MASS MURDERS TRIAL JUDGE REVERSES HIS DECISION

Jury Selection Open To Public

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A district court judge today reversed his previous decision and said he will allow newsmen and the public in the courtroom during jury selection for the trial of Elmer Wayne Henley, 18, accused in six of the 27 Houston mass murders.

Asked why he had changed his decision to bar newsmen from the proceedings, Judge Preston Dial said, "It seemed to be the appropriate thing to do at the time."

Dial said photographers will still be barred from the courtroom and the jury room.

LOCUSTS

Judge Dial barred on Monday newsmen and the public, including the accused youth's mother and brother, from the room where the jury was being selected.

Judge Dial who is trying the case here on a change of venue from Houston, called reporters a "bunch of locusts" Monday and said he wanted to isolate the prospective jurors from as much distraction as possible.

Local and national news organizations had sent lawyers to protest the judge's ruling Monday. They were due back today to file a motion seeking to end the secret proceedings. The lawyers had indicated they would go to the Supreme Court if necessary.

During closed sessions Monday, five women and three men were cleared as prospective jurors. When 32 are selected, lawyers for the defense and prosecution will each strike 10 names.

The only information coming out of the closed hearing a few hurried comments by Judge Dial and statements he relayed through court aides.

Judge Dial said Monday the jurors would be "contaminated" if newsmen were allowed to see the selection of the panel.

"I'm just not going to let them (the jury) get contaminated. These guys (newsmen) are like a bunch of locusts," he said.

Challenging Judge Dial's decision to close the trial to the public were the San Antonio Express-News, the San Antonio Light, KENS-TV in San Antonio and The Associated Press and United Press International.

A statement released by representatives of the five said, "The U.S. Supreme Court has repeatedly ruled that what takes place in a courtroom is public property."

"The framers of our Constitution distrusted Star Chamber proceedings and sought to bar them. We oppose this effort to carry out judicial action behind closed doors and pledge to appeal to the highest courts to insure the public's right to know. We place our faith in the judgment of an informed public."

Before going behind closed doors Monday, Judge Dial overruled a long series of motions by Gray.

Liquor Board Quiz Reveals No Provable Misconduct

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. John Hill reported today that his investigation of alleged abuse of travel expenditures by the Dallas office of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission revealed no provable misconduct.

He said, however, there were irregularities and record-keeping problems that were "severe enough" to require "a more stringent policy of accountability" for travel money.

"Some remedial measures appear to be necessary because our investigation revealed certain practices which cast doubt, although not provable guilt, upon the activities of the inspectors in the Dallas regional office. There was a striking similarity among the total travel money requested by each inspector in the Dallas office over the last three years. Many inspectors claim mileage on particular days that would be difficult to drive in the time that those inspectors claim that they were in the field," Hill said.

The investigation was requested by Tom Gordon of Abilene, chairman of the commission.

NO KNOWLEDGE
Commission member Robert L. Thornton of Dallas moved at the agency's May meeting to dismiss its administrator, O. N. Humphreys, but the motion died for lack of a second. There has been speculation that Thornton's motion was related to the investigation of the Dallas office's travel vouchers.

Humphreys and other officials in ABC headquarters were quoted in Hill's summary as saying they had no knowledge of any enforcement officers claiming reimbursement for mileage they had not driven.

Hill had been asked to determine whether Dallas inspectors were actually driving the number of miles they claimed, whether Humphreys and his staff knew of or consented to false travel claims or a policy of criss-crossing the city to build up mileage and whether criss-crossing was done deliberately to increase travel reimbursement.

Mishler Residents See Quite A Sight
Neighbors on Mishler Street saw quite a show Sunday night.

It was one of those situations which law enforcement officers classify as domestics. Usually by the time they arrive at the scene, nobody knows what happened.

When they drove up Sunday, a fence and motorcycle were on fire.

Rain Spatters El Paso Area

Light rain spattered the El Paso area early today while gusty west winds blew across the rest of far West Texas.

Humid south breezes fanned the rest of the state and it was generally clear except for showers near Brownsville in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

All parts of the state felt the July heat, and forecasts promised no relief.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 80 degrees at Galveston on the coast down to 72 Dalhart in the Panhandle. Monday's top marks went as high as 100 at El Paso and 102 at Wichita Falls.

Now head of the Federal Aviation Administration, Butterfield was Nixon's appointments secretary at the time.

DEADLINE
The committee, which has received a vast amount of evidence concerning the activities of Nixon's aides, wants to see how it relates to Nixon himself.

He is the first of 10 witnesses the committee has listed as possible subjects for examination before July 12, when it is due to stop taking evidence and start deliberating on proposed articles of impeachment.

Today was also a deadline for four subpoenas issued by the committee for 49 tapes conversations relating to various subjects under investigation.

COUNCIL IS TOLD Hospital May Be Ready Sooner Than Expected

By MARJ CARPENTER
Seven items on an eight item agenda were approved by 10:30 a.m., today when the city council went into executive session to discuss a personnel matter.

Mayor Wade Choate presided as the council whipped through second and final reading of a resolution authorizing the mayor to enter into a lease agreement with KBYG, approved the first reading of a resolution authorizing the Economic Advisory Council, first reading of a resolution authorizing the mayor to enter into a lease agreement with Jerry Worthy, first reading of a resolution authorizing entering into a contract with the Hospital Corporation of America for construction of a sewer line, permission to advertise for bids for the sewer line, approval of first reading of a resolution determining certain street improvements and approval of an organizational chart for the city.

HOSPITAL SEWER LINE
The agreement with HCA for sewer line to the hospital will clear the way from W. 2nd down San Antonio St. to 11th Pl. and on to FM 700. The approximate cost to HCA will be $90,700 with the city to pay around $9,000 for the three-inch oversize of the line.

Jack Watkins, former councilman, again appeared on behalf of property owners on San Antonio Street requesting that the sewer line be placed on an alternate route.

The alternate route crossed some of his property and some belonging to Jones Estate. Watkins offered a free easement across his property. He claimed the alternate route would save the HCA money. Dr. P. W. Malone said they were "for saving money on the initial cost if possible."

Engineer Roy Crim pointed out that while saving cash, it would also take the sewerline away from part of the HCA frontage and would not be savings. The route he suggested was one that he claimed is

"cheapest and best for the city and the hospital corporation." The engineer also told the group that San Antonio will be repaved where it has to be dug up, "and possibly done better than before."

The way was also cleared for paying the street in front of the hospital. Getting needed funds from a federal source has been abandoned since it now looks as though the hospital will be completed earlier than anticipated. Revenue sharing funds will be used for the

ADMITS DIFFICULTIES Nixon Reveals Fourth Summit

MOSCOW (AP) — President Nixon told the Russian people tonight that he will meet with Leonid I. Brezhnev again next year to continue the search for "a lasting peace" and a better life for them and for the American people.

The President also acknowledged that he and the Soviet Communist party leader "have many difficulties, yet to be overcome in achieving full control over strategic nuclear arms."

NEW RELATIONSHIP
But he said in a prepared speech they made progress in three annual summit meetings and are "steadily building a new relationship that over time will reduce the causes of conflict."

The Russians provided the green room of the Grand Kremlin Palace and their national radio and television hookup for the speech. Relay to the United States was also arranged.

Nixon gave no hint of any specific results from his on-going talks with Brezhnev in the nuclear field. He briefly mentioned new accords on health and housing and said, "They will give the people of both of our countries a positive stake in peace."

Nixon's speech was on the eve of the windup of his third summit with Brezhnev and followed a new round of talks with him.

Dr. Malone related that the hospital may be completed by February instead of June. He added, "They have been able to work every day. There hasn't been any snow or rain."

Watergate Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., also has said reading the Baker report fails to convince him the CIA had anything to do with the break-ins or cover-up.

BREAK-INS

The report also questioned the official CIA account of the extent of the aid given to Hunt at the request of White House adviser John D. Ehrlichman.

It said the events that led to the Fielding break-in at Los Angeles "caused a wealth of conflicting testimony among CIA officials."

The report said that last February, after a third search of its files, the CIA found a transcription of part of Ehrlichman's July 22, 1971, conversation with Marine Gen. Robert E. Cushman Jr., then the CIA's deputy director.

"The document is especially significant in that it quotes Ehrlichman as saying that Hunt was working for the President and that the CIA was to give Hunt 'carte blanche,' the report said.

"The technician who dealt with Hunt has testified that he received approval for each and every request of Hunt from his supervisory officials at the CIA," the report said.

Hunt Asked CIA To Direct Him To Lock-Picking Pros

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a three-month period immediately before the Watergate break-in, E. Howard Hunt Jr. asked his former CIA bosses to direct him to retired agents skilled in lock-picking and burglary, a report to the Senate Watergate committee said today.

NEW SUSPICIONS
The CIA official who provided the information retired one day after the arrests of the Watergate burglars, the report said.

Prepared at the direction of committee Vice Chairman Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., the long-awaited report said the new information contradicts public testimony by senior CIA officials that Hunt had no contact with the agency after Aug. 21, 1971. That was the date on which the agency says it refused Hunt any further assistance for his undercover assignments for the White House.

The Baker report raises—but does not confirm—several new suspicions that the CIA may have known in advance of both the June 17, 1972, Watergate break-in and the Sept. 2, 1971, burglary of the offices of Dr. Lewis Fielding, a Los Angeles psychiatrist treating Pentagon Papers figure Daniel Ellsberg.

DELETED
CIA Director William E. Colby, who directed that the names of certain CIA employees and contacts be deleted from the public report, said he had hoped Baker's unprecedented investigation would convince him "that CIA had no prior knowledge of the Watergate or Ellsberg break-ins or cover-up."

The Watergate committee has stopped all its investigations and the Baker report recommended that the CIA oversight committees of the Senate and House continue the probe.

It said the agency had denied Baker's investigators—headed by Fred Thompson, the panel's Republican counsel—access to dozens of documents and witnesses it said must be obtained before definite conclusions can be reached.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Rep. Lucien Nedzi, D-Mich., who headed separate congressional oversight probes into possible CIA-Watergate links, have said they find the Baker report unconvincing.

Watergate Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., also has said reading the Baker report fails to convince him the CIA had anything to do with the break-ins or cover-up.

BREAK-INS
The report also questioned the official CIA account of the extent of the aid given to Hunt at the request of White House adviser John D. Ehrlichman.

It said the events that led to the Fielding break-in at Los Angeles "caused a wealth of conflicting testimony among CIA officials."

STAYING IN MONACO — Actress Elizabeth Taylor, accompanied by escort Henry Wenberg of Los Angeles, left, boards the yacht "Kalisma" in Monte-Carlo harbor Monday. The actress, who is staying in Monaco with friends, was granted a divorce last Wednesday which ended her 10-year marriage to actor Richard Burton.

