IT TAKES THAT MUCH FOR FAMILY OF 4 TO LIVE

What Are You Doing With Your $12,600

WASHINGTON (AP) — A typical American city family of four requires $12,600 annually to maintain a moderate standard of living, the Labor Department said Saturday. This is nearly $1,200 more than the previous year.

The same family can live at an austere level for $8,200 or at a level allowing some luxuries for $18,200, the government said.

The costs, calculated for fall 1973, rose 10.8 per cent for the austere budget, 10.3 per cent for the moderate budget and 9.9 per cent for the higher budget over the previous year.

The changes, reflecting last year's breakaway inflation, were the largest annual increases since the Labor Department began publishing its urban family budget in 1966.

Consumer prices have jumped another 5.4 per cent since last fall.

The budget is based on a city family with a 38-year-old father who is an experienced worker, nonworking wife, their 13-year-old son and 8-year-old daughter.

Average lower-budget families live in rental housing without air conditioning, use public transportation or drive a used car and do most of their own cooking and washing.

Moderate budget families are assumed to have purchased their own home six years ago, and drive a later-model car most of the time. They buy more meat at the market and dine out occasionally.

Higher-budget families own a house, buy a new car every four years and can afford more household goods and paid services.

At each budget level, the rise in food costs was more than triple the increase in any other portion of the budget.

Food accounted for 37 per cent of costs at the lower level, 33 per cent at the moderate and 30 per cent at the higher.

The most expensive place to live continued to be Anchorage, Alaska, where costs were 131 per cent of the national average for the moderate standard of living. In the continental United States, Boston was the most expensive at 118 per cent of the national average.

The cheapest living was in Southern towns with populations ranging from 2,500 to 5,000, where the average was 85 per cent of the norm.

Costs were 9 per cent higher in metropolitan areas than in nonmetropolitan areas for the austere budget, 14 per cent for the moderate budget and 19 per cent for the highest budget.

IF DEPLETION ALLOWANCE IS WIPED OUT

Tower Sees Boost In Cost Of Gas

By MARJ CARPENTER

"Next week when Senator Kennedy and his group try to wipe out the oil and gas depletion allowance, I will do everything in my power to keep it," Senator John Tower, R-Tex., said at a press conference at Webb Air Force Base Saturday.

"What the average citizen does not realize is that this is not a special clause to just protect the oil industry. It also protects the consumer. If the oil depletion allowance were removed, it would cause at least another three cents per gallon rise to the cost of gasoline passed right to the consumer," Tower emphasized.

He pointed out that "I believe that we can defeat the measure on the Senate floor. But if we don't, I predict the President will veto the bill."

Tower readily admitted that other factors affect the cost of gasoline — such as the prices of imported crude and imported gas.

He also discussed the plight of the cattle producer and said he is joining senators in other cattle producing states to do "all we can to alleviate the current prices of cattle in feed lots. We are discussing reducing imports, coming up with lower interest loans and to accelerate buying through the school lunch program and the Department of Defense."

Then he added, "It's a fact of life that when prices rise, they rise for everybody, but when they go back down, sometimes the gap widens in the middle."

He commented on the fears expressed about President Nixon's agreement to help provide energy for nuclear power in Egypt. Tower stated,

"I am not prepared to say whether I am in favor of this or not. We need to examine it very closely and if it is a good idea, maintain very strict controls."

He indicated that he thought the high bank interest rates had peaked out, that he hoped that we had reached a point where Russia would see that in the long run, the continued arms race might need to level off, and commented on Secretary of State Kissinger's threats to resign.

"I don't think he's bluffing and I don't blame him. He had been fully probed before going into the Middle East. I think he is a man of honor and integrity that wants his name cleared. And I think he will be cleared."

He added that making the House Judiciary Committee's hearing public knowledge would be better than bits and pieces that constantly leak out of the investigations and are usually out of context.

About Webb, he stated, "I regard Webb as a vital and important part of the Air Training Command. That's why I'm glad to be here today."

CONRAD CHAPMAN

Louisianan Is No. 10,000

2nd. Lt. Conrad O. Chapman of Jackson, La. was the 10,000 pilot to graduate at Webb Air Force Base, it was revealed during graduation exercises Saturday night.

Senator John Tower, R-Tex., was main speaker at the event and challenged the group of airmen with their importance to the United States, who must maintain a strong defense capability as a mainstay of our diplomatic efforts abroad.

Chapman has been in the Air Force a little more than a year and ironically spent his honeymoon in Big Spring after marrying Margaret LaFleur from his hometown.

He is a graduate of Zachary High School and earned his degree as a petroleum engineer in 1973 from the University of Southwestern Louisiana in Lafayette. While there he was a member of the ROTC program. He now will be assigned as a tanker aircraft refueler at Robins AFB in Georgia.

Following the graduation ceremony, Sen. Tower was guest of honor at a dinner and dance at the officers club.

Col. Bob Liotta also had a briefing with the Senator during the afternoon about Webb and the program under way here.

Following his landing at 1 p.m., he attended a brief press conference on the base and was then honored at the Big Spring Country Club at a luncheon with community leaders as guests.

An honorarium of $1,750 was presented to Senator Tower at the luncheon from his friends in Big Spring for a special endowment and scholarship fund at Southwestern University in Georgetown honoring Senator Tower.

At the dinner meeting Saturday night, guests included top officials at Webb AFB, civic leaders who work in close connection with Webb and many of the Big Spring Republican leaders and their wives.

Hundreds of citizens visited the display of aircraft on the flight line from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. and watched refueling operations in the sky in the early afternoon.

The display included a T-37 Tweet, T-38 Talon, A-7 Corsair, RF-4 Phantom, F-4 Phantom, C-120 Hercules, F-111 Multipurpose fighter and A-37 Dragonfly.

Reviewing the ... Big Spring Week ... with Joe Pickle

Our last, best hope for rain comes this week, and it has little to do with meteorology. If the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo can't entice a rain, then you had better write this down as a droughty year. We had a chance for moisture Tuesday, but it turned out to be mostly wind (up to 60 mph). A few areas got light showers, but not enough to really help. Still we may be better off than Odessa which caught a severe hail storm with a 3-in. deluge that flooded parts of the city. Lubbock also caught flooded streets.

But back to the rodeo. This is the 41st edition of the show, making it one of the oldest continuous productions in the Southwest. The extras for this year indicate one of the better shows starting Wednesday and continuing through Friday. For a bit more color, you may want to take in the street dance downtown Tuesday evening, or the parade Wednesday afternoon. Kiwanians are all primed with piles of mesquite for their traditional rodeo barbecue.

The Big Spring City Council adopted a resolution to name itself as a Board of City Development, thus setting the stage for hiring an industrial specialist to work with the Industrial Foundation. Then it discovered this isn't legally cricket — the BCD must be an independent body.

Abandoned Houses Will Be Razed

The city will begin demolition Monday of 15 abandoned houses throughout the city. The doomed houses are located at 822 W. 9th, 608 San Jacinto, 701 San Jacinto, 510 Precidio and 823 W. 6th.

Also at 105 NW 2nd, 201 NE 3rd, 308 N. Main, 205 N. Johnson, 106 NE 10th, 119 NE 10th, 204 NE 12th, 210 Algerita, 1803 W. 3rd and 801 W. 3rd. The demolitions are part of a program to improve the physical appearance of Big Spring.

Gerald Poe Is Found Dead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Funeral services are pending at the Palm Mortuary in Las Vegas, Nev. for Gerald Mack Poe, 59, of Big Spring.

Mr. Poe was found dead Saturday at the Show Boat Hotel here. Coroner J. Davis ruled death by natural causes.

Poe is associated with the Big Spring Livestock Auction Company here. Born in Mount Vernon Oct. 26, 1914, he moved to Stanton with his family in 1924 and had lived in Stanton and Big Spring ever since.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Betty John Knous, Houston; Mrs. Jimmy Childers, Redding, Calif.; Mrs. Ginger Frazier, St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Mary Jane Casler, Germany.

Other survivors include his mother, Mrs. John N. Poe, Stanton and a brother, J. D. Poe, Stanton and seven grandchildren.

After a year and a half, Texas International Airways effort to abandon its Big Spring stop will come to a head here at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

The Civil Aeronautics Board will begin its hearing in the 118th District Court room on the TIA petition to suspend service here permanently. Previously, the carrier's request for a temporary suspension was denied by the CAB. Local interests had contested this request on the grounds that TIA could then hang on to its service permit indefinitely, thus effectively blocking any attempt to obtain an alternate carrier to provide scheduled air service.

Hearings here will be on permanent suspension.

Big Spring has carried on a vigorous fight since Feb. 4, 1973 when TIA made a surprise announcement that it planned to ask for suspension of service here and in two dozen other cities. County Judge A. G. Mitchell had received the notice, and immediately he and City of Big Spring and Chamber of Commerce officials decided to contest the proposal.

FLEW HERE

Matters hung there until Aug. 14, 1973 when Frank Lorenzo, Houston, president of TIA, flew here to meet with county, city and chamber representatives. If they had their hopes raised by a report TIA might not seek to abandon its Hobbs, N.M. connection, they were disabused of the idea when Lorenzo announced an unqualified determination to suspend service here.

He told the delegation that TIA was losing $100,000 a year on serving Big Spring. While he conceded that boardings would increase with better

Spinning Mill Will Be Constructed In Lamesa

LAMESA — The result of months of work by the industrial foundation and Chamber of Commerce and Board of Civic Development climaxed Friday with the announcement that a cotton spinning mill is coming to Lamesa.

Feather Fabrics Inc. out of Lubbock, jointly backed by a Holland - based textile mill Nijverderal-Ten.

Cate and the South Plains Investors group, will build a mill in Lamesa which will be their second on the Plains. The first is almost complete in Lubbock.

Actual groundbreaking for the new building, which will have approximately 5,000 square feet, will come in about a year. Completion is expected by the fall of 1976.

The late opening will be due to delay in obtaining the $3,000,000 worth of spinning equipment, which is being ordered from Czechoslovakia. The entire plant will be constructed at a cost of nearly $5 million, including the equipment.

The industrial foundation is committed to giving the mill group a 25-acre plot in the Industrial Park, with options for an additional 20 acres. There is a Santa Fe rail siding available, and the foundation will also furnish utilities and the building.

The industrial park is located between North 7th and North 14th, just off the Lubbock highway.

Paul Cook, president of Feather Fabrics, made the announcement Friday. The plant will make yarn from cotton, using, approximately 20,000 bales a year. The process primarily uses short - staple low-micronaire lint plentiful in Dawson County.

Initially, the mill will employ 45 people but plans to expand. Later, a weaving factory may be added at a nearby location.

Neal Patterson, president of the industrial foundation; Fred Barrington, Chamber president, and Art Roberts, Chamber manager all expressed appreciation to all who have worked "hard and long to obtain industry in Lamesa."

schedules, he indicated that TIA had decided to pull out, contending that adequate service could be had from the Midland-Odessa terminal 55 miles away.

Local leaders argued that TIA had promised much to get the certificate in the first place, now wanted to clear out because of a marginal financial situation. Boardings, they pointed out, had reached 5,493 when the carrier had an early morning flight to Dallas, then dropped off progressively as TIA cut to a late morning and then finally to an afternoon schedule to the east. (As of Saturday, TIA was to reinstitute mid-morning flight to Dallas.) Judge Mitchell pointed out that the county had made $155,000 in improvements largely to benefit TIA.

On Nov. 26, TIA got around to actually formally filing its petition asking that the suspension be "temporary." Again, local interests marshaled for action and engaged legal representation at the Washington level.

LOST SOME

The case lost some of its provincialism on Dec. 21, 1973 when the Associated Press used Big Spring as an example of the cities affected by the applications to suspend service in some 25 points. In some respects, the piece wounded local pride, but the case got national and even international attention. Said a Kansas City Star headline: "So Long Down There, Big Spring."

The farewell, however, was a bit premature because the CAB turned down the TIA temporary suspension bid, then held a pre-hearing in Washington March 27 of this year. Ralph McLaughlin, Chamber of Commerce president, was able to report that CAB had decided to bring the hearing to Big Spring as a convenience to area witnesses. Briefs were filed by May 15 and rebuttals by June 7.

Herman Schuerer and Roy Gilfix, Washington, D.C. representatives for Big Spring and Howard County, were to arrive here this evening to coordinate the case against TIA suspension of service. They will be guests at the Chamber of Commerce board meeting Monday noon.

School Lunch Charges Are Advanced 5 Cents

By MARJ CARPENTER

The necessity to raise cafeteria meal prices in the Big Spring schools by five cents for the coming school year was discussed and approved at the board meeting Friday night.

In other major action, they gave approval to the Big Spring Insurance Association plan for workmen's compensation for one year and agreed to spend up to $4,000 to put in water and electricity at Goliad Junior High so that those who desire may put air conditioners in the classroom.

This came following the request of seven teachers in the school who plan to purchase their own units. Ruling last spring by the board allowed PTA units or teachers to purchase units and donate them to the school with the business office to elect the make of air conditioner to keep them standardized.

The action Friday night made it possible for these donations to be made at Goliad Junior High. The board voted to view each request as it came up and this was the second. The PTA at Airport asked the assistance of the trustees in air conditioning one wing of that building earlier.

NOW 50 CENTS
The decision on raising lunch prices will put elementary lunches at 50 cents, junior high and high school at 55 cents and teachers at 65. Don Crockett, school business manager, pointed out that with the increase of food costs and the increase of wages for cafeteria workers to meet all minimum wage requirements to even come close to breaking even in the operation.

Board members had held an extensive study of all possibilities on workmen's compensation insurance and agreed to try the local group the first year since they knew that local service would be available through this group.

They admitted that lack of experience hampered them in making a decision the first year but agreed to leave the type plan up to the local association and school administrators.

Since it was Supt. Sam Anderson's final regular school board meeting, a cake was served with 18 candles, denoting his 18 years of service to Big Spring.

When asked to express a wish, Supt. Anderson stated, "I wish that Big Spring will continue to have a good school system, continue to improve, and that I'll be around to enjoy watching it."

The board agreed to meet Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the superintendent's office to continue their budget work sessions. They approved a request for a $600 increment to be added to the salary of a teacher and to name an assistant tennis coach to help with freshmen and junior high tennis hopefuls.

ONE VOTED 'NO'
The board committed themselves to again participate in the West Texas Education Center's media program at a cost of $1 per ADA count. Delnor Poss voted "no" on this project with all others voting "aye."

New teachers hired included Miss Jill Diane Alexander, speech therapist; Edward C. Alred, Rannels earth science, Mrs. Mariana Alred, Goliad English; Miss Martha Rierro, Bauer first grade; Mrs. Esther Hernandez, unassigned bilingual; Mrs. Melissa Rosson, head start; Pedro Ruiz, high school mechanics and Miss Joan Wahlenmaier, DE coordinator.

Resignations and retirements accepted include Mrs. Kathy Alexander, Boydston; Rodney Allison, high school history; Jerry Bigham, high school DE; Patrick Bizer, Goliad choir; Alvin Bolton, high school physical science; Mrs. Margaret Chapman, Marcy, sixth grade.

Others include Mrs. Hannah Coleman, Rannels Junior High; Mrs. Marjorie DeVore, Goliad math; Mrs. Donna Dixon, Bauer, first grade; Mrs. Dorothy Eubank, Marcy, fourth grade; Mrs. Suzanne Fortson, Airport, second grade; Mrs. Brenda Hamilton, Goliad science.

