

AFTER MAKING SPEECH — President Tito of Yugoslavia puffs on a Cuban cigar after addressing the opening session of the 10th Congress of the Yugoslav League of Communists in Belgrade Monday. Tito ordered the party to assume a dominant role in all aspects of the society in order to build a strong unifying force to hold the country together after his death. Tito was 82 last Saturday.

Militant Protestants Halt Major Services

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The provincial government announced its resignation today as militant Protestants began halting essential services in a showdown with British troops sent in to break the Protestants' two-week-old general strike.

FORCES FALL — Northern Irish political circles said the government's fall probably would mean the British would reintroduce direct rule of Northern Ireland from London. Protestant militants have said they probably would call off their strike if that happens. The Northern Ireland government of moderate Protestants and Roman Catholics, called the Executive, announced its resignation after a three-hour meeting at Stormont Palace, seat of the provincial administration outside Belfast.

Angry strike leaders ordered all protestant workers except those in hospitals to walk off their jobs at midnight. It appeared most were obeying their stop-work call.

"Let the army bury the dead," declared Glen Barr of the Ulster Workers' Council, which is coordinating the strike. "We'll eat grass before we're beaten."

Manual workers abandoned their jobs at the only remaining power station in operation at midnight. The electricity supply, already down to 25 per cent of normal, was being tapered off and a total blackout in the six counties of the British province was expected within 24 hours unless British soldiers could keep the plants operating.

Armed forces technicians, including turbine operators from Britain's nuclear submarines, were expected to take over control of the power stations. But the army would not confirm that they had done so this morning.

CONTROL OIL — The council ordered the shutdown of essential services Monday after 500 troops took control of two Ulster oil depots and 21 gasoline stations.

The new walkouts left the British government with the prospect of directing its more than 16,500 troops in the province to maintain electricity, gas, water and sewage services and provide Ulster's 1½ million inhabitants with milk, bread and food.

"At first we were soldiers," said one trooper, "then policemen, then politicians, and now petrol pump attendants."

Merlyn Rees, Britain's minister of state for Northern Ireland, called the escalating strike action "appallingly reckless."

Prime Minister Harold Wilson interrupted a Scilly Isles holiday to fly back to London today amid speculation he would recall Parliament from recess to discuss the Ulster crisis.

Skyrocketing Inflation To Slow, Nixon Predicts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent Congress today a special economic report predicting that the surge in inflation should subside to about seven per cent in the last quarter of this year.

In the past three months the cost of living increase has been at an annual rate of 12.1 per cent, the highest level since 1951.

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK — The President, following up on a weekend radio address, told Congress he sees "signs of improvement" in the economic outlook and added:

"Although the recent events are not conclusive they tend to strengthen the expectation that in the remainder of this year, output will be rising more rapidly, prices will be rising much less rapidly and the unemployment rate, while it will probably rise further, will not reach a very high point before it recedes."

Anti-Fascist Rally Bombed

BRESCIA, Italy (AP) — A bomb exploded at an anti-fascist rally today, killing nine persons and wounding 50, officials said.

President Giovanni Leone called the incident a massacre and said it was "clear evidence of an attempt by tiny and squalid terrorists minorities to throw the state and the nation into chaos."

He urged the government of Premier Mariano Rumor to pursue those responsible "with the utmost energy."

Police said they could not immediately determine whether an explosive device was thrown into the crowd or whether a time bomb had been planted in advance at the Piazza Della Loggia.

When the bomb exploded, workers participating in a four-hour citywide strike were listening to union leaders urging the crowd to "be vigilant against the permanent Fascist threat to Italian democracy."

Nixon's Lawyer Due To Respond

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court said today it has invited President Nixon's lawyer to respond to special prosecutor Leon Jaworski's request for prompt review of a district court order that Nixon surrender 64 subpoenaed Watergate tapes.

The court said presidential lawyer James D. St. Clair promised to file a response by Thursday. Jaworski asked the Supreme Court late last Friday to take jurisdiction in the case after St. Clair asked the U.S. Court of Appeals here to overturn the order of U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica that Nixon surrender the tapes over to the special prosecutor.

If the Supreme Court accepts the case, it will bypass the appeals court.

Put Youngster In Lighted Oven?

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say four young children were tortured and imprisoned with their mother for months by a man who in one instance put one of the youngsters in a lighted oven.

Sotero Vasquez, 33, was arrested Monday. Police quoted the mother, Olga Ramos, 27, as saying her 7-year-old boy made a noise Monday morning that awoke Vasquez who then put the boy into the lighted oven. She said she came running into the room and pulled the boy out.

Vasquez kept the apartment padlocked and the windows nailed shut, but he forgot to fasten the padlock after leaving Monday and Mrs. Ramos escaped and summoned police, authorities said.

Vasquez was charged with attempted murder, reckless endangerment, endangering the welfare of children, unlawful imprisonment and possession of a dangerous instrument.

May Take Month For U.S. Oil Imports To Recover

WASHINGTON (AP) — It may take another month for U.S. oil imports to recover fully from the Arab embargo that ended last March. Once they do, the Federal Energy Office hopes they can keep on growing.

SHORTAGES — Even so, the outlook this summer is for small gasoline shortages similar to those felt last summer, and for the same reason—a chronic shortage of refinery capacity to process crude oil no matter where it comes from.

Last October, U.S. crude oil imports averaged 3.6 million barrels a day. After the Arab embargo was imposed, it took four months of gradual decline for crude oil imports to hit bottom, at about 2.1 million barrels a day in February.

Then, crude oil imports turned around and started increasing at just about the same gradual pace. An FEO team recently visited the Middle East, however, and FEO administrator John C. Sawhill said it brought back the impression that Arab oil production will be increased beyond pre-embargo levels.

Israeli Cabinet Meets To Make Final Decision

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger postponed his return to Washington again today and headed back to Damascus instead, making a final effort to win a disengagement agreement between Israel and Syria.

Kissinger set out on the surprise flight — his 13th trip to the Syrian capital in 31 days — after the Israeli government held a five-hour marathon session but failed to reach a decision on the latest truce bargaining.

The secretary said earlier that he would not return to Damascus. He changed his mind after another meeting with Premier Golda Meir and Israeli negotiators.

'CLARIFICATIONS' — Kissinger had planned to send his top aide, Joseph Sisco, for a last trip to the Syrian capital and then return to the United States.

Giving no reason for the sudden switch in plans, Kissinger drove from Jerusalem to Ben-Gurion Airport shortly after the Israeli government announced it needed further "clarifications" from Syria.

The unexplained "clarifications" appeared essential to any agreement.

Israeli reports suggested the critical differences in negotiations were over Syria's insistence on linking the promised Israeli withdrawal to a broader pullback in the future.

Israeli Information Minister Shimon Peres said the Israeli cabinet had gone over the "sum total and general balance of the whole negotiations" in today's first session without concentrating on any particular sticking points.

Earlier Kissinger met for two hours with the Israeli negotiating team, where he reported on Monday's marathon talks with Assad.

"We had a very detailed meeting, the result of which is that the cabinet will meet to make a decision," added Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban. Kissinger did not speak to newsmen.

Reports from sources close to the negotiations indicated it would be a difficult decision for the Israelis, and that Kissinger stood a strong chance of ending his 32-day peace marathon without a disengagement pact.

U.S. officials said draft agreements were already drawn up, but there were blank spaces where issues remained to be resolved.

BUFFER ZONE — The major remaining problems reportedly were the size of a buffer zone between the separated armies and Israeli-sought safeguards against Palestinian terrorist raids from Syria.

Kissinger told newsmen earlier that the 11th-hour snags could push back his departure from the Middle East by another day—until Wednesday. But in no case will the secretary return to Damascus, aides said.

Suspense mounted as Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko flew into the Syrian capital for a planned two-day visit shortly before Kissinger's departure Monday. They did not meet.

Gromyko, in a brief statement distributed by the Syrian news agency, described Moscow as "standing firm in the belief that a just peace cannot be established ... except through complete Israeli withdrawal from territory occupied in 1967 and thereafter."

Kissinger planned another session with the Israeli negotiators after today's cabinet meeting.

Fern Cox Waited Too Long To Contest, Lawyers Say

By JOHN EDWARDS
M. Fern Cox, the incumbent district clerk whom was declared unsuccessful by one vote in his bid for the Democratic nomination, waited too long to contest the election through 118th District Court, the attorney for Mrs. Peggy Crittenden stated in an answer to the suit.

William L. Kerr, Midland attorney for Mrs. Crittenden, filed the answer with the district clerk pro-tem, John R. Coffee, this morning.

According to first the canvass and then the recount, Mrs. Crittenden defeated Cox by one vote out of about 4,500. The recount added six votes to the total for each candidate.

A loose ballot marked for Cox was found in the county clerk's office May 10. If counted, it would tie the Cox and Crittenden for the nomination.

"Ballots returned into the courthouse or elsewhere after polling hours were not and are not votes cast into the ballot box and it is only the ballots in the election box that decided the outcome of the election and the voters' choice for the Democratic nominee for District Clerk."

The answer also says: "If there was to be a contest to that May 4th election, that contest would need to be filed in the District Court of Howard County within ten (10) days from the date of the canvass, meaning also that the Petition of Election Contest would need to have been filed in this cause by May 17th . . ."

The petition was filed May 22.

Also, Kerr asks 118th District Court to consider denying its jurisdiction, because it will be too late to add the candidates names to the runoff ballot.

