OFFERS IMPEACHMENT PANEL ONE EDITED TRANSCRIPT

Nixon Will Not Comply With Subpoena

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon notified the House Judiciary Committee today he would not comply with a subpoena demanding tapes of 11 Watergate conversations.

Rep. Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa, emerged from a closed committee session and told newsmen that the White House response was delivered to committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., about 11 a.m., one hour past the deadline set by the subpoena for a reply.

IT WAS NEGATIVE
Mayne said Rodino told the 38-member committee that he had just received the response "and he said it was unfavorable ... it was negative."

Earlier, Nixon offered the committee one edited transcript in response to the committee's request for tapes of 66 White House conversations dealing with the dairy industry and International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair, said the President feels he has already given the committee everything else it needs for that phase of its impeachment inquiry.

St. Clair also said Nixon would respond later today to a subpoena for 11 Watergate tapes he has been ordered to deliver. There was no indication he would comply with the subpoena, which set a deadline of 10 a.m. today for compliance.

St. Clair said many of the 66 conversations sought by the committee in connection with the ITT and dairy industry matters were not recorded and that others were not pertinent to the committee's inquiry.

All that will be supplied, he said, is a partial transcript of an April 4, 1972, conversation between Nixon, former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and former White House aide H. R. Halde-man.

St. Clair said testimony at the Senate Watergate hearings shows that there was discussion of the ITT case during that meeting.

MOST DAMAGING
St. Clair spoke to newsmen before entering another closed-door hearing of the committee. The committee heard the tape of a March 21, 1973, meeting on Tuesday, and some members said it was the most damaging evidence against Nixon they have yet heard.

In another major development, Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr. told reporters Tuesday that a significant portion of a March 17, 1973, White House transcript may be missing.

Rodino said the tape recording representing that transcript apparently includes a discussion by Nixon of the possibility of White House involvement in the Watergate cover-up. Nixon has said he first learned of the cover-up on March 21, 1973.

INVOLVEMENT
Rodino said the committee had been given a tape by the Watergate grand jury that records a conversation between Nixon and Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler on June 4, 1973, after Nixon had spent several hours listening to tapes of other meetings.

Rodino said one of the meetings they discussed was on March 17, between Nixon and then-White House counsel John W. Dean III. According to Rodino, it included "a discussion of the Watergate matter and the possible involvement of White House personnel and others."

The White House released transcript of the March 17 meeting does not mention Watergate.

The committee heard on Tuesday a tape of the March 21 talk between Nixon and Dean. It convinced some Democrats that Nixon ordered Dean to pay Hunt $120,000 in hush money.

PRIME THING
"It was a command. It was said very positively," said Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif., after the closed committee hearing.

"He was clearly ordering Dean to pay the money," said another Democrat. "I don't think there is any question."

Few Republican members would comment, and none of those who did found anything helpful for Nixon in the tape. "This is certainly the most damning of the stuff we've had so far," said Rep. Hamilton Fish, R-N.Y.

In the key section of the tape Nixon suggests that Dean has no choice but to come up with the money Hunt allegedly demanded to keep silent.

"Would you agree that that's the prime thing, that you damn well better get that done?" Nixon asks.

CLERK PRO-TEM Files Suit To Count Extra Ballot

Late this morning, John R. Coffee, district clerk pro-tem, filed a suit in which District Clerk M. Fern Cox petitioned 118th District Court to count the extra ballot found in the county clerk's office Monday.

If counted, the ballot, which was found among applications for absentee ballots, will tie up the race for the Democratic nomination for district clerk and cause a runoff election to be held. A recount by the Democratic Executive Committee gave Mrs. Peggy Crittenden the nomination by one vote.

Cox said he did not believe there had been any wrong doing. But he said the matter is "just something I'd like cleared up."

Because Cox could not serve as district clerk in connection with his own suit, District Judge Ralph W. Caton appointed Coffee.

Coffee was given the oath of office and bonded for the temporary position.

Hearing Aid Firms Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission disclosed today it is investigating an industry-wide basis the possibility that hearing aid manufacturers and marketers have used unfair selling practices or false advertising.

The announcement, first of its kind since the commission decided to make industrywide investigations public, follows complaints already filed against the industry's major manufacturers.

On May 7 the commission named Sonotone Corp., Seeburg Industries, Textron, Radioear Corp., Dahlberg Electronics and Beltone Electronics in proposed complaints alleging false advertising. The complaints are pending.

The commission alleged the companies failed to disclose that no hearing aid can restore normal or natural hearing or reverse or retard a hearing loss.

Gen. Spillers Daughter Faces Narcotics Charge

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Police arrested a teenage daughter of Air Force Brig. Gen. William Spillers Jr. in the family home at Kelly Air Force Base on a narcotics charge Tuesday night.

They said Jennifer Spillers, 18, was taken into custody on a warrant charging she delivered four grams of heroin to a police undercover agent. Municipal Magistrate Manuel Lopez ordered her held pending $10,000 bond.

Police said the "buy" was made off base. Spillers is vice commander of the Air Force Logistics Center at Kelly.

Henley Loses Court Battle

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court refused today to hear arguments from lawyers for Elmer Wayne Henley Jr. that a San Antonio trial judge should be forced to decide immediately whether to transfer the case a second time.

Henley, 17, is accused in six of the 27 sex slayings in Houston last year. The high court's ruling was made without a written opinion.

On May 10, Will Gray of Houston, asked the high court to let him give full scale arguments that publicity surrounding the case in San Antonio prevents Henley from getting a fair trial. The trial was previously moved from Houston to San Antonio on the same grounds.

'Tania' Hearst Faces New Charges, Hunt Continues

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Hearst and two comrades faced additional charges today stemming from two alleged kidnappings as hundreds of police search for the three believed to be the remnants of the Symbionese Liberation Army.

Heavily armed, police swarmed into the Los Angeles suburb of Van Nuys and into a neighborhood in Sacramento Tuesday night in response to some of the scores of citizen reports claiming to have seen Miss Hearst and two SLA members, William and Emily Harms.