Overtime By County Help May Be Hard To Come By

By JOHN EDWARDS
County Commissioners Court finished negotiations over the Howard County Airport lease renewal Monday afternoon and told department heads overtime should not be worked or paid except in emergencies.
Hangar rental was increased from $30 to $35 per month for single-engine aircraft and the price of aviation fuel from 68 to 72 cents per gallon.
DIVIDING REVENUE
With half of the increases going to the county, the county will get $7.50 of the $35 for hangar rental fee and 4 cents, allowing two per cent for evaporation of total gallonage, for each gallon of gas sold or used.
Other sources of revenue for the county at the airport include $300 for the hangar-lounge building per month and around $3 per month from oil sales.
PORT SPENDING
With some federal assistance, the county spent the following amounts at the airport, according to a sheet prepared for the court:
$6,761 in 1971, $58,614 in 1972, $19,708 in 1973 and so far $1,135 in 1974.
A large part of the 1972 figure went to a runway resurfacing project.
"First, you didn't have any water," County Judge A. G. Mitchell said, explaining past expenses. "Second, your sewer went to trouble. But now everything out there's working."
J. W. (Bill) McClendon, president of Big Spring Aircraft Inc., spoke to the court about obtaining a 500-gallon plus tank for storing used oil.
Oil disposal is creating a nuisance at the port.
The five-year renewal provides the county will play water and light bills and half of heating costs. Big Spring Aircraft must maintain some liability and fire insurance policies.
A retyped lease contract will be presented to the court Monday.
PAY DATES
In response to complaints about a change in salary payment scheduling, Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, said wages were "not late, because we agreed we couldn't put these out early any more."
Monthly checks had been going to county employees before the end of the month's work.
To comply with new federal wage laws, the court set the first through the 31st as the pay period. Checks are to be distributed to employees within five days after the 31st.
County department heads and elected officials were told employees should take time off during the pay period instead of drawing overtime when possible.
"We are not going to pay any overtime," Mitchell said, later mentioning a few exceptions.
"Under certain circumstances and conditions, we will have to pay overtime," Commissioner Bill Crooker added.
Officials noted deputy sheriffs must work over 60 hours in one week to be entitled to overtime under the federal law. Pay for the jailer and relief jailer who stay in jail quarters long periods of time but are not always working presented a problem to which no solution was offered.

Bitterness Toward King Family Voiced

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Marcus Wayne Chenault, the alleged killer of Mrs. Martin Luther King Sr., belonged to a small group that believes black ministers should be punished because they misled their people, the Dayton Journal Herald reported in a copyright story today.
The newspaper said it learned of the organization, known as "The Troop," by interviewing a close friend of Chenault.
Interviewed on the condition that he not be named, the friend said that in addition to Chenault and himself the group has about five other members in the Dayton area. He said there are also members in Cincinnati, Columbus and Youngstown.
Chenault, 23, is being held without bond in Atlanta, Ga., on charges of murdering Mrs. King and a church deacon. Mrs. King was the mother of the late civil rights leader Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.
Chenault's friend branded all black preachers as "political pimps." The black minister is one of the most powerful forces in the black community because of his ability to control people. Yet he is also one of the main reasons we still have ghettos.
The friend described "The Troop" as "Hebrews who believe in God and not Jesus Christ." All are black.
Chenault's friend voiced special bitterness toward the King family.
"The King family had been cursed ever since all those black people got killed in the South for following Martin Jr.'s teaching in the height of the 1960 riots," the newspaper quoted the source as saying.
He also accused the Kings of "getting rich" instead of "helping out the poor people."
The friend said he agreed that Chenault's original target was the famed civil rights leader's father, also a minister. He said Chenault apparently changed his mind and decided to kill Mrs. King when he could not find her husband.
He said Chenault had no intention of hurting anyone else, but added that the past weekend's events are only "a warning of what is to come."
When asked if he and Chenault had discussed the assassination before Chenault went to Atlanta, the friend replied, "No comment."

Three Boys Here Said Missing
The families of Isidro Mendez, 14, and Marcos Mendez, 13, and Tony Cantu, 13, are seeking their whereabouts.
Isidro and Marcos are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Marcos Mendez of 206 Adams. Parents of Tony are Domingo and Victoria Cantu of the Northeast Apartments.
The trio were last seen by their families at 11 a.m. Saturday, but have since been seen riding in a 1963 green and white Plymouth.
Those knowing the whereabouts of the trio are asked to notify either the families or the city police.

LITTLEFIELD — Judge Pat Boone Jr. today denied an injunction sought by South Plain farmers against a weather modification project.
The judge ruled insufficient evidence to warrant a far reaching decision.

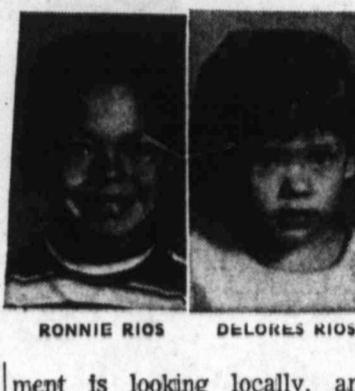

WANT BIGGER SHARE
Trouble On The Farm
By The Associated Press
The men who raise the steers that put beef on the American dinner table want a bigger share of your dollar. They say they'll go broke if they don't get it.
Bill Frank has 130 head of cattle on his 320-acre farm near Hudson, Colo., a town of 450 persons northeast of Denver.
When his cattle get big enough, he'll sell them to someone like Lawrence Kentfield of Wilsonville, Neb., who fattens them on grain.
Then Kentfield will sell them to someone like John Morrell Co., a packing house that is part of United Brands.
Morrell will slaughter the cattle, cut them up and sell them to someone like Pantry Pride-Food Fair, one of the nation's largest supermarkets.
Pantry Pride-Food Fair will sell the meat to you.
The American National Cattlemen's Association, which represents people like Frank and Kentfield, estimates its members have lost more than $1 billion since September because of declining livestock prices.
MORE MEAT
Legislation is pending in Congress for an open-ended emergency program of government-guaranteed loans for livestock and poultry producers.
Part of the problem is that there is more meat than any of the experts predicted.
More cattle were fed out on the range — out of sight of government analysts who check feedlots to try to figure out how much beef is on its way to market.
In addition, cattlemen feeding their livestock on grain decided to hold on to them longer, writing for prices to rise after government controls were lifted. The cattle got bigger than normal, producing more meat — and fat. And the prices paid to farmers didn't rise.
Meanwhile, there was a backlog of cattle. Truckers' strikes meant the cattle couldn't be shipped to market. The backlog got bigger and consumers still weren't buying beef.
Ranchers in Florida, the nation's 18th largest cattle producing state, are in the same boat as those in Colorado. Florida ranchers produce 2.2 million head a year, virtually all of them for sale to out-of-state feedlots.
REFUSE TO PAY
Last year, they were getting 57 cents a pound from feedlot operators. Last week, they were getting 25 cents a pound.
The price the rancher got for his calves declined because men like Nebraska Kentfield, who fattens the calves, refused to pay more.
Kentfield put 160 head of cattle into his feedlot pen on Feb. 26. The animals weighed an average 600 pounds and he paid farmers 42 cents a pound or about $280 each. By June 1, the cattle weighed an average of 1,025 pounds each and Kentfield estimated he had spent $120 feeding each one.
Kentfield fed the cattle on grass and grain. He said that at current prices, cattle have to eat more than 45 cents worth of grain to gain one pound. Farmers with pastureland to spare are charging Kentfield 35 cents each for each pound his cattle gain while grazing on the land.
The price for grain and pastureland has doubled in the

BUT ISABEL GETS THE PRESIDENCY People Adored Eva Peron

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — "The Argentine masses adored Juan D. Peron's second wife, Eva. His third wife, Isabel, has never gotten the adoration, but now she has the presidency.
Eva died of leukemia in 1952 at the age of 33, but her memory was very much alive last year when Peron returned to Argentina after 18 years in exile. As Isabel stood beside her husband, students chanted wildly: "Evita, Evita, we feel her presence."
HYPNOTIC POWERS
Isabel promised at first to emulate her fiery and beautiful predecessor. But she hasn't the temperament, the political flair nor apparently the insatiable lust for power that Evita had.
Evita rallied the working masses behind Peron when other military leaders of the 1943 coup tried to freeze him out. She helped him win the presidency in 1945 and for seven years shared his power.
She had an almost hypnotic power over the working classes.
Eva was at the height of her power in 1951 when her husband named her his successor. But pressure from conservative Peronists and the wary military forced her to resign. It was a different story when Peron insisted on Isabel as his running mate last fall.
In her last major speech before she died, Eva thrilled a crowd estimated at a million people. Isabel had trouble drawing thousands on her only campaign trip through the interior last year.
CABARET DANCER
Eva was the daughter of a poor provincial family; Isabel's father was a middle-class banker. Eva met Peron when she was a radio actress; Isabel was dancing in a cabaret in Panama when she joined the exiled leader.
Isabel reportedly is not interested in power and apparently relies heavily on Peron's private secretary, Jose Lopez Rega, who became the most powerful man in Peron's government. Eva shared power with no one but Peron.
When Eva died, her embalmed body was enshrined in a labor union building. The military regimes that came after Peron's overthrow hid the coffin in 1972, when it was sent to Peron in Madrid.
It is still here. But last week Congress authorized the construction of an Altar of the Fatherland to house the bodies of the nation's heroes. It is expected to become the final resting place for Peron—and for Eva. It may be up to Isabel to sign the order for the return of her predecessor's body.

Girl Climbs Into Car, Drives Off With Kids

A 16-year-old girl got into a car with two preschool age children Saturday and drove off Saturday, Sheriff A. N. Standard said.
The three are missing still. He could think of no logical motive behind the "bizarre" incident.
Missing are Ronnie Rios, 5, Dolores Marie Rios, 2, both of the Northcrest Apartments, and Genise Garza, 16, 108 Lockhart St.
Mrs. Mary Rios, mother of the two small children, told Standard she stepped out of her 1965 beige Chevrolet at Co-manche Trail Park. And then the 16-year-old jumped in the car and drove off, Mrs. Rios told the sheriff.
The Howard County Sheriff's Office is searching for the three children at various rural locations. The police department is looking locally, and Borden County Sheriff Norm Sneed is checking around Lake J. B. Thomas.
Standard has been unable to confirm reports two Coahoma boys, a boy from the Northcrest Apartments and a girl missing for more than a month have been seen in the stolen vehicle.
He placed these additional youths in the 13 to 15-year-old bracket.

