AMMAN, Jordan (AP) - The United States today promised Israel the same help in developing nuclear power that it plans to give Egypt and reaffirmed its commitment to longterm arms shipments to the Jewish state.

President Nixon made the announcement in a joint communique with Israeli Premier Yitzhak Rabin in Jerusalem, then flew to Amman for talks with King Hussein. The American President ar rived on the last stop of his five-nation Middle East tour to the tightest security he has encountered in any Arab country Nixon and Rabin said their two governments "will negotiate an agreement on cooperation in the field of nuclear energy, technology and the supply of fuel from the United States under agreed safeguards. "This agreement will in particular take into account the intention of the government of Israel to purchase power reactors from the United States" to provide electricity for Israel's rapidly growing economy, the communique said. Israel has had an agreement with the United States covering joint nuclear research for the past 15 years, and the communique said a provisional agreement would be made this month "on the further sale of nuclear fuel to Israel.' The wording of the communique paralleled that of one three days ago in which Nixon announced in Cairo the United States would supply nuclear reactors and fuel to Egypt for peaceful purposes.

Henry Content To Cool It

JERUSALEM (AP) - Since his Salzburg news conference at which he threatened to resign, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has stayed in the background during President Nixon's Middle East tour.

White House officials say that is the way Kissinger wanted it. That's the customary place for a secretary of state when the President is attending summit meetings or making state visits. Kissinger has met with the foreign ministers of the countries visited, sat in on Nixon's sessions with his hosts and otherwise kept busy briefing the President and attending to

State Department business. Kissinger took the limelight only once, at the start of the trip, when he startled the White House party with his announcement that he would quit if not believed about his part in the wiretapping of certain Washington officials and newsmen. That story soon died as far as the newsmen with Nixon were concerned, partly because Kissinger was generally not available to the traveling press corps. This was attributed to the party's busy schedule.

The secretary didn't talk to the newsmen until the flight from Saudi Arabia to Damascus Saturday, and then the conversation was vague. However, every chief of state singled Kissinger out by name during toasts to Nixon for his key role in easing Middle East

J. W. McClendon of Big Spring Aircraft Inc. this morning submitted a proposed contract for lease of Howard County Airport, but members of County Commisioners Court mentioned several aspects of the proposal they objected to.

The manager of Big Spring Aircraft wanted the county and corporation to split the winter heating bill for the terminal.

Monthly bills for heating the terminal building climbed from the $30 range to around $120 during the winter energy crisis, McClendon said.

AMBIGUOUS WORDING

And McClendon wanted a paragraph giving the leaseholder responsibility for terminal building maintenance

"One paragraph said they'd take care of it, and another said we'd take care of it," Commissioner Bill Crooker said of Crooker asked about a small increase in gasoline prices paid at the airport.

In this way, the county's share of gasoline profits as well as the operator's could be increased, he suggested.

Now charging 68 cents per gallon of 100 octane fuel, the firm only increased prices as Seven Men Die, much as the distributor increased, McClendon said.

PRICES COMPARED

"Gas is up to 81 cents in Houston," McClendon said speaking of other airports. A government-operated fuel retailer at Snyder charges less than Big Spring aircraft. "I believe Midland gets 74." Except for installation of ome reflectors and purchasing warning flags for vehicles moving around the operations area, a set of Federal Aviation Administration requirements had been satisfied, McClendon

Income Tax Cuts To Be Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate is opening debate on whether to cut income taxes for individuals and increase levies on corporations and such legislation Although must originate in the House, the Senate has decided to jump into the floor debate on the issue by attaching an amendment to a House-passed bill that would increase the national debt limit temporarily to $490 billion. This bill was chosen since the legislation must be sent to President Nixon before June 30, when the debt ceiling would drop from $475.7 billion to $400

The House, with a full schedule of bills for floor consideration this week, will give its principal attention to Judiciary Committee's inquiry into possible impeachment of

The Senate leadership expects the tax debate to continue

The major tax-cut proposal, offered by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Walter Mondale, D-Minn., with many co-sponsors; would provide $6.6 billion of tax relief.

It would allow taxpayers an $825 personal exemption for each dependent, instead of the present $750, or, alternatively, a $190 tax credit. In addition, it would provide government payments of up to $400 a year for low-income families.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., Finance Committee chairman, supports the amendment and predicts its passage. Administration officials have predicted presidential veto.

