ENOUGH BLOODSHED — Charles Bates, FBI special agent in charge, appeared briefly at the Randolph Hearst home in Hillsborough Monday night with a plea that kidnaped Patricia Hearst "give herself up, that there is no need for further bloodshed." There's been enough already," Bates said.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As lawmen continued their search for Patricia Hearst and William and Emily Harris, the distraught parents of the suspected Symbionese Liberation Army members pleaded with their children to surrender rather than face possible violent death.

With the memory of last Friday's flaming deaths of six SLA members vivid in her mind, Mrs. Betty Bunnell, Harris' mother, said: "All of us just can't bear the thought of seeing anything on film like we saw this past weekend, and to think that it might happen to my son is almost unbearable and I do wish he would give himself up."

TWO CHOICES

Mrs. Harris' father, Frederic Schwartz, flew to Los Angeles from Chicago Monday night to plead with his daughter to surrender to him. In a statement aimed at Emily, 27, Schwartz said, "You have only two choices open now: You may elect to die an equally horrible and totally useless death... Your other choice is to come forth and live." He offered to meet her and take her to law officers.

And in Hillsborough, Calif., Catherine Hearst, mother of the 20-year-old coed whose kidnapping on Feb. 4 set off the series of events, said, "I hope she will give herself up and come home."

But there was no sign that Miss Hearst or the Harrises, a white couple, were about to give up voluntarily. And more than 100 local, state and federal law officers remained on full-time duty in search of the three, who are described as "armed and extremely dangerous" and possibly the last remnants of the small band of terrorists.

GETTING HOT

Law officers said their search for Miss Hearst and the Harrises was still centered in Southern California, although Los Angeles Police Cmdr. Pete Hegah declared, "If they've got any sense, they'd have left. Things are getting hot here."

The three are wanted on FBI complaints, filed Monday, for investigation of illegal use and possession of automatic weapons.

FIRST TO ADMIT Nixon Insider Sentenced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Job Stuart Magruder, the No. 2 man in President Nixon's reelection campaign was sentenced today to serve at least 10 months in prison for helping plan the Watergate break-in, bugging and cover-up.

AMBITION

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica ordered that Magruder serve a 10-month to four-year term in a minimum security institution and gave him until June 4 to surrender himself.

Magruder was the first Nixon insider to publicly admit his own involvement in the Watergate case and the first to publicly accuse others in the coverup.

"My ambition obscured my judgement," Magruder told Sirica in a brief statement. He said he still didn't know why he surrendered "my moral precepts."

"I know what I have done," Magruder told the judge. "I'm confident that the country will survive the Watergates and its Job Magruders."

Outside the courthouse, Magruder told reporters: "I can't say I'm looking forward to going to prison but I accept it. Hopefully, the public will accept the fact that I've paid a penalty for my part in Watergate."

ALREADY PUNISHED

Magruder's lawyer, James E. Sharp, told the judge that Magruder has already been punished in the 13 months since he first told of his role in Watergate to federal prosecutors.

Magruder was the sixth former White House aide to be sentenced to prison. He pleaded guilty Aug. 16 to a single count of conspiracy to unlawfully intercept communications, to obstruct justice and to defraud the United States of America.

The other former White House employees previously sentenced to prison are Egil Krogh Jr., who was an aide to former White House Domestic Counselor John Ehrlichman; former presidential appointments secretary Dwight L. Chanin; Herbert L. Porter, who worked briefly in the White House communications office before joining the Nixon re-election committee; and Watergate conspirators G. Gordon Liddy and E. Howard Hunt.

Vice Trial Begins Today

AUSTIN (AP) — Testimony begins today in the trial of Travis Raven Sr., 51, former head of athletics in the Austin school system, on a charge of compelling the prostitution of a 16-year-old girl. A six-man, six-woman jury was selected Monday. Charged with Raven is Audrey McDonald, 28, Austin.

They both face fines up to $10,000 and prison sentences up to 20 years if convicted on the second-degree felony charge.

Raven pleaded innocent Monday after his lawyers announced ready for trial.

District Court Judge Tom Blackwell denied defense motions that the indictments against Raven and Miss McDonald be dismissed.

Fiance Of Heiress Raps Authorities

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Steven Weed, fiance of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst before she was abducted, has criticized authorities for the shootout at a Symbionese Liberation Army hideout.

Weed, 26, said if officers repeat their performance "they have no right to call themselves professionals."

In a statement issued Monday night, Weed said: "About a week ago, FBI chief Charles Bates said in San Diego, 'We're going in, and there's a safe way to do this.' I guess he meant safe for the FBI."

Weed, a graduate student in philosophy at the University of California at Berkeley, was at the scene Friday when some 500 police and federal agents stormed a yellow house in south Los Angeles. Afterward, he viewed the siege on television.

Nixon Trying To Make Farce Of Charter?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Special prosecutor Leon Jaworski says President Nixon is trying to "make a farce" of the charter guaranteeing the prosecutor's independence and his right to subpoena Watergate evidence from White House files.

Jaworski's challenge to the President's willingness to accept the prosecutor's independence was disclosed Monday shortly after U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica ordered Nixon to obey a subpoena from the special prosecutor's office demanding tapes of 64 conversations sought as evidence in the Watergate cover-up trial.

After the order, Vice President Gerald R. Ford said the White House should turn over any tapes "relevant to a criminal proceeding," but Nixon counsel James D. St. Clair said the White House would appeal Sirica's decision.

Meanwhile, U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell began hearing requests from defendants in the White House plumbers case for access to files that might support their contention they were working on a legitimate national security matter.

Strikers Open Fire On Police In East Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Protestant strikers opened fire with automatic weapons today on police who tried to dismantle street barricades blocking the flow of traffic into the city.

No injuries were reported in the incident on Conswater street in East Belfast, the first armed confrontation between police and strikers in a Protestant-led general strike now in its seventh day.

In London, Prime Minister Harold Wilson called a special cabinet meeting to discuss the situation in Ulster.

A jeering mob of protestant militants, meanwhile, punched and screamed abuse at Britain's top trade unionist, Lionel Murray, as he led a peace-making back-to-work march into the giant Harland and Wolff shipyards, the British province's largest industry.

Only about 150 workers joined the march, too few to get the shipyard back into operation.

Armed police moved in and hauled some 250 screaming, fleeing men and women away from Murray, secretary-general of the powerful British Trades Union Congress, and from several Ulster union leaders marching with him.

Hearst Heiress Search Pressed

Extra Vote For Cox Found; It Could Deadlock Race

By JOHN EDWARDS
An absentee ballot for Cox was not in the box when it was discovered in the county clerk's office Monday morning, a spokeswoman for the county clerk's office said.

PREMIER QUILTS — Thai Premier Sanya Thammakul and his eight-month-old civilian government resigned today and a military alert was declared throughout that nation.

It counted, it would tie the race between Mrs. Peggy Crittenden and incumbent M. Fern Cox for the Democratic nomination for district clerk. Cox plans to contest the election of the Democratic Primary.

UP TIL NOW

First unofficial returns showed Crittenden defeating Cox 2,420 to 2,419. A canvass by the Democratic Executive Committee, which is composed of election judges, kept the tally the same.

