'Playing A Game Of Poker' With Lives Of 13 Hostages

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Prison officials negotiating at the main state prison with armed convicts who hold 13 hostages clamped a news blackout over the talks today.

EXPOSURE
Prison spokesman Ron Taylor said bargaining with inmate Fred Gomez Carrasco for release of the hostages "continues to increase in sensitivity and detail." Taylor said there are "inherent dangers to the lives of all the hostages" where "negotiating points are given public exposure ... interrogative debate and examination."

Taylor said prison authorities would have no more to say about their discussions with Carrasco — talks which were scheduled to resume today.

The third-floor library where Carrasco and his captives are held up was plunged into darkness around dawn when lightning struck the library's power source.

POWER FAILURE
Taylor said the power failure would have no effect on telephone negotiations with Carrasco which have been publicized on many occasions by Kathy Pollard, daughter of one of the hostages. Taylor emphasized Miss Pollard, who has learned of negotiating details through telephone conversations with her mother, speaks for herself, and the prison will have no comment on her reports to newsmen.

She read several messages from Carrasco to newsmen and later said prison authorities were receiving the messages about a half hour before she made them public.

Miss Pollard, 24, said her mother, Novella Pollard, told her they were making a cartoon of every statement Carrasco was sending to prison officials and giving them to her.

MOM'S REQUEST
She said she was being a spokesman at her mother's request because the hostages felt the whole story was not being put out by TDC officials.

The 34-year-old Carrasco, a powerful underworld narcotics chief serving a life sentence for assault on murder, had demanded that an armored truck with a telephone and a short wave radio be placed in the

DOCTOR KILLS GIRL HE DELIVERED 18 YEARS AGO

ELKIN, N.C. (AP) — A doctor fired a shotgun at intruders in his office and killed one of them, a girl he had delivered 18 years ago, police report.

Dr. Ralph N. Cooke, 66, a general practitioner, told sheriff's deputies he shot at three persons who dashed for the door when he found them in his office early Wednesday morning.

Cooke said he had been sleeping in the office because of recent burglaries in which drugs, guns and money had been stolen.

Sherri Teresa Guyer of the nearby State Road Community was fatally wounded. Two male companions escaped.

Deputies later arrested Jimmy Wayne Luffman, 22, at his parents' home in suburban Elkin. He was being held under $25,000 bond on a charge of felonious breaking and entering.

The Surry County sheriff's office said the second man was still being sought. He was not identified.

WHITE HOUSE SPOKESMAN Casts Nixon In Role Of Underdog

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House spokesman cast Nixon "in the role of underdog" today in what he called "an uphill struggle ... a political struggle" to avoid impeachment by the House of Representatives.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren indicated a shift in White House strategy with his comments at a news briefing.

Previously, Warren and other presidential spokesmen had been stressing the evidence and the legal aspects of the impeachment proceeding.

But, responding to questions, Warren added the view today that the process is a political one.

"We recognize the situation as it exists in the House ... We face an uphill struggle ... a political struggle," Warren said.

He said he was not conceding that the House would impeach Nixon but added: "If you had to make odds ... you'd have to place the President in the role of the underdog."

Presidential Impeachment Debate Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders shaping plans for the first presidential impeachment debate in 106 years have agreed to start it Aug. 19, with the first votes coming about eight days later.

Although final details are still to be worked out, it appears certain live television and radio coverage of the historic event will be permitted.

Under arrangements tentatively approved by the leadership of both parties Thursday, about seven days will be devoted to general debate and three or four days to voting on the articles of impeachment.

The procedures contemplated now would not permit any new articles to be proposed and would limit amendments to motions to strike the three separate articles or sections of them.

Debate and voting procedures will be drawn up formally by the House Rules Committee at a meeting now set for Aug. 13. In preparation for the meeting, party leaders informally discussed the arrangements with the committee.

Meanwhile, in the Senate Rules and Administration Committee, strong sentiment developed to leave virtually unchanged the 106-year-old rules for impeachment trials.

The World At-A-Glance

DETROIT (AP) — Consumers will be able to find out this fall what gasoline mileage they can expect from most new cars by looking at the sticker on vehicles in the showroom. General Motors joined Ford Motor Co. on Thursday in agreeing to post voluntarily the federal gasoline mileage test results on their 1975 models. Chrysler Corp. hasn't decided yet whether it will go along with the nation's two largest automakers. American Motors has refused to post the federal figures, saying it disagrees with test procedures.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Since Manuel Padilla started serving a 255-day sentence in the Los Angeles County jail, both of his young sons have been killed in accidents. The 28-year-old prisoner was dressed in civilian clothes instead of prison denims Thursday night as he attended memorial services with the permission of jail officials for 10-year-old Manuel Padilla Jr., the victim of injuries sustained in a fall from a bicycle. Padilla's other son by another marriage, Danny, 4, was killed June 26 while riding in a car with his grandparents to get ice cream. Their car was hit by a truck that ran a stop sign.

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — When Rosemary Collett gets a call for help, she hops into an old red van and takes along a pair of welder's gloves, a long-handled net, a bologna sandwich and a fish. For the past 10 years, the 42-year-old housewife has been rescuing injured wildlife and nursing them back to health in her modest Gulf Coast home. Mrs. Collett has pulled pelicans from the Gulf of Mexico, untangled tiny birds from mangroves and coaxed a family of skunks from under a lumber yard office. "The idea is to get them well and release them," Mrs. Collett, an officer in the Florida Audubon Society, explained. Recuperating now in her yard, living room, porch and bathroom are 100 homeless creatures ranging from an eagle to skunks.

Phone Strike Remains Set For Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Company and union bargainers plan to intensify negotiations in hopes of averting a nationwide strike against the Bell Telephone System set for 12:01 a.m. EDT Monday.

A Bell spokesman said the company was hopeful of a peaceful settlement but President Glenn E. Watts of the Communications Workers of America said a strike appears inevitable.

"The hard fact at this time is that the union and the companies remain very far apart on the total package," Watts told a news conference Thursday. He said his union's 500,000 members voted in favor of a walkout by a ratio of 7-1.

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the Alliance of Independent Telephone Unions with 250,000 workers also announced they would walk out Monday "in the absence of a satisfactory agreement."

It marks the first time all the telephone unions have agreed to strike the giant Bell System at the same time.

A strike would affect the Bell operating companies across the country, the Western Electric Co. and the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Since most telephone service is automated, the public would continue to have service, at least until lack of maintenance causes breakdowns. Installation of new phones and repairs on existing equipment would stop.

The unions rejected on July 18 a three-year contract package that they said amounts to a 30 per cent increase when wages, cost-of-living increases and fringe benefits are counted.

STAR WITNESS

Dean Sentenced To Prison

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former White House counsel John W. Dean III was sentenced today to one to four years in prison for his role in the Watergate cover-up.

Dean, the principal witness against President Nixon in the cover-up, pleaded guilty eight months ago to conspiracy to obstruct justice.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica gave Dean until Sept. 3 to put his affairs in order.

Sirica said he would recommend that Dean serve his sentence in the minimum security prison at Lompoc, Calif.

Sirica handed down the sentence after denying a request from Dean's attorney that the sentencing be delayed.

Dean's attorney said a new batch of White House tapes being handed over to Sirica under a Supreme Court order issued last month contain evidence which might suggest a light sentence for Dean.

The charge to which Dean pleaded guilty last October carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

REALLY NOT ENOUGH
Sirica said he was giving Dean a month before beginning his sentence in part because of the illness of Dean's mother-in-law.

Dean's wife, Maureen, was not present for the sentencing.

Standing before Sirica, Dean said, "I realize the wrongs I've done...but to say I'm sorry is really not enough."

Dean pleaded guilty Oct. 19, 1973, to joining a conspiracy designed to limit the original Watergate investigation and kept it away from the door of the White House.

Dean has been cooperating with the special Watergate prosecutor's office since shortly before he was fired by President Nixon April 30, 1973.

The 35-year-old lawyer had sought complete immunity but the prosecutors insisted that he plead guilty to one count of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Overturn Bribery Conviction Of Demo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals today overturned the bribery conviction of former U.S. Sen. Daniel B. Brewster of Maryland.

Brewster, a Democrat, was convicted on Feb. 2, 1973, of accepting more than $14,000 from a lobbyist for the mail order company Spiegel Inc. to influence his vote on postal rate legislation.

The Appeals Court said U.S. District Judge George L. Hart had erred in his instructions to the jury.

ONE INJURED IN BUS-CAR CRASH — R. L. Colclazer, 1700 State, was injured when his 1973 pickup and a Greyhound bus were in collision 5:30 p.m. at Fourth and State. He was taken to Medical Center Memorial Hospital where he was convalescing today from lacerations on the head, abrasions and fractured ribs. Police said that Colclazer was southbound on State, and the bus, driven by Cosby Howard Stanley, El Paso, was eastbound on Fourth when the crash occurred. None of the bus passengers experienced injury. Both the bus and pickup sustained extensive damage and the bus driver was ticketed for going through a red signal light.

MISTAKE OF A SALESMAN

A Dallas salesman made at least a couple of mistakes.

One of them was going to the bathroom.

In reporting the loss of his wallet, containing approximately $100 and credit cards, he said he had given a ride to an unidentified young woman he had picked up some 125 miles east of El Paso. He not only gave her the hospitality of his car, but also his room at Holiday Inn. But when he went to the bathroom about 9:45 p.m. Thursday, the funniest thing happened — the young woman, his trousers and his wallet all had disappeared.

He described the woman as being blonde, about 20 years old, wearing blue jeans, and supposedly enroute to Dallas.

Tape Player Stolen At What Address?

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Among the daily police statistics here was a report that a burglary had occurred at 3168 Watergate Plaza.

The only item stolen was a tape player.

20 PER CENT

Hope for rain lingers with cool weather. Chances 20 per cent today and tonight, 30 per cent Saturday. Variable wind blowing 5-15 miles per hour tonight. High today, near 90. Low tonight, mid 60s. High Saturday, mid 80s.

STRIKE AHEAD — Glenn Watts, president of the Communications Workers of America, shields his eyes during a news conference in Washington Thursday, where he announced that 750,000 telephone workers voted a nationwide strike against the Bell System to begin at 11:01 p.m. (Big Spring time) Sunday if negotiations fail to reach agreement on a new contract. Watts said negotiations would continue throughout the weekend.

Dell City Hit By Tornado

By The Associated Press
A tornado struck a glancing blow at Dell City in far West Texas during the night and thunderstorms boomed up across the southeast half of the state today.
The unsettled weather again developed south of a weak cool front which came close to stalling before dawn near a line linking Wichita Falls and Midland.
Skies were mostly clear behind the front. Partly cloudy to cloudy conditions covered other areas except near the coast, where it was usually clear.
State police said the twister ripped the roof off a building at Dell City, which is 60 miles east of El Paso, and an unidentified youth suffered minor injuries when flying debris struck his head.

