STOGIE-PUFFING COUNCILMAN — Cleveland Councilwoman Mary E. Zunt, puffs on her cigar during this week's council session. Mrs. Zunt, a Democrat, says she kicked the cigaret habit three year ago by switching to stogies.

CHARGE AF MEN

Robbers Torture, Kill Trio

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Homicide charges have been filed against two young Air Force men in connection with a robbery-slaying case in which five persons were beaten, tortured and shot. Three died.

The two Hill Air Force Base airmen, Dale S. Pierre, 21, and William A. Andrews, 20, were arrested Tuesday night, Ogden Police Chief LeRoy Jacobsen said.

Pierre is from the Caribbean nation of Trinidad, and Andrews is from Jonesboro, La.

Jacobsen said officers found belongings of some of the victims of the Monday night robbery-slaying at the Hi-Fi Shop in Ogden in a trash receptacle near the Hill AFB dormitory where Pierre and Andrews were seized without resistance. He did not elaborate.

Jacobsen and Detective Capt. Robert Warren said none of the $24,000 worth of stereo equipment taken in the robbery was recovered.

They said Pierre and Andrews were arrested on the basis of a description given police by one of the victims, who had been shot, fed a caustic liquid and had a ballpoint pen forced into his ear.

Dr. Gaver Next MHMR Head?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Austin American-Statesman said today it has learned that Dr. Kenneth D. Gaver, Ohio's chief mental health officer, will be the next commissioner of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

The copyright story said Gaver was expected to meet Friday with the Texas board in Austin for final confirmation.

The American-Statesman said that board chairman, Ed Van Zandt of Beaumont, would not discuss possible new commissioners but said he hoped the decision on a replacement for Dr. David Wade would be made Friday. Wade announced in January that he was retiring for health reasons, effective Aug. 31.

Gaver, 49, has directed the Ohio mental health and mental retardation system for the last three years. Prior to that he headed Oregon's mental health system for five years.

Candidate Shot In Head, Back

HOUSTON (AP) — A hidden killer lay in wait for legislature candidate Jack Dale Waite, 41, and killed him after he returned home late Tuesday night, police said.

Neighbors heard shots and summoned officers. They found the body of Waite, shot in the head and back, lying in a Northwest Houston street.

Waite was unopposed in the Republican primary for a nomination for state representative. He was defeated in a city council race last year. Aside from politics, he was a real estate man and an advertising firm executive.

Police gave these details:

Someone broke a back window, entered Waite's house and waited until he awoke about 11 p.m. They apparently handcuffed him, as indicated by marks on his wrists, and beat him about the head before he broke free and ran about 25 feet down the street.

Pistol bullets dropped him outside an oil tool plant. Officers said there apparently were no witnesses and their lone clue was an empty pistol casing.

BAD ODDS

Slight, 20 per cent, chance of rain through Thursday. High today and Thursday in the 80s. Low tonight, low 60s. Southerly to south easterly winds of 15-25 m.p.h. this afternoon. Tonight, 10 to 20 m.p.h.

Mrs. Harvell Is Winner

Mrs. Noel Harvell, Sand Springs, won the at-large position on the Howard County School Board, an unofficial tally Tuesday afternoon showed Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said.

Lists of totals at a couple of voting boxes were missing when the court tried to canvass returns from the April 6 election Monday. After a search by officials, the lists were discovered.

The at-large position was decided by write-in votes, no candidate having registered in time to get his name on the ballot.

Mrs. Harvell was written on 26 ballots.

Manuel Correa got 18 votes for the at-large post. Ballots of 16 citizens were marked for William Dawes. And Billie Carr received 8 votes.

Running without opposition, Hayes Stripling Jr., drew 186 votes for school trustee of precinct three.

R. L. Heith, the other unopposed incumbent, was the choice of 123 in precinct four.

Terror Spree Counts Filed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Michigan correction official says a prison escapee charged with murder in a three-day spree of violence was thought to have successfully completed a program designed to reverse his antisocial behavior.

Perry Johnson, who heads the state Department of Corrections, said Joseph Molinare, 29, one of two men charged, was in a program to change the behavior of "hard core" criminals.

Johnson said Molinare left the program last month after treatment appeared successful, and was placed in the minimum security Marquette prison farm.

Nixon's Foreign Aid Plea Tops $5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today asked Congress for $5.18 billion in foreign aid money, including $250 million to help Egypt clear the Suez Canal, repair war damage in adjacent cities and restore trade with the United States.

UNDERSTANDING

At the same time, Nixon asked for $350 million in military support for Israel and $207.5 million for Jordan.

He said the United States "can and should play a constructive role in securing a just and durable peace in the Middle East by facilitating increased understanding between the Arab nations and Israel ..."

The President also requested $939.8 million to assist South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos "in their efforts to shift their economies from war to peace and to accelerate the reconstitution of their societies."

The Indochina figure did not include military assistance, which this year is running at an annual rate of $1.4 billion.

All the money, including a special $100 million Mideast fund for peacekeeping forces, refugee aid and development projects, would be for the fiscal year that begins July 1.

Congress' response is uncertain, although one member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has said it is opposed "to reverting again to that old habit of trying to outbid the Soviet Union in securing Egypt's friendship."

Nixon's request for Egypt accelerates the fast-building change in relations between the two countries.

CONTACTS

The two countries restored full diplomatic contacts last week after a 6½ year break and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is concentrating on President Anwar Sadat of Egypt for Arab support in working out settlements with Israel.

On Sunday he begins his fifth tour of the region since the Arab-Israeli war last October, seeking a disengagement between Israeli and Syrian forces in the Golan Heights.

