Clean-Up Groups Meet Saturday

Clean-Up, Paint-Up week ends Saturday with a city wide cleanup effort on the part of the youth of the community.

Children and youth big enough to help with the drive are invited to meet at Comanche Trails Park at 9 a.m. Saturday in the area of the totem pole and the wading pool.

City trucks will distribute the youths to various parts of the city to help with the clean-up. Those who wish to travel by their own means of transportation may obtain sacks at the park.

At the conclusion of the morning of clean-up effort, the group will meet again at the park to be served hot dogs and Cokes, with a free swim offered to those who participated.

It will be the first time the pool will be open this year. It will not be open to the public until May 25.

City Manager Harry Nagel said that the city trucks have been busy all week picking up trash at the request of citizens.

The Chamber of Commerce, the city and the council of garden clubs combined for this year's effort.

The Iceman Cometh; And He Leaveth

Some folks are string savers and some salvage buttons or tinfoil.

But a man with a flat bed truck, who tried to recover four 300-lb. blocks of ice at a local intersection Thursday afternoon, created lots of excitement.

The Southern Ice Company lost the ice out of the back of a pickup and decided to let them melt away.

But a thrifty citizen solicited an aide, picked up the blocks and drove happily away to cool something.

Four 'Zebra' Indictments

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A grand jury has returned murder indictments against four black men in three of the random "Zebra" slayings of whites here since last October.

Three of the men indicted Thursday by the San Francisco County Grand Jury previously had pleaded innocent to the slayings in Municipal Court and are being held in city jail. They are Emanuel Moore, 29, J.C. Simon, 29, and Larry C. Green, 22.

The three were among seven black men arrested in a police raid on an apartment building May 1. The other four men were released for lack of evidence.

The fourth man indicted, Jessie Cooks, 29, is serving a life sentence in Folsom State Prison for murdering a woman here last year in a slaying unrelated to the Zebra killings, so-named because of the radio channel being used by police on the case.

Exemption Forms Are Ready At City Hall

Residents of the City of Coahoma who are over 65 years of age can qualify for the $3,000 homestead exemption authorized by the city council only by filling out forms supplied by the city, Mayor Jack Cauble said this morning.

Dealin for completing the forms is June 30, Cauble said. The elderly citizens applying for the exemptions should drop by City Hall in Coahoma any time during working hours.

Syrian, Israeli Planes Fighting Over Lebanon

By The Associated Press

The Israeli command said its jets strafed and bombed Arab guerrilla targets in southern Lebanon again today barely 24 hours after its devastating retaliatory attack there. It said all aircraft returned safely after a 30-minute raid.

At the same time, six thunderous explosions shook the Lebanese capital of Beirut in quick succession. One unconfirmed report said anti-aircraft batteries in the port area opened fire on Israeli warplanes.

SHOT DOWN

But Israel said its jets attacked "terrorist objectives" on the western slopes of Mt. Hermon, far south of Beirut.

Radio Damascus said Syrian jets clashed with the Israeli planes and shot one down. The broadcast said the Syrian jets prevented the other Israeli planes from bombing new targets and "drove them off."

Lebanon said the Israeli air raids Thursday were "reminiscent of Nazi horrors" and that the casualty toll "is of a horrifying nature."

"I can safely say scores were killed and hundreds wounded," Information Minister Fahmy Shahin told a news conference in Beirut. He said Lebanese President Suleiman Franjeh called for "effective U.N. action to curb Israel's barbarism."

HIT-AND-RUN

Israeli jets hit seven areas south of Beirut on Thursday in retaliation for an Arab terrorist raid on an Israeli schoolhouse Wednesday in which more than a score of Israelis were killed.

Israeli ground troops made a hit-and-run attack into southern Lebanon Thursday night, and blew up an empty house less than a mile from the border that had been used by terrorists, the Israeli command said.

It also reported about six mortar rounds were fired toward Metulla, the northernmost Israeli town, but there were no casualties.

The Palestinian news agency Wafa said the Israeli raids Thursday "will not pass without punishment. Israel will pay very dearly for the price of our children."

The Israeli strikes increased the possibility that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger would return to Washington soon without an agreement between Israel and Syria for a separation of their forces on the Golan Heights. But Kissinger made another trip to Damascus

Thursday and maintained on his return to Jerusalem that "progress was made."

CONTINUE TO FIGHT

"Tell Kissinger to come see what the Israelis have done with American Phantoms," said one guerrilla. "Even if all the Arabs sign a peace agreement with Israel, we will still continue to fight."

Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy warned that the Arab states could not stand idly by in the face of "Israeli acts of aggression."

In Washington, the White House condemned both the guerrilla attack into Israel and the retaliatory raids, saying, "Continuing cycles of violence of this sort can only obstruct the achievement of a peaceful settlement in the Middle East." Israeli authorities announced today that a total of 26 persons were killed by the Maalot terrorists.

They increased the total number of children killed at the Maalot school from 20 to 21, explaining that a 15-year-old girl previously listed as killed was found alive at her home in nearby Safad, but two other children wounded in the raid died Thursday night.

INVASION

The terrorists also killed three members of an Israeli family before they invaded the Maalot school and an Israeli soldier during the battle at the school. And officials said it had been determined that the three guerrillas — who were killed when Israeli troops stormed the school — were responsible for the ambush of a truckload of Arab workers Tuesday night in which a woman died.

Ex-Exec Gets Off Without Paying Fine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The former president of a Pennsylvania dairy cooperative, Richard L. Allison, pleaded guilty today to consenting to an illegal $50,000 corporate contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

After his lawyer pleaded that Allison had lost his job as head of Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers of Allentown, Pa., because of the contribution, U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. suspended a $1,000 fine and placed Allison on a month's unsupervised probation.

It was the first time in 10 illegal corporate contributions cases that a defendant has gotten off without paying a fine.

"He throws himself on the mercy and understanding of this court," said Allison's attorney, Richard Stevens of Philadelphia. He said Allison lost his job, lost his company car and still is unemployed.

Allison and his wife left the courtroom tearfully. The couple has five children.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret House Judiciary Committee impeachment evidence has been made public for the second time in as many days, suggesting a crack in the committee's tight security that before this week had not been breached.

The latest disclosure was published in The Washington Post. It was the committee's transcript of a key Watergate conversation — that of Sept. 15, 1972, between President Nixon, then White House Counsel John W. Dean III and former presidential Chief of Staff H.R. Haldeman.

NEW LEAKS

As a result of yet another leak, the Post also reported today on the contents of a tape the committee heard Wednesday. The tape was of a short conversation June 30, 1972, between Nixon, Haldeman and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., is so concerned about leaks that he ordered all of the committee's transcripts of tapes impounded as committee members left the hearing room Thursday.

On Thursday night, sources said, members of the committee heard Nixon complain on a White House tape that the Watergate burglars probably would get long sentences while a black who held up a store would get two years.

TAPES IMPOUNDED
The presidential comment was related after the committee listened to the tape of a conversation Feb. 28, 1973, between Nixon and John W. Dean III.

The Post did not reveal how it obtained the two transcripts, but the story on the June 30 meeting referred to comments by committee sources on why that transcript was included in the evidence.

Reporters Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward quoted one source as saying "... it shows part of a pattern to keep the lid on ... and the President is in on it early."

SIDE-BY-SIDE

In an introductory paragraph to the side-by-side comparison of the Sept. 15 conversation, the Post said the Judiciary Committee's transcript was compiled by the committee's staff from a tape recording received by the special Watergate prosecutor's office.

Post reporter Lawrence Meyer said the committee's version and the White House version of the Sept. 15 conversations showed significant differences and that "lengthy passages were omitted in the White House version without any indication that material was excised."

In releasing the 1,254 pages of Nixon transcripts April 30, the White House said it was an edited version, from which national security information and conversations irrelevant to Watergate were deleted.

'GOOD'

Meyer said that one of the differences between the two versions of the Sept. 15 conversation occurred when Nixon was speaking to Dean about U.S. District Judge Charles R. Richey. He had been assigned to the civil suit by the Democrats against the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

Meyer said the White House version of that conversation did not include, as did the committee version, Nixon saying "good" when Dean told him Richey had discussed the case off the bench.

Sleeping Dog May Provide Cure For Dozing Humans

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Researchers say an eight-pound poodle who collapses hundreds of times a day has given them new hope of finding a cure for humans afflicted with a rare sleeping disease.

Interview Thursday. In humans, the unpredictability of the disease makes simple activities like driving a car dangerous. Attacks frequently occur during periods of sexual arousal, he said.

He said researchers at the laboratory plan to breed Monique with her normal brother to produce a line of offspring, many of which may have narcolepsy.

SEXUAL AROUSAL

Symptoms of the disease include an irresistible urge to fall asleep and a state of waking paralysis brought on by excitement, Dr. Mitler said in an

Officers Jail Second Man, Hunting Third In Slayings

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A second man was in jail today while officers searched for a third man in connection with last weekend's killing of four people here and near McKinney.

McLennan County sheriff's officers said they are searching for a third man whom Justice identified as Gary Dale Livingston, James' brother. He was charged with murder in the stabbing death last Friday night of Roy Perryman, 51. A Saturday morning collection was taken from Perryman's home, police said.

Medics Tour VA Hospital

Four foreign doctors representing Cambodia, Vietnam and Portugal visited the VA Hospital this morning for a guided tour of its facilities.

The doctors, Lt. Jose Santos of Portugal, Dr. Tan Eav Chong of Cambodia's Khmer Republic and Lt. Trinh Xvan Tri and Capt. Nguyen Lang Uyen of Vietnam, were guided by Mrs. Dene Sheppard, director of voluntary services, and accompanied by Lt. Col. Donald Coleman, commander of Webb Air Force Base's hospital.

The doctors are completing flight surgeon courses at the base. They have all been in America for about two months and will soon be returning to their countries. They have trained in the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology in Washington, D.C. and Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama.

"They've also all been trained as flight surgeons at Brooks Air Force Base in San Antonio. They're learning how to operate a flight surgeon's office at base level," said Lt. Col. Coleman.

While the doctors expressed interest in the hospital's facilities, organization and equipment, they admitted there are differences in priority and financing in their countries.

For example, while many of the VA Hospital's patients have alcohol-related troubles, one of the Vietnamese doctors said tuberculosis and starvation were the major problems in his country.

"Much of our procedures would be inappropriate in other countries. High rise hospitals like ours might not be good in Vietnam because the patients wouldn't like them," Lt. Col. Coleman added.

But the doctors expressed interest in the hospital's facilities. They toured the pathology labs, patients' quarters, the intensive care unit, the dental lab, the canteen, cafeteria and many other areas. Mrs. Sheppard outlined each facility on the tour.

Dr. Coleman also explained the designation of "flight surgeon." The doctors are not necessarily surgeons in the sense of the operating room, but are general practitioners for air force medical problems.

Defeated Candidate Says She Will Back Anderson

By JOHN EDWARDS — "I will vote for Rich Anderson," Mrs. Mary Thomas, who failed to win the Democratic nomination for the state legislature, said Thursday.

J. R. (Rich) Anderson, a Borden County rancher, was unopposed in his bid for the Republican nomination for the local legislative seat.

Mrs. Thomas, wife of a local lawyer, drew 1,622 votes in the Democratic Primary, including 1,039 in Howard, according to unofficial returns.

Michael Ezell received 5,149, enough to cause a runoff. And Borden County Judge C. Glenn Tombs was the choice of 5,719.

TOSS UP — "I'm not going to do anything in the runoff," Mrs. Thomas said.

Of the two Democrats in the runoff, Mrs. Thomas said: "Personally, I like both of them. Just politically, I don't agree with them."

"I really don't have any choice as to the two," Mrs. Thomas said.

Names of candidates in the runoff will appear in the same order as they did in the first primary, Mrs. Margaret Ray, permanent Democratic Party Secretary, said.

PRECINCT 2 RUNOFF — This means Tombs will be listed first in the State Legislative nomination race and Bill Bennett will come before Klie Rupard under Howard County Commissioner of precinct two. These are the only two local races which will be decided in the June 1 runoff.

Canned votes returned gave Rupard 648 votes to 606 for incumbent Bennett in the first primary.

Unsuccessful candidates for the Democratic nomination in this commission precinct had this to say:

Bill Chrane, who got 173 votes according to the canvass: "Well, I'm going to support Bill Bennett."

He will be telling everyone who asks that Bennett is "the best qualified man for the job."

Ralph E. Rowe (91 votes): "I haven't definitely made up my mind yet."

"I do intend to vote. I'll vote Democratic."

Doyle Fowler (265 votes): "Next fall, I'll vote Democratic." When asked whether he would actively support either Democrat, Fowler said: "Not anything other than just to vote for them."

Fowler declined to say how he would vote in the runoff. "They're both friends of mine."

Without opposition, Paul Schaffer got the Republican nomination for county commissioner of precinct two.

FOR THE MAN — Questioned about the county judge race, lame duck County Judge A. G. Mitchell said: "I vote for the man. I don't vote for the party. I never have."

His ballot will be marked for the best man "education-wise, experience-wise and reputation-wise, regardless of the party," Judge Mitchell said.

"I would have to wait and see a multitude of politics between now and November before I would state who I would vote for," Judge Mitchell said.

11,000 NON-VOTERS — There were 11,000 voters who didn't vote in the May Primaries in Howard County, and, consequently, Mitchell said the results are "not a true story."

Predicting a record turnout in November, Mitchell said the voters are "not going to stay at home and elect a man who is not qualified to run a million dollar business", county government.

Bill Tune, who defeated Judge Mitchell, 2,580 to 2,244 in the primary, is running against Jerry Worthy next fall. Worthy gained 221 votes to 43 for Glenn Stallings in the Republican Primary.

"Well, look, we can't all be chiefs," Stallings said. He said he would support Worthy.

"I don't ever quit until the job's over. It won't be over until November."

But Stallings did not hear Jerry Worthy make any speeches before the May Primary and said Worthy must work if he wants to win in November.

Told Him He Killed Texas Man, Buried Body In 'Dixie'

HOUSTON (AP) — A state witness has testified that Robert Lacy Campbell told him he killed a Texas man and buried the body in Mississippi. Franklin R. Willis, a Florida furniture salesman now serving a federal prison term, also said Campbell offered him $25,000 to help kill a man but he refused. Campbell, 35, of Milton, Fla., is on trial in State District Judge I.D. McMaster's court on a charge of murder in the Oct. 18, 1973 beating death of Robert Ray Campbell, 40, of Houston. Willis testified Thursday that Campbell said he "had somebody to get rid of and he wondered if anybody could help him."

Willis, serving a prison sentence in Florida after being convicted of concealing a stolen car, said he turned down the request and told authorities. He said police wanted to know the name of the intended victim. "But he wouldn't tell me... he said this man was going to be a witness up in Arkansas and was going to mess him up and a lot of other people," Willis is quoted Campbell as saying. The prosecution contends Robert Lacy Campbell was hired to kill Robert Ray Campbell (no relation) in a Houston area motel room. They also claim he transported the body to Hattiesburg, Miss., where he buried it in a shallow grave a week before he was arrested in Florida.

Willis said Campbell talked to him again after the alleged slaying and showed him bruised legs. "That guy really kicked the hell out of me... he put up a fight... he was a big man," Willis quoted Campbell as saying. Willis said Campbell told him of wrapping the body in a blanket and putting it into the trunk of his car and going to Mississippi and burying the body. Robert Ray Campbell, a Houston used car salesman, and two other men were named in a federal indictment accusing them of bankruptcy fraud stemming from the collapse of a mobile home factory in Arkansas. The victim pleaded guilty Aug. 1, 1972 and was assessed a three-year probated sentence. The other two men named in the indictment were Thomas Burke and Dwight Parks, both of Waco, Tex. Burke suffered a heart attack and the indictment was dropped.

U. S. Consumes Plenty Of Silver

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 150 million ounces of silver are used in the United States each year.

Production," says a spokesman, "could be increased by discovery and development of new resources, and increased prices would encourage development of large known potential resources in low-grade disseminated deposits." The photographic industry alone consumes more silver than the country's annual production from mines.

BS Man Destined To Lead District

Due to become the next district governor of Lions District 2A-1 is James (Jim) Lemons, who during the past decade has filled virtually every post in his own club, plus responsible positions at the district level.

JAMES (JIM) LEMONS

His nomination by his (Downtown Big Spring) club was the only one within the allotted period of notice for nominations for the top spot, thus he will be unopposed in his bid.

Lemons is right of ways agent for Texas Electric Service Company, with whom he has had 25 years of service, at O'Donnell, Odessa and Big Spring.

In the Downtown Club here, Lemons has served as director, Lion Tamer, in three vice presidential posts and was president in 1971-72. Never since he became a member of the club, has he failed to take part in any of his club's projects.

In 1970-71 he was on the district cabinet as zone chairman, then served the following year as district public relations chairman. Club Was First Civic Group Lions meeting here Friday and Saturday for the annual 2A-1 convention are part of a world-wide fellowship known as Lions International.

