FOR ONE, DEATH SWIFTER THAN JUSTICE

Ten Murder Cases Pending In 118th District Court

By JOHN EDWARDS
Death was swifter than justice for Abraham F. Lopez, who pleaded innocent to murder. His case never went to trial.
Lopez was charged with the Feb., 1970, shooting of Severo Arispe.
4 RECENT KILLINGS
Now, Jimmy Padilla Yanez, 25, is accused of shooting Lopez on Nov. 1, 1973. Lopez died 11 days later.
Including one murder case yet to be presented to the grand jury, there are 10 murder cases pending before Howard County's 118th District Court.

District Judge Ralph W. Caton and District Attorney Bob Moore also serve Martin and Glascock Counties, whose caseloads are much lighter than Howard County's.
Of the ten Howard County killings, four happened after Moore took office on Jan. 1, 1972.

"I'm not going to dismiss any of those murder cases," Moore said. "I've just got it (the legacy of pending cases), and I'll do the best I can with it."
STATS VIEWED
Caton said, "I think it's a very small amount compared to the total docket."
Moore defended his record as district attorney pointing to the number of convictions.

As of the end of May, 80 criminal cases in district court had been disposed of this year. Guilty pleas were entered in 68 cases, and 11 cases were dismissed during the five months.
On Jan. 1, the criminal docket here showed 212 cases pending. At the end of May, the total pending was 183. These totals do not include cases in which defendants have been charged with felonies but not yet indicted.

During the five months, Caton revoked probation being served by four defendants. In June, he revoked probation being served by a fifth defendant.
Altogether, during the first five months, 10 persons were ordered to prison for a variety of offenses.
Court-appointed attorneys for defendants signing pauper's oaths cost the county $3,960 during the first five months of 1974.
Caton selects the attorneys and sets the fees. The district judge usually orders the legal minimum paid in connection with guilty pleas.
"I'd say 95 per cent of them are $50, which is the minimum," Moore said.
The one criminal case decided by jury during the five months was over an uncontested plea of insanity in connection with a robbery.
While the court and district attorney have been efficient in handling guilty pleas, little action has been taken in connection with murders, a criminal case frequently tried before a jury rather than just a judge.
ONE MURDER CONVICTION
But Moore obtained his one murder conviction through a guilty plea entered in court without a jury. Robert Lee (Little Brother) Phillips, 39, was sentenced to 10 years in prison for the shooting of Earsie Miller May 8, 1973.
James A. Schaffer, 40, has been charged but not yet indicted for the May 4 killing of his wife, Sandra, 35. He has remained in county jail in lieu of posting $50,000 bond since hours after the incident.
So many defendants have waived indictment and pleaded guilty, this is one of few criminal complaints being held for grand jury consideration.
INDICTED, NOT TRIED
The following murder cases remain officially pending in 118th District Court:
Served with a true bill for the barroom shooting of Danny Wilcox in Sept., 1973, Grady Rhone said "not guilty."
Looking farther back, you will find a red-jacketed murder indictment against Calvin Lee Camp. Camp is accused of shooting Tom Peralis Romero in May, 1970.
CONFESSED
Dorothy Lynn Hicks, 22, is the defendant in the unresolved case stemming from the shooting of Joe Willis Winters in March, 1972.
"Came to the station and turned herself in," the police report stated. "Gave gun to dispatcher and said that she had shot a man."
Last recorded court action in the Joe Rangel Trevino murder (See TEN, Pg. 2-A, Col. 8)

Jaworski: Watergate Is Dark, Tragic Episode

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Watergate special prosecutor Leon Jaworski said today, "There already have been enough public admissions of wrongdoing to make what is known as Watergate a dark and tragic episode in the lustrous history of this nation."
Jaworski said he was making his statement "without pointing the finger of guilt at anyone."
His remarks were prepared for a luncheon of state junior bar members attending the annual convention of the State Bar of Texas.
Jaworski said, "It is not the first ignominy our nation has had to bear although its dimensions are of particularly unusual proportions."

Referring to his speech occurring on Independence Day, he said, "Let us hope on this date we proudly observe that there never will be another such calamitous burden to shoulder in our affairs of government. And the greatest assurance against repetition is the rampart of strict adherence to the judicial process."
He referred to statements of former presidential adviser Charles Colson at Colson's sentencing, commenting that what Colson said "is more meaningful, much more significant than any message I could impart to you today."

He then read Colson's remarks that "We cannot accept the principle that men in high government office can act in disregard of even one individual citizen" and that it is possible out of "the agonies of Watergate to bring about important changes in our political process."
Jaworski said, "The abundance of communication the special prosecutor receives from individuals reveals a healthy citizen interest in the process of justice."
Jaworski also said, "It is true that now and then we find a failure in some of the communications, as well as in the observations of columnists, to understand the nature of our problem."
He added, "If we are free to explain, we do. But often we experience the frustration of not being able to enlighten critics because of the confidentiality of our efforts and the responsibility of not commenting to avoid adversely and unfairly affecting the rights of individuals under investigation and some who are awaiting trial."

Fool's Gold Is Foreseen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conservatives are elated that private citizens may be able to buy gold soon for the first time since 1934, but some members of Congress warn that gold may make fools of investors.
The private ownership of gold was added to law by conservatives to vote for a bill authorizing $1.5 billion for the International Development Association (IDA), which the House had rejected six months ago.
Private citizens have been restrained since 1934 from buying, selling or holding gold.
The House bill, which passed Tuesday, would eliminate gold restrictions as of Dec. 31. A similar Senate bill would have lifted the ban Sept. 1. A conference will try to resolve the differences.
Rep. Philip Crane, R-Ill., who has been trying to get the gold amendment through for years, said the passage of a bill giving more money to IDA was a small price to pay in exchange for private ownership of gold.
"One can anticipate that no later than the end of 1974 Americans will be again entitled to buy, sell and hold gold, a fundamental right, it seems to me, that has been denied them for 40 years," Crane said.
However, Treasury Secretary William Simon said adverse economic events could cause the administration to ask for a delay in the private ownership of gold.

Chief Of Public Works Is Named

Eugene H. Lehmann, presently employed by a consulting engineering firm in San Antonio, was announced today as the new director of public works for the city of Big Spring.
Lehmann will begin his duties around Aug. 1, according to City Manager Harry Nagel. Lehmann replaces James Campbell, who switched over to serve as parks and recreation director, which was previously handled by Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, who retired.
Lehmann, 43, is married and has five children. Prior to working in San Antonio since July 1972, he served as chief of operations and maintenance at the Lackland Air Force Base.
During his position as consulting engineering firm, his duties consisted of designing sewer and water systems, construction surveillance, project engineer for subdivision, including design approval plans, contracts, bids and construction inspection.

His other duties included city drainage studies, preliminary storm drainage design, cost estimates and field surveys.
He spent 1967 and 1968 as aircraft commander of C-7A, and as airlift operations officer to the Republic of Viet Nam. Lehmann was a student at the University of New Hampshire while maintaining an active pilot status. From 1956-65 served as aircraft commander for the Strategic Air Command.
He holds a B.S. in civil engineering, University of New Hampshire, and was an architectural engineering undergraduate at North Dakota State. He also has attended many air force schools, is active in the Society of American Military Engineers and the Air Force Association.
"We are extremely fortunate to obtain a man with this background and training for the post," Nagel stated.

First 2 Witnesses Fail To Impress Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first two defense witnesses called by presidential lawyer James D. St. Clair apparently have added little to the House Judiciary Committee's understanding of a $75,000 payment to convicted Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt Jr.
Members said Paul O'Brien and Frederick C. LaRue, former officials in President Nixon's re-election campaign committee, covered largely familiar ground in testimony before the impeachment panel Wednesday.
St. Clair called them as part of his effort to establish that the March 21, 1973, payment was for legal expenses, not to keep Hunt from talking.
In other Watergate-related stories:
—Former White House special counsel Charles W. Colson testified in the plenary trial that the reaction of the White House to the leak of the Pentagon Papers was intense. He testified that Nixon and other administration officials were hounding to make derogatory information about Daniel Ellsberg public.
—The California Supreme Court suspended former presidential lawyer Herbert W. Kalmbach from practicing law in California because of his role in the Watergate scandal.
O'Brien, who relayed Hunt's request to White House counsel John W. Dean III, said it was for $120,000 for legal fees and family support. He added that Hunt told him he had done "seamy things" for the White House and that if no action was taken on his request he would have "to reconsider his options."

Dean, in telling Nixon of Hunt's request, called it blackmail and said Hunt had threatened to put John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's chief domestic affairs adviser, in jail.

Ex-Mental Patient May Face 5th Murder Charge

MULDROW, Okla. (AP) — A 25-year-old former mental patient already facing four murder charges is expected to be charged Friday with a fifth death resulting from a series of attacks in this eastern Oklahoma town.
Luther Anderson pleaded innocent Wednesday to charges of murder in four deaths which occurred during a rampage Tuesday night in which the victims were attacked with an ax, a cement block and a gun. He also pleaded innocent to rape charges.

Anderson was under guard today at Central State Hospital in Norman, 15 miles south of Oklahoma City, for a 60-day observation period.
Officials at Eastern State Hospital in Vinita said Anderson had committed himself to the hospital April 11, explaining, "I've got a problem; I need help." He walked away from the hospital April 24.
Officials did not elaborate on the nature of his problem but said he was not considered an escapee—and therefore subject to arrest—because he had committed himself.
Those slain Tuesday night were George Armstrong, 42; Clarence Duty, 48; Robert Hewitt, 76; and Mrs. Jesse Hewitt, about 70.
Frank Mitchell, 34, died Wednesday in a nearby Fort Smith, Ark., hospital of head injuries, and Dist. Atty. John Russell said charges would be filed on Friday in his death.

