HEART RESEARCH, HOUSING, ENERGY DEVELOPMENT

Nixon, Brezhnev Agree On Three

MOSCOW (AP) — President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev achieved the first concrete results of their summit today, agreeing on three cooperative ventures, including research and development on an artificial heart.

SWAP MODELS
The two other agreements involve cooperation in the housing field and in energy development. The agreement on heart research contemplates joint efforts to improve synthetic cardiac valves and to develop artificial hearts. Researchers from both countries also would seek ways to extend the operational life of cardiac pacemakers and would work together to improve diagnostic techniques aimed at heading off heart attacks by early detection of blood supply disorders.

They also would try to develop instruments to detect and treat heart ailments of children.

Under the accord, the two countries would exchange models of artificial hearts and other devices for testing and would publish the results of joint research efforts.

Under the housing and construction agreement, special efforts would be made to develop criteria for building in earthquake-prone areas and in regions effected by climatic extremes, such as arctic cold and desert heat.

ENERGY USAGE
The energy agreement called for a broad and balanced range of joint research and development programs on conventional and unconventional energy forms, environmental problems related to energy, and ways to restrain energy usage.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko signed the agreement on the artificial heart; Nixon and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin signed the agreement on housing; and Nixon and President Nikolai V. Podgorny signed the agreement on energy.

'FRANKNESS'
Brezhnev noted, however, that the process of detente has only "traversed the first stage," and that "much work lies ahead" that will require a sense of purpose and good will.

He also said the summit meetings were marked by "frankness," a diplomatic way of saying the two sides have major points of divergence.

Brezhnev also gave assurances there would be no "secret agreements," an apparent reference to a debate in the United States concerning allegations that so-called loopholes in the 1972 nuclear pact were later closed in secret negotiations.

Nixon called off his plan to visit Star City on Saturday to inspect the training of American and Soviet spacemen. White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President and Brezhnev had decided to use the time "for working sessions, consultation and negotiations."

Nixon and Brezhnev got down to the business of their third summit meeting earlier in the day.

Charges Ehrlichman Approved Break-In WASHINGTON (AP) — Former White House domestic counselor John D. Ehrlichman approved the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist the weekend before the break-in occurred, prosecutor William S. Merrill charged in court today.

Ehrlichman's lawyer, Henry H. Jones, denied that the former White House aide approved the break-in.

KNOWLEDGE
"Any breach of Dr. Fielding's rights came not as a result of the activity or knowledge of Mr. Ehrlichman," Jones said. "If it came at all, it came from some authority other than Mr. Ehrlichman."

Opening his case in the Plumbers trial, Merrill quoted Ehrlichman as saying in a phone call to White House subordinates about the then proposed break-in:

"Okay, let me know if they find anything."

Merrill said the phone call occurred Aug. 31, 1971, four days before the break-in at the office of Dr. Lewis J. Fielding, the Beverly Hills psychiatrist who treated Ellsberg.

PHONE CALL
Ellsberg subsequently was put on trial on charges stemming from the release of the Pentagon Papers but a federal judge dismissed the charges after learning among other things of the break-in at Fielding's office.

Merrill said Ehrlichman's approval was contingent only upon the covert operation not being traced to the White House.

Merrill said Ehrlichman's approval came in a phone call from Cape Cod, Mass., where he was vacationing, to David R. Young and Egl Krogh, who headed the White House investigative unit known as the Plumbers.

Polish Pigs Study Costs Guess Who?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress isn't at fault because $70,000 was spent to find out how sweating Australian aborigines smell, or because more than $20,000 was spent to study blood groups of Polish pigs, the General Accounting Office says.

In fact, said GAO, Congress is not directly responsible for these or a number of other seemingly unusual projects funded with federal money.

For instance, there was the $20,361 for an odor measuring machine purchased for Turkey under an Agriculture Department research project; and the Smithsonian Institution's $15,000 study of lizards in Yugoslavia, $6,000 study of Polish frogs and $35,000 study of wild boars in Pakistan. The Polish pig-blood group study also had been undertaken by the Smithsonian.

The GAO comments were in a report to a number of congressmen who had demanded an explanation for projects disclosed in a March 1974 article by James D. Davidson, executive director of the National Taxpayers Union. His article, the GAO said Thursday, discussed "a number of seemingly wasteful government expenditures."

The GAO, a congressional watchdog agency, studied 35 projects cited by Davidson, confirmed the existence of most and concluded that none were authorized specifically by Congress. GAO did not evaluate the merits of the projects, only identified the agencies that conducted them.

"Based upon our research, we found that the examples cited were not line items specifically authorized by Congress but were included in larger appropriations and authorizations of agencies and departments," GAO official D. L. Scanlon said in a letter to Rep. Robert W. Daniel Jr., R-Va.

Daniel has attacked the expenditures as "foolish programs" and directed particular criticism to the aborigine perspiration study. "No doubt some of this money could have been saved on the project if the State Department had prevailed upon Turkey to lend the Australians the odor measuring machine we purchased for them," Daniel said in a floor speech earlier this week.

Rattling Alarm To Stop Burglars?

Captain Gunned Down At Police Headquarters

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — Police Capt. Danny Lee Gray, 31, was killed early today in a strange shootout in the police station during which an unidentified man and officers exchanged several shots.

Gray was struck in the head, possibly as he started out of the dispatcher's office to subdue the stranger. His pistol still was holstered.

Police Chief L. C. Jones and others said this happened:

A man walked to the dispatcher's window about 4 a.m. and said he was there to get a man out of jail. The man in jail had been picked up shortly after midnight in an armed robbery. "After making the statement," said the police chief, "the man opened fire in the direction of the officers."

Gray was standing near the dispatcher's window and patrolman Bryan Windham and dispatcher Ronnie Denton were farther back in the office.

It could not be determined whether Gray was shot at the window or as he started for the man.

The assistant fired five to seven shots from a 9mm pistol.

Windham and Denton returned the fire and the man fled.

The surviving officers were unable to determine whether the man left the police station on foot or in an automobile.

Support units called hurriedly to the scene saw no pedestrian or car. A search of the station on the possibility the man was hiding there failed to reveal anyone.

Gen. McBride Will Speak At Function

Webb AFB first-term enlisted men will be honored this evening at a dinner dance to be held at 7 p.m. in the Noncommissioned Officer club on base. The affair will also provide the airmen a chance to bid farewell to Col. Robert G. Liotta and his family.

The guest of honor and speaker for the occasion will be Lt. Gen. William V. McBride, Commander, Air Training Command. Gen. McBride, a former enlisted man himself, has shown a great amount of interest and concern for young enlisted men and their families and will tailor his remarks this evening to young airmen.

Grave Robber

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP) — Ed Gein, the central figure in a gruesome tale of grave robberies, murder and mutilation in rural Wisconsin two decades ago, has lost a bid for release from a mental hospital.

The judge who committed the former Plainfield, Wis., farmer in January 1958 and four psychiatrists disagreed Thursday with Gein's claim that he has "fully recovered his mental health."

School Taxes Are Going Up

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado Independent School District board of trustees met Monday night and tentatively approved a $3.2 million budget for the coming school year, calling for a 24 cent tax increase to pay for a bond issue approved by voters last September.

The budget for the coming year is $1,744,687.72, higher than for the past school year, all of which is involved in the school's construction program.

The board will act officially on the budget at the board's regular monthly meeting Monday, July 8, following a public hearing on the budget.

The new budget sets the tax rate at $1.93 per $100 valuation based on 55 per cent of market value.

During the current fiscal year, the tax rate is $1.69. During the past year and for the coming year $1.50 of the tax rate is for the operating budget which is down with the remainder going for debt retirement.

Trustees Discuss Ways Of Cutting Travel Tabs

The school board tentatively approved a $6,896,051 budget for the next school year, subject to final approval July 8 and a public hearing in August.