It is the first and oldest of civic clubs organized solely for the purpose of service. When it was organized first in 1917 a few antedated it, but they had business or professional overtones. Because of their service emphasis, Lions have been called "the world's greatest doers."

From the beginnings, Lions International embodied the motto proposed by its founder Melvin Jones, "We Serve."

Today, 27,000 Lions clubs have a combined membership of 1,036,667 in 150 nations and geographical territories of the world. There are also 1,815 Leo (youth) Clubs in 66 countries with a membership of 46,000.

Secretary Has Important Role

It is axiomatic that no part of Lions International functions better than its secretary, which is one way of saying that Darrell Dodson, Midland, is one reason for a successful year by Tom Nipp as 2A-1 district governor.

Dodson, a member of the Midland Downtown Club for the past nine years, has been cabinet secretary during the past year.

A native of West Texas, he served in the U.S. Army in the medical, infantry and engineers from 1949-1955, retiring to associate with Southwestern Laboratories, for whom he has been district manager since 1955. He is a national director for the American Society of Certified Engineering Technicians. In Midland he is on the city board of adjustment and on the Heart association board.

He and his wife, Retha, have three daughters and they are active in church affairs. Since he became a Lion nine years ago, Dodson has had a perfect record of attendance. He also holds the Master Key membership enlistment award.

Midland Club Meal's Host

Featured speaker for the District 2A-1 Lions convention here will be a man high in the echelons of Lions International, one of its directors.

He is Paul Fernandez, Honolulu, Hawaii, who will speak at the big Saturday luncheon, which will be hosted by the Midland Downtown Club, one of the largest in the international association.

Fernandez has served in several posts in his own club, including president. He also has been a zone chairman district deputy, a district governor, and holds the coveted International President's Award.

Nor are all his activities confined to Lions work. He is a leading figure in Honolulu civic affairs and received the distinguished service award from the Blood Bank of Hawaii. He also has been active in the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce.

In business he owns an office machine sales and service firm, a parking concern and is distributor for G&M International. He also has been president of the Kalili Business Association and the Hawaiian Office Machine Dealers Association.

During World War II, Fernandez served in the U.S. Air Force.

He and his wife, Angle, have seven children.

Handbook Tells Of Phosphorus

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Jean Morgan Spencer, assistant professor of geology at Baylor University, is one of four editors of a recently published book, "The Environmental Phosphorus Handbook."

The book compiles articles on phosphorus by 41 authors from as far away as Japan, Rome, Africa, Canada and Switzerland, and from the United States. Mrs. Spencer said the book is designed to present the opinions and findings of specialists in various scientific fields on the subject of phosphorus.

Written chiefly for scientists and government officials in phosphorus on our environment, the book explores all aspects of the mineral including how and in what forms phosphorus reach the earth, the weathering of phosphorus, phosphorus deposits and how to prospect for them, phosphorus in oceans and compounds of phosphorus.

From the beginnings, Lions International embodied the motto proposed by its founder Melvin Jones, "We Serve."

CROWNS SUCCESSOR — When the new District 2A-1 queen is named here Friday evening, Linda Long, reigning, will crown her successor. Now a student at Texas Tech, Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Young and is sponsored by the Midland southside club.

District 2A-1 Has 25 Clubs

District 2A-1, whose members proudly boast is "the Number 1 District in Lionism," is one of the larger geographically.

It covers some 25 clubs in the section bordered from Midland to Sweetwater and from Ozona to Buchanan Dam.

In this territory are 65 clubs with 3,150 members. Two clubs chartered since the beginning of the year are Webb-Spring at Webb AFB and Greenwood, which will be chartered June 15. Only one club, Talpa, was lost during the year, and the district promises to finish the year with a net membership gain.

The district has been carved out of several large ones — the old 2T, 2T-1, 2T-2, and finally the present one which has been the same for approximately a decade.

Lion Delegates Will Hear Dignitary From Hawaii

Lions and their ladies from 25 counties of District 2A-1 convene here Friday and Saturday to take stock on how well they have followed their motto, "we serve," and to name new district officers.

Working under the theme "men all over the world, pulling together," Lions will hear Paul Fernandez, Lions International director from Honolulu, Hawaii, at noon Saturday. Fernandez is due to arrive with fanfare this evening.

Another major event comes up this evening also — the queen's contest which will see nominees from 35 clubs competing for the honor at 7:30 o'clock in the high school

Blind Work Is Lion Mission

One of the major emphases of Lions International always has been sight conservation and blind work.

In Big Spring, for instance, well over 100 pairs of glasses are furnished yearly to children and adults who otherwise could not have them. Some are assisted in eye surgery; some in obtaining guide dogs. The library has recordings and Braille books supplied by Lions.

This, by no means is the only function. The Lions League of Texas operates a camp at Kerrville for Crippled Children, and any physically handicapped child will be transported there and maintained for two weeks without charge. Lately, Lions have branched into a camp for diabetic children. During the off season, the Kerrville camp is used as a training center for the blind.

auditorium. This will be followed by a reception for the nominees.

Headquarters will be at the Settles Hotel, where registration began this morning. Tom Nipp, Midland, district governor, meets with his committee chairmen during the afternoon and there will be a snack supper for delegates at the Settles.

Saturday 7 a.m., Lions participate in the traditional Key Breakfast sponsored by Big Spring Downtown Lions, who have nominated one of their members, Jim Lemons, for governor.

Business sessions open at 9 a.m. with presidents of the Evening, Webb-Spring and Downtown Clubs as hosts. Sessions recess at 11 a.m., and the big luncheon takes place at 11:30 a.m. at the high school cafeteria with the Midland Downtown Lions furnishing entertainment and music. J. E. Barrington, Midland Westside president, will conduct the traditional memorial services.

Champ's Kin In Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bold Ruler has been dead almost three years, but the great sire remains a dominant figure in the Preakness Stakes, a race he won at Pimlico in 1957. Six entries in Saturday's 99th Preakness, which will gross a record $209,000 if 13 start as expected, are grandsons of Bold Ruler—who also sired Secretariat, the Triple Crown champion of 1973.

Cannonade Is Favored

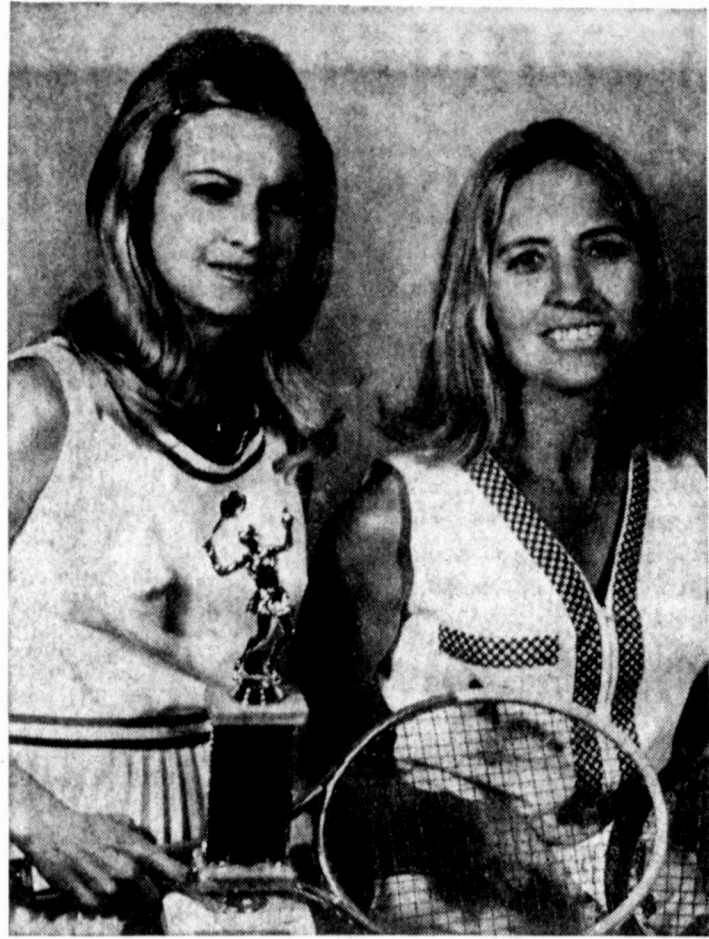

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cannonade, the Kentucky Derby winner who is the odds-on favorite, will win the Preakness Saturday by two lengths and will be followed by longshot Destroyer, says a man who makes his selections on a calculator that looks like a slide rule.

Three horses will vie for third place in the Preakness behind Destroyer, he added. The horses are Hudson County, second to Cannonade in the Derby and the early second choice, J.R.'s Pet, fourth in the Derby and the third Preakness pick, and Little Current, fifth in the Derby and an outsider Saturday.

Michael Cox made his selections on what he describes as a scientifically-developed slide rule that he promotes as the "finest handicapping aid developed in the history of horse racing."

Cox said the calculator was developed by Dr. Alton S. Kelsey, now a 48-year-old New Yorker who retired from the aerospace industry where he was an engineer and now spends most of his time at the race track.

He said the calculator was tested for a year in 1970 at New York and Maryland tracks with the results that an initial $200 investment produced slightly more than $30,000.

Bruins Earn Rugged Stanley Cup Victory

BOSTON (AP) — Match Sheppard led the Bruins in the third period. The Bruins, who earned their "Big Bad" nickname in winning the Stanley Cup four years ago, and the Flyers, who enjoy the tag of "Broad Street Bullies," really went at it from the start of the fifth game.

Just 24 seconds after the opening face-off, Philadelphia's Dave Schultz, who holds just about every record for penalties in the NHL book, squared off with Boston's Carol Vadnais.

They swapped fists and sticks, elbows and shoulders, hips and knees in the National Hockey League's biggest play-off brawl in history. There were 138 minutes called on 43 penalties, including a dozen majors for fighting, a misconduct and a game misconduct.

When the brawling finally ended, nearly 3 1/2 hours after the opening face-off, the Bruins had muscled their way to a 5-1 victory, staying alive in the best-of-seven series against the coveted Stanley Cup in just their seventh year.

Now the two teams head back to Philadelphia for Game No. 6 Sunday. And, although trailing 3-2 in the series, the Bruins have their old confidence back, sure they'll return to Boston for a seventh and deciding game at the Garden next Tuesday.

"We had our backs to the wall and had to win this one," Boston Coach Bep Guidolin said. "Now their backs are to the wall. We're due for a good game in Philadelphia, and we're going to have it Sunday. Then it will be all over for them."

"If we don't win Sunday, we're in a lot of trouble," admitted Philadelphia captain Bobby Clarke. "Maybe we were thinking of Sunday tonight, but we shouldn't have. We had the chance to come away with everything and we didn't."

Spring Tilt Tonight

The Gold and White collide tonight at 7:30 p.m. as the Big Spring Steers bring down the curtain on off-season football drills with the annual Spring Game at Memorial Stadium.

It doesn't promise the aerial excitement of a year ago, but Steer Coach Bob Burris said the team is as evenly divided as it can be and that's enough to make the outcome interesting.

The Gold team has a little edge in experience, but it looks like the Whites have an advantage in the line. It should be close," Burris said.

The Gold squad will have quarterback Mark Moore, a junior-to-be, heading up a list of seven lettermen, and the team will also send halfback Danny Ferrell, last year's leading ground-gainer for the Steers, against the Whites. Ricky Darrow will start at fullback for the Gold Steers.

Tackles Stan Partee and Joe Matthews and tight end Casey Lovelace will spark the Gold team's line charge, and Burris is also high on guard John Miller, who transferred from San Antonio Randolph.

Frosty Reynolds, the only sophomore on the Gold roster, will start at the other guard spot with Lawrence Byrd at split end and Doug Robison making the switch from halfback to flanker. Joe Rocha will be at center.

Joining the team when it goes on defense will be cornerback Jerry Marquez and linebacker Mark Starks.

While Moore is expected to test the opposition's secondary with passes much of the night, the Whites will rely on the option play of quarterback John Rusk, another transfer from Randolph.

Rusk will also have a talented backfield, with Andre Hurrington at halfback and sophomore Jesse Doss challenging returning starter Lonell Banks for the fullback position.

Three who will be sophomores own starting jobs for the Whites, flanker Tommy Churchwell, split end Mike Harris and tackle Allen Partee. But there's plenty of other experience in between with Ray McCutcheon at center, Kyle Neighbors and Ricky Watkins at guard and James Coffey at the other tackle post. Another letterman, Joe Rains, will be at tight end.

Defensively, Celestino Correa will play at end for the Whites and Dennis Fulcher and Ronnie Mullins will man the corners.

The Steer junior varsity will hold a 5:30 p.m. scrimmage prior to the varsity affair, and Quarterback Club co-captain Jim Baum said the group would have sandwiches and soft drinks on sale at that time. "We'd like for people to come out and make this sort of a family-type affair. They can support the team and the QB Club at the same time," Baum said.

LEADS WITH 65 Irwin Attacks Colonial Layout

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "Every time I turned around Hale was making the flagstick quiver," said Hubert Green, shaking his head in disbelief.

"I think it was one of the finest rounds of golf I've ever seen played," added Tom Weiskopf in unabashed admiration. "Had he pushed exceptionally well, I think he could have shot 60."

Such were the comments Thursday after Hale Irwin scorched the windswept Colonial Country Club course with a five-under-par 65 and seized a three-stroke lead in the first round of the $250,000 Colonial National Open.

Battling gusty winds and an outstanding field, Irwin bagged three birdies on the final four holes and swept away from a cluster of challengers with a stunning 32-36-65 on the 35-35-70 Trinity River layout.

"There was not very much I did poorly," admitted Irwin, a non-winner this year but 10th on the money winning list with more than $75,000.

"I hit an abundance of good shots," he continued, "but I missed a lot of makeable putts."

Then flashing a big grin, he confessed that, "I'm extremely happy with the way I played."

Rolling in birdie putts of three, one, 35, 10, three and 25 feet, Irwin, who has the habit of playing tough courses extremely well, struck a resounding blow in his bid to capture the first designated tournament title in the history of pro golf.

A bunker on the par-three, fourth hole cost him his only bogey.

Three strokes back with 68s were Billy Casper, Charles Coody, Bobby Nichols, Hubert Green, Larry Hinson and Bert Younger, Julius Boros, Bob Stanton and Frank Beard.

Weiskopf, the defending champion who matched par and said that, "70 is not a bad score if we have a long way to go," was tied at that figure with Rod Curl, Larry Ziegler, and Ben Crenshaw.

They had a stroke advantage over another group at 69 that included Orville Moody, Phil Rodgers, Butch Baird, Julius Boros, Bob Stanton and Frank Beard.

THURSDAY'S LITTLE LEAGUE

Yanks Run Mark To 7-0; Pirates, Sabres Get Wins

The Dibrell's Sporting Goods Yankees outlasted the Evening Lions Club Lions 14-11 Thursday in an offensive National Little League affair, ripping 11 doubles along the way.

The Pirates blanked the Hawks 3-0 in an American League bout and the Sabres scored a 17-7 International League triumph over the Talons in other local Little League action Thursday.

Mark Knight went four-for-four and Randy Cregar, Roy Rhymes, Mark Harris and Scott Moore all had two hits apiece as the Yankees sent their NL mark to 7-0. James Anderson pitched the victory for the Yanks, his first decision of the year, while Knight turned in an outstanding defensive effort from his center field spot.

The Lions, who did all their damage on six hits, were led by Clint Elliott's triple. Terry Spears was the losing hurler, and Elliott and Ronnie Burleson shined in the Lions' infield. The Lions now stand 1-5.

