DIVORCING — Mrs. Donna Mutscher, Miss America of 1964, has sued former Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher for divorce. Mutscher was ordered by the State District Court not to dispose of any of the couple's property and to appear at a court hearing in Austin Friday. In her divorce petition, Mrs. Mutscher seeks custody of their only child, Gut Hurley Mutscher, 3, now living with his father. Mrs. Mutscher, 32, has a daughter by a previous marriage. The couple are shown here during his conspiracy-bribery trial in 1972.

CRIME FIGHTER Resignation Of Santarelli Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald E. Santarelli has resigned as head of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration and the resignation has been accepted by the White House, a Justice Department source said today.

NOT REQUESTED?
The source said Santarelli submitted a letter of resignation to President Nixon on Saturday and that Nixon accepted it in a reply letter Monday.

The resignation was voluntary and was not requested by the White House, the source said, despite Santarelli's recent criticism of President Nixon because of the Watergate scandal.

Congressional sources said earlier Santarelli had resigned as head of the Justice Department agency that passes out nearly $900 million a year in crime-fighting money to state and local governments. Santarelli refused to talk to reporters. His aides first said "no comment" to the report, but later referred questions to the White House. The White House and Justice Department had no comment.

BRAINY LAWYER
Last week, Santarelli, a glib and brainy 36-year-old lawyer, told an Associated Press reporter that the Watergate scandal had made the government "a nastier place to be these days."

He said then that he wanted to leave government service, avoid, but meantime he would "very assiduously avoid" mentioning President Nixon's name in public.

When the report was published, Santarelli complained of a misunderstanding and claimed he had not meant his remarks for publication.

INTERVIEW TAPED
However, that entire interview was tape recorded by the AP reporter, who volunteered in advance to exclude any portions which Santarelli did not want on the record. At no point in the ensuing question-and-answer session did Santarelli make such a request.

Three days later, he complained of the "unfortunate notoriety" the news accounts stimulated and launched into tepid praise for the President's support of LEAA. Coincidentally or not, he skirted the parts of his written text referring to Nixon by name.

Sunday, Santarelli's public criticism of Nixon heightened when the Philadelphia Inquirer's "Today" magazine published an account of a recent interview in which Santarelli urged the President to resign.

Santarelli was quoted as saying, "It pains me, but I think he should resign. After all, you've got the cleanest vice president in history over there, his whole life's been gone over by every agency imaginable, he's got USDA Prime stamped on every haunch."

Again Santarelli complained of misunderstood ground rules and again claimed he didn't realize his remarks were to be published.

Up To His Neck In Cement

MIAMI, Fla (AP) — There was one loud pop before tons of concrete came down around Eddie Weaver, trapping him and five other workers at a downtown Miami construction site.

"He was up to his neck in cement," said Weaver's uncle, Norman Warren. "I had to dig him out with my hands."

Warren, owner of the General Concrete Co., said Weaver was below a section of the second floor that collapsed Monday as cement was being poured.

"I was on the top and there was just a crack. The whole second floor gave way," said Warren. He said he was not hurt because "I'm fast."

Weaver and another worker were listed in serious condition at Jackson Memorial Hospital. Seven workers were treated for injuries from the accident at the site of a new motor lodge.

At least 14 men were working on the planned 14-story building when the flooring gave way.

City Building Inspector R. E. Frencik said the collapse of wood shoring apparently caused the accident, although an investigation was continuing.

Miss America Of '64 Files For Divorce

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Donna Axum Mutscher, Miss America of 1964, has filed for divorce saying her marriage to convicted ex-House Speaker Gus Mutscher had become "insupportable because of discord or conflict of personalities."

State District Court Judge Jim Meyers set a hearing for Friday on temporary child custody and support and conservation of the couple's property while the divorce is pending.

He also issued a temporary restraining order Monday commanding Mutscher not to dispose of any property.

Mutscher currently is appealing his March 15, 1972, conviction on charges he conspired to accept a bribe from Houston promoter Frank Sharp in the form of a lucrative stock deal.

Mrs. Mutscher moved into an Austin apartment last fall and worked as a research associate at the University of Texas School of Communications.

She seeks permanent custody of the couple's son, Gus Hurley Mutscher, 3, whom she said is now living with his father in Brenham.

Mrs. Mutscher, 32, also has a daughter by a previous marriage. Her last name was changed to Mutscher after the former House speaker became her stepfather.

The hearing set for Friday will be for the judge to receive evidence on temporary custody of the couple's son, temporary support for Mrs. Mutscher and her children, an inventory and appraisal of property and a temporary injunction to preserve the property intact.

In the suit filed by her lawyer, Joseph Witherspoon III, Mrs. Mutscher said her husband was "in possession of much property, some of which is unknown" to her. She said she fears he "will dispose of or encumber this property and dissipate the proceeds" and deprive her of her share.

She said she had an "incomplete knowledge" of this property and sought a sworn accounting of both property and debts.

Mrs. Mutscher said her husband should continue supporting her and her children while the divorce suit is pending. She said they have "insufficient income for support while" Mutscher "has an annual income much in excess of any amount" she was capable of earning.

Bomb Blast Kills Judge

PASCO, Wash. (AP) — Court administrator Jim Boldt says he knows of no controversial cases handled by a judge who was killed when a mailed package he was opening exploded in his office.

The blast killed Superior Court Judge James J. Lawless, 50, late Monday.

Officials here said they did not know why the judge was the target. He had served on the bench for 17 years.

Police would not say whether they suspected any connection between the blast and the bombing of a police car and a deliberately set fire in mid-April in the Prosser area 15 miles from here.

But Acting Mayor Donald Dinton said, "It was probably just a fluke that it didn't happen in Prosser. It was apparently aimed at the judge and not the community."

The package had been addressed to the judge at his Prosser office. Lawless, who lived here, held court in Pasco and Prosser.

PAPER BAG

Bob Gregory, a postal official, said the package was delivered to the courthouse in Prosser Monday morning and then was taken back to Pasco by Mrs. Maxine Hancock, a court reporter.

Prosser Postmaster Frank Suhadolnik said the package was wrapped in an old paper bag and measured about three inches wide, three inches thick and six inches long.

Mrs. Hancock said she had a strange feeling about the package after she left it with the judge minutes before it exploded.

She had just returned to her office when she heard the blast. "I was sure it must have had something to do with the package," she said. "I don't know why I felt that, but I took off for his office."

Police said they were placing the district's two other judges under protection.

Lawless is survived by his widow, Beth, and five children.

WENT BLIND BEFORE HIS RELEASE Protest Lobotomy Ordered For Violent Prison Inmate

Prison officials are fielding protests over the lobotomy ordered for an inmate who spent more than seven years in isolation and went blind before his release after 33 years behind bars.

But Warden Ed Pogue of the Nevada State Prison said Monday the treatment given Eugene Austin, now in a convalescent home, is no longer in use, as many of the objectors believe.

ANIMAL?
Pogue said one person wrote "What kind of animal are you?" Then the warden added, "We had been concerned about Austin, too. We had been trying for a couple of years to get him released."

Austin, 51, was sentenced to life in prison in 1941 at age 18 for killing a woman during a shooting spree.

Records show he was constantly involved in fights with both inmates and prison guards and underwent a prefrontal lobotomy in 1953 in an effort to control his violence. Prison officials said the surgery was completed with Austin's acquiescence.

By the time he was released May 28, Austin had spent more time in the state prison than any other inmate. More than seven years of that time was in a darkened isolation cell.

Austin's blindness was brought on by the time spent in isolation and by injuries suffered in prison brawls, officials have said.

HE WAS ROUGH

"He was rough. He was the strongest man I have ever seen," said Art Bernard, the warden when surgeons performed the lobotomy that left Austin subdued and docile.

Asked whether he had any reservations about the medical decision to give Austin a lobotomy, Bernard replied, "None at all. It was done in his best interests."

Pogue said he has received about eight letters and 10 phone calls from "people expressing concern as to why Austin was here so long and why he had a prefrontal lobotomy."

He said it was unfortunate that Austin received a lobotomy, "but that was the state of things at the time. Mental hospitals and prisons were using them. This was an acceptable thing at the time it occurred."

Riot Police Open Fire On Students

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Riot police opened fire today on a crowd of students outside a high school where Cambodia's education minister and his deputy were held hostage. Doctors said the minister was brought into a hospital dead shortly afterward and that his deputy died of gunshot wounds after arrival at a hospital.

It could not be determined who was responsible for the deaths. There was no official report from the police or government officials on the two deaths. Witnesses at the scene said both men were killed by students, but they reported later they did not actually see this.

The witnesses said five students were wounded in the incident, which began with the abduction of the two officials from their offices by students demanding the release of five students previously arrested in a demonstration against living conditions here.

Nixon To Tour Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will tour five Middle East countries June 12-18 "to consolidate what has been achieved on the road to peace" the White House said today.

Simultaneous announcements were made by the White House and each of the five Middle East governments involved in Nixon's plans for the most extensive tour of the region ever undertaken by a U.S. president.

A White House spokesman said Nixon would depart Monday morning for Salzburg, Austria, where he will spend two nights before heading to the Middle East.

Nixon's Middle East itinerary: June 12-14, Egypt; June 14-15, Saudi Arabia; June 15-16, Syria; June 16-17, Israel; and June 17-18, Jordan.

The World At-A-Glance

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — G. William Miller, who would take the controls at Lockheed Aircraft under a massive refinancing plan, says he forsores the nation's largest defense contractor moving into nongovernmental areas in the next decade. Miller, 49, is board chairman of Textron Inc., a Rhode Island-based conglomerate which has offered to bring in $85 million in new capital in exchange for 45 per cent of the debt-ridden aerospace firm under a tentative plan announced here Monday.

SEATTLE (AP) — A leading advocate of political reform told the nation's governors today that amidst the Watergate scandals "the states have been far more responsive than Congress to the citizen's concern for a housecleaning in politics." John W. Gardner said in a speech prepared for a discussion of governmental ethics at the National Governors' Conference that in the last 18 months at least 40 states have passed political reform measures, while on the federal level "the executive branch has been totally unresponsive and the Congress equally so." He is president of the self-styled citizens' lobby, Common Cause.

LONDON (AP) — The Irish Republican Army charges the British government with "callous, brutal and premeditated murder" today after the death of an IRA member who was on a hunger strike in a British prison. Convicted bank robber Michael Gaughan, 34, died Monday night in the top-security Parkhurst Prison on the Isle of Wight after developing pneumonia. He had been fasting since March 31 demanding political prisoner status and transfer to a prison in Northern Ireland.

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP) — At least 30 people have been killed, more than 200 seriously injured and more than 2,000 arrested in five days of Moslem warfare in Pakistan's Punjab province, authoritative sources report. The government issued no official information about the fighting between orthodox Moslems and members of the extremist Qadianis sect. But informed sources reported fighting throughout the Punjab, and said it was the most serious civil disturbance since Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto came to power at the end of 1972.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Four persons were reported killed and 16 injured today when a rocket fired by Khmer Rouge insurgents struck a movie house in Phnom Penh. On the fighting fronts, the Cambodian commander said insurgents intensified their attacks today against the 1,000-man government garrison at Kompong Seila, 90 miles southwest of Phnom Penh. Military sources said rebel artillery killed 11 garrison members and wounded 18.

