complained that the committee staff's report was made public before committee members could study it, "and before the President's tax counsel could advise the committee of their views on the many legal matters in dispute in that report."

"WIPED OUT"
An official who declined to be quoted by name was more forceful and emotional in discussing the matter, saying Nixon was "wiped out" financially because of IRS and committee staff findings in which "every possible technical aspect has been ruled in the negative."

Because IRS said nothing about its own inquiry, public knowledge of the findings was limited to the committee staff report.

The staff attributed much of the alleged deficiency to the two highly publicized issues which Nixon asked the committee to look into — whether he was entitled to a deduction for a gift of the pre-1968 papers appraised at $576,000, and whether sale of part of his San Clemente, property resulted in capital gains on which he should have paid tax.

The committee staff ruled against him on both these counts and went far beyond them in amassing its total of purported underpayments.

The charitable deduction for the papers, should have been disallowed, because the gift was not made before the July 25, 1969, deadline set by an amendment to the tax code, the report said. A deed dated March 27, 1969, "which purportedly was signed on April 21, 1969, was not signed, at least by all parties, until April 10, 1970, and was not delivered until after that date," it said.

CAPITAL GAIN
The report said that when Nixon sold the surplus acreage of his San Clemente property, an erroneous division of value of property retained and properly sold resulted in no capital gain being declared. Actually there was a taxable $117,836 gain, it concluded.

On another real estate transaction, the report said Nixon should have paid taxes on at least $142,912 capital gains on the sale of the cooperative apartment in New York City he occupied before he was president.

Ailing HC Ex Described As 'Tough Little Girl'

A bride of two months was described by her doctor this week as a "tough little girl" after spending over a month in Abilene's Hendrick's Memorial Hospital with a virus disease "not unlike polio."

Mrs. Gerald Thane, 20, the former Lou Cade of Rotan, has been in and out of the intensive care unit at Hendrick hospital since Feb. 22.

She is a former student at Howard College at Big Spring and resided in the women's dormitory last year.

Seven Inducted Into Honor Unit

Seven more students were inducted into Phi Theta Kappa at Howard College Wednesday, according to Dr. Thomas Salter, resident.

The seven affiliated with Iota Beta Chapter of PTK, which is the local organization of the national junior college honorary scholastic fraternity. Miss Movelda Rhine and Mrs. Susan King are sponsors.

The seven inducted are Cleo Royal, Bill Sanders, Mike Randle, Elvira Baza, Dana Bradford, Terry Arcand and Randy Yates.

Criteria for selection include scholarship, leadership, and citizenship. Membership is by invitation only. Earlier in the semester PTK inducted 33 members.

Many Levels Of Learning, Training Offered At HC

Higher education in Howard County is now taking on the posture of being able to offer many specialized levels of learning and training, as well as providing in-depth community service for local and transfer students.

This is the keynote of an announcement made available to the community today by Howard College President Dr. Thomas Salter.

"We are fast reaching a zenith in the number of academic and career oriented programs," Dr. Salter explains. "The college is now able to offer a wide range of diverse and comprehensive disciplines."

"In the future we plan to concentrate more on upgrading the quality of our academic offerings and to meet the requirements for our Master Plan regarding updating and developing better buildings and facilities," Dr. Salter said.

The college has buildings and equipment valued well in excess of $5 million. It operates on a $1,750,000 annual budget, with a total staff of 222, including full and part time employees.

This personnel total includes five general administrative officers, nine members of the administrative staff, 42 full time faculty, 44 part time faculty, 16 secretaries, 10 maintenance persons and 98 Work-Study employees. By adding 27 Spring Semester Continuing Education (special interest short courses) instructors to this data, the grand total is 251.

Enrollment for the Fall Semester for Howard College was 1,267 students. Present Spring Semester enrollment is 1,202 students. By adding the 800 continuing education students to the spring enrollment, the grand total is 2,067.

There are 16 permanent buildings on campus, not counting the tennis courts and Memorial Stadium. Projected for the very near future is a multi-purpose Community Center to house a score of possible activities ranging from Allied Health classes and facilities to athletics, as well as city-county conventions, exhibitions and community productions.

"The new community center is the one remaining facility needed to transform our physical plant into a completely modern context," said Dr. Salter. He views the multi-purpose structure as being a much needed impetus to the economic and cultural progress of the community.

Created November 17, 1945, the college opened its classes September 30, 1946, in a sprawling 30-building hospital complex at the old Webb AFB Bombardier School. In 1951 the college moved to a 100-acre site at Birdwell and Eleventh Place with building basics of administration, science, auditorium and gymnasium.

More than 41,000 persons have been served by the college during its existence, Dr. Salter concluded.

Prices For Farm Products Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices rose sharply again last month despite the first big decline in prices for farm products and processed foods in four months, the government said today.

PRICE INDEX
A 2.1 per cent drop reported in prices for farm products, processed foods and feeds failed to offset the big rise in prices for a broad range of industrial goods as the overall price index for March increased by a seasonally adjusted 1.3 per cent.

Last month's increase compared with a jump of 1.2 per cent in February, both highly inflationary rates but more moderate than increases in the previous three months, the Labor Department reported.

Wholesale prices over the past year have risen 19.5 per cent. They usually are reflected later at the retail level.

The over-all increase of wholesale prices last month lifted the government's pricing index to 154.5 of the 1967 average, meaning that it cost $154.50 to buy the same volume of wholesale goods that $100 purchased in 1967.

The government said that price increases of industrial commodities, regarded as one of the truest barometers of inflation, rose 2.9 per cent, both seasonally adjusted and unadjusted, with prices of metals and fuel leading the way. The increase was the second highest since 1946, exceeded only by a 3.2 per cent jump last November.

Decreases for livestock, grain, raw cotton, eggs, fresh fruits, fresh vegetables and live poultry dropped prices for farm products alone 4.2 per cent in March.

Crowder's Trial Begins Monday

SNYDER — The murder with malice trial of Elton Crowder of Rt. 3, Snyder, accused of the Dec. 16, 1972 shooting death of Charles Allen Grice, is scheduled to begin in Judge Wayland Holt's 132nd District Court at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Grice, 56, was shot to death in front of the Dunn Gin which he owned.

Crowder was detained at the scene by gin employees until sheriff's deputies could arrive. He has been held in Scurry County jail under $100,000 bond since his arrest.

BILOXI, Miss. — Airman First Class Billy V. Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Patton, Sterling City Route, Big Spring, has graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss., from the U.S. Air Force aircraft radio repairman course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained to install and repair airborne communications equipment, is being assigned to McConnell AFB, Kan., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

Airman Patton, a 1970 graduate of Forsan (Tex.) High School, attended Bethany (Okla.) Nazarene College. His wife, Dina, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Shrauner, 2745 Trueman NE, Albuquerque, N.M.

Young Men Can Mail Data

AUSTIN — Col. Melvin Glantz, the state director of Selective Service for Texas, has announced the use of "registration by mail" in Texas.

Although inductions have ended, young men are still required by Federal Law to register with Selective Service at age 18. Failure to register makes the young man liable for an extreme penalty of five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Recent reorganizations within the Selective Service System have left considerably fewer local board offices open in Texas. As a result, many registrants live a considerable distance from the nearest registration place. To make the requirement of registration more convenient for those men who are a great distance from a Selective Service Registrar, the forms for "registration by mail" will be used.

Registration by mail is not intended to replace the established procedure of appearing in person before a duly appointed Selective Service registrar. It is designed only as a supplemental measure to accommodate the young man who lives so far from a place of registration that going before the Registrar would be an inconvenience.

To accomplish registration by mail, the young man can simply write to his nearest Selective Service System Area Office requesting the new form for registration by mail.

She's Hooked

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is me! I smoke between three and four packs of cigarettes a day and I can't quit. I have thrown them away, packs at a time. I've been to three "stop-smoking" programs and went back to smoking after each one. If I don't have a cigarette after 15 minutes, I become so nervous I am ready to climb the wall.

I have been to a hypnotist, a psychiatrist and a psychologist and they couldn't help me. I have become an addict just like an alcoholic. If I don't have a smoke I can't function.

Please don't say, "You can quit if you want to," because nobody wants to quit as much as I do, Abby, but I just can't help myself. I know I am going to smoke myself right into the grave, but there seems to be nothing I can do about it. Can you help me?

