Gov. Wendell Ford of Kentucky; Albert; Democratic National Committee Chairman Robert Strauss; Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass.; and Senate Majority leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Picket Lines May Vanish In Alamo City

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Contract agreements with two more construction unions here were expected today, although pickets from the largest striking union are still not placated. Spokesmen for the Associated General Contractors said Monday they anticipated agreement today with unions representing bricklayers and tile setters.

Agreements were reached last week between the AGS and unions representing ironworkers, carpenters, cement masons and operating engineers.

But most major construction jobs are still blocked by pickets from Local 93 of the Laborers International Union of North America, largest of the six unions in the two-week strike.

The World At - A - Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee is moving ahead with its intensive review of impeachment evidence while the White House says "there isn't any chance" President Nixon will leave office voluntarily. The Judiciary Committee is meeting to continue hearing evidence against Nixon. But at the White House, Caspar Weinberger, secretary of health, education and welfare, told newsmen the President assured him there is no chance he would resign.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House report concluding $17 million in federal funds has been spent in connection with President Nixon's homes — has broad support of Republicans who say security spending has gotten out of hand. Several Republicans said they expected the report to get overwhelming approval of the House Government Operations Committee, not as criticism of Nixon but of wasteful security spending. The report proposed to the committee recommends the government take action to recover "any improper expenditures."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate vote is at hand over how to distribute federal education aid to the nation's school districts, one of the most disputed sections of the $23 billion education bill. At issue is about $1 billion distributed annually to school systems under Title I of the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act. This money is intended to improve educational opportunities for disadvantaged children.

DETROIT (AP) — The price of General Motors vehicles is going up another $105, and the auto giant says it expects a substantial price increase for the 1975 model run. GM said the hike brings the total price increase on the firm's average car or truck to $394 since the 1974 model year began last September. The base price of the Chevrolet Vega, GM's hot-selling subcompact, was $2,237 last fall and $2,350 until this week. Now it will jump to $2,505, up $125 or 5.25 per cent. The price hike was just over one per cent on all other models, for an over-all average of 1.9 per cent. The new prices take effect on cars shipped beginning Wednesday.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Twenty-four young people who want to "exist Jewishly" on a traditionally radical campus are experimenting with Israeli-style living at the Kibbutz Langdon, nestled away in an old sorority house near the University of Wisconsin.

KNOWS PEOPLE Madame Candidate For Office

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "I probably know people better than most of the people who are seeking public office," says Beverly Harrell. She claims she's the only active madam ever to seek elective office.

Mrs. Harrell, who owns the Cottontail "ranch," a legal brothel 156 miles north of Las Vegas, announced Monday she would seek the Democratic nomination for State Assembly in a three-county district in west central Nevada.

SHE IS READY
"I am ready for the legislature. I hope the legislature is ready for me," the petite redhead told a news conference. She said "40 sounds good" for her age.

She said she wanted to make clear her brothel was legal so people would not think she was "a shady character operating at the whim of paid-off public officials" but rather "a businesswoman who has lived and paid taxes in Nevada for seven years."

Mrs. Harrell said she would like to see the question of legalizing prostitution in Nevada's two largest counties — where Las Vegas and Reno are located — placed on the November ballot. Current state law allows prostitution on a county option basis in all but Clark and Washoe counties. "I feel that the people of the state of Nevada are very broad-minded people," Mrs. Harrell said. "I think prostitution is on the same par as gambling. I think it should be legal."

'Killer' Shot To Death

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — A former Dallas convict charged with murder in the death of a prominent Houston plastic surgeon was shot to death by a police sergeant today in a cafe.

The former convict, Bobby Wayne Vandiver, 36, was indicted in 1973 on a charge of murder in the death of Dr. John Hill, 41, who was shot to death Sept. 24, 1972 as he entered his home in Houston's fashionable River Oaks section.

Hill earlier had been charged with bringing about the death of his first wife, Houston socialite Joan Robinson Hill, on March 19, 1969 by not providing proper medical care. Hill's trial ended with a mistrial.

Indicted with Vandiver in Hill's death was Marcia McKittick, 23, also of Dallas, now serving a two-year Dallas sentence for passing a hot check. Vandiver had been free under a $15,000 bond that was forfeited April 15 when he failed to report for trial in Houston.

Police records list Vandiver as having been convicted on charges of burglary, possession of burglary tools, and possession of narcotics.

Police Chief Roy Stone and Assist. Dist. Atty. Alvin Khour gave this account of today's shooting:

Sgt. John Raymer received information that a man at Charlotte's Grill had a gun and that the man said he was going to rob a Longview man. The man's name was not revealed.

GOP Chiefs Applaud Call For Support

AUSTIN (AP) — National Republican Committee man Fred Agnich said today that President Nixon should not resign and if he were to do so it could destroy the political system.

Agnich told the State Republican Executive Committee that resignation could open the door to future presidents, unpopular at the moment, being handed from office.

"I don't think President Nixon is guilty of any impeachable offense," Agnich said.

But in view of the questions arising from Watergate, impeachment proceedings—not resignation—is still the way to go," Agnich said.

Agnich's call for support of Nixon and for the president not to resign was warmly applauded by the Republican leaders present to canvass returns from the May 4 GOP primary election.

Forsan School Tax Rate Is Reduced 30 Cents

FORSAN — Increased oil prices will be reflected on the Forsan school district tax roll, and residents will be paying on a lower tax rate, Herb D. Smith, superintendent of the school district, said.

The tax rate was $1.85 per hundred dollars of valuation. It will be $1.55. The ratio of assessment will remain at 60 per cent of true market value.

OIL VALUES UP
Making this possible was a tax roll which grew from $30,113,000 assessed valuation to $42,500,000 because of higher oil values, Smith said.

The tax roll, which is 60 per cent of true market values totaled, could be changed slightly by action of the board of equalization.

The board of equalization will consider land, personal and oil values Monday at 2:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Serving on the board of equalization will be R. V. Fryar, Joe Fank Knapp and Homer Thorp. Oliver (Bud) Nichols Jr. is the alternate.

MEALS COST MORE
At the school board meeting Monday night, cafeteria meal prices were increased 10 cents for children and 15 cents for adults. Next fall, children will pay 50 cents; adults, 75 cents.

Smith was authorized to take bids on two new tennis courts and repairs to the surface of two existing courts.

Trustees voted to participate in the West Texas Educational Media Services, which provides visual aids and consultants. This will cost about $400. Participating in the services grazing, reporting, master file and testing system will run another $280.

TEACHER APPROVED
Other business included: Approving Linda J. Harp as a junior high and high school history and English teacher.

Reviewing the new minimum wage law and determining that all auxiliary employees all get the minimum wage or more.

Hearing board members Tom Yeats and Ham Elrod and superintendent Smith report on a Lubbock school board workshop. Nichols, former president of the board, told about the national school board convention in Houston April 6-9.

Ballot Count Is Changed But Outcome Unaltered

"I don't think there was any doubt, but that they got it right," M. Fern Cox, incumbent district clerk, said of a recount which gave his opponent again a one-vote edge in the Democratic Primary.

Canvassing put Peggy Crittenden ahead of Cox 2,420 to 2,419. The recount completed Monday afternoon gave each candidate six more votes, leaving the one-vote margin unchanged.

