County Spent $1,844,987 In 1973, Report Reveals

During 1973, Howard County spent $1,844,987, Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, said. She and Thorburn & Green, certified public accountants, have completed yearly county audits.

Mrs. Black's annual report is not limited to finance figures. In it, for example, she comments: "The airport fund reflects a net loss for the year 1973, after depreciation of fixed assets, which indicates that the charge basis should be reviewed and revised by the Howard County Commissioners Court."

"Big Spring Aircraft Inc. has the current contract for airport operation, but that contract expires in June. INVESTMENTS On another subject, investment of idle funds, Mrs. Black wrote: "Cash temporarily idle during the year was invested in time deposits ranging from 30 to 180 days to maturity."

"The average yield on maturing investment during the year was 3 1/2 per cent, and the (total) amount of interest received was $13,375.94." On Dec. 31, 1973, the county had investments worth $1,922,250, the report shows.

TAX ROLL UP "Assessed valuation (for property taxes) of $84,928,598 represents an increase of 0.98 per cent over the preceding year. "The assessed valuation at July 1, 1972, relating to the fiscal year 1973 is $83,892,600, an increase of 0.95 per cent.

Routine Items On Court Agenda Opening bids on airport windsock repair, and on two sets of panels and one set of scales for the Howard County Fair Barns are on the agenda for County Commissioners Court Monday.

The court will discuss the copying machine in the road administrator's office. The meeting will start at 9 a.m.

The bidding:
South West North East
2 NT Pass 3 NT Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♠

If you need a particular distribution to make a contract, you should base your play on the assumption that that distribution exists. South followed this precept to bring home a tough game.

South's two no trump opening bid doesn't quite meet textbook requirements, for the club suit was unguarded. However, South felt his hand was too good to open one diamond, for that might result in missing a game. Since his hand was balanced, South elected to lie a little about his club stopper, and North had something to spare when he raised to game.

West led the queen of spades, and declarer had seven tricks. There was an eighth to be had in clubs, for the defenders would be forced to hold up the ace of clubs for one round. It seemed that the only chance for nine tricks was to hope that the defenders would err and hold up the ace of clubs twice, for the spade lead made it unlikely that an extra trick would be developed in that suit.

Rather than rely on a defensive error, declarer came up with a line of play that offered several chances of success. He won the king of spades at trick one and led the ten of clubs, and quite naturally he was allowed to win the trick. Now, he shifted to a low diamond.

West won the eight of diamonds and continued with the jack of spades, forcing declarer's ace. The three high hearts and the ace-king of diamonds were cashed, stripping West of his cards in the red suits, and a club was led. West took his ace and his two spade tricks, but his last card was a low club and he was forced to concede the game-going trick to dummy.

Booklet On 1973 Farming Demonstrations Offered

Information from 1973 cotton, grain sorghum and forage demonstrations in Howard County are now available.

Bruce Griffith, county extension agent, announced.

Within a couple of weeks, the booklets containing results will be mailed to farmers.

The County Program Building Committee and its crops subcommittee were responsible for demonstrations. Jack Buchanan chairs the building committee, and Larry Shaw, the subcommittee.

STUDY SITES
The booklet contains specifications of dryland cotton varieties grown at the Rodney Brooks farm five miles west of Vincent; Gene Perry farm at Lomax; J. E. Peugh farm eight miles northwest of Knott; Larry Shaw farm three miles north and two miles west of Knott; and U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station.

Big Spring's experiment station also was the scene of a dryland narrow row cotton, dryland grain sorghum variety, dryland grain sorghum row spacing, dryland and dryland forage variety demonstration.

James L. Owen, Howard College ag instructor, conducted the demonstration involving sorghum hybrids, sorghum-sudan crosses and sudan hybrids.

Dryland cotton fertilization was studied at the Shaw farm.

FACTORS
The county extension office notes these factors affecting demonstrations:

"Weather for 1973 started out with an abundance of snow. The month of January saw seven snows. From this came 1.43 inches of moisture.

"It snowed six times in February for 1.64 inches of moisture. Total moisture for the year was 19.40 inches which is about 1 inch above average.

"Early rains were scattered over the county and as a result early cotton planting was scattered. However, from May 1 to June 15 moisture had fallen in sufficient amounts for most of the county to have planted.

"Cotton was planted on most every cultivated acre of the county and some 92,000 acres, it was estimated, were planted initially.

"Scattered hails from light to extremely heavy fell over the county and eventually some 16,000 acres were lost and replanted in grain sorghum. Some hail fell as late as September.

