Cyprus Units Pressing Hunt For Left-Wingers

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Cyprus National Guard pressed a massive manhunt today for left-wing politicians and others who supported deposed President Makarios.

More than 1,000 persons have been arrested since the guard's Greek officers led it in a coup Monday. Soldiers began house-to-house searches in Nicosia and other cities, towns and villages Wednesday.

SHOOTING

All but token resistance to the coup and the president it installed, Nikos Sampson, ended with the fall Tuesday of Paphos, the last stronghold of Archbishop Makarios on the west coast of the island.

Shooting was reported in the countryside but the new regime's information chief, Spyros Papageorghiou, told newsmen: "The shots you hear are merely the rejoicing of national guardsmen. Our revolution is a complete success and there is no organized resistance."

Papageorghiou's predecessor, Miltiades Christodoulou, was arrested Wednesday. He was one of Makarios' closest advisers and an outspoken opponent of the Greek junta in Athens.

The American-born wife of another Makarios confidant, Dr. Vassos Lyssarides, was captured in a mountain village. Mrs. Lyssarides, the former Barbara Cornwall, is well known here as a writer and journalist.

STILL SOUGHT

Her husband, still being sought, heads the left-wing Center Union party.

"All arrested will receive humane treatment; the days of tyranny are over," said Papageorghiou.

Casualties in the past three days of fighting between National Guard soldiers and pro-Makarios police have not been announced. But Papageorghiou acknowledged they were "high," and a nurse at the Nicosia General Hospital said 200 dead and wounded had been counted there.

Diplomatic sources said an early United Nations estimate of 30 dead in Nicosia was much too low. The only foreign casualties so far reported were a 6-year-old American girl and an American woman hit by bullets while driving through the city. Their wounds were not critical.

MACHINE GUNS

Troops with machine guns manned checkpoints throughout Nicosia and lined the main roads to the airport, where three Greek airliners have landed during the past 24 hours with high-ranking officials from Athens.

Curfew restrictions were lifted Wednesday for eight hours. The capital's Greek Cypriots stripped supermarkets and corner groceries of canned goods in a frantic shopping spree.

Crowds of civilians gathered at the police station to hand in guns and ammunition in response to the new government's orders. Radio Cyprus threatened house-to-house searches and military trials for persons found with weapons. Broadcasts also warned that anyone moving through the city at night would be shot on sight.

The regime introduced strict press censorship today.

RESTRICTIONS

"We will not allow criticism of the government," Papageorghiou said. "All foreign press dispatches must be stamped by the censor."

Greek Cypriot newspapers

were to appear today for the first time since the coup, but the spokesman warned editors that the contents would be "limited to announcements by the president and the new government . . ."

Similar restrictions were to be applied to foreign journalists, and a total ban was announced on taking photographs and on TV film.

The only pictures permitted in Cyprus newspapers will be government handouts, he said. Newly appointed Foreign Minister Dimis Demetriou paid unannounced visits to the United States Embassy and the British High Commission Wednesday. He was understood to have received no encouragement for hopes of diplomatic recognition.

NIXON'S DEFENSE

Did Not Okay Hush Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House lawyer James St. Clair today gave the House Judiciary Committee a partial transcript of a presidential conversation he said proved President Nixon was not aware of and did not approve paying hush money to Watergate defendants.

St. Clair, briefing newsmen after a closed-door summation of his impeachment defense, said the 2½-page transcript was part of a tape of a March 22, 1973, conversation the committee had subpoenaed earlier but which Nixon had refused to provide.

St. Clair said the excerpt he supplied to the committee quoted Nixon as saying blackmail would not be paid to the Watergate defendants.

A crucial part of the committee's Watergate evidence is that $75,000 was paid to Hunt the night of March 21, following Dean's talk with Nixon.

St. Clair was reminded at the briefing that Nixon has repeatedly told the committee it had the whole story of Watergate.

In releasing edited transcripts two months ago, Nixon said he had now made available the full Watergate story.

Seven Die In Flames

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — The first thing deputy Leroy Abreau saw at the burning Lee farm house was a dog in flames. Inside seven persons were dead, including a mother clutching a baby.

"It looked like a torch," Abreau said after spotting the rural frame house ablaze at 2:48 a.m. today.

It was the second fire at the Lee farm in seven months. The house was completely gutted Dec. 6, 1973 but a new one was built.

"Last time they got out, they got the old man in his wheelchair and got out," said an unidentified fireman.

This time Nick Lee, 80, an invalid, and six members of his family were trapped. The other victims were Mary Lee, 40; Freddie Lee, 25; Janie V. Lee, 18; Willie Lee, 16; and Calvin Lee, 11 months.

"Tragedy. A hell of a tragedy. It's the most I've even seen in one house," said Harrison County deputy Ernest Webba. "The tragic thing is that this same house burned down a year ago."

Investigators had no explanation for the fire. A wood cook stove was used in the house, but the firemen doubted it caused the inferno.

Texas Leads Hunt For Oil, Langdon Says

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Chairman Jim Langdon of the Texas Railroad Commission said today the state is leading the nation's search for oil and gas. The commission once again set the statewide oil allowable at 100 per cent.

Texas has been on wide-open production since April 1972. Langdon cited numerous statistics to show the search for oil is on the upswing in Texas in an effort to cope with energy shortages.

He said the commission had processed 10,600 drilling applications this year, compared to 6,600 at this time last year.

Stanton Youth Dies Of Injuries

STANTON — Richard D. (Ricky) Gilbreath, 17, member of a prominent Stanton family, died at 8 a.m. today in the Memorial Hospital in Odessa when brain surgery failed to save him following a highway mishap.

A companion, Danny Meeks, 20, was in serious condition in the Memorial Hospital in Midland. The two were rushed there when hit by a car passing their stalled automobile on the north access of IS 20 at 10:15 p.m. Wednesday. The accident occurred in Midland County, about halfway between Stanton and Midland.

Two girls, Patty Ramos, 18, and Betty Pacheco, 18, who were with Ricky and Danny, were unhurt.

FRIDAY RITES

Services for Ricky, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie D. Gilbreath, will be held at 3 p.m. Friday in the First United Methodist Church in Stanton. The Rev. Floyd Dunn, pastor, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Warren Hall of the First Baptist Church. Burial will be in the Evergreen Cemetery.

David Hancock, state trooper from Midland, investigated the accident, and Sheriff Dan Saunders, Stanton, also visited with principals in the tragedy. Ricky, Danny, Patty and Betty, a foreign exchange (See STANTON, Pg. 2-A, Col. 1)

EXTORTIONIST SLAUGHTERS VICTIMS BEFORE CAPTURE

Paying $50,000 Results In Deaths, FBI Insists

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A young abductor who was paid $50,000 ransom by his wealthy boss shot the executive and his wife to death in their expensive car, then pleaded "Don't shoot!" before surrendering to authorities, the FBI says.

NO BAD FEELING

Slain were Sydney Gans, 64, owner of a prosperous paper bag company, and his 60-year-old wife, Lillian, who had been held hostage by the gunman. Authorities said the man taken into custody was an employee of Gans' firm, but they knew of no animosity between the two.

Police identified the abductor as Thomas Knight, 23, of Miami. He was charged with two counts of first-degree murder.

FBI Special Agent Ken Whittaker said of Gans: "He decided he wanted to get the money and turn it over to the gunman because he was afraid about his wife."

Gans rushed into a downtown Miami bank on Wednesday and told the bank president that his wife was being held by a gunman. He said he needed $50,000. The bank officer called the FBI and Whittaker and another agent rushed to the scene.

Whittaker said Gans told him the gunman was circling the block with Mrs. Gans in the couple's Mercedes-Benz.

FORCED TO DRIVE

The FBI arranged for surveillance of the car being driven by Mrs. Gans while the gunman held a semiautomatic carbine to her head, Whittaker said.

Gans placed the $50,000 in a paper bag, left the bank and was picked up by the abductor and Mrs. Gans. The three drove off.

Mrs. Gans was forced to drive to a lonely wooded area in southwest Miami. The abductor then shot each in the head and fled into the underbrush as police and agents closed in on him, authorities said.

Some 200 lawmen converged on the scene and for some five hours used helicopters, a small plane, tracker dogs and tear gas to flush the gunman from his swampy hideout.

Finally, Dade County Police Sgt. Russ Kubik almost stepped on him as a seven-man patrol edged its way through waist-high weeds after lobbing tear gas grenades into the undergrowth.

"GET 'EM UP" "He was burrowed into sandy soil on his side," said Kubik. "I thought he might be dead. But I put my gun to his head and said, 'get up, put your hands

"Don't shoot!" the man cried. Police said they found nearby the $50,000 in ransom and the gun used to kill Gans and his wife.

Knight, a slim six-footer, was muddled and bruised when pulled from the underbrush. Police said he had sustained an injury to his right arm. He made no audible comment as he was manacled and hustled into a police car.

John Shapiro, husband of Gans' daughter Harriet, said the abductor was at the company office when Gans got there on Wednesday morning.

"Unfortunately, it appears that he (the abductor) meant to kill them all along," said Whittaker.

Friends described Gans as a rich, active sportsman, was one of the founding trustees of Mount Sinai Hospital, one of the area's largest, and recently had been presented the Prime Minister's Silver Anniversary Medal for aid to Israel.

The World At-A-Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. military officials believe an armed clash between Turkey and Greece over Cyprus is unlikely, despite military moves by the Turks. They acknowledge, however, there might be danger if the two rival countries should move to reinforce their small garrisons, currently totaling fewer than 1,000 men each on Cyprus.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sudden increase in new housing construction does not signal a recovery from the industry's deepest slump on record, the government says. The Commerce Department reported Wednesday that new housing starts increased 8 per cent in June.

NEW YORK (AP) — The practice of remarking items on the supermarket shelves as prices go up, which Safeway Stores Inc. says it is stopping, is one of consumers' pet peeves. "Walk into any supermarket and ask any consumer and they'll scream about it," said Ellen Zowell, president of the National Consumer Congress. Safeway, the nation's largest chain, announced Wednesday that it would no longer remark an item to reflect higher wholesale costs on new shipments.

SWEDESBORO, N.J. (AP) — Migrant farm workers have helped New Jersey maintain its nickname, "Garden State," but their plight has given the state a black eye. The "migrant problem" flared into public view earlier this week when state Assemblyman Byron Baer's arm was broken in a melee at a migrant farm in this southern New Jersey community. He has advocated better living conditions for migrant workers. Baer had gone there to get a rare glimpse inside a New Jersey migrant labor farm. But Marcos Portolatin, the farm foreman accused of breaking Baer's arm, told The Associated Press the 11 workers there don't like "nosy" state officials.

UNEMPLOYMENT WILL RISE? Worst Peacetime Inflation In The Nation's History

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidents of three Federal Reserve banks predict interest rates will remain high and unemployment will rise in the fight against what one called the worst peacetime inflation in the nation's history.

They told the House Banking Committee Wednesday that inflation was at a dangerously high level, although not out of control, and said great sacrifices would be required to beat it back.

FEAR GROWS
David P. Eastburn, president of the Federal Reserve bank of Philadelphia, said: "We are in perhaps the worst peacetime inflation in our history. Unless we begin to unwind inflation, I am fearful of the consequences not only for the economy but for our entire social fabric."