'Cause Of Peace Has Advanced'

SHORTY RATTLESNAKE New Name May Fit The Job

CHICAGO (AP) — What's in a name? Plenty, says John Lewis Morgan who thought his moniker was "just too good for a man who works as a welder and wants to ride in rodeos."
Morgan, 40, of Elk Grove Village, changed his name Wednesday to Shorty Rattlesnake.
Morgan wore jeans, a cowboy shirt, boots and a ten-gallon hat when he appeared before Circuit Judge Donald O'Brien, who granted the request.
Morgan said he always wanted to be a rodeo rider and thought a new name would help his image.
"I've never rodeoed," said the former San Antonio, Tex., resident. But he does own a horse named Flicka who can shake hands and kisses him.
As for the new name, the 5-foot-4 welder explained, "People have always called me Shorty and some say I've got some rattlesnake instincts."

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon is here for a long holiday weekend after a summit journey to Moscow which he pictured as helping to "lead the world out of the lowlands of war up to the summits of peace."
Nixon stopped briefly at Limestone, Maine, Wednesday night to make a nationally broadcast speech in which he reported in general terms on more than 24 hours of negotiating sessions with Soviet Leader Leonid I. Brezhnev.
Reminiscent of Nixon appearances in past campaigns, the speech site was an airbase hangar where Vice President Gerald R. Ford and several hundred military dependents greeted the President and Mrs. Nixon.
The speech reiterated points covered in the Moscow communiqué that listed the limited summit achievements, including agreements to further restrict antiballistic missile systems and ban some underground nuclear weapons tests.
Although Nixon and Brezhnev were unable to settle on a formula to curb midwarhead missiles, the President said in Maine that the summit was part of a process of making the trend toward better American-Soviet relations irreversible.

More News That Can Cause Coffee Nerves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says this year's coffee crop in Brazil and other countries will be much larger, boosting the world supply for export by about 35 per cent.
The department's Foreign Agricultural Service for the 1974-75 season is estimated at 80.3 million reported Wednesday that total world production bags, up sharply from last year's crop of 64.3 million.
However, USDA officials have cautioned that an increased coffee crop may have little immediate effect in lowering prices for consumers.
In a recent report, the department said that even if the prices of green coffee — the unroasted beans — decline later this year, retail prices are expected to lag by six to nine months.

Youth Drowns In Stock Tank

GAIL — Billy Leon Whitley, 18, drowned about 11:45 a.m. Wednesday while swimming in a stock tank on the Dewey Everett ranch eight miles east of here.
His body was recovered at 2 p.m. by Rue Gambol and James Hefferman of Snyder, members of the Texas Parks and Wildlife department. Justice of Peace Marvin M. Monk pronounced him dead at the scene.
Billy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phanis Whitley, Lamesa.
Sheriff Norman Sneed called in the parks agents after young Whitley was attempting to swim to where his father was sitting. The elder Whitley saw his son go down and dived for him until he was exhausted. The stock tank covers about two surface acres and is some 10 feet deep.
Arrangements were still pending at 10 a.m. today at Branon Funeral Home in Lamesa, where the body was taken.

Zebra Slaying Trials Delayed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The murder trial of four men charged with three of the Zebra street slayings has been delayed until Sept. 16.
Superior Court Judge Morton Colvin granted the delay Wednesday at the request of the lawyers representing the four men.
Thirteen white victims have been killed and seven others wounded in random attacks by black assailants since last October.
The men under indictment are Larry Craig Green, 22; J. C. Simon, 29; Manuel Moore, 29; and Jessie Cook, 28.
Roger Pierucci, court-appointed lawyer for Cooks, now serving a life sentence at San Quentin prison, asked the judge to hire Harold Lipset as a special investigator for the defense.
Pierucci also asked the judge to retain an Oakland pathologist to assist the defense.
Colvin took the request under advisement. However, he ordered the prosecution to make available to the defense all evidence against the four defendants.
Colvin refused Pierucci's request to examine the prison psychiatric records of Anthony Cornelius Harris, 28, the prosecution's key witness.
Harris testified before a grand jury that he was an unwilling witness to several of the Zebra murders.

MAY RAIN
Slight chance of thunder showers. Partly cloudy through Friday. Winds from the east at 10-20 m.p.h. Cooler through Friday. High today expected to be near 90, low tonight, mid 60s, high Friday, near 90. A 20 per cent chance of showers through Friday.

MAY BE RARE SIGHT AFTER TODAY — Exploding fireworks in all their glory will be seen in a display originating on Scenic Mountain in Big Spring State Park starting about 9:30 o'clock tonight but firecrackers become illegal after this Independence Day. If the law becomes permanent, some kid may be able to tell his offspring 25 years from now, "You should have been here the summer of '74, when we knew how to really celebrate the Fourth."

Houston Bank Deposits Up By $1.4 Billion

By The Associated Press

People see the effects of inflation where they don't want to—in supermarkets, at the service station, in the shopping centers—but it also shows up in another place—the bank.

Bank deposits in Texas Wednesday were up at mid-year—a happy sign, especially to those with money in the bank—due to inflationary business profits, industrial expansion and savings by those worried about inflation.

Houston had the lead in its battle with Dallas for the most money on hand with total deposits at $9.7 billion, compared to $9.6 billion in Dallas.

Houston was up $1.4 billion from last year at this time while Dallas was up $2.2 billion.

"The figures show demand for credit is at an all time high," said Nat Rogers, president of the First City Bank in Houston. The increased Houston deposits "reflects the continued expansion of Houston as financial center," he said.

Midland's increase in deposits of $85 million was due mostly to oil and gas exploration and higher oil prices, said C. J. Kelley of the First National Bank.

Tyler, in East Texas, had a 12 per cent increase at mid-year—$295.9 million—but the president of the Clearing House Association there, A. W. Riter Jr., said about 10 per cent of that was due to inflation.

Other bankers cited growth and inflation as the main reasons for increased deposits, along with oil exploration, construction and agriculture.

Court Processes 13 Guilty Pleas During June Session

During June, 13 guilty pleas were heard, and 13 probated sentences granted in Howard County's 118th District Court.

District Attorney Bob Moore filed three motions to revoke probation, and District Judge Ralph W. Caton revoked probation being served by one man. One case was dismissed.

Although 12 cases were filed when defendants waived their right for grand jury consideration, the criminal caseload fell from 183 to 180.

But the civil docket included 954 pending cases June 1 and 963 on June 30. Added to the docket were 70 cases. One mistrial was declared in a civil jury trial.

There were two writs of habeas corpus filed during June and one disposed of. Judge Caton, in his capacity as juvenile court judge, took no action during June. No juvenile cases were pending during June and none were added to docket.

Judge Caton's office counted five juveniles on probation and four cases under advisement.

His secretary compiled statistics for the Texas Civil Judicial Council monthly. In addition to Howard County, Judge Caton and Moore serve Martin and Glasscock Counties. Above statistics are for Howard County only.

Martha Mitchell Retains Belli

NEW YORK (AP) — Martha Mitchell has started a separation suit in Manhattan Supreme Court against her husband, former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell.

A law firm headed by Melvin Belli took the first legal steps in the case Wednesday. Belli is the prominent defense attorney whose most famous case was the defense of Jack Ruby, slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Marvin Segal, who is with a law firm representing Mitchell, said of the case: "This is a kind of friendly proceeding. There is no rancor between them, no ill feelings on either side. Their differences may very well be settled without having to go to court."

Prison Inmates In State Not Complaining Of Food

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Although there are about 200 civil rights complaints by state prison inmates pending in federal courts, the Texas prison system's director says, none have to do with food.

"Food-that's one issue we haven't been to federal court on yet," said J. W. Estelle Jr. half-humorously to a meeting of attorneys here Wednesday.

Estelle, director of the Texas Department of Corrections, took the opportunity to defend the prison system against criticism of work inmates are ordered to do. Much of it is agricultural.

He told attorneys of the criminal law and procedure section of the State Bar of Texas, "One of the criticisms is the fact that we insist inmates work eight hours a day."

He said the prison system uses the food the prisoners harvest, and Texas has the best food of any prison system in the nation that he knows about.

"We don't ask any inmate anywhere to do anything that some civilian taxpayer isn't doing somewhere," said Estelle of work the inmates do at the 14 state prisons in Texas.

"I don't apologize for instilling work habits in people... a hard eight-hour workday is not injurious," he said.

"In addition to the work ethic, we emphasize education," he said. The legislature created a non-geographic school district for the prison system and inmates also can gain college credits.

Whales Worry Audubon Society

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Audubon Society has called on its 300,000 members and the general public to boycott goods from Japan and Russia until those countries "stop their needless slaughtering of whales."

The board of directors' action was taken, it said, after appeals to the governments of Japan, Russia and the United States proved fruitless.

Japan and Russia are the only two nations that have refused to abide by quotas set by the International Whaling Commission, the society asserts.

It has canceled all advertising for Japanese and Russian products in Audubon Magazine, and canceled two ecology workshops scheduled for Russia and one for Japan.

However, Estelle said, "The total mission of corrections today could be summed up with the words safety." Safety applies to the inmates, the staff and the outside community.

"I am safer in every part of my prison than most of you are on the streets of your community," said Estelle.

In the past four years, there have been three homicides and three officers hospitalized because of prison incidents, he said. "I don't think that's a bad record when you define our population."

About the civil rights complaints, he said the number now "is not overwhelming." He said prisoners, who have the right to petition a federal court with complaints, now know not to file one which is potentially meritless.

Estelle's statements were at the 92nd annual convention of the State Bar of Texas, which continues through Friday.

Car Rolls Into Water, Three Brothers Drown

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP) — Three young brothers drowned in a gravel pit near Lion Country Safari here when one of them put a car they were in into gear and it rolled into about 15 feet of water.

The victims were identified as Rickey Don Yarborough, 9, Terry Lynn Yarborough, 8, and Christopher Lee Yarborough, 19 months.

They were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Don Yarborough of Irving. Yarborough is an employe at Lion Country Safari.