The tax rate of $1.70 per $100 valuation based on a claimed 75 per cent is the same. The budget is up slightly from last year which was $6,345,421.

Most of the budget's raise was due to teacher salary increases built in by the state for this school term, along with their regular increment.

The board discussed at length Thursday night a method of trying to cut back on travel expenses of school personnel and students involved in various activities. There were no concrete decisions reached on the matter.

Oil company representatives were to be at the board of equalization this morning at the courthouse. The tax roll value in the school district has shown an increase in value of around $6,000,000 this year comparable to the rise in value in other oil producing districts.

This was offset in part by the fact that the homestead exemption for persons over 65 caused the district to lose $3,389,000 in estimated value. This is actual revenue loss of $57,000 compared to an actual revenue gain from oil values of around $1,250,000.

The World At-A-Glance

NEW YORK (AP) — The former board chairman of the Home-Stake Production Co. says reports that the oil drilling firm enticed big-name investors into a multimillion dollar swindle are inaccurate and misleading. Robert S. Trippett, 56, said in a telephone interview Thursday night "not a single one of the allegations against me has ever been proven in fact." The Wall Street Journal said earlier this week that the firm lured prominent persons into investing $130 million in the oil venture — all but $30 million of which was lost. The 2,000 investors — including actors, politicians and prominent business figures — bought participation rights in the company's oil drilling explorations, many in hopes of getting tax shelters. Early investors were paid off with money from later investors, often arbitrary sums unrelated to the amount of investment, the Journal said. But most lost money, the paper said.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Ignoring a torrential downpour, several hundred black demonstrators completed a "commemorative procession" through downtown Atlanta a day after it had been halted by club-swinging police. Mayor Maynard Jackson — Atlanta's first black chief executive — gave permission for conclusion of the parade Thursday just moments before marchers were set to step off illegally. Thursday's procession was one in a series of demonstrations by blacks protesting the fatal shooting of Brandon Gibson by police last weekend. Police say the 17-year-old black youth was shot by a black policeman when officers tried to arrest Gibson for a parole violation. They said he grabbed a detective's gun and was threatening him. Six persons were injured and 11 were arrested Wednesday in a melee Wednesday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger and the military chiefs are in the dark as to what specific nuclear arms limitation proposals President Nixon will push with Soviet leaders, Pentagon sources say. Nixon and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger left for Europe without telling defense leaders what options the President has decided to exercise in his Moscow negotiations, they say.

FUN AND GAMES — District cub scouts and adults combined a little exercise and a lot of fun Thursday when they took a bicycle ride around Scenic Mountain in Big Spring State Park. Pack 179, from Kentwood, and Pack 187, sponsored by the latter Day Saints Church, dominated the competitive events. The scouts also participated in a bike safety discussion, had a bike rodeo and bike hike, taking time out for lunch.

FERTILIZER SPREADER FOR SALE

Presidential Candidate Hates Demos, Republicans

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — J. W. Burdell's formal announcement for the presidency of the United States was up front, downhome and cheap.

"Three horses for sale, six pigs, one seeder and fertilizer spreader. Reason for selling—Running for President of the United States in 1976. J. W. Burdell," said a classified ad in the Sherman Democrat recently.

NO CONNECTION
So enters perhaps the one aspiring politician in the country with absolutely no conceivable connection with Watergate.

"I don't know anything about it. I wasn't there, but I hope it quietsens down by the time I get there," said Burdell, 50.

The leather-faced pack-of-all-trades, self-described as "just a common ordinary man," has decided to take national politics in his own hands.

A former share-cropper, field hand, truck driver, oil field roughneck, fry cook, yard man and now a welder, Burdell says he hates Democrats as much as Republicans.

WED TO APACHE
He is forming the "Unity Party" and wants to be the nation's first "working man's president." He says he will eventually quit his job at a welding company and set up conventions and campaign across the country.

His wife, Tony, is an Apache. They met at the Texas Cafe in Sherman in 1955. She's been fielding his calls at home and describes her man as having "a wonderful personality—when he wants to."

COAHOMANS Rally To Family's Side
COAHOMA — The Coahoma State Bank is accepting funds to help Bob and Sabrina Garten, former Coahoma residents, out of a crisis.

The Gartens moved to Oscoda, Mich., but suffered a double tragedy recently. Their year-old daughter, Brandy, died in a fire which destroyed their mobil home.

Those wishing to donate can make their checks to The Garten Fund and forward them to the Coahoma State Bank.

Westbrook Bond Election July 20

WESTBROOK — Westbrook school board members met in special session Tuesday and agreed to call a school bond election July 20.

Purpose of the election is to issue $400,000 in bonds for building a new auditorium and office-workspace addition and for remodeling the present building.

Supt. L. M. Dawson emphasized that the bond issue will not increase the taxes or affect the tax rate, presently set at 35 cents per $100 of valuation based on 25 per cent of actual value.

Burdell has a vice presidential candidate—Dorrie Wright, a black co-worker.

HORSE SENSE
Burdell's politics are mostly working man conservative: He values hard work and honest people and doesn't care what color they are.

He thinks voters will side with him.

"When you think as much as I do, you figure out a few things. I'm gonna try to tell folks that I can help 'em by using just common horse sense.

"Lots of folks around here think I'm just kidding. They say that somebody needs to run, but they don't want to run themselves. 'Well I'm gonna run myself.'"

He has two problems: He isn't on a ballot yet and there is still no campaign treasury.

Three days after placing his ad, he got 35 inquiries — all about his property, none about his politics.

Can he win?

"If I had any doubt, I'd hesitate. But I'm not hesitating. If you want the job done right, do it yourself."

Bilingual Education Supported By Apodaca

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., was expected to discuss public school financing and equal educational opportunities in an address to the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC) national convention today.

About 5,000 delegates are attending the 45th annual meeting.

John Powell, head of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission, also will speak.

New Mexico Democratic gubernatorial candidate Jerry Apodaca told delegates Thursday that those who wish to better the situation of minorities should address themselves to three areas—political power, economic stability and education.

He said it was futile to argue over which of the three was most important but he believes "the one we need to put emphasis on is education."

Apodaca said he supported bilingual education and commended the LULAC directors for their support of it.

"We came out of the doldrums of the laboring element and decided within ourselves that education was the solution," he said.

The result, he said, is that more Spanish-surnamed individuals than ever are now professionals, businessmen and politicians.

Apodaca suggested that education efforts by LULAC not be confined just to the young, but rather for all ages. He said education and educational opportunity should exist all through life "for anyone who needs it."

"The only thing I see as constant is change," he noted, saying LULAC should support innovations in the educational system, even those not directly aimed at minorities, because the over-all quality of education would affect all members of society.

'Pounding' Held For Miss Tonn

Miss Jerre Tonn, bride-elect of Danny Burden, was honored Tuesday evening with an old fashioned "pounding" in the home of Mrs. Jerry Mancill, 603 Colgate.

Coronets were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Arnold Tonn, and her grandmother, Mrs. Lois Black.

Refreshments were served from a polished Austrian wren runner, and the centerpiece was a potted plant. Crystal appointments were used.

The couple will be married July 12 at College Baptist Church.

Wants Child

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have discussed my problem with my two closest friends. One thought I was kidding. The other thought I was crazy. I assure you, I am neither. I am a 38-year-old unmarried professional woman. I was married (briefly) but had no children. I am bisexual (if that makes any difference), but I prefer men. I have a very full and rewarding life and don't want for friends.

Abby, the one experience I desperately want in my life is to bear a child. To me, motherhood represents the ultimate in fulfillment. One day I may marry, but not until after I retire (at age 60). By then, my child-bearing days will be long gone.

I can always get a husband, but I can't always have a baby. I would appreciate your opinion.