Cox had not decided whether to challenge the primary results in district court. Contesting through district court could be consistent with his comment about the recount.

If contested in district court, the stub boxes could be opened in order to determine facts like who voted where.

With several voting box changes before the Democratic Primary, the possibility one or more voter cast his ballot at the wrong box exists.

Joins Planes Court Fight

DALLAS (AP) — Jetstream Inc., a Waco-based commuter airline that wants to fly between Love Field, Tulsa and Oklahoma City, has joined Southwest Airlines' court fight.

U.S. Dist. Judge William Taylor okayed the airline's request to join the Southwest Suit as an intervenor. Southwest is challenging the right of the city of Dallas to squeeze flights out of Love Field in favor of the new Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Braniff International Airlines and Apollo Airlines, which also plans to operate a taxi service from Dallas to the Oklahoma cities, also have joined the suit as intervenors.

HOSPITAL VIGIL — Close relatives of Lenny Macchiarella, 16, dying of a kidney ailment, keep vigil in University of California Medical Center hospital in San Francisco. The youth, who lapsed into a coma, wants to see his father. However, the boy's father, Phillip Macchiarella, 30, may not be released in time from Soledad Prison where he is serving five to life for a dangerous drugs conviction. From left, Macchiarella's wife, Rita; the boy's uncle, Lenny, and Lenny's wife, Judi.

Businessmen Told How To Stop That Dollar Leakage

There's a leakage of "discretionary dollars" in Big Spring, and Louis W. Capone told a group of some 50 businessmen Monday how they can do something about it.

"You have it going for you here," he told the group assembled for a sales seminar at Coker's, "but you have to get excited and do something about it."

Based on his years as a salesman, advertising director, and consultant, Capone has distilled his findings into what he calls "Magic Management Insights," a list of do's and a few don'ts for merchandisers.

Unashamedly enthusiastic about his chosen country (Capone was born in Italy during the days of Mussolini), he admonished: "Enthusiasm is contagious, so is indifference. We still have the greatest country in the world."

He pinpointed techniques and philosophies of the confident successful business man and his neighboring competitor who sings the blues.

"There's no telling what Big Spring can become if you get everybody enthusiastic about it and working for it," he said. "But it's a team effort. No business is an island. What benefits your city benefits you and your business. But the loss of one business, no matter how small, diminishes all."

Capone urged businessmen to study and know their markets and then to concentrate within that frame work.

"You can whip even the biggies in your own league," he said. "You know more about it." This takes training and inspiring personnel, keeping a adequate records, setting specific goals week by week, imagination in promotions, constantly stressing personal satisfaction ("don't sell anything you won't personally guarantee").

SECOND SEMINAR
Staff members are not clerks, he reminded, but sales people. They must know their stock and products, sell in multiples, and never misrepresent. They likely will need occasional refreshers, he said. Above all, they need to be taken into management's plans and accomplishments. Finally, communications between the boss and sales force must be clear, for "your people are an extension of you."

A second seminar for employers and their key employees has been set for June 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Settles Hotel on the eve of the kickoff of an eight-week "Buy in Big Spring" campaign. It will be another staccato session concentrating on "How to Win Customers and Increase Sales."

Capone's background includes reporting for newspapers, advertising and public relations in New York prior to 1950 when he came to Texas and later opened a public relations firm in El Paso. Subsequently, he sold the agency to concentrate with newspapers for local promotion of community businesses in Missouri, Wisconsin, and since 1972, exclusively in Texas.

Law On Wiretapping Violated, Court Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some major criminal prosecutions are in danger because former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell failed to follow the law on wiretap authorization. However, the Justice Department says it cannot identify the threatened 626 prosecutions.

The Supreme Court ruled unanimously Monday that evidence obtained by the illegally authorized wiretaps is inadmissible.

The department, in a court filing, gave the figure of 626 prosecutions involving organized crime and narcotics cases.

However, spokesman Bob Stevenson said after the Supreme Court decision that the department only compiled that number and does not know which cases they represent.

"We don't have the cases broken up. We'll have to canvass the U.S. attorneys," Stevenson said.

However, another Justice Department source, when asked whether any major cases would be thrown out as a result of the decision, responded, "Oh, yes. Definitely."

Another spokesman said the decision does not necessarily mean that all 626 prosecutions will be lost "It may be that only some counts against an individual resulted from the wiretaps. The evidence for the other counts could still stand," said Horace S. Webb.

The high court said the department failed to follow a 1968 law stipulating that the attorney general or a designated assistant attorney general must authorize a wiretap request to a federal judge.

'I WANT TO SEE MY DAD'

Death Wish Granted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Soledad Prison administration relented early today and permitted a convict serving heavy sentences on drug charges to leave prison to visit his dying son in a hospital.

Leonard Macchiarella's last wish before he lapsed into a coma was to see his father.

'WHERE'S MY DAD?'
"Where's my Dad? Where's my Dad? I want to see my Dad," the 16-year-old youth pleaded.

Flanked by two guards, Phillip Macchiarella, 35, was taken to University of California Medical Center to see his son, in the last stages of a fatal kidney disease.

Earlier, the California Department of Corrections had said it was impossible to allow Macchiarella to leave prison because of his serious criminal record, but Soledad Superintendent W.T. Stone relented.

"He heard from the boy's doctor Monday," said Associate Warden E.A. Peterson. "The prognosis was that he couldn't live more than 36 hours."

FIVE TO LIFE
Peterson said Macchiarella would be allowed out "just long enough to see his son, and perhaps his family," then he would be returned behind bars.

The elder Macchiarella is serving five years to life for possession of hard drugs, and a six-month to 10-year term for possession of marijuana.

Before Stone allowed Macchiarella to see his son, a spokesman for Gov. Ronald Reagan had said the governor left all decisions in such cases up to the corrections department.

The boy is a patient at the University of California Medical Center. He is in an iron lung and attached to a kidney machine. Members of his family and friends have been keeping a vigil outside his isolation room.

Watergate Figure Denies Overtures To Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final arguments in the pretrial hearing of California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke are scheduled today as defense attorneys seek to prove he was misled by Watergate prosecutors.

ED REINECKE

Judge Barrington Parker of U.S. District Court also was to hear arguments that a Senate committee that questioned Reinecke in 1972 was "not a validly constituted body."

Reinecke testified Monday that federal prosecutors who brought a three-count perjury indictment against him had "certainly implied" they would not do so if he cooperated in their investigation.

The lieutenant governor's attorneys are asking the judge to dismiss the indictment or, barring that, to shift the trial to California.

Reinecke, 53, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in the June 4 California primary.

He said he first met last July 30 with Joseph J. Connolly, the assistant Watergate prosecutor in charge of a task force investigating the International Telephone & Telegraph Co. (ITT) case.

"About two thirds of the way through (the conversation), Mr. Connolly indicated I was holding something back, and he suggested that, quote, if I have an excellent memory, unquote, my posture in the prosecutor's office would be improved," said Reinecke.

Reinecke said the "attitude all along" at that meeting was: "The truth shall make you free."

Reinecke was indicted April 3 on charges that he lied to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

about some details of his role in trying to arrange for the 1972 Republican National Convention to be held in San Diego.