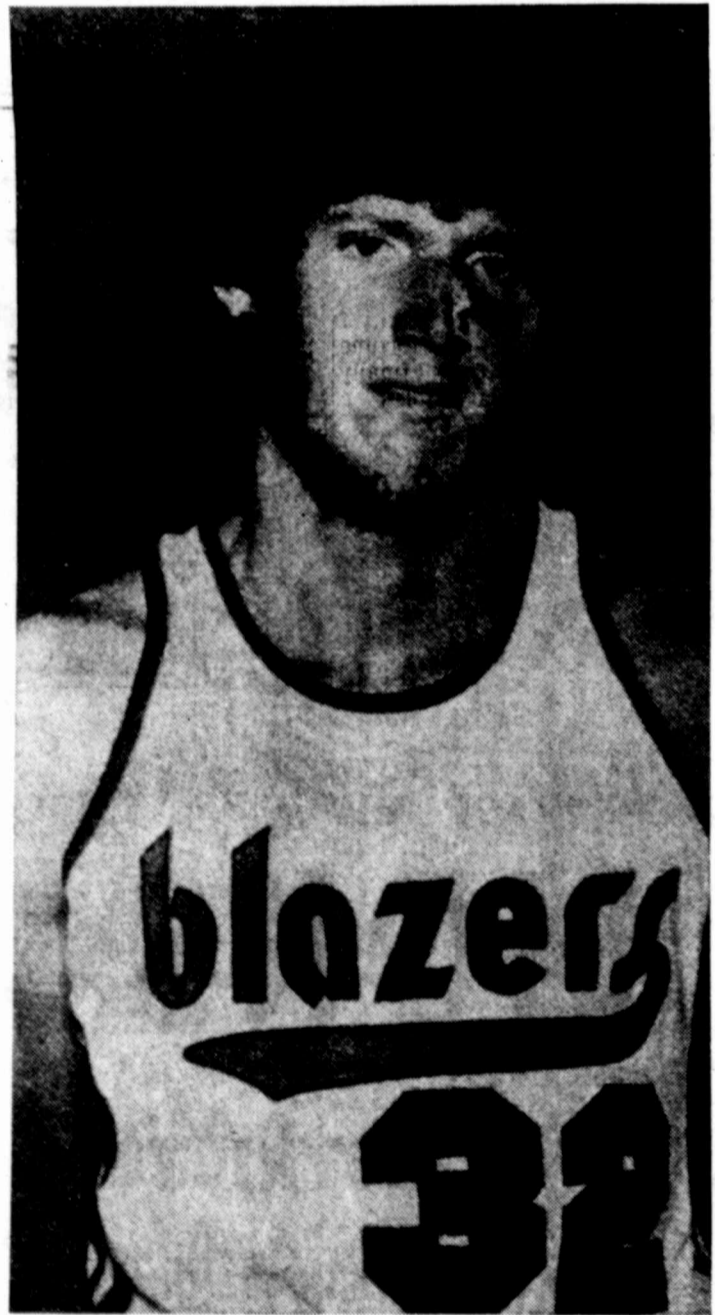

home run was all the firepower needed by the Pirates to pick up their seventh victory in eight tries. Boadle also had a single and Scott Barns a double in backing up Jimmy Marquez' four-hit attack.

The Hawks, who slumped to 1-7, had Blake Rosson on the mound.

Dale Sutter chased home five runs with a four-hit performance as the Sabres raced past the Talons. Rodney Smith chipped in a pair of hits and Ronnie Ramirez, the winning pitcher, had two RBIs with a triple. Clark and Walker also drove in two runs apiece.

For the Talons, Todd Underwood took the loss. He drove in two runs with a double, while Billy Lee and Rick Gonzalez also had run-scoring hits.

In an American Minor League tilt, the Trickers slugged the Elks 13-0 on Ted Bartley's one-hitter. Bartley, who had 10 strikeouts in the league's first shutout, also stroked a pair of hits along with George Solis and John Hatch had three safeties. Jamey Thompson contributed a double. Charles Herrera was the Elks' losing pitcher.

Somehow, the excitement Saturday. That's a people have been fighting wars and papers will run its outcome. It's the crowd there and I even get a record of blah, you know?

There's really a behavior, you know, chariot, able to leap than a four-cylinder forget that there were year in winning the Poems were written to the astounding her youngsters could on as he breezed across. During late night nation's leaders would ride into a Mid-East

But that phenomenon-in-a-lifetime as I mean, they threw the nags running to of oats, the experts. But don't you especially a wonder. Even Secretariat fan syndicate for more anti-pari-mutuel vote Crown, the only time folks thought he was a terrific epiphany. I picture Secretariat now, lying on his hands (er, hooves) and munching on a to be girl horses all Excuse me, Mr. opinion of Saturday? "You mean some figures they'd call gonna run, huh? What? Yes sir, but what? "Nah, I don't even though — within a boy to be up there. be a knockout."

Sure thing, Mr. Se your favorite brand "Glue? Oh, I don't the same. Elmer's... wait a minute something I don't?"

Hitting against him may not be as tough against him. The Pittsburgh Panther can throw a hard as most pitcher big leagues—but he a hard as most hitters.

Brett raised his average to .538 and his perage to .500 Thursday helping the Pirates the Chicago Cubs 5-2. "Hitting has helped where I am," Brett collecting two runs knocking in two times the kind of pitcher to have a 1.09 earned age. I've got to be anyway I can and hit for me. I take pitcher."

Somewhat, the excitement just isn't there for the Preakness Saturday. That's a terrible thing to say, of course, since people have been racing horses longer than they've been fighting wars and paying bills, practically. But it's true.

Sure, everybody knows about the Preakness and the newspapers will run big stories and striking pictures on its outcome. It's the thing to do. There might be a record crowd there and I suppose the winning horse's owner might even get a record purse. Maybe so. But still, it's just sort of blah, you know?

There's really a simple explanation for the non-maniacal behavior, you know. It's Secretariat, faster than a speeding chariot, able to leap tall troughs in a single gallop, stronger than a four-cylinder foreign car. Secretariat made everyone forget that there were even other horses in the world last year in winning the Big Three. He was amazing.

Poems were written, songs sung and bridges dedicated to the astounding horse. Parents silently wished their own youngsters could only turn out half as good as Secretariat as he breezed across the finish line in the Kentucky Derby. During late night conferences in the White House, our nation's leaders wondered how it would be if Kissinger could ride into a Mid-East peace talk atop the proud animal.

But that phenomenon, horse freaks will tell you, was a once-in-a-lifetime animal which can never be duplicated. I mean, they threw away the proverbial mold, you know. The nags running today couldn't eat out of the same bag of oats, the experts say.

But don't you ever wonder what happens to horses, especially a wonder horse, after it passes the big time? Even Secretariat faded out of sight after being sold to some syndicate for more money than it would take to buy every anti-parti-mutuel vote in Texas. After he won the Triple Crown, the only time Secretariat's name came up was when folks thought he couldn't be a daddy and suddenly there was a terrific epidemic of fingernail biting.

I picture Secretariat on a creek bank somewhere right now, lying on his back underneath a shade tree with his hands (er, hooves) behind his head, his feet propped up, and munching on a piece of grass. Oh yeah, there happens to be girl horses all around him. He grants a rare interview.

Excuse me, Mr. Secretariat, but could you give us your opinion of Saturday's Preakness?

"You mean someone really cares? Boy, that's amazing. I figures they'd call it off this year maybe. So they're really gonna run, huh? Far out . . ."

Yes sir, but what about the race? Do you have a prediction?

"Nah, I don't even know who's running. I'll predict this though — within a few years you can be watching for my boy to be up there in the winner's circle. I'll bet he's gonna be a knockout."

Sure thing, Mr. Secretariat. Just one more question. What's your favorite brand of glue?

"Glue? Oh, I don't know. They're really all pretty much the same. Elmer's is pretty good I guess, and then there's . . . wait a minute. Why did you ask that? Do you know something I don't? Hey, come back. Don't go away mad . . ."

UT's Hurdler Prepares For Baylor Threat

HOUSTON (AP) — Defending NCAA 440-yard hurdles champion Robert Primeaux of Texas has been reading transcripts of statements by Baylor's Jimmy Gailey and he's looking forward to testing their validity Saturday in the Southwest Conference track meet.

" . . . I keep reading the paper where he thinks next year he's going to win the Texas, Drake and Kansas relays," said Primeaux, rounding back into shape from a foot injury early this season.

" . . . You know, that's just like coming right out and saying I'm going to whip Primeaux' (expletive deleted)."

Primeaux was a surprise winner last year when he won the 440-yard hurdles in 49.5 at the NCAA meet in Baton Rouge, La., but injuries have prevented him from doing better than 50.9 this year.

Gailey has the SWC's best time of 50.5 going into Saturday's 59th SWC renewal.

Primeaux is one of nine returning winners from the 1973 meet to defend their titles and the only NCAA champion in the group.

"He (Gailey) works hard, he's a good runner and the thing is he's run so much this year," Primeaux said. "He's run so well for a long time. I expect it to be a good race . . . I'm looking forward to it."

Texas, which has won 30 of the 58 previous SWC track titles, is the defending champion and heavy favorite to repeat. The Longhorns scored in 15 of the 16 events last year. Texas A&M, Rice, Houston and Baylor are expected to battle for second place.

Six SWC meet records have been bettered going into the meet — three-mile relay, mile, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and 120-yard high hurdles.

Rice's Ken Stadel and Southern Methodist's Joe Pouncy are aiming at the rare feat of winning their specialty four straight years.

CYNTHIA DENNIS

DENNIS NAMED TO ALL-STATE

Big Spring volleyball standout Cynthia Dennis has been named to the Class AAAA All-State team for the second straight year.

Dennis, a senior, was named to the 12-girls star squad as a spike by a vote of all the Class AAAA coaches in the state. It was her second honor in the last two weeks. Earlier, she was chosen to play in the Texas High School Girls Coaches Association all-star volleyball game in Brownwood this summer.

With Dennis leading the way, the Steerettes finished the year with an 18-8 season mark and took second in Dist. 2-AAAA with a 7-3 ending. She was named to the all-district team for the second time, and was also honored as the Most Valuable Player during the Spring Sports Banquet last month.

Jenkins: Umps Big Difference

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins sat in his cubicle, his arms resting heavily on his knees, his eyes fixed firmly on the clubhouse floor.

Nine days ago, this transplanted National Leaguer had a 6-1 record. Now, after Jenkins and the Texas Rangers had been ambushed by the Kansas City Royals 5-3 Thursday night, the record was 6-4.

Jenkins, who came to the Rangers during the winter after achieving fame and fortune with the Chicago Cubs, finally looked up. He attempted a feeble smile.

"Is pitching in the American League different than in the National League?" he repeated a question. "It sure is. The umpiring is as different as night and day."

"I've found out I'm not going to get that low pitch in the AL. I get the ball right where I did over in the NL but over here, they're calling them balls. I raise the ball up a little, and I get hit real good."

Jenkins got hit real good by the Royals Thursday night for the second time in as many starts against them. Hal McRae caught one of Jenkins' inside fast balls in the fourth inning and drilled it into the left field stands for his seventh home run of the season.

Brett Helps Own Cause; Pirates Smack Cubs, 5-2

Hitting against Ken Brett may not be as tough as pitching against him.

The Pittsburgh Pirate left-hander can throw a baseball as hard as most pitchers in the big leagues—but he also hits as hard as most hitters.

Brett raised his batting average to .538 and his pitching average to .500 Thursday night while helping the Pirates beat the Chicago Cubs 5-2.

"Hitting has helped me get where I am," Brett said after collecting two singles and knocking in two runs. "I'm not the kind of pitcher that's going to have a 1.09 earned run average. I've got to help myself anyway I can and hitting does it for me. I take pride in my hitting."

Brett, who didn't stick around to pitch a complete game, stayed around long enough to get the victory—his third in six decisions.

In the other National League games, the New York Mets stopped the St. Louis Cardinals 6-4; the Philadelphia Phillies trimmed the Montreal Expos 6-3 and the Atlanta Braves bombed the San Diego Padres 11-1.

In the American League, the Kansas City Royals defeated the Texas Rangers 5-3 and the Chicago White Sox nipped the Oakland A's 4-3.

Shortstop Mario Mendoza collected the first three hits of his major league career, combining with Brett to lead the Pittsburgh victory.

The Pirates forged a 2-0 lead in the second inning off loser

Ken Fralling, 2-3. Richie Hebner and Mendoza triggered the rally with two-out singles.

A single by Brett knocked in Hebner and Mendoza came home with the second run when Brett was momentarily caught in a rundown play between first and second base. Brett made it safely to second.

Hebner and Mendoza also ignited a two-run rally in the fourth. Brett drove in one of the runs with a bloop single to center and another one scored on Al Oliver's single.

Mets 6, Cardinals 4

Don Hahn hit a two-run homer and Teddy Martinez pounded a two-run double, rallying New York past St. Louis. Losing 2-0, the Mets were ignited by Hahn's homer in the second inning. Martinez followed with a two-run double in the fifth, when the Mets chased St. Louis starter John Curtis with a four-run explosion.

Phillies 6, Expos 3

Tommy Hutton drove in five runs with two homers and a single, leading Philadelphia past Montreal.

Hutton gave the Phillies their first run with a single following Del Unser's double in the first inning. The first baseman then hit a three-run homer in the third and a bases-empty shot in the fifth.

Hutton's performance, the best run-producing effort of his major league career, helped Steve Carlton win his fourth game in seven decisions.

Cougars Still Big Underdogs

HOUSTON (AP) — The Chicago Cougars are in the exact position they've enjoyed (?) the most of the World Hockey Association season—heavy underdogs and trailing in a playoff series.

Each time they survived somehow and came out winners. They'll try to pull the same Houdini act tonight when the Cougars meet the Houston Aeros in the third game of their World Cup championship playoff series in Sam Houston Coliseum, trailing 2-0.

"As far as I'm concerned, it's 0-0 going into the third game and the bell won't ring until the fourth defeat of the series," Cougars player-coach Pat Stapleton said after Houston's 6-1 victory in the second game.

The Cougars were one of the last WHA teams to make it into the playoff—as a fourth place team—but they haven't heard the bell ring yet, although they came close in two preliminary playoff series.

The Cougars lost their opening games in each of the first two round series against New England and then Toronto but came back, forced each series to the seventh game and then won the seventh game in each case on the opposing team's ice.

"I'm sure glad we've got the seventh game on our ice," said Aeros center Larry Lund.

Russia May Be Preparing To Ship Planes To Arabs

HOW SWEET IT IS — New West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt delivers his inaugural speech to parliament and nation after his government is sworn-in.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence sources say Russia may be preparing to ship some of its advanced MIG23 jet fighters to Arab air forces. This could spell trouble for the Israeli Air Force if the MIG23 "flogger" appears in numbers on the Syrian front. More than that, it would suggest that Russia is prepared to stiffen Syria's ability and will to fight while the United States is trying to restore a truce between the Syrians and Israelis.

TOP SPEED
U.S. analysts say the MIG23, with a top speed of nearly 2,000 miles an hour, would significantly boost the power of Arab air forces now equipped with earlier model fighters.

Intelligence sources say MIG23s have been seen near a Black Sea port from which the Russians ship military equipment by sea to Syria and other Arab nations.

Scott Is Given Life Sentence

ODESSA — Bill E. Scott was given a sentence of 99 years in the penitentiary here Thursday for the murder of 81-year-old Paul Moss, a wealthy attorney. The jury took only nine minutes to set the sentence after adjudging Scott to be guilty.

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan claimed early last month that MIG23s were in Syria. A Pentagon spokesman said at the time that "there is no evidence that the MIG23 has appeared in Syria."

EARLY DELIVERY
About two weeks later, Syrian President Hafez Assad returned home from Moscow with a promise of additional arms from the Soviet Union. Beirut newspapers said Russia had pledged early delivery of advanced jet fighters and surface-to-surface missiles. About that time, U.S. intelligence reported, Soviet merchant ships unloaded 12 crated MIG21 jets at the Syrian port of Latakia.

Special Activities Will Honor Senior Citizens

LAMESA — A parade, luncheon and recognition of three outstanding senior citizens will highlight senior citizens month in special activities next Tuesday.

The parade is at 10:30 a.m. with a noon luncheon at the senior citizens center on Dawson County Committee on Aging heading the activities. Mrs. Mickie Crump, Dawson County extension agent, heads activities.

Theme for the national celebration is "Older Americans are a Natural Resource." "Senior Citizens Month in Dawson county and the nation recognizes our local older people as a real resource in the community — not only for their contributions in the past, but also for their leadership, experience and wisdom now and in the future," she said.

Senior citizens in Dawson County have made contributions and effected changes in a significant number of programs, including volunteers for Circuit Riders, Meals on Wheels Program and Crafts Workshops. Noting that one of every nine people in Texas is 65 or older, making a total of almost a million, the agent reported the number of older people throughout the nation is expected to increase for the next 30 years.

"Because of this, they will be even more valuable to us as a resource in almost all aspects of community and family living," she said.

Labor Executive Speaks Monday
ODESSA — Sherman Fricks, secretary-treasurer of the Texas AFL-CIO, is to be guest speaker at an openhouse reception of the Odessa Central Labor Union Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 202 of the O'Michael Building.

Active in the labor movement for 30 years, Fricks was elected to the No. 2 post of the 250,000-member labor organization last July. He is also a member of the Texas Offshore Terminal (Superport) Commission.

Fricks' appearance in Odessa is among many stops he has made statewide to speak on the benefits a Superport would provide in the energy crisis and also in the AFL-CIO's goal to elect a "veto-proof" congress. In his talks to labor groups, Fricks also gives a report on issues of concern to working people in the Constitutional Convention now in session.

A native of Muskogee, Okla., Fricks received his education from the Deer Park (Texas) schools, SW Louisiana Institute in Lafayette, La., and the University of Houston.

Regional Meeting Attracts Locals

Big Spring had representatives among the 50 delegates to the American Heart Association's Regional annual meeting Wednesday in Odessa's Inn of the Golden West.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beil and Dr. David Logan. Dr. Logan was selected for the association's board of directors and as a delegate to the association's annual meeting. Beil was master of ceremonies and the Howard County chapter received a certificate for outstanding professional education service.

