LED COUP IN NORTH YEMEN — Col. Ibrahim el Hamdi, 31, above, led the military coup Thursday that overthrew the North Yemenese government of President Abdul Rahman Iryani. Leftist Beirut newspapers predicted today Hamdi's new military junta is expected to swing the Red Sea republic into line with Saudi Arabia.

Oil Refunds Misleading?

HOUSTON (AP) — Two oil companies have labeled as misleading an Internal Revenue Service news release regarding the refund of some $3 million for overcharges and price rollbacks.

The IRS release issued Thursday said that Texaco, Exxon USA and Shell Oil Co. and 137 other Texas businesses had agreed to refund overcharges for rental payments and other services.

An Exxon spokesman said a $630,000 overcharge figure quoted by the IRS is incorrect and that the agency failed to point out that Exxon had repaid a substantial amount of the overcharges, if not all of them.

A Shell spokesman said no IRS audit was involved in the overcharges and all of the adjustments and repayments had been made 11 days after the price announcement in 1973. The spokesman said during those 11 days Shell had been asking the Federal Energy Office for an interpretation of the rules of the price freeze.

IRS said the company had agreed to repay more than $1.7 million in overcharges nationally.

The IRS release, which was attributed to Jim Hundley, stabilization manager for the agency's southern district, listed companies and the amount to be refunded.

Hundley was unavailable for comment but the Houston Post quoted Gene Waters, an IRS spokesman in Austin, as saying the three oil firms increased station rental cost in 1973 after a FEO price freeze was issued on May 15 of that year. He said the amount to be repaid by the oil companies totaled $2.5 million.

The Exxon spokesman said the overcharges had nothing to do with products offered by the company and only involved a limited number of service stations across the country.

Both Exxon and Shell said they were enforcing union contract agreements at the time of the freeze.

The IRS news release said the other 137 companies, including three Houston car dealerships, were involved in price rollbacks and overcharges that totaled $500,000.

The World At-A-Glance

WARREN, Mich. (AP) — A judge has reconvened his mobile court and ordered the arrest of 10 more wildcat strikers outside the Dodge Truck plant where he ordered 20 strikers arrested Thursday. Picketing resumed there today despite a warning from Macomb County Judge Hunter D. Stair. Appearing in his black robe atop a Dodge flatbed truck, he ordered local police to arrest protesters for violating his anti-picketing ban. He had dismissed the charges against those protesting United Auto Workers arrested Thursday. The pickets were protesting what they say are safety and health hazards, work speedups and harassment and discrimination at the plant. Officials of the local do not support the strike.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Every day, not just June 14, is Flag Day for Mel Shikora. A leading flag manufacturer, Shikora says air pollution and superpatriots are good for his business. He runs says he can't wait for 1976 when he expects an unprecedented run on American flags and red, white and blue bunting to spruce up bicentennial celebrations.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Nixon is likely to return from the Middle East convinced there can be no peace in the area until the Palestinian question is resolved. The importance of the Palestinian issue was highlighted Thursday when three guerrillas attacked an Israeli settlement in an attempt to mar Nixon's triumphant visit to Cairo. A guerrilla spokesman told newsmen in Beirut the raid was a demonstration of "how every Arab should receive Nixon, the chief imperialist in the world." Egyptian President Anwar Sadat bluntly told Nixon Thursday night that the United States must do more to settle the Palestinian question. The topic is expected to come up again when Nixon visits the leaders of Saudi Arabia, Syria and Jordan.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The outline of a new world monetary system has emerged, and it will replace gold with the so-called Special Drawing Right. The decision emerged from a meeting of the Committee of 20, comprising world financial leaders. The monetary system will regulate the value of world currencies in international financial transactions, and, ultimately, the price other countries pay for American goods.

U. S. Nuclear Aid To Egypt Unfurled

JIDDA, Saudi Arabia (AP) — President Nixon announced today a program of U.S. aid to Egypt for the development of nuclear power for peaceful purposes. Then he flew to this desert kingdom for the second stop on his Middle East journey.

BULLETIN

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev declared today the Soviet Union is ready "right now" to reach an agreement with the United States on limitation and eventual termination of underground nuclear tests.

Nixon was embraced by King Faisal as he stepped from his jetliner on arrival from Cairo. A moderately large but subdued crowd of Saudi Arabians lined the streets in 90-degree, humid weather; this was the Moslem Sabbath and there was none of the cheering and jubilation that greeted Nixon on his arrival last Wednesday in Cairo and again in Alexandria on Thursday.

Nixon promised nuclear aid for Egypt in announcing a large-scale program that would embrace industrial and agricultural development for the Arab nation by 1980.

It would help bring Egypt into balance with Israel, which has had reactors for some time for the development of nuclear power for peaceful purposes.

The Israeli government said it must closely examine the issue of U.S. nuclear aid to Egypt before issuing any official reaction. But the Israeli state radio gave the nuclear news as the first item in its bulletins, indicating Israeli concern over the possibility of Egypt developing nuclear weapons.

After an overnight stay in Alexandria, a visit to the Pyramids and a final conference, Nixon and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt appeared together at a ceremony in Cairo to announce a joint statement of principles. It included agreements worked out earlier by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Sadat.

No figures were given on what the aid would cost.

The joint statement said the American and Egyptian governments will negotiate an agreement to enable Egypt to generate nuclear power by the early 1980s. "Upon conclusion of such an agreement, the United States is prepared to sell nuclear reactors and fuel to Egypt," the statement said.

NOW WHAT? — President Richard Nixon gives the copy of the agreement he signed to President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and takes other copy to sign in Cairo today.

Horse Platoon Booked Here

Another major attraction has been added for the 41st annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo here next week.

The First Cavalry Division Horse Platoon, a colorful riding group from Fort Hood, will ride in the Wednesday afternoon parade, then will be spotlighted in a special precision mounted drill at the opening performance that evening.

Members are costumed in uniforms and regalia reminiscent of nearly a century ago. The unit hearkens back to the days when the cavalry guarded the frontier.

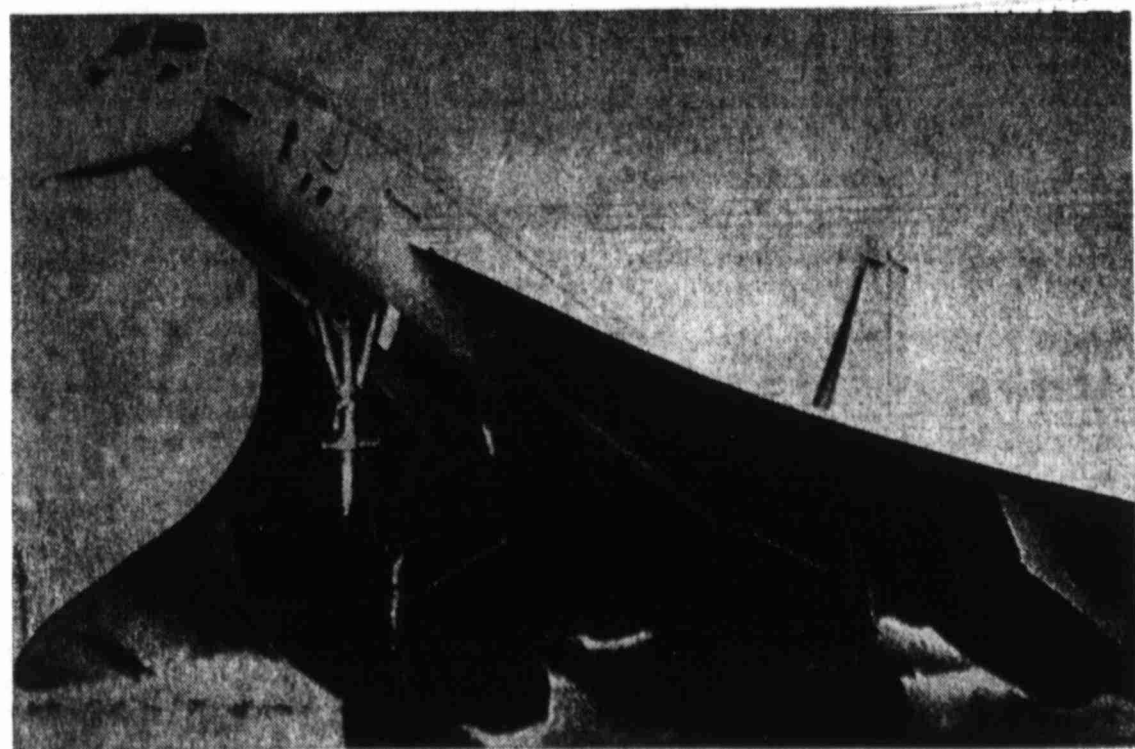

Indications are that the 30 members of the platoon will arrive here Monday from San Angelo, and will practice Tuesday at the rodeo bowl.