"The hope for a lasting solution to the Arab-Israeli dispute is stronger today than at any time in the previous quarter century," Nixon told Congress in proposing a special assistance program for the Middle East.

Says Odd Ball Not From Outer Space

TAOS, N.M. (AP) — Sculptor James Durling-Jones of Taos says a mysterious stainless steel ball found near Jacksonville, Fla., probably is one of several he lost off the top of his Volkswagen bus in 1971.

The eight-inch, 22-pound sphere, reported found by Terry Matthews, 21, of Jacksonville, has been examined by scientists amid speculation its origin was extraterrestrial.

"I can't tell you where I got them because I'd get a friend in trouble," Durling-Jones said in a telephone interview. "But I'll tell you this: They're not from outer space."

Durling-Jones said he originally acquired 12 of the stainless steel spheres, which he intended to use in sculptures.

"I'm kind of a sphere freak," he said.

"I had that bus crammed full, so I stuck the spheres up on top in a luggage carrier. I guess I lost three or four of them somewhere in the South. We went through the Jacksonville area around Easter of 1971."

Durling-Jones, who manages the Sagebrush Inn in Taos when he isn't sculpturing or transporting spheres, was reluctant to say what the spheres originally were used for.

"Look, these things aren't perfect. If they were perfect they'd be worth several thousand dollars to the company that made them," he said. "Besides, if I tell you, the company will want them back."

If You Like To Go Island Hopping, Do It By Film

Kodak's multi-media travel and picture-taking guide, "Caribbean... Picture Treasures," will be shown in the municipal auditorium here, starting at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

The film has been drawing banner crowds wherever it is screened.

There is no admission charge but those planning to attend should pick up advance tickets at The Herald in order to insure themselves good seats.

The show is co-sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company and the Big Spring Herald. The film is a colorful combination of pictures, often flashed on the giant screen at the same time, ever-changing slides and motion commentary is offered by a member of Eastman Kodak's traveling team. Host of the show will be Thomas Freeman of Eastman Kodak.

This marks the third time in three years Eastman Kodak has offered such a program to local residents. If presentation is as good as the previous two, those who see it are in for an evening of memorable entertainment.

Williams, Randle Given Legion Awards At HC

Howard College presented awards to 112 students in honors and awards day convocation this morning in the college auditorium.

Mrs. Joann Lou Avery also presented a scholarship award to Carol Hartfield, who will go to Texas Tech. Runners-up for the scholarship were Mike Randle and Ronnie Medrano.

"We honored about the same number of students last year. This just about winds up our year's activities except for the spring dance April 30 in the cafeteria. Our commencement is May 10," Mrs. Smith added.

Soviet Union Sends Syria Jet Fighters

By The Associated Press

Israeli and Syrian planes bombed and strafed positions on Mt. Hermon while tank and artillery duels roared along the Golan Heights plateau in the 44th straight day of fighting today along the Israeli-Syrian front.

Syria claimed its ground to air missiles shot down two Israeli planes over Mt. Hermon but the Israeli military command said all Israeli planes returned safely.

Neither side gave any indication of casualties.

The Israeli command also said security forces rounded up an Arab guerrilla cell in Ramallah, on the occupied west bank of the Jordan River, responsible for killing an Israeli soldier in a knife attack last November.

THRASH IT OUT

U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger leaves for the Middle East on Sunday to try to thrash out an agreement between Israel and Syria for disengagement of their forces on the Golan Heights.

A left-wing Beirut newspaper, as Safir, said the Syrians had refused Egyptian requests to soften their disengagement terms.

The paper said these included a total Israeli withdrawal from territory captured in the 1967 Six Day War and an initial pull-back from land gained in last year's October War to new lines beyond the main Golan Heights town of Kuneitra and the three strategic hills overlooking it. The newspaper as Safir said Israel has already rejected this plan.

RUSSIAN

In Washington, U.S. intelligence sources claimed the Soviet Union had sent Syria 12 more MIG21 jet fighters to bolster its air force in the growing aerial warfare over the Golan Heights.

Israeli officials declined to comment on President Nixon's intention to ask Congress for some $250 million in economic aid for Egypt to bolster the position of President Anwar Sadat.

The request is seen as a move to strengthen relations with Egypt and draw it farther from the Soviet orbit.

Home Delivery Rates For Herald Increase

Effective Wednesday, May 1, the home delivery rate of the Big Spring Herald by carrier boy and by motor route will be $2.50 per month throughout the Big Spring area.

The increase has become necessary by continuing increases in newsprint, production and distribution costs. Because the carriers' cost have also greatly increased, they will receive an equal percentage of this adjustment.

Single daily edition prices will remain unchanged at 10 cents per copy and Sunday editions will remain at the present 25 cents per copy. All prices include applicable sales taxes.

ANGRY TRUCKERS STALK OUT OF MEETING
No Rollback Of Fuel Prices

PHARR, Tex. (AP) — Several hundred angry truckers stalked out of a meeting Tuesday night after a federal government official told them "The price of fuel is not going to be rolled back, no matter what."

SHUTDOWN LOOMS
Millard Holden, president of the Independent Produce Haulers Association, said he hopes the truckers will not stage a planned nationwide shutdown May 13, but a trucker from the Midwest said the shutdown will occur.

Bud Adams of Fredricktown, Mo., regional vice president of the Midwest Independent Truckers Association, said the truckers will hold a statewide meeting in early May before making a final decision on the shutdown, but it will occur unless fuel prices are rolled back.

