REPUBLICANS NOMINATE GRANBERRY

Briscoe Sweeps Demo Primary

By The Associated Press
Texas voters deluged Gov. Dolph Briscoe with a storm of votes in Saturday's Democratic primary to hand him renomination to the state's highest office.

See Election Returns On 2-A And 6-A

His victory was complete, for shortly after polls closed, the Democratic faithful met in precinct conventions throughout Texas and voted him control of the party machinery—critical for the 1976 presidential nomination maneuvering.

Frances "Sissy" Farenthold, handicapped by a lack of campaign money and professional organization, faded away. Two years ago, she gave Briscoe a fight for the governor's nomination.

At a late count, Briscoe had 70 per cent of the vote and Mrs. Farenthold 25 per cent. Two also-rans split the other five per cent.

Voters again smashed a proposal that Texas legalize pari-mutuel race track betting on a local option basis and may have killed the issue for a long time.

WAGERING ISSUE

The wagering issue was only advisory—to give the legislature an insight into the thinking of the electorate. Added to other defeats over the years, the matter seemed in dire straits.

Both Republicans and Democrats defeated the betting proposal.

Voting swung heavily to challenged incumbents in the district races for the U.S. House.

Republicans in a separate primary nominated Jim Granberry, Lubbock dentist, for governor over Fort Worth lawyer Odell McBrayer. Gaylord Marshall won GOP nomination for lieutenant governor over Troy Skates.

In other Democratic statewide contests, all incumbents were renominated. Bob Bullock, former Texas secretary of state, won the nomination for the only office where the incumbent retired, winning the party nomination for comptroller over Hugh Edburg.

HARMONY
Briscoe ran on a platform of harmony within state government and holding spending within income. Also he held the usual advantage of an incumbent over a challenger.

Mrs. Farenthold lost her main campaign plank of two years ago—a demand to "throw the rascals out" of the statehouse. Briscoe never was connected even remotely to the Sharpstown bribery scandals and no scandal has touched his administration. The challenger captured no counties although she won more than a dozen in the 1972 first primary when she trailed Briscoe by 351,345 votes and lost by only 210,000 in the runoff.

The pari-mutuel betting issue trailed throughout the night in both the Republican and Democratic voting. It was only advisory and had no legal force.

I NEVER PROMISED—Somebody may never have promised you a marijuana garden but the sheriff's office and special investigators from the district attorney's office discovered two this week in Big Spring. These 50 plants were pulled out of a garden on Nolan Street and 24 more came from a backyard garden on Willow Street. The investigation continues.

Wife Is Shot Man Is Held For Murder

James A. Schaffer, 39, is in Howard County jail in lieu of a $50,000 bond, charged with murder in connection with the shooting death of his wife Sandra, 35. The shooting occurred some time before 4 a.m. Saturday, Sheriff A. N. Standard said.

Mrs. Schaffer was apparently shot around 3 a.m. at her trailer home in the Mountain View OK Trailer Park, located east of Big Spring. Justice of the Peace Walter Grice ruled death by gunshot wound and estimated that she had been dead "at least an hour." Grice also set bond on Schaffer.

The Webb Air Force ambulance was summoned to the scene and Mrs. Schaffer was dead on arrival at Webb Hospital. She died as the result of a single shot through the upper portion of her body. A .44 caliber pistol was used in the shooting, according to Standard.

The sheriff's department and the special investigator of the district attorney's department are in charge of the investigation.

Mrs. Schaffer's 14 year old daughter and 12 year old son were staying with neighbors at the time of the shooting and are still with the neighbors.

A German shepherd dog was locked in the bathroom of the trailer home and a small dog was hiding under the bed when officers arrived. There were other dogs kept in the trailer yard.

Schaffer was already out of jail on a $100 disturbance bond paid Friday morning. Two eviction notices had been served the couple in recent days, according to law enforcement officers here.

Funeral services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, which not yet had been contacted by the family by mid-afternoon Saturday. Schaffer is a former serviceman.

Reviewing the ... Big Spring Week ... with Joe Pickle

The big news of the week was rain. Just as farmers and ranchers were getting desperate, an unexpected series of showers kept pecking away until virtually all areas received enough moisture for planting. This doesn't break the drought, for virtually all reserves were used up in the production of the 1974 record harvest, but it does give us that fighting chance, which is mostly what West Texas exists upon. A few sectors, such as north-central Howard and around Knott, got enough that crops there should have a little staying power. One of the major beneficiaries was the rancher. Forced to feed because of the lack of any vegetation, most ranchers will get to come off that within the week. Not a few got badly needed supplies of stock water. So, putting it altogether, it may not have been a "million dollar rain"—it could prove a multi-million dollar rain.

What probably was our first county traffic fatality of the year was an especially tragic one. Wade Morgan, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Morgan, Sand Springs was struck at an intersection Morgan, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Morgan, Sand Springs was struck at an intersection of IS 20 north access and a street when an approaching car apparently was blinded by another vehicle. Wade was a fourth-grader at Coahoma. At the end of the week, another tragedy (See THE WEEK, Page 2-A, Col. 1)

Farabee Is Winner In Senate Race

Ray Farabee, Wichita Falls attorney who is making his first bid for elective office, captured the Democratic nomination for State senator of the 30th district.

Incomplete but conclusive unofficial returns from 28 of the 29 counties in the district gave Farabee a 35,744 lead over Rep. Charles Finnell, Holliday.

Crittenden Has One-Vote Edge

Voters were once again reminded that each vote cast in an election is important when the unofficial totals of the district clerk's race showed a one vote margin of victory.

Peggy Crittenden, opposing the incumbent, M. Fern Cox, had an unofficial total of 2420 against Cox's 2419.

Pauline Petty, county clerk, said the total was added up several times, but that it was unofficial, pending the canvass of the votes.

In a two man race, one vote is sufficient to win the election unless contested by the opponent and the ballot box taken into district court to be opened.

Finnell is serving his fourth term in the Texas House.

Finnell swamped Farabee 1,323 to 473 in his home county of Archer, and carried Shackelford, Throckmorton, and Baylor counties. Farabee apparently had all the rest. No report had been received from Jones County.

In the November general election Farabee will face Mary Kirchoff, Plainview teacher, who was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Totals, complete except for nine boxes still out in Wichita County, showed:

County Sure To Have New County Judge Next Year

Howard County is assured of having a new county judge in 1975.

Incumbent A. G. Mitchell, elected to the post in a runoff in 1970, was narrowly defeated by former county commissioner Bill Tune in Saturday's First Democratic Primary Saturday, 2580 to 2244.

Tune carried Precincts Two, Four, Seven, Nine, 15, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22 and, in addition, piled up a majority of votes among those who voted absentee.

Tune's margin was 336 votes. Tune, of course will face a challenge from Republican Jerry Worthy in the general election in November.

Worthy easily won over Glenn Stallings in the GOP primary race, also held Saturday.

The winner will serve a four-year term.

Gales Batter Tarzan Area; Rains Heavy

Tornadic winds battered Tarzan community in central Martin County Saturday evening, rifting hail through windows, and ripping roofs off buildings, overturning a trailer house and felling power lines.

Willie Wells was pinned momentarily under debris from outbuildings, but he was freed by his father-in-law, Buster Haggard, who drove up shortly after a stinger unroofed the Wells mobile home. Earlier reports mistakenly said a small boy was pinned under wreckage.

A mobile home belonging to a Mexican-American family on the John Mack Payne farm half a mile west of Tarzan was reported demolished, but there were no immediate reports of injuries.

The Big Spring-Andrews highway was under water in three places, and the area around Tarzan "looks like a lake," several witnesses said.

Sheriff Dan Saunders of Stanton said reports indicated that the worst of the storm was in a strip five miles wide from Tarzan West, and about 12 miles long, starting four miles north of Tarzan and going eight miles south.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Barnes and T. Melson at the Pioneer Natural Gas station four miles north of Tarzan said they saw a twister hit the Wells mobile home. Mrs. Bruce Key also reported seeing a twister touch down between her place and that of a neighbor.

Hail golf ball size and larger shucked windows everywhere, and took out numerous car windshields. Rain instantly flooded the area, inflicting serious washing damage on farms.

Eldon Welch, county commissioner, said that alfalfa fields, ready for cutting, were shredded. He estimated this would inflict a $100 an acre loss. This was the worst hailstorm in the area since Sept. 11, 1957.

He said that sprinkler systems in the fields south and west of Tarzan were twisted and battered. Several small buildings in the Tarzan area were destroyed or damaged. Several LP Gas tanks were blown away.

Welch said the storm seemingly came in from the north, but much of the debris was blowing in that direction. A 300-gallon gas tank was sent sailing in an easterly direction.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tate lost the roof on their house, and damage was reported at the Lester Graves, Bruce Key homes. Everywhere windows were shattered, in some cases hail piled up in houses.

Cap Rock Electric Cooperative dispatched all its crews into the area, and there was one report that half a mile of line went down in one stretch. One report said there was water in the Tarzan Baptist Church.

Mrs. Emmett Jackson said that the storm moved toward Lenorah with considerable hail and rain, but not with the capricious winds.

Newcomer Wins

STANTON — Earl Newcomer won the lone contested race in Martin County with 107 votes here Saturday.

His opponent, G. E. Cave totaled 62 votes.

In the horse racing issue, Martin County voted 145 for and 301 against.

RETURNS FAVORABLE IN TEXAS GOVERNOR'S RACE — Texas Governor and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe's faces reflect early returns which indicate Briscoe's democratic primary into a landslide with Briscoe far outdistancing his only serious opponent, Mrs. Frances Farenthold.

Toombs Finishes First But Is Facing Runoff

A heavy plurality Judge Glenn Toombs ran up in Dawson County enabled him to lead the State Representative (63rd District) Democratic race Saturday but the Borden County judge faces a runoff from Mike Ezzell of Fluvanna in May.

In the six-county area, Toombs piled up a total of 5,719 votes to 5,149 for Ezzell.

A distant third in the race was Mary Thomas of Howard County. Mrs. Thomas garnered 1,622 votes, including 1,039 in Howard County, to force the runoff.

Toombs expected to carry Dawson County and did by collecting 1,688 votes to only 635 for Ezzell and 271 for Mrs. Thomas.

Ezzell had the satisfaction of gaining the edge in Howard County, 1,869 compared to 1,841 for Toombs.

Ezzell carried two other counties in addition to Howard — Borden and Scurry. In addition to Dawson, Toombs led the ticket in Coke and Sterling.

The winner next month will unopposed in his party's First derson in the general election in November. Anderson ran opposed in his party's First Primary Saturday.

Furlow, Myers Post Victories

LAMESA — A. B. Furlow and Dalton Myers won county commission races in the Democratic primary election here Saturday.

Furlow ran unopposed in Precinct Two and had 427 votes. Myers polled 487 votes in Precinct Four to beat out C. R. (Bud) Foster, who finished with 342.

John Parchman and Rich Nelson face a runoff in the race to represent the party in the Justice of Peace At Large race. Parchman led with 760 votes while Nelson finished with 682. Albert McPeak was third with 543 in the six-man race.

In the Dawson County judge's race, Leslie C. Pratt gathered 1,506 votes to 1,196 for R. F. Spraberry.

George Hanford ran unopposed in the district judge's race, 106th District Court, and accumulated 2,280 votes.

Robert E. L. Smith was named district clerk without opposition. Louie C. White was selected as county clerk, also without opposition. No one contested Clyde Bostick in the county treasurer's race.

Dawson County voters balloted heavily against the legalization of pari-mutuel betting, turning thumbs down on the issue 1,772 to 762.

Kent Hance gained an edge over Doc Blanchard among county voters in the State Senator's race (District 25). Hance amassed 1,412 votes to 1,263 for Blanchard.

SAYS HEARST Transcripts Make Damning Script

SEATTLE (AP) — William Randolph Hearst Jr. says transcripts of presidential conversations "add up to as damning a document as it is possible to imagine short of an actual indictment."

The editor of the Hearst newspapers said the conversations reveal President Nixon as a man "with a moral blind spot" and make his impeachment inevitable.

Hearst, formerly an ardent supporter of the President, made the comments in an editorial in his Sunday column for Hearst-owned newspapers in seven cities. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer carried the column on the front page of its early Sunday edition, published Friday night.

The transcripts were released by the White House Tuesday, in response to a House Judiciary Committee subpoena for tapes of presidential conversations for use in the panel's impeachment investigation.

"The gang talking on the tapes, even the censored version, comes through in just that way — a gang of racketeers talking over strategy in a jam-up situation," Hearst wrote.

He said the transcripts "reveal a man totally absorbed in the cheapest and sleaziest kind of conniving to preserve appearance and almost totally unconcerned with ethics. The man seems to have a moral blind spot."

Hearst said it was astonishing that Nixon made the transcripts public with the belief they would exonerate him because "they may actually amount to a conviction of criminal behavior."

Hearst said the column was "very tough" for him to write.

"Perhaps the kindest way of putting it is that they amount to an unwitting confession, in which he stands convicted by his own words as a man who deliberately and repeatedly tried to keep the truth from the American people," Hearst wrote.

RAIN

A 20 percent chance of rain is forecast for today rising to a 30 percent possibility Monday night. Low today in the lower 60's. High today and Monday in the mid 80's. Partly cloudy skies with a good chance for thunderstorms are predicted through Monday. Winds should be gusty in the vicinity of thunderstorms.

BIG SPRING'S HOME — This nine-month-old fawn antelope, nicknamed "Squirt," has lived in the Big Spring State Park since he was about 10 days old when he was brought there by the game warden. Bottle-fed most of his life, he still likes to take a bottle but also roams freely in the park and enjoys West Texas vegetation.

Patman Staves Off Strong Challenge

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., staved off a strong challenge for Democratic renomination Saturday, then spurred into undisputed dominance over his much younger Dist. 1 challengers.

With 53 per cent of the vote counted, the 80-year-old Patman had 18,764 votes, Fred Hudson Jr. 8,580 and Glen Jones trailed with 7,570.

Patman predicted earlier he would win his party's renomination but said he would "let someone else concede" rather than name himself victor.

All other incumbents in U.S. house races did well. Rep. Jake Pickle won renomination in Dist. 10, Rep. Abraham Kazen was renominated in Dist. 23, and Rep. Jim Collins took an easy victory in Dist. 3.

Doug Harlan was the apparent GOP selection in Dist. 21 while Jack Hightower grabbed a staggering victory in the Dist. 13 Democratic race. In Dist. 5, former state Sen. Mike McKool won the Democratic nomination over former Dallas County Democratic chairman Earl Luna.

The Dist. 7 Democratic winner was Jim Brady while Rep. Bob Eckhardt was renominated in Dist. 8.

A runoff seemed certain in Dist. 21 where Rep. O. C. Fisher's announced retirement touched off a horse race among six Democratic hopefuls.

Nelson Wolff showed ahead with 10,971 votes with Bob Krueger limping close behind with 8,670.

Cost Of Oil Well Pipe Pushing Up

Manufacturers of oil well drilling pipe are trying to get more of their materials into the field, three of them reported during the week.

However, Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. had some bad news at weekend: Prices are going up by as much as 25 per cent.

Drillers, increasing their efforts as the energy crisis hit, were handicapped by lack of pipe. They used second-hand materials and sometimes mismatched pipes if they could find any at all.

WILDCAT WELLS Lone Star Steel Co. of Dallas and Daingerfield worked out its own system of pipe allocations, requiring proof of a state drilling permit and lack of pipe from any other sources before a wildcatter could receive a supply.

By mid-March, Lone star reported it had supplied pipe for 276 wildcats—beyond its normal outlets—with the year's first quarter not yet over.

These goods largely were for ex-wildcatters getting geared up again and those who had depended on foreign pipe, a source which dried up under the worldwide shortage of tubular goods.

Lone Star reported during the week that its program for wildcat wells is proceeding on schedule.

Under Lone Star's agreement with drillers, the operator of a dry hole must notify Lone Star so the pipe can be re-allocated.

Most of Lone Star's production goes into oil country tubular goods.

During the past week, Jones and Laughlin said it has a program under way which permits sufficient pipe for drilling more than two wells a day with emphasis on independent oilmen.

William F. Ewart, vice president-commercial, said, "Although tonnage of oil country pipe shipped to independent operators already has been increased substantially, it has been recognized that independent still need additional pipe."

Dad Accused Of Maiming Son Posts $10,000 Bail

HOUSTON (AP) — Kerry Andrews Crocker, 43, charged with castrating his teen-age son by exposing him to radioactive material, was free on bond today.

Crocker was released from Harris County jail Friday after State District Court Judge Andrew Jefferson reduced bond from $50,000 to $10,000.

In an indictment returned Thursday, Crocker was accused of committing assault to murder, castration, assault to maim, disfiguring and injury to his son, Kirk, 13.

Crocker denied the charges, saying "I love my son."

The material, the indictment said, caused sores on the boy's inner thighs, ankle and right thumb.

Crocker's former wife and Kirk's mother brought juvenile court action to increase the child support payments for medical care and asked that visitation rights be ended for her son's father.

The boy testified at the hearing that pellets were placed under his bed before he went to sleep and in television headphones he used while watching television at his father's residence.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Mike Hinton said the boy requires a crutch or wheelchair to move about.

The child support and visitation hearing was postponed Friday until criminal proceedings against Crocker have ended.