"The late-planted grain sorghum received rainfall at the critical time and most yields were quite good.

"About 60 per cent of the cotton was defoliated and due to the maturity, good weather, and excellent crop, 90 per cent of the cotton crop was off the stalk by Christmas.

"Both grain sorghum and cotton yields were good and prices were great. All indications are that Howard County will average over a bale to the acre of cotton.

"The first killing frost was on November 23, 1973."

Outstanding Howard County 4-H members and livestock winners are listed, rainfall and climatic statistics provided.

Prickly Pear Attracts Deer

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — If you want to attract deer, grow prickly pear on your land, advise a Texas A&I University-Kingsville graduate student and his major professor.

The suggestion appears in an article in a recent issue of Journal of Range Management written by James H. Everitt, an agricultural research technician with the Agricultural Research Service in Weslaco, and Dr. Lynn Drawe, associate professor of range science in the A&I College of Agriculture.

The article describes a study conducted on the H. B. Zachry Randado Ranch 35 miles west of Hebbbronville.

People Preparing Income Tax Returns Stay Busy

With Monday the deadline for getting tax returns in, local tax accountants and the post office have extra work to do.

"It'll follow the usual pattern. We usually have a good many returns mailed on the last day. But many more people are mailing them earlier than they used to, and we don't expect a really large, last-minute volume this year," said Weldon Bryant, assistant post master, Thursday.

Bryant said the post office also sold 55 self-help tax booklets to citizens for $1 apiece. But he warned Big Springers not to wait until it's too late to mail returns.

"They have to be in the Post Office by 5:20 p.m. or they won't get post-marked for April 15. Our last dispatch goes out at 5:30 p.m.," he added.

The H&R Block office, a branch out of Odessa, also has its work load.

"It's pretty hectic with 30-40 people coming in with returns as at least as many more returning every day to pick up forms we've prepared. It'll probably get even more hectic. We'll open this Sunday, noon to five p.m. and be open late Monday. A lot of people will wait until the last day. We prefer customers coming in earlier," said the manager, Mrs. Olien Elmore.

"I don't think we'll have to work Saturday to handle the overflow and get done before mid-Monday. After all, if they're (the customers) not done by Monday, they'll have to file for an extension," said Lorena Brown of the Sonora Honey Tax Service.

"We've been in rush and working long hours since December," said Mrs. Honey.

"We've been busy ever since Jan. 15. This is our busiest time of the year, and we're working just as fast as we can on these returns. We're working on about 50 now, and about 10 of them were brought in last week at the last minute. We've filed extensions on about 10 of the 50 and probably get extensions on another 10 that aren't in," said Sidney T. Clark, who owns a bookkeeping service.

Press Denies Coverage Pinch

NEW YORK (AP) — Dennis Banks, leader of the American Indian movement and a defendant in the Wounded Knee occupation trial now under way in St. Paul, Minn., has accused major news media of suppressing national coverage of the trial.

Banks said here that The Associated Press and United Press International had been pressured by the government to downplay coverage of the trial.

An AP spokesman said there had been no requests or pressure of any kind from any government agency, that trial coverage was and is being furnished.

THAT TIME OF YEAR — This is the best time of year to start new scrubs and plants, nurserymen will tell you. They are available at concerns all over town. Here, Homer Spears and Jack Woods of Montgomery Ward look over a shipment which recently arrived at their establishment.

Container Plants Prove Popular Inside, Outside

An attractive display of container plants can improve appearance of the home — both in and out of doors. As a decorative and horticultural rule of thumb, keep in mind that plants look best when grouped together. Unless a single plant is really outside, a grouping of both foliage and flowering plants make a definite statement and can be used functionally — as a "natural" room divider or to fill in an empty corner. Plants more readily adjust to their environment when kept together since the humidity in the surrounding air is increased. Remember to select plants with their ultimate location in mind. Don't try to grow sun-loving mums in a shady spot, or pots of African violets in direct sunlight. Outdoors, too, location is an important factor. In choosing pot plants for a shaded patio, fuchsias or tuberous begonias are logical choices, since both need protection from direct sun. Another decorating and green thumb rule to follow is to select

Indoor Garden Is Manageable

There are many reasons why you might like to bring the garden indoors. It clearly reduces the work of gardening to a more manageable area, and also makes it easy to continue this pleasurable activity all year round. Where to put your indoor garden? You may have a sunny room such as a porch that would be wholly converted to a conservatory. Add glass walls lined with shelves full of potted plants, a dozen or more ferns in hanging baskets, and perhaps some additional lighting fixtures. A humidifier would probably be a good investment too. Do get advice from a gardening professional as this may be more economical in the end. Perhaps you'd like to build into your present living quarters a readymade hothouse. These can be purchased in various sizes and installed into almost any wall. Visualize one wall of the living room transformed into a blooming, multi-level garden, and you'll begin to see the decorating possibilities.