DPS Planning July 4 Vigil

MIDLAND — Major E. K. Browning Jr., commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety's 49-county West Texas region, announced today that the departments Operation Motorcade will begin at 6 p.m., Wednesday, and run through midnight, Sunday, July 7, 1974. Browning said that an estimate of 42 traffic deaths in Texas has been made for this 102 hour period.
Browning noted that during the 102-hour 1972 July 4 Operation Motorcade, 69 persons were killed statewide and 17 in Region Four during the 30 hour 1973 period, 13 persons died.
Browning said that patrolmen from the license and weight service and motor vehicle inspection service will be assisting the highway patrol in routine patrol of the highways. "We will have approximately 150 patrol cars working throughout the region in an attempt to make the highways safe for the citizens of this area," he said. "The patrolmen will be looking for all violations of the law and especially for the drinking driver, who is the major cause of traffic deaths."
The energy crisis has resulted in a 26 per cent decrease in traffic deaths compared to last year.
"The availability of gasoline will increase traffic during the holiday period," Browning said, "so we urge motorists to obey the 55 m.p.h. speed limit and drive to stay alive."

of eight acres formerly owned by him, with the understanding that the highway department may condemn it for a drainage ditch at any time. The lease was set at $100 per year.
The hold-up on a lease had been due to the expectations of city administrators that it is to be condemned.
Four members of the economic council were present including Mrs. Mary Joy Cowper, Dave Brazell, Bill Sheppard, Tom Locke. They met briefly to go over details of a contract with the city, which was then given unanimous approval of the council.
Ronnie Smith appeared. Representing the church softball league he requested that the new complex be kept up and maintained so that the parks will remain in good shape. He also questioned having a closer relationship with the parks and recreation board in the future.
The city approved an organizational charter which outlines divisions of authority within the city. It is one that the council has discussed for over a year.
Under the new plan, James Campbell will be moved to the position of parks and recreation director, a position formerly held by the assistant city manager who retired.
Campbell's appointment was tentatively approved by the council this morning, subject to being placed on the next agenda.
The executive session was for the purpose of clarifying funds spent on an undercover narcotics agent who helped local police here for several months.
All councilmen were present including Eddie Acri, Harold Hall, Mrs. Polly Mays and Charles Tompkins, along with Mays. All actions taken this morning were unanimous.

Trevino Heads Open Field

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Lee Trevino, enticed by a change in format and looking for more playing time, heads a surprisingly strong field for the $130,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

The 72-hole event, which offers a $26,000 first prize, gets under way Wednesday and runs through Saturday, a departure from the usual Thursday-through-Sunday format for regular pro golf tour events.

The change was made to help accommodate players who wish to compete in next week's British Open. This gives them an extra day of travel time. It's also because of the holiday weekend.

Trevino is one of those affected by the British Open. He's won two of the last three British Opens and will be playing in the old tournament at St. Anne's in England next week.

"I might have played anywhere," Trevino said. "I can't take time off and practice for a tournament. I need to play the week before. That's how I get sharp, by playing, not by practicing."

"But the extra day will help, too. It'll help a lot. You have to fly all night to get there. Then you've got to stay awake all the next day. That's the only way you can handle it. If you go to bed when you get there, you're dead. It'll take you a week to get adjusted."

The Milwaukee Open, which customarily occupies the time slot the week before the British Open, often gets the tour's leftovers.

In addition to Trevino, one of the game's outstanding gate attractions, the 144-man field that will test the 7,010-yard Tuck-away Country Club course includes 62-year-old Sam Snead; Hubert Green, the season's No. 2 money winner and winner of three 1974 tournaments; Buddy Allin, a two-time winner this year, and such other winners as Jim Colbert, Bob Menne, Leonard Thompson and defending champion Dave Stockton.

Others include J. C. Snead, Sam's nephew and current Australian Open champion, Homer Blancas and Chi Chi Rodriguez.

Jr. Tracksters Take Six Firsts In Kermit Meet

Evertt Coffman paced the Big Spring Junior Track team to six first place performances in the Kermit Summer Track Meet over the weekend as she won three events in the intermediate girls division.

She turned in the longest long jump with a 15'2 1/2" measurement for first place in the intermediate girls 220 yard dash with a 28.5 time and she won the intermediate girls 100 yard dash with an 11.9 time.

Others turning first place performances were Donna James, intermediate girls 70 yard hurdles, 10.7; Ricky McCormack, senior boys 880 yard run with a 2:06 time; and Herman Evans, open 100 yard dash with a 9.7 time.

Some twenty two Big Spring youngsters were among the 350 contestants in the meet. The meet was represented at the meet were Artesia, N.M., Wink, Kermit, Seminole, Ft. Stockton, Monahans, Odessa, Andrews, Pecos and Big Spring.

Other team members placing in the meet were Donna James, third place in the intermediate girls long jump; Ken Carroll, third place in the intermediate boys 440 yard dash; the Intermediate boys 880 Relay team consisting of Ken Carroll, Junior Chavez and Harold Sherman, third place; Danny Sherman, fourth place, senior boys shot put; midget girls 440 Relay, consisting of Julianne Raines, Glenda Petty, Keitha Coffman and Lisa Thixton, fifth place; intermediate girls 440 relay, consisting of Denise Smith, Donna James and Evertt Coffman, sixth place; Harold Sherman, sixth place in intermediate boys long jump; and Junior Chavez, sixth place, intermediate boys 220 yard dash.

The team will participate in their last meet of the year at San Angelo on July 14.

Nine Hits Lift Rangers Past Twins

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Texas manager Billy Martin will never be confused with a man of the cloth, but his Rangers congregation accepts the fiery skipper's word as gospel while going its victorious way.

Martin, who has resurrected veterans players to team with several youngsters, watched 31-year-old minor league retrace Jackie Brown halt the Minnesota Twins 6-2 Monday night and boost the club twogames over .500.

"I like young kids," said Martin. "These guys have confidence now and are proud of the Rangers insignia across the front of their uniforms."

Catcher Jim Sunberg's first major league home run staked Texas to a 1-0 lead. Toby Harrah, the Rangers' beeps-up shortstop, hit his 10th homer of the year in the seventh and snapped a 1-1 deadlock between losing pitcher Joe Decker, now 3-7, and Brown. A former Minnesota player, Cesar Tovar, stroked a two-run single to highlight a four-run Texas ninth inning.

"I saw (Mike) Hargrove and (Jim) Sunberg in winter ball and knew we needed them," said Martin. "Tovar was the No. 1 player we wanted because he's a winning player. He knows how to get on base and can excite his own teammates."

Sundberg and Hargrove both played in the low minor leagues last season. Brown spaced a dozen Minnesota hits and appeared in command until yielding to Steve Foucault with one out in the ninth inning after surrendering a pinch-hit home run to Harmon Killebrew, an opposite field double to Steve Brye and a walk to Rod Carew.

"I almost quit two years ago," said Brown, reflecting on a disastrous 7-16 record in the minor leagues at Denver. "My brother Paul and my father convinced me I was still throwing good and should give it another try."

Brown snapped a personal three-game losing streak with his second straight victory over Minnesota and improved his season mark to 7-5-n.

"I've developed a better breaking ball and feel like I'm throwing good," he said. "I tried to get a fast ball to Kill-

Astros Top Braves 3-0

ATLANTA (AP) — Manager Preston Gomez of the Houston Astros told righthander Don Wilson that he needed a good strong performance because the bullpen was tired.

"I told him I would give him a good game. And, as it turned out, I did," said Wilson.

He hurled a five-hitter at the slumping Atlanta Braves, who bowed to the Astros 3-0 in their National League baseball game Monday night.

Wilson, now 4-6, spaced Atlanta's hits in four innings and overcame early wildness to hand the Braves their ninth defeat in 12 games.

The Astros got seven hits in the first three innings without scoring off Phil Niekro, 8-7, but finally got on the scoreboard in the fourth. Wilson doubled down the leftfield line to send home Tommy Helms, who also doubled.

Gregg Goss followed with a walk and Roger Metzger hit a run-scoring single to chase Niekro.

Houston added its final run in the seventh when Bob Watson doubled with two out and scored on Lee May's single.

The Braves' biggest threat came in the third when Ralph Garr led off with a walk and took third on Darrell Evans' single. But Wilson retired the next three batters on fly balls to center.

Gomez was tossed out of the game in the second inning when he chided the umpires about the way they were performing.

The incident was touched off by a ground rule double by Doug Rader. The ball bounced over the fence and was at first called a double and then a home run. When the Braves protested, the call was changed back to a double.

"I was not complaining because I thought it was a home run," Gomez said. "The ball obviously bounced over the fence. I told them they ought to be hustling, that they ought to be in the right position to call the play properly."

Sabres Gain City Tourney

The International League gained a berth in the City Little League Playoffs, with a 9-1 win over the Comets Monday night as Ronnie Ramirez slammed a triple and a double for two runs in that contest.

Rodney Smith, with help from Frank Jones and Ralph Clark pitched the winning effort.

Jim Walker hit two singles for the Sabres while Smith and R. Johnson each hit two singles for the Comets.

THOUSANDS WEeping 'Long Live Peron'

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Thousands of Argentines, weeping and shouting "Long live Peron!" "Long live the leader!" and "Goodbye Peron!" bade an emotional farewell to their leader today.

Many threw white flowers over his black wooden coffin as it entered the Plaza de Mayo on its journey to the National Cathedral and a funeral Mass.

10-MILE TRIP
The coffin — draped in Argentina's blue and white flag and topped with Peron's general's cap and sword — was carried on a gun carriage for the last part of the solemn 10-mile journey to the cathedral.

When it arrived, 12 grenadiers carried it inside, where a eulogy was read. Afterward, the coffin was again borne on the gun carriage 15 blocks to the Congress.

The carriage was accompanied by Peron's widow and vice president, Isabel, who took over the presidency after Peron died of a heart attack Monday.

The funeral was part of a two-day farewell to Peron, leader of the Argentine people for 30 years in power or in exile.

STATE FUNERAL
The body of the 78-year-old Peron later will lie in state in the domed, columned Congress building while Argentines, four abreast, file by. A state funeral will be held Wednesday.

National mourning was ordered for today and Wednesday, and flags will fly at half staff for 10 days.

Peron's 43-year-old widow is the first woman chief executive in traditionally male-dominated Latin America, but there was no assurance that she would remain in office for the five years and four months remaining in his term.

Unlike Peron's second wife, Isabel Peron has no political following of her own, has exerted little or no personal influence on the country's politics, is a novice at the business of government, and was elected vice president nine months ago only because her husband insisted on her being his running mate.

BADLY SPLIT
Meanwhile, the Peronist movement is badly split between conservatives and radical leftists who united only in support of Peron.

For the time being, however, no attempt is expected to unseat the new president and the country is expected to remain calm. Mrs. Peron, in a broadcast announcing her husband's death, appealed to "friends and adversaries" to calm their "personal passions in favor of a free, just and sovereign country." The armed forces, which overthrew Peron in 1955 and ruled the country for 18 years, promised to uphold the constitutional succession, and all political factions have expressed support.

Money Bank Is Found In Park

Big Spring State Park officials found a money bag left by a road there Monday night.

Marked "Citizens Bank and Trust Co, Paducah, Kentucky, the green bag contained only a broken hair brush. Sheriff A. N. Standard said authorities there would be notified.

The labor unions declared a general mourning strike until midnight Wednesday but said essential services would be maintained.