Blanchard In Danger Of Losing Senate Job

Two veteran conservative legislators, who recently have lost most of the clout they had in bygone years, appeared headed for defeat in Saturday's Democratic primary.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Hutchins, who headed the House Revenue and Taxation Committees under Speakers Ben Barnes and Gus Mutscher, trailed badly behind Calvin Rucker, a Dallas real estate man.

Atwell has served in the House more than 23 years.

Sen. H.J. "Doc" Blanchard of Lubbock, a senator since 1962, trailed lawyer Kent Hance, also of Lubbock, 20,298 to 17,718 with most Lubbock boxes and a majority of the outlying counties reporting.

HANCE AHEAD Atwell fell from power when Speaker Price Daniel Jr.'s "reform" administration took control over the House and gave the chairmanship of the tax committee to Rep. Terry Doyle of Fort Arthur.

Blanchard had been a committee chairman in previous Senate administrations, but Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby passed him over for a chairmanship when he took office last January.

Blanchard, a conservative who survived major heart surgery in 1973, was assailed by Hance for absenteeism and for his support of legislative pay raise measures.

Another conservative, Sen. John Traeger of Seguin, took a commanding lead of better than 2 to 1 against former Rep. Oscar Carrillo of Benavides in a rematch of their 1972 contest.

Traeger carried Duval County, Carrillo's home, 659 to 42, after Carrillo broke with the George Parr organization. Parr subsequently gave Traeger his support.

2 TO 1 LEAD Sen. Raul Longoria of Edinburg, a liberal to moderate, held an early 2 to 1 lead over conservative Rep. Henry Sanchez of Brownsville.

Also leading in a liberal-conservative race was freshman Sen. Bill Meier of Euless, a conservative with a knack for finding compromise solutions, who heads the Constitutional Convention's executive committee. He was ahead of former Rep. George Richardson of Fort Worth, a Tarrant County commissioner.

A runoff appeared likely in a San Antonio Senate race, with very early returns putting Rep. Frank Lombardino, a conservative, in the lead, with liberal former Sen. Joe Bernal and former Rep. David Evans in a close contest for second place.

Something new and unwelcome put in its appearance here when police picked up a transient trio. Officers found what is known in the jargon as "angel dust," a PCP tranquilizer which they said can be quite dangerous. Over in Odessa, raids netted over a score of suspects in a ring said to be selling heroin to young people.

Big Spring is honored today to have an area meeting of Gideons here. Last evening George B. Farrar, Shreveport, La., Louisiana state president spoke, and today two or three score Gideons will speak in churches to appeal for help in financing the ministry of distributing Bibles and New Testaments.

It would have been impressive enough for Howard College's livestock judging team to have won third place in a regional tourney, because members are freshmen. But consider that the members are Darla Buchanan, Rosie Slape, Susan Dolgan and Darissa Crooks, and, oh yes, Neal Tindol. Did he break into the co-ed lineup?

Old — he probably would declaim that adjective — Sam Johnson, our trusty custodian, took his retirement last week. Baseball season will be pretty dull without him.

Gardners get a break Tuesday. The Texas A&M extension service will have a group of horticultural and other experts on hand 3 p.m.-6 p.m. in Highland Mall to answer any questions you have about plants, soil or bugs.

A new name we'll become more familiar with in these parts is Dr. Kenneth D. Gaver, who will succeed Dr. David Wade as state commissioner of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. He holds a similar position now in Ohio and has a philosophy of outreach that matches that of our own Big Spring State Hospital.

Toombs Tops In Sterling

STERLING CITY — Sterling County gave Glenn Toombs a substantial lead for 63rd legislative representative, complete unofficial returns showed here Saturday. Toombs polled 108 votes, Mike Ezzell 94 and Mary Thomas 25.

In the hot 21st congressional race, Poerner led with 17, followed by Krueger with 56 and Wolfe 53. Others were Moore 15, Ainsworth 9 and Sullivan 5.

For governor, Briscoe more than lapped the field, getting 182 to 23 for Sissy Farenthold, 4 for Alexander and 1 for Posey. Bob Bullock led for comptroller with 128 to 66 for Hugh Edburg. Jesse James led for treasurer with 141 to 64 for Donald Yarbrough. John C. White with 160 swamped Peanuts Schroeder with 40 for agriculture commissioner. Wallace polled 102 votes for railroad commissioner to 67 for Kelly.

FEO Balks On Disputed Delivery HOUSTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Office has declined to give immediate help to a service station operator who is involved in a dispute with Mobil Oil Co.

Art Ballard, who barricaded himself with a shotgun in his station recently and successfully held out against an eviction notice obtained by Mobil, said Tuesday the regional FEO office in Dallas had ordered the company to deliver gasoline to his station.

Mobil cut off its deliveries in mid-March when it instituted the eviction suit. A jury trial is set for May 17.

THE WEEK

Just a reminder — you have through Tuesday to submit nominations for a high school senior (Big Spring, Coahoma, Forsan and Sands) to receive the Zale's Herald Youth Achievement award. Please use the form appearing in the Herald and start some deserving young person toward special recognition.

There is no more beautiful music, when played by virtuosos, than harp music, and Joe Longstreth and John Escosa proved the point here in their duo-harp concert. What added to the delight of hearing them was that most of their transcriptions were familiar classics and tunes which came in pleasant undulations like gentle waves or ripples of breeze. The personable artists spiced the program, one of the best of the current series, with their folksy annotations, including "all you ever wanted to know about the harp." The audience went away with a new appreciation not only for the artists, but also for the instrument.

The first party primaries were held Saturday, and the turnout was predicted to be light. Absentee votes indicated around 5,000 in the Democratic primary, but we hope that this will have been proved too small a prediction. This morning there may be some pretty blue candidates, but they shouldn't feel too badly. After all, political races are what make democracy work.

It was a hard week on old timers. E. A. Nance, who seemed almost as much a part of the post office as the building, Mrs. J. H. Powell, W. B. Harrison, that remarkable gentleman, Ralph W. Baker, the indefatigable surveyor, and Mrs. Della K. Agnell, early-day teacher, all passed away. Della Herring was typical of those who paid Della K. tributes: She started all of my children in school, Charles, William, Mildred, Irene (Tommye). And a few hundred other families could say the same.

Busy-bodies, who don't have anything better to do with their time, have been pestering Mrs. Fred R. Warner, Colorado City, whose husband was found dead near a west-end tavern here Feb. 28. Well, it so happens Mr. Warner was on business here, had a heart attack and wheeled his vehicle off the road at this point and died before he could get out of the car to get help.

Old — he probably would declaim that adjective — Sam Johnson, our trusty custodian, took his retirement last week. Baseball season will be pretty dull without him.

Gardners get a break Tuesday. The Texas A&M extension service will have a group of horticultural and other experts on hand 3 p.m.-6 p.m. in Highland Mall to answer any questions you have about plants, soil or bugs.

Long Preliminaries Over For Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The long preliminaries are over and the House Judiciary Committee settles down this week to its momentous task of determining whether grounds exist for impeaching President Nixon.

LT. WILLIAM CALLEY

Lt. Calley's Sentence Upheld By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has decided to uphold Army Lt. William L. Calley's twice-reduced sentence to 10 years imprisonment for the massacre of Vietnamese civilians at My Lai.

The investigation has been divided into six major areas: Watergate break-in and cover-up; Nixon's personal finances; use of executive agencies for political purposes; domestic surveillance activities of the White House; political "dirty tricks" and "other alleged misdeeds"; and "other alleged misdeeds."

Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., estimates this "phase" of the presentation will take three or four days. Nixon and his chief impeachment counsel, James D. St. Clair, have been invited to attend.

Although the constitutional process of impeachment does not entitle defense counsel to participate at the investigative stage, the committee, as a matter of courtesy, will let St. Clair respond to the opening presentation question witnesses and suggest any witnesses he would like to have called.

There is no schedule fixed for the proceedings after the initial presentation, but most members expect them to last five or six weeks, which would permit the committee to vote about mid-June.

The committee's recommendation — whether for or against impeachment — will be sent to the House floor for a vote. If the House votes for impeachment, a trial will be held in the Senate, with a two-thirds vote needed to remove Nixon from office.

Linkups In Kidnappings Is Suggested By FBI

The FBI says it has reason to believe two men sought in the abduction of 18-year-old Sue Lundquist and her husband are the same men who robbed a California man earlier this week.

Mrs. Lundquist and her husband Edward, 24, told police they were kidnapped late Wednesday by two armed men who checked into a motel the couple manage at Milan, N.M.

A truck driver found Mrs. Lundquist early Friday on Interstate 40 near Groom in the Texas Panhandle.

Mrs. Lundquist told her husband "she was left about a quarter of a mile west of Groom, tied up by the side of the road."

"She said she had been slapped around, but other than that she was not harmed," Lundquist said.

FBI agent Frank O'Brien said, "Based on their physical descriptions and the manner in which both robberies were carried out, we have good reason to believe the same two men were involved."

O'Brien said that in California, a man reported he was assaulted by two hitchhikers he picked up near San Bernardino. He said the men robbed him, took his car, and left him tied up in a desert area.

The vehicle was recovered in Phoenix, Ariz.

Laguna, N.M., police found Lundquist before dawn Thursday also walking along Interstate 40.

He said he and his wife had been robbed, then forced to accompany the men in a car owned by the Lundquists. He said the men drove east on Interstate 40 to Laguna, where they turned down a dirt road. He said he was tied and left beside 63 road.

Mrs. Lundquist said the driver's car broke down in Texas. Officers said they were looking for two men, one with long black hair and an earring in one ear, and another with brown, bushy hair.

Reunion Will Lure Crowd

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark will lead his 5th Army commanders and staff officers back to World War II battle sites in Italy next year—30 years after the shooting stopped.

Anzio, Cassino, Rome, Florence, Bologna, the Po Valley—places familiar to every man of the 5th Army.

Highlight of the sentimental journey will be a flag-raising ceremony in the big U.S. military cemetery at Anzio, the Tyrrhenian Sea port where the 5th paid in blood for a 1944 beachhead.

"We are getting an amazing response," said Lawrence G. Bell of Toledo, who is making arrangements for the reunion.

"Right now we have about 20 who have shown interest in the trip. We just started sending letters to a few and this or that guy would add some more names."

In Charleston, S. C., Gen. Clark, now 78, said the idea of a reunion began with conversations with Bell, who summers in Michigan in the same town in which the general owns a home.

U.S. Ambassador John Volpe in Rome, said Clark welcomed the plan and Bell said Volpe planned "some sort of affair" for the 5th Army officers.

The program tentatively, Bell said, includes an audience with Pope Paul VI.

Bell said the Italian government also had shown interest and planned to contribute to the tour program.

Submerged Dredge Will Be Scrapped

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers says the hopper dredge A. Mackenzie, which sank in the Galveston entrance channel April 25, will be scrapped.

The decision to scrap the 50-year old dredge, which sank after a collision which involved two other vessels, was made Friday by the Army Chief of Engineers in Washington.

Col. Don S. McCoy, Galveston district engineer, said scrapping the Mackenzie was found to be the safest and most economical method to restore maritime traffic through the channel and protect the environment.

The scrapping work, to be done under supervision of U.S. Navy Salvage personnel, is estimated to cost more than $4 million. Preliminary work is to begin Tuesday. Completion is expected to take several weeks.

Youths Arrested For Break-In

Two 16 year old youths were arrested by sheriff's deputies in the process of breaking into the VFW Club shortly before midnight Friday.

The two were released to their parents, pending a juvenile hearing. This was the third break-in in recent weeks at the club.

Officers, in the process of checking the area following the break-in, also stopped one young adult, charged with a marijuana misdemeanor and in the process broke up a late party at a residence in that area.

Following the arrest of one young adult, several others left the area voluntarily.

SOUTHWEST BOOKS Mysterious Pat Garrett

By ROBERT E. FORD THE WAGONTRAIN RAID. By Benjamin Capps. The Dial Press, New York. 304 pages. $8.95.

The May 1871 Indian raid into Texas from the Ft. Sill Reservation can be pointed to as a turning point in history on the frontier.

It was one of the last mass incursions into Texas by Indians, a hundred of them on the prairie.

They ambushed a wagon train 20 miles west of Jacksboro and Ft. Richardson and killed seven men, one by fire torture, wounded several and then headed back to the reservation.

They had been observing a small band of soldiers which now was at Ft. Richardson. What they didn't know was that one of them was Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman on an inspection tour.

He had been somewhat contemptuous of settlers who complained of Indian raids. But after the wagontrain massacre, he took a hard line. And he headed the Army whose job it was to control the redmen.

The details of the raid and subsequent events are told dramatically by Benjamin Capps, noted for his writing about Indians.

The raid was led by Satanta, a chief of the Kiowas; Tsangaya, 70, known for his wisdom; and Addo-Eta, a noted young warrior.

All three were turned over to authorities for trial in Texas. Their eventual doom was as dramatic as the raid.—The AP (REF).

VIVA CRISTO REY. The Cristero Rebellion and the Church-State Conflict in Mexico. By David C. Bailey. University of Texas Press, Austin. 346 pages. $10.

The revolutionary government of Mexico spawned a second revolution between 1926 and 1929, well within the memory of many persons.

There had been trouble between the church and state beginning with the 1910 revolution. The government sought to enforce severe limitations on the Roman Catholic Church.

This came to a head in 1926 when the government began strict enforcement of anticlerical legislation. Church authorities suspended public worship throughout the country. Catholics in many parts of Mexico took up arms.

There followed three years of indecisive guerrilla war, with a settlement reached in 1929. U.S. Ambassador Dwight Morrow played a prominent part in peace.

The government decided to allow the church to operate with its own internal discipline.

This marked Garrett by association. For all time, and many of his other equally remarkable exploits were forgotten.

This new book takes a close, scholarly look at the life of Garrett, whose career stretched across New Mexico and into Texas.

Garrett's death is as mysterious as any of the cases he worked on.

He was shot down on a lonely road while traveling with two persons. One of them confessed, but many authorities believe he was paid to take the blame.

Many like to believe that Garrett was assassinated by a well-known killer, Deacon Jim Miller, who finally met his fate in a mass lynching in Ada, Okla.

However, Miller was known as a shotgun artist and Garrett died of two rifle or pistol bullets, the first one entering his back.—The AP (REF).

TIE RUNNER. By Malcolm Boyd. Word Books, Waco, Tex. 203 pages. $5.95.

Malcolm Boyd, an Episcopal priest and author of several books, seeks in this one to relate religion closer to the individual and his problems.

He does this through the ministry of the Runner, who is Christ.

The approach is novel in a stream of consciousness approach.—The AP (REF).

Shell Boosting Fuel Allotment

HOUSTON (AP) - Shell Oil Co. has announced that its May gasoline allocations will be boosted by 1.2 million gallons a day.

The Friday announcement said the company will make available about 25.1 million gallons of gasoline a day during the month as compared to the previously announced estimate of 23.9 million.

A Shell spokesman said the increase results from additional supplies from unused volumes committed to the military and to various states.

The spokesman said the revised May figure is a 20 per cent increase over the amount Shell sold during the base period of May, 1972 and a two per cent increase over the amount sold last May.

A Lot Of History Fading With Martin Courthouse

By MARJ CARPENTER

Back in 1906, Martin County commissioners built a courthouse that they thought might last forever. Construction was slow and they didn't get moved in until 1908.

Then for years, it was considered the showplace of the area with its tall Russian-like tower first spied from as far away as Highway 80 went through town south of the courthouse.

Later when IS 20 went to the north of Stanton, the towers of the building could still be seen from the highway. A historical association marker was put up near the courthouse reminding the historian that at one time, Stanton was named Marienfeld by the early Catholics who settled there.

During the 50s, it was decided that both the courthouse and the jail were inadequate. A big discussion was held with the commissioners deciding, along with their voters, that the answer was to add a new jail wing and some other sections to the building at a cost of close to $80,000.

This was accomplished without changing the looks of the building too much, but the renovators did cover up half of the original cornerstone, where the wing was added.

The portion of the cornerstone that named the original judge and commissioners remained, but the portion listing the Masonic Lodge was covered.

The original cornerstone (all of it) is to be incorporated into the new building, according to county officials.

The new courthouse is being constructed at a cost of $616,000 by Kasch Bros. Inc. of Big Spring.

The first courthouse was built in Stanton in 1887 and cost the taxpayers $24,000, a huge sum of money at that time.

Father B. Anasthasius Peters loaned the county a building prior to that time. The courthouse now being torn down was constructed at a cost of $40,000.

In the early 1900s, a lot of people picnicked on the courthouse lawn on Sundays. They also posed for pictures.

The portion of the cornerstone that named the original judge and commissioners remained, but the portion listing the Masonic Lodge was covered.

The original cornerstone (all of it) is to be incorporated into the new building, according to county officials.

The new courthouse is being constructed at a cost of $616,000 by Kasch Bros. Inc. of Big Spring.

The first courthouse was built in Stanton in 1887 and cost the taxpayers $24,000, a huge sum of money at that time.

Father B. Anasthasius Peters loaned the county a building prior to that time. The courthouse now being torn down was constructed at a cost of $40,000.

In the early 1900s, a lot of people picnicked on the courthouse lawn on Sundays. They also posed for pictures.

COVERED UP
This was accomplished without changing the looks of the building too much, but the renovators did cover up half of the original cornerstone, where the wing was added.