Long says he doubts that a veto could be overridden, but predicts a White House-congressional "severe confrontation" before the debt limit issue finally is settled.

Nixon has said any major tax

A spokesman at Massachusetts General Hospital said Mary Pero, 20, of Cambridge died at a hospital of internal injuries suffered in the accident, which marred Bunker Hill Day festivities Sunday in the Charlestown section of Boston.

Boston police said the accident occurred after a series of disputes and fights among young people and carnival workers.

Police said an operator of the ride had to leave his post after he was injured in a fight. A second operator came to the controls of the ride, which apparently malfunctioned as he attempted to operate it. Police said the ride, called UP IN 90s

OF NIXON'S TAPED CONVERSATIONS GOP Paid $10,000 To Get Favorable Interpretation

WASHINGTON (AP) - Although Republican Chairman George Bush said he was disturbed by portions of President Nixon's taped Watergate conversations, the GOP National Committee paid more than $10,000 to finance a massive White House mail campaign circulating a favorable interpretation of the transcripts.

the fireplug to look like the cartoon strip character "Snoopy."

Fire Chief Eldon Rhodes said he doesn't know who per-

Bush had said after reading the transcripts that their tone was disturbing and that he was "shook up" about some portions, although he said other segments tended to

A party official said there was no special discussion about the massive mailings and that they were sent out routinely, as were 37 other mailings for the White House this year.

Though most of the mailings Clawson and Baroody ordered this year have dealt with Nixon programs in such areas as energy, some concerned Watergate and related

One dealt with the ITT and milk investigations, another a speech by Vice President Gerald R. Ford strongly supporting Nixon. Three included articles from publications defending Nixon, two contained texts of White Houe briefings related to Watergate and another distributed a favorable public opinion poll. Early in the first Nixon administration it was decided that the party would pay for such mailings to avoid any criticism that political material was being sent at government expense.

Carpet Repair By Homemaker

Cigarette burns that have not penetrated deep into the carpet can be repaired by home methods. First, use a small sharp scissors to snip away charred fibers. Work carefully to avoid cutting too deeply. Follow this by Of The Nuptial Day daubing on a detergent solution, followed by the white vinegar solution, and place a layer of clean white tissue or other white absorbent material over the area, weighting it down. Some of the newer kitchen carpets can be repaired in the home by using a special tool to cut out a small circle of carpeting in the damaged area. A matching circle is then cut from a carpet remnant and inserted into the same area. The new piece can be secured with provided manufacturers of this type of carpeting.

When romantics think of buses, the vision most often conjured is that of the stately British doubledecker. Soon ecologists will have a British dream bus of their own - a vehicle dubbed the "Silent Rider" and due to make its debut this year.

The bus is a product of Britain's Chloride firm, a manufacturer of rechargeable batteries. And the bus operates, as might be expected, on batteries. According to claims, it does so very efficiently,

The Silent Rider has a range of 40 miles before recharging, and a top speed of 40 m.p.h. Research revealed that a British bus in city service at peak periods travels at an average speed of 8.5 m.p.h., and 90 per cent for a distance of 25 to 40 miles

- both well within the Silent Rider's range.

The electric-powered buses can carry 50 passengers, gliding along - as the name implies - without noise. And they don't pollute; no choking fumes belch forth. Their cost is expected to be below that of conventional diesel buses with the addition of interchangeable battery packs slated for second-stage development. And the company also markets a recharger that juices up the battery packs in 31/2 hours.

All in all, Silent Rider sounds like a good idea. Maybe we should hitch a ride on the Silent Rider, or something very much like it, to ease our transportation and pollution problems at one blow.

The firm, acting as official solicitor for the foundation, collected $814,324 for the foundation through public appeals and kept $577,083 for itself, according to a report presented to Congress.

SINCE 1963, the Geisler firm has solicited $9.9 million for the foundation. Of that amount, $7.4 million — or 74 per cent — went to Geisler for commissions and expenses Another 10 per cent of the money raised went for other foundation expenses, leaving only 10 per cent or $99,000 to aid asthmatic children. People who bel'eve that 100 per cent of the money they donate to a charity goes toward the support of that charity would, no doubt, be stunned if they found out how much of the lcot is short-stopped for "expenses" in some instances.

