KILL MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN

Arab Suicide Attack

QIRYAT SHMONAH, Israel (AP) — Three Arab terrorists sneaked across the Lebanese border into this little Israeli town today, killed 18 men, women and children and then blew themselves up as Israeli troops stormed the apartment building where they were hiding, senior police officers said.

SEIZE SCHOOL
"They were even armed with rocket-propelled grenades and they were throwing children from the top floor of the building," said an officer in a bullet-proof vest, standing outside the scarred and ransacked apartment block.

The Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command, a splinter Palestinian group, telephoned news agencies in Beirut and claimed responsibility for the "suicide attack" on Qiryat Shmonah. It said the purpose of the raid was to gain the release of 100 guerrillas from Israeli prisons.

Three more guerrilla infiltrators seized a school in the mountainside frontier settlement. It was empty for the Passover holidays and the guerrillas abandoned the building and escaped, police said.

COSTLY RAID
Senior military sources said the bodies of men, women and children found in the apartment house brought the death toll to 18 with 16 wounded. The state radio said eight children, eight adults and two soldiers died in the most costly guerrilla raid inside Israel since the Tel Aviv airport massacre of May 1972, which took 26 lives.

The Arabs first seized control of an empty school and then moved to the apartment building. The state radio said they fired submachine guns and threw grenades into the apartments as they shot their way up to the fourth floor in a trail of blood.

Israeli troops and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan rushed to the mountainside town, and just over four hours after the raid began a military source said, "It is all over." Heavy explosions shook the building as the Israeli troops stormed it.

The bodies of Israeli civilians were found in the doorways of their apartments and children's bullet-torn corpses lay on the stairway of the building, the radio said.

EXPLODED
The guerrillas were carrying explosive charges with their Russian-made assault rifles, and the room where they barricaded themselves exploded when the Israelis opened fire and rushed the building, the radio said. The blasted bodies of the three guerrillas were found inside.

The group's command in Lebanon said, "Our men carried out their instructions. They set off explosive belts they wore for the operation when the enemy tried to storm the building they were holding. They died along with their hostages."

The group, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine General Command, earlier demanded the release of 100 guerrillas from Israeli prisons.

A KISS FOR NIXON — Richard M. Nixon is embraced by an exuberant woman at Tri-City Airport near Saginaw, Mich., Wednesday at the conclusion of his motorcade tour of Michigan's "Thumb" area. Mr. Nixon was invited to Michigan by James Sparling who is running for the 8th congressional seat.

Nixon's Whirlwind Trip In Michigan

Segregated Prisons

AUSTIN (AP) — More than half the 17,000 inmates of the Texas prison system are illegally segregated along racial or ethnic lines, a legislative staff report says.

The report was submitted to the Joint Committee on Prison Reform, which is investigating conditions in the Texas Department of Corrections.

John Albach, author of the report, said the findings are based chiefly on inmate housing data furnished by the department three months ago in a civil rights suit still pending in a Houston federal court.

Prison system director Jim Estelle said through a spokesman he would not comment because he had not seen the report. Albach said he sent Estelle a copy several weeks ago.

While each of the system's 15 units is racially mixed, 10 of them house more than half their inmates in segregated blocks of cells, the report said. Albach said he labeled a living unit segregated only if it did not contain Anglo, black and Mexican-American inmates.

"If a particular unit had any mix of the three, no matter how disproportionate, I indicated that the unit was integrated," Albach said.

He said the Ramsey II unit south of Houston is 100 per cent segregated, and the Central, Clemens, Darrington, Jester 1 and Ferguson units are 82 to 97 per cent segregated.

"In a typical situation where segregation existed in a particular wing, the wing would either be all black or would be all white and Mexican American," the report said.

Albach noted that the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1968 that racial and ethnic segregation in prisons was unconstitutional.

BAD AXE, Mich. (AP) — President Nixon's whirlwind trip through rural Michigan revealed considerable anti-Nixon feeling beneath a friendly, respectful welcome.

But there was little evidence it will affect next Tuesday's special congressional election.

State Republican Chairman William McLaughlin was the only major figure in either party to say that Nixon's Wednesday visit could be very decisive in the contest between Republican James Sparling and Democrat J. Robert Traxler.

After speaking to an enthusiastic group of 5,000 at Tri-City Airport between the 6th District's population centers of Saginaw and Bay City, Nixon flew here by helicopter for a 57-mile motorcade through solidly Republican towns and hamlets in an area known, for its shape, as Michigan's Thumb.

Though his reception was generally friendly, there were signs at many stops urging his impeachment. Speeches in Bad Axe, Cass City and Sandusky drew only mild applause, possibly because few could hear.

But there were many who said they still support the President, who carried the area overwhelmingly in 1972.

"I don't think he's as bad as they all try to let on," said John Graham in Cass City. "He has done an awful lot of good for our country."

McLaughlin, eager for a GOP victory after the loss Feb. 18 of Vice President Gerald R. Ford's old Grand Rapids seat, said Nixon's visit will have "a very dramatic effect on this campaign. If we win, there's no doubt in my mind that the President has turned the tide."

Though Sparling insisted Nixon hadn't come to campaign for him, the President praised Sparling's work as a former White House liaison man.

Sparling has de-emphasized that point, while Traxler has stressed it.

In his arrival speech Nixon sharply criticized the Democratic-controlled Congress for failing to act on three of his energy proposals: deregulation of natural gas, easing of the auto emissions standards and expanded use of coal.

IMPEACHMENT

'It's A Little Late To Make A Deal'

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee today ordered President Nixon to turn over by April 25 all tapes and other materials requested by the committee for its impeachment inquiry.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House today made a last-minute offer to provide some of the tapes requested by the House Judiciary Committee for its impeachment inquiry, but it appeared to come too late to had off a subpoena for all the tapes requested.

"It's a little late to make a deal," said Rep. Robert Kastenmeier, D-Wis., after committee counsel John Doar told of a last-minute telephone call from President Nixon's counsel.

COVER-UP

Doar said James St. Clair said he would be willing to give the committee within the next few days a number of specific conversations between President Nixon and his chief aides that the committee believes relate to the Watergate cover-up.

However, St. Clair's offer did not cover a number of other tapes the committee asked for.

As soon as Doar completed his discussion of St. Clair's offer, he called a resolution authorizing the committee to issue a subpoena for everything covered by the request was put before the committee. It appeared to have solid support of the

DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY

Doar said that in his talk with St. Clair the White House lawyer did not indicate whether Nixon would comply with a subpoena.

CONFRONTATION

The confrontation that has been building since Feb. 25 when the request was made, became all but certain Wednesday after the White House said it would not decide until after April 22 what it would give to the committee.

The White House position, spelled out in a letter from James D. S. Clair, President Nixon's counsel, antagonized committee members of both parties and a wide segment of the House.

OFFENSIVE

"I think it was offensive to the House," said Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., the senior Republican on the committee.

"It was insulting in every paragraph," said Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., a committee

MEMBER

After a party caucus Wednesday to consider the letter, the Republican members launched a last-ditch effort to persuade the White House to comply at least in part with the committee's request.

"It looks as if the committee will issue a subpoena if the White House will not yield," said Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill.

House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes said he hoped the committee would make another request for the tapes before issuing a subpoena. "Mr. St. Clair would have to reconsider and there might be some change in his answer," Rhodes said.

BEST COURSE

But most committee members said they thought the committee had been patient long enough and had no alternative now but to subpoena the tapes, which cover conversations between Nixon and his aides that the committee thinks relate to the Watergate break-in and cover-up.

Even among those who support issuance of a subpoena, however, there is concern over the consequences if Nixon refuses to honor it.

The committee, claiming its authority from the Constitution to subpoena evidence, is determined to avoid turning to the courts for enforcement.

Some members feel the best course of action would be to let an unanswered subpoena become an article of impeachment when the committee finally makes its recommendation to the House.

Burleson Speaker At Graduation

Congressman Omar Burleson has accepted an invitation to be the speaker at the commencement of Howard College, Dr. Thomas Salter, president, announced today.

Rep. Burleson will speak at the ceremonies in the college auditorium at 10 a.m. May 10. This will mark the first time that an official of this high rank has been the speaker for the commencement.

AFTER SENTENCING — Herbert L. Porter walks with his arm around his wife Carol as they leave U.S. District Court in Washington today. Porter, a former White House aide, was sentenced to serve 30 days in a federal correctional institution for lying to the FBI in its Watergate investigation.

Ex-Nixon Aide Is Sentenced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert L. Porter, who handled the surrogate speakers program in President Nixon's 1972 reelection campaign, was sentenced today to serve 30 days in a federal correctional institution for lying to the FBI in its Watergate investigation.

WRIST SLAP

Porter, who will be 36 on Saturday, is the fourth former White House aide who has been sentenced to prison but the sentence was the lightest of any.

Before joining the Nixon reelection committee in May 1971, Porter worked briefly in the office of Herbert G. Klein, former White House director of communications.

The charge carried a maximum five years in prison and a $10,000 fine but a lawyer from the office of special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski said Porter's involvement in the Watergate cover-up was "less in degree than others who pleaded guilty to felony charges."

Richard Ben-Veniste an assistant special prosecutor, told Judge William B. Bryant that a misdemeanor charge would have been filed in the case had there been statutes to provide for it.

Porter, who pleaded guilty on Jan. 28, was sentenced to five to 15 months with all but 30 days of the sentence suspended by Bryant.

Porter must report to U.S. marshals in Los Angeles on April 22 to begin serving the sentence at the minimum security institution at Lompoc, Calif.

HARD LESSON

Porter's wife, Carol, was in the spectators seats and friends on either side held her hand as the judge pronounced sentence. She broke into tears when the judge said 30 days.

Outside the courthouse, Porter called the sentence "very, very fair." He seemed relieved that the wait was over.

Porter told the judge about "the sorrow this brought to my wife, my children, and my friends."

Considering Ways To Cut U.S. Troops In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger says the Pentagon is considering possible ways to cut back the number of U.S. support troops in Europe without reducing the U.S. combat posture.

Schlesinger told reporters Wednesday "the prognosis is far more favorable than it has been in the recent past" for continued U.S. political support for keeping American troops stationed in Europe.

"We are examining within the department the possibility of reducing certain support elements in Europe, but no reduction whatsoever of our combat capabilities," the defense secretary said.

Schlesinger voiced the comments just before a closed meeting with Annemarie Renger, president of the West German parliament and seven other members of the parliament.

He again stressed that NATO allies must be willing to assume their own full share in defending Europe.

He did not indicate how large a cutback in support troops was being considered.

The United States has a total of some 300,000 military men in the European area, about 214,000 of them in Germany.

The World At - A - Glance

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "This defendant will eventually kill someone," says a 1970 prosecutor's report on Donald David DeFreeze, DeFreeze, 30, an escaped convict, is believed to be the mysterious "Cinque," voice of the Symbionese Liberation Army which kidnaped newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst Feb. 4. The court records of DeFreeze's 1970 Los Angeles robbery-assault trial reveal that he was viewed as a potential killer by his prosecutor and was seen by the judge as a man in need of "a lot of psychiatric treatment."

NEW YORK (AP) — Together, Jews and Christians ate the bitter herbs of horseradish symbolizing a remembered plight and tasted the green parsley dipped in salt water signifying thanksgiving and tears. "We were slaves in Egypt, and the Lord our God delivered us with a mighty hand," they recited in unison. The occasion was a joint Jewish-Presbyterian observance Wednesday night of the seder, the ceremonial Passover meal, at Manhattan's Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. Sharing the observance points up that "we are brothers and sisters in the family of God," said Rabbi Marc Tanen-

PHNOM PENH (AP) — The Khmer Rouge threatened today to hit Phnom Penh with rockets Saturday and Sunday as the Cambodians celebrate Chol Chhnam, their new year. The insurgents distributed leaflets in the capital warning residents of the southern suburbs that about 100 missiles would be fired into their area, which was heavily bombarded in February. The government responded to the leaflets with artillery attacks on Khmer Rouge areas northeast and southeast of the city.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spurred by tornadoes that devastated parts of the South and Midwest, the Senate has passed a bill broadening federal disaster relief. The House, however, may not act on the legislation until returning from its Easter recess April 22. The Senate unanimously passed the bill after Sen. Quentin Burdick, D-N.D., staved off several attempts to amend the measure. He warned that the administration might withdraw its support of the bill if it is burdened by amendments to which it objects.

Drums, Loud Music Worry Sleepers

A few Big Spring citizens were having trouble sleeping Wednesday night.

At 1:33 a.m., a citizen on Walnut Street called police to object to a neighbor practicing his drums. It was suggested the drummer pick another hour for his practice session, which he did.

Then at 2:51 a.m., somebody in the OK Trailer Park objected to loud music and the police again were dispatched to quiet the area.

Campaign Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — Operating under a tight limit on debate but with a batch of amendments still to be voted on, the Senate is striving to complete action on a campaign reform bill.

The first amendment at today's session would require that income tax returns of all members of Congress be audited annually just as President Nixon's recently were.

The amendment, by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., provides that "an intensive inspection and audit" be conducted by the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

This is the panel which held that Nixon owed $476,431 in additional taxes.

Tower brought up his amendment Wednesday night amid signs of mounting impatience over further delay in completing Senate action on the bill, which includes controversial provisions for public financing of federal election campaigns.

A two-thirds majority was obtained Tuesday to apply the Senate's anti-filibuster rule, limiting each senator's speaking time to one hour. However, this does not preclude bringing up amendments for a vote.

One amendment adopted Wednesday tightened the bill's limitations on political contributions.

The amendment by Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, provides that an individual may not contribute more than $3,000 and an organization not more than $6,000 to a candidate's entire campaign.

The bill would have permitted contributions of these amounts to a candidate's primary, run-off and general election campaigns.

Bentsen Takes Legal Steps To Run For The Presidency

EDITOR'S NOTE: With the 1974 presidential year still far away, the jockeying for the Democratic nomination is muted. But one Texas Democrat has started his own quite campaign.

By JIM BARLOW
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Another Texas Democrat, in some ways like the late Lyndon B. Johnson but sharply different in others, frankly says he is a presidential hopeful.

Yet it's too early for a firm bid, says Sen. Lloyd Bentsen. A lot can happen in the next year, he notes, although he already has taken the legal steps to run.

Elected to office just three years ago, Bentsen, like the late President Johnson, is a solid member of the Texas Democratic establishment and was a protégé of the late Sam Rayburn, the Texan who reigned as speaker of the U.S. House for 17 years.

'I'M A BENTSEN FAN'
Also like Johnson, Bentsen has earned the respect of Senate leaders.

"I'm a Bentsen fan," says Mike Mansfield, the Senate majority leader. "He is a man I forsee as a national figure."

But while Johnson came from a background of genteel poverty, Bentsen's family is wealthy. His father is one of the larger landowners in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Bentsen, 52, with his handsome features, elegant tailoring and air of sophistication, doesn't conform to the stereotypical Texan, a role Johnson slipped into easily.

HE'S INTERESTED
Bentsen served in the U.S. House from 1948 to 1954, then retired from politics, moved to Houston and started what are now highly successful banking and insurance businesses. He resigned from such outside activities when elected to the Senate in 1970.

While admitting that he's interested in the presidency, Bentsen keeps to tradition by ducking a direct commitment.

"How can I sit here and say—a fellow who has a two per cent name recognition in the polls—that I've decided to run for the presidency," Bentsen said in an interview at his Houston office.

But conforming to the 1972 campaign reform law, Bentsen has filed financial reports with U.S. Controller Elmer B. Staats as a potential Democratic presidential candidate while saying that any firm decision is a year away.

'SO WHAT DO I DO?'
"So what do I do?" he asks. "I've got a job, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee. I'm going to work very hard at it. I'm going to get around those states, try to help those fellows raise funds. If they want me to campaign for them, I'll be there."