HOOKED IN BIRMINGHAM
DEAR HOOKED: I don't know what "stop-smoking" programs you've attended, but I've had some excellent reports about several. You may have a nicotine addiction, so see a physician. (But choose one who doesn't smoke!) I KNOW you can

The honoree, who was attired in a floor-length orange crepe dress, was presented a corsage of yellow carnations, as was her mother, Mrs. Floyd Williams, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Lawrence Adkins.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a floor-length white lace cloth over orange and centered with an arrangement of yellow mums and daisies. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Hyperions Discuss Freedom Of Press

"It may sometimes seem as though having a story in the paper that somebody you know has been arrested is the worst thing that can happen to them — but the worst thing that can happen is to be arrested in a country where the press has no access to the jail book. In such a country, people disappear with no trace."

This was one statement given by Marj Carpenter, reporter for the Big Spring Herald speaking on the Freedom of the Press, for the 1953 Hyperion Club Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Bill Pollard.

She pointed out recent regulations in connection with the closed meeting laws and also commented on a recent statement by the state's attorney general in relation to the access of arrest files to the press.

Following a discussion with club members on freedom of the press and a discussion of various departments of the newspaper, she outlined actual happenings to relate coverage of various types of news, such as sports, court coverage or police news.

During the business session, a nominating committee report was given by Mrs. John Gary. The new officers will be Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, president; Mrs. Harry Middleton, vice president; Mrs. George McAlister, secretary; and Mrs. Don Grantham, treasurer. Mrs. Grantham was cohostess for the meeting.

The next meeting will be a luncheon at the home of Mrs. T. L. Griffin in Borden County. Members will meet at 11 a.m. at College Park Shopping Center to drive in a caravan.

Louis Moeller.

Named to the altar committee for April were Mrs. L. D. Gilbert, Mrs. Douglas Hattenbach, Mrs. James Cape and Mrs. Kathleen Williams.

Reports were given by Mrs. Ward, cards; Mrs. Kathleen Williams, bingo; and Mrs. R. L. Anderson and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, services at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

A LOVELIER YOU 'Weigh Consequence' Of Husband's Intake

A Lovely writes: My husband weighs about 15 pounds more than when we were married 10 years ago. He attends a great many business luncheons and dinners where rich sauces and mountainous sweet desserts are his downfall. Still, I hate to serve him diet meals at home. It seems so nagging. Your ideas, please.

The Answer: A wife is smart to be concerned. A man who gains 15 pounds in 10 years is apt to be 30 or 40 pounds overweight by the end of the next 10 — if left unchecked. The dangers to fitness are on every tongue.

So what should you do? Put your foot down and put him on a reducing diet? Only doctors spouting edicts about dieting have any success with men. Perhaps your husband should see a doctor. Your own best course is not words but action. Give him the foods he should have, so deliciously prepared and attractively served that he never suspects your hidden motives. You make a good beginning by emphasizing protein foods and decreasing fats to 3 tablespoons per day. Fats get to his waistline and possibly to his health, quicker than any other foods. One tablespoon of salad oil and one of butter or other spread add up to well over 200 calories.

To keep the fat intake in hand, trim fat from meats' serve butter and spreads in fluffy curls; season with herbs and spices instead of fat; avoid frying; serve low-cal salad dressing. Such gambits, used daily, can lop off some 400 calories. The saving reverses creeping weight and no one the wiser. There are many other savings. Watch the column.

POCKET CALORIE
Do you really know the calorie counts of the foods you eat? Our leaflet, POCKET CALORIE COUNTER, tells the score at a glance. It also gives a diet plan — a way to eat and slim. ## 'Supernatural' In Scriptures

What the Bible says about the supernatural was discussed by Dr. Harold Smith at the 1970 Hyperion meeting Tuesday.

The group met in the home of Mrs. Rondel McBride. Mrs. Adrian Welch was cohostess.

Two sources of the supernatural exist — God's Holy Spirit and Satan's unholy spirit, Dr. Smith told members.

"Many aspects of the supernatural can be explained logically by demonology as revealed in the Bible," explained Dr. Smith.

"There is an element of truth in much of the supernatural, but it can be explained in terms of Biblical revelation," he continued.

D. Smith amplified his opinions with scriptural references including I John 4:1-6, Ephesians 6:10-13, Deuteronomy 18:10-14, Isaiah 47:11-14.

Such scriptures acknowledge the existence of the supernatural and state the Bible's position against black magic, astrology, fortune telling, clairvoyance and other supernatural followings, according to Dr. Smith.

Concluding, Dr. Smith emphasized, "Don't believe a supernatural teaching merely because it has real aspects if it leads away from the centrality of Jesus Christ. Such a teaching is a false one."

Next 1970 Hyperion meeting will be its installation banquet at Big Spring Country Club, May 14.

Calling All Home Makers

Brought To You
By Ted Haffield
MAKE YOUR HOME
ONE-IN-A-BILLION

There's nobody else in the world exactly like you — and, therefore, no other home should be like yours.

Although there's often not much that's practical to do to the outside of a home if it looks the same as a lot of other houses — you certainly can decorate the interior individually and distinctively, and thereby have the inside of your home different from everybody else's.

Now, no one should decorate "differently" just to be different. But you should express your individuality — and decorate for the needs and the desires of you and your family.

If you do that, you'll have a "one-in-a-billion home", and one that genuinely speaks for you, and serves you.

Today, it's easier than ever to assemble the furniture you want and like. There's now more freedom of choice than ever before, and mixtures of furnishings are not only acceptable but desirable, so you can add just the things you like.

With that in mind, we're here to help you by offering you a varied selection, different ideas, and the encouragement to furnish your home the way you want it, and the way your family wants it. We're here to help you achieve that goal. Stop in.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Friday is "D Day." I guess you'd call it, for Big Spring Steer tracksters and tennis players. That's when they shoot for a spot in regional competition, and most of them will be underdogs when Dist. 5-AAAA teams gather in Odessa for league competition.

Coach Glenn Petty can see four "possible" qualifiers, while others are very big maybes. The Steers definitely deserve at least three berths — the mile relay, Ricky McCormick in the mile run and at least one Big Springer in the 440-yard dash. If the Longhorns don't get those, people are liable to suspect graft, corruption, Watergate, wire-tapping, etc.

Sam Dodson would have been another good bet for points in the pole vault, even though two other loop vaulters have gone over 14-6 in recent weeks. But even if the cast were removed from his sprained ankle this week, he wouldn't have the coordination to compete after his three-week lay-off.

As far as tennis goes, the Steers would be title contenders in many places, but Dist. 5-AAAA seems to grow tougher each year. Randy Mattingley is among the best singles players in the state, but in order to prove it he'll have to get past Abilene Cooper's Rick Meyers, who right now is probably the pick to win state.

The Big Spring girl entries will also have a tough time getting out of district . . .

So far, there haven't been any little girls banging on the door of the Big Spring Little League demanding to get in and putting a lot of people on the spot. Mrs. Walter Beauchamp, American League president, says he doesn't expect any lasses to break the barrier mainly because "we've got such a good softball league here for the little girls." But probably, it's only a matter of time . . .

Ex-Big Spring Steer receiver Jerry Knoepfel, who led pass-catchers on the freshman football team at UT-El Paso last season with more than 700 yards, has been switched to defense. After a short transition period during spring drills, he's beginning to like work in the secondary . . .

The naming of Howard College's Taylor Williams to the national junior college All-America team this week brought out one fact — ex-Hawk Blip Cummings has to be an All-American roommate. Cummings, who roomed with All-American Archie Myers in 1971-72, also lived with Williams a year later. Not many folks can claim that . . . Speaking of Myers, his little brother, Ronnie, and another Cleveland, Miss., caecer, Darron Hodges, paid a visit to the HC campus last weekend. Myers is a forward and Hodges is a 6-3 guard who averaged 27 points a game the past season . . .

AT CINCINNATI

Aaron Is Poised For Record Try

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hank Aaron's quest for baseball's all-time home run record resumes in the city where he made his major league debut 20 years ago.

The skinny kid in left field for the Milwaukee Braves gave no indication on April 13, 1954, that he would become one of the game's all-time greats. He was saddled with an 0-for-5 collar that day by a trio of Cincinnati pitchers — Bud Podbielan, Joe Nuxhall and Frank Smith.

Aaron, amid considerable hallyhoo and controversy, was ready to launch his 21st major league campaign today when the Atlanta Braves took on the Redlegs in a 2:30 p.m. EDT clash.

The 40-year-old slugger enters the season with 7-13 lifetime home runs, only one shy of the record established by the immortal Babe Ruth.

A crush of 250 sports writers and sportscasters was expected for the opener, primarily because of Aaron. And, there was a chance the superstar wouldn't even play.

Braves' manager Eddie Mathews unleashed his anger on the eve of the game, saying, "The commissioner of baseball is burying Hank Aaron. He has made him a scapegoat. I am sick and tired and fed up with us being the bad actors, the bad cats in this thing."

