STRANGLER Rapist Slain By Two Co-eds

NEW SMYRNA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Police say two college co-eds who killed an ex-convict after he raped them will testify at an inquest into his death later this week.

A spokesman for the Volusia County sheriff's department said Sunday that the 20-year-old students from Indiana University at Bloomington strangled Lee Arthur Godwin, 25, with his bandana after he stabbed one girl with an icepick.

No charges were filed against the victims, whose names cannot be published under Florida law.

The co-eds were hitchhiking from South Florida to Atlanta on Interstate 95 Friday when Godwin, from Vero Beach, picked them up near Melbourne, about 75 miles south of this Atlantic Coast resort city.

Godwin turned off the highway at New Smyrna Beach and drove to an area west of nearby Edgewater, telling the girls he wanted to pick some marijuana he was growing in the woods, officers said.

The girls accompanied him into the woods, where he pulled the icepick and raped them both. Officers said he then told the co-eds he was going to kill them and inflicted a minor stab wound on one girl's neck when he lunged at her with the icepick.

The other girl grabbed his arm and the wounded girl managed to get hold of the red bandana on Godwin's neck and tighten it. When he lay still, the girls thought he was only unconscious and fled to a nearby farm house, where they called police.

Officers found Godwin dead in the woods. The sheriff's spokesman said the girls were treated at a hospital Saturday and released.

Like Mother, Like Daughter

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Lucille Coughlin waited until she was a grandmother before returning to college to earn her law degree.

So did her daughter Nancy.

Lucille Coughlin was born in October.

So was daughter Nancy.

Lucille Coughlin was an only child.

So was daughter Nancy.

Lucille Coughlin taught a course in secretarial skills before she became a lawyer.

Lucille Coughlin married a lawyer.

So did daughter Nancy.

Now there's one more item in the parallel lives of Mrs. Coughlin, 73, and daughter Nancy Appleton, 46. Mrs. Appleton last month became a partner in her mother's law firm.

It was in 1952 that Mrs. Coughlin entered the University of Miami at age 51 to earn a law degree so she could be a partner in the firm that belonged to her husband, John. She had been his legal secretary for many years.

Nancy followed in mother's footsteps 18 years later. She entered the same law school, completing the three-year course in two years and three months.

Mrs. Coughlin is proud that she still has all the clients her husband had at his death.

"One man left," she says. "He wasn't too sure about having a woman for a lawyer. But three years later he came and asked if I'd take him back."

The mother-daughter law firm specializes in civil and corporate law.

Ernest Guinn, U.S. Judge, Dies

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Ernest Guinn died Sunday of an apparent heart attack. He was 68.

Guinn was appointed to the federal bench in 1966 by then President Lyndon B. Johnson, with backing from then Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

A native of Palestine in East Texas, Guinn was graduated from the University of Texas law school at age 22. He was El Paso assistant city attorney from 1935-1938 and later was city attorney briefly.

He served as county attorney from 1939 until 1954, when he entered private law practice. He was once chairman of the El Paso County Democratic party.

Guinn is survived by his widow Mary, also a lawyer, and three sons and three daughters.

Rosary will be recited at 7 p.m. Tuesday at St. Patrick Cathedral with the funeral service at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Jet Fighters Sent To Syria From Russia?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union apparently has given Syria its first squadron of advanced MIG23 jet fighters, according to U.S. intelligence reports.

Sources said 16 crated MIG23 "Floggers" reportedly were sent to Syria recently aboard Russian merchant ships.

Intelligence has been watching for these deliveries since early last month when MIG23 crates were seen at Nikolayev, a Black Sea port from which Russia ships most military equipment to Arab countries.

The swing-wing MIG23, whose top speed is nearly 2,000 miles an hour, is rated significantly better than the older MIG21, which until now has been the best Russian fighter exported.

U.S. analysts said the MIG23 does have some weaknesses, particularly in its combat operating range.

Decision Slices Defendant Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today that the failure of police to inform a defendant of his full legal rights does not bar the use of all evidence obtained from him.

The court, in an 8-to-1 ruling, reversed a lower court decision overturning the rape conviction of a Michigan man who was not told during police interrogation that he had a right to legal counsel.

The decision limits the scope of the landmark Miranda decision requiring that criminal defendants be fully advised of their legal rights.

Writing for the court, Justice William H. Rehnquist acknowledged that police failed to provide Thomas W. Tucker the full range of rights guaranteed by the 1966 decision.

In other action today, the court:

—Ruled that states using federal funds to provide teachers for educationally deprived children in public schools must provide comparable, but not necessarily identical, service to children in private schools.

—Invalidated on technical grounds a Federal Power Commission order exempting small producers of natural gas from direct federal regulation. The court said the commission's order was too vague and sent the matter back to the commission for further proceedings.

—Agreed to decide whether the U.S. Civil Service Commission can ban resident aliens from government jobs.

—Upheld price ceilings established by the Federal Power Commission on a natural gas case which government attorneys said could have broad national impact in light of the energy shortage.

But, he said, "Just as the law does not require that a defendant receive a perfect trial, only a fair one, it cannot realistically require that policemen investigating a serious crime make no errors whatsoever."

Rehnquist wrote, "Before we penalize police error, therefore, we must consider whether the sanction serves a valid and useful purpose."

Rehnquist said it was significant that Tucker was questioned prior to the Miranda ruling.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon refused again today to honor any more House impeachment inquiry subpoenas, writing to House Judiciary Committee chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr. that he will do nothing which would "render the executive branch henceforth and forevermore subservient to the legislative branch."

Nixon's six-page letter to Rodino was in response to the Judiciary Committee's subpoena for tapes of 45 conversations related to the Watergate scandal. The letter was released by the White House.

The committee voted 37 to 1 on May 29 to subpoena the tapes, even though Nixon had already refused to comply with an earlier subpoena from the committee and had said he would reject any further subpoenas for material related to Watergate.

FULL STORY

Nixon declared again today that "the voluminous body of materials that the committee already has ... does give the full story of Watergate insofar as it relates to presidential knowledge and presidential decisions."

Nixon said that "if the institution of an impeachment inquiry against the President were permitted to override all restraints of separation of powers, this would spell the end of the doctrine of separation of power; it would be an open invitation to future Congresses to use an impeachment inquiry, however frivolously as a device to assert their own supremacy over the executive, and to reduce executive confidentiality to a nullity."

U. S. District Judge John J. Sirica was to begin hearing pretrial motions today for seven men accused in the Watergate cover-up case, including motions for a change of venue.

One defendant is former White House aide Charles W. Colson, who pleaded guilty last week to obstruction of justice in the burglary of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office.

And the Supreme Court could decide today whether to release a grand jury report that names Nixon an unindicted co-conspirator in connection with the cover-up.

In still another federal court-

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon flew off today on the first leg of a journey that will take him to five Middle East nations during the next week.

Nixon left the United States with the twin goals of strengthening the new U.S. role in the Middle East and convincing the American people that world peace requires his continuation in office.

CONFIRMATION

After spending some time in Austria to adjust to the time zone changes, Nixon arrives in Egypt Wednesday for the first stop in what is expected to be a warmly welcomed tour of five Middle East nations.

Diplomats in the Middle East and Washington and many American officials see the trip as official confirmation that the United States is a friend of the Arabs—particularly true for Egypt and Syria, two nations that had been entirely dependent on the Soviet Union for military and political support.

Nixon's visits therefore are expected to give a further push to Moscow's declining influence in the Middle East.

While White House and State Department officials deny publicly any connection between the trip and Nixon's Watergate troubles, the President drew one Sunday between his continuation in office and the progress of his foreign policy.

While a luncheon audience of 1,400 members of the National Committee for Fairness to the Presidency cheered and chanted, Nixon counted up his diplomatic triumphs—friendship with mainland China, detente with Moscow.

STRONG PRESIDENT

But "there remains much to be done," he continued. And, he said at another point, "A strong American President is essential if we are to have peace in the world."

He said he will stay President through his term.

After Egypt, Nixon goes to Saudi Arabia, Syria, Israel and Jordan. He returns June 19.

HOPING TO ACHIEVE TWIN GOALS

Nixon Begins Journey

There was some criticism of the trip from congressional sources.

In East Lansing, Mich., Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., said the trip would serve no useful purpose and that it was "patently political." Nixon's effectiveness "has been impaired by Watergate," Brooks said.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said the trip did not make sense since "Dr. (Henry A.) Kissinger spent a little over a month in that area. He's just back. And now he's going back again with the President."

POOR JUDGMENT

Jackson said the trip "will be more cosmetic and ceremonial than it will be substance," and

"It's poor judgment on the part of the President to be out of the country while the House Judiciary Committee moves into a serious phase of the charges against him in its impeachment inquiry."

Mrs. Nixon, Kissinger and White House aides Alexander M. Haig Jr. and Ronald L. Ziegler will accompany the President.

Kissinger will conduct some extra business, splitting off from the presidential party Tuesday to meet with new West German Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher.

He also will attend a meeting of North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers in Canada June 18-19.

"This revenue sharing money is not a permanent thing as far as we know," Commissioner Simon Terrazas noted.

"I just wonder why they want their taxes lowered with that kind of price for gas," County Judge A. G. Mitchell said jokingly.

Prices paid for oil products is reflected in a $13 million increase in total assessed values on the oil and gas roll this time, McKenzie said.

And McKenzie said he understood other local tax value totals had increased also.