WANTS MOTHERHOOD
DEAR WANTS: The biological act of bearing a child doesn't qualify a woman for motherhood. Raising a child does. After you realize your "ultimate fulfillment," what about the child? If you could be a competent mother (and maybe you can) there would be nothing wrong with fulfilling yourself, but as I see it, you'd be using an innocent child to satisfy a selfish ambition.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 36-year-old school teacher, and I've just received a proposal of marriage. My first!

Henry is 40 and has never married. We met last summer when he rented the apartment next to mine. He owns a small but thriving business, and is a man of good moral character. He is on the quiet side. Although Henry has not been aggressive (romantically) I am sure the chemistry is right, if you

HHH Used Mysterious Blind Trust In Bid For Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee staff says Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's 1972 campaign organization used a mysterious blind trust and an apparent money-laundering operation in financing his bid for the presidency.

OWN MONEY

It also says the Minnesota Democrat concealed from the public that he donated $112,000 on his own assets to the campaign in early 1972, before it became illegal for presidential candidates to contribute more than $50,000 to their own campaigns.

QUESTIONS

The stock was in the Minneapolis soybean company headed by Andreas himself, Archer-Daniels Midland Co. The staff report said Humphrey declined requests to submit an interview, that his campaign manager Jack Chestnut destroyed records of early campaign finances, and that Andreas submitted an affidavit that left several questions unanswered.

It said Andreas didn't state how or when Humphrey's trust got the stock, how or when the trust itself was formed, or what role the Archer-Daniels company played in the transaction. A spokesman for Humphrey said he would withhold comment on the committee's staff report until it has been adopted formally by the full Senate panel.

Later Humphrey made a late-night telephone call to an Associated Press reporter to say that he had done nothing illegal in using more than $100,000 of his own money in his campaign and concealing that fact from the public.

"... that was as honest a deal as kissing your mother," Humphrey said. "I didn't like to have to contribute that money, but we had to do it if we were going to campaign," said Humphrey, who said the money represented a "lifetime of investment" by

Volunteer Army At Full Strength, Callaway Claims

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — The volunteer Army has reached its first goal, full strength, with 13 combat ready divisions, Secretary of the Army Howard H. Callaway said here.

Callaway said, "The volunteer Army is working. We have met the number one goal (full strength). The question now is what kind of people can we man the Army with. It's the kind of challenge that will set the style of the Army for the next 20 years."

The secretary spoke before the Central Texas-Ft. Hood Chapter of the Association of the United States Army (AUSA).

The secretary said, continuing the volunteer Army with the draft system, that during the mobilization only four of the Army's 10 divisions were mobilized last year. Now all 10 are mobilized and ready.

himself and his wife, Muriel. Andreas has been accused in a federal indictment of prompting an illegal donation of $100,000 in corporate money belonging to a subsidiary of the Archer-Daniels company. He has pleaded innocent.

NEW DETAILS

New details of Humphrey's 1972 finances are contained in a report circulated to members of the Watergate committee this week. A copy was obtained by The Associated Press.

STOCK SALES

The firm supposedly was established to convert gifts of stock into cash, but it also reported to break down the gifts into installments of $5,000 or less, which was then the common practice used to circumvent the law.

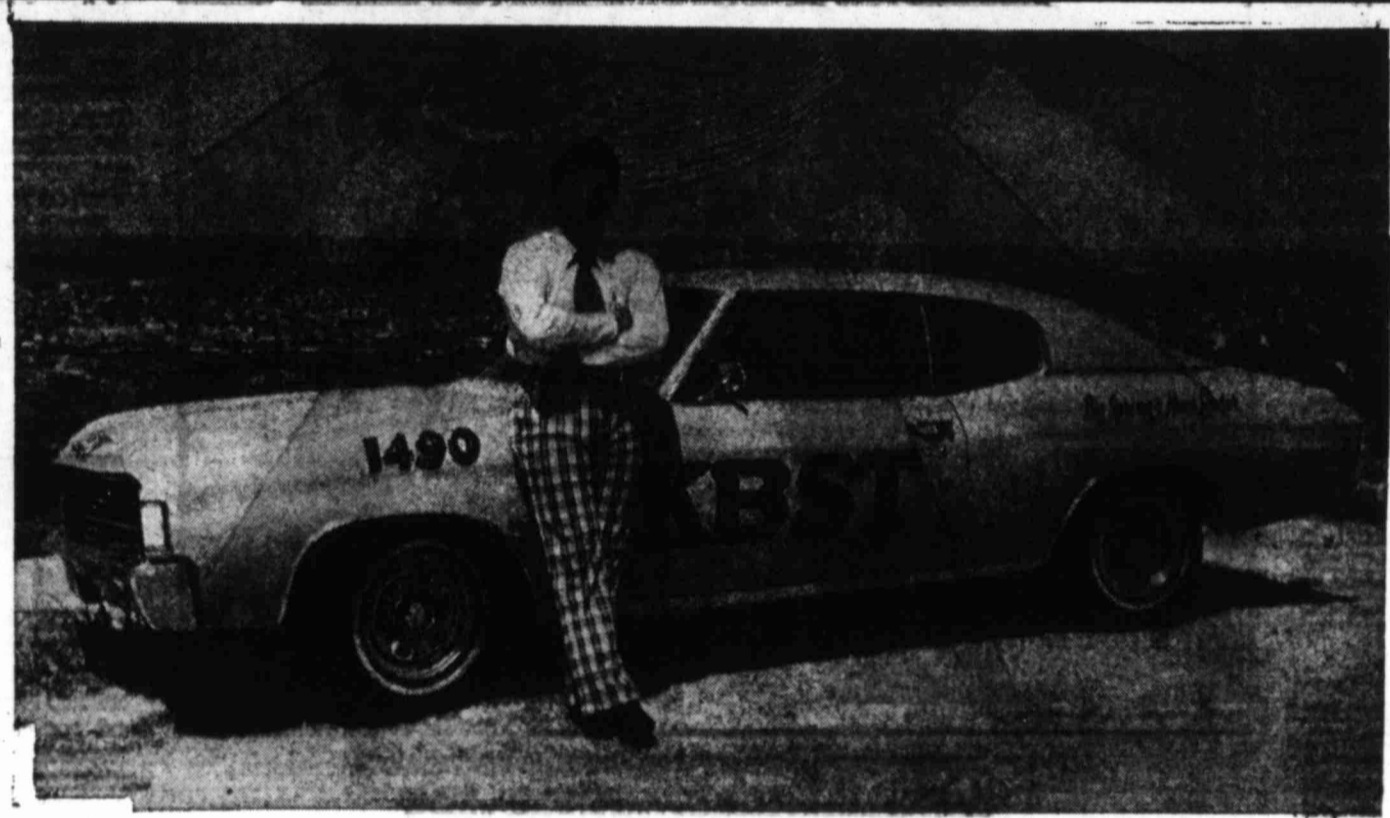

NEW LAW

Andreas transferred $112,000 in stock and money from Humphrey's trust into his campaign in January and February of 1972. Two months later, on April 7, 1972, it became illegal for a presidential candidate to use more than $50,000 of his own assets in his campaign.

Deadly Rains In United States

NEW YORK (AP) — George E. Wilson, whose company provides safe-driving information for its car and truck fleet leasing clients, says rain probably plays a part in two-thirds of all bad weather highway crashes. More people are killed on rain-slicked roads, he pointed out, than on ice and snow-covered roads combined.

In a heavy rain, he cautions, the tires of a fast-moving car can actually ride like a hydroplane on the film of water that forms on the road and lose contact with the pavement.

The two best ways to avert rainy-weather accidents, Wilson says, are to slow down and leave more space between your car and the one ahead. It's essential to keep windshield wipers and defogger in good condition. Also you're less likely to make like a hydroplane on water-soaked roads if your tires have plenty of tread and are properly inflated.