"Then at the end of the year, we'll take a look," he says.

"A lot can happen in a year to would-be candidates," Bentsen added. "Who would have thought Richard Nixon a year ago would be in the position he is in today. Who would have guessed that Vice President Agnew would have been forced to resign, indicted and convicted of a felony. I tell you that '76 is light years away politically."

Yet, Bentsen is gaining national recognition with a heavy speech schedule, some in states where his duties as head of the Senate Democratic election campaign would not take him.

IN THE MIDDLE
Since the first of the year he has placed his $3.6 million personal holdings in a blind trust to stop any questions of conflict of interest. A heavily attended fund-raising dinner last year in Houston brought in $365,694 which he promptly registered as being in his presidential campaign fund—a sum second highest to the $469,442 U.S. Sen. George McGovern has left over from his 1972 effort.

In the 1970 Texas Democratic primary, Bentsen knocked out the longtime Texas Senator, Ralph Yarborough, the favorite of liberals, in a bruising campaign.

Bentsen then rallied most segments of the party to defeat George Bush, now chairman of the Republican National Committee, in the general election.

Bentsen says he'd have to call himself a moderate. "The conservative organizations and the liberal organizations rate me acceptable or unacceptable about the same degree."

NEIGHBORS
He says he thinks the Democratic party and the nation are ready for his brand of "bringing us together" in the middle.

Bentsen has a good relationship with Texas' organized labor, and also has made peace with many liberal leaders.

One of those, Mrs. Billie Carr, says Bentsen "has fairly good relations" with her group.

"But there's no question in anyone's mind that liberal's here don't consider him their candidate for President," she said.

Any discussion about Bentsen presidential hopes usually comes around to ex-Texas Democratic governor and now Republican John Connally, who nurses similar ambitions.

The two are neighbors in Houston and longtime friends. Connally supported Bentsen in 1970. Bentsen backed Connally when he first ran for governor in 1962 and claims to have given Connally his first political contribution.

FRIEND OF MINE
"I'm not going to talk about John," Bentsen says. "He's a friend of mine."

Mrs. Carr said Texas liberals do know where they stand on that choice. "John Connally? Our people could crawl to the polls to vote against a man like that."

Bentsen does have the solid backing of the regular Texas party forces, led by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who has proclaimed Bentsen "the man who should be the next president of the United States."

While he has his eye on the top, Bentsen says he wouldn't settle for second place.

GREATEST PLACE
Bentsen said he re-entered politics because he wants to serve and "the greatest place to serve your country is in the presidency."

He added, "I don't agree with those people who defy the presidency. I think that's a terrific mistake. I think there are several thousand men in this country quite capable of being president."

"I don't think when a fellow puts on the trappings of that office that all of a sudden becomes exceptional man."

'Voice' Dies
LA CRESCENTA, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Braulio Perez Marcio, 70, known for three decades for his "La Voz De La Esperanza" (Voice of Hope) radio religious broadcasts to 500 stations around the world, died Monday. He was heard throughout Latin America and Spain and in Spanish-language stations in the United States.

Kite Season Here Again About Over, Say Dealers

Though many kites of all descriptions seem to dot the Big Spring sky, most variety store managers agree the kite-buying season is just about over. That is the case, even though the winds are still restless.

"February and March was really the season. Now I'm out of kites. Bat kites were real popular. Now, all the toys are selling. But it's hard to tell what the kids want. It all depends," said the manager of one store.

"We're doing all right with kites. I don't have very many left, and I think the season's over. The kids' interest will go to something else, probably frisbees and swim goods. Frisbees are already selling well. Baseball and other interests are replacing the kids' interest in kites," added James Shaw, the manager of Wacker's.

Another matter involved is Easter. The proverbial Easter egg and Easter bunny — often chocolate versions — have the children's buying power now.

"We don't have any kites, not enough sales. But Easter baskets, Easter novelties and such are moving fairly well," Miss Nettie Kennedy, McCorory's manager, said.

"We're not selling anything but Easter Novelties now to the kids," Glen Kenney, co-manager of Highland South's TG&Y, said.

"There wasn't much of a kite season this year. It was dead."

I think the season was around the first of March. We sell a few frisbees, but don't look for a frisbee season. That's a year-round staple sales are a little better in the summer. Outdoor plastic toys, sand pails, balls and such kick off after Easter along with swim goods," Kenney added.

But at least one store is still selling kites briskly.

"Good sale last year, and it is again this year. Plastic bat kites especially. Box, regular, all types of kites are selling. This is the season for them. If you can just get it (your kite) away from the sand, you've got it made," said Carroll Hagle, assistant manager of TG&Y at College Park.

Crowder Will Go To Rusk

SNYDER — A 136th District Court jury here ruled that 62-year-old farmer Elton Crowder is insane after hearing defense testimony.

Monday was to have been the opening day for Crowder's trial for murder with malice in connection with the shooting death in December, 1973, of Charles Allen Grice 56, owner of the Dunn Gin. Grice was shot to death outside his office.

Judge Holt granted a motion by defense attorney Dan Barber to try Crowder on a present issue of sanity before the jury. Barber presented testimony based on the findings of two psychiatrists that Crowder is insane and the judge submitted two charges to the jury: first to determine if the defendant was sane and second whether he requires hospitalization.

The jury found him insane and requiring hospitalization and Judge Holt said papers would be prepared shortly to commit Crowder to Rusk State Hospital for the criminally insane.

Calling All Home Makers

Brought To You
By Ted Hatfield
USE FURNITURE
FOR STORAGE

No home ever seems to have enough storage — but you can do something about it.

You can use various furniture pieces for storage and thereby not only add the necessary convenience to your home with storage pieces that are nice to look at.

For instance, the right room divider that has drawers or compartments could be used between a living room and dining room — and could be used to store things for both rooms.

And, you can consider any one of a number of different kinds of beautiful cabinets that give you shelves or drawers, such as credenzas, breakfronts, buffets, hutches, and so many more. Then, as just one more example, there are coffee and end tables that have doors and storage space underneath. So many of these pieces are both "storage-full" and beautiful.

Today's furniture manufacturers are making more and more things that combine good looks with efficient use to help you solve the ever-present storage problem.

And, whatever your furnishing needs are, stop in here and let us show you a wonderful selection.

Lot Of Sense

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You're the best in your field, but every now and then even you make a mistake. Example...: Woman engaged to man who wants to buy a farm. She refuses to live on farm. He gives in. They live 28 years in city.

Now, with retirement approaching, he wants to buy a modest 12 acres, where he can (presumably) raise a little garden, plant a few fruit trees, and perhaps keep a few chickens. He wants to spend his latter years in healthy, happy, productive activity; a most commendable and wholesome idea certainly.

The wife had her way for 28 years. Yet you tell her, "Don't give an inch or you'll wind up with 12 acres!"

Doesn't the husband have any rights? I say he should buy his little retirement plot and move on it, and if she doesn't want to go along — good riddance!

DON BUCK: GIRARD, KAS.

DEAR DON: When you put it that way, I'll have to admit you make a lot of sense, so after thinking it over, I surrender, dear.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest (and envy) the letter from the woman whose husband wanted to share her with his friends. I should be so lucky.

Twelve years ago I married a man who was so effectively taught in his childhood that sex was dirty, that after 12 years of marriage he still thinks sex is sinful.

Need I tell you what kind of a bed partner he has been? I have had a lot of time to think about it, and if I had to choose between promiscuity and abstinence, believe me, I'd choose promiscuity.

DOING WITHOUT IN GAINESVILLE

DEAR DOING: I don't "envy" you, either. But remember, "promiscuity" is no pass to paradise — if you can believe my mail. And I do.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is almost perfect. We've been married for three years and get along fine, but there is one problem. When we are with people Norton is very quiet. I am forever making up excuses for him, like, "Oh, Norton is tired tonight," or, "Norton isn't feeling very well."

When he and I are alone together he is fine, but when we're in company, he claims up. People keep asking me if he's mad.

Have you any suggestions for him? Or for me?

NORTON'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Tell Norton that silence is sometimes mistaken for unfriendliness, so to please try to be more sociable. But don't nag him about it. He's probably shy, and too much pushing on your part will make him even more self-conscious.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HEARTBROKEN PARENTS: From your letter I would say that you did your best. Now, quit punishing yourselves. Some parents "train up a child in the way he should go," and out of sheer spite and rebellion, the child deliberately departs from it.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 62700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $2 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212 for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Donations Given By Mu Zetas

A donation to "Dollars for Danny," a Beta Sigma Phi state project, was made by Mu Zeta Chapter Monday during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Billy King, 1108 Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Bill Schraeder was cohostess.

The chapter voted for the Bluebonnet Youth Ranch as the 1974-75 state project. The ranch provides a home for neglected children.

The Founder's Day banquet plans were finalized, with the chapter to be in charge of programs and name tags. The event will be held at Big Spring Country Club.

The program, presented by Mrs. David Smith and Mrs. Coy Mitchell, was on "Processes of Thought." They said the three categories of thought are intelligence, memory and environmental condition, while the three types of thinking are autistic, creative and realistic.

The next meeting will be April 22 when the Ritual of Jewels will be conducted for Mrs. Gary Tyler. At that meeting, members are to bring baked goods for Big Spring State Hospital. The next social meeting will be April 27.

Miss Wilrena Richburg, a former member, was a guest, and hostesses were members of the foundations committee, Mrs. Cass Hill,

Weather, Holidays Don't Cut Club Attendance Much

By DAVID CARREN
 This spring's usual spate of sand storms and the Easter holiday season have affected the attendance of some local organizations in meetings and special events.
 "Attendance is off about 15 per cent. It usually falls off in summer. It's starting early now. I don't have any idea why," said Henry Thames, president of the Kiwanis Club.
 Thames is hopeful his group's celebration of its 45th anniversary next week will brighten the picture.
 "The 16th is the anniversary, and we'll honor it on the 18th at a regular meeting. The Key Club will be present with awards they won recently, and we may have district level Kiwanis officials there," he added.

TIME OF THE YEAR
 "It has been off a little bit. It's just that time of year. The weather's not too good, and there's some sickness, the usual things, this time of year. About 82 per cent of our members show up for meeting as opposed to the usual 86 per cent. We're better than average for this district," said Ralph Gossett, president of the Rotary Club.
 Mrs. Gerri Atwell, the Heritage Museum curator, doesn't attribute uneven attendance to any particular cause.
 "We had 200 visitors Monday and two Tuesday morning. You just can't tell. Maybe if we'd been open Sunday, the sand storms definitely would have hurt us. But West Texans can survive and are used to sand storms. If they want to see something, they go see it regardless of what. See how many ignore storm warnings?" she said.

"Attendance has been down lately. The weather is a good reason. We have about 20 active members, or test couples. Our old cars get sort of drafty," added Mrs. Don Frazier, secretary of the Big Spring Antique Auto Club.
 Max Green, president of the American Business Club, sees another, entirely different reason from sickness, sand storms or spring vacations cutting into his organization's attendance.
 "It's down, I think, because of business rather than anything else. The business climate in Big Spring is one of the best in years. Our members have to work, and some of them have some help problems. This is my opinion. Our attendance committee has been telephoning and doing other things to help attendance. We also have a Jack the Rabbit drawing each meeting. If a member's name is drawn, and he's not there, he has to take care of the rabbit for a full week. It's helped attendance some," he said.

Other local organizations and clubs haven't been badly affected by sand, business sickness or Easter.
 "It's (attendance) just about average now. We don't expect anything unusual (in increases or drops in attendance). This holiday season may cut down on attendance with spring vacations, but we don't anticipate anything out of the ordinary," said Ralph Beistle, president of the Coahoma Lion's Club.
 "I don't think they (sand storms, etc.) have affected our attendance. It's a little better than normal. I don't anticipate any drop. I hope I'm right. You never can tell about attendance, and there's little you can blame it on when it does drop off."

ARC Seeks Storm Funds
 Anyone wishing to help victims of the recent tornadoes in the Midwest can send checks or money orders to the American Red Cross, Box 1970, Big Spring.
 Red Cross officials state that thousands of Red Cross volunteers and disaster staff are at work assisting the injured and homeless.
 Initial reports indicated extensive Red Cross relief efforts in the aftermath of the more than 100 tornadoes reported this spring.
 Hardest-hit communities included Louisville, Kentucky; Cincinnati and Xenia, Ohio; and Nashville and Cleveland, Tenn.
 Chapters across the country are accepting contributions for tornado relief. They report that they do not need clothing, but funds are desperately needed.
 To highlight the contributions, the period of May 6-12 has been designated as the first annual youth service programs "Be Somebody" week.

Certain special events and holidays can cut it down," said R. E. Robbins, secretary of the Big Spring Shrine Club.
 "Our attendance has been pretty good lately, and we have nothing special planned (to encourage participation). We'll have a district convention in May, but this has nothing to do with attendance. We have a good percentage of our members showing up for meetings," said John F. Smith, president of the Downtown Lion's Club.
 Fred Simpson, president of the Jaycees, said membership has also fallen off in his organization's last two meetings for all of the usual reasons.

 "But our outlook is positive. Our members are just tired after the Rattlesnake Round Up. About 50-60 per cent of them come to our luncheons and that's outstanding. Our club has also picked up 35-40 members in the last few months. A few months ago, our membership had fallen way down due to lack of interest. But we had a membership drive, and we involve all of the members in all our projects, stimulating interest," he added.

Taxi Fares Hike Okayed

DALLAS (AP) — The city council has approved a 16 per cent hike in taxi fares after being assured the rate increase would help improve cab service in Dallas.

The new rates, which go into effect May 1, would hike fares from 50c to 60c per mile plus a switch in start-up charges from 50c for the first fifth mile to 65c for the first sixth mile.

Yellow Cab representatives told the city council here their firm has been losing as much as $30,000 per month during the past year.

They blamed increasing maintenance costs and the problem of finding drivers for the bleak financial picture.

Spring Labor Offensive Hits Peak

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese labor's annual "shunto," its spring wage offensive, reached its peak today with millions of workers on a one-to-five-day strike affecting more than half the nation's 108 million people.

Bob Bullock Will Visit

Former Secretary of State Bob Bullock, candidate for State Comptroller, will bring his campaign to Big Spring Friday, April 12th.

While in Big Spring, Bullock is scheduled to meet with local supporters and members of the press.

Bullock 44, received his bachelor's degree in management and economics from Texas Tech University in 1955 and earned his law degree in 1958 from Baylor University School of Law.

His extensive experience in government includes two terms as a member of the Texas House of Representatives; a year as Chief of the Anti-Trust and Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office; and several years as Chief Legal Counsel for the Governor of Texas.

Most noteworthy however, is Bullock's tenure as Secretary of State of Texas, an office in which he perhaps best demonstrated his executive and administrative ability. There, he helped clean up campaign financing in Texas and developed a fair, workable and economical election system, while at the same time effectively carrying out every other responsibility of the office.

After serving as Secretary of State for 16 months, Bullock entered into the private practice of law. He is a veteran of the Korean Conflict and resides in Austin with his wife and two children.

It was the closest thing to a general strike in Japan's history.

The workers struck the railroads, subways, buses, taxis, airlines and commercial shipping.

GARGAGE

Also hit were schools; telegraph, government and post offices; municipal garbage collection; forestry preserves; the government printing agency and the mint.

The nationwide labor movement is seeking wage hikes of 30 to 35 per cent to counter the soaring cost of living, which rose 24 per cent last year under the pressure from the increase in oil prices.

Some industries have already given in. But Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka has refused to budge from an offer of an 18.7 per cent increase for government workers, including those on the national railway, and has also failed to satisfy the rail workers' demands for the legal right to strike. Tanaka proposed a two-year study of the right-to-strike question by a special cabinet council.

HOLIDAY

The transport strikes affected more than 40 million people, or two-thirds of the work force. Those who didn't stay home struggled to their offices and factories on foot, by bicycle, car pool or motorcycle.