Whether we can (cut taxes) we won't know until we get to the nitty gritty, the figures of it," County Judge A. G. Mitchell told about 25 oil company representatives this morning.

Bob McKenzie of Continental, third biggest taxpayer in Howard County, pointed out areas of surplus reflected in the 1973 audit and suggested a cut in the tax rate.

The World At - A - Glance

PARIS (AP) — President Valery Giscard d'Estaing was threatened today with his first political crisis after firing Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber from his cabinet for criticizing the government's plans for a new series of nuclear weapon tests in the South Pacific.

Servan-Schreiber, long an outspoken critic of France's nuclear test program, called a news conference Sunday to protest the tests to be held this summer, and Premier Jacques Chirac announced his dismissal for "contradicting the fundamental principle of ministerial solidarity."

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 1,000 persons who claim President Nixon is being treated unfairly are going directly to Capitol Hill to try to stop the impeachment proceedings.

Members of the Committee for Fairness to the Presidency planned to meet with individual House and Senate members today to present their case in support of the President.

At a luncheon Sunday, Nixon told the group, "With your support I shall do nothing that will weaken this office. You came from the heart of America and you have touched our hearts."

Appearing with his wife and two daughters, Nixon reiterated that he would not leave office until January 1977.

Pink-Eyed Frog 'One In Million'

WARREN, Mich. (AP) — Research scientists at the University of Michigan Amphibian Facility are excited by a backyard find—Charlie the albino toad.

Charlie, who has transparent skin, was found last week by 4-year-old Joe Strain in a backyard near his home.

"He's really ugly looking," says Martha Koza, Joe's mother. "He has bulging, pink eyes and transparent skin. You can see his organs."

Charlie may have company at the laboratory. Another apparently albino toad was reported Sunday by a woman who lives a couple of blocks from Joe's home.

Mrs. Beverly Cornish said her 9-year-old daughter Gail found a white, pink-eyed frog she named Albie in her backyard.

She called the Amphibian Facility, which wants to study the rare animals and breed them for research.

Albino toads or frogs are "a one in a million" occurrence, said a faculty scientist.

Dr. George Nace, a zoology professor, says the transparent skin on albino frogs and toads makes it possible to observe their bodily functions.

"Frogs have many features like those of man," he said. "We study them to try to learn how the genes control the developmental process."

At first Joe's mother was reluctant to part with his pet, his mother said. But now he approves.

William Koza, Joe's stepfather, says he'll probably drive Joe and Charlie the toad to Ann Arbor early this week.

Dr. Christina Richards, coordinator of the facility, said since both amphibians were found in backyards, they are probably toads, which live farther away from their ponds than frogs.

"There is a possibility that they are just toads who have recently shed their skin," Dr. Richards said. "That kind is usually quite light. But the people say these toads have pink eyes. That would make them albinos."

POPULAR FROG — Joey Strain, 4, of Warren, Mich., found a rare albino frog in a back yard near his home two days ago. His mother, Mrs. William Koza called the University of Michigan to get more information. Dr. George W. Nace, a zoology professor who heads the Amphibian Facility is trying to get Joey to donate his pet for research.

Officers Fell Stanton Man In Shooting

MIDLAND — Daniel Ray Coleman, Stanton, fell dead at the rear of Everybody's Barbecue, 1207 E. Front, here Sunday evening after an exchange of gunfire with police.

Justice of Peace John Biggs was withholding an inquest verdict pending results of an autopsy.

Coleman, who was reportedly a cook for the Bellvue Cafe in Stanton, had brandished a pistol in the cafe and wounded Alma Tine Blaylock, 102 E. Pecan, with whom he had lived, according to officers.

They gave this account: Coleman, 46, showed up at the cafe Sunday 8:30 p.m. and announced he had come to kill Alma Blaylock, the cook, finally going to the kitchen where he fired twice. One bullet hit her; another was dug from the wall.

Police had been called, and as Sgt. Joe Brownlee entered, Coleman was said to have come from the kitchen, fired two shots which missed Brownlee. The policeman returned the fire and one of two shots hit Coleman who then retreated through the kitchen.

Ms. Blaylock grabbed with him and was shot in the stomach. As Coleman emerged from the backdoor with gun in hand, a second policeman, Tom Connolly, fired. Coleman fell dead.

Condition of Alma Blaylock was said at Midland Memorial Hospital to be serious. Officers said that Coleman had been accused of knifing Ms. Blaylock about a month ago, but she refused at that time to file charges.

Mary Jo Over Hill, Sign Says
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Mary Jo Underhill was hoping to forget her 30th birthday.

But her friends wouldn't let her. Mrs. Underhill drove along a four-lane thoroughfare at the edge of downtown and was greeted by a full-sized billboard in her honor Friday.

"Mary Jo Underhill is over the hill. (She is 30.) And her friends are so happy," the sign read.

Ex-Massage Parlor Operator Surrenders
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former massage parlor operator Samuel Corey surrendered to authorities here today on a New Orleans murder indictment charging him in the honeymoon death of Patricia Albanowski Giesick.

Corey, appearing before Peace Justice J.P. Gutierrez, was jailed in lieu of $250,000 bond.

Corey may fight extradition to Louisiana.

Corey, a mail-order clergyman who married Patricia to Claudius James Giesick Jr., in Dallas, is charged along with Giesick in the automobile death of Patricia in the early morning hours of Jan. 16 in New Orleans.

BODY EXHUMED
The indictments were returned Thursday by a New Orleans Parish grand jury in a case which spans Texas, Louisiana and Patricia's home state of New Jersey, where her body was exhumed to provide evidence.

A warrant for Corey's arrest arrived from New Orleans at the Bexar County Sheriff's Office about midmorning today, setting up the surrender by Corey.

'Let's Hear Three Cheers For God!'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Let's hear three cheers for God!!!" shouted the husky bearded chaplain in an embroidered denim shirt.

His parishioners, mentally retarded residents at Pacific State Hospital in suburban Pomona, responded enthusiastically. "Where is God?" asked the chaplain.

IN HEAVEN
"He's up there in heaven," some cried out. Others pointed skyward.

The chaplain was the Rev. Courtney E. Peterson, a 41-year-old Protestant chaplain with three theological degrees.

"Retardation is a measure of cognitive awareness," the Rev. Mr. Peterson said. "But many retarded persons have feelings and emotional sensitivity as great as those with normal awareness.

Our approach is to appeal to the parts of a person that are not retarded."

The Rev. Mr. Peterson's colleagues at Pacific are the Rev. Patrick J. Crowley and Rabbi Eugene Gruenberger. All three use a lot of music, singing and handclapping in their services.

Father Crowley, 36, celebrates Mass with an emphasis on Jesus as "a trusting friend." He scraps the recitation of long prayers and instead says the Lord's Prayer, stopping intermittently to let his parishioners fill in key words.

He calls the liturgy a form of therapy—"an occasion of joy, praise, laughter, giving and receiving."

"My first Sunday here was nerve-racking," he said. "I was scared, then I began to see them as persons and began to communicate with them."

Chaplains in the state's mental hospitals say they see their role as an integral part of a patient's treatment.

A study at Pacific showed about 600,000 persons in California are retarded—about 3 per cent of the population. Nearly 50 per cent are mildly retarded, with IQs of 52 to 67.

At Fairview State Hospital in Costa Mesa, the Rev. Dr. Francis McOlash also stresses participation. His message: "God loves us just the way we are."

"The usual standard is that the more intelligent the person, the more valuable he is," said Dr. McOlash. "That is not true here."

"Residents have the capacity to love and to hate, to accept and to reject. There is no necessary correlation between these capacities and intelligence."

Arraigned In Robbery Case

GARDEN CITY — Benjamin Thomas Tisdale was arraigned here in 118th District Court this morning for robbery of the Steve Currie residence.

Venue in the murder case against Tisdale was transferred to Tom Green county several years ago, Judge Caton said.

Tisdale recently was released from federal prison, where he was serving a sentence for another offense.

This morning, Judge Caton severed Tisdale's case from those of others also charged in the Currie Ranch house robbery. Bond was set at $25,000, and Tisdale was locked up in the Glasscock County jail.

Snyder Officer Is Wounded

SNYDER — Five men were held in Scurry County jail today in lieu of heavy bonds imposed after a police officer and one of the men had been shot during an apparent arrest attempt Saturday night.

J. L. Cullar, policeman, was in a satisfactory condition at West Texas Medical center in Abilene where he was treated for a shot in the arm.

David Rodriguez, 17, shot in the stomach, was released from Ogden Memorial Hospital here and was remanded to jail in lieu of $75,000 bond imposed by City Judge Gene Dulaney.

Charged with assaulting a police officer were Mike Fuentes, 18, Louis Fuentes, 20, Carlos Rodriguez, 19, and Robert Mena. Their bond was set at $5,000 each.

Police said that Cullar and Officer Lannie Lee had stopped a car in the 300 block of 30th St. Saturday evening after a two-mile chase. They were "jumped," they said, and Lee was overpowered and disarmed. Cullar shot one of the assailants but in turn was wounded. Lee was hospitalized briefly.

Two of the five men fled, taking with them the officers' pistol but surrendered it later to police.

Blaze Seen For 50 Miles

BEALTON, Va. (AP) — An investigation resumed today to learn what caused a natural gas pipeline to burst in this rural community late Sunday, triggering a fire that could be seen 50 miles away.