Sighting of another tornado was reported southeast of Abilene. There was no word of damage.
Heavy thunderstorms rumbled through other areas in far West Texas about the same time, particularly from Van Horn northward into New Mexico.
Downstate storms ranged from parts of West Central Texas and the Hill Country into East Texas, sometimes dumping rainfall at rates up to 1.5 inches per hour. Some of the heavier downpours fell from Junction and Fredericksburg past Austin, and between Lufkin and Lake Livingston.

Old Settlers Coins Moving

Commemorative coins struck for the annual Howard Glasscock Old Settlers reunion are moving rapidly, according to the principal sponsors.
W. L. (Buck) McMullar, and Coy J. McCann said that seven of the 10 matching sets of serially numbered gold, silver and bronze coins had been sold. This leaves only set No. 1, No. 2 and No. 4. All of the bronze coins under 100 have been sold, and others are moving steadily.
The Old Settlers reunion shares in the proceeds of sales from the coins. The upcoming reunion Aug. 16 will be the Golden anniversary of the founding of the reunion, hence the commemorative coins produced by the Two M Enterprises of Big Spring.

Industrial Emphasis Is On Existing Industries

The No. 1 priority of the Big Spring industrial program is cooperating with established local industry.
This was the appraisal of Ron Mercer, who as executive vice president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and who will be devoting most of his time to industrial promotion under a new set up.
He and others spoke at a luncheon meeting at the Holiday Inn Thursday with representatives of existing industries.
One outcome of the meeting was to promote an area career day for high school pupils to get over the message of job opportunities with the established industries here.
The prime problem of local plants is turnover in labor, spokesmen for several of the manufacturers said. For many, 50-75 per cent of the work force remains fairly stable, but for some others the annual turnover on the beginning level ranges from 100 to 600 per cent per annum.
Possible programs to combat this were discussed, and the career day was one of them. Mercer said he would be talking personally with industrial officials to pinpoint problems and means of helping meet these.
Regarding the No. 2 objective that of recruiting additional industry, Rene Brown, president of the Industrial Foundation, said the information concerning the potential for an industrial park or other industrial locations was being assembled and could be completed soon.

Jerry Worthy, captain of the industrial team, reported how his group had fit into this picture.
Under the new setup, said Mercer, the Industrial Foundation is the "bricks and mortar" agency to arrange for plant, financing, etc.; the Industrial Team is the tool for furnishing information to prospective industries.

NEWSPRINT INCREASE

HOUSTON (AP) — A $15 per ton increase in the price of newsprint was announced Thursday by Southland

Paper Mills, Inc., pushing the per ton cost to $205. Perkins-Goodwin Co., Inc., sales representative for Southland, said the price hike, effective Sept. 1, is because of increased operational costs.

NATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL RODEO Biggest Thing That Will Ever Happen To Tomah?

TOMAH, Wis. (AP) — "This town isn't much of a convention center. I mean, the Republican or Democratic conventions will never be held here. So I guess this rodeo is the biggest thing that will ever happen to Tomah."

Like most of the 5,647 residents of this southwestern Wisconsin farming community, snowmobile dealer Ben Larry was talking about the National High School Rodeo, scheduled to begin here Monday and run through Aug. 11.

PUBLICITY

Sponsors see the national publicity surrounding the rodeo, billed as the largest in history, as a means of bringing new money and new blood to a tired little town.

Dozens of other small towns have annual festivals celebrating everything from tulips and watermelons to hobbies and antique aircraft, but many Tomah folk think Tomah has bitten off more than it can chew.

They argue that while other small towns spend a few thousand dollars to attract a few thousand visitors, the rodeo will cost $400,000 and draw 90,000 spectators, not counting the 1,200 teen-age cowboys and cowgirls from 28 states.

CHAPS-AND-SPURS SET

The skeptics fear the rodeo, being held east of the Mississippi for the first time in its 28-year history, will be a Woodstock-style happening for the chaps-and-spurs set.

"If you took a survey here two or three months from now I'd question whether very many people would want it here again," said Larry.

Actually, the often-troubled mechanics of bringing the rodeo to Tomah are typical of the difficulty in staging any major event in a small town.

In 1970, after the state rodeo association bid for this year's event, a handful of area businessmen organized to bring the rodeo to Tomah.

Since then, the promoters have found finances the biggest thorn under their saddle.

They scrounged for pledges, but still had to raise nearly $50,000 in a last-ditch radio telethon last summer to firm up the site. They wrote in vain to major foundations and federal agencies, and promised to build a new barn and grandstand on the fairgrounds to elicit $55,000 from the City Council and some outlet for youngsters, school board.

GOOD KIDS

The logistics of where the rodeo people are going to eat and sleep have some natives fretting, even though promoters say there will be plenty of room in motels and campsites within a 40-mile radius.

But the horse lovers overlook the qualms. To them, the rodeo raising it will be by local kids.

Kicks Down Door, Kills Woman, Self

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Police said a man kicked down the door of his ex-girlfriend's house Thursday, shot the woman, and then turned the gun on himself.

Both died of their wounds. Detective Jack Driscoll said Billy Gene Hayden, 49, shot Reeda Holford Holleman, 40, five times with a .38-caliber revolver and then shot himself in the head.

Driscoll said the woman's two teen-age daughters were present when the incident occurred.

Texans Lucky Charter Nixed?

AUSTIN (AP) — The American Party candidate for governor said Thursday Texans are lucky the Constitutional Convention failed to approve a new state charter.

Sam McDonald issued a statement criticizing GOP candidate Jim Granberry and House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. for their remarks giving Gov. Dolph Briscoe partial blame for the convention's failure.

"They should instead be applauding the fact that we will not be faced with the possibility of a new constitution which would increase the power of government to interfere in the private affairs of the citizens of Texas," McDonald said.

Copter Service Demand Highest In Agriculture

FORT WORTH (AP) — John L. Scott, a former Marine flier, says the demand for helicopter service is greatest in agriculture.

Scott, 50, got into the helicopter service business and soon discovered that the basic work was spraying crops.

So his Continental Helicopters Inc. in the Fort Worth suburb of North Richland Hills is possibly the only manufacturer of helicopters exclusively for agricultural use.

RIP OFF

Scott related to James E. Vance of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram that he began by modifying the Bell Helicopter Model 47 for spraying only.

That is the ship with a bubble canopy for a pilot and two passengers.

"What he did was rip off everything he didn't need on the Model 47 and began modifying the remaining parts to fit his needs more effectively," said Rosa Scott, his wife, secretary and general helper.

The modifications were so successful that Scott has hired a crew to help him in making his own ships. He has been unable to keep up with orders from the other crop dusters. He calls his type craft "the Tomcat."

The modified ship weighs 1,420 pounds empty, 2,450 fully equipped, plus the weight of the spray.

CITES ADVANTAGES

It can spray crops or groves in a swath 35 feet wide and at speeds from zero to 60 miles an hour.

A good pilot, Scott said, can spray 300 acres of field crops an hour. Groves take a little longer.

The helicopter can spray at night, using lights, something a fixed-wing plane cannot do.

"In all honesty, a fixed-wing aircraft flown right can do a job comparable to a helicopter," Scott said.

The helicopter does have several advantages, however.

For one thing, it can land at a nearby reloading point rather than flying to a distant landing strip.

Demo Chief Remains Pal Of Connally

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Democratic party chairman Robert Strauss says he is still a close friend of indicted former Secretary of the Treasury John Connally and has never known him to do anything dishonorable.

Strauss made the remark here, saying he had received numerous queries about his relationship with the former Texas governor who bolted the Democratic party last year.

Connally was indicted Monday on charges of perjury, accepting a bribe and obstructing justice in the milk scandal case.

Strauss and Connally are both Texans whose political roots grew out of that state's Democratic politics.

"So the record may be absolutely clear," Strauss said, "I would like to say that John Connally and I are close personal friends, our wives and children have a similar relationship and it has been this way through all our years."

"Until recently John and I were close political associates."

"During our entire relationship I have never known him to do a dishonorable deed. I have always had great pride in our relationship and I trust he feels the same."

In the 1972 presidential campaign, Connally bolted the party to head the Democrats for Nixon organization and competed with Strauss, who was raising funds for Democratic candidates.

Musical Question, Why Revive Show?

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — It is against the law in Manhattan to boo nostalgia or speak harshly of dogs. This is why we write about the 1974 model of "Your Hit Parade" from our summer retreat in Bug Tussle, Tex.

"Your Hit Parade" began on radio in 1935. In 1949, it moved to television and stayed 10 years. Starting tonight, CBS-TV is bringing it back for a five-week summer run.

SPIRIT ISN'T THERE

We ask the musical question, "Why?"

The revived show tries to evoke the good memories of Snooky Lanson, Gisele MacKenzie, Dorothy Collins, Alan Copeland, Jill Corey, Tommy Leonetti and Raymond Scott and the Hit Parade Orchestra.

Their successors—vocalists Kelly Garrett, Sharalee, Chuck Woolery and Milton DeLugg's Hit Parade Orchestra—give it an earnest try, as do the Hit Parade singers and dancers.

Even the Hit Parade harpist works her glissando to the bone.

Alas, the old spirit just isn't there.

Tonight's effort concerns which songs were on the Hit Parade the week of Oct. 26, 1935. If you tune in you also will hear such familiar introductions as:

"Sharalee spins a romantic daydream as she sings the No. 10 song..."

"Kelly Garrett is in fast company as she keeps a date with a beau and the No. 3 song..."

Most of this leads to some slightly ragged choreography, although only a heel could fault the tap-dance number on survey song No. 8, "Top Hat."

There still are two Hit Parade extras of 1974 vintage, performed by pop groups called Bo Donaldson and the Haywoods and Blue Magic. So much for the younger trade.

Well, there are positive aspects to the show. For one thing, the guys who wrote the old songs featured in the program may need the royalties they'll get from the national broadcast.

And there is no indication as of now that "Itsy-Bitsy-Teenie"

Scout Swim Meet Slated

Boy Scouts of the Lone Star District will hold their annual swimming meet at Webb AFB, Saturday, at Pool No. 1, at 10:00 a.m.

The meet will feature events in 50 yard free style, 50 yard back stroke, 50 yard breast stroke, 50-yard side stroke, 100-yard individual medley, 100-yard medley relay, 100-yard free style relay and three non-swimmer events.

Points and ribbons will be awarded to the first three finishers in each race. The points will be used to determine first, second and third place among the units participating.

Registration for the swim meet will take place at 10 a.m. at the pool. It is not necessary that a Scout's unit be present for the Scout to register.