The trial over the election contest will start at 10 a.m. Friday, Saturday, Howard County voters will choose from a field of candidates narrowed down to two in two races.

Ikie Rupard and incumbent County Commissioner Bill Bennett will be on ballots in commissioner's precinct two.

Michael Ezzell and Glenn Toombs are running for the Democratic nomination to the state legislature.

Plane Crash Victim Lived In Big Spring Until 1972

The second victim of a plane crash which occurred two miles south of Imperial Saturday was identified as 44-year-old Eugene Edward (Gene) Reinkemeyer of Midland, a former resident of Big Spring.

The crash also claimed the life of Lee Frederick Hanson, 57, of Odessa. The two perished when the light plane in which they were riding struck an electric power line, plummeted to earth and burned.

Reinkemeyer, an employe of Coastal States Gas Producing Co., lived in Big Spring for eight years before moving to Midland in 1972.

Mr. Reinkemeyer was a production engineer with Coastal States. When a resident of Big Spring, he was employed by Colorado Oil Co., a firm which was purchased by Coastal States. He recently received his ten-year service pin from the firm.

In Midland, he was active in the Guadalupe Catholic Church. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m., Wednesday at Christ of King Church in Tulsa, Okla. Burial will take place in the Calvary Cemetery there under direction of Fitzgerald Funeral Home of Tulsa.

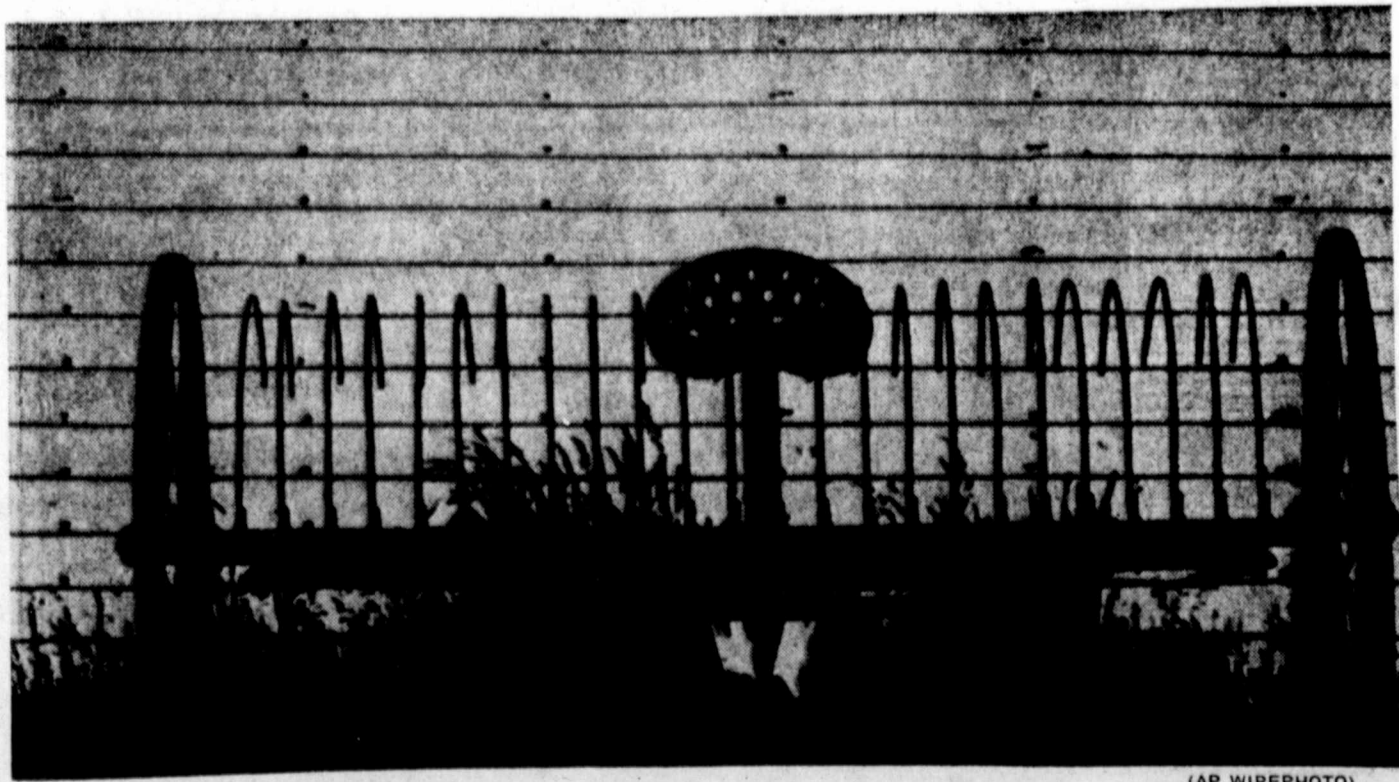

Mr. Reinkemeyer was a Korean war veteran and a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He made his home at 707 Sinclair Street in Midland.

GENE REINKEMEYER

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Bill (Sue Ann) Burchett, Lubbock, and Alice Ann Reinkemeyer and Sally Ann Reinkemeyer, both of Duncanville; a son, Stephen Reinkemeyer, Duncanville; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Reinkemeyer, Westville, Okla.; a brother, Leo R. Reinkemeyer, Arkansas City, Kan.; and two sisters, Mrs. Homer L. McKezie, Littleton, Colo.; and Mrs. Tom Egan, Tulsa.

Services for Mr. Hanson were held at 10 a.m. today in Sunset Memorial Gardens in Odessa. Hanson was a native of McMinnville, Oregon. A one-time resident of Monahans, he moved to Odessa from El Paso in 1969. At the time of his death, he was a pilot for the Ruthoo Oil Co., of Odessa.

'Tania' Still In Southern California?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The FBI says it is operating on the assumption that Patricia Hearst and two Symbionese Liberation Army members are still in Southern California.

FBI spokesman Richard Woolf said Monday that officials theorize Miss Hearst, 20, the newspaper heiress who has claimed allegiance to her SLA captors, and William and Emily Harris may be hidden out in mountains around Los Angeles.

"You have to consider the possibility that they're camping out since they apparently bought outdoor clothing at the sporting goods store," Woolf said.

The Harrises and Miss Hearst were identified by authorities as participants in an incident May 16 in which they said Harris bungled a shoplifting at a suburban sporting goods store and Miss Hearst sprayed the store with automatic rifle fire. The three are wanted on 18 state felony charges each, including robbery, assault and kidnapping.

He also suggested they may be staying where they haven't been recognized, with some sympathizer or that they have changed their appearances through wigs or coloring their hair.

Two Polaroid pictures found in the rubble at the house where six SLA members died in a shootout with police 11 days ago, both show a smiling blonde-haired woman thought by some authorities to be Miss Hearst.

Bumpers, Fulbright Race Highlighting Primaries

Legislative seniority is matched against a call for new leadership as Sen. J. W. Fulbright faces Gov. Dale Bumpers today in the Arkansas Democratic primary.

Fulbright, a veteran of three decades in the Senate, has called the vote "the most crucial election in America."

Other primaries are set today in Oregon and Kentucky. In Oregon, former Sen. Wayne Morse, like Fulbright an early and outspoken foe of the Vietnam war, is up against three other Democrats in his bid to regain a Senate seat now held by Republican Robert Packwood. Arkansas also has a Democratic primary for governor, involving former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, former Rep. David H. Pryor and Lt. Gov. Bob Riley. However, most attention has focused on the Fulbright-Bumpers race.

VERY POPULAR Most opinion polls showed the very popular Bumpers ahead, although Fulbright said he had a poll showing the race too close to call.

Fulbright, 69, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has stressed his 30 years of experience and contended that seniority in Congress means a substantial plus for Arkansas.

"There is hardly any state in the Union that has done as well economically, and the basic public facilities of this state have been built largely by money from the federal government," Fulbright said in a joint television appearance with Bumpers.

"This is a result of the influence and the seniority, if you like, of my representation," the senator said.

By contrast, Bumpers, 48, termed the seniority system "a breach of faith with the young people of this country and I would work to change the system because I don't think it has served us well."

NEW LEADERSHIP Bumpers, serving his second two-year term as governor, cited inflation, the energy shortage, low public confidence in Congress and other national problems to back up his call for new leadership. The Oregon senatorial primary pits Morse, 73, against state Senate President Jason Boe and two political unknowns. Morse's campaign was geared largely to environmental issues. If he wins, Morse will face Packwood, unopposed for the GOP nomination.

Oregon voters also were choosing Democratic and Republican candidates to succeed retiring Republican Gov. Tom McCall.

In Kentucky, Sen. Marlow Cook was expected to win re-nomination on the Republican ticket, while Gov. Wendell Ford was favored to win the Democratic nomination to oppose him in November.

"The primary was marked by little campaigning, with both Cook and Ford saving their resources for the general election. Cook won a court fight to stay on the ballot after two Democratic state officials attempted to disqualify him for filing a financial statement two days late.

Dawson Man Sue Honor

COLLEGE STATION — Two area 4-H leaders are among 25 in Texas who will be honored at State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University June 5.

They are Mrs. Peggy Bales of Route 2, Sudan, in Lamb County, and D. V. Phipps of Welch in Dawson County. They will be recognized at a special luncheon as the top adult leaders in District 2 of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. Each will receive a special plaque provided by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation.