DENIALS, DENIALS
That committee looked into allegations that a favorable settlement of an antitrust suit against ITT was linked to a $400,000 pledge from the Sheraton Corp., an ITT subsidiary, to help underwrite a San Diego convention.

Watergate assistant prosecutor Connolly repeatedly denied discussing a "quid pro quo" for Reinecke's cooperation.

He said he specifically told Reinecke then-attorney Frank Pagliaro of Redwood City, Calif., that he, lieutenant governor could be indicted.

Reinecke said the "attitude all along" at that meeting was: "The truth shall make you free."

Reinecke was indicted April 3 on charges that he lied to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

IUOE'S Agent Clarifies Job Discussions

Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. Inc., does not have a formal summer employment program for students, Kenneth Howell, business manager of the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 826, said.

While the refinery does hire temporary workers at a regular starting pay during the summer months, and some of these may be students, Howell today said there is no specific program there for college students.

Howell made this clarification today because of a statement appearing in the county Commissioners Court story of the Herald Monday.

Local 826 has members employed by the county road and bridge department, Cosden and other local firms. Howell appeared Monday to represent a worker and to talk about pay scales for summer youth workers.

Increased Water Rate Is Recommended For Cosden

By MARI CARPENTER

Approval of a priority list for submitting to the Texas Highway Department to be placed under the federal aid-urban system was among the highlights at this morning's city council meeting.

Listed in first priority is 11th Place from State FM 700 to Abrams and the city was authorized to proceed in obtaining all needed right-of-ways.

Second on the list is 11th Place from Abrams to Gregg, third is overlay on Scurry Street from 4th to 15th, fourth is Birdwell Land from IS 20 to 3rd and fifth is 11th Place from Gregg to Sheppard's Lane.

Some of the more important items came at the end of the meeting during the city managers report. The manager recommended that the raw water rate with Cosden be changed to fit CRMWD contracts with a 25 cent minimum per 1,000 gallons plus a one cent markup.

FEDERAL GRANT
The council also discussed the receiving of the federal grant for half of the payment for the Roy Anderson baseball complex. The group discussed approaching the Dora Roberts Foundation, who are usually concerned with youth projects in connection with the other portion of the complex.

The manager told the council that they plan to close nine holes of the city golf course from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Tuesday and the other nine holes from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday. This was so they would be able to properly water and maintain the course. The course is open seven days a week.

BIDS AWARDED
A low bid for six police cars went to Pollard Chevrolet with a low bid of $22,482.02. The other two bids from Bob Brock and Don Crawford were very close.

A bid for microfilm went to 3M for $14,400.84. An adjusted award on seal coating went to Price Construction for $37,939 to be adjusted to the $50,000 in the budget.

A claim for damages by Joe Diaz whose car was impounded when he was arrested was denied. He wanted the city to pay the fee to the wrecking yard.

Minutes were approved to the tourism committee, planning and zoning board and the traffic commission. Among the items on the tourism minutes was a discussion of rest stop holding tanks at the City Park which have now been installed and obtaining 2,500 bumper stickers advertising Big Spring. These were being distributed by the chamber here this morning.

Brochures for the city were also discussed. In the planning and zoning board minutes, the abandonment of Marguerite Subdivision located on the Andrews Highway was given final approval. They also clarified a zone for Motorcycle Sales and Services.

Traffic commission minutes urged an overall plan for the city and appointed Susan Thomas to deal with routine traffic problems without going through the commission.

TWO NAMED
R. W. Currie and Dr. Lee O. Rogers were reappointed to the CRMWD board to represent the city. Eddie Acri questioned as to whether they had been contacted and Charles Tompkins assured the council that the two would serve.

The council granted a request for reimbursement of expenses in regard to attempting to keep Texas International Airlines. The city was granted permission to advertise for bids for portable bleachers which will be used first at the Stink Creek Ball Park.

A request from the citywide summer recreational program for $300 additional funds was approved. The council also discussed requesting the summer recreation group to request funds from the county as well.

The ordinance concerning fencing of junk yards was taken off the table and approved on second reading with a recommendation that an ordinance be drawn up on the type of fence to be used.

Other items discussed by the council following the approval of the bills was the needs for renovations in the city auditorium, needs for planned menus at the Detoxification Center and plans at the tennis center.

The council was told that the Dora Roberts Foundation may donate six additional courts. The city expressed some concern for future maintenance costs.

All councilmen were present except Harold Hall, who was out of town. Mayor Wade Choate presided, with Mrs. Mays, Acri and Tompkins attending.

Agree To Merge State's Top Two Courts Of Last Resort

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Constitutional Convention has agreed to merge the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals under a unified judicial system that does away with all courts that handle only special kinds of cases.

A final vote on the judiciary article will not come, however, until all sections have been debated.

Under the unification proposal, the 14 courts of civil appeals would have their names changed to courts of appeals and would have their jurisdiction extended to criminal cases.

"In an era of supermarkets, we are trying to operate a cracker barrel corner grocery," said Rep. DeWitt Hale, D-Corpus Christi, quoting U.S. Chief Justice Warren Burger on outdated judicial systems.

Hale, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said: "The time for timidity has passed and the time for bold and progressive action is here."

The convention rejected, 100-50, an amendment by Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, that would have preserved the divided-court system that sends civil and criminal cases to separate courts of last resort.

Only Oklahoma and Texas have this system, but Mauzy said its rarity is not a measure of worth.

"The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals is recognized as the highest and best court of criminal appeals in the Anglo-Saxon world, and I want to preserve it," Mauzy said.

The backlog of cases in the criminal appeals court could be disposed of merely by creating four intermediate criminal courts in the four largest counties, which produce 90 per cent of the criminal cases, he said.

Diabetes Group Meets Monday

The Permian Basin Diabetes Association will hold a panel discussion on "Diabetes and Medical Complications" on Monday, at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Midland Memorial Hospital. Members of the panel will include Dr. Viola M. Coleman, Dr. Ralph Greenlee, and Dr. Henry Page. Discussion will encompass all areas of complications to which diabetics are prone and preventive procedures to follow, as well as how to manage diabetes when complications are present. All interested persons are encouraged to attend.

"Producers need to keep their eyes open and submit samples of any kind of worm found in an open wound," Griffith said. Some worms have been found here, the county agent said, but none were screwworms.

"Everything laid out just right for a bad screwworm year," he said, noting the mild winter and wet weather recently.

Grass is greening up and cattle seem to be in better shape than before the wet spell, Griffith observed.

Indict Two Heads Of Business Firms Placed In Bankruptcy

DALLAS (AP) — Two Dallas executives who have placed their firms in federal bankruptcy proceedings in the past year were named in indictments returned here Monday by a state grand jury.

Indicted twice on charges of fraud and the sale of unregistered securities were Robert L. Arata, whose commodity futures firm was Arata Inc., and Joe Gebron Jr., who had headed Real-Text Enterprises Inc., a land investment company.

1,000 INVESTORS — Arata, a former engineer at Texas Instruments, had been named earlier by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) in an injunctive suit filed in federal court here. The SEC had asserted Arata had defrauded as many as 1,000 investors—many of them TI employees and executives—who may have spent as much as $10 million in commodity trading through Arata Inc.

At Meeting

Keith Swim, administrative assistant for Big Spring Schools, in charge of federal programs, was one of 15 Texas school administrators selected to attend a national conference in New Orleans, La., this week.