Delegates Attend AARP Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Irland, Mrs. W.E. Moren and Mrs. Dorothy Hull, all from Big Spring, attended the district convention of the American Association of Retired Persons in Rio Concho (San Angelo) Wednesday. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Thelma Nooman, assistant director for the district.

Theme of the convention was getting down to grass roots politics in achieving the goals of the AARP.

The non-partisan group heard from Clayton Graves, state director of AARP in Louisiana; Jack Edwards, Texas state lobbyist for AARP; and Mrs. Juanita Camfield, delegate of the Texas League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Irland stated that the goal of the seven million-member national organization was to encourage legislation beneficial to retired persons.

El Paso Earning Picture Gains

HOUSTON — Earnings of The El Paso Company in the second quarter of 1974 were up sharply over those for the same period in 1973. Howard Boyd, chairman of the board, announced.

In the second quarter, net income from continuing operations was $16,358,000 or 59 cents per share after provision for preferred dividends. On the same basis this compares to $13,551,000 or 38 cents per share in the second quarter of 1973.

Boyd said that for the first six months of 1974, earnings were $39,738,000 (1.42 per share) as compared with $24,260,000 (87 cents) in 1973.

Hustle Lessens Big Bustle

LONDON (AP) — The hustle and bustle of London is an aid to lithe, handsome bodies, according to a survey published here by the Weight Watchers.

Said Norman Bilton, a director of the organization: "Battling to get on the tube subway, running for the train... it all helps to burn up those extra calories."

Children With Foot Disorders To Be Screened

Parents of children that have foot disorders will have the opportunity to have their children's problems screened. The Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit will receive these children each Wednesday between 10:00 a.m. and noon, at 201 Lancaster.

Children needing further diagnosis or further services will be seen by Dr. Pete Rhymes. They will become eligible for the quarterly clinic sponsored by the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

The testing is being done in cooperation with the Dora Roberts Center and the local and county health units. There is no charge for this service. For more information contact the health unit, 263-7261.

Opening lead: Queen of ♥

Perhaps the trait that distinguishes most bridge experts from the ordinary player is their pessimism. The average player approaches most hands with rose-colored spectacles; the expert believes in Murphy's Law: "If anything can go wrong, it will!"

Watch the technique of Lew Mathe of Los Angeles, one of the world's great players, as he handles an apparently simple four spade contract in a championship team game. Joe Smith would look at the hand and say: "If the queen of spades drops, I'd diamond finesse wins and the clubs split 3-3, I'll make seven." Mathe's line is predicated on the fact that none of these possibilities succeed!

Declarer won the opening heart lead with his ace and led a low club to the king. He returned to his hand with the king of spades and led a club to the ace. This was to protect against the possibility that West held a singleton club. When both defenders followed to the second club, Mathe continued with a low club from dummy and ruffed with the jack of spades. It would not have helped West to overruff with the queen, cash two hearts and shift to a diamond, for dummy's nine-eight of trumps would then have been two entries, enabling Mathe to set up the fifth club for a diamond discard. Therefore, he elected to discard a diamond.

However, this proved to be no better, for Mathe's next play was a low spade! West was forced to win the queen; otherwise he would lose his trump trick. A heart to the king and a heart back allowed the defenders to cash their two heart tricks and left West on lead to play a diamond through dummy's ace-queen.

Mathe rose with the ace of diamonds and ruffed a club with the ten of trumps, setting up dummy's fifth club. A low spade to the nine drew West's last trump and provided the entry to cash the long club, on which declarer discarded his losing diamond.

Note that had declarer cashed the ace and king of spades, he would have been defeated. There would have been no way to set up the fifth club and get back to dummy to enjoy it, and in the fullness of time declarer would have lost a trump, two hearts and a diamond.

Turkish Units Advance Into Cypriot Villages

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The biggest outburst of fighting since the Cyprus cease-fire agreement was signed three days ago, erupted across the western Kyrenia mountains today.

Turkish forces advanced into four Greek Cypriot villages that were abandoned after heavy Turkish artillery barrages in the past 48 hours.

MAJOR ASSAULT
Turkish tanks launched a major assault against the sole Greek stronghold still on the mountains—an artillery-defended outpost at the top of Mt. Kyparissouvo.

A U.N. armored patrol attempting to go up the mountain was machine-gunned an hour before noon and turned back without suffering any casualties.

A car full of reporters traveling behind the U.N. armored car was also fired at by Turkish soldiers. There were no hits.

The fighting was centered at the village of Agridaki on the Nicosia side of the Kyrenia mountain range.

Reporters drove to the village at midmorning and watched as Greek national guardsmen retreated from machine-gun and mortar fire.

TANKS ROLLING
On the other side of the mountain, overlooking the sea, reporters an hour later watched as Turkish tanks traveling an old dusty road just below the crest of the narrow rocky range, fired at the Greek Cypriot stronghold.

Answering fire came from artillery and machine guns. Earlier, a scheduled meeting to draw up buffer zones and cease-fire lines under U.N. auspices was postponed because the Turkish representative said he was not ready to attend. No explanation was given.

The role of the U.N. force was expanded in a U.N. Security Council resolution approved Thursday night, empowering the force to form a buffer zone between the Turkish invasion force and the Greek Cypriot defenders.

The first task facing the 3,484 U.N. soldiers will be the drawing up of cease-fire lines.

Fighting spread to the west and south from the Turkish beachhead in north Cyprus on Thursday.

U.N. officials reported artillery and mortar fire a mile west of the coastal town of Lapithos, nine miles from the port of Kyrenia. It was the furthest west of Kyrenia that fighting had been reported since the Turkish landing on July 20.

BUFFER
Fighting extended from Lapithos on the western edge of the Kyrenia mountains to the southern slopes near Greek Cypriot villages of Sysklipos and Ayios Ermolaos, U.N. spokesman Rudolf Stajduhar said in Nicosia.

In New York, the Security Council voted 12-0 Thursday to request Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim to "take appropriate action" to implement a recommendation by Greece, Turkey and Britain that U.N. forces form a buffer between the Turkish invasion force and the Greek Cypriots.

The three countries—guarantors of the independence of Cyprus under a 1960 treaty establishing the island as a republic—suggested the U.N. buffer zone in the cease-fire and disengagement agreement they signed in Geneva on Tuesday.

RESTRICTED
The U.N. soldiers on Cyprus had been restricted to separating the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities.

Waldheim said in a speech to the council that as soon as the measure had been adopted he instructed the U.N. Cyprus force to undertake its new role.

The Security Council resolution also authorized Waldheim to evaluate the U.N. role on Cyprus in the light of the Geneva pact.

The Soviet Union had vetoed such a resolution 24 hours earlier. But the Soviet ambassador, Jacob Malik, abstained on Thursday as did Byelorussia. China did not vote, in keeping with its opposition to U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Waldheim told the council the U.N. force on Cyprus would be stepped up to a strength of 4,443 men by Aug. 12.

Waldheim also said the Turks had agreed to permit U.N. troops to remain in Turkish-occupied territory. The Turks had demanded withdrawal of the 154 U.N. soldiers stationed in the Turkish zone to protect ethnic Greeks.

GUNFIRE
Turkish commanders charged Greek Cypriots disguised themselves as U.N. personnel to attack the invasion force and to gather intelligence. Greek Cypriots had no immediate reaction.

A Turkish army spokesman said some of his men were wounded by gunfire from Greek Cypriot soldiers in U.N. uniforms and U.N. vehicles. For that reason, he said, "we have had to take certain precautionary measures against the U.N. peacekeeping force."

Fresh Turkish troops, trucks, anti-aircraft guns, artillery pieces and tanks were seen arriving at the Turkish headquarters complex in Kyrenia. Independent diplomatic sources estimated the Turks have more than 40,000 troops on the island.

In Ankara, the Turkish government announced it is building fuel storage facilities on Cyprus and an underwater pipeline from southern Turkey to transport water to Kyrenia, and has plans for a gas turbine electric plant near Kyrenia.

BEFORE THE COMMITTEE — University of Minnesota Economics Professor Walter Heller discusses various facets of the economy during an appearance Thursday before the Joint Economic Committee on Capitol Hill.

UNEMPLOYMENT WOES 'There Is No Quick Fix For Inflation'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's new anti-inflation policies are likely to produce a 7 per cent unemployment rate by next year, economist Walter Heller has told Congress.

Heller's statement came Thursday, on the eve of the release of new unemployment figures for July.

The jobless rate held steady at 5.2 per cent in May and June and has hovered between that point and 5 per cent since February.

OLD-TIME RELIGION
Dr. Kenneth Rush, the Nixon administration's chief economic coordinator, testified Monday that Nixon's policies of economic restraint and budget cuts likely will cause the unemployment rate to move into the range of 5.5 per cent to 6 per cent by the year's end.

Heller, who was chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors under presidents Kennedy and Johnson, disagreed.

"The oldtime religion of sky-high money costs and tight budgets will be relatively ineffectual in taming inflation short of draconian budget slashes, tax boosts and dangerously tight money," Heller said.

The inflation rate now is about 11 per cent and Heller predicted it will be no lower than 7 per cent or 8 per cent by next winter.

Meanwhile, Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., announced plans to work for Senate passage of a resolution to establish a bipartisan Emergency Task Force on the Economy to provide — within 30 days — a national blueprint for dealing with current economic programs.

"It would be my hope that Congress would unite in support of a nonpartisan effort to carry out such measures as the task force may propose," Eagleton said.

Heller said, "There is no quick fix for inflation in 1974 and perhaps not in 1975, 1976, and 1977."

He said the nation can look for some subsiding in the inflation rate as the prices of fuel, raw materials and food taper off and as the price boom caused by the ending of controls runs out of steam.

"But get-ahead price increases and catch-up wage increases are translating a lot of the one-shot food-fuel-commodity inflation into a new price-wage spiral," Heller said.

Taking the Nixon program of restraints to their logical end, he said, "condemns us to deep and prolonged unemployment, and losses of production, profits and income—costs that a democratic society will not and should not tolerate."

Attends Parley For TSTA Heads
Ruth Ann Box has returned from Austin, where she attended Tuesday and Wednesday a meeting of local unit president of the Texas State Teachers Association. She said the new presidents were confronted with strong TSTS appeals for unification with the National Education Association. In a referendum last year, unification with NEA was defeated by TSTA, but the 156,000 state members will be asked again to vote on unification.

Trying To Settle Love Field Fight

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge William Taylor Jr. has called for a meeting of airlines and Dallas and Fort Worth representatives next Aug. 9 in another attempt to settle the dispute involving the use of Love Field.

The meeting was set at a conference Thursday attended by all parties involved in the dispute. During the session several compromise solutions were discussed that would allow airlines to continue their commuter flights from Love Field.