Sgt. R. L. Cantrell of the Grand Prairie police department said the drowning occurred as the boys, their mother, Pauline Yarborough, 26, and her sister, Martha Ann Lane, 21, were preparing to leave an

Uncooked Swill

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — U.S. swine are being threatened with a rare disease caused by improperly cooked garbage.

Wisconsin Agriculturalist, a farm magazine, reports that the disease, called SVD Swine Vesicular Disease, was first discovered in Italy in 1966 and has spread through Europe.

afternoon of fishing in the gravel pit just north of the amusement park.

Cantrell said the women put the three youngsters in their station wagon, with the baby in the front seat and the two older boys in the back. The baby apparently put the car out of gear.

The car's windows were closed, Cantrell said, and that and a stiff wind caused it to drift into the middle of the pond, before it sank in about 15 feet of water 20 feet from the bank.

The women and two other boys attempted vainly to rescue the victims.

Patrolman G. D. Clancey of the Grand Prairie police later managed to open the door and remove the boys, but efforts at resuscitation were unsuccessful.

Indict One Of The Good Guys In Death Of Fetus

BOSTON (AP) — Around Boston City Hospital, Dr. Kenneth Edelin is known as one of the good guys.

There is a lot of talk about his skill, his interest in the black ghetto community surrounding the hospital, and his compassion.

And so, Boston's medical community is asking why the district attorney is accusing Dr. Kenneth Edelin of manslaughter in the death of a fetus he aborted in a legal operation.

The indictment of the 35-year-old doctor, the first black chief resident in obstetrics and gynecology at Boston City Hospital—BCH, could make medical and legal history, but Dr. Edelin says he would prefer that someone else have the historical recognition.

The rugged-looking, mustached physician finds himself, along with several colleagues, in the middle of separate, but related legal actions concerning legalized abortions, the rights of the fetus and fetal experimentation.

NO STRANGER
No stranger to revolutionary confrontation, Boston is bracing itself for a precedent-setting legal battle that could lead to a new legal definition of a human person and challenge the U.S. Supreme Court's abortion rulings.

When after conception does the growing mass of cells in a woman's womb become a human with a right to life and the legal protection entitled a human being? This and related questions have divided society's thinkers for centuries.

The Supreme Court last year struck down restrictive state abortion laws, but left unanswered the basic question of when a fetus becomes a human being capable of life and entitled to legal rights.

'BOSTON INDICTMENTS'
For the nation's medical community, the question came dramatically before them on April 11 when the "Boston Indictments," as they've become known in medical circles, were handed down by a Suffolk County grand jury.

Dr. Edelin was indicted for manslaughter in connection with the death of a 22-to 24-week-old male fetus. In separate indictments, delivered the same day, four other BCH doctors were indicted for research conducted with fetuses aborted at the hospital. The two cases are not directly related.

Charged under an 1814 state law designed to curb grave robbing were Drs. Leon D. Sabath and Leonard Berman and two others who had left the hospital, Dr. David Charles, now in Newfoundland, and Dr. Agneta Phillipson, now in Sweden.

GRAVE ROBBING
The doctors are not charged with grave robbing, but with carrying away bodies—aborted fetuses—for the purpose of dissection without authorization. Dr. Berman, a BCH pathologist, supplied fetal material to the other doctors for their study.

That study, published in the June 7, 1973 issue of the New England Journal of Medicine, described the doctors' experiment to determine how well two antibiotics passed through the placenta from mother to fetus. The antibiotics were given to 33 mothers before their abortions.

Dr. Sabath said in an interview that all 33 gave their informed consent to participate in the study. He asserted that the abortions would have been performed anyway, even if the women had not participated in the study.

MORAL WAY
Using small amounts of tissue from aborted fetuses was "the safest and most moral way" to conduct the study, Dr. Sabath said, rather than using full-term babies who might have been harmed by the drugs.

The Committee of Human Studies at BCH, which sees that proper safeguards are followed in human experiments, approved the study beforehand, Dr. Sabath added.

"It's rather paradoxical that this study has attracted so much nonprofessional interest after we went through so much trouble to do everything properly."

The study attracted the attention of Right-to-Life committees in heavily Roman Catholic Boston. The city council held hearings on the BCH research and after strong anti-abortion sentiment was voiced, the council called for a criminal investigation.

POLITICS?
Dist. Atty. Garrett Byrne's eight-month investigation culminated with the grand jury indictments. During the investigation, the hospital records of the 33 mothers were examined by the grand jury. Numerous hospital staff members were called to testify.

The grand jury became aware of the Dr. Edelin abortion as a result of the investigation of the BCH research project.

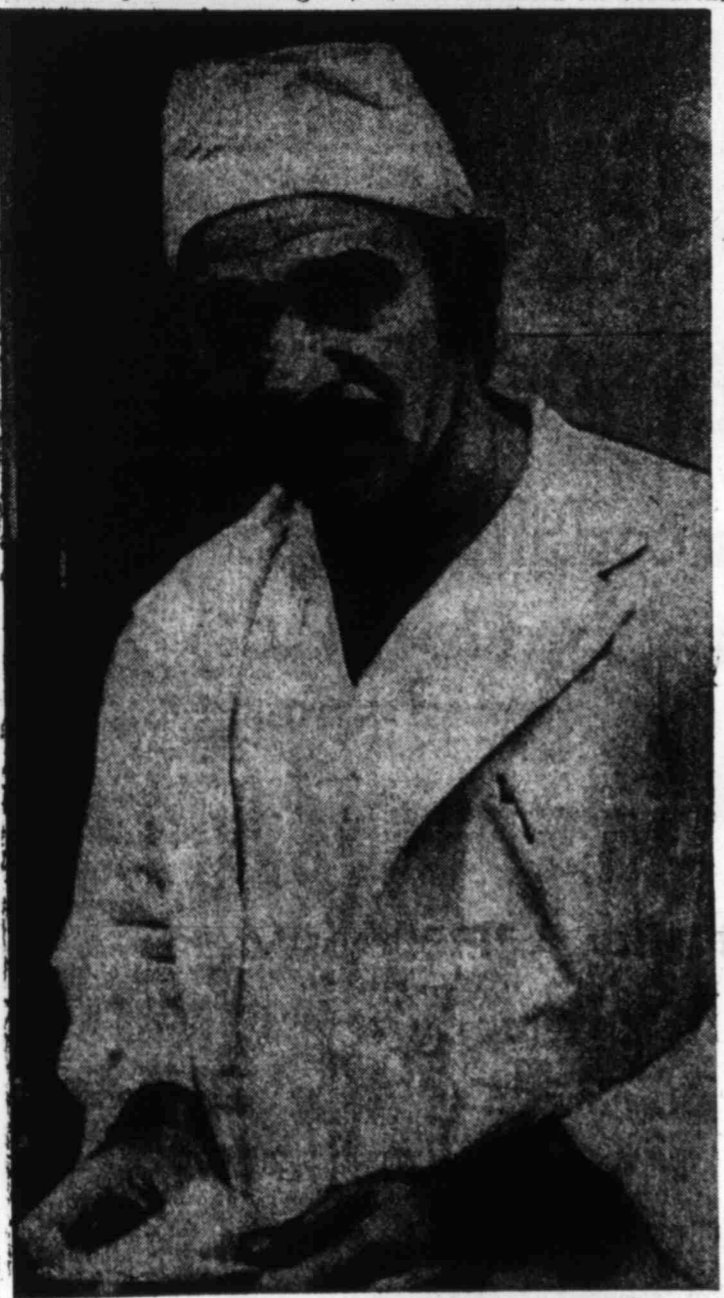

Critics of the indictments charge they were politically motivated. They say the doctors are being used as scapegoats to challenge the U.S. Supreme Court abortion rulings, which permit abortion almost on demand during the first six months of pregnancy.

CONTROVERSY
Asst. Dist. Atty. Newman A. Fiamagan, chief prosecutor in the doctors' cases, heatedly denies the indictments have anything to do with politics, although Byrne, a 22-year incumbent, is running for re-election this year.

The district attorney's office released few details of the indictments, and the defendants say they are not sure what, specifically, they are charged with. Lawyers for Dr. Edelin and the doctors in the other case say they must get more details before they can prepare a defense.

As a result of the BCH controversy, the Massachusetts Legislature is considering bills increasing controls over abortion and fetal research.

The results of the Boston cases could determine if similar restrictive legislation is introduced elsewhere in the country. Researchers say such measures could stifle medical progress. But critics of fetal research say medical progress should not come at the expense of mothers or fetuses, which they consider human.

UNWANTED RECOGNITION — Dr. Kenneth Edelin, 35, chief resident in obstetrics and gynecology at Boston City Hospital, is known as one of the good guys around the hospital. His indictment in the death of a fetus he aborted in a legal operation could make medical and legal history, but Edelin says he would prefer someone else having the historical recognition.

Opening lead: King of ♠ South, declarer at six hearts, presented his opponents with a trick he did not have to lose, but it was "twice blessed," and returned with interest.

Once North could give his partner a jump raise in hearts, South's hand became enormous. He wasted no time. After a diamond cue-bid and the formality of checking on aces, he bounced into six hearts, for unless North had specifically the two red kings as well, the grand slam would be a poor proposition. West's failure to overcall worked to his advantage. Had he bid, he would have located all the missing cards for declarer.

West led the king of clubs, and when dummy came down it seemed that even the small slam was a venturesome undertaking. South had no losers except in the diamond suit, but could easily lose two tricks in that suit.

Looking at all four hands, it is obvious that the diamond finesse will fail, and had declarer relied on what seemed to be his only possibility, he would have been defeated. Fortunately, declarer's technical skill was equal to the task he had set for himself.

Declarer won the opening lead in dummy and immediately ruffed a club with the nine of trumps. A trump to the ace drew both outstanding trumps, and the ace and king of spades were cashed. Dummy was reentered with the king of trumps, and the ten of spades was led. When East followed with a low spade, declarer discarded the three of diamonds instead of ruffing.