Mathews was steered over Commissioner Bowie Kuhn entering the controversy that followed after the Braves announced prior to spring training that Aaron would sit out the three-game series in Cincinnati and begin playing when the

(AP WIREPHOTO) HANK AARON

Braves open an 11-day home stand against Los Angeles Monday night.

Kuhn said he expected the Braves to follow the pattern of using Aaron two of every three games, as was the case last season.

Mathews insisted Wednesday he wouldn't announce his starting lineup until just before game time today and that he and Aaron would get together and decide whether the slugger would play.

Mathews said he had no intention of using Aaron if the playing conditions were poor, and the chances of that were good.

At least a half-dozen tornadoes touched down in metropolitan Cincinnati Wednesday as violent thunderstorms rocked the area. The forecast called for a 50 per cent chance of showers today.

"I have some fond memories of Cincinnati and some not so fond," Aaron said.

The good memories include collecting his 3000th hit in old Crosley Field off Wayne Simpson on May 26, 1970.

Perhaps the worst memory was breaking his ankle here on Sept. 5 of his rookie season. It was the worst injury of his career.

Aaron has hit more homers — 95 — off Cincinnati than any other club in the National League. Fifty-three of those came in Cincinnati, including 10 in the new Riverfront Stadium opened in 1970.

If Aaron happens to connect for the magic No. 714 it would come in the same city where Ruth ended his career — a week or so after he belted his final three homers at Pittsburgh on May 25, 1935.

BIG SPRING'S VICKY MURPHY Joins Linda Little In Doubles Action

Steer Net Team Eyes Loop Play

ODESSA — The Dist. 5-AAAA tennis tournament kicks off its two-day run Friday at 9 a.m. at the Odessa College courts.

Abilene Cooper rates the pre-meet nod for the team title, as points are only awarded for first and second place finishes in the meet, while San Angelo is the defending champion. Action continues on Saturday, also at 9 a.m. at OC.

Randy Mattingley is the top Steer netters in years, but his hopes for a district singles championship may be dashed by Cooper's nationally-ranked Rick Meyers, a sophomore who had defeated Mattingley twice in the last two weeks.

Steer Coach Novice Kniffen said that Mattingley could possibly enter the double competition with Hugh Porter. "He's got to be high to beat Meyers," the coach said. "If he's ready, I think he can beat him."

Kniffen's plans Thursday were to enter Mattingley in singles, with Porter and Hayes Stripling the top doubles unit. Max Hill play No. 2 singles for Big Spring, and Ron Mercer and Steve Arnold will join the doubles action.

86 PROOF KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY DISTILLED AND BOTTLED BY THE JAMES B. BEAM DISTILLING CO., CLEMONT, BEAM, KENTUCKY.

WBA Planning To Open Play Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was inevitable.

The World Hockey Association, then the World Football League and now the World Baseball Association.

The WBA, announced formally at a news conference Wednesday, is a planned 32-team, four-division league that will play in the United States, Mexico, Central and South America and Asia.

Sean Morton Downey Jr., president and one of the founders of the new association, said the league has plenty of money and will go after established front line ballplayers to begin play in late January 1975.

The new league has set its sights on signing 160 existing major league stars for its first year of operating and is in serious negotiation with 70 players who are playing out their options this year.

"We'll better the American and National League salaries, yet our players will have to play less than half the number of games the current major league teams expect of their players," said Downey.

"We anticipate longer player life, more offense in the game, less lengthy games and player participation in operation of the association."

The new association expects to play a 72 to 84-game schedule compared to the 164-game schedule of the established major leagues.

The organizers said they have made contacts during the past six months with representatives in 42 cities and have had serious negotiations with backers in 38.

Franchises already have been awarded to Columbus, Ohio; Jersey City, N.J.; Birmingham, Ala.; Memphis, Tenn.; Tampa-St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mexico City, Mexico.

The organizers declined to identify the backers of the franchises until they hold news conferences in their own cities.

Each franchise costs $150,000 and 2 1/2 per cent of all gross revenues annually. The money goes to the WBA, a profit-making corporation that will direct all activities of the league, including hiring of ballplayers, coaches and managers and umpires.

Rules changes include the use of five designated hitters to replace defensive players who will remain in the game, the use of one designated runner per game, requiring the pitcher to release a pitch within 20 seconds, three balls instead of four for a walk and two runs for stealing home after the sixth inning.

Mill Kahn of KPIX-TV said that Gary Davidson, whose latest venture is the World Football League, is planning to organize a World Baseball League, too. Kahn said that he had heard from sources close to the Los Angeles sports league founder that Davidson would like to form a new global baseball league with franchises in the United States and other countries, including Japan, by 1976.

Teen-Age League Meeting Called

Team managers and representatives of the Big Spring Church Fast Pitch Softball League will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in Coker's Restaurant.

Entry fees will be paid at the meeting, and a league spokesman asked that each team be represented. Nine teams have already entered the league.

John Havlicek Romps; Storm Stops 2 Teams

By The Associated Press

The Buffalo Braves were overwhelmed by a volcanic John Havlicek of Boston, while the Kentucky Colonels and Carolina Cougars both were stopped by a tornado.

Havlicek, Boston's all-time leading scorer, erupted for 43 points Wednesday night as the Celtics beat Buffalo 120-107 and took a 2-1 lead over the Braves in their National Basketball Association Eastern Conference best-of-seven semifinal playoff series.

Meanwhile, the Colonels and games, however, were scheduled outside the eye of the storm and had no problems with the freakish weather that struck the South and Midwest. Both were West Division semifinals, and the San Antonio Spurs outgout the Indiana Pacers 115-96 for a 2-1 lead over the defending ABA champions, and the San Diego Conquistadors edged Utah 97-96, cutting the Stars' lead to 2-1.

The other ABA East Division series, between the New York Nets and Virginia Squires, resumes tonight at Hampton, Va., with the Nets leading 2-0.

In the NBA playoffs, the Milwaukee Bucks take a 2-1 lead against the Lakers at Los Angeles tonight. The other two series continue Friday night, with the New York Knicks meeting the Capital Bullets at Landover, Md., and the Detroit Pistons facing the Bulls at Chicago. The Bullets lead the Knicks 2-1, while the Pistons and Bulls are tied 1-1.

ABA Champs Now Down, 2-1, In Spur Series

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — It was a lick George Karl won't forget.

But the San Antonio rookie guard can also remember his game-leading 11 assists and six surprising rebounds in the Spurs' 115-96 playoff victory Wednesday night over the Indiana Pacers in an American Basketball Association West Division semifinal.

Karl stood fast and drew a foul as Pacer forward George McGinnis rammied him on a fast break layup attempt in the fourth quarter. After being revived, Karl slumped out of the game but the Spurs got the ball and scored to widen their lead to 26 points—their biggest margin.

The Pacers' loss put the defending ABA champs down two games to one against the young Spurs, with the fourth game of the series tonight in San Antonio.

"Just picture a 240-pound man, 6-foot-9, going 30 miles per hour, aiming at a 190-pound, 6-foot-one midget standing under the basket and hitting him firmly . . ." said Karl of the McGinnis crash.

"I've been hit by bigger people but not harder," said the North Carolina product, who later returned to action. "That was the hardest I've ever taken."

McGinnis, who was also bounced around in the game, was impressed.

"There's a guy who got up and got back in the ball game," said McGinnis, who led the Pacers with 25 points.

Karl's coach, Tom Nissalke, didn't like it.

"I think it was a bad error, McGinnis taking a cheap shot on Karl like that. . . There's no excuse for it," Nissalke said.

Karl got 10 points but the game's high scorer was Spur center Swen Nater with 27. Nater, the ABA rookie of the year, also led the game's rebounders with 15.

After the second loss to the Spurs, Pacer Coach Bob Leonard said, "Tomorrow night's a big one. If you get down three-to-one, you really got your work cut out for you. . . I look for a much better ball game."

Giving Away Food Is Not As Easy As It Would Seem

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — The Patricia Hearst kidnaping, the first political abduction in the United States, has proved that giving away $2 million worth of free food is not as easy as it would seem.

More than 150,000 packages of food were given out on five distribution days. Bags of carrots contained meat, bananas, fruit juices and other food.

COMPLAINING

Some people got several packages of food, but many who waited hours in line didn't get any before the supply ran out and the program went temporarily out of business.

There was complaining in almost every group involved in trying to give food to people who needed it.

And Miss Hearst, 20, daughter of newspaper executive Randolph A. Hearst, still is a captive of the Symbionese Liberation Army.

