Mystery Shooting

STAMFORD, Tex. (AP) - Peace officers sought today to unravel a mystery shooting in which three persons were reported wounded but they could find only one-who later died.

The shooting occurred about 11 p.m. at a beer store in the Tuxedo community, east of here in the north edge of Jones County.

Sheriff Garth Garrett from neighboring Haskell County said an unidentified man asked a telephone operator to summon aid, telling her that "three people have been shot, one of them bad." He said apparently the same man took that message on foot to the home nearby of the store's manager,

On arrival, officers found James Wendeburn, about 30, lying in a pool of blood in a storage room. A charge from his own shotgun had struck him in the neck, and he died three hours later at a Stamford hospital.

In the confusion, the man calling for aid disappeared.

Vandals Hit City Golf Course Again

The golf course vandals struck again Monday night, tearing up four greens and doing a total damage estimated at $228, according to the police

This time, the culprits also stole six flags from the greens. The city course has been plagued with vandalism and constant damage since early

Falls 12 Stories, Bounces Off Car

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) - A window cleaner fell 12 stories from an apartment building, bounced off a parked car, then recuperated with a drink in the apartment manager's suite.

Norm Lawrence, 23, was working on the top floor of the Del Charro apartments Monday when a knot in the rope connecting his platform to a pulley came loose. He hit the roof of a car parked near the side of the building and bounced from there to the ground. He suffered a cut on the head and a sore ankle and Lawrence said he believes the sore ankle came in the fall from the roof of the car to the ground.

(AP) - Corll was the man who had The jury sentenced Elmer perpetrated this monstrous Wayne Henley, 18, to six prison tragedy for at least a year and terms of 99 years each today a half before Wayne became infor his part in the sex-torture slayings of six youths who were among the 27 who died in the nation's largest mass slaying case in modern history.

The jury convicted Henley Monday of the six murders.

Henley's attorney said the convictions will be appealed. By Texas' parole laws, he could be freed in eight years and four months under perfect condtions.

I APOLOGIZE The sentence came after Dist. Atty. Carol Vance told the jury, "I apologize to the jurors that the laws of the state of Texas do not permit the death penalty in these cases."

Vance asked the jury to assess six 99-year sentences and it complied.

Multiple sentences of more than 60 years each are considered as one sentence for parole

The state admitted that the teen-ager had come under the deadly influence of a 33-year old homosexual mastermind. But it contended before the jury that not only did he procure victims for pay but actually enjoyed witnessing the homosexual tortures. ATTACKING

The judge said that if the jury found Henley willingly present at the murders he was guilty whether he killed the victims or not since that was evidence of agreement and encouragement.

The defense centered its efforts largely on attacking the crediblity of the investigators and to objections to certain evidence and some of the legal instructions to the jury.

Both the prosecution and defense decided not to introduce new evidence at the punishment hearing.

Ed Pegelow, a defense lawyer, urged the jurors to consider as they debated Henley's sentence that he was only 15 years old when he became involved with Dean Corll, 33, the nian police say was the mastermind in the Houston mass mur-TRAGEDY

TOKYO (AP) - An American businessman says he suggested the plan by which 85 persons escaped from a hijacked Japanese Air Lines plane at Nagoya, 170 miles southwest of Tckyo. Police seized the hijacker, a young Japanese construction worker, after the 81 passengers and four of the eight crew members got safely off the plane Monday. The hijacker stabbed himself in the neck danger in a hospital. Milton M. Richmond, 48, of Chicago, one of two Americans aboard, said he persuaded the stewardesses to open the rear emergency exits while the hijacker was in the cockpit talking to Nagoya airport officials by radio.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) -Former President Yun Po-sun and three other prominent Koreans went on trial today in a military court on charges of inciting rebellion against the government of President Chung Hee Park. The indictments charged the four-including a history professor, a theology dean and the minister of a church in Seoul - with providing financial aid to a clandestine student group known as the National Democratic Youth-Student Federation. Five leaders of the federation were among 14 persons sentenced to death last week on charges of fomenting mass uprisings to overthrow Park.

Two Armed Prisoners Surrender To Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Two armed convicts, driven back by gunfire and tear gas in a desperate attempt to escape their besieged cellblock, surrendered to law officers Monday night, ending a 105-hour ordeal at the U.S. District Courthouse.

Hours after their frantic effort to find freedom by axing their way into a courthouse ventilation duct, Frank Gorham Jr., 26, and Robert N. Jones, 24, were flown to the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary.

Your wheels use twice as much energy per passenger-mile as ours.* With less fuel available and higher costs for that fuel, your wheels may turn slower and slower. So if you're going anywhere, think about a more efficient set of wheels. Our fares are economical and inter-city bus travel is the most fuel saving means of transportation. We think it's better to take Continental Trailways than to spin your own wheels.