West won the trick with the jack, but he was faced with a choice of unpleasant alternatives. If he led a diamond, it would be into the jaws of declarer's ace-queen and South would lose no diamond tricks. If he returned a black card, declarer would ruff in dummy while discarding the queen of diamonds from his hand. Either way, the defenders could score only a spade trick.

What if East produced an honor on the third spade? Declarer would ruff, reenter dummy with a trump and lead a diamond to his queen. He would have to rely on the finesse for his contract, but he would be no worse off than when he started.

Colonel In My Lai Case Is Retiring

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Col. Oran K. Henderson, the highest ranking officer to be tried in the My Lai case, is retiring from the Army.

Henderson, who was found innocent of trying to cover up the massacre of Vietnamese civilians six years ago, is currently commander of the U.S. Army garrison at the Indiantown Gap Military Reservation.

Henderson, 53, will retire next month. He said his retirement is mandatory since he has more than 35 years of service and has been a colonel for five years without a promotion.

Henderson, a native of Harrisburg, said he plans to look for a job in the area.

FOXY FRUIT FILCHERS 'Avocado Rustlers' No Joke To Growers

FALLBROOK, Calif. (AP) — A standup comic could probably get 30 minutes and 90 laughs with tales of "The Avocado Rustlers," but it's no joke to growers of the fruit in Southern California.

TEMPTING TARGETS
Midway through this season's harvest, thieves have stolen almost $1 million worth of the state's $28-million crop. Most of the avocados are grown in the Fallbrook area, in San Diego County, and nestled among leathery leaves in often-unfenced, rural orchards, the green fruit are tempting targets.

Many of the stolen avocados apparently are sold at cut-rate prices to independent food stores and roadside stands.

Growers generally get 45 cents a pound for the fruit.

"The losses are in the millions of pounds, not counting the penny-ante stuff such as 50 or 100 pounds, which are common losses," says G.J. Clasen, president of the Avocado Growers Bargaining Council.

"A grower lost 1,600 pounds once, and I'm not even considering thefts like that. Whole groves of 10 or 15 acres have been stripped completely."

SIGNS WARN
A few ranchers and grove managers are carrying shotguns and have new watchdogs. Burglar alarm systems have been installed. Signs warn: "Avocado rustlers will be prosecuted."

But none of the measures — plus a state law making theft of more than $50 worth of avocados grand larceny and a growers' reward of $250 for information leading to conviction of fruit filchers — has deterred the thieves.

Sheriff's officers are trying to patrol the whole area, at least occasionally.

But says Deputy Sheriff Jerry McGuffin: "It's hard to see anyone in a grove, especially a mature grove. He can drive a truck in and elude you 100 feet away." He couldn't recall an arrest.

OWNERSHIP
It is also difficult to prosecute. In the last year there have been no successful prosecutions of avocado thieves.

"We've had no cooperation from the sheriff's department, mainly because it's so difficult and the way the laws are written it's impossible to get a conviction," said Clasen.

"Once the fruit is off the trees, even if it's still in the grove and in boxes, you can't prove it came off those trees."

Lee Taylor, a San Diego County supervisor, thinks he has the answer with an idea borrowed from neighboring Imperial County where a person needs a bill of sale if found with so much hay.

If 40 pounds or avocados or more are found in a person's possession, he would have to prove ownership.

No 'Deep Throat' At My-O-My Club

AUSTIN (AP) — District Court Judge Tom Blackwell has ruled that the motion picture "Deep Throat" is obscene, and he temporarily enjoined a local club from showing the movie.

Blackwell watched the film in court Monday and decided it is "totally without any redeeming social value."

The My-O-My Club was enjoined from showing the movie, pending a permanent injunction hearing.

A trial involving the film is scheduled for County Court at Law No. 1 on July 15.

Defense lawyer Terral Smith protested that Blackwell's decision will influence the jury, and he said he will ask for a dismissal of criminal charges on those grounds at a July 12 pre-trial hearing.

LSD Penalty Is Reversed

AUSTIN (AP) — The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and remanded Tuesday the eight-year LSD conviction of James Ray Colston in Waco because of officers lacked probable cause to arrest Colston without a warrant.

Court records show a sheriff's deputy in Waco received a teletype message Aug. 21, 1971 from a federal narcotics agent in San Antonio requesting that Waco officers check 1971 VW van TX GNP 96.

The message said the van was coming from El Paso and that the two men inside, Colston and Tom Hutchinson, possessed illegal drugs and were heavily armed.

The deputy spotted the van outside a lounge east of Waco as he drove home to eat at 5 p.m. that day. He radioed officers at Lacy-Lakeview, told them of the teletype and asked them to meet him at the lounge.

Four officers from Lacy-Lakeview got to the lounge before the deputy and, at the point of a shotgun, they arrested Colston.

One officer looked into the open van and spotted a pistol. A search turned up 5,000 LSD tablets in a picnic cooler.

The appeals court said the arresting officers were entitled to assume the federal narcotics agent had information sufficient to justify an arrest.

Film Highlights Texas Missions, Now Available

AUSTIN — A new motion picture just released by the Texas Highway Department proves again that factual history can be as fascinating as fiction.

Titled "The Missions of Texas," the film focuses on that epic era of state history, and explores 10 of the ancient Spanish missions where Texans can walk in the past today. Settings for the colorful chronicle range from shadowy pine forests to the blazing West Texas desert.

Ricardo Montalban, who combines his acting talents with an abiding interest in the cultural history of the New World, narrates the 15-minute film.

The film is the first in a series of quarter-hour movies being planned by the Highway Department. Each will focus on a special aspect of Texas scenery, history, or recreation. The 16mm sound and color is available for free showings to schools, civic clubs, and historical organizations, as well as for television broadcast. Prints may be borrowed from the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, Box 5064, Austin 78763.

DEATH PENALTY THREAT Motion For Rehearing In Rape Case Overruled

AUSTIN (AP) — The Court of Criminal Appeals has refused to rehear a case in which two Bay City youths were sentenced to 10 years in prison on conviction of raping a 15-year-old girl.

Court records show Michael Ray Jones and Edgar O. Houpt were with David Collup on June 28, 1966 when Collup drove the girl home from a dance.

Collup allegedly had sexual intercourse with the girl with her consent, and the defendants later admitted they also had sexual relations with her with her consent.

TOLD HER MOTHER
The girl told her mother, and charges of statutory rape were filed against the three youths.

The prosecution filed notice it would seek the death penalty. Jones and Houpt pleaded guilty and were sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Collup's trial was not held until June 1970, 3 1/2 years after the indictments. At that time, Collup's lawyer learned that a band leader named Mike Hickman had been with the girl in a car six months prior to the alleged rape, that she had cried afterward and later said she and Hickman soon would marry.

The lawyer got Hickman to the courtroom through a ruse, the court records say without elaboration. Hickman was called to the stand and pleaded the Fifth Amendment when asked if he and the girl had sexual relations.

But Hickman produced a letter dated Dec. 9, 1966, that he had received from the girl which said, "Mike, I'm sort of sure of a question those boys (six) lawyer might ask you and if you answer it the way I think you (will) then I'm DEAD!!!!"

The jury acquitted Collup. Proof of unchaste character is a defense against statutory rape of a girl between 15 and 18 under the rape law of 1966. Lawyers for Jones and Houpt argued that they did not know of Hickman's existence or the letter or a statement that Hickman gave the Matagorda County sheriff at the time their clients pleaded guilty.

NO SHOWING
The threat of the death penalty forced the defendants to plead guilty, the lawyers said.

No argument was made that the district or county attorneys knew of Hickman, the letter or the statement.

The appeals court said in its original opinion on Feb. 10, 1971 that there was no showing that Hickman and the girl had sexual intercourse.

"The circumstances are suspicious to say the least, but in

VOA Launches Salvage Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — The Volunteers of America has launched its 78th annual salvage drive.

Trucks are dispatched to homeowners who telephone the local post of the Volunteers of America, saying they have clothes, used furniture or old appliances to donate. All reusable goods are sorted, cleaned, repaired and redistributed to those in need.

WHAT'S AHEAD? A LOT OF 'IFS' Should You Go Out And Fill The Freezer Full Of Beef?

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Consumers plotting their shopping strategy will find lower meat prices for the next few weeks, but the bargains aren't likely to last unless the government can find a way of stopping inflation.

Anyone tempted to stock up now should remember that hoarding will eventually cut supply and simply drive the price right back up again.

Cattlemen recently withheld their beef from market because they weren't getting high enough prices for their livestock. They convinced the federal government to help with a $100-million purchase of beef and pork designed to give livestock producers a short-term shot in the arm and to convince consumers that meat was a good buy right now.

GOOD BUY
Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz keeps saying that meat is a good buy. He says Americans can't expect 55-cent-a-pound hamburger any more.

With a prod from the government, the National Association of Food Chains recently urged its members — retail stores — to feature beef and other meats. Advertisements indicate the price is coming down.

Administration officials hope that lower prices will encourage consumers to buy. That would bring to market the over-supply of meat that is on ranches and feedlots.

Once that meat has been sold, however, prices probably will rise again. The solution is to make it cheaper to produce the cow. That would mean the farmer could charge the packer less; the packer could charge the supermarket less; and the supermarket could charge you less — providing that inflation doesn't boost the cost of things like labor, rent and electricity.

FOOD PRICES
In May, inflation was proceeding at an annual rate of 13.2 per cent. At the same time, the government marketbasket — the amount it costs a hypothetical family of 3.2 persons for farm-produced food — was 19 per cent higher than a year ago. Food prices were up 1.1 per cent in May, although there was a slight decline for meat.

Even the government doesn't know for sure what will happen next. Administration experts and private economists agree, however, that it's going to take some time before the up and down pattern of meat prices evens out.