'I THINK MY WIFE'S BEEN KILLED'

DALLAS (AP) — "I think my wife's been killed," police dispatcher B. R. Wychopen said after receiving an accident call today. Wychopen dispatched a patrolman to the accident site in North Dallas. Minutes later came the confirmation: his 24-year-old wife Lynn died in a car that rammied a telephone pole.

16 Members Of Impeachment Panel Accepted Milk Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least 16 members of the House Judiciary Committee accepted political donations ranging from $100 to $11,000 from the same three dairy farmer cooperatives as part of its impeachment probe.

Two members, Democrat Charles B. Rangel of New York and Republican Thomas F. Railsback of Illinois, decided to return the money after being questioned about it by The Associated Press.

NO CONFLICT?

Rangel got $100 from Associated Milk Producers, Inc. last March, and sent it back Monday with a letter saying it would be improper for him to accept it.

An aide to Railsback said he would give back $500 that he received from the same group in 1972 "because he wants to be free of any conflict of interest."

The others, including committee chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., who got $4,100, said they saw no conflict.

The biggest recorded donation went to Rep. Edward Mezvinsky, a first-term Democrat from Iowa, who got $11,000.

According to public records going back to April 7, 1972, these committee members were given money by one or more of the co-ops, Associated Milk Producers, Inc., Dairymen, Inc., and Mid-America Dairy-men, Inc.

SUPPORT PRICE

M. Caldwell Butler, R-Va., $1,500; William S. Cohen, R-Maine, $3,000; John Conyers Jr., D-Mich. $100; David W. Dennis, R-Ind., $500; Walter Flowers, D-Ala., $1,000; Harold V. Froehlich, R-Wis., $100; William L. Hungate, D-Mo., $2,300; Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., $2,650; Trent Lott, R-Miss., $2,500; Robert McClory, R-Ill., $500; Mezvinsky, $11,000; Wayne Owens, D-Utah, $2,800; Railsback, $500; Rangel, $100; Rodino, $4,100 and Jerome R.

Waldie, D-Calif., $200.

Kastenmeier, Hungate and Flowers were among sponsors of legislation to raise the federal support price for milk in 1971. The White House has cited this legislation, sponsored eventually by 121 House members, as a key reason President Nixon overruled the Agriculture Department and raised milk price supports in March 1971.

PUBLIC RECORDS

The Judiciary Committee is scheduled to begin soon a formal inquiry into allegations that Nixon raised prices because of a promise of $2 million in political donations from the dairy cooperatives. The White House has said Nixon knew about the promise of money but wasn't influenced by it.

Public records show that members of the Judiciary Committee received $32,650 after April 7, 1972, $24,050 of it to nine Democrats, $8,600 to seven Republicans. Records of congressional donations before that date are no longer available for public view.

Rep. Hungate summed up what many of his colleagues said:

"If Mr. Nixon received and reported a legitimate campaign donation, as I did, he's in no trouble. If he sought and received a bribe, as I did not, he is in deep trouble."

BEING HELD — Paul Edward Johnson, 34, is being questioned by police in Dallas, in connection with the disappearance of LTV Corp. executive Dan Burney who vanished two weeks ago. Johnson was arrested Sunday in Dallas in possession of Burney's car and police said articles found in the car were taken in a burglary of a Memphis, Tenn., motel room. Memphis police issued a warrant for Johnson's arrest.

Salvoes Fired By 2 Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — A pair of Wisconsin Democrats fired salvoes at military spending over the weekend, taking aim at billions of dollars in weapons cost overruns and military spending in Indochina.

Sen. William Proxmire released General Accounting Office figures Sunday showing cost overruns totaling $26.3 billion for the development of 55 new weapons systems.

And Rep. Les Aspin said estimates prepared by the Defense Intelligence Agency show that the United States has spent nearly 30 times as much in Indochina since 1966 as the Soviet Union and mainland China combined—$107.1 billion to $3.65 billion.

According to the figures released by Proxmire the weapons systems involved are now expected to cost some $134.2 billion. This compares with original estimates of $111.6 billion.

And, a spokesman said the quantity of many of the items has been reduced to save money. The original estimate on the smaller quantity would have been $107.9 billion for an overrun of $26.3 billion.

Proxmire said the costs of building the DD963 destroyer have risen from the original planning estimates of $1.8 billion to a current estimate of $3.1 billion, and per ship cost from $60 million to $102.6 million.

"That is an increase of more than 70 per cent and not a single ship has been completed," he said.

Other major cost overruns noted in the GAO report included $1.43 billion for the F15 fighter; $756 million for the Minuteman III missile; $417.9 million for the SAM-D missile; $394.1 million for the XM-1 tank; and $349.9 million for the UTTAS helicopter.

Aspin, meanwhile, charged that the Indochina spending figures compiled by the Defense Intelligence Agency "put the lie" to administration claims that American aid to South Vietnam was meant only to counter Russian and Chinese assistance to the north.

And in a statement released Monday Aspin said that GAO officials have not been able to determine the extent of cost overruns in the Safeguard anti-ballistic-missile system.

He accused the Army of juggling its books to make it impossible to make such a determination and of violating its own rules on identifying the cause of cost overruns.

Aspin said a May 1969 planning estimate showed a projected cost of $4.185 billion for a two-site system. After the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks, however, Congress limited the Army to one site, currently estimated to cost $5.403 billion. The Army says it never had an estimate for a one-site system.

LEAVING COURT — James R. Hoffa, former president of the Teamsters union, talks with newsmen Monday as he leaves U.S. District Court in Washington after Judge John M. City Councilmen Vote To Go All Way In Fight

DALLAS (AP) — City councilmen voted 8-3 Monday to go all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary with their fight to move commuter flights from Dallas Love Field to the new Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Last week the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals agreed with a federal district court ruling that commuter flights should be allowed at Love Field as long as the city keeps the airport open to air traffic.

City Atty. Alex Bickley said the council also agreed to ask the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals to rehear the case.

The city of Dallas began its legal battle when Southwest Airlines refused to move out of Love Field. The small airline won permission from U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr. to stay there.

Two other airlines have joined Southwest at Love Field in operating Texas commuter trips since Judge Taylor's initial ruling.

The eight council members who favored a further appeal agreed that their action was based on a fear of increased property taxes should enough

Rule Youth Guilty Of Sniper Slaying

HOUSTON (AP) — A jury which Monday quickly found a Corpus Christi youth guilty of the sniper slaying of a police officer will set his punishment today.

And the prosecutor said he will ask for a 99-year sentence for Richard Ridolph, 19.

Ridolph, who is black, was convicted by an all-white jury of seven women and five men who debated just 14 minutes before returning a verdict of guilty of murder with malice.

The youth, who was 16 when the slaying occurred, was accused in the rifle death of a Corpus Christi policeman, John W. Sartin, 22.

Sartin was shot to death Aug. 19, 1971, as he walked out the rear door of the Corpus Christi police station.

The prosecution had introduced a statement made by Ridolph the day after the slaying. In the statement, Ridolph said he had been drinking wine on the night of the shooting and had fired at the police station. He said he had not seen the officer when he shot and was not shooting at anyone.

The case had been tried once in Corpus Christi with Ridolph found guilty and given a 50-year sentence. However it was overturned on appeal by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals. The appeals court said police had concealed from the jurors the fact that some of the lights at the rear of the station were turned off on the night of the slaying.

Defense lawyer Doug Tinker did not put on any evidence in the trial.

The state had rested its case Friday and when court opened Monday Tinker also rested without calling a single witness. In the previous trial, he had put on testimony.

Tinker in final arguments said his client was innocent of the murder charges but was guilty of negligent homicide. He said Ridolph was shooting at the police station but did not intend to hurt anyone.

Dist. Atty. William Mobley of Neuces County who prosecuted the case said: "I'm just delighted with the verdict and the swiftness with which the jury reached the verdict."

"I expected a guilty verdict for murder with malice," he said.

Fuel diversification is important to you and your family.

But what is it?

Fuel diversification is the key to our being able to supply the electricity you'll need in the years ahead.

It means using several kinds of fuel to generate electricity. Making the best use out of the fuels available to us. And reducing our dependence on fuels in short supply.

At Texas Electric, natural gas is our major fuel, with oil used on a standby basis. We foresaw shortages of these fuels and several years ago developed long-range plans to diversify to lignite coal and nuclear fuels.

We now have one lignite plant in operation and two others under construction. A nuclear-fueled plant is planned for operation by 1980.

One advantage of using lignite and nuclear fuels is that neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity. A disadvantage is that it costs considerably more to build plants that use these fuels than gas-fired plants.

Even though it will cost more to provide electricity in the future, the cost will be less with lignite and nuclear fuels than with the alternatives available to us.

We're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

Belinda Dianne Peden of Midland and Duane Stephen Rutland, Ovalo, were married Saturday evening in the Concho Baptist Church in Coleman. The Rev. Paul Smith was the officiant.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Peden, Midland, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rutland, Ovalo.

The ceremony was read beneath an arch of ivy accented with pink and burgundy flowers which were also used in decorating the candelabra.

Miss Ann Smith was organist and vocalist.

The bride's gown of white crepe over taffeta was fastened with ruffled V-neckline and Camelot sleeves. The A-line skirt formed a cathedral train and Venise lace trimmed the sleeves, waistline and front of the dress. Her chapel-length veil fell from a matching lace mantilla.

Her bridal bouquet was of pink carnations and ivy.

Mrs. Tony Golson,

Courtney, was her sister's matron of honor, and Mrs. Garry Steel, Fredericks, Okla., and Miss Judy Corder, Silver Valley, were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of burgundy ribbed knit, the V-neckline and waistlines accented with ruffles. Their burgundy picture hats were trimmed with pink ribbon. Each attendant carried a nosegay of pink carnations tied with burgundy ribbons.

Mike Mayfield, Abilene, was best man. Groomsmen were Tony Golson, brother-in-law of the bride, Courtney; and H. T. Gleason, Ovalo. Fishes were Mike Wells; cousin of the bride, Bowie; and Larry Runyan, Lubbock.

The couple is on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M. They will live on R. 1, Ovalo, where Rutland is engaged in ranching.