CHECKED OUT
Neither report checked out. But FBI agent Charles Bates, in charge of this case since

A youth who said Miss Hearst and the Harries kidnaped him last week was quoted by the Los Angeles Times today as saying the 20-year-old newspaper heiress told him she joined the SLA of her own free will.

Tom Dean Matthews, 18, reportedly said Miss Hearst told him she had nothing to do with her kidnapping, but decided to join forces with her abductors because of dissatisfaction with her father's sponsoring of a $2 million food giveaway that was to win her release.

TO END SOON
Los Angeles Dist. Atty. Joseph Busch said Miss Hearst

and the Harries would be charged today in a shooting incident at a suburban sporting goods store, the commanding of several vehicles and kidnaping of two men. They already are charged with unlawful use and possession of automatic weapons.

Authorities allege that the kidnappings followed an abortive attempt by Harris, 29, to shoplift a pair of 49-cent socks last Thursday. That episode, in which police allege Miss Hearst sprayed the store with automatic rifle fire, started police on an intensive manhunt in Los Angeles. Friday, six SLA members died in a fiery shootout.

A spokesman for Catherine and Randolph Hearst said the parents feel "it's going to end soon, that it's going to be resolved imminently."

Jaworski's Tape Fight Supported

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has reaffirmed the authority of Watergate special prosecutor Leon Jaworski to pursue White House tapes through the courts.

And the White House said Tuesday that President Nixon is not considering firing Jaworski, a fate that befell his predecessor Archibald Cox in an earlier controversy over tapes.

On Monday Jaworski complained to the Judiciary Committee that, "The President, through his counsel, is challenging my right to bring action against him to obtain evidence, or differently stated, he contends that I cannot take the President to court."

Take Cancer-Stricken Baby From Distraught Grandma

DALLAS (AP) — A cancer-stricken baby brought here from Oklahoma City by her distraught grandmother in hopes of gaining better care has been returned.

The grandmother, identified by police as Willie Mae Scott, was arrested Tuesday but released on her own recognizance after welfare officials took from her the 16-month-old baby, identified as Kelly Danielle York.

TEARS
Dallas police acted on a warrant filed in Oklahoma City by the child's mother.

"Her mother could just see the child about one day a week," the grandmother tearfully explained. She said she felt she could give it the love it needed.

"Doctors tell me there is only a 25 per cent chance she will live to be three. The radiation treatments (in Oklahoma) could cost her her right eye." Doctors at Parkland Hospital said the right side of the baby's face is swollen from a large tumor.

LOVE
Mrs. Scott said she had checked the girl out of the University of Oklahoma Medical Center in Oklahoma City March 9 on a weekend pass. She brought her to Dallas where she said she had heard about a doctor who "has done wonders curing cancer."

The mother filed kidnap charges but Sheriff Hewey Askew of Latimer County, Okla., home of the child's parents, said the warrant was not filed until May 13. He said he learned Monday the grandmother and baby were in Dallas and alerted Dallas police.

The baby was driven to Durham, Okla., Tuesday afternoon by an aunt and a welfare case worker, and the child was readmitted to the hospital in Oklahoma City.

"She just wanted to give the child some love," one Dallas detective said of the grandmother.

The World At-A-Glance

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors has joined the Big Three auto makers in announcing still another increase in auto prices, the second boost for the small-car specialist this spring. AMC vehicles will cost an average $67 more starting today, an increase of 1.7 per cent. The Cost of Living Council registered its disappointment after Tuesday's announcement, but said it doesn't have the power to stop the increase.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has rejected and probably killed standby emergency energy legislation that would have given President Nixon rationing powers in the event of a renewed crisis. The 207 to 191 vote against the standby measure centered on a provision designed to roll back domestic crude oil prices to pre-embargo levels.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense spending supporters say the House may vote to reduce U.S. military aid for South Vietnam to $900 million and cut 100,000 men from U.S. forces overseas. Supporters, reportedly including White House lobbyists, were pessimistic on both the Vietnam aid and the U.S. overseas troop cut votes. They said they believed they could narrowly defeat an amendment by a coalition of military spending critics and economy bloc congressmen to cut the bill $733 million across the board.

BIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Israeli warplanes bombed two Lebanese villages Tuesday on Mt. Hermon's western slope. The Tel Aviv command said the raids were on "guerrilla concentrations," but other reports said there had been no guerrilla activity in the area. The Lebanese Defense Ministry said the raids brought the Arab death toll from four Israeli attacks in the past week to about 60.

Truce Line Will Defuse Golan Heights Fighting?

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today that substantial agreement has been reached on a truce line to defuse the fighting on the Golan Heights front, but indicated he would not secure a full disengagement accord before he leaves the Middle East this weekend.

subject is very complex, heavy and full of clauses and sub-clauses," said Israeli Information minister Shimon Peres. The statements appeared to be a forecast that Kissinger would return to Washington without a pact to separate the Syrian and Israeli armies and leave final details to be settled by his aids.

Palestinian refugee targets Tuesday for the fourth time since the terrorist attack on the northern Israeli town of Maalot a week ago. Kissinger met with Assad for 5 1/2 hours, after which he reported qualified progress toward a disengagement agreement.

Girl Burned In Freak Mishap

COAHOMA — Mary Pardon, 19, Coahoma, was in good condition at Medical Center Memorial Hospital late this morning after being burned in an early morning accident in Coahoma.

The official Syrian news agency SANA circulated the report several hours before Kissinger, on the 25th day of his shuttle for peace, was due in Damascus after talks with Israeli officials.

SANA charged that Israel was "creating complications" and wasting Kissinger's time by refusing to comply with provisions that have to be completed before agreement is reached.

Drafters Expect To Reject Merit Selection Of Judges

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Constitutional Convention was expected today to reject merit selection of judges and finally finish the judiciary article. Tuesday, the convention got what President Price Daniel Jr. called "a real shot in the arm" when Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards and Speaker E.L. Henry stressed the need for compromise in writing a constitution.