Still others are Mrs. Oneita Hardy, College Heights, fifth grade; Mrs. Linda Harp, Goliad English; Mrs. Mary Heffley, reading coordinator; Mrs. Gracie Johnson, Marcy first grade; Mrs. Anne Justice, Goliad English; Mrs. Judith Klenz, Park Hill, 6th grade; David Knezek, high school science; Mrs. Kathryn M. Marotz, College Heights resource teacher; Mrs. Eihel McCanless, Boydston, second grade; Mrs. Gerakline McEntire, Marcy, sixth grade and David McNelly, high school biology.

The list also includes Mrs. Johnette Rogers, Airport fifth grade; Mrs. Arthur Rueckart, Bauer, fourth grade; Mrs. Theima Smedley, Boydston, fourth grade; Loren Spencer, high school woodwork; Mrs. Anna Sweaney, Boydston, fifth grade; Joe Swinney, high school mechanics; Mrs. CJets Tatum, high school Spanish; Miss Tedanna Theford, Washington, sixth grade; Robert C. Thompson, high school math; Mrs. Donna Wallace, elementary music; Mrs. Carmen Wiegand, Bauer, third grade; Miss Helen Willard, high school homemaking and Mrs. Mary Withycombe, individualized program speech therapist.

Roy Watkins presided and all members were present including Dan Wilkins, Thomas Fetters, Jim Bill Little, Al Valdes, Jerry Jenkins and Poss. Administrators present included Noel Reed, Lynn Hise, Don Green, Crockett and Anderson.

The Rev. Collins Moore, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church, will officiate with burial in Trinity Memorial Park. Born Jan. 10, 1904 in Rogers, he married Addie Lee Garrett Jan. 10, 1936 in Lubbock. He farmed for many years in the Big Spring area, retired and worked ten years as an operating engineer at the VA Hospital. He was a member of Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Addie Lee of Big Spring; two sons, Carl Anderson, Waco, and Gary Lee Anderson, San Antonio, and one daughter, Mrs. Gerene Carson, Madrid, Spain.

Other survivors include two brothers, J. D. Anderson, Big Spring, L. C. Anderson, Lubbock; and three sisters, Mrs. Mildred Jones and Mrs. Jessie Waldrop, both of Morton, and Mrs. Luene Robinson, Big Spring, and nine grandchildren.

Mollie Wilson
AMHERST — Mrs. Mollie Wilson, 77, of Amherst, sister of a Lamesa resident, died at 12:05 a.m. Friday in a Lubbock hospital. Services will be at 2:30 p.m. today in the First Baptist Church here and burial will follow in the Amherst Cemetery.

Among survivors is C. D. Jones, Lamesa, a brother.

DEATHS

Benjamin Munoz
Rosary will be held at Nalley Pickle Rosewood Chapel at 8:15 p.m. Sunday for Benjamin Munoz, 17, killed in a motorcycle wreck early Saturday morning.

Funeral services will be at 4 p.m. Monday at St. Thomas Catholic Church with the Rev. Leo J. F. St. John officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Olive Cemetery.

The youth was to be a senior at Big Spring High School. He was born in Big Spring March 31, 1957. He worked on the morning shift at Herman's Steak House.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Munoz, and three brothers, Ismael, Jose and Johnny, all of the home and six sisters, Amelia, Linda, Cindy, Ramona, Rosa and Eva, all of the home and his grandmother, Mrs. Emteria Munoz, also of Big Spring.

J.W. Anderson
Funeral services will be held in Nalley Pickle Rosewood Chapel at 10 a.m. Monday for John William Anderson, 70, who died in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock following a lengthy illness.

Dawson Gets Wildcat Test
Terra Resources No. 1 R. C. Koger will be a 9,500-foot Wolfcamp wildcat in southern Dawson County. Location will be 1,320 from the north and west line section 44-35-4n, T&P, four miles southwest of Sparenberg.

It is three-fourths of a mile southwest of an 8,843-ft. Dean producer in the Ackery field, and seven-eighths of a mile east of the depleted Fowler (Caryen) field which had produced at 10,100 feet. The explorer also is 1 1/2 miles southwest of a wildcat failure which topped the Ellenburger at 11,706 and plugged at 12,103 feet.

In Borden County, Brown No.1 Burgess drilled to 4,605 feet.

Monday Agenda Will Be Short
A request from Sheriff A. N. Standard that two deputies be trained at the Municipal Fire School July 21-26, and for a camera and two-way radio appears on the short agenda for County Commissioners Court Monday.

Safety devices for the courthouse elevator will be considered, also.

Two Leave Today For Special Camp
COAHOMA — Tammy Lynn Thixton and Kim Swann leave today for Stephen F. Austin College at Nacogdoches where they will attend a special drum major's training camp.

The two girls are candidates for drum major of the Coahoma High School band next year. They will return on June 21.

GIANT SUNFLOWERS DON'T BITE — But Nichole Curry, 3, seems to be terrified of these giant sunflowers growing next door to her grandmother's house. She is the daughter of Dawne Curry. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Schafer are her grandparents. The sunflowers reaching ten feet high belong to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stevens.

THE WEEK

Lamesa, incidentally, landed a splendid industry Saturday with announcement of a spinning mill with capability of handling some 20,000 bales of cotton a year. This certainly fits the state's biggest cotton-producing county.

Bob McKenzie of Continental Oil suggested to the Howard County Commissioners Court last Monday that it consider a tax rate cut in view of a 15 per cent or $13-million increase in oil valuations. Better wait until the budget shapes up, replied County Judge A. G. Mitchell. Much of the increase results from higher oil prices, and some from increased production because of the prices.

Howard County Commissioners also had requests for more hangars at the airport, which led to a question about division of revenues from hangar rental. The present monthly cut is $5 for the county and $25 for the operator from per space rental.

Larry Willard, vice president and cashier of the First National Bank, was named last week by Jaycees as the city's outstanding young man for the year. Picked as the Jaycee of the Year was Bert Hillger.

Highway tragedy came to our area when a station wagon overturned 19 miles west of Sterling City, killing Jeffrey Tovar, 7. The mishap occurred in Glasscock County.

The die will be cast this week on scheduled air service by Texas International Airways. The CAB has set the hearing on TIA's application to suspend service here Tuesday, and testimony may determine whether CAB says TIA can pull out.

Howard County added a small Spraberry discovery, Kaspar No. 1 H. H. Wilkinson, last week, but otherwise oil activity was relatively quiet. Dawson, Sterling and Mitchell County each got deep wildcat locations.

Howard College received a pair of grants totaling $55,212 last week. One was for $51,440 for work study (111 students) and the other a supplemental Education Opportunity for five students. HC put in for $90,000 which would be a p.e.p program to enable certain high schoolers to qualify for college entrance.

Stanton Plans For Airport
STANTON — Stanton and Martin County officials met this week to review the possibility of building a new airport for the city and county and learned that for a $4,753 investment, the county could receive a $358,019 airport.

Martin County Judge Carroll Yater and Mayor Cecil Bridges met with interested citizens to hear a proposal submitted by Ken Esmond of Freese, Nichols and Esmond, consulting engineers of Odessa and Jerry Shaubner, Permian Basin regional planning council.

Included in the proposed project would be a 4,630 foot runway, with a loop, a possible crosswind runway, main office, hangars, paved access road, runway lights, a rotating beacon and painting, striping and fencing.

Biggest part of the cost of the project would be picked up by the Federal Aviation Administration and Texas Aeronautics Commission under the 1969 national airport plan.

The governmental groups will each air the proposal at their respective meetings. They were told it would take a year to get the funds and around eight months after that for construction.

Airman Indicted In Two Deaths
ABILENE — A.L.C. Darryl E. Lee, 761 Scott in Tye, was indicted Friday by a 42nd District Court grand jury for the death of his wife, Beverly, 18, and for "murder while intentionally causing injury" in the death of their son, delivered by emergency Caesarian minutes before Mrs. Lee's death in the Dvess AFB hospital June 3. Mrs. Lee had been shot in the breast. Lee was held in lieu of $50,000 bond.

THEFTS
Quigley's Floral van stolen from in front of the flower shop Saturday, located four hours later in parking lot of VA Hospital.

Ponca Wholesale reported theft of 20 cartons of cigarettes and one carton of Copengagen snuff, value, $84.53.

Coming Out Of Corral — The 41st Big Spring Rodeo

The once-familiar clatter of horses hooves will be heard with increasing frequency again this week as the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo saddles up for its 41st annual ride.

When it comes bounding out of the corral Wednesday, the four-day show promises to be one of the best in the long history of venerable rodeo, said Charlie Creighton, president.

This is one of the oldest continuous such productions in the Southwest.

Mayor Wade Choate has proclaimed this as Rodeo Week in Big Spring and urged individuals to wear Western apparel, especially during the four days of the rodeo.

PRE-RODEO EVENTS
The first of two major events preceding the rodeo will get underway 8 p.m. Tuesday when

HAPPINESS IS A SPRINKLER ON A HOT DAY — Little Alexandria Valdes, age 11 months, recently discovered water sprinklers and how much fun they can be if parents will only turn them on and turn the children loose. With Alexandria, there's certainly no energy shortage.

Scout Figures Correct In Area, Speaker Says

The Buffalo Trail Council, which serves 18 counties in this area, is supported wholly by private contributions and every boy on its rolls is a bona fide member, although some few may be in currently inactive units, G. L. (Ike) McCarroll, Midland, president, said Saturday.

McCarroll said he had received several inquiries in the wake of the disclosure that some councils in metropolitan areas had padded boy scout rolls to meet membership quotas. In some cases, special federal program funds were used.

"The Buffalo-rail Council, Boy Scouts of America, headquartered in Midland, does not receive any monetary funds from the federal government for financing of the Scout program in any areas served by the council," said McCarroll.

SOME SURPLUS
"The council does receive some surplus food commodities for operation of summer camp at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch, and the council does hire part-time youth to help with operation of summer camp. This is funded through the government Neighborhood Youth Corps program or College Work Study Program. Salaries of these employees are paid directly by the government to the youth employees, and none of the money is involved in or based on membership in the council."

"The direct financial support that the council receives comes from public contributions through participation in six different United Ways, independent Scout campaigns in non-United Way communities, sustaining members and income from activities such as annual Scout Exposition."

Cycle Mishap Here Is Fatal To Teen-Ager

Benjamin Munoz, 17, was killed and David Rojo, 19, suffered critical injuries when the motorcycle on which they were riding was in collision with an automobile at 1:03 a.m., Saturday on the south service road at the intersection of 12th and North Bell Streets. Police identified the driver of the automobile as Ernest Lopez Gonzales, 20.

Munoz was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena. Rojo is hospitalized at Hall Bennett Memorial Hospital where he is suffering from two fractured legs; possible internal injuries and is in critical condition.

Gonzales was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated and was transferred to the county jail this morning. A $500 bond was set by the sheriff's office and Gonzales was freed on bond before noon Saturday.

The investigating policeman, Robert Yeager, said that the two vehicles hit head-on. At least one of the youths bounced up on the car and off and was dragged some distance. The officer's report showed.

The motorcycle was also dragged for approximately 80 feet from the point of impact. The two youths were about 40 feet apart and several feet from the cycle.

Munoz suffered multiple broken bones and internal injuries and was apparently killed instantly. There were no details as to how the accident occurred as the passenger on the motorcycle was in critical condition and the automobile driver was in no condition to talk early Saturday after the accident occurred, according to Yeager.

The car veered across the road after the point of impact and came back on the road halting some 110 feet from the motorcycle. The car was apparently headed west on the south service road and the motorcycle was apparently traveling east.

This was the second air fatality inside the city limits during 1974.

Cop Wounds Ex-Convict
LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Two ex-convicts from Texas, one wounded when a highway patrol trooper arrested them, were in jail here on firearms charges Saturday.

Highway patrol trooper George C. Hough wounded Joe Lee Ware, 27, late Friday night while searching him and Hilton Ray Murphy, 24, on the H. E. Bailey Turnpike, the patrol said.

Ware was released from a Lawton hospital after the bullet was removed.

The charges stemmed from a sawed off shotgun Hough said he found in the front seat of the car. Both men were charged with illegal transportation of a loaded firearm in a motor vehicle, possession of a firearm after a felony conviction and possession of an illegal weapon.

Hough stopped the men's car on the turnpike after seeing its lights flash on and off three or four times.

Hough was stopped down to check Ware's boots when Ware "knocked the trooper off balance with an abrupt movement of his feet," the patrol said.

Hough said he fired one shot as he fell backward, with his pistol flat against Ware's back and pointing upward.

The startled reporter, who had been trying all day to get some of the sought-after Dixon memoranda, said he was certain the rumor was false.

The incident was an illustration of how badly shaken committee Democrats were by leaks.

Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, does not take lightly what he constantly refers to as the panel's "constitutional responsibility" to report to the full House on whether there are grounds for the impeachment of President Nixon.

With a 21 to 17 Democratic majority, Rodino knows he has the votes to work his will. But he also knows that if the committee votes on a straight party line, the White House could say the impeachment inquiry is a partisan move to oust a Republican president.

After the leaks, Rodino and House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., moved swiftly. Rodino ordered committee staff member William P. Dixon to write no more memos for Democratic members.

Albert called Rodino to express his displeasure with the leaks.

Church Of God Sets Program

The First Church of God, 2009 Main, will host the Musical Ensemble named "Theophilus" Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

"Theophilus" is a Greek word meaning "Lover of God." The Rev. Ed Beasley, local pastor says, "This name is a clue to their faith and their purpose is to see others become lovers of God. Their music is geared to the young minded person and their style is contemporary."

Many of their songs are original and express the testimony of their lives. The group members include Paul Donaldson, a music major at a Gulf-coast Bible College; Cliff Donaldson, psychology major at the same college and Chuck Whetstone, originally from Shreveport, La. All three at one time used their talents in a rock band.

The Rev. Beasley invites the public to come and hear the group and especially invite local youth.

Kiwanians Slate Annual Rodeo Barbecue June 19

The annual community wide barbecue sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, which traditionally kicks off the four nights of rodeo in Big Spring, will be held again this year on Wednesday at both Comanche Trail Park and the Rodeo Grounds from 5-8 p.m.

Tickets are on sale by all members of the Kiwanis Club for $2 each or may be purchased at the barbecue.

An event like this does not just happen but takes hours of preparation and planning so that Big Spring citizens can enjoy the annual event.

Noel Reed and Willie Lane are co-chairmen with J. C. Pickle and Sherman Smith as chiefs. First they purchased 100 pounds of brisket, 100 pounds of beans and 100 pounds of onions.

Billy Smith is ticket chairman, assisted by Elmer Boatler and W. B. Hardy at the park and Clyde Hollingsworth at the Fair Barn. Harold Canning heads publicity.

Pete Hull is food chairman and that is a most responsible job. The meat preparation committee meets at Pete's store at 5 p.m. Tuesday. Their numbers include Harvey Clay, Herman Smith, Don Green and Henry Thames.

Meat slicing and serving will be handled by Hull, along with Jack Lee, Bob Goodwin, Billy Smith, Harvey Clay and Craig Fischer.

Bean picking takes place in the school board room Monday, 5 p.m., headed by Don Green. He will be assisted by Gene Atkins, Don McGonagill, Gene Gresham, Jere Sink and Bob Crowell. Green is personally responsible for any rocks left in the beans.

Bob Goodwin is foreman at the park and Jim Beam is chairman of bean cooking and onion slicing. He gets to choose whether Canning, Fischer, Atkins or Reed will slice the onions.

The iced tea department is headed by Jack Worsham, assisted by Charles Warren, H. W. Smith, Atkins and Larry Key. Henry Thames heads the meat cooking, assisted by what he hopes will be a large group of volunteers.

Serving food at the park will be Dub Moore, assisted by Don McGonagill, Jack Alexander, Willie Lane, G. G. Morehead, Ernest Welch, Canning and Beam.