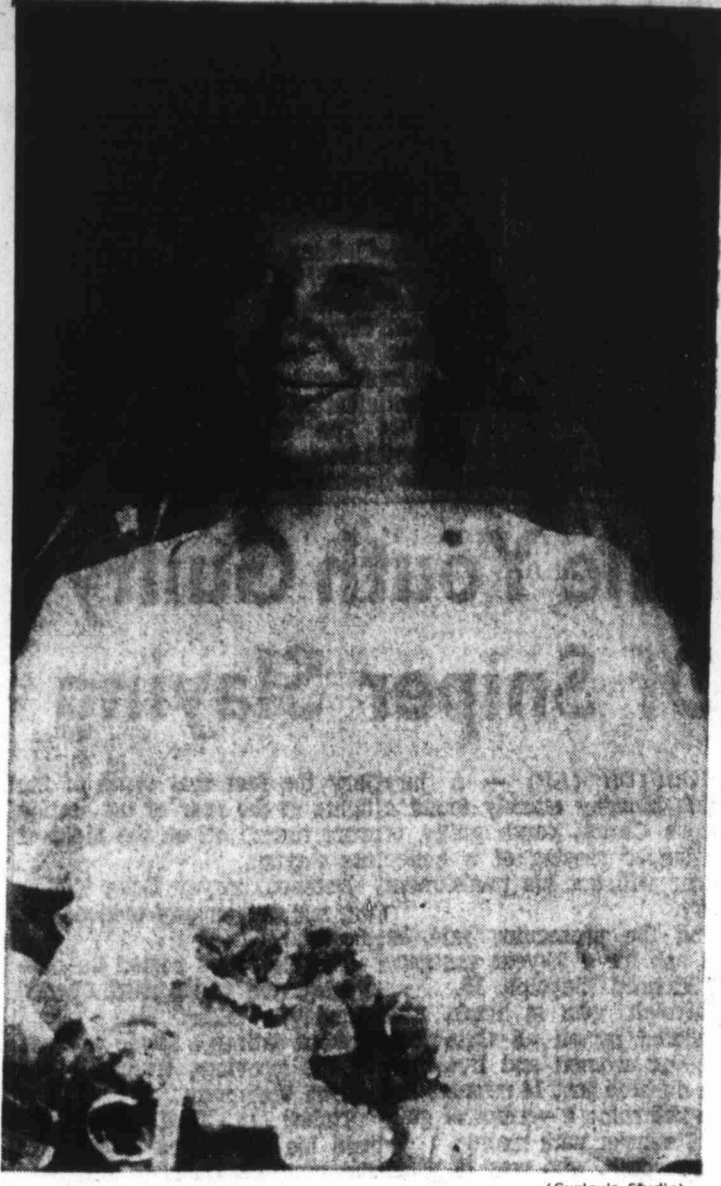

The bride, who was previously employed by Swartz Junior Shop in Big Spring, attended school in Novice and Stanton.

The bridegroom graduated from Jim Ned High School, Tuscola, and attended Tarleton State University at Stephenville.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall where the refreshment table was covered with a floor-length satin cloth with accent of pink and burgundy bells. The centerpiece was of pink carnations.

Miss Beckv Rutland and Mrs. Gary Peden served at the bridegroom's table, and Mrs. Danny Thornton and Mrs. Larry Runyan presided at the bride's table.

Out-of-town relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wells, Mrs. Dorothy Liggett and Mrs. Willard Strawbridge, all of Bowie; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Peden and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thornton, all of Tuscola; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Inge, Brownwood; and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Mauldin, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Carlisle, Miss Ann Thomas and Miss Kelly Weaver, all of Big Spring.

MRS. JAMES VIRGIL KAYS

Couple United In Marriage

A garden wedding was held Friday evening for Miss Judy Ann Murphy and James Virgil Kays of Hobbs, N.M., at the home of the bride's mother, 2005 Runnels.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Billy Joe Murphy and the late Mr. Murphy, and Mr. and Mrs. James Franklin Kays of Hobbs.

The Rev. William H. Cullen, associate pastor of Highland Baptist Church in Hobbs, conducted the ceremony as the wedding party stood beneath an archway of greenery.

The bride was given in marriage by J. T. Williams. She wore a gown fashioned in bridal satin with lace bodice styled with scooped neckline and sheer sleeves cuffed with lace.

The shoulder-length veil was held by a band of lace flowers. Her bouquet was of white and red carnations tied with red streamers.

Mrs. Alan Murphy, sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor and wore a long dress with empire waist in red and white checked knit accented with a red midriff, collar and sash. She carried a nosegay of peppermint carnations. Her headpiece was a red and white checked bow with white net.

Alan Murphy, the bride's brother, was best man.

Love Her Now

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 16-year-old granddaughter is pregnant. The boy is a high school kid with no way of supporting himself, let alone a wife and child, so marriage is out of the question. His folks have thrown him out and a neighbor has taken him in.

My son and daughter-in-law are going to see their daughter through this, and they're keeping the baby.

My problem: How should a 75-year-old grandmother act? Should I act like nothing out of the ordinary has happened, and accept the baby as a legitimate great-grandchild? Or should I show my contempt and disgust and turn away? I guess I was born 75 years too soon because I don't seem able to accept this situation.

So far I've managed to keep my mouth shut, but I'll have to take a stand soon. I've always had a good relationship with my son and his wife and don't want to spoil it now.

Please help me set my thinking straight.

GRANDMA
DEAR GRANDMA: If your family ever needed your compassion and understanding, it's now! You can accept the new baby without condoning the unfortunate circumstances. The last thing your granddaughter needs now is a show of "contempt and disgust." (She's suffered enough.)

DEAR ABBY: I'll bet you've never run into a problem like mine: I am being married in a formal church wedding. My fiancé and I have known each other for two years, and the only name I've ever known him by is "Beaver." His parents have called him "Beaver" ever since they brought him home from the hospital, and everyone has called him "Beaver" ever since.

His real name is Steven, but hardly anyone knows it. When we say our marriage vows, it will seem so unnatural for me to say: "I, Mona, take thee Steven" because I've never in all my life called him Steven. But I'm afraid it would sound funny if I were to say: "I, Mona, take thee, Beaver!" So what do you advise?

MONA
DEAR MONA: Say: "I, Mona, take thee, Steven" Nicknames are a no-no in a traditional marriage ceremony.

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to brag but I would be very good-looking if it weren't for the bags under my eyes. I'm only 27, and I've had these miserable pouches since I was in high school, but they've gotten much more noticeable in the last few years.

I work in a large office and I'm constantly being accused of having been up all night or hung over because I always look so dissipated.

Abby, I get plenty of sleep and I am no big drinker. I'm too young for a face-lift. Can you help me?

BAGGY
DEAR BAGGY: My consultants advise me that the condition you describe is called "blepharochalasis." It's fairly common, and tends to run in families. (Some children have it.) It's not necessary to have a complete face-lift to get rid of the bags.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FRENCHIE": Please don't call all those escapees "love." Nothing plays a smaller part in Philander's than love. (Credit and Per Frenchman, La Rochefoucauld, with that.)

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope please.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills Calif. 90212.

MRS. JOE RAY CULPEPPER

Miss Pope Marries Joe Ray Culpepper

Miss Nancy Gayle Pope was married to Joe Ray Culpepper of Coahoma in a ceremony conducted by the Rev. Eldon Cook Saturday evening in the fellowship hall of East Fourth Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur R. Pope, Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Culpepper of Coahoma.

The bride's wedding gown was of lace over satin and featured a cummerbund-type waistline and a fully gathered floor-length skirt. Standup ruffles formed the neckline. The sleeves wereuffed to mid-arm and were then fitted to the wrist. Her veil of illusion fell to elbow-length and was held by a Dior bow. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The couple will reside in Coahoma. The new Mrs. Culpepper will be a senior in Big Spring High School in the fall and is presently employed at the Cinema Theatre in Big Spring.

Culpepper a graduate of Coahoma High School, is attending Howard College and is employed at Webb Air Force Base.

A reception was held at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Cook following the ceremony.

Out-of-town relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hudgins, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Culpepper, McCamey; and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Price, Odessa.

Rebekah Lodge Has Memorial

Mrs. J. R. Petty conducted a memorial program for all branches of Rebekah Lodge at the May 28 meeting at the lodge hall.

Mrs. Robert Wilson presided, and Mrs. T. A. Melton read a letter from the international president.

In the memorial program, Dwite Gilliland represented the Odd Fellows; Mrs. A. F. Hill, the Rebekahs; W. A. Majors, encampment; Lonnie Griffith, Canton; and Mrs. Lonnie Griffith, L.A.P.M.

Mrs. Earl Wilson read a memorial. Mrs. Melvin Newton was the soloist, and Mrs. Logan Grider was pianist. Prayer was by Mrs. W. A. Majors.

Mrs. Hill, ways and means chairman, gave $22.50 to Mrs. Robert Wilson project chairman, and Mrs. Joe Awtry, deputy, conducted a school of instruction.

The June refreshment committee is composed of Mrs. S. A. Wilson, Mrs. Minnie Unger, Mrs. Alva Porch, Mrs. Ora Martin and Mrs. Marvin Holland.

New Jersey Church Is Site Of Wedding

Miss Pamela Jean Harris became the bride of William Paul Jones Friday afternoon in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Arthur Hergenhan in Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Glen Rock, N.J.

Col. and Mrs. Whitcomb O. Jones, 5 Albrook, are parents of the bridegroom, and the bride is the daughter of Mrs. William Rex Harris, Midland Park, N.J.

The sanctuary was enhanced with arrangements of white gladioli flanked by candelabra. The vocal soloist, Mrs. Janet Weisger of Wyckoff, N.J., performed to organ accompaniment.

Escorted by her brother, Stephen L. Harris of Dallas, the bride was attired in a formal gown of bridal satin adorned with seed pearls at the neckline, waistline and cuffed sleeves. The skirt was complemented with a scalloped, cathedral-length train over which extended her veil of illusion which was held in place by a matching Camelot cap. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Janet Stuberbach, Wyckoff, N.J. was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Julieanne Kirk, Dallas; Mrs. Martin Van Searcy, Big Spring, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Pamela Thornton, Waco; and Miss Kathleen Riskin, Woodstock, Ill. Their green and white checked organza gowns were styled with square neckline, fitted waistline and full skirt. Each carried a wicker basket filled with spring flowers.

Col. Jones served as best man for his son, and groomsmen were Scott W. Harris, Midland Park, N.J., brother of the bride; Bart Bratcher, Clute; Benjamin Jones, Austin; and Lt. Martin Van Searcy, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

DINNER DANCE
Prior to leaving on a trip to South Padre Island and

MRS. WILLIAM PAUL JONES

Mexico, the couple was honored at a dinner dance at Appieridge Country Club, which was attended by 100 friends of the families. Upon returning, the couple will reside at 2203 Devonshire Lane, Houston.

The bride, a graduate of Ramapo High School, Franklin Lakes, N.J., received a BA degree from Baylor University this year in sociology and social work. She will be attending the University of Houston this fall for a master's degree in social work.

Jones graduated from Azle High School, Ft. Worth and Baylor University, receiving his physical therapy certification from Southwestern Medical School, Dallas. He is presently employed with Houston Physical Therapy Services.

Out of town relatives attending the wedding were Mrs. Mary Wright, grandmother of the bridegroom; and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wright, Northport, N.Y.

VFW Auxiliary Installs Officers For Next Term

Officers and key chairmen for the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary were installed Thursday evening by Mr. G. C. Broughton.

Appointive officers are Louis Horton, secretary; Ida Hughes, patriotic instructor; Josephine Garcia, Isa McKinney, Elizabeth Augiano and Sarah Watkins, color bearers; Melicia Santellan, historian; Lucille Jacobs, banner bearer; and Irene Johnson, flag bearer.

The chairman and their committee were Mrs. Smith hospital; Louis Horton card; Mrs. Broughton, telephone; Mrs. Petty, poppy; and Mrs. Barnett, honor roll.