Such a document "must be a compromise of the beliefs of all the people," Henry said. Edwards told the delegates they must put just enough non-constitutional language in it to win the support of a majority of competing special interests.

judges selfishly are seeking to perpetuate their offices in the constitution and oppose the unified judicial system that may lead to lawyer-judges for all contested trials in the state. Most county judges are not lawyers.

Lawyers' Unit Asks Court To Set Aside '72 Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lawyers' organization has asked a federal court to set aside the 1972 presidential election as "an utter fraud" and to order the ouster of President Nixon and Vice President Gerald R. Ford. The 207-page suit, filed Tuesday in U.S. District Court by the National Lawyers Guild, contends the election was invalid because of "numerous criminal and otherwise unlawful acts" committed in Nixon's re-election campaign. These acts, the suit charged, amounted to a conspiracy that violated the American people's "fundamental right to a republican form of government and their right to democratic self-government through meaningful and full participation in the political process." The suit said Ford should be ousted along with Nixon, because if the election is deemed invalid then Nixon's action in naming Ford as a successor to Spiro T. Agnew is also invalid. The National Lawyers Guild, claiming 4,000 members, describes itself as "an association dedicated to the need for basic

Strikers Defy Thousands Of Troops In Combat Gear

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Gunfire crackled today in Protestant strongholds of East Belfast as militant strikers defied thousands of British troops in combat gear by re-erecting barricades the soldiers had torn down.

There was no immediate word of casualties, but police said six or seven men were involved in the shooting.

One mob of young men armed with rocks and clubs attacked and encircled a police patrol, and soldiers in armored cars moved in to rescue the officers.

BARRICADES UP — Traffic that had begun flowing for the first time in three days after the army swoop snarled again as the new barricades went up.

The Protestant reaction came a few hours after soldiers in combat gear swarmed through the British province's beleaguered capital, clearing streets blocked to back up a Protestant-led general strike.

It was a quick reply to claims by strike leaders that they controlled Northern Ireland to the point of being able to form a provisional government.

LONG LINES — After a government attempt failed Tuesday to get heavily guarded workers back on the job at Harland and Wolff shipyard—Belfast's main industry—Barr told newsmen:

"We are prepared to do anything to save the province from being taken over by republicans." Strike leaders threatened to cripple gas, water and sewage services if the government tried to put troops into electric power plants now operating at one-third capacity.

Repeated power cuts have brought crisis for agriculture, a mainstay of the Northern Ireland economy. One factory farm, short of feed because mills are closed, drowned 300,000 chickens too young for market.

Long lines formed outside the few stores still open. Meat, milk and bread were at a premium in Belfast, though the situation was less serious in country towns.

In London, the British government stood firm on its refusal to deal with the strikers. Prime Minister Harold Wilson, backed by the Conservative opposition, insists that the Sunningdale agreement, giving the Irish Republic a limited say in Ulster affairs, must stand.

Strike leaders want it repealed.

William Craig, leader of the hardline Vanguard Unionist party, told newsmen: "We are in effective control of the country. We certainly control the news of life in the community."

A lieutenant, Glenn Barr, took an even tougher line: "We could set up a provisional government if we took the notion. We have the power to govern in our hands."

THE BRAIN — He has emerged as the brain behind the strike called last week to gain reversal of concessions made to Ulster's Roman Catholic minority that strike leaders saw as steps toward unification with the Irish Republic. The republic is a Catholic state.

The first demand of the strikers is for provincial elections by next fall. Their leaders believe this would demonstrate overwhelming opposition toward Irish unity.

Barr is a member of the Northern Ireland provincial assembly, but his real power stems from his role as coordinator of militant Protestant groups.

Three Posts Organizing

Three new Explorer Posts, open to youths between the ages of 14 and 20, are in the process of being organized here.

One is a high adventure, or a general interest, post which will have its organizational meeting today at the Webb AFB Youth Center at 7:30 p.m. Youths interested are urged to attend and may obtain directions to the center at the base gate. Many fun and adventure activities for the summer are planned.

Thursday 7:30 p.m. in the first-floor conference room (Room 28) at the VA Hospital a post with medical and nursing interests will be organized. VA personnel will furnish leadership, any young man or woman who would like to explore these career areas is urged to attend the meeting.

Next Tuesday, the possibility of a post centering on motorcycle adventure may be organized. Three local motorcycle dealerships will serve as sponsors, and youths with a hobby or recreational interest in this activity are invited to attend the 8 p.m. meeting at Coker's. Refreshments will be served.

Conference To Center On Care In-Out Of Hospital

One of a series of conferences next month to inform Texas family physicians on the latest techniques in the care and treatment of the mentally ill during and after hospitalization will be held here.

The conference at the Big Spring State Hospital, open to physicians, nurses, nursing home administrators and staff members, social workers, and any other person interested in this area of mental health, is set for June 11, starting at 8 a.m.

Six to seven hours of continuing education credit may be earned by participants.

Some of the nation's leading authorities on treatment programs for the geriatric (elderly) patients, the alcohol and drug abusers, also children and adolescents with emotional problems, will speak at the conference.

These sessions are sponsored by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. The primary purpose is to inform family physicians on treatments designed to assist patients during a state hospital stay, and after their return to home communities.

EARN CREDIT

The Texas Board of Licensing for Nursing Home Administrators has approved this neuropsychiatric conference for 6½ hours of continuing education credit. The Texas Nurses Association has approved the program for seven hours of continuing education credit for all RN's attending.

Learn-To-Swim Program Signup Now Underway

Eleven youngsters have been signed so far on the learn-to-swim program which will start the annual Citywide Summer Recreation Program June 3.

Instruction is free, although a $1 pool fee for the week is suggested (but no child is refused for lack of it). Parents may have a choice of any half-hour period from 10 a.m. to 12 noon by calling the YMCA (which is the administrative agency). The program, however, has nothing to do with Y membership, and any elementary age child in the area is welcome to take part.

Summer Fun, a daily supervised activity (Monday through Friday) at Comanche Trail Park and Lakeview has 16 registered so far. Here again, parents should contact the Y to sign up for this free organized program.