ONE INTERNATIONALLY known organization which depends almost wholely upon the benevolance of the public spends 96 per cent of its in-

There's a move afoot in Congress now to approve legislation which would require all charities to notify prospective contributor how much of his donation would actually go to help the cause he supports. That stands about as much chance of passing as would a proposal to move Fort Knox to Teheran.

Pay TV Picture Rosy

NEW YORK (AP) - The sound of clashing claims is rising these days because of pay TV, the system by which cable-TV subscribers pay extra to see movies and programs commercial TV doesn't offer.

The combatants are the National Cable Television Association and the National Association of Broadcasters. The battleground is what the NAB calls the threat of "siphoning" by the struggling pay TV ndustry.

The NAB, representing 531 TV stations and the three networks. describes siphoning as "the removal of popular programming, principally movies and sports, from free commercial TV to pay cable television."

It claims if steps aren't taken, pay TV may someday be able to outbid commercial TV for major attractions and viewers either will have to pay for those shows or do without. "Free" TV, of course, only applies when you

The NCTA, representing half the nation's 3,000 cable-TV operators, calls the siphoning charge hogwash. It says it only wants federal rules eased enough to let pay TV try to prove itself in the marketplace. The battle basically centers on two

"Wherever it found these procedures weren't fulfilling the public interest, it could step in at any time and change them."

Dear Editor;

locally you splashed the headling "Solon says Kissinger Lied" across four columns of the front page. At no place in your paper did you mention that another member of the same Judiciary Committee, having seen the same evidence, said that Kissinger told the truth. Since neither was willing to document his statement, neither deserved a line in any "News," and neither deserves a place on that committee or in government. Your slanted use of the one statement demonstrates that we have learned nothing from "Watergate." It is still the country be damned, politics as usual. You have used your place of power to feed the prejudice of the ignorant.

I abhor censorship and I regret that you have brought that day closer. Sincerely,

BILLY GRAHAM 5 _____

You may remember me. I wrote you about a year ago. I told you how I married a man I didn't love, and how that after eight years of unhappiness, I met a man whom I did. An affiar was the result. Now my lover tells me he's through, and that he really loves his own wife. All I've got to look forward to now is dying. In your crusades, Mr. Graham, preach more on the laws of marriage. Maybe you can save someone from the misery I'm in.

You're so right Marriage and the home are two subjects which need emphasis today. Incidentally, I spoke on "the home" in the recent Phoenix Crusade.

But now aren't you being immature, if not downright stubborn? Certainly from the B.blical standpoint, you have the wrong attitude. Scripture teaches fidelity to our marriage partner. (Matthew 19: 5, 6.) It urges a commitment to the matrimonial vows which absorbs shocks and corrects difficulties. Congratulations to that "lover" of yours!! At least, he finally showed some moral stamina by breaking off an illicit relationship. He's returned to home base, and so should you!!

There are thousands of so-called "bad marriages" which have been rehabilitated, because one partner work. As a Christian, we have the power of God available to transform any relationship. Sure it's work, and sure it's slow going sometimes, but the goal of a satisfactory marriage is worth every effort. Seek it and you'll

There's only one law of marriage, and that's the law of love. See Romans 13:10. Instead of mournfully awaiting death, start to make your marriage come alive.

WASHINGTON - With President Nixon's attention riveted on impeachment and foreign policy, his agents in the powerful Office of Management and Budget (OMB) have become entangled in a vicious political fight with the House Appropriations Committee of potentially grave dimensions.

A NEEDLESS jurisdictional dispute over narcotics enforcement has provided the opening for Congress, with bipartisan support, to retaliate against the power-hungry OMB. The projected emasculation of OMB will be seen as another assault on President Nixon, suffering once again because of the naive arrogance of his lieutenants.

The jurisdictional dispute stems from a secree order June 5 from OMB to Secretary of the Treasury William Simon blocking the Treasury Department's Customs Bureau from enforcement against narcotics smuggling along the Mexican border.

"WE HAVE CONCLUDED that the U.S. Border Patrol (an arm of the Justice Department) should be designated the single agency for routine patrol of the land border between ports (of entry)," OMB boss Roy Ash wrote Simon. That restricts U.S. Customs agents to official ports of entry between Mexico and the U.S.