Dallas City Atty. Alex Bickley said that the possibilities discussed were:

—Allowing airlines to use Love Field only for certain flights.

—Raising landing fees at Love Field.

—Adding special fees to Love Field airlines to compensate the new Dallas-Fort Worth Airport for alleged loss in income.

Taylor has ruled that Southwest Airlines can use Love Field for intrastate flights. Braniff and Texas International also want to use the airport and are doing so under a temporary court order.

Dallas and Fort Worth, the regional airport board, and some other airlines don't want Love Field used and say all passenger traffic should be routed through the regional airport.

Paper On Sea Law Labeled Unclear

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The United States has turned down a nine-nation plan to establish a standard 200-mile zone of off-shore economic control on grounds it fails to guarantee freedom of navigation within the zone.

Ambassador John R. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate at the United Nations Conference on the Law of the Seas, said Thursday that the working paper "does not make it sufficiently clear that all high seas freedoms recognized by the general principles of international law are preserved."

EQUAL FOOTING
"It is also not sufficiently clear that the enjoyment of these freedoms is on equal footing with—not subject to—the enjoyment by the coastal state of its rights in the zone," Stevenson said.

The working paper was drafted by Canada, Chile, Iceland, India, Indonesia, Mauritius, Mexico, New Zealand and Norway.

Sources in the U.S. delegation indicated that although Stevenson did not mention the all-important issue of unobstructed passage of military vessels through international straits, this was another major factor in the U.S. opposition.

The paper deals specifically with territorial seas, nations made up of archipelagos, economic zones and the continental shelf, but makes no recommendation regarding passage through straits.

ECONOMIC ZONE
New Zealand Representative M.J.C. Templeton introduced the draft articles on Thursday.

The United States, which enforces a 3-mile territorial sea limit, has said it would go along with a proposed 12-mile limit concept and expressed willingness to support a 200-mile economic zone in which coastal states would exercise political and economic sovereignty as part of an overall acceptable sea treaty.

But Washington wants certain guarantees in return for its concessions on the 12-mile concept and the economic zone. It seeks free transit for all vessels through international straits and provisions for foreign fleets to enter the economic zones of other countries to fish for highly migratory species, such as the tuna, when the coastal state cannot catch all the available fish.

The conference has been meeting here since June 20 to draft a treaty covering all phases of sea law.

Farabee, Ezell Visit Hospital

Two state office candidates toured the Big Spring State Hospital Tuesday and received briefing from Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent, on the needs of the West Texas area.

They were Ray Farabee, Wichita Falls, who is asking for the state senator's post, and Mike Ezell, Snyder, who is seeking to be the district's representative. Both are Democratic nominees.

After spending quite some time with Dr. Harrison, they made an extended visit to various units of the hospital to observe first hand the operations and needs.

Stanton Officer Is Dismissed

STANTON — A Stanton policeman, James Eggleston, has been dismissed from the force by Chief of Police C. L. Rogers.

Tommy Atchison lodged a misdemeanor charge against Eggleston, alleging that the officer pulled his service revolver and threatened Atchison during an argument. Eggleston's bond was set at $1,000 by Martin County Judge Carroll Yater, and the officer was released.

Reinvestment Pace Slow?

With gasoline prices about double what they were last year, most Americans don't have to wonder who's getting all that extra money. Obviously, much of it is going to the oil-producing nations who more than doubled their crude oil prices last year. But big oil companies have profited enormously from both the energy pinch and higher crude-oil prices.

The economics department of McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. reports that while major oil companies are reaping all those new profits. They will re-invest a record $18.7 billion to find and develop gas, oil and other sources of energy. That's up 51 per cent from the $12.4 billion invested in 1973. About $10 billion will be invested domestically. Increase in domestic reinvestment is about 30 per cent, statistics show.

Although the oil companies are expending substantially more funds for state-side discovery and development, domestic crude production is down 4 per cent from this time last year. Industry attributes this to the fact that it takes considerable time to develop a producing well. It also points out that shortages of drilling rigs and drilling pipe still exists, and this certainly is true.

There are, however, some critics of the oil industry who believe that their domestic reinvestment is not enough. One source says that 12 majors have a 47 per cent reinvestment rate, but it is 34 per cent overseas.

To combat this foreign re-investment, oil critics want to remove the U.S. tax credit for taxes paid abroad and shift the incentive from foreign investment to domestic energy development.

This nation does need to be independent in its energy sources. This cannot be accomplished overnight and the cost will be enormous. Obviously the major oil companies do have the most experience and expertise in energy development, but the venturesome independent has the best track record. He needs encouragement.

Maybe It Would Expedite

Most every County Court each month receives a stack of appeals from municipal court.

The appeals generally are from convictions of traffic violations in municipal court and by appealing them, many traffic violators can delay and eventually get the charges dropped. Once appealed, the county must retry them along with its own cases.

The Municipal Judges Section of the State Bar of Texas has taken a stand which could speed these appeals in which no error had been made on the municipal level. By establishment of municipal courts of record, appeals would have to be made on the same basis as appeals from county and district courts now.

The bar is recommending to the governor's office a change in present Texas law. Due to the present statute, in many counties this appeal practice has become a short-circuit to enforcement of traffic laws for those able to afford the appeal process.

If municipal courts were made courts of record, the practice might diminish substantially. By requiring appeals to be made on allegations of trial error, most traffic violation convictions would stick.

Hopefully, the legislature and the governor will seriously consider the bar association suggestion in the interests of traffic safety and justice. The situation now is little short of mockery.

All Not Decided

Around The Rim

John Edwards

What may be the last installment in the Cox-Crittenden controversy over one vote came Monday in the 11th Court of Civil Appeals, Eastland.

Mrs. Peggy Crittenden, who defeated incumbent M. Fern Cox by one vote according to the canvass and later recount, has remained the Democratic nominee for district clerk. But the appellate court did not decide all the issues raised in her favor.

BALLOT 701, which was found separated from others cast absentee and was marked for Cox, was not counted, the three Eastland justices ruled. So the vote for the nomination was tied, as Cox's attorney's Richard Milstead and Guilford Jones argued, the appellate court found.

Also, Cox's attorneys were right in contending the election suit was filed within the 10-day time limit set by state law, the appellate court stated.

The ten-day period started on the date of the recount not on the date of the original canvass, according to the judgment.

But, while Cox met this legal requirement for filing suit, the suit became moot after the runoff election, which was held the day after the district court trial.

"WE CANNOT ORDER another primary election nor can we order the candidates to cast lots," the judgment said. "Since there is now no right that can be effectuated in the manner provided by law, the cause is moot."

With the addition to the misplaced ballot, the race would have been tied. Cox had filed his election contest petition to count the ballot before the legal deadline. But the primary runoff election, date set by state law has passed, and the court cannot order a second runoff election.

Options Running Out

Rowland Evans

WASHINGTON — Belatedly aware that the hard-line defense has failed to impede certain impeachment by the House, President Nixon's strategists are moving toward an eleventh-hour tactical shift: A soft-line undermining of the impeachment case's factual foundation for use in the Senate trial.

WITH PESSIMISM saturating the White House, the enormity of Oval Office miscalculation is sinking in. The Nixon White House, as so often before, completely misread political footprints other politicians understood for months. Mr. Nixon's most trusted supporters in the House have informed him he is irrevocably dead there, an assessment concurred in by presidential assistants.

Thus, the trauma of the nationally televised proceedings has resulted in two White House reassessments: First, Mr. Nixon's strength among House Republicans and Southern Democrats has suddenly evaporated; second, the President's strident counterattack strategy has proven counterproductive.

THAT MEANS tentative White House strategy at least in the immediate future will be relatively nonflamboyant. By contending the factual case against him is vague, Nixon strategists hope to keep the anti-Nixon margin in the House as low as possible and build a case for the Senate. But there is no longer certainty Mr. Nixon can pick up the one-third plus one votes needed in the Senate.

Such a somber view of Mr. Nixon's prospects resulted from televised proceedings smashing the dream world at the White House. Although an impeachment vote by the House Judiciary Committee has long been expected, the Nixon camp was stunned by its size, the identity of some pro-impeachment Republicans and, particularly, the overwhelmingly favorable impression of the proceedings given the nation over television.

SPECIFICALLY, THE vote for impeachment by Rep. Walter Flowers, an Alabama conservative Democrat, crumpled Nixonite hopes of a steadfast Dixie bloc. "He hurt us bad," admits Rep. G. V. (Sonny) Montgomery of Mississippi, the President's most vocal Southern Democratic supporter. Instead of 40 Southern Democrats supporting him, the President may have only half that number.

The Republican situation is worse. House minority leader John Rhodes of Arizona almost surely will vote against impeachment. However, a rising House Republican leader — Rep. Barber Conable of New York, chairman of the GOP Policy Committee — could start a Republican stampede toward impeachment.

CONABLE HAS BEEN shaken by charges that President Nixon tried to subvert the Internal Revenue Service. While believing his upstate Republican constituency opposes impeachment, he is determined to vote strictly on the basis of evidence. If so loyal a Nixon administration support as Conable defects, well in excess of 50 Republicans could follow.

This grim prognosis suggests to some presidential aides that fighting impeachment by counterattacking has proved calamitous. Press secretary Ronald Ziegler rushing from the President's office to damn the Judiciary Committee as a "kangaroo court" was deeply resented by White House colleagues. "We have to keep that (expletive) bigmouth Ziegler shut up," one senior aide told us.

MOREOVER, SOME presidential assistants belatedly feel Mr. Nixon's defense should not follow the partisan emotionalism of New Jersey's Rep. Charles Sandman. Their model is the legalistic, reasoned defense by Rep. Charles Wiggins of California.

White House aides privately talking of Mr. Nixon's taking national television time to defend himself are hoping he would not follow his normal passions into a tirade against his enemies. Rather, they hope that he would analyze and refute the 50 "incidents" listed by committee counsel John Doar as justifying impeachment. While that will not prevent impeachment by the House, the White House desperately hopes it might help in the Senate trial.

"The tumult and the shouting dies; the captains and the kings depart, but I've been here 26 years and I ain't going nowhere."

Hey, Get In On The Act

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Depending upon your point of view, the decision by the U.S. Treasury to borrow $4.3 billion in the open market is either further confusion or greater opportunity.

The Treasury is always doing something of the sort, because with a debt burden of $400 billion or so there is the constant need for refinancing. But there's a difference this time.

In the past the Treasury issued its notes in minimum units of $10,000. But in this latest financing, scheduled for Tuesday through Thursday of next week, some notes will be in $1,000 units.

That means the small investor and small saver can get in, on the act, and quite likely collect in excess of 8 per cent interest from Uncle Sam, a higher rate than they can get at any savings institution.