John W. Snow, deputy assistant secretary of the Transportation Department, told about 300 truckers he believes the government has made progress in attempts to solve the problems facing them.

Problems most frequently cited Tuesday night included the fuel shortage, high fuel prices, 55 m.p.h. speed limit and federal and state regulations.

SERIOUS DAMAGE
"The shutdown will not advance the cause of the truckers," Snow said. "It does do serious damage to the country."

The meeting orderly at the start, grew less orderly during a question and answer session and finally deteriorated to the point that most of the truckers stalked out of the Pharr Civic Center, mumbling and grumbling as they walked.

The first question, from a heavyset trucker, set the tone for the rest: "If the people need us to get the food to the North, why are we taxed so much?"

Snow explained that highway use taxes are designed to be paid by persons who use the highways.

Toynbee's Grim Future

Arnold Toynbee at 85 has a pessimistic view of the future. Since history is a pretty reliable gauge of the future, and since Toynbee is one of the world's great historians, his views bear scrutiny.

According to Toynbee, the affluent nations are living a grasshopper life, doomed to end. He foresees authoritarian governments, the end to free enterprise, a halt to growth, and austerity as severe as any experienced even in wartime.

"Man's plundering of nature now threatens him with pollution and depletion," the historian wrote in the London Observer Easter Sunday. "In so-called developed countries... growth is going to cease. They are going to find themselves in a permanent state of siege in which the material conditions of life will be at least as severe as they were during the two world wars."

Not every thinker has as dark a view as Toynbee. But signs of what Toynbee warns of are all around us.

The same day Toynbee's views appeared in the Observer, U.S. Environmental Protection Administrator Russell Train was on television telling how little we learned from the recent energy crisis. Train said he fears the nation "is going to go back to its wasteful ways" of consuming energy, now that the immediate pressure of the Arab oil boycott has lifted. "I think that we're very complacent about this," Train said, "not really recognizing that we're in for a long-term energy problem in this country."

The emphasis continues to be, Train observed, on finding new sources of energy instead of conserving those we have. And new sources of energy — such as shale or strip-mined coal — can be had only at a reasonable trade-off of the environment. Moreover, these "new sources" are themselves finite; once used, they're gone.

Continued squandering of our resources can only ultimately lead to the dark future in the long run, Toynbee says. Maintaining the status quo, we may well threaten the environment in which we live, or use up the stores of energy and food and fiber left to us. Failing to choose the path of conservation and controlled growth and affluence, we will have controls imposed upon us, and more so upon generations to follow.

Rules Of The Car Pool

The following rules for car pool drivers and passengers have been suggested by the Colorado Interstate Corp. to its employees.

Drivers: All seats must be kept free of bubble gum, diapers, dog hair, soda bottles, beer cans and other trash.

The driver will have exclusive responsibility for all conversations with police officers and all fines resulting therefrom.

Passengers: Cigar and pipe smokers may chew all they like, but lighting up is prohibited.

"Brown baggers" will be limited to 50 cubic inches of space. Sandwiches of limburger cheese, onions, raw or cured fish must be carried in sealed containers.

Passengers will refrain from distracting the driver except in emergencies such as, (a) car with flashing red light sneaking up from behind, (b) lighted cigarette has just disappeared between seat cushions, (c) wheels smoking due to driving with parking brake on, (d) driver has just dozed off.

Junior Wouldn't Quit

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

I suppose there's something useful to be found in most situations.

FOR INSTANCE, there I was sailing down I-20, congratulating myself that even at 55 mph I still had time to get to Odessa and a conference John Ben Shepperd had called on bicentennial plans. Then there was this odd noise, a sort of swish, swish, and in my puzzlement, I noticed the alternator light was on. I was going to limp into Stanton when the heat indicator came on, so I eased over the exit overpass and confirmed my suspicions. The fan-alternator belt was gone.

In the good-neighbor tradition, the first man past slowed to give aid, saving me a healthy walk into town. At Abilene, they said Junior could help me, so I crawled into his tow car and we were on our way to my beleaguered vehicle.

I DIDN'T realize it, but I had known of Herman Lander Jr., for a good while back, particularly through a story we had about a young man who wouldn't give up.

Junior had a lot of trouble with his ailing kidneys, and after months and months at Houston, he and his wife, Mickey, got the verdict. He couldn't live without a dialysis machine. There was a double problem. Most of these "artificial" kidney machines then were confined to hospitals, and the relatively few available for outside use were frightfully expensive.

HOWEVER, with the help and prayers of family and friends, they finally swung it. Mickey took instructions in how to operate the unit, and they came home with their chins and faith up.

Well, this is six years later, and Junior is still going strong, he told me. He's dependent upon that same dialysis machine, but it's just part of the routine. In one wrist he keeps a little plastic tube attached to a blood vessel, and when not in use he just puts a little gauze wrapping around it so that it's hardly noticeable. Three times a week, just before going to bed, Mickey ties this tube into the machine, and when Junior wakes up eight hours later, she takes him out.

WHILE HE'S off at work — and he farms when he isn't working at the motor company or some other job — she gets the dialysis machine ready for the next session. Every once in a while he takes a little fishing trip and can be off the machine for three or four days without any visibly ill effects.

"I feel fine," he says. "I watch my diet, and I'm careful to drink only ionized water, and we use it to cook my food with. And for salt, I don't see why people spoil their food with it."

OF COURSE, he couldn't get along without the dialysis machine, but most of all without Mickey.

Fateful Response

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The last door open to the White House for painless noncompliance with the congressional subpoenas demanding presidential tapes of April 1973 has been slammed shut in advance by senior Republicans and Democrats on the House Judiciary Committee, posing an unavoidable moment of truth Thursday.