The portion of the cornerstone that named the original judge and commissioners remained, but the portion listing the Masonic Lodge was covered.

The first courthouse was built in Stanton in 1887 and cost the taxpayers $24,000, a huge sum of money at that time.

In the meantime, back in the 50s, Howard County built its third courthouse and decided to do away with the courtroom furniture bought around 1908. Martin County purchased the furniture and has used it ever since.

Judge Carroll Yater said that they are hoping to incorporate the beautiful old judge's bench and witness stand into their new round courtroom.

BECAME MUSEUM
The original sandstone jail was turned into a Martin County museum. Recently when it was decided that prisoners were to be transported to the Midland jail until the new jail is constructed, Sheriff Dan Saunders briefly considered overnight prisoners in the old jail or museum "but that didn't work."

Presently, the county officials are using the county fair barn, constructed for livestock shows last year. Partitions were thrown up to separate the various offices and the officials are fairly comfortable in the barn.

In fact, it heated during the winter months a lot better than the old courthouse, which was far as heating and cooling of the facility.

Within a year, the county will be in its new courthouse. The discussion will go on for the rest of this generation as to whether the historical building should have come down. The voters voted and it is coming down.

A new building will be constructed at the same location before the year is out. Progress won over history.

TIME CHANGES EVERYTHING - A workman in the background is tearing off a wing added to the Martin County Courthouse in the 50s. The entire courthouse constructed in 1906 is being demolished. The historical sign in the foreground tells of another change when the Protestants changed the name of the former Catholic Marienfeld to Stanton in 1890.

HOWARD COUNTY BENCH - Martin County purchased the old Howard County judges bench back in the 50s. The furniture purchased early in the century will be utilized in the new Martin County courthouse. Looking over the old-used bench is Judge Carroll Yater of Stanton.

Irving's Spouse To Seek Divorce

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) - Edith Irving says she wants a divorce from her husband, Clifford, whose phony autobiography of Howard R. Hughes landed the Irvings in prison.

The 38-year-old blonde said she will try to earn enough money as an artist to repay huge financial claims against her for her part in the $650,000 hoax in 1972.

Claims against her, her husband and Richard Susskind, Irving's associate, total $1,365,100, she said.

Mrs. Irving was released from prison on Friday after serving two months of a two-year term for fraud and forgery. She testified in her trial that she had cooperated with her husband to try to save her marriage, which she said Friday was "never satisfying."

She said she will sue for divorce in New York, where they had lived.

Mrs. Irving is the author's fourth wife. Irving was released from Danbury, Conn. federal prison three months ago.

The Irvings have two sons, ages 4 and 6. The boys are with Irving in New York.

Amanda Jones Reflects On Reign As Miss USA

By AMANDA JONES
Miss USA, 1972

On May 18 at midnight the cry will rise over Niagara Falls: "The Queen is dead! Long live the Queen!"

Zap - I'll be unemployed. During almost a year as Miss USA all I'm asked is: "Would you do it all over again?"

What I ask myself is: "Did I do any good?"

True, I've gone first class, including a long back limo. It is equally true that a lonely hotel room is just that. No fancy suite makes up for its own emptiness.

I've been both ridiculed and admired. I have learned to accept both as part of the job, not really believing I'm worthy of such occasional hate and not believing my own press releases, either.

I hate the tight schedules that allow me 10 seconds per human contact. Being considered public property bewilders me.

I think I've worked my royal posterior off for every penny I've earned. Still, the charity appearances seemed sparse among the many parades and ribbon cuttings.

I'm embarrassed by adults who say I'm beautiful. I know to do it once.

But I was most touched when a little girl at a luncheon in Champaign, Ill., whispered in my ear that I was the most human human she'd ever met.

As an honorary princess in the Tuscarora Nation I found a spiritual empathy with the American Indian.

My days as an antiwar activist did not forbid a feeling of pride when I received a green beret of the Special Forces, a pet project of John F. Kennedy. Then, too, the honor did not diminish my grief as I wept, some months later, over the graves of my fallen president and my friends at Arlington National Cemetery.

As the fox said to the little prince, "What is essential is invisible to the eye." I am grateful for the material gifts I have received. But it is the spirit of the givers that I will retain always.

Have I done any good? Only those I have met over the past year can tell me. Would I do it again?

No, I wouldn't do it all over again, but I thank the good God and the panel of judges last May for giving me the chance who say I'm beautiful. I know to do it once.

Fiber Glass Pipe Company Prospers

Wide product acceptance and stronger financial position were reported at the sixth annual of Fiber Glass Systems, Inc., a Big Spring manufacturer and distributor of fiber glass pipe and fittings.

Stockholders attending the meet at the headquarters on US 87 north on Friday evening noted a sharp increase in earnings per share, from 39 cents a year ago to $1.81 at the end of the fiscal year, Feb. 28.

Directors named to the board were Bill Edwards, Bill Jackson, Lowell Jones, Jack Little, Bob Michael, V. F. Michael, Mrs. V. F. Michael, Marvin Miller, John L. Taylor, and O. S. Womack.

Sales of $1,453,024 (12 times the first year's sales) were up $177,000 or 14 per cent, V. F. Michael, told the stockholders, and would have exceeded this figure considerably except for a shortage of production workers. If two full crews can be trained, the goal of $200,000 billings per month can be attained, he added. Right now, orders approximate last year's production and Michael said that the potential for the fiber glass pipe is unlimited. Coupled with a pinch on steel goods, Fiber Glass systems has met 75 per cent of the parameters of steel tubular goods, plus having the advantage of non-corrosiveness.

Karpov Is Near Spassky Upset

MOSCOW (AP) - Anatoly Karpov, known as the Russian Bobby Fischer, has moved to within one game of defeating former world champion Boris Spassky in their world challengers semifinal match.

Karpov, 23, used brilliant chess strategy Friday, offering a sacrifice which produced a strong mating threat and forced Spassky to resign after the 35th move of their ninth game.

It gave Karpov a 3-1 lead in the match. Four points are needed to gain the final in the tournament to select a challenger for Fischer who took the world crown from Spassky two years ago.

Wheat Harvesters Promised Fuel

WASHINGTON (AP) - "The wheat crop won't wait... When it's ready to cut, it's ready to cut," remarked a Kansas official waiting for a meeting Friday with Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz.

He wasn't angry—the Federal Energy Office the day before, while officials of six major wheat states were en route here to work on the problem, changed its regulations to assure farmers really will get the promised 100 per cent fuel needs.

But he was anxious about possible delays in "putting the fuel where the farmer is, when he needs it" if states do not get more control over the amount to be earmarked for agriculture after June 1 at the refinery level.

"Nothing has a higher priority" than harvest-time fuel, Butz told Kansas Gov. Robert Docking and the other officials. Docking said their meeting was "very satisfactory."

He said the problem is pulling gasoline where the farmer is.

No Major Legislation Is Due Out Of Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key members of Congress are saying privately that constituents shouldn't look for much more major legislation from the 93rd term.

Unfinished business is still piled high as the impeachment inquiry intensifies. And there are hopes to adjourn in time for fall campaigning.

Private pension reform, now near the final legislative stages, will probably go through. A major effort will be made to enact some sort of national health insurance.

Economy Outlook Isn't As Bad As Expected

By The Associated Press
The soaring cost of Arab oil is leaving its mark on the economy and lifestyle of industrial Europe.

But most countries are weathering the crisis and the outlook may not be as gloomy as first thought.

When Arab producers tripled the price of their petroleum in the wake of October's Middle East war, Europe's nine Common Market nations alone had to find an additional $20 billion to meet their oil needs in 1974.

Europe has to buy about 60 per cent of its oil abroad — compared to only 12-15 per cent for the United States.

Inflation — the most obvious result — will run well over 10 per cent almost everywhere in Europe this year.

People are driving less and buying smaller cars. More and more Europeans are taking their vacations at home. They are looking for alternate ways to heat their homes and run their factories.

Special legislation was passed last November to permit government control of energy production, distribution and use.

But so far the government has resisted pressure for increased control or even nationalization of oil concerns themselves.

OUR LEGACY FROM THE MEDICINE MAN
Who would ever think of entering today's streamlined pharmacy that many of the medicines available had their early beginnings with the medicine man. Of course, they have undergone many changes and refinements. In early days Indians chewed on roots (or leaves) of certain plants in order to extract a "magic substance". This later evolved to a "more sophisticated" technique of cooking the roots for hours and then boiling down the resultant liquid.

Case Against Jacobsen Is Dismissed By Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas to ask him if his testimony is true or false when he's before a grand jury.

Jacobsen's lawyer, Charles McNeil, said of his courtroom victory, "We feel great. That about sums it up."

Jacobsen testified to a Watergate grand jury that $10,000 which he offered to former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally lay untouched in a Texas bank vault for 2 1/2 years, until Jacobsen took it out last Nov. 27 in the presence of an FBI agent.

A grand jury decided that Jacobsen had lied, but U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. dismissed the indictment because it cited testimony that was literally true.

Simon's appointment by President Nixon has been confirmed by the Senate, and he probably will be sworn into office at midweek.

Shultz's Last Day

Shultz, 53, the last member of the original Nixon Cabinet still on the job, has been anxious to leave for some time. Aides say he is both tired and frustrated after five grueling years in three top administration posts.

KIDNAPERS LOVED HIM

Stolen Child Is Back, But Ordeal Left Marks

MODESTO, Calif. (AP) — Blond dye used to disguise 2-year-old Tommy Lauer's tousled brown hair has almost grown out but reminders of a year he spent with another identity remain.

The toddler walks with a rolling gait, perhaps from lack of practice. Tommy's mother, Frances Lauer, says he was just beginning to say "Mommy" and "Daddy" when he was kidnapped more than a year ago. Today, he still talks at that level. Tommy is a sturdy 31-pounder with striking blue eyes and a wide, expressive mouth which breaks easily into a grin. One change since the kidnaping is a set of baby teeth, but Tommy appears little altered otherwise, Mrs. Lauer said.

"He eats constantly, and he ate constantly before. He still loves mashed potatoes," she added.

HARD WAY

Tom Lauer, 28, found out about his son's new teeth the hard way. "I was sitting there rocking him, counting his teeth one night, and crunch! It didn't take me long to learn not to poke my finger in his mouth.

"He even wrinkles his nose like he used to," Tom said. His mother calls it Tommy's "rabbit face."

A few months of loving and playing with the toddler have eased memories of the long weeks when the Lauvers wondered if they would ever hold little Tommy again — or if he was still alive.

"It seems to me now like the year never happened," Mrs. Lauer said.

The youngster then 11-months old, was abducted by a man with a knife who accosted Mrs. Lauer as she loaded groceries into her car Jan. 20, 1973. After driving around a few minutes, the kidnaper pushed her from the car after taking her name and address and promising to contact her to return the child.

The contact never came. Weeks turned into months as officers checked hundreds of tips but produced no clues.

Finally, a woman who moved here after the abduction read a first anniversary newspaper account of the Lauvers' loss. She thought a neighbor's adopted child looked like a photo of the Lauer boy printed with the story and called detectives.

Sheriff's deputies confirmed the identity by checking footprints and returned Tommy to his parents Feb. 5.

Robert William Coffey and his wife Marjorie have been indicted for kidnaping Mrs. Lauer identified Coffey from a lineup as her child's abductor. The Coffeys reportedly were unable to bear a child of their own. They called Tommy "Shawn."

Alice Williams, Coffey's sister, said she never saw the child mistreated or dirty. "They really loved him and took good care of him. He had boxes of toys in his room. And when he had a cold or something they took him to the doctor — and worried a lot."

NO COMMENT

Officers at first said Tommy's ankles were red and swollen as if they had been bound, but now they and the Lauvers refuse to discuss his feet, speech or another aspect of the youngster's medical situation because of the pending trial.

"I'll take him out with me if having Tommy back, some of the trauma lingers. Mrs. Lauer won't take Tommy shopping with her in the car alone.

"I'll take him out with me if someone else is along. Otherwise, I take him to his aunt's house," she said, brushing her straight brown hair from her face.

Tom Lauer, a handy man for a mobile home sales firm, lost the use of his arms temporarily. Doctors say it was a reaction to the shock of the abduction. The paralysis gradually disappeared and he returned to work after a few weeks.

"After it happened I was kind of lost," Mrs. Lauer said softly. "I prayed every night about it. I never gave up. But after a while I could be logical about it and discuss it without breaking down every time," she said as Tommy climbed onto her lap for a kiss.

"In fact, two days before Tommy was found, I had gone off the pill so I could have another child. Now I think I'll wait awhile."

As she talked, Tommy wobbled across the floor among his toys, laughing, a graham cracker crumbling in his hand. He refused to say a word, but his reaction made it plain he knew what every word meant.

Mrs. Lauer proudly displayed Tommy's room, brimming with toys and new furniture — presents from a community party on his birthday, Feb. 20. More than 500 Modestans who had followed the Lauer's year of anguish turned out to share their joy. Tommy's room has new wall-to-wall carpeting donated by a local merchant. Bunk beds and a new dresser almost fill the small room.

In the living room, squashed amoeba-like in front of the small television set, is a yellow beanbag chair. "He watches 'Sesame Street' from there," Mrs. Lauer added.

Tommy constantly wandered back to his mother who was curled in the corner of a worn sofa. Her soft eyes followed him as he clutched toys scattered around the room.

A mother again after a year in limbo, Mrs. Lauer admits Tommy will be spoiled. "If I don't do it, Tom will."

And she isn't worried that her son doesn't walk or talk as well as he might. "I think once he starts, it's going to come out like you wouldn't believe."

Lions Resume Sale Of Bulbs

Rained out a week ago, Downtown Lions make another beginning Monday on their annual lightbulb sale.

Members will be making a door-to-door canvass of the city to benefit their sight conservation and blind fund. They hope to complete the sale Tuesday evening and certainly by Wednesday, said Charles Forryst, chairman.

Approximately 100 cases of assistance with vision problem were served by the club last year at a cost of over $1,700, according to Ernie Boyd, club secretary. These were mostly for special vision corrections and assistance in eye surgery.

Tom Henry, chairman of the sight conservation and blind fund, said that most of the help has gone to school children who can't afford needed glasses. In recent years, however, an increase in the number of adults — who have no other means of getting help with vision correction — have been assisted by the club. In a few instances, Lions have helped with expenses of getting "seeing eye dog."

One of the professional men who assists in the program pointed out that in many cases "glasses open up a whole new world for youngsters. It's almost heart rending to hear these children when, for the first time they suddenly see clearly a world that formerly was a haze out there."

Myopia (near-sightedness) is the most common difficulty which is altered, but in occasional cases Lions have assisted people without means to get glasses needed in the interim between the onset of cataracts and the time surgery might be necessary. Some health programs help with the surgery, but not with the glasses.

Scouts Can Still Get Reservations

Monday is the deadline for Boy Scouts or Explorers who want to go to the 1975 World Jamboree in Norway. The Buffalo Trail Council has a quota of four boys and possibly a leader. The cost will be $1,000 plus, and information may be had by calling the Scout service center in Midland (648-7171).

Francois Mitterrand Is Tabbed French Winner

PARIS (AP) — An opinion poll today showed Socialist Francois Mitterrand may win the French presidency in two rounds of voting — the general election on Sunday and a runoff on May 19.

Neither Mitterrand nor his two principle opponents — Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing and former premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas — are expected to win the necessary majority in Sunday's balloting. A poll in the evening France-Soir predicted for the first time that Mitterrand, running with Communist backing, could win a run-off against either of his chief opponents.

All the previous samplings had portrayed Giscard d'Estaing as the likely winner in any runoff election.

The latest poll showed Mitterrand four percentage points ahead of Giscard d'Estaing, leader of the independent Republican party. It showed Chaban-Delmas, the official Gaullist candidate, slipping to a more distant third. Eight other candidates are running, but none was given a chance for victory.

Both Giscard d'Estaing and Chaban-Delmas are members of the ruling Gaullist coalition, revocably split the majority but political observers have which has run France since been saying that their bitter Charles de Gaulle took power fight in the campaign may ir- in 1958.

A Word from . . .

MARGARET RAY

As I write this, I have no way of knowing the decision of voters at the polls Saturday. If, as I have hoped, I have been honored with the nomination for Howard County clerk, I will do my utmost to show my appreciation with the very best service I can give you. But regardless of the outcome, I want all of you to know that I am grateful for the courteous and friendly manner in which you received my candidacy. You are great people, and I'm thankful for getting to visit with you.

Mayor Alioto Is Ordered To Keep Quiet By Judge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph Alioto, who links 13 "Zebra" murders here to a black separatist group, has been ordered to keep silent on the case of three young men accused of killing three of the victims.

Municipal Court Judge Agnes O'Brien Smith issued the order Friday at a court appearance for Larry C. Green, 22; J. C. Simon, 29, and Manuel Moore, 29. The three were ordered to enter pleas May 9.

"No party to this action, no attorney, no public officials from chief of police or sheriff on down or any subpoenaed witness is allowed, under the order, to discuss details of the case," said Smith.

Asked if the gag rule will apply to Alioto, she said: "I will include him in."

The mayor has blamed a fanatical group of "Death Angels" for 80 killings in California, including 13 random slayings here in a case police have code-named "Operation Zebra." Seven persons have been wounded in the "Zebra" attacks in San Francisco.