No one was injured as a result of the blaze.

A crater, described by a state police officer as "big enough for a box car," was left at the scene of the fire along U.S. 17.

There are about 140 homes within a one-mile radius of the scene. Police said none was endangered by the blaze.

The flames illuminated the sky with a glow that could be seen 50 miles away over the mountains in Strasburg and in Front Royal.

Thousands of spectators watched the fire burn itself out.

Officials of the Charlottesville district office of Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corp., of Houston, Tex., owner of the 32-inch line, said the line apparently ruptured and the leaking gas ignited.

Three main supply sources feed the line, and the company managed to shut them down, an official said.

In the story about two young members of the Church of the Nazarene planning to attend an international conference starting June 24, there was an error in listing of names. # 10,000 Assigned To Protect Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — As President Nixon jets across the Atlantic today, U.S. Secret Service agents and host country security men are being deployed throughout the Middle East.

According to several sources, never have so many men—upwards of 10,000—been assigned to protect a President.

Publicly, officials in Washington and the Middle East disclaim excessive concern for Nixon's safety.

"Security does not worry us," said Syria's protocol director, Khali Saadawi.

"Security as always will be dealt with," said White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

But privately, some security officials express deep concern about the President's safety in a region scarred by violence and terrorist attacks for a quarter-century. The extensive security preparations underscore their concern.

100 AGENTS
The Secret Service has called agents from field offices across the country to beef up the agency's White House detail, a spokesman said. He would not disclose numbers, but it is believed that more than 100 agents—perhaps as many as 250—are involved in guarding the president during his trip.

But the size of the U.S. security team is dwarfed by host country forces. In Syria, for example, about 2,000 plainclothesmen were deployed for security during Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's repeated trips to Damascus in troop disengagement negotiations.

Syrian officials acknowledge that this force will be more than doubled for President Nixon, by 3,000 crack paratroopers.

Jordan's King Hussein has been the target of past assassination attempts, and there will be "tightening everywhere" for Nixon's visit, according to one unofficial source.

The head of the White House Secret Service detail, Dick Kaiser, has been in the Middle East for a week, conferring with the host countries in arranging security.

The time frame for security planning is much shorter than on previous presidential trips overseas. Usually, advance teams are sent out two to three weeks ahead. On this trip, they went one week ahead.

Nixon's bulletproof limousines are being flown to the Middle East. Helicopters from the presidential fleet also are heading there aboard giant cargo planes.

Agents talk privately of the risks involved in Nixon or Kissinger mingling in crowds.

They also worry about security in the moments immediately after the presidential jetliner takes off, since some terrorist groups are said to possess small, heat-seeking missiles capable of bringing down a low-flying aircraft.

Agents are being assigned around-the-clock to guard presidential aircraft and the luggage of the President's party.

Gordon Well Goes For Gas

A gas exploration for the Westbrook (Clearfork) field has been slated by James P. Gordon of Eastland in his No. 1 Roy A. Wilson, which is projected to be 2,050 feet.

Location will be 2,050 feet from the south and 2,173 feet from the east lines of Section 45-23-1N, T&P, a mile south of production in the field. This puts it two miles southwest of Westbrook.

In Sterling county, the Sterling Co. No. 1 C. C. Reynolds will be a re-entry of the Fisher and Webb No. 1 Reynolds in the Wolfcamp Dec. 11, 1967. The venture scheduled to 9,200 feet, ostensibly will seek the Fusselman. Location is 467 feet from the north and east lines of section 30-23 H&R.C. 1 1/2 miles southeast of the Credo East (multipay) field. Originally the well went to 7,150.

Amoco No. 1 Quinn has perforated from 6,785-7,145 and fractured with 45,000 balloons and 100,000 pounds of sand as a prospector six miles southwest of Big Spring.

Amoco No. 1 McDaniell, Glasscock wildcat, was below 3,594.

GCT No. 1 Higginbotham, Dawson County venture, was past 8,750 in lime and shale.

Fair Executive Board To Meet

James (Buddy) Barr has called a meeting of the executive committee of the Howard County Fair Association for Wednesday 2:30 p.m. at the county extension service offices.

Several matters pertaining to the 1974 show in September will be up for decisions, he said.

Airport Panel Seeks Hangars

R. H. Weaver, chairman of the airport advisory committee, today recommended to the Howard County Commissioners that they extend the present contract with Big Spring Aircraft, Inc. to build hangar space for 10 more airplanes, install reflectors along the taxiway, and to replace or renovate the terminal building.

"There is no federal participation in terminal buildings," C. R. Crim, engineer told the court after calling the FAA. Any work on repairs or construction of a new one would be entirely at county expense, he said.

Jack Cook, J. W. McClendon and Guilford Jones purchased the corporation Big Spring Aircraft from owners who first had obtained the operator's lease from the county.

County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eysen Jr. said the "loose option" to renew was still valid.

"It merely says the terms and conditions of the new lease will be negotiated," Eysen said.

The court left the lease question pending, and members planned to meet with representatives of the advisory committee, Big Spring Aircraft and another interested party this afternoon.

Crim presented the court with estimates for a fire truck, fire truck house and taxiway lights at the airport.

With Federal Aviation Administration participation, the county would spend $34,000 of the total $147,000. The court talked about the reflectors Weaver mentioned as an alternative to expensive lighting.

The FAA recommended the court postpone requesting bids on a fire truck until after the Civil Aeronautics Board hearing with Texas International, which wants to discontinue service here.

Jean Sawicki, 2209 Runnels, reported loss Sunday of a color television; value $250.

Security Finance, 204 Runnels, reported loss of four flags for rodeo decorations.

Paula Stuteville, 800 E. 14th, reported loss of a tape cartridge case containing 20 tapes; value $100.

Six Texans Die As Plane Crashes In Thunderstorm

By The Associated Press

A twin-engine plane crash in a thunderstorm claimed six lives Sunday near Fort Worth and helped boost the violent death toll in Texas for the weekend.

VICTIMS LISTED

Altogether the state counted 23 fatalities, also including eight in traffic accidents, six shootings, two drownings and one in a train accident.

The plane, a Piper Aztec, cracked up near the west Tarrant County line, killing all aboard. They were A. V. Corpening Jr., 44, president of Corpening Enterprises, Inc., of Fort Worth; John A. Thornburgh, 52, vice president of the company; Thornburgh's wife Bonnie, 56; Rella Scoggin Walters, 35, the company's chief secretary, and John J. Dittmaier, 27, chief pilot of the firm, all of Fort Worth, and Virginia Drennan McKinney, 46, of Furlson, bookkeeper for Corpening Enterprises.

These were among the others dying violently:

George Allen Wheelington, 18, of Beaumont was killed Sunday when a pickup truck overturned on Texas 87 three miles north of High Island.

Leonard Lee Graham, 33, of Beaumont, was killed early Sunday when his car overturned on a freeway there early Sunday.

SHOT TO DEATH

At Sabine Pass, Larry Trahan, 21, of Beaumont drowned Sunday when he apparently slipped off a floating inner tube.

Two Dallas residents died Sunday during heavy thunderstorms—Willie Gregg, 33, whose car slammed into a freeway guard rail, and Arkhom Roongruan, 32, as another car entering a freeway knocked his into a ditch.

Simon Michalk, 62, was shot to death as he and his two brothers stood in a church parking lot Sunday in Corpus Christi. One brother was wounded critically when they were fired upon by two men who escaped.

BAR SCUFFLE

David Jamie Jr., 27, was shot and killed Sunday on another Corpus Christi church lot while he sat in his car. Police said the shooting followed an argument with the husband of a woman in his car. The husband surrendered to police.

Antonio Valdez, 27, drowned Sunday north of Andy Bowie Beach on Padre Island near Brownsville.

A scuffle at an Amarillo bar Sunday left Tommy Lee Davis dead of gun wounds.

Angel Morales Guerrero, 15, was killed Saturday when his motorcycle plunged into a ditch and hit a culvert at a Houston intersection.

Ex-convict Leonard King, 28, was shot to death Friday night at a Marshall residence. A woman, 31, was arrested.

Stock Extortion Scheme Charged

HOUSTON (AP) — A Harris County grand jury has indicted Lake Conroe developer James Henry Wilkerson for his alleged involvement in a $600,000 stock extortion scheme.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Mike Hinton said Wilkerson, 39, was arrested after the stock was transferred during a meeting at a restaurant.

Hinton said the investigation started when Houston land developer Charles Johnson, 31, told special Montgomery County prosecutors Wilkerson threatened to stymie Johnson's multi-million dollar Cape Conroe area development unless Johnson transferred 100 shares of Vest-Tex, Inc. stock to him.

Wilkerson reportedly told Johnson he had influence in Stanley Lake Municipal Water District, which controls vital water and sewer construction and services to the Johnson development, the attorney said.

Hinton said the indictment ended the investigation except for follow up interviews with water district personnel. Hinton said the district was not a part of the alleged scheme.

Nation's Energy Crisis Building, Day By Day?

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of the 4,000-member Independent Petroleum Association of America said today the nation's energy crisis is still building, day by day.

John Miller of Allegan, Mich., said the continued trend results from policy stalemate, inaction, great uncertainty, "and the plain political gamemanship being played out in Washington over energy matters."

Miller said the American people must understand there is only one hope for preventing an eventual cataclysmic energy famine.