Proper Varieties Should Be Used In Your Garden

An important step in getting your home vegetable garden off to a good start is to plant the proper varieties. "Varieties vary from region to region due to the climate, soil types and other factors," points out Sam Cotner, vegetable specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Planting only those adapted to the area in which you live will help you to have a more productive garden, and the vegetables will be of better quality."

Cotner also advises home vegetable gardeners to keep on the lookout for new hybrids. "Researchers for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and commercial breeders are continuing to work hard to develop new varieties that are better producers, that are resistant to certain insects and diseases, and that are better adapted to certain climatic conditions."

Leaf A Muffler Of All Noises

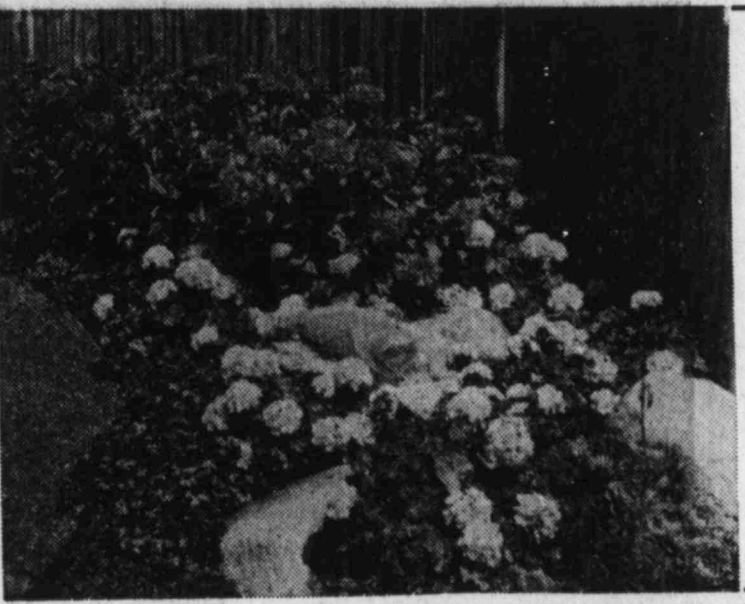

A major characteristic of contemporary society is noise. Traffic sounds, sirens, super-sonic booms, machinery, amplified musical instruments, raucous voices — all have become a way of life, and, according to informed authorities, contribute to the aggravate all sorts of tension-related ailments: Headaches, stomach ulcers, neuroses, mental illness, allergies, even cardio-vascular and circulatory disease. Nature has a gift to relieve the condition, the American Association of Nurserymen says. It's a simple, green leaf. Among its many other talents, a leaf has the ability to act as an acoustical baffle, deflecting sound waves, changing their direction, reducing their intensity.

Highway engineers have become aware of this. They know that mass plantings of hedges, trees, shrubs grass and vines can reduce the noise of heavy highway traffic by as much as 80 per cent. The noise level above wide expanses of concrete can be reduced as much as threefold if the concrete surface is broken up by plantings.

Rose Disease No Problem

Black spot, the most serious disease of roses, can be effectively controlled by beginning cultural and chemical practices in early spring, notes a plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "The disease stems from a fungus and causes a black spot with an irregular margin, surrounded by a zone of yellow tissue," explains Dr. Walter Walla. "Frequently, defoliation occurs, reducing the carbohydrate concentration in the canes and thus, the amount of foliage and flowering parts."

If control practices like pruning of diseased parts and application of fungicides are started in early spring, the disease will be less severe later in the season. Pruning the tops of infected roses will eliminate overwintering infection sites on the upper stems. Removing old leaves and raking and burning fallen leaves also eliminates infection sites, according to the Texas A&M University System specialist. "Begin fungicide applications when the first leaves are one-half inch long. Repeat these at intervals recommended by the manufacturer of the fungicide. And, be sure the fungicide covers both leaf surfaces," advises Walla.

time out for GOD

Clouds... and Light... and a bold spire
The symbols of man's wondering—his hope —his aspirations.

On a Friday the One they called Christ was dead. The world rolled on... nothing seemed changed.

Then it was Sunday: Newness everywhere!
He is risen! Men believe... gather... rejoice ... promise.