Meanwhile, Tommy Steiner will begin movement of truck loads of rodeo stock here from the Paris, Tex. rodeo over the weekend, and by Monday all the stock should be on hand resting and being conditioned for the four big nights shows Wednesday through Saturday.

Features, other than rapid-fire action in the arenas, include appearance of Jim Ed Brown and the Cates Sisters also recording star Barbara Fairchild; and a calf dressing contest between various organizations and components at Webb AFB.

Long Shot

More of the same. Through Saturday a 20 per cent chance of rain. High today and Saturday in the 90s. Low tonight, mid 60s. Southerly and southwesterly wind 5-15 m.p.h. this afternoon.

CONCORDE TOUCHES GROUND — The Concorde supersonic jet touched down at Miami's International Airport after leaving Boston's Logan Airport. The flight took 80 minutes for its brief visits to Miami.

RUBBLE Gulf Oil Skyscraper Blasted

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The radical Weather Underground has claimed responsibility for an explosion which shattered offices on the 29th floor of the Gulf Oil Corp.'s skyscraper headquarters.

No injuries were reported, but police said damage from the Thursday night blast was extensive. Assistant Police Supt. Robert Coll said the cause of the explosion was "apparently dynamite."

The blast tore a hole two feet in diameter in the floor, shattered windows and left a jumble of furniture and lamps in the offices of Gulf Asian Corp., a Gulf subsidiary. There was no fire.

A switchboard operator at the building received a telephone warning from someone claiming to represent the Weather Underground about 20 minutes before the explosion. Police and firemen were beginning to search the 38-story building when the bomb went off. Seven were trapped in an elevator for about 40 minutes.

One of the trapped men, Fire Capt. James Flavin, later said the explosion "blew off every elevator door" on the 29th floor. The bomb apparently was planted across the hall from the elevator bank, authorities said.

Minutes before the explosion at 9:43 p.m. EDT, The Associated Press received a telephone call from a woman who claimed to be a member of the Weather Underground. She said the group had planted a bomb in the building in retaliation for Gulf's racial policies in Portugal's African colony of Angola.

Election Contest Motion Is Granted

EASTLAND — The 11th Court of Civil Appeals here has granted a motion to advance the Cox-Crittenden primary election contest on the docket.

The motion was filed by William Kerr Sr., attorney for Mrs. Peggy Crittenden.

M. Fern Cox, the incumbent district clerk, tied with Mrs. Crittenden for the Democratic nomination when District Judge Weldon Kirk decided to count a misplaced ballot.

Houses Too Expensive

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Only one American family in three can afford to buy a new house anymore, the president of the American Association of Homebuilders says.

"Almost 90 per cent of the homes under construction today are being built for the top 36 per cent of the population," Herman Smith told a conference of Texas housing officials Thursday.

In Texas urban areas, it is no longer possible to build a house that sells for $15,000, he said. Building costs have escalated to $18 a square foot, and city codes and ordinances usually limit the size of new construction to at least 1,000 square feet.

Tom Forrester Lord, president of the Houston Housing Development Corp., agreed that families with low or moderate incomes are being priced out of the new housing market.

Lord said a Houston firm that built houses for $13,000 in 1968 sells exactly the same house for $21,000 today. In 1968, a family with an income of $500 per month could qualify for a loan to buy the house. Now it takes a monthly income of more than $1,000.

"What's happened to us is nobody's fault," said Everett Mattson, senior executive vice president of the Lomas Nettleton Co. of Houston, a mortgage banking firm. "It's inflation—inflation is the culprit of the whole thing, and we've got to figure out how to get it under control."

$51,440 To Help 106 HC Students

Congressman Omar Burleson today announced approval of a college work study grant to Howard College in the amount of $51,440. This is for an estimated 106 student awards.

Federal funds provide 80 per cent of the student payroll, the balance of which comes from the college, other community agencies, or a combination of both.

Nab Four In $350 Kidnaping Caper

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Police are holding four men accused of kidnaping a man who allegedly owed them $350.

Officers said one of the prisoners—Melvin Weatherall, 24, of Dallas—remains in Bexar County Hospital, where he was taken after being shot during the arrest Wednesday.

Authorities said Cruz R. Pina, 19, was abducted on his way to work Wednesday morning. His mother was contacted and told her son would be released as soon as the $350 debt was settled.

The four were arrested by undercover policemen at the spot where the money was to be paid. Police said Weatherall was shot as he went for a gun.

Those charged with kidnaping in addition to Weatherall are David Mayberry, 35; Sherman Hughes, 28; and Vernon Barnett, 37, all of San Antonio.

HUSH MONEY ISSUE Nixon Said 'We Should Buy Time'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Nixon said in a controversial March 21, 1973, meeting that "we should buy time," rather than "we can buy time" by paying hush money to a Watergate conspirator, according to a memorandum quoted by the Los Angeles Times.

Nixon has said he knew nothing of the Watergate cover-up before the meeting with his then-counsel, John W. Dean III.

In the edited transcripts of Watergate conversations the White House released in April, Nixon is quoted as saying to Dean during that meeting that "we can buy time" by making a $120,000 payment to convicted conspirator E. Howard Hunt Jr. But Nixon has publicly stated that he added, "But that would be wrong."

The memo quoted in the Times, however, says the tape shows Nixon said "we should buy time" by making the cover-up payment. And the memo points out that "Hunt's blackmail demand... was subsequently paid the same day," the Times said.

The memo, one of two prepared for several Democratic members of the House Judiciary Committee by staff attorney William P. Dixon, discusses what it says are discrepancies between the edited public transcripts and the actual tapes of those conversations. The committee is considering Nixon's impeachment.

Osorio Reportedly Serving Time In Fed Prison Camp

AMARILLO (AP) — John Osorio, the biggest figure who has been sentenced to actually serve time in prison in the Sharpstown bank-bribery scandals of the 1970s, has been ordered to report to custody. Emmett Colvin, his attorney, said in Dallas that Osorio flew to Phoenix and turned himself in to officers June 3. He was assigned to the minimal security prison camp at Stafford, Ariz., about 125 to 150 miles from Phoenix. Osorio is a former state insurance commissioner and former president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co., which figured heavily in the Sharpstown scandals. He was sentenced Jan. 23, 1974 to three concurrent terms in prison and fined a total of $6,000 on three counts of embezzlement. The Amarillo federal court said today that Osorio asked to be allowed to surrender to Arizona prison officials by June 3 and he turned himself in at the federal courthouse in Phoenix. EMBEZZLEMENT The charge against Osorio was embezzlement of $41,250 from the National Bankers Life Employees' Pension Fund and using it to buy inflated National Bankers Life Insurance Co. (NBL) stock. Osorio on May 30 asked U.S. District Court Judge Hal Woodward for a stay of execution of his sentence. This Woodward denied. Osorio followed this by asking to report to Arizona officials. Osorio in other trials was acquitted of several charges. Some of the smaller figures in the Sharpstown scandals have been sentenced to probation and others were put on probation. STARTED SCANDAL Frank Sharp, pointed to in several hearings as the man who started the scandals, received a three-year probation prison term which lawyers for other defendants have claimed was a tradeout with federal prosecutors for immunity so he would testify against other defendants. But he did not add materially to previous evidence in his court appearances. The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) alleged in a civil action that Sharp, head of the Sharpstown State Bank of Houston, sought state banking legislation. The agency alleged Sharp was angry at federal banking regulations and wanted the legislature to supercede them. BILLS VETOED To do this, the SEC, said Sharp allowed legislators and other public officials to buy NBL stock on poor collateral and then manipulated it upward, allowing the officials to make quick profit. The banking bills passed the legislature but were vetoed by Gov. Preston Smith, who himself profited $62,500 from the deals. The SEC charges and subsequent state investigations opened a whole box of action leading to state and federal charges some of which were only on the fringes of the original Sharpstown scandals. Osorio at the end of the Amarillo trial alleged that the federal government's main target was Ben Barnes, Texas lieutenant governor at the time. Osorio claimed the indictments were obtained after he refused to say he "bought off Barnes" on the banking bills in the legislature. "If I'd bought off Barnes, I'd have told them so, but I didn't. They said they thought I was lying."

THE BEST OF ENEMIES — Margie Hess, the mayor of the small Central Florida town of Lake Mary, holds hands with her husband George on the lawn of their home. Mrs. Hess says she holds no grudge against her husband despite his efforts to ouster her from office with a recall petition. Hess is opposed to the mayor's plans to allow construction of a big subdivision near the town.