Of course you'd call a doctor for the boy. Perhaps an ambulance. But what would you do in the meanwhile?

Have you the first aid equipment you may need? The American Red Cross and the American Safety Council can recommend to you a list of bandages of various shapes and sizes, and the material from which to make others, along with tourniquet equipment, and some useful small tools. They can also suggest (if your doctor approves) some ordinary medications. And the chances are good that your own family doctor will be glad to talk the subject over

The point is to be prepared to cope with those emergencies with which the average person can cope.

On an equally important subject: what have you done to prevent the accidents in the home from occuring in the first place? Have you added non-skid strips and grab-bars in the bathtub and shower? Made sure there are no loose rugs on slick floors? Absolutely separated anything flammable from all flames? Learned from your fire department how to store small amounts of gasoline safely?

Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans cover medical care for injuries to its members, whether at home or somewhere else. But as People Helping People, we'd much prefer to help keep you from getting hurt.

Why don't you get in touch with us now, while good health coverage is on your mind. Look up Blue Cross and Blue Shield in your Yellow Pages; then give us a ring. We offer a broad range of excellent coverages, for groups and individuals. Give us a call.

It costs nothing to talk it over; and it may save a great deal of worry

Thixton Says Summer Days Are Cycling Days

Summer is the glorious season for motorcycle buffs when their enthusiasm builds up to a roar. The fame of Evel Kneivel has increased the popularity of mo-

Motorcycling is one of the fastest growing popular sports in America. More and more, we hear of motorcycle rodeos and the old motorcycle hill climbs are still popular.

In Big Spring, the most experienced motorcycle enthusiast is Cecil Thixton and Cecil Thixton's is the place to go to keep your motorcycle in tip-top shape for those long-range or short-hop overland trips.

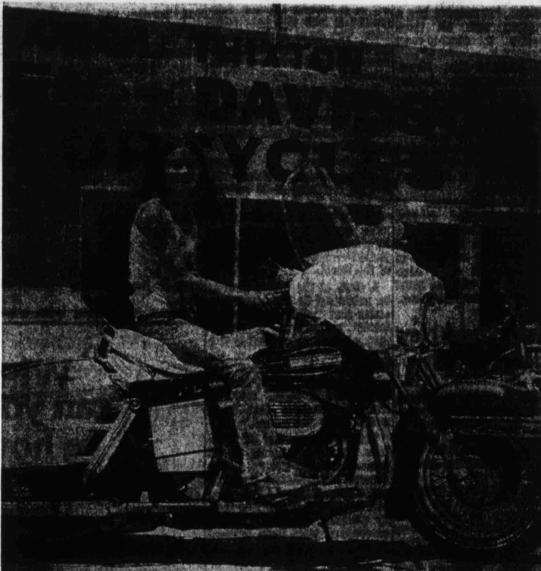

Big Spring's motorcycle and bicycle center for the past 45 years has been and still is at Cecil Thixton's, at 908 W. 3rd where the Harley Davidson motorcycles are sold. Call 263-2322 for information about motorcycles. There has been a service there since 1929. Their workshop can service all brands of cycles, lawn mowers and bicycles whenever parts are available. Factory trained personnel are ready to help you with your problems. Thixton calls the Harley-Davidson "the safest thing on wheels." He has been riding one since the 30s. The line at Thixton's includes all models - everything from the mini-bike to the ultimate in powerful models. The cycle season is in full swing and Cecil Thixton is definitely the man to see. Drop by his shop to look for a new or used motorcycle, a bicycle or a lawnmower. You're lways welcome at Thixton's.

The broadcast said Makarios vowed: "I shall devote all my energies to liberate the people of Cyprus. We shall never submit to dictatorship."

Meanwhile, the army rebels claimed they had arrested 1,200 members of Makarios' tactical reserve force, including its commander.

A rebel broadcast on Radio Cyprus said a new government would be sworn in today and that a curfew continued in effect for the entire island, with only ambulances allowed to move about.

SAFE AND WELL? The tactical reserve force was a special police unit raised by Makarios to protect his regime from the Greek-officered National Guard. Some members were reported to have fought hard Monday in defense of the 60-year-old president and archbishop. The rebel broadcast said the men in custody were "safe and well."

Radio Cyprus also broadcast a message from the United States Embassy asking all Americans on the island to remain calm, obey the orders of the security forces and contact the Embassy when telephone communications were restored.

The United Nations and the British Foreign Office reported Makarios escaped Monday from Nicosia, the capital, to Paphos, 60 miles southwest, and met there with the British officer commanding U. N. peacekeeping forces in that dis-

A Welcome Prospect

According to Family Planning Perspectives, the latest studies show that there is a marked decline in the reproduction rate among the poor, blacks, and the minority ethnic groups.