The Duke's A Luxury

W. S. (Bill) Heatley, long-time representative and a crusty character who threw his considerable weight around as House appropriations chairman until he was dispossessed of this seat, is back in the news with travel expenses from his home town of Paducah to Austin and back.

So far the state treasury has been billed $2,404, and his pilot on the Paducah-Austin-Paducah charter flights says there's another $1,000 yet to be billed for the period since the Constitutional Convention began in January.

The Duke of Paducah claims that this is the only practical way for him to travel between his home town and the state capital.

Convention President Price Daniel Jr. said that it was not the intent either of the convention's administration committee or its pay commission to permit charter flights at state expense. There are no regular commercial air flights to Paducah; but many other state travelers going to remote places such as Paducah fly to the nearest city on commercial aircraft. Then they hire charter pilots to take them the rest of the way. Heatley apparently believes it's more convenient to charter the whole trip — even though it's more expensive. If Heatley's fellow delegates all took the same privileges with their travel expense accounts the cost would be stupendous, increasing the already exorbitant cost of the convention and government.

From the state's point of view, we venture that Rep. Heatley's presence is just not worth the tab the state is being asked to pick up. But if it were, it would be a lot more economical to put him up in a nice Austin apartment for the duration.

Peeking At 'Weather Factory'

While weather modification may give nature a little nudge and encourage precipitation under certain conditions, the prospect of massive weather control is a long way from an exact science.

But knowing what to expect can save time, money and even lives. So in that context a 72-nation weather study project led by scientists from the United States and the Soviet Union gives cause for optimism.

Ships, aircraft, satellites and some 4,000 men and women are mustered to collect information about the heat stored in the upper layers of tropical oceans, the so-called "weather factory" of the world. The $100 million expedition, largest international scientific endeavor in history, expects to glean enough knowledge to make accurate two-or three-week weather forecasts — thus saving weather-beaten mankind billions of dollars in damages.

We hope the expedition is a success. Not only does it provide an example of international cooperation, it offers hope for better protection from the havoc of storms and sudden changes.

Although it's not nice to fool mother nature, a better understanding of her capricious moods would be helpful.

Taking A Stand

Around The Rim

John Edwards

My managing editor and I were arguing this week about whether newspapers ought to give news space to advertisers.

FOR EXAMPLE, if I purchased one of those advance death packages, what would the mortician say if I told him I wanted the box free because he was going to get to bury me?

Or, having emptied my bank accounts and wallet for a new car, what would the car salesman say if I said I wanted the floor mats gratis because he had all my money. This is what advertisers frequently say to us. Not that we get all their money. We get very little of it. But they say "we bought an ad, and we want news coverage, too," regardless of whether you consider the event, place or service real news.

I don't plan to tell you what my leader and other members of the press here said. I offer them equal space in their own columns.

BUT, I MUST concede, when my column deadline passed this week, I too decided to let a commercial plug leak into the not-too-sacred news space. Money was not my motive. I just desperately needed an "Around the Rim" idea, and the funniest book I've seen lately is commercial in nature.

"How To Keep Your Volkswagen Alive: A Manual Of Step By Step Procedures For the Complete Idiot" was written by John Muir, a New Mexican. The $6 copy I saw was loaned to me courtesy of Quality Volkswagen.

First, some of the introduction: "Come to terms with your (expletive deleted for my column) for it bears you." (If you don't like the way Nixon talks in the oval office, don't buy this book for your garage.) True, this isn't quite as poetic as the Biblical passage that Hemingway put in "The Sun Also Rises," but what do you expect from a mechanic. Now a few excerpts:

Under "How To Buy a Volkswagen" "We bought a paper and found an ad that said: 'Volkswagen Station Wagon for sale — 1963, gas eater — good condition — (the address).'"

"We found out that the gas eater was gas heater and that the Bus was sitting out in the parking lot of a bowling alley . . ."

ON STARTING in the morning — "I warm up my engine for the two or three minutes it takes me to roll a cigarette, light it and get it drawing well."

Under engine overhaul — "Back in the Red Dog Saloon era, there was a garage in Carson City run by a sympathetic super mechanic named Muldoon. When you were pushed into Muldoon's, he looked and listened to your sick engine, asked how far you needed to go and how much bread you had, then nodded his head and showed you where you could work on your engine out back . . ."

Suggestions: "If you paint your shrouding all colors while waiting for the machine shop work to be done, it not only makes assembly easier, but makes you grin when you check the oil and fan belt tension in the morning."

Observations: "A broken ring sounds like a noisy rod but goes all the time, like a giant locust . . ."

IT'S NOT all that juicy, and I'd rather read a good novel. But the book lives up to its title.

I saw it first while visiting a friend in Dallas near Love Field before the regional airport opening. A former physics major, he is about as philosophically minded as I am. He sells furniture now.

In between flights, I read directions, and he toyed with his Bug's engine. Today, he can still drive the vehicle. P.S. I felt a little uneasy about submitting this column to my editor. The last reporter to write about a car in "Around the Rim" left Big Spring shortly thereafter.

Not Much New

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Just as the Watergate prosecutors expected, Charles W. Colson's testimony since his guilty plea has provided more confusion than important new information without removing doubts about how valuable a witness he will prove in the long run.

HIS REVELATIONS of giving early Watergate warnings to President Nixon in January 1973 only slightly expand what he was saying publicly a year ago. His courtroom accusation that he committed his crime at Mr. Nixon's personal initiation is considered mainly an unsuccessful ploy for a reduced sentence and of no great impact on impeachment proceedings. Colson's bizarre charges by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) to Watergate dust off old and almost entirely discredited accusations.

THE CONFESSIONS of Colson will provide some helpful new information to both special prosecutor Leon Jaworski and the House Judiciary Committee. Nevertheless, it is questionable whether that information is significant enough to warrant the committee, which is falling dangerously behind schedule in its impeachment proceedings, summoning Colson for protracted testimony as it now plans. Thus, even as he awaits federal prison, Chuck Colson remains controversial, disruptive and ambiguous, just as he was in the White House.

Indeed, public relations gimmickry by Colson and his lawyer, David Shapiro, prior to his sentencing last Friday are strikingly similar to Colson's White House operations. Although there is no reason to question the sincerity of Colson's religious conversion, there is reason to question how much it has changed the way he approaches a problem.

SHAPIRO CONTACTED the special prosecutor to negotiate Colson's guilty plea BEFORE, not after, the widely publicized meeting of Colson's prayer group that allegedly led him to confess. Contrary to what Colson told the prayer group, he was never offered the option of pleading guilty to a single misdemeanor.

The outraged prosecutors blamed the crafty Shapiro for planting the misdemeanor story in the press, attempting to generate public opposition to a prison sentence on grounds that Colson had "voluntarily" pleaded guilty to a felony instead of a misdemeanor. The prosecutors came to regard Shapiro as the most annoyingly troublesome defense lawyer they have encountered.

NOR HAS COLSON faintly resembled the prototype of the thoroughly cooperative prosecution witness, John W. Dean III. Nor has he even approached the less knowledgeable Herbert Kalmbach, Nixon's former personal attorney, who has proved most helpful to the prosecutors.

The prosecutors have always viewed any possible information gleaned from Colson as an unexpected bonus. Expecting no great dividends, they have received none. That is particularly true of Colson's widely-publicized statement to the prosecutors and the House Committee that he warned President Nixon in January 1973 that John Mitchell and other reelection campaign officials probably were implicated in Watergate.

THE STIR CAUSED by these statements underscores Washington's collective short memory. In June 1973, long before his religious conversion and while enthusiastically defending the President, Colson told essentially the same story publicly. Just as he tells investigators now, Colson then declared the President replied he would not challenge Mitchell's sworn testimony just because Colson suspected him. Net gain in information over one year: about zero.