Acquittal Of Policeman Sparks Protesting By Mob

NEW YORK (AP) — A predominantly black area of Queens was calm today after hundreds of angry residents staged a window-smashing protest against a white policeman's acquittal in the fatal shooting of a 10-year-old black. A policeman suffered a broken rib while helping disperse one of the youthful crowds that gathered Thursday night in the South Jamaica section. Another policeman was hit on the shoulder by a rock. Several cars were overturned, store windows were broken and three cash registers were taken from a fast-food restaurant. One person was arrested and charged with assault, resisting arrest and unlawful assembly. Three others were given summonses for disorderly conduct. At the Jamaica police station, Mayor Abraham D. Beame said shortly before midnight that the situation was under control and injuries had been fewer than feared originally. The incident followed the acquittal Wednesday of Patrolman Thomas Shea, who shot and killed Clifford Glover on April 28, 1973. Shea was the first city policeman ever indicted on a charge of committing murder while on duty. Shea had testified that he and a partner were questioning the boy and the youngster's stepfather about a taxicab holdup when the two began to run. He said he fired when the Glover boy appeared to draw a gun. "WE WANT SHEA" The stepfather said they were not armed and fled because they feared the plainclothes policemen were robbers. A police search of the scene turned up no weapon. The shooting touched off several days of demonstrations in the area. On Thursday night the crowds shouted "They murdered Cliffe" and "We want Shea." Earlier, Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Eugene A. Gold said a second policeman had been indicted for allegedly committing murder while on duty. Gold said announcement of the indictment of William Walker, 24, of Elmont, N.Y., was held up for two weeks so it would not affect the Shea trial. Walker was accused of fatally shooting John Brabham, 23, a black college student, 19 days before young Glover was shot.

NEVER CONNECTED Barnes never was connected with the scandals. Yet he lost a bid for the Democratic nomination for governor in a period when voters appeared inclined to throw out all incumbents in the Capitol. He did run against a very strong field. Dolph Briscoe, who was not in state government at the time, won the nomination and was elected. Colvin, Osorio's lawyer, said his client will not have to serve the usual one-third of his sentence before applying for parole—that he will be eligible to ask for freedom at any time.

Husband Starting Campaign To Put Her Honor Out

LAKE MARY, Fla. (AP) — The husband of the mayor of this sleepy little town has started a campaign to put her honor out of work. The first family of Lake Mary, a town of 2,600 north of Orlando, is split politically over whether the city should grow. Mayor Margie Hess feels it should. Citizen George Hess feels it shouldn't. "This city voted to incorporate to keep things the way they are—dirt roads and all," citizen Hess, a part-time construction worker, said Thursday. "It's just a country hick town. We want to keep it that way." SINGLE VOTE Incorporation passed by a single vote last August. In December, Mrs. Hess, campaigning partly on her record of service with the volunteer fire department and partly on an "orderly growth" platform, was elected mayor. She's paid $125 a month. Monday night, Mayor Hess and the city council voted 3 to 1 to approve a housing development that Hess says would bring in too many people. He met with an attorney Thursday to draft a petition calling for the abolition of the city charter. TO HIT STREETS He said he expects the petition to hit the streets next week. It would require signatures of 51 per cent of the electorate to force a recall vote. "I really hate to see the incorporation broken," said Hess. "But there really isn't any other way to undo what the council has done."

Waiting To Take Custody Of Pair

A Hays County deputy sheriff was at the Howard County Courthouse this morning waiting to gain custody of two men arrested here on Hays County warrants. Don Michael Cox, 23, Irving, and Gene E. Washburn, 41, El Dorado, Ark., two construction workers, are charged with theft. Peace Justice Walter Grice set a $5,000 bond.

'FAITH OF OUR FATHER LIVING STILL' Southern Baptists Give Ford Standing Ovation

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Baptists gave Vice President Gerald Ford a standing ovation today as he urged them to bring the country's morals back to the "Faith of Our Father Living Still" — a line from a hymn. Ford spoke before 1,500 messengers to the Southern Baptist Conference (SBC) convention at a breakfast following the three-day meeting. MORE BLESSINGS He called on Southern Baptists to reaffirm the values that "have made the United States of America the greatest nation in the world, a nation with more freedom, more opportunity and more blessings." Messengers reacted to Ford's speech with praise for what they called his appeal to stress the positive aspects of the nation. The Rev. Jaroy Weber, new president of the SBC, said Ford underscored that we ought to return to the moral values that built this country and assume our individual responsibilities as Christians to affect the political life of the nation." Bill Nix, a layman from Omaha, Neb., said, "It gives me a lump in my throat to see that we have national leaders of the high caliber of Ford with religious convictions." Nix is a new member of the board of the Brotherhood Commission of the SBC. CONVICTION Chuck Norman of Dallas, said, "I fully support what Ford said. I am impressed with his religious conviction and the way he accentuated the positive in our country. It is encouraging to find men like him in public office." Harry Truelove, executive director of the Arkansas Baptist Foundation, said, "I appreciated his recognition of the influence of Christian faith and his call to moral renewal."

Bob Dixon of Dallas, executive secretary of Texas Baptist Men said, "I agree with what he said about the way this country started on the road to greatness. That same trumpet needs to be sounded again. Faith in God is the only thing that will put our country back together again." STATURE Jim Maddox, a Democratic state representative from Dallas and a Presbyterian, said, "He talked about what is right with America and gave a general history of ecumenical involvement. He called on Americans to put Watergate aside while the President is out of the country. I agree with him. I think that the prayers of the American people are with him while he travels in the Middle East." "Ford has tremendous stature. It was difficult for me not to listen with the idea of the possibility of his becoming chief executive. It is encouraging to consider the possibility that a man with genuine faith and high morals is occupying the second and possibly will occupy the top (presidency) position."

GIRL HURLS NO-HITTER

CLAY, W. Va. (AP) — Who says little girls can't play baseball? Eleven-year-old Bunny Taylor pitched a no-hit game against an all-boys team Thursday, striking out nine and walking only three in leading her Valley Fork team to a 16-0 win over Precious No. 2. Only Wednesday, Little League officials announced that girls would be allowed to play in its leagues nationwide. League officials said the West Virginia teams were not registered with the Little League. Bunny's performance included two hits — a home run and a triple. "If girls want to play, they ought to let them," said Bunny, following the win. "I think it's fun, especially when you strike out the boys."

Teen Enters Guilty Plea

Philip Sudderth, 18, 256-A March Circle, has pleaded guilty in 118th District Court to burglary on his next-door neighbor. Stereo equipment, radios, televisions, meat and a small amount of change were stolen, Talbot said. These items have been returned to the owner, and additional restitution ordered as a condition to probation. Investigation led to recovery of tools taken May 6 from the Partlow residence at 2403 S. 52nd Main St. And also Talbot found about $700 worth of stereo equipment stolen from the James Dunne home July 6, 1973.

Ivie Looks In On Hearing

O. H. Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, was in Littlefield today to observe the 154th District Court hearing on a petition by a group seeking to enjoin weather modification efforts in that area. The CRMWD sponsors a modification program in this vicinity, and Atmospherics, Inc. is the contractor in each case. The Littlefield case has the potential as a landmark case not only because plaintiffs seek to enjoin the modification efforts, for the first time specifically for hail suppression, but because they also contend that the air space above their farms belongs to them. Bringing suit is Ross Lamsden, Littlefield gunner, who is president of the Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather, also listed as plaintiffs. There are some 127 tracts listed in Bailey, Lamb, Hockley, Cochran, Hale, and Deaf Smith counties. The target area for the hail suppression program is principally in Hale and Castro Counties and the northwest half of Lamb County. Plaintiffs claim that the program has resulted in diminishing their rainfall, a point they previously pleaded before Gov. Dolph Briscoe and the Texas Water Development board in Austin. The latter asked plaintiffs for documentation of the claim and did not cancel modification permits it had issued. Defendants argue that the modification efforts in theory should increase, not decrease precipitation. Don't Steel Look, Ethel! MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Two steel workers today "topped off" the last beam on a new seven-story telephone company building, then shinned down two floors on a steel girder, took off their clothes, and streaked around the building's fifth floor superstructure. A crowd of about 200 persons, gathered for a combined ceremony to celebrate Flag Day and the new Bell Systems electrical switching center, watched. The men, dressed only in hard hats and tennis shoes, took a couple of naked jaunts around the structure, put their clothes back on, and went back to work. The crowd left.

INTERESTING

In the meantime, Mayor Hess is kept busy answering the family telephone, which has been ringing steadily with calls reporting the petition. "It certainly is interesting being the mayor and acting as an answering service for people who want to put me out of business," said Mrs. Hess, a registered nurse, mother of three children and owner of the family business, a hardware store. She said that although she likes her job, she holds no grudges against her husband for trying to do away with it. "I understand fully why he is trying to do this," she said. "But I worked hard to be elected mayor and I would like to see the city continue."

Court Revokes Calley Bail, Appeal Likely

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lawyers for William L. Calley Jr. say they probably will ask the U.S. Supreme Court for an emergency order to overturn a decision forcing Calley back into military custody.

The 5th Circuit Court of Appeals agreed with the U.S. Army's objection to Calley's freedom on bail and ruled Thursday that the former Army lieutenant should be returned to "full military custody."

Calley, who was found guilty by a court-martial in 1971 of the murder of at least 22 villagers in My Lai during the Vietnam war, could not be reached for comment.