While there undoubtedly are individual exceptions, in general this puts a different slant on the notion that the disadvantaged are engaged in indiscriminate child-bearing. If this is borne out over a period of time as a trend, then it may cast some light on other matters. For instance, the numbers living in poverty may be less than we have projected, and hence, a lesser percentage of national resources required for their support in the future.

If this is a trend, it is a welcome one.

Dear Blue Eyes

Art Buchwald

Dear Blue Eyes:

I just wanted to tell you how shocked all of us here in America were when we heard the Australians had cut off your room service and refused to refuel your private airplane just because you called women reporters "$1.50 hookers" and said male reporters were "parasites who never do an honest day's work in their life." I mean didn't they know who they were messing with?

AS SOON as the bulletin came out on the wire services, I called the White House and said, "What are you going to do about Frank?" You know what the joker on the phone said? "Frank who?" That just shows you what shape the White House is in since all your pals left. I'll tell you one thing. If Spiro was still there, they wouldn't have asked "Frank who?" So I told them, "Frank Sinatra, the Chairman of the Board, Ol' Blue Eyes himself. The Aussies are holding him hostage because he insulted the press and his people started beating up on reporters.

What are you going to do about it?

WELL. YOU know what the bumpkin said? "That's an internal matter between Mr. Sinatra and the Australians." That really got me sore and I said, "Do you know Frank gave more than $100,000 to Nixon's campaign? Doesn't he get a little service

So this flunky said, "What do you want us to do?"

"Nuke 'em!" I said.

"Nuke 'em?" he answered like he was shocked or something. "Check it out with Kissinger before you say no. He owes Frank a favor." I DIDN't get any satisfaction from the White House so I called the Australian embassy and got the ambassador on the line. I said unless the prime minister of his country personally apologized to you, Maxine Cheshire would throw a picket line around his embassy and cut off his water and gas. He got a little nervous about that, but he said Australia was a free country, and he couldn't do anything about what unions over there decided to do to you.

I TOLD him he wasn't messing around with some pop singer, Frank. I said you were the greatest enchilada of them all. I said unless you got some satisfaction for the way you were treated, America was going to lay on a boycott of kangaroo meat that would make the Aussies' heads

I think I got the message through because he said he would get in touch with his government and report back

I KNOW you're wondering why I'm doing all this for you. The truth is I'm not only doing it for you, but for every American entertainer in the . . Like Sammy Davis Jr. who wasn't invited to a cocktail party at the onaco palace. We've got to draw the line somewhere, and you're as good a case as any.

Noon On Abortion

William F. Buckley Jr.

There is room for passion in almost every argument, but there is room, too, for dispassion, and those arguments overfreighted with passion tend only to polarize the combatants, and tune out those who do not care.

THE ARGUMENTS over abortion have been in this category, and it is a pity. Indeed it may very well be more than a pity, a tragedy: if the moral analysis of the antiabortionists finally prevails upon the national ethos. The arguments over slavery used to be full of passion, and resulted in a civil war. Even so, there were those who were patiently making the rational points on the basis of which the great insight was finally established. Lincoln, debating with Douglas, for instance. And in due course we came to know not orly that man was born to be free, but that men brought over in ships from Africa with black skins, were also men: and born to be free. The Civil War settled the political issue. The arguments of Lincoln and others, resting on a distinguished moral and philosophical patrimony, clinched the moral case.

I HAVE SEEN, 7 think, the very first attempt to talk about abortion which manages to avoid every one of the blood-curdling cliches used both by those who believe in abortion, and those who oppose it. It is a most remarkable essay by John T. Noonan Jr., and it is simply entitled, "How to Argue about Abortion."

John Noonan is a professor of philosophy and of law at the University of California, in Berkeley, and he shows us here how a subject as sundering as abortion can be discussed. What to look for. What the protected by a vision restricted to relevant perceptions are. What at all

It is not only a distinguished performance, it is a beautiful performance, and although the pamphlet sells for one dollar, I'll send to anyone who wants it for nothing, if you will write me at Box 574, Murray Hill Station, New York 10016. Just say: "Please send me Noonan pamphlet.'

PROF. NOONAN does some truly marvelous things in a few thousand words. He examines, for instance, the role of perception in the controversy in question. I have myself gagged over the anti-abortion material that features pictures of fetuses. I have also gagged at pictures of war that features mangled corpses. I have always assumed that the reaction of horror and disgust was philosophically irrelevant. Noonan shows, without drawing the same analogy, why in fact it is not. What in fact perception means so very much in modern in-

"PERCEPTION OF fetuses is possible with no substantially greater effort than that required to pierce the physical or psychological barriers to recognizing other human beings. The main difficulty is everyone's reluctance to accept the extra burdens of care imposed by an expansion of the numbers in whom humanity is recognized. It is generally more convenient to have to consider only one's kin, one's peers, one's country, one's race. Seeing requires personal attention and personal response. Mrs. Doris Perkins is a gracious, attractive woman who works for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company. She came by the office Monday to leave some literature she hoped we might use when space permitted.