But other California law enforcement authorities say they have no evidence that any such gang exists outside San Francisco.

Four men arrested in the case were released Thursday night for lack of evidence. They were Tom Manney, 31, San Francisco State football star in the early 1960s; Clarence Jamerson, 37; Dwight Stallings, 28, and Edgar Burton, 22.

But Green was charged with one count of murder, one conspiracy and two counts of kidnapping in the Oct. 20 decapitation slaying of newsman Quita Hague, 28, and the slashing and beating of her husband, Richard 30, an incident not previously listed.

Simon and Moore were charged with murder in the Dec. 20 shooting of Alario Bertuccio, 81, and in the Jan. 28 murder of Jane Holly, 45, in a San Francisco coin laundry.

Chief of Inspectors Charles Barca said release of the four "does not preclude any possible action in the future if we develop additional evidence."

Before the arrests, police had listed 12 murders and six injuries in the Zebra file. All the victims were white and shot down without apparent reason by assailants witnesses described as black.

But Green was charged with one count of murder, one conspiracy and two counts of kidnapping in the Oct. 20 decapitation slaying of newsman Quita Hague, 28, and the slashing and beating of her husband, Richard 30, an incident not previously listed.

Simon and Moore were charged with murder in the Dec. 20 shooting of Alario Bertuccio, 81, and in the Jan. 28 murder of Jane Holly, 45, in a San Francisco coin laundry.

Church Growth Has Sagged To A Virtual Standstill

NEW YORK (AP) — American church growth has sagged to a virtual standstill hitting its lowest level in more than a quarter century and narrowly trailing the pace of population increase, new statistics showed Saturday.

Church membership in the country stands at 131,424,564, up only 35,000 from the previous year and the smallest overall gain since 1945 when World War II ended and U.S. church membership suffered a brief downturn.

UNCHANGED

The current scanty increase fractionally slipped behind the approximate 1 per cent population rise, but due to the masses involved, the percentage of Americans belonging to churches remained unchanged in rounded numbers — 62.4 per cent, the same as the year before.

The figures were compiled for the 1974 Yearbook of American and Canadian Churches, published by the National Council of Churches.

Yearbook editor Constant Jacquet said the slowdown in church growth has gone on since a 1965 peak when church membership was 64.3 per cent of the population. He said the current figures show the least growth of that entire depressed period, and also the lowest for many years before then.

Most of the major mainline Protestant denominations registered actual losses instead of growth, with the exception of the Southern Baptists. Roman Catholic growth was minimal. Substantial gains were largely among conservative, missionary-minded denominations.

BREAKDOWN

A breakdown of totals showed there are 71,648,000 Protestants, 48,460,000 Roman Catholics, 6,115,000 Jews and 3,739,000 Eastern Orthodox affiliated with U.S. religious bodies.

The figures, mostly as of the end of 1972, also reflect these trends:

- A continued "downward drift" in Sunday school enrollments, which fell from 38,487,453 to 36,397,785, down 4.3 per cent.
- Weekly church attendance remained stable at 40 per cent of the population, the same as the previous year.
- Despite the growth slowdown, contributions to churches increased, as gauged by Protestant figures only. These show a $299-million increase in giving to $4.6 billion, up 5.2 per cent.
- Per capita giving rose from $93.35 to $99.16 per person.
- The number of clergy rose from 295,154 to 363,987.
- Seminary school enrollments remained at an all-time high of 31,698, reflecting an upward trend since 1966 when there were 23,196 seminarians.
- Women seminarians numbered 3,358, or 10.2 per cent of the total. It was the first time they've been counted separately.
- Construction of religious buildings totaled $844 million, up from $813 million, but inflationary costs virtually wiped out any gain, the report said. The religious building peak in 1965 totaled $1,207 billion.

Staff Changes Are Reported

With the retirement of Carl Corbin as program director of the Buffalo Trail Council, staff changes have been reported by Steve Odom, executive.

James Armstrong, who has been serving this area as field director of the east division, will become special projects director and this will include a newly formed Explorer division, plus direction of camp operations. Alford Havens Jr., who has been district executive in the Chaparral district, will take over direction of the eastern service area, which includes this, the Lone Star, district. Ric Wilkins, formerly with the Heart of Texas council at Brady, will move to Odessa to direct western field services.

Airline Executives Are Subpoenaed By NY Jury

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today that 23 airline executives have been subpoenaed by a Brooklyn federal grand jury probing alleged kickbacks by the passenger-lungry airlines to travel agents.

The Times said recent testimony before the grand jury indicated millions of dollars in secret rebates were given to the high-volume travel agents by several foreign airlines and some major domestic carriers — including Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines.

The subpoenaed executives who are to appear before the federal grand jury within the next two weeks, are employees of 23 airlines that have trans-Atlantic routes, according to the Times.

Representatives of Aeroflot, the Soviet airline, are also among those reportedly subpoenaed.

gers enables an airline to operate more efficiently and receive a larger return on its investment.

The Times quoted sources familiar with the case as saying the rebates ranged from 4 to 50 per cent of the air fare, in addition to the legal sales commission to travel agents of 7 to 11 per cent.

OLIN'S ENTRY SWEEPS PAST CROWDED FIELD

Cannonade Romps To Easy Derby Win

LOUISVILLE (AP) — John M. Olin's cannonade, the "little brother" of the heavily favored Stephens entry, zipped along the inside rail Saturday for an easy 2 3/4-length victory in the 100th Kentucky derby.

As the largest field in the history of the Derby swung wide in the final turn, jockey Angel Cordero said he saw the opening and took it.

"I moved inside, outside and all around" looking for running room as he approached the turn, then went to the whip to overtake the pace-setting Hudson County.

Cordero, like most other riders in the race, complained of traffic troubles, having to work his way from 12th to first in the 23-horse field to earn the largest purse in American racings history—$274,000—for Olin.

Robert B. Cohen's Hudson County, a member of the mutual field, finished second, 3/4 lengths in front of the Meeken Stable's Agitate. J.R.'s Pet was another three-quarters of a length to the rear with the rest of the field spread near and far up the track.

"Was it a thrill?" Olin said from his St. Louis home after the race.

"Oh, God, yes."

Olin, the 81-year-old head of the Olin Matheson Chemical Corp., wasn't able to be at the Derby because he "had a slight coronary recently."

"But I saw everything on television and it was unbelievable."

"Like the best said on his tombstone, 'I expected this, but not so soon.'"

Cannonade had won only one of four races this season and his stablemate, Seth Nancock's Judger, got all the pre-Derby headlines. But when it counted, Judger was eighth at the wire.

Not only was the $326,500 total purse the largest ever offered in a race in this country, but 163,628 fans crammed every nook and cranny of Churchill Downs, many just to say they were present for the 100th Derby.

England's Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, the most famed royalty ever to attend the Derby, watched the race from atop a pagoda near the winner's circle.

While most of the riders had traffic troubles, the only casualty was Tufano and Cohen's Flip Sal, who broke an ankle in a backstretch stumble and pulled up. Jockey Eddie Maple wasn't injured.

It will be at least three days before it will be known if the colt can be saved.

In addition to the large purse, Olin received a $16,600 diamond-and-emerald encrusted gold cup and England's Princess Margaret presented him with an antique silver bowl.

Cannonade had been considered the lesser half of the Woody Stephens entry, but he far outshined his stablemate Judger, when it counted.

He had won three stakes last year, but his best effort this year in stakes had been a second place in the Florida Derby.

Olin, 81, was not on hand for the Derby. He had asked that if his horse won, that Lynn Stone, president of Churchill Downs, accept the trophies in his behalf.

"I just couldn't be happier," Stephens said in the winner's circle after the race. "This horse has done so well."

Stephens, 60, had trained six Derby starters in previous races and had seen them finish second, third, fourth and fifth in recent years. This one, he said before the race, could "complete my set."

"The Derby is an important to you as our English Derby," Princess Margaret said as she made her presentation.

Derby Dan Farm's Little Current, with Bobby Ussery, looking for a second Derby victory, went to the front with Hudson County as the cavalry charge came down the stretch for the first time.

Those two dueling throughout the backstretch, but Little Current began to falter at the half-mile pole and Hudson County continued in front for the next furlong.

Mike Miceli, aboard Hudson County, just shook his head after the race and mumbled, "No excuse, no excuse."

"I was the only one running on the inside," Cordero said, "and my horse was going well. He looked like he was loafing coming around the turn for home, but he quit that and went on."

STARTING HOME — Cannonade runs for home as he comes into the stretch during Saturday's 100th Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Jockey Angelo Cordero rode Cannonade the mile and a quarter in 2:04.

Allin Claims Nelson Lead

DALLAS (AP) — Tiny Buddy Allin blitzed Preston Trail Golf Club with eight birdies for a course record eight-under par 63 Saturday to fashion a one-shot lead after 54 holes of the Byron Nelson Classic with a 12-under par 201 total.

The 29-year-old Allin, a decorated Army artillery officer in Vietnam, charged from five shots off the pace to lap 36-hole leader Jim Simons in the chase for the $30,000 first prize.

Wise-cracking Homer Blancas, hero of the middle age set with his bulging midriff, shot a four-under par 67 for a 202 total. He was the leader after the first round on the par 35-36-71 course which plays to 6,357 yards.

The 5-foot-9, 135-pound Allin toured the front nine in three-under 32 and birdied Nos. 8, 9, 10, 15 and 17 for 31 on the incoming nine. The old course record of 64 was established by Kermit Zarley in 1968.

Allin, who won the Doral-Eastern Open earlier this year and is in eighth place on the money list with $73,919, fired consecutive 60s before unleashing his birdie barrage. In one stretch, he birdied six of eight holes.

Bright sunshine, soft greens, and a light breeze made scoring conditions perfect as Allin negotiated the dangers of White Rock Creek like he was on a pitch-and-putt layout.

Edmond Ties Record; Walters Sixth In 440

AUSTIN (AP) — Gregory Edmond of Galveston Ball, charging out of the blocks after three false starts, blazed to a national record-tying 9.3 time in the 100-yard dash and Rule, Timpson and Fort Worth Dunbar won state titles in the state schoolboy track meet Saturday.

Edmond, who earlier this year had a wind-aided 9.2 century, also broke the Class 4A and all-time state 100-yard dash record held by four runners.

Edmond, the defending champion in the event, broke away from the field by the 50-yard line and was all alone in the stretch. Scooter Reed of Grand Prairie came in second in 9.5 and Joel Briscoe of Fort Worth Dunbar was third at 9.6.

Edmonds tied the national schoolboy record set in 1967 by Williams Gaines of Mullica, N.J.

The lightning quick Ball senior made up for a mishap in the Class 4A 440-yard relay finals when Edmond and teammate Raymond Drake dropped the baton going into the anchor leg.

Big Spring's Donald Walters finished sixth in the Class AAAA 440-yard dash in 49.1, his best time of the year. Elrick Brown of Lufkin won in 47.2, and the top four finishers ran under 49.0.

Stanton's entries in the state action also came home with points. David Standefer took fifth in the 220-yard dash in 22.2 and Joe Louis Hernandez earned sixth place points as he legged a 1:59.9.

Rule edged out Danbury and Big Sandy for the Class B title in a team race that wasn't decided until the day's final event, the mile relay. Rule won the race and finished with 54 points.

Timpson was the Class 3A champion, winning the mile relay although they had the meet already wrapped up.

Dunbar, trailing San Angelo Central 40-36 going into the mile relay, needed to finish fourth to win the state title and came in second behind Dallas Roosevelt to push past Central for the Class 4-A title.

Bill Blessing of Dallas Hillcrest, who has a pending national record of 35.9 in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles, set a state record of 36.9 in his specialty, breaking the day-old record of 37.0 set Friday night by Refugio's Curtis Isaiah.

Blessing, who has a wind-aided 13.4 in the 120-yard high hurdles, also won that race in 13.8 in a close race with Pasadena Rayburn's Mike Williams, who held the lead until after the final hurdle.

Six class records were broken in Saturday's meet in addition to the national and state records by Blessing and Edmond.

Loraine's Mike Jones successfully defended his 100 and 220-yard dash titles, placed third in the high jump and second in the long jump.

Bobby Mitchell of Big Sandy, last year's Class B high point man, set a Class B 120-yard high hurdles record of 14.3, breaking his own record of 14.4. Mitchell also was first in the intermediate hurdles, finished third in the long jump and fifth in the high jump.

Kenneth Thomas of Wortham lowered the Class B 440-yard dash record to 48.3 with his third straight state championship. The old record was 48.5 by Ronald Fountain of Spring Hill in 1962.

Woody Lyons of Snyder broke his own Class B high jump record of 6-8 with a leap of 6-8 1/4. Lyons then missed three times at 6-10.

David Gallender of Hardin held off the challenge of Pflugerville's James Sims in the 880 with a Class A record 1:55.0 clocking.

Ricky Marquez won the Class A mile run for the third straight year with a class record 4:20.6 clocking.

Rule's meet winning mile relay time was a Class B record 3:22.2 time, breaking the old mark of 3:23.9 set by Booker in 1964.

Blessing and Edmonds, the outstanding performers in Class 4A, tied for high point honors with 20 points each.

In Class B, Jones finished with 33 points to edge Mitchell for high point honors. Mitchell, who led Big Sandy to the state Class B football championship, had 30 points.

Galveston Ball's misfortune in the sprint relay cost them second place in the team standings. Ball wound up third with 28 points and could have finished second to Dunbar with a victory.

Cocky Celtics Seeking Big NBA Bulge Today

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, brimming with confidence, throw their tenacious defense against the Milwaukee Bucks again today in a bid to take a commanding lead in the National Basketball Association championship playoff.

"If we beat them Sunday, then we'll really put them in a hole," Boston Coach Tommy Heinsohn said. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

Leading 2-1 in the best-of-seven series after whipping Milwaukee 95-83 Friday night and seeking their first NBA championship since the end of a dynasty in 1969, the Celtics aren't expected to do anything different than in the first three games.

That means a ball-hawking press all over the Boston Garden court and a fast-break offense. The Bucks have been unable to cope with Boston's whirlwind, breath-taking tactics, even though they managed an overtime victory in the second game of the series in Milwaukee.

"We had better come up with something," Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello said before sending the Bucks through a late afternoon practice Saturday. "We've got to get the ball up court and at least get one shot."

The Celtics have been letting 6-foot-9 Dave Cowens play 7-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar man-to-man, while trying to shut off the other Milwaukee players. Abdul-Jabbar led the Bucks with 26 points, but was no serious threat Friday night.

With Lucius Allen out for the season with a leg injury, the Bucks have not been able to solve the Celtics' press. Veteran Oscar Robertson has tried to move the ball up court, but age is creeping up on the all-time great.

Astros Roll Past Cards

HOUSTON (AP) — Lee May's two-run double keyed a three-run fourth-inning carrying the Houston Astros to a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday night.

The Cardinals had built a 2-0 cushion for Sonny Siebert with a two-run first inning on Reggie Smith's homer before the Astros rallied.

A walk to Greg Goss was followed by Cesar Cedeno's double in the Houston fourth. Bob Watson was then walked to load the bases and May belted a Siebert pitch to deep center for two runs.

Siebert, 2-2, then wild-pitched the winning run home.

Rangers Don't Mind Visiting

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Home ice is the key to today's seventh and deciding game in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup semifinal series between the New York Rangers and the Philadelphia Flyers — right?

Well, to hear Rangers' Coach Emile Francis and Flyers' Coach Fred Shero tell it, they could play in a public park on a frozen pond and it wouldn't make any difference.

"The rink is 200 by 85, isn't it?" asked Francis. "It's got boards. It's got glass."

Shero shares Francis' disdain for the theory that the home ice favors the Flyers.

"It doesn't mean anything in the late stages," claimed the Flyers' coach after his team lost 4-1 at Madison Square Garden Thursday night in the sixth game of the series.

"The players are so happy that it's almost over that they go like hell," Shero said. "There is no real advantage."

"I don't like a seventh game. The players are so frightened at taking a penalty in a game like this that they don't play their normal game. I've never seen a seventh game that was really physical."

The Flyers have to be physical if they expect to win. In capturing the West Division championship, beating Atlanta in a four game quarter-final sweep, and playing the Rangers to a 3-3 tie in this semifinal series, Philadelphia's style has been playing it tough.

COUGARS PULL EVEN

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cougars convincingly stayed alive in the World Hockey Association Semifinal playoffs Saturday, battering the Toronto Toros 9-2.

The victory by the Cougars evened the MHA match at 3-3, with the deciding game scheduled for Monday in Toronto.

Nets Smother Utah, 118-94

UNIONDALE N.Y. (AP) — The fired-up New York Nets, triggered by a losing fight in the opening minute of play, parlayed Julius Erving's 32 points and strong help from their bench in routing the Utah Stars 118-94 Saturday night and grabbing a 2-0 lead in the American Basketball Association's title series.

The third game of the best-of-seven series will be Monday night in Salt Lake City.

The beleaguered and frustrated Stars, 89-85 losers in the opening game, came out swinging immediately. Ron Boone decked New York's Brian Taylor with a body block with only 50 seconds gone. Then Taylor arose and socked him a left to the eye.

The fists cuffs, however, proved costly to the Stars. The aroused Nets, after trailing 8-3, went on a 17-0 tear during a 5:11 stretch for a commanding 20-8 lead and virtually coasted the rest of the way. Boone, meanwhile, kept getting his left hand administered during time-outs and was ineffective out of offense.