Cox petitioned for a recount of votes. County Clerk Pauline Patty, Mrs. Crittenden, Mrs. Glenda Brasel representing Cox and a three-member committee recounted.

Each candidate was given six more votes and the results remained unchanged. Mrs. Crittenden was the Democratic nominee and faced no Republican opposition in the general election.

NEW TWIST

Then, Monday, deputy county clerks were looking through absentee ballot applications for "federal post cards," a spokeswoman for the office who asked not to be named, said. This is how it happened, she said:

According to the state election code, absentee ballots for the second Democratic primary or runoff must be mailed to all those who applied for absentee ballots in the first primary by "federal post card." Men in the armed forces frequently use these forms to obtain absentee ballots.

Mitchell Will Offer Name As Write-In Candidate

County Judge A. G. Mitchell, who was defeated in his bid for the Democratic nomination, Monday announced he would run in November as a write-in candidate.

"I feel like the only voters that came out was opposition and a few friends," Mitchell said.

"When there's 11,000 (registered voters who didn't vote in the primaries) hanging out there, I'm not going to give up this easy," Mitchell said.

Opposition spread two "lies" the day before the Democratic Primary. "They called all over town."

His enemies told persons that Mitchell was about to be indicted in Colorado City for the death of his foreman, Mitchell said. He has not been.

Judge Mitchell ranches in Mitchell County and was one of two present when his foreman was dragged and killed by a horse.

Also, it was said Mitchell charged $40 to commit patients to the Big Spring State Hospital, the defeated incumbent county judge claimed.

The $40 is a fee required by state law which goes to the county clerk's office, Mitchell said.

"I never see it. It never comes to my office," Mitchell said.

Bill Tune, who won the Democratic nomination for county judge, today said he had no comment to the charges Mitchell made.

Tune received 2,580 votes to 2,244 for Mitchell. In the Republican Primary, Jerry Worthly won over Glenn Stallings, 221 to 43.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT! Biggest Drop In Food Prices In Seven Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest drop in retail food prices in seven years helped slow the nation's inflationary increase in April to about half the level in each of the previous three months, the government said today.

The Labor Department said the Consumer Price Index in April rose six-tenths of one per cent on both an unadjusted and seasonally adjusted basis.

The increase was the smallest since last September and compared with increases of 1.1 per cent in March, 1.2 per cent in January and 1.1 per cent in February.

Despite the sharp drop in food prices, rapid price hikes on most nonfood commodities continued to spread across the economy in April.

The Food Price Index dropped an adjusted four-tenths of one per cent in April, the first decline since September and the biggest drop since it also fell four-tenths of a per cent in April 1967. Grocery prices alone fell an adjusted seven-tenths of one per cent, the most in any month since a drop of nine-tenths of one per cent last September.

However, while food prices declined, nonfood commodities jumped an adjusted 1.1 per cent and an unadjusted 1.3 per cent in April while services increased an unadjusted six-tenths of one per cent, the government said.

USED CARS

Nixon administration officials have said food prices increases apparently have run their course this year but have forecast continued sharp increases for most other items in the absence of price controls which expired April 30.

Consumer prices in April were 10.2 per cent higher than a year ago with the index up to $144.00 to purchase a variety of consumer goods and services which cost $100 in the 1967 base period.

The Labor Department said the surge in nonfood commodities was led by sharply higher prices for used cars, which accounted for more than a fourth of the rise in this category. Gasoline and motor oil continued to increase last month but at the slowest rate since last October at the start of the Arab oil embargo.

PERCY FOREMAN TESTIFIES Being Without Medication Made Him Appear Drunk

HOUSTON (AP) — Noted defense lawyer Percy Foreman has testified he was without diabetic medication which made him appear intoxicated following a Houston freeway traffic accident last New Year's Eve.

Foreman took the stand in his own defense Monday in his driving while intoxicated trial. The charges stem from the accident in which Foreman's car and another were involved in a collision.

The trial continued today in County Court-at-Law Judge Neil McKay's court.

Foreman testified he had been without diabetic medication for two days. Diabetics in this condition appear drunk, Foreman said after admitting he had his limit of two drinks on a flight St. Louis to Houston. Spectators who packed into the courtroom also heard Foreman testify that a skin rash was "driving him up the wall" and he did not have medication for that either. He said he was driving fast, but under the speed limit, in an effort to reach a downtown drug store before closing time.

His car and another were in-involved in a collision and Foreman was later arrested on a DWI charge.

"WRECKERS RACKET" Foreman also accused the prosecution of "coaching" witnesses during his two hours on the stand. He also criticized what he called a "wrecker racket."

The "coaching" remark came when prosecutor Mike Maguire brought up testimony last week by two teen-age witnesses who claim they saw Foreman intoxicated at the scene.

"They said they never concluded I was drunk until you got them all together and coached them," Foreman replied. "I say they were coached. You coached them. I've got experience trying cases like this, more than 500 DWI cases like this back the last 40 years and I know that's the way prosecutors operate."

Although there were seven wreckers at the scene of the accident, Foreman testified, one of the investigating officers gave him five business cards of wrecker companies to choose from, including four from the same company.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under pressure from President Nixon and Democratic leaders in Congress, a Senate Finance subcommittee is opening hearings on rival plans to establish a national program of health insurance. President Nixon, also urging congressional action, has cautioned that with the end of wage-price controls, doctor bills threaten to increase by as much as 22 per cent this year. The President's health plan would rely more on private insurance companies than would rival Democratic proposals.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a $24 billion education bill, but it faces many problems in conference with the House and when it reaches President Nixon's desk. The big issue in the conference will be how far Congress should go in trying to restrict busing for school desegregation purposes. The House measure passed in March virtually would end such busing. The Senate bill contains the same limitations, but it adds language continuing the authority of federal courts to order busing if necessary to meet equal rights requirements of the Constitution.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Three gunmen were caught napping by one of 24 hostages in a Seoul tearoom and were arrested today by policemen and soldiers the hostages summoned. The hostage, an employee of the tearoom, telephoned police when the men fell asleep after holding their captives at gunpoint for 20 hours. A rescue squad entered the shop in the basement of a United Nations building and arrested the gunmen after a brief scuffle. The three said they were protesting social conditions in South Korea.

County Will Seek Equipment Bids

After talking to Mrs. Zirah L. Bednar, county tax collector, Monday morning, County Commissioners Court voted to advertise for bids on equipment necessary for plastic voter registration certificates.

Mrs. Bednar plans to start issuing the plastic cards in place of paper slips next year. They look like credit cards. With a machine, the court is considering purchasing, one's name is embossed on the card. Impressions from the card will be made the same way records are made from credit cards.

Total cost of the new system will run about $10,000, Mrs. Bednar estimated.

Miss Barbara Ann Coates was approved for a position at the Howard County Library at $373.75 per month.

Advertising for bids was authorized in connection with six combination public address speakers and sonic beep sirens.

The court agreed to a telephone extension connecting the police department and sheriff's office. Installation will cost about $12, and the monthly service charge will be $3.75.

Buck Kirksey of the city county health unit explained a need for a $362 intra-department transfer in the county budget. City Council approved a transfer of the same amount earlier.

Next Monday is Memorial Day and a holiday for most county workers, according to the calendar adopted earlier by the court.