Soft-spoken, low key, she smiled with a warmness that made you feel she must be a pleasant person - the kind of woman to whom nice things happen. Yet, she told me nothing about herself except in brief answers to direct questions.

I DID FIND out this: Mrs. Perkins has been a widow since 1965 when her busband, Arthur Perkins, lost a long battle with Huntington's Disease. They had one son, Larry, who could not escape the inherited, neurological disease which is passed through the genes of an affected parent to children. Huntington's disease is fatal, and it is not kind. Death comes gradually, taking five to twenty years. It takes a terrible physical, emotional and financial toll on the afflicted and their But Larry's travail did not last as long as it could have. In 1970, at the beautiful age of 19, he died. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins had one daughter who is now 21 years old and the wife of Lt. James C. Woods who was formerly stationed at Webb Air Force Base. They now live at Kessler Air Force Base and have a little boy named Brian. Huntington's Disease symptoms usually begin to appear at age 35 to 40, the peak of life, and after genes have already been passed on to a new generation. Mrs. Woods and

Brian have a long time to go before they'll know whether they're among the lucky ones - or if they're doomed to totlow in her father's footsteps. It's a fifty-fifty chance.

IT WAS with this background of personal experience that Mrs. Perkins agreed in 1971 to take the lead in organizing the West Texas Committee to Combat Huntington's Disease. Doubtless, she was also inspired and strengthened by the appearance here at that time of Mrs. Majorie Guthrie, national CCHD president, and widow of American folk singer, Woody

Guthrie, who died of the disease. Mrs. Guthrie's three talented children are grown now, but live with the knowledge that they may have inherited the disease from their famous father. Mrs. Guthrie was introduced to her husband by Will Geer, the actor who plays "grandpa" on the TV series, "The Waltons," and they have remained close friends since their early days in New York City when Mrs. Guthrie was a dancer with the famed Martha Graham troupe.

Mrs. Guthrie and Big Spring's own Doris Perkins personify the courageous women who are giving so much of themselves to raise funds with which to finance research into the causes, effects and treament of this terrible disease. Until recently, HD victims and their families had to struggle alone, but if everyone helps now, perhaps the killer can be captured in a test tube. Look for the blue and white cannisters, or contact Mrs. Perkins if you can help in other

Cutting The Budget

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON - President Nixon's commitment to anti-inflationary budget cuts will soon be measured by his decision on Treasury Secretary William Simon's proposal for a minimum $1 billion reduction in the

THAT POSES A painful dilemma for Mr. Nixon. In White House meetings, he has agreed with Simon's fervent declaration that substantial budget cuts are essential to avoid continuous, ruinous double-digit inflation. But to cut the present budget by the $4 billion to $5 billion that Simon regards as minimal, he knows at least some gesture toward trimming the defense budget MUST be made. yet, in view of heavy Soviet arms spending, it can be argued in interests of national security that Pentagon spending should be increased rather than decreased,

THE PRESIDENT CAN effect no budget reductions whatever unless he cuts arms spending. Whether he does or not, therefore, will test the President's interest in making his first truly serious effort to brake everhigher spending. Simultaneously, it will gauge Simon's strength and perhaps his future in Washington.

No sooner had Simon been sworn in at the Treasury May 9 than he began pushing for budget-trimming to fight inflation. His bitter personal rival, budget director Roy Ash, immediately responded that no effective cuts were possible. But their intermittent public debate only suggests the intensity of their incessant backstage struggle.

But Simon has allies. The Treasury cites support from prominent business economists - Alan Greenspan, Dr. Pierre Rinfret and Eliot Janeway who seldom agree with each other but believe business markets would respond immediately and favorably to Simon's effort. Greenspan, expected become chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, believes serious efforts must be made now to avoid a disastrous runaway budget by mid-

Over the long run, Simon wants to pare down the entire budget - including so-called "uncontrollable" social welfare spending. Moreover, he insists the Pentagon is not immune, although he has been soft pedalling this. For the present fiscal year, which began July 1, that boils down to cuts of $4 billion-$5 billion with hopes at the Treasury for more, and a bare $1 Billion in defense reductions; although to some like to Sen Proxmire of Wisconsin this seems ridiculously inadequate.

required act of the penitent. But the accompanying circumstances, the emotions displayed, the praying friends involved, the Scripture used by the Holy Spirit, all these vary from person to person. A great Biblical illustration of this is chapter 16 of Acts. You have both the dramatic conversion experience of the Philippian jailor, and also the quiet, rather passive "Christian beginning" of the businesswoman Lydia.

