

SAYS SHE'S BECOME 'ANTI-AMERICAN' — Melina Mercouri is shown during interview at a New York film studio Wednesday during which she said she has become "totally anti-American" because of apathy in this country about conditions in Greece. The film star said she regards herself as a homeless exile after seven years of campaigning against her homeland's ruling junta.

Israeli Planes Bombing Eyes, Ears Of Mideast

By The Associated Press
Israeli planes bombed and strafed Syrian positions on strategic Mt. Hermon again today, Egypt hinted it might join the battle, and another terrorist explosion erupted in a Tel Aviv suburb, injuring 13 persons, officials reported.

The Israeli planes scrambled following artillery barrages aimed at Israeli troops occupying the 9,232-foot mountain, often described as Israel's Middle East eyes, an Israeli spokesman said.

The 300-square-mile Syrian enclave captured last October, the Israelis said. But the Syrians charged the Israelis with firing first.

It was the second straight day Israeli planes were called into action and the fourth time in a week.

Israel has held all high ground on Hermon since the October war. From the craggy windswept top viewers can see Damascus and beyond, the Israelis say.

In Cairo, War Minister Ahmed Ismail said Egypt would fight alongside the Syrians if the situation on the Golan Heights became critical.

Ismail, who is commander in chief of the armies of both Syria and Egypt, said: "If the fighting became more serious or the situation became critical, no doubt we will take part."

More than 24 hours after the body of a Jerusalem taxi driver was found wired to a booby trap, guerrilla sabotage bombs have been going off in Israel almost daily for the past few weeks.

The Israeli military command reported a one-hour air attack on the Mt. Hermon range Wednesday but gave no details. It said all the planes returned to their bases.

Robber Grabs Six Hostages

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A policeman and a gunman were killed and another policeman and a hostage wounded today during a foiled bank robbery, police reported.

Police sharpshooters opened fire on the gunman as he tried to herd about six hostages into a sedan he had demanded in exchange for the lives of his prisoners.

'Zebra' Killers Hunt Pressed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto has appealed to blacks to cooperate if they are stopped on city streets for identification and possible search by police hunting for the "Zebra" killers.

"Extraordinary situations like this call for extraordinary measures," Alioto told reporters Wednesday. "We will be stopping a number of people who fit a certain profile — a lot of them innocent."

"Mass murderers are simply roaming the streets of San Francisco, killing people at random without any real motive or without any real sense. This can't be investigated as a regular murder."

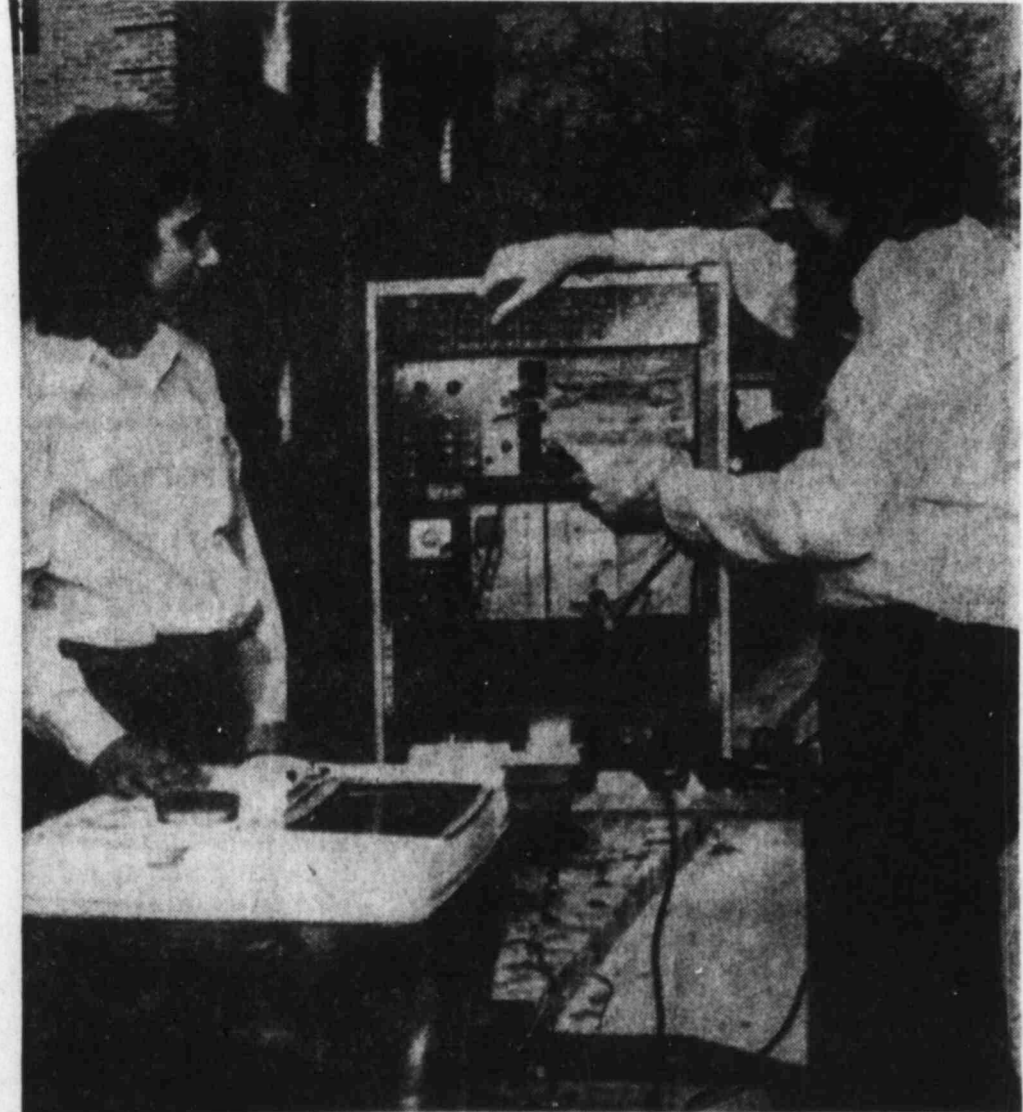

Nelson T. Shields IV, 23, became the 12th white person killed within five months by a black gunman who fired without warning and without provocation Tuesday night.

Six other whites have been wounded in shootings police have code-named the "Zebra" case.

Washington Garner, the black president of the Police Commission, urged the city's blacks, "If you are stopped, don't resent it. Show your identification and, if necessary, permit a search."

Executed By Firing Squad For Stealing

MOSCOW (AP) — The former head of a collective farm construction firm was executed by firing squad for stealing state funds in the Azerbaijan Republic, a newspaper reaching Moscow from there today reported. The man was named M. G. Efeniyev.

NOW HEAR THIS! — Charles Hamad, left, a graduate student from Danbury, Conn., and Jeff Corey of Huntington, N.Y., show their talking trash can at C. W. Post College in Brookville, N.Y. When trash is put in the can, it talks by tape through the use of the electronic equipment behind it. The talking trash can delivers five different messages.

'MISUNDERSTANDING' Sadat, Moscow Arms Fuss Boils

CAIRO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat said today Russia has declined to give Egypt some of the arms it has asked for since the October war, that his military is looking for arms elsewhere, and that he wants to meet with the Kremlin chiefs.

ARAB CAUSE
"As a responsible man before my people and the Arab nations, I cannot stand handcuffed and remain six months doing nothing, without taking any action to give the needed protection and guarantees to the whole Arab cause."

In Washington, President Nixon arranged a surprise meeting with Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy. Details were not disclosed.

There has been a steady cooling of relations between Cairo and Moscow over the past few months.

"The Soviet Union has hesitated for the past six months to respond to some of our arms requests, and accordingly I have ordered the armed forces to look for arms sources from others and this has already been implemented," Sadat said.

He spoke before a joint meeting of the Arab Socialist Union and People's Assembly. The address was carried by Cairo radio.

Sadat described the Soviet failure to supply the requested arms as "a misunderstanding for which I find no reason. We still seek their friendship and want it but let it be known we base our friendship on our interests and principles..."

NEW APPROACHES
Sadat added that "the misunderstanding with the Soviet Union may be caused because of our new friendly approaches with the United States."

"Our relations with the United States have improved because the Americans have changed their policy regarding the Middle East problem."

"U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has exerted quite an effort to settle the Middle East problem after the U.S. bias toward Israel."

'ARTHUR' TALKS, SINGS Talking Trash Can Makes Slightly Risque Suggestions

BROOKVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — He talks, he sings, he makes slightly risque suggestions and he swallows garbage.

He's Arthur, the talking trash can.

His inventor thinks a kind word from Arthur encourages people to fill him with garbage rather than dump it where it doesn't belong.

Arthur is the brainchild of Charles Hamad, 24, of Danbury, Conn., a graduate student in psychology at C.W. Post College, and Dr. Jeff Corey, an associate psychology professor and Hamad's thesis adviser.

Arthur's voice is a tape cassette, activated when trash is stuffed into the 45-gallon can.

Hamad said he has five different tapes for Arthur. Several say, "Thank you," one plays music and another makes random noises.

And then there is what Hamad calls the "X-rated tape."

Hamad says it's "kind of corny, but says things like, 'Meet me up in your room in 10 minutes with a whip and a prune Danish.'"

But Hamad says a simple "thank you" seems to work best.

Arthur is a standard plastic trash can. There is a face painted on the lid, with blond hair, blue eyes and yellow teeth. The teeth surround a plastic mouth attached by a hinge through which garbage is deposited.

When the mouth is pushed, the cassette is activated.

Hamad says he placed Arthur in a college dining hall for about four hours one day.

For the first hour, the cassette was turned off, and only 20 persons stuffed garbage in Arthur.

Lamesans Face Tax Increase

LAMESA — A new city budget meaning increased taxes, containerization and increased telephone rates were the major issues acted upon during Monday night's City Council meeting.

Mayor Lloyd Cline was re-elected to his seventh term as a mayor and Jim Norris was named mayor pro-tem.

A proposed $1,417,976 city budget which will result in a 16 cent increase in city taxes was adopted on emergency reading despite the fact that it was scheduled for first reading on the agenda.

The reason given for passing the budget on emergency reading was because the city began operating in a new fiscal year the first of April.

Included in the budget are funds for the city's part of the airport and the parks improvement projects. The budget is approximately $150,000 larger than last year's.

General Telephone Company of the Southwest then requested a rate increase with a 30 per cent jump requested on business phones and six per cent on residence phones. Following question and answers, the council approved the raise on a 3-1 vote.

AT BS RATTLESNAKE ROUNDUP Audobon Society Official Piqued Over Treatment

By MARJ CARPENTER

James P. Rod, assistant to the president of the National Audubon Society in New York City wrote the County and City Attorneys here this week objecting to some of the information released in connection with his appearance at the Big Spring Jaycee Rattlesnake Roundup.

Rod emphasized that neither he, nor Ms. O'Marr attempted to file some type of injunction to halt the Rattlesnake Roundup. They claim that "The sole purpose of our visit was to bring the Texas State Humane Law to your attention and ask why it was not being enforced as it applies to rattlesnakes."

Rod further claims "our observations on jury composition under the jury wheel system of juror selection and the well-known attitude of Howard County Judge Mitchell regarding rattlesnakes made it abundantly clear to us that any attempt on the part of a private citizen to force compliance with the law would be met with indifference, if not downright amusement on the part of West Texans."

document the inhumane aspects of that roundup and assess for ourselves the cruelty and torture we were told existed. In addition, two other representatives of national organizations were present during the roundup in Big Spring."