He is Risen! Clouds break. Light shines in darkness. Our faith reaches upward... in bold certainty!

Easter Sunrise Services Set In City Auditorium Sunday Morn

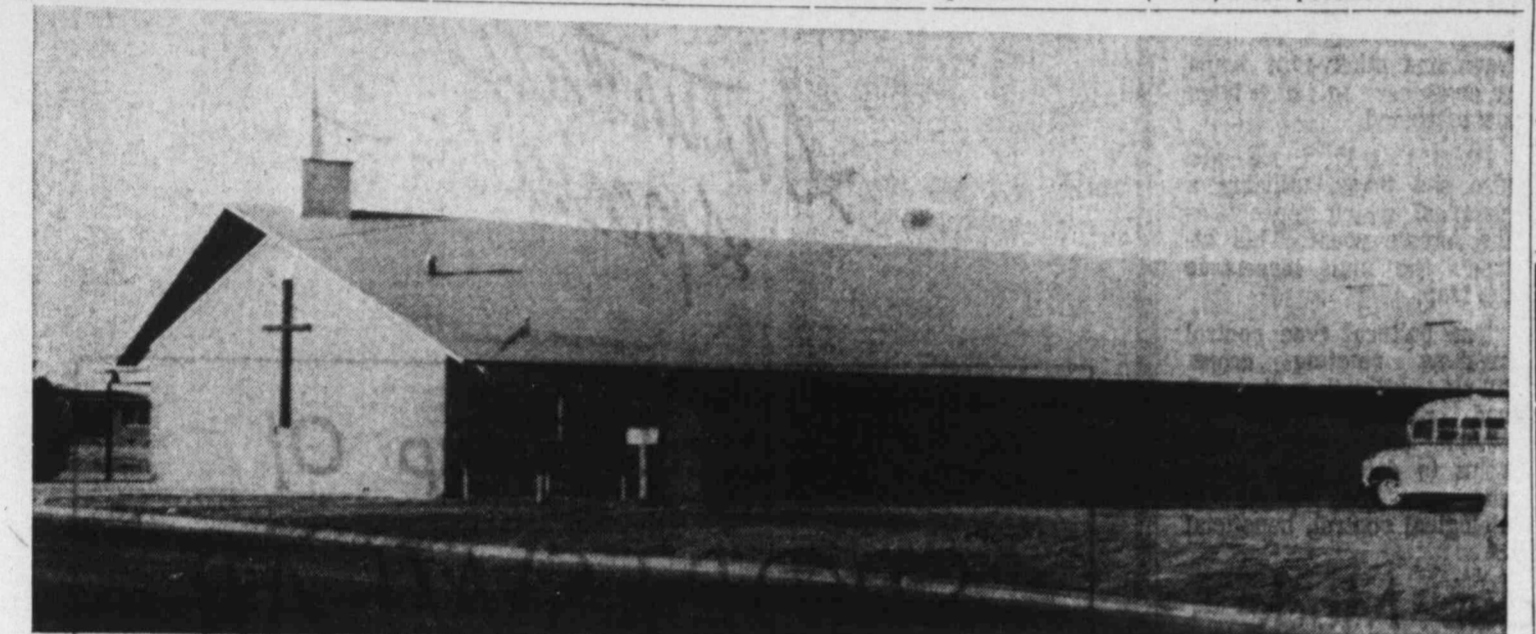

By MARJ CARPENTER
The Easter Sunrise Service will be held Sunday at 7:30 a.m. in the city auditorium. It will not be held outside at the amphitheatre this year. Dan McClinton is serving as director of the musical and dramatic portion of the service. A 50-voice choir will present the hour-long performance. Accompanists will include a piano, organ and a brass ensemble. Fred Davis will serve as narrator. The cantata to be presented is "No Greater Love" by John W. Patterson. Mary Sue McAllen will play the organ and Myla McClinton the piano. Soloists include Mona Lue Tonn, Ron Mason and Bruce Broughton. Johnny Shortes will serve as head technician.

The new $110,000 church building and rectory was viewed by the public. Special guests included clergy from the surrounding area, former pastors of St. Ann's and five Franciscan sisters who taught in the school. The Rev. Joseph B. Kennelly is pastor.

KENNETH N. TAYLOR, who paraphrased the runaway best seller, "The Living Bible," has received the 1974 "Better World Award" from the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Taylor accepted the award February 17 at the national organization's mid-winter conference at the Washington Hilton Hotel. More than 500 key leaders of the Ladies Auxiliary, VFW, were present.