The SLA, which police say is a multi-racial group of about 25 heavily armed persons, demanded free food be distributed to California's needy before her release was negotiated.

LOST 20 POUNDS

A Ludlow Kramer secretary of the State of Washington recruited by Hearst to run the People In Need food program, lost 20 pounds in the job and went into an Olympia, Wash., hospital for a checkup after returning home this week.

Reacting to SLA complaints that the first four food handouts had been "hog feed," Hearst and Kramer organized one final distribution last Monday of 50-pound food packages for 35,000 people at a total cost of more than $1.2 million.

The final day's packages, with a wholesale value of $35 each, included pot roast of beef, ham, lamb and fresh vegetables.

RIPPING HEARST

At a farewell news conference, Kramer recalled "the constant yelling, day in and day out, the constant threats on our lives, the constant ripping off of Mr. Hearst."

"People were seeing what they could get out of it for themselves," he added.

"The best part of it is that we have fed 150,000 people with quality food, and we have met the demands of the SLA," Kramer said.

The SLA demanded all food distribution operations be approved by a coalition of San Francisco area community groups. But there was dissen-

SCREAMING MATCHES

"We are relieved to be through with the total screaming matches we dealt with for eight to 10 hours a day with various factions in the coalition," Kramer told a news conference. Hearst acknowledged the bickering between coalition groups, too.

"We've had difficulties," he said. "You can't do anything that may put somebody in a pressure cooker, and sure people are going to get mad and yell at each other."

Newsman observing the food giveaway said those standing in line were representative of the black, Mexican-American and Chinese neighborhoods where the food was handed out.

People in line included mothers toting children, groups of old women with shopping bags and defiant youths.

Double Shooting In Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — A woman was killed and her husband critically wounded in a double shooting at their home in this Southeast Texas city.

Police officers said they found Mrs. Rachel Denton, 33, dead Wednesday. Her husband, Charlie Denton, was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Beaumont where he was reported in critical condition with a bullet wound.

Rattlesnake Nips Texas Housewife

SOMMERSET, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff officers said Mrs. Virginia Beauchamp went to her kitchen Wednesday for a glass of water and was bitten by a two-foot rattlesnake.

Mrs. Beauchamp was in satisfactory condition at a hospital in nearby San Antonio.

OH, HAPPY DAY — British actress Glenda Jackson looks happy at a press conference in London Wednesday to celebrate the winning of her second Oscar for the film "A Touch of Class."

$40 MILLION Woman Dairy Owner Sues Harried AMPI

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Wise County dairy owner Mrs. J.D. Van Huss has filed a $40 million damage suit against the already beleaguered Associated Milk Producers, Inc.

Mrs. Van Huss, operator of the Van Huss Dairy, filed the federal court suit for herself and for an estimated 44,000 individual dairymen in the United States.

Wise County is a major Texas milk producing area. The suit charges the dairy cooperative with controlling prices of milk, violating laws on sale of securities and creating a monopoly in hauling milk from dairies to processing plants.

Mrs. Van Huss also seeks to void contracts of AMPI with dairymen.

Also named in the suit is Bob Buchanan, identified by plaintiff's lawyers as a Wise County resident.

AMPI is under investigation by a Watergate grand jury and the Senate Watergate committee concerning possible illegal campaign contributions to President Nixon and other candidates.

An Arkansas grand jury investigating 1968 activities of the cooperative recently indicted the coop's former general manager, Harold Nelson. A former

Maximum Pot Fine $5 In Ypsilanti
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Marijuana smokers in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti will be subject to at most a $5 fine under new city laws approved by voters in the college communities.
The measures passed prohibit city police from enforcing more stringent state marijuana laws. Other law enforcement officials remain free to apply the tougher laws, however.
In Ann Arbor — where the third annual Hash Bash attended by 1,000 pot-smoking students at the University of Michigan also was held Monday — the measure passed 15,613 to 13,642, with a few absentee ballots still to be counted.
In Ypsilanti, home of Eastern Michigan University, an ordinance limiting the fine for marijuana use to $5 was approved 1,355-1,237.

'FIRE IN THE HOLE' 'This Women's Lib Deal Just Doesn't Figure In'

HOMINY, Okla. (AP) — Don't let them kid you about this cowboy stuff. If you come expecting a rough, tough guy with a jawful of tobacco, Vivian Dale Evans will give you a shock. The 24-year-old 105-pound Mrs. Evans has proven her worth for the last two years at the Oklahoma auction yard owned by her husband.

FIRE IN THE HOLE
When the loudspeaker blares the warning "fire in the hole," Mrs. Evans braces herself for the arrival of another discontented animal to be sold. Riding her 2-year-old quarter horse, she can cut the new animal off, make a couple of defensive moves and deftly herd it into the right pen. For two years she has braved sometimes nasty weather to corral hundreds of cows, calves, steers and bulls at the sales. But she is no women's liberation type.

"The only reason I'm out here is because I like being out here," she said simply. "This women's lib deal just doesn't figure in." Although she is the only woman who works the cattle on horseback, several other women, including a sister-in-law, hustle about the cattle pens on foot. Vivian's husband Wendell claims some of his best work-

31, and part-time waitress Edith Hettenback, 19. AND I DO
Last week Skiatook school teacher Terri Williams, 25, gave herself a test run during a spring break.

"I just wanted to see if I would like this kind of work—and I do," she said with a smile. "I'm hoping to work here through the summer." One man willing to work the one day a week is Rondell Fewell, Highway Patrol district supervisor at Pawnee. The 225-pound officer uses the Fridays to get away from his desk and train horses.

Housewife Donna Miller, 30, already has lost 17 pounds on the job. Her fellow workers are beauty operator Cathy Evans,

LEMON, SUGAR FLAVOR APPETIZING LAMB CHOPS
Lamb, highly popular in Europe, is gaining favor in this country

Lamb Gets Votes This Year As Tasty, Springtime Dish

By JO BRIGHT
Lamb runs a poor third for meat-eaters in Texas, whose first choices are generally beef and pork.

But lamb rates higher than this, claim many meat experts, both in this country and abroad.

Many say that young lamb can be more tender and tastier than any other meat. If it doesn't rival the best beef in flavor or texture, it might be that the lamb served was too mature or too well done.

Lamb also isn't at its best when served on a cold plate, as the lukewarm fat congeals, and the meat becomes unappetizing, both to look at and to eat.

Lamb is enormously popular in Europe and the Near East. It is featured at Easter time in Italy and is the basic ingredient of many shish kebabs in the Near East. For the British, what could be more traditional or better than the double lamb chop?

Lamb, no longer considered a seasonal meat, can introduce menu diversity all year around. The wide variety of lamb cuts can be converted into many tasty dishes.

Although Big Spring is less than 100 miles from San Angelo, the "wool capitol of the world," there are times when lamb is not available in local grocery stores. This is due, in part, because it does not sell as well as beef or pork.

Cooperative meat department managers are usually glad to help the customer by putting lamb on their order list, if the customer requests it ahead of time.

There are many ways to prepare delicious lamb dishes. Those who have not had an opportunity to develop a taste for lamb are missing a culinary treat, and mothers who don't include lamb on the menu are cheating their families.

Be a lamb, and try one or more of the following recipes.

Orange Sauce Enhances Roast

1 4-lb. boned shoulder of lamb, rolled and tied 1 6-oz. can frozen orange juice concentrate ¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ tsp. salt
½ cup finely chopped celery
¼ cup sliced almonds
¼ cup chopped mint or 2 tablespoons dehydrated mint flakes

Place lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) 1 hour. Combine orange juice concentrate, lemon juice, butter or margarine and salt. Cook 5 minutes; mix well.

Brush lamb with orange juice mixture. Bake 1 to 2 hours or until meat thermometer registers 175 to 180 degrees (depending on the desired degree of roasting) Brush occasionally with orange juice mixture during baking period.

Meanwhile, combine remaining orange juice mixture and celery. Cook 5 minutes. Add almonds and mint or mint flakes; mix well. Serve with lamb. Makes 8 servings.

Maryland Lamb Chops Sugared

6 rib or loin lamb chops, cut 1 inch thick
Salt and pepper
6 very thin onion slices
6 very thin lemon slices
6 tps. brown sugar

Set regulator to broil. Place chops on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan so the top surface of chops is 2 inches from the heat. Brown chops on one side (about 8 minutes), season and turn.

Place an onion and a lemon slice on each chop and broil for 2 minutes. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon of brown sugar on each lemon slice and continue to broil until chops are brown and the sugar is melted (about 1 minute.) Makes 6 servings.