Balles of the San Francisco bank said government spending should be reduced to eliminate the proposed budget deficit for next year.

CHOKE OFF CREDIT
Eastburn said the high interest likely will continue to choke off inflationary demands for credit.

Both Hayes and Balles endorsed a proposal by Rep. Chalmers P. Wylie, R-Ohio, to keep government spending below its income and to reduce the upcoming year's fiscal debt by 2 per cent.

Rewriters Turn To Special Fund For State Colleges

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Education Assistance Fund (SHEAF) was the main target today of compromise efforts to pass a new Texas Constitution to the voters.

Various alternatives to the present SHEAF item in the proposed constitution were to be examined at a meeting this morning of the Constitutional Convention's Submission and Transition Committee.

Most would restore a state property tax as the method of financing the fund, in place of general revenue taxes.

CLOSE WATCH
As now written in the proposed new constitution SHEAF would be a mandatory appropriation from general revenue for construction and other improvements at state colleges outside the University of Texas and Texas A&M systems. It represents a potential drain of about $31 million a year on the general fund.

State college lobbyists kept a close watch on the committee Wednesday and frequently conferred with convention leaders. One of their major goals has been to persuade the convention to allow their continued use of building use fees to back college construction bonds.

Today's session of the committee followed the failure

Wednesday afternoon of five separate proposals that have struck sparks before during the convention.

HOME RULE
Like the basic constitution, any separate proposal must receive a two-thirds majority—121 votes—to go on the Nov. 5 election ballot.

These were the votes on the separate items:
—Limited home rule for counties, meaning voters could modify their form of county government, 119-36 on the first ballot but 101-59 when brought up for a second try.

—Raise legislative pay from $4,800 to 8,750 a year in lieu of the salary commission proposed in the basic document, 49 ayes and 103 noes.

—Double House members' terms from two to four years, failed 73-89.

—Prohibit pari-mutuel horse race betting, 103-65.

—Prohibit labor-management contracts requiring employees to join or pay "agency" fees to the unions that represent them.

The labor-management item continued to be probably the main sticking point, with the Texas AFL-CIO vowing to fight the whole constitution if it goes on the ballot.

Some delegates cautiously predicted that enough delegates who have steadfastly opposed the proposal would eventually break away to put the new constitution—and the labor-management proposal—before the voters.

TOO EARLY
Rep. Terry Doyle, D-Port Arthur, told the committee that while he has opposed that item, he was convinced after Wednesday's vote that it belonged in any compromise package.

Few delegates would predict that the needed 121 votes for the constitution would be obtained much before the mandatory July 30 adjournment date.

"Frankly it is too early for people to bite the bullet," said Rep. Ben Munson, D-Denison, a committee member.

Pros Launch Effort To Tame Lightning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government weather scientists have launched an effort to tame lightning, one of nature's most destructive weapons.

Their experiments, just started in thunderstorm-prone Colorado, involve a variation of a technique developed in World War II to jam enemy radar.

Developing thunderstorms are to be seeded with literally millions of inch-long aluminum coated nylon thread fibers, called chaff. The needle-like fibers will be spewed from aircraft flying through the heart of a brewing storm.

RASPBERRY
The object is to cause thunderheads to discharge their electrical energy slowly, rather than in sudden and violent bursts of lightning.

In World War II, chaff was deployed from aircraft as a kind of decoy screen designed to protect American bombers from the searching eyes of enemy radar. The technique became known popularly as giving the "electronic raspberry" to the enemy.

Announcement of the newly launched project came on Wednesday from the Commerce department's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

PLANES ON LOAN
Heinz W. Kasemir, chief of the Colorado project, stressed

It was Mistake

XENCA, Ohio (AP) — City officials received a number of calls asking about an important death when the flag at City Hall fluttered at half-staff on a recent morning.

The officials explained there was no death involved. The rope used to raise the flag jammed on a pulley when the standard was half-way up the pole.

that the would-be lightning tamers are not trying to suppress lightning in all its forms. He indicated that a little lightning can be a good thing, by adding nutrient nitrogen to the rain and consequently to the soil, as well as by playing an important role in balancing the planet's "electrical budget."

"We want to be able to suppress severe lightning that comes when it is least welcome—for example, during very dry periods in forest areas and during spacecraft loading and launching operations," Kasemir said.

The experiments will last through August.

Two aircraft—a B6 and a Convair T29 on loan from the Air Force—will operate out of Jefferson County airport, southeast of Boulder, flying their missions during the middle and late afternoon, when Colorado thunderstorm activity is greatest. Their project will concentrate mainly on the northeast corner of Colorado and adjacent areas over Nebraska and Wyoming.

LONDON (AP) — Jack Laundon, secretary of the British Lichen Society, recently moved, but not before checking the lichen on tombstones in a cemetery near his prospective new residence.

Excessive sulphur dioxide in the air quickly kills lichen and Laundon said the growth's condition is an effective measure of local pollution.

White Says Government Confusing To Its People

By MARJ CARPENTER

He can't make it rain, but he is trying to make government aware of the problems of Texas farmers and ranchers. John C. White, Texas agricultural commissioner, said in an interview here Wednesday.

White had come here to address the membership meeting of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission.

Last year he contacted many of the major markets for beef and produce and pointed out to them their large margin of profit in comparison to that of the producer, he recalled.

HOPE THEY HEED

"We can only hope that they will finally take heed and narrow that margin before they lose respect like my good friends, some oilmen have done," the commissioner added.

He said that the House in Washington had finally voted in favor of emergency relief for the rancher, but "the rancher sure hates for the federal government to start meddling in his affairs."

He said that the farmer caught up in the drought, had applied before July 1 for federal aid.

"If there is a large percentage in a county which failed to apply, and it turns out that they need relief, their county will have to apply as a disaster area," White added.

CONTROLLING ANTHRAX

He also briefly discussed the problem of anthrax in Central Texas and said, "We hope we have it contained in that area where it will not spread. We are in desperate need of additional vaccine and hope that we will soon be able to obtain it."

In the speech at the luncheon, White urged regional officials to "concentrate on bringing back responsive, responsible and understandable government to the people of the nation."

"I don't believe the average citizen can relate to government as it is operating today," he said. "I believe he is staggered by what is happening all around him."

"He feels smothered under layer upon layer of governmental agencies, edicts and policies so complicated, overlapping and overgrown that none of it makes much sense to him.

"In addition, he is numbed by crisis after crisis. He is confronted daily by economic inflation, social disruption and political corruption. And the men who run his government seem incapable or unwilling to come to grips with the problem."

NOT JUST MONEY

"Instead, the solutions offered mostly hinge on spending more tax dollars by the billions — astronomical amounts which have no reality for him, but which he certainly has to pay for."

LOSS OF FAITH

White said the chief cause of decay in any nation's strength is the loss of faith in governmental bodies. Withdrawal of support by the people represents a potential national collapse.

"Free nations may stand the strain of economic ills and even of war, but they cannot stand the loss of support and moral backing of the people."

Pony Express To Repeat Its Ride

An event which generated extensive national publicity in 1973, the first annual Fort Stockton Pony Express Ride and Western Week, is being repeated this year starting Aug. 10.

The first ride, held in August, 1973, included the dedication of the brand-new Pecos County Indoor Arena, a rodeo coliseum. Riders carried the mail in an authentic reenactment of the Pony Express system, from Alpine to Fort Stockton, a distance of 66 miles, in four hours.

Thanks to Zip Code and other changes made by the U.S. Postal Service, the Pony Express mail delivery last year turned out to be 21 hours faster than regular mail.

The 1974 Pony Express mail carry will originate at the post office in Pecos, Texas and will see riders transporting the mail 54 miles to Fort Stockton, again with the Pecos County Coliseum as the destination point. All mail carried on the ride will bear an official Pony Express stamp.

Local Head Start Program Approved

The City of Big Spring acted as host Wednesday to the semi-annual meeting of the membership of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Council, with representatives attending from most of the counties, cities and other governmental agencies involved.

Howard County was noticeably devoid of representation. Only two others in the 17-county area were unrepresented — Terrell, the furthest most county, and Reeves, where the judge's wife had died.

Representing the City of Big Spring were Charles Tompkins and Mrs. Polly Mays, councilmen; Harry Nagel, city manager; Police Chief Vance Chisum, City attorney James Gregg, Robert Massengale, finance director; Bob Butler, personnel director; James Campbell, parks and recreation director; Jon Snider, administrative assistant; and A. E. Meador, fire chief.

Representing the Big Spring Schools, whose application for $185,741 for head start funds, was granted by the board, were Dr. Emmett McKenzie, superintendent and Keith Swim,

McKee New ATC Chief

Lt. Gen. George H. McKee, currently commander of the Eighth Air Force on Guam, will become the new commander of the Air Training Command on Sept. 1.

He will replace Lt. Gen. William V. McBride, whose promotion to general and assignment as commander of the Air Force Logistics Command, was announced last month.

Gen. McKee enlisted in the Air Corps in December 1940, and served for two years as an enlisted aircraft mechanic instructor at Chanute Field before being accepted for aviation cadet training.

After winning his pilot's wings, he flew 35 combat missions in B-17s over Europe with the Eighth Air Force.

Much of Gen. McKee's career since World War II has been spent in the Strategic Air Command. He has been commander of three SAC bomb wings and an air division.

He is a command pilot with more than 7,500 flying hours, and is currently qualified to fly B-52 and KC-135 aircraft.

Gen. McKee assumed command of the Eighth Air Force on Oct. 1, 1973, after having served as SAC chief of staff for seven months. He is a native of Lakeland, Fla., and is a graduate of the University of Omaha and the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

Trustees Set Budget Date

A budget of $1,810,770 was approved tentatively by Howard College trustees Tuesday. Public hearing on the fiscal guide, which represents a 3.58 percent increase over the current budget, was set for 5:15 p.m. Aug. 15. The tax rate will be set then.

Most of the $62,512 increase is represented in salary increases — about $40,000 for faculty and $10,000 for other employees.

The budget anticipates nearly half of the income, or $707,456 in state funds, $27,875 in federal funds, $630,053 in local funds ($158,500 tuition, $60,066 fees and $422,217 taxes), $89,045 from auxiliary enterprises, $150,057 from plant appropriations, and $171,274 from the student housing system.

Some $101,000 of the total resources include interfund transfers.

General administration is pegged at $158,612; general on-campus instruction $643,978; library $48,059; extension $43,285; plant operation transportation, security, custodial, maintenance, etc. $204,005; student housing operation $171,274; plant fund (debt service) $150,067. The latter items includes $96,991 in general obligation bonds debt service and $33,760 in revenue bond debt service.

The athletic outlay of approximately $78,000 (which includes intramural as well as competitive programs) requires a general fund subsidy of $71,095.

Birth Defects Fight Detailed

Birth defects contribute to the second highest death toll in the country, and a quarter of a million births each year in the United States have some sort of defect.

This was the message of Anne Lane, executive director of the Cap Rock Chapter of the March of Dimes, to the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday meeting in the Settles.

Much of the MOD resources go to research in hopes of preventing or minimizing the problem, she said. Although some local case aid is given, usually in the form of transportation and working with other agencies for relief. The chapter here carried about a dozen active cases, she said.