Mrs. Ann Griffin's Nurses Training Seminar prompted this recognition.

Dr. John Lombardi, Texas Tech research scientist, was the meeting's chief speaker.

Gasoline Once Thought Useless

CHICAGO (AP) — If waiting in line for gasoline makes you lose your sense of humor, try to remember that the precious fuel was once considered useless.

In fact, until the automobile came along kerosene was the major product of oil refineries according to World Book Encyclopedia. Because it exploded when ignited, it was often dumped into rivers and creeks for disposal.

A TIME TO REFLECT

IN OUR FAST MOVING LIVES, WE SELDOM TAKE TIME TO THINK ABOUT THE REALLY IMPORTANT THINGS. WE GET SO INVOLVED WITH THE EVERY DAY BUSINESS OF LIVING THAT WE CONCENTRATE ON THE SMALLER ASPECTS OF LIFE, NEGLECTING THE THINGS THAT ARE INFINITELY MORE IMPORTANT; SUCH AS OUR NATIONAL SECURITY AND FREEDOM.

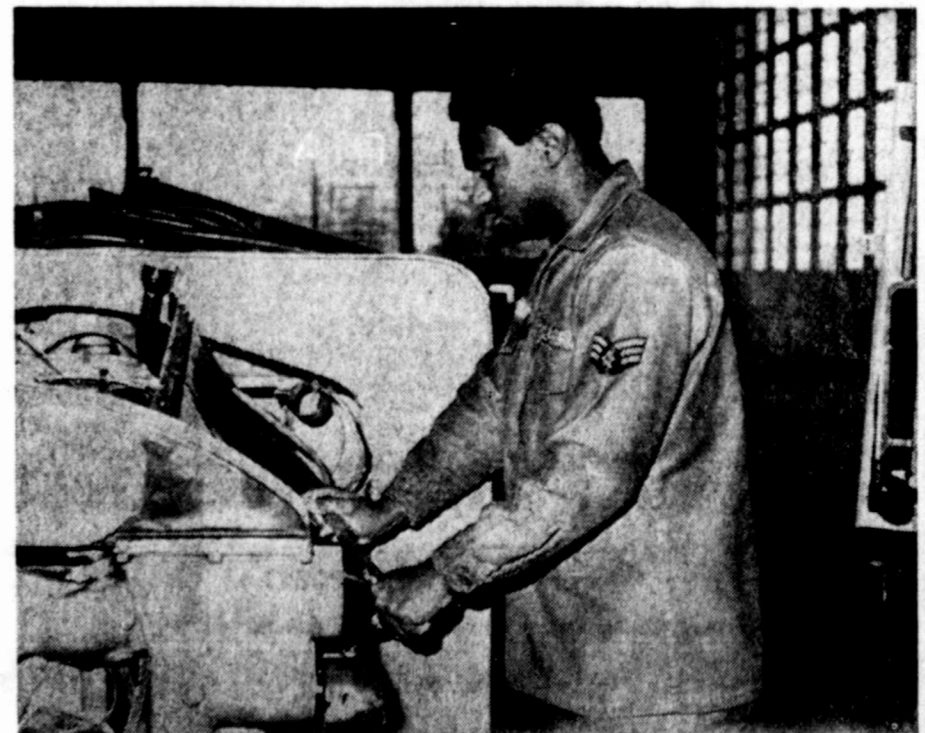

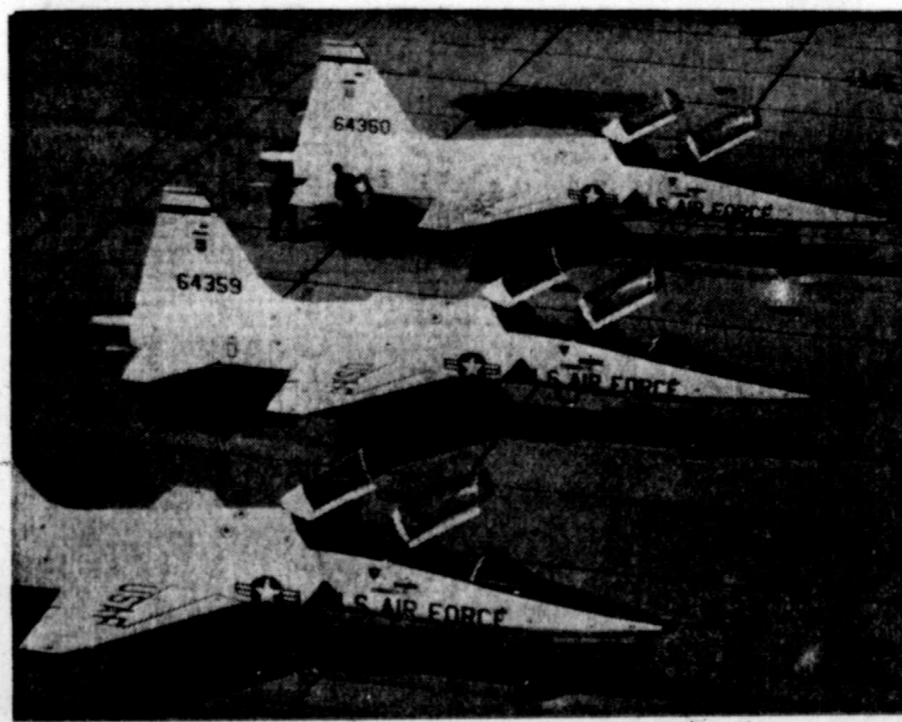

AND IT IS INDEED UNFORTUNATE THAT OUR SERVICE MEN AND WOMEN WHO PROTECT OUR NATIONAL SECURITY AND FREEDOM ARE OFTEN TAKEN FOR GRANTED. WE ACCEPT THEIR TIME IN THE SERVICE AS A MATTER OF COURSE UNTIL SOMEONE CLOSE TO US PAYS THE ULTIMATE SACRIFICE. AND IT IS ONLY AFTER THIS PERSONAL LOSS THAT WE REALIZE HOW IMPORTANT OUR SERVICE MEN AND WOMEN REALLY ARE TO US.

BUT TO REALIZE THEIR IMPORTANCE AFTER THEY HAVE PAID THE SUPREME SACRIFICE IS TOO LATE. WE NEED TO STOP NOW . . . ON ARMED FORCES DAY AND EVERY DAY . . . AND THINK ABOUT WHAT THEY HAVE GIVEN UP TO PROVIDE US WITH THE PROSPERITY AND FREEDOM WE ENJOY. MANY OF THESE INDIVIDUALS HAVE INTERRUPTED THEIR EDUCATION, THEIR FAMILY LIFE, AND THEIR JOB BECAUSE THEIR COUNTRY NEEDED THEM . . . AND THEY FELT IT WAS THEIR DUTY TO RESPOND AND TO PRESERVE OUR AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE. AND THEY OFTEN FACE DANGERS WHICH WE, THE AMERICANS AT HOME, SELDOM REALIZE.

WEBB AIR FORCE BASE FEDERAL CREDIT UNION IS VERY PROUD OF THESE MEN AND WOMEN WHO ARE SERVING OUR COUNTRY AND WHO CONSEQUENTLY ARE PROTECTING OUR AMERICAN HERITAGE. AND WHILE THIS IS A SMALL WAY TO SAY THANKS, WE HOPE IN SOME WAY THAT THOSE WHO ARE NOW SERVING OUR COUNTRY WILL REALIZE THAT WE ARE GRATEFUL TO THEM FOR THEIR SERVICES.

NO FORMAL EXERCISES PLANNED

Armed Forces Day To Be Observed Nationally

Although with no formal exercises, Big Spring and area join Saturday with hundreds of cities and communities across the land to observe the 25th annual Armed Forces Day. This year's theme is not "American Forces — Vigilant, Vital, Volunteer." It depicts the readiness of today's military men and women in a voluntary environment.

The traditional open house at Webb AFB is due to come a month later when the base is expected to graduate its 10,000th jet pilot. Saturday's activities will consist mainly of the "Olympics" at Webb. One reason for not attempting a double celebration is to restore the cooperation with the Department of Defense directive to conserve members of our Armed Forces.

The guardians of America's liberties deserve the admiration and respect of those they defend. This day provides each of us a specific opportunity to express our appreciation to America's men and women in uniform. Those dedicated professional and courageous citizens — the finest our society has to offer.

The nation's obligation to its Armed Forces dates back to June 14, 1775, when the Second Continental Congress voted to make the New England army the national militia and the following day named George Washington as commander. With the unification of the U.S. Armed forces in 1947, efforts were made to consolidate the separate observances of Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force Days. In 1941, the third Saturday in May was designated as Armed Forces Day, and the following year President Harry Truman issued a Presidential Proclamation setting May 20, 1950, as the first official Armed Forces Day.

Next year the military services — Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard — will celebrate their 200th anniversaries. Then in 1976, the United States of America will boast her bicentennial, and again the Armed Forces will play a key role.

John Lees Club Opened At Webb May 20, 1960

Formal opening of the John H. Lees Services Club at Webb AFB occurred May 20, 1960 — an event that predated the annual Armed Forces celebration.

The dedication address was delivered by Col. Donald W. Eisenhart, then wing commander.

Among the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lees of Big Spring, for whose son the club is named.

A Texan, with pioneer ancestry, Sgt. John H. Lees was homeward bound from a strike deep into Northern China in World War II, when his big B-25 received its mortal wounds.

Also dedicated to the sergeant's memory was a 16x25 portrait. This portrait hangs today on the wall near the entrance to the main ballroom.

Originally more than $126,000 was spent in improving the club. The first color scheme embraced walls of ivory, and furniture in bamboo terra cotta and greenish-blue. The wood finish is called fruitwood, and the lamps are of tall ceramic bases. The sofas are of Naugahyde leather.

A dance followed the dedication ceremony; music was provided by Roy Wray's orchestra.

A Salute to Webb
for your hard work and we appreciate your contribution to our community.

Demote ABC Chief After Wild Session

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission has demoted its enforcement chief after a stormy session in which one member called for removal of the agency's administrator.

Don Fishel was relieved as chief of the enforcement division during an executive session of the board, it was learned Thursday. No announcement was made of the decision.

Fishel, who has been in charge of ABC enforcement activities since 1968, was reassigned as district supervisor at San Angelo. He left Austin Wednesday night to take his new post.

Elmer Crowder, who was San Angelo district supervisor, was temporarily assigned to ABC headquarters with no definite duties, a commission source said.

Clay Knowles, Houston district supervisor, was ordered to Austin as Fishel's temporary replacement in charge of enforcement.

Fishel came to the ABC from the Department of Public Safety at the request of ABC Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr., who resigned in 1968 as head of the DPS intelligence section to take over the troubled liquor agency.

ABC employees were taken by surprise Wednesday when R. L. Thornton Jr. of Dallas moved at the commission's meeting to relieve Humphreys and seek a replacement, "preferably (one) with a great deal of experience."

Thornton went along, however, with commission member Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville, who wanted to delay consideration of the motion until the three-man commission's June meeting.

Humphreys was in Hawaii at a meeting of state liquor regulators but caught a plane home after learning of Thornton's move to oust him.

Thornton, a Dallas banker, said that while he did not believe Humphreys was deliberately withholding information, he got a "queasy feeling" at each meeting about whether the ABC members were receiving adequate facts.

"I never know if I have asked enough or the proper questions... and have no feeling of follow-up," Thornton said.

Thornton, who was appointed to the ABC by former Gov. Preston Smith in 1971, claimed last year there was "apparent laxness" in collection of liquor taxes at Mexican border stations.

In March, the ABC asked the Texas Research League to study agency operations, especially the considerable drop in arrests and convictions.

Unemployed Divorcee Continues Dog Fight

WEST UNIVERSITY PLACE, Tex. (AP) — Officials of this small city completely surrounded by Houston try for a court victory June 20 in their 12-year battle with Mrs. Carol Turk and her dogs.

The city will also try to condemn Mrs. Turk's house which they raided Tuesday, confiscating 39 dogs.

HARBORING MUTTS

Mrs. Turk, an unemployed divorcee, was charged with three counts of having unlicensed and unvaccinated dogs and one count of harboring more than three dogs.

A hearing is set before a municipal court judge June 20 on those charges.

Police Chief Richard Kesselus said an ordinance of this middle-class city of homes prohibits residents from keeping more than three dogs.

Mrs. Turk, who has been arrested several times over the past dozen years for harboring large number of cats and dogs, has asked the American Civil Liberties Union for help.

Leon Hirsch, an ACLU attorney, said there is evidence that West University Place police have harassed the woman.

IMPOUNDMENT FEE

Chief Kesselus said police obtained a search warrant and raided Mrs. Turk's home after numerous complaints from neighbors. None of the 39 dogs were licensed, apparently none were vaccinated and most of them had mange, he said.

Fred Dailey, Jr., city prosecuting attorney, said the city building inspector has ruled Mrs. Turk's home unfit for human habitation. Under city zoning laws, she has 30 days to vacate the home or make repairs, he said.

Dailey said he fell through rotted floorboards in the Turk home while accompanying officers Tuesday.

Chief Kesselus said the 39 dogs have been vaccinated and will be kept five days and then auctioned unless Mrs. Turk pays a $2 impoundment fee and 75 cents per day boarding charge.

Webster's Adds Modern Entries

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Did you know that "Ms." is now in Webster's? "Used instead of Miss or Mrs. as when the marital status of a woman is unknown" is how the Collegiate treats "Ms." The acceptable pronunciation is listed as "miz."

"Icekhana," "warning track" and "Juke" are new dictionary entries from what field? If you said "sports," go to the head of the class. "Icekhana" is from auto racing; "warning track" from baseball; and "Juke" from football. They're among hundreds of new sports words now in the dictionary.

BSSH Choir Will Offer Program

The Big Spring State Hospital choir will present a special program at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Tallett All Faith Chapel.

The program is in observance of Mental Health Month and the public is invited. A reception will be held immediately following the concert.

Those who might be interested in guided tours of the hospital may make arrangements for scheduling such tours by calling the volunteers office at the hospital, Ext. 308.

Lee Butler, director of chaplaincy services, issues a special invitation to all Big Spring citizens and the surrounding area to Sunday's concert.

Paper Is Made From Corn Starch

CHICAGO (AP) — A new method for making paper from corn starch was recently reported in Prairie Farmer, one of the nation's leading rural magazines.

The magazine says chemists at the USDA Northern Regional Research Laboratory in Peoria, Ill., have developed the corn starch derivative as a stable ready-to-use liquid. Paper made from this particular type of starch can be recycled, thus conserving timber and reducing costs.

It occupied a site familiar to those who resided here during World War II: A bombardier school had operated on the same spot. When it was ultimately deactivated following the end of hostilities in Asia, the City of Big Spring acquired title to the land.

Negotiations on the reopening began in April 1951. By summer of the same year, construction had begun. Oct. 1, 1951 was the official reactivation date.

Military Courses Have Different Point Value

WASHINGTON — There has been a policy change in the awarding of promotion points for completion of leadership courses.

Effective May 1, leadership courses lasting five weeks or longer will be worth 20 promotion points. This is an increase from 2 points per week.

The new policy does not refer to courses with current fixed promotion point values. The two points per week for successful completion will be retained for Officer Candidate School work.

Promotion points for non-leadership courses will remain at the rate of one point per week. Leadership courses completed through correspondence or extension courses will continue to be awarded at the rate of one-half point for each credit hour.

VETERAN TRAINER — Familiar in the World War II skies over Webb and Big Spring — the Beech AT-11 trainer. After its introduction in 1937, the Beech Model 18 became the military aircraft in which over 45,000 navigators and bombardiers learned their skills. Hundreds of them trained in Big Spring from 1942-46.

Air Force Still Attached To Army In Early Forties

The Air Force had not yet become a separate branch of the service when Big Spring was chosen as a site for a military air field.

At that time (1942), the air arm was still a branch of the U.S. Army and enlisted men and officers alike dressed in olive drab uniforms. Several months after the United States entered World War II, Big Spring was selected as the site of a bombardier school.

It was on April 28, 1942, that contract for construction of the Army Air Force Bombardier School was let. The site was two miles southwest of Big Spring, where the municipal airport previously had been located. Actual construction began May 15.

Col. Sam L. Ellis was first assigned as project officer and remained to become the first commanding officer when headquarters was activated on June 28, 1942.

Purpose of the field was to train aviation cadets in high altitude precision bombing, and the first class of cadets arrived Sept. 26, 1942, to begin bombardier training in B-18 and AT-11 training planes.

Training (by the 818th AAFBTS and 2509 AAF Base unit) consisted chiefly of ground school courses and practice missions over a target area larger than some of the nation's smaller states. The post proper covered an area of 1,260 acres. Upon completion of a rigid three-months' course, the first class graduated Dec. 17, 1942. (Ceremonies had been held on the first anniversary of Pearl Harbor Day.)

DIED SUDDENLY

Col. Ellis died suddenly on March 8, 1943, and Lt. Col. David Wade served as acting commandant until the appointment of Col. Robert W. Warren as commanding officer on March 19.