Mrs. Bales, a homemaker, has been a foods and clothing leader for the Amherst 4-H Club for the past 12 years. 4-H'ers under her direction have won numerous awards at district dress revues and district food shows and have served on the county 4-H council.

She has been active in the county and district 4-H adult leaders associations and has served as chairman for such Lamb County 4-H activities as rally days, day camps, awards banquets and certain fundraising projects. Mrs. Bales has also served as a judge at food shows, dress revues, fairs and other contests and events. She helped design and build a special 4-H float for the 50th anniversary of Amherst last year.

Phipps, a Dawson County farmer, has served as livestock leader for the Welch 4-H Club for 12 years. This club has produced three Gold Star award winners, all from the Phipps family. More than 100 medals have been awarded to club members for their work in sheep, swine, steer and poultry projects.

Council Taking Action To Combat Vandalism

By MARJ CARPENTER A discussion on vandalism and needed improvements at the city golf course held the attention of the city council at its regular meeting at City Hall this morning.

The council agreed to grant a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of vandals on the course. Information should go to the police chief and the name of the informer will be held confidential.

Other efforts toward cutting down on vandalism at the location were discussed. The council also granted the golf pro authority to name marshals for the course from within the golfers' association who will have the authority to limit the number of golfers within a group, and to halt carts riding on the fairways.

Improvements requested by the golfer's association were also approved with 1 and 13 to be made in to Par 3 holes. Appearing for the golfers were Ken LeSage and Hal Rosson.

BASEBALL REQUEST In an athletic morning, the council also heard a request for property on which to place the National Little League park next year. D. D. Pittman and Jack Barber told the council that Jerry Worthy had notified them that the park must be moved by next season.

They expressed interest in a location at Parkway and Alameda. The city instructed them to look into it further and also to look at a plot of land on County Club road. When golfers appeared later, LeSage pointed out that golfers on the first "nine holes might be disturbed by the public address system."

Glen Petty asked that the city add $400 to the same amount donated by the schools to once again set up a summer track program for girls and boys. City Manager Harry Nagel, after the council granted the request, asked that any groups interested in recreation funds for next year get the request into the city by July of this year so it can be included in the budget.

NO BIDDERS To round off a full morning of athletic discussion, the hike and bike trail bridges were discussed. There were no bidders. The manager was instructed by Mayor Pro-Tem Eddie Acri, presiding at the meeting in the absence of Mayor Wade Choate, to contact the bidders and find out why nobody bid.

A special meeting of the traffic commission minutes were approved with emphasis to be placed on intersections having heavy traffic accidents by the traffic policemen.

The city was told to ask for bids for mineral lease of 85,905 acres in the Powell Lake area. Their present lease with Gulf runs out this year.

The council also approved first reading of an ordinance amending the code of ordinances of the city to provide for the issuance of a building permit for fences prior to the start of construction. This ordinance goes hand in hand with the ordinance requiring fencing of junk yards, but will also apply to other fences.

The city manager's report suggested that the reward be offered for golf course vandalism, that the city consider including twenty new golf cart sheds in next year's budget, and gave an estimate on possible improvements to the city auditorium.

Mrs. Camille Patterson appeared and told about her property being stolen while she was in the process of moving a house from 8th and Rannels to the Garden City highway. She told of many family possessions, valuable only to her, being taken off the lot.

Monthly bills were approved. Attending the meeting were a bare quorum, including Acri, Harold Hall and Mrs. Polly Mays. Both Choate and Charles Tompkins were out of town.

U.S. Silence Is Criticized

NEW YORK (AP) — Former U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark returned from a one-week visit to Chile and criticized U.S. silence in the face of what he termed a "reign of terror" there.

Clark said Monday that democracy no longer exists in Chile.

"There is absolutely no factual justification for a state of siege" to continue there, he said. "The United States ought to speak out."

Clark and city Criminal Court Judge William Booth made the visit to Chile under sponsorship of the national Council of Churches and the Center for Constitutional Law.

Booth said they saw the trials of five persons identified with the government of the late Chilean President Salvador Allende, the Marxist who died in a military coup last September. He said defense counsel did not have the right of cross-examination and no witnesses were presented.

MISSING SINCE MAY 17 Took Wrong Turn During Cycle Race In Desert

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Fresh volunteers are joining the search for a man missing since May 17 when he took a wrong turn during a motorcycle race and ran out of gas in Mexico's Baja California desert wilderness.

Sheriff's Lt. Dusty Rhodes said searchers found fresh footprints Monday, leading them to believe that Fred Mundy, a Riverside, Calif., drug store owner, was less than 24 hours ahead of them. There is plenty of water in that area, about 80 miles south of the border city of Mexicali, he said.

Searchers earlier thought they were about three days behind Mundy, 46.

The oldest of Mundy's two sons, Douglas, 19, has been coordinating communications with the search party and making arrangements for food and fuel to be sent from the Riverside area.

Searchers during the long Memorial Day weekend included more than 35 Americans, 12 Mexican ranchers and two U.S. Navy helicopter crews. Some of the Americans had to return to their jobs today and were being replaced by the new volunteers.

Rhodes said Mundy apparently has walked 60 miles or more since abandoning his motorcycle. His route at times has taken him in circles as he wandered between two north-south highways which wind down the lonely coastlines of the Baja peninsula.

Damages Granted For Kid's Bike

A claim for damages for Joe Diaz on a bicycle was granted at the city council meeting this morning.

The youth's bicycle was crushed by a city trash truck. City officials pointed out that they would not be responsible for bicycles or other toys, left in the alleys, but that this was a different circumstance.

The youth turned into the alley when he saw the truck backing up toward him, jumped off the bike and ran. The bicycle was crushed.

The city manager was instructed to find out what two trash men should have been on the back of the truck, since the city requires that a man be on each back corner anytime a truck backs up.

LEROY JEROME FRANKS, 18, who is in county jail awaiting a probation revocation hearing, stopped yelling this morning when Deputy Sheriff Bill Chadwell talked to him.

Franks had been yelling for several days, repeating a disturbance he created when arrested for another offense several months ago.

Serving probation granted in 118th District Court after he was convicted of two burglaries, Franks is now accused of hitting Tommy Lee Mitchell with a baseball bat and failing to report to the probation officer.

Burns McKinney Burns Victim

ABILENE — Burns McKinney, one-time HSU football star who later became a well-known Southwest Conference and high school football official, suffered second degree burns over 20 percent of his body when he was burned in a camping incident near Del Rio Saturday night.

The accident occurred near Amistad Reservoir. He was on a weekend fishing trip when a camp stove exploded, burning his hands, arms, chest and face. He is in the Santa Rosa Medical Center in San Antonio, having been transferred there from Del Rio.

Damages Granted For Kid's Bike

A claim for damages for Joe Diaz on a bicycle was granted at the city council meeting this morning.

The youth's bicycle was crushed by a city trash truck. City officials pointed out that they would not be responsible for bicycles or other toys, left in the alleys, but that this was a different circumstance.

The youth turned into the alley when he saw the truck backing up toward him, jumped off the bike and ran. The bicycle was crushed.

The city manager was instructed to find out what two trash men should have been on the back of the truck, since the city requires that a man be on each back corner anytime a truck backs up.

Cyclists' Post To Be Formed

A motorcycle explorer post, sponsored by several dealers in Big Spring, will be organized this evening at Coker's Restaurant.

An organizational meeting to form the first Explorer motorcycle post in this area will get under way at 8 p.m.

During the meeting, boys and girls who are 15 years of age or older are invited to register, elect officers and determine their objectives.

Competence trials, motor rallies, safety seminars, maintenance classes, beginning riding, community service and other activities will be planned for the coming year by post members.

Those interested in dirt riding, street riding, racing or any form of bike riding have an open invitation to be at Coker's this evening.

Lubbock Banker Dies In Crash

SNYDER — Emmitt Earl Crow, 64, vice president of the Plains National Bank in Lubbock, died at 5:10 p.m. Monday in a Snyder hospital after he lost control of his motorcycle and it overturned.

The mishap occurred at 4:15 p.m., Monday on US 84, a half mile north of Snyder. Crow was traveling north on the thoroughfare with other cyclists at the time.

Eyewitnesses said a gust of wind caused Crow to lose control of his vehicle.

Funeral arrangements are being completed with Resthaven-Singleton-Wilson Funeral Home in Snyder.

Sleepy Burglar Steals Blanket

An apparently sleepy thief broke into Apartment 3 at 200 W. 3rd and stole two blankets and a bedspread.

To add insult to injury, they also took an electric alarm clock. No other items were missing at the Ray Blanton residence.

Police Draw Criticism Of Denton County Jurors

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — City police drew sharp criticism from a Denton County grand jury which inquired into a March 8 disturbance on the North Texas State University campus.

In its final report, the grand jury declared that police "created a disturbance where none existed" by moving onto the campus here to halt a streaking rally.

Although 44 persons were arrested during the incident, the grand jury returned only four indictments. All the persons charged with disregarding a police officer were non-billed.

"We are convinced innocent individuals were arrested and incarcerated unlawfully," said Yvonne Jenkins, the grand jury foreman.

"This grand jury must assure the citizens of Denton County and the students of North Texas State University that their rights are guaranteed and that Denton County does not become a police state on the word of one of its officials."

Denton police went on the campus without approval of university security guards, set up roadblocks and arrested 44 persons, mostly for charges of disregarding a police officer.