The Agriculture Department purchase of meat for school lunches won't have much real effect on the market. Officials say it represents the amount of meat produced in only two or three days. But they hope it will have a psychological effect on the consumer.

BEST ADVICE
What does all this mean? Should you go out and fill the freezer full of beef?

The best advice seems to be: Buy what you need. But don't stock up with the idea of hoarding a year's supply.

That's what happened last year during the freeze on beef prices. Americans, hearing warnings of withholding by cattlemen, bought heavily and the buying created a shortage.

The same thing could happen again. Lower meat prices over the long run — and that means up to two years — depend on lower feed prices. And lower feed prices depend on more grain.

The Agriculture Department said last Monday that there will be record corn and wheat harvests this year, but they said the crops won't be as big as had been predicted.

WHY, OH, WHY?
There were record corn and grain harvests last year, too. Why, then, is the price of feed grains soaring?

Exports are one reason. In the wake of the Russian wheat deal in the summer of 1972, the price of grain doubled in a year.

Farmers who had sold their wheat for about $1.50 a bushel before the Russian deal was announced were angry. They felt they had been cheated.

Last year and this year, they are holding on to the grain until they are sure they can get the highest possible price. Grain dealers in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas say that farmers have sold only 10 to 20 per cent of the harvest so far this year, compared to 50 or 60 per cent in a normal year.

WORLD TRADE
On June 18, the wheat was selling for $3.99 a bushel and it has been going up fairly steadily since then.

American cattlemen aren't the only ones competing for the wheat and corn. Steadily rising demand around the world has meant a better market for U.S. farm exports and higher prices at home.

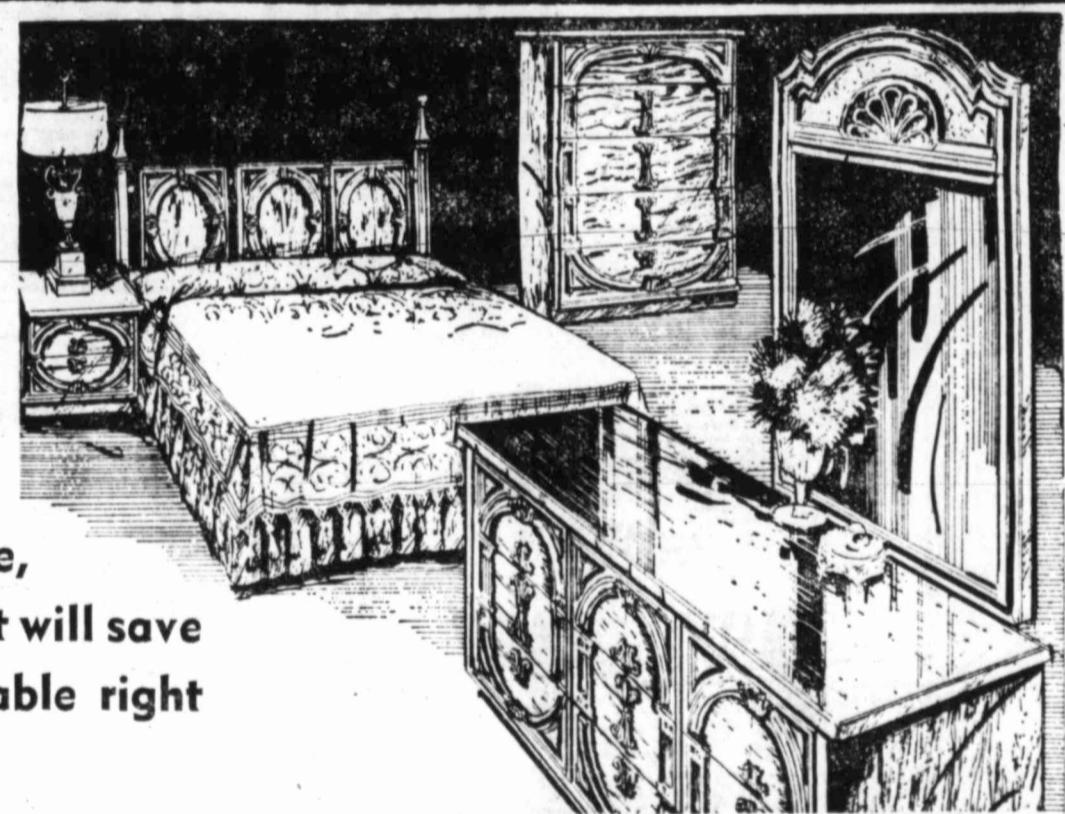

The Nixon administration wants to continue exporting farm products. The government sees exports as a way to free world trade and reduced tariffs. It also sees the exports as a way to create a favorable balance of trade — getting more money for U.S. products than Americans spend for foreign goods.

North American eating habits account for the consumption of about a ton of grain a year per capita. One hundred fifty pounds of that is eaten as grain products; the rest is fed to cattle and indirectly consumed in meats. In the poorer countries, each person consumes about 400 pounds of grain a year — most of it directly.

LITTLE LEAGUE

TL, AL Teams Win In Meet

The American League Pirates, the Texas League Dodgers, and the Texas League Pirates advanced to the second round of the City Little League Tournament with wins last night in the first round.

The game between the International League Rockies and the National League Rebels was called after five innings with the score tied a 5-5 because of darkness. The game was scheduled to be finished at 10 a.m. today.

The winner of that game will play American League Champs, the Colts tonight at 8 p.m. in the American League park.

The TL Dodgers defeated the American League Stars 5-1 as James Magers upped his record to 8-2 as a pitcher, allowing the Stars only three hits.

Magers, Johnny Albreo both hit doubles for the Dodgers while Cedric Jefferson hit a triple for the winners. They will meet the National League Champions, the Yankees tonight at 8 p.m. in the National League park.

The American League Pirates needed a single from Tommy Rodriguez in the sixth inning to drive in the winning run as they defeated the IL Sabers 4-2.

Eugene Boadle was credited with the win for the Pirates and Rodney Smith was the losing pitcher.

Scott Barnes and Kevin Hattenback each hit two base hits for the Pirates.

They will play the Texas League champions, the Tigers in the Texas League park at 8 p.m. tonight.

The TL Pirates do not hit the NL Cards in their 5-0 game as Mino Rubio hurled the no hitter and struck out 14 batters. He had help in the win from some powerful hitting as Johnny Green, Sammy Toms, Martin Castenada, Andy Rubio and R. Hamilton each hit two hits for the Pirates.

They will play the International League champions, the T-Birds in the International League park at 6 p.m. tonight.

Sneed Takes Lead In Open

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It was sweet relief for Ed Sneed. "I felt good. I had a good swing, good tempo, a good touch on the greens. I felt very good," Sneed said Wednesday after his six-under-par 66—his best round of the year—gave him a two-stroke lead in the first round of the $30,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

Masters champion Tommy Aaron and Curtis Sifford had 68s in the event. It started one day early to allow some players a quick getaway for next week's British Open.

Big Bob Zender, a non-winner, was alone in fourth with a 69 while Tom Shaw headed a group of five at 70.

Sam Sneed, a 62-year-old relic from another era of golf, was at 71 with Lee Trevino, whose wildly erratic card showed six bogeys, five birdies, an eagle and six pars.

Allen Miller scored consecutive eagles on the sixth and seventh holes but had to settle for a par 72. Also at that figure was Hubert Green, the No. 2 money-winner and holder of three 1974 titles.

King Falls, Evert, Connor Wimbledon Tops

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Chris Evert and her fiancé, Jimmy Connors, are the logical favorites to take the Wimbledon singles titles, but a man old enough to be the father of the bride, Ken Rosewall of Australia, is a sentimental selection.

With defending champions Billie Jean King and Jan Kodes sidelined in Wednesday's quarter-finals along with two highly touted Australians, 1971 winner Evonne Goolagong and top-seeded John Newcombe, the 19-year-old Miss Evert and Connors, 22, were the top seeds left in the tournament Rosewall has been trying to win for 22 years.

Miss Evert will meet sixth-seeded Kerry Melville of Australia and Olga Morozova of Russia will face fifth-seeded Virginia Wade of Britain in the women's singles semifinals today.

"I haven't beaten Chris in the last couple of years," said Miss Melville. "With Billie Jean out, Chris must be the favorite now."

Lieutenant's Career Hinges On Long Hair

HANAU, Germany (AP) — Lt. Matthew R. Carroll's professional Army career hinges on his long hair.

WAVY LOCKS

Carroll, son of a Pentagon colonel, has disobeyed orders to have his wavy locks trimmed and, as a consequence, is facing discharge from the service for "substandard performance and failure to exercise necessary leadership or command expected of an officer of his grade."

Carroll, who wears a paratrooper badge in addition to a Ranger tab, was commander of the Reserve Officer Training Corps at Texas A&M University in 1969-70. He was elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities in 1971.

The 26-year-old native of Mason City, Iowa, is fighting to save his career and contends that the Army is not only depriving him of due process, it is violating his freedom of expression and engaging in "sexual discrimination."

DANGER

The Army, Carroll said in an interview, is trying to justify its haircut policy by citing dangers of long hair and the need for safety precautions.

But, he argued, "after we have so many more WACs in the Army—in a lot of cases doing the same jobs as males—that argument goes out the window."

Since his refusal to obey what he considered an illegal order last April, Carroll has been reprimanded, relieved as an Army race-relations instructor, had his security clearance revoked. He charges that he has been subjected to "harassment, intimidation, threats."

Col. Nolan C. Rhodes, commander of the 130th Engineer Brigade to which Carroll is assigned here, has initiated board action to end the lieutenant's two-year-old service career.

'REFORMATION'

In recommending Carroll's discharge, Rhodes wrote that the lieutenant "has in recent months adopted as his personal project the 'reformation' of the Army's haircut policy...In pursuit of this objective, he has attempted to stage a confrontation that would result in his court-martial, with the ultimate objective of exploiting this public judicial forum to publicize his antinilitary views."