LOVE, HATE
Peron, one of the most loved and hated figures in Latin American history, was one of a group of army officers with pro-axis sympathies who seized power in 1943. His mistress, the actress Eva Duarte, organized the country's workers behind him. In 1946 he was elected president by a 55 per cent majority soon after he married Eva. His first wife had died earlier.

Eva was in effect Peron's co-president but died in 1952 of leukemia at age 33. Two years later, the military overthrew Peron, and he began 18 years of exile.

He met his third wife in Panama. Her real name is Maria Estela Martinez, but she used the name Isabel as a night club dancer and has kept it. They were married in 1960.

Throughout his years in exile, Peron remained the political leader most popular with the Argentine masses. In 1972, the military finally gave up its attempt to run the country, and the next spring a candidate picked by Peron, Hector J. Campora, was elected president.

Disenchanted Americans

NEW YORK (AP) — The Harris Survey says a record 59 per cent of the American people are disenchanted with the state of the nation.

Harris said on Thursday that for the first time since the question was posed in 1966, those expressing disenchantment included substantial numbers of enrolled Republicans, college-educated persons and workers earning $15,000 a year or more.

A similar poll conducted last year showed the disaffection rate at 55 per cent. In 1966, it was only 29 per cent.

The theory that the rich get richer and the poor get poorer was subscribed to by 79 per cent of the 1,413 households sampled by the survey organization in June.

Albaugh Projects Dual Discovery

Ray A. Albaugh, veteran wildcatter who has seven oil discoveries in his checkered career, figures he stands on the threshold of two more.

Longs on his No. 5 Keeney, near the Mitchell-Sterling line in Northern Sterling County, indicate oil production in the Abo and gas production in the Pennsylvanian sand, he told the Herald Tuesday.

After a prolonged effort to obtain pipe for completion, Albaugh said he now has a string in sight and hopes to run it by the middle of the month and make production tests.

On an elevation of 2268, his geological reports reflected the Abo from 5,320-5,658, with 220 of the 330-foot section rated as effective pay. The Pennsylvania sand, showed on the reports from 7,388-7,428 feet, with 30 of the 38-foot section rated as effective pay. If the area has the same conditions, one geologist rated the Pennsylvania zone with a 5 billion cub feet — plus potential production yield. The well location is almost on top of a new gas line laid by Coastal States, to whom Albaugh previously had turned some of his holdings, several years ago.

Albaugh No. 5 Keeney set only 360 feet of surface pipe and then drilled open hole because of lack of pipe. After the venture threatened to blow out in the Pennsylvanian, it was mudded to await pipe and completion. Albaugh together with some California associates, has 3,200 acres around the well. Although there has been no announcement of the prospect, around 50,000 acres have traded in that vicinity recently.

Last week, Burk Royalty No. 1-21 Spade, step out to the Ellwood-Yates (formerly Albaugh-Yates) area, completed as a shallow gasser at 610 feet with a calculated open hole flow of 1.9 million cubic feet per day. It is four miles north and half a mile west of the Albaugh No. 1 Keeney.

Albaugh's first and most prodigious find was the Welch field in northern Dawson county in 1935, followed by the Ackery-Dean field in 1950. In Mitchell he found the Albaugh-Fusselman field, now depleted, Albaugh-Yates, two pays on the Spade Ranch. He also spotted the Albaugh-Cole (Wolfcamp) pool in 1969 and found oil, without successfully completing, in Tennessee and Ohio. One of an old-time breed, Albaugh is one of the few package wildcatters who assembles his geology, blocks the drilling acreage and contracts the well.

Prosecutor Jaworski Denies It Was His Idea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Special prosecutor Leon Jaworski has denied it was his idea for the Watergate grand jury to name President Nixon as an undicted coconspirator.

"The grand jury ... and not merely the prosecutor made this important determination in the first instance," Jaworski told the Supreme Court Monday.

Jaworski and White House attorney James D. St. Clair filed final briefs with the court in preparation for arguments next Monday on the President's resistance to a lower court subpoena for potential Watergate cover-up evidence.

IDENT was one of the conspirators involved in the conspiracy ... and the government's reliance on that action ... were made in good faith."

Although St. Clair reiterated an argument that a grand jury does not have power to name an incumbent President as an undicted coconspirator, Jaworski said the jury's action was "within the legitimate sphere of constitutional authority."

NOT CLEAR
In fact, said Jaworski, "It is not at all clear that an incumbent President may not be named as a defendant in a criminal indictment."

Turning to Nixon's claim of executive privilege, Jaworski said neither presidents nor their aides "ever have been assured that their communications will be maintained absolutely confidential."

"It is true that in the past it has been rare for subpoenas to be issued against the president," he wrote. "This is hardly surprising, because there have been few occasions on which there has been reason to believe that the president has had in his personal possession evidence directly material to a criminal prosecution."

The court will review an order by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica directing Nixon to produce tapes and documents relating to 64 White House conversations.

Hiplex Project Will Be Discussed Here Aug. 15

A public discussion of the bureau of reclamation plans for the Hiplex (High Plains Cooperative) weather modification project has been scheduled here tentatively for Aug. 15.

Among those due to be here to outline project plans will be Lloyd Stuebinger, meteorologist in charge of the Big Spring site, one of three under the bureau program, also Pat Hurley, Denver, Colo., assistant to Dr. Archie N. Kahn, Denver, chief of the division of water resources management for the bureau, Interior Department.

Owen H. Ivie, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, which operates a weather modification project in this area, and John Carr, head of weather modification for the Texas Water Development board, conferred last weekend with Dr. Kahn in Denver on plans for the Bureau's program.

One of the first steps will be to contract with a college or university in the area for technical assistance, Dr. Kahn told them. This may be on the order of $50,000. Also in this current fiscal year (which began July 1), the bureau may expend as much as $200,000 for "tooling up" for the operations here. This will include securing of a base of operations, contracting for and equipping planes and electronic tracking evaluating gear.

The bureau has two other sites, the principal one at the moment in Miles City, Mont., the other at Colby, Kan. If more funds become available, work at the southern anchor (Big Spring) might be accelerated substantially, Dr. Kahn indicated to Ivie and Carr.

Unacceptable Alternative

The Supreme Court left no doubt. Its unanimous decision, 9-0: States cannot demand that newspapers give political candidates free space to reply to editorial attacks.

The court was simply applying what the specific language of the Constitution says in the First Amendment.

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

The case on which the high tribunal laid down its edict last came from Florida and struck down a 61-year-old law imposing the right of a political candidate to demand and get free space to reply to critical editorials.

A Florida legislative candidate tried it and the case went up to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The court's own language hardly needs editorial embellishment.

It said the Florida law violates the First Amendment free press guarantee.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger wrote for the court:

"The choice of material to go into a newspaper, and the decisions made as to limitations on the size of the paper and content and treatment of public issues and public officials — whether fair or unfair — constitutes the exercise of editorial control and judgment."

He said the government cannot interfere with a newspaper's judgment about what it publishes. It is too little understood by the public that the only alternative to a free press in which publishers and editors, as subject to human error and frailty as they may be, make judgments about newspaper content is for the government to do it.

Be assured that the government would long since have taken that prerogative except for the barrier of the First Amendment. Then we would no longer be free.

Total Subsidy No Answer

The ultra-liberal orthodoxy that 100 per cent government subsidy is the answer to all the nation's health problems now is suddenly suspect.

In a conscientiously objective study of the impact of major health care financing proposals now before Congress, the prestigious Rand Corp. has concluded, "There is little evidence that the increased use of the preventive medical services (even of the most sophisticated nature) would have any effect on life expectancy."

Further, the report emphasized that physicians and clinics would be overwhelmed with patients — and their medical services would surely suffer — if there is no individual contribution to the health insurance plan. It suggested a substantial deductible.

While assessing the several proposals for national health insurance, Congress would do well to heed the warning implicit in the Rand report:

The quality of medical service could deteriorate, and few major benefits would be achieved, through a fully funded federal program that simply made access to all health care too easy. It might have added, besides, that somebody has to pay for the services.

Beautiful Words

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

THERE IS always a charm about the words and phrasing of a person who is writing in an unfamiliar language. It delights me to find that although they may use the wrong words, they often capture the meaning in a beautiful manner.

ONCE, WHILE doing a story about a foreign exchange student here, I was given a copy of the "autobiography" she had written. Her words and thoughts about herself and family gave me a nice feeling. Could you use a nice feeling today?

Here is her statement — just as she wrote it.

"I was born on January 8th 1956. I belong to a family of 9 persons, my father, mother, my six brothers and sisters, and myself. My father was born on June 10th 1931, and to day he is 41 years old. He graduated in Medicine, specialized in the field anesthetics. His name is Onildo Barros.

"He has an affable temper, with a good sense of humor. In the beginning of his life, he had to fight very hard, combines with a rigid education which helped him continue on not letting adversities tie him down. He is not antiquated, on the contrary, he is keeping up with the times.

"He give us a strong education, but let's free to decide and think our way, although giving us guidance in handling certain problems. He teaches us to face life with seriousness and humor at the same time.

"MY RELATIONSHIP with him isn't great, it's good, because we always have time to debate our problems and matters.

"My mother was born on October 5th 1935 which means she is 36 years old. She didn't finish her studies, due to fact that married when she was only 17 years old. However this fact didn't stop her to being a person with a certain degree of culture.

"She likes to read, to hear music and art, besides being an excellent housewife and great mother. Although she doesn't talk much with her children. Her name is Giselda Barros. She is a little introverted, maybe because a consequence of not having a sister or a friend during her childhood and a very hard education.

"My relationship with her is very good, and improving as time passes."

"IN 1953 my oldest brother was born, called Otaniel Heraldo, who we call TUCA. He is a very sensitive boy and quite good, but some times he's a bit unkind, however when this happens, he retracts his attitudes. He's now a junior in high school. He loves automobiles, whenever possible we discuss general ideas, which makes us good friend.

"IN 1955, Marcelo Benigno was born. He is generally admired by his friends because of his intelligent and his great spirit. He is only 17 years old and practices parachuting and he is very good at it. At the end of the year he is going to enter the Medical School of Pernambuco.

"In 1957, was born Arthur Barros. He is always been friendly among his friends who like him a great deal. He is intelligent and studies a lot. He has an introverted temper, but some time he becomes quite shy. Arthur likes to play and have fun in the school with his friends, but this doesn't alter his character and he is a good student. We're great friends.

"IN 1959, Giselda Tania comes, who a nicknamed LILITA. She's a great girl and although being young she know how to be have. We've got a lot of things in common, even the wish of visiting the U.S.A., which is going to be come true for her traveling in July to the States to see the Disneyworld. She is a gayful girl and plays a lot with other young friends, with of defect which is she never accuses herself she does something wrong. She is very lovely.

"In 1960 was born the most stubborn element of the family. She is very gay and looks like very much with the being of the family of my father, including the physical type. She is clever but a little bit lazy. She dreams with being able to talk English, and besides being very found of all of us she is very tender. Her name: Debora.