The emotions are not always dependable barometers of the acts of the will. On the other hand, nothing I've said should minimize the joy and power of the new found faith.

We're building power plants that use different fuels so you'll continue having the electricity you need.

Natural gas is the major fuel we use in our generating plants, and will be for several years. Oil is used on a standby basis.

But new supplies of these fuels are extremely difficult to obtain and increasingly expensive. To reduce our dependence on them, we've begun using lignite coal. We now have one lignite plant in operation, and two others under construction.

We have adequate supplies of lignite for the operating life of these plants and for some additional planned units. Even so, we will need another dependable fuel source for the future. That's why we're planning to have a nuclear-fueled plant in operation by

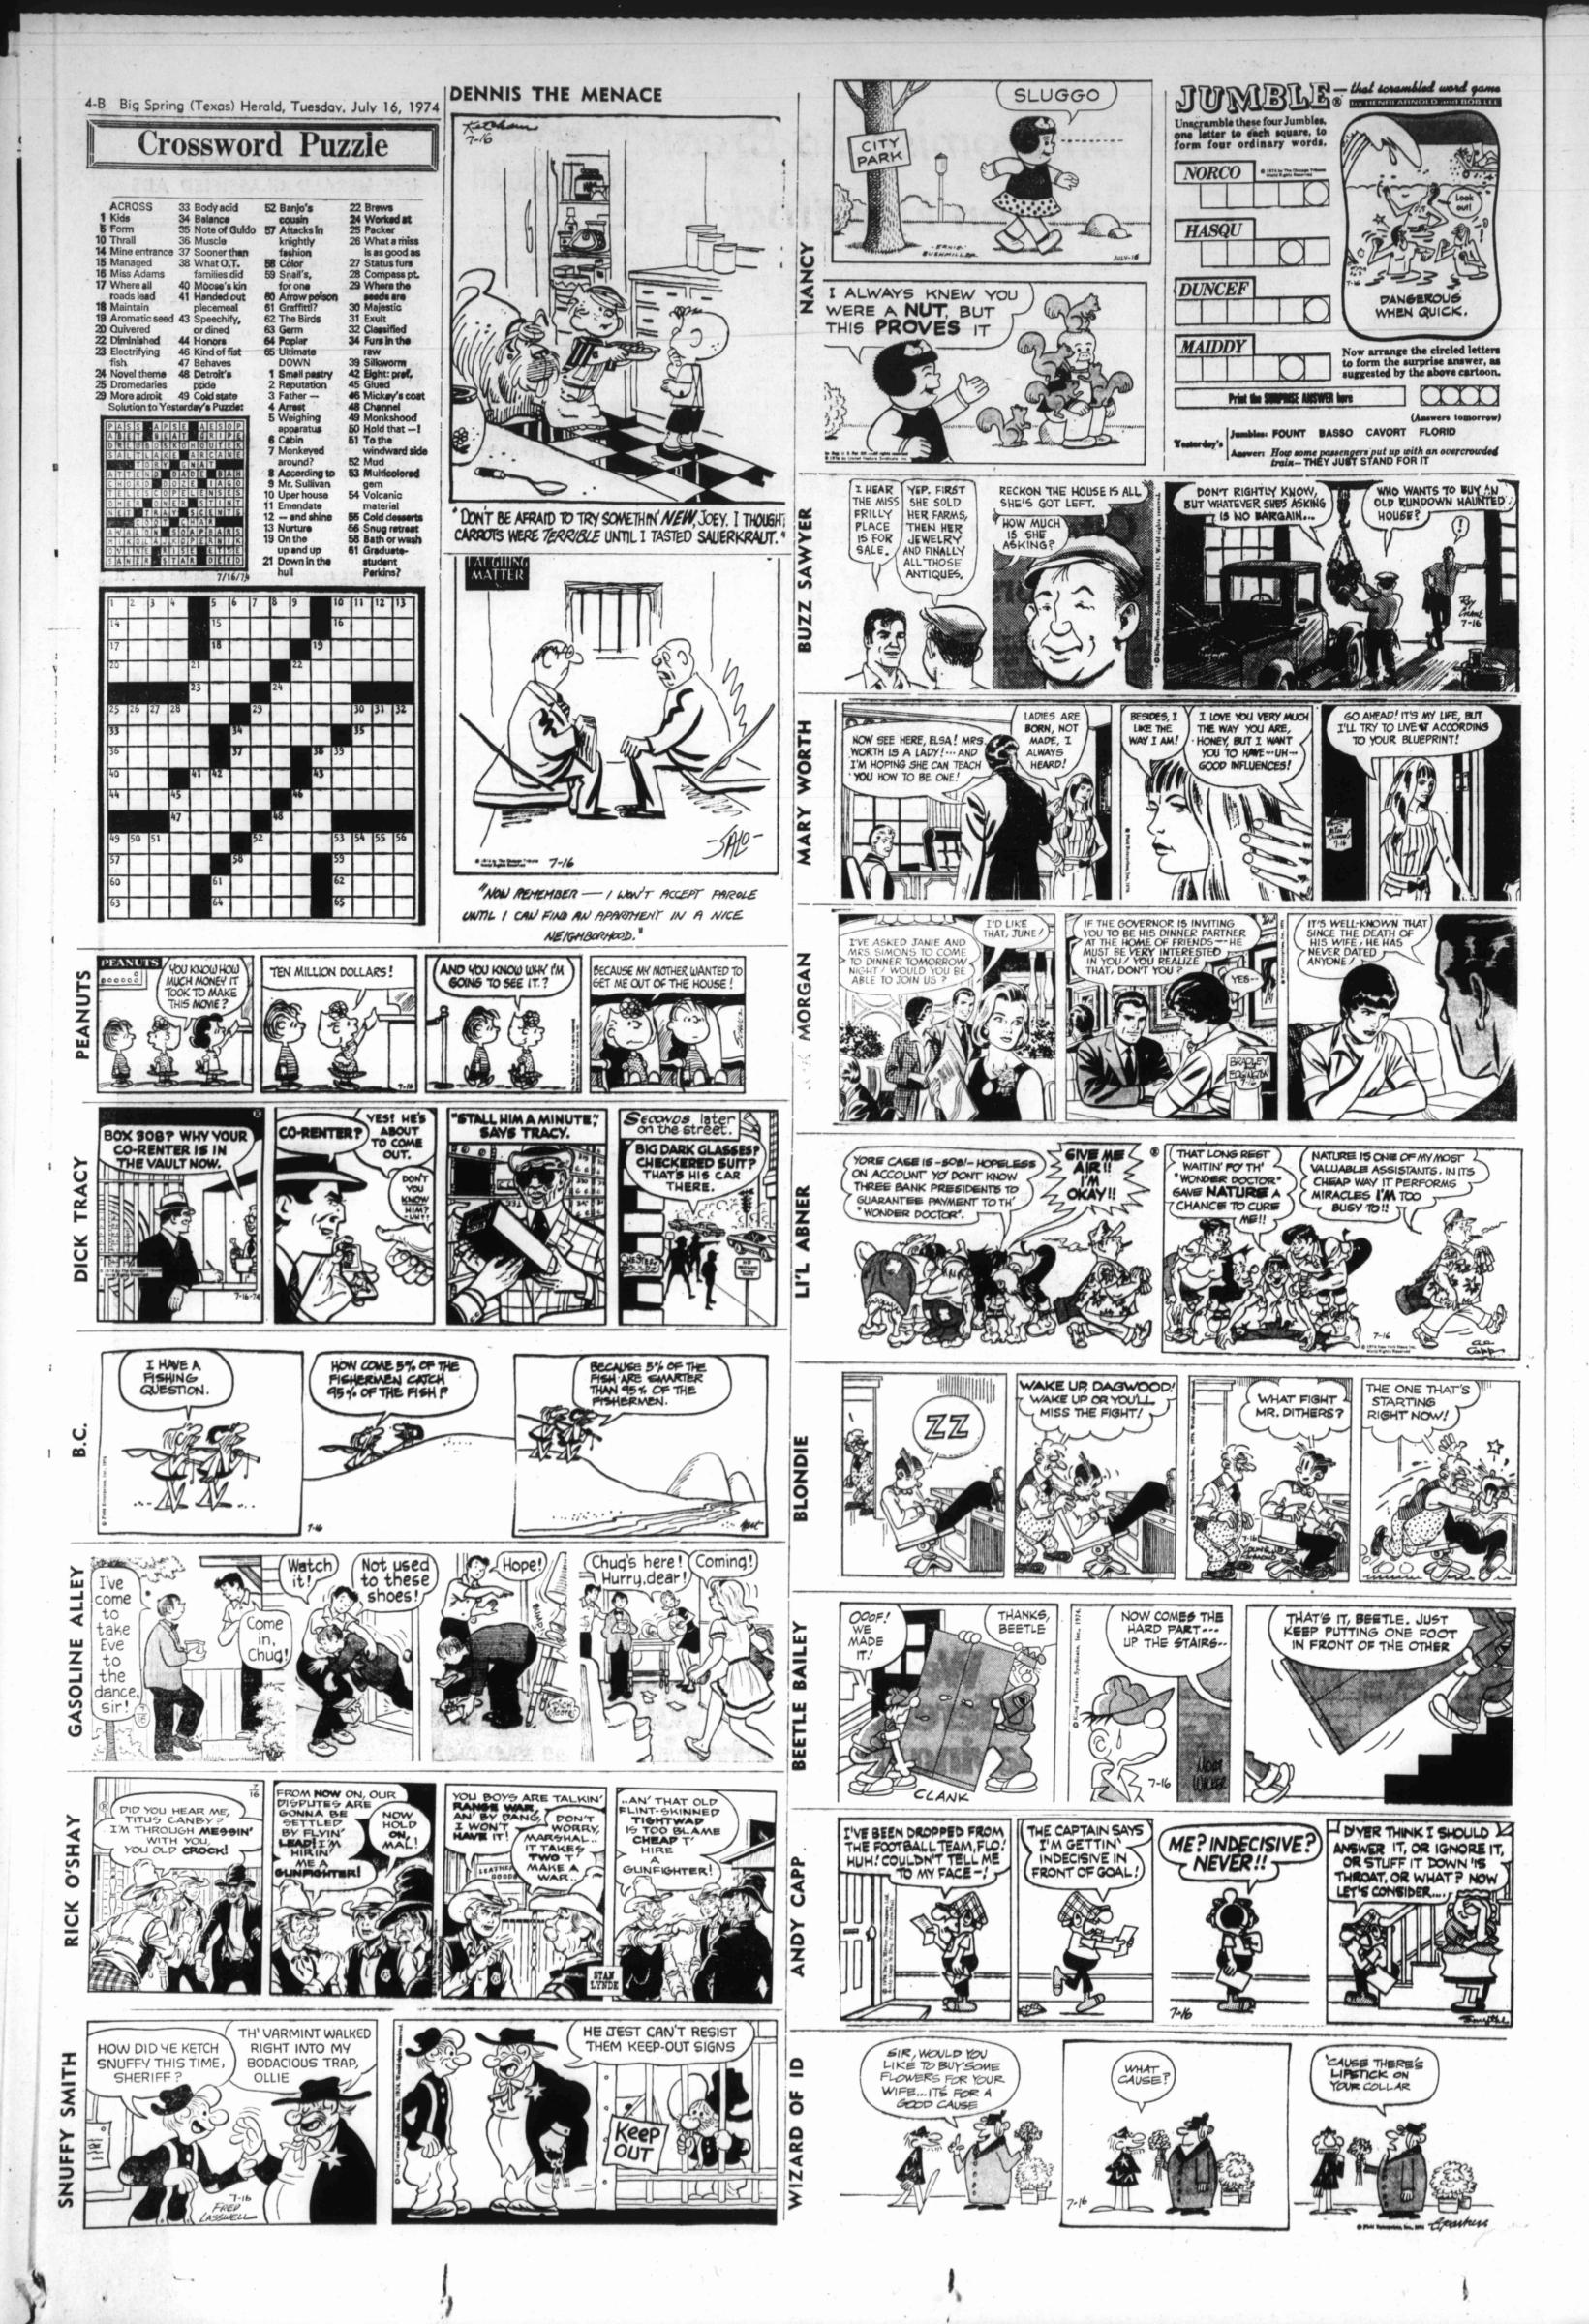

The use of lignite and nuclear fuels is necessary to provide enough electricity in the years ahead. Supplies of these fuels are more abundant and neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity.

But building plants that use these fuels is a difficult and expensive job. Lignite and nuclear plants cost much more to build than gas/oil plants. While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost will be less with lignite and nuclear fuels than it would be with natural gas and oil, even if adequate new supplies were available.

We're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

TV 'Star' Carried Out Her Own Death Script

relevision talk show host Chris Chubbuck wrote her own death script and then carried it out by putting a gun to her temple and pulling the trigger as television viewers watched.

The attractive WXLT-TV anchorwoman, 29, died in a hospital 14 hours later. Her handwritten, blood-spattered newscript read, "Today Chris Chubbuck shot herself during a live broadcast."

The story she had scrawled in longhand was found on the desk where she sat Monday morning and calmly announced to viewers what she said was a television first: BLOOD AND GUTS

"In keeping with Channel 40's policy of bringing you the latest in blood and guts and in living color you are going to see another first-attempted suicide." L-6 Then she reached into a shop-

Dear Abby Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My sisterin-law is a very self-centered person. She left her husband (my brother) after 25 years of marriage, to marry a gigolo-type man.

This caused my brother to have a nervous breakdown, during which time she never came near him to offer sympathy or help to her former mate, who would have died had it not been for us - his sisters and brothers.