That's great, you say, and in the opinion of many, you are correct. But others view the offering as destructive. They say it threatens "the system."

The savings banks and savings and loan associations fear they will lose deposits. Their customers, it is argued, will withdraw money from their accounts to buy the Treasury notes.

While some small savers might sympathize with the plight of the so-called thrift institutions, they feel even more strongly for themselves. Why should they accept 6 to 7 per cent from a savings bank if Uncle Sam offers 8 plus?

The savings institutions reply: If these same people want to obtain home mortgages they darn well better save with us. Not that a savings account is a requirement for a mortgage. It's a bit more complicated.

Savings banks and associations are the source of most home mortgages today. To facilitate this role, they are permitted to offer depositors a slightly higher interest rate on savings. The idea is to assure a flow of mortgage money.

That technique worked for a long while. But commercial banks have become more innovative; through various techniques they have narrowed the savings banks' advantage.

Moreover, small investors and depositors discovered the high returns on corporate and municipal bonds, which have no government-imposed limitation on the amount of interest they can pay.

Now, to the frustration of the savings institutions, the holding companies that run some commercial banks are planning to offer notes in small denominations at decidedly higher interest than any other savings banks can offer.

Time Crawls On

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — It was Rep. Lawrence Hogan Jr. of Maryland who put in perspective the desert of the House Judiciary committee into wrangle and pettifog after the first day of noble exposition. Now, he said, we're letting the public see what our closed sessions have been like.

YET WHEN THE final vote came on Article 1, the sense of solemn responsibility was restored.

Whatever the motives, the delaying tactics of Rep. Charles W. Sandman Jr. of New Jersey and the others slowing action on what was inevitable from the first test vote did nothing to help President Nixon's cause. The public has had Watergate right up to the neck. To wake up and discover one fine morning that it has gone away is the dream of most Americans.

In the closed circle around the President there seems little or no understanding of the public mood. As so often, White House tactics are self-defeating.

THE PRESIDENT'S counsel, James St. Clair, in responding to the 8-to-0 Supreme Court decision, spoke of how monitoring the 64 tapes and re-reading them for the grand jury would be "time consuming." It is fair to ask why these steps were not taken long before in preparation of just this eventuality.

The grim ordeal of impeachment still has months to go and that raises the question of how the House handles the case. If the articles of impeachment come to the floor with a rule permitting amendments, debate can go on for far more than the 60 to 100 hours which is the outside estimate. That will be true particularly if television in the House encourages grandstanding for constituents back in the districts.

THE TRULY GRIM prospect is the appalling length of time the process will take under the best of circumstances. From those articulating a vote of impeachment in the House and trying to make the essential plans, here is a probable timetable.

Short of stalling tactics, the House will meet the announced deadline and vote on Aug. 23. The Senate will then go immediately into executive session to confirm the housekeeping details. This includes seating of visitors and press, the requirements of television and other matters governing the trial of a president for only the second time in history.

MOST IMPORTANT in the closed session will be the vote on the time granted the President to prepare his defense. Majority Leader Mike Mansfield puts this at a maximum of three weeks. Minority Leader Hugh Scott believes it will be not less than four weeks.

With that out of the way, the Senate in open televised session will hear the House managers, the term in the Constitution for the Representatives who will in effect be prosecutors, to present the formal charges. That will take perhaps a full day.

This means start of the actual trial on Oct. 1. Optimists, Mansfield among them, say a vote can come as early as Nov. 15. This allows for a three-day recess for the Nov. 5 election.

The pessimists, of whom Scott is one, are convinced the final vote on acquittal or conviction will be Dec. 15 or later.

Hints are coming from White House strategists that if the vote comes after the election, the President's chances of acquittal are good. Senators defeated or Republicans newly elected for a six-year term would feel free to vote their party loyalty and free the beleaguered President.

Thus the President's neck might be saved so he could complete his term, thanks to two or three votes beyond the one-third required for acquittal. But the wholly cynical tactic of prolonging the ordeal, perhaps even into 1975, will complete the distrust and disillusionment with all institutions of government. That is an intolerable price for keeping a crippled chief executive in office.

Tennis, Everyone?

NEW YORK (AP) — There are more than 300 adult and junior camps in the United States that teach nothing but tennis, according to Nic Bolletieri, director of the All American Sports tennis camps. This summer nearly 200,000 Americans will gladly risk blisters, muscle pulls and bruised egos at these camps to master the booming sport.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

A friend of mine contends that after you come into a knowledge of the truth, you can sin as you please. That is, God will forgive you over and over. Something doesn't add up there. Can you enlighten me? C.H.

First of all, I'm assuming that when you say a "knowledge of the truth" you mean the truth of the Gospel of Christ. Let me proceed on that basis.

Paul faced this issue centuries ago. He asks in Romans 6, "Shall we keep on sinning so that God can keep on showing us more and more kindness and forgiveness?" His answer was abruptly plain. "Of course not! Should we keep on sinning when we don't have to? For sin's power over us was broken when we became Christian."

The key consideration here is that man is not an irresponsible ruler of his own nature. God has delegated the sovereignty that he has. When through faith in Christ, man acquires supernatural power, naturally, God expects then a new measure of self-control and victory over evil. The counsel of the Bible is "Present yourselves." That is, move to forsaking the evil from which you have been forgiven.

Paul explains here and elsewhere that the salient facts of Christ's life — His death, burial and resurrection — get copied into the experience of the regenerated soul. Sin is to be progressively overcome. Unlimited evil? There's no permission for that in Christian living.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Whichever one of you has committed no sin may throw the first stone at her." (John 8:7)

PRAYER: O Lord, may my words and actions be helpful and inspiring to others — never offensive. In all sincerity I would pray as did the Indian: "May I never criticize a neighbor until I have walked a mile in his moccasins." In all actions help me to have the spirit of Jesus.

(From the "Upper Room")

Disneyland Birthday

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Disneyland entered its 20th year last month, having met and passed its greatest crisis — the energy shortage.

Walt Disney's pleasure park opened its gates on July 17, 1955, amid cries that it was "Disney's Folly." Members of the outdoor entertainment fraternity considered the movie maker mad for investing $17 million in an amusement park amid the far-off orange groves of Anaheim.

"IT'LL GO BROKE fast," said the scoffers.

The Disney people like to cite figures to the contrary; a million visitors in the first seven weeks, 3.8 million in the first year, 130 million in 19 years; growth from 22 attractions to 54 at a cost of $150 million; rise in Anaheim hotel rooms from 87 to 10,000; expansion of Disneyland staff from 2,500 to 6,500.

Disneyland seemed to be an uninterrupted success story — until the Arabs decided to shut off oil last winter to the United States in the wake of the Mideast war.

"THERE IS NO DOUBT that the energy crunch hurt us," says E. Cardon "Card" Walker, the president of Walt Disney Productions.

"We felt it more at Walt Disney World; with 10 to 30 per cent fewer people entering the State of Florida during the height of the crisis, our business was bound to be affected." Management met the problem by trimming personnel, raising prices and adopting a new system of supervision of the various park areas.

Business was down during the first three months of the year, Walker said, but it improved with the easing of the oil crisis.

"DURING THIS summer we are doing almost as well in attendance as last year," the president said.

"In the fiscal year which begins Oct. 1, we had hoped to repeat last year's 11.5 million in Florida; now it looks as though we'll draw 10.5 million.

"Disneyland should pull 9.1 million, slightly under last year. Part of the reason is that many people in Northern California are going to the Spokane World's Fair instead."

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like your opinion on the pros and cons of giving a small child a smallpox shot. It seems that every doctor has a different opinion.

I have heard that more people die from the shot itself than from the actual disease. — Mrs. J.B.

Of course, the smallpox shot is no longer mandatory, but I sometimes wonder whether the decision to make it optional is going to turn out to have been wise in the long run.

Wood was made governor-general of the Philippines, smallpox was a serious problem there, with about 100,000 cases a year reported.

An inoculation program was begun and within a few years the number of cases was brought down close to zero. In 1927, the inoculation program was abandoned, and within a few years the incidence (rate of cases for the population) shot up again to the 100,000 level.

Need I say more? There is always the danger in 1921 when Gen. Leonard in any, repeat ANY inoculation, no objection.

for a generalized infection to occur. But to suggest therefore that all protective shots and vaccinations be ended would be like suggesting that we turn back the clock on all scientific and medical advances and subject our society to the ancient ravages of unchecked epidemic diseases.

I and many pediatricians I have talked to have never seen a fatal or extensive reaction to smallpox vaccination. If the child is healthy and has no allergies or skin disorders I see

Phils, Cards Both Triumph

By The Associated Press
Gene Mauch, the veteran manager of the Montreal Expos, knows what the National League East race is all about. "Each team's best is just good," said Mauch. "It's just a case of which team plays its best of the most number of games."

Thursday night, Philadelphia and St. Louis came up with their best, or at least a reasonable facsimile. The Phillies beat Mauch's Montreal Expos 6-4 while the Cards rallied for three runs in the 11th to trip the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2. That left Philadelphia and St. Louis tied for first place in the NL East. Meanwhile, the Chicago Cubs, last in the division, swept a two-night double header from the New York Mets, winning the opener 7-4 in 10 innings and taking the nightcap 3-1.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers pounded the San Diego Padres 8-1 and the Cincinnati Reds outscored the San Francisco Giants 9-7. Houston and Atlanta did not play.

The Phillies won behind the seven-hit pitching of Wayne Twitchell and a three-run homer by Del Unser in a five-run third inning. The 6-foot-6 Twitchell, who raised his record to 6-3, feels he's not yet up to par physically. A National League All-Star last year, he's still recovering from a knee operation last November which sidelined him until mid-May.

The Expos threatened to tie the game in the ninth. The Cards jumped on Dave Giusti, Pittsburgh's normally stingy relief pitcher, for three runs in the 11th as Ken Retz smacked a two-run double and then scored on Mike Tyson's single. The score had been tied 2-2.

It was the Cards' sixth straight win and their 10th in 11 games. Cubs 7-3, Mets 4-1. Don Kessinger drew a bases-loaded walk and Chris Ward followed with a two-run single in the 10th inning of the opener for Chicago, while Dave LaRoche and Oscar Zamora combined to pitch a six-hitter in the nightcap.

Broken-Bat Single Costly To Fryman

By The Associated Press
The Big One got away from Woodie Fryman Thursday night. Fishing for a no-hitter, Detroit's veteran pitcher came agonizingly close—but let it slip from his hook while beating the Milwaukee brewers 2-0.

Allowing only Bobby Mitchell's single in the seventh inning, Fryman unhappily replayed his mistake pitch after the game. "I threw that pitch pretty much where I wanted and broke his bat with it, but it was just a little lower than I wanted—about four inches," Fryman noted. "It was inside here I wanted it, but I wanted to get it above his belt. He has trouble with those."