THE WHITE HOUSE late last week seemed headed toward this approach: give the committee an edited version of the April tapes, omitting "national security" and "irrelevant" material. Simultaneously, veiled hints from the White House have suggested not all the subpoenaed April tapes actually exist.

But an overwhelming majority on the Judiciary Committee simply will not buy this. They want each and every tape by the subpoena's Thursday due-date. They will insist that questions of "national security" and "irrelevant" material be resolved by bipartisan senior committee members and counsel working with Nixon defense lawyer James St. Clair. Claims of missing tapes would be greeted by disbelief and outrage from both Republicans and Democrats.

THUS, THE SHOWDOWN: Mr. Nixon must surrender the tapes or raise Republican suspicions still higher by disobeying the subpoena. That dilemma may encourage what aides describe as a private presidential mood ever more fatalistic. Mr. Nixon knows the game must be played out and thinks he will win it, but adds that if he doesn't, well, that's the way it is.

Last summer's Senate Watergate hearings raised the possibility that the mid-April 1973 presidential conversations hold the key to the game. Having been warned by the Justice Department April 15 that presidential aides H. R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman might be criminally prosecuted and should be fired, the President disregarded the advice. Instead, he conferred with them in frequent, long conversations whose recorded contents might answer fateful questions: Was this just bad judgment by Mr. Nixon? Or was he involved in the Watergate cover-up?

SOME POTENTIALLY revealing conversations are lost forever. The White House says the recorder ran out of tape at 9:30 Sunday morning, April 15. But assuming the machine was replenished Monday, there were many other Nixon-Haldeman-Ehrlichman conversations during this crucial period.

The President has been particularly chary about their release. Special prosecutor Leon Jaworski's requests were ignored, and he has subpoenaed 13 conversations between April 14 and April 17, 1973. Similarly, St. Clair complained repeatedly that Judiciary Committee counsel John Doar's request for April 14-17 conversations was too vague (though Doar privately told St. Clair precisely what was wanted).

JUST BEFORE the Judiciary Committee considered the historic subpoena, St. Clair offered Doar all material requested — except the April tapes. After that was rejected, staunch Nixonite Rep. David Dennis of Indiana proposed omitting the April tapes from the subpoena. A party-line vote defeated his amendment.

Traffic At Shrine

Robert E. Ford

The morning was cold and dark and drops of rain stung like sleet. It was 10 a.m.

Already they were coming. Sedans, pickups, campers and buses full.

WHAT DREW these people to an obscure country road in Texas?

They were here to pay homage to the memory of Lyndon B. Johnson.

The visitor needs to drive along Texas 290 between Fredericksburg and Johnson City to reach the place. Watch carefully. The Ranch Road 1 turnoff slips up almost without warning.

It is a pleasant rural road, lined by trees and meadows. Flowing alongside the route is the Pedernales River, sparking clear.

Traveling from Johnson City you see an ancient church on the left. A small herd of buffalo stands kneedeep in young oats or wheat.

Over to the right if you watch carefully, you can see the big white house that is the Johnson family's. The land slopes from the house to the river and the grass between appears manicured.

THE VISITORS' area consists of a couple of buildings and extensive parking areas.

Presiding over the installations is Supt. Harold C. Woods.

"They're still coming," said Woods. "The gas shortage doesn't appear to affect it too much."

Visitors are given the grand tour in park buses with no charge.

This tour includes a drive by the Johnson ranch house, a look at the ranch and cattle, a stop at the one-room school Johnson attended, another pause at his birthplace, and then to his grave. A filmed documentary is included.

The tour takes about an hour.

AT ONE TIME, Woods relates, there was considerable difficulty about people trying to get into the Johnson home.

It is the private residence of Mrs. Johnson. She has donated it to the National Park Service, but it will remain her home and not open to casual visitors presumably as long as she survives.

A portion of the house was built in 1892 with walls 18 inches thick. An aunt and uncle of Johnson's bought it in the 1900s, and the Johnsons purchased it in 1951.

IT HAD 438 acres in 1951, the Park Service reports, and Johnson added to it until the spread reached 3,000 acres.

For those wanting to make a day of it, there are well-kept picnic areas and a swimming pool. The buildings are filled with Johnson mementoes.

The park opened in August 1970 and about 50,000 came by year's end. The following year, 200,000 visited the park and the next there were 600,000.

The death of Johnson Jan. 22, 1973, brought a sharp increase in visitors. From Sept. 1, 1972 to Aug. 31, 1973, there were 1,222,587.

WOODS ESTIMATED up to two and a half million have been to the park.

The park contains a number of wild animals — well, they once were wild. Woods calls it the only official wildlife exhibit in Texas.

Violence On Wane

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood's bank cartridge industry, which enjoyed boom times during television's much-criticized shoot-em-up era of the late 1950s, faces a bleak outlook next season. And it may get worse.

A look at the NBC and CBS program lists for next fall shows TV gunfire and other violence, already on the wane amid continued heat from Congress and citizens' groups, continues to decrease.

ABC has not yet announced its fall schedule.

Shows emphasizing what the trade calls "human values" are on the rise, with the exception of CBS' new "Planet of the Apes" series, which is serious monkey business.

EXCLUDING made-for-TV films or recent movies, which may or may not have violence, there'll still be the sounds of guns blasting and bodies falling, albeit on a controlled scale, next fall on NBC and CBS.