Justice In Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — District Court Judge Raymond Graham believes in giving credit where it is due.

The mother of a ca naccused of possessing firearms broke into loud prayer in Graham's courtroom Monday when he dismissed the charge.

"Thank you, Jesus...Thank you, Lord," she said.

"Not meaning to be sacrilegious," said Graham quietly. "My name is not Jesus...it's the Lord Graham."

And he added, "The high court in Denver (10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals) made me do it."

Westbrook Has Water Problems

WESTBROOK — Temporary water woes in Westbrook have been helped by conservative usage of water among the citizens for a few days.

A water line broke inside the city and the mayor, Sam Odes, requested that water not be used on gardens and lawns for a few days while the tank filled up again.

Mrs. Ruby Sweatt, city secretary, stated, "We are not selling water for chemical spray or things of this nature at this time, but we have plenty of water for the normal use of the residents."

Murphey Speaker At BSSH May 31

The Big Spring State Hospital staff's seventh annual award dinner is set to begin 7 p.m. May 31 in the Alford Building auditorium.

Well-known humorist and practicing attorney Bob Murphey of Nacogdoches will speak. Length of Service, five commendation, Friend of the Hospital and Psychiatric Aid of the Year awards will also be presented during the event.

taken by dummy's ace. The king and queen of diamonds were cashed, and declarer crossed to his hand with the king of hearts. Unfortunately, West discarded a spade on the ace of diamonds, and declarer could come to no more than eight tricks—two spades, two hearts, three diamonds and a club.

Had declarer paused to take stock before playing to the king of hearts, he would have counted five tricks outside the diamond suit. Therefore, he needed only four tricks from the diamonds to make his contract. The best way to play the suit for four tricks is to cash the king of diamonds and overtake the queen with the ace while the king of hearts still remains as an entry to the South hand. That would guarantee four diamond tricks if any one of the following distributions existed: 1) if the suit divided 3-3; 2) if either defender held a doubleton jack of diamonds; 3) if either defender held a doubleton nine of diamonds.

The third case is applicable here. When the nine of diamonds falls under the ace, declarer continues with the ten to force out the jack. He wins the heart return in his hand (or crosses to his hand with king of hearts after winning any other return) and draws the outstanding diamond with his long diamond for the ninth trick.

'Farm Bureau Roundup' To Begin 20th Year

WACO — A unique farm news program that started out as an experiment will observe its 20th anniversary of broadcasting on the week end of May 25.

"Farm Bureau Roundup," a 15-minute weekly radio show produced by the Texas Farm Bureau, features on-the-spot taped reports by a team of unpaid agricultural reporters around the state. It is currently broadcast as a public service by 103 radio stations in Texas.

The show is produced and directed in the Texas Farm Bureau office in Waco by Charley Manly, TFB radio news service director. Goodson McKee, president of McKee Recording Studio in Waco, has served as anchorman for the program since it began.

Conceived and directed for 12 years by TFB Information Director Bill Hoover, "Farm Bureau Roundup" made its debut on May 22, 1954, on 62 stations. Those stations promised they would keep airing the show if they liked it. Within six months more than 100 stations were broadcasting the program. The number of participating stations has never dropped below 100.

The weekly radio news program has chronicled both the momentous and the humdrum events in agriculture in its two decades on the air. It has reported on droughts, floods, bumper crops and crop failures. It witnessed an exodus from the land and noted the remarkable increase in productive efficiency of those who stayed. For example, 20 years ago one farm worker supplied 16 people with food; now he produces enough for 51, or three times as much.

"Farm Bureau Roundup" has mixed human interest with hard news. A lady bullfighter told what it was like to face death in the afternoon. Listeners were carried along, via tape recording, in a crop-dusting plane as it zipped low over crops and fences. One report originated in a corn field in Illinois where researchers were trying to boost corn yields through rousing John Phillip Sousa marches.

The "Farm Bureau Roundup" reporting team is comprised of nine Texas reporters and two national reporters, including Bruce Frazier of San Antonio, (formerly of Big Spring), managing director of Intercambio Internacional, Inc.

Barrett has been notified that his nomination for an award given by the American Legion had been revoked because of his participation in a streaking incident at a non-school party.

Lack Of Rain Is Hurting Dawson's Crop Chances

By MARJ CARPENTER
Rainmakers, rain dancers, or anything that might bring in rain would probably be welcome in Dawson County nowadays.
"Only one-fourth of the potential cotton crop is in the ground and the rest of the seed is in the barn," according to LeRoy Colgan, county agent in Dawson County.
"Almost all of the 60,000 acres of irrigated cotton are planted," Colgan added. "And we have around 100,000 acres of dryland cotton planted from areas that had spotted showers."
"If you subtract that from the 425,000 acres that we have had in cotton acreage the past two years, you come up with quite a deficit."
The county agent in the state's largest cotton producing county added that "We have some areas of the county that have had less than 2 1/2 inches since last August. There has never been as much as an inch at a time. You just can't plant in ground that dry."

Mrs. Linehan helped in the organizational process of the Permian Basin chapter of the Foundation in 1966 and was elected to serve on the national board of directors in 1968.
She soon quit that position to become executive director of the West Texas Chapter.
No replacement has been named.

Might Sue Police, FBI For 'Murdering My Boy'

EMMAUS, Pa. (AP) — The father of William "Willie" Wolfe, one of six alleged Symbionese Liberation Army members who died in a fiery shoot-out in Los Angeles last Friday, says he may sue the Los Angeles police and the FBI for "murdering my boy."
Dr. L. S. Wolfe, an anesthesiologist, criticized the tactics of the Los Angeles authorities and federal investigators who opened fire on the house where the suspected SLA members were hiding out.
Dr. Wolfe said Monday that police could have cut the electricity, the water and the gas and waited them out.
"After they raided the first house, I should have hopped a plane and gone to California then," Wolfe said in reference to an earlier raid on a vacant residence. It was part of the search for Patricia Hearst, kidnaped by the SLA more than three months ago.
"If I had been there, I could have talked Willie into surrendering," the father said.
Dr. Wolfe said agents arrived at his home here about 12:30 a.m. Saturday and asked for dental records but told him nothing about his son's death. Dr. Wolfe said the family was not notified officially of the death until 9 p.m. on Sunday.