Col. Warren was replaced Feb. 26, 1944, by Col. H. M. Wittkop, who served until the appointment of Col. John P. Kenny the following May 16. After the transfer of Col. Kenny, Colonel Ralph C. Rockwood assumed command Aug. 4, 1944. Col. Rockwood was replaced by Col. John K. Nissley, who assumed command July 15, 1945. Col. Nissley was relieved by Lt. Col. Joseph F. Hunker who assumed command on Oct. 26, 1945.

Lt. Col. James F. Reed and Lt. Col. Albert W. Satterwhite formerly directors of training, served in several instances as acting commandants after the departure of a commanding officer and before the arrival of a replacement.

The forty-second class of cadets to finish the school completed the course of training and received the silver wings of bombardiers Sept. 26, 1945.

W. T. Wesson Last Cadet

Oct. 11, 1961 was a historic day for Webb AFB and a red letter day in the life of Aviation Cadet William T. Wesson.

That day marked the end of Aviation Cadet training in the Air Force's pilot training program. Wesson, only remaining cadet in the entire USAF, earned the gold bars of second lieutenant and his pilot's wings on that day.

The graduation ritual at Wing Headquarters was memorable in that the one-man member of Webb's Class 62-B2 had his second lieutenant's bars pinned on him by Brig. Gen. John A. Hilger, ATC Chief of Staff; and by Wing Commander Col. Wilson H. Banks.

Banks, now retired from the Air Force, is currently manager of the Midland air terminal.

Lt. Wesson later joined the instructor staff at Webb after completing the basic instructor course at Randolph AFB, San Antonio.

SECRETARY WARNER REMINDS THAT MISSION FULFILLED

This is the Armed Forces Day message of Secretary of the Navy John W. Warner:

This Armed Forces Day we have just completed the first full year in more than a decade during which no American military personnel have been involved in combat anywhere in the world. We have truly fulfilled our primary mission. That mission remains what it always has been for the American Armed Forces: to deter war through strength and readiness, and to protect vital United States interests abroad.

The United States Navy and Marine Corps have always been proud to provide the sea power team which is so essential to accomplishing that mission. Together with our sister services, our vigilant, vital all-volunteer Navy and Marine Corps are proud to serve the American people.

Today I welcome the opportunity to join the American civilian community in honoring all of our men and women in uniform.

Academy Started Two Decades Ago

In December of 1954 the first class of Webb's then newly opened NCO Academy settled down to nearly a week of intensive study and training.

The Academy graduated three classes prior to adjourning for the holiday season and commenced again just after the first of the new year.

The first Academy lasted five and one-half days and covered 20 subjects.

Undergraduate Program Here Was Begun In '62

A dozen years ago last March 30, class 62-F became the first class to get its wings at Webb AFB through the then-new Undergraduate Pilot Training program.

On March 30, 1962, aerobatic maneuvers by the Thunderbirds, the official U.S. Air Force demonstration team, highlighted a graduation day Open House program.

The graduating class of 2-F was comprised of 17 student pilots. The class was originally composed of 43 students. Among the 17 proud graduates were five active duty Air Force lieutenants, five Air National Guard lieutenants and seven German Air Force students.

Previously under the old system, students were required to spend three weeks at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, and then attend one of the primary flying schools.

62-F was also the last class to complete training in the T-33. UPT class 63-A completed their training in the supersonic T-38 Talon.

The then new UPT program consisted of 55 weeks of intensive training. Among the courses required were Aviation Physiology, principles of flight, T-37 aircraft engineering, flight instruments and flight operations.

Further academic courses stressed concepts of survival, aural and visual code, navigations, flight planning, weather and applied aerodynamics.

Class 62-F began its training at Webb AFB on March 13, 1961 and received all its training at Webb.

Last T 33 Adorns College Campus

When the T-33 was phased out in the Air Force training program, the final one to depart Webb AFB didn't have to be moved very far before it found a final resting place.

On Monday, Feb. 24, 1964, the craft was transported to its new home — on the campus of Howard County Junior College in northeast Big Spring. It still resides there.

After many months of preparation and negotiation, the T-33 was given as a permanent memorial to the City of Big Spring. About 9 a.m. Feb. 24, the T-33 was transported from the base through the north gate down U.S. 80 eastward to Big Spring. The transfer cross-town to the college campus was made on a dreary, misty morning. Crews towed the aircraft through the heart of downtown on Fourth Street to Birdwell Lane and then onto College to the dedication site.

Pilots Given Rugged Tests

No one claims undergraduate pilot trainees at Webb AFB of having it easy, what with schedules that involve academics, flying, military disciplines, physical fitness and working far into the night.

But for those who decide on a military career and who are especially proficient as pilots, a still tougher test lies ahead in becoming pilot instructors. In March 1971 this became the exclusive function of Randolph AFB. Each year, over 1,000 men, largely from UPT bases such as Webb, go through the program.

They spend six hours a day for the first nine training days in the academic classroom where they are tested and must obtain a minimum score of 80 per cent on subject matter.

Upon completion of this academic portion, pilot instructor trainees then report to the flightline where they receive training in either the T-37 or T-38 aircraft. The flying training curriculum is a rigorous and exacting regimen in contact, instruments, formation and navigation. The object is to develop the pilot's ability to simultaneously fly the aircraft while describing the what, why and how of aircraft operation.

The pilot instructor Training (PIT) course at Randolph is probably the roughest flying school in the world, if its students comments are any indication.

One said it was like graduating from high school (UPT) and going directly to medical school (IP).

But those who do make it have taken a giant stride toward a successful career in the military and in aviation.

Transition To Peacetime Noted By Army Official

This is the Armed Forces Day message of Howard H. Callaway, Secretary of the Army: The Army has been able to make a smooth transition from a draft-era Army to today's volunteer force — while, at the same time increasing our combat and mission effectiveness. The readiness of the Army has progressed at a rapid pace during the past few months. This is due largely to the increased emphasis in the areas of leadership development, professional training, educational opportunities, job

Income Might Sprout To No. 1

DALLAS (AP) — Two Texas A&M System officials say Texas' $6.1 billion agricultural income could sprout to No. 1 in the nation by 1980.

Dr. H.L. Kunkel, agriculture dean at Texas A&M, and Dr. Dan C. Pfannstiel, Texas Agricultural Extension Service associate director, made the predictions at a field day here.

Texas could reach $1 billion in agricultural production by 1980 if "we can maintain the trend we set from 1968 to 1972," Pfannstiel said.

About 1,500 persons attended the A&M System field day.

Navy Smaller But Puts Emphasis On Quality

A smaller Navy with an increasing emphasis on quality is the direction in which the United States Navy is moving. Perhaps the most challenging task facing the Navy is "telling it like it is," both to its own people and to the American public. Today's Navy recognizes that today's youth have an increasing desire to control their own lives and destinies. Authority needs more and more to be coupled with respect and ability. Thus with mandatory emphasis on modern leadership, the Navy has moved ahead rapidly to meet the challenge and to accomplish its primary mission — safeguarding the sealanes which are the lifelines of this nation and its allies.

DEVELOPED PROGRAM
Obtaining and retaining quality personnel are the keys, and the Navy has developed its Human goals program to try to meet these needs. Some ingredients are:

- To attract people with ability, dedication and capacity for growth.
- To provide a path for the individual's growth, limited only to his or her talent, desire and diligence.
- To make the Navy a model of equal opportunity for all.
- To assist Navy people who are completing their careers in preparing them for civilian life.
- To treat Navy people with dignity, respect and understanding. There are more than 200 innovative directives ranging from new dress standards to elimination of certain "mickey mouse" regulations.
- Some of the positive actions taken by the Navy are:
 - Emphasizing higher quality in recruiting.
 - Pursuing a renewed and vigorous internal relations program.
 - Conducting courses and seminars at various levels of management training, expanding all forms of educational and training opportunities.
 - Improving habitability standards for all Navy ships and shore stations.

SEPARATION REDUCED
Instituting a program to reduce the time of separation for Navy men and their families through overseas homeporting.

Opening new rates and specialties to women, including aviation and some shipboard duty.

Streamlining commands; consolidating some and eliminating other functions.

Planning and constructing new types of ships designed for modern and future needs as well as modifying some modes of operation to increase efficiency.

As a society is rapidly changing, so is the Navy. A popular recruiting slogan says it well: "The Navy's Not Just Sayin' It, We're Doin' It."

Confusion Exists On Filing Data

WASHINGTON — The Military Personnel Center has reported that some confusion exists on the filing of non-punitive unfavorable information.

According to AR 600-37, dated Oct. 17, 1972, any administrative reprimand, admonition and/or censure imposed by a commander or supervisor will be filed in the Military Personnel Records Jacket (MPRJ).

The regulation also stipulates that only such items signed by a General Officer and specifically designated by him for inclusion in the Official Military Personnel File (OMPF) will be forwarded to the Enlisted Records Center, Fort Benjamin Harrison.

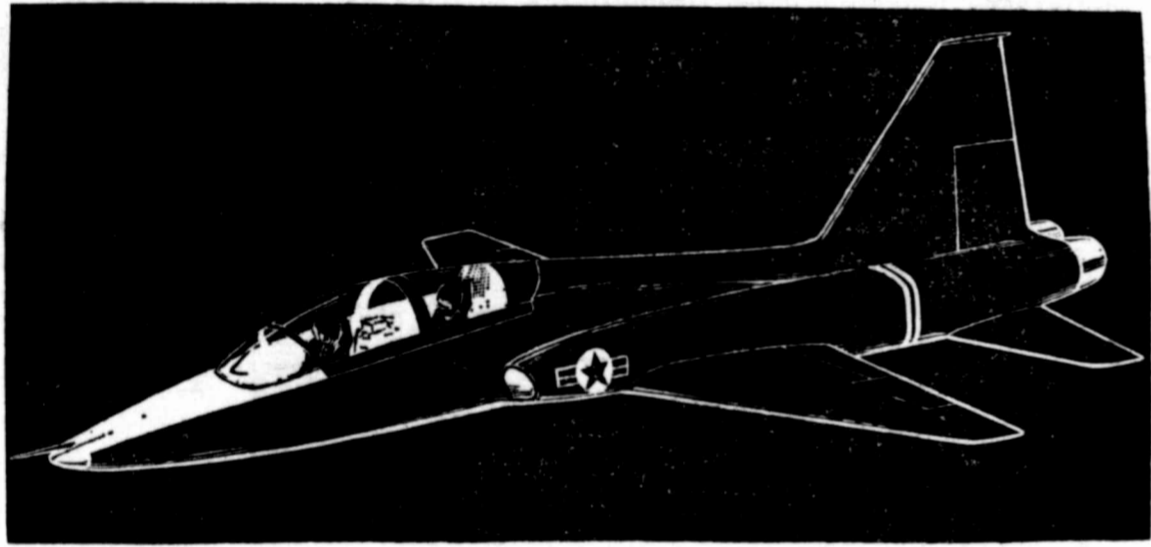

Only items prepared and processed in accordance with paragraph 2-4a, AR 600-37, will be filed in the OMPF; others will be returned to the writer.

Marine Corps Has Always Been Famed For Readiness

During 1973, the Marine Corps emphasized its peacetime stock-in-trade, combat readiness. The respite from rigors of full-time combat provided an excellent opportunity for revamping and trimming away excess fat while still being ready to answer any call necessary to defend our Nation's principles.

Even with this emphasis, the Corps had many worldwide responsibilities during 1973. There was an eight-month deployment from Vietnam and from Thailand. The readiness and adaptability of the Marine Corps was demonstrated in February when Marine helicopters — for the first time ever — were called upon for minesweeping operations in North Vietnamese waters in support of the cease-fire agreement in Vietnam. On the high seas Navy-Marine amphibious teams were committed to elements continually afloat in the Mediterranean and Western Pacific.

IN CHINA

Six enlisted Marines did something no other Marines had done in 24 years. They set up operations in mainland China as security guards at the newly established U.S. Liaison Office in Peking.

Several decisions were made to better utilize women Marines, removing restrictions on distaff members commanding other then women units (Col. Mary E. Bane was put in command of a predominantly male unit of 2,150 Marines at Camp Pendleton, Calif.). Several occupations were open to women for the first time. Near the year's end, there were three women members in the "President's Own" Marine Band.

Two Marine officers came for long-distance traveling. Lt. Col. Gerald P. Carr commanded the Skylab IV record-breaking 85-day mission in space, while Maj. (now Lt. Col.) Jack Lousma was pilot of the 59-day Skylab III mission.

High priority was given to ecology and several Marine installations won conservation awards.

KP REDUCED

Emphasis continued on the Corps human relations program. The Corps named Mrs. Helene D. Lewis to the full-time post of Equal Employment Opportunity Coordinator to insure efforts for minorities and women, and to discrimination among civilian employees.

Marines started getting their checks twice a month. Several hundred civilians were hired at selected stateside bases for mess duty to free junior troopers for more meaningful jobs.

The corps began using "Gamma Goat," an amphibious conveyance which can go in most terrain and even "swims" by using wheels for propulsion and maneuvering.

The Marines also replaced the 32-year-old back pack with a new one that is the latest in load-carrying equipment. The Corps self-propelled 155 mm howitzer is updated with an eight-foot longer tube, increasing range. The AV-8A Harrier was introduced to increase vertical take off and landing capability.

But one of the biggest bits of new was launching of the first general-purpose amphibious assault ship, the USS Tarawa, hailed as "the backbone of our amphibious forces for the rest of this century." It is the first of five of the largest, fastest and most versatile vessels in the history of amphibious warfare.

KEEPING UP

Changes are being made to keep up with times. Headquarters has been streamlined, overlapping functions being eliminated. Infantry units were modernized with one rifleman in each fireteam now armed with a 40 mm grenade launcher; with a new squad composed of a team for new multishot flamethrowers and antitank weapons; and eventually a unit for radar detection and surveillance.

Training still is a keynote for the Corps, which staged testing operations in Korea, southern California, the Philippines and Turkey.

HOLD ON! — Bracing as they go over the top of 15 foot water fall, this raft crew prepares to hit the rushing current. The crew was part of a group of 27 men from Battery A, 2d Battalion 92d Field Artillery, who participated in an adventure training expedition down the Lahn River in West Germany.

Fighting Force Predates 1776

More than a year before the Colonies got around to declaring that these were independent and sovereign states, the Continental Congress created the nation's fighting force.

It was on June 14, 1775, that the second Continental Congress authorized the Establishment of the Army.

Resolved that six companies of expert riflemen be immediately raised in Pennsylvania, two in Maryland, two in Virginia, read the resolution: "that each company consist of a captain, three lieutenants, four sergeants, four corporals, a drummer or trumpeter, and 68 privates."

"That each company, as soon as completed, shall march and join the Army near Boston, to be there employed as light infantry, under command of the chief officer in that Army."

A committee, which included George Washington, was named to draw up a draft of rules and regulations for the government of the Army, and thus the Army was born.

The young Army endured much and suffered bitterly in the early days of its existence.

In the terrible winter of 1777 at Valley Forge, Gen. Washington and his ragged soldiers waged a decisive battle — not against the British — but against cold, hunger, despair and disease. The courage and fortitude which pulled them through this critical test enabled them to rally and force the British to surrender at Yorktown in 1781.

Since that time the Army has compiled unbroken record of protecting the American concept of freedom and government.

Gen. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff, defined the Army's role in saying: "The Army belongs to the people, and it is made up of the people. It draws its officers and soldiers from every walk of life — from every part of America. The Army is a cross section of our free society."

But the Army's contributions have gone beyond its military protective role. For instance, Mapping and surveying the land west of the Appalachians. Conserving and managing water resources that contribute to the production of electrical power, flood control and ample water supply.

Conquering typhoid and yellow fever. Developing a means of water purification through chlorination.

Pioneering in use of X-rays. Pioneering in the use of freeze-dried foods.

Opening the way for use of miniature electronic components in communications equipment.

Today it also is providing, in some areas, helicopter ambulance evacuation victims; offering assistance to victims in natural disaster areas with evacuation, food clothing and medical supplies.

But underlying it all is the rich heritage of delivering its mission of defense, attested by the 139 streamers on the Army's battle flag, put there in sacrifice and brave service to the country.

Army Still Has Global Mission

Today's Army is a vigilant, vital, volunteer member of the national defense team.

Despite the reduction in its total strength, the Army still has a global mission, mainly concentrated in Europe and Asia. It maintains 13 1-3 active Army divisions, eight Army National Guard divisions, and 12 Army reserve training divisions. The Army helps out allies and friendly foreign countries to attain adequate military capabilities to defend their freedom.

In addition, the Army is called upon to assist local communities and to aid in disaster relief. Perhaps no other agency is called upon for this type of assistance more often than the Army National Guard because of its dual federal-state role.