Mrs. Lane projected a film showing the first successful bone marrow transplant to an infant which had no power to resist infection.

Aubrey Bryans, president, expressed regret at the club's losing Charles Forrest, who is being transferred to Edwards AFB. He has been one of the most active members.

Invite A Cop To Your Next Fight

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Local police are taking a new approach to potentially explosive family arguments and domestic squabbles.

Under a police planning division recommendation, specially trained police officers will respond to domestic disputes.

"In some cases we keep responding week after week, month after month to the same home," said Gregory Burns, a planning official for the local police department. "Eventually something is going to explode and somebody is going to get killed. Maybe a cop."

The police teams will be called in to handle mainly non-violent cases, to settle down the participants and refer them to long-term counseling if needed, a spokesman said.

The spokesman said the guiding philosophy of the program will be to reduce the number of arrests stemming from domestic fights and divert troubled families away from the criminal justice system to other social agencies.

Homes By '76

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria has launched a nationwide low-cost housing scheme costing over $750 million and aimed at constructing some 50,000 homes by 1976, the government announced.

At least 15,000 homes will be built in the sprawling seaside capital of Lagos, currently faced with an acute housing shortage.

 Fools rush in where angels fear to tread, and bridge experts are hard on their heels. Fortunately, South had the technical skill to justify his venture into the unknown.

There was a considerable amount of logic behind South's decision to enter the auction at the three-level on a four-card suit, and a shoddy one at that. The opponents' auction had died at three clubs, indicating that North held some values, and had developed in a way that marked North with length in diamonds. In addition, South's ace-queen of spades were behind the opening bidder, which gave his holding added strength. The he held K-10-x in diamonds, West's double was based more on irritation at the opponents getting into the bidding than on any sound supposition that the contract was going to be defeated.

West led the nine of spades, and dummy was all South expected it to be. Since the opening lead removed the danger of a spade loser, the only losers outside the trump suit were a heart (except in the unlikely event that West held a doubleton king) and a club. Thus, declarer's efforts had to be directed towards losing no more than two tricks in trumps.

Ideally, to achieve that goal, declarer should lead a trump from dummy. However, there was a problem in entries. It was far too risky to enter dummy with the ace of hearts to lead a trump, for that would expose declarer to a heart ruff. The solution to his problem was very neat.

After winning the king of spades with the ace, declarer led a low diamond from his hand! East won the ace, but the defenders had been rendered helpless. The spade return was won by the queen and the queen of diamonds forced the king. Declarer could win any return, draw the last trump, and concede a heart and a club.

Notice that declarer would have gone down had he played a trump honor at trick two, for then the defenders would have scored three trump tricks. His play of a low trump would not have cost had the trumps split 2-2, for then he would have lost only two trump tricks no matter what he led. The only time declarer's play of a low trump would have cost a trick was if either defender held a singleton ten of trumps, but a singleton king or ace was twice as likely.

'Did You Give Yourself A Pay Raise?'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — R. J. Thornton Jr., chairman of the alcoholic beverage commission, refused to second the motion Wednesday, but failed and then looked him in the eye and said, "Mr. Humphreys, congratulations."

Thornton's motion to fire O.N. "Newt" Humphreys Jr. died when the other two commissioners, chairman Tom Gordon of Abilene and Joe Burkett of Kerrville, refused to second the motion.

DO OUR BEST

"We're trying to do our best, the vote's over, that's that—let's go on to the next piece of business," said Thornton.

Thornton was angered because Humphreys had recomended a budget for the commission which included a pay raise for him and a 13.6 percent increase for all commission employees without clearing it first with the commission.

"I'm under the impression that the governor appointed us to run this (commission), but apparently some others are... we have some right to say what the administrator is getting rather than the administrator saying what he is to get."

Humphreys said the budget was a preliminary budget presented to examiners just as all the other state agencies do.

HUMBLE OPINION

"Did you give yourself a pay raise?" asked Thornton.

"I didn't give myself a raise —" replied Humphreys. "Did you recommend it?" pressed Thornton.

Humphreys nodded "yes." Thornton first tried to fire Humphreys at the May meeting, but consented to postpone his motion. Thornton missed the June meeting.

He recalled that he said earlier, "In my humble opinion we could use a stronger administrator."

After his motion Wednesday, Burkett said, "I'm not prepared to second the motion at this time," and Gordon said the same thing.

Thornton and Gordon referred to a recent investigation by the state attorney general on alleged abuse of travel expenditures by the Dallas office of the commission, and there was speculation that Thornton's motion was related to the investigation.

HENLEY JUROR Sorry She Heard What She Did

BRAIN PRESSURE — Mrs. Rosemary Tull, who was on the jury which gave Houston mass murderers defendant Elmer Wayne Henley six 99-year prison terms, says her hardship was mental during the trial.

Couple Slain, Man Arrested

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — A Wills Point couple was found shot to death at a residence here Wednesday night after an anonymous tipster called police.

Officers identified the dead as Lowell Don Whitaker, 42, and his wife Ruth, 43.

A .22-caliber rifle and 14 spent cartridges were near the bodies in the living room.

A man, 57, found unconscious at the residence was taken into custody.

This Welcome Was Too Warm

A new family from New Orleans received too warm a welcome Wednesday afternoon. The family had moved into a residence at 808 Scurry Tuesday evening and had the kitchen gas range connected. When it was lit Wednesday at 4:32 p.m., flames seem to billow, and the fire department was called. Minor smoke and fire damage resulted even though firemen controlled the blaze quickly.

LOOK MA, NO WHEELS Ride On Magnetic Field Above One Aluminum Rail

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wheel, which made possible the transportation of everything from ox carts to automobiles, someday could lose its place of prominence if a new Department of Transportation program proves successful.

WHOOOSH ALONG

The department announced Wednesday it has awarded a $2.1 million contract to Ford Motor Co. for the development and testing of a vehicle that would ride on a magnetic field above a single aluminum rail.

The contract could lead to streamlined vehicles that would whoosh along one foot off the ground at 300 miles-per-hour speeds by the mid-1980s or 1990, the department said.

The vehicle would be pollution-free and relatively quiet. Its ride would be similar to that of an airplane. Rail maintenance costs would be substantially reduced because of the lack of friction between the vehicle and the rail.

The high speeds would mean

Had Enough Of Hospitality

He was discovered by police walking along Gregg Street at 3:37 a.m. in a dazed and beaten condition. He was treated by a local physician for facial lacerations.

He told police that two black males jumped on him near the Kimbell Mills warehouse, beat him and took the last money that he had.

Police officials said that he refused help this morning, adding, "I just want to get out of Big Spring."

Ali Opens Training For Foreman Bout

DEER LAKE, Pa. (AP) — Muhammad Ali is an American. He speaks like an American. "I see no conflict. It (the fight) is the most suitable way of getting our country known. The nature of the fighters—Ali being who he is and Foreman being the champion."

The occasion for Ali's poetry and the picnic-style lunch was the official opening of Ali's training for his fight with world heavyweight champion George Foreman Sept. 24 in the African nation of Zaire.

"This is beautiful," said Ali. "The stage is set now. We got a big, bad giant who is gonna kill me."

Then he did a routine which included his imitation of Foreman—punching in slow motion—and falling on his back, and shouting, "that don't look like me, do it? There's gonna be a rumble in the jungle."

Later sports writers asked Magundu Bula, an official of the government of Zaire, if he thought Ali might ruffle some of 500,000 we could fill it." The feelings in Zaire, with such stadium in the city of Kinshasa, statements as "I'm gonna boil where the fight will be held, George Foreman in a pot."

"Ali is Ali," said Bula. "He is American. He speaks like an American. "I see no conflict. It (the fight) is the most suitable way of getting our country known. The nature of the fighters—Ali being who he is and Foreman being the champion."

"We would like to show what a black nation can do. We want to show that Zaire is a country where anyone can live in peace."

Don King of Video Techniques, Inc., of New York, the closed-circuit television promoter, said accommodations will be made available for 7,000 persons from Europe and America, but not on an individual basis. They will be handled by tours through Festival In Zaire, Inc., "because we want everything organized, we want no chaos," said King.

Bula said many visitors from throughout Africa are expected and that "if we had a capacity of 500,000 we could fill it." The feelings in Zaire, with such stadium in the city of Kinshasa, statements as "I'm gonna boil where the fight will be held, George Foreman in a pot."

"Ali is Ali," said Bula. "He is American. He speaks like an American. "I see no conflict. It (the fight) is the most suitable way of getting our country known. The nature of the fighters—Ali being who he is and Foreman being the champion."

Foreman," said Ali. "He's making $5 million dollars (each fight) is guaranteed (each amount) because of me. He's the challenger. He's trying to prove he's better than me."

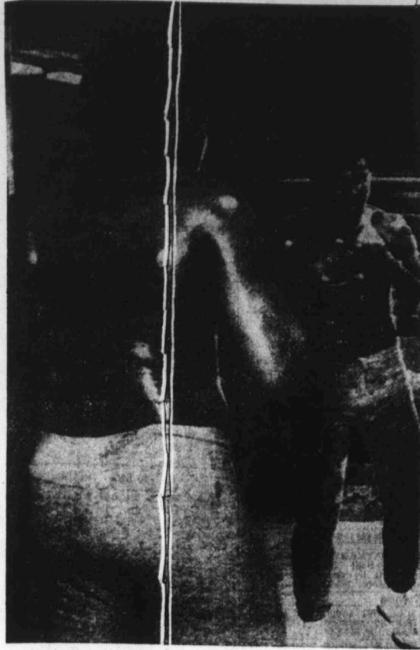

German Team Ties Oceaneers

EAST PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The Werder-Bremen soccer team of West Germany, which hasn't lost a game to a U.S. soccer team in five tours of this country, had to rally in the second half of an exhibition game Wednesday night for a 2-2 tie with the Rhode Island Oceaneers of the American Soccer League.

Juergen Roeber scored both goals for the visitors; John Cano and Mohamed Attiah scored for Rhode Island in the first half.

TEACHING FORM — Jack Bowers, left, gives 14-year-old Duane Thomas a few instructions on hitting the ball at the Summer Youth Golf Clinic being held at the Municipal Golf Course as Julie Hagan, 15, and Tammy Newsom, 14, look on. The course, sponsored by the City of Big Spring, is free to the youths.

ALI OPENS TRAINING — Muhammad Ali boxes before a mirror Wednesday at his training camp at Deer Lake, Pa., on his first day of training for his title fight Sept. 24 in Zaire, Africa, against George Foreman, world heavyweight champion.

Bibby Shines, Shuts Out Yankees, 2-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Bibby had his fastball, his curve ball and his control. Pat Dobson had his bad luck.

Bibby, the Texas Rangers' hard-throwing young right-hander, blanked New York on three hits and rode Toby Harrah's two-run homer to a 2-0 victory over the Yankees Wednesday.

"I was moving my fast ball around very well and my curve was effective," said Bibby. "I had to have control to win and today I had it."

Bibby, 12-12, struck out five and yielded only a pair of singles to Sandy Alomar, one a bunt, and a single to Bobby Murcer.

"Jim threw 97 pitches, and I think he was ahead of the hitters 75 per cent of the time. That always helps," said Frank Lucchesi, who made his successful debut as interim manager of the Rangers while Billy Martin sits out a three-game suspension.