Fort Worth Netters Nab Class AAAA State Titles

AUSTIN (AP) — Fort Worth tennis players dominated the Class 4-A schoolboy championships Saturday.

Randy Crawford of Fort Worth Southwest took the singles crown by defeating Scott Walker of San Antonio Alamo Heights, 6-4, 6-4.

Don Valentic and Tut Barzen of Fort Worth Paschal defeated David Moore and Brian Crozier of Corpus Christi King, 6-1, 6-1, to win the doubles championship.

In Class 3-A, Steve Denton of Bishop beat Robin Roberts of Mount Pleasant, 6-3, 6-2, to gain the singles title. The doubles championship went to Bart Bernstein and Barney Bernstein of Wharton, who defeated Mark Peugh and Tim Brooks of Sulphur Springs, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

Other boys' tennis results in the championship round:

Singles:
2-A—Brian Lewis of Austin Westlake over Rick Thompson, Universal City Randolph, 6-2, 6-1.
A—Tim Brown of Mason over Steve Mercer of Roscoe, 6-2, 11-9.
B—Kyle Walker, La Pryor, defeated Tommy Howard, Zephyr, 6-2, 6-4.

Doubles:
2-A—Gary Pylant and Les Slaughter, Hughes Springs, defeated David Barrera and Ralph Mason, Morton, 6-2, 6-1.
A—Keith Taylor and Rusty Shudde of Sabinal over Duke Hooten and Cole Leifeste, Mason, 7-1, 7-5.
B—Mike Armstrong and Bobby Nix of Celeste over Leslie Cramer and Randy Ward of Barksdale Nueces Canyon, 11-9, 6-1.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

It's not like the old days. There's no Bill Russell knocking shots down guys' mouths, there's no Bob Cousy doing all those fancy things with the ball, and there's no Red Auerbach firing up a cigar when he knows his team has the game stacked up. But so far, the results are about the same.

The Boston Celtics have been little less than awesome in running to a 2-1 series lead over Milwaukee in their quest for the Big Prize. Personally, I'm surprised. It's tough to imagine anyone winning like that over Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the best basketball player ever, I think.

But if the Celtics win today, old Kareem can just about check it in. If not, we're just halfway there...

Prejudiced as I may be, I can't imagine the people on the all-star committee not choosing John Thomas Smith to play in the THSCA football game this summer. Either no one bothered to look at films of the Steer receiver, or politics entered into the thing.

Smith caught 61 passes for over 1,000 yards last fall, second highest total in the state, and against ranked San Angelo he caught 14 passes in one crazy game. To anyone who saw him play, he was conspicuous in his absence from the North roster.

Eight Big Springers have played in the coaches' all-star game, but only one since 1969. Somebody blew it...

Along those same lines, it's equally strange that Lamesa's Kent McCurley didn't get a spot on the North all-star basketball team. McCurley was a two-time all-star and was regarded as a super-recruit until he decided to play football in college...

"Contestants Earle Hagerman and Duane 'Tiny' Beneditx cut loose at the referee's signal. At that given signal Hagerman's strength came through to Beneditx like an electric shock, even as Beneditx powered his own arm. The big man uttered a sound of dismay, Hagerman's teeth were clenched, and the blood vessels bulged in his forehead as he forced the giant's fist closer and closer to the table.

For a moment Beneditx rallied, holding his own and even raising his fist in a taunting and flouting gesture. With relentless strength Hagerman sent it crashing down again, flesh and bone cracking against the table with an explosive sound that resounded through the hall. As a capacity crowd stood and cheered, Hagerman's hand was raised in victory."

That, in case you didn't grasp it, was an account of a wrist-wrestling championship. Exciting, huh? It's all a buildup to the National Wrist-Wrestling Championship, set May 18 at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas.

And you — yes, you — can join the competition merely by attending the weigh-ins and sign-ins the morning of the competition. There are four divisions, and there will even be a special division for women. Who knows, you might be lucky enough to draw Tiny or Earle in the first round

Tiger Cubs Try Abilene

The Big Spring Tiger Cubs look for their first season victory today at 2 p.m. when they host the unbeaten Abilene Eagles at Steer Park.

Ismael Hernandez will be on the mound for the locals, 0-2 on the year, with Emilio Ramirez behind the plate, Buba Ayala at first, Ismael Paderez at second, Mike Gonzalez at shortstop and John Morelton at third base round out the infield, while Billy Diaz, Mike Gamboa and Vito Garcia will play the outfield.

Abram Yanez, Curtis Lockhart and Carlos Hernandez will also be ready for action.

Abilene carries a 3-0 mark into today's contest.

Coahoma Baseball Registration Set

COAHOMA — Sign-up for boys' Little League and girls' softball will be held at the ball park here Monday at 4 p.m.

Boys, ages 6 through 12, who haven't signed for either a pee wee, minor or major league spot are asked to report, and those who have taken out application blanks must have them in the hands of J. B. Hall by Thursday at 5 p.m.

Girls 9-12 are asked to sign for the softball program.

Little League coaches meet Thursday evening to make team selections and to fix a starting date for the season.

Cooper Wins Second Half; Playoff Set

Abilene Cooper avoided all the hassle of a coin flip Saturday by whipping Abilene High 5-0, and claiming the second half title with a 6-1 mark.

An AHS victory would have forced a tie between the two teams for the second half prize, and Midland Lee sacked Midland High 7-3 in what could have made it a three-way affair. Odessa Permian trimmed Odessa High 2-1 in a game that won the Odessa American's All-Sports trophy for the Panthers, and Big Spring topped San Angelo 3-2 in their District 5 AAAA ending action.

Cooper, 13-11 on the year, now faces first half champion Permian, 16-4, in the first game of a best-of-three playoff Tuesday at 4 p.m. in Abilene.

The second game will be Friday at 1:30 p.m. in Odessa and the third game, if necessary, will follow as the night-cap of a doubleheader.

The CHS Cougs got all five of their runs in the fifth inning as Abilene committed four errors in the frame. Don Lawson was the winning pitcher, while Monte Harris suffered the loss.

Cooper 000 050 0-5 4 2
Abilene 000 000 0-0 3 4

Monte Harris, Artie Hanson (3), Phil Romer (7) and Ronnie Maynard. W. Lawson (7-3), L. Harris (7-4).

STANTON — Three Stanton cagers, Mark Eiland, Gene Louder and Steve Cook, have been named to the Prep All-America Basketball Yearbook for 1973-74, according to the editors of Coach & Athlete magazine.

The three paced the Buffaloes to the Dist. 7-AA cage championship, Stanton's first in 10 years. Their selection to the Prep Honor Roll makes them eligible for judging in the Prep All-America National Awards — Prep 100 Squad, Super Ten Team and Cum Laude.

Spring Training Here To Stay

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — University Interscholastic League Schools in Class 4-A have overwhelmingly rejected a proposal to eliminate spring football practice.

They voted 118-76 against starting fall football practice a week earlier and to abolish drills in the spring.

Approval of the referendum proposal would have given all conferences an identical date for starting football.

HURLERS HAVE GOOD SHOWINGS Steers Clip 'Cats In Finale, 3-2

By JACK COWAN Patient pitching by sophomore Pat Carroll and Earl Reynolds kept the Big Spring Steers to a 3-2 season-ending victory over the San Angelo Bobcats and a hard-luck hurler Keith Ellwanger Saturday at Steer Park.

Carroll, making only his second start of the season, gave up just two hits and a pair of unearned runs in claiming the victory, and proved to be the bright spot of the future as the Lancers closed out a disastrous 6-20 season. It was only the second home win of the year for the Steers, who finished the second half of Dist. 5 AAAA at 9-5 and shared last place with Odessa in the overall top standings with a 4-10 mark.

The Bobcats finished at 7-12 overall, 2-5 in the second half and 5-9 in league action.

"Carroll's going to be tough the next two years," Steer coach Larry Horton said of his young hurler. "He showed some good stuff out there today. He wasn't overpowering, but he got them to hit the ball on the ground. We had a good defensive game, too."

Ellwanger, who lost a one-hitter to Abilene just a couple of weeks ago, struck out 15 Steers in the six innings he worked. He had no one to blame for the loss but himself, though, as he walked eight batters and chased home each run with a base on balls.

Each team had two hits, John Thomas Smith and Kent Newsum connecting for the Steers and Al Celaya and Jerry Barr getting the Bobcat safeties. Base-running mistakes, as well as Ellwanger's walks, hurt the San Angelo cause.

San Angelo took the lead in the first inning as Ellwanger walked, moved to second as Jerry Barr reached first base on one of four Steer errors, and both runners advanced on Carroll's wild pitch. Rudy Izard drove a foul deep to left field, and Ellwanger came home on the sacrifice fly.

Ellwanger began to show his wildness in the second frame when he walked Smith and Dick Battle to lead off the inning, and after striking out Carroll, loaded the bases with a walk to Lawrence Byrd. He walked Newsum to score Smith, struck out Barry Cannon and then hit Sammy Rodriguez to give the Steers a 2-1 edge.

San Angelo tied it up in the third when Ellwanger reached first on an error, moved to second on Carroll's stray pickoff attempt and scored on Barr's throw to left field. Barr was thrown out at second trying to stretch the hit into a double.

Big Spring got the last run of the game in the bottom of the third. John Morelton was safe at first on throwing error, he moved to second on Smith's single and walks to Battle and Byrd brought him home.

But that's when Ellwanger began to bear down, and every Steer out that followed except one was a strikeout.

The 'Cats threatened in the sixth inning. Carroll walked the first batter, his fourth base on balls, and reliever Reynolds gave up a walk. He struck out Kenny Perez but walked Mike Groves to load the bases with just one out.

Reynolds fanned John Jeschke, however, and then got Brian Miller to fly out to left field. The Bobcats had a man on second with one out in the seventh, but Morelton tagged out the base runner on an infield grounder.

Steers Clip 'Cats In Finale, 3-2

By JACK COWAN Patient pitching by sophomore Pat Carroll and Earl Reynolds kept the Big Spring Steers to a 3-2 season-ending victory over the San Angelo Bobcats and a hard-luck hurler Keith Ellwanger Saturday at Steer Park.

Carroll, making only his second start of the season, gave up just two hits and a pair of unearned runs in claiming the victory, and proved to be the bright spot of the future as the Lancers closed out a disastrous 6-20 season. It was only the second home win of the year for the Steers, who finished the second half of Dist. 5 AAAA at 9-5 and shared last place with Odessa in the overall top standings with a 4-10 mark.

The Bobcats finished at 7-12 overall, 2-5 in the second half and 5-9 in league action.

"Carroll's going to be tough the next two years," Steer coach Larry Horton said of his young hurler. "He showed some good stuff out there today. He wasn't overpowering, but he got them to hit the ball on the ground. We had a good defensive game, too."

Ellwanger, who lost a one-hitter to Abilene just a couple of weeks ago, struck out 15 Steers in the six innings he worked. He had no one to blame for the loss but himself, though, as he walked eight batters and chased home each run with a base on balls.

Each team had two hits, John Thomas Smith and Kent Newsum connecting for the Steers and Al Celaya and Jerry Barr getting the Bobcat safeties. Base-running mistakes, as well as Ellwanger's walks, hurt the San Angelo cause.

San Angelo took the lead in the first inning as Ellwanger walked, moved to second as Jerry Barr reached first base on one of four Steer errors, and both runners advanced on Carroll's wild pitch. Rudy Izard drove a foul deep to left field, and Ellwanger came home on the sacrifice fly.

Ellwanger began to show his wildness in the second frame when he walked Smith and Dick Battle to lead off the inning, and after striking out Carroll, loaded the bases with a walk to Lawrence Byrd. He walked Newsum to score Smith, struck out Barry Cannon and then hit Sammy Rodriguez to give the Steers a 2-1 edge.

San Angelo tied it up in the third when Ellwanger reached first on an error, moved to second on Carroll's stray pickoff attempt and scored on Barr's throw to left field. Barr was thrown out at second trying to stretch the hit into a double.

Big Spring got the last run of the game in the bottom of the third. John Morelton was safe at first on throwing error, he moved to second on Smith's single and walks to Battle and Byrd brought him home.

But that's when Ellwanger began to bear down, and every Steer out that followed except one was a strikeout.

The 'Cats threatened in the sixth inning. Carroll walked the first batter, his fourth base on balls, and reliever Reynolds gave up a walk. He struck out Kenny Perez but walked Mike Groves to load the bases with just one out.

Reynolds fanned John Jeschke, however, and then got Brian Miller to fly out to left field. The Bobcats had a man on second with one out in the seventh, but Morelton tagged out the base runner on an infield grounder.

Local Group Nabs Stripers

There have been larger striped bass than those reported by the E. W. Graham and Harvey Clay group from Big Spring, but none matching total weight for a trio at Lake E. V. Spence. They reported landing stripers of 13 1/2 lb., 11 1/4 lb. and 11 lb. 6 oz., more than 36 pounds for the three.

Several other catches of striped bass were reported, including a 14-pounder brought in by Hank Baker, Earl Lindsey and Pat Patterson of Robert Lee. While crappie catches were plentiful, reports for this species eased somewhat and white bass catches appeared to be coming on stronger along with black bass. There were a couple of good-sized yellow cat, too.

Reports from Lake E. V. Spence included:

Dink's Bait — Randy and

Shelia Chambers, Odessa, 11 crappie and four black bass; Jerry Gartman, Sterling City, 17 white bass to 2 lb.; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Chapman, Odessa, 35 crappie to 1 1/2 lb.

Count's Grocery and Bait — Jim Minchew and party from Big Spring, two 5-lb. stripers on Water Dog; John Leach and John Ramney, Big Spring, 25 crappie to 2 lb. and eight channel cat to 2 lb.; Jim and Cara Sanders, O'Donnell, two 3 lb. striped bass and 20 crappie to 1 lb.; and Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Harrison, Robert Lee, 50 crappie to 1 lb.

Hillside Grocery — Hank Baker, Earl Lindsey and Pat Patterson a 14-lb. strip and another at 4 lb.; Randy Flanagan, Robert Lee, 25 white bass to 2 1/2 lb.; R. S. Young, Odessa, 27-lb. yellow cat.

Y. J.'s Marina — E. W. Graham and Harvey Clay and party, Big Spring, three stripers 13 1/2, 14 1/4 and 11 lb. 6 oz.; Perry Smith, Robert Lee, 10 channel cat to 5 lb.; Earl and Lillian Newcomer, 26 crappie to 1 lb.; Glen McCathern and Tony Dunn, Snyder, a 19 1/2-lb. yellow cat; Royce Maxey, six channel cat to 5 lb. 10 oz.; 37 crappie to 1 1/2 lb.; Kenneth Warshaw, Wilson, a 1 1/4-lb. striped bass.

Henry's Cafe — Leroy Holt, Slaton, 10 black to 4 lb., 50

HEAVY FISHING — Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clay, right, and Mr. and Mrs. Eschol Graham had a lot of luck last week during a fishing session at Lake E. V. Spence, pulling in three striped bass over 11 pounds. The largest was 13 1/2 pounds, another was 11 pounds, six ounces and the third largest was 11 pounds, four ounces. They were fishing with white bass, and a 6-lb. striped bass; Lanny Swanner, Slaton, 30 white bass, 1 5/8-lb. strip; 10 black bass to 4 lb.; Ronnie Henry, Morton, nine white bass, 2 lb.; Windy Stoneman, Robert Lee, 15 black to 4 lb., a 6-lb. strip; 50 white bass to 2 lb.; a Mrs. Nix, Midland, six black to 5 1/4 lb., eight white

In the bass tournament sponsored by the San Angelo Jaycees, the winner was Ben Walters with 5 lb., 6 oz., followed by R. O. Pomroy, 49, Butch Kuhns 47, John Gill 44, and Ronnie Wallace 41. All are from the Concho Club except Pomroy of the Permian Basin.

VIEW FROM PLAINS Wildlife Should Not Be Handled

By J. D. PEER
Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept.

It is that time of year again when mother nature cloaks the out-of-doors in greenery. It will soon be time when vacationers will see the wildlife young following their mother or hiding in cover from the watchful eye of the predator.

One of the most tempting aspects of spring and early summer is to chase and catch young deer, quail and other wildlife. Even many adults forget that the majority of the adults species of wildlife will abandon their offspring if they have a smell of humans.

Young animals are protected by mother nature with her use of camouflage spots, color and odor. Take for instance the young fawn. This animal is nearly odorless while it is young, protecting it from coyotes, bobcats and domestic dogs.

Sometimes a fawn is accidentally stumbled upon and if frightened enough, will run to a safer place. Many people, being tender-hearted, and not observant enough, think that since they don't see the doe nearby, the fawn has been abandoned. This is not so.

The watchful wildlife observer will leave the young along and upon watching the area in early morning or late at night, will see the fawns mother walk directly to the place she hid her offspring. If the fawn is not there and the doe cannot find it, she might abandon the search and leave the area.

This problem has become so frequent that Texas has established a regulation prohibiting the possession of any wild game bird, wild game fowl, or wild game animal, whether dead or alive, during the time when killing or taking is prohibited.

It is also unlawful for any person to destroy or take the nest, eggs, or young of any wild game bird, wild bird, or wild fowl.