FREE MARKET

"That hope is in bringing about a political and economic climate that will permit our historic free market system to work to bring forth massive capital investment, innovative research, technological application that is just theory today, and resource development on an unprecedented scale with environmental safeguards that work," he said.

Miller participated in a panel discussion on industry problems at the 28th annual meeting of the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

He said the costly and essential things for ending the energy crisis "will not be done by political hocus-pocus or chicanery by the advocates of federal price controls, stabilizing regulation, punitive tax actions, or federal oil companies."

UNEMPLOYMENT

He predicted the energy crisis will end "if government will get off the back of this industry and permit the dynamic forces and disciplines of a free market to balance supplies with demands to allocate our precious energy resources to their best and most efficient uses."

Miller added, however, that the petroleum industry currently is the battleground of many political ideologies committed to destroying America's free enterprise system.

Miller said politicians have held enough hearings on energy matters to know unmistakably that the real force of the energy crisis has not developed as yet.

"It is out there in the future, not very far, and when it happens there won't be just a little inconvenience of sitting in gasoline lines, there will be massive unemployment and unprecedented economic chaos," he said.

"The country will come to a virtual halt, simply because it runs on energy and it has no tolerance for the massive supply disruptions that are certain one day to come if present trends are not reversed. It may happen in spite of our best efforts, because of the tremendous lead time that we all know, and that the politicians all know, is involved in developing energy productive capacities and delivery capabilities."

Wichita Falls Editor Named

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Charles Ward was named Saturday as managing editor of the Wichita Falls Times and Record-News, returning to the newspaper after an absence of about two years.

Ward has been lecturing in the Journalism School at the University of Texas at Austin.

Ward was appointed by Rhea Howard, veteran editor and publisher of the newspapers, after the position had been vacant for several months.

William L. Donnell, a Times Publishing Co. vice president and long-time associate of Ward's, will continue as editorial director of the two newspapers which serve a 22-county area of North Texas and southern Oklahoma.

Howard noted that Ward served as managing editor for the Texas Star Sunday Magazine before joining the journalism department as a lecturer in 1973.

"We regard him as one of the outstanding men in the news profession, and it is with pleasure that we welcome him back to our staff," Howard said.

He served as reporter, business editor, columnist, political writer, city editor and assistant managing editor prior to leaving the staff in 1972.

During his leave of absence, Ward was active in Wichita County on behalf of Bill Hobby's lieutenant governorship campaign, and later worked as a press aide in the gubernatorial race of Frances Parnold.

Tornadoes, Floods Leave 23 Dead, Hundreds Hurt

By The Associated Press

Officials estimate that weekend tornadoes and floods that caused 23 deaths and left hundreds injured in three states caused damage of about $55 million.

Oklahoma and Kansas officials are seeking a presidential declaration of disaster for areas hit by tornadoes in their states.

Oklahoma Gov. David Hall tentatively estimated damage at $26 million. Damages in Kansas were estimated by officials to exceed $20 million.

$26 MILLION

The National Weather Service said the tornadoes that struck Saturday were part of a storm system almost as powerful as the one that struck the Midwest on April 3 and killed some 300 persons.

HOMES DESTROYED

Thirteen persons were killed in Oklahoma and six in Kansas on Saturday, officials reported.

About 250 persons were injured when twisters struck 13 towns and cities in Oklahoma. In Tulsa, about 11,300 structures were destroyed or damaged by as many as four tornadoes.

Nearly one-fourth of Tulsa's 330,000 residents were without electricity Sunday night. Public Service Co. crews in Tulsa had to rebuild some high-voltage distribution systems, a PSC spokesman said.

In Emporia, Kan., a tornado described by witnesses as a mile wide left six persons dead and destroyed 150 homes and

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AJ8 ♥87 ♣AK643 ♦AJ9

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—There is no satisfactory call available, so we suggest temporizing with the fancy bid of one spade. You are a point or two short of a two no trump rebid, and too strong for one no trump or two diamonds. You hope partner can take further action, so you can bid no trump at your next opportunity. The risk in bidding spades is not great, for if partner persists in raising, you might be in your best spot.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KQ1072 ♥882 ♣K64 ♦J4

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Two spades. Your opponents have not shown any great signs of strength, and partner should have a reasonable hand. Since you have the master suit, don't sell out too cheaply—competing for the part score is worth the risks involved.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q98643 ♥7 ♦J109 ♣A62

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 ♠ 1 ♥ 2 ♠ ?

What action do you take?

A.—Pass. Partner did not invite you into the auction. Your spade suit is weak, and partner might have the same support for your suit that you have for his. If partner wants to hear from you, he can reopen the bidding with a double.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AJ1095 ♥QJ8 ♣AK843

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South Pass Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three spades. The fact that partner was willing to try again after your two club rebid should spur you to carry on. Despite his original negative response, a rebid of your excellent spade suit might induce him to raise it game with a doubleton honor or three low cards.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠K962 ♥1075 ♣KQ98 ♣K5

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. You have 11 points in high cards, and should make a further move. The most likely game is in no trump, and the we have seen better heart stoppers, you should make a move in the right direction.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AJ92 ♥AK107 ♣6 ♦KQ65

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ ?

What action do you take?

A.—Pass. We are not in the habit of remaining silent with 17 points in high cards, but the opponents have bid our two best suits. If we step into the auction, partner is likely to persist in diamonds, which might prove disastrous. Our best shot is to let the opponents get too high.

Q. 7 — Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K54 ♥K9 ♦A1083 ♣Q1063

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 4 ♠ Pass 4 ♥ Pass 5 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six no trump. Your side appears to have the assets for 12 tricks, but your cue-bidding sequence has revealed that the ace of spades is missing. You should be declarer, for a lead thru the king of spades could be fatal if you bid the slam in clubs.

Q. 8.—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A983 ♥A652 ♦A72 ♣Q10

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Double. Partner is virtually marked with a singleton heart, so his distribution should match well with your hand. Indeed, if his response is in spades, you could easily have a game. However, if he bids a minor and the opponents proceed to three hearts, do not double. Be content to defend in the knowledge that you have pushed them one higher than they intended.

Clothing Contract Provides $1 Raise

NEW YORK (AP) — Picket lines remain up, but 110,000 garment workers striking 750 factories in 30 states might be back at work Wednesday if they follow their union's leadership and ratify a new labor contract.

The general executive board of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers union voted unanimously Saturday to recommend acceptance by the rank and file of a tentative pact with the Clothing Manufacturers Association of the U.S.A.

Terms of the suggested three-year pact provided for an average $1 raise in the average $3.50 hourly wage of the strikers.

The sources also said liberalized pension benefits and a clause to offset changes in the cost of living were included in the tentative agreement, affecting the striking machine operators, makers, cutters, and button and pocket makers who produce 95 per cent of the clothing for men and boys made in the nation.

A union spokesman said meetings would be held throughout the nation for the ratification vote to be taken "as speedily as possible so workers can return to work Wednesday" if the pact is approved. Pending such approval, he said, the picket lines would stay manned.

In a statement issued Sunday, directors of the employers' association indicated approval of the pact, reached Saturday in Washington at offices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

One week earlier, talks here between the union and the manufacturers collapsed, and the union called its first strike in 53 years.

MEXICAN CONNECTION

Heroin Traffic Into U.S. Reported On The Upswing

WASHINGTON (AP) — After two years of decline, heroin traffic into the United States is reported on the upswing, with Mexico replacing Europe as the primary source and conduit for the narcotic.

Federal drug enforcement officials say the heroin is refined from poppy plants grown in western Mexico, then shipped into the U.S.

At the same time, there is growing trade in marijuana from long-established sources in Mexico, leading to an intensified anti-smuggling campaign along the 1,400-mile border.

SYNTHETIC DRUGS

But some officials acknowledge that U.S. government efforts to cope with the illicit activity have been partially impeded by bureaucratic wrangling among agencies with jurisdiction over certain aspects of narcotics control.

The Customs Service, which has concentrated its own border drug interdiction efforts chiefly against the Mexican marijuana trade, contends that heroin traffic from there is negligible. Although heroin remains priority No. 1 because of the danger it poses, customs officials said synthetic drugs are their biggest worry.

on reaching the United States. During the peak years of heroin traffic, 1969-72, up to 80 per cent of the narcotic reaching U.S. shores came from or through Europe. Only about 15 per cent from Mexico.

Mexican heroin is easily identified by its brown color; the more refined product from European laboratories is white. But officials say there is no difference in the potency.

John R. Bartels Jr., director of the drug agency, said brown heroin, once confined mostly to the West Coast, recently has been turning up in eastern cities—one indicator used to determine source.

NOT HAPPY

He says he is skeptical of most drug statistics reported by government agencies and admits he is "not happy" even with the figures compiled by his own. The heroin situation is assessed by such indicators as seizures, quality of the drug, street prices and the number of deaths from overdose.

The Customs Service, deprived of some of its functions when the drug agency was created in President Nixon's general overhaul of drug enforcement systems a year ago, has doubled the number of individual marijuana seizures from Mexico in the past 10 months. Agents seized more than 83 tons of marijuana between October and March and 25 tons in the March-April period alone when the Mexican harvest was in full swing, official reports show.

GET ORGANIZED

In that time, Customs agents seized 8.33 pounds of heroin at all U.S. borders; 5.83 pounds came from Mexico.

The shift to Mexico as a major heroin source is due in part to the success of federal authorities in breaking up established connections from Europe, the Middle East and Asia, officials say.