Tables are in charge of John Hale, assisted by Dr. Roscoe Cowper, Paul Chappel, Robert Stripling, Billy Smith, Bill Sanders, Jack Lee and Ed Corson.

Horace Reagan is foreman at the county barn, assisted by Merle Stewart, Bob Crowell, William Rothel, J. B. Gordon, Hale, Hollingsworth and Sink.

Wendal Parks heads the rodeo shuttle, assisted by S. A. Walker and Fischer. Assigned to general duties are Sherman Smith, Harvey Clay, Jasper Atkins and the chairmen.

Gene Grisham heads clean-up detail and at the end of a long day of it, this is where the club members renege. Clean-up workers are to be paid.

Former Solon Is Disbarred

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Former State Rep. Hudson Moyer has been deprived of his license to practice law for the 10 years of his probated sentence on a theft charge.

The disbarment came Thursday on an agreed judgment sought in state district court by the State Bar of Texas.

Moyer was convicted in 1973 on a charge of using $5,000 in state postage stamps to pay off a debt.

Another former state legislator convicted in a similar case, Walter Knapp of Amarillo, is free on bond from the state penitentiary while the state battles a federal court judge over a possible new trial for the former House member.

Texas Asst. Atty. Gen. Jack Boone filed in U.S. District court here appealing U.S. District Court Judge Hal Woodward's order for a new trial.

Woodward's May 29 order directs the state either to give Knapp a new trial on a charge of stealing $1,200 in postage stamps for personal use, or free him.

Knapp had served four months of a four-year prison term before his release on $5,000 bond Tuesday. A final ruling in his case is not likely before fall. Boone said the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals probably will not set a hearing date until September.

If the state loses the appeal, Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith, prosecutor at Knapp's original trial, would decide either to hold a new trial or drop the case.

Knapp and Moyer were among eight state officials Smith prosecuted in 1972 and 1973. All either pleaded guilty to felony charges or were found guilty of lesser charges. Only Knapp has spent time in prison.

Accused Slayer Of Two Deputies Declared Insane

CAMERON, Tex. (AP) — Douglas M. Stewart, accused of the murder of two Falls County deputy sheriffs, was declared criminally insane by a state court jury Friday and committed to the Rusk maximum security mental institution.

Sewart is charged with the slaying of deputies Elbert Watkins and Dean Humphus on Aug. 21, 1973 at a home two miles south of Marlin.

The two officers were attempting to arrest Stewart to transfer him to the psychiatric diagnostic center in Waco at the time they were shot and killed.

IT WAS ULTIMATE TEST OF FAITH FOR MAN Convert Lost Son To Snakebite

KISTLER, W.Va. (AP) — Just up the road from Man, alongside Buffalo Creek, sits a drab, two-story building covered with aluminum siding and a heavy coat of fine, gray dust.

The skeleton of a partially-completed wood portico stands over the front door and colored contact paper in a green and red stained glass motif has been plastered over the windows. From the outside, the building looks neglected and appears to be little used. But one recent evening, it was the scene of much fervent activity.

It is the Jesus Church of Kistler, the house of worship where, on that evening, a six-foot rattler provided the Rev. Richard Lee Williams, visiting from Ohio, with the ultimate test of faith.

NEARBY
"I was just a couple of feet away from him when he was bit," Cecil Browning recalled as he sat in a booth at Scottie's Drive-In at Switzer, 20 miles across Logan County from Kistler.

"A lot of us had already had victory over the serpent. He had handled it, too, and had put it back in the box; then he said a few words and got it out again. That's when it bit him. It was on the left palm."

A small, soft-spoken man in his early 60s, Browning paused as the waitress put down a plate of gravy-smothered meat loaf, hashed potatoes and cornbread.

"You could see where it got him," he said as he picked up his fork. "The blood spurted out. But he just kept on talkin'. We took him to Brother Evans' house later and the saints prayed for him all night. I stayed with him until 4 a.m. myself."

A former coal miner who also spent a dozen years working in a Chicago machine shop, Browning returned to Logan County about 18 months ago and lives the life of a pensioner at Switzer, drawing social security and his "John L. Lewis check."

"It was a rattler," he said, sipping up the last of the thick, brown gravy with his cornbread. "I didn't have no fear. You overcome your fear by asking God; that's where you get the victory. If you're not afraid, then the snake stays calm."

"It's a wonderful feeling, to be at them services," he said, wiping his mouth and reaching for his coffee. "But I'll tell you, you don't reach in every time. You wait for the Lord to anoint you — there's death in the box."

He took a sip of coffee and reflected a moment.

ONLY 33
"Richard Lee was only 33, the same age as Jesus when he died. And he had a little baby and a young wife. You know he didn't want to leave them; he did it for us. Nobody made him do it. Why, that brother laid down his life for his church and his belief."

Browning said that the church had had several services since the Rev. Williams' death and that attendance had been good.

"Nobody's fallen away," he declared. "And as for his father, I'd say his faith is stronger, if anything."

Rev. Kelly Williams, father of the dead man, is pastor of the Jesus churches at Kistler and Micco, a tiny community just south of Switzer.

"You talk to him," Browning said. "He'll tell you more than I can, he's been at it a long time. I've never heard a man speak like him, he can explain the Bible just like it is."

A meeting was arranged in the late afternoon at the Coney Island Restaurant in downtown Logan, a coal industry town. It was check day, the day early each month when the black lung, Social Security and miner's compensation checks arrive. The streets were jammed with people.

"I believe it's better now than back before the machines took all the jobs in the mines," observed the cashier at the restaurant as he looked through the plate glass windows out onto Stratton Street. "At least, it's better for the first few days of the month, up about until the 10th, then things start to die down."

Just then a man walked up. "I'm Williams," he said. He had reddish-blond, wavy hair and his eyes were hidden behind shaded bi-focals. He was nattily dressed in a brown-checked suit, striped tie and mustard-colored shirt.

DON'T UNDERSTAND
"We're aware the general public doesn't believe and doesn't understand," he said, slowly feeling his way into the conversation. "But we're sure if they knew the truth about it, they would understand why we do it. They might not accept it, but they would understand. "As it is, they just think we're a bunch of crazy people."

The waitress arrived with the meat loaf.

"You don't mind if I say a blessing, do you?" he asked, folding a pair of soft, well-cared-for hands that he personally estimates have handled "a boxcar load of snakes."

PREFERENCE
"I wasn't in attendance the night he was bit," he said, after a pause. "One of the sisters called me. I came as soon as I heard and I stayed with him until the end. You know, Richard Lee had said many times he would rather die of a serpent bite than in a car wreck or some other way."

The Rev. Williams is 55. In his younger days, "before I got the Holy Ghost," he said he was a carouser.

"It changed my life and my son's life, too. He was an alcoholic before he came into the church 7½ years ago. It saved him from alcohol."

The Rev. Williams smiled. It church bases its faith on the gospel according to St. Mark, Chapter 16, verses 17 and 18.

In these passages, Jesus has been crucified and has risen. He is giving his disciples some last minute instructions before ascending into heaven.

"And these signs shall follow them that believe," Mark quotes Jesus as saying. "In my name they shall cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues;

"They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."

"So then, after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into Heaven, and sat on the right hand of God."

The Rev. Williams smiled. It was almost a grimace.

"You see," he said, "We base our belief on the word of God. "I'm convinced that the disciples handled serpents themselves," he added. "And I'm not proud of my son dying... Lord, nobody will ever know what a loss it was to me. "But I'm glad he died like he did — in the faith, with victory."

Enrollment Up In Rec Units

After its initial week, the Citywide summer Recreation program had 113 youngsters enrolled at the Comanche Trail Park. Any elementary school age child is welcome to enroll this week by reporting to the park at 9 a.m., bringing a bathing suit because a daily recreation swim is part of the supervised program. There is no charge.

Cumulative attendance at the park was 400 for the week, said Pat Owens, supervisor. At Lakeview, cumulative attendance for the week was 550, and Thursday was a big day with some of the mothers giving an ice cream feed. The basketball program had 65 for the Tuesday and Thursday sessions at Runnels Junior High gym, and high schoolers are urged to take part in this activity.

Chronicle Files Suit To Open Police Records

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Chronicle filed Friday a state district court suit seeking an order to require the Houston Police Department to permit reporters to inspect police offense reports and individual records.

The Chronicle's petition said present policy gives the department the right to deny at any time access to such reports.

The newspaper alleges violation of the Texas and U.S. constitutions and the Texas Open Records Act.

"The purpose of this suit is to sustain the right of the people to know what is going on in their governmental agencies and to establish that the Open Records Act passed by the Texas Legislature in 1973 recognizes this right," said Editor Everett D. Collier.

"It is not derogatory of any public officeholder. In recent years there have been numerous infringements on the right of the people to know the proceedings of government. Secrecy in government is dangerous. Particularly is secrecy dangerous when it involves police departments."

Telephone Rates Vary Widely Within State

By MARJ CARPENTER
 Texas is the only state in which the regulation of telephone companies is a municipal responsibility. And Texas rates, in most municipalities have remained lower than in other states because of this regulation. However, it does make a basis of wide variety in between rates among the various cities, and communities of the state. According to a study on telephone rates published by the Texas Municipal League, single party home rates range from a low as $3.50 in the town of Malakoff to the high of $16 in Groves.

This is a wide variety and the fees in the biggest majority of the cities are somewhere between $5.75 and $8.

ONE OF 34
 Big Spring's is $5.50 and if you want to move to another town in Texas with the same residential rate, you can go to Avery, Claude, Cleveland, Flatonia, Gary, Gilmer, Kerens, Knox City, Kountze, Liverpool, Livingston, Lockhart, Malone, Marfa, Marion, McLean, McLendon, Moran, New Boston, New London, Nocona, Northheim, North Cleveland, O'Brien, Olney, Rockwell, Seadrift, Silsbee, Sweeney, Thornton, Throckmorton, Tom Bean, Weimar or Yorktown.

Below the $5.50 level are Crowell and Littlefield at $5.45. At $5.40 are Crawford, Port Lavaca and Laredo in case you want to consider phone charges on the border or to the rice area.

There seems to be no regional trend because the next two are far apart with Leveland at $5.35 and Del Rio at $5.30.

There's a large group at $5.25. They include Abernathy, Abilene, Big Lake, Bremond, Friona, Graford, Kermit, Jasper, Itasca, Impact, Rhome, St. Jo and Tye.

Lamesa sits alone at the $5.10 rate. Willsboro's the only $5.05 charge. At a flat $5 are Chillicothe, Dilley, Dublin, Gorie, Happy, Santa Anna, Josephine, Waskom and Venus.

TWO THAT RANKLE
 Sitting below $5 at $4.75 are two that might rankle Big Spring citizens a mite. They are Midland and Odessa along with three others — Eustace, Frankston and Oglesby.

If you want a $4.50 rate, you can go to Westaco in the lower valley although it is the only South Texas town with a rate that low. The only other two similarly assessed are Gordon and Ore City. Electra has a $4.25 charge.

Almost all cities in the state are in that vast $6 and $7 classification. Those which are extra high, above the $8 mark other than Groves' $16 are Nassau Bay with $14.40, Westminister, $10.10, Tool with $9 and Friendswood with $9.20. Lakeport and New Deal have $8.90. Little Snook, known for its many championship basketball teams, has an $8.85 rate. Stuck at $8.80 are Elmendorf, Selma and St. Helwig.

There's a group at $8.83 including Burleson, Newark, Renner, Mansfield and Sunnyvale. An $8.75 rating includes Aledo, Balcones Heights and Haslet.

The $8.60 rate includes Highland Village, Rowlett, Murphy, Grapevine, Wylie, Lewisville, Southdale and

Wet-Dry Election Slated Saturday

LAMESA — The June 22 election here, at which time voters will decide the fate of a proposal to legalize sale of alcohol beverages for off-premises consumption, will likely attract a lot of the electorate.

Officials are having 5,000 ballots printed for the election. The Dawson County Commissioners Court authorized the election after a citizens group presented a petition bearing the signatures, addresses and voter receipt numbers of 1,229 residents.

Absentee balloting ends next Tuesday.

Individuals living in the city limits of Lamesa who have the valid voter registration slip are eligible to vote in the liquor election. All voters must have been registered to vote at least 30 days prior to the June 22 election.

Stanley Awarded Degree At Tech

Dickey Stanley has been graduated from Texas Tech University with a bachelor of science degree.

With a 3.77 average on a four-point system, Stanley was on the dean's honor list. He was a pre-dental major and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Stanley.

Six From Here At Boys' State

AUSTIN — Among the 872 high school boys attending the 34th annual American Legion Boys State were six representing Big Spring Post 355.

They were Joe Louis Moreno, Garden City Route, Pete Holden Rhymes II, 1300 Douglas St., Donald Joseph MacKay, 1412 Tucson Road, Lawrence Earl Byrd, 1010 N. Main St., Joe Rocha Jr., Gail Route, and Keith Stone, Route 1, Box 350.

Following registration, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties — the Nationalist or Federalist. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party, he attends its precinct, county and state conventions and votes in its primary.

Greybeard Takes Bride In Her September Years

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Maude Speake, 77-year-old former World War I Navy nurse, got a snappy salute from her new husband Friday as she came a June bride in the September of her years.

For her husband, Nicholas Walsh, World War I Army veteran, it was a first marriage at the age of 82.

Why did he wait so long to take the plunge? "I never met a girl before I wanted to spend the rest of my life with," he said.

Mrs. Speake and Walsh were married in a simple service in the second floor chapel of the nursing home care unit at the Veterans Administration Center where they met, with nurses and patients looking on. The Rev. George Hamilton, VA chaplain, officiated.

Walsh was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., and his bride, a widow with no children, in Elkhart, Ind. He said they met at the VA center in Dayton when he was an elevator operator.

"Maude was in a wheelchair and I always helped her in and out of the elevator," Walsh said. "We got to know each other real well."

"Well, not too long ago I just told her that we have known each other for three years and it was about time we ended this thing and got married."

As she waited to be wheeled into the chapel, the bride said: "We pulled one over on the

PALMER, PLAYER HAVE THEIR TROUBLES

Watson Surges Into Open Lead

ARNIE HANGING TOUGH Palmer Three Shots Off Pace

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Red-haired Tom Watson, a freckle-faced kid who has yet to win a tournament, swept past the struggling giants of the game—Arnold Palmer and Gary Player—with a one-under-par 69 that staked him to the third round lead Saturday in the 74th United States Open Golf Championships.

The 24-year-old Watson, a Stanford University product now in his second year on the pro tour, put together a 54-hole total of 213, three over par on the 6,961-yard terror called the Winged Foot Golf Club course.

It was good for a one-stroke lead over Hale Irwin, a 29-year-old tour regular who emerged from the multiple on a scramble to take second place with a 71 and a 214 total.

Palmer, the 44-year-old living legend who is trying to fight his way out of the deepest, most frustrating slump of his storied career, once held sole control of the lead before blowing to a 73-216, three shots back going into the last round of this most prestigious of all the world's golf championships.

"I finished both nines very badly," Palmer said. "I played some good golf, but I also played an awful lot of bad golf."

Player, the doughty little South African who won the 1974 Masters, struggled and strained to a whopping 77.

It virtually destroyed his glory dream of the Grand Slam, a one-year sweep of the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and the PGA—something never before accomplished. And, with Player at 220, 10 over par and seven shots out of the lead, it still seemed out of reach.

Palmer, Player, Irwin and Ray Floyd started third-round play in a tie for the top spot. Floyd, a former PGA champion, bogeyed his first four holes and finally limped home with a 78-221.