Rookie Hooker Sorry For Wives

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Police credit a rookie policewoman with a series of arrests in a campaign against street prostitution. Officers have arrested 44 men who believe the attractive patrolwoman was a street-walker and propositioned her.

Mac Peterson testified Tuesday that Raven, 51, set up prices by how much friends could afford. "Since I was a good friend of his, he said he'd let me go for $25," Peterson testified.

BARGAIN?

Raven and Audrey Aynn McDonald, 28, are being tried on charges of compelling prostitution of a minor. Austin school officials suspended Raven at his own request when the charges were filed in March.

State Reviews Fed Conviction Of Duval Judge On Perjury Rap

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Attorney General's office is studying the federal prosecution of Duval County Judge Archer Parr from the standpoint of possible misapplication of public funds and "that's where we might come in," a spokesman says.

Parr, 48, faces six five-year prison terms and $63,810.80 in fines and court costs, unless his appeals of a federal perjury conviction succeed. Two of the terms run consecutively and the other four are concurrent with the second.

INTERESTED

"That's where we might come in," he said. "Actually, the public funds involved were those of the Duval County Conservation and Reclamation District, which was established by state law. The federal jury found Parr lied when he said $121,500 in payments to him from the district were private legal fees."

OPTIMISTIC

If the state enters the case, it would add yet another problem. Already, the federal conviction means Parr's law license could be suspended during appeals.

He believes he can continue to hold his county judgeship until appeals are exhausted, and Parr and his attorney are optimistic about the appeal.

Two representatives of the state attorney general's office sat through Parr's nine-day federal jury trial earlier this month, taking notes on yellow legal pads.

In a telephone interview, a reporter asked Jim Bushala, special assistant to Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill, about the significance of the two representatives' presence at Parr's trial.

"It's obvious some of the allegations or charges in the federal case would lead anyone who reads and understands them to be aware of possible misapplication of state funds," said Bushala, reached in Austin.

And when Parr appeared Monday before U.S. District Court Judge D.W. Suttle, he was asked if he had anything to say before Suttle pronounced sentence.

LEGAL SERVICES

"I know that I did legal work, sir. I did perform the legal services," reiterated Parr, who then was reminded by Suttle the jury verdict was to the contrary.

Suttle showed little mercy for Parr, who had never before been convicted. He assessed Parr maximum fines and prison terms on each count, meaning Parr joins George Parr as the second member of the prominent South Texas clan to be ordered to prison this year.

Like Archer, George Parr also is a lawyer.

Texas civil statutes provide that the local bar grievance committee or the State Bar of Texas act to suspend law licenses of attorneys convicted of felonies such as the Parrs.

Archer Parr's attorney, James Gillespie, said Tuesday "our decision at this point in time" is to contest such a move against Parr's ability to sustain his lucrative practice. He said Parr will abide by any subsequent orders of the court.

Legal sources say suspension is mandatory, when a suit to suspend the license is filed in the convicted attorney's home county, proof of the conviction is presented. Such proof could be a certified copy of the criminal judgment, sources say.

The legal sources say the law provides that, even if an attorney appeals his suspension along with an appeal of his criminal conviction, he cannot practice law during the appeal of the suspension.

Texas statutes provide that when appeals of the criminal conviction are exhausted, disbarment proceedings begin.

Besides being county judge, Parr has testified he is retained privately by Coastal States Gas Producing Co. at $36,000 annually and has other clients.

'Rights' Bill Emphasized

Looking at the United States from a child's point of view was the theme of a program, "The Bill of Rights," presented by Mrs. S. R. Nobles during a Friday luncheon for the Modern Woman's Forum.

To illustrate her point, Mrs. Nobles compared the country to a train that started with three cars and ended with 50. As the train "traveled" over the United States, it passed fertile fields, mountains, streams and wild flowers. The passengers saw people driving cars, attending church, reading newspapers and enjoying life in general as they took advantage of their freedoms.

The speaker ended her talk by saying, "We may not be perfect, but we still have the better government and more freedom than any other country, and that's why I love America."

Mrs. C. R. Moat presided for the meeting, the last of the season. The women will meet again at a breakfast Oct. 11.

The honoree, attired in a sleeveless, beige dress, was presented a daisy corsage as were both mothers, Mrs. Victor Brown, Midland, and Mrs. Jay Cunningham; the prospective bridegroom's grandmothers, Mrs. A. J. Cunningham and Mrs. J. W. Hardy, both of Garden City; and the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, Houston.

The couple will marry June 22 in First Presbyterian Church, Midland.

The entertaining rooms were decorated with bird-of-paradise flowers in carnival glass vases. Guests were served from a round white antique table laid with a fringed white linen cloth and centered with a white wicker basket filled with pink roses and babies' breath. Crystal appointments were used.

The couple will be married June 1 in First Baptist Church with Dr. Kenneth Patrick officiating.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was quite amused at the letter in your column from the secretary who objected to doing personal jobs for her boss and his family.

She should have MY boss. I've been with him for 16 years. I get along fine with him, his wife, their five children — three of whom are now married. He feels (and I heartily agree) that I hired out to work eight hours a day, so if he wants me to do something other than straight secretarial work, I should do it.

I have vacuumed his office, met planes, trains and buses, shopped for gifts for his wife, children and grandchildren, typed essays and term papers for his high school and college children, and have even scouted for information for his wife when she was involved with the Junior League. I've gone to his home for dictation, have worked evenings, weekends and holidays, and have never felt that any of these duties were beneath my dignity as a secretary. Oh, we've had our differences, but I've never refused to do anything he's asked me to do, and he's never asked me to do anything immoral or illegal. I love my job, he's a wonderful boss, and the pay is exceptional.