The court does not plan to meet on Memorial Day. Absent from the meeting this week was Commissioner Bill Crookers.

Charges of criminal trespassing were filed on Danny Ray Heckler, 21. Police officers filed the charges late Monday. Heckler is in the county jail, under a $2,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Walter Grice.

Police were called Sunday night by a local citizen who saw "somebody climbing over the fence" of a local car lot. Avery Falkner went to the scene and discovered Heckler beside his car in the alley.

The man was questioned and released. The police detective then discovered a tire and hub caps on the outside of the fence that the dealer reported came off his property. Evidence discovered later in the day led to the arrest of Heckler, according to police officers.

'Attitude Is Key Word,' Marshall Tells Audience — "Attitude is the key word and the key ingredient," J. Arnold Marshall told a group attending the regular monthly agricultural breakfast today at the Holiday Inn.

The former mayor and president of H. W. Smith Transport Co. Inc., said he tried to "put back more into life than I have taken out."

To the complaint about litter, the community leader said he asked one caller: "Why should the city be responsible for your dirty alley?"

"If each one would do his part and have the proper attitude, your taxes wouldn't be like they are today," Marshall said.

Touching on another area where attitude made the difference, Marshall said, with few exceptions, the same persons who dedicated themselves to the Howard County Fair last year are working with it this year.

"You made it what it is or what it was," the president-elect of the fair association said.

At this time, the association is "formulating the total program," Marshall said. Johnnie Walker, past president of the fair, and Neil Fryar, past vice president, also attended the breakfast. Other guests included a delegation from the nation's capitol who were studying erosion reporting procedures here.

Gerald Miller, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, introduced Marshall. He reminded that the next agricultural breakfast was scheduled for the third Tuesday in June.

Signup Time Is At Hand

Parents are urged to sign up their elementary age children now for the Citywide Summer Recreation program which begins June 3 with the annual learn-to-swim effort.

The following week, two months of daily supervised recreational programs at Comanche Trail Park and at Lakeview will get under way.

The only charges for the program (and these are waived of a child cannot pay it) are $1 for pool fees during the swimming lessons, and $1 for craft supplies for the recreation program. All the supervision, instruction, etc. is furnished free.

This is because the City of Big Spring picks up virtually all of the tab, aided by the Big Spring Independent School District. The Big Spring YMCA administrators the program, but it is wholly independent of the YMCA and Y membership has nothing to do with participation.

"Every child in the city is not only welcome but is urged to take advantage of this program," said Joe Pickle, chairman of the committee.

"We have competent, trained personnel and an organized program of activities, capped each day by a recreational swim."

Information has been sent home through school children, but parents needing more information are asked to call the YMCA (267-8234), or better still, to register their children at the Y office at 8th and Owens.

Baptist Choir Going On Road — "Cool in the Furnace," a musical by the First Baptist Church junior choir, is going on the road. A troupe of 40 including Director Joe Whitten and State Manager Barry Clayton, and operators of lighting and electronic equipment, will take the production to Snyder for a 7:30 p.m. presentation Wednesday in the First Christian Church.

At this time, the association is "formulating the total program," Marshall said. Johnnie Walker, past president of the fair, and Neil Fryar, past vice president, also attended the breakfast. Last Highway Meet May 29

HOUSTON — The final informal meeting to discuss possibilities of extending IS 27 southward from Lubbock to a connection with IS 30 is scheduled here May 29.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at the Waltrip Senior High School, 1900 W. 34th St.

Meetings were held in mid-March in several West Texas cities, including Big Spring. The IS 27 extension is one of 10 routes for which Congress directed feasibility and necessity studies as part of a 1973 federal highway aid act.

The IS 27 meetings have provided citizens the opportunity to suggest routes and to air their views on the proposed highway. Suggestions for several routings have emerged from the meetings.

Routes proposed ranged from one that would extend south from Lubbock, across IS 20 at Big Spring to IH 10 near Ozona, to a route extending across Central Texas, linking with IS 10 near Houston.

VFW Poppies Being Sold

Mayor Wade Choate has proclaimed this as Buddy Poppy Week in Big Spring.

Members of the Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 2013 will be selling the famous VFW poppies. Proceeds go to aid disabled veterans and their families. In fact, the poppies are made by disabled veterans.

"At this time of the year when we memorialize the sacrificial service of our veterans who not only went for us but in many instances did not come back or came back less than whole, it is fitting that we honor them by helping those not able to help themselves, and by helping those near and dear to them, I therefore urge all citizens of Big Spring to consider this investment in compassion and concern during this Buddy Poppy Week, in Big Spring," said the mayor in his proclamation.

Can't Be Wished Away

If Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is indeed interested in seeking election to the nation's highest office, he had better change his tactics concerning the Chappaquiddick incident.

Thus far his stock answer to the 1969 tragedy in which Mary Jo Kopechne was killed has been that he has given all the facts. To voters, however, Kennedy's stand in the matter sounds much like President Nixon in his defense of the Watergate break-in and the resulting scandals which have shaken his administration.

In a recent interview in Washington, Kennedy admitted that he would have to face questions about Chappaquiddick if he runs for president in 1976. But then he repeats the defense he has voiced before — that he already has given all the answers.

Asked by interviewer Paul Duke if Watergate meant that more attention would be focused on Chappaquiddick if Kennedy were the Democratic presidential nominee, the Massachusetts senator said:

"There will be those, if I were a candidate, that would raise it," Kennedy said. "But people finally and ultimately are going to have to make judgments about my views, my record in the Senate."

Kennedy is correct in that the issue will be raised; in fact, the issue has never been laid to rest. He is incorrect in assuming that should he seek the nomination the ultimate decision will be made on the basis of his views and his record in the Senate.

Kennedy's greatest asset to date has been the magic of his name and the fact that he is the youngest and only surviving Kennedy brother. The news media have kept him in the public eye, singling him out for interviews of every nature, often on subjects where much more knowledgeable members of Congress were ignored. The fact that he is a Kennedy has kept him in the middle of the presidential picture far longer than could be expected. But in the wake of the Watergate scandals, American voters are going to look deeply beneath the surface and study profoundly the morality of all the candidates offered in 1976. The personality flaws are going to be laid bare and the morals of those seeking nomination are going to be scrutinized as never before.

The fact that Sen. Kennedy has made public his income tax return for 1973 further underlines that he is seriously considering a presidential bid. But Chappaquiddick can't be wished away or brushed off by him and his supporters any more than Nixon can wish away Watergate.

Equal Calories, Too

There was good news for some overweight women in Chicago the other day. An American Airlines stewardess, fired for being nine pounds overweight, was ordered reinstated with back pay by an Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission examiner.

She charged that her dismissal was unrelated to health, safety or service and that weight limits for male cabin attendants were less restrictive.

The company has 30 days in which to respond to the ruling. A company official said that since the suit had been filed, identical standards for male and female employees have been adopted.

This may not be a clear victory for the cause of women's liberation, but it should improve the morale of those among us who tend to be overweight, recognizing that the spirit may well be strong, but that the flesh is weak.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

My 26 year old daughter has always loved the church but something changed that recently. When the new movement for Christ began on her campus, she became very involved. She and her husband quit the church, and are now connected with a group meeting every Sunday in the park. They are very devout and have no TV and get no newspapers. What about such a strange life style?