But save for three shows in which mayhem might occur — "Gunsmoke," "NBC Sunday Mystery Movie" and "Adam-12" — none of the potentially violent series in the new CBS-NBC lineups air until 9 p.m. EDT, when most of the nation's younger viewers theoretically are a-bed.

The strongest indication of the trend toward less violence at any hour is in NBC's new lineup. Out of 12 new entries, one is a situation comedy, two are comedy-dramas and five are "human value" series.

CBS, WHICH gave the last category impetus by sticking with "The Waltons" through lean ratings times, also is keeping pace. Only one of its new series, a gumshoe saga named "Manhunter," portends gunpowder.

In addition to "Planet of the Apes," its other new wares are two sitcoms, "Rhoda" and "The Paul Sand Show," and three new "human values" series, two of which are half-hour comedy-dramas.

The two are "The Love Nest," about an elderly couple on Social Security, and "We'll Get By," created by Alan Alda of the "Mash" gang and concerning the lives of a suburban New Jersey family.

NBC's five contributions to the "human values" movement are: —"Born Free," based on the African wildlife book of the same name.

—"The Little House on the Prairie," an American plains series, set in the 1890s and based on the classic books by Laura Ingalls Wilder.

—"THE RANGERS," about the activities of the U.S. Forest Service.

—"Petroleum," about a Harvard-educated big city lawyer who hangs out his shingle in a Southwestern cattle town.

—"Lucas Tanner" about a big league pitcher-turned-sports writer who becomes a high school teacher after the death of his wife and young son.

All these shows are an hour long. Two half-hour shows described as comedy dramas, are "Chico and the Man," about an embittered garage owner and his brash young Chicano "partner," and "Sunshine," about a young musician who's supporting an orphan girl.

NBC'S EIGHTH nonviolent offering for the fall is a sitcom called "Second Start," about a successful businessman who gives it all up to enter medical school with the help of his family.

Money Crisis Lurking

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — A money crisis appears to lurk just around the corner, and present indications are that business and a lot of individual Americans are going to walk smack into it. The concussion could be shattering.

Business has big capital spending plans on its book, hoping to enlarge and better equip its production facilities. Individuals, encouraged by renewed activity in homebuilding, have plans to buy long-delayed homes.

Neither may be able to go ahead with plans, however, because the money might not be there. And nobody needs to be told that a spending plan without money or credit is as impossible of accomplishment as filling a lacerated balloon with air.

The demand on the money supply has been growing for months, and not even historically high interest rates have been able to suppress it. In fact, the cost of money itself might be contributing to the situation.

It goes like this: a company plans to increase its spending on plant and equipment by 13 per cent over 1973, which is in fact the rate industry as a whole has set as a goal. But instead of having 13 per cent more money it must subtract for inflation — and for the higher costs of borrowing.

Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, which controls the money spigot, has been growing increasingly disturbed about what he considers to be highly inflationary demands for money. He has declared his intention of restraining that demand.

Otherwise, it is the Fed's contention, individuals and business will spend to such a degree that further inflationary strains are placed upon the economy. Inflation must be controlled, Burns asserts, even though it pains.

Countering his position, some investors and businessmen have hollered that monetary policy alone cannot accept so much of the burden of restraint. They claim that to limit the money supply could destroy business, wreck the housing market and bring about a stock market collapse.

Burns this week stood firm. "We aren't going to sit back and prepare a monetary path to a continuation of rapid inflation," he said. "Let there be no mistaking our determination to do this."

Cruel, Thoughtless Remark

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you tell me what causes crib death in infants?

A 5-month-old died that way recently. One young woman approached me and said it might have been that the mother had taken some pills while pregnant.

I don't believe this is true as I've been reading about it in newspapers. Seems to me they can put a child to bed with no symptoms of being ill, and the child is found dead.

Would appreciate it much if you could help me out in this matter. — Mrs. R. C.

I hope that thoughtless remark never got back to the mother. Think what her guilt reaction could have been — and for no reason.

No, I cannot tell you what causes crib deaths. Doctors and research scientists are hunting for clues that will lead to an answer. But they don't yet know.

As to the mother "having taken some pills," there is no indication that that is involved. It is true that there are a few drugs that, taken in early pregnancy, can interfere with the development of the fetus and cause physical defects. There are many more drugs about which little or nothing is known in that regard.

So the rule today is to avoid any drugs unless known to be safe or known to be urgently needed.

But crib deaths are not singling out defective babies as the victims. There is, in fact, no visible pattern. Perfectly healthy babies do indeed die in infancy and the strongest suspicion is that, not yet having been gradually exposed to many kinds of germs (colds and other kinds), such babies may pick up an infection that in some way stops respiration. Breathing.

With a tiny baby who happens to encounter a germ against which he has as yet no resistance, infection can flare up with frightening speed. In a few hours. Overnight. An infant's airways are so small that only a little congestion can close off the windpipe.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

My marriage is rocky, and it may not last. Why don't you ministers brief us a little more than you do on the secrets of success?

L.T. I suspect you're transferring blame to others, when the truth is that marital failure is essentially the fault of the two people involved. I have known cases of great marital compatibility, in the face of monumental odds — because of a genuine commitment — each to the other, and both to the Lord.

Now I agree that premarital counseling is important. You should have sought it, and not have depended on others to deliver it to you. One minister put it this way: "The one thing that I want you to remember is this, all marriages have difficulties, some very critical ones. If you begin to have trouble, turn to someone for help before the situation gets too bad."

The greatest source of help is God. Get your own life straightened out by a real faith in Christ. Then the benefits of God's Spirit can give you such things as love, joy, and peace, etc. (see Galatians 5:22). No marriage is so sick, but what Christ's healing power can restore it.