He also said that he was the only representative who accompanied a snake hunter on his rounds.

In the lengthy letter, Rod also stated, "Snakes are certainly capable of feeling pain (contrary to the misinformation handed out by uninformed Jaycees) when skinned alive, suffer from dehydration when deprived of water for weeks, develop respiratory infections when gassed from dens, are poisoned when Right Guard deodorant vapors are sprayed in their faces, suffer crushed vertebra and ribs when stepped on by Jaycees seeking to impress children, suffer broken necks when inexpertly milked by amateur snake handlers and develop numerous other disorders when kept in unventilated containers with dozens of other rattlesnakes."

Local Jaycees recently pointed out that the snakes have their heads cut off before they are skinned and are not skinned alive.

"UNPLEASANT"
Another paragraph of the letter added, "Finally and perhaps my most important reason for writing you, I wish to inform you of a particularly unpleasant confrontation which occurred Saturday, March 30, at the National Guard Armory. An amateur herpetologist, while invited to leave the snake handlers talk — and describing various articles displayed on the tables in the Armory; articles which had been made from snakeskins, was confronted by six Jaycees and asked what he was doing. The man introduced himself and said that he was merely tape-recording the talk because he was interested in snakes."

"One Jaycee asked, 'Are you one of those damn ecologists down here to try and shut us down?' The man replied that he alone was hardly big enough to shut them down. At that point the man was forced to shut off his tape recorder and was invited to leave the Armory. To say that he was literally run out of town would perhaps be too strong, but three Jaycees followed him out the door, apparently to make sure he drove away."

"Not only was the man a citizen who paid admission to attend this public event, but the confrontation occurred in a public, state-owned building over which the Jaycees had no jurisdiction and therefore, no legal right to force the man to shut off his recorder or leave the premises."

Counts Of Raping Girl In Jail Hit Deputy, 2 Cons

HONESDALE, Pa. (AP) — A deputy sheriff and two prison inmates are being held on charges of raping a 14-year-old girl in the Wayne County Jail on Easter Sunday.

Deputy Sheriff George Brennan, 53, of Pleasant Mount, and inmates David Lambertson, 22, of Honesdale, and Thomas Carroll, 40, of Equinunk, were arrested Wednesday, Asst. Dist. Atty. Nicholas Barna said.

Wayne County Sheriff Henry Kalinowski said Brennan was dismissed on Wednesday after he learned of the charges.

Bride's Ex-Lover Streaks Nude At Her Wedding

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The bride and groom stood solemnly before the altar, family and friends gathered around to witness the nuptials.

Suddenly, the bride's ex-boyfriend streaked nude among the family, the friends, attendants, the bride and groom and dashed outside the church into the car of a woman companion.

The woman driver wrecked the car down the road, however, so the naked intruder leaped and streaked to another car driven by a man.

Police were in hot pursuit all the way but lost the streaker when they wrecked their patrol car.

Police said Wednesday that may not be the end to it.

Police said the bride's irate father has inquired about how to file a civil suit against the unnamed streaker.

"I think he'll do it. He was just mad enough," said one investigator.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) The government reported today that the nation's economy took a much steeper nosedive than expected in the first quarter of the year, while prices soared at a double digit rate.

Voices Surprise At Love Words

DALLAS (AP) — Most City Council members say they are surprised at the blistering statements accompanying U.S. Dist. Court Judge William M. Taylor's restraining order allowing Southwest Airlines to continue using Love Field.

The restraining order prohibits enforcement of an ordinance the council passed Monday which would have ended all scheduled airline flights at Dallas Love Field, including Southwest.

NATION OF LAW

Judge Taylor said the ordinance came "right in the face" of his ruling last year that Dallas must let Southwest operate from Love Field as long as the facility is open as an airport.

"I don't think this type of conduct can be tolerated," the judge said during a 90-minute Wednesday hearing punctuated by criticisms of the Dallas City Council.

"This is a nation of law and we ought to follow and be controlled by it," he said.

He chastised council members for not living up to his confidence in them to abide by his earlier ruling.

straining order, Taylor added. "I'm not convinced the council won't take some other step burdening Southwest Airlines."

Councilmen passed the ordinance to force use of the new Dallas-Fort Worth Airport by all airlines.

Officials have claimed continued use of the old Love Field by Southwest and some of its competitors could cause financial problems for the new facility.

NO LAWYER

Several councilmen cited written assurance from City Atty. Alex Bickley in explaining their surprise over Judge Taylor's anger.

City Councilman Garry Weber said his vote to adopt the airline ban was based solely on Bickley's advice. "I am no lawyer," Weber said. "He told us the ordinance was legal and that we had a moral obligation to close down Love Field."

However, Mayor Pro Tem George Allen, one of two councilmen who voted against the ordinance, said he felt all along that Taylor would strike down the ordinance.

STANS SWEARS HE WAS NOT COVERING UP MISDEEDS

$200,000 Cash Donation 'Secret'

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Commerce secretary Maurice H. Stans says he had a mandate to keep secret financier Robert L. Vesco's $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign. He swears he was not covering up any misdeeds of his own, or anyone else.

Stans testifying about a March 14, 1972, meeting of campaign officials, including four White House aides. He said it was decided not to follow the lead of Democratic presidential aspirant George McGovern, who voluntarily released names of campaign contributors.

GM To Raise Retail Prices

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors said today it will raise retail prices $50 to $56 on many of its full-size cars by making electronic ignition standard equipment.

The price increases, which will go into effect May 1, involve 33 "big-engine" Chevrolets, Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs. The move will increase sticker prices 1.1 per cent to 1.4 per cent.

Last week, GM raised all retail prices on basic optional equipment an average $13 and hiked shipping charges $15.

Stans said he had a mandate to keep secret financier Robert L. Vesco's $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign. He swears he was not covering up any misdeeds of his own, or anyone else.

Stans said he had a mandate to keep secret financier Robert L. Vesco's $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign. He swears he was not covering up any misdeeds of his own, or anyone else.

A new law effective April 7, 1972, mandated the reporting of all campaign contributions from that point on.

Stans was still under direct examination when the trial recessed for the night. He will return to the stand when it resumes today.

HE LIED
Mitenell and Stans are accused of conspiring to obstruct justice for allegedly attempting to impede a Securities and Exchange Commission fraud investigation into Vesco's affairs, in exchange for the $200,000 secret contribution, and later lying about it to a grand jury.

One of the most potent government witnesses against Stans was G. Bradford Cook, him he was having the paragraph reworked at his own instigation because it was too "sensational."

'SENSATIONAL'
In line with a key clause in the conspiracy count, Cook testified Stans got him to change a paragraph in a proposed SEC complaint about Vesco, to delete specific reference to the transfer of the $200,000 in cash that made up the contribution.

"I did not ask Brad Cook to delete anything on that occasion or any other occasion," said Stans. He said Cook told him he was having the paragraph reworked at his own instigation because it was too "sensational."

"I did not ask Brad Cook to delete anything on that occasion or any other occasion," said Stans. He said Cook told next appointment was ready. And I believe I probably said out loud that my next appointment was ready," Stans testified.

GO TO THE TOP
Stans said it was he and not Vesco who brought up the subject of the SEC investigation. The witness said Vesco told him he believed the matter could be settled in a face to face meeting with William J. Casey, Bradford's predecessor as SEC chairman.

"I said, 'Mr. Vesco, that should be no problem,'" Stans testified. "Anybody who is having trouble with a government agency should be able to go to the head of that agency."

Nevertheless, because of the SEC probe, Stans said he consulted with Mitchell, the overall head of the Nixon campaign forces.

Stans quoted Mitchell as saying he had information that the investigation of Vesco by the SEC was winding down, and that Vesco's lawyers were convinced he had done nothing wrong. Stans added:

Annual Paint Horse Show Scheduled Here April 27

The 13th annual Big Spring Paint Horse Show, sanctioned by both the West Texas Paint Horse Association, and the American Paint Horse Association, will be held in the Rodeo Bowl here beginning at 12 noon Saturday, April 27.

In order to qualify as a Class A show, the event must have as many as 126 entries. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who are staging the show, expect to exceed that figures easily.

Horses will likely be entered here from all adjoining states, as well as Texas.

Winners will be rewarded in all halter and performance classes. The fee is each class is $10 per animal.

In addition, there will be roping and cutting classes, with entries paying $20 entry fee in each class. Money in those classes will go into jackpots, with winners earning 40, 30, 20 and ten per cent of the jackpot in each instance.

Trophies go to all winners in the halter and performance classes.

A "color" class will be added to this year's show.

This has become the largest show of its kind west of Fort Worth, according to Williams. It will be free to the public.

A concessions stand will be in operation throughout the event.

Show judge will be Charles Williams, Arlington. Ring Steward will be Charles Phillips, Big Spring.

When the first show was staged here 13 years ago, a total of 22 horses paraded before the stands.

More Aliens Are Nabbed In Area

Border Patrol Agent Charles E. Hensley reported 87 illegal aliens had been apprehended in this area this month through Tuesday.

"The Border Patrol caught 714,000 illegal aliens nationally in 1973 as compared to 400,000 in 1972. That's a 30 per cent increase, we've averaged a 30 per cent increase," Hensley added.

Four members of the Patrol work one unit a day out of Big Spring.

Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♥
Declarer allowed the canary on the roof to distract him from the sparrow in the kitchen, with the result that he went down a trick on a hand that should have been made.

South considered that his wealth of intermediate cards and his good five-card diamond suit made his hand too strong for an opening bid of one no trump. He elected to treat his hand as being worth 19 points, and showed his strength by opening one diamond and then rebidding two no trump. North had just enough to go on to game.

West was faced with a choice of unattractive leads. A spade looked safe enough, but it was unlikely to accomplish anything for the defense. Even if long cards could be established in the suit, West had no entry. Somewhat desperately, he decided to try to find values in his partner's hand, and attacked with the ten of hearts.

Declarer saw a chance for an extra trick in the heart suit, so he played low from dummy. East won the king and shifted to the king of clubs, and declarer's case was lost. Sooner or later East would have to get in with the ace of diamonds, and in due course the defenders would score a trick in each red suit and three clubs for down one.

Declarer lost the hand at trick one thru one of the most common errors in bridge—failure to count his tricks. He did not need a second heart trick for his contract, for he could come to nine tricks via three spades, four diamonds and the ace of hearts and clubs. Furthermore, on the ten of hearts lead, there was no way the defenders could win four tricks in the heart suit, for dummy's eight would be a stopper. But it was imperative that declarer prevent the defenders from winning a heart and switching their attack to his weak spot—clubs—before the ace of diamonds had been forced out.

All declarer had to do was win the ace of hearts at trick one and concede a trick to the ace of diamonds. He would then come to nine tricks before the defenders could establish their five.

Must Serve Eight Years For Whipping Children

AUSTIN (AP) — A Dallas mother must serve eight years in prison for whipping her children too hard, the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled Wednesday.

Eunice Faye Nabors admitted at the trial that she spanked Jimmy, 6, and Judy, 4, too hard at the beginning of their punishment, but she said she loved them and did not intentionally hurt them.