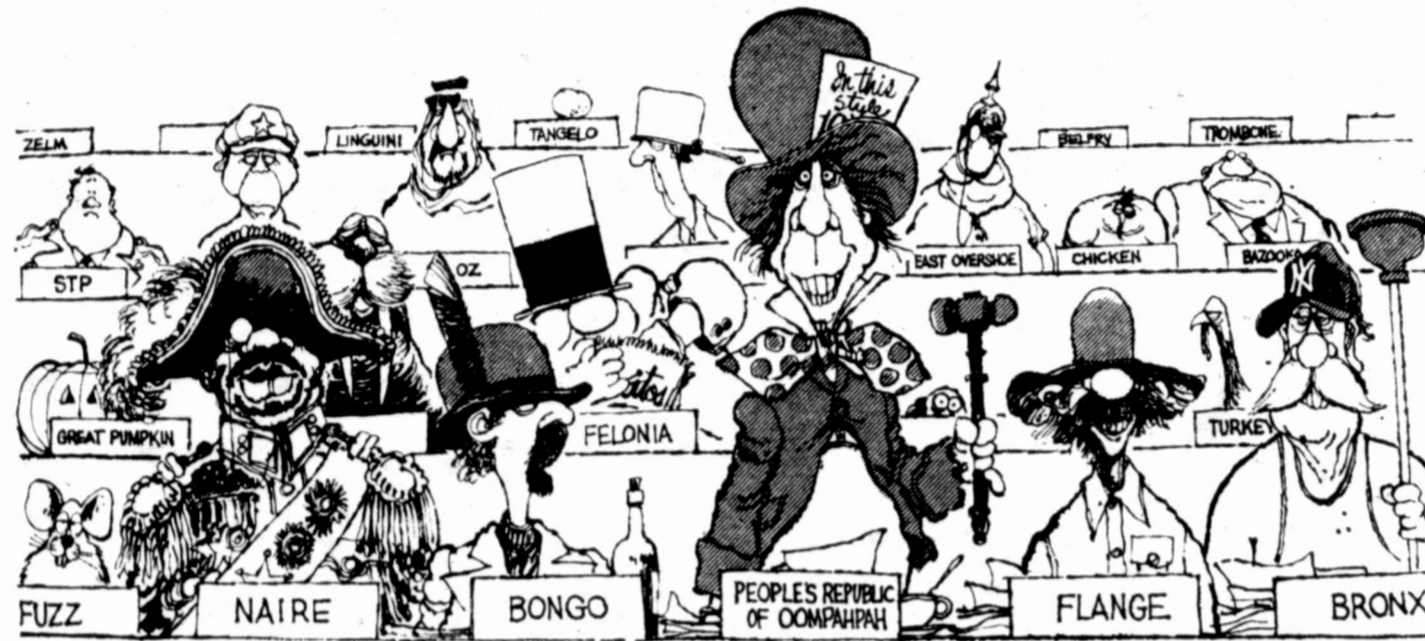

H.C. I don't feel I can make any judgment on their life style, because apparently, they are trying to relate their faith in a vital way to everyday life. More should have such a worthy goal.

It sometimes happens that young people in the flush of enthusiasm for honoring the claims of Christ, discard the old practices which seem to limit their devotion. Hence the park for your daughter and son-in-law. The Jesus people did this in a dramatic and newsworthy way some years ago, but it's interesting now that reports say they are filtering back to the structured church. With them, of course, they bring their fresh expression of Christianity and thus revitalize the whole congregation.

Getting a newspaper or watching TV is a personal matter — dictated by conscience. It is in itself neither right nor wrong.

Do you know how Jesus answered

Serious Concerns Raised

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest signal of a deterioration in the quality of credit comes from the New York Stock Exchange, where margin customers increased their debt to brokers by $40 million in April.

This figure in itself may have only minor significance to all but those involved, but when placed in context the point is quickly understood: It is the fourth straight monthly rise and it brings to at least $5.4 billion the amount of borrowed money supporting stock prices.

It is hardly safe to assume that the total amount of money owed on corporate shares isn't even higher, because margin customers sometimes borrow from other lenders too and are known even to mortgage their homes.

Margin in the stock market is like a down payment in the automobile or housing market. At the moment it takes 50 per cent down to become a margin custommer of a broker, who lends the buyer the remaining funds.

However, as anyone knows who has ever played the stock market game, the price per share of a company can fall as well as rise, and the former has been the case for hundreds of stocks in the past few months.

The effective margin rate, therefore, often drops below 50 per cent.

In April, the exchange noted that "the quality of security credit deteriorated noticeably."

Margin debt in accounts under 40 per cent equity rose to $1.98 billion. And the percentage of such accounts rose to 16 per cent from 12 per cent of all margined portfolios.

As the prices of many stocks continued to decline, the collateral left in margin accounts shrank, of course, by about $680 million, to a total of $13.2 billion.

The signal that flashes from such statistics is the likelihood of more margin calls, or demands by brokers for customers to put up more funds in order to maintain a certain level of equity.

If, for instance, a customer has $10,000 credit on $20,000 worth of stock, he has 50 per cent margin and 50 per cent equity. But if the market value shrinks to $15,000, he now has 67 per cent margin, 33 per cent equity.

To safeguard his loan, the broker sends off a telegram to his customer, notifying him that if he doesn't produce a certain additional amount of collateral by a certain date he will sell some of the securities.

Nobody is ringing the alarm bells about the condition of stock market credit at the moment, but concern is rising, just as it is in other credit areas where deterioration is showing up. If the trend continues, the alarms will go off.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Fissures And Hemorrhoids

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How can a fissure be cured, with or without an operation? What causes a fissure?

Must a rectum be closed because of such a condition — whether a fissure or hemorrhoids? When rectum is operated for either fissure or hemorrhoids, how long generally speaking does it take to heal?

Under these conditions should the patient eat everything or be on a bland diet? Is there a medicine for such trouble? Will the trouble return? — E. W.

Quite a handful of questions! An anal fissure is a split in the surface membrane of the anus, and when one occurs it usually becomes infected, resulting in bleeding and a discharge. And pain.

There is no medicine that will cure a fissure. Cure is achieved by surgical removal of the affected tissue, and letting the healthy tissue heal together. This takes about 10 days or so.

No, the rectum is not closed for that or for hemorrhoids. After surgery a diet with plenty of bulk usually is recommended, the purpose being to promote bowel action and thus to avoid adhesions. A bulk-producing medication may be used as well for the same purpose. With good bowel habits, a fissure is not likely to recur — but it can recur if stool material is hard, and avoid straining in the bathroom.

Removal of hemorrhoids takes about the same time for recovery as correction of a fissure, and the dietary considerations are similar. Again, there is no medicine that will cure hemorrhoids, although in mild cases medications can promote the patient's comfort.

A hemorrhoid is a varicose vein, and such a vein, once removed, cannot recur. That does not mean, however, that other veins cannot become varicose. Avoiding recurrence requires the same precautions as for avoiding another fissure.