Dobson went the distance for the Yankees, giving up six hits as his record dropped to 7-12.

His big mistake came in the second inning, when he threw a high slider to Toby Harrah, who turned it into a two-run homer.

"I don't hit off Dobson very often," Harrah said. "I can only get a hit off him when he makes a mistake."

Dobson has been a hard luck pitcher all year. His earned run average is a solid 3.16, despite the 12 losses.

"It happens to one pitcher each year. It happened during my second year in Baltimore, in 1972. I was 16-18 that year. I did much better the year before, when I won 20 games."

With one out in the second, Jim Spencer singled to center. After Tom Grievie popped out, Harrah drove Dobson's 1-2 pitch over the left field fence for his 14th homer of the season.

The Rangers threatened again in the fifth when Grievie sliced a leadoff single to right and, after Harrah flicked out, Joe Lovitto singled. But Dobson struck out Jim Sundberg and got Cesar Tovar to line out, ending the inning.

Bibby snuffed out scoring opportunities for the Yankees in the third and sixth innings, then had his shutout saved on a spectacular catch by right fielder Grievie in the ninth.

Murcer, leading off the Yankees' ninth, belted a long drive to right field that sent Grievie back to the wall, where he picked it off with a leaping catch.

With two out in the third, Alomar singled to left giving the Yanks their first hit off Bibby. Alomar, obtained recently from California, then stole second and Bibby walked Roy White, putting the tying runs on base. But he got out of the inning when Elliot Maddox grounded out to second.

Alomar led off the sixth with a bunt single down the third base line, and, after White flied to left and Maddox struck out, Murcer singled up the middle. Bibby ended that threat by striking out Ron Blomberg.

Striking Oilers Hold Workouts

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Striking Houston Oilers veterans say they will attempt to stay in shape by working out at noon each day in Rice University stadium in Houston.

"The players in Houston are expected to be there," said Oiler defensive end Elvin Bethea, one of five veterans picking up Oilers practice field here Wednesday.

Earlier, Oiler Head Coach Sid Gillman said the veterans "cannot get into condition carrying a six-ounce sign."

Striking veterans are not expected to picket Saturday night's game in San Antonio against the San Antonio Toros.

"I don't think that's really an issue," Bethea said.

Drink, Not Drugs Complaint Basis

Information concerning two juveniles picked up by police Tuesday evening at a drive-in was in error. The story said they had been questioned for possession of a drug, but this was not so. Two youths paid fines in city court for possession of alcoholic beverage (beer) by a minor and were released.

Livestock Loans Bill Up To Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — An emergency program authorizing government guarantees of up to 80 per cent on private loans to livestock producers has won final congressional passage and now awaits President Nixon's signature.

The Senate approved the measure by a voice vote Wednesday after senators backing the bill decided against insisting on their version of the program. The bill won a narrow victory in the House Tuesday.

The decision avoided a Senate-House conference committee and possible defeat of a compromise back in the House. The legislation would provide for a $2-billion ceiling on the total guarantees outstanding during the one-year application period for the loans, which could not exceed $250,000 for any one operation.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., a cosponsor, said Nixon could veto the bill. The President instead could give the industry import quotas it has sought to prevent further glutting of the meat markets, Dole said.

The credit-relief program, which stands to cost an estimated $9.4 million in administrative expenses, was sought after months of steady decline in live-animal prices and sharper climbs in farming and feeding costs.

In beef, the chief category covered by the bill, pre-slaughter prices for the most popular choice steers have since risen by about $9 per 100 pounds.

Cattle feeders, squeezed by high grain costs, had been losing between $10 and $20 per 100 pounds as the price dropped 45 per cent from last August's record levels.

THEFTS

H. T. Becknell, San Angelo, reported a burglary from his car including a 12-gauge shotgun, tape recorder, and tapes.

Mrs. J. Rubio, 621 NW 4th, reported theft of two tables and one and one half sets of dishes.

Robert Howell, 905 Nolan reported theft of a hunting knife; value $15.

SIGNUP SETS NEW RECORD

On the eve of deadline for registration, Howard College today had its largest enrollment for a second session of summer school.

The sign up totalled 270, according to L. L. Lewis, director of admissions. As is normal, the second period of summer school dropped substantially from the first session, 385, but the 29.8 per cent this year is less than the 32.1 per cent a year ago.

Friday 5 p.m. is the last time that students can sign for classes in this six-weeks of summer school, Lewis reminded.

BOMB IN TOWER KILLS Scotland Yard Orders New Security Alert

LONDON (AP) — British police put stronger security measures in force today after a bomb explosion in the Tower of London that killed one woman and injured 37 persons.

The bomb blast was the fourth in England in four days, and police believed all were set by the Irish Republican Army.

Guards were strengthened at places of entertainment and government buildings. The public was warned to watch for letter bombs or abandoned parcels in railway and subway stations and car parks.

Scotland Yard appealed to tourists who were taking pictures at the Tower around the time of the explosion to contact them. They were already studying a film taken by Joan Halgran, 29, from Minnesota, who said she saw a man running from the Tower within seconds of the explosion.

STONE DUNGEON
The bomb went off at 2 p.m. Wednesday in a stone dungeon in the basement of the White Tower where a crowd of tourists — many of them foreigners — were looking at cannons and suits of armor. Many others had just left the building to

FREE SHUTTLE SERVICE Everyone Is Happy--Except Bus Company In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Four double-decker buses from England have started free shuttle service here and nearby. There's been lots of good response. When you ride the buses you can see a lot of improving looks from people on the street.

MIDLAND SHUTTLES
The buses operate from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on weekdays and from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays along a nine-block stretch of the main downtown thoroughfare.

WRONG WAY?
"It's the wrong approach," said Henry W. Mayer, the company's vice president and general manager. "They should charge a fare. That would mean the State Public Service Commission could regulate them."

The company claims the free bus service, with which the Midland National Bank hopes to get more people downtown, will cut sharply into a prime revenue area.

The Public Service Commission has refused to declare the shuttle bus system a "common carrier." It says that since no fare is charged, the buses do not come under its regulations.

The transport company has appealed the PSC's action to the Dane County Circuit Court in Madison.

"It's a matter of setting a precedent here," Mayer said. "What's to stop them from extending the service another six blocks in both directions?"

David Mengedoth, a Midland senior vice president, said public reaction to the buses has been "just fine, terrific. There's been lots of good response. When you ride the buses you can see a lot of improving looks from people on the street."

Mengedoth said the 56-passenger buses cost the bank "in excess of $40,000" and are expected to cost about $10,000 a month to operate.

But the transport company feels it will be a big loser. The firm, which charges 50 cents a ride, has been seeking an increase to 60 cents to cover a deficit.

A total of 3,302 persons took advantage of the free rides on Monday when they were first placed in service.

City officials are pleased, and so are shoppers and the bank which bought the buses in London, had them refurbished and shipped them to Milwaukee.

But not so the Milwaukee and Suburban Transport Co., which operates the regular bus system here.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The former White House aide who told the Senate Watergate committee that President Nixon had bugged the White House oval office and his telephones says he has no regrets.

"I would certainly do the same thing again," Alexander Butterfield said Wednesday. He had been in charge of White House internal security when he made the revelation to the committee a year ago Tuesday.

Butterfield, who was promoted to head the Federal Aviation Administration two weeks before the Watergate scandal broke in March 1973, said: "I didn't go in to tell about it, but I knew if ever asked the direct question I would answer directly and openly."

TOKYO (AP) — A 12-week exhibit of paintings by American artist Andrew Wyeth has attracted 329,655 persons in Tokyo and Kyoto, more than three times the number anticipated by Japanese sponsors.

Perry Rathbone, director of the show of 88 paintings, said Wyeth had conquered the Japanese art world in his first exhibition abroad.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has made it known he is among the readers of books by exiled Soviet author Alexander Solzhenitsyn.

He said during his weekly public audience Wednesday that Solzhenitsyn's "Gulag Archipelago" provides evidence of "inhuman exercise of class power."

The pontiff, referring to the account of Stalin-era concentration camps, warned about the "danger of accepting social formulas which for instance by erecting class struggle as a system turn it inevitably into class hatred and class hatred into the possible inhuman exercise of power."

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — The former commander of U.S. prisoners of war in North Vietnam will begin directing the training of Air Force enlisted recruits here next month.

Maj. Gen. John P. Flynn will succeed Maj. Gen. Robert W. Maloy as Air Force Military Training Center commander at Lackland AFB.

Kids Home? Long Summer? Time For A Cookie Break

"Small cheer and great welcome makes a merry feast," wrote Shakespeare and, as usual, most of us can only agree he was entirely right. During these long summer evenings it's a happy thing to entertain and be entertained.

Probably the surest, easiest way to make friends is to be friendly. That nice family down the block may like you as much as you like them, but they're a bit timid about breaking the social ice. Why not take the initiative? Call them up and say, "I've just finished a batch of cinnamon cookies and they smell pretty good! Come on over for cookies and coffee."

Everybody loves homemade cookies, especially if there rises from them the titillating aroma of cinnamon, the world's favorite sweet spice.

While there are several varieties of trees in what botanists refer to as the "cinnamon" family, we in America much prefer cassia cinnamon. It is rich in the essential oil which gives cinnamon its characteristic flavor.

The spice department of every well-stocked store sells both ground and whole cinnamon. Obviously, ground cinnamon is used in baking and most desserts. Whole cinnamon has its special uses, too: Whenever you want good cinnamon aroma in a liquid mixture, but not the slight cloudiness you'd get from the ground form, simmer stick cinnamon in it at least 10 minutes.

Store cinnamon and all other spices away from stove heat and direct sunlight whenever possible, advises the American Spice Trade Association and always close containers promptly after use.

Pie Crust Doubles As Cookies

Take one package of pie crust mix, add some brown sugar and peanut butter plus a little water. Roll into cookie balls; press flat on baking sheet. Then bake. That's a quick way to make four dozen crisp peanut cookies in less than a half hour for less than a half-dollar.

This creative approach to old-fashioned peanut cookies is the idea that won one lady a trip to the Pillsbury Bake-Off.

Pie Crust Peanut Crispies actually rates "high" in many of the judging criteria. They're easy to prepare and their excellent, rich peanut flavor and golden-brown appearance adds an "eat-me" quality. And of course, peanut cookies are always popular favorites.

Why not stir up a batch or two of Pie Crust Peanut Crispies today? It takes only a few minutes.

- PIE CRUST PEANUT CRISPIES
- 1 pkg. (9½ oz.) Pillsbury Pie Crust Mix
 - 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 - ½ cup peanut butter
 - 3 tbsps. water

In medium mixing bowl, combine all ingredients. Stir until mixture forms a dough. Shape into 1-inch balls, using about 1 teaspoon of dough for each. Place 2 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Flatten with a fork which has been dipped in sugar. Bake at 375 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes, or until light golden brown and slightly puffy. Cool cookies slightly before removing from cookie sheets. Makes about 45 cookies.

Crisp Walnuts In Cookie Treat

Here's a brand new cookie recipe that's full of nutritious ingredients and old-fashioned great taste. Called Walnut Crunchers these crisp and flavorful cookies are made with cereal and walnuts.