"In 1964 was borned the youngest that got my father's name. He also is very happy. Likes very much of war movies mainly when it goes around aviation.

"NOW, WHEN already talked about all my family, comes my turn. I have that is, I am 16 years old. I care very much for my youth and pretend to live it plenty. I have some failures and virtues nevertheless the last one aren't many. I like very much of reading and no different style and subject, so I will take a good profit concerning my relationship with my universe. My temper is expansive type however I get closed into my self when people prove that is, teases me.

"Even sometimes under a certain lassness I like to help in general. I appreciate a good chap no matter is with a child or adult. I am very careful with my looking but some times it bores me. At last, I consider myself a normal person with virtues and failures, and lives with a family very balanced."

Energy Savings At Chem Plant

TORRANCE, Calif. (AP) — This year, Dow Chemical will save almost a million kilowatt hours of electricity by realigning the electrical power distribution system at its chemical complex here. The savings are sufficient to provide electrical energy for about 135 Torrance homes.

The project will reduce energy consumption at the plant and still achieve the same level of production efficiency in the plant's operations.

No Deadlock Break

Robert Novak

MOSCOW — Behind plush outward signs of cordiality greeting President Nixon here, there is no evidence of a break in the dangerous deadlock between the weakened President and the high-riding Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev on the crucial nuclear weapons question.

INDEED, it will take something close to a miracle for Mr. Nixon and his beleaguered Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to dent, much less break, the strategic weapons impasse now confronting the U.S. with a military-psychological threat unmatched in post-war history.

That threat was clearly spelled out in Kissinger's detailed presentation to Mr. Nixon and the National Security Council (NSC) in the White House last week.

USING CHARTS to show the potential explosion in numbers of Soviet long-range missile warheads starting in 1975, Kissinger's top-secret briefing posed this deadly threat: if Moscow moves ahead full speed to maximize production and deployment of its newly-tested cluster missiles (capable of carrying between 3 and 8 individually-targeted warheads or MIRVs on a single missile), the U.S. could find itself on the short end of a 6 to 1 Soviet Lead in simultaneously launchable intercontinental warheads.

ANY SUCH frightening Soviet decision to "de-stabilize" the balance of offensive nuclear power agreed to in the 1972 "interim agreement" might conceivably mean its abrogating the agreement itself in 1975, two years before it runs out. The immense political and psychological advantages that would accrue to Moscow if it did decide to maximize its new technology by deploying its giant MIRV-able missiles (the SS-17, 18 and 19) as fast as possible are causing deepest concern.

MOREOVER, KISSINGER'S strenuous efforts to convince Brezhnev and Co. that the mere threat of this potential imbalance is unacceptable to the U.S. have failed. Although Kissinger told the NCS that Brezhnev may now be "intellectually prepared" to understand the absolute necessity of a ceiling on MIRV deployment, there is no guarantee Moscow will play along.

The very minimum deal, according to high American officials, would be agreement by Moscow limiting deployment of the giant new missiles to a maximum of 70 to 80 launchers a year, starting next year. As computed by Pentagon strategists, the maximum deployment rate could run higher than 200 a year. These would, of course, replace the existing generation of Soviet missile launchers with their single warheads.

The arithmetic is staggering. At maximum production and deployment rates, the Russians could deploy no fewer than 23,000 warheads or RV (re-entry vehicles) on MIRV missiles if each warhead were arbitrarily limited to an explosive force of 40 kilotons. At the same 40-kiloton payload, the U.S. by contrast would have only 4,500 warheads on its own far less powerful MIRVs.

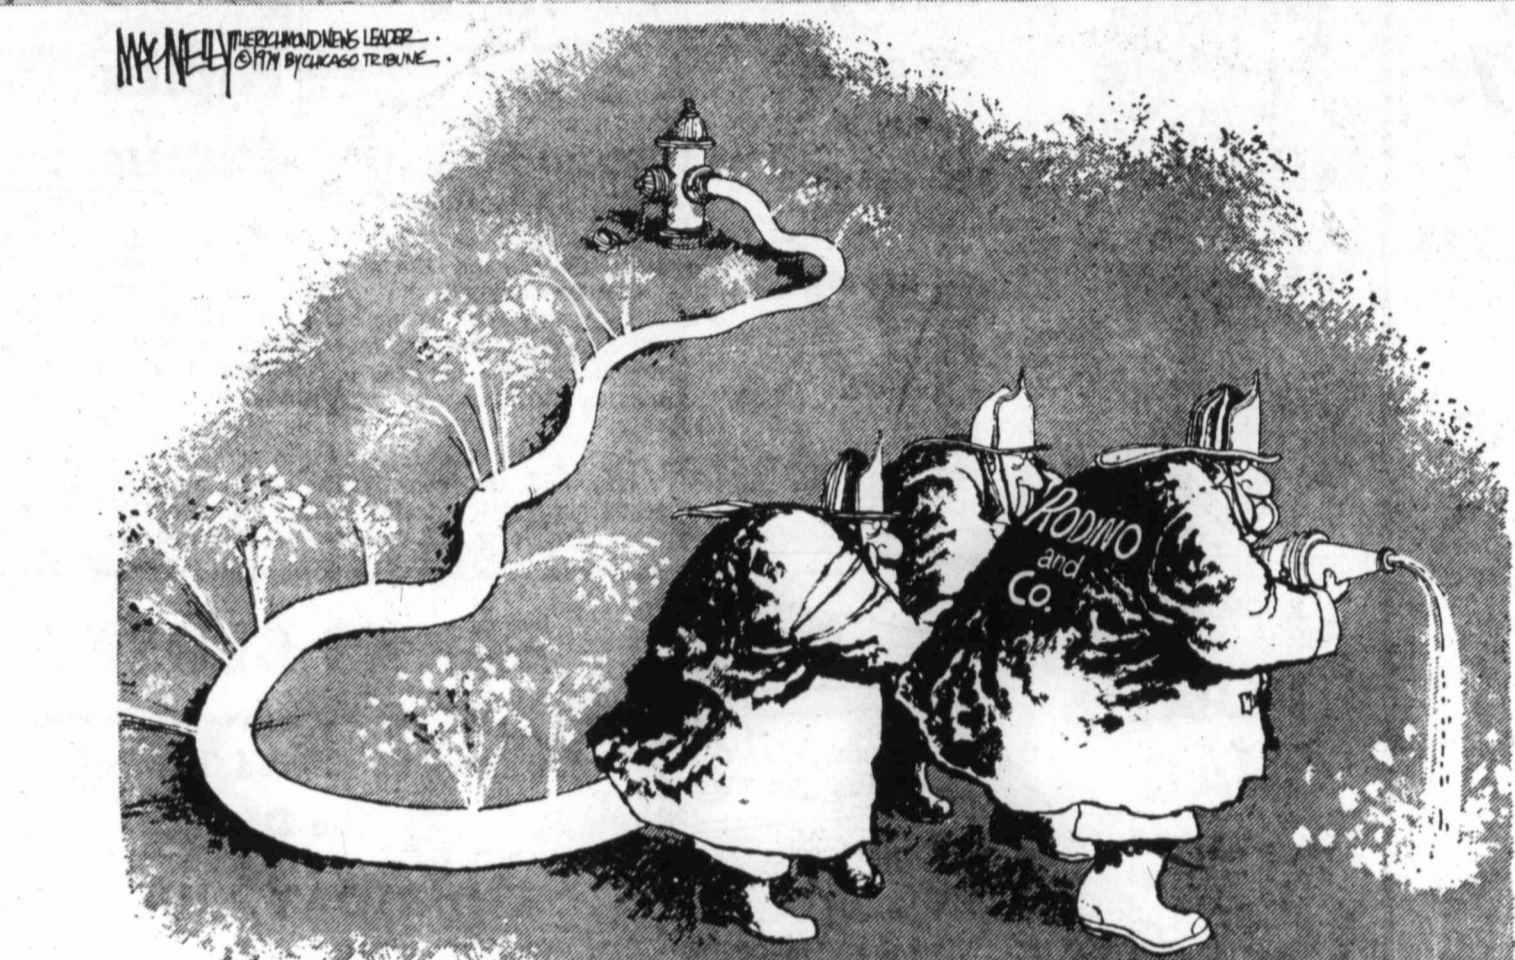

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Can you explain why God seems to bless bad girls, and turn His back on good girls? I've gone to church faithfully, tried to act like a Christian lady — thinking maybe God would bring a boy into my life. But He didn't. I see others getting married though, who have few if any scruples. It's not right.

A.R. As to your opening question, I can't explain it because it's not true. First of all, there are certain blessings of God showered on the bad and good alike. (Matthew 5:45.) That's because God is love. Secondly, God always rewards the good. That was Abraham's discovery in Genesis 18 after he asked, "Shall not the judge of all the earth do right?" Jesus said that even the good act of a cup of cold water in His name would not lose its reward. (Matthew 10:42.)

But some other ideas in your letter lead me to suspect you have become sour and cynical. Could it be that in a sterile sort of self-righteousness, you have become unattractive to men? Don't blame God for the lack of dates when perhaps you have not paid enough attention to being winsome. By definition, a true Christian lady is attractive.

I would ask God for direction in this matter of dating. I would earnestly seek His will for life. But beyond that, I would see to it that my social calendar was crammed full of opportunities to meet others.

Time Brings Big Changes

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Once upon a time corporate management took the position that its job was to run the company well and that the price of the stock would take care of itself.

Merchandising and marketing were left to the brokers, who in theory provided each well-managed company with a sales force in the person of registered stock representatives. Corporate officers remained in the background.

The maxim probably worked during bull markets, when stocks were bought rather than sold, when brokers had more business than they could handle, when there were more active investors than there are now.

But nobody can deny that something has happened to the old setup when so many listed stocks are selling just above book value, and the price-earnings ratios — or number of times earnings a buyer is willing to pay — is down to 3 and 4 from 14 or 15.

For one thing, the depressed condition of the stock market has forced many companies into borrowing extensively, helping to send interest rates rocketing. With debt financing becoming so costly, some corporate managers are re-examining the equity market to see what can be done.

One suggestion that has received more consideration within industry than from the general public was offered by John

C. Whitehead, partner in Goldman, Sachs & Co., and chairman of the Securities Industry Association.

Speaking in his association role, Whitehead insists that "management must begin to assume more responsibility for building stockholder interest in their company's securities."

The bulk of his suggestions were delivered a few weeks ago to the American Society of Corporate Secretaries, most of them in the form of questions.

"What is there about your company's stock that should appeal to an investor? Why is your industry an attractive one to invest in? Why is your company uniquely attractive?"

Rarely have investors heard of a company coming directly to investors with the vital answers to such investment questions.

"If each publicly owned company would spend just one per cent of the time and money it now spends merchandising its own products on merchandising the concept of stock ownership, we would go a long way to reinvigorate our free market system," Whitehead said.