For additional information on fissures, hemorrhoids, as well as fistulas, I suggest you read my booklet on hemorrhoids. For a copy send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of Big Spring Herald. Please, readers, don't forget the stamp on your return envelopes.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is chewing gum digestible? Is there harm in feeding it regularly to a year-old baby, to be eaten and swallowed like candy? We need your answer. — Mrs. J. J.

No, chewing gum is not digestible. It will pass readily through the digestive tract, though, so no worry on that score.

All the same I would never give it to a year-old baby, because if some of it got into the baby's windpipe you could have a dreadful emergency.

A distant second among reasons for not giving gum to a small baby is that they learn to make it and get it stuck in their hair or on pop's easy chair or in the carpet.

Heigh Ho, The Fair

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

One of the most delightful events I've attended was the initial Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair at Kerrville. Now it's time for the third annual fair, always held on the Schreiner College Campus. If I can go this time, it can only be for a few hours, but I'd like to make it in time to attend the Folk Mass which will be conducted at 12:30 p.m., Sunday by the Rev. Charlie Summers of Atlanta, Ga. Two hours later is the starting time for the fiddlers' contest.

THE FAIR which starts Friday and continues through Monday, will offer such a variety of sights and sounds that everyone will find something to enjoy.

The fair may well be one of the top buying events in the state, for over 200 of Texas' top artists and craftsmen gather on the banks of gently flowing Quinlan Creek to offer their finest handcrafted creations to the buying public. It offers a superb opportunity to purchase one-of-a-kind works of art and to watch many of the items being handcrafted on the spot. Many Big Springers who attend the fair bring back handsome jewelry, art or other decorative items.

UTILIZING colorful tents, the fair takes on the relaxed and scenic atmosphere of an old-time country bazaar, but it is all Texas — from the art and craft work to the food and drink.

Exhibited are such diversified skills as woodcraft, leather carving, jewelry designing, metal crafts, Indian crafts, ceramics and much more. You can watch the artisans at pottery making, weaving, wood and stone sculpture, glass decorating, basket and broom making, spinning, doll making, china painting, and there are even demonstrations of blacksmithing, sheep shearing, etc.

THE FAIR VISITOR has the opportunity to witness many of the age-old activities that Texas pioneers depended on for their survival, entertainment and comfort. An 1898 steam engine huffs and puffs as it grinds corn into fresh meal, and a blacksmith hammers away in the shade of an oak tree, and lye soap is made just as "grandma" used to do it. Samples of genuine sour dough bread, lamb tiddits and other unusual foods may be tasted.

IF YOU LIKE, you may view the entire process of pioneer weaving including the shearing of sheep, the carding, spinning and dyeing of yarn and then the actual weaving process. Ah, for the simpler days!

And if you go, plan to spend the entire day at the fair for you won't go hungry. The choice of food is wide. Homemade ice cream, meatball sandwiches, fried chicken, watermelon, Mexican food, bakery items and barbecue are only a sampling of the variety of food available. It's fun, eating under the shady trees and watching the parade go by. Twenty-eight concessionaires will participate, and their specialties include shish-kabobs, turkey sausages, corn-on-the-cob and cooling lemonade.

THE FAIR is being held this year in conjunction with the Kerrville Folk Festival (at another location near the city) where 21 performers and their bands will provide the best in Texas folk, folk-rock and country-folk music. These tickets are purchased separately from the fair.

Admission to the Texas Fair is an unflinching $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

Go. You'll love it if that sort of thing appeals to you at all. If you need the time schedule, call me.

Unusual Move

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — A flanking attack by Roy Ash, the aggressive boss of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), aimed at control of the administration's energy policy, seems doomed because of secret intervention by all six Republican members of the Senate Interior Committee.

THE SIX SENATORS on April 9 wrote a private letter to President Nixon, personally delivering it to White House chief of staff Alexander Haig. The letter virtually demanded that William Simon, energy czar before he became Secretary of the Treasury May 8, be named to head a new National Energy Council. Creation of the council is opposed because of secret intervention by the powerful Ash, who wants to control energy from OMB.

THE LETTER to Mr. Nixon, by intruding on an administration housekeeping decision and issuing close to an ultimatum, suggests drastic decline of White House power and influence. Beyond that, it points to Simon surviving the hard impeachment months ahead, insulated by Capitol Hill support. Flamboyant and politically oriented, Simon would have been doomed in the Nixon first term, when factious factotums were the rule. But the requirements for survival have changed in Washington.

"AT THIS CRUCIAL point in time," the Senators wrote the President, "we feel that Bill Simon should retain a central role in the development of energy policy. . . . Congress has grown to rely on Simon as a central figure in energy and we feel this leadership must be continued."

Mr. Nixon cannot ignore this power play because of impeachment politics. Five of the six Senators are strong conservatives who support the President must have in a Senate trial. They are Sens. Paul Fannin of Arizona, James McClure of Idaho, Dewey Bartlett of Oklahoma, Clifford Hansen of Wyoming and James Buckley of New York. The sixth is liberal Mark Hatfield of Oregon.

Alice In Washington

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Alice was walking down Pennsylvania Avenue when the March Hare asked her, "How would you like to go to a White House press briefing?"

"What's a White House press briefing?" Alice asked.

"THAT is where they deny what they have told you, which is the reason it could be true," the March Hare said.

"It sounds like fun," Alice said.

The March Hare brought Alice into the press room. A chess pawn was standing at a podium.

"Who is that?" Alice asked.

"THAT is the press secretary. He talks in riddles. Listen."

"Why are transcripts better than tapes?" the press secretary asked.

"I don't know the answer to that one," Alice said to the March Hare.

"Why are transcripts better than tapes?" she shouted to everyone's surprise.

THE PRESS secretary looked at her with cold blue eyes. "I refuse to comment on that."

Alice looked confused. "Why did he ask us a riddle if he can't give an answer to it?"

The March Hare said, "They don't tell him the answers, they just give him the riddles."

THE PRESS secretary spoke again. "All the evidence is in and it proves beyond a reasonable doubt that the king is innocent of all crimes, ergo, ergo, ergo, et cetera."

"But what about the evidence the king refuses to turn over to the committee?" a dormouse asked.

"That is not evidence," the press secretary replied. "If there was further evidence to prove the king guilty, he would have gladly given it to the committee. The fact he has not turned it over means it does not exist."

"WHY CAN'T we hear all the tapes?" the Mock Turtle asked, "so we can decide for ourselves who is innocent and who is guilty?"

The press secretary replied, "If you heard the tapes it would only prove the innocent are guilty and the guilty are innocent and it would serve no purpose but to confuse you. Besides what you would hear is not what you have read and what you have read is not what you would hear, so it's better not to hear what cannot be read. Isn't that perfectly clear?"

"I feel I'm back at the Mad Hatter's tea party," Alice said.

A Devotion For Today . .

"You know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sake he became poor." (2 Corinthians 8:9)

PRAYER: We pray for compassion, our Father, to help those whom You are wanting to help, going out of our resources, physical and spiritual. Make us fellow workers with Christ. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

The Kidnapper

William F. Buckley Jr.

Mr. Reg. Murphy, the editor of "The Atlanta Constitution," has lines on his face he didn't have a year ago, as would you and I have if we had spent most of 50 consecutive hours gagged in the trunk of a car breathing a blend of carbon monoxide and fetid air, and being driven hither and yon by a kidnapper who quite coolly wondered right to the end whether he should take his big pistol back to the trunk and fire off a shot at the temple.