It also directly violates a congressional mandate. Thus, one day later. Ash was summarily instructed that the transfer "is not authorized by law" and would gravely affect Treasury's "law enforcement

George Mahon of Texas, the immensely powerful chairman of the Appropriations Committee, the committee senior Republican, Elford Cederberg of Michigan; and the two top-ranking members of the Treasury subcommittee, Democrat Tom Steed of Okalhoma and Republican Howard Robinson of New York.

At issue here is far more than a jurisdictional squabble between two overnment agencies. The peremptory OMB reshuffling us about to detonate an explosion long in the making as Congress watches with alarm the enlargement of OMB's power in the leaderless federal government.

INFLUENTIAL CONGRESSMEN feel OMB under Ash attempts to control not only the federal budget but also the federal government. "OMB stands for the Office of Manipulation and Badgering," one veteran lawmaker told us, "and they're due for a tumble."

The "tumble" is taking the form of a drastic slash in OMB's appropriation, which is controlled by Steed's subcommittee, which this week tentatively reduced by $1.4 million the $23 million request. And that was before OMB's offensive against the Customs Bureau.

THE REASON FOR OMB unpopularity with Congress lies in the arrogance and duplicity practiced at OMB - particularly, many Congressmen feel, by Ash and his deputy, Fred Malek. As one ranking committee member told us: "Ash is cold and smart, but he has a fatal flaw. He takes orders from Fred Malek."

Alas, Simon has been caught in the crossfire.

How Far Goes A Curfew?

Curfew laws, designed to keep youngsters off the streets at night, have been around for almost 100 years. But only recently have the courts been taking a close look at their validity. Does a city have the legal authority to put limits on anybody's freedom of movement?

THE BASIC IDEA has generally been approved. One youth, arrested under a curfew law, challenged it as a form of discrimination against younger people. But the court pointed out that minors are lawfully singled out with regard to everything from marrying to driving, from attending school to buying liquor.

UPHOLDING THE LAW, the court

"Children are under recognized disabilities in many respects. Because of their lack of mature judgment, they are subject to continuing supervision until they become of age.

NEVERTHELESS, a curfew law may be struck down if it is too broad. Another case involved a curfew that banned all minors from the streets after 10 p.m., with almost no leeway for exceptional circamstances. In a court test, the judge noted that this law could punish youngsters coming home from evening classes, from work at the library, from school games or dances, even from church activities. FINDING THE law invalid, the court said it violated "the right of every person to enjoy and engage in lawful and innocent activity." one recent case, police booked the father of a 16-year-old boy for "allowing" him to be out after curfew hour. THE COURT conceded that it was constitutional to punish the parent in such a situation. However, it seems the father had been told and had honestly believed - that his son was spending the night at the home of a friend. Dismissing the charge against the father, the "allowed" conduct of which he was not even aware.

As some French clown used to sing, thank heaven for little girls. You know, sugar spice and all things nice, and all that kind of stuff. Pony tails and ribbons. Dolls, tea parties and flirting. Rosy cheeks, pet rabbits, kisses for

It's all over. Russia or China or Liechtenstein or anybody might as well drop their biggest bombs on the U.S. It won't matter. The biggest bomb of all has already been dropped. and things will never be the same. When they opened Little League to the little girls . . . the world might as well have

You probably think I'm being overly dramatic about this crisis, this ruling that put those sweet little things in pants. Maybe so. But it touched off a chain of happenings in my mind that would have shaken the best of us.

I can see it now. A guy stops at a red light, looking around, waiting for the green, you know. Then a big diesel truck pulls up next to him, with a foxy-looking female behind the wheel. She sends a spray of juice from the side of her mouth right onto his car - chewing tobacco - then drives

Or consider this. I'm lying on the beach somewhere and just as I start to ogle some young lovely coming my way, she kicks sand in my face. At the same time somewhere else, a guy will be heading for his office and when he gets to the door, an eight year old girl puffing on a cigar opens

It's the devil's work, you know. Either that or a Communist plot to overthrow our morals.

Since it's suppsedly too late to sign up - all that you read and hear about the girls now is pretty much just for the publicity - the real rush by the lasses may or may not be felt next spring. The way is clear for them, thanks mainly for the suspicious work of NOW (National Organization for Women).