He was tied at that figure with British Open king Tom Weiskopf, who had a 72. Johnny Miller, the defending U.S. Open champion, was out of it at 225. He had a 74, his best round of the tournament.

Jack Nicklaus, holder of a record 14 major tournament titles and the man picked most likely to succeed in this one, blew to an incredible 76 and also was out of championship consideration at 225.

Beautiful spring weather and a head-to-head clash between Palmer and Player—they were paired together in a renewal of a rivalry stretching back to the 1950s—lured a massive gallery of perhaps 20,000 to the suburban New York course that has proved to be one of the toughest about 10 feet of the flag and boldly stroked home the birdie putts. They all flocked to the side of Palmer and Player, who were playing just behind Watson and just ahead of Irwin.

Watson made his move starting on the 13th hole. He rolled in a 25-30 footer for birdie there, then followed with birdies on two of the toughest holes on the golf course—the 16th and 17th. He split the fairway on both, threw his second—each one a long iron shot—to within about 10 feet of the flag and boldly stroked home the birdie

Irwin, a two-time winner whose career has shown steady improvement in his seven years on the pro tour, held the lead at the turn, but ran into putting troubles for a while.

But he birdied the 16th from 10-15 feet, holed a 25-30 footer on the 17th and one-putted for par on the 18th to stay in position for the most highly-prized title in the world of golf.

Aaron Wants Shot At Japanese 'Babe'

ATLANTA (AP) — Henry Aaron, baseball's supreme home run king, says he would welcome a homer-hitting contest between himself and Sadaharu Oh, the Japanese "Babe Ruth."

"I'd like to have a home run hitting contest with him," the Atlanta Braves' superstar said Friday night. "We can do it anywhere," added the slugger, who snapped Ruth's all-time mark on April 1, when he drilled his 715th career homer.

"We can go to Japan, or have it here," said the 40-year-old Mobile, Ala., native.

In all fairness to Aaron, he admitted he knew little about Oh, until a reporter told him that the 34-year-old Japanese slugger had said he is gunning to break Aaron's home run total and expected to play another six years in his chase. Aaron has connected for 11 homers this year for a career total of 724 with an additional eight more coming in World Series, All-Star and playoff games for a grand total of 732.

Oh has 598 after 15 years of play in Japan. "I'd like to have the contest some time in November," said Aaron, who is in the final year of a three-year $300,000 pact and is retiring after this season.

It certainly appears that a contest would be appealing on a world-wide basis, since Oh has some impressive statistics to back him up.

He won Japan's Triple Crown a year ago, hitting 51 home runs, getting 214 hits and batting .355. In 1964, the 5-10, 180 pounder slammed 55 homers, a Japanese record.

Favorites Out Of Le Mans

LE MANS, France (AP) — The punishment of the 24 Hours of Le Mans had eliminated 17 cars one-third of the way through the sports car classic Saturday night, including two of the favored French Matras.

The original field of 49 starters had dwindled down to 32, but it was still led by the frontstarting Matra of Henri Pescarolo and Gerard Larrousse. The two men won last year in a Matra.

The four Matras took an early lead from the early challengers, two British Gulf Fords driven by Derek Bell and Mike Hailwood and Vern Schuppan and Reine Wisell.

But then the Matra driven by Jean-Pierre Beltoise and Jean-Pierre Jarrier had a pit accident with a Porsche. Repaired 33 minutes later, it went back on the track but just before the end of the eighth hour it was abandoned with a broken engine.

At the nine-hour mark, Pescarolo and Larrousse had covered 122 laps, or 1,000 miles at an average speed of 130 miles per hour.

Cardinals Visit Lamesans Today

LAMESA — The Big Spring Cardinals visit Lamesa's Lobos today at 2 p.m. for a semipro baseball game.

Two Hardin-Simmons University players, outfielders Andy Gamboa and Don Harrison, head up the Cards' lineup while Orlando Olague will be on the mound. Rounding out the infield will be Jimmy Fierro, Santos Olague, Joe Cadenhead, Terry Smith and Abel Ramirez, while Tom Arista will fill the other outfield spot. The Cards are 4-5 following last week's 13-3 loss to Odessa's Dorados.

KELLY McKEON Like Father, Like Son...

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kelly McKeon is a chip off the old block at the age of 12.

Like his pop, Manager Jack McKeon of the Kansas City Royals, Kelly lives and breathes baseball, knows the language from A to Z, is a pretty fair judge of players...and chews tobacco.

"I've chewed since I was six," said Kelly, a Royals' ball boy. "I can't right now 'cause I got these braces on my teeth. One time I swallowed a great big chunk. It made me sick."

McKeon's baseball activities became a father and son act back when Kelly was five and Jack was a scout for the Minnesota Twins. When he was six, Kelly strode through the dugout after a pitcher walked a couple of guys and told his dad, then manager at High Point, N.C.:

"Skip, you better get somebody warm'n' up. That guy's had it."

Kelly was a pretty good observer at that age, too. He asked Jack:

"How come the catcher always runs down to first with the batter?"

"Kelly resembles his pop in another way. He likes to argue with the umpire. Once when Jack was manager at Omaha, Kelly stormed onto the field and confronted the man in blue."

"I told that umpire that it wasn't a strike," Kelly explained. "I really told him. What happened? He tossed me out of there."

"When dad gets in an argument, I'm always afraid he'll get in a fight. I always drop my glove on the ground so I'll be ready to go out there and help him. I always think my dad is gonna punch him."

"You know, my dad belted a pitcher once."

Kelly had a couple of his greatest moments last season when the Oakland A's were in town.

"I told 'em twice Campy (A's shortstop Bert Campaneris) was gonna try to steal," Kelly said. "I could tell by his body movements. Campy went, and they got him both times."

Staub-Koosman Act Sparks Mets' Win

By The Associated Press

Rusty Staub drove in two runs with a single and homer and left-hander Jerry Koosman stiffed the Los Angeles attack after a shaky start, leading the New York Mets to a 4-1 victory over the Dodgers Saturday.

Staub singled home New York's second run in a two-run first inning, then hit his ninth homer in the fourth as the Mets snapped a four-game losing streak in the nationally televised baseball game.

The Dodgers, the commanding leaders of the National League West, jumped on Koos-man quickly. Dave Lopes opened the game with a blood double to right and Bill Russell followed with a run-scoring single.

But Koosman, 6-4, then took command in breaking a personal two-game losing streak and winning for the first time since May 25. He allowed only five hits for the rest of the game, finishing with a seven-hitter. Koosman struck out five and walked none.

In another National League game Saturday, the Houston Astros nipped the Chicago Cubs 8-7. In the American League, the Cleveland Indians beat the Minnesota Twins 5-1, the Detroit Tigers downed the Kansas City Royals 11-9 and the Oakland A's drubbed the New York Yankees 9-1.

Pinch-hitter Cliff Johnson's two-run homer capped a five-run, eight-inning rally that carried Houston over Chicago. Two-run homers by Bill Madlock and Billy Williams featured a seven-run rally in the fourth which had given the Cubs a 7-3 lead.

Post Nabs Lead In Medina Open

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — Sandra Post, the 1968 LPGA champion, battled miserable elements for a one-under-par 71, Saturday's only sub-par effort, to seize the 36-hole lead in the $42,500 Medina Open.

The 25-year-old Canadian native survived winds gusting to 30 miles per hour, thunder, lightning and heavy rain for a 143 total over the soggy 6,200-yard Weymore Valley Country Club course.

Thunder and lightning suspended play for nearly 1 1/2 hours with all of the leaders on the course.

Gloria Ehret, 32-year-old veteran from Dallas, swept into second place, fashioning a 73 for a 144 total. Pam Barnett, 30, from Charlotte, N.C., was third at 145, shooting 74.

First-day leader Sue Roberts took a fat 40 on the back nine, ballooned to a 77 and was tied for fourth place with JoAnne Carner and Sandra Haynie.

Mrs. Carner, winner of three of the last four tour stops, had a 76—her highest score in weeks. Miss Haynie had a 74.

Harding Scores First Win, 21-18

Harding Well Service broke into the Coahoma Freshman League win column Friday with a 21-18 triumph over the Bankers.

James Roevery slugged a pair of triples and a single while J. Taylor, Jim Fortenberry and Jeff Murphee also starred in Harding's 21-hit attack, which followed four straight defeats. Taylor was the winning pitcher.

For the Bankers, who fell into a tie for first at 3-2, Carl Mills, Mark Garret, Mike Roberts, Mark Murphee and Kenny Kellar were the hitting leaders. Mills took the defeat.

Europeans, Italy Score Cup Wins

By The Associated Press

Europe scored a double victory over South America in World Cup soccer Saturday and Dino Zoff, Italy's star goalie, saw a proud shutout record snapped.

On a day of drama and excitement, The Netherlands beat Uruguay 2-0, Sweden and Bulgaria tied 0-0, Poland edged Argentina 3-2, and Italy downed Haiti 3-1.

Zoff, who had not allowed a goal in 1,143 minutes of international soccer, was scored upon at last — by Haiti, of all teams.

The Haitians, rated hopeless outsiders for the Cup, staggered the Italians by taking the lead in the 46th minute. Italy recovered to win, but Emmanuel Sanon's goal for Haiti was the most memorable score of the day.

Italy had gone through the whole qualifying tournament without conceding a goal, and Zoff had kept his net empty for 12 games against some of the best teams in the world.

Johnny Rep of The Netherlands and Grzegorz Lato of Poland each scored two goals and went into a tie for the lead as top scorers of the tournament.

All-America Drills Begin

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Workouts began Saturday for the Coaches All-America Football Game with nine players missing but eight of them in sight.

The game next Saturday night is expected to draw a crowd of more than 43,000 for the 14th unrelenting.

East Coach Johnny Majors of Pittsburgh noted five players out of pocket but all are expected for today's workout.

West Coach Barry Switzer of Oklahoma had four empty uniforms, but three missing players have been located.

Only linebacker David Smith of Oklahoma was unable to play. He has had knee surgery.

The West won 20-6 last year to take a 7-6 edge in the overall records.

ORANTES, BORG WIN

PARIS (AP) — Manuel Orantes of Spain and Sweden's Bjorn Borg advanced to the finals of the $200,000 French Open Tennis Championships today.

Borg outlasted Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md., 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1 in a 2 1/2-hour match. Solomon lost his touch in the fourth set and managed only 12 points in the final set.

Orantes, steady from the baseline and crisp in his volleys, whipped Francois Jauffret of France 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

FOR NORTH CAROLINA STAR Rockets Exit 'Bidding War'

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association announced Saturday they were withdrawing their offer made to their No. 1 draft choice, Bobby Jones of North Carolina, because of the high bidding for his services.

The Rockets said bidding for the 6-9 forward's services has placed the team in "an untenable position."

Jones also was a draft choice of the Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association but his negotiation rights in that league recently were transferred to the Denver Rockets.

Jones reportedly was demanding a contract in excess of $1.5 million over six years. A source close to the Rockets said Jones and Ray Patterson, Houston Rockets president and general manager, were "very far apart."

Patterson said he fully expects Jones to sign with Denver.

"This action is based solely on the principle of sound operation and out of the respect which we have for the proven veterans on our roster."

"A professional sports franchise must be autonomous in its operation. However, if this decision sets an example for other teams as well as providing some direction, so be it."

Bobby Jones is a young man and has the potential to become an outstanding professional basketball player and our offer to him complements our offer to him in an untenable position.

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Frazier and Jerry Quarry, two heavyweights at the crossroads of their careers, will meet in a 12-round heavyweight fight Monday night at Madison Square Garden.

Another man on the spot will be former champion Joe Louis, scheduled to be the referee.

Frazier is guaranteed $400,000 against 40 per cent of all income. Quarry is guaranteed $225,000 against 22 1/2 per cent.

LITTLE LEAGUE Jets, Rebels In Victories

The Jets made two hits work for all the runs they needed Friday and rolled to a 4-1 American League decision over the Pirates.

Ronnie Salmon hurled a three-hitter himself in taking the victory, while David Matlock came up with a double in helping the Jets to their ninth victory against eight defeats.

For the Pirates, Kevin Hatzenbach was on the mound in the two-hit performance. The Pirates slipped to 10-7, but still held on to second place in the AL.

In the National League Friday, the Rebels smacked the Rangers 13-7. Weldon Nichols starred in the win, taking the victory and slugging a two-run homer and a single.

Big Spring Tracksters Place In Snyder Meet

SNYDER — Big Spring tracksters placed 38 ribbons from the Snyder Track Meet, first stop on the West Texas Summer Recreation Track tour this season.

Herman Evans, a former Big Spring and Eastern New Mexico runner, led the local delegation of 26 runners, which netted nine first places.

Also placing in the 100, 220, long jump and also running on the winning 440-yard relay team in the intermediate class.

In the boys intermediate division, Junior Chavez placed in the 440, two relays and the mile walk, while Ken Carroll ran on two relays and earned ribbons in the 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes.

Denise Smith placed in the 100 and 50-yard dashes and the long jump, while Glenda Petty brought home honors in the same events in the Intermediates.

Teams from San Angelo, Snyder, Lubbock, Odessa and Midland competed in the action. Next week the tour moves to Odessa, and Glenn Petty, director of the local program, said it still isn't too late to compete.

Denise Smith placed in the 100 and 50-yard dashes and the long jump, while Glenda Petty brought home honors in the same events in the Intermediates.

VIEW FROM THE PLAINS Snakes Fascinate Many On Outdoor Excursions

By J. D. PEER Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept. Identification of wildlife in the field is fun and gives the outdoorsman a sense of association. There is one time however, when identification is absolutely essential — when you hear the warning buzz of the rattlesnake, or spot that multicolored copperhead.

There are ten major rattlesnakes, four copperheads, one cottonmouth and one coral snake in Texas.

are never found in water. Many rattlesnakes have been observed swimming from one bank of a lake or stream to the other or have been killed in the water.

Identification of poisonous snakes is important but, knowing what to do in case you or your partner is bitten is more important.

Dallas Theater Center Fosters Original Play

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Most drama troupes do one or two new plays a year. Of course, most drama troupes aren't in Texas.

And the Dallas Theater Center, some kind of record for professional grassroots creativity has now been set with a display of eight works — every one written by company members just to add emphasis to the achievement.

"In order to grow a forest," says center director Paul Baker, "you have to plant trees. In order to develop a theater, you have to nurture and support new plays."

Far apart in style and subject as the quality and future prospect, the scripts attest to the company's imagination on imaginative stagecraft in New York, Los Angeles, London and similar traditional centers.

"The most important thing about it all is that it is being done," commented one visiting showman. In an intensive two-plays-a-day schedule, the works that previously had extended runs for season subscribers were reprised for an assemblage from afar of agents, established authors and critics.

Baker, whose calm mien conceals a powerful influence upon all members of the 15-year-old DTC, likes to talk about "this most important event" as a result of "some strange and marvelous alchemy."

Besides heading the center, Baker is also boss of the drama department at Trinity University in San Antonio. It's an interlocking setup that contributes to the energetic record maintained at the elegant Dallas theater designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

By no coincidence, all of the budding authors on display were tutored in playwriting by Gene McKinney, who has been with Baker 27 years. Because of this year's impetus, McKinney now has about 25 more apprentice offerings to screen for a possible follow-up New Play Market later.

SMALL TOWN SCENES Ironically, the two plays generating the greatest visitor interest were written because the man assigned to assembling this exhibit 18 months ago was unhappy about a lack of Texas locales in submitted scripts.

So Preston Jones, 37, of Albuquerque, N.M., decided to do something about it. The results were "Lu Ann Hampton Daverty Oberlander," which traces its heroine from girlhood through disenchanted middle years; and "The Last Meeting of the Knights of the White Magnolia," about the break-up of a club slightly right of the Ku Klux Klan.