Carroll, the colonel said, "got carried away with concepts of personal freedom and began counseling the troops on what they did or did not have to do in spite of what their company commander told them to do."

The lieutenant also was faulted by another superior with becoming a "buddy" of his men, disregarding the Army's policy of nonfraternization between officers and enlisted men.

The paperwork for Carroll's drumming out has been sent to the Department of the Army in Washington, where his father, Col. Robert M. Carroll, is stationed.

"I'm sure, he disapproves," the lieutenant said in assessing his father's attitude toward the hair protest. "But he did say he would help me if he could."

Carroll had worn his long hair pasted to the sides of his head until he ran into trouble. At that time, he insists, his hair still met the Army regulation that it be "neatly groomed" and its length "not be excessive or present a ragged, unkempt or extreme appearance."

After being disciplined, Carroll said he decided to protest by letting his hair grow longer and "blown out" so that gray-streaked Brunette tufts protrude over and partly cover his ears. He has not cut his hair since May.

FIGHTING BACK

Carroll is fighting back. Pending definite Army action, he is seeking counsel from a civilian lawyer and he has written to Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and to U.S. Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., complaining that the Army was depriving him of his rights.

GAME — NO RAIN — Little League mothers, no doubt, find a lot to talk about in Big Spring while their sons are playing the game. The two pictured here, Mrs. Charles Warren (left) and Mrs. Bill Scott, were using the parasol for protection against the sun rather than rain. The latter has been a very rare item around the area all year.

COTTON SOUVENIRS — Mrs. Betty Milford, left, first vice president of the Lubbock Cotton Auxiliary, and Mrs. A. V. Barnett, chairman of the auxiliary's scholarship committee, display souvenirs and jewelry designed and produced to promote the cotton industry and the use of cotton products. From profits, the organization has established an endowment to support scholarships in textile engineering and clothing and textiles at Texas Tech University.

Helping End Shortage Of Textile Engineers

LUBBOCK — Miniature bales of cotton, packaged in colorful bagging, cotton boll corsages, and scores of other cotton-related souvenirs and jewelry made and sold by the Lubbock Cotton Auxiliary are helping to solve a shortage — that of textile engineers.

A substantial amount of the profits have been used to establish an endowment to support scholarships in textile engineering and the Department of Clothing and Textiles at Texas Tech University.

The fund has been established by the Lubbock Cotton Auxiliary through the Texas Tech Foundation and the first scholarship will be awarded in the fall of 1974, according to Mrs. A. V. Barnett, chairman of the auxiliary's scholarship committee.

The first contribution to the endowment was for $2,118.94, some of it coming from the auxiliary's King

Newcomer Club Plays Bridge

Newcomers Bridge Club met Tuesday at Pioneer Gas Flame Room at noon for a luncheon with Mrs. N. E. Roll and Mrs. Earl Archer as hostesses.

Winners were Mrs. Jack Sudderth, high; Mrs. David Brown, second; Mrs. Peter Gregg, low; and Mrs. Frenny Bapuzi, bridge-0.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Gregg. The next meeting will be July 17 at 9:30 a.m. in the Pioneer Gas Flame room.

Cotton promotion at the South Plains Mall last fall, the remainder from surplus funds from membership dues from the more than 130 women whose husbands are in some phase of the cotton business.

The little bales of cotton, produced in Lubbock for the auxiliary, are widely used at conventions, meetings of ginners and cotton producers, and other industry-related groups as souvenirs.

"They make perfect remembrances and they serve to promote not only West Texas as a gigantic cotton-producing region but also the entire cotton industry from the production in the field through the manufacture of the finished fabrics," said Mrs. Barnett.

"They have proven popular with many groups in West Texas. And so have the corsages which are made of cotton bolls which have opened and are ready for harvesting," she said.

The miniature cotton bales may be purchased from the auxiliary at a price of $3 each with plaques denoting the occasion or the sponsoring agency, or at a price of $2 without the plaques.

Hundreds have been sold with metal plates promoting Texas Tech and the City of Lubbock attached to them.

"The little bales have enough cotton in them to produce one long-sleeved shirt," Mrs. Barnett said.

Other cotton-promoting items include key rings and chains, lapel pins, tie pins, money clips and stuffed dolls.

Orders for the items may be placed through the auxiliary.

"We have hopes of adding to the endowment fund until it will support two scholarships each semester at Texas Tech," Mrs. Barnett said. "There is a severe shortage of textile engineering students and we are hoping to encourage students of this area to give serious consideration to textile engineering as a career."

"Even more textile engineers are going to be needed in this immediate area," she said, "with the building and installation of textile mills and the development of the manufacturing of cotton and textile products in West Texas."

"The establishment of the endowment fund will make a worthwhile contribution not only to Texas Tech University and the Textile Engineering Department," Dr. Clyde E. Kelsey Jr., Texas Tech vice president for Development, said, "but also to the entire cotton industry. We are grateful to the Lubbock Cotton Auxiliary for its generous effort."

1974 Slate Installed Tuesday

The 1974 officers of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary were installed Tuesday evening during a dinner at the home of a sponsor, Mrs. Lynda Melton, 1503 E. Third. Mrs. Neomi Hamill was cohostess.

The slate includes Leilani Thomas, president; Tresa Perea, vice president; Nancy Gonzales, secretary; Janet McBride, treasurer; Tammy Daughtery, chaplain; Sabrina Thomas, historian; and Darlene Thomas, sergeant-at-arms. The installing officer was Mrs. Janet Whitehead, co-sponsor.

The centerpiece for the dining table was made from Legion poppies and carried out a "working hands" theme.

The junior girls will hold a bake sale July 13 at Highland Center Mall, with proceeds to be used in sending the president to the department junior forum in Laredo July 18-20.

Pioneer Club Has Meeting Tuesday

The Pioneer Sewing Club met Tuesday in the ranch home of Mrs. J. W. Overton, and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Henry Park in Forsan July 16 at 2 p.m.

Guests Visiting Pauline Petty

Out-of-town guests today of Mrs. Homer Petty are her niece, Mrs. Jack Cowan, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Sheen Jr., Dallas. The latter couple will also be visiting in Midland with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Sheen Sr., and his sister, Mrs. Jerry Early.

Oblige Her

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Listen to this: We are 2½ girls living together. (The "½" girl lives here half the time, and with her fiancé the other half.)

The ½ girl friend is getting married next month, so the other roommate and I offered to give her a shower.

We asked "Miss ½" to give us the usual type list for both wedding and shower gifts. (We wanted to know what colors and pattern of china, silver and glassware she selected, in case someone wanted to add to it.)

Her list floored us. It went something like this: "Enamel pots and pans only. No Teflon — I hate them! A battery-run kitchen clock. I won't accept one that's electric. No tea towels. I hate them. I don't want any cheap glasses, only crystal. Money is always best."

My roommate and I were embarrassed to read such a list. When I asked "Miss ½" to be a little more specific, she said she didn't have time to go into it, but if people didn't want to give her what she wanted, she didn't want anything.

What should we do? She's 30 years old and has never been married.

TWO CONFUSED ROOMMATES

DEAR ABBY: "Miss ½" gave you an out: Give her what she wants, or give her nothing.

DEAR ABBY: There must be many others with my problem.

Two years ago I was "the other woman." Today I am "a wicked stepmother" to four teen-agers.

The children and I get along fine. More importantly, my husband and I are very much in love. His "ex" and I do not speak (her terms, not mine).

Problem: My husband wants us to spend a fortune traveling to see his son graduate from high school. While his "ex" hasn't objected, I know this will be an uncomfortable day. Should I stick by my husband's side like glue — or skip the whole scene and stay home by myself?

HAPPY AT HOME

DEAR ABBY: Stay home and make everyone happier.

DEAR ABBY: Lately you've published several letters about people who have sent gifts and never received an acknowledgment. It happens to me nine out of ten times.

I blame parents and grandparents for furnishing the names of their friends who should be good for at least one $20 spoon toward completing the set of silver.

Now I mail everything insured and if I don't get an acknowledgment in 30 days, I file a claim. Don't think that doesn't shake 'em up. Sometimes I get three thank-yous in one week. From the kids, Mama, and Grandma.

DAR Unit Approves Bylaws

Bylaws and a 1974 budget for the newly organized Capt. Elisha Mack Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were accepted during a meeting Monday at Kentwood Center.

Mrs. George Dawson, regent, presided, asking members to support the local July 4 program. "Let Freedom Ring."

Two offices were filled, with Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel Jr. becoming parliamentarian and Mrs. C. G. Barnett being named DAR curator. Plans were made for a DAR display at the Aug. 10 open house at Kentwood Center.

Mrs. Dawson announced that the district workshop will be held in the Sheraton Motel, El Paso, Sept. 10. The members have also been invited to attend a workshop at Abilene in September.

Local DAR meetings will resume Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Brick Fireplace Cost Estimate

The cost of a brick fireplace with an outside chimney for a one-story house will run about $1,400. This estimate covers cost of opening up a wall, masonry, finish carpentry and a mantel, explains Anna Marie Gottschalk, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

FUTURE BRIDE — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beistle, Coahoma, announce the engagement and future marriage of their daughter, Linda Gayle, to Anthony (Tony) Kite of Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Kite of Fritch. The wedding will be performed by the bride-elect's father Aug. 16 in Coahoma Church of Christ. The engaged couple is attending Lubbock Christian College.

Program Slated On Civil Defense

The LVN Association, District 25, will sponsor a program on civil defense Aug. 6. The location and time will be announced later. Mrs. Ollie Branson will be the speaker. Anyone interested is invited to attend, especially LVNs and LVN students at Howard College. Plans are being made to attend the LVN Association State convention in San Antonio Oct. 24-27.