HAPPY IN DALLAS
DEAR HAPPY: I'm glad the pay is exceptional because you certainly are.

DEAR ABBY: This is to thank you for publishing that hilarious column in which you included all those formal divorce announcements. I laughed until my sides ached.

When our daughter was divorced two years ago, my husband and I went through all the agonies other parents endure when their married children divorce. ("Isn't there some way we can keep them together? The whole town is talking. What will we tell people?")

Now we realize it wasn't all that tragic. Our daughter is soon to marry another man, and this one is a prince.

I just had to tell you that I got a wonderful laugh out of that column. I'm only sorry we didn't know such announcements were available two years ago. We'd have sent some.

N.Y. POST READER

DEAR READER: Thanks, I needed that. Not everyone saw the humor in that column, and to those who did not, I apologize. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Thanks to you, we have made provisions for leaving our eyes, kidneys and pituitary glands. But what can be done about recovering the thousands of dollars in gold invested in crowns, bridges, inlays, etc? At today's gold prices, it seems too wasteful to be buried or cremated with all that gold in our mouths.

LOADED IN THOUSAND OAKS

DEAR LOADED: Eyes, kidneys and pituitary glands are of infinite value to the recipients, but few people have sufficient gold in their mouths to justify leaving it to their heirs. (It's the dentist's time and skill — not the cost of the gold — that runs up the dental bills.)

NOSEDIVE — Oakland second baseman Ted Kubiak has to take a dive over sliding Minnesota Twins baserunner Eric Soderholm as he makes the double play throw to first base in the second inning of Tuesday night's game in Bloomington, Minn. Kubiak caught the Twins' Joe Lis at first base and the A's went on to win 8-1.

T-Birds Top Rockets, Tie For League Lead

The T-Birds brought the Oakland Music Devils 10-4 in the National League and the back into perspective Tuesday night, upending the previously unbeaten Rockets 3-1 behind the play of Chip Kooser.

It was one of two upsets in local Little League action Tuesday. The Red Sox nudged the defending district champion Tigers 5-4 in the Texas League, the Tigers' second loss of the season. It followed another T-shocker, as the Dodgers fell from the unbeaten ranks at the hands of the Cubs a night earlier, 4-3.

In other play Tuesday, the Pollard Cardinals trimmed the Red Sox, who lifted their record to 3-5 with their Tuesday night triumph. Herrera was also the winning pitcher, Johnny Abreo and Gregg Jones added power at the plate for the Sox.

Herrera's homer sparked the Red Sox from a four-run deficit. The Tigers, now 7-2, were paced by the hitting of Jesse Ybarra, Dickie Wrightsil and Lupe Ontiveros, who had two hits apiece. Brocky Jones was the losing pitcher.

Mike Workman helped his own pitching cause with a home run, a double and a single as the Colts turned back their nearest AL challengers, the Pirates. The convincing victory gave the Colts a two-game lead with a 9-1 mark, as the Pirates slip to 7-2.

Tim Shaver and Bill Davey each had a pair of hits in the Colts' 12-hit barrage, while Jimmy Marquez picked up two of the Pirates' four safeties. Tommy Rodriguez was the losing pitcher.

The Cardinals, down 4-0 through three innings, rallied in the final three frames to hand the Devils their eighth defeat without a win this season. Mark Warren limited the Devils to a single hit in the final three frames as the Cards began their comeback and lifted their record to 5-3.

Ben Watson had a pair of hits to lead the winners, while Warren, Dale Garner, Scott Moore, Bret Robertson and Chris Austin also aided the attack. Losing pitcher Mike Madry had two hits for the Devils and Harold D Danford had the other.

Earnest of the Cards and Stony Nichols of the Devils paced their teams on defense.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

According to a recent study, the "average" high school football injury is a knee injury sustained by a senior varsity player at a small school in the month of September, under the supervision of a young coach who has little actual playing experience.

That's report that comes from the two University of North Carolina professors, Dr. Carl S. Blyth and Frederick O. Mueller, who conducted a federally-funded four-year study of schoolboy football injuries. It's fairly startling that of 8,776 athletes examined in 43 schools, 4,287 — almost half — suffered some kind of injury, although only two in 100,000 injuries were fatal.

From what they learned, the doctors contend that no new rules are needed at the high school level — only better enforcement of the present rules — and more importantly, they recommended safe, proven equipment. They also urged that doctors guide away from the game players who are not physically fit.

Here are what the men found out:
Types of injuries — (1) Most common injuries are sprains, contusions, fractures, concussions and lacerations; (2) A greater frequency of fractures, contusions and lacerations were found than in the past; (3) The knee is most vulnerable, followed by the ankle; (4) About 35 percent of the injured players were disabled for seven days or more.

Circumstances — (5) Injuries were most frequent in the lower classification of high schools, enrollment below 500; (6) More injuries occurred in September than in any other month; (7) Fifty-one per cent of all injuries occurred in practice; (8) More game injuries occurred in the second quarter than in any other period; (9) Four per cent of those injured did not receive treatment until at least four days after incurring the injury; (10) The most serious injuries came from blocking and tackling in the open field.

Most Vulnerable — (11) Eighteen-year-olds had the highest injury rate; (12) No differences were found between blacks and whites in the frequency of injury; (13) Varsity level players are injured more frequently than junior varsity players; (14) Experienced players are more likely to be injured than the less experienced; (15) Athletes with a history of injury sustain injury much more frequently than do athletes having no such history.

Coaches — (16) The older the coach, the less likelihood of injury among players; (17) Players had less injuries playing for a coach who had playing experience at the college level; (18) Coaches with advanced degrees had fewer injuries on their squads; (19) More than half of the total concussions occurred when players were using improper tackling or blocking techniques; (20) Many coaches are not aware of the approved methods of giving players salt and liquids.

It's hard to judge the exact value of such a study. I mean, you're not going to go out and fire the coach just because he didn't play college football 35 years ago. And they're certainly not going to start skipping over the second quarters of games because that's when a couple of guys said the most injuries occur.