Both take place in a small town, with overlapping characters. He has now completed a locale trilogy, "The Oldest Living Graduate." The group is to be given unified presentation at Dallas, Tex.

'JACK RUBY' Most elaborately produced of all were "Jack Ruby, All-American Boy," by John Logan, 34, of Houston, and Baker; and a rock musical of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," jointly composed by Randolph

Tallman, 34, Shreveport, La., and Steven Mackenroth, 33 Boulder Colo., who also plays a cigar-smoking Puck. It is already set for subsequent display.

The play about Jack Ruby, who gunned down President Kennedy's alleged assassin, is a multimedia experience which locally serves also as a kind of exorcism of community conscience. The company's director explains that he had felt that "as artists we have some day to make a statement."

LIFE IN TUB The four other pieces range far from Southwest reality and Elizabethan fantasy to the remote boundaries of the avantgarde. Among them are "Getting to Know the Natives," by Daniel Turner, 26, of Sheyboan, Wis., who says: "Mostly it's a therapeutic experience, now I'm getting to talk more about other people."

It concerns an ex-Olympic star who spends his life mostly in a bathtub with an eccentric wife and a weird neighbor, couple. "Dear Lueer," by Kerry Newcomb, 26, of Arlington, attempts a black Joe Orton comedy about a Hitlerish bully who hides in a bunker with his mistress as an aide brings food and news from a cannonading outer world.

"Curious in LA," by Glenn Allen Smith, 39, who hails from California's Imperial Valley, conceals a kooky family trapped by mayhem and green. The final word, "Fuse," is by Sally Netzel, 37, from Wittenberg, Wis., exploring science-survival crisis in a strange, ritualistic setting.

Several of the plays were extensively rewritten during their runs — one of the main Baker purposes. About 140 members of the DTC ensemble were involved in multiple assignments for the display — writers performed, actors directed and specialists on collateral projects designed, acted, wrote or directed.

CLORIS MUGS IT UP — Uninhibited and delightfully eccentric. Cloris Leachman has no qualms about posing for a gag picture while discussing her life. "The last 20 years of my life has been unbelievable," she says. "It was a TV show."

Zany Cloris Leachman Good Topic For Series

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The next time Cloris Leachman stars in a television pilot they should forget the fiction.

Let a writer follow Cloris around for a week or so, and then — after he recovers from exhaustion — devise a series based on her hectic private life with her five children.

Forget "Pete 'n' Tillie" and all the other pilots she has made. Get the essence of this delightfully eccentric woman down on paper. Life, as she says, can be a zany scene out of "What's Up Doc."

"The last 20 years of my life has been unbelievable," she said. "It was a TV show. The other day I was getting breakfast for the kids.

"My son had a pet rat Wendell for four years, and the cat walks in with a tail and the hind end of a rat. It was Wendell until we could check."

Cloris' life is centered around her family. For years she subordinated her career to it. It is only in recent years that she has become so much in demand, winning an Oscar for "The Last Picture Show," and Emmys for her dramatic and comedy performances.

She has become a reigning star of the TV movie, in such films as "Haunts of the Very Rich," "A Brand New Life," "Dying Room Only," and "Hitchhike," for ABC and the CBS special "The Migrants." She has just completed "After the Trial" for ABC.

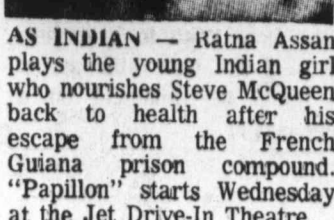

"I hate to be categorized that way," she said, sitting in the living room of her Mandeville Canyon home.

"It should just be part of one's wardrobe, so to speak. You go where the roles are, where the colorful entertainment elements of the acting profession are.

"We can't determine what part of the medium we'll be working in. I'm an actress, not a leading lady. Not a comedienne. Not a serious actress. I'm an actress."

"There are just more TV movies available than feature films. I like making them. The tempo suits me. In feature films it's still a man's world. There were many female stars in the old days and somehow it got turned around."

Cloris goes back and forth between TV movies, feature films — she has just finished "Young Frankenstein" — and "The Mary Tyler Moore Show." "Basically," she said, "I like never to know what's around the next corner. Since I'm an optimist I always expect something interesting, exciting or beautiful. If it isn't so I will make it so by sheer dent."

Eurasian Girl Debuts In Film

Ratna Assan makes her film debut in Allied Artists' "Papillon," portraying a young Colombian Indian girl who falls in love with Steve McQueen, in the title role.

The 18-year-old beauty, holder of a Brown Belt in karate, was born in Torrance, Calif., from parents of Indonesian stock. Her mother and father were both professional dancers, and at one time her mother was known as "Pavlova of the Orient."

Raised in Los Angeles, she was a cheerleader in junior high and high school. She studied dancing with several teachers including Bert Privell, Rosalind Fray and Carmelita Maracci.

While attending high school, she danced professionally, and was a member of a singing group called Spruce Garden, which recorded several sides with Ray Charles. Following in the footsteps of her parents, Ratna is proficient in various types of dance including Oriental, Belly, Hawaiian, Ballet and Jazz.

Tele Actress In Area Play

LUBBOCK — Arlene Golonka remembered best as Millie the chirpy female lead of TV's "Mayberry RFD," will star in the upcoming Hayloft Dinner Theatre's production of "Peterpat".

The show is an hilarious two-act comedy about a paperback detective story writer who, decides to marry the girl he has lived with for three years after she tells him she is pregnant.

Arlene will preview in "Peterpat" June 18-20. The show will run through early July.

For reservations write Dale Buckner Jr. at Box 1566 or phone 765-5761.

Arlene's career began with summer stock at Hinsdale, Illinois in separate productions with Charleton Heston and Burt Lahr. She moved on to New York where she waited tables and did stage routines at the Gaslight Club while studying with Lee Strosberg and waiting for her first break on Broadway. It came in "Night Circus" which starred Ben Gazzara.

In 1963 Arlene was brought to Hollywood by Paramount Pictures to appear in several of their pictures — which have since included "Love With a Proper Stranger" "Diary of a Bachelor", "Penelope", "Harvey Middleman-Fireman", "Welcome To Hard Times", "Busy Body", "Hang 'Em High".

'DIP UP THE CORRUPTION' Jody Martin Parr's Letters Remarkably Free Of Venom

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — For a woman bent on suicide, the 26 letters Jody Martin Parr wrote Wednesday night and early Thursday seem remarkably free of venom, an inspection of them shows.

And they demonstrate that she knew for hours that she was going to shoot herself in her swank townhouse almost denuded of furnishings.

Mrs. Parr, 40, was the estranged wife of Duval County Judge Archer Parr. They had been locked in bitter conflict over a divorce.

STEADY, SURE

And although she knew her death was imminent, her handwriting was steady and sure.

The letters were made public by one of her lawyers, William D. Bonilla. He obtained copies from the police who had confiscated them.

She wrote her sister, Mrs. Bonnie White, who had stood by her during the stormy battle with Judge Parr. Mrs. White found her wounded body.

She wrote to her mother and her father and to two of her lawyers. She wrote lifelong friends, other more recent friends, casual acquaintances, neighbors, newsmen and the women inmates in the county jail where she resided briefly.

In most cases, the letters were to thank someone for help or for offering assistance.

GOOD LIFE

Most of the letters were pleasant, even lighthearted. She complimented some of her friends on their good points, encouraging others in their work or their personal lives.

Not once did she specify what she planned to do, but some letters left no doubt about her intentions.

She told some that she had lived a good life, that she was happy and not to grieve for her.

She cheered her lawyers for "giving them hell in Duval" and to one friend she was critical of the establishment.

"There is indeed something wrong with our establishment," she wrote. "I didn't even know until the past year. I was so 'establishment' a year ago it seems hard to believe now. I didn't know there were so many unfit judges and lawyers. Well, enough of that—I doubt that it will ever get any better."

Also found in her townhouse was a yellow notebook with an undated note in Mrs. Parr's handwriting. It had one of the few hopeless, bitter tones as she criticized Judge Magus Smith for his control "over other people's lives." Judge Smith twice sentenced her to jail for contempt of court. He is district judge in Duval County.

"Duval County has always thought it was above the law," the note went on.

In a letter to Jack Pope, another of her lawyers, she indicated what she planned to do when she wrote, "Maybe you can get some sleep now and not have to work day and night with no pay on my case."

She wrote a letter to the Rev. Lester Roloff, a controversial evangelist who had helped her in past years and who visited her this past week when she was in the Jim Wells County Jail at Alice.

KEEP PRAYING

"With all your many problems, you took out precious time to come to see me in the Alice jail. You're the same man I remember as a child. I hope next year is a better year for you and the boys and girls you are trying to give a home."

"Don't stop praying for me. I need all the help I can get, and I believe you have a straight line."

Mrs. Parr took time out to write a letter addressed "to the girls at Nueces County Jail" where she spent the night after being arrested last week on contempt of court charges.

HAPPY EVENING

"Thanks to you for a happy evening in the Nueces County Jail," she told them. "I hope things work out well for you. I enjoyed my stay with you. Everyone went out of their way to make me feel welcome."

She wrote notes to several South Texas reporters, praising them for their work in covering her battle with Parr and telling them to "keep up the good work. Dig up the corruption,—expose it and give 'em hell!" she wrote.

Church Target In Campaign

VATICAN CITY (AP) — China has launched a new propaganda drive against Christianity and particularly the Roman Catholic Church, according to an authoritative Jesuit publication.

Luigi Ladany, the Jesuits' veteran China-watcher, writes in the current issue of La Civiltà Cattolica that in recent months radio stations in Fukien and Yunnan have renewed atrocity charges against Roman Catholic missionaries.

Father Ladany quoted broadcasts that described mass killings of Chinese children at Catholic orphanages for "experiments with the eyes and flesh."

He said the new attacks on the Church were part of a broad antireligious campaign. Some "traditional and popular plays" now include remarks that "God did not create the skies, the earth or man," he wrote.

Last year Fides, the news agency of the Roman Catholic missionary institute in Rome, quoted Chinese Catholics who had left the mainland saying that priests were restricted to labor camps and churches burned or turned into nonreligious use.

Wife Says She And Not Mate Shot Photographer

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Ellen Fay Morrison, 20, walked into homicide offices Friday and said it was she, not her husband, who shot freelance photographer James Pond to death last March.

Detective Sgt. Gus Rose quoted her as saying, "I'm the one who killed the man—not my husband. It's about to worry me to death."

It was a "wrong house" murder.

Mrs. Morrison said she and her husband, Troy James Morrison, 24, went to Pond's house planning to take back $400 in stereo equipment a man had taken from them, but that they were doors wrong in picking the house.

As Mrs. Morrison reconstructed events, she remained in a pickup truck while her husband went to the alley to enter from the back. She suddenly knew it was the wrong house and hurried to the front door and rang the doorbell to warn him. She carried a .357 Magnum pistol.

Pond, at home because of illness, was wearing pajamas. Mrs. Morrison stepped inside. She said she shot Pond once then ran through the house looking for her husband.

As she returned to the front door, she said, Pond who was on the floor tried to grab her. She said she shot him again. She found her husband on a street corner.

Miss Stevens Weds John A. McDiffitt Jr.

Miss Kathy Jo Stevens became the bride of John Alfred McDiffitt Jr., Friday evening when the Rev. Harland Birdwell performed the ceremony in St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Silver vases held arrangements of white carnations, babies' breath and daisies. Miss Linda Lassiter was organist, and the vocalist was Miss Jan Bledsoe.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. LaVona Stevens, 1806 Benton, and the late Johnnie Stevens. She will graduate in December from Big Spring High School and is currently employed at Cowper Clinic. The bridegroom, a graduate of Forsan High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Alfred McDiffitt Sr., Sterling City Rt. He is an employee of Forsan Oil Well Service.

After a trip to Dallas, the couple will reside at 1102 Pennsylvania. Prior to leaving, the newlyweds were honored at a reception in the parish hall, where refreshments were served by Miss Ann Caton, Miss Cindy Sheppard, Miss Martha Morris, Miss Peggy Tipton, Clovis, N.M.; and Miss Sharon Chrane.

The table was overlaid with a yellow cloth overlaid with white net. Appointments were silver, and the bride's bouquet served as the centerpiece.

For the wedding, the bride was attired in a white gown of peau de soie overlaid with Chantilly lace. The princess-style fashion had a chapel train, and the cuffed sleeves were fastened with pearl buttons. Her veil was held by a headpiece of matching lace and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white roses and gardenias.

Mrs. Pat Lagodich of Fulton, N.Y. served as her sister's matron of honor, and Roy Don Hendley, Ft. Sumner, N.M., was the best man. Bridesmaids were Miss Joyce McDiffitt, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Albert Carlile, sister of the bride.

Groomsmen were Steve Lockhart of Gail and Albert Carlile, with the ushers being David Pope and John Woodrum, the latter of Breckenridge. Mary McDiffitt, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and a brother, Sonny McDiffitt, was ring bearer.

The feminine attendants were identically attired in gowns of yellow polyester crepe flocked with white flowers and green leaves. They wore yellow garden hats, and each carried a small basket of daisies.

Out-of-town relatives attending the rites were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Uldine Thomas, Hartsboro, Okla.; the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. H. J. Woodrum, and Odell Woodrum, both of Midland; Mrs. Billy Tipton, Clovis, N.M.; Mrs. John Woodrum, Breckenridge; and Mrs. A. F. Ruth, Colorado City.

Zoroaster Topic Of Program

Texas Delta Delta Chapter Phi Sigma Alpha, met Thursday evening in the Colorado City Lake home of Mrs. Herman Shifflet. Before the meeting, the group had a boat tour of the lake and served a barbeque dinner.

The program, given by Mrs. Shifflet, was on Zoroaster, an ancient Persian religious teacher.

"Of all the living non-Biblical systems of religion, the one which has had the closest connection with the Bible is Zoroastrianism," Mrs. Shifflet said. "It is also known as the religion of Parsis, whose original home was at Pars in Persia.

The founder of Zoroastrianism has done more to turn men's thoughts to a vigorous good God than has any other person born in Persia.

"His followers have always revered Zoroaster as the most adorable personage in history. Zoroastrianism is probably the first among the living religions which taught ultimate triumph of moral goodness over the moral evils in the world."

Mrs. M. R. Erhardt was Duke as a guest. Mrs. Fay welcomed as a new member, and Mrs. J. H. Newman presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Clyde Cantrell.

Doubling Up

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Here is my story. After 34 years of marriage, my wife died. I bought a double plot — one for her and one for me when my time comes. I couldn't decide on what kind of headstone I wanted for my wife's grave, so I put off buying one.

Meanwhile, I met a woman and things started happening so fast I couldn't believe it. To make a long story short, I married her. In the meantime, my wife's headstone slipped my mind, so my married son got disgusted with me and he bought one and put it up. Then he told me to buy two more lots — one for myself and one for my new wife because he was sure his mother wouldn't want me buried next to her if I couldn't even wait three months to get married again.

I asked him what he planned to do with the empty plot beside his mother, and he said he'd find some other dummy to bury there.

What should I do now?
PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: I'd buy another double plot — unless your present wife has already made plans to double up with someone else when her time comes.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old married man who has had this problem ever since I could tell the difference between a boy and a girl. You guessed it. I can't resist women. Maybe I should say the problem is that women can't resist ME. I'm a pretty good looking guy (I'm told) and have an athletic build and keep in shape, but the ladies tell me it's the sexy look in my eye that gets them.

I love my wife (we've been married for seven years and have two children) but I can't leave other women alone. Right now I have something going with my best friend's wife, and also with my wife's best friend. It's not a heavy love affair in either case, but it's fun.