As the Japanese and Russians continue their slaughter, the rising sun sets on the world's last whales.

Oil Profits Indecent?

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Another act in the oil-profits story may be developing, and the oil companies aren't looking forward to it.

You'll recall that profits last year and in the first few months of 1974 rose sharply. As the First National City Bank observes, earnings were widely hailed as dramatic "if not positively indecent . . ."

The bank analyzed the statements of the 37 major oil companies based in the United States and found they were able to raise their net income by 55 per cent in 1973 and by an 81 per cent annual rate in the first quarter of 1974.

But there now seems to be a possibility that those profits could turn to losses, ironically because they attracted so much attention.

Among the threats to those profits are higher taxes and big wage demands, as government and labor seeks to share in what they believe is a financial bonanza.

The oil companies will be forced to allocate huge amounts of money to expansion and modernization "both to catch up with the supply backlog and to meet the far higher level of investment costs."

Performance used to be advertised by the mutual funds. A good performer, one that might increase its net asset value 40 or 50 per cent in one year, found investor money flowing into its coffers.

You don't hear much about it anymore, and no more reasonable explanation can be supplied than to look at the performance records. They're generally poor.

Standard & Poor's has just issued its performance list and it shows that share assets of the 50 largest funds declined 11 per cent between the end of last year and May 31.

"Over-all, only about 42 per cent of the 412 funds monitored by S&P showed above-average results," it reported. That loss by the 50 largest funds, incidentally, exceeded the 10.5 per cent drop in the S&P 500-stock index.

Country Ready To Laugh?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Musical groups that draw $50,000 or more for a concert work for scale on the TV rock shows — about $300. And they like it, says Don Kirshner.

Kirshner, who pioneered rock on late-night television with ABC's "In Concert" and his own syndicated "Rock Concert," explained, "Although they only get scale for a show, the inducement is that the television appearance might enhance a star's record sales by $5,000."

"IT EXPOSES HIM to a whole new audience. This is particularly true with new talent."

Kirshner said he believes even the biggest stars will continue to work for scale.

Rock is fairly well established on the tube, albeit mostly in the wee hours. Besides his two shows, there is NBC's "Midnight Special," which also goes into other areas; "Soul Train," which features only black stars; and the syndicated talk show for rock stars, "Speak Easy."

Kirshner, 39, is a leading entrepreneur in the music business. At 24, he founded his own music publishing and record company and later became president of Colgem Records. He managed the musical publishing works for the Beatles and, since their breakup, for John Lennon and Paul McCartney.

HE CREATED the musical group for "The Monkees," a TV show a few years back, and then did it again for "The Archies," an animated group on a Saturday morning cartoon show. He is looking for a primetime series in the vein of "The Monkees" and "The Partridge Family." But with the added realism of today's TV comedy.

"It would be a combination of music and comedy," he said. "The country is ready to laugh. If you can combine that with warm and appealing kids, I'm sure it will take off."

Typists' Pay Hiked In '74

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Salaries for typists increased during the first quarter of 1974 but secretaries' salaries remained steady, according to a continuing survey by Western Temporary Services Inc.

Senior typists earned an average of $2.82 per hour during the first quarter of 1974 in the 11 cities surveyed. This is 8 per cent higher than during the preceding quarter and 27 cents higher than during the first quarter of 1973.

Secretaries earned an average of $3.22 an hour during the first quarter of 1974. This was the same as during the previous quarter but was 32 cents higher than during the first quarter of 1973.

Chronic Leukemia Help

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would be so pleased if you could tell me why doctors said, "No help in any way" for chronic leukemia. Can we expect it to just stay chronic after 15 years of 20,000 to 30,000 white-cell count?

I stay busy, have plenty to keep me happy, will soon be 70, but I do need an honest answer to my question. Have decided it's lack of knowledge about leukemia. — Mrs. S.

I don't know of any doctors saying any such thing. I take it for granted you mean chronic lymphatic leukemia, which is more likely to attack older rather than younger folks.

There is help for it — radiation treatments and medication. But if you mean "cure" rather than "help," that's another matter.

If at 70 your white count remains between 20,000 and 30,000, I would say that you are doing well — and I would gather that this is being achieved with some sort of treatment. You are busy and happy, and it seems to me that you have been getting whatever help you need.

It is true that we do not have a cure for the various forms of leukemia, but more is constantly being learned, even about the far more dangerous acute leukemia cases. And even there, in the acute cases, we have a steadily increasing number that are kept in remission for years at a time, whereas only a decade or two ago life expectancy was measured only in months.

There is help for chronic leukemia, and for the acute

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My blood type is O-Rh negative. I have had to have several transfusions. I read somewhere that type O is common, so why do they always have trouble getting blood for me? — Mrs. A. K.

Yes, type O is common, but it is more likely to be O-Rh positive, while yours is Rh-negative, which isn't that common.

Unless properly treated, both glaucoma and cataracts can lead to blindness. If you are afflicted with either of these ailments, or know someone who is, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for his booklet, "Cataracts and Glaucoma." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Ryan Pitches One-Hit Game For Angels

ANAHEIM (AP) — Nolan Ryan pitched a one-hitter for the California Angels but hardly anyone noticed. Ryan himself gave a ho-hum. There was other news at Anaheim Stadium Thursday night besides the Angels' 5-0 victory over the Texas Rangers. Dick Williams is coming to town to take the reins of the Angels, succeeding Bobby Winkles, who was fired Thursday. Whitey Herzog, who was fired by the Rangers last season, skipped the Angels against his old team, as he will through Sunday.

IN CALIFORNIA ANGELS' CHANGES — Bobby Winkles, center, was fired as manager of the California Angels Thursday and coach Whitey Herzog, right, was named interim manager while the club negotiated with former Oakland skipper Dick Williams, left.

Dick Williams Back As Angel Manager

ANAHEIM (AP) — Dick Williams, who led the Oakland A's to victory in the past two World Series, is leaving his exile from baseball next Monday to manage the California Angels because the offer was "so tremendous I couldn't turn it down." Williams, 45, agreed to serve with the Angels through the 1977 American League season for what is believed to be at least $100,000 a year. He succeeds Bobby Winkles, fired earlier Thursday as the Angels, 30-44, languished in last place in the Western Division. "I'm quite happy they called me and I'm quite happy to be returning to baseball," Williams said from his Riviera Beach, Fla., home. He has been in private business since A's owner Charles O. Finley blocked his being hired as manager of the New York Yankees. Williams quit the A's after the 1973 World Series and Finley, after allowing the Angels to approach Williams, requested the lifting of a court injunction in San Francisco that prevented Williams from managing any team except Oakland through 1975. The fiery field leader said he missed baseball, but when asked if he would have taken any offer, he said, "No sir! Definitely not." Coach Whitey Herzog will direct the Angels until Williams arrives late Sunday or early Monday because of East Coast commitments that include a charity game in Hartford, Conn. Angel General Manager Harry Dalton reached agreement with Williams about 12 hours and "six or seven" phone calls after he first reached Williams and learned he was interested. The A's will be in town to open a series, and Williams said, "That's just a coincidence. But managing against my old team will be exciting, to say the least." Williams, the only manager to manage more than two seasons for Finley, had said he wanted to leave Oakland so that he could be closer to his family on the East Coast. "The salary, the (contract) longevity and the locality,"

Only Three Break Par In Western Tourney

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — touring pros are playing for the first time. And Goalby, 43, a former Masters champion, predicted the eventual winner will be in plus-par figures. "I don't think anyone can shoot four good rounds here," he said. "There is too much water, too many problems, too many chances to make a mistake. I don't think there is any question that a score over par will win it."