Bartels says that while the international heroin traffic always has been controlled by the Mafia, the Mexican connection only now is showing signs that "these guys are now starting to get organized," he said.

Customs officers have complained that the Drug Enforcement Administration, responsible for intelligence and follow-up investigations, does not provide them with information to catch smugglers at the border.

Bartels' agency contends that such intelligence can be more effectively used to follow the drug conduit all the way to its destination in the hope of apprehending more important figures.

Family Seeking Missing Member

The family of George Jordan is seeking information of his whereabouts. He has been missing since Wednesday.

He was subject to occasional attacks of epilepsy, but apparently did not have any of his medication with him, said a family spokesman. He left home, probably around 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, and one report had him sighted at FM and 700 around 5:30 p.m., but officers were unable to find any trace of him.

Traffic Deaths Dip 27 Per Cent

AUSTIN (AP) — Traffic deaths are down 27 per cent from 1973, when Texans were still whizzing along at 70 miles per hour and gas was relatively cheap and abundant.

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported Saturday that 1,030 persons have died so far this year in traffic accidents, compared with 1,413 for the same period of 1973.

Fatal accidents are down 23 per cent, from 1,164 a year ago to 901 for the first five months and one week of 1974.

80,500 Persons In Big D Use Drugs, Study Shows

DALLAS (AP) — A federally-financed study by the Dallas Police Department says nearly one-tenth of the city's population uses drugs and that "uppers" and hallucinogens are more popular with whites while "downers" are more popular with blacks.

The study estimates 80,500 persons in the city use drugs. The population of Dallas is approximately one million.

The bulk of drug usage is with marijuana and hashish which the study says attracts 76,053 persons.

The findings projected totals using a formula based on 1973 drug arrests.

Besides marijuana, the study reported these types of usage: 5,107 persons using heroin and opiates; 8,264 using barbiturates and depressants; 3,998 using amphetamines and stimulants; and 8,413 using hallucinogens like LSD.

The report also supported theories in drug selection by whites and blacks.

It said blacks tend to be "overrepresented" in arrests involving narcotics and barbiturates while whites were "overrepresented" in arrests involving hallucinogens.

Use of marijuana was evenly proportioned, with 32 per cent of the 1973 marijuana arrests for blacks and 61 per cent for whites. The black population in Dallas is roughly 25 per cent.

The report also said the Mexican-American population tended to use less drugs in proportion to its population.

Most drug arrests in all categories involved men between the ages of 17 and 25.

West Texas Wildcatters Scoring Well

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Wildcatters, scoring well in West Texas and the Corpus Christi area, drilled 16 oil and 16 gas wells in the last half of May, the Texas Railroad Commission reported Thursday.

The exploration activity brought the year's totals to 112 oil and 152 gas discoveries. The oil finds are well above the 57 reported during the comparable period of 1973 but the gas discoveries were down by two.

Five oil discoveries were in the Wichita Falls district, four in the Lubbock district, two in the Abilene district and one each in the Midland, Kilgore No. 6, Corpus Christi, San Antonio No. 1 and San Antonio No. 2 districts.

Eight gas fields were located in the Corpus Christi district, four in the Midland district and two each in the San Antonio No. 2 and Houston districts.

The commission said 194 oil wells and 108 gas wells were completed during the May 15-31 period. That brought the year's total completions to 1,968 oil and 1,138 gas wells. The oil well completions compared with 1,759 during this period of 1973 and the gas well completions with 951 a year ago.

Uranium drilling applications during the last 16 days in May totaled 222, almost half of the 458 filed so far this year.

The commission also reported the average calendar day oil production allowable as of June 1 was 4,019,356 barrels, down 21,040 from the May 15 figure.

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

Miss Patrice Ann Sherrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Melvin Wolcott, 600 Runnels, and James Ward Gregg Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ward Gregg Sr., 1305 Pennsylvania were married Saturday at 7 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

Dr. Kenneth Patrick performed the ceremony beneath an archway of greenery flanked with baskets of lilies and chrysanthemums and candelabra. Miss Carrie Wheeler, vocalist, was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. John Birdwell.

The bride's formal white gown was overlaid with lace on the empire bodice and trimmed with clusters of seed pearls. The lace motif was used for edging the skirt and rounded train. The high neck was trimmed with lace and three-quarter length sleeves were gathered at the elbows. Her full-length veil was held by a cap of Chantilly lace.

Tea roses and daisies were arranged in a cascade for the bride's bouquet.

Miss Meri Copeland, Fort Worth, was maid of honor and was dressed in a full-length lace gown of lilac with empire waist that featured a bib trimmed with white lace. Miss Janis Gregg, the bridegroom's sister, was a bridesmaid, and was dressed identically. The attendants carried bouquets of purple cornflowers and babies'-breath.

Jackie Gregg of Austin was his brother's best man while Randy McKinney was groomsmen.

The bride's brothers, Earl Sherrill, Austin Sherrill and Kenneth Sherrill, were ushers.

Lynn Preas was the ring bearer.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to the Houston-Galveston area, they will reside at 910 Nolan.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, is employed by Marchant

MRS. JAMES WARD GREGG JR

Optical Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Lamar Consolidated High School in Rosenberg. He is employed at Big 3 Salvage and is also attending Howard College.

Following the wedding, the couple was honored at a reception in the Texas Electric Reddy Room where the bride's table was centered with her bouquet and baskets of flowers. The table was laid with a white cloth and silver and crystal appointments were used.

Miss Paula Preas registered guests, and Mrs. Henry Anderson and Miss Terry Nell Crumpton served.

Relatives attending from out of the city were Mrs. K. A. Pitt, the bride's grandmother, and Miss Elizabeth Daniels, both of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Foster, Albuquerque, N.M.; Mrs. J. B. Crumpton, grandmother of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Crumpton and Mr. and Mrs. James Crumpton, all of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Clark, Granbury and Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray, New Braunfels.

Problems

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Bob (not his real name) and I have been engaged since last Christmas. The problem is I am pretty sure I am pregnant, and my wedding is four months away. I probably shouldn't wear a white gown and veil, but I already bought mine, and if I can get into it I'm going to wear it.

I haven't told anybody but Bob, but I may have to tell my mother because I feel lousy in the morning, and she wasn't born yesterday.

If I'm pregnant, would it be okay to go ahead with the church wedding like I planned? We would tell people afterwards that the baby was premature. Rush your answer to me.

SUE (NOT MY REAL NAME)

DEAR SUE: First, see a doctor. If you're pregnant, make the wedding simple and soon. And don't count on fooling anybody who can count to nine.

DEAR ABBY: You are, once again, absolutely wrong. You recently advised a reader to fall for one of the oldest tricks in the book — to pay for more gas than she asked for simply because the attendant "made a mistake" and put an extra dollar's worth in her tank.

True, occasionally an attendant does make a mistake, but he is in business, and if it's his mistake he should bear the loss.

Would you pay the telephone company for a long distance call you didn't make but was billed to your number?

By now you know I am a lawyer. I doubt if you will print this, but if you do, please correct my spelling. I am too busy trying to persuade my clients that the legal advice they got from their barber, mechanic, plumber, garbageman, friend-who-had-a-similar problem and columnist is not really the law, not always entirely correct, and is very seldom complete and/or accurate.

UPSET
DEAR UPSET: C'mon. The principle involved in that "dollar's-worth-of-gas" letter must have eluded you. The customer said she'd go home to get another dollar and bring it back. She never returned. Then her child wrote to ask me what Mother should have done. I said: "Since she promised to return with the dollar, she should have!"

You're right. I wouldn't pay for a long distance call billed to me that I didn't make simply because that call is not a commodity I would eventually use. (Not so with the gas already in my tank.)

And if you write again, please include your name and address. I have more to say to you than I can fit into this column.

Carrying a bouquet of white and lavender carnations, the bride was attired in a formal wedding gown of white satin and lace. The gown was fashioned with a high, Victorian neckline. The bodice was trimmed with sequins, and the puffed sleeves were adorned with lace trim. Her matching headpiece held a bouffant veil of illusion.

Prior to leaving on a wedding trip to Columbus, Airman and Mrs. Hughes were honored at a reception in the Non-Commissioned Officers Club on base. Champagne punch was served with the wedding cake.

The bride is a graduate of Hirschi High School in Wichita Falls. She has been employed as a secretary in the Chuck Wagon Dining Hall on base. Airman Hughes graduated from East High School, Columbus before joining the Air Force. They will be residing in Little Rock.

Still Have Confidence

Americans may be miffed at the Administration, the Congress and a few other U.S. institutions, but more than two thirds express "quite a lot" of confidence in the future of the country, according to a recent Gallup poll.

As a matter of fact only 1 per cent of the whites and 5 per cent of the non-whites interviewed said they had no confidence in the future of the nation. On the up side, 72 per cent of the whites and 45 per cent of the non-whites expressed a high degree of confidence in the outlook for the nation.

The findings contrast sharply with the esteem in which Americans hold the legislative and executive branches of government. Congress received only a 30 per cent approval for its handling of the people's business and President Nixon's treatment of the Presidency was rated as good or better by only 25 per cent.

Results of the poll give substance to a point many have been arguing throughout the current messy situation in Washington. This still is a government of, by and for the people, based on law and a democratic philosophy and not on the personalities of office-holders. It has and will continue to survive under good or poor Congresses and Administrations so long as the people believe in the precepts handed down for almost 200 years. Principles, not personalities, have preserved the Union.