Mrs. Nabors testified that she awoke from a nap to find the children gone, her opened purse on the floor and $25 rent money missing. She worked at "Bob's Drive-in" for $1 an hour, she said.

"ALL OVER"
A 16-year-old babysitter testified she helped the mother find the children and watched as they were ordered to bend over a couch naked.

The mother whipped each child approximately 15 times "all over" with a wide leather belt, demanding that they tell her where the money was, the babysitter said. The mother then asked the babysitter if she wanted to whip them, too, the babysitter said, but the invitation was declined. The mother said Jimmy told her before she whipped him that he had invited neighborhood kids to take whatever they wanted from her purse and buy anything they wanted. Under questioning by her lawyer, the mother said she was right-handed but had lost the thumb on that hand in a car wreck four years before.

SLIPPED ON COUCH
She slapped Jimmy once with her hand during the whipping, she said, and she explained a massive discoloration on Judy's neck by saying the girl squirmed and slipped on the couch as the belt was being swung.

She said she was only kidding when she told the children to leave the house and go away. The children allegedly were retrieved two blocks away by another witness.

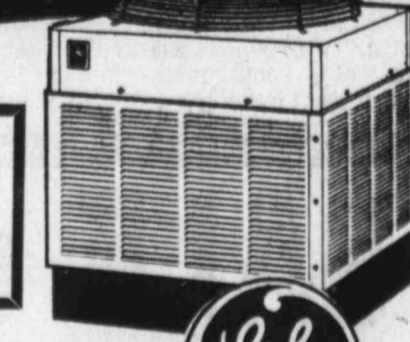

The charge was "intentional infliction of physical injury on a child 14 years old or younger." The penalty is two to five years.

Don't Call

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem which I have discussed with my married daughter, and she said I should write to you.

After many years of marriage, my husband has been seeing another woman. She's a young school teacher he met at church. (Her father is a minister.) The worst part of it is, I know he really does love her, but I'm afraid of what people would think if I let him go to her.

I admit that our marital relations have never been enjoyable for me, but I have done my duty and given him three children who are grown and married now.

I work full time, which my husband never liked, but it has provided us with lots of extras we wouldn't have been able to get as soon as we did.

Should I call this young woman and tell her I know the truth and she'd better stop seeing my husband or else? Should I call her father and tell him about it? Or should I keep quiet and hope they get tired of each other before too many people know about it?

If you don't let him go to her (knowing that he really loves her) because you are afraid of what people would think, that's a poor reason. Add that to your feeling that you've done your "duty" and given him three children, and the picture becomes even more clear. You seem to be a reasonable woman. Counseling is the only answer.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been arguing over a question that we would like you to settle for us.

I say it is bad manners to yawn in company, but if you can't help yourself, you should do it with your mouth closed.

My husband says he only yawns when he can't hold it back, and he can't yawn with his mouth closed. Please give us your opinion. Thanks.

MRS. B.
DEAR MRS. B.: Yawning with one's mouth closed isn't easy. However it can be done, but a squelched yawn offers very little satisfaction.

The ideal solution would be to go ahead and yawn, but cover your mouth with your hand. And apologize for it afterwards.

DEAR ABBY: In trying to decide what to give my son and his bride for a wedding gift, I have come to the conclusion that the best gift I could give them would be the treatment at a "stop smoking" clinic.

The treatment costs $350 per person, so I feel that it would be a generous gift, considering my relatively low income. My son has been warned by his doctor that he should stop smoking, and he has indicated that he would like to. However, there wouldn't be much point in giving him the treatment unless his bride takes it, too.

Under the circumstances, would it be proper for me to offer such a gift or would I be considered meddling?

CONCERNED MOTHER
DEAR CONCERNED: I don't agree that there wouldn't be much point in giving your son the treatment unless his bride agreed to take it, too. However, unless you know for certain that they both want the treatment and would welcome it as a wedding gift from you, it might not be appreciated.

CowBelles Schedule Bazaar

The Texas Chapter of CowBelles will sponsor a bazaar April 27 in the Highland Center Mall from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Plans for the event were made when the group held a luncheon Tuesday at Furr's Cafeteria, with Mrs. Linda Beam presiding. Mrs. Harry Middleton, bazaar chairman, announced that only hand-made articles will be offered for sale at the bazaar. This will include such things as quilts, afghans, aprons, plaques and purses. Proceeds from the sale will be used for the purchase of educational materials to promote the beef industry.

The Texas Chapter was formed in 1973 and is made up of area women whose husbands are connected with the beef industry.

Lion's Auxiliary Will Assist At Convention

Entertainment for the upcoming Lion's Club district convention was the main subject for discussion at Wednesday's meeting of the Downtown Lion's Auxiliary in the home of Mrs. Archie Adkins, 1902 Lexington. The convention is scheduled here in May, with headquarters to be at the Settles Hotel.

Initial plans have been made for a luncheon which will honor approximately 40 Lion's Club queen contestants, and wives of delegates will be entertained at a book review May 18 in the First Federal Community Room. Mrs. Clyde Angel will be the guest reviewer. There will also be a hospitality room where auxiliary members will assist club members. In conjunction with this, auxiliary members are hoping to conduct guided tours to such places as the Heritage Museum and the "Big Spring."

Mrs. Jim Holmes, who presided for the luncheon, and Mrs. John Smith are co-chairmen for the auxiliary portion of the convention. The next meeting will be May 15.

MRS. DAVID WAYNE HINES

Couple Weds In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. David Wayne Hines are residing in Duncan, Okla., following their recent marriage in the Tesca Baptist Church, Frederick, Okla.

The bride is the former Lavana Rhea Morris, daughter of Mrs. Billie Morris, Big Spring, and Alan L. Morris, Davidson, Okla. Parents of the bridegroom are Bill Hines of Frederick and Mrs. Pauline Hines, Davidson, Okla.

The officiating minister was the Rev. B. G. Thomas, and music was by Miss Marilyn Nation, pianist. The bride was attired in a floor-length gown of white dotted Swiss enhanced by lace at the empire waistline and the Victorian puffed sleeves. A wide ruffle, attached with lace, bordered the skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held by a lace headpiece accented with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white daisy mums tied with satin streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Sandra May of Manitou, Okla., wearing an empire dress styled with long lace sleeves and a wide ruffle bordering the skirt.

Ronald Wayne Lemmond served as best man. Prior to leaving on a short wedding trip, the couple was honored at a reception in the fellowship hall. Cake and punch were served by Mrs. Charmagne Greenwood, Miss Kim Odum and Mrs. Lorinda Britton.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cooper, grandparents of the bride. Numerous other guests attended from towns in Texas and Oklahoma.

HOW TO SOLVE NARROW ROOM PROBLEMS

A common problem in many homes is how to decorate a narrow room and make it look better. Actually, there are many ways you can use furniture and other furnishings to solve this problem.

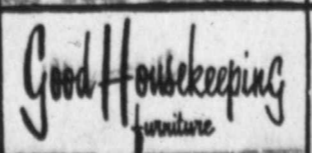

One idea is to place an attractive table or desk at right angles to one of the long walls. This can make a strong line across the room and help end that feeling of a long, narrow room.

A mirror or a scenic wall covering can make the room seem wider. You can also try a horizontal arrangement of pictures on the short wall to minimize the narrow appearance.

Another idea is to use a love seat or chair grouping away from the walls. This kind of grouping coming out from the wall can move the eye in such a way as to make a person feel the room is not as narrow as it is.

Remember that good arrangement of furniture is still possible in any room that has a so-called shape problem, and as a matter of fact, the right furniture arrangement can tend to overcome any construction problems a room may have.

We stand ready to help you with suggestions and a fine selection of furniture to make your home more beautiful. Maybe just one specific piece can help one of your rooms. Come in and look around.

All ex-students, teachers and residents of that community are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served by the youth of the church and a short program is planned. The Rev. Elra Phillips, associate pastor, will conduct a brief memorial service.

Catholic Leaders Of Area Convene Here

Bishop Steven Leven of San Angelo told of his coming trip to Rome when he was luncheon speaker Monday at the spring meeting of the Big Spring Deanery, Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church.

Mrs. Mildred Ward, Deanery president, presided, and Mrs. George T. Foster, Deanery commission chairman, called for reports from each parish. Parishes from Big Spring were Immaculate Heart of Mary Mother's Club and Altar Society, Sacred Heart Guadalupanas, St. Thomas Altar Society, St. Elizabeth's Altar Society of Snyder and St. Joseph's Altar Society of Stanton. The Deanery moderator was the Rev. James Delaney of Sacred Heart Church, Big Spring.

The theme of the day was "Action: Faith Hope and Charity." Mrs. R. L. Tienan of Sweetwater, Diocesan president, based her address on action through church, families and the Deanery commissions. Mrs. Fred Hyer, Big Spring was named by-laws committee chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith gave the afternoon workshop on "Natural Family Planning—the Ovulation Method" as taught by Dr. John Billings and Dr. Lyn Billings. The workshop was followed by the election of officers. New Deanery officers are Mrs. Foster, president; Mrs. Louis A. Casillas, vice president; Miss Wanda Anderson, secretary; and Mrs. L. G. Tom, treasurer.

Prayers were by the Rev. Louis Moeller, and the luncheon was served by the Immaculate Heart Altar Society.

Guests at the meeting were Sister Mary Eva of San Angelo, Diocesan C. C. D. director, and Dr. Ruth Landis, director of the Newman Center at Angelo State University. Dr. Landis is the only lay director of the Newman Clubs in the world.

Bishop Leven and Rev. Moeller performed mass to close the day's activities.

Briscoe Talks 'Water Crisis'

BY The Associated Press
Gov. Dolph Briscoe took a dig at Frances Farenthold, his opponent in the May 4 Democratic Primary, Wednesday and later told an Austin water conference that Texas may face a water crisis soon.

Mrs. Farenthold told a Pampa audience that "it is now clear that Dolph Briscoe is going to avoid any discussion of his record or a public confrontation which would point up the inadequacies of his leadership for the past 18 months."

INSPIRATION
The governor answered that Texas doesn't want "negativism and carping" but does want to be inspired.

Texas, Briscoe told supporters in Hillsboro, "are tired of divisiveness and negativism and carping among officeholders and political candidates."

He added that "every day I have been in office" that he has tried "to bring people together and to inspire them to work for the common good."

In warning of a water crisis, Briscoe told a meeting of state water agency heads, legislators and others, "It is essential that we secure a supplemental water source outside Texas, particularly for the great agricultural areas of Northwest Texas ..."

"If the energy crisis teaches us nothing else," he said, "I surely must teach us that America could have escaped the serious shortage had we only started work on planning 10 years earlier."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby told the water men he hoped a work-

Air Fares Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher airline jet fuel costs have prompted a 4 per cent rise in fares for domestic air travel, the second air fare hike in the past five months.

The second rate increase, which went into effect Monday, means a coast-to-coast one-way coach ticket now costs $187, compared with $188 before the initial hike last November.

Airlines sought the new round of fare increases when the Arab oil embargo and resulting fuel shortage severely pushed up the cost of jet fuel.

The increases apply only to flights within the 48 contiguous states. Air fares for Hawaii and Alaska are unaffected.

'Remember What Side Of Footlights We Live On'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The editor of the St. Petersburg Fla., Times told journalists attending the American Society of Newspaper Editors convention Wednesday to "remember what side of the footlights we live on."

"Politicians are performers," said Gene Patterson. "Our job is to report those fellows, not join them in the lights in a kicking contest."