LOCAL WOMAN HONORED — Dr. Walter Doty, dean of Gulf-Coast Bible College, Houston, is shown placing the honorary hood upon Miss Arah Phillips at a recent graduation rite at the school. At left is Max R. Gaulke, school president. A Doctor of Humane Letters honorary degree was conferred upon Miss Phillips. President Gaulke described Miss Phillips' life as having had "a wide impact for good throughout Texas both within the Church of God and in education circles." Miss Phillips formerly served as Dean of Women at Howard College and she founded the Jack and Jill school here. She still serves the latter school. In 1966, Miss Phillips gave a major gift to Gulf-Coast Bible College which funded the building of the Arah Phillips Building, which housed the library, administrative offices, and 50 female students.

Former Resident Drives 30,000 Miles For Degree

ODESSA — Paul G. Alexander of Snyder drove 30,000 miles to get the bachelor's degree awarded to him recently at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin in Odessa.

He racked up the mileage in a marathon effort to win a Law Enforcement Management degree at UT Permian, the only place in Texas where it is available.

When diplomas were handed out at the new upper-level university's initial commencement, Alexander took two distinctions, because he was first on the alphabetical list of graduates: he was the first to receive a degree in the College of Management and the first in Texas to be granted a degree in Law Enforcement Management. Now a deputy sheriff of Scurry County, Alexander had been a law enforcement officer in Big Spring and in Ector County before moving to Snyder in 1971 and setting his sights on a college degree.

He attended Western Texas College in Snyder, studying law enforcement administration, then began a series of 190-mile and longer round trips to university classes.

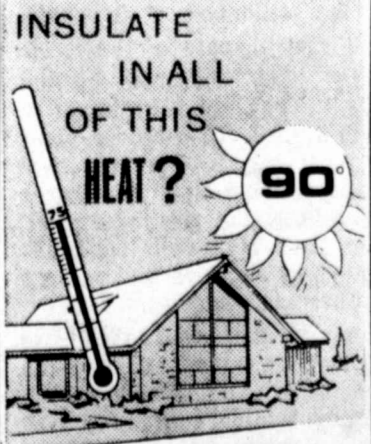

After graduating from the two-year college in 1973, Alexander drove daily to Abilene, 94 miles from Snyder, to take upper-level management courses at Hardin-Simmons University. Then in September 1973, he joined the "Pioneer Class" at UT Permian, the first group of students to enroll at the brand-new school.

He was attracted by UT Permian's unique course of study the only one in the state zeroing in on the managerial aspects of law enforcement.

Facing a 230-mile round trip to the Odessa campus several times a week and a full program on university classes, Alexander took a leave of absence from the Scurry County Sheriff's Department for nine months in 1973-74. A grant from the Law Enforcement Education Program helped to defray school and travel expenses, and Alexander's wife, Millie, took over responsibility for supporting the couple and their two young sons.

Alexander concentrated his schedule of classes into two days, going to class approximately seven hours on each trip to Odessa. He also took advantage of the self-paced option offered in many courses at the innovative school. This mode allows a student, with instructor approval, to frequent individual conferences, to speed ahead or to take a little extra time on a particular course without regular class attendance.

Nothing For Men To Fear In Women's Rights Drive?

HOUSTON (AP) — The newly-elected president of the National Organization for Women says men have nothing to fear and everything to gain from the women's rights movement.

"Men don't have to be success objects anymore," Karen De Crow said Monday in her acceptance speech as the head of the feminist group which claims some 40,000 members.

IMPEACHMENT
Delegates to the seventh conference ended a three-day meeting by approving several resolutions, including one calling for the impeachment of President Nixon.

The resolution said there is "substantial public evidence to President Nixon's participation in high crimes and misdemeanors."

It also said there is "substantial evidence that he has obstructed the administration of justice and has repeatedly refused to comply with the requests of the House Judiciary Committee."

The resolution, which NOW spokesmen said was approved by a unanimous show of hands and was met by applause, said the President "has unconstitutionally impounded funds appropriated by Congress for programs in education, child care, health and research which are vital to the needs of women and children."

Another resolution adopted called for a revision of present rape laws.

HUMILIATION
The resolution said the current legal procedures "often contribute to the victim's humiliation, stress and powerlessness."

It would involve NOW in community and legislative planning "to revise the rules of evidence which place the victim in the position of being on trial, instead of the accused."

Ms. De Crow, an author and speaker, who was elected on the third ballot late Sunday night, said "women are entering the mainstream. My philosophy is to do it more rapidly."

"Gender should make absolutely no difference in life," she said. "The movement has gone beyond women's rights to human liberation."

She said the women's equal rights amendment is a means to an end.

ABORTION
Its main effect, she said, would be to make "thousands of anti-women laws unconstitutional," saving women the necessity of testing them individually in court.

On the issue of participation in NOW by anti-abortionists, she said she did not believe there should be a purity test for joining an organization.

"But I don't think you can be a feminist and be against a woman's right to abortion," she said.

The new president said she would oppose payment for the NOW president during her term of office.

She said she has been able to derive an income from book royalties and speaking engagements.

About 1,600 delegates attended the conference and workshops at the Rice Hotel and nearby convention center.

Damage Estimate Is $10 Million

SAN ANGELO — Damage estimates of the San Angelo hail and wind storm, which occurred here last weekend, have mounted to $10 million.

The storm hit several areas but concentrated most of its fury on San Angelo. Winds were clocked as high as 70 miles an hour.

At least one of the big trees lining the Concho River near downtown San Angelo was uprooted. Part of the roof of the San Angelo Central High gymnasium was unroofed.

Rainfall totaled a little more than an inch. Crop damage in the area has not yet been assessed.

Better Set of Wheels

Your wheels use twice as much energy per passenger-mile as ours. With less fuel available and higher costs for that fuel, your wheels may turn slower and slower. So if you're going anywhere, think about a more efficient set of wheels. Our fares are economical and inter-city bus travel is the most fuel saving means of transportation. We think it's better to take Continental Trailways than to spin your own wheels.

Aspires To Highest Office

In his successful bid for nomination to seek a third term, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama made a strong point of saying he intended to be "governor of all the people." This was indicative of his effort to broaden his political base, an effort also illustrated by a direct appeal to black voters.

There is little doubt that in this Wallace has something more in mind than another term as governor of his home state. Though he does not yet publicly acknowledge it, he appears bent on another crack at the presidency. Were he to undertake the race, a broadened base of support would be even more important to him nationally than it is in Alabama.

While remaining cagey about his plans beyond next fall, Wallace did hint a continued presidential ambitions. "If you are going to be involved nationally," he told reporters, "it doesn't hurt to be elected governor."

A third term for Wallace seems likely; he is heavily favored to defeat the Republican candidate, former state Sen. Elvin McCary. And once past that obstacle he appears almost certain to use the state capitol again as his springboard for another presidential try. His moves to widen his political appeal coupled with events favorable to his candidacy, will make him a formidable factor in the 1976 race.

All Can Learn

How can the average American keep from losing that "ethical compass" which Jeb Magruder, the convicted Watergate defender, told the sentencing judge he had lost?

From the experience of Mr. Magruder and countless other misguided wrongdoers, a key answer lies in resistance to all influence contrary to one's highest concepts of right and wrong.

Such influences may range from other individuals to changing standards of community behavior to not necessarily accurate assumptions about what is expected in the "corporate state." In Mr. Magruder's case, he told an interviewer,

"I subverted my personal feelings to what I felt was the President's desire. I think that's the root cause of Watergate."

Most people's potential Watergates are not at the White House level. But all can learn from Mr. Magruder's discovery of "the ease with which I surrendered what I always considered my fundamental, immutable beliefs." And the American public as well as officials must take a responsibility to hold out against such surrenders if America is to justify Mr. Magruder's confidence that this country will survive its Watergates and its Jeb Magruders.

A Sight To Behold

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

If I ever get to Reno, it will be to view the most famous automobile collection in the world. This year, Harrah's exhibit will have been seen by 2,000,000 visitors from all over the world.

Harrah's Automobile Collection — with more than 1,100 vehicles on display — and others being restored, is the world's largest and finest automobile museum. In the past year, the auto collection was the subject of feature stories in 175 newspapers and 19 magazines. It has been the focus of television shows and the background for numerous automobile and tire commercials.

car is bright yellow with black trim and a wide, black leather strap buckling down the elegant hood. In its day, it won more races than any car built in its day. The Mercer Auto Company of Trenton, N.J., which was owned by the Roebbing family, builders of the Brooklyn Bridge, guaranteed the car would go 75 miles per hour. The one in the pictures does 85 miles per hour, and its original price was $2,600.

APPROPRIATELY, perhaps, golfers attending Harrah's 16th Invitational Golf Tournament June 3-6 will be competing for a 1974 Rolls Royce Silver Shadow. To win it, a player must make a hole-in-one, but should there be two such winners, a roll of the dice will decide who takes the car home.

The three-day, 36-hole amateur event is nicknamed "the Rolls Royce of tournaments." The field of amateur golfers will include celebrities Sammy Davis Jr., Glen Campbell, Fred McMurrah, Joe Namath, Don Meredith, Dizzy Dean and Cazzie Russell.

LAST JUNE, Harrah's Annual Swap Meet and Car Show drew more than 30,000 persons, and its two 1973 auctions brought out 4,000 participants, many of them bidders.