MR. MURPHY'S general views on kidnapping are worth more than most people's, one would think. And although one likes to believe that the age is not coming when we will be carrying cards in our wallets entitled: "Helpful Hints In Case You Are Kidnapped: Mutual of Omaha's Special Behavior Guide" — it pays to listen . . .

For instance, on one pending matter Mr. Murphy is totally committed. He opposes legislation that would make it a felony to submit to the demands of the kidnapper. The theory of this law is totally correct, and the morality of it seductive. Crime should not pay, and therefore those who might be disposed to pay criminals should be prohibited from doing so. But here is as good an example as any of the collapse of theory up against experience.

In point of fact, the chances are overwhelming that a parent, or even an employer, will put up money rather than hazard the life of a member of the family or an employee. It is true that in doing so one encourages the practice of kidnapping.

But in failing to do so one increases the chances of harm to an immediately identifiable victim.

IT IS, quite simply, a dilemma. When a grandson of J. Paul Getty was kidnapped a year ago, Getty refused to submit to the kidnappers' demands on the grounds that to do so would be to put into jeopardy all his other grandchildren — the reasoning is inescapable. But the remote problem is generally to be preferred over the immediate problem, in the calculations of human beings: and, in due course, Getty paid up.

Now it is Mr. Murphy's point that if the pending bill becomes law the result will not be to estop payments of cash to the kidnapper. But it will be to cease to coordinate these payments with the police. And if this happens, then the chances of identifying the criminal (and incidentally retrieving the money) are drastically reduced. And here is where the real encouragement to the criminal comes in. As the practice of kidnapping succeeds, so will the profession grow.

AS THINGS NOW stand, Mr. Murphy points out, kidnappers with one or two extraordinary exceptions — for instance the first guy who bailed out over the Rockies using a parachute — have not got away with it. This is because the technology of crime detection has greatly advanced since the days when Lindbergh's kidnapper could snatch up the money and escape, however briefly, without a trace.

BUT USE IT WISELY Electrical Power Could Be Ample

By The Associated Press

Americans won't have to swelter through the summer to avoid power cutbacks or brownouts, but utility officials say people will have to use electricity wisely if they want to prevent problems.

An Associated Press survey showed that electric companies expect to have enough power to satisfy summer demands, barring unforeseen breakdowns or abnormally hot weather.

They urge conservation, however, and say high electricity prices, caused by higher fuel costs, may help cut usage.

Robert Rives, a spokesman for the Kansas Gas & Electric Co., said, "We have adequate facilities and fuel to take care of people's needs, but we think they should use it wisely."

Rives and others suggested that people set their thermostats at 78 degrees — slightly above usual — just the way they set the thermostats slightly below normal during the winter.

Several utilities said they had extra reserve capacity. A spokesman for Commonwealth Edison of Chicago said, "Our reserve will be 16 per cent. The reserve normally is 14 per cent." He said the extra capacity is the result of a "slowdown in electrical growth. In past years there has been an electrical growth of 5 or 6 per cent a year, but so far this year, it's not growing at all."

A spokesman for the Public Service Co. of Colorado said the power situation looked good for summer.

Consolidated Edison Co. of New York reported two more extra generating units this year than last. But the company was forced to make a voltage cutback last Friday when the temperature hit 92 degrees. Some equipment was out of service because of repairs and maintenance by company workmen trying to get things ready for summer.

Spokesmen for the New England Power Pool said the only chance of brownouts this summer would be if the weather turned hot at the same time plants were shut down for maintenance.

Witnesses Set 2-Day Meeting

The local congregation of Spanish speaking Jehovah's Witnesses will be in Midland next Saturday and Sunday to celebrate a two day bi-annual assembly. The Witnesses will meet in the Midland Exhibit Building.

Leonard Martinez, presiding minister for the local congregation said, "The theme for the assembly is 'love one another intensely from the heart.'" The assembly with its Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations will provide instruction enabling those attending to share their beliefs with others and do so effectively. The entire assembly program will focus its attention on God's word. Eleven congregations, half of a 22-congregation circuit, will be in Midland.

The program will start Saturday at 9:00 a.m. There will be a short Bible discussion after which those attending will make home visitations in Midland to encourage Midlanders to attend sessions of the assembly at the Midland Exhibit Building. There are now 1,758,429 ministers around the world doing this work.

Climax of the assembly will be Sunday at 2:00 p.m., when W. F. Malenfant will give the talk, "Sure of the Divine Victory." Malenfant is a special representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York. 800 delegates are expected from Del Rio, Abilene, Pecos and other Texas points. All sessions will be in Spanish and will be free to the public.

Cash Loses Argument, Glove, Game

By The Associated Press

Norm Cash lost his glove, an argument and a ball game all in one shot Monday night.

Incensed over a "fair" call on Dave May's double down the right field line in the eighth inning, the Detroit Tigers' first baseman threw down his glove in disgust and let umpire Bill Kunkel have it.

It did the Tigers no good, though—they dropped a 6-4 decision to the Milwaukee Brewers.

"I don't usually blow my cool out there, but this was too much," said Cash. "That ball was foul by six or eight inches. Kunkel was too close to the play. It slipped behind him before he could turn around."

May's hit drove in the Brewers' winning runs—and it was fair, insisted Kunkel.

Cash's temper display got him an early shower. Kunkel threw him out.

In the only other American League game Monday night, the Oakland A's trimmed the Minnesota Twins 5-4.

Charlie Moore opened the Brewers' winning rally in the eighth with a walk and moved to second on a bouncer. Pedro Garcia was intentionally walked and Tim Johnson singled to load the bases.

May then delivered his two-run double off Tiger reliever John Hiller, 5-3, and Cash delivered his heated words to Kunkel.

A's 5, Twins 0

Hot-hitting Angel Mangual slugged a run-scoring triple and added two singles, then Oakland held off a late Minnesota rally to beat the Twins.

The A's led 5-0 at one point, but Minnesota scored a run in the seventh on a single by Jerry Terrell and a triple by Harmon Killebrew. The Twins scored three more in the ninth on RBI hits by Rod Carew, Killebrew and Bobby Darwin before reliever Darold Knowles shut the door.

'Toy Cannon' Firing Hard

By The Associated Press

The Dodgers' "Toy Cannon" isn't shooting blanks this year. Jimmy Wynn, admitting to "the best start I've ever had," continued to live up to his nickname Monday night—just as he's been doing since the baseball season began.

Wynn blasted two more home runs and drove in four more runs to spark the 5-3 Los Angeles victory over the Cincinnati Reds, raising his major league-leading homer total to 14. The runs batted in boosted his total to 41—tying him with Jeff Burroughs of the Texas Rangers for the major-league lead.

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs edged the New York Mets, 2-1; the Montreal Expos trimmed the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2; the San Diego Padres clipped the Houston Astros 8-6, and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1.

Cubs 2, Mets 1

Burt Hooton pitched a four-hitter and Billy Williams drove in both Chicago runs with a sixth-inning single to lead the Cubs past the Mets.

Expos 4, Pirates 2

Bob Bailey scored two runs and drove in another to pace the Montreal triumph over Pittsburgh.