"CRUSHED" His lawyers said Calley would be "crushed" by the ruling.

They said they probably will appeal to the Supreme Court for an emergency order blocking Calley's return to custody today.

Calley had been freed on $1,000 personal recognizance bond by U.S. District Court Judge J. Robert Elliott last February, pending a decision on the merits of his appeal. Calley argued before the federal court in Georgia for a reversal of his conviction, claiming the military tribunal had not given "full and fair" consideration to a number of constitutional complaints raised during his trial.

Calley had been held under house arrest at Fort Benning, Ga., for nearly three years before Elliott freed him. He had been sentenced to life in prison, but that later was reduced to 10 years.

LEGAL GROUNDS The appeals court ruling Thursday said Calley's only legal grounds for bail were a "substantial probability of success" in his claim of unconstitutional treatment and "extraordinary or exceptional circumstances" which would make bail necessary.

"Our examination convinces us that the district court did not really apply the two-fold standard in determining whether to grant bail to Calley," the opinion said.

The Army had argued that Calley's continued freedom could have an "extraordinarily disruptive effect on the military."

7,000 Okies Able To Go Back Home

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Authorities have allowed residents to return to homes in the Norman area, where escaping fumes after a train derailment forced evacuation of nearly 7,000 persons.

The 35-car Santa Fe freight derailment Wednesday sent acid and potentially toxic fumes over the north central part of this Central Oklahoma city and the south edge of nearby Moore.

By Thursday night, however, the residents were able to go back home.

TREAT 248
Hospitals said at least 248 persons were treated for inhaling the fumes and dismissed. No serious injuries were reported.

Workers labored for 21 hours to clear the wreckage and plug the leaking chemical canisters.

With the area cordoned off and National Guardsmen patrolling the empty streets Thursday afternoon, two officials from FMC Corp., the Chicago manufacturer, suggested burying the canisters in an attempt to prevent the escape of more fumes.

Of her fellow students, most young enough to be her grandchildren, she said, "They are just wonderful, much better than people my age. They have life in the night perspective. They see a person as a person."

Mrs. Johnson, who calls her black skin a "badge of distinction," says racial issues have changed since she last attended school.

"In my day you were white and I was black. There was a difference. That's not so today. We should be the best we can be—whether black or white."

How do her children take the idea of their mother going to college?

"They think I'm bullheaded, but they know I've always wanted to go," she said. "I think they're all proud of me."

Kennedy Can Win Without Sen. Bentsen?

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Sen. Ralph Yarborough made it clear Thursday he thinks Sen. Edward Kennedy, of Massachusetts can win the Democratic nomination with or without the help of Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas.

Both Kennedy and Bentsen have been considered presidential nominee possibilities and recently there has been talk in Washington of a possible Kennedy-Bentsen ticket, with the Texan as the vice presidential candidate.

"There is no room on the Democratic ticket in 1976 for people who brag about their Democracy now, but were allied with Nixon in the fall of 1972," Yarborough said in a statement that never mentioned Bentsen by name.

Then the former senator, who was defeated by Bentsen in a close 1970 race, referred to a 1972 campaign incident when Bentsen and two other Texas congressmen flew to Texas with President Nixon for a visit to Laredo. After visiting Laredo, Rio Grande City, Harlingen and San Antonio, the President went to a fund raising dinner at the ranch of former Treasury Secretary John Connally near Floresville.

The three Texas congressmen later issued statements saying they had reimbursed the government for the Washington to Laredo and Harlingen fare on Air Force One because they did not know it was going to be a political trip.

Yarborough's statement today also called attention to a national poll (Gallup) last week showing Kennedy as the leading presidential possibility, according to poll results.

THEY THINK I'M BULLHEADED' She'll Keep Her Promise To 'Slave' Grandmother

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The granddaughter of an illiterate slave will keep a promise to her grandmother years ago when she graduates today from Fresno City College at 72.

"It's always been my dream," said Cora Lee Johnson. "I always wanted to go to school because my grandmother, she was a slave and didn't get to go."

RAISED NINE CHILDREN

So Mrs. Johnson says she promised her grandmother that she would get as much education as she possibly could.

But the dream and the promise had to wait while the native of Hattiesburg, Miss., raised nine children, five of whom earned college degrees.

Picking up in 1972 where she left off decades ago could have been a problem, but Mrs. Johnson says it didn't take her long to catch on again—“Even though I didn't go to school, I was always studying.”

She says that at her age, education is aimed not at a better job but at personal fulfillment.

Armed with her two-year degree in sociology from Fresno City College, Mrs. Johnson says she now plans to complete work on a bachelor's degree at Fresno State University.

'BADGE OF DISTINCTION'

"I like dealing with people. I have always had an incentive to learn," she says. "I've always been curious about philosophical questions."

Of her fellow students, most young enough to be her grandchildren, she said, "They are just wonderful, much better than people my age. They have life in the night perspective. They see a person as a person."

Mrs. Johnson, who calls her black skin a "badge of distinction," says racial issues have changed since she last attended school.

Significant Milestone

Saturday, Webb AFB will attain an important milestone in the graduation of its 10,000th jet pilot.

In a day of big figures, this is an impressive number, even though it encompasses 23 years of commitment to the goal of training the best pilots in the world.

One can speculate upon the time and effort, as well as the expense that has gone into this record. Planes operating from the base on training missions have put in nearly a billion miles, and when the investments in physical facilities and equipment are considered along with the operational expense, it would not be unreasonable to assume that this has approached a dollar a mile for the period.

But to belabor this point would be to miss the mark completely, for what is so important in the training of 10,000 pilots is that they represent a human investment in freedom.

To be sure, not all of the 10,000 are still in the Air Force, for many gave their lives in service of their country; some returned to private life but in a measure constitute part of a reservoir of trained talent; most have made the Air Force their career; many have risen to positions of high trust and responsibility within the Air Force. And what cannot be discounted is that quite a number of allied students have returned to leadership in their own countries, and, we hope, because of the experiences here have a warmer and a kinder regard for us as a people as well as an ally.

Most significant, however, is that these pilots are people, not some sort of programmed automatic pilot. They have been taught to think, to reason, to plan, to foresee, to react, to give unflinchingly as the situation demands, to be creative and considerate, to be responsible as well as skilled. They represent the living ferment of freedom, without which liberty cannot exist and thrive.

Welcome To Sen. Tower

Big Spring, Howard County and surrounding area join Saturday in welcoming John Tower, senior United States Senator from Texas, to Webb AFB for the historic graduation of the 10,000th pilot at the base.

This is fitting because of the senator's interest in and support of the base over the years, and because of his place in national affairs. In token of his standing, his colleagues named him national campaign chairman for the Republican party. He has moved to a strategic position of seniority, not only in his party, but in the Senate as a whole. He has become the ranking member of one key committee and a most influential member of the Armed Services Committee. Thus, when he speaks, what he has to say carries more weight than the sayings of a provincial son, but rather that of a man of national stature.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I am appalled by the increasing lack of patriotism in the country. I notice it when the Star Spangled Banner is sung and also in the disregard for the American flag. Don't you think ministers should try to correct this drift? A. J.

I've saved this question for use today - Flag Day. It gives me the opportunity to share the Biblical view of government.

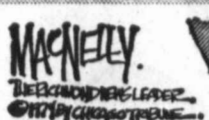

The apostle Paul said, "Obey the government, for God is the One who has put it there." (Romans 13.) Consider, however, that Paul's government was despotic and immoral. The tyrant Nero was in charge. But Paul was obviously referring to a higher law that transcended current politics.

History shows that God employs governments to secure His purposes. He thus used the armies of Babylon, Persia and Greece. Assyria was His hammer, and Cyrus was His shepherd.

This is no endorsement of tyranny or oppression, but it is to say that order is heaven's first law. Governments are created to provide structured order.

Now what about America? Too many of us have been intimidated by the shouting zealots of anarchy. If patriotism has diminished, and it has, it's due to the silent majority who should not have been silent about loyalty to the principle of democratic government. I hope the coming months produce the kind of patriotism demonstrated by prayer for leaders, participation at the polls, and a posture of good citizenship. Only that will make us really a "nation under God." Yes, ministers can help in this, but it's everybody's job.

HOT AIR BALLOON

Distress In Housing

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The home mortgage market bleeds away, crushed by the pressure of high interest rates. The funds that once went into housing is now chasing higher yields elsewhere.

This is the conventional explanation for the distress in housing, and with good reason. Withdrawals from savings accounts at mutual savings banks, for example, topped $800 million in April and May. And at the end of May the nation's savings and loan associations had $1.5 billion less to lend out than they had a year ago.

Since these two institutions make up the thrift industry, which is the biggest supporter of the home mortgage market, the impact is obvious. They are forced to curtail their lending activities.

But those withdrawals explain only a part of the difficulties families are having in buying their own homes. A change of attitude by another industry, life insurance, makes the problem more difficult. Life insurers have tended in recent years to increase their allotment of mortgage money for commercial and industrial properties at a faster rate than for residential properties.