Cranberry Filling In Lamb Rolls

1 lb. lamb, round, cut into thin slices
Salt and pepper to taste
Flour

2 tbsps. fat
¼ cup cranberry juice
¼ cup water
½ cup cranberry filling
Divide meat into 4 pieces, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Spread with layer of cranberry filling and roll each piece like a jelly roll, fastening with toothpicks.

Flour each roll. Heat fast in frying pan and brown meat on all sides. Cover with cranberry juice and water. Simmer ½ to ¾ of an hour, or bake in an oven. Serve on hot platter, garnished with fresh sage.

For filling, cook ¾ cup cranberries and ¼ cup sugar over low heat until tender. Remove and add ¼ cup chopped black walnuts or other nuts.

Put Stuffing In Lamb Pocket

1-3 cup yellow corn meal
1-3 cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
2 cups canned applesauce
1 tsp. salt
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup butter or margarine

1 cup chopped cooked chestnuts
Or 1 cup chopped pecans, almonds or celery
1 tsp. poultry seasoning
4-5 lbs. boned shoulder of lamb

Combine cornmeal and 1-3 cup water; add to boiling water. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add 1 cup of the applesauce and 1 cup of the salt. Cook over boiling water until thoroughly cooked, about 20 minutes. Stir occasionally.

Saute onion in butter until light brown; add to applesauce mixture with chestnuts and poultry seasoning. Place filling in pocket of lamb.

Roll and tie with string. Season with salt and pepper. Place in rack in roasting pan. Roast in slow oven (325 degrees) 45 minutes per pound.

To make gravy, add 4 to 6 tablespoons flour to 4 tablespoons lamb fat and drippings in pan. Blend together. Add 1 cup applesauce and about 1½ cups boiling water. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Wrap Kidneys With Bacon

Allow 3 to 5 kidneys for each serving and the same number of bacon slices. Precook bacon for 4 to 5 minutes until done but not crisp.

Clean the kidneys, removing the outside film and split them. Stuff them with herb-seasoned butter. For 4 persons, ¼ lb. herb-seasoned butter is needed with ½ cup each of chopped parsley and scallions, and 2 teaspoons lemon juice.

Blend these thoroughly. Wrap each stuffed kidney with a piece of bacon and arrange them on skewers. Broil under or over a low fire so that the bacon becomes crisp and the kidneys are cooked.

Rice-Pear Ring For Lamb Curry

2 lbs. lamb, cubed
2 tbsps. shortening or oil
1 med. onion
2 cups water, divided
1 tsp. parsley flakes (or 1 tbsps. fresh parsley)
1 bay leaf
6 whole peppercorns
1 tsp. curry powder
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. monosodium glutamate
¼ tsp. pepper
¼ cup flour

Brown unfloured lamb in shortening. Add onion and cook only until transparent. Add 1 cup water and seasonings. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer about 1½ hours, or until meat is tender.

Remove bayleaf and peppercorns. Remove meat and set aside to keep warm. Combine flour with remaining cup of cold water and thicken gravy. Return meat to gravy and heat thoroughly. Serve in rice ring.

For the rice ring, combine 1 cup uncooked white rice with 2 cups cold water and 1 teaspoon salt in a two-quart saucepan. Bring to a boil; then turn heat low.

Like Lamb? Try Chili Casserole

Here's a hearty dish for a western-style meal.

2 tbsps. butter or margarine
½ lb. ground lamb
½ tsp. salt
¼ to 1 tsp. chili powder
Dash pepper
½ cup sliced celery
½ cup sliced onions
1 lb. 4-oz. can tomatoes or 3 med.-sized tomatoes, sliced

1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
1 tsp. salt
3 qts. boiling water
2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ozs.)

¼ lb. American cheese, sliced
Paprika

Melt butter or margarine. Add lamb; cook until lightly browned. Add ½ teaspoon salt, chili powder, pepper, celery, onions, tomatoes and tomato sauce.

Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

Drain in colander. Stir macaroni into meat mixture. Turn into 2-quart baking dish; top with cheese. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes, or until cheese is melted. Makes 6 servings.

Clinic Oks X-ray Technology Course

A clinic-based program as an interim to a college-affiliated course in X-ray technology has been approved by the Malone and Hogan clinic board, Dr. Buerk Williams, radiologist announced today.

Plans are to develop the plan with Midland College as the controlling agency for an accredited school of radiologic technology. The Malone and Hogan clinic would be affiliating agency for practical training and experience.

Originally the plan had been to phase the training into the Howard College allied health curriculum with the college as the controlling agency responsible for classroom and laboratory needs. In March the board, acting on a finding of a demand in the area for five graduating radiologists, opted instead for adding a course in a two-year registered nurse program.

There is, said Dr. Williams, a shortage of well-trained and competent registered X-ray technologists. Dr. Marshall Box, dean of technical and vocational education at Midland College and formerly at Howard College, has expressed an interest in an area-wide concept which would accommodate students from Snyder to Midland.

In the interim, the Malone and Hogan board has approved a recommendation to proceed with a clinic-based program of its own. Potential students are being sought, and Dr. Harry Davis, chairman of the psychology department at the Big Spring State Hospital, has agreed to serve as consultant in evaluation of student candidates. Tests will involve comprehension, aptitude and personality to help assess whether individuals are suited to this field of medicine.

Individuals between the ages of 18 and 40 years who are interested in radiology technology as a career are asked to contact Dr. Williams at Malone and Hogan Clinic.

An advisory committee has been established, consisting of Dr. George Youngman, chairman of the radiology department at the VA hospital, Dr. Buerk Williams, R. L. Heith, Norman Knox, Thomas Hinshaw, Mrs. S. H. Merritt and Mrs. Roy Cederberg of the

He Tried To Kidnap Princess

LONDON (AP) — Ian Ball told a crowded court today he tried to kidnap Princess Anne as a protest against what he termed inadequate facilities for treating mental illness in Britain.

Ball, 26, appeared in Bow Street Magistrates' Court to face additional charges of kidnaping and attempted murder stemming from the bloody kidnap attempt on the princess March 20. Four persons were wounded.

The bearded drifter, described by his defense lawyer as a confirmed schizoid, stood handcuffed between two plainclothesmen as he told the court: "I would just like to say that I did it because I wished to draw attention to the lack of facilities for treating mental illness under the National Health Service." Britain's state-run system of free medical care.

Ball was originally charged with the attempted murder of Princess Anne's bodyguard, Detective Inspector James Beatson, in the shootout on the Mall about 150 yards from Buckingham Palace.

Today he was charged with attempting to kidnap Queen Elizabeth II's 23-year-old daughter and attempting to forcibly imprison her. He was also charged with the attempted murder of the three other men who were wounded, Anne's chauffeur, a police constable and a passing journalist who tried to intervene.

Cost Of Gasoline Hinders Donations

HOUSTON (AP) — Goodwill Industries of Houston says the cost of gasoline is hindering its work of collecting usable donations which are in turn repaired by handicapped persons.

So starting Friday, it will start stationing manned trailer trucks in area shopping centers as collection points.

A Goodwill spokesman said the trucks will be manned by handicapped persons. He added it is hoped the trucks will cut down on vandalism and theft encountered at stationary collection boxes.

Public Contest To Name Arena

HOUSTON (AP) — The City Council Wednesday voted to hold a public contest to pick a name for the $18 million sports arena being constructed at Greenway Plaza, which is being backed by city revenue bonds.

Last Feb. 26 the council balked at permitting the developers of the complex, Century Sports Ltd., from holding a similar contest.

Ban Or Rollback On Beef Imports Proposed By Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move is developing in Congress to ask President Nixon for a rollback or even a temporary halt in meat imports to help cattle producers recover from losses caused by high feed costs and relatively low market prices.

Rep. Bob Price, R-Tex., said a lid on imports of low-quality beef would have much more effect than the administration's plan to buy supergrade hamburger made from choice and prime feedlot cattle.

Price said he began taking which show a $45 million administration plan to buy high-grade hamburger for school lunches designed to require premium cuts of beef from feedlot cattle. Price, as others have pointed out, said the $45 million hamburger purchases would require no more than one day's cattle slaughter nationally.

Thus, he said, a more effective way to help cattle producers would be through a lid on meat imports. Price said a ban on those should last until there is evidence some stability in demand for beef has returned to the U.S. market.

This Year Could Become Tax Nightmare For Some

LUBBOCK — For many farmers, 1973 was the year they had dreamed of for a lifetime — excellent crops and astounding prices, but this year may be turning into a nightmare for some who are contemplating the large slice of pie that may go to Uncle Sam in the form of income taxes.