The meeting is to discuss a program previewing child care and development. It is conducted by the office of Human Development.

Top Registers

Lester D. and Joyce Adams, Big Spring, were among Texas' leading Shorthorn-Polled Shorthorn recorders during April according to the American Shorthorn Assn., Omaha, Neb. They recorded 12 head.

All criminal cases go directly from the trial court to the Court of Criminal Appeals under the present system, and this explains why judges on that high court wrote 210 opinions apiece in 1972, compared with 32 opinions for each Supreme Court judge, he said.

A two-step trial court system would consist of district courts and circuit courts. Municipal and justice of the peace courts would not be part of the unified judicial system.

All special district courts, such as those that handle only domestic relations cases or juvenile cases or criminal cases, would become plain district courts.

All county courts at law, and there are 62 variants of these, would become circuit courts, whose judges would have to be lawyers.

A county judge who is not a lawyer could remain as the presiding officer of the commissioner's court. If he is a lawyer, he would have the option of becoming a circuit court judge.

New Mexico Will Have New Port Of Entry This Year?

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico will have a new port of entry with Mexico by late this year, according to state planning officer David King.

King told a Las Cruces meeting of the state's Anapra Task Force Monday the final location of the planned Dona Ana County port has been chosen. And he announced a series of meetings in Mexico City, Washington, D.C., and San Francisco in coming weeks to speed the project, which will require congressional approval.

RED TAPE — He said it ultimately should become one of the major ports of entry along the U.S.-Mexico border.

Officials of the Mexican state of Chihuahua outlined new plans that include a 300-acre industrial center to cut through the red tape involved in moving American equipment, raw materials and finished products into Mexico.

King said the permanent port will be about half a mile west of a previously announced site, which was closer to the border town of Anapra, N.M. The new site, southwest of the Sunland Park race track, will be near the unincorporated community of Meadow Vista.

DEADLINE — King said the change was made at the request of the U.S. General Services Administration and the state Highway Department to accommodate "engineering and space requirements of road construction and port facilities."

A deadline for establishing the permanent port has not been set, but King said a temporary port of entry planned just east of the permanent site should be open by mid-September.

John Waller of the Highway Department said a county road leads to the temporary site. He said the department plans to finish paving the dirt road by September.

THIRTY-DAY WEATHER OUTLOOK — The nation's 30-day precipitation and temperature outlooks from mid-May to mid-June are shown as reported by the National Weather Service.

Safety And Speed

Information continues to come in which substantiates a long-held belief among safety experts that the nation's highway death toll relates directly to vehicle speed.

The National Safety Council reported last week that traffic deaths dropped 25 per cent in March, marking the third consecutive month of such decreases since highway speed limits were lowered to 55 miles per hour. The March death toll was about 3,200 persons compared with 4,320 in March 1973.

"We think that lower driving speeds have been an important factor in this reduction," said Vincent Tofany, council president. "We hope that government authorities will examine these factors carefully before any moves are made to raise the speed limits."

The council noted in its reports that the number of disabling injuries also was lower by about 100,000, down from 420,000 for the first three months of 1973 to 320,000 during the first quarter in 1974.

In spite of the decrease in deaths, which could amount to a saving of 14,000 lives this year if the trend continues, there already are moves to push the speed limit back up to the pre-gasoline shortage rates. Some truckers' associations have fought the reduced speed since its inception, basing their arguments on economic considerations.

Motorists also have been slow in adapting their driving habits to the reduced maximum speed, but that was to be expected. Driving habits become almost as automatic as breathing for most people. But habits can be changed.

Safety expert claimed that motorists have four times as great a chance of surviving a crash at 50 miles per hour as they do at 70.

The experiences of the past three months seem to prove that speed does indeed kill.

In view of the National Safety Council's latest report, it is reasonable to expect a thorough evaluation by both federal and state agencies of the safety issue.

It takes 8 hours to drive 400 miles at 50 mph, and 5.7 hours to drive the same distance at 70 mph. Is the 2.3 hours saving in time worth four times the risk of death? That's really all the question boils down to.

Commentators Lose A Round

A pair of broadcast commentators lost a round in their fight against compulsory union membership before the U.S. Court of Appeals in New York.

William F. Buckley Jr. and M. Stanton Evans had charged in a suit that their rights of free speech were violated because they were required to pay dues to the American Federation of Radio and Television Artists (AFTRA) in order to go on the air. Buckley, a leading conservative spokesman, joined AFTRA under protest and Evans, also a conservative, joined under orders from his producer.

The Appeals Court ruling overturned a decision by a U.S. District Court that the commentators did not have to pay dues to the union.

In its decision, the Court of Appeals said Buckley and Evans could resign from the union and, if they were then fired, could seek a court injunction against the dismissals.

That must be some updated version of the American right to choose — get fired and hope the courts will reinstate you. Now that's some tortured legal logic for you, but it all still adds up to compulsion.

Rewarding Day

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

Mother's Day came and went with many poems and greeting cards floating around.

But the poem that impressed me most was on the back of a Baptist Standard and instead of praising mothers, it stressed the importance of early religious training for their children.

THIS MAY seem out of character for a hardened news reporter, but early religious training is something I feel very strongly about.

I'm Presbyterian, not Baptist, but the denomination makes no difference. Some Catholic sisters will tell you that "Anything taught to a child before he is six will stay with him all his life."

My Grandmother taught a nursery class 15 years, my mother taught one 18 years and I taught one 17 years. We also all three took a stint at working with a youth group. I did that 18 years, simultaneously with working with the nursery. It's hard to say which was most important, or most rewarding.

But I remember one nursery lesson with particular joy. The lesson was on "God makes everything, even the tiny little insects" and we had pictures of butterflies, ants and caterpillars to show.

THE LESSON began with a discussion of the ants. "I have an aunt," says James David. "Yes, I agree, but not this kind of ant." "We kill those kind of ants. They bite," Kevin stated firmly.

I decided to skip the ants and get to the butterflies. "We can't buy butter. We eat oleo," Russell announces. I finally, through pictures, got back to the butterflies. "They come from caterpillars," I relate.

"My Daddy's caterpillar is stuck in the ditch," relates Suzie, the daughter of the farmer who was clearing land. "I didn't get to ride on it."

I decided to switch to beetles. "Have you ever held a tiny ladybird beetle in your hand?" "Ladybird is the president's wife," states Reese, the county chairman's son.

"THERE ARE OTHER kinds of beetles," I add desperately. "Oh yes," says Deborah Neil. "My sister has all their records."

At that point, I gave up and closed the lesson with "Let's sing." Any work done with youth — whether your children or someone else's children is worth the time. I had wonderful messages from five other than my own three on Mother's Day.

Incidentally, Cathy, who worked around Big Spring six weeks this spring, called from London and reports that she is working for Reader's Digest condensed books and sends special greetings to her friends at Howard College, the county clerk's office and the KC Steak House.

A lot of people call Mother's Day simply a commercial effort, but I don't know about that. Mother's Day is rather rewarding. Maybe they mean Father's Day.

Too Much

William F. Buckley Jr.