A LOVELIER YOU "Disarming" Method For Troubled Figure

By MARY SUE MILLER

The figure is in trouble when the arms are heavy or flaccid. And it is not just because of their own poor showing.

Heavy arms add inches to the girth of the figure — even an otherwise normal figure. The flaccid arm, whether slim or plump, adds years — and years. Ideally, arms are slender and firm. Achieving the ideal is the aim of these routines:

1. (For reducing.) Stretch out, back down on floor with arms straight out to sides at shoulder level. Then bend elbows so that fingers point to ceiling. Now "massage" upper arms against floor by alternately swinging forearms forward and backward to touch floor. Working briskly, continue for one minute.

2. (For firming.) Stand erect with arms forward at shoulder level and backs of hands touching. Leading with palms, swing arms backward as far as possible and then sharply twist hands forward so as to face ceiling and thus to tense the upper arm muscles. Hold tension, for five slow counts; swing to starting position, turning backs of hands to touch again. Repeat twenty times.

In addition, try to develop your reach. When you wish to pick up any object, stand back and extend your arm. The stretch has value as an exercise. What's more, the habit increases the grace of all your gestures.

TRIMMERS AND SLIMMERS

Let me help you with the problem of a too-fleshy arm, chest or upper back by sending you my leaflet, Trimmers and Slimmers. It contains a set of coordinated spot reducing exercises—easy to do, quick to get results. Just write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelop and ten cents in coin.

Rebekahs Plan Audit Of Books

It was announced that the auditing committee will meet at 6 p.m., Friday in the home of Mrs. Pauline Petty. Others on the committee are Mrs. Jones Lamar, Mrs. A. E. Fiveash, Mrs. U.S. Beechley and Mrs. LaVerne Rogers.

Next Tuesday evening lodge instruction will be given by Mrs. Irene Johnson.

High Tallies In Duplicate Games

Four tables were in play for duplicate bridge games sponsored by the Ladies Golf Association at Big Spring Country Club Wednesday afternoon.

High Tallies went to Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, first; Mrs. James Raoul and Mrs. Ward Hall, second; and Mrs. J. H. Parks and Mrs. Travis Reed tied for third and fourth places with Mrs. Roy Lassiter and Mrs. W. Harris.

Maine Residents Are Guests Here

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Loftis and daughter, Charity, of Fort Fairfield, Maine, are here visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Loftis and Mr. and Mrs. James Pedigo. Mrs. Loftis is the former Sandra Pedigo. Dean Loftis is serving with the Air Force at Loring AFB, and they will return home about the middle of July. Charity's first birthday was celebrated here with a small party for the families.

Quotable Women

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"I'll never leave that place. I've been offered open-end contracts and everything, but this is going to be my life." One-time film star Betty Hutton, lately housekeeper-cook of a Rhode Island Catholic rectory, at a New York $100-a-plate dinner in her honor.

"That you sentence me is of some importance. For how long you sentence me is of no relevance to anything. I regard it with the contempt it deserves." Dr. Bridget Rose Dugdale, sentenced to nine years imprisonment for art theft by a Dublin, Ireland, court.

"It was an outrage and a shock. Six of us got together and said this nonsense has got to stop. Today, we have about 6,000 people on our list. Why do people have to be defined by race or sex or age?"

"I couldn't be happier. It's one of the things one dreams about. I've been a working critic for 40 years." Emily Genauer, winner of a 1974 Pulitzer Prize for criticism.

"The terrorists re up our stairs shooting at every door. I turned off all the lights, and we pushed the piano against the door to keep them out." Hama Halevi, a 24-year-old housewife who survived an Arab terrorist attack on her apartment building in Naha, Iyva, Israel.

Genealogist Speaker For ABWA Chapter

Bill Steagald, an employee of Cosden Oil and Chemical Company, was guest speaker Tuesday for Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association, at 7 p.m. in the snack bar of the Permian Building. Mrs. Bill Leugoud, president, presided at the meeting.

Steagald is a genealogist by avocation. He gave an outline of the Genealogical Society of the Big Spring, its function and how a person can trace his ancestry and start a "family tree." A person can refer to sources from the county clerk's office, marriage, birth and death certificates, court records and land deeds.

Steagald, born and raised in Tennessee, enlisted in the service in 1942 and came to Big Spring as a soldier. He married a local girl and remained in Big Spring.

The vocational speaker was Mrs. Gerry Reynolds. Mrs. Shirley White introduced the guest speakers.

The chapter will sponsor a patient at Big Spring State Hospital by monetary donations and personal gifts. Mrs. Dorothy Jones was appointed chairman of the Hand of Friendship Tea scheduled Sept. 15.

Sammy Davis Jr., Miffed By Royalty Indifference

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. says he left a Monaco gambling casino without performing as scheduled because he and his wife had been ignored by Monaco's royalty, not because he felt he wasn't being pampered.

"They can ignore me—I've been ignored all my life—but I don't ignore my wife," Davis said at his home Wednesday.

He said Princess Grace "thought I was just another jig in the woodpile: 'He'll sing and dance for us.'"

Davis denied news magazine accounts of his behavior at the celebrity-packed opening of Monaco's newest gambling casino June 22.

Ex-Veep Rents Expensive Suite

CROFTON, Md. (AP) — Former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has rented a $1,650 a month three-room office suite in an industrial park here but won't say what he's going to use it for.

"I don't understand why anybody cares what I'm going to be doing. I'm a private citizen," Agnew told a reporter for the Annapolis Evening Capital.

Persons in adjacent offices say, however, that Agnew plans to use the offices for an import-export business. Agnew, who resigned from the vice presidency after pleading no contest to income tax evasion, has been disbarred as an attorney in Maryland.

DELICIOUS OLIVE-MUSTARD PAN BREAD
Ah, the aroma and flavor of fresh baked bread!

Tame The Crowd's Appetite With Fresh Baked Bread

Few things are more appetizing than the aroma and flavor of fresh baked bread. The hostess who serves home baked bread is rewarded with compliments for her time and effort, as well as for the delicious bread.

Instead of buying the standard bakery or grocery store French bread, try something new. Bake your own Olive Mustard Bread. This pan bread is attractive, tasty, easy to prepare, and will dress up any mealtime menu or partytime snack.

Each golden brown square is studded with colorful slices of pimiento stuffed olives and mingled with ripples of mustard-butter. The tangy tartness of the olive and mustard-butter combination compliments the savory onion-flavored bread.

The use of commercial hot roll mix cuts the preparation time in half and makes the recipe almost mistake proof. Two hours is all it takes to prepare and bake this tasty treat that may become the "specialty of the house!"

OLIVE MUSTARD PAN BREAD

1 pkg. (13 oz.) hot roll mix

1 cup warm water
2 eggs
2 tbsps. sugar
3/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
2 tbsps. flour
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 cup sliced pimiento stuffed olives

In a large bowl, dissolve yeast from hot roll mix in warm water. Stir in eggs, sugar, onion and roll mix. Spread into a greased 13x9 baking pan; cover and let rise 1-1 1/2 hours. In a small bowl, cream together butter or margarine, flour, and mustard. Stir in olives. Dot the batter with the olive mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes.

Makes 12 three-inch squares.

Preserve Summer's Bounty

Jelly, jam, conserve, marmalade and preserves can all add zest to meals. Most of them also provide a good way to use fruit not at its best for canning or freezing, such as the largest or smallest fruits and berries and those that are irregularly shaped.

Surprise your family with a batch of sparkling, colorful jellies, jams or preserves. You can make good use of fresh fruits now available and others coming to the market soon.

Basically all of these products are much alike; all of them are fruit preserved by means of sugar, and usually all are jellied to some extent. Their individual characteristics depend on the kind of fruit used and the way it is prepared, the proportions of different ingredients in the mixture and the method of cooking.

Many have asked what the differences are among preserved fruit products.

Jelly is made from fruit juice; the product is clear and firm enough to hold its shape when turned out of the container. Jam, made from crushed or ground fruit, tends to hold its shape but generally is less firm than jelly.

Conserves are jams made from a mixture of fruits, usually including citrus fruit; often raisins and nuts are added.

Marmalade is a tender jelly with small pieces of fruit distributed evenly throughout; a marmalade commonly contains citrus fruit.

Preserves are whole fruits or large pieces of fruit in a thick syrup, often slightly jellied.

Lemon Flavoring Sparks Cookies

Just for a change, add lemon flavoring to sugar cookie dough. A half teaspoon of the flavoring will be enough for about 2 1/2 cups of flour. Along with the flavoring you may also add a little grated lemon rind.

Set Off The Fireworks! Serve This Patriotic Pie

Top off your holiday celebration with an "All-American Apple Pie" that tastes as good as it looks.

The pie features a simple-to-decorate pinwheel of cream cheese and accentuated by a lighted sparkler. The pie filling itself has a surprise flavor sparkler; a hint of butterscotch.

Team up the red and white pinwheel pie with "Stars 'n Stripes" Sugar Cookies for a party setting in all the colors of the flag.

ALL-AMERICAN APPLE PIE

5 cups sliced tart apples
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/4 cup water
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/4 cup flour
2 tbsps. sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
3/4 tsp. salt
3 tbsps. butter

In 2-quart saucepan, combine apples, brown sugar, water and lemon juice. Cook until tender over low heat for 7-8 minutes. Blend flour and sugar. Add to apples, cooking until syrup thickens. Remove from heat. Add vanilla, salt and butter. Pour into pastry-lined pie tin. Add top layer of crust, seal, and make small slits on top. Bake in preheated oven at 425 degrees for 40-45 minutes.

PINWHEEL TOPPING

Soften one 8-ounce package of cream cheese with 3 tablespoons of milk. Blend, either by hand or in blender, until cheese reaches the consistency of stiff frosting. Color one-half of the cheese red with food coloring. Using pastry decorator, apply white cheese first, starting at crust's outer edge. Slowly move toward center in spiral fashion, leaving about one-half inch space between rows. Then fill in between white rows with red cheese, also using pastry bag. Refrigerate until serving time.