READINESS

The deployment of Army forces overseas is vital for peace. The U.S. Army Europe is the most versatile Army force in the field today. To maintain and demonstrate the mobility and flexibility in combat readiness, the Army each year conducts a Reforger Exercise. Last year eight nondivisional units and the 1st Infantry Division (MECH) were deployed to Europe to participate in the exercise, showing the capability of the U.S. to send major combat forces overseas.

Stationed in Korea through three years of war and 20 years of peace, Eighth Army soldiers have served with distinction in helping to maintain the security of the Republic of Korea, facing a stronger South Korea, and reflecting our nation's determination to honor its commitments.

CHANGES

Significant changes have occurred within the Army since the end of involvement in the Vietnam War. Preparing for an era of smaller active forces, higher costs and zero draft, the Army reorganized to insure the highest possible degree of combat readiness for the active Army, Army National Guard and Army Reserve. The old Continental Army Command was split into two new sister commands FORSCOM (Army Forces Command at Fort McPherson, Ga. and TRADOC (Army Training and Doctrine Command) at Fort Monroe, Va.

LUBBOCK — A research team dealing in brush control throughout mesquite infested areas of Texas, some 56 million acres, have come upon what a lot of folks might consider the eighth wonder of the world. That is mesquite can be controlled some of the time under normal rainfall with chemical treatments.

Mesquite trees are tough. Chop them down without completely destroying the roots, and they come right back, this time with several trunks instead of one. Spray them with 2, 4, 5-T, one of the most formidable chemical weapons man has devised, and under the best conditions for kill only 58 per cent are destroyed.

"Best conditions," according to Charles E. Fisher, head of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's brush control field team, "are when the amount of rainfall is near the normal average from late fall to early spring."

These are fortified with the Health Services Command at Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

The Army began officially operating as a volunteer force in July 1973. Thus ended the conscription that had lasted (with exception of a 15-month period after World War II) for almost 30 years. The Army has been working hard at making military service attractive, a meaningful part of the life of young people, not an interruption. Programs to attract and retain highly qualified and talented personnel are among the highest priorities of the Army.

MORE WOMEN

Women are volunteering for service at ever-increasing numbers, and plans call for increasing authorization of enlisted Women's Army Corps (WAC) personnel from 23,000 now to 50,000 in 1979.

Reenlistment efforts are excellent, with the objective of 46,500 being exceeded by 700.

Aiding has been a number of programs to enhance professionalism and make the Army a more satisfying and meaningful experience. Soldiers continue to be relieved of those tasks that do not relate to readiness training so that they may train full strength. Besides the Noncommissioned Officer Education System, the Army education service has been developed to allow every soldier a minimum high school equivalency (if this were lacking).

VERSATILITY

Versatility also is being stressed. All officers in the future will be required to develop a second specialty in their field years.

The Army is making progress in improving the living environment of all members. New construction and rehabilitation of existing barracks is being accomplished with recognition for the individual's need for personal privacy and security.

The Army continues positive measures to eliminate discrimination within its ranks and insure equal opportunity to every soldier. Career advancement for minority officers, for example has become more efficient. There are 12 black generals in the active Army, two in the Army Reserve, one in the Army National Guard. There are 121 minority plebe

First Units Still Used

Contracts for the construction of five "on-base" family housing units were awarded by the Corps of Engineers early in April 1962.

The units, including two duplex-type and one single set of quarters, were located at the base of Scenic Mountain, south of the NCO Club.

Precursors of the Capehart Housing project, the five units still serve as homes for Webb military personnel.

The Capehart Housing units were completed in 1959. First Lt. Val G. Nelson was the pioneer among military residents of the Capehart area, moving into a two-bedroom unit on Chanute Drive, May 22, 1959.

Oct. 20, 1959, Col. Donald W. Eisenhart redesignated the housing units as Webb Village, and appointed a village council to serve as an advisory board.

Bandits, Bungling Bureaucrats Blunt Drought Relief Work

N'DJAMENA, Chad (AP) — Emergency drought relief operations in the famine zone of sub-Saharan West Africa are plagued by everything from armed bandits to bungling bureaucrats.

Nevertheless, relief officials stress that the bulk of hundreds of thousands of tons of food and other supplies being rushed to the region from abroad is reaching the millions of famished Africans who are almost totally dependent on it for survival.

COMPLAINTS

They complain bitterly, however, that corruption, soaring costs of transportation, tribal discrimination in food distribution and a critical lack of facts are hampering the relief efforts.

Diplomats of donor nations are angry but say they are almost helpless in the face of profiteering by officials of some governments whose people are threatened by starvation.

A lack of paved roads, poor communications, shortages of fuel and trucks have also frustrated relief efforts in the drought-stricken area.

Many diplomats and relief workers interviewed across the Sahara say they fear critical reports on drought relief operations might adversely affect efforts to raise urgently needed funds and food in the United States and Europe.

They repeatedly underlined that the six-year drought in West Africa is a major disaster in which millions face possible starvation.

AID NEEDED

No matter what the problems, they said, massive inputs of food and other aid are desperately needed.

The countries worst hit by the savage dry spell range in a sub-Saharan arc through Mauritania, Senegal, Upper Volta, Mali, Niger and Chad.

But the drought has crept south, striking crops and livestock in other countries including Gambia, Ghana and Nigeria.

"These countries are among the poorest and most backward in the world," said one United Nations official. "We are not only fighting mass starvation but the whole syndrome of underdevelopment."

DIRT ROADS

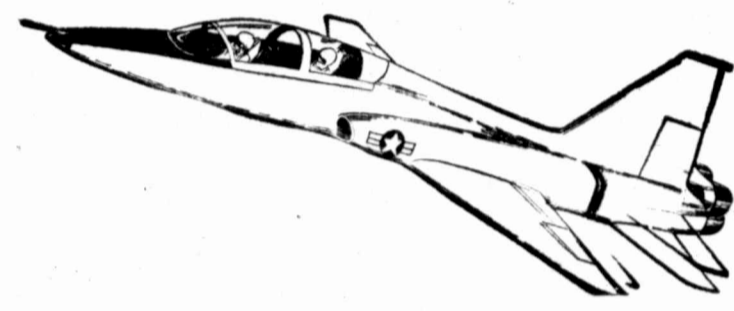

In one country, which a diplomatic source insisted should not be identified, foreign diplomats recently had to get together and demand action by procrastinating local government officials to organize nationwide food distribution.

With just three months to go before the rains, which every year wash out West Africa's primitive network of dirt roads, the government concerned had not yet planned food distribution in refuge areas likely to be cut off.

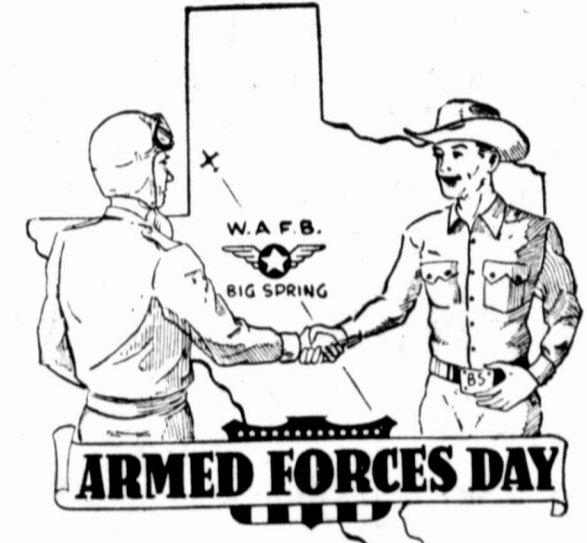

A West German airlift is under way in Chad where armed antigovernment rebels, commonly called "bandits," have made it impossible to deliver food to some areas by road without an army escort.

But Chad, a nation of four million landlocked in the heart of Africa, is a transport nightmare in the best of times.

Military Man Bruised, 'Copter Rammed By Goat

FORT RUCKER, Ala. (ANF) — There is a goat in southern Alabama that does not like the Army entering his pasture. Pfc Rekey W. Pierce, Company E, 30th Infantry, has bruises to prove it.

Private Pierce, Alberta, Ala., had no intention of butting into the goat's business. He was just guarding a TG-55 helicopter that had landed in the pasture because of the low oil-pressure reading. The pilot had left Private Pierce to wait for the maintenance crew.

THE ATTACK

"It was threatening rain, so I was in my pup tent. All of a sudden, a goat charged at me and there seemed to be feet and horns everywhere," Pierce said.

After freeing himself from the tent, the goat knocked Pierce down a time or two before he could reach the shelter of the aircraft.

But this did not stop of Billy He attacked the helicopter!

THE ESCAPE

"He was butting against the ship, and I decided I had better leave it before more damage occurred," Pierce said. So he climbed out and ran to a nearby fence, jumping over it just in time to escape further injury.

He was still there, with the goat charging up and down the fence, when the maintenance people arrived. They were not warmly welcomed either.

THE DAMAGE

The cost to repair the helicopter is only $100. And the cause of damage is listed as "a goat attack."

THE MORAL

Billy maintains that he is justified in defending the pasture because his "nanny" and "kids" are there. The Army simply does not have the right to horn in on his home.

Coast Guard Accepting Fems For Enlistment

The United States Coast Guard, smallest of the nation's Armed Forces, ushered in 1974 with a new look and new legislation.

The new look comes from the new distinctive uniforms for the Coast Guard. Gone are the "Navy" type uniforms which Coast Guardsmen have worn since the beginning of the Service in 1790. Replacing the old uniform will be new single-breasted blue outfits with officers and enlisted personnel wearing the same style.

The new legislation, signed into law in December 1973 by President Nixon, opened the way for women to enter the Coast Guard (formerly they could belong only to reserve units).

WORLDWIDE JOB
Though small in numbers (approximately 38,000), the Coast Guard has worldwide responsibilities. They man the LORAN (long range aid to navigation) stations stretching from the Far East through the Arctic and to Europe. They also man inspection stations from Singapore to London or Bremen.

Late in 1973, the Coast Guard launched the Free World's most powerful icebreaker. Christened POLAR STAR, the 12,000-ton ship's gas turbine develops 600,000 shaft horsepower to maintain a three knot speed through six feet of ice, or to ram and break 21-foot thick ice. A sister ship is to be launched in 1975.

Search and rescue (SAR) and environmental protection keep the Coast Guard ships, planes and stations on the alert. During the year the Coast Guard responded to 54,000 calls for assistance, most of them from recreational boaters. Approximately 4,000 deaths were prevented and more than 125,000 persons assisted. SAR efforts saved property valued in excess of $230 million.

A "first" was tacked up in April 1973 when the Coast Guard Reservists were mobilized to assist in flood relief operations in the Midwest.

The fight against pollution continued on a wider scale. Federal laws require that all oil spills must be reported to the Coast Guard which assesses a civil penalty in each case.

Public Has Misconceptions Of Air Force And Its Aims

This is a message from Secretary of the Air Force John L. McLucas:
The public has to have a balanced perspective about where defense fits into today's world, about where we're going, about the problems we face and what we're going to do about them.
Many of the things the public thinks it knows about defense just aren't true. So the problem we face is to correct those misinterpretations of events and to correct those gaps in their knowledge.

I am concerned that some of our fellow Americans don't know as much as they should about why an Air Force is needed, and what it does, and what it can do if called upon.

The unique capabilities of airpower and the basic principles governing its proper use have to be more thoroughly understood by Americans in general. What the Air Force contributes to our country during peace time; how we help deter war; and what we are doing and plan to do should be widely known.

As the Nation pays tribute to men and women of the Armed Forces, it is right that the commitment of those in the Air Force to public service be recognized. You frequently must make sacrifices and adjust to rapid and difficult change. Yet you, with your families, accept these challenges as part of being dedicated to the military profession and the nation.

Under the National Security Act of 1947, the Air Force was established as a separate service to be "organized trained and equipped primarily for prompt and sustained offensive and defensive air operations."

For more than 26 years, the Air Force has successfully accomplished its mission. The task has grown extremely difficult in recent years due to the rapidly changing international situation coupled with severe cutbacks in resources.

Air Force personnel strength has decreased steadily from more than 905,000 members at the peak of the Southeast Asia conflict to about 673,000 in December 1973. Some Air Force installations are being closed both at home and abroad. Meanwhile, the number of aircraft in the Air Force inventory also has decreased. Yet the Air Force has pledged to accomplish its mission through careful planning, effective utilization of new technology, and continued dedication by all personnel.

NEW IBMS
The Air Force is moving ahead with its forces modernization program. For example, the newer Minuteman II and III intercontinental ballistic missile systems have largely replaced the older Minuteman I (the III missiles carry multiple warheads capable of striking separate targets). The B-1 intercontinental strategic bomber is scheduled to fly within the next year or two, eventually replacing a portion of the aging B-52 force. The F-15 Eagle, a high performance fighter, designed for high maneuverability, is expected to insure air superiority against any enemy aircraft in the foreseeable future. The airborne warning and control system (AWACS) is undergoing comprehensive testing before entering the Air Force operational inventory in 1976. Also, the TACSOON will test the A-10 — the first Air Force craft designed for close air support.

GUARD AND RESERVE
The Air Force continues to modernize its Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve as part of the total force policy. During the past two years, aircraft modernization has taken place in approximately one-third of the 92 Air National Guard and one fourth of the Air Force Reserve flying units. They have been equipped with such aircraft as the F-105, F-106 and A-7.

Many people are familiar with important contributions of U.S. airpower made in support of objectives in World War II, the Berlin Airlift and Korea. More recent examples are equally persuasive: When Paris peace negotiations were deadlocked in December 1972, bombing of selected North Vietnamese military targets was resumed with as many as 400 U.S. aircraft over the country at one time, which was followed by a resumption of talks signing of a treaty and return of U.S. prisoners of war; also the delivery of 950 tons of supplies and equipment within 48 hours when it became apparent that the Soviet Union was conducting a vigorous supply to Arab states in the Middle East and creating an imbalance (within a month 500 missions resulted in 22,500 tons of resupply to Israel).

VOLUNTEER PERSONNEL
The military draft ended July 1973 and posed new challenges for the Air Force. Recruiters enlisted 85,000 new recruits in 1973, of whom 94 per cent had at least a high school education. The Air Force gave special emphasis to recruiting minority officers, women and health professionals. Air Force job opportunities also have been opened significantly for women. The goal is to increase the present 20,000 women to 48,000 by 1978.

BEST ASSET
The Air Force has always tried to stay one step ahead of potential aggressors in weapon systems and in research and technology. However, the Air Force sees people as its most important asset. To help meet tough social challenges, the Air Force is allocating much time to support of education training and other people programs. Its Drug and Alcohol Abuse Prevention Program helps rehabilitate and assist personnel to return to fulltime, unrestricted duty. Race relations education brings the different ethnic groups together and promotes harmony through understanding. The Air Force Equal Opportunity and Treatment Program guarantees all people equal and just treatment regardless of race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

The Air Force continues to emphasize good community relations by assisting civilians through Community Services Programs.

Education and training take high priority. The new Community College of the Air Force now makes it possible for active duty enlisted personnel to not only get technical training, but to select off-duty college courses which lead to a certificate equivalent to the two-year college associate degree.

Killer Rhodes Seized By FBI

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A convicted killer who gained his freedom after allegedly switching identities with another prisoner in Texas was arrested by FBI agents as he reportedly was on his way to surrender to Las Vegas police, authorities reported today.

An FBI spokesman said Wallace Lloyd Rhodes Jr., 25, was arrested today shortly before midnight near a relative's home. Rhodes was in a car with two representatives of the public defender's office and a newsman.

Rhodes, of Henderson, Nev., had been the object of a nationwide search since he was freed in Dallas on May 2. He allegedly had switched names with another prisoner and gained his release from a federal judge after filing a writ of habeas corpus.

Rhodes was convicted of kidnaping several persons and killing of them after a 1972 Idaho jail break.

About a month ago Rhodes and another prisoner, Richard Larry Rusk, 24 were waiting to be transferred to the federal prison in Marion, Ill.

Rhodes was to serve a 10-year term for kidnaping, and Rusk was supposed to wind up in Dallas where he faced narcotics charges.

But the two men switched places, and Rhodes eventually was freed by a judge in Dallas after assuming two other names.

Will Continue To Sweeten Paychecks Of Judges, DAs

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Large counties will be allowed to continue to sweeten the paychecks of their judges and district attorneys under proposals approved Thursday by the Constitutional Convention.

The state pays $25,000 a year to district judges and $15,500 a year to district attorneys, but the big counties supplement those salaries because of heavier caseloads.

Harris County, for example, pays $12,000 extra to some of its district judges, Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade gets a total

Lawn Tractor Sales To Rise

CHICAGO (AP) — The fuel shortage will have no effect on lawn and garden equipment sales in 1974, according to Darwin Keetering, senior vice president for operations of Massey-Ferguson, world's largest maker of tractors, and a leading manufacturer of lawn and garden machines.

According to Keetering, industry sales of lawn and garden tractors would rise 7 per cent over 1973. Massey-Ferguson expects its own lawn equipment sales to increase by 9 per cent this year.