Is there no limit to the weapons Richard Nixon is prepared to use to defend himself? He began by telling us that the tapes would speak for themselves and would fully exonerate him. A week later he has propped up a Jesuit theologian to pronounce the tapes as fine examples of Christian morality and to describe their principal author as the embodiment of Christian virtue and high statesmanship.

HERE IS what I would like someone please to explain to me. Why is Mr. Nixon's judgment so awry these days? I write within minutes of reading the remarks of the Rev. John McLaughlin, Jesuit priest and Presidential aide, and I — who ran for public office only once, and achieved 13 per cent of the vote — know as certainly as the sun will rise tomorrow that this venture will bring yet further discredit to President Nixon — and discredit to Father McLaughlin. And, I might add, should do so, even as we dishonor those tame priests who have been trotted out in history by emperors and princes to baptize their grimy deeds.

MR. NIXON will succeed in arousing the anger of many who care deeply that we should not trifle with men of God, and who will recall that Mr. Nixon has at least a passive weakness for that kind of thing. For many years, Billy Graham was always there to suggest however faintly that God is a middle-class Republican. And when Mr. Nixon went to a church service in Key Biscayne to give thanks for the cease fire in South Vietnam, he suffered himself to be described by the local pastor in terms that would have embarrassed St. John of the Cross.

The Presidential presence is said to be altogether over-awing. But Father McLaughlin is not a country preacher.

To become a Jesuit requires 13 years of hard study in the seminary. (Father McLaughlin should have taken the 14th year.) And after that, he served as an editor of the Jesuit weekly "America," which for a while was given to losing thunderbolts at any Catholic who expressed any reservation over any papal inflection given in the least encyclical.

DURING THE 60's, many Jesuits, far from toiling in the vineyards of ultramontanism, became self-consciously, not to say obstreperously, independent, the hero of the group in question being their fellow Jesuit Father Daniel Berrigan. Father McLaughlin then ran for senator from Rhode Island against John Pastore, which suggests his inclination to lost causes; and now one detects the accents of yore, the only difference being that Richard Nixon is taking the place of the Pope; in which respect, there is, once again, the old credibility gap.

FATHER MCLAUGHLIN appealed to the virtue of charity and of course he is correct — we should be guided by charity. But charity does not require the Congress of the United States and the American people to maintain Richard Nixon as President of the United States. In my judgment charity might properly have been invoked against disbarring Spiro Agnew once he was removed from the Vice Presidency; but charity has nothing to do with keeping us from giving to the transcripts of the kind of attention that Mr. Nixon asked us to give to them — from dwelling on the contradictions, remarking the selfishness of their concern, expressing a not uncosmopolitan dismay at the quality of the discourse. The only thing that charity absolutely requires is that no further analysis be made of the remarks of Father McLaughlin.

Financial Brinkmanship?

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — With the business community seemingly determined to continue borrowing money no matter what the cost, the Federal Reserve Board is being forced into an almost unprecedented situation.

In theory, rising interest rates and a relatively smaller than usual growth in the money supply are supposed to discourage borrowing. But recent surveys show that business plans to spend much more than it did in 1973.

One corporate treasurer explained: "We don't like to pay high interest rates but it has been our experience over the past five years that if we don't borrow now we'll pay more tomorrow."

The Fed, therefore, is faced with a situation that grows more critical each day: Should it continue monetary restraint and risk economic chaos? Or should it relent?

After stating he will continue restraint, Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, is being accused by some investment brokers and businessmen of financial brinkmanship.

Manown Kiser Jr., senior vice president of Paine Webber Jackson & Curtis, a large securities house, commented in the firm's newsletter:

"Surely Dr. Burns does not want to cast the economy into the abyss of a liquidity crisis and an ensuing depression. It might cure inflation, but politically and socially, the system would not survive the fall."

The alleged brinkmanship, he said, involves the basic underpinnings of the American financial structure of equity, bond and money markets, and the various financial institutions and commercial banks.

"All are inter — and intra — related, entwined and inseparable," he commented. "If one were to crack, there would be reverberations throughout."

While feeling that the Federal Reserve will ease monetary policy and that interest rates will fall sharply, Chase Economic Associates late in April felt it was important to consider the alternative.

Fulbright Demise

Robert Novak

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The reason for the probable defeat of Sen. J. W. Fulbright by Gov. Dale Bumpers in the May 28 Senate Democratic primary, an event that would propel an important new figure into national politics, can be partly explained by a whispered comment to Bumpers at a roadside restaurant.

A RETIRED METHODIST minister pledged Bumpers his vote, then confided: "But to tell the truth, Governor, I'd even vote for a colored man against Fulbright." Such incidents are commonplace, leading to his consensus: ANYBODY could beat Fulbright in Arkansas in 1974.

Thus, his defeat would stem not from the Watergate syndrome polluting Washington politicians, nor even Bumpers' unquestioned popularity. Rather, after 30 anomalous years of representing Arkansas in the Senate, the string has finally run out on the aloof and aristocratic intellectual. By pure accident, the man-taking advantage of that is not a provincial nobody but an impressive political newcomer of broad ambition and potential.

ALTHOUGH THE courthouse

cliques traditionally in control of Arkansas politics are backing Fulbright, that is no longer adequate. Poll results are staggering: Bumpers's latest figures show him more than 2-1 over the Senator. Anti-Fulbright sentiment has so hardened that only a miracle can save him.

That stems partly from a feeling here that Fulbright, who maintains no residence in Arkansas, has become distant and unapproachable as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee in Washington. "Bill's a lot smarter than the rest of us in Arkansas," says a country lawyer who formerly supported him but now backs Bumpers. "If you don't believe that, just ask him."

BEYOND PERSONALITY considerations lies a murky ideological incompatibility between Fulbright and his native state. To blue-collar workers and farmers who carried Arkansas for George Wallace in 1968, Fulbright's battle against the Vietnam war confirms their instinctive identification of him as a "liberal" and "egghead" (though, in fact, his voting record is not all that liberal on domestic issues).

Marathon Crying Verboten

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My sister has a new baby two months old, and she lets her cry 30 to 45 minutes at a time. She says that's what the book says.

I have had six, and believe me, I never let one of mine cry that much. A little seems to be enough.

A healthy baby can do a little squalling over some trivial feeling of annoyance and then forget about it. But when a baby keeps on signalling the only way it can (by crying) for 10 or 25 minutes, there's some reason for it.

As to this baby's rash. I need not be picked up and cuddled at the first whimper, but that if crying continues for 15 minutes, some checking is in order.

Personally I would start checking somewhat sooner than that, but a mother should be guided by the tone of the baby's cry — whether it sounded vaguely fretful or whether it was a real signal that something needed attention.

As to this baby's rash. I need not be picked up and cuddled at the first whimper, but that if crying continues for 15 minutes, some checking is in order. Perhaps the skin hasn't been adequately cleaned, too. Thorough cleaning and rinsing of the skin is important, not merely applying a fresh diaper of whatever kind. Also thorough drying of the skin is necessary. Some baby powder, or plain (not medicated) petroleum jelly applied to the area of the rash often helps clear up the rash.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a dozen bottles of distilled water which I purchased shortly after our last earthquake about three years ago. Shall I keep some on hand or dispose of them and replace with others? — Mrs. R. S.

Water won't spoil, so why not keep?