Because of this situation, many farmers sold a substantial part of their crops on deferred payment contracts that would shift the income into 1974 or simply carried the products into 1974 before selling. In either case, the income was not subject to tax last year. Farmers who followed such programs now have a year to make income tax management decisions that could significantly affect the tax liability on this income, says an agricultural economist here.

Marvin Sartin, area specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that one of the techniques valuable to agricultural producers in managing taxable income is the "timely and wise purchase of depreciable assets."

While accelerated depreciation methods, optional additional first-year allowance, and investment credits are handy tools in reducing taxable income, the purchase of farm machinery or other depreciable assets just to reduce taxable income may not be wise if these assets are not otherwise needed,

Bootleg Trucking Scheme Cheats Treasury, Public

DALLAS (AP) — A multimillion dollar moving scheme is cheating not only the public but the state treasury as well, state police warn.

Officers said Wednesday that unlicensed, unregistered truckers are becoming an increasing problem, and those who knowingly employ such movers are adding to it.

NO GUARANTEE

"And they're just as liable to be prosecuted," said Sgt. J.C. Smith of the weights and measures division of the Department of Public Safety. Smith said such bootleg movers engage in interstate and intrastate moving and shipping minus proper permits, bonds and insurance.

"And they don't pay transportation taxes that legitimate movers have to pay," he added.

Smith said anyone can move you from one side of town to the other. But the minute he leaves the city, bound for another city, he must have permits from the Texas Railroad Commission, bonds and insurance and must pay transportation taxes.

For interstate movers, a permit from the Interstate Commerce Commission is also required.

"When you hire one of these truckers you have no guarantees your goods will reach their destination in good condition. In fact, you have no guarantee your goods will arrive at all," Smith said.

The Citizens Action Centers of America says it has uncovered at least 165 such bootleg operators in Texas and more than 6,500 throughout the nation.

CHEATERS

A telephone check with a few of the companies the CACA said were unregistered revealed the companies were more than happy to take on an interstate move of household goods.

"They charge as much or more as the legitimate haulers and they don't have the expenses legitimate movers do," Smith said.

Smith said the "state and the government are losing countless thousands of dollars a year in permits alone. In addition, movers must pay a three percent transportation tax on their income so the cheaters are beating the state out of millions of dollars."

Smith said all commercial movers should be required to present proper credentials before the mover is engaged.

Improper Jury Argument Rule

AUSTIN (AP) — A prosecutor's argument that the real issue in a case was not guilt or innocence but punishment resulted today in the reversal of a Dallas conviction.

The Court of Criminal Appeals ruled that James V. Cherry, assessed 10 years' imprisonment on a theft conviction, was entitled to a new trial.

At the close of his argument in the guilt or innocence stage of the trial, the prosecutor told the jury:

"I believe that you'll know that the real reason we tried this case was not to determine guilt or innocence but to determine what kind of punishment is going to be set on this particular kind of crime."

The high court said this was a "totally improper line of argument to pursue at the guilt or innocence stage of the proceedings."

"The state's contention that the statement was a legitimate plea for law enforcement is untenable," the court added.

Fugitive Captured

DALLAS (AP) — The FBI announced Wednesday it has apprehended Larry Dean Grammer, 26, who escaped federal custody at Bosier City, La., Feb. 8 while being transported to Los Angeles.

The FBI said Grammer and his older brother, Jerry Wayne, were being taken to Los Angeles to face bank robbery charges when the pair escaped and stole a car.

Jerry was captured the same day near Wills Point, Tex., by the Texas Highway Patrol.

The FBI said Larry was captured at a South Dallas residence.

Don't Talk In Sleep, Just Grin

NEW YORK (AP) — "Fellows, you want to get your wife crazy?" says the voice on the other end of 999-3838. "Don't talk in your sleep, just grin."

The voice belongs to comic Henny Youngman and the number is for a new service provided by the New York Telephone Company — Dial-A-Joke.

A company spokesman said Tuesday that its Dial-Santa message during the holidays proved so successful that it decided to try another service.

Youngman recorded 30 spot jokes for April, different ones for each day, the spokesman said. He added that if the service proves popular and profitable, the company may sign other comics.

The Hard Way

The proposal to permit the President's lawyer to sit in on the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment inquiry has the sound of concession to the appearance of second-mile fairness. From a practical point, however, it would not accomplish anything except perhaps more difficulty between committee members and to delay proceedings.

Despite the suggestions aimed at avoiding a constitutional confrontation — including most lately that of Sen. James Buckley, previously a presidential supporter that Mr. Nixon resign — it is becoming increasingly clear that the most practical way to resolve the issue is by bringing it to a head within the constitutional framework.

Sooner (the better) or later the House Committee is going to have to take some sort of action on the question of impeachment. The first matter, however, is to decide whether an impeachment resolution, if voted out of committee, is to be based on one or more of the crimes or causes cited in the constitution, or upon a broad charge of misconduct. The latter would be on tenuous ground and it may be a test to see if the parliamentary system is to be invoked through the impeachment gambit. Most agree that while the committee might approve a resolution for House consideration for almost any reason, one short of citing indictable criminal offenses would simply, at this stage, fail in the Senate.

It should be borne in mind that an impeachment resolution is simply a charge — a charge that would have to be heard or tried before the Senate. So far the House committee has followed its assignment with reasonable purpose, and it is assumed that it must follow it to a decision. That could put the matter up to the House and possibly, eventually the Senate. Few welcome the prospect, but, painful as it is, it may be the only way to dispose of the matter.

What's Old Enough?

The city fathers of Norfolk, Va., several months ago decided that 18-year-olds are old enough to serve as policemen and now have about a dozen of the young officers on the force. But it has created some embarrassment for the young officers, because federal law says they're not old enough to buy guns and ammunition.

That peculiar circumstance is no problem while on official duty since the city furnishes guns and ammunition for the officers. But a department rule requires that each officer have a personal handgun for off-duty use.

Now there's a scramble underway by the too-young officers to acquire weapons, permits and ammunition legally. One 19-year-old policeman told the department his mother would have to fill out the gun permit application, buy the pistol and give it to him as a "gift."

Probably a lot of under-21 Vietnam veterans are surprised to know they were too young by federal law to own guns while tramping around in the jungles and boondocks of Southeast Asia.

Down, But Is It?

Around The Rim
Marj Carpenter

"To get a good picture of a prairie fire, one needs a helicopter," Big Spring Herald photographer Danny Valdes said Saturday when word came in that we had a big fire going. "But then, we try," Danny shrugs.

So the photographer and this reporter take off in the wrong direction. We understood the fire was on 821 between IS 20 and US 87. Somehow, the two of us thought 821 was out toward Lamesa, but as we crossed the overpass, we saw no smoke anywhere in that direction so we pulled up into the station on the left as we headed north and stopped.

THERE WAS A cardboard sign on the window "Out of Gas" and a man inside looking less than happy. Danny motioned that we wanted to use the phone. The man shook his head emphatically. No gas . . . no phone.

We go next door to the American Restaurant and phone the sheriff's office. "Oh Marj," the deputy says sadly, "You are going the wrong way, Go back through Big Spring and head out toward Forsan. 821 is out there."

So we do. We go back through Big Spring and catch every red light. We head toward Forsan, go into Forsan and turn left instead of right. We go on through and up a hill to the end of the road by a pumping jack. We can see the fire in the distance. We can't get there from that hill.

We turn around and go back to Forsan, stopping for directions and gas. We then head away from the smoke like the man tells us and the turn back toward it.

We drive and we drive and we drive. The smoke seems to move away from us. We learned later that the fire was burning off in the other direction.

WE PASSED A herd of cattle loose on the road. We wended our way through the group shooting them off the road. We finally came to a location where the fire had apparently begun and was now extinguished. We began to see abandoned pickups where firefighters had abandoned their vehicles and caught rides on into the blaze.

We came to an open gate. It had a warning sign, "TRAPS." And a bunch of governmental goble-de-gook which meant, look out or you'll step in a trap.

There was a note on the gate. We thought it might give us some information. It was a note telling "Roy that Charlie had gone fishing at Scout Tank." We were glad.

We went through the gate and began to wind through the brush. We came to the edge of the area where the fire was still burning. We obtained what information we could on what fire units were at the scene and how many acres were burning. It was too scattered to make a photograph.

BY THEN, Danny's car was running hot and we thought the next fire was going to be in the motor of his car, so we left and went back to Big Spring.

Anybody who thinks all news stories are easy to obtain ought to get to spend an afternoon like that one. The county volunteer fire departments were having their share of frustrations too. They had equipment burned and damaged.

But the refreshing thing about the entire tragic loss of rangeland was the fact that West Texas volunteers will fight together to stop a prairie fire until they are ready to drop.