The Judiciary Article

It may be possible to make a convincing argument for combining the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals in Texas. But proponents of a "unified" judiciary system in arguments made to the Constitutional Convention judiciary section have so far failed to make a persuasive case. The judiciary article in the new Constitution is having trouble.

How can the two courts joined together do what neither has been able to do separately, namely expedite appellate procedure in criminal and civil matters? The case load could be reduced by limiting appeals, but this might result in justice denied. Errors at the trial court level can only be corrected at the appellate level. They cannot just be ignored without destroying public confidence in the justice system.

The argument for a unified court system in Texas seems curiously to reverse the argument currently being made to create an intermediate court of appeals to lighten the burden of the Supreme Court of the United States. The argument that one court is better than two in Texas and two courts are better than one at the federal level seems inherently illogical.

What we need is something to speed up the machinery without jeopardizing rights.

Old Wonder Drugs

Around The Rim
Tommy Hart

One thing and another:

GORDON SINCLAIR, who wrote that best-selling speech, called simply "Americans," which was set to music, didn't need the loot it brought in — he gave his share of the proceeds to the American Red Cross. Sinclair was already a millionaire when he composed the piece. Sinclair didn't research well enough for part of his oration, however. When the San Francisco earthquake occurred in 1906, the Canadian parliament voted to send $100,000 to the community to help in the recovery program.

YOU DATE back if you can remember when the wonder drugs were quinine, castor oil and NR pills. They succeeded probably because patients worked hard to get well rather than swallow any more of them.

Resolutions are not something confined to New Year's Day with parents of young children. They keep telling themselves daily: "I will modulate my voice when disciplining the kids . . . I will calmly answer their questions . . . I will be patient . . . I will let them fight their own battles . . . I will be nice to the brats down the street, and strive not to lose my temper when talking to their parents . . . I will retain my composure when one of my kids comes roller skating across the living room carpet."

HIS DOCTORS got worried when Euell Gibbons checked into the infirmary and his ailment was diagnosed as Dutch Elm Disease.

No longer ago than the 1940s, most people thought television was impossible. Now they're sure.

ONE OF the ironies of life is that by the time we get old enough not to care what anyone says about us, everyone ignores us.

Oh, for the days when Uncle Sugar lived within his income and could get along without most of yours.

THE RULES of math don't always prove out. You can sometimes travel the shortest distance and spend the most, if you're pushing a cart in a supermarket.

It doesn't take a Dick Tracy to tell a bachelor's apartment. That's the one where doorknobs, chairbacks and closet doors serve as coat hangers.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Why is it that in your newspaper column the people who ask you questions never reveal their names and addresses? Could it be you answer your own questions? A READER

A good commentary on this question is the very note that contained it. Neither date nor address nor name was shown. That's anonymity asking about anonymity.

Seriously, if the stack of letters, prompted by this column could be shown to this reader, it would be obvious what our problem really is. Simply which questions to use of the many submitted.

In a way when privacy seems to be eroding rapidly, it becomes then a quality of American life which we want to safeguard. Recently, it was revealed that even personal income tax records, once thought inviolate, now are accessible in a limited way to some official probes.

One of the revelations of Scripture is that God sees us and understands us, without announcement of our need or even our identity to fellow men.

This was implied in Matthew 6, where Christ says we are to go into our closet to pray. Although unknown to men, we are known to God.

We believe it's in the best interest of our readership to keep names of correspondents confidential. The problems and the solutions, however, belong to everybody.

A Banner Year

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Watergate Industries held its annual stockholders meeting at the federal courthouse in Washington last week, and Sherlock Springbinder, the chairman of the board, reported a windfall profit of $2 billion. Watergate Industries is a conglomerate that deals in all aspects of the Watergate affair from providing legal talent to selling memoirs of Watergate personalities.

MR. SPRINGBINDER told the happy stockholders, "The way things are going, Watergate should be one of the best growth stocks of 1974. The legal profession alone has earned $30 million, and very few of the trials have begun. By the time all the indictments are handed down we expect to have 30,000 lawyers working full time on motions. After the trials we will have another 5,000 producing appeals. Estimated net income from this division should bring in $100 million."

THERE WAS A great deal of applause.

"Our book division is also showing a great profit. We estimate that everyone involved in Watergate from John Dean to the mail room boy at the Committee for the Re-Election of the President will have a nonfiction or fiction book out by next Christmas. If you include newspapermen, defendants, prosecutors, former White House personnel, former attorneys general, milk producers, ex-CIA men, secretaries and grand jury foremen, we believe there will be 670,000 different books published this year, and the advances alone will come to $20 million. If President Nixon decides to write his book of what really happened, I could see another $10 million in added revenue."

THERE WAS more applause.

"The movie rights for Watergate are going very briskly. Robert Redford is working on 'All the President's Men,' and several other movie producers are reading projects, including 'Gidget Goes to the Watergate,' 'Lest Tango at the White House,' 'The Tapes of Wrath,' 'Lassie at the Supreme Court,' 'The Life of Bebe Re ozo' and 'Confessions of a Jewell Priest.'

SPRINGBINDER continued: "We also plan to go into TV in a big way if the impeachment trial takes place. We will produce Monday Night at the Senate with Howard Cosell and Frank Gifford, to Tell the Truth with Richard Nixon, I've Got a Secret starring Gordon Liddy and the Six Million Dollar Man with Maurice STANS.

"WATERGATE Industries is happy to announce it is going into the employment agency business, since it is estimated that there will be 345,890 White House aides looking for jobs in the next 12 months. Our congressional subpoena printing plant is now working 24 hours a day.

"Are there any questions?" Springbinder asked.

"Why aren't there more women involved with Watergate?" a militant stockholder shouted from the floor.

Springbinder answered nervously, "It's true that Watergate was strictly a white male affair, with very few exceptions. Women don't seem to be physiologically or mentally able to cope with all it takes to be part of a Watergate scandal."

A New Badge

NEW YORK (AP) — The quality of the stationery organizations allocate their executives may become a badge of office, the Cotton Fiber Paper Council says. The Commonwealth of Virginia, for example, now designates who among state office holders are entitled to 100 per cent cotton fiber content paper and envelopes, who get 50 per cent cotton paper, who 25 per cent, and on along the line. The higher the rank, the better the paper.

The council predicts that with this trend stationery will join corner offices, private washrooms and company jets as symbols of executive suite status.

'WHY, GRANDMA... WHAT A BIG NOSE YOU HAVE!'

'White-Collar Crime'

John Cunniff

By DEAN LOKKEN

(Substituting for John Cunniff)

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Mention "white-collar crime" and you're apt to evoke images of mild-mannered bank clerks skimming a few hundred dollars or office workers swiping company supplies.

But state and federal officials have uncovered in Utah what they say is white-collar crime running into millions of dollars, and they're filing charges in an attempt to halt it.

At a time when 14 individuals and three companies were indicted, federal officials said the crackdown was just beginning.

"When all criminal cases are finally completed, the Internal Revenue Service expects to have presented cases to the Department of Justice and the U.S. attorney's offices for prosecution in excess of 60 individuals on various federal tax violations," said C. Evan Wride, acting district director of the IRS in Utah.

The IRS attack on white-collar crime in Utah is being made by a special team of investigators operating under the title of "Project Shell." The name is derived from so-called shell corporations — publicly held, dormant companies with no assets or liabilities.

Of 63,000 corporations listed by the secretary of state, roughly half are shells, an assistant secretary of state says. Promoters buy control of the dormant companies, sell their stock and make off with the money.

Wride says one group acquired a company whose stock was worthless in late 1968, pumped questionable assets into it and managed to sell the stock for $13 a share.

W. Jerry Ungrecht, assistant Utah attorney general, was hired nearly three years ago to investigate securities problems.

He says the state attorney general's investigation into securities frauds "mushroomed to the point where we felt we needed federal assistance." The federal Law Enforcement Planning Agency this month approved nearly $100,000 for an "Economic Crime Unit" to help the state.

Ungrecht admits the state has been lax until recent years in policing securities transactions. He said the Uniform Securities Act, adopted in the early 1960s, is mainstay of state prosecutors.

"There was practically no prosecution up until now. County attorneys just weren't equipped to deal with it. It's very complicated and they didn't have the staffs to turn loose for several months of investigation on a single case," he said.

Agents estimate stolen stocks in the area run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars and phony stocks into the millions of dollars.

Charles D. Brennan, agent-in-charge of the Salt Lake City FBI office, said individuals are losing $5,000 to $50,000 in stock swindles.

He said fraudulent stock issued on Utah-based companies is turning up all over the country and in foreign countries.

Arthritis And Stroke

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will you discuss the difference between a stroke and arthritis? Sign me "one who had it." — Mrs. B. C.

Had "it"? Had which?

While I dote on short letters, you cut yours a little too short, I'd say, and I have to guess as to what your real question is.

Arthritis, of course, is an affliction of a joint or joints in the body. The joints become painful and stiff, and if a person doesn't know how to take care of arthritic joints (and doesn't realize how important it can be) joints can become "frozen," or unable to move.

The similarity between arthritis and a stroke is that a stroke may make a part of the body unable to move. The cause is entirely different, though.

With arthritis, the "freezing" of a joint is a slow, gradual process resulting from lack of use, inflammation and changes in the bone and other tissues in the joint.