The cover of the current "Harrah's World" issue pictures Harrah's master craftsman-mechanic, Doug Naillon, driving a 1913 Mercer Raceabout styled with a monocoque windshield. Looking as beautiful and exciting as the day it was built, the

Oil And Demagogues

William F. Buckley Jr.

Mr. Alan Reynolds of "National Review," a young man who was born to understand economics even as Vladimir Horowitz was born to play the piano, has lately made it a hobby to probe some of the stuff the snake doctors are selling on the matter of oil. His findings are too good to husband even for an elite readership, so I pass along a few items.

1. In a recent issue, "Time" magazine referred to the profits of Occidental Petroleum as having risen "a stunning 718 per cent." That's the kind of figure that bounces about the country, feeding the demagogues — which reminds me, I haven't heard lately from Cong. Silvio, O. Conte (R-Mass.) — and causing people like the AFL-CIO's Robert Leachman to wonder whether we shouldn't nationalize oil, thus settling our problem for good and all, the way England settled hers by nationalizing coal. But back to the Occidental.

IT TURNS OUT that the Occidental Petroleum company is a major coal producer, and the rise in the price of coal has gone up far more rapidly than even that of domestic crude oil. Moreover, only two per cent of the crude oil Occidental sold here came from its own domestic wells. Last year, Occidental did extremely well: on the sales of chemicals, fertilizer, and gold. Now: profits from Occidental's oil and gas divisions rose 54 per cent internationally. But sales were up far more in proportion. So that, actually, profits per dollar of sales went down — from 3.7 to 2.5 per cent. In 1971, Occidental suffered a sizable loss. In 1972, the return to the stockholder was a pathetic 1.3 per cent. Last year, the stockholder got 9 per cent, which is what caused "Time" magazine to ooh and ah.

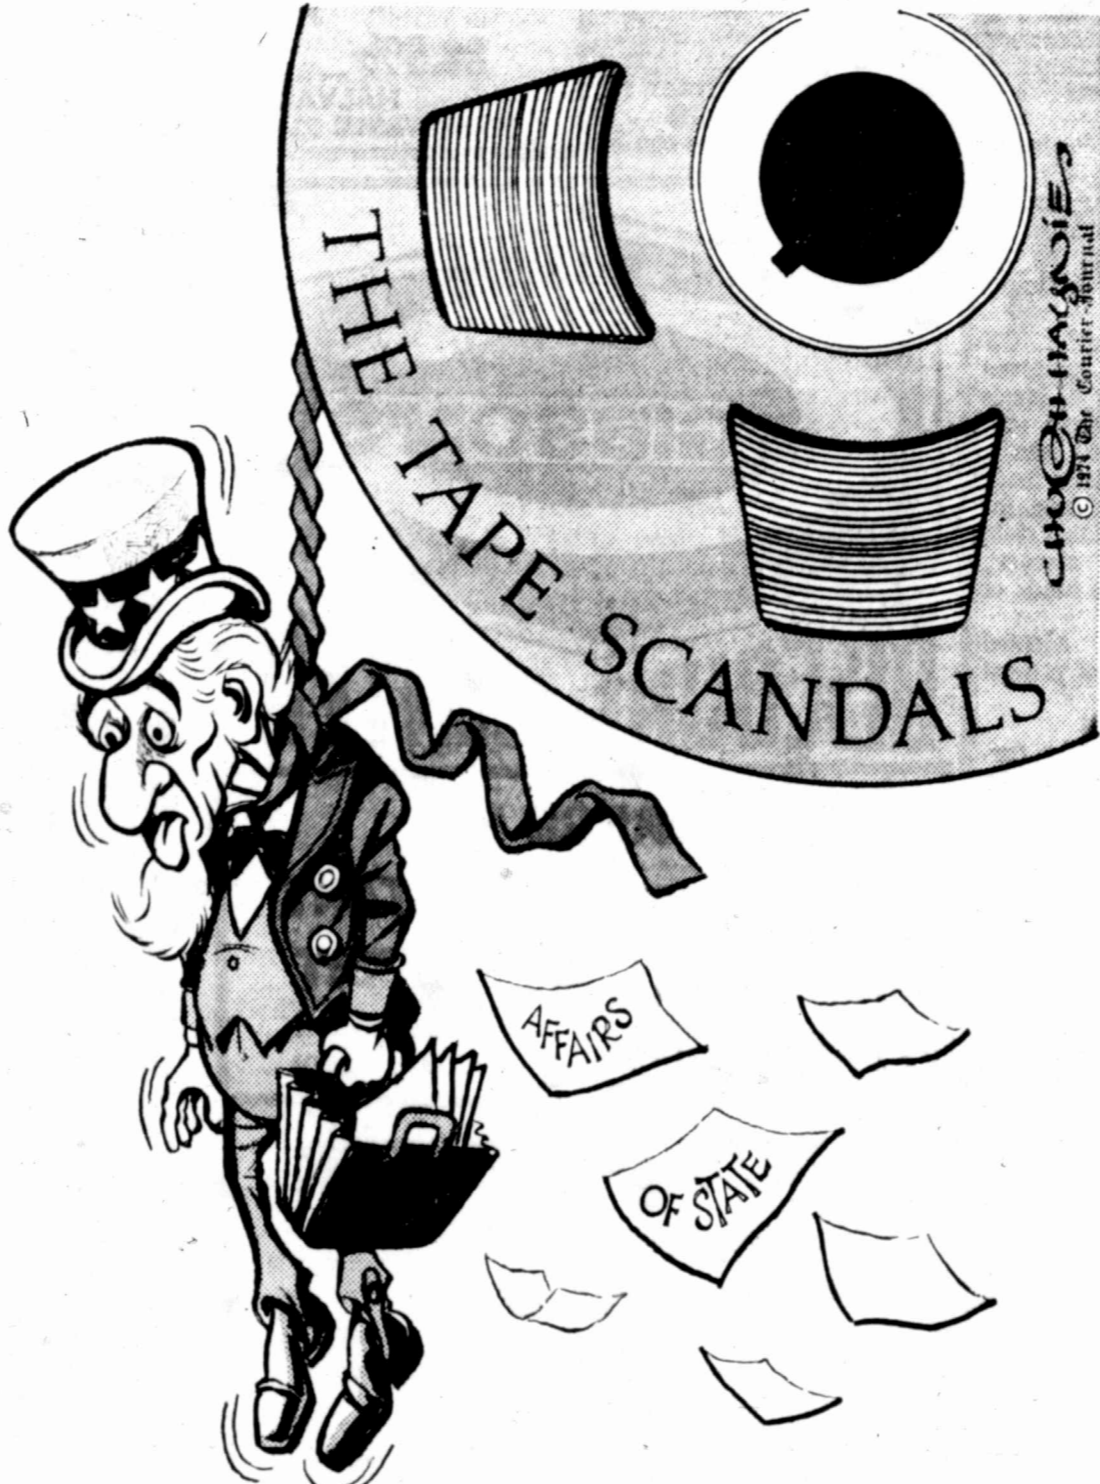

One sees how easy it is to achieve the desired effect. If the editors of "Time" magazine had reflected on the profits of Occidental from 1970 to 1974, they would have been required to comment that the profits were down 56 per cent. So: the fact of the matter is that Occidental's profits were 9 per cent, in an extraordinary year in which the price of oil zoomed as a result of the Mideast crisis. Well, during the same year the "New York Times" brought in a return of 14 per cent (why not nationalize the "New York Times"?), and the "Washington Post" came through with 14.7. In turn chicken feed compared to CBS's 18.5 per cent. So it goes.

2. Mr. Reynolds notes that Senator Kennedy in last year's returns claimed a depletion allowance on some oil revenue. Nothing scandalous about that. But one asks: did he buy his oil stock because of the depletion benefit? You see, the stock market instantly discounts the depletion benefit. In that way tax breaks are quickly dissipated: the price of oil and land and equipment is bid up, and the stock market builds any remaining advantage into a stock price which is higher than otherwise.

BUT NOW Congress, substantially at the prodding of Senator Kennedy, is preparing to change the rules of the game retroactively. In other words, it is proposed to eliminate the depletion allowance even on old wells. People who invested in oil at a price that reflected the tax advantage are now scheduled to suffer windfall losses. Will Senator Kennedy not move his investments into something more profitable? Like the news media, soft drinks, or cosmetics? How many people will act as he will, assuming he is more prudent as an investor than as a legislator?

3. The notion that government interference is going to help the consumer is, well, a laugh. A very expensive laugh. Over the past five years, domestic taxes on oil products went up by $1.3 billion. During the same period, profits went up by $4 billion. And the notion that a federal agency is going to protect the consumer is another, forced laugh. The agencies invariably act to help the inefficient, to protect them from low prices. The Federal Trade Commission has issued at least eight complaints against major oil companies. Guess what for? Price gouging? No. For reducing the price of gasoline.

"... Meanwhile, twisting slowly, slowly in the wind..."

Friction, Greed, Timidity

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Many of the problems that afflicted the stock market in the recent past were peculiarly its own-home-grown or self-inflicted by friction, greed, inefficiency, timidity, legerism, procrastination and the like.

But the market also shares a common gripe with individual and corporate Americans. Taxes, it argues, are needlessly hurting both brokers and customers. Moreover, they are counterproductive for government; they hurt it too.

If there is one thing that all segments of the market can agree upon, it is this. Nobody believes that a change in the tax laws will set off a bull market, but most believe it will spur considerable activity and revenues.