West Texans might bicker on the subject of politics, sports and religion, but on two subjects they remain firm and more like the pioneers of the old West. One of these is hospitality and the other one is helping each other out in the time of real trouble . . . like a grass fire.

Behind The Scene

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — One harsh explanation for President Nixon's calculated risk in recently throwing down the gauntlet to Europe was secret French connivance with certain Arab countries to keep the anti-U.S. oil boycott going.

IN LATE January when French foreign minister Michel Jobert was ending his most recent Middle Eastern diplomatic junket, he left this private advice with the Syrian government in Damascus: don't trust the Nixon-Kissinger rhetoric on a political solution of the Arab-Israeli conflict because they are conning the Arabs; don't lift the oil boycott because it is the only cutting edge the Arabs have to pressure the Americans to force Israel out of its vast Arab conquests of 1967.

WHEN WORD leaked to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's Middle East experts that Jobert had actually lobbied the Syrians to continue the boycott, President Nixon understandably hit the ceiling. Whatever the differences between the U.S. and its European allies over Israel — and those differences have been deep and fundamental — Jobert's sly stabbing at the heart of Kissinger's Mideast diplomacy demanded the most serious American response.

THE FRENCH, moreover, had also taken the lead — again, behind the American back — in pushing hard for new economic ties between the Europeans and 20 Arab states. When Kissinger stopped in Brussels in early March on his way home from the Middle East, he was given tantalizing hints, but no more, that something was brewing between the Europeans and the Arabs. The announcement of the European offer to the Arab states that came almost immediately after he left Brussels stunned the Nixon administration.

This second affront undermined the Nixon-Kissinger effort to bring the big oil-consuming nations together in their economic dealings with the Arab states. Its effect was to outflank the mid-February Washington energy conference, called by Kissinger, and the follow-up conference between the oil-consuming and oil-producing nations.

ALTHOUGH Mr. Nixon seemed almost petulant in his warning about irresistible congressional demands for U.S. troop withdrawal from Europe if the Gallic operations continue, his tongue was carefully planned as a capstone to Kissinger's earlier attacks on the Europeans.

Later, in his Houston press conference Mr. Nixon was considerably softer. One reason was the initial European government reaction to the President's March 13 attendance. Instead of a new load of Gaullist arrogance, Jobert himself started talking "conciliation." The West Germans, overwhelmingly but privately behind the Americans within the European community, then agreed to finance a much larger portion of the cost of U.S. troops in Europe. Finally, the new Labor government of British prime minister Harold Wilson publicly endorsed the U.S. demand (in the phrase of one high U.S. official) for "unity not splitism." Net result is that it strengthens Mr. Nixon's hand.

"He hath loosed the fateful lightning of his terrible, swift sword . . ."

Devastating Money Crunch

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Those rising interest rates are scaring the daylight out of many corporate treasurers and securities officials, some of whom fear the approach of another money crunch within the next two months.

Capital is to the corporate body as air is to the human body. Without it a company cannot meet its bills and, over the longer term, cannot expand or modernize to remain competitive.

Speaking of the longer term, James Needham, chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, told a meeting of financial executives this week that corporations face a "staggering economic challenge" to raise capital.

Needham cited a figure of $3.3 trillion as the sum needed by 1985, and said large amounts of this must come from equity or stock market financing because of the already heavy level of corporate debt.

Disturbing to exchange officials and corporate financiers alike is the possibility that the stock markets might be unable to raise their share. One reason for fear, of course, is that high interest rates draw money from equities.

The Federal Reserve policy of restricting the money supply in an effort to combat inflation is coming in for mounting criticism. Some critics in fact maintain that the Fed is making matters worse.

Representative of this viewpoint is John Wright, who heads a large money management and investment advisory service. Unless an easier money policy is adopted, Wright states, a devastating money crunch will occur by June.

If it occurs, he wrote to Arthur Burns, Fed chairman, it will "kill business, the securities markets, federal tax revenues, and any chance of avoiding a new round of deficit financing and uncontrollable inflation."

Wright and others maintain that the Fed is working under a delusion in stating that the money supply is expanding.

What He Did Say

William F. Buckley Jr.

Even the water buffalo and the springbok in Africa were talking about the startling recommendation of the tormented junior senator from New York, that Richard Nixon resign the Presidency pro bono publico. Returning from abroad and examining the response to his suggestion, one is struck by a number of misunderstandings which appear to have become institutionalized in American thought. Not only among conservatives, but among liberals as well.

MOST OF them, in my judgment, are explicitly or implicitly incorporated in a two-sentence statement by a Republican Congressman from Tennessee, Dan Kuykendall. He is quoted as saying: "Sen. Buckley's proposal is most dangerous as it would affect the Republic and its operations. His willingness to see a man forced out of office without proof of impeachable conduct shows a lack of understanding as to how this Republic was formed and how it operates."

If Mr. Nixon were to resign, would he in fact have been forced out of office? To answer in the affirmative, it is required that the word "forced" be used metaphorically. Because — obviously — there is no way to "force" Mr. Nixon out of office other than to impeach him, and convict him. Inasmuch as Sen. Buckley looks with horror at that prospect, the first part of which is by all accounts imminent, then the point to make is that Sen. Buckley desire very much that Nixon should not be "forced" out of office.

IF REP. Kuykendall is using the word figuratively, the question asks is: Are we really committed to the proposition that the people should not express themselves concerning that which they desire? Here again a distinction is necessary. If Sen. Buckley had said that every time the American people desire a President to resign he should do so, he would have thrown in his lot with the plebs — with whom, as a conservative, he desires no affiliation.

But he is not saying that. Nowhere in his profound statement is there a hint of it. He did not say that Mr. Nixon should resign because the majority of the American people would rather have another President. He said he should resign because the alternatives — for America — are less desirable. The alternatives being a) the probability of impeachment and the possibility of conviction; b) a presumptive suspicion of Presidential policies reflecting loss of confidence in Mr. Nixon; and c) an executive weakened as an institution by tormentors who, in their anxiety to get Nixon, are likely to move further than is good for the institution of the Presidency.

WHAT I understand Sen. Buckley to have done is to have asked President Nixon to spare the United States the ravages of a prolongation of the Watergate torture. I cannot see how, in doing so, he showed any lack of understanding of republican government.

Charles De Gaulle participated in a coup d'etat, in effect, one of the principal purposes of which was to establish a strong Presidency. Even so, at a certain point, General de Gaulle, surveying the situation about him — resigned. He did not do so in order to inaugurate the plebiscitary government he replaced when he overthrew the Fourth Republic and instituted the Fifth. He did it because he saw that the signals suggested France would be better off without him.

Better Think Twice

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 18 and a virgin. Before I indulge in sexual intercourse I plan to go on the pill. Could you give me some information about the pill, how long until it takes effect, any physical changes, etc.?

— S.M.
Oh, dear, another ardent virgin who thinks the pill is the answer to everything. At least you're 18, and not 14 or 15 like so many girls who are writing me letters much like yours.

Frankly, I don't intend to turn this column into a daily explanation on how to jump into bed and not get in trouble.

All the same, I do think it is better for girls to know about some of the dangers and how best to avoid them, so I'll go this far:
You can send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me, in care of the Big Spring Herald and ask for the booklet, "The 12 Methods of Birth Control." The booklet won't, I assure you, give you my permission to start playing house — but it will tell you what you need to know before you go galloping off into the arms of romance or whatever you choose to call it.

And I'll add this — one of the dangers of the pill is its absolute lack of protection against venereal disease. Yes, I know. You're going to be careful and go only with nice boys.

Only there are between two and three million boys and girls every year who wind up with V.D., and no doubt most of them felt sure that "that cute boy" or "that nice girl" just wouldn't be diseased. Better think twice.

The amount of V.D. is now higher than ever — and I have a whole bin full of V.D. booklets that people didn't send for. They aren't doing any good by not being read, so if you send an extra dime, I'll include the V.D. booklet along with the other one.

The printing bill was such that it's going to be a financial loss, but that's better than letting them sit around gathering dust while girls and boys are gathering V.D. germs.

I'm not kidding. The ignorance about V.D. among our young people is beyond belief.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you explain about breakthrough bleeding when you take birth control pills? Is there anything to stop it besides stopping taking the pills? — Mrs. N.

The probability is that you are taking a pill containing more estrogen than you need — the bleeding can be the effect of the estrogen on the uterus. Tell your doctor about the bleeding and he may switch you to a pill with less estrogen to solve the problem.

Detente In Danger

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — To paraphrase George Clemenceau's conviction that war is too serious a matter to be left to the military, peace is far too important to be left to politicians. The politicians are busily hacking away at what could be the last chance to get a settlement that would slow if not stop the nuclear arms race and ease tensions between East and West.