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

I am a teenager going to a public school. We have just started early Wednesday morning devotions. But I'm shy, and a lot of kids are teasing me. I'm afraid to talk to my preacher since we go to a huge church, and he's too busy for me. Can you help?

First, let me commend you for the vitality of your faith. Your interest in getting to school a little early in order to meet with other Christians in Bible study, reflects a seeking spirit that God will surely honor.

Perhaps one of the most difficult places to be a Christian today is on the campus of a public institution. But the encouragement and inspiration you'll get from the others each Wednesday will invigorate your own spiritual life. Paul writes in Philippians 1:14 about how one Christian helps another to be bolder in the faith. The Bible writer James says in his fifth chapter: "Look at the Lord's prophets. We know how happy they are now because they stayed true to Him then even though they suffered greatly for it." So there's also the aspect of later reward for the teasing you're getting now.

You'd be interested to know that some of the most aggressive Christians I've met admit that in earlier days they were the shy retiring type. So cheer up, God specializes in reshaping personalities — when it's for His glory. And don't cheat your pastor of the chance he's waiting for — a visit in which he can get to know you better.

A Devotion For Today . .

"I tell you the truth: whoever believes in me will do the works I do — yes, he will do even greater ones, for I am going to the Father." (John 14:12)

PRAYER: Help us, our Father, to carry on the work Jesus started, and so help make a full life for all people. In His name we pray as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen." (From the 'Upper Room')

Planned Parenthood Clinic Will Start Weekly Clinics Thursday

The first of regular weekly clinics will be held Thursday, 4 to 6 p.m. at the Planned Parenthood Clinic, Room 202, Permian Building.

Physicians and a nurse practitioner, Mrs. Mildred Ford, will be on hand to assist in operation of the clinic.

The center is open on a daily basis from 9 a.m. to 12 noon with Mrs. Marguerite Martinez, LVN, in charge, and the clinics will be each Thursday at 4-6 p.m. There is no charge for the services, although those who wish to make donations may do so.

The clinic is part of the Permian Basin Planned

Parenthood group which operates in Midland, Odessa, McCamey, Fort Stockton, Sanderson and Pecos as well as here, serving over 4,500 West Texas women.

Proceeding under the banner of "every baby a wanted baby," the center is equipped not only to counsel with those who inquire, but also to supply materials and devices to help guard against unwanted conception.

Additionally, explained Mary Ramzy, Odessa, Permian Basin executive director, the center serves as an examination and referral agency for women with special physical problems, for detected cases of VD and other things that require professional help.

All contacts with the center are on a strictly confidential basis, Mrs. Martinez stressed. Services are available to all, regardless of age or circumstances.

Another service is home visits by the nurse. Most of these will result from contacts with the center (telephone 263-6011), although the center may initiate births in follow-up on recent births by asking:

"When do you want to consider having your next baby?" Where women do not wish to discuss the matter, the interview is terminated.

'Party Boy'

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a most unusual father. He's close to 80, but looks 60, and he knows it. He never misses an opportunity to tell his age because everyone raves about how "young" he looks, and he eats it up.

Whenever Dad goes to a wedding or a party where there's music he gets carried away and thinks he's Fred Astaire. Everyone assumes he's tipsy, but all he drinks is soda pop.

He's a handsome man and a good dancer, but not good enough to put on a solo performance, which he always does. Mom died five years ago, and Dad remarried, and his wife can't control him worth a hoot.

My problem: My son is being married soon. Should I take Dad aside and ask him to please refrain from making a donkey of himself at the wedding reception? Or should I let him do his usual act and try to remain calm? All our relatives and friends know what a show-off he is but the bride's family has never seen him in action.

I love my father, but when he's on, I blush like crazy, a smile freezes on my face, and I clench my teeth until my jaws ache. What to do?

HIS DAUGHTER
DEAR DAUGHTER: An 80-year-old man who looks like 60 and thinks he's Fred Astaire (and on soda pop yet) is entitled to have a little fun. Let Dad have a good time. And — thank heavens you aren't shlep-ping chicken soup to him in a rest home every day.

DEAR ABBY: I would like a wrestling partner. Someone who would like to wrestle for fun and exercise. I am not looking to be a champion.

I am 66 years old, in good health, and would like to stay that way as long as possible. I never wrestled but that type of exercise appeals to me. Where should I look?

WANTS TO WRESTLE

DEAR WANTS: Go to the YMCA (if you're looking for a male partner — otherwise, go to the YWCA) and ask if there is a wrestler who would like to work out with you. If there is, you won't have to twist his arm.

DEAR ABBY: Here is a problem that has our whole family divided: Shirley is married to Robert. Shirley's sister is married to Charles. What are Robert and Charles to each other? I say they are brothers-in-law. Someone in the family (of which I am a member) says Charles and Robert are NOT related to each other at all.