A Devotion For Today

I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the strength. (I Corinthians 3:6)

PRAYER: Lord Jesus, make us aware of the goodness of Thy works, even in the differences of personalities we have. In Thy name. Amen.

PESTERED DURING BUS RIDE Man Robbed While Dying

DETROIT (AP) — Rudolf Kordich was the kind of man who would turn the other cheek if someone bothered him.

The former Chrysler Corp. employe spent much of his spare time working for St. Lazarus Church and was to have been honored at a May 4 testimonial dinner by the congregation.

Now Kordich is dead at 57, apparently frightened into a heart attack by two men who pestered him during a bus ride, then robbed him as he lay dying on the bus floor.

HEART TROUBLE — Kordich, who had a history of heart trouble, saw his doctor last Thursday for a routine checkup before flying to Chicago for a Midwest Diocese meeting of the Serbian Orthodox Church, his family said.

He returned from Chicago half a day early and didn't want to bother his family for a ride home, so he took the bus instead, said his wife, Dorothy.

Authorities said two men sitting near Kordich in the rear of the bus started harassing him during the trip on Saturday, and a spokesman for the Wayne County medical examiner's office said fear apparently brought on a heart attack. Kordich slumped to the floor unconscious and witnesses said the two men who had been bothering him started going through his clothing and took his wallet.

An ambulance was called and the passengers on the bus transferred to another vehicle. The two men who annoyed Kordich went with them, witnesses said.

Kordich's wallet, still containing $100 in a secret compartment, was found on the second bus. It was not known if anything had been taken from the wallet. Police arrested Dale Rice, 21, of Detroit. He was charged with unarmed robbery. Officers said the second man was still being sought.

Kordich was forced to take early retirement from Chrysler two months ago because of a personnel cutback, after 38 years with the firm. He was a manager in Chrysler's truck allocation sales division.

HIS DREAM

Kordich, the elected lay leader of St. Lazarus for 17 years, had been active in helping the parish to build a new church. A church spokesman said he raised the money for the new

Pet Rats Didn't Take Vacation

WILLINGBORO, N.J. (AP) — William Porter and his family went to Florida for a vacation. They left their two pet rats at home.

Now there are more than 300 white rats in the two-story colonial-style home, and neighbors are complaining that the rats are invading their property.

Burlington County health authorities investigated and decided to exterminate the rats at the township's expense.

Charles J. Schiers, the county environmental coordinate, said here that attempts to contact Porter have been unsuccessful.

Rummage Sale Opens May 1

The Big Spring State Hospital Volunteer Council will hold its Spring rummage sale May 1-4, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day at 1008 Lamesa Highway, across the street from the Northside Dairy Queen. The building is through the courtesy of Johnie Walker.

Proceeds from the rummage sale are used to pay the registration for all volunteers attending the State Volunteer Council Meeting, held this fall in Austin. The remaining returns are used for the benefit of patients at BSSH.

Donations are requested. Used furniture, books, pictures, knickknacks and kitchen items are especially good sellers.

Volunteers are needed now to help sort, mark, and display the merchandise. Volunteers also will be needed to act as salespersons during the four-day sale.

Call Volunteer Services 267-8216 ext. 308 to sign up as a volunteer worker either before or during the sale or for your donation pick-up. Virginia Moore, Coordinator, urged.

Connally Brushes Aside Milk Money Questions

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former Treasury Sec. John Connally brushed aside questions about a reported $10,000 milk fund transaction prior to addressing a dinner for a retiring law school dean.

"It would be patently unfair to inject anything else into this program," said Connally Tuesday night. "Besides, I don't have anything to say that I haven't already said before."

Connally later indicated he might talk about reports of investigations against him during a visit to Dallas next week. He would not confirm his intentions, however.

Last week, published reports said milk lobbyist Jake Jacobson was prepared to testify that he gave Connally $10,000 in 1971 and 1972. Connally said he did not take the money, although he acknowledged that it had been offered.

A separate report said Connally returned $10,000 to Jacobson in 1973. Connally denied this.

Connally was here Tuesday for a dinner honoring W. Page Keeton, retiring dean of the University of Texas Law School.

Small Biz Workshop Set

Do you want to go in business?

Prospective small business owners will have an opportunity to learn what it takes to start and operate a successful business through a workshop announced recently by the Small Business Administration and the Special Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE).

The workshop program — "Keys to a Business Success" — calls for a one-day workshop for men and women who are considering starting businesses of their own or buying a new one.

The program is scheduled to be held at Webb Air Force Base at 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on April 30 in the NCO Club building. There is no charge for attending and anyone in the Big Spring area is invited to take part.

All small business owners, who feel in need of help are asked to attend.

Subjects covered are personal factors for business success, business financing, taxes and insurance, organization and planning, management techniques, choosing the right location and sources of assistance and information.

The reason behind the workshop is to help small business owners avoid the problems that lead to business failure. Most failures can be prevented because they are due to lack of management experience and know how. SBA and SCORE aim to inform potential owners of the dangers involved and some things they can do to help achieve success.

Those who wish to attend are requested to phone the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce before Friday to preregister, or to arrive at the NCO Mess building before 8 a.m. on the day of the workshop.

Charlie Maisel and Harve Ellison of Odessa, who are volunteers in the SCORE program, were here during the past week to arrange for the meeting.

HOPES FOR ALL THE TAPES — Rep. Peter Rodino, D-N. J., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, tells a Washington news conference Tuesday he is hopeful the re-election President Nixon asked for a five-day extension to respond to a committee subpoena means he intends to turn over the 42 tapes it covers. Behind Rodino is John Doar, special counsel.