Moreover, a greater share of the residential mortgage money now is being lent on multifamily, or large apartment houses, and less on residences having just one to four units. Figures supplied by the Institute of Life Insurance show that in 1973 loans for multifamily housing increased $1 billion during the year to a total of $17.8 billion, but the amount provided on dwellings of four units or less fell to $19.8 billion from $21.5 billion in the year before.

The trend now is in at least its eighth year. Various reasons are offered for the decline, but none makes more sense than the fact insurers find it more profitable to invest in large, income-producing properties on which they sometimes share in the profits. Insurers are not so committed to the mortgage market, legally or morally, as the thrift institutions are. The latter have a commitment to take the savings of depositors and lend it on mortgages. The insurers have no such obligation.

Another explanation relates to demographic changes. Throughout the 1960s the number of people in the "home buying ages," 25 to 44, remained stable. But the number in the "rental ages," under 25 and over 44, continued to grow. With the young renters now moving into the home-buying age group the question arises: Will insurers shift funds back into single-family dwellings and houses with units of four or fewer?

But the deciding factor, as it probably is right now, is likely to be money. If the returns on industrial, commercial and apartment house mortgages remain high, that's probably where the money will go.

Don't Leave Bath In Bath

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I just read that oil particles in the lungs could damage them. About four months ago my baby had eczema, and on my grandmother's suggestion I bathed him in buttermilk.

I only left the bathroom for a minute but he fell in the tub and I'm sure quite a bit of milk got into his nose.

I am so worried, since reading about lung disease, that he may have gotten some in his lungs, bronchi or sinuses, and later may have emphysema or T.B. or pneumonia. — L. J.

True that one should be careful about oil particles getting in the lungs, but this occurs chiefly from use of mineral oil drops in the nose.

In your case, remember that the content of buttermilk is low, and your baby undoubtedly coughed up any buttermilk that may have gotten in his throat.

It wouldn't cause T.B., even had he gotten some in; if lung irritation were going to develop, it would have done so long before this. And I would forget about any harm in later life.

But I hope that you and everyone who reads this will remember that it isn't safe to leave a baby alone in a bathtub even for a minute. If you have to go to the phone or get something, wrap the baby in a blanket and get him out of the tub. Or take him along with you, which is even safer.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Suppose you were cast on a desert island for a year and had available to you only two foods to keep you alive and healthy. Which would provide the most nutritional strength? Which foods provide the most nutritional punch to the ounce? — T. E. W.

I'll answer by telling you a little true story. It happened several years ago when I was on a fishing expedition in Canada. A friend and I and our Indian guide had been canoeing all day. It seemed that our guide would never pull up so we would make camp — and eat.

Finally, we pulled over into one of those delightful little bits of paradise to be found only on a northern lake, and our guide opened his knapsack which contained our lunch.

He extracted some smoked trout, some oranges and some beer.

It was all there, I thought at the time. This was a perfectly balanced meal this old Indian fellow had prepared. The trout provided the necessary protein and fat. The oranges the carbohydrates, vitamin C and minerals, and the beer the fluids.

So I guess if I were to have to make my choice, I'd opt for the fish and the oranges and probably forsake the beer in favor of fresh water, which certainly is available on your desert island.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I need your help. I'm 18, single, still in school, no job. I thought I was normal until found I can't have intercourse with my boyfriend. There is something wrong with me and he can't enter me. — Scared

Two principal causes of this. One is tension — you just can't relax. The other is an unusually tight and thick hymen (the hymen being a membrane at the entrance to the vagina). When that is the cause, it is a quite simple procedure for a physician to correct it. All I can suggest is that you see a doctor.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's newly revised booklet, explaining what sinus trouble really is and what can be done about it. For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Business As Usual

Around The Rim

John Edwards

Business seems to be routine at the county courthouse. So here's the news that wasn't news.

A LEAK in the grand jury room failed to cause any concern. The secretive body was not meeting, and Eddie Harper, chief of courthouse maintenance, and a plumbing firm, were replacing a pipe.

Rain on cloudless days is not unusual on the third floor. Neither are women sitting on the hall bench with "I want to be free" on their face. Nor men dutifully leaving child support payments with the district clerk's office.

More guilty pleas, probated sentences, probation revocations for the unrepentant and only occasional jury trials seemed a likely forecast for 118th District Court.

ON THE second floor, county court has fewer guilty pleas, and I can remember only one jury trial in a criminal case since I arrived two years ago.

Dropping down one more floor, you see the offices opening at 8 a.m. and closing at 5 p.m., a habit worth noting at the courthouse. Deputy sheriffs are personable and uninformative.

New employes appear and disappear in the hard-working county tax collection offices.

All over the courthouse, department heads have begun preparing budget requests for 1975. That's nothing new. The County Commissioners Court is due to adopt a budget toward the end of summer.

The Quid Pro Quo

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — No one is quite certain what kind of deals Henry Kissinger made to get a settlement in the Middle East, but President Nixon probably is finding out this week.

I CAN imagine a scene at a great reception given by President Sadat of Egypt where leaders from all the Arab lands have gathered to meet the President of the United States. Henry is standing next to President Nixon in the receiving line and introducing the Arabs to the President.

"Mr. President," Henry says, "this is Sheik Kaleb Abrim."

SHEIK ABRIM shakes hands with Mr. Nixon. "My father sends his respects and asks me to thank you on behalf of our family for giving us the state of Rhode Island."

President Nixon appears startled and whispers to Henry, "Did we give Rhode Island to the Abrim family?"

Henry whispers back, "They wanted California, but I talked them into taking Rhode Island instead."

"WHAT DID WE get in exchange?" the President asks.

"A steady, two-year supply of oil at $14 a barrel."

"Hmmm," the President says, "I guess nobody will mind losing Rhode Island."

The sheik moves on and Henry introduces the next Arab leader.

"This, Mr. President, is Hakim Assou, the Egyptian minister of public works."

MRS. ASSOU BOWS. "It is a great honor I finally meet the noble benefactor of Egypt."

"What did we give them?" the President whispers to Henry.

Henry replies, "The Ford Motor Co."

"In Egypt?" the President asks.

HENRY BLUSHES. "The Ford Motor Co. in the United States. You see, in order to get a settlement in Syria we needed help from the Egyptians. The only way we could get help from them was to give them something in exchange. I thought the Ford Motor Co. would be a nice quid pro quo."

"Has anyone told Henry Ford?"

"Not yet. I didn't want it to leak to the press."

MR. ASSOU moves on, and Henry introduces Fata Fatima, the leader of a splinter Maoist Palestinian guerilla band.

Fatima refuses to shake hands with the President. He tells Henry, "I have been talking with my brothers and we have decided you tricked us when you offered us three squadrons of Phantom jets. We will not go to Geneva unless we receive three nuclear submarines."

"What the devil?" the President says to Henry.

HENRY WHISPERS, "Don't pay any attention to him. He's all talk. They'll take the three squadrons of Phantom jets."

The next Arab leader is Aleki Mossad, the Syrian minister of tourism.

"Oh, Great One," Mossad says, "you have saved the Syrian tourist industry."

The President looks questioningly at Henry.

HENRY SAYS, "I forgot to tell you last week, in order to get the Syrians off the Golan Heights I promised them Las Vegas."

Mr. Nixon gets an urgent call from Golda Meir.

"Did you give Israel Standard Oil?" asks the President.

"Well," said Henry, they wanted Alaska, and that was preposterous."

The Key Issue

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Throughout the country come reports that inflation, the steadily rising curve of high prices, is far more than Watergate the issue that voters put at the top of the list. This is confirmed by a Harris poll showing that by 82 to 15 per cent the sample polled gives President Nixon negative marks "on the way he has handled the economy."

WHEREVER YOU GO the story is the same — we can just barely make it and then by cutting back on what we once thought were necessities. This reflects the feeling of millions of families in the income brackets up to $15,000.

The concern, the rancor, of these millions is directed not alone at the Administration but at congress as well. Since congress rates below the President in the polls, here is a serious challenge to demonstrate that change can be pushed through the clogged, sluggish channels of a body that drifts toward stalemate in many a case.

One of the principal pushers is Rep. Henry Reuss of Wisconsin who was chosen to deliver a radio response to Nixon's bland "all will soon be well" address on the economy.

REUSS IS WORKING to get endorsement by the Democratic steering committee and eventually by the Democratic caucus of a program calculated to send shivers down the spines of the conservatives and the rich.

He must convince that formidable gate keeper, Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways Means committee, and if Wilbur believes there is sufficient pressure from an aroused public, then cautious Speaker Carl Albert may also be persuaded.

THE REUSS PROPOSAL calls for a federal income tax cut of $6 to $7 billion in the low to moderate income brackets. This would help those barely scraping along to make ends meet. The President has, of course, set his face against a tax cut as inflationary.