The Auxiliary is one of the largest women's service and patriotic organizations in the world. It is composed of blood relatives of veterans who have served overseas in the United States Armed Forces. The Auxiliary has more than half-a-million members in 50 states, the District of Columbia, Japan, the Canal Zone, Okinawa, Germany and the Republic of China. "The 'Better World Award' recognizes your magnificent contribution to building a better world through 'The Living Bible,' your inspiring and easy-to-understand interpretation of the Bible," said Mrs. Alvin E. Gossett of Monroe, La., national VFW Auxiliary president, to Taylor.

OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY — Assembly of God Churches in Big Spring are Evangel Temple Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad; and First Assembly of God, 4th and Lancaster. Donald Calvin pastors Evangel Temple and Randall Ball pastors First Assembly. They join their denomination in observing the 60th anniversary.

Assemblies Of God Churches Mark Sixtieth Anniversary Of Founding

Members and adherents of the Assemblies of God around the world will observe the sixtieth anniversary of the founding convention of the denomination this month. On April 2, 1914, a group of approximately 300 persons met in Hot Spring, Ark., and in the next 10 days formed a fellowship which has grown into the largest Pentecostal church group in the world.

The Assemblies of God, with international headquarters in Springfield, Mo., has 9,000 churches in the United States and nearly 27,000 in other countries. Members and adherents number approximately five million. Ten years ago the figure was two million.

The distinctive characteristic of the revival which had reached the early twentieth century Pentecostals was what today would be termed a charismatic experience. In accepting the baptism in the Holy Spirit, they accepted the initial physical evidence of speaking in other tongues, or glossolalia. They also believed in the soon return of Christ, in divine healing, and in salvation through faith in Christ. These are still major doctrines of the Assemblies of God.

Rev. & Mrs. Donald A. Calvin

Although today the charismatic movement is often accepted in the mainline churches, those who responded to the Pentecostal revival early in this century soon found themselves no longer welcome. In calling the initial meeting, E. N. Bell, a former Baptist minister, and other leaders of what was to become the Assemblies of God, listed five reasons for coming together at Hot Spring. These included doctrinal unity, conservation of the work, foreign missions interests, chartering churches under a common name for legal purposes, and the need for Bible training. With Bell as its first elected chairman and J. Roswell Flower as secretary, the Assemblies of God was formed. The first headquarters was in

Findlay, Ohio, where T. K. Leonard offered the use of his small Bible school facilities for the Gospel Publishing House operated by the new organization. The following year the leaders moved the headquarters and printing operation to St. Louis, Mo., where they continued three years in rented quarters. In 1918, a former grocery store and meat market at the corner of Lyon and Pacific Streets in Springfield, Mo., became the first property owned by the new organization, and Springfield has been the permanent headquarters since that time. The Gospel Publishing House printing plant was moved to a new location in 1948. Since that time the administration building and the International Distribution Center have been added to complete the headquarters complex at 1448

Boonville Avenue. The Assemblies of God continues to place a strong emphasis on foreign missions, with currently more than 1,100 missionaries in 92 countries. The missionary approach is to build an indigenous church which can function with its own national leadership. To this end there are 111 Assemblies of God Bible training schools in foreign lands, including advanced schools of theology in Africa, the Far East, and Southeast Asia. More than 20,000 national Assemblies of God ministers now carry the gospel to their own people and offer administrative leadership to the national church. In the United States nine accredited colleges and the new Assemblies of God Graduate School furnish a steady stream of pastors, evangelists, missionaries, and ministers in specialized fields.

Lubbock Minister To Speak

Dr. Jaroy Weber, minister of the First Baptist Church in Lubbock and who has pastored some of the largest churches in the Southern Baptist convention, will be the speaker for a series of meetings beginning Sunday evening at First Baptist Church.

Dr. Weber will be with the church through Wednesday evening, preaching at 12:15 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. daily except for the 7 p.m. service Sunday. Joe Whitten, the church music director, will lead the church choir and congregation music for the series of services. Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor at First Baptist, urged everyone in this area to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Dr. Weber.

A native of Louisiana, Dr. Weber became a Christian at age 8, surrendered to preach at 12 and was said to be the youngest pastor in Texas at 16. He holds the B.D. from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and the D.D. from Louisiana Baptist College. He accepted a call to Lubbock in October 1973. He has headed the SBC pastor's conference, traveled and preached on international missions and Mobile's outstanding citizen award.