It was announced that auxiliary members will serve cake to patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Also, Buddy Poppy containers will be placed at various locations about the city.

Mrs. Nannie R. Garrett was a guest.

The next meeting will be June 24.

To Wed In San Angelo

Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Jones of Abilene, formerly of San Angelo, announce the engagement of their daughter, Debra Louise, to Jerry Lynn Knous, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Knous of Mt. Pleasant, formerly of Big Spring.

The bridegroom, a Big Spring High School graduate, attended Angelo State University and is employed by Serv-U Co., a trucking firm in Odessa. Miss Jones graduated from Abilene Cooper High School and is a junior at ASU. The wedding will be held Aug. 24, at First Christian Church, San Angelo.

Professional Pharmacy Has Ideas For Father's Day Gift

Professional Pharmacy is a good place to go to select a very special item for father.

Check out their cosmetic department and choose for him Pub or Royale Pub cologne or aftershave. Or you may have a man who prefers the elusive quality of Citrus Musk.

You may think — "That's a ridiculous Father's Day gift." But think again. Father will very seldom select good cologne and after shave for himself, but he loves it and uses it every day.

Professional Pharmacy at 1000 Main offers you complete pharmaceutical service with Jimmy Anderson and Paul Keefe ready to serve you.

Their store also features a fulltime cosmetician and the very latest in cosmetic needs. If you are dissatisfied with your present cosmetics, drop by and try their selection of Revlon, Max Factor, and Charlie Cologne. You'll be glad you did.

Convenience, good service, a relaxed atmosphere and friendly personnel highlight the Professional Pharmacy.

Call 267-2546 for your pharmacy needs or drop by their business and look around. Father's Day or anytime, they have topnotch gift selections and a complete pharmaceutical service at all times.

A Sticky Issue

Maritime nations will meet June 20 in Caracas, Venezuela, in search of a solution to the dispute between developing nations favoring a 200-mile water limit and the big powers opposing it. Time may be running out on this prolonged and vexatious argument.

In advance of the meeting, Mexico has announced that if agreement is not reached at Caracas it will declare unilaterally a 200-mile limit. Mexico now claims only a 12-mile limit, as the United States does.

The stakes are high. The issue involves not just the assertion of sovereignty over a 200-mile seaward boundary. The nations of South and Central America are divided over whether the 200-mile limit should entail sovereignty over just fisheries resources, or whether it should be a territorial limit covering air and sea rights. Oil and gas resources and potentially rich harvests of minerals on the ocean floor are involved.

There is only one thing upon which all the nations seem to be in agreement: There is no disposition to question the right of "innocent passage" to ships. But a 200-mile limit might make innocent passage a little more difficult because of clearance permits.

The United States, in common with most developed countries, favors a 12-mile limit. Beyond that, there has been some vague talk about internationalizing waters beyond the 12-mile limit, holding them in trust and developing them for the benefit of all countries, not just maritime nations.

But the patience of many underdeveloped nations is wearing thin. The issue has been discussed at many meetings, but there has been no resolution of the problem. The Caracas meeting may be the last chance for agreement. We, in common with other powerful nations, should lead the way to an acceptable accommodation of this matter.

Mexico's People Problem

Mexico, departing from past policy, is embarking on a government-sponsored campaign to bring its population increase under control. Certainly such a policy is necessary; this country, through the United Nations if possible, should offer any help it can.

Mexico has doubled in population in the past 20 years; the rate of growth could mean almost tripling its present population by the year 2000. As a result, the Mexican government has not been able to deal adequately with the country's vast problems of illiteracy and poverty.

It's not for want of trying: few nations put more money into building schools, and the nation's social programs receive the lion's share of its national budget. But despite the effort, the result is no net gain; population growth outstrips progress.

Schools can't be built fast enough, nor social programs expanded quickly enough, to keep pace.

The new program will utilize government clinics and hospitals, which will offer free all family planning methods except sterilization. Radio, television and posters will be used to encourage participation and spread the word about services offered. There will be no coercion, but neither will there any longer be any doubt that the government's policy is in the direction of population control instead of growth.

Mexico cannot achieve its economic potential or improved living standards for all its people until its population growth is brought under control. The same is true of most Central and South American countries. As a proximate neighbor we are concerned, too.

'It Was Worth It'

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

I've used this space a time or two before to share with you my friend, Gordon Baxter of Beaumont, a gentleman who never bores me — or anyone else.

Lots of stories come out of the building of his dream camp in East Texas. Here's how he tells it:

"THE BOTTOM HALF of the camp was finished and I was shopping for ceiling beams when I found J. R. Samford taking down that old hotel on Pearl Street. Big, fine, golden long leaf pine 2 by 16's that were 24 feet long leaned against the brick shell of the building where they used to support the floor. Ah-h, if only they could talk, what things they must have heard! But my problem now was to drag them down from where they stood and load them onto my trailer. How heavy is a timber that big?"

"By straining, I could lift up the end of one. Why not just ease out with it and let the other end slide down the wall? I started, and as the timber came down it began to push me, faster and faster, across the rubble and broken brick and boards. Taking giant steps now, the board roaring down the wall behind me, I was just a long leaf rider! Then just before it ran me down, Ker-Whomp! It fell in a great cloud of white brick dust. For a stunned instant, I thought it was all over, then the shock-wave ran out to the end I was still holding and flicked me off into the air like a bug on a fly rod. Flung me like a rag doll; raised a strawberry big as a dinner plate.

Then Little Joe came around the corner of the building to help me load, and he grabbed one up just like I had. And I thought, "Hell, why should I tell him?" He started the monster sliding down the brick wall, and then off he went, too, shooting across the brick yard. Only he didn't turn loose when the shock wave hit him and it hammered him into the dust five times, never in the same place twice. Oh, I was laughing. And he got up and found his hard hat and glared at me and said "Hit didn't hurt none."

"WE LOADED ABOUT 30 of those monsters on my 8-foot trailer, then it was his turn to laugh. The load overhang had jacked up both rear wheels of the VW bus and I couldn't go anywhere. So we reloaded, sticking them through the open back all the way up to the driver's seat. That balanced the load, but now my bus and trailer was a solid block of timber with no hinge in the middle, and the tail end nails were striking sparks up off the pavement. I told Little Joe I thought I could make it. He said he would be listening for sirens.

"Everytime I tried to bend that thing around a corner there came these awful screeching and ripping and popping sounds from inside the bus. It was getting wedged apart from the inside like a stuffed chicken. It was a second-gear, 20 mph trip to the woods. The engine blew the next day. But it was worth it.

The cabin now has an exposed cathedral beam ceiling and we made the central ridge beam by bolting a bunch of these things together.

"It took all of Bob Hayes family and mine to raise up the ridge beam, and then we all signed it. Them that was bleeding signed it in blood."

Talks And Documents

William F. Buckley Jr.

We should, I think, attempt to put into perspective the quarrel now raging the resolution of which could itself decide whether Mr. Nixon is going to be thrown out of office.

While I AM NOT a lawyer, I take modestly the occasion to rejoice in this, because really the issues involved are not those that ought to be adjudicated only by lawyers. Lawyers are there, after all, to interpret the codified sentiments of non-lawyers, and sometimes they tend to run away with their responsibilities to the point of telling us non-lawyers not so much what it is that the law says, as what it is that they think the law ought to say.

On the question whether Mr. Nixon should release the supplementary tapes there is a historical background relating to the boundaries of executive privilege. The Nixon people have been saying that executive privilege takes precedence over the right of Congress, and of the special prosecutor, to access to Presidential tapes. The anti-Nixon people — I mean not only those who are anti-Nixon, but who take a different position from his on the legal question at issue — have very clearly won the historical argument. That is to say, they have come up with one after another situation in which past Presidents conceded that the right of Congress to bring together the case against the President superseded the confidentiality of Presidential documents.

WHAT NONE OF THE arguments has stressed — so far as one can tell — is the difference between conversation and documents. The lawyers use what they call the "best evidence" rule. It is required that the President turn over to the prosecution the "best evidence" available against him. The unfurrowed point surely is the extraneous importance of certain people's conversation. If, the courts having authorized it, a district attorney bugs the telephone of a Mafia czar in search of evidence that he is the head of a dope ring or whatever, the underworld's mode of thought, habit of speech, his use of the vernacular, his way of canvassing alternatives, are of no general interest save possibly to sociologists interested in kinky human habits.

WHERE A PRESIDENT of the United States is concerned, there is a terrible imbalance between that which is revealed in the taped conversation, and that which is sought out. I have found much more discussion given over, in the assessment of the tapes revealed by Mr. Nixon, to how he speaks and how he can't moral and ethical issues and what is the "feel" of Presidential conversation, than to the raw question: what did he know about Watergate, and when did he know it?

When a conversation is reduced to a document, it has been transmitted into something substantially different from what it once was. Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith refuses to preserve even the first draft of his books, a solicitude for posterity one might hope he would extend into the final draft of his books. But he makes the point that there is such a great difference between first drafts and completed drafts that he would not endure anyone's looking over his shoulder to trace his analytical and stylistic progress.

HOW MUCH MORE this would extend into conversations. We are all ready to concede that Presidents Washington and Jefferson and Jackson agreed that any document pertaining to any question of impeachment can be subpoenaed by Congress. I do not see it anywhere convincingly shown that the attitude of these gentlemen would have extended to the question of the tape recordings of their private conversations with members of their staff, and on the difference between the two my own feeling is that a great deal should hang.

Is it wrong to say that we do not desire above all other questions to know whether Mr. Nixon knew about the cover-up? What is the meaning of due process, if the answer to that question is yes, it is wrong? Even if it were held that Mr. Nixon would not now be acting otherwise if he were in fact guilty, is it stretching a point to concede that guilty or innocent he has a point about the confidentiality of the tapes that non-lawyers can and should thoroughly sympathize with?

Inflation Factors Are Many

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The anchovy, a major source of protein meal for livestock feed, disappeared from the waters off Peru. It forced cattle raisers to depend more on soybeans which rose in price, forcing up beef prices.

Belatedly recognizing their enormous marketing power, the nations of the Mideast arbitrarily raised their oil prices, thus driving up the prices of countless products whose manufacture depends on energy.

Crop failures developed in the Soviet Union, Australia, China and Southeast Asia, and drought plagued huge portions of Africa. Enormous demands for U.S. grains resulted and prices for food rose everywhere.

The world's underprivileged nations sought to raise their living standards by introducing greater variety and more protein into their diets. This added to demands on available food supplies. In response, prices rose.

These factors are part of the incredibly complex inflation problem that every American must deal with today. It's not only individual citizens who are appalled by the immensity of the problem; governments are too.

What can Washington do about anchovies that change their living habits, perhaps in response to little understood changes in ocean currents? Can it prevent drought or excessive rain? Or keep the underprivileged deprived?

The futility of the inflation battle is found in the statistics gathered by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, made up of more than 20 of the world's leading trading nations.

GOP In California

Robert Novak

LOS ANGELES — An intense backstage dispute over California Republican fund-raising points up an unpleasant fact of life for Gov. Ronald Reagan of California: after today's primary election, his last hurrah attempt for the presidency will have a shaky political home base.