But Reuss, whose economic knowledge has been repeatedly demonstrated on the Joint Economic Committee and on Banking and Currency, ties in plugging tax loopholes to return to the Treasury virtually the full amount of the cut. This is where the shivers come in.

HIS PROPOSAL would provide for a capital gains tax on securities held in estate. There is no such tax today, since no matter how much the securities have advanced in value, they escape when they are in the estate of the deceased taxpayer.

Reuss estimates that closing this loophole, long zealously guarded by lawyers and trust officers, would bring in $2 billion.

The oil-depletion allowance has for years been the target of reformers who have aimed particularly at the foreign earnings of the oil giants. Mills finally agreed to a three-year phase-out of this.

Reuss is urging that it be knocked out, or at least drastically reduced, at once.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Ye shall be witnesses unto me." (Acts 1:8)

PRAYER: Dear God, give us eyes to see and ears to hear that we may recognize the needs of our brothers and sisters and minister to them. In the spirit of Jesus, who taught His disciples to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

STAYING SHARP — Gary Player hits from a practice tee Thursday at the Winged Foot course in Kamaronneck, N.Y., after his even par 70 first-round victory in the U.S. Open.

Field Chases Player In 74th U.S. Open

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — The 74th U.S. Open Golf Championship developed today into a putting contest on the slick, treacherous greens, and the man with the saucer touch—Gary Player of South Africa—was tabbed as the burglar likely to take it all. "If you can't chip and putt here, you might as well go home," lamented defending champion Johnny Miller, stunned by an opening round 76. "Player is the finest chippie, putter and sand player on the tour. He could walk away with it."

GREENS ARE FAST No One To Break Par, Says Tony

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — "The way they played it," observed a member of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club, the sport's ruling body in Great Britain, "perhaps they should change the name of the course to Clubbed Foot." "Obviously the greens were driving everybody up trees," said Jack Nicklaus. "A score of 290 (10 over par) could win it," said Arnold Palmer. England's Tony Jacklin made a 10-1 wager with a friend, 1,000 British pounds to 100, that no one in the field will break 230, par for four rounds. "And this was under ideal conditions—absolutely perfect weather," said Jim Colbert. "Can you imagine what will happen if the weather gets a little bad. Some of us are going to be awfully embarrassed." "There are 13 monsters out there," Gary Player said. Those were some of the printable reactions to the toll taken by the Winged Foot Golf Club on the finest shotmakers in the world in Thursday's first round of the 74th United States Open Golf Championship. It was some of the highest scoring in years, going back well over a decade. It was the first time since 1958 that a round of par—the 70 by Player—had led the National Open. Of the 150 players in the field, 44 failed to break 80. They included former Open

Quiet To Prevail Again, But Does It Have To Be?

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Dave Marr says golf should be less funereal and more fun. He's not advocating that it go the hoot 'n howl way of World Team Tennis, but he says golfers could learn to live with a constant din, instead of the "Quiet Please" signs. "That's why Marr and the rest of the ABC-TV crew will be speaking in hushed tones during five hours of live coverage of the U.S. Open Championship this weekend. "It's difficult for me to talk while a guy is hitting the ball," said Marr, who will be sitting atop a tower at the 18th green "it goes against 25 years of playing... it's instinct." "Of course, there are a lot of people who say I shouldn't talk

OMAHA, Neb., (AP) — Little things and didn't make that many mistakes, and it paid off. Southern Illinois Coach Richard "Itchy" Jones likes to talk about the "little things." "We like to hit a little, run a little and bunt a little," is one of Jones' favorite—if not patented—quotes about his team. And so it was Thursday night in the 28th College World Series as the Salukis threw the series into a three-way battle by knocking off Miami of Florida 5-3. "This was a typical game for us," said Jones. "We did the

SATURDAY GAME WILL BENEFIT FCA FUND

A Fellowship of Christian Athletes fund will benefit from a seven-inning baseball game to be played in Johnny Stone starting at 2 p.m., Saturday. Admission is $1 and the money will be used to send a local FCA delegation to the National convocation at Estes Park, Colo., later this summer. Youths (those 18 and under) with the FCA will oppose an adult FCA team. The youths will be known as the One-Way Scrub, the adult team as the One-Eyed Cat. Bill Bradford manages the youths' team while Al Valdes will mastermind the adults. An added attraction (for want of a more descriptive term) will be a race around the base paths between Postmaster Frank Hardesty, never a gazelle even in his salad days, against some young Turk with a penchant for rapid foot. No, the two will not run the bases in opposite directions at the same time. Such a race could result in an explosion that would set seismograph needles to quivering in the Malay Archipelago.

LITTLE LEAGUE Stars Rack Up Ninth Victory

The Stars racked up their ninth win, compared to eight losses, in defeating the Cabots, 10-4, in American Little League play Thursday. Jimmy Ferguson (1-1) earned the pitching win. The loser was Billy Lipscomb. Ferguson helped his own cause with a triple. Oscar Garcia banged out four hits in as many tries while Billy Kothmann had three for four and Darrell Martin two for three, all for the Stars. Rusty Hayworth played outstanding defensive ball for the Stars at shortstop. The Lions toyed with the Devils in National Little League play Thursday, winning, 17-8. Ronnie Burkeson received credit for the mound win. The loser was Mike Madry. Donnie Burleson smashed two doubles and Ronnie Burleson, John Pfeiffer and Clint Elliott each had a two-baser for the winners. Bryan Beck assaulted Devil hurling for three safeties, as did Ronnie Burleson. Donnie Burleson and Clint Elliott helped the Lion effort greatly with four hits each. NFL Management Blames Players For Walk-Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations between management and players of the National Football League have broken off, but a federal mediator indicates informal discussions may continue. It was unclear how soon formal negotiations would resume between the NFL Management Council and the Players Association. "There now will have to be some discussion away from the table," said federal mediator Jim Scarce Thursday after the bargaining ended abruptly without signs of any major progress. The NFL Management Council, facing the NFLPA's July strike deadline, blamed the players for staging "a walkout" after three days of negotiations. The NFLPA denied the charge. Scarce, deputy director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said he suggested the talks be recessed temporarily because of lack of results. "We just got to a point where productive discussion could not proceed, and it appeared to be an appropriate place to stop," he said. "We had a lively discussion with strong feelings involved." The face-to-face negotiations had been tentatively scheduled—before the current impasse—to resume Tuesday in

Bankers Deflate Firemen, 7-2

In Coahoma Little League play Tuesday, the Bankers turned back the Volunteer Fire Department team, 7-2. The Bankers were paced by Carl Mills, Mark Garrett and Eddie Williams, who collected two hits each. Mills and Garrett each had a three-run home run. The VFD was led by Gary Paige, who had a triple and a single. Mills, the winning pitcher, fanned 11. Losing finger Deo Brown whiffed ten. The game was called with two out in the top of the fifth, when bad weather hit. The win enabled the Bankers to move into first place in the standings. VFD was relegated to a tie for second with the Lions. The Bankers are currently 4-1 in the standings, the VFD 3-2.

Par Reduced At Course

Significant changes have been made on several tee-boxes and fairways at the Municipal Golf Course. The over-all effect will reduce par from 73 to 71. Nos. 1 and 13 have been shorted to three-pars while 15 and 16 are being lengthened and will become five-pars. On 15, the tee box is being moved back 65 yards which means it will play about 563 yards. No. 16 is being lengthened from 495 to 545 yards. No. 1 will play 190 to 220 yards, No. 13 170 yards. A sodding and leveling operation is going on to the approaches to the first green. Washing has been a problem there in the past. The fairways are being narrowed a trifle, according to pro Charley Brantley, in order that carts can more easily get down the rails. The work has been going on without interruption of play.

Orioles Shaded By Yanks, 5-4

The Yanks saved the best for the last in Sophomore Teen-Age League play Thursday, scoring three times their last time at bat to defeat the Orioles, 5-4. The winning run, which crossed the plate after two batters had been retired, came when Allen Bristol connected safely. Bristol had two hits in the game. In all, his team collected only five blows. Tommy Worcham smashed a triple. Oscar James gained the pitching win and now has a 1-1 record. The loser was Robert Underwood (0-2). The Yanks now have a 5-2 over-all record while the Orioles are 0-7.

ABUSE OF POWER? 'Tax Harassment' Part Of Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Judiciary Committee considers charges of tax harassment of political enemies by the Nixon administration a "very significant" part of the committee's impeachment inquiry.

Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said the evidence dealing with the Internal Revenue Service "raises a question of whether there has been a serious abuse of power" by the office of the presidency.

The charges, involving audits of selected tax returns and leaks of tax information, originally were aired in the Senate Watergate hearings last year when existence of the White House enemies list became known.

They also include alleged favorable tax treatment for friends of the administration.

Rodino spoke at a news briefing Thursday after the conclusion of the IRS presentation to the committee. He declined to say whether any of the evidence linked President Nixon to the IRS actions.