In my defense, let me say I've never propositioned a woman in my life. They approach me, and I can't say no. Can you help me?

LADIES' MAN

DEAR MAN: I'm all choked up. You can say no if you want to. And you'd better start trying, before somebody does your wife a favor and tells her.

DEAR ABBY: After 32 years of marriage, I finally got up enough gumption to divorce my husband. Although I still cared for him, I couldn't take any more of his cruel and inhuman treatment.

One week after our divorce was final he married another woman. Now listen to this. On his honeymoon he sent ME a dozen roses with the following card: "To a lovely lady with love."

A few days later I received a menu from a resort hotel where he and I had spent our honeymoon. He had written on it: "Remember this place, Darling? Love." ... and then his name.

This has been very upsetting to me. What do you make of it and what should I do about it?

BAFFLED
DEAR BAFFLED: Ignore it. But if he sends any more reminders of him or the past, write and ask him to please keep OUT of touch with you because you want to forget him. He sounds like a very cruel (or sick) man.

DEAR ABBY: About the wife who wrote that her husband was having an affair with a young teacher. (She was a minister's daughter he had met in church.) The wife asked you if she should tell the girl's father, and you told her not to.

Thanks for advising her not to tell Dad. I don't want her husband for keeps. I just want to borrow a little of what she doesn't want. (She says their marital relations are not enjoyable to her.)

I'll be leaving town soon. Maybe this experience will jolt that wife enough so she will at least try to love her husband. He certainly needs it.

It's positively stupid for any wife to leave her husband vulnerable to an affair when it's so easy to please a man.

DEAR DORA: DORA, you're not!

Presbyterian Church Setting For Wedding

The wedding of Miss Belinda Markay Brooks and Maxey Ray Brashears was solemnized Friday evening in the sanctuary of First Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. G. Guthrie, retired minister and cousin of the bride. Parents of the bride are Mrs. Troy Ogden, 2513 Cindy, and Billy Brooks, Rt. 2. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brashears, 2602 Larry, are parents of the bridegroom. The ceremony was read beneath an arch of boxwood greenery flanked by spiral candelabra with a floral sunburst in the center back. Miss Shiretta Owenby was organist and pianist, accompanying the vocalists, Miss Diana Williams and Mrs. Nobel Kennemur. Miss Brooks' gown was fashioned of crepe-backed satin with empire bodice overlaid with chiffon brocade with the pattern outlined in seed pearls. The skirt swept into a long train trimmed with lace and pearls. Her tiered veil was of Victorian style, repeating the lace and pearl motif, she carried a bouquet of orchids, rosebuds and babies'-breath.

Mrs. Brent Brooks, the bride's sister-in-law, was matron of honor and wore a floor-length, blue crepe dress in empire style with ruffled neckline. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Fortson, Miss Jeannine Hayes and Miss Janie Russell. They were dressed identically to the matron except in pastels of pink, green and yellow. They carried miniature lanterns with matching streamers and wore garden hats which matched their gowns.

Alan Born was best man, and groomsmen were Brent Brooks, and Kent Brashears, brothers of the bride, and Greg Bonner. Ushers were Bill Lewis, Greg Parnell and Mark Prather.

Kim Boland was flower girl, and Scott Boland was ring bearer. Mrs. Ike Hare lighted the tapers.

The couple is on a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., Carlsbad Caverns and Juarez, Mexico. When they return they will be at home at the Lawrence Mobile Home Park, Lot 1.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, is planning to continue her studies at Howard College. The bridegroom, also a BSHS graduate, is employed by Bell Telephone Company.

A reception was held in the church parlor where the bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a brass candelabrum entwined with vari-colored carnations. The bridegroom's table featured gold appointments.

Mrs. Harold Harrington, Mrs. C. D. Hays, Mrs. Ebb Fickling, Mrs. Mark McCasland and Mrs. Bob Tally served.

Out-of-town relatives attending were Mrs. A. W. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Horn, all of Colorado City; and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. English and Miss Vicki English, all of Aspermont.

Council On Aging Plans Luncheon

Howard County Council on Aging will have its monthly covered dish luncheon June 19 in the Adult Education building at Howard College. All senior citizens of the county are invited to attend and do not need to bring a dish in order to participate.

The building will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Anyone needing transportation may call Miss Sherry Mullin at 263-1445. The building is always open from noon to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday with coffee, ice tea and snacks available.

Miss Honea Marries P. Charles Rowden

Miss Mona Lynn Honea and Phillip Charles Rowden were married at 6:30 p.m. Friday at Trinity Lutheran Church with Ralph Beistle, Coahoma Church of Christ minister officiating.

Guardians of the bride are her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Williams, Coahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert C. Rowden, 1307 Monmouth, are parents of the bridegroom.

A heart-shaped arch, centered with an arrangement of three candles, decorated the altar, and a spiral candelabra completed the setting.

Miss Kim Read was the organist, while Kyle Kiser and Miss Nancy Woods were vocalists.

The bride's formal-length gown was fashioned of candlelight peau de soie with overlay of silk organza and scalloped lace. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped V-neck and long, tapered sleeves with ruffles over the wrists. The A-line skirt swept to a chapel train that terminated in a flounce overlaid with lace. The elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a Juliet cap. Her Colonial bouquet was of mixed spring flowers.

Mrs. Billy Don Fishback, Lubbock, was matron of honor and wore an empire gown of orchid-flocked organza with scooped neckline, puffed sleeves and full skirt. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Williams, Miss Becci Rowden, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Susie Smolka. Their dresses were styled like that of the matron of honor but were in pink and orchid. They carried baskets of pink and orchid flowers accented with satin streamers.

Best man was Reagan Wall, San Saba, and groomsmen were Pablo Chiriboga of Quito, Ecuador; and Dean Swinney and Ray Ott, both of Coahoma. Ushers were Hubert Rowden, brother of the bridegroom, and Rodney Wall, Arlington.

Dana Wall, cousin of the bridegroom, was the flower girl and Chad Williams, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The couple will spend a week in Corpus Christi and then return here to make their home on Route One. The bride, a graduate of Coahoma High School, is employed by Cook's Discount Store. The bridegroom is a graduate of CHS and is assistant manager of Kentucky Fried Chicken.

A reception was held in the church hall where the bride's table was covered with a white cloth with pink skirt and overlay of white net. The candle centerpiece was accented with pink and orchid flowers.

The bridegroom's table was skirted with purple and covered with white net. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hubert Rowden, Miss Sherry Griffin, Miss Dietra Fowler, Miss Christie Rupard and Miss Marsha Day.

From out-of-town were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Marie Lambert, Tacoma, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. Rud McKinney, Fort Worth.

MRS. PHILLIP CHARLES ROWDEN (Curley's Studio)

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Louder of Tarzan announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Teresa Kay, to Steve Joe Herm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Herm of Ackerly. The couple plans to be married Aug. 16 in the First Baptist Church, Ackerly.

1964 Class Planning Reunion

Plans are underway for the reunion of members of the Big Spring High School graduating class of 1964 on July 6 at the big pavilion at Comanche Trail Park.

The class will begin gathering at 10 a.m., and families are asked to bring their picnic lunches. Cold drinks will be provided according to Mrs. Dan (Molly Hefner) Walls who has also arranged for a juke box. The swimming pool has been reserved from 8 p.m. until 12 p.m. for the affair. Additional information may be had by calling Mrs. George (Virginia Wilson) Ryan at 267-2281 or Guy Talbot, 267-5629.

How to measure

For accurate results always use a metal tape to take measurements. First, decide just where the rod is to be placed. Remember, you should extend the rod past the window frame for more light, best ventilation and a more pleasing appearance.

After you have decided on location of the rod, measure from one end of the rod across to the other. This is your bracket-to-bracket measurement. Now add 3 more inches for the right side return, another 3 inches for the left side return, and 6 inches more for the center overlap. This figure will be your finished measurement. Be sure your finished measurement includes all these measurements; the bracket-to-bracket measurement plus the two side returns and the center overlap.

Rods should be at least 4 inches above the window so that hooks and pleating can not be seen from the outside. A similar 4 inch allowance at the bottom will keep the bottom hem out of sight.

Apron length draperies: measure from top of rod to desired length, add 1 inch for finished length.

Floor length draperies: Measure from top of rod to floor or carpet. This is finished length, no allowance necessary.

Ceiling to floor draperies. Measure from ceiling to floor and deduct 1 inch for finished length. Repeat measurements at two or three places across the span. Remember to measure from the ceiling and not from the rod.

Anthony Goekes Will Live In San Angelo

MRS. ANTHONY GERARD GOEKE

Miss Karen Denise Tindol, Coahoma, and Anthony Gerard Goeke, San Angelo, were married here Saturday evening at 7 p.m., in the Berea Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Tindol, Coahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Goeke, Corpus Christi.

Officials for the ceremony were Chaplain Gary Higgs, Dyess AFB, Abilene, and the Rev. Louis Moeller, Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

Miss Karyl Thames, vocalist, was accompanied by Mrs. Vaughn Martin, pianist.

The bride's formal-length gown with chapel train, was of white satin with long full sleeves cuffed at the wrist and fastened with satin-covered buttons. Embroidered lace trimmed front and back panels of the gown and was repeated on her veil of illusion which was held by a band of flowers and lace.

Her crescent bouquet was of white carnations and rosebuds tied with pastel streamers.

Attendants were Mrs. Steve Coleman, matron of honor; Mrs. Mike Marino and Miss Kelly Thames, cousin of the bride. Their princess-style, floor-length dresses were of white dotted Swiss over pastel linings of blue, pink and lavender. They featured short, puffed sleeves.

Attendants for the bridegroom were Eddie Jennings, San Angelo, best man; and Billy Clark, Corpus Christi, and Neal Tindol, Coahoma, brothers of the bride, groomsmen.

Ushers were Terrell Goeke, Corpus Christi, and Rogan Tindol, brothers of the bridegroom.

The Goekes will be at home at 1822 Van Buren, No. 25, in San Angelo.

The bride is a senior student at San Angelo State University where she is a business education major. She attended Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College. The bridegroom attended Carroll High School in Corpus Christi and played basketball at Howard County Junior College. He is presently employed at San Angelo Die Casting Co.

At the reception in the fellowship hall of the church, the bride's table was covered with a floor-length satin cloth and centered by the bouquets of the bridesmaids. Appointments were of silver with crystal. The bridegroom's table was laid with a green cloth, and a silver service was used for coffee.

In addition to the bridegroom's family, his grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Gunn, came from Corpus Christi for the wedding.

Two Officials Speak To Federal Retirees

Guest speakers addressed the Big Spring Chapter 1095, National Association of Retired Federal Employees, at a 10 a.m. meeting Thursday in Comanche Trail Park. Gus F. Keith of Amarillo, state fourth vice president, discussed volunteer services, and Kenneth Horne of Lubbock, district chairman, talked about the national convention in Portland, Ore., Sept. 14.

John H. Samuel presided, and prayer was by A. A. Porter. The Rev. Fred

Whittier announced the Kentwood Senior Citizens' Center will have open house Aug. 10 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. He said six rooms will be devoted to arts and crafts shops, with various retired groups being in charge of the shops. All retired persons, or such groups, are invited to attend the open house.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmel Lawson are new members of NARFE, and O. A. Badwick was a guest at the meeting. A covered dish luncheon was served.

Joe Pickle, editor of the Big Spring Herald, will be guest speaker at the Sept. 12 meeting, which begins at 10 a.m. in First Federal Community Room. Mrs. Marshall Brown is chairman for the meeting.

Miss Perry Weds Lt. David Murchison

The Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ was the setting for the wedding of Miss Carol Ann Perry and Lt. David Carlyle Murchison, McGuire AFB, N.J., Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Doyle A. Murchison Jr., North Charleston, N.C., and the late Mr. Murchison are parents of the bridegroom. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Barron Perry.

Don R. McDonald, minister, officiated at an altar enhanced by palms and baskets of burgundy roses and pink gladioli. Votive lights held in spiral candelabra completed the setting.

Music was by an a capella choir with Mrs. Richard Lee, Irving, and David Elrod as soloists.

Miss Perry wore a traditional gown of white silk organza and pearl-beaded Brussels lace. The empire bodice of lace appliques on Swiss net featured a square neckline etched in the lace pattern, and the bishop sleeves of applique lace were shirred to lace cuffs. The skirt of the gown was applique in pearl-beaded lace medallions and swept to form a train. Her full-length veil repeated the lace applique motif and she carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Lana Perry, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Danielle Murchison, North Charleston, S.C., sister of the bridegroom; Miss Gay

Harris and Miss Marilyn Cunningham.

The attendants' dresses were formal length of pink and white lace and featured a square neckline. They carried Victorian bouquets of feathered pink carnations, burgundy roses and babies'-breath.

The bridegroom's best man was Capt. Jeffrey P. McGuire AFB, N.J., and Groomsman were Lt. W. D. O'Quinn and Lt. A. C. Greenhaigh, both of McGuire AFB, N.J.; and Jon David Elrod, Eugene Coleman, Midland, and the groomsman were ushers.

Heather Lynn Coleman, Midland, and Rona Reeves were flower girls.

The couple will live in New Jersey while Lt. Murchison is stationed at McGuire AFB. They took a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla.

MRS. DAVID J. RAMBO

Ceremony In Rose Garden

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Patricia Kay Olsen and David J. Rambo during a ceremony held Saturday morning in the Rose Garden of Comanche Trail Park.

The couple stood before an archway flanked by brown wicker baskets filled with yellow and white Majestic daisies and yellow rosebuds interspersed with greenery. Violin selections were performed by Brian Gumm of Texas Tech University, Lubbock, and the nuptial rites were performed by the Rev. Don Coleman, University Ministries, Texas Tech.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olsen, 1805 Settles. She received bachelor of science and master of science degrees in home economics from Texas Tech University with specialization in family studies. She taught undergraduate students at the university while doing graduate work.

Rambo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rambo of Tomball. He attended Baylor University for two years before graduating from Texas Tech with a bachelor of arts degree in arts and sciences.

Carrying an arrangement of long-stemmed yellow and white daisies tied with yellow ribbons, the bride was attired in a full-length lace gown, lined in white crepe, and patterned with green-centered daisies. The long sleeves ended in points below the wrists. Bands of green satin ribbon edged the neckline and marked the empire line of the bodice; being repeated to outline tiers of the softly gathered skirt. Her wide-brimmed picture hat of green lace was trimmed with green ribbon and yellow and white daisies to match her bouquet.

Prior to leaving on a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the couple was honored at a reception held on the patio at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was covered with a yellow cloth, and her bouquet served as the centerpiece. A green decor was used on the bridegroom's table. The refreshments were served by Mrs. Claire Dulaney of Lubbock and Ms. Kleta McNulty of Kington, Okla.

Out-of-town guests attending, other than the bridegroom's parents, were Mrs. Ruth Olsen of Huntsville, grandmother of the bride; the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Olsen, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, and their son, Jeffrey, all of Kingsville; and John Rambo and Linda Rambo, both of Tomball, brother and sister of the bridegroom.

Following the wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Rambo plan to reside in Austin.

Clay C. Bedell To Be Honored

An open house will be held June 23 to celebrate the 80th birthday of Clay C. Bedell, who has lived in Howard County since he was six years old.

The affair will be held in the home of Miss Fern Bedell, which is the eighth house on Hooser Road, Sand Springs. Calling hours will be from 2 to 4 p.m., and all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Parties Planned By International Club

Plans to elect a new president were discussed when the International Women's Club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Minoo Kosravi, 12 Albrook.

The current president, Mrs. Miriam Johnson, will move with her family to Kansas in August. A new president will be elected at the July 10 meeting in the home of Mrs. Un Soon Lee Kee of Korea, 2714 Larry. The new president will hold office until January, the scheduled time for regular elections.