What a survey of this type could do, however, is alert coaches on what to be looking out for, and what type drills, equipment, techniques, etc. are the most dangerous. When 48 per cent of the players get hurt, you know there's plenty of room for improvement.

Peterson, 6-3, 218 pounds, was a linebacker for UCLA and the Cowboys said they will use him in that position.

MANAGERS REACT ACCORDINGLY

Red Sox Up, Angels Down

By The Associated Press
Manager Darrell Johnson of the Boston Red Sox flashed a big grin. That's what happens when your team is hitting.
Manager Bobby Winkles of the California Angels threw a pair of shoes against the wall. That's what happens when your team isn't hitting.
Johnson's Red Sox have a four-game winning streak during which they've pounded out 41 runs on 61 hits and moved into second place in the American League's East Division, one game behind the Milwaukee Brewers. Eighteen of the hits came in Tuesday night's 14-6 romp over the New York Yankees.

Winkles' Angels managed seven hits in a 4-2 loss to the Kansas City Royals. It was their 11th defeat in the last 14 games, during which they've scored as many as four runs only three times. The Angels are last in the AL West, four games behind the Oakland A's.
Elsewhere in the American League, Milwaukee edged the Detroit Tigers 6-5, Oakland shelled the Minnesota Twins 8-1 and the Baltimore Orioles trounced the Cleveland Indians 7-1. The Texas Rangers and Chicago White Sox were rained out.

Houston Breaks Ten-Game Slide

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros catcher Milt May says maybe the Astros now can get back to "playing like we're capable of playing."
May contributed a two run home run Tuesday night to help the Astros to a 5-4 victory over the San Diego Padres which snapped a Houston 10-game losing streak.
May's homer off rookie Dan Spillner capped a four run first inning for the Astros. A run scoring single by Bob Watson and Lee May's RBI grounder accounted for the other run in the first inning.
Tom Griffin pitched a six hitter before needing help in the eighth. He now has posted six straight victories and has not lost since the season-opening series at San Francisco when the Giants nipped him 3-2. He has recorded the last two victories for the Astros.

Lamesa Loses To Iowa Park

IOWA PARK — The Iowa Park Hawks took the early lead in their best-of-three bi-district playoff series with the Lamesa Golden Tors Tuesday, scoring an easy 6-2 victory in the opener.
Darrell Frazier tossed a four-hitter at the Tors and fanned 11 batters as the Hawks built up a 6-0 bulge before the visitors could scratch in the top of the seventh. Leroy Threault smacked a pair of home runs for the winners.

Lawsuit Won't Stop Sunday's Indy 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — There will be a 500-mile auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Sunday, a top Speedway official says, despite a $1 million lawsuit to keep it from going off on schedule.

"We will have a race Sunday," Chief Steward Tom Binford promised. "The only person who can stop it is God, and we haven't talked to Him."

'Y' Plans Exercise Class For 'Unfit' Big Springers

"America is a nation of sports fans who admire physical fitness and prowess in the stars of baseball, football and basketball but ignore their own physical fitness," says Pat Owens, physical director of the Big Spring YMCA.

The new YMCA physical fitness programs are linked to research that shows that exercise leads to a longer, healthier, happier and more productive life. Most Americans do not take advantage of this knowledge.

The action stems from last Saturday's rain-shortened time trials that left 11 cars at the line when the track closed for racing. That deadline, speedway officials say, was set down in the Speedway entry blank signed by each of the 61 entrants who actually brought cars to the track.

The car owners who did not get an attempt to qualify contended the deadline should have been extended to give all of the 50 cars that had been certified an opportunity to make the 33-car field.

The pleas were denied. And Speedway officials turned down further requests for a reopening of qualifications.

Speedway officials hope the court hearings won't delay Thursday's carburetion tests. Binford, who succeeded controversial Harlan Flegler this year, said, "Of course we will do whatever the judge says we should do."

Plaintiffs are Roy Woods Racing, Carl Gehlhausen, Larry McCoy Sr., K&L Racing, Webster Racing, Rasmussen Racing, Products Inc. and Grant King Racing.

King said later he had not given permission to use his name in connection with the suit. King, whose No. 1 driver, Tom Sneva, already holds a third-row starting spot, said, "I don't need to go to court to tell the Speedway people what I have already told them in person. They didn't treat these people right."

Other standouts include 1974 title-winners Hubert Green, Leonard Thompson, Jerry Heard, Lee Elder, Allen Miller—who tied with Trevino for second here a year ago—and little Rod Curl, who scored a surprise triumph in Fort Worth.

Lisa Furlong and Lana Thomas of Coahoma have been accepted in the Ranger Junior College basketball camp June 2-7, according to Ron Butler, coach of the Ranger JC Rangeams and director of the clinic.

They'll be challenged by the 1 w a y s-dangerous Masters champion, Gary Player of South Africa.

33 Persons Die, 106 Injured In Bus Disasters

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Thirty-three persons were killed and 106 others injured Tuesday in two fires and a bus crash in various parts of Mexico, authorities said.

A chartered tourist bus carrying vacationing Mexico City residents skidded off a road and plunged into a river in Tabasco state in southeastern Mexico. Thirty-two persons died and three were injured.

One person burned to death when a fire swept through a slum area in Mexico City, destroying scores of shacks. A total of 100 were injured and 450 were left homeless.

Two government employees were burned slightly when a fire caused by a short circuit hit a wing of the National Palace, seat of the federal government in Mexico City.

Longhorn Sale Set For Friday

A hundred years ago, millions of Texas Longhorn cattle drove their way northward and chiseled a unique niche in Southwestern history.

But times have changed since then. The vast herds have now dwindled down to a matter of a few thousands.

Billed as "the world's largest sale of America's oldest breed of cattle," an auction will be held on the YO Ranch west of Mountain Home in the Texas Hill Country Friday 2 p.m.

It only took 110 head of registered Texas Longhorns to earn the honor of being the "world's largest" sale. Eight Texas ranchers have been joined by two Oklahoma Longhorn breeders in consigning stock to the sale. Up for high bids will be cows, bulls, heifers and trophy steers.