The main contention of tax-change advocates is that capital gains should be taxed on a sliding scale, based on the amount of time elapsed between purchase and sale. Stocks held for the shortest time would be taxed the heaviest.

Under the existing system, one-half of all "long-term" capital gains are taxed, no matter if held for the minimum period of six months or for 25 years. Thousands of stockholders are locked into their gains, it is contended, because of this.

If the tax bite were reduced on a sliding scale, based on the length of time held, these shareholders would be inclined to take their profits, thus spurring market activity and automatically providing tax revenue for government.

Emmy Awards Palilalia

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's 26th annual Emmy awards show gets under way from Hollywood tonight on NBC-TV. What makes this year's bash different is that it'll arrive with a mild case of palilalia.

Palilalia is a speech defect in which the last word or words of a phrase are repeated several times. In the Emmy case, the words are "..."

Leaders of Television Arts and Sciences announced the season's Emmy winners in various categories of day and night TV effort.

IT DID SO because assorted thespians and production folk were griping so mightily about the category classification of some shows that the academy finally decided to attempt mollifying the outraged.

It's trying this with a "play-off" in which academy judges review the shows and performances they've already nominated and from these declare — as you'll see tonight — the elite in 18 supercategories.

In this approach, there's no category hair-splitting, no awards for, say, "best producers relative in a wretched series."

Nope. The academy for the first time is giving awards for the best actor and actress of any series, best actor and actress of any special, most "outstanding" comedy or dramatic series and so on.

EXAMPLE: It's already declared Alan Alda of "M-A-S-H" an Emmy winner as "best lead actor in a comedy series" and Telly "Kojak" Savalas as "best lead actor in a drama series."

Both are competing tonight for the "Actor of the Year, Series" award, one of the supercategories, according to the academy.

An NBC spokesman says the already announced winners will get their Emmys tonight and, if they win again in the finals competition, the news will be made public for the first time on the air.

The same system, on a limited basis, was to be used earlier today in the academy's first separate Emmy Awards show, aired by NBC from New York, for outstanding daytime television achievements.

THAT SHOW was made separate, NBC's man said, "because for a lot of years the daytime TV people and a lot of viewers felt their awards were more or less ignored in the nighttime Emmy telecasts."

"And they've been waiting for a long time to have their own awards show. It kind of makes sense because they have their own following and it's rather a world of its own."

Don't think tonight's show concludes the Emmy season. The academy is holding its second annual awards show for TV news Sept. 4 on ABC.

A Simple Procedure

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

DEAR DR. THOSTESON: My marriage seems to have fallen apart. My husband accuses me of having relations with another man, which is not true. I've never done anything like that, but his imagination has him beside himself.

He says the children aren't his because his blood is type O. Mine I do not know. Our daughter is A and son is B. He says this is not possible because his is O type.

I know they are his, but he says he has to have proof and then will beg forgiveness. Please answer with definite statements, no buts or ands, please. — D.H.

If you don't want any buts or ands, then why don't you have your blood typed?

A child's blood type is not determined by that of one parent; it depends on the types of both parents.

Your husband is entirely wrong when he says type A or B in the children is "impossible" because he is type O.

A type O parent can have children of either type A or type B if the other parent is type AB.

So don't you think you'd better have your own blood typed? If it turns out type AB, then it will be time for your husband to start begging forgiveness. He just doesn't understand how ABO blood types behave.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 51 and haven't had a menstrual period for a year. Would hormone pills start the menstrual periods again? Basically what are they for? What are the chances of getting pregnant after that length of time? Would I be safe in using foam and is it effective? — M.R.S.

After a year without periods, you can forget about pregnancy.

Hormone medication may cause some breakthrough bleeding but they will not be true menstrual periods. Such medication is given to combat such menopausal symptoms as hot flashes — your ovaries have ceased producing female hormones and that leads to the hot flashes in some (not all) women. So you are given hormones to make up for the hormones no longer being secreted by the ovaries. I see no need whatever for you to use foam contraceptive.

Your questions, incidentally, are answered in my booklet, "Make Menopause Easier," along with some 50 or so other commonly-asked questions on that subject. It might be a good idea for you to send for the booklet. Send 35 cents and a long, stamped self-addressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there anything you can do to prevent swelling of the eyelids after a bout of crying? After watching a very sad show last night, I cried quite a bit.

I was shocked to see what my eyes looked like. Why does this happen? — Mrs. G.M.K.

The tissues around the eyes are thin. Put your finger to the area and you can feel the difference. This is the reason for the congestion associated with crying. The resultant fluid accumulation causes a puffiness and a discoloration. There is really little that can be done; maybe cold compresses will help.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

I read your column in our San Diego Union and like it. Would you comment on this — the matter of churches holding large estates and other properties? My church has hotels. I'm the old-fashioned kind who believes church funds are just to help others.

The view that churches regard missions and benevolences as the only allowable expenditure outside current expenses is not just old-fashioned, it's Biblical. For a great stewardship message, read 2 Corinthians 8, where Paul commends the churches in Macedonia, first, for their commitment to Christ, and then sharing with the saints in Jerusalem.

Be careful to get your facts straight, however. Sometimes churches and colleges are given property through the settlement of an estate, and until they dispose of these, obviously they become current "holdings." They are legitimate if merely in-transit. If, however, your church is trying to operate these hotels, and perhaps other non-church related business for profit purposes, then they have both their non-profit status to worry about as well as their view of Christian priorities.

I believe in the years ahead we will see less tendency to permit the church even to exist without paying taxes. Many leading churchmen now advocate the voluntary assumption of community obligations.

Let your views by known to your church leadership. A congregation, vocal in more than just hymn singing is a healthy situation.

A Devotion For Today

"Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time: casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you." (1 Peter 5:6-7)

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 29, have been married for 12 years, and have four children. (The youngest is seven.)

I breast-fed all my children. At the same time I also breast-fed my husband. He enjoyed it, and I didn't mind as I have had plenty of milk even when I wasn't pregnant. I have long quit breast-feeding my youngest child, but my husband wants it nearly every day.

He is 44 and recently retired from the military. What worries me is this never-ending supply of milk I seem to have. I had a hysterectomy last year, and even that didn't dry me up. It doesn't bother me physically, but I keep wondering if I am normal? My husband thinks it's super. The older I get the more I worry about it, because I've never heard of this before. Have you?

NAME WITHHELD BY REQUEST

DEAR NAME: Yes. All animals, including humans, secrete milk as long as the mammary glands (breasts) receive stimulation from sucking and emptying. Don't worry, you're normal. The abnormal one could be your husband, but as long as he's happy and you don't mind accommodating him, there's no problem. His hunger is probably more erotic than caloric.

DEAR ABBY: Our 12-year-old son got some centerfolds out of old Playboy magazines and thumb-tacked six of them on the wall of his bedroom. My husband said the naked body is beautiful, and we shouldn't say anything or our son might get the idea

WE URGE YOU To Go Vote Saturday, June 1st

(If You Can't Vote Then, Vote Absentee Now)

Open Letter To Our Friends

- We feel the only way we can have good government is to have two acceptable candidates running in November in the General Election.
- Glenn (High Taxes) Toombs has been our County Judge for almost 4 years. During that time, he has raised our taxes every time he got the chance during his entire term in office.
- A group of Borden County citizens averted a law suit between Borden County and the oil operators operating within the County by agreeing to reevaluate all property within the County except oil and gas properties. This amounted to about 50 per cent increase. We further agreed to stop increasing the oil companies taxes, which Judge Toombs instrumented each year he had been in office.
- Glenn (High Tax) Toombs is running on a platform which not only affects the landowners and homeowners, but also apartment dwellers and everyone who owns any property at all.
- Glenn Toombs wants to come into your home and have a disinterested appraiser appraise your dishes, your furniture, your car, etc. . . . and then tax them on the full market value.
- Accountants have estimated that this would quadruple the taxes throughout the 63rd Legislative District, whether you own any real property or not.
- Glenn Toombs did not carry one precinct in Borden County, including the precinct where he was raised and of course, was solidly defeated throughout the County.
- Glenn (High Tax) Toombs did not carry Scurry or Howard Counties where he ran not on his own merits but on the good reputation of his parents.
- We feel that a man who cannot carry his home County and his home precinct, among the people who know him best, does not warrant the vote or support of the other people throughout the district.
- Regardless of the pretty words of Glenn (High Tax) Toombs, the above facts are actually what he believes.
- We urge you all to get out and vote on Saturday, June 1st, so that you may select between two good candidates in the November general election.

NBA's Draft Anticlimactic

NEW YORK (AP) — The impact of Bill Walton's lucrative, far-ranging contract with the Portland Trail Blazers was to be felt today by the other National Basketball Association teams as they began the job of trying to sign their collegiate draft choices.

The Trail Blazers, the team with the worst record in the NBA's Western Conference last season, gained the shot at the league's No. 1 draft selection in a coin flip with the Philadelphia 76ers, the club with the worst record in the Eastern Conference.

Then, even before today's draft, the ambitious Trail Blazers went out and signed Walton to a five-year contract estimated between $2 million and $3 million. Money, however, was not the only factor in Walton's signing with Portland.

"There were clauses we were capable of getting for Bill that perhaps we couldn't get for another player," said Sam Gilbert, Walton's business adviser.

These included Walton's approval of any trade to another team and his right to say what he feels and not what someone else instructs him to say during an interview, Gilbert said.