The Education Ministry said about 15 million primary, middle and high school students — about 96 per cent of the total — got a holiday as the 500,000-member teachers' union went on strikes ranging from one to eight hours.

The 13,600-member Federation of Civil Aviation Workers, including 3,500 in foreign airlines, declared strikes of from two to 72 hours, causing delays in cargo handling and passenger services.

Florida Tech Sophomore Takes A Long Bike Ride

John Moore, 20, decided it would be an adventure to ride a bicycle from Orlando, Fla., to Seattle, Wash.

Thus far, it has been an adventure. He drove right into the West Texas sandstorms as he headed into Big Spring. He put his tent up in Comanche Trail Park and then Tuesday stopped at both Montgomery Ward and Hall's Bicycle Shop checking on his multi-speed bike which brought him this far since March 15.

He admitted that the dust was a welcome relief after driving through an all-day rain in Louisiana.

The youth is a sophomore at Florida Tech and took off this term to go bike riding. He has two sisters and a brother at home and tried to get the brother to go along for the ride "but he didn't want to, I guess."

Moore carries 40 pounds of equipment on the back of his bike and camps out along the way. He hopes to reach Seattle by the end of June.

So far, he's had no trouble except for four flat tires. "I'm getting good at fixing flats," he stated.

From Big Spring, he was headed for Hobbs, Roswell and Lincoln, N.M. When asked whether he plans to peddle home, he grinned and said, "No, I'm going to hop on a bus, put the bike on in shipment and go back the easy way."

Texan In Control Of Star-News, Parent Company

WASHINGTON (AP) — Control of the Washington Star-News and its parent company has been sold to Texas millionaire banker Joe L. Albritton, chairman of the board and president of the Houston Citizens Bank & Trust Co.

Albritton will become chief executive officer of Washington Star Communications, Inc., parent company of the newspaper. Washington Communications also owns television and radio stations in Washington, Charleston, S.C., and Lynchburg, Va., and the Washington Star Syndicate, Inc.

The sale must be approved by the directors of Washington Communications, stockholders and the Federal Communications Commission.

The Washington Post said Tuesday night it understood Albritton had purchased a one-third interest in the communications company and additional stock from some stockholders.

The Washington Star was founded in 1867 and has been run by members of three Washington families ever since. The Star merged with the Washington News in 1972.

The sale price was not learned at once.

New Texaco Plant At Port Arthur

NEW YORK (AP) — Texaco Inc. announced today plans to construct a $300 million ethylene plant next to its Port Arthur, Tex., refinery, the company's largest domestic manufacturing facility.

In addition to turning out one billion pounds of ethylene a year, the company said the plant also will manufacture propylene, butylenes, butadienes and other goods.

Texaco said the plant will provide chemicals basic to nearly all phases of the U.S. petrochemical industry, including production of fibers, plastics, rubber, detergents and other goods.

Texaco is a major manufacturer of aromatics, including benzene, toluene, solvents and cyclohexane.

Israel Faces Uncertainty In Wake Of Resignation

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel faced months of political uncertainty today in the wake of Premier Golda Meir's resignation, and there was no indication of the government that would emerge.

POLITICAL UPHEAVAL
Officials of Mrs. Meir's ruling Labor Alignment said she would stay on as head of a caretaker government until new elections, or until a replacement cabinet could be formed. Either one could take months.

The political upheaval and the fragility of a lame-duck government could weaken Israel's hands in the negotiations with Syria for a withdrawal of Israeli forces on the Golan Heights, political analysts suggested.

Worn out by increasing controversy over whether Defense Minister Moshe Dayan should share the blame for Israel's initial setbacks in the October war, Mrs. Meir, who will be 76 in three weeks, told the leaders of her party Wednesday night: "I can no longer bear the burden. I have reached the end of the road."

She said her resignation would go to President Ephraim Katzir after a cabinet meeting today.

It was the second time in 39 days that Mrs. Meir announced she was quitting, but this time it was generally believed that she meant it.

"Don't try to change my mind, it won't help," she told the party caucus, and complained about political rivals "who say I am only driven by lust for power."

PUBLIC FEELING
Noting the wave of dissent following the loss of more than 2,500 men in the October war, she warned: "We cannot ignore public feeling. The atmosphere created around the government has made it impossible to handle all the problems facing us."

A member of the immigrant Establishment that has dominated Israel since its birth in 1948, Mrs. Meir has led the government since 1969.

The future of Dayan, the one-time public idol, was unclear. The charge that he, Mrs. Meir and other Labor leaders were to blame because the Arab attack in October took the armed forces by surprise was the major factor in the setback the ruling party suffered in the general election Dec. 31.

President Katzir could designate a political leader to form a government, but Labor party leaders said new elections were inevitable.

Homosexuality Mail Referendum

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Psychiatric Association says a mail referendum of its membership has supported a move to remove homosexuality from its list of "mental disorders."

The group's board of trustees had ruled last December that homosexuality no longer should be listed as a mental disorder.

It urged that homosexuals be guaranteed the same civil rights as other citizens.

The association reported that according to referendum responses from about half of its 20,000 members, 58.6 per cent backed the board's decision, 37.8 per cent voted to revert to the old listing and 3.6 per cent abstained.

The board replaced the homosexuality category with a new one: "sexual orientation disturbance."

It said this applies "for individuals whose sexual interests are directed primarily towards people of the same sex and who are either disturbed by, in conflict with, or wish to change their sexual orientation."

Give Up Hope For Lives Of 11 After Explosion

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Coast Guard says it has given up hope for the lives of 11 persons missing after an oil tanker exploded and burned at its mooring on the Delaware River.

Included in the missing are a mother and her three daughters who were visiting the Greek registry tanker Elias when it erupted in a ball of flame late Tuesday.

One man is officially listed as dead and 26 others were either injured or treated for exposure. Most of the 26 leaped from the blazing vessel into frigid water.

A search for the missing was suspended Wednesday night. The wreckage, still resting near the mooring, is reportedly too hot to be entered. A search of the ship is planned for Saturday, the Coast Guard said.

The cause of the explosion which split the 650-foot vessel has not been determined.

Among the missing are the ship's captain, Andreas Antoniadis, who at the time of the blast was dining aboard with his cousin and her three daughters.

The missing cousin has been identified as Mrs. Martina Menitis, 50, of Baltimore. Her missing daughters are JoAnn, 18; Maria, 19; and Georgreen, 13.

The tanker was unloading crude oil at Atlantic Richfield Company's South Philadelphia terminal at the time of the blast. A spokesman for the firm said that 202,700 of the 216,000 barrels of oil had been unloaded.

Captains Named For Bulb Sale

The Annual Light Bulb Sale of the Downtown Lions Club has been scheduled for April 30, May 1-2.

Charles Forrest has been named general chairman of the effort and in turn has selected eight team captains and assigned members to teams.

For more than 25 years the club has sold packets of bulbs, using the net proceeds to finance its sight conservation and blind work, plus other humanitarian projects.

Increasing demands for assistance of school children and some adults who are unable to obtain needed eye glasses have wiped out the fund's reserve, Tom Henry, chairman of sight conservation, told the club recently, hence a successful sales campaign is imperative.

NEAR ANGELO Tornado watches kept broad

stretches of countryside on the alert much of the night. One of these, covering 33 counties in the east edge of the Texas Panhandle and adjacent parts of North Central Texas from Abilene to Gage, Okla., expired at 2 a.m.

Before the first alert expired, another went up for 47 counties in a 140-mile wide corridor from near San Angelo toward Oklahoma City. It remained in force for much of that sector until 7 a.m.

Near daylight, the front generating all the turbulence had pushed as far east as a line from northwest of Del Rio to Abilene and on into Oklahoma.

Wide bands of unusually severe thunderstorms preceded the frontal system, and showers fell in its wake.

Gusty south winds signaled the approach of the cooler air mass, shifting to the west in its wake. They were clocked as high as 48 miles per hour at Wichita Falls.

By early morning the heaviest thunderstorms raged in a wide band from near Junction through the Dallas-Fort Worth area and northward to around Ardmore, Okla.

Official observers blamed the unruly weather on warm and damp air billowing inland from the Gulf of Mexico being bumped aloft with dry and cooler air being shoved underneath—a situation they described as overrunning.

LUBBOCK — When Darold T. Barnum, professor of business administration at Texas Tech University, speaks to his Thursday night class, he is lecturing in the biggest classroom in West Texas.

Barnum's classroom stretches from Borger in the Texas Panhandle east to Wichita Falls and south to Odessa and includes the cities of Big Spring, Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, and Midland.

The professor doesn't need seven league hogs to reach all these cities in one evening. He instead uses modern electronic techniques to appear simultaneously in seven cities via video-tape recorded lessons and telephone conference call hooks.

The professor teaches a course in Problems in Management for graduate and undergraduate students throughout the area. His students primarily are city government employees interested in labor relations and collective bargaining. Jon Snider, municipal administrative assistant and James Campbell, director of public works, represent Big Spring.

"Barnum is a relatively new member of the faculty at Texas Tech University. A specialist in the area of labor relations, he brings expertise to the university in this highly topical subject," said D. M. McElroy, director of the Division of Continuing Education at Texas Tech. "Through the media of video tape and telephone hook-ups, he can reach in one semester audiences which otherwise would take eight semesters to service."

The course consists of 15 three-hour meetings on consecutive Thursdays in each of the participating cities. During each meeting, two video taped lessons are played and one hour is devoted to discussion, questions and answers.

EMBARRASSED BY MILK PROBE — Bill Tate, Sulphur Springs, Tex., dairyman, is embarrassed by allegations that the Associated Milk Producers, Inc., bribed to get milk prices raised by the Nixon Administration. "If AMPI did step out of line, regardless of for what reason, it was wrong what they did," he said. Tate and his fellow dairy farmers, most of them AMPI members, are very conscious of the government's investigation of the San Antonio-based AMPI.

Dairymen Want No Part Of Politicians With Hands Out

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — Dairyman Bill Tate was standing in a feed store when he said: "You think you can see the Lord everywhere you look. You see calves being born, the grass growing, the trees."

But just now Tate is embarrassed. Upset.

Although Washington's Watergate complex is 1,300 miles away, Tate and other members of Associated Milk Producers Inc. (AMPI) apparently don't think that's far enough.

It was the Watergate-related scandals that now have Tate's group mired in a growing controversy over an alleged bribe to get milk prices raised by the Nixon Administration.

OUT OF LINE
"If AMPI did step out of line, regardless of for what reasons... it was wrong what they did," he said.

Billboards around this placid greenbelt in Northeast Texas proclaim it to be the dairy capital of Texas.

There are twice as many cows in Hopkins County as there are people.

"We're not a bunch of saints but you won't find more honest people as a group," allows Tate, a big, muscular man who admits he could make more money doing something else.

Tate and his fellow dairy farmers, most of them AMPI members, are conscious of the government's investigation of a San Antonio-based AMPI, whose 40,000 members form the nation's largest dairy cooperative. AMPI markets the milk produced by Tate's 600 cows and hundreds of thousands of others in the United States.

ANTITRUST SUIT
The group's law firm has admitted AMPI illegally donated $100,000 in corporate funds to President Nixon's 1969 campaign. Watergate investigators are now focusing on claims, denied by Nixon, that $427,000 from the political trusts of AMPI and two other co-ops influenced a 1971 milk price support increase. There are new claims that AMPI tried to arrange a $300,000 contribution in 1972 to kill a federal antitrust suit still pending against the San Antonio-based organization.

"I don't think there was any fairman who would want to do anything illegal. If we knew then what we know now, I wouldn't have given Nixon any of it," Tate said, stabbing the air for emphasis with big, beefy hands.

Dressed in boots and work clothes, Tate was preparing to inspect some silos. He was in a hurry, part of his 14-hour day, but he was still anxious to have the dairy farmer's point of view known. "I don't like the way the money was being used. Of course, you've got to find out if it is true.

"But I suppose it is," he said. Briscoe continued to campaign

Words Fly Between Sissy, Briscoe In Primary Test

By The Associated Press

Gov. Dolph Briscoe made a move for the Mexican-American vote while his opponent, Frances "Sissy" Farenthold called him a "spoon-fed governor" who followed expediency only.

The governor said in Corpus Christi on Wednesday that he had created a Migrant Affairs Office and approved a migrant fuel allocation plan.

That plan will permit migrant workers to get gasoline at designated truck stops as they move northward during the agricultural season.

NOT TRUE
Arrangements have been made, the governor said, with 51 truck stops along seven major migratory routes where service and gasoline will be available. Service stations will receive special allocations to supply the farm workers.

He said the Migrant Affairs Office will act as liaison between all agencies serving the groups.

Briscoe put the lie of Mrs. Farenthold when asked to comment on a remark by her that he did not speak up for Texas on gasoline allocations.

"That is absolutely not true," he said, adding that the state's allocations for April were 94.1 per cent of the anticipated demand. The national average, he said, is 91.8 per cent.

FLIP FLOP
Meanwhile, in Austin, Mrs. Farenthold charged the governor is "making some vague overtures" about telephone regulations now that it appears "politically expedient."

"Governor Briscoe's flip-flop on... state regulation of the telephone monopolies just proves the fact that this governor is guided by political reaction instead of planned action," she said.

"Hasn't Texas had enough of a spoon-fed governor?" she asked.

Late Wednesday night, Briscoe continued to campaign briskly. He was at a barbecue rally at Whalen Park near McAllen late in the night after earlier attending a city park picnic in Victoria and stopping briefly at the airport in Alice.

In the other political action: —Gaylord Marshall, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor told an Abilene audience that incumbent Bill Hobby is a "child of wealth" whose background makes him unable to "understand what the small farmer and filling station owner is going through." He described himself as a conservative candidate and a "positive alternative" to the present lieutenant governor.

BIG SPRING BOUND
—Bob Bullock, Democratic candidate for comptroller, said he would campaign Thursday in San Antonio, Abilene and Lubbock and Friday would go to Big Spring, Midland and Odessa.

Female integration into Little League baseball continues to get a little closer to home, but it's not really the way it seems, says District Administrator Jack Barber. Girls in Denton and San Antonio have infiltrated the heretofore manly sport, following an uprising in New Jersey, in which a court ruled that a league must allow girls to play.

That particular case is still up in the air, and probably will be for a couple of years, but the fact remains that if girls do join a league — regardless of the circumstances — that loop loses its Little League character. What it amounts to is that the girls may break the baseball barrier, but when they do it immediately ceases to be Little League. It's part of the Little League Law.

Barber, who hasn't had any female aspirants in his league as yet, said if the situation came up he would simply have to explain to the girl and/or her parents that it couldn't be done — tactfully, of course. Dr. Creighton Hale, new Little League President at Williamsport, Pa., has said that the game is unsafe for girls, and apparently the battle lines have been drawn. The next few years could go a long way in changing the game...

Canadian Proposes Foreign Grid Ban

OTTAWA (AP) — Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde introduced long awaited legislation banning American professional football leagues in Canada Wednesday and said he expects early consideration of it by Parliament.

It is believed that this is the first time that a Canadian government has proposed such legislation, designed to preserve Canadian football which Mr. Lalonde said is an element in Canadian unity.

Discounting talk of an early election, Lalonde expressed confidence that members of Parliament will be around long enough to deal with the legislation in time to stop the Toronto Northmen of the World Football League from operating. The Northmen want to start playing in early summer, said owner John Bassett Jr.

The legislation would: —Flatly ban foreign football leagues from operating in Canada and Canadian leagues from operating in the United States.

—Allow exhibition games with foreign leagues. —Not apply to any other sport but football.

First Round Stanley Cup Action Full Of Surprises

The first full night of National Hockey League playoff action was full of surprises.