As an added attraction, there will be an exhibition of western paintings and sculptures featuring Texas Longhorn cattle by the Texas Cowboy Artists Association at the Sunday House Thursday and at the YO Ranch Friday.

Big Temperature Spread, No Record

Temperature varied 52 degrees during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today, the U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station reported.

But no new records were set. In 1953, the high was 106 degrees. Yesterday, the high was 91.

Then, last night the thermometer fell to 49. The record low of 43 was reported in 1967.

Dobbs Booked For Rodeo

Howard County's own Quail Dobbs, Coahoma, has been booked as clown for the 41st annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, Charlie Creighton, president, has announced.

In addition to the clown routine during regular rodeo acts, Dobbs also has "bucking" car with sound effects.

Among other specialty acts booked for the show, one of the oldest continuous rodeos in West Texas, are Barbara Fairchild, recording artist, vocalist Jim Ed Brown and the Cates Sisters, a musical group.

A large field of contestants, including some of the leaders in the Rodeo Cowboys of America championship chase, will participate in the 8:30 p.m. daily shows starting June 19 and continuing through June 22 at Rodeo Bowl.

Enrollment Drops By 20 In Week

As racers sometimes anticipate the starter's gun, so do people anticipate the end of school with premature withdrawals. That cost Big Spring schools 20 pupils last week, 11 in the elementary level, 10 in secondary levels. This left 3,372 elementary children and 1,753 secondary schools, plus 168 in hospital homebound program, a total of 6,326. On the comparable date a year ago the total was 6,597, two years ago, 6,845.

Archeological Digging Site Challenged Anew

LUBBOCK — Forty-two college trained men and women Monday began the second year of an archeological dig at the Lubbock Lake site expected to lead them back in time to prehistoric elephant hunters and scientific visions of the land 12,000 years ago.

The dig is led by Dr. Craig C. Black, director of The Museum of Texas Tech University. The site is considered by scientists, Black said, to be one of the most important in North America.

"We believe we can show at the Lubbock Lake Site," he said, "evidence of man from 15,000 to 12,000 years ago up to the pop bottle era."

"The main emphasis this year," Dr. Black said, "will be to open up a lot more of the Clovis man level about 12,000 years ago."

Last year digging crews found layers of bone at the Folsom Man level along with some of the tools used by those men who inhabited the site 10,000 years ago.

Also discovered was a site inhabited by Archaic Man 4,000 to 3,500 years ago. This was an exciting find because there was evidence of a structure built by those ancient people.

"This year we will be well into the preparation of a complete scientific report," Black said, "and it will cover the paleoecology as well as the archeology of the site."

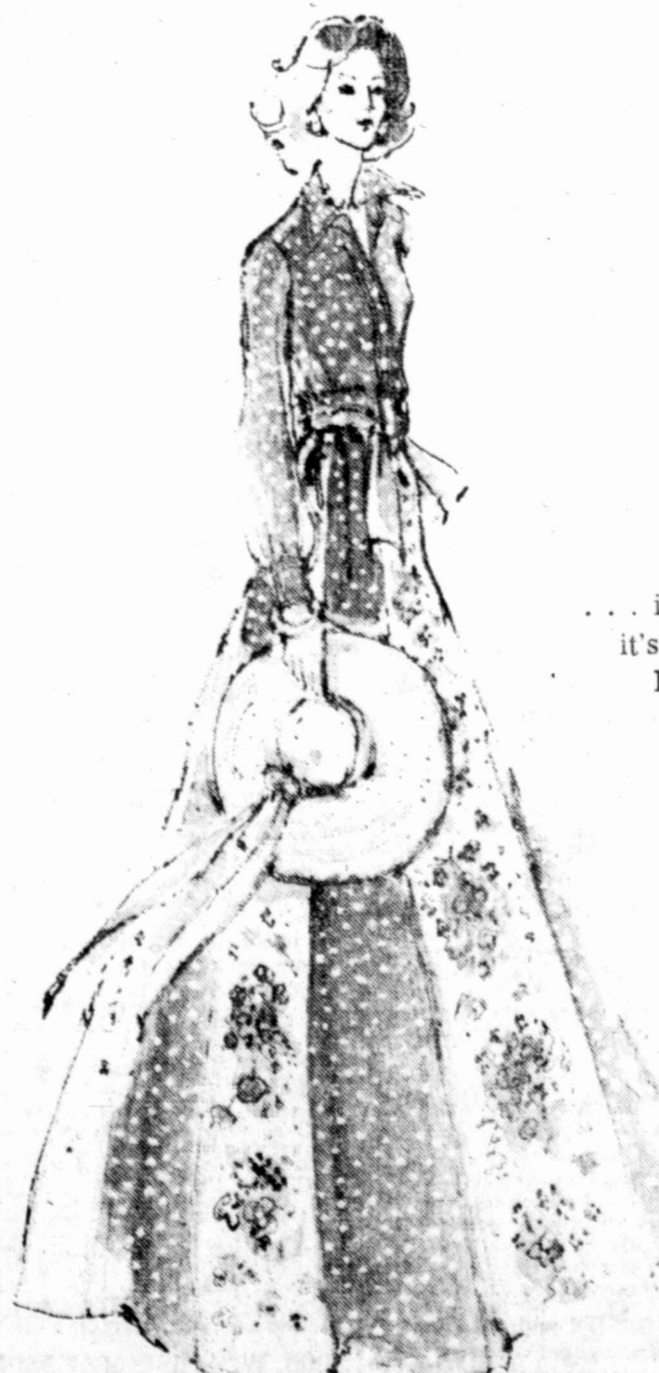

It has been the purpose from the start of the thorough study last year to reconstruct the environment of prehistoric man as well as to establish the fact that he did indeed spend some time in the lake site area, leaving tools and the charcoal from fires if no other evidence of his habitation.

Of any differences in man then and now, scientists are baffled because no one has ever found indisputable evidence of his physiology. His tools are found and dated; so he is known to have existed, but skeletal remains elude searches.