Be a wildlife observer this year and don't handle the young for their and your protection.

Cardinals Visit Odessa Orioles

ODESSA — The Big Spring Cardinals and Odessa Orioles collide today in a semi-pro baseball game in Odessa.

Next Sunday the Cards will be at home against the Odessa Dorados.

RECORD STRIPED BASS — A new record for striped bass at Lake E. V. Spence was landed by C. H. Hogan, Odessa, recently. Hogan exhibits the specimen, which he brought in on a rod and reel, weighing 15 pounds and 6 ounces, two ounces more than the previous record hooked by J. W. Taylor, San Angelo.

WATER TEMPERATURE CLUE TO FISH SPOTS

Water temperature is a good clue to the location of fish. What's more, it's a tipoff to their feeding habits as well.

These are the best reasons for having an electronic fishing thermometer. This device reports readings at depths to 100 feet, giving you a thermal profile of a lake or river.

If you're after largemouth bass, for example, here's what you can expect at various (fahrenheit) temperature ranges:

Up to 40 degrees largemouth are virtually inactive, but will strike at slow moving baits if these are fished deep. Check the Bass Buster assortment at your local tackle shop for the proper lures.

At 55 to 60 degrees they prow for food in shallow water. Your best results will come during the hottest part of the day. At 60 to 65 degrees you'll find them in the shallows. At 65 to 72 degrees — considered by many to be the optimum temperature for bass — you'll get them near the surface.

But at 72 to 75 degrees largemouth go deeper, looking for cooler water. So fish about 25 feet down. At 75 to 80 degrees they will be in shallow water, seeking cooler areas in cover. Early morning or evening is a good time to fish for them.

At 80 degrees and over it's too hot for bass on the surface so go for them deep, to where temperature is about 70 degrees.

Here's the temperature story on smallmouth bass:

At 35 to 40 degrees smallmouth are inactive and down deep, but at 48 to 55 degrees they are near the surface in about 12 feet of water. Up to 60 degrees they are more active.

At 60 to 68 degrees — the preferred comfort zone — smallmouth often feed in cover in the early morning and evening. At 70 to 80 degrees they're close to the surface. At 80 degrees and over, it's too hot near the surface so smallmouth go to 40 feet or more for a better comfort zone.

If you're after stream trout, you'll find 50 to 55 degrees a good temperature range for rainbow, brown, cutthroat and brook trout. They are usually no more than six-feet deep and will hit wet flies.

At 55 to 68 degrees you can get them on the surface with dry flies. At 68 degrees and over look for trout in cooler water.

Water temperature, as this rundown clearly suggests, is well worth knowing at any given time during the day. So make a habit of checking it.

Dear Virgil,
Could you please tell me how to raise wax worms for fish bait?

Henry Johnson
Wapakoneta, Ohio

Dear Henry,
Raising wax worms for fish bait is really a lot more trouble than it's worth. Especially when you can buy them in quantities of 1,000 for between $2.25 and 2.50 — less expensive than raising them yourself. If you still want to raise them, get a box and fill it with dry meal. Put the worms in the box and the box in your refrigerator. The worms will eat and live in the dry meal. You can pull them out of the refrigerator in six months time and be ready for bait in a matter of minutes.

Jenkins Nabs Sixth Victory

BOSTON (AP) — The Texas Rangers pushed across a tainted run in the fourth inning and Ferguson Jenkins made it stand up for his sixth victory Saturday in a 1-0 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Jenkins, who has lost only one of his seven starts, fired a five-hitter in outdueling Boston's Rick Wise, 2-2, who allowed just three hits before giving way to Diego Segui in the eighth.

The Rangers, leading the American League's West Division, gave Jenkins all the support he needed with a run in the fourth. Cesar Tovar walked and Alex Johnson singled. Then Jeff Burroughs hit a sharp double play grounder to short, but rookie Rick Burleson booted the ball, filling the bases. Jim Spencer got the run home with a sacrifice fly.

Jenkins, acquired from the Chicago Cubs during the off-season, struck out seven and didn't issue a walk while earning his second shutout and going the distance for the seventh consecutive time.

He retired the first 11 batters before Cecil Cooper singled. Jenkins was in trouble only in the fifth and seventh.

The Red Sox put runners at first and third in the seventh but Jenkins ended the threat by getting Carlton Fisk on an easy pop fly to short. He retired the next six batters in order to end the game.

Wise, sidelined since April 22 with a tender shoulder, deserved a better fate. One of the three hits off him was a grounder into the hole at short. He struck out four and walked two, one intentionally.

Segui breezed through the eighth and escaped harm in the ninth despite two Texas hits.

FRIDAY'S LITTLE LEAGUE Rockets Drop T-Birds

Chris Smith drove in four runs and Ron Hovda chalked up 14 strikeouts as the Rockets picked a 4-3 International League triumph over the T-Birds in Friday Little League action.

The Tigers remained unbeaten in the Texas League with a 1-2 triumph in their play Friday, while the Colts trimmed the Stars 8-1 in an American League bout and the Cardinals nudged the Devils 9-8 in the National League.

Smith's second home in three games gave the Rockets a three-run edge in the first inning, and in the third he got his final RBI with a single. Mark Yarbrough also had a pair of hits for the winners.

Chip Koster was the losing pitcher, and he also picked up two of the T-Birds' three hits. Dickie Wrightsil, Lupe Ontiveros and Tommy Olague all slammed home runs to pace the Tiger's 14-hit showing as the team jumped to 3-0. Jame Renteria came up with four hits in the win, while Wrightsil and Jessie Ybarra stroked three apiece and Ontiveros and Brocky Jones had a pair.

Jimmy Carrillo was the winning pitcher and Mike Herrera suffered the loss. Herrera also had a home run for the losers.

The Colts, on top in the AL, had little trouble in downing the Stars with Ricky Solis' four hits leading the way, plus two each from Greg Henry, Mike Christian and Mike Workman. Bill Davey tossed a five-hitter in pitching the Colts to their fourth win in five starts. Darrell Martin took the loss for the Stars, now 3-2.

Scott Moore stroked a home run and Dale Earnest gave up just two hits, but the Cardinals had to turn back the one-man effort of Mike Madry, who had a home run and a double for the Devils.

Ernest Moore and Brett Robertson led the Cards at the plate as the team raised its standing to 2-1. The Devils, with Madry doing the pitching, fell to 0-3.

The Mustangs of the National Minor League opened their season with a 13-10 win over the Elks Friday night. Ron Nusz was the winning hurler, and Dean Richardson had three hits for the victors. Nusz and Billy Thompson collected doubles in the win, and Faulkner and Hughes managed two hits each for the losers.

HC Students Are Awarded Scholarships

Three Students from Howard College at Big Spring have been chosen to receive scholarships from the Ford Foundation. Mrs. Carol Hartfield, 4107 West Highway 80, has been chosen as a winner of the scholarship and plans to use her award at Texas Tech University.

Mike Randle, 803 Cherry, Big Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Randle, Jr., and Ronnie Medrano, Route 2, Rotan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Medrano, were selected as runners-up and will be included in the Honorable Mention Roster.

Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery, director of Financial Aids of Howard College, says, "They have proven to be capable, deserving students and citizens and this award simply confirms our opinions of them."

Each year the College Entrance Examination Board, with headquarters in New York, awards Upper Division Scholarships with funds provided by the Ford Foundation. This scholarship program serves approximately 1000 students who must be completing transfer programs and plan to enroll as full time students working toward the baccalaureate degree during the 1974-75 school year. The scholarship recipients may attend any senior institution of their choice as long as it is in the United States but they must enroll no later in the senior college that the fall semester of 1974.

Scholarship winners receive from 20 to 80 per cent of their educational expenses at senior colleges. The amount of the award is determined by the financial need of the winner and this is established through the procedure of the College Scholarship Service.

Howard College was chosen to nominate students for the scholarship for the 1974-75 school year with nominations based on the academic performance and promise of the individual plus locally-developed criteria which Howard College uses in selecting scholarship recipients.

In addition to the winners that are chosen for the scholarship and Honorable Mention Roster is developed the runners-up. Although the runners-up do not receive a scholarship, their names and home addresses are included in the roster which is distributed to the directors of admission and Financial Aids Officers of all four-year, degree-granting senior colleges and universities in the United States. Colleges and universities use the list to make priority awards of scholarships and grants. Therefore, it is an advantageous honor just to be chosen for the runner-up roster.

Time To Do Something

The week designated for special clean-up and paint-up efforts here has been set to start May 13 — only one week away.

Whatever success this attains — and we hope it is considerable — will result largely from the response and the licks put in this week. You can't wait until you see the trash truck go by to start cleaning your premises and get the job done. This is the week to do that.

None can argue that we don't need a concerted community effort in this direction. There are enough areas which, because of non-descript buildings and seedy shacks, presented less than the best of appearances, but to compound this with rubbish and disarray is almost unforgivable.

It is difficult to make dry and unproductive soils present the best of appearances, but community pride demands that whatever the circumstance, we should at least present a clean outlook. This says a lot about the kind of city we have and the kind of people we are.

Besides this, there are dividends in a healthier and a safer town.

Clear Definition Needed

The Easter recess brought reports of lavishly financed (by taxpayers) junketing to foreign countries by members of Congress. The ingenuity of members in discovering reasons for foreign travel appear to be almost limitless.

Our embassies in some foreign countries are almost swamped at some seasons by the tide of members of Congress, accompanied by their wives and aides. Each member is permitted to receive up to $75 a day in "counterpart" funds — that is, funds set up to offset to some degree

The job is too big for city workers; it is too big for youth groups and special task forces. But it is not too big if everyone will just do something — and do it this week.

our economic assistance, but funds that cannot be moved to the United States.

Some of these travels can be justified. But many of the trips seem nothing more than trips at public expense. The distinction between strictly necessary travel and travel for pleasure should be defined more carefully by the House and Senate.

Congress is the only authority for making that judgment. It should do so in such a way that the public can be reassured that tax dollars are not spent needlessly or recklessly.

THE FOLLOWING is from terrific Tammy McFet, a first grader in Mesquite who visited me during Easter holidays. I don't know whether it is original or widely reprinted, but I've never seen it before (and that's good enough for me).

SEE MOTHER RUN!
See Mother. Mother is sleeping.
"Jump up, Mother!" says Father.
"Jump up! Today is Monday and the kids go back to school."
Oh, see Mother get out of bed. Her eyes are closed. Her slippers are on the wrong feet. She cannot find the bedroom door.

FUNNY MOTHER!
"Hurry children!" says Mother.
"The yellow school bus will soon be here!"

See Susie, Susie is playing, splashing water out of the fish bowl.
See Johnny, Johnny is reading about Johnny Bench. See Bobby, Bobby is coloring the wall with his crayons.

See Mother's hair stand up! What did Mother say? (Those words are not in the book!) Run, children, run!

"Mother, Mother" says Susie.
"I have lost a shoe lace!"
"Mother, Mother!" says Johnny. "My zipper is stuck and I have a jelly bean in my car."
"Mother, Mother!" says Bobby. "I think I am sick. I might throw up on the yellow school bus!"
On, see Mother run!
"I'm going crazy!" says Mother.
"Oh, hurry! Hurry! It is time for the yellow school bus!"

See all the children on the bus jump up and down! Jump! Jump! Jump! See all the paper and pencils fly out the window.

Listen to the yellow school bus driver. He cannot yell as loud as the children, can he?

Run Susie! Run Johnny! Run Bobby!
See Mother throw kisses. Why do Susie and Johnny and Bobby pretend not to know her?
"Good-bye! Good-bye!" calls Mother.
"Varroom!" goes the yellow bus.

HOW QUIET IT IS. Here is Mother. Mother is pouring a big cup of coffee. Mother is sitting down. Mother does not do anything. Mother does not say anything. Mother just sits and smiles.

Why is Mother smiling?

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

McNEELY BY ANDREW NEWBERRY
GIVEN BY CHICAGO TRIBUNE

I've always been puzzled by a drastic statement in Matthew. It's the one in chapter 18 about cutting off an arm or a leg if it is offensive. What does that mean?

Q.M.
"I assume you mean Matthew 18:8: 'If your hand or your foot causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life maimed or crippled, than to have two hands or two feet and be thrown into eternal fire.'"

Certainly, Christ doesn't mean self-mutilation. Keep in mind that the imagery of the hand or the foot represents objects that may lead into forbidden paths, or move toward the acquisition of things contrary to God's law. Metaphorically, I suppose it signifies all that seems dear and necessary.

The Lord is saying that when it comes to your spiritual welfare, even the nearest ties which interfere must be snapped. Lower interests are not to blind one to the higher good.

Perhaps the idea of the hand and foot denote mental powers or dispositions. The lesson is the same. It's a warning that our cultivation of anything which is an obstacle in the spiritual life must be checked.

Do these words seem harsh — especially from the lips of the earth's most gentle, loving person? They must have been chosen then to match the extreme danger of the spiritual peril man faces when he trifles with his salvation.

The Speech

William F. Buckley Jr.

Concerning the President's speech, a few observations:

1. IT IS always sad to see the veil stripped from a man's most private parts, which are his conversations with his closest associates. It is a thoroughly degrading experience for the violated and the violators. Now we will all have to read those transcripts, and of course they will be fascinating, but not edifying. Although it is not reasonably to be expected that someone who fought his way up to the Presidency is less than a largely political animal, and sometimes a beast, it is better not to know — really — exactly what his private conversations were composed of.

I thank God that Sony wasn't around when Abraham Lincoln was plotting with his aides. Nixon will probably never recover from the mass voyeurism to which he has now been treated; and even if he escapes impeachment, he will inevitably lose the quality of remoteness that only privacy brings, and is indispensable to the exercise of Presidential power in a free society.

2. IT IS precisely the ambiguity of the tapes, as admitted by President Nixon in his speech, that will fuel the cry for an examination of the original. To be sure, so much hangs on the interpretations of a few passages, for instance of the March 21 conversations, that the committee, on the recommendations of the staff, will almost certainly vote to listen to the whole tape. If that happens, the probability that the edited parts will stay secret virtually vanishes. A compromise, by which the tapes might be heard by the chairman and the ranking minority member (this much Mr. Nixon has already offered) but accompanied by the chief counsel and a minority counsel, would probably not appease the majority of the committee. The case can be made for insisting that the infections in Nixon's voice will be the tipoff. In fact, one must assume that there is a prurient curiosity to hear those tapes, and to judge whether the expositions are truly irrelevant. One must conclude that the probability is that the committee will in due course ask for: More.

3. IT COULD be that Mr. Nixon, anticipating this, is playing a very shrewd game. I do not myself believe that the House would vote impeachment on the technical issue of whether the subpoena to the President was satisfactorily answered by releasing edited transcripts and the whole of the tapes to the ranking members of the Judiciary Committee.

It is one thing if Nixon had flatly refused to cooperate at all. That would have been clear contumacy. But to say at this point that he has not cooperated is to strain the meaning of the word. And the House is not likely to vote impeachment based exclusively on the difference between how Nixon has responded to the subpoena, and how Nixon was asked to respond to the subpoena. If the substantive questions get lost in the shuffle, I should think that Mr. Nixon would benefit, and possibly save his career.

4. BUT SAVING his career — to return to the principal point — is, at this point, to save what? Though no doubt his speech will generate that sympathy that goes to a tough fighter who has made great sacrifices to his personal dignity in order to stay and fight on, it has surely got to be that at a certain point the public will begin to wonder whether the whole of the Republic should be required to rock from week to week, and month to month, for the sole purpose of keeping one individual in the White House.

Mr. Nixon began by telling us a year ago that the office of the Presidency would be destroyed if ever transcripts of presidential conversations were released. Well, now they have been released. Was he right the first time? Has the office been damaged (let's allow for the hyperbole, and change "destroyed" to "damaged")? If so, why? Is it more important for Mr. Nixon to prove his innocence, than to safeguard the integrity of the office?

Penn Central Still In Trouble

The Week's Business

- Government charges former officials with fraud
- Under reorganization, debt cut but tax deficit triples
- More federally backed loans given road, operating loss grows
- Detroit dealt severe blow by crunch, earning reports show
- GM reports its quarterly earning records worst since 1948

NEW YORK (AP) — The four-year-old story of the Penn Central Railroad's troubles has moved into a new chapter with government charges of fraud to deceive stockholders and conceal losses.

The Penn Central, the country's biggest railroad, has been in federal bankruptcy proceedings since June 1970 and has been sinking deeper into debt ever since it entered reorganization.

OFFICIALS SUED
The Securities and Exchange Commission this past week filed a civil suit against the railroad, a number of former officers and others charging fraudulent activities centered in 1968 and 1969.

The charges followed a two-year study of the Penn Central troubles by the SEC and included an allegation that $4 million had been diverted to bank accounts in Lichtenstein.

When Penn Central went into reorganization, it owed $248 million in taxes, interest and rents and $1.8 billion on outstanding bonds, contracts and sales agreements.

Since then, the second figure has been trimmed to $1.7 billion, but the first has more than tripled to $900 million.

The line drew on a $100 million government-backed loan in 1971 and 1972 and got another federal loan of $16.4 million in 1973 to repair damage from tropical storm Agnes.

More recently, it received grants of $10.8 million in federal equipment payments.

DEEPER IN HOLE
Late last month, the loss for Penn Central railroad operations in the first quarter was reported up 24 per cent at $68.3 million from a loss of $55.2 million in the same quarter of 1973.