ANXIOUS MOMENTS — Cleveland's Jim Perry sits on the bench while reliever Tom Buskey saves Perry's 200th major league pitching victory. The Indians nipped the Boston Red Sox 2-1 Thursday night. Perry said he didn't want to be removed, but realized he had thrown a lot of pitches "and I wasn't as frisky as I was at the beginning of the game." He is the 69th major leaguer to win 200 games.

Little League Yankees Deflate Rebels In 7th

The Yankees scored twice in the seventh to come from behind and defeat the Rebels, 4-3, in National Little League play here Thursday evening. Reliever Brent Nichols pitched the seventh inning for the Yankees to notch the win after Brent Nichols and Mark Harris had hooked up in a pitchers' duel most of the way. In the Yanks' part of the seventh, Casey Clark stroked a hit with two outs and Scott Casey got a bingle to account for the winning run. The win was the 17th for the Yanks in 20 starts. The Rebels are 10-10. Mark Harris had a home run for the winners, one of two hits he had. Brent Nichols also had two hits, as did Mike Ballentine of the Rebs. Wes Hart of the Rebs accounted for a triple. Chris Smith posted a big win on the mound for the Rockets in International Little League play Thursday, allowing only two hits in registering a 10-2 success at the expense of the Starfighters. Smith also collected a double and two singles. Mike Wildt added three singles to the Rocket attack while Joel Howard clubbed a three-run home run and a double for the Rockets. The round tripper was his fifth of the year, which gave him the league lead in that department.

Knights Kayo Yanks, 7-5

The Knights outlasted the Yanks, 7-5, in Sophomore League competition Thursday. Freddie Martinez was on the hill for the Knights and yielded seven hits. His mates clubbed kaiser Tommy Worsham and two successors for 11. "Mark Poss, Tony Paradez and Chip Wright collected doubles for the Knights, as did Gerald Johnson. Ricky Myers of the Knights drove out home runs. In all, Poss had three hits while team mates Paradez and Mickie Kennedy each had two. For the Yankees, Alan Bristol, Oscar James and James Pinkard accounted for two hits each. Martinez fanned 12 and walked seven in his seven-inning stint. The Knights are currently 5-6 in the standings, the same record boasted by the Yanks. Pinkard spelled Worsham on the hill for the Yanks after a shaky first inning. Billy Ray Johnson wound up on the pitching rubber for the losers.

Trophies were presented by the boys to Kelley, who is manager of his team, and his coach, Phil Elliott. About 25 persons attended, including three guests. Hamburgers were served and the players went swimming.

Wimbledon Fans 'Most Loyal'

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The district line tram rumbled through the picturesque English countryside from teeming London to suburban, tree-saturated Wimbledon. A small, gray-haired lady, sitting in one of the cushioned seats, worked away diligently on her crocheting while chatting with a grandmotherly companion sitting beside her. "I tip young Borg today—he is a nice chap, indeed," she said, not taking her eyes away from her busy needle. "Yes, he hits a beautiful forehand," added the companion. "And Chrissy—I hope we do not lose her so early." "Right, dearie." The tram screeches to a stop at Southfields, where a large sign instructs passengers, "Alight here for Wimbledon Tennis." Up a concrete stairway and onto the street where another sign admonishes: "Persons possessing dogs which foul the foot

'Er' And 'Uh' And Bad Grammar Won't Show Up

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "Er, uh, let's face it. Constitutional Convention delegates sometimes use bad grammar. They occasionally stammer. They say, 'Er,' and 'Uh.'"

But convention transcripts won't show those meanderings and grammatical blunders.

The convention's administration committee, with two dissenters, voted approval Thursday of guidelines for editing the transcripts.

FOUR LETTER

While "ers" and "uhs" and repetitive words will be lined out, every one of Convention President Price Daniel Jr.'s admonitions to "break up the huddles"—and he must say it a dozen times a day—will be there for posterity.

It wasn't clear what the committee wanted done with such malapropisms as "muddle the waters" or with the occasional specks of profanity or obscenity.

"What about the four-letter words?" asked Rep. Joe Allen, D-Baytown.

"I don't believe there are many of them," convention secretary Charles Schnabel said.

"What about 'Break up the huddles'?" said Rep. Jack Hightower, D-Vernon, the committee chairman.

"All of the 'Break up the huddles' are in there," Schnabel replied.

NERVOUS

He said his editing staff was being "very careful not to edit the thought" but was also trying to eliminate repetitive and superfluous words.

Hightower, for instance, "has a proclivity to insert the word 'now'... When you read it, it starts standing out," Schnabel said.

Hope To Finish Work On Separation Of Powers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Constitutional Convention delegates hope to finish work on the separation of powers and general provisions articles today and quit until July 8 or 9.

A Saturday session on the general provisions article appeared likely.

The convention gave final approval Thursday to the judiciary article, accepting seven amendments that mainly involved minor changes.

The Style and Drafting Committee then announced it would work Thursday night on the general provisions article. The General Provisions Committee set a meeting Friday morning to act on Style and Drafting's recommendations.

CREATION

One addition to the judiciary article, approved 122-21, prohibits the creation of any other courts than those authorized by the constitution.

This would prevent the legislature from creating a multitude of special courts, as it did under the 1976 constitution.

The judiciary article calls for a merger of the Texas supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals, with courts of civil appeals being given criminal jurisdiction. The high court would have the right to FAMILIAR FIGURE — Supt. Sam Anderson is shown leaving the school administration building. A familiar figure at the Big Spring Schools, he has served this system since 1956. He has been superintendent since 1961 and spends his last day in the office today, actually retiring Aug. 1.

Anderson Ends Career With BS Schools Today

By MARJ CARPENTER
Today is the last day in the office for Superintendent Sam Anderson, who has held that position since 1961. He is technically superintendent until August 1, but due to accumulated vacation time, will step down today.

Dr. Emmett McKenzie will take over duties as the new superintendent Monday morning.

Anderson moved to Big Spring in 1956 as assistant superintendent to Floyd Parsons, who had accepted the Big Spring superintendency that year. When Parsons became superintendent in Little Rock, Ark., Anderson was promoted to the superintendency.

Prior to this, he served as superintendent of schools for ten years of the Petronila Independent School District near Corpus Christi.

He has been a classroom teacher, an elementary principal, a high school principal and a director of curriculum during his 42 years of service in Texas public schools. During this time, he has held a number of professional offices, none of which were sought.

He never once ran for office but ended up as president of the Texas State Teachers Association from 1966-67, president of the Texas Council for Exceptional Children from 1964-65, president of the Texas Association of School Administrators 1963-64.

He was a member of the state board of managers for the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, chairman of Region II, Southern Association of

Homecoming Set For Saturday

The Knott school homecoming is set for 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday in the community center at Knott. Mrs. Porter Motley, president of the reunion, reminded today. W. T. (Bill) Bolin, Lewisville, a former superintendent, is to be the speaker.

Those residing in this general area are urged to bring picnic baskets for the occasion. Former students and teachers at the school are urged also to bring old pictures of classes and individuals connected with the school and community. The school, originally known as Knott, later was called Garner and eventually became Sands at Ackerly when the Knott and Ackerly districts consolidated. An elementary school was operated briefly at Knott, then combined also with the Sands school at Ackerly.

Schools and Colleges, Texas Committee for Elementary Schools, member of the governor's committee on public education, regional chairman of Region 18, state-wide planning for vocational rehabilitation service in 1960 and past president of the Howard County Rehabilitation Center.

Currently he is serving as chairman of the executive council for the West Texas Education Center, Region 18. In addition, Anderson has held numerous local and district professional and civic offices.

Among the groups who have especially honored him during this retirement year are the district of the PTA, the local lodges of the Masonic Lodge, and the local units of the TSTA and Classroom teachers.

Because of his long time interest and service to improve the educational opportunities for exceptional children, he has often been referred to as "Mr. Special Education in Texas."

Anderson and his wife reside at 900 W. 17th and will continue to reside there following his retirement.