He also cautioned newsmen not to be seduced into "pop journalism" during a running feud with the Nixon administration over the role of the press.

Wind Up, So Is Golf Business

It used to be the mailman that made the claim that "neither wind nor snow nor sleet" would deter him from his cause.

Nowadays it may be the golfer, Charlie Brantley at the municipal golf course said that golf attendance is up this year.

"Only on a couple really sandy days was the golfing slowed down."

Every month this year is up from last year and showing a steady increase. January golfers on the course totaled 84, February, 87 and March, 158. Thus far, April looks even better, according to the golf pro.

CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES

There were these additional political developments:
—Odell McBrayer of Fort Worth, a Republican seeking the governorship, told Corpus Christi supporters that the state and nation need to get back "to sound conservative government and strong Christian principles."

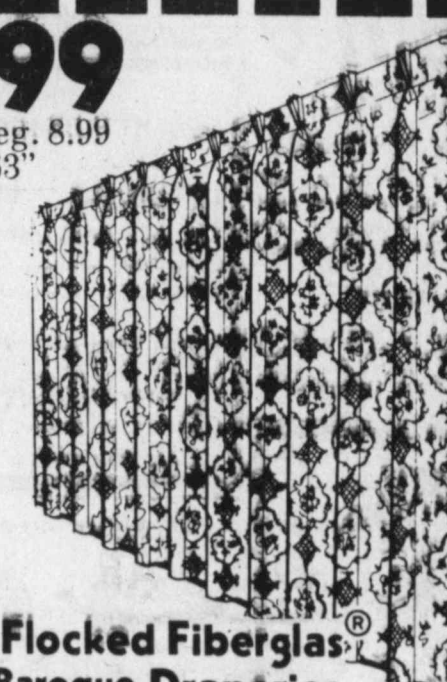

—Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace of Athens said he was against using the energy crisis as a reason to "demand more production from our oil and gas reservoirs than it is safe for the reservoirs to produce." Wallace, seeking reelection, added, "We cannot solve the energy crisis by damaging Texas oil fields ..."

Last Rites For 'Just Plans Folks' Governor

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Last rites were to be held today for Johnston Murray, Oklahoma's 14th governor who died Tuesday in an Oklahoma City hospital.

After the 10 a.m. service at St. Luke's Methodist Church, the body was to be taken to Tishomingo in eastern Oklahoma for burial near his father, the late former Gov. William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray.

State memorial services for Johnston Murray were held in the rotunda of the Capitol Wednesday, led by Gov. David Hall and attended by several hundred dignitaries and the "just plain folks" to whom Murray appealed in his gubernatorial campaign.

Among the first to pay respects as Murray's body lay in state there Wednesday was Overton James, present governor of the Chickasaw Indian Nation.

Murray was born in the home of Douglas Johnston, then governor of the Chickasaws, in what was Indian Territory at that time. He was only the third governor born in what is now Oklahoma when he took office in 1951.

The 71-year-old former governor was praised by Hall as a man who "served Oklahoma with forthrightness and integrity."

Several hundred persons crowded into the second floor rotunda for the memorial service. Others looked down on the flag-draped casket from the two floors above.

Murray's widow, his son, Johnston Murray Jr., and brother, Burbank Murray, sat near the casket with Gov. and Mrs. Hall during the service.

Perry Wearies, Brewers Hop On Reliever To Win

By The Associated Press
After 15 innings of Gaylord Perry, the Milwaukee Brewers were happy to see someone else. They saw Ken Sanders, but they didn't see him very long.
With Cleveland's ace out of the game at last, Bob Coluccio immediately seized advantage of the situation and hit a home run that carried the Brewers to a 16-inning, 5-4 victory Wednesday night.
"Perry had a good fastball and slider and an awful lot of guts," said Coluccio. "That was the best I've seen him. When a guy 35-years-old throws that kind of stuff for 15 innings, that's super."
Although pitching almost two complete games, Perry didn't want out. "I wanted to stay in," said the Indians' star. "I could have gone more."

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox nipped the New York Yankees 4-3; the Baltimore Orioles beat the Detroit Tigers 6-1; the Texas Rangers defeated the Kansas City Royals 4-2; the Chicago White Sox turned back the Oakland A's 5-3 and the California Angels trimmed the Minnesota Twins 5-3.
BID ENDED
Coluccio not only delivered the game-winning hit on a 3-1 pitch leading off the 16th inning, he also broke up Perry's no-hit bid earlier.
Perry had held the Brewers hitless until Coluccio, after fouling off five pitches, singled sharply to right with two out in the sixth.

Despite the sour luck, Perry was pretty content with his night's work.
"I was mixing a fastball and a hard slider," he said. "The hard slider was rising and the fastball was sinking."
Red Sox 4, Yankees 3
Bernie Carbo and Bob Montgomery drove in eighth-inning runs, lifting Boston over New York. Pat Dobson of the Yankees fell apart after pitching no-hit baseball for six innings.
YAZ HOMER
Dobson lost his no-hit bid and shutout when Carl Yazstrzanski hit a home run in the seventh inning, when the Red Sox tied the game 2-2.

"I was throwing fastballs inside to the left-handed hitters all day," said Dobson. "Yastrzanski hit a high fastball that I got too far over the plate. I wouldn't have thrown that pitch with a man on base."
Orioles 6, Tigers 1
Baltimore jumped on Woodie Fryman for five runs in the first inning and Jim Palmer fired a five-hitter to lead the Orioles to victory over Detroit.
Fryman, 0-2, walked Bobby Grich and barked him to second to begin the outburst. Designated hitter Tommy Davis followed with a run-scoring single, then rookie Jim Fuller smashed a two-run homer, his first of the season.

Bill Slayback replaced Fryman and was greeted by a single by Mark Belanger, who drove in the fifth Baltimore run.
Rangers 4, Royals 2
Jeff Burroughs' tie-breaking double in a three-run eighth inning carried Texas over Kansas City.
Pinch-hitter Lenny Randle led off the eighth with a single and reached third when pitcher Gene Garber fielded Dave Nelson's bunt and threw the ball wildly past first base.
Toby Harrah singled to tie the game and, after Alex Johnson bounced into a double play, Burroughs doubled to center field.

White Sox 5, A's 3
Brian Downing's two-run homer capped a three-run, eighth inning for Chicago that carried the White Sox past Oakland.
KANSAS CITY TEXAS

Johnny Robles finished second in the Discus, 7-B 880-yard dash and Steve Bodine placed second in the pole vault for other Mustang sports. Robles' best is 2:14.0, and Bodine has cleared 10-0.
David Standerfer heads up a list of Stanton athletes who grabbed six spots in the regional event. The speedy Buff qualified for the 100-yard dash in 9.9, and in the 220 he won Dist. 6-AA with a 22.6.
Gordon Eiland will also run the 100 with Standerfer, after qualifying in 10.3. Joe Louis Hernandez was another Buff to make the meet, as he took second in the district 880 in 2:04.9.
Stanton will have a brother act in the 120-yard high hurdles and Crane, Austin, 6-1, 6-0, and Young and Braemer, Austin, 6-0, 6-0, to reach the semifinals.
Young and Braemer were seeded third in the state prior to the match.
Paul Crozier, Houston, and David Dowlen, Corpus Christi, the No. 1 seed, ultimately fanned out Mann and Bramlett, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.
Mann likely will compete in a sectional tournament at San Antonio June 1-9.

OTHER AREA SCHOOLS COMPETE Herd Has 3 Individuals, Relay Team In Regionals

Local and area athletes scatter for regional competition this weekend, with Class AAAA, A and B runners heading for Lubbock's Region I meet and Class AA and AAAA to meet in Odessa.
Big Spring will have three individuals and a relay team in action at the Lubbock Coronado track, as track preliminaries kick off at 12:30 p.m. Friday and finals starting the same time on Saturday.
Sands will also have three runners at Lubbock, in both track and field events, and action gets under way at 9:30 a.m. both days.
Stanton and Coahoma will be represented in the Class AA competition in Odessa's W. T. Barrett Stadium.
NO SHOO-INS
While the Steers don't have any shoo-ins for the state meet in Austin May 3-4, it looks like all have a good chance to get there, particularly Ricky McCormick in the mile run.
McCormick, unbeaten in the mile until last week's Texas Relays, had the second best qualifying time, a 4:28.2. But he legged a fast 4:23.7 Saturday despite a slight case of pneumonia and will probably rank as the favorite.
The fastest qualifying time was posted by Ruben Dominguez of El Paso Austin, a 4:27.7, and two other runners came in below 4:30.
The Steers will also have Donald Walters and Doug Smith in the 440-yard dash, and both will probably have to run their best times to gain a state meet berth. Walters, a sophomore, won the Dist. 5-AAAA 440 with a 49.8 clocking and Smith was second in 50.0, but three runners came in with faster times in

ALBUQUERQUE EXES T Birds Sign 3 For Cage Team

HOBBS, N.M. — Dale Caton, head basketball coach at New Mexico Junior College in Hobbs, has announced the signing of three of New Mexico's top prep basketball players. Signing Western Junior College Athletic Conference letters of intent with the Thunderbirds were Richard Jenkins, Jesse Cleaver, and Eric Gandy, all of Albuquerque High.
The trio, who helped lead Coach Jim Hulsmann's Albuquerque High Bulldogs to a 17-0 straight second-place finishes in the state AAAA tournament, were among the most highly sought prep stars in New Mexico this year.
Jenkins, a 5'8" 160 pound guard should bring back memories to Thunderbird fans of all-time T-Bird great Charley Criss who went on to quarterback the New Mexico State Aggies to a third place finish in the NCAA tournament. Jenkins is a two-time all-city, all-district, and all-state selection, ranking as one of the top vote getters on every all-state team selected. He was also a member of the North team for the all-star game.
As a junior in 1973 he was selected as the Albuquerque Tribune Player of the Year. This season he scored 493 points to tie the all-time one season scoring record for Albuquerque High, set in 1962-63 by Charles Aikens. His 215 field goals this season is a new season high for Albuquerque High. His career total of 988 points places him second on the career scoring chart for Albuquerque High. He is also a fine ball handler and playmaker and should provide good floor leadership for the T-Birds.

Cleaver will provide something the T-Birds have needed desperately the last few years - size and rebounding power. Cleaver, who stands 6'7" and weighs 210 pounds, is the biggest man the T-Birds have signed in several years and will provide the rebounding strength the T-Birds needed so badly this year.
Cleaver is an excellent jumper and should continue to improve rapidly. He was selected to the second team all-district and was honorable mention all-city and all-state. He is also a member of the North squad for the North-South all star game. He averaged 11.6 rebounds for the Bulldogs this season and scored at a 10.1 per game clip.
Gandy stands 5-11 and weighs 160 pounds but is a great leaper in the tradition of such Albuquerque High stars as Willie Banks and Daryl Cox. A good shooter, he averaged 10.2 points per game and pulled down 7.4 rebounds per game. He was second-team all-district and honorable mention all-city in Albuquerque.
Coach Caton commented that he is happy to have these young men. He said, "These are not only fine young men and talented athletes but have that great competitive spirit Albuquerque High players always seem to possess. They should help make us a contender in conference next season."

Buffaloes Far Back In Meet

LUBBOCK — Forsan posted a first round score of 406 and Klondike a 457 in the Class B Regional golf tournament here Wednesday, well back of pace-setting Booker A and Bronte.