Starter Mike Torrez got relief help from Chuck Taylor, but picked up his first victory over the Pirates since Sept. 10, 1972.

Willie Stargell singled in both of Pittsburgh's runs in the eighth inning. The other Montreal run scored on a wild pitch by Jim Rooker.

Phils 2, Cards 1

Left-hander Steve Carlton pitched an eight-hitter and singled in one of Philadelphia's runs to carry the Phillies past St. Louis for his fourth straight victory.

Both teams now hold 1-8 records.

In an American Minor league battle, the Truckers bombed the Pals 18-0 on 10 hits.

Ted Bartley had a triple, a double and a single and Jamie Thompson stroked two singles and a double in the win, while George Solis also starred at the plate.

Johnny Hatch was the winning pitcher, allowing only one hit, a single by Pate Denton. Kenny Cantrell took the loss.

Astros Lose Again, Equal Club Record

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros management said at the start of the season that this year's team was the best in the city's history.

Then the San Diego Padres defeated the Astros 8-6 Monday to hand Houston its 10th straight loss.

The 10 in a row tie the longest losing streak in the Astros 14-year National League history. They accomplished it once in 1965 and twice in 1967.

Houston Manager Preston Gomez says he didn't think it would happen. San Diego first baseman Willie McCovey can't believe it.

McCovey, however, had a big part in the Astros' latest setback. He drove in four runs with three hits.

"I didn't think this would happen to us," said Gomez. "But this is baseball. We can turn around and win nine or 19 in a row and be right back up there. We've got a team capable of doing this, too."

Fred Kendall's two-out double in the seventh inning broke a 6-6 tie and the Padres added a final run in the eighth on singles by Nate Colbert, Dave Winfield and John Grubb.

McCovey doubled across three runs in the fourth to put the Padres ahead 6-4 but Cliff Johnson hit a two-run homer off Dave Tomlin in the sixth to tie the score for the Astros.

Houston jumped to a 4-0 lead in the first inning. Gregg Gross and Roger Metzger singled and Cesar Cedeno doubled for one run. Lee May was hit by a pitch. Milt May singled in two runs and Tommy Helms singled in the fourth.

The Padres scored a run in the second on a force play with a runner at third and added two more in the third on hits by McCovey and Derrel Thomas.

"I can't believe the Astros' losing streak," McCovey said. "I picked them to win the West."

Cedeno collected a double and three singles and a walk to lead Houston hitters in a losing cause.

When Cliff Johnson tied the score with his two-run homer in the sixth, the Astros management flashed on the huge scoreboard that the beer was on the house.

But while fans were racing for the free booze San Diego pinch runner Fred Winfield raced home on Kendall's double with what proved to be the winning run in the top of the seventh.

Bears' Ace May Retire

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Butkus, the premier middle linebacker of the Chicago Bears who has been plagued by an arthritic knee, hinted Monday night that he would retire from pro football after nine seasons in the National Football League.

After receiving the Most Courageous Player Award at the New York Pro Football Writers dinner, the burly Butkus said, "I am sorry it has to end this way," but he did not say specifically that he was retiring.

He said that some players have the opportunity to retire voluntarily, but others are forced to retire when they no longer can contribute.

Rosenfeld says he expects a spirited competition among these men for the five starting spots. "We will have an old-fashioned camp in which every one has to fight for position," he said.

New Orleans had the luxury of picking players in the draft without competition from other first-year teams, a fact Rosenfeld cited when he said he expects the still nameless franchise to post a better first year record than expansion teams of the past.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Bob Burris will probably spend a much easier summer as a result of a couple of hours of football Friday night. It was the Big Spring Steers Spring Football Game, the end of off-season drills, and the Whites beat the Golds 14-7.

But the score didn't matter to Burris, who has what would appear to be the very rugged task of trying to turn the Big Spring Steers into winners. He probably didn't even see colors, only Potential. Notice the capital P.

"We've got 15 lettermen back, plus the two good boys that moved in, three or four boys up from the junior varsity and six good freshmen," a relaxed Burris said. "All of a sudden we're up there with 25 or 30 football players, and that's something we didn't have this time last year. That's the difference in this year's team and last year's."

I get the feeling the marriage of ex-Andrews coach Edd Farmer and the Abilene High basketball program is going to end in a nasty separation in a hurry. Farmer took the Mustangs to the state AAA cage tournament this year, but he's been known to get rough with his players on occasion and some of his coaching methods have been questionable.

That kind of stuff will fit in at Abilene High about like Mojo bumper stickers. The situation was "sensitive" the past season, with racial problems pulling the school apart, and an unpopular coach might shorten the fuse.

Capt. John Disoway, one of the top golfers in Big Spring while serving at Webb AFB last year, recently suffered spinal injuries after falling out of his disabled jet trainer near San Antonio. Disoway steered his jet away from a residential area at Schertz and then bailed out as the plane crashed in an open field. He's in Lackland AFB's Wilford Hall Medical Center.

It's a pretty good thing for the local athletic department that baseball is finally over. The budget might not have been able to take the strain.

One couple that lives near Steer Park grew unhappy about baseballs landing in their yard, and the inevitable charge of youthful ball-chasers that followed. So, the folks just began to keep every ball that came their way, possibly hoping that they could drain the Steers' supply. Steer coach Larry Horton figures the two must have three or four dozen baseballs cluttering up their house.

UT El Paso's list of football recruits for the upcoming season looks like a West Texas journal. Ten of 24 signed are West Texans, including six from Dist. 5-AAAA.

Walton Facing Knee Surgery

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — UCLA's Bill Walton, newest member of the Portland Trail Blazers, will undergo knee surgery probably within two weeks, the National Basketball Association team announced Monday.

Walton, the 6-foot-11 All-American center, has signed a five-year contract with Portland for an estimated $2.5 million. He will be the club's No. 1 pick in the collegiate draft May 28.

A club spokesman said Walton returned to Portland last week for further tests requested by Dr. Frank B. Smith, the Blazers' team physician.

The operation should be relatively simple and the recovery period short, Smith said.

Walton had been backpacking in the mountains in California and hadn't been expected back in Portland until the start of the Blazers' rookie camp June 11.

Tiger Cubs Fall To Abilene

ABILENE — Big Spring's Tiger Cubs took the early lead, but lost it in the last four innings Sunday as the Abilene Eagles handed the Cubs their fourth defeat of the year, 3-2.

The Eagles did their damage on just one hit, a single in the ninth inning as Ismael Hernandez tamed the Eagles from the mound and recorded 16 strikeouts.

Abilene's winning run came in the bottom of the ninth as Chano Martinez got a single and scored on a two-base error.

Billy Diaz stroked a pair of hits to lead the Cubs at the plate, while Ernest Garcia, Melesio Sarmiento, Emelio Ramirez and Hernandez had one apiece.

Weatherall Wins In Chicano Golf

Billy Weatherall won the Championship Flight winner in the First Chicano Golf Tournament Sunday at Municipal Golf Course.

Tano Chavarria captured the first flight honors, while Ben Garcia won the second flight.

Next scheduled meeting of the group is June 4 at Carlos' Restaurant.