When a stroke prevents movement, it is usually sudden and is from a totally different cause. There is no damage to the joints or the muscles.

Rather, it is because of damage in the brain, and part of the brain no longer is able to send "signals" over the nerves, telling the muscles to move in a particular way.

There is, in fact, a good deal of misunderstanding about what a stroke is. Some folks confuse a stroke with a heart attack. There's no similarity and no connection between the two.

A good many think that the paralysis of a stroke is something that happens in the area of paralysis. That is, let's say a patient finds he cannot move his left leg. Many think it means something has happened in the leg itself. That's not so. The leg is just as healthy right after the stroke as it was before the stroke. The damage was in the brain.

Every time you move a muscle, your brain sends a message along a nerve track telling the muscle exactly what to do. You may not consciously think of placing one foot before the other when you walk, but all the same every movement is directed by nerve impulses which travel at lightning speed for the brain.

Now suppose a blood vessel ruptures, or becomes clogged, so circulation to some part of the brain is disrupted. That portion of the brain stops working efficiently and, depending on the severity of the stroke, may lose the ability to send out messages to the muscles. Without these messages, muscles don't do anything. They just sit. That's paralysis from a stroke.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What makes a teenage girl (13) have oily hair? She washes it and the next day it is oily again. What can she do? — N. N.

Some folks' skin (including scalp) produces more oil than others, and there isn't anything to do about it. Except wash.

Adolescents are inclined to have excessive oiliness of skin and scalp, but this usually lessens as they grow a bit older.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's Booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis," write him in care of The Big Spring Herald enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

Reagan's Posture

Robert Novak

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — To the dismay of his political handlers, Gov. Ronald Reagan is no closer to a polite but clear break with President Nixon than he was a year ago and continues to resist that politically necessary rupture even as he prepares to run for President.

HIS ADVISERS certainly do not want Reagan to lead the posse into the White House to root out the President. Should Mr. Nixon not serve out his term and Vice President Ford succeed him, Reagan's 1976 chances would disappear. But the Reagan inner circle inches over his refusal to find any fault with the embattled President. During a one-hour interview with us in his state capitol office, Reagan uttered not one discouraging word about Mr. Nixon.

That spells trouble ahead in the opinion of Reagan advisers who want him to separate himself from the President at least as much as Ford has. While no Republican can win the presidential nomination by abusing Mr. Nixon, Reagan must nevertheless show himself purer, more ethical and perhaps even more conservative than the President. That Reagan has so far resisted this seems to be caused more by his own temperament than grand strategy.

REAGAN'S COMMITMENT to seek the 1976 nomination is a foregone conclusion. His inner circle, meeting secretly and regularly, is now recruiting additional members from outside California. Reagan himself is straining at the leash after eight years in Sacramento, eager to hit what he calls the "mashed-potato circuit" with the conservative rhetoric that propelled him into politics a decade ago.

HIS POLITICAL advisers, having watched plain, dull Jerry Ford in action, are confident their man can win — if these two conditions prevail: Mr. Nixon serves out his term and Reagan avoids being tagged as the Nixon apologist against an independent Ford. Yet, although the outspoken Reagan did not hesitate to snipe at the President during Mr. Nixon's first term, he has flinched from criticism since the Watergate scandal broke 14 months ago.

REAGAN TOLD us here that in reading two-thirds of the White House transcripts, he found no criminal activity by Mr. Nixon, adding that the President's detractors had turned to "vague areas like morality and so forth." He was not overly critical about the Oval Office conversations: "I've had some meetings in this office, when I've been enraged at the legislature that I would not have wanted my mother to hear."

Apart from Watergate, Reagan did not echo criticism of some conservatives that a Watergate-precipitated President has not controlled runaway federal spending. Nor did he agree with even wider conservative unease over detente in the face of rising Soviet military power. Contending the U.S. has "enough of a lead so that we are the strongest country in the world," Reagan said Mr. Nixon has "a success record (internationally) that justifies our giving him a little bit of confidence." He referred to the Jackson amendment on Russian Jewish emigration, favored by many Republican conservatives, as "grandstanding."

UNHAPPY OVER Reagan's appearing as a Nixon apologist, one of the governor's senior aides later told us we asked the wrong questions and should have inquired about welfare reform and legal services for the poor. Reagan has been pressing the President to veto the legal services bill and play down his new family assistance plan.

Indeed, those programs are of such concern to the ideological right that Reagan's opposition to them has helped mollify the ultra-conservative Human Events, which last January complained that "Reagan felt constrained to walk in lockstep with the President . . . on virtually all matters." But what most subdues right-wing criticism of Reagan is dissatisfaction with Ford. The Vice President's embrace of liberal Republican Rep. Pete McCloskey of California outraged right-wing Republicans beyond this state's borders (including influential Mississippi state chairman Clarke Reed).

However, the mass of Republicans are still in love with Ford.

'Homemade' Wills Pitfalls

People who write their own wills often have a weakness for flowery phrases. Unfortunately, literary style does not count in the interpretation of legal documents. Take the case of a well-meaning widow who left "all my worldly possessions" to a beloved friend.

CLEARLY, this included her personal belongings. But did it also include a sizeable piece of real estate that she owned?

Several relatives turned up in court, insisting they were entitled to the realty. After years of litigation, the beloved friend lost out. The court said that, as nearly as it could figure out from the context, the widow had not intended the disputed language to cover the real estate.

IN ANOTHER HOMEMADE will case, the phrase "Personal things" proved to be a stumbling block. A woman left "my jewelry and other personal things" to her two sisters.

But a brother promptly laid claim to her stocks, bonds, and cash, which he said were not "personal things." However, there was evidence that the woman had often spoken of the securities and the money as her "things." Accordingly, the court decided they were all included in the bequest to the sisters.

EVEN THE PLAINEST of words can turn out to be ambiguous when put under close scrutiny by rival claimants to an estate. Major court battles have been waged over the meaning of "house," "farm," and "barn," not to mention "if," "and" "or," "to," and even "et cetera."

TRUE, HOMEMADE wills sometimes do work out satisfactorily. But generally speaking, disposing of an estate is no job for an amateur. The person who writes his own will won't be available when it goes into effect, to explain what he meant. Too often, that becomes the business of the courts.

A Devotion For Today

"We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints, for the hope which is laid up for you in heaven." (Colossians 1:3-5)

PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee for the early church and for the writings of Paul, the great apostle, that have come to us for our guidance. Help us to be true followers of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, in whose name we pray. Amen.

Green Ready For Vacation Following Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Hubert Green admits that he is mentally tired—that the week-in, week-out grind of golf is getting to him.

After pocketing $30,000 for winning the $150,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic Sunday with a 17-under-par 271, Green talked more enthusiastically about a two-week vacation than this week's U.S. Open Championship at Winged Foot Country Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y.

"I haven't missed a tournament in months," said Green, who compiled rounds of 70-67-65-65 for his third tour victory of the year. "But the grind gets to you."

What about the Open, the most prestigious title in golf? "I'd like to win it, but I enjoyed winning here," he said, waving toward the 6,708-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course he had just wrecked. "I like to do well, and the way I've played the last few weeks is nothing to turn my face down about."

"I'll get in my car and drive to New York and play hard. If I get whipped, fine. I'm going to take two weeks off. I won't play again until the Milwaukee Open."

Green, 27, who previously this year won the Bob Hope Desert Classic and the Greater Jacksonville Open, boosted his 1974 earnings to $156,165, second only to top money-winner Johnny Miller. He shattered the 72-hole tournament record at Whitemarsh by three strokes. ### Tribe Rips Optimists

Charles McKinney's grand slam homer sparked the McMahon Indians to a 16-6 triumph over the Optimists Saturday in a Big Spring Hi-Junior League matchup, called after five innings.

McKinney, who also scored three runs himself, had help at the plate from Johnny Jones, who straddled a pair of singles as the team moved to 2-2. David Spence was the winning pitcher.

Kenneth McMurtry suffered the loss for the Optimists, winless in five starts. McMurtry had a home run in the losing effort.

HAWK RECRUIT — Larry Erves of Warren Central High School in Vicksburg, Miss., signs a letter of intent as Howard College Coach Harold Wilder, right, Hawk assistant Leroy McClendon, center, and Warren coach Johnny White look on. Erves, a 6-4 all-star, is the sixth Hawk to sign this year.

Astros Crush New York, 11-1

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros Manager Preston Gomez says when a team is hitting everything else picks up.

The Astros were hitting Sunday as they banged out 13 hits and crushed the New York Mets 11-1.

"I knew we were a better hitting team than we have shown," Gomez said. "When you're hitting, everything else perks up, the fielding, pitching and all."

Tommy Helms and Doug Rader each knocked in a pair of runs for the Astros, and Tom Griffin scattered eight hits in registering his seventh victory against two losses.

Helms' bases loaded single staked Houston to a 2-0 lead in the second inning. Of Mets starter and loser Jerry Koosman, 5-4, and Rader hit his sixth home run in the fourth and doubled in a run in the seventh.

The Astros added three runs in the fifth on two walks, Cesar Cedeno's single, a sacrifice fly and a delayed double steal.

College World Series Resumes

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The 28th College World Series was scheduled for a four-game card today.

A first round game between Seton Hall and Southern Illinois was postponed Sunday for a second straight night by wet grounds.