Another member, Rep. Edward Mezvinsky, D-Iowa, said, "We wouldn't be looking at it, if there was no indication of presidential involvement."

Mezvinsky said he considered the IRS matter "as significant, if not more so, than the Watergate matter." But Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., also at the briefing, said he did not detect any serious problem for the President in the IRS presentation.

The committee's special counsel for the impeachment inquiry, John Doar, said he will ask the committee to subpoena a key bit of evidence that could bear on Nixon's knowledge of the use of the IRS for political purposes. The committee lacks a 17-minute segment of a White House tape that U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica deleted from a longer conversation.

The Sept. 15, 1972, tape was one of the original nine tapes subpoenaed by the special prosecutor's office. Sirica deleted a portion of it as irrelevant to the Watergate investigation.

However, special prosecutor Leon Jaworski asked that it be released and Sirica agreed. The White House has until today to appeal Sirica's decision.

Doar said the subpoena would be directed to President Nixon.

Rodino hopes to finish presenting evidence next week and is not expected to call a business meeting for a week to 10 days.

Also due to be settled at the next meeting are the questions of calling witnesses, making public at least a portion of the evidence so far presented, and arranging for White House lawyer James D. St. Clair to respond to the evidence.

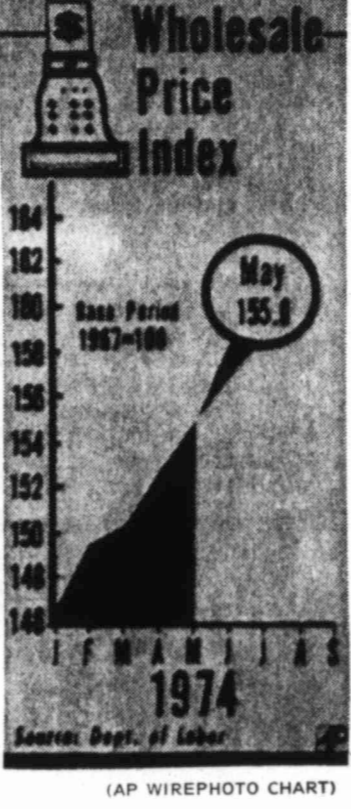

It was learned Thursday that Doar plans to recommend that the committee call Archibald Cox, former special prosecutor, whose firing last Oct. 20 touched off a furor that led to the impeachment inquiry.

Doar also is believed to want to see from E. L. Richardson, who arranged for the special prosecutor's office and picked Cox as a means of winning Senate confirmation as attorney general.

Nixon's personal finances, including his income tax payments for 1969-72, also will be examined next week.

College Seeks Program Fund

Howard College officials were in Dallas Thursday to negotiate for a grant of approximately $90,000 from the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare for an Unward Bound program.

Dr. Thomas T. Salter, president, announced.

What would be negotiations for one of the largest grants for a single program in the history of the college were made by Doris Huibregtse, author of the proposal, Dr. Larry Key, dean of occupational education, and Tony Ortiz, occupational counselor.

If an agreement is reached, the program, to be called "Springboard to Opportunity" at Howard College, will be implemented in the fall of 1974.

The program for 75 students, will provide tutoring, counseling, and instruction in reading, mathematics, and communication to high school students who would not otherwise be likely to achieve success as college students.

Juniors and seniors from Big Spring, Coahoma, Stanton, Colorado City, Snyder, and Midland will be selected to attend instructional, recreational, and entertainment sessions on the college campus on alternate Saturdays during the school year and for six weeks during the summer. Outdoors trips and an educational trip will be provided. The students selected will receive a stipend while participating.

If obtained, the program could increase recruiting for the college, officials said.

INDUSTRY'S GARBAGEMEN-IV

'They'll Get Me Some Day'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Nobody is very happy about Texas' handling of industry's trash and toxic wastes, and the problem is destined to become larger.

Hugh Yantis executive director of the Texas Water Quality Board, says he believes a new approach, making public utilities of industrial waste disposal sites as is done with telephone and electric companies, might be in order.

STORM CENTER

Some legislators believe a better approach would be to get rid of Yantis or change board members.

Yantis is accustomed to being a storm center, and his approval of the South Texas Industrial Services waste disposal site upstream from Lake Corpus Christi has placed him in that position again.

There are those who also feel he has looked too favorably on plans—temporarily suspended by the applicant—of Midway Services Inc. to bury industrial wastes on a 271-acre tract in Limestone County.

FAT TARGET

Rep. Joe Salem, D-Corpus Christi, said in a letter to Gov. Dolph Briscoe that Yantis should be fired for "his mis-handling of the Three Rivers (South Texas Industrial Services) waste disposal project and others."

"They'll get me some day," Yantis said with a wry grin.

Yantis seldom hesitates to go on record with his views and this makes him a fat target for politicians. The board's public files, for example, contain a letter to Groesbeck banker C. E. Gregory asserting that Yantis personally has "a high degree of confidence" in the pending Midway proposal.

Meanwhile, Yantis is seeking answers to the waste problem that might require the legislature's cooperation. In addition, the Water Quality Board hopes to devise a system for getting data on how much industrial waste is being generated and where it is going.

DUMPING AT SEA

Robert Fleming, the board's director of central operations, says there are no reliable figures on the quantities of industrial residue that must be disposed of.

"Industry just flat did not know what they were generating," Fleming said of a survey the board tried to make.

While the industrial waste problem has not developed suddenly, Yantis said a recent order of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to ban dumping at sea "undoubtedly will intensify the need for solid waste disposal sites on land."

"There is going to have to be some legislative correction to really spell out the way an industry's waste can be handled... Maybe every solid waste site should be governmentally owned and the people would accept this. Maybe they should be regionally operated by some regional authority," he said in an interview.

SOLID WASTES

Yantis said he is giving serious thought to recommending a public utility approach to the legislature.

"If they were a utility, you could look at the need for a site as well as the amount of waste to be disposed of. Right now it is a business... A man goes into the industrial solid waste business just like any other business. If he is a utility, you could bring to bear a utility regulation, with rate control and control over whether a particular site needed to exist at all... Right now, need is not a criterion... There needs to be control of the idea of a man making an unfair amount of money to the detriment of people who are getting nothing out of it whatever," Yantis said.

This, he believes, would provide stricter control over the dumps and give the board greater leeway in acting on proposals to start waste disposal businesses. Under present law, Yantis said, "you have to have a legal reason for telling a man, 'No,' because he has rights."

DISPOSAL SITES

Another aspect of making industry's garbagemen public utilities might be met unfavorably, however. A utility has the power of eminent domain and could force a landowner to sell or lease it a site.

Changes in regulation of industrial wastes under present law could follow a series of 12 hearings through the state this year before a Water Quality Board examiner. New approaches also could come from a year-long University of Texas study on chemical reactions in disposal pits.

LAST CHOICE

"Right now, the state of Texas requires more... in the way of perpetual care for operations like this," Asst. Atty. Gen. Rod Gorman recently told the board.

Technology might also produce some solutions. Yantis said he views burial as a last choice, with salvage or recycling, at the top of his list.

The agency was given power to regulate the industrial waste field five years ago, and we were not geared for the really complex undertakings," Yantis said.

VILLAIN

Water Quality Board officials still wonder where most of the state's industrial waste is going since approved disposal sites probably get only a fraction of it.

And they react somewhat bitterly to the criticism the agency has received.

"It is ironic that there was no fuss when waste was discarded casually," said one staffer.

"I helped write the (waste disposal) bill, lobby for it and get it passed, and therefore I am the villain," Yantis said with fatigued resignation.

B-Spring Native Honored Posthumously By Church

EDITORS NOTE: This article about the late Quentin Shortes was headlined in the recent "Assembly of God Findings" under the headline "Missionary Quentin Shortes Faithful Unto Death".

Quentin Shortes was born January 28, 1920 in Howard County, Texas, just north of B-Spring. He attended school at the Brown community school.

Rev. W. M. Bozeman came to this community and opened a church and on August 6, 1937, Quentin gave his heart to the Lord and two days later in Brownfield, Texas, he received the Baptism of the Holy Spirit.

He attended the Shield of Faith Bible School in Fort Worth, Texas from 1938 through 1940. This is where he met his wife, the former Miss Ruby Nell Simmons of Winter Garden, Florida. The couple was united in marriage May 28, 1940, and they moved to Florida where they pastored churches in Key-

West and Goulds. It was in 1941 that Quentin received his Ordination in the Peninsular Florida District. Three children were born during the years, Ronald, Marvin and Sherri.

Having felt a desire to work among the Spanish speaking people, Quentin and his wife enrolled in CBI in Springfield, Mo. and Quentin received a Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1949. That same year, they received Missionary appointment as Foreign Missionaries assigned to Guatemala where they have served ever since. Brother Shortes taught for 18 years in the Bible School in Guatemala and at the time of his homegoing on 2-27-74, he was teaching a short term school of missions at South Eastern Bible College in Lakeland, Florida.