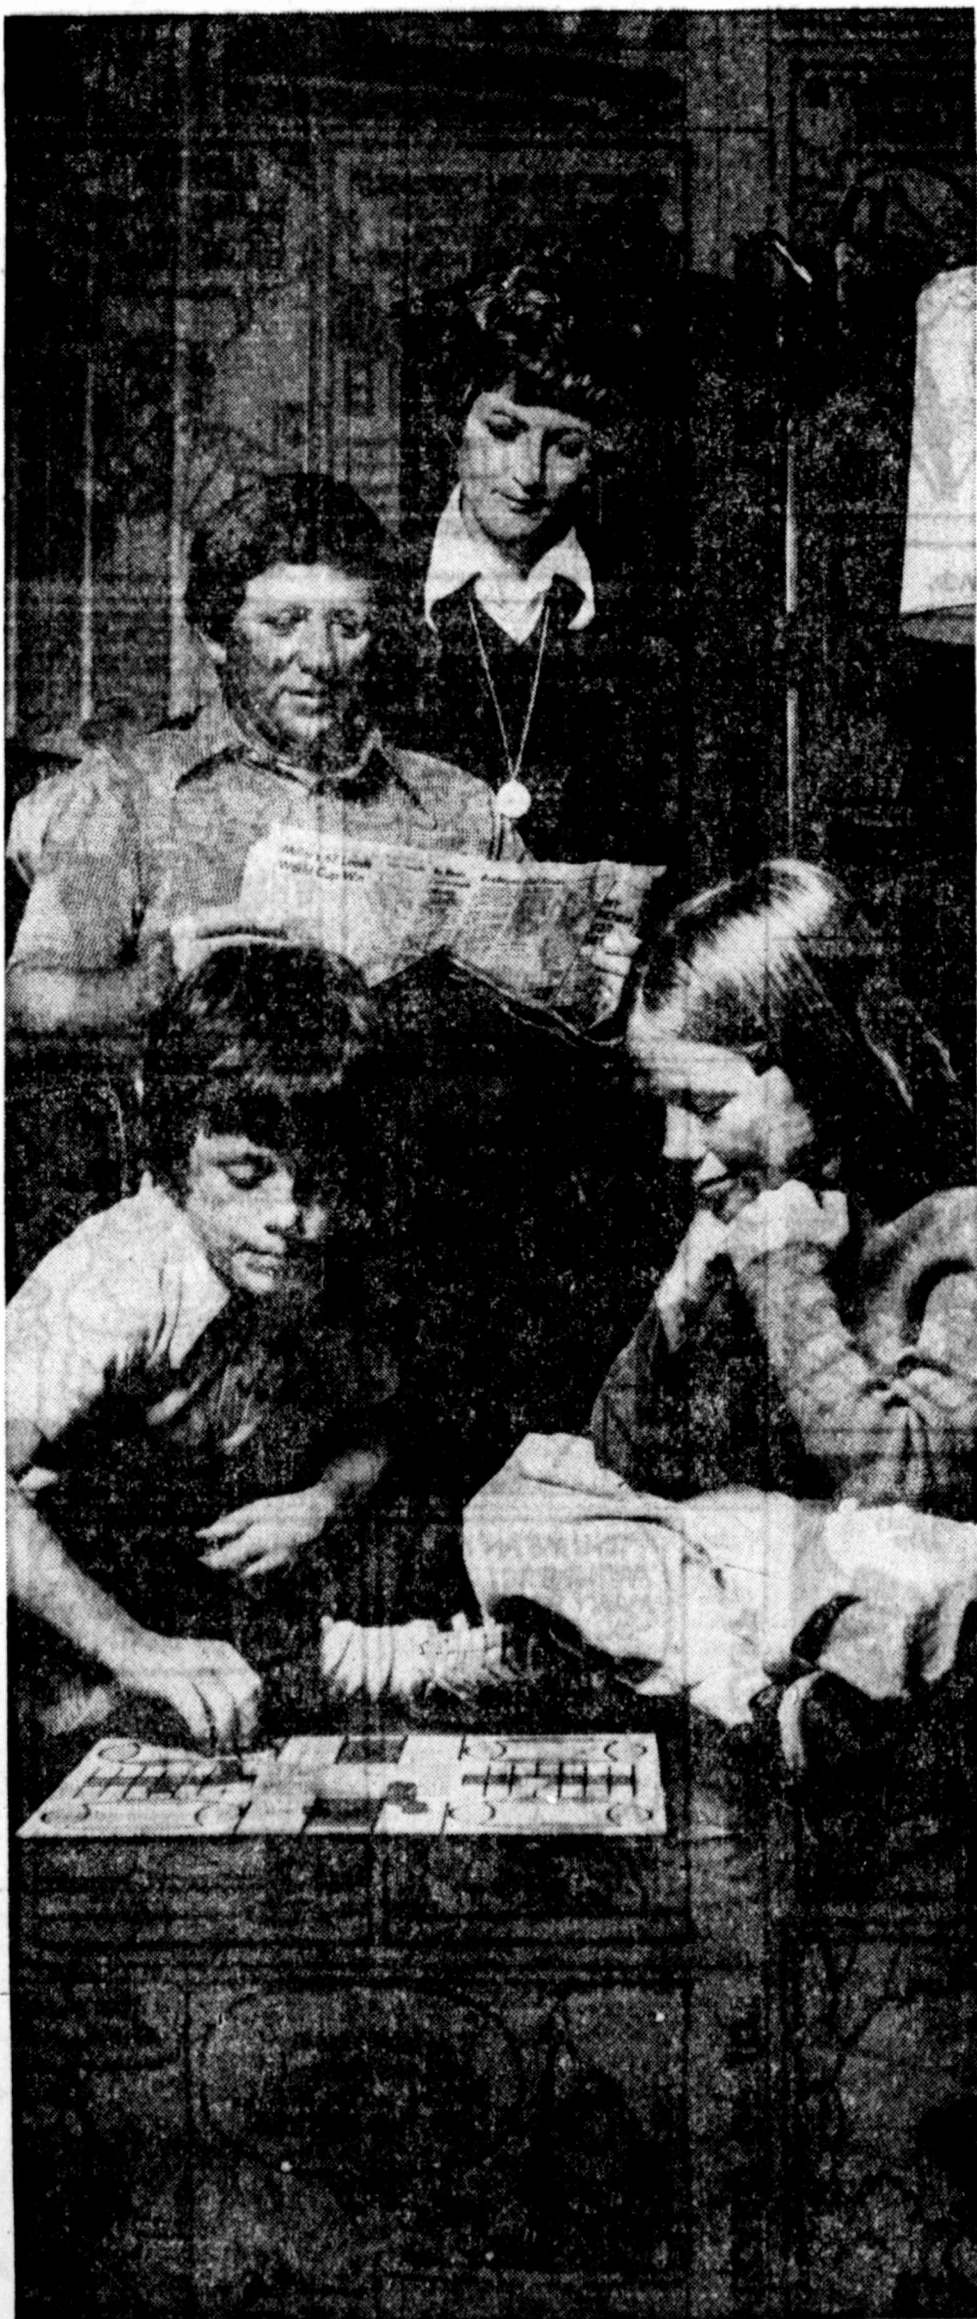

If that is true, I cannot understand why Robert's children call Charles "Uncle," and Charles' children call Robert "Uncle."

Please rush your answer as this problem has thrown a wet blanket over our family reunions for years.

ALL IN THE FAMILY
DEAR ALL: Technically, a brother-in-law is either the brother of one's wife or the husband of one's sister. However, it's customary for husbands and wives to accept their spouses' relatives by marriage as their own.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "K" WHOSE CONSCIENCE BOTHERED HER FOR SO MANY YEARS: I took care of that little matter for you, and now you are square. Pleasant dreams.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212.

Fuel diversification is important to you and your family.

But what is it?

Fuel diversification is the key to our being able to supply the electricity you'll need in the years ahead.

It means using several kinds of fuel to generate electricity. Making the best use out of the fuels available to us. And reducing our dependence on fuels in short supply.

At Texas Electric, natural gas is our major fuel, with oil used on a standby basis. We foresaw shortages of these fuels and several years ago developed long-range plans to diversify to lignite coal and nuclear fuels.

We now have one lignite plant in operation and two others under construction. A nuclear-fueled plant is planned for operation by 1980.

One advantage of using lignite and nuclear fuels is that neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity. A disadvantage is that it costs considerably more to build plants that use these fuels than gas-fired plants.

Even though it will cost more to provide electricity in the future, the cost will be less with lignite and nuclear fuels than with the alternatives available to us.

We're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

Opening lead: Three of ♠
Every picture, and every card, tells a story. South failed to draw the right inference from the opening lead, and his inattention to detail resulted in a lost game.

The auction was straightforward. At his second turn North had a choice between a jump to three clubs or three no trump. He chose the latter because of the fact that he held stoppers in every suit, and in view of the limited nature of his partner's hand, nine tricks might prove easier to make than 11.

West led the three of hearts and dummy's jack won. The king of clubs was led, and East's failure to follow was a distinct shock. The contract now proved to be unmanageable. When West won the queen of clubs he led the king of hearts, and declarer had only six top tricks. When he let the defenders in with the ace of diamonds, they cashed three heart tricks and the ace of spades for a two-trick set.

Declarer had no one but himself to blame for failing to make his game. The opening lead told the whole story of the hand, and there was no reason for South to take a wrong view of the club suit.

The three of hearts marked West with only a four-card heart suit. Since it is normal for the defenders to attack a no trump contract with their longest suit, declarer's first deduction should have been that West had no suit longer than four cards. If that were the case, then West had to hold at least one club. Thus, if either defender were void of clubs, it would have to be East.