This faithless wife even gave custody of their 15year-old son to her husband, saying the boy was a

DEAR ABBY: Who is right? Here is the situation: My husband of three years, my in-laws and I were having supper at our house. My husband said to me, "Honey, will you please get me some more water?" I said to him, "God gave you two strong legs. If you want more water, get it yourself, dear." (We all work fulltime.) His mother immediately jumped up from the table and got him some more

I said nothing at the table, but later I told my husband that I didn't think his mother should intercede in a two-way discussion between him and me.

DEAR WIFE: Your mother-in-law should have ignored the exchange between your husband and you, but shouldn't have made a big deal out of it. She probably acted out of habit. (Mothers are easily trained.)

CONFIDENTIAL UNCLE HENRY: No horse can go as fast as the money you bet on him.

Gifts Are Presented To Couple

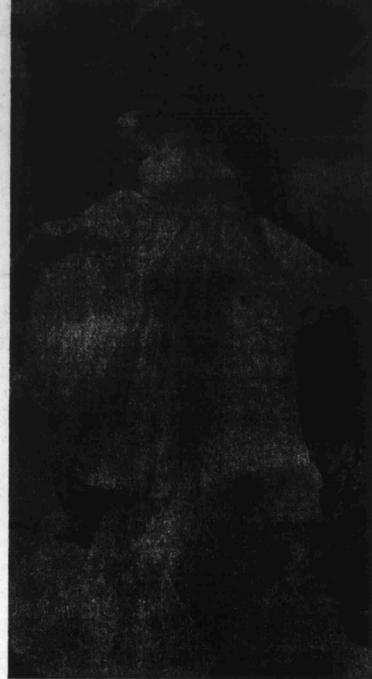

Miss Teresa Louder of Stanton and her fiance, Steve Herm of Ackerly were honored Thursday with a wedding shower in the home of Mrs. Norman Wallace of Ackerly. Assisting the couple in opening gifts were their mothers, Mrs. Edgar Herm and Mrs. Marshall Louder.

Miss Louder and the mothers were presented corsages of white carnations tied with blue ribbons.

Miss Melinda Wallace of Florey presided at the guest registry. Hostesses were Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Mrs. Earl Newcomer, Mrs. Marlin Gibson, Mrs. O'Brian Bowlin, Mrs. Marvin Franks, Mrs. Norman Cluck, Mrs. Donald Allred, Mrs. Leonard Coleman, Mrs. Gus Cowart, Mrs. Leon Bodine, Mrs. Bill Etchison, Mrs. Wanda Russell, Mrs. Jake Harry, Mrs. Covie Williams, Mrs. Gene Cates, Mrs. J. R. Clement and Mrs. Howard Armstrong.

The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth edged in lace and centered with arrangement of blue and white spring flowers.

The couple plans to be married Aug. 16 in the First Baptist Church, Stanton.

ITALIAN FASHION - This evening gown with tiers of white silk is among the fall-winter designs presented by Martieri of Rome. A black rose at the shoulder and black evening shoes provide a touch of contrast.

exhibit committee meets, also the trustees have their quarterly session. Mrs. Mary Skalicky, head of the department of fine arts at Howard College, has been attending the David Bar-Illan piano master class at SMU. Bar-Illan, formerly Dr. and Mrs. O.P. Conof Israeli, is artist-in-DAV Auxiliary Officers residence and professor of piano at SMU. The internationally famed pianist has apeared with the Dallas Symphony and Dallas Civic Association.

There was a time when the art community tended to look down its nose at the illustrator, but over the years too much sound art has issued from this source for the experts any longer to deny its existence. Thus, Donald McCulley, who has put on several exhibits here for Heritage Museum, is "illustrators" at his Mc-Culley Fine Arts Gallery, 2539 Cedar Springs, Dallas 75201. Some of the names with works on display are Tom Lovell, Frank Mc-Carty, Robert K. Abbott, Bam, Paul Calle, Jim Francis Golden, Robert Peak, John Scott and Arthur Shelstine.

"Twelfth Night" alternates with "The Invalid" by Moliere this week at the Globe of the Great Southwest Theatre in Odessa as the annual Skakespearean festival. Also included in the repertoire is "Macbeth." Performances are nightly except for matinees on Sunday through Aug. 25.

Notes from Spokane, Wash., indicate that the world's fair exposition is drawing well. All of the major exhibits are open, and most of them have been since the beginning of the fair in May.

A showing of the works of Aaron Pina Mora opens today at the Museum of the Southwest in Midland, Mora has worked with many of the great painters of Mexico, including Diego Rivera and Jose Orozco, and he did the mural on the governor's palace walls for the state of Chihuahua.