- WALNUT CRUNCHERS
- 3 cups Kellogg's Special K cereal

PIE CRUST MAKES "QUICK" COOKIES
Four dozen cookies in half an hour

- 1 cup sifted regular all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- ¼ tsp. salt
- ½ cup regular margarine or butter, softened
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 tsp. vanilla flavoring
- 1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Measure cereal; crush to 2 cups. Set aside. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Set aside. Place margarine and sugar in large mixer bowl; beat until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla; beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients; mix until thoroughly combined. Stir in ½ cup of the chopped walnuts and 1 cup of the crushed cereal.

Roll level measuring-tablespoons of dough in a mixture of the remaining walnuts and crushed cereal. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake at 375 degrees about 15 minutes or until golden brown.

Remove immediately from baking sheets; cool on wire racks. Makes 2½ dozen Walnut Crunchers, about 2½ inches in diameter.

A Step And A Leap

Would you believe five years have elapsed since Neil Armstrong made man's first footprint in the dust of the moon?

It hardly seems possible that a half decade has slipped into history since the intrepid Apollo 11 crew of Armstrong, Edwin (Buzz) Aldrin and Michael Collins blasted off from Cape Kennedy (now renamed Canaveral) for that most historic accomplishment.

The occasion of the fifth anniversary of the lift-off and lunar landing is being marked this week with ceremonies at Cape Canaveral and in Washington. The three astronauts were reunited Monday night and Tuesday dedicated Launch Complex 399 as a national historic landmark.

Saturday in Washington they will participate in ceremonies at the Smithsonian Institute and Sunday at the Washington Cathedral.

Ten other astronauts have explored portions of the moon since Armstrong, followed by Aldrin, made the first brief exploration. Additionally, three crews of three men each occupied the Skylab Space Station for varying periods of time as it orbited the earth.

It was an eventful five years in the nation's space program with each new accomplishment exceeding those which had gone before.

The man whose first words uttered from the moon's surface — "That's one small step for a man, one giant leap for mankind" — has retired from the astronaut corps into academic life as a professor at the University of Cincinnati. Arm-

Some Equity Is Missing

Americans United, an organization dedicated to absolute separation of church and state, is having to go the long way around in an attempt to regain its tax exempt status. The Internal Revenue Service wiped out the exemption under the ruling that organizations enjoying tax-exempt status cannot engage in efforts to influence legislation as a "substantial" part of their activities.

The group contends this is an inequitable arrangement because religious bodies bent on an strong is a very private person and does not grant interviews. His interest still is with the space program, however, and his teaching field is aerospace engineering.

Armstrong's footprints on the moon probably have long since disappeared from its surface. But the fact of those first steps will live in history and those first words will long be remembered.

IT WAS a giant leap and one which man must use to the advantage of his world and universe.

opposite design are permitted to lobby freely for government aid for sectarian educational systems. They get by because they say their parochial aid lobbying is only a minor part of their total mission. Americans United makes no bones about it; its major aim is to preserve, through legislation and otherwise, the tradition of separation of church and state. And yet, what it is doing is essentially no different than those tax-exempt bodies are doing to rupture or break down this wall. There's some equity nursing in this.

Road Tribulations

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

In this day and time when we read so many stories of people ignoring a person who really needs help, we wonder what the world is coming to. Then on the other hand, we hear so many tales where persons are trapped and hurt by hitchhikers that turn out to be car thieves or murderers, we can partially understand.

I have been singularly lucky the times I've had car trouble. And I've had car troubles all over West Texas.

ONE TIME, between Wink and Poyote on a hot summer day when it was 105 in the shade and no shade, I had a flat. I stood by the car looking at it sadly and a fellow pulling a horse trailer stopped to fix it. He later turned out to be Gene Irwin, an Andrews County Commissioner whom I officially met the next year when I moved to that city.

One time, I had a blow out in the rain between Kermit and Andrews. I figured I was a gone goose on that occasion and sat in the car a moment muttering deleted expletives.

Then I noticed a car headed in the other direction U-turn in the highway and stop a man got out and said, "Mrs. Carpenter. What are you doing way up here?" It turned out he worked on a ranch near Saragosa and I had known him back during my husband's days as a field man for a bank.

One time I went to a big oilfield fire over near Jal and on the way home, blew a gasket. Or rather, my car did. That time, I had one daughter and my son along. We all got out and looked sad. A young couple on a honeymoon picked us up and took us to town.

I drive a lot and I've seen lots of problems . . . fan belts break, alternators go out, coils quit, radiator hoses burst, and batteries that quit batting.

But I've been very lucky because somebody has always come along to help.

ONE TIME it began to look pretty bleak. It was out between Fort Stockton and Pecos on a very hot summer day. My young son was along. We had gone out to get wreck pictures and had given up finding the wreck and started home. A tire blew out.

I got out and looked sad, sadder and sadder but nobody stopped. My son was barefooted. I was afraid to leave him there. We couldn't start walking because the pavement was too hot for his bare feet.

I took him out of the car and held him, looking even sadder and more desperate. More cars went by. I thought about laying down on the highway, but it was too hot. I kept hoping somebody would come along that we knew. Nobody did.

Finally, a young Mormon missionary stopped and changed that flat. I've had a good feeling toward those guys ever since. The tire was so hot that he nearly blistered his hand getting it off the rim.

I STOOD there feeling very, very grateful. And I got enough of a frantic feeling that day to sympathize with those who are stranded and need help.

But I cover news stories and I've also seen the other side of the coin.

I don't know what the answer really is, but I hope it never gets where we have no trust at all for the one on the wayside.

Back when I was teaching a nursery Sunday School class, a little girl named Mickey Jones went home and told her mother I had told them a story about "The Good American."

We laughed about her mixing up Samaritan and American.

But I hope there are still a few good Americans around that can carefully discern the really distressed person on the roadside.

Turkish Tragedy

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — During a hand-wringing emergency meeting at the State Department last week, top officials arrived at these grim conclusions: the Turkish decision to lift its ban against growing opium is irreversible, and that means a congressional stampede to stop all aid to Turkey may be uncontrollable.

ADD TO THIS the overheated rhetoric of outraged liberal politicians unwittingly building anti-Americanism in Turkey, and a Turkish tragedy is in the making. The consequences could be the loss of vital and irreplaceable U.S. installations in Turkey and a drastic change in the European strategic power balance.

Since the right to grow opium poppies has become entwined with Turkish nationalism, there is no hope of getting the Turkish government to change its mind. Nor is there much hope that severe Turkish controls can prevent the opium from turning into heroin on the streets of Harlem.

SOME HIGH OFFICIALS hope to convince congressmen that it is essential to U.S. interests to maintain the Turkish alliance and that this country, as a mature superpower, should show some forbearance as Turkey ventures into democracy following years of military rule.

However, recent statements by American liberals have had more of a banana republic than a superpower flavor. Sen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota, seeking attention for his sputtering presidential campaign, immediately demanded an end to all aid for Turkey. Several House members followed suit. But columnist Pete Hamill of the New York Post topped everybody by calling for B-52 carpet bombing of Turkish poppy fields.

SUCH HYSTERIA will inevitably spawn anti-American reaction in Turkey, building the tragic chain reaction.

On contrast to the crisis mood at the State Department and Pentagon, President Nixon is staying aloof. Conservative Republican Sen. James Buckley of New York, desperately seeking some way out of the crisis short of stopping military aid to Turkey, was turned down flat when he urgently requested to see the President. Buckley will not vote for an aid cutoff.

Mr. Nixon was similarly remote last month when two Republican congressmen returned from a mission to Turkey undertaken at Ambassador William Macomber's request. "We are obviously rapidly drifting into an irrevocable diplomatic crisis which will destroy over 25 years of cooperation with Turkey," Reps. James Hastings of New York and Louis Frey of Florida wrote the President on June 21, and asked for a meeting with him. The President couldn't find time for it.

THE FACT that rank-and-file labor enthusiasm for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is not reciprocated in the upper reaches of the AFL-CIO hierarchy was illustrated last month at the International Ladies Garment Workers Union (ILGWU) convention in Miami.

The largely female audience lustily cheered Kennedy's speech, including this statement: "The high value we place on respect for human rights, whether of blacks and Puerto Ricans in New York or of Jews in the Soviet Union, remains unchanged."

"Come in! Come in, my young friend . . . where've you been keeping yourself?"

On The Beach

Art Buchwald

EAST HAMPTON, N.Y. — Many people are discovering this summer that it isn't WHAT you read but WHERE you read it that counts. This was dramatically illustrated last weekend at East Hampton, Long Island.

I was lying on the beach and the only thing between me and the Atlantic Ocean was a young lady in her 20s trying to get a suntan. In order to do this she lay on her stomach with the top half of her bathing suit undone. This, I assumed, was so that she would get an even tan. As long as she stayed in her position there was nothing to see but her back. But you never know what can happen on a beach.

"I SEE," my wife said reading the paper, "that the failure of the SALT talks means that both superpowers are going to go full steam ahead on offensive missiles."

"What a pity," I said. As I saw it, my best bet would be if some little kid ran by and accidentally showered sand on the girl forcing her to turn over to find out what was going on.

MY WIFE TURNED a page. "The bank rates are up to 12 1/4 per cent and now they're predicting they'll go to 13 per cent. Herb Stein, the President's economic adviser, says the only one to blame for inflation is the American people. Do you think we're really responsible?"

"If he says so," I replied. Maybe if some bather came out of the ocean wringing wet and dropped water on her back, the shock of it might make the girl sit up.

"THE WHITE HOUSE transcripts don't jell with the ones released by the House Judiciary Committee," my wife read. "Mr. Nixon certainly looks like he knew a lot more about Watergate than he admitted. Why is it taking them so long to impeach him?"

"That's a good question," I answered. Perhaps there would be a cloudburst. The icy raindrops would certainly make her panic.

"IT SAYS HERE," my wife continued, "that Mr. Nixon's strategy, if the Supreme Court makes him turn over the tapes, will be to stonewall Jaworski, by saying it will take a lot of time to find the tapes and edit them. In that way the House Judiciary Committee won't have time to hear all the evidence before they're forced to vote. Doesn't it make you furious?"

"HMMMM," I said. The dear girl seemed to be asleep. My hope now was that she'd have a bad dream and wake up startled.

My wife continued reading the paper out loud. "The National Football League strike is still on. You might not be able to see the Redskins this fall."

"If you've seen one football game you've seen them all," I muttered.

"You know," my wife said, "she's NOT going to move."

Foray On Sexism

William F. Buckley Jr.

Twice in as many days I have been reproached as a sexist, having intended no offense, and I fear that the line I had thought best left undefined, needs now a little chiseling, lest things get out of hand. I mean, more out of hand.

I AM reviewing a book for the New York Times. It is a very fine book about the Antarctic, and includes engrossing chapters about the great expeditions of a half century ago. I conclude the review by observing (can any observation I have observed in the past 10 years have been more innocent?) that the book would appeal not only to scientists and students of the arctic but to "boys who love adventure stories."

Two pieces of mail already, the first especially indignant. "Just what makes you think that only boys love adventure stories? I read adventure stories throughout my childhood, and it is typical of male chauvinists to assume that only boys like to read adventure stories."