Road Atlas Turns Golden

NEW YORK (AP) — The first annual road atlas of the United States was published by Rand McNally 50 years ago, in 1924. To celebrate this half-century milestone, the veteran road map publisher is issuing a golden anniversary edition of the road atlas for 1974, back-to-back with a facsimile of its 1926 road atlas — the earliest of Rand McNally's road atlases known still to exist.

No copies of the original 1924 atlas could be found even after an extensive search of the country.

Ulcers That Don't Heal

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife has a bad recurrent ulcer on her ankle. She also has varicose veins. The doctor told her to put ointment on it and "strap it up." She also has been told she needs to have her veins "stripped" by surgery. She is supposed to keep off her feet but she doesn't do it.

What does "stripping" veins in her legs mean, and what does it involve? Are her veins responsible for her unhealable recurrent ulcer on her ankle? Is such an operation serious? — R.W.

I don't know why, but for some reason it seems almost impossible to get across to people the idea that "ulcers that won't heal" on the lower legs are almost without exception the result of impaired circulation — and except in the elderly, varicose veins are the most frequent cause of this impaired circulation. (Even in the elderly, varicose veins often are the root cause, although there can be other causes.) The point is this: valves in some veins of the legs can fail, and instead of the blood being raised through those veins, it stagnates there, the veins swell and become "varicose," and the net result is a reduction in circulation through the legs.

If these varicose veins are removed (stripped), then other veins, deeper in the legs, are forced to take over the job, and circulation improves. The congestion caused by that more or less stagnant blood in the varicose veins is relieved.

"Stripping" a varicose vein involves a small incision at the top and the bottom of the vein, after which the vein is drawn out lengthwise, and only very small scars remain afterward. Your wife, it seems, is determined not to take any of the good advice offered to her — the most important advice being to have the veins stripped — removed. Good advice is no help if she doesn't take it. If you are still puzzled as to just how the faulty valves cause varicose veins, and what needs to be done, I suggest you send 25 cents (care of the Big Spring Herald) and a long, stamped, self-addressed, envelope for a copy of my booklet, "How to Deal with Varicose Veins."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: On hot nights when my husband perspires the sheets and pillow cases have a yellow tinge in the morning, even if he has taken a bath before going to bed. He is 68, has had a physical and is in good health. What could cause this? — Mrs. A. S.

Colored sweat is a rare but not unknown phenomenon. It usually is related to some bacteria or fungus on the skin, or can be caused by metal dust to which someone has been exposed.

Frequent bathing is about all I can suggest, but using an antiseptic soap may be the answer if bacteria are involved.

Wallace's Wooing

William F. Buckley Jr.

I have a communication from Governor George Wallace, which is addressed safely to the generic scale, "Dear Fellow American." In other words, the identical salutation could have been used to address Mrs. Martin Luther King, or the Boston strangler. We are all Fellow Americans.

BUT FELLOW WALLACE supporters? The mailing wants to find out. When he was running for President in 1968 and again in 1972, George Wallace used to say — remember? — that there wasn't a dime's worth of difference between the policies of the two parties. This point he stopped stressing when the Democrats nominated George McGovern in Miami. It would have strained even his credibility, because everyone knew that there was at least a dime's worth of difference between Nixon and McGovern, in fact some economic statisticians put the difference at about a hundred billion dollars per year.

But now George Wallace is back, talking about the issues, and obviously it is his point that once again the Republicans and the Democrats are not easily distinguishable. He begins this letter — which, by the way, is a fund-raising letter — by asking his Fellow Americans to cast a straw ballot. "If the election were being held today who would you vote for: George McGovern, Richard Nixon, or George Wallace?"

BUT AFTER THE STRAW poll, Wallace lists five positions he feels strongly about. He plans, he says, to speak out on these five issues among others, preparatory to deciding whether to run for President in 1976. Here they are:

"1. I am concerned that in less than 10 years America went from clear military superiority over the Communists to now being militarily weaker than the Communists." This Fellow American shares Mr. Wallace's concern.

"2. I am concerned that most politicians in Washington want to take a lot of your money and give a guaranteed income to people even if they are healthy and refuse to work." The formulation is a semanticist's delight, but if I had to vote yes or no even on the phony formulations, I'd vote on Wallace's side.

"3. I don't want the Democratic Party to repeat what it did in the 1972 Presidential campaign." That's a tough one for us Republicans. Strict honesty would require me to say that I wished the Democrats would nominate Bella Abzug.

"4. Inflation has been eating up your paycheck because the federal spending has doubled in the last five years." That is a kind of fundamentalist synopsis of what happened during the last five years, but — once again — given the alternatives I'd have to vote for Wallace, even as I'd have voted for William Jennings Bryan against Clarence Darrow.

Finally, "5. The politicians and political leaders have done nothing to stop busing even though the people's message is clearly against busing." Here Wallace is quietly lowering the collar of his sweatshirt, just enough to show the old tattoo. And it works. And it works for very good reasons. The American people — if you don't count Garry Wills, which is the safest exception — pretty well agree that opposition to busing is not a race-animating position, though this does not, obviously, mean that no racists oppose busing.

Delegates Hope To Finish Work, Take July 4 Holiday

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Constitutional Convention delegates hope to finish work today on the last article, general provisions, and quit until sometime next week, when they will begin voting on the entire document.

The convention took a scant three hours Monday to approve 20 of the 24 sections of the general provisions article.

BINGO TEST
The only reasonably close vote came on an amendment by Rep. Richard Reynolds, R-Richardson, who urged the convention to take out "bingo and raffles" in an anti-gambling section that allows the legislature to make an exception of church bingo.

Disease Threatens Asbestos Workers

DALLAS (AP) — A long range study of lung disease that doctors say may eventually kill nearly 300 former workers at an East Texas asbestos plant has been approved by the National Cancer Institute.

The Institute is expected to formally announce the contract with the Texas Chest Foundation and East Texas Chest Hospital later this week in Washington.

$472,000 CONTRACT
Under the initial $472,000, two-year contract, the hospital will look for lung cancer or other related diseases in 869 former employees of the now-closed Pittsburgh-Corning Corp. asbestos plant at Tyler, Tex. The study could be extended up to five years if needed.

The asbestos plant closed Feb. 5, 1972, after 19 years of operation, when Pittsburgh-Corning said it would be too expensive to reduce the amount of asbestos dust in the plant.

Dr. Irving Selikoff of the Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York has estimated that one-third of the Tyler workers will die early: 150 from lung cancer, 50 from mesothelioma, 45 from cancer of the colon, rectum or stomach, and 50 from asbestosis.

LUNG CANCER
Asbestosis, a scarring of the lungs caused by prolonged exposure to gray-black asbestos dust, is a common ailment among asbestos workers. Though not necessary fatal, as-

Contagious V.D.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I just read the most horrifying article in the Wall Street Journal headlined: "Painful Puzzle: Viral V.D. Is Contagious and Doesn't Go Away." Then it described the horrors of Herpes 2, a genital-area virus which manifests itself in painful lesions, akin to facial "cold sores."

The article stated that Herpes 2 is approaching gonorrhea as the next most prevalent venereal disease, is highly contagious, can be contracted by males, results in infant mortality and cervical cancer and, once contracted, can never be cured and will recur sporadically!

Abby, I am a woman who has suffered from Herpes 2 since 1967, and never once has my physician evinced the least concern over it. He prescribed only symptomatic relief remedies and vitamin C, and said, "Let it run its course."

Since my boyfriend saw the article, he's been treating me like I have leprosy.

Please consult with your experts and let us thousands of Herpes sufferers know if the medical world concurs with this article's evaluation.

SIGN ME,

HERPES HANNAH

DEAR HANNAH: While the article is understandably alarming, it does not necessarily follow that all the facts concerning Herpes 2 apply to you. If your doctor is not investigating the new developments in the study of Herpes 2, find one who is, and make an appointment for two examinations (one for you and one for your boyfriend). And don't hesitate to ask the doctor any and all questions concerning the disease.

DEAR ABBY: A wife wrote to say she had found a pair of nylon panties in her husband's pickup truck, and you jumped to the conclusion that some gal friend had left them there.

You overlooked something, Abby. Those panties could have been her husband's!