The New York Rangers, who finished with the 11th best goals-against record in the 16-team NHL, held the potent Montreal Canadiens offense to just one goal in recording a 4-1 opening-game victory Wednesday night.

Scoring expert Phil Esposito of Boston was held to just two shots on goal and the Bruins, who scored 349 times during the regular season, tallied only once in their quarter-final series opener with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Chicago Black Hawks, heavy favorites in their Western Division battle with Los Angeles, trailed 1-0 until midway through the second period of their 3-1 first-game triumph.

Meanwhile, the World Hockey Association playoffs continued with the Chicago Cougars defeating the New England Whalers 2-1 in overtime to even their best-of-seven series at two victories apiece; the Houston Aeros trimmed the Winnipeg Jets 3-2 to push their series advantage to 2-0, and the Minnesota Fighting Saints crushed the Edmonton Oilers 6-2 to take an overwhelming 3-0 advantage into Friday night's fourth game.

CHALLENGE OF 'BUILDING' LURES QUARTERBACK Dallas' Morton Leaps To WFL Texans

HOUSTON (AP) — Quarterback Craig Morton, who couldn't agree with Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry on who should call the plays, has joined the World Football League Houston Texans where he'll not only call the signals but help select the team. "I'm very excited about being able to control and create something," the nine-year National Football League veteran said Wednesday after Texans President Steve Arnold announced Morton had signed a WFL pact. Terms of Morton's contract were not announced but sources said it was a three-year contract for $500,000.

Morton, who must play out his option with the Cowboys this season before joining the Texans in 1975, said it was no secret he and Landry disagreed on whether the coach or quarterback should call the plays. "With the Texans, I'll have a hand in the actual selection of the team," Morton said. "As far as controlling the situation and the financing is concerned, this was a great advancement for my career," said Morton who guided the Cowboys to the Super Bowl in 1972 before losing his job to Roger Staubach the following year. "This should be very exciting," Morton said. "It will more or less be like picking my own team. I've got a lot of players in mind I hope we can get. It's just a matter of getting them."

Morton three times led the Cowboys in passing and twice ranked fifth in the NFL in passing. He set a Cowboys record of 186 completions in 1972. Despite his desire to be the sole starter, Morton said he will leave the Cowboys with no hard feelings. "Despite what you read about me being unhappy, Coach Landry and I have a great relationship," Morton said. "He wished me well and said he understood the situation." Morton said he didn't think his signing would have any adverse effect on his final year with the Cowboys. "My role in Dallas next season will be about as unpredictable as it has been in the past nine years," Morton said. "They'll get the same kind of performance out of me that has helped them win championships," said Morton, who has played in four NFL title games. "Actually, I'm still excited about my last year with the Cowboys. I think it's going to be a great year." And an even better year after.

Dallas Grabs No. 1 Choice

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys, thrown for three consecutive losses by the upstart World Football League, dug deep into their wallets to salvage National Football League prestige Wednesday with the signing of No. 1 draft pick Ed (Too Tall) Jones.

The Cowboys signed the Tennessee State defensive end to a multi-year contract. Dallas and Jones weren't talking but the pact was believed in the neighborhood of a three-year arrangement for $400,000.

"We weren't going to let him (Jones) escape," said Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry who privately is getting tired of the WFL raiding his pantry.

Landry said it eased the loss of running back Calvin Hill (to Hawaii) reserve quarterback Craig Morton (to the Houston Texans) and third round draft pick quarterback Danny White of Arizona State to Toronto.

"I never seriously considered Detroit," said Jones of the bidding between the Cowboys and the WFL club.

Asked why it took him three months to sign with the Cowboys, the dapper Jones, wearing a blue suit and a bow-tie to match, said "I don't believe in rushing into anything."

The 6-foot-9, 260-pound Jones said he liked his chances of starting with the former world champions.

"I always wanted to play with a winner and I'll go to camp ready to accept any challenges," Jones said. "I'm satisfied."

Prodded on what he will be paid, Jones smiled and said: "I'm satisfied."

Gil Brandt, head of the Dallas Cowboy scouting combine and a club vice president, was asked if he was scared the WFL might nab Jones.

"I was worried until he signed the contract," Brandt said. "We actually made the arrangements last week."

Jones' announcement was made about an hour after Morton had jumped ship to the WFL. Morton and Hill must play out their option year with the Cowboys before leaving the team in 1975.

Asked if he blamed them, Landry said "I think everybody must measure their decision on what they feel. I wasn't surprised about Craig because I talked to him last (Wednesday) night. We couldn't offer him what they (the WFL) offered."

Landry said he didn't wish to speculate on the lame duck status of Morton and Hill this fall.

"We're going to win. I know that—no matter what it takes," Landry said.

Some jokester asked Landry if he had considered any WFL offers. Landry broke into a wide grin and said "I'd hate to comment on the WFL. My loyalty is with the NFL."

JOHN MORELION Steer Third Baseman

Steers Hoping For New Life

It's the start of a new half this week in Dist. 5-AAAA, but the Big Spring Steers are also hoping it will be the start of a new season.

In a rearranged holiday schedule the Steers, winners in just four of the 19 games this year, play host to Abilene High Friday at 4:30 p.m. as second half action kicks off. San Angelo goes to Abilene Cooper and Odessa visits Midland Lee in other Friday games, while Midland and first half champion Permian are tangling today on the PHS diamond.

"We've got a chance to do better this half," said Steer Coach Larry Horton, whose team finished in a tie for last with a 2-5 record the first round. "Other than Permian and Lee I think everybody is about equal." Horton said he didn't think Permian would repeat its 7-0 sweep of district foes this half.

Earl Reynolds, bothered some by a sore arm recently, will probably make his first pitching start in two weeks against the Eagles. He has a 2-4 mark this year.

Dick Battle will be at catcher, with Wayne Dickens at first base, Pat Carroll at second base, Sammy Rodriguez at shortstop and John Morelion at third. Morelion is being tried at catcher after the Steers gave up a rash of stolen bases in the first half, and he'll probably be behind the plate by next week.

John Thomas Smith heads up the outfield effort from his center field spot, and he'll be flanked in left field by Barry Canning and in right by Albert Alvarez.

Abilene is likely to send Phil Ogden to the mound against the Longhorns, and catcher Ronnie Maynard, first baseman Rusty McLeskey and shortstop Bobby Lawson are among the leading Eagle batters. Monte Harris, who hurled the AHS lads to a 5-0 triumph over Big Spring in the 5-AAAA opener, will also be in the lineup.

The Eagles are 10-9 on the year, and posted a 4-3 first half mark.

Capital Pulls Even With Knicks At 3-3

By The Associated Press

Archie was the key," concluded Elvin Hayes. "He did it all."

Archie was Archie Clark who scored 20 points Wednesday night, including 12 points in the final period when the Capital Bullets gathered enough momentum to take a 109-92 National Basketball Association playoff victory over the New York Knicks.

The victory evened the best-of-seven Eastern Conference semifinals at three games apiece with the deciding game in New York Friday night.

"I finally felt comfortable late in the game," said the 32-year-old Clark who has been plagued for two years with injuries and had been used sparingly in the playoffs.

In the only American Basketball Association playoff action, the San Antonio Pacers downed the Indiana Pacers 102-86 to tie their Western Division playoff series at 3-3.

Hayes didn't do badly himself — scoring 31 points to run his total in the six-game series to 169.

The Bullets led 68-67 going into the final 12 minutes and quickly jumped in front 77-69 on the shooting of Clark and Phil Chenier, who also scored 12 final-period points.

The Spurs relied heavily on the hot shooting of Bird Averitt who finished with 19 points and Sven Nater who had 18.

San Antonio never trailed after taking an early 8-7 lead and their lead grew as big as 23 points in the fourth period.

The series now switches back to Indianapolis for the deciding game Friday night.

Indiana's Roger Brown had 26 points.

The winner of this series meets Utah in the ABA West finals and both coaches think their clubs can go all the way.

"At this stage I believe both these teams are better than Utah," said Spurs Coach Tom Nissalke. "I don't believe Utah has as much help on its bench as these teams."

The Chicago Bulls, holding a 3-2 edge over the Pistons, hope to wrap up their Western Conference semifinal series tonight in Detroit.

Miller Receives National Honors

SEGUN — Harry Miller, 6-5 senior forward for the Texas Lutheran College basketball team, has been selected for two national honors, it was announced today by Coach Jim Shuler. Miller, son of Mrs. Laura Miller of Eudora, Ark., received honorable mention for the 1974 NAIA All-American basketball team, and was also named to the first team 1973-74 All-Lutheran College basketball squad. Miller starred for Howard County Jr. College two years.

Spurs Pop Pacers In Crucial Contest

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)— "I think the winner of this series will be in the finals," San Antonio Spur coach Tom Nissalke said Wednesday night moments after his team had beaten Indiana 102-86. "The victory by the Spurs tied this first-round, American Basketball Association West semifinal series at three wins each. The seventh and deciding game is scheduled Friday night in Indianapolis and the winner advances to the ABA West finals against Utah.

Utah won the West championship in regular season action and defeated San Diego in six games in its first-round playoff. "At this stage I believe both these teams are better than Utah," continued Nissalke. "I don't believe Utah has as much help on its bench as these teams."

Nissalke also said he thinks his young Spurs can win at Indianapolis Friday against the defending ABA champion Pacers. "Sure, I think we can win up there," he said. "But they will be ready and we'll have to come out prepared to play."

His team was ready at the beginning Wednesday, much to the delight of a crowd of 12,204, which included a record of 2,000 standing. "We just got with it tonight," the coach explained. Rookie substitute guard Bird Averitt led the winners with 19, rookie Sven Nater added 18 and sophomore James Silas and George Gerwin had 17 each.

Veteran forward Roger Brown led the Pacers with 26 and all-star forward George McGinnis scored just 13. He was guarded much of the game by Spur sub forward Eugene "Goo" Kennedy. "He (McGinnis) likes to set up in one spot, and if you let him get to that spot there ain't no way you can stop him," explained Kennedy. "So I overplayed him, and tried to stop him from getting the ball."

"They were just more aggressive than we were," mumbled Indiana coach Bobby Leonard. "We didn't move the ball."

Steers Enter Texas Relays

AUSTIN — Big Spring Steer regional track qualifiers take another warm-up session this weekend at the prestigious Texas Relays, but the main Longhorn hope may not be in action at Memorial Stadium.

Ricky McCormick, unbeaten in the mile this year, has a slight case of pneumonia and may miss this weekend's event. "We'll probably wait until Friday and see how he is before we decide whether or not he'll run," Steer Coach Glenn Petty said.

McCormick, who has a best of 4:26.4 this year, would be an against the best high school runners in the state in the meet. He hasn't lost in eight races this season, and won the District 5-AAAA mile by five seconds over the second place finishers last week.

While McCormick may not be in action, four other Steers will be. The Steer mile relay team runs an against stiff competition in preliminary action Friday afternoon, and two members of the quartet, Donald Walters and Doug Smith, will also run in the 440-yard dash.

The mile relay unit of Walters, Smith, Don Beene and Bobby Mayo has a best of 3:23.6 this year, and took second in district last week behind Abilene High, San Angelo, which was favored in the 5-AAAA mile relay but lost out when a runner fell, is also expected to be in the field.

Walters, a sophomore, cut a full second off his previous best last week as he turned in a 49.8, with Smith second in 50.0.

High school preliminaries start Friday at 1:30 p.m., and some finals will also be run Friday, including the 440, which will be run at 8:55 p.m. On Saturday, the mile run will be at 2:30 p.m. and the mile relay is set for 4:35 p.m.

Angels Nudge Rangers, 4-3

ANAHEIM (P) — Alex Johnson was a folk hero in Anaheim in 1970 when he hit .329 for California and won the American League batting title.

He was a hero of sorts again Wednesday night—although this time he was attired in the traveling greys of the Texas Rangers.

Johnson made a valiant but futile bid to catch Willie Rodriguez sinking line drive to left field with two out in the ninth inning. The ball struck the heel of his glove and caromed behind him, permitting Riche Scheinblum to race all the way home from first base with the 4-3 triumph.

Other Than Record Homers, Aaron Isn't Doing So Well

By The Associated Press

Now that Hank Aaron has hit THE home run, the question is when will he get any other kind of hit.

Other than his two home runs—Nos. 714 and 715—it's been nothing but outsize this season and the 40-year-old Atlanta superstar with the lifetime .311 batting average is hitting at a lowly .154 clip.

Aaron grounded out twice following his record-breaking home run Monday night. He sat out the next game and Wednesday night he took an 0-for-4 collar—two fly balls, one grounder and a strikeout—as Tommy John and Mike Marshall of Los Angeles held the Braves to four singles in pitching the Dodgers to a 4-0 triumph.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Montreal Expos finally swung into action and beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 12-8 in 13 innings, the San Francisco Giants edged the Cincinnati Reds 4-3, the New York Mets nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2, the Chicago Cubs overtook the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 and the Houston Astros walloped the San Diego Padres 9-1.

John, who is in his third National League season and has a perfect 6-0 mark against the Braves, is one of those rare birds—a pitcher off whom Aaron has never homered.

The Dodgers got the only run they needed in the first inning on singles by Lee Lacy and Bill Buckner and Jim Wynn's sacrifice fly. Lacy singled again in the sixth and came around on three walks.

Expos 12, Pirates 8

After being unable to open as scheduled at home because of bad weather, the Expos finally heard the cry of "Play ball" in Pittsburgh and took out their frustrations on the Pirates' pitching staff to the tune of 14 hits.

Doubles by Larry Lintz and Jim Cox sparked a four-run burst in the 13th inning that gave the Expos the victory and sent the winless Pirates to their third straight defeat in their home opener.

Lintz opened the 13th with a double off reliever Ramon Hernandez and scored on Cox' double following a walk. Ron Woods' two-run single and an RBI double by pitcher Chuck Taylor produced the other runs. The Pirates tied the game 8-8 in the bottom of the ninth on pinch hitter Bob Robertson's two-out, two-run homer after the Expos scored three times in the top of the ninth off Pittsburgh relief ace Dave Giusti.

Mets 3, Cardinals 2

Jerry Grote, who hit only one home run last year, cracked his second of the young 1974 season and drove in another run with a single, helping the National League champion Mets win their home opener. Grote, who hit just 27 homers in eight previous seasons, connected off John Curtis, who was making his NL debut.

Cubs 7, Phillies 6

Billy Williams hit a three-run homer in the first inning and singled home two runs in the ninth for the victory. The Phillies had taken a 6-5 lead in the top of the ninth when Greg Luzinski drove in his third run with a sacrifice fly.

American League scores: Kansas City 4, Oakland 1; Minnesota 6, Chicago White Sox 5; California 4, Texas 3 and Milwaukee 6, Cleveland 4. Baltimore and Boston were snowed out and the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers were not scheduled.

MISSOURI VALLEY CAGERS WHIP SOUTHEASTERN STARS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Missouri Valley conference walloped the Southeastern Conference all-stars 83-72 Wednesday night to take the championship of the first annual Four-Star Basketball Classic.

New Mexico State's Roland "Tree" Grant fired in 18 points and speared 13 rebounds to pace the MVC club and earn $2,000 apiece for each of his teammates. Second place was worth $1,000 for each SEC player.

North Carolina's Bobby Jones hung up 22 points and picked off 13 rebounds to lead the Atlantic Coast Conference to a 100-81 victory over the Pacific-8 in the consolation game.

Grant and Wichita State's Bob Wilson, who scored 20 points shared tournament most valuable player honors. The MVC, coached by Bob Cousy, jumped to a 4-0 lead and only fell behind once in the first half, 22-20 with 12:05 left.

ASTROS ROLL TO 9-1 VICTORY

Kroc Sorry--Padres Still Losing

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The new owner of the San Diego Padres has apologized to his players for derogatory remarks he made about their play, but it hasn't slowed the National League team's slide into the cellar.