Mitchell's two-out hit escaped the grasp of Detroit's shortstop Ed Brinkman and third baseman Aurelio Rodriguez. Except for that mistake, Fryman was overpowering while pitching the second one-hitter of his career.

In other American League games, the Cleveland Indians beat the New York Yankees 9-2; the Boston Red Sox bombed the Baltimore Orioles 11-3; the Texas Rangers tripped the Kansas City Royals 3-1; the Minnesota Twins nipped the California Angels 6-5 and the Chicago White Sox stopped the Oakland A's 7-3.

After Fryman, 5-6, gave up Mitchell's hit, he worked out of mild trouble. Mitchell stole second but Fryman got Johnny Briggs to line to right field for the third out.

Buddy Bell knocked in four runs with three hits, leading Cleveland over New York. Bell drove in his first run in the second inning with a single, scoring Oscar Gamble and tying the game at 2-2. He collected two more RBIs in the third inning with another single, and in the fifth doubled to drive in Gamble.

Red Sox 11, Orioles 3
Cecil Cooper drove in four runs and Rick Burleson knocked in three, powering Boston over Baltimore. Cooper doubled across a run in a five-run first inning, singled across two more in the fourth and doubled home a run in the eighth with his fourth hit of the game.

Rangers 3, Royals 1
Toby Harrah homered and drove in two runs, helping Texas beat Kansas City. Harrah's homer, his 15th of the season, came with one out in the ninth off Bruce Dal Canton, 6-5, who had pitched no-hit ball over the first 4.23 innings.

Twins 6, Angels 5
Bob Darwin's two-run homer capped a three-run rally in the eighth inning and gave Minnesota a close victory over California. Larry Hisle's run-scoring single provided the first run of the inning before Darwin tagged his 18th homer of the season.

White Sox 7, A's
Ron Santo's tie-breaking two-run single in the seventh inning powered Chicago over Oakland. Bill Melton opened the Chicago seventh with a single and, after Ken Henderson struck out, Carlos May doubled into the right field corner to put men on second and third. Brian Downing, who walked intentionally and Santo slugged his single to give the White Sox a 5-3 lead.

Martin Foresees Sweep To Crown

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jackie Brown's nine-hitter Thursday night. Somebody had asked Martin seated in his office, if he ever believed he could make the Rangers a 500 club this season, and he replied: "We were never going for a 500 season. We were going for the pennant from the start. The players believe that right from spring training. Nobody else believed us. You don't believe us."

Martin, on a more serious note, served notice to the rest of baseball, particularly the American League West Division: "We're going to win the pennant."

Nobody applauded but some eyebrows were raised. "The Rangers had just beaten the Kansas City Royals for the fifth consecutive time 3-1 on Thursday night. Somebody had asked Martin seated in his office, if he ever believed he could make the Rangers a 500 club this season, and he replied: "We were never going for a 500 season. We were going for the pennant from the start. The players believe that right from spring training. Nobody else believed us. You don't believe us."

"We've beaten Oakland as many times as they've beaten us, and we play 'em 10 more times. We're executing. We're doing things we've never done before. Take a look at the batting averages. We score runs. When we get pitching, we're a tough club to beat."

Brown, who hurled batting practice for Texas the first month of the season, gave the Rangers super pitching Thursday night.

"That's probably one of the better fast balls I've had all season," said Brown, 3-0 against Kansas City and 9-8 overall. "It helped my curve."

"Yes, I was hit pretty hard in the early innings but I kept telling myself, 'You got to throw strikes. You got to throw strikes.' I had to challenge them."

Brown gave up the only Royals run in the first when Fred Patek led off with a triple and scored on Cookie Rojas' sacrifice fly. The Rangers, unable to get a hit off Bruce Dal Canton until Jim Dregosi singled with two out in the sixth, got even in the seventh on Lenny Randle's one-out single. Jim Spencer's single and Toby Harrah's fly ball.

Texas went ahead in the eighth when Cesar Tovar singled and stole second and Mike Hargrove belted a run-scoring single to right. Harrah ended the scoring with his 15th home run in the ninth.

Dal Canton, 6-5, said he "wasn't tired—you can't get too tired throwing the knuckleball. The trouble with the knuckleball is you make three or four good ones but when you make a bad one, it's another FAT pitch. That's what happened on Harrah's home run."

Busse Poison To All-Stars

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Ray Busse returned to where he used to hammer out hits as a member of the American Association's Oklahoma City 89ers Thursday night, to the dismay of the league's 1974 All-Star crew.

Busse, now with the Houston Astros, slammed a three-run homer and knocked in another run with a double as the Astros whipped the All-Stars 5-1.

Called up to Houston July 10 from Denver, Busse obviously enjoyed his stint at the plate against some of his former colleagues. His third-inning homer, a 400-foot blast over left-center, came off losing pitcher Dennis Leonard of Omaha.

His run-scoring double in the Astros' two-run sixth came off 89er Jim Kern.

Busse played at Oklahoma City in 1971 and 1972 before brief duty with the St. Louis Cardinals, who subsequently traded him to the Astros.

Tommy Smith led the nine-hit All-Star attack with two hits, one a double for the association's lone tally. Smith, the only repeater from the 1973 All-Star team which beat the Kansas City Royals 7-2, was named the game's most valuable player.

The All-Stars used six pitchers and Houston utilized five in the contest, which started an hour late because of work on wet grounds and long pre-game festivities honoring baseball greats, Casey Stengel, Ernie Banks, Satchel Paige and Bob Feller.

Ron Wilson got the decision, allowing two hits in one inning of work before Busse's heroics.

Jet Deck Mare Gets Top Bid

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — Go Laka Jet, a Jet Deck mare, drew the top price of $25,000 in the second annual Summer Sale at Ruidoso Downs over the weekend.

The seven-year-old mare was acquired by W.O. Ferguson of Hurst, Texas. The consigner was the partnership of Dean and Schoellkopf of Austin, Texas.

The second top price of $15,500 was paid by Ferguson for Abba Dabba Do, a palomina mare by Go Man Go out of Little Feet.

NFL Teams Will Play To Smaller Turnouts

By The Associated Press
Regardless of who wins tonight's National Football League exhibition game between the Los Angeles Rams and the Cleveland Browns, championship stands to be the big loser.

The 29th annual Los Angeles Times charity game is one of three NFL games on tap tonight that kick off the league's first big exhibition weekend. Officials project an attendance of about 30,000 as compared to last year's game with Dallas. Only 15,000 tickets have been sold to date, some 40,000 fewer than a year ago.

In addition, there have been about 2,100 requests for refunds.

The game raised about $100,000 for charity last season but that figure will be significantly less this time around.

Ex-FC Star Named To Olympic Team

Marylin McReavy, former Howard College volleyball star, has been named to the 1976 United States Women's Olympic volleyball team.

Marylin played for the Jayhawk Queens under Anna Smith and later starred in the sport for Sul Ross University at Alpine.

McReavy was player coach under Dr. Paul Pierce at Sul Ross, when the Alpine team was winning national volleyball championships in 1970-71.

The Olympic team was selected in two rounds of tryouts, the first having been held in Knoxville last May. At that time, the field of candidates was narrowed to 80 girls. They regrouped in Houston and 18 were selected.

Late Pass Propels North To Victory At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The South all-stars had their eyes glued to North running back Earl Campbell the entire game so North Coach Bill Shipman let them take one last fatal look.

While the South defense concentrated on Campbell's bullish moves, quarterback Rodney Allison of Odessa hit Holiday's Stan Mason as the final gun sounded to rally the Yanks to a 14-12 victory in the 40th Texas High School Coaches Association all-star football game Thursday night before 20,500 in the Astrodome.

"They really fooled us on that play," said a disappointed Jim Yarbrough of Galveston Ball. "We thought they would run a power play with Campbell getting the ball."

It was a shattering disappointment for the underdog Rebels, who came within that last second of an upset.

The South led 12-0 until late in the fourth quarter on a 20-yard touchdown pass from Port Arthur Lincoln's Kenny Washington to Joe Jackson of Beaumont South Park and a 30-yard run by Rosebud-Lott's Revinco. Both TDs were in the second quarter.

It wasn't until 6:18 was left in the game that the North made its move. Ronald Burns of Arlington Sam Houston intercepted a Washington pass that led to an 11-yard touchdown by Longview's Mike Mock, named the game's most valuable player.

Shipman gave credit to assistant coach Don Harvey for calling the game-winning play. "On the last play of the game, I called a power run with Campbell carrying the ball," Shipman said. "However, Coach Harvey our spotter in the pressbox, called and said our only chance was the power pass play."

"We had worked on this all week, so if this occasion arose, we could go to it. This play made the difference between being heroes or heels, as we were out of time outs."

The North victory gave the Yanks a 23-14-3 edge in the series, which shifts to Fort Worth next year.

Southern Baptists Okay Big Budget

GLORIETA, N.M. — Trustees of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board adopted a $59,586,000 budget for 1974-75 in their semi-annual meeting at Glorieta Baptist Conference Center.

The 1974-75 budget, calling for total sales of $59,586,000, represents an increase of 13.8 per cent over the current year's budget. Several actions were related to the financial situation.

The trustees, in response to a 1973 Southern Baptist Convention motion asking for Baptist Book Store discounts for pastors and other ordained church workers, voted to discontinue all individual discounts effective July 1, 1975.

Pick Leaders At Convention

FORT WORTH — The five executive officers named July 26 at the annual Texas Youth Convention of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Texas will be the last to serve as Texas Christian Youth Fellowship leaders.

The Christian Church in Texas, one of several regions of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in the United States and Canada is in the process of merging with New Mexico Christian Churches to form a new region.

This year, a New Mexico student was included in the list of executives. They are Terry Bechtel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bechtel, Albuquerque, N.M.; Tim Diebel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Diebel, Abilene; Melissa Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Graham, Wichita Falls; Vicki Ingraham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold L. Ingraham, Lubbock; and Mike Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Maxwell, Longview.

SUMMER FESTIVAL — The women of Sacred Heart Catholic Church are making tamales for Saturday's benefit dinner. The meal begins at noon and lasts until 8 p.m. The Sunday dinner will be barbecue beef tips and German sausage and begins at 12 noon.

State Convocation Meets At Paul Quinn College

Mrs. Willie Graham, local and district missionary president, attended the State Delegate Convocation of the Missionary Institute held on the campus of Paul Quinn College in Waco July 22-26. The general theme of the institute was "Challenge Missionaries to Break Forth, One Who Cares, Shares." Several workshops were held during the institute.