Booker and Bronte each registered a 343, which put them 28 shots ahead of Booker B, the third place team. Roby was fourth after the first 18 holes, at 372. Then came Grandfalls-Royalty, 376; Three Way, 377; Jayton, 383; Highland and Sierra Blanca, each at 387; Imperial (Buena Vista), 394; Anthony, 396; and Forsan.

The tournament concludes today at the Pine Hills Golf Course.

Surprising Tricks Do In The Giants

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros were full of surprises for the San Francisco Giants Wednesday night but not the kind of surprises the Giants would prefer.

Left-fielder and cleanup hitter Bob Watson bunted home the winning run in the sixth inning and reliever Ken Forsch hit his fast ball sinking instead of rising in a 3-2 victory.

"I don't think I've ever bunted against this team before," Watson said. "I guess most teams don't think of the fourth fifth and sixth positions as bunting but Preston told us all to be ready."

Watson was ready Wednesday night. He bunted down the third base line, forcing Dave Kingman to field the ball and make a throw to first. Kingman threw wild for an error and Bob Gallagher rushed home from third for the winning run.

Forsch got his second save of the season and made starter Claude Osteen a winner for his second straight outing with two outstanding innings of relief.

Forsch said it was the first look the Giants have had at his adjusted fast ball which now sinks instead of rising.

"In the past, I gripped the ball across the seams and my fast ball would rise," the lanky pitcher said. "Roger (pitching coach Roger Craig) has got me gripping the ball with the seams and the fast ball is sinking."

Cup Matches Friday Precede Tournament

The Taylor Implement Cup Matches Friday at the Big Spring Country Club will serve to kick off the second annual Big Spring Championship Invitational Golf Tournament.

Thirty-three of the area's best linksters, including pros from the Country Club, the Municipal course and Snyder, will compete in the cup matches, which get under way at 1:30 p.m.

The medal-play tournament will begin at 9 a.m., Saturday and will continue over Sunday. All linksters are thrown into one flight in this unique tournament. Duncan Boyer, Abilene, is defending champion in the tournament.

The cup matches formerly were sponsored by the First National Bank. No trophy is awarded, although a team champion will be determined on a point basis. All competitors in the matches will be presented with golf caps and members of the winning team will be shooting for merchandise prizes. Jackie Thomas, the tournament director, will team with pro C. G. Griffin to lead the 11-man Country Club team. Charles Brantley and Royce Cox will direct the Muni representation while pro Lonnie Cosby and Joe Williamson, both of Snyder, lead the out-of-town troops.

Entry fee for the tournament is $20. First-place winner earns $200 in merchandise while the runner-up will be awarded $150 in prizes. At least five and perhaps as many as 15 will qualify for awards, depending on the size of the field.

Griffin said that 28 players had entered the tournament this morning. Deadline for entry is 6 p.m., today.

No outside functions will be held in conjunction with the tournament.

If the tournament gets a fair representation from the cup matches, an excellent field for the meet will be assured.

Pairings for cup matches:

1:30 p.m. — R. P. Nicholson, BSCC; Bob Smith, Muni; E. L. Franklin, out-of-town.

1:45 p.m. — Jack Cook, BSCC; Bob Walters, Muni; S. A. Parker, out-of-town.

Former Champ Hospitalized

NEW YORK (AP) — Known as the best pound-for-pound fighter of the 1920s, Mickey Walker earned more than $3 million during a boxing career that led to the welterweight and middleweight world titles.

Walker, 72, nicknamed the "Toy Bulldog" while scoring 58 knockouts and winning 93 bouts, has been hospitalized due to an anemia, acute anemia and advanced Parkinson's Disease.

The former champ, ailing and broke, was found unconscious in the early morning darkness April 9 on a street corner in Brooklyn's Flatbush neighborhood.

Walker won the welterweight title at the age of 21 and gained the middleweight crown five years later. After 148 career fights, he retired in 1935 following a futile comeback as a heavyweight.

Walker, who had three boxing managers, gained a reputation as a hard-drinking carouser unable to hang on to his winnings.

"My managers got a lot of it, they all got a lot of it, except me," said Walker at Jewish Memorial Hospital while undergoing medical treatment.

Executive director of the hospital, Charles Gellman, is a former boxer and has known Walker for 40 years.

He said Walker had been living in a rooming house in Elizabeth, N.J., collecting Social Security checks from the federal government and contributions from groups of veteran boxers.

"I'm going to see if I can find a place where he can be treated with dignity and respect," said Gellman, who said he would try to place the former champion in a rest home.

Gellman added: "Mickey should be made to feel like Mickey Walker used to feel — not like a bum."

Track Record Here Is Tied

Action will be resumed at Big Spring Raceway Saturday evening.

In competition last Saturday night, the 1973 champion, Mike Roman, at the wheel of Car 88, tied the track record of 16.2 seconds to emerge as the big winner.

Points leader after two weeks of competition is Jimmy Lefler, who is sponsored by Broughton Truck Co.

Darrell Pollock, in Car 10, hit the wall and flipped four times, totaling the vehicle. The driver escaped unharmed, however.

Other results:

Class A Trophy Dash — Billy Burnett, representing Floyd's Automotive, Car 1.

Class A Fast Heat — Mike Roman, Car 88.

Class A Slow Heat — Jimmy Lefler, Car 62.

Class A Feature — Mike Roman, Car 88.

Class B X C Trophy Dash — Charlie Green, Car 78.

Class B Fast Heat — Chuck Ogle, Car 71.

Class B Slow Heat — Lupe Castillo, Car 64.

Class B Feature — Wayne Stroup, Car 00.

Class C First Heat — Bob Nolan, Car 2.

Class C Second Heat — Bob Nolan, Car 2.

Class C Feature — Bob Nolan, Car 2.

for 3 1/2 days, was in the multiple-man scramble for the title until he scuffed two in the water late in the final round, lost four strokes to par and faded back.

Still, it was an encouraging showing for the articulate man whose two-year slump had been one of the mysteries of the tour.

"I was trying to improve," explained Beard, who has scored 11 tour victories and five times won more than $100,000 a season.

"I tried to change my game, to improve. I got in some bad habits. Some bad physical habits. Now, you can make a physical change in minutes.

"But the bad play also had affected my thinking. Making a mental change is much more difficult. And it takes much more time."

HSU Had Hopes Of Inking Tom

Russell Berry, Hardin-Simmons University basketball coach, held out hopes of signing Howard College's 6-7 Thomas Bledsoe until he learned that Bledsoe had signed with Texas Christian University.

Johnny Swain, head coach at TCU, came out Wednesday to personally attach Bledsoe's signature to a letter of intent.

Calico Dot Is Matched Against Caps Saynit

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — A couple of last time winners — Calico Dot and Caps Saynit — will head a field of 10 allowance sprinters slated to face Starter Dean Turpitt in Friday's feature at Sunland Park.

The headliner covers 5 1/2 panels and offers a purse of $1,700. First post Friday is a twilight 3 p.m.

Racing continues through the weekend with 12-race cards set for both Saturday and Sunday. The apex of the turf weekend is Sunday's $2,500-added Westside Claiming Stakes at one and one-quarter miles. First call both Saturday and Sunday is the regular 1:30 p.m.

In Friday's tango, Calico Dot will pack 114 pounds, while Caps Saynit is five pounds heavier at 119. Last week, Calico Dot pounded out a wire-to-wire win against a field of three-year-old maidens at 5 1/2 furlongs. The filly hit the tape with six lengths to spare. Calico Dot was turned out last fall but during the summer, the filly started three times at Santa Fe Downs. Each trip resulted in a second place finish.

Caps Saynit hit paydirt last time out when he came from off the pace to whip a group of colts and geldings at six furlongs. The win margin for the colt's first career start was three lengths. He was pegged as a 2-1 longshot.

Here's the rest of the competition: Notative, Amaqueta, River North Tryst, Baby Full, Chiadora, Misty Me, Wandering On and L11 Bit Country.

River North Tryst figures to get away as the betting favorite. Last time out however, the filly faced a tough group of allowance foes at six furlongs and came up with a fading fifth place finish. She was an odds-on favorite. The time before, River North Tryst flooded a field of maidens when she led from start to finish and hit the wire with a seven length cushion. Before shipping to the Southwest this spring, River North Tryst campaigned on the West Coast.

Misty Me is also one to keep an eye on. Last week, the filly had her hands full with allowance foes at six furlongs when she couldn't find the right stride and finished seventh. The time before, Misty Me and River North Tryst hooked each other at 5 1/2 furlongs and it was Misty Me coming away with nearly a two-length win. From the filly's two previous starts, she's recorded two seconds.

Cougars Without Home In Hockey Playoffs

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cougars can't say there's no place like home.

They simply don't have one for their World Hockey Association semifinal playoffs with the Toronto Toros.

The Cougars can't play in the International Amphitheatre because the arena was stripped of ice-making machinery to set up a road show production of Peter Pan extending through April 23.

A Cougar spokesman said that when Peter Pan was booked at the Amphitheatre, "we weren't aware the contract called for the ice, refrigerating pipes and whole bit, to go out."

As a result, after the Cougars stunned the New England Whalers with a 3-2 decisive seventh-game triumph in their opening playoff round Tuesday night, the big search began for an emergency Cougar home.

Cougar president Walter Kaiser has contacted arenas through the area, including the Chicago Stadium rink of the Black Hawks from the rival National Hockey League, and Notre Dame's 4,500-seat Convocation Center.

The dates for three possible Cougar home appearances in the best of seven showdown with Toronto hinges on what arena can be booked and when.

UP 20 PER CENT Garter Belt Snaps Back In France

PARIS (AP) — For those worried about La France Eternelle and her somber position on the Common market, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and other grave subjects, take heart: the soul of France is still eternelle.

The garter belt is back. Returning are the days of one knee gently crossing another, an inch or less of flesh flashing at a stocking top. After a decade of domination, the pantyhose conspiracy is trembling in its socks.

PROMISED LAND
Stockings and garter belt sales are up 20 per cent in Paris this spring, especially among women 17 to 25, according to industry figures. And a small boom is expected by fall.

"It's fine news," said Antoine Blondin, a popular French writer who has campaigned against pantyhose. "The first thing I give a woman I love is a garter belt."

"There's nothing more desert like than pantyhose — no contrasts — and nobody visits a desert. The garter belt on the other hand is like a James Bond weapon. The thigh encircled, the arrow of the garter, the little bit of promised land between the panty and the stocking. It's as beautiful a design as the Parthenon."

The origin of the fashion is apparently the nostalgia wave of the 1930's and movies in which actresses like Jacqueline Bisset looked nicely evil in stockings and a garter belt. "It's obviously erotic," said Jacques Matalon, a spokesman for the stocking industry. "Why describe it any other way?"

"The production of garter belts was almost stopped when the kids began asking for them. The industry has geared up — it doesn't represent much of an investment — and now we'll see. It may not last more than a season or two. Although men will encourage their women to wear them, we've found out that mostly women don't give a damn about what men think in terms of fashion. So this is something that young women like."

Matalon said the fashion seemed to be making inroads in Britain, but that the United States was still mired in the pantyhose era. In fact, he said American stocking manufacturers with large stocks have been inquiring about selling them off on the new French market.