A DAY LATER, in the company of two distinguished journalists, I sought to examine the question going the rounds, namely where are American leaders. That last is the question explored in the current issue of Time magazine, at great and rather resourceful length. A lady panelist raised her hand to ask had we noticed that of the 200 young potential leaders in America, listed by Time magazine, only 19 were women? "Approximately nine and one half per cent," she said, exactly. We were all temporarily non-plussed, and it was then that I found myself saying that, really, the figure was not all that surprising, because it remains a fact that more men than women are attracted to those conspicuous professions from which leaders are taken. I felt a chill in the audience, as if I had said the kind of thing Professor Shockley specializes in saying.

ACCORDINGLY, Issue herewith a modest manifesto.

The movement for equality between the sexes will not, at my hands at any rate, issue in a death sentence for the synecdoche.

That there are grown people in the world who go around saying things like "chairperson" is testimony not to bisexual attempts to create equality, but to transsexual resolutions to sound stupid. The phrase: "will appeal to adventure-loving boys" is not an exclusionary phrase, because the word "boys" in this case means not only boys, but also girls. You cannot maintain the equilibrium of the English language by saying that "man's inhumanity to man" is measured in part by the sexism of that phrase. Is it seriously thought that man's inhumanity to man is to be distinguished from man's humanity towards women?

Pocketbook Significance

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The public has an enormous stake in the planned offering of $850 million in securities by Citicorp, which is the parent of the First National City Bank, second largest in the nation.

Ordinarily a financing of this magnitude by a financial institution of that size would have little or no meaning to the mass of people. But this one has pocketbook significance that everyone can appreciate.

1. If plans proceed, it would provide relatively small savers and investors an opportunity to obtain some of those high interest rates they've been reading about but found difficult to obtain. Not the 6 or 7 per cent they've become accustomed to, but close to 10 per cent.

2. At the same time such an offering might draw savings from the thrift institutions — savings and loan associations and savings banks — and thus reduce the amount of mortgage loans available to home buyers. If widely copied by other corporations, its critics contend, such money-raising techniques could so drain the nation's fund of mortgage money that the buying and selling of homes might all but cease.

Nobody knows this for certain, because this financing is an innovation into an unknown area.

It has startled many money men and banking and securities officials. It has dismayed the thrift institutions. It is attracting the admiration, and maybe the emulation, of other corporations fighting for funds in a tight-money economy.

First National City Bank, the largest member of Citicorp, couldn't have offered these notes because it is regulated by the Federal Reserve, which sets limits on the interest rates a bank may pay.

A Citicorp offering, however, would serve to sidestep this regulation. Not limited to a specified rate, it is offering 9.7 per cent, higher by far than any bank rate. And the funds would be available to the bank as if it had raised them itself.

That 9.7 rate under present plans would be paid until June 1, 1975, and thereafter would float one point above the average Treasury bill rate. Beginning on June 1, 1976, the notes could be redeemed at six-month intervals.

High finance of this sort generally might be expected to be aimed at big savers or corporations. But after an initial purchase of $5,000, investors would be able to buy notes in $1,000 increments. That's the kind of money the thrifts feel is theirs.

Pericarditis And Fluid

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell the cause and cure of pericarditis, inflammation and fluid around the heart. — MRS. G.L.

The cause? That's like asking the cause of a sore finger. There are lots of causes.

To straighten this out for you, remember that pericarditis is usually the result of some infection which affects the pericardium, or lining around the heart.

It could be infection set up by viruses, fungi, parasites or bacteria. It may or may not be associated with other heart disease. Sometimes kidney or thyroid disease may play a part in it. Or one of the collagen diseases, such as lupus or rheumatoid arthritis. Or it may develop because of such causes, as tuberculosis or syphilis. Infrequently, injury as from a knife or bullet would cause pericarditis.

In other words, pericarditis is inflammation, from one cause or another, of the lining around the heart. As with inflammation anywhere, fluid is likely to collect around the inflamed area, and if enough fluid accumulates, it can exert enough pressure to interfere with full and proper filling of the heart.

So, obviously, pericarditis should be brought under control as promptly as possible to prevent added strain on the heart. But there is a secondary reason for effective treatment. As the damaged lining heals, scar formation can occur, and if too much, scar again can limit expansion of the heart and limit the filling of it.

I'm sorry I can't give you a "cure for pericarditis," but I'm sure you now understand that, with so many possible causes, treatment appropriate to the specific cause has to be the answer — quite often it means treatment of the underlying disease which has led to the pericarditis.

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is also vital to human life. For this reason Dr. Thosteson has entitled his booklet "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly." For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

My husband was a long distance truck driver before we married. I found out his truck had pictures of nude women painted on it. Now, as a Christian, he has a pickup truck with Biblical verses painted all over it. He places so much emphasis on this as part of his witness. I feel we should show the world what we are by our lives. What do you think? F.T. Occasionally, some great Biblical verses used very unorthodox means to announce their faith in God. Isaiah, for example, once stripped down to a brief undergarment for three years to bring attention to his message (Isaiah 20).

I would say your husband's taste has greatly improved. I would not fault him for his gospel advertising, but it seems to me that generally people are not favorably impressed by the bizarre approach. It may even turn some off.

Certainly, if a person's life did not support his witness, whatever method was used, the whole impact for God could be nullified.

The Holy Spirit is charged with convicting the world of sin and judgment to come. (John 16:8). He uses a variety of means. If your husband feels that after prayer and waiting on God for direction, this evangelistic trick is still his way of sharing Christ, let him do it. You witness as you feel it should be done, and the partnership of both of you will make an effective team.

A Devotion For Today . .

"All the trees of the field shall know that I the Lord have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish." (Ezekiel 17:24)

PRAYER: Give us, dear Lord, a divine sense of wonder and contentment in the simple expressions of Thy greatness and power. Amen.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston Stevens, 905 S. Lons St., Brownfield, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary at a reception Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Seleta Jane Clubhouse at 702 E. Broadway, Brownfield. All friends are invited to attend.

Hosting the reception will be the couple's sons and their families, Elgin L. Stevens and son, Dale, Lynwood, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Stevens and children, Vance and Valerie, all of Forsan; and Mr. and Mrs. Burnell E. Stevens and children, Shannon and Erin, of Rockaway, Ore.

The former Miss Ora Plumlee and Houston Stevens were married Jan. 25, 1924 at Weatherford, and they have spent most of their married life in the field of education.

Stevens has 46 years experience in the areas of teaching and administration, and Mrs. Stevens has been a teacher for 23 years. Their work has taken them to various parts of the state.

In 1953, they moved to Wellman in Terry County and worked in that school system for 13 years. Stevens was elected school superintendent for Terry County in 1966, and they moved to Brownfield that year. In Brownfield, Mrs. Stevens taught remedial reading one year for the Union and Wellman schools. Stevens resigned his position as county superintendent Sept. 1, 1973 and, since that time, the couple has been traveling and doing other things of interest.

MR. AND MRS. HOUSTON STEVENS

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens held membership in the Texas State Teachers Association and he belonged to numerous other professional organizations.

Presiding at the refreshment table will be the couple's daughters-in-law, nieces, grandchildren and friends.

Also, Mrs. Morgan Martin, musician; Mrs. Estelle Eason, color bearer; Mrs. O. L. Rodricks, Rebekah color bearer; Mrs. L. S. Bonner and Mrs. Grady Beck, guardians; Mrs. Russell Loftis and Mrs. Homer Petty, supports to noble grand; Mrs. J. C. Pye and Mrs. O. G. The installing team consisted of Mrs. Mildred Collins, district deputy president, assisted by eight other members of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284. W. C. Cole served as escort.

The 32 members present reported 30 visits to the sick. There were 15 guests from Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 and other guests, Mrs. Maggie Gillespie, Delano, Calif.; and Mrs. Danna Johnson, Newark, Ohio.

4-H'ers Tour Tech Facilities

Howard County 4-H'ers made an educational trip to Lubbock Tuesday, touring educational and industrial facilities.

The group included Karla Holman, Darla Harrington, Dana Westbrook, Tricia Jackson, Ann Nichols, Leola Jones, Kayla Gaskins and Lisa Martin. Sponsors accompanying the group were Mrs. Charles Ray, Coahoma, and Mrs. Kelly Gaskins and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, both of Knott.

First on the tour for the young people was the School of Home Economics at Texas Tech University where Dean Donald S. Longworth said that, upon completion of the current building program, the university will have the most modern home economics facilities in the nation. There are approximately 1,300 students in the School of Home Economics. Dean Longworth noted that by September, 60 per cent of the faculty will have Ph.D. degrees.

At the Textile Research Center on campus, the girls were shown the steps taken in converting bales of cotton and wool to fabrics used in clothing construction. They were told that these facilities were used for contracted research projects by various manufacturers from over the nation. Also, they saw the latest equipment for open end spinning, which is of special interest to West Texans, because short staple cotton lends itself well to this method.

Next on the tour was the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill where the 4-H group learned about the milling of cotton seed flour and other by-products of cotton seed. They were given cookies made from the flour and were told of the possibilities for using this high protein flour as a source of good nutrition.

Flower Show Set For September

Tentative plans for a flower show to be held Sept. 16-17 in connection with the Howard County fair were made at the executive board meeting of Texas Bouquet African Violet Club Wednesday morning. The theme will be "Preserving Our Heritage" and is dedicated to Howard County and Big Spring.

The club's yearbook won first place in the American African Violet Society, and it was announced that the club has been accepted into the Texas Garden Club and the National Council of Garden Club, Inc.

Mrs. O. S. Womack, 1601 Tucson, was hostess.

Tell Her 'No'

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and Bill is 21 and we're getting married soon. My problem is my mother. She doesn't drive, and she is always offering Bill's driving services to her friends without asking Bill first. She just calls him and tells him to pick up so and so. She also asks him to drive her around and do different errands for her. She has never offered to put any gas in Bill's car and with gas so high, it makes a difference.

Bill isn't dumb. He knows he's being taken advantage of, but he's such a nice guy he never says "no" to her. I've asked Mom not to take advantage of Bill this way, but it hasn't helped. Any suggestions?

BILL'S GIRL: Tell Bill that when your mother's requests are an imposition to tell her in a nice way that he can't accommodate her. People who let others take advantage of them can expect to go through life being used and inconvenienced. They may be known as "nice-guys," but they're also known as "suckers."

DEAR ABBY: To "HAD IT WITH MOM", who visited her elderly mother only occasionally because Mom talked of nothing but illness, death and hardships — present and past.

Too bad we can't just consign all the contrary old folks to a gas chamber, so we wouldn't have to bother with them!

Old people complain of "illness" because they are at that stage of their lives when their bodies (and minds) have begun to deteriorate.

Probably the most exciting thing that happened to Mom was her visit to the doctor's last week.

Old folks talk about "death" because they live at death's door. Their friends are dropping like flies, and death seems so near to them.

They speak of "hardships" — present and past — because they are proud to have overcome the hardships of the past, and are trying to endure present hardships.

My own mother suffered from all the above. You see, I have memories of Mamma from when I was a child. Of the love, care, time and tenderness she gave me. What she taught me was more valuable than what I learned in college. There is not one single day that passes that I don't use some of the knowledge that Mamma imparted.

Someday I will be visiting Mamma's grave, as I do

Daddy's now. I will then wish I could hear a few complaints or hard luck stories from her past.