THEIR MOTIVES may be as pure as the first flowers of spring. But narrow self-interest, fears, prejudices, ancient hatreds cannot be excluded.

By a coincidence inevitably given the present political climate, the political hacking went on as Secretary of State Henry Kissinger was balanced on the highwire between Washington and Moscow. The uproar seemed calculated to bring him down and, along with him, the already shaky detente.

IT IS easy to discount the familiar spouters. That old blow whale George Meany of the AFL-CIO has been saying the same thing since the days of Samuel Gompers and the assembling of a collection of craft monopolists: Put down the wicked Russians, keep out foreign competition, protect the American workers.

The arms lobby is another agency working against any agreement on controls with the Soviet Union. Their agent is also an old familiar, Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson, who huffed and puffed against the agreement limiting antiballistic missiles signed in Moscow in May of 1972.

Fear is a large element here as spread by articulate hard liners like Sen. James Buckley, the New York conservative who called for President Nixon's resignation.

THE ESSENCE of the fear is that the Russians are overtaking us so that we will have the choice of knuckling under to their demands or annihilation. It matters little that specialists with wide knowledge and experience in arms control say these fears are groundless so long as the United States has an invulnerable submarine fleet capable of annihilating Soviet cities should the Russians attack.

The third element is related to the brutalities of the Soviet system and the hardships suffered by Jews wanting to emigrate to Israel. Again Jackson is the most publicized agent. The concern is deeply felt and widespread with the persecution of Alexander Solzhenitsyn and the suffering of Jews denied the right to leave exerting a strong appeal to the American conscience.

BUT AS Kissinger has said, the United States cannot require that the Soviet Union change its system of government, however repugnant that system may be, in return for trade and arms agreements.

A melancholy illustration was the fate of Paul H. Nitze, currently serving as a member of the SALT delegation. He was asked by Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger to be Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs, in effect the Pentagon's State Department.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

I am told that it is a sin to go to the movies. So I am not allowed to go, even to G-rated films. What do you think? P.W.

When you define a movie in mechanical, nonmoral terms, it is simply a series of photographic images, run in rapid succession and projected on a screen. Inherently then, movies, like books are neither good nor bad. They are an effective medium of communication, which can be employed for good or bad purposes.

Perhaps your parents feel that in the theater, you meet the wrong kind of person, and hence it is a practice to be shunned. I rather suspect, however, their objection to the whole matter arises from the prevalence today of films that are banal, that is, of no consequence, and corruptive, that is, they adversely affect the morals of the viewers.

It's no secret that the film industry panders to man's baser desires. We'd never have the endless movies on violence, perverted sex, etc., unless that were the case.

Sometimes even in a theater showing a G-rated movie, a preview of the next film can shock even the average person. So it's just hard to get away from that aspect of films which degrade more than entertain.

The Scripture does tell us to think on good things (Philippians 4:8), and to avoid even the appearance of evil (1 Thessalonians 5:22). As long as you are underage you must obey your parents' wishes. Later, choose for yourself.

A Devotion For Today . .

I lift up my eyes to the hills. From whence does my help come? (Psalm 121:1)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, may we learn to ask for help as we offer our prayers to You. In the name of Jesus, who often prayed to You and taught us to pray. Amen.

Energy Crisis Nagging Irritation In Suburbs

Editor's Note: Has the energy crisis left an imprint on American life? Associated Press reporters have talked with government leaders, social scientists and the man on the street to get a preliminary reading on this question.

Associated Press Writer

The energy crisis—initially a threat to suburban mobility—now is more a nagging irritation in most American suburbs. It's something to worry about along with food prices and school taxes and maybe politics.

The gasoline lines have vanished, and you might even get your windshield washed again. The economic impact was not overwhelming, except for those who lost jobs or live in all-electric homes.

DOWN THE ROAD
But something has changed, says the residents of suburbia. And planners and builders see more changes down the road.

Associated Press reporters recently visited a cross-section of suburban communities from affluent Wellesley, west of Boston, to middle-class Glendale, north of Los Angeles. They talked to people in supermarkets, service stations, city halls and on the streets.

In addition to a widespread cynicism, about the whole thing, they found a few tangible changes produced by the energy crisis:

—Most people are driving less and many say they will keep it down. "I think my husband likes the lower gas bills," said Mrs. Lyle Holmes, a Wellesley, Mass., housewife.

—Gasoline shortages have coaxed people aboard mass transit. Commuter buses and trains enjoy a new found popularity. The cry now is for better service in the suburbs themselves. No one knows if it will last.

STAYING HOME
—People are staying closer to home. Weekend jaunts are no longer a presumption and some people even think twice about going across town.

Many suburban residents relate the energy crisis to larger problems challenging their lifestyle.

Rose Merisko pushed her shopping cart down a supermarket aisle in West Milford, Pa., a blue collar suburb 20 minutes driving time from Pittsburgh.

"Everytime I shop, prices have jumped. Why, they raise them right before my eyes."

"And it seems that this energy crisis is the same old story. Everyone wants to get their pockets full without worrying about the little man. Pretty soon we're going to have nothing but the rich and the poor and no middle class."

The University of Pittsburgh's Center for Urban Research recently studied response to the energy crisis in the Pittsburgh area. Two-thirds of those surveyed lived in suburbs. Most were white, married and at least high school graduates.

LESS ON SUNDAYS
Over 40 per cent said they drive less on Sundays and about the same number visit relatives and friends less often

now. About 25 per cent go out to restaurants less frequently and there was a marked decline of interest in buying new cars.

Beyond that, 82 per cent were dissatisfied with the general conditions in America today. And 55 per cent said life would be no better in 1976.

"First we have Watergate, then the meat crisis and the wheat crisis and now the energy crisis. The people are telling us that they can't put up with all these different things," said Dr. Jiri Nehnevajsa, director of the Urban Research Center.

PLEASURE TRIPS
In the long run, say planners and builders, the energy crisis will move people closer to where they work. They talk of redevelopment of the inner suburbs, a movement away from the fringe of the freeway systems. They also talk of condominiums and town houses as replacements for the single family home.

These trends, they emphasized, were there before the Arabs ever thought of an oil embargo. The energy crisis has simply added momentum.

"Developments will still be spread out, but there is a trend to move a little closer in," said F. R. Clancy, a Phoenix, Ariz., land developer.

The effects of the energy crisis are clearly visible in the Phoenix area, a 1,000-square-mile desert sprawl almost totally dependent on the automobile.

A $4,000 trailer sits in front of Richard Morrison's home in Tempe, Ariz., a middle-class community 30 minutes from Phoenix. "We don't use it too much these days," said Mrs. Morrison.

Helen Everhart, another Tempe resident, said her driving has been reduced to essentials. "Pleasure trips are out and I shop less often," she said.

Heiler, 45, has 894 steers fattening for market in feedlots on his 360-acre farm near Melvin in Northwest Iowa.

He said he'd be glad to sell his steers to the President at the same price he paid for them in South Dakota last fall: 56 cents a hundredweight.

Heiler said Wednesday that the price of steers was down to 39 cents per 100 pounds and he's making the offer in response to Nixon's recent remark that "farmers never had it so good."

The President is wrong, Heiler said.

"If this thing doesn't straighten out, I could be looking for a job," he said.

"I'm not the only one going broke. There are 10 or 11 of my neighbors in the same boat. Some are feeding 1,200 to 1,500 head. That means we'll take a combined loss of about $1.5 million."

Heiler, who also raises corn and soybeans, said the farmers will have a tough time buying cattle the next time around, adding, "One of our best bankers in the area says he doesn't know how the good feeders can get loans. Their collateral is gone."

Heiler's steers averaged 720 pounds each last fall when he bought them for $324,172. They now weigh about 1,150 pounds each, bringing their combined value to $523,776 at 56 cents per hundred pounds.

However, Heiler said, if the President were to accept his offer and buy the cattle, he would also have to spend another $160 apiece to pay for the corn and protein needed to fatten them to a marketable 1,200 pounds.

There would also be $44,000 for 2,000 tons of corn silage the steers have consumed, a $1,500 veterinary bill and $5,600 for trucking the animals from South Dakota and then to market in May.

The idea of offering to sell the cattle to President Nixon "started with a bunch of us sitting around joking about poor old Nixon facing the problem of having to either resign or be impeached," Heiler said.

Offers To Sell His Cattle To President

MELVIN, Iowa (AP) — Lin Heiler says he'll lose more than $100,000 on his beef cattle this year because of a plunging market, and he's got an offer he hopes President Nixon won't refuse.