Sunday evening's service will be "Family Night," Monday, "Choir Night," Tuesday, "Good Neighbor Night," and Wednesday "Sunday School Night."

DRIVES TANKER — Sandy Moser, a gasoline tanker driver for Atlantic Richfield Co., takes time out on her route that extends from Seattle to Bellingham along Interstate 5. The 35-year-old mother of three, who was hired seven months ago, may be the only woman in the country driving a tanker.

Biologist Discusses Control Of Insects

Ronnie Phillips, biology instructor at Howard College, gave advice on the control of insect pests when he was guest speaker recently for the Organic Soil Makers' meeting at the U.S. Experiment Station.

In listing the types of control, Phillips said the physical type consists of using the hands to pick insects from plants, and the mechanical type includes insect traps such as light traps and sticky-type traps or containers to which bugs are attracted.

Phillips said there are also sex traps, utilizing a chemical which reproduces the female scent. This attracts the male insects to the trap.

The cultural type control involves rotating crops, tilling, cultivating the soil and plowing under or burning plant residue. This helps to deter white grubs and corn root aphids. In biological control, beneficial insects such as Lady Bugs help do away with harmful insects.

Phillips concluded by saying that resistance is being bred into many varieties of plants.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Paul Koshi, president. Dr. Koshi announced that the free budding and grafting school will be held April 18 at the county fair barn. All interested persons are invited to attend. H. H. Thames was welcomed as a new member, and guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Ross Smith, Colorado City; Russell Johnson and Boyce Patton. Mrs. Smith won the prize, a cookbook. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., May 13 at the experiment station.

Club Gives Two Trees

Arts and crafts work, to be displayed at the state convention in Lubbock April 18-21, was turned in by members of Ada Belle Dement Civic and Art Club at a meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Lillian Reed, president.

It was reported that the club's gifts, during April, have consisted of two crepe myrtle trees to Mt. Bethel Church and personal items for William Dee Bird, a local resident whom the club is assisting. The next meeting will be in the Reed home April 23. Reports of the convention activities will be heard when delegates return from Lubbock.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm 21, considered attractive with a good personality. My problem is rather embarrassing, but I think there is something wrong with me.

When I meet a guy I like, right away I get sexually involved with him. In fact, going to bed with him is the only thing on my mind.

Naturally, no guy is going to turn anything down, but my sexual involvement never seems to accomplish what I hope it will. The longest a guy has ever gone with me is two months. They all give me a big rush at first and then they quit calling. Is it possible they get tired of sex?

I know I'm too forward, but I just can't help it. I don't think I'm a nymphomaniac because I don't get all that much out of sex. Could I be over-sexed?

How can I keep from falling head over heels in love with guys I barely know? I can't seem to help myself. I'm always getting hurt.

Do I have a problem? And how do I solve it?

PUSHOVER
DEAR PUSHOVER: You have a problem, and you can solve it by getting to know yourself and understanding why you behave as you do. You're insecure and searching for a lasting relationship, and you believe that the way to keep a guy coming back is by giving him sex. Wrong! (Obviously.) A good therapist is the answer. Ask your family doctor to recommend one. Or call your Family Service Association.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both dieting. We were invited to spend the weekend with some close relatives of mine. When I accepted, I expressly asked my aunt to please keep the food simple, and not to bake because we were dieting. She agreed.

When we got there she had pumpkin bread, fudge brownies, cheesecake and all the things we love and couldn't resist.

Because we are good friends, I spoke up and said I wished she hadn't done all that, especially since I had asked her not to. It caused hurt feelings.

Now the family says that it's up to the dieters to resist temptation because others should not have to go without. We say when houseguests ask the hostess not to serve high calorie foods she should comply. What do you think?

CALORIE COUNTER
DEAR COUNTER: Your aunt agreed to comply with your wishes, and she broke her promise. Shame on auntie. If she felt you were being unfair to the other guests by requesting she limit her menu to low-calorie food, she should have said so.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $2 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Sewing Club Making Patients' Lap Robes

The Sew and Chatter Club completed the tacking of a quilt during Wednesday afternoon's meeting in the home of Mrs. Tom Rosson, 108 Lincoln. The quilt will be included in a gift basket for a local family.

Mrs. Lee Porter, president, distributed fabric from which members will make lap spreads for residents of Big Spring Nursing Inn.

During a social hour, the hostess served cake and coffee as members honored Mrs. H. V. Crocker on her birthday. It was reported that another member, Mrs. Ruby Billings, is recuperating at home after a fall that broke both her wrists.