Committee Passes Buck On Charter Flights By Heatley

AUSTIN, ex. (AP) — A Constitutional Convention panel has asked a higher authority to decide whether legislator-delegates such as Rep. W.S. Heatley should be permitted to take charter flights home at state expense.

See Editorial, Page 6-A

The administration committee was asked by Convention President Price Daniel Jr. to settle the issue.

But the committee returned the matter to Daniel Thursday, asking him to submit it to the five-member pay committee that consists of Daniel, Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Chief Justice Joe Greenhill and Presiding Judge John Onion of the Court of Criminal Appeals. Daniel said about 20 minutes later that he had asked Briscoe to call a meeting.

"They did kind of pass the buck to the compensation committee. That's all right. That is the best place to get it clarified. (But) I think they could have clarified it themselves," Daniel said.

Man Is Charged With Pot Sale

Joseph A. Wirges III, of 1507 B Lexington, was arrested this morning by city police detectives and charged with sale and delivery of marijuana.

Bond was set by Judge John Coffee at $5,000 and Wirges was transferred to the county jail.

Heatley has spent $2,404 in state funds since January for charter flights, mostly between Austin and Paducah, his home town. His pilot said another $1,600 in bills have not been submitted yet.

Convention Secretary Charles Schnabel, who had approved Heatley's vouchers, said he was satisfied the flights are legal. Paducah, he added, is "in the middle of nowhere."

Westbrook Baptists Join Group In Aiding Rio Grande River Ministry

By MARJ CARPENTER

Westbrook Baptists join the list of area Baptist laymen who have helped conduct the River Ministry out of El Paso this summer, holding Bible Schools in many of the villages along the Rio Grande.

The pastor, the Rev. Gene Farley and his wife, Betty and a group of young people took part in the program. The Rev. C. L. Eastman from Permian Baptist Encampment in Stanton was guest speaker at the church last Sunday.

RUSS RAINEY of College Baptist Church, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gorman Rainey and grandson of the Shirley Walkers and the E. G. Rainey is in El Paso working with a Spanish mission on South Ochoa Street sponsored by HUB.

He will go in July with the secretary of the El Paso Baptist Association to work with a tribe of Indians in Mexico. The first week in July, he will take a group of girls to a camp at Clayeroff, N.M. and later will take a group of boys to the same camp.

He is serving as assistant coach to the mission baseball team and plans to go to Dallas Aug. 1-3 to the state playoffs. He is teaching English, reading and writing to a group at the mission.

MISS MATTIE SEN-SABAUGH spoke Tuesday night at the Foursquare Church here on work she has done through the years in Central America, Panama and Costa Rica.

She has served 21 years in the mission field in that area, including five years in Panama, one year in Costa Rica and 15 years in Central America.

She has traveled by muleback and worked in some very primitive areas in the fast growing mission work of the Evangelical churches in that area.

She said that they train the people to help themselves and in recent years have had a lot of success with the cassette tape ministry. When she first went down to the area she could not speak Spanish "but I learned."

When she first went down, she helped take care of a missionary who was ill and after she died remained in her place for five years.

She said that sometimes, you should pray up, preach up, sing up and pay up," said Phillip B. Harris, "but never give up, let up, back up or shut up until Sunday night in every church is built up."

"Much of the area which used to be very primitive has been improved with many new highways.

The missionary was making a tour through West Texas and then was to speak to several East Texas churches. She said that they did not take medical missionaries because they believed in divine healing.

"DON'T FORGET" the Gaileans will be at the City Auditorium Monday, July 8 at 8 p.m. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for children.

"GOOD NEWS, AMERICA!" The American Bible Society today enters the nation's bicentennial era with the announcement of this new slogan — "Good News, America!" — a theme designed to relate the Scriptures to the nation's 200th birthday celebration.

"The best news is that the entire Bible in the Today's English Version will be published in 1976," asserted the Rev. Dr. Lator E. Holmgren, general secretary. "This bicentennial Bible will be the Society's gift to America on its 200th anniversary and may well be the publication event of the decade."

"SOUTHERN BAPTISTS should pray up, preach up, sing up and pay up," said Phillip B. Harris, "but never give up, let up, back up or shut up until Sunday night in every church is built up."

Harris, secretary of the church training department, Southern Baptist Sunday School Board located in Nashville, Tenn., told participants of the Church Training Leadership Conference here that "what every Southern Baptist needs is a call to militant discipleship."

Harris pointed out that the climate is right for the greatest advance in teaching and training that Southern Baptists have ever known.

"Our churches have been suffering, in my judgment, from arrested growth," he added. "This is a tragedy that should have and must be avoided." The church training secretary issued a challenge to all Southern Baptists to try to achieve 500,000 baptisms a year, adding, "we ought to be achieving a million baptisms a year."

Local Church Histories Will Be Featured In Series Of Articles

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles telling the history of Big Spring churches. They are also being prepared to be placed in the county library. Anyone who has a church history, call Helen Eury at 267-2775. She is active in the local historical association.

The First Presbyterian History prepared by Agnes Currie follows. On November 14, 1891 two men registered at a Big Spring Hotel. They were strangers in town, travel-worn and weary from a long ride in an open buggy. One was a Presbyterian Minister, the other an elder. They were the Rev. J. H. Zivley and Judge William Kennedy of Colorado City. They had been commissioned by the Presbytery of Dallas to organize a new church. Having previously obtained permission they held services in the Methodist Church the following day which was Sunday, November 15, 1891. After explaining their object in Big Spring, Dr. Zivley preached a sermon, taking his text from Psalm 87, verses one and two. At the conclusion of the service, twelve persons signified their desires to associate for the worship of God and of holy living according to the usage and constitution of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

"Thereupon these persons did in the next place enter into a solemn covenant according to the Book of Church Order, Chapter 11, Section 5, paragraph 27, and the presiding minister said, 'I now pronounce and declare that you are constituted a church according to the word of God and the faith and order of the Presbyterian Church in the United States in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, amen.'"

Thus a church was started. The twelve members were: James P. Carlyle, Mrs. Anne Carlyle, E. T. Weed, Mrs. John H. Ewing, Mrs. A. A. Brynart and children, Malcolm and Beulah, Captain F. M. Ross, Mrs. Lavina Ross and children, Frank M. Wilbur Mc, and Clara Sue. Seven adults and five baptized children.

Three years later (November 15, 1894, a committee was named and given authority for "the erection of a house of worship in this city for the use and benefit of the Presbyterian Church." J. I. McDowell, J. H. Ewing, and J. H. Brynart were the committee. It was July 28, 1895 when the building was finished and dedicated. As usual, "The church (was) a monument to the prayerful zeal, cheerful self-denial and earnest efforts of a few godly women. The building and furnishings cost $1,370.00 . . . all of which was raised by the ladies except $200.00 . . . contributed by the church erection committee."

Dr. J. H. Zivley was serving the Church as stated supply. By 1897 the church had received such staunch members as Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles, who made possible the building of the second church building at 7th and Runnels in 1929. Also among these early members were Mrs. Sarah McQuery, mother of Bradley McQuery, who lives at 702 Bell and a member of First Church; Mrs. Sue Read, mother of Noble and Willard Read, and Mrs. Elizabeth McDowell, whose name is preserved by a Sunday School Class.

Dr. Zivley had become pastor of the Church and growth was slow but sure. He organized out of his handful of parishioners the Coahoma Presbyterian Church on Jan. 27, 1899. The members were Mrs. A. E. Saive, Miss L. A. Shive, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shive "together with their baptized children as follows: Bertha, Percy, Leroy, Ivy May, and Dewitt; Mrs. Sarah McQuery with her baptized children, Viz, Ruben, Ron, Iva Fulton, and Bradley; Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Guthrie with their baptized son, Robert Vernon — seven communicants, 16 total. These were all transferred from this church except

Mrs. Robert Guthrie, who came by letter from the Methodist Church South."