David Packard, the millionaire industrialist from San Francisco and former Deputy Secretary of Defense, privately complains that Reagan's fund-raising is undercutting the Republican campaign for governor by state Comptroller Houston I. Flournoy. That means Packard, an increasingly important Republican figure here, is by no means solidly in the Reagan-for-President group. Nor is Flournoy, a moderate liberal who will point up ideological differences with Reagan conservatism if he wins today's primary.

Thus, the political and ideological legacy of Reagan's two terms as governor is threadbare. Not only will the broad-based substance and tone of the Flournoy-led state Republican ticket be to Reagan's left, but the emerging new political state Republican power structure is not locked into his 1976 presidential ambitions.

Packard has been atop that new power structure since returning from the Pentagon to the Hewlett-Packard Co., in 1972 and becoming deeply involved in Republican politics for the first time. Reagan insiders have expected Packard's towering reputation, sage counsel and luxurious bankroll in their 1976 presidential campaign. Indeed, presidential politics was involved when Packard convinced Republican money men to back Flournoy for governor against erratic L. Gov. Ed Reinecke, darling of the right-wing precinct workers and now under federal indictment for perjury. A republican governor would help Reagan's presidential campaign, and independent, scandal-proof Flournoy was the best bet.

Thus, Packard has become committed to Flournoy in his own right, as witness his reaction when Reagan-controlled Republican state committee scheduled a $250-a-plate dinner for June 26. The purpose was to reassert Reagan's political authority and enrich his own political war chest with the usual 25 per cent off the top. Packard was bitter because, with Republican money so scarce in post-Watergate California, Reagan was siphoning money from the campaign for governor. So if Packard is uncommitted, that is one less reason for Flournoy as governor to back Reagan, contrary to rumors, Flournoy made no commitment about the 1976 presidential nomination in return for getting his fat cats.

To win the Republican primary, Flournoy must point up past disagreements with Reagan over such matters as mental health and educational policy to woo independent and Democratic voters and organized labor support.

After June 4, his advisors confide, Flournoy must point up past disagreements with Reagan over such matters as mental health and educational policy to woo independent and Democratic voters and organized labor support.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

If God is loving, good and omnipotent, how was it that His enemy Satan came into power?

J.C.

There are some clues in the Scripture as to the origin of Satan, and the reason for his ejection from heaven.

One of them is Isaiah 14, where Satan is called Lucifer, and these words appear: "How you are fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! How you are cut down to yourself... I will climb to the highest heavens, and be like the Most High." It's evident then that pride was one cause of Lucifer's fall.

Your question might also be asked about the forces of evil which Satan has unleashed in the world. Why doesn't God stop them? Some day He will, but the answer is simply that now His plan calls for man's self-determination. The door of salvation was open at the expense of the death of God's Son, and now humanity can make its choice. If they refuse the Christ of Calvary, they will fall even as Satan did.

God's omnipotence would have bordered on the arbitrary if it obliged His creation to honor and serve Him. To be sure, where choice is given there is always the chance for disobedience, but when it happens, God is not to blame.

A Devotion For Today..

"Every day the Lord added to their number those who were finding salvation." (Acts 2:47)

PRAYER: Father, send Your love through me. Do it in such a way that those around me will be interested in You, not be sidetracked by the bell in our church steeple. Amen.

Magazine For Picky Bunch

NEW YORK (AP) — Guitarists tend to be a picky lot, but a magazine specifically written for them has been trying of late to strum up some business with a unique radio approach.

Ernest Beyl, a spokesman for "Guitar Player Magazine," says the approach consists of 13 half-hour taped programs that illustrate differing guitar styles as played by the greats of the instrument.

ALAS, THIS spectrum forum isn't heard on commercial radio. Beyl says it's only been heard on about 50 college campus radio stations and wasn't really intended as a commercial radio program.

In fact, he says the stations got the programs free simply by asking for them.

He said the idea was to interest college-area guitarists in subscribing to the magazine by offering them a taste of what the professionals are doing, accompanied by a soft-sell pitch for GPM.

"So we started hunting for suitable colleges that had radio stations with a loose enough format to accommodate something like that," he said, adding that the shows began airing about six months ago.

BEYL, WHOSE publication is based in Los Gatos, Calif., 50 miles south of San Francisco, said the musical commentator on the series is Jim Crockett, editor of the seven-year-old magazine.

Beyl said the programs feature selections from albums by such varied virtuosos as Jose Feliciano, the late Charlie Christian, Eric Clapton, T-Bone Walker and classicist Christopher Parkening.

In addition, he said each show has a five-minute interview on the state of the art with well-known guitarists; people like Les Paul, jazzman Barney Kessel and bluesman Dock Watson.

NONE OF THE interviewees plug new albums or current engagements at nearby bistros "because that would date the shows and we want them to be timeless, so to speak," Beyl says.

He said the entire package cost about $3,500 to put together, including tape duplication and mailing costs. But none of the guitarists interviewed asked for or received any fees.

About Cat-Scratch Fever

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Recently I heard that if a pregnant woman gets scratched by a cat she could bear a defective child. I suspect I am pregnant, and since I have been scratched twice since my last period I am worried sick. — Mrs. A. C.

I think you or whoever told you about it is confusing cat scratch fever with toxoplasmosis.

Cat scratch fever is caused by an organism that produces skin infection and lymph gland swelling, and it can occur from a scratch by a healthy kitten of a cat.

While it's a nuisance, and in any event not very common, it isn't something for you to worry about.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send your booklet, "Controlling Acre, Blackheads and Pimples," for which I enclose 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Can you advise me how to get tetracycline? — E. J.

Tetracycline, which is proving helpful in a good many cases of acne, is a drug that requires a doctor's prescription. It is discussed in my booklet.

While I don't urge banning cats from a household, I do most distinctly urge that pregnant women, or women who suspect they are pregnant, avoid handling a cat's litter box. If unavoidable, then wash very thoroughly.

In cases of doubt, skin and blood tests will determine whether you have toxoplasmosis.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

For lack of anything better to write about, I suppose I'll relay a baseball discussion with Big Spring Steer baseball coach Larry Horton, who likewise had nothing better to do when he stopped in the Herald office recently.

Horton is amazed by this baseball phenomenon called Rod Carew of the Minnesota Twins, who is hovering around the .410 hitting mark. But he says it won't last. The last time anyone batted .400 was in 1941 when Ted Williams turned the trick, and Horton, along with many other baseball types, says those days are gone. No more .400 hitters for the big leagues.

The coach cited five reasons why the pitchers are constantly improving on the hitters: (1) More night games and the batters say it's much harder to hit at night than in the daylight; (2) Better relief pitching; (3) Defenses are much improved; (4) Gloves are now huge tools, a big difference from the clumsy pieces of leather fields once draped over their hands, and (5) On most teams, pitchers are generally the best athletes.

"They've already lowered the mound and shortened the strike zones because the pitchers were getting too far ahead," Horton said. "Pretty soon they'll probably have to make some more changes, like moving the mound back or something." Horton said Carew probably will end up hitting around .360 this season, which isn't all that bad.

Jim Jensen, relieved of his duties as head basketball coach at Stanton this year, has joined the staff at Class AA Kenedale High School near Fort Worth. Jensen led the Buffaloes to the Dist. 7-AA state crown last season, but that was just one minor accomplishment in his shining coaching career.

His lifetime record is 234-67, and that includes seven district championships. At Stanton he was 45-14. But basketball wasn't his only success. Jensen also coached Rumboldt Co. High, Nevada, to a state track championship and he was line coach for two state championship football teams. As a JV football coach, his record was 103-29.

He was even more successful as an athlete. Jim played football, basketball and baseball at Texas Lutheran, and was a three-time Golden Gloves champion in high school at La Porte before turning professional. His pro record was 61-2. He was also the state's heavyweight amateur wrestling champion and was ranked fifth nationally while in college.

Jensen was a three-time all-American pitcher in leading the Austin ABCO team to four straight NAAA championships, and in 1957 he was named the outstanding amateur baseball player of the year. He played three years of professional baseball before deciding to enter coaching.

With credentials like that, you can count on hearing more about Jensen, in one sport or another.

Winner of the ninth race last Friday at Ruidoso Downs, N.M. was Turf's Hope, owned by former Big Springer Pepper Martin.

Martin, a high school sports standout who later was a professional baseball player, manager and owner, is currently living near San Antonio and raises race horses there. He's also involved in the manufacturing of a plastic bowling ball marketed nationwide. He's the son of Mrs. Ruby Martin of Big Spring.

Texas Ranger infielder Lenny Randle, running out of the baseline and knocking over Indian pitcher Mill Wilcox, got the action started.

"The first thing on our mind is to win the game," Brohamer said. "With Buddy Bell and John Ellis out right now really isn't a good time to get in a fight."

Bell is 6-foot-2, 185 pounds and Ellis weighs in at 215. Brohamer, who weighs only 165 pounds, said he has cooled down a lot since the incident.

"I won't be looking for a fight, but if they come high into second, I'll just drop down," Brohamer added.

"If we beat them three straight games, the whole problem will be solved," he added.

Indians Manager Ken Aspromonte said he's not even thinking about the chances of a fight.

"When those things happen they're spontaneous and not planned," Aspromonte said. "I don't like to see them, because somebody might get hurt."

Aspromonte has scheduled Fritz Peterson, 3-3, Bob Johnson, 2-2, and Jim Perry, 4-4, for the three game series.

Ranger Manager Billy Martin said he will send Jackie Brown, 2-2, Ferguson Jenkins, 7-5, and Jim Bibby, 7-7, to the mound.

Borg Defeats Nastase For Rome Honors

ROME (AP) — Winning titles at the Rome tennis open turned out to be child's play. Or at least the work of teen-agers.

Chris Evert, 19, won the women's crown for her first major international triumph and Bjorn Borg, 17-year-old Swedish star, breezed past Ilie Nastase to take the men's title.

Borg was the youngest player ever to win a major tournament.

Miss Evert, from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Borg have both won bigger prize money than in Rome—$16,000 for Borg and $5,000 for Miss Evert—but their performances here were cornerstones in their careers.

Miss Evert beat another teenage star, Martina Navratilova of Czechoslovakia, 6-3, 6-3 in the women's final. Miss Evert was a finalist in Wimbledon Paris and Rome last year and a semifinalist for three years running at Forest Hills.

She was a finalist in the Australian Open this year.

Miss Evert teamed with Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union to win the women's doubles title with Heiga Masthof and Heide Orth of West Germany defaulted because of injury.

Borg beat the top-seeded Nastase, considered one of the best players in the world, in straight sets 6-3, 6-4, 6-2 in Monday's final.

It took Borg just an hour and a half to upset the Romanian, who won here in 1970 and last year.

Raul Ramirez of Mexico and Brian Gottfried of Fort Lauderdale won the men's doubles defeating Nastase and Juan Gisbert of Spain 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

The tournament was marred by two controversies. Jimmy Connors of Belleville, Ill., who shares the No. 1 ranking in the United States, was banned from the tournament because he had played for World Team Tennis in the United States.