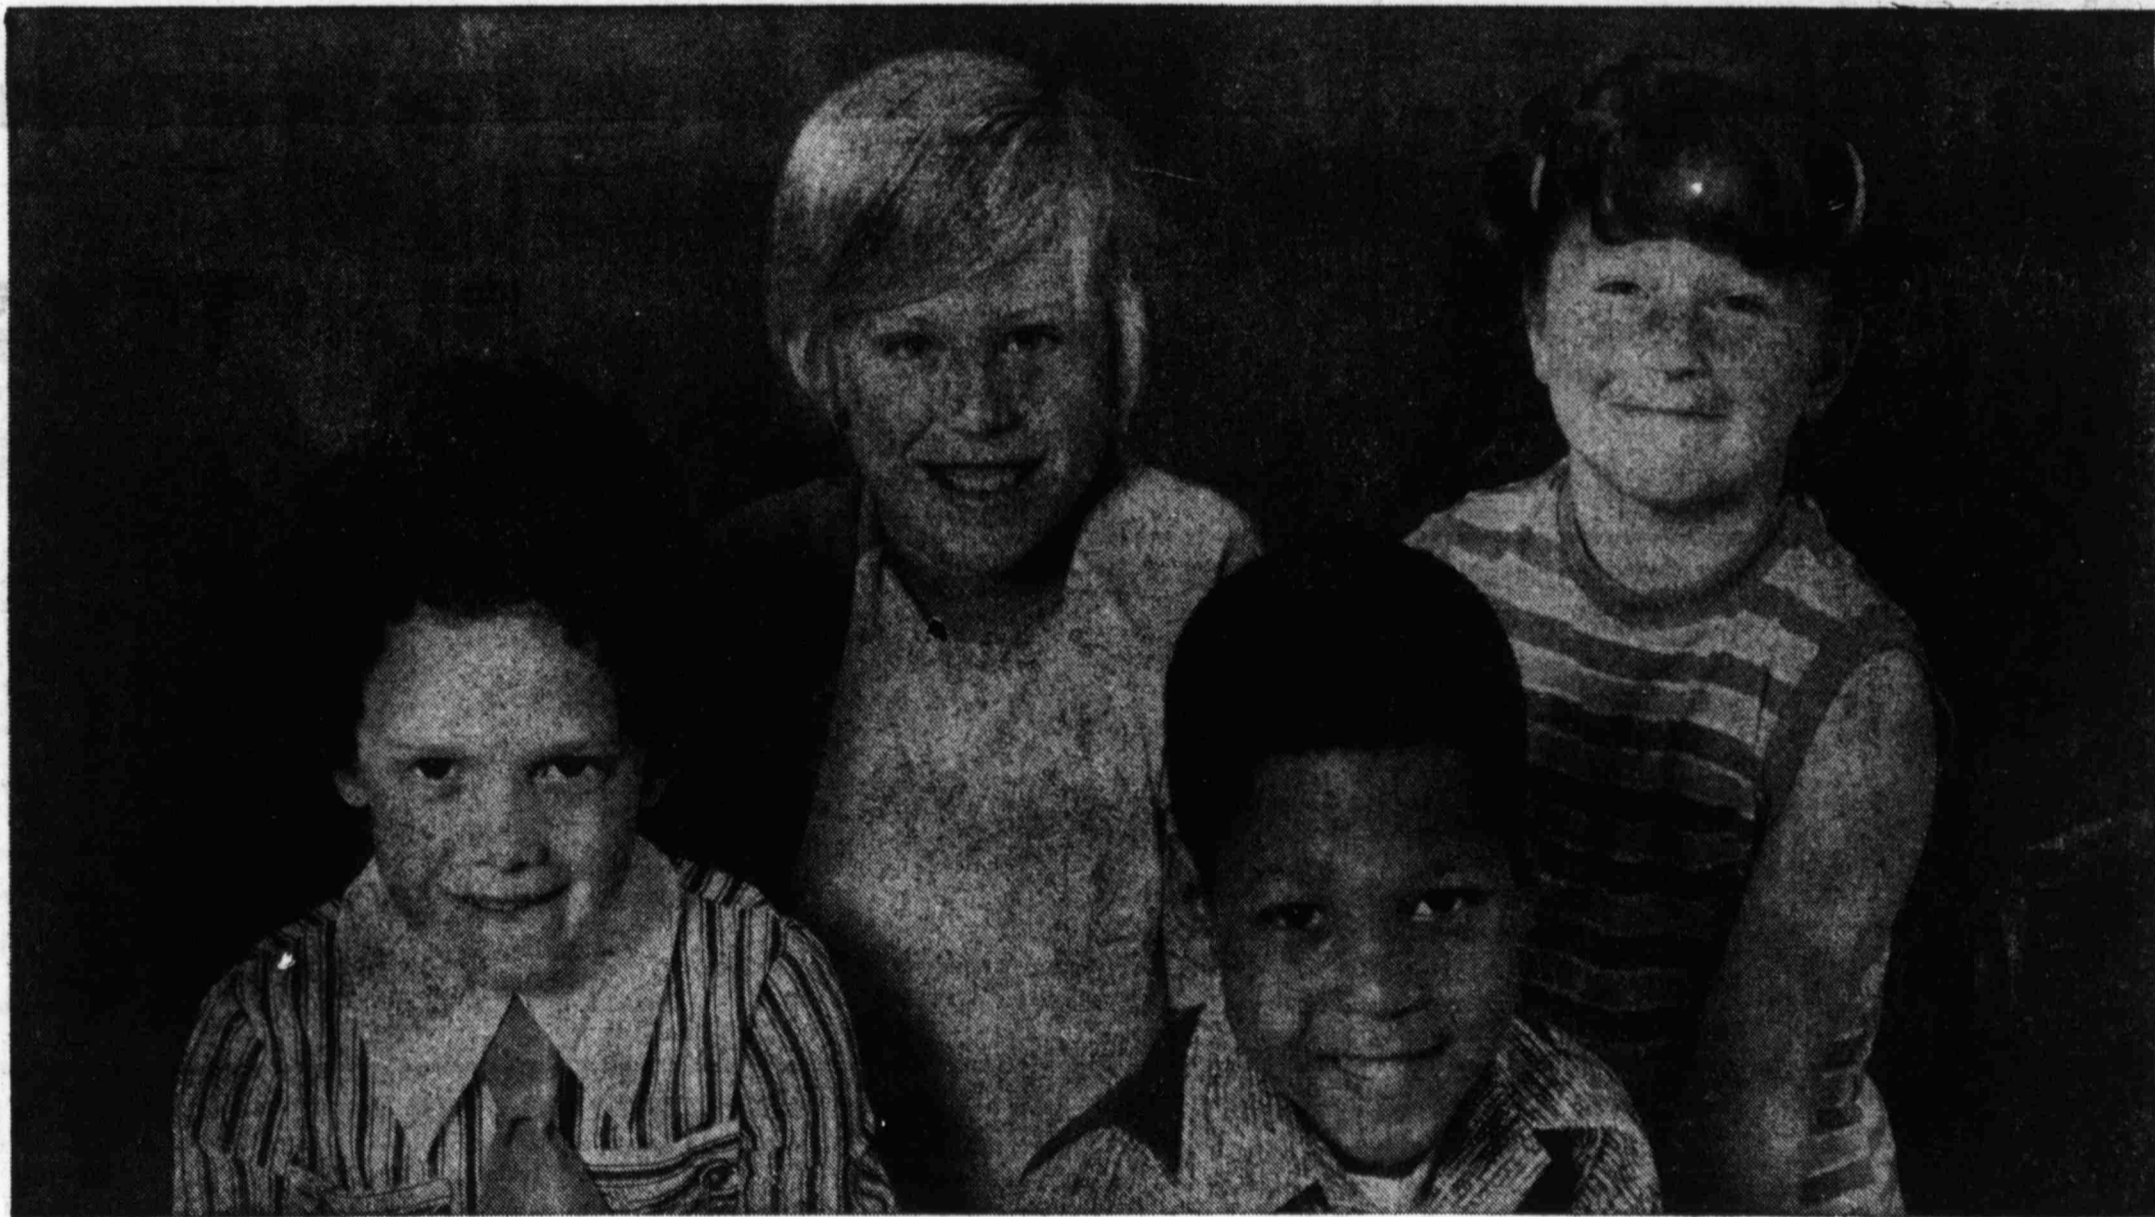

There are lots of men who like the feel of smooth, soft undies next to their bodies. And don't get the idea that they aren't all men because they are. I know. I've been on the police force for 16 years, and before that I was with the U.S. Marines, and I'm one of those men. I'm also a husband and father of six.

So, Dear Abby, did you ever consider the possibility that there was no lady in the picture?

WEAR PANTIES (WHEN I GET THE CHANCE)

DEAR WEARS: No, I didn't. But you wouldn't believe the number of your "brothers" who wrote to suggest it.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212.

We don't intend to leave the next generation with a generation gap.

In the years ahead, these youngsters will need enough electricity for their homes, jobs, schools and hospitals — and to take care of the environment.

At the same time, the availability of the basic fuels used to run our generating plants — natural gas and oil — will continue to decline.

That's why at Texas Electric we're starting to use other fuels, to decrease our dependence on natural gas and oil.

We're already adding lignite coal plants to our system. And we're planning a nuclear plant near Glen Rose for the 1980's.

These new plants will cost a lot more than gas-fired plants. But the advantage of using lignite and nuclear fuels is that neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity.

And even though it will cost more to provide electricity in the future, the cost will be less with lignite and nuclear fuels than with natural gas and oil — even if we could get the new supplies we would need.

We're continuing the orderly development of our power system, because we don't intend to leave the next generation with a generation gap.

We guarantee dividends

Zack's Has Been Local Firm For Many Years

Bus Wreck Fatal
MEXICO CITY (AP) — At least 29 persons were killed and more than 40 injured Saturday when a crowded suburban bus slammed into the side of a hill near here, the Red Cross said.

NEWEST IN FASHION — Jim Zack, co-owner of Zack's, Inc., located at Sixth and Main Streets, displays some of the handsome new Indian jewelry stocked by the local concern. The best in women's clothes are stocked by the long-time Big Spring business establishment.

Zack's, Inc., located at Sixth and Main Streets, has been catering to its customers for 33 years. The firm, owned by Jim and Clara Zack and Susan Zack Lewis, was founded in 1941 and now has seven fulltime employees. Among those are Bert Wall, Betty Arnold and Mary Greenwood, who can look back on years of service to the firm. Zack's has always specialized in ladies' dresses, sportswear and lingerie and recently added as an item Indian jewelry. In order to keep abreast of fashions, Zack's buyers go to market in Dallas and Los Angeles about five times a year. The Zacks originally took up residence here after they were married in New York. Her parents resided here at the time and Jim and Clara decided they liked West Texas after visiting here. The concern opens at 10 a.m., and closes at 5:30 p.m., daily. It closes for all holidays. Business telephone number of Zack's is 267-6711.

Fighting To Keep Her Job After Posing Nude

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Barbie Lewandowski, a blonde and snappily grade school teachers aide, is fighting to save her job after posing nude for her centerfold of a men's magazine.

"As far as I am concerned she is through," said William Knapp, superintendent of the suburban Greendale school where Miss Lewandowski has corrected papers and done odd jobs for seventh and eighth grade teachers for the last two years.

DIDN'T QUIT
But Miss Lewandowski, 25, who for $2,000 struck 18 nude poses for her 37-25-37 figure published in this month's Penthouse magazine, says she will go to court if necessary to keep her job.

"Dr. Knapp says I quit, but I didn't," she said Monday. "I went in to talk to him last week and said I might quit if I thought it would be impossible for me to do my job this fall, but we just left it up in the air."

Knapp, who said he has seen the photos but has no personal feeling about Miss Lewandowski's job, insists she quit. "She resigned. That's it," he said.

"That's not true. He is very much against me because of this," countered Miss Lewandowski, who uses the name Barbie Lewis for her part-time modeling.

publication of her picture in the buff will affect her ability to do her job.

SAME OLD ME
"I'm still the same old me," she said. "I can still goof around with the kids and everything just like I used to. I think 13-year-old kids can accept this. Besides, most of them will probably never see the picture unless their mothers get upset about it."

She added, "If they saw the magazine, they would have learned a course in sex education."

Some mothers apparently have been complaining, she conceded, although she said she said she does not believe has had no direct adverse comments about the photos from anyone except Knapp. Greendale principal Donald Baumgart suggested it might be better for Miss Lewandowski to look for other work.

"I'd guess that if the magazine got into the hands of the kids, it would be somewhat embarrassing for her," he said. "I think it might bother some of the kids and affect their demeanor in school."

"They just can't do this to me," she said. "If a little kid would come up to me this fall and say he saw my picture in the nude, I would just tell him that's fine, now let's get back to work."

FIRED FOR POSING — Barbie Lewandowski brightens an old park bench outside her apartment in suburban Greendale, Wis., Monday as she discusses the possible loss of her job as a teacher's aide. Barbie, who posed in the nude for the current edition of Penthouse magazine, says she has been discharged because of her modeling activities. But her school superintendent, William Knapp, insists she quit. The 25-year-old 37-25-37 blonde intends to go to court if necessary to keep the job.

The bidding:
 South West North East
 1♥ Pass 2♥ 2♠
 3♥ Pass Pass Pass
 Opening lead: Nine of ♠

There are many subtleties to the play of the cards on defense. Even an expert can overlook a critical consideration, as this deal from a team match dramatically illustrates.

At both tables, a competitive auction ended with South as declarer at a contract of three hearts. Since East had bid spades during the auction, at both tables the nine of spades was led. At one table, East won the first trick with the king of spades and shifted to the ten of diamonds. This presented West with a considerable problem.