The Houston Astros broke his remarks, made over the public address that the Padres were playing stupid baseball. "I used a bad choice of words and I'm sorry."

Player resentment over the public put-down eased a bit before the game when Peter Bavasi and his father, club president Buzzie Bavasi, had a clubhouse meeting with the Padres.

"It was something that was needed and I believe it helped," said Padre player representative Willie McCovey.

While deeply disappointed over the first five games, the 36-year-old McCovey has been around enough to know that things can change swiftly.

"Pitchers get into slumps, just as hitters do," said the famed slugger, "and right now our entire pitching staff is in a slump. That's very unusual and I think things will turn around for us. Our pitching is better than this—I know because I hit against most of them when I was with the Giants."

"I know I'm tired of walking to the mound to take pitches out," said San Diego Manager John McNamara after the Astros shelled Bill Grief, 0-2, Rich Troedson, Ralph Garcia and Mike Corkins for 4 hits.

Tommy Helms and winning pitcher Dave Roberts each slammed a two-run double.

Aaron Back In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The sports spotlight shifts today to the other Aaron—Tommy Aaron, the golfer—in the start of the 38th Masters Tournament.

"I met Hank Aaron at a golf tournament recently," Aaron said, referring to the new home run king of baseball. "He mentioned that since he was from Alabama he probably got his name from masters named Aaron—maybe ancestors of mine."

Plying his trade in relative obscurity is no new experience for the 37-year-old tour veteran from Gainesville, Ga., once dubbed the "golfer bride's maid" because he played for 10 years without winning a tournament, although he frequently came close.

He won his first tournament in 1970—the Atlanta Open—and spoiled Jack Nicklaus' bid for a fifth Masters last year with a winning score of 283.

Nicklaus is the 3-1 pick in the blue ribbon field of 78, including 55 U. S. professionals, 11 U. S. amateurs and a contingent of 12 foreigners.

The odds are the latest from Ladbroke's, the London bookmakers, where gambling is not only legal but almost an obsession.

The 26-year-old Johnny Miller, winner of three straight tournaments this spring, is rated second choice at 4-1, followed by Ben Crenshaw and Tom Weiskopf at 12-1.

Aaron is rated a 50-1 pick.

The 1973 Masters victory provided one unforgettable dividend for the drawing Georgian.

"I got to go to the Champions Dinner Tuesday night," he said, with wide-eyed wonder. "It was great sitting there in my green jacket with fellows like Gene Sarazen, Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret."

Ask More Money For Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Legion proposed Wednesday that Congress pay up to $1,000 a year in tuition and fees for Vietnam-era veterans so they will have a wider choice of schools they can afford to attend.

Its views were presented by E. H. Golembrieki, director of national veterans affairs and rehabilitation commission of the legion, in testimony prepared for the Senate Veterans Committee.

The committee has before it a bill to increase monthly payments to the veterans by 25 per cent and to set up a loan program as a supplement. The House has passed a 13 per cent increase, higher than the 8 per cent President Nixon proposed. The administration opposes any form of tuition fee grant.

The legion's proposal is one of the most generous offered so far to provide a tuition payment system as well as a monthly stipend similar to that of post-World War II days.

Golembrieki said Vietnam-era veterans, unlike World War II veterans, are being denied a wide degree of choice as to which institution of higher education they wish to attend.

For a veteran going to college half-time, or more, the legion's plan would authorize the Veterans Administration to make direct payments to colleges for tuition and fees, books and other expenses except living and travel expenses.

The charges would have to be the same as those charged non-veterans enrolled in the same courses, but not over $1,000 for an ordinary school year.

More Americans Move Away From Big Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Census Bureau population specialist says Americans may be slightly less mobile than they used to be, but still change homes with great frequency.

A new study shows that 31.8 per cent of all Americans changed their residence during the three-year period ending in March of last year.

The study also shows that more Americans moved away from the nation's metropolitan areas, 4,680,000, than moved in, 3,736,000.

In previous years, Census Bureau surveys showed that the percentage of Americans who changed homes every year declined from 19 and 20 per cent in the early 1960s to the recent historical low of 17.9 per cent in 1971.

There were no separate surveys for 1972 and 1973.

The latest three-year survey is not directly comparable to the previous annual surveys, but Larry H. Long of the bureau's population division says there has been a slight decline in mobility in recent years.

But he noted the volume of people who change homes every year still is much greater than in the past two decades, even though the percentage is lower.

The most mobile age group in the population are persons in their 20s, of whom 58 per cent changed homes in the 1970-1973 period.

Both the South and the West experienced a net inflow of 1.2 million migrants, with the Northeast and North Central regions having an offsetting loss.

City Hall 'Deserted'

KLEBERG, Tex. (AP) — Resignations and firings left city hall in this town on Dallas' southeast outskirts nearly deserted Wednesday.

City Manager Jack Russell resigned Tuesday following the discharges of city staffers and two of the three city policemen.

Fired in addition to the policemen were the city secretary, the head of the sanitation department and the building inspector. The plumbing inspector quit.

The employees were fired without explanation Monday night after three new councilmen—William McColm, Charles Wright and Everett Bishop—took office.

Russell said the firing of so many employees would overburden him with time-consuming responsibilities.

George E. Strain, police chief, called the dismissal purely personal. "I haven't really made up my mind what to do right now, but I'm going to fight for the rights of the officers. The action was very unjust," said the chief. Strain's wife was fired from her city secretary's job.

Migrant Fuel Allocation

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe issued an executive order Wednesday creating the Migrant Affairs Office.

Briscoe said the new office, which will operate as part of the governor's office, would act as liaison with all agencies that serve migrant groups.

He also announced approval of a migrant fuel allocation plan for Texas that will help migrant workers obtain gasoline at designated truck stops throughout the state as they move northward during the agricultural season.

The plan involves 51 trucks stops along seven major migratory routes. Most of them will be open 24 hours a day and seven days a week, the governor said.

Spent Night Feeding, Caring For 22 Aliens

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police spent the night feeding and caring for 22 aliens after learning to their surprise that the U.S. Immigration Office is closed at night.

Police found the 21 men and one woman hiding on three pickup trucks parked on a street Wednesday night. After transporting them to the Hohenbeck Division police station, the officers found immigration officials could not be contacted until morning.

Police called every Immigration Service number of the telephone book but went unanswered.

"We even went so far as calling the border station at San Ysidro for help, but the official we talked to said he didn't have the authority to take custody of them," said Sgt. Robert Solorza.

The aliens told the officers they had been on the run since the weekend and hadn't eaten in three days. The officers took up a collection and bought a large quantity of food at a store.

"All the money came out of the officers' pockets and so far we have been able to buy enough food to give them at least one meal," Solorza said.

Police said some of the aliens admitted paying as much as $200 to be smuggled across the border.

The aliens were kept in the station's roll call room until immigration officials arrived.

Less Proof For Benefits

The Veterans Administration advises veterans not to allow loss of a birth certificate or marriage license to deter them from applying for benefits.

Jack Coker, Waco regional office director, cited a regulation in effect since October 1971 under which less formal proof of marriage and birth are acceptable in establishing claims for higher benefits. A veteran's or widow's certified statement of marriage is sufficient on applications for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children, provided neither he nor his wife has been married before, and VA has no contradictory information on file, Coker explained.

Coker noted that a certified statement now is acceptable regarding birth of a child of a veteran's marriage and as proof of age and relationship in disability cases.

Traditions Reign Triumphant At Easter Fellowship Feasts

Traditions reign triumphant at Easter. The feast is timeless in its tradition of joy and good fellowship — along with a festive table. It's an occasion demanding the finest of foods.

Ham, either the "fully-cooked" or "to-be-cooked" variety, makes minimum demands on the hostess-cook. It's simply a matter of bake, carve and enjoy the lean, juicy and tender slices.

Turkey is becoming another traditional entree. Complete the entree with your choice of vegetables — especially eye-appealing and flavorful are tender cooked green beans tossed with crisply cooked bacon and a dash of dill, served along with buttered carrot coins. Each plate served will be as tempting as the platter.

Delicate Melba Tulip Tarts for dessert are a boon to the busy homemaker. They must be made ahead of time. The tart shells themselves can be baked and frozen several days in advance for convenience, then thawed and filled early Easter morning.

MELBA TULIP TARTS
1 can (20 oz.) crushed pineapple
1 envelope (1 tsp.) unflavored gelatin
12 oz. cream cheese
½ cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
½ tsp. vanilla
1 cup dairy sour cream
8 to 10 baked tart shells
Melba Glaze
1 can (13¼ oz.) pineapple chunks

Drain crushed pineapple, reserving all syrup. Soften gelatin in 2-3 cup syrup. Cream together cream cheese and sugar, stir in beaten eggs and softened gelatin. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly for 2 to 5 minutes; stir in vanilla and pineapple. Chill until mixture begins to congeal. Fold in sour cream; cool and fill each tart shell to within ¼ to ½ inch from top with mixture. Chill tarts 30 minutes. Spread approximately 2 tablespoons of chilled Melba Glaze on each tart and top each with 3 to 4 drained pineapple chunks. Chill. Yield: 8 to 10 tarts.

TART SHELLS
2 cups flour
1 tsp. salt
2 3 cup lard
4 to 6 tbsps. cold water
Combine flour and salt and cut in lard until particles are about size of small peas. Add cold water, a little at a time, mixing quickly and distributing evenly. Use as little water as possible for dough to hold in a ball. Roll out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth to 1/8 inch thickness and cut in circles (5½ inches in diameter for 4-inch fluted tart pans or larger for shallow tart pans of greater diameter.)

Place pastry circles over backs of pans, pressing to fit pans. Bake in a hot oven 450 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes or until delicately browned. Cool before filling. Yield: 8 to 10 tart shells.

MELBA GLAZE
1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen raspberries
½ cup red currant jelly
2 tbsps. cornstarch
¼ cup sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
Blend raspberries, jelly, cornstarch, sugar and lemon juice in a saucepan. Cook, stirring constantly until thick and clear. Strain. Cover; refrigerate until cool and use to top tarts.

'Kid' Cake In Shape Of Bunny

Reward little egg hunters with a sweet treat that's as good for them as it's good to eat. Use enriched bread dough to shape an Easter Bunny, coat him with fluffy frosting and nestle him in a bed of coconut.

Enriched flour provides significant amounts of several nutrients vital to maintaining good health — the B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, and the mineral, iron.

Easter Bunny
4½ to 5 cups enriched flour
2 pkgs. dry yeast
¾ cup milk
½ cup water
½ cup sugar
¼ cup oil
¼ cup butter
1 tsp. salt
2 eggs, room temperature
Oil
Confectioners' sugar icing
Gumdrops

Stir together 1¼ cups flour and yeast. Heat milk, water, sugar, oil, butter and salt over low heat until warm (120 to 130 degrees), stirring to blend. Add liquid ingredients to flour mixture and beat until smooth, about 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer. Blend in eggs. Add 1 cup flour and beat 1 minute on medium speed. Stir in more flour to make a moderately stiff dough.

Turn onto lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and satiny, about 5 to 8 minutes. Cover dough; let rest 20 minutes. Divide dough into six equal portions. Roll five portions in 22-inch long ropes. Twist 3 ropes together; place on greased baking sheet and swirl into pinwheel shape to form body. Twist 2 ropes together; swirl into pinwheel shape to form head. Roll remaining dough into 24-inch long rope; divide into 6-inch long portions. Twist two together to form each ear. Seal ends and pinch together to shape point of ear. Brush with oil.

Let rise in warm place until doubled, about 40 to 60 minutes. Bake in preheated 375 degrees oven 20 to 30 minutes, or until done. Cool completely before frosting. Tint ¼ cup frosting with desired food coloring to make bow around neck. Frost with white, add gumdrop eyes and nose. Shape bow.

Note: If selfrising flour is used, omit salt.

Happy Ending Climaxes Elegant Easter Dinner

This Almond Brittle Ice Cream is a scrumptious dessert that can't be bought in any store. Refreshing and not too rich, it's perfect for any spring or summer occasion.

You won't find ground almonds in many stores, but you can easily prepare them yourself. Grind whole shelled almonds — or coarsely chopped, slivered or sliced almonds — a few at a time, in an electric blender or a food chopper with a fine blade. Use natural almonds (almonds that have not been blanched) for deeper color and more pronounced flavor, or blanched almonds for a more subtle taste.

ALMOND BRITTLE ICE CREAM

½ cup ground natural or blanched almonds
½ cup sugar
¼ cup margarine, softened
1 qt. vanilla ice cream
½ tsp. almond extract
Combine almonds and sugar in heavy saucepan or skillet; stir over low heat until sugar melts and almonds turn a golden brown. Turn out onto foil; cool. Wrap foil around brittle and smash into crumbs. Mix with margarine and almond extract; chill. Allow ice cream to soften slightly; stir in brittle mixture; freeze. Makes 1 quart.

Long Trail Of Ruined Careers, Defunct Firms Left By Scandal

DALLAS (AP) — The Sharpstown stock scandals roared through Texas politics and many of the state's money institutions like a long-winded tornado.

Several of the state's political "oaks" fell before the whirlwind.

But former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, freed Monday of the last of his Sharpstown shackles, weathered the storm without the scars of criminal conviction.

On the other hand, former Texas Insurance Commissioner John Osorio has been convicted in one Sharpstown-related case and faces another trial in Houston.

SCHEME TO RAID

The pair walked out of the federal courts building Monday, cleared by a jury of what the government had claimed was a scheme to raid banks with improperly secured loans.

The seven-week trial was but one of several which have dogged Carr and Osorio over the years.

When Carr walked out of court here he left a free man. "I'm going back to Austin and try to re-establish my law practice and get about the business of making a living," he said.

Osorio, accompanied by his lawyers and several friends, headed for a bar. "We're going to get a scotch and soda," attorney Emmett Colvin said. Osorio still faces a perjury trial in Houston. No date has been set.

WILD AFFAIR

The Sharpstown affair began when the government claimed that Houston promoter Frank Sharp, head of Sharpstown State Bank and a controlling stockholder in National Bankers' Life Insurance Co., tried to get banking legislation passed.

The Securities and Exchange Commission said Sharp tried to influence banking legislation by bribing key legislators and executives by loaning them money on shaky collateral.

On Monday, Carr, Osorio and Dallas businessman David Hoover were found innocent of fraud and conspiracy charges in connection with collateral for large bank loans.

Over the past three years, the storms of litigation have raged. During that period an incumbent governor was soundly whipped in his bid for re-election; a House speaker and a state representative were convicted of fraud and conspiracy.

Sharp lost heavily, an insurance company, a bank and several other institutions collapsed. Osorio has been convicted once and another case is still pending. Fortunes have been blown away. Reputations have been stained, and a Roman Catholic order says it has lost $8.5 million because of the Sharp transactions.

THEY SUFFER

Houston financier Sharp, was assessed a $5,000 fine and three years' probation for violation of federal banking and securities laws. He was granted immunity from other prosecution in exchange for his testimony at the trials of others.

Those around him suffered also.

Joseph Novotny, former president of Sharpstown State Bank pleaded guilty to mail fraud charges.

Douglas Lane, the bank's vice president, pleaded guilty to making illegal loans to bank examiners. He was sentenced to nine months in jail, a $5,000 fine and five years' probation.

Another bank vice president, Herman Nelms, also received a $5,000 fine and five years' probation on the same charges.

The bank examiners, Ted Bristol, John T. Knight, Weldon Adler and John B. Hooper, all were charged with accepting loans from the bank at the time they were inspecting the bank's records.

Bristol received a six month sentence Aug. 7, 1972 on a charge of accepting a loan from the bank insured by FDIC; the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals rejected his appeal Feb. 2, 1973.

$50 A MONTH

Knight entered a plea of innocence Jan. 24, 1972, to charges of conspiring to misapply bank funds and to cause false entries in bank records. Disposition of his case was not readily available.