If we are lucky, we, too, will grow old. Then we will pray that some loving friends or relatives will come to visit us and patiently listen as we talk about the aches and pains of our minds, bodies and hearts.

DIANNE IN BILOXI
DEAR DIANNE: You're beautiful.

DEAR ABBY: I went with a beautiful 22-year-old girl for eight months. (I'm 28). She came on like a lily white touch-me-not virgin. She even slapped my face once, when I let my hands get too familiar with her.

I never came right out and asked her if she was a virgin because from her actions I was sure she was. I was so glad she had "saved herself" for marriage because that was the one thing I wanted in a wife.

Well, after we were married I found out that she lied to me. She refuses to talk about it, and I feel that I have been tricked. I think she withheld the truth from me because she knew I'd never marry her if I knew. I was really crazy about this girl, and she seemed to care for me, too, but now everything is ruined.

We aren't getting along at all and it's all because she deceived me about her virginity. It's gotten to the point where I feel divorce is the only answer. Please help me.

CHEATED
DEAR CHEATED: She didn't lie to you, you jumped to a conclusion. Too bad you place such a high priority on virginity because there is no way she can get hers back. However, "never have loved before" isn't the most important thing a woman can bring to a marriage.

Her past is her business, and she owes you no explanations, so if you want to save your marriage, get some counseling.

Rhubarb Plant Is Versatile

It's rhubarb season. The pink plant with the delicate flavor has a quaint, old-fashioned feeling about it, very welcome in today's meals.

Actually, rhubarb is considered by botanists to be a vegetable, but is not served as such.

Rhubarb is used as a fruit because of its high acidity and flavor. The fact that it is often called "pie-plant" gives a cue to one of its most popular uses. Rhubarb tarts, sauces, puddings, punch, jams and jellies are delicious. They are spring fashion items for the menu.

Three Towns To Hold Reunion

The Pioneer, Sabanno and Liberty Ex-Students' Association will meet Aug. 10 at Pioneer Tabernacle. Mrs. Lorena Woods Brandon, Rt. 3, Cisco, is secretary for the organization. Rook Games

The Rook Club will meet at 2:30 p.m., Friday in the home of Mrs. A. C. Bass, 106 Washington Blvd.

p.m. in the Stardust Club at Odessa.

An ice cream party will be held July 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Irene Johnson, 710 E. 15th, where the group will fold newsletters.

The fifth international convention of Parents Without Partners will be held July 24-29 in Seattle, Wash.

Four Selected In Murder Trial

MCKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — State and defense lawyers today to continue their efforts today to select a jury for the murder trial of Robert E. White, accused of slaying an elderly store owner.
 No jurors were chosen Wednesday leaving only the four selected in the trial's first two days.

White, 36, and James Owen Livingston, 26, are charged with slaying Preston Broyles, 73, and two customers in Broyles' store about six miles from here last May.
 Livingston is scheduled for trial at a later date.
 State District Court Judge Tom Ryan is holding a defense motion for a change of venue in abeyance until it can be determined whether a jury can be chosen here.

Jury Will Hear Reading Of 'Scotch-Taped' Transcripts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The defense in the perjury trial of California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke contends the Senate hearing transcripts which form the backbone of the government's case are inaccurate and "scotch-taped together."

The jury was to hear a reading of the lengthy transcripts today as the trial goes into its fourth day.

Defense attorney James E. Cox challenged the accuracy of the transcripts of a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing during which Reinecke testified April 19, 1972. Reinecke's perjury charge stems from that testimony.

dismiss the case, saying changes in the transcript do not affect parts of the transcript used in the indictment.

Benjamin H. Firshein, the stenotypist who recorded Reinecke's testimony before the committee, said that at the request of the special Watergate prosecutor's office he edited the transcript last March before it was given to the grand jury. Then made more editorial changes last weekend.

Prosecutor Richard Davis characterized the changes as minor.

Among the concluding prosecution witnesses will be Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., and Joseph J. Connolly, now a lawyer in Philadelphia.

DISPLEASURE

Wilson helped raise financial support for the 1972 Republican National Convention which was set for San Diego, Calif., then shifted to Miami Beach. He obtained a $400,000 pledge from Harold Geneen, president of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

Connolly, once head of the Watergate special prosecutor's ITT investigation unit, resigned until after the out-of-court settlement.

pleasure over a decision allowing former Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst to plead guilty to a misdemeanor charge in the ITT case.

According to the prosecution Connolly's function will be to identify documents pertinent to the grand jury indictment.

The prosecution contends Reinecke lied to the Senate committee when he said he did not discuss with then-Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell the ITT pledge to underwrite the Republican National Convention until after the out-of-court settlement.

VA Now Handles Grave Markers

Persons applying for headstones or memorial markers for deceased veterans can get faster service by making sure they use a new application form that recently became available at Veterans Administration hospitals and regional offices.

Formerly administered by the Department of the Army, the memorial program was transferred to the VA with the establishment of the National Cemetery System last fall.

The new monument application form (VA 40-1330) replaces a similar Department of Defense form, which will continue to be accepted until supplies are exhausted. Persons using the old form are cautioned to forward the application to the following VA address: Director, National Cemetery System (42), Veterans Administration Central Office, 810 Vermont Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20420.

WEATHER HOT, JUST AS ANTHRAX LIKES IT

Deadly Disease Rears Its Ugly Head

By The Associated Press
Anthrax likes hot and dry weather so it can spring from the soil and bring down its victims. It's now hot and dry in the Southwest and Midwest and the deadly disease has reared its ugly head.

The disease, which has proven fatal to livestock since ancient times, was first discovered in Central Texas June 28 and between 200 and 300 cattle in that area have died since then.

VACCINATE PLEA
The Texas State Animal Health Commission quickly moved in, quarantining portions of Falls County, and urged cattlemen in a surrounding seven-county area to vaccinate their herds.

Then on Tuesday, Oklahoma City, Okla., officials, 175 miles north of the Texas outbreak, reported eight to 10 cattle had died. Anthrax is suspected. The state immediately banned shipment of cattle from Texas and scurried for vaccine.

By Wednesday two more states and the federal government got into the act.

Kansas Animal Health Commissioner Dr. Gerald Gurrus warned that the nation's "anthrax belt" is ripe for major outbreaks.

JUST RIGHT
"The weather conditions are really prime for anthrax, not just in Texas, but in Oklahoma and Kansas," Gurrus said.

"The fuse is ready to be lighted," Arkansas state veterinarian Dr. Richard Thomas said he knew of no cases of anthrax in his state but nonetheless began an embargo of cattle from Texas and Oklahoma.

Gurrus said his state is considering the same embargo.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture took steps to increase the distribution of anthrax vaccine to Texas, specifically in the Falls County area. There is adequate vaccine and there is no danger to humans, it said.

Dr. John Jeil, chief of veterinary services for the USDA Animal Plant Health Inspection service, said Falls County is the only area where the cases have been confirmed. At this point the Oklahoma cases are merely "speculative" but could be true.

STOP MOVEMENT
It is believed the stricken cattle in Oklahoma City came from a consignment in Sulphur Springs, Tex., about 50 miles south of the Oklahoma state line.

In Texas, there are an estimated 300,000 head in the quarantined and surrounding area and 41 roadblocks, supplemented since Monday by National Guard units, are set up to stop movement of cattle. There are only 250,000 more doses of the vaccine left in the state and a state official said that's why its use is restricted to Falls County and the surrounding area.

Dr. Paul Beeton, a USDA official in Washington, said Wednesday "The State of Texas is completely on top of the situation and there is no evidence that infected cattle have been moved from the quarantine area."

'DANGER AREA'
Beeton said a line from Denver, Colo., to Oklahoma City was in a "danger area" for anthrax to break out.

Officials said the disease does not spread from cow to cow. A bacteria, anthrax spores can be preserved in alkaline soil for years, waiting for the right weather conditions.

Anthrax can be fatal to humans, but Dr. Francis J. Mulhern, administrator of the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, said in Washington Wednesday there was no anthrax risk to consumers who eat meat.

"We have never had a case of anthrax in people from meat that has gone through our inspection system," Mulhern said. He said an estimated two to 10 cases per year show up in people as a result of their working with hides or wool which came from diseased carcasses.

NO HUMAN DEATHS
There have been no human deaths from anthrax for at least 10 years, Mulhern said, and it can be effectively controlled with modern antibiotics.

An aide to Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Reagan Brown, said more than 200 cattle carcasses have been burned in Falls County since the outbreak.

There have been only the "three or four" violations of restrictions, he said.

The restrictions on cattle movement have put the cattle rancher in a bind already tightened by low beef prices, higher feed costs and dry weather.

John Rabbie, a Marlin rancher, considers himself almost lucky. His 100 cattle have not contracted anthrax but after mass vaccination he must hold them for 42 days before he can sell them.

OUT OF BUSINESS
"I just don't have any grass," said Rabbie. "I'm just going to have to turn them loose in some maize."

Another rancher, Shelton Haak, stood in a field and watched as three of his dead cows were burned.

"It just about puts me out of business," said Haak. "I've lost 24 out of 37 head in this pasture."

In a field next to Haak's, several cattle died a week ago. But, Haak said, he didn't have his cattle vaccinated.

"Within a day or so it was here," he said.

"It was so quick."

John Rabbie, a Marlin rancher, considers himself almost lucky. His 100 cattle have not contracted anthrax but after mass vaccination he must hold them for 42 days before he can sell them.

WATERWORKS — A team of swimmers at Kunming Lake, northwest of Peking, practices their skills Tuesday as part of an aquatic holiday. Reports indicated that more than 90,000 workers, peasants, and soldiers held swimming, racing, water polo and other forms of competition at the city's swimming areas. Photo was made available from Hsinshu, the Chinese Government News Agency.

Crash Kills Reservist

TINKER AIR FORCE BASE, Okla. (AP) — The Air Force has identified a reserve officer killed in a South Carolina plane crash Wednesday as Capt. Lynn P. Scott of Plano, Tex.

A spokesman at Tinker Air Force Base here said Scott was killed when the F106 he was flying crashed during maneuvers near Shaw Air Force Base.

Scott, an American Airlines employee, was on maneuvers with Tinker's Detachment 507 of the 301st Tactical Fighter Wing.

The Tinker-based unit was deployed July 14 to Travis Field near Savannah, Ga., for its annual active duty training.

Scott is survived by his widow Sandra, daughters Shannon, 11, and Kirstan, 5, and son John, 9.

Hodge, Sanchez To Get Degrees

BROWNWOOD — J. Howard Hodge, Midland businessman, and Rudy Sanchez, pastor of the Primera Iglesia Bautista Church, Corpus Christi, will receive honorary doctorates during the Howard Payne College Summer commencement.

Announcement was made by the HPC president, Dr. Roger L. Brooks.

Sanchez, a graduate of HPC, is a former pastor of the First Mexican Baptist Church of Dallas and he is president of the Mexican Baptist Departmental Convention of Texas. He also has served as vice president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Son of a pioneer Texas businessman, Hodge has long been identified with HPC. His wife, the former Veda Wells, is a trustee and a graduate of HPC.

South Texas Energy Study

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A Bexar County grand jury probing the San Antonio energy problem meets today to hear further on energy needs in South Texas.

District Atty. Ted Butler said Wednesday the grand jury may need a three-month extension to complete its work. The current term of the jury expires Aug. 31.