If the ten of diamonds was singleton, obviously the correct defense was to win the ace and return the queen, so that East could ruff away dummy's king. However, if East held a doubleton diamond and West took the diamond trick, West elected to play low, and that was that. Dummy's king won, trumps were drawn and when East gained the lead with the ace of clubs, he did not have another diamond to reach partner's established trick. Declarer was able to get two diamond discards—one on a spade and the other on a club.

Sitting East at the other table was Eddie Kantar of Los Angeles, one of the U. S.'s best known player-writers. He came up with a superior defense that left his partner in no doubt whatsoever. Instead of winning the first trick with the king of spades, he made the abnormal play of the ace! Now, when he shifted to the ten of diamonds, West was presented with a different picture of the hand. It seemed that declarer had the king of spades, so there was no reason to duck the diamond—that would present declarer with an immediate discard. So he won the ace of diamonds and continued with the queen. Declarer covered with dummy's king and East ruffed. The king of spades and the ace of clubs brought the defenders' total to five—more than declarer could afford to surrender.

Park Ranger Shot To Death

CANYON — A Sweetwater youth employed as a summer park ranger was found shot to death early Monday in Palo Duro Canyon near here.

He was Jack Richards Carson, 21, a Texas Tech University student. His body was found in his mobile home residence near the park entrance.

Canyon Justice of the Peace W. A. Wilson ruled the death due to a single .22-caliber gunshot wound in the head, but withheld a final ruling in the case pending a complete investigation.

Services for Carson are being arranged with McCoy Funeral Home in Sweetwater.

Born Jan. 25, 1953 at Sweetwater, he was a senior at Texas Tech. He was active in the Curtain Club and on the student council and Pony Express staff, and was a member of the Episcopal Church.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Carson of Sweetwater; and two brothers, James Carson of Grand Prairie and Dru Carson of Sweetwater.

You Just Have To Give Her Up, Suitor Warned

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — A Superior Court judge has told a young man that his pursuit of a woman who has spurned his attentions is "folly" and to leave her alone.

"No matter how beautiful this woman may be, you just have to give her up," Judge Bill Doster told Michael Vigil as he issued a preliminary injunction Monday against Vigil.

The young suitor waged a determined campaign for Debra Gonsalves with flowers, telephone calls and a diamond ring.

Miss Gonsalves testified in San Joaquin County Superior Court that she met Vigil in September 1972 where both worked at a pipe manufacturing plant.

He telephoned her at least 30 times a week, sent her flowers and gifts, proposed marriage several times and offered her a diamond ring, she said.

Miss Gonsalves testified that she asked sheriff's deputies to make him cease, but Vigil was undeterred and even lost his job because he was distracted from his work.

Doster said Vigil could go to jail for 30 days if he violates the injunction. Both Vigil and Miss Gonsalves are in their early 20s.

Marlow Once A Railroder

NEW YORK (AP)—Most top TV newsmen gravitate to television from newspapers, magazines or radio. Not Jess Marlow. He gravitated 16 years ago from the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad.
Now a top-rated anchorman at KNBC in Los Angeles, this genial, easy-going son of Salem, Ill., worked his way through the University of Illinois by pounding a telegraph key for the railroad at night.
One of seven newsmen NBC is considering as a permanent "Today" replacement for the late Frank McGee, he was hired right out of college in 1958 as an anchorman-reporter for WHBF-TV in Rock Island, Ill.
I've seen him at work in Los Angeles, and for my dough he's one of the most unflappable, professional guys in TV news today. But he's the first to tell you his opening WHBF newscast was fraught with fright.
"I considered feigning illness," said Marlow, who'd taken a 90-day leave of absence from his railroad job to try out at the station. "During a commercial break, I honestly considered crawling under the desk."
"It was the most terrifying experience I'd ever known. I thought, 'I've prepared for this for years and I've made an awful mistake.'"

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) - Federal investigators refuse to comment on a report that they knew the Symbionese Liberation Army was involved within a day after Patricia Hearst was kidnapped.
They also refuse to confirm or deny reports that within 24 hours a witness positively identified SLA leader Donald DeFreeze as one of the men who dragged the screaming Miss Hearst from her apartment on Feb. 4.
Knowledge of SLA involvement was not made public until Feb. 7 when the terrorist group released a letter claiming responsibility for the abduction.
Charles Bates, special FBI agent in charge of the case in San Francisco, declined to comment on the published report that police found a box of cyanide-packed bullets - an SLA trademark - in Miss Hearst's apartment the day after the kidnapping.
"I will only confirm that we have found many, many pieces of evidence in this case, including bullets, guns and clothing," Bates said Monday.
But Berkeley Police Capt. Thomas Johnson confirmed that a box containing 25 hollow-out rounds of 8mm bullets stuffed with the deadly poison were discovered under a bookcase in the apartment during the search Feb. 5.
The SLA had boasted in communications to the press that it used cyanide bullets to assassinate Oakland schools superintendent Marcus Foster on Nov. 6, 1973.

YOUTH PICKED UP AFTER COMPLAINT
A 16-year-old juvenile was arrested Monday in connection with the attempted house burglary last week of the Patsy Wade residence.
Miss Wade came face to face with the burglar in her home, screamed and fled. The youth has been turned over to the police juvenile department.
Lt. Jim McCain, head of the juvenile department, said two 15 year olds have also been taken into custody in connection with a motorcycle theft and vandalism.

MIDLAND MAN IS HIT BY CHARGE
MIDLAND - A 24-year-old Midland restaurant manager, Leslie Wayne Smith, has been charged with armed robbery in connection with the June 16 holdup of a drive-in grocery store here.
Five witnesses identified Smith as one of two men who robbed the store of $55, held the clerk, Mrs. Euzelle Hines, a prisoner in the restroom of the store while waiting on customers 45 minutes before departing.
The June 16 robbery was the second within a week of the store.

THEFTS

COOL JOHN - Hot July finds 64-year-old John Jefferson pedaling seasonally larger loads of relief through downtown Louisville, Ky. An iceman for 35 years, "Cool John" is one of only about a dozen who still deliver ice on routes in the city, to shouts of "Hey, Cool Daddy," from kids on the street.

Woman Chained, Pleas Ignored

CHICAGO (AP) — A woman lawyer, her neck bleeding after she was struck with a heavy chain, screamed for help as she peddled her bicycle after her attacker. For more than a mile people watched but ignored her pleas.

Judy Widmer, 25, said she was on her way home from her law clerk job when a man hit her with a heavy chain as she rode through a pedestrian underpass in Lincoln Park, on Chicago's North Side.

"He looked at me with a super-vicious killer look as I passed him, then he let the chain go," Miss Widmer, who received 10 stitches in her neck, said later.

But she held onto her bike and yelled at a nearby male cyclist to help her. She said he ignored her.

Her attacker ran. She chased him on her bicycle. She said she repeatedly called out for help. But every one she passed in the crowded park ignored her, she said.

Joggers. Other bicyclists. A man reading a newspaper. A bus full of people. Guards taking down the flag at the Chicago Historical Society. A woman emptying her garbage. She said they all watched—only watched.

Finally Tom McNamara, 30, a candidate for state representative, responded. He was on his way to play tennis when he saw Miss Widmer.

"I couldn't believe how bloody she was," he said. McNamara and an unidentified man chased the alleged attacker, stopped him and held him until the police arrived.

David Parker, 20, of Chicago, was charged with attempted theft, aggravated battery and assault in the Friday incident.

Good Attendance Noted In Program

As the Citywide Summer Recreation program moves into its second month, attendance is holding well, Pat Owens, director, reported today.

Last week the Comanche Trail Park attendance dipped slightly to 336 for the week, but at Lakeview, the turnout bounced back to 518.

Closing Arguments Due In Bird Murder Trial

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Closing arguments were scheduled to begin today in the murder trial of a Corpus Christi man accused in the robbery-slaying of a Harlingen area gun collector.

Jerry Joe Bird, 36, is charged in the January 11 shooting death of Victor H. Trammell, 65, who kept an antique gun collection valued at at least $50,000 in two safes at his farm house.

$50,000 BOND

A second defendant, Emmett Leroy Korges, 39, also of Corpus Christi is free on $50,000 bond and is to be tried later.

Cameron County Dist. Atty. Fred Galindo has permission from District Court Judge Darrell Hester to call one additional witness today. Galindo said he may call Ed Tarpley, identified as the owner of a Corpus Christi storage locker.

Judge Hester has indicated each side will be allowed about two hours for closing arguments. The judge instructed the six men and six women jurors to bring toilet articles and clothing for a two-day stay, advising them that they will be sequestered from the start of closing arguments through the end of the trial.

UNABLE TO TRACE

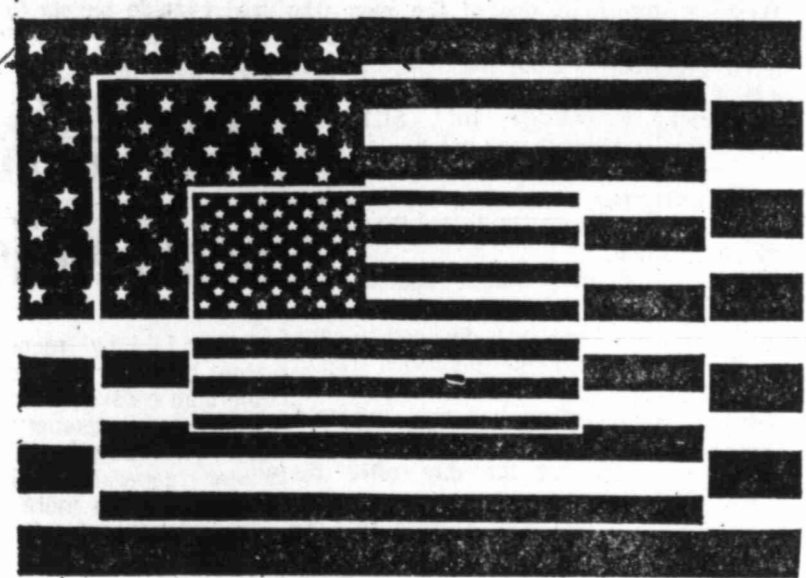

Defense lawyer Douglas Tinker of Corpus Christi rested his case Monday after presenting only three witnesses. He called Mrs. Jo Ellen Trammell, the victim's widow, to the stand for brief questioning. Tinker also called Elizabeth Williams of the Cameron County sheriff's office and special agent Kenneth Ross of the U.S. Treasury Department.

Ross testified that he was unable to trace the ownership of the .22 caliber pistol found in the burned ruins of the Trammell home beyond James Montgomery, a Lake Charles, La., gun dealer. Ross said the Louisiana man told officers records concerning the sale of the pistol were stolen in 1971.

Mrs. Trammell and Miss Williams testified briefly about the description of Korges. Mrs. Trammell said he had a dark complexion.