Adler entered a plea of guilty

Oct. 13, 1971 to a charge of accepting a $500 loan. He was sentenced to one year in jail and fined $1,000. However, the judge probated the sentence for five years and said Adler could pay the fine $50 a month.

An indictment charging Hooper with acceptance of a loan from a bank he was assigned to audit was dismissed by a federal judge Sept. 5, 1973.

Carl Lundquist, who later became a vice president at the bank, pleaded guilty to accepting a $28,000 loan while he was a state banking examiner.

Charles Henke, a Houston investor, pleaded guilty to conspiring to help conceal the illegal loans.

Michael Makris was assessed eight years in prison and five years' probation after being convicted of lying to the SEC about Sharp's affairs.

Sam Stock, a former National Bankers Life officer, pleaded guilty to filing false annual reports about the NBL pension fund. He was fined $1,000 and other charges against him were dropped.

$125,000 PROJECT

Donald Akins, former vice president of the company, pleaded guilty to conspiracy charges and received probation.

Elmer Baum, State Democratic Executive Committee chairman quite in 1971 under pressure when it was learned he and Gov. Smith made $125,000 profit through NBL stock deals.

Smith, who claimed he was innocent of any improprieties, ran poorly in his race for re-election in 1972.

Houston lawyer Thano Dameris pleaded guilty last month to misdemeanor charges of SEC rules violations. He is to be sentenced April 19.

SMOKING GUN

Former Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher, former state Rep. Tommy Shannon and Mutscher's aide, Rush McGinty, were convicted of bribery and conspiracy in connection with the Sharpstown-NBL scandals in March 1972. Each received five years' probation. The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals hears the Mutscher case today.

The government went after Carr and Osorio with smoking gun barrels.

Osorio was found guilty in January 1973 of misusing the NBL pension fund.

He was assessed a $6,000 fine and three years in prison, a sentence now on appeal.

Earlier, he and Carr were found innocent of mail and wire fraud charges stemming from the Sharpstown affair.

On Monday, the pair were found innocent again of similar charges at Dallas.

Osorio still faces perjury charges at Houston. No trial date has been set.

Throughout the exhaustive, expensive trials, Carr has claimed the whole attack was a Republican plot to ruin Texas Democrats.

Legislators, sitting as a constitutional convention, still have a big job ahead to complete work on a new state charter that will stand a chance of ratification, Mike Ezell, Downtown Lions Club here Wednesday. Ezell is a candidate for the legislature.

For one thing, the convention still has to complete work on the legislative, judiciary, general provisions, and separation of powers sections. Then, the document must be taken up section by section with a two-thirds requirement for approval, and finally a method determined for submission to the voters.

He said he is hopeful that "we will have a new constitution that we can be proud of and voters will approve."

Ezell acknowledged that some of the stickier issues such as wiping taxes beyond present levels, right to work, state income tax, a legislative salary commission likely will be submitted as items apart from the main draft of the constitution.

April 24 will be Ladies Day at the club, said Verl Green, and Mrs. Clyde Angel will present the program.

Little Relief Is Promised

The energy crisis stimulated an attendance of nearly 1,500 wholesalers of petroleum products to the Texas Oil Marketers Association in San Antonio this week.

Attending from here were W. L. Wilson Jr. of Bill Wilson Oil Company; Earl J. and Rodney Newell of Newell Oil Company; Merrill Creighton, Mobil distributor; Tommy Gage of Gage Oil Company; and Charles F. Tompkins of Tompkins Oil Company.

Charles Kittrell, executive vice president of Phillips Petroleum Company, told delegates that even the lifting of the Arab embargo will provide little relief from the gasoline shortage by mid summer. Even under the best of conditions, "including continued conservation efforts by the public, a shortage of three to five per cent will exist," said Kittrell.

Tommy Munro, Biloxi, Miss., National Oil Jobbers Council president, said the federal unleaded gasoline program will cut into production of premium and regular gasoline by four per cent and two per cent.

Bill Quorum, Carrollton, the state association president, urged all-out cooperation by oil industry and governmental units to assure an "impartial distribution of petroleum products to consumers. . . . We don't need new energy legislation (in Washington) or an unleaded gasoline program."

Arrest Five 'Kidnapers'

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Police said here they have arrested the five kidnapers of a 9-year-old boy who was rescued after 36 hours in their hands.

The five men—three from the Pacific Coast state of Guerrero and two from the capital—ranged in age from 20 to 42.

Mexico City police said the oldest, Francisco Lugo Garcia, is charged with eight homicides in his home town of El Papayo, Guerrero.

The five were charged with abducting Francisco Javier Muniz as he waited for a school bus with two sisters, a brother and the family maid outside their home in an exclusive residential district here Thursday.

Family friends driving to the Pacific Coast port of Acapulco recognized the vehicle used in the kidnaping and chased it Friday until the abductors stopped and let the boy go. He was not injured.

The kidnapers had demanded $160,000 ransom in a telephone call to the boy's family. He was rescued before it was paid.

Soviets Still Anxious For Trade With U. S.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Chase Manhattan Bank's top man in Moscow says American companies still have a friend in the Soviet Union despite Russian unhappiness over the failure of Congress to lower trade and credit barriers.

In fact, he says, the Soviet Union now seems more determined than ever to see Soviet-American trade flourish.

But Albert Wentworth, a senior vice president for the bank, warned that Soviet officials aren't bluffing when they say that continued congressional opposition could eventually force Russia to turn to Western Europe and Japan for money and technology.

GREAT RUSH

"There's a great risk that the United States will be left out in the cold," Wentworth says.

Chase has a three-room suite on the second floor of Moscow's old Hotel Metropol on Karl Marx Avenue, a block from the Kremlin. Thick grass-green carpeting covers the floors and paintings from the bank's art collection hang on the wall. The office was opened last May, making Chase Manhattan the first American bank to open an office in Moscow. Bank of America and First National City Bank have followed suit.

So far, Chase has made loans totalling $153.5 million to the Soviet government to finance equipment for the Kama River truck factory.

UNRAVELING

Wentworth says he still sees a spirit of detente here.

"Detente may be unraveling in the United States — I don't know. But it's not unraveling on this side. In fact, there's a greater impetus to speed up trade, to accelerate."

Wentworth said he believes the recent talks between Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Communist party head Leonid I. Brezhnev may ease the way for passage of the trade bill giving the Soviet Union credits and most-favored-nation status.

The bill has been blocked by Congress, which has linked the benefits to freer emigration of Soviet citizens, particularly Soviet Jews.

"The Soviets are not going to grant full freedom of emigration. Nor will they grant freedom of the press," Wentworth said. "But if Kissinger's requests were anywhere near reasonable, I think he may have got them."

DEEP CONVICTION

"The Russians will do everything they can to ease trade. Their desire to trade with the West is a deep conviction, not a surface thing."

"There are more Jews leaving this country than ever before," he said, and he linked that increase to trade. "I'm not sure I would want to be a Jew here if trade were blocked."

Indications are, however, that Jewish emigration is down by 20 per cent in the first three months of 1974, as compared to last year. Some 35,000 Soviet Jews emigrated to Israel in 1973.

Speed Limit Gains Noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Office urged the nation's governors today to continue enforcing the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit and encouraging Americans to conserve energy.

Deputy Administrator John Sawhill said in a telegram to the governors that lifting of the Arab oil embargo "has increased the amount of oil in America but we can fall short of demand by as much as 6 per cent if we do not conserve."

Sawhill noted that the speed limit can save hundreds of thousands of barrels of oil daily as well as save lives. Highway deaths have dropped 20 per cent since the embargo, he said.

"We expect that Americans will have sufficient gasoline for business and pleasure activities," he said, adding there should be enough oil for the rest of this year if governments continue the voluntary conservation effort.

"We cannot view the end of the Arab oil embargo as the end of our energy problems," he said.

Solons Facing Big Job To End Work On Charter

Legislators, sitting as a constitutional convention, still have a big job ahead to complete work on a new state charter that will stand a chance of ratification, Mike Ezell, Downtown Lions Club here Wednesday. Ezell is a candidate for the legislature.

For one thing, the convention still has to complete work on the legislative, judiciary, general provisions, and separation of powers sections. Then, the document must be taken up section by section with a two-thirds requirement for approval, and finally a method determined for submission to the voters.

He said he is hopeful that "we will have a new constitution that we can be proud of and voters will approve."

Ezell acknowledged that some of the stickier issues such as wiping taxes beyond present levels, right to work, state income tax, a legislative salary commission likely will be submitted as items apart from the main draft of the constitution.

April 24 will be Ladies Day at the club, said Verl Green, and Mrs. Clyde Angel will present the program.

May 1 Last Day Farmers Can Transfer Allotments

May 1 is the final date to transfer cotton allotment, according to J. G. Hammack Jr., county executive director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

This also is the final date to release cotton or request released cotton to be assigned to an individual's farm. Hammack urged producers to apply now if they plan to ask for additional acreage.

He reminded that the 1974 cotton, feed grain and wheat program will require a sign-up. This will be at the same time as certification of crop acreage, and July 15 is the final date this year, except for small grains. Hammack cautioned that individuals must sign up to be eligible for any program payments or loan.

He also cautioned that disaster payment or prevented planted acres or cotton is limited by the original allotment for normal planting. This means that an increase in allotment by transfer may not draw payment on the transferred acreage.

Practices under the 1973 REAP have been reinstated and this means that funds may be available for pipelines for livestock water, construction of earthen dams, diversion terraces, reorganizing irrigation systems, deep plowing, chiseling, brush control, distribution of cotton burrs. However, some of the 1973 practices now have different specifications in 1974.

West came up with a superior defensive effort that left declarer with no play for his contract, and in the process destroyed the old bridge cliché, second hand low.

The bidding was fairly straightforward. North might have passed his partner's two no trump rebid, but he felt that his good five-card suit offered play for game opposite a balanced 19-20 points, especially if South should happen to hold three hearts, or an honor in the suit.

West led the ten of spades, and declarer tried for an extra trick in that suit by putting in dummy's jack, hoping West had led away

New Steel Pact Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the usual 11th-hour frenzy of previous negotiations missing, steel industry bargainers indicate they are near agreement on a new three-year contract for 350,000 workers.

Sources close to the talks between the United Steelworkers and the 10 major steel companies say the negotiators have agreed "to try and wrap it up" today.

Although the sources caution that some problems remain, the union has called its Basic Steel Industry Conference with representatives from 832 locals to a 1 p.m. EDT meeting for a report on the negotiations.

The 600-member conference has authority to ratify a tentative agreement or recommend turning over unresolved issues to a panel of arbitrators.

A historic bargaining agreement signed a year ago elimiated the possibility of a nationwide steel strike this year.

In return for giving up the right to strike, the USW was guaranteed wage increases of at least 3 per cent in each year of the new contract.

The experimental bargaining agreement provides that any issues still in dispute by April 15 are to be submitted to arbitration. But since the negotiations entered their final phase a week ago, both sides have expressed hope that working on both national and local issues could be completed at the bargaining table.

The new bargaining format was intended to eliminate the type of production disruptions that characterized previous negotiations, with customers stockpiling steel and eventually forcing large layoffs of workers despite peaceful settlements.

'Hot Checks' Judge Resigns

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas municipal court judge appointed last week has announced his resignation following a controversy involving the disclosure that he was under indictment for writing bad checks at the time he was appointed.

The judge, George Washington Jr., submitted his resignation in a letter to Mayor Pro Tem George Allen, head of the committee that selected Washington. Allen said the resignation was accepted.

Washington had made full restitution on two outstanding checks the same day he was sworn in for the judgeship and Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said the indictments would be dismissed.

Allen said the controversy surrounding appointment of Washington was "most regrettable."

"All of us must feel a sense of sympathy and understanding for . . . (Washington) and his family who were required to read and hear their private financial affairs openly discussed in the media."

Recount Resolves Tie Vote, Returns Benavides Mayor

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — A recount resolved a tway tie in the Benavides municipal election and returned Mayor Octavio Saenz to office for another term.

Judges for the election Monday had tallied 350 votes apiece for Saenz and rival Armando L. Garza.

374 TO 347

Commissioners named by District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo for the recount reported they found the totals, including 21 additional votes, to be Saenz 374 and Garza 347.

Both candidates had asked the court to order a recount, and the men assigned that task by the judge were Duval County political leader George B. Parr, Sheriff Raul Serna and B. O. Goldthorne, president of the First State Bank of San Diego.

Saenz and Garza both were present as the recount was made in the district courtroom. Carrillo said Ruben Chapa who was defeated 354-325 in a city council race by Barbara Gonzales did not ask a recount. The judge added that in an unofficial recount—"We were there, the ballots were out, so why not?"—Mrs. Gonzales was credited with 383 votes to Chapa's 332.

'OLD PARTY'

The Benavides election was rated by many as one of the most hotly contested in this South Texas area in many years. No official records were available but officials reported it was a record election turnout.

Much of the interest was generated by a split several weeks ago between former state Rep. Oscar Carrillo and Parr, longtime allies in the county's "Old Party."

Parr had supported Garza and Carrillo reportedly had backed Saenz, although Saenz denied this, saying he was supported by both factions.

Tech Will Honor Houston Oilman

LUBBOCK — A vice president of Shell Oil Company, a vice president of Louisiana's Freeport Minerals and Sulphur companies, and the coordinator of Exxon's Environmental Conservation program will be honored Friday, as Texas Tech University Distinguished Engineers.

They are Dr. John W. Sheehan, Houston, vice president of Shell Oil Company; R. L. Williams, New Orleans, La., vice president of the Freeport Minerals Company and the Freeport Sulphur Company; and Henry Meredith Houston, coordinator of environmental conservation, Exxon Corp.

NEW SON FOR THE HALEYS — Mrs. Robert Haley of Syracuse, N.Y., holds her adopted son Nquyen Anh Tuan Wednesday after seeing him for the first time at LaGuardia Airport in New York City. He and another child from an orphanage in An Loc, South Vietnam, were brought to the United States by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Darragh, who have brought several children from Saigon to new parents in the United States at their own expense.

Nixon With

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and State Henry A. Kissinger are expected to open talks with leader Houari Boumedienne in an effort to gain the increasingly Arab leader.

The two administrators scheduled a meeting at the White House with Boumedienne, vowing his first visit to the White House.

EXTRA

The Boumedienne take on extra importance because of the job of Mideast policy by 1 of the Golda Meir Cabinet.

The United States and Israel have not had relations since the war in 1967 and President Nixon has asked for today's a prelude to resuming normal contacts.

Plans Shape Up For Course

One more step has been taken toward initiating a program for registered nurses at Howard College at Big Spring.

An advisory committee has been selected to assist the college in structuring the program to meet the professional needs of the community.

Dr. Larry Key, dean of occupational education, says that one of the primary functions of the committee is to indicate the kind of equipment and facilities required by the school, which plans to start its first class in the fall of 1975.

Plans call for the R.N. program to have a prominent place, in the Allied Health facility, which would be housed in the new proposed multipurpose Community Center on campus.

"As we branch out into all facets of nursing care from the assistant to the registered professional, the need for a distinct classroom and training complex becomes critical," Dr. Key explained.

Key said that the Allied Science Building does not have enough space to house the R.N., vocational nurse, medical assistant, and nursing assistant programs in Allied Health.

The advisory committee for the new program will include Charles Weeg, administrator, Hall-Bennett Hospital, 411 East 9th; Truett Thomas, administrator, Cowper Hospital, 1500 Gregg; Betty Conway, R.N., Big Spring State Hospital, Box 231; Jack Reese, personnel manager, Veterans Administration Hospital; Jack Burnett, M.D., Malone & Hogan Clinic, 901 Main.

Nixon, Kissinger Talk With Algerian Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger are opening talks with Algerian leader Houari Boumediene in an effort to gain influence with the increasingly important Arab leader.