Others who qualified at Charlotte included former Open champs Ken Venturi and Gene Littler, both with 74-71-145; former PGA titleholders Bobby Nichols, 69-69-133, and Lionel Hebert, 70-70-140; and former Masters champs Charles Coody, 74-70-144. Chi Chi Qualifies, Has Dream Of Helping Kids

By The Associated Press

After 19 years on the pro golf tour and $620,000 in prizes, Chi Chi Rodriguez still is looking forward to this year's U.S. Open.

It isn't that he needs the money.

"I want to do more than serve my own ego," the veteran Rodriguez said after taking one of the 120 qualifying spots being contested by 600 golfers trying to make the prestigious event, to be played at the Winged Foot Golf Club in Mamaroneck N. Y. June 13-16.

"I'd like to adopt five or six Puerto Rican kids, give them golf lessons and teach them how not to be poor," Rodriguez said. "If they grew up to be good citizens, that would be worth more to me than winning the Masters."

Rodriguez Monday shot rounds of 69 and 67 at Charlotte, N.C., to go six-under-par at 156 to lead qualifiers in his region on the first day of qualifying play.

Not far behind was 62-year-old Sammy Snead, who continued to pursue the only major tournament title that has evaded him.

He carded two rounds of 70 to become one of 45 golfers—most of them touring pros—who qualified at Charlotte.

Thirty golfers in the field of 150 are exempt, including Johnny Miller—the defending champion who wasn't even born when Snead won his first pro tournament—and Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino and Gary Player.

Oklahoma Christian Signs HC's Beall

Bobby Beall, the guard who made Howard College's fast break offense hum the past season, has signed a scholarship agreement with Oklahoma Christian University of Oklahoma City.

OCU coach Bill Villines, head man at Abilene Cooper during the 1960's, made the announcement. At the Oklahoma school, Beall would be involved in a shuffle-type offense he became familiar with during his high school career at Sands.

Oklahoma Christian will compete in the Texoma conference next year, where Beall will run up against at least one Hawk teammate. Leroy Lumy signed with Texas Wesleyan at the Texoma league after closing out his career this season.

Beall is the fourth Hawk to sign, as All-American Taylor Williams inked with Mississippi State and Thomas Bledsoe chose TCU.

Beall led the Hawks in assists last season with 187, and it was his ball-handling that dominated the team's quick-hitting season. The 6-0 guard played in every game, averaging eight points an outing.

T-Birds Surprise Rockets In International Bout, 3-2

The T-Birds have thoroughly enjoyed this year's tight International Little League race, so they made it even tighter Monday by knocking off the Rockets for the second time, 3-2 in eight innings.

The win pulled the T-Birds to within a half-game of the Rockets, who lead the league with a 9-2 mark. The T-Birds are 8-2.

Chip Koozer, who pitched the first six innings for the winners, doubled to lead off the eighth, advanced to third and scored on an overthrow at the plate. Ron Hoggard relieved Koozer and got the win, and the pair combined for nine strike-outs.

Chris Smith, who hurled the last three innings for the Rockets and suffered his first loss, led his team's five-hit effort with a triple and a single and Mark Yarbrough added a pair of singles. Ron Howda went the first five innings for the Rockets. Together the pitchers fanned 13 T-Birds.

In the Texas League Monday, the Cardinals thumped the Red Sox 5-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Jesse Woodruff.

Martin Caseaneda slapped a pair of hits as the Cards upped their TL mark to 4-8, including a two-run single.

Carl Trevino had a pair of singles for the Sox, while Markabence, a spokesman said,

Met Fandom Greet's Rose

By The Associated Press

While public enemy Pete Rose was under heavy surveillance in New York Monday night, Larry Bowa had Carl Morton all staked out in Philadelphia.

Rose returned to the scene of the crime—i.e., his playoff scrap with New York's Bud Harrelson last season—for the first time and was serenaded with a chorus of boos during the Cincinnati Reds' 5-2 triumph over the Mets.

Meanwhile in the only other National League game, Bowa learned something while watching Atlanta pitcher Morton and turned his knowledge into a stolen base that set up the tie-breaking run in the Philadelphia Phillies' 5-2 victory over the Braves.

In the only American League game, the Minnesota Twins edged the Boston Red Sox 5-4 in 12 innings and the Baltimore Orioles nipped the Kansas City Royals 4-3.

The Mets had extra security guards on hand at Shea Stadium and they didn't sell any seats in the left field stands, so left fielder Rose had a quiet evening except for the boos and a first-inning, first-pitch single off Jon Matlack.

"Oh, I heard a few remarks," Rose said. "You know, the stuff like 'Ya bum ya. But I hear the same stuff around the rest of the league."

"Those were good fans out there tonight. I didn't hear one bad thing out there and not a single thing was thrown. They were noisy but that's their privilege."

Center fielder Foster doubled and singled, driving in one run and scoring another, and made a run-saving throw from center field to support Clay Kirby's seven-hit pitching.

Twins 5, Red Sox 4
Larry Hise singled home the winning run with the bases loaded in the 12th inning and Bill Hands contributed a brilliant relief stint to notch his 100th major league victory.

Orioles 4, Royals 3
Grant Jackson, Baltimore's third pitcher of the seventh inning, choked off a Kansas City rally and preserved Baltimore's victory.

It may give Denver a whole new roster.

Scheer and Brown were named to their new positions with Denver Monday.

Scheer, coming from the Carolina Cougars, brings with him negotiation rights to two of the nation's top collegiate players, John Shumate of Notre Dame, a junior who may turn professional next year, and Bobby Jones of North Carolina, a No. 1 draft choice of the Cougars.

This augments an already impressive list of Denver draftees, including All-Americans Marvin Barnes of Providence and Len Elmore of Maryland, national scoring leader Larry Fogle of Canisius, 1973 scoring king James "Fly" Williams of Austin Peay, Kevin Stacom of Providence, Mike Sejourner of Utah, Eric Money and Coniel Norman of Arizona and Bernard Hardin of New Mexico.

BEARKATS IN SEMIS

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Undefeated Sam Houston State of Texas and LaVerne of California clash tonight in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics baseball tournament semifinals.

Lewis of Illinois and Point Park of Pennsylvania tangle in the night's curtain raiser in a loser's bracket contest.

Sam Houston, behind the fine pitching of Rick Matula, advanced Monday night by downing Lewis 6-1.

LaVerne used Wayne Redford's four-hits and the hurling of Dan Quisenberry for an 8-2 triumph over Wisconsin Oshkosh.

HC Net Team In Action Today

OCALA, Fla. — Howard College's tennis team begins play today in the annual National Junior College Athletic Association's national net meet.

The group almost didn't get to make the trip last week when school officials said there wasn't enough money to send them. The HC board of trustees overruled the original decision Thursday, however, and voted to supply funds for the trip.

Tennis coach Will Roan is accompanying the group.

All are sophomores playing their last matches for HC except for Villarreal, a freshman from Monahans.

Tennis coach Will Roan is accompanying the group.

Bill Alcocer, Jay Box, Terry Wood and Ray Villarreal left Sunday to make the trip for the Hawks — the first time an HC team has ever competed in the NJCAA net meet — and will be expected to challenge for a high spot.

The Howard crew ranks third among Texas juco teams. Central Texas of Killeen, the defending national champion, is expected to claim that honor again and Western Conference titlist Odessa College is also among the favorites.

The Hawks qualified for the meet by finishing second in the Region V meet behind Odessa.

All four will play singles matches today, and when doubles action rolls around Box and Villarreal will team up and Alcocer will play with Wood.

Legal Meaning Of Death Aim

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The meaning of death has become shrouded in legal complications.

To arrive at a current definition, 180 men headed by a Memphis authority on legal medicine are working to produce a uniform, legal meaning of "death."

"There is a point in death when there is absolutely no possibility of continued life," said Dr. McCarthy DeMere, chairman of an American College of Legal Medicine committee. His group hopes to get a definition presented to the August 14 meeting of the American Bar Association's House of Delegates in Honolulu.

DeMere, director of the Institute of Legal Medicine at Memphis State University and a holder of degrees in both law and medicine, said, "I believe we can determine that point with what knowledge we have in medicine at this time."

The creation of life-sustaining machines and the development of organ transplant techniques have complicated death, DeMere said, and the actual time of a person's death has become a basis for courtroom debates: "different tissues die at different times."

He believes it will be at least five years before a uniform definition of death is accepted by the ABA and the Uniform Law Commission and ratified by each state, but the definition will be legally binding after it is accepted by the ULC.

IMPEACHMENT KEY? Colson's Desire: 'Tell Everything'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former White House counsel Charles W. Colson's desire to "tell everything I know" could make him a key figure in the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment inquiry.

Colson's conversations with President Nixon on subjects involved in the inquiry are among those tapes the committee has subpoenaed and Nixon has refused to provide.

He also has played a leading role in White House dealings with the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., dairy co-ops, and in the activities of the White House plumbers. The committee begins looking into ITT matters today.

Colson pleaded guilty Monday to a single count of obstructing justice in the trial of Daniel Ellsberg, accused of leaking the Pentagon papers. Under an arrangement with special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski, Colson will not be prosecuted on three other charges in the Ellsberg case and in the Watergate cover-up.

Colson said he agreed to the arrangement so he would be free "to tell everything I know about the Watergate and Watergate-related matters."

The 42-year-old lawyer will be sentenced June 21 on a charge that he carried out a plan to "defame and destroy the public image and credibility" of Ellsberg. A felony, it carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

His arrangement with Jaworski is designed to make him available as a prosecutor witness in the various trials the special prosecutor is preparing. But William Merrill, assistant special prosecutor, said Colson would be free to testify before the Judiciary Committee if he wants to.

SPEED IT UP
Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., who hopes to speed up the inquiry by limiting the number of witnesses, would not comment about the possibility that Colson would be called. No decision will be made on witnesses, he said, until all documentary evidence has been presented in about three weeks.

Other committee members, however, said they hoped Colson would be called.

Earlier Monday, Robert McClory of Illinois became the first Republican on the committee to speak in favor of finding Nixon in contempt of Congress, if that would result in getting the tapes the committee has subpoenaed.

The Senate Watergate Committee also may call Colson. Its importance as a potential witness in the impeachment inquiry is underscored in a Judiciary Committee staff memorandum to members justifying a request for various taped presidential conversations.

It lists nine telephone calls and meetings between Nixon and Colson bearing on the Watergate break-in, payments to keep the convicted burglars quiet and an alleged offer of executive clemency to one of them.

ITT QUIZ
In the ITT antitrust settlement, which became involved in the Senate confirmation hearings of Richard Kleindienst as attorney general, Colson urged that the nomination be withdrawn.

"His reason included the possibility that documents would be revealed suggesting that the President was involved in the ITT situation . . ." the memorandum says.

In 1970, it says, Colson served as the White House contact for the Associated Milk Producers Inc. and received its pledge for a $2 million contribution to Nixon's re-election campaign.

Magruder implicated former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell in the decision approving the break-in and bugging of Democratic headquarters in the Watergate complex and recounted the careful plans to cover up high-level involvement in the abortive scheme.

He wrote that shortly after the June 17, 1972 break-in, he played tennis with then-Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who asked: "Jeb, what the hell is going on?"

"It was our operation," I said. "It got screwed up. We're trying to take care of it," Magruder said he replied. The story continued: "Agnew frowned and looked away. 'I don't think we ought to discuss it again in that case.'"