The adviser said that the 6-foot-11, 220-pound Walton also made a number of other requests, but declined to discuss them.

No player picked in today's draft had the reputation or the credentials of the UCLA center. Walton was the Associated Press College Player of the year as a sophomore and a junior, and was runner-up as a senior to David Thompson of North Carolina State. He led UCLA to its sixth and seventh consecutive NCAA championships in 1972 and 1973 and to third place in this year's tournament.

He set an NCAA career field goal shooting mark with a .651 percentage, breaking the mark of .639, held by Lew Alcindor, now Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, formerly of UCLA, and he bettered Alcindor's school rebounding record with a total of 1,370.

Stewart Inks With NMJC

HOBBS, N.M. — Jimmy Stewart, standout golfer at Big Spring High School the past three years, has signed a scholarship agreement with New Mexico Junior College.

Coach Jesse Blackwelder signed the Steer ace last weekend after Stewart visited the Hobbs, N.M., campus. Stewart said he was impressed with both the school and coach Blackwelder.

Stewart finished third in the Dist. 5-AAAA medalist race this spring, averaging 74 strokes a round over the five district courses. Honored the past two seasons as Most Valuable Golfer at the Spring Sports Banquet, Stewart has earned numerous West Texas golf tournaments and has qualified for the Texas State Amateur Tournament this summer in Dallas.

New Mexico Junior College finished third in the Western Conference the past season, and loses just one golfer off the team.

Indy Payoff Sets Record

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A record purse for the 1974 Indianapolis 500-mile race was awarded Monday with Johnny Rutherford taking a check for $245,031.52 as the winner's share.

Under the normal split between drivers and car owners, Rutherford's split will amount to approximately $98,012.60.

The checks were presented at the annual awards banquet from a total purse of $1,015,686. The overall prize money was $4,000 more than the 1971 race—the first million-dollar payoff in the history of auto racing.

"This is a dream come true," the 37-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., winner told the banquet audience at the Indianapolis Convention-Exposition Center.

"I've got a lot of people to thank," he added. "Naturally, I have to give my biggest thanks to Team McLaren and all the people involved. 'It's just hard to describe my feelings for these people.'"

Mark Donohue, 1972 Indy winner, presented the 500 championship ring to Rutherford.

"I think it means a lot in tradition," Donohue told the new champion. "It will mean a lot for you to look back on... It's a great thrill for me to come up here and make this presentation."

Second-place money totaling $99,503.57 was awarded to Bobby Unser. It was more than he received for winning the race in 1968.

Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., also congratulated the McLaren team. "I think we probably realize what a nice job they did because we ran a good race and I really couldn't catch Johnny."

For Rutherford it was his first Indy victory in 11 tries. He finished 21 seconds ahead of Unser.

Rutherford's winning share, also a Speedway record, included $69,663.25 in accessory prizes and $18,300 in lap prizes for leading 122 laps at $150 per lap. Unser's total included $900 for leading six laps.

Fresno, Calif., driver Bill Vukovich, who finished second in 1973, got $63,311.43 for his third-place showing. Defending champion Gordon Johncock of Phoenix, Ariz., received $36,328.57 for fourth.

BRETT PITCHES & HITS, TOO Ruth Imitation Impresses

By The Associated Press

It looks as if the Pittsburgh Pirates may have another Babe Ruth on their hands.

For you young fans, Babe Ruth was the leading home run hitter of all time before Henry Aaron came along.

But Ruth was also a pretty fair hurler before he went into the hitting business full time in 1922. He showed a 94-46 pitching record and a 2.28 ERA.

Ken Brett, the left-handed pitcher and hitting sensation, seems to pose a similarly wonderful "problem" for the Pirates.

In the first game of the Pirates' Memorial Day double-header sweep of the San Diego Padres Monday, lefty Brett pitched perfect baseball for eight innings and ended up with a two-hit, 6-0 shutout.

But the work of a pitcher who hits like Ken Brett is never done and his bat was called on to pinch hit in the second game. Brett boomed a two-run triple to spark a five-run seventh inning uprising and the Pirates went to beat the Padres in the nightcap 8-7.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs pounded the San Francisco Giants 12-4; the St. Louis Cardinals overpowered the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-2; the Atlanta Braves crushed the Philadelphia Phillies 9-1; the Cincinnati Reds beat the New York Mets 4-2, and the Houston Astros at Montreal Expos game was rained out.

"Brett's something else. He had a heckuva day," said Richie Hebner, who blasted a dramatic two-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning of the second game to rally the Pirates.

Reds 4, Mets 2 Cincinnati jumped on struggling Tom Seaver for six hits and four runs in the first two innings and Fred Norman checked the Mets on four hits.

Braves 9, Phillies 1 Phil Niekro, 6-3, tossed a five-hitter in pitching the Braves to their 10th victory in 12 games. He struck out seven, including five in a row, and walked one.

Cards 7, Dodgers 2 Joe Torre smacked a two-run homer and Reggie Smith and Ted Simmons added solo shots, powering the St. Louis over Los Angeles.

Cubs 12, Giants 4 Pitcher Ken Frailing drove in three runs with a pair of singles to lead Chicago past San Francisco.

Frailing, 3-4, who bested Giant ace Mike Cadwell, 7-2, pitched in and out of trouble all game, yielding 15 hits.

Minus Coach, Bruins Drafting

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins go into today's National Hockey League amateur draft without a coach in the wake of Ben Guidolin's decision to quit his job rather than settle for a short-term contract.

Because the Bruins won the Prince of Wales trophy with a first-place finish in the Eastern Division, they have last pick in every round of the junior draft, taking their first three choices in the 18th, 25th, and 30th rounds.

But Bruins managing director Harry Sinden already has given the word that the team will continue picking its share into the late rounds today.

Guidolin, according to his wife, spent Monday fishing while Sinden broke the news that the coach would not be returning.

Sinden said he regretted Guidolin's decision, but added the Bruins could not meet his demand for a long-term pact.

Guidolin's decision came eight days after the Bruins lost the Stanley Cup championships to the Philadelphia Flyers.

"Bep did a good job for us," Sinden said, "and I wish him the best of luck in his future endeavors."

Before leaving Boston last week to make up his mind in the quiet of his Barrie, Ont., home, Guidolin said, "I have to think about some security. It's got to be a long-time deal, and it isn't you can say that I won't be back."

Sinden said the Bruins usually offer contracts for one or two years.

Bibby 'Stops' Cleveland, 6-0

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Rangers finally uncorked one of their "stoppers" Monday night and to the Cleveland batters it was like trying to bottle lightning.

Big Jim Bibby, dwelling in the throes of a horrible slump which has seen him lose five consecutive games and not post a victory since April 30, smoked his fastball low and hard past the Indians for a 6-0 triumph.

"I had felt terrible about it," Bibby said. "My teammates and the manager were counting on me to be a stopper and to win a lot of games. It's a load off my mind to break that losing streak."

Bibby allowed only three singles in posting his sixth victory in 13 decisions. Jeff Burroughs slammed a two-run double to up his American League-leading RBI total to 48.

The 6-foot-5, 230-pound Bibby, who no-hit Oakland last year, said "I was getting the breaking ball over and I just threw strikes. Oh, I guess I really didn't get all that down on myself because (Manager) Billy Martin kept stressing I was in the lineup and not to worry about it."

The Rangers had taken films of Bibby's motion trying to detect some flaw in his form. They suggested he might be lowering his left shoulder, but Bibby still continued to lose.

He finally got the point where he said "I have no excuses, but that doesn't make me feel better about it."

Martin said "Bibby was just super. When a guy goes into a nose-dive like he did, he just needs to pitch his way out of it. His low fast ball was really jumping."

Leron Lee was the only Indian to solve Bibby's slant, collecting two singles. Bibby retired 13 consecutive Cleveland batters from the fifth inning until Lee singled in the ninth.

The closest Cleveland came to scoring was the fifth inning when Charlie Spikes was thrown out at the plate trying to come home on a grounder.

"That was a big play by Bibby," Martin said.

LITTLE LEAGUE Watson Gets No-Hit Win

The Cardinals continued their National Little League hot streak Monday as Ben Watson tossed a no-hitter in a 4-0 victory over the winless Devils.

Watson missed a perfect game when he and first baseman Monte Rogers ran together chasing a fly ball, allowing Mike Madry to get to first base. Madry reached second on an interference call, the only time the Devils threatened.

Dale Earnest and Mark Warren struck two hits apiece to lead the Cards, who stayed near the top with an 8-3 mark. Madry was the Devils' losing pitcher as the team dropped its 11th straight game.

In other Memorial Day action Monday, the American League-leading Colts dumped the Cabots 9-4 and the Harris Lumber and Hardware Tigers blanked the Berkley Homes Red Sox 3-0 in the Texas League.

In a Saturday game, the Lions managed a 14-3 victory over the Devils in the National League.

Tim Freeze tamed the Cabots on two hits and a seven-run inning.

Quality Volks Rips Tribe; Knights, Lions Get Wins

Quality Volkswagen broke loose for nine runs in the first inning Monday and powered to a five-inning 12-1 Hi-Junior victory over the McMahon Indians in Memorial Day Teenage Baseball action.

In the Sophomore League Monday, the Knights slammed the Orioles 5-1 in a game postponed from Saturday because of rain and the Lions trimmed the defending champion Giants 9-8.