The two administration officials scheduled a morning meeting at the White House with Boumediene, who is making his first visit to any Western nation.

EXTRA

The Boumediene meetings take on extra importance because of the jolt given U.S.-Mideast policy by the collapse of the Golda Meir Cabinet in Israel.

The United States and Algeria have not had diplomatic relations since the Israeli-Arab war in 1967 and President Nixon asked for today's meeting as a prelude to resumption of formal contacts.

There were several reasons among the major Arab nations in order to strengthen his leverage in arranging a Middle East settlement.

LEADERSHIP

Boumediene has moved increasingly into a leadership role among the Arabs and Kissinger seeks closer ties to avoid being dependent on Egyptian President Anwar Sadat for his influence in the area.

In addition Boumediene has become a leader among less developed nations generally. He is in the United States to attend a special United Nations General Assembly meeting called at his initiative on pricing and allocating of raw materials held by developing nations.

Boumediene is expected to resist any quick re-establishment of relations without some direct link to a new phase in the Middle East peace move, particularly another Israeli troop pullback.

Siboney Has Banner Year

Sibony Corporation, of which Gamco is a subsidiary, experienced new all-time highs in net sales and net income for 1973.

James H. Sheils, president, said that sales grossed $11,229,000, compared with $8,783,000 the previous year. Net income was $1,704,000 (11.2 cents per share) as against $234,000 (1.5 cents per share) the preceding year.

Axel Heiberg Oil Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary, was responsible for the major part of the gain. It sold the remaining portion of owner interests in oil and gas permits in the Canadian Arctic Islands and Hudson Bay, Canada, but retained its royalty and set profit interests in the permit areas. Axel Heiberg Oil also has varying undivided interests in 380,000 gross acres in the Arctic Islands and 252,000 in the bay area.

Sibony also shared in completion, with Southeastern Public Service, of two gas wells in Jackson County, Texas during the year.

Mitchell Says He Wanted To Abet, Not Snag Inquiry

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell has told a federal trial jury he wanted to abet and not obstruct a Securities and Exchange Commission fraud investigation of international financier Robert L. Vesco.

"On your oath did you do anything during this entire period of time to fix or quash the investigation," he was asked Wednesday, shortly after he took the witness stand in his own defense.

"NO, SIR," replied Mitchell, President Nixon's first attorney general.

The criminal conspiracy trial of Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans was recessed Wednesday until next Monday, when Mitchell is scheduled to resume his testimony. Stans is expected to follow his one-time cabinet colleague as a witness.

Stans and Mitchell are accused of obstructing the SEC investigation, in return for Vesco's secret $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

The two are charged with conspiracy, obstructing justice and lying to a grand jury to cover up the scheme.

FACE-TO-FACE

Mitchell was asked by defense attorney Peter Fleming Jr. if he had believed or intended that by asking then SEC chairman William J. Casey to see Vesco aide Harry L. Sears he was "impeding, obstructing or delaying the SEC investigation of Mr. Vesco."

"Quite to the contrary, I thought I might further it," Mitchell replied.

As for being motivated by the Vesco campaign contribution, Mitchell testified he never knew of it until six months after he intervened with Casey — in late August or early September.

The government had emphasized in its case that just five hours after Stans accepted the $200,000 on April 10, 1972, Mitchell sent Sears to his long awaited face-to-face meeting with Casey.

MONEY IN HAND

"We delivered the $200,000 today," Sears said he told Mitchell, strengthening a government claim that not until the money was in hand was there any action on Vesco's behalf.

Mitchell testified he had no recollection of Sears telling him of the delivery of the contribution.

Mitchell also contradicted the government testimony of former White House Counsel John W. Dean III that he was asked by the defendant to call Casey in Vesco's behalf, and ask for aid in postponing SEC subpoenas against a quartet of Vesco aides.

JOHN R. LEEMAN

Recruiter Is Sent Here

The city of Big Spring will soon be getting a new Navy recruiter. He is John R. Leeman, a Navy Chief Petty Officer.

Chief Leeman hails from Wisconsin, and has traveled extensively during his 20-year career. He was stationed in Albuquerque for 20 months with the Naval Weapons Evaluation Facility at Kirtland AFB as an aviation storekeeper before receiving orders to Big Spring.

The Chief has just recently been selected for the Navy's newest rating, that of Navy Counselor. The rating was designed specifically for career personnel who want to specialize in recruiting and counseling. Chief Leeman believes that with his background and experience he is well qualified to talk to young men and women interested in education and training offered in today's Navy.

The Chief's last duty station was Guam where he was the station's command career counselor. It was the result of his job there that led to his selection as Navy Counselor.

Chief Leeman will be living in Big Spring with his wife Marvella.

Cattle Will Be Discussed Here

Beef cattle reproduction will be the theme of a three day program in Howard County beginning Monday, at 7:30 p.m. at the Howard County Fair Barn in Big Spring.

Events scheduled include an orientation meeting the night of April 15 and then pregnancy determination of cows on April 16-17.

A high level of reproductive performance is basic to an efficient beef cattle industry and no single factor in commercial cow operations has a greater bearing on production costs than does calf crop, said Bruce Griffith, county extension agent.

For this reason, the Howard County Livestock Subcommittee has planned this program to make available the latest information concerning beef cattle reproduction.

Included will be nutrition and disease and how they affect reproduction.

All livestock producers and interested persons are invited to attend. Speaker for the program will be Dr. Tom Woodward, area livestock specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, San Angelo.

Federal Retirees Meet Wednesday

The group is sponsored by NARFW (National Association of Retired Federal Employees) Chapter 1095. Chairman is Mrs. Marshall E. Brown.

All federal employees and friends are invited to attend the next meeting April 24, at 2 p.m.

Too Much Snooping

Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr. (R-Conn.) released what he called a memo of the Internal Revenue Service which resulted in the development of dossiers on "activist groups" and others considered to be potential tax evaders. He claims that the IRS has built up files on some 8,000 individuals, 3,000 organizations, plus collecting twice that many documents related to individuals and organizations.

This is another example of the tendency of agencies to set up apparatus to spy on citizens of this country. The military has admitted to having engaged in this sort of thing, and even now hearings in the Senate are being held on proposed legislation which would keep military intelligence out of the private sector.

Add to this the welter of information which the government, through the census, tax, and other branches of service, extracts from the average persons, then catalogues, computerizes, and presumably stores. The potential for mischief is enormous. The threat to your privacy is real and frightening. Already we have seen examples where information, however noble the motivations in obtaining it, has been prostituted and misused.

We are living in an age where the dignity of the individual is being besieged and belittled, where the system is becoming increasingly impersonalized.

The government does not have a right to pry into every facet of your activities, and it may already be getting more information than is needed or necessary. The time has come to put a halt to the business of bureaucratic functionaries dreaming up one more question, or engaging in preventative spying. God forbid that we should become a nation of informers.

Prime Example

Dr. Charles Warren could not have dreamed more than two score years ago when he registered at Howard College that someday he would be president of its board of trustees. Yet, he was named to that office Tuesday, a tribute not only to him, but to the college in providing a start that led, as it has for countless hundreds of others, to professional achievement and civic service. It also is interesting to note, that his basketball coach at the college, Harold Davis, now also is a member of the trustees. This is one of the real payoffs when a college can have plowed back into it some of the talent that it has nurtured in earlier days.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Sometimes, I think Judas has been mistreated in the historical record of his betrayal. Perhaps he was the victim of circumstances and we have vilified him for an unavoidable act.

The Scripture in John 13:27 quotes Jesus as saying to His betrayer, "What you are going to do, do quickly."

So there's no question but what this was the premeditated and deliberate act of Judas — perpetrated out of selfishness and pride. He did not have to be the "man of infamy" in human history, but he chose that despicable role.

Frankly, I have difficulty imagining part of that scene after supper, when Christ took the towel and washed the disciples' feet. Judas had already sold his Master and was at the table with the rest. Apparently, he permitted Jesus to wash his feet, and remained unmoved by that surpassing act of condescending love. I find that hard to believe, but it happened.

The traitor Judas even sought later to mask his treachery. When Jesus announced that one would betray him, he slyly asked, "Is it I, Rabbi?"

McNEIL THE ROAD AND NEIGHBORHOODS

The only question history asks of Judas is, "How could you betray the giver of life and only source of human hope?"

Trade News Upset Chinese

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chinese are upset about news commentaries that trade prospects with the United States have cooled, a China authority and corporate trade negotiator reports.

Officials of the People's Republic, Harned Pettus Hoose said, are anxious that trade relations continue to develop. "I was asked to please make this known to business circles in the United States. They were emphatic," Hoose said.

He added: "They are very disturbed and resentful of such reports and ask what is being done to cope with them." Hoose, a lawyer who was born and who lived 23 years in China, and who has spent six of the past 24 months negotiating

Watch Some Bubble Baths

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you say something about the danger of using bubble bath when bathing young children? My two-year-old granddaughter developed a urinary tract infection, and the first question the doctor asked my daughter was if she had been using bubble bath for the little girl's baths.

She said yes, and the doctor seemed surprised she was not aware of the danger for little children, especially girls. The preparation was a widely advertised one — Mrs. I. F.

The possibility has been discussed more than once in this column, but evidently your daughter didn't see it. It's not a case of condemning bubble baths altogether. There is, however, something for parents to be aware of.

Some ingredients in some bubble baths can be irritating to the delicate membranes of a youngster's external genitalia, and the irritation may, in certain circumstances, invite infection.

With a particular child and a particular product there may be no irritation; or it may be obvious immediately, in which case don't use it any more; or it may develop afterward, in which case you can suspect that rinsing was inadequate.

So if genital or urinary irritation appears, and you are using bubble bath, that's a reasonable warning to stop. Anyway, bubble bath adds nothing to the cleaning powers of the bath water. The risk is greater in little girls because the urethra is

Poor Smokey

Around The Rim
Marj Carpenter

Poor Smokey the Bear. First came the word that the Lincoln National Forest near Cloudcroft, N.M., had a forest fire that blackened and burned out 13,000 acres. That is the area where Smokey the Bear was found.

THEN CAME the news that a few days ago, the fellow who designed the format and theme of Smokey the Bear in an attempt to halt forest fires had died.

I love that Lincoln forest and the surrounding area and have had some very wonderful vacations there. I felt sick when the news came in about the fire. I really felt like somebody had been murdered when I thought about all of those trees.

When my son was small, he loved Smokey the Bear. He had a book and a miniature Teddy bear that looked like Smokey and he always would watch for the Smokey the Bear sign when we went to Lincoln Forest.

Back in 1964, we went to Washington D.C. and a reporter friend of mine — Sarah McClendon — made arrangements for me to go to a Lyndon Johnson press conference and bill signing. And she turned to my three kids and said, "Now who do you want to meet while Mama's at the White House?"

JIM BOB promptly answered, "Smokey the Bear." Sarah said "I'd like to meet him too, but he's not in Washington." Then the eight-year-old promptly answered, "Yes he is. He's in the National Zoo." Sarah looked taken aback and said "Well, we'll go see."

Smokey was there ten years ago and is still there unless he has died before this is printed. And in a glass case next to his cage was the official suit and hat. Jim Bob was upset because Smokey wasn't wearing his suit, but he still liked him. "Smokey has kind eyes," he reported.

Sarah wrote a national column on how friends from Texas often came and she introduced them to different politicians, but it was the very first time somebody wanted to meet Smokey the Bear and she loved it.

Sunday night when we heard about the fire and about Smokey, Jim Bob, the 18 year old, said, "Burning up forests somehow seems as bad as murder in a way," and then added, "Poor Smokey, poor Smokey . . ."

Tax Time

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — "Hello, Dick. Why the long face?" "I just got the word we owe $467,000 in back taxes, Pat."

"WHAT DO YOU mean WE owe $467,000?" "You and I. You see, we filed a joint return because we're man and wife. So actually you owe only half — which comes to $233,500."

"Where am I going to get $233,500?" "Look, Pat, I have my own problems. I can't worry about where you're going to find your half."

"I DON'T see why I have to pay half of your back taxes. You're the one who hired those stupid accountants that apparently didn't know what they were doing."

"Now, Pat, you're being unnecessarily harsh. They were only trying to save us taxes. Unfortunately they got caught in a technicality, and it cost us a half-million dollars. After all, nobody's perfect."

"DICK, I don't like to say I told you so, but remember when you told me that we only had to pay $792 in 1970 and I said there was something cockeyed with those figures?"

"I still think the President of the United States deserves better tax advice than you got."

"Listen, it wasn't my tax lawyers who screwed me up; it was Lyndon Baines Johnson. He was the one who told me I should give my vice-presidential papers to the National Archives for a whopping write-off. At the time I thought he was just being a friend, but now I see it was his way of sabotaging me. He never did like me, Pat."

"WHAT ABOUT all those other deductions on our apartment in New York City and San Clemente? Was that Johnson's fault, too?"

"That's just politics, Pat. They couldn't beat me at the polls so they're getting back at me through capital gains."

"All right, Dick. Even if everything you say is true, where are we going to get $467,000?"

"I was thinking of opening up San Clemente to the public. We could charge $3 a person. People might come over from Disneyland. All the ducks do it in England."

"WELL, THERE is one other way of raising the money but I hesitate to suggest it."

"What is it?" "The Alka Seltzer people have contacted me about you doing a TV commercial. All you could have to do is drink a glass of fizzy water, look into the camera and say 'I can't believe we owed the whole thing.'"

Trouble For Saigon

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — A Communist document captured by government forces in Binh Thuan province on South Vietnam's central coast six weeks ago points to tragedy growing out of the administration's bungled campaign in Congress for continued aid to Saigon.

THE DOCUMENT spells out unequivocally what the Communist high command in Hanoi wants: "The revolution in South Vietnam can only be won by means of armed violence in close coordination with the political violence of the masses." This is not local bombast; this is based on a secret resolution setting out a muscular strategy for the entire south.

That sharply contradicts propaganda spread in Congress by radical "peace" groups that continued bloodshed in South Vietnam is caused by Saigon. Beyond that, the Communist strategy reveals the danger facing South Vietnam if, as now seems increasingly possible, it is threatened by drastically reduced U.S. aid. Thanks to failing resolve and uncertain leadership, the root of the new Vietnam crisis is in Washington.

EARLY LAST autumn, U.S. intelligence experts still expected a massive Communist offensive this year from 210,000 North Vietnamese regulars in northern and western parts of South Vietnam. But the 21st Communist party conference in Hanoi decided Saigon's army was too strong. What resulted was a new strategy outlined in COSVN Resolution 13, secretly issued in December. In turn, COSVN 13 was incorporated in provincial directives, such as the guidelines sent out in Binh Thuan province.

THE DIRECTIVE, dated Feb. 5, is remarkable, omitting the usual propaganda about general elections and a coalition government (required by the Paris peace treaty). Instead, it bluntly admits that Hanoi's political progress in South Vietnam since U.S. forces pulled out has been disappointing.

"The enemy temporarily has the upper hand," says the directive. "... Puppet soldiers are still plentiful" and are "still able to control populated areas." The strategy: "Push our attacks strongly in all areas."

AS VIEWED here, such directives and other intelligence data mean the Communists will continue sharp military attacks locally this year while preparing for a possible general offensive in the future. In sum, Hanoi is not abandoning force as the means to unite Indochina; the strength of the Saigon regime has simply delayed the showdown.

The one factor that could advance the showdown is an economic breakdown, to which Communist headquarters have been alerting their cadre. A drastic, sudden reduction of U.S. aid would surely trigger such a breakdown. Thus, defeating Communists report that Hanoi's strategy is designed to undermine U.S. confidence in President Nguyen Van Thieu's government.

THIS DOVETAILS with the campaign laid out last October when veteran radical Tom Hayden invited 200 antiwar activists to Germantown, Ohio, for a strategy session.