News Service In Sound Due

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Associated Press Radio, a news service in sound, will begin operations this fall.

Wes Gallagher, president and general manager of the 127-year-old news service, made the announcement here at the annual meeting of the Associated Press Broadcasters Association here.

The new service will feature a packaged newscast hourly plus on-the-spot reports from correspondents throughout the country and world, Gallagher said.

Robert Emsom, AP's vice president in charge of broadcasting, said there will be no advertising on AP Radio, and that all materials will be available for local sponsorship.

The Associated Press currently serves more than 3,400 broadcast stations and most of the newspapers in the United States. The AP also serves newspapers and broadcast stations around the world and maintains offices in 54 foreign countries.

Phoenix Meeting Lures CC Prexy

Ralph McLaughlin, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, will appear at public hearings in Phoenix, Ariz., today backing a proposed plan to make the Dallas-Fort Worth air terminal a trans-Atlantic terminal.

Big Spring is backing the two Texas cities' efforts to have their airport made a truly international facility whereby trips to Europe would be non-stop.

Brant International recently filed a request to fly direct to Europe without stops at New York City or Miami or other trans-Atlantic terminals.

Big Spring, which is in the throes of a battle to keep its own airport, is also interested in the international status of the Dallas-Fort Worth terminal.

The hearings with Texas International in which Big Spring is trying to keep its air service are scheduled for June 18.

GOLDA MEIR RETIRES — Golda Meir, shown in a drawing by AP artist John Edwards, stepped down as premier of Israel Monday and was succeeded by Yitzhak Rabin.

First Meeting Of New Cabinet

Yitzhak Rabin's new Israeli cabinet holds its inaugural meeting today after its approval by a 61-51 vote of confidence in the Israeli parliament.

The Knesset accepted the Jewish nation's first native-born — or sabra — premier and his 18-member cabinet after nearly eight hours of stormy debate in which conservative hard-liners charged that the new government was top-heavy with doves.

The margin was one of the closest on a confirmation vote in Israeli history. But it is likely to be closer on future votes since Rabin's coalition numbers only 61 of the 120 Knesset members, or a majority of two.

Although Rabin is known as a moderate on relations with the Arabs and his cabinet includes at least four members who considered the previous government's foreign policy too yielding, the new premier in his statement to the Knesset outlined a policy toward Israel's Arab foes no different from that of his predecessor, Premier Golda Meir.

He said he would work for "a just, honorable" peace by stages "but not at any price" and meanwhile would keep the armed forces at maximum strength. He rejected an independent Palestinian state, negotiations with the Palestinian guerrillas and return of all the territory captured in the 1967 war.

Rabin said his first objective would be to advance the peace negotiations with Egypt. Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy in a comment on the new premier's speech called on him to renounce Israel's "old colonialist concept" and "accept the presence of a secular Palestine state within or beside her."

The prospect of Israeli-Egyptian negotiations apparently got a boost from the leaders of the Palestine guerrilla movement. They were reported to have agreed at a meeting in Cairo not to join in Arab-Israeli peace negotiations at this time and to set conditions for future participation that Israel would never accept.

Meanwhile, the economic commission of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries recommended that the posted price of Arabian light crude oil be raised from $11.65 to $12.67 a barrel. But informed sources said the OPEC was expected to reject the proposal since Abderrahman Khene, OPEC's secretary general, has said the organization wanted to keep oil prices at the present level for the third quarter of the year.

IT'S A HOME-OWNER'S DELIGHT — The Good Housekeeping Furniture and Appliance Shop, located at 210 Main Street, proves a wonderland for families seeking to outfit their homes. A part of the Big Spring business community for many years, Good Housekeeping is managed by Ted Hatfield.

Wares Are Name Brands

Good Housekeeping Furniture and Appliances, 210 Main has been a part of the Big Spring business community about two decades.

But a little over five years ago in February of 1969, H. G. Keaton, Ted Hatfield and K.H. McGibbon bought the store from Jack Watkins. Good Housekeeping now has ten full-time employees and serves an area in a 150-mile radius.

"We deliver the same distance, but we have gone as far as 500 miles to deliver merchandise," co-owner and manager Hatfield said. "We try to maintain a stock of contemporary furniture and unique gift items. The gifts include all kinds of things — like dry flower arrangements, Oriental statues, Peacock feathers scented candles and many other items" Hatfield added.

The store provides furniture, carpets, custom draperies and interior decorating. Major brands include Mohawk carpet, Springaire bedding and Flexsteel, Broyhill, Basic Witz and Bauman Weitz furniture.

"We carry many more major brands too numerous to mention," Hatfield added.

CAST BALLOTS IN EIGHT STATES

Focus On California

By The Associated Press
The primary election for nominees seeking to replace Ronald Reagan as governor and a stern campaign reform measure focused election attention today on California, one of eight states holding primaries. In the featured contest on the longest ballot in California history, 18 Democrats and six Republicans sought their party nominations to succeed Reagan, the GOP governor who has dominated California politics the past eight years. Reagan is not seeking re-election.

American Century Available Here

In the din of the approaching Bicentennial, citizens of Big Spring are being encouraged to take a "quieter" look at their American heritage by R. G. McNeil, Montgomery Ward store manager. "Public, college and high school libraries throughout the state are currently receiving copies of an excellent Bicentennial reference book, "American Century," compliments of Wards," he announced.

"The Spirit of '76 immediately calls to mind the fire and drums, colonial costumes and cobblestones," he continued, "but it was in the last 100 years that our country changed so rapidly and drastically." "American Century" covers those ten decades of industrialization and technology that affected life styles, morals and attitudes.

Other primaries are being held in Alabama, Iowa, Mississippi, Montana, New Jersey, New Mexico and South Dakota. In California, opinion polls see the front-runner for the GOP nomination is state Controller Houston I. Flournot, 44, an Ivy League-educated political scientist and former college professor.

LI. Gov. Ed Reinecke also is seeking the nomination despite perjury indictments brought against him by Watergate prosecutors. Reinecke, once favored for the GOP nomination, was indicted for testimony regarding International Telephone and Telegraph.

Leading Democratic candidate is Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr., 38, son of the former governor defeated by Reagan in 1966.

WALLACE NEUTRAL Also on the ballot is Proposition 2, a 22,000-word long measure put before the voters by petition and sponsored by Common Cause as a model for national reform controlling campaign fund-raising, spending and lobbyists' activities.

ALABAMA — Gov. George C. Wallace is remaining neutral in a run-off election for lieutenant governor, where Lt. Gov. Jere Beasley faces millionaire businessman Charles Woods.

IOWA — Harold E. Hughes is vacating his seat in the U.S. Senate. U.S. Rep. John C. Culver is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for Hughes' seat while a state senator and a state representative are seeking the GOP nomination. Republican Gov. Robert D. Ray is unopposed in his party. Three Democrats seek nomination to oppose him in November.

MISSISSIPPI — Nominations for three congressional seats and numerous local offices are at stake today. The congressional campaigns drew little interest and were overshadowed in some areas by the judicial races.

MONTANA — The state's two congressmen are unopposed within their parties but there are primaries to elect voters for the general election.

NEW JERSEY — The primary campaigns to pick major party candidates for 15 congressional seats attracted an unusually large field of candidates but stirred little voter interest. No incumbent seeking renomination anticipated serious problems.

NEW MEXICO RACE — Four Republicans and six Democrats are seeking nominations for the governorship being vacated by Democrat Bruce King, who cannot succeed himself.

SOUTH DAKOTA — The gubernatorial primary pits Gov. Richard Kneip against his former running mate, Lt. Gov. William Dougherty. Three Republicans are seeking to run against Sen. George McGovern, who is unopposed. One is Leo Thorsness, a former Vietnam prisoner of war.

Late registrations will be accepted through the remainder of the week at Lewis' office in the administration building during the day, and from 8 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

The first summer session of 1974 had a final enrollment total of 345.

HC Enrollment Now Totals 338

Enrollment at Howard College for the first summer term promises to exceed last year's corresponding period.

Tuesday morning 338 had signed, and Registrar L. L. Lewis, and more were coming in. Classes also started Tuesday.

Late registrations will be accepted through the remainder of the week at Lewis' office in the administration building during the day, and from 8 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

The first summer session of 1974 had a final enrollment total of 345.

Learn-To-Swim Course Has 75

Seventy-four youngsters are participating this week in the Citywide Summer Recreation Program's learn-to-swim course, at the Comanche Park pool.

Classes are fairly evenly divided among the four periods which continue through Friday. Monday will see the beginning of the annual Summer Fun part of the program, which continues daily Monday-Friday through July.

There is no charge for the service, supported by the City of Big Spring and backed by Big Spring schools and the YMCA, which serves as the sign-up point.

Any child in the Big Spring area six years and above is not only welcome, but is urged to participate. So far 65 have registered.

Sessions will be conducted daily at Comanche Park pavilion from 9 a.m. to 12 noon with a staff headed by C. Roy Mullins, Mrs. Barbara Burg, Danny Coldiron, Mrs. Hannah Coleman, Bill Arencibia and Norman Wood.

At Lakeview, Sam Dawson will head the staff, and youngsters in that area wishing to take part are asked to report Monday for the first session.

Debra Irwin Is On Honor List

Debra Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Irwin, is among those on the Dean's List at Hardin Simmons University for the Spring semester. Others in this area included Barbara Perkins and David Morgan of Snyder.

Benefit Movie Is Slated June 21

The Howard County Association for Retarded Citizens will present a benefit movie, "Run Wild, Run Free," Friday June 21 at 8 p.m. at Big Spring High School. This will be a full-length color film, plus three cartoons.

Mrs. Jackie Ratliff, 3613 Hamilton, reported burglary of her home with a $50 camera and two packages of cigarettes missing.

EVACUATION

Flooding Rains Hit Plainview

Flooding rains hit parts of Texas' Panhandle-Plains sector, forcing evacuation of some homes at Plainview, as violent thunderstorms and several tornadoes raged from west to east over a broad area.

The wild weather broke out during the night and persisted into this morning.

Police Chief H. P. Peiphrey said Running Water Draw surged out of banks and sent water up to one foot deep into at least several homes in two neighborhoods on the city's south side, plus several business places along U.S. 70.

STILL RISING "They had heavy rains to the west of us and the water is still rising," Peiphrey said. "We've had to evacuate some of those houses and it may be necessary to evacuate more, but so far nobody has been in extreme danger."

Running Water Draw is a tributary of the White River, which flows toward the southeast through neighboring Floyd and Dickens counties. Flash flood warnings were up for those counties and for Hale County (Plainview).

MORE WATER Sheriff's officers at Floydada reported swiftly rising water submerged an automobile but there had been no injuries.

The National Weather Service cautioned persons in low areas along White River above White River Lake, near the southeast corner of Crosby County, to be prepared to seek safe places in event of further rises.

State police said only one of several tornadoes sighted during the night apparently caused serious damage. That twister hit at Trent, about 20 miles west of Abilene, where it destroyed a truck stop cafe and overturned a mobile home.