Unitas Raps 'Attitudes'

SAN DIEGO (AP) — John Unitas, preparing for his 20th and possibly his last season of professional football, says the attitude of present-day players discourages him.

"The game is a lot different than it was five or six years ago and it gets to where you don't know which end is up, what the hell their thinking is," the 41-year-old veteran National Football League quarterback said in a telephone interview Monday.

"The guys just don't have the dedication I would like them to have. You don't get them to do the things they should be doing," said Unitas.

"They don't seem to care whether they play football or not as long as they make the team and get their checks."

Unitas said he wasn't only talking about his San Diego Charger teammates.

"It's the general attitude in the league, and that's the thing that irks me more than anything else," he said.

Unitas, the NFL's all-time leading passer, came to the Chargers from Baltimore last year and signed a two-year contract for more than $200,000 a season.

But he spent the second half of the season on the bench because of a shoulder injury and the last-place team's decision to go with younger players.

He said he's ready to play for new Coach Tommy Prothro this year, but wasn't markedly optimistic about the Chargers' chances.

"I don't have the slightest idea whether the team will be improved," Unitas said. "They'll be putting in a whole new system. . . They've got to be thinking three, four or five years ahead, rather than worrying about this year."

KANSAS STATE CAGER DIES

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Kansas State basketball player Dean Harris, who was critically injured last Friday in a two-car collision near suburban Collinsville, Ill., died Monday at Firmin Desloge Hospital here.

Harris, 19, suffered multiple injuries in the accident, during a driving rainstorm on Illinois 157 about two miles north of Interstate 70. Also killed was Patricia Hartman, 47, of Edwardsville, Ill.

"Dean was one of the finest young men I had the privilege to coach," said Kansas State Coach Jack Hartman upon hearing of Harris' death.

Yankees Turn Back Rangers

The Dibrell's Sporting Goods Yankees proved their place at the top of the National Little League was no fluke Monday by downing the Big Spring Herald Rangers 4-2 in a crucial first half matchup.

Mark Harris and Mark Knight slammed home runs and Harris and Randy Cregar teamed up for a one-hitter as the Yanks lifted their NL standing to 9-0. The Rangers, who could have pulled into a tie with a victory, slipped to 6-2.

Cregar pitched the first three innings for the Yanks, giving up the one hit, and when he switched positions the score was tied at 2-2. Harris, who also had a double, didn't give up a hit in the final three frames and the Yanks pushed across single runs in each of the fifth and sixth innings. Harris is now 4-0.

Elsewhere in local action Monday, the Starfighters trounced the Falcons 12-2 in the International League, the Cabots earned their first American triumph with a 1-0 decision over the Hawks, and the Super Save Cubs nudged the GI Forum Dodgers 4-3 in the Texas loop.

It was Nathan Lemon's two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth inning that led the Cubs to their upset of the previously unbeaten Dodgers, who meet the Tigers Thursday to decide the TL lead. Lemon also was the winning pitcher, scattering five hits.

The Cubs, now 4-5, also had hits from David Long while Escobero, Hernandez and Williams paced the Dodgers, who fell to 8-1.

Rick Merritt and Steve Stallings combined for a one-hitter in leading the Starfighters past the Falcons.

Stallings also sparked the Starfighters' plate effort with three hits, while Mike Williamson chipped in a pair. The win evened the Starfighters' record at 3-3.

The Cabots brought the Hawks into the AL cellar with them Monday, as the Hawks' Blake Rosson lost his shutout by walking in the winning run in the bottom of the fifth. Richard Moncus struck out 11 Hawks in the pitchers' duel, while Keith Sheedy led the Cabots at the plate with a pair of hits.

Both teams now hold 1-8 records.

In an American Minor league battle, the Truckers bombed the Pals 18-0 on 10 hits.

Ted Bartley had a triple, a double and a single and Jamie Thompson stroked two singles and a double in the win, while George Solis also starred at the plate.

Johnny Hatch was the winning pitcher, allowing only one hit, a single by Pate Denton. Kenny Cantrell took the loss.

NBA's New Child Happy With Draft

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The latest entry into the National Basketball Association walked away from the expansion draft with the best back court combination in the league, according to its owner.

Fred Rosenfeld, owner of the new New Orleans franchise is particularly jubilant when he refers to the man selected to team up with superstar Pete Maravich on the back line—Stu Lantz.

"Stu, along with Maravich, gives us arguably the best back court in achievement for us to claim this," he said.

Lantz, a six-year veteran from Detroit, averaged 8.9 points last season.

Rosenfeld also believes the team has excellent balance.

Be Careful
Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I nearly weep every time I read a letter from a pregnant teenager pleading for help. So few people know that the sex act need not be completed in order to impregnate a female.

I was a medic in the service. When I got married, my ward doctor loaned me a medical book that he'd used in counseling young people. From that book I learned that when a man starts to get excited, a few drops of neutralizing fluid is released to neutralize any uric acid in the male urinary canal. It is nature's way of clearing a safe path for the delicate sperm cells to pass through at termination of the sex act.

Lab tests have shown that occasionally a few sperm cells are present in this fluid. It occurs most frequently in teen-agers, since this is when the male is at his peak of fertility.

Abby, please tell young people, if they plan to go beyond kissing and holding hands, they should take all the necessary measures a couple would (or should) take in preventing pregnancy. "Fooling around a little" can be just as dangerous as "going all the way."

I am a father and grandfather who is concerned about our youth, so if this information can help someone, you have my permission to change it any way you like so as not to offend anyone.

UNCLE STANLEY
DEAR ABBY: I'll not change a word. I've written to thousands of frightened teen-agers personally advising them of this fact. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to publicize this valuable — but little known — information more broadly. Of course the ideal means of preventing pregnancy is abstinence, but realistic people know that the flesh is weak. I am not advocating "fooling around" but the punishment of unwanted pregnancies far outweighs the "crime."

DEAR ABBY: Concerning the expression "to yep" someone having come from the word "gypsy": My personal pet peeve is the phrase "he Jewed me down." And in this day of auctions, thrift shops, flea markets, etc. it is distressingly frequent.

My technique is to ask the "Jew-er downer" to teach me his bargaining technique because I'd like to know how to "Gentle" somebody down. All but the most thickheaded clods seem to get the message.

Let's hear it for good old Christian charity! NANCY SENTER, L. A., CAL.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Violet Club Adjourns Until Fall

The Texas Bouquet African Violet Club has adjourned for the summer after a recent installation luncheon at Big Spring Country Club.

Assuming duties were Mrs. Odell Womack, president; Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, vice president; Mrs. Brent Womack, recording secretary; Mrs. H. J. Agee, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. D. Campbell, treasurer; and Mrs. J. F. Sanders, parliamentarian. The installing officer was Mrs. Sanders, past president.

Reports were heard from Mrs. A. C. Moore on the workshops at Big Spring Nursing Inn, from Mrs. Agee on the garden therapy work at the inn and from Mrs. Odell Womack on the "prevent litter" campaign. Mrs. Womack said lists have been compiled of sites in the city that need cleaning, and these may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce offices or from Mrs. Floyd Mays or Mrs. Womack.

Mrs. Clinkscales announced that the garden club council has sponsored the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers at Halfway House. Also, the violet club members have donated plants to the nursing inn.