Since the organization in 1891, the First Presbyterian Church of Big Spring has had 19 pastors, as follows: Rev. J. H. Zivley, D. D.; Rev. O. G. Jones, D.D.; Rev. Mark E. Sentelle; Rev. O. G. Jones (second pastorate); Rev. W. S. Baker; Rev. T. M. Stribling, Rev. John S. Thomas; Rev. L. O. Cunningham; Rev. F. S. Henderson, D.D.; Rev. John C. Ramsey, Th.D.; Rev. L. O. Cunningham (Second pastorate); Rev. J. W. Harrison, Rev. W. L. Shepherd; Rev. R. L. Owen; Rev. John C. Thorns; Rev. D. F. McConnell, D.D.; Rev. O. L. Savage; Rev. James E. Moore; and Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, D.D. Dr. Lloyd has been pastor since September 1, 1946. The only pastors, yet in the ministry, still living are the Rev. John C. Thorns of Herington, Kansas, the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd and Dr. R. Earl Price.

Living widows of former pastors include: Mrs. O. L. Savage, Mrs. L. O. Cunningham, Mrs. D. F. McConnell, Mrs. John C. Ramsey, and Mrs. W. L. Shepherd.

Hale, Wilder Set Monday Program

The famous and now locally familiar team of Robert Hale and Dean Wilder will make its third Big Spring appearance Monday 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist sanctuary.

Again accompanying them in their concert of sacred classics, hymns and spirituals will be Ovid Young, who also serves as their arranger. He has appeared with them in more than 700 concerts since they formed the team almost by coincidence in 1966.

The program is free, and everyone is invited. There will be an offering, also examples of their albums will be on hand. Hale is the leading bass-baritone with the New York City Opera Company, and Wilder, head of the voice department at Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N.J., recently joined the company as tenor.

In two previous appearances here Hale and Wilder, have almost filled the church sanctuary. Hale has been applauded internationally as well as singing with the New York company, both in New York and in its Los Angeles season, also with operas in Boston, Minneapolis, Philadelphia, Chicago, and many other points. He has appeared as guest artist in four major festivals, and was soloist in the world premiere with the Minneapolis Orchestra at the United Nations, a program telecast over network.

Wilder toured for three seasons as leading tenor with Goldovsky Operat Theatre, has been with the Boston Symphony National Symphony and many other leading groups as soloist. He was soloist over at the Tanglewood Festival and on national television. One critic attributed to him "one of the great voices of the century."

Years ago the two men while performing in the same work, found they had a mutual Christian interest, and decided to devote part of their off season to religiously-oriented music. They were an instant hit.

IS THE CHURCH PART OF YOUR LIFE?

A liberty bell and lilies. Both symbols of freedom.

Nearly two hundred years ago, a bell proclaimed our release from political domination. The Founding Fathers gave us our liberty, and today we reap the benefits: a man can speak his mind without fear. This is freedom.

The lilies represent another kind of freedom. Synonymous with Easter, they are symbols of the greatest freedom of all, the freedom from death.

With its promise of everlasting life, with its hope for an eternal spring, the Christian message today rings across the land with ever increasing clarity.

Renew your faith in the Christian church.

Unique Match Slated Sunday

LAMESA — Motorcyclists will be playing poker between Big Spring and Lamesa Sunday. The anticipated 150 entrants will draw covered cards at five check points, and the person with the best poker hand at the end will win a trophy.

The purpose of the event is to promote safe motorcycle riding and provide cyclists an opportunity to meet.

Cyclists from all over the South Plains will register in Big Spring at the Andrews Highway and IS-20 at 1 p.m. Sunday.

Entry fee is $1 per person. Riders must be 16 years old or have their guardian sign a release. Participants must ride their own motorcycles.

Winners will be served at the Edgar O'Bannon's residence 10 miles south of Lamesa at the conclusion of the event.

The High Plains Drifters Motorcycle Club is sponsoring the event. Bill Wilcox is president of the Lamesa chapter.

Treasure Hunt Is Upcoming

Treasure seekers from as far as Arizona and Arkansas as well as the West Texas area will invade The University of Texas at the Odessa Chamber of Commerce's second annual treasure hunt.

To entice the hunters, the Chamber of Commerce will have buried over selected portions of the campus road tokens which will serve as exchanging pieces for the $3,000 in prizes. Local businesses and banks donated prizes ranging from a rare 1793 bicentennial coin tracked down in Louisiana, and worth over $350, to seven metal detectors.

According to Steve Poyner of the Chamber of Commerce, two hunts are scheduled for both Saturday and Sunday. Anyone paying a $12.50 entry fee and having a metal detector may enter. Entries may register until 10 a.m. Saturday.

Bridge Test

and led a heart to his nine. In with the queen, West paused to take stock. Counting the 12 points visible in dummy, his own 10 and declarer's minimum of 16, he knew his partner held at most a queen, if that. Unless it was specifically Q-10-9 of spades, the defenders would take no spade tricks. Partner's low diamond at trick one denied the queen there, so it was probable that the only way to defeat the hand was to get two tricks in clubs. However, if West continued with a passive defense, declarer would eventually lead a low club toward the queen, thus limiting the defenders to one club trick.

West worked out that there was some hope if partner held a singleton club. His first thought was to shift to a low club, but he realized that would avail him nothing. Declarer would play dummy's queen, and when West led another club after winning the ace of hearts, East would ruff while declarer followed with his low club.

There was only one winning defense, and West found it—he shifted to the king of clubs! Declarer took the ace of clubs and returned the king of hearts to force out the ace. West won and led the jack of clubs, covered by the queen and ruffed by East. Declarer was stranded with a losing club and no place to put it, so he went down one. But he was enough of a gentleman to congratulate West on a spectacular coup.

Blood Donations Being Sought

Sgt. Bobbie Black's mother is being treated for leukemia at the Martin-Wagner Cancer Research Center in Dallas. To date Mrs. Black has used over 250 pints of blood and is currently requiring an average three to four transfusions each day for an indefinite period of time. The blood bill is in excess of $9,000 at this time and continues to mount.

There will be a blood drive in Big Spring to aid Sgt. Black's family. Blood Services of San Angelo Texas will set up its Blood Unit at the Texas Electric Reddy Room 409 Rannels St., from 9 until 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. This will be an excellent time and opportunity to show our appreciation for and to help one of our armed forces personnel and their families stationed here at Webb Air Force Base. A Red Cross official said if anyone desires more information he can call 267-5031.

Complaints Made

Fire cracker season has arrived with city police receiving four calls Thursday from people who heard fireworks.

Singing Family Offers Program

The singing Wills Family of Arlington, will be visiting and singing Sunday for the Grace Baptist Church, 2000 West F.M. 700, for all of the morning services.

The Wills family, a professional Gospel singing group, has been singing professionally for more than 12 years. They originally started their professional singing career with Dad Wills, and all the brothers and sisters.

A different brother or sister would get involved with the group at different times, but they have kept the group strictly within the family. Some of the brothers and sisters are now scattered, but the grandchildren are grown and taking an active part by singing or playing an instrument.

The Wills Family travels around the country holding concerts and singing for churches, traveling in its own bus. At one time it appeared on a weekly television program.

The Rev. Roy Hones, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church, says to invite the public to attend.

With virtually every high card marked by the auction and the strength in dummy, West found a brilliant defensive play to rob declarer of his game.

Most players simply would have raised one no trump to three with the North cards, preferring not to use the Stayman convention to probe for a 4-4 major fit unless their hand contains a ruffing value. However, there is no quarrelling with success — as the cards lie, three no trump probably would have gone down after a club lead.

West rejected hearts and clubs as possible opening leads and opted for the relatively safe lead of his top diamond. Declarer won in dummy as East played low,