Jobless Analysis

William F. Buckley Jr.

The "Boston Globe," an eminent New England daily, seems to cultivate among its columnists a sort of barracks room irritability. Thus all the emunctory sounds of polemicizing are carefully preserved, instead of flushing them out with clinical dispatch. Imagine it, I have been accused by an associate editor of the "Globe" of having made "an ass" of myself on "Firing Line." And guess how? "By saying nothing." On a program in which I took the liberty of pointing out the great material achievements of America, a panelist chimed in with "and six million unemployed?" "Buckley looked up, puzzled," said the writer — who proceeded to write 600 words about unemployment.

I DID NOT at the time go into the business of unemployment because that wasn't the subject of the program, but I think it only charitable that I share some of the knowledge I have on the general subject with the people at the "Boston Globe," to cheer them up a little.

Many people tend to enter the job market when it is good, i.e. when the opportunities are particularly tempting. That is why it often happens that the unemployment rate is high in especially affluent periods. During these periods there is an increase in unemployment as people quit one job in search for a better job. For instance, in 1960 which was a slump year, the quit-rate in manufacturing was 1.3. Now in 1969, which was a boom year, the quit-rate was 2.7. That would show up in higher unemployment figures. But the situation in which people are quitting a job in order to look for a better one is not the kind of situation one should deplore though the distinction is unlikely to attract the attention of talk-show panelists who know only how to come up with the big figures.

THERE IS nothing wrong, as I say, in trying to get a better job. Even in 1971, which was a bad unemployment year, only 46 per cent of those who were unemployed had lost their jobs. And 45 per cent of the unemployed during that year were out of work for less than five weeks.

You have then the category of those who do not need to work. Principally these are women and teenagers. The bulk of the unemployed between the ages of 16 and 21 never worked before they appeared as statistics in the unemployment fields. Of these unemployed in October 1972, there were 42 per cent enrolled in school, and only 7 per cent had lost previous jobs. Over 55 per cent were looking for temporary work, which implies that they will show up yet again as unemployed.

NOR IT IS accurate to equate a rise in the unemployment rate with an increase in jobless workers. If the same number of people remain unemployed for a week or two longer than normal on the average, the unemployment rate will rise significantly. In the recession year of 1970, unemployment was 4.9 per cent and average duration of unemployment 8.8 weeks. In the boom year of 1972, unemployment was 5.6 per cent — but the average duration was 12 weeks. But who would argue (outside of a few columnists) there were fewer job vacancies in 1972 than in 1970?

THE LABOR unions of course contribute to the paradox. If a state is highly unionized, those who are unemployed stay unemployed longer, looking for choicer jobs; and tend to have greater unemployment benefits. In Washington, for instance, there was a 9.1 per cent unemployment rate in 1972. There, there is 40 per cent union membership (in non-agricultural businesses) and the average weekly benefit of $60. And the average duration of unemployment benefits is 16 weeks.

North Carolina had 3.2 per cent unemployed, 7.8 per cent in labor unions, $39.50 in benefits — and 11.2 weeks average period of unemployment.

IN JANUARY of 1971 there were 70.3 million Americans employed and the unemployment figure was 6 per cent. Two years later there were 73.9 million persons employed, but the official unemployment figure was down only 0.9 to 5.1 per cent. The long and short of it is that in America our unemployment is itself in most cases a considerable tribute to the general affluence. There are jobs, but these are jobs that people don't care to take for a combination of reasons. It is a pity this is not understood by people who are not wise enough to let things pass when the alternative is to display the superficiality of their understanding.

Phone Rates Under Attack

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe, speaking cautiously and through an aide, said Wednesday there might be a need for state regulation of intrastate long distance telephone rates and of some local telephone service.

Charles Purnell, his executive assistance, read Briscoe's statement to the Senate Subcommittee on Consumer Affairs, headed by Sen. Ron Clover, D-Garland.

"I must admit that I have been surprised at some of the proposed rate changes that have come to my attention," the governor said, citing rural rate increases of 200 to 300 percent in some places.

"I do not favor regulation merely for the sake of regulation because this costs the taxpayers money, but from the information I have been furnished it would appear that there may be a need for regulation of intrastate long distance calls, and regulation in cities and rural areas where no regulation exists. I strongly urge this committee to look closely at such areas," Briscoe's statement said.

Bills to regulate telephone rates have been introduced in most legislative sessions for the past 10 years but have always died without a final vote. Most observers attribute this to the power of the telephone lobby.

Reformers Seek Insurance Against Future Watergates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seeking insurance against future Watergates, political reformers are urging 1976 presidential nominees to do their campaign business through the Republican and Democratic national committees.

The theory is that management, or at least supervision, by regular party organizations and leaders would guard against the kind of abuses that marked President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

But there is a flaw: the system works, in a presidential year a party's nominee for the White House decides who is going to run the party organization anyhow.

Vice President Gerald R. Ford has proposed that 1976 GOP candidates agree in advance that they will not set up special campaign committees without specific approval of the party.

A House Republican study panel has said that "a strong national party would help cur some of the excesses that have been witnessed during the past few years and would make it easier for the public to isolate responsibility for illegal actions."

But presidential candidates bring their personal political organizations as they campaign through the primary elections, seeking White House nomination. At that stage, the regular party organization is the politically neutral. The pattern has been for the personal organization of the winner to take over in the fall and run the national campaign.

The presidential nominee traditionally chooses the top leadership of his party's national committee. Committee members from the 50 states elect their chairman — but in practice, they ratify the choice of the presidential nominee.

Neither party committee had much to say about the 1972 presidential campaign. As always, the clout was where the presidential nominees put it. And as usual, there was friction between state party organizations and the campaign committees set up by the candidates.

In an era of political specialization and increasingly lengthy and expensive presidential campaigns, the pattern has been one of management and control by the candidate's men, not the permanent party structure.

All of this suggests that a long term solution to the problem of presidential campaign control is going to take more than persuasion aimed at candidates.

One proposal is part of the public campaign finance bill now before the Senate. It would allow a presidential nominee to set up his own organization to run the campaign — but the chairman, or someone he designates, would have to endorse every expenditure of over $1,000 in public funds.

Bill Would Ban Public Utilities Advertising

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public utilities would be banned from advertising to attract more customers during energy shortages under a bill to be introduced today by Rep. William Walsh, R-N.Y.

Walsh said in a statement that under the bill it would be illegal for a public utility to spend money to advertise "to increase the number of persons buying electricity or natural gas from such utility" when the Federal Power Commission determines there is a shortage of electrical power or natural gas.

Walsh said that it is "a bit astounding when you realize that all through our current energy woes, utility companies have continued to advertise... Attempts to attract more consumers to a product already scarce is an absurd practice and should be stopped."

The bill also would make it unlawful for any regulated public utility to charge a preferential rate to a person on the basis of the amount of electricity or gas bought from such a utility.

The bill contains a provision for a fine of $5,000 and $10,000 for each violation and states that each day of advertising during a shortage would be a separate offense.

Chase Named To VA Post

The appointment of Dr. John D. Chase, 53, a Veterans Administration Career Medical Officer for 22 years, as Chief Medical Director of the VA has been announced by Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

Dr. Chase will succeed Dr. Marc J. Musser when the present Chief Medical Director retires April 15. Dr. Foye replaces Dr. Benjamin B. Wells, who retired last Jan. 23 to become vice president for Medical Relations with the National Pharmaceutical Council. The new Chief Medical Director has been Chief of the Medical Service and a senior physician at the Tacoma, Wash., VA Hospital since April, 1973.

For nearly five years prior to his transfer to Tacoma he held two of the highest positions in VA's Department of Medicine and Surgery in Washington, D.C.

In announcing his appointment of Dr. Chase as the VA Assistant Chief Medical Director for Professional Services in May, 1968, Dr. H. Martin Engle, then Chief Medical Director, cited Dr. Chase's "extraordinarily balanced background of clinical experience, academic interest, and his demonstrated skills in administration."

Zinik Is Named To Zale's Post

DALLAS — Verne H. Zinik has been named president of Zale Corporation's Sporting Goods Division, effective May 1. He succeeds Harold Gardenzwartz who is retiring but will continue to serve the division as a consultant.

The company also announced the promotion of Arthur Gardenzwartz to executive vice president of the division.

Zinik joined Zale in 1971 as executive vice president. Previously he owned the Zinik Sporting Goods store in Salt Lake City, now part of the division.

Don't Pay Tax With Cold Cash

Cold, hard cash is not the way to pay you 1973 federal income tax, Robert A. LeBaube, acting Internal Revenue Service (IRS) district director for North Texas, said today.

"Cash can get lost in the mail," he said, "leaving the taxpayer without a record of payment."

For the sake of assuring proper payment and for keeping good records, LeBaube said, taxpayers should use either checks or money orders payable to the IRS. That way, if the check or money order is lost, taxpayers can stop payment and issue a new one.

Half Of Virgin Picture Covered

TOKYO (AP) — A nude study "The Virgin" caused a sensation at the opening of painting portrays one of Wyeth's first overseas exhibitions.

An essay in innocence, the painting portrays one of Wyeth's noble Finnish neighbors in Maine. But Japanese censors decided it showed too much of the subject's anatomy and allowed it to be displayed only after the exhibit's catalog featured the lower half of her figure.

Toombs Spending Week In Town

Glenn Toombs, Borden County judge who is a candidate for the democratic nomination for representative from the 63rd, Legislative District, is spending the week in Big Spring.

Accompanied by Mrs. Toombs, he has been visiting friends and making new acquaintances in the interest of his candidacy. He had been hospitalized recently upon his return from attending a national meeting of the Councils of Governments.

Drilling Tempo Is Up Sharply

The national and state drilling tempo continues up dramatically, according to the April 8 report of the International Association of Drilling Contractors.

On that date there were 1,396 rigs turning in the United States, an increase of 42 percent over the 985 at the comparable date of a year ago. The Texas total was 473, up 38 percent. Comparable figures on West Texas are not accurate, since there has been a division of territories in the reporting method since last year.

COYOTE ATTACKS GIRL — Marie Springer, 12, who lives on the outskirts of Los Alamos, N.M., where the atomic bomb was born, was attacked by a coyote and is undergoing a painful series of rabies shots. Marie and a friend, Chris Conn, also 12, were in sleeping bags in the front yard of one of their homes this past weekend when they were visited by a bold coyote. Police say coyotes are seen often inside the city and have been known to attack ducks on the city pond.

Dr. Cooley Says Heart Transplant Worthwhile

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — One of the pioneers of heart transplant surgery says he is convinced it is still a worthwhile technique even though his hospital no longer performs the operation.

"I think heart transplantation surgery has been put on the shelf until certain problems can be solved," Dr. Denton A. Cooley, founder and surgeon-in-chief of Houston's Texas Heart Institute, said Wednesday.

One reason, he said, is that it is too difficult to find heart donors. Another is that potential recipients are frustrated by the low margin of successes.

More than 100 persons have undergone heart transplants since the late 1960s but only four are still living, Cooley said.

"I am convinced that cardiac transplantation is a worthwhile technique," he told the Southern Surgical Congress.

"There is no comparison with the artificial heart. It's way out front. It may be two or three decades before the artificial heart can catch up—if it ever does."

Cooley became involved in a controversy with a former colleague, Dr. Michael DeBakey of Baylor University's medical college in Houston, after Cooley switched from the artificial heart method evolved by DeBakey to transplants.

CREATURE FROM ANOTHER PLANET? — Not really. The center support on a monkey-bar type piece of playground equipment at McCook Point Park in Niantic, Conn., took on an unearthly appearance following an overnight snowfall that blanketed the area.

Nixon's Dog Flights Quiz

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Russell Long, D-La., defended a probe into how many times President Nixon's dog had traveled on government aircraft without paying.

"I certainly don't blame the president for trying to stir up a little sympathy," Long said.

He added that he had asked for evidence of government transportation used solely for the purpose of giving the dog a lift. He said he acted on behalf of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation which looked into the president's tax returns.

"If the dog was accompanying the president, then the position is that the plane was going to make the trip, anyway, and we certainly can subscribe to that. But if a plane is dispatched just to take the dog from Washington to San Clemente, then we feel he should pay for it," Russell said.

However, he added, the committee found no evidence of any special dog flights.

Exec Switches To No-Violence Ads

CHICAGO (AP) — Advertisers are as much to blame as anyone for excessive violence on television, says the president of a company who has withdrawn sponsorship from about 70 programs he thinks could contribute to street crimes.

Leo S. Singer, founder of Miracle White Co., a laundry-products firm, says that while watching television in his home he saw "four channels at the same time featuring a man with a gun."

"IT JUST HIT ME"

A few days later he read about the death of a social worker in Boston who was doused with gasoline and set afire similar to the script of a movie shown a few days earlier on television.

"I can't really explain what happened," he said. "It just hit me. I resolved right there and then we would no longer be a part of that potentiality injurious syndrome."

Singer said that since then he has withdrawn his company's network and spot sponsorship from about 70 television programs and has watched closely where he has transferred his $3 million annual advertising budget.

HOW TO STEAL

"I'm not against good action shows," Singer said. "What I'm against is instructive violence... They show you how to steal a car and different ways of killing..."

"If one show can produce a death in Boston, featuring a bizarre crime that maybe has a one in ten million chance of giving some lunatic a murderous idea, what will 20 shows do to the odds?"

Miracle White has estimated sales of $25 million annually. Singer said sales have stayed about the same since he began more selective advertising.

Higher Marks For President

NEW YORK (AP) — A recent poll has given President Nixon higher marks for his over-all handling of the presidency but his worst rating to date on inspiring public confidence, pollster Louis Harris reports.

Asked whether Nixon inspired confidence, only 15 per cent rated the President good-to-excellent and 78 per cent marked Nixon fair-to-poor. Seven per cent were not sure.

But the President's over-all performance improved in the opinion of those questioned. Thirty-one per cent thought the over-all performance good-to-excellent, compared to 26 per cent in the preceding poll. He was called fair-to-poor by 66 per cent and 3 per cent were unsure how to rate him.

When asked whether they believed Nixon "will be found to have violated the law, as was true of Vice President Agnew," 49 per cent answered yes. Thirty-four per cent said no and 17 per cent were uncertain.

SLOW STREAKERS 'Snailing' Will Prove Costly On Padre Island

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Tex. (AP) — There's good news and bad news for the thousands of young persons planning South Padre Island this Easter holiday.

The good news is a good gasoline supply. The bad news is no southern tent city and streaking will be expensive.

"We expect to have plenty of gasoline," Mrs. Betty Prcin, manager of the Port Isabel Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday. She said all gas stations expected to have adequate supplies for the holiday.

A spokesman for the Cameron County Park Department said the usual "tent city" near the southern tip of the island will not be permitted because the area has not been marked off to allow uniform space for each camper.

Campers are being sent to an area north of Andy Bowie Park where tents can be pitched near the beach.

Justice of the Peace Bud Emmons said the fine is $52.50 for streaking or "snailing." He said "snailing" is a person who is streaking but "is slow enough to be caught."

"They don't like the $52.50. It shortens their stay," Emmons said.

He said he has fined five persons for streaking in recent weeks and expects more such incidents as thousands of college students arrive later this week.

Mrs. Prcin said all island motels and hotels are filled for the Easter weekend.

Respect For Presidency Does Not Mean 'Quaking'

WHARTON, Tex. (AP) — Remark Tuesday at a home-derogatory manner and in White House correspondent Dan Rather says his tremendous respect for the office of the president does not mean "quaking" and quivering in his presence. The CBS newsman made the cent years have been treated as "something akin to a monarch or some god." He added, "They're human beings and frequently we expect too much of them." Rather objected to what he called a progressive growth in the last decade of presidents using "the people's tax money to attack the press." The power of the press is great, but not beside the president's $400 million budget for the executive branch's public relations, propaganda operation," Rather said.