The next meeting will be at 3 p.m., April 27 in the home of Mrs. C. L. Roe, 1300 Johnson.

Save Time With Limited Dishes

If you are bent on saving time, limit the number of dishes needing much preparation time to one or two per meal. And serve fruit — fresh, canned or frozen — often for dessert.

Cup Cakes With Lemon Filling

Fill sponge-cake cups (available in supermarkets) with lemon pie filling made from a package mix. Top with whipped cream and garnish with flaked coconut or toasted slivered almonds. Quick and easy party dessert.

Team Calls For Over-All National Energy Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential study team says that federal energy regulation is unresponsive to change, poorly coordinated and suffers from lack of an over-all national energy policy.

But a super regulatory agency won't solve the problem, and neither will partial consolidation of the existing 40-plus agencies that regulate energy, the team has found.

It recommends instead that a National Energy Council be created to supply over-all policy guidance and that coordination among agencies be increased in such areas as licensing and data collection.

FOR EXAMPLE

And it warns that unless federal, state and local government can better coordinate the siting of new energy facilities, the federal government may have to preempt the right to make such decisions.

The report is being made public today by William O. Doub, an Atomic Energy commissioner and chairman of the study team formed as a result of President Nixon's energy statement of June 29, 1973.

Deficiencies identified by the study team in the organizational structure of federal energy regulation include:

—Lack of a means to guide agencies on over-all energy policy. The study team found, for example, that while Federal Power Commission policies first drove many large consumers of natural gas to use of coal and oil, later decisions by the Environmental Protection Agency then limited the kinds of oil these consumers could burn. But neither agency had an effective means to take account of the other's objectives and policies.

POOR DATA

—Unresponsiveness to change, because agencies regulate on a case-by-case basis, the team found an inflexibility and shortsightedness that makes it slower and more difficult to benefit from new energy technology.

—Poor data coordination. The study group found there is no central data base for energy information, and most agencies rely on the regulated industry for the figure. It believes such a lack of information hampered government reaction to the Arab oil embargo.

—Poor federal-state-local coordination. Each level of government often doesn't take notice of the other's interests, with a resulting piecemeal, parochial and stop-gap approach to energy problems.

Marijuana Cache Is Discovered

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell County Sheriff Bill McGuire, along with Texas Ranger Gene Graves and Kenneth Crow, district attorney investigator, found 16 kilos (about 35 pounds) of marijuana in an old shed on a farm north of Loraine Sunday.

The find was the largest ever in Mitchell County and was estimated to have a street value of $15,000. The marijuana was out of Mexico, McGuire said. The find is still under investigation.

In a separate case, McGuire late Sunday arrested a Loraine man for felony possession of marijuana with intent to distribute.

Charged in the case was Lupe Galvan Jr., 23. He was released on a $10,000 bond.

Group's Offer To Buy Papers Of Nixon Nixed

DALLAS (AP) — A spokesman for the National Committee to Support the President said today President Nixon has refused the group's offer to buy his vice presidential papers.

"Mr. (George) Bush's office has informed us that President Nixon made an irrevocable gift of the papers to the national archives and he won't back out of it," said Cecil Emerson, a spokesman for the group. The offer was made through Bush who is GOP National Chairman.

Earlier, Jim Asaff, co-chairman of the group, said the papers would be housed at Baylor University, Waco, Tex., in the event Nixon sold them. Asaff said the group would pay up to $500,000, through donations, for the papers in an effort to solve Nixon's income tax problems. The President had used the papers as income tax deductions when he donated them to the national archives.

Emerson said Bush's office said Nixon appreciated the offer but he could not renege on his donation of the papers to the archives despite the advantages of a possible sale.

SANCAP. BECAUSE YOU HAVE ENOUGH SOIL PROBLEMS ALREADY.

If the soil in West Texas was the same as the soil everywhere else maybe the herbicides they use would be good enough for you.

But you've got different soil. Sandy soil. And different problems.

You need an herbicide specifically made for sand, loamy sands and fine sandy loam soils. You need Sancap.

If you used it when we introduced it last season, you know what it can do.

STOP CARELESSWEED AND RUSSIAN THISTLE COLD.

Without hurting your cotton.

With just ordinary rainfall or irrigation.

And all you have to do is broadcast Sancap over your field at planting or within two days after.