Once this conclusion is reached, it is a simple matter to start the clubs by leading low from dummy. If East follows, declarer is sure the suit will break 2-1, and so produce five tricks. When East shows out, declarer wins the ace and takes the marked finesse for West's queen, and still has time to knock out the ace of diamonds. In due course he will come to nine tricks via two hearts, two diamonds and five clubs.

Lubbock Team Wins Tourney

Yellowjacket Women from Lubbock won first in the Pony Express tournament held by the Howard County Sheriff's Posse Saturday night.

Second went to the Sweetwater Blues and third to the Big Spring Soapers, two male teams.

With first went a team trophy and horse halters for each team member. The second and third place teams won trophies.

A total of eight teams competed in the tourney. Others included the District IV girls from Big Spring, Sweetwater and Snyder; San Angelo Saddle Club; San Angelo Women; Lubbock Pony Express and a third Lubbock team.

Vic Cornett and Ned Clement, Lamesa, judged the tourney.

The event drew between 200 to 300 spectators to the Posse arena on the Andrews highway.

Receive Degrees

Among the recipients for degrees at the Spring commencement exercises of East Texas State University in Commerce Saturday were two Big Springers.

Ben F. Johnson III received the B.A. degree and Ricky Robert Earl the BBA degree. Also from this area, was David William McBride, Lamesa, who received his MS degree.

Cops Stand Naked In Motel Lobby?

PORTSMOUTH, R.I. (AP) — A Portsmouth motel owner says a group of Boston policemen ran naked through his Ramada Inn night club and took part in a disturbance that resulted in about $1,000 damage.

Peter Stilphen said about two dozen of the 100 Boston policemen staying at the motel Friday night participated in the alleged incidents. The policemen came here to march in a police parade on Saturday.

Jean Lawler, motel manager, said she called local police twice and state police once about the matter, but no arrests were made.

A spokesman for the Boston Police Department, Frank Carpenito, said today the department is looking into the matter.

Stilphen said he is considering filing a complaint with the Boston police commissioner's office.

Mrs. Lawler claimed at least half a dozen policemen stripped at the side of the motel's swimming pool within sight of the night club audience and jumped in. Other police ran naked through the night club, with some mounting the stage and others jumping on tables, Mrs. Lawler and Stilphen charged.

Three or four naked policemen also came in and stood in the motel lobby at the front desk, Mrs. Lawler said. "That's not streaking, that's indecent exposure," she said.

Mrs. Lawler claimed that some of the police arrived at the motel that afternoon drunk and continued drinking through the night.

Pictures and other motel property were tossed out of second story windows and firecrackers were set off in hallways, Stilphen said.

Insulation was ripped from the ceilings and a security camera was torn from its stand, Mrs. Lawler said. A liquor cabinet in the night club was broken and some liquor was stolen, she added.

VA Radiologist Gets DP Award

Dr. Jaun Angel del Regato, internationally known cancer specialist of the Penrose Cancer Hospital, Colorado Springs, Colo., has been named a Distinguished Physician by the Veterans Administration. He also will serve as professor of radiology at the University of South Florida College of Medicine, Tampa.

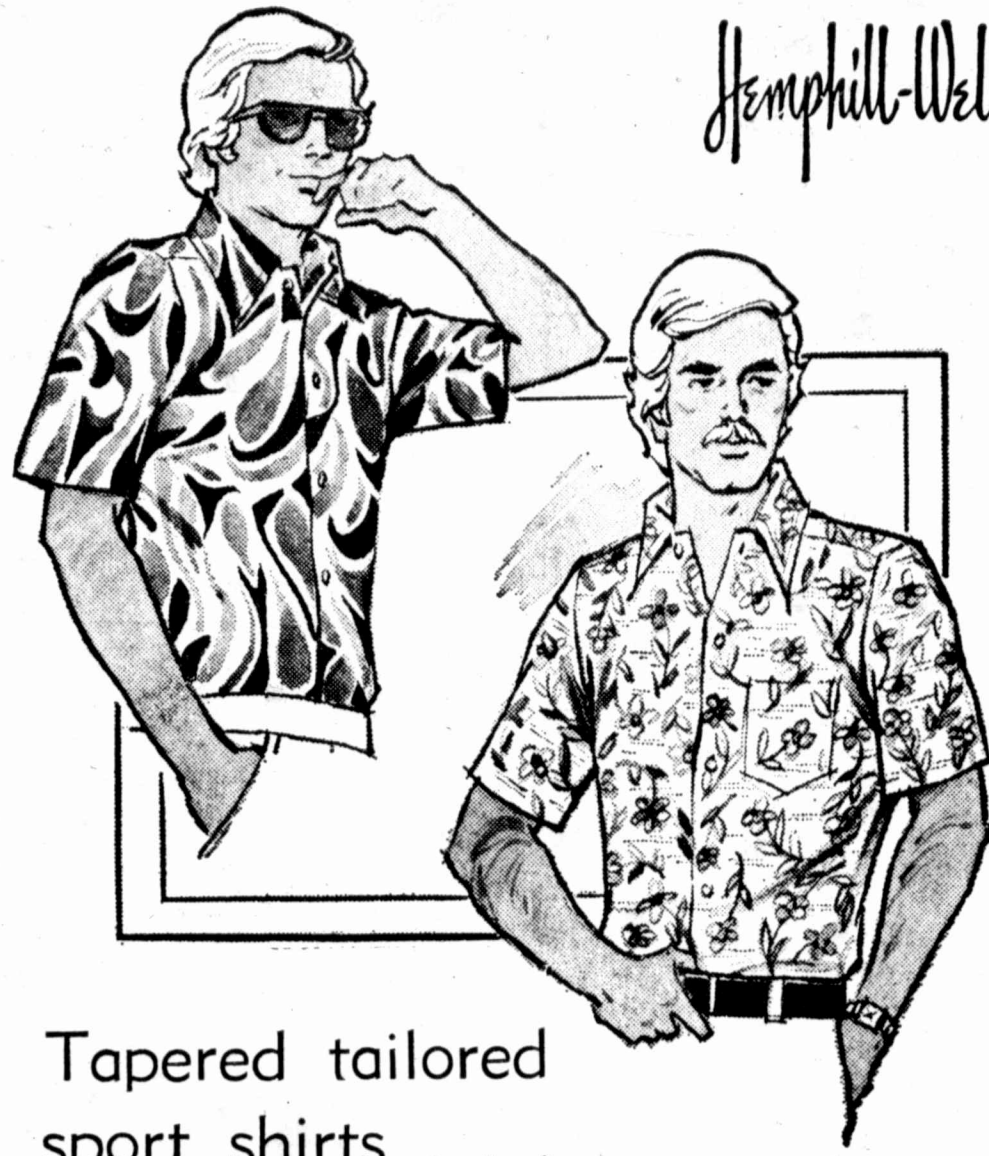

Dr. del Regato will join the staff of the Tampa VA Hospital. His appointment brings to eight the number now active in the VA Distinguished Physician post, which is for M. D.'s of exceptional professional stature during long and distinguished careers.

Among his many professional contributions, perhaps the most outstanding is his leadership in the training of therapeutic radiologists. He pioneered in this field and was the first American radiotherapist to establish a training program for this purpose.