Final Arguments Slated In Mitchell-Stans Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — The historic criminal conspiracy trial of former Cabinet members John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans draws nearer the jury with defense and prosecution lawyers presenting final arguments today.

The entire day was set aside for Peter Fleming Jr., lawyer for former U.S. Atty. Gen. Mitchell, and Asst. U.S. Atty. John Wing, who led the government prosecution, to sum up their cases.

HONEST MAN? U.S. District Judge Lee P. Gagliardi, who has presided over the nine-week trial — the first in which criminal charges have been brought against former Cabinet members in nearly half a century — will charge the jury of nine men and three women after final arguments, possibly on Thursday.

On Tuesday, the lawyer for defendant Stans spent his allotted 4½ hours portraying Stans as an honest, innocent man and attacking government charges that the one-time commerce secretary had anything to do with hindering a Securities and Exchange Commission investigation of financier Robert L. Vesco.

Mitchell and Stans are accused of conspiracy, perjury and obstruction of justice. The government says the two men, who left the Cabinet to run President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign, accepted a secret $200,000 cash campaign contribution from Vesco on the promise of impeding the SEC fraud probe.

VESCO-ITIS Claiming the government had contracted "Vesco-itis," Stans' lawyer, Walter Bonner, said Tuesday the government had taken "one teeny portion" of it.

Bonner, 48, a bushy-haired Washington lawyer, sprinkled his final argument with characterizations of Stans as "that honorable man," "this wonderful man," "this man of integrity," and "one teeny portion" of it.

Stans' career — his brief association with Vesco — and tried to make a crime of it. At another point in his lengthy summation, Bonner scathingly attacked the testimony of former White House Counsel John W. Dean III and former SEC chairman G. Bradford Cook, both of whom appeared for the government.

"I give you John Dean," Bonner told the jury as he accused Dean of lying under oath to win a light sentence for his part in the Watergate coverup. "And I give you Maurice Stans. You have the choice. It's all yours."

Four new directors will be inducted when the West Texas chapter of Associated General Contractors holds its annual meeting Friday evening at Colonial Inn in Abilene.

They are L. I. (Dusty) Rhodes, Abilene, H. R. Bundock, Lubbock, Linville L. Haney, Abilene, and Phillip Templeton, San Angelo. Among the holdover directors is Jim Bill Little, Big Spring.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Franklin R. Sears, the chapter's labor counsel.

Studies View Family Life, Mental Health

Two areas of concern, family life and mental health, were explored in workshop studies by the 250 home demonstration club members who gathered here last week for the Texas Home Demonstration Association convention.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Olson, 3705 Connally, announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Doreen, to Airman I.C. Robert D. Phillips of Webb Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Phillips of Milton, Del. The couple will be married May 18 in the Webb AFB Chapel.

featured a lecture by Dr. Stanley E. Fowler who began by saying, "We understand each other better through communications, and each generation has something to contribute."

Dr. Fowler stressed that a child has a mind of his own and that the relationship between parent and child has to be "worked at" through communication to make it grow.

"Our reactions tell a person how we feel; tells a child how a parent feels," continued Dr. Fowler. "It is not always what you say, but how and when you say it. A person who is angry or frustrated acts differently so, of course, a person acts best when he feels good. Punishment is not discipline or vice versa, and you should never say to a child 'Don't ever let me see you do that again.'"

In conclusion, Dr. Fowler emphasized that everyone needs attention and affection. He said a baby should be cuddled and, as the child grows, he should receive displays of love.

Speaking on mental health was Mrs. John H. Payne, RN, who is on the staff at Big Spring State Hospital. She defined mental health as (1) The way a person thinks, feels, interacts and behaves. (2) The way a person adjusts to self, others and community. A mentally ill person — one who is "emotionally disturbed" — is frequently and severely worried; exaggerates thoughts and feelings of fear, anger, anxiety, distrust and depression.

Mrs. Payne pointed out that one out of three hospital beds in the United States is occupied by mental patients — about 515,000. One out of 10 Americans will be hospitalized for mental illness in his lifetime, and one out of 10 Americans need treatment now for mental illness.

"More than half the people who visit doctors with physical complaints have emotional problems that are partly or wholly responsible," said Mrs. Payne.

Things that leads to mental illness may include experiences, physical causes or heredity, with warning signs defined as anxiety, depression, sudden change, physical complaint, poor performance and tensions.

To overcome tensions, Mrs. Payne advised: talk it out, get away, take one step, get rid of anger, take it easy or do something for someone else.

The three common patterns of mental illness are (1) neurosis (2) character or personality problems and (3) psychosis.

Treatment includes (1) milieu therapy — a change of environment (2) somatotherapy — chemotherapy, shock therapy and neurosurgery and (3) psychotherapy — group therapy, individual psychotherapy and psychoanalysis.

The third workshop, "Recreation and Cultural Arts" was presented by Mrs. Hattie Bradley who demonstrated the making of decorative wire trees.

"It is a creative thing," said Mrs. Bradley, "and you can make any kind of tree with a little practice, from a Ming tree to a willow. Release your imagination and experiment."

During the business session, Mrs. Elmo Ellis was elected nominee for state treasurer, and Mrs. Tom Whitten of Plainview was named district director. There are 17 counties in the district. A $500 scholarship was presented to Debbie Addison of Yoakum County, and $100 was designated for the 4-H clubs to use in food shows and contests. Mrs. Catherine Crawford of Lubbock, district extension agent, was among the 16 agents attending.