Blondin, a serious writer who had a page one commentary on the French presidential election in the newspaper Le Figaro on Friday, is completing a book on the garter belt.

"Between Brigitte Bardot and an insignificant little girl in a garter belt and stockings, there would not be a second's hesitation for me," he said.

Pharmacists Must Meet Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — If they aren't doing it already, the nation's 5,000 retail pharmacists will have to put most oral prescription drugs in child-proof containers.

The federal requirement is designed to reduce the estimated 500,000 accidental poisonings from all sources that kill up to 500 preschoolers every year.

The sometimes tricky bottle caps won't be mandatory, however, for nitroglycerine and isorbine dinitrate, drugs used by heart patients who may need them quickly.

And the requirement has been stayed for oral contraceptives, aerstromycine, anhydrous cholestyramine and potassium supplements in effervescent tablets while the government considers proposals to exempt them permanently.

Those drugs generally pose little danger of poisoning and, in the case of birth control pills, child-resistant packaging would foul up the calendar built into the container, according to the manufacturers.

Sticking To Milk Money Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counsel for a key figure in the milk fund case says his client, Texas lawyer Jake Jacobsen, is sticking by his testimony that was challenged against him. Lawyer Charles McNelis said Wednesday that a report by CBS newsman Daniel Schorr that Jacobsen switched his testimony to implicate former Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally in a $10,000 bribe is "not so."

Schorr said that Jacobsen was trying to bargain with prosecutors for favorable treatment and had "changed his testimony" and said he had given Connally $10,000 in two payments.

McNelis said Jacobsen is sticking by the testimony challenged in the perjury indictment that he put the $10,000 in a safe deposit box because Connally refused it.

The $10,000 appear to contradict Jacobsen's testimony because they indicate the bills were not in circulation when Jacobsen says he put them in a safe deposit box.

Columnist Jack Anderson has reported that FBI agents have uncovered evidence that Connally did take the money. Jacobsen, who worked as a lawyer for Associated Milk Producers, Inc. drew the $10,000 from the giant dairy cooperative's treasury, saying he was going to offer it to Connally for help in getting milk price supports raised in 1971.

Both Connally and Jacobsen have said the money was offered to Connally to make political contributions but that Connally refused it.

The Associated Press has reported that serial numbers on NOSTALGIA WAVE — French model displays something to make U.S. pantyhose manufacturers tremble in their socks. Production of the garter belts was almost stopped, when young people in Paris started asking for them, an industry spokesman said. Perhaps sparked by the nostalgia wave for the 1930s, and by movies set in that period, sales of garter belts and stockings are up 20 per cent in Paris this spring.

Sausage? It's More Than Just A Bunch Of Bologna

SAUSAGE TYPES MAY BE DISTINGUISHED WITH AID OF KEY (AT RIGHT)
Just like cheese, they come in infinite variety of sizes, shapes

By JO BRIGHT
Almost everyone recognizes skinless frankfurters, bologna and liver sausage on sight—but how many other sausage favorites can you identify? Like fine cheeses, sausage varieties are practically unlimited. Not only does every nationality have its own specialties, but every manufacturer has his own methods of preparation. Additional differences come from the kinds of meats and spices used, the manner of blending, the ingredients, the shape, and whether the sausage is cooked, uncooked, smoked, fresh or dry. Again, like cheese, sausage lends itself to savory, unusual dishes. While the average family still likes steak or roast as often as the budget allows, modern menu planners welcome the use of sausage to give meat flavor and protein to less expensive dishes. The gourmet cook is the woman most likely to enjoy learning about sausage lines and experimenting with their uses. Just as she prides herself on knowledge of cheeses and wines, she'll add a feather to her cap by becoming familiar with these meaty morsels that are full of flavor.

Another Jolt

Efforts to interpret events through vicarious experiences always are hazardous, but to whatever extent they have validity, President Nixon has had another jolt in results of the special congressional election in Michigan.

The President seemingly sized up the situation in the Saginaw district as being safely Republican and campaigned there personally on behalf of James Sparling Jr. He wasn't alone in that assumption, for many seasoned political analysts concluded that Sparling had the edge over his Democratic opponent, Bob Traxler and were hedging by saying that if Sparling won, in a close race, it would deprive the President of some of the mileage he might anticipate from personal intervention.

But Traxler won, just as have the Democrats in the Grand Rapids, Mich. district of Vice President Gerald Ford, in Johnston, Pa. and Cincinnati, Ohio. What underlined the severity of this jolt is that Traxler had made Mr. Nixon his issue. Despite the protestations of Sparling that this had little bearing on the outcome, some reading on the shock waves may be had from the statement of Vice President Ford.

"The trend in congressional elections now is for the Democrats to end up with an overwhelming majority in the House. This will mean a legislative dictatorship."

He can be forgiven for extravagant language on both accounts, but he is correct in noting consistent straws in the wind. The President took a risk (although his advisors didn't calculate it as too great) in hitting the campaign trail, ostensibly to swing an election. Once more he has been the victim of what one columnist calls "incredibly bad advice." It's his track record in this respect, aside from any degree of personal involvement, that's unerving.

Travelling's OK

An enormous load has been lifted from the backs of Americans by Dr. John Sawhill, deputy director of the Federal Energy Office. He said that if fuel conservation measures are continued, Americans need not deprive themselves of vacation travel by car this summer.

"It is not unpatriotic to travel," said Sawhill. A subdued rendition of the "Star-Spangled Banner" is in order. The specter of millions of Americans "stranded" in their homes this summer has been exorcised. They are freed of the burden of guilt they would have borne if they had left their homes to drive to some summer resort or other.

Left unresolved, though, was a further question: How can the average family afford to travel very far by automobile on 50-cent gasoline, after food and other costs have gone higher than a cat's back?

Unique Sarah

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

A very good friend appeared on Johnny Carson's Tonight Show this week when Sarah McLendon, a White House correspondent for 30 years answered some questions.

SARAH IS very special to me and my family. Back in 1964 when the kids and I went to Washington on a vacation, it was just two years after the Billy Sol Estes hassle. Grant Salisbury of U.S. News and World Report and Sarah somehow found out I was up there and I really got the red carpet treatment.

They were two very nice people -- one an editor and one a reporter. For kicks, I covered a committee meeting or two and a bill signing for Sarah. And as I said earlier, she took the kids to meet Smokey the Bear.

Back in 1960 was when I met Sarah. She flew into Odessa with the entourage following Barry Goldwater. Sarah and I had often talked on the phone, so she looked me up and we became good friends.

I still laugh when I recall that after the rally, she drove the wrong way down a one-way street in Odessa going to the hotel to the reception and when everybody would wave at her to go the other way, she said, "I had forgotten how friendly people were in West Texas." I was laughing so hard that it took me a while to tell her why they were waving.

AFTER THE Goldwater special press and wedding anniversary party that night, Sarah decided to ride on to Pecos with me and hide out a few days. She stayed at the house two days, typing on her portable typewriter at the kitchen table.

The El Paso Times was trying to find her since she was a day late showing up at that paper. They finally remembered that Sarah and I knew each other and called the house to see if I had seen her. At that point, she gave up and went on to El Paso.

On the Tonight Show, they pointed out that she had covered every president since Roosevelt. And I happen to know she has signed pictures of all of them in her home. They told about the New York Times writing that she is sometimes rude, jumping up in the back of press conferences and calling out, Mr. President, Mr. President.

SARAH WAS with a little independent news bureau and yet has remained there more years than anybody. And I'm sure there were plenty of times she had to cry out.

She showed me the telephone system for correspondents at the White House. The big bureaus and the favorites have phones near the front door and they regress back to the far corners. Sarah's, under the Johnson administration, was way back by the washroom.

On the Tonight Show, she said that both Kennedy and Johnson were good personal friends of hers until they became Presidents. "Then," she stated, "they take on an air as if they are a great ruler and forget they are servants of the taxpayers." That brought applause.

I have yet to see a televised press conference that Sarah didn't get in at least one good question and somehow I'm glad that she's been up there all these years, waving her arms in the back of the room crying out, "Mr. President."

The Ford Rocket

Robert Novak

DETROIT — Well before Vice President Ford was publicly rebuked by White House press secretary Ronald Ziegler last weekend for being the source of a magazine article discussing a possible Ford cabinet, the outlines of a major speech denouncing arrogance of power by a President's White House staff were beginning to take shape in Ford's mind.

FORD IS being pressed by political intimates and party leaders to make such an encore to his assault last month on the "arrogant, elite guard of political adolescents" controlling the Committee for the Re-election of the President (CREP). The CREP speech, Ford's coming of age as the single most influential Republican politician, attempted to put him on the right side of the Watergate issue without bringing him into direct conflict with President Nixon. As such, it produced only private complaints from the White House staff.

BUT FORD, newly aware of his unique position at the pinnacle of Republican influence, would cut much closer to the bone by attacking the old Berlin wall of H. R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman. Not once since his two trusted aides left last April 30 has the President permitted himself even a suggestion of criticism. Rather, he has integrated his own defense with theirs.

Moreover, even before Ford's contemplated speech, the White House mood changed. Whereas resentment had previously been directed strictly against Ford's staff for insufficient loyalty to Mr. Nixon, it is now being aimed at the Vice President himself.

The White House was outraged by the New Republic magazine article last week that left no doubt Ford was the source. Ziegler's criticism fully reflected the President's own position.

THE VICE President was and is well aware of all this in planning a new speech. As Republican leader in the House, he was systematically excluded by the Berlin wall. Hence, a warning by him against any future President permitting his inner staff to monopolize power in the Haldeman-Ehrlichman manner is regarded by him as a public duty. But it would also be a political ten-strike.

THUS, FORD has come far since that day in December when he took the oath of office under President Nixon's gaze. No political figure has shot from obscurity to acknowledged presidential heir-apparent so fast, and none with so few inherent political problems ahead.

FORD HAS so clearly become the depository of the party's future hopes that even Nixonite stalwarts (outside the White House) hesitate to rebuke him.

THIS WAS apparent when Ford stopped off in the Detroit area last week to campaign for two Republican congressmen running for reelection, including an address to one of the largest dinner meetings ever held by the suburban Oakland County Young Republicans. The applause was deafening when a letter of praise was read from Sen. Robert Griffin and when Rep. William Bromfield praised him. So far his formula — defend Mr. Nixon and blame the praetorian guard — seems to be working.

Headhunter

Downright Bad Advice

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the giants of U.S. industrial life are showing their bruises from the energy controversy and are fighting their critics with unusually blunt accusations.

Says General Electric: "Appliances are not wasteful users of energy as the public has been led to believe." That belief, claim GE executives, is the result of "misinformation... and downright bad advice."

General Motors' outrage is directed at what it feels are smears contained in a booklet distributed by a Senate subcommittee alleging among other things, that GM destroyed thriving street railway systems.

"General Motors did not destroy street railway systems," the company said in a 67-page reply. "They failed everywhere because they were no longer able to give adequate service."

It adds that the publication, distributed by the Senate subcommittee on Antitrust and Monopoly, "is replete with additional false and deceptive statements."

Neither company is likely to change attitudes immediately, but their claims seem to open a phase of the energy controversy in which opposing views might be better analyzed and the objective truth distilled from them.

One of the popular assumptions about the shortage is that the proliferation of electric appliances, such as toothbrushes and self-cleaning ovens and the like are among the chief culprits. But, says GE, a self-cleaning oven uses only slightly more electricity than a conventional oven.