A farewell party for Mrs. Emma Townsend from Mexico will be held at 7:30 p.m., July 26 in the home of Mrs. Janetta Jackson, 183-A Fairchild. Mrs. Townsend and her family will move to Georgia in July.

A house warming gift was presented to Mrs. Margarita Palmer for her recently purchased home and in appreciation for work she has done for the club in past years.

Mrs. Sue Simoncic was a guest at the meeting and, during the social hour, a variety of Iranian food was served. The door prize went to Mrs. Kosravi.

Any foreign-born woman is welcome to attend the club meetings and become a member of the group. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Johnson at 263-8247.

GRADUATES — Mrs. Fred (Bea) Davis received her diploma from Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in exercises held Friday evening in Lubbock. Previously, she took pre-nursing and LVN training at Howard College. Mrs. Davis, whose husband is associated with Radio Station KBYG, will join the nursing staff at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The Davises have three sons, Russ, a junior at Sul Ross University; and Frank and Scott of the home.

THE USED ENCYCLOPEDIA

If your shiny new 1974 encyclopedia still looks shiny and new in a couple of years, you probably didn't buy the World Book. Because World Book is designed to be used by the people who can use it most, your children. Easy to understand, crammed with information that is right in step with a student's everyday needs, the 1974 World Book is a vast treasure of ideas and knowledge that invites his independent learning. And the special Research Guide/Index helps direct his reading and study.

This helps explain why World Book outsells all other encyclopedias. So when you buy a new encyclopedia, make sure it's the used encyclopedia . . . the 1974 World Book.

Hanging Baskets Are Big News In Decorative Accents

By SHERRY MULLIN

Hanging baskets are big news in decorative landscape accent, for they can add a new dimension of beauty and charm to the home landscape. This unusual display of plants helps to create a delightful atmosphere even in hard-to-use shaded areas and in the vertical spaces of interior courts, entrance areas, overhanging eaves and carports.

Plants in hanging baskets can also add lively touches to our outdoor living areas and beneath trees. They are quite useful to the gardener with limited, or otherwise useless, planting areas. Apartment dwellers with a balcony for a backyard will delight in gardening with baskets. The space savers are also ideal for mobile home units and small urban home grounds.

Many types of containers may be used for suspended baskets. Selection is limited only by the grower's imagination. Those made from galvanized wire or of plastic are among the more popular types. Both are usually light and sturdy, making them easy to hang and weather resistant. Pottery types are heavier and, if porous, tend to dry out quickly. Wire-type containers may last longer than plastic since plastic sometimes tears or splits with weather. Plastic holders, however, do not dry out as quickly as the open-wire models and offer a wide choice of color.

Some plastic containers have drain trays attached to the bottom of the container to catch drip or excessive drainage. This small extra is advantageous near walkways, balconies, windows and glass doors, where excessive splash or drip would be undesirable. However, since these cannot possibly catch all the moisture from watering, they serve only to an advantage in collecting the secondary drip after an adequate watering. Inner liners are also available for open-wire baskets to help catch excessive drainage.

Some plants will demand a definite type of basket. For example, many fleshy-stemmed begonias which are often damaged by excessive watering tend to do best in pottery which dries out more quickly. On the other hand, the thirstier plants such as Wandering Jew, ferns and English ivy like plastic containers which prevent the soil from drying so rapidly. The gardener's methods and timing on watering will help to determine to proper basket choice. If one takes care in watering routinely, pottery or wire which dries rapidly would be safe to use. But for the casual gardener, plastic or non-porous containers are helpful.

The best time to plant hanging baskets is in the early spring after the danger of cold is past and when plants are readily available. A spring planting allows for a long growing season and gives the gardener enough time to enjoy a seasonal planting. Since hanging basket plants must be protected from chilling cold, they are not practical as accents for a winter landscape.

Plants with a hanging or trailing form are usually effective for basket planting. However, almost any plant that strikes a gardener's fancy may be grown in hanging containers. Hanging baskets, if exposed to dry winds and air, dry out rapidly. They are, therefore, used best in protected, shady areas and call for shade-loving plants. Hanging baskets also must be protected from hot summer sun. The amount of care one can offer the baskets should generally influence the selection of plants used. Even though hanging baskets tend to require a lot of maintenance, the proper selection of low-maintenance plants can certainly reduce the amount of care necessary.

Some handy ornamental plants commonly planted in Texas home landscapes are also adaptable to basket culture. Hardy and tolerant to cold weather, they are easily carried over from year to year. Some of those which seem common and conventional at ground level become outstanding specimens when airborne. Weights may be placed on flexible branches to cause them to hang or weep downward to develop a new plant form. Fishing leads or clothespins also may restrain or reshape until the plant forms its new growth habit. Hardy but adaptable plants include such varieties as dwarf gardenia, dwarf abelia and common mint.

Numerous plants of the foliage or "houseplant" type are suitable for hanging baskets. Some are vining types sporting fast growth and outstanding foliage, while some will offer blooms as well as foliage. Like houseplants, however, they must be kept indoors or in a protected area during cold snaps and the winter season.

BASKET CARE
Because baskets dry out so rapidly, watering is the major maintenance concern.

Both the type of plant and container and the exposure will determine how often a hanging basket plant will require watering. In summer, baskets dry out quickly and will demand watering every other day, if not daily. If the gardener is out of town baskets may be placed in a cool, shaded garden bed or wrapped with plastic or moist paper to prevent excessive drying.

The gardener can feed baskets best along with the watering process. The excessive amounts of watering tend to quickly wash plant nutrients out of the soil. These must be replaced at regular intervals. During the growing season, most plants should be fed every two to four weeks. Water-soluble or liquid fertilizers, which are the easiest to use along with the watering process, tend to give the best results. A complete and balanced formula is recommended for general use.

For newly planted baskets, feeding is not desirable until plants are well established and growing. Too rapid fertilization may burn and injure the growing plants. Directions for amounts of liquid feeding should be followed carefully since excessive amounts also will injure the plant. During the winter, it is desirable that the plant harden off and slow down its growth rate; therefore, feeding and watering will be less frequent. Feeding once a month should be adequate for most plants during dormant seasons.

Plants which are to be carried over winter must be protected from cold or freezing.

'Quotable Women'

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"If someone gave me a steak right now, I wouldn't know what to do with it. I honestly couldn't care less if I never ate anything again. There's not a thing I really fancy. I'm going to carry on with my liquid diet for a long time yet." Shirley Turner, who lost 101 pounds on a liquid diet after she cemented her jaws shut, in an interview in Nottingham, England.

"Nobody asked me to do a picture. I mean nobody. No calls — nothing. I figured they didn't want me, so I turned to other things. In the past couple of years since I've been working again, people say, 'Oh, I thought you were retired and didn't want to act any more.' But I didn't retire and I did want to act." Alexis Smith, who lost 101 pounds in a new film this year, her first since 1959.

"Our neighbor: need have no fear. We view the explosion as an extension of our work of research and keeping abreast of development in science and technology. There is a difference between a nuclear country and a nuclear weapons country; we are not a nuclear weapons country; we don't have any bombs. We don't intend to use this knowledge or this power for any other than peaceful purposes." Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, speaking about India's first atomic blast.

It Must Have Something

When a show can be repeated for 41 years, it must have something.

Such is the annual production of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Association, which this week will trot out its 41st version. We venture that it will enjoy large crowds, and for a good reason — fans will more than get their money's worth.

One reason for the rodeo's staying power is that it helps keep alive part of our Western heritage, calling to mind again the peculiar association of man and horse, and cattle from the open range when roundups inevitably led to cowboy boasts and cowboy contests.

Another reason is that a rodeo is packed with action. If the Western movie owes its genius to rapidity of action, it must defer to the rodeo for something happening every minute. There's something especially exciting about cowponies bolting at top speed after calves or steer, or cowboys matching skill and wits against the natural cunning, instinct and brute strength of animals.

Still another reason is that the rodeo is a colorful event, from the moment of the grand entry parade with its pageantry to the loud clanging of cowbells as the big Brahma bull is cut out of the bucking chutes. In between there will be band music, antics by the clowns, and specialty acts.

Report Won't Gather Dust

From now to the end of July, the Texas legislators (now doubling as delegates) will have their hands full. Then they will turn to the matter of elections and a referendum on the proposed constitution.

But when they come back in January, they will find a new issue tossed in their laps by the issuance of a report by the Texas Society of Professional Engineers and the Texas section of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Titled "Now you see it — Now you don't," the report takes a look at loss of water through evaporation, transpiration and bank seepage by reason of what it concludes are unnecessarily larger private ponds and lakes. The 200-acre feet limit on private ponds without a permit from the state is unrealistically large, the report says, for this is nearly 85 times the water consumption for a family of six with 100 head of cows on three sections of land. This storage in the 200,000 small ponds and reservoirs in Central and West Texas is keeping a million or more acre feet from river flow and major reservoirs, the report contends.

Finally, the rodeo is good entertainment. In recent years nationally known television and recording stars have been booked, and this year is no exception. There's just bound to be something for everyone to enjoy at the 41st Big Spring rodeo.

Efforts to cut back this 200-acre feet limitation will be met with vigorous opposition, as indeed were the efforts to establish this limit many years ago. But the picture has changed sharply since then — the legislative weight has shifted to the urban centers, which are concerned about ample water. The TSPE report won't be sleeping next January.

Get Out The Vote?

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

It's about time again for all the get-out-the-vote drives.

I still stand by my own personal theory that this is a mistake, for by urging someone who wouldn't ordinarily vote to go to the polls and guess, you might well be canceling my well-thought-out selections.

EX-DUNCAN BANNER flash, Joe Awtry, reports the meat counter clerk tosses his last chicken on the scale and told the customer, "This one will be $1.35."

"That's a little small," she said. "Do you have any bigger ones?"

The clerk put the chicken into the refrigerator, paused, then took it out again and weighed it.

"This one is $1.65," he said.

The customer thought a moment and said "I'll take them both."

Careful Carol Avery, umpire with many talents, reports this one:

"What am I to do with this?" grumbled the motorist as the police clerk handed him a receipt for his traffic fine payment.

"Keep it," the clerk advised. "When you get four of them, you get a bicycle."

ONE OF MY dearest friends, U.S. District Court Judge Ernest Guinn, died last Sunday of an apparent heart attack in El Paso.

One of the first stories I ripped off the Associated Press machine Monday morning reported the tragic news and listed his age at 68.

I JUST COULDN'T believe he was that old. I had been telling John Edwards, our man at the courthouse, shortly after midnight Monday how I had attended political rallies with Ernest. I was a police reporter for the El Paso Herald-Post, with no car, and Ernest was campaigning hard to retain his job as county attorney.

Shortly after his re-election in 1952, Ernest graciously offered to let me study law with his wife Mary, in his office. Mary became a lawyer. I didn't.

"Mary is probably the only lawyer in Texas to brief all the cases assigned," Ernest told me once. "She refused to use 'Cold briefs.'"

THERE WAS nothing corny about Judge Guinn's patriotism or his fight against dope and professional gamblers. Family life with Mary, their three sons and three daughters, was extremely important to him. I had planned to visit with them June 28.

Mischievous Mary Ann Marquez, new Herald word chaser, says "Whether the pen is mightier than the sword depends on who gets the point."

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Whether in the church, or in extra-church organizations, I don't approve arrangements which put one or two people in the spotlight and all the rest consigned to the inconspicuous shadows! Christ was a leveler who knocked down the hypocritical hierarchy. Do you agree? V. B.

I agree that Christ came to free the prisoners and to release the oppressed. He said this of His own ministry in a synagogue sermon (Luke 4:18). But He was not "anti-organization" as such.

I detect a note of jealousy. Could it be that you really yearn for the spotlight yourself, but express it in a denunciation of the system?

The important thing for you to know, however, is that God has already decreed that a "share and share alike" principle operated in His kingdom. Did you know that? Read Numbers 31, where Moses said it. Read Joshua 22:8 where he emphasizes the same thing. And 1 Samuel 30 is another bit of evidence showing that "He who goes down to battle" and "He who stays by the stuff" share equally.

Never mind how the human organization in the church is structured. After all, only one can be Senior Pastor, and only a few can be Trustees, Deacons and Elders, but the work of Christ is a "team" proposition.

Read Matthew 25. It ought to soften your criticism when you learn that Christ gave equal welcome at the end to the one who gained two talents as well as the one gaining ten.

Wholesale Price Index Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The less than certain prospects for an easing of price increases were underlined this past week in announcements by the government and two of the country's biggest corporations.

The Labor Department said wholesale prices were up a sharp 1.5 per cent in May, even though farm and food prices were down.

Herbert Stein, chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, said he felt May was the end of the price surge touched off by the end of federal controls, although more increases were probably still ahead.

SOME STEEL UP

Stein's prediction came one day after higher prices were announced by the leading companies in two of the country's most important industries — steel and cars.

U.S. Steel, which announced a wide range of price increases five weeks ago, said it was raising charges an average of 8 per cent on a number of products.

METALS — MACHINERY

General Motors took action which makes remaining 1974 vehicles an average of $118 more expensive, but contended it hadn't really raised prices at all.

U.S. Steel, biggest of the American steelmakers, said its

The Week's Business

- Food and farm prices down in May, but wholesale level up
- Herbert Stein sees it as "end of (post-controls) surge"
- Cost of living up 13.3 for year, only whiskey stable
- Year's rise: 6.4 wholesale, 20- industrial, 8.1 food-farm
- U.S. Steel says selected 8 pct. rise yields 3 pct. income increases would bring in less than 3 per cent more revenue and it still wouldn't recover ground lost during government controls.

General Motors said that its move wasn't a price increase since it was merely making standard on many models what had formerly been optional features, such as radial tires, electronic ignitions and power steering. Thus, GM contended, customers were getting more for their money even if it did take more money to get a GM product.

Metals and machinery were among the factors, along with fuels and chemicals, which accounted for three-quarters of the May increase in wholesale prices, the Labor Department said.

Over-all, wholesale prices were up 16.4 per cent from a year earlier, with industrial prices up 20.1 per cent and farm products, processed foods and feeds up 8.1.

The May figures pushed the government's wholesale price index to 155.0, which meant it cost $155 to buy what $100 would have bought in 1967.

PRICE SLAKES THIRSTS

The Labor Department also reported, however, that while the cost of living from April 1973 to April 1974 went up 13.3 per cent, the cost of alcoholic beverages in that period went up only 6.7 per cent. Whiskeys, they said, had gone up just 0.7 per cent.

While many liquor dealers predicted an increase before long, one New York dealer said consumer resistance had driven the price of French Bordeaux wines down 25 to 30 per cent. A California industry spokesman predicted imported wines would wind up costing about 10 per cent more than they did in 1972.

Anti-Perspirant Problems

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My problem may sound trivial but it is very big to me. No anti-perspirant I use works. They stop odor but do no good in keeping me dry. I am so tired of being embarrassed even in winter or in air-conditioned rooms.

I am easy to excite and stay tense a lot. Could this have anything to do with my problem?

My mother says it is a sign that you are healthy when you perspire. If so there must be just a few healthy people on earth. — J.P.

Perspiration is one of the bodily functions over which you have no voluntary control, but your overactive nerves have a great deal to do with it. It may well be that as you calm down with the passage of time, your problem will moderate.

However, that doesn't happen overnight, and I can sympathize with young women who have as extreme a difficulty as you do. (For the majority, the various antiperspirants plus a deliberate effort to relax is adequate, and the more confidence they gain, the better the results.)

In very severe situations, surgical help can become necessary for comfort. While there are drugs that suppress perspiration, the required dosage is such that side effects result.