Five members of Butler's staff are compiling energy data from all of South Texas, including Houston, Austin and the Rio Grande Valley.

Butler said the jury meets next week to receive an initial briefing on what the district attorney's investigation has turned up so far.

Abduction Count Filed

PAULS VALLEY, Okla. (AP) — A kidnapping charge was filed late Wednesday against an Oklahoma City man in the abduction of a 14-year-old Richland, Tex., girl.

The defendant, Dwight Franklin Riley, 20, and two juveniles were arrested earlier near Davis, Okla.

Authorities also filed a petition to have the two juveniles declared adults but no charges had been filed against them.

Marvin County Sheriff Bill Branch said police were investigating the girl's allegation that she was raped.

Officers said the trio picked up the girl, her 13-year-old brother and another youth who were hitchhiking early Wednesday on Interstate 35 in Purcell.

Branch quoted the girl's brother as saying the trio forced him and his companion out of the car at gunpoint and drove away toward Elmore City with the girl.

The girl later was found in Euless, Tex., a Fort Worth suburb. She said she was raped three times, police said.

'I REALLY MUST STOP ALL THIS' Ready For The Final Curtain?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Could the unparalleled 65-year acting career of Helen Hayes be reaching the final performance?

She thinks so, but she is reluctant to make a formal announcement.

Once before she declared she had given up the stage forever. A few months later she was acting on Broadway in a revival of "The Front Page" written by her late husband, Charles MacArthur, and Ben Hecht.

ENERGY GALORE

Still possessed with limitless energy, the 73-year-old actress was here overnight from Honolulu, where she had helped son James MacArthur with a benefit. In the morning she would be leaving for London to appear with Peter Ustinov in "One of Our Dinosaurs is Missing." It would mark her second Disney production and — she thinks — her last film.

"I really must stop all this," she remarked. "It's such an interruption of my life ... I love my home (in Nyack, N.Y.), I love my house in Mexico. I would like more time to enjoy them and to do the things I like to do."

BAD RISK

"Would I miss acting? I wish I wouldn't. I agree that I must like it or I wouldn't have done it all these years.

"Somewhere inside me is a fear that I might get very lost without it. But I don't really think that will happen."

Miss Hayes finally had to give up the theater because of a bronchial condition that was aggravated by backstage dust.

"Whenever I did a play, I always ended up in the hospital for a week," she recalled. "I finally told myself I was such a bad risk I might as well have been a drunk."

"I was miserable doing it," she said. "It was like a jail sentence ... The hours that we had to work were terrible, not only for Mildred and myself, but everyone."

"SORRY FOR MYSELF"

"I felt petulant, angry and sorry for myself. Oh, it's easy to sit on the sidelines and say, 'Why should television stars complain when they're getting paid $125,000 a show?'"

"But something inside you feels put upon when you are required to work under such miserable conditions."

Helen Hayes' career has been laden with honors, including two Academy awards ("The Fin of Madelon Claudet," 1931; "Airport," 1970). Now she seeks a more reflective life.

ACTRESS HELEN HAYES 'Then The Fun Begins'

Fresh Round Of Showers

By The Associated Press

Breezes from the southeast shoved muggy weather from the Gulf of Mexico over much of Texas today.

Official observers described it as a weak tropical surge and blamed the condition for fog which formed over about the southeast third of the state in early morning.

The damp, unstable air started pushing into Texas and setting off scattered showers, plus sometimes locally heavy rains, in the south and southeast sections late Wednesday.

Another round of thunderstorms was expected today in Central and Southeast Texas. Little relief was in prospect, however, from the summery heat.

Top temperatures Wednesday afternoon hit 98 degrees at Waco and Wichita Falls. Houston, which measured 79 in of rain, was the coolest point with a maximum of 77.

Moisture amounts elsewhere included Galveston 1.94 inches, Beaumont .65, College Station .32, Cotulla .22, Lufkin .21, Marfa .13, San Angelo .12, Junction .07, San Antonio .15 and El Paso .04.

Near dawn today the temperatures ranged from 67 at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 79 at Corpus Christi on the coast.

Chisum Says Crime Down

Police Chief Vance Chisum said today that the FBI has not made any report indicating a rise in the crime rate in Big Spring.

San Angelo had a 50 per cent increase in the first quarter, and Houston was up sharply, but both took issue with the FBI reporting system which now lists many misdemeanors as major crimes. Formerly only felony offenses were so regarded.

Chief Chisum went on to say that, "I am happy to report that the number of major crimes in the city are down." He classified major crimes as homicides, assaults, rapes and other felonies.

Chisum attributed the decrease here to a shifting of law enforcement personnel so that more officers are on duty during the "high crime times" between the hours of darkness and 2 a.m.

Chisum went on to say that the number of thefts and burglaries were up 7-10 per cent. Some of the increase can be attributed to the energy crisis and the rising cost of living the chief conceded.

Chief Chisum stated, "cities can't complain about crime statistics because they provide the information for the FBI to compile their reports."

Okay Regional Planning Grant

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced Wednesday the approval of a $23,957 planning assistance grant to the South Texas Development Council, Laredo.

The South Texas council has a membership of three cities, eight special purpose governments, six school districts and the counties of Jim Hogg, Starr, Webb and Zapata.

Briscoe said the grant would assist the council in meeting regional planning and service responsibilities.

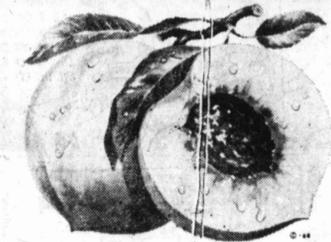

Delay Hearing On Arsenic

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The executive director of the Texas Water Quality Board said Wednesday "it is dismaying to me" that Pennwalt Co. continues to delay a public hearing on arsenic deposits in Finleather and Municipal Lakes, near Bryan.

Hugh Yantis said Pennwalt has obtained court orders to block July 9 and July 20 public hearings, and the hearing has been pushed back to July 29.

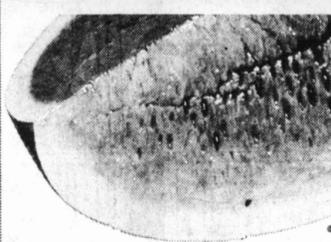

"As long as the Pennwalt company has been aware of this situation and in view of its importance to the people in the Bryan area, it seems to me there should be no problem in their coming to a hearing, and it is dismaying to me to find that the company continues these delaying tactics," Yantis said in a news release.

Howard County doesn't have a Watergate, but the commissioner's court does tape each of its sessions. Sometimes the tape comes in handy.

This week, Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena was denied a request for additional part time help by the commissioners.

An informed source says that he later asked Judge A. G. Mitchell why he failed to get favorable response from the court.

The judge reminded the JP that he had at one meeting referred to the court as "stupid" and members of the court took it personally. Ochotorena denied having called them stupid, so the two got the tapes of the meeting and took them behind closed doors.

It was reported that there is no place in the tapes referring to the court as stupid. There were also reported to be absolutely no "deleted expletives" on Howard County tapes.

Ochotorena may have won his point but not his additional help.

RECALLS OLD DAYS — Joe "Cannonball" Hatfield, 62, who has been shot out of a cannon 1,200 times, rests in Tampa, Fla., Veteran's Hospital after surgery for arthritis. Hatfield, who claims to be a descendant of the feuding Hatfields of West Virginia, keeps this family photograph (right) tucked among his souvenirs. It shows clan leader Devil Ance seated center.

Shriners Shine For Suez Circus

The Shriners are starting to plan about two months ahead of time for the Suez Temple Shrine Circus, coming to Big Spring on Sept. 17.

Advance tickets are already on sale at Blum's Jewelers, the Chamber of Commerce, First National Bank, Greyhound bus terminal, Gibson's, Hemphill-Wells, Prager's, The Record Shop, Security State and State National Banks.

Arthritis Cripples 'Human Cannonball'

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Joe Hatfield was once a daring human cannonball who headlined carnivals from Maine to Mississippi. Now he's confined to a wheel chair — his past stuffed in two envelopes of yellowed clippings and faded photographs.

OLD CARNIVAL
The 62-year-old performer, who claims to be a descendant of the feuding Hatfield clan of West Virginia, is crippled with arthritis.

"If I could, I'd be in some rag-tag old carnival now, seeing what's going on," he said at Tampa Veteran's Hospital, where he is recovering from surgery.

"It's the damndest thing, this arthritis," Hatfield said as he reached painfully for the folders that lay next to his bed. But his blue eyes brightened as he fetched a scratched snapshot from his 37-year career.

"Cannonball" Hatfield was blasted out of the barrel of a cannon 1,200 times; drove nails up his nose in sideshow extras and pulled a 90-pound weight across a table with his eyelids. and did it over and over," he said, sorting through a lapful of memories.

"Do you know what it's like to feel the applause of 60,000 people — that's why I did it,

They Must Save For Development

MASERU, Lesotho (AP) — The government has introduced a compulsory savings plan to increase the funds available for national development.

An official announcement said the plan includes a 10 per cent cut in the salaries of cabinet ministers. An additional 10 per cent is to be deducted from the pay of civil servants and government officers earning more than $900 a year.

The sum collected is to be credited them in a special tax-free and interest-bearing account which the person concerned cannot touch for five years or before he resigns or retires.

Find 52 Illegal Aliens In Refrigerated Truck

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — Discovery of 52 Mexican citizens in a refrigerated tractor-trailer truck Tuesday led to the arrest of two Chicago men on a charge of illegally transporting aliens, the state Transportation Commission said.

It's enforcement agents stopped the truck for a routine check on Interstate 30 near the Pulaski-Saline County line and said they found the aliens jammed into the trailer like cattle.

Harr Tyson, one of the officers who stopped the truck, said the driver, Jesse G. Adams, 26, and the truck's owner, William R. Devitt, 30, were arrested.

He said the driver told of receiving $25 each for the laborers—a total of $1,300 for the trip. The workers were to receive $75 each for their labor, Pfeifer said.

After picking crops, Pfeifer said the aliens probably would have fanned out into other parts of the country and taken up illegal residence.

"We know there are a number of organized smuggling operations operating out of El Paso and this has all the earmarks of such an operation," he said.

The Mexicans were held in the North Little Rock city jail to await processing for return to Mexico. Pfeifer said a few probably would be detained as witnesses.

Reveals Local Demo Donor

George Bristol, administrative assistant to Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and who was a key figure on the recent Democratic fund raising telethon, was one of the guests at the Permian Basin Regional Council meeting here Wednesday.

He revealed the name of the $10,000 donor from Big Spring to the national telethon as that of Joe Halton. Bristol said he planned to call him while he was here and again thank him for his interest in the welfare of the party.

ATTENTION: CABLE CUSTOMERS

BIG SPRING CABLE T-V, INC. has been serving cable t-v customers in Big Spring for over twelve years. During this twelve year period, many changes have occurred in new cable services and new equipment. The greatest change being the addition of the Dallas-Ft. Worth channels and other services. The cost of these services and operations plus the inflationary influence has necessitated a small change in our base monthly rate. Effective August 1, 1974, the base monthly charge for service will be $6.00 per month as authorized in our franchise. If you have any questions about this five cent increase, please call 263-1141 or 263-6302.