A statement released here in March said:

"It is essential to recognize that the 300 million major appliances presently in use con-sum a small fraction of our total energy. Only about 5 per cent of the total energy supply is being used in the home... GM's anger was made known to the subcommittee in the form of a request to suspend distribution of what it terms a false, misleading document. If that document is distributed again, it asked that GM's position accompany it.

The chief causes for GM's anger were assertions that: —GM aided the Nazis during World War II through its subsidiary, the Adam Opel Co. After the German invasion of Poland, GM claims it had little effective control of Opel decisions.

—GM helped suppress rail transportation.

—GM helped destroy more than 100 surface rail systems, its motive being to promote the sale of its gasoline-using products.

I can just imagine what happens when the Vice President comes home. He opens the door and hears music: "Who the devil is playing 'Hail to the Chief'?"

"WE WERE just having fun, Gerry," his wife Betty says. "Well it's not very funny." Ford replies, "Suppose I had walked in with the President?"

"Then we would have said we were playing it for him. You look bushed. Do you want a drink?"

"Yes, give me a White House — I mean a White Horse — on the rocks. What are all those swatches on the floor?"

"I WAS JUST looking at drapery material. You know the drapes in the Lincoln Room are so ugly and it takes six months to get delivery."

"Betty, I don't think you should be ordering drapes for the White House, even if it takes six months to get them. If I've told you once I've told you a hundred times there is absolutely no way I will be President of the United States."

"Then why do you keep standing in front of a mirror every night in a morning coat with your hand on a Bible repeating 'So help me God'?"

"I thought you were asleep when I did that."

"You mumble in your sleep over and over 'Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country.'"

"Do I do that?"

"That's not the worst of it," Betty says. "You keep stretching out your arms with your fingers in a V for victory signal."

"Gosh, I hope the Secret Service men haven't seen me. Betty, every Vice President dreams about being President of the United States. It's only natural. I'll bet you Nixon even dreamed about it at one time."

"Well, if you can dream about being President, why can't I dream about being First Lady?"

"Mike is working on his memoirs. He received a $100,000 advance for a book titled 'Downstairs at the White House.'"

Acid Economic Indicator

NEW YORK (AP) — Sulfuric acid is the leading chemical in the world, by tonnage. More than 30 million tons were made last year in the United States alone, according to an estimate from U.S. Industrial Chemicals Co.

Because it is one of the most widely used products in manufacturing, some economists are now using sulfuric acid production figures as a barometer of business activity.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

Some time ago, an elderly couple wrote to you deeply saddened by the death of their pet dog. They asked about meeting that creature again in heaven.

You rather questioned that possibility. Now while the Bible says Now while the Bible says nothing about dogs in heaven, where does it say there are not?

F.W. When you reason from the Bible's silence, as it is called, you can get into some theological trouble. The safe position is to hold only to what is expressly stated in Scripture.

Now let me say first of all that God cares for His animal creation. Two Bible references in particular support that. There's inclusion of a pair of every kind of animal with Noah in the great Ark (Genesis 6).

And then in the episode of Jonah and the city of Nineveh, God told that prophet that He felt "sorry" for "all its cattle." There's also, of course, the reference in Matthew 12 when Jesus spoke of rescuing even one sheep, which fell into a well. So it's established that God cares.

Now, what is certainly not established is that the animal kingdom has a soul comparable to man's which exists after death. The great gulf between the capacities of a dog and a human being would seem to make this obvious. When a dog expires, that's the end. When a man expires, that's more like the beginning.

I am certainly sympathetic with emotions at the time of a pet's death, but the right perspective here is important.

A Devotion For Today...

He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich. (Proverbs 10:4)

PRAYER: Lord, show us how to work diligently for our daily bread and in serving Thee. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Nixon And Taxes

William F. Buckley Jr.

I am everywhere informed that Mr. Nixon has suffered grievously on account of the tax delinquency. On the other hand — in almost every case — I am being told about other people's indignation. I wonder whether it is a synthetic indignation: whether, in fact, it is a matter of everybody knowing how everybody else feels, while personally exempt from that same feeling. What is true is that a lot of people are taking pleasure from Mr. Nixon's reversals.

A GREAT deal is to be learned from what becomes now the saga of Mr. Nixon's taxes, concerning which a few observations:

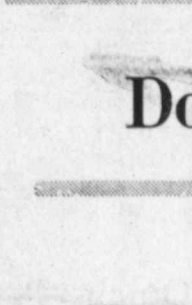

1) I have nowhere seen any explanation for the failure to consummate the gift of his vice presidential papers. It isn't as though by waiting past that critical date in July he might have hoped to enhance the value of the contribution. And there was plenty of warning that July 25 might be the effective date after which deductions would not be permitted. So what happened? I can think of no other explanation than extraordinary mismanagement by Mr. Nixon's bookkeepers.

2) THAT RAISES the question whether the so-called back-dating was offensive to the moral sense. What it evidently was, was illegal. But illegal only in the purely formal sense, i.e., non-effective. I give you an example. Suppose you telephone your lawyer on June 1 and say to him: I have decided to will my estate to my daughter for two months. On your return, the lawyer brings you your will to sign. How should it be dated? June 1, or August 17? It could make a great deal of difference — in England, for instance. There a gift, for example, is taxed at a different rate if turned over less than three years before the donor's death, so that it matters a great deal just when the "constructive" gift was made. Let the lawyers make the decision in the individual case. Suffice to say meanwhile, that there is every reason to suppose that Mr. Nixon made the constructive gift well before the deadline, and that he is now paying close to a half million dollars extra tax on account of the extravagant inefficiency of his staff.

3) THE WHOLE argument about Nixon having paid fewer taxes than the local plumber is altogether beside the point. There are very good arguments against a public official laying claim to papers he accumulated while in public service, and if I had to vote, it would be that said papers are public property. But that is not how they have been treated. For at least a generation, presidents have kept their papers, and turned them over, often with tax benefits, to whomever they chose.

FDR didn't consult Congress about the resting place for his papers, either did Hoover, Truman, LBJ, the estate of John Kennedy. Accordingly, the furor over the Nixon papers is in the nature of a bill of attainder, and I don't like that, and neither should the people and who knows, maybe they don't, really.

Try Frequent Feedings

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My recent diagnosis of fainting spells, after sugar tolerance and other tests, was hypoglycemia, or low blood sugar.

About 15 years ago I had a subtotal gastrectomy (one-third of the stomach remaining). Will this aggravate my problem?

I am 64 and still enjoy part-time work and driving but these spells and weakness are annoying and dangerous. — Mrs. H. R.

The stomach surgery can aggravate your problem of low blood sugar; it may indeed have been to a considerable extent the cause of it — although of course low blood sugar troubles can and do affect a good many patients who have not had such surgery.

The trouble can, it is known, occur in patients after removal of part of the stomach. This is the explanation: the motility (activity and movement) of the stomach can be increased so that food passes through the stomach more quickly.

It is also possible to have the "dumping syndrome," in which the contents of the stomach is "dumped" into the intestine so rapidly that symptoms of weakness, flushing, giddiness can occur — all characteristic of episodes of low blood sugar.

In other words, there is not time for the nutritional elements of the food to be extracted in the stomach.

The trick in avoiding this trouble is to have frequent, small feedings, high in protein, low in starches and sugar. Likewise do not take fluids with the food, but wait for an hour or so afterward before having fluids.

Except for that last item — about the fluids — you will note that principle is the same as for hypoglycemia in which the stomach surgery is not involved.

Hence I am sure that my booklet, "Help for Hypoglycemia (Low Blood Sugar)" will be helpful to you, and help you understand the way the problem develops and how to combat it. The booklet is available by mail — send 25 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

New Adult Rule Muddies Student Loan Programs

BY OMAR BURLERSON
 WASHINGTON, D. C. — Not everyone has a boy or girl in college but those who do have one about to enter, know very well the effects of inflation on education. A number of government sources are available for those who do not know.

Dilemmas face both parents and lenders in certain situations. Financial aid officers at colleges and universities across the country are concerned over the growing number of students declaring themselves no longer dependent on their families and insisting they should be eligible for aid regardless of how high their family income. The other side of the coin are reports from institutions of mounting instances of parents who say their offspring are on their own. Some parents refuse to provide their personal income data necessary to determine the need for a student loan. The question is intensified in some 40 states by legislation under the Twenty-Sixth Amendment recognizing 18-year-olds as adults for practically all purposes. Dr. Parker Young, an associate professor of higher education at the University of Georgia, pointed out that "Once a student has reached the age of majority and is not claimed by his parents as a dependent for income tax purposes, it will be most difficult to convince the courts that criteria related to the parents must be considered in the student's application for financial aid. A recent survey conducted under the auspices of the college entrance Examination Board found that more than two-thirds of 63 four-year colleges and universities which responded rated as "dramatic" the increase in self-supporting students. There is the fear that students with affluent parents will get money that might otherwise go to those more needy. Traditionally, most all students from 18 to 21 years old were considered for financial aid only in relation to the proportion of their education for which their parents could not afford to pay. Today, changes in life-styles, in addition to the legal adult status given to 18-year-olds, present the question: "Is it proper to continue to base aid decisions on parental income when independent-minded young people leave home at an earlier age to seek an education on their own?" There are no ready answers but there has got to be some if there is to be fairness in the program.

Chore Is Ahead

The Clean-Up Shape-Up campaign and Big Spring garden clubs are in the process of planning a cactus-planting session in Comanche Trail Park and have not already planted the cactus as previously reported in the Herald Tuesday.

11 Inmates Died In Fiery Inferno?

EUFULA, Okla. (AP) — District Court Judge Robert J. Bell says as many as 11 inmates died in last summer's McAlester prison riot although state officials have said there were only three deaths. Bell said Tuesday he has information that indicates in addition to the three reported deaths, "at least eight other inmates were pitched over a rail and died in a fiery inferno" after the prison's meat cold storage plant was set afire. Only inmates were in the pris-

Zero Population Growth Just 'Round The Corner?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's birth and fertility rates in 1973 were the lowest since the government began collecting such statistics early in the century, the National Center for Health Statistics says. The center, in a report last February, said the nation registered 15 births per 1,000 per-

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., April 18, 1974 5-B

Census Bureau figures, compiled to reflect Americans in the military living overseas as well as those living in the United States, show 3,256,000 births in 1972, the last year figures were available. Deaths that year were 1,964,000. Thus, population continues to grow, although the declining fertility rates hastens the day when America might reach a point of zero population growth, government analysts said. Predicting this day is difficult because of possible fluctuations in fertility rates. Census Bureau experts said that between Jan. 1 and Feb. 1 of this year the nation's population grew an estimated 119,000 persons. Such growth continues because the number of young women reaching child bearing age continues to grow in response to higher birth rates 20 years ago.

Bus Strike In El Paso

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Mayor Fred Hervey says that both sides in the El Paso bus strike are trying to force the city into buying the private transit system.

About 136 members of the Amalgamated Transit Union Local 1256 went on strike Tuesday after contract negotiations deadlocked.

Union officials said their members, who are seeking a pay raise of 50 cents an hour, voted unanimously Monday to walk off their jobs.

Union President Samuel Agrasia said he was waiting for the company to offer a counter-proposal.

Hervey said Tuesday the strike could have been avoided if the union had agreed to continue under its expired contract.

He said the city "will not be forced into buying any property under coercion."