"The fuel shortage will force more people to stay at home this summer," said Keetering. "As a result, money spent on lawn and garden activities will show an increase. Dollars previously slated for vacation driving, motor homes, watercraft and other vacation-oriented activities will be channeled to lawn and garden products."

Wilson Is Named BSALU Prexy

Bob Wilson was elected president of the Big Spring Association of Life Underwriters when it met at noon Thursday in the Downtown Tea Room.

Other new officers include Mrs. Melba Soles, vice president; Joe Dunn, secretary treasurer and directors, including Walter Stroup, Bob Watlington, Snyder; John Agee, Lamesa, John Hale and Ray Weir.

Stroup and Watlington were named delegates to attend the state convention in McAllen June 28 and 29.

They also set plans for their installation dinner to be held June 13 with Price Perrill, state president of TALU, to be the guest speaker.

Jewels Yarn For The Birds

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Oh, that's for the birds," commented First Lady Pat Nixon when asked about a newspaper story concerning a gift of jewelry from the Saudi Arabian royal family.

Mrs. Nixon was responding to a report, first disclosed in The Washington Post by columnist Maxine Cheshire, that the jewelry had been kept in Mrs. Nixon's bedroom safe before being recorded in a special White House gifts office.

The White House acknowledged Tuesday that the First Lady and her daughters over the past five years had accepted jewelry worth more than $52,400 from the Saudi Arabian family, but said it was all within the bounds of official protocol and was properly recorded.

However, Mrs. Cheshire said the jewelry was not actually processed or received by the gifts office until March 28, 1974, after a reporter asked to see records on specific Saudi jewels.

of $30,000 a year, nearly twice the base amount.

The Judiciary Committee recommended paying all district attorneys the same amount, but proposed allowing supplemental pay for judges.

Rep. DeWitt Hale-D-Corpus Christi, who opposes extra pay on the ground "You can't serve two masters," urged the delegates to be consistent and vote for supplemental pay for both or for neither.

Other opponents argued that if either should get extra pay, it should be the district attorneys, because they cannot be moved around the way judges may be under the proposed unified judicial system. The purpose of the system is to equalize dockets.

110 ASSISTANTS

Rep. Carig Washington, D-

Houston, said Harris County has four grand juries working all the time, and the district attorney there has 110 assistants to try the cases.

Rep. Bill Sullivant, D-Gainesville, said he realized that delegates who practice law in Houston and Dallas would have to vote for extra pay for the judges "because those judges like that supplement, but the (local) people don't like to have to pay it. They would rather the state pick it up."

IT'S GOOD

The convention decided to allow extra pay for both judges and district attorneys. It voted 121-20 against an attempt to kill supplemental pay for district attorneys, then voted 90-34 against an attempt to knock out bonus pay for judges.

Delegates also beat back, 85-

68, Washington's second attempt this week to retain the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

"Just because Texas is the only state with the bifurcated system, doesn't mean it's bad. I think it's good," Washington said. "Oklahoma also has the divided-court system, with civil and criminal cases going to separate courts of last resort."

Washington said legal authorities from France, England and other states have come to this state to study the Texas system, and some states are thinking about adopting it.

The workload is killing, he admitted, but the way to solve that problem is to create four intermediate courts of criminal appeals, with the highest court taking only those cases it wants.

BY CUSHMAN Men, Women In Uniform Saluted

This is a message from Commandant of the Marine Corps R. E. Cushman Jr. Armed Forces Day is traditionally set aside by Americans everywhere to salute those men and women who proudly wear the American uniform. The survival of our country as a Nation of free men depends on the willingness and dedication of her citizens to defend the traditions and ideals articulated by our forebearers nearly 200 years ago. Our freedom was not easily won nor can it be maintained without constant sacrifice and determination. Today as in times past, our freedom is protected by those who have answered the call to arms. Whatever demands the changing climate of our times may hold for the nation, I am confident that each Marine, Sailor, Soldier, Airman and Coast Guardsman will meet every challenge with competence, versatility, and with the high sense of purpose and devotion to duty that has earned the American fighting man the respect of our adversaries.

Our volunteers, who continually demonstrate their respect for the principles and traditions of our proud heritage, are dedicated to the peaceful fulfillment of our American people. More than ever before, our servicemen and women can hold their heads high as they persist in their love for home, country, and humanity so that men will ever be free.

USCG Proud Of Challenge

This is the Armed Forces Day message of Admiral C. R. Bender, commandant of the U.S. Coast Guard.

The United States Coast Guard, smallest of the five Armed Forces, is proud to share this honor and the responsibilities that are thrust upon our military services.

The members of the Armed Forces, be they soldiers, sailors, or airmen, are ever mindful that peace comes to those who are willing to make sacrifices for their country.

Our volunteers, who continually demonstrate their respect for the principles and traditions of our proud heritage, are dedicated to the peaceful fulfillment of our American people.

More than ever before, our servicemen and women can hold their heads high as they persist in their love for home, country, and humanity so that men will ever be free.

Standards Are Tightened Up

WASHINGTON — The standards for awarding the good conduct medal are being tightened. The new criteria for the award will be reflected in the revision of AR 672-5-1 due out soon.

The good conduct medal will not be awarded as simply an administrative matter for three years of service, but will reflect that the soldier has conducted himself in such an exemplary manner as to distinguish him from among his fellow soldiers.

Records of non-judicial punishment will not automatically disqualify a soldier for the medal. But the immediate commander must evaluate the soldier's character as above reproach.

Teachers' Study To Open June 3

ABILENE — An intensive program of summer studies especially designed for elementary school teachers in the Big Country area is being offered by the Department of Education at Hardin-Simmons University.

Dr. Jack Longbotham, chairman of the Division of Education, said that Dr. Betty Morgan of Lubbock would teach the courses as a visiting professor on the summer faculty.

The courses are Education 611, Seminar in Elementary School Language Arts; and Education 612, Methods and Materials in Elementary School. The class will be held from 8:30 a.m. and from 11:20-12:50.

Dr. Morgan holds the B.S. degree and the Master of Education degree from Texas Tech. She earned the Ph.D. in Education from Southern Illinois University.

Registration for the first summer term at H-SU will begin at 8:30 a.m. Monday, June 3, in Sid Richardson Science Center. Students who plan to take the courses for credit toward a graduate degree must meet the admission requirements of the university's Division of Graduate studies, Dr. Longbotham said.

A Special Salute To The Men and Women at Webb For Their Fine Work They Are Doing for Our Country

Spray Triggers Child's Cancer

DALLAS (AP) — A government cancer specialist said Thursday there is a possibility that vinyl chloride has been the unsuspected congenital cause of some cases of childhood cancer.

Vinyl chloride, a component of some hair and wig spray, recently was incriminated as a cause of liver cancer in some industrial workers manufacturing the chemical.

IN THE WOMB

Dr. Robert W. Miller said it is conceivable that the seeds for eventual cancer were innocently transmitted to certain fetuses still in the womb by mothers using hair sprays containing vinyl chloride during their pregnancy.

And the further question arises, he said, whether beauticians "working in a constant haze of such (vinyl chloride) aerosol" were a special risk if they were pregnant before such hair sprays were recently banned by the government following the industrial liver-cancer evidence.

Dr. Miller is chief of the epidemiology branch of the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md.

FOOT SPRAYS

And his comments lend additional possible significance to the action by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) last month in ordering the recall of vinyl chloride-containing hair sprays, wig sprays and certain medical vaporizers such as athlete's foot sprays.

In such products, the chemical—in its gaseous form—has been employed as a propellant. Miller made the statement in addressing the First National Conference on Childhood Cancer sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

ALERT

The conference was called "to alert the medical commu-

ity to the progress being made in the diagnosis and treatment of childhood cancer."

Childhood cancer of various types strikes one in 7,000 children and ranks only second to accidents as a killer of children under 15 years of age.

Reports to the conference stressed that notable advances continue to be made against the disease, especially during the last 10 years.

Dr. Miller mentioned vinyl chloride in declaring that actual or suggestive evidence is accumulating that various "environmental" factors—such as certain drugs, industrial chemicals and man-made therapeutic and nuclear bomb radiation—may contribute to the production of cancer later in life among individuals "exposed early in childhood or even before birth."

ATOMIC BOMBINGS

By pure coincidence on the day when the world mourned the slaying of 20 children in Israel by Arab terrorists, Miller said evidence has lately been reported that:

Among 11,000 Israeli children given radiation treatment for "tinea capitis"—ringworm of the scalp—12 to 23 years ago, 24 eventually developed malignant tumors of the brain, parotid gland or thyroid gland, and 11 others developed benign growths.

Miller also said evidence is continuously being gathered by the U.S. Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission among survivors of the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945.

Miller said while there already has been established evidence of above-normal rates of leukemia among offspring of Japanese exposed to bomb radiation, this new evidence suggests a further possibility that "there may be a very high rate of cancer other than leukemia as the (leukemic) patients reach adult age."

First Closed Playday Is Set By Youth Horsemen

The first closed playday of the year, sponsored by the Howard County Youth Horsemen will be held Saturday, in the Garden City highway arena with registration set at 6 p.m.

Scheduled events include barrel racing, AJRA and AASP and RC pole bending, flag race, and the ring race or potato race. The events are open to club members of all ages. Anyone desiring to join the club on the playday may pay a $5 per family dues.

Points earned at the event, plus those earned June 15 and July 13, will be tallied for end of the year high point awards in each age group, with belt buckle awards.

Mrs. H. E. McMahan and Mrs. Ronnie Ringener will be in charge of the concession Saturday. At the monthly meeting Monday, Dr. Nell Sanders was named chairman of a committee to study the possibility of repeating the Little Britches Rodeo next year.

A. G. Salazar was congratulated for winning the April playday money presentation. Lana Crittendon and Becky Ragan were named to represent the club at the West Texas Fair in Abilene Sept. 12-14. They will compete in the queen and princess contests.

The Howard County Sheriff's Posse expressed appreciation to the club for their assistance with last week's Pony Express tournament. They will also help

Life With Star Pretty 'Hard'

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Joanne Woodward says life with a famous movie star husband can be difficult.

The wife of actor Paul Newman says it's "damn hard" to live with a star. "This overpowering image, this idol-of-millions business, is terrible to live with. You forget who he really is and what he's really like," she said in an interview with Good Housekeeping magazine.

Miss Woodward said she would like separate beds in her home at Westport, Conn., but Newman "will have none of it." She added: "A double bed been married for for 16 years."

Westside Directors Convene

Joe Dawes and Don De Leeuw were voted to membership of the Westside Community Center board of directors when that group met Tuesday. The board also instructed the secretary to write a letter of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Eren Abero for their service as board members. Mrs. Ben Boacle, president, presided at the meeting.

Budgets for both the center and the Day Care Center were discussed, and representatives will meet with the United Fund board June 4.

Julian Patterson, president of the Day Care Center board, reported that enrollment is close to capacity, with several vacancies due to age distribution requirements.

The Rev. Jim Collier, program chairman of Westside, reported that the program is going well and is generally winding down for the summer. The choir presented their spring concert to a sizable crowd. The Boy Scout troop has 10 boys registered for summer Scout camp, but others will need supplementary funds to enable them to attend. The troop is led by Richard Acuna, Jesse Gomez and Romero Salazar.

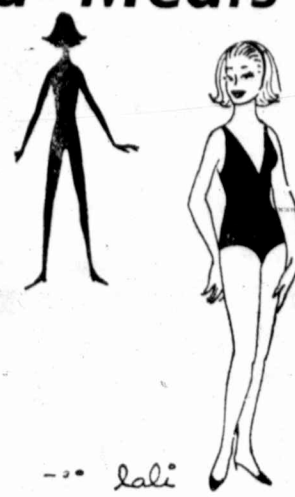

The board agreed to pay the registration fee and furnish transportation so that members of the center's Brownie troop may attend the Brownie Day Camp.

Rev. Collier reported that a work-study student from Howard College is being secured to work at the Day Care Center for the summer, and that Westside will probably get a student to work with program activities for the summer. The center discontinues many of its regular activities for the summer, and plans to add a number of new programs in the fall.

A LOVELIER YOU Slim-Jane Must Eat Well-Planned Meals

By MARY SUE MILLER
The reedy, boyish figure first came into vogue with high-fashion photography. Leap-frogging the years, boyish has come to mean "skinny." Straight up and down.

A slim-Jane dreams of gaining. But the process is slow and frustrating, even when the health is up to par. In good health, and desiring increased weight, you must increase your intake to 3200 calories per day. And that means you must consume more food than you want or even enjoy. For instance, you cannot slight breakfast. It is a most important meal, revving the daily fires of energy.

You need to chalk up at least 500 calories at breakfast in a balance of food patterned on this sample: Fruit, 2 poached eggs, 2 strips broiled bacon, 2 slices buttered whole wheat toast.

The plan calls for eating three well-balanced and wholesome meals. Do snack on real foods; avoid junk foods. Cup custard, not sweet-loaded soft drinks.

With patience and perseverance you will gain and fill out knifeblade shoulders, stringbean legs, and a sharp chin. Better still, you will have more drive and sparkle.

It is to be hoped that you will re-educate your appetite to accept the food you should have when you should have it. That's the best part.

YOUR GAIN

Are you too, too thin? And you never can gain an ounce? Send for my leaflet, "Your Gain." It shows you how to gain a pound a week by eating the right foods, working with spot-increasing routines and having fun. Plus tips on your most flattering fashion styles. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Highest Priority

Saturday we come to the observance of Armed Forces Day in a time setting of international uncertainty and domestic tribulation.

Translated into practical terms, it means simply that the defense budget is under great peril because of pressures for funding domestic programs of various sorts, and ironically, because of a welcome prospect of detente between of world's super powers.

Yet, there are two prime things which must not be forgotten: First, freedom still belongs only to those who are able to defend it, and second, that the cost of adequate defense is far greater per degree today than ever before, not only because of inflation, but because the all-volunteer concept has imposed the unprecedented fiscal burdens.

When World War II was ended, we mistakenly, in a massive reaction of relief from the travail of four years of fighting, all but emasculated our defense establishment. We paid for that mistake before we turned the tide. More recently with disengagement from South Vietnam, we seem to have fallen into the same trap, but perhaps the sudden precarious events of the Middle East tinderbox may have alerted us to the delicate balance in the world.

This inclination to relax is compounded by the matching technology and sophistication of our potential adversaries, and their commitment of a heavier share of the national productivity to the armed forces. It also is aggravated by the herd fact that so much of our inventory, and this is particularly true in parts of our air arm, is becoming aged and almost archaic.

So on this Armed Forces Day, we salute the men and women who have chosen to make defense a life's career or profession, let us not forget also to insist that our national representatives know that the capability of defending ourselves and our liberties demands the highest priority.

Partners In Nation

From the Treasury Department's U.S. Savings Bond Division comes this reminder — the bond program is celebrating its 33rd anniversary.

There are now outstanding bonds in the amount of $60 billion (which compares with $30 billion outstanding at the end of World War II).

In all probability, inflation would have come a long time ago except for this built-in stabilizer, and it would be a lot more severe were it not for prudent people investing a surplus purchasing power.

As for that $60 billion in savings, there was never in history such an economic cushion created by the people for themselves. And for the security of their investment, never did the people of a nation ever have as great a stake in the financial strength and stability of the country. That's one of the great things about the Savings Bond program — it makes us partners in our national venture.

No Place To Buy

John Edwards

The only slot machine in town — to the best of my knowledge at this point in time — is in the Post Office.

AFTER A HARD day at work, I drove over to the Federal Building for a stamp. The vending machine ate my quarter and kept its stamps. So I mashed the coin return and two quarters came back.

I dropped one back in the slot and the coin return refused to do anything but hum. Not being a gambling man, I turned to the next machine and tried for a dollar book of stamps. The dollar-sucking gadget was gone.

Apparently, somebody punched it out. Digging into my pocket I found three quarters and a 50 cent piece. The machine didn't accept half dollars.

FRUSTRATED, I walked out past a young lady who naively thought she could get a stamp in the Post Office.

Sgt. Larry Schaefer, the farmer-commuter of St. Lawrence and Big Spring, asked me to remind him he's only got 11 months until National Guard "re-up" time and counting. . .

Alternate System

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Operating under secret but intense White House pressure, the Pentagon is now moving cautiously into a new strategic weapons system that may prove to be a lever against Moscow's menacing drive to MIRV its entire long-range missile force.

THE CONTEMPLATED new system is called the stand-off option: a fleet of U.S. bombers or wide-bodied commercial aircraft armed with long-range missiles and capable of circling the Soviet Union at a distance of 1,500 to 3,000 miles.

Since Moscow could not begin to match this new system in the foreseeable future, it hopefully would be compelled to agree to the real aim of President Nixon's quest for a new strategic arms limitation SALT agreement with Moscow. That goal: Soviet agreement to limit MIRVing its missiles — that is, putting three to eight independently-targeted warheads on a single missile.