STARS 'N STRIPES SUGAR COOKIES

Made from any simple sugar cookies recipe, decorated with tube-type

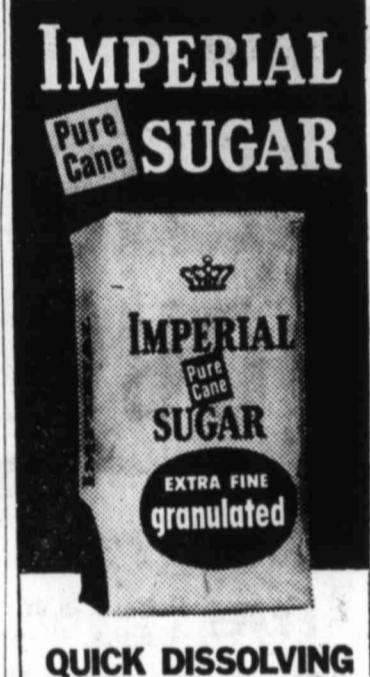

WITH PATRIOTIC holidays almost back-to-back in summer months, the clever hostess might want to add this pie to her party repertoire. The pinwheel is made from colored cream cheese, and it's topped with a real sparkler. For an added treat, frost sugar cookies as stars 'n stripes.

frosting. To each rectangular cookie, apply one red and one white stripe lengthwise. Outline each star-shaped cookie with a blue frosting border.

Store Leftover Turkey, Stuffing

Refrigerate leftover turkey meat, stuffing and gravy separately and promptly. Use within one or two days or place in your home freezer if you want to have another turkey dinner later. Be sure that such foods are properly packaged in air-tight containers or wrappings before freezing.

FAVORITE ON FOURTH — How about a picnic this evening? Forget those chores you were going to catch up on — and celebrate with the rest of the nation. Bake a basket of chicken and join Dad and the kids for an outdoor holiday.

Juicy Platter Of Chicken Assures Happy 'Fourth'

This year, a juicy platter of fried chicken assures you of having a glorious Fourth of July — or a glorious hot-weather meal anytime. Glorious Fried Chicken is crisp, succulent, tangy with the flavor of grated Parmesan. Nutritious, too, according to the National Broiler Council; chicken offers a pleasing quantity of quality protein. Hooray for chicken and for summer!

GLORIOUS FRIED CHICKEN

3 broiler-fryer chickens, cut in serving pieces
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
3/4 cup flour
2 eggs, beaten
2 tbsps. water
1 1/2 cups fine dry bread

Henley Attorney Decries Method Of Picking Jury

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A defense lawyer has threatened to walk out of jury selection in the trial of a youth accused in the Houston mass murders after the judge repeatedly took over questioning of prospective jurors.

"If the court is going to select our jurors for us, there will be no need for a defense," defense lawyer Will Gray told District Court Judge Preston Dial.

The clash came during jury selection Wednesday in the trial of Elmer Wayne Henley, 18, accused in the murders in Houston of 27 teen-aged youths. Henley has been named in six murder indictments.

RECESSES
Jury selection continues Friday after the court took off today's 4th of July holiday. When court resumes Friday, five more potential jurors must be named to make up a panel of 32. The final 12 who will serve on the jury will then be selected, probably Friday afternoon. Testimony is due to start Monday.

Dial and Gray repeatedly clashed Wednesday over the judge's taking over questioning of potential jurors about their opinions and attitudes.

Both the state and defense objected Wednesday when Dial allowed a woman released from probation in 1972 on a misdemeanor worthless check charge to qualify for jury service.

Don Lambright, an assistant district attorney, joined Gray in asking that the woman be excused.

The judge refused, saying, "I'm satisfied that she meets the criteria for jury duty."

Attorneys not connected with the case told reporters that Texas law does not prohibit persons of convicted of a misdemeanor from serving on a jury.

Several times when Gray had gotten an answer from potential jurors saying they had already formed an opinion in the sensational case, Dial took over questioning.

Dial would ask the potential jurors if they could conform to his instructions to put aside their earlier opinions and make a decision based on what they heard in court.

"I submit to the court that it's obvious that this person has an opinion (on guilt)," Gray said at one point.

FOLLOW LAW
The judge told Gray to "avoid asking any questions of jurors that elicit answers contrary to the law before they know what the law is. All you're entitled to is that they will follow the law," Dial said.

"I don't think it's a good practice to try to trick the juror," Dial said.

Gray replied, "It's my opinion, judge that this juror is trying to trick me."

Attorneys for both the state and defense have been forbidden by Dial to comment on the trial and were unable to answer reporter's questions about the

Suffocation Ruled In Tot's Death

DALLAS (AP) — A two-year-old girl suffocated in the back seat of a car while her aunt was conducting business downtown Wednesday afternoon.

Police said Priscilla Flores was found in the back seat of the compact car.

The aunt said the back seat window was down when she went to see about bailing her husband out of jail.

By the time she returned an hour later, the child had managed to get between the cushions in the back seat and apparently suffocated, police said.

The car was locked and all windows were rolled up. The outside temperature was 96 degrees.

The child and her mother, Mrs. Dalia Flores, believed to be from Corpus Christi, were staying with the aunt.

Farmhouse Spurs Maine Dispute

CUSHING, Maine (AP) — A farmhouse in this village made famous in paintings by Andrew Wyeth has become the center of a dispute between the artist and some local residents.

The controversy centers around the farmhouse depicted in Wyeth's "Christina's World." The structure was made into a museum for Wyeth's work in 1971. But it was closed last summer after two lawsuits from residents about the heavy tourist traffic. The Wyeths divide their time between Cushing and Chadds Ford, Pa.

Tech Team To Collect Fossils In Wyoming

LUBBOCK — Environmental changes can cause changes in the organisms which live in that environment. Evidence of change in the development of animals can be found in the fossil record of the past.
 Dr. Craig C. Black, director of The Museum of Texas Tech University, and a team of five graduate students will spend a portion of the summer in Wyoming collecting fossils in the Eocene, a 21-million-year period dating 59 to 38 million years ago. Their work will be part of a continuation of a study of Black and other scientists hoping to reconstruct the environment of the Eocene in and along the ancestral Rocky Mountains.
 "About 45 million years ago, a change occurred in the temperature of the earth and the climate began to warm," Black said. "Primitive animals had died off and modern mammals were just beginning to develop. This was a critical time in the development of mammals.

 "By studying fossils from the period, we can begin to understand how environmental changes occurred and affected the development and range of mammals," he said.
 The group will work in two sites in Wyoming this summer. They will begin at Badwater where fossils can be found dating 45 to 40 million years ago. Four of the graduate students will remain at Badwater for work during July and August.
 Black and one graduate student will work at Jackson Hole where some of the same kinds of fossils appear at a higher altitude and can be dated 37 to 36 million years ago.
 "That the same kind of fossils appear in different periods at different altitudes lends support to our theory that as the climate warmed, some kinds of animals found it necessary to change their habitat," Black said. "A portion of our work at Jackson Hole will provide more evidence toward proving this theory."
 The summer's work is funded by the National Science Foundation under a two-year $24,000 grant received in 1972.
 Black's studies are being conducted in cooperation with Dr. Mary R. Dawson of the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh. Black and Dawson have worked on the Eocene study for more than nine years in British Columbia, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and the Big Bend area of Texas.

 Among the fossils being collected are small rodents including mice and early rabbits, insectivores such as shrews and voles and deer-like animals, said Black.
 "Some of the animals resemble their modern counterparts," said Black, "but they do not look exactly like the animals we know today. Many are extinct while others have evolved into more modern forms."
 "By looking at the past and gaining an understanding of what changes have occurred, we may better begin to understand our present and gain insight into what might lie ahead," he said.
 Graduate students working with Black this summer are: John F. Sutton, son of Mrs. J. R. Sutton, 638 S. Van Buren, Green Bay, Wis.; Leonard S. Krishalka, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Krishalka, 5561 Oakwood Ave., Montreal, Canada; Takeshi Setoguchi, son of Yoshio Setoguchi, 63 8th Kyomachi Fushimi, Kyoto, Japan; Bill Barone, son of Dominic Barone, 1125 University Ave., the Bronx, New York; and Dave Bohaska, 8214 Burnley Rd., Towson, Md.
 Sutton will work in the Jackson Hole area. The others will work at Badwater.

Man Determined To Set Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "I can do better than that," said teacher Gordon Brooks when he saw the listing in the Guinness Book of World Records for running from New York to Los Angeles.
 Brooks, 28, started jogging from New York's City Hall 13 days ago and jogged through his hometown here Wednesday. He has to reach Los Angeles' City Hall by Aug. 13 to beat the record of 53 days, 12 hours and 15 minutes.
 He hopes to reach Los Angeles on Aug. 10. He says he has lost seven pounds and worn out two pairs of tennis shoes so far.

Building Permit Given Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission Review Board Wednesday approved a construction permit for a new FM radio station in Brownsville, Tex., reversing an earlier judgment.
 The review board reversed a denial of the permit by FCC administration lawyer Judge William Jensen. The board said Jensen "clearly exceeded his authority in this case."

Big Government, Special Interests Turner's Targets

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Promoter Glenn W. Turner, saying he isn't the only candidate who has been indicted before he runs, is campaigning for the U.S. Senate.
 Turner, who has been indicted on federal mail fraud charges, is one of nine persons seeking nomination in the Democratic primary on Sept. 10. The winner will challenge Republican incumbent Edward J. Gurney.
 Turner is scheduled to stand trial Aug. 5 for the second time for allegedly conspiring to defraud "persons too numerous to mention." He and seven former associates are accused of selling distributorships in Turner-controlled cosmetics and motivational firms without supplying necessary merchandise. The first trial ended in a hung jury.
 Turner, 39, said he would campaign against big government, special interests and deal-making politicians.