Tuesday was proclaimed as Missionary Day using the theme "A Day to Remember." The program highlighted the centennial luncheon held in the Waco Civic Center honoring the former Tenth Episcopal District supervisors who returned to the campus for the occasion. They were Mrs. H. T. Primm, Mrs. J. Gomez, Mrs. W. F. Ball and Mrs. O. L. Sherman. Mrs. Verde P. Owens, state president, presided at the luncheon. The speaker for the luncheon was Dr. Jean Bell Mannie of Africa. Mrs. A. W. Wilson, conference president and Mrs. Graham were among the hostesses who served at the luncheon. The evening speaker was Miss Mary Frizzell, confessional president of Women's Missionary Society, A.M.E. Church.

Mrs. Graham was appointed as one of the Song Spiritation leaders for the Convocation.

Kingswriter To Be At Crusade

Douglas Kingswriter, a starter with the Minnesota Vikings, will be coming to Midland to participate in the Permian Basin Crusade for Christ.

The Crusade is being led by Billy Graham's associate, John Wesley White, Aug. 11 at Memorial Stadium. Midland Kingswriter's wife, the former Miss Teen-Age American, Debbie Patton of Odessa, will accompany him to the Permian Basin Crusade.

Northside Methodist Set As Mission 'Of First

NORTHSIDE METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodist work among the Spanish-speaking people began here in 1953. Mrs. Eudelia H. Moreno was going to First Methodist Church at the time. She spoke to Rev. Jordan Grooms, who was the Pastor at that time, and she asked him if it would be possible to start work among our people. He kindly responded to her wishes and he and his committee of missions of his church, the Rev. Abel M. Gomez, the District Superintendent of the Northern District of the Rio Grande Conference of the Methodist Church, and Mrs. Moreno got together and made plans to open a mission here in our city.

On May 24, 1953, they held the first service at the mission. They started having services some place on Northwest Fourth Street. The Rev. Fines Flores and a young student minister, Rafael Garcia, came from Abilene to take care of the work. They preached a few Sundays there, and the mission was moved to another place on Northeast Fourth Street.

In June 1953, the Rev. Geronimo Guerrero was appointed by the Conference to be the Pastor of the mission. He remained until 1955. In 1955, Rev. Luis Benavides became the pastor of the mission. He stayed until April 1956, and left the work in charge of the local preacher, Rev. Vicente Moreno.

In 1956, Rev. Fines Flores was appointed pastor of the mission and in that same year they had the ceremony of breaking the land to build the church. During his time the church was built. The inauguration service was held December 22, 1957. The church is located at 600 North Goliad.

The following ministers took part in the program of the inauguration service: Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor of First Methodist Church; Rev. Abel M. Gomez, District Superintendent of the Northern District of Rio Grande Conference; Dr. H. Clyde Smith, Superintendent of the Big Spring District; Rev. Fines Flores, pastor of the new church; Rev. H. W. Gaston, Rev. C. W. Parmenter, Rev. Allen Adams, Jr.

The Pastors that this church has had since its start are as follows: Rev. Geronimo Guerrero, 1953 to 1955; Rev. Luis Benavides, 1955 to 1956; Rev. Fines Flores, 1956 to 1958; Rev. Daniel Arguijo, 1958 to 1961; Rev. Ramon Navarro, 1961 to 1965; Rev. Fidel Alcalá, 1965 to 1966; Rev. Apolonio Vega, 1966 to 1974.

Historical Committee: Rosario Moreno Eudelia H. Moreno, Elías Ortega and Rev. Ramon Navarro. Redaction: These historical facts were written by Miss Eunice Navarro, Big Spring, May 25, 1965.

In the year 1969 the National Board of Missions of the United Methodist Church, and the First United Church of Big Spring built a nice parsonage for this church, a beautiful residence for the pastor. The parsonage cost $13,275.00.

Dr. Hoffmann Talks At Rally

COLUMBUS, Ohio — "There are two billion people in the world who do not believe in or have not been told about Jesus Christ... we've got to get out and push and use what God has given us... to do this work."

This was the message Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, speaker on The Lutheran Hour Rally here which was the opening event of the 57th annual convention of the International Lutheran Laymen's League.

Dr. Hoffmann, who returned last week from the International Congress on World Evangelism held in Lausanne, Switzerland included D. R. George W. Peters, distinguished chairman of the department of World Missions at Dallas Theological Seminary and Dr. Byang Kato, a recent graduate of the Seminary who is now Executive Secretary of the newly organized Association of Evangelicals of Africa and Madagascar.

Prompted by the worldwide response to the Berlin Congress on evangelism held in 1966, this 1974 International Congress had been convened by a group of 165 churchmen from around the world for the purpose of gathering together some 3,000 evangelical leaders to consider the evangelization of the world in this generation.

Schedules Ready At Dallas Bible

DALLAS — Applications and fall schedules are now available for anyone interested in Dallas Bible College, according to Wilbert Ralledge, registrar.

New and returning students are urged to contact the college as soon as possible to facilitate registration procedures, said Ralledge. Registration will be Aug. 20 and 21 with classes starting Aug. 22.

Dallas Bible College, accredited with the American ABC, has recently installed its third president, U. A. Doiron, and added a dean of education, Joe Wall.

Ralledge added that early registration by returning students indicate "an above average" enrollment for this year's student body. Part of the increase in enrollment apparently is a continuing emphasis on top administrative leadership recently inaugurated.

Dr. John White Guest Speaker

Dr. John Wesley White will be guest evangelist for the Permian Basin Crusade For Christ starting each night at 8, today through Aug. 11, at Midland Memorial Stadium.

The Crusade is a combined effort of all participating churches in the Permian Basin with the primary goal of mobilizing the Christian community to assemble together as many people as possible to hear the message of Jesus Christ.

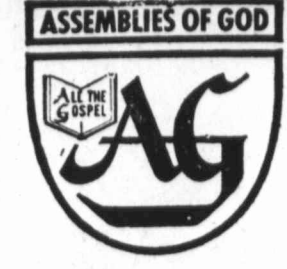

Dr. White, a member of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association since 1963, is a graduate of Moody Bible Institute and received a B.A. degree from Wheaton College. Studying in three old world universities, he received his Ph.D. from Oxford in 1963.

In addition to his evangelistic ministry, Dr. White has written several books. He began his ministry during school vacations when he was only 15 years old and is convinced that a scripturally-based presentation of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is the only solution to the problems of a world at the crossroads.

time out for GOD

THE SECRET

In another moment he will be getting up and walking toward you, eager to tell the secret of his calmness and strength. Will you listen?

He has solved many problems, overcome much grief and temptation, been able to meet the conditions of every-day living, all because through the Church he has come in contact with the Source of all power. In the Church he has found companionship. Its worship services have brought faith, peace and serenity. Its activities have furnished an outlet for his creative abilities and energy. The Church has been a part of his life from boyhood. Through its various departments the needs of his life have been met. He has enjoyed the fellowship there and, looking back, he is able to trace his own growth.

Have you learned his secret? Wouldn't you like to know it?

What the Church has done for him it can do for you. If you are young, it will help meet your problems. If you are older, it will bring satisfaction and peace.

RIDE WON'T PAY RENT

Decoy Prostitute May Face Court Test

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — If I asked if she'd like to go to a young man offers a policeman...

"She was a good actress though. She just smiled and played along. She was real non-committal but told me not to worry, anyway, she convinced me she wasn't a police officer, so I finally said $20."

GOOD ACTRESS

"She said she 'couldn't pay her rent if she went riding around'... and then I realized she was a prostitute."

When a car with two plainclothes vice officers pulled up, he said, "I felt like I'd been a fool."

'FINE LINE'

Several Dallas lawyers contend there is a "fine line" between legal and unlawful entrapment.

"She's set out for the purpose of enticing customers," one lawyer said. "To talk in innuendos until the guy infers money is absolute entrapment."

Vice squad officers has repeatedly stressed their girl has been schooled in what to say and how to act in order to avoid entrapment.

"We don't want to make any bad arrests or we'll really create a lot of heat," one official said.

"In one way I feel like I'm being used as a guinea pig," the young man said. "But no one else wants to contest it because they don't want anyone to find out. I just don't want to have this on my record when I'm out of school looking for a job."

Mayor Wade Choate will preside over ribbon cutting ceremonies. Also attending the opening will be several members of the City Council and Judge A. G. Mitchell, county judge, and members of the Commissioners Court.

Several organizations, which plan to use the center as a meeting place and work shop area, will have displays and information booths set up. These include Daughters of the American Revolution, Busy Bee Arts and Crafts, Centennial Homemakers, W.W.I Veterans and Auxiliary, American Association of Retired Persons, and the Kentwood Older Adults Country and Western Music Group.

Also featured at the open house will be John Samuels, who will present a rock show. If enough interest is shown, a small lapidary shop will be set up in the center.

Refreshments will be served and music will be provided by the Kentwood Older Adult Country and Western Music Group. Additional information may be had from Rev. Fred Witta, pastor of North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church.

Andrews Doctor Gets Three Years

SAN ANTONIO — An Andrews physician, Dr. Henry Thomas Leigh, 57, was sentenced Thursday in Federal Court here to three years in prison.

Leigh had earlier been found guilty by a jury in Midland on eight counts of unlawfully dispensing barbiturates and amphetamines commonly known as "uppers and downers."

The physician was also ordered to pay fines totaling $8,900 and court costs of $6,834.76.

Dr. Leigh will likely serve his sentence at La Tuna Correctional Institute near El Paso, according to the presiding judge.

Stanton Reporter Adds An Edition

STANTON — The Stanton Reporter will begin a new Saturday edition, entitled "The Buffalo Report" and devoted mainly to Stanton High School football.

The edition will be made available to readers only through merchants participating in sponsorship of the publication.

The edition will cover 10 weeks, or as long as is necessary to cover the Stanton football team.

He had harsh words for speaker candidate Fred Head, D-Athens and Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

"It is regrettable that the governor of this state, for whatever reasons, refused to fully involve himself and his office in this once-in-a-century opportunity to build a better Texas through the desperately needed constitutional revision process," he said.

STANTON — George W. Hedstrom Jr., has been named Stanton manager for Texas Electric Service Company.

He succeeds Don L. Tollison, who is transferring to Fort Worth where he will serve as TESCO manager for several communities in the area.

Hedstrom is a native of Rock Island, Ill. He has been associated with TESCO since 1957.

Tollison served as president of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce two years ago.

Lamesa Building Permits Ease Off

LAMESA — Building permits in Lamesa during the month of July amounted to $48,700, well under the $160,000 per month average achieved by the city during the first half of 1974.

Among permits issued during July was one for the addition of a community room to the Dawson County Farm Bureau building. The project will cost $28,700. No new homes were started in Lamesa during the month.

Horsepower For Donkey Power

NUNEATON, Warwickshire, England (AP) The customer was $60 shy of the full $2,880 price of the auto he wanted to buy.