The work in Guatemala grew from 32 churches in 1949 to 450 churches today. Surely Quentin will be miss by all who knew him.

College Baptist Youths Help At Utah Mission

By EDITH HEIRMAN The youth of College Baptist Church and twelve sponsors held a Mission Vacation Bible School last week in Ogden, Utah. The school was held in the new building of the church's mission, Primera Mission Bautista.

The church has begun sponsoring the mission for two years. The mission was started in 1972 with Richard Vera, and his wife, Moemi, both alumni of Big Spring High School, as the only members. As of last Sunday, the total membership is 49, with an average attendance around 100.

Dr. Jimmy Law, pastor of College Baptist Church, brought the Wednesday evening message on baptism and the Rev. Vera, pastor of the mission, translating into Spanish.

The noon meal on Friday was cooked by members of the mission. The menu consisted of chupapas, guacamole, Spanish rice, enchiladas, and hot sauce.

The College Baptist group returned Monday morning at 2:15 a.m. without the church bus. The bus broke down outside of Santa Rosa, N.M.

The sponsors that went this year were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hull, Ben Hicks, Carol Mize, Dawn Smith and Paul Blalack. Younger children's division Jimmy Law Jr., Edith Heirman, Eva Rich, Alisa Zellars, Mariella Wise and Denise Smith, older children's division Cathy Hicks, Danita Minchew, Cindy Upton, Ken Carroll, Noel Wayne Hull and Janet Shanks.

Americans Admit 'There's A Devil'

A recent Gallop poll revealed that more Americans than ever before now believe in the existence of the Devil. And they're proving it too - by standing in block-long lines for the privilege of viewing the celluloid exorcism of a little girl possessed by Satan. Yes, there's an unprecedented interest in all things occult - from ouija boards to Uri Geller - astrology to "The Exorcist".

It's all just a harmless part of our pop culture - or is it? Hershel Smith is one man who takes the Devil seriously. Raised in Bible-belt fundamentalism, he became so disillusioned with the hypocrisy of some church members that he sold his soul to Satan at the age of thirteen in a blood-drinking animal sacrifice. Thus began a continuing relationship with the Devil that eventually led to his becoming a founding member of Anton LaVey's First Church of Satan in San Francisco and a full-fledged warlock in a coven of thirteen witches and warlocks.

Today, Hershel Smith is engaged in a vigorous campaign against Satan, exposing the real dangers that even a casual interest in the occult can generate. A devout Christian, he founded Teen Power, a halfway house in California to aid youth trapped in the occult, and he operates the "witchmobile," a trailer outfitted with actual paraphernalia of the Black Arts and various anti-satanic information. What caused this dramatic turn-about? "The devil and Mr. Smith" (Fleming H. Revel Company, Old Tappan, N.J., $2.95 paper) is the gripping true account of the spiritual and psychological battle that finally freed Hershel Smith from the mystifying hold Satan had on his life.

Program Set Father's Day

A special Father's Day program has been set for 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Mount Bethel Baptist Church with several churches scheduled to have part.

The event is being sponsored by the wives of deacons of the church. Designed to honor all fathers, the program is due to have representatives from Snyder, Lamesa, Odessa, Midland and Colorado City as well as Mount Bethel, according to Mrs. Lillian Read, chairman of the deaconess group.

The following Sunday (June 23) at 3 p.m. the Mount Bethel usher board, led by Mrs. Bobbie Williams, will stage its annual program, which will feature the Rev. G. T. Curry, pastor of Antioch Baptist church in Midland.

Prayer Service Now Under Way

A pre-revival service has been underway all this week from 7-8 p.m. at the Mount Bethel Baptist Church.

Beginning Monday evening, the Rev. Allison Patrick, Corsicana, will begin a series of evangelistic services which continue through Friday evening, said the pastor, the Rev. John Mitchell. Music will be led by the choir.

Honoree

HARDY-SIMMONS back on April 18 - held a program in Behrens Chapel honoring 27 returning alumni of the Class of 17-24. They were presented with gold medallions.

Among the group was Mrs. C. R. Potter, the former Lela Ermine Patton of Big Spring.

GARDEN CITY BAPTISTS - A revival will be hosted by this church June 16-23 with services Sunday at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. and nightly services at 7:30 p.m. through Friday. The Rev. Collyns Moore of Big Spring will serve as evangelist under a theme "Have a New Life" with special music by James Kinman, according to the Rev. Herbert McPherson.

Foundation for a Marriage

Two rings resting on a Bible.
Two hearts united by God's blessing.
Two lives enriched by love—human and divine.
Two minds responsive to the power of Truth.
Two souls sharing the joy of Faith.
Two Christians building their hopes and dreams on the firmest foundation.

NO OTHER WAGON HAS ALL THIS, OR IS LIKELY TO, NOT FOR YEARS.

Volkswagen calls it the perfect station wagon for its time. Dasher is powerful and gets about 25 miles per gallon. It's small enough to be a cinch to park, big enough to come with 5 doors and a special rear suspension for taking big loads.

It has front-wheel drive that does some nifty road-holding, on wet roads and dry. And it needs maintenance only once every 10,000 miles. The Dasher wagon is ahead of its time. Buy it at your Volkswagen dealer right now.

DP&L Rates Boost Urged

DALLAS (AP) — An 11.3 per cent increase in Dallas Power & Light Co. rates, with industrial users bearing the greater share of the boost, was recommended Thursday by City Manager George Schrader.
In acting on the findings by the city's public utilities director, Tom Taylor, Schrader suggested the same over-all raise sought by the utility company.
The city manager and Taylor agreed, however, that the increased cost to residential customers be held to 6 per cent instead of 9.3 per cent as proposed by DPL. At the same time they recommended rates for industrial and commercial users go up one per cent more than the company requested.
It was estimated the over-all increase will yield $17.9 million more per year for the power company. In filing for the higher rates last March, DPL officials said inflation, cost of money and rising energy expenditures made it necessary.

Liquor Mark-Up Sold At Military Bases Decision
JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A panel of three federal judges has ruled that Mississippi may charge a mark-up on liquor sold at military installations and keep $1.17 million already collected.
The state had called the litigation a landmark case that "exceeds similar controls over liquor sales."
The federal government had asked a halt to collection of the mark-up and return of the money, which liquor suppliers had placed in an escrow account.
"With this decision, the $1.17 million collected over the past years can now remain in the treasury of the state and will not have to be rebated as was requested by the federal government," Atty. Gen. A. F. Summer said.
At issue was the 17 per cent mark-up on liquor and 20 per cent mark-up on wines which state law requires out-of-state suppliers to pay to the state government.
Under Mississippi law, the state is the monopoly supplier of alcoholic beverages, but, under a special provision, officers' clubs, base exchanges, and other military outlets may buy their liquor direct from out-of-state suppliers.

Likes Both?

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I think my new husband (age 39) has more than a fatherly interest in my daughter. Lisa is 22. I am 45, but I look about 35.

It all started when I invited Lisa to come along on our honeymoon to make her feel like "one of the family." She is my only child and we've always been very close. She has been away at college, but now that she's graduated she is home, living with us.

Shortly after our honeymoon trip, my husband started taking Lisa out for lunch and buying her new clothes. Then I noticed that Lisa had lost interest in friends her own age. Maybe it's just my imagination, but I've seen some of the looks that have passed between them and I think something is going on. I don't want to make a fool of myself, but I'd like to clear the air. I don't even know how to bring up the subject. Should I question her? Or him? What if all of this is just in my mind?

NOT SURE.
DEAR NOT: If you're not sure, don't question anybody. Keep your eyes open. If there is something to your suspicions, it will come out. In the meantime, you might ask Lisa if she ever considered having her own pad. Three's a crowd.

DEAR ABBY: This will probably throw you. My husband is the best! He's a good provider, we have a nice home, he loves our kids, and spends his time and money on the house and family. The problem is MY frustrations. Our sexual relationship has dwindled to practically nothing.

He gives me the usual goodbye and hello kisses, but they're completely without feeling. He never really holds me, or caresses me. He kisses me like I was his sister.

Should the honeymoon be over after 12 years? Maybe I'm oversexed, but I don't think so. I'd be happy with a once-a-week treat, but it doesn't happen. I'm no sex-bomb, so don't suggest I meet him at the door in a see-through apron.

I mentioned a counselor once, but he couldn't understand why he needed one. Sometimes I'm so frustrated I could scream. I don't want to hurt his masculine ego. Must I learn to live with this, or is there a solution?

FRUSTRATED:
DEAR FRUSTRATED: Don't worry about hurting his masculine ego. Tell him what you've told me. But also ask him if he thinks you're doing your part in the "treat" department.

DEAR ABBY: I've heard of compulsive gamblers, compulsive talkers and compulsive overeaters, but is there such a thing as a compulsive worker? I think I'm one.

LOVES TO WORK
DEAR LOVES: To borrow a phrase from the philosophical James B. Goetz, "It's only work if you'd rather be doing something else."