If there were doubts that Detroit was hurt by the nation's energy crunch, they should have been dispelled by the first-quarter profit figures from the nation's automakers.

EVEN LEADER OFF
The best performer was American Motors Corp., whose earnings were down 59 per cent from a year earlier at $6.9 million even though sales were up 4.6 per cent at $498 million.

Of the Big Three, Ford Motor Co. fared best with a 66 per cent drop in profits to $124 million, its lowest for the quarter since 1967.

General Motors, the world's biggest manufacturer, said its earnings for the quarter were the worst since 1948, down 85 per cent at $120.3 million on a 27 per cent drop in sales.

Chrysler Corp. profits fell no less than 98 per cent to $1.6 million, the company's worst first quarter since it posted a loss in 1970.

Why Old Folks Snooze

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you tell me why so many old people sleep nights but also sleep most of the day, falling asleep in their chairs any time they sit down? Is there any way of curing this habit? — M.B.B.

It may not be a "habit" because there are some very real reasons for this constant napping.

With advanced age, many of the body processes slow down. Circulation is slower; gradual hardening of the arteries is a part of aging and can reduce the blood flow to various parts of the body.

The result is a decreased supply of oxygen to the tissues generally, both to the brain and the body. I do not mean brain damage; I mean that the effort of thinking is somewhat greater. In the body, I do not mean physical disability, but only that muscles do not respond as vigorously, and exertion cannot be sustained for as long a time. With advanced age, there comes a slowing down.

Add to this that the elderly person may not get much exercise, perhaps because of arthritis or other joint problems, perhaps because of heart or lung problems.

Add it all together and there is good reason why the old like and want a lot of rest. So they nap in their chairs any time of day.

Many of them are bored. Just plain bored. With no incentive to do things, why not dose?

Visits I have had at a couple of quite different homes for oldsters may illustrate it. In one, I was there just after breakfast. No particular planned programs. But the ladies for the most part were in small groups, talking. For the most part, the men were alone, dozing in chairs in their rooms. Gregariousness is important to people. And I rather feel that women are more civilized than men in making use of it. A man is more likely to sit until something active catches his attention.

Contrariwise, in another home where I had a patient, there was a continuing effort to keep a social program going — games (whether cards or other games), short trips to places of interest, concerts.

The results was a more alert group, compared age to age. My own patient was one who had to be pushed. Without somebody making the effort to make sure he knew what was available, he too often was just sprawled on his bed resting. Or snoring. No radio, no TV, no reading for him. So he escaped, into slumber.

They aren't all alike, these old folks. But paying attention to them, finding things they can do without becoming too tired — those are the things that

Chairman Of Board

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The toughest thing for a business executive when he retires is to realize that, after a long career of directing people and making major multimillion-dollar decisions, he has no one to order around and no vital business problems to resolve. While this is very frustrating for the retired man, it's even rougher on his wife.

THE OTHER DAY Zuckert's wife came over to see me. Zuckert had been a very successful vice president of a large corporation and has been retired for six months. Mrs. Zuckert was beginning to show the strains.

"I don't know what I'm going to do," she said. "Abbot's driving me up the wall. He's running the house just the way he used to run the business."

"WHAT DO YOU mean?" I asked. "All the drive and energy that went into his 35-year career is now being directed toward me. I am no longer a housewife. I am now vice president in charge of household management."

"Abbot insists that I haven't been running the house at full efficiency, and there is a great deal of overlapping of duties. He's instituted a systems control so we can cut costs and, as he puts it, 'get a bigger bang for the buck.'"

"ABBOT ALWAYS was cost-conscious," I said.
"He's called for a complete revision of our inventory accounting methods. This means we can't store too many cans of chicken soup in the closet at one time."

"He wants me to keep my shopping lists in triplicate, and to submit requisitions to the executive committee before I buy any household appliances over $25. When he first realized, I humored him about it. I realized he was in a decompression tank, and it would take time before he realized he was no longer in business. He had a hot tip on spinach and said it might be a good time to buy up as much as we could — might even make a killing."

"YOU REALLY have your hands full," I told Mrs. Zuckert.
"You don't know what I've been going through," she said.

Adding To Confusion

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — "I am not a crook."

After that statement made by the President of the United States to the Associated Press managing editors in Florida, you would have to believe that the shock limit had been reached. Yet, that the President went to such extremes as he did in his latest broadcast to try to restore his credibility must be written down as at least an equal shocker.

IT MAY WORK. By releasing 1,200 pages of edited transcript, the President is compounding confusion. Except for a few specialists who follow these matters in close detail, no one is going to be able to determine who is lying and who is telling the truth.

Every indication in the Nixon strategy is that an impeachment resolution by the House may be inevitable. The case is being built up for the defense in the trial of the President before the Senate.

Part of the aim is to discredit John

W. Dean III who was the principal accuser in the Senate Watergate hearings.

DEAN IS ALSO to be the principal witness for the prosecution on at least two or three of the counts in the indictment brought against seven of the President's advisers.

In the perjury charge against H. R. Haldeman, the testimony of Dean on the coverup and the obstruction of justice is crucial. By discrediting Dean, the President can hope to bring about the acquittal of those such as Haldeman and John Ehrlichman to whom he has been consistently loyal.

The outcome of the trial of Maurice Stans and John N. Mitchell, the two former cabinet officers indicted for perjury, obstruction of justice and criminal conspiracy, was a big step in that direction. They were found innocent on all nine counts of the indictment. The headline emphasis was on the jury's rejection of the testimony of Dean, a prosecution witness.

A Devotion For Today..

"Every one must make up his own mind as to how much he should give." (2 Corinthians 9:7)
PRAYER: God, help us to give with all our hearts that of which You have given so bountifully. May our giving show our measure of love for our Savior, who taught us to pray "Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen."

Newspaper Strike Complaints Filed

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Publishing Pressmen's Union No. 21 has filed complaints with the National Labor Relations Board against the Dallas Morning News and the Dallas Times Herald.

The union went on strike against the two newspapers Thursday.

The complaints filed with the Fort Worth office of the NLRB allege that management of the two newspapers has refused to bargain in good faith since Nov. 3, 1973.

Vice president Richard D. Blum of the Morning News denied the allegations.

"We have bargained in good faith with representatives of the union and have told them we would be happy to meet with them again if they will set a time," he said.

CHICAGO (AP) — Helen Hemingway Benton, publisher and vice president of Encyclopaedia Britannica Inc., has died at Phoenix, Ariz., after a brief illness, a company spokesman says. She was 72.

Lounge Is Hit By Burglars

Somebody may have thought that the old law of not selling alcoholic beverages on election day still held true.

After 7:30 a.m. Saturday and prior to 9 a.m., somebody went in the back of Carl's Lounge and removed $1,278.88 worth of beer, wine and chips. They even took the cooling box.

Beer missing included three cases of Falstaff, eight cases of Coors, ten cases of Budweiser, two cases of Pearl, eight bottles of wine, assorted chips and the chest. Police had checked the building at 7:30 a.m. and it was secure at that time.

Wedding Performed Saturday In Church

The wedding of Miss Wanda Jean Weaver to Robert C. Turner was solemnized Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the sanctuary of Cedar Ridge Church of Christ, Coahoma.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Turner, 2901 Lawrence, Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Elton A.

Weaver of Coahoma.

Paul Keele, minister, officiated for the ceremony that was read before an altar centered with an archway covered with greenery and peaked by white doves. The floral arrangement, a sunburst of yellow and white gladioli and daisies, was flanked by candelabra.

Wedding music was performed by a choral group composed of Terry Kiser, Mrs. Ellen Keele, Lester Young, Mrs. Elizabeth Young, Grady Teague, Randall Morton, Miss Anna Higgins and Jim Thimmon.

The bride's white crepe floor-length dress was fashioned on empire lines with lace-overlaid bodice and long, lace sleeves. The floor-length train was attached at the waist and the shoulder-length veil was held by a bandeau of flowers and net.

The bridal bouquet was a colonial arrangement of white glamelias and yellow roses tied with wide satin streamers.

Mrs. Terry Kiser, Coahoma, and Mrs. Ed Covington, Lamesa, sisters of the bride, served as matrons of honor. Their dresses were floor-length, empire-styled of green crepe with long sleeves of green and yellow floral print.

The bridesmaids, Miss Terry Beistle and Miss Patricia Fryar, both of Coahoma, wore gowns identical in style to the matrons' dresses except theirs were yellow. They carried white baskets of yellow roses tied with lime green and yellow ribbon streamers.

James Dittmore, Big Spring, was best man, and grooms men were Ed Covington, Paul Newton and Billy Turner. Ushers were Kerry Densen and David Elmore.

Following a wedding trip to the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the couple will be at home on Route One, Big Spring.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Coahoma High School and the bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School in 1973 and is now employed by Piggly Wiggly Food Store.

The couple was honored with a reception at the Texas Electric Reddy Room where guests were served by Mrs. Keith Pherigo, Mrs. Don Templeton, Mrs. Randall Morton, Kim Morton and Jana Keele.

The bride's table was covered with a green cloth trimmed with floor-length net ruffle and yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts for a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

TO MARRY — The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Carolyn Marie Rodriguez to Oscar H. Valencia has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodriguez, Vincent Rd., Coahoma, Mo., and Mrs. Sabino Valencia, 600 NE 10th, Big Spring, are parents of the prospective bridegroom. The ceremony will be June 8 at St. Thomas Catholic Church.

Flower Arrangements Are Demonstrated

Mrs. Pat Terry, a guest of the Elbow HD Club, demonstrated the art of making dry arrangements when the group met at the home of Mrs. Lewis Soles Thursday.

Mrs. Terry told the women how to make arrangements and then made one with dry flowers which she gave to the hostess.

Mrs. R. B. Covington was elected president; Mrs. Clark Stout, vice president; Mrs. Joe Evans, treasurer, Mrs. Jean Bowersox, secretary; Mrs. Dale Soles, council delegate, Mrs. Ross Hill, reporter, with Mrs. B. N. Bronaugh as assistant.

Mrs. Gene Bronaugh won the attendance prize.

An interesting item read by Mrs. Ross Hill was the report of a short course trip to Texas A&M on HD work which the Elbow Club sent Mrs. Hill as a delegate. The article was published August 7, 1933.

The next meeting will be held May 16 at the home of Mrs. Dale Soles.

Auditions Will End

Students of local piano teachers will conclude the National Piano Playing Auditions when the last group performs at the Howard College Music Building Monday.

Those performing Friday were Tammye Spears, Jill Dunnam and Tanga Cain, pupils of Mrs. Robert Lee. On Saturday students of Mrs. Mary Pruitt playing were Lorie Little, Kerry Booth, Karla Stephens and Trip Sullivan.

Also on Saturday Lavelle Bradford, Kent Cook, Kimberly Hagood, Leisa Cook, Lori Hicks, Gay Humphrey, Barbara Pierce, a high school diploma candidate, Danna Reynolds, Donna Reynolds, Jennifer Speegle and Nancy Wood, auditioned. All are students of Mrs. Emily Beckham.

On Monday two groups will perform, one at 10:45 a.m., and the other from 1 to 2:45 p.m. They are pupils of Mrs. Chester Barnes and include Patricia Hamilton, Alyssa Burns, Andrea Burns, Marie Buckner, Debbie Bosarge, Sandy Bosarge, Faith Martin, Stacey Hodnett, Beverly Nichols, David Hamilton, Pamela Slaughter and Mary Jane Wright.

PTA Convention Will Be In San Antonio

CHICAGO — "Every Child Needs You" is the theme for the multi-million-member National PTA's 78th annual convention, to be held May 19-22 at the Convention Center in San Antonio.

"Our theme underlines the organization's determination to bring together all the millions of individuals belonging to PTA as a unified force to meet the needs of every child — everywhere," explained National PTA president, Mrs. Lillie E. Herndon.

This convention will introduce several national priority areas, Mrs. Herndon said, and will emphasize that the work of the individual PTA member, the local unit, the council, and the state PTA can, through follow-up and extension of these aims, profoundly influence the life of every child in every community.

"Every child needs our involvement," Mrs. Herndon added, "and needs the strength we provide as members of the PTA."

The convention program has been designed to stimulate and motivate this involvement as PTA delegates listen, learn, deliberate, and decide on new paths to be taken for the welfare of children and youth. Topics for workshops range from what's happening in Washington to the problem of school absenteeism. These popular sessions, featuring nationally known educators as well as PTA leaders, will also focus on such vital issues as parental involvement in the schools, financing public education, young people and the law, the fine art of parenting, and meeting educational needs of children with learning disabilities.

One of PTA's priority projects which has gained national recognition is its National Project on Smoking and Alcohol Education. In addition to examining this concern in the workshop, "New Hopes for Healthier Living," PTA delegates will hear Dr. Morris Chafetz, director of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, discuss the latest facts and present information about what PTA's can do to help fight alcohol abuse.

Delegates will also elect new officers for two-year terms. Nominees for national office include Mrs. Madelyn H. Willis, Lake Charles, La., for secretary; Dr. Martin W. Essex, Columbus, Ohio, for treasurer; and Mrs. Page Haddock, Jacksonville, Fla., Freeman E. Smith, Rochester, Minn., Mrs. Gerald Sparling, Bellevue, Wash., and Mrs. Tony Patch, San Francisco, Calif., for vice-presidents from regions.

Mrs. Herndon pointed out that this annual meeting of more than 1,000 delegates, representing some 35,000 local PTA units across the nation, provides the opportunity for members to actively participate in the formulation of the National PTA priorities for the coming year.

Mrs. Beckham Hosts Coffee

Mrs. Fred Beckham was hostess for an informal coffee recently for friends who had entertained for their daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Beckham, prior to her marriage.

The hostess arranged a display of crystal dinner bells on a coffee table and each of the 12 guests selected a bell to her liking. The bells were purchased at a glass factory near Stuttgart, Germany, last year when Mrs. Beckham visited her sister there.

Coffee was served from an antique service that was a wedding gift to Mrs. Beckham's parents. The polished oak table was centered with an arrangement of yellow and bronze iris in a yellow container.

Mrs. Ruby M. Adkins Marries Ervin J. Hill

Mrs. Ruby M. Adkins and Ervin J. Hill were married Thursday by the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand in the Methodist parsonage in Midland.

The bride wore a street-length dress of embossed knit and a corsage of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Thomas Orenbaum, attired in a pink dress, served her sister as matron of honor.

Thomas Orenbaum attended the bridegroom.

The couple is presently on a wedding trip to the Ozarks, and when they return here, they will make their home at 1420 Tucson.

A reception was held in the parsonage, and guests were served by Pat Hildebrand and Cindy Sanders, Lubbock, granddaughter of the bride. The refreshment table was covered with a green cloth and lighted by pink candles.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanders and Scott, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Sherbert, Patricia and David, all of Lamesa.

Republican Club Hears Debaters

Members of a Big Spring High School debating team brought the program for West Texas Republican Women's Club Thursday at a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Garner McAdams.

Subject for debate was "Should the Federal Government Provide a Program to Employ All Employable U.S. Citizens Living in Poverty?" Debaters were John Lipscombe, Curt Condray, Mary J. Cherry and Lynn Dickinson. Their sponsor is Craig Fischer.

During the business session, over which Mrs. Harold K. Bull presided, these decisions were made for presentation at precinct meetings: (1) A motion was proposed that the Republican Women go on record in favor of restoring the death penalty for certain crimes — kidnapping, hijacking, first degree murder and rape. (2) The Republican Women's Club goes on record as being opposed to government financing of election campaigns. (3) The club also goes on record as being opposed to the quota system for employment and admission to schools. (4) The Republican Women's Club favors allowing private enterprise to compete with the U.S. Postal Service in the delivery of first class mail.

Guests of the club were Ben Bancroft, Winston Wrinkle and Jerry Worthy.

Spring Cleaning Can Be Easy

COLLEGE STATION — "Spring cleaning" — and other housecleaning — doesn't have to be a drudgery, one observer points out.

"To make it an easier, happier time, get organized for the job," Lillian Cochran with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, suggested.

The home management specialist offered several suggestions to reduce cleaning work.

For example, she advised vacuuming rugs or carpets before dusting furniture — vacuuming stirs up dust, which eventually settles on lamps, tables and other furniture.

The soft-bristled brush attachment of a vacuum cleaner offers the most effective way to dust furniture, according to the specialist.

"Although it takes a bit longer, this method gives longer-lasting results since dust goes into the vacuum cleaner — not into the air to settle elsewhere.

"This attachment also picks up litter and larger pieces of gritty soil without scratching furniture surface — and is acceptable for dusting upholstered furniture, lamp shades and draperies."

To dust acrylic plastic furniture, use a damp cloth, Miss Cochran said.

"A damp cloth cuts down friction of rubbing and helps reduce static electricity — which attracts and holds dust on many plastics.

"For further cleaning of acrylic plastics, use a solution of mild soap or detergent and lukewarm water — or a regular cleaning concentration of ammonia and water.

"Rinse thoroughly and blot dry with a soft, clean cloth — such as cotton flannel.