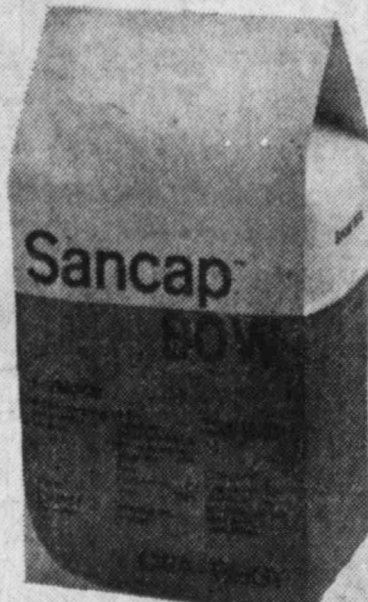

No incorporation, either.

Sancap. The only herbicide made for sandy soil. We made it especially for your soil and problems.

And not anybody else's.

Power Rates Authority

AUSTIN (AP) — The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals held that contrary to a lower court decision the city of San Marcos does have authority to set rates for Lower Colorado River Authority electricity.

However the appeals court said the city could not stop the LCRA from collecting a utility rate increase in October 1972, and a rate ordinance passed shortly afterwards was void because proper notice was not given LCRA before the action was taken.

The appeals court also said that rates set by the LCRA for San Marcos on May 24, 1973 were void because the agency did not give advance notice as required by the Texas Open Meeting Law.

San Marcos brought the lawsuit against LCRA asserting the city's power to fix rates charged by any electrical utility serving its inhabitants. The authority disputed the claim saying the LCRA had exclusive power to set rates in San Marcos.

"The trial court erred in entering its declaratory judgment that the city of San Marcos had no power, jurisdiction or authority to set rates for the sale of electricity by the Lower Colorado River Authority within the limit of San Marcos," the appeals court said.

"We reverse that judgment and render judgment that the city has exclusive power, after notice and hearing, to regulate by ordinance the rates of the Lower Colorado River Authority operating in the corporate limits of the city, subject to review as provided by law."

Dividend Is Up By 15 Cents

NEW YORK — The board of directors of American Petrofina, Incorporated, has declared semi-annual dividend of 75 cents per share on the Class A and Class B common stock for the first half of 1974. The dividend represents a 15 cents per share increase above the semiannual dividend paid in the second half of 1973 and 20 cents a share over the dividend paid at the same time last year.

GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN WARMS Verbal Pokes Are Traded

By The Associated Press

Gov. Dolph Briscoe vowed Thursday to reverse a trend of losing Texas' most populous county to Frances Farenthold and promised to help meet the needs of youth.

Mrs. Farenthold, in turn, disputed Briscoe's campaign slogan that "we kept the promise."

Brisco, bidding for his second term in office and the first four-year gubernatorial term in the state's history, predicted in a Houston that he will win Harris County in the May 4 state Democratic party primary.

DISCRIMINATION
He lost the county twice in 1972 to his opponent again this year, Mrs. Farenthold.

He answered her charges that he has done nothing as governor to end alleged insurance rate discrimination against the young and elderly by saying, "This is a problem the insurance commissioner is working on, and I'm sure he will do everything he can along that line."

In Corpus Christi, the governor told West Osco High School pupils that young people too often have been overlooked by the government in its efforts to meet the needs of the people.

"But here in Texas, at least, we can be sure that state government will not shrink from the challenge of helping to make opportunity the birthright of every child," Briscoe said.

He continued: "We must no longer assume that early childhood and youth is a time of health, happiness and opportunity; we put the full powers of government behind that concept and guarantee it."

Mrs. Farenthold, waiting for an Amtrak train from Austin to Laredo, challenged Briscoe's campaign slogan as she asserted:

TAXES GOING UP
"He said in 1972 he favored prohibiting registered lobbyists from serving on the boards and commissions of state agencies, yet he personally appointed 17 registered lobbyists to those boards and commissions. . . . He promised no new taxes. Yet property taxes are going up all over this state because he refuses to call a special session of the legislature to help our school districts out of the emergency financial situations they are in."

Mrs. Farenthold also said that despite a promise to fight crime, "the crime rate, which was going down the year before he took office is on the rise again."

A Republican candidate for governor, Odell McBrayer, issued his first statement, saying he was definitely in the race to win. McBrayer is considered an underdog in the race against former Lubbock Mayor Jim Granberry.

SPECIAL INTERESTS
He criticized the work of the Constitutional Convention and predicted the voters would reject the new constitution it will issue. "The people of Texas voted for a new constitution, and all they are getting is a more emphatic special interest oriented, highly partisan version of what they already had," McBrayer said.

Bob Bullock, running for comptroller, said the state should remit city sales tax collections back to the cities every month, instead of quarterly.