Seton Hall, 33-8, played Southern Illinois, 47-10, at 10 a.m. today, and the loser faced Texas, 52-7, in an elimination game at 1 p.m.

Vicksburg's Erves Signs With Hawks

Larry Erves, one of the players Howard College basketball coach Harold Wilder hopes to begin "rebuilding" with, has signed a letter of intent with the Hawks.

Erves, a standout at Warren Central High School in Vicksburg, Miss., signed the agreement last week in his home as Wilder and Hawk assistant Leroy McClendon looked on.

"We lost five starters, so we had to look for people who could help us right away," Wilder said. "We think Erves can start for us at forward next year and really contribute. He certainly has all the tools."

Erves, 6-4, brings a long list of honors with him to Big Spring. Averaging 22.1 points and 10.4 rebounds a game, Erves hit 49.5 per cent of his field goals and 67.8 from the foul line in leading Warren Central to a 30-6 season and second place in the large schools division at the state meet.

He was All-District and All-Little Dixie for the second straight year, making Little Dixie's Most Valuable in 1973-74, and he also earned all-state honors as a senior. In taking MVP honors at Warren Central for the second consecutive year, Erves was named All Southern Mississippi and was named to three all-tournament teams.

Erves topped off the honors by gaining a spot in the Mississippi All-Star game this August.

The new Hawk is the sixth recruit signed by Wilder. He joins Big Spring's Randy Marshall, Marvin Johnson of De Ridder, La. and Darron Hodges, Ronald Myres and Ernest Lawrence of Cleveland, Miss.

Erves, who played for the Rebels in 1973-74, averaged 22.1 points and 10.4 rebounds a game, hitting 49.5 per cent of his field goals and 67.8 from the foul line.

LITTLE LEAGUE Rebels Blank Yankees, 9-0

The Rebels stunned the Yankees 9-0 on two-hit pitching by Weldon Nichols and Byron Harris Saturday in a National League upset, highlighting local Little League action.

Mike Ballantine went four-for-four at the plate and Nichols and Tony Deel had two hits apiece as the Rebels evened their NL mark at 7-7. Harris also added a triple for the winners, while Deel and Roy Worthy managed doubles in the 10th hit attack.

For the Yankees, who fell to 11-3 but still retained the league lead, Mark Knight suffered the loss. Mark Harris had a double.

In other LL action, the Jets trimmed the Cabots 11-2 in the American League and the Pirates drilled the Cubs 12-6 in a Texas League tilt.

David Matlock and Bruce Carroll slapped two singles apiece and Brent Pearce scattered six hits as the Jets rolled to their easy win. Mark Vassar had a triple and Stacy Pruitt stroked a pair of singles for the losers, while Jody Dowdy was on the mound.

Winning pitcher Sammy Torres smacked three hits and Ron Hamilton chipped in three more as the Pirates dumped the Cubs and lifted their standing to 7-6. Both Hamilton and Torres had doubles.

In an American League clash Friday, the Colts continued to tune up for the playoffs with a 15-6 drubbing of the Stars. Bill Davey was the winning hurler for the Colts, now 14-1, while Brent Odom, Mike Christian and Mike Workman each had a double and a single to spark the hitting attack. Jim Freeze and Tim Freeze also shined at the plate.

For the Stars, losing pitcher Darrell Martin smacked a home run while Jimmy Ferguson had a pair of hits. The Stars are now 5-7.

In an AL Pee Wee clash Saturday the Tigers topped the Panther 6-3 behind Ricky Wallace's home run. Scott Mayhall and Steve Sandridge also starred at the plate for the Tigers, now 7-3, and Tony Vasquez was the winning pitcher.

Fast Pitch Needs Fans

Charles Boadle, president of the Church Softball League, says that the loop this year is one of the strongest in years.

All it needs is more spectators, and possibly a few more players, he adds.

Boadle urged fans to turn out any Monday or Friday evenings when games are played at 7:15 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. in the Comanche Trail Park diamond.

The league had expressed its appreciation to Johnny Johansen, park superintendent, and to Ronnie Schmidt for improvements in lighting, the playing field and general maintenance, says Boadle.

The league is currently in its fourth round of games, and in July the top four teams will have a championship tournament, according to Boadle.

Individuals interested in playing may contact the member teams: West Side Baptist, Trinity Baptist, Church of Nazarene, Hillcrest Baptist, First Christian Church, Assembly of God, Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic, Crestview Baptist and First Presbyterian.

CAB Hearing Is Week Away

All signals are green for the June 18 hearing here by the Civil Aeronautics Board on the application of Texas International Airways to suspend service here.

TIA has filed its rebuttal in the case, but this indicated no departure from previous pleadings, according to preliminary examination of the petition.

Meanwhile, there are indications that Dallas and Fort Worth, both cities and chambers of commerce, and North Texas Chamber of Commerce may intervene here in behalf of Big Spring.

The City of Big Spring, Howard County and the Chamber of Commerce have joined to contest the proposed cancellation of TIA, which first had unsuccessfully asked summarily for a temporary suspension.

Stormy Session Still Echoes At Convention

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Constitutional Convention delegates returned to work today with many of them still talking about Saturday's tumultuous session.

The convention technically completed work on the General Provisions Article Saturday but a series of motions to reconsider votes and submit issues separately are still pending.

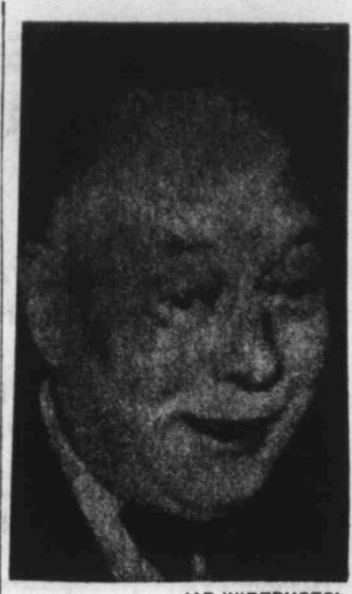

Convention President Price Daniel Jr. remained optimistic. "I still say if we can continue to make the progress we have been making on General Provi-

Three Midland Men Held In Beating Death

MIDLAND — Three men are being held in lieu of $25,000 bond each after they were charged in the beating death of Santos Hinojos Duran, 52, here 2:40 a.m. Saturday.

Duran's body was found in the parking lot of a cafe in Midland's south side. Rudy Hernandez Sanchez, Manuel Hernandez Sanchez, his brother, and Baltimore Arocha Ruiz, were arrested five hours later.

Justice of Peace Biggs was withholding a verdict pending results of an autopsy. However, officers said they had a witness who claimed he had been held at rifle point while Duran was beaten. This, said officers, stemmed from a barroom fight said to have occurred about two hours earlier between Duran and one of the Sanchez brothers.

Wanted IRA Leader Gives Funeral Oration For 'Hero'

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — A fugitive leader of the Irish Republican Army gave the funeral oration at the grave of hunger striker Michael Gaughan, but police made no attempt to arrest him before thousands of mourners.

A 17-man IRA honor guard clad in black and 2,000 mourners escorted the body of Michael Gaughan from Dublin on Sunday to the grave in Ballina, his hometown in County Mayo.

David O'Connell, a top chief-tan of the Provisional wing of the outlawed IRA, defied about 100 uniformed and plainclothes police to deliver the graveside eulogy.

Wanted by authorities in both the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland, O'Connell was surrounded by a guard of IRA men in black berets. But the police made no attempt to arrest him or to stop the IRA honor guard who fired a volley of pistol shots over the coffin, and O'Connell disappeared in the crowd of about 7,000 persons.

Gaughan, 24, died Monday after a 64-day fast in a prison.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Clarence "Buster" Crabbe, who portrayed "Tarzan" and "Flash Gordon" in acting roles, is reported in good condition at St. Vincent's Hospital with a virus.

on the Isle of Wight. He and five other IRA prisoners in England had been fasting to press demands for transfer to prisons in Northern Ireland and status as political prisoners.

The other hunger strikers, including the sisters Marion and Dolours Price, quit their fast Saturday.

EARL RELEASED
Early Sunday, their kidnapers freed the Earl and Countess of Donoughmore in a Dublin park. The 67-year-old countess said they were told they were being let go "because the hunger strikers stopped striking."

Lord Donoughmore, 71, told newsmen he could not positively identify his captors, "but I imagine they were members of the IRA."

The two were bruised and shaken but otherwise in good health. Lord Donoughmore's coat was bloodstained, and he had a black eye and a cut on the back of his head. He said that after the initial scuffle when they were seized outside their country mansion they were treated well.

The earl, a Protestant, said his captors told him they kidnaped him because he once was a member of the British Parliament.

In Northern Ireland, a bomb exploded at a racetrack on the outskirts of Belfast, killing a young girl and injuring seven other persons. The track was in a Roman Catholic district, but some of the injured were Protestants.

DIES — The Duke of Gloucester, last surviving child of King George V and uncle to Queen Elizabeth II died today in his country home in Northamptonshire, England. He was 74. He is survived by his wife and one son, Prince Richard, who succeeds to the dukedom.

Kennedy Is Rated Over Gerald Ford

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy would outpoll Vice President Gerald R. Ford if a presidential election were held now, according to the latest Gallup poll.

In a poll of 1,543 adults May 10-13, 50 per cent preferred Ford and 11 per cent were undecided on how they would vote.