Intelligent Consumer Wary Of 'Bargains'

To be an intelligent consumer, you don't have to know all about fabrics, electronics, automotive mechanics or carpentry. This is a specialized age and many of today's products are extremely complicated. It would be clearly impossible for you to become an expert on all consumer goods. But there are certain general principles that will help you buy goods or services more effectively. Here are seven rules recommended by The Better Bureau that cover the basic areas:

- (1) Buy from reliable businessmen. Take care in choosing the people with whom you're going to do business. When you're dealing with a merchant, remember that he knows much more about his business than you will ever know. It is important that you deal with an ethical merchant who will back up his product or service, not only on general principle but also because he wants to keep you as a customer.
- (2) Don't shop for price alone. This rule can mean a great deal to you, since in most commodities there is an enormous range in quality. The quality of service that individual merchants provide also varies considerably. Often additional service means additional cost, and the consumer must decide for himself whether or not it is worth it for him to pay that cost.

- (3) Read advertisements carefully. Advertising is an almost indispensable part of shopping in our complex business world. Without it, the customer would be at a loss. Advertising tells you who sells the items you want, describes or pictures them — or both — and states their prices. Furthermore, it introduces new merchandise on the market. Analyze advertising claims carefully. Be wary of such terms as "Unbelievable Savings," "Fantastic Price Reductions" and "All Items at Wholesale Price."
- (4) Learn to recognize an honest salesman. An honest salesman knows his merchandise and presents it for what it is. He will fully explain its qualities to help you decide whether or not you want it and will not try to evade your questions. He will confirm his answer to you in writing, if requested.

- (5) Be wary of "bargains." Be careful not to fall for the "something for nothing" pitch. There is no such thing as a free "gift."
- (6) Take contracts seriously. Your signature is valuable and when you put it on a contract it binds you to accept all conditions stated therein. Never sign a blank contract. It is like signing a blank check. Read everything before you sign. Take your time and be sure you understand the wording. Have all oral agreements written into the contract.
- (7) Get all guarantees and warranties in writing and read them carefully. Remember: the guarantee is only as good as the company that gives it.

Installation Held By Gardeners

Mrs. John Knox installed officers for Planters Garden Club Wednesday in the home of Mrs. J. L. Trantham.

Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales reported on the Garden Club Council meeting and also led a discussion on future projects. Program theme for 1974-75 year will be "The Pursuit of Gardening."

Officers installed were Mrs. Frank Wilson, president; Mrs. Cass Hill, first vice president; Mrs. C. A. Smauley, second vice president; Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, third vice president; Mrs. Luke Fortenberry, secretary; and Mrs. J. O. Murphy, treasurer.

The May 29 meeting will be a salad luncheon at the home of Mrs. Clinkscales, 705 W. 18th, after which the club will disband for the summer.

Many Visit In Scudday Home

FORSAN (SC) — D. D. Limbocker, Monahan's father of Mrs. O. W. Scudday, is a patient in the Veterans' Administration Hospital in Big Spring. Visiting in the Scudday home this week have been Mrs. Scudday's aunt, Mrs. Lola Payne of Chino, Calif.; Mrs. Scudday's mother, Mrs. Limbocker; and a brother, Tommy Hollaway, both of Monahan.

Others who have visited were John Suttle, Van; Phil Karen, Mexia; Buck Barnes, Bowie; and the Scudday's daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mathews, Johnny and Jerry Dee, all of Eastland.

Pretty Nutrition

A wreath of canned fruit cocktail surrounding a mound of cottage cheese makes a gay salad and a quick, nutritious one too.

Metropolitan Opera Scheduled In Dallas

The Metropolitan Opera of New York will appear in its 31st annual season at Dallas in the Music Hall at Fair Park May 16, 17 and 18.

Billed as "Grand opera at its grandest," the three-day program will feature great artists such as Joan Sutherland, Marilyn Horne, Teresa Zylis-Gara and Sherrill Milnes, and more than two score other internationally known stars.

In addition, there will be the Metropolitan Opera Chorus of 80, the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra of 100 and the Metropolitan Opera Ballet. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for the three evening performances, and 1:30 p.m. for the Saturday matinee.

Joan Sutherland performs the roles of Olympia, Giulietta, Antonia and Stella in the May 16 completely new production of "Les Contes D'Hoffmann," an opera in three acts by Jacques Offenbach.

On May 17, the new revival of Rossini's comic opera, "L'Italiana In Algeri," will feature Marilyn Horne as Isabella, and the Saturday afternoon performance of "Madame Butterfly" will have Teresa Zylis-Gara in the title role.

Climaxing the season in Dallas will be "Don Giovanni," May 18, with the title role being performed by Sherrill Milnes.

Conductors will be Richard Bonygne, Gabor Otvos, Serge Baudo and Max Rudolf.

For the first time, full-time students will be admitted to the Saturday matinee of "Madame Butterfly" at half-price rates.

The traditional Opera Ball will be held in the Crystal Terrace at the Music Hall May 17, immediately following the opera.

For further information write Dallas Grand Opera Association, State Fair Box Office at Titcher's, P. O. Box 895, Dallas, Texas, 75221. Tickets may be purchased at all Tiches Stores and at the Preston Ticket Agency.

June features at least two historical extravaganzas worth noting. Albany is the scene of "Fandangle," an outdoor entertainment spectacle dating back to 1839, on June 20, 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29. There will be a parade June 27 and nightly barbecue-cellope concerts on the courthouse lawn. Write Fandangle, Box 185, Albany, 76430 for ticket information. Albany is about 150 miles east, toward Fort Worth.

Even more famous is the "Texas" extravaganza running June 1 to August 24 in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. This is the epitome of Texas culture-inspired musical entertainment. Write "Texas", Box 268, Canyon, 79015 for ticket information.

National Music Week Plans Announced By Study Club

National Music Week, celebrated annually during the first full week of May, will be observed locally under the sponsorship of Big Spring Music Study Club. Cochairmen for the activities are Mrs. Marguerite Hyden and Mrs. Charles Beil.

Monday's events will be directed by Mrs. Jack Bowers who will present a girls' sextet at 4 p.m., at Big Spring Nursing Inn. Appearing at the Tuesday Rotary Club luncheon will be the Westside Community Center Choir directed by Mrs. Susan Dawes.

At 8 p.m., Tuesday, Mary Skalicky and Harlen Thornton, pianists, will be presented in a duo-piano recital in the Howard College Auditorium. The public is invited to attend, and there is no charge. The recital is jointly sponsored by the Big Spring Music Study Club and the college's Department of Fine Arts.

Mrs. Skalicky is completing her sixth year as a faculty member of Howard College at Big Spring where she heads the Department of Fine Arts and teaches several music courses. Thornton teaches in the music division of the college and serves as staff accompanist. Previously, he taught French on the college level for a number of years.

Mrs. Skalicky and Thornton have played duopianos for the past two years. During "Festival '73" at Howard College, they presented a full-length recital; and in March 1974, they played on the annual "Spring Matinee" program, sponsored by the Midland Woman's Club. Both have adjudicated music festivals

"Male" Call?

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please don't laugh at me, but I am a middle-aged housewife and the high point of my day is when the mail carrier comes. He's a cheerful, pleasant man with a wonderful personality, and seems to go out of his way to do things for me. If I don't have stamps, he sells me some. Or if I haven't quite finished writing a letter, he will stop back later to pick it up.

I've invited him in for coffee and we always seem to have a lot to say to each other. He's married, too. So far it's just an innocent flirtation, you might say. Now I feel things may get out of control, and I may be getting more involved than what's good for me because I find myself looking forward to his daily visits.

Perhaps your male readers can tell me what a man means when he winks at a lady.

LITTLE WHITE HOUSE DEAR LITTLE: Each man will have to interpret his own wink, but if I were you, I wouldn't ask him. (Maybe he has a nervous twitch?)

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to be married to a divorced man who has grown children. We are both over 40. This will be my first marriage.

The problem: He still wears his wedding band. I once asked him why, and he said because he has gained so much weight he can't get it off. I know it's true because he let me try to twist it off and I couldn't. Maybe I'm childish, but I don't like to see that wedding ring on his finger. Would I be out of line to ask him to get rid of it even if he has to have a mechanic file it off?

RING PROBLEM DEAR PROBLEM: Ask you fiance to have a jeweler (not a mechanic) remove the ring. You would not be out of line to request it. He'd be out of line to refuse.

DEAR ABBY: I am only 22, and my folks are pushing 50, so I won't have to worry about this for a few years yet, but I would like to pass this poem along for those older parents. (It was taped to my mother's bathroom mirror.)

Also I want my parents to know that when they get old they can depend on me to be understanding and patient.

CARL M. "FOR FRIENDS OF THE AGED"

Blessed are they who understand my faltering step and palsied hand.

Blessed are they who know that my ears today must strain to catch the things they say.

Blessed are they who seem to know that my eyes are dim and my wits are slow.

Blessed are they who look away when coffee spilled at the table today.

Blessed are they with a cherry smile who stop to chat for a little while.

Blessed are they who never say 'You've told that story twice today.'

Blessed are they who know the ways to bring back memories of yesterdays.

Blessed are they who make it known that I'm loved, respected and not alone.

Blessed are they who know I'm at a loss to find the strength to carry the Cross.

Blessed are those who ease the days on my journey Home in loving ways."

Apples Best For Low Cal Snacks

Naturally sweet fruits satisfies one's appetite without upsetting one's "calorie-budget." Since a medium-size apple has about 80 calories, it's the perfect between-meals snack food. Top varieties for fresh eating are the Red and Golden Delicious apples from Washington State.

$$$$ From Heaven Pelt Parched Areas Of Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — A "million dollar rain" fell over many sections of Texas during the past week, bringing needed moisture for young crops and providing planting moisture for some of the parched areas of West Texas.

Although the rains were general, many counties will benefit, said Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Moisture came at a critical time in western areas where farmers were waiting on moisture to plant. Even the drought-stricken areas of Far West Texas received some moisture, first since last fall.

PEANUTS
Planting of sorghum and cotton should get into full swing in the High and Rolling Plains and West Texas, said Hutchison. Some early plantings are in.

Planting of sorghum, cotton, corn, rice and peanuts continued in other sections of the state before the rains came and only slight delays are expected in completing planting.

In fact, most of the corn and sorghum acreage has been first cutting, which should start as soon as dry weather returns.

GOOD PROGRESS
Home vegetable gardens are making good progress over Texas, and the rains should boost growth, said Hutchison. Some commercial vegetables are being harvested along the coast and in the Rio Grande Valley and San Antonio-Winter Garden area.

The recent moisture should boost pasture and range conditions so that livestock will have some forage, especially in western areas.

District Extension agents reported the following conditions.

SOUTH PLAINS: Light to heavy rains fell over portions of the area and will allow planting of dryland crops to increase. The rain will also help the wheat crop which is heading. Some preplant irrigation continues. Carrots and potatoes are coming up to good stands. Pastures and ranges should improve with the rains although much more is needed.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was a love feast for Groucho Marx, and nobody had a better time than Groucho.

He sang old songs and heard tributes.

More than 200 entertainment figures came to the party, paying homage to the 83-year-old comedian.

Arranging the Wednesday night event at the Hillcrest Country Club were comedian Bill Cosby; actor Jack Nicholson, who almost never appears on the Hollywood social scene; and Marvin Hamslich, who became an instant celebrity with three Oscars for his music in "The Sting" and "The Way We Were."

Groucho received an honorary Oscar at the award ceremonies last month.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge Friday dismissed on technical grounds a perjury indictment against Texas lawyer Jake Jacobsen, who was accused of lying when he cleared former Treasurer Secretary John B. Connally of taking $10,000 from a giant dairy cooperative.

Jacobsen, admitted that he had intended to give the money to Connally for political purposes after Connally helped Jacobsen's client, Associated Milk Producers Inc., in getting federal milk prices increased in 1971. But he swore that Connally refused the money and that it lay untouched in a Texas bank vault for 2½ years.

A Watergate grand jury indicted Jacobsen for lying, but Friday U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. dismissed the charge on grounds that, because of the wording of the testimony cited in the indictment, Jacobsen had given a literally true answer.

Assistant Special Prosecutor Sidney Glazer said a new indictment may be drawn up. Jacobsen has also been indicted by the Watergate grand jury on a perjury charge involving an alleged $10,000 transaction of funds from the Associated Milk Producers, Inc.

The lovely face of Leigh Christian is one that will seem familiar to millions of television viewers over the country.

Apart from a steady flow of guest appearances on many well-known TV series and "specials," Leigh has been seen in hundreds of commercials, selling everything from cosmetics to trading stamps.

Leigh is now concentrating her efforts on the wide screen of motion pictures, making a head start with parts in Columbia's "Love Machine" and Disney's "The World's Greatest Athlete."

Her part in "Beyond Atlantis," as the beautiful daughter of the native chieftan, is her first co-starring role.

"Beyond Atlantis" (PG) starts Wednesday at the Jet Drive-In Theatre. "Twilight People" also will be screened.

Drilling On Increase

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Twenty-seven wildcat gas wells, including 12 in the San Antonio No. 2 district, were drilled in Texas during the last two weeks of April, the railroad Commission reported Friday.

Six wildcat oil wells were drilled during that same period, including two each in the Corpus Christi and San Antonio No. 2 districts and one each in the Midland and Wichita Falls districts.

A total of 85 wildcat oil wells have been drilled this year, or 16 more than at this time a year ago.

The commission also reported 197 oil wells were completed from April 15 through April 30 for a yearly total of 1,592, or 245 more than a year ago. A total of 110 gas wells were completed for a yearly total of 909, or 147 more than a year ago.

The commission said 497 wells were plugged during the two-week period, including 108 dry holes.

Texas' average calendar day oil allowable as of May 1 was 4,020,485 barrels, a decrease of 42,752 from April 15, the commission said.

Output Of Red Meat Declines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Red meat production in the United States last year fell six per cent below the year before, final statistics released this week show.

At the same time, the value of exports of U.S. meat just to the noncommunist Far East rose by more than 200 per cent.

The value of just the beef shipped to Japan soared from $2 million worth in 1972 to $35 million last year, other reports indicated.

Domestically, in a market thrown out of kilter by a number of still-influential factors, beef production—61 per cent of the red-meat total—was down 5 per cent; pork, 6 per cent; veal, 22 per cent, and lamb and mutton, 5 per cent.

Veal and lamb-mutton each represent about 1 per cent of the market.

Two Mexicans Crushed In Train

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Two Mexicans were killed and two others injured around midnight Thursday when a load of pipe in a freight train boxcar they occupied shifted, crushing the men, authorities said.

Texas & Pacific Railroad officers said the boxcar contained several tons of galvanized steel pipe.

Justice of the Peace Hector Enriquez said five Mexicans, who had entered the U.S. illegally from Chihuahua state, were hiding in the boxcar. When the train began moving through the downtown freight yards, the pipe load shifted, killing two men and pinning two others.

It took workmen about four hours to free the trapped men. A fifth man was uninjured.

News Media Suffering 'Contant Battering'

NEW YORK (AP) — The news media are suffering a "constant battering" of their credibility, according to the National News Council. It reported receiving 160 complaints in eight months.

The council was founded Aug. 1, 1973, to investigate complaints of inaccuracy or unfairness in print or broadcast news. Its members include representatives of the media, government, law and education.

VICIOUS COVERAGE
After weeding out most of the charges as too broad or unfounded, the council said Thursday it has under study 13 complaints on topics ranging from coverage of Vietnam and the oil crisis to a report that carrot juice can be fatal.

"Criticism of the media has succeeded in creating in large segments of the public mind a feeling that media performance is irresponsible," William B. Arthur, executive director of the council, said. "And the success of such criticism is creating an atmosphere in which repression of the media is becoming a harsh reality."

Pending before the panel are: —President Nixon's accusation last Oct. 26 that television networks give "vicious, distorted coverage of the administration." The council said the White House has since declined to document the charge.

—A complaint by Mobil Oil Corp. against an ABC-TV special program last March on the oil crisis. The council report said particulars were being prepared.

—A request by Rep. John Ashbrook, R-Ohio, that the council follow up a complaint of the U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, Graham Martin, that an article distributed in February by the New York Times News Service was propaganda that contained inaccuracies and half truths.

MISLEADING STORY
—A charge by Accuracy in Media, another media watchdog, that Newsweek magazine erred when it said 2,796 bodies were processed by the morgue in Santiago, Chile, in the weeks following the military overthrow last September of the leftist Salvador Allende government.

—Another Accuracy in Media complaint that the New York Times ran a misleading story Feb. 22 on possible lasting effects of herbicides the United States used in Vietnam.

—A charge that NBC-TV erroneously reported that local federal workers got the day off to see the President when he visited Huntsville, Ala., on "Honor America Day" last Feb. 18.

The council said it found NBC was wrong about the day off and asked the network what action it has taken. It dismissed as within NBC's editorial discretion a charge that the network attempted to deflate the positive aspects of Nixon's Huntsville trip by making the following item on the broadcast a call for Nixon's impeachment by labor leader George Meany.

tem's announcement of a "Black College All-American Football Team for 1973" was simply a promotional effort of Mutual and the Chevrolet Division of General Motors.

And a New Jersey man, C.T. Budny of Woodbury, complained that a French news agency story in the Philadelphia Inquirer said a man died of drinking too much carrot juice. Budny wrote: "I have been drinking one, two or three or even as much as four quarts of carrot juice at times daily and I have never had any but beneficial health."

CARROT JUICE
Another complaint was that the Mutual Broadcasting Sys-