"It seems that both sides are more anxious for the city to buy the bus service rather than in settling the strike," Hervey said. "It places us in a position that shouldn't even have entered into the problem."

City Lines vice president E. J. Diaz has said the firm is suffering financially and that the city of El Paso should buy the system for $3.2 million.

Hervey said the price was "very unreal." He has said the city might consider paying $1.8 million for the transit system.

Air Survey Under Way

Big Spring began its survey of Midland-Odessa airport flights to Dallas Tuesday to aid its fight in continuing Texas International Airlines (TIA) service here.

"The survey consists of a map detailing a large area around Big Spring and asking 'Did your trip originate from within the designated area?' We're finding out how many people are driving to Midland to get to Dallas from Big Spring. Our first day was the roughest day, and it's too early to gauge the response. We're tabulating the seven Dallas-bound flights daily," said the Chamber of Commerce manager, Ron Mercer, Wednesday.

"We're also getting together the information the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) requested by May 15. They're asking us what kind of bus schedules we have, charter flights, taxi service — two pages of questions," said Ralph McLaughlin, who belongs to the 15 member committee working to keep air service here.

Mercer added the response "has been great" to a recent chamber newspaper campaign to gather public reaction to TIA's desire to stop air service. At least 300 citizens have written the Chamber.

GOPs Didn't File Reports

The Republicans, who, without opposition within their party, are seeking to represent Big Spring in Austin, did not file financial statements.

John R. (Rich) Anderson, the Republican state legislative candidate, and Mary Kirchoff, senatorial candidate, both will face Democrats in the fall general election.

The Howard County Clerk's Office this morning knew of no requirement for candidates without opposition from within their party to file the first spring campaign finance statements. But a clarification was being sought from the Texas Secretary of State Office.

The two Republicans did designations of their campaign managers. R. H. Weaver, a Big Spring lawyer, is campaign manager for Anderson.

Leslie H. Williams Jr., Plainview, is managing the Kirchoff campaign.

Of the Democratic candidates for senatorial and legislative seats, two named managers other than themselves. Ralph Miller is campaign manager for Borden County Judge C. Glenn Toombs.

Mrs. Mary Thomas, another candidate for set now held by Rep. Renal Rosson, Snyder, designated Mary Greenwood.

Rosson is not seeking reelection. And State Sen. Jack Hightower, Vernon, who represents Howard and other counties, is running for the U. S. Congress.

Fina's Revenues, Assets Rocket

DALLAS — An expanded base of assets and greater profitability from the production of crude oil and petrochemicals enabled American Petrofina to report increased revenues and earnings in the first quarter of 1974.

Gross revenue was $213,050,000 as compared with $73,649,000 in the first three months of 1973. Net income was $13,063,000, or $1.23 per share, in the quarter as compared with $4,735,000 or 62 cents per share, during the corresponding quarter of 1973 on 2,960,000 fewer shares. Assets of the company at March 31, 1974, amounted to $507,000,000 some 90 per cent more than at the same date last year.

The substantial gains were largely attributable to the operation of facilities added by the record capital expenditures made by the company in 1973. These included the acquisition and subsequent expansion of a costal refinery at Port Arthur, purchased in mid-1973, together with a related complex of pipelines, terminals, and marketing facilities.

In the first quarter of 1974, refinery throughputs averaged 176,111 barrels per day as compared with 93,278 barrels per day in the same period of 1973. Petrochemical sales were at significantly higher levels because of added facilities for the production of benzene at the Port Arthur refinery, additional styrene monomer capacity at Carville, La., and increased aromatics production at the Big Spring, refinery.

Higher prices for crude oil produced by the company were also important to the first quarter results. Profits from the refining and sale of gasoline, distillates, and other energy products were minimal, said R. I. Galland, president.

Ulmer Draws Life In Pen

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — Jerry Ben Ulmer, 21, of Garland, Tex., was convicted of murder here in district court and sentenced to life in prison.

Jurors returned their verdict after four hours of deliberation. They also found Ulmer guilty of aggravated robbery in a roadside holdup at a rest stop off Interstate 25 about two miles south of the Wyoming border Sept. 5.

Ulmer was convicted of shooting and killing James Hluhanek, 24, of Weimer, Tex., an employee of Gulf Oil Co. who was returning to work near Casper, Wyo., after a weekend visit to Texas.

The trial took five days. District Court Judge Hugh Arnold handed down the sentence late Monday night.

Ulmer also was sentenced to 15 to 25 years in prison on the aggravated robbery charge.

Police arrested Ulmer in Pueblo two days after the shooting.

Civil Suits Are Added To Docket

During March, the 118th District Court civil docket for Howard County was thickened, the number of pending criminal cases reduced and the juvenile court docket cleared, a report to the Texas Civil Judicial Council showed.

There were seven felony complaints filed, eight guilty pleas entered and one defendant found insane in a jury trial. Albert Aguilar, charged with robbery by firearm, was ordered sent to the Rusk State Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

Eight cases were dismissed. Pending at the first of the month were 214 cases, a number which fell to 204 by the month's end.

Five post-conviction writs of habeas corpus applications were received. District Judge R. W. Caton disposed of five, leaving the number pending at 18.

District Attorney Bob Moore and Judge Caton deal with cases in Martin and Glasscock counties also. The case load

NEW UNIFORM MEAT IDENTITY PROGRAM AT SAFEWAY

You'll notice changes in some of the names on meat labels in our cases. We have adopted a new program under which meat retailers will use uniform names for the different cuts of meat they sell. In addition to helping you identify cuts, the plan also aids in selecting proper cooking methods. If, for example, the label shows a cut to be a steak or roast from Beef Loin or Beef Rib, dry heat cooking methods such as broiling and frying are recommended. For most other beef, moist cooking methods such as braising or cooking in liquid are recommended. Some tender cuts of beef not marked Loin or Rib may be cooked with dry heat but it is best to check your cookbook on these.

Postal Orders On Hiring Leaves Jobs For 38 Employees Up In Air

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Thirty-eight persons may find themselves in an employment limbo because of contradictory hiring directives issued earlier this month by the U.S. Postal Service.
Postal officials here got the word from the Dallas district office April 8 that they could hire 40 career employees and 44 temporary personnel to handle a seasonal workload.
Feverish activity last week marked efforts to get the new career employees on board.
The 38 actually had been selected for the positions when a direction from the postal service's regional office in Memphis, Tenn., reached here Tuesday. It ordered all hiring suspended until May 1.
As a result, Fort Worth and district postal officials are trying to work out something with Memphis so the new employees can be put on the payroll for two reasons: —Fort Worth needs the employees to handle the spring and summer deluge of third class mail.

—Some of the potential employees, having been accepted for a position here, already have given their present employers two weeks' notice.
J. W. Harvey, a personnel official here who confirmed the basic facts of the situation, said he didn't know of any of the 38 who actually were out of work because of contradictory directives.
And as far as he knew, he said, no one had made a move because they thought they had employment with the post office here.
Most of the 38, Harvey said, live in the Fort Worth area.
"I'm sure," he added, "that there are some who have given notice."
Officials managed to avoid a potential economic hardship for one postal employee in Hawaii who applied and was accepted for one of the Fort Worth positions.
When the hiring suspension ordered was received, officials here contacted their counterparts in Hawaii and told that

Tunisian Helps Aliens' Cause

10 Per Cent Pay Increase

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — City councilmen have voted a 10 per cent salary increase for all city employees to keep pace with the cost of living.
The across-the-board pay hike, approved Tuesday, increases the monthly payroll for 67 Stephenville city employees to $39,542.

MOVING UP — John Sawhill, deputy director of the Federal Energy Office, was named by President Nixon Wednesday to succeed William Simon who has been nominated to be Treasury secretary. Here, Sawhill says in a recent Washington interview the major goal of the FEO over the next 12 to 18 months is going to be toward energy conservation.

Utopian Views Of Exiled Man Draw Fire

MOSCOW (AP) — Dissident Soviet physicist Andrei Sakharov says he agrees with Alexander Solzhenitsyn that the Kremlin should renounce Marxism, but he calls the exiled author's proposals for the Soviet future "utopian and potentially dangerous."
In a 3,500-word analysis of Solzhenitsyn's "Letter to the Soviet Leaders," Sakharov agreed with the author on a number of points and called him "one of the most outstanding writers and publicists of our times."
Like Solzhenitsyn, the physicist said the Soviet Union should give up its hegemony over Eastern Europe and the minority Soviet republics, give citizens complete freedom of movement across frontiers, and end support of Marxism as the official ideology.
Solzhenitsyn wrote the letter to the Soviet leadership on Sept. 5, 1973, but he did not have it circulated to reporters until three weeks after his expulsion from Russia last February. In the letter, he urged the Kremlin leaders to renounce the Soviet Union's world role and turn inward to focus on the development of eastern Siberia as a defense against China. He feared war with China was a certainty.
Sakharov, in his letter released to reporters Sunday, said the "nationalistic and isolationist direction in Solzhenitsyn's thinking, the religious-patriarchal romanticism characteristic of him, leads him into very substantial errors and makes his proposals utopian and potentially dangerous."
The physicist argued that an intensification of trade with the West is the only way to improve life for the Russian people and eventually force the development of a democratic society.
He rejected Solzhenitsyn's thesis that the Soviet Union is threatened seriously by total war with China, saying that the banished author has "over-dramatized" the Chinese situation.

Held 14 Years For Rape He Apparently Didn't Commit

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Jesse Daniels, who was held 14 years in a mental hospital for a rape he apparently didn't commit, has been voted $75,000 in reparations by the Florida House.

"The fact is that this poor, dumb boy was railroaded off to the funny farm and spent 14 years there," said Rep. A.S. Robinson, R-Fort Lauderdale. "There was distinctly a miscarriage of justice in this case."

WITH MOM

Daniels, now 34 and living in Green Cove Springs with his mother, was arrested in 1957 for the rape of a Florida woman who said she had been attacked by a black man. Daniels is white.

He was questioned for four days and nights and confessed to the crime, records show. Black suspects had been questioned without results before authorities grilled Daniels.

Daniels was judged incompetent and sent to the state hospital at Chattahoochee without having a trial and having to face the victim. Several attempts to free him or gain a trial failed and he remained at the hospital until the Florida

Supreme Court ordered his release in 1971.

SHY GUY

The bill providing compensation to Daniels originally sought $175,000, as recommended by the House Claims Committee, but the amount was reduced.

The sponsor of the amendment, Rep. Jim Foster, D-Tampa, said the $75,000 would "compensate him a little better than he could have earned if he had been out." Daniels is a dishwasher and garden helper.

Rep. Hyatt Brown, D-Daytona Beach, said he has had lunch with Daniels several times, and called him a "somewhat shy individual who speaks only when he is spoken to."

The House also considered whether to pay $25,000 compensation for Daniels' mother, Pearl Eisentrager, but postponed a decision.

Museum Trustees Meet Today

The quarterly meeting of trustees of Heritage Museum will be held 5 p.m. today at the museum, 510 Scurry.

Reports on activities of the past quarter will be received, and members will have a chance to see the new exhibit, "Shine on Big Spring." This is keyed on the late Shine Philips' widely-known book on Big Spring.

George Zachariah, vice president, will be in charge of the meeting in the absence of Daryle Hohertz, president. One item of business has to do with the possibility of a Spring chuck wagon party for members and guests.