WHAT MAKES this so important is the vastly superior thrust or power (throw-weight) of Soviet missile launchers. Once Moscow catches up with U.S. MIRVing technology, this throw-weight advantage could make the land-based Soviet long-range missile force far superior to the U.S. force — a dangerous new element in super-power politics.

There is today no arms expert in the administration, including Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's closest advisers, still nourishing the illusion that Moscow will agree to any meaningful MIRV limitation without something new added to U.S. bargaining power. That something new is the stand-off option.

WHEN ELLIOT Richardson was ending his brief stint as Secretary of Defense one year ago, he ordered Air Force studies on converting the wide-bodied Lockheed 1011, the Douglas DC-10 and the Boeing 747 into flying launching platforms, each armed with a single ballistic missile. But intense resistance from the Air Force and the civilian high command, including Deputy Secretary of Defense William P. Clements, Jr., prevailed. In the words of one high-level presidential advisor, the Air Force was "scared to death this might doom its new B-1 bomber program."

RESISTING White House pressure, not a cent was put into the Pentagon budget, even for technical studies. This was true despite deep Russian anxiety over the stand-off option. They lack the missile technology, the exotic fuels and most important, the aircraft. Indeed, Moscow is now trying to obtain licensing rights to build their own version of the Lockheed 1011 and other wide-bodied civilian aircraft.

This impasse now is being broken. Clements and the Pentagon's civilian command have persuaded Air Force and Navy brass to ask Congress for $125 million in research funds to begin studies of a revised stand-off system: bombers armed with strategic, nuclear-tipped "cruise" missiles containing their own power supply which would drop from high altitudes, then start their attack at extremely low levels. The same system could also be used for launching from submarines.

Given today's nuclear-defense technology, cruise missiles and their bomber carriers — operating no closer than 1,500 miles from target — would be as invulnerable to Soviet defense as it is possible to get.

Some Pentagon strategists now foresee a real possibility of flight-testing a strategic cruise missile within the next two years. Yet, the Soviet Union is believed to be more than 10 years away from developing even the fuel technology needed to propel the cruise missile. Thus, Moscow would be unable to respond to this significant upset in the present balance of nuclear power. So the Russians may be willing to talk.

Home Heating From Manure

NORTH BRANFORD, Conn. (AP) — Home heating from a manure pile is the ultimate goal of a simple tank converter fashioned by Alton Eliason and Joseph Pelliccio.

Two home-fuel tanks connected by pipes already are producing enough methane gas to heat Eliason's greenhouse, they say.

When the converter is fully operational it will use manure from Eliason's chickens plus dead leaves and plants from the greenhouse to produce gas.

"The residue is even richer than when it went in and will make excellent fertilizer for the greenhouse," Eliason said.

With success and a sufficient supply of chicken manure the two hope to create a larger converter and switch the oil-heating system of Eliason's home to methane gas next winter.

"The beauty of the thing is its cost," Eliason said. The existing converter would cost between $200 and $300 he said, and the gas-making ingredients cost little, if anything.

Home production of methane from animal waste is growing in popularity throughout the country because of the fuel shortage.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

In a recent column, you talked about evil and disease entering the world because of the disobedience of our first parents — Adam and Eve. But Mr. Graham, I find that hard to reconcile with the statement of Christ in John 9, where He said, "Neither hath this man sinned nor his parents." I'll look for your answer.

I think every Biblically sound commentary would say of that reference that the Lord didn't propose there the sinlessness of the beggar or his parents. Rather, he severed any link between the specific affliction before him (blindness) and previous conduct. There's a difference!

I think it's a warning also that we should not be too ready to regard every affliction as some sort of special divine judgment. The Lord here recognized a popular theory which made tragedy, or whatever sort, the result of previous personal error. He said this was inadmissible, however, and proceeded to provide an authoritative interpretation.

In another reference (Luke 13), the Lord warns His disciples not to consider those Galleians on whom the tower of Siloam fell — worse sinners than others.

All right, let me restate then the source of evil and trouble in the world. Paul put it well when he wrote in Romans 5: "For this one man, Adam brought death to many through his sin. But this one man, Jesus Christ, brought forgiveness to many through God's mercy." That rates a "Hallelujah."

A Devotion For Today . .

"We are more than conquerors through him who loved us." (Romans 8:37)
PRAYER: We thank You, our heavenly Father, that You have given us Jesus Christ as the way, the truth, and the life, and that His victories are our victories. We bless You that He still calms the troubled waters of our lives and gives us peace. Amen.

Makes Political Sense

Marquis Childs

By WALTER R. MEARS

(Substituting for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON (AP) — It seems an unlikely alliance, but it makes political sense for Democratic leaders to side with President Nixon in rejecting his resignation as the way out of Watergate now.

That is not to say that the Democrats were motivated by the coming elections, rather than the constitutional concerns they cited in counseling against pressure for the President to quit.

BUT AT THIS point, the two go together.

The constitutional argument is the one Nixon has been advancing all along: That the resignation of a president because of accusations and unpopularity would so weaken the presidency as to change the American system of government.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, the deputy Democratic leader, said a forced resignation would "change our system from one of fixed tenure to one in which a president would remain in office only by popular approval."

NIXON SAID two months ago that resignation in the circumstances he faces would "lead to weak and unstable presidencies in the future, and I will not be a party to the destruction of the presidency of the United States."

At the same time, the President acknowledged that his resignation "might satisfy some of my good, friendly partisans who would rather not have the problem of Watergate bothering them."

With impeachment proceedings under way, and with the release of the edited White House transcripts, Watergate is bothering Republicans more now than it was then.

Republican talk of Nixon's resignation prompted the Democratic comments. Five Republican senators, three seeking re-election this year, have said the President should resign, consider it or step down temporarily during impeachment proceedings.

AMONG HOUSE Republicans, Rep. John J. Rhodes of Arizona, the party leader, has said resignation is an option for the President to consider; Rep. John B. Anderson of Illinois said he would welcome it. Anderson, chairman of the GOP conference, now says he does not foresee it happening.

There also have been the editorial calls for resignation or impeachment from newspapers that had supported Nixon.

Resignation, of course, would spare congressional Republicans the agonizing vote on whether to impeach the President in the House and, if that is done, whether to convict him in the Senate.

For many Democrats, Nixon looms as the issue with the campaign months ahead. There is Democratic speculation about a landslide that would create a veto-proof, two-thirds majority in both houses of Congress.

But a Watergate backlash against Republican congressional candidates would be eliminated, with Nixon out of office and Vice President Gerald R. Ford in.

J TACTICALLY, the Democrats are in a stronger campaign position with Nixon in the White House.

There is more to the political equation. If the President were to resign, the impeachment process would end. Watergate prosecutions would continue, but there is no way to foresee whether they would provide a final judgment on the innocence or guilt of the President. It would be up to the prosecutor and the grand jury to decide whether Nixon, as a private citizen, should face trial and verdict in Watergate.

What would remain is a question mark: Did political pressure force an innocent president from the office to which he was elected? Nixon was, after all, the choice of 47 million voters, 60.7 per cent of the electorate, in the 1972 election. And millions of those voters would remain convinced that their ballots had been overruled by mid-term political pressures.

HOUSE SPEAKER Carl Albert, D-Okla., said if Nixon were to quit and later were proven innocent, the damage to the country would be irreparable. But if nothing were proved, the problem would still exist.

What the Democrats, and most Republicans are saying is that the impeachment process should be allowed to run its course; that Congress should judge the evidence and, ultimately, the President.

"And believe me, you WILL have Dick Nixon to kick around for three more years!"

Bankers Becoming Uneasy

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite interest rates so high they haven't been exceeded in this century, corporations seem undeterred in their plans to borrow record amounts of money.

The confrontation of tall spending plans and a short money supply is being blamed for:

—Raising business costs, at least temporarily, which then are passed on as higher prices.

—Drawing funds from the savings or thrift institutions, which reduces the amount of money available for mortgage loans.

—Threatening the economy with a money crunch that could bring some corporations to the brink of disaster and badly im-act the expected upturn in the second half of the year.

The latest survey by economists at McGraw-Hill, Inc., indicates that industry intends to spend 19 per cent more than a year ago on improvements to plant and equipment. That would mean a record increase of $19.4 billion to $119.1 billion.

Explained one corporate treasurer, "Any business that has to borrow is convinced it must do so without regard to cost. When you borrow later on, inevitably the dollar is worth less than you have to borrow more for the same results."

Donald Miller, executive vice president of Continental Illinois National Bank, offered this explanation, "Businessmen feel inflation isn't licked. They don't see a recession; orders are good." And so they borrow to expand.

"We're having a veritable explosion of business loans," commented Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, which has been restraining the money supply in an effort to discourage borrowing. In his view, it must be slowed.

Speaking at a news conference in late April, Burns said: "We aren't going to sit back and prepare a monetary path to continuation of rapid inflation. On the contrary, we hope to do our part in subduing it. Let there be no mistaking our determination in doing this."

Blood Types Do Vary

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a girl 14, and in running activities I get a sharp pain in my side. Some of my friends have the same problem. What would cause this? I had a physical exam a month ago. — S. W.

Dear Doctor: I am 20 and can't jog for more than a couple of minutes without getting a terrible side ache. I also get them when I go horseback riding or when I dance. Is there any way to alleviate them? — S. P.

It's the familiar "Stitch in the side" from running and sometimes other types of exertion. Formerly there was a belief that it was due to congestion of the liver or spleen — an idea since abandoned because of total lack of any supporting evidence. It's probably more prevalent among girls than boys because boys are inclined to be more physically active. This sort of thing doesn't seem to happen very often to, for example, boys in training for some sport or other. It's also likely — this I base on my observation and not scientific findings — that tension plays a part in it.

A recent report on this curious little mystery suggests that the "stitch" is due to a spasm of the colon (large bowel) becoming tense enough to be painful. It is always possible, too, that a spasm of muscles of the back or trunk could be involved, and not all "stitches" need be exactly alike, I suppose.

In any event, there's always relief from it. Rest does it, in a matter of a minute or two or three. A recent article in the journal

Sports Medicine suggests that if someone is unduly troubled, taking an antispasmodic medication before your activities can prevent it. Quite possible in some cases something as simple as some aspirin or its equivalent taken before you exercise or dance would relieve tension enough to prevent a "stitch."

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

St. Mary's Episcopal To Install Baroque Pipe Organ This Autumn

By MARJ CARPENTER
St. Mary's Episcopal last week signed final contracts to install a pipe organ, which should be in operation by next November with a dedication recital tentatively planned for next December.

The organ purchased by St. Mary's will be a two-manual, 15-rank instrument, designed and built by Casavant Freres of Quebec. It will be basically Baroque in design, with several small modifications to meet the special needs of the Episcopal Liturgy.

Baroque specifications were chosen for a number of reasons. During the Baroque period, 1600-1750, organ-building as an art reached a peak that is rivaled only by the finest of the instruments being built today. From the end of the Baroque until the early 1900's the art of organ-building was in a long decline.

This decline was a result of a trend in organ-building that was imitative of the orchestra, and detracted from the distinctive solo qualities of the instrument. Shortly after the turn of this century, interest was revived in the organs of the Baroque era, and most contemporary builders have adopted many Baroque ideas in the building of their instruments.

Paralleling the peak of organ-building as an art is the peak of composition of organ music. The majority of pieces in existence written as solo works for organ are from the Baroque era. During the Classical and Romantic periods, organ compositions are relatively few in number. In the twentieth century, a number of fine composers have turned their interest back to the organ as a solo instrument, and many pieces have been and are being written for the instrument.

Acoustical reasons were also a major factor in the selection of an organ designed after those of the Baroque. The clarity and brilliance of the instrument will nicely compliment the live acoustics of St. Mary's Church building.

Although the instrument is small in size, the specifications have been designed to make as versatile as possible. The organ will serve nicely as a recital instrument, and should attract fine recitalists to the Big Spring area. It is the hope of the congregation of St. Mary's that the organ will serve a useful purpose in the musical growth and enjoyment of the community.

After much consideration the organ committee decided to award contract for the new organ to Casavant Freres. Final decision was made after the committee traveled to Winters, Texas, to hear a Casavant similar to the instrument being purchased. Casavant is considered to be one of the finest builders in existence today. The Casavant firm has been in business since 1840, and has established a sound reputation for itself.

Delivery for the new organ will take approximately six months. In the building of a pipe organ all work is done by hand, so the process takes considerable time. The personal attention given each instrument, the uniqueness of each pipe organ built, and superior tone quality were important factors in the selection of a pipe organ.

Linda Lassiter of Midland is organist for St. Mary's.

THE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE had a special party honoring their high school graduating seniors Friday night. They played volleyball and baseball at Webb with teams from the chapel. The group then went skating and back to the church for ice cream and cake. Seniors include Gordon McGuire, Sandra Woodridge, Orville Rou, Ken Walton, Don Hunt and Mark Wilder.

Twenty-three Confident of Divine Victory, strengthened in our resolve to the Devine will." One of the highlights of the assembly was the ordination of 57 new ministers by water baptism Sunday morning.

Garden City Singspiration Slated

The Garden City First United Methodist Church is hosting the Greater Saint Luke AME Church Choir of Midland in a "Singspiration" worship service Sunday evening May 26. Preceding this service at 6 p.m., there will be a covered dish supper. Worship services will start at 7 p.m. Harry Calverley, board chairman of the Garden City Church stated, "Garden City is very fortunate in having this large and very fine choir come and worship the Lord with the local congregation." He stated that "if you like to listen to the singing of sacred hymns by Black Choirs or if you like to join in the singing of hymns, you will not be disappointed in this service." Invitation is extended to all the community to come and join us and bring the children for they will also have a chance to sing a "Little Peoples" song or two. Reverend Ahearn, of St. Luke Church, said that he has been looking forward for some time to this combined worship service in Garden City and is looking toward a real spirit filled evening.

OUTSTANDING BIBLE STUDENTS — Dr. Kenneth G. Patrick, president of the Howard County Ministerial Fellowship and pastor of the First Baptist Church, shows Bible handbooks the fellowship gave outstanding Bible class students at Big Spring High School. BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A judge has ordered Michael Nathan Shoulters, charged with murder in the shotgun slaying of a young woman, sent to the Rusk State Hospital.

SHRIMP — Shoulters, a bearded man who has worked as a rodeo performer and shrimp fisherman, is charged with murder in the Jan. 13 slaying of Juddi Allen Carter, 29, who was shot to death at the door of her Harlingen apartment.

Dr. George Constant, a Victoria psychiatrist, testified that he did not believe Shoulters was faking the mental disorder made threatening remarks to because "I don't think even a

CHAPARRAL OWNER BIDS FAREWELL

To all my wonderful friends, fine customers, and loyal employees, I want to say thank you. It is with mixed emotions that I go to visit my families. A sense of sadness comes over me — akin to pain, as I leave Big Spring. I have known the new manager, Mr. Rudy Diaz, for over a decade and highly recommend him for fine foods. The new owner, Mr. Arlo Roberts, will finish the job I have started and you will be proud of the remodeling. So in leaving, I again say, thank you all. May our Lord bless you real good.

TO PROBE VENUS' ATMOSPHERE — The drawing shows a multi-probe spacecraft proposed for intensive study of the Venus atmosphere beginning in 1978. The planetary exploration program will be carried out by two separately launched spacecraft — a probe-laden bus, above, and an orbiter. The vehicle will carry one large atmospheric probe and three identical small probes. The large probe will descend through the Venus atmosphere by parachute to an altitude of about 44 kilometers where it will jettison to parachute and free-fall to the planet's surface. The smaller probes will be targeted to sample the Venus weather at locations 5,900 miles apart. Their mission ends when they land on the surface.

Voiding Oil Allowance Could Spark Blackmail?

HOUSTON (AP) — Repeal of the oil depletion allowance could mean price blackmail for gas-thirsty Americans, a top oil industry spokesman says.

In a prepared statement Thursday, George Mitchell, president of Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association, said repeal of the tax break for oil men would be counter-productive to America's goals of petroleum self-sufficiency.

"Any such action, if adopted, would defeat our nation's goal of achieving relative energy self-sufficiency in time to avert the national disaster which is certain to result from our continued dependence on unreliable foreign sources of oil. Moreover, it is a direct threat to our nation's economic and political independence over the long-term," Mitchell said.

MUST UNDERSTAND

"The people of this nation must understand that the depletion allowance helps attract the funds needed to find additional gas and oil. Its repeal will indeed provide additional tax revenues for the U.S. Treasury; however, this will not only fail to increase domestic production of oil and gas, it will put us at the mercy of the producing nations in the Mideast and will result in a price blackmail that will make recent pressures seem unimportant.

"Repeal of the domestic depletion allowance means we will have to import even larger amounts of more costly foreign crude oil resulting in even higher prices for the consumer. More important, our foreign exchange costs will rise dramatically, balance of payments deficits will escalate, and the U.S. dollar already weak on international markets will be subject to additional downward pressure. We must realize we are flirting with national bankruptcy," he said.