Locally, district administrator Jack Barber seems to be clinging to the belief he's held all along — that it's dangerous for little girls to compete - and most Little League people feel that way. The boys are just too aggressive, too strong.

In most cases that will be true. I don't imagine there will be more than a handful of girls able to make a local Little League roster, and that probably takes in close to 400 spots. Also, it's not likely that any will be standouts on their teams.

There's another side to it, though. If they're brought up in the "farm systems" of the Little League, they'll un-doubtedly improve and develop into better players, and their numbers will increase.

Little League and the country, and maybe even the world, could survive this dilemma. But if they do, it'll never be the same. From now on, whenever I see a little girl I'll think to myself "Boy, she could play catcher on my team." Maurice Chevalier would never believe it. . .

Europeans Leaders In World Cup

(AP) - Soccer's World Cup swings into its second series of games this week with the European teams ahead of the Latin Americans in all four

Each of the 16 finalists has now played one of its three first-round matches. Of the big guns, only Holland and Poland can feel completely satisfied with the opening game results. Otherwise, the eyecatching soccer has come from longshots Zaire, Australia and Haiti.

Although these teams don't have a point between them, they all proved tougher than expected.

The Latin American football powers-Brazil, Uruguay, Chile and Argentina—have collected ust one point so far,

And to make matters worse, Chile's Carlos Caszely is sussended from Tuesday's game with East Germany, World Cup ommissioners were meeting Monday to consider the case of ruguay's Montero Castillo.

Caszely's suspension in particular highlighted controvers, ver the World Soccer Federation's refereeing rules, which make a yellow card caution mandatory for time-wasting or dissent. Two cautionable ofenses mean automatic dismissal from the match, a rule that cost Caszely.

In the first half against West Germany, Turkish referee Dogan Babacan showed Caszely the yellow card for a comparatively innocent clash with Juergen Grabowski. In the second half, Caszely was fouled by West Germany's Hans-Hubert Caszely made the mistake of retaliating with a hot-tempered tackle, meriting a caution. And that in turn meant automatic dismissal.

Trojans' Coach Rod Dedeaux and pitcher Mark Barr saw the comment and tacked it on the team's bulletin board.

Saturday night the two met in the finals of the series before a crowd of 11,346 and one streaker, and Southern Cal took a 7-3 victory for its 10th series crown and an unprecedented fifth

"That might have given us a lift," Dedeaux admitted, "but it's the Trojan tradition-coming through when it counts. I had no doubt we would play the way we did in the title game.'

Evert, Borg Move Toward Wimbledon

PARIS (AP) - Chris Evert and Bjorn Borg, the teen-age stars who went unbeaten through two European clay courts tournaments, move to grass this week in preparation for the Wimbledon tennis show. Miss Evert, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Sweden's Borg won the French women's and men's championships Sunday with blazing displays of Borg will play this week in the Nottingham tournament, to practice on grass, but said winning at Nottingham is not important. He's only looking forward to Wimbledon. Miss Evert will play at Estbourne in a women's tournament.

Borg, defeated by Roger Taylor of Britain in a five set quarter-final match at Wimbledon last year, said the extra year could make a difference.

Miss Evert lost to Billie Jean King in two sets in the 1973 Wimbledon final.

The 1974 French Open was marked by an unsuccessful court action by Jimmy Connors of the United States and Evonne Goolagong of Australia for the right to play, and a demand by Jan Kodes for a dope test on Francois Jauffret of France after Jauffret upset him. Connors and Miss Goolagong were banned from the Italian and French tournaments because they have signed with World Tennis, whose schedule coincides with the European tournament dates.

Foster Looks For Knockout

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) - World light heavyweight champion Bob Foster looks mean, acts loose and vows he'll knock out his younger challenger from South America, Jorge Ahumada, tonight.

While the two boxers who meet in the second part of a closed-circuit television show prepared for their meeting, two other 175-pounders engaged in an impromptu shoving match that could have erupted into a full-scale preliminary battle.

Foster, 35, making his 14th defense, was rated an 8-5 favorite over the 28-year-old challenger from Argentina. The champ's demeanor has been different this time. Staying at a local hotel, he has joked with fellow guests but in training he's been rough, showing the concentration that won him the title in 1968.

No other current champ has held the title that long and Fos-