Retirement Early As 38 By Year 2000?

Retirement by age 38 may be commonplace by the year 2000, according to some forecasters.

"Leisure will become America's greatest natural resource, if this and other predictions develop," Nelson Barksdale, recreation specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, noted.

Other predictions include "normal, healthy life to age 90 or 95 with the advancement of medicine and the four-day work week," he said.

"Leisure, rather than work, has already become the dominant human factor which integrates life's meanings," the specialist explained.

He admitted that there is some question as to whether "we will accept our leisure as seriously as we do our work."

"Today most Americans work in order to enjoy more leisure — which has become an end in itself and a status symbol of the first order.

"The fulfilling quality of our work has declined — partially due to automation and technology," he added.

"With increasing numbers of the American population living in urban areas, many people have routine jobs and live in a relatively ugly, sterile and monotonous environment which generally lacks the physical and social diversity that is necessary for the developmental needs," Barksdale explained.

Turning to leisure itself, the specialist pronounced too much leisure a problem creator — facing many people with a great emptiness.

They are people who find themselves released from the necessity of long hours of work — but who haven't been educated for the proper use of leisure time, he said.

"We're required to shift to new ways of studying and understanding, with leisure being the over-all major product of this age of technology," he said.

Bridal Tea Held Here Saturday

A bridal tea was held Saturday in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Taylor honoring Miss Patti Womack, future bride of John Gary.

Cohostesses for the affair were Mrs. James Cape, Mrs. Wade Choate, Mrs. Bill Estes, Mrs. T. L. Griffin, Mrs. Daryle Hohertz, Mrs. Clyde Hollingsworth, Mrs. Bill Pollard and Mrs. Clovia Johnson.

Miss Womack is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Womack of Fort Worth, formerly of Big Spring, and her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gary of Big Spring.

The honoree was attired in a full-length dress of green and white polka dot fabric, and she was presented a corsage of yellow daisies and babies'-breath. Similar corsages were presented to both the mothers.

Guests were served refreshments from a polished table appointed with crystal and silver and accented with an arrangement of yellow daisies and babies'-breath. The couple will be married here June 1 in the First Baptist Church.

Forsan Families On Trips, Have Guests

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. J. H. Cardwell visited recently in Abilene with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Heilhecker, and in Breckenridge with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Edens.

Mrs. H. H. Story has returned from Midland where she was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Aubrey Fulcher, and her daughter, Mrs. Ellabeth Barber.

Guests of Mrs. Ann Fairchild were her daughter, Mary Ann Stone, Teresa Stone and Dana Lynn Fairchild, all of Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Park spent the weekend at Lake Buchanan where they were joined by their son, Johnny Park, and family of Houston. Guests of the Hamlin Elrods

Bride-Elect Honored At Coahoma

Miss Gloria Webb, bride-elect of Joe Elmore, was honored at a bridal coffee Saturday in the home of Mrs. Dwayne Clawson, Coahoma. There were 24 cohonestesses.

Receiving guests with her mother, Mrs. Donald Webb, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Ray Elmore, the bride-elect was attired in a turquoise skirt with turquoise and white checked jacket. Her corsage, in colors of turquoise and lime green, featured miniature items such as pin cushion, needles and small spoons. White glamelia corsages were received by the mothers.

Crystal and silver appointments were used on a refreshment table which was covered with a white cloth, overlaid with tulle, accented with satin wedding bells, stephanotis and lime green ribbons. Centering the table was a tiered, wooden candelabrum based in white carnations interspersed with peacock feathers.

Mrs. Jerry Webb, sister-in-law of the honoree, attended from Big Spring.

The couple will be married May 11 in the First Baptist Church, Coahoma, with the future bridegroom's father, the Rev. Ray Elmore of First United Methodist Church, officiating.

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I can't receive a personal reply because my mother has the habit of "accidentally" opening my mail.

I am a 35-year-old widow. My husband died last year, and I'm back home living with my parents.

I attend church regularly. A month ago, during confession, the priest, who's about my age, suddenly said: "You people think YOU'VE got trouble — what about me?" Then he started to unload all his problems on me. I felt utterly helpless and ill-equipped to listen to him. I told him I sympathized with him, and then I left. The next time I went to confession, he did the same thing, only this time he got very emotional and broke down and cried.

I really like this priest and don't want to get him into trouble with the church, but I dread going to confession again. He seems perfectly all right otherwise, but there must be something wrong with him. How can I help him?

FEELING HELPLESS
DEAR HELPLESS: You can urge him to see a doctor. Like any other man, a priest can have a nervous breakdown and it appears that is what is happening to him.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this gentleman for six years. We both lost our mates and we seem well suited for other. He says he wants to marry me EXCEPT he loves his lovely old home and garden and will not leave it. I also have a lovely home, which I would have to give up, but I feel that we both should close the doors on our pasts and start new lives together.

He says I should give him time. How much time should I give him?

ORLANDO

DEAR ORLANDO: How old is he?

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are organic vegetarians, but our best friends aren't. We do many things together but we've never made a point of the fact that we're vegetarians.

They are constantly inviting us over for dinner. They invariably serve meat, and just the smell of meat cooking makes me sick to my stomach. Everything else they serve is either out of a can or from an "add-water" package.

We have quietly endured because we don't want to get them mad at us. How can we turn down their dinner invitations without jeopardizing our friendship? I don't know how many more of their dinners we can take.

YECCH

DEAR YECCH: You should be able to tell your "best friends" that you are vegetarians and as such do not eat meat. With the price of meat the way it is, future may not be as "mad" at you as you think.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.