In part exchange, he offered Roper Hext a donkey — a five-year-old model called Neptune.

Hext parked the donkey in the forecourt of his garage until he could find it a home.

WARTIME BOMB UNEARTHED — Maj. Arthur Hogben, in hole, of the 49th Explosive Ordnance Disposal Unit, Royal Engineers, and Karl Bradbury, of Marazion, Cornwall, check World War II bomb unearthed Thursday at a building site in East London. Authorities said bomb was dropped by the German Luftwaffe in an air raid on the British capital. At least 1,000 people were evacuated from their homes while experts deal with the bomb.

PRICE DANIEL JR. SAYS: 'Success Is Still Within Our Grasp'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Price Daniel Jr. was kidded a lot during the Constitutional Convention about his frequent expressions of optimism.

After sleeping all day Wednesday on the convention's failure to pass a constitution, Daniel emerged Thursday afternoon to say: "Success is still within our grasp."

Crisp in a blue and white tropical suit, Daniel told a news conference he was exploring "the possibility of the 64th (1975) Legislature's submitting the work of this convention to the people."

THREE VOTES SHY Daniel, 33, was president of the failed convention, which adjourned Tuesday night, three votes short of the two-thirds majority required for passing a constitution to the people.

"Considering the vast amount of work that has already been done, I feel that success is still within our grasp. This can be done without the expenditure of one additional penny of the taxpayers' money. That is as it should be; the people have already paid for a new constitution," he said.

If that doesn't work, the legislature could submit to the people a resolution calling a new convention, but with delegates elected from the public at large.

HITS HEAD The legislature can submit constitutional amendments by a two-thirds vote of each house, but the 181 present lawmakers, sitting as the convention, failed to give the new document a two-thirds majority.

Daniel said it would take the combined support of the governor, the lieutenant governor and the next House speaker to get the new constitution to the people.

He had harsh words for speaker candidate Fred Head, D-Athens and Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

"It is regrettable that the governor of this state, for whatever reasons, refused to fully involve himself and his office in this once-in-a-century opportunity to build a better Texas through the desperately needed constitutional revision process," he said.

Center Plans Open House

The Kentwood Older Adult Activities Center will hold a formal open house 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 3.

Marking the official opening for the non-denominational center for senior citizens.

Mayor Wade Choate will preside over ribbon cutting ceremonies. Also attending the opening will be several members of the City Council and Judge A. G. Mitchell, county judge, and members of the Commissioners Court.

Not So Shy

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently heard that the boy I have been going steady with for about two months has been arrested several times for indecent exposure. He's on probation now.

He is a very shy and gentle person and I can't imagine him doing anything like that, but the person who told me is an old friend of his who said he thought I should know for my own good.

Now I wonder what I should do. Is this fellow dangerous? Do you think he might attack me sexually? Will he outgrow it?

I am the first girl he has ever dated. Should I let him know that I know? Should I quit seeing him even though I like him a lot?

I am 19 and he is 20.

SCARED

DEAR SCARED: Tell him what you've heard and ask him if it's true. If he denies it and you still have doubts, all arrests are a matter of public record and can be easily checked out. If he admits it, ask him if he's had treatment. (Exhibitionism is an illness as well as a crime.) If he says he's had treatment, ask to talk to his therapist. If he says he hasn't, tell him you won't date him unless he goes for treatment. Don't continue seeing him unless you have all the answers.

DEAR ABBY: My brother is always too busy (or too lazy) to shop for gifts, so when Mother's Day or Father's Day approaches, he says: "Buy something, and put my name on the card, and I'll pay you later."

Well, I do, but "later" always turns out to be "never". This has happened so many times it's not even funny. What should I say next time this deadbeat asks me to put his name on the card?

SIS

DEAR SIS: Why look for a fancy way to convey a plain message? Say: "No!"

DEAR ABBY: I am a newly wed woman, 28, and employed, but my husband and I are saving for a home so I'm not able to spend much on clothes. I have an aunt who has a lot of money and nobody to spend it on but herself. She buys clothes like they are going out of style. (That's funny!) Anyway, three years ago Aunt Ruth gave me four dresses and three pairs of shoes, which I am still wearing.

The problem: Aunt Ruth has called me about a dozen times since, and asked me to come over to try on some things because she is cleaning her closets. I drive over (and it's no short drive) and try on stuff for hours, but she doesn't give me anything. She looks at me in her clothes, and says: "I'd better hang on, to that — I may wear it again!"

After being invited over to "try things on," I've gone home empty-handed time after time, and I am hurt. She doesn't owe me anything, but why does she do this? And what should I do about it?

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: She does it because, after seeing her wearing apparel on you, she has a change of heart. Tell her that you will gladly come over to pick up anything she wants to give away. But not to call until AFTER she has made the decisions.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PUBLIC SPEAKER IN PORTLAND": Sorry, but I don't have a collection of "jokes and funny stories." Why not take George B. Shaw's suggestion? He said: "My way of joking is to tell the truth. It's the funniest joke in the world."

MRS. DARREL L. BECKER

Miss Hadley Is Married

Mr. and Mrs. Darrel L. Becker, who were married in a Sunday evening ceremony in Hope Lutheran Church, Topeka, Kan., took a wedding trip to Wisconsin before returning to Topeka to make their home.

The ceremony was performed July 21 by the Rev. Norbert Wodtke, church pastor, with the bride's brother, Tom C. Hadley, Concordia Seminary, participating in the service. Music was by Mrs. Werner Steinbach, organist; Tim Voss, trumpeter; and a trumpet quartet. Vocalists were Miss Pam Hoffman and Miss Eileen Gage.

The bride is the former Connie S. Hadley of Topeka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hadley, 1214 E. 18th. She is a graduate of Big Spring High School, St. John's Lutheran College, Winfield, Kans., and Concordia Teacher's College, Seward, Neb. She is a third grade teacher and band director at Topeka Lutheran School.

The bridegroom, also of Topeka, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Becker, Westphalia, Kans. The bride chose a gown of white organza fashioned with bishop sleeves and a beribboned empire silhouette trimmed with sequined, scalloped lace that formed a redingote effect in an A-line skirt with detachable train. A lace bandeau held a long veil, edged with lace, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses, ivy and Stephanotis.

ATTENDANTS

The maid of honor was Miss Pam Hoffman, and bridesmaids were Miss Eileen Gage, Mrs. Tom Hadley, sister-in-law of the bride; and Miss Susan Hingst. The bridegroom's daughters, Carma Becker and Debra Becker, served as junior bridesmaids. They were attired in lime green empire dresses, belted at the back and accented with yellow and green daisy trim. Their bouquets were of yellow daisies and carnations and ivy.

Lee Maynard served as best man, and groomsmen were Stephen Becker, brother of the bridegroom; John Desch and Richard McGhee. The ushers were Donald Becker, Harold Becker and Milo Kellerman. Miss Paula Desch, dressed in white, was the flower girl, and Jeff Becker, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in the church parlor where refreshments were served by Miss Judy Wohletz, Mrs. John Desch, Miss Margaret Schaeffer, Mrs. Lee Maynard and Mrs. Leonard Budahn. The table was covered with white linen, and appointments were crystal and silver.

Out-of-town relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hadley, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Poovey, Clearwater, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenley Hunsard, Garden City, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. William Davis, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hingst, Vernon; and Spec. 5 William Davis Jr., Wagonfield, Germany.

Installation Held For Legion Unit

Mrs. Troy Melton assumed duties as president of the American Legion Auxiliary following installation ceremonies held Thursday evening in the Legion home.

Serving with Mrs. Melton will be Mrs. Ernest Grubbaugh, first vice president; Mrs. Jack Cotton, second vice president; Mrs. Olive Bransom, treasurer; Mrs. Don McCray, secretary; Mrs. Bill Bodin, chaplain; and Mrs. Juan Santiago, historian. The installation was performed by Mrs. Sidney Doggett.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. McCray presided, introducing a guest, Mrs. Jack Graves of San Angelo, auxiliary president for Division 4.

The auxiliary made a monetary donation to the American Heart Association in memory of the late Matthew Mooney. In other business, it was reported that auxiliary members served refreshments to patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital following Bible study July 31. Mrs. Ernest Grubbaugh was in charge. On Aug. 27 at 7 p.m., women will conduct bingo games at the hospital.

The next regular meeting will be at 8 p.m., Aug. 15.

Single Parents Plan Activities

Activities are set for the first half of the month by Parents Without Partners.

Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a pot luck supper at the home of Mrs. Leta Metcalf, 622 Tulane, and Aug. 4 there will be a bowling party at 4 p.m. Slated Aug. 11 at 2:30 p.m. is a family skating party.

An education and business meeting will be held Aug. 13 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Billie Barron, 1605 State, with Mrs. John Turner as co-hostess. There will be a speaker at the meeting.

A hamburger supper is planned for Aug. 15 at 7:30 p.m. at Commanche Trail Park with Tom Allen as host. A family pot luck supper and planning meeting will be held Aug. 17 at the home of Mrs. Estaleene Rice, 1406 E. 14th.

A LOVELIER YOU

Bare Upper Arms Should Be Slender

By MARY SUE MILLER

Evening dresses bare the arms or else sheathe them in long tight sleeves. Either way a heavy flaccid condition is highly noticeable. Reduction, of course, is the answer.

But before entering the lists of losers, do figure exactly what the upper arm should measure. Size varies according to your height and bony structure. To calculate your individual measurement, refer to the chart below.

5 ft.-5 ft. 3 in. 8 in.

5 ft. 4 in.-5 ft. 6 in. 9 in.

5 ft. 7 in.-5 ft. 8 in. 9 1/2 in.

Over-5 ft. 9 in. 10 in. plus

Locate your height on the chart and note the arm measurement alongside. It is ideal for you if your frame is average in size. If, however, you are small-boned, subtract one inch; add an inch for a sturdy build. (Measurement given is for the largest area.)

Methods of reducing revolve around massage or spot exercise. Here's a good routine: Stand tall, arms extended forward at shoulder level, and tense upper arm muscles for 10 counts.

Then bend elbows, touch thumbs to chest and again tense arm muscles — 10 counts. Now fling arms to sides and quickly twisting palms up, tense and hold.

Repeat entire routine 20 times.

TRIMMERS

Let me help you with the problem of a too-fleshy arm, chest or upper back by sending you my leaflet, TRIMMERS AND SLIMMERS. It contains a set of coordinated spot reducing exercises — easy to do, quick to get results. Just write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Add Oranges To Frozen Fruit

Frozen mixed fruit (after thawing) may be mixed with canned drained Mandarin oranges if you need to stretch the fruit. Serve as dessert.

Salted Peanuts

When you are adding chopped salted peanuts to cookie dough, omit the salt in the recipe.