As to surgery, there are two methods I am aware of. One is removal of tissue in the armpits that contain sweat glands. The other is a procedure called sympathectomy. This involves severing nerve trunks having to do with perspiration control, and is done by a neurosurgeon.

You would have to consult your own physician for referral to surgeons who do these operations. If you live in a city without such facilities, you can go to one of the larger medical centers.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About a year ago a guy on a TV program claimed he had accidentally found a cure for badness. He said that while curing ulcers on the head of a 90-year-old man, he found a compound that grew a tuft of hair. It seems to me he said vitamin A (and are you ready?) estrogen. Please don't think I am a nut. I KNOW I saw this show and he claimed it would be marketable in six months. Have you heard anything or can you find out? — Mrs. L.M.R.

No, I don't think you're a nut. But I have over the years heard and sometimes talked to so many people who were utterly convinced that they had found "a cure for baldness" that I have learned to pay no attention to them whatsoever.

Unless properly treated, both glaucoma and cataracts can lead to blindness. If you are afflicted with either of these ailments, or know someone who is, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for his booklet, "Cataracts and Glaucoma." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Kissinger Case

William F. Buckley Jr.

Mr. Kissinger's outburst, with which I thoroughly sympathize, is being criticized on many grounds. That it was self-centered. That it was ill-timed. That it was grandiose. . . It struck me as just uncontrolled enough to give it an authentic ring. I liked particularly that the statement to the press was extemporized. It lacked, in other words, the spit and polish that sometimes raise doubts in the listener's mind about whether a statement is over-contrived.

THERE WAS NO picture of Lincoln, or an American flag, or Mrs. Kissinger: just flat denial that he had concealed anything from the Senate Committee, and a hoarse dismay that, on returning from six weeks in the Mideast, his meeting with the press should have been reported who wanted to know about who had drawn up which list of buggers in 1969. It was as if Sir Francis Drake, returning from sinking the Spanish Armada, had been asked at a press conference whether he had submitted the sails on his galleon to competitive bidding.

BUT OF COURSE the most relentless of Mr. Nixon's critics are not going to blame themselves for this unseemly interruption in taste and direction. They will blame Mr. Nixon, and the whole Watergate business. It is, they say, a miasma, and no one associated in any way with Mr. Nixon can crawl out from under its shadow. That is true, but the reasoning is also circular: there are too many skilled hands at work maintaining the miasma in shape, and moving it like a huge umbrella over any agent of Mr. Nixon, or for that matter deed of Mr. Nixon. Perhaps there is sufficient cause for the obsession — even as it is true, to quote somebody, that even paranoids have enemies. But that is an obsession is not to be denied, and there was never a better example of it at work than in the questioning of Mr. Kissinger when he returned from the Mideast.

WHERE WILL IT END? In an answer to a question by a journalist the other day I found myself saying something that surprised me. He said: "In your opinion, will Mr. Nixon be impeached?" I said: "Yes." "In your opinion," he pursued the matter, "will he be convicted?" I said: "Yes." He looked up from his notepad, greatly surprised. "Have you any reservation about these predictions?" he asked. "Yes," I said. "I may be wrong." It is tiresome to explain to intelligent people the obvious, such as that you predict is not necessarily what you would welcome. Or that the conviction of Mr. Nixon would not necessarily be an act of justice. But it is painfully clear that only the disappearance from the public scene of Richard Nixon will dissipate the miasma that, for instance, recently caused Mr. Kissinger to go to emotional extremes.

IT IS EVERYWHERE, unremitting. I have just seen a manuscript about the death of the hero in sports. The author quotes a boy: "How can we have heroes in sports when Richard Nixon is President of the United States?" (The boy should be spanked).

Villagers Plant Cherry Trees

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Ciresoia, a village in northern Romania, can't kick its habit, hundreds of years old, of planting a cherry tree at the birth of every village child. The village is now surrounded by 65,000 cherry trees.

Tossing Out The Baby

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Throwing out the baby with the bath water is likely to be the end result of the expanded warfare directed at Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. The baby in this instance is the Nixon foreign policy opening the way to at least the chance for a peaceful world and an abatement of the nuclear arms race.

THE SQUALID bath water of Watergate may finally drown every thing good and bad. If that happens, the loss may be irreparable and the opening to a peaceful understanding between East and West closed for a long time to come.

Returning from the Middle East hailed as Super-K and a miracle worker, Kissinger faced a press conference bent on establishing his guilt in the wiretaps of his coworkers in the National Security Council and certain newspapermen.

THE PERSISTENT question was whether he had proposed those wiretaps or whether he had merely supplied a list of names of those who had had access to secret information. The question was never satisfactorily answered as reporters playing Mr. District Attorney bore in.

To this observer Kissinger's position in the early years of the Nixon Administration when he was in the White House as adviser on national security affairs seems clear. He was trying to survive in a nest of vipers. The German mafia had no love for the brilliant Jewish professor who had achieved a position of such influence in the vital area of foreign policy.

IN THE LONG VIEW of history it may be determined that he sacrificed too much, cut too many corners for personal power. But for this use of living in this precarious moment, the verdict of history is at the end of a long dark and perhaps impassable tunnel.

If the nuclear arms race between the two superpowers goes on and still other nations get the potential of the weapon of annihilation, there may be no history.

The assumption of some reporter-commentators who direct their fire at Kissinger is that diplomacy should be treated like the police beat. You score if you get the bad guys, and you better believe there aren't any good guys.

ABOVE ALL, no secrecy with the diplomat, the Secretary of State exposed to the fierce light of the police lineup. This a dangerous distortion of the reporter's function.

A Devotion For Today . .

"Do not neglect the gift you have." (1 Timothy 4:14)

PRAYER: Let me not grumble, heavenly Father, if You have given me a small talent and my brother or sister a big one. Let me not be ashamed if my gift looks small and unworthy beside the gifts of others. Help me to offer back, freely and in full measure, whatever it has pleased You to give me. In Jesus' name. Amen.

HOROSCOPE

CAROL RIGHTER

SUNDAY, JUNE 16, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is an excellent day to think out a practical plan of action under which you can be of service to others.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Plan a better budget for yourself so that you can live with less worry about the days ahead.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Take some time for improving your health appearance. Visit friends and get together on a plan that is mutually helpful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Contemplate on how you can regulate your life on a more steady plane.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Fine day for engaging in civic work that will put you in a fine position with the public. Make a plan to improve your credit.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Your hunches are good at this time. Discuss a new plan with loved one. Do nothing until you obtain important data you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Visit an associate and make new arrangements on a plan worked out in your mind before you put it in motion.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Press your plan to meet out to success and make new, valuable acquaintances.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Make sure you fulfill your duties around the house and then attend the services of your choice. Write an important letter.

MONDAY, JUNE 17, 1974

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Combine the best of both worlds, work modern improvements to your work.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Decide how to reduce your overall aims to a workable level, and then discuss with bigwig. Pay bills. Plan how to invest your money.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You will find most charming now and can make statements, reports in p.m. Have a good time with those you like.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Stop your plans to clever persons who can help you gain them. Plan which coming events to attend. Do something nice for each in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Good day for joining with friends at the amusements that are mutually enjoyable. Don't get in an argument.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Fine day for engaging in civic work that will put you in a fine position with the public. Make a plan to improve your credit.

Newark's Rent Strike Has Lasted 4 Years

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Elsie McIntyre, sitting in the squalor of the Stella Wright housing project, vowed that she wouldn't want to live anywhere else, "not even rent free."

Then, surprised by a laugh she didn't expect, she smiled and said, "That's a good one, isn't it?"

Talk to one resident of Stella Wright and you attract a crowd. This one laughed again with Mrs. McIntyre when she realized what she had said. She and hundreds of her neighbors have been living "rent free" for four years, in the low-income public project.

Similar, but shorter, rent strikes have been a weapon in other American cities when tenants have felt fed up with what they consider impossible living conditions.

BEGAN IN 1970

Most of Stella Wright's original 1,200 tenants — 4,500 people — began in April 1970 to withhold rent from the Newark Housing Authority.

Their protest is perhaps the nation's longest rent strike. It has been joined by tenants in other Newark low-income public housing projects, where 10 percent of the city's 382,000 population live. The protests are against conditions the tenants call dehumanizing and the housing authority admits are "substandard."

A state district court judge, Joseph Walsh, listed some of the adverse conditions in a decision last November canceling some rent debts at Stella Wright. He said that the 14 Stella Wright buildings, each 12 stories, lacked adequate elevator service, security, laundry and firefighting equipment, and had defective incinerators, doors, roofs and skylights. The judge also cited filth and fear of muggings and robbery as justification for canceling rent debts.

Similar complaints led to a rent strike in East St. Louis, Ill. It has lasted nearly as long as the Newark strike. Another in St. Louis, Mo., contributed to the decision to tear down the 33 buildings of the Pruitt Igoe project and to relocate its 12,000 residents.

Serious rent problems piled up before a different kind of decision was made in Boston regarding the Bromley Heath project and its 4,500 residents. The project was turned over to tenant management three years ago.

INFLATION HURT

U.S. officials say the federal government originally intended to provide only capital construction costs for public housing. Operating costs were to have been made from rents. The officials say, but the federal government was forced into operating subsidies because of inflation and rent ceilings.

Earl Phillips, Newark's director of public housing, said his authority has only two sources of income — rents and HUD money. With an average rent of $60 monthly per apartment and average costs of two that amount, the authority needs $60 an apartment from HUD, but gets only $40.

At Stella Wright, maintenance costs would go down under tenant management, as they did at Boston's Bromley Heath project, and the deficit would be reduced, Phillips said.

Minnie Lassiter, at 85 the self-proclaimed "oldest chick in the projects," cheered when Judge Walsh called Stella Wright a "monstrosity," but she doesn't want it torn down.

The 14 Stella Wright buildings loom like brown headstones above Newark's business center.

Pretty Green Plants Stolen

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Joanna Williams, 78, didn't know the identity of the pretty green plants she so carefully tended. But police say they bet the person who stole them did.

"I was just waiting for them to bloom to find out what they were when someone stole all of my plants," Mrs. Williams said Wednesday after learning she had been a marijuana farmer.

Mrs. Williams said the plants were left behind by a young tenant who moved.

Offer Is Refused

NEDERLAND, Tex. (AP) — Union Bricklayers in a 10-county Southeast Texas area rejected Friday night the latest offer of the Associated General Contractors.

A union spokesman said the new offer did not provide an adequate pay increase.

The bricklayers struck two weeks ago. Among projects halted by the strike are the new library and city hall in Beaumont and a 10-story library building at Lamar University.

The area includes Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange.

CUZCO, Peru (AP) — The journey begins here, in the city that was once the heartbeat of an empire stretching from northern Ecuador to central Chile, a conquest equaling that of Julius Caesar.

It ends on top of a mountain 75 miles northwest of this ancient Inca capital, in the long-deserted city of Machu Picchu in the Peruvian Andes.

Earth, sun and clouds — elements held sacred by the Inca — meet in the grassy citadel perched 6,750 feet above sea level.

Cuzco fell to the Spanish conquistadors, who marched inland from Lima in search of Inca gold in the 1500s. One by one, the fortresses, the temples, whole cities of the Incas fell to the conquerors of the New World.

NEVER KNEW
But not Machu Picchu. The Spanish never knew it existed. The Inca empire crumbled, and Machu Picchu was abandoned. Time tugged a jungle-like carpet of undergrowth up the mountainside and hid the city. It remained hidden until 1911 when American archaeologist Hiram Bingham found Machu Picchu by chance and dubbed it "the Lost City of the Incas."

Today, the city stands serenely atop the mountain. There are no souvenir stands here, none of the "Cathy-loves-Randy" and "Rosa-y-Luis" graffiti that mar other Peruvian ruins.

Tourists who visit Machu Picchu enter through a gate manned by government employees, but it's out of sight beyond a large boulder.

A 14-room hotel — a minute's walk outside the gate — is the only modern structure on the mountain top.

Except for the thatched roofs that rotted away centuries ago, Machu Picchu is intact. It's almost as though its 2,500 inhabitants left yesterday, not four centuries ago. Why they left is a mystery. The Inca left no written histories, for they never learned to write. They had mastered the arts of governing and engineering far better than most of their Old World contemporaries, but they never discovered the wheel nor created an alphabet.

MULTI-LEVELLED
Machu Picchu is a multi-levelled, stair-stepped city. Farming terraces, still irrigated with rain water trapped and channeled in an elaborate series of narrow gutters, grow green with grass where the crops were once potatoes and corn.

The stairways climb to the houses, the plaza, the jail, the temple, the watch towers.

A watch tower guards the approach of the royal Inca highway, a granite road which led over the mountain tops from Cuzco, through seven other Inca cities to this citadel.

The Inca highway is still walkable. Occasional hikers make the trip that way.

But the more conventional tourists — 80,000 of them last year — come to Machu Picchu by rail from Cuzco. There are no roads for motor vehicles.

The trains leave at dawn. First is a three-car express pulled by a diesel engine; next is a three-car train pulled by a turn-of-the-century steam locomotive; then comes a modern single-car autowagon, and finally there is a decrepit local.

All must climb from the serpentine track from Cuzco, which is 11,000 feet above sea level, to an elevation of 12,000 feet — a feat that requires six "switchbacks," maneuverings akin to taking one step backward and two steps forward.

GRADUAL DESCENT
Then the trains begin a gradual descent into the valley, following the slivers of track that paralleled the Urubamba and its rapids.

The traveler enters a time tunnel where the only visible concession to the 20th century is the brightly colored plastic the Indians buy by the yard to tie around their shoulders when it rains.

It's a five-hour trip from Cuzco to Machu Picchu, counting the 20-minute motorized dash that takes the tourists up the final mountain stretch to the lost city. Minibuses ply the 10-foot-wide gravel road that zig-zags the face of the mountain in a dizzy series of hairpin curves.

Although Machu Picchu was discovered in 1911 and the railroad tracks laid in 1925, the tourist trade didn't begin until 1964 when the Peruvian government began promoting the place.

The tourist onslaught began in earnest in 1969 when a modern airport was built at Cuzco. Two airlines now bring hundreds of sightseers a day from Lima.

The boom is off and running, but Cuzco, a city of 200,000, lacks facilities to handle the tourists. It has 60 hotels, but only 12 are first-second-class and not one is rated-class. Good food is just as scarce.

As Marco Bustamante, a lifelong resident of Cuzco who has worked as a tour guide for seven years, observed about the failure to continue the tourist development: "Since 15 years ago, we have a road; since nine years ago, we have a new hotel; since four years ago we have a cable car.

"But as you can see, it is all plans," said Bustamante, 66.

At the same time, he fears that over-development at Machu Picchu would be disastrous.

"If 1,000 to 2,000 people a day come here, what do we do with them? And if we ever build a road to Machu Picchu or put big hotels there, Machu Picchu will truly become the Lost City of Inca."

Majority Think Nixon Should Be Impeached

NEW YORK (AP) — Pollster Louis Harris says for the first time one of his nationwide surveys indicates a majority of Americans believe President Nixon "should be impeached and removed from office."

Harris said here that view was expressed by a 52 to 35 per cent margin of the 1,413 adults interviewed during the first four days of June. A sampling taken in early May registered a plurality but not a majority—49 to 41 per cent—who favored impeachment and removal.

"Nixon appears to be in the deepest trouble yet in the impeachment and Watergate matters," Harris said.

By a 48 to 37 per cent plurality, those queried believed Nixon knew about the original break-in at Democratic national headquarters, said Harris. In a poll taken a year ago only 21 per cent believed Nixon was fully aware of the cover-up efforts, with 58 per cent disagreeing.