At one time 41 Northwest Texas counties and an adjoining slice of the Oklahoma Panhandle were under a tornado alert. Authorities said trailer homes were upset in some other localities.

FUNNEL CLOUD Other funnel cloud sightings were reported near Levelland, in the Littlefield vicinity, around Lockney and Petersburg, and at Cone, in Crosby County.

Prior to the flash flooding in the Plainview area more than 4 inches left Paducah, south of Wichita Falls, awash, and downpours of 2 to 3 inches drenched parts of the South Plains. Hail accompanied many of the storms.

By early morning thunderstorms which kept surging toward the east, still boiled into North and Central Texas, progressing past Fort Worth and Dallas.

Outside the storm belt, it was at least partly cloudy everywhere else in the state except in far West Texas, where skies were clear.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 79 degrees at Galveston on the coast down to 59 at Dalhart in the Panhandle. Monday afternoon's top marks went as high as 98 at Wink in West Texas.

Partly cloudy and warm weather were forecast for all sections, with still more showers and thunderstorms expected in northern areas of the state.

Traffic Commission Is Losing Its Chairman

George Weeks, chairman of the city's traffic commission resigned his post as chairman and as a member of the commission stating "My business has grown to an extent that I cannot afford to leave it to attend traffic commission meetings."

Commission members accepted his resignation with regret with a new chairman to be named at the next meeting. Mrs. Sue Williams, whose husband is being transferred to Lafayette, Ind., resigned as an alternate member.

Mrs. Susan Thomas, traffic engineer, explained the comprehensive plan. Items on it include accident location data, a selective enforcement program, a municipal court of record, the intersection of FM 700 and Goliad, the intersection of 3rd and Birdwell, school area signs, outdated traffic control signs and a study of the downtown area.

A discussion centered around the changing of school area signs. All members were in agreement on changing to the new international signs, but a conflict in views arose over the necessity of a flashing light at each school. It was decided to erect flashing lights on major streets and 20 mph during school hours signs on less traveled streets.

The commission also urged that offenders speeding in school zones be dealt with extremely harshly since it involves the safety of children.

Mrs. Thomas recommended erecting yield signs on the NE and SW corners of NW 8th and Lancaster; erecting stop signs on the NE and SW corners of NW 8th and Gregg; erecting yield signs on the NW and SE corners of N. 8th and Main, NE and SW corners of NE 8th and Runnels and NW and SW corners of NE 8th and Goliad.

Commission members present included Welland Brown, Don Crockett, Gerald DiGrappa, Lt. Col. Joe Dromsky, Jimmie Jolley, Larson Floyd, Sue Williams, Mrs. Thomas and Weeks.

Opening lead: Four of ♠
An extra trick presented to him on opening lead blinded declarer to the ultimate object of the game—fulfilling the contract.

North's hand was a minimum opening bid, and once he elected to open one diamond his side could not stay out of the heart game. As the cards lie, a club lead would have spelled immediate defeat, but the game stood a reasonable chance of success with any other lead.

the fact that he now had two tricks in the suit, won the ace. He drew trumps in three rounds and ran the jack of diamonds to East's king. East put his partner on lead with a spade to the queen, and a club return enabled the defenders to score two tricks in that suit for a one-trick set.

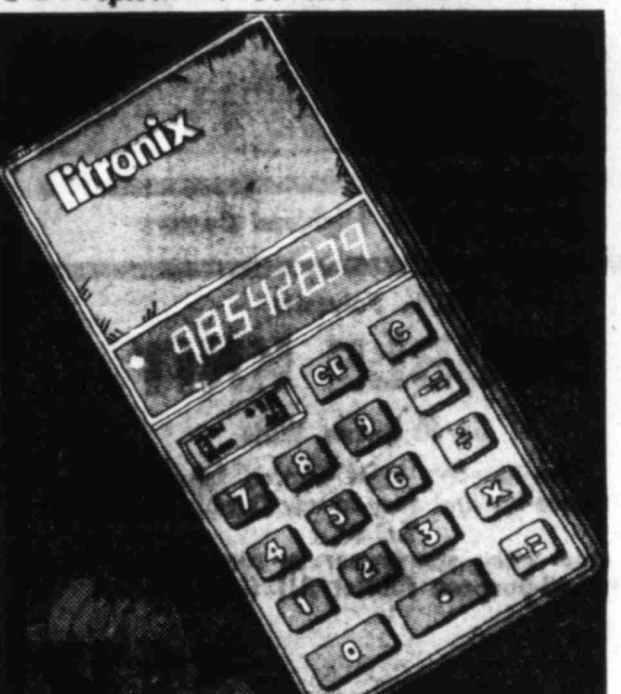

It is always pleasant to receive a free trick in a suit, but declarer should have realized that an extra spade trick did his cause little good. Far more important was to keep West—the danger hand—off lead, in case both the ace of clubs and the king of diamonds were wrong.

Observe what happens if declarer allows East to win the first trick with the king of spades. The king of clubs is now safe from attack, and East can do no better than return a spade. Declarer wins the ace and draws trumps, and now runs the jack of diamonds.

If the finesse wins, well and good. But if the finesse loses, as is the actual case, East is again on lead and the club king remains invulnerable. In fact, if East does not take his ace of clubs, declarer can win any return and cash dummy's diamonds, discarding three clubs from his hand and so making an overtrick.

By playing the hand in this manner, declarer limits his losers to a maximum of one trick in each side suit,

Prager's Men's and Boy's Wear

FAVORITE SHOPPING SHOP — For those men who like good grooming and those parents who want to see their boys have the best in brand-name clothes, Prager's Men's and Boy's Wear, located at 102 E. 3rd Street in Big Spring, is a popular stop for shoppers. Customers can buy a complete wardrobe at the center.

Prager's is a locally owned business specializing in Men's and Boy's nationally famous clothing and accessories at popular prices. They feature both basic and contemporary fashions.

J. W. Parmlay is the store manager and supervises the day-to-day work of the personnel. He conducts continual on-the-job training of the professional sales persons stressing courtesy, helpfulness, and friendliness. He also stresses careful attention to proper fit and the "just-right" look of fashion now that old rigid rules have been replaced by logic and imagination. The sales personnel will be glad you came in.

Prager's has a wide selection in formal wear, rentals, and in smart and different gift ideas.

Prager's boys department in the balcony is full and complete with fine quality "name" brands. The Boy Scout department is one of the largest in the area. Geneva Howell is in charge of this department and especially enjoys helping those difficult to fit.

A. J. and Janice Prager suggest that if you have not visited Prager's, you owe it to yourself to come in and browse.

CARROL RIGTER

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Daytime

especially early morning, is excellent for putting matters some special talent you have through an unusual routine. Later, the good aspects gradually decrease in force, so do everyday things.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

Plan some amusement that will be pleasing or do something unusual with a partner. Then get busy on an important routine work.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

Keep promise made with more speed than heretofore. Talk over practical affairs with mate and come to a better understanding.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Will gladly go along with your ideas early if you clarify them and they carry through with whatever work is necessary.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)

Plan work early and you get much done. Take co-workers into your confidence and you can work better together. Avoid a barroom.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)

Try to be more willing to go along with the ideas of good friends where recreation is concerned. More courtesy with mate brings finer rapport. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Instead of fretting about those home tasks, roll up your sleeves and get them done. Not to good day or p.m. for entertaining at home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Keep out of any argument between a fellow worker and an associate, or you become the fall guy. Assist others. Don't fall for a cab of troubles.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Although it may be a bother, be sure you get that money matter handled with real care, since it is important. Revise budget.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You need some special life in p.m., so get right into it. Be poised when others are excited.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Clear the decks for more important activities. You can solve a friend's problem easily.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Help good pals who come to you for assistance. You need some special life in p.m., so get right into it. Be poised when others are excited.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Get into those civic matters that are your particular cup of tea and add to present prestige. Pay bills. Use your real ability.

California Miss Freed Unharmed By Kidnapers

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — in Sacramento authorized the filing of a kidnaping complaint against Gerald Allen Martin, who gave up police Monday afternoon.

Shortly before Martin surrendered, Miss Hinkel went to Fort Worth police and told them she had escaped unharmed from her abductor.

"I am tired. I had my tonsils out last week and I haven't eaten or slept for two days," she told officers.

She related that her 38-hour ordeal started outside a Stockton restaurant Sunday afternoon when a man approached her and a companion, Mona Kay Ellington, 19, also of Oakland, and asked for a ride to Los Angeles.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

I'M SORRY

Miss Hinkel said she told him they were going to Lake Tahoe, Nev., and had no plans to go to Los Angeles. She said the man pulled out a knife and told them "I'm sorry—you're going to L.A."

She gave these details: He stepped into the back seat and directed her to drive south. About 15 miles out of town he told them he was going to Fort Worth and he needed a traveling companion.

He gave the young women a choice of which was to stay with him and Miss Hinkel volunteered because it was her car.

She said the man told Miss Ellington he would kill Miss Hinkel if she notified police. After he let her out of the car, she hitchhiked and then notified police.

No Arrests In Kidnaping

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — "I put myself in the hands of the Lord, and I was never afraid," Tulsa businessman Walter H. Helmerich said after his eight-hour kidnaping ended with payment of a ransom unofficially reported at $700,000.

The FBI said no arrests have been made.

Helmerich, 51, millionaire president of Helmerich and Payne, Inc., a worldwide oil drilling company, and director in numerous other firms, was released unharmed Monday by what he called a "very thoughtful" kidnaper.

A lone man stopped Helmerich's car while he was on his way to work. He said it was his normal route to the office and the kidnaper evidently knew it.

Helmerich said he was blindfolded, bound and forced to ride on the floor of a car until his release near a tank farm at Jenks, a small town five miles south of Tulsa. Helmerich said the abductor stopped frequently, apparently making telephone calls.

The FBI said a ransom demand sent to the Utica National Bank, partly owned by Selmerich family members, was met by Walter H. Helmerich Jr., father of the victim. Details were not disclosed.

Helmerich in an interview at his home shortly after his release, said the kidnaper "never harmed me, never threatened me. Really, I suppose the whole thing was pretty uneventful..."

Helmerich said before he was freed the kidnaper stopped the car and taped his hands to his ankles, but left him blindfolded.

FOR SINGLE ADULTS Delegates Debating Homestead Exemption

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Constitutional Convention debates today extending the right of homestead exemption from forced sale to single adults as well as families.

Monday, the convention voted 130-17 in favor of an open beach proposal that Sen. A. R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, called "The best public coastal lands protection provision that exists in any constitution in the United States."

BEACH LAW

No other state has a prohibition in its constitution against the sale of publicly-owned beaches, said Schwartz, who is the legislative dean of beach law.

"This section should encourage every citizen from the Gulf Coast to support the new constitution," he said. "It means that no future legislature will ever be able to interfere with the right of the people to use and enjoy our beaches."

BORROW MONEY

Also in the section are provisions that would:

- Allow owners of rural homesteads to borrow money on 150 of the 200 acres, leaving protected only the 50 acres on which the house sits.
- Raise the ceiling on the value of city land protected by homestead exemption from $3,000 at the time of purchase to $10,000 at the time of purchase. It also would grant the legislature authority to make the ceiling even higher. The value of the home has no effect on the exemption.