The Teen League will have its opening ceremonies tonight at 7:15, with Webb AFB Commander Col. Robert Meisenheimer scheduled to throw out the first pitch.

Volkswagen upped its record to 2-0 with the Monday win, sparked by D. J. Justiss' two-hitter and the hitting of Chris Burrow and Dave Daniels, who drilled a double and a single apiece. Athur Olague also had a double for the winners.

Jimmy Shanks was the Indians' losing pitcher as the team dropped its second game without a win.

Tony Paradez ripped a home run, a double and a single to lead the Knights' six-hit attack and the team evened its mark at 1-1. Freddie Martinez also had a pair of hits in the triumph and Steve Tipton went all the way on the mound, scattering five hits. Martinez, Chip Wright and Rickie Myers starred defensively for the Knights.

The Orioles, who fell to 0-2 with the defeat, had Don Robertson on the mound.

Charles Vernon's three-run homer helped the Lions begin a comeback from a 6-0 second inning deficit, and the team went on to nab its second triumph. It was one of three

San Jacinto, Meramec Vie

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Meramec Community College took on San Jacinto, Tex., and Anne Arundel of Maryland met Miami Dade North of Florida in the National Junior College baseball tournament today.

After Monday's games, Meramec, with a 3-0 record, was the only unbeaten team.

Meramec of St. Louis, Mo., downed Miami Dade 5-3. San Jacinto beat Mitchell, N.C., 13-10 and Anne Arundel defeated Mesa College 4-2.

The losses were the second for Mitchell and Mesa, eliminating the two teams.

The Meramec-Miami Dade game was decided in the 10th inning when a stray throw to the plate allowed two unearned runs. Miami catcher Greg Keatley missed the throw from third on a fielder's choice, after Meramec had loaded the bases with a single, a walk and another single.

The San Jacinto-Mitchell contest was a slugfest. San Jacinto scored five runs in the second inning and three more in the fourth before Mitchell got on the scoreboard. After Mitchell rallied to tie the score at 9-all after seven innings, San Jacinto scored four more times in the eighth to put the game away.

Anne Arundel pitcher Dave Howard struck out four and held Mesa to four hits as his team eliminated the Coloradoans.

The victors collected two runs in the second inning on an error, a bunt, two walks and a sacrifice fly.

Golf Honor To Stewart

Jimmy Stewart fired an 81 and had a net score of 76 Sunday to win the handicap and under division of the Big Spring Golf Association's One Club Tournament.

Craig Olson came in with a 79 net in the meet as golfers used just one club the entire 18 holes. Royce Cox and Burt Dennis tied for the third spot with 80s.

In the 11-and-over division, Sonny Buzbee and Ronnie Jost tied with the low net scores as each shot 74. Buzbee shot 87 and Jones 88 before handicaps were deducted. Hershel Harris took third with a 75 and Mayberry Willbanks was fourth at 76.

MSA Opener Slated Tonight

'Double Play' Ball Works For Royals

By The Associated Press

Bruce Dal Canton has two "out" pitches in his repertoire—the knuckeball and the double play ball.

The knuckler he's been working on for some time. The double play ball he learned about from his manager Monday night.

Faced with a tough ninth-inning situation, Jack McKeon advised his pitcher to "throw the double play ball to Brooks Robinson." He did and the Kansas City Royals took a 9-1 decision from the Baltimore Orioles.

"It wasn't my best night in the knuckeball," Dal Canton said after pitching a five-hit game. "I still don't have the consistency I'd like to have with it."

Subdued for the greater part of eight innings, the Orioles looked as if they would knock Dal Canton out of the game in the ninth with two singles and a hit batsman that loaded the bases with one out.

The jaunty McKeon then bounced out of the dugout for a conference with his pitcher. "I just came out here to get on national television," McKeon said jokingly before giving Dal Canton the advice about the double play pitch.

In the other American League games, the Boston Red Sox nipped the Minnesota Twins 3-2 in 10 innings; the Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees 5-3; the Oakland A's routed the Detroit Tigers 12-2; the Texas Rangers blanked the Cleveland Indians 6-0 and the Milwaukee Brewers shut out the California Angels 2-0.

Locals Capture Olympic Medals

Big Springers brought home four medals from the Texas Special Olympics in Austin last weekend, a meet which drew more than 2,200 youngsters to the University of Texas campus.

Elijah Aldridge captured the only gold, as he won the 10-12 age group 50-yard dash. Scott Sigmon won a silver medal in the 10-12 bowling and Carrie Parker was second in the 19-over 50-yard dash. In the 15-19 division 50-yard dash, Susan Menchao managed a bronze medal.

Sixteen local youths attended the annual Special Olympics, with adults and members of the TARs (Teens Aid the Retarded) supervising.

House Takes Up Bill To Revise Federal Antipoverty Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another policy battle with President Nixon looms as the House takes up a bill this week to revise the federal antipoverty program but keep it under Washington's control.

The antipoverty bill heads a light legislative calendar for Congress, when it returns today from a long Memorial Day weekend recess.

Before the Senate is an effort to revive continued U.S. participation in making international loans to poor countries, which the House rejected last January.

The House Judiciary Committee is to complete the Watergate cover-up phase of its impeachment evidence review and then meet possibly Thursday on what to do about the President's refusal to turn over subpoenaed tapes.

The House antipoverty bill would go along with Nixon's proposal to dismantle the Office of Economic Opportunity, but would reject his plan generally to turn control of antipoverty programs over to the states. It would transfer the heart of the present program, community action services such as Operation Head Start and social services, over to a new Community Action Administration in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Legal services for the poor also would be turned over to HEW pending the outcome of a separate bill to create a Legal Services Corporation.

Migrant programs would be turned over to the Labor Department and community economic development programs would be turned over to the Commerce Department.

The White House supports amendments by Rep. Albert H. Gue, R-Minn., to knock the Community Action Administration out of the bill or at least knock out federal regional offices which most directly control local antipoverty programs.

The House is scheduled to vote on the bill Wednesday. The bill in the Senate would authorize a $1.5 billion U.S. commitment over four years to the International Development Association, a World Bank branch that loans money to countries where per capita income is $375 a year or less.

 Opening lead: Queen of ♠
 Most players look with disdain upon the lowly deuce. South, declarer on today's hand, brought home a close contract because he had been dealt a deuce rather than any higher card.
 South held a solid two no trump opening bid, bolstered by 150 bonus points for his four aces. North's values were the bare minimum for a raise to game, but South possessed the skill to make a contract that was not on overly firm ground.
 West led the queen of diamonds, and the fact that North and South had minor holdings did little to improve declarer's chances—he would have preferred North's four-card suit to be elsewhere than in clubs. Assuming that clubs broke normally, declarer could count eight sure tricks. Spades and diamonds offered no prospect of developing an extra trick, so that left the heart suit. Declarer's A-J-10 combination there could be developed into two tricks if East held one of the missing honors—provided declarer could get to dummy twice to lead hearts toward his hand.
 The king of clubs was one entry, but there did not appear to be another. After some thought, declarer realized that the club suit offered scope for a second entry.
 Declarer won the opening diamond lead with the king and cashed the ace and queen of clubs. When both opponents followed, South continued with the ten of clubs and overtook with the king in dummy. A low heart was led to the ten and West's queen, and the diamond return went to declarer's ace. Declarer now entered dummy by leading his carefully preserved two of clubs to dummy's five. A second heart was led, and when the finesse of the jack won, declarer reentered home with nine tricks.

Bail Bond Bribes Reported In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Sheriff's officers have been accepting bribes up to $2,000 in connection with bail bond operations, a bail bondsman told a Dallas television station Monday.

The station, WFAA-TV, reported the bondsman claims to have delivered some of the bribes in person. The man asked not to be identified for fear of reprisals.

The television report preceded a Dallas County bail bond investigation slated to get underway today by a county court of inquiry.

"I have seen the money put in an envelope and carried it across the street to those officers I have named," the bondsman told reporter Track Rowlett.

"I think they would take some other measures—whatever it took to keep my mouth shut. But it's a little late for that because my mouth's open," he said in a taped interview.

The man said the bribes to more than a dozen persons in the sheriff's office ranged from $50 to $2,000. The station said it submitted the man to a lie detector test administered by a private firm and he passed it.

Dallas newspaper have reported in recent weeks that the sheriff's office holds more than $2 million in bail bonds with unsecured collateral.

In describing the situation, the man interviewed by WFAA-TV called the Dallas bonding system "one of the crookedest things I have ever run into in my life."

Telling a reporter he was "not necessarily surprised" when asked about the interviewed man's claims, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said he expects the grand jury to act and criminal prosecution to stem from the current investigation.

"We don't have enough to make a complete criminal case right now," Wade said. "I expect we eventually will. . . I know of a number of things that are being checked out now."

Texans Mop Their Brows
 By The Associated Press
 A late spring heat wave has Texans mopping their brows in most sections of the state. Temperatures went soaring Monday, hitting a sizzling 101-degree peak at El Paso and reaching into the 90s at many points. Forecasts promised no letup today.
 Occasional thunderstorms dotted the Texas Panhandle between Borger and Spearman and extended from near Wichita Falls into Oklahoma in early morning. Aside from a few other clouds up and down the Rio Grande Valley, skies were clear in other sections.
 Forecasts promised partly cloudy and warm weather throughout the state, mentioning a possibility of showers and thunderstorms only for parts of the Rio Grande Valley.
